State Chamber holds forum in Wayne

Wayne was the host to the Fall Legislative Forum on Tuesday.

The event, one of 32 held throughout the state, was sponsored by the Nebraska Chamber of Commerce and Industry. Locally, the Wayne Kiwanis Club hosted this year's event.

Members of Wayne's service organizations, the Wayne County Jaycees, Wayne Rotary Club, Kiwanis Club, Lions Club and Optimist Club, as well as local business persons, were on hand to listen to several presenters talk about the business climate in Nebraska.

Ron Sedlacek, Vice President of General Counsel for the State Chamber, told his audience that the economic climate in Nebraska is below average and encouraged those in attendance to fill out a questionnaire with possible solutions to the problem.

Sedlacek talked about a recent survey by KPMG entitled "A Comparative Analysis of Nebraska's Business Climate" which ranked Nebraska near the bottom in comparison with neighboring states in tax and incentives for businesses.

He noted that LB 775, which was enacted in 1987 to provide incentives, has not been changed since that time and other states are offering more favorable incentives to attract and retain businesses.

The KPMG study also compared the tax burden of businesses in Nebraska with those of surrounding states, including South Dakota and Wyoming, which have no state income tax.

Other topics covered included the difference between small businesses and large businesses, unemployment compensation, workers' compensation and the minimum wage.

Don Mihovk, Vice President of Public Affairs for the State Chamber, told Tuesday's audience that taxes matter when a business decides where to locate.

He also shared information from the study which compared a number of taxes and incentives offered in nine states, as well as a comparison of several members of a corporation, including an entry level employee, someone in a management position and the CEO of a corporation.

Mihovk also shared with his audience what other states are offering as incentives for businesses.

Following the presentations by the State Chamber representatives,

Senator Pat Engel of District 17, talked about issues facing the state legislature and the fact that measures taken need to be fair to everyone involved.

Engel noted that at the present time, Nebraska is not a tax friendly state and something needs to be done about that fact.

He said that while in recent months, the economic climate in Nebraska has improved, "there is no new money for new or expanded projects. We need to get back to the basics in the state, because taxes and spending go hand-in-hand."

Following the presentations, members of the audience were able to ask questions and offer suggestions for future changes.

Meetings will continue across the state through Oct. 6.

Members of the Northeast Nebraska River City Roundup rode past the students at Wayne Elementary School on Monday morning on their way to The Barn at the Merle and Donna Ring farm. The students showed their respect for the flag as the first horses came past the school.

Trail riders make stop in Wayne, visit The Barn

The Northeast Nebraska River City Roundup (RCR) trail riders camped at the Wayne County Fairgrounds and rode through town on Monday. Children, teachers and staff stood outside the school buildings to greet them. The riders were on their way east of Wayne to have lunch at The Barn, which is owned by Merle and Donna Ring.

Riders came from several states to take part in the event. Some of those states included Minnesota, Iowa, Washington, Missouri, South Dakota, Illinois and Nebraska.

Marking the 12th year for the Northeast Nebraska ride, the group started at Pierce on Sunday, stopped at Wayne, and are continuing on to the AK-SAR-BEN River City Roundup Fair & Festival in Omaha this weekend. Leaving Pierce, the trip began with a ride through Willow Creek State Recreation area and a stop at the Cuthill Vineyards.

On their way to Omaha, they traveled through scenic areas which included country roads and camp grounds. On Tuesday night, they camped in West Point, then Oakland and Arlington, with Omaha as their last stop. The ride helps promote their western heritage.

Trail Boss JoAnn Malchow of Laurel noted the riders were encouraged to dress in classic cowboy attire as they are in the saddle for many hours, putting in up to 20-25 miles per day. Besides the horseback riders, there were also a number of horse-drawn wagons and buggies.

The journey will come to an end on Saturday, Sept. 25 when they participate in the special River City Roundup Parade in downtown Omaha.

Assistant Trail Boss Tammy Stolpe of Belden helped Malchow with the trail ride.

The riders rode out to The Barn east of Wayne for lunch on Monday as part of the day's activities associated with the River City Roundup trail ride.

Wayne Officers investigate multiple thefts from vehicles

Sometime between 1 am and 8 a.m. on Sunday morning an unknown person or persons broke and entered several cars parked in a parking lot in the 100 block of West Second Street in Wayne.

The suspects used screwdrivers, rocks and chunks of concrete to pry and smash car windows to get into these cars, causing almost $5,000 in loss and damage.

The suspect(s) tried to pry an aftermarket sound system from the cars causing extensive damage to each car's dash and stereo system. The suspect(s) only removed one stereo but they left it at the scene.

The suspects stole dozens of CDs, a woman's purse and matching wallet, a hula doll, and dorm room keys from Wayne State College. The wallet is still missing. It is described as an American Eagle brand wallet, light green in color. The suspect stole the victim's credit card and identification.

Wayne Police Chief Lance Webster said this case appears to be an unplanned, random act because the suspect(s) used items found lying around close to break the car windows and once inside had no clear plan to remove the stereos. Webster noted that these types of theft cases are often drug related because they are apparently random, the suspects were trying to steal things that are easily converted to cash and many items of value were left behind.

Officer Gerald Klinetobe is the investigating officer on this case. If anyone has information that may help solve this case please call the Wayne Police Department, 375-2626 or email Officer Klinetobe at gkliniketobe@cityofwayne.org.

'Itch Mites' are the mysterious bug bite culprit for residents

A tiny mite, aptly called an "itch mite," is responsible for the mysterious, itchy red bites reported by a number of eastern Nebraska residents recently, University of Nebraska entomologists say.

University entomologists worked with the Nebraska Department of Health and Human Services, Lincoln/Lancaster County Health Department, U.S. Department of Agriculture/Agricultural Research Service and entomologists from Kansas State University who are collaborating with the Centers for Disease Control and Prevention to identify the culprit, said David Keith, a university urban integrated pest management specialist.

The Pyemotes mite is preying on small fly maggots that cause the "leaf edge" galls on pin oak leaves, Keith said. The galls on pin oak leaves are unusually abundant this year and in many cases the maggots that caused the galls have matured and are emerging in the millions and dropping to the ground.

"These are harmless, but in examining empty galls, in which one or more maggots were killed, large numbers of the itch mites, a predator of the maggots, were found," the Institute of Agriculture and Natural Resources specialist said. "These microscopic mites, carried by the wind, are tiny enough to penetrate the mesh of a standard window screen and may be completely overlooked because of their very small size."

People sleeping with windows open could easily be bitten at night, giving the impression that something is infesting the bedroom.

"Every fall we seem to get complaints about insect and mite bites, but this year it is quite different," he said. "Although all the 'regulars' that we normally expect, such as cat fleas, pirate bugs, chiggers, mosquitoes and others are out there and doing their share, something else is involved this time."

The mites have been reported in several eastern Nebraska communities, but Lincoln seems to have been hardest hit. The mystery bites are being reported mostly by people who spend time outdoors, but also from others who remain indoors.

No one is seeing insects or associating them with these lesions, but several have reported they were working outdoors, and often standing in the shade of pin oak trees.

Keith recommends people keep windows closed and limit outdoor activity until the problem subsides, which should occur in the next seven to 10 days, he said.

"If you have to work outside, when you come back indoors, be sure to take a hot shower, lathering generously," he said.

Also, be sure to launder clothing after wearing -- "don't reuse yesterday's shirt," Keith said.

To reduce itching, apply calamine lotion, hydrocortisone cream or an antihistamine cream, such as Benadryl cream.

Also, wash the bites often with soap and use an antiseptic or antibiotic ointment to keep the wounds clean and promote healing.

"It's also important not to scratch," Keith said. "The bites are intensely itchy, but scratching provides little relief and actually causes pain and tenderness."

The bites don't hurt when they occur, but after a bite one or more red spots usually appears. The red spots vary in size from one-fourth to one inch in diameter. In the middle of the red spot is a small, raised "pimple" or blister, Keith said.

Most bites occur on the upper torso, abdomen, back and neck, shoulders and arms. With most people there are no apparent secondary effects, but some people have reported headache, fever, nausea or asthmatic symptoms.

Unlike chigger bites, these do not seem confined to ankles, feet, legs and the belt line, he said.

Some bites are quite small, but some may be as large as a quarter and each has a raised center which may take the form of a small watery blister.

The itch mite bites may occur in clusters, forming a rash which may last for several days.

The Nebraska State Patrol will distribute the funds to the State Court Administrator's office, which will be used by Drug Courts to implement 18 month methamphetamine treatment programs.

Nebraska State Patrol awarded money for drug treatment and prevention

U.S. Senator Chuck Hagel has announced that the U.S. Department of Justice awarded the Nebraska State Patrol $148,422 for the Nebraska Statewide Drug Treatment and Prevention Program.

The program will implement and enhance methamphetamine abuse treatment programs provided through Nebraska's Drug Courts. Senator Hagel requested this program be funded as part of the FY2004 appropriations process.

"Nebraska communities are faced with the problems of drug abuse and drug offenders.

