Children's Task Force to conduct public forums in northeast Nebraska

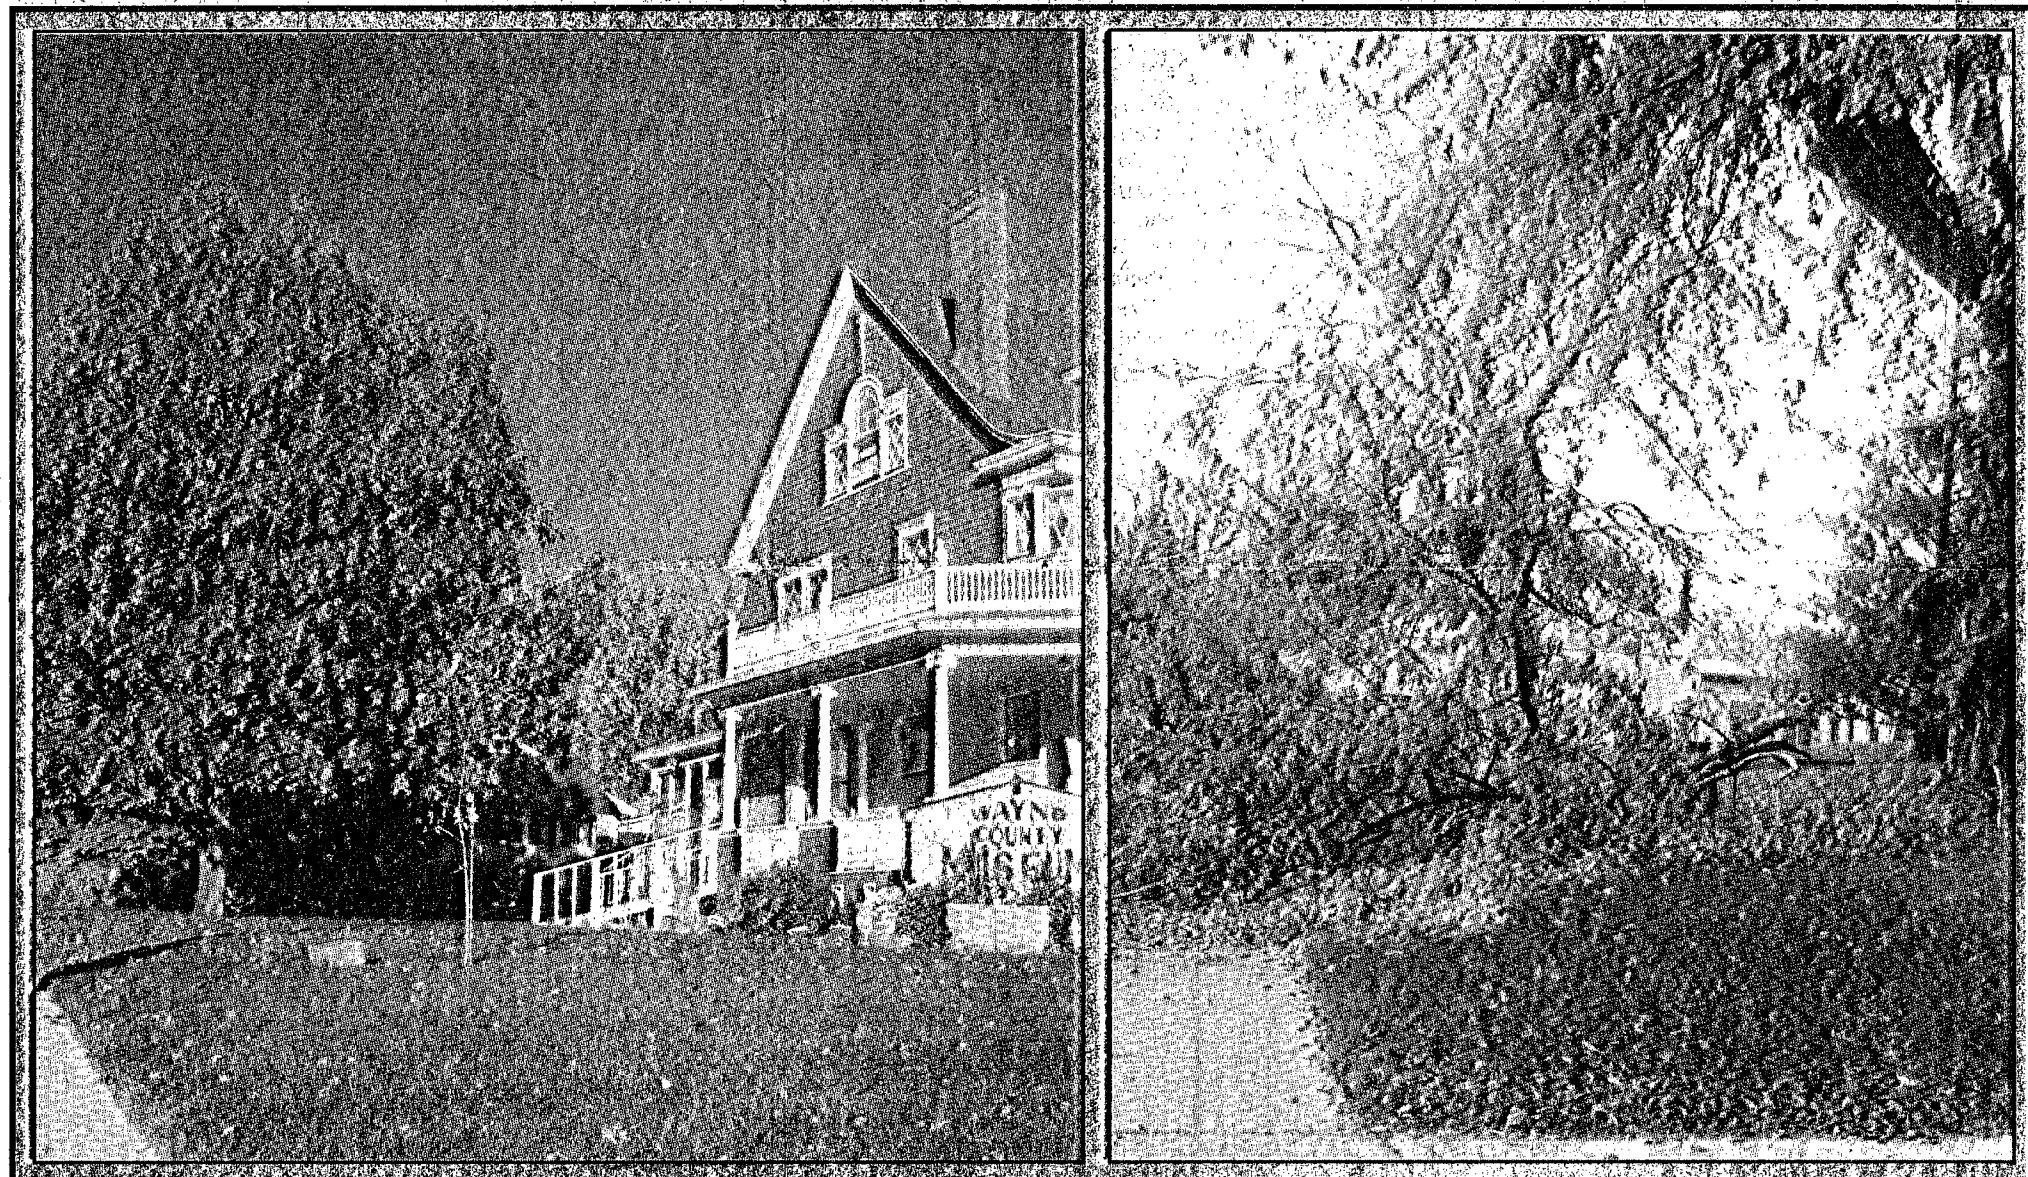

The Children's Task Force, a group formed by Governor Mike Johanns to examine the recent number of violent deaths of children, will be holding public forums across northeast Nebraska. The intent of the forums is to receive comments on the child welfare system. The Children's Task Force was formed by the Governor in September to examine the increase in deaths of children due to violence in Nebraska since 1999. The goal of the Task Force is to identify breakdowns in the child welfare system and to propose solutions to fix the system. The Governor has required the solutions to be presented to his office and to the Legislature by the end of December, in time to introduce legislation for the 2004 legislative session. The Task Force is composed of 31 individuals from all regions of the state. Members include county attorneys, child advocates, law enforcement, child welfare workers, and State Senators. Task Force member Arnie Stuthman, State Senator from Platte Center, is spearheading the forums in northeast Nebraska. The public forums have been arranged to receive public comments based on the public's experiences with the child welfare system. Educators, social workers, law enforcement officials, medical professionals, and foster parents are encouraged to attend the forums to share their insights and suggestions. Information gathered by the forums will be presented and taken into consideration by the Task Force. The next meeting is scheduled for Tuesday, Nov. 18 in Lincoln. All concerned citizens are invited to any forum. A Monday, Nov. 10 forum will be held in West Point at the Cuming

What a change a couple of weeks makes

Icy weather and windy conditions brought down many trees in the area on Monday. The photos above show what the change in weather has done. Nichols shares his story of being in Iraq

By Lynn Sievers
Of the Herald

Army National Guard Specialist Ryan Nichols, who has been in Iraq for the past six months, has been home on leave for two weeks. He left this past Tuesday to return to Iraq for another six months. He is with the 1057 Transportation Company out of Scottsbluff.

