WSC Inaugural celebration to take place

The inauguration of Dr. Richard J. Collings as Wayne State College's 11th president will be held on Friday, April 15, at 3 p.m. in Ramsey Theatre in the Peterson Fine Arts Building on the Wayne State campus. The inauguration theme is "A Celebration of Teaching and Learning."

Gov. Dave Heineman will deliver remarks during the inauguration ceremony.

Other speakers and dignitaries include Dr. David McFarland, president emeritus, Kutztown University of Pennsylvania; Stan Carpenter, executive director, Nebraska State College System; Dr. Marshall Hill, executive director, Coordinating Commission for Postsecondary Education; Dr. Jerry Moskus, president, Metropolitan Community College (representing the Nebraska Community College Association); Lois Shelton, mayor of Wayne; Randy Pedersen, president, Wayne State Foundation Board of

Steve Lewis, chair of the Nebraska State College System Board of Trustees, will preside at the investiture ceremony officially installing Collings.

Immediately following the inauguration ceremony, a reception will be held in the Student Center atrium on the Wayne State campus.

Inaugural festivities will begin on Thursday, April 14, with a concert, "Campus and Community Present: A Musical Celebration," at 7:30 p.m. in Ramsey Theatre in Peterson Fine Arts.

The concert will include vocal and instrumental performances by individuals and ensembles from Wayne State College and the community of Wayne.

A featured performer will be Michael Collings, the son of President and Marilyn Collings, who is a professional jazz guitarist. The concert, inauguration ceremony and reception are all free and open to the public.

Collings took office as president of Wayne State College on June 1, 2004. He served as vice chancellor for academic affairs and professor of political science and public affairs at Western Carolina University in Cullowhee, N.C. from 1996 to 2004.

Prior to that, he served in several positions at Kutztown University of Pennsylvania from 1989 to 1996. From 1979 to 1989, he was at Southeast Missouri State University. A native of Louisville, Ky., Collings earned a master's degree in Latin American studies and a Ph.D. in political science from Tulane University. He received a bachelor of arts degree from the University of Louisville. He and his wife, Marilyn, have three children and two grandsons.

Trial by jury

Fifth grade students from Wayne Middle School learned about the judicial system last week during the annual trial of the Wolf and the Three Pigs which was conducted at the Wayne County Courthouse. The event is organized each year by Sheryl Connolly. She was assisted by Deb Allemann-Dannley, Wayne County Sheriff LeRoy Janssen, Wayne County Attorney Mike Pieper, Deputy County Attorney Chris Connolly and District Court Judge Robert Ensz. Fifth grade students took various roles during the trial, including the judge, jurors, lawyers, defendants and witnesses. Above left, the group poses for a photo behind the judge's bench. Far left, the "Pigs" include, left to right, Jenna Pieper, Keith Hobza and Morgan Centrone. Left, Sheriff Tyler Poehlman and Attorney Marissa Fallesen converse.

Seneviratne talks about her homeland of Liberia

Patricia Seneviratne of Wayne, originally of Liberia, is a high school education outreach coordinator, MACT (Minority in Accordance Coming Together) and ALIFE (African Linking In Friendship Everywhere) advisor at Wayne State College. She recently spoke at the Wayne Rotary Club meeting on her homeland which is similar to the U.S. in many ways including flag colors, form of government and Pledge of Allegiances.

Liberia is on the west coast of Africa. The United States bought the land, which is about the size of Tennessee, for slaves returning from the U.S. Seneviratne's great great grandmother was a slave in America. The people who were taken to Liberia from the U.S. came there as black Americans and some Africans had a problem with that.

The topography of Liberia is flat to rolling hills with farm and pasture land. There are many trees in and around the capitol of Monrovia. Seneviratne notes everyone is treated the same there. They all eat together, look out for each other, help each other, correct each other (including the children). Many grandparents raise their grandchildren. Seneviratne has two of her grandchildren living with her.

Liberia is divided into 13 counties. Seneviratne is from Sinoé. The capitol is in Montserrado county.

It rains for six months and is dry for six months

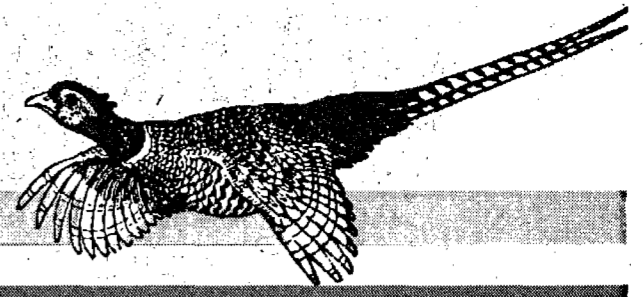

Patricia Seneviratne works in the Multicultural Center at Wayne State College where she is high school education outreach coordinator, MACT and ALIFE advisor.

Relay For Life looking for community involvement

"Generations of Hope" is the theme for the sixth annual Relay For Life to be held Friday - Saturday, June 10-11 at Wayne State College.

The event is scheduled to begin at 7 p.m. on Friday, June 10 with the Survivor Lap and continue throughout the night until 6 a.m. on Saturday, June 11.

Organizers are working on details for the event and are encouraging businesses, organizations and families to become involved in the Relay.

Members of the committee have taken suggestions offered at last year's event and are incorporating as many as possible into the Relay.

"The Seven" musical group from Our Savior Lutheran Church will provide music during the event and a D.J. with karaoke will be part of the program.

This year's theme will be incorporated into music throughout the night with one hour devoted to the 1950's, one to the 1960's and so on through music of today.

Committee members are recruiting cancer survivors to be a part of the Survivor Lap which kicks off the Relay and note that anyone who has been diagnosed with cancer is a survivor, whether that date was very recent or many years ago.

This year's team goal is 24 teams with a goal of collecting $35,000 to be used for cancer research by American Cancer Society.

Among the activities being planned for this year are Silent Auction Baskets which will be created by the teams involved and located throughout the community before the Relay and bids taken the day of the event.

Carnival games will again be part of the Relay, as will the Miss Relay pageant. In addition, more activities are being planned throughout the night.

Those on this year's Relay For Life committee include Lori Butler, chair; Coleen Jeffries, sponsorship; Connie Hall, activities; Lisa Karel, activities; Diane Roebber, treasurer; Denise Mostek, luminaries; Sarah Clausen, survivors; Nancy Johnson, survivors, Clara Osten, publicity, Casey Daehnke, radio; Rynae Reifenrath, team recruitment and Mike Barry, logistics (at Wayne State College).

The next team and committee meeting will be held Tuesday, April 19. The team meeting will be held at 5:30 p.m. with committee members meeting at 6:30. Team registrations are due at that time.

For more information, to register a team or provide the name of a survivor, contact any of the committee members or call 375-5904.

Several recognized at UNO

Several local students have received recognition from the University of Nebraska-Omaha for their efforts during the fall 2004 semester.

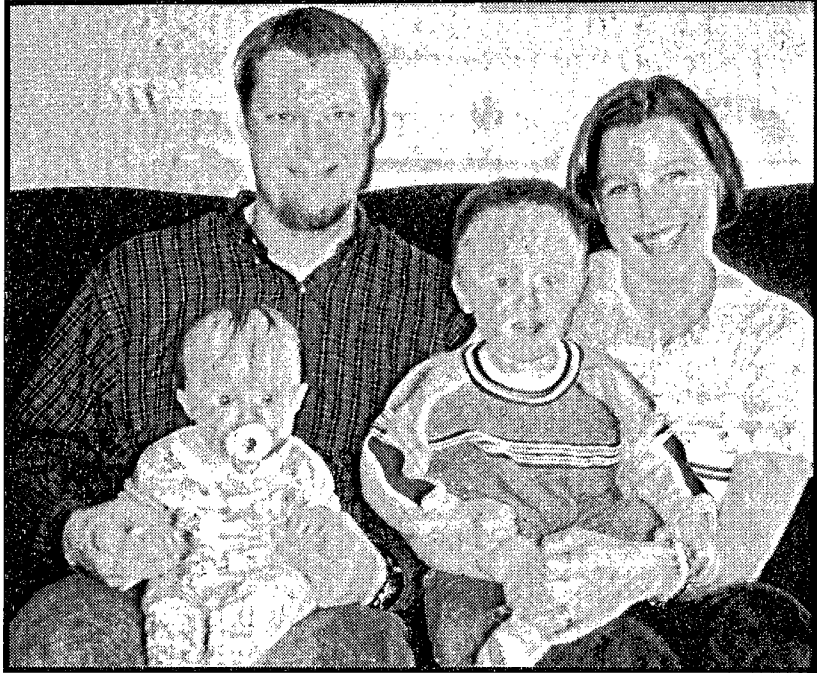

Named to the Chancellor's List and Dean's List were Sarah Brumm, daughter of Mike and Jan Brumm and Mark Finn, son of Alan and Deb Finn, all of Wayne.

Named to the Dean's List were Kenneth Kopperud, son of Keith and Cheryl Kopperud and Jared Yates, son of Reggie and Marilyn Yates, all of Wayne, and Brooks Blohm, son of KimBerly Hansen and step-son of Kelly Hansen, all of Carroll.

To qualify for the Dean's List, students must earn a grade point average (GPA) of 3.5 or better for courses taken at UNO during the semester.

To qualify for the Chancellor's List, students must earn a grade point average (GPA) of 4.0 for courses taken at UNO during the semester, provided 12 or more semester hours were completed. Those named to the Chancellor's List automatically earn a place on the Dean's List.

The McCalla family includes, Ray, Eleanor, Henry and Rachelle.

New minister finds Wayne 'very loving'

The McCalla family has been in Wayne just over a month and in that time has been very impressed with the community.

The Rev. Ray McCalla has assumed duties as pastor of First Presbyterian Church in Wayne and loves his job.

"It is great to be here. Everyone has been really friendly," he noted.

The Clarinda, Iowa native and his wife, Rachelle, who grew up in Norfolk, met while they were at Camp Calvin Crest near Fremont.

Both Ray and Rachelle graduated from the University of Dubuque, Iowa Theological Seminary and are ordained ministers. Ray served as a student pastor in Scales Mound and Apple River, Ill. for two years while Rachelle finished her schooling.

The couple moved to Wayne from Bayfield, Wis. where they served as co-pastors at the Presbyterian Church there.

"This was a small town on Lake Superior and we felt isolated from our families," Rachelle said. "Also, the cost of living there was very high."

Those factors led the couple to look for a church in this area and, when they found out about the opening in Wayne last fall, began the process of applying for the position.

The McCallas have two children,

Henry, 2, and Eleanor, five months.

In his spare time, Ray enjoys spending time with his family and "anything that has to do with music." He has directed choirs in the past and hopes to be able to put his musical talent to use here in Wayne.

Rachelle likes to read and go on walks and "loves the sidewalks in town because where we came from, there were no sidewalks due to the weather."

At the present time Rachelle is staying home with her children and adjusting to life in Wayne, where she is much closer to family members.

