Weather alert policy explained at Council

By Clara Osten
Of the Herald

A discussion of the new policy regarding the sounding of signals and the warning of the public during storms and amending the city code in regard to where adult oriented businesses can be located among the topics on the agenda at Tuesday's meeting of the Wayne City Council.

Prior to dealing with agenda items, District Judge Robert Ensz gave the oath of office to Verdel Lutt. Lutt assumed the duties of council representative in Ward I after the resignation of Jim Shanks.

Wayne Police Chief Lance Webster presented an updated version of the city's weather alert system. He listed the order of calls made by his department when Wayne County is put into a tornado warning. These include the Providence Medical Center, Premier Estates, Northeast Nebraska Medical Center, all volunteer fire departments and the Red Cross.

Webster also encouraged local businesses to purchase a Specific Area Message Encoding (SAME) radio which can be programmed for voice, tone or siren alert. He noted that these radios would provide faster notification of storms than waiting for the police department to issue the warnings.

The city is also in the process of installing new equipment which will allow for the intercept of non-digital cable televisions for emergency warning purposes.

If the new system allows, the city plans to use pre-recorded messages in both English and Spanish when a warning is issued.

"The tornado sirens are outdoor warning devices. They are not designed as the primary alert systems to people in their homes," Webster said. He also noted that the sirens will be sounded when the city is in eminent danger and when Wayne, Winside or Carroll weather spotters are dispatched.

The city of Wayne does not have an all-clear signal and Webster said blowing a second whistle would only cause more confusion.

Several items on Tuesday's agenda dealt with the location of adult oriented businesses.

City Administrator Lowell Johnson told the council that the city cannot keep such businesses out of town, but can, instead regulate where they can be located.

Ordinances 2005-6, 2005-7 and 2005-8 all received approval and the three readings were waived.

They indicate that such businesses can be located in areas that are zoned B-1 (Highway Business District) and I-1 (Light Industrial and Manufacturing), provided they are more than 500 feet from churches, educational facilities, parks, the property lines of residential areas, hospital, senior citizen centers and any political subdivisions. They can be located no closer than 1,000 feet from any other adult-oriented business.

In other action, the council approved the application of Kevin Kay to the Wayne Volunteer Fire Department.

Joel Hansen, Street Department Superintendent, presented a check to Mayor Lois Shelton from Siouxland Plastics in the amount of $6,588. The money represents the sale of 52 bales of plastic which had been collected at the

Elderfest planned for Wayne

Elderfest 2005, a unique festival honoring all area elders, is slated for Thursday, April 21, at the Wayne City Auditorium beginning at 9 a.m.

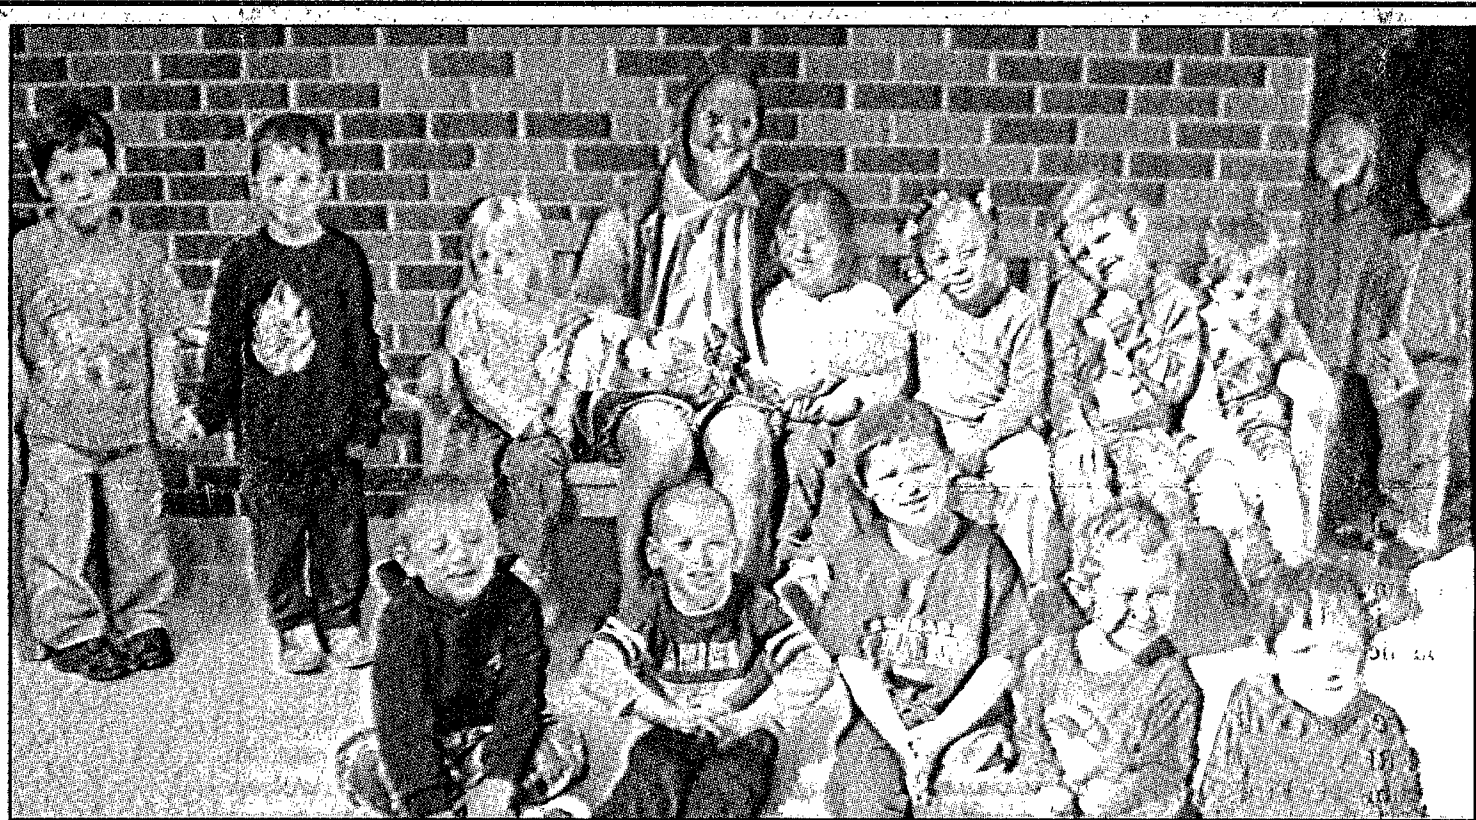

The day will conclude at 10 p.m., following a candlelight dance with music provided by the Artie and Gwen Schmidt Duo.

"ELDERFEST is designed to be a day-long celebration especially with our elder friends in mind," said Sandra Bartling. "We are all so excited about being able to offer an event of this magnitude to northeast Nebraska seniors, and we encourage families to attend Elderfest as well. Children and grandchildren are encouraged to come with parents and grandparents to the festivities and make this a family affair."

Sponsored by Providence Medical Center, dianne's on Main, The Oaks Retirement Community, KTCH radio, Wayne Herald/ Morning Shopper, Providence Medical Center Foundation, Stadium Sports and the Wayne Senior Center, Elderfest is a day filled with information, fun, food, entertainment and relaxation...and it's all free!

Attendees will be given an opportunity to enjoy free coffee and rolls (as long

Week of the Young Child

In celebration of the Week of the Young Child, Wayne Head Start had art work displayed around town at First National Bank, Magic Wok and Copy Write. On Thursday, they went to the play "Alice in Wonderland" at Wayne State College.