Nichols graduated from Wayne High School in 1997 and signed up with the National Guard in Kearney. From there he was transferred to the Scottsbluff unit. On Jan. 21, he was activated to go to Iraq. First his company had to go to Fort Carson, Colo. for three months of training. Then, they were sent to Kuwait to get climatized before going into Iraq.

"We had been at Fort Carson in mid-winter," Nichols said. "They didn't want us to go into shock when we went into Iraq in temperatures anywhere from 140 to 150 degrees."

In transportation, Nichols' unit ran a lot to camps through most of Iraq (except in the northern part). They haul anything in their trucks from troops and equipment to supplies and food. When he was first

Local business is victim of early morning robbery

Officers of the Wayne Police Department responded to an early morning report of a burglary at the Pac N Sav grocery store located at 1107 West 7th Street on Oct. 29.

Officers got the call shortly before 4 a.m. when a delivery driver called the police department to report the burglary.

At this time the police department has not identified the suspect and believes there may be more than one person involved. The suspect(s) ransacked the office area, apparently looking for cash, and were apparently in the process of stealing a large quantity of groceries and cigarettes when the delivery driver arrived. For all of their work the suspect(s) came up empty handed. They didn't find any money and they left their treasure trove of groceries and cigarettes behind.

Officers Haase and Swanson responded to the scene. When they arrived they found the suspects had fled but discovered several items of potential evidence. The officers conducted a crime scene investigation that led to the seizure of several items. The evidence collected is being sent to the Nebraska State Patrol Criminalistics Laboratory for further analysis.

A canvas of the apartment complex east of the grocery store generated no leads at this time. Wayne officers are contacting area agencies to see if any other community has had similar burglaries recently.

Wayne Police Chief Lance Webster said the suspect they are seeking is probably a male who smokes menthol cigarettes. Webster said the suspect was trying to steal several cartons of KOOL menthol cigarettes.

He asks that anyone who may have information related to this investigation call the Wayne Police Department at 375-2626 or Nebraska Crime Stoppers at (800) 422-1494.

Sgt. 1st Layne Beeza, right, discusses the Wayne National Guard unit with members of the Wayne Rotary Club during a recent Rotary meeting. He told the group about the function of the unit in the U.S. military.

Guard unit serves community

The National Guard in Wayne is currently known as Detachment 1 with the 198th Transportation Company in Norfolk. The two groups are combined into one unit.

There are 160 members in both Wayne and Norfolk, and of that number, 82 are in Wayne. Twenty-five percent of the members are college students. There are 10 women in the unit in Wayne and about the same number in Norfolk.

In the 1950s, the Wayne National Guard was known as the 568th Field Artillery Battalion and the army was located across from Wayne State College to the west of the college in the building which is now the WSC maintenance building.

The Wayne National Guard Armory on East Seventh Street in Wayne was built in 1963 and became the Mechanized Infantry Company-A (First Battalion 134th Infantry Company).

In 2001, the Wayne National Guard was changed from an infantry company to a transportation company. Its basic function is to transport supplies, equipment and material.

Changes have occurred at the Wayne National Guard lately and one of the reasons for this includes a restructuring of the military (National Guard Vs. Army). More of a combat service support role have been given to the National Guard and to the Reserves.

Other changes include remodeling that is ongoing at the Wayne Armory to increase the size and to accommodate the needs of the transportation company.

Nurse's license is suspended

The Nebraska Health and Human Services System has suspended the license of Kay A. Sharer, a nurse from Wayne.

Also known as Kay A. Pierson, Sharer was the subject of disciplinary action by the state for habitual intoxication or dependence on alcohol, as well as violating a protection order and obstructing a peace officer in July of 2002.

Concerned about safety

Dear Editor,
We would like to ask the Department of Roads to retain the traffic lights on the Wayne Main Street after the repaving project on Highway 15.
Our major concerns as citizens of Wayne are for the safety of pedestrians, especially seniors, children and the disabled.
The deadline to sign a petition which is located at the Wayne

Senior Center at 410 Pearl Street is Monday, Nov. 17. This is also the date of the public hearing to be held at the Wayne City Auditorium.
This petition is located at the Wayne Senior Center, but is available for all Wayne citizens to sign.
I am the person who initiated the petition.

Mable Tietgen,
Wayne

An old friend is gone

Recently, I had to say good-bye to an old friend of mine. I had to put my chocolate lab, Thomas, down. He was 10 years old and had not been acting like his old self for a month or so.

As the story goes, the vet informed me that he was losing kidney function rapidly and he had a bad case of arthritis in his left hip. It was only a matter of time before he died. The vet and I spoke two or three times over the next couple of weeks, discussing treatments. We tried a couple of things but nothing had worked. He, at that point, urged me to euthanize Thomas before the condition worsened. I struggled somewhat with decision. Each decision about the death of a dog is personal and different, dependent on context and circumstances. Dogs are voiceless. They can't tell us when it's time to die, even if they were capable of such abstract thought. That's something we have to decide for them, wielding our love, compassion, and common sense as best we can. The responsibility and decision, it seemed to me, was mine, not theirs. I put him down before he endured any prolonged suffering—my own choice, not a recommendation for others.

In the context of this most personal decision any dog owner ever makes, there are few universal truths. I ended up keeping Thomas alive for two months, until the day came when he fell three times coming across the door to greet me each time I entered the house. The next morning, I called the vet and I had it done the following day.

There's no Idiot's Guide for this question, no handbook for "when is the right time". The many points of view are strongly held. One vet I know says a dog should be euthanized "when it can no longer live the life of a dog—and only the owner knows when that really is." A breeder says she puts her dogs down when "their suffering exceeds their ability to take pleasure in life." A trainer I respect believes her dog should live as long as it can eat.

Another friend and dog lover says she always knows when it's time: "when the soul goes out of their eyes."

I'm not among those who believe dogs have souls, but I know what she means. There is a certain visceral "dogness" about dogs, an interest in people, food, squirrels, passing trucks, whatever—that's part of their individual spirits. When that disappears, it does seem the "soul" of the dog is gone.

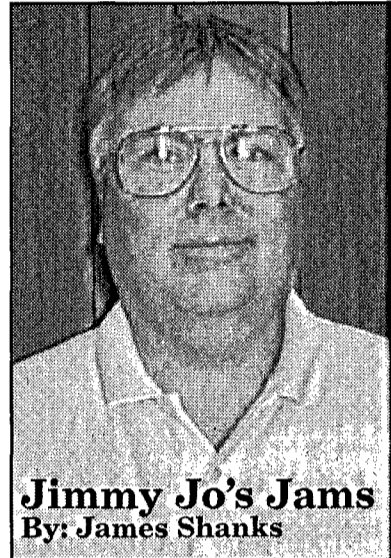

But I know other owners—a growing number, according to vets—who fight to keep their dogs alive as long as possible, at all costs.

Increasingly, we've come to see our dogs as human, childlike members of our families, companions that sometimes provide us with more emotional support than friends or spouses, more satisfaction than work, more support than we can find elsewhere. As a result, people are increasingly devastated by the loss of their dogs, more uncertain about how and when to put them down, more inclined to spend thousands of dollars on surgery, alternative cures, foods, and treatments that might prolong their lives.

As the co-owner now of a 9 month old Jack Russell Terrier, I sure I will spend, as will my wife, more than I can truly afford to keep him healthy and vigorous. But as my conversations with my mother reminded me, they are not people. Their lives and deaths ought not be conflated or confused with human losses.

To love dogs is to know death and to accept that there's never a time we are more morally obliged to speak for them than when they face the end of their lives.

I will miss Thomas everyday.

State treasurer's saga continues

By Ed Howard
Statehouse Correspondent
The Nebraska Press Association

The comedy, if there ever was any, has gone out of the situation in the office of State Treasurer Lorelee Byrd.

There is now the possibility that someone could be charged with a felony for trying to tamper with a witness, or bribe a state official.

Deputy Treasurer Mary Brock wrote a ridiculous letter to Gov. Mike Johanns, suggesting that he should interfere with the investigation by the State Patrol. She, or someone, apparently thought the governor was a poltroon who would be intimidated by the suggestion that failure to do so could ultimately subject him to political fallout.

Can you imagine? The governor rightly and immediately turned that preposterous missive over to the State Patrol.

Byrd might face a misdemeanor charge of malfeasance. That depends on whether Attorney General Jon Bruning decides to file charges. Some of her subordinates could be charged with interfering with a police investigation.

And now there is Brock's situation.

Perhaps the saddest thing about the whole thing is that it feeds the suspicions of those who think that no trust in the government is still too much. The violation of the public trust might arguably be worse than the violations of law.

The whole mess began when

Byrd wrote those state checks worth some $300,000 and then canceled them. The investigation centered on whether she did it simply to protect her budget from a Legislature bent on reducing state expenditures. Byrd denies that such was her intent.

Byrd's original actions were bad enough, regardless of her intentions.

Now, state government faces what really is becoming a scandal.

What kind of atmosphere in Byrd's office might have led her employees to behave the way they did? Regardless of whether they broke the law, it's obvious that some weren't in a big hurry to do the duty of a good citizen and facilitate the investigation.

It appears that Bruning intends to follow this trail to wherever it might lead. Good.

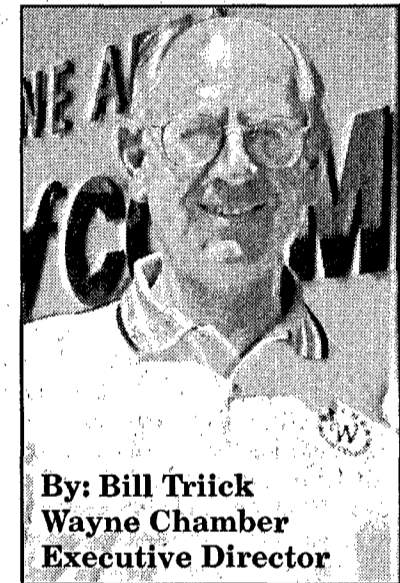

NEW BEGINNINGS!

