Legislative forum held in Wayne

By Clara Osten
Of the Herald

Approximately 30 people were on hand Monday to listen to Barry Kennedy, State Chamber President talk about the future of Nebraska business.

The event also included a presentation by State Senator Pat Engel who explained some of the issues that the legislature faced during the past session.

Kennedy told his audience that 28 forums are scheduled throughout the state this fall and that 1,200 to 1,400 business persons will attend the events and "provide excellent feedback" to be used as the State Chamber serves to lobby issues before the state legislature in coming months.

Kennedy noted that the last two legislative sessions were dominated by revenue/budget issues and that 833 bills were introduced in the last session, 300 of which will be carried over into the 2004 session.

Among the top issues currently being discussed are taxes, economic development and labor relations. Other important topics being debated include the environment, health care and agribusiness issues.

Kennedy said that he has repeatedly heard that business is not paying its fair share of taxes. He presented a number of statistics showing the amount paid, directly and indirectly by Nebraska businesses.

"Taxes paid by businesses do matter and will affect what businesses do and which ones will locate in Nebraska," Kennedy said.

He noted that affective incentives need to be implemented to attract business to Nebraska.

Senator Engel told his audience that the last few years have been difficult because $1 billion of spending had to be cut and taxes were raised.

"It hasn't been easy and I have had to vote for things I didn't want to, but did because I felt it was our responsibility to take care of certain things," Engel said.

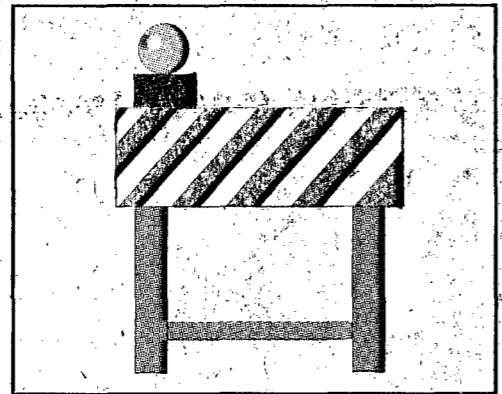

Engel spoke about areas within the state which may need changes, including correctional facilities and higher education.

Construction to begin on Highway 35

Construction work is scheduled to begin Monday, Sept. 29 on Highway 35 from Winside to Wayne.

Brower Construction Co. of Sioux City, Iowa has the contract for the work of milling the existing roadway, patching and lay two inches of asphaltic concrete to the existing roadway.

Earth shoulders will be constructed, bridge curbs modified and new guardrail installed from Winside North to the Highway 98 Junction.

Most of the work will be done with one lane closed, so motorists are to expect delays of 10 to 15 minutes when work is being done.

Flagmen and a pilot car will control traffic through the work sites.

Work is expected to be completed by mid-November 2003.

Fall foliage flourishes

The rich colors of plants and trees tell us fall is here. Residents should try to take time to enjoy the beauty before Old Man Winter settles in with an icy grip.

Program gives taste of law enforcement

Participating in the 36th annual Junior Law Cadet program this summer, Ben Allemann of Wayne (a senior at Wayne High School) got a taste of what it is like in law enforcement. Two sessions of the week-long program were held for high school students — one for 30 boys (June 16-20) and one for 30 girls (June 9-13). The program was held at the Nebraska State Patrol Training Academy in Grand Island.

The program is sponsored by the American Legion and cadets are chosen through applications sent in by interested students. They are also chosen based on character and interest in law enforcement and they are interviewed.

During the week of intensive training in law enforcement and traffic safety, students listened to authorities from the municipal police, county sheriff, health department, game commission, Department of Motor Vehicles, Nebraska National Guard, court administrator, Federal Bureau of Investigations, and Nebraska State Patrol.

The students received hands-on experience with patrol dogs, SWAT team tactics, marksmanship, accident investigations, mock chase situations, and

'Kind News' helps educate elementary students

The Northeast Nebraska Humane Society recognizes the importance of educating children in responsible pet care.

For the past five years the group has provided the Wayne-Carroll Elementary Schools and St. Mary's Elementary School with gift subscriptions to the 'Kind News' newspaper.

This monthly publication is published by the Humane Society of the United States. It features puzzles, projects, stories, and celebrity interviews that teach children the importance of treating people, animals, and the environment with kindness and respect. Its emphasis on humane values, such as fairness, compassion, and responsibility, seeks to encourage good character in our children, as they become young adults.

These subscriptions are made possible through the generous support of local businesses. The Humane Society would like to thank the following for their contributions: Pac'n Save, Bank First, State National Bank, First National Bank, Arnie's Ford, Children's Collections, Edward D. Jones, Premier Estates, Heartland Stainless, Inc., Hytrek Lawn Service, Under My Thumb Massage, and one anonymous donor.

"Without their funding, we would not be able to contribute this valuable resource to the education of today's youth," said Nancy Wherley of the Humane Society.

Northeast Community College plans alumni reunion and dance

Alumni from Northeast Community College and all its predecessor colleges will be welcomed back to college for a reunion on Saturday, Oct. 11.

Predecessor colleges include Northeast Technical Community College, Northeast Nebraska Technical Community College, Northeast Nebraska Technical College, Northeast Nebraska Technical College, Northeast Nebraska Technical College, Northeast Nebraska Technical College, and Norfolk Junior College.

Several different tours are planned on Saturday afternoon. That evening, alumni and guests are invited to a reunion at Divots Conference Center, 4200 West Norfolk Avenue. The event will begin with a social hour at 5 p.m. with dinner to follow. The evening will conclude with a dance featuring the popular, local band from the 60's and 70's, the Smoke Ring, beginning at 8:30.

The afternoon tour schedule includes:

1-3 p.m. - Tour of the current Northeast Community College campus at 801 East Benjamin, Norfolk. Guests are asked to meet in the Maclay Building, Room 100B.

1 p.m. - Tour will be conducted at 512 Philip Avenue. The tour will include the Norfolk Junior College Gym and the current Norfolk Public Schools Central Administration Building (formerly the Norfolk Junior High).

2 p.m. - Tour of the current Norfolk Junior High School (formerly the Norfolk High School), 510 Pasewalk Avenue.

According to reunion organizers, many Norfolk Junior College classes were held in the current Central Administration and Junior High School Buildings.

The public is invited to the Smoke Ring dance. A free-will offering will be taken and donated to the Nick Hupp Memorial Scholarship. Hupp was a member of the Smoke Ring, a band formed in 1965 by combining two northeast Nebraska bands, Little Joe and the Ramrods and the Strollers. Along with Hupp, many band members are alumni of Norfolk Junior College and NECC.

In the fall of 1968, the Smoke Ring re-released the Four Lads', "No Not Much." It eventually sold 800,000 records and hit #17 on the Billboard Magazine Easy Listening Charts. The song soared to number one in Memphis, Boston, Philadelphia, Los Angeles and Chicago. The Smoke Ring also appeared on Dick Clark's "American Bandstand" TV program in 1969.

"We are so excited about the upcoming reunion," Connie Sixta, alumni coordinator, said. "The banquet and dance promise to be a lot of fun for everyone, and alumni will have the chance to see classmates they've not seen in years. But we also emphasize that the dance, with the fabulous Smoke Ring, is open to the public, not just our alumni."