WSC President Richard J. Collings: 'A celebration of teaching and learning'

This week is a celebration at Wayne State College - "A Celebration of Teaching and Learning." That is the theme of Friday's inauguration of Dr. Richard J. Collings as the school's 11th president.

Collings chose the theme for several reasons. "I've been thinking a lot about the mission of Wayne State College," he said. "One of the things we find in higher education is that we often look to others about where and how we should proceed. The mission we have at Wayne State College is clear: to provide an excellent education to our students in a way that reaches all of them, that encourages them to succeed in whatever field they choose."

Collings continued, "We have a faculty devoted to teaching, and small classes which allow faculty members and students to get to know each other. This interaction-teaching and learning-is the essence of what we emphasize and build upon. I would rather be a first-rate teaching college than a third-rate research university. Research is important, but it doesn't make sense to always look to a research university as a model. My address will celebrate and emphasize the importance of teaching and learning."

In the 10 months since he arrived at Wayne State

Dr. Richard J. Collings

College, Collings said he has learned a great deal about the college, community and region.

"When I interviewed for this position, I said I would spend much of the first year listening to students, faculty, staff, alumni and community residents," he said. "Most of what I have learned has confirmed what I sensed when I accepted the job-that Wayne State is an important part of many lives and of the region. It gives me an underpinning of what we will see in the future, and a good base on which to build."

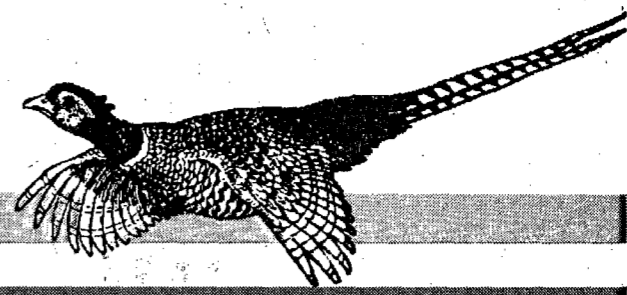

He has had some pleasant surprises in the months he has been in Wayne. "The weather has been one of those nice surprises," he said. "Both times we came to Nebraska last year, when I interviewed for the position in late January and again when we came to look for housing, it was snowing and there was about a foot of snow on the ground. This past winter has been much nicer!"

Another pleasant surprise has been the Nebraska landscape. "There is a beauty to Nebraska that people don't know about if they haven't been here," Collings said. "We have enjoyed seeing the different areas of the state, and look forward to seeing more of it in the com-

Fight has tragic ending

A bar altercation in Laurel last Saturday has left a Laurel man dead. Sage Gray, 29, and Brian Young, 30, both of Laurel, took their disagreement outside the establishment.

Gray, upon being pushed to the ground, struck his head on concrete. He was taken to Providence Medical Center in Wayne and then life flighted to Mercy Medical at Sioux City, Iowa, where Gray died of head injuries on April 10 at 5:37 p.m.

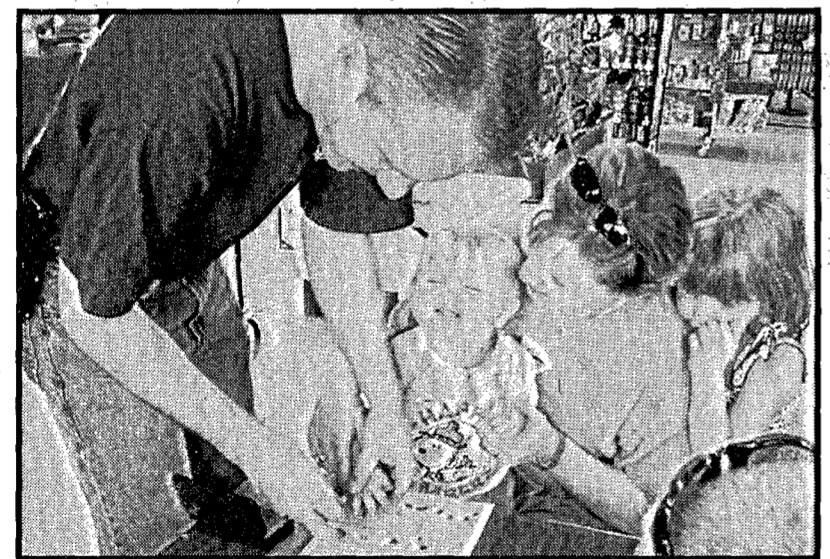

Charges were filed Monday afternoon by the Cedar County attorney: Count 1, manslaughter, class 3 felony with regard to the deceased.

Count 2, assault in the third degree, a class 1 misdemeanor in regard to actions to a separate individual, Chris Gaer.

Monday in court, the defendant waived preliminary hearing and has been bound over for formal arraignment in district court on May 9 at 9:30 a.m.

Bond was set at $100,000/ or 10 percent. The defendant has bonded out.

Happy participant

Officers of the Wayne Police Department helped the Wayne State College chapter of the National Association of the Young Child (YAEC) fingerprint children at Pamida recently. Lt. Shear, Sgt. Chinn, Officer Swanson, Officer Hoffman, Officer Haase and Chief Webster fingerprinted almost 20 young children. Sgt. Chinn had the biggest challenge of the night, fingerprinting a one year old! After the fingerprinting the kids had their hands painted and put handprints on Pamida's front windows. Above, Sgt. Marlen Chinn fingerprints Ethan Wibben while his big sister Sarah watches over mom's shoulder. Ethan and Sarah's parents are Carol and Dan Wibben of Wayne.

TeamMates One Hour Walk set for April 17

On April 17, from 3-4 p.m., mentors, mentees and community participants from over 50 TeamMates Chapters will walk to celebrate the power of mentoring. Thousands of walkers are expected to register for this one hour event that recognizes the importance of the one hour that mentors spend with their mentees each week.

The One Hour Walk will be held at Wayne Community Activity Center from 3-4 p.m. on the 17th. Registration begins at 2:30 p.m.

The cost of the walk is $15 for each walker, ages 13 and over. Youth ages 12 and under do not pay a registration fee. All TeamMates mentees will walk for free and will receive a free t-shirt. Walkers who pay the registration fee will receive a TeamMates t-shirt.

DeEtta Vrana, executive director of TeamMates, anticipates great support across the state. "Our goal with the One Hour Walk is to increase awareness of the powerful impact of mentoring on youth. We plan to have one walker for every mentor and youth in the program. Currently, there are over 2,500 students being mentored by a caring adult volunteer. There are 43 in Wayne.

TeamMates Mentoring Program is a one to one, school-based mentoring program serving students in grades 4-12. It is the largest mentoring program in Nebraska and one of the largest school-based mentoring programs in the United States.

Proceeds from the One Hour Walk benefit the Wayne TeamMates Program and Scholarship Fund. With over 300 TeamMates mentees in the program, they are committed to making a difference and offering scholarships for youth who qualify and complete the program.

For more information, visit the TeamMates website at www.teammates.org. To register to walk, call Darrell Miller at 375-4770.

Countdown to 25th anniversary Chicken Show has begun

The Wayne Area Chamber of Commerce's 100 Day Countdown Calendar to the 2005 Chicken Show has been published and is being distributed throughout the community.

Copies can also be picked up at the Chamber Office at 108 West Third Street.

Most days on the calendar are sponsored by individual businesses in the community. Everyone is being encouraged to take advantage of the specials listed on the calendar. Each week on Monday, during the Chamber report on the KTCH radio program, "The View from Wayne America," the specials for the week will be identified.

