School board approves cuts

By Lynn Sievers
Of the Herald

Final decisions on cuts, due to a possible state aid reduction of approximately $435,000, were made during executive session following the Monday night meeting of the Wayne Community Schools Board of Education.

The cuts include the following: elimination of music (strings) program, reduction in high school social studies program (position vacated due to retirement and will not be filled), reduction in music, (vocal) program/ foreign language program (position vacated due to retirement- music (vocal) program filled by staff transfer, reduction in non-certified staff benefits (loss of insurance for less than full-time non-certified staff), reduction in athletic program (assistant coaching positions and supplies).

Also, reduction in custodial program (eliminated 1.5 custodial positions).

reduction in elementary classroom (position vacated due to retirement-filled by staff transfer), reduction in Industrial Technology program (one position reduced by .25 full-time equivalency), reduction of 20 percent in general fund supply budgets, reduction in one foreign language period (German) - (staff will teach that period in another subject area).

During the regular meeting, a number of faculty, staff and residents voiced their concerns as to how the proposed cuts might affect them and/or the students.

Board members thanked everyone for coming and noted while there are no program cuts that won't affect the students, hopefully the cuts are temporary and won't be long-term. They also said people should contact Sen. Engel and voice their opinions on the proposed lower state funding schools are to receive. Engel's telephone number is

Employee support services implemented at Wayne State

Support services are being implemented for Wayne State College employees whose positions are being affected by budget reductions at the college.

These support services include an employee assistance program that will include career counseling, job search skills, resume preparation and dealing with change.

Several individuals have been notified that their positions will not continue at Wayne State after June 30 as a result of $2 million in budget reductions anticipated for the 2004 fiscal year which begins July 1.

These proposed cuts are in addition to more than $1 million in budget reductions that were mandated in the fall of 2002 as a result of the state's budget shortfall. They include the reduction or elimination of a number of tenure-track and adjunct faculty positions, professional and support staff positions.

"This is a very difficult time for everyone in the campus community," said Dr. Sheila Stearns, Wayne State president. "Our focus right now is on notifying and assisting the employees who are being affected by the budget reductions, and on providing support services to those individuals. I value and appreciate their good work on behalf of Wayne State College. We will do everything we can to help them make the transition to another position after June 30."

A formal announcement on the Wayne State budget reduction plan will be made next week.

Here comes Peter Cottontail
The Easter Bunny made a surprise visit to the students at Head Start on Tuesday. He was escorted to a number of day care facilities in the area by Bill Trick of the Wayne Area Chamber of Commerce.

Gathje joins Innocents Society

After literally being tackled, Jon Gathje, a Wayne High School graduate, has become a member of the Innocents Society at the University of Nebraska-Lincoln.

Each year 13 juniors with records of academic excellence and campus leadership are selected to carry on the traditions and goals of the Innocents Society. The new members are notified that they have been included by being tackled by a present member.

The Society was founded on April 24, 1903 through the efforts of University of Nebraska alumni, including George Condra and Roscoe Pound. The first Innocents took charge of such activities as supervising pep rallies, selecting yell squad members and organizing Homecoming festivities. Members work to promote school spirit and create an appreciation among the student body for greater values for which Nebraska stands.

The Society is uniquely Nebraskan and forms a link between the faculty and student body. It guards significant University of Nebraska traditions.

The official induction ceremony was held April 12

The 13 new members of the Innocents Society, including Jon Gathje of Wayne (fourth from the left in the back row) pose for a picture following induction ceremonies on Saturday.

What is therapeutic riding

Editor's note: The following is the first in a series of articles, provided by Rainbow Riders, that describe what therapeutic horseback riding and muscle tone.

In certain physical disabilities, measurable progress is made in restoration of some body functions. For riders with physical and/or non-physical disabilities, the discipline associated with working with equines and the social interaction between peers can bring great benefits to the mind and spirit.

Through the respect and acceptance of the benefits of therapeutic horseback riding by persons in the medical field, education, and social services, numbers of programs continue to grow. This respect and acceptance, coupled with the continued dedication of volunteers, staff and supporters, helps to insure that riders will continue to have the opportunity to benefit from their relationship with the horse.

For more information, contact Rainbow Riders Therapeutic Riding Program, which has been serving northeast Nebraska since 1992.

Aim for fitness: Engagements steps for health

As the weather warms up, we all feel like getting outside more. It is also an excellent time to make an effort to get more physical activity into your life. Since we have been working with the recent health fair and the Steps for Health program, it again helps you make a commitment to being more physically active.

Sandy Preston

Moderate levels of physical activity can actually boost your energy levels and give you an overall sense of well-being. The best part is that you can decide for yourself what you want to do.

Physical activity can be a fun, social time spent with family or friends, or something you do by yourself to take your mind off the stresses of the day.

Work more physical activity into your day by taking care of things that need to be done anyway—such as walking the dog or working in the yard and garden. Rely less on labor-saving devices such as television remote controls and electrical door openers. Do the work yourself.

Pick up more physical activity by taking the stairs rather than an elevator or parking farther away in the parking lot. Use break times at work to go for a walk rather than sitting down over a cup of coffee. Rather than using e-mail or calling to another office in your work site, get up and walk to a co-worker's office or desk.

If young children are around, treat them to a day in the park, a walk in their strollers or wagons, or outside games. Join older children in some one-on-one basketball, a bicycle ride, or a game of tennis. If there is work to be done at home—like lawn mowing, raking, or cleaning the house include everyone and make it fun rather than a chore. Plan physical activity such as swimming, bowling, scavenger hunts, softball games or other activities as a part of family celebrations.

The point is: Physical activity can live your day and leave you feeling upbeat rather than dragging. Many folks find that time spent in moderate physical activity reduces their stress levels. Rather than stewing about a problem, take a short walk or a mini-stretch break. You'll clear your mind and perhaps bring new ideas or options into your thinking.

Regular physical activity has these direct physical benefits: *improves strength and endurance, *builds stronger bones and muscles, *assists in weight management, *improves blood pressure.

The most important equipment for a walking program are the shoes you wear. Your shoes should be flexible and give you enough room for your foot to expand while walking. A flat sole with little difference in height from the toe to the heel of the shoe is best.

Many folks find that a good running shoe also works well for walking and gives needed flexibility and support. Replace shoes about every six months if you are a daily walker. Wear clean, comfortable socks inside your shoes to prevent blisters.