Another highlight of the evening will be the presentation of the Hall of Success, Distinguished Service and Emeritus Status Awards.

Tickets for the dinner must be purchased in advance. Deadline is Monday, Oct. 6. Please contact Connie Sixta at 402-844-7065 for more information about tickets or any reunion activities. ## Australian study group tours northeast Nebraska and Wayne

Of the Herald

A group of business leaders from Australia and New Zealand were in northeast Nebraska last week and spent Friday afternoon in Wayne.

The group, part of a Community and Economic Development Study Tour, started their tour of the United States in Chicago.

From there, they traveled to South Sioux City where they were a part of the 2003 Rural Institute on Sept. 16-18.

Following the completion of the Institute, the group traveled to Hartington where they spent the night in several different locations.

On Friday, they toured several locations in Yankton, S.D. before coming to Wayne. While here they visited Logan Nursery and had a chance to ask questions of owner Steve Hall.

From there, Annette Junck, Economic Development Coordinator in Laurel, took the six Australians and one New Zealander to Heritage Homes for a tour of the plant. Members of the group were able to view several homes in various stages of completion, ask questions and discuss differences in home construction between this area and their home country.

After leaving northeast Nebraska, the group had plans to stop in Fremont, attend River City Round Up activities in Omaha and have a farewell dinner in Lincoln, as well as a tour of the University of Nebraska-Lincoln, the state capitol and the Food Processing Center.

The group was made up of members from the Department of Primary Industry (Department of Ag) in Victoria, area consultants who help with community projects and those who work with business activities in communities. They indicated they were "a diverse group with different interests looking at what others are doing."

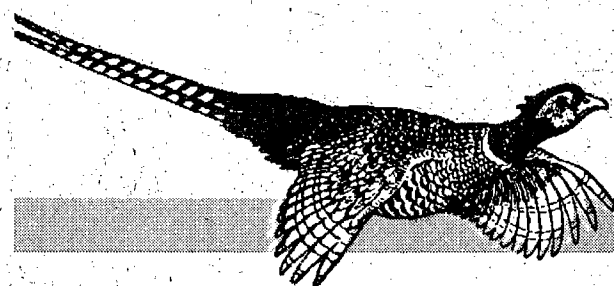

Members of the group were quick to express thanks to those they had met while in the United States, noting "the friendship and hospitality is amazing."

While most of the members then returned to their homes, several had other agendas including staying on for more conferences and heading for other conferences in the United Kingdom.

Trips such as this from Australia are being taken to the United States on a regular basis.

A time to remember

Dear Editor,
October 5-11, 2003 is Residents' Rights Week, a time to remember and recognize the 2.3 million people who live in long-term care facilities across the country.
This year's theme - 24/7: Residents' Rights Around the Clock - emphasizes that residents keep the same basic rights that they enjoyed before moving into a facility, including freedom of choice, the right to privacy and the right to participate in activities.

Please join the residents, family members, ombudsmen and facility staff in our area by celebrating Residents' Rights Week 2003. Remember that all residents are to be treated with dignity, respect and honor every day throughout the year.
Visit someone you know at a nursing home. Spend time volunteering in a facility. Become a local volunteer ombudsman to make sure residents know about their rights.
This is a wonderful opportunity to celebrate the lives of Americans living in facilities and their families, recognize their contributions to our society and reaffirm their rights as community members and citizens.
Sincerely,
Jayne Prince,
Ombudsman Coordinator,
Northeast Nebraska Area
Agency on Aging

Does Nebraska need presidential caucus?

By Ed Howard
Statehouse Correspondent
The Nebraska Press Association

A couple of Democrats are vigorously pushing to set up an unofficial presidential caucus for their party.
The idea is to lift Nebraska from its status as a complete political nonentity in presidential election years.
The idea sounds great to me, for a couple of reasons.
First, almost anything that would add a bit of dynamics to Nebraska politics would be a good thing.
Second, it would give reporters something to do in January besides writing about the NU bowl game and the Legislature.
Attorney Vince Powers of Lincoln is the driving force behind the notion. He has been joined by former Omaha Mayor Mike Boyle.
Powers figures Nebraska could draw presidential wannabes to Nebraska by holding the unofficial caucus a week or so before the nationally ballyhooed Iowa caucuses.
The presidential hopefuls would haul their assets across the river in hopes of snagging a win, a little momentum and a lot of press, prior to the Iowa vote. And presidential candidates are like other kinds of cattle. If you can get one of 'em to cross the river, the rest will follow.
Heck, the tourist value alone would be worth the effort. Reporters from all over the place would show up. A Nebraska caucus, even an unofficial one, would be good for at least a full day of jabber and analysis on CNN, MSNBC and Fox News. Newspapers around the country would carry all manner of comment on the results of the Nebraska vote.

They would speculate on whether the Nebraska vote would influence the Iowa vote, whether the event would bolster Democratic fortunes in Nebraska down the road, and whether Nebraska beef is better than Iowa beef.
You know that the winner would claim that Nebraska is the "true heartland" of America, that it is "Where the West begins," and that the Iowa caucuses have become a media circus and a spending contest.
The Nebraska vote would be "unofficial" because the Democratic Party won't endorse it. The vote wouldn't be binding on state delegates to the national convention.

Powers had an appropriate response when he noted that a caucus in Nebraska would annoy the Democratic National Committee to no end:
"Who cares?"
Well, no one with any knowledge of how the national machinery (for either party) looks at Nebraska. Republicans understandably take Nebraska for granted. Democrats write it off.

This reality is understandable. The Nebraska primaries are held in May. By May, the whole presidential nominating deal is virtually over. Why would a candidate come to Nebraska? Not many delegates to be had.
The fact that Democratic presidential candidates came to Nebraska might even bring a Republican candidate around later in the year. (Okay. It might prompt President Bush to do a fly-in and an airport rally.)
Why not?

Main Street Focus

I hope you caught the headline in the Wayne Herald last week.
The Main Street Wayne Program end of the year awards were announced at the Nebraska Lied Main Street Annual Fall Conference and Awards Banquet held in Scottsbluff.
Congratulations to our Volunteer of the Year, Amy Schweers, for all the work she has done for Main Street. Our Merchant(s) of the Year are Nana and Cap Peterson for establishing "The Coffee Shoppe on Main" Our Main Street Program also received an Award of Excellence (the state's highest Main Street recognition) for "Best Downtown Image Campaign or Promotional Marketing Piece," that being the "Shuttle."
We received three Honorable Recognition Awards (second highest recognition given) for Best Adaptive Use of a Historic Building - Dr. Votta's Pediatric Choice; Most Creative Fundraising Campaign - our cement chicken auction during Henoween; and Best Special Event - Christmas on the Main (our Parade of Lights, Living Windows, etc.).
Although we received the recognition, the awards are also shared with all the Volunteers who make our program successful and participate in our events, activities, programs and committees. There is a place, reason and mission for the Main Street Wayne Program. We will be here next year, the year after and the year after that... working for the betterment of Wayne.
We are lining up future "Pop and Pretzel Recognition Nights." What are they? It is the Main Street Program's way of honoring those business people who are new, expanded their business or have made a long commitment to the business community of Wayne.
I think too often that we concern ourselves with looking for new businesses for Wayne, that we lose sight of the fact that we must also concentrate our efforts on maintaining what we have and look to help present business people looking to retire, assist in the transfer or transition of their business to NEW ownership.

