Holidazzle set for Saturday in Wayne

"Holidazzle," a holiday event sponsored by Main Street Wayne, is set for Saturday, Nov. 29 at the Wayne City Auditorium.

This event, open to the public, will begin at 7 p.m.

"Holidazzle" is an evening of food, fun, and entertainment.

Some highlights of the festive, bi-annual event include valet parking, hors d'oeuvres, musical entertainment, dancing and a cash bar.

"It will also be the conclusion to the Main Street Wayne's "Festival of Wreaths/ Crafts" silent auction, featuring over 30 unique and beautiful items this year," said Leo Ahmann, Executive Director of the Main Street Program.

The wreaths and crafts will be on display through Friday business hours at Legends, Antiques on Main and the Main Street Office.

Again this year, there will be drawings for one $300 and one $200 shopping spree, compliments of the Quality Food Center in Wayne. The only requirement to be eligible for these drawings is to have a ticket for the event. In addition, each time a bid is made on a wreath or craft, the bidder's name will be added to the drawing bin. You need not be present to win.

Tickets will be available through Friday at all the local banks and at the Main Street Office for $5 per person in advance. Tickets may also be purchased at the door for $7 per person.

An added activity at this year's "Holidazzle" will be a 'Celebrity Flower Arranging Contest,' sponsored by the Diamond Center-Flowers and Wine.

This event will feature a dozen male contestants — celebrities — from the community.

They will have a short period of time to arrange fresh cut flowers in a vase.

"Following the contest, an auction of these priceless, wonderful, one-of-a-kind arrangements will be conducted," Ahmann said.

For more information on "Holidazzle," call the Main Street Office, 375-5062.

Getting ready

Crews from the City of Wayne and members of Main Street Wayne program have been busy making preparations for Christmas before the weather changes and more snow falls. On Friday, top left, the Main Street group decorated the park at Second and Main. On Saturday, the large tree was moved to the corner of Seventh and Main by the Main Street group. On Tuesday, lights along Main Street were checked by the city crews.

Roundup celebrates western heritage

In 1982, the Knights of Ak-Sar-Ben Foundation created River City Roundup or RCR as a celebration of the Midwest's proud agricultural and western heritage.

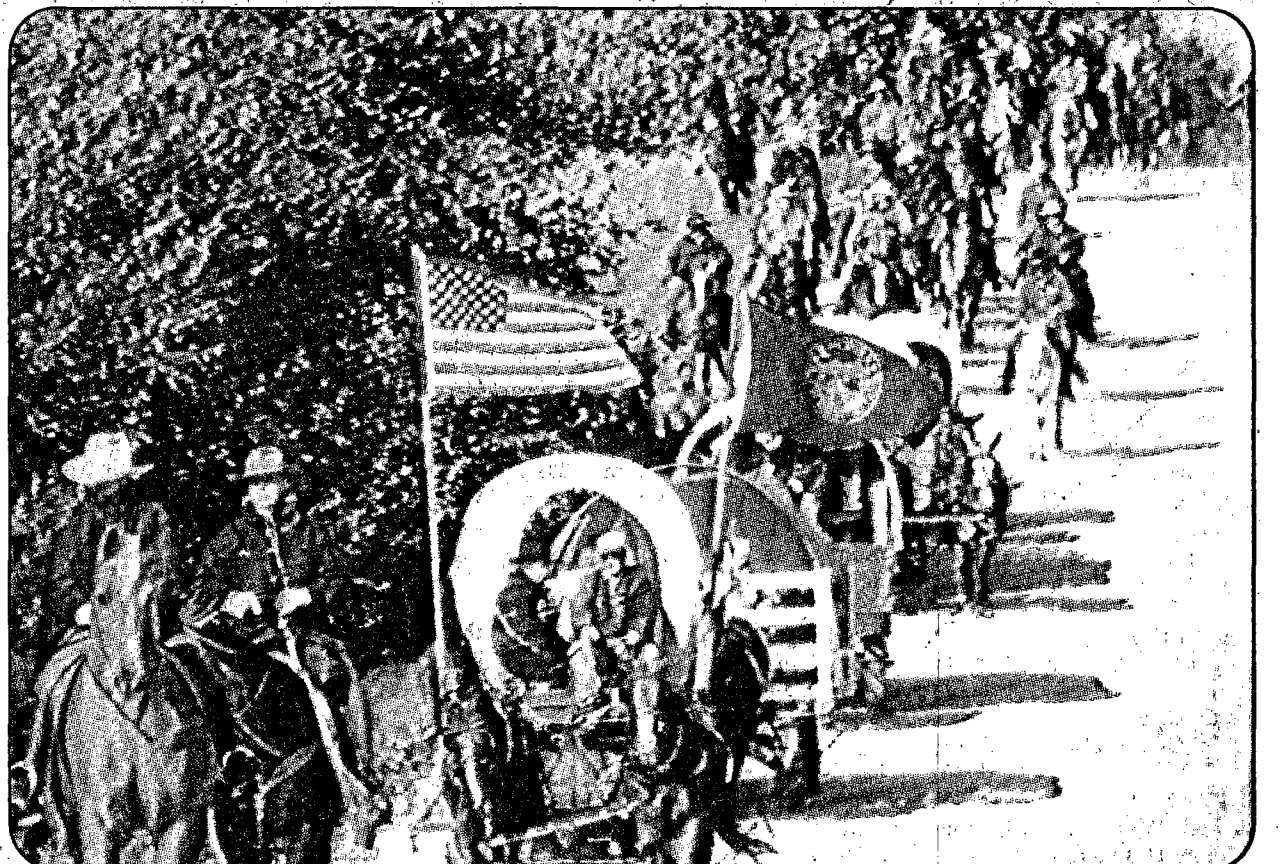

River City Roundup is best-known for the PRCA rodeo and large livestock show each September.

To help publicize these events statewide, it was decided five horseback riders would travel from Ogallala to Omaha. This first group of riders began what is now known as the RCR trail-ride. From those five riders, this event alone, has since grown to include three separate trail-rides, the Western Nebraska RCR ride, which begins in Ogallala, the Iowa RCR ride, and the Northeast Nebraska RCR trail ride.

The Omaha World Herald sponsors all three rides each year. Without their continued financial support, the rides would not be possible as the meals, camping facilities and entertainment are provided for each ride.

The first Northeast Nebraska RCR trailride was held in 1993 when it was decided the western ride was too large. There were over 500 riders on that ride alone. The first trail boss on the Northeast Ride was Jack Kavanaugh of Laurel (now deceased). Jo

College credit exams offer savings for students

Wayne State College is offering tests for college credit to college-bound high school seniors, current students and working adults who want to continue their education.

The examinations cover a number of subject areas in a variety of disciplines. Students and prospective students may demonstrate their knowledge by receiving satisfactory test scores and earn college credit.

The exams are offered nationwide through the computer-based College-Level Examination Program (CLEP).

Upcoming exams are 3:30 to 5:30 p.m. through April. Test dates and deadlines are:

Date of Exam: Dec. 11 and 18; Jan. 8 and 15; Feb. 12 and 19; March 18 and 25; April 15 and 22; May 6 and *May 13, 2004 *May Exam: (9:30-11:30 a.m.)

Many students with average grades can benefit from CLEP. If a person passes one CLEP exam, that would equal $360 at Wayne State College (resident, undergraduate tuition; fall 2003). This helps students to complete a degree in less time and get a job or promotion by accelerating education through CLEP, a national credit-by-examination program designed to help students of any age earn credit for what they know.

"CLEP is great for working adults who can turn what they know into credit toward a degree," said Orlando Toro, national director of CLEP at the College Board. "They can reduce the number of courses they need to graduate, save money, or get into more specialized courses." According to Toro, each college sets its own policy about the scores required to earn credit and how much credit by examination a student can receive. For example, at Wayne State College, no limit is placed on the maximum number of credit hours earned through CLEP that are taken before the senior year.

No more than six CLEP credit hours of the student's last 30 semester hours before graduation will be recognized for credit.

Monthly tests will be administered at the Wayne State College Student Center. Picture ID is needed. Sign-up deadline is one

Students participate in All-State Choir Clinic

Four Wayne High School students, Amy Kemp, Chad Jensen, Sean Peterson and Jessica Dickey, were among those selected to be a part of the 2003 All-State Choir.

Each year over 2,000 of the best high school musicians in the state audition for the Nebraska All-State Band, Chorus, Jazz Band and Orchestra sponsored by the Nebraska Music Educators Association.

Selection as a member of one of these groups is one of the highest musical honors attainable in Nebraska.

Dan Hays, Chair of Choral Affairs for the Nebraska Music Educators Association announced the selection of the four Wayne students to the All-State Choir.

Amy, a Soprano I, is the daughter of Michael and Peggy Kemp of Wayne. Chad, a Tenor II, is the son of Alan Jensen and Gwen Jensen of Wayne. Sean, a Tenor II, is the son of Carter and Nana Peterson of Wayne. Jessica, a Soprano II, is the daughter of Bill and Deb Dickey of Wayne.

The four were among the 450 students selected to be a part of the 2003 All-State Choir. Guest conductor for the group was David Rayl from Michigan State University in Lansing, Mich.

The students rehearsed for two days on the University of Nebraska-Lincoln campus, the host site of the 2003 NMEA Conference/Clinic before the final public concert on Nov. 22. The concert was held at Lied Center for the Performing Arts on the University of Nebraska-Lincoln campus.