Here are some tips for your planned walks. /Consider making walking arrangements with a friend or a walking group. Having a commitment to someone else can lower the chance you will decide that you are just too tired or don't have enough time. /Scout your community for walking paths and other safe places to walk. /Walk at the time of the day that is most convenient for you. Walking time can be in the morning, mid-day or evening. For some, it will be easier to break up your walking time throughout the day and that is okay, too. /Think through how you will handle walking when the weather is bad. Check if a nearby school, church, mall or other facility will allow you to walk there during bad weather. /If walking doesn't work out for you on one day, pick it up again the next day. Keep it fun rather than a chore.

Cookie recipe helps to explain Jesus' resurrection to children

Again I say, this is not a recipe column. I tend to make the same things over and over. And, someday, I will get my Farm House cookbook published, I promise. But in the meantime, I want to share this from the Milligan United Methodist Church cookbook, 2001, by Dorothy Novak.

It's called Easter Cookies, but I like to call them Resurrection Cookies. They can be made right before Easter. You will need a zipper baggie, a wooden spoon, tape and your Bible. Preheat oven to 300 degrees. (This is important. Don't wait until you are half finished with the recipe). Place a cup of whole pecans in the zipper baggie and let the children beat them with the wooden spoon to break into small pieces. Explain that after Jesus was arrested, he was beaten by the Roman soldiers. Read John 19:1-3.

Let each child smell vinegar.

Put 1 teaspoon vinegar into mixing bowl. Explain that when Jesus was thirsty on the cross, He was given vinegar to drink. Read John 19:28-30. Add three egg whites to vinegar. Eggs represent life. Explain that Jesus gave His life to give us life. Read John 10:10-11. Sprinkle a little salt into each child's hand. Let them taste it and brush the rest into the bowl. Explain that this represents the salty tears shed by the friends of Jesus.

By: Pat Meterhenry

So far, the ingredients are not very appetizing. Add one cup of sugar, gradually. Explain the sweetest part of the story is that Jesus died because He love us. He wants us to know and belong to Him. Read Psalm 34:8 and John 3:16. Beat with a mixer on high speed for 12 to 15 minutes until stiff peaks form. Explain the color white represents the purity in God's eye of those whose sins have been cleansed by Jesus. Read Isaiah 1:18 and John 3:1-3.

Fold in broken nuts.

Drop by teaspoons onto wax paper covered cookie sheet. Explain that each mound represents the rocky tomb where Jesus' body was laid. Read Matthew 27:57-60. Put the cookie sheet in the oven, close the door and turn the oven OFF. Give each child a piece of tape and seal the oven door shut. Explain that Jesus' tomb was sealed. Read Matthew 27:65-66. Go to bed! Explain that they may feel sad to leave cookies in the oven overnight. Jesus' followers were in despair when the tomb was sealed. Read John 16:20 and 22.

On Easter morning, open the oven and give everyone a cookie. Notice the cracked surface. (If it's not cracked, crack it), and take a bite. The cookies are hollow. On the first Easter, Jesus' followers were amazed to find the tomb open and empty. Read Matthew 28:1-9.

It's April 15, and the Big Farmer has just finished tax forms. Now, we make the annual extra trip to town to mail them. This is a spring ritual in this house. I'm learning what he needs early in April, like my checkbook register and the Mastercard printouts. I just don't appreciate it when he says things like: "What did you buy for $101 at Menard's last February, and is it deductible?" This is why I lay receipts on his desk; but of course, it's easier to see if I can jog my memory than to go through a year's worth of receipts.

If the wind would scare up some rain, it would be easier to put up with. A blessed Easter, everyone.

Emergency loans available to assist area producers

Farmer Service Agency (FSA) Wayne County Office has announced that family farmers in Cedar and Dixon counties in Nebraska who suffered physical or production losses caused by severe drought that occurred from May 1, 2002 through Dec. 31, 2002 may be eligible for Farm Service Agency (FSA) Emergency (EM) loans.

These Nebraska counties became eligible because they are contiguous to one or more of the counties in South Dakota that were designated as primary disaster areas on March 21, 2003 by the Secretary of Agriculture for this disaster.

Family farmers interested in finding out if they are eligible should contact either Daryl McGhee, County Executive Director or Mark P. Moser, Farm Loan Manager for information.

They can be reached Monday through Friday between 8 a.m. and 4:30 p.m. at the Farm Services Agency Offices in Ponca and Wayne.

Emergency loan applications are available and must be submitted through the local FSA county office from any applicant who qualifies for a physical or production loss (at least a 30 percent reduction from normal) in a single enterprise from this disaster in Cedar and Dixon counties.

To qualify for an EM loan, an applicant must be an established family farm operator; provide evidence of having suffered a qualifying physical or production loss; be unable to obtain suitable credit from a source other than FSA.

The low interest loans may cover up to 100 percent of their actual production losses, or $500,000 whichever is less. The applicants must show ability to repay the loan and must be adequately secured. Funds may be used to buy feed, seed, fertilizer, livestock or to make payments on current real estate and chattel debts.

The current interest rate for the EM loans is 3.75 percent.

The deadline for submitting applications is Nov. 21, 2003. Applicants for all FSA programs will be given equal consideration without regard to race, color, sex, creed, marital status or national origin.

Compensation program for livestock producers available

Livestock producers who were not eligible for last year's Livestock Compensation Program - or missed the application cutoff date - may have another opportunity to participate as the program was extended by the Agricultural Assistance Act of 2003.

Sign up for the program, called LCP-II, started on April 1 and will run through early June, according to Debra Pieper, county executive director of the Wayne County Farm Service Agency. "Congress opened the program to more producers by expanding the eligibility dates and adding catfish as an eligible commodity," she said.

Producers who were eligible for LCP but did not file an application by the Dec. 13, 2002, deadline also have an opportunity to apply.

The 2002 program, announced last October, was limited to livestock producers headquartered in a county designated by the secretary of agriculture as a primary disaster county between Jan. 1, 2001 and Sept. 19, 2002. LCP-II makes eligible any counties that were requested as primary disaster areas under a presidential or secretarial declaration by Feb. 20, 2003, and that were subsequently approved. Counties named as contiguous counties are not eligible for the program.

