R-Way adds staff, strives to serve

By Clara Osten
Of the Herald
A new staff member, Naomi Smith, LMHP, has recently joined the staff at the Community Mental Health and Wellness Center in Wayne. Smith is a Licensed Mental Health Practitioner and a Certified Alcohol and Drug Abuse Counselor. She will be in the office every other Friday and will work with the court system on alcohol evaluations. She joins Dr. Mohammad Shoib and Laticia Sumner, LMHP. Marriage, family and children's counseling is available.

R-Way has been a part of the Wayne community since 1989 and provides services to individuals who live in all of Region IV. This area extends from South Sioux City to Ainsworth; from the South Dakota border to as far south as Columbus. At the present time a legislative bill, LB724, is seeking to reform the state's behavioral health system and discussion has surfaced on the possibility of closing some of the regional centers throughout the state. "We are proud of the outpatient role our agency has provided to the behavioral health system but we can't do what we do without the Norfolk Regional Center," said Jeannia Bressler, Director of R-Way. "We feel this is same type of situation as a physical condition. If you have a cold, you go to a clinic, but if you need surgery, you go to a hospital," Mrs. Bressler said. "We (R-Way) work with consumers who are "in remission." We provide services for them when they are mentally healthy, but we need the regional center for the times when they need acute treatment," she said. She noted that the trend is toward having regional medical specialized services close to home. It should be the same for behavioral health specialized services. If the Norfolk Regional Center closed, those who are served by R-Way would have to go to Omaha or Lincoln for treatment. "Outpatient services cannot pick up the entire load if the other component of the equation is two to three hours away. The Norfolk Regional Center does an excellent job of getting consumers ready for community based ser-

Track projects to be dedicated

Two track projects, one at Wayne Public Schools and the other at Wayne State College, will be dedicated this weekend.

The Kern Track will be dedicated on Saturday, Oct. 4, beginning at 11 a.m. The track just south of Wayne Elementary School, has been named the Kern Track, following a sizeable donation by Dennis Kern earlier this year.

The event will begin with a welcome by Tim Sharer and the playing of the national anthem.

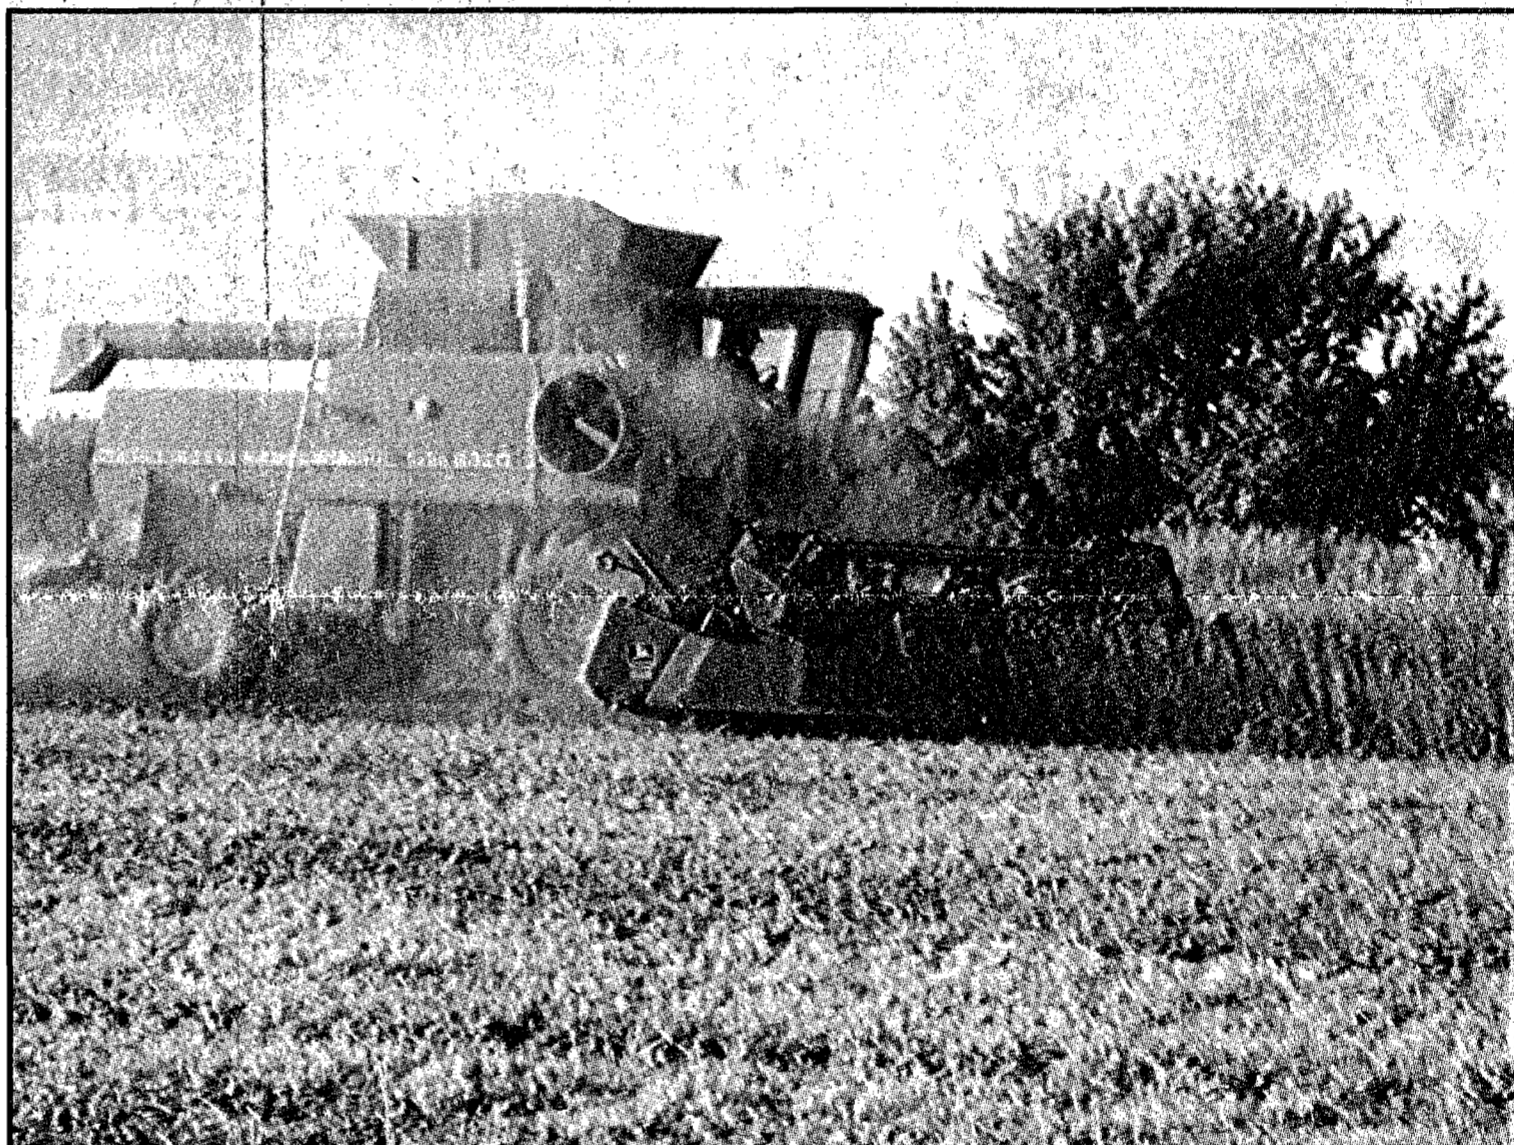

Greetings will be given by the Sheryl Lindau, Mayor of Wayne and President of the Board of Trustees Wayne State College; Dr. Joe Reinert, Superintendent of Wayne Public Schools and Rocky Ruhl, Assistant Principal and Director of Athletics.

Introduction of the Dennis Kern family will be made by Ken Dahl, a member of the Wayne Public School Foundation. The family will be presented a plaque and the sign in front of the track will be unveiled.

Also during the ceremony, the class of 1958, of which Dennis Kern was a member, will be recognized. The class is planning a reunion in Wayne this weekend.

The members of the Wayne Public School Foundation, Wayne Board of Education and all other track project donors present will be recognized. The

Taking advantage of good weather

Area farmers are busy bringing in the harvest during the nice weather lately. Some crops are ready to combine while others could use a hard freeze. Several nights dipping temperatures have ended the growing season for many gardens.