In my last article I mentioned that the chamber board of directors was meeting to deliberate and decide on the main goals and objectives for the chamber for 2004. While we will have more details to release in the near future, I am able to say that specific plans are being finalized in four main areas: Preparation for Highway 15/Main Street Upgrading in 2006, Promotion of Wayne Businesses, Increased Special Events, and Continuing to Improve Communications among our Membership and the Business Community At Large in the Wayne Area.

The Dale Carnegie Customer Service At Its Best program was so well attended (over 90 participants) and so well presented, that we plan to continue our efforts to organize and entice quality programs to the Wayne area that can improve our own businesses and stimulate key employees.

Two more examples of such programs that are happening this month are an Introduction to Lean Manufacturing Systems and Microsoft Office Training. Chamber members have already heard about these two programs, but we want to share some of the information with the public at-large because there may be others who are interested.

The Nebraska Manufacturing Extension Partnership at the University of Nebraska-Omaha will be in town on Tuesday, Nov. 18 at Riley's Convention Center to talk about how Lean Manufacturing can help organizations, the benefits of Lean Manufacturing, and how organizations can participate in a Lean network in the Wayne area. Lean is a systematic method used to assess your company and to eliminate waste within a process.

This program is open to anyone; i.e., you do not have to be a chamber member. The 2-hour program beginning at 11 a.m. is free and includes a lunch provided through the generosity of Nebraska Public Power District (NPPD). An informational brochure is available at the chamber office and pre-registration is required.

Through a grant made available by chamber member IStaff Training and Development of Omaha, chamber members will be able to take advantage of instruction on Word, Excel, Outlook, PowerPoint, Front Page, and Access at beginner, intermediate, and advanced levels. Up to 40 participants may attend the sessions without charge that are scheduled between Nov. 12 and Dec. 17.

Additional information is available at the chamber office and advanced registration is required at IStaff 888-556-7568 or via dbruce@Istaff.com. In this case, the daylong sessions will take place at IStaff's training facility in Norfolk.

I had the opportunity last week to visit with some community and business leaders in Cherokee, Iowa, about their current experience with their downtown business district being repaved. The Wayne group organized by Marty Summerfield, President of Wayne Industries, traveled to Cherokee on Thursday and gained some very useful insight into how they planned and are handling the construction project. This insight along with similar insights gleaned from other visits should be very helpful to the chamber and Wayne Industries members as the preparation process goes forward looking to 2006.

Remember, Chicken Show collectibles remain on sale at the chamber office, we'll soon be calling for nominations for citizen and educator of the year, the Third Annual Chili Cook-Off will be this Friday, between 5 and 7 p.m. at the Wayne Vet's Club to which the public is invited, the Friday Coffee is at Heritage Express, and all in Wayne should get ready to entertain over 1,200 visitors to the area this Saturday, when WSC hosts the NCAA North Central Region Division II Cross Country Meet.

Until next time, remember, if there is anything that the chamber or Wayne Industries can do for you, please call us.

Main Street Focus

Update presented on activities in Wayne

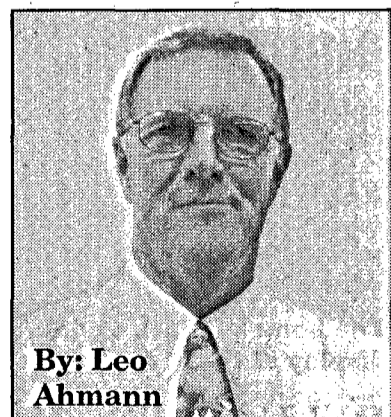

Stop lights... flashing signs... what's it going to be? Next week will be the second week of a Nebraska Department of Roads test to study the results of the signals at the corner of Second and Third Streets.

If you have a comment about the possible change in signals/signage on those corners, please contact the city, the Chamber or the Main Street Office (375-5062) so we can share with the Highway Department how the public feels, positive or negative.

There will be plenty of reminders, but the NDOR will have an important meeting here in Wayne, Monday, Nov. 17... at the City Auditorium. From 3 to 5 p.m. will be an Open House for people to come in and ask questions and at 7:30 p.m. will be a public meeting. Both are open to the public and YOU are encouraged to attend. If you don't want to speak, have someone do it for you.

It is important to know what to expect when Highway 15 is closed through downtown in 2006: Will there be any front door access to businesses? How many days will the reconstruction take? What will be the improvements that we will be able to see? What infrastructure improvements will take place? You will be able to ask questions and make comments on these and many more items on Monday, Nov. 17, right here in Wayne.

By: Leo Ahmann

You may feel like you've read this column two weeks ago... but, seriously, it's new! Friday, Nov. 7 is the due date for the wreaths and crafts to be donated to the Main Street Program for our Silent Auction to begin on Nov. 15. IT IS NOT TOO LATE TO ENTER YOUR WREATH AND/OR CRAFT !!! The silent auction concludes with our "Holidazzle" on Saturday, Nov. 29 (more later).

Last Thursday, Lowell Johnson, Bill Triick, Lois Shelton, Marty Summerfield, Jack Hausmann, Randy Pedersen, Galen Wiser and myself made a trip to Cherokee, Iowa to see first hand the reconstruction of their Main Street. Their project is a four-block project and although not a highway project, it has been a serious adjustment for the merchants and the public. We had the opportunity to visit with some of their city officials and ask questions regarding their situation with a major portion of their downtown retail area.

The group came back with some great answers and ideas how Wayne can add to preparations that already have been prepared for our downtown reconstruction.

Tying into that topic, on Friday of this week, the City's Highway 15 Taskforce had their first meeting. Because of press deadlines, I do not have any information I can give you, but the Chamber and City reports are on the radio, along with the Main Street Report on Tuesdays on "The View from Wayne America" on KTCH at approximately 9:07 a.m. I will try to bring you up to speed on what was discussed at that time. Tune in and keep updated. In my next column, I will give you an update as well. Communication will be paramount in this whole endeavor and I personally look for a committee to be formed that will tackle that task.

"Holidazzle" tickets are now available for sale at all the banks and the Main Street Office. Tickets are $5 per person in advance and $7 per person at the door. It is a very inexpensive ticket for an evening of food, fun and entertainment. Iraq in Iraq he noted his job of transporting items and personnel was non-stop but it is slowing down now. At first there were no trains running through Iraq but there are quite a few now and a lot of personnel, fuel, cargo, etc. is hauled that way.

Overall, the Iraqi people are happy our troops are there helping to change their lives. But, in some towns, many are upset that they had running water and electricity before the war started and three months after the war, they were still without.

A good thing that has happened though is that by having Americans there, it has helped the economy.

"You can buy most anything from the Iraqi people along the roads and in the towns," Nichols said. And, to help the economy there, the military is hiring Iraqi civilians by and giving them jobs of stocking shelves, picking up trash, etc."

Nichols noted that Americans are not the only soldiers there, they're from all over the world. Recently, a large proportion of U.S.

soldiers are National Guard troops. Nichols said life for the soldiers in Iraq is getting better. At first, it was so hot there with no air conditioning but now there's AC in the tents. And, best of all, there are porcelain toilets not wooden out houses anymore. Plus, there are chow halls with decent food so they don't have to just eat MRE meals anymore.

"We don't eat the Iraqis' food," Nichols said. "We do get bottled water there which is tested. Several times they've had to get rid of the supply because there's diesel fuel or human feces in it. Some soldiers have gotten pretty sick. Other problems are sand fleas which are infected with leishmaniasis and some are getting sick from that and throughout Iraq there is still a constant threat of being ambushed or coming into contact with explosives."

Other awful things soldiers have to put up with include scorpions, camel spiders, lizards and snakes.

