Rally held at WSC to reflect feelings

Around 30 Wayne State College students and staff attended a rally Tuesday at the Student Center where six speakers discussed the impending faculty layoffs and criticized WSC administration for its approach to the state budget crisis.

The event was organized as a walk-out by the student group, SRA (Students for a Responsible Administration), to protest the firing of non-tenured professors. Twelve faculty have been notified their positions may be terminated on June 30, 2003. A student speaker mentioned that some faculty and staff offered to give up raises to save faculty positions.

WSC President Sheila Stearns told the group that reasonable people can disagree. She is proud of students voicing their opinions to make sure cuts don't affect the quality of education they receive at WSC. She told students they need to work together to see that layoffs are minimized.

In response to criticism that perhaps there is too much administration at WSC, Stearns said there used to be eight division heads, but in 2001 they consolidated to four deans. There used to be two associate vice presidents and now there are none. To reduce the budget, several other administrators have been assigned reduced loads. In the past four years, other administration positions had already been cut.

Stearns has said that the final cuts won't be set until legislation action is completed. Stearns is optimistic Gov. Mike Johanns' proposed budget cuts of 10 percent to most state agencies (for WSC, that's a $2 million reduction) will be moderated.

"Often when the legislature speaks of cutting the budget, they give remarks such as we need to cut the fat, etc.," Stearns said. "But we're not hearing that because they know we have already made deep cuts in the fall."

This is the second time in the last few months cuts have been announced at WSC. Reducing the budget by $1.2 million in the fall, eight jobs were eliminated and 10 employees had their jobs reduced. Seventeen vacant positions also were not filled.

Stearns noted they are doing all they can to see that job loss is minimized. When making cuts, non-tenured, part-time, and adjunct faculty are let go before those who are tenured. She noted most colleges and universities are in the same boat financially.

"The University of Nebraska-Lincoln has had to let some tenured faculty go. Peru State College laid off some of their staff in the last two years, and Chadron State College is facing similar issues," Stearns said.

Support services are being offered by the college to those losing their jobs.

Graduation scheduled at Wayne High

Graduation ceremonies for 70 Wayne seniors will take place on Saturday, May 17 at 2 p.m. at the Willow Bowl on the Wayne State College campus.

If there is bad weather, the event will be held in Rice Auditorium.

Speakers at the 2003 commencement exercises will be Kaki Ley, choir instructor at Wayne High School and John Murtaugh, social studies instructor at Wayne High School.

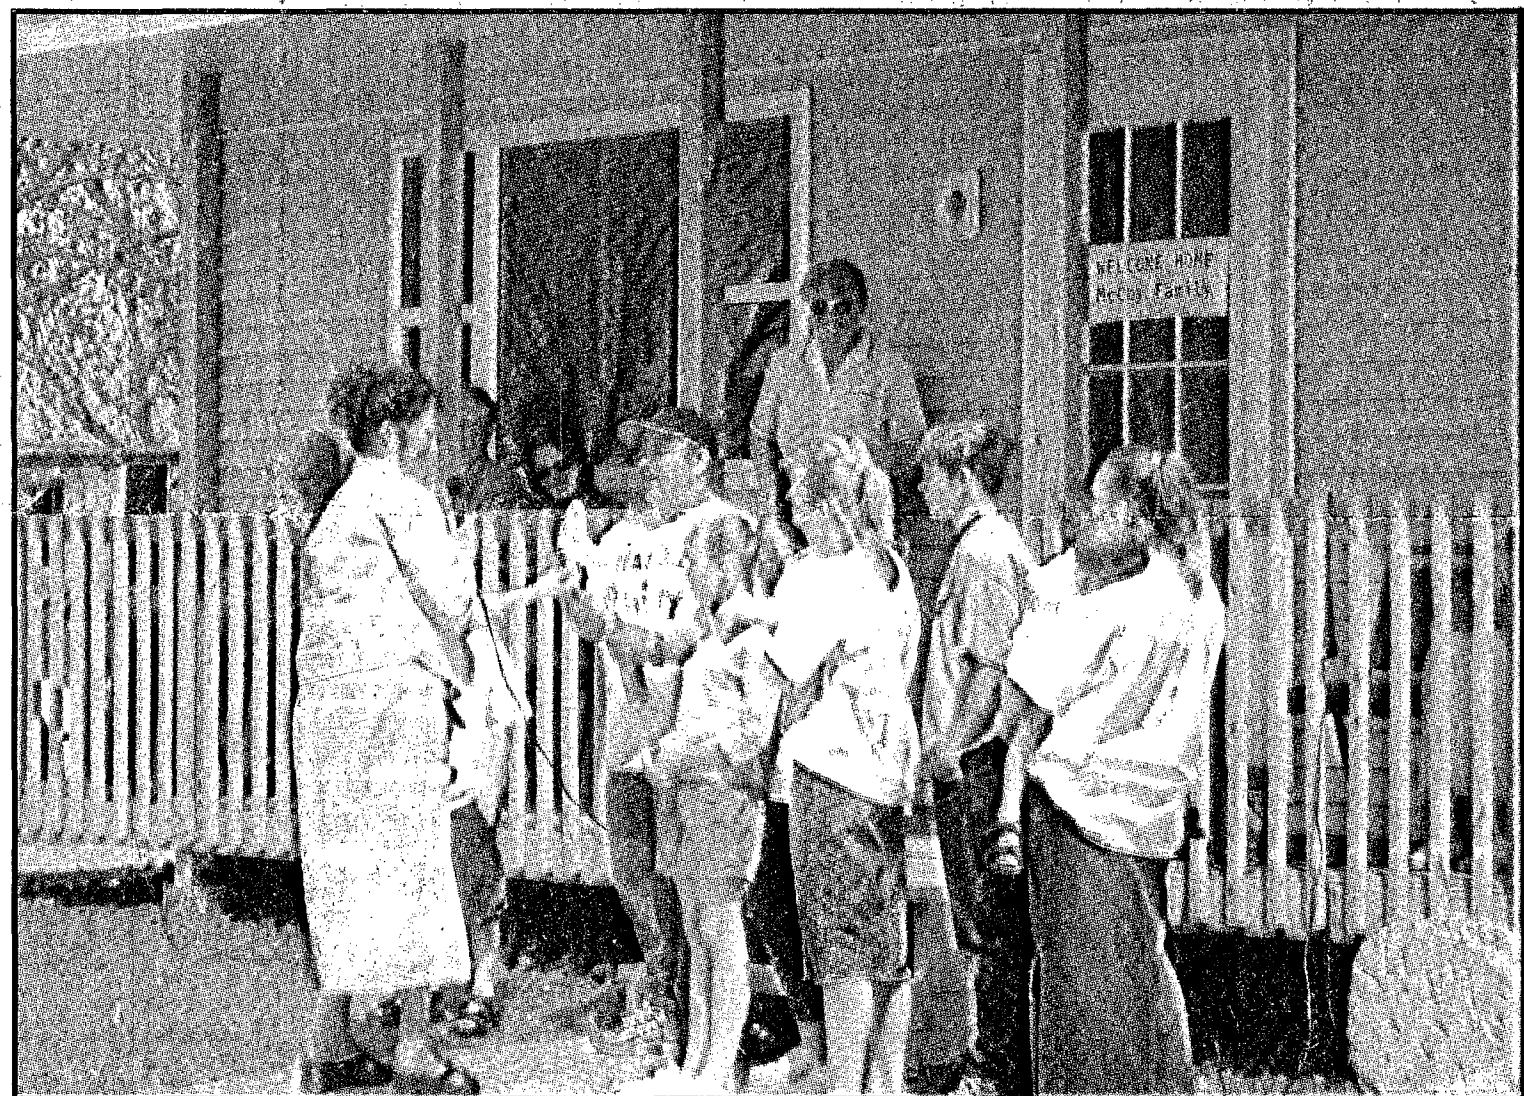

In addition to the featured addresses will be the announcement of the Valedictorian and Salutatorian award.

The Wayne High School Choir will provide special music. The Wayne High Varsity Band will play the processional and the recessional.

Bill Dickey, President of the Wayne Board of Education, will present diplomas.

Kaki Ley and Sharon Olson will receive special recognition as retiring staff members.

The Class of 2003 lists their class flower as a light blue rose and class colors as light blue and silver. The class motto is "Wherever you go, go with all your heart." (Confucius)

Officially finished

Ann Witkowski, President of the Wayne Area Chapter of Habitat for Humanity, left, presents the key to the chapter's newly built home to the Charles and Malisa McCoy family during Sunday's dedication of the house. The house was constructed in one week during a "Blitz Build" that involved more than 250 volunteers from throughout the community.

Soapbox derby racing expands to Wayne

Three Wayne businesses have teamed up with the Greater Siouxland Soap Box Derby Association of Sioux City to give local kids a chance to experience Soap Box Derby racing.

Wayne East, Pac 'N' Save and Tacos and More purchased their own cars to allow three local families from the Wayne community to experience the sport of Soap Box Derby racing.

Chad Menefee is the local director for the Greater Siouxland Soap Box Derby Association and says he is pleased with the response from the Wayne community.

"We want to expand soap box derby racing to communities outside of Sioux City and involve more kids," said Menefee. "It's a great family sport, involving moms, dads, brothers and sisters and we want more people to experience that." A recent effort in Hull, Iowa produced 22 new cars from that area.

Menefee says he has been involved with the sport for three years, but his family has been a part of Soap Box Derby racing for nearly 30 years. He has competed on tracks at Ogallala, North Platte, Omaha, Des Moines, Kansas City, Racine, Wis., and

Boys and girls ages 8-17 are eligible to compete in soap box derby racing in a car like this one that is on display at Wayne East.

Obituaries

Morris Jenkins

Morris Jenkins, 95, of Wayne died Friday, April 25, 2003 at Premier Estates Senior Living Community in Wayne.

Services were held Wednesday, April 30 at First Presbyterian Church in Wayne.

Morris V. Jenkins, son of Sam and Emily (Morris) Jenkins, was born Dec. 28, 1907 on a farm near Carroll. He attended country school near Carroll. On March 24, 1932 he married Mildred Jones at Fremont. He worked for Standard Oil Company, managing a gas station in Emerson and delivering fuel in the area. The couple moved to a farm near Carroll where they farmed until moving to Wayne in 1960. He was then employed in maintenance and security at Wayne State College. He was a member of First Presbyterian Church in Wayne and was formerly a member of the Bethany Presbyterian Church in Carroll. He enjoyed visiting with friends and family. He and his wife also enjoyed traveling to Minnesota to visit family.

Survivors include his wife, Mildred; one daughter, Mary and Edward "Skip" Verzal of Hibbing, Minn.; two grandchildren; two brothers, Ronald and Merle Jenkins of Sun City, Calif. and Merlin Jenkins of Carroll; two sisters, Esther Batten and Etta Fisher, both of Carroll; nieces and nephews.

He was preceded in death by his parents and three sisters, Cora Jenkins, Vera Jenkins and one in infancy.

Pallbearers were Dennis Bateman, Roger Fredrickson, Don Endicott, Howard Morris, Chuck Carhart, Ken Prokop, Bill Carhart and Steve Dinsmore.

Burial was in Greenwood Cemetery in Wayne. Schumacher-Hasemann Funeral Homes in Wayne was in charge of arrangements.

Gerald Hix

Gerald J. Hix, 75, of Yuma, Ariz., formerly of Wayne, died Saturday, March 29, 2003 at Yuma Regional Medical Center.

Graveside services will be held Friday, May 9 at 1 p.m. at the Ottawa, Minn. Cemetery. After the service, family and friends will gather at the Zion Church in Le Sueur, Minn.

Gerry J. Hix, son of James K. and Eva U. (Larson) Hix, was born Sept. 16, 1927 at Ottawa, Minn. He was raised in Le Sueur, Minn. and after serving in the U.S. Navy, he worked as a telegraph operator with the railroad. In 1949 he married Phyllis Seiler of Le Sueur and had four children. In the 1960's he and his family moved to Nebraska where he worked for KTCH radio in sales and sport broadcasting. From 1970 until his retirement in 1990, he worked for Golden Sun Feeds. In 1991 he married Fay Schrank in Yuma, Ariz. where they continued to reside. He was active in the Shrine Clubs, Eagles, Legion, Moose and a member of Gila Mountain Methodist Church.

Survivors include three sons, Larry and Karol Hix, Steve and Linda Hix and Dave and Karla Hix and one daughter, Gloria and Joe Vavricka, all of Nebraska; 10 grandchildren; one brother, Pat and Rita Hix of Cleveland, Minn.; nieces, nephews and cousins.

He was preceded in death by his parents.

Greg Meyer

Greg L. Meyer, 44 of Wakefield, was found at his home on Friday, April 25, 2003.

Services were held Tuesday, April 29 at the Bressler-Munderloh Funeral Home in Wakefield. Pastor Bill Koeber of Our Savior Lutheran Church in Wayne officiated.

Greg L. Meyer, son of Norman and Barbara (Frahm) Meyer was born Sept. 6, 1958 in Wakefield. He was baptized at Immanuel Lutheran Church and confirmed at St. Paul's Lutheran Church in Wayne. He graduated from Wakefield High School. After high school, he attended a technical college in Springfield, majoring in mechanics. After finishing his schooling, he worked in the Omaha and Lincoln area until returning to Wakefield in 1998. He worked in Dakota County and in Emerson at Emerson Manufacturing.

Survivors include his mother, Barb Meyer of Wayne and a sister, Debi Meyer of Norfolk.

He was preceded in death by his father, Norman.

Burial was in Wakefield Cemetery in Wakefield. Bressler-Munderloh Funeral Home in Wakefield was in charge of arrangements.

Student receives scholarship

Megan Summerfield, Wayne, has received a Presidential Scholarship to attend Wayne State College this fall.

Presidential scholarships are awarded to students based on academic excellence.

Summerfield, the daughter of Marty and Sheryl Summerfield, is scheduled to graduate from Wayne High School this spring. She plans to enroll in the pre-pharmacy program.

Her high school activities include W-Club, Spanish club, art club and FBIA (Future Business Leaders of America). She is a member of the golf and basketball teams and a volunteer with the Providence Medical Center Foundation fundraiser.

Budget issues still being discussed

The full Legislature is beginning to focus on the arduous task of dealing with the state's budget problems for the next two fiscal years. The state faces a $756 million shortfall between existing spending levels and projected tax revenues.

The Appropriations Committee, on which I serve, released its final budget recommendations on April 25. The committee's plan calls for $401 million in reductions, leaving a gap of $355 million. That gap would have to be made up in tax revenue increases and/or additional reductions.

The committee's plan calls for $2.7 billion in spending for fiscal year 2003-04, a 1.9 percent increase, and $2.8 billion for fiscal year 2004-05, a 4 percent increase. Much of the budget growth can be attributed to large increases in Medicaid, public assistance programs, corrections medical costs and homestead exemption reimbursements. These are areas where we don't have much flexibility in terms of curbing costs. Other than state aid to individuals, increased spending in all other areas combined over the two-year period totals a mere $251,000. Here are the two-year average

Capital Happenings
By: State Senator Pat Engel, District #17

changes for key areas under the committee plan: state aid to K-12 schools, -2.4 percent; University of Nebraska and state colleges, -0.6 percent; Medicaid, 9.1 percent; and public assistance programs, 20.9 percent.

