Council debates language in cat ordinance

By Clara Osten
Of the Herald

Cats were again the main topic of discussion at the Wayne City Council meeting.

A draft of an ordinance to deal with the issue was presented to the council for debate. In addition, the cat ordinance in place in Laurel was reviewed and discussion was held on a recent conversation with officials in Lincoln on how that city deals with cats.

Mayor Sheryl Lindau noted the goal was to discuss what the council wants in the ordinance and what is not necessary. She said she felt there should be some limit to the number of cats owned by an individual and that a process of registration should be set up.

She also noted that Wayne was in a different situation than Lincoln because the city does not have a designated cat shelter.

Cindy Meyer spoke to the council with her concerns about keeping cats confined and the community safe. She also questioned who is responsible for feral cats.

Kim Sperry said that with no ordinance in place, the situation was "getting ugly for cats."

She told the council that cats are not native to this country and that they are domestic animals.

"There is no reason not to identify cats, either with a collar, leash, microchip or tattoo. Everyone needs to be a responsible pet owner," she said.

Councilman Will Wiseman proposed that an ordinance be drawn up and several of the suggestions from the meeting be included. These include changing the wording on when kittens need to be removed from the household where they were raised from eight weeks to 16 weeks and add wording to prohibit both feeding and trapping of cats.

Wiseman also requested language be put into the ordinance allowing the police the authority to capture and destroy a cat which is obviously sick or vicious.

Several other residents spoke during the meeting with suggestions on how to approve and amend the ordinance which will be brought before the council at its next meeting.

The council approved Resolutions 2004-37 and 2004-38. The first approves the preliminary plat of Beckenhauer Estates and the second sets a public hearing date of Aug. 31 on the proposed annexation area to the City of Wayne.

Beckenhauer Estates will consist of 10 lots on the south side of Grainland Road, west of Maple Street. The public hearing deals with the annexation of this same area.

The council also set a public hearing date of Aug. 31 regarding amendments to the Wayne Revolving Loan Fund Plan.

Learning by doing

Pair experiences life in Belize

By Clara Osten
Of the Herald

Both Ann Witkowski and Karen Kwapnioski have spent a great portion of their lives helping others through their work as registered nurses.

This carried over to their recent trip to Belize. The two were part of a Light of Missions, a Medical Missionary organization from Sioux City, Iowa, trip to Belize from June 30 to July 11.

There were a total of 13 members in the group, six from Georgia and seven from Nebraska. Among the members were two of Mrs. Witkowski's nursing students from Northeast Community College. All but one had medical knowledge.

Belize is located south of the Yucatan Peninsula in Central America.

"Belize is an underdeveloped country with lots of poverty. A number of mission groups travel there for several reasons. First of all, the major language of the country is English so communication is not a problem. The area is relatively safe and visitors are welcome," Mrs. Kwapnioski said.

The group first flew to Belize City, a town of approximately 80,000 and then took an eight-hour bus ride to the southern part of the country.

"We spent five days in Punta Gorda, a town of approximately 2 to 3,000 people. There was a lot of

Letters

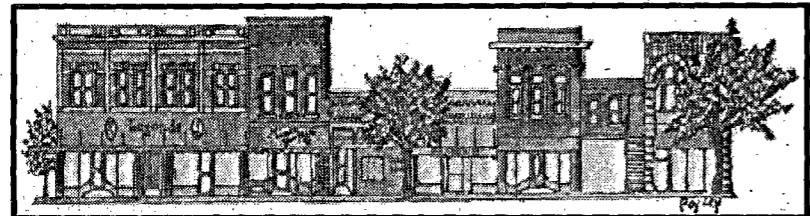

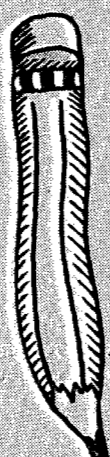

Airing views on ordinance

Dear Editor:
I am writing in regards to the article on the planning commission that just appeared in the paper. In the article you quote the chief planner and building inspector as saying, they, the city will only inspect for five life-safety issues. Is this the minimum safety standards for Wayne?
We, the people of Wayne, must have a real problem, per our chief planner and inspector and your article. Could you tell us how many people have fallen down steps with no light switch and how many because of no railings? Also, the ground fault circuit interrupter in the bathroom and kitchens, has someone in Wayne died and/or been hospitalized because of the lack of these devices? How did people live without them? Are older homes less safe and more at risk than the new ones?
Why just the rentals in this ordinance? Should this ordinance cover all property, and the city could inspect all homes and have each homeowner pay a $50 fee for the inspection? Are the people living in single family residences and people living in multi-units not as important as the people who rent a single family home or live in a basement apartment?
If ground fault circuit interrupters are so important, maybe we, the City of Wayne, should put them in all homes, not just the rentals. Let's make it a high priority and do it at no charge to the property owner. We could use the electrical department's funds to do it.