Party held to welcome home soldier

By Dianne Jaeger
Winside correspondent

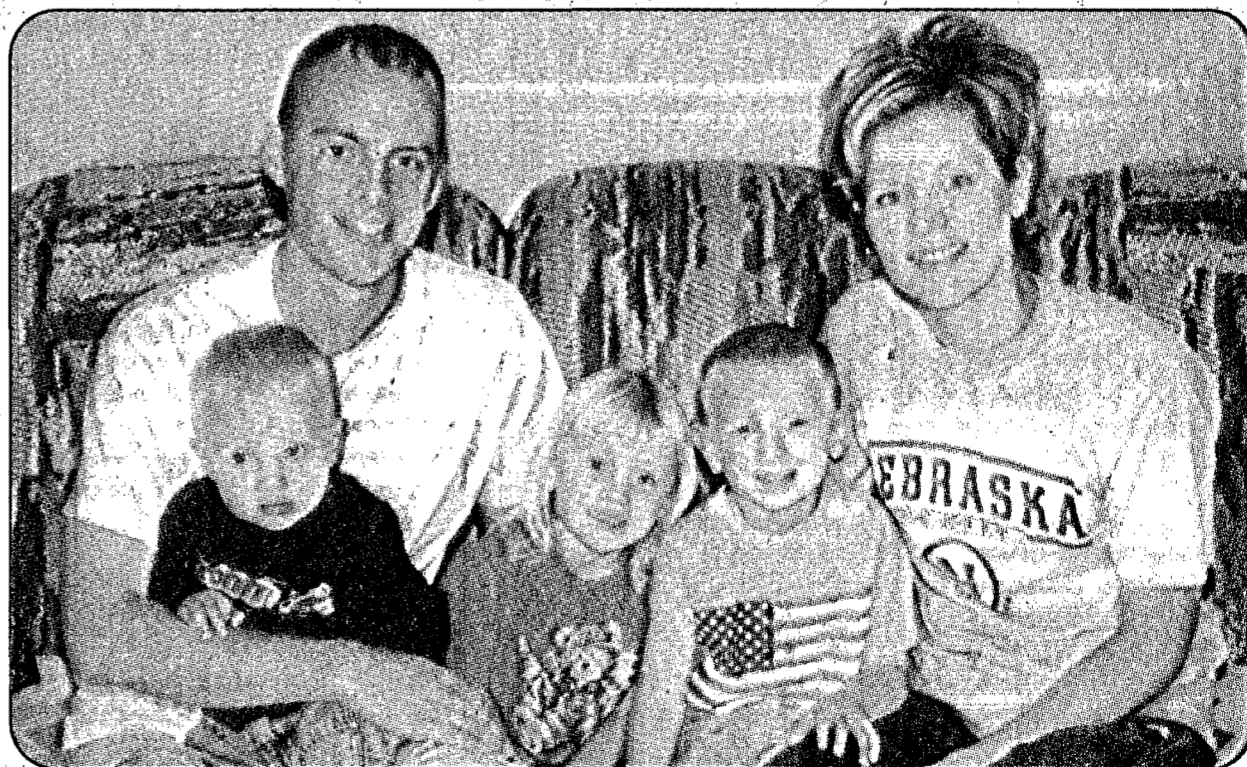

Joe and Janice Mundil of Winside hosted a welcome home open house supper on Sept. 20 for their son-in-law, Cpl. Dan Lilienkamp. Dan returned to the United States on Sept. 11 after a four-month tour of duty in Iraq.

Dan, wife Christi and their family have been stationed at Ft. Riley, Kan., since October of 2002. Dan is a member of the U.S. First Army Division, 3rd Brigade, 70th Combat Engineers "Old Ironsides."

"Our unit arrived in Kuwait on April 28, 2003," Lilienkamp said. "Part of our division is stationed in Germany so with them and us from the United States, there were about 10,000 new arrivals." "We spent about two weeks at Camp Pennsylvania in the Kuwait desert, then convoyed to Baghdad in a straight 48-hour period. It was too dangerous for us to stop along the way but we were fortunate not to have taken on any fire."

Lilienkamp's group spent the first night in Baghdad at the airport getting oriented before departing to the northwestern part of town called Abu-Gharib. There they occupied a huge compound

TRUST Coalition conducting community pilot project

Members of the TRUST Coalition in Wayne hope that their efforts in a pilot project result in an increased awareness among city residents and Wayne State College students about being good neighbors and making responsible decisions.

The TRUST Coalition, which stands for Toward Responsible Use of Substances Today, is a campus-community organization created in 2001 to address the issues of alcohol use among young people, particularly college students.

The TRUST Coalition works to change the high-risk drinking environment through the work of four committees—Education and Information, Neighborhood Relations, Policy and Enforcement, and Social Environment," said Kathy Mohlfeld, WSC counselor and coalition chairperson. "It is the mission of the TRUST Coalition to reduce problems related to alcohol and drug abuse through leadership and policy development, information dissemination and program innovation."

One of the pilot projects the TRUST Coalition is undertaking this fall is the distribution of informational door tags in the community.

These contain messages about being a good neighbor and also information about the consequences of violating liquor laws and disturbing the peace ordinances.

"The intent of the door tags is to encourage neighbors to introduce themselves to one another and to address any potential concerns about parking, late-night noise, parties, etc.," Mohlfeld said. "The first set of door tags were distributed on Sept. 17. The goal that day was to distribute them across the entire town, but the supply ran out before all neighborhoods were reached."

The second set of door tags will be distributed on Oct. 8. Both sets have already been distributed in the Wayne State residence halls."

"The TRUST Coalition includes representatives of a number of organizations in the Wayne community and Wayne State College. It is coordinated through the Wayne State College Counseling Center."

"The TRUST Coalition invites the participation of more students, community members, business owners, staff and faculty," said Mohlfeld.

For more information, contact the WSC Counseling Center, located in Room 103 of the WSC Student Center. The telephone number is 375-7321.

Disaster drill provides valuable experience

The scene may have appeared scary and all too realistic to anyone passing by Sept. 23, but that is how it was supposed to be. The Winside Volunteer Fire and Rescue Squad hosted a mutual aid simulated disaster drill northwest of Winside at 6:30 p.m.

The drill scene included a two-vehicle collision between a pickup truck full of teenagers and a car with five more teens at a county road intersection. The pickup overturned throwing many of the teens who had been riding in the back and also pinning others under it. The car landed nose first in a deep embankment with four victims trapped inside and one thrown out.

To complicate the situation, a four-wheeler with curious spectators racing to the accident scene, overturned and created two more victims.

The 15 individuals playing the victims were made up in realistic moulage that included abrasions, lacerations, burns, broken bones, amputations, shock and internal injuries.

"A drill such as this gives participating squad members practice in handling multiple injured victims at the same time, accessing the situation, stabilizing patients until the back ups arrive, extricating individuals and transporting them," said Sandra Atkins, EMT and Instructor with Winside Rescue Unit.

Involved in this practice besides the Winside Rescue Unit, were the Hoskins/Woodland Park and Carroll Volunteer rescue squads; Wayne Providence Medical Center ambulance service; the Life Net Helicopter out of Norfolk and the Wayne County Sheriff's Department.

The victims in the drill were employees of Providence Medical Center or friends or family of employees as well as of Hoskins and Winside EMT's. Others assisting with the drill and moulage make up were Gary Hastings, Northeast EMS/CISM Specialist from West Point; Jodie Thompson of Laurel; Carrie Fertig of Wayne; and Becky Lange of Hoskins.

Coordinators for the drill were Winside squad members Don Skokan, Ver Neal Marotz, Sandra Atkins, and Ronnie Prince. Assisting from Carroll was Rick Davis; Becky Lange from Hoskins; and Denny Spangler of the Wayne Providence Ambulance Service.

Drills such as these are usually performed every two years.

Crews from several area rescue departments and EMT units (above) were on hand northwest of Winside at the scene of the 'accident' last week. Below, the victims were transported to Providence Medical Center by ambulance where they were treated as part of the disaster drill. Following the drill, those involved met at Providence Medical Center or the Winside Fire Hall for follow-up discussion regarding the drill.

Members of the Carroll Volunteer Fire and Rescue Department transport a 'victim' to the rescue unit during the training drill last week.

Things a Southerner would never say...

Being southern born and southern bred, I have the right, as well as everyone else, to make fun of my heritage. In fact the urge is so strong sometimes its hard not to bust out laughing at the strange things that come out when speaking southerness.

Jimmy Jo's Jams
By: James Shanks

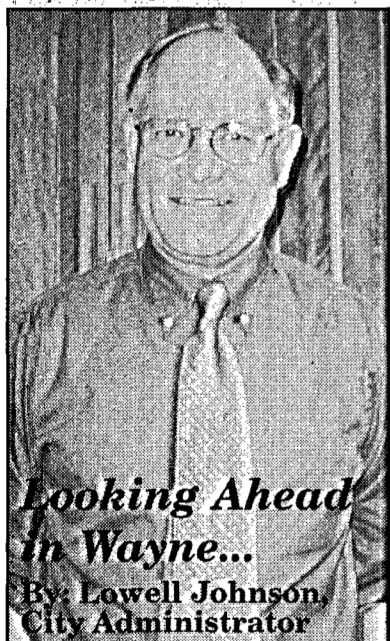

Feelings are strong too. I remember my great grandmother on my mother's side saying to this day, the south shall rise again. She believed that to the day she died. Of course that was 40 years ago, and she was born the year the south surrendered to the north at Appomatox, Va.

But the things that we say still amaze me. Here are 40 things you will never hear a southerner say, at least in public.

- 40.) "Oh I just couldn't, hell, she's only sixteen."
- 39.) "I'll take Shakespeare for 1000, Alex"
- 38.) Duct tape won't fix that.
- 37.) Lisa Marie was lucky to catch Michael.
- 36.) Come to think of it, I'll have a Heineken.
- 35.) We don't keep firearms in this house.
- 34.) Has anybody seen the sideburns trimmer?
- 33.) You can't feed that to the dog.
- 32.) I thought Graceland was tacky.
- 31.) No kids in the back of the pickup, it's just not safe.
- 30.) Wrasslin's fake.
- 29.) Honey, did you mail that donation to Greenpeace?
- 28.) We're vegetarians.
- 27.) Do you think my gut is too big?
- 26.) I'll have grapefruit and grapes instead of biscuits and gravy.
- 25.) Honey, we don't need another dog.
- 24.) Who's Richard Petty?
- 23.) Give me the small bag of pork rinds.
- 22.) Too many deer heads detract from the decor.
- 21.) Spittin is such a nasty habit.
- 20.) I just couldn't find a thing at Wal-Mart today.
- 19.) Trim the fat off that steak.
- 18.) Cappuccino tastes better than espresso.
- 17.) The tires on that truck are too big.
- 16.) I'll have the arugula and radicchio salad.
- 15.) I've got it all on the C drive.
- 14.) Unsweetened tea tastes better.
- 13.) Would you like your fish poached or broiled?
- 12.) My fiancée, Bobbie Jo, is registered at Tiffany's.
- 11.) I've got two cases of Zima for the Super Bowl.
- 10.) Little Debbie snack cakes have too many fat grams.
- 9.) Checkmate.
- 8.) She's too young to be wearing a bikini.
- 7.) Does the salad bar have bean sprouts?
- 6.) Hey, here's an episode of "Hee Haw" that we haven't seen.
- 5.) I don't have a favorite college team.
- 4.) Be sure to bring my salad dressing on the side.
- 3.) I believe you cooked those green beans too long.
- 2.) Those shorts ought to be a little longer, Darla.
- 1.) Nope, no more for me. I'm drivin tonight.

Looking Ahead in Wayne...
By: Lowell Johnson, City Administrator

p.m. when the council will meet in regular session in the city council room at 306 Pearl Street.

Reminder: Keep your November Utility bill

Your November utility bill is your ticket during the next 12 months for two free dumps of a pickup size or less of furniture, appliances, scrap iron, tires, batteries, old lumber (but not regular garbage, construction waste or shingles) at the Transfer Station.

Utility Bill Comparisons II

After we presented the billing comparisons in the Herald two weeks ago, we had more questions.