Owner and livestock eligibility requirements remain unchanged. To be eligible for assistance a producer's livestock operation headquarters must be physically located in a county with a qualifying disaster designation. Eligible livestock are cattle, sheep, goats, and buffalo, as well as catfish.

The livestock must have been owned or subject to a cash lease on June 1, 2002, and have been owned or leased for a minimum of 90 days. The June 1 date could fall anytime within the 90-day period. Animals located in a commercial feedlot are eligible provided they are farmer-owned and the owner meets all eligibility requirements. Animals that were sold or died on or after June 1, 2002, and that meet all other eligibility requirements may be eligible for payment. LCP-II payments will be based on losses per head or number of eligible livestock and catfish.

Pieper said payment would be available shortly after an eligible producer has signed up and the application has been processed. Producers participating in LCP-II are subject to a $2.5 million gross revenue limitation. Payments are limited to $40,000 per person. Livestock covered under LCP-I are not eligible for LCP-II.

Grasshopper surveys to be conducted this spring

The Nebraska Department of Agriculture (NDA) is alerting farmers and ranchers to be on the lookout this spring for grasshoppers.

With persistent drought conditions, it is feared that the grasshoppers could remain a problem in the upcoming year.

The NDA is working with the United States Department of Agriculture Animal Plant Health Inspection Service USDA/ APHIS and the University of Nebraska Department of Entomology to survey Nebraska's grasshopper population. USDA/ APHIS will have two surveyors come into Nebraska after April 15. These surveyors will go to suspected problem areas and survey the rangeland. They will also address questions and concerns citizens and will determine the species and numbers of grasshoppers in the area. In May, an additional two to three surveyors will arrive to conduct a broad general survey of the states' grasshoppers.

"The information generated from these surveys will be helpful in determining whether or not assistance should be sought from the Federal government for a grasshopper control program," said Nebraska Department of Agriculture Director Merlyn Carlson.

The UNL Department of Entomology is working on a "Grasshoppers in Nebraska" web site that will include current news releases and articles, general biology and management practices and survey information from USDA/ APHIS. This web site may be found at <http://entomology.unl.edu/>

Parsons joins Angus Association

Barry Parsons of Hoskins is a new member of the American Angus Association reports John Crouch, executive vice president of the national breed registry organization in St. Joseph, Mo.

The American Angus Association, with more than 35,000 active adult and junior members, is the largest beef cattle registry Association in the world. Its computerized records include detailed information on more than 14 million registered Angus.

The Association records ancestral information and keeps production records on individual animals for its members. These permanent records help members select and mate the best animals in their herds to produce high quality, efficient breeding cattle which are then recorded with the American Angus Association. Most of these registered Angus are used by the U.S. farmers and ranchers who raise high quality beef for U.S. consumption.

Cross Connection Question And Answer

Q. What is back-siphonage?
A. Back-siphonage is the reversal of normal flow in a system caused by a negative pressure (vacuum in the supply lining).
Source of Drinking Water
The sources of drinking water (both tap water and bottled water) include rivers, lakes, streams, ponds, reservoirs, springs, and groundwater wells. As water travels over the surface of the land or through the ground, it dissolves naturally-occurring minerals and, in some cases, radioactive material, and can pick up substances resulting from the presence of animals or from human activity. The source of drinking water used by the City of Wayne water system is Groundwater. This water is pumped from wells maintained by the City of Wayne.

Source Water Assessment Availability
The Nebraska Department of Environmental Quality (NDEQ) has completed a source water assessment. Included in the assessment is a Wellhead Protection Area map, potential contaminant source inventory, vulnerability rating and source water protection information. To view the Source Water Assessment or for more information please contact the person named on the cover of this report or NDEQ at (402)471-6988.

Drinking water including bottled water may reasonably be expected to contain at least small amounts of some contaminants. The presence of contaminants does not necessarily indicate that water poses a health risk. More information about contaminants and potential health effects can be obtained by calling the EPA's Safe Drinking Water Hotline at (800) 426-4791.

Contaminants that may be present in source water include:
Microbial contaminants, such as viruses and bacteria, which may come from sewage treatment plants, septic systems, agricultural livestock operations and wildlife.
Inorganic contaminants, such as salts and metals, which can be naturally occurring or result from urban storm water runoff, industrial, or domestic wastewater discharges, oil and gas production, mining, or farming.
Pesticides and herbicides, which may come from a variety of sources such as agriculture, urban storm water runoff, and residential uses.
Organic chemical contaminants, including synthetic and volatile organic chemicals, which are by-products of industrial processes and petroleum production, and can also come from gas stations, urban storm water runoff, and septic systems.

Radioactive contaminants, which can be naturally-occurring or be the result of oil and gas production and mining activities.
In order to ensure that tap water is safe to drink, EPA prescribes regulations which limit the amount of certain contaminants in water provided by public water systems. FDA regulations establish limits for contaminants in bottled water which must provide the same protection for public health.
Some people may be more vulnerable to contaminants in drinking water than the general population. Immuno-compromised persons such as persons with cancer undergoing chemotherapy, persons who have undergone organ transplants, people with HIV/AIDS or other immune system disorders, some elderly and infants can be particularly at risk from infections. These people should seek advice about drinking water from their health care providers. EPA/CDC guidelines on appropriate means to lessen the risk of infection by Cryptosporidium and other microbial contaminants are available from the Safe Drinking Water Hotline (800-426-4791).

