Libraries to host traveling World War II exhibit

Area libraries will be hosting a traveling exhibit of World War II memorabilia during the month of September.

The BUS-eum and the display "Behind Barbed Wire: Midwest POWs in Nazi Germany" will be at Wayne Public Library on Tuesday, Sept. 7 from 6-9 pm and at Winside Public Library on Thursday, Sept. 30 from 2-5 pm.

The Upper Midwest has unique connections to the World War II European-theater prisoner of war (POW) experience. They occurred during the Third Reich, which is what Germany's Nazis defined as the era of their empire.

The first U.S. troops sent to Europe came from the Iowa-based 34th "Red Bull" Division. This division consisted of men from Iowa, the Dakotas and Minnesota. They served for more than 600 days, which was the longest uninterrupted duty of any U.S. unit in the history of the U.S. Army. About 2,000 soldiers from the 34th Division were captured in North Africa in February of 1943.

Later, pilots shot down during air raids over Germany formed a second wave of Midwest POWs imprisoned in Nazi Germany. Until the Battle of Bulge took place in December of 1944, just west of Germany in Belgium and Luxembourg, a disproportionate share of U.S. POWs in the Third Reich came, per capita, from the Upper Midwest. Minorities were among those POWs and their struggles were worsened by racism within the Army and at home.

Despite the uniqueness of this legacy, virtually no one is aware of the special role Midwest soldiers played in the larger U.S. WW II experience.

The non-profit educational organization TRACES is bringing these stories to life through the creation of its BUS-eum—a 40-foot school bus converted into a mobile museum. The exhibit consists of narrative display panels illustrated with photographs and documents, audio and DVD documentaries, artifacts and more. Remembering the experiences of the POWs in their communities of origin is a unique adventure in U.S. history. The BUS-eum is the only known mobile museum in the nation focused on the experiences and related historical contexts of U.S. POWs.

This educational experience has been built upon years of research and gathered support. The International Committee of the Red Cross in Geneva and the Bildarchiv Preussischer Kulturbesitz in Berlin have supplied hundreds of photos for the exhibit that otherwise are unknown in the United

Teachers end successful careers

Fink teaches Home Ec

As students and teachers head back to school, two long-time Wayne teachers will be enjoying the beginning of their retirement from the profession.

Kathy Fink graduated from Crofton High School and earned a bachelor's degree in Home Economics and a minor in Business from Wayne State College in 1971.

She began her teaching career at the Wayne Community Schools at the Middle School level. She later took over part of the High School Economics classes.

"The title of my department changed to Family and Consumer Sciences (FACS) in the 1980's," Mrs. Fink said.

She then developed and taught the FACS program for both the Middle School and High School students.

"The classes I taught never stayed the same through the years. There were always new materials and course offerings. We went from sewing and cooking to consumer, family and marriage issues. These are the things that keep the family functioning," she said.

During her 33-year career at Wayne Community Schools, Mrs. Fink was a member of the School Community Intervention Program for 10 years and team leader for seven of those years.

Zahniser teaches German

Edith Elisabeth Zahniser was born in Konisberg, Germany, an area now known as Kalingrad in Russia.

She received her undergraduate education at the University of Hamburg, Germany, majoring in English and History. It was there that she met her future husband, Robert.

She came to the United States in 1961 and married in 1962. The Zahnisers moved to Wayne in 1966 and Edith taught classes off and on for a number of years.

She did graduate studies in Comparative Literature at the University of Arkansas (U of A) and in 1976 earned her master's degree in German and English at the University of Nebraska (UNL).

Her teaching experience started in Hamburg, tutoring German students in English. Since then she has taught German to a variety of students in various places: as a graduate assistant at the U of A and UNL, as a substitute teacher at Oklahoma City University and in Walthill in a course for students at Macy, at language camp, in the Adult Education Program at Northeast Technical Community College, in an enrichment program at St. Mary's Elementary

Letters

Asking the community to remember

Dear friends,
At 9:04 a.m. on Sept. 2, 1945, the Second World War officially ended as representatives of the Japanese government signed the surrender treaty aboard the battleship USS Missouri.
The restoration of peace after a six-year conflict that claimed tens of millions of lives is too important in this nation and to our state to become a footnote in the history books. Many of us believe it was the direct intervention of a higher power that guided us — as individuals and as a people — through those bloody and tumultuous years.
As the leader of the state's largest veterans group, I call upon the state's churches, synagogues, mosques and other places of worship to help preserve in our communities the memory of that time of testing and deliverance.

Places of worship that have bell towers are requested to ring their bells for a full minute, beginning at 9:04 a.m. on Thursday, Sept. 2, 2004.
This will provide for the residents of our communities an opportunity for reflection on the sacrifices borne by our countrymen, for prayers of thanksgiving and for a joyful acknowledgement of the merciful protection of our Creator.

Rollie Otte,
Morse Bluff,
Department Commander
American Legion

Settlement is positive end to complicated case

By Attorney General Jon Bruning
Dear Fellow Nebraskans:
During a joint announcement, Governor Mike Johanns and I recently delivered the words that Nebraskans have been waiting years to hear — it's finally over.
With the stroke of a pen, the State of Nebraska agreed to a deal with the Central Interstate Low-Level Radioactive Waste Commission following several years of litigation. The end result is that Nebraska is no longer obligated to host a low-level waste site following our payment of $140.5 million to the Commission, a payment that could be reduced to $130 million if we are successful in reaching an agreement with the State of Texas to accept waste from Nebraska and the Compact states.
To put it mildly, this case has been horrible for the State of Nebraska. However, I'm proud of the work we have done to settle the lawsuit which, in the worst case scenario, could have cost the state $207 million and forced us to license a disposal site that would not even accept Nebraska waste. Any way you slice it, this settlement is without a doubt the best possible outcome for Nebraska taxpayers.

I realize that there are a group of vocal skeptics out there who argue that we gave up on our case too soon. My response to their assertion is simple. Given the fact that the 8th U.S. Circuit Court of Appeals had twice ruled against the state in this case, our efforts to take it before the U.S. Supreme Court would be best described as grasping at straws. Neither I nor the Governor were willing to risk a judgment that could have climbed to more than $207 million and would have forced us to build a waste site that we could not even use by hanging on until our last legal recourse was exhausted.
So where do we go from here? Conversations are already underway with the State of Texas to accept nuclear waste from Nebraska and the Compact states. Other options exist as well.
It is my sincere hope that we will soon be able to put this case behind us in its entirety and resolve the issues that remain in a way befitting the integrity and spirit of Nebraskans.