For the rest of the session, I feel that the majority of our time will be taken up dealing with the budget.

For a change, there was some good news in terms of tax revenue. The Nebraska Economic Forecasting Advisory Board, which makes tax revenue projections, met April 25 and raised its projections by $12 million for a three-year period. It was the first upward revision by the board in more than two years.

We must rely on the board's figures in presenting a balanced budget for the next biennium. The board felt that the economy has bottomed out, and there will be slow, gradual improvement.

The full Legislature last week debated two key bills dealing with the budget.

After three days of debate, we gave first-round approval to LB 759, a package of income, sales, cigarette and alcohol tax changes. The bill advanced April 24 on a vote of 26-5.

It is projected that the bill will generate somewhere between $150 million and $180 million over the two-year period.

Stripped out of the bill was a provision that would have placed a sales tax on soda pop and candy. It appears that the body is not inclined to place the sales tax on all food.

Another key bill getting first-round approval was LB 540, a bill which calls for reducing state aid to schools and allowing local property taxes to increase. The bill advanced April 24 on a vote of 33-0.

The school aid reductions under the bill are incorporated in the Appropriations Committee budget recommendations.

To offset the reduction in state aid, school districts would be allowed to increase property taxes for two years under LB 540. The property tax levy lid would increase from $1 to $1.04 per $100 of valuation.

The bill calls for a freeze on school spending but allows some exemptions for additional growth.

Looking for family

Dear Editor,
In the early 1920's my great-aunt, Jennie Lynnman, adopted a young boy from the Wayne area. His name was Elwood, he was born around 1917 and he had five brothers and sisters.

The father had deserted the family and the mother had a mental breakdown and was confined to a state hospital for the rest of her life.

Aunt Jennie and her husband raised Elwood as their own. He graduated from Craig High School with the class of 1935, went on to college and became a teacher.

When the United States entered World War II, Elwood joined the army and was killed in the battle for Guadalcanal in 1942. Elwood had not married, and Aunt Jennie had no other children.

When Aunt Jennie passed away a few years ago, we found a box containing items which the army must have sent back to her after Elwood's death. If anyone is familiar with this story, and knows anything about the whereabouts of any of Elwood's family, we would appreciate hearing from them.

The items we have are not valuable, but they are all that remains of this man's life and we would like to have them go to a relative.

I can be reached at this address — 4364 Coach Whip Way, Roseville, Calif. 95747 or lscamson@jps.net

Appreciate volunteers

Dear Editor,
April 27-May 3, 2003 is National Volunteer Week.

It has been set aside every year since 1974 to recognize and celebrate the efforts of the thousands of men and women who volunteer their time and energy to help others.

For those who don't know, hospice is considered to be the model for quality, compassionate care at the end of life. Hospice care involves a team-oriented approach to expert medical care, pain management and emotional and spiritual support tailored to the patient's needs and wishes.

Hospice team members believe that each person has the right to die pain-free and with dignity.

Hospice volunteers help make this special way of caring possible. Simply put, we are there take care of whatever needs to be done. We could not do this without the assistance of our many volunteers.

Hospice team and I would like to take this opportunity to say thank-you to the 60 plus volunteers that make our program successful and help the patients and families through one of the most difficult time, but the most important time of their life.

Sincerely,

Jill Belt,
Hospice Bereavement Coordinator

Didn't apply for funds

Dear Editor,

Recently I reviewed a report that indicated which counties in Nebraska had received Federal funds for preparedness activities.

When I noted that only Thurston and Wayne counties in northeast Nebraska did not receive Federal funds to purchase equipment to help first responders deal with terrorist attacks. I asked Lieutenant Governor Dave Heineman why that is the case. He explained that neither county had applied for funds.

Certainly, I respect their decision and simply wanted to be assured that they had not applied and been rejected.

The new U.S. Department of Homeland Security will take applications again for future grants, and Nebraska communities will have another opportunity for such grants.

Best wishes,

Doug Bereuter,
Member of Congress

Turning back the clock would be good

There are times when a fellow wants to turn back the clock.

Let's say you realize that it's time to write something, like a column. Let's say that you sit down at the laptop and commence your effort. And let's say that, for some reason, when you touch the space bar on the keyboard, the machine throws some sort of garbage fit; it tosses all manner of garbage onto the screen. The kind of stuff that makes less sense, even, than the Iraqi information minister (wherever he is).

At such times, it would be nice to turn back the clock. Not to yesterday, when the computer was working. I mean, back to say, 1974. Back to when people in my trade were still using typewriters.

Remember typewriters?

When stuff went wrong with the ol' Corona, or Olympia, or Remington, it was usually nothing more than a broken or faded ribbon. If you had trouble with the carriage return, you just smacked it a couple of times while (in the newsroom I was familiar with) you suggested that its mother had a loud bark.

If you spilled coffee on a typewriter it wasn't a disaster of electrical or financial consequence. You just wiped off the keys. Done. No sitting around, waiting for someone with a degree in engineering to fiddle with it for a couple of days.

The computer is a fantastic tool, and it has made the lives of reporters and columnists much easier - too easy, in many cases. But it has also taken much of the character, or romance or whatever you want to call it, out of this racket.

Typewriters made good noise, and the noise would be varied, since people type at different speeds and use different methods. Five or 20 typewriters being clicked and clacked simultaneously created a unique symphony. Walk into a newsroom today and give a listen. You know what you hear? Not much. Close your eyes and you won't know if you're in a newsroom or a data processing center for an insurance company.

Don't get the notion that I'm one of those "Everything was better back then" types. I'm not. And, it wasn't. It's just that, every now and again, it would be nice to be able to turn back the pages and do something the way it used to be done - presuming that you enjoyed it.

The only good thing about a computer going kablooey on you in the middle of the night is that it gives you an opportunity to reminisce, and write a column about it, after you find another computer and go back to work.

Much to the surprise of approximately no one, the tax burden is about to get a bit more burdensome.

Take some comfort in this: Virtually no one in the Legislature wants to raise taxes. If one tax or another is expanded or increased, it won't be because some "wild-eyed spenders" (as former Gov. Jim Exon used to call them) want to loot the treasury. In this economy, it's simply a matter of paying the bills.

A couple of things to consider: This could be the Legislature that decides whether to change the nature of the University of Nebraska, and of state aid to education and other programs. Simply put, lawmakers could decide to deal with the state's revenue shortfall by whacking the scope of any number of programs. These are the kinds of decisions that will be noticeable to some degree now, but perhaps a lot more noticeable to our grandchildren.

Look for lawmakers to try to avoid a higher income tax rate. When people get a smaller paycheck, they are reminded every payday that the government is taking more from them. When they pay a little more sales tax, it's hardly noticeable. (The latter rule doesn't apply if you're purchasing a car). So, sales taxes tend to be a lot safer, politically, than income taxes. There's irony in that, since the income tax is progressive and the sales tax is notoriously regressive.

The most interesting thing to watch for at the Capitol: The role Gov. Mike Johanns chooses to play in the budget/tax drama. Will he insist that budget cuts are the only way to go, and reject any tax plans that would raise substantial revenue? If so, how tough will he talk to and about lawmakers? Most of them are his fellow Republicans. Will he use his veto power, and, if so, will he make a big (public) deal in demanding that his vetoes be upheld?

p.m. when the council will meet in regular session.
Final reminder - City Clean up Weekend May 2-4
If you are a Wayne resident or college student, now is your chance to clean up your place and dump those things free. Friday, Saturday and Sunday at the Wayne Transfer Station at 110 South Windom.

City residents can dump garbage, debris, old lumber, furniture, appliances, dried paint and old tires from the city for free on all three days.

The Transfer Station will be open regular hours on Friday; until 4 p.m. on Saturday and from 2 to 5 p.m. on Sunday.

Commercial businesses are not included in this project.

Sharing Public Resources

What do citizens want government to do for them and how can we do it cheaper? If our standard of living is improved by business creating new wealth and government's job is to support business and private rights by maintaining an orderly and stable society, how can government do the job as efficiently as possible?

All local governments are focusing on this because of less funding. We'll give some examples of what we are trying.

1) Wayne County, Wayne City, Wayne-Carroll Schools, the Chamber and Main Street, WSC and Wayne Industries have joined at one website and we have produced this at a minimal cost to all. The site is waynene.org

2) Wayne City has switched internet access to state access through WSC through wireless antennae on Bowen Hall and the tower by City Hall.

3) Wayne Carroll School provided the land to the city for the Community Activity Center.

4) Wayne City now provides library, swimming pool and parks and activity center to county and city residents at the same price because it's simpler and all have paid the special sales tax for some of these.

5) Wayne County crews work with all towns in the county to help with occasional equipment, parts, snow removal, etc.

6) In the future, we will see more sharing of street and road superintendents and school superintendents, certified water and waste water staff, teachers, city administrators, library books and supplies.

7) Let us know if you have an idea because we can't think of everything.

City Employee Cost Saving Idea Contest

During the year we keep track of employee ideas to save costs.

We recognize the winners at the end of the year. To date, this year's most notable idea is the black fly escape designed by the Planning Department and built by the Public Works people. Drive by it on the west side of City Hall.

NEW BEGINNINGS!

One of the most important roles of this, and any other, chamber of commerce is working with elected officials on issues of interest to our membership and business in general.

This takes various forms such as lobbying specific officials on pending legislation, helping craft proposed legislation, informing legislators and their staffs on the needs and concerns of our members, and interpreting to our members the mood and intentions of elected officials. Contacts are made at the national, state, and local levels.

The Legislative Taskforce of the chamber is a standing committee charged each year with tracking pending legislation in Lincoln. Members of the taskforce this year include Cap Petersen (Chair), Bill Claybaugh, Jack Hausmann, Bob Jordan, Curt Frye, Loren Kucera, and Bill Trick and meet every two weeks during the unicameral session to scan update documents from the state chamber's legislative liaison staff and discuss any issue that might arise from any sector of the economy such as banking, education, insurance, roads, healthcare, taxation, agriculture, manufacturing, and retail.

More specifically, the Legislative Taskforce sponsors each year the Legislative Forum, a Q and A session with regional senators for high school and college students and their teachers. This year, the Taskforce is trying to help secure improved state funding for WSC and Wayne Community Schools.

Also, progress on Highways 35 and 15 is tracked by members of the taskforce to help keep all informed and provide input to the Department of Roads. Any chamber member who desires help with respect to pending or prospective legislation may attend a taskforce meeting to discuss the issue and make recommendations to the Board of Directors for appropriate action.

Rockford, Ill. along with the World Championships in Akron, Ohio.

The three local families will be racing in Sioux City on June 14 and 15 at the 40th annual local race with winners in each division representing the Greater since 1934. It's a nationally-known youth racing program that teaches youngsters some of the basic skills of workmanship, the spirit of competition and the perseverance to continue a project once it has begun.

Siouxland Soap Box Derby in Akron, Ohio at the World Championships July 26. Soap Box Derby has been run

Boys and girls ages 8 through 17 are eligible to compete in one of three classes, Stock, Super Stock and Masters Division. The cars and drivers race with rules and weight requirements in each class. The car and driver can weigh up to 200 pounds. Weight can be added if you fall under the 200 pound requirement. The cars have a wheel base that is three feet wide and measures six feet, seven inches long.

The Sioux City race will feature the Stock and Super Stock Divisions.

The Stock Division is for racers age 8-17 years old and can accommodate a racer up to 5'3" tall and 125 pounds. The Super Stock Division down the cars which will reach 28-30 mph. The course has 37 feet of drop from start to finish.

The Tacos and More entry will be driven by Jacob Zeiss of Wayne. The fourth grader is the son of Jeff and Jackie Zeiss.

Sandra Gathje, owner of Tacos and More, says she thought it was a good idea to select Jacob because he is "a sports minded individual." She added, "He is very excited about running the Soap Box Derby car."

Verdel Lutt from Texaco Wayne East and Don Endicott of Pac-N-Save said they are still looking for interested parties to drive their entries. The cars are on display currently at the respective businesses.

Endicott said sponsoring a car is a way for his business to get involved in area events and it's an avenue to promote the community of Wayne.

"I think it's good for the local community. Wouldn't it be great if someone from Wayne won?" said Endicott.

Local drivers will have a chance to make practice runs on the new track in Sioux City on Saturday, June 7 before the local race on June 14 and 15.

The program offered to Wayne drivers also offers additional opportunities to race and gain experience for developing their Soap Box Derby skills.

The Greater Siouxland Soap Box Derby Association will also hold a demonstration during the Chicken Show on Saturday, July 12 at 4 p.m.

Menefee said, "We would like to get more people involved and we're hoping the demonstration in Wayne will help us expand more."

For more information on Soap Box Derby racing, you can contact Chad Menefee at (712) 943-3139.

Working together to beautify Wayne

The City of Wayne is working with the college on a beautification project, which is funded by a grant from the Lower Elkhorn Natural Resource District to improve and promote tree planting and maintenance in this area east of the Student Center. Sheryl Lindau, mayor of Wayne and WSC vice president and dean of students Curt Frye planted a tree during the Arbor Day program, April 25. The City of Wayne provided the equipment to dig most of the tree holes for the project.

Council is updated on Activity Center

By Clara Osten
Of the Herald

After six months of being open, the Community Activity Center seems to be doing well.

This is according to a report presented to the Wayne City Council at Tuesday's meeting.

Justin Thede, Facility Director of the CAC, told the council that through the first six months of operation, Mondays, Tuesdays and Wednesdays have been the busiest days at the facility. The average number of users on these days was 203, 189 and 201, respectively.

Thede said that at the present time, there are just over 1,750 persons who are members of the facility and that 648 memberships have been sold. In addition to Wayne residents, users of the facility have come from a number of area towns.

A request was approved for the use of $9,125 in Wayne Revolving Loan Funds (WRLF) by Ideal Interiors.

The request was made by Wendy Vawser and will be matched by a $11,500 loan from BankFirst. Vawser will open her business in the former Hardee's building at Sixth and Main Streets. A WRLF is granted for a seven-year period at one-half the interest charged by local lending institutions.

Council members waived the three readings on two ordinances which were then given final approval. The first allows for a handicapped parking stall in the 200 Block of Main Street and the second directs the sale of the former fire hall property to State National Bank. Following the completion of the sale, the city will continue to lease the property at $100 per month for storage and other purposes.

An agreement was approved with the Rugby group for land north of the Softball Complex.

Darrin Barner, Wayne State Rugby coach, and Rod Tompkins, who will be involved with the development of the land, spoke to the council about the popularity of rugby and the possibility of bringing additional events to Wayne in

Jorgensen receives honor

Zachary Jorgensen, son of Wayne was presented an award Shelley and Joel Jorgensen of and medal from Sergeant 1st Class Layne Beza and Staff Sergeant Leif Olson at his home on April 6.

The request to receive this honor was made by the Make A Wish Foundation and Steve and Pam Pitzer, Zachary's Make A Wish sponsors.

The public affairs office in Lincoln is responsible for putting together the award and medal and passes it on to the nearest National Guard facility to make the presentation.

According to Sergeant Beza, "This is an award for young children and their parents who have battle fields of their own and a time to recognize them for the patience, courage and dedication required to deal with a child's disability."

Zachary has Duchenne Muscular Dystrophy, a progressive muscle wasting disease.