Methamphetamine is one of the most abused drugs in both urban and rural areas across the state. This funding will help Nebraska's Drug Court system address the drug problem and offer needed treatment and prevention programs," Hagel said.

The Nebraska State Patrol will distribute the funds to the State Court Administrator's office, which will be used by Drug Courts to implement 18 month methamphetamine treatment programs.

Thanks goes out to donors

Dear Editor,
Goodwill Industries of Sioux City wishes to take this opportunity to thank the many donors who contributed to the recent Ambassador drive in Carroll. The businesses, families, organizations, and individuals who provided donated materials will help Goodwill to meet its goal for this year.

During your last Ambassador drive, community Ambassador volunteers in conjunction with Carroll U.M.W. Garage Sale, helped to collect 500 pounds of donated materials which will be distributed to any or all of our 16 Goodwill regional store locations. These donations will enable Goodwill to provide services to more than 200 program participants in a variety of locations. Your donations also help to provide jobs to 400 Goodwill employees in four states.

We remind you that Goodwill cannot accept washers, dryers, baby furniture, nonworking small appliances and large household furniture, as Goodwill cannot sell many of those items and must pay to have them hauled away. Please do not leave donated materials at the trailer location if the trailer doors are closed. We have found that donated materials set outside the Goodwill trailer are often subject to vandalism or theft.

Again, we thank your community for its generosity of spirit in helping Goodwill achieve its mission. We look forward to serving you soon. Please feel free to contact me at the number below with any questions or concerns regarding the Ambassador donation drives.

If you or a group from your community would be interested in a tour of the Goodwill Central Administrative Offices and store in Sioux City, please call the number below and ask for Georjean Bailey.

Dancing the political tango

By Ed Howard
Statehouse Correspondent
The Nebraska Press Association

Sometimes the intricacies of endless political dance can be as dangerous as the tango.

Have you ever tried the tango? It's beautiful when properly executed. Make a mistake and you scrape your shins, or much worse.

It seemed that Gov. Mike Johanns and U.S. Sen. Chuck Hagel got their respective feet tangled last week while dancing around the issue of a federal aid worth billions of dollars to drought-stricken farmers.

U.S. Sen. Ben Nelson, a Democrat, was in the forefront of those pushing for the relief bill.

At this stage of our story, note that Johanns and Hagel are Republicans. Also note that President Bush (also a Republican!) has always made clear that he isn't enamored of big spending for agriculture programs in general.

So, what happened? Nelson said he was gung ho for bringing the bacon home to Nebraska farmers and ranchers.

Johanns and Hagel?

Johanns said he would never tell the feds not to send money to Nebraska. Still, he hoped that asking for disaster relief now wouldn't be a mistake - because, uh, what if Nebraska needed more relief down the road, for something, even worse?

The gist seemed to be that maybe it wouldn't be fiscally responsible for the feds to help drought-whacked farmers and ranchers. At least, not right now, via the amendment co-sponsored by Nelson. Did we mention that Republican Johanns would like to unseat

Democrat Nelson in 2006? A Hagel spokesman issued what should be nominated as one of the Washington Speak comments of the year:

"If this becomes a federal cash grab, we jeopardize our ability to get drought aid funds in the future when we really need them and when it's not an election year."

That one raised this question in our mind:

What in hell are you talking about, child?!

Did anyone see Florida hesitating to ask for money when it got hit by Hurricane Whatzit? And then ask for more, when it got bumped by Hurricane Whoozit?

Johanns and Hagel eventually endorsed the aid bill, which was approved by the Senate. They each said that they had been mollified because the bill was targeted to reach those who need it most.

Question: Who were the previous aid bills aimed at, those who needed help the least? Do we need an investigation?

Besides, the 2003 aid bill that was backed by the GOP leadership didn't have any stringent targeting provisions, and it contained twice as much money as the targeted measure proposed by Democrats.

In the end, however, political reality usually wins out.

Hagel and Johanns endorsed the plan that was previously endorsed by Nelson, and each said he was glad that farmers and ranchers would get some help.

Elder abuse is a growing problem

We are all getting older. From the moment we take our first breath we begin to age. While we cannot stop the clock, we can ensure that necessary services are in place when we need them the most.

Surprisingly, there is one area relating to the care of the elderly that has gone largely ignored - until now. Elder abuse, including domestic violence, sexual assault and stalking, is a growing problem in Nebraska and throughout the country. The shocking reality is that elder abuse is the most hidden form of family violence and the last to be addressed by our society.

As any member of the law enforcement community can attest, violence knows no bounds. It does not discriminate against age, race or gender. A recent case that illustrates that point is one in which an 80-year-old woman was beaten and

By Attorney General

against, domestic violence. Many refuse to speak out when they have been victimized for fear that they won't be allowed to continue to live on their own or that their freedoms will be restricted. Others may feel foolish for having fallen victim to a certain situation.

It's vital that we make it clear that violence inflicted on elderly Nebraskans is not their fault and that seeking help is the right thing to do.

As Attorney General I am committed to doing everything in my power to protect Nebraskans, especially the most vulnerable segments of our society. That's why I am in the process of establishing a statewide task force to address violence against the elderly so that we are better prepared to respond to victims.

We owe it to the generations that came before us to address these issues. After all, they are the men and women who survived the Great Depression, two World Wars and more history than I can cover in one short column. They deserve to be protected and they deserve justice.

By working together we can make a difference for countless Nebraskans now and long into the future.

Things I have learned

When I was younger, I was always amazed at how foolish my parents seemed to be at times. Mainly this feeling came over me when words of wisdom flowed from their mouths.

Many times since then, I wish I had listened more instead of ignoring these bits of gold experiences. I have come to realize that the things I regarded as foolish were pretty smart today.

I remember asking my grandmother Hudson what she thought of growing older. She said it was "exciting and something that was going to happen regardless of what she did or say."

My mom used to tell me; "I've learned that no matter what happens, or how bad it seems today, life does go on, and it will be better tomorrow."

One of my dad's best friends once told me that he learned that you can tell a lot about a person by the way he/she handles these three things: a rainy day, lost luggage, and tangled Christmas tree lights.

I've learned that regardless of your relationship with your parents, you'll miss them when they're gone from your life.

My dad used to say to me, if you ever learn that making a "living" is not the same thing as making a "life" you are half way there. Learning that you can make a life for yourself is just as important.

My aunt Diz used to say, "I've learned that life sometimes gives you a second chance." She is so right.

In the newspaper business I've learned that you shouldn't go through life with a catcher's mitt on both hands; you need to be able to throw something back.

I've learned that whenever I decide something with an open heart, I usually make the right decision.

I've learned that even when I have pains, I don't have to be one.

I've learned that every day you should reach out and touch someone. People love a warm hug, or just a friendly pat on the back, or just a kind word.

I've learned that I still have a lot to learn. I've learned that people will forget what you said, people will forget what you did, but people will never forget how you made them feel.

I have also learned never argue with a guy that buys ink for a living.

I wish I were as smart then as I am now. I would not have made as many mistakes, as we all do in our lives.

Portraits of Nebraska: Pride In Our Hometowns

The Wayne Herald now taking orders for statewide book

Orders for Portraits of Nebraska: Pride In Our Hometowns, the statewide book featuring Wayne and more than 20 other Nebraska communities are now being taken at the Wayne warming glimpses of the pride each community holds and the promise each community projects for the future.

According to Tom Schmitt, a spokesperson for the firm producing the book, the book focuses on the qualities that have made Nebraska the outstanding state that it is. "It's about history. It's about people. It's the fun things to do in Nebraska," Schmitt said after reading most of the stories about the towns included in the book. "In short," he said, "it's about Nebraska pride!"

From a historic perspective, every chapter includes profiles of key individuals, from the past as well as the present, who played or are playing a significant role in the development of the community. From the man called the "Father of Rural Electrification," to the man called "America's first truly international celebrity," to a woman who had the honor of "American Mother for 1957" bestowed upon her, Portraits of Nebraska is filled with stories about the people who made Nebraska what it is today.

From bird hunting to bird watching, from museums filled with celebrated memorabilia to historic re-enactments, from festivals to fairs to annual community celebrations, this first-ever statewide community book provides readers with an endless number of ideas for fun things to do and see all across the state.

Communities featured in the book are: Alliance, Beatrice, Bellevue, Broken Bow, Columbus, Fremont, Gering, Kearney, Lexington, McCook, Nebraska City, North Platte, Ogallala, O'Neill, Papillion, Plattsmouth, Scottsbluff, South Sioux City, Syracuse, Wahoo, Wayne and York.

According to the book's publisher, never before has such a book been offered.

"Every Nebraskan, and every former Nebraskan, who takes pride in their hometown or the community they now call home and Nebraska as a whole, will enjoy owning this 220-plus page, full-color, hardbound book," Schmitt said. "It is a celebration of the strength, the heritage and the future of Nebraska."

But, access to Portraits of Nebraska is limited.