"We are definitely happy to be in Wayne. We have so many more young people in our congregation. We love the church which has been very good to us. It is a fun group and very loving," Ray said.

Pastor Ray McCalla will be installed as the pastor of First Presbyterian Church on Sunday, April 10.

The Wayne church is part of Homestead Presbytery and several members of the Presbytery will be a part of the installation ceremony.

An worship service with communion begins at 4 p.m. and will be followed by a light supper.

"This is a celebration for the community and everyone is welcome to attend," Ray said.

Concert to begin Inaugural Celebration at Wayne State

Inauguration festivities for Wayne State College President Richard J. Collings will begin on Thursday, April 14, with a 7:30 p.m. concert in Ramsey Theatre in the Peterson Fine Arts Building on campus.

Entitled, "The Community and College Present: A Musical Celebration," the concert will include performances by individuals and ensembles from Wayne State College and the community of Wayne. It is free and open to the public.

A special guest performer will be jazz guitarist Michael Collings, son of Dr. Collings and his wife, Marilyn. Michael Collings, a graduate of the University of North Carolina-Greensboro with a Bachelor of Music in Jazz Performance, is a professional guitarist who has composed and conducted music for performances and for film scores.

Other performers include Connie Webber and Dr. Stan Gardner, who will each sing a solo as well as team up for a duet; and the Our Savior Quartet, composed of Sheri Lundahl, Madge Bruffat, Dr. Alan Bruffat, and Dr. Jim Lindau, who will sing four selections. Dr. Christopher Bonds and Dr. Linda Christensen of the Wayne State Department of Music will perform a violin and piano duet.

The Wayne State College Wind Ensemble directed by Dr. David Bohnert, as well as two smaller instrumental groups from Wayne State, the Woodwind Ensemble, and the Nostalgic Brass, will also perform. The Wayne State College Madrigal Singers, directed by Dr. Ronald Lofgren, will sing several selections.

Ken and Linda Ma are the new owners of the Magic Wok at 117 W. 3rd Street in Wayne.

New owners take over at Magic Wok April 1

Ken and Linda Ma of Norfolk recently took ownership of Magic Wok, 117 W. 3rd Street, in Wayne.

Ken and Linda were part owners and cooks at the Imperial Palace Express, Sunset Plaza Food Court in Norfolk, for the last 10 years.

The couple plans to keep everything the same except for a little remodeling in the dining area.

"The food was delicious with the previous owner," Ken said. "We plan to stay with the same menu but also add a special one."

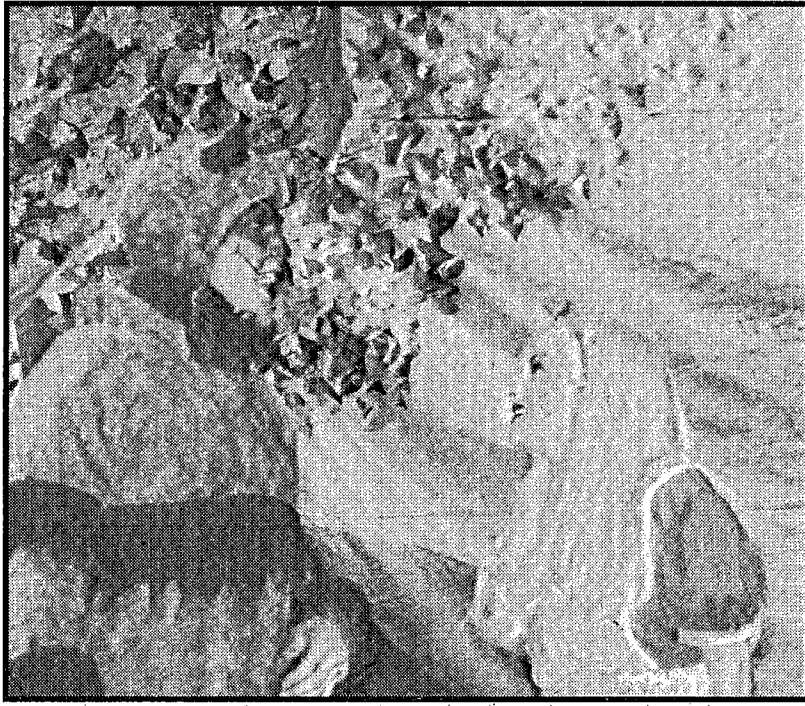

Linda said some of the food on the special menu will include the following chicken entrees: orange, lemon, peanut butter, sesame, sweet mustard, Magic Wok chicken (a little spicy), and sweet and sour chicken (that has a little different sauce made with some special spices and fruit juices), as well as other dishes.

The hours at the Magic Wok are: Monday through Friday, 11 a.m. to 2 p.m., 4-9 p.m.; Saturday, 4-9 p.m., and closed on Sunday.

The couple has moved to Wayne. Their daughter, Wendy, is a seventh grader and their son, Scott, is an 11th grader.

Moving to the U.S. from South Korea in 1988, Ken and Linda Ma offer authentic oriental cooking. Before moving to Norfolk, the couple worked at Imperial Palace restaurants in Omaha, Kansas City, Kan., and San Francisco, Calif. Ken and Linda invite people to stop in, meet them and try their cuisine.

Performances scheduled

Wayne State College Theatre presents "Alice's Adventures in Wonderland" at Ramsey Theatre, WSC campus. Performances for the public are from April 10, 1 and 4 p.m.

Wayne Public Library to celebrate

Wayne Public Library invites everyone to celebrate National Library Week (NLW) during the week of April 10-16.

The 2005 national theme, is "Something for everyone @ your library!" During the week the library will host special children's activities in addition to the Chamber Coffee on Friday, April 15. All who stop in the library are encouraged to enter the NLW drawing for variety of prizes.

A special event this week is the kickoff for the new Friends of the Library organization, a group of volunteers and supporters of Wayne Public Library. The kickoff will be at the Chamber Coffee at 10 a.m. on April 15. This will be the charter year for the group.

National Library Week 2005 marks the fifth year of The Campaign for America's Libraries, a multi-year public education campaign sponsored by the ALA and libraries across the country to speak loudly and clearly about the value of libraries and librarians in the 21st century. More than 20,000 libraries in all 50 states are involved in this celebration.

For more information on services available at the Wayne Public Library, call (402) 375-3135.

Liberia

every year in Liberia. The weather is tropical, hot and humid. The harmattan winds blow from the Sahara Desert from December to March. Crops raised in Liberia include rice, yams, cassava (tapioca), palm oil, kola nuts, sugarcane, rubber, coffee, cocoa, etc. The people eat a lot of fish.

In the village where her grandmother lives everyone has a garden in their backyard. Walking is the main transportation and since everyone knows each other, members of each town announce a visitor's arrival by drum beat. Water and food are ready when the visitor arrives.

Seneviratne said women are dynamic in Liberia as they have marketing skills, selling experience, etc. Women help make decisions but stay in the background.

Life expectancy in Liberia is 46.0 years for men and 48.99 for women.

The schools run from 7 a.m. to 11 p.m. to accommodate parents' work schedules so there's no excuse that a person can't go to school.

English is the official language with a mixture of slangs, etc. so it is hard to understand. There are many ethnic groups, with at least 20 dialects or language in Liberia. Kru is her mother's tribe.

As for religious beliefs, 40 percent are Christian; 40 percent have indigenous beliefs; and 20 percent are Muslim.

There has been a civil war in Liberia for a long time. Diamonds were found there and people fight over the prices of land where they are found. They are in the process of rebuilding and people are beginning to return. Classes are given to help people learn to get along and on money matters, too. There has been poverty in Liberia for a long time; for $100, you can live there for two months.

Seneviratne has citizenship in five countries: Liberia, Sri Lanka (where her husband is from), Ghana, Sierra Leone, and the U.S.

For Seneviratne, it has been a change coming to Wayne. For one thing, our winters are cold and take getting used to. When her sister comes to visit, she doesn't want to go outside.

At the WSC Office of Multicultural Affairs, students and staff gather to celebrate to celebrate diversity. The MACT and ALIFE mission is to work effectively with the campus and broader community to establish respect for diversity.

For more information, call WSC Multicultural Center, 402-375-7749 or 1-800-228-9972, ext. 7749.

TeamMates One-Hour Walk is planned for April 17

TeamMates Mentoring Program is holding its second annual One-Hour Walk, "Making a Difference for Youth" on Sunday, April 17 at 3 p.m. The Wayne Community Activity Center will be the site of this year's walk. (Registration begins at 2:30 p.m.)

Wayne walkers will be joining more than 50 other communities across Nebraska in raising awareness and dollars for their local mentoring program.

TeamMates Mentoring Program matches trained caring adults with youth in the Wayne schools, (mainly in the Middle School but also in the high school). There are more than 40 matches in the Wayne program and dollars are needed for activities, program growth and scholarships.

There are currently 71 communities in Nebraska with TeamMates programs and 2500 mentor/mentee pairs.

Contact Darrell Miller at 375-4770 for information on the One-Hour Walk. Information can also be found at www.teammates.org

Ground breaking

The Wayne Ambassadors were part of the ground breaking ceremony last week for the chapel addition to the WeLCoMe House on the Wayne State College campus. The 1,248 square foot addition will include a basement area as well places for worship, prayer and reflection. Plans call for completion this fall. Additional funding is still being sought.

Country gospel band to perform at The Barn

Joyful Noise, a country gospel band from Neligh, will be performing two concerts on April 17 at the barn east of Wayne. The afternoon concert will begin at 2 p.m., followed by a catered supper at 5, and then an evening concert at 7. There is no admission charge for this concert but an offering will be accepted to help with the ministry expenses of the group.

There is a charge of $7, however, for the catered evening meal and reservations need to be made by calling 402-375-3599 by April 10.

Local, area tracksters shine at L-C Relays

By David W. Carstens
Of the Herald

The Laurel-Concord Relays usually provide one of the area's best mixes of conference powerhouses. This year's meet — held at Laurel-Concord on March 31 — was no exception.

The Wayne High girls team finished first, as Amber Lutt took gold in the high jump (4-8) and the Blue Devil 4 x 100 team (Jean Pieper, Renee Theobald, Amber Lutt and Angie Ahrenholtz) finished with 53.79 for Wayne's other championship.

Wayne High edged Hartington Cedar Catholic 73-67 for the team title, while Allen (56) and Laurel-Concord, finished third and fourth, respectively. Wakefield finished in seventh place.

Wakefield took the boys division with a first-place finish in the 4 x 800 relay consisting of Taylor Peters, Joel Nixon, Eric Bodlack and Andy Hampl.

The Trojans eclipsed Ponca 81-79 to capture the team title, while Laurel-Concord placed fifth, Wayne finished sixth and Allen's boys took ninth place.

Wayne's 4 x 200 (Scott Baier, Josh Fink, Bryan Fink, George Sherry) and 4 x 100 field relay team (Josh Fink, Todd Poehlman, David Gangwish, Jon Pieper) each placed first on the afternoon.