Wayne is very fortunate to have dedicated service and retail business people.
The next time you are in a Wayne business, a simple "thanks for being here" might be in order.

We had the pleasure to participate in the PEO Scholarship Fundraiser last Monday evening. It was a wonderful evening and fun to see the creative table decorating abilities of the groups and their eight guests. The money raised is for a scholarship to be awarded to a female graduate of Wayne, Wakefield, Laurel or Winside High Schools.
Thank you to everyone who assisted with the Wayne State College Band Day festivities. Wayne High and Wayne State College will be celebrating their Homecomings the week of Sept. 29 through Oct. 4.
The caricature, normally seen with this column, has been retired. The likeness was actually very outdated since I had much more hair and fewer wrinkles. I won't tell you how many years ago that drawing was done. Let me suffice by saying someone in the Oval Office of the White House resigned a couple of days after I had that drawing done.
It's time to wrap up this column and say... until next time.

NEW BEGINNINGS!

This week on Tuesday evening, the chamber sponsored a visit to Wayne by Nebraska State Chamber President Barry Kennedy and Senator Pat Engel as part of the state chamber's Fall Legislative Forum initiative. Barry Kennedy is the top lobbyist for business matters to the government of Nebraska.
For Barry and Pat, this was a chance to meet with Wayne area business leaders and discuss local perspectives on pending legislation at the state level. To our local leaders, this was a great opportunity to update our senator and the state chamber of commerce on what matters to us the most. We haven't had these two gentlemen together in Wayne for a long time, so the meeting was timely and hopefully beneficial for the future. I'd like to publicly thank everyone from Wayne who attended.

Quickly approaching is the chamber sponsored Dale Carnegie program on Tuesday, Oct. 21 that was briefly mentioned in this column a few weeks ago. Dale Salonen, President of Leadership Training Institute, Inc, licensed presenters of Dale Carnegie programs for Nebraska, South

Dakota, and parts of Wyoming and Iowa, will be in Wayne at the Frye conference center at WSC, for a 7-9 a.m. presentation entitled, "Customer Service at It's Best." Everyone for whom customer service is a key to their organization will not want to miss this event which is available to anyone, not just chamber members. Since breakfast is included, pre-registration is a must. Contact our office for a brochure and registration form.

Many organizations send their key associates to Kansas City and other larger communities for programs of this quality; so having a Dale Carnegie program offered locally is a real plus. We hope the entire community will take advantage of this opportunity.
Our next Business After Hours organized by the chamber's special events taskforce will be the third Annual Chili Cook-off to be held this year at the Vets' Club on Friday, Nov. 7. We mention this early because it takes sometimes a few weeks to let those recipes simmer-up and simmer-down depending on one's ability to concoct their favorite version. This is turning out to be a major hit of the fall season; so if you think you have the "best there is", why not put your "best" against the others in this head-to-head competition.
Until next time, remember, if there is anything that the chamber or Wayne Industries can do for you, please call us.

the young cadets were directly involved in operating radar and participated in maximum performance driving, practice patrolling, fingerprinting, stopping distance demonstrations, and etc. They learned about the Nebraska State Patrol's Air Wing Division and some earned a ride on their helicopter.

Topics covered during the week by patrol personnel associated with the training center included drug education, traffic law enforcement, first aid, human relations, and alcohol education. Evening sessions were devoted to defensive driving and other topics.

Wanting to ride along with the state patrol got the ball rolling for Allemand in being part of the Junior Law Cadet program.

"I called the Nebraska State Patrol and asked about job shadowing," Allemand said. "They told me that I had to be 18-years-old before I could do that. It was at that time I was informed about the Junior Law Cadet program."

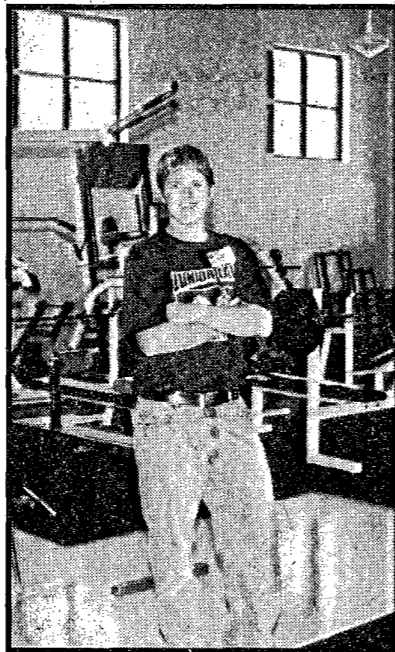

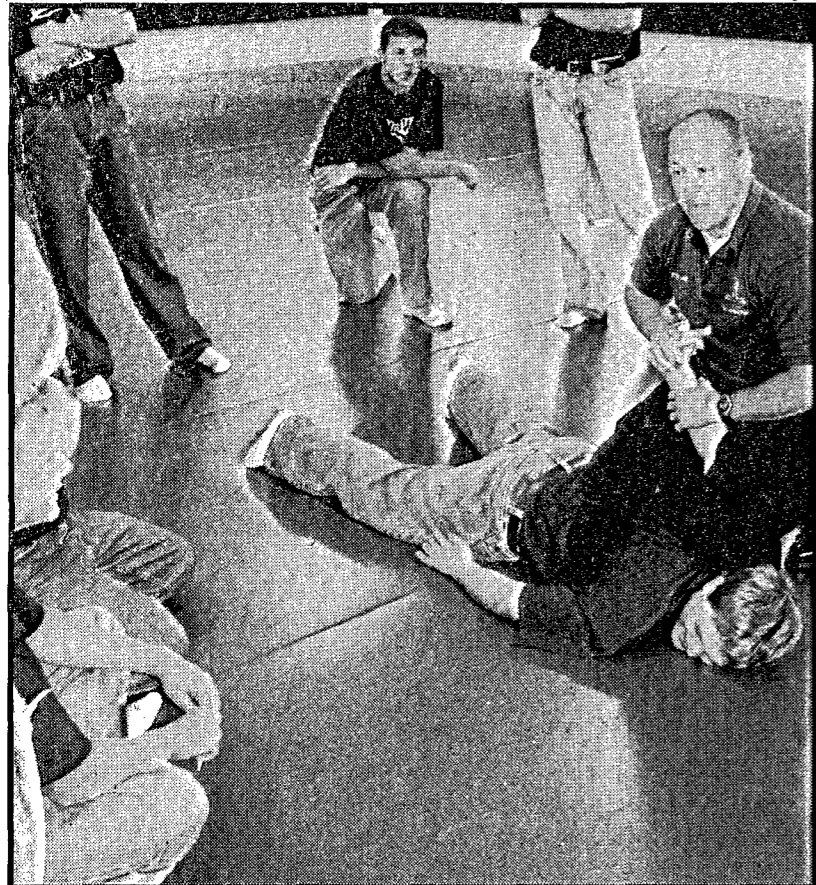

The programs concluded with ceremonies at the State Patrol Training Academy on June 13 for the girls and on June 20 for the boys.