A copy of the April Countdown calendar can also be found in next week's edition of the Wayne Herald/Morning Shopper and each month from now until the Chicken Show, a new calendar will be printed.

The following are sponsors of the calendar:

- The Coffee Shoppe on Main;
- Copy Write;
- dianne's;
- Dairy Queen;
- Godfather's Pizza;
- McDonald's;
- Pizza Hut;
- Tacos & More;
- Wayne Greenhouse;
- Zach Oil.

"The calendar is an excellent way for everyone in the community to prepare for one of Wayne's biggest parties for visitors to our community," said Leo Ahmann, Interim Executive Director of the Wayne Area Chamber of Commerce.

This year's Henoween and Chicken Show activities will take place Friday and Saturday, July 8-9.

Seniors express views on graduation to school board

By Lynn Sievers
Of the Herald

Wayne Community Schools Board of Education met in regular session Monday night. Several Wayne High seniors, Sarah Jensen, Micaela Weber, and Jessica Jammer, were on hand to request that scholarships not be read at graduation ceremonies this year. They noted the majority of the class feels it takes too much time, scholarships are already listed in the programs, they are read at the honors convocation held prior to graduation, and it makes other students feel bad as they may not have as many as some.

Action was taken on several resignations and hirings. Resignations approved were: Stephanie Schoh, kitchen help; John McClarnen, Middle School principal; Karen Meyer, Title I. Rachel Martin was hired as Spanish teacher. The reassignment of elementary school fourth grade teacher Peg Lutt as Curriculum/Standards and Assessment Director, was moved to a future agenda item, the hiring of Eilene Rodriguez, ELL teacher was also moved to the next meeting, and discussion of Anna Combs teaching position was moved to executive session.

Deniz Rudin, a sophomore at W.H.S. and his parents spoke to the board and requested early graduation for Deniz so he could graduate with the class of 2006. In order to fulfill graduation requirements, Deniz would have to take both junior and senior English and math his junior year.

The Board said they would talk it over and get back to them. The Board is considering making an early graduation policy.

Financial reports and claims were approved.

The Board approved Major Refrigeration's bid on a new walk in freezer. An amendment followed to make sure to get it in writing that the company will do tear down, electrical work, hook up and maintenance.

The bid by Lenny Jones for concrete removal/replacement was also approved with the understanding that the superintendent receive additional information on the bid.

The Board approved the bid of 87 cents per thermal from Cornerstone Energy. They felt by doing so, it would lock them in at that price.

Reports were heard from administration. A couple of the reports were: High School Principal Mark Hanson noted there was a good turnout at Freshman Orientation. Upcoming events include a Drug and Alcohol assembly by Providence Medical Center on April 21; Prom, April 23; and the Kiwanis Banquet, April 24.

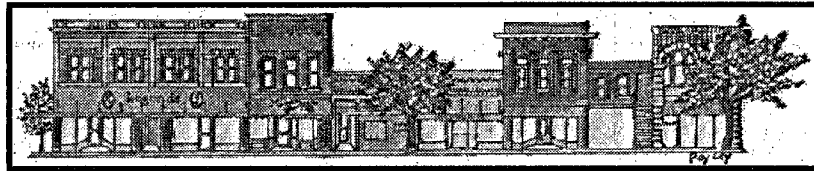

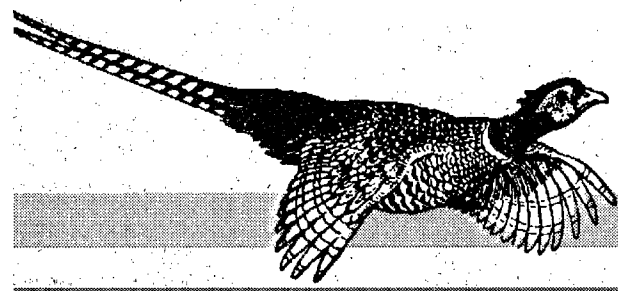

Elementary School Principal David Lutt told the Board that achievement testing was finished and results should be in by the next Board meeting. He noted an upcoming event at the Middle School is the Carnival which is set for April 30. Lutt noted that the last day of school for the students is May 19. May 20 is the last day of school for teachers.

The board approved the new calendar for 2005-06 as presented.

Policies #3007 (transportation-option enrollment students) and #10001 (facilities - community use of school facilities) were approved.

Executive session was held to discuss personnel and student issues.

The next regular meeting of the Wayne Community Schools Board of Education will be held on Monday, May 9 at 7 p.m. at the Wayne High School.

Cure for Medicaid ills not on horizon

By Ed Howard
Statehouse Correspondent
The Nebraska Press Association

Main Street Focus

On Tuesday, April 5, Main Street Managers from throughout Nebraska met at the Holiday Inn in Kearney. A major part of the meeting was a discussion on formulating and utilizing Transportation Enhancement Funding. On Wednesday the Nebraska Main Street people held a joint seminar with the Nebraska APA/NPZA. A good turnout of Wayne people were in attendance including city officials—the mayor, city manager, city inspector, and several members of the city planning commission. Also in attendance representing the Main Street Wayne program were Anne Nolte, Mel Meyer, and Tony Kochenash.

This was the second successive year that both these groups met in Kearney in a joint seminar. Planners and planning personnel representing almost every community in Nebraska were in attendance. The topics and discussions were interesting and timely and there was ample time for exchange of ideas and philosophies in planning. One of Wayne's planning commissioners said he had more than 14 pages of notes and everyone was pleased with the material the presenters shared with us.

The Main Street part of the program was entitled, "Changing the Course for Downtown Revitalization: Effective Practices in Commercial District Mater Planning and Zoning." Nick Kalogeresis who works for the National Trust's Main Street Center, gave an informative and comprehensive power point presentation on downtown planning basics with a variety of case studies from his experience. He said we are seeing incredible things in our downtowns as space is being used up and getting precious. One of the things is something we have seen in Wayne in the last decade—the refurbishing and use of upper stories above our retail businesses. He also used statistics to make his point that more downtown buildings are being rehabilitated.

The impetus for rehabing buildings and especially upper floors comes from many directions. A new program—Main Street/HOPE—VI—was put into the picture in December, 2003, when President Bush signed the omnibus American Dream Downpayment Act into Law. With it a new federal funding source for developing affordable downtown housing was created. Up to 5 percent of federal funds allocated to the HOPE VI program was created originally by HUD early in the Clinton Administration to provide federal funds to communities to demolish dilapidated public housing units and replace them with new, mixed use, mixed income communities much like traditional main street districts in appearance and function. We hope to tell you more about the HOPE (Housing Opportunities for People Everywhere) VI Program in some future Main Street Focus article.

The remainder of Kalogeresis' presentation in the morning and early afternoon centered around planning. He presented a step by step approach to the various types of community planning which was invaluable. Those of us who attended this presentation would be happy to share the material that we were given to any group in Wayne now currently working on the 2006 project.

Kalogeresis finished his presentation in the afternoon with a comprehensive explanation of downtown zoning basics, types of zoning, parking requirements, zoning considerations, incentive zoning, and performance zoning. He gave many examples of unique situations and actions that various communities have taken. He talked about Libertyville, Illinois, on several occasions and explained how their Planning Commission revised the zoning code for downtown Libertyville with the support of community leaders. They put into effect a retail-only zoning code for their city square. Any exceptions went to a hearing before the commission for variance approval. As he explained it, if an office on the square closed up, a new office could not take its place, it had to be a retail operation. The thinking behind this was that the community leaders wanted to build up a "special" downtown that would attract people to visit and shop and to restore Libertyville back to its "better years" Apparently this has worked and Libertyville is a fun place to visit and shop. One of the Libertyville leaders used the following quote to push this idea, "The future belongs to those who see possibilities before the become obvious."