The City of Wayne is required to test for the following contaminants: Coliform Bacteria, Antimony, Arsenic, Barium, Beryllium, Cadmium, Chromium, Copper, Cyanide, Fluoride, Lead, Mercury, Nickel, Nitrate, Nitrite, Selenium, Sodium, Thallium, Alachlor, Atrazine, Benzo(a)pyrene, Carbofuran, Chlordane, Dalapon, Di(2-ethylhexyl)adipate, Dibromochloropropane, Dinoseb, Di(2-ethylhexyl)phthalate, Diquat, 2,4-D, Endothal, Endrin, Ethylene dibromide, Glyphosate, Heptachlor, Heptachlor epoxide, Hexachlorobenzene, Hexachlorocyclopentadiene, Lindane, Methoxychlor, Oxamyl (Vydate), Pentachlorophenol, Picloram, Polychlorinated biphenyls, Simazine, Toxaphene, Dioxin, Silvex, Benzene, Carbon Tetrachloride, o-Dichlorobenzene, p-Dichlorobenzene, 1,1-Dichloroethane, 1,1-Dichloroethylene, Cis-1,2-Dichloroethylene, Trans-1,2-Dichloroethylene, Dichloromethane, 1,2-Dichloropropane, Ethylbenzene, Monochlorobenzene, 1,2,4-Trichlorobenzene, 1,1,1-Trichloroethane, 1,1,2-Trichloroethane, Trichloroethylene, Vinyl Chloride, Styrene, Tetrahydroethylene, Toluene, Xylenes (total), Gross Alpha (minus Uranium & Radium 226), Radium 226 plus Radium 228, Sulfate, Chloroform, Bromodichloromethane, Chlorodibromomethane, Bromoform, Chlorobenzene, m-Dichlorobenzene, 1,1-Dichloropropane, 1,1,2-Tetrachloroethane, 1,1,2,2-Tetrachloroethane, o-Chlorotoluene, p-Chlorotoluene, Bromobenzene, 1,3-Dichloropropane, Aldrin, Butachlor, Carbarlyl, Decamba, Dieldrin, 3-Hydroxycarbofuran, Methoxy, Metolachlor, Metribuzin, Propachlor.
Nitrate in drinking water at levels above 10 ppm is a health risk for infants of less than six months of age. High nitrate levels in drinking water can cause blue baby syndrome. Nitrate levels may rise quickly for short periods of time because of rainfall or agricultural activity. If you are caring for an infant, you should ask for advice from your health care provider.

Note: The state requires monitoring of certain contaminants less than once per year because the concentrations of these contaminants do not change frequently. Therefore, some of this data may be more than one year old.
MCL (Maximum Contaminant Level): The highest level of a contaminant that is allowed in drinking water. MCLs are set as close to the MCLGs as feasible using the best available treatment technology.

MCLG (Maximum Contaminant Level Goal): The level of a contaminant in drinking water below which there is no known or expected risk to health. MCLGs allow for a margin of safety. AL (Action Level): The concentration of a contaminant which, if exceeded triggers treatment or other requirements which a water system must follow.

In October, 2002 the City of Wayne has 4 samples that tested positive for coliform bacteria. This is a violation of the drinking water microbiological standards. We believe the violation was due to the installation of a water softener and other plumbing in the building being tested. We were not aware of the new plumbing at the time of sampling. Tests taken after the violation were negative. This follow-up sampling demonstrates the water is no longer contaminated. There was no E-coli bacteria found in any of the positive samples. This report will not be mailed out to individual services. Copies are available at the utilities counter at City Hall. If you have any questions about this report please contact Harold Reynolds at 402-375-5250 or 402-375-1733.

Thanks to citizens of Wayne

Dear Editor,
On behalf of the American Heart Association, I would like to thank the citizens of Wayne for helping to make this year's Cardiac Arrest event such a success.
The event raised $3,803 to benefit the American Heart Association and help in the fight against the Nation's Number One Killer - Cardiovascular Disease and Stroke.
The American Heart Association has funded nearly $1.7 billion in cardiovascular research since 1949.
Thanks to such fund raising efforts as Cardiac Arrest, the American Heart Association has also developed useful educational programs targeted toward all ages in order to teach them how to combat heart and blood vessel diseases.

I would like to thank the following people who helped to make this successful event possible:
Kevin Hoffart, Dorothy Wert, Bob Keating, Nancy Braden, Kaye McAfee, Sherry Haase, Nancy Endicott, Curt Frye, David Lutt, Tracy Keating and Laura Gamble.
Again, thank you to the citizens of Wayne for your support of the American Heart Association.
WE'RE FIGHTING FOR YOUR LIFE!!!
Sincerely,
Bill Micek,
Regional Director

The issue of taxing authority

By Ed Howard
Statehouse Correspondent
The Nebraska Press Association
Most folk would agree that there is absolute truth in the old saying: "This, too, shall pass."
Everything changes eventually. Right?
Well, maybe not.
It seems that, for whatever reasons, there are those Nebraskans who will forever continue to believe that state government is in the business of collecting their property taxes. And they are also convinced that higher land value must automatically mean higher taxes.
Local officials in Hall and Custer counties were told recently that they would have to boost the valuations on some agricultural land.
Indications are that Hall County will appeal the decision to the state Tax Equalization Review Commission (TERC).

When the story appeared in The Independent of Grand Island it drew comment from a reader. To wit: "Boy, the state of NE will do anything, including artificially inflating the price of land, in order to collect more and more property taxes, no matter what."
First: State government's revenue sources don't include local property tax dollars. Those go to local governments.
Second: Higher valuation doesn't automatically mean higher taxes. The local taxing authority has authority to lower its levy in such situations. That means the value of land can go up, while its tax burden remains unchanged. The issue is whether the local taxing authority chooses to do it.

Nebraska newspapers have done good work in reporting on the military personnel from their areas serving in the Middle East.
Everyone worries about loved ones in a war zone, and it's unlikely that anyone worries more than a mother. It is easy to understand why so many moms are quoted as telling their warrior children the same thing: "Be careful."

Motherly advice is pretty consistent, across the board. Our favorite, recent example of maternal thought involved Gloria Presnell of Grand Island. Her son called her from Baghdad, Lt. Col. Mike Presnell was, literally, in Saddam Hussein's palace bathroom.
The high-ranking soldier told his mom that he as about to wash his hair and brush his teeth in Saddam's gold-plated men's room.
Her response?
The only thing I could say to him was, "I hope you use your own toothbrush!"

Countdown continues as Chicken Show grows nearer

Executive Director
The Chamber's Retail Taskforce, a standing committee (or recently renamed taskforce) since the organization began, is one of the most important taskforces working in pursuit of the goals of the Chamber each year.

Most of our members are retail businesses. An ongoing focus is the support of our members and promotion of their businesses. Whether that takes the form of seasonal events or ongoing activities, promoting retailers has been a traditional role for this Chamber as it has for chambers of commerce nationwide. Goals for 2003 include, but are not limited to, helping business owners with their personal, professional growth (e.g., Lunch and Learn monthly programs) as well as promoting sales (e.g., Red Carpet Program).
Of course, the Welcome to Wayne flags project supports the latter because such flags flying throughout the community on highways 15 and 35 from city limit to city limit for special event periods projects a positive image and welcome mat atmosphere.