Hill to be named to Sports Hall of Fame in September

A Wayne High senior will be among a select group of honorees at the 11th annual Nebraska High School Sports Hall of Fame ceremony in Lincoln on Sept. 25.

Wayne girls softball pitcher Molly Hill, who will be playing next fall for the University of Nebraska-Lincoln, was one of two recipients in this year's "Great Moments in Nebraska High School Sports" category.

Last fall, Hill posted state records of a 0.00 ERA and 543 strikeouts while leading the Blue Devils to a 34-0 season and the second consecutive state title.

Hill garnered numerous post-season honors and was also a featured athlete in the "Faces in the Crowd" section of Sports Illustrated.

Joining Hill in that division will be the Columbus Scotus volleyball team, which extended its state-record winning streak to 114 matches.

Tickets for the Hall of Fame's induction ceremony at the Lied Center are $20 for adults, $10 for elementary and high school students.

Molly Hill

Pre-school students will be admitted free.

Tickets can be purchased by writing to the Nebraska High School Sports Hall of Fame, % Cornhusker State Games, P.O. Box 82411, Lincoln, Neb. 68501.

Tickets may be purchased by credit card by calling (402) 471-2544 or toll-free in Nebraska, (800) 304-2637.

Ben Mohl signs to play golf at Midland

Even though Wayne High's golf season is just getting started, senior Ben Mohl is already making plans to continue the sport at the college level.

Mohl, the son of Doug and Mary Mohl of Wayne, signed a letter of intent Monday morning to play golf at Midland Lutheran College in Fremont.

His signing ceremony at Wayne High School was attended by Midland men's golf coach Alan Pokorski who said Mohl offered many qualities he's looking for in the Midland golf program.

"He's a great kid and has a great family, plus he has the ability to play college golf," Pokorski said.

Mohl is a captain on this year's team and is a two-time state qualifier.

WSC baseball team 6-0 in last week's contests

The Wayne State Wildcat baseball team stormed back into the national ratings as the nation's No. 20 Division II team after going undefeated through six games last week.

WSC swept Mount Marty in home action on March 31, and added four more wins against Northern Sun foe Winona State at home last weekend.

The Wildcats (19-7, 5-1) are currently tied for first in the conference and were scheduled to travel to Nebraska-Omaha this Wednesday and Southwest Minnesota State on Saturday and Sunday for a crucial four-game series in conference play.

WSC baseball player Russ Emerick was also named the Northern Sun Player of the Week on Monday.

WSC vs. Mount Marty

The Wildcats started the winning streak in a doubleheader sweep of Mount Marty last Thursday.

The Wildcats poured on eight runs in the fifth inning en route to an 11-0 win in the opening game.

Wayne State pitchers: JD Whitmarsh, Steve Walsh and Chris Williams combined on a one-hit shutout and struck out 13 Lancer batters in the process.

Mount Marty transfer Brian Van Driel, led WSC with a double, two singles and three RBIs.

Brandon McDaniel added a pair of singles for the Wildcats, while Kevin Gerken notched a bases-loaded triple for WSC.

The second game saw Russ Emerick finish 4-for-4 with five RBIs at the plate to lead Wayne State to a 13-2 rout of the Lancers.

Emerick connected on a three-run homer in the sixth inning to add to his double and two singles.

Jeff Witthoft helped the Wildcats with a three-run triple and two-run single, while Kyle Hansen and Chris Pedroza each had two hits for WSC.

Starting pitcher Jon Pitts (1-0) recorded the win in the nightcap and allowed only two hits and no runs and struck out two Lancer batters.

WSC vs. Winona State

The Wildcats completed a four-game Northern Sun conference sweep against Winona State on Saturday and Sunday, April 2 and 3.

On Saturday afternoon, the Wildcats downed the Warriors 13-6 in the first game and 7-6 in the nightcap. The wins improved WSC to 5-1 in conference play and 19-7 on the season.

Wayne State racked up six runs in the first inning to take control of the first game early.

Hansen's three-run homer and Van Driel's two-run double were big momentum builders for the Wildcats.

Hansen later added a two-run double and finished the game 2-for-2 with five RBIs for the Wildcats.

Pedroza was 4-for-4 with four singles, while Emerick contributed two hits, including a three-run homer to lead Wayne State's 13-hit attack in the opening game.

WSC pitcher Nick Schumacher (4-1) worked six innings to pick up the win and allowed three runs on seven hits with five strikeouts.

The second game saw Wayne State hold off a late Winona State rally to pick up a 7-6 win.

Wayne State held a comfortable 7-3 lead heading into the seventh inning, but Winona State tallied three runs in the seventh before WSC closing pitcher Dustin Nilius stopped the Warrior rally.

Designated hitter Emerick paced Wayne State in hitting during the second game, going 3-for-3 with a home run, double and single and three RBIs.

Van Driel recorded two singles in three at bats and scored two runs for the Wildcats.

Josh Anderson (5-1) earned the pitching win, working the first five innings.

He allowed three runs on seven hits with four strikeouts, Dustin Nilius picked up his fourth save despite allowing three runs in the seventh inning.

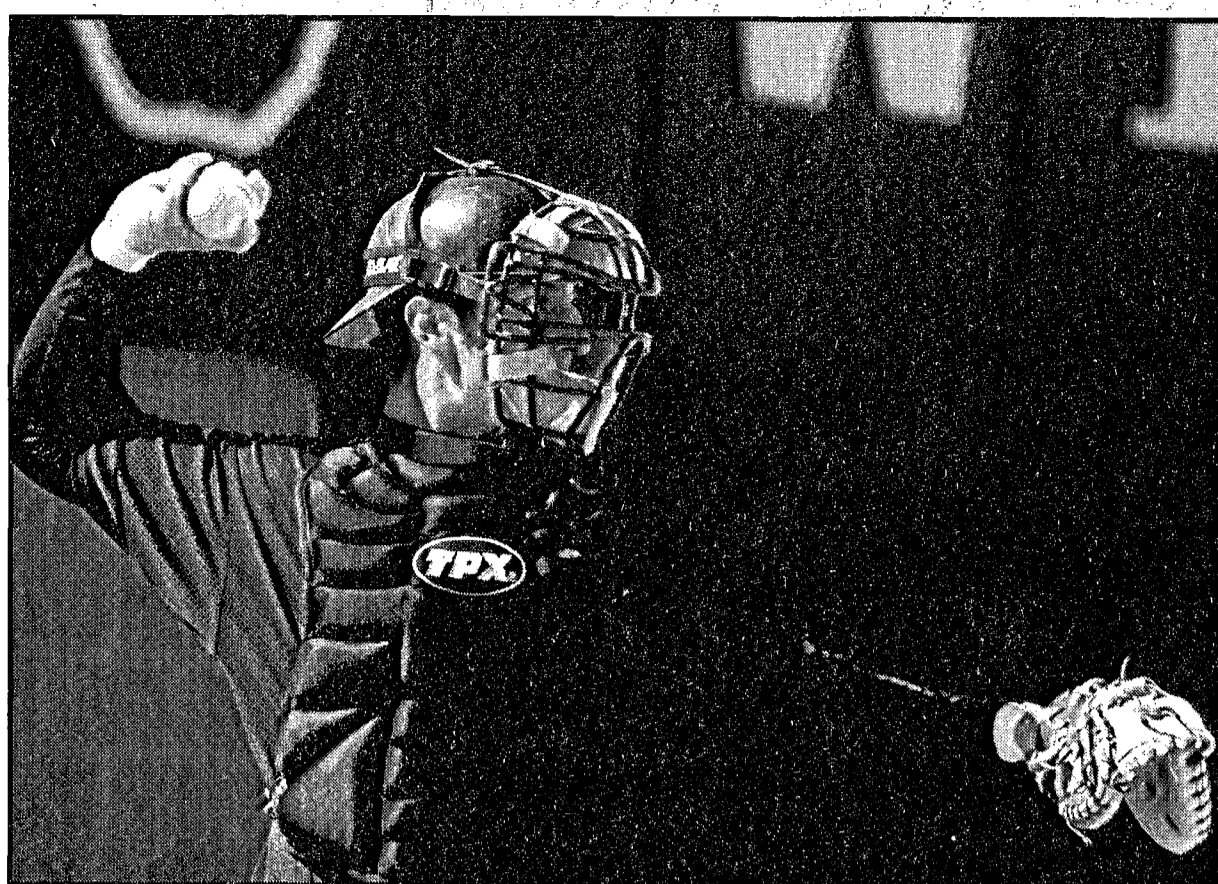

The Wildcats capped the four-game sweep on Sunday afternoon with a 9-7 win in the first game and a big 17-8 in the nightcap.

The Wildcats rallied from a 6-2 deficit in the first game as Hansen produced a grand slam in a five-run fifth inning to help WSC rally for the win.

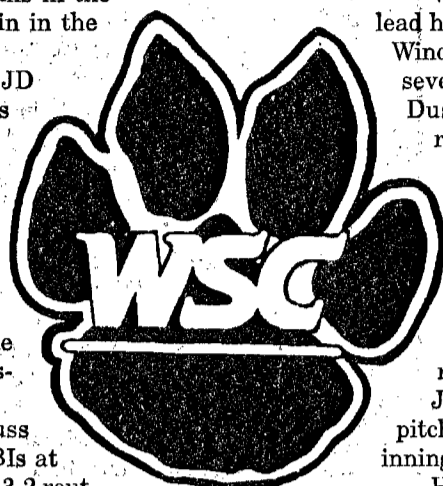

Hansen's homer gave WSC a 7-6 lead, but Winona State tied the game in the top of the sixth inning with one run to make the score 7-7.

In the bottom of the sixth inning, Dustin Jones and Emerick each produced run-scoring singles to give the Wildcats the lead for good.

Mike Sorensen was the only Wayne State player with more than one hit in the first game as he went 2 for 3 and recorded two runs for the Wildcats.

Catcher Chris Pedroza capped his week for Wayne State with four RBIs in Sunday's sweep against Winona State.

Emerick was the winning pitcher in relief for WSC and improved to 5-0 on the season.

He worked one and one-third innings and struck out two Warrior batters.

The second game saw Wayne State pound out 14 hits and take advantage of eight walks by Winona State pitching to pick up the 17-8 win.

Emerick was 3 for 4 with three runs as designated hitter and tallied two RBIs to lead a balanced hitting attack for the Wildcats.

Van Driel was 3 for 3 with three RBIs and three runs scored, while Pedroza was 2 for 3 with four RBIs. Marc Manganaro finished 2 for 4 with three RBIs and Sorensen contributed a pair of hits for the Wildcats.

Pitcher B.J. Wierzbicki worked four and one-third innings to get the win.

WSC's Emerick named Player of the Week

Russ Emerick was honored earlier this week as Northern Sun Conference Player of the Week by the league office.

Emerick, a 6-0, 200-pound senior from Topeka, Kan., hit .722 for the week (13-18) with three home runs, four doubles, 15 RBIs and 10 runs scored for the Wildcats.

He also helped the Wildcats from the mound when he pitched in relief on Saturday to improve to 5-0 on the season.