Wayne Industries
News & Notes from the Wayne Chamber of Commerce & Industries
By: Leo Ahmann

Last week, April 3-7, I was in Missouri attending an Economic Development Course. It was great information I can share with other officials and organizations here in Wayne.

We are sponsoring our Annual Legislative Taskforce at Gardner Auditorium next Monday, April 18, beginning at 11 a.m. It will be an opportunity to hear State Senators Engel, Connealy and Flood and time will be made available to ask questions of the Senators. It is open to the public.

The 25th Anniversary Chicken Show T-shirts will be on sale on Monday at Antiques on Main, Bomgaars, Children's Collections, First National Bank of Wayne, Pac N' Save, Pamida, State National Bank and Trust Company, Super 8 Motel, Swans, and of course the Chamber Office. There are children's sizes up to 3X. Be one of the first to strut your t-shirt at your business. Our thanks to Traci Keating for the theme "Cheers for 25 Years" and to Angie Luft for the design of the T-shirt. Their efforts are greatly appreciated!!!

Although it is early, we want to give out thank yous to the Pizza Hut for again being the sponsor of the "Egg-eating Contest." They will be providing a sizeable payout for first and second place in the contest. There will be more information later on this.

Thanks also BankFirst, Farmers and Merchants State Bank, First National Bank and State National Bank and Trust Company for sponsorship of the "National Cluck-Off." There will be a sizeable payout for first and second place of this contest as well.

There will be a variety of "Cluckibles" (collectibles) available in the very near future, on sale at the Chamber Office. There will be some fun things, 'cute' things and some practical things. Look and listen for the details coming soon.

Have you taken advantage of the specials on the 100 Day Countdown to the Chicken Show Calendar? If not, check it out. There are copies of the calendar out and about town, and next week in the Shopper there will be a clip and save copy of the April calendar. Each month following, May through the first two weeks of July, there will be copies out and a clip and save copy in the Shopper. There is one mistake (so far!) on the April edition ... color copies at Copy Write are just One Dollar through the chicken show, NOT a dollar off. Thanks to the sponsors, Godfather's Pizza, McDonald's, Pizza Hut, Zach Oil, Tacos and More, Dairy Queen, Wayne Greenhouse, dianne's, The Coffee Shoppe on Main and Copy Write.

Wayne Industries will be having a half day retreat on Friday, April 22, with a full agenda of items pertinent to the continued growth of our economy. The noon to 5 p.m. retreat will include presentations by a number of individuals, including Nancy Schulz of NNPPD and R.J. Baker with Elkhorn Valley Economic Development.

There are many more community events happening in April. We hope everyone will make a great effort to support those activities.

"Well, doctor. Do you have a cure?"

"I'm sorry, but at this time, there is no apparent cure. Of course, much research is being done in this area. There is always hope."

"Whaddya mean, hope? I want a cure, sawbones!"

"Again, I'm sorry. It's one of those terrible things, but it is one that you will just have to live with ... and, I should tell you, it's going to be expensive to do that!"

If Medicaid were a disease, and taxpayers were the collective patient, the latter conversation might well describe the situation.

The federal/state healthcare program for the poor, elderly and disabled now consumes at least 13 percent of the state budget. That was $400 million last year. It might be $450 million this year. In any case, the cost is growing and there is no reason to think it will stop growing.

The feds and state governments around the country are constantly talking about "efficiencies" and "creative solutions," and "efficiencies," and "necessary, but compassionate alternatives," and "efficiencies."

What denizens of either government domain do not say, outright, is that a reduction in services or a whole lot more tax dollars are eventually going to be recognized as the unavoidable choices. They will become unavoidable if, for no other reason, Medicaid has the potential to break Nebraska's bank. It could do the same to lots of other states. The feds would likely duck the problem with their virtually unlimited power to borrow. Of course, that borrowing leads to more and more interest payments, which bounce back to hit the taxpayers through a different pocket.

The "doctor" who raised the possibility of the 'there might not be a cure right now' scenario was veteran Sen. Roger Wehrbein of Plattsmouth.

A former chairman of the Appropriations Committee, Wehrbein is a mostly soft-spoken, analytical and realistic fellow when it comes to arithmetic.

Wehrbein also is a farmer. Perhaps that is why he wasn't afraid to say that a cure of the fiscal illness caused by Medicaid doesn't appear to be on the horizon, around the corner, or anywhere else. The feds mandate the costs to governments further down the food chain. That's that.

From here, it also seems analogous to a small-time farmer who just keeps on keepin' on from one year to the next. Sometimes, the goal is just to keep farming, and hope that a positive cash flow will eventually result. Until then, borrow and hope and keep things afloat.