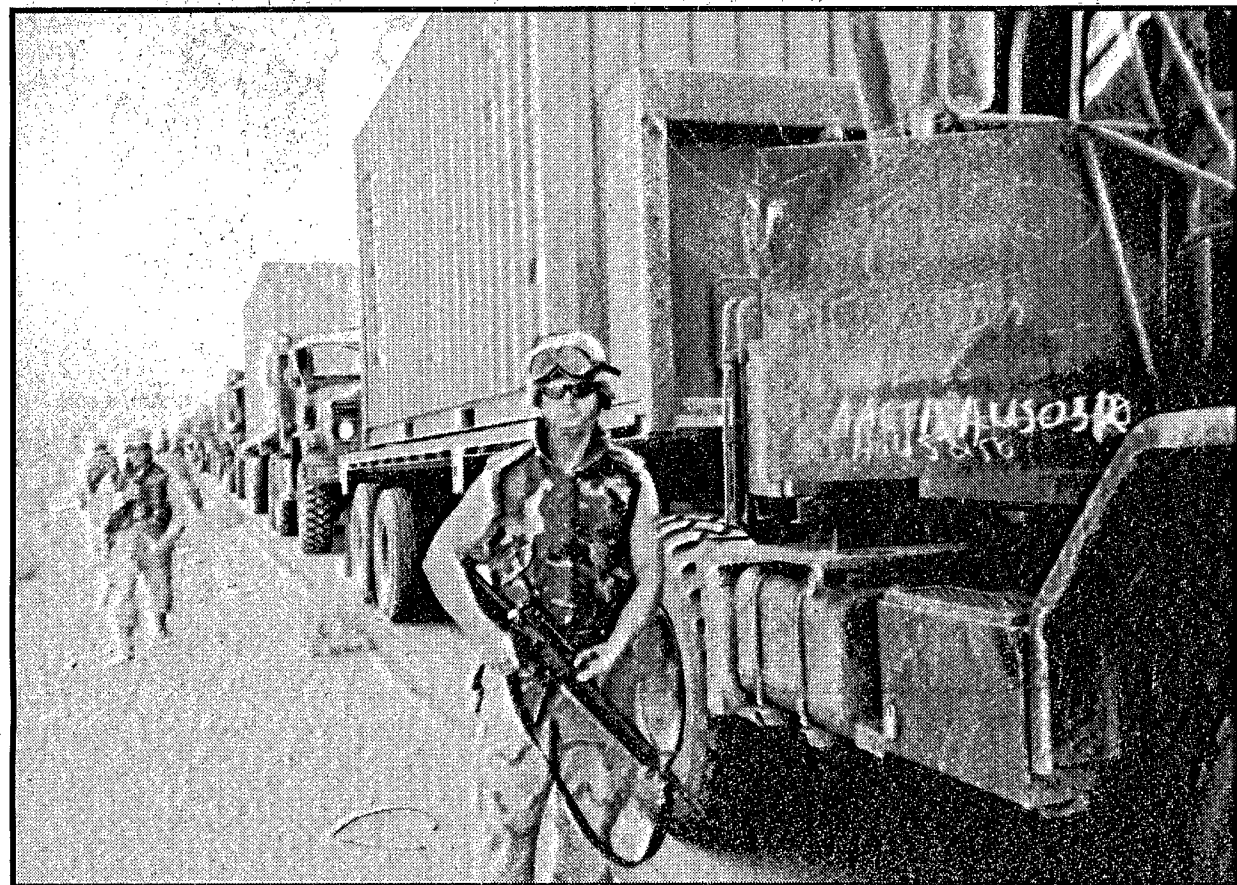

Nichols is looking forward to getting his job done and returning home. While he's in Iraq, though, he's taking advantage of seeing some sights during some time off.

He has seen the birthplace of Abraham. And, he's seen some tombs and temples dated back to 3,000 B.C.

"When I go back," Nichols said. "I'm taking a tour of Babylon."

Nichols grew up in Wayne, moving here with his family when he was in the first grade. After graduating from Wayne High, he enrolled at Wayne State College but only got a semester in before having to go to boot camp. He transferred to UNK, going into Biology/Wildlife but decided there weren't many jobs in that field so dropped out. In Wayne he had been a welder for John Etter (John's Welding & Tool) so decided he would get an associate degree in welding at Milford. When he returns from Iraq, he plans to finish at Milford. He has been accepted at welding engineer school in Michigan so will transfer there and get a four-year degree.

Nichols' parents are Gary and Ilene Nichols of Wayne. He has two older sisters, Deanna Kleinsmith of Solon, Iowa. She and her husband, Hal, have a son, Ely, who is four and a daughter, Selma, who is one. His sister, Tara Schwartz, lives in Exeter with her husband, Dean.

Army National Guard Specialist Ryan Nichols stands by some of the trucks they use for transportation in Iraq.

during that time also.

Appreciation expressed

Connie Dangberg, Manager of Heritage Express, left, accepts a plaque from Leo Ahmann, Executive Director of Main Street Wayne during Main Streets' latest Pretzel and Pop event which recognizes those businesses which are new or have expanded. During the event, Mrs. Dangberg surprised her guests with homemade Halloween goodies.

Trio Travel under new ownership

After nearly 20 years as owners of Trio Travel, Dick and Becky Keidel have sold their business.

Effective Nov. 3, the business is owned by Vickie Rauner and Jason Schulz. It will now be located at 311 North Main Street in the Quality One Graphics building.

Both Rauner and Schulz are Wayne High School graduates. Vickie recently returned to the Wayne community after having been in the travel business in Lincoln for approximately 13 years.

The Keidels have been a part of the Wayne community since 1967 and are graduates of Wayne State College.

"Twenty years ago we were looking for a building to purchase to use for office space. When the building at 100 Main Street came up for sale, it had a travel agency in it. We had not specifically planned to own a travel agency," Becky said.

The couple did receive the necessary bonding requirement to run the agency and Becky ran the business while Dick continued his work as a pharmacist in Wakefield.

"We feel fortunate to have found someone who is willing to invest their time and talents in Wayne. We hope people will support this venture as they have supported us," Becky said.

Becky noted that she will miss the daily contact with people, but will not miss the "fickleness of the airlines."

During the time they have been in the travel business, the Keidels have provided programs to schools and groups on different locations throughout the world that they have visited, led a number of motorcoach tours, visited Europe twice and led square dance tours to different U.S. cities.

Trio Travel offers air travel, cruises, package offers to anywhere, motorcoach tours and can book automobile and hotels for those traveling to various parts of the world.

Melanie Krueger, who has been employed at Trio Travel for 15 years, will continue as office manager.

The Keidels plan to retire and travel. They would like to spend more time visiting their son Jeff in Michigan and daughter, Bethany and Rick Smart and two granddaughters, Ksenia and Annika in Maine.

For more information on Trio Travel, call 375-2670 or 1-800-542-8746.

Tour of homes set for Carroll

Editor's note: This is the second in a series of articles on the Showcase of Homes Event to be held in Carroll later this month as a fund-raiser for the Carroll Volunteer Fire Department.

Among the homes to be featured in this year's Showcase of Homes to be held in Carroll on Friday and Saturday, Nov. 21-22 is that belonging to Dick and Bev Hitchcock.

The home was the original Baptist Church in Carroll. When the new church was completed in 1913, the old structure was moved to the south end of Carroll.

The home had several owners before the Hitchcocks purchased it when they were married in 1975. They noted that they have done a considerable amount of work on the house since that time.

"The home holds many memories of raising children and entertaining family and friends through the years," Bev said.

The Hitchcocks have retained most of the original woodwork and have one original stained glass window in the living room.

The holiday decor in the Hitchcock home consists of lots of family memories and craft work. Bev enjoys making scenes with her decorations, many of which are ceramics she has made. Included are farm scenes, snowmen, Santas, sports, religious and patriotic themes. She noted that she likes "to mix old memories with new trends."

"With the help of my family and friends, I hope everyone enjoys our Showcase of Homes. The Carroll Fire Department is a wonderful cause."

Also being showcased is the home of Mark and Joni Tietz.

The couple purchased the home in 1989 from Florenz and Paula Niemann and moved it from its original location east of Winside to 408 Jones Street in Carroll.

Mark did major remodeling to the home in 1998 and continues to make minor changes to the decor. The home will be decorated with at least 12 Christmas trees, each done in a different theme.

The bedroom of the Tietz's son, Brent will be decorated with a law enforcement theme, as he is studying for a career in law enforcement. Their daughter Lyndi's room will have a retro theme. Another room will have a log cabin theme. Also among the trees will be a Bride's tree, featuring hand-blown German decorations.

Decorations will also adorn the outside of the Tietz home.

Tickets for the Showcase of Homes, which will run from 6 to 9 p.m. on Friday, Nov. 21 and from 9 a.m. to noon on Saturday, Nov. 22, can be purchased at Farmers State Bank in Carroll or State National Bank in Wayne.

Dick and Bev Hitchcock's home was originally the Baptist Church in Carroll.

The home of Mark and Joni Tietz will be among those on display at the Showcase of Homes

Blue Devils face Logan View in district final

Wayne outlasts Wisner-Pilger in sub district volleyball final

The Wayne High volleyball team outlasted Wisner-Pilger in a classic match Monday evening to claim the Class C1-4 Sub-District Volleyball Tournament at Norfolk High School.

The 15-9, 16-18, 15-10 win over the Gators sets up a rematch with Logan View in the C1-2 District final scheduled for tonight (Thursday) in Wisner at 7 pm. Wayne topped Logan View in last year's district final 15-13, 14-16, 15-11.

Earlier in the evening, the Blue Devils handled West Point in the semi-finals 15-4, 15-3.

Monday's meeting with Wayne (28-3) and Wisner-Pilger (26-5) was the third time the teams faced each other this season. Wayne downed the Gators in the opening week of the season with Wisner-Pilger gaining revenge at the Madison Tournament in early October. Both matches went three games and, to no surprise, so did Monday's matchup.

Wayne took control of the first game early by jumping to an 11-1 lead. The Blue Devils would go on to win the first game 15-9.

The second game saw the two teams battle back and forth until Wayne picked up a three point lead at 9-6. The Blue Devils actually had match point in the second game at 14-11, but could not polish off the Gators. Wisner-Pilger would forge a third and deciding game in the match after posting an 18-16 win.

Wisner-Pilger jumped out to an early 3-1 lead in the third game, but the Blue Devils fought back to score the next three points to gain a 4-3 lead.

The two teams continued to battle in the lengthy match before Wayne was able to finish off the Gators 15-10 to earn the win.

"The team played at such a high level the entire match," said head coach Joyce Hoskins. "They never lost their intensity or focus and stepped up to the challenge against a very powerful team."