Richard Baxter, commander of the Nebraska American Legion, reported that the program, the first of its kind when developed in Nebraska in 1968, has been adopted in 15 other states through the cooperation of The American Legion and the Nebraska State Patrol.

Allemand feels the program is a good experience and hopes interested students find out about it and are able to take part in it.

Winona State topples Wayne State in NSIC opener

Special teams mistakes resurfaced for the Wayne State football team in Saturday's 38-13 home loss to Winona State in the Northern Sun Conference opener at Cunningham Field in Wayne.

The 11th-ranked Warriors took advantage of a Wayne State interception and two bad punt snaps to gain stellar field position early in the game and never looked back, taking a 28-0 lead in the second quarter.

"For some reason, we manage to find a way to not believe in ourselves," said WSC Head Coach Scott Hoffman. "You can't spot a team as great as Winona a 28-point lead and expect to come back."

Down 28-0 with 5:38 left in the first half, Wayne State put together a 14-play, 78 yard drive to get on the scoreboard with 33 seconds left in the half. Brett Edwards found the endzone from three yards out to make the score 28-7.

Wayne State scored on its first possession of the second half to make the score 28-13. A 13-yard pass from Edwards to Eric Kjar capped an 11 play, 90-yard drive and it appeared that the Wildcats were back in the game.

But Winona State countered with a 10 play, 73 yard drive, resulting in a 25-yard field goal by Steve Opgenorth, to give the Warriors a 31-13 lead after three quarters.

Following a Wayne State interception in the fourth quarter, Winona State would close out the scoring on Kevin Curtin's 25-yard run with 5:20 left in the game to make the final score 38-13.

"After we got down early, I thought we hung in there with them," said Hoffman, commenting on the two long drives that Wayne State put together for scores. "We were moving up and down the field on those guys."

Winona State had 405 yards in total offense to Wayne State's 318.

The Wildcat attack was mainly through the air with 236 yards passing.

Edwards completed 16 of 29 passes for 210 yards with one touchdown and two interceptions.

Josh Hopwood topped all Wildcat receivers with five catches for 76 yards. Kjar followed with four receptions for 51 yards and one score.

Edwards was Wayne State's leading rusher with 58 yards on 18 attempts. Mell Holliday added 53 yards on 15 carries.

Defensively for the Wildcats, linebackers Aaron Rodgers and Bump Christensen and cornerback Fester Huot each collected seven tackles.

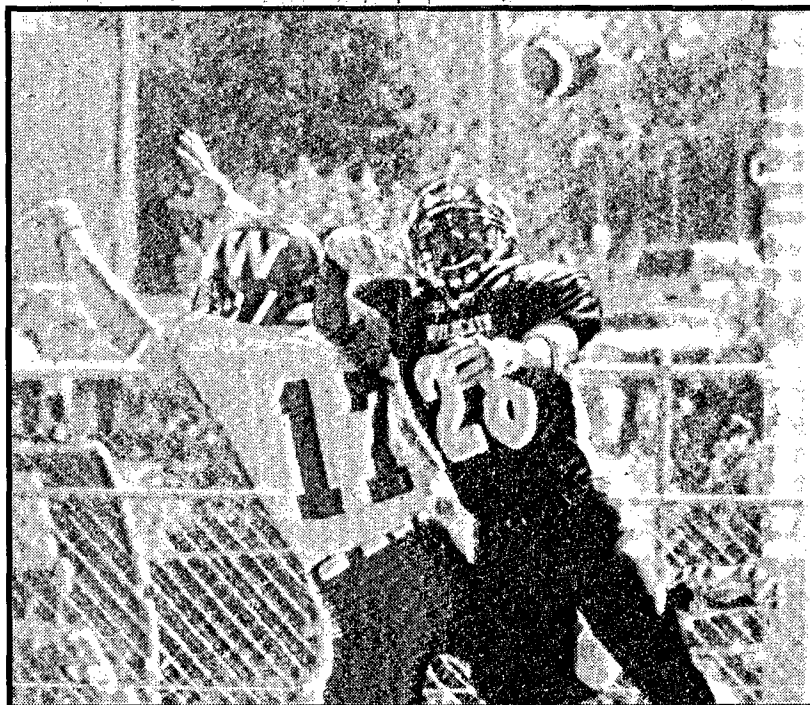

Wayne State falls to 0-3 overall and 0-1 in the NSIC and faces a road challenge at Southwest State on Saturday at 1:30pm.

"Southwest is always a tough place to play," stated Hoffman. "We're expecting them to be ready, but we have to come out focused and intense and not dig ourselves in a hole like we did against Winona."

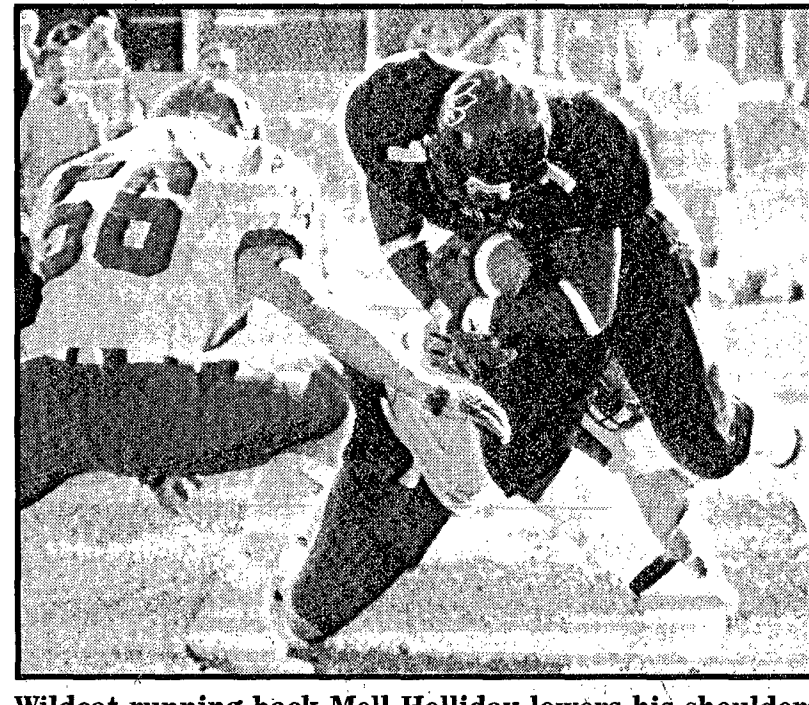

Wayne State defeated Southwest State last year in Wayne 16-13.

WSC women's soccer team nets first win

The Wayne State women's soccer team earned its first win of the season Sunday afternoon with a 6-2 win at St. Tanka University in Huron, S.D.

The 1-6 Wildcats salvaged a split of their weekend road trip after falling to South Dakota State Saturday by a 4-0 score.

"Overall, I thought we played very well in both games," said head coach Rollie Bullock. "The SDSU game was scoreless until the 44th minute and I was pleased with the number of players who scored goals in our win at Huron."

Wayne State scored three goals in each half of Sunday's win at Huron. Amanda Keller and Tanya Mitchell led the way with two goals each while midfielders Nikki Field and Marja St. Martin added one goal apiece.

Field added two assists in the win with Melissa Benson, Sarah James, Kelly Peterson and Andrea Haig each contributing one assist.

