Lots of water

While the Wayne area missed the severe storms that hit other parts of the state, last week's rains, combined with already saturated grounds, left water standing in a number of parts of the community. Above, parts of the Wayne Country Club were under water. Above, right, water spills into Logan Creek just southeast of Wayne. At right, the practice recreation field at Wayne State College became a temporary lake.

Winside group tours Black Hills

Fifteen Winside Public School students recently returned from a five day trip to the Black Hills of South Dakota and western Nebraska.

This was instructor Paul Sok's ninth trip and involved the largest group of students taking part in the annual summer trip.

While on the trip, the students were engaged in a wide variety of activities.

Physical activities included spelunking in Jewel Cave, gold panning west of Hill City, fossil hunting in western Nebraska and several hiking treks in Custer State Park, the Needles and at Fort Niobrara.

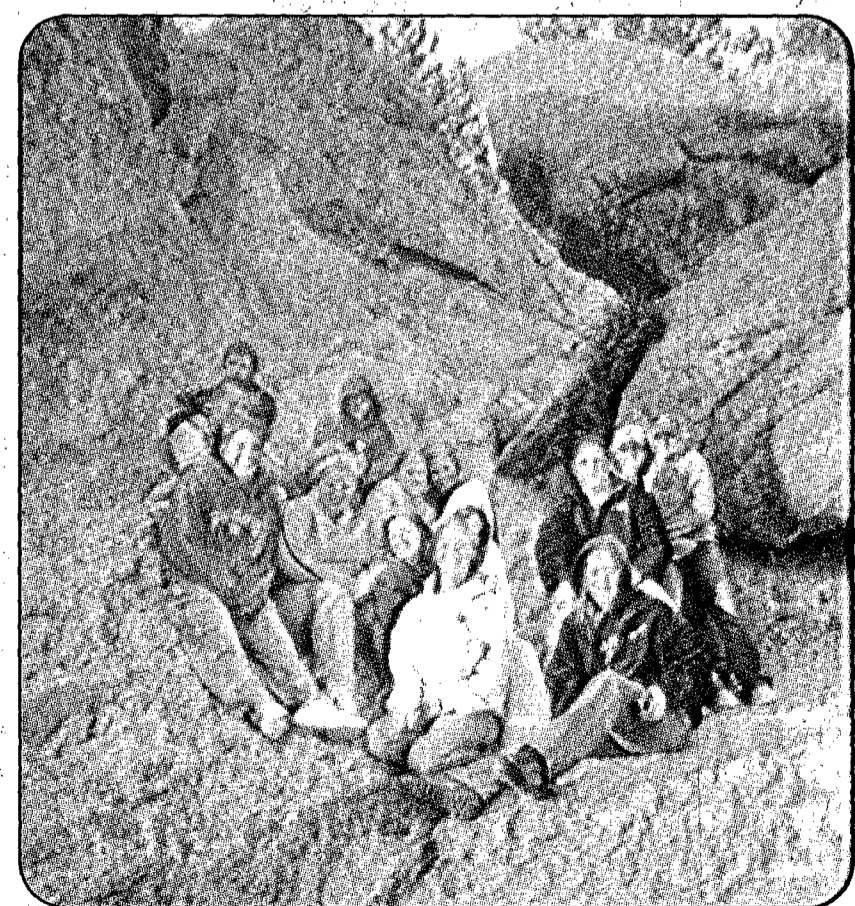

The students were also treated to tours of the Journey Center in Rapid City, the Mammoth Site in Hot Springs, Wade's Historic Gold Mill in Hill City, Wind and Jewel Caves and the Ashfall site at Royal.

"All in all, the 15 members of the class of 2005 made about 25 stops on the 1,200 trip," Sok said.

The group was sponsored by Sok and Mark Koch, another instructor at Winside High School.

Approximately 50 percent of the funding for the trip came from grants from the Gardner Foundation of Wakefield and the Lower Elkhorn Natural Resource District in Norfolk and several government fee waivers in the Black Hills.

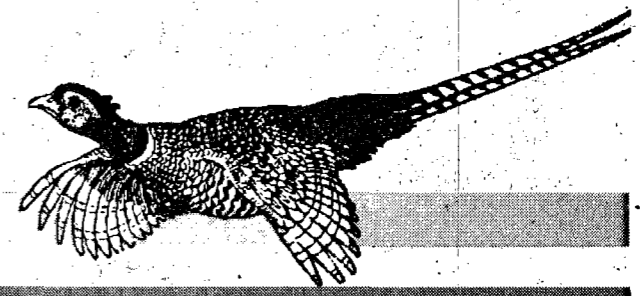

Participating students included Bryce Roberts, Taylor Suehl, Dan Morris, Dan Morotz, Brandon Bowers, Jesse Thies, Bo Brummels, Michelle Deck, Melyssa Deck, Chrissi Jaeger, Lindsay Harmeyer, Ashley Jaeger, Jenny Weible, Stephanie Peterson and Katie Lage.

The Winside group posed for a group photo in the Needles Area of Custer State Park. This was just one of nearly 25 stops the group made on their five-day trip.

Owners need to be aware of home repair scams

In the wake of the severe storms that hit many parts of the Bureau's service area this week, scam artists may appear trying to take advantage of those who have already been victimized by the weather. The Better Business Bureau warns you to be aware of home repair companies that breeze into the neighborhoods promising a good deal on home repairs. These people use high-pressure pitches and scare tactics to convince you to make immediate repair decisions. They may promise quality left over materials, special prices, and quick work. But in fact, they may do more harm than good to your home.

To avoid being ripped off by unscrupulous contractors, the Better Business Bureau advises that you should first check with your insurance company about policy coverage. Never act in haste! If necessary, make temporary repairs yourself.

Before you hire a home improvement contractor, follow these guidelines:

- Be sure to obtain more than one estimate using the same specifications and materials.
- Ask for a written contract specifying in detail the work to be done.
- Do not pay for all the repairs in advance.
- Never sign a completion certificate or authorize full payment until the work has been completed to your satisfaction.
- Inquire whether the contractor has liability and worker's compensation insurance to protect you in the event of an accident on the job.
- Be sure to find out if the work requires a permit.
- Get references.
- Always check on the company's reliability, by calling your Better Business Bureau at (402) 391-7612 or 800-649-6814 or at www.heartlandbbb.org.