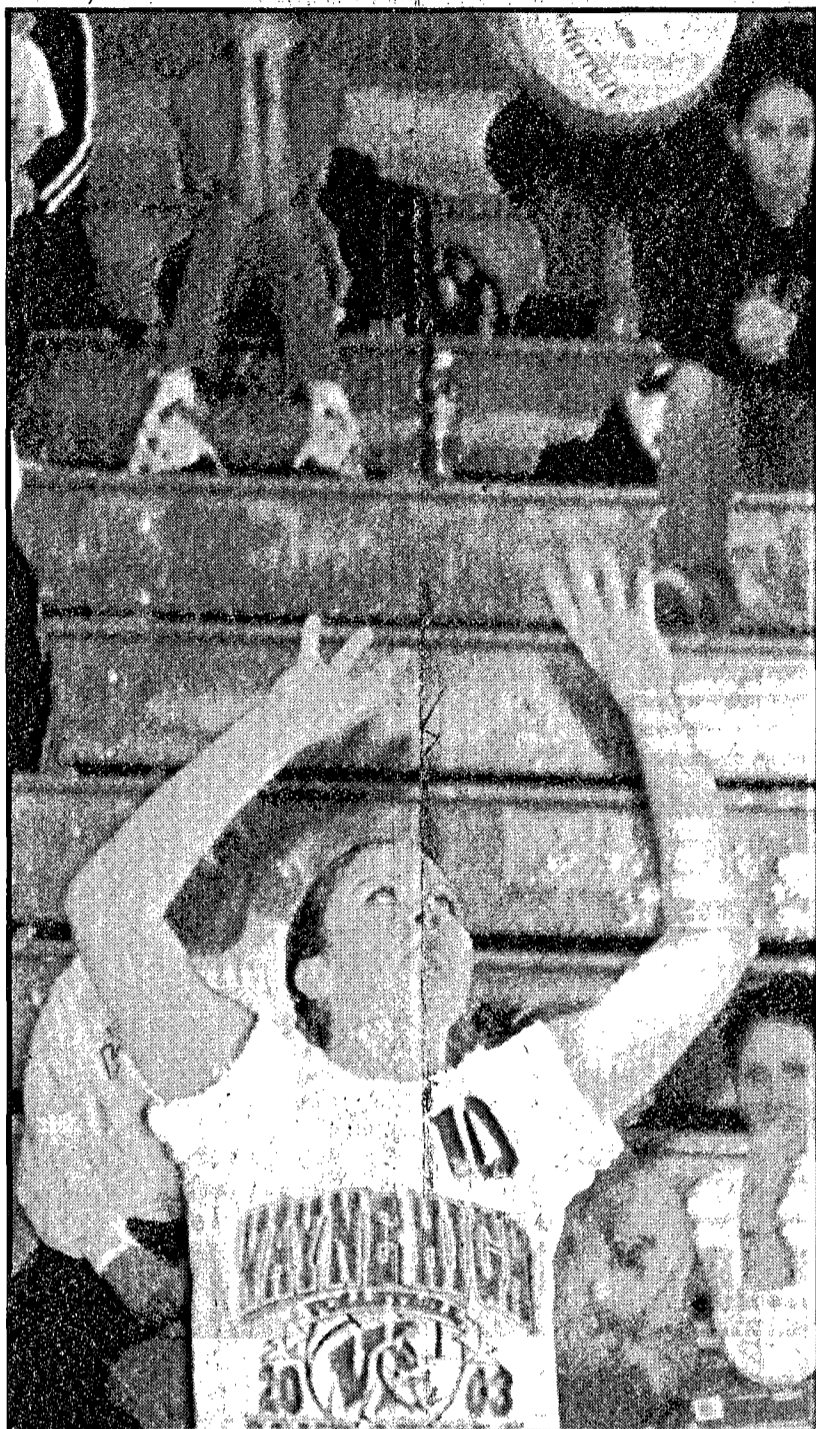

Karissa Hochstein pounded out 25 kills in the win for Wayne with Allison Hansen adding 15. Both players also reached double digit figures in digs with Hochstein recording 14 and Hansen notching 11.

Rachel Jensen led a balanced Blue Devil defensive effort with 17 digs. Sarah Jensen had 14 digs with Stacie Hoeman adding 13. Micaela Weber dished out 40 set assists in the win.

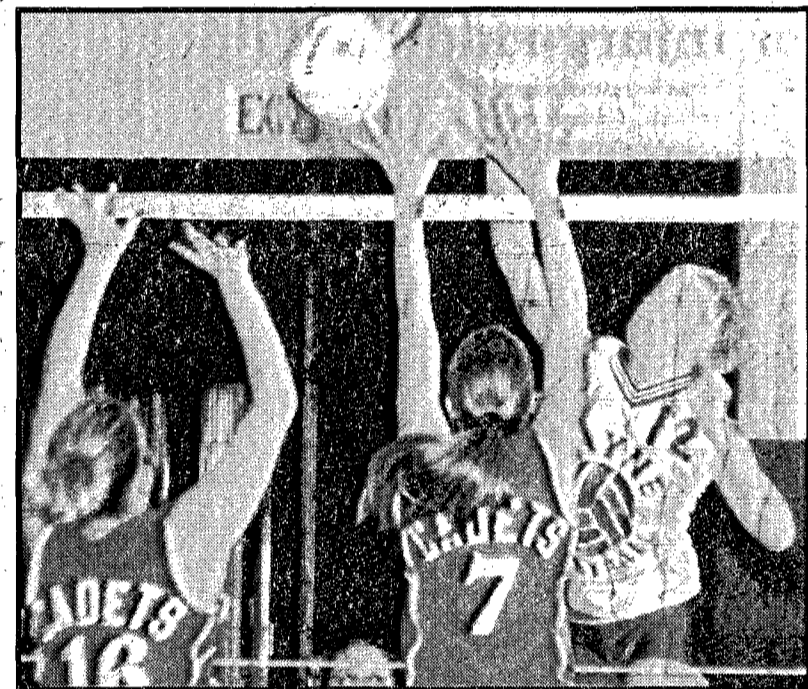

Coach Hoskins added, "I think our defense was the deciding factor in the game."

In the win over West Point, Hansen had 12 kills to pace Wayne in hitting. Hochstein contributed 10 kills and Hoeman produced six. Sarah Jensen had a team-high eight digs with Rachel Jensen adding six. Weber handed out 26 set assists and Hansen knocked down three aces to lead Wayne in serving.

The winner of the Wayne/Logan View match earns an automatic berth to the Class C1 State Tournament in Lincoln next weekend while the loser has a good chance of earning a wild card berth to state.

Wayne setter Michaela Weber looks to get the ball to one of her hitters in the Blue Devils' win over Wisner-Pilger.

Wayne senior hitter Allison Hansen spikes the ball past a block set up by West Point's Jena Recker (16) and Carly Broekemeier (7).

Randolph eliminates Laurel-Concord volleyball team

Randolph rallied from a one set deficit to edge Laurel-Concord Monday evening 6-15, 16-14, 16-14 in the Class C-2 Sub-District 5 championship game played at Wayne State's Rice Auditorium.

The Bears advanced to the title game by downing Lutheran High Northeast 15-4, 15-5 earlier in the evening.

"We did many things well at different points throughout the evening, but the nature of the sport requires that you compete from start to finish," remarked L-C head coach Patti Cunningham. "It was disappointing to not sustain the intensity needed to earn the right to play in the district finals."

Maggi Recob's 15 kills paced the Lady Bears in the win over Lutheran High. Angie Peters added nine kills and Laura Troyer had three.

Laurel-Concord had nine ace serves in the win, led by Kristin Koch with four. Makayla Hansen contributed 27 set assists.

Tiffany Erwin had five digs to lead a balanced defensive attack. Hansen and Lori Pritchard followed with four each.

In the sub-district final against Randolph, Recob accounted for 20 kills with Peters adding 13. Both players had two blocks each.

Defensively, Erwin had a team-high 11 digs with Hansen adding nine. Hansen dished out 36 set assists and had two ace serves along with Koch.

Laurel-Concord finishes the season with a 14-9 record.

Wakefield volleyball team earns sub district wins

The Wakefield volleyball team notched two wins Monday evening to capture the Class C2-4 Sub-District Tournament played at South Sioux City.

The Trojans topped Homer 15-9, 15-11 in the semi-finals, then defeated Emerson-Hubbard 15-10, 15-9 in the sub-district final.

Katie Jensen produced 10 kills and eight digs in the win over Homer. Vanessa Nelson added seven kills and six digs while Nicki Greve added four kills and a team-high 15 digs.

Gina Dutcher dished out 19 assists and had eight digs with Amanda Nelson contributing 10 assists and six digs. Jaimy Albrecht added nine digs in the win.

Jensen's six digs, 13 kills and four ace serves helped Wakefield down Emerson-Hubbard. Vanessa Nelson followed with five kills and Alissa Bressler added four.

Greve accounted for 11 digs with Albrecht adding seven. Dutcher handed out 10 set assists with Amanda Nelson contributing seven.

Allen spikers advance to district final

The Allen volleyball team knocked off rival Newcastle Tuesday evening 8-15, 15-10, 15-11 in the Class D2-3 Sub-District Volleyball Tournament final played at Randolph.

The 22-5 Eagles, who rallied from a one-set deficit in Monday's semi-final win over Bloomfield, now face Clearwater in the Class D2 District 2 final Friday evening at Wausa starting at 7:30 pm.

"I think we have yet to play our best game," said head coach Denise Hingst following Tuesday's win over Newcastle. She added, "We need to come out strong and finish strong with no lapses in the middle. We looked to our bench tonight to help with this win."

Senior Kelli Rastede led the Allen hitting attack with 12 kills in the win over Newcastle. Alycia Stewart followed with 10.

Lindsay Swetnam and Rastede each produced five digs with Stewart, Codi Isom, Samantha Bock and Jennifer Keitges adding four apiece.