The Wildcats held a 13-3 advantage in shots on goal over St. Tanka. Wildcat netminder Erika Mather was credited with one save.

Saturday, South Dakota State broke open a close game with three second-half goals to post a 4-0 win over the Wildcats in Brookings.

Wayne State was held to just two shots in the game, which was played in 40 mph winds. Mather had 12 saves in goal for the Wildcats.

Bullock remarked that his team was learning to possess the ball better and was moving upfield better, but added the team was still allowing too many goals in games.

Wayne State was scheduled to host South Dakota Wednesday afternoon, then travel to Northern State for the NSIC opener on Sunday at 2pm.

Wayne State volleyball falls to Minn-Duluth

Eighth-ranked Minnesota-Duluth swept the Wayne State volleyball team in the Northern Sun Conference opener last Friday evening at Rice Auditorium in Wayne. Scores were 30-21, 30-20 and 30-20.

The visiting Bulldogs jumped out to big leads in all three games against the Wildcats and cruised to the easy win.

"We had letdowns in each game, and you can't do that against teams like Duluth," said head coach Sharon Vanis.

Junior Heather Schuller led the Wildcat attack with eight kills and a team-high 10 digs. Jacey Kuck followed with six kills. Sophomore setter Julie Jacobsen added 22 assists.

Minn-Duluth outlit the Wildcats in the match 350-145.

With the loss, Wayne State falls to 5-9 overall and 0-1 in the NSIC.

Vanis said her team's inconsistency is one reason for the current seven-game losing streak.

"We're not real consistent yet, and in rally scoring that is going to hurt you. Offensively, we're getting it done, but we have to get better at blocking and defense."

Vanis added, "We've played a lot of tough teams lately. If we keep working and improving, I think we will get some wins."

Wayne State travels to Minnesota-State Moorhead Friday and Northern State Saturday, then visits Nebraska-Kearney on Tuesday, Sept. 30. The next home game for the Wildcats is Friday, Oct. 3 against Concordia-St. Paul.

West Point blanks Wayne

The West Point Cadets used a ball control offense to blank Wayne in high school football Friday evening 24-0 in West Point.

The Cadets ran 62 plays to Wayne's 41 and accumulated 371 yards in total offense to just 131 yards for the Blue Devils.

"West Point caught us a little unprepared and had a great offensive night," said head coach Kevin Finkey. "Offensively, even though we came out throwing the ball more, we still did not get the 'O' going."

After a scoreless first quarter, West Point struck for two scores in the second to take a 12-0 halftime lead.

Sean Blocher scored on a one-yard run for the first score, then tossed a 23-yard strike to Steven Brogan for the second touchdown in the quarter.

In the third quarter, Blocher found the endzone on a 66-yard run and Eric Eichelberger scored on a one-yard run to close out the scoring in the game.

Quarterback Nate Finkey completed 8 of 19 passes for 80 yards and one interception. Wade Jarvi was 1 of 3 for eight yards.

Josh Hartwell hauled in four receptions for 49 yards. Matt Roeber added three catches for 28 yards and Dan Heithold had two receptions for 11 yards.

Wayne was limited to just 43 yards rushing in the game. Josh Davis was the leading rusher with 12 yards on two carries. Finkey followed with 10 yards on three attempts.

The Blue Devils had three turnovers in the game while West Point lost one. West Point had 11 penalties for 75 yards with Wayne called for seven penalties and 45 yards.

Defensive statistics from the game were not available.

Coach Finkey stated that some areas of improvement have been identified in practice this week and he expects the team to ready for Friday's game at Plainview. Kickoff is set for 7 pm.

Tekamah-Herman was victorious in the JV game, topping Wayne 6-4. Wayne scored all four of its runs in the fourth inning. Ashley Carroll suffered the loss on the mound, giving up just four hits. Tekamah-Herman took advantage of several errors and walks to help score their six runs.

Top hitters included Hochstein with double while Anderson, Jammer, Sara Frerichs and Pieper each chipped in with singles.

The Wayne JV team is now 3-3 on the season.

Wayne posted four wins at the David City Tournament on Saturday.

The Blue Devils started with an 11-0 win over Yutan-Mead Waterloo.

Hill tossed a no-hitter in the five inning win, striking out 10 batters and not allowing a base runner.

Wayne's 10-hit attack was paced by Robins with two singles and four RBIs. Pieper, Raveling, Ashley Carroll, Hill, Jammer, Hochstein and Samantha Denklauf all added a single in the win.

The next game saw Wayne defeat Logan View by a 4-1 score.

After allowing a base hit to start the game, Hill settled down and held the Raiders without a hit the rest of the game, striking out 15 batters.

Wayne had just three hits in the game. Hill delivered a run-scoring triple in the fourth inning, Raveling produced a two-run single in the fifth and Jensen also singled.

Allen volleyball team takes third at Shickley Tournament

The Allen volleyball team won two out of three matches Saturday to capture third place at the Shickley Invitational.

The Eagles opened the tournament with a 15-10, 15-7 win over Silver Lake, then lost to Class D-2 sixth-ranked Hampton 15-9, 15-11 and finished the tournament with a 15-11, 15-11 win over host Shickley in the third place match.

"The Shickley tournament was a great experience for us, making the girls play a more up-tempo game than we're used to playing," said head coach Denise Hingst. "The girls learned that they can't just get the ball over the net, they need to be aggressive and finish the play no matter who we are playing."

Alycia Stewart, who was named to the All-Tournament Team, had 13 kills, seven digs and four aces serves in the win over Silver Lake. Kelli Rastede added 10 kills, seven digs and two blocks. Samantha Bock had 15 set assists with Diana Didiker adding 13 assists in the win.

In the loss to Hampton, Rastede produced eight kills and five digs. Stewart added a team-high six digs and five kills. Bock accounted for two aces and six assists with Didiker adding six assists.

Rastede's nine kills and four blocks helped the Eagles win the third place match over Shickley. Stewart contributed eight kills and a team-best six digs. Jennifer Keitges led the team in serving with three aces. Bock had 16 set assists with Didiker adding eight.

Allen needed three games to topple Emerson-Hubbard in a Lewis and Clark Conference match last Thursday in Emerson, 15-13, 7-15 and 15-3.

Coach Hingst said her team had a tough time getting into the match with the Pirates.

"We thought we could just hit the ball over and get the point," she said. "Emerson rallied every play and made us work for every point. The girls were able to get their offense rolling in the third set and worked hard on defense to get the win."

Stewart pounded down 13 kills in the win over Emerson-Hubbard. Rastede followed with nine kills and Keitges had seven. Klemme paced the Eagles defense with a team-high nine digs while Didiker led the team in serving with four aces. Stewart added three. Bock distributed 17 assists with Didiker adding 15.

Allen is 9-4 on the season and will play in the Newcastle Invitational on Monday and Tuesday.

Defensively, Cassidy Neuhalfen recorded 13 tackles, including four sacks for a loss of 29 yards.

Laurel-Concord head coach Mike Halley said he was very pleased with the play of his offensive line.

"We created nice holes, sustained our blocks and got after people," remarked Halley. "We executed well offensively in the first half, yet in the second half lost our focus somewhat and had a few break downs."

Laurel-Concord opened the scoring in the first quarter with a 12-yard pass from Eric Nelson to Jeff Knudsen, giving the Bears a 7-0 lead after the first quarter.