City employees to pay larger portion of health insurance

By Clara Osten

Of the Herald

City employees will pay a larger portion of health insurance following action taken at Tuesday's meeting of the Wayne City Council.

As part of the budget reduction process begun in August, the administration recommended that the employee's contribution be raised from 10 to 25 percent and that the current opting-off benefit be eliminated.

The changes mean that an employee with family coverage will pay $73.72 per pay period for insurance, up from the current amount of $36.54. Employees with a child on the policy will pay $45.79, up from $25.37. Those with single coverage will not see a change.

Council member Doug Sturm opposed the increase, noting that due to budget cuts and a reduction in staff, the city is asking its employees "to work more and pay more for insurance. I am worried about what that will do for morale."

Council member Dennis Linster noted that the city is not unique in its budget situation and that both the college and private business are facing the same problems.

Following a public hearing, the council voted to a Wayne Revolving Loan Fund Application for Debra Morlok. The request is for $100,000 to establish Estes Midwest, Inc., a warehouse/distribution facility that will create four jobs. The plan for the business meets all federal guidelines for the money and Morlok has met all of the other requirements set forth by the city to receive funding.

Considerable discussion was held on the issue of parking restrictions in front yards within the city.

Council members noted that in some instances there are too many people living in one house and current ordinances in regard to the number of people living in one home are being abused.

Council members indicated that they would like to see the police department monitor the situation more closely and document situations where violations are taking place.

Also on the agenda was a request from the Nebraska Department of Roads for a modification of the reconstruction plan for Highway 15 through Wayne. The NDOR proposed retaining the stop light at the Second and Main Street and remove the one at Third and Main Streets.

The council voted to continue to ask for the two stop lights to be retained.

First round approval was given for Ordinance 2003-33 which will amend the city code to deal with cruelty to animals. The changes meet USDA requirements and will give the police department the ability to deal with specific issues.

Police Chief Lance Webster told the council that there have been several instances in the past where such an ordinance would have been beneficial.

In other action, the council approved the application of Curtis Brudigam for Corporate Manager and a liquor license for the Veteran Post #5291.

Approval was given for the purchase of window treatments for the meeting room of the Wayne City Auditorium.

The bid from the Final Touch was accepted, even though it was slightly higher than other bids because the color of the blinds more closely matched the woodwork.

The council's next meeting will be Tuesday, Dec. 9 at 7:30 p.m. in council chambers.

Drunk driving stop nets suspected cocaine

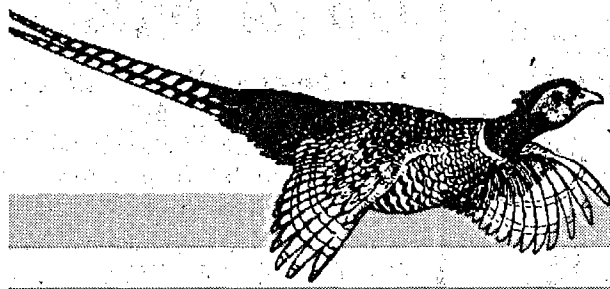

The Wayne Police Department recently stopped Mark Tiedeman, age 20 of Wayne for suspicion of driving while intoxicated.

Tiedeman was subsequently arrested for DWI and during the booking process what is believed to be crack cocaine was found in his possession.

Police Chief Lance Webster

said the substance has been sent to the Nebraska State Patrol Criminalistics Laboratory for formal analysis. The substance did test positive for cocaine when field tested.

Tiedeman was jailed in the Thurston County Jail, Tiedeman was bound over to Wayne County District Court on Nov. 24.

Prevention is best cure

Dear Editor,
As the holiday season nears, the threat of losing friends and family as a result of underage alcohol use increases.

Unfortunately, there are numerous events throughout the year that young people associate with alcohol consumption, yet Thanksgiving and the weekend that follows have proven to be one of the deadliest times of the year. In the months ahead, we are asking for the entire community's help in preventing the tragic consequences that result from underage drinking.

What many continue to view as an unavoidable rite of passage for high school and college students — underage alcohol consumption — accounts for more deaths among youth under 21 than all other illicit drugs combined. Billions of dollars are spent every year on marketing campaigns that normalize underage drinking, telling young people that drinking is fun, sexy and sophisticated. These advertisements never reflect the true picture — when young people drink, permanent consequences such as fatal car crashes, rape, assault, suicide and drowning are all too often the result.

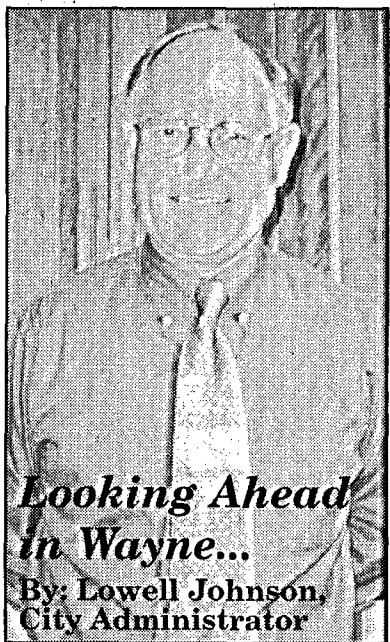

The support of community is needed to change this environment that we as adults have created, one that currently undermines the dangers associated with underage alcohol use. Nebraska's youth are overwhelmingly at risk. Our state recently tied with North Dakota for the highest percentage of youth who rode with a drinking driver in the last 30 days — 44 percent of Nebraska youth reported this behavior. Nebraska was second in the nation for youth who drove a motor vehicle after drinking and third in the nation who reported binge drinking.

If we are to make a difference in the lives of our youth, we have to work together. The community's voice is vital in consistently telling young people that underage alcohol use is illegal, unhealthy and unacceptable. Please join us this season in letting the young people in your life know that you care about their safety. Tell them, for all of us, "we want you back. If you're under 21, don't drink. And never ride with a drinking driver."

Looking Ahead in Wayne...
By: Lowell Johnson,
City Administrator

p.m. when the council will meet in regular session in the city council room at 306 Pearl Street.

Parking
Parking is a perennial issue in Wayne. The good news is that a lot is going on here and the bad news is we all want the same parking spot.

The council is looking at ordinances from other Nebraska communities that limit the amount of parking in front yards in residential areas. Most allow a maximum percent of the front yard that can be surfaced with rock, concrete or asphalt driveway and then require all cars to be parked on that drive area. Neighborhood appearance and snow removal in the winter are a necessary part of the discussion.

Parking for rental properties in these other communities is allowed in the side yards or rear yards or terrace.

At this time we have prepared no ordinances for the Wayne major and council to consider but the topic is being discussed. If you have comments, let us know what you are thinking.

Stop Lights on Main Street
Kathy and I have been here three years and this is the most discussed issue to date. We have received many letters, calls and e-mails from people who believe the lights are needed to control the vehicle and pedestrian traffic down town.

It is a good example of the clash between local commercial use and cross country traffic flow. The signals are essential to the commercial atmosphere of the downtown business district.

I believe the crowd at the hearing impacted the state designers and they listened just as they have been in the early planning of the project.

Wayne Revolving Loan Funds
You may have noticed that occasionally the council conducts public hearings to act on requests from new or existing businesses for business loans from the Wayne Revolving Loan Fund.

The money in this fund is from Federal Housing and Urban Development grants given to Wayne to loan to local businesses to create jobs, preserve jobs or abate substandard commercial buildings. The HUD funds are in an account separate from regular city funds and cannot be loaned out unless they meet federal objectives and Wayne Industries and the city council approve the loan.

Wayne Industries has been aggressive over the last 20 years, for the benefit of local job creation and currently has about $600,000 loaned to area businesses through the City of Wayne. If you have a business idea and need additional funding beside what local banks can lend, contact Marty Summerfield, president of Wayne Industries, or Nancy Braden or me in the city office, to see if you qualify. Every business here started small.

Troops need our support

By Ed Howard,
Statehouse Correspondent,
The Nebraska Press Association

Conservative columnist Robert Novak is fond of a saying that has always made sense to me. "Always love your country. Never trust your government."

That bit of advice strikes some as radical, cynical, or, in extreme cases, of misunderstanding, lacking in patriotism.

Actually, it just makes good sense. The fact that you don't trust government doesn't mean that you are against it. It means, most likely, that you have had enough experience with government, and the observation of it, that you know it is bound to get into mischief, malign or malignant.

On the federal level, the opportunity for and examples of missteps are too numerous to count. Some are surreal in their degree of ridiculousness. Others are, madly, denying.

Take the recent case of soldiers in Iraq, who were demanding a lubricant for their M-16 rifles that would work in the desert. The Army's preferred stuff, they said, was actually contributing to the guns' jamming. Some troops were actually having their parents mail the good stuff to them.

It turns out the Army didn't want the preference for the other product — the one that worked well — to overtake its preferred product in Pentagon purchases. So, for a while, it refused to fill field requests for it. The Pentagon reversed its field when reporters began investigating.

Young men and women, including many, many Nebraskans, are serving, and dying in Iraq. You want to talk about a lack of patriotism? How about pushing gunk that doesn't work well in the weapons of combat soldiers?

Nebraskans, and everyone else, can take a lesson from this episode. It was a guy in New Jersey, the father of a soldier in Iraq, who helped to spark the change in Pentagon policy.