The Transfer Station will be open regular hours on Friday and Saturday and from 2 to 5 p.m. on Sunday.

Commercial businesses are not included in this project.

If you belong to a civic organization that would like to help with community clean-up, we will coordinate with your project.

Anonymous Letters

Last Friday some people received anonymous letters with newspaper clippings about the Wayne Chief of Police.

We occasionally get anonymous letters of complaint but without someone to respond to, there is not much to do. We are public employees and are responsible to taxpayers for what we cost and what we do.

Unless complaints are anonymous, the current mayor and council members have dealt with each and every issue about employees that has been brought to them since I came to Wayne in June of 2000.

Magazine writer visits Wayne

David Bristow, feature writer for the Nebraska Life Magazine, recently attended the weekly meeting of the Main Street Wayne Program in preparation for a story he is writing about Wayne.

Wayne will be featured in the July/August issue due out in mid-June.

Leo Ahmann, Executive Director of Main Street Wayne and the other individuals in attendance at the "All Hands" meeting, served as a welcoming committee and were able to answer many questions about the area posed by Bristow.

"We have such an assortment of people representing our community at our meetings, it is no surprise to me that Dave Bristow spent the length of time with us he did! We even had a scrapbook about the Savidge Amusements surface that he was extremely excited about. I do believe our friend from Hartington left our City with a smile and lots of information from which to write his feature on Wayne America," said Ahmann.

Main Street All Hands" meetings are held each Tuesday morning at 8 a.m. and are concluded by 9 a.m. Meetings are open to the public.

All individuals interested in joining with others in providing the Wayne community with opportunities for strengthening local pride and revitalizing the entire business district are encouraged to attend.

Dollars for Scholars WSC hosts workshop

Community leaders from northeastern Nebraska will learn about providing scholarships to their hometown graduates and non-traditional students at a workshop at Wayne State College on Wednesday, April 30.

The Vada Kinman Oldfield and Col. Barney Oldfield, Nebraska Dollars for Scholars organization will present the workshop, beginning at 4:30 p.m. at the WSC Student Center's Meadowlark Room and concluding at 7:30 p.m. after dinner.

The local Nebraska Dollars for Scholars chapter is Wayne Public Schools Foundation which serves the communities of Wayne and Carroll.

Attending will be leaders of the Dollars for Scholars chapters already established in northeast

Nebraska, and from those communities moving towards chapter formation. Ardyce Bohlke, executive director of the Nebraska organization, will lead the workshop. There will also be presentations by the TeamMates Mentoring Program and EducationQuest Foundation.

Nebraska Dollars for Scholars builds and supports community chapters to provide educational opportunities beyond high school for Nebraskans. It is affiliated with the national Dollars for Scholars program, established in 1958 in Fall River, MA and dedicated to the creation and support of community-based scholarship programs. The local, state and national organizations are all non-profit, charitable groups that accept tax-deductible charitable gifts for scholarships.

The Nebraska program was established in July 2000, with a $500,000 gift from Col. Barney Oldfield. When the state program began, there were two existing local chapters in Nebraska. There are 47 today, with many other Nebraska communities considering chapter formation.

At the conclusion of the Wayne workshop, one chapter in attendance will be awarded a $1,000 scholarship for their program, drawn from among all active and prospective chapters attending. Prospective chapters will be required to establish a Dollars for Scholars chapter within 90 days of the workshop or the $1,000 will be awarded to an alternate active chapter in attendance.

Pre-registration is encouraged. For more information, call Barbara Reynolds of Nebraska Dollars for Scholars at 402-476-3920 or 877-875-0476. Nebraska Dollars for Scholars can be reached via e-mail at DFSNEB@aol.com

Friends serve as teachers

The Wayne FRIENDS are promoting the drug-free message by teaching drug and alcohol prevention in Wayne Elementary Schools.

Nineteen members of the Middle School FRIENDS group have been selected to be FRIEND teachers.

FRIENDS stands for "Facts Raising Interest Ending Needless Drugs." Formed by middle school students in 1990, the group promotes a healthy, drug-free lifestyle. Members sign a pledge, renewable annually, to refrain from tobacco, alcohol and illegal drugs.

The group sponsors school and community publicity activities, especially during Red Ribbon Week in October. On April 22, FRIENDS members will make a presentation to the Wayne Lion's Club. FRIENDS plans recreational activities for students such as dances and regional events.

Members of the group attended a Teens Take On Tobacco Rally in Lincoln on Jan. 29.

There are 121 seventh and eighth grade members of the Middle School FRIENDS Drug Free Youth Group.

FRIEND teacher teams prepare and teach lessons to all elementary homerooms under the supervision of counselor Joan Sudman. Each team has a team leader and is assigned to a grade.

The Middle School teams teach three, half hour lessons in each homeroom during March and April, making nine presentations per grade, totaling 45 drug prevention lessons for Wayne Elementary lessons.

The lessons cover some of the harmful effects of drugs as well as the benefits of being drug-free.

Team leaders are Megan Kardell (kindergarten); Mandy Nevala (first grade); Kourtney Schmale (second grade); Elizabeth Baier (third grade) and Megan Powell (fourth grade).

The Wayne FRIENDS group is supported by United Way.

Commencement celebration brunch to be held at WSC

A commencement celebration brunch will be held at Wayne State College on Saturday, May 10, for graduating seniors and their families. This is the second year the brunch has been scheduled during spring commencement. It will be held in the upper level cafeteria in the Wayne State student center from 10:30 a.m. until 12:30 p.m. Commencement begins at 2 p.m. in the Willow Bowl, weather permitting.

The buffet menu will include an egg casserole, sausage, fresh fruit platter, muffins, juice and coffee. The pre-registration deadline is April 21.

"We were very pleased with the response to our first commencement celebration brunch last May," said Dr. Sheila Stearns, Wayne State president. "It's a good opportunity for our graduates and their families to have some time together before commencement and to greet other graduates, faculty and staff." For more information, please contact the Wayne State College president's office at 402-375-7200.

Happy hunters

A large crowd was on hand at the Wayne Public Library on Saturday for Story Time and an Easter Egg Hunt. Prior to the hunt, all those in attendance were able to decorate bags to hold all their goodies. Members of the Wayne State Circle K Club assisted with the event.