Emerick worked late in the game and struck out two Winona State batters to preserve the 9-7 win for WSC.

Next action for Wayne State will be Saturday and Sunday, April 9-10, for two doubleheaders against Southwest Minnesota State.

Spring golf starts

The Wayne State College men's golf team placed 11th at the two-day South Dakota Spring Invitational at the Bluffs Golf Course in Vermillion last weekend.

The WSC men shot team scores of 334 both days to finish with a two-day total of 668. St. Cloud State won the meet with a team score of 596.

Kyle Lindstrom and Jason Love posted the top scores for Wayne State, shooting two-day scores of 167. Colin Wilson followed with a 169, while Jared Wetovick finished with a 170 and Brent Hoensing shot 173.

Next action for WSC will be April 15-16 at the Briar Cliff Invitational.

Wayne High hosts annual meet

The Wayne High girls relay teams swept the 4 x 400 and 4 x 100, and Jean Pieper won the 100, while Bryan Fink claimed gold in the 3200 at Tuesday's Blue Devil Invitational.

Wayne also took the first three places in the 800-meter run as Brooke Anderson, Kayla Hochstein and Jordyn Doescher, took first, second and third respectively.

"It's been a while since we've swept an event like the girls did in the 800," Wayne High coach Dale Hochstein said. "Both our girls and guys know what lies ahead and we have to use this month to develop the base to be competitive for districts."

Hochstein also expressed appreciation for the dozens of individuals who made this year's Blue Devil Invitational a successful event.

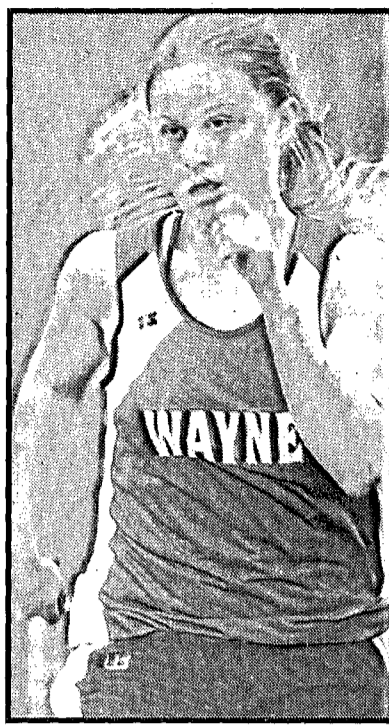

"We had a ton of compliments from other teams coaches who were very appreciative at being able to coach and not have to work the meet," he said.

The Blue Devils travel to Elkhorn next Thursday, April 14, for the Elkhorn Invitational. Meet results from Tuesday's invite were:

WSC rugby teams fall in second round

The WSC men and women's rugby team posted wins last weekend in the first round of the National Playoffs in Dallas, Texas, but fell short of advancing after each team dropped a contest in the second round.

The WSC women pulled off a major upset by defeating Northern Colorado 29-19 in the opening matchup. WSC at one time was ahead 29-7, and held off a ferocious comeback by UNC in the last 5 minutes. Wayne State was later knocked out of the playoffs with a 31-7 loss to Air Force.

The WSC men thumped Angelo State 38-7 in one of the most physical games the Wildcats have ever played, WSC coach Darrin Barner said.

"It's fair to say that the men and women deserve some credit and should crack the top 30 in any polls after last weekend," Barner said.

The men were eliminated from the tournament with a heartbreaking 20-10 loss to Texas Tech in the second round. WSC was only down by 2 points with 3 minutes remaining but good ball control and a long, steady drive in the closing minutes put Texas Tech up for good with a last minute touchdown.

WHS golfers do well in contests

The road has been a familiar place for the Blue Devils this past week as the Wayne High golf team logged trips to Crofton, Beemer and Schuyler.

Two Wayne High golfers claimed back-to-back medalist honors in two different meets at Crofton last Friday and Saturday.

Brian Mohl carded a three-over par with a 38 to claim medalist honors in dual action against the Warriors on Friday, March 31. The Blue Devils took the dual 162-176.

Ben Mohl and John Whitt each carded a 39 to lead WHS' other varsity scores, while John Brady finished with a 46 and Tyler Johnson wrapped up the day with a 51.

Kyle Kwapnioski topped the JV golfers with a 45 as Wayne won the JV meet 189-230.

Other JV scores included: Taylor Nelson, 47, Sam Kurpgewit 48, Taylor Racely, 49 and Jesse Dunklau, 52.

The golfers returned to Crofton on Saturday and participated in a competitive 59-player invite that saw John Whitt claim medalist honors after a three-way playoff.

The playoff enabled the Blue Devils to finish second at the meet.

Whitt carded a 74 and edged Justin Blatchford of Ponca and Eric Huffman of Oakland-Craig in the playoff.

Ben Mohl was Wayne's other top 10 finalist with a 78 to take seventh place.

The Blue Devils were edged by Ponca 318-323 in the final team standings.

Other team scores for Wayne included Brian Mohl with an 85, John Brady, 86 and Kyle Kwapnioski at 110.

On Monday, Wayne traveled to Indian Trails Golf Club near Beemer and placed second behind Wisner-Pilger in a triangular that also included Oakland-Craig.

The Blue Devils tallied 165 team points, while Wisner-Pilger finished with 152.

Wayne was led by Ben Mohl who carded a 37 and was one stroke behind medalist Eric Huffman of Oakland-Craig.

Brian Mohl finished with a 39 and other varsity scores were tallied by Whitt (45), Brady (49) and Johnson (44).

Wayne High won the JV division and individual scores were: Heithold 42, Kwapnioski 42, Derek Schardt 43, Dunklau 44 and Nelson 49.

Ideal conditions greeted the golf team on Tuesday in a dual at Schuyler as WHS improved to 5-1 on the season with a 158-181 win. The JV team also posted a team victory with a 197-219 final team score.

Ben Mohl was two-over par at 38 to finish in second, while other varsity scores were recorded by Brian Mohl 40, Whitt 39, Johnson 45 and Brady 41. Kwapnioski was the JV medalist with 47 and other JV scores included: Heithold 49, Schardt 50, Kurpgewit 51 and Racely 63.

The Nebraska Game and Parks Commission, in cooperation with the Nebraska Department of Education, has partnered with the Wayne Community School to bring the National Archery in the School's Program to local youth. Wayne Community School (host school) received a grant of about $5,000 from the Nebraska Game and Parks and sporting goods companies to get the archery program started in Wayne and surrounding schools.

This exciting new program, developed by the Kentucky Department of Education and the Kentucky Department of Natural Resources, provides a standardized archery curriculum for Physical Education classes that actually exceeds national standards. The program provides training, certification and archery equipment to Nebraska teachers so they may bring quality archery instruction to local youth, grades 4-12.

program is about as well as the interest of the Nebraska Game and Parks Commission.

"This is a national program that is in over 30 states," Wes Sheets, NASP Coordinator said. "The program is in 50 schools in the state of Nebraska and it is great to have it here. Archery gives lifelong skills to young people that they will have the rest of their lives. Even 80-year-olds find it a fun thing to do. Archery adds to the education process for young people and improves attendance at schools." "We are excited to get the program started here," said Lonnie Ehrhardt, instructor at the Middle School. "There are approximately 300 fifth through eighth graders and freshmen at Wayne Community School who are in the program. It is a valuable addition to the curriculum."

If you would like your school to be involved in this new and exciting opportunity, please call Jeff Rawlinson with the Nebraska Game and Parks Commission at 402-471-6133 or Wes Sheets, NASP Coordinator at 402-466-9040.

training as well as a school archery kit containing new developments in equipment technology that will allow students of various capabilities and stature to participate equally in this exciting new program.

Over the next several months, youth at the following schools: Wayne, Winside, Wakefield, Emerson-Hubbard, Laurel-Concord, and Randolph will begin a two week course that will teach students about archery history, technique, skills and discipline that will allow them to participate in many archery related activities for years to come. The motto of this new program, "putting life-long skills in the hand of Nebraska youth..." truly represents what this

Pill Splitting
Not all pills can or should be split. For example, medications that required precise doses, capsules, tablets with enteric coating (a coating that slows the breakdown of the medication in your body) and time release drugs should not be split. Patients are sometimes instructed to take one-half a pill. In this case, it is best to use a special pill splitter. They are inexpensive and our staff will be happy to show you how to use one.

Baier is award winner

The United States Achievement Academy has announced that Scott Baier of Wayne has been named an All-American Scholar.
The USAA has established the All-American Scholar Award Program to offer deserved recognition to superior students who excel in academic disciplines.

Scott Baier
The All-American Scholars must earn a 3.3 or higher, grade point average. Only scholars selected by a school instructor, counselor, or other qualified sponsor are accepted. These scholars are now eligible for other awards given by the USAA.
Scott, who attends Wayne High School, was nominated for this national award by Sylvia Ruhl, an English teacher at the school.
His name will appear in the United States Achievement Academy Official Yearbook, which is published nationally.
"Recognizing and supporting our youth is more important than ever before in America's history! Certainly, United States Achievement Academy winners should be congratulated and appreciated for their dedication to excellence and achievement," said Dr. George Stevens, Executive Director of the United States Achievement Academy.
The Academy selects All-American Scholars upon the exclusive recommendation of teachers, coaches, counselors and other qualified sponsors. Once awarded, the students may be recognized by the USAA for other honors.
Scott is the son of David and Joan Baier of Wayne. His grandparents are Irma Baier of Wayne and LaVerle and Delores Schnoor of Norfolk.

Allen students attend FFA State Convention

On March 30, 12 Allen students went to Lincoln for the 77th Nebraska FFA State Convention. This year's theme was "Be the Difference". They stayed at the Cornhusker. Alissa Koester went to choir practice while the other members attended a session with a hypnotist.
The next day, Erin Stewart and Carla Rastede competed in their Ag. Demo about soil testing. The other students went to a leadership academy where they worked with students from other schools to make a headline about a service project that their FFA chapter could do.
After the leadership academy, Ross Rastede and Samantha Bock went to a delegate meeting where they discussed changes in the FFA Association. After dinner, the Ag. Mechanics team went to East Campus to compete in their competition and the Welding team went to Southeast Community for a welding open house.
During this time, Erin Stewart and Carla Rastede went to the second leadership academy where two state officers gave their retiring address. That night all 12 students walked to Pershing to attend the third session. At this session Governor Dave Heineman gave a few words of encouragement and later, keynote speaker Keith Hawkins, spoke about who one really is when no one is looking.
On Friday the Welding team traveled to Southeast Community College to compete in their welding competition. The other students went to the fourth session where they heard from Senator Smith and listened to more state officers retiring address. Then, the delegates attended their final meeting. At this meeting they were able to make motions for new ideas and were allowed to vote on them.