With this being an election year, I hope the candidates will let us know their positions so we can make safety an issue in all homes.
It is my belief this ordinance will affect every person in Wayne, who rents, owns or intends to own property. It will affect your property rights. It is a big deal! Contrary to what the article would lead us to believe, every landlord that I know is concerned with safety. Is there something behind the ordinance that is not being brought to the forefront? (draft #8, page 23, item listed as 4) What will it do to your property values?
Please, I ask for your forgiveness if this offends anyone. I am not a good public speaker. I know the people in public office are trying. But should the city be doing this?
William F. Woehler
P.S. Speaking of health and safety issues, what did the fire marshal say, as per the sign above the door, "49" people in council chambers. I stopped counting after I got to 64. So what about safety at these meetings?

Main Street Focus

The Main Street Wayne Program would like to send out a thank you to the city and the city crew for the great cement work in front of the city auditorium. The new sidewalk was needed and looks terrific.
Just a heads up ... Band Day at Wayne State College is scheduled for Saturday, Sept. 11. We are finalizing our "Wake Up with Wayne" promotion for that morning. There is a football game scheduled for 6 p.m. that evening, versus Peru State College.
We are also planning a welcome back promotion for the new students at Wayne State College. We are going to wait until after new student orientation at the college. We believe students have a tendency to suffer from "Orientation overload," and we want to wait until they are settled in a bit. The promotion information that will be going out soon will help identify to the new students, many of our community merchants. We are always looking for a way to improve the student, faculty and staff customer base from Wayne State College. I will be welcoming the new students and parents in the afternoon, on Friday, Aug. 20 at Rice Auditorium.
For those wondering about "The Shuttle," no decision has been made (as I put together this column) on whether or not the bus will be running its daily schedule in and around Wayne. There is a critical meeting next week to make a final decision. However, "The Shuttle" is still available to rent. Just contact Derby Johnson at the college, 375-7274. He will make all the arrangements for you. If you have questions or would like the office to contact him for you, call this office at 375-5062.
As promised in my last column, I'd like to share some national trends with you from the information received from the national

Main Street Survey. More than half of the national Main Street Program communities mentioned that their districts have more businesses with websites this year than last ... the seventh straight year that more than half have reported an increase over the previous year. And the last item I want to share with you in this column, one third of the reporting Main Street Program communities, identified an increase in upper-floor occupancy.

Keep in mind that the Main Street Wayne Program is YOUR program. Therefore, if YOU have any suggestions or ideas about how we can better serve you and Wayne, please contact us. Call 375-5062 or drop us a line at Box 43, or e-mail us at mainstreetwayne@inebraska.com. We would be pleased to hear from you or drop in on our weekly Tuesday morning meeting, from 8-9 a.m. Bring a friend.