Nuclear dump story continues

By Ed Howard
Statehouse Correspondent
The Nebraska Press Association

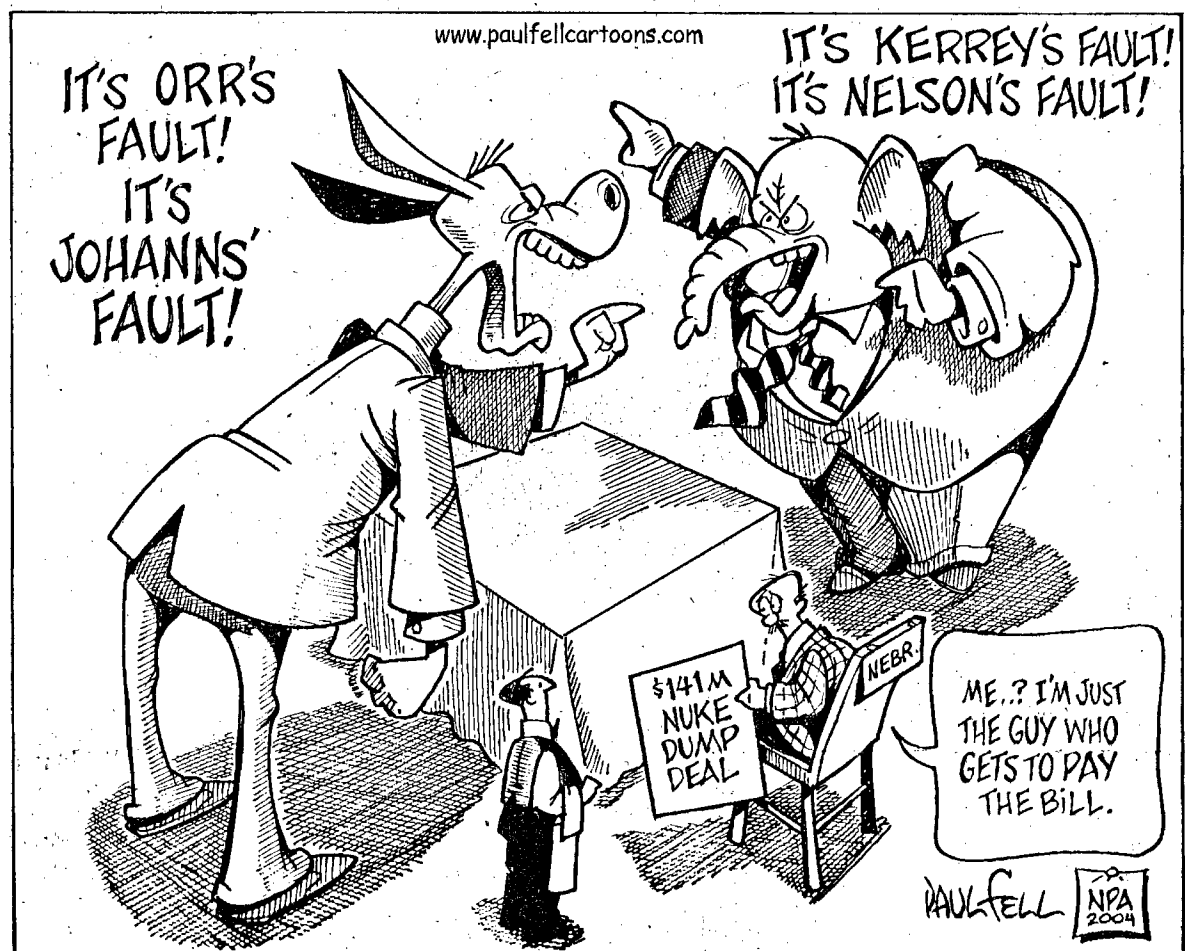

The epic story of what might be called Nebraska's Great Nuclear Dump War will be told in a sort of three-volume set.
We're speaking metaphorically. Don't call Barnes & Noble.
The interminably lengthy Volume I, with more co-authors than the Holy Bible and enough pages to make Bill Clinton's autobiography look like a short story, was completed last week.
The state, via Gov. Mike Johanns, reached agreement with the Central Interstate Low-Level Radioactive Waste Commission to bring a merciful halt to a decades-old lawsuit.

The litigation is the heart and soul of the story line.
A necessarily lengthy Synopsis: Nebraska joined the multi-state commission when Bob Kerrey was governor. When Kay Orr was governor, the compact tapped Nebraska as the host site for a nuclear waste dump. When Ben Nelson was governor, the state refused to license US Ecology to build the nuclear toilet, citing safety and environmental concerns. The compact sued Nebraska; federal courts awarded the other states $151 million, plus interest.
Ben Nelson, now a U.S. Senator, said the state was shafted by U.S. District Judge Richard Kopf. Nelson said Kopf was an "activist judge" who wrongly denied the state a jury trial, and oversaw creation of a trial record inadequately representing Nebraska's case.
Gov. Mike Johanns negotiated a deal with the commission (which Nebraska had resigned from or was kicked out of, take your pick) at a cost of somewhere between $130 million and about $150 million. [End Volume I. Writing time: 2 1/2 years.]
Creation of Volume II will begin in January. The Legislature will consider the pending deal and decide whether to pay off the commission in a lump sum or via a four-year installment plan. The "how to pay" tome might be as intensely turbulent, but not nearly so long, as its predecessor.

Johanns hopes the commission buy-off won't require tax increases.
One big payment would get it over with. However, with state tax revenues bringing in more money of late, some lawmakers might want to choose the four-year plan, at a cost of over $38 million annually. That route could make more tax revenue available in the short term for state spending on other stuff.
The other side of that coin is that, if the economy has another spasm and revenues decline, those annual payments could be burdensome. Might tax increases then be required?

Addressing the "how to pay" issue will be of immense interest to any number of public and private interests and the voters and lobbyists who back them.
The story told in Volume II should be finished sometime next June. Probably.
Finger-pointing politics and voter reaction to it will be the stuff of Volume III, virtually certain to have a "whodunit?" theme.
When Sen. Ben Nelson seeks a second term, his Republican opponent will raise Hell to sea level about the nuke dump debacle. Johanns looks to be the likely GOP standard bearer.
Nelson's task will be to explain what happened in Volume I in a way that can be summarized in space available for newspaper stories, and in 30-second commercials and sound bytes. It would be easier to explain War and Peace in 100 words or less.

His will be a story of fighting to keep the state safe. Expect a good deal about the disturbing aspects of US Ecology's history as a builder of dumps.
Johanns will have an advantage common to all politicians criticizing a job done by another elected official. "You made a mess and I could have done better," is the story line of every such endeavor. The 2006 election campaign thus will be the heart of Volume III.
With negotiations for building the nuke dump in some other state still in the offing, there could even be a Volume IV.
Let's hope not.
The Bible only needed two books, they've been around hundreds of years, and people still can't agree on what they mean.

Congress should be safeguarding public interest

By Chuck Hassebrook

The proposed purchase of Farm Credit Services of America by Dutch banking conglomerate Rabobank raises critical issues that cry for the attention of Congress, farmer stockholders, federal regulators, and the public at large.
The Omaha-based Farm Credit Services is a producer-owned cooperative that lends to farmers and ranchers in Iowa, Nebraska, South Dakota and Wyoming. The banks were initially created with federal money (since repaid) and still enjoy competitive advantages over local rural banks: System banks are tax exempt, and the feds back the bonds issued to raise money for the loans.

What is the motive for the sale? Farm Credit Services CEO Jack Webster says the bank wants to be free of the legal limits that prevent it from expanding beyond its four state region and providing home mortgage loans in larger towns and cities.
In short — now that the bank has used federal backing to establish a dominant position in the region, Webster wants to transfer that dominance to a commercial bank free to do whatever it wants to turn a profit.

Before passing on the sale, farmer stockholders should ask some fundamental questions. First, why relinquish their share of a bank with $1.3 billion of capital for just $600 million — less than 50 cents on the dollar? By selling now, stockholders get their share of the $600 million early. But even if they don't sell, they'll get most of it later when they pay off their loans and redeem their stock.
Keeping the system intact would enable them to use its excess capital reserves, together with the continued backing of the feds, to lower interest rates, benefiting farmers and ranchers, for whom the system was created. They would retain the borrower rights provided by Congress — to appeal foreclosure and gain the right of first refusal to rent or buy back any land they lose through foreclosure. These rights will be lost under the sale.

Congress should be safeguarding the public interest. Would turning the dominant position of Farm Credit Services over to an international banking conglomerate damage competition? Would Rabobank use its size and power to drive out smaller community banks? Surely Congress did not create and subsidize a farmer-owned lending institution only to hand a dominant market position to an international banking conglomerate.
Congress should enhance competition in agricultural lending by enabling locally owned community banks to also raise money for farm loans through government-backed Farm Credit System bonds — not just Farm Credit Systems banks. That would enable local banks to be more competitive, and it would prevent government backing from being used to build a dominant position in farm lending — only to be turned over to an international banking conglomerate.

Special allocation

The Wayne United Way recently made a special allocation of $250 of its funds to the Wayne County Salvation Army. The funds will be used by the organization for supplies for 20 backpacks. The Salvation Army obtained the names of 20 students in the Wayne area who needed assistance with school supplies. The backpacks were supplied by the Omaha Office of the Salvation Army. Involved in the presentation were, left to right, United Way Board member Mitch DeBoer, Ilene Nichols, Financial Secretary for the Wayne County Salvation Army, and Corby Schweers, United Way Board members. The Wayne United Way will kick off the 2004-05 campaign on Friday, Sept. 24 with its annual Street Rally on Main Street.

She was a member of the Crisis team for 10 years and team leader for two years.

She served on the Haven House Board of Directors for 15 years and board president for four years. She has been a member of Phi Delta Kappa for 12 years and worked to mentor new teachers through the Master Teacher Program sponsored by Wayne State College.

She was also nominated to Who's Who in America's Teachers in 2004 by a former student.

Kathy and her husband, Ron, have two children, Jason and Carrie. Both have chosen the teaching profession. Jason teaches seventh grade social studies at Ralston Middle School. Her daughter-in-law, Andrea, works at The Buckle in the Oakview Mall. Jason and Andrea have two sons, Mckoy and Ayden.

Her daughter Carrie teaches third grade at Ackerman Elementary, part of the Millard School District. Carrie's husband, Brady, plays minor league baseball for the Pittsburgh Pirates. The couple has a son, Drew, born July 2.

Kathy plans to look for employment, possibly in adult education, decorating or quilting. She may also do some substitute teaching.

"I will definitely miss the students and staff. I have enjoyed watching the changes that take place in students from Middle School to High School. I was with the students from seventh grade through high school. It was neat to see the positive changes that took place in them," Mrs. Fink said.

She also noted that she will not miss the hectic schedule she has had in recent years, including five class preps, going back and forth between buildings and having no official lunch time.

The Finks are looking into relocating to a cabin they have on the Lewis & Clark Lake.

School in Wayne, in a summer program in Barnaul, Siberia, at Wayne State College and for 21 years at Wayne High School. Her position at Wayne High School was always part-time, even in recent years when English was added to her assignment.