Supporting Nebraskans in uniform can sometimes mean more than just parades and appreciative letters. It can mean taking a personal interest in their situations.

Kiwanis to send care packages to military personnel

The Kiwanis Club of Wayne is currently sending care packages to area service men and women serving overseas. Items included in packages include phone cards, hand sanitizers, snacks, crossword puzzles, playing cards and batteries.

Among the area businesses donating to this project are Pamida, Wayne State College Bookstore and Schumacher-Hasemann Funeral Home.

A group of students from Wayne State College enrolled in Small Group Communications are assisting with the project. The class, which is taught by Melissa Elznic, was instructed to help with a project being conducted by a community or service organization.

Those involved with the Kiwanis project include Amy Carpenter of Neligh, Brady Willite of Grant and Jenny Hoffman of Omaha.

Anyone knowing of a service person serving overseas who would appreciate a care package is asked to contact Brian Kruse at 375-3100 (work) or 833-5221 (home).

Above are some of the items being sent overseas to service men and women.

Roundup

Ann Malchow was his assistant before taking over the duties of the trailboss due to Jack's failing health. She has served on this ride for 10 years. JoAnn's assistant is her daughter, Tammy Stolpe of Belden. Tammy has served in this capacity for seven years now.

This trail ride is a week-long event with the riders spending seven to eight hours a day in the saddle. They average between 18-21 miles per day horseback. Beginning with approximately 60 riders, it has grown to over 175 participants this past September.

Riders have traveled from as far as Hawaii, Tennessee, Texas, and West Virginia, although most are from Nebraska and the surrounding states. Everyone is required to provide their own horses, feed, transportation and sleeping accommodations. Those sleeping accommodations range from full-living quarters in the horsetrailer to those who don't even own a tent and have to sleep in the cab of their truck.

"Each year JoAnn tries to change the route to keep the ride interesting," Stolpe said. "This group has started their ride from Laurel, Wayne, Concord, Stanton, and Ponca and have camped in Emerson, Wisner, West Point and Oakland in the past decade. As trailboss, JoAnn works out all the logistics of the ride which includes arranging meals, (presently we have a "chuckwagon" that travels along with the group and provides the meals), overnight camping areas, restroom and shower facilities, entertainment, etc."

Stolpe adds these duties require a tremendous amount of time each and every year and with the growing number of riders it requires even greater effort on everyone's part. Stolpe, her assistant, helps with the above duties as well as handles rider registrations and other correspondence. She also acts as secretary/treasurer for the ride.

Other personnel include JoAnn's husband, Willard, who leads the horse-trailer caravan of between 75-100 trailers, each day from one camping area to the next. Vern Fairchild of Wayne acts as the "traveling office man" during the ride and JoAnn's son, Kurt Malchow, drives the bus each day to transport the riders to their horses after they move trailers.

During the ride, there are also 12 people who act as "scouts," who are on horseback and assist with everything from first aid to traffic control along the way.

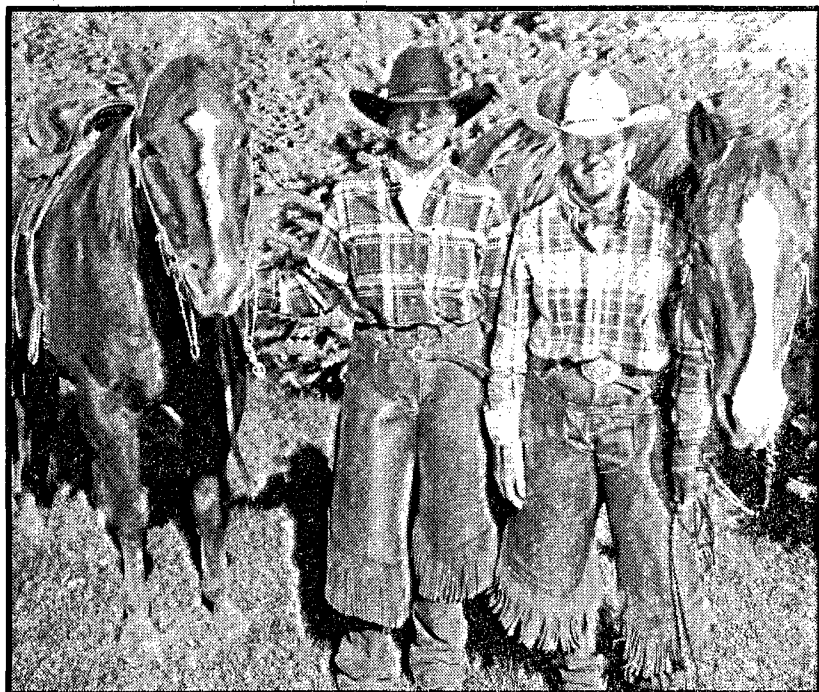

This year's ride was held from Sept. 20-26. The ride began in beautiful Ponca State Park. The group then enjoyed an overnight stay at Nottelman's Flea Market in the Winnebago/Macy area, then on to Tekamah where the riders stopped at Summit Lake for lunch. Then they went on to Herman and into Arlington for the awards presentation and dance on Thursday evening. The ride this year ended in Council Bluffs where all three trail rides converged for a trails-end party.

After a meal of ribs and beans, the riders were shuttled to the new Qwest Event Center in downtown Omaha for the PACE Prorodeo Series Challenge Rodeo. The final's of this rodeo, which was held in Omaha on Sept. 27, were televised on CBS sports Nov. 1.

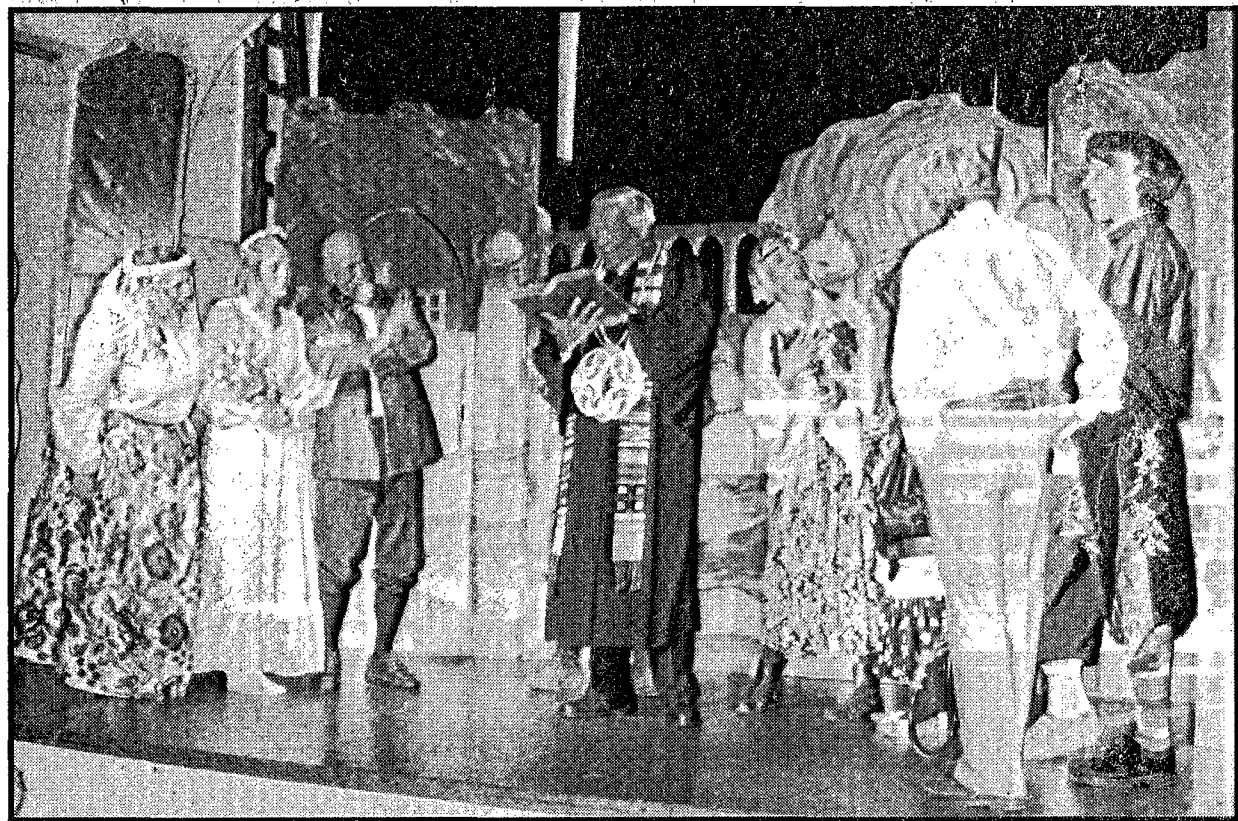

Willard and JoAnn reside on a farm south of Laurel where they have been raising crops for the past 40 years. In addition to riding their horses and mules on the River City Roundup trailride, they also enjoy taking them to Colorado and Wyoming, where they have spent 10-14 days each summer for the past 20 years exploring the beautiful Rocky Mountains. Their favorite riding areas so far include Yellowstone National Park and the Bighorn Mountains in western Wyoming.

Tammy and husband, Cleve, moved to the Belden area this past summer. They own and operate their own electrical business, Longhorn Electric, Heating and Air Conditioning. The Stolpes also enjoy horseback riding and travel with JoAnn and Willard to the mountains each year.