Gambling issues could increase voter turnout

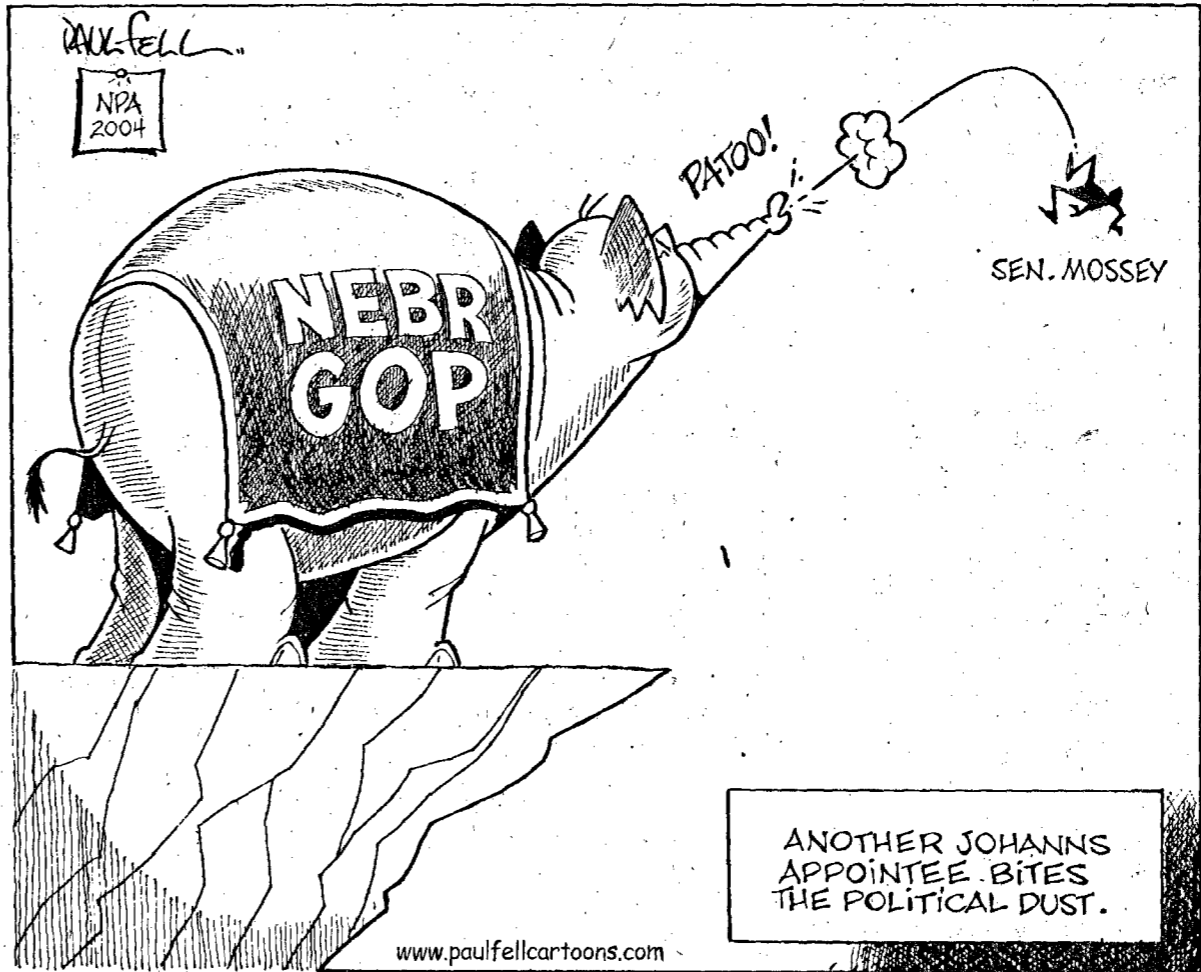

By Ed Howard
Statehouse Correspondent
The Nebraska Press Association

Public officials up and down the food chain are usually big on talking about the importance of voting. They, and others, bemoan low voter turnout following most elections, whatever the year and/or whatever the issue.
The thought from here: The gambling issue (even more than the presidential election) could really give a boost to interest in exercising the franchise this year.
Lots of local officials, elected and otherwise, have made it clear they would like to have a share of whatever revenues are generated by expanded gambling.
Then, there is what amounts to the irrevocable trust fund for education that would be provided by the Legislature's proposal to allow a couple of casinos to operate in Nebraska.
Put the pro-gambling vote together with the community uplifters vote and then add the tremendous support that could come from teachers and others in the public education community.
That's a whoppin' bundle of potential votes.
The provisions for funding education, contained in the Legislature's constitutional amendment for casino gambling, haven't drawn a lot of attention.
The first payouts from those revenues, after prizes and other costs, would go the Compulsive Gamblers Assistance Fund. Then, the Environmental Trust Fund gets a chunk - 44.5 percent. Then comes education. It gets 44.5 percent of the same pot and "it shall be used for education as the Legislature may direct." How's that for a nice insurance policy against tough economic times when the Unicameral might be looking for areas to cut some spending. The environment and education would have an element of protection, via gambling dollars, that any entity of government would envy.

"Families that are split apart by long deployments during war deserve to have the best technology available to ensure meaningful participation in milestone family events," states Edward Bukstel, Operations Director for Freedom Calls Foundation. "As a public charity providing free services to soldiers and their families, we appreciate all the help of the American people, Northeast Community College, and companies like Connecting Point that understand the importance of family and have helped the Freedom Calls Foundation in our continuing mission to connect every deployed soldier with their loved ones."
"Every business and person that I called in Norfolk offered to help. The local Wal-Mart offered to donate a Video Camera and even the Ramada Inn checked to see if they could help bring a family together. The outpouring of support was absolutely incredible. The Foundation has helped unite families for numerous high school and elementary school graduations, but this is the first time it has been done at a college level," stated Bukstel.
"We are absolutely thrilled with this great opportunity to include a deployed spouse in our pinning ceremony," said Dr. Bill Path,

Northeast president. "Our nursing pinning ceremonies are always very emotional and this will make it an extraordinarily special ceremony. Our many thanks to all those involved, Freedom Calls Foundation, Connecting Point and Viditel, for making it happen. And, of course, our many thanks to all our brave troops serving in Iraq."

poverty in the village, but the standard of living is so different from ours. The people there don't consider themselves poor," Mrs. Witkowski said.

She noted that the people there seem quite content and happy. The family is the center of life for the people.

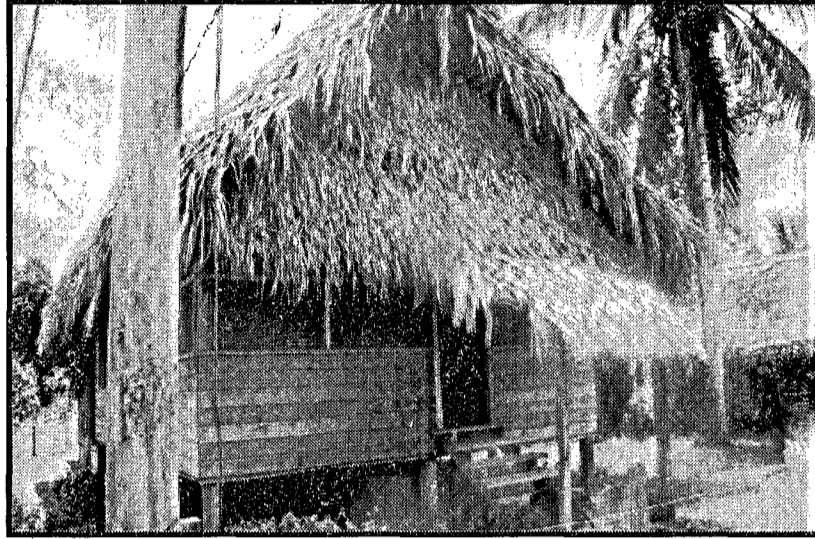

The school children in the village had just gotten out of school when the group arrived in Belize. Most only go to eighth grade and then take a test to determine if they could go on to high school. In the jungle area, only one boy out of 500 was going to high school.