This Consumer/Business Tip has been brought to you by the Better Business Bureau, Inc. serving Nebraska, South Dakota and Southwest Iowa.

Letters

Dear Editor,
As president of the Greenwood Cemetery Association, I want to thank the individual who recently wrote a letter outlining a number of concerns he/she has with our cemetery. Unfortunately, he/she forgot to sign a name, so this is the only means I can use to reply to the letter.

First of all, thank-you for taking the time to express your concerns. We are always glad to hear from people who so badly want to make our cemetery a showcase to honor our loved ones. Be assured the Cemetery Board desires to make it as attractive as possible, just as you do.

It is difficult to do all the things we would like when we have a very, very limited budget. Thanks to many volunteers who give of their time and energy, we are able to maintain the nice cemetery we have today. We agree that there are many things we could do if we only had more money and/or more volunteers.

Would you please contact me personally so we can discuss your concerns and how you can help us address them? We would very much appreciate your volunteering to help us out!

Lee Swinney, President, Greenwood Cemetery Association

Dear Editor,

Overwhelming would describe the community response to our Poppy Day distributions in Hoskins, Wayne and Winside.

The businesses and citizens of these communities welcomed our Auxiliary, Legion and Sons of the Legion volunteers. We collected $364.55 to be used for the benefit of veterans. Our guidelines allow us to apply our cost of the Poppies $135.04 to the collected funds which would leave $229.51 in Service to Veterans.

In our previous letter, we failed to mention that the Memorial

Wayne is dealing with mosquitoes

Next City Council Meeting: June 29 at 7:30 p.m. the council will meet in the city council room at 306 Pearl Street.

Skeeters: Remember when mosquitoes were simply an annoyance in Nebraska? Now certain breeds carry the West Nile Virus from feeding on infected birds. Joel Hansen and Todd Hoeman from our public works department returned from training with some helpful information.

1) Joel said the majority of mosquitoes in Wayne County after rain fall are Aedes Vexan that lay their eggs in dry areas and wait for rain water. They are seldom carriers of the West Nile Virus.

2) The Culex Tarsalis are the primary carrier of West Nile Virus. These mosquitoes lay their eggs on standing water (tires, stale water in animal waters, bird baths and irrigation tail water) and their population grows steadily through the summer causing most disease breakout in late summer. These mosquitoes are prevalent in the Platte Valley where most of the 2,366 cases were diagnosed last year.

3) About 205 people who become infected with West Nile Virus will show symptoms of illness. The rest probably don't know they had it.

4) What are we doing about this? The two areas we have to deal with are public property and private property.

•Public Property — 1) we keep low areas graded and drained as much as possible to prevent standing water, 2) this winter we ordered a large supply of larvacide wafers to drop into any standing water we can find in and around town. City crews have been using a lot of these which kill mosquito larvae when they hatch. 3) we have checked the cost and availability of light traps to assess infestation levels and fogging the city with synthetic pyrethroids. The fogging is the most visible but the least effective because of the difficulty of getting the fog to the foliage on private property where most of the adult mosquitoes are.

•Private Property — 1) residents and business owners can drain any standing water on roofs, gutters, etc. 2) foliage can also be sprayed on private property.

5) What can individuals do to protect themselves? Infants and older folks are most susceptible to contracting the virus. The two

Poppy distributed is handmade by Veterans residing at the Norfolk Veterans Home and a portion of the proceeds will be designated for the Home's use. Additionally, we are not allowed to use the funds to award prizes in our annual Poppy Poster Contests. We had mis-stated that earlier.

We are truly appreciative of the response we received from the businesses that allow us to place a Poppy display and donation canister in their facilities and to the citizens who generously donated. We could not have done it without all of you.

We look forward to Poppy Distribution Day in May 2005. Thank you once again.

Dear Editor:

We would like to thank the Wayne Veterans Club for all of their support for our son Tim. He is stationed on a base near Fallujah, Iraq. The local Vets Club has gathered many needed supplies for our troops overseas and has been mailing them a box weekly.

I know from comments that Tim has made that those boxes are really appreciated.

The reason I am writing is that the Vets Club could use our community support. They have been sending many of our soldiers from the area boxes of supplies on a weekly basis. Though they have had good response with requests for goods, they need our support with the postage. I know from sending boxes myself that they cost from $12 to $15 to send each.

There are collection cans at area businesses for donations. If you have some spare change, please drop it in the cans for postage for these boxes. Thank you.

Day of reckoning around the corner

By Ed Howard
Statehouse Correspondent
The Nebraska Press Association

Many are the well-intentioned, elected officials who have entered office with grand plans for budget cutting.

Many are those who have been desperately disappointed upon learning a hard fiscal reality: A tremendous amount of local and state spending isn't discretionary.

The spending mandates from higher up the government ladder have to be paid for - whether partially funded or totally unfunded by the aforesaid higher ups.

Education. Cops and firefighters. Street maintenance and other standard services. The feds mandate programs for the state and local governments. The state sends mandates to the locals. Pretty soon, a rookie in public office comes eyeball-to-eyeball with yet another awful reality: There might be no way around, gulp, some sort of increased taxation!

It is such situations that often lead to voters voicing the view (in phrases polite or profane) that "Once they get into office, they all turn into spenders!"

Actually, once they get into office, they all get hard lessons in arithmetic.

In state or local government the standard drill is to handle spending issues piecemeal, and hope for the best down the road. (Congress allows itself so many phony book-keeping tricks that it can even proclaim a surplus every so often, so it's different in D.C.)

The thing is, it's getting less practical to hope for the best down the road.

The gap between those with super bucks and those barely getting by is getting wider. So is the percentage of tax burdens in some cases.