According to Schmitt, the book is only being offered at a discounted price for a short period of time through the Wayne Herald and the other newspapers involved with the project prior to the actual printing of the book.

"Copies of the book may be hard to come by once it is printed," Schmitt said. "There are only going to be a limited number printed and once they're gone, they're gone."

Information on how to secure one or more copies of Portraits of Nebraska is available at the offices of the Wayne Herald. An advertisement providing more information about the book and how to order advance copies is included in today's newspaper.

Herald.

The hardbound book will feature a full-length story and dozens of full-color pictures of Wayne and each of the other towns included. Orders for the book, which is being published as a collaborative effort by newspapers in each of the communities involved, are currently being taken at a discounted price. With the theme - "Great places to live! Fun places to visit!" - the book will offer readers heart-

Wayne Post Office has extra post office boxes

The Wayne Post Office has a number of vacant post office boxes available for rent and is now offering them to interested customers.

"Our post office has about 40 extra post office boxes available now for rental and use at our main post office," says Postmaster Kerwin Lueschen. "We would like to have all of them filled so interested customers should come down to the post office and register them right away. We will lease them on a first-come, first-served basis."

The post office boxes come in several sizes and can be rented at a cost ranging from $19 to $68 per year. Payments can be done either on an every six month or annual basis.

"Most of our boxes are smaller in size and suited for residential customers. But we do have a number of larger size PO Box units ideal for businesses, organizations and customers who regularly receive a large quantity of mail," says the postmaster.

There are a number of advantages to having a Post Office Box.

The mail for Post Office Boxes is normally sorted and ready for pick-up early in the morning. The Post Office Box lobby is open 24 hours a day for easy access and pick up of mail; and Post Office Boxes provide an extra measure of security and convenience.

"We have many of our customers lease Post Office boxes for the added benefits of security, having an extra mail delivery address, and for the convenience of being able to pick up their important mail early in the day," says the postmaster.

"Once people use them, they like them. Customers who lease them usually are Post Office Box holders for a long time."

"We do have customers who regularly ask us about them and at many post offices, their Post Office Box sections are completely full and they have waiting lists. So stop by the Wayne Post Office at 120 North Pearl Street (at the corner of Second Street and Pearl Street - near Wayne's downtown area) if you are interested."

'Campus Showcase' to feature Northeast Nebraska Teacher Academy

The Northeast Nebraska Teacher Academy (NENTA), the first program of its kind in the nation, will be featured at 'Campus Showcase' on Friday, Oct. 1 at 9 a.m. in the Elkhorn Room in the Wayne State College Student Center.

This is the fifth year of the NENTA program, which has been recognized for its innovative approach to teacher education and to helping alleviate the substitute teacher shortage. Currently, 65 Wayne State students are participating in the program.

During the hour-long program, refreshments will be served. Although designed for senior citizen appeal, all ages are welcome to attend. There is no admission charge. During each 'Campus Showcase,' birthdays are acknowledged and special guests are recognized.

Fink finishes first at Wayne High Invite

You can lead a horse to the paper

In the Press Box by David W. Carstens

I kind of like this old gray mare.

It's not often one refers to jobs like horses, but for me it gives me a point of reference.

For one who's ridden a couple of the faithful steeds over the years, thinking about it in a "stable" sense helps keep this in perspective.

A daily newspaper is just like the Kentucky Derby for me.

It seems like the track runs fast and the stories seem to literally fly from your fingertips to the computer screen.

I always liked heading out on the road to a game or news event with a photographer as we would capture the story and come back and watch the process unfold as the story would go from your computer to the editor, and eventually onto the page.

Just hours later, there it was. Your story was done and then it was time to move on to the next one.

The track isn't quite as fast at a weekly paper, but then again its environs make it a special beast in its own right.

One thing that I don't understand is when people start to compare the old grey weekly mare to a colorful daily thoroughbred.

Quite honestly, it's not really an equal balance because we are really talking about horses of a different color.

Pictures, for example, are what we all see and enjoy in our newspapers. I don't mind spending lots of time and energy to get that one special shot from a game or event.

Naturally, my camera rig isn't going to capture the same effect as the images you see in the daily paper as those extra few thousand dollars of gear, talent and resources makes quite a difference.

Immediacy of reporting by a daily paper, television or radio does put the weekly at a slight handicap, but once again, the weekly is out there riding the old horse and developing personal relationships within the community throughout the year.

I consider myself lucky to be associated with folks who work in both the weekly and daily stables, so I am looking at it as a noncompetitive race.

That's a good thing and I would like to thank both camps for helping me get the race rolling here in the past few months.

We may be riding different horses to the track, but in the end, it's all about doing the best with what we are provided and the resources we have available.

This rider feels he's got a gift horse opportunity going and we're only just rounding the first curve.

Wayne High's Bryan Fink (right) started near the front of Monday's Wayne Invite and eventually won the race by 18 seconds.

By David W. Carstens of the Herald

One of the more competitive matchups in Northeast Nebraska's Class C cross country season so far has been Wayne High's Bryan Fink and Norfolk Catholic runner Britton Deuel.

Monday's annual Wayne High Invite featured the pair on a windy course at the Wayne State Country Club.

Deuel started with an early lead Monday but on the north section of the course, Fink said he knew it was time to shine.

"I knew that was the time for me because I've raced against him a lot," Fink said.

Fink edged Deuel by 18 seconds with a 17:33, while Norfolk Catholic's A.J. Pruss finished third, just 13 seconds better than Wayne High's Joe Mrsny's 18:30 time.

Norfolk Catholic won the boys team title with 19, while Wayne placed second among the six team scores with 23. Wisner-Pilger was third with 64 points.

Other Wayne and area finishers, including the placing and time, in the boys division were: 8.

Josh Rasmussen 19:03; 13. Derek Carroll 19:39; 23. Max Stednitz 20:14; 24. Justin Modrell 20:28; 28. Reggie Ruhl 21:21; 33. Bill Smith 21:37; 40. Ryan Janke (Winside) 22:28; 41. Taylor Nelson 22:29; 44. Eric Carstens 23:01; 48. Matt Sharer 24:23; 52. Adam Munter 25:18; 54. Max Wyrick 25:50; 58. Shaun Kardell 28:13.

In the girl's race, Winside's Virginia Fler, (18:41) Wayne High's Jordyn Doescher (18:45) and Michaela Staub (18:50) finished in seventh through ninth place, respectively, for the top local and area finishes.

Megan Knudson of Norfolk Catholic took first with 17:29, while Catholic took the team title with 12 points. Winside took third with 47, followed by Wayne with 55.

Other Wayne and area finishers, including the placing and time, in the girls division were: 11. Regan Ruhl 19:21; 14. Mindee Hahr (Laurel-Concord) 19:34; 25. Katie Heggemeyer 22:03; 27. Becca Dowling 22:11; 31. Daria Clarkson (Laurel-Concord) 24:31; 32. Heather Showen (Laurel-Concord) 27:32.

Wayne High's Joe Mrsny (top) finished fourth in the boy's race at the Wayne Invite on Monday at the Wayne Country Club, while Jordyn Doescher placed eighth for the Blue Devils in the girl's division.

Wayne High football remains unbeaten

Wayne High School's football team improved to 3-0 after winning its first road test of the season in Madison last Friday.

The final score of 33-12 looked like a Wayne domination, however the first half of the game played out much tougher.

"All-in-all, the night was our best of the year, even though at times we appeared to struggle," Wayne coach Kevin Finkey said. "We did a much better job of taking care of the football, with only one turnover."

Wayne opened the game with a score about halfway through the opening quarter when Todd Poehlman ran in a one-yard scamper.

Madison wasn't able to answer Wayne until the second quarter when a sustained drive was capped on a 17-yard pass play to put the Dragons within a point.

Madison burned the Blue Devils on the next possession with a 50-yard run. The first half closed down with two Wayne scores in the final minute to permanently take the air out of Madison's sails.

With only 43 seconds left in the second period, Nate Finkey connected with Dan Heithold from seven yards out to pull Wayne ahead.

Wayne's defensive unit came to life and forced a quick three down series from the Madison offense.

A long return by Heithold set up a quick series that was only eclipsed by his own catch from Finkey to put another touchdown on the scoreboard as the half expired. Kicker Brian Mohl added his second of three point-after attempts to give the Blue Devils a 20-12 lead at intermission.

The third quarter was a defensive battle as neither team was able to generate any offense.

One of the game's inspiring plays came in the fourth quarter when Wade Jarvi picked off his first pass of the year and returned it deep into Madison territory. Four plays later, Jarvi redeemed himself after an earlier dropped pass that fell short in the first half, when he ran in for a one-yard score.

Puehlman also scored in the final quarter with a 17-yard run.

Offensively, Dana Schuett finished his third consecutive 100-plus yard game with 136 yards. Schuett's average through three games is 6.7 yards, Jarvi finished with 38 yards on the night.

Finkey completed 9-of-18 passes for 125 yards and three TDs.

Coach Finkey said the team will work to improve this week with a tough road game at Crofton on Friday.