The Bears added two more scores in the second quarter, a 14-yard run by Dickey and a 52-yard gallop by Tony Jacobsen, putting Laurel-Concord up 20-0 at halftime.

Eagles work overtime to stay unbeaten

What looked like an easy win, turned into a disappointing loss, which ended in a dramatic overtime win.

That's what Allen football fans went through Friday evening in their home contest with Wynot.

The Eagles raced out to a 28-6 halftime lead, only to watch the visiting Blue Devils rally in the second half for a 34-28 lead late in the game.

But an Allen touchdown with 14 seconds left in regulation tied the game at 34-34, then the Eagles scored and made a two-point conversion to knock off Wynot 42-40.

"We played a really good first half against a very good team," said head coach Dave Uldrich. "I was amazed at our ability to move the ball in the first half, but a couple of injuries really slowed us down in the second half."

Allen opened the lengthy scoring summary with an eight-yard run by senior quarterback Corey Uldrich to take a 7-0 lead. Following a Wynot score, the Eagles wasted no time in responding as Uldrich connected with Duane Rahn on a 10-yard pass with four seconds left in the first quarter, making the score 15-6 after a two point pass conversion from Uldrich to Scott Blohm.

The Eagles added two more scores in the second quarter as Aaron Smith scored on a two-yard run and Uldrich found Rahn on a three-yard pass to give Allen a commanding 28-6 lead at halftime.

Wynot would score the game's next four touchdowns, including three over a seven minute span of the fourth quarter, to take a 34-28 lead with 1:33 left in the game.

The Eagles then marched down the field for the game-tying drive (nine plays) when Uldrich found Rahn on a five-yard pass play with just 14 seconds remaining to tie the game at 34-34. Uldrich's PAT kick just missed to the left, sending the game into overtime.

In the overtime, Wynot scored on their second play, but failed on the two point conversion.

Allen's overtime possession saw Uldrich scramble four yards to the left corner of the endzone on third down to tie the game at 40-40.

The Eagles then won the game when Uldrich hit Blohm on the two-point pass conversion, making the final score 42-40.

"We did a great job of remaining composed in the final minute when we needed to," added coach Uldrich. "That says a lot about our kids."

Allen had 324 yards of total offense in the game to Wynot's 298. The Eagles rushed for 158 yards with 166 coming through the air.

Uldrich led the Allen rushing attack with 64 yards on 21 carries and two touchdowns. Smith added 49 yards on 10 rushes with one score and Bart Sachau finished with 38 yards on 11 attempts.

Throwing the ball, Uldrich completed 14 of 23 passes for 166 yards and three touchdowns with one interception.

Blohm hauled in seven receptions for 41 yards, Rahn had six catches for 47 yards and three scores with Smith adding six catches for 35 yards.

Defensively, Blohm made 19 tackles for Allen. Rahn chipped in with 17 stops and one interception and Smith accounted for 15 tackles.

The 3-0 Eagles face another tough assignment Friday evening when Coleridge visits Allen.

Wakefield football team runs down Ponca

The Wakefield football team used a potent, balanced rushing attack to down Ponca 18-6 Friday evening in Ponca.

The 2-1 Trojans scored in three of the four quarters to hold off the host Indians, thanks to 131 yards rushing from Luke Hoffman and 106 more from Cory Nicholson.

"We're getting better, but still have not come close to the type of performance we are capable of," stated head coach Justin Smith.

Wakefield scored first on a six-yard pass from Aaron Klein to Taylor Peters, giving the Trojans a 6-0 advantage after one quarter.

Nicholson busted loose for a 79-yard touchdown run in the second quarter to give Wakefield a 12-0 lead at intermission.

Ponca would score in the third quarter on a Wade Taylor nine-yard run to make the score 12-6, but Wakefield countered with a fourth-quarter score, a 14-yard pass from Klein to Kyle Gardner, to make the final margin 18-6.

Wakefield had 337 yards of total offense in the game to Ponca's 199. Hoffman's 131 yards rushing came on 20 carries while Nicholson needed just 12 attempts to gain his 106 yards and one touchdown. Klein added 41 yards on 15 carries.

Throwing the ball, Klein was 7 of 12 for 59 yards with two touchdowns and one interception.

Gardner was the top receiver with two receptions for 30 yards and a touchdown. Peters had two catches for five yards and one score.

Defensively, Hoffman made 15 tackles for Wakefield. Ryan Otte and Klein added 10 tackles each.

Nicki Greve led the Wakefield defense with 10 digs. Jaimy Albrecht chipped in with seven. Gina Dutcher handed out six set assists with Amanda Nelson adding five. Jensen and Sara White had two ace serves each.

Assisted Living Week and Grandparents Day are observed at The Oaks in Wayne

Assisted Living Week and Grandparents Day was observed at The Oaks in Wayne. Forty-five family members joined the residents at the Oaks for their Family Pot Luck.

After eating and visiting, Rich Franchini entertained with a variety of piano tunes. The City Slickers Country Mixers 4-H Club helped with the event by serving and cleaning up.

On that Monday, there was an unusual theme - Apron Day. Independent and assisted residents dug out their aprons and wore them all day. There was a style show and 25 ladies showed off ones they had made or were given to them. Irene Ditman, formerly of Winside, brought her collection from the Winside museum.

Tuesday was "Tie one on Day" - residents had all types of ties and bows - either borrowed or ones they owned. Staff even used their imaginations and had a lot of fun.

Wednesday found residents and staff resurrecting old corsages or making them from the craft box - everyone felt special. Donna Hansen of Wayne brought in beautiful dahlias and asters for the tables - some of the last blossoms of summer.

Hat Day was Thursday and several of the residents had special hats supplied by Irene Ditman from the Winside Museum. Many different types were modeled and memories were shared on when and where hats were worn in the past and present. Berniece Damme even had a hand-made hat.

The week came to a close with a patriotic theme - everyone wore red/white/blue and remembered those who have and are serving our country.

Several residents attended the Oaks' Life's Treasure Show, (which was the theme of the entire week). By the time the hour was over many realized that Life's Treasures were memories and memories of special people, most brought on by an item or gift from someone or of an special occasion.

The day ended with the monthly birthday party; entertainment was by Ray Peterson. Those celebrating this month were Lola Goodsell, Caroline Miner, Evelyn Jerman, Leona Nieman, Adeline Sieger, Roberta Oswald, Emma Eckert, and Burnell Grose.

Wayne Volunteer Fire Department commemorates Fire Prevention Week with tours

This year commemorates the 81st anniversary of the first Fire Prevention Week. Over the years, Fire Prevention Week has reminded us of the importance of preventing fires.

We are reminded, at this time of the year, of the great Chicago fire Oct. 7-9, 1871, that claimed 250 lives and destroyed over 2,150 acres of the city. The Chicago fire started when Mrs. O'Leary's cow kicked over the lantern.

In Wayne, the local fire department commemorates Fire Prevention Week by giving guided tours of the fire hall to preschool and to second graders.

Anyone interested in tours of the fire hall, not only during Fire Prevention Week, but anytime, please call Art Barker at 402-375-1304.