If earnings don't increase, so that governments' tax take increases - and if prices for things like gasoline stay at approximately obscene levels, and if other costs increase - the arithmetic becomes increasingly problematic.

Thus, government and the public are confronted with one of the things they historically wish to most avoid: A look at the big picture. A reassessment of everything government provides, a reassessment of every tax break and its bottom line value.

Sound bites are a lot easier for those in office. And griping about spending that benefits someone else is the standard operating procedure for the public.

The potential for a day of reckoning might be right around the corner. But there is a good chance that it ain't too far down the road.

America needs to wake up!

I saw this speech that was posted on the internet that was given several weeks ago by a naval officer at the Pensacola Naval Station in Florida. Everyone should read this and decide if what he says is where we stand today.

That's what we think we heard on the 11th of September 2001 (When more than 3,000 Americans were killed) and maybe it was, but I think it should have been "Get Out of Bed!" In fact, I think the alarm clock has been buzzing since 1979 and we have continued to hit the snooze button and roll over for a few more minutes of peaceful sleep since then.

It was a cool fall day in November 1979 in a country going through a religious and political upheaval when a group of Iranian students attacked and seized the American Embassy in Tehran. This seizure was an outright attack on American soil; it was an attack that held the world's most powerful country hostage and paralyzed a Presidency. The attack on this sovereign U. S. embassy set the stage for events to follow for the next 23 years.

America was still reeling from the aftermath of the Vietnam experience and had a serious threat from the Soviet Union when then, President Carter, had to do something. He chose to conduct a clandestine raid in the desert. The ill-fated mission ended in ruin, but stood as a symbol of America's inability to deal with terrorism.

America's military had been decimated and downsized/right sized out of the end of the Vietnam War. A poorly trained, poorly equipped and poorly organized military was called on to execute a complex mission that was doomed from the start.

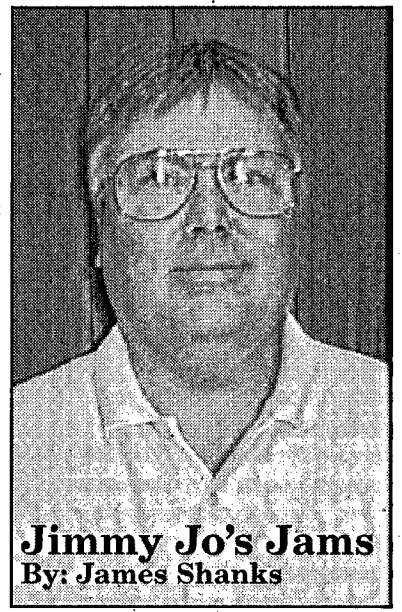

Shortly after the Tehran experience, Americans began to be kidnapped and killed throughout the Middle East. America could do little to protect her citizens living and working abroad. The attacks against US soil continued.

In April of 1983 a large vehicle packed with high explosives was driven into the US Embassy compound in Beirut. When it explodes, it kills 63 people.

The alarm went off again and America hit the Snooze Button once more. Then just six short months later a large truck heavily laden down with over 2500 pounds of TNT smashed through the main gate of the US Marine Corps headquarters in Beirut and 241 US servicemen are killed. America mourns her dead and hit the Snooze Button once more. Two months later in December 1983, another truck loaded with explosives is driven into the US Embassy in Kuwait, and America continues her slumber.

The following year, in September 1984, another van was driven into the gate of the US Embassy in Beirut and America slept. Soon the terrorism spreads to Europe. In April 1985 a bomb explodes in a restaurant frequented by US soldiers in Madrid. Then in August a Volkswagen loaded with explosives is driven into the main gate of the US Air Force Base at Rhein-Main, 22 are killed and the snooze alarm is buzzing louder and louder as US interests are continually attacked.

Fifty-nine days later a cruise ship, the Achille Lauro is hijacked and we watched as an American in a wheelchair is singled out of the passenger list and executed. The terrorists then shift their tactics to bombing civilian airliners when they bomb TWA Flight 840 in April of 1986 that killed 4 and the most tragic bombing, Pan Am Flight 103 over Lockerbie, Scotland in 1988, killing 259. Clinton treated these terrorist acts as crimes; in fact we are still trying to bring these people to trial. These are acts of war.

The wake up alarm is getting louder and louder.

The terrorists decide to bring the fight to America. In January 1993, two CIA agents are shot and killed as they enter CIA headquarters in Langley, Virginia. The following month, February 1993, a group of terrorists are arrested after a rented van packed with explosives is driven into the underground parking garage of the World Trade Center in New York City. Six people are killed and over 1000 are injured. Still this is a crime and not an act of war?

The Snooze alarm is depressed again.

Then in November 1995 a car bomb explodes at a US military complex in Riyadh, Saudi Arabia killing seven service men and women. A few months later in June of 1996, another truck bomb explodes only 35 yards from the US military compound in Dhahran, Saudi Arabia. It destroys the Khobar Towers, a US Air Force barracks, killing 19 and injuring over 500. The terrorists are getting braver and smarter as they see that America does not respond decisively. They move to coordinate their attacks in a simultaneous attack on two US embassies in Kenya and Tanzania. These attacks were planned with precision.

They kill 224. America responds with cruise missile attacks and goes back to sleep.

The USS Cole was docked in the port of Aden, Yemen for refueling on 12 October 2000, when a small craft pulled along side the ship and exploded killing 17 US Navy Sailors. Attacking a US War Ship is an act of war, but we sent the FBI to investigate the crime and went back to sleep.

And of course you know the events of 11 September 2001. Most Americans think this was the first attack against US soil or in America. How wrong they are. America has been under a constant attack since 1979 and we chose to hit the snooze alarm and roll over and go back to sleep.

In the news lately we have seen lots of finger pointing from every high official in government over what they knew and what they didn't know. But if you've read the papers and paid a little attention I think you can see exactly what they knew. You don't have to be in the FBI or CIA or on the National Security Council to see the pattern that has been developing since 1979.