"We got into the red zone three times and didn't come away with any points," he said. "That will be something that we will have to improve upon as we get into district play."

Wade Jarvi prepares to reach for a touchdown pass in second quarter action against Madison last Friday.

Wayne High softball adds wins; returns home Saturday

The Wayne High softball team improved to 17-0 after three games played at the David City Invite last Saturday.

In the opening game against Yutan, Ashley Carroll hit a two-run homer to highlight a 10-0 win.

Kayla Hochstein finished with two doubles and three RBIs, while Jenny Raveling's triple and three runs all added to Wayne's offensive fireworks.

Molly Hill pitched six innings in a no-hitter where she retired 13 Yutan batters.

In the tourney's second game, Brooke Anderson's home run opened the floodgates for a 17-5 thrashing of Cross County. Anderson finished with a double, five RBIs and a pair of runs.

Marisa Carroll won the game from the mound for Wayne High. The Blue Devils finished the game with seven hits.

Hill returned to the mound in the third game to pitch five innings in a 10-0 shutout of Bennington.

Hill recorded nine strikeouts off no hits and went 2-of-4 with a pair of RBIs.

Panhandle State downs WSC

It was a game of chances, however, those chances didn't bounce Wayne State's way.

Panhandle State of Oklahoma generated 424 yards rushing to defeat Wayne State 44-34 in college football played Saturday afternoon in the Wildcat's road trip to Goodwell, Oklahoma.

Wayne State Coach Scott Hoffman said Panhandle State had good talent that played hard against the Wildcats.

Part of the intensity could have stemmed from the fact that it was Homecoming day for the Aggies, Hoffman said.

"We had opportunities in the game, we just didn't take care of the opportunities," Hoffman said.

The host Aggies built a 17-0 lead in the first half before Wayne State (1-3) scored just before halftime.

WSC's Eric Wells caught a 17-yard touchdown pass from quarterback J. J. Nelson with just :23 seconds left in the second quarter to get the Wildcats on the board.

Nelson started the game for Wildcat quarterback Brett Edwards, who is recovering from injuries sustained in last week's Peru State game.

A two-point pass conversion from Josh Hopwood to Jake Robinson made the score 17-3 at halftime.

The third quarter was an offensive footrace by both teams, combining for six touchdowns and 41 points.

After Panhandle State scored on a 63-yard run to give the Aggies a 24-8 lead with 10:34 left in the third quarter, the Wildcats answered right back when Tyler Chambers raced 63 yards for a score to make it 24-15 at the 10:14 mark.

Panhandle State added a pair of scores in under three minutes to go up 38-15 with about five minutes left in the third quarter.

The Wildcats added two scores of their own later in the third when Wayne State was able to score twice in 32 seconds.

Stanton's Zach Molacek ran 61 yards for the first score with a 34-yard pass from J. J. Nelson to Josh Peterson, made the score 38-28 after three quarters.

Panhandle State sealed the win early in the fourth

The Wayne State women's soccer team picked up its second win in a row with a 4-0 shutout of Mount Marty College 4-0 at home last Wednesday afternoon.

Melissa Benson opened up the scoring when she took a Mary Anne Liebenritt corner kick and put it in the back of the net for her second goal of the season.

In the second half at the 73rd minute mark, Tanya Mitchell bumped in a cross from Liebenritt to make the score 2-0.

Liebenritt scored her first goal of the season, blasting the ball into the far post in the 76th minute.

Kelly Burns scored in the 83rd minute as she ripped a shot from 10 yards out past the keeper for her first goal of the season.

Liebenritt finished the game with one goal and two assists. The Wayne State women's soccer dropped a 3-1 contest at South Dakota State Saturday afternoon in Brookings.

The lone goal in the first half was scored by South Dakota State's Kelsey Worcester at the 33:45 mark to put the Jackrabbits up 1-0 at halftime.

Wayne State tied the score at 1-1 early in the second half when Melissa Benson found the net in the 51st minute off a pass from Liebenritt.

However, the host Jackrabbits responded with two goals, one by Michelle Rahe in the 69th minute and the other by Lisa Robinson in the 81st minute, to finish off the Wildcats.

SDSU held a sizeable 41-11 shot advantage over Wayne State, including 26-2 in the second half. Freshman goalkeeper Malerie Houdek made 16 saves for the Wildcats.

North Dakota used four goals in the second half to down Wayne State 4-1 in women's soccer played Sunday afternoon in Aberdeen, South Dakota.

Wayne State held a 1-0 lead at halftime with a goal by Liebenritt in the 38th minute.

But North Dakota stormed back in the second half and scored four goals, including a hat trick by forward Stephanie Pfeiffer, to rally for the win.

North Dakota outshot Wayne State 24-8 and held a sizeable advantage in corner kicks, 18-3, over the Wildcats.

Mishaline LeRoy was credited with nine saves in goal for the Wildcats, while Houdek added four.

Wayne State's next game will be at Nebraska-Omaha on Tuesday, Sept. 28.

quarter with a 55-yard run to increase the lead to 44-28. Nelson scored on a three-yard run with :38 seconds left to close out the scoring for Wayne State. Wayne State cranked out 389 yards offensively, while Panhandle State finished the game with 502 yards. Wayne State was led offensively by Nelson, who was 13-of-35 passing for 209 yards with two touchdowns and two interceptions. Molacek gained 73 yards on just five carries, while Chambers added 66 yards rushing.

Peterson grabbed five receptions for 82 yards and one touchdown to lead the Wildcat receiver corps. Wayne State's defensive unit was led by Dan Kruger who made 10 tackles. Teammate Aaron Rodgers recorded eight stops, while Adam Peterson added seven tackles and one interception. Wayne State will return home Saturday to open its Northern Sun Conference schedule against Minnesota-Crookston with a 12:30 p.m. kickoff WSC volleyball coach Sharon Vanis was presented with a special welcome gift on her return back to practice on Monday. Team members gave their coach a motor scooter to wish her a speedy, cheerful recovery from a recent surgery.

Wayne High catcher Dawn Jensen receives a pitch from relief pitcher Ashley Carroll, while Jenny Raveling, who plays third base watches on during warmups at last weekend's tourney in David City.

Raveling had two doubles and a run for Wayne, while Hochstein scored two runs and a RBI and went two-of-two at the plate. Hill's third no-hitter of the tourney came in a close 1-0 game against host David City. Dawn Jensen scored Wayne's sole run in the sixth inning off a David City error. "It was a long day," Wayne coach Rob Sweetland said. "We scratched out a run against a good team at home." He said that a good week of practice last week helped the team make it through the weekend's four games. The Blue Devils traveled to Albion Boone Central on Tuesday and came away with a 4-0 win against the Cardinals. Jean Pieper led the offense with a pair of hits, an RBI and a run. Another no-hitter by Hill saw 15 more strikeouts to add to her record-setting season. "The girls are playing well and are improving with every game," Sweetland said. Marisa Carroll had five hits and pitched seven strikeouts to pace the JV team in a 15-4 win in the early game. Sam Denklay had three runs and an RBI, while Kiley Luhr had a pair of RBIs. If our middles perform like that all of the time, we're going to have a great year in the conference." Jacey Kuck Schwarz led the Wildcats with 15 kills, while Chelse Schultz nailed 11 in the game. Hitting made all the difference in the game as WSC outthrew Northern 309-142 on the evening. Defensively, Schultz contributed 15 digs, followed by Ashley Vogt who was credited with 10. WSC setter and former Winside Wildcat Julie Jacobsen finished with 37 set assists and hammered three ace serves. The team lost its second week-end contest at the hands of undefeated Minnesota State-Moorhead on Saturday. MSU-Moorhead (14-0) downed the Wildcats 30-27, 22-30, 30-21 and 30-26. Allen volleyball team adds recent victories

The Allen Eagles traveled to Wynot on Sept. 7, for games with the C, B and varsity A-team volleyball squads.

The C Team set the pace for the night taking the game to 3 sets, but Wynot won 15-6, 11-15, and 15-0. The Allen B team won its game 11-21, 21-12 and 21-20.

The A team seemed to follow the same pace as the C & B teams, with Wynot winning in five, 25-21, 18-25, 25-17, 22-25, 3-15.

"We did not play to our abilities. The girls have a lot of talents and abilities and we ended the night disappointed with our communication which leads to our playing as a team," Coach Denise Hingst said.

The Eagles traveled to Ponca Sept. 14, to take part in a triangular with Ponca and Winnebago.

The Eagles set the pace in the first contest against Ponca with their good passing and quick offense, which proved effective as Allen won 25-10 and 25-12.

Alyssa Uldrich led the spikers with nine kills and one ace block followed by Codi Hancock with eight kills.

In serving, Samantha Bock had three ace serves. Erin Keitges and Alissa Koester went 100-percent from the service line with two ace serves each.

The setting chores were shared by Diana Diediker and Samantha Bock with eight and 13 set assists, respectively. Defensively, Koester led in digs with six followed by Keitges with four.

"We need to always find our own game, no matter who we are playing and they did exactly that," Hingst said.