"There is only one highway in the country, even though it is approximately 150 miles long. Thirty miles of the highway is dirt road and the remainder is similar to a black top road in Nebraska," Mrs. Kwapnioski said.

The weather in Belize was hot and humid.

"The temperature went from being tolerable to instantly hot. Also, it rained every day, sometimes three or four times a day. A cloud would come over us and it would rain for 15 minutes and then it would clear up and rain again later," Mrs. Kwapnioski said.

"When we were in Belize, we spent a day traveling and getting used to the culture. We spent time in a nursing home and then conducted six medical clinics. People came to us with stomach aches, fevers, colds, backaches and lots of head lice," Mrs. Witkowski said.

The women noted that there are only three hospitals in Belize - in Belize City, Punta Gorda and Dangriga.

The group then spent time in the jungle.

"In the jungle area, the people do their dishes, laundry and take baths in the river. We got to stay in what is known as the Guest House which had no electricity or hot water. Instead, our "shower" was a piece of PVC pipe coming out of the wall to bring in rain water which had been collected on the roof," Mrs. Kwapnioski said.

Mrs. Witkowski noted that a number of medical missionary groups visit the country, and the group of which she was a part did follow up on work done by other groups. The group that will follow them will do the same.

"We brought back x-rays to be read here in Wayne. The next group will then take the results back with them. Most of this type of work is done as a second opinion, because the residents of Belize don't always trust the doctors there," Mrs. Witkowski added.

The third stop of the trip was to Caye Caulker, an island 50 miles off the coast.

"The island is five mile long, but only about four or five blocks wide. There were more people in this area and the standard of living seemed to be higher," Mrs. Witkowski said.

The group did three more clinics while in Caye Caulker, each lasting one half day.

Both women indicated that they would go back to Belize again or do the same type of work in some other location.

"This was an eye-opening experience. It was like practicing medicine in the U.S. in the 1940's and 50's. The people in the cities have some of our technology, but do not have medication to treat conditions such as diabetes and hypertension. These conditions are very under-treated because there is no medication available," Mrs. Kwapnioski said.

Council

Also during Tuesday's meeting City Administrator Lowell Johnson presented a recap of activities, personnel and projects undertaken by the city in 2003.

Theme sought for 2005 Chicken Show

The Chicken Show Task Force has been flapping its wings to come up with a theme for the Chicken Show's 25th anniversary.

After the feathers started to fly, the flock decided to have a theme contest, which is open to all who are interested in submitting a theme for consideration.

Those interested are asked to bring the entries to the Chamber Office by 5 p.m. on Friday, Aug. 27.

The winner will be announced on Wednesday, Sept. 1 and will receive $25 worth of Chamber Bucks.

He noted that the trend has been toward sharing of resources and the combining of services by subdivisions of government.

In the city of Wayne, a number of departments have been combined, the number of full-time employees has been reduced by at least six persons and other measures have been taken to help reduce spending and offset the cuts in state financial aid.

He commended the city's employees for accepting the challenges that they have had to face due to the budget cuts and noted that the long tenure of city employees helps ensure efficient city operations.

The council gave second reading approval to Ordinance 2004-6 which amends the city code in regard to designated streets prohibited from truck use.

Several changes were made in the ordinance during the meeting. These include changing the prohibited time for truck parking from 10 p.m. to 6 a.m. to 9 p.m. to 7 a.m. and limiting the restricted areas to those zoned R-1 and R-2.

A third reading of the ordinance will take place at the council's next meeting.

Mayor Lindau made several appointments during the meeting. Dennis Lipp was appointed to the Wayne Library Board and Greg Vander Weil, Paul Otte and Kelly Herman were appointed to the Board of Appeals.

The council's next meeting will be Tuesday, Aug. 31 at 7:30 p.m.

The libraries of Wayne will host State Poet William Kloefkorn in the sixth program of "A Meeting of Two Cultures: The Lewis and Clark Expedition" series on Monday, Aug. 23.

Kloefkorn will present a program geared towards school-aged children at 12:30 pm and a public reading for the general public at 7 pm. Both events will be held in Ley Theatre on Wayne State College campus. The primary focus of his presentation will be Sergeant Patrick Gass, Chief carpenter of the Lewis and Clark expedition.

He has read extensively about the Corps of Discovery and has taken part in three, 10-day re-enactments of the Lewis and Clark expedition.

Says Kloefkorn, "The past is not dead. It is not even past. The members of the expedition, as a community, faced the same problems that we face today, the major one being this: How do we get along with each other while retain-

It's the most wonderful time of the year

The guy who invented bottled water needs to cap that feeling in the air that's floating in Northeast Nebraska this time of year.

I'm sure I'm not the only one who's been counting down the days until the start of fall sports season.

Summer does have many exciting sports moments with golf, baseball, softball, swimming and even horseshoes.

Heck, with the increased interest in motorsports these days, this corner of Nebraska continues to become a hotbed of tractor pull activity. (More on that, later.)

But there's something about this time of the year that always feels warm and fuzzy, like an old Nebraska Cornhuskers sweater.