Keitges led the Eagles in blocks with three while Bock had a team-high three ace serves to go with 22 set assists. Diana Diediker contributed eight set assists.

Statistics on the Bloomfield game were not available at press time. Allen won the match over the Bees, 10-15, 15-6 and 15-1.

Allen senior hitter Andrea Liebsch blasts the ball past a Newcastle defender in Tuesday's sub-district final win at Randolph High School.

Uldrich scores twice in 22-8 win over Dodge

Allen wins first-ever football playoff game

A rock solid defense on a bone chilling night helped the Allen Eagles top Dodge 22-8 last Thursday evening in the qualifying round of the Class D-2 high school football playoffs in Allen.

The win by the 8-1 Eagles was the school's first-ever in post-season play.

Allen used a ball control offense and a stingy defense to hold back the visiting Pirates. The Eagles ran 64 plays to 45 for Dodge while holding the Pirates to just 144 yards of total offense.

"The kids played outstanding defense," stated head coach Dave Uldrich. "Dodge averaged 353 yards per game and to hold them to 144 was impressive."

The Eagles struck first on a 45-yard scoring drive midway through the first quarter to take an 8-0 lead. Senior quarterback Corey Uldrich scored on a one-yard plunge at the 3:28 mark, then connected with Duane Rahn on a two-point pass play to give Allen the early lead.

Allen had to move the ball into a stiff, northwest breeze in the second quarter on the ground. A 55-yard scoring drive concluded with Uldrich finding Rahn on a six-yard scoring strike to push the Eagles lead to 14-0 with 6:47 left in the second period.

The Eagles defense stopped two Dodge scoring threats late in the first half. The first stop came on downs as Allen stopped the Pirates ground game inside the 15 yard line. The second stop came when Bart Sachau picked off a Dodge pass in the endzone with 38 seconds left in the first half.

Both teams played excellent defense in a scoreless third quarter, although each team suffered two turnovers.

Early in the fourth quarter, Allen's Andrew Sachau deflected a pass by Dodge quarterback Scott Ruskamp, which was intercepted by Aaron Smith, and returned to the Dodge 22-yard line.

The Eagles then drove slowly into the endzone as Uldrich capped the scoring drive with a one-yard sneak. Uldrich's two point run helped the Eagles take a 22-0 lead with 6:48 remaining.

Dodge made their lone score of the evening at the 5:16 mark when Brian Ortmeyer carried the ball over from 12 yards out. Luke Eikmeier ran in the two point conversion to cut the Eagle lead to 22-8.

Following an Allen punt, Dodge was moving the ball again when Uldrich picked off a Pirate pass and returned it to the 21 yard line, stopping the Dodge scoring threat. The Eagles then ran their way to a pair of first downs to milk the remaining time off the clock and preserve the win.

Coach Uldrich said it was a complete team victory.

"The 'South Creek boys' did a great job in the trenches, while we had great defensive efforts from our corners, safeties and middle backer."

Offensively, Allen put up 209 yards of total offense while holding Dodge to just 144. The Eagles had 12 first downs to five for the Pirates.

Uldrich led the Eagles rushing attack, carrying the ball 34 times for 132 yards and two touchdowns. Bart Sachau added 29 yards on 10 carries and Aaron Smith picked up 10 yards on six rushes. Throwing the ball, Uldrich was 4 of 11 for 34 yards with one touchdown and one interception.

Sachau hauled in two passes for nine yards. Smith added one catch for 19 yards and Rahn made one reception for six yards and a touchdown.

Defensively, the Eagles were led by Duane Rahn and Uldrich with 13 tackles each. Scott Blohm and Andrew Sachau chipped in 11 apiece. Uldrich picked off two passes while Aaron Smith and Sachau added one interception each.

The Eagles were scheduled to play at Wynot Wednesday evening in the second round of the playoffs. Allen edged Wynot in the regular season, 42-40 in overtime, in a game played in Allen Sept. 19.

Allen senior quarterback Corey Uldrich looks to outrun a Dodge defender for yardage in last Thursday's playoff game in Allen. Uldrich rushed for 132 yards and scored two touchdowns in the Eagles' 22-8 win over the Pirates.

Bart Sachau of Allen intercepts a Dodge pass late in the first half to stop a Pirate scoring threat.

The Warriors received 58 points and four first place votes. Northern State was a close second with 54 points and two first place votes.

Minn.-Duluth was tabbed third with 48 points and one first place vote while Bemidji State snagged the fourth position with 45 points and one first place vote.

Southwest State and Wayne State both received 35 points with the Mustangs receiving the final first place vote.

Rounding out the poll were MSU-Moorhead, Concordia-St. Paul and Minn.-Crookston.

Wayne State's Todd Klosterman was selected by league coaches as a player to watch in the NSIC. The 6'6 senior from Manchester, Iowa led the Wildcats in scoring last season with 16.5 points and 6.8 rebounds per game to receive First Team All-NSIC honors as a junior.

The Wildcats were 13-15 overall last season and finished fifth in the NSIC with an 11-7 league record.

Wayne State opens the 2003-04 season on the road at Chadron State on Saturday, Nov. 15. The Wildcats first home game is Nov. 21 against Briar Cliff.

WSC women picked seventh in preseason coaches poll

The Wayne State College women's basketball team was picked to finish in seventh place in the Northern Sun Conference according to the 2003-04 NSIC preseason coaches poll released on Oct. 23.

Minn.-Duluth was selected by league coaches as the favorite in 2003-04 while UMD's Lindsey Dietz was tabbed as the NSIC preseason player of the year.

The Bulldogs received four first place votes and 60 points in the poll after earning its 10th regular season title in the last 14 years with a 15-3 NSIC record.

Allen defensive end Duane Rahn tackles Dodge running back Joe Wisniewski in last Thursday's playoff game. The senior led the Eagles defense with 13 tackles.

Concordia-St. Paul too much for injury-riddled Wildcats

Playing without five starters due to injury or illness, the Wayne State football team dropped a 49-7 contest at Concordia-St. Paul Saturday afternoon.

The Golden Bears, 7-2 overall and 6-1 in the NSIC, racked up 699 yards of total offense against the Wildcats in the lopsided victory.

"It was kind of a mismatch," said WSC head coach Scott Hoffman. "They had a number of big plays and we can't match a team like that score for score, especially without some of our top guns."

Missing Saturday's game for the Wildcats were starting wide receivers Eric Kjar (ankle) and Ryan Kuester (illness) along with starting linebackers Aaron Rogers (concussion) and Craig Baxa (back) and starting defensive end Matt Schaapveld (knee).

Concordia-St. Paul's big play offense struck twice in the first quarter to take an early 14-0 lead, scoring on a 60-yard pass play and a 59-yard run.

Wayne State cut the deficit to seven points at 14-7 when Zach Molacek sprinted 10 yards for a score with 2:32 remaining in the first quarter.

But the Golden Bears put up two more scores in the second quarter to take a commanding 28-7 half-time advantage.

Concordia-St. Paul would score twice in the third quarter and once more in the fourth to make the final score 49-7.

"They're probably the fastest team in the conference," added Hoffman.

Offensively, Wayne State gained 311 total yards in the game, 149 on the ground and 162 passing. Concordia-St. Paul had 699 yards with 348 on the ground and 351 passing.

The Wildcat rushing attack was led by Molacek with 75 yards on 14 carries and one score. Mell Holliday added 60 yards on six attempts.

After losing the first set, Coleridge rallied to top the Wildcats 10-15, 16-14, 15-5. Statistics on the game were not available at press time.

Winside ends the season with a record of 3-18.

Late goal lifts Wayne State women's soccer team to NSIC Tournament victory

A goal by Wayne State's Tanya Mitchell with just 28 seconds left in regulation lifted the Wildcats to a 1-0 win over Northern State Tuesday afternoon in the first round of the NSIC Soccer Tournament played in Aberdeen, S.D.

The fifth-seeded Wildcats, now 6-12-2 on the season, will face top-seed Minn.-Duluth in the semi-finals on Friday at 4 pm in St. Paul, Minn. after the Bulldogs blanked Concordia-St. Paul 5-0 Tuesday in Duluth.

Northern State held Wayne State to just two shots in the first period while attempting seven shots. Both teams got off seven shots in the second half.

Anne Paulsen was credited with an assist on the game-winning goal by Mitchell.

Norfolk senior Erika Mather recorded a shutout in goal for the Wildcats, credited with three saves in the win.

Mitchell had four of the Wildcats' nine shots in the game. Amanda Keller followed with three shots.

Wayne State used a pair of wins at home last weekend to qualify for the NSIC Tournament.

The Wildcats scored three goals in a span of 12 minutes to top Minn.-Crookston Friday afternoon 3-1, then scored an exciting 1-0 overtime win over Bemidji State Saturday.

In Friday's game with Crookston, the visiting Golden Eagles scored at the 29:30 mark of the second period to take a 1-0 lead. But the Wildcats responded with three goals to rally for the win.

Senior Anne Paulsen scored less than one minute later, at the 30:05 mark of the second period, to tie the game at 1-1.

Defender Brea Rath followed by scoring the game-winning goal on an assist from Michaela Blaylock at 38:19 of the second period to give the Wildcats the lead for good at 2-1.

Amanda Keller capped off the win with a goal at the 43:12 mark of the second period on an assist from Tanya Mitchell to make the final score 3-1.

Freshman goalkeeper Mishaline LeRoy was credited with four saves in the win. WSC outshot Minn.-Crookston 14-6.

WSC Head Coach Rollie Bullock said his team deserved its first come-from-behind win of the season.

