Council postpones action on agenda items

By Clara Osten Of the Herald

In a relatively short meeting, the Wayne City Council postponed the third reading of an ordinance dealing with residential dwelling units and rescheduled the date for determination of a blight and substandard area in Wayne.

Action on Ordinance 2005-2 was tabled until further notice.

The ordinance was amended during its second reading at the last meeting and the council felt they need legal counsel before the third reading can Tuesday's meeting when the issue will be brought back before the council.

A public hearing date of Tuesday, March 8 at 7:35 p.m. was set for the blight and substandard determination.

Gothenburg, who has been advising the Station. city on the subject of Tax Increment Financing (TIF), has encouraged the city to include two areas of undeveloped land in the area being considered as the blight and substandard area.

Before a resolution to that effect can be passed, a second public hearing needs to be held.

Holly Doring, representing the Wayne County Jaycees, was present at the meeting to request the closing of two streets for an Easter Candy Drop, scheduled for Saturday, March 12.

The group plans to use the new take place. It was not determined at Ameritas parking lot at the corner of Sixth and Logan Streets for the event and asked the council for permission to close Logan Street from Fifth to Sixth Street and Sixth Street from Logan to Nebraska Street from 8:30 to 10:30

Beginning March 1, the Transfer Station will be open Monday, Tuesday and Friday from 9 a.m. to 1:30 p.m. and on Saturday from 8 a.m to noon.

The council listened to a presentation from Dan Rose, representing Habitat for Humanity, on the sale of city property to the group for construction of the next home.

Rose told the council that the group has given up the request for property at 12th and Douglas Streets due to the fact that the group could not meet the city's requirements for the building that needs to be constructed on that lot.

Instead, Rose said his group is re-visiting the property located on South Nebraska Street to determine the cost of making the lot suitable for building. Habitat for Humanity would be interested in building on that lot if the cost The council unanimously passed is not prohibitive. Rose said he would Ordinance 2005-3 received second reading approval, following input from several council members. The Ordinance will create a handicapped parking stall near the City Auditorium.

At the current time, the ordinance states that this stall will be on the northeast corner of the auditorium, along Third Street.

Council member Doug Sturm suggested that rather than a permanent stall, some type of portable sign be used when it is necessary to create a handicapped parking spot.

Council member Kaki Ley indicated that she felt the north side of the auditorium was not a good location for a handicapped stall, as the area receives no sun and remains icy throughout the winter. She suggested instead that the handicapped stall be located in front of the building, along Pearl Street.

The council's next meeting will be Tuesday, Feb. 22 at 7:30 p.m. in the Council Chambers.

Recycling will support Tsunami Aid Relief Fund.

Wayne Boy Scout Troop 174 will donate the proceeds of their February paper drive to the Tsunami Aid Relief fund of the Wayne Red Cross.

The local troop agreed to sacrifice one month's paper drive revenue in order to contribute to the overwhelming needs of the thousands of tsunami refugees. The funds donated would typically be used to buy equipment or fund the boys' camping activities. Helping other people at all times is a core value of the Boy Scouts of America. Instilling in boys and young men an awareness of others and a sense of responsibility to help the people of the world is a lesson taught in the Scouting merit badge Citizenship of the World. The troop encourages all Wayne area residents to assist their efforts by saving newspaper, office paper, magazines, and aluminum beverage cans for the monthly drive to be held on the morning of Saturday, Feb. 19.

However, Wayne area residents don't have to limit their recycling efforts to the month of February. On the third Saturday of each month Wayne residents are able to place recyclables at the curb for pick up by the Scouts. Recyclables should be placed at the curb by 8 a.m. The following items can be recycled: white and colored paper, magzines, newspaper and slick paper (i.e., ads, coupons), and aluminum beverage cans. Envelopes, postcards, bulk mail or junk mail cannot be recycled and should not be included. Recyclables must be sorted and placed in separate containers. Paper grocery bags work well for paper; plastic garbage bags work well for cans.