- 1) What months does the city charge winter electric rates? The eight months from October through May are billed at the lower electric rate because our wholesale costs of power are less during these months.

2) What months are billed at summer rates? June, July, August and September are billed at higher rates because of the peak demand charges that NPPD bills for high usage.

3) Did the rates quoted include the discount? No. The city electric rates quoted last week were $85.55 for one month's bill for a residence using 1,000 KWH of electricity in the summer at summer rate and $72.71 for 1,000 KWH of electricity at winter rate. Only about 10 percent of Wayne residents pay the full rate. The other 90 percent receive the 10 percent discount by paying within 10 days and that drops the above bill amounts to $77.77 in summer and $66.10 in winter. The water and sewer bills are also discounted if paid within 10 days of receipt.

For more details on utility billing, call the Wayne billing office at 375-1733 and ask for Darci or Melodie.

Community Activity Center Membership

For those just joining or renewing memberships, you can call the Wayne billing office and have the cost of the membership placed on your Wayne utility bill in 12 equal payments.

Taking a look at the Guard situation

By Ed Howard
Statehouse Correspondent
The Nebraska Press Association

Congress has begun to express concern about the overuse of National Guard and Army Reserve troops in Iraq and Afghanistan.

You can bet that a lot more governors and state legislatures will chime in as time goes on - especially when it comes to the National Guard.

It is usually a governor, rather than a president, whose job it is to "call out the Guard."

A flood. A tornado. A blizzard big enough to swallow SUVs and tractors. Any number of natural or manmade disasters can prompt the state's chief executive to send Guard troops into a community. They toss sand bags to hold back rivers and they patrol streets to prevent looting. They direct traffic. They deliver groceries. They rescue people from all manner of danger and unpleasantness.

A president can federalize Guard troops. Once that's done they can be sent into foreign wars, or sent to Little Rock, Ark., to maintain the peace while schools are integrated.

When America filled the ranks of its military with draftees, the folks in the National Guard weren't likely to see duty overseas except in cases of the "big ones," like Korea and Vietnam.

Until recently it didn't occur to many Guard volunteers that they might spend more than a year in Iraq, trying to win and keep the peace while trying to avoid being blown to pieces. Regular training and middle-of-the-night calls to duty on the streets and riverbanks of Nebraska were distinct possibilities for Guardsmen around the nation. But doing time in the desert, without a sure and certain end in sight? That wasn't considered part of the deal.

Officials in the Bush administration have said that they thought international troops would be available by now to help in Iraq. Lots of folk in Congress - Republicans and Democrats - are curious as to how they got that idea. That's another story.

This story has do with growing concerns that lengthy and dangerous overseas tours will deplete the ranks of the Guard and, perhaps even worse, make it far harder to recruit new troops. Guard and Army Reserve officials have acknowledged that the situation in Iraq has already put a dent in recruiting and retention efforts.

That's why Congress is taking a hard look at the situation.

Most of those elected souls in the House and Senate are leery of doing anything that could be seen as less than supportive of our involvement in Iraq. For at least three decades presidents in both parties have fine-tuned a gambit that has worked exceedingly well.

Whenever tough questions start popping up, some administration type will glare into the cameras and say: "Well, if you really supported our troops you wouldn't be asking any questions! So, there!"

When it comes to the Guard, however, it appears that neither Congress nor some governors are inclined to be backed off. The Guard often plays an important role at home, and the elected officials closest to home don't want to see Guard ranks badly depleted to serve foreign policy over the long haul.

NEW BEGINNINGS!

I'd like to welcome our two newest members to the chamber: Grace Lutheran Church and 1st Staff Training and Development (Omaha). We pledge our full support to these organizations and wish them both all the success they deserve for the rest of 2003 and into the next year.

October will be a pretty busy month with either executing or planning several activities that benefit directly or indirectly our investors and the business community of the Wayne area. In October we have the chamber board planning retreat with the same for Wayne Industries (WI) coming in November during which major goals and objectives are established for 2004.

This month, Wayne Industries conducts its annual meeting for the entire membership on the 13th on the campus of Wayne State College. WI members should expect to receive their official invitations in the mail this week or early next week. The chamber-sponsored Dale Carnegie program module, "Customer Service at It's Best" will

By: Bill Triick
Wayne Chamber Executive Director

be presented on Oct. 21 at the Frye Conference Center and is available to everyone. Advanced reservations are required.

Except for the Fridays after Thanksgiving and Christmas, there will be a chamber coffee every week for the business community to network and hold informal discussions. While every Friday for the rest of this year is already reserved, please call the office to make sure you are covered in 2004 as a coffee host.

The last Business After Hours of the year, the Third Annual Chili Cook Off, is slated for Friday, Nov. 7 at the Vet's Club and is open to the public either for entering a favorite chili recipe or for enjoying the selections and the entertainment—your hometown colleagues.

Chicken Show collectibles are now on sale—earlier than last year. You can get a 2003 T-shirt for only $12 (formerly $18), a 2001 T-shirt for only $5, and any of the other collectibles at reduced prices. What great stocking stuffers these represent, or maybe simply as a surprise unique gift. See these items and make your selections early while supplies last, as they say.

The board recently made a decision to form a new taskforce (what we used to call council or committee) entitled Highway 15. As most people in the Wayne area are aware, Main Street (or state highway 15) from about First to Seventh is scheduled for upgrading in 2006. Since many of our members have businesses in this construction zone and will be directly affected by this project, our board decided to put into place a special taskforce to monitor and interact with this project as it effects our community. Even businesses beyond those most directly effected by this will still be impacted in our opinion.

It is for this reason that the chamber feels a city, state, and business partnership could smooth the transition during this challenging time. If any chamber member would like to serve on or with this special chamber taskforce, they should contact any member of the board or contact me at the chamber at any time. We expect to have an initial informational meeting in the next few weeks.

Until next time, remember, if there is anything that the chamber or Wayne Industries can do for you, please call us.

Special presentation

Letters Welcome

Letters from readers are welcome. They should be timely, brief (no longer than one type-written page, double spaced) and must contain no libelous statements. We reserve the right to edit or reject any letter. The Wayne Herald editorial staff writes all headlines.

Track

Wayne High School fight song will be played. Following the ceremony at the track, a reception will be held at the Wayne Middle School and the class of 1958 will take a tour of Wayne.

At Wayne State College, one of the most welcomed renovation and expansion projects on the Wayne State College campus is the completion of the stadium entrance plaza and the resurfacing of the Wayne State track.

These projects will be dedicated at half-time of the Wayne State/Northern State football game on Saturday, Oct. 4, bringing the "All About Students" fund-raising campaign to a successful conclusion.

The Bebee Plaza is named in honor of Tim and Leslie (Gardner) Bebee of Wakefield, long-time generous supporters of Wayne State College. The Bebees served as co-chairs of the Wayne State Foundation's "All About Students" campaign which has raised nearly $8 million.

The plaza includes a benched seating area, three ticketing stations, accessible rest rooms and entrance to the stadium.

The new track has eight lanes with a polyurethane surface, making it possible to once again host home track meets, not possible since 1998. The track project also includes a high jump apron, long jump/ triple jump runway, pole vault runway, steeple chase pit and handicap accessible seating in the stadium. The total amount of the track/ entrance plaza project was $1.4 million.

"This new campus facelift would not have been possible without the Bebees' generous financial gift and leadership as co-chairpersons," said Curt Frye, WSC interim president. "We are very appreciative of their commitment and support, as well as that of athletic director Todd Barry and the Anchor Committee, as well as other individuals and groups who worked hard over the past few years to make this project a reality."

which had previously been used by Saddam's military as a repair factory. The compound was completely surrounded by 18 feet high concrete walls.

They had to clean out the building of all the Iraqi equipment and parts so they could set up their own trucks and tanks. It also became their living quarters which consisted of a cot, small locker and their gear. They had mosquito nets to cover them at night because they are so thick. They had to make their own bathrooms and showers between two old truck boxes.

For the showers, they had a bag with a shower head they filled with water to wash.

"Our company is an Engineer Company and we were HHC - Head Quarters to Head Quarters Company which is a support unit of the 70th Combat Engineer Battalion," Lilienkamp said. "We were in charge of fueling, repairing and maintaining all the trucks and equipment. We also ordered parts and supplies."

He noted there was no electricity in the factory when they got there, so the entire facility was run by a huge generator. Later on they were issued port-a-potties which they really enjoyed. Inside the building, they were also able to set up tents which they then shared with about 10 guys and they could have air conditioning in them.

"Lots of times it would be 100 degrees in Iraq by 10 a.m. Temperatures usually ranged from 90 to 120 degrees," Lilienkamp said. "Our body armor weighed about 40 pounds and with our other clothes we carried about 60 extra pounds. When the temperature was only 80 degrees, it was an unusually cool morning."

In the mornings and most nights, they ate T-rations, which is in a plastic pouch that the cooks put in boiling water. At noon they had an MRE - meals ready to eat and about three times a week they got A-rations, which they really enjoyed because they were real food, like steak and pork chops. All of their water was bottled.

On the 4th of July, they had a special day. Fresh foods were brought in for them. They had grilled hot dogs and hamburgers, potato salad, chips, and pop. They always had near beer because they don't let them have the real stuff. They also played softball, basketball, and sand volleyball games that day. Lilienkamp said that it was great!

He also said, "Everything we did, we did inside of our compound, but that's not to say we didn't still have to be on guard. The Iraqi's would fire mortars at us, especially at night, but only once did they hit the building. Besides being on guard for the Iraqi's, we had to watch for camel spiders - which are very large and will jump on a person. They weren't poisonous but their bite really hurts. Also there were packs of wild dogs. Iraq only has one kind of dog so they all look the same. In our compound we also had rats and kangaroo-mice, which are very large and can hop and jump on their back legs."

Another danger came when they were driving from one place to another. Little children as young as 2 and 3 years old would run out in front of their vehicles and just stand there wanting them to stop so they could get food or anything they had. They wouldn't get out of the way until the very last second and they couldn't stop because the Iraqi's would hide IED's, explosive devices, inside pop cans or in dead animals along the roads.

"If we stopped or got close to them they would detonate them," Lilienkamp said. "Once I was driving a truck and came very close to hitting a small girl, which would have really hurt me. You couldn't tell which of the Iraqi people you could trust. Some were very nice and happy we were there and others were very angry at us."