The President is right on when he says we are engaged in a war. I think we have been in a war for the past 23 years and it will continue until we as a people decide enough is enough. America needs to "Get out of Bed" and act decisively now. America has been changed forever. We have to be ready to pay the price and make the sacrifice to ensure our way of life continues. We cannot afford to keep hitting the snooze button again and again and roll over and go back to sleep.

After the attack on Pearl Harbor, Admiral Yamamoto said "...it seems all we have done is awakened a sleeping giant." This is the message we need to disseminate to terrorists around the world.

This is not a political thing to be hashed over in an election year this is an AMERICAN thing. This is about our Freedom and the Freedom of our children in years to come. Please forward this to as many people as you can especially to the young people and all those who dozed off in history class and who seem so quick to protest such a necessary military action.

It's time to wake up America. I hope we don't hit the snooze button again.

This year's event will begin with Henween activities on Wednesday, July 7 and conclude with a new activity, Hen House Harmony at Wayne State College on Saturday afternoon, July 10.

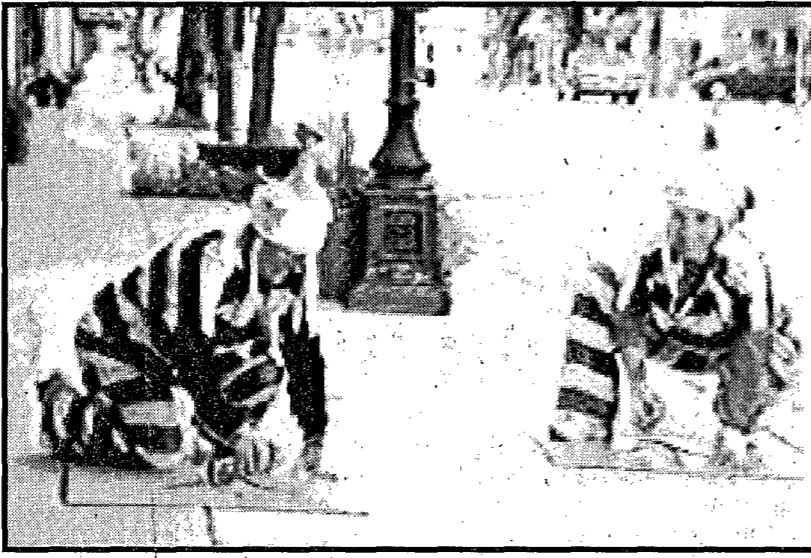

A 5K Walk will be held Wednesday, July 7 at three different times and walkers are asked to predict the amount of time it will take them to complete the activity.

Henween activities get underway at approximately 5:30 p.m. and the World's Largest Chicken Dance, sponsored by KTCB/Waite Broadcasting.

Games will be available for children, sponsored by the Wayne County Jaycees and will include a small ferris wheel, face painting and a children's train.

Free entertainment begins at 6:30 p.m. with the "Sunday Seven" local gospel and praise music

The FBI (Featured Bureau of Investigation) reported last week that two hardboiled "chicks" flew the coop over the weekend. The "jailbirds" must have been running all over town with their heads chopped off because the "dirty birds" left tracks everywhere. "This is no yolk" said Jailbird #1 as she was hauled off to solitary confinement.

Saturday's activities begin with an omelet feed from 7:30 to 9:30 a.m., sponsored by the Wayne Kiwanis Club.

The Rooster Crowing Contest will take place at the Wayne State Willow Bowl prior to the start of the parade.

This year's Chicken Show Parade will begin at First and Main Streets at 9:30 a.m. This is a new time and will allow for the parade to be finished before activities begin at Wayne State College.

Those planning to distribute candy at this year's parade are being encouraged to hand out candy, rather than throw it from moving vehicles. This is to promote the safety of all parade-goers.

The afternoon activities will include a Flying Contest, Chicken Hat Contest, Biggest, Littlest, Oddest Chicken Egg Contest, Hard Boiled Egg Eating Contest, the National Cluck Off Contest, Best Chicken Song Contest, Most Beautiful Beak Contest, Best Chicken Legs on a Human and the McDonald's sponsored Chicken Shoe Chucking Contest.

Darrel Draper

Wayne libraries to host Lewis & Clark program

The libraries of Wayne will host Darrel Draper in the fifth program of "A Meeting of Two Cultures: The Lewis and Clark Expedition" series on Wednesday, June 30, at 7 pm in Ramsey Theatre on Wayne State College campus.

In "George Drouillard: Hunter, Interpreter and Sign-Talker for Lewis and Clark," Draper combines history and acting ability to portray the life of a Lewis and Clark expedition member. Half French and half Shawnee Indian, this expert hunter, Indian sign talker and wilderness woodsman was called upon by the two captains whenever they needed a nearly impossible task to be completed.

The audience will relive the humor, dangers, miracles and hardships of the expedition and receive a rare glimpse of how Shawnee spirituality contributed to the success of this amazing story of human perseverance and voyage of western discovery.

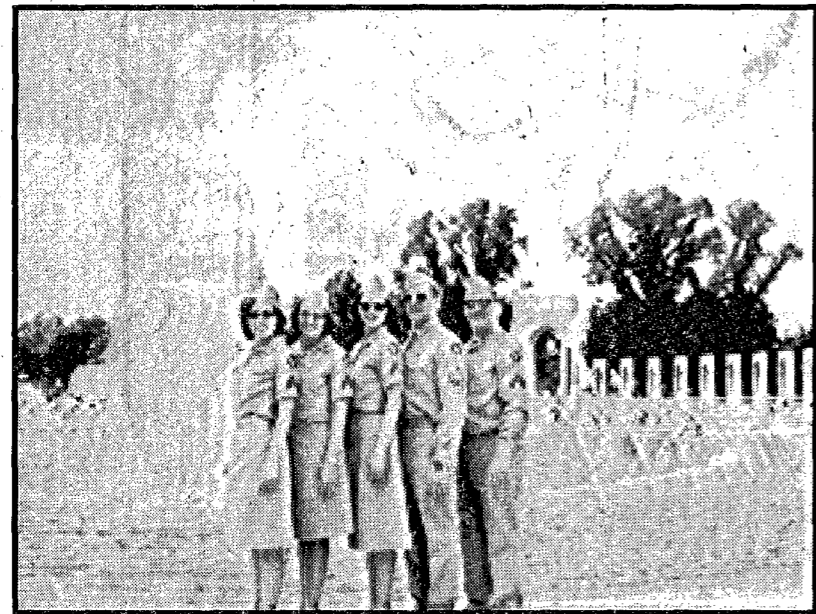

Darrel Draper is a graduate of the University of Nebraska-Omaha and had a 30-year military career in the Army and Navy. He co-taught a six-month seminar on the Lewis and Clark Expedition and has retraced and canoed most of the Lewis and Clark trail. He is a member of the Nebraska Humanities Council Speakers' Bureau and currently lives in Omaha.