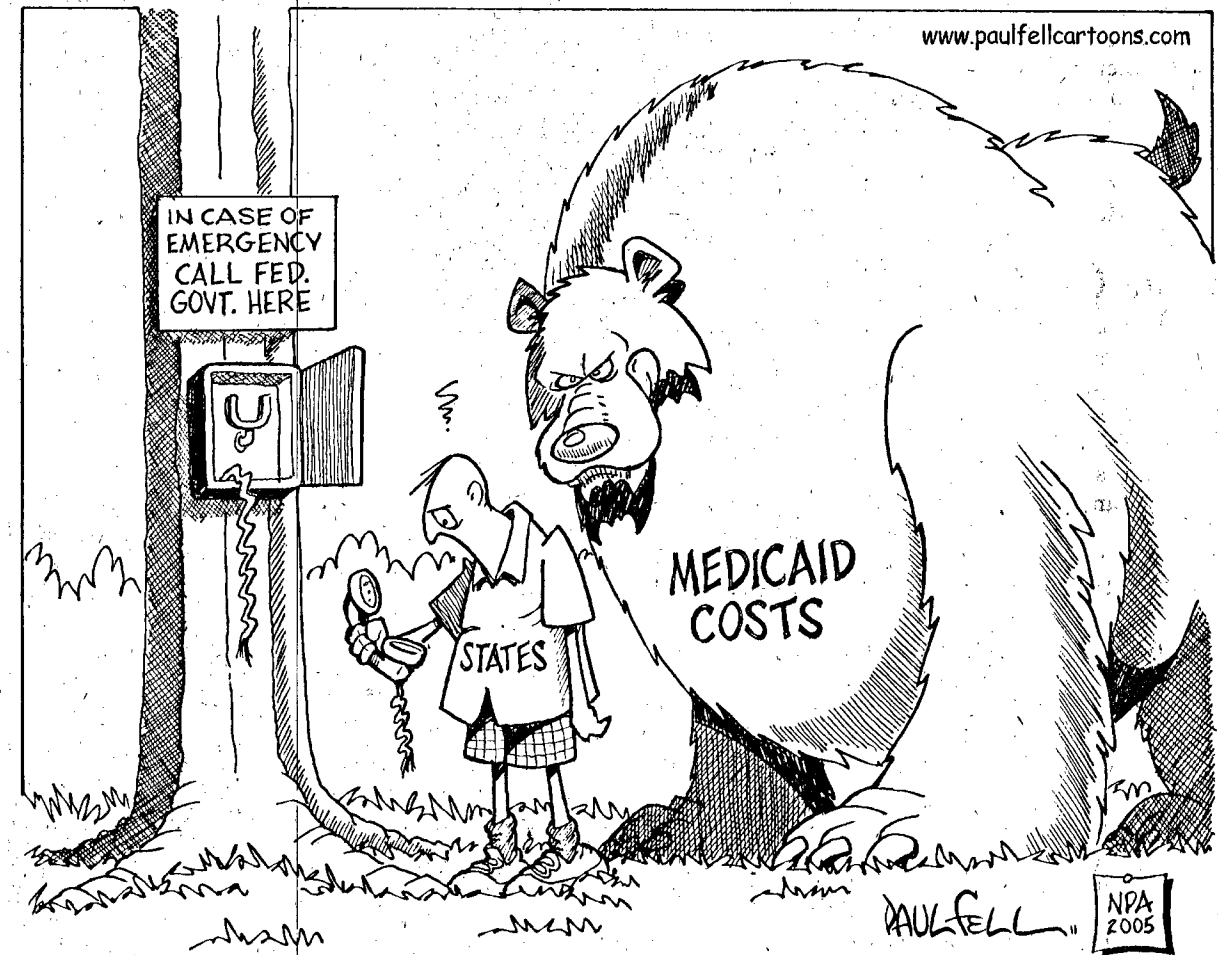

The difference is that Medicaid is more like a fiscal disease than a long-term agricultural project. Medicaid isn't going to yield anything that will generate money for the overall operation of government. It puts tons of money into the pockets of some healthcare providers, but that's not the same as putting it into the state treasury.

What can be done at the state level?

Not much, apparently. There's no fiscal vaccine; no miracle cure.

The answer lies with a higher power. The one within the kingdom of Washington. The one where political considerations figure mightily into any prescription for dealing with fiscal ailments.

Bill could help northeast Nebraska

The Session has passed the 2/3 mark of 60 days and an important piece of legislation for Northeast Nebraska was debated last week.

LB 38, which is my Priority Bill, kept many Senator's attention during a two hour discussion. A bill introduced by Senator Doug Cunningham, LB 113, was amended into LB 38.

The provisions of LB 113, my original priority bill, let Northeast Community College levy an additional one half cent per $100 of valued property for 2005-06 and 2006-07. However, this levy can only be applied by a three quarter vote of the board of governors after notice and a hearing to everyone in the 20 county NECC area.

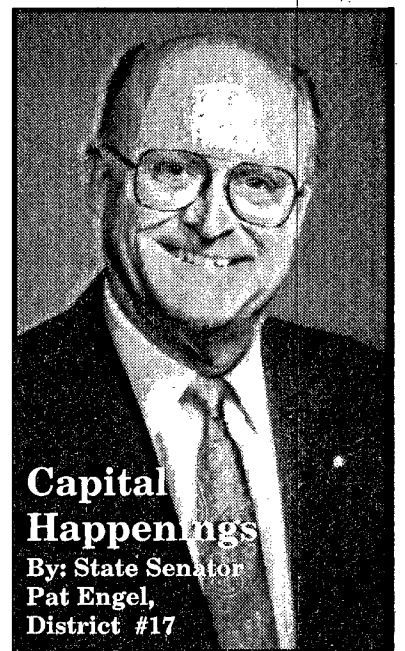

Northeast Community College has always been frugal and that led to them not having as much budget authority back in 1998, when the state changed the funding formula to provide property tax relief and equalization for Nebraska taxpayers. That lack of base has been detrimental to the college, which is now growing at a very fast rate due to the population growth in Northeast Nebraska.

The bill, as amended, allows an additional one half cent levy, which comes to $5 per year on a home valued at $100,000, or $10 for the two years the bill allows the levy override. As was said on the floor, one person can't eat a meal at McDonald's for $5. The total amount realized by NECC would be a little over $500,000 for one year or just at $1 million for the two years. This money would be for programs—teachers and classroom offerings, not buildings.

As you know, I am not usually for tax increases unless they are absolutely necessary. But I am, and always have been, a champion of education. Education is the great equalizer in our society and I truly believe it is the state's responsibility to provide affordable education close to home for those who must work part time or otherwise prefer to live at home or stay close to their family.

Educational institutions are also necessary for economic development as manufacturing companies will locate where there is a trained workforce or where there is the opportunity to train people to fit their needs.

Some statistics I shared with the Legislature are that 90 percent of

Capital Happenings
By: State Senator Pat Engel, District #17

community college graduates stay in Nebraska, for every $1 invested in a community college there is a $17.73 increase in earnings of the graduates, and there is a 19 percent savings in social and health care costs among educated people.

NECC is currently leasing space for classes in South Sioux City in cooperation with Wayne State College. This has been a model of cooperation between the college, city, county, and school systems.

The old cliché, "the third time is a charm," is true in the case of LB 113, as the measure had been introduced twice before this year. Senators Cunningham, Connealy, and Flood all contributed to the debate and the bill advanced to Select File on a vote of 29-10. I will keep you updated as this important legislation progresses.

Other important legislation discussed last week was Medicaid Reform. LB 709, introduced by Senator Phil Erdman, of Bayard, could help Nebraska make some headway on limiting this spiraling cost.

Projections show Medicaid will consume about half the state's tax revenue by Fiscal Year 2013-14. Medicaid has been growing faster than any other portion of the state budget for 20 years. The program increased an average of 11.5 percent annually, compared with 6.2 percent annual increase for the state's overall general fund budget.

Medicaid is a joint state-federal program that provides health coverage for low income families and children, elderly people, and people with disabilities. Nebraska spent $1.3 billion on the program last year, of which almost $400 million came from state tax money. The rest was federal money.

Nebraska is not the only state struggling with this issue. The rise in Medicaid and health care costs was listed as the top fiscal issue in all states in a recent survey by the National Council of State Legislatures and 16 states expect cost overruns this year.

LB 709 would create a two person task force, one person named by the Governor and one by the chair of the Legislative Health & Human Services Committee. They would need to develop a Medicaid reform plan by Dec. 1, 2005. An amendment to the bill added a 10 person advisory committee, requires public hearings, and monthly public reports.

A bill added to LB 709 would require a plan for encouraging Nebraskans to purchase long-term care insurance and relying less on Medicaid for future nursing home costs. I spoke in favor of this amendment as I feel we do need to be responsible for our own health care and not rely on our heirs or the state to provide services unless they are absolutely necessary. We must take care of those in need but must find a more affordable solution to do so.

This is another important bill that has advanced from first round debate that I will follow with interest and report to you.

Transfer Station.

Hansen noted that several years ago, the city was informed that if a larger quantity of plastic could be collected, the price would be better. He noted that that fact, and the fact that the price for plastic increased, allowed for the city to receive a larger check.

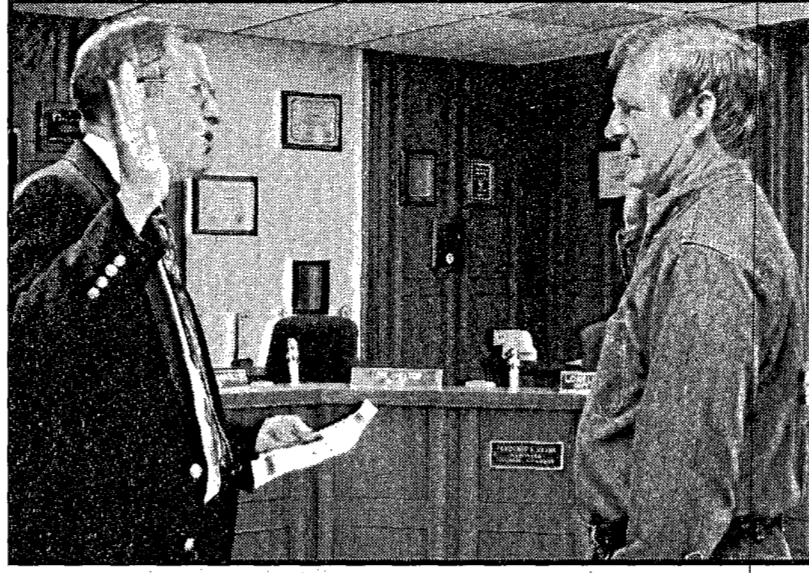

The council listened to a request from Corby and Amy Schweers regarding boarding house classification for structures in the city of Wayne.