"The Northeast Nebraska RCR trail-ride is just one small part of Ak-Sar-Ben, which has raised approximately $30 million dollars for agricultural, civic and educational endeavors in the heartland," Stolpe said. "We are proud to represent this organization and celebrate our western heritage!"

Tammy Stolpe, left, and her mother JoAnn Malchow, stand by two of Malchow's horses. The women work hard getting things organized for the trail ride each year.

Wedding? or Auction?

The magistrate (John Gradwohl), center, prepares for the wedding ceremony of Sophia Zubritsky (Jenna Paulson) to a member of the Yousekevitch family. The question, which was answered during the Wayne Community Theatre's production of "Fools" was whether it was going to be Leon Tolchinsky (Dan Baddorf) or Count Gregor Yousekevitch. Nearly 300 people attended the play during the three productions over the weekend. It was directed by Mollie Spieker.

Terry and Sandra Bartling, 214 West 2nd Street.

This typical one-story bungalow was built in 1926 for Walter and Mable Savidge, owners of Savidge Amusements. (In the early 1900s their trainload of amusements was located on the railroad tracks at the south edge of Wayne). The full open porch at the entrance accentuates the four-foot wide solid oak front door. (Doors of this size provided accessibility for caskets when homes were the setting for wakes). The oak floors, windows, tiger oak woodwork and panels, French glass doors, beamed ceilings, fireplace, lighting fixtures and ceramic bathroom tile are all original. The Bartlings purchased their home in 1998 and began their restoration project.

Terry and Sandra enjoy collecting "things" (old and new), and have been engaged in this hobby since they were married in 1967. Many of the items in their home are family heirlooms. Others have been gifts or have been acquired at auctions and antiquing adventures.

The Christmas tree ornament collection began with the birth of their first child and continues today. On Thanksgiving night, the members of the family gather at the Bartling home, receive their yearly ornament from Sandy and begin the tradition of decorating the tree.

Other holiday decorations in the the Bartling home include a Santa Claus collection, the Christmas Village on the fireplace mantel, Terry's wolf figurine collection, and vintage items from both Sandy and Terry's childhood.

There is also a large kitchen, laundry room, a combination living-dining room, and a master-suite bedroom which has a walk-in closet and a vanity area with an adjoining bathroom. 'Cats rout Briar Cliff, fall to South Dakota

Wayne State men split games at home

The Wayne State men's basketball team split a pair of home games last weekend at Rice Auditorium.

The Wildcats blasted Briar Cliff on Friday evening 81-58, but lost to third-ranked South Dakota on Saturday 86-65.

"The guys played hard and there were some positive signs, but we need to find more mental toughness," said head coach Rico Burkett on the weekend split.

In Friday's home opener, the Wildcats held Briar Cliff scoreless in their first 11 possessions as Wayne State jumped out to a 13-0 lead.

After building a 47-30 halftime lead, the visiting Chargers cut into the Wildcats lead, getting as close as 10 points at 58-48 with 7:22 left. But Wayne State canned a trio of three pointers to put the lead back up to 19 points and cruise to the victory.

"We didn't put them away when we should have," commented Burkett. "That's where I want to see more mental toughness and deliver the knock out punch."

Wayne State had four players reach double figures in the win, over the Chargers, led by Brett Watson's 19 points. Tom Sherlock added 13, Tim Gesell produced 11 and Derek Archer had 10.

The Wildcats hit 26-59 shots in the game (44.1 percent) while holding Briar Cliff to 41.4 percent on 24-58 shooting.

Wayne State won the rebounding battle over Briar Cliff 41-32. Gesell hauled in eight boards to lead the Wildcats. Watson, Archer and Todd Klosterman added six apiece.

Saturday's game saw South Dakota use solid shooting and a stingy defense to pull away from the Wildcats for an 86-65 win.

The visiting Coyotes raced out to a 39-29 lead at halftime, but Wayne State slowly cut into the lead early in the second half and trailed 52-46 with 12:14 left.

South Dakota used a pair of three pointers and four straight points by Turner Trofholz to regain a double-digit lead and pull away from the Wildcats for what turned out to be an easy win for the high-powered Coyotes.

"They made some tough shots and our energy level kind of dropped during their run," remarked Burkett. "But I was proud how the team battled back to put themselves back in the game in the second half."

Wayne State was led in scoring by senior forward Todd Klosterman, who finished with 18 points and a team-high seven rebounds. Freshman guard Dallas Hodges came off the bench to add 12 points and four assists. Sophomore Dusty Smith also hit double figures with 10 points.

South Dakota connected on 54 percent from the field (33-61) while Wayne State hit 26-60 shots for 43.3 percent. The Wildcats were 3-14 on three point shots (21 percent).

The Coyotes held a 37-31 edge in rebounding over the Wildcats.

Wayne State, now 1-2, was scheduled to host York College Tuesday evening and Chadron State Wednesday evening, then travel to St. Cloud State on Sunday, Nov. 30 for a 6 pm game. Wayne State will also host Nebraska-Kearney on Tuesday, Dec. 2 at 8 pm.

Wayne State women fall to UNO and USD at Tri State Tip Off Classic

The Wayne State College women's basketball team opened the 2003-04 season at the Tri State Classic in Vermillion, S.D. last weekend, dropping a 66-58 decision to Nebraska-Omaha Friday evening and falling to third-ranked South Dakota Saturday evening 61-49.

"I thought we got better from the first night to the second night," stated WSC Head Coach Ryan Williams. "Offensively, we played well in spurts and defensively, I thought we played well both nights."

Wayne State jumped out to a quick lead in the opener against Nebraska-Omaha, leading 23-14 with 6:22 remaining in the first half. But UNO fought back to forge a 28-28 tie at halftime.

The Mavericks scored the first seven points of the second half to take a 35-28 lead, but Wayne State rallied and cut the lead down to one, 41-40 with 10:42 left. UNO then took advantage of several WSC turnovers to build the lead back up to 11 points and end up winning by eight, 66-58.

"We had them down in the first half when the turnover bug hit us," remarked Williams. "We didn't take care of the basketball and made some poor decisions at crucial times."

Senior forward Nicole Gesell paced the Wildcats in scoring with 15 points. Junior center Kari Torgerson came off the bench to add 10 points.

Coach Williams praised the play of Torgerson for the 'Cats.

"Kari came in and gave us a big spark off the bench," said Williams.

UNO shot 44.2 percent in the game (23-52) compared to Wayne State's 40 percent on 20-50.

The Mavericks outrebounded Wayne State 36-32. Torgerson led the 'Cats with seven boards.

Wayne State had 19 turnovers in the game to UNO's 17.

Saturday's game against the Coyotes saw the Wildcats battle with one of the top teams in the country.

Trailing 27-20 at halftime, Wayne State got as close as four in the second half, 38-34 with 10:47 left, but USD pulled away by scoring the next 10 points to take a 48-34 lead with 6:46 remaining.

Coach Williams said his team had a chance to trim the Coyotes lead even more, but failed to score on three straight possessions when the Wildcats were down by only four points.

"We played more relaxed and together I thought against USD," said Williams. "It was nice to see the girls compete at a new level. They showed me something defensively."

Freshman guard Allison Steffen from West Point led the Wildcats in scoring with 15 points. Sophomores Kristen Humphries and Ashley Arndorfer contributed 14 points each.

Wayne State outshot the host Coyotes, canning 17-45 shots from the field (37.8 percent) to USD's 22-62 for 35.5 percent.

USD held a 42-31 advantage in rebounding over the Wildcats. Kari Torgerson grabbed a team-high six rebounds for Wayne State.

Wayne State had 17 turnovers in the game to USD's 10.

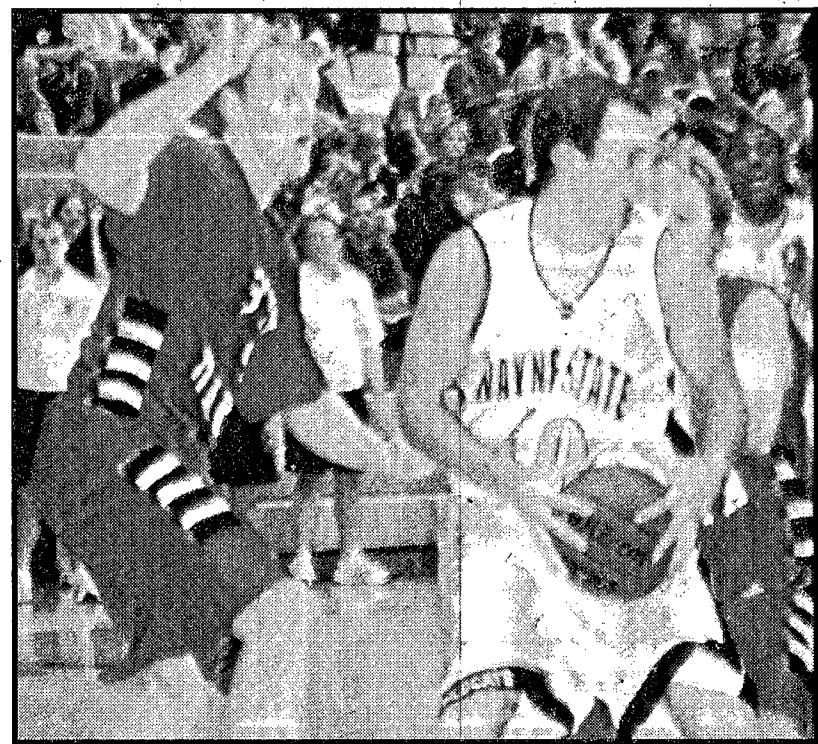

The 0-2 Wildcats were scheduled to host York College in the home opener Tuesday evening, then host Presentation College on Saturday, Nov. 29 at 7:30pm and welcome in-state rival Nebraska-Kearney on Tuesday, Dec. 2 at 6 pm at Rice Auditorium.