Recyclables may also be brought directly to the scout trailer located at the City of Wayne Transfer Station and Recycling Center, 110 South Windom Street in Wayne. Hours of operation are Mondays, Tuesdays, Thursdays, and Fridays from 9 a.m. until 1:30 p.m. and Saturdays from 8 a.m. until 1 p.m.

Weyerhauser Inc. estimates that by recycling just one ton of paper, we save: 17 trees; 6,953 gallons of water; 463 gallons of oil; 587 pounds of air pollution; 3.06 cubic yards of landfill space; and 4,077 Kilowatt hours of energy.

Opinion of police has changed

Editor's note: The following letter was forwarded from the Wayne Police Department with the writer's permission.

the Wayne Police To Department:

I would like to take some time to thank you all, from dispatcher to Chief, for changing my ideas about police officers and police in general.

Before moving back to Nebraska and settling in Wayne, I lived in a city in Oregon where I was pulled over 13 times in about eight months. Once I was pulled over twice in 20 minutes.

I was going to write a letter to the Editor of the Wayne Herald, but felt uncomfortable because of the degrading way I've been treated by police officers in the past. I've been called racist names, been threatened and harassed by officers in Oregon and Texas.

Coming to 'Small-Town' Wayne after these experiences, frankly I expected more of the same or worse. I've been pulled over by Wayne police for being absentminded and forgetting to change my plates and other minor things, and each time I've been amazed at the courtesy and professionalism of the WPD.

In fact, the first time I shook the hand of a cop was here in Wayne. There have been a few times when I needed the assistance of the police, most notably when my car was dented, and on Jan. 27 when I needed help with some missing property. I have to say that I was and am astounded, after experiencing what I had experienced, to have my concerns shared and resolved by police that are actually nice peo-than to assure the public that the stupid things I do (or forget to do) are brought to my attention and

Dear Editor,

I was an English Writing major, and minored in Business Communications and I find this one of the hardest letters I've written because of past experiences. But it is necessary, because I can say without hesitation that the WPD has changed my attitudes and opinions about police.

Before moving to Wayne, I have to admit I'd never had a positive experience with folks carrying badges and guns. Since moving to Wayne, even though I've had to pay a few fines for minor infractions caused by my laziness or stupidity, I have not had a bad experience with any local cop.

In fact, I'm shocked by how well I've been treated. And that says quite a bit. When I was contacted by a Lieutenant concerning my missing trash bin, I honestly was at a loss for words (and this is coming from a salesman). This man was honestly happy to have helped me.

This is probably the most poorly worded letter I've ever written, and I think it is because of two things: One, would be my very negative experiences with officers in the past. The other, I think, is the fact that I've read very little about good policing. So if this sounds contrite or silly, it's not meant to be. I've just never had a reason to thank police in writing before, so it's new

Being a sales person and having taught at WSC, I know it is very hard to change a person's mind. Substitutions cost money in all cases

When the question was: "Who wants more abuse prevention things?" The understandable response from proponents was, "I do! I do!"

When the next question was: "Okay. Now, who wants to go along with substituting that for some of the wards-of-the-state thing?" there was silence.

I believe that especially in times like these our country is depending so much on our National Guard that we should do all that we can for them. There is a $900,000 cap on the fund and that will not be increased under the bill. The bill moved along to Select File with a vote of 37-3, where it will undoubtedly be good for more

In Appropriations we are almost finished going over the preliminary budget requests of all the government agencies with our fiscal office. Our next step is to actually have a public hearing for those agencies that are requesting budget increases. After that, the committee will finalize our budget recommendations to take to the legislature for debate and approval.

The state forecasting board will be meeting this month to give us their latest forecast of revenue for the next biennium, which will determine how we set our budget. As you are aware, revenues are coming in above the forecast, but we must prioritize by using this revenue to only restore money to the drastic cuts that were made to K-12 and higher education but be very careful in creating any new programs. We need to continue examining existing programs to determine their effectiveness and whether they are performing as intended and are cost effective.

Other than that, hearings are going on and as the bills come out of committee we will keep you informed of their progress. 😓

Quote of the Week:

"If you don't plan for your future, I can tell you what your future will look like." Mike Bacon.