At the open house for Dan, he had on display many of the souvenirs he had brought back as well as a slide show for his friends and relatives to view.

At their compound, they usually had two Iraqi vendors a day who came in and sold just about anything if you had money to buy it. They had jewelry, souvenirs, sunglasses, rugs, art, and much more. The only thing they couldn't sell was food because it could be poisoned.

The vendors had to speak English and were screened by the military before they came. They were escorted while there to make sure of the soldier's safety. The Iraqi people are very talented artists. Lilienkamp said he thought most things were very cheap but if you didn't like the price, you could usually negotiate with them.

"To relax at the compound, the soldiers usually played cards, sand volleyball, or watched movies on a lap top computer. Later on we got TVs and DVD players," Lilienkamp said. "I was really lucky while I was there, as I wasn't involved in heavy fighting and only got shot at a few times." It's really great to be back home in the United States with my friends and family."

Dan is scheduled to be out of active army duty on Dec. 20, 2003. He has, however, signed up for three years active duty in the AGR/Active Guard Reserves/Program.

Dan and Christi are the parents of three children, Connor, 4, Alyssa, 3, and Christian, 1. Dan's parents are Rev. Carl and Darlene Lilienkamp of Arapahoe. They as well as other family members came to Winside for Dan's welcome home open house.

Council listens to update on cable service

By Clara Osten
Of the Herald

A report on cable service in Wayne was among the agenda items at Tuesday's meeting of the Wayne City Council.

Ken Mowery and John Wilson with HunTel Cablevision presented a list of improvements and additions that have been completed within the last year.

Mowery fielded questions about the reception for the Omaha stations and told members of the council that two of the Omaha stations have had tower problems and are operating on temporary or lower power. He said the situation is difficult to deal with because Wayne is located at the edge of the Omaha signal area and upgrades of the HunTel system would probably have little or no effect on improving the reception.

The council listened to a report on bids for the Vintage Hills and Fairway Estates paving projects and utility extensions. Bids were opened this week and will be reviewed before the council's next meeting, Tuesday, Oct. 14.

After considerable discussion, the council also voted to take action on the city's bad debts. Most of these include unpaid utility bills and the amount uncollected is relatively small. The city will continue to try to collect on these debts, but the action is done on a yearly basis for bookkeeping purposes.

Several council members questioned whether the city needed to raise utility deposits, which are currently at $135 for water, sewer and electric and whether someone who has an outstanding utility bill should have service connected in another location.

Debate was held on recommendations from the Recreation-Leisure Services Commission in regard to fees for the Community Activity Center.

"People who use the facility have to pay for it. We need to match fees to the College and Providence Wellness Center," said Councilman Dennis Linster.

Several numbers were discussed for new fees, but no action was taken on adjusting the fees. Instead, the council asked City Administrator Lowell Johnson to provide numbers in various categories of membership and the item will be discussed at a future meeting.

Resolution 2003-51 was passed unanimously, allowing the city to apply for assistance from the Transportation Enhancement Program for the purpose of constructing Phase II of the Recreation Trail.

Councilman Will Wiseman, who has been part of the Trails Committee since it began, explained to the council some of the things that need to be done before a grant presentation is made in December, including obtaining easements from property owners. He said the city and the Trails Committee has learned a great deal, having been through the grant process with Phase I of the project. He noted that the committee has plans for fundraising for the city's portion of the project.

City Administrator Johnson told the council that Phase I of the Trail project will be re-advertised for bids beginning next week. It is hoped that bids can be obtained and a contract awarded by early November. It is anticipated that the project should be completed by October of 2004.

The re-bidding process was necessary because the low bidder in the original bid was unable to obtain the necessary bonding requirements.

The council approved a contract with the Northeast Nebraska Economic Development District for a housing study to be completed in the city of Wayne. The study will be paid for with grant funds and is to be completed by Feb. 15, 2004.

In other action, the council approved the Main Street Wayne request for annual support for fiscal year 2003-04.

The council's next meeting will be Tuesday, Oct. 14 at 7:30 p.m.

Molly Hill tosses perfect game against Logan View

Blue Devils dominate at Wayne softball tournament

The Wayne High girls softball team earned five more wins this week, including three at the first-ever Wayne Tournament Saturday at the Wayne Softball Complex.

Molly Hill pitched a perfect game Tuesday in leading Wayne to a 4-0 win at Logan View. She struck out 14 batters in the game.

Offensively, Wayne had only three hits in the game, but took advantage of seven errors by the Raiders to plate their four runs.

Hill, Ashley Carroll and Kayla Hochstein each had a single.

"We put a lot of pressure on them and took advantage of their mistakes," said head coach Rob Sweetland. "We should have scored more runs, we left a lot of runners on base."

At the Wayne Tournament Saturday, the Blue Devils opened with a 7-0 win over West Point Central Catholic.

The game was scoreless until the fourth inning when Wayne scored one run. The Blue Devils erupted for six runs in the fifth inning to pull away for the win.

Hochstein had two singles and scored two runs to lead Wayne. Jean Pieper chipped in with a ground-rule double while Ashley Carroll, Hill, Jenny Raveling and Brooke Anderson each contributed singles.

Hill was the winning pitcher, allowing just one hit with 18 strikeouts in windy, chilly conditions.

The next game saw Wayne defeat Tekamah-Herman 13-1. The Blue Devils scored seven runs in the second inning to take control of the game early.

Dawn Jensen's two singles paced Wayne at the plate. Ashley Carroll had a double with Raveling and Hill each adding a single.

Hill worked the first three innings and struck out eight batters to earn the win. Ashley Carroll tossed the final two innings.

The final game saw Wayne produce a season-high 14 hits in an 8-0 win over North Bend.

Eight of nine starters had a hit for the Blue Devils, led by Pieper's three singles. Raveling, Hill, Hochstein and Jensen each accounted for two singles with Ashley Carroll, Jessica Jammer and Danica Carroll adding one single apiece.

Hill was the winning pitcher, yielding just one hit with 18 strikeouts and one walk.

"I was pleased with how we hit the ball in our tournament," remarked Sweetland. "We had season-highs for hits in two of the games."

Wayne traveled to Silver Creek last Thursday and brought home a 10-2 win over Twin River.

Ashley Carroll struck out seven batters to earn the win pitching.

Raveling, Hochstein and Ashley Carroll had two singles each at the plate. Anderson and Hill both added a single.

The JV team earned two wins in the past week, winning at Twin River 19-3 and defeating Logan View 7-2.

In Tuesday's win at Logan View, Samantha Denklau had two singles with Danica Carroll adding a double. Hochstein and Anderson each added a single.

Danica Carroll pitched the first three innings to earn the win with Ashley Carroll tossing the final three innings.

Hochstein each scored four runs. Ashley Carroll was the winning pitcher.

The Wayne JV team is now 5-3 on the season.

With five more wins, the Wayne varsity is now 22-1 and was scheduled to host West Point Central Catholic today (Thursday) with the JV game starting at 4:30pm. Wayne will also compete in the Yutan Tournament on Saturday and visit Boone Central on Tuesday before hosting the district tournament on Thursday and Friday, Oct. 9-10 at the Wayne Softball Complex.

Wayne State hangs on for first win at Southwest State

by Mike Grosz
Of the Herald

There were some eerie similarities, and/or circumstances, when you compare Saturday's trip to Southwest State for the Wayne State football team with that of two years ago.

Two years ago in Marshall, Wayne State trailed 35-6 in the fourth quarter, then mounted a late rally with 28 points, only to see the team miss an extra point late in the game on a bad snap and fall in heartbreaking fashion 35-34.

Saturday, it was the Wildcats who led 41-14 with 8:48 left. Southwest State scored four touchdowns, including the potential game-tying score with 34 seconds left. But the Mustangs, who were penalized 15 yards for excessive celebrating, missed a longer-than-normal extra point kick and Wayne State escaped with a 41-40 win.

"We played really good football for 52 minutes," stated head coach Scott Hoffman. "When we got the big lead, we put in some younger kids and they didn't respond well and Southwest got on a roll and we couldn't stop them."

The last three meetings between the two clubs have been decided by a combined five points. WSC edged Southwest in Wayne last year 16-13.

"We were dominating," added Hoffman, saying it was the best offensive production he has seen in his four years at Wayne State.

Wayne State put together four impressive scoring drives to take a 28-0 lead midway through the third quarter.

Mell Holliday rambled 43 yards to cap a seven play, 80 yard drive to start the game, putting the Wildcats up 7-0.

In the second quarter, Bo Washington recovered a fumble in the end zone to finish a nine-play, 95 yard drive to give Wayne State a 14-0 lead. With just 13 seconds left in the half, Travis Mattox hauled in a 35-yard pass from Brett Edwards to culminate a 72 yard drive, allowing Wayne State to take a 21-0 halftime lead.

Zach Molacek's 12 yard run at the 7:16 mark of the third quarter put the Wildcats up 28-0. That scoring drive covered 10 plays and 81 yards.

Following a Southwest State score, Wayne State answered when Edwards scored on a 16-yard run and the Wildcats were up 35-7 with 10:43 left in the game.

Freshman running back Julian Flemister scored the Wildcats final touchdown on a nine-yard run with 8:48 left, giving Wayne State a 41-14 lead.

That's when the Mustangs would mount their comeback, scoring four times in the final quarter before coming up one point short.

Wayne State put up some impressive offensive statistics in the game, including 496 yards in total offense. The Wildcats ran for 379 yards with 117 coming through the air.

"They were in a front that allowed us to run and our option game gave them some problems," added Hoffman.

Holliday led the balanced rushing attack for the Wildcats with 132 yards on just 13 carries. Edwards followed with 88 yards on 17 attempts and Tyler Chambers finished with 64 yards on only five carries.

Edwards completed 10 of 14 passes for 117 yards and one touchdown.

Josh Hopwood made three catches for 12 yards with Mattox adding two receptions for a team-high 54 yards and a touchdown.

Sophomore linebacker Aaron Rodgers led the Wildcats on defense with 10 tackles. Jeremy Neill followed with six, including a quarterback sack.

Wayne State improved to 1-3 overall and 1-1 in the NSIC with the win. The Wildcats will host Northern State on Saturday in the homecoming game at Cunningham Field with kickoff set for 12:30 pm.

The Wolves, 3-1 overall and 1-0 in the NSIC, are coming off a 46-7 win over Minnesota-Duluth.