After the evening program, the public is invited to remain for a viewing of a portion of Lewis & Clark: The Journey of the Corps of Discovery produced by Ken Burns and PBS Home Video.

The program is free and open to the public, and has been made possible by a grant from the Nebraska Humanities Council, with matching funds from Wayne County United Way, Wayne Kiwanis, Wayne Lions, Wayne Optimists, Pamida Foundation and Runza.

For additional information on this or future programs, please contact Wayne Public Library at 402-375-3135. This event is a joint venture of Wayne Public Library, Wayne Public School Libraries and Wayne State College Conn Library.

Patriotic musical tribute honoring all area veterans to be held at The Barn, July 3-4

By Lynn Sievers
Of the Herald

In an effort to honor veterans and also bring patriotic entertainment to the area, Merle and Donna Ring have arranged for the AVISORS ensemble, a singing group from Omaha, to perform July 3 and 4 at The Barn, four miles east and one-half mile south of the corner of Dairy Queen in Wayne.

The AVISORS specialize in the music of the 1930s and 1940s and dress in Army Air Corps uniforms from that time.

Show times are:
Saturday, July 3: matinee, 2 p.m.$14; Chuckwagon dinner and show, 6 p.m.$20; Show only, 7:30 p.m.$14.

Sunday, July 4: Matinee, 2 p.m.$14; Chuckwagon dinner and show, 6 p.m.$20; Show only, 7:30 p.m.$14.

Tickets are available at these local businesses: Arnie's Ford - Mercury; State National Bank & Trust (both are co-sponsors).

In Wakefield: The Wakefield Republican. As well as from the Rings: 375-3599. There will be limited seating and no tickets will be sold at the door.

The ensemble has given many performances across the United States in the four years since their director, Bob Moser, formed the group. Probably the most impressive is their recent trip to the National World War II reunion in Washington, D.C., May 27-30, where they were the kick-off act. The Smithsonian Institution invited the AVISORS to perform at the event. Around 800,000 visitors were expected to attend as it was tied to the dedication of the National WWII Memorial about a mile away.

During the four-day "Tribute to a Generation," other groups performing included the Artie Shaw Orchestra, the Ink Spots, and the U.S. Marine Band.

In D.C., the AVISORS performed on the Capitol Canteen Stage. Afterwards, they remained in uniform and visited the WWII Memorial site where they were overwhelmed with requests to sing for the many veterans.

Visiting with the vets, photos were taken and stories were told. "It was meaningful to us to listen to their stories and bring back memories for them," said group member Ardeth Elsberry. "My own father, Edward Ohm and his wife, Leola, accompanied the AVISORS to Washington, D.C. He is a WWII veteran (Battle of the Bulge). It was meaningful for him to be approached by many people, thanking him for his service to his country."

Elsberry added the AVISORS were honored to be part of the WWII Memorial Dedication festivities.

The group had to pay their way to D.C. so they performed at a fundraiser at Dundee Presbyterian Church in Omaha on May 6. It turned out to be standing room only as over 800 attended the sold-out show.

In March, they performed at a benefit concert for the National WWII Memorial Fund at the UNO-Strauss Performing Arts Center in Omaha.

On June 11 and 12, they were in Clarinda, Iowa, at the International Glen Miller Festival. They were booked in a 400 seat auditorium that quickly sold out, so they moved to a 750 seat auditorium. That also quickly sold out for two shows.

The group's USO-style performances include singing songs popular to the 1930s and '40s.

Songs which will be sung Fourth of July weekend include: Gee, I Wish I was Back in the Army; Don't Sit Under the Apple Tree; Let's Remember Pearl Harbor; G I Jive; Straighten Up and Fly Right; There's a Fella Waitin' In Poughkeepsie; I'll Be Seeing You; When the Lights Go On Again; Boogie Woogie Bugle Boy; Comin' In On A Wing And A Prayer; Victory Polka; Let's Get Away From It All; I'll Never Smile Again; Apalachicola, FLA; Makin' Whoopee; "Sons of the Pioneers" Medley; Don't Fence Me In; Quicksilver; Dream; Black Ball Ferry Line; May the Good Lord Bless and Keep You.

Be sure to get your tickets soon as time is running out! No tickets will be sold at the door and they will be sold out soon. Call 375-3599 and celebrate the 4th of July at The Barn!

Hoskins fire department receives FEMA grant

Nebraska Senator Ben Nelson announced that the Federal Emergency Management Agency (FEMA) and the U.S. Fire Administration (USFA) will distribute the second round of the 2004 grants approved by the Department of Homeland Security (DHS) to a Nebraska fire department. The Hoskins Volunteer Fire Department has been awarded a $57,616 Fire Operations and Firefighter Safety Program grant. A total of $750 million will be distributed to fire departments nationwide, including rural and volunteer fire departments.

Designed to strengthen and enhance basic firefighting capabilities and other emergency services across the United States, the Assistance to Firefighters Grant Program (AFGP) will give awards to three program areas in 2004.

Baker was presented 'thank you' certificate

Cliff Baker of Wayne, formerly of rural Wakefield, was among the approximately 400 World War II veterans presented "Thank You America" certificates during a ceremony recently in Lincoln at the State Capitol Rotunda. The event coincided with the 60th anniversary commemorations of D-Day in Normandy, France.