Several years ago the council took out language in the city code in regard to boarding houses and the Schweers asked the council to reconsider that decision.

"We own a house that is too large for one family. It is located in an R-2 zone and is ideal investment property. It has six bedrooms and we could easily make enough parking spots to meet regulations. Turning it into a duplex would require structural changes that would affect the integrity of the house, which was originally used as a boarding house," Amy said.

Council member Will Wiseman said that the council needed to be careful when making any language changes in the city code and before those changes are made, the council needs to consider why changes were made in the first place.

Judge Robert Ensz, left, administers the oath of office to Wayne's newest council member, Verdell Lutt.

Joel Hansen, left, presents a check for $6,588 to Mayor Lois Shelton. The money represents the sale of bales of plastic which have been collected at the Wayne Transfer Station.

The item will be placed on the agenda for the April 26 meeting.

Mayor Shelton made several appointments during the meeting.

They include Don Endicott as an alternate to the Board of Adjustment; the re-appointment of Dr. Jim Lindau and Lance Webster to the Board of Health and the appointment of Mayor Shelton and Council President Doug Sturm to the Board of Health; the re-appointment of Kris Loberg to the Recreation-Leisure Services Commission and the appointment of Byron Heier and Jodi Hoffart to that board; and the reappointment of John Melena, Bonnie Stanley, Shirley Bergt and Steve Schumacher to the Housing Authority.

The council will meet again in special session on Tuesday, April 19 to review and take action on the proposed redevelopment contract with the developer of the El Toro property. The meeting begins at 7 p.m.

The next regular meeting of the council will be Tuesday, April 26 at 7:30 p.m.

Legislative Forum to be held in Wayne

The Wayne Area Chamber of Commerce will co-sponsor with Wayne State College, the 13th annual Legislative Forum on Monday, April 18.

Conducted at Gardner Hall on the campus of Wayne State College, this program promotes access for high school and college students, and the public to regional Nebraska Senators during the legislative process.

The Forum will begin promptly at 11 a.m. and conclude at noon with Senators Pat Engel, Matt Connealy, and Mike Flood, taking questions from the audience. All area high school students in government classes, Wayne State College students, advisors, instructors, and the public have been invited.

With the Nebraska unicameral legislature currently still in session, this Forum should be an excellent exchange of ideas on priorities and key programs.

For more information, please contact the office of the Wayne Area Chamber of Commerce at 402-375-2240.

The shirts are in!!!

The silver anniversary edition of the Wayne Chicken Show shirts have arrived and will be available for purchase beginning Monday, April 18. Displaying this year's shirts are Angie Luft, left, who created the design, The Chicken, and Della Fries, chairman of the Chicken Show Taskforce. The 25th annual Wayne Chicken Show will be held Saturday, July 9 and will be preceded by Henoween activities on Friday, July 8.

Public welcome to attend two concerts at Wayne State College

The public is welcome to attend concert performances by the Wayne State College student musicians. The jazz band and vocal jazz ensemble will perform on April 18 at 7:30 p.m. and the symphonic band and wind ensemble will perform on April 21 at 7:30 p.m. Both performances will take place in Ramsey Theatre, located in the Peterson Fine Arts Building on campus. There is no admission charge for the concerts.

The Jazz Band will perform works by some of the most influential composers and performers in the history of jazz, including Miles Davis, Duke Ellington, Artie Shaw and Sammy Nestico. They will also perform selections by more recent jazz artists such as Frank Mantooth and John Labara. All jazz band members will be included prominently in the performance with improvisational solos.

The vocal jazz ensemble will perform a Kirby Shaw arrangement of "Come Fly With Me" and Paris Rutherford arrangements of "It Never Entered My Mind" and "My Favorite Things" under the direction of Dr. Ronald Lofgren.

The band concert on April 21 will feature symphonic band and wind ensemble members playing the literature of different styles and eras of band composition. Featured composers include Franz von Suppe, David Gillingham, Percy Grainger, Clare Grundman and Samuel Barber. Wayne State College conductors will be Dr. David Bohnert and Dr. Frank Gazda.

For more information, please call Dr. Bohnert, director of bands at (402) 375-7363.

Members of the Elderfest committee include, left to right, Diane Peterson, Providence Therapy Department; Mick Kemp, KTCH; Mel Meyer, retired contractor; Susan Wells, The Oaks; Dianne Leighty, dianne's on Main; and Sandra Bartling, PMC Foundation. The afternoon includes musical entertainment beginning at 1 p.m., a free pie and ice cream social (as long as supplies last), style show and entertainment by the Shim Sham Senior Tap Troupe (dancers range in age from 58 to 81, and have been dancing for about 12 years) from Lincoln. Guests sixty years and older will be encouraged to register for numerous raffle prizes, including a $1,000 travel certificate.

A free candlelight dance, sponsored exclusively by dianne's on Main Street in Wayne, with music by Gwen and Artie Schmidt Duo begins at 7 p.m. A hors d'oeuvre buffet and refreshments, provided by Jeannette Marx of Wisner, will be served beginning at 8 p.m.

Jammer Photography will be available from 7:30 to 8:30 p.m. to take photo requests for a small fee. All ages welcome!

Other events during the afternoon at Elderfest include opportunities for guests to play cards and checkers, quilt on the Elderfest Signature Quilt, enjoy Big Band music provided by KTCH radio, view beautiful quilts on display courtesy of the Quilters Guild, listen to some toe-tapping accordion music provided by local musicians, witness spinning, tatting, crocheting, knitting, carving, scrap booking, and so much more.

KTCH radio will be present throughout the day with music, announcements and updates. Attendees will also be invited to bring family histories, photos, favorite family recipes, etc. for the Elderfest Memory Book.

Elderfest committee members are Diane Peterson of Laurel, Sandra Bartling, Dianne Leighty, Susan Wells, Mick Kemp and Mel Meyer, all of Wayne.

Reconstruction plans are cruising along

Planning stages are shaping up for the Highway 15 reconstruction project from Clark Street to Seventh Street scheduled to begin in April 2006.

TEAM 15, the City Council-designated committee to draft design proposals, will submit final plans to the Wayne City Council sometime in the next 30 days. Recent meetings of both Design committee and the Business Improvement District have brought forward proposals on lighting, landscaping, street, and sidewalk configurations. The committees are welcoming property owner and public input as the plans finalize before submittal to the City Council.

Much was learned from the 1977 downtown improvement and those pitfalls will be avoided in this new reconstruction. More pedestrian friendly crosswalks will be incorporated along with decorative lighting designed to enhance storefronts and walkways. The issue of birds nesting in trees will be minimized with a careful selection of a tree variety.

City employees have marked the proposed locations for trees, decorative lighting and state mandated lighting on sidewalks throughout the business district. Interested parties can see for themselves the locations for each by looking for color-coded markers painted on the sidewalks. The color key is red for state-mandated lighting, blue for decorative lighting, and green for trees.

Grant applications are being pursued by the City that are available to communities belonging to the Main Street Program that will minimize the contribution amount of property owners toward the replacement of sidewalks. Other grants are being pursued for water main replacement to be done concurrently with the overall project.