Throughout her career, Mrs. Zahniser has been active in her profession. She has attended professional meetings and conferences, given presentations at the local, state and national level and held a number of leadership positions in these organizations. She served four terms as president of the Nebraska Association of Teachers of German and one term as secretary/treasurer. As president, she planned 16 workshops for German teachers. She served as vice-president, president and treasurer of the Nebraska Foreign Language Association. She directed the German part of the Nebraska International Language Camp, of which she was co-founder.

At Wayne High School, Mrs. Zahniser said she always tried to foster her students' interest in German beyond the classroom by sponsoring the German Club, establishing a chapter of Delta Epsilon Phi, the National German Honor Society, and initiating a GAPP school-partnership between Wayne and Steinheim, Germany which resulted in three years of student exchanges.

Her students have annually taken the challenging National German Test, winning the summer trip to Germany several times. The students have also competed at the UNL and WSC Foreign Language Days and at the German Student Convention, bringing home ribbons, medals and trophies on a regular basis.

Over the last 10 years, the German Club has planted 10 trees on the high school grounds as part of a service learning project, honoring each year's exchange students.

Her awards during her career include an NEH seminar at Tufts University near Boston, workshops at St. Olaf College, Concordia College at Moorhead, Minn. and several workshops in Germany. In 1995 she received the Certificate of Merit, a prestigious national award by the Goethe Institute and AATG. She was named 1983's Outstanding German Teacher. Since 1999 she has received the Foreign Language Star Award, sponsored by the Nebraska Department of Education and NILA, five times. The NATG honored her with the Duden Award in 2000 and 2003.

"I will miss the students and the aspect of teaching. The students have different life experience and teachers can learn much from them," she said.

"I will definitely miss the students I had in my English 10 classes. It is these students who often recognize me on the street and stop to say hello," she said.

Edith's husband, Robert, Professor Emeritus of English and German at Wayne State College, retired from his position last year.

Future plans include visiting the couple's sons who live on the coasts, David in Los Angeles, Calif. and Steven in Washington, D.C.

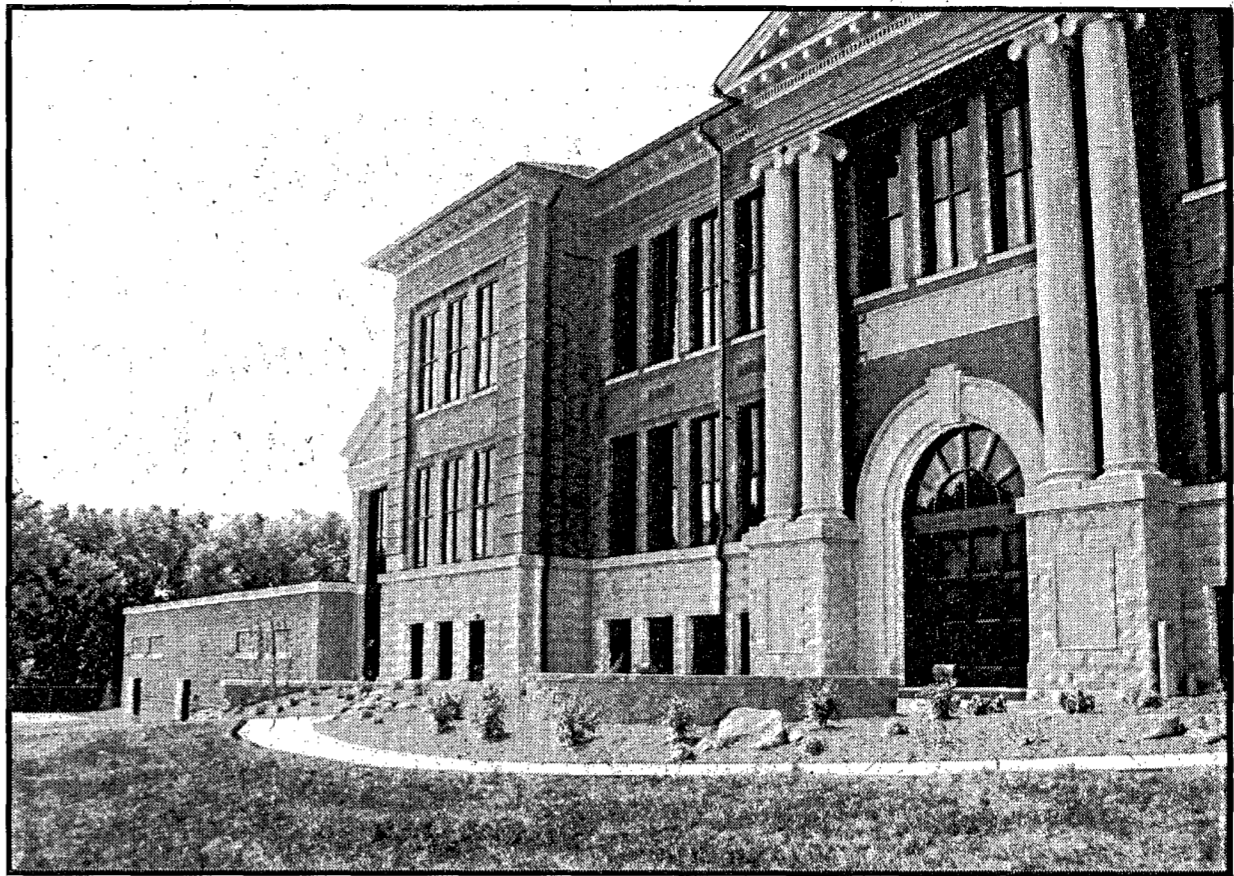

David is a reporter and covers Los Angeles City Hall. Steven is a senior researcher at the Department of Agriculture. He and his wife have a daughter, Emma.

Visits to family and friends in Germany are also a possibility now that the Zahnisers have more free time, possibly this December.

Mrs. Zahniser is also scheduled to give a presentation in October to the International Language Teachers Association in Lincoln.

"Throughout my career I have enjoyed working with my colleagues on various international projects at the school. I especially remember the time we constructed the 'Berlin Wall' in the hallway just before the wall came down in Germany," she said.

The Zahnisers plan to stay in Wayne where Edith wants to enjoy her backyard, gardening, traveling, reading and being with friends.

Students, as well as the community, can enjoy the new outdoor classroom/garden at the Wayne Middle School. The original east entrance is the backdrop for the classroom.

New outdoor classroom/garden commemorates 100th anniversary of Rotary International Rotary International will celebrate its 100th anniversary in 2005. Each local club was encouraged to commemorate the anniversary by developing a project unique to their community.

Wayne Rotary, along with Country Nursery of Wayne, designed an outdoor classroom/garden at the Wayne Middle School. The design preserves the heritage of the building by using the architectural design of the original east entrance as a backdrop for the classroom.

The landscaping and seating area provide an appealing area for children and teachers to use as an outdoor classroom. Rotary held various fundraisers to finance the project and generous contributions were received from WEB, Student Council, Middle School Council, Wayne Public School, Foundation.

Rotary extends a big thank-you to Country Nursery, Otte Construction, and Gerhold Concrete for discounting the cost of labor and goods to make this project possible.

The public is invited to visit the site and see Wayne Rotary's gift to the school and community.

It's that time of the year

The sign and the college are ready for new and returning students to come to Wayne. Classes are scheduled to begin Monday, Aug. 23. A number of students have been busy this week moving into dorms and apartments.

TEAM 15 committee makes plans for a Sept. 15 town hall meeting

A town-hall meeting is planned for Monday, Sept. 13 at 7 p.m. at the auditorium in Wayne. This will be an informational meeting for business, property owners, and everyone interested in the implementation of the Highway 15 project in 2006.

Members of the Nebraska Department of Roads will be on hand to answer questions about the upcoming project and what has happened to this point.

Also present will be City of Wayne officials, Wayne Main Street and Chamber of Commerce members. Discussion will be held on why TEAM 15 was started as well as downtown Wayne issues such as lighting, what can be done with the alleys and parking situations, decorative brick, and other issues.

TEAM 15 is comprised of three committees: Design, Parking and Alley, and Promotional/Communication. Committee members are Leo Ahman; Randy Brenner; Kim Kai; Nana Peterson; Lois Shelton; Randy Pederson; Jack Hausmann, Chamber of Commerce representative; Joel Hansen; Marty Summerfield; Harold Reynolds; Jeff Morlok; Mayor, Sheryl Lindau; Lowell Johnson; Jean Karlen; Doug Sturm; Garry Poutre; George Ellyson; Scott Brummond; Kaki Ley; John Carhart.

TEAM 15 members have visited the communities of Ogallala, and Cherokee, Iowa, where similar projects were completed to see how businesses there handled the situation.

Exhibit

States. Indiana-born former POW and best-selling author Kurt Vonnegut has given TRACES free and unrestricted use of Slaughterhouse Five, his account of having been present during the firebombing of Dresden.

