Van pleads not guilty on failure to appear charge

Former Wayne floral shop owner Roger Van made another appearance in Wayne County District Court Wednesday morning.

The 56-year-old pled innocent to a charge of failure to appear, a Class IV felony which carries a maximum sentence of five years in prison and/or a $10,000 fine.

Van faces the charge after leaving the state last September before his sentencing on five felony charges for sexually torturing a Houston, Texas man in the basement of his business.

Wayne County District Court Judge Robert Ensz ordered a trial date of Sept. 29 for Van on the failure to appear charge and also set a sentencing date of Sept. 5 on the five felony charges facing Van in the original case.

Van faces a minimum of two years with a maximum of 85 years in prison and/or fines of up to $55,000 on charges of first-degree sexual assault, first and second-degree assault, false imprisonment and terroristic threats.

In another development Wednesday morning, Van's court-appointed attorney, Melissa Wentling of Norfolk, asked Judge Ensz for her client to undergo an independent psychological evaluation before sentencing.

Wayne County Deputy County Attorney Chris Connolly stated that the evaluation would be "an unnecessary expense to the county and that it doesn't have an impact on sentencing."

After hearing both sides, Judge Ensz denied the request, saying the evaluation would not aide the court at this time.

Ensz also ordered that Van continue to be held without bond at the Pierce County Jail.

Red awnings complete new look at Northeast Nebraska Insurance Agency

Red awnings give a new look to Northeast Nebraska Insurance Agency at 111 W. 3 Street in Wayne. The agency is an established business dating back close to 100 years when Martin Ringer first opened the firm.

Around 1949, Dean Pierson bought the business incorporating it in the '70s, giving it the name of Northeast Nebraska Insurance Agency.

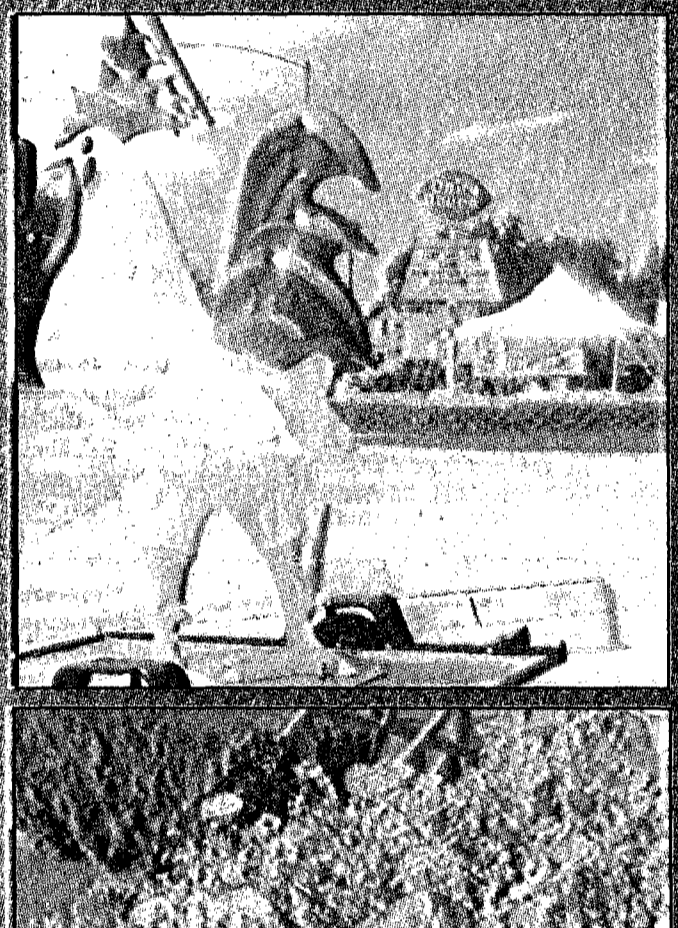

There are 25 employees in the offices selling all lines of insurance. Some of the different types of insurance offered include property, casualty, health, life, crop, and automobile. The main offices are located in Laurel, Coleridge, Ponca, Wakefield, South Sioux City, Wayne, and Hornick, Iowa.

As for the change to the building, Cap Peterson of Northeast Nebraska Insurance Agency in Wayne, knew they wanted to update the exterior and one way was with the awnings. A number of businessmen in Wayne had changed the look of their buildings with awnings and he wanted to do the same, but a little different. Otte Construction of Wayne assisted the awning company in the project.

Any one with questions about insurance can call Northeast Nebraska Insurance Agency, Inc. at 402-375-2696.

What's happening

Clockwise, upper left, staff at Northeast Nebraska Insurance Agency, Inc. stand under one of the new awnings which help give the building a new look. The rooster waits for the Chicken Show which will be July 11 and 12. In the background is a fireworks stand and the fair is mentioned on the Dairy Queen sign. Poppies grow profusely at the Frank Mrsny residence in Wayne. And, left, fire destroyed the Logan Valley Golf Course club house just east of Wakefield early Wednesday morning.

Local drivers enjoy stock car racing

By Mike Grosz
Of the Herald

Most everyone has a hobby of some sort. Some are year-round, others are seasonal...some are expensive and others are not.

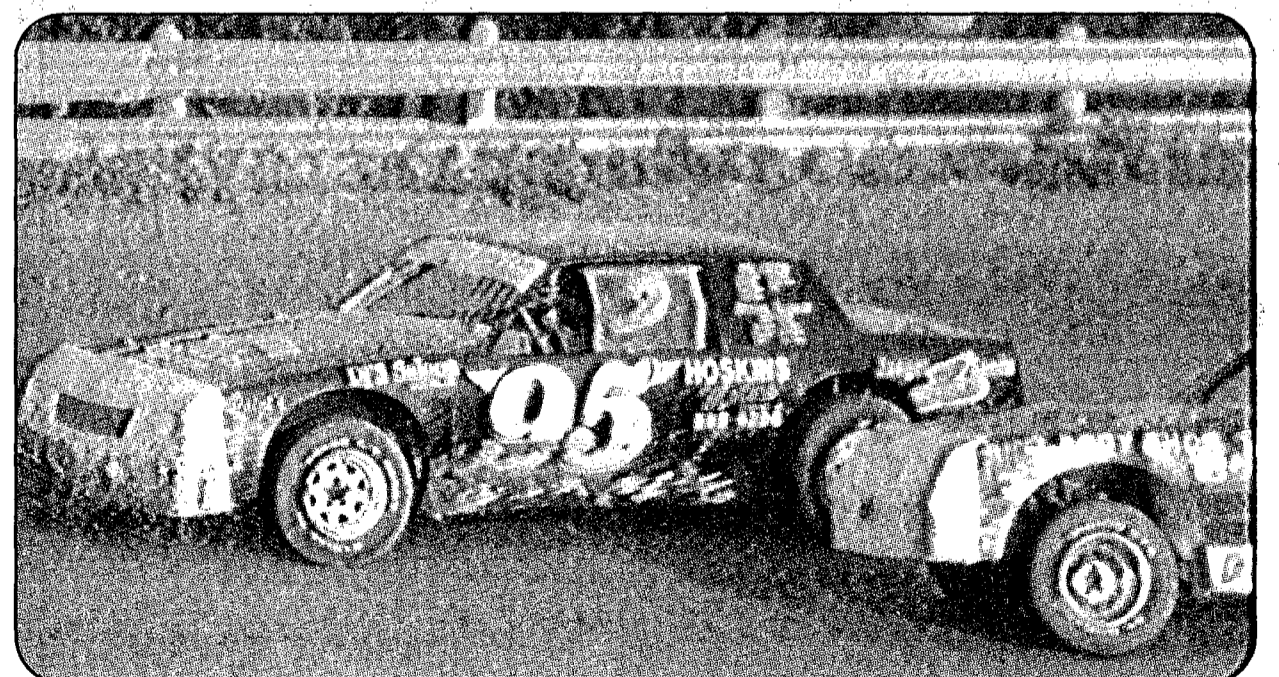

Nearly every weekend from mid April to mid September, stock car racing is a fun, yet expensive hobby for a group of racers from Wayne, Winside, Carroll and Wakefield.

"The dollars speak very loud any more," said veteran driver Mike Benson of Wakefield. He is the most experienced stock car driver in the area, having raced since 1970.

"When I first started, it was kind of a fun thing to do, but the dollars involved today have really made local racing competitive," added Benson.

Benson, who races regularly at Park Jefferson Speedway in Jefferson, S.D. and Blackbird Bend Speedway in Onawa, Iowa, says his first car in 1970 was a $1,000 investment. Today's car that he drives in the Grand National Late Model Class is around $15,000.

Another Late Model driver from the area is Joel Carlson of Carroll.

Obituaries

Curtis Papenhausen

Curtis D. Papenhausen, 70, of Coleridge died Monday, June 23, 2003 at his home as the result of a storm that passed through the area.

Services were held Friday, June 27 at Immanuel Lutheran Church in Coleridge. The Rev. Norman Sulaica officiated.

Curtis Duane Papenhausen, son of Herman Dietrich and Dena Katrina (Bartling) Papenhausen, was born March 27, 1933 at Coleridge. He grew up in Coleridge and graduated from Coleridge High School in 1950. After high school he worked for Cass Motors in Coleridge. He then served in the U.S. Army from 1953-55 during the Korean War. Upon his discharge from the service, he returned to Coleridge where he farmed and was engaged in hog production the rest of his life. On April 23, 1957 he married Vivian Joan Heitman at Coleridge. He was active in the Northeast Nebraska Pork Producers which later became the Cedar County Pork Producers. He was a member of Immanuel Lutheran Church and served on the church council. He was a lifetime member of the Coleridge American Legion Post #114 and the Hartington VFW Post #5283. He was an avid reader.

Survivors include his wife, Vivian Papenhausen of Coleridge; one daughter, Coleen and Curt Jeffries of Wayne; one son, Marlin and Lynn Papenhausen of Coleridge; three grandchildren; one brother, Earl and Shirley Papenhausen of Coleridge; one sister, Janice and Dean Wilkerson of Coleridge and his mother-in-law, Lucille Heitman of Laurel.

He was preceded in death by his parents; one sister, Mardell Papenhausen; one granddaughter, Christa Jeffries and his father-in-law, Arnold Heitman.

Burial with military rites by Coleridge American Legion Post #114 was in Lawn Ridge Cemetery at Coleridge. Wintz Funeral Home was in charge of arrangements.

Eileen Fegley

Eileen Elizabeth Fegley, 86 of Wakefield died Wednesday, June 25, 2003 at the Wakefield Care Center.

Services were held Saturday, June 28 at the Salem Lutheran Church in Wakefield. The Rev. John Sievers officiated.

Eileen Elizabeth Fegley, daughter of Elmer and Elizabeth (Kingston) Wharton, was born on June 20, 1917 in Allen. She graduated from High School in Allen, and Wayne State Normal School in Wayne. After graduating from Wayne Normal, she taught school for four years at Harmony Hill School in Dixon County. She married Vernon Fegley on April 27, 1940. The couple farmed near Allen until 1967, when Vernon went to work as the Farm Director for the University of Nebraska Northeast Station in Concord. After retiring, the couple moved into Wakefield. Vernon died on June 3, 1989. She worked as an Interior design consultant at Carhart Lumber for 18 years. She was very active in the Wakefield chapter of Eastern Star, PEO, the Salem Lutheran Church, and the XYZ club of the church.