The second game paired Allen with Winnebago and saw the Eagles win 25-3 and 25-16.

Kayla Stallbaum led all hitters with five kills. Alyssa Uldrich had 5 aces serves. She also led in points scored with nine, with Erin Stewart adding 6.

In the setting department, Bock set up nine kills, followed by Alicia Gregerson with four set assists. Keitges, Diediker and Koester each had one defensive dig.

The Lady Eagles hosted Emerson-Hubbard on Thursday night and defeated the Pirates 25-16, 25-17, 22-25 and 25-17.

Stat leaders for the game included Bock with five service aces. She also led with 25 set assists along with Diediker's 20 assists.

Uldrich led with 11 kills and Lindsay Swetnam finished with 10 kills. In digs, Codi Hancock led with 10 followed by Sam Bock with nine.

In early games Thursday, both the C and B teams won their respective contests.

Allen Eagles dominate Walthill in 50-8 victory

The Allen Eagles improved to 2-1 after posting a 50-8 road win against Walthill last Friday.

"The team played very well tonight," Coach Dave Uldrich said. "We executed our base plays and that allowed us to get into the situations we prefer to be in."

The Eagles set the tone for the game early and racked up 23 points against Walthill in the first quarter.

Brian Koester took in the first run for Allen after the first Eagle drive from mid-field and a Toby Gowar kick made the score 7-0.

The next offensive series produced an Allen turnover, but the Eagles soon got the ball back and set up an 18-yard Gowar field goal to add three more points to the lead.

Luke Sachau scored for Allen on a 27-yard run on the first play of the Eagle's next offensive series and another Gowar kick put Allen up 17-0.

Sachau scored against in the first with a four-yard run for a 23-0 Allen lead.

The Eagle defense remained solid in the second period and stuffed out the next Bluejay series to set up another Allen drive that was capped by a Sachau touchdown from 10 yards out. Gower's point after attempted gave Allen a 30-0 advantage.

A solid Bluejay kickoff return set up the only score for Walthill when Louis Housman ran in a 24-yard scamper and subsequent two-point conversion to put the Jays on the board 30-8.

Other scores in the third period came off a one-yard run by Brett Koester and a fourth touchdown by Sachau.

The Eagle's reserve team played the final nine minutes of the third quarter and stayed on the field for the entire fourth quarter.

Chris Blohm added a score for Allen in the third period for the reserve unit.

Sachau led the Allen offense with 169 yards on 17 carries. Blohm added 78 yards for the reserves.

Allen forced seven Walthill turnovers and the tackling leader for the Eagles was Derek Hingst who recorded 11 stops.

The team will travel to Dodge (2-1) this Friday and will look to avenge the 22-8 loss the Pirates encountered last year in Allen.

The summer months see an increase in traffic activity with vacation road trips and weekend trips to the lake. While cruising the open road is one of summer's great pleasures, that pleasure can turn tragic.

SUMMER DRIVING SAFETY TIPS:

1. Wear safety belts. Safety belts reduce the risk of fatalities to front seat passengers by 45%.
2. Keep children safe. The back seat is the safest place for children to ride, and all children must be restrained with the correct safety equipment.
3. Summer means road construction. Be alert to road conditions and the added activity of workers and machines.
4. Increased activity in the summer, combine with later daylight hours, often means that we're cheating ourselves on sleep. If driving long distances, plan frequent breaks & share the driving.

WEEKLY Health TIP

Fiber in Good Carbs Lowers Heart Disease Risks

A new study published in the Archives of Internal Medicine supports the idea that a fiber-rich diet including whole grains, fruits and vegetables can lower your risk of heart disease. Research showed a 14% reduction in risk for every 10 grams of fiber eaten each day. There was also a strong correlation between fiber and lower risk of death from heart disease. Results of the study were independent of other risk-lowering factors like not smoking, weight and exercise. In this age of "low-carb mania," cut sugars and refined starches if you like but not fiber-filled whole grains, vegetables and fruits.

The WSC men were 26th out of 28 teams with a score of 739. Wartburg captured first place with 117 points, followed by Colorado-Colorado Springs in second at 142.

Jeremiah Herron crossed the line in 101st place to lead the WSC men. His time was 28:54. His effort earned him NSIC conference cross country athlete of the week honors earlier this week.

Matt Schneider came in 149th at 29:17 and Sean Keising was 199th in 31:36. Other WSC runners included: Stephen Lamas (219th, 32:51), Nate McIntire (235th, 33:55) and Troy Schaaf (239th, 34:05). 253 runners competed in the men's division.

The next meet for Wayne State will be Saturday, Sept. 25 at the University of Minnesota Invite starting at 10 a.m.

Winside scores at will against Cedar Rapids

Winside's offensive explosion accounted for a school record 510 yards rushing and added 49 passing yards as the Wildcats ran amok in a 58-12 win over Cedar Rapids Friday night.

Reserve running back James Neel's 17 yard touchdown run with 5:47 left to play in the 4th quarter ended the game on the 45-point mercy rule.

Neel's game-ending run was preceded by a four touchdown performance by fullback Kass Holdorf who hit pay dirt from 1, 8, 10 and 75 yards. Dewey Bowers scored on a pair of touchdowns of 5 and 25 yards with Justin Nathan on the receiving end of a 36 yard touchdown strike from tailback Bo Brummels.

Adam Sok, replacing an injured Taylor Suehl sidelined by a nagging ankle sprain, hit Mark Hawkins on a 14-yard scoring pass in the first quarter to give the locals a 20-6 lead they never relinquished.

Bowers set a school rushing record carrying the pigskin 14 times for 238 yards rushing with Holdorf adding 154 yards of his own on 10 carries. Brummels gained 35 yards on 6 carries and Sok had 32 yards on the ground to go along with his 22 passing yards. Brummels returned a pair of Cedar Rapids punts for 41 yards and Jesse Thies had 6 yards on his lone punt return. Brummels added a 32 yard interception of a Cedar Rapids' aerial to his night's production.

The Wildcat's bend but don't break defense held the host team to 205 total yards stopping the Tigers on goal line stands with first and goal from the 1, and 6 yard lines. A Holdorf tackle and Cody Lange recovery of the resulting Tiger fumble also prevented the host team from scoring after reaching the two-yard line in the fourth quarter.

Holdorf with 15 tackles and Lange with 10 stops led the Wildcat defensive effort. Jarad Thies and Neel added seven tackles to the defensive effort while Dan Morris and Hawkins were in on 6 tackles apiece.

Winside will open district play at home against another bunch of Tigers when Osmond comes to town Friday night for homecoming festivities.

Laurel-Concord splits recent volleyball games

Strong offensive plays overwhelmed the Warriors as Laurel-Concord downed visiting Crofton 25-16, 21-25, 25-22 and 25-12 in action on Sept. 14.

"Crofton was an athletic and talented team which provided a strong front line attack," coach Patti Cunningham said.

Playing tough offense, Angie Peters had 20 kills and Lori Pritchard had 10, along with Makayla Hansen's 41 assists.

The Bears hit 94-percent from the serving line, hitting 134 out of 140 serves.

Hansen caused the Warriors to scramble in the first set with eight ace serves in a row. Amy Rath added five ace serves in the Lady Bears victory.

Kayla Neuhalfen led the team with 18 digs, while Pritchard followed with 12. Katlyn Dahlquist and Peters were tough at the net with seven and six blocks, respectively.

L-C's JV fell short of a win, losing two sets, 11-25 and 10-25. The C team downed the Warriors in two close matches with the scores of 16-14 and 15-13.

The Bears faced an aggressive Plainview team last Thursday and lost in four sets, 21-25, 17-25, 25-22 and 14-25.

L-C Bears started out cold in the first two sets, struggling to get the offense going. In the third set, L-C came out more aggressive with passing, setting, and hitting the ball, but couldn't finish the night with a win, losing in the fourth set.

"The team experienced unforced errors and allowed their opponent to outscore them in five of six rotations," Cunningham said. "Unfortunately we made too many mistakes and therefore did not play well enough to win."

Angie Peters pounded 9 kills at the net while Katlyn Dahlquist and Lori Pritchard added 6 and 5 each.

Makayla Hansen made 121-123 setting attempts with 22 assists.

Defensively, Becky Hoising led the Bears with 14 digs, while Peters accounted for 4 blocks at the net.

The JV lost in two sets, 10-25 and 18-25. The C team pulled out a win, 18-16 and 15-12.

The Bears have the week off from competition play, but during the practices and future games Cunningham said the team will continue to work hard to eliminate unforced errors and focus on being competitive both mentally and physically.

Laurel-Concord will host Pierce on Tuesday, Sept. 28.

RC&D gives update

Corps of Discovery Welcome Center - Over 30 people give of their time and talent on a regular basis to meet and greet people that come to the Center. They were honored Sept. 13 at a picnic. The Center will be hosting a Murder Mystery dinner on Nov. 6 at the Yankton Events Center.