Eighth graders are invited to compete in regional competition

Nebraska eighth-graders are invited to compete in the University of Nebraska Medical Center's regional Health/Science Meet competition, which will be held at seven locations across Nebraska: Ainsworth; Grand Island; Lincoln; North Platte; Norfolk; Omaha; and Scottsbluff.

In order to compete in the regional competition, students should contact their science teachers in January. Deadline for registration forms is early February. To compete in the regional competition, students are required to write a short description or abstract of a science project of their interest and develop a posterboard display presentation of their project.

Judges will rank science projects at the regionals. Students with the top 80 projects will be invited to attend the 2004 UNMC Health/Science Meet June 10-12, on the UNMC campus in Omaha.

The goal of the June Health/Science Meet is to provide students a fun and educational experience that will inspire them to pursue a career in the health sciences, said Roxanna Jokela, director of the Rural Health Education Network. The state meet provides students with the opportunity to participate in hands-on activities involving education, research and patient care. Those who attend the June meet will receive free meals, lodging and entertainment.

Students should work with their science teachers to register for the regional competition. In addition, they also can get information, as well as registration forms, by contacting Roxanna Jokela at UNMC, (402) 559-8946 or via e-mail, rjokela@unmc.edu.

The cities listed below will hold regional competitions:

Ainsworth -- Tuesday, February 24, 2004, Ainsworth Community School; Northern Nebraska AHEC, Ainsworth Community Schools

Grand Island-Thursday, March 18, 2004, Central Nebraska AHEC; College Park-Central Community College Campus, Saint Francis Medical Center, Central Nebraska AHEC

The centers were created through federal grants as a way in which medical schools and rural communities can cooperate to recruit and train health care professionals to serve in rural areas.

Trio Travel in Wayne under new ownership

Vickie Rauner and Jason Schulz are the new owners of Trio Travel, now located at 311 N. Main St. in Wayne, in the Quality 1 Graphics Building across the street from the movie theatre. Trio Travel has been locally owned and operated for over 20 years. Vickie, the daughter of Ferris and Margie Meyer of Wayne, moved back to Wayne from Lincoln in March of 2003. She graduated from Wayne High School in 1988, and from Spencer School of Business in Grand Island in 1989 with an Associate's Degree in Travel and Tourism Management. She then moved to Lincoln where she was employed by Ameritas Life Insurance Corp. for eight years as their Corporate Travel Specialist, supervising their travel services department along with two employees. In addition to booking air, hotel, car and Amtrak reservations, she also analyzed travel management reports, coordinated the company's airplane schedule, and negotiated air, hotel and car discounts for both individual and group incentive travel. She also planned and coordinated the company's smaller meetings. After leaving Ameritas, she was employed by AAA Nebraska as a corporate agent/travel counselor. In April 2001, she became employed by Landscapes Unlimited, a golf course development company based in Lincoln, as their Travel Coordinator, where her duties are similar to those she had at Ameritas. In addition to booking all their air, hotel, car and Greyhound arrangements, she also analyzes their travel management reports, works closely with their accounting department to reconcile monthly air charges, plus monitors and negotiates hotel and car discounts. She also books leisure travel, such as cruises and vacation packages for Landscapes' employees in her spare time. She will continue her full-time employment with Landscapes, and will average hotel rate and average car rental rate. The reports can be processed to show the information for the entire company and can also be broken down to show costs driveway, or having someone clean your house, mow your lawn, change the oil in your car, eating take-out versus cooking yourself, etc. Very frequently, we can match the Internet rates or even get a lower rate in our Sabre system. Travelers really need to be aware that many times the Internet isn't the least expensive or safest way to book travel, depending on the traveler's situation. When we do our Internet search, if we find that it is lower on the Internet, we'll book it on the Internet for you plus make you aware of the rules, restrictions and risks of booking on the Internet compared to if we booked the arrangements in our Sabre reservation system. We'll educate the traveler, give them all their options, and then they can make the choice where they'd like Trio to book their travel and at what price.

"We offer personal, local, hometown customer service before, during and after you travel. You'll receive unbiased options and recommendations for your vacation or business travel plans." "For those clients who enjoy booking their own travel, we are going to build our website (triotravelne.com is currently under construction) with the Sabre reservation system included so you can book your own travel online but still have the same local service before, during and after you travel as if you booked it with one of our qualified agents." Melanie Krueger has been employed with Trio Travel for the past 17 years and will continue as Office Manager for the agency. She is a Certified ARC Specialist and has a wealth of knowledge regarding destinations, vacations, agency procedures and the travel industry as a whole. Her knowledge and experience will assist the agency to grow in the future. Christy Huston has joined Trio Travel and is very excited about her new position in the travel industry. She is currently training on the Sabre reservation system and enjoys learning about destinations, researching options and information for her clients. Christy is currently studying to become a Disney Specialist through the College of Disney Knowledge program. She will also be the designated Nascar and sports packages specialist for the agency.

Vickie's partner, Jason Schulz, will continue to own and operate his business, Quality 1 Graphics and Signs, which will celebrate its fifth year in business in April of 2004. Quality 1 Graphics and Signs designs and produces signs, magnets, vinyl lettering for vehicles, boats, buildings, etc. Jason is also a 1988 graduate of Wayne High School. He is the son of Don and Sandra Schulz of Wayne and has been a Wayne resident his entire life. Melanie, Christy or Vickie can be reached at Trio Travel at 402-375-2670 or 800-542-8746. The agency's phone numbers did not change with the change of ownership. The general email address is info@triotravelne.com or you may reach Melanie at Melanie@triotravelne.com, Christy at Christy@triotravelne.com or Vickie at Vickie@triotravelne.com.

begin issuing all their bookings thru Trio Travel in January of 2004.

Vickie is excited about the challenges and opportunities that owning Trio Travel will bring.

"The experience I've gained through my 13 years in the travel industry has given me a great perspective. I've worked in an agency setting but I've also been the client to the travel agency so I know first-hand what travelers expect from their agency; excellent service, travel options, accurate reservations at the best price in a timely manner. Corporate clients also like to see travel management reports, but also corporate reports for our corporate clients. The reports will show a company's average ticket price, cost per mile, per division, department and by traveler."

"We also search the Internet, in addition to our reservation system, to ensure we are quoting the lowest possible price based upon availability when the traveler is able to travel. We do the leg work so corporate clients can focus on their job responsibilities to generate revenue for their company, not spend their valuable time searching for flight options and the best fares, because we can do that for them. For leisure clients, we save them from having to spend hours in front of their home computer at night or on the weekends, when they could be spending quality time with their family, or enjoying other extracurricular activities. When you think about it, it's really no different than going through the car wash instead of spending an hour washing your car in your

Performance held at WSC

"The Diary of Anne Frank," a play set in World War II Amsterdam, was performed in Ley Theatre at Wayne State College from Nov. 22-24. The drama, set in 1944 and 1945, covered the two-year span during which the Frank family is hiding in a small apartment, fearing Nazi persecution. Playing the role of Anne Frank is Sarah Rowse, above, a WSC junior from Norfolk.

'Campus Showcase' to feature holiday traditions

The Wayne State College 'Campus Showcase' program, formerly known as 'First Fridays', will be held on Friday, Dec. 5. The program, which will begin at 9 a.m., will be held in Anderson Hall lobby, located just north of Rice Auditorium on the Wayne State campus.

The December program will have an international flair, featuring Wayne State students from Lebanon, Poland, Japan and Denmark, who will share their countries' holiday customs and traditions. In addition, the program will include holiday music, birthday and holiday drawings, as well as refreshments.

Because parking on campus is limited, a free shuttle service from the Wayne Senior Citizens Center/Public Library at 410 Pearl Street will be provided by the college before and after the 'Campus Showcase' event. The shuttle will depart from the Senior Citizens Center/Public Library at approximately 8:45 a.m. and will return immediately following the program.

Those wishing to ride the shuttle are asked to park near the south end of the Senior Citizens Center.

Although designed for senior citizen appeal, all ages are invited and encouraged to attend 'Campus Showcase' programs. There is no admission charge.

'Campus Showcase' is sponsored by Wayne State as part of the school's mission of community and regional outreach.

For more information, please call Judy Johnson, director of college relations, at 402-375-7325.

Celebrating reading

Children's Book Week was celebrated November 17 - 21 at Wayne Elementary School with the theme: Go Big READ! The classrooms read for a touchdown in reading. The students and parents did an outstanding job and nine classrooms scored over 100 yards for a touchdown. Pictured is Mrs. Suehl's second grade reading class which read over 134 books and scored the first touchdown for the week.

Tour of Homes to be held in Allen

A Holiday Tour of Homes will be held in Allen on Sunday, Dec. 7. Funds from the tour will help finance the Allen Consolidated Schools Band go to the Nokia Sugar Bowl game on Jan. 4, 2004. The $5 tickets can be purchased at the United Methodist Church at 402 Summit Drive. On the tour, guests can enjoy holiday food and drink while listening to vocal and instrumental musical selections presented by Allen students. Self-guided tours will be held from 2 to 7 p.m.