And as we prepare to enter a new generation with Husker football, so comes an extra level of anticipation that will make that nice sensation all the better.

School will be starting soon and the communities around here will shift into a different gear.

Players will start those important workouts that build stamina for the grueling sports season that will take us through the fall.

But first, it's probably appropriate to say goodbye to the summer.

The best goodbye, though, is saying hello to something else.

So you see, we are at a time of year, where emotions and expectations run high and thus it would be a good thing to preserve for those long, cold days of winter a few months down the road. I've spent the past couple of weeks in this space introducing myself to you fine folks.

In the next few weeks, it will be your turn to introduce yourself to me.

I'm going to have the opportunity to meet a lot of people, teams, coaches and fans all at the same time, and I'm sure it will be a challenge.

But it's one that will be an enjoyable part of this job.

Speaking of some fun folks, I just wanted to say a big thanks to a few of the members of the Northeast Nebraska Tractor Pullers, Nebraska Bush Pullers and Nebraska Garden Tractor Pullers groups I've worked with over the past several weeks.

I had only been to a couple pulls prior to hitting the ones this summer, but with the help of some great folks, I honestly can feel the excitement that's been drawing bigger crowds to area pulls every year.

Here's hoping we can keep things rolling (pulling ahead) and building upon this year's experience for this time next year.

It should be noted that I arrived on scene following what's this area's granddaddy of all pulls, the huge Outlaw pull at Carroll, so someone from those environs give me call, I want to visit about next year's event and get it on the calendar.

Just a reminder to those who coach fall sports, please get ahold of me ASAP

In the Press Box
by David W. Carstens

regarding our annual fall sports preview section that will be running in a few weeks. I've already made some contacts and have been enthused with some of the visits I've already had.

It should be obvious that I'm anxious to chat with you coaches and find out about how we can mutually provide coverage of your teams this fall.

It's been my experience that if the coaches and the sports editor are on the same page, then the who, what, where, when and how of the game will be the written page as well.

Derby titles are claimed Dixon Co. fair

An estimated 5,000 onlookers watched the demolition derby and figure-eight race at the Dixon County Fair at Concord on Aug. 4.

Jason Mathiason of Coleridge survived the derby to take the championship, while Joel McAfee of Wayne managed to avoid elimination to win the figure-eight race.

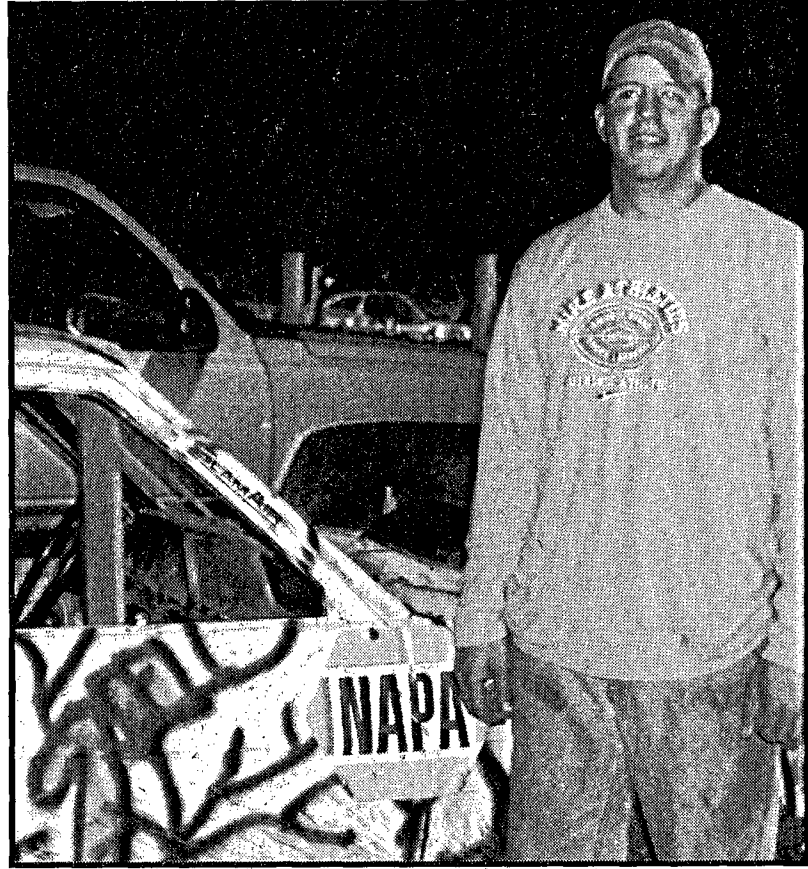

The top five finishers in the demolition derby were: 1. Mathiason, 2. Greg Rastede-Allen, 3. Mike Sorenson-Newcastle, 4. Ty Zellmer-Pierce, 5. Chad Anderson, Linn Grove, Iowa.

The top three finishers in the figure-eight race were: 1. McAfee, 2. Joe Allvin-Wakefield, 3. Chip Young-Dixon.

All fall sports coaches are encouraged to return their Wayne Herald pre-season preview sheets as soon as possible for the Wayne Herald's Fall Sports Preview edition.

Thanks for your time and good luck this fall.