Property owners are encouraged to offer their input about location of these items and may phone City Administrator Lowell Johnson or Mayor Lois Shelton at 375-1733 or Jeff Morlok, Committee Chairman at 375-2180.

Collings

Collings said he and his wife, Marilyn, have been warmly received by the campus community, the town of Wayne, and the region. "I like Nebraska," he said. "It has been a very welcoming state. I've found that, by and large, Nebraskans aren't overly guarded in their initial interactions with newcomers. They have an openness that is refreshing. We feel like we've been well received."

Collings is excited about his presidency and about the future of Wayne State College. "I want us to enhance our focus on teaching and learning," he said. "There are ways we can make significant differences in the lives of our students and the communities in which they will live and work after they graduate."

In conjunction with that, Collings said, is an emphasis on enrollment growth. "We need to increase our enrollment to an optimal level," he said.

"We will continue to work to bring students from northeast Nebraska, the Omaha and Lincoln areas, western Iowa and elsewhere. I also hope that we can increase the number of international students at Wayne State College. They bring diversity and a world view to the campus that is so important."

Collings has several other short- and long-term goals for Wayne State. "We need to look at opportunities for faculty scholarship so faculty members can keep current with the latest in each of their fields of expertise," he said. "Faculty and staff professional development opportunities are also important."

With regard to regional service, "We need to consider and pursue those regional service activities that fit with our mission and which don't duplicate what others are already doing," he said. "I want the college to continue to work on relationships with the immediate community of Wayne and the larger region and state. Hand-in-hand with that, I would like to see more people come to campus and take advantage of events and activities that we are able to offer."

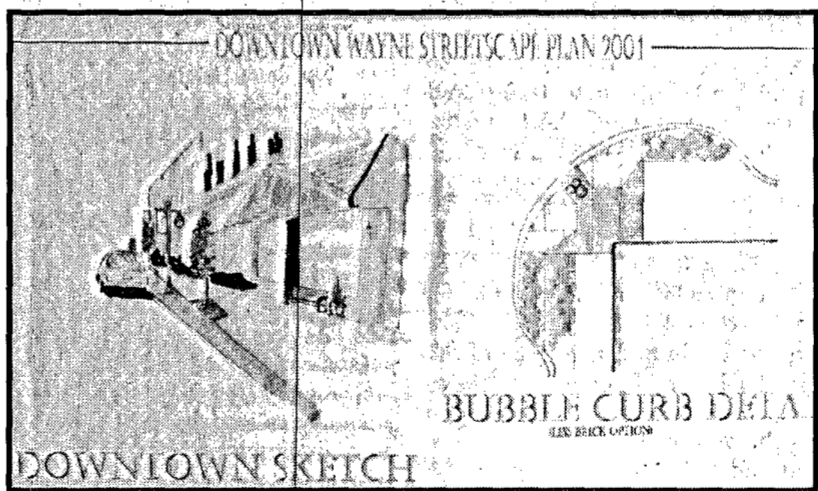

Another ongoing priority is the budget. "I plan to involve the campus in setting priorities," Collings said. "While the state budget appears to be in much better shape than it was several years ago, there are still financial constraints with which we must deal. We will have to determine which items are priorities, and where we will put our limited resources."

Inaugural festivities will begin on Thursday, April 14, with a concert, "Campus and Community Present: A Musical Celebration," at 7:30 p.m. in Ramsey Theatre in the Peterson Fine Arts Building. The concert will include vocal and instrumental performances by individuals and ensembles from Wayne State College and the community of Wayne. A featured performer will be Michael Collings, the son of President and Marilyn Collings, who is a professional jazz guitarist.

The inauguration ceremony will be held on Friday, April 15, at 3 p.m. in Ramsey Theatre. It will be immediately followed by a reception in the WSC Student Center. The concert, inauguration ceremony and reception are all free and open to the public.

"I want to invite everyone to attend as many of the inaugural activities as they are able to," Collings said. "I look forward to sharing my inauguration with the campus, community and region."

Library to host volunteer reception

The Wayne Public Library will host a Volunteer Reception on Sunday, April 17 from 2-3 p.m. as a thank you to the over 100 people who have generously donated their time and talent to helping serve library patrons during the past year.

They have assisted in a wide variety of programs, ranging from story times to the Summer Reading Program; from the Grandmapa outreach to Lewis and Clark; and by serving on boards and committees. Many have been involved in more than one activity.

These individuals are: Rebecca Agler, Linda Anderson, Megan Anderson, Joel Ankeny, Deb Arickx, Verna Mae Bajer, Kelly

Ballinger, Pam Boehle, Kay Bruening, Mary and Emma Carstens, Shannon Connolly, Victoria Cortes, Jennie DePeel, Bill and Deb Dickey, Brett and Derek Dorsey, Suzanne Dusterhoft, Tammy Evetovich, Heidi Garvin, Diane Gentrup, Jean Griess, Pat Gross, Dave and Terri Headley, Heidi Headley, Betty Heier, Joelle Herman and Lesley Hintz.

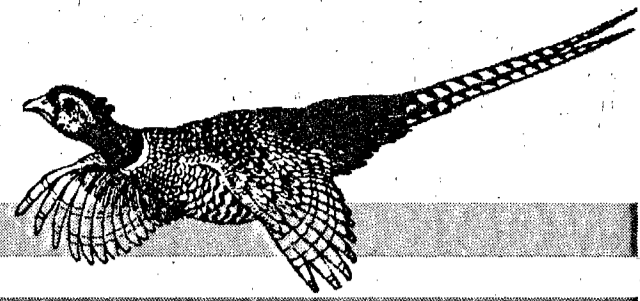

Also, Jennie Holm, Aaron Holt, Amy Holtgrew, Vera Hummel, Maddie Jager, Lowell Johnson, Alicia Kempche, Maureen Kingston, Cassie Kinzer, Jim and Denise Knotwell, Gretchen Legler, Dennis Lipp, Liz Lofgren, Lucile Lühr, John McClarnen, Kelly McConnell, Megan Morgan, Lisa

Nelson, Brandi Novotny, Emma O'Donnell, MaryBeth O'Malley, Clara Osten, Karen and JoAnn Parker, Tracy and Meg Pierson, Karley Pilger, Russ and Charlene Rasmussen, Maxine Robbins, Lacey Schwochow, Holly Smith, Monica Snowden, Jordan Swanson, Morgan Warrick, Megan Wheeler, Sara Wingett, Melissa and Tim Wyrick, Lois Youngerman and all the members of the Wayne Kiwanis, Wayne State College Circle K, Psi Chi, Pi Gamma Mu, Theta Phi Alpha, and Zeta Tau Omega.

The library's sincere appreciation is extended to all, and the public is invited to the reception on April 17 to help say thank you. There will be a brief program at 2:15.

Wayne State hosts Wildcat Open

Several break school marks, athletes earn NSIC honors

By David W. Carstens
Of the Herald

More than 500 athletes from 13 colleges and universities converged upon Wayne State College for last Saturday's Wildcat Track and Field Classic.

Wayne State made its presence known as several Wildcat teams set new school records despite a windy day of competition.

The WSC women's team was led by Lindsey Stockwell who set a new school record in the hammer throw with her fourth-place finish of 139 feet, one inch. She also placed second in the javelin (117-5) and sixth in the discus (126-0).

There were three athletes who finished second for the women's team including Lisa Barr in the high jump (5-6), Erin Norenberg in the 3000-meter steeplechase (12:12.40) and Kari Torgerson in the discus (138-3 1/2).