"They're coming off a huge win, but our win should give us some confidence, plus it's homecoming. It should be a great game," stated Hoffman.

Wayne golfers place fourth at Metteer Invite

The Wayne High girls golf team battled chilly, windy conditions Saturday to earn a fourth-place finish at the Metteer Invitational at the Wayne Country Club.

Norfolk Catholic won the 17-team tournament with a team score of 380, four shots better than Omaha Duchesne. Humphrey St. Francis and Wayne both shot 385, but the Flyers won a team playoff for the third-place medals. Wakefield shot 449 to place 13th.

"I was real pleased with our performance overall," said head coach Dave Hix. "This was the second lowest score recorded this season."

Leading the way for Wayne was senior Mary Boehle, who shot a season-best 89 to earn the eighth place medal.

"Mary had a great round and put two solid nine together," coach Hix said.

Karissa Dorcey carded a 97 and finished with the 17th place medal.

"Karissa got off to a great start, but the wind on the back nine took its toll on her," commented Hix.

Amy Hypse fired a 98, just missing out on a medal.

"Amy could have shot a lot better except for a few penalty strokes," remarked Hix.

Rounding out the varsity scores were Jenny Nolte with 101 and Keely Reimert at 106.

"Jenny is playing better and gaining confidence in her swing and Keely is has made changes to her swing and is improving with each meet," stated Hix.

The Wayne JV team had two players compete in the varsity tournament with Kourtney Schmale shooting a 114 and Sheree Kathol carding a 116.

Wakefield was led by Kelsey Skinnere with a 105. Kelli Lueth shot 113, Laura Salmon posted a 115, Jessica Wageman carded a 116 and Callie Kathol ended with 118.

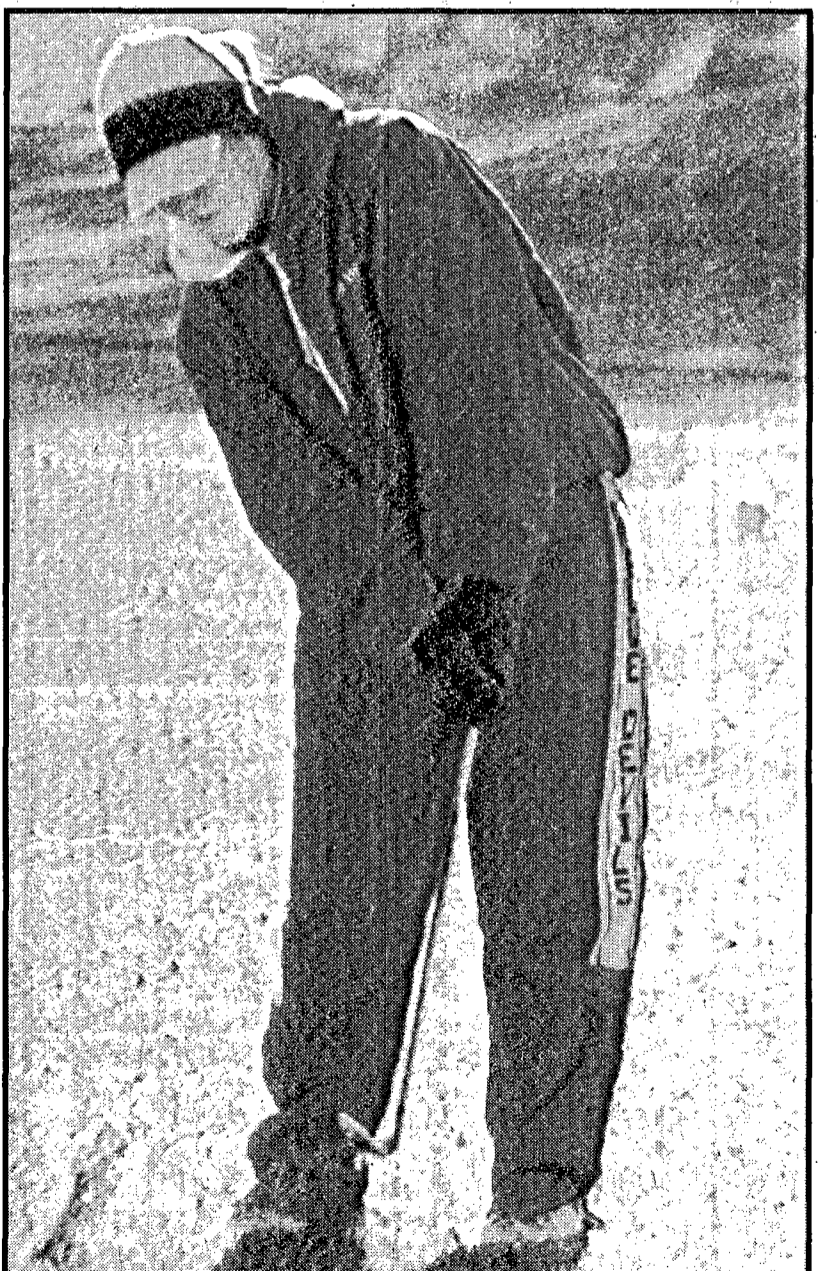

Coach Hix praised the work of all the golf parents for running the concession stand and putting together an early breakfast Saturday morning. Hix also wanted to thank Richard Metteer for helping out all day Saturday, saying "his presence is greatly appreciated by all."

Wayne was scheduled to compete today (Thursday) at the Columbus Scotus Invitational with the JV team playing in the Pender JV Invite, then travel to Oakland Saturday for the Oakland-Craig Invitational.

The Blue Devils will play in the district tournament at Blair on Tuesday, Oct. 7.

Wayne golfers, including Amy Hypse shown above with an approach shot to the first hole, braved windy, chilly conditions in Saturday's Metteer Invitational.

Mary Boehle of Wayne hits a chip shot onto the first green during the Metteer Invite at the Wayne Country Club. Boehle shot a season-best 89 to place eighth.

Plainview's big plays spell defeat for Wayne

For the second straight week, the Wayne High football team fell victim to the big play.

Plainview used three big plays in Friday's 28-14 win over Wayne to keep the Blue Devils winless on the season.

Andrew Lingenfelter rushed for 270 yards on 19 carries and scored three touchdowns on runs of 7, 70 and 81 yards. Harrison Lingenfelter added a 41 yard fumble recovery for the Pirates' final score.

Plainview held a 14-0 lead at halftime, but freshman quarterback Nate Finkey scored on a 23-yard run in the third quarter to cut the lead down to 14-6.

But the Blue Devils lost the momentum later in the quarter when a fumble was picked up and returned for a touchdown, followed by Andrew Lingenfelter's second big run of the night to give Plainview a 28-6 lead after three quarters.

Wayne would score again in the fourth quarter on a 31-yard pass play from Finkey to freshman Ranson Broders to make the final score 28-14.

Head coach Kevin Finkey said he felt his team was ready to deal with Plainview's power and option game.

"Offensively, we were able, at times, to move the ball effectively, but then would have a break down," stated Finkey.

He added that the team is still giving up too many big plays on defense.

"Our defense actually stopped Plainview for losses on 12 plays for 56 yards, but then would give up a big play."

Wayne racked up a total of 281 yards in offense with 220 coming on the ground.

Finkey rushed for 101 yards on 12 carries to lead Wayne's rushing attack. Josh Davis added 64 yards on seven attempts, Dana Schuett finished with 21 yards on nine carries and Josh Hartwell contributed 14 yards on nine rushes. Wade Jarvi added 12 yards on one attempt and Matt Roeber carried the ball three times for eight yards.

Throwing the ball, Finkey was 6 of 13 for 61 yards and one touchdown.

Sachau's three scores carries Allen past Coleridge

For the second straight week, Allen football fans were sitting on the edge of their seats until the final minute and for the second straight week, the outcome went Allen's way.

The Allen Eagle football team held off a pesky Coleridge Bulldog squad Friday night in Allen 29-28. The win gives the Eagles a 4-0 record, including 3-0 in district play. The win also snapped a 19-year losing streak to Coleridge.

Fans were treated to a fast and furious first half of play as both teams marched up and down the field, scoring at will. The second half was much different, like two chess players battling to a stalemate, before Allen struck for the only score of the second half early in the fourth quarter to rally for the win.

After trailing 6-0 early, Allen would score twice in the first quarter to grab a 14-6 lead. Bart Sachau scored on a two-yard run with 8:03 left in the first quarter, then was on the receiving end of a 55-yard pass from Corey Uldrich with 1:40 remaining in the quarter to put the Eagles in front.

Following a Coleridge score, Allen answered with a 19-yard run from Sachau at the 8:43 mark of the second quarter. Uldrich found Scott Blohm on a two-point pass play and Allen led 22-12. But Coleridge would respond with two scores to take a 28-22 half-time lead.

The game would turn into a defensive battle for much of the third quarter until Blohm intercepted a Coleridge pass late in the third quarter to give Allen good field position.

The Eagles would put together a scoring drive, capped by Uldrich's two-yard plunge, with 11:08 left in the game to tie the score at 28-28. Uldrich kicked the extra point to give Allen a 29-28 lead.

Allen would stop Coleridge later in the final period on downs at the 17 yard line with 1:34 remaining to preserve the win.

Head coach Dave Uldrich said the game should serve as a wakeup call to his team, that anything can happen at anytime.

"We did not play defense with any amount of intensity in the first half. We executed quite well offensively, with the exception of penalties slowing us down by stopping drives."

Bart Sachau had a huge night offensively for the Eagles. The senior rushed for 153 yards on 26 carries and scored two touchdowns. He also added two receptions for 80 yards on one touchdown.

Uldrich hit 6 of 16 passes for 132 yards and one touchdown. Blohm hauled in two catches for 17 yards. Duane Rahn had one reception for 27 yards and Aaron Smith made one catch for eight yards. He also gained 21 yards rushing on four attempts.

Allen 312 yards of total offense in the game, one more yard than Coleridge.

Defensively, Andrew Sachau had a career night by logging 23 tackles. Rahn added 14 while Blohm and Bart Sachau added 13 and 12 stops respectively.

The 4-0 Eagles will host Newcastle Saturday evening in the homecoming game with kickoff set for 7 pm.

Allen's Andrew Sachau holds on to a Coleridge player for one of his 23 tackles in Friday's win over the Bulldogs.