Two assistant coaches have been hired for the Wayne State College women's basketball team. Head coach Ryan Williams announced that Holly Spoo and Allison Kruger will join the coaching staff for the upcoming season. Spoo will serve as full-time assistant coach and comes to WSC after serving the past six seasons as an assistant with the University of Nebraska-Omaha women's team. She is a 1998 graduate from the University of Wisconsin-Oshkosh where she played for the school's undefeated 1996 NCAA Division II national championship team. The Wildcats also named former University of Nebraska-Kearney star Allison Kruger as a graduate assistant. ## WSC inks two for women's softball team

Wayne State College's softball team announced three new recruits for its 2005 softball season. WSC coach Jon Misfeldt said letters of intent to play for the Wildcats were recently signed by Eric King of Fullerton, Erica Reitz of McCook and Heidi Bowen of Mendon, Utah. King, a catcher, was an all-state selection in basketball and volleyball, as well as a state qualifier in track while in high school. Reitz, a college transfer from Colby Community College in Kansas, has played catcher, second base and outfield in her career. Bowen, another community college transfer, was also mentioned as adding versatility to the Wildcat lineup as she lead her college team in doubles, home runs and RBIs.

Bus tour is set for Lewis & Clark attractions

Two hundred years ago, America doubled its size with the Louisiana Purchase and sent out a group of men to explore and record their findings. The group was led by Meriwether Lewis and William Clark.

To commemorate the bicentennial, the Northeast Nebraska Resource Conservation & Development (RC&D) Council will be reliving the adventures of Lewis and Clark with two bus tours on Saturday, Sept. 18. The east tour will follow the Lewis & Clark trail from near Yankton as far as Ponca State Park. Stops include the Corps of Discovery Welcome Center located in Nebraska three miles south of Yankton at the scenic overlook, and the Lewis & Clark Visitors Center at Calumet Bluff.

In South Dakota visits will include Spirit Mound and W.H. Over Museum at Vermillion. Then cross over the new Vermillion/Newcastle Bridge and stop for lunch at St. James Marketplace and an opportunity to browse around the store.

Next it's on to Ponca State Park for a stop at the National Missouri River Research & Education Center and three-state scenic overlook. The last leg of the trip will include stopping at Ionia Volcano and Cemetery, Wiseman Monument and Brookie Bottom near Wynot and returning home. The west tour will follow the Lewis & Clark trail from Niobrara to Pickstown, SD. There will be stops at Niobrara State Park, Lynch and Old Baldy, a cone-shaped landmark called the Tower north of Lynch, a drive by a prairie dog town and the tiny village of Gross.

Next is a drive by the old Fort Randall military reservation, cemetery and chapel as well as an eagle preserve. Part of the trip is a guided tour of the church on the campus of St. Paul's Indian School at Marty SD, a visit to the grave of Chief Struck by the Ree north of Greenwood, and Running Water which sits along the south shore of the Missouri River. Then cross the new Chief Standing Bear Memorial Bridge at Niobrara and return home.

The buses will pick up passengers going east at Jerry's Hilltop near Randolph and the Corps of Discovery Welcome Center. Passengers going west will be picked up at Jerry's Hilltop and Custer's Country Café in Niobrara.

To register for the trip or for more information, call the Northeast RC&D office in Plainview at 402-582-4866.

Project Locate Cards help remind users that 9-1-1 calls may be handled differently

Nebraska's participation in Project Locate will help remind wireless communications users that their calls for emergency help may be handled differently depending on their location and the technology employed by the local public safety answering point (PSAP).

Commission Chairman Jerry Vap of McCook, who represents the Fifth District on the five-member Public Service Commission and serves as the Commission's liaison with the E-9-1-1 advisory committee, said "Emergency callers from wireless telephones must be prepared to quickly give the operator an accurate description of the location from where the call is originating."

Only about half of the state's counties have implemented the first of two phases of E-9-1-1 technology that will eventually enable emergency operators to accurately and automatically identify the location of the caller requesting help.

The Public Service Commission has begun to distribute Project Locate cards to public safety answering points in Nebraska counties where Phase One E-9-1-1 has been implemented. The cards remind callers to identify the location of the emergency, to give the telephone number of the wireless telephone being used, and to accurately describe what has happened.

Project Locate cards also recommend learning the non-emergency numbers for public safety center, refraining from programming a wireless telephone to automatically dial 9-1-1 when one button is pressed and to lock the keypad when not in use to avoid accidental 9-1-1 calls.

Commissioner Vap said Project Locate has been organized nationally to help 9-1-1 callers understand how to use their wireless telephones effectively in summoning emergency assistance and reduce the amount of time needed to dispatch the appropriate service.

"Anyone wanting a Project Locate card may obtain one by contacting the public safety answering point in their county or by contacting the E-9-1-1 department of the Public Service Commission at 800-526-0017," Vap said.

Following is the language found on the Project Locate cards: Side 1: Where is the Emergency? Use road name, number, direction of travel, mile markers, intersections, landmarks, etc.

What number are you calling from? Always give the area code, wireless phone number. If using a phone without a service contract and the call is disconnected, YOU must redial 911.