Beyond Barbed Wire explores the human context of the POW experiences. Implicitly, it addresses five primary questions:

1.) Why did some Midwest POWs survive certain conditions or experiences, while others did not?

2.) What roles did art, free-time, and religion play in helping those men who did survive imprisonment by the Nazi regime?

3.) Why did some Germans or Austrians assist U.S. POWs, while others did not?

4.) How did the liberated POWs later come to terms with their own experiences, and 5.) How do nations and the individuals who constitute a nation come to reconciliation?

The BUS-eum will bring Behind Barbed Wire to hundreds of communities and enrich their historical awareness of their connections to the greater World War II drama. The exhibit will appeal to both children and senior citizens, as well as to urban and rural residents. Valuable discussion and reflection will be sparked amongst diverse audiences about local history and culture, and about current issues related to military service and war. TRACES' motto is "We bring HISTORY TO LIFE!" That mission will be furthered when the BUS-eum tours the very region whose men are celebrated in this unique exhibit.

'Campus Showcase' to feature WSC president

The public is invited to meet Dr. Richard Collings, Wayne State College president, and his wife, Marilyn, who will be special guests at the opening 'Campus Showcase' program on Friday, Sept. 3, in the Elkhorn Room, Wayne State College student center, beginning at 9 a.m.

Collings, who assumed the presidency in June, came to Wayne State from Western Carolina University in Cullowhee, N.C., where he was vice chancellor for academic affairs and professor of political science and public affairs since 1996. He earned a doctorate in political science from Tulane University in 1977. Collings and his wife are natives of Louisville, Ky. "This will be a great opportunity to meet Dr. and Mrs. Collings, to learn about his vision for Wayne State College, and to welcome them to the region," said Judy Johnson, WSC director of college relations.

During the hour-long program, refreshments will be served. Although designed for senior citizen appeal, all ages are welcome to attend. There is no admission charge. During each 'Campus Showcase,' birthdays are acknowledged and special guests are recognized.

Because parking on campus is limited, free transportation from the Wayne Senior Citizens Center/Public Library at 410 Pearl Street will be provided by the college before and after the Campus Showcase' event. The shuttle will depart from the Senior Citizens Center/Public Library at approximately 8:45 a.m. and will return immediately following the program. Those wishing to ride are asked to park near the south end of the Senior Citizens Center.

'Campus Showcase' is sponsored by Wayne State as part of the school's mission of community and regional outreach. It is co-hosted by Dr. James O'Donnell, dean of the WSC School of Arts and Humanities, and Johnson.

For more information, please call Johnson at 402-375-7325.

Wayne clinic received Cola's Laboratory Excellence Award

Wayne Mercy Medical Clinic is a recipient of COLA's Laboratory Excellence Award, an award that recognizes those laboratories that demonstrate exemplary patient testing.

COLA's Laboratory Excellence Award is bestowed on COLA laboratories that complete an on-site survey and are found to have superior laboratory safety and practices for their patients.

COLA is a nonprofit, physician-directed organization promoting quality and excellence in medicine and patient care through programs of voluntary education, achievement, and accreditation.

COLA is approved by the federal government and sponsored by the American Academy of Family Physicians, the American Medical Association, the American College of Physicians-American Society of Internal Medicine, the College of American Pathologists, and the American Osteopathic Association.

Staff at Wayne Mercy Medical Clinic noted they are very proud of their lab staff which includes Shana Erwin, Kathy Bird, Deb Gross and Kathy Meyer for their outstanding contributions to attain this award.

Junior Fire Patrol to be held

The Wayne Volunteer Fire Department will conduct the 42nd consecutive year of Junior Fire Patrol beginning Monday, Aug. 30.

Junior Fire Patrol is held for the fourth graders in Wayne Elementary and Saint Mary's Schools. The sessions are for one hour starting at 7 p.m. sharp and ending at 8 p.m. sharp.

The fourth grade participants must be brought to the meetings and picked up after, or a written note be sent that the child is allowed to leave alone, otherwise they will not be allowed to leave.

Topics covered will be Inspection, Fires, Fire extinguishers, Self-protection, Rescue, First Aid, Our Department, and Graduation.

The sessions will be conducted by various members of the Wayne Fire Department.

Meetings are held at the Wayne Volunteer Fire Department Fire Hall at the corner of 6th Street and Tomar Drive, just across the street from Super 8 Motel.

Letters have been sent to the Parents/Guardians of last year's third graders. If someone has been missed, please come to the first meeting on Aug. 30.

More information can be obtained by calling Art Barker at 402-375-1304.

Who is this 'Diamond Monte' Pedersen?

The Wayne Area Chamber of Commerce and the Business After Hours Committee would like to invite the public, all chamber members, sponsors, and guests to the Wayne Country Club on Friday, Aug. 20 from 5 to 7 for an evening of fun, food, and fantastic prizes.

This is a perfect opportunity to network with other businesses, visit with new and old friends, win great prizes, eat delicious food, and meet a well-known celebrity. Who is this celebrity you may ask? Well, come out to the Wayne Country Club for "Let's Make A Deal On The Hill" and meet him on Friday after work.

Tickets are $5 and will be available at the Chamber Office and will also be on sale that day at the Business After Hours event.

*-first half playoff qualifiers

Wayne player competes in European basketball games

A Wayne athlete will more than likely have quite a few adventures from travels this summer.

Jennifer Raveling of Wayne is a member of the American All-Stars, a team is comprised of eight All-Stars from the 2002-03 Midland Lutheran College summer basketball camps.

The team competed in recent contests in the United Kingdom.

The squad won its first game against the Hackney Angels 74-57, on Aug. 6 in London England and was set to play several more games on its tour.

The All-Stars' trip will include games in England, Scotland and Ireland plus sightseeing visits to various tourist attractions.

Second place net went to Marilyn Carhart, Bob Carhart, Sandra Wriedt, Bob Robinson and pro Bruce Jensen who collectively carded a 52.0.

Three-way tie golfed at pro-am

The fourth annual Providence Medical Center Pro-Am Golf Tournament was played last Friday (Aug. 13) at the Wayne Country Club.

A three-way atop the professional board occurred when Steve Grosz of Firethorn Golf Club in Lincoln, Justin Herron of Omaha's Ironwood Country Club and Terry Comstock of Prairie Greens at Sioux Falls, each shot a 70 on the day.

There were 28 professional/amateur golfer teams that participated at this year's event.

Wayne Country Club professional Troy Harder finished in the thick of another three-way tie for seventh place with a 72.

The team of Joel Ankeny, Michelle Harder and Chad Metzler, along with pro John Kuhry, tied pro Klinton Keller's team, including Tim Keller, Rob Miller and Corby Schweers with the low gross score in the first flight with a 63.

Kurhy's team won the first flight with a net score of 54.8. Pro Terry Comstock, along with team members Erica Diediker, Don Diediker and John Torczon took second with a 55.6.

The team of pro John Robins and members Krystal Dowse, Shawn Dowse and Pam Matthes topped the second flight with a gross total of 65.

Winning the second flight with a net score of 50.8 was the team of pro Josh Haney, Lori Butler, Gail Brundum and Roger Mazour.

Second place net went to Marilyn Carhart, Bob Carhart, Sandra Wriedt, Bob Robinson and pro Bruce Jensen who collectively carded a 52.0.

Snead is national award winner

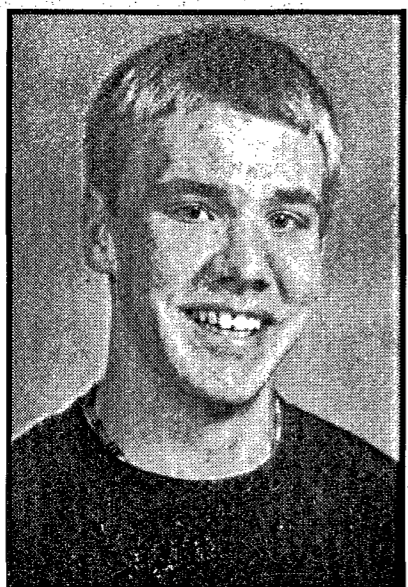

The United States Achievement Academy has announced that Andrew Snead of Wayne has been named a United States Award Winner in Band.

This award is a prestigious honor very few students can ever hope to attain. The Academy recognizes fewer than 10 percent of all American high school students.

Andrew, who attends Wayne High School, was nominated for this national award by Brad Weber, a teacher at the school. His name will now appear in the United States Achievement Academy Official Yearbook, which is published nationally.

"Recognizing and supporting our youth is more important than ever before in America's history. Certainly, United States Achievement Academy winners should be congratulated and appreciated for their dedication to excellence and achievement," said Dr. George Stevens, Executive Director of the United States Achievement Academy.