The Wayne County native served with the U.S. Army Infantry from 1942 through 1945.

Cliff and his wife, Leoma, were among those in attendance at the ceremonies in Lincoln. He is one of more than 10,000 veterans in the Midwest who have received certificates from the French government.

Dominique DeCherf, counsel general of France in Chicago, addressed the veterans and their family present. He was joined in thanking and praising the veterans by Nebraska Gov. Mike Johanns and John Hilgert, director of veterans affairs in Nebraska.

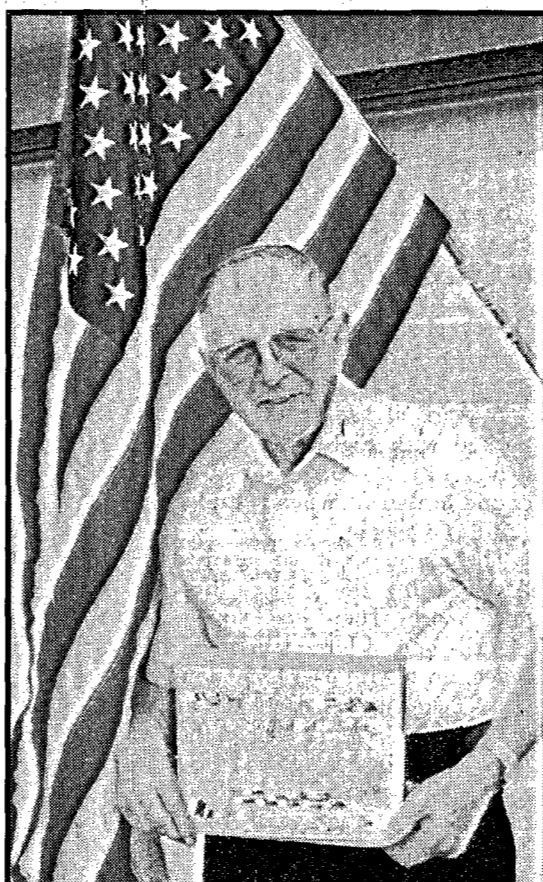

The name of each veteran was announced as they came forward to receive their certificate. The certificates were from the French government and presented to those who served in or around France between D-Day, June 6, 1944, and May 8, 1945.

Baker was wounded during his time in the service and still has shrapnel in his leg.

These areas include the Operations and Firefighter Safety Program, the Fire Prevention program and the Firefighting Vehicles Acquisition Program.

"Today's grant will help the Hoskins Volunteer Fire Department provide additional training, fitness equipment and will assist in modifications to their current facilities. This grant also provides funding for new firefighting equipment," said Senator Nelson. "These resources will improve safety for fire and rescue teams and help improve recruitment and training efforts."

Additional information, and to learn how other local fire departments can benefit from the 2004 Homeland Security grants may be found at www.usfa.fema.gov or by calling 1-866-274-0960.

The current needs list has been revised recently to reflect the needs of the troops.

The list includes the following items:

beef jerky, hard candies, foot powder, toilet paper, dental floss, lotion, sunscreen, chap stick, lip balm, cortisone ointment, granola bars, Cracker Jacks, Pringles, Twizzlers, peanuts, sun flower seeds, batteries (AA and AAA), Q-tips, storage containers (small), zip lock bags, flea collars (for ankles) and pre-sweetened drink mix (individual packets).

Drop off locations for these items include the Wayne County Courthouse, Wayne Grain & Feed, Pamida, BankFirst, Heritage Express, Farmers & Merchants Bank, Zach's and the Wayne Vet's Club during fundraisers.

Financial contributions are also being collected to help defray the cost of shipping the packages.

Monetary donations may be dropped off at Pamida or sent to AmVets Post #22, Attn. Curly McDonald, Adjutant, 208 South Nebraska Street, Wayne, Neb. 68787.

Bud Neel, who is one of those coordinating the shipping of the packages noted that the cost to ship a package varies from $1.32 to $1.85 per pound. The organization has spent approximately $550 to ship packages in recent months and has collected approximately $570. However, more packages are being sent each week.

The AmVets organization also encourages anyone who knows of a service person who should receive a care package to contact them with an address.

For more information, contact Neel at (402) 529-3593 or 841-6201.

Below are two letters from service men who have received the packages.

Dear Friends,

Thank you so much for sending me the supplies. I am currently stationed in Tikrit, Iraq supporting the 1st Infantry Division.

The 267 Ord Company mainly works on wheeled vehicles, engineer equipment and provides parts for all the units we support. We also install add-on armor for all the HUMVEES in our immediate area. We have installed armor on more than 500 humvees in a little over two months.

We are now starting to install air conditioning into the vehicles we put armor on. As you can imagine, with temperatures in the 120 to 140 degree range, they are a very welcome addition.

I rotate in between working on trucks to helping with the a/c installations as the workload permits. So far, we have stayed very busy!

It feels good to have all the support at home with all the veterans groups and community standing behind us. Thank-You!

Hope to see everyone soon,
John Schuttler

Hello Bud,

I just wanted to thank you and all the people back home who are supporting us out here. It means a lot to all of us to have the prayers and support.

The packages have been great. Everybody looks forward to when we get mail and everybody shares like a big family. The moral out here is great considering this country is a waste land and that has a lot to do with the support from back home.

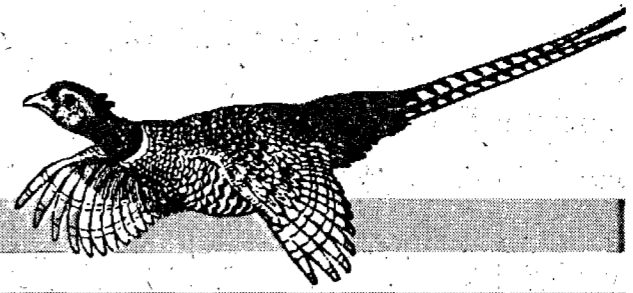

Once again, thank you and take care.

Sempri Fi,
Sgt. Tim Zach

P.S. We have plenty of toiletries for now but we always could use more beef jerky and snacks.