"We want to thank the National Guard and Sergeants Beza and Olson for taking the time to present this amazing award," the Jorgensen family said.

Jaycees to host fireworks display

The Fourth of July in Wayne this year will have an added spark.

For a number of years, the Wayne County Jaycees have sponsored a fireworks display in conjunction with baseball games held during the day.

These two events will continue, but a number of new activities are being planned, under the direction of Chairman Brian Gibson and Co-Chair Terry Bear.

All activities will take place at the Wayne softball complex with the exception of baseball games which have been scheduled with the Millard Blackhawks, beginning early in the afternoon at Hank Overin Field.

A tentative schedule includes a barbecue from 5 to 9 p.m., coordinated by the Wayne Optimist Club.

VIP Hot Air Balloon rides with Flying Colors from Tyndall, S.D. will be given from 5 to 6 p.m. The balloon rides are being sponsored by the four banks in Wayne, BankFirst, Farmers & Merchants State Bank, First National Bank and State National Bank & Trust.

The Wayne, High School Color Guard and Dance Squad will be in charge of a Bouncy House, Dunk Tank and concessions from 5 to 6 p.m. with sno cones, pop and popcorn available.

Public balloon rides will be conducted from 6 to 9:45 p.m. There is no cost for a balloon ride, although donations will be accepted.

A concert will be presented by For the Master from 6 to 7:30 p.m.

A release of red, white and blue balloons will be conducted at 7:45 for those soldiers serving our country and those lost in war. This event is being sponsored by Main Street Wayne.

The All-American Country Road Show Band will provide music from 8 to 9:30 p.m. The group includes members from Minnesota, Nebraska, South Dakota and Iowa.

KTCH Radio will be broadcasting from the softball complex beginning at 9:45 and will simulcast the fireworks display which will begin at 10 p.m.

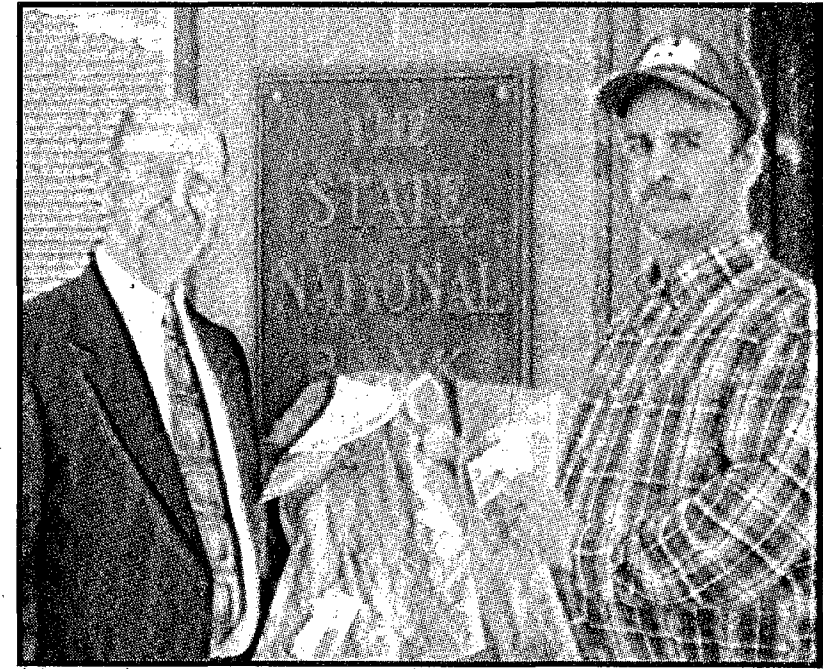

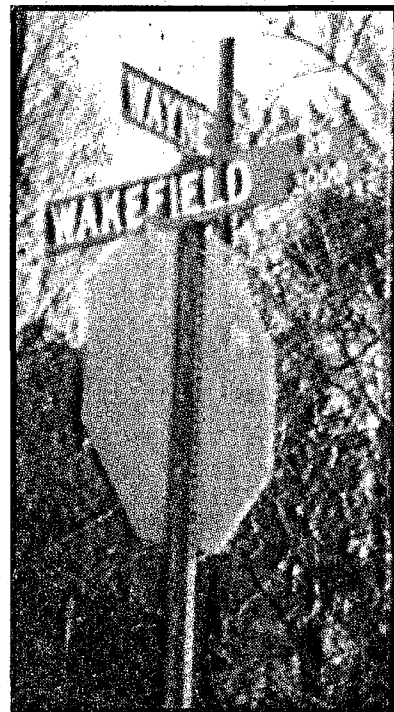

"All the activities we have planned are designed for the whole family," Gibson said.

The Jaycees plan to spend approximately $5,500 on fireworks. Fundraising for this event has been going on for several months and additional donations are appreciated.

Both businesses and individuals are encouraged to contribute to this event by sending a donation to the Wayne County Jaycees, P.O. Box 85, Wayne, Neb. 68787.

Reminder of home

A street sign in Wilmington, N.C. bears familiar names to this area. Terry Meyer of Wayne was in Wilmington recently when he saw this sign and decided he had to take a photo.

Planting for the future

Pat Gross of State National Bank, left, presents 100 blue spruce tree seedlings to Marty Marx of the Logan Creek Pheasants Forever Chapter. The seedlings, which were provided through the Nebraska Bankers Association, will be used for habitat projects in Wayne County.

Touch of spring

With the cool weather and rain this spring, early flowers such as these tulips are especially colorful and pretty.

Keitges sets two new records at Wausa track meet

Allen and Winside were two of the 13 teams that competed Saturday at the Wausa Invitational track meet run at Pierce High School.

Thanks to two new meet records set by freshman sensation Erin Keitges, the Allen girls finished in third place with 72 points. Bancroft-Rosalie edged Niobrara-Santee 105-90 for the girls team title with Winside placing 11th with 14 points.

Host Wausa posted 98 points to win the boys title. Hartington High and Osmond followed with 68 points each. Clearwater was fourth at 66 with Winside just one point back in fifth at 65. The Allen boys scored 19 points to place eighth.

Erin Keitges helped the Allen girls to three first place finishes. She won the 1600 meter run (5:41.7) and the 3200 meter run (12:06.2), setting new meet records in both events. Keitges also anchored the winning 4 x 800 relay team, crossing the tape in 10:42.7. Other runners included Angie Sullivan, Jennifer Keitges and Alycia Stewart. "What stood out today was freshman Erin Keitges," said head coach Denise Hingst. "She has really been consistent running the long races and turned them into success."

Other top finishers for the Eagles included Kelli Rastede, placing second in the 400 meter dash (1:00.3) and third in the 300 meter hurdles (51.05); Angie Sullivan finished third in the 800 meter run (2:36.4) and Alyssa Uldrich placed third in the shot put (32'1").

The Allen girls also had two relay teams pick up second place medals. The 4 x 100 relay of Carla and Kelli Rastede, Sullivan and Uldrich ran a time of 56.2 seconds while the 4 x 400 team of Codi Isom, Jen Keitges, Alycia Stewart crossed the line in 4:37.6.

"We had a lot of girls that had personal bests," added Hingst. "I am very proud of the girls and I hope we can keep improving as the season moves along."

Lindsay Harmeyer scored all 14 points for Winside, winning the long jump (16'4.25") and placing fourth in the triple jump (32'10.5").

Shane Jaeger posted the only win for the Winside boys, taking first in the 200 meter dash (22.6). He also placed second in the 100 meter dash in 10.83 seconds.

Nate Wills placed in two events, taking second in the 800 meter run (2:10.8) and third in the 400 meters (53.44) while Kevin Boelter placed second in the 1600 meter run (5:14.0).

Kass Holdorf won three medals, placing fourth in the 300 meter hurdles (45.9), fifth in the 110 meter hurdles (16.72) and sixth in the high jump (5'8").

Winside had three relay teams each place third. The 4 x 100 relay of Jaeger, Bo Brummels, Wills and Mike Hawkins ran a time of 47.41 seconds, the 4 x 400 team of Hawkins, Wills, Brummels and Russ O'Connor finished in 3:52.5 and the 4 x 800 quartet of Boelter, Hawkins, Nathan Stevens and O'Connor posted a time of 9:40.4.

The Allen boys were led by Bart Sachau's third place finish in the triple jump at 41'6/75", a personal best.

Nathan Sturges finished fourth in the 3200 meter run with a time of 11:50.7, Corey Uldrich placed fifth in the shot put (40'7.5") and Andrew Sachau ran a personal best time of 46.7 to finish fifth in the 300 meter hurdles.

The 4 x 400 relay of Aaron Smith, Bart Sachau, Uldrich and Derick Nice finished fourth in 3:53.10 while the 4 x 800 team of Sturges, Chad Oswald, David Rastede and Josh Malcom placed sixth in a time of 10:00.4.

"The guys gave a great performance at the Wausa meet," said head coach David Uldrich. "We are competing very well each time we step on the track and that is what this sport is all about."

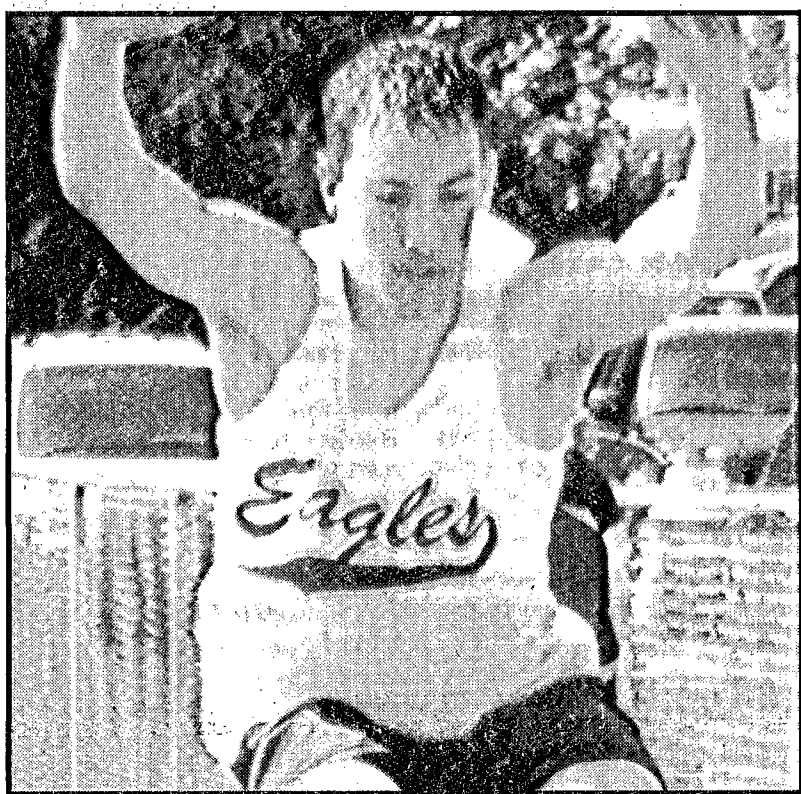

Allen and Winside will be competing Saturday at the Lewis and Clark Conference meet in Pierce with field events starting at 10 am. The Winside Invitational will be held at Laurel on Thursday, May 8, with field events beginning at 1 pm.

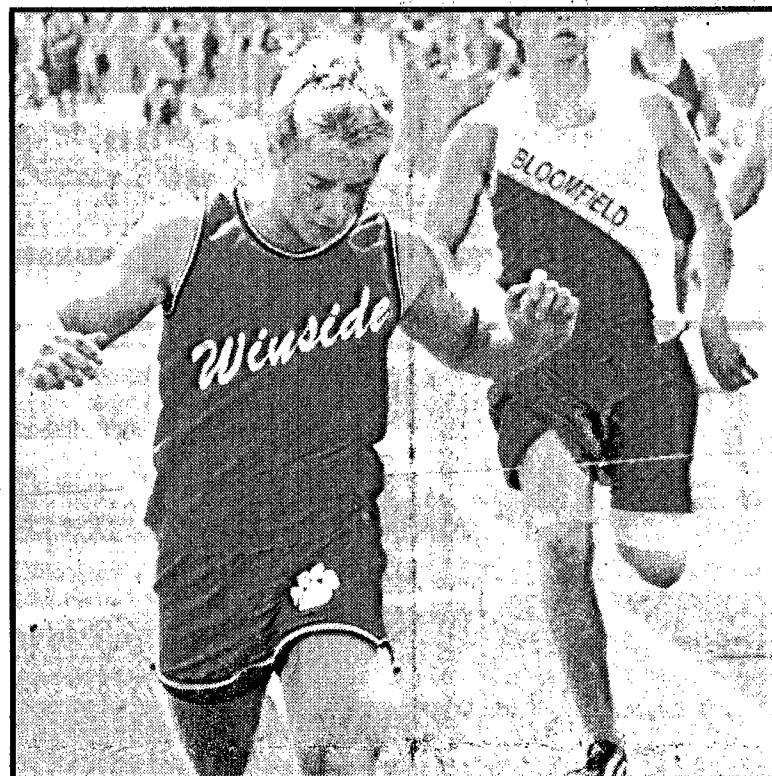

Alycia Stewart of Allen hands the baton to teammate Erin Keitges in the 3200 meter relay race during Saturday's Wausa Invitational track meet. Allen won the event in a time of 10:42.7.

Lindsay Harmeyer of Winside leaps to a first place finish in the long jump at Saturday's Wausa track meet. She also placed third in the triple jump.

Bart Sachau of Allen placed third in the triple jump at the Wausa Invitational with a personal best leap of 41'7.75".

Shane Jaeger of Winside breaks the tape in the prelims of the 100 meter dash at the Wausa Invitational in Pierce. The senior placed first in the 200 and second in the 100.

Wayne golfers capture Mid States crown

The Wayne High boys golf team braved windy conditions to win the Mid States Conference Golf Tournament Saturday at the Albion Country Club.

Wayne's team score of 324 was eight strokes better than the host team, Boone Central. Madison was third at 336, followed by Norfolk Catholic (342), Hartington Cedar Catholic (354), Pierce (368), West Point Central Catholic (386) and Battle Creek (390).

Balanced scoring was a key again for Wayne in staying unbeaten in tournament play this season.

John Jensen finished second overall with a 78, just one shot back of medalist Billy Bolin of Boone Central. Tyler Anderson carded a 79 to place third with Brad Erickson posting an 81 to finish fourth. Wayne's other varsity score was Andy Martin with an 86.

Wayne also won the JV portion of the Mid States Conference Tournament.

The Blue Devils were 36 shots better than runner-up Norfolk Catholic 340-376. Boone Central was third at 379, followed by Madison, Hartington Cedar Catholic, Pierce, West Point Central Catholic and Battle Creek.

Brian Mohl led the Wayne JV team with an 80, followed by Trevor Krugman's 84 with Ben Mohl and Eric Sturm each finishing at 88.

Last Thursday, Wayne won the 17-team Columbus Scotus Invitational with a 324. Hastings St. Cecilia was second at 333 and Schuyler finished third at 336.

Andy Martin of Wayne was medalist for the tournament with a 75 to lead the Blue Devils. Brad Erickson fired an 80 to place seventh with John Jensen posting an 81 to finish ninth. Brian Mohl shot an 88 and Ben Mohl finished with 90.

The Wayne JV team placed second at the O'Neill Invitational played last Thursday at the Summerland Golf Course in Ewing.