Tips shared for water conservation

With the dry conditions favored throughout the state last summer, many water systems were forced to impose water restrictions on residents.

The City of Wayne was fortunate enough not to have to impose any restrictions despite the fact that the peak pumping period was higher than in previous years.

City officials hope there will be plenty of water this coming year, but the latest reports from climatologists suggest that the summer will bring more of the same.

Although at the present time, it does not seem like much of a concern, it is time to start thinking about water conservation.

"If we practice water conservation now, it will benefit us this summer when we have need of it," said Harold Reynolds, Water/Wastewater Superintendent for the City of Wayne.

Listed below are some ways to conserve water. The list, provided by Reynolds, was taken from the "Nebraska Good Water News."

Lawn watering:

1. Water when the temperatures are cool, such as early morning;
2. Water only when the winds are calm;
3. Position sprinklers so that they are most effective;
4. Turn off automatic sprinklers after periods of rainfall.

Kitchen use:

1. When hand washing dishes, fill the sink with soap and water and shut off the faucet instead of running water the whole time;
2. Keep a container of drinking water in the refrigerator to avoid running the tap until the water gets cold.
3. Thaw foods in the refrigerator instead of under running tap water.

Bathroom use:

1. Take a short shower instead of filling the tub. This can save 15 to 20 gallons.
2. When brushing your teeth, fill a glass instead of letting the water run the entire time.

Water loss from a leaking faucet: 30 drops per minute equals 84 gallons per month or 1,008 gallons per year.

60 drops per minute equals 168 gallons per month or 2,016 gallons per year.

90 drops per minute equals 253 gallons per month or 3,036 gallons per year.

A 1/16 inch stream of water equals 24,660 gallons per month or 296,000 gallons per month.

A 1/8 inch stream of water equals 74,000 gallons per month or 888,000 gallons per year.

A 3/16 inch stream of water equals 220,000 gallons per month or 2,640,000 gallons per month.

"As you can see, drips and leaks in faucets and stools waste a lot of water and dollars. Please help us conserve Wayne's greatest natural resource. Thank you," Reynolds said.

Wayne State baseball team on six game win streak

The Wayne State baseball team showed few effects of a nine day layoff by sweeping Bemidji State in Northern Sun Conference play last Friday and Saturday. The Wildcats then bounced Augustana in a doubleheader at home on Tuesday to extend its winning streak to six games. Wayne State has now won 11 of its last 12 games.

Wayne State scored in every inning to dominate the first game against Augustana on Tuesday 14-4. Travis McCarter, a junior from Overton, tossed a complete game to improve his mark to 5-0 on the season. He gave up three earned runs on seven hits while striking out six.

The Wildcats hit five home runs in the game, including two by Justin Conley. Brian Foy, Brian Disch and Matt Fjelland also homered. Conley and David Westergaard had three hits each with Conley adding a career-high six RBI.

In the second game, Wayne State needed an eight-run sixth inning to rally for a 15-14 win. Augustana had scored in every inning up til the seventh inning. Wayne State scored all eight runs with two outs to go ahead. The Wildcats scored two runs on bases loaded walks, then Chris Pedroza delivered a bases-clearing double to begin a streak of three consecutive doubles by the Wildcats. Joe Wall closed out the top of the seventh to secure his fourth win of the season.

Aaron Lavorato had three hits at the plate. Matt Fjelland and Ryan Radtke were each two for three and Brian Foy continued his 15-game hitting streak with a grand slam homerun in the second inning.

Saturday, the Wildcats swept Bemidji State in NSIC play, 12-1 and 3-2.

Jared Hertzler pitched five solid innings to get the win in the first game, allowing no runs and just five hits while striking out five batters. Hertzler is now 4-1 on the season.

Brian Disch had two home runs, including a grand slam, to lead Wayne State at the plate. The junior from Norfolk also drove in six runs and scored twice. Foy and Pedroza added two hits each.

In the second game, the Wildcats scored a run in the bottom of the sixth inning to complete the sweep 3-2. Wayne State out-hit Bemidji State in the game 8-6. Donald Whitmire and Pedroza had two hits each for the Wildcats. Joe Wall, in relief of starter Russ Emerick, picked up the win allowing just one hit over two and one-third innings of work.

"We refused to get beat in this game," said head coach John Manganaro. "Bemidji is a good enough team to win one or two games in a series, so I was pleased with how our team responded."

Friday, the Wildcats posted two wins over Bemidji State 7-1 and 9-2.

McCarter tossed a complete game three hitter in the first game. He allowed no earned runs and struck out nine while walking only one batter. Wayne State had seven hits in the game, led by Pedroza with two.

The second game saw Wayne State use three pitchers to stop the Beavers 9-2. Damien Heckelsmiller earned the win, despite walking six batters. He allowed just two hits and two runs, one earned. Ryan Wetterberg and Josh Anderson also pitched for the Cats.

Wayne State had 11 hits in the game. Conley and Whitmire each were three for four. Disch drove in three runs while Foy scored three times.

Manganaro said he was pleased with the team's pitching and defense in the Bemidji series, but said the offense was off.

"Our timing was off a little because of the layoff. I would like to see us have around 12 hits a game. I'm sure we will get back on track."

Wayne State, now 20-6 overall and 8-0 in the NSIC, is ranked 30th in the NCAA Division II Collegiate Baseball Newspaper Poll. The Wildcats will host Northern State for four games on Friday (1:30pm) and Saturday (12 pm). Wayne State will also travel to Nebraska-Omaha Tuesday, April 22, for a nine-inning game at 2 pm.

Wildcat catcher Chris Pedroza puts down a bunt during Friday's doubleheader sweep of Bemidji State.

Wildcat softball team wins twice at NSIC Crossover

The Wayne State College softball team went 2-3 at the NSIC Crossover Tournament in Aberdeen, S.D. on Saturday and Sunday.

The Wildcats lost their first game to Minn-Crookston Saturday 3-2, then beat Minn-Morris 7-0 and Minn-Moorhead 3-2 in eight innings. Sunday, Wayne State lost to Minn-Duluth, 5-1 and fell to Bemidji State 3-2 in 10 innings.

"We didn't play badly over the weekend," said head coach Jon Misfeldt, "but we just did not have enough offense. We went 2-3, and fully expected to go 4-1 or 5-0."