Edward Jones ranks high

For the second consecutive year, Edward Jones is among the best advocates for its customers, according to a recently released national research study of U.S. financial-services firms.

Edward Jones, the highest-ranking brokerage named on the list, placed third in the customer advocacy ranking released June 2, 2004, by Forrester Research, an independent research company that identifies and analyzes trends in technology and their impact on business.

The "What Satisfies Financial Services Customers" study found that "what satisfies consumers are firms that are customer advocates - those that do what's best for the customer, not just what's best for the bottom line. Firms that demonstrate the four aspects of customer advocacy - simplicity, benevolence, transparency, and trustworthiness - enjoy higher customer satisfaction rates and greater cross-sell success."

Forrester Research asked 6,000 U.S. consumers to assess the customer advocacy of their financial providers.

"Doing what's right for our customer is our guiding principle," said Douglas E. Hill, managing partner of Edward Jones. "We deliver one-on-one service to serious, long-term, individual investors to help them achieve their financial goals."

According to the report, "doing what's best for the customer might sound like motherhood and apple pie, but it pays off."

Forrester Research said three factors distinguish the firms as successful customer advocates: evangelical leaders, private ownership and affinity bases.

"At the top firms, strong visionaries at the helm have established a culture of customer advocacy," the study found. "John Bachmann, a tireless proponent of Edward Jones' core principles, was the longest-serving chief executive in the financial services industry until his retirement this year."

Many of the top-rated firms, the study found, have a structural advantage: they're privately held.

"Edward Jones is a partnership," the report continued. "Free from the quarterly earning pressure on public companies, all of these firms can afford to focus on customer advocacy and reap the long-term benefits of deeper customer relationships."

Private ownership yields one more benefit, the study concluded. "Without the currency of stock shares to spend on acquisitions, all the top firms have grown organically and retained their customer-centric cultures."

Additionally, the study found that top firms "have cultivated a stable, predictable client base," a characteristic the report calls an "affinity base."

Edward Jones "seeks customers with a particular mentality: conservative, buy-and-hold investors," the report said.

Edward Jones, the only major financial-services firm advising individual investors exclusively, traces its roots to 1871 and currently serves more than six million clients. The firm offers its clients a variety of investments, including certificates of deposit, taxable and non-taxable bonds, stocks, and mutual funds.

The largest firm in the nation in terms of branch offices, Edward Jones currently has more than 9,000 offices in the U.S. and through its affiliates, in Canada and the United Kingdom. The Edward Jones interactive Web site is located at www.edwardjones.com. The Wayne Edward Jones investment representatives are Reggie Yates and Ken Marra located at 300 Main Street, Wayne.

Ten nonprofit organizations and three Sioux City colleges will receive funding totaling $40,007 for grants and scholarships from the United Airlines Trust Fund.
To commemorate Siouxland's response to the United Flight 232 incident in 1989, United Airlines donated $600,000 to the Siouxland Community Foundation to establish the United Airlines Trust Fund, an endowed community grants and scholarship program. "Since 1990 when the first distributions were made from this Fund, to the present, over $550,000 has been awarded in grants and scholarships," said executive director Debbie Hubbard.
Each year, two-thirds of the income generated from this endowed fund is distributed in equal amounts to Briar Cliff University, Morningside College, and Western Iowa Tech Community College to assist students pursuing an education in emergency rescue, nursing, medical care, counseling, social work, clergy, or law enforcement. The remaining one-third is annually awarded in the form of grants to nonprofit organizations to enhance the ability of Siouxland communities to respond in emergency and disaster situations, as well as to address safety issues.

Save money on family vacations

Summer is here and families across the country are preparing to venture out on vacation. There are some practical tips vacationers can follow to lessen the cost of their adventures.

Determining the total amount that will be spent is the first step in planning a vacation. Create a budget and break it down into specific areas, such as transportation, lodging, food and entertainment. Set spending boundaries to help prevent unnecessary purchases.

Use the Internet to search for low air fares. Invest some time in visiting numerous sites to compare prices. Flexibility in days and times for flights often lowers fare prices. Also, be flexible with arrival locations. Flying into smaller airports often is cheaper and has additional advantages, such as less traffic.

Choose a hotel based on how much time will be spent there. Decide what services will actually be needed. Extra features, such as a large pool area, add on to the cost of the room. Choose a cheaper hotel if the room will primarily be used for sleeping.

Unadvertised specials may be found by calling hotels directly. Special rates may be given if the area has an excess of hotel rooms. Know the rate of hotel rooms in the area and the price of the competition to determine if the hotel is offering a good rate.

Dine out for lunch or breakfast. Dinner menus often are more expensive than breakfast and lunch menus. Also, bring food along for snacks and mini-meals to avoid extra restaurant costs. Choose low-cost activities where the family provides their own entertainment. For example, visit national parks instead of expensive commercial theme parks. However,

Amy Topp
Extension Educator
4-H & Youth

families often need to accommodate various age groups. Try to make compromises on where money will be spent. For example, spend one day at a commercial theme park and the next at a public beach or park. Compromises will help save money and make the vacation more enjoyable for the entire family.

Grace Ladies Aid holds June meeting

President Millie Thompson called the June 9 meeting of Grace Lutheran Ladies Aid to order with 21 members answering roll call.

Delores Utecht led the group with devotions about the "Life of Dance" and told how God is our leader in controlling our steps and leading us in his teachings, how we should always let the Lord lead us in our life.

Bonnadell Koch accompanied the group in a hymn sing. Pastor Pasche led the ladies in our lesson, "Fruit of the Spirit" on kindness.

Minutes for April and May were approved as read.

The treasurer's report was read by Ruth Victor and filed for review.

The new care center committee will be made up of Ellen Heinemann, LaVerne Heithold and Delores Helgren.

A gift for Melvin and Delores Utecht was presented to Delores for the couple's 50th wedding anniversary.