Atkinson West Holt won the tournament, with a 324, three strokes better than the Wayne JV team. O'Neill and Ord tied for third at 329.

Trevor Krugman led Wayne with a 77 to place third overall. Freshman John Whitt tied for 12th with an 82. Other Wayne JV scores included Tyler Anderson with 83, Eric Sturm shot 85 and Tyler Johnson finished with 101.

The next action for Wayne was scheduled for today (Thursday) at the Columbus Lakeview Invitational. Wayne will also travel to the Oakland-Craig Invitational on Saturday and host the Maciejewski Invite on Thursday, May 8, at the Wayne Country Club.

Wayne track teams place fifth and sixth at Schuyler Invitational

The Wayne High track teams battled cool, damp and breezy conditions at the Fred Arnold Track Invitational in Schuyler on Thursday, April 24.

"We had a few people compete well and then a few who had an off day against strong competition," said head coach Dale Hochstein.

Columbus Scotus rolled up 137 points to win the girls division. Elkhorn placed second in the eight-team field with 93 points, followed by Logan View (75), Blair (60) and Wayne in fifth with 59 points. Schuyler (46), Columbus Lakeview (30) and Aquinas (27) filled out the team scoring.

Karissa Hochstein and Alissa Dunklau led the Blue Devils with one event win each.

Hochstein took first place in the 200 meter dash in 27.0 seconds. She also placed second in the 100 meters (12.8) and the 400 meters (1:01.6) and brought home a fourth-place medal in the shot put with a throw of 35'11.5".

Dunklau won the 300 meter hurdles in 50.4 seconds and placed second in the long jump at 15'6.25".

Other individual medal winners included Amber Nelson placing fourth in the 3200 meter run (12:47.4) and Erin Jarvi, who finished sixth in the high jump (4'8").

The 4 x 800 meter relay team of Kayla Hochstein, Nelson, Ashley Carroll and Brooke Anderson finished fourth in 10:46.4 while the 4 x 400 meter relay quartet of Kayla Hochstein, Anderson, Dunklau and Jarvi placed fifth in a time of 4:36.5.

David City Aquinas scored 114.5 points to win the boys division with Elkhorn second at 83. Columbus Lakeview was third with 78, followed by Logan View (67), Blair (65.5) and Wayne in sixth with 62 points. Columbus Scotus (43) and Schuyler (13) rounded out the team scoring.

Jon Ehrhardt won the high jump (5'10"), placed third in the 100 meters (11.6) and fifth in the 200 meters (23.9) to lead Wayne. Bryan Fink placed first in the 3200 meter run (10:39.1) and was fifth in the 1600 meters at 4:49.1.

Caleb Garvin finished second in the discus (135'11") and was fifth in the shot put (45'6"); Josh Davis placed third in the 300 meter hurdles (43.6) and ended fifth in the 110 hurdles (17.1); Travis Luhr tied for fifth in the high jump (5'6") and Dana Schuett placed sixth in the 400 meter dash (55.1).

Wayne had three relay teams also win medals.

The 4 x 100 relay of Ehrhardt, Davis, Nathan Milander and Matt Roeber placed fourth in 47.0 seconds, the 4 x 800 relay team of Luhr, Kris Roberts, Wade Jarvi and Josh Hartwell finished fourth (9:18.0) and the 4 x 400 quartet of Schuett, Luhr, Roberts and Scott Baier placed fifth with a time of 3:45.7.

Tuesday, Wayne competed at the Pierce Freshman/Sophomore Invitational.

The Wayne girls team scored 45.5 points to place sixth out of 11 teams.

Two relay teams won first place medals. The 4 x 100 team of Rachel Jensen, Sarah Jensen, Jean Pieper and Renee Theobald finished in 54.3 seconds while the 4 x 800 relay of Brooke Anderson, Ashley Carroll, Kayla Hochstein and Jenny Nolte took first in 11:02.3. The 4 x 400 quartet of Anderson, Pieper, Hochstein and Nolte placed fourth in 4:33.0.

Other medal winners included Pieper placing second in the 100 meter dash (13.3) and third in the 200 meters (28.3); Theobald finished fourth in the 200 meters (28.7) and fifth in the 100 (13.9) and Hochstein was fifth in the triple jump (30'7.5").

The boys team scored 10 points to place ninth out of 12 teams.

The best finish was a fourth place effort by the 4 x 800 relay team of Josh Hartwell, Wade Jarvi, John Temme and Dana Schuett. Their time was 9:35.2.

Nathan Milander placed fifth in the long jump (18'2.5"), Dana Schuett was fifth in the 400 meter dash (55.9) and the 4 x 100 relay of Scott Baier, Hartwell, Milander and Schuett finished fifth with a time of 49.0 seconds.

Wayne was scheduled to compete tonight (Thursday) at the Norfolk Track and Field Classic. Other upcoming meets include the Mid States Conference meet at Battle Creek Saturday and the Battle Creek Invitational on May 8.

Harder signs women's golf letter of intent with UMKC

University of Missouri-Kansas City women's golf coach Mike Rhoades has announced that Amy Harder of Wayne has signed a letter of intent to compete for the Division I Kangaroos in 2003-04.

Harder finished second at the Class B State Tournament as a senior last fall. It was her second consecutive runner-up finish at the state tournament. She lost a play-off for the championship as a junior and finished fifth as a sophomore in 2000. Harder, a three-time all-state selection by the Nebraska Coaches Association, plans on majoring in dentistry or business.

"I'm very excited to have Amy Harder join our women's golf program," said Rhoades, who coached UMKC to a runner-up finish at the Mid-Continent Conference Championships last week. "I expect Amy to excel at UMKC on the golf course and in the classroom. She has the ability to step in and make a contribution to our team from the start. Hopefully, as she develops, she will lead us to a Mid-Continent Conference Championship and a berth in the NCAA Tournament."

Harder joins a UMKC women's golf program that has been among the top three teams in the Mid-Continent Conference each season since 1998.

Amy Harder is the daughter of Troy and Shelly Harder of Wayne.

Rockhurst tops Wayne State in Central Region baseball showdown

For the first time this season, the Wayne State baseball team faces a losing streak. Wayne State dropped the final three games of a weekend series at Southwest State, then dropped a 16-6 decision at home Monday to Rockhurst in a matchup of the second and third ranked teams in the Central Region rankings. The Wildcats close out the regular season Friday and Saturday at Minnesota-Duluth, looking to snap a four-game losing streak. Monday, Rockhurst showed no signs of a long road trip, traveling from Grand Forks, N.D. earlier in the day, to beat the Wildcats 16-6. Wayne State used eight different pitchers in the game, allowing 14 hits and seven walks to the Hawks. "When you play a good team and you don't play well, you will lose," said head coach John Manganaro. "We didn't pitch well and we made four errors in the game." The Wildcats had 11 hits in the game. Ryan Radtke, Justin Conley and Brian Disch had two hits each. Disch and Chris Pedroza had two RBIs apiece. Wayne State's four game series at Southwest State began with a bang last Friday when the Wildcats won the first game 20-0. Wayne State scored 10 runs in the seventh inning to blow the game open. Travis McCarter tossed a complete game four-hitter in the win. The junior from Overton (7-0) has yet to allowed an earned run in conference play this season. "McCarter was simply outstanding," commented Manganaro. "He had the up-batter from the first pitch of the game until the end." Brian Foy had two home runs and seven RBI to lead Wayne State's 14 hit barrage. Don Whitmire added three hits while Tim Richt, Brian Disch and Aaron Lavaroto contributed two each. Wayne State then dropped a 2-1 decision to the Mustangs in the second game. Southwest State plated the game winning run in the bottom of the seventh inning for the win. The Wildcats were limited to four hits in the contest, all singles. Foy had two of the hits. Saturday, Wayne State lost another game in the bottom of the seventh inning, falling 5-4. The Wildcats held an early 4-2 lead, but Southwest State rallied for the victory. Foy and Conley homered for the Wildcats. Whitmire and David Westergaard each added a double. The Wildcats had five hits in the game. Southwest State won the final game of the series Saturday afternoon 9-2, scoring eight unanswered runs to erase a 2-1 WSC lead early in the game. The Mustangs had one more hit than the Wildcats, 7-6. Richt produced two singles to lead Wayne State. Manganaro said his team just couldn't catch a break during the four-game series in Marshall. "We just didn't get it done," said Manganaro on the one-run losses. "We have to play better when we are on the road, it came down to the last at bat both times and they took advantage." Wayne State is 11-3 in the NSIC (third place) and 23-10 overall entering this weekend's four game series at Duluth. The Bulldogs are tied for first in the NSIC, along with Concordia-St. Paul, with a 12-2 record. UMD is 28-8 overall.

Wayne State to host NSIC Softball Tournament

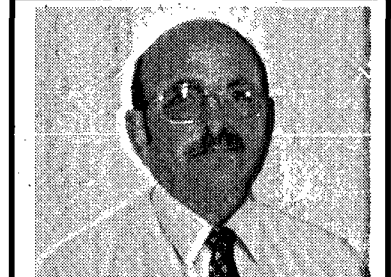

The Wayne State softball team went 3-2 at the NSIC Crossover Tournament in Bemidji, Minn. Saturday and Sunday. The Wildcats lost to Bemidji State on Saturday 6-3; blanked Minnesota-Morris 3-0 and dropped a 1-0 contest in 8 innings to Minnesota-Duluth. Wayne State posted a pair of shutout wins on Sunday, pounding Minnesota State-Moorhead 9-0 and Minnesota-Crookston 11-0. "We played very well over the weekend, especially considering we were without starting left fielder Katie Johnson (MCAT exam) and right fielder Stefanie Brewster (flu)," stated head coach Jon Misfeldt. The Wildcats played the tournament with only 10 players, but Misfeldt added that everyone did a great job of making solid contributions. "As a team, our batting average went up 11 points. Defensively, we committed just five errors in five games and our pitching was outstanding," said Misfeldt. He added, "We think we are playing well again and we hope we will peak this weekend when we host the conference tournament." In the 6-3 loss to Bemidji, Wayne State had four hits in the game. Theresa Garlow delivered a two-run double while Lisa Stewart, Renae Beckner and Kristina Walker each singled. Whitney Wilczynski and Mindy Guenin combined on a five-hit shutout to lead Wayne State in a 3-0 win over Minnesota-Morris. Garlow, Guenin, Amber Johnson

McCarter named Northern Sun Conference Pitcher of the Week

Wayne State's Travis McCarter has been named the Northern Sun Conference Baseball Pitcher of the Week. It is the third time he has received the honor this season. The junior righthander from Overton pitched a complete game, shutout last Friday, defeating Southwest State 20-0. He did not walk a batter and gave only four hits while striking out four batters. McCarter is now 7-0 this season with a 1.60 ERA and has not allowed an earned run in NSIC play. He has pitched 56.1 innings, allowing just 42 hits while striking out 61 batters this season. He has tossed four complete games, including two shutouts.

Sav-Mor Pharmacy
Rx and OTC Medicines for Rheumatoid Arthritis

Of the most common types of arthritis, rheumatoid arthritis (RA) is the most disabling. The body's own immune system attacks the joints. The result is joint swelling, inflammation, and pain. Typically, the smaller joints in the fingers, hands, and feet tend to become inflamed first. Rheumatoid arthritis can occur at any age but usually begins to appear between the ages of 25 and 50.

Fortunately, prescription and over-the-counter (OTC) medicines relieve RA symptoms in 3 out of 4 of those who suffer. However, 1 in 10 eventually become disabled from this condition. The primary medicines used for RA are a large group of drugs called the "NSAIDs." This group includes aspirin, ibuprofen, celecoxib (Celebrex), and rofecoxib (Vioxx). NSAIDs reduce swelling in affected joints and alleviate the pain in most people. If NSAIDs don't work in 2 to 3 months, slower acting drugs such as gold thiomalate (myochrysin) may be helpful. Penicillamine (Cuprimine) is used sometimes when gold thiomalate isn't effective. Hydroxychloroquine (Plaquenil) used in less severe RA. Once-a-week oral Methotrexate (Rheumatrex), with or without other drugs, is being used more frequently in persons with severe RA.

WSC women's rugby team hosts Nebraska Saturday

The Wayne State women's rugby team stayed unbeaten in the Great Plains Rugby Union with a 19-0 win at South Dakota on April 24. The win sets up a showdown with the University of Nebraska Saturday at 1pm at the Wayne Community Activity Center field. Both teams are unbeaten in conference play. WSC has outscored their opponents by a combined 178-0 in the last four games, but head coach Darrin Barner knows his team will be tested against Nebraska. "There is no doubt that WSC, with such a young team, will be underdogs in this game," said Barner. "But with some home field advantage and having Northeast Nebraska cheering on the Black and Gold of WSC and not the Big Red, I can promise all the fans that these girls will sell themselves out for anyone who wants to witness a great game of courage." Last April, WSC lost by two touchdowns to Nebraska in front of a home crowd of 400 fans and Barner hopes to revenge that loss this weekend. Fans will also have the opportunity to watch Angela Matthews for the first time in Wayne. Matthews, a freshman at WSC, is a member of the USA International Rugby Team, is the leading scorer and tackler and according to Barner will put on a special show for fans at the game. "She is a great defensive player, such a destructive threat to cause fumbles," stated Barner. "It is just a thrill such a superior athlete like Matthews can put on a great show here in Wayne." There is no admission charge to Saturday's game. Fans are encouraged to bring lawn chairs and get to the field early.

Connie Yori is featured speaker at Wayne State athletic banquet

Nebraska women's basketball coach Connie Yori will be the keynote speaker at the Wayne State College athletic banquet on Sunday, May 4.

This year's event is sponsored by Ameritas Insurance and will have a time change from the past. The social half-hour is scheduled from 11:30 am-noon with lunch served at 12 pm.

The banquet will honor this past year's teams and individuals. Tickets for the banquet are $15 in advance and $20 at the door, but seating is limited. To reserve your WSC athletic banquet tickets, please call the athletic department office at (402) 375-7520. Tickets are currently on sale and will remain so until the day of the banquet.

Connie Yori, who just finished her first season at Nebraska, has a career 203-160 record in 13 seasons. She was named the Nebraska head coach on June 24 after 10 successful seasons at Creighton.

Yori was named the Missouri Valley Conference Coach of the Year during the 2001-02 season after leading Creighton to a 24-7 record, winning the Missouri Valley Conference regular season and tournament championships while earning a bid to the NCAA Tournament.

Yori graduated from Creighton in 1986 with a bachelor's degree in journalism. As a player for the Bluejays, she ranks third on the school's all-time scoring list with 2,010 points.

Yori, who is originally from Ankeny, Iowa, is a two-time inductee into the Iowa Girl's High School Athletic Union Hall of Fame as both a basketball and softball star. She led Ankeny to four state championships, one in basketball and three in softball.

Wildcat track teams win three events at Hastings Invitational

The Wayne State College track and field teams traveled to Hastings last Friday to compete in the Hastings Invitational. Wildcat athletes took home three individual first place finishes with two on the men's side and one on the women's side.

"We had some good performances and saw some new people step up and compete very well," stated head coach Marlon Brink.

Leading the men's team was sophomore Brian Dixon, who won the 110 meter hurdles in a close race. His winning time was 14.73 seconds. Dixon also placed fifth in the 400 meter hurdles in a time of 58.97.