Survivors include two sons; Dennis and Sara Fegley of Norfolk and Byron and Janice Fegley of Lakeville, Minn; four grandchildren; one great grandchild and one brother, Howard Wharton of Plattsmouth.

She preceded in death by her husband, Vernon; her parents; brother; Rev. Paul C. Wharton and sisters; June Beckley, Norma Dalton and an infant sister Ruth Wharton.

Burial was in the Wakefield City Cemetery. Bressler-Munderloh Funeral Home in Wakefield was in charge of arrangements.

Lila Jones

Lila Jones, 80, of Bellevue, formerly of Wayne, died at her home in Bellevue.

Gravestone services were held Tuesday, July 1 at Greenwood Cemetery in Wayne. The Rev. William Koerber officiated.

Lila Minnie Lenora Jones, daughter of Fred and Helena (Thies) Westerhouse, was born March 25, 1923 on a farm east of Winsin in Wayne County. She moved with her family to Wayne as a young child. She graduated from Wayne High School and Boyles Business College in Omaha. She returned to Wayne where she was employed as the secretary for Dr. William Koerber at Wayne Vision Center. She was employed there for many years before returning to Omaha where she then worked as a secretary at Meyer's Clinic until retiring in 1988. She lived the rest of her life in Bellevue. She was a former member of Redeemer Lutheran Church in Wayne. She enjoyed traveling, crafts, baking, crocheting, embroidery work and flowers.

Survivors include one sister, Helen Fuoss of Laurel; one son, Gary Jones; six grandchildren; one great-granddaughter; nieces and nephews.

Pallbearers were her nephews. Schumacher-Hasemann Funeral Home in Wayne was in charge of arrangements.

Audrey Frahm

Audrey Frahm, 77, of Wisner died Friday, June 27, 2003 at Providence Medical Center in Wayne.

Services were held Monday, June 30 at Christ Lutheran Church in Wisner. Pastor Alan Baglien officiated.

Audrey Eilleen Frahm, daughter of Henry Herman and Clara Henrietta (Von Seggern) Claussen, was born Dec. 8, 1925. She graduated from Pender High School in 1942. On Feb. 1, 1948 she married Vernon Frahm at St. Mark's Lutheran Church in Pender. The couple moved to the Frahm Farm north of Wisner where they were engaged in farming. She served as Deputy County Clerk of Thurston County and baked anniversary and wedding cakes for a number of years and worked for the Wisner News Chronicle as a proofreader. She was a member of Christ Lutheran Church in Wisner where she served as a Sunday School teacher and superintendent for over 30 years. She was an active member of the VFW Auxiliary of Wisner. She was involved with the Pleasurette Extension Club and enjoyed bowling.

Survivors include her husband, Vernon Frahm of Wisner; one son, James and Jan Frahm of Colorado Springs, Colo.; one daughter, Nancy and Ron Kvoles of Wisner; four grandchildren and two sisters, Marjorie Gilster of Pender and Joyce Kinlund of Hooper.

She was preceded in death by her parents and two brothers, Clifford and Vernon Claussen.

Burial was in the Wisner Cemetery. Kuzelka-Minnick Funeral Home in Wisner was in charge of arrangements.

Hazel Brandt

Hazel Brandt, 93, of Wayne died Monday, June 30, 2003 at Providence Medical Center in Wayne.

Services were held Thursday, July 3 at United Methodist Church in Carroll. The Rev. Mary Tyler Browne officiated.

Hazel Mae Brandt, daughter of Luthér and Della (Black) Street, was born Jan. 18, 1910 on a farm near Belden. She attended Larson Country School near Carroll. The family then lived in the Coleridge area until moving to Miller, S.D. where they made their home until returning to farm near Carroll. On Jan. 25, 1943 she married Edward Brandt at State of North Camp Polk, La. The couple farmed in the Carroll and Wayne area until moving to Wayne in 1968. She was a long-time member of the Carroll United Methodist Church.

Survivors include two sons, Dallas and Sue Brandt of Wayne and Roger and Sandra Brandt of Carroll; four grandchildren; four great-grandchildren; nieces and nephews.

She was preceded in death by her parents; husband, Edward in 1980; two brothers, Walter and Raymond Street and one great-grandchild.

Pallbearers were Harold Wittler, Terry Beaudette, Merton Marshall, Duane Shufelt, Dean Junck and Jason Brandt.

Burial was in Elmwood Cemetery in Carroll. Schumacher-Hasemann Funeral Home in Wayne was in charge of arrangements.

Ball field dedication held in Concord

The dedication of the Bucky Wesley Memorial Ball Field was held Saturday afternoon in Concord. Pete and Pat Wesley donated the 80' x 175' lot in memory of their son, Bucky Wesley, who had leukemia and passed away. The couple has 10 children and 30 grandchildren. Three of their children and families were present for the event.

The donated land is located next to the park and completes the block. A house on the lot was torn down. Fence is being put up from money donated from the Siouland Foundation. Pat noted her son always wanted to play ball and would be happy to know children now have a place to play.

Trees will be planted in the fall from grant money from the Natural Resource District.

Ray Stohler has been instrumental in grant writing for the project.

Besides working on the ball field, a number of individuals have been trying to raise money for playground equipment for the park. So far, $3,700 has been collected from grants and donations and they are looking for more.

Sam's Club donated $500. The goal is $40,000.

A raffle is ongoing for a clock made by Pete Wesley, who works with wood and does scroll and fret work.

Anyone interested in tickets for the clock raffle or who would like to make a donation can call volunteers helping with the project; Donna Peterson at 584-2423 or Gretchen Dietrich at 584-2221.

Pat Wesley and three of her children and their families stand by a painting of her son and their brother, Bucky Wesley. Pete and Pat Wesley donated a lot near the park in Concord for the Bucky Wesley Memorial Ball Field. A dedication was held Saturday. Standing on the far left is Gretchen Dietrich, park supervisor, and behind her is Robert Clarkson, mayor of Concord. (Carlos Frey of Wayne painted the portrait).

'Free Beer & Chicken' to roost at Henoween

Kicking off the 23rd annual Wayne Chicken Show are the festivities the night before, better known as Henoween. That evening's headliner will be "Free Beer and Chicken."

Sponsored by the Main Street Wayne program, Henoween will feature the popular band, "Free Beer & Chicken" on Friday, July 11 at 8 p.m. as part of the weekend's list of activities.

Held in the heart of downtown Wayne, the band will entertain with a Branson-style show. This award-winning nine piece group showcases four first-class musicians, two outstanding female vocalists, a hilarious comedian, a talented 11-year old and the King himself, "Elvis."

Combining a variety of country music and old time rock 'n roll with personalized comedy bits, helped to garner this unique group the 1998 "Nebraska Best Band" awarded by the Nebraska Country Music Association.

According to a recent Omaha World-Herald feature, bandleader Tom Jensen, a veteran musician of 25 years, chose the band's name because "Hootie and the Blowfish was already taken!" The band proudly holds braggin' rights to an outstanding line up featuring Madison Hill, Nebraska's Country Music Association's "Outstanding Youth Vocalist" two years in a row; Nashville native, Terry King, whose resume includes stints with Grammy award winner Patty Loveless and country legend Mel Tillis and an Elvis impersonator, Terry Jensen, who "wowed" a packed house at the Bob Devaney Sports Center.

"Free Beer & Chicken" performed this year at Governor Johanns' inaugural ball. Nebraska's First Lady, Stephanie Johanns, had requested the group after enjoying their brand of entertainment on two separate occasions.

The group continues to perform at at sold-out crowds at the newly restored Minden Opera House, has performed at national conventions and entertains county fair crowds, including opening for country performer Chris LeDoux at the Nuckolls County Fair.

Leo Ahmann, Main Street Wayne director, said, "We are so very excited to have a band of this caliber perform for Henoween. Bring your lawn chairs and blankets, as the evening will definitely be something to crow about!"

Breaking all previous attendance records with nearly 4,000 people present last year, Henoween continues to grow as a family event.

Other activities include historical tours, face painting, carnival games and the World's Largest Chicken Dance.

Beginning at 5:30 p.m., all activities are located in downtown Wayne. "Free Beer & Chicken" is part of a stage show starting at 6:30 p.m. at no cost to the public.

Free Beer & Chicken will appear at Henoween on Friday, July 11.

Carlson raced in the Street Stock Class for several years before moving up one class this year. He races regularly at Riviera Raceway in Norfolk, and has also raced at tracks in Hartington, Columbus and Stuart.

Carlson is part of a racing family, along with brothers Brett and Jeff. One year, all three drove separate cars in the Street Stock division.

Brett Carlson, who is now the crew chief for brother Joel's car, says parts for the Late Model class are more "specialized" and expensive.

"When you run in Street Stock, you can go out to a salvage yard and buy parts for very little money-you can't do that with a Late Model," stated Carlson.

Sean Spann and John Hadcock of Wayne co-own a Street Stock car this year. They bought the car from Jaimey Holdorf and said it is a unique way to be a part of racing.

"We helped with Jaimey's car for the past couple of years and when he moved to Omaha, we decided to buy the car together," said Spann, who helps many other racers in the area building engines.

Co-owning a car was a way for Hadcock to become more involved in racing. He works for Heritage Homes as a carpenter and is on the road during the week. He said if he owned a car by himself and had a serious problem with the car, he would be hard-pressed to get ready for racing the following week.

Ryan Rohde of Carroll, 29, has raced in the Street Stock division since 1999 and is currently fifth in the points at Riviera Raceway in Norfolk. He has also raced at Columbus, Hartington and the State Fair in Lincoln.

Rohde, along with all other racers I talked with, agree that sponsors are a big part of racing.

"If I didn't have sponsors, I wouldn't be able to race," said Rohde. "It would be impossible."

Race cars are a fast moving billboard, having anywhere from eight to ten sponsors on the side, front or back of the car.

Whether it is a business that donates cash to the racing team or a business that donates parts or use of a shop to work on the car, sponsors are a vital part of every race team.

Anderson also praised the help of Sean Spann for getting into racing. "Without Sean's help, I wouldn't be able to race. He does so many things to help the local drivers."

Another class that has grown in popularity recently is the Cruiser class. It involves two drivers, one who steers the car and the other operating the gas pedal.

Nearly 30 cruisers run regularly in Norfolk, including Tom and Ben Nissen of Wayne, Tom Zach and John Hadcock of Wayne is suited up and ready to go for a heat race. Safety is top priority for all race car drivers, including fire suit, neck brace, five-point seat belt harness and roll cage, just to name a few of the features.

Nick Cautrell of Winside and Troy Bruns of Wayne also race in the Street Stock Class at Riviera Raceway in Norfolk. Bruns also runs at Blackbird Bend Speedway in Onawa, Iowa.

Derek Anderson of Wayne is in his second year of racing on Sunday nights at Blackbird Bend. He runs in the IMCA-sanctioned Hobby Stock Class, driving a 1987 Monte Carlo.

He got involved in racing by helping his brothers for eight years, then decided it was his turn to race. "I always wanted to get behind the wheel," said Anderson.

Sean Spann of Wayne, Kyle and Kent Jensen of Winside and Chad and Neil Bruns of Wayne.

The Nissen's have won two races this season, and, along with Zach and Spann, are in the top ten in the Cruiser points standings at Riviera Raceway.