Undergraduates from area participate in fourth year of UCARE Projects at UN-L

Some 300 undergraduates at the University of Nebraska-Lincoln will work one-on-one with faculty mentors this fall as the Undergraduates Creative Activities and Research Experiences program enters its fourth year.

Students in the UCARE program from this area include: Jon Gathje of Wayne is working with Alisa Belflower, faculty sponsor, (School of Music and Department of Theatre Arts) on "Contemporary Vocal Works of Adam Guettel."

Alaina Bupp of Allen, is working with Joy Ritchie (Department of English/Women's Studies) on "Tracing the History of Gender Equity and Women's Studies at UNL."

Amber Talbott of Hoskins, is working with Janet Fox (Southeast Research and Extension Center) on "Legislative Simulation Promotes Youth Public Policy Involvement."

UCARE is an innovative program that enriches the academic experience of undergraduate students at UNL by allowing them to explore a field of particular interest and learn alongside faculty in a creative activity or research area. Students receive a stipend funded by the Pepsi Endowment, created by the contract between the University and the Pepsi-Cola Company, or funded by the university Program of Excellence funds.

Undergraduates apply for the program in mid-February and awards are made in early April. First-year students serve as undergraduate research assistants for their faculty sponsors and earn compensation up to $2,000. Students who continue on for a second year of UCARE funding, still guided by their faculty sponsors, receive up to $2,400, $400 of which helps to offset research expenses.

"Not only does this program allow undergraduates the opportunity to learn and experience what usually has to wait until graduate school, but it also provides them with excellent faculty mentors and relationships that they would never have experienced in the classroom," said UCARE coordinator Laura Damuth. "This program is also helping to attract top-notch students because UNL has become a national leader in offering faculty-guided research and creative activities for undergraduates at a major research university."

Some undergraduate researchers began their work this last summer and others will start this fall; both groups will continue working on their projects through the 2003-04 academic year.

A program description, application forms, and a complete list of projects for 2003-04 can be found on the UCARE Web site (www.unl.edu/ucare). The next full round of UCARE applications will be due Feb. 13 for the following academic year.

research-based educational programs offered through 4-H.

Nebraska 4-H is for all youth ages 8 to 19 and exists in every county in the state. 4-H offers more than 150 projects for youth from all locations and backgrounds.

During the past year, current 4-H'ers have paged for Congress, built sophisticated Web sites and servers, been recognized by Gov. Johanns for community service efforts and had photos featured in a professional calendar.

Thousands more have launched rockets, gone on outdoor adventures, received recognition for their achievements, developed communication and leadership skills and more.

Since 4-H is affiliated with the university, the material used in 4-H projects is from this state's only land-grant institution, which means it's unbiased and research-based. That means being in a 4-H club is like being in a class taught by NU faculty and staff. These women and men work with trained loyal volunteers to offer the program to more than 120,000 youth annually.

4-H encourages families to spend time together, and research shows members develop greater self-confidence, leadership and communication skills through their involvement.

One of the strengths of 4-H is its ability to involve parents in activities with their children. Research shows family involvement in community organizations like 4-H can help children receive higher scores in school and develop stronger family relationships.

Calvary Bible to hold 'Church without Walls'

The Calvary Bible Evangelical Free Church in Wayne will be worshipping this Sunday, Sept. 28 in a church without walls.

The public is invited to join them as they worship together in Bressler Park at 10:30 a.m.

"This is an invitation for the community to join us as we worship the Generous God who enables us to have Overflowing Lives in the middle of His creation," said Pastor Cal Kroeker of Calvary Bible Evangelical Free Church.

Annual Life Chain scheduled for Wayne

The Seventh Annual Life Chain will be held in Wayne on Sunday, Oct. 5 from 2:30 to 3:30 p.m.

The Tri-County Right To Life group is encouraging people from all walks of life to stand on the sidewalks of Wayne to be a pro-life witness.

There are 53 communities in Nebraska planning to participate by praying and holding signs that read "Abortion Kill Children," "Adoption: The Loving Option" and "Jesus Forgives and Heals." They hope to inform people of the truth that abortion is the taking of a human life. Many do not realize that by the sixth week of pregnancy brain waves are detectable and every organ is in place by the eighth week.

Over 300 babies are killed every month in Nebraska by induced abortion.

Anyone interested in joining this peaceful, pro-life stand can pick up a sign at D&N Phillips 66 on the southwest corner of Seventh and Main Streets in Wayne by 2:15 p.m.

For more information, call (402) 287-2161 or 375-4552.

Agriculture

Thinking about Mara, marriage and more

The first time I laid eyes on the Big Farmer, I was with one of his fraternity brothers at a little party.

Mike was dancing with a beautiful blonde. (He still likes blondes!) Mara was lovely, with a creamy complexion, a huge smile, a good figure, a pleasant personality. All that, and a husky voice with a Latvian accent. And, in those days, there were no dumb blond jokes; besides, she was smart.

Mara dated several guys in AGS but I think she was a "climber." She finally married an attorney, and they still live in Lincoln. Mutual friends assure me she has aged well, and still looks good. Of course, she hasn't had any children!

Meanwhile, I stopped dating the brother and eventually hooked up with Mike. We married, moved to the farm northeast of Hoskins, started raising kids and cows, not necessarily in that order. We were in "production agriculture."

As regular readers know, it wasn't always easy. There was snow, and mud, stuck tractors, sick calves, pigs out, broken water pumps, and lots of beans to walk. I even picked a few rows of corn by hand one year when the snow came early.

Many times, while cooking a meal for a couple of hired men, with children underfoot, and laundry waiting (in a wringer washer), I would say, "I wish Mara was here." Mike would just smile and shrug.

I hadn't said that for a long

By: Pat Meierhenry

time: until about a month ago, on a steamy morning, mowing weeds around the spruce trees. I suddenly blurted it out, "I sure wish Mara was here!"

I told the "brothers" that tale at the reunion last weekend. And we all laughed. Most of our friends were still married to the same person they had chosen then. Some will soon celebrate 50 years.

But, honey, if you are reading this; I'm really very glad it wasn't Mara who said "I do" to you 43 years ago. She missed all the fun, too. Happy anniversary. I love you!

As for why there wasn't a column last week, last Monday, the 15th, I scurried around all day.

The next day was FULL! And, we had two couples coming for two nights on Tuesday afternoon. Neither of us would be here when they arrived. Hence, everything had to be done on Monday. In the back of my mind, I kept reminding myself, "You also have a column due tomorrow."

On Tuesday, I left the house at 7:15 for Lincoln. First item, advisory committee for the nursing program at Southeast Community College. About 9:30, in that meeting, I thought; you didn't write the column. I began hand-writing it on the back of the agenda.

As soon as that meeting ended, I was scheduled to speak to the senior gerontology students regarding Hospice. After that, there was an End of Life coalition luncheon at a church downtown. There, I finished the article.

Then, I drove madly to Lincoln General, where I had the annual mammogram scheduled at 1:15. I just made it. I asked at the information desk for a fax machine. They suggested the one on seventh floor in the volunteer office. But the girls behind the desk in radiology said I could use theirs. I did, but by then it was 1:30. I didn't make the deadline.

And the day wasn't over. I visited my Mom for a couple of hours, and ended up the guest presenter at a Toastmaster's club in northeast Lincoln, arriving home by 7:30. So, now, I don't have to write this week. Lynn already has the one about Mara. Enjoy.