ZION LUTHERAN LADIES

Zion Lutheran Ladies Aid and LWML met on the afternoon of Aug. 5 with eight members, one guest and Pastor Riege present. They met at the Donna Kruger home.

Joyce Saegbarth had a reading for Christian Growth. Pastor Riege's topic was on Death and Dying.

The meeting was opened by President Diane Koepke. Roll call was taken with members donating 15 cents.

One visitor and one cheer card were sent.

The District Retreat will be in O'Neill on Sept. 25.

The Altar Guild for August includes Joyce Saegbarth, Eileen Meyer, Elaine Ehlers, and Delma Vyhldal. Saegbarth will be in charge of flowers.

The birthday song was sung to Elaine Ehlers and Joyce Saegbarth.

The next meeting will be on Sept. 2 at 1:30 p.m. with Saegbarth as hostess.

DORCAS SOCIETY

The Dorcas Society of Peace United Church of Christ met on Aug. 5.

President Lottie Klein presided and gave the opening prayer. She also read "Neighboring." Klein was the hostess and the ladies sang her favorite hymn, "O Master, Let Me Walk With Thee."

Seven members answered roll call. A thank-you was read from the Hallem U.C.C. Church. It was agreed to sponsor a table at the Winside Museum Craft and Bake Sale on Sept. 18. Proceeds will go to Kamp Kaleo which is located near Burwell.

Birthday cards were signed for Francis Langenberg and Evelyn Langenberg. The meeting closed with the Lord's Prayer.

Klein led the Bible lesson on Isaiah. She closed with these thoughts: "One who does a little more than one is asked to...who takes a little more care than one is expected to...who puts the small details on an equal footing with the more important ones...is the one who is going to be successful. Each little thing done better is the little bit growing into something bigger."

HOSKINS SENIORS MEET

Hoskins Senior Citizens met on Tuesday afternoon, Aug. 10, to play pitch. Winners were Vera Brogie, Ramona Puls, and Mary Jochens. Everyone brought refreshments to share. The next get-together will be on Aug. 24.

HAVE MISSOURI GUESTS

Jim and Lois Hassinger of Columbia, Mo. were overnight guests at the home of Julius and Esther Rechtermann on Aug. 11 and 12. Lois was a classmate of Esther's.

Following their visit with the Rechtermanns, the Hassingers were going to California, Washington State and Glacier National Park in Montana and proceed to North Dakota, the only one of the lower 48 states they hadn't visited.

HAVE VISITORS/GO VISITING

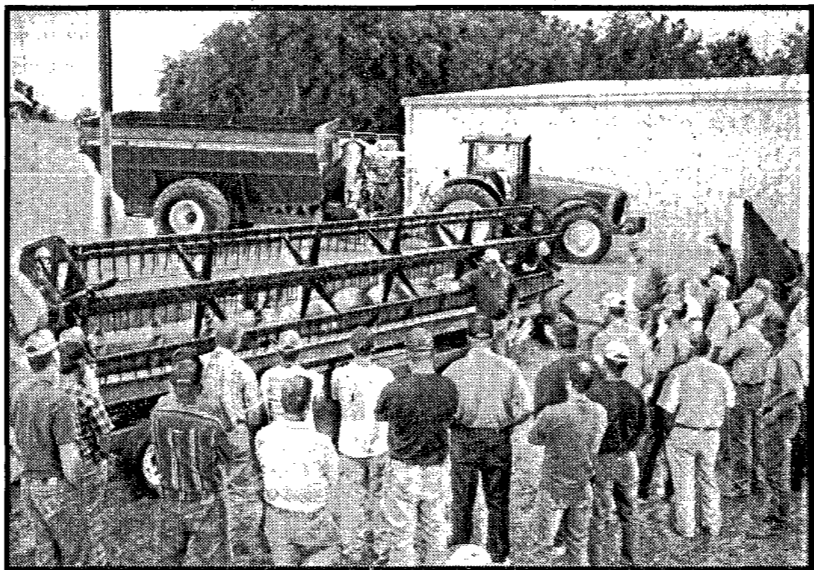

Ethan and CeCe Wheeler of Phoenix, Ariz., came to visit their great-grandparents, Bill and Hildegard Fenske on July 25.

On Aug. 2, the Fenskies took the great grandchildren to Pueblo, Colo. where they met their mother, Jen Wheeler, to return to their home in Phoenix.

Enroute, they toured the Great Platte River Road Archway Monument at Kearney and the Prairie Dog Village in Oakley, Kan.

The Fenskies then visited their sister-in-law Betty Buelter in Arvada, Colo. from Aug. 5-7.

From Aug. 7-10, they visited friends Elwood and Marilyn Geiger near Belle Fourche, SD. They did some sight-seeing at both places and returned home late on Aug. 10.

Area producers were able to gather information on several aspects of combine maintenance at last week's Combine and Adjustment Clinic.

Northeast hosts combine clinic

Northeast Equipment Inc. of Wayne, Laurel, Hartington and Bloomfield held the annual Combine and Adjustment Clinic on Aug. 10.

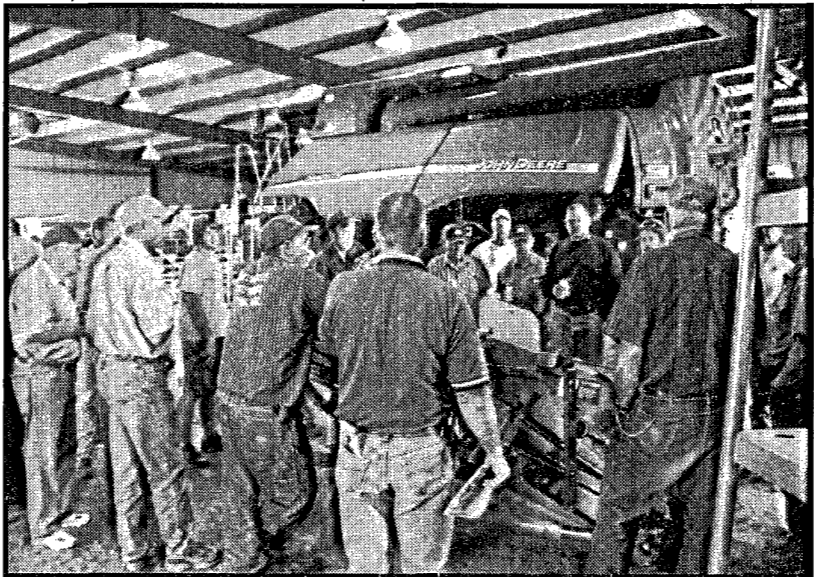

The event was held at the Wayco building at the Wayne County Fairgrounds.

Along with the clinic, they had a parts display with demonstrations on electric and cordless hand-held tools and a machinery expo with several pieces of equipment on display for the farmers to walk around.

During the afternoon over 130 customers went through three stations. They included maintenance and adjustment tips on combines and header equipment, along with a station where farmers listened to a Deere and Company representative about the benefits of timing when ordering equipment. In that session, a representative from Milbrath-Sayler of Hartington spoke about new tax laws and how they could benefit from the growers.

An AMS demonstration was given after the clinic in front of the grandstand.

Customers of Northeast Equipment, Inc. learned adjustment tips and asked questions on combine maintenance at last week's Combine and Adjustment Clinic. The event was held at the Wayne County Fairgrounds.

LIBRARY BOARD

Vice President Carolyn Backstrom conducted the Aug. 2 Lied Winside Public Library Board of Directors meeting.

July 925 items were loaned of which 230 were adult and 695 were children. There was one new reader and one renewed.

Complementary books received were "Stack the Deck" (crazy quilts) from the Nebraska State Quilters Guild and "Protecting Your Home from Radon" from the Nebraska Public Health Department.

The summer reading program had 59 participating children. All received a certificate, a bookmark, book bag, snake pen, magnet, and rock bouncing ball.

Michael Luick-Thrams and guest historians will provide a Bus-eum tour in Winside on Sept. 30 from 2-5 p.m. The bus will be parked in front of the Winside Park for the general public with information and exhibits regarding World War II prisoners of war from Nebraska and Iowa.

parent or guardian must accompany the girls. Anyone needing more information can call leader Deb Janke at 286-4985 or co-leader Lorna Brockman at 565-4565.

EXHIBIT ABOUT POWS

The first U.S. troops to fight in World War II came from the 34th Division, which consisted of men from Iowa, Nebraska, Minnesota, and the two Dakotas.

To share these mens' stories so we might learn from them as the 60th anniversary of the men's release nears, a Des Moines-based non-profit educational organization, TRACES, will tour Nebraska in September 2004 with a rare and compelling exhibit, "Behind Barbed Wire: Midwest POWs in Nazi Germany."

A school bus converted into a mobile museum, the BUS-eum brings this story urban and rural communities, so that audiences of all ages and socioeconomic backgrounds might benefit from viewing it.