Racing can be a family sport and is good entertainment. Admission to Riviera Raceway in Norfolk is just $8 for adults and $4 for children.

Racers appreciate the support of fans in the area and hope to see you at the races some time this season.

New Wayne officers complete basic training

The two newest officers hired by the Wayne Police Department have recently completed their basic training at the Nebraska Law Enforcement Training Center in Grand Island.

Wayne Police Chief Lance Webster reports that both Officer Gerald Klinetobe and Officer Jessica Benoit represented the City of Wayne very well.

Officer Klinetobe graduated number one in his class academically and just missed the first place award for physical fitness.

Each class is broken into teams and these teams are encouraged to work together to solve numerous problems and situations. Officer Benoit was on the first place team and she placed in the top 10 of her class academically.

Both officers spent 12 weeks at the Law Enforcement Training Center learning the basics of criminal investigation, interview, firearms and use of force, human relations and patrol tactics.

"This week they will complete certification training for Radar and In-Car Video. Both officers will complete an additional 4 weeks of Field Training before being assigned on their own."

Upon completion of Field Training Officer Klinetobe will be the beat officer in the southwest quadrant of Wayne and Officer Benoit will be take over as beat officer in the northwest.

City of Wayne featured in magazine

Nebraska Life magazine has selected the community of Wayne as the featured city for its July/August 2003 issue. The issue is now available.

The Wayne Chamber of Commerce and Main Street Wayne are selling subscriptions.

"We selected Wayne because we've been hearing and reading about interesting things going on in Wayne over the last several years," said Managing Editor David Bristow, who wrote the story.

Bristow said the goal of the magazine is to celebrate the people and places of Nebraska through high-quality stories and photography.

He said the Wayne feature story tells the magazine's 52,000 readers about the history, culture and people of Wayne. Joel Sartore of National Geographic is among the contributing photographers.

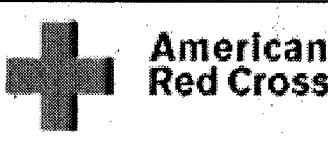

"In our feature stories, we tell about what is unique and what makes each community successful in its own right," Bristow.

In writing the story, Bristow spoke with local residents and community leaders, and attended last summer's Chicken Show. Subject matter for the story ranges from Wayne State College to "Sailor Bill" Fitzpatrick.

Wayne Red Cross needs a generator

The Wayne County American Red Cross chapter is in dire need of a generator for their ERV (Emergency Response Vehicle).

The generator they had quit working and the chapter can not afford to buy another one. The generator is needed for them to be able to respond effectively to disasters. At the Coleridge disaster, Chapter Chairman Bill Claybaugh had to lend them his portable generator.

Anyone wishing to donate towards the purchase of a generator can call Wayne Red Cross Chapter Manager, Lori Carollo, at 402-375-5209 or stop by or send a donation to the Red Cross office in Wayne at the Mineshaft Mall, 112 E. 2nd Street. Any help you can give them would be appreciated.

Nationally, if people want to donate to disaster relief, contributions can be made to the Disaster Relief Fund and can be sent to the American Red Cross, P.O. Box 37243, Washington, DC 20013. Internet users can make secure online credit card donations by visiting www.redcross.org.

Wayne Red Cross provides relief

The Wayne Red Cross spent all of last week in Coleridge, helping the residents of the town recover from the devastation F-4 tornado that struck on Monday evening. Seven responders were on site by midnight on Monday and helped set up a shelter in the Community Center for residents needing a place to go.

By Tuesday, other Red Cross volunteers from Norfolk and Sioux Falls, as well as a Coleridge resident, Claire Hansen, were doing damage assessment of the entire Coleridge community. Red Cross damage assessment workers do an evaluation of EVERY house or building in the entire community, as well as the country areas too. It is then evaluated how much help will be needed and which people need the Red Cross assistance of food, clothing, shelter or other emergency needs.

By late Tuesday, it was determined that there were 66 homes that had received some type of damage - from perhaps something minor as a broken window or a few shingles missing all the way to places completely destroyed.

The Madison/Stanton chapter from Norfolk worked with the Wayne chapter the rest of the week providing care in the town of Coleridge. The Community Center was set up as the Red Cross Assistance Center. Feeding was done each day out of that building, as well as meals were taken out into the country to people working on damaged sites.

Tyson Foods out of Norfolk provided hamburgers, hot dogs, buns, chips - and even sent two employees and a grill out. According to chapter manager, Lori Carollo, this was a huge help as they took care of cooking of the meat continually through Friday.

The Red Cross volunteers then

Parade entries being sought

Entries are being sought for this year's Chicken Show parade.

The parade will be held Saturday, July 12 at 10 a.m. This year's theme is "Wayne America's World."

Any entry, large or small, is welcome. Organizers of the parade encourage those participating to design entries around the theme or incorporate a design tied to chickens.

Entries are based on the following categories: 1) Best group of children; 2) Best individual child; 3) Best commercial; 4) Best organization; 5) Best theme related; and

6) Best overall chicken related.

Cash prizes will be awarded in each category.

The parade begins at First and Main Streets and proceeds up Main Street to Wayne State College. Those involved should pick up parade numbers at First and Pearl Streets.

Those interested in participating are encouraged to submit a registration form to Mylet Bargholz, 58151 852 Road, Wakefield, Neb. Entries may also be made on the Chicken Show's website at www.chickenshow.com.

Library to present centennial program

The public has been invited to a fun-filled afternoon of music and memories on Sunday, July 13 at 2 p.m. at Ramsey Theatre on the Wayne State campus.

Songs from the last 100 years will be interspersed with dance and reminiscing. From "Maple Leaf Rag" to "God Bless America," and from "Candle in the Wind" to "American Pie," the music will tell a story about what has been important to us as a country.

There will also be some sing-alongs to join.

Mark Ahmann is featured as the narrator. Performers include Tracy

Anderson, Elaine Balogh, Alan Bruffat, Linda Christensen, Eric Vito Cole, Pat Cook, Bill Dickey, Dacia Dickey, Jessica Dickey, Jennifer Gaesser, Carolyn Harder, Heather Headley, Dave Headley, Ronald Lofgren, Mollie Spieker and the On Our Toes Dance Co. with Linda Dishman.

The afternoon is under the direction of Ronald Lofgren and the primary accompanist is Linda Christensen, both of the music department at WSC.

This is a Wayne Public Library Centennial Year event and is open to the public free of charge.

on Friday, as that was the day of the funeral for the man who had been killed due to the storm. The Wayne responders all commented that this disaster seemed to affect all of them on a more personal level because of the death of Mr. Papenhausen and knowing his daughter, Coleen Jeffries, a resident and business owner here in Coleridge, including their village clerk as we had to use the phone out of her office because our cell phones just did not get clear enough reception!" The amount of paperwork following a disaster like this is tremendous as well.

Loren Park and Don Dwyer, Disaster Director from the Red Cross chapter in Sioux City, fill out

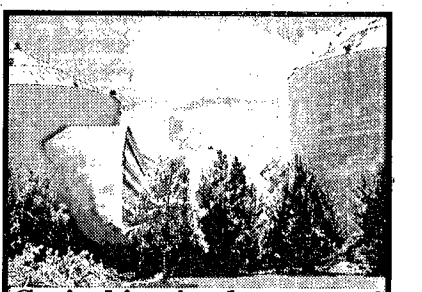

A bus load of students and youth from Laurel went up to Coleridge to help with the clean up day on Saturday.

Wayne. In Jackson, you still had the compassion and gave the hugs, but you were able to really concentrate on the job you needed to do. With this disaster in Coleridge, we knew these people and those hugs meant as much to us as they did to those who received them," stated Carollo. "We have also worked in the Cedar county area over the past few years doing disaster training, health and safety training, we work with the pools in many of those towns, and we've covered single family fires - so a lot of names and faces were familiar to us. It just felt really good to be able to help!"

Saturday was then a very big day. The mayor of Coleridge, George Hefner, decided on Thursday to have a mass clean up day on Saturday. "It was amazing to see how many people came to help," said Carollo. "There were the majority of the daily reporting that had to be submitted to the state office and then passed along to the national Red Cross.

pop and a couple boxes full of snack foods and crackers.

Other items that the chapter had to purchase, they will be able to turn those expenses in to the state for reimbursement because there is not a Red Cross chapter in Cedar county. That is one of those areas that is called a "gap area" and it is definitely at times like this that you realize how fortunate Wayne is to have a Red Cross chapter here in our own community. Your response time is immediate and you have all the necessary supplies and manpower right here available to aid those in need.

The Red Cross Assistance Center operating out of the Community Center is now closed. However, as of Tuesday noon, Mr. Park was still assisting one family and Carollo expressed that there is always the possibility of additional needs that many of the families might not realize right at this time. Anyone in the Coleridge area affected by this tornado can still contact the Wayne chapter at 375-5209 with questions or to inquire about additional Red Cross assistance.

If anyone would like to help the victims of the tornados, floods, or any of the other thousands of disasters that occur across the country each year, a financial gift to the American Red Cross Disaster Relief Fund can be made. Those donations enable the Red Cross to provide shelter, food, counseling and other assistance to those in need. People can call 1-800-Help Now or 1-800-257-7575 (Spanish). More info on donations can be found in small grey box towards top of this page.

people from Jackson who came and a bus load of kids and sponsors from Laurel came. We had over 300 people who registered and signed in at the community center, however there were many more out helping. We delivered over 300 meals out on sites in the country and served approximately 500 in at the Community Center."

On Saturday some cooks from the Coleridge school did the cooking. There were also some community volunteers that helped us. Seven people went from the Wayne chapter: LeRoy Janssen, Rowan & Twila Wiltse, Mary Nichols, Mary Brudigam, as well as Loren Park and Lori Carollo.

"I could not even guess at how much bottled water we went through last week," said Carollo. "But Coleridge was an amazing community. There were just always people willing to help and so much compassion for each other. Everyone was very gener-

Wayne Seniors continue winning ways, McGuire no-hits Laurel-Coleridge

The Wayne Senior American Legion baseball team continued to dominate opponents recently, posting three wins in the past week by a combined 30-2 score.

Head coach Chad Metzler said, "We're starting to play more consistently and out pitching has been solid."

Wayne took care of West Point 9-1 in five innings Monday evening at Overin Field. The seniors scored at least one run in every inning.

Mike Sturm (3-2) pitched the first three innings to pick up the win. He allowed one run on two hits and posted four strikeouts. Brad Hochstein tossed the final two innings, allowing one hit with one strikeout.

Sturm also had a big night at the plate, delivering a double and single. Jon Ehrhardt added two singles with Chris Nissen, Andy Baker, Adam McGuire and Josh Sharer each chipping in with a single.

In Laurel Friday evening, McGuire pitched a no-hitter to help Wayne blank Laurel-Coleridge 17-0. In three innings, McGuire (8-1) posted eight strikeouts while giving up just one walk.

Wayne had 14 hits in the game, including seven doubles. Matt Rober had two doubles and three RBIs to lead the balanced hitting attack. Hochstein and Eric Sturm each added a double and single. Sturm also drove in three runs.

McGuire and Ehrhardt had two singles apiece, Mike Sturm, Adam Hoffman and Baker each doubled with Aaron Jorgensen, adding a single.