David Rastede received third place and a purple ribbon for structural systems in the Ag. Mechanics. Brandon Sands received a white ribbon for environmental and natural resources systems and Cory Gotch placed with a red ribbon in arc welding.
Later that night, they went to Pershing Auditorium for the last session where they heard from Senator Tom Osborn. David Rastede and Brandon Sands received their State Degrees and Carla Rastede and Erin Stewart received their bronze plaque for their Ag. Demo. Alissa Koester also sang in the choir for this session.
The third quarter honor roll for the 2004-2005 school year has been released at Wayne Middle School.
The honor roll is based on students' grades in the four core class, English, math, science and social studies.
Eighth graders named to the second quarter list include:

Students present research projects at GNSEF

Six Wayne Middle School students presented their science research projects at the 39th Annual Greater Nebraska Science and Engineering Fair (GNSEF), held in Nebraska City April 2-3, 2005.

Zachary Wacker

GNSEF is a regional science fair for the Intel International Science and Engineering Fair. The Greater Nebraska region includes much of the eastern portion of Nebraska.

Ashley Sukup

Twenty-six students participated in the junior division (grades 6-8) and 33 students participated in the senior division (grades 9-12). Based on the quality of their research category medals, specialty awards, top 10 division awards, and first, second, and third place division awards were presented to students.

National Work-Zone Safety Awareness Week observed

The week of April 3-9 is National Work-Zone Safety Awareness Week, an effort to heighten public awareness of work-zone safety, for the driver as well as the highway worker.

Nebraska Governor Dave Heineman signed a proclamation designating the week as Nebraska Highway Work-Zone Safety Awareness Week.

The Nebraska Department of Roads and their transportation partners, the United States Department of Transportation/Federal Highway Administration (FHWA), the Nebraska State Patrol, and the Associated General Contractors of Nebraska are dedicated to enhancing work-zone safety for both the worker and the traveling public. They believe that increased worker training and enhanced awareness on the part of motorists and highway workers will lead to a reduction of fatalities and injuries for both.

This year's national focus is on enforcement.

On average there is a work zone for every 50 miles traveled on U.S. roads. More than 1,000 people were killed and more than 40,000 injured nationwide in construction work zones in 2003. Nine of those deaths were in Nebraska.

The key reason for most work-zone crashes continues to be drivers' failure to pay attention, according to law enforcement officers' reports. Drivers often contribute to construction-zone accidents by speeding, running off the road or crossing into the wrong lane.

More motorists are injured in work-zone crashes than highway workers.

Therefore, drivers need to stay alert when driving near highway construction sites any time of day. Drivers should observe lower speed limits, heed posted warning signs and be alert for variations of the roadway in work zones. Drivers and their passengers are urged to wear seat belts at all times.

Motorists are also reminded to avoid distractions while driving, including the use of cell phones. The importance of law enforcement in monitoring highway work zones will be stressed with increased staff at the Nebraska State Patrol this year.

It is important to remember that highway work zones are much more than a temporary inconvenience. Work zones are essential to building safer, smoother, improved roads that may ultimately save lives. Remember: when you're in the driver's seat, you make the difference. Drive safely in work zones.

Students are 'Young Authors'

The annual Young Authors competition was held recently at Wayne Elementary School.

The top two authors this year were second grader, Madison Frevert and fourth grader Emily Leeper.

They win a trip to the Young Author Festival at WSC this weekend, April 8-10 where they will meet authors and illustrators.

Featured author is Julie Cxerneda. Workshop sessions will be held for both students and parents. Their works will be published in combination with other winners attending the conference grades K-12.

This is the 14th annual Young

Author Festival sponsored by the Northeast Nebraska Reading Council. This is the first year it is being held in conjunction with the WSC Science Fiction Fair called WillyCon.

Runner up writers from Wayne Elementary include:

St. James Marketplace to host open house

St. James is back on the Nebraska road map thanks to the ladies of St. James Marketplace. Don't miss this opportunity to see them in Plainview. The five founding members of the St. James Marketplace will be in Plainview at the Northeast Nebraska RC&D office on Saturday, April 16 from 10 a.m. to 3 p.m. for a unique shopping experience.

The ladies here for the open house selling their clever crafts and food items, will include Violet Pinkelman's handcrafted wood carvings; Mary Rose Pinkelman's jams and jellies; Vicky Koch's greeting cards and prints; Jeanette Pinkelman's cinnamon rolls and popcorn; Louise Guy's Wiseman History Book and cheesecake; along with a variety of baked goods, wheat bread, fruit pies, kolaches, sweet rolls and other goodies.

You probably have read about this group in local newspapers and seen them on TV. Now is your chance to see them up close and personal by stopping by on April 16 to see their handwork.

The Northeast RC&D office is located at 702 East Park Avenue in Plainview on east Highway 20 and is open during the week Monday through Friday 8 a.m. to 4:30 p.m.

Professor to visit WSC

The School of Arts and Humanities at Wayne State College and the WSC Service-Learning Consortium are sponsoring an upcoming visit by author Em Griffin on April 11. Griffin currently is a professor at Wheaton College (Ill.), where he has taught since 1970.

Griffin has authored four books on communication, including the textbook entitled "A First Look at Communication Theory" published by McGraw-Hill. Hosted by Department of Communication Arts chair Dr. Deborah Whitt, Griffin will have time to visit with students and give a public presentation, "Communication Theory Through the Lens of Feature Films."

The public presentation will take place from 1-4 p.m. in the Gardner Auditorium on the Wayne State campus. For further information please contact the WSC Department of Communication Arts at 375-7395 or Whitt at 375-7352.

Activities are held on WSC campus

High School students took part in a French tradition for April Fool's Day, "Poisson D'avril" (April fish). Wayne State College students guided students to create colorful decorated paper fish to hang on a friend's back during the Wayne State College Modern Language Day event on April Fool's Day, April 1 in the Student Center on campus.

Approximately 350 students participated in a variety of activities originating from the customs and languages of other countries including dancing and games.

April Fool's Day may be traced back to 1582 in France. Prior to that year, the new year was celebrated for eight days, beginning on March 25. The celebration culminated on April 1. With the reform of the calendar under Charles IX, the Gregorian Calendar was introduced, and New Year's Day was moved to January 1.

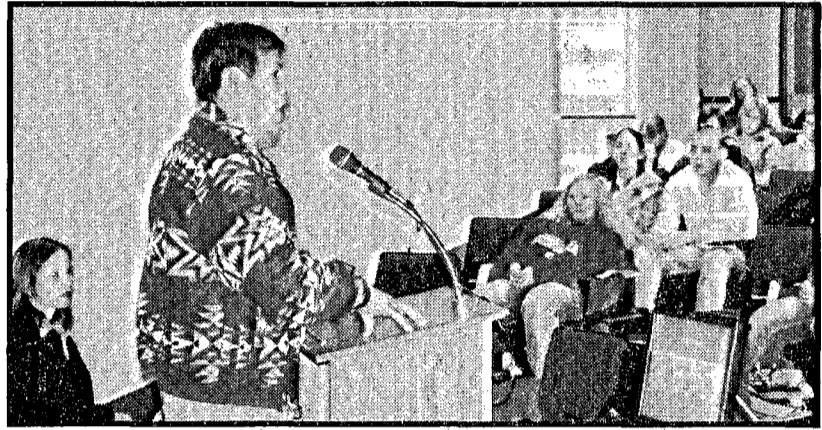

This harassment evolved into a tradition of prank-playing on the first day of April. The tradition spread to England and Scotland in the eighteenth century and later to the American colonies. The custom of playing practical jokes on April Fool's Day is also very widespread and of uncertain origins. The victim of a joke is known in English as an "April Fool" and in France as a "poisson d'avril" translated as "April fish." Children fool their friends by taping a paper fish to their friends' backs and when discovered the child cries "Poisson D'avril" (April fish).

custom of creating decorated fish to display on another French person's back include:
 • April is a time when no fishing is permitted due to reproduction of the fish. As a joke to the fishermen, people threw herrings into the river.
 • Those who are tricked are called poisson d'Avril (fish of April) because April fish are freshly hatched and inexperienced - and therefore easy to catch.

 • Others say "fish of April" is because the beginning of April corresponds to the end of the Lent among Christians. Lent is one period of abstinence during which one does not eat meat. The meat is often replaced by fish.
 Wayne State associate professor of French, Janet Schmitz said she includes the "April fish" activity each year with her students.

Seminar on Native American Sovereignty held at WSC

Danelle Smith and John Blackhawk addressed an audience at Wayne State College during a seminar on Native American Sovereignty and Economic Development in Nebraska on March 31.

Communication in 1582 meant news traveled by foot. Many people did not receive the news for years. Others refused to accept the new calendar and continued to celebrate the new year on April 1 and were labeled as "fools" by the general public. They were subject to ridicule and often sent on "fools errands" or included in other practical jokes.

Co-sponsored by the American Democracy Project at Wayne State College, the University of Nebraska Public Policy Center, and the Wayne State Multicultural Center, the seminar included information on sovereignty and economic development issues including the high-profile controversies in Nebraska over gaming and jurisdiction. Seminar participants discussed a basic overview of the legal and policy structure surrounding Native American sovereignty and economic development in Nebraska, and will feature a panel of representatives from tribal and state government, as well as private business.

Wayne State performers to present Musica Antiqua et Nova concert

Wayne State College will present Musica Antiqua et Nova in Ley Theatre, located in the Brandenburg Education Building, on campus, Tuesday, April 12 at 7:30 p.m. There is no admission charge. The public is welcome to attend.

learn how to sing, some teachers assigned different shapes for different notes of the scale: square, diamond, oval, etc.

The Madrigal Singers will begin the program with selections by two famous English madrigal composers, Thomas Morley and Thomas Weelkes.
 Another selection will be "Mein G'müth ist mir verwirret," a five-part German song by Hans Leo Hassler that was later changed into what is commonly called the Passion Chorale.
 "Jerusalem" comes from a singing tradition in the United States called "shaped-note" singing. In order to help people

Also called "fa-so-la" singing, groups would meet for a "sing" and sit in a square formation singing to each other. This tradition has given the modern church many stirring melodies.
 "Cantique de Jean Racine" is a piece of music from one of the 20th-century French masters, Gabriel Faure.
 The performance will conclude on a light note with the "Banquet Fugue" by late 20th-century composer John Rutter. The "Banquet Fugue" is taken from a larger work, "The Reluctant Dragon."

Wayne Fire Department recognized

The Wayne Volunteer Fire Department was recently recognized by the Nebraska Forest Service for their fire prevention work for the year 2004.
 Fire prevention is an ongoing year round activity including Junior Fire Patrol, tours of the Fire Hall by preschool through second grade students during Fire Prevention Week, newspaper articles, tips in the church newsletters, senior citizen center newsletters, Wayne TV, City Page, Smokey Bear Visits, coloring books and colors at Providence Medical Center for children who must stay overnight, and occasional radio spots.

 Firefighters are available to talk about fire prevention to civic organizations and/or clubs at their meetings. The fire department also has a quite extensive library of video tapes available.
 The Forest Service provides cards to be sent to them each month with the potential of people reached and the hours spent on fire prevention. The total for the Wayne Department amounted to approximately 22,000 people and 118 hours spent on fire prevention for the year of 2004.