Mr. Bacon, a lawyer from Gothenburg, was in Wayne last week to talk about the technical procedures for establishing Tax Increment Financing (TIF), incentives for new commercial, industrial or housing projects. He met at a combined meeting of the Wayne Board of Education, County Commissioners, Planning Commission and City Council.

Bacon described the use of TIF to attract new investment into the Wayne area for jobs and housing opportunities. He said a well planned TIF incentive program has allowed Gothenburg to be very competitive in attracting millions of dollars of private investment there that probably would have been built elsewhere. He also talked about the population growth that is following.

American Red Cross gets donation from Laurel-Concord Elementary

On Feb. 3, the Student Council efforts by the Tideman Insurance officers at the Laurel-Concord Elementary School presented Lori Carollo with the American Red Cross a check for $185 to go to the tsunami relief efforts overseas. Peg Anderson with Tom Tideman Insurance matched their fundraising efforts up to $150 and also presented that check to the Red Cross.

This fundraiser was held over a couple weeks and every student in grades K - 6 were challenged to bring 50 cents of their OWN money to donate to the relief efforts for the victims of the earthquake and tsunami devastation in Southern Asia and Eastern Africa. The group was also encouraged in their Agency when they offered to match the children's donations up to $150!

"This is always so exciting to see great things like this being done and especially by kids of this age! I was told there are 195 students in K-6 grades, so to raise $185 is outstanding!" commented Lori Carollo, Chapter Manager of the Red Cross chapter in Wayne.

Carollo continued,"We thank the Laurel-Concord elementary students and Peg Anderson with Tom Tideman Insurance for this wonderful donation. It will help many people trying to rebuild their lives after the horrible disaster that hit them on Dec. 26. These kids are another example of so many kind people who have answered the call for help, letting those people know that they are not alone!"

Donations like these given to a local Red Cross chapter are forwarded directly to the national headquarters and go to the International Disaster Relief Fund with the specific designation that they go toward relief efforts being done by the Red Cross in relation to the tsunami.

The Red Cross is assisting the relief efforts in every way possible to restore stability and begin the process of rebuilding for the victims affected by this disaster.

WSC harvests bumper crop of new recruits

By David W. Carstens Of the Herald

There are definately plenty of reasons for Wayne State College coaches Dan McLaughlin and Oliver Twelvetrees to be happy about this week.

McLaughlin will enter his first football season at WSC with 21 new recruits, while Twelvetree's second season as Wayne State soccer coach will add eight players to his Wildcat roster next fall.

All new recruits made their commitment to Wayne State official with national letter of intent signings last week.

McLaughlin, who was named new head coach in mid-December, said he was impressed with the athletes that decided to play for the Wildcats considering a relatively late start in his recruiting efforts.

"We are very pleased with this signing class," McLaughlin said last week. "Beginning as late as we did with the staff changes, we were very successful in getting outstanding young players to commit to Wayne State, particularly from Northeast Nebraska and Western Iowa. This class gives us a great feeling about the future of Wildcat football."

The 2005 recruiting class consists of 15 high school players from Nebraska, six from Iowa along with one college transfer from Nebraska.

The team signed 12 defensive players, while WSC landed two of Nebraska's top rushers from the Class A ranks in Alex Hall of Lincoln North Star and Tyler Jones from Millard West for its offense.

Six Northeast Nebraska players, including Dana Schuett of Wayne High and Kyle Gardner of Wakefield, were also among those who signed with the

"Dana is an aggressive, physical linebacker who has the size and demeanor to be very successful for the Wildcats," McLaughlin said about Schuett. "Dana is an excellent wrestler. and translates that aggressiveness, balance and quickness to the football field."

McLaughlin also had similar words of praise about

"Kyle is a tough, hard-nosed linebacker with a habit of finding the football. An excellent tackler, he's battled through some injuries to stay on the football field and he brings an attitude of toughness to the Wildcat

> Oliver Twelvetrees inked six players from Nebraska with one each from Minnesota and Wisconsin.