Food, Land & People (FLP) - This educational program is gaining momentum in Nebraska as more and more teachers and facilitators become aware of the materials. Comments from teachers show that the information is excellent, the material is well prepared, and additional references are abundant and current. The notebook is well laid out and has lessons ready to copy. October 12 and 13 will be a no-fee workshop in Geneva for those who'd like to become facilitators. See the enclosed flyer for more information.

Dairy Study - Introduced by several Nebraska state senators: Senator Cunningham, District 40; Senator Wehrbein, District 2;

Senator Kremer, District 34 - the purpose of this interim study is to identify factors limiting dairy production and processing in the State of Nebraska. Topics to be discussed may include multiple tier system, marketing unprocessed milk, labeling requirements, and funding for start-up processing operations.

Shannon Trail - This tireless group of Shannon Trail Promoters has set up booths for most of the regional Lewis & Clark events, continues to work on getting permanent interpretive signs at each of the 16 locations, and they're planning more activities for next year. Their fundraiser dinner, concert and dance will be Sunday, Oct. 24 at the Drover Steakhouse in Creighton. Watch for more information on that in the future.

Weed Management Area (WMA) - The organizational boundaries of the Northeast Nebraska WMA includes the counties of Antelope, Boyd, Cedar, Dixon, Holt, Knox, Pierce, and Wayne. They plan to be involved in educating groups and landowners about noxious and invasive plants in the region, facilitate coordination between land management agencies, assist in weed identification, and seek funds to help with eradication, surveying and mapping of weeds.

Highway 14 - The Highway 14 Association has been responsible for several successful projects in the past few years. Completing Standing Bear Bridge in 1999 and the Highway 14 brochure in 1999 resulted in increased traffic along Highway 14. Currently much of their focus is tourism-related.

See their web site www.highway14.org. Don't forget POP IN (Products on Parade in Nebraska) coming Saturday, Oct. 16, 9am-5pm and Sunday, Oct. 17, 10am-4pm in the towns right along the highway where they'll showcase locally made products.

Lewis & Clark Activities - and Nebraska Humanities Council speakers are coming to Plainview's H.S. Auditorium each Sunday afternoon at 3 p.m. until Oct. 3. These free programs cover exploitation, songs, cultural differences, uniforms and equipment.

On Sept. 23, Lifelong Learning Center in Norfolk hear stories and adventures of Seaman, York, Sacagawea and Pomp presented by Renae Hunt.

She is a highly recommended Nebraska Humanities speaker. The event is sponsored by the RC&D Council and the Corps of Discovery Welcome Center.

Heartland Experience - Nine farms are being opened to tourists to showcase local food and the diversity of agriculture in Northern Knox and Cedar counties. A recent TOP grant of $8,950 was awarded to assist with the cost of web site development, an online marketing plan, computer equipment for recordkeeping and promotion, printing of network brochures, and use of a credit card machine on the web site and housed at the Corps of Discovery Welcome Center, which serves as the booking agent for the group's tours.

Pride of the Plains - This second annual marching band championship is being held in Plainview on Saturday, Oct. 16. The parade begins at 2 p.m. followed by an awards ceremony in downtown Plainview. The 5:30 p.m. field show competition will be followed by fireworks. Bands from Nebraska, South Dakota and Minnesota will be performing. For more information or to register a parade entry call the Plainview Chamber of Commerce at 582-4433.

Works of Steven Elliott will be featured at WSC

The works of Steven Elliott, Wayne State College assistant professor of art, will be featured in a faculty art exhibit from Sept. 27 to Oct. 15 in the Nordstrand Visual Arts Gallery on the Wayne State College campus. An opening and reception are scheduled for Sept. 27 from 4:30 - 6 p.m. It is open to the public; there is no charge.

The exhibit, entitled "Fracture," was inspired by Elliott's interest in military technology, satellite imagery, and the presentation of new media through digital photography. "The research is primarily based on the translation of two-dimensional, visual code into distorted, three-dimensional, physical repositories (Fractures) of information," said Elliott.

"Through this corruptive translation, the viewer sees digital pixels in the third dimension, otherwise known as 'voxels.' The outcomes are distorted 'fractures,' which are produced using proprietary graphics techniques in conjunction with the placement of 'voxels' at specified topographical elevations. My intent is to reveal the repetitive, schematic, and meditative action evident in the work."

Elliott teaches sculpture, design and drawing at Wayne State College. A native of Quantico, Va., he served in the U.S. Marine Corps and traveled extensively in more than 20 countries. He has a bachelor of fine arts degree in sculpture from the University of Kansas and a master of fine arts degree from the University of Maryland, College Park, where he taught sculpture, drawing and design.

His work has been recently exhibited in the Zone Gallery in Kansas City, Mo; the Delaware Center for Contemporary Art in Wilmington, Del.; the 38th Annual National Sculpture Show in Corpus Christi, Texas; the Lawrence Art Center in Lawrence, Kan., and Washington Square in Washington, D.C.

Hinds gives presentation at WSC

Beverly (Bev) Hinds of Sioux City, a Lewis and Clark historian, presented "Medical Care on the Lewis and Clark Trail" at Wayne State College in Ramsey Theatre in the Peterson Fine Arts Building on Sept. 20.

Her appearance is one of a series of programs, "A Meeting of Two Cultures: the Lewis and Clark Expedition," that are being presented throughout 2004.

During her presentation, Hinds spoke of President Jefferson's opinions on medical practices of the time and listed the supplies the members of the Corps of Discovery took with them on the expedition.

She noted that two of the common practices used during the trip were bleeding and purging for a number of ailments.

The Lewis and Clark series is cosponsored by Wayne State College Conn. Library, Wayne Public Library, Wayne Public School Libraries, and the Nebraska Humanities Council.

The final two programs will be "Foods and Cooking from the Lewis and Clark Expedition" with Brad Tennant which will be held on Monday, Oct. 11 at the Ley Theatre and "Technology, the Corps to the Northwest and the Attorney General announces drug availability

Attorney General Jon Bruning announced that financially needy Nebraskans battling cancer may be eligible to receive free doses of the cancer-fighting drug Taxol.

A total of 13,000 vials of the infusion drug, which is used primarily to treat breast and ovarian cancer, are now available nationwide as the result of an antitrust settlement reached last April between 49 states and six U.S. territories and Taxol manufacturer Bristol Myers-Squibb. Bristol Myers-Squibb was accused of unlawfully blocking the entry of less expensive generic drugs into the marketplace.

In addition to supplying free vials of Taxol to cancer patients who meet certain eligibility requirements, the company agreed to pay $55 million to states for damages, penalties and individual consumer redress. Nebraska's portion of the settlement, which totals $214,886, will go toward redressing overpayments by state agencies for this drug and/or its generic equivalent. Bristol Myers-Squibb also agreed to strong injunctive relief for 10 years to prevent it from engaging in anti-competitive conduct.

The University of Nebraska Medical Center (UNMC) has been designated as a distribution site by RxHope, a Virginia-based administrator acting on behalf of the states. Financially needy cancer patients who think they may be eligible should contact their physician and/or UNMC to inquire about eligibility and the application process. Patients who have public or private health insurance that covers chemotherapy drugs like Taxol and Medicaid/Medicare recipients will not qualify.

Visiting constituents

Senator Pat Engel was among those on hand at Tuesday's Fall Legislative Forum sponsored by the Nebraska Chamber of Commerce and Industry. Engel noted that Wayne is a progressive community and encouraged input from the community on ways to make the community a better place to live.

Professionals required to perform services

The Nebraska Department of Environmental Quality (NDEQ) recently began implementing a new state law, known as the Private Onsite Wastewater Treatment System Contractors Certification and System Registration Act.

This law requires, as of Jan. 1, 2004, only State of Nebraska Certified Professionals,

Professional Engineers, Registered Environmental Health Specialists or individuals supervised by one of these professionals to perform work on onsite wastewater treatment systems, such as septic systems and lagoons.

In addition to the certification requirements, all onsite wastewater systems constructed, reconstructed, altered, modified or otherwise changed by a certified professional after Jan. 1, 2004 must be registered with NDEQ within 45 days of completion of the work.

For more information, contact Jonathan Mohr, Program Specialist, Wastewater Section Water Quality Division at (402) 471-4372.

High school students study importance of cleanliness

Students in Mrs. Schardt's high school foods class discovered how microbiology and food safety are one in the same. The students had studied the importance of cleanliness in preparing food and how food spoilage occurs.

Using sterile Q-tips moistened with sterile water, the students went around Wayne High School swabbing surfaces.

"Normally, you would culture in an agar product," explained Mrs.

Schardt. "Since we didn't have agar plates, we used sweetened Jell-O. Since the room was around 87 degrees that week, it worked perfectly as an incubation facility."

All the students had successful cultures from a wide variety of sources. They saw how germs exist everywhere, are easily spread and the importance of hand washing and cleanliness during food preparation and handling.

Mrs. Schardt, along with Middle School Science teacher Lee Brogie, Winside Science teacher, Paul Sok and Ed Brogie from Laurel High School attended a Food Safety and Sanitation Workshop at UNL this summer. The workshop instructed teachers on microbiology in food handling along with having the teachers complete a variety of lab experiments.