The Wayne Seniors topped Tekamah at Overin Field 4-1 on June 25. Hochstein (4-2) pitched an outstanding game for Wayne, allowing one hit and one unearned run with 10 strikeouts.

Nissen's two singles and two RBIs led Wayne in hitting. Sharer, Hoffman and Hochstein also had hits in the win.

Four Wayne players participated in the Ralph Bishop League All-Star Game held Saturday at Overin Field where the North edged the South 7-5.

Adam McGuire pitched the ninth inning for the North to earn the save. Mike Sturm scored two runs for the North and Adam Hoffman added a single. Andy Baker also played in the game for Wayne.

Wayne, now 19-6 on the season, will host the Blackstone Ravens from Omaha on Friday at 7pm at Overin Field. The seniors will also travel to Tekamah on Monday, host Pender in a makeup game Tuesday at 7 pm and entertain South Sioux City for Senior Night on Wednesday at 8pm.

Bishop League All-Stars

Wayne Juniors win twice

The West Point Juniors handed Wayne an 8-4 loss in American Legion baseball at Overin Field in Wayne Monday evening.

Despite the loss, the Wayne Juniors, thanks to two wins last week, have won six of their last eight games to raise their overall record to 6-12 and 4-8 in the Ralph Bishop League.

Wayne used a four-run second inning to take a 4-1 lead over West Point, but the visitors responded with four runs in the third, two in the fifth and one in the sixth to take the 8-4 win.

Wade Jarvi had two singles to lead Wayne in hitting. Nathan Milander and Jesse Hill also added singles.

Jarvi was the losing pitcher, allowing seven runs on three hits and six walks. Matt Sharer pitched the final two innings.

The Wayne Juniors played one of their best games of the season in a 6-1 win at Laurel-Coleridge Friday evening.

"The kids are starting to believe that we can play good baseball," said head coach Jeff Zeiss after the win. "We know we're better than our records indicate."

Milander was dominating on the mound for Wayne, striking out 14 batters while allowing just one run on two hits.

Offensively, Derek Carroll had two singles and two RBIs to lead Wayne at the plate. Jarvi, Milander, Dan Reinhardt, Sharer and Nathan Summerfield each contributed a single in the win.

Last Wednesday evening, Wayne routed Tekamah in a Bishop League game at Overin Field 10-2. The locals scored four runs in the first inning and five more in the second to gain a big lead early.

Jarvi was the winning pitcher, yielding just one hit over five innings. He struck out two and walked three in the contest.

Milander had a double and single to pace a balanced hitting attack. Blake Lyon, Reinhardt, Jesse Hill, Carroll and Sharer each added a single. Jarvi and Milander each scored two runs.

Wayne will host the Blackstone Ravens from Omaha on Friday (July 4) at 4:30pm, travel to Tekamah on Monday and host South Sioux City on Wednesday for Senior Night at 6pm.

Wayne 14-under softball team qualifies for state

The Wayne 14-under softball team won three games at the Class B District Softball Tournament in Fremont last weekend to qualify for the state tournament in Auburn July 18-20.

Wayne lost its first game of the tournament to Valparaiso 11-10. Kayla Hochstein's two singles and double paced the team in hitting. Danica Carroll and Michelle Jarvi each added a double and single and Megan Loberg chipped in with a single. Carroll was the losing pitcher.

Wayne then won three straight games in the loser's bracket, starting with a 10-4 triumph over Elkhorn.

Jarvi was the team's top hitter with a double and single. Carroll and Sadey Bessmer had a single apiece. Carroll was the winning pitcher with three strikeouts.

The next game saw Wayne defeat the Fremont Explosion 8-3. Carroll earned another win pitching with five strikeouts.

Hochstein produced a triple and two singles at the plate. Bessmer added a double and two singles. Jarvi accounted for two singles, Sam Denklau had a double with Carroll, Kara Hoeman, Loberg and Stephanie Owens each adding a single.

Wayne continued its win streak with a 14-7 thumping of Oakland. Carroll was the winning pitcher. Sara Frerichs had two singles to lead Wayne in hitting. Denklau and Carroll had one single each.

Valley eliminated Wayne from the tournament with a 14-10 loss. Wayne had six hits in the game, led by Hochstein's double and single. Jarvi had a triple with Carroll, Hoeman and Bessmer each adding singles.

By going 3-2 in the tournament,

Wayne earned a trip to the state tournament by placing in the top seven of the district.

In regular season play Tuesday evening, Wayne cruised to a 14-2 win at Pender. Carroll was the winning pitcher with four strikeouts.

Hochstein had two hits in the game, a triple and single. Frerichs doubled with Hoeman, Jarvi and Bessmer each adding a single.

Monday evening, Lyons held off Wayne by a 10-6 score in Lyons. Bessmer suffered the loss on the mound.

Hochstein had a home run and single to lead Wayne in hitting. Carroll, Hoeman, Frerichs, Denklau and Jarvi each had a single.

The next action for the 14-under team will be when Wayne plays a doubleheader at Norfolk on Tuesday evening at 6:30pm.

Four Wayne golfers earn medals at All-Star golf event

The second annual Nebraska Lions High School Senior All-Star Golf Tournament was played June 23 and 24 at Indian Creek Golf Course in Elkhorn and Shadow Ridge in Omaha.

The top 9-12 finishing seniors from each class at the State Golf Tournament qualified and were invited to participate in the event.

Four Wayne players competed in the event and placed in the top 15 to earn medals.

Andy Martin placed eighth with a two-day score of 165. Tyler Anderson finished 11th at 169, Brad Erickson was 13th at 170 and John Jensen came in 15th at 174.

The Lions of Nebraska sponsor and finance this event as one of its youth projects. Since there were all-star games in football, basketball, soccer and other sports but nothing for golfers, the Lions of Nebraska decided to sponsor this event. Over 40 players from across the state participated in the tournament with the top fifteen finishers earning medals.

Golfers battled hot, windy and humid conditions during the two-day event. Next year's event will be held June 21 and 22 at the Wild Horse Golf Course in Gothenberg.

Wayne Little League teams compete at Mid Summer Baseball Classic in Wakefield

The Wayne Little League baseball teams are competing this week at the Mid-Summer Classic in Wakefield.

The 12-year-old team lost to Madison in the opening round on Sunday 6-4. Tyler Schaefer and Zach Braun had two hits each for Wayne. Jacob Triggs and Drew Workman also added singles.

Triggs was the losing pitcher, allowing four runs with six strikeouts. Workman worked two innings of relief and allowed two runs with one strikeout.

Pierce edged Wayne 12-11 in a consolation game Monday evening in extra innings. Michael Denklau pitched a complete game for Wayne and had 14 strikeouts in a losing effort.

Mikey Kay and Workman produced two hits apiece for Wayne. Triggs and Braun added one each.

In league play last Thursday, Wayne pounded Laurel 17-2. Schaefer and Braun combined to hold Laurel to three hits and two runs while striking out eight batters.

Workman had three hits, including an inside-the-park homerun, to lead Wayne in hitting. Trent Doescher added two hits, followed by Kay, Triggs, Schaefer and Braun with one each.

The 12-year-old Little League team is now 10-6 on the season and will play at Wakefield Tuesday afternoon.

The 11-year-old team dropped a 9-4 contest to Lyons in their Mid-Summer Classic opener Saturday evening.

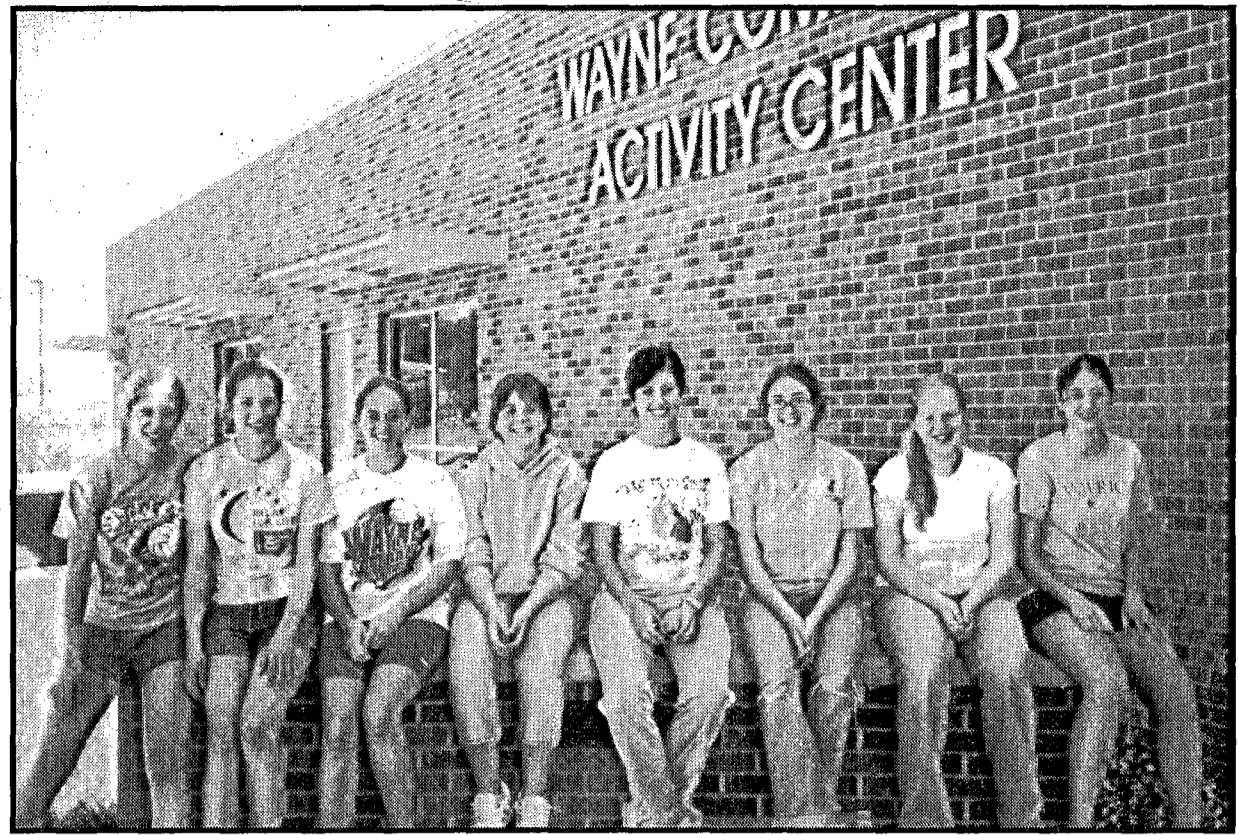

Torey Booth had a single and scored two of Wayne's four runs. Jacob Zeiss, Derek Poutre and Zach Wacker each added a single. Booth was the losing pitcher with relief help from Poutre.

Wayne split a doubleheader against Wakefield last Thursday at the Wayne Complex, winning the first game 5-4 but dropping the second game 11-5.

Zeiss was the winning pitcher in the first game, striking out eight batters. Josh Calhoun, Wacker, Zach Thomsen and Dustin Stegemann had hits for Wayne.

The second game saw Wakefield prevail 11-5. Booth had a double and single and Shaun Davie added two singles for Wayne. Zeiss and Wacker also singled. Taylor Carroll was the losing pitcher despite striking out six batters.

The Wayne Little League #2 team (11-year-olds) has a record of 4-11 on the season.