"I am extremely excited about my first recruiting class here at Wayne State College," Twelvetrees said. "We lost some valuable seniors and we needed improvement throughout the team. Therefore, this class could have the biggest and strongest impact in WSC soccer history. I expect each of these freshmen to contribute immediately and to play an important role in the upcoming fall season.

He said with the addition of the new talent to join a squad that is returning three all-conference players, the Wildcats should be in a position to make a run for the Northern Sun conference title."

The following football players signed national letters of intent with WSC finish to the squad's winning effort.

"Overall it was an outstanding day with nine out of ten placing. The team really stepped it up with Kass (Holdorf) being out and for the most part we solidified our seeding prospects at districts," Winside coach Paul Sok said.

The team is healthy, with the exception of Holdorf, who is expected to rehab and come back at full strength for the district meet at Pender starting Friday.

On Feb 1, Winside and Wakefield competed in the Lewis and Clark conference tournament at Ponca.

The Laurel Learning Center is the site for an upcoming parenting class, beginning Monday, Feb. 21.

The class will start at 6:30 p.m. and is being presented by Laurel-Concord Public School, Laurel Educational Resources and E.S.U. #1. This class is also offered as a one hour college credit course through Wayne State College and meets the yearly CEU requirements for child care providers in Nebraska.

There is a fee to cover materials; however, fee waivers and scholarships are available.

As the book by Dr. Frank Main of the University of South Dakota asserts, "there is no such creature as the perfect parent, but we owe it to our children and our families to advance our understanding and skills in parenting to best promote the well-being of our children."

In this day and time, parents are confronted with all manners of parenting challenges that they must first recognize and then effectively confront.

The Parenting Class will give those attending the tools to understand and communicate with children to promote positive outcomes.

based on the positive youth development model so youth can gain, these important assets.

Cedar County

Deb Kirsch, Editor of "Insight..a closer look at prevention" outlines, recent research findings in the current newsletter of Prevention Pathways, northeast Nebraska's prevention organization. The projects and activities needed to assist youth in becoming confident and successful young adults are found in 4-H involvement.

Cooperative Extension staff from across the country have incorporated prevention research in planning 4-H programs. In Nebraska, the University of Nebraska Cooperative Extension has provided training in the Developmental Assets for all staff supervising 4-H programs. The four "H"s in 4-H stand for Head, Heart, Hands and Health. Within those four areas, 4-H programs offer a number of strategies to learn all of the assets and to help youth become success ful adults in their homes, communities and workplaces.

During Nebraska 4-H Month, you have the opportunity to learn more about the 4-H program that will be a great learning opportunity for youth as well as a method of creating positive connections between youth and adults in your community. Membership in 4-H can provide the means for youth to develop all of the assets that are critical for positive youth development. This is a great time to start a club or for youth to become independent 4-H members.

For more information, please contact your local UNL Cooperative Extension Office. We can also provide other information about the developmental assets. For more information on prevention research described in this article, you can contact Prevention Pathways at 402-370-3113.

'Jesus Nation' to be in Norfolk

Mission Nebraska, co-directed by Cornhuskers as a solidified group. Ron Brown and Stan Parker, has announced that the Jesus Nation tour — an unprecedented series of events across Nebraska - will make a stop in Norfolk on Sunday, Feb. 20.

"Jesus Nation" is designed to bring Christ-followers from all denominations together. When the tour has completed its four stops in the next several months, there will have been more than 40,000 Christ-followers gathered for this unique purpose.

"The time is now for Nebraskans to go public with their profession of faith in Jesus," said Ron Brown, Mission Nebraska co-director, FCA State Director and former Cornhusker assistant football coach. "With the buzz created by the election results which showed the power of people unified in purpose, we are inspired to proclaim the greatness of our God on a scale never before seen in the state."

Brown will be joined by Stan Parker and worship leader Joe Horness on each Jesus Nation tour stop. The event will feature worship, prayer for the unique needs in each region and spiritual chal-

Mission's Nebraska's concept of Jesus Nation spun from the overwhelming fan support that has, been evident over the last 42 years at Memorial Stadium. Tens of thousands of fans from across the state East Harper Avenue, P.O. Box 329, enthusiastically support the Plainview, Neb. 68769.