What exactly has happened? Clearly describe what has taken place. EX: What is on fire? Is the person conscious and breathing? Is the person visibly injured? Types and number of vehicles involved? If reporting a crime, vehicle & suspect descriptions are always important.

Call 9-1-1 ONLY when an immediate response by police/fire-rescue/medical services is required.

Enhanced Wireless 9-1-1 Services can save lives, reduce pain and suffering as well as mitigate damage to property. You can help improve services and prompt responses by:

1. Learning the non-emergency telephone numbers in your area;
2. Not programming your cell phone to dial 9-1-1 on your cell phone;
3. Disabling the auto dial to 9-1-1 on your cell phone; and
4. Locking your keyboard when the phone is not in use to avoid accidental 9-1-1 calls, which can cause the unnecessary dispatch of services.

Since Enhanced 9-1-1 Service does not work everywhere in the U.S., BEFORE purchasing any phone or service ASK the wireless service provider what location technology they have in place to assist emergency services find YOU in times of real crisis. ASK your local 9-1-1 Center if they can receive and use your 9-1-1 call location.

Blood Bank prepares for Labor Day weekend

The Siouland Community Blood Bank (SCBB) needs your help so they can help you.

As SCBB prepares for the Labor Day weekend demands, they ask that you help those in need from your community by donating blood today.

The Siouland Community Blood Bank needs to collect over 1000 units of blood each week to keep up with the needs of the 28 area hospitals they supply blood to in Iowa, Nebraska and South Dakota.

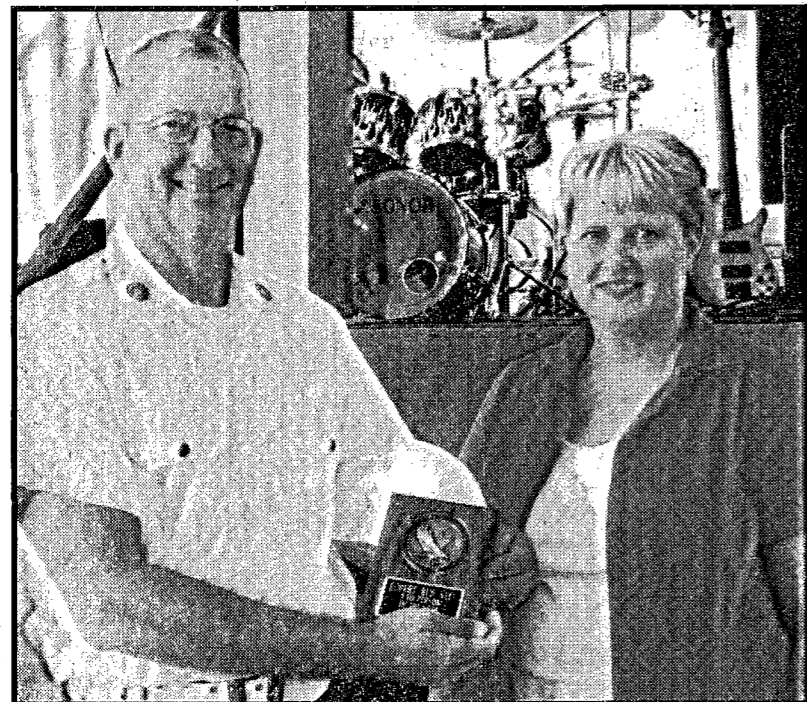

Since only 5 percent of those eligible volunteer to donate blood, we ask you to consider giving this gift of life to help a friend, family member or neighbor. The cost is only a little of your time. Saving lives in your community; priceless.

Your next opportunity to donate in Wayne is Thursday August 26 from 8:30 a.m. to 3 p.m. at Providence Medical Center.

To be eligible to donate blood individuals must be at least 17 years of age; however there is no upper age limit as long as the donor is in good health. In addition donors need to weigh over 110 pounds and have not donated whole blood in the past 56 days. A photo I.D. is required at the time of registration.

For more information about "Heroes Unite, It's About Life", the Siouland Community Blood Bank or blood drives in your area, call 712-252-4208, 1-800-798-4208 or visit their website at www.sioulandbloodbank.org

Thank you to the Wayne Agricultural Board for choosing me for the Kilroy Award at this year's Wayne County Fair. It is very rewarding for me to work with the seniors. Tracy Keating

The Wayne Herald

A big thank you extended to those involved with the fair

In the 4-H and Youth Development Program, the county fair is an important event that many of our 4-Hers choose to participate in.

This is the event where youth put in hours upon hours to complete their projects or get them ready for fair. It is one way in which they show others what they have learned throughout the year. They are proud of their accomplishments and the goals that they have set and are also appreciative of being able to exhibit at the county fair.

Even though these youth are putting in numerous hours working with their animals, perfecting a recipe, or sanding their wood-working project just one more time, there are also many other individuals who contribute to the Fair that need to be recognized.

It is definitely a community event and without the support of community members and individuals willing to volunteer their time and talents such an event would not be possible. 4-Hers are fortunate to live in a community that cares about youth and about making positive learning experiences for them.

I will not attempt to mention names but some of the roles that individuals play to help out with the fair. Getting the grounds ready for the Fair is a huge undertaking.