Ponca rushing attack slows down Laurel-Concord

Ponca used a balanced rushing attack, scoring in all four quarters, to top Laurel-Concord in high school football Friday evening 28-0 in Ponca.

The Indians rushed for 337 yards in the game while holding Laurel-Concord to just 136 yards in total offense.

"We were in the right spot to make tackles numerous times, but didn't break down and tackle," said head coach Mike Halley. "We will work to improve fundamentally, especially on defense."

The Bears rushed for 97 yards in the game and added 39 more passing.

Jon Dickey was the leading rusher for Laurel-Concord with 41 yards on nine carries. Eric Nelson followed with 29 yards on seven attempts and Tony Jacobsen had 25 yards on 11 rushes. Scot Surber added 15 yards on three carries.

Eric Nelson completed just four of 22 passes for 26 yards and three interceptions. Jeff Knudsen was one of two for 13 yards.

Jarrod Henderson was the top receiver with one catch for 13 yards. Dickey added one reception for two yards.

several Wayne State turnovers and mistakes to knock off the Wildcats in the men's game 14-11.

A 50-yard run by Preston Parker allowed the Wildcats to take an 8-7 lead with one minute left in the first half, but a turnover deep in WSC territory allowed USD to punch the ball into the end zone just before halftime to take a 14-8 lead.

In the second half, Phillip Bartlett added on three points to cut the lead down to 14-11, but WSC had three touchdowns called back in the last six minutes of the game and was unable to comeback for the win. Wayne State ended the game with the ball on the two-yard line.

Barner said he was disappointed with the loss.

"We had so many chances to win and even win easy, but we just made mistakes that never should have occurred."

The WSC men will play double-headers for the next two weeks when the A and B teams travel to play the Lincoln City men's team, then play at Sioux Falls the following weekend.

HIPAA readiness looms for Nebraska Health Care Providers - Nebraska Medicaid Program worried

A major change for health care that takes effect next month has the Nebraska Health and Human Services System and its Medicaid staff worried. They are ready, but they fear others may not be.

New uniform national codes used for identifying and billing each medical procedure, from appendectomies to x-rays, must be used beginning Oct. 16.

The state Medicaid program has changed its systems to conform to the new codes and officials believe they are ready. But testing with all health care providers, including hospitals, doctors, dentists, and others, is necessary because the program makes over 765,000 payments to providers each month for over $92.3 million.

"We believe we're ready to receive claims with the new electronic transaction codes and our new electronic claim filing system," said Steve Curtiss, Director of HHS Finance and Support. "But not many insurance carriers or providers have successfully tested all levels of the new process with us, and that's a concern."

The last date to complete testing with Medicaid for the Oct. 16 cut-off is Oct. 1. After Oct. 16, providers will be able to schedule testing with the State in order to come on board with the new claims filing system. To schedule testing, providers should contact the Medicaid Electronic Data Interchange (EDI) Help Desk at 1-866-498-4357 or email medicaid.edi@hhs.state.ne.us/

"We have to test with them," Curtiss said, "to make sure that all systems will work as smoothly as possible. We can't have someone submit claims electronically who hasn't tested for compatibility and cause the system to crash."

Because providers have been slow to test with the State, the HHS System has gone to a back-up plan and will continue to accept all current electronic claim-filing formats for a limited time. However, even if using the current electronic filing, providers must use the new transaction codes. The other option is for providers to send in their billings on paper - which will be time consuming for the State to process, adding expenses and an additional delay in processing Medicaid payments.

Medicaid payments will already be delayed during the October transition. Payments for Medicaid claims sent in between Oct. 10 - 16 will be made on Oct. 21 and payments for claims sent in between Oct. 17-24 will be issued on Oct. 28.

A new Medicaid pharmacy point-of-service system is also being implemented in October. While the first claims will be made through it beginning Oct. 1, the first pharmacy payments will not be issued until Oct. 21.

The transition to new uniform codes is required by the federal Health Insurance Portability and Accountability Act. This is the second HIPAA requirement to take effect this year. The privacy requirements began in April.

Information about HIPAA can be found on the HHS System website: <http://www.hhs.state.ne.us/hipaa/index/htm>

Having your furnace serviced

Now is the ideal time to have your furnace serviced. It is important that it is working properly before the cold weather arrives. Fall is also the time when repair and maintenance companies aren't as busy.

While most maintenance contractors are reputable, the furnace "scam artists" are on the move during the fall months. Unfortunately, hundreds of unsuspecting homeowners become victims of their fraudulent and unscrupulous activities. The Better Business Bureau of the Heartland offers the following tips to help you avoid these kinds of problems:

*Don't fall for phone solicitations that offer "low cost" or "free" furnace cleaning. Once in the home, the contractor may falsely tell homeowners that their heating system has serious problems that require immediate attention.

*Don't hire someone who comes to your door with a "Shop-Vac" type vacuum offering to clean your heating ducts. A proper cleaning requires a high volume vacuum system, maybe even a steam system.

Northeast recruiters/advisors to visit Laurel-Concord High School on Oct. 28

Two Northeast Community College recruiters/advisors are on the road this fall spreading the word about Northeast.

Every year, Sue Heckert and Vickie Johnson visit dozens of high schools in Nebraska, Iowa, and South Dakota to talk with students and their parents about educational opportunities at Northeast.

Heckert will be at Laurel-Concord High School in Laurel on Oct. 28 at 10 a.m.

Students unable to visit with a Northeast recruiter at a College Fair are asked to contact their high school counselor to arrange an appointment with a recruiter or a visit to Northeast Community College.

tem.
*Don't hire or sign a contract just because the contractor says you face possible illness or death if the furnace isn't replaced immediately. If told that the furnace threatens your health, ask for a written copy of the contractor's results and call your local utility company.

*If furnace repair or replacement is recommended, get at least three independent written estimates from qualified licensed contractors, that fully describe the services and materials that will be provided. When comparing estimates, evaluate the price, type of services, warranty and energy efficiency of the unit.

*Do maintain your furnace by cleaning air returns with a household vacuum cleaner and changing the filter at least three times during the heating season.

All types of furnaces should be serviced annually. In addition, gas furnaces need to be cleaned no less than every two years, and oil furnaces no less than every year. For recommendations on qualified, licensed furnace contractors, ask friends, relatives or co-workers and always check the company out with the BBB at 402-391-7612 or at www.heartlandbbb.org.

If you find that your furnace needs repair, first check the warranty to find out whether any repairs or replacement parts are covered. And, if you have to buy a new furnace, you should choose a unit that is just large enough to handle the demands of your household. Don't waste money on a furnace that is larger than you need.

These Consumer/Business Tips are brought to you by the better Business Bureau of the Heartland, a private non-profit organization serving the Metro Omaha Area, Northern and Central Nebraska, Southwest Iowa and South Dakota.

Sisters win violin competition

Megan and Elizabeth Poppe of Blue Rapids, Kan. recently participated in the South Dakota Fiddling Championships in Yankton, S.D.

The girls are the daughters of Gary and Melani Poppe and grandchildren of Ted and Deanna Gunnarson of Wayne and Orville and Phyllis Poppe of Lawrence, Kan. They have been taking violin lessons since they were four or five years old.

They are 12 and eight years old respectively and have been involved in a number of fiddling competitions, although this is the first time they have competed in South Dakota. In addition to participating in various competitions, the two also play for community events and in their church.

The fiddling contest involved contestants of all ages. Megan received a first place and Elizabeth a second place in their respective age divisions.

Each played a waltz and tune of their choice during the competition.

Music is part the Poppe family as the girls' mother plays the piano and their father plays the guitar.

For their efforts in the South Dakota competition, the girls received a monetary award and each was presented a wrist watch.

Gov. Mike Johanns awards Cedar County Sheriff's Office new patrol unit

Gov. Mike Johanns recently presented the keys to a fully equipped 2003 Chevrolet Impala patrol cruiser to Cedar County Sheriff Larry Koranda at the Cedar County Sheriff's Office.

Funded from a federal grant to Nebraska, the cruiser was awarded to the Cedar County Sheriff's Office for their success in the second annual "Nebraska Law Enforcement Occupant Protection Challenge."

Gov. Johanns said, "It's a real pleasure to be able to reward the efforts of the Cedar County Sheriff's Office for their dedication and commitment. With the help and response of the citizens of Cedar County, they were able to get more people and children buckled up for safety and earn a fully equipped patrol cruiser valued at $32,000 for their community."

All local law enforcement agencies in Nebraska were eligible to participate in the effort to increase safety belt and child restraint use within their communities during 2002. Agencies were placed in four size categories based on populations served. The agency in each category that increased occupant restraint use by the largest margin would be rewarded with a new fully equipped patrol unit.

Law enforcement agencies were encouraged to utilize a variety of strategies including education, community participation and enforcement. The Cedar County Sheriff's Office saw use increase from 34 percent to more than 51 percent during 2002, an increase of 17 percent.

According to Fred Zwonechek, Nebraska Office of Highway Safety Administrator, special federal incentive funding is being used this year for another "Challenge" that will provide speed-monitoring trailers to the most successful agencies.

Gov. Johanns recently presented police cruisers to the communities of Omaha and Beatrice for their success during the 2002 "Challenge" competition. He will also present a cruiser to the City of Norfolk in the upcoming weeks.

Lead-safe work practices training classes offered on Wednesday, Oct. 15

Any housing contractors or workers who have not yet attended and successfully completed the training course for the safe removal of lead-based paint will have an opportunity to participate in a training course offered in Wayne.

The training is scheduled for Wednesday, Oct. 15 from 8 a.m. to 5 p.m. (lunch on your own) at the Santa Fe Grille in the Board Meeting Room, 113 South Main Street. The registration fee is $85, and includes a student manual.

The eight-hour "Lead-Based Paint Renovation and Remodeling" course is geared toward contractors and workers whose rehabilitation or remodeling work includes structural repairs, weatherization and unit upgrading. Participants will learn how to perform interim controls of lead hazards in federally-assisted housing under HUD's Lead-Safe Housing Rule. On successful completion of the course, participants will receive a certificate indicating that they have received this training and can provide lead-safe work practices services.

Contractor working with HUD-funded housing programs must be trained in Lead-Safe Work Practices, at a minimum, if their remodeling or rehabilitation work will disturb lead-based paint. Other federally funded housing programs also have this requirement.