Freshman Matt Schaffer won the 800 meter run in a thrilling come from behind finish. Schaffer won going away over the last 50 meter to win in a time of 1:57.69 - a lifetime best for him.

Senior Adam Meier set a new WSC school record in the javelin with a personal best throw of 184' 9" to finish second.

Other top finishers included senior Jason Kneifl placing second in the high jump with a leap of 6' 6" and junior Nick Hansen finishing third in the 5,000 meter run in a time of 15:57.69.

The Wildcat women's team was led with a victory by Nicole McCoy. The freshman from Lincoln Plus won the 1500 meter run in a time of 5:16.16.

Sophomore Jodi Rhodig placed second in the 200 meter dash (26.68), freshman Erin Norenberg finished third in the 3000 meter run (12:22.79) and Katie Malander took third in the pole vault (9'6") to round out top performers for the women's team.

Wayne State had two athletes, Angie Albers and Brenna Pribil, compete in the NSIC Heptathlon Championships on Sunday and Monday at Northern State University in Aberdeen, S.D.

The heptathlon consists of seven events, 100 meter hurdles, high jump, shot put, 200 meter dash, long jump, javelin throw and 800 meter run.

Albers, a senior, placed seventh with a score of 3811 points while Pribil, a freshman, finished eighth with 3804 points.

Wayne State will travel to the long running Howard Wood Relays in Sioux Falls Friday and Saturday.

"We will be trying to get some good marks at the Howard Wood Relays," added Brink. "Our athletes are starting to focus on the NSIC Championships which are just two weeks away."

Wayne junior bowlers recognized

The Wayne Junior Bowling League held a fun day on April 13 to hand out awards and trophies for the 2003 bowling season. 50 bowlers, along with their parents and coaches attended the event held at Melodee Lanes.

The Jaguars took first place in the team standings, followed by the Mighty Richards and Pac-N-Save Canooks.

The following bowlers were recognized in their respective division for high game, series, average and most improved:

Blood bank moves to keep SARS virus out of blood supply

The Siouxland Community Blood Bank will follow recommendations from the Food and Drug Administration and take precautions to maintain a safe blood supply regarding the SARS respiratory illness. Although there is no direct evidence that the SARS virus has spread through blood transfusions, the FDA said it was making the recommendation until more is learned about the disease.

U.S. officials on April 17th recommended that anyone who has recently had severe acute respiratory syndrome (SARS) or is at risk for the lung infection be barred from donating blood, a move designed to protect the blood supply from the new illness. "At this time, there are no known cases of SARS transmission via blood products. However, detection of the genes of the possible causative virus in blood has been reported in a patient with the illness," the FDA said.

SARS is believed to spread primarily through droplets sprayed out when an infected person sneezes or coughs, but the virus has been detected in every body fluid that has been tested, including blood. Regulations require that blood donors be in good health, which would ensure that anyone with an active case of SARS would not donate.

According to Jan Twait, executive director of the Siouxland Community Blood Bank, "the blood bank will immediately begin taking steps in the blood donor screening process to protect our blood supply from SARS." Based on symptoms and travel history, those who may have an acute case of SARS, "will be excluded from giving blood for 28 days after their symptoms have cleared up and any treatment has been completed."

In addition to the current blood donor screening questions about their general health conditions, new FDA recommendations include questioning donors whether they may have had the disease, been treated for it, recently traveled to parts of Asia where the disease is most common -- China, Hanoi, Singapore, and Toronto -- or had close contact with a probable or suspected case or someone who traveled to those places.

Anyone who has traveled to affected areas should not donate for two weeks after his or her return, the FDA said. Donors are also encouraged to report SARS illness or treatment that occurs within 14 days after donation, and at that point their blood will be quarantined and indefinitely kept out of the general blood supply.

"The measures are not expected to significantly affect donations, because the number of people who will be turned away should be relatively small," says Jan Twait. "According to the FDA no more than 0.4 percent of donors will be affected in the screening process."

For more information, contact the blood bank at (712) 252-4208 or 800-798-4208, or visit the blood bank website at www.siouxland-bloodbank.org.

Brittany Jareske receives nursing studies scholarship

The Boyle Companies announces that Brittany Jareske of Wayne has been awarded a scholarship from the Boyle Endowment for Nursing Studies to attend Wayne State College this fall.

Jareske, daughter of Greg and Candi Jareske, is scheduled to graduate from Wayne High School this May. She plans to pursue a degree in nursing while at Wayne State. Jareske has been very involved in band and has received a National Orchestra Award. She has also served as a member of the Spanish Club and FBLA.

The Boyle Endowment for Nursing Studies has been established to provide assistance to high school seniors interested in pursuing a career in nursing or nursing home administration.

Oil from Two Herbs Used in Aromatherapy

Research has shown that specific odors, when connected to past events, can affect behavior. For example, a burning smell or the smell of hospital disinfectants can cause feelings of anxiety in some persons. That is the concept behind a relatively new approach to healthcare called aromatherapy. Most often specific aromas are used to produce a calming effect. Aromatherapists use essential oils of different herbs to produce the desired outcome.

Three recent studies indicate that the scent from the oils of lemon balm and lavender when inhaled or applied to the skin, significantly benefited elderly persons with existing behavior problems such as dementia and agitation. The oils were either steamed into the room air or were applied as a hand lotion. In each study no side effects were noted and all participants were able to complete the designated treatment. The significance of these studies is that an improvement in agitation eventually could lead to decreased need for prescription-calming drugs, in some cases.

Top, around 100 volunteers were recognized at the Wayne Senior Center recently. In observance of National Volunteer Week, the group was honored for the time and talents they give in many different areas at the Center to make everything run smoothly. One volunteer, Marilyn Anderson, right, has been helping at the Senior Center for over 25 years.

Volunteers are recognized at Senior Center

By Tracy Keating,
Wayne Senior Center

The Wayne Senior Center offers many volunteer opportunities for those who are interested in supporting the center and helping the senior citizens of our community.

We are proud to announce that we have approximately 100 volunteers. One senior, Marilyn Anderson, has been a volunteer for over 25 years. Also, we have many college students who volunteer throughout the year.

Volunteer opportunities at the Wayne Senior Center, are kitchen help, substitutes, meals on wheels deliveries, quilters, music entertainers, health care professionals providing free healthcare screens, educational speakers, Bible study leaders, help with the newsletter, crafts, and helping serve and clean up 3 p.m. coffee.

We are overwhelmed by the support and generosity of our volunteers and we thank each and everyone of you! If you are interested in volunteering in any of the above duties, please call Tracy at 375-1460.

Many of our volunteers are seniors and the most frequent comments heard amongst volunteers are "I do it to stay active and it's very rewarding to help others - it keeps me young and it's a great feeling of satisfaction."

Attend foreign language fair in Lincoln

A group of German students from Wayne High School attended UNL's Foreign Language Fair on the main campus in Lincoln on April 10.

They competed in four categories and came home with two first places and one second place.

The performance of the Grimm Brothers' fairytale "Hans im Gluck" earned a Superior and first Place on Level 2 for Elysia Mann, Deron Connolly, Sean Draper, Brandon Foote, Charles Holm, Emyln Mann, Sarah Replogle, John Whitt, Adam Lutt and Nathan Shapiro.

The Eichendorff song from 1813 "In einem kühlen Grunde" also won a Superior and First Place in Level 2. The singers were Josh Austin, Adam Lutt, Jeff Meyer and Nathan Shapiro. (Level 2 is for students in their third or fourth year of foreign language study. The group is judged according to the highest level of any one member.)

The Wayne High School German students did well in poetry also. A Superior and over-all Second Place on Level 2 went to Elysia Mann.

Other Superiors were awarded to Brandon Foote, Sarah Replogle, John Whitt, Summer Bethune, Katie Echtenkamp, Allyson Karel and Jeff Meyer.

A Very Good went to Nathan Shapiro, Emyln Mann, Brittini

Brittany Jareske

Sprouls and a Good went to Sean Draper.

Posters - by Ashley Bouck, Brandon Foote, Charles Holm, Emyln Mann and Sarah Replogle were rated Very Good.

Edith Zahniser is the German teacher at Wayne High School.

Receives scholarship

Brittany Jareske of Wayne has received a Carhart Scholarship and an Arnie Reeg/Wayne Community Scholarship to attend Wayne State College this fall.

Jareske, the daughter of Candi and Greg Jareske, is scheduled to graduate from Wayne High School this spring. She plans to enroll in the nursing program.

Her high school activities include Spanish National Honor Society, jazz band, FBLA (Future Business Leaders of America) and Spanish Club. She is a member of the one-act and musical play casts and LYF Jareske volunteers with Bible School activities and at school fundraising events.

Nebraska Veterans Council asks people to visit veterans

Operation Visit-A-Vet is a program of continuing visitation of veterans who are residing in Nursing Homes and Assisted Living Facilities in Nebraska. As our veteran population ages, more veterans will become residents of health care facilities, resulting in the potential for more veterans to become isolated without family, friends and community support.

Endorsed by the Nebraska Veterans Council, this program is being suggested to all veterans' organizations and their auxiliaries. While some organizations now have intermittent programs of veteran visitation, they are encouraged to establish a regular schedule of visitation, particularly at this time of world unrest and anxiety.

The goals of Operation Visit-A-Vet are to raise an awareness within the community of the needs of elderly and infirm veterans, to demonstrate the caring concerns of veterans for their less fortunate comrades and to encourage members of the several veterans' organizations to offer quality time visitation to "forgotten heroes."

The Nebraska Nursing Home and Assisted Living Association recently conducted a survey of their members to determine the number of veterans living in their facility. About 100 facilities responded to the survey.

Survey results from local facilities are listed. Wayne: Premier Estates Senior Living Community, 811 E. 14 Street. Contact: Diane Schlotman. Veterans in facility: 5; The Oaks, 1500 Vintage Hill Drive. Contact: Kaye Morris. Veterans in facility: one; Wakefield: Wakefield Health Care Center, 306 Ash Street. Contact: Kathy Horsing. Veterans in facility: 8; Laurel: Hillcrest Care Center, 702 Cedar Avenue. Contact: Marj Mackey. Veterans: 6

If you have any questions regarding this program, please contact Wayne Hart, Coordinator, Operation Visit-A-Vet, telephone 402-476-3479 or e-mail bilieloul@aol.com

The Nebraska Veterans Council is a coalition of recognized veterans organizations which are banded together to serve as the "Voice of the Nebraska Veteran." Member organizations are the Veterans of Foreign Wars, Disabled American Veterans, Paralyzed Veterans of America, American Veterans, Military Order of the Purple Heart, American Ex-Prisoners of War, The American Legion, and the Vietnam Veterans of America.

Scholarships awarded to local students

Amber L. Russom-Nelson, Wayne and Kristofer Roberts of Carroll have each received a State National Bank & Trust/ Wayne Community Scholarship to attend Wayne State College this fall. Roberts has also received a Cooperating Schools Scholarship.

Russom-Nelson, the daughter of Don and Lisa Nelson, is scheduled to graduate from Wayne High School this spring.

Her high school activities include FBLA (Future Business Leaders of America), band, choir and jazz choir. She is a Relay-for-

Amber Russom-Nelson

Life team captain, a member of a 4-H club and the cross-country and track teams. Amber volunteers with 4-H club service projects.

Cooperating Schools scholarships provide half tuition for four years of college or 128 semester credit hours. They are awarded to graduates of high schools where Wayne State students have completed their student teaching requirements. High school officials select the scholarship recipients, who must rank in the top half of their senior class.

Roberts, the son of Terry and Laurie Roberts, is scheduled to graduate from Wayne High School this spring.

He is a member of the Spanish club and the football, track and golf teams. Roberts volunteers with the highway trash pick-up program.

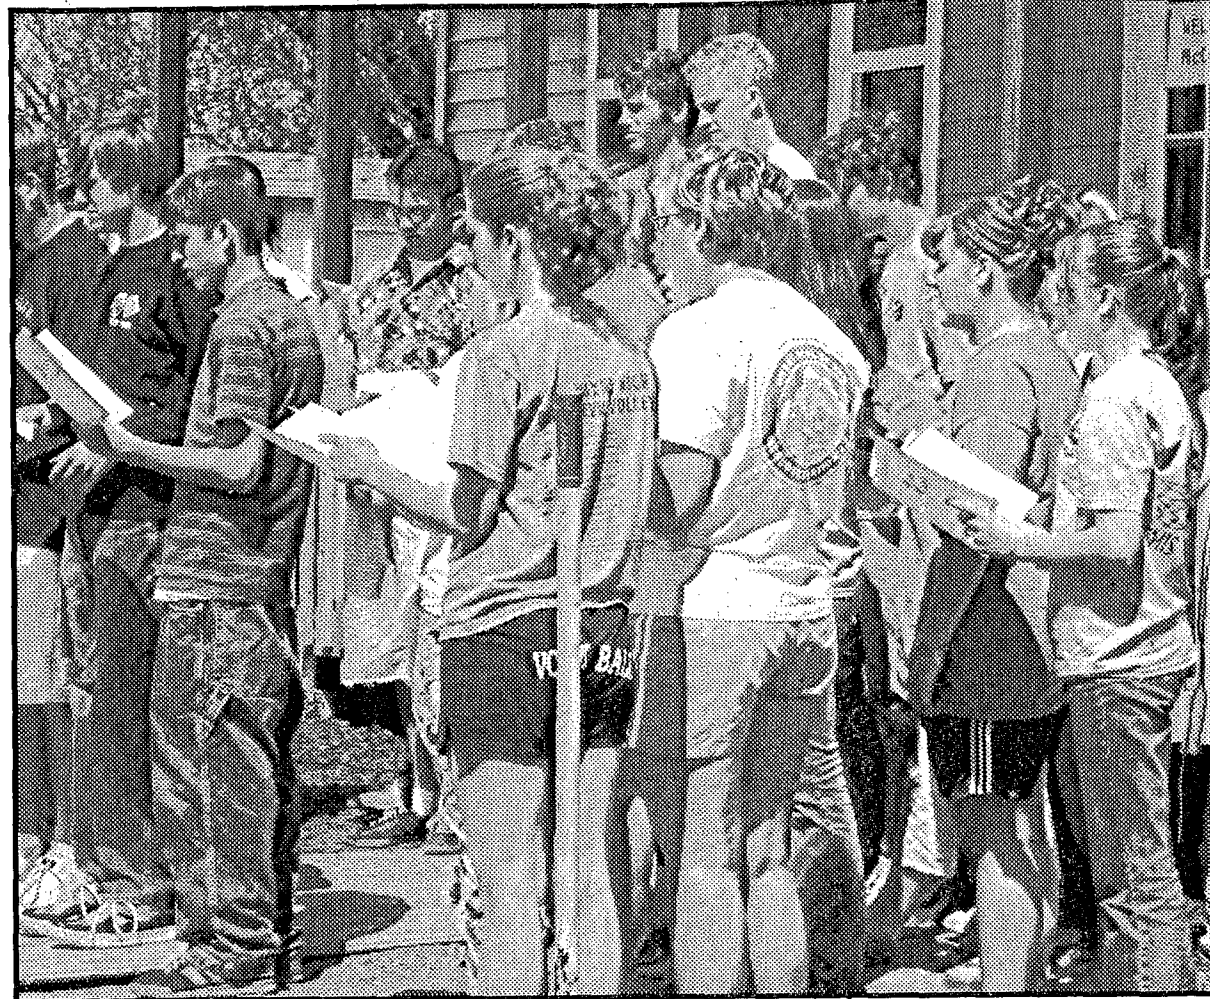

Jill Anderson

Scholarship is presented

Jill Anderson, Wayne, has received a Special Abilities Tuition Scholarship to attend Wayne State College this fall.