The Lighting Gallery announces sweepstakes

Capitalizing on our national fascination with makeovers of all types, The Lighting Gallery by JESCO and the American Lighting Association (ALA) have launched a $10,000 Home Lighting Makeover Sweepstakes, it was announced by Showroom Managers Kristi Harmeier and Tom Falter.

From now through December 2004, consumers can visit The Lighting Gallery located at 700 Omaha Avenue in Norfolk to complete an entry form for a chance to win a $10,000 interior and/or exterior lighting makeover for their home.

"The American Lighting Association, which we are a member of, designed the home lighting makeover sweepstakes as a fun way for lighting showrooms to showcase to consumers their selection and superior customer service in lighting and fans," said Kristi Harmeier.

The name of the winner from the U.S. and Canadian sweepstakes will be drawn at the ALA Board of Governors meeting Jan. 16, 2005 during the Dallas International Lighting Market. The showroom where the winning sweepstakes form was entered will notify the winner in January 2005 and plan the customized lighting makeover. ALA will photograph before and after pictures of the winning home to promote the dramatic difference lighting can make in a home.

The sweepstakes is supported by full-page, four color national advertising in U.S. and Canadian consumer home remodeling magazines, television spots, radio scripts, press releases and counter card displays. Consumers can also enter the home lighting makeover sweepstakes by mailing in a postcard to ALA. To view the complete rules, visit the ALA Web site, www.americanlightingassoc.com.

The ALA sweepstakes is funded through the ALA BiNational Advertising and PR Program, the lighting industry's U.S. and Canadian consumer promotion effort designed to raise the awareness of lighting, retail lighting showrooms and the quality products manufactured by ALA manufacturers.

Myths about gambling #1

Myth: Gambling increases personal bankruptcy rates.

Fact: A 1999 study for the U.S. Treasury showed that there was no link between gambling and bankruptcy rates.

Fact: Nebraska, which does not have casino-style gambling, has a higher rate of personal bankruptcies than either South Dakota or Iowa.

Fact: Utah, the only state in the nation without any form of gambling, consistently has one of the highest rates of personal bankruptcy.

Roundtable to discuss children's health

The public is invited to attend the second Responsibility Roundtable discussion, hosted by Northeast Nebraska Public Health Dept., concerning maternal and child health in this area.

The focus question to be addressed: "How can we, as advocates for children, strategically network in order to provide a better maternal and child health environment in Northeast Nebraska?" Representatives of various health agencies, education and child care agencies, and interested parties met in May to begin networking and discussing this issue.

Participants of the second roundtable will continue to build on the shared vision for a healthy, safe and secure environment for children and families.

Northeast Nebraska Public Health Department has also completed a Needs Assessment in Wayne, Cedar, Dixon and Thurston counties. Results from this new, recently released "Northeast Nebraska Public Health District Needs Assessment Report" will be presented by Wayne State College's Social Science Research Center. Current data concerning the health of our families in Northeast Nebraska will be discussed.

This event will be held on Tuesday, Sept. 28, from 8:30 a.m. to 2 p.m. at Ponca State Park Education Center. Registration fee is $10 (includes lunch), and may be mailed to NNPHD, 117 West 3rd St., Wayne, Neb. 68787. Contact NE Nebr. Public Health Dept. at (402) 375-2200, 1-800-375-2260 or nnpd@hntel.net for further details. Funding for this roundtable is provided through a grant from the Nebraska MCH Title V block grant.

Local youth in WSC theatre production

Molly Muir of Wayne and Adam Hansen of Wakefield are among Wayne State College students performing "The Crucible" which will be presented by the Wayne State College theatre department, Oct. 3-5. The public is welcome to attend. Show times include a matinee at 2 on Oct. 3 and 7:30 p.m. on Oct. 4 and 5 in Ramsey Theatre, Peterson Fine Arts Building. Admission is free.

Based on historic events, the play shows the destructive power of a society allowing violence to be unleashed by rumors of witchcraft. The story is a parable written in the 1950s about McCarthyism, a period named after Sen. Joseph McCarthy that was characterized by intense anti-communism in the U.S. at that time and highlighted during hearings by the House Committee on Un-American Activities. Playwright Miller made a statement by portraying parallels between the hearings and the witch hunt trials in Salem in 1692.

The play is directed by Dr. Gwen Jensen, Wayne State College assistant professor. Janet Roney is technical director.

Hagel announces program accepting applications

U.S. Sen. Chuck Hagel (R-NE) announced that the United States Senate Youth Program (USSYP) has begun its statewide selection process of two Nebraska high school students to spend a week in Washington observing the federal government in action. The application deadline for students in Nebraska is Oct. 5, 2004.

"It is important to give young people an opportunity to experience the workings of the federal government. This program is an excellent way to engage Nebraska's outstanding high school students in government affairs. I encourage all those who are eligible to apply," Hagel said.

The USSYP brings two student delegates from each state, the District of Columbia, and the Department of Defense overseas schools to spend a week in Washington studying their federal government. In past years, students have visited Capitol Hill, the White House, Supreme Court, Pentagon and State Department and met with leading cabinet members and key Congressional policymakers.

Eligible applicants must be junior or senior elected student officers for the 2004-05 academic year and reside in Nebraska. Names of students selected will be announced mid-December and the delegates will receive a $50,000 scholarship and an all-expenses paid trip to Washington. Interested students should contact their high school principal or the selection administrator, Mr. Larry Starr, at the Nebraska Department of Education at 402-471-2449. Additional program information can be obtained at www.usenateyouth.org.

Let's talk about sportsmanship

Have you ever been to a sporting event and noticed how some parents act?

So often we focus on the negative, but there are parents in attendance who model good sportsmanship. They watch the game with interest. They cheer and enjoy the game. They tell their children how proud they are of their achievements.

Their children know that no matter how they perform on the playing field, they are loved unconditionally.

What is Sportsmanship? Sportsmanship is defined in the Webster New World Dictionary as characteristics of or behavior befitting a person who can take loss or defeat without complaint or victory without gloating and who treats his opponents with fairness, generosity, courtesy, etc. To help your children learn to be good sports you can: Model good sportsmanship. Children emulate their parents.

Therefore, during sporting events, parents should model appropriate behavior.

Praise children for the positive aspects of their performance. Parents should never make fun of or yell at a child for something he or she has done when participating in a sporting event. Also, parents should not boo or use inappropriate language when the other team makes a good play. More importantly, parents should applaud the efforts of all players - no matter who wins.

Respect authority - when talking to their child's coach, parents should be respectful and noncriticcal. Parents should also support the decisions and calls the umpire or referee makes. If a parent disagrees with the call or something happens that is unfair, he or she should work through the official channels to make the necessary changes. Parents should not let temper and feelings of the moment allow them to become irate and do something they will regret later.

Encourage competition that is fair. Competition makes individuals want to do the very best that they can so that they can achieve their goals. Parents should not encourage, support or condone dishonest or cheating for the sake of winning an event at all costs. Instead, children should be encouraged to play hard and aggressively with the goal of winning. A team should win because they worked hard and performed well. If the child does well in competition, celebrate success in a respectful way.

Correct inappropriate behavior. Explain why a behavior is inappropriate and what a better behavior would be. Be observant and watch the lessons the child is learning-encouraging those that are appropriate and correcting those that are not.

In summary, sportsmanship can be summed up in three words - courtesy, respect and consideration!

'Fill the Boot' raises funds in Wayne

The Muscular Dystrophy "Fill the Boot" Labor Day fundraising event was held this year at the Pamida parking lot in Wayne.

The first year co-sponsors were the Wayne Eagles and the Wayne Volunteer Fire Department. They were successful in collecting over $1,000.

The tradition of local firemen using their uniform boots to collect donations for Muscular Dystrophy has been carried out throughout the United States for many years.

A local seven year-old, Zachary Jorgensen, son of Joel and Shelly Jorgensen, will benefit from this project as the donations are used for MD summer camps and research.

Zachary and his family were invited to appear on the Lincoln television telethon to tell of his experiences at summer camp and how muscular dystrophy affects their family.

A whole hour was designated as "Zach Hour" to send in donations. The community of Wayne was unable to view this program but a video will be sent to the Jorgensens.

At the end of Wayne's fundraising event, Zachary returned to be treated to a fire truck ride by the local firemen.

Members of the sponsoring organizations noted that all donations collected were appreciated by the Eagles, the firemen and the Jorgensen family.

Members of Wayne Volunteer Fire Department, Wayne Eagles Club, Zachary Jorgensen and his family and representatives of Pamida, pose in front of a fire truck following this year's "Fill the Boot" event at Pamida. The event raised approximately $1,000 for the Muscular Dystrophy Association.

Week full of learning experiences

It's Sunday evening, another day of hot, dry wind. We saw one huge soybean field completely harvested along Highway 370. We are hearing reports of good yields, praise the Lord for that. Three dry years in a row is unusual in Cass county.