There will be seven homes in the tour including the home of Rob and Joy Bock (the former Springbank Friends Church which they recently remodeled).

The church was built in 1916 and was used until 1996 when the congregation voted to cease as a church organization. The building remained empty until the Bocks gutted it and then moved it to its present site east of Allen on July 18, 2002. The family drew out the floor plans with their own ideas and a computer layout. Then they hired contractors to finish the inside and outside. Much of the finish work, however, was done by the Bock family. Interesting features include the use of the wood floors in the inside and bricks on the outside of the demolished Allen United Methodist Church, numerous items from the old Allen School building, a loft, a partial loft in the sun room, and geothermal heating system.

Looking back, the Allen Consolidated Schools received an invitation in November, 2003, from the Bowl Games of America to perform in the Nokia Sugar Bowl to be held Jan. 4, 2004. Band director Richard Lacy surveyed the students and parents, and because the response was positive, he accepted the invitation.

Because of the high achievements of the Allen Band in the last 15 years, the requirement of having at least 100 band members was waived so the band would qualify. Those honors include 11 straight first places at the WSC Band Day, first at Plainview Plains Festival, superior rates at state contest the last 15 out of 16 years, best of Class A the Adventureland competition at Des Moines, Iowa in 1990, '91, '92, and '96, second in Class A at Worlds of Fun Competition in Kansas City, Kan. in 1993 and Best of Class A in 1998, Best of Class A in Six Flags Competition at St. Louis in 1995, and fourth in Class A at the Liberty Bowl parade in Memphis, Tenn. in 2001.

The band also performed at the half-time show in the 2001 Liberty Bowl Game. While performing at the Sugar Bowl game in New Orleans, the band will be in company with bands from Hawaii, Wisconsin, Florida, Ohio, Kansas, Georgia, Oklahoma, Minnesota, Arizona, Illinois, and Omaha.

In addition to performing at the halftime show with a magic theme, the band will also present a concert at Jackson Square. The Allen band director was a long-time Louisiana resident so has planned an itinerary of sites to visit.

To finance this trip, Allen Music Boosters have had monthly fund raisers and band members have sold items. Fundraisers still to be held include a Nov. 30 Christmas Carnival, the tour of homes on Dec. 7, Concert/bake sale on Dec. 15, and a waffle supper on Dec. 16 from 4-7 p.m. in conjunction with the Allen Vs. Hartington basketball game.

Use of gypsum revisited

Gypsum has been promoted as a product to help correct acid soils, improve soil structure, aeration and improve drainage.

These renewed promotions by manufacturers have caused several Midwest universities to conduct research to support those claims.

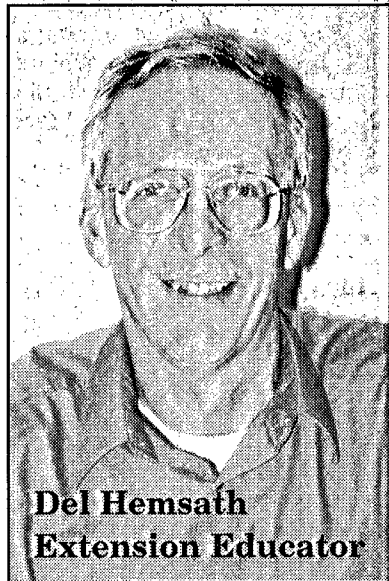

Recent research conducted in South Dakota in 2002, using gypsum as a fertilizer material up to 1500 pounds per acre, had no positive effect on yield.

Gypsum has also been promoted as a material suitable to reduce the soil acidity.

Research using rates of gypsum up to 36,000 pounds per acre, showed no response in changing the soil pH. There have also been claims for improving the soil structure and thus improving the drainage. Again, research does not show positive response to such claims.

Gypsum has been used to furnish the nutrient sulfur by application as a starter fertilizer.

University research did show a positive impact in yield by application of sulfur as a starter fertilizer

Students participate in All-State Band Clinic

Three Wayne High School seniors, Katey Hoffman, Kari Hochstein and Megan Jensen, were among those participating in the 2003 All-State Band Clinic.

Each year over 2,000 of the best high school musicians in the state audition for the Nebraska All-State Band, Chorus, Jazz Band and Orchestra sponsored by the Nebraska Music Educators Association.

Selection as a member of one of these groups is one of the highest musical honors attainable in Nebraska.

Curtis Forsch, Chair of Band Affairs for the Nebraska Music Educators Association announced the selection of the three Wayne students.

Katey, who plays the bass clarinet, is the daughter of Scott and Lisa Hoffman of Wayne. Kari, who plays the clarinet, is the daughter of Laverle and Kathy Hochstein of Carroll. Megan, who also plays the clarinet, is the daughter of Ray and Theresa Jensen of Wayne. This is the third year in a row that Megan has been a member of the All-State group.

The three were among the 165 students selected to be a part of the 2003 All-State Band. Guest conductor for the group was Charles T. Menghini of Vandercook College of Music in Chicago, Ill.

The students rehearsed for two days on the University of Nebraska-Lincoln campus, the host site of the 2003 NMEA Conference/ Clinic before the final public concert on Nov. 22. The concert was held at Lied Center for the Performing Arts on the University of Nebraska-Lincoln campus.

Madrigal tickets still available

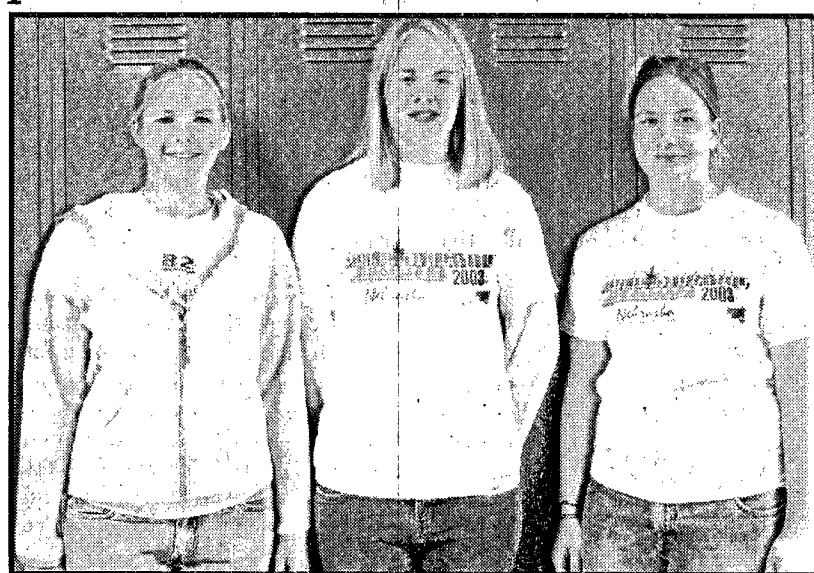

Reservations for the 32nd annual Madrigal Christmas Feastes at Wayne State College are still available. The dinners, which will be presented in the Frey Conference Suite in the Wayne State student center on Dec. 5 and 6 at 7 p.m., and on Dec. 7 at 5 p.m.

Clad in sixteenth-century attire, the WSC Madrigal Singers will transport those attending the feastes back to Renaissance England in the time of Queen Elizabeth I. During the singing, poetry and comedy (complete with court jester), the audience will be served a traditional Elizabethan feast including prime rib with all the trimmings, bread, salad, the wassail drink, and flaming dessert.

Tickets for the dinners are $18.00 per person. They may be purchased by mail or in persons. Phone reservations are not accepted. Tickets may be purchased in person at the music department office located in Room 109, Peterson Fine Arts Building, on the Wayne State campus. Group discounts are available; please contact Dr. Ron Lofgren at 402-375-7358.

but it is very limited. Gypsum has and can be used on those sodic soils that have excess sodium on the soil particles in such high amounts as to cause the soil to become slick when wet and hard when dry. Crops usually do not grow on these types of soils. Gypsum, along with proper drainage, can be used to help make these types of soils productive. Again this can be very costly and does not always prove beneficial.

It is hard to figure out why gypsum ends up being promoted as a new material to solve crop yield problems when research has not been able to show wide benefits for crop producers. If sulfur is required to be applied by a soil test, there are several good sources of sulfur to use to furnish that nutrient for the plant. One must always consider the cost of the nutrient in order to maintain an economic advantage in crop production.