Wayne State Music Camp to feature world music

Students attending this year's music camp at Wayne State College will have an opportunity to get a taste of world music, both in the pre-camp from July 24-26 and in the regular camp session that will be held from July 27-Aug. 2.

"The World Music Activities pre-camp will include the World Musical Ensemble, Multicultural Musical Instrument Factory, and

WAYNE STATE COLLEGE

STOMP, a percussion rhythm featuring items that one might find in the garage," said Dr. Jay O'Leary, music camp director.

Instructors Lisa Arnold and Lance Lehmborg of Sioux City, Iowa will teach the world music activities, including having students make replicas of African folk music instruments as well as learning how to play African talking drums and the varied instruments in a STOMP performance. World music activities will include music from many African nations including Zimbabwe and Indonesia as well as an African marimba ensemble, said O'Leary.

Pre-camps are also scheduled for flute, show choir, jazz band, piano/music technology, string, woodwind and handbells. The pre-camps provide a concentrated study in the various areas.

The week-long music camp will offer instruction in voice, improvisation, keyboard, string, music theory, woodwind, percussion, music with computers and more. Students may also participate in ensembles including jazz band, instrumental, swing choir, madrigal, women's and men's choruses and vocal jazz choir.

Registration deadline for pre-camps and the music camp is July 18.

Students receiving "1" ratings as soloists in state or regional high school music contests in Spring 2003, or who have been selected as All-State musicians will be awarded tuition scholarships of $50 to the music camp.

Students who will be entering the eighth grade through recently-graduated high school seniors are eligible to attend the camps.

To register, or for more information, call Dr. Jay O'Leary, music camp director, at 402-375-7360, or send an e-mail to jaolear1@wsc.edu.

Do you remember?

Things change sometimes a lot faster than we wish. I know in the past few weeks my wife and I have been talking and my daughter would interrupt and say "what was that you were talking about. I have never heard of that show or car before?"

Kids these days don't remember the "Ed Sullivan Show" or "My name is Mr. Ed" the talking horse. Those shows were great and very entertaining and you did not have to worry about TV ratings for your kids. Below are a few of my memories and a few of my friends' too. Do you remember these things back in your time?

Jimmy Jo's Jams
By: James Shanks

- a. All the girls had ugly gym uniforms.
 - b. It took five minutes for the TV warm up.
 - c. Nearly everyone's Mom was at home when the kids got home from school.
 - d. Nobody owned a purebred dog.
 - e. When a quarter was a decent allowance?
 - f. You'd reach into a muddy gutter for a penny?
 - g. Your Mom wore nylons that came in two pieces? I did remember this one, my mom thought I might.
 - h. All your male teachers wore neckties and female teachers had their hair done every day and wore high heels.
 - i. You got your windshield cleaned, oil checked and gas filled, without asking, all for free, every time? And you didn't pay for air? And, you got trading stamps to boot?
 - j. Laundry detergent had free glasses, dishes or towels hidden inside the box.
 - k. It was considered a great privilege to be taken out to dinner at a real restaurant with your parents.
 - l. They threatened to keep kids back a grade if they failed and they did.
 - m. When a 57 Chevy was everyone's dream car...to cruise, peel out, lay rubber or watch submarine races, and people went steady.
 - n. No one ever asked where the car keys were because they were always in the car, in the ignition, and the doors were never locked.
 - o. Lying on your back in the grass with your friends and saying things like "That cloud looks like a .", and playing baseball with no adults to help kids with the rules.
 - p. Stuff from the store came without safety caps and hermetic seals because no one had yet tried to poison a perfect stranger.
 - q. And with all our progress, don't you just wish, just once, you could slip back in time and savor the slower pace and share it with the children of today?
 - r. When being sent to the principal's office was nothing compared to the fate that awaited the student at home?
- Basically we were in fear for our lives, but it wasn't because of drive-by shootings, drugs, gangs, etc. Our parents and grandparents were a much bigger threat! But we survived because their love was greater than the threat.
- Who can still remember Nancy Drew, the Hardy Boys, Laurel and Hardy, Howdy Dowdy and the Peanut Gallery, the Lone Ranger, The Shadow Knows, Nellie Bell, Roy and Dale, Trigger and Buttermilk. As well as summers filled with bike rides, baseball games, bowling and visits to the pool, and eating Kool-Aid powder with sugar.
- Didn't that feel good, just to go back and say, "Yeah, I remember that"? I am sharing this with you today because it ended with a double dog dare to pass it on. To remember what a double dog dare is, read on.
- And remember that the perfect age is somewhere between old enough to know better and too young to care, How many of these do you remember?
- a. Candy cigarettes
 - b. Wax Coke-shaped bottles with colored sugar water inside
 - c. Soda pop machines that dispensed glass bottles
 - d. Coffee shops with tableside jukeboxes
 - e. Blackjack, Clove and Teaberry chewing gum
 - f. Home milk delivery in glass bottles with cardboard stoppers
 - g. Party lines
 - h. Newsreels before the movie
 - i. P.F. Fliers
 - j. Telephone numbers with a word prefix...(Raymond 4-601).
 - k. Peashooters
 - l. Howdy Dowdy
 - m. 45 RPM records
 - n. Green Stamps
 - o. Hi-Fi's
 - p. Metal ice cubes trays with levers
 - q. Mimeograph paper
 - r. Beanie and Cecil
 - s. Roller-skate keys

Dealing with dump dilemma

By Ed Howard
Statehouse correspondent
The Nebraska Press Association

Four other states recently kicked Nebraska out of a club that no one in their right mind would want to join.

From its inception, the soul purpose of this misbegotten mating of states seemed to be the building of a nuclear outhouse near Butte, Nebraska.

The organization, formed in the 1980s, calls itself the Central Interstate Low-Level Radioactive Waste Commission. The Legislature, misled or under-led by then Gov. Bob Kerrey and others, signed up in the 1980s. Kerrey, with perennial political luck, never caught a lot of grief over it. Neither did those lawmakers who thought it was a dandy idea. Instead, it bedeviled Govs. Kay Orr and Ben Nelson.

The fear of environmental problems resulting from a potential glow-in-the-dark potty for nuke waste caused concern among lots of folk, including Nelson. The project also had its supporters, especially among those who regarded it as just the sort of economic development gig that would suit this state.

Those who would yet pooh-poo the notion that there was (and still might be) room for concern should view a portion of a documentary narrated by legendary author Studs Terkel. It is entitled Fear and Favor in the Newsroom. The documentary doesn't even mention Nebraska, but it details some of the problems of US Ecology, the outfit chosen to develop the dump for low-level nuclear waste in Boyd County. Look at that documentary, and then ask yourself if you would want US Ecology to handle nuclear plumbing in your backyard.

At this stage, Nebraskans can only hope that the federal Court of Appeals for the 8th Circuit will reverse U.S. District Judge Richard Kopf of Lincoln. It was Kopf who denied Nebraska a jury trial in the nuke dump lawsuit, and decided that Nelson's administration acted in bad faith in denying a permit to build the nuclear biffy near Butte. Kopf also said Nebraska should pay the other members of the gang, uh, compact, some $150 million. The other club members were Arkansas, Kansas, Oklahoma and Louisiana.

One might think those states would have clamored for a chance to provide the eternal resting place for a variety of nuclear droppings. If ever there were some sort of leakage, how much trouble could it cause one of them? In Louisiana it might improve the quality of the water. In Arkansas it might irradiate a well-documented problem with chicken excreta. In Oklahoma it could enhance the IQ of football fans. Kansas, of course, could just use the excitement.

We are a week away from the chicken invasion.

Most of this column will have to do with Henoween . . . Friday . . . July 11th . . . festivities getting underway at approximately 5:30 p.m. There are just baskets of eggciting things going on . . . and perhaps you can just clip this column as a reminder.

A reminder of our Historic Driving Tours set for Henoween/Chicken Show weekend. On Friday there are two tours . . . one beginning at 4 p.m. and the next one at 5 p.m. Those two will begin with a High Tea at the Wayne County Museum. Then everyone will board "The Shuttle" for an air-conditioned ride around Wayne touring the historic highlights. On Sunday the 13th, the tour will begin with a brunch at The Coffee Shoppe on Main at noon and then the tour. Tickets are $10 for each tour. Tickets may be purchased at our office or at First Realty Sales and Management or The Coffee Shoppe. Seating is limited to 21 individuals per tour.

Other Henoween Activities (ALL TIMES ARE APPROXIMATE!!!)

At 6 p.m., is arguably the world's largest Chicken Dance held in front of Antiques on Main. At 6:30 p.m. is a performance by "For the Master and Friends." At 7:30 p.m., it's our decorated/ painted cement chicken auction. Beginning at 8 p.m. is the free Branson-style show performed by "Free Beer and Chicken." They will do two 45-60 minute sets. In between those sets, we will announce the winner of our quilt raffle.

Much . . . Much . . . More!!!
A kiddie train . . . a kiddie ferris wheel . . . inflatable games . . . games sponsored by the Humane Society . . . face painting . . . Pie and Ice Cream Social sponsored by the Eastern Star in the Main Street Office . . . a teen dance sponsored by the Jaycees at Exhaust Pros/ Lighting Lube . . . an adult dance sponsored by the Fireman's Association at the old fire hall . . . food, craft and art vendors . . . FUN FOR THE ENTIRE FAMILY!!!

In our office window next week will be a display of Chicken Show memorabilia. Included in that display will be a t-shirt from EVERY Chicken Show. The items were donated to Main Street by the John and Prudy Theil family. We display them in honor and memory of John and Prudy.

Saturday . . . July 12th is the 23rd Annual Chicken Show . . . don't miss it!!!

On this Friday, July 4th, from 3 to 5 p.m., you can tour the newly renovated City Auditorium. Lemonade will be provided by the Main Street Wayne Program. Our program was instrumental in getting the auditorium listed on the National Register of Historical Buildings. Stop by and look at the changes and then head to the Fourth of July extravaganza sponsored by the Jaycees. It will be held at the Softball Complex. Believe me, the entire evening is bigger and better than ever.

Questions or comments . . . call 375-5062 or stop in. Until next time . . .

Blood Bank prepares for July 4th weekend

In preparation for the 4th of July holiday weekend, the Siouxland Community Blood Bank is urging blood donors to step forward and donate. The blood bank has extended its operating hours from 6 am to 6 pm and has teamed-up with local media to help in donor awareness and recruitment.

The blood bank must always maintain an adequate supply of blood for medical patients and emergencies, especially over a long holiday weekend when the blood demands increase and donations are down.

To be eligible to donate you must be at least 17 years of age, in general good health, and haven't donated whole blood in the past 56 days.

For more information about the Siouxland Community Blood Bank or blood drives in your area, call 712-252-4208, 1-800-798-4208 or visit their website at www.siouxlandbloodbank.org.

Welcome Center to host re-enactor

In case you missed Lewis and Clark when they passed through here in 1804, you will get another chance.

Darrel Draper, will portray "George Drouillard: Hunter, Interpreter and Indian Sign-Talker for Lewis and Clark," on Saturday, July 5 at 1 pm. at the Corps of Discovery Welcome Center located three miles south of Yankton, S.D. on Highway 81.

Drouillard, half French and half Shawnee Indian, is considered by most scholars to be one of the most valuable and remarkable members of the expedition that mapped and explored the American West.