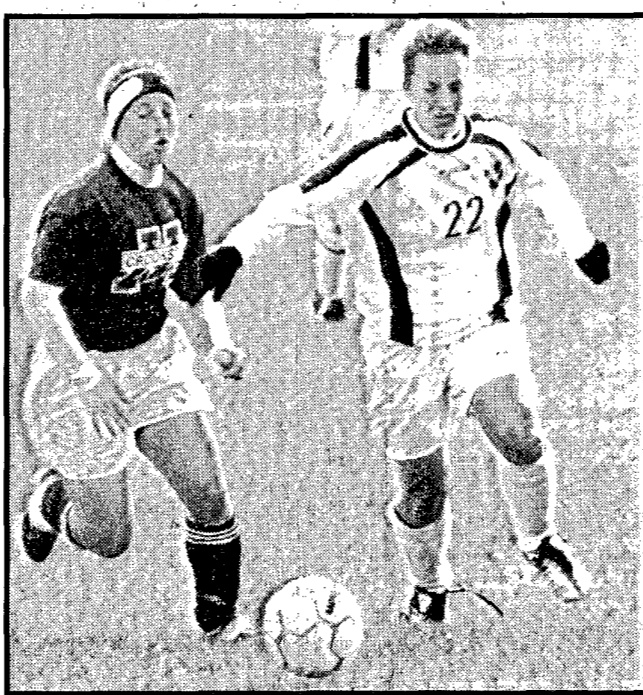

"The girls put their hearts and minds to it and knew what they had to do," said Bullock.

Saturday's game with Bemidji State saw the Wildcats score the only goal of the game in the closing seconds of the first overtime to post a 1-0 win over the Beavers.

Mary Anne Liebenritt scored on an assist from Brea Rath with six seconds left in the first overtime for the game's only goal.

"We're finally getting some breaks at the right time of the season," stated coach Bullock.

Wayne State held a 21-12 advantage in shots over the Beavers. Goalkeeper Erika Mather notched three saves for the Wildcats in the win.

Wayne State's Anne Paulsen battles a Minn.-Crookston player for the ball during the Wildcats' 3-1 win over the Golden Eagles last Friday in Wayne.

Amanda Keller, a senior forward from Fredonia, Wis., would score a goal on this shot against Minn.-Crookston.

Wayne students visit Germany

Three Wayne High School students, Jeff Meyer, Adem Rudin and Nathan Shapiro, having finished their second year of German, spent nearly four weeks in Germany.

Most of the time was spent with their partner school in Steinheim, accompanied by Edith Zahniser, their teacher.

All of them lived with German families - Adem and Nathan staying with their exchange-partners from last October.

On school days, the Wayne students went to their host brother/sister/s classes or went to English classes where they served as a resource on questions about the U.S.A. The threesome became so popular with some of the classes that they were asked to autograph pencil cases and backpacks. They were also asked for e-mail addresses.

Among the students' favorite classes were French, Chemistry and Drama.

The group went on a number of field trips, usually accompanied by Steinheim students who had been to Wayne in October of 2002.

They visited Paderborn, famous for having served as one of Charlemagne's residences, which is a university town with a great cathedral. The students toured both this church and a small synagogue.

Another field trip took them to Munster, the city where the Thirty Years War (the first total war in Europe which devastated the con-both the Steinheim and Wayne students.

The students learned much about German history, both on the continent) was brought to an end with the Westphalian Peace Treaty in 1648. The landmarks of earlier, violent religious strife following the Reformation surprised school-sponsored field trips and on excursions with their families. They saw the monument to Arminius, the leader of the German Cheruski tribe who defeated three Roman legions at the beginning of the first century. The also visited the palace at Detmold and the nearby living history museum, an outdoor museum featuring villages of half-timbered houses with gardens, ponds and fields.

The students enjoyed plenty of free time with their German friends. They played pool at one of the youth pubs, went on bike tours, had movie nights, played chess, ate mountains of ice cream and generally had a good time.

The Steinheim part of the trip, organized by Elisabeth Diekneite, who had brought students to Wayne on two exchanges, concluded with a brunch given by the Wayne group. It was the special thank you to the host families and the Steinheim GAPP spons-sors. After a tearful farewell the next morning, a six-hour train ride took the Wayne group to Munich in South Germany.

The five days in Barvaria's capitol provided more, and very different encounters with German history, including the sports complex of the ill-fated 1972 Olympic Games. Also included were Dachau, the memorial site of Nazi Germany's first concentration camp (1933) and at the University of Munich, the center of the anti-Nazi student resistance group THE WHITE ROSE and finally at Heimeran Street #4, the house where Nathan's grandmother left as a child in 1938.

Other high points were visits to the Alte Pinakothek in Munich, one of the world's great art museums and the Deutsches Museum, dedicated to the achievement of science and industry and celebrating its 100th birthday in 2003. Close to the hotel one evening, the group came upon an amazing sight - a seemingly endless stream of joyful inline skaters, young, old and in-between. It was one of the official skating-the-city events.

A day trip to Salzburg in the Austrian Alps offered a potpourri of impressions - lunch at a Japanese restaurant, a visit to Mozart's birthplace, a ride in a funicular to the fortress above the city and an old church where a young organ student was practicing.

The group had prepared for the exchange by meeting twice a month throughout the spring, learning about Germany and the U.S., assembling material for possible presentations. Students received financial support from the WHS German Club and the entire group was helped by the German-American Partnership Program.

This was the third exchange between Wayne and Steinheim. The Steinheim school hopes to continue the exchange in the future, even after the end of the German program here and hopes very much that there will be a teacher from Wayne to sponsor it.

Middle School celebrates Red Ribbon Week

Weekenders USA Coordinators, Connie Kirkpatrick, Barb Stout, Nancy Heithold and Rhonda Sebade display clothes they are sending to California.

Fashion coordinators send clothes to California friends

Nancy Heithold (Sales Manager), Barb Stout, Connie Kirkpatrick and Rhonda Sebade, all Fashion Coordinators with Weekenders, USA have friends in California that have lost everything in the California fires. These women are co-workers they have met at Conferences they have attended together as they expand their business, see the new fashions each season & learn from one another. "We decided to assist them by putting together a package of our fashion line to send to those women," Mrs. Heithold said.

"Hopefully, this will allow them to be clothed in their best dressed fashion line and continue to do their business. Most of all, knowing they have family all over the world willing to assist!!" Mrs. Heithold added.

Ak-Sar-Ben scholarships available

The Knights of Ak-Sar-Ben Foundation is now accepting applications for the 2004 Ak-Sar-Ben Leadership College Scholarship Program, made possible through funds raised at the annual Coronation Ball. All proceeds generated from this year's event, which was held Oct. 18 will benefit future award recipients. With the upcoming 2004 award cycle, the Foundation will again be awarding a $2,500 annual award for a full-time study at a four-year institution in Nebraska and western Iowa. To obtain an application form and a listing of eligibility requirements for the scholarship, students are encouraged to contact their high school guidance counselor.

Wayne Community Schools has been celebrating Red Ribbon Week, a week designated nationally to promote drug and alcohol prevention.

The tradition was started in memory of Drug Enforcement Agent (DEA) Enrique Camarena. While working undercover in Mexico in 1985 to gather information on local drug traffickers, Camarena's identity was discovered and he was abducted, tortured and killed.

The residents of his home town launched the red ribbon campaign to honor sacrifices made by Camarena and others like him and to fight the drug war with prevention.

Red Ribbon Week was authorized by Congress as a national celebration in 1988.

Members of the Wayne Middle School FRIENDs (Facts Raising Interest Ending Needless Drugs) Group led the Red Ribbon Week activities.

Adult sponsor for the group is Middle School Counselor Joan Sudmann. Officers include - Cheyanne Mrsny, president; Courtney Preston, vice president; Samantha Dunklau, secretary; Justine Carroll, treasurer and Megan Loberg, historian.

FRIENDs members visited each home room in the Elementary School on Oct. 24, explaining the purpose of Red Ribbon Week and handing out stickers, treats and posters.

In the Middle School, the building was decorated with posters and red ribbons and students participated in theme days, with stickers and treats.

Themes included: Oct. 27 - "United We Stand for a Drug Free Land" Day in which students and teachers wore red, white and blue.

Oct. 28 - "Being Drug Free Comes in Cans: You can, I can, We can!" A total of 259 cans and boxes of food were collected for the Wayne Food Pantry.

Oct. 29 - "Don't Get Mixed Up with Drugs." Students wore mismatched clothing.

Oct. 30 - "Put a Cap on Drugs" Day. Students wore hats to school.

Oct. 31 - "Wear Red Day." Students dressed in red and a contest was held for the best dressed students. Winners included:

Fifth and sixth grade - Gale Lawton, first; George Dunklau, second and Jacob Paustian, third.

Seventh and eighth grade - Kalie Sprouls, first; Elisabeth Lofgren, second and Michelle Hammer, third. Drug Free Youth Group will sponsor a junior high dance on Friday, Nov. 21 from 7 to 10 p.m. in the Middle School Commons.

Lots of Red was the norm at Wayne Middle School last Friday as the school concluded its celebration of Red Ribbon Week. Above are the seventh and eighth grade students who were selected from the individual homerooms before the first, second and third place winner were chosen.

Wigs, stocking caps and Nebraska clothing were among the items that were worn to school by Wayne Middle School fifth and sixth grade students during Wear Red Day. Above are the winners from each homeroom as well as the overall winners.

Have you been spammed?

Unwanted advertising sent via e-mail, or spam, has increased dramatically. Even if you are a careful consumer, you may still get more spam than you want or need. It can be annoying, embarrassing, and take up valuable time. Spam is difficult to block, ignore, or trace.