Rural Nebraska faces challenges

If you were asked to name the most important challenge facing rural communities in 2005, what would you consider? Many would say the need to keep the schools in our communities strong and to have them well funded and fully staffed.

That is certainly an important issue. Some of you might reply that the biggest concern is economic development in our communities. In order to keep strong communities, we must maintain our current business and industry base and continually try to attract more businesses, small or large, to the area. Still others might mention health care costs or availability, or perhaps poverty. But have you considered methamphetamine as one of Nebraska's greatest challenges? Congressman Tom Osborne has. In fact, he is so concerned about the meth problem that he has created a system to get meth information out to every community in Nebraska.

Jane Armstrong
Cedar County

The problem of methamphetamine is a growing epidemic which impacts families, public health, the environment and rural economic development. Do you know the history of the development of meth? Did you know that Nebraska is part of the midwest high intensity drug trafficking area? Can you identify risk factors leading to addiction? Do you know what happens to the human body when meth is used? Do you know how to tell if there is a meth lab in your area? Can you list the costs of meth use on the state of Nebraska? Dr. Osborne thinks you should know. He has formed a group of professionals to help gather and distribute information and it is available to you as an individual or as a member of a group or organization. Please contact your county's office of the University of Nebraska Cooperative Extension Service to receive the newest information about meth. Information pamphlets and materials for discussion groups are available along with CDs for your PC. Group presentations are also available for your local community organization, workplace or school. You will learn the answers to all the questions listed above and will also learn strategies you can use as an individual or with a group effort towards fighting meth use.

Please make the decision to share Congressman Osborne's concern with meth in our state. You can help prevent a friend or family member from suffering from the physical effects of meth use: kidney and lung disorders, brain damage, depression, hallucinations, paranoid-schizophrenia, open sores, liver damage, heart attacks, stroke and possibly death. Help prevent the child abuse and neglect that accompanies meth use by parents. Help curb the crime that accompanies meth use: mail theft, forgery, credit card fraud, identify theft, shoplifting and assault. Join with others in your community to spread the word about meth and to prevent it in your community. Tom Osborne is concerned and we need to share that concern. Please contact your Cooperative Extension Service to receive the information you need to help combat one of the greatest challenges to our rural communities.

In Wayne County, call 402-375-8310. Dixon County residents may call 402-584-2234. In Cedar County, the number is 402-254-6821 and in Thurston County, 402-846-5656.

Card shower planned for Evelyn Frevert

A card shower has been requested for Evelyn Frevert in honor of her 95th birthday, which is Thursday, April 14. Evelyn Gilster was born April 14, 1910 at Pender. She married Herbert Frevert and the couple farmed south of Wayne until retiring to Wayne. Her husband is deceased.

Cards may be sent to her at Premier Estates, 811 East 14th Street, Wayne, Neb. 68787.

Engagements — Carroll Women's Club holds Easter breakfast

Murray - Touchberry

Mariah Lynn Murray and Marshall Ray Touchberry, both of Wayne, are planning a May 28, 2005 wedding at the Wayne Rugby Complex.

The bride-to-be is the daughter of Don and Lori Murray of Neligh. She is a 1998 graduate of Neligh-Oakdale High School and a 2003 graduate of Wayne State College where she was a member of the Wayne State Rugby Club. She is currently a graduate student and employed at Riley's and K-D Inn.

Her fiancé is the son of Sharon Moore of Storm Lake, Iowa and Kenneth Zumo of Baton Rouge, La. He is a 2000 graduate of Storm Lake High School and will graduate from Wayne State College in May of 2005. He is a member of the Wayne State Rugby Club and the 185th Air Refueling Wing. He is presently a full time student.

The Carroll Women's Club held March 10 for the annual Easter Breakfast at the Carroll Fire Hall. Committee members in charge of the breakfast were Doris Harmer, Jackie Owens and Beverly Hansen. An Easter theme was used.

Easter songs were sung. Roll call was answered with 19 members present. Each wore an Easter bonnet and told about it. Ruth Paulsen won the prize for her Easter bonnet.

Each member received the daffodils they had ordered from the American Cancer Society.

Sharon Olson gave the program on Easter. The next meeting will be Thursday, April 14 at 2 p.m.

Marie Hingst

Marie Hingst to note birthday

An open house is being planned to honor Marie Hingst on her 90th birthday.

The event will be held Sunday, April 10 from 2 to 4 p.m. at St. Paul's Lutheran Church in Emerson.

Hosting the celebration will be her family, Marlan and Judy Hingst of Emerson, Rollan and Dorothy Hingst of Wakefield, Lelan and Judy Hingst of Emerson, Verlan and Vicky Hingst of Allen, Dennis and Ida Hingst of Holdrege, Reta and Jim Bodwell of Pilger, Diane and Dave Jensen of Stanton and Carolyn and Dean Sievers of Holdrege. She also has 32 grandchildren and 69 great-grandchildren.

Cards may be sent to the honoree at P.O. Box 219, Emerson, Neb. 68733.

Mayor Wm. Orr Releases Valve That Starts Gas Service.
Natural gas made its official bow to Wayne on Friday, Nov. 13, at 11:45 a.m., when Mayor Wm. Orr opened a valve releasing the new fuel into Wayne's distribution system.
Wayne, for the first time in the community's history, will be served by gas and can offer to its citizens a service equal to that of any of the large cities.
Councilman J. G. W. Lewis, speaking for the city council, told about 40 Wayne business men assembled for the gas line opening that the city would expect the gas company to deliver maximum service at a minimum fair profit. On behalf of the city, he welcomed the gas company to Wayne and said that the city council hoped the relation between city and gas company would be mutually pleasant.
R. J. Reynolds, district superintendent of the People's Natural Gas company, expressed his organization's eagerness to serve the community, their gratitude for the way in which Wayne has co-operated and the company's realization of the responsibility.
The gas supply comes to Wayne through a six-inch line taken from the large 16-inch line of the Northern Natural Gas company, serving Sioux City, Iowa, about 25 miles to the east, and will be distributed locally by a division of the pipe line company, the People's Natural Gas company, now serving a large number of Nebraska communities.

Close the gap, donate life

Gaps in social security, health-care and education are not the only ones that are ever-widening. The organ donation gap has been steadily increasing and the national transplant waiting list has climbed from 83,000 to 87,000 in the past year. While you may not be able to pen legislation to close societal gaps, you can help shrink the organ donation gap by simply signing your name on the back of your driver's license.

According to the National Kidney Foundation of Nebraska, 17 people die each day while waiting for a life-saving transplant. One of those people could be your neighbor, your co-worker or even a loved one. April is Donate Life Month and the National Kidney Foundation of Nebraska is asking every American to consider organ donation.

"If everyone who could donate actually did, we'd drastically reduce the organ transplant waiting list," says Tim Neal, National Kidney Foundation of Nebraska CEO. "Donate Life Month is the perfect time for people to get the facts about organ donation. One donor can save or enhance up to 50 lives and transplant success rates are better than ever. It is now possible for live donors to give the gift of life through kidney and partial liver or lung donation," continues Neal.

According to the foundation, all major religions support organ donation, and there is no cost to the donor's family. "If you're signing up to become an organ donor, be sure to tell your family of this decision since family consent is necessary at the time of donation, in most states," Neal said. For a free donor card and brochure answering the most commonly-asked questions about organ donation, contact the National Kidney Foundation of Nebraska at 572-3180 or Nebraska toll-free (800) 642-1255. Visit www.kidneyne.org for additional information on organ donation.

Local student receives WSC scholarship

Crystal Jaeger of Winside has been awarded a Cecil H. Wriedt Memorial Scholarship valued at $250 to continue her education at Wayne State College in Wayne. Jaeger, the daughter of Ernie and Dianne Jaeger, is a graduate of Winside High School in 2002. The recipient is a junior at WSC majoring in Family & Consumer Science. Her activities at WSC include: member of Alpha Lambda Delta and member of the National Head Start Association.

Help is available for sexual assault

April is Sexual Assault Awareness Month and Haven House in Wayne would like to take this opportunity to remind the community that they offer free support services to victims of sexual assault and their family members. Help is available statewide; just call 1-800-876-6238, 24 hours a day. Healing from sexual assault can take a long time. You don't have to do it alone.

The effects of sexual assault can last for a long time after the physical assault. Survivors often feel fear, grief, disbelief, depression, anger, and a loss of control over their lives for years. This may be reflected by eating disorders, nightmares, stress-related illnesses, addictions to drugs or alcohol, drastic changes in lifestyle, and even suicide.

If you know of someone who has been a victim of sexual assault or if sexual assault is more than a statistic to you, please call 1-800-876-6238 (statewide) 24 hours a day. They understand the pain, and are there to help.

Early season control of winter annuals necessary

Many fields are turning green from early weed growth and that needs to be taken care of especially in those reduced tillage fields. As the air temperature remains above 50 degrees, herbicides used to control the early flush of weeds will do a good job of control. Most of the early weeds seen this time of year are the winter annuals that sprouted last fall and have overwintered. These weeds will grow early in the spring, set seed and complete their life cycle by early May for some of the annuals. It is important to get the early weeds under control as these weeds can compete with the crop early in the season and research has shown that the early growth of weeds can affect yield in a significant fashion.

Del Hemsath
Extension Educator

Not only do the weeds compete for water, they also compete for the nutrients that the young crop plants need to get off to a quick start. In addition, the weeds produce a seed bank for the following year.

Once the crop is large enough, it will compete with the later emerging weeds and other options for weed control would be available. Contact or translocated type of herbicides can be used for the early season weed control. One can use a glyphosate based chemical to get the broadleaf and grassy weeds that are causing a problem. Hopefully, the weeds are concentrated in patches or areas so the entire field does not need treatment.

Pre-emergent chemicals can also be used in the fall if an area of the field has an extreme weed infestation. The fall treatment will prevent the seeds from sprouting in the fall and this will end the life cycle.

Control those weeds early and get the most from your planted crop. Use proper integrated pest management to address all of your pest problems.

Nebraska Poultry Industries announces awards, officers

Nebraska Poultry Industries announced its annual awards and new officers this month.

Kenneth W. Gleaves of Gibbon and William J. Claybaugh of Carroll were honored as the 2005 Nebraska Poultry Industries Persons of the Year.

Gleaves, who represents the third generation in his family to be in the poultry industry, managed several poultry operations before returning to central Nebraska in 1985 to become general manager of the Nebraska Turkey Ranch. Gleaves also is general manager of Shinn Turkeys II, Shinn Turkeys III and Shinn Turkeys Feed Division, with main office in Gibbon.

Gleaves also is director and secretary-treasurer of Nebraska Turkey Growers, director and vice president of Norbest Inc. and incoming president of the Nebraska Turkey Federation and Nebraska Poultry Industries. Claybaugh, a fifth-generation farmer in Wayne County, has had a varied career, ranging from managing a 100-head cow herd in Iowa to being an artificial insemination technician calving cows in Illinois to DeKalb Research, where he performed many duties. He is involved in his family operations, TWJ Farms, which has registered polled Hereford cattle; Nebraska Eggs Limited, with 470,000 laying hens, producing 9 million dozen eggs and farming 1,900 acres of corn and soybeans; TWJ Feeds Inc., which produces 36,000 tons of poultry, hog, beef cattle, dairy cattle and sheep feed a year; and Carroll Trucking Limited, which provides trucking for the other entities.