I had another learning experience last week, I seem to get a fair share of those. I'm a member of an advisory committee that meets irregularly to promote health, ministry in Nebraska. There is actually a department of health ministry in the state health and human resources area. This committee represents some of the major church bodies in our fair state: American Baptist, Church of Christ, Presbyterian, Lutheran, Methodist, and Catholic.

We met last Wednesday, and part of the morning activities was to walk over to the capitol and have the governor proclaim October as Health Ministry Month. Have you ever wondered how we get all these special days, weeks, and months "proclaimed." I think I really didn't believe he knew anything about them; they were just something his aides did as part of his public duties.

Not so! Every so often, he spends a couple of hours in the Warner room, meeting the folks who have a special observance to proclaim, and signing the proclamations as a photo is taken of the group. We were number 13 on the list that day. But to be respectful, we were there when it started, and sat through 12 other presenters.

It was actually very interesting; there was National Hire the Handicapped month, and a presentation of a blind man of the Handicapped Employee of the year; it was Resident Rights'

Month, and there were about a dozen senior citizens in wheelchairs and with walkers; and there was Hispanic Americans Month, with about 20 Latinos, some in native dress, all ages, and one little boy in a sombrero as big as he was!

Right after our group, they proclaimed Family Physician Month, and presented the family physician of the year, a Dr. Scott from Kearney. The governor shook everyone's hand, signed each proclamation, and generally seemed to be having a good time. I have no idea who writes all the "whereas and wherefores", but we were officially recognized for October as Health Ministry Month.

Later, I realized we missed an opportunity, as September is National Pain Awareness Month. The information I received says that 50 million Americans experience chronic pain, and four out of 10 with moderate to severe chronic pain do not receive adequate relief. Looks like a challenge for the health ministers in our state. More about all that some other time. I've run out of space and it's time to send this on. Happy Autumn!

A happier harvest is always possible

The growing season is waning and many of you are facing the harvest of dryland crops that have been hit by late season drought. We all know that good and bad weather are part of living in Nebraska, consequently our crops are quite variable across the state depending on soil type and amount of precipitation. Although we can't control the weather we can do some things during and after harvest that will help get what we do have in the field to market.

Combine settings are important to get the grain (even some of the lighter test weight grain), while leaving the fines and unfilled kernels in the field. Seed coats on this grain are likely to be thick and checks and cracks from extra combine-threshing action should be avoided. Review your cylinder settings and vein adjustments (rotatory) with the book and your dealer. It is easy to plug headers with downed stalks even when they aren't all that thick. Make sure that all systems are shut down and safety locks in place before cleaning out plugs. After cleaning make sure all tools and clean-out equipment is put away before restart. Make sure helpers are in a safe place before restarting equipment.

Properly dry the crop. A good goal for corn would be to dry to 15 percent and for soybeans dry to 13 percent moisture content, as soon as possible following harvest. After the grain has reached the desired storage moisture content, move at least one (preferably two) cooling zones through the grain to remove field heat or dryer heat as soon as possible. The initial goal is to bring the grain down to 50-55EF.

Run the fans in grain bins. Plan to move one cooling zone per month through the grain until it is cooled to between 30EF and 40EF (about once a month). If the in-laws are troublesome, use Halloween, Thanksgiving and Christmas for grain aeration dates. Communications with the wife may suffer, but the grain will be safe! This will effectively prevent insect activity in the grain since nearly all insect activity stops at temperatures below 50E.

Getting all the grain to a uniform temperature will also help prevent convection currents from forming in the grain which can result in the development of a wet spot in the top center of the bin.

lower temperatures, monitor the dryer carefully, and use frequent full dryer cleanouts to be sure the fines don't buildup and catch fire. It will be very easy to over-dry this grain and cause extra stress cracks.

TAKE YOUR TIME! It is frustrating to get low yields and have to combine short soybean plants. Make sure you don't compound the problem by leaving five bushels/acre in the field or on the side damaging the header on terraces or sucking rocks into the machine. Grain prices are going higher and we still need to harvest as much of a good clean crop as possible.

Grows big vegetables

Herman Oetken of Wayne grew some big vegetables this year. He had Kennebec potatoes that weighed one pound each and tomatoes that weighed about 12 ounces each. Oetken's garden is by his home in Wayne on Logan Street. He notes he didn't do anything different this year except for spraying one of his tomato plants with a mixture to help get more blossoms. He said it really worked as there were 20 tomatoes on one vine.

Fall a Great Season for Garden Planning and Planting

Fall may signal a winding down of the gardening season, but it's also a great time to lay the groundwork for next year's garden, University of Nebraska-Lincoln horticulturists said.

Anne Streich, horticulture educator, said fall is the best season to plant many types of deciduous trees and shrubs. "Trees and shrubs planted in the spring usually don't have a lot of time to get established before they face the stresses of a hot or dry summer," she said. "Planting them now gives them a chance to establish a good root system."

She said most deciduous trees and shrubs can be planted now, but people should wait until spring to plant broadleaf evergreen varieties.

Newly planted trees should not be fertilized this fall, and only diseased or damaged branches should be pruned.

"If fertilizer is needed on established trees, it should be applied after the leaves have started to fall and we've had at least one hard freeze. Applying fertilizer or pruning in mid-fall will encourage new growth," Streich said. "Instead, you want the tree or shrub to put energy into its root system and harden off for the winter."

She said newly planted trees and shrubs, including those planted in the spring or summer, should be watered deeply once or twice a week. Plants can be watered throughout the winter as long as the ground is not frozen.

It is especially important to ensure there is adequate moisture in the soil for evergreen plants, Streich said, since they continue to transpire and lose water throughout the winter. People also should be careful not to overwater.

"The amount of water depends on the size of the tree, shrub or perennial. If the ground feels moist, it probably doesn't need water," she said. "One of the most common problems we see in home landscapes is the overwatering of plants. Excess soil moisture will reduce the amount of oxygen in the soil and cause an overall decline in plant health."

Kim Todd, landscape horticulture specialist in the university's Institute of Agriculture and Natural Resources, said deep watering of trees and shrubs is best accomplished with a drip irrigation system that slowly applies water to the root zone, which is an area roughly equivalent to the spread of the leaf canopy. She said proper watering also requires an awareness of the soil composition.

"In areas of new construction, trees and shrubs are often planted in basins of clay that don't drain well, and you can end up drowning the plant," Todd said.

Trees and shrubs can be under-watered, however, if the surrounding soils are dry enough to wick the water away from the root ball.

Myths about gambling #3

Myth: Gambling "devastates" retail sales

Fact: Separate and independent studies by Arthur Anderson, the Illinois Economic and Fiscal Commission, Dr. Douglas Turco of Illinois State University and the National Opinion Research Center at the University of Chicago directly refute this claim.

Fact: In nearby Iowa, retail sales grew in communities with nearby casinos between 1998 and 2003 by a rate of 4.5% while statewide retail sales grew at only 2.7%.

Masons honor members

Wayne Masonic Lodge #120 A.F. & A.M. honored two local masons on Sept. 19 for 50 years of faithful membership in the lodge.

Pins were presented to Arthur L. Pollard and Stanley J. Morris by the Grand Lodge of Nebraska.

Gail Axen, Secretary of Wayne Lodge read the citations provided with the awards and Norma Pollard and Betty Morris pinned the awards to their respective husband's lapel.

Robert Carhart, Worshipful Master of the lodge, served as master of ceremonies for the event.

Two other 50-year members of the Lodge attended the proceedings. They were Leland Herman and Jason Preston.

Stanley A. Morris, a 60-year member, also attended and holds the honor of being the Wayne Lodge's Jordan Medal holder. This award is presented for the mason with the greatest number of years of Masonic service.

Dorothy Brandstetter (Mrs. Orval) and Lorene Gildersleeve (Mrs. Fred) were each honored with the presentation of a widow's pin by the Lodge recognizing their enduring tie to the lodge. Robert

Carhart presented the pins. Twenty-five members, family and friends attended the presentation held at the Fellowship Hall of the Methodist Church.

The gathering of Masonic families also celebrated the 120th anniversary of the granting of the charter to operate the Lodge. The history of the lodge, including interesting facts from the past, was read by Frank Teach, Senior Warden of the lodge. The lodge operated under dispensation from the Grand Lodge of Nebraska beginning in the summer of 1883 until its charter was issued on June 24, 1884.

The Masonic lodges in Wakefield, West Point and Norfolk all preceded the formation of the Wayne Lodge.

Darrel and Nancy Fuelberth were in charge of refreshments for the occasion.

Although continued military training and leadership development is included in the curriculum, the primary focus of the course is to develop and evaluate each cadet's officer potential as a leader. The cadet command assesses each cadet's performance and progress in officer traits, qualities and professionalism while attending the course.

Baker is the son of Kim B. Baker of Lloyd Court, Wayne, Neb., and Renee S. Baker of Hooper, Neb. He graduated from Wayne High School in 2000.

Enjoying the celebration