A special invitation was read by President Thompson from Sandy Utecht requesting volunteers, to help with the anniversary to be held at Grace Lutheran Church on June 27. Those helping include Millie Thomsen, Esther Brader, Melvy Meyer, Barb Greve, Joann Temme and Betty Wittig.

Discussion was held on treats for Bible School. The Dairy Queen donates ice cream for the Bible School which is a special treat for the children. Because of this, the Ladies Aid will discontinue providing ice cream.

Discussion was also held on the Cookie Walk money. The issue will be discussed again in July.

Demonstration Day to show case tree and shrub planting

A Demonstration Day will be held on Tuesday, June 29 at the Gary McCoy property west of Hoskins to showcase conservation tree and shrub planting opportunities and management.

The starting time is 1 p.m. at a location that is located on the county road north of Hoskins, travel west (and slightly south) for 1.5 miles.

Many different tree and shrub species have been planted by seeds and by seedlings.

The demonstration day will include natural resource professionals available to answer questions about establishment and management of conservation plantings. Information about the opportunities with federal, state and local cost share programs will be shared with those persons interested in establishing conservation tree and shrub practices on their properties.

Proper planting and care of trees and shrubs will be talked about.

Numerous different types of tree shelters and animal control devices will be shown. Comparisons will be shown between direct seeded nut trees and seedling planted trees growing on the site.

Any landowner who has recently established a conservation tree and shrub planting or are interested in a planting somewhere on their property in the near future, is invited to attend and see first hand what to do to have the best success.

For more information about this demonstration day or for general information on conservation tree and shrub plantings, contact Steve Rasmussen, UNL-Nebraska Forest Service District Forester at UNL- NEREC office in Norfolk with phone number 370-4024.

Interesting group staying at Farm House

It's beginning to be a bit soggy around here; we had another inch of rain on Sunday. But we are not complaining when we read about the drought in the western U.S. The corn looks beautiful, as do the wild flowers at our back door.

I'm filling in for the hospice clinical coordinator this week, which means a daily trip to Lincoln. When I agreed to work, we had one person reserved for the week.

Now, though, we have six more who are staying through Wednesday. It makes for a very interesting group.

The single is a music teacher from Minnesota who is taking a fiddle workshop at Avoca. Avoca is a small village south of us that is home to a nationally known violinist. It has also hosted fiddle festivals.

Then there is the consulting nutritionist at Oxbow Pet Products who comes once a month from her position at the St. Louis Zoo. She brought her husband, her son, and a nephew this time. Husband is from Germany and son is taking violin lessons.

The other couple is from San Francisco; a retired fireman and flight stewardess. He was adopted from Nebraska and grew up in California. Two years ago, he learned his birth mother was still living, in a nursing home in Lincoln, and that he had all kinds of half brothers and sisters. So he is getting better acquainted with his new family.

They are keeping the hot tub busy and it does make breakfast a challenge. The nutritionist eats at 7:20, the big group at 8:00, and the last couple whenever they get up. And I leave for work at 7:30.

Needless to say, it all keeps us on your toes. But it makes for very interesting breakfast table conversations. Plus, the Big Farmer has to play the role of host a bit more than he usually does.

They seem to be having a good time; and that makes it all worthwhile.

WINDSURFING AT WILLOW CREEK

WILLOW CREEK STATE RECREATION AREA

Willow Creek State Recreation Area is located 1 1/2 miles southwest of Pierce, Nebraska. It covers some 1600 acres including a 700 acre flood-control reservoir.

Began in 1982, the $5.2 million reservoir project was built by the Lower Elkhorn Natural Resources District with cost-sharing by the Nebraska Natural Resources Commission.

Recreation - Picnickers will find shelters along with an ample supply of tables and fire grates. A 3-mile hiking and horseback trail winds through the area. Park roads may also be used by horseback riders. Come winter, roads and the lake surface (ice permitting) are open to snowmobilers. There is a designated swimming beach, but swimming is unsupervised.

Camping - All camping is first-come, first-served, and stays are limited to 14 days. There are 100 pads with 64 electrical hookups. The modern shower house has laundry facilities and there is a dump station. Fees are charged for camping, with an additional cost for electricity. Campers are asked to self-register on arrival and deposit the appropriate fee in the drop box. Drinking water and vault toilets are available at the campground.

Boating and fishing - The main body of the lake is open to all boating and water skiing while the wooded west end is restricted to 5 mph, wakeless boating. Anglers will find crappie, bluegill, bass, catfish, walleye, northern pike, tiger musky and bullheads. The deepest point of the lake measures 35 feet in depth.

Wildlife and Hunting - Parts of the area are open to hunting, in season, beginning the first Tuesday after Labor Day. Species available include: pleasant, quail, mourning dove, rabbit, squirrel and a variety of waterfowl. Deer hunting is allowed, but is restricted to archery, muzzleloader or shotgun slug only. Rifles and handguns may not be used in the area. There are also numerous bird species in the area for bird watchers.

General Information - A current Nebraska Park Entry Permit is required for all vehicles at Willow Creek. Permits and other goods and services are available in nearby Pierce or from any Nebraska hunting/fishing permit dealer. Pets are permitted but they must be kept on a leash. Alcoholic beverages are prohibited. Vehicles must remain on roadways.

Nearby Recreation - To the north and east are Niobrara and Ponca State parks and Lewis and Clark Lake. These all have modern campgrounds, picnicking and other facilities. Cabin lodging is available at Niobrara and Ponca. Both parks have swimming pools.

About a half hour to the northwest is Grove Lake State Wildlife Area and Trout Rearing Station. One of the few trout streams in Northeast Nebraska crosses the area.

A few miles north and west of Grove Lake is Ashfall Fossil Beds State Historical Park where visitors can watch ongoing excavations of prehistoric animals preserved under layers of volcanic ash deposited eons ago.

For more information - Contact Willow Creek State Recreation Area, RR 2, Box 18, Pierce, NE 68767 or the Nebraska Game and Parks Commission, P.O. Box 30370, Lincoln, NE 68503-0370; phone 402-471-0641. Or call 1-800-826-PARK. Their e-mail address is http://www.ngpc.state.ne.us