If one were to travel to the fairgrounds on Monday afternoon before the Fair, you would see a huge difference by 10 p.m. that evening. Those individuals that mow, repair, move supplies etc. are much appreciated. There are many superintendents who volunteer their time on the various judging days to make sure their departments are judged and taken care of, this happens for several days/weeks prior to the Fair and all the way through. 4-H leaders are also working all year long to plan events and inform 4-Hers of upcoming educational opportunities.

Parents, grandparents, and close friends also contribute much to help the youth reach their goals with their projects. "Learn by Doing" is the 4-H motto, so throughout the year there is much learning that takes place and the volunteers of the program contribute to this learning.

There are also many fair supporters who donate money and services for such things as trophies and pool money or bonus auction, these individuals and businesses may not even have the opportunity to attend the fair, but they still see it as a very important event and support the youth of their community. As a community one should feel proud of such an event and all of the individuals who make this event happen for families.

As a University of Nebraska Cooperative Extension Educator, I want the community to know that I realize the time and talents shared and it is much appreciated. If you have not yet been told, THANK YOU!

We look forward to the 2005 4-H Year!

Cataracts affect over 80% of our senior citizens. In fact over one million cataract surgeries are performed annually in the U.S. alone.

New technological developments in implants, ultrasonic equipment, lasers, diagnostic testing, and surgical techniques have made cataract surgery one of the most effective procedures today. Currently, over 98% of cataract patients experience significant improvements in vision, without major complications.

Until now, the high cost of this new technology for cataract surgery was only available in the larger surgical facilities. This meant that you would have to travel for a complete eye examination and surgery. Not any longer.

Complete eye care and cataract surgery is now available at Providence Medical Center in Wayne. You don't have to travel outside of your community to have your vision tested for cataracts. With Dr. Wilcockson, Dr. Koeber and Dr. Magnuson offering comprehensive diagnostic and surgical services, you now have the most advanced eye care available right here in town.

Call Dr. Koeber or Dr. Magnuson for a complete eye examination and cataract vision screening today. If you would like more information on cataracts for yourself or someone you know who may be experiencing loss of vision, call today for a free informational brochure.

Food Poisoning Prevention

Careful food preparation can reduce your risk of food poisoning. Thaw meats in the refrigerator or microwave and not on the counter. When preparing food, start with clean hands. Wash cutting utensils in between preparing meats and other foods. Use separate cutting boards when possible. To insure cooking meats to safe temperatures, use a meat thermometer. On picnics, wrap raw meats separately so juices don't contaminate other foods. Avoid leaving foods out too long that contain dairy ingredients, eggs or meat because they spoil quickly.

BBB warns that imposters are targeting consumers, businesses

The Better Business Bureau system today issued a national alert to warn consumers and businesses about two questionable operations that are falsely using the BBB name to trick victims. Reports have come from businesses located in Arkansas, California, Georgia, Kentucky, Louisiana, Nebraska, Nevada, Ohio, Texas, Utah and Washington.

One business, which appears to be a telemarketer, is contacting local businesses, falsely stating to be from the BBB and calling about a complaint or to update BBB files. The telemarketer proceeds to ask questions that have nothing to do with BBB business and leaves as a contact number 1.800.CALL.BBB (225-5222). That phone number, which is NOT owned by the BBB, is constantly busy. Businesses need to be aware that any representative from the BBB would clearly identify themselves and leave a working phone number.

The callers generally claim to be phoning about a BBB complaint or to "update" BBB files. They attempt to solicit information that is not normally required in order to conduct business with or be a member of the BBB. The callers ask for names of various managers (the head of finance or information technology) and the number of workstations at that business location. Businesses have reported that the callers became rude and used threatening language when questioned about the BBB's need for such information or the nature of the complaint.

Another business is perpetrating an advance fee loan scam that targets consumers and businesses with poor credit records. It has

Jones completes basic training

Navy Seaman Apprentice Matt C. Jones, son of Sharon K. and Dean B. Jones of Laurel, recently completed U.S. Navy basic training at Recruit Training Command, Great Lakes, Ill.

During the eight-week program, Jones completed a variety of training which included classroom study and practical instruction on naval customs, first aid, firefighting, water safety and survival, and shipboard and aircraft safety. An emphasis was also placed on physical fitness.

The capstone event of boot camp is "Battle Stations". This exercise gives recruits the skills and confidence they need to succeed in the fleet. "Battle Stations" is designed to galvanize the basic warrior attributes of sacrifice, dedication, teamwork and endurance in each recruit through the practical application of basic Navy skills and the core values of Honor, Courage and Commitment. Its distinctly "Navy" flavor was designed to take into account what it means to be a Sailor.

Jones is a 1999 graduate of Laurel-Concord Public High School of Laurel.

provided as a reference fictitious BBB phone numbers that are answered by representatives who falsely claim to be with the Better Business Bureau and provide a positive report on the business in question.

These scammers are falsely using the Better Business Bureau name to try to gain credibility with potential victims so they can get money or confidential information.

The BBB urges people to double-check with the BBB at 402-391-7612 or 800-649-6814 whenever you receive a dubious phone call or see the BBB name tied to a questionable promotion.

This Consumer/Business Alert is brought to you by the Better Business Bureau, a non-profit organization, serving Nebraska, South Dakota and Southwest Iowa.