Kiwanis Clubs give pediatric kits to Hoskins Woodland Park Rescue Squad

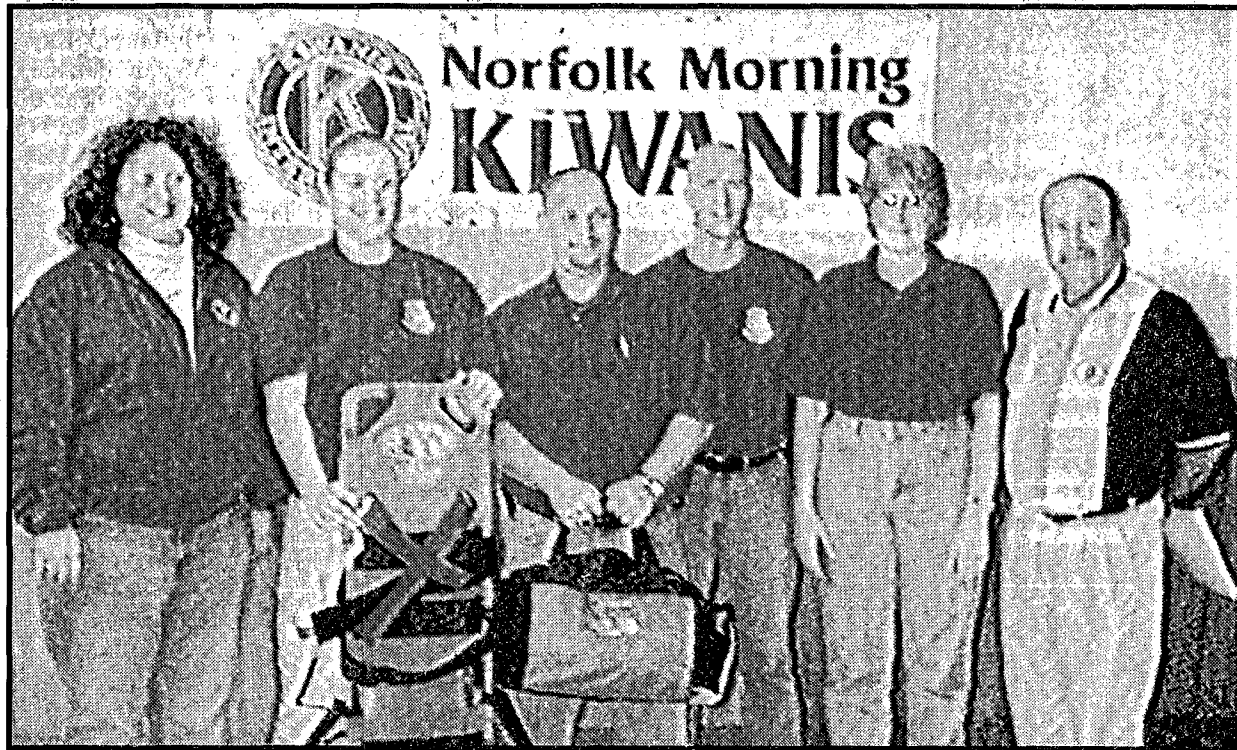

On November 12th the Hoskins Woodland Park Rescue Squads were presented with two pediatric kits as a result of a partnership between the Nebraska-Iowa Kiwanis District Foundation, local Kiwanis clubs in Norfolk, Wayne and Albion and the Nebraska EMS Program.

The Kiwanis Lt. Governor's Spouses Project Division 18 has donated funds to purchase this equipment for Hoskins-Woodland Park Rescue Squads. The total value of each kit and backboard is $630.

The goal of the partnership is to purchase pediatric equipment for EMS squads across the state, which has little or no pediatric equipment. The EMS Program contracts with EMS instructors across the state to provide two-hours of pediatric continuing education for those squads receiving the equipment.

Over 80 services in Nebraska have received the equipment thus far with several more planned for this coming year. Having emergency responders with access to essential equipment designed specifically for children can make a big difference in treatment and recovery when children are involved in an accident.

Wayne State College hosts "Star of Christmas" Planetarium tradition

Wayne State College will present its annual Christmas planetarium show, "The Star of Christmas," on Sundays at 3:30 p.m., Dec. 7 and 14 in the Fred G. Dale Planetarium. The public is invited. There is no admission charge.

This holiday show begins with a view of the evening skies of December, containing some of the brightest stars of any season. After looking at the modern skies, the show takes the audience back 2,000 years to explore the astronomical and historical events surrounding the "Star of Christmas."

The Wayne State College Planetarium is located at the south entrance of the Carhart Science Building on campus. Special showings may be arranged for school groups and other organizations by calling (402) 375-7343 to contact Carl Rump, director of the planetarium.

Cooperation, communication key to long-distance parenting

Parenting can be challenging, especially when parents and children don't live together.

Long-distance parenting usually is defined by the miles children travel one-way, often 180 miles or more in some states. Any distance signals the end of traditional family life, making communication key for a child's emotional, social and physical development.

In long-distance parenting situations, it may be helpful to develop a parenting plan that includes guidelines for improving family interaction. This business-like plan often includes holiday visitations, celebrations, monetary guidelines and regular visitations. The plan focuses on the child's right to spend time with both parents and still have needs met. Visitation and child support rights are set by a judge, but parents must cooperate to make the plan work.

The distance between parents and children can seem shorter through communication via e-mail, instant messaging, phone and postal mail. Air travel also might be a possibility.

Some children may lack excitement about visiting the distant parent because they think the other home is boring. The noncustodial parent often interprets boredom as a cue they don't have enough entertainment or fun items. Talk about the reason for boredom. It may indicate the child's desire for a significant interaction, not material possessions.

Amy Topp
Extension Educator
4-H & Youth

Rather than bribing or showering children with gifts, plan an event to help them look forward to visiting the noncustodial parent. Children gain a sense of control over their visit, learn problem-solving skills and begin to anticipate the next visit. For example, if camping was a past family activity, plan a new camping trip together. Plan through phone calls, e-mails and weekend visits. However, be careful not to overplan the visit and be sure there will be plenty of quality time together.

The parent the child lives with can make or break the plans. Parents should remember the child's needs are a priority, not an opportunity to inflict parental anger and revenge.

Children also need transition time between homes. Children may shut out one or both parents before and after a visit. Give them time to power up or gear down their feelings, attitudes and behaviors. This can take as long as 72 hours.

A few tips can help ease the challenges of long-distance parenting:

- Avoid prying and eavesdropping;
- Encourage open discussion, allow feelings to transition and help plan the transfer;
- Cooperate for the child's sake and keep the child out of the middle;
- Be consistent, loving, flexible and affirming;
- Don't criticize the other parent or use sympathy or guilt to manipulate behavior.

Remember, it takes both parents to make a long-distance parenting situation work.

Briefly Speaking

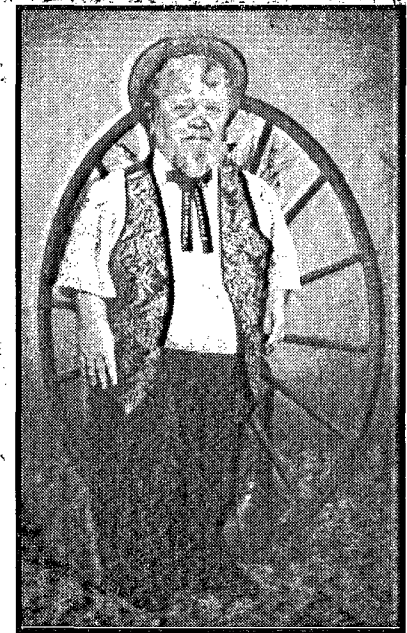

Minerva Club meets at Senior Center

AREA — Nine members of the Minerva Club and one guest, Ruth Leonard met at Wayne Senior Center on Nov. 24.

Twyla Lindsey has accepted the invitation to become a member of the club.

Hollis Frese read historical moments from November 1936. That year the club had 23 members. On Nov. 23 the club celebrated its 40th anniversary. The theme was "Life Begins at 40."

The hostess, Lila Brown, also gave the program. She and her husband started a new hobby in 1954 — making jewelry. She displayed many of her pieces. First they cut and polished the stone. One of the stones that they polished was made of dinosaur bones. It was an unusual program.

Happy Thanksgiving

Arneson receives honors in architectural competition

Erin Arneson, an architectural student at Kansas State University, recently received second-place honors in the Bowman Architectural Design Forum, an annual competition for third-year al designs, drawings and models for a winery to be built in the Flint Hills surrounding Manhattan, Kan.

Over 70 third-year students

Erin Arneson and architect James Cutler architecture students at K-State.

The Forum brings to campus outstanding practitioners in architecture to review, discuss, and honor student work in architecture. K-State's architecture program currently ranks sixth of 111 accredited architecture programs in the United States, according to a recently released 2003 nationwide survey of leading architectural firms.

This year's guest juror for the design competition was nationally known contemporary architect James Cutler, FAIA, of Cutler Architectural Firm of Bainbridge, Wash. Cutler is perhaps best known as the architect for Microsoft founder Bill Gates residence on Lake Washington in the Seattle area.

This year's project required competitors to submit architectural designs, drawings and models for a winery to be built in the Flint Hills surrounding Manhattan, Kan. Over 70 third-year students entered the event, of which five were selected to advance to final competition. The five finalists were required to present their designs to an architectural jury, K-State architectural students and faculty, and members of the general public, after which the guest architect critiqued their entries and announced the winners of the competition. The finalists were also awarded Bowman Design scholarships for second semester.

Manhattan architectural firm Brent Bowman & Associates also hosted Mr. Cutler and his staff, the five finalists and their K-State architectural faculty, at a private luncheon, providing students a unique opportunity to interact with a nationally recognized architect.

Erin is the daughter of Marion and Patricia Arneson of Wayne.

'Fridays At WSC' introduces families and students to college facts

The "Fridays at WSC" program, designed for high school seniors and their parents, will provide opportunities to learn about Wayne State College on Dec. 5. Registration begins at 8:45 a.m. in the WSC Student Center. Activities conclude by mid-afternoon.

This session will be the final of the semester. "Fridays at WSC" will resume in 2004 with sessions on Jan. 23, Feb. 6, March 5, April 9 and a Monday, Feb. 16 for Presidents' Day.