Jesus Nation, meanwhile, invites enthusiasm and passsion for Nebraska's public expression of Jesus Christ.

"The level of attendance at this event will serve as a barometer as to where we stand regarding our love and pursuit of Jesus Christ. Nebraskans have scheduled and even re-scheduled their lives around Husker football games. I challenge us to schedule and reschedule, if necessary, our lives for these events when they come to your area," Brown said.

For more information or tickets on the Norfolk Jesus Nation event, contact Pastor Cal Kroeker at Calvary Bible Evangelical Church at (402) 375-4946 or visit www.missionnebraska.com

Tickets can be ordered through the Web site, or check the Web site for other ticket locations.

Red Wine Cuts Prostate Cancer Risk

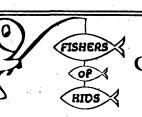

Researches at Fred Hutchinson Cancer Center claim that a glass of red wine a day may cut the risk of prostate cancer in half. The greatest protective effect seemed to be against the most aggressive forms of prostate cancer. Red wine contains resveratrol, an Phil Griess R.P. antioxidant found in the skin of red grapes.

Resveratrol is also found in raspberries and peanuts and is also available as a supplement. The study also showed that white wine, hard liquor and beef had no effect on the prostate cancer risk.

President has come and gone!

well it should, I guess. Watching the motorcade back and forth to the airport reminded me of when vice-president Mondale visited Omaha. It was in 1979.

The Nebraska North district of the LWML (Lutheran Women's Missionary League) was hosting the international convention that summer, in Omaha. A gathering of 7 to 8,000 women is quite a task, to house, feed, and keep in the convention center for meetings.

My nurse friend, Virginia Von Seggern, called to say she was in charge of first aid, and she wanted me to head up the first aid station. I responded that I wasn't even a member of LWML. That didn't faze her; she said every woman in the Lutheran church, Missouri Synod, was automatically a member.

Well, she can be very persuasive. And I thought, I may never have another opportunity to attend this convention, maybe I should go. So, like a fool, I said yes. (Not the first time, or the last, that I was a fool to say yes.)

The first thing I learned was convention is hard work and takes a lot of stamina. Some of the little gray haired ladies were not up to the task. And they appeared in the first aid room with regularity. The convention sessions were held at the Civic auditorium downtown and it is a huge place.

Some lucky folks stayed at what was then the Hilton just a couple blocks from it. The rest of us were spread out all over town. (I learned after I checked into my hotel room, was in the red light district.) We took all the rooms in most of the hotels in the entire city, including some way out west on the interstate. The attendees were bussed back and forth in actual school

The president has come to last minute strategic planning. The Minnesota delegation had nificant amount of excitement, as beside herself: the Holiday Inn had just canceled a whole floor of rooms and she was scrambling to find substitutions. Little did we know that this is the policy when someone like the vice president is staying at a hotel. He wasn't even on our radar screen.

By Wednesday morning, I had put in two very long days and had that attending an international not seen much of the convention itself. In fact, I saw a lot of the old Lutheran Hospital emergency room because I was having to take sprains and falls and the like over there in my station wagon. I asked Jan Heller to go with me to get a short break and fill up with gas. We were only gone about 30 min-

I pulled up to one of the men in blue and gasped, "I'm in charge of first aid here; what's going on?" He just smiled and motioned me through. Just then, Mr. Mondale and his entourage of secret service men came out of the auditorium.

end of one of the black vehicles? Well, we had missed the whole thing. My cousin, a nurse who was working in the first aid for me and a devout Democrat, was positively glowing. Another nurse who was volunteering and whose boyfriend was one of the motorcycle cops, told us he had escorted the group from the airport the night before. One of the motorcycles overturned while doing a circle at an intersection, and the ambulance could not stop to help. After all, it could have been a ruse. Another one had to be called. Amazing! And think how much tighter security must be today.

Anyway, I was glad to just watch the show from the comfort of my living room. And I smiled when they said they had taken one whole floor at the new Hilton next to the Quest center. At least there was no convention in town.