How do spammers find you anyway? Spammers use software to automatically scan web pages and "harvest" any e-mail addresses they may find. Some spammers send spam to likely e-mail addresses (jsmith65, jsmith66, etc). If you reply, they know your address is valid. E-mail addresses can also be picked up from chat rooms or from web sites with online registrations.

Here is what you can do to minimize spam arriving in your email inbox:

- Choose an e-mail address that is not easy to guess. Consider a mix of letters and numbers.
- Avoid posting your e-mail address on a public web site. If you must, consider using a graphic image file rather than text or try posting your address as johnsmith at isp.com.
- Don't respond, read, or even open mail from spammers. Replying to (or worse yet) purchasing a product advertised by spam can cause exponential growth in spam e-mail. Some spammers can even tell if your address is valid if you simply open an e-mail before discarding it. If your e-mail software previews new messages, you may want to disable it.
- Never click on an "unsubscribe" link listed in spam unless you trust the sender. This is a general ploy to find valid e-mail addresses.
- Check the privacy policy on web pages that require your e-mail address. Some may have no policy or a policy whereby they may share your information with "unnamed partners." Do your online shopping only with businesses you trust. Also remember to uncheck the box at the bottom of online forms that allows the site or its partners permission to send you non-essential information.

- Don't forward chain letters or virus warnings. They could be an attempt by spammers to verify e-mail addresses. If you receive a virus warning, remember there are many virus hoaxes in cyberspace. An excellent source of information for virus hoaxes can be found at: <http://vil.nai.com/vil/hoaxes.asp>. Remember, hoaxes generally predict catastrophic consequences (ex. your entire hard drive will crash), and ask you to send the message on to everyone you know.
- Use an Internet provider who filters e-mail for spam.
- Consider purchasing and installing spam blocking software on your computer.
- Consider using one e-mail address for family and friends and a separate one for all other uses. When the second e-mail address attracts too much spam you could abandon it for a new one.

These tips can help you to be a wise consumer in navigating an increasingly commercial World Wide Web.

Eagles Auxiliary gathers on Nov. 3

The Wayne Eagles Auxiliary met with President Cec Vandersnick heading the meeting. Vandersnick spoke of the Annual Hunters Breakfast which was scheduled for Nov. 1 and Nov. 2. She mentioned that the auxiliary could use servers for both mornings, and to check the supply donation list in the club. The club was to have a Steak Fry that evening.

Mylet Bargholz mentioned that the Watkins party was a success, and orders can still be taken throughout the end of the months. Thirty percent of all sales go to humanitarian projects in the area. Catalogs are at the club for all who wish to look at.

The Auxiliary voted and accepted three new applications for membership. On Saturday, Nov. 8 the Eagles Club will be part of the Bake Sale at the City Auditorium. Each Auxiliary member is asked to bring two baked items or make a donation of $5.

Several local by-laws to the Wayne Auxiliary are up for change. The first round approval was passed by the Auxiliary on Oct. 20, but will not officially pass until the group has voted three times. The changes touch on beneficial dues, to deceased member tribute funds, to increasing mileage pay to delegates attending State Convention. A full list of the corrected changes will be discussed in the meeting to follow, and will be in an upcoming meeting notes in the Herald.

The next meeting was scheduled for Nov. 3 with the state president visiting.

Horse Liniment Eases Arthritis Pain
OCALA, FL -- An ingredient derived from hot peppers that decreases inflammation in racehorses' legs, is now recognized as safe and effective for human use. The ingredient has been formulated into a product called ARTH-Rx™ and comes in a strength designed for humans. Researchers are excited and say the formula can relieve arthritis pain for millions. Developed by the Phillips Gulf Corporation, ARTH-Rx is a breakthrough in the treatment of painful disorders ranging from minor aches and pains to more serious conditions such as arthritis, bursitis, rheumatism, tendonitis, backache and more. Although the mechanism by which ARTH-Rx works to relieve pain is not totally clear, scientists suggest that pain is relieved because ARTH-Rx intercepts the messenger substance that sends pain signals to the brain. ARTH-Rx is available in a convenient roll-on applicator without a prescription. According to a spokesperson for the company, due to the overwhelming demand supplies are sometimes limited. ARTH-Rx can also be ordered by calling 1-800-729-8446. www.hcdsales.com ©2003 HCD

Karlan receives teaching award

Dr. Jean Karlen was recently honored as the 2003 George Rebensdorf Teaching Excellence Award recipient during an award banquet on the Wayne State College campus, Oct. 30. A professor of sociology, Karlen has been a faculty member at WSC for nearly 30 years.

The Rebensdorf Teaching Excellence Award is presented annually to a faculty member who demonstrates innovation and leadership in teaching and service in the Nebraska State College system. Administrators, fellow faculty, students, and alumni nominate candidates.

The award includes a $3,000 stipend funded through an endowment at US Bank. The endowment is managed by the Lincoln Community Foundation and is given in memory of George Rebensdorf, a former member of the Board of Trustees.

The hallmark of Karlen's career has been her commitment to involving students in service learning, according to Dr. Sheila Stearns, former president of Wayne State College. In 2002, Karlen was named the campus service-learning coordinator.

WEEKLY HEALTH TIP

Caregivers

Caregivers are so busy caring for someone else, they often neglect taking care of themselves. They are at high risk for illness, depression and fatigue. If you are a caregiver, it's important to accept or enlist the help of others. Eating well, getting adequate sleep and exercising regularly are vital in maintaining your own health. Stay connected to your church or faith community, they can often help. Arrange for others to relieve you and spend time doing something you enjoy. Take advantage of services offered in your community.

Search ends with finding sister

Do you readers remember when I talked about my adopted brother-in-law: who was born in the Wayne hospital? He was looking for family medical history, mainly; and I was trying to help out.

His birthday is August 10, 1945, and the family story was that his mother was a rural school teacher. I confess I couldn't help wondering if his birth mother was one of those wonderful rural teachers I knew 25 years ago. His birth name was Allen Schroeder, about as German a surname as they come. And there are lots of Schroeders.

Whenever he inquired at the bureau of vital statistics, or Child Savings Institute, he was given no information. His adoptive mother died a couple of years ago, and his search intensified.

I remember what it was like in the fifties. If there was an unwed mother, she usually became wed very soon. One of my high school classmates had to go to South Dakota to obtain a marriage license, as his girlfriend was only 15 and Nebraska law required age 16.

Of course, some of these women left the local area and stayed with relatives out of state. When they came home, the baby had been adopted. There have been some amazing stories about siblings finding each other; sometimes, they even worked for the same company.

We've had a retired San Francisco fireman as a guest because he has a half sister living at South Bend. He always knew he was born in Omaha and adopted, and when that mother died, he found his original birth certificate. With the birth mother's name, it wasn't difficult to find her, and a brother and sister with that woman. He also found a half sibling in Omaha just six months younger than he is! His father was a busy man.

Anyway, the last time Don checked at the bureau, he received by mail the name of his birth mother. She was from Emerson. Since my niece works at West Point Hospital, she got busy. Soon, she learned who the mother had married. This man was dead, and his mother had been killed in a motor vehicle accident a few years ago. But, her daughter had married a man from Wisner and she still lived there. Very soon, this half sister called my brother in law. Soon after that, they met. One of the first things she gave him was a framed photo of his birth mother.

Her name is Kay Breitkruezt. Some of you may know her. They have done a lot of talking and catching up; and met each other's families. Last week, they were featured on the front page of the Wisner Chronicle. I know this because my friend Connie Malchow Ullerich called me from Omaha on Saturday eve to say my name was mentioned in the article. Connie's from Wisner and of course, still subscribes to the hometown paper. Isn't Nebraska wonderful? You can't get away with much, as someone who knows you will see it.

At the October meeting of the polio survivors in Omaha, a couple from Hastings presented me with a clipping of Joan Burney's article on Bed and Breakfast, in which the Farm House is mentioned. The wife was from Osmond, and still takes that paper. When the same column appeared in the Norfolk Daily, my pal Peg Rousseau clipped it for me.

Anyway, my brother in law is enjoying his newly found sister. He had two sisters growing up, but Kay was an only child. I'm sure she really appreciates knowing Don. And his questions have been answered. 'All's well that ends well.

'Campus Showcase' to feature award-winning business students

The Wayne State College 'Campus Showcase' program, formerly known as 'First Fridays,' will be held on Friday, Nov. 7. The program, which will begin at 9 a.m., will be held in the Elkhorn Room in the Wayne State Student Center.

This month's program will be presented by Dr. Laura Barelman, assistant professor in the School of Business and Technology, and two of her students who won the overall competition for their business plan this summer at the national Phi Beta Lambda conference in Dallas, Texas. The students won on the strength of their written plan and oral presentation. Phi Beta Lambda is a national organization for business students.

Because parking on campus is limited, a free shuttle service from the Wayne Senior Citizens Center/Public Library at 410 Pearl Street will be provided by the college before and after the 'Campus Showcase' event. The shuttle will depart from the Senior Citizens Center/Public Library at approximately 8:45 a.m. and will return immediately following the program.

Those wishing to ride the shuttle are asked to park near the south end of the Senior Citizens Center.

Refreshments will be served. Although designed for senior citizen appeal, all ages are welcome to attend. There is no admission charge.

During each 'Campus Showcase' event, birthdays are acknowledged and special guests are recognized.

'Campus Showcase' is sponsored by Wayne State as part of the school's mission of community and regional outreach.

For more information, please call Judy Johnson, director of college relations, at 402-375-7325.