"Students and their parents will meet with current students, visit academic areas of choice and tour campus. Those who attend will also have the opportunity to eat lunch in the WSC cafeteria. These activities are just a few of the events planned to help students decide whether WSC is the place for them," said Line Morris, dean of admissions and recruitment at Wayne State College.

During the day, families and students will be provided with information about admission, We'll gather together!

It's Monday, the 24th, and I'm not ready for this weather! We were at the Lake of the Ozarks last week, and our sweatshirts were almost too warm. The leaves are all gone, except for the one tree that still has golden color. It is also perfectly shaped, but we don't know what kind it is. We had planned to go in October, but Richard's death kind of postponed that.

It was nice to just rest and read and walk. No telephone calls, no pager, no interruptions and no guests, of course. Now, we're ready for two couples from Dubuque tonight who are here for a funeral.

That was something we found when we came back: several of the older folks in the community died last week. It does seem as if things go in cycles. As long as they were peaceful and not tragic, it doesn't seem too bad. One could have been tragic: the gentleman had a long history of heart problems and was driving home from Kansas City on I435. He told his wife he did not feel good, she told him to pull over, and that was it.

Thank goodness for cell phones. Since it is the end of the church year, our sermons the last three weeks have dealt with All Saints'

Day and End Times. It does remind us of our mortality. And we need to be reminded at times. It seems to me many of the folks in America live as if they will be here forever.

All we have to do is check out the news. Yesterday, the helicopter was in Afghanistan when it went down. I know the fatalities have been very few compared to those in Korea and Viet Nam, but everyone is one too many. And I grieve for their comrades and their families.

Did you notice the photo in last week's Herald of the guys lined up to say "9-11. We Remember"? The 9-11 was made up of guns and helmets of fallen comrades. Isn't the Internet amazing? We also have a great photo of a National Guard unit from Nebraska posed with a Husker flag.

Our Husker flags aren't waving too proudly these days. Kristi says it's especially hard to live in Kansas these days. I can imagine. And no one in this family wants to go back to Colorado; those fans are awful!

I guess we will just "gather together to ask the Lord's blessing" and celebrate the fact that we can be together, eat well, stay warm, and pray that our military can come home soon. Happy Thanksgiving, everyone.

Governor offers support for the State Fair and kicks-off fundraising campaign

Governor Mike Johanns announced that the State of Nebraska would assist with funds to the Nebraska State Fair to help meet the current financial challenges.

"There are three reasons why I believe it is important for the state to play a role in a solution to the State Fair's short-term financial crisis. First, we have an obligation to ensure the bills are paid for services rendered, whether they involve a contractor who performed electrical work or a waste hauler who cleared the trash! Second, this one-time assistance allows the State Fair Board an opportunity to seek out a long-term solution. They deserve a chance to keep alive a 135-year tradition. Last, but certainly not least, in an age of great concern about negative influences on our children, I hope we do not allow such a tremendous mentoring opportunity to slip through our fingers. The State Fair is the 'big event' for young 4-H and FFA students, and I believe that it is an invaluable tradition."

Pat Lloyd, State Fair Executive Director, said the funds provided by the State are extremely important and are part of a short-term financial solution in conjunction with other organizations that are assisting the State Fair financially.

"With the support of the State, in addition to funds from the Nebraska State Fair Foundation and the Nebraska Horsemen Benevolent Protection Association, the State Fair has obtained enough funds to begin addressing its immediate financial needs," Lloyd said. The State Fair Board will hold their monthly meeting on November 14, 2003 and will discuss the 2004 State Fair.

Lloyd also said, "While the State and Foundation money assists us in our immediate situation, we will still need more funds. We are kicking off a statewide fundraising and public relations campaign asking Nebraskans to give a dollar or more to the State Fair Foundation. The Fair Board will also be working to identify long-term solutions to meet our responsibility to Nebraskans to produce a fair that is worthy of their expectations."

Governor Mike and Stephanie Johanns will serve as co-chairs for the statewide campaign called "Treasure the Past, Envision the Future." During the next couple of months, the goal of the campaign is to raise $135,000 from Nebraskans to represent the State Fair's 135-year tradition. "Stephanie and I are asking Nebraskans to send a dollar or more to our State Fair so it can continue long into the future and better meet the needs of our citizens. This campaign is not just about looking at our Fair's long tradition, but shaping it to reflect Nebraskans today," said Johanns.

Nebraskans may send donations to the Nebraska State Fair Foundation, which is a 501(c)3 charitable organization, and all contributions are tax deductible. Nebraskans may also give through the internet at www.statefair.org. The State Fair will be unveiling several programs during this campaign. The "Treasure the Past, Envision the Future" campaign will include a statewide school fund drive, donations at participating retailers such as Wal Mart, McDonald's, Lincoln Super 8 Motels, and other special events. The campaign is also asking Nebraskans to share their ideas on how they would like the Nebraska State Fair look in the future.

"We appreciate the partnerships that are developing and are touched by the individuals who support the State Fair. The Nebraska State Fair serves as a showcase for Nebraska talent, products, and people. The State Fair is a place to celebrate achievements and build lifelong memories. We want to work to make the Nebraska State Fair into an event and place that Nebraskans deserve," said Steve Rogers, Chairman of the Nebraska State Fair Board.

WINDSURFING AT WILLOW CREEK

Trees...A wise investment toward our future.

It's never too early to start thinking about spring tree planting. The Lower Elkhorn Natural Resources District (LENRD) staff is busy planning this year's Conservation Tree Program and the spring arrival of the seedlings. If you're thinking of adding to your shelterbelt or possibly just starting a windbreak project, you may want to get in on the "early bird" sales.

Anyone who purchases their trees prior to January 1st will reap the benefits of lower costs for their seedlings. The LENRD will begin taking orders for trees in October.

If you have a new windbreak, now is the time to look for dead or missing trees. Make a list of what you need and bring it in to your local Natural Resources Conservation Service (NRCS) office. They will help you order replacements or can help you design a new windbreak or wildlife plantings. They will also help you determine which species would work best on your property. You can also log on to our web site at www.lendrd.org and click on the Tree Catalog on the Forestry page and take a look at the pictures of the trees and read the descriptions of each. There is also a new catalog that will be coming out soon that is also on the web at www.nrdnet.org/trees

The LENRD has a very successful history of planting trees across the district. So contact your district office in October and order your trees early. *Remember save money this fall, as prices will go up after January 1st.

Watch the fall issue of Directions for a tree order form. If you ordered trees last year, you will receive an order form in the mail.

Students complete projects at Wayne Elementary School

Fourth grade students at Wayne Elementary School have spent the past few weeks learning about the Native American culture.

One of the topics covered in the unit was the dwelling places of the Native Americans. The children learned many facts about the earth lodge and then were asked to construct one at home with the help of their parents.

"The final projects were amazing," said Lori Ruskamp, fourth grade teacher.

Each child was asked to present his or her earth lodge in front of the class and describe the details of an earth lodge.

Rebecca Bunik, a fourth grader at Wayne Elementary, stands beside the large earth lodge she constructed.

Members of the fourth grade class at Wayne Elementary display the earth lodges they recently completed.

Donors are recognized

The Siouxland Community Blood Bank was in Wayne on Nov. 11 for a blood drive at Grace Lutheran Church in Wayne.

A total of 39 persons registered to donate and 36 units of whole blood were collected.

Among the donors reaching milestones were Allan Wittig, six gallons; Fauneil Bennett, four gallons; John Pasche, one gallon and Doug Temme, nine gallons.

"Every three seconds someone needs blood. Thank you for all of your support. Volunteers who coordinate the blood drives and the volunteer blood donors are very special people. They give the ultimate gift for others... they give the gift of themselves," said Jason Olesen, Donor Consultant for the Siouxland Community Blood Bank.

November is Diabetes Awareness

The month of November has been designated as Diabetes Awareness Month.

In recognition of this fact, the Wayne Lions Club has provided the following information, by Barbara A. Brehm, Ed.D, about the benefits of exercise for Type II diabetes.

"Type II diabetes is characterized by higher than normal blood sugar levels, or hyperglycemia. Unlike the high blood sugar levels seen in its cousin, type I diabetes, the hyperglycemia seen in type II diabetes does not occur because the ability to produce insulin. Rather, the body's cells have a sluggish response to insulin.

Insulin is an important hormone that signals the cells of the body to allow blood sugar for energy or store it for when it is needed. Insulin must bind with special sites on the cell membrane called receptors. In type II diabetes, these receptor sites become less sensitive to the presence of blood sugar, a condition known as insulin resistance. Since the sugar is unable to enter the cells, it continues to circulate in the blood, causing hyper-

BAKE SALE

The Winside Scholarship Foundation will be holding a bake sale fundraiser during the Winside Elementary School Christmas concert on Thursday, Dec. 4.

The committee would appreciate donations of baked goods from individuals in the school district and community.

The Foundation was organized in 1990 and since then has helped over 60 Winside High School graduates further their education with scholarships.

The number and amounts of scholarships each year is based on the amount of interest earned on the Foundation's principal.

Last year four, $400 awards were made to 2002 graduates and one $400 award to an alumni graduate.

Funds raised from the bake sale are used for printing and other expenses of the Foundation so none have to be taken from the principal.

Anyone wanting to donate baked goods who needs to have them picked up is asked to call (402) 286-4562 or (402) 286-4598 to make arrangements.