In full costume and in French accent, Drouillard tells the story of his youth among the Shawnee Indians, his recruitment by Lewis and Clark, his contributions to the expedition, and other tales of humor, excitement, miracles and even the supernatural circumstances of his final encounter with the Blackfeet Indians.

Draper has been described as "an awesome and absolutely wonderful performer, who is able to transport the audience back in time to the era of his characters."

He will do a second reenactment at the Lindy Diamond Jubilee Celebration in Lindy at 7 pm.

"We would also like to thank the many volunteers, including the school-aged volunteers who helped with registrations, activities, and book shelving, as well as our volunteer story readers, said Wayne Public Children's Librarian Kay Alston.

Children are encouraged to keep reading throughout the summer to develop their reading skills during the months away from school. Children having completed Preschool through Grade Six may register for Session II of the Summer Reading Program at any time during Library hours.

Session II kicks off with a program from the Wayne State College Planetarium on Wednesday, July 9. Preschool, Kindergarten, and Grade I meet at the Library at 1 p.m., Grades 2-6 meet for their program at 2 p.m.

The following three Wednesday afternoons feature programs with age-appropriate stories and activities based on Wayne Public Library's centennial year theme of exploring the past, present, and future. Session II ends with the Final Awards Party on the evening of Wednesday, Aug. 6.

Will Davis recipient of award

Will Davis, R.P. of Wayne was honored by the Nebraska Pharmacists Association (NPA) as the recipient of the 2003 Bowl of Hygiea Award.

Davis was presented this award during the Nebraska Pharmacists Association's 121st Annual Convention in Kearney on June 7.

This award was designed to recognize a pharmacist who has an outstanding record of community service which reflects well on the pharmacy profession.

Pharmacist Davis owned his own pharmacy in Wayne since January of 1983.

He is a member of the United Methodist Church, certified Lay speaker and has served on various church boards.

His community service includes being an active member and serving on various committees for the Main Street and the Chamber of Commerce. He served on the Wayne Community Schools Board of Education for eight years and has assisted with the Boy Scouts.

Davis is an NPA member and has held the offices of president and chairman of the board.

Davis, who was nominated for the award by his employees, said he did not know he would be receiving the recognition.

After having traded weekends for being on duty at Sav-Mor Pharmacy, he and his wife Sue decided they would attend the convention. When they arrived in Kearney, Davis noticed that most of his family and employees were a pharmacist licensed in Nebraska; must be living; may not be a previous recipient of the award; may not be currently serving, nor have served within the immediate past two years as an officer of the Association in other than an ex-officio capacity, nor on its Awards Committee and have an outstanding record of community

Winside students tour Blackhills and western Nebraska

Twelve members of Paul Sok's 2003-04 Advanced Biology class recently returned from a five day field trip to the Blackhills/Badlands region and western Nebraska.

This is the eighth consecutive year that Sok has led a group of students out west. Those taking part in the trip were Adam Pfeiffer, Amy Vanosdall, Annette Boelter, Angie Wagner, Eric Morris, Katie Behmer, Melissa Heberer, Nathan Stevens, Nathan Wills, Rachel Peter, Samantha Bussey and Stacey Gnirk. The group, along with Superintendent Arden Svoboda had a chance to enjoy a number of tours, sites and activities during their trip.

The group left Winside at 5 a.m. on the morning of June 22. The first stops were in the Badlands regions. The group had a chance to hike around the northeast part of the Badlands and got to see a late 1800's dugout and white prairie dog town. Lunch was eaten at the Rushmore Mall in Rapid City.

Then it was off to the Journey Center Museum to participate in a guided tour featuring the history of the Blackhills region. After this, the students went to the Blackhills School of Mines Geology Museum and saw a number of mineral, meteorite and fossil displays.

The relatively new St. Peter and Paul Cathedral was next. Everyone had a chance to view the massive structure with its modern architectural design.

The seventh stop of the day found the group at Reptile Gardens, south of Rapid City. Four presentations took place while they were present and there were a number of herpetology displays to view.

The final stop for the day was

Mt. Rushmore where the evening presentation and night lighting were taken in.

Monday began with Bob Wade at his historic gold mill west of Hill City. Everyone had a chance to do a little gold panning in the stream with Stacey Gnirk being the 'lucky one' to actually find a small piece of gold.

The second stop for the morning was the Blackhills Institute of Geology in Hill City. Replicas of five T. Rexs were on display including the famous Chicago museum of Natural History's "Sue."

Prior to noon found the students at the Crazy Horse Monument where they saw a video and toured the site's Native American displays.

The group was then split up with four students participating in a three-hour spelunking tour at Jewel Cave while the rest had the opportunity to partake in a scenic walking tour of the cave.

Evening stops were made at the Needles, Sylvan Lake and the Coolidge General Store in north Custer State Park.

Monday evening concluded with a three minute hail storm that completely blanketed the area with one-half to three-fourths inch hail stones.

Tuesday the students went to the top of Mt. Coolidge and saw a foggy view of the "Hills." They then took a tour of the wildlife loop in Custer Park and saw buffalo, burros, deer, turkey, stone sheep, antelope and bighorn sheep.

A quick viewing of the historic Blue Bell Lodge and one-half mile hike up to the Rankin Fire Tower preceded the next cave stop. While at Wind Cave, eight students took part in a four-hour spelunking tour with Mr. Sok and the remaining four took the walking, scenic tour with Mr. Svoboda. The day concluded with some swimming and sliding at Evan's Plunge in Hot Springs.

Wednesday found the Winside group entertaining a wide array of sights and activities.

The first stop was at the Mammoth site south of Hot Springs where a video, guided tour and lab viewing were offered. The next stop was a short hike around Cascade Falls and then down to the northwest corner of Nebraska for a fossil dig. The group was guided by Kevin and Bill Grote along with their son, Wyatt and Layne.

A number of fossil fragments of bone, teeth and tortoise shells were found. The major highlight of the dig occurred when Eric Morris and Mr. Svoboda each found jaw bones from 30 million year-old Titanotheres (two horned rhinos about eight feet tall at the shoulders).

The group then had lunch at the legendary Sioux Sundries in Harrison (home of Nebraska's largest hamburger). Four members had the 28 ounce Coffee Burger with a generous order of fries. The whole group then sat back for a drive through at Smiley Canyon, Fort Robinson, Chadron State College and a two-hour trip through the northern sandhills on their way to Valentine for an evening swim.

Thursday began with a trip on the wildlife loop at Fort Niobrara where bison, antelope, elk, Canada geese, prairie dogs and burrowing owls were seen.

Everyone then hiked down to Ft. Falls and took a mile-long hike along the Niobrara river.

Prior to getting back home, a tour of the Ashfall site at Royal was taken in. Rick Otte, Park Ranger, gave an in-depth one hour tour, discussing fossil formation and the different types of fossils that have been discovered.

A majority of the trip was funded by a grant from the Gardner Foundation in Wakefield and the Lower Elkhorn Natural Resource District.

"The Biology students and I would like to express our sincere thanks to both groups for their contributions, to the Winside Public School system for the use of the vans and to Mr. Arden Svoboda for donating his time as a sponsor/driver," said Mr. Sok.

Rastedes are award winners for their leadership skills

The United States Achievement Academy has announced that Ross and Amber Rastede of Allen have been named a United States National Award Winners in Leadership.

Ross and Amber, who attend Allen Consolidated Schools, were nominated for this national award by Joyce Christensen, a counselor at the school.

Their names will appear in the United States Achievement Academy Official Yearbook, which is published nationally.

"Recognizing and supporting our youth is more important than ever before in America's history. Certainly, United States Achievement Academy winners should be congratulated and appreciated for their dedication to excellence and achievement," said

Dr. George Stevens, Executive Director of the United States Achievement Academy.

The Academy selects USAA winner upon the recommendation of teachers, coaches, counselors and other qualified sponsors and upon the Standards of Selection set forth by the Academy. The criteria for selection are a student's academic performance, interest and aptitude, leadership qualities, responsibility, enthusiasm, motivation to learn and improve, citizenship, attitude and cooperative spirit, dependability and recommendation from a teacher or director.

Ross and Amber are the son and daughter of Mary and Wayne Rastede of Allen. Their grandparents are Jean and Norman Minola of Wakefield and the late Tillie and Marvin Rastede of Laurel.

Flood and weather cleanup

Cleaning up the muddy mess left by recent heavy rains, winds and flooding can be a huge task. Even knowing what to do and where to start can be challenging.

Shirley Niemeyer, housing and environment specialist in NU's Institute of Agriculture and Natural Resources, reminds us that there are a variety of resources that are available from the University of Nebraska and gives some pointers in the clean-up.

There are places that we don't think about where water may have gotten. Crawl spaces, wall cavities and floor joist areas may need to be dried out, especially if there was extensive water damage.

Floor moldings, drywall and insulation can be removed to allow the water to escape from wall cavities and dry. Wallboard should be partially or completely removed depending on how much water has been absorbed.

A moisture sensor or moisture meter helps determine how much moisture is in wall cavities and wooden studs. Wall cavities should not be covered or closed up for several weeks or months to allow complete drying and prevent mold growth.

Mold can start growing in 24 to 48 hours, especially next to anything organic, such as paper or wood. To minimize mold and mildew, run a central air conditioner, dehumidifier or fans to accelerate the drying process if this equipment is in good working order.

Water damaged furniture and household linens need immediate attention to prevent mildew and odors. To begin the cleaning process, air dry all items in the sun if possible. If the furniture or item has a hard surface and is not porous, it usually can be cleaned.

Hard surfaced items contaminated with anything but clean rain water should be disposed of or disinfected if possible. Follow label directions when using disinfectants and wear protective clothing, gloves and goggles.

Porous items need to be discarded because they are difficult to clean and to remove contamination, moisture and soil below the surfaces.

Carpet that has been under flood water or contaminated with sewage, pesticides or other toxic materials should be discarded.

You may be able to save carpet that has been soaked with clean rain water and if the water damage is a small area. A professional carpet cleaner or restorer can provide cost estimates.

If you must attempt to salvage the carpet yourself and if it has been contaminated with clean rainwater, remove the carpet and discard the pad. Carpet with a foam backing should be discarded.

Carpets should be cleaned outdoors on both sides with a hose. Apply a carpet shampoo or an all-purpose cleaner and spray again. Do not replace carpet padding until the flooring and floor joists are thoroughly dry.

For more information about salvaging flood-damaged materials, consult the following NU Cooperative Extension NebFacts, all of which are available at local Cooperative Extension offices or online:

Engagements

Lubken - Koeber

Amanda Lubken and Todd Koeber, both of Lincoln, are planning an Aug. 2, 2003 wedding in Lincoln.

The bride-to-be is the daughter of Al and Deanna Lubken of Lincoln. She is a 2000 graduate of Lincoln Southeast High School and received her Associates Degree from Southeast Community College in March of 2003. She is currently employed at Haven Manor in Lincoln.

Her fiancé is the son of Don and Claudia Koeber of Wayne. He is a 1995 graduate of Wayne High School and received a degree in Public Accounting from Wayne State College in December of 1999.

He is currently employed with the State of Nebraska Department of Revenue as an Auditor in the Motor Fuels Division.

Smith - Graham

Melissa Smith, daughter of Annette Junck and the late Larry Smith of Laurel, is engaged to marry Jon Graham, son of Becky and Dallas Graham of Belden.