Anderson, the daughter of Dennis and Penny Anderson, is scheduled to graduate from Wayne High School this spring.

She is a member of choir and the softball team. Anderson volunteers with community service projects through a local 4-H club.

Dedication ceremony

Members of the Wayne High School Concert Choir provided music for the dedication of the Habitat for Humanity home on Sunday. The choir, under the direction of Kathryn Ley, sang the "Star Spangled Banner" to begin the afternoon and "Sing Me to Heaven" as the program ended.

Nissen is award winner

The United States Achievement Academy has announced that Chris Nissen of Wayne has been named an All-American Scholar.

The USAA has established the All-American Scholar Award

Chris Nissen

Program to offer deserved recognition to superior students who excel in academic disciplines.

The All-American Scholars must earn a 3.3 or higher, grade point average. Only scholars selected by a school instructor, counselor or other qualified sponsor are accepted. These scholars are now eligible for other awards given by the USAA.

Chris, who attends Wayne High School, was nominated for this national award by Mrs. Sylvia Ruhl, an English teacher at the school.

His name will appear in the United States Achievement Academy Official Yearbook, which is published nationally.

"Recognizing and supporting our youth is more important than ever before in America's history. Certainly, United States Achievement Academy winners should be congratulated and appreciated for their dedication to excellence and achievement," said Dr. George Stevens, Executive Director of the United States Achievement Academy.

The Academy selects All-American Scholars upon the exclusive recommendation of teachers, coaches, counselors and other qualified sponsors. Once awarded, the students may be recognized by the USAA for other honors.

Chris is the son of Alan and Tammy Nissen of Wayne. His grandparents are Wayne and Jackie Nissen of Wayne and Erwin and Evelyn Henschke of Wayne.

Owen Jacobson

Jacobson receives Great Dane award

C.F. Hammond, III, President of Great Dane Trailers, announced the recipients of the 2003 Great Dane Scholarships.

Owen Jacobson of Wayne is one of the recipients who will receive a scholarship for outstanding academic achievements.

Jacobson will receive a two-year scholarship. He is the son of Dorothy Jacobson of the Wayne plant. He will be graduating from Wisner-Pilger High School and plans to attend the University of Nebraska in Lincoln.

Great Dane annually awards four scholarships to the children of its employees nationwide. Scholarship winners are selected from graduating high school seniors by a faculty committee of the University System of Georgia, based on high school grades and S.A.T. scores.

Workshop offered at Northeast College

Northeast Community College and the Elkhorn Valley Community Development Corporation will co-sponsor a Homebuyer's Workshop on Tuesdays and Thursday, May 6, 8 and 13.

The class, with course number FINP 0102-06/038, meets from 6-10 p.m. in the Lifelong Learning Center, Suite E, on the Northeast campus.

Cost of the class is $25.00 and includes materials.

Drug store in Laurel goes back to the future

The old has become new in Laurel, Nebraska. After much remodeling and the use of antique furnishings found in the area, a building which had been a grocery store for many years is now The Main Street Apothecary and Patefield's Old Time Soda Fountain.

Randy and Sherrie Patefield have been operating The Drug Store in Laurel for the past four years. When approached about using an existing building to expand their business, they decided this was a perfect opportunity for them to relocate. Remodeling work began several months ago, and Patefield did much of the work himself. The present building is divided in half with separate entrances to each part of the store. The east side serves as a modern Pharmacy, while the west side is an old time soda fountain. A large wooden door can be pulled down after pharmacy hours, so that the soda fountain can be used in the evenings. Crossing through from side to side is like a walk into the past. Antique furnishings have been placed throughout the Soda Fountain area. A major focal point is the wooden bar with wooden backdrop and a large mirror. Most of these furnishings were taken from the Renaissance Coffee Shop in Wayne. An old church also contributed much of the woodwork for the door and the ceilings, and antique booths have also been installed.

"Clown Sundaes" are a specialty of the store. These sundaes were served in the old drug store in the 1950's. Vanilla ice cream with chocolate syrup and chocolate ice cream with marshmallow topping make up this specialty.

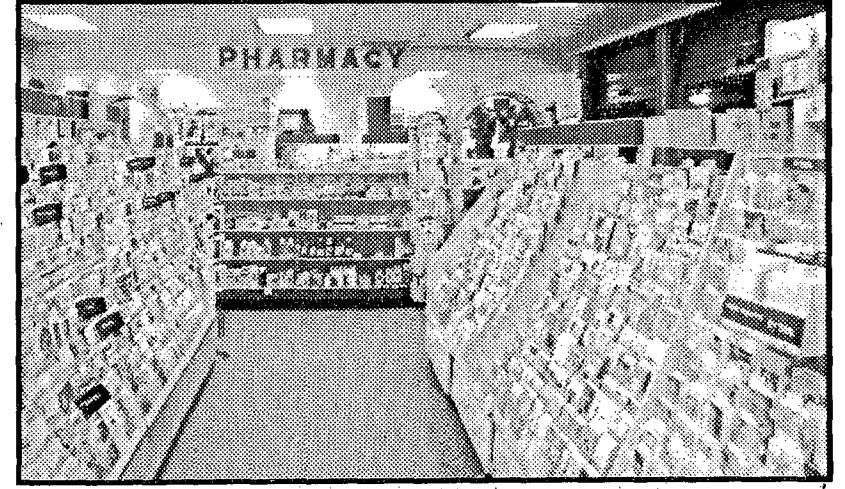

The pharmacy is open Monday through Friday from 9:00 a.m. to 5:00 p.m. Pharmacists on duty are Kim Bentjen and Kami Asbra. Free delivery on prescriptions is available in town.

"Willow Tree" products, Village Candles and Hallmark cards are probably our best selling items," Patefield says. "A feature that we have added that many people are unaware of is our Bridal Shower Registry. Customers are encouraged to come in and see what someone has registered for."

Business hours for the Soda Shop are Monday through Saturday from 9:00 a.m. to 9:00 p.m.

Marilyn Bloom, left, and Sherrie Patefield stand behind the old time soda fountain where nostalgic treats such as clown sundaes are served.

A Hallmark display is set up in front of the pharmacy.

Mary Boehle is award winner

The United States Achievement Academy has announced that Mary Boehle of Wayne has been named a United States National Award Winner in English.

The Academy recognizes fewer than 10 percent of all American students.

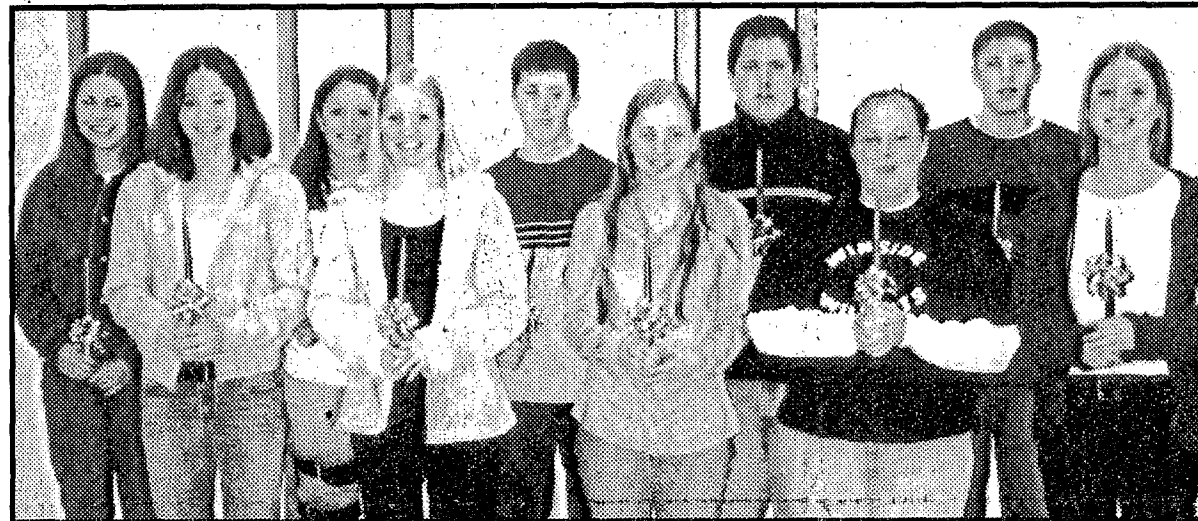

Mary, who attends Wayne High School, was nominated for this national award by Sylvia Ruhl, an English teacher at the school.

Her name will appear in the United States Achievement Academy Official Yearbook, which is published nationally.

"Recognizing and supporting our youth is more important than ever before in America's history. Certainly, United States Achievement Academy winners should be congratulated and appreciated for their dedication to excellence and achievement," said Dr. George Stevens, Executive Director of the United States Achievement Academy.

The Academy selects USAA winners upon the exclusive recommendation of teachers, coaches, counselors and other qualified sponsors and upon the Standards of Selection set forth by the Academy.

Mary is the daughter of Pam and Gary Boehle of Wayne.

Inducted into honor society

Hank is award winner

The United States Achievement Academy has announced that Sara Hank of Carroll has been named a United States National Award Winner in English.

The Academy recognizes fewer than 10 percent of all American students.

Sara, who attends Wayne High School, was nominated for this national award by Sylvia Ruhl, an English teacher at the school.

Her name will appear in the United States Achievement

Academy Official Yearbook, which is published nationally.

"Recognizing and supporting our youth is more important than ever before in America's history. Certainly, United States Achievement Academy winners should be congratulated and appreciated for their dedication to excellence and achievement," said Dr. George Stevens, Executive Director of the United States Achievement Academy.

The criteria for selection are a student's academic performance, interest and aptitude, leadership qualities, responsibility, enthusiasm, motivation to learn and improve, citizenship, attitude and cooperative spirit, dependability and recommendation from a teacher or director.

Sara is the daughter of Mike and Peggy Hank of Carroll. Her grandparents are Jan and Gerry Schellen of Elkhorn and Bob and Betty Hank of Carroll.

Taking steps for health

Three introductory sessions were held Friday for the "Steps for Health" program, which is being co-sponsored by the University of Nebraska Cooperative Extension, Wayne Community Activity Center, Wayne State College Wellness Program and Providence Medical Center Fitness Center. Approximately 50 persons are involved in the 15-week program designed to encourage walking for fitness.

Homebuyers workshop planned

Wayne Community Housing Development Corporation will be sponsoring a "Homebuyers Education Workshop" in May.

This is a 12-hour course designed to prepare individuals for purchasing and maintaining their first home.

Presentations will be made by experts in the field of real estate, lending, title and escrow, credit counseling, insurance, safety, land surveying and water quality.

The workshop will be held in three, four-hour sessions on Tuesdays, May 20, 22 and 27 from 6 to 10 p.m. in the Wayne Area Chamber of Commerce building at 108 West Third Street.

Tuition is $25 per household and covers the cost of materials. Attendees receive a certificate upon completion. Class size is limited so pre-registration is encouraged.

For more information or registration forms, contact Della Pries at 375-5266.

Every Woman Matters honors Nebraska women

In Nebraska, the month of May heralds the hallmarks of spring, the possibilities of new beginnings, and the promise of life. Some might consider it fitting, then, that May—the same month in which we observe Mother's Day and Memorial Day—be a time for remembering and honoring the special women in our lives through the celebration of Women's Health Month.

To observe Woman's Health Month 2003, Every Woman Matters, a program that pays for annual health exams for women over 40, is encouraging families, friends, businesses, and faith-based organizations throughout Nebraska to display and wear pink ribbons during the month of May. People are wearing pink ribbons to remind all women to call and schedule their yearly health exams and to honor those whose lives have been affected by breast or cervical cancer.

In conjunction with Women's Health Month, Every Woman Matters and several other organizations nationwide will also be observing National Women's Health Week, May 11-17, and National Women's Checkup Day, May 12.

As part of the celebration, Every Woman Matters and several faith-based organizations throughout the state will highlight the importance of annual health exams, a healthful diet, moderate exercise, and limited use of tobacco products as the best means of preventing and eliminating the health risks associated with breast and cervical cancer, heart disease, diabetes, and other illnesses.

Breast cancer is Nebraska's second leading cause of cancer-related deaths in women. It can happen to anyone. Although the cause is currently unknown, there are two known predominant risk factors: 1. Being a woman, and 2. Getting older—risk factors that cannot be avoided. However, studies have shown that, when detected early, a woman has a 96 percent chance of surviving the disease.

To help ensure a healthy lifestyle, Every Woman Matters recommends that women over 40 perform monthly breast self-exams, have a yearly clinical breast exam by a health care provider, have a mammogram every one to two years, and be routinely screened for heart disease and diabetes.

Since Every Woman Matters began in 1992, the program has helped women get more than 45,000 mammograms. Today, the number of women over age 50 who participate in Every Woman Matters is larger than ever—nearly 10,000 women took advantage of the free or low-cost health screenings in 2002.

Every Woman Matters provides annual health exams to women over 40 to help find diseases early, when they can be treated best. As a program of the Nebraska Department of Health and Human Services, Every Woman Matters offers annual exams and personalized health information and support to women over age 40 with limited or no health insurance and a low to medium income.

Every Woman Matters is part of Goldenrod Hills Community Action. If you would like more information about Every Woman Matters, please call Karen Wesche, Every Woman Matters Coordinator at 402-529-3513 ext. 293 or 1-800-445-2505, ext. 293.

Tiffany Frerichs

Frerichs receives scholarship to Wayne State

Tiffany Frerichs, Wayne, has received a Cooperating Schools Scholarship and a Twila Herman Claybaugh/Wayne Community Scholarship to attend Wayne State College this fall.

Cooperating Schools scholarships provide half tuition for four years of college or 128 semester credit hours. They are awarded to graduates of high schools where Wayne State students have completed their student teaching requirements. High school officials select the scholarship recipients, who must rank in the top half of their senior class.

Frerichs, the daughter of Kevin and Kandy Frerichs, is scheduled to graduate from Wayne High School this spring. She plans to major in education.

Her high school activities include National Honor Society and varsity band. She is a peer tutor, a Sunday School teacher and a member of the Girl Scouts and the youth ministry and senior high youth group at Our Savior Lutheran Church.

Sharing stories

Sixth grade students at Wayne Middle School recently wrote their own stories, put them into "books" and then read to the first graders at Wayne Elementary. Above, Brandon Biermann reads "The Imaginary Castle" to his first grade partner.

Brooke Parker recognized

Brooke Parker was recently recognized at the annual Creighton University Student Honors luncheon which honors the university's superior scholastic achievers.

Parker is a second year Doctor of Occupational Therapy student and previously attended Wayne State College. She is an officer of Pi Theta Epsilon, a national occupational therapy honorary; secretary of the Creighton University Student Occupational Therapy Association; and a member of Omicron Delta Kappa, an academic leadership honor society.

She also was recognized at the annual Pharmacy and Allied Health Scholastic Honors program where she received the Life-Long Learning Award.