The exhibit explores the experiences of Midwest prisoners of war who were imprisoned in Hitler's Third Reich, and the human contexts in which their experiences took place.

Early arrival is encouraged, as the tour is tightly scheduled and shows will begin and end promptly at the times indicated.

small flashlights. TRACES seeks volunteers in each community. Contact JoAnn Field at the Lied Winside Public Library if you would like to help or need more information at 286-1122.

TOWN AND COUNTRY

Loretta Voss hosted the Aug. 10 Town and Country Club meeting with five members and two guests, Gloria Evans and Evelyn Jaeger.

AMERICAN LEGION

Acting Commander at the Aug. 3 Roy Reed American Legion Post 252 meeting was Brady Frahm.

Bud Neel reported the color guard participated at the Wayne County Fair on July 30 and also at Norman Deck's funeral.

On sick call were Warren Marotz and Merlin Topp. A thank you was received from Debra Finn.

Members have raffle tickets available for those who wish to contribute to the campaign fund raiser for Carol Van Kirk who is a candidate for the American Legion National President Steering Committee.

The Legion was asking all churches to ring their bells on Sept. 2 at 9:04 in remembrance of the end of WW II.

There will be a Department Leadership School on Sep. 25.

Darrel Mundil, commander of the Sons of the American Legion, asked members for help with their pancake feed and also if the SOAL could sell patriotic items during their fundraisers.

GIRL SCOUT REGISTRATION

All girls in grades four, five, and six, who would like to be a Junior Girl Scout in Winside troop #179, must register on Thursday Aug. 26 from 5-6 p.m. in the Winside Auditorium.

Winside school has new faces

Winside students and teachers will be seeing two new faces around the halls this year. Taking over the WHS Principal and Activity Director position is Jeff Messersmith.

"I'm very excited to be here in Winside" he said. "After experiencing larger school systems, I feel

They have two children, Marcus 16, and Kristian, 14. They moved here from Wood River where Jeff taught mathematics the past three years. Prior to that he was in Culbertson seven years and Lynch prior to that.

Messersmith received a Bachelor of Science Degree and a Masters Degree in Education Administration at the University of Nebraska at Kearney.

Besides his Principal and Activity Director duties he will also be the head basketball coach. Another new face at WHS but not new to the community of Winside, will be Mark Koch.

Mark will be teaching Industrial Technology and will also be the head football coach. Prior to coming to Winside, he taught Industrial Technology and coached the past ten years at Elgin Pope John. He received a Bachelors degree from UNK and also coached at Elm Creek and Gibbon.

He and his wife Kim are residing at Woodland Park in Norfolk as she is employed in Madison. They

Piano students take summer tour

Several piano students of Mrs. Marcile Uken took part in their annual summer field trip. Students going on the trip were Jackson Blankenau, Ben Bruffat, Emily Bruffat, Joe Burrows, Courtney Davie, Christopher Gardner, Elizabeth Hines, Sabrina Hochstein, Rebecca Jaixen, Stephanie Klein of Wakefield, Griffin Knotwell, Sadie Knox, Ashley Kudrna, Bailey Kudrna, Angie Nelson, Emily Nelson, Samantha Niemann, Jenna Pieper, Burgandy Roberts, Faye Roerber, Elle Schramm and Ashley Soden.

Parents and friends on the trip were Alan and Madge Bruffat, Stan Gardner, Sara Jaixen, AnnMarie Hines, Barbara Hochstein, Christie Roberts, Diane Roerber, Beverly Soden, Monica Snowden and Joe Travisano.

The group visited the Strategic Air and Space Museum which has many aircraft from World War II and the Cold War and artifacts of the era, flight simulator and other exhibits.

The next stop was the Lee G. Simmons Conservation Park and Wildlife Safari. This is operated by the Henry Doory Zoo and is a drive-through wildlife adventure. Miles of scenic prairies and wetlands and North American wildlife.

The group next drove to Omaha and ate a sack lunch at the Wagon Train Park.

Following lunch their next visit was the Omaha World Herald. The group saw the presses running as they were printing the evening edition of the paper. The tour guide took the group to the packaging room and also showed how robots are used to put inserts in the paper. The tour guide told many interesting facts of the New Freedom Center. There are three presses which stand five stories high and took 28 months to assemble. Five computers control the presses and the press prints five editions daily.

The next stop was the First National Bank of Omaha where the group went to the 38th floor of the Bank Tower where they could look out over Omaha and were amazed at the distance they could see. The Bank Tower has a total of 45 floors - 40 of which are used for offices and five for maintenance. Visitors are excluded from the top floor. The tour guide told the group this is the tallest building between Chicago and Denver.

The group then traveled to the Durham Western Heritage Museum where the group first went to the Log Cabin and made butter, which they ate on crackers before they left, ground coffee, played pioneer games and made a pioneer toy. There were many things from the pioneer era to see and try to use.

The last part of the stay at the museum was a tour of the museum where the students saw trains, a steam engine and street car and were able to walk through them. The museum also has an earth lodge, tepee, early homes and a covered wagon and many other interesting things. There are 50,000 square feet of exhibits.

Follow this stop, the group ate an evening meal at the Old Country Buffet. They were making special treats.

Frey family holds its 120th reunion Aug. 15

The 120th consecutive Frey Family reunion was held Aug. 15 at the Lyons Auditorium with 250 attending.

A potluck meal was served at noon.

A brief program acknowledging the oldest Frey, Mary Gralheer, 96, of Pender and Alpha Frey, 95, of Lyons, the youngest, Braxton Jensen, son of Courtney Jensen of Thurston, was held. Coming the farthest was Carolyn Thomas of Anchorage, Alaska. Each one was presented with a small gift.

The traveling plaque for having the most immediate family present went to the Della (Frey) Evans family with 43 members attending.

Also, a certificate recognizing the fact that each one was present was made and distributed to everyone by Tom and Connie Frey of Harrisonville, Mo.

A sign-in family tree wall hanging allowed recognition of descendants from various branches of the Frey family.

Jacob and Suzzannah Frey and six children came to Nebraska in 1866. Their son, Charles H. Frey, started the first reunion which was held in West Point in December of 1884. Later, it was changed to the third Sunday of August each year.

Centerpieces enhanced the tables. They were made by several different families, depicting memories of the past, pictures of immediate family, one which honored 95-year old Alpha Frey, fresh cut flowers and numerous other displays. A red-white-and-blue theme enhanced the tables.

Recognition of the various family groups took place and introductions made. The number of births, marriages and deaths for the past year were recorded.

The remainder of the afternoon was spent visiting. A number of door prizes were given away.

Mid-afternoon cake and ice cream were served. Cakes were made by Beulah Mae Greve of Wayne.

States represented included Missouri, Colorado, Kansas, Alaska, Arizona, Iowa and Nebraska.

The committee in charge of this year's reunion were Bob and Barb Ricketts of Colorado Springs, Colo., Bob and Elaine Frey of Bellevue, Norman and Mary Frey of Lyons, Charles and Denise Johnson and Art and Beulah Mae Greve of Wayne.

The reunion will be held next year in Lyons on Sunday, Aug. 21 with Bob and Elaine Frey of Bellevue, Norman and Mary Frey of Lyons and Duane Slaughter of Lyons as the committee.