The bride-to-be is a graduate of Laurel-Concord High School and is currently attending Bahner College of Hairstyling in Fremont.

Her fiancé is a graduate of Randolph Public School. He attended Northeast Community College in Norfolk, graduating with a degree in Diesel Mechanics. He is presently farming.

The couple is planning an Aug. 16, 2003 wedding at Immanuel Lutheran Church in Coleridge.

Family Reunions—

Hank family

The 23rd annual Hank Family reunion was held in the American Legion Hall in Winside on June 29. There were 43 relatives and friends in attendance at the noon meal.

After dinner, cards were played for entertainment.

Relatives came from Lusk and Casper, Wyo., Lawson, Mo., Gold Hills, Ore., Leakey and Grandbury, Texas, California and in Nebraska, Emerson, Hooper, Wayne, Carroll, Coleridge, Norfolk, Ponca, Plainview, Chambers and Winside. The oldest present were Ernest Stinkhouse of Plainview and Ida Hank of Winside. The youngest were Annie Vrespir of Emerson and Travis Clark of Leakey, Texas.

The Hank reunion will be held at the same place next year.

There was one death, one wedding and three births reported.

Ruth Luhr

Ruth Luhr to note birthday

Ruth Luhr of Wayne will be 90 years old on Tuesday, July 8, 2003. She will be hosting visitors and well-wishers anytime during the week of July 6.

Cards may also be sent to her at 1500 Vintage Hill Drive, Room 302, Wayne, Neb. 68787.

Mr. and Mrs. Owens

Owens to observe anniversary

Milton and Jacquelyn Owens of Carroll will celebrate their 50th wedding anniversary on Sunday, July 6.

An open house will be held from 2 to 4 p.m. at the Carroll Auditorium.

Hosting the event will be the couple's children, David and Shelly Owens of Carroll and Megan and Douglas Marr of Parris Island, S.C. They also have six grandchildren; one great-grandson and two step-great granddaughters. Milton Owens and Jacquelyn Gesirich were married on June 27, 1953 in the Methodist Church in Newport. The honorees request no gifts.

Lincoln pair married in Missouri ceremony

Natalie Ann Gauthier and Andrew Joseph Wright, both of Lincoln, were married May 17, 2003 at St. Francis Xavier College Church in St. Louis, Mo. Father Mike Esswein of Ballwin, Mo. officiated at the evening ceremony.

Parents of the couple are Jock and Nancy Gauthier of Ballwin, Mo. and Gary and Peggy Wright of Wayne. Grandmothers of the bride are Jean Huber of Naples, Fla. and Billie Gauthier, San Antonio, Texas. Grandparents of the groom are Richard and Patricia Freeman of Perham, Minn.

Special music was provided by Lora Gauthier of Boulder, Colo. and James Gauthier of Plano, Texas. Lora Gauthier, cousin of the bride, sang "Ave Maria." The bride's uncle, James Gauthier, played the trumpet recessional of "Trumpet Voluntary in C".

Other musical selections included "Jesu, Joy of Man's Desiring," "Rondeau," "Trumpet Voluntary in D," and "Adagio." Theresa Romer served as cantor with William Romer as piano accompanist.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a white, satin floor-length gown. Her fitted bandeau gown with cathedral train was accented with silver and white beading, sequins and embroidery. She wore a waist-length veil secured with a tiara and carried a round bouquet of roses.

Old Testament readings were read by Jessica Meyer of Lincoln, friend of the groom; and Heath and Kimberly Podany of Lincoln, friends of the bride. Presentation of the gifts to the altar were by Matthew and Patricia Ozuna of Yuma, Ariz., cousins of the groom. Eucharistic Ministers were Lewis and Ginger Ohmann of Woodbury, Minn., uncle and aunt of the bride.

Matron of Honor was Michelle Lynchard of San Antonio, Texas, sister of the bride. Bridesmaids were Katherine Fitch, Omaha; Rebecca Oberle, Lincoln; Kimberly

Mr. and Mrs. Wright

Mickelson, Phoenix, Ariz.; and Jennifer Lazarus, New York City, N.Y.

The women wore black, satin floor-length gowns with small trains. The bandeau gowns featured a white empire bodice covered with pleated sheer black organza with a white border. They carried bouquets of red roses. Flower girls were Caroline and Julia Cycon of Ballwin, Mo.

Serving as the bride's personal attendant was Jennifer Bell Nielsen of St. Paul, Minn., cousin of the bride. Guest book attendant was Jessica Sebade of Lincoln, friend of the groom.

Trevor Wright of Lincoln, brother of the groom, served as Best Man. Groomsman were Nicholas Salitros, Fort Collins, Colo.; Andrew Rowell, Lincoln; Joseph Holman, Minneapolis, Minn.; and Charles Gauthier, St. Louis, Mo. Honorary groomsman was Daniel Hillerson, cousin of the groom, who is stationed in Baghdad, Iraq.

Ushers were Joseph Holman of Minneapolis, Minn. and Justin Holman of Naples, Fla., cousins of the bride.

A reception, dinner and dance were held at Windows Off Washington following the ceremony. Host couple at the reception was Ray and Doris Gauthier of West Linn, Ore., uncle and aunt of the bride.

After honeymooning in Jamaica, the couple is now home at 1544 South 20th Street, Apt. #1, Lincoln, Neb. 68502. At the end of July, the couple will move to Savannah, Ga. where Andrew has been accepted for graduate school in Architecture.

The bride is a 1998 graduate of Parkway West High School in Ballwin. She received her Bachelor of Science degree in Interior Design from the University of Nebraska at Lincoln in May 2002. She is employed at Precision Lighting in Lincoln as a business partner.

The groom is a 1998 graduate of Wayne High School. He received his Bachelor of Science in Architectural Studies degree from University of Nebraska at Lincoln this May. He is employed by both the Transit and Maintenance Departments at UN-L.

SKIN CANCER

The two most common types of skin cancer are basal cell and squamous cell. Basal cell, which accounts for 90% of all U.S. skin cancer cases, begins in the skin's inner layers and typically stays localized. Squamous cell begins in the outer layer and is more likely - though still unlikely - than basal cell to spread. Precancerous lesions called actinic (solar) keratosis may progress to squamous cell carcinoma if left untreated. Ultraviolet radiation from sun exposure is the primary cause of skin cancer. The artificial radiation people receive from sun lamps and tanning booths may also cause skin cancer. People with fair skin, freckling, red or blond hair, and/or light colored eyes have a higher risk of skin cancer.

It is Cancer from the Sun Month to promoted education and awareness of the danger of overexposure to the sun. Enjoy your summer outdoor fun, but remember your sunscreen! At WAYNE CONVENIENT CLINIC, are pleased to bring the members of our community information to help keep them healthy and educated about current health findings. Located at 114 W. 3rd Street, we are taking new patients. Please call (402) 375-1383 to make an appointment. Walk-ins are always welcome as well. At Wayne Convenient Clinic, we take pride in treating your like family.

Presbyterian Women hold Guest Day

The Presbyterian Women of First Presbyterian Church of Wayne held their annual Guest Day on June 18.

After welcoming all guests, Moderator Sandra Metz introduced the entertainment for the evening.

Sue McClain from York, the Victorian Lady, gave a presentation on turn of the century clothing. In 1985 she started collecting vintage clothing. Since 1991 she has traveled the Midwest entertaining church groups, museums and tea rooms with her collection of clothes from the Victorian era.

After the presentation, approximately 135 women were served "High Tea" by members of the women's group.

Guests present were from area Presbyterian churches and many of the Wayne area churches.

"Great Plants Shine All Year," telling about the Great Plants for 2003... the shrub, flower, grass, introductions and tree of the year and an article on "Alternative Trees" for this area of Nebraska.

Lorraine used part of a video and a reading for entertainment, which told the meaning of each folding of the flag that had been on a casket of a veteran.

The Watchword for June was "A lot of growing up takes place between 'it fell' and 'I dropped it.'"

After the meeting, the ladies visited with LouAnn Kathol about the possibilities for the Hoskins Memorial Park located at the north end of town. They also toured LouAnn's yard and garden and Marcia Prussa's yard.

RELATIVES VISIT
Overnight guests at the Bill Fenske home on June 28 were Laura Grace and Westy of Omaha and George Fenske of Richmond, Texas.

George arrived at his grandparents' home on June 21 for an extended visit. The Omaha relatives came to attend the 50th anniversary celebration for Esther and Julius Rechtermann.

RECEIVE SCHOLARSHIPS
Jared A. Rodgers and Cammy Cushing were recipients of Ezra Jochens Memorial Scholarships. Scholarships were awarded June 28 at Peace United Church of Christ, rural Norfolk.

Jared Rodgers will attend Northeast Community College and Cammy Cushing will attend Wayne State College this fall. Each award is valued at $500.

Mom & Dad talked about everything and they always planned ahead to make life just a little easier.

Wayne State College educator helps with advanced placement exams

Dr. Alan Bruflatt was selected to participate this June in the annual reading and scoring of the College Board's Advanced Placement Examinations in Spanish.

Each year the Advanced Placement Program gives hundreds of thousands of high school students an opportunity to take rigorous college-level courses and examinations and based on their exam performance, to receive credit and/or advanced placement

"The Advanced Placement reading is one of the few settings in which academic dialogue between school and college educators is fostered and strongly encouraged. The reading draws upon the talents of some of the finest teachers and professors that the world has to offer," said Dr. Lee Jones, vice-president, K-12 at the College Board. "It fosters professionalism, allows for the exchange of ideas, and strengthens the commitment to students and to teaching. We are very grateful for the contributions of talented educators like Dr. Bruflatt."

Evaluated by more than 6,000 select faculty consultants from around the world, almost 1.7 million examinations in 19 disciplines were taken by students.

Bruflatt teaches all levels of Spanish at Wayne State College, from introductory to graduate-level literature.

Students from area are on dean's list at UN-K

The University of Nebraska at Kearney recently announced the names of students who earned a place on the dean's list for the spring 2003 semester. The following local students were named to the list.

Joseph Brumm, Jeff Ensz, Amanda Maryott, Jessica

Murtaugh, Dustin Schmeits, and Heather Stauffer, all of Wayne, Ezechiel Brummels of Winside, Andrea Berns and Ross Gardner, both of Wakefield, and Brittany Burns and Elizabeth Sohler, both of Laurel have been named to the dean's list at UN-K.

The students majors are: Brumm, music education K-12; Ensz, political science; Maryott, English; Murtaugh, music education K-12; Schmeits, social science education 7-12; Stauffer, history; Brummels, English; Berns, political science; Gardner, business administration comp.; Burns, business administration; Sohler, elementary education K-6.

To earn a place on the dean's list, university students must complete 12 hours or more (for which quality points are rewarded) with a grade point average of 3.5 or better on a 4.0 scale. Students earn a 4.0 for an "A," a 3.0 for a "B," and a 2.0 for a "C." Courses taken on a credit/no credit basis cannot be included among the necessary 12 credit hours, because quality points...A,B,C... are not awarded.

Students who earned a 4.0 (straight A's) average are noted by an asterisk before their first names. In recognition of their academic achievements, students will receive a dean's list certificate from their respective deans.