Minn-Crookston scored one run in the top of the seventh inning to top Wayne State 3-2. Wildcat freshman pitcher Mindy Guenin (8-7) suffered the loss despite striking out 10 batters, allowing seven hits and three runs. WSC had five hits in the game, all singles, by Jackie Harrison, Theresa Garlow, Guenin, Amber Johnson and Lisa Stewart.

The next game saw the Wildcats bounce back with a 7-0 win over Minn-Morris. Whitney Wilczynski (four innings) and Lisa Stewart (three innings) combined to hold the Cougars to just one hit in the game with Wilczynski earning the win. WSC had 13 hits in the game. Mackenzie Knoell, Garlow, Jessica Hinde and Wilczynski each had two hits.

The Wildcats then rallied for a 3-2 win in eight innings over Minn-Moorhead. Wayne State scored one run in the sixth, seventh and eighth innings to come from behind in the game. Moorhead held an 11-8 advantage in hits. Knoell, Guenin and Hinde had two hits apiece for WSC. Stewart (1-0) pitched the final two innings for the win.

Sunday, Wayne State lost to Minn-Duluth 5-1. UMD scored all five runs in the fifth inning to break open a close game. The Bulldogs out-hit Wayne State 7-5. All five hits for the Wildcats were singles by Knoell, Garlow, Guenin, Hinde and Wilczynski. Guenin was the losing pitcher, allowing seven hits and five runs.

Wayne golfers shine at Lincoln Pius, Plainview Tournaments

Neither a snow storm or nearly one week of no practice outdoors could stop the Wayne High boys' golf team from achieving a pair of rare feats last week.

Saturday, the Blue Devils shot a 305, one of the lowest scores ever on a par 72 course, to win the Plainview Invitational.

Last Thursday, Wayne used great team balance to win the Lincoln Pius Invitational for the first time in school history.

Wayne shot a 305 to win the Plainview Invitational as all five players earned an individual medal in the meet. Plainview placed second in the 14-team field at 310 with West Holt third at 326. Laurel-Concord finished eighth with a 353.

"This was a great effort with strong consistency," stated head coach Terry Munson. "We have not particularly well on the Plainview course over the past several years."

John Jensen led Wayne with a 74 to place second overall. Andy Martin and Eric Sturm each shot 76 to finish fifth and seventh respectively. Brad Erickson fired a 79 for 11th and Tyler Anderson's 82 was good enough for 18th.

Wayne won a very close team race to take first place at the Pius Invitational at Pioneer Golf Course in Lincoln. Only five shots separated the top five teams.

The Blue Devils edged Beatrice 322-323, followed by Elkhorn (324), Lincoln Pius (325) and Nebraska City (327).

"The Pius Invitational is one of the toughest meets we play in all season," said Munson. "Elkhorn and Pius are Class A schools along with some of the largest Class B schools in the state."

Andy Martin and John Jensen each fired rounds of 80 to lead Wayne, placing 10th and 12th individually. Eric Sturm and Brad Erickson both shot 81 to finish 13th and 16th respectively with Tyler Anderson recording an 83.

"While we did not have any outstanding individual performances, our team balance was exceptional," Munson said. "I was pleased, with our senior maturity and leadership coming off a snow storm."

Rx Medicines for Adolescent Depression

Health experts now realize that depression during adolescence is a growing health problem that needs to be addressed. Approximately 5 of every 100 teenagers in the US experience symptoms of major depression. Many have parents or other relatives who also have struggled with this condition. Typical symptoms include irregular sleep, isolation, fatigue, changes in appetite, and loss of interest in routine activities. In addition, depressed teens may experience poor performance in school, have problems with friends and family, and become involved with substance abuse.

The most commonly prescribed and perhaps the most effective antidepressant drugs for adolescents include fluoxetine (Prozac), paroxetine (Paxil), and sertraline (Zoloft). These drugs often are given at about half the adult dose for the first week, then the dose is increased. If a response is not seen, a different antidepressant such as venlafaxine (Effexor), nefazodone (Zerzone), or mirtazapine (Remeron) may be prescribed. Bupropion (Wellbutrin SR) may be given if the adolescent has been diagnosed with depression and ADHD (attention deficit hyperactivity disorder).

Northeast College to be closed for Spring Break

The offices at Northeast Community College in Norfolk will close Thursday, April 17, at 5 p.m. for the Spring break and reopen Tuesday, April 22, at 8 a.m. Students will not have classes Thursday through Monday. Classes resume Tuesday, April 22, at Northeast.

Blame it on me.

You had a good education. I need one, too. But my favorite teachers are leaving for higher paying jobs in other states and other professions. And the governor and Legislature are considering a 17% cut in funding for schools! If I can't meet the challenges of today's complex world, I fail. And when I fail, who will you blame?

That's why I need your help, now. Please tell the governor and Legislature that education should be a top priority. Tell them we need to keep our best teachers teaching in Nebraska.

Tell them to protect our investment in education.

FFA STATE CONVENTION

Twelve FFA students, an advisor, and a bus driver answered to roll call at 5 p.m. on April 2. After answering roll, they headed down the dusty trail to State Convention in Lincoln.

On the way, they stopped at McDonald's in West Point for a quick meal. Around 8:30 p.m. they checked into The Cornhusker Hotel. After the students unloaded their things, they went for a swim. After the swim, most of them ordered pizza from Papa John's and around 11:00 p.m. they "hit the hay."

Ring, Ring, Ring, it's 5 a.m. time for the Livestock judges to wake up! After getting into official dress, the four judges and Mr. Wilmes headed for east campus to judge animals!! The team received 14th out of 98 teams. Cory Gotch received a Red Ribbon, David Rastede received a Blue Ribbon, Brandon Sands also received a Blue Ribbon, and Derick Nice finished with White Ribbon.

At 7 a.m. Diana and Kelli woke up to get ready for Diana's contest, Junior Public Speaking. Diana spoke around 8:30 a.m. Diana didn't make finals, but finished 5th and received a gold medal. There were 21 students competing against her.

The rest of the students also got up to attend Leadership workshops. The Leadership Academy held a conference to teach students about character. Throughout the day, the students attended numerous sessions and visited booths displayed in the center of the hotel.

The girls, Alycia, Diana, Kelli, and Angela got to experience what eating in a ritzy place was like. They ate lunch at The Terrace Grille, a restaurant in the hotel. They were full by the time dessert was over, and have many wonderful memories about the meal!