She is the daughter of Rusty and Deneil Parker of Wayne.

Discussing the war with your children

We see and hear it everywhere. The war may technically be over, but it is still dominating media coverage on the radio and on television. We are all aware what has been going on and children are no exception. They are aware. Just as with other life incidents, they don't have the years of experience that we as adults do, and cannot interpret what they see and hear with the same clarity we can. So how do children respond to war news?

Research from the previous gulf war showed that 25 percent of parents say they have not talked about war or peace with their children. That sounds pretty good. But 44 percent of the children say their parents have not talked about war, and 55 percent say their parents have not talked with them about peace. The message? While parents believe they have talked about it and explained it to their children, it doesn't always sink in. One talk isn't going to be enough.

Kids know more, and react more, than parents realize. Even 3 year old children can hear, see, and understand some. What they don't understand, their imagination makes up for. The trouble is, we tend to have a cycle of silence. When tough topics present themselves, not only war but lots of other tough topics, in their lives, parents may not believe their kids are impacted so they don't talk about it. Kids pick up that it's not okay to talk about it. Thus the cycle of silence.

How do kids react to information about the war? One of the big one is fear that it might come here. Another is that their parents might be drafted. For some of them that is a reality. Kids report these fears more than adults do. They also report sadness and anger.

Adults tend to react to information about war with increased pride and patriotism. Kids have a harder time connecting war with patriotism. They do not connect making flags or writing letters to servicemen with the war in the same sense we believe we might. But the parents report an increase in war play among their children. What can parents do to help kids cope? They need a lot of reassurance. They want to know that they will be okay. We can't promise that they will be safe, but we can promise that we will do everything we can do to keep them safe. Adults sometimes try to protect kids by covering up or hiding the bad things in life. Kids can adjust much better if we discuss such things as war with them, answer their questions, and help them cope. Such a talk can also include discussion of religious beliefs and the after life.

Sandy Preston

What do children believe about war? They believe war is bad. They know people die. They often believe that the two sides should just talk it over instead of fighting. They have been taught that people shouldn't fight, so have a hard time understanding why there is fighting. It is very difficult for them to understand the lesser of two bad options.

Kids tend to react to things in similar ways to their parents. How their parents respond to news about war is going to have an impact on the way the children react. We don't need to feel that we have all the answers or that we can explain the war and why it is happening. Have a discussion with your child, not necessarily a fact-giving lesson.

Other adults can also influence the way a child reacts to war. If a child hears someone say something about the war that the parents do not agree with, it is a good time to talk. Everyone does not all feel the same way about the war, but we can guide our children to understand our own points of view. Sometimes parents are dealing with their own war experience, from a war they were trying to forget. All of this comes into play.

We can help children develop peace and cooperation with others, despite the war they see and may continue to see on television. No matter how you may feel about the war, you can share reassurance and love with children. They depend on us for reassurance and guidance. We can listen to what they think, and respond respectfully and carefully to their questions.

Finally, we can live responsibly. We can understand that we cannot control what is happening. We can protect ourselves and our families from terrorism should that become a reality. We can spend time with our families in activities that nourish us. We can attack worry before it gets out of hand. We can recognize dangers that exist in our world, without letting it control our lives. We need to be models for our children.

The information above comes from a national telephone training on children and war, adopted by Myrna DuBois, University of Nebraska Extension Educator in Stanton County.

COIN meeting held

COIN (Community Organizing In Nebraska) held an information and training session for church leaders from northeast Nebraska on April 3.

This meeting was a follow-up to the meeting last November for which leaders of seven different denominations came together to learn more about COIN and voice their support.

Bishop Rymes H. Moncre, Jr. Nebraska Conference of the United Methodist Church, said, "I am gratified to know that COIN is attempting to be pastoral as well as prophetic voice, trying to find ways to build bridges of understanding and then once those bridges are built, it takes courage for some of us to walk across them. I pray that we will not only build the bridges, but that we will also walk across those (bridges)."

Rev. Richard Bringewatt, Immanuel Lutheran Church, Missouri Synod, of Columbus, said, "What COIN is all about is building relationships which help us act together in a positive way. In COIN, we've learned that in order to do justice, to cause the right things to happen in our communities, we have to be in rela-

Fish & Reduced Stroke Risk
A recent study in JAMA found that eating fish one to three times a month can reduce a man's risk of stroke by 40%. It's believed that the omega-3 fatty acids in fish help prevent blood clots from forming thus reducing the incidence of ischemic (clot-related) strokes. There was no reduction in hemorrhagic strokes, the kind caused by a blood vessel that bursts. Surprisingly, eating more than three meals of fish a month did not reduce the risk any further. It is not known if these results apply to women because none were included in this study.

2003 ATHLETIC BANQUET
The 2003 Athletic Banquet was held April 24 at the Allen gym. The ceremony began with a meal of roast beef with all the trimmings. Mr. Schmidt gave a welcome and commended each of Allen's athletes. He said the most important part was participation, especially in a small school. The auction item this year was a package deal: a season pass to all home volleyball, football, and basketball games, two reserved seats in the gym, and two Allen polo shirts or sweatshirts. There were two sets raffled off. Those donating to the cause to receive the raffle packages were Rick Smith and Jerry Stewart. Chances were sold for the 50/50 pot. Wayne Rastede went home with $25.25, half of the pot.

Also raffled off were two Allen Eagle coffee mugs that went to Cathy Wilmes. Each of the coaches then gave highlights of their respective seasons. The evening ended with the naming of the Senior Athlete. To be eligible for the Senior Athlete Award, you must participate in at least two sports, thus there was no boy Senior Athlete this year.

Angie Sullivan
The Girl Senior Athlete was Angie Sullivan, daughter of Randy and Laura Sullivan. Angie participated in Volleyball, Basketball, and Track all four years of high school where she earned several letters, honors, and second team All-State this year in basketball. Angie has been selected to participate in the Swedish All Star Basketball Classic on June 14 at Oakland. ANNUAL FFA BANQUET
The Annual FFA Banquet will be held Friday, May 2 at 6:30 p.m. at the Allen gym. They will be serving roast beef, BBQ beef, corn, scalloped potatoes, baked beans, and homemade salads and desserts. There will also be a silent labor auction. For tickets, contact an FFA member. COMMUNITY CLUB

The Allen Community Club met on April 21 at the Village Inn. Raffle tickets for the lawn mower are still available from Community Club members including Dale or Barb Strivens, John Werner, Shiela Schroeder, Rodney Strivens and they may be purchased at the bank. The lawn mower will be picked and on display at the Security National Bank lobby and at upcoming school activities. Tickets are $2 for one ticket and $5 for three tickets. Proceeds, after purchasing the mower, will go to the band's Sugar Bowl trip.

Considering the cold, rainy weather, the Easter party was again successful. Community cleanup will begin at 1:30 pm at the school parking lot on May 14. Manpower and pickups are needed. Trash needs to be put at the curbside that day in order to be picked up. SATURDAY FUN IN THE PARK
Mark your calendars now for "Saturday Fun in the Park" on May 17 at the Allen Community Park. The fun-filled day will begin at 9 a.m. with vendors selling crafts and other items. "Lunch in the Park" will begin at 11 a.m. Little ones will compete in the kiddie tractor pull. Also, a real fortune teller will be there. There will be face painting, horseshoes, an old-fashioned cakewalk, "Tug of War," and many other games.

Throughout the day, you can listen to the sounds of the Allen High School Band, Back Hand, and Part-Time Trio. A raffle drawing will be held for various items including a John Deere lawn mower donated by the Allen Community Club. Volunteers would be greatly appreciated, so if you are interested in helping with this event, please contact the school at 635-2484 or Michelle Saxon at 635-0010. Please bring your blankets and lawn chairs and help send the band to the 2004 Nokia Sugar Bowl in New Orleans. For more information about the horse shoe tournament, please contact LeAnn Hoffman at 635-2535 no later than May 15. There will also be craft tables, rummage tables, and antique tables available. You can call LeAnn for details. BLOOD BANK IN ALLEN

The Blood Bank will be in Allen on Monday, May 5 from 3 - 7 pm at the Fire hall. The Allen Fire and Rescue are once again involved in the "Heroes Unite - It's About Life". Come in and support the Fire and Rescue Squad, along with our Service Personnel. Lunch will be open to the public and served by members of the ELF Club from 3-7 pm. Proceeds from the lunch will go to the Allen Band. Contact person for the Blood bank is Pearl Snyder or Jason Olesen.

The "Heroes Unite - It's About Life" program will run from May 1 until September 30. Every time some donates in Allen, the Fire & Rescue department receives credit. The community that encourages the most participation and registers the most donors under the community squad name wins a sponsored donation of a $1,000 gift certificate to purchase safety equipment for their community. By working with percentages, each community can compete equally based on size. GOOD NEIGHBOR AWARD

The Knights of Ak-Sar-Ben Foundation and the Omaha World-Herald have announced the 59th Good Neighbor Award Recipients. Allen has one honoree that has been recognized for her kindness and deeds of unselfishness. Diane Bertrand, owner of the Cash Store in Allen, received recognition for the 2003 award. Her nomination read, "She takes food and baked goods to anyone who has lost a loved one or someone who is sick or in the hospital." Diane will be honored at the Dixon County Fair this fall with a certificate and a Good Neighbor lapel pin. Other Dixon County nominees were Chris Mahler of Concord, and Jean Doupnik of Emerson. SENIOR CENTER

Receive recognition

Karen Wesche, Every Woman Matters coordinator and her outreach worker, Julie Oswald, were recipients of certificates of recognition on April 9 at the Nebraska State Every Woman Matters Summit in Lincoln. Both awards were presented at the conference by Every Woman Matters staff members of the Nebraska Department of Health and Human Services and Office of Women's Health. Both were "identified by their colleagues, for making a difference in her community and going above and beyond expectations in pursuit of spreading the messages of healthy lifestyles and early detection to women in her community." Wesche has been coordinator of the Every Woman Matters program at Goldenrod Hills Community Action in Wisner since July 2000. She was also recognized as "being an individual who always gives 110 percent and who truly loves her job, has a remarkable compassion for the EWM program and for going out of her way and "thinking outside of the box" to come up with new ways to reach out to women." Julie has been active as an Every Woman Matters Outreach worker since September, 2002. She has "demonstrated enthusiasm for the EWM program with each contact she makes and for having the dedication to complete the objectives put before her as she reaches out to women, wherever they may be, with friendliness and superb knowledge of the program." Every Woman Matters is a program that pays for annual health exams for women over 40. The program has been in Nebraska since 1992. Besides promoting the importance of annual health exams, it also encourages a healthful diet, moderate exercise, and limited use of tobacco products as the best means of preventing and eliminating the health risks associated with breast and cervical cancer, heart disease, and other illnesses. To find out more about the Every Woman Matters program, call Karen or Julie at 402-529-3513, ext. 293 or 1-800-445-2505, ext. 293.

Laughter is the best medicine

We awoke to thunder and it's still raining gently, so we have hopes for some measurable moisture today. Our showers haven't resulted in much yet, though the ground is soft and things are very green. They have had 2-3 inches 100 miles south of us. And they need it. I'm not enjoying the newspaper articles about another year of drought and more farmers leaving the farm.

I'm a card-carrying member of a national group called the Fellowship of Merry Christians. In fact, I suppose it could be international. It's a wonderful organization dedicated to helping we Christians reflect the joy that should be part of our faith.

Their logo is a painting of the Risen Christ by the Sea, and it shows a laughing Christ. I've been using it in the talks about Humor, and many in the audience have commented they they have never seen a painting of Jesus smiling. Let alone laughing. But, as the Fun Nun used to say, "He was a human being, wasn't he?"

Plus, so many verses in the Bible speak of joy. "I am come that your joy may be full," for example. The Fellowship publishes a newsletter called the Joyful Noiseletter. It's full of jokes and cartoons, all clean, that can be used in church bulletins, newsletters, sermons, etc.

On its advisory board are notable Christian humorists. Steve Allen, for one. He has now been promoted to "celestial advisor."

ry status." And, last month, Sister Mary Cristelle Macaluso joined that group. After going all over the country, proclaiming that Christians should be merry, and that "those of us who laugh, last," she died of a heart attack in the chapel of the College of St. Mary, where she was on the faculty. She was only 71.

I thought, "here I go around telling folks it's a health-promoting habit to laugh, and she dies at age 71. That's not good publicity." But I was talking to Phyllis in the local bank about it, and the owner of Stock Seed Farm heard us. His take on it was that Sister might have died much earlier if she hadn't been laughing so much! I like that idea.

The Fellowship of Merry Christians has proclaimed the Sunday after Easter as "Holy Hilarity" Sunday. They suggest that the service that day be full of fun and frolic. And they have published some examples of what some churches have done in that regard. Hopefully, it will catch on.

It hasn't happened around here yet. But I do know that my little dissertation on humor has been in great demand lately. Last week was Volunteer Week. I was part of a wonderful recognition luncheon at the assisted living center in Crete. I also spoke at a facility in Seward and another one in Plattsmouth. Today, I'll be at Tabitha's new one, The Landing.

Yesterday, we observed my mother's 87th birthday. I took her along to a senior center in Lincoln where I spoke on Forgiveness. Her comment was, "That was good, but keep talking about laughter. Old people need to laugh." So do young ones, and middle aged ones.

Try to remember. We need 15 laughs a day for minimum growth. That means we need to start at breakfast. Good luck!

Buying locally has many benefits for both consumer and producer

"Knowing where our food comes from allows us to eat healthy, naturally grown fruits, vegetables and meats", said Northeast Nebraska RC&D AmeriCorps member, Sandy Patton. "Buying locally not only familiarizes the consumer with the growth of their food and the people who grow it, but it also allows us to support our local community."

Patton has enrolled for a second year in AmeriCorps and is working with the Nebraska Sustainable Agriculture Society in its Sustainable Farming and Food Initiative. The society envisions local economies sustained by producers and consumers working together to strengthen their communities.

The initiative includes surveys of food purchases and strategies to build confidence and awareness of locally-produced products. There are more opportunities out there today than there are farmers to produce them. "Our goal is to connect the producer with the consumer," said Patton, "and by so doing help sustain our local producers and offer the consumer the choice of healthy foods."

Farmers' markets are the most common source of locally-produced products. Community gardens are another great source. The food is fresh because it doesn't travel great distances and the money stays at home, improving the community's economy. It is also important to support local grocery stores that stock locally-produced products.

Another form of buying locally is the Community Supported Agriculture, or CSA, program. This type of farming program began over 20 years ago and allows the consumer to invest money for a pre-agreed amount of food. This guarantees the farmer's working capital and provides the consumer with a certain amount of fresh, quality food each week during the season.

The closer the link between producers, processors and consumers the greater benefit to all. Anyone interested in community gardens, farmers' markets or other information on direct marketing or buying locally-produced products can contact Sandy at the Northeast Nebraska RC&D office in Plainview, or call her at 402-582-4866.

For more information about the Nebraska Sustainable Agriculture Society, visit their website at: www.nebusag.org.

COUNTRY CLASSICS 4-H CLUB

The Country Classics 4-H Club meeting was held April 22 at Our Savior Lutheran Church.

The meeting was called to order by the President.

During the meeting the club discussed the club tour, theme booth ideas and giving donations to a Relay for Life team.