Claybaugh has been instrumental in the success of Wayne Chicken Days, an annual event that now draws 10,000 people. He also provides equipment and assistance in annual benefits featuring omelets for eight nearby towns and instigated omelet feeds for three Hereford shows in the region. Claybaugh has been alternate director on the Nebraska Poultry Industries board, president of Nebraska Poultry Industries, president of the Nebraska Egg Council and, currently, board member of the Midwest Poultry Foundation.

Nebraska Poultry Industries' 2005 scholarship winners and their home towns or countries are: Ruth Keller Memorial Scholarship: Kody M. Sok, Lincoln. Muschel Graduate Animal Science Scholarship: David Monsalve, Venezuela; Hiroko Taira, Japan.

Muschel Undergraduate Animal Science Scholarship: Alyse C. Aerts, Malcolm; Amber L. Holl, Kenesaw; Valerie D. Lefler, Lincoln; Lisa A. Kotas, Wilber; Craig S. Marsh, Hartington; Amy

L. Martin, Lexington; Sara E. Morrissey, Lincoln; Philip C. Mueller, Hopper; Michelle M. Pavelka, Bladen; Kurt D. Petersen, Burwell; Garrett V. Pommeranz, Waterville, Minn.; Kody M. Sok, Lincoln.

World of the 'geeks' is strange

We are hoping for rain today, to get the new grass seeding going. I see it's just lying on the ground where it's been thrown. The sun and wind on Monday combined to make a great day for putting sheets and blankets on the clothes line. They were dry in an hour or two.

Apparently, the last Star Wars prequel is coming out soon. The World Herald had an article last week about the "geeks" who are gearing up for the first midnight showing. As usual, I read about these folks with absolute amazement.

Some have Hollywood-style costumes, costing around $2,000. Others have closets of the toys and souvenirs. They march in parades, have fan clubs, and generally toast all things related to the industry.

I remember exactly when the original Star Wars movie came to Norfolk. This was one of the Big Farmer wanted to see. This was the one and only time he took all four kids to the theater by himself. (As you can imagine, Mama Bear did this more than once.) And when they got home, Jon said, "You were right, Mom. You would not have enjoyed it."

I still have never seen that movie, or any of the ones that followed. I did catch a few episodes of the television series, and I know who Spock is! He's the one with the strange ears, right? And I figured out Darth Vader, Luke Skywalker, Princess Leia(?), and a strange robot called C3PO, or something like that. But that's as far as I go.

By: Pat Meierhenry

I like reality! I don't understand the attraction. Now, everyone is into the Rings Trilogy. Again, there are fan clubs for Tolkien. And I'm reading that "The Lion, The Witch, and The Wardrobe" is being filmed now. I have no problem with you people who read these, and anxiously await the films. I just don't plan to join you. I'm not a geek!

And it has to be something stupendous to make me camp outside a movie theater in order to watch a film at midnight. In fact, I cannot even imagine what would make me do that. I think I saw too many midnights at the hospital, and had too many nights when I was going to homes with dying patients in them. I made up my mind that when I got out of that mode, I was never going back.

So, enjoy the movies, and the paraphernalia; just don't expect me to join you. If ever I do run into a real-life person who says "beam me up", I'll be the first to let you know!

Livestock Market Report

Boars — $16 to $36.

Lady beetles are on the move

Sitting in church the other day and watching the Asian lady beetles walking in the window sill I was thinking they must want to be outside playing as much as I do.

Lady beetles are on the move and they want out of your house probably as bad as you want them out. The spring weather kind of does that to us, urging us outside to work and play in the yard. The trouble with those pesky lady beetles is their inability to find their way out the same way they came in. But lack of an internal GPS device for your house is no reason to hate these little pests.

This lady beetle invasion actually came last fall and the beetles are reappearing to find their way back outside. With warm weather, they have become active and they are moving indoors instead of outdoors because it's warmer. While they may be a nuisance in the home, and can even bite, they are harmless and their bite is harmless too.

Lady beetles will not breed or remain in the home. Once the weather is warmer, they will disperse outdoors and we will stop seeing them indoors. Outdoors, they are beneficial as they feed on a major crop pest, soybean aphids.

If you have many lady beetles in your home now, vacuum or sweep to control them. Applying insecticides indoors as sprays or foggers are not effective. To keep them out of the home next year, caulk cracks, crevices, around conduits and windows, and keep screens in good repair.

Another pest that you see in your home this time of year is also an outdoor pest who's lost its way. If there are tiny red dots moving on your window sills, these are likely clover mites. Clover mites look like dark specks crawling on windows, drapes, curtains and furniture. Clover mites do not damage the home or furniture, or bite people or pets. They can leave a stain on fabric if crushed. For clover mites found indoors, use a vacuum or moist paper towel to remove the mites. Avoid smearing them, as they will stain.

For clover mites found crawling on the outside of the home, hose them down to reduce their numbers. Clover mites over-wintered beneath the home's siding and around windows. Eventually, usually in a few weeks time, they disappear as they move back into the lawn. To reduce the number of mites over-wintering in your home next winter, keep grasses and weeds away from the home's foundation and plant flowers or other plants, such as junipers, that are not as attractive to clover mites.

John Hay can be contacted at (402) 329-4821 or e-mail at jhay2@unl.edu

Program sign up underway

Farmers and ranchers rarely have a lot of free time on their hands, but when it comes time for spring field work, they have even less. That's why Brian Wolford, State Executive Director of the Nebraska Farm Service Agency, encourages them to visit their local FSA county office and sign up for the 2005 Direct and Counter-cyclical Program now.

"The final date to sign up is June 1," said Wolford, "but waiting to the last minute can cause a back log at the county office. We would rather see producers come in now or make an appointment for a time when we can go over the paperwork and sign the contract without rushing."

Completing the DCP contract process for 2005 is not overly complicated, according to Wolford, but it does involve some decision making and providing supporting documentation.

For example, producers must decide how payment shares will be designated under the new contract. Designating payment shares means that all of the producers involved on a farm must agree in writing how program payments are to be divided among themselves. All producers must sign the contract by June 1 of each year.

Producers must also elect whether to receive advance direct and counter-cyclical payments. "DCP contracts run by fiscal year," said Wolford. "The 2005 contract runs from Oct. 1, 2004 through Sept. 30, 2005." Producers can elect to receive an advance direct payment in December and the balance the following October. Producers who do not elect to receive an advance direct payment receive the entire payment the following October. To date, Nebraska producers have received $76 million in advance direct payments.

Supporting documentation is also required and must be submitted at the county office before any payments can be issued. Supporting documentation includes:

CCC-502, Farm Operating Plan: The operating plan is used to decide the producer's eligibility to receive payments. The agency reviews the plan to find the producer's contributions of capital, land, equipment, labor, and management to the operation of the farm.

AD-1026 Highly Erodible Land Conservation and Wetland Conservation. Certification: To be eligible for payments, producers must certify that they are in compliance with the agency's conservation requirements.

CCC-526 Payment Eligibility adjusted Gross Income Certification: Under the 2002 Farm Bill, individuals or entities are not eligible for program benefits if the three-year average of their adjusted gross income, or AGI, exceeds $2.5 million and less than 75 percent of the average AGI is derived from farming, ranching, or forestry operations.

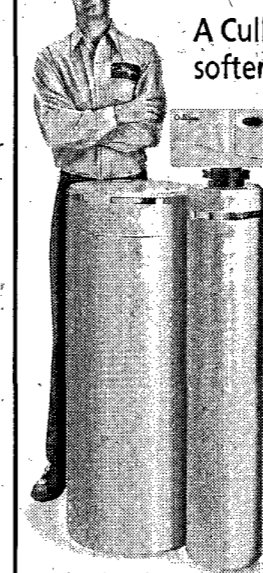

Counter-cyclical payments are made if the effective price for a commodity is below its target price, which is set by the 2002 Farm Bill. "Producers may elect to receive up to three counter-cyclical payments per year," Wolford said.

If producers miss the June 1 deadline to sign their 2005 DCP contract, there is still hope; however, it comes at a price.

"We can accept contracts after June 1 and before Sept. 30," Wolford said, "but producers will be charged a $100 late filing fee."

BLUE RIBBON WINNERS 4-H CLUB

The March meeting of the Blue Ribbon Winners 4-H Club was held March 13 with 33 members present. The club talked about the 4-H goals. No corrections were made to the list. The village of Carroll is going to remodel the bathrooms, kitchen and hallways of the Carroll Auditorium. After the work is completed, the club will paint the hallways as their community service project.

There was to be a Quality Assurance meeting in Wayne on March 15 and in Winside on March 17. Morgan Quinn did a demonstration on wildlife. Anyone interested in going to a camp was to pick up pamphlets from Bob Dowling. The new 4-H members said the 4-H pledge. The next meeting will be the roadside clean-up on Sunday, April 10. If there is rain, it will be moved to April 17. Members will meet at the home of Mick Topp.

Shelby Meyer, Secretary

COMBINATION KIDS 4-H CLUB

The Combination Kids 4-H club held a meeting April 3 at Our Savior Lutheran Church. They discussed projects they will be doing and upcoming deadlines at the extension office. The club is planning to buy crock pots or roasters for the 4-H food stand with their treasury money. They will also clean road ditches on April 25 at 1 p.m. Club members will tentatively meet at Poehlmanns.

Several club members did presentations including Erica Sebade, Brooke Anderson, Brittni Spruols, Jenny Nolte, Lisa Temme. Tia Jech and Kristin Liska did a team presentation. Combination Kids will meet at Our Savior on May 1 at 1:30 p.m. Lisa Temme, News Reporter

BLUE RIBBON WINNERS 4-H CLUB

The February meeting of the Blue Ribbon Winners 4-H Club was called to order on Feb. 13 with 35 youth present at the Carroll City Auditorium. The club discussed the grant money for the horse arena. Pat Gray is going to do the budget. If anyone has any suggestions for the shade for the horse arena, they are asked to contact Kathy Meyer. Information was to be turned in by March 18.

There was discussion for someone to look into the Gardner Foundation for any grants. There was no old business. Discussion was held on looking into the checking account on rules and regulations. Members talked about where money is deposited and where the money is (Winside and Carroll). Insurance money was to be handed in with the enrollment. No changes were needed to the calendar.