At 12:15 p.m. the Ag mechanics team of Josh Gillespie, Derick Nice, Brandon Sands, and David Rastede went to UNL Campus to compete. They finished 15th out of 32 teams. They also received a white ribbon.

That night, the students left at 6 p.m. for the third session at Pershing Auditorium. Jessica Warner received three plaques for proficiency. She received first place in Diversified Livestock Production-Entrepreneurship (represents Nebraska at Nationals), second in Dairy Production-Entrepreneurship, and third in Beef Production-Entrepreneurship.

Also at this session, the students listened to keynote speakers, Donell and Kelli Brown of Throckmorton Texas. Both are exceptional officers. The title of their speech was "What Our Country Needs."

After this session was over, the students got back to the hotel to go to sleep.

The welders, Tagen, Andrew, and Cody, all woke up to go to Southeast Community College to weld. They placed 19th out of 62. Andrew finished 6th out of 62 participants in oxy-acetylene welding, Cody finished 39th out of 62 in Stick Arc welding, and Tagen placed 25th out of 62 in wire welding.

It was a great experience for all of the students. They learned many new and exciting things. They represented Allen and Northeast Nebraska very well! Thanks to everyone who helped support and prepare them. -Diana Diediker, Reporter

Norfolk's No. 1 Eye Care Practice • Complete Family Eye Care

"Everything Is Fine With My Eyes Now!"

"I started seeing those lights in my eyes and dark pieces of thread. I called Feidler Eye Clinic not thinking it was a big deal. The lady who answered the phone said I needed to come in right away.

Dr. Jeff Klein found a torn retina and the beginning stages of cataracts. He referred me to a doctor in Omaha because Dr. Feidler was out of the office that day. I had to have the surgery that day because it was such a serious problem.

If it wasn't for the calm urging of Dr. Jeff Klein I don't know what could have happened. Everything is fine with my eyes now and Dr. Klein says I don't have to come back for a year!"

Niacin and Alzheimer's

Elderly people who consume low amounts of niacin may be more likely to develop Alzheimer's than those who eat higher amounts. In a recent study with participants over 65, those people who consumed food with niacin - at least 22 milligrams a day - were 79% less likely to develop Alzheimer's than those who ate less than 13 milligrams per day. Foods high in niacin include chicken, tuna, peanut butter, baked potatoes with the skin, long grain brown rice, top round steak and some fortified breakfast cereals.

Oil from Two Herbs Used in Aromatherapy

Research has shown that specific odors, when connected to past events, can affect behavior. For example, a burning smell or the smell of hospital disinfectants can cause feelings of anxiety in some persons. That is the concept behind a relatively new approach to healthcare called aromatherapy. Most often specific aromas are used to produce a calming effect. Aromatherapists use essential oils of different herbs to produce the desired outcome.

Three recent studies indicate that the scent from the oils of lavender and lavender when inhaled or applied to the skin, significantly benefited elderly persons with existing behavior problems such as dementia and agitation. The oils were either steamed into the room air or were applied as a hand lotion. In each study no side effects were noted and all participants were able to complete the designated treatment. The significance of these studies is that an improvement in agitation eventually could lead to decreased need for prescription-calming drugs, in some cases.

HAPPY EASTER
 We will be closed Easter Sunday, April 20

New vehicles purchased by department

The Concord Rural Fire District has purchased two new/used vehicles for the department. These were purchased with funds that were obtained through a FEMA grant (Federal Emergency Management Agency). This grant was announced in May of 2002. Since then, the members searched for the right combination of vehicles and pumping equipment.

The first vehicle purchased was a 1978, 750-gallon pumper truck and carries 750 gallons of water. It also has a portable pump and two nozzles that will be used to fight grass and crop fires. It also has a deluge gun for high volume attack on a fire and a hose reel.

The second vehicle purchased was a 1995 chassis on which a brush fire fighting unit has been built. It is equipped with a hose reel and has foam capabilities. It carries 300 gallons of water. The volunteer members assembled the parts for this unit. This will be a first attack unit and for fighting fires in cropland, grass, etc.

Both of these units were equipped with hose, nozzles, self-contained breathing apparatus, etc.

Scott Huetig, chair of the Concord Rural Fire Department and Assistant Fire Chief of the Volunteer department took the lead in overseeing the purchase of this equipment and also spent much time assembling the brush truck. Other members of the department were also active in assisting.

Student tutors announced

Scott Wittler of Hoskins and Karissa Carlson of Laurel are among more than 120 students who have been involved as tutors in the Academic Support Center at Northwestern College in Orange City, Iowa, this year. The tutors, supervised by Patti Thayer, director of academic support, serve approximately two hours a week working with students.

Academic tutors do one-on-one tutoring and lead small group review sessions with students in various academic disciplines. Writing tutors give students feedback on writing that ranges from research papers and short essays to poems, journals, and graduate school applications.

The tutors have been recommended by Northwestern professors on the basis of their strong academic performance, writing ability, relational skills and willingness to help others. Each of the tutors has received several hours of training.

Michael Fluent participating in war operation

Navy Petty Officer First Class Michael C. Fluent, son of Bonnie and Mike E. Fluent of Wayne, is currently participating in Operation Iraqi Freedom in the Arabian Gulf while assigned to the guided missile destroyer USS Donald Cook, homeported in Norfolk, Va.

Fluent is one of more than 8,000 Atlantic Fleet Sailors and Marines aboard the ships and squadrons of the USS Harry S. Truman carrier battle group. His ship was one of the first of 30 U.S. Navy and coalition ships to launch Tomahawk Land Attack Missiles (TLAMs) during military operations to disarm Iraq.

Fluent's ship is one of the most powerful warships ever put to sea. The computer-based AEGIS weapons system is the heart of the ship's warfighting capability. It centers around a powerful radar that enables the crew to detect, track and fire on more than 100 targets at a time.

Fluent joined the Navy in June 1993.

ANTIBIOTICS
 Antibiotics are medications which can take about two weeks. See your Health Care Provider if you suspect strep throat, a sinus infection, or ear infection. It is important to take antibiotics only as prescribed, and always take the full course of medication even when you feel better. When antibiotics are used improperly or excessively, certain bacteria resist them, rendering the antibiotic ineffective.