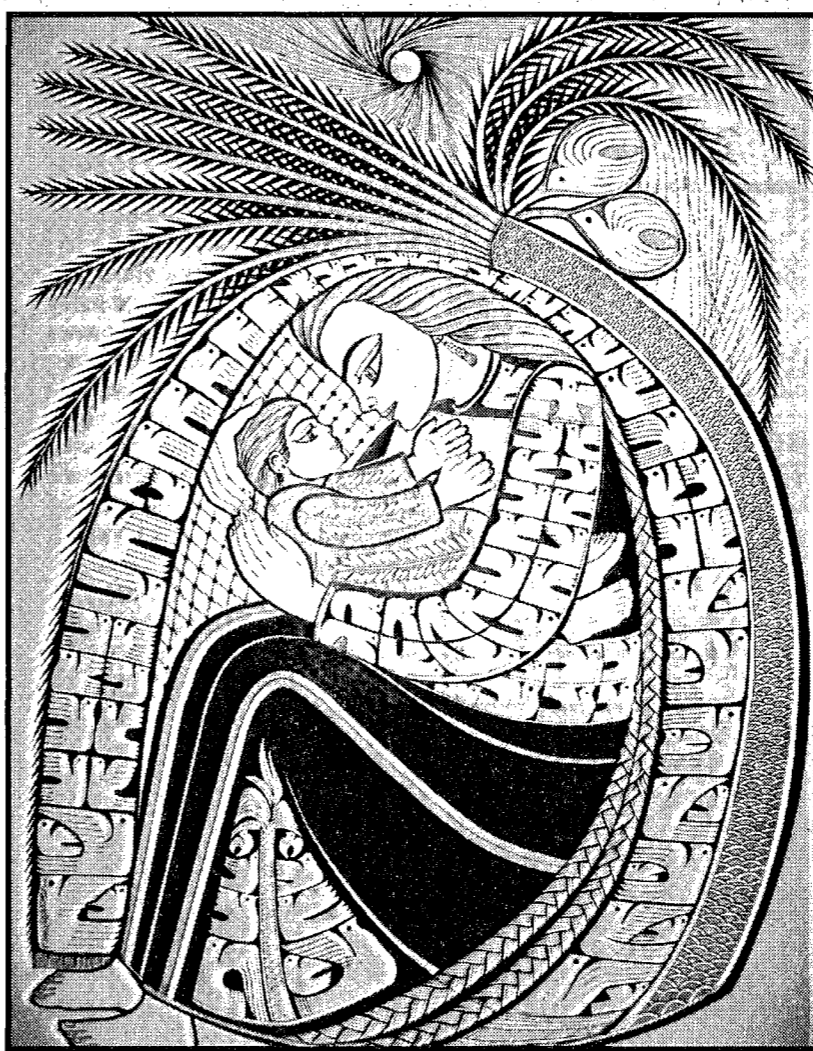

WSC to exhibit traveling art show

The Nordstrand Visual Arts Gallery and the Student Center at Wayne State College will jointly exhibit a traveling art show, "Art Across Borders," from Aug. 25 to Sept. 23. The show, featuring artwork of Palestinian and Iraqi artists, has been exhibited internationally since 2002.

Featuring over 70 contemporary artworks from Palestine and Iraq, the exhibit has become known as a very effective introduction to modern art in those countries. The exhibit includes a diversity of styles and subject matter ranging from experiments with symbols and texture to traditional Arabic calligraphy, watercolor paintings, acrylic paintings, and pen and ink drawings.

The exhibit was collected by Meg Novak, an artist who is the director of the Babylon Art and Cultural Center in Minneapolis, Minn., and Flo Razowsky, an American of Jewish descent. The two spent time in Palestine and Iraq during August and September 2002 as part of a 'Voices in the Wilderness'-sponsored delegation. The curators delivered medical supplies and children's clothing, and hundreds of pounds of art supplies donated by American artists. The works from Iraq in the resulting collection became the first exhibit of artwork from artists living in Iraq since before the Gulf War.

The show will open on Aug. 25 with a lecture by Novak at 4:30 p.m., followed by a reception co-hosted by President Richard Collings, the School of Arts and Humanities, and the Counseling Center. The lecture and reception will be held in the Nordstrand Visual Arts Gallery in Peterson

Fine Arts Building on campus. The public is invited to attend. The exhibit at WSC is sponsored by the WSC School of Arts and Humanities and the WSC Counseling Center - International Student Services. Partial support for this project has been provided by the U.S. Department of State through a grant from the Cooperative Grants Program of NAFSA: Association of International Educators. After exhibiting at Wayne State College, the show will travel to Ithaca, New York.

"We are happy to provide this exhibit as part of our ongoing efforts in providing diversity in our cultural events at Wayne State College," said James O'Donnell, dean of the WSC School of Arts and Humanities. "This exhibit will work to create a dialog on campus and in the broader community, perhaps mostly about the conditions of living that are reflected by these works."

The exhibit will also allow the viewer to see the rich cultures reflected through the modern art of these countries." The exhibit will run through September 23, and will be available for viewing at the Nordstrand Visual Arts Gallery from 8 a.m. - 5 p.m. Monday through Friday, and daily in the WSC Student Center from 8 a.m. - 9 p.m.

The summer months see an increase in traffic activity with vacation road trips and weekend trips to the lake. While cruising the open road is one of summer's great pleasures, that pleasure can turn tragic.

SUMMER DRIVING SAFETY TIPS:

1. Wear safety belts. Safety belts reduce the risk of fatalities to front seat passengers by 45%.
2. Keep children safe. The back seat is the safest place for children to ride, and all children must be restrained with the correct safety equipment.
3. Summer means road construction. Be alert to road conditions and the added activity of workers and machines.
4. Increased activity in the summer, combine with later daylight hours, often means that we're cheating ourselves on sleep. If driving long distances, plan frequent breaks & share the driving.

Have a Great Summer!

Keep prepared foods safe to eat

In today's busy world, take-out and delivered foods have become staples in our diets. Though these foods are convenient, they can cause inconvenient illness when mishandled. If you are not eating take-out or delivered food immediately, it is important to follow some simple guidelines to make sure the food remains safe. This is especially important in the summer, when bacteria multiplies faster.

Once food is cooked, it should stay hot, at an internal temperature of 140 degrees or above. Cold foods should be kept at 40 degrees or below. Discard all perishable foods left at room temperature more than two hours; one hour in air temperature above 90 degrees.

Perishable foods should be refrigerated as soon as possible, always within two hours after purchase or delivery. If the food is in air temperatures above 90 degrees, refrigerate within one hour.

containers, and then refrigerated. Foods such as cooked meat or poultry and pizza can be stored for three to four days in a refrigerator with a temperature of 40 degrees or below. If stored in a freezer with a temperature below zero, cooked meat and poultry can keep two to six months and pizza can keep one to two months.

Reheat foods containing meat or poultry to an internal temperature of at least 165 degrees. Reheat sauces, soups and gravies to a boil. If reheating in the oven, set the oven no lower than 325 degrees. When reheating food in the microwave, cover and rotate food for even heating. Reheating in slow cookers and chafing dishes is not recommended because foods do not rapidly reach a safe temperature.

Take-out or delivered foods should be divided into smaller portions or pieces, placed in shallow

Grace Lutheran Ladies Aid holds July meeting

President Millie Thomsen called the Aug. 11 meeting of Grace Lutheran Ladies Aid to order with table prayer. Lavonne Biermann led the ladies in the opening devotions.

The secretary's report was read by KimBerly Hansen and approved with a few corrections.

The treasurer's report was read by Ruth Victor and filed for review. The Cookie Walk and Food Pantry will be discussed at September meeting.

Eleanor Jensen reported that the new flower cooler is in place and the new blinds are purchased for the west window for the church.

Roll call was taken, with 21 members present and one special guest, Dorothy Gross, who came with Joann Temme.

The Funeral and Historian committees had no report.

The Sewing Committee report was given by Ruth Victor. She reported that two quilts, a wall hanging and a pillow which were taken to the county fair had earned a $6 premium. Beverly Hansen and Esther Brader have been working on the embroidered birds quilt and have a lot of it put together.

Eleanor Jensen will write to the Seminary student this month.

The Visitation Report was given by Ruth Victor on the past month's visits and cards sent.

The Kitchen Report by Betty Wittig noted that the new kitchen cart would be picked up by Beverly Hansen on her trip to Sioux City.

The Missionary Report by KimBerly Hansen reported that the group has eight confirmands for 2005 and the ladies picked their secret pals.

President Millie Thomsen has received envelopes for the LWML Missionary which will be put in the mail boxes.

The Orphan Grain Train Rally will be held Sept. 10-11.

The Fall Rally will be Oct. 19 at St. Paul's in Winside with the theme "Building for Christ" with Cyril and Beverly Hansen to be speakers in regards to their trip to Mexico.

Mrs. Thomsen also noted congratulations to Rhonda Sebade and Patti Mattes for their election to new offices for the district.

St. John's at Wakefield extended an invitation to their Guest Day on Friday, Sept. 3 at 2 p.m. A show of hands indicated that 10 ladies plan to attend.