After the meeting lessons were given from various club members. Some of the lessons were on plants, food, rocketry, stamping, painting and an activity with paper and food coloring.

After the presentations, members of the club then helped prepare, serve and eat a taco dinner. Samantha Dunklau, News reporter

Radon workshop to be held in Ponca on May 12

Have you tested your home for radon? Do you have questions about radon and what your results mean? Do you want to have your home tested for radon? Do you want to learn about the health risks of radon?

Mike Benjamin, Environmental Health Analyst with the Health and Human Services System Radon Program from Lincoln, will present a workshop on radon for Dixon County and Northeast Nebraska Residents on Monday, May 12 at the Courthouse in the Dixon County Courthouse in Ponca. The workshop will begin at 7 pm.

Topics to be covered include: What radon is; How radon enters the home; Its health effects; Prevalence of radon in Nebraska; How to test your home; What your test results mean; and General mitigation (fixing) techniques. Information pamphlets and radon test kits will also be available.

The University of Nebraska Cooperative Extension Office in Dixon County will host the workshop.

If you are interested in the workshop or would like more information, you can contact the Dixon County Extension Office at 402-584-2234 or Mike Benjamin at 402-471-0594.

No pre-registration is required, so come and learn about radon in Nebraska.

Timing is critical for herbicide performance

It is time to scout your corn fields and determine how well the soil applied herbicide has controlled the weeds.

Timing is critical in relation to the growth stage of the crop and the weed, for control of the weeds in order to prevent any yield loss in excess of planned losses. Economic threshold is the level of weed infestation at which the cost of weed control equals the increased return on crop yield the current year. The threshold values will vary with time of weed emergence, weed species competitiveness and commodity prices.

A computer model is available in the form of a software program called "WeedSOFT" that can help select the most economical herbicide based on the various weed species present, their densities and the soil type in the field. Most extension offices, consultants and crop advising services, should have this program available to help make decisions.

Delaying the weed removal past a critical point can cost a producer an average of 2 percent yield loss for every leaf stage of yield in both corn and soybeans. If the critical point of loss is five percent, weeds must be controlled when the corn has reached the 4th leaf of development, or additional yield loss will occur.

In a corn-soybean rotation system, an integrated weed control program is already being established to help with control of harmful weed. This rotation along

OLD SETTLERS COMMITTEE

Approximately 25 individuals attended the April 15 Public meeting at Porky's to discuss the distribution of the remaining Old Settlers Committee funds.

After a lengthy discussion on various community projects, a vote was taken and it was decided to give $6000 to the Winside Library Foundation; $2200 for new play ground equipment in the Village park; and $2200 to help with a projected community/school fitness center.

Peter Keiser, a committee member working on park play ground improvements, said, "We are still working on organizing this project. We began discussing it last year at an area Northeast Nebraska Economic Development Group meeting but because of a change over in their administration it has gotten behind."

"Locally, a group of individuals have been looking into possible grants available and costs. We estimate approximately $15,000 will be needed to remove some of the old and outdated equipment and to purchase a new unit/set. We will put things in for kids aged two through 12. This would also include improved park restrooms. The project is still pending approval with the village board."

Anyone who would be interested in helping the committee with this project can call Pete of Shelly Keiser at 286-4623.

A Public Meeting was also held on April 29 in the High School gym to discuss the possibility of a "community and school fitness center" in Winside.

Spokesman John Thies said "the proposal has already been presented to the Public School Board of Directors and we have their support. We would like to build a 45' by 100' addition on the north side of the high school that could be used by the students as a weight lifting and wrestling training room. The community could then also use the facility on a membership basis. An account for donations has already been set up at Winside State Bank. We estimate the cost of this project to be about $100,000. We hope to get more input and support following the public meeting next week."

HOSKINS SENIORS MEET

Hoskins Senior citizens met on April 22 at the community center to play pitch. Winners were Lucille Krause, Ed Gnirk, and Virginia Kleensang. Everyone brought refreshments to share.

The next get-together will be on May 6.

GARDEN CLUB MEETS

Hoskins Garden Club met at the Hildegard Fenske home on April 24 for a dessert luncheon. Each member brought a blooming spring flower for roll call.

President Lorraine Wesely welcomed the group and read the poem "Spring Called Me." She also had the poem for the month, which was entitled "After the Winter, God Sends the Spring."

Secretary Fenske read the minutes and the treasurer's reports, which were approved as read. Annual dues were paid. Two bills were presented and paid. One was for the gift for a member who had surgery; the other was for the over-all rose prize at the Wayne County fair this year.

Wesely passed out the new club books that she and her husband had made, featuring a yellow rose on the cover, the Hoskins Garden Club's flower. The members discussed what types of flowers to plant in the town flower beds.

Marcia Prussa had the lesson. She told of several methods to get rid of moles. She also read the article, "Grow A Coleus Standard."

Christine Lueker had a word game called "Identify These Marys," for entertainment.

The next meeting will be May 8 when they will meet at the Fenske home at 9 a.m., go to Norfolk and shop for flowers for the barrels and the flower bed in town, eat lunch at the Sunset Plaza, then return to Hoskins to do the planting, weather permitting.

Members will watch the papers for publicized garden tours and notify other members throughout the growing season.

The watchword for April was: "Anyone can count the seeds in an apple, but only God can count the apples in a seed."

Therapy Department hosts national course

Providence Medical Center was the host site for medical professionals April 25 - 27. Janet Anspach-Rickey, PT, DipMDT of Seattle, WA was the instructor. Among the 13 participants were physical therapists, physical therapist assistants, and an occupational therapist.

Attending from Providence Medical Center were Amy Bowers, Jeff Craven, Michelle Dietrich, Jean Harrold-Loberg, Sorén Long, Gail McCorkindale, and Diane Peterson (who audited the course). Diane has attended all four of the McKenzie spinal courses, which are usually held in major cities across the United States and throughout the world.

Diane passed the McKenzie credentialing exam in April 2002 and is one of only seven McKenzie credentialing physical therapists in the state of Nebraska. Three local citizens with neck pain, with or without arm symptoms, volunteered to be evaluated and treated over the course of the weekend.

Course participants from out of town were given a Wayne welcome by the Super 8 and the following fitness centers donated complimentary passes for the weekend: The Community Activity Center, Providence Wellness Center and the Wayne State College Athletic Department.

The McKenzie Part B course, which addresses evaluation and treatment of the cervical spine, is the second course in a five-part series in the McKenzie Program of Certification. The McKenzie Method has become one of the "foundations in spine care around the world". This reliable and cost-effective method emphasizes prevention, intervention, and patient education, which provides the patient with strategies for management and self-treatment of spinal disorders. These techniques provide PMC therapists with research-based treatment of symptoms of spinal origin and provide patients a means for self-treatment should recurrence happen.

The next course in the series, McKenzie Part C, will be offered at Providence Medical Center in 2004. Anyone suffering from neck pain with or without arm symptoms is asked to call the Providence Therapy Department at 375-7937 or for more information about the McKenzie approach please refer the following website: www.mckenziemdt.org.

Parent Career Day held

Questions such as "What do you like best about your job?" "What would you change about it?" and "What did you learn in elementary school that helps you in your job today?" were asked by fourth graders to the 13 parents who participated in Wayne Elementary School Parent Career Day. Fourth grade students have been exploring careers in their Guidance classes with Counselor Joan Sudmann, who organized the Parent Career Day.

According to Ms. Sudmann, "In our Guidance program, we move the students from the standard questions, 'What do you want to be when you grow up?' to a fuller understanding that choosing a satisfying career involves self-awareness as well as knowledge of the world of work."

Fourth graders take an interest inventory and begin linking their interests, aptitudes and values with careers. They choose a career to research and present their information to the class. They also interview someone about his/her career.

In fourth grade guidance, students learn that jobs are grouped into six job clusters called Career Paths: Agriculture and Natural Resources, Arts and Communications, Health Services, Human Services, Business Management and Technology, and Industrial and Engineering Technology.

These are the same six Career Paths that are taught throughout middle and high school. Incoming freshmen choose one of these Career Paths when they register for ninth grade classes at Wayne High School. Students and parents identified Career Paths for all the participants in Parent Career Day.

The day began with panels of 4-5 parents in their own child's homeroom. After half hour sessions, the panels rotated into the other two homerooms. The parents represented many types of work and gave the students a feel for what they do each day and what skills are needed to do their jobs.

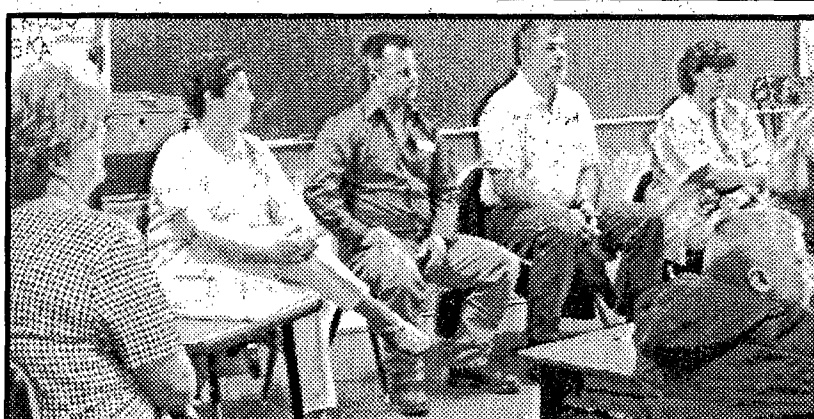

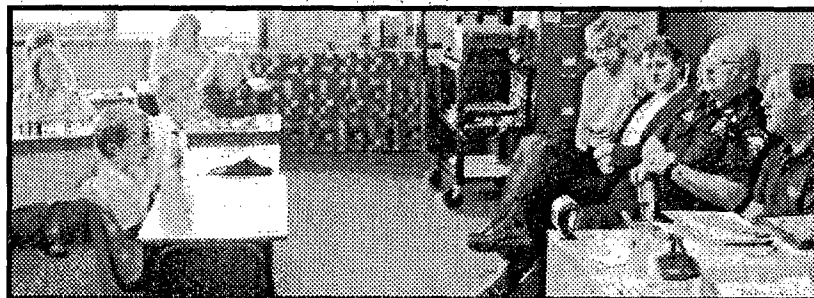

The following parents shared their careers with the students:

Steve Rasmussen-forestry; Shelly Gilliland-pharmacy; Dan Heikes-automotive mechanics; Dave Hix-industrial technology education; Dani Frahm-nursing; Lance Webster-police chief; Mary Carstens-career counseling and education; Jeff Zeiss-recreation management; Robyn Hurlbert-social service management; Wendy Vawser-interior design; Jerry Allemann-agriculture; Brian Loberg-city lineman and National Guard; Jeff Sukup-tool sales.

Several of the parents brought items to show the children. The students were especially interested in Allemann's baby pig and Sukup's tool truck.

"It is a great learning experience for the students to hear what the parents had to say about their jobs. Several parents stated that they had shifted careers and they emphasized the importance of life-long learning. They discussed how they found a career that was right for them. It is motivating for young people to make a connection between what they are learning now and the work they may choose to do in the future," Sudmann said. "From what the parents have said, I think they enjoyed it as much as the kids did."

Parents gathered recently to talk to elementary students about their jobs during Parent Career Day.

THANK YOU

I would like to thank KTCH Radio for the promotion of their Annual Easter Egg Hunt and Dan Baddorf, the clue writer, for making this such a fun time. This would not have been possible without the sponsorship from the following businesses:

Flowers & Wine
Legends Men's Clothing
Udder Delights
Pac 'N' Save
Doescher Appliance
The Wayne Greenhouse, Inc.

Trio Travel
Fredrickson Oil
Sav Mor Pharmacy
Magnuson Eye Care
Zach Oil Co.

I was excited to find the egg which was a brown golf tee in the ground at the base of the new Activity Center Sign. Thanks Again!

Don Koeber

Time:	10 a.m. - Noon
Place:	Cox Activity Center Gymnasium Northeast Community College 801 East Benjamin Ave. Norfolk, Nebraska

The Nebraska Department of Roads will hold a series of public information meetings regarding development of a four-lane divided highway between Norfolk and South Sioux City.
The meetings will be used to present possible alignments of the new highway and to seek public input about the proposed improvement.
The roadway could be located on new alignment, with the use of existing Nebraska Highway 35 alignment as much as practical. Acquisition of public right-of-way and control of access to the highway would be required.
The N-35 Corridor Study, known as DPS-35-4(119), was preceded by a feasibility study completed in November of 2000. Corridor study involves preliminary engineering and completion of a federal Environmental Impact Statement.
Where possible, the Department of Roads will provide an accessible meeting facility for disabled people. Appropriate provisions for people who are hearing and visually challenged, will be made if the Department is notified by May 6, 2003. Notification should be submitted to: Public Hearings Officer, Department of Roads, P.O. Box 94759, Lincoln, Nebraska 68509-4759, voice telephone (402) 479-4871. TDD telephone is (402) 479-3834.
For further information regarding the proposed project, contact Steve McBeth in Lincoln at (402)479-4417.

Wayne High School Choir

May 1, 2003 — The Wayne Herald

Editor's note: Kathryn Ley is retiring at the end of this school year after 17 years of teaching vocal music to students at Wayne High School and Wayne Middle School. The following was written by Mrs. Ley, reflecting on her teaching career and the students she has taught during that time.

I grew up in Wayne and went through the Wayne School system from Kindergarten through high school. I attended Wayne Hahn School grades K-8 and when that school closed it was merged with the Wayne Public School. I spent my high school years in what is now the Middle School, graduating with the Class of 1966.

I attended Wayne State College for one year and then transferred to St. Olaf College in Northfield, Minn. for my last three years of college. Originally, I had planned to major in Spanish, but later changed to Music Education, with a minor in Spanish. I have been fortunate to have the opportunity to teach beginning Spanish in the Wayne Schools, in recent years along with the music.

My job has been fun and rewarding. Teaching young people is very stimulating. They are creative, intelligent, independent, and always changing. I think that is what I have enjoyed the most. . . watching them gain confidence in themselves and start the process of becoming adults.

I will miss knowing so many of the kids. I get to know them all starting in sixth grade music. Some have stayed in music and I have been able to get to know them well. I think one of the best recruiting tools has been putting on a Spring musical. Kids see how much fun we have and want to get involved in the vocal music program.

We are lucky in Wayne. Our students are top-notch. They are musicians, athletes, scholars, artists, thespians, to mention some of their activities. They take on a lot and do it well.

They're just plain nice to work with and they are not afraid to work hard. Hats off to our students.

I am glad to have been part of their lives for 17 years."

Students talk about choir

"Throughout my years in choir, I feel everyone around me has grown from our experiences together.

As freshmen, we begin to experience tougher music. As we grew, our voices matured and our ability to tune our voices grew.

Choir is an experience that I have enjoyed and also learned from.

Mrs. Ley has taught the choirs throughout the years many things and she will truly be missed."

Sarah Brumm, Choir Secretary

"Choir is great for all and I am pretty positive that everyone in it enjoys the music and Mrs. Ley.

Mrs. Ley has touched many people through her musical career, including students and audiences.

Music enhances everything. I don't know what life would be like without it or Mrs. Ley. She is cherished now and will be truly missed."

Megan Frahm, Choir Vice-President