Motorists urged to use caution on rural highways

Collisions between farm machinery and vehicles on rural highways are a serious problem in many states.

Based on crash data compiled from various states, the collision rate may average nearly one per day. The fall harvest season is particularly risky as farmers are moving wagons loaded with harvested grain and harvesting machinery on the same highways as tourists and other highway users viewing the fall colors.

Using well-maintained SMV (slow-moving vehicle) emblems and appropriate lighting on farm equipment can prevent collisions, according to Dr. Tom Bean of the Ohio State University. Unfortunately, operators don't always understand the rapid closure rate when their car or truck is approaching a farm tractor or implement that may only be moving 10 mph or less.

Del Hemsath
Extension Educator

The National Safety Council recommends using extra care when driving on rural highways at any time of the year. Never assume that the farm tractor operator is going to continue down the highway. The tractor operator may not be able to clearly see drivers approaching from the rear and may be turning into a field or obscure farm lane. Be prepared for evasive actions when attempting to pass.

This week is National Farm Safety week. Take extra care not only this week, but every time farm machinery is operated on the roads or in the fields.

There have been 18 people killed in Nebraska in 2003 through August that were considered farm related. Don't become a needless statistic.

Area 4-H'ers and leaders to be honored on Oct. 5

URBAN CONSERVATION

Even though most of Nebraska's residents live in cities and towns, they are never far removed from the state's natural resources.

Conservation is just as important in cities as in rural areas. The activities of city dwellers have a major impact on water and soil; activities like construction, tending lawns and gardens, maintaining motor vehicles and use of hazardous chemicals, as well as solid waste disposal.

NRDs respond to these needs by focusing resources and programs toward urban problems and issues. They include urban forestry, flood control, stream bank erosion, recreation and education. Public information and education efforts take the conservation message to a broad audience, including urban and rural residents.

School outreach programs help teach children about the importance of conserving natural resources and ways they can contribute to a safe, clean environment. Elementary students attend water and natural resources festivals across the state, while older students benefit from outdoor classroom developments, contests for land, range and soil judging and other activities.

Many districts help teachers develop the tools to pass the conservation message on to the next generation. Districts assist universities and colleges in developing natural resources efforts.

Workshops for farmers and urban landowners provide practical information on a variety of ways to care for natural resources.

Wayne Eagles Auxiliary welcomes new members

The Wayne Auxiliary Met Sept. 8, led by President Cec Vandernick. Sister Jan Gamble was given her charm for getting a new member, Jeannette Frazer.

The auxiliary also initiated three new sisters, Jeannette Frazer, Tanya Urbanic, and Carol Bauermeister. The club welcomed these new ladies.

Madam President Vandernick mentioned that the West Central Conference was to be held in Fremont on Sept. 19, 20 and 21, and the district meeting is being held in Fullerton on the 28th of this month.

President Vandernick also mentioned that pool will be starting shortly. The Pool league will begin on Oct. 2. The Elmer Bargholz pool tourney that was held earlier in the month was a success and was won by the men's newest member, Scott Brummond.

Members of the Auxiliary will be attending the PEO dinner. Those attending will be able to decorate the table in honor of this year's theme, "Surf the Sea, for the FOE!"

Money was donated by both the Auxiliary and Aerie for MD through the humanitarian projects. An area youth, Zachary Jorgensen, is affected by MD, and was able to attend a camp near Omaha for four days thanks to area clubs defraying the cost for him to attend.

It was decided that the Auxiliary and Aerie would become sponsors of the Wayne Area Red Cross, with $125 given from the Auxiliary as well as the Aerie to assist local persons who maybe struck with tragedy.

A $1000 grant along with additional money raised will be given to Laura Gamble, president of the Wayne Education Boosters to assist the fund raising of the new playground at the elementary school. Both Vandernick and Melena will present Gamble with check sometime later this month.

The St. Judes Bike a thon will be held Tuesday, Sept. 30 at Henry Victor Park. Pledge sheets can be obtained at the club and by contacting Jan Gamble. Further information on the event will be in the newspaper. There will be no steak fry in October. The next meeting was scheduled for Sept. 22 with Doris Gilliland serving.

Chautauqua towns needed for 2004-05

The Nebraska Humanities Council (NHC) is looking for Nebraska communities who want to host the popular Great Plains Chautauqua in 2004 or 2005.

This five-day summer event is a unique educational and entertainment experience that builds community, enhances cultural tourism and inspires interest in our own heritage.

The regional 2004-05 Chautauqua reprises the theme "From Sea to Shining Sea," which focuses on the period 1790-1850, including the Lewis and Clark Expedition, the opening of the West and encounter with native peoples. Every summer, a group of humanities scholars tours with the Great Plains Chautauqua, portraying historical characters and putting historical events in perspective.

Among the scholars and the characters they portray in the current Chautauqua are Jeffrey Smith as William Clark, mapmaker and co-leader of the Corps of

Discovery; Charles Everett Pace as York, a slave and the only African-

NEBRASKA HUMANITIES COUNCIL

American member of the corps; and Selene Phillips as Sacagawea, a Shoshone Indian and the only woman on the expedition.

Other scholars include Kris Runberg Smith as Dolley Madison, the First Lady for 16 years and the most important woman in American social circles for 50 years; Jerome Kills Small as Tecumseh, the Shawnee leader who worked for an independent Indian territory; and Jerome Tweton as John Jacob Astor, who was the richest man in America at his death in 1848.

In choosing Chautauqua communities, the NHC strives for geographical diversity. This year the Great Plains Chautauqua visited Plattsmouth. Neligh already has been selected as a host community in 2004 and Lexington in 2005, but additional communities will be chosen. The regional Great Plains Chautauqua also makes stops in North Dakota, South Dakota, Kansas and Oklahoma.

If anyone in the community is interested or would like more information, contact NHC Associate Director Peter Beeson at (402) 474-2131, ext. 104 or at peter@nebraskahumanities.org.

For more details on the Great Plains Chautauqua, visit the NHC website at www.nebraskahumanities.org.

The deadline for applications is Oct. 15.

ALLEN COMMUNITY CLUB

The Allen Community Club met on Sept. 15 at the Village Inn for its monthly meeting. President Mary Johnson called the meeting to order with a thank you to those volunteer workers at the fair barbeque and August Community potluck. The secretary and treasurer's reports were read and approved. A thank you for the band was read.

Because of the condition of the Christmas family stars, the possibility of making new stars or other Christmas shapes was discussed. The Community Club and Dixon County Historical Society discussed the possibility of co-sponsoring an event commemorating the caboose and railroad in Allen. Further plans will be made at the next meeting.

Children at Head Start in Wayne learn about health and germs

On Sept. 16 at Head Start in Wayne, the theme of the week was "Healthy Me." Activities included talking about ways to keep healthy (like catching sneezes and washing hands).

Kevin Harm APRN of Wayne Convenient Clinic, came to talk to the class about germs. He told them about the invisible germs we miss when we wash. He put a special lotion on their hands. When they tried to wash it off and then went into a dark room, they could see the germs that they missed.

The same day, the children had friends from Karen Schardt's Child Development Class in Laurel-Concord Public Schools. The students read a germ book to the children then played with them until it was time for them to head back to class.