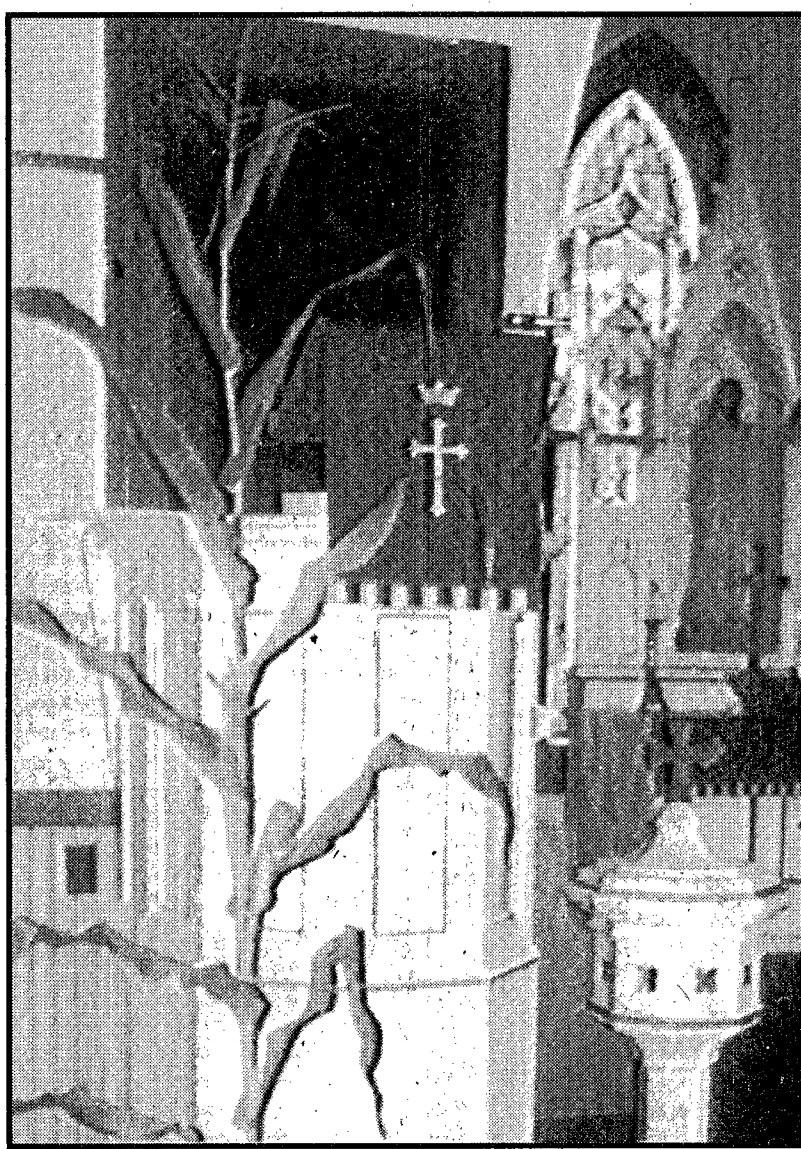

The Mite Box collection was taken.

Maria Ritze offered a special thank you to all who attended and helped with her 80th birthday celebration. The group offered God's continued blessings on her.

The Beef Blast will be held at Lutheran High Northeast on Sunday, Aug. 29. The Sewing Committee will take up quilts.

The Red Cross contacted Millie Thomsen about the need for quilts. Esther Brader was contacted.

LaVonne Biermann led the ladies in a devotion on the "Most Beautiful Flower."

Sweet Corn Sunday

The third annual Sweet Corn Sunday was held recently at Immanuel Lutheran Church of rural Wakefield. A total of 252 people were served a meal of fried chicken, fresh sweet corn and all the trimmings. The event began with morning worship which included the singing of a hymn with references to corn. A tall stack of corn was placed near the pulpit in honor of the event. Among those purchasing a pie at the event were Bonnadell Koch of Wayne and her son, Rodney, of Omaha.

Irwin L. Sears Auxiliary gathers

The Irwin L. Sears Auxiliary #43 met Aug. 2 at the Eveline Thompson residence for a picnic supper and meeting.

President Fauneil Hoffman called the meeting to order with colors in place. The POW/MIA flag was placed on the empty chair.

Chaplain Bernita Sherbahn gave the opening prayer for peace, which was followed by the Pledge of Allegiance to the flag and the singing of one verse of the Star Spangled Banner. The Unit Citation Preamble to the Constitution of the American Legion Auxiliary was read.

The treasurer's report was read. A letter from Department President Mary Ann Otte listed the projects and programs that the auxiliary will promote during the upcoming year.

The National Theme for membership is "Bases Loaded" and the department theme for membership is "Play Ball." District 3 of the State of Nebraska is the Marines.

The auxiliary received a card from District 3 President Jackie O'Neill asking them to send in the per capita tax and 40 year plus members from the unit. She is making a Wall of Fame honoring all members with 40 or more continuous years of membership.

Membership Chairman Eveline Thompson reported that there are 20 paid up members for the 2005 year. She urged everyone "Let's Play Ball" and send in membership dues quickly to get the bases loaded.

The closing prayer was given, followed by one verse of "America." The meeting closed, to re-open on Tuesday, Sept. 7 at the Eveline

Thompson residence, beginning at 2 p.m.

Mr. and Mrs. Press

Milligan-Press married in July

Edwin and Cindy Milligan have announced the marriage of their daughter, Kristine, to Brad Press, son of Lavern and Judy Press of Marysville, Kan.

The couple was married July 2, 2004 in Grand Island.

Attendants for the couple were Wendy Spahr and Delwin Carlson, both of Norfolk.

The newlyweds are making their home at 116 Campbell Avenue, Doniphan, Neb. where the bride is employed at Nebraska Machinery and the groom at Nebraska Peterbilt.

St. Paul Ladies Aid holds August meeting

The Carroll St. Paul Lutheran Ladies Aid and LWML met Aug. 11 for a regular meeting. Pastor and Mrs. Kihne and three members were in attendance.

Donna Leicy was the hostess for the brunch. The Bible lesson, led by the Pastor, was "Sticks and Stones" A Gossip or a Bully? based on Proverbs 11: 12-13.

The meeting was called to order by the secretary in the absence of the president and vice president. Mites were collected. Roll call was taken and the minutes were read, followed by the treasurer's report.

A get well card was signed for Edith Cook who had surgery recently.

A thank you note was received from Haven House.

Dorothy Kihne gave highlights of the Executive Board meeting held July 19. The Fall Rally will be held at St. Paul's in Winside on Tuesday, Oct. 19. "Building for Christ" is the theme. The Hansens will speak on their recent mission adventure.

Carol Rethwisch has agreed to run for president to replace Mrs. Kihne as the President of the LWML. The Pastors' Conference will be held Tuesday, Sept. 7 at St. Paul Church in Carroll. Eight pastors plan to attend. The ladies of the Aid will furnish breakfast and dinner.

An invitation was received from St. John's at Wakefield. Guest Day will be Friday, Sept. 3 at 2 p.m. Those planning to attend are asked to RSVP to Carolyn Kraemer by Friday, Aug. 20. The meeting closed with The Lord's Prayer.

WEEKLY Health Tips

Bursitis
Bursitis like arthritis is a form of inflammation. Bursitis occurs when the bursae (fluid filled sacs that insulate the muscles from the bones) are over-stressed and become inflamed. This results in a dull lingering pain. Rest the part of the body that hurts and try some over-the-counter pain medication like ibuprofen, acetaminophen, aspirin or naproxen. Apply ice for a day or two then try heat. Avoid massage because that can make it worse. Gradually resume light activity, but stop if it begins to hurt. If pain persists, see your doctor.

Waller weds Morrissey

Sandra Lynn Waller, formerly of Winside married Thomas Francis Morrissey, formerly of Saugerties, N.Y. on June 18, 2004.

The ceremony was officiated by Mary Ann Meyers, Deputy Commissioner of Marriage at the Riverside County Clerk's Office in Riverside, Calif.

Dennis and Shirley Waller, Pat Podoll and Ned Page and Joseph Albers, Margaret Ballenger and Robert and Mary Jane Fennell attended the ceremony.

There was a reception following the ceremony at Duane's Restaurant in the historic Mission Inn in Riverside.

The couple spent a short honeymoon along the California coast and the Napa-Sonoma wine country area.

The bride was formerly

Mr. and Mrs. Morrissey

employed for 35 years as an accountant at Bergen Brunswig Corporation in Orange, Calif. The groom was also employed for 25 years at Bergen Brunswig Corporation as a Manager of Distribution Engineering. They retired from Bergen Brunswig Corporation in May of 2003. They currently reside in Corona, Calif.

Pallas family conducts reunion

The 24th Pallas reunion was held Aug. 8 at the Legion Hall in Thurston with 17 family members attending.

The oldest attending was Ludmilla Sabacky from Pender and the youngest was Ryan Bodlak, son of Marvin and Carlene Bodlak of Emerson.

Following a potluck dinner, the relatives shared in a program, beginning with Devotions given by Jean Bodlak.

Carlene Bodlak read a letter of greeting from Mary Ann and Herman Oetken as they were enjoying a family wedding in Des Moines, Iowa. She also read the family history of marriages, deaths and births. She reported four births, four weddings and two deaths during the past year.

Eric Bodlak read a number of anecdotal stories sent to the group by Edwin Pallas of Colorado Springs, Colo.

Tyler Bodlak presented his award winning presentation, "The History of Electricity," which he gave at school in April. Those present shared family news and Helen Jasa had all playing a game based on sharing coins with friends, "It is More Blessed to Give than to Receive."

Letters and pictures were shared with those who could not attend. Information was read from relatives in California, Texas, Colorado, Florida and Minnesota.

In 2003 Wayne Pallas and his sister, Carol Morris, traveled to the land of the family's ancestors, Czechoslovakia. When Wayne can come sometime this fall, he plans to show pictures from his trip. Wayne and Carol are the children of the late Robert and Marjorie (Svoboda) Pallas, formerly of the Thurston and Pender area.

The afternoon closed with a variety of desserts, including kolaches and ice cream.

The next reunion will be held the second Sunday in August of 2005 at the Thurston Legion Hall at noon.