Sara Hank to take part in academy at Doane College

Sara Hank of Carroll, a student at Wayne High School, is one of 31 participants in the Level One Leadership Academy, "Leadership, Challenge Yourself," on July 7-12. The event will be hosted by Doane College.

The academy, a component of the college's Hansen Leadership Program, is geared toward high school sophomores and juniors. The attendees are selected from a large pool of applicants based on their leadership abilities and references. The academy will feature leadership activities, communication and team building, community services/service learning, as well as the college's outdoor ropes challenge course.

The group will prepare and serve food at the Matt Talbot House, a kitchen for homeless people in Lincoln.

WEEKLY TIP
Symptoms of Depression Are Often Physical
According to Dr. David Dunner, a psychiatrist at the University of Washington in Seattle, "Eighty percent of patients with depression come to the doctor with exclusively physical symptoms." Common manifestations include insomnia, chronic fatigue, a change in appetite or weight, or back, joint or head pain. Most people will not complain of depression but if questioned, may acknowledge feelings of worthlessness, guilt or even suicide. Understanding that it is often the physical pain of depression that brings people to the doctor is the key to proper diagnosis.

Lots of family

COMMUNITY CALENDAR

'Heroes Unite' blood donor campaign update

The Heroes Unite, It's about Life! blood donor recruitment campaign has successfully taken off with over 250 communities participating.

The campaign enlists each community's life-saving squads to encourage area residents, family, friends and neighbors to donate during the summer months when blood donations trend downward but the demand for blood goes up. The theme for the campaign was meant to honor not only the life-saving blood donors, but community fire, rescue and law enforcement personnel.

Blood donors were offered an opportunity to register in support of their local emergency response teams. In doing so, their community is credited a point. Based on a sponsorship percentage formula, not population, the community with the most participation, whose squad encourages the most donors under their community squad's name, wins a sponsored donation of a $1,000 gift certificate to purchase safety equipment for their community.

The top twenty-five communities in the Heroes Unite, It's about Life! campaign thus far, based on the sponsorship formula, beginning with number one are:

Sutherland (IA), Cherokee (IA), Ida Grove (IA), Yankton (SD), LeMars (IA), Boyden (IA), Wayne (NE), Breda (IA), Sioux Center (IA), Allen (NE), Pocahontas (IA), Orange City (IA), Remsen (IA), Crofton (NE), Akron (IA), Onawa (IA), Hartington (NE), Paulina (IA), South Sioux City (NE), Varina (IA), Farnhamville (IA), Winebago (NE), Danbury (IA) and Schleswig (IA). The campaign will continue through September.

Each donor must register under their community squad's name to receive credit, which means that a person can donate at any blood drive through the summer.

Donors can also give blood at the Siouxland Community Blood Bank, which is located at 1019 Jones Street in Sioux City. The Siouxland Blood Bank's hours are: Monday 9 a.m.-6 p.m., Tuesday-Thursday 7 a.m.-6 p.m. and Friday 7 a.m.-5 p.m.

The Siouxland Blood Bank is the sole supplier of all blood products to 28 area hospitals within Iowa, Nebraska, and South Dakota.

For more information about donating blood, contact the blood bank at (712) 252-4208 or 800-798-4208, or visit the blood bank website at www.siouxlandbloodbank.org.

Local communities where the Siouxland Community Blood Bank conducts drives are Allen, Laurel, Wakefield, Wayne, Winside. Other communities in Nebraska include Bloomfield, Bancroft, Centerville, Coleridge, Crofton, Emerson, Hartington, Homer, Jackson, Laurel, Newcastle, Niobrara, O'Neil, Pender, Ponca, Walthill, Wausa, Winnebago, and Wynot.

Iowa: Akron, Albert City, Alta, Alton, Anthon, Aurelia, Battle Creek, Blencoe, Boyden, Breda, Carroll, Charter Oak, Cherokee, Coon Rapids, Correctionville, Cushing, Danbury, Denison, Everly, Farnhamville, Galva, George, Glidden, Branville,

A lot to be thankful for

When you can sleep with windows open in Nebraska on July first, you have something to celebrate. The winds have gone down, the temperatures moderated; now, if it could just rain. And rain without tornadoes, please; there has been enough havoc from those. Of course, when I watch the news in places like rain-soaked Louisiana, I know to be careful what I wish for.

We just finished out third busiest month ever; no wonder I'm tired. Groups like a family of nine for three nights really help the occupancy rate. We're gearing up for this month, which looks to be about the same. Not complaining, just stating facts.

The Big Farmer had to work at the antique shop on Sunday afternoon, but I went to a birthday party. First, I washed sheets and took a nap! Then, I drove to Papillion for the celebration for an old neighbor, who shall remain nameless. But I am still chuckling.

This family is always fun to visit. You are greeted with hugs and smiles, and made to feel as if your presence was just what they needed. You are stuffed with food of all kinds; there was a notation on the invitation that said, "lunch will be provided." I smiled as I read it because I knew this family would not put on a party without a huge repast. I also smiled as the afternoon wound down because one daughter said, "As usual, we have too much food." I asked how they were going to disperse it and she said, "We will have to go to Mom's to get the family Tupperware: Cool Whip containers!"

By: Pat Meierhenry

I know we are eating chicken salad for lunch every day because I tried a new recipe last week for cousin Paul and his wife. It's good, but you do get tired of the same thing. Again, I'm not complaining.

I'm just glad to have food.

One of our guests this weekend has a brother in Baghdad. He is sending packages every other week containing lemon-scented baby wipes, clean underwear, hard candy, gum and every other thing he can think of. Can't send lip balm anymore because it melts. Temperatures reach 135 degrees, and they are still being shot at! I plan to buy some of this stuff and take it to my neighbor. Her grandson is there and he says too many of the guys in his company are not getting packages like this. One of things the brother of our guest gets hungry for is Mountain Dew. So, he sent him a 20 ounce bottle! It cost $12. We just hope he has some way of cooling it. We take so many things for granted.

As usual, our Independence Day activities will take us to Murdock in the morning and to Seward in the afternoon. I'm going to close this and make one more trip to the attic while it's cool.

So far, I haven't found my Fourth of July decorations. Lots of Christmas up there, and Halloween and Thanksgiving, but no red, white and blue stuff. Someday, I have to get organized! Have a happy, and safe, holiday. And thank God we live in the USA!

Homeownership made possible

The collaboration and resource leveraging of four housing partners recently made the long time dream of homeownership come true for Mary Henderson. The needed financial resources that had once stood between Mary and homeownership were now available. As the Nation celebrates National Homeownership this month, stories such as this uphold the importance and pride of owning a home.

Mary, who is disabled and lives on a restricted income, has limited purchasing power. Being an occupant of rental property, she faced the growing concern regarding the stable renting of accessible units and rental costs. Mary decided to seek an alternative homeownership.

Northeast Housing Initiative, Inc. (NEHI) and USDA Rural Development assisted Mary in her search for a home. Once located, NEHI purchased the home, completed the needed rehabilitation work and sold the home to Mary. USDA Rural Development provided Mary with a loan for 80 percent of the needed financing.

NEHI provided the remaining 20 percent down payment via a deferred interest loan due after the first mortgage is paid. Goldenrod Hills Community Services completed additional weatherization work. Northeast Nebraska Joint Housing Authority (NNJHA) provided U.S. Department of Housing and Urban Development (HUD) Choice voucher assistance which requires only 30 percent of Mary's income to be paid towards her house payment. This assistance helps to make her monthly house payment, homeowner insurance and real estate taxes affordable.

Today, Mary proudly resides in her home in Emerson. When asked what the best part of owning a home vs. renting is, she'll quickly tell you, "It's the feeling of being permanent--of walking into my house and knowing I am home. Also I like the freedom to paint and decorate to my liking whereas with renting I was limited."

Direct Homeownership Loan program is open to eligible applicants for the purchase of an existing dwelling or for construction of a new dwelling. No down payment is required, applicants must meet income guidelines, have an acceptable credit history and be unable to obtain financial assistance through conventional lending. The mortgage limit is currently $113,500 for most areas in Nebraska, but the actual loan amount is based on an applicant's income and repayment ability. Loans are closed at the agency's current note rate that is presently six percent. Payment assistance is available to lower the required monthly mortgage payment for those who qualify.

Pickinpaugh is award winner

The United States Achievement Academy has announced that Leah Pickinpaugh of Wayne has been named an All-American Scholar.

Leah Pickinpaugh

The USAA has established the All-American Scholar Award Program to offer deserved recognition to superior students who excel in academic disciplines.

The All-American Scholars must earn a 3.3 or higher, grade point average. Only scholars selected by a school instructor, counselor or other qualified sponsor are now eligible for other awards given by the USAA.

Leah, who attends Wayne High School, was nominated for this national award by Sylvia Ruhl, an English teacher at the school.

Her name will appear in the United States Achievement Academy Official Yearbook, which is published nationally.

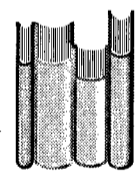

"Recognizing and supporting our youth is more important than ever before in America's history. Certainly, United States Achievement Academy winners should be congratulated and appreciated for their dedication to excellence and achievement," said Dr. George Stevens, Executive Director of the United States Achievement Academy.

The Academy selects All-American Scholars upon the exclusive recommendation of teachers, coaches, counselors and other qualified sponsors. Once awarded, the students may be recognized by the USAA for other honors.

Leah is the daughter of Tim and Jill Pickinpaugh of Wayne. Her grandparents are Don and Elaine Wakeley of Wausa and Darrel and Phyllis Dean of Bloomfield.

Named to honor list

Hedda Echtenkamp of Wayne has been named to the spring 2003 honor's list of full-time students at Iowa Lakes Community College. Students who have demonstrated academic excellence by earning a grade point average of 3.25, based on a 4.0 or higher are named to the list.

Spring semester students who have achieved a 3.25 grade point average or better are recognized by inclusion on the dean's list.

Farm Credit Services of America Announces Scholarship Recipient

Tony Dowling of Randolph, Nebraska, has been awarded a $1,000 scholarship for the 2003-2004 academic year from Farm Credit Services of America.

Candidates are evaluated by GPA, written report, extra curricular activities, ag background career interest, residency by state and related work experience.

Tony is the son of Lynn and Karen Dowling and is a student at the University of Nebraska-Lincoln majoring in Agribusiness. Kurt Wittler, Financial Officer from Norfolk, Nebraska, is pictured presenting the scholarship certificate to Tony.

Farm Credit Services of America proudly celebrates its 86th year of service to agriculture. FCS America is one of the largest providers of credit and insurance services to farmers, ranchers, agribusiness and rural residents in Iowa, Nebraska, South Dakota and Wyoming.

WHAT GOES INTO OUR RED PAINT

PERFORMANCE. Our goal is to build the industry's most productive, reliable equipment and to back it with a network of dedicated dealers.

SUPPORT. We will do everything we can to make you more productive from parts to financing. That's commitment.

PRIDE. The way we see things, if you don't believe in quality, you don't belong in this business.

EXPERIENCE. When you've been serving agriculture as long as we have, you learn a thing or two about how to succeed at it.

LOYALTY. Seasons change, but our commitment to customers never will.

HERITAGE. This world means a lot to us. Especially considering the facts that our began more than 100 years ago.

VALUE. It's not just about price. It's about making each dollar you invest work harder and longer.

INNOVATION. Over the years, we've gotten pretty good at setting new industry standards. Why stop now?