LeNell Quinn said she would be in charge of the Gold Seal Award. In new business, members were told to be thinking of ideas that could be done for community service projects. Members were going to see if Carroll had anything that needed an update or improvement, as members did work in Winside last year. Discussion about 4-H Fun Day was brought up and members were to bring ideas to the next meeting. Morgan Quinn offered to do a demonstration at the March meeting. Katie, Shelby and Casey agreed to prepare club goals and send them into the office by the next meeting. New members will also do the 4-H pledge at the next meeting. The next meeting was scheduled for March 13 at the Winside Legion Hall. Shelby Meyer, secretary

University of Nebraska-Lincoln team monitoring soybean rust

While soybean rust has not been detected in Nebraska, a University of Nebraska-Lincoln team will monitor dozens of plots statewide this growing season to spot the disease if it shows up. Monitoring soybean rust and catching it early are critical steps in controlling this new, potentially devastating soybean disease, said Loren Giesler, plant pathologist in the university's Institute of Agriculture and Natural Resources.

To spot the disease as early as possible, researchers will closely check special soybean fields called sentinel plots. Sentinel plots are commonly used to monitor soybean rust in other parts of the world such as Brazil or South Africa, Giesler said. "These plots help keep track of where the disease is," he said.

As many as 50 sentinel plots will be located throughout Nebraska. More will be planted throughout soybean-producing states across the nation in conjunction with the U.S. Department of Agriculture's sentinel plot system for soybean rust and a project funded by the North Central Soybean Research Program and the United Soybean Board. Many of the Nebraska plots will be monitored by Nebraska Cooperative Extension educators. Giesler is the northern states coordinator for the sentinel plot network.

The plots will be planted early so that if soybean rust enters Nebraska, these plots will be infected with soybean rust before farmers' fields. In addition, plots will be scouted frequently. During the season, producers can check scouting reports on the USDA soybean rust Web site at <http://www.sbrusa.net> and the forecast for soybean rust spore movement online at <http://www.ces.ncsu.edu/depts/pp/soybeanrust/forecasts/s050302.php>.

Soybean rust was first detected in the United States last fall in several southeastern states, and may enter Nebraska this growing season. Soybean rust defoliates soybean plants and can reduce yields up to 90 percent in untreated fields.

Soybean leaves with rust will have tan to dark brown or reddish lesions one-twelfth to one-sixteenth of an inch in diameter and are most abundant on the underside of leaves. The disease starts at the bottom of the plant and moves up, Giesler said.

Like other, more familiar rusts, such as corn or wheat rust, airborne spores spread soybean rust. "The big question running through everyone's mind right now is: How will soybean rust impact Nebraska soybean production?" Giesler said. "The answer is that we really don't know. This will be the first of many years when the disease is likely to influence Nebraska agriculture." Giesler said researchers will learn a lot about this disease and how it will act in North America during the next few years. Giesler already has been studying the disease in South America.

The university also will conduct product efficacy trials to see which fungicides control the disease most effectively.

"We will conduct trials with different varieties, maturity groups and applications of fungicides," Giesler said. Some application studies will be conducted in collaboration with other universities' faculty.

The USDA estimates U.S. soybean losses could range from $640 million to $1.3 billion in the first year and $240 million to $2 billion in subsequent years, depending on severity and extent of rust's spread. However, Giesler said the disease is manageable and Nebraska's soybean crop will continue to be strong. Since Nebraska receives inconsistent precipitation, the state's crop may be less susceptible. The disease does best between 65 and 80 degrees and requires moisture for development. It is important to note that daytime temperatures can reach 100 degrees and higher and soybean rust can still be active if night temperatures fall to the optimum range for an extended time. During drier years, the potential for soybean rust to be a problem in dryland fields is low, he said.

However, if or when it does hit the state, timing of fungicide applications also are critical, especially if the weather's favorable.

"In Brazil, the outbreaks are associated with rain and irrigated fields will be at a greater risk," he said. The critical window of protection, based on Brazil's experience is from flowering through the full berry growth stages, Giesler said. Preventive treatments also could be an option.

"However, we don't want producers to waste money on $15 to $20 per acre applications if they don't have to," Giesler said. "If rust is an immediate threat based on the disease forecast, consider preventive treatments on high-yielding fields, especially those that are irrigated."

There are several fungicides labeled for use on soybean rust.

Laurel farmer will be honored by UNL Block and Bridle

Robert "Bob" Dickey, a third-generation farmer near Laurel, will be honored as a new member of the University of Nebraska-Lincoln Block and Bridle Hall of Fame. Dickey will be honored at the Block and Bridle Club and animal science department's annual honors banquet Friday, April 22. Tickets to the banquet, at 6:30 p.m. at the Nebraska East Union, cost $16 and can be purchased in advance by contacting Lori at (402) 472-6478. A reception for Dickey and his family will start at 5:30 p.m.

The club's annual hall of fame honor goes to people who have made significant contributions to Nebraska agriculture through leadership, service, youth projects and community activities. Dickey is a leader in the agricultural industry and has dedicated himself to improving the future of agriculture both nationally and in Nebraska. His impact on agriculture goes far beyond his farm where he and his family raise corn, soybeans, alfalfa, swine and cattle. He's dedicated a number of years to various groups, organizations and committees. He's served as a state senator and was the chairman of the U.S. Grains Council, chairman of the Nebraska Corn Board and director and past chairman of Farm Credit Bank Board. He serves on the National Corn Growers Board of Directors, Nebraska Soybean Association, Agricultural Council of America and Agricultural Builders of Nebraska. He also is a member of the National Cattlemen's Beef Association and Nebraska Pork Producers Association.

Dickey also has been recognized with numerous awards for his service and business skills, including: "Man of the Year in Service to Nebraska Agriculture" by Progressive Farmer magazine and "Top 100 Best-Managed Farms in the USA" by Farm Futures magazine.

He has traveled internationally to promote American products to foreign markets, including trade missions with Gov. Johanns to Japan in 2003 and China and Mexico in 2004. He also has represented U.S. agricultural products to customers in Asia, Latin America, Europe and the Middle East.

Bob and his wife, Mary, have three children. Other awards presented at the banquet will include animal science department scholarships and student awards in the Block and Bridle. Judging teams also are honored. The animal science department is part of the university's Institute of Agriculture and Natural Resources.

International Festival of Cultures to be held at WSC

"International Festival of Cultures: Third Annual Diversity Celebration" is scheduled for Wayne State College on Tuesday, April 12, from 4-7 p.m. in the Frey Conference Suite in the Wayne State Student Center. Sponsored by the Wayne State Counseling Center and International Student Services, the festival will promote interactive learning and the exchange of cultural customs and values. The festival is free and open to the public.

"Wayne State students, local and regional community members are invited to join us in recognizing and celebrating the cultural diversity that exists here at Wayne State and in our community, region, nation and world," said Ron Vick, WSC International Club sponsor.

Included in the festival will be informational tables, entertainment from various cultures, interactive programs, and more. Cultural representatives from the following regions will be on hand: Australia, Bangladesh, Benin, Brazil, Canada, Chile, Colombia, Costa Rica, Hong Kong, Japan, Kenya, Malawi, Mexico, Mongolia, Nepal, Nicaragua, Nigeria, Palau, Panama, Sudan, Tanzania, United Kingdom (England), United States of America, and Venezuela.

Partial support for this project has been provided by the U.S. Department of State, through a grant from the Cooperative Grants Program of NAFSA: Association of International Educators.

For more information, contact Ron Vick at 402-375-7321.

Sign-up announced for crop disaster assistance

Sign-up is underway for USDA's 2003-04 Crop Disaster Program, according to the head of the Wayne County Farm Service Agency.

The program authorizes crop loss assistance for producers who suffered 2003 or 2004 crop losses stemming from damaging weather, according to FSA County Executive Director Debra Pieper.

Allison Fisher accepted into Honor Society

Allison Fisher, granddaughter of Arthur and Norma Pollard of Wayne, has been accepted into Colorado State University Chapter of Mortar Board Honor Society.

Mortar Board is a nationally renowned honor society that focuses on scholarship, leadership and service. Admission into Mortar Board is highly selective.

Allison is the daughter of Chuck and Gloria Fisher of Colorado.

"Unpredictable weather events, such as drought, floods and hurricanes, put producers at financial risk and threaten to interrupt the production of dependable and affordable national food supply," Pieper said.

Eligibility for the current program is similar to that of the 2001-02 crop disaster program. Producers suffering a greater than 35 percent production loss or more than a 20-percent quality loss are eligible.

The payment rate has been increased to 65 percent of the established commodity price for insured and non-insurable crops and 45 percent for uninsured crops.

Producers may apply for assistance for any crops that are eligible for coverage under the Federal Crop Insurance or the Noninsured Crop Disaster Assistance Program, also known as NAP.

The payment limit is $80,000 per producer. Producers with an adjusted gross income of greater than $2.5 million are ineligible. Any farmer who did not purchase federal crop insurance or NAP coverage for the year disaster program payments will be issued must do so for the next two subsequent crops as a requirement of receiving program benefits.

The closing date for this sign-up will be announced later.

Pieper said USDA had posted a fact sheet with information about the Crop Disaster Program, as well other disaster assistance programs, at <http://disaster.fsa.usda.gov>

April is Sexual Assault Awareness Month

Sexual Assault is forced, manipulated or coerced sexual contact. It includes rape, child sexual abuse, same-sex assault, acquaintance rape, harassment and marital rape. The perpetrator uses sex to inflict physical and emotional violence and humiliation on the victim, or to exert power and control over the victim.

Sexual Assault Response Team (SART)

The Sexual Assault Response Team goal to provide safe, and expedient emergency care that addresses the medical, nursing, forensic, legal advocacy, counseling, and educational needs of survivors and their families. The team approach seeks to lessen the traumatizing nature of the rape examination, reduce repeated questioning of the victim and increase effective collections and preservation of evidence. Please call 402-375-3800 for further information.

Students Against Violence Everywhere (SAVE)

The Students Against Violence Everywhere (SAVE) program is operated through the Wayne State College Counseling Center. The SAVE program provides counseling, education and support for students who are victims of violence. The SAVE program also provided educational programs to students in the Residence Halls, in classroom and through peer education. The SAVE Program is funded through a federal grant from the Department of Justice, Office of Justice Programs, Office of Violence Against Women. Please Call 402-375-7321 for more information.

Haven House

Haven House has been in existence since 1978, providing crisis intervention and support services for domestic violence and sexual assault victims. Staff and volunteers provide crisis intervention support, emergency shelter, 24 hour crisis line, emergency transportation and financial assistance, protection order assistance, criminal justice advocacy, medical and legal advocacy, peer support groups and resource and referral assistance. please call, 402-375-4633 or 24-hour crisis line, 1-800-876-6238.

Approximately one in four girls and one in seven boys will be sexually assaulted before their eighteenth birthday. *Eighty four percent of victims know their rapist in some way. *It is estimated that only sixteen to thirty percent of rapes are reported to the police. *One out of five children will be sexually solicited online. *Approximately, only fifteen percent of children disclose a sexual assault. *The sexual perpetrator of a child repeats the act approximately 249 times in his or her lifetime.

The most common reasons sexual assault survivors are reluctant to report are due to fear of retaliation by the perpetrator, obtrusive hospital and court procedures, fear of not being believed, fear of insensitivity and survivors believe nothing will happen anyway.

Hold your perpetrator responsible, let us help you and report.