Contractors may contact Leigh Alexander at (402) 582-3580 or Della Pries at (402) 375-5266 for questions or a registration form.

HYPERCOAGULATION

Hypercoagulation is the tendency of the blood to clot excessively, which can create clotting within blood vessels (thrombosis or phlebitis). A dangerous condition, hypercoagulation can lead to blood clots traveling to the heart or lungs or blocking blood flow to the brain. Blood clots can also cause miscarriages. Risk factors for hypercoagulation include sitting too long in a car or plane, prolonged bed rest, surgery, cancer, pregnancy, and the use of birth control pills. If the body fails to make enough anti-clotting protein C or protein S, hypercoagulation may develop. Antithrombin III, another anti-clotting protein, may not work correctly, or other proteins may cause excessive clotting. Hypercoagulation is treated with blood thinners, given regularly or only in risky situations.

Staying healthy and caring for your body is likely to keep the doctor away in many cases, but there are times in all of our lives when we need to rely on the experience of a medical professional. At WAYNE CONVENIENT CLINIC, we are here for everything from routine checkups to more serious health issues. It is important for us to get to know our patients so we can assist them in staying healthy, but also so we are alerted when something is amiss. If you would like to discuss your health, call (402) 375-1383 to set up an appointment. Located at 114 W. 3rd Street, we are open from 12 pm - 8 pm, 7 days a week, and walk-ins are always welcome.

Add salad toppers and flavor poppers for a change

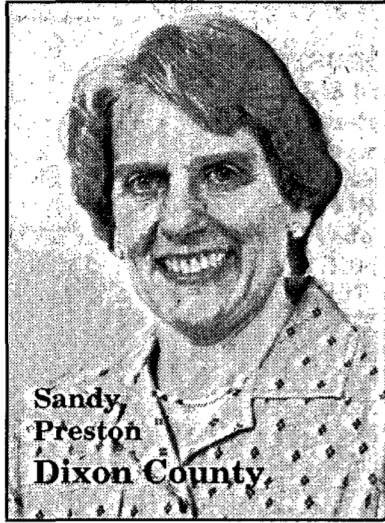

Sometimes people think green salad = lettuce = blah. Not so, he only limits to exciting salads are limits of the imagination.

Begin with salad greens. Enhance the eye appeal and nutrition of a salad by adding colorful fruits and vegetables. Keep it light by limiting the amount of salad dressing to about 1 tablespoon per 1 1/2 to 2 cups of greens. Then make the flavor really POP by adding some of the following ingredients. You can either put them atop or mix them in with your salad.

While some of these salad additions are higher in fat than others, just small amounts (about 1 tablespoon) can give extra flavor without too many calories. Also, many provide a nutrition boost! Add from one to three of these flavor accents, depending on how many other ingredients are in your salad.

1. CHEESE Parmesan
If your experience with Parmesan cheese is limited to shaking it from a can, try using a vegetable peeler to shave about a tablespoon per serving from a block of cheese.

Or, sprinkle freshly grated Parmesan on salads. As just a small amount kicks up the flavor, you may find you can afford trying some of the more expensive Parmesan cheeses. Add flavor and bone-building calcium, too!

Sandy Preston
Dixon County

2. CROUTONS
Add crunch, flavor and fiber with homemade or purchased whole grain croutons.

3. DRIED FRUIT cherries, cranberries, raisins
Add these dried fruits for their flavor. Benefit from their antioxidants that may help protect against cancer and heart disease.

4. FRESH HERBS basil, chives, dill, parsley Toss small basil leaves or chopped larger ones in with your greens. Try chopped fresh dill. Add some minced chives or parsley. Start with about a teaspoon of herbs per person and adjust according to taste preference. Herbs boost flavor without increasing calories. Researchers also are finding many culinary herbs (both fresh and dried) have antioxidants that may help protect against such diseases as cancer and heart disease.

5. FRESH FRUIT apples and pears
Slice apples with their skins into salads. The skin adds eye appeal and important dietary fiber, as well. Research shows an apple a day may indeed help keep the doctor away by helping reduce your risk of heart disease and cancer.

Some commonly available apples that may be especially tasty in salads include Braeburn, Fuji, Gala, Golden Delicious, Granny Smith, Jonathan, Red Delicious and Winesap.
The juicy sweetness of pear slices, skin included, also tastes great in salads. Pears continue to ripen after they're picked. To determine if a pear is ripe, gently press it at the stem end. Most types yield to pressure when ripe.

To speed the ripening of pears, put them in a ripening bowl or in a loosely closed brown paper bag at room temperature.

Or, just set them in a pretty bowl on your counter and enjoy their appearance as they ripen. Plastic bags don't work for ripening. Refrigerate when ripe in an open or perforated plastic bag in your refrigerator crisper drawer. (If you don't have access to commercial perforated bags, use a sharp object to make several small holes in a regular plastic bag.)
Store fruits in a refrigerator crisper drawer separate from the one in which you store vegetables. Fruits give off ethylene gas which can shorten the storage life of vegetables. Some vegetables give off odors that can be absorbed by fruits and affect their quality.

COOK'S TIP Keep Cut Fruit from Browning
Keep cut fruits, such as apples, pears, bananas and peaches, from turning brown by coating them with an acidic juice such as lemon, orange or pineapple juice. Or use a commercial anti-darkening preparation with fruits. Cut fruits as close to serving time as possible. Cover and refrigerate cut fruit until ready to serve. Refrigerate peeled/cut fruits and vegetables so the TOTAL time they're at room temperature is less than 2 hours.

6. OLIVES black or green
Add extra oomph with olives. For ease of eating and to distribute their flavor throughout the salad, pit and slice olives before placing them in your salad (see directions below for pitting olives).
About a tablespoon of olives per serving should be sufficient, a tablespoon of canned ripe olives provides about 10 calories.
Experiment with different types for different flavors. For example, many people enjoy the rich flavor of kalamata olives, a black olive frequently found in Greek salad, pasta and pizza recipes. (By the way, did you know olives are a FRUIT?)

7. NUTS toasted almonds and walnuts
Though almonds are a source of fat and calories, they contain mostly unsaturated fat that may help protect against heart disease. They also provide vitamin E, a nutrient that may be good for your heart. Almonds have about 7 calories apiece.
Likewise, the fat in walnuts is mostly unsaturated. Walnuts also provide heart-healthy omega-3 fatty acids. A tablespoon or two of walnuts adds just 50 to 100 calories to a meal.
Toast nuts to crisp their texture and bring out their rich aroma and

8. ONIONS, red
Slip thin slices of sweet red onions into salads.

9. ORANGES
Sliced oranges juice up the flavor of salads and add brightness with their sunny color. Plus, they give you a healthy dose of vitamin C and folate.

10. SUNFLOWER SEEDS toasted
Add some vitamin E by tossing a tablespoon of sunflower seeds per serving into salads. One tablespoon provides about 50 calories and mostly unsaturated fat. Toast them for extra flavor.

11. RADISHES
Thinly slice radishes and sprinkle into salads for their crisp texture and peppery flavor.

If the leafy radish tops are attached, remove them before storing. Radishes don't keep as well if their tops are left on. Store unwashed radishes in an open or perforated plastic bag in a refrigerator crisper drawer that is separate from the one in which you store fruits. Wash radishes and trim their roots just before using.

Exercise Cuts Risk of Falling for Seniors
A recent study conducted by the University of Arkansas suggests that strength and flexibility training could reduce the number of falls taken by the elderly each year. Seniors exercised for 40 minutes three times a week using elastic bands and exercise balls. After ten weeks, they improved their strength and balance as well as their "good" cholesterol levels. Seniors in the study also showed significant improvements in mental health as well. It's never too late to start exercising! Consult with your doctor about the kind and amount of exercise that's right for you.

Ruth Henrichs to speak at Our Savior Lutheran Church

Our Savior Lutheran Church in Wayne announced that Ruth Henrichs, President & Chief Executive Officer of Lutheran Family Services of Nebraska, will be the congregation's guest in worship this weekend, Oct. 4-5.

Mrs. Henrichs will speak at the congregation's Saturday evening worship service at 6 p.m. and Sunday morning worship services at 8 and 10:30 a.m. She will also lead a special forum during the Sunday School learning hour from 9:15 to 10:15 a.m.

This will be an opportunity to learn more about the work of Lutheran Family Services in Nebraska.

Ruth has served as President and Chief Executive Officer of Lutheran Family Services of Nebraska since 1984. She has been associated with Lutheran Family Services since 1976, first as a Therapist, then as Regional Director before being named President and Chief Executive Officer.

Mrs. Henrichs has served on numerous national, state and local committees and task forces throughout her years at Lutheran

Family Services. She and her husband Dick have three sons and one grandson. She enjoys spectator sports, travel, walking, golf and reading.

For over 100 years, Lutheran Family Services of Nebraska, Inc. has been building and strengthening families as they have served the children and families of Nebraska. What began as orphanages in Fremont and Omaha has become a statewide outpouring of God's love through more than 20 programs and 280 staff members.

As the needs of Nebraskans have changed over the years, so have the programs of Lutheran Family Services. Homes are still provided for children, but now these children are served through adoption and foster care services. Lutheran Family Services of Nebraska is fully committed to serve the growing and changing needs of all Nebraskans by providing quality human care services.

"We hope the community will feel welcome to join us in worship during this special weekend and take the opportunity to hear Ruth Henrichs and the work of Lutheran Family Services in Nebraska," said Pastor Bill Koeber of Our Savior.

Our Savior Lutheran Church is located at the corner of Fifth and Main Streets in Wayne. For additional information, contact the church office at (402) 375-2899.

The club agreed to use money from the club treasury to purchase the bulbs. Mrs. Wesely will plan the garden for next year.

There was also some discussion regarding the Hoskins Memorial Park at the north end of town.

Scleroderma Support group is being formed to assist those who are affected by the disease

A Scleroderma Support Group will be starting in this area.

Meetings will be held the second Tuesday of every other month, starting Tuesday, Oct. 14 at St. Luke's Hospital in Rooms 3-4 on the Lower Level, from 6:30 to 8:30 p.m.

Anyone who has questions is asked to contact Jane Woodward at (402) 494-4532 or by email at http://www.scleroderma.org/chapter/support/iowa/index\_siouxland.htm

More information can also be found on the Scleroderma Foundation's home page, www.scleroderma.org. Use the drop-down menu to search Chapters/Support Groups.

Scleroderma is a chronic, often progressive autoimmune disease in which the body's immune system attacks its own tissues. The disease, which literally means "hard skin," can cause thickening and tightening of the skin. In some cases, it causes serious damage to internal organs, including the lungs, heart, kidneys, esophagus and gastrointestinal (GI) tract.

Scleroderma can vary a great deal in terms of severity. For a few individuals, it is merely a nuisance; for others it is a life-threatening illness. For most, it is a disease that affects how they live their daily lives. Although medicines can sometimes help treat symptoms, there is no cure yet for scleroderma.

The Scleroderma Foundation is a 501(c)3 national non-profit organization serving the interests of persons with scleroderma. The Foundation's 26 chapters and 135 support groups nationwide help to carry out its three-fold mission of support, education and research.

The Scleroderma Foundation is the leading nonprofit supporter of scleroderma research - funding over $1 million of new grants each year to find the cause and cure of scleroderma. More information can be found at the website: www.scleroderma.org or by calling 1-800-733-HOPE (4673).

FLU SHOTS
Providence Medical Center Home Health Care will be in Allen on Friday, Oct. 24 to give out flu shots. They will be at the Senior Center from 1 pm until 2:30 pm. They will bill Medicare and Medicaid for those who need them to, but for all others the cost will be $15. Please contact Pam at the Center by October 15 if you plan on receiving the shot.

HAYRACK RIDES
Please join the Music Boosters on a Haunted Hayrack Ride on Saturday, Oct. 18. The ride will be starting from the propane station, south of Allen on Highway 9. Registration for the trip will begin at 5:30 pm. The cost will be $5.00 a person, including any adult that wants to ride with them.

For everyone's safety, there will be rules in place. Anyone not following the rules will be dropped off at a pickup station and brought back directly to the Fire hall.

There will be two trips. The first one will leave at 6 pm, so be sure to be registered ahead of time. This trip is suggested for second graders and younger. (It will be less scary!)

The second trip will leave at 7:30 pm. Just like the first trip be sure to be registered ahead of time. This trip is suggested for third to sixth graders since it will be scarier than the first trip.

Both trips will end at the Fire hall, with hotdogs and hot cocoa, and a drawing for a prize. Each person completing the ride will receive a bag of Halloween treats. Parents who choose to ride with their child will be given a ride back to the propane station to pick up their cars.

Seating will be limited so please call Debbie Hingst 635-1010 or Michelle Saxen 635-0010 to guarantee a place on the hayrack. They would appreciate having your reservation by Tuesday, Oct. 14 so they will have a better idea of how many flatbeds and hotdogs will be needed. ## Kinney will be in musical at Wesleyan University

Emily Kinney of Wayne is among Nebraska Wesleyan University student cast members who will take part in the musical "Children of Eden."

The musical is written by Stephen Schwartz and based on a book by John Caird, the production is based on the biblical book of "Genesis." It is a heartfelt, humorous examination of the generation gap between parents and children. Adam, Eve, Noah, and the Father who created them deal with the headstrong, cataclysmic actions of their respective children. The melodic, energetic score is a mix of pop, folk, rock, reggae, gospel, and choral moments that deliver the inspiring message that the hardest part of love is letting go.

The musical production kicks off Nebraska Wesleyan's homecoming and alumni weekend activities. Shows are scheduled for Oct. 3-5 and Oct. 9-11 at 7:30 p.m. in McDonald Theatre. Performances have also been scheduled for 2 p.m. on Oct. 5 and 12, Jack Parkhurst, associate professor of theatre arts, is directing the play.

Tickets can be purchased by calling the box office at 402-465-2384.

FRIEND Teacher Team Puppet Show presenters were Jonathon Carranza, Joan Sudmann (sponsor), Amber Lutt, Leslie Backstrom, and Megan Kardell.

Family and friends are the important things in life

We actually saw a little light frost in the low spots on Monday morning. Cousin Stan in Oregon e-mails that it is 100 degrees there, and that isn't even a record. Harvest is in full swing here, but yields are wildly uneven; mostly on the low side. Just too dry.

I attended the Thursday evening session of the Nebraska Health Ministry conference and saw a video called "Celebrate What's Right With Life". A National Geographic photographer showed some of his work. Much of it improved when he waited on his subject. For instance, he saw a field of dandelions and vowed to go back and photograph it. When he did, all that was left was a field of puff-balls. So, he took a closeup of one, with the sunlight on it, and it was beautiful.

I try to focus on the positive when I read the paper. I seldom watch the news on TV because there are too many disturbing images. And it's easy to get caught up on the difficulties in Iraq, in Israel, Indonesia, etc.

But Guideposts has an article in this month's issue about a support group for parents in Jerusalem who have lost children in bombings. Both Jewish and Arab parents come. Their grief is the same. Just as it is in Ireland. And when there is another school shooting. Or a cop is killed. I can understand why psychologists say there is something called "compassion fatigue". Which is why we have to focus on the positive.

The Farmer's Wife
By: Pat Meierhenry

Last Sunday, the 21st, was National Women's Friendship Day, believe it or not. Our governor was one of 11 who signed a declaration of such. After all the research about our response to stress and how it's like "fight or flight", it turns out that women don't respond like that. We tend to "gather and nurture." Which is why we rely on friends when times are tough.

I heard a speaker say once there are friends of the heart and friends of the road. And we only have half a dozen of the former in our lifetimes. But all are important, and should be cultivated. So, next year, on the third Sunday in September, I'm going to send my gal friends a card to thank them for their friendship. It's the least I can do.

The following day, Monday, the 22nd, was National Family Dining Day. I guess it's actually been proven that families that have at least one meal a day together do better. I'm not sure better in what; probably just staying a family. And in today's world, that's actually hard to do.

The organization that promotes this, and I don't even know who they are, says it can be carry out or frozen; the point is that everyone eats together and shares what happened to them that day. Sounds good to me.

The Big Farmer and I eat most meals together. But we are usually reading a newspaper while we do it. I don't think that's exactly what the experts mean. Oh, well. We're still together. That's what counts, right?

Tips shared for grazing corn stalks

When corn stalks become available for grazing, several decisions need to be made. Bruce Anderson, extension forage specialist, shares his recommendations for Nebraska farmers.

How soon should cattle be moved to stalks?

In most years, start grazing stalks as soon as possible. The nutrient value of stalks declines the longer they are exposed to weathering. Grazing stalks right away will put more condition on cows and faster gains on young stock.

Be sure to check fields for excess grain before grazing. Dryland fields with small ears

Del Hemsath
Extension Educator

may have more grain loss than usual this year. Too much corn can cause acidosis and founder. Adapt cattle to a higher grain ration before grazing if a problem is expected.

How should the corn stalks be grazed?

Strip grazing by giving animals only one or two weeks worth of stalks at a time uses them most efficiently. This permits a higher stocking rate and provides a more uniform diet.

However, if heavy snow or mud occurs before you graze all areas, some good quality feed can be lost. Leaving cattle in the same entire field for a couple months or longer is more common than strip grazing. Whole-field grazing permits fast early gains but more supplements are needed late in the season after all grain has disappeared.

Be sure to provide salt, calcium, phosphorus, and vitamin "A", free choice at all times. And once all the grain is gone, cows need about half a pound per day of an all natural protein to meet nutrient needs.

Stalk season is here. Make wise decisions to use them best.

Fall noxious weed control encouraged

As fall creeps its way into Nebraska, the Nebraska Department of Agriculture (NDA) Director Merlyn Carlson has reminded farmers and ranchers to control noxious weeds.

"Noxious weed control is essential to Nebraska's number one industry - agriculture," Carlson said. "It protects agriculture and our natural resources from profit-robbing pest weeds."

The arrival of cooler fall temperatures prompts plants to begin storing energy for the winter months, making herbicide applications more effective.

"Controlling noxious weeds now, will help prevent noxious weed problems in the spring," said Mitch Coffin, the Program Manager for Noxious Weeds in the NDA, Bureau of Plant Industry Division. "Noxious weeds flourish in stressed and overgrazed pastures, which are abundant due to the persistent drought."

Musk thistle, leafy spurge and Canada thistle are some of the noxious weeds that are prevalent in the fall, and can be controlled effectively with herbicides.

Some noxious weeds can be poisonous or injurious to humans, livestock and wildlife. By law, it is the duty of each person who owns or controls land to effectively control noxious weeds on property.

For more information on Nebraska's noxious weed program, contact the county weed superintendent or Mitch Coffin at NDA's Bureau of Plant Industry at (402) 471-2394.

Band

"I've been in band for all four years of my high school career and above all, it has taught me that you have to work for what you want to achieve.

I went in there my freshman year and worked hard because I didn't want to let down the seniors. Sophomore year I did my best because I felt I had experience. Junior year, I didn't give it my all in practice and we were worried about whether we would get a I rating at NSBA or not. And, finally this year, I'm working hard every practice because this year is my last chance to really get it out there.

I like moving and impressing people, so I'm always trying to play better and better. Mr. Weber has taught me a lot about how we can't always be perfect, but we can at least try. And it's that little bit, the trying, that makes all the difference."

Chad Jensen, senior
President of the Band

"Colorguard is a great experience. Our squad has 10 girls this year and one alternate. We practiced throughout the summer, learning and perfecting our routines so we were ready to practice with the band when school started.

Being a senior and a captain this year has given me much responsibility but the dedication of the squad has helped a lot. We all hope to get the best colorguard award again this year."

Amy Kemp, senior Colorguard

Band Day 2003

"I think Marching Band is a stressful time of year but in the end, it is fun and it all works out."
Robyn Heithold, sophomore saxophone

"Waking up for early band is hard, but we manage to get through it."
Bryan Fink, junior saxophone

"The early morning practices can be cold and hard, but they pay off in the end. It's all worth it."

Lesa Lutt, junior clarinet

"Marching band is stressful and being outside in the cold every morning is never fun, but having the support of the community makes every moment worth it."
Katie Echtenkamp, junior clarinet

"I play bass drum and the drumline is the foundation of the band."
Brandon Echtenkamp, junior drums

"Band practice can be rigorous, but fun. The community support at our performances makes it all worth it in the end."
Natalie Fendrick, junior clarinet

"Last year I played the second bass drum, but this year, playing quads is much more fun."
David Gangwish, junior drums