Torgerson's performance, which smashed her previous season best by more than 18 feet, earned her Northern Sun Field Athlete of the Week honors earlier this week.

Other meet highlights for the WSC women included: Erin Oswald, third in the 800 meter run (2:20.68); Katie Wilson, fourth in the shot put (43-6); Katie Wilson, fifth in the hammer throw (138-1 1/2); Jodi Rhodig, fifth in the 800 meter run (2:22.54); Haley Reeves, sixth in the 5000 meter run (20:32.43); Tanna Walford, sixth in the high jump (5-4) and the 4 x 100 meter relay team took fourth with a time of 51.10 seconds.

Oswald's finish also earned her an honorable mention in the Northern Sun conference honors as her time placed her atop of the conference leader board in the 800-meter run.

The men's team finishes were highlighted with a new school record by Jeremy Eickman in the hammer throw.

Eickman shattered the school record with his throw of 124 feet, one inch to finish sixth. He also placed third in the shot put with the completion of a throw 47 feet, six inches.

Two team members finished second in their respective events as JJ Washington recorded a 23 foot, seven inch completion in the long jump and Jeremiah Herron placed second in the 3000 meter steeplechase (10:12.20).

Washington's jump was just one-quarter of an inch shy of an NCAA national provisional qualifying mark and earned the junior the Northern Sun Track Athlete of the Week honor by conference officials.

Herron's time was his season's best and allowed him to be named as a Northern Sun honorable mention winner this week.

Other top finishers for the WSC men included: Matt Schneider, third in the 3000 meter steeplechase (10:26.70); Eric Klein, sixth in the 800 meter run (2:00.80) and the 4 x 400 meter relay team who finished fourth in 3:27.02.

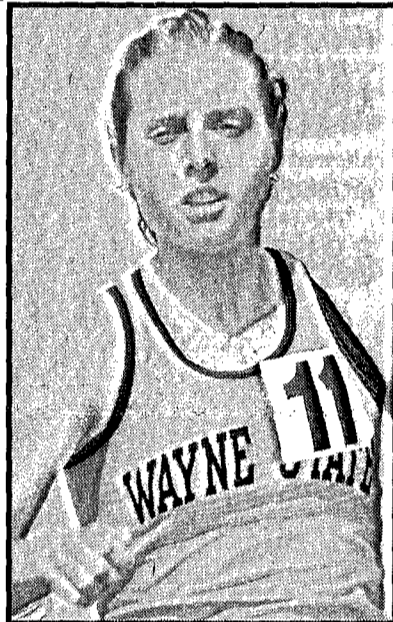

Tim Pilakowski took seventh in the 100 meter dash (11.12) and seventh in the long jump (21-11).

Several unattached runners from Wayne State placed at the meet as Casey Ide placed fourth in the 1500 meter run (4:05.37) and Matt Doggett took fifth in the pole vault as he cleared the bar at 14 feet.

WSC's next meet will be at the NCAA Division II Challenge in Emporia, Kan., on Thursday-Saturday, April 14-16.

Rachel Roebke sails over the hurdles to place seventh for the Wildcats in last Saturday's Wildcat Track and Field Classic at Wayne State College.

Jodi Rhodig took fifth for WSC in the 800-meter run.

WSC high jumper Heath Grone clears the bar at Saturday's Wildcat Track and Field Classic.

Move to new venue will be a good one

In the Press Box by David W. Carstens

I was pleased to see the decision by the Nebraska School Activities Association last week to move the state wrestling tournament to Omaha next year.

It's certainly going to be refreshing not to have to park my car in a muddy cattle washing area maybe some of us won't get flat tires from having to dodge potholes in the parking lot next year.

There are a few things I will miss about moving the three-day tournament from Lincoln, but I am sure the Qwest Center will be a much-needed improvement for the event.

Omaha will more than likely roll out the red carpet next year and it's going to be fun to experience, something new for a change.

I wanted to take a little space this week to say thanks for all of you volunteer youth basketball and wrestling coaches out there who have been working with me the past several weeks.

The time you put in now will touch young lives for years to come.

As those seasons wind down, we will try to get all caught up with scores and pictures from the season in the next few editions.

Several athletes sign letters of intent to play for Wayne State

By David W. Carstens
Of the Herald

A third Wayne High senior athlete announced plans to play athletics at Wayne State College.

Blue Devil softball standout Ashley Carroll of Wayne will join a number of athletes who will play collegiate sports at the college in announcements made official at national letter of intent signing day on Wednesday.

As of press time Wednesday morning, Wayne State announced the names of signees for women's basketball, softball and women's soccer.

Additional names of student-athletes who were expected to sign with the Wildcats were to be released throughout the day on Wednesday.

WSC head softball coach Jon Misfeldt announced that Ashley Carroll had signed a national letter of intent to play softball for the Wildcats.

"Ashley is a solid player who will provide us with great depth in the infield," Misfeldt said. "It is great to have another local talent who is coming off a very successful high school career join the Wildcat program. She is used to winning and we hope that carries over to Wayne State."

Carroll will join Wayne High teammate Jenny Raveling who signed with the Wildcats earlier this year.

Carroll was a three-year starter for the Wayne High softball team and helped the Blue Devils win back-to-back Class C state championships.

While playing third base for the Blue Devils, Carroll led Wayne in home runs during her senior season and holds the school record for most assists.

Ashley Carroll

She was a second team Class C all-state and all-district selection during her junior season and earned honorable mention all-state honors as a senior.

Carroll also earned two letters in track and basketball at Wayne High School.

Ashley is the daughter of Doug and Shannon Carroll of Wayne.

Carroll rounds out a trio of Wayne High seniors who plan to play for the Wildcats as Dana Schuett recently signed a letter of intent to play football at WSC.

Wayne State head women's basketball coach Ryan Williams announced Wednesday that two recruits had signed letters of intent.

West Point Central Catholic's Jackie Knieval and Kylee McGill of Little River, Kan., were named as Wildcat signees.

Knieval is a 6-2 center and was a McDonald's All-American nominee during her senior season and helped guide the Bluejays to a fourth straight Class C-2 state championship.

She joins current WSC Wildcat Allison Steffen, also a former standout for WPCCC.

Jackie Knieval

Knieval averaged 16 points, seven rebounds and two steals per game and Class C-2 All-State First Team honors during her junior and senior seasons.

She also has excelled in track and volleyball at West Point Central Catholic, helping the Bluejays win Class C-2 state volleyball titles during her junior and senior seasons.

"Jackie comes from a great program at West Point Central Catholic and will bring a winning, championship mentality to our program," Williams said. "Her length and athleticism will be fun to coach, she makes a lot of positive things happen. We needed to add some size and athleticism to our inside game and Jackie can do just that."

McGill is a 6-0 forward/center from Little River High School in Kansas.

She was a first team Class 1A All-State selection all four seasons, averaging 17 points, 11 rebounds, four steals and three assists during her senior season and earned the All-Southwest Kansas Player of the Year award.

McGill led Little River High School to three state tournament appearances. She also excelled in volleyball and track at Little River High School receiving numerous honors.

"We are very excited to have Kylee join our program," Williams said. "She is a proven scorer and rebounder and will give added depth to our post play. Kylee is a very competitive individual with great character and will fit the mold of the student-athletes in our program nicely."

WSC head women's soccer coach Oliver Twelvetrees has announced that two more players will join the Wildcats next fall.

They are Elise Lane, a forward from Millard South High School, and midfielder Anne-Marie Lind of Omaha Central High School.

Lane earned Lincoln Journal Star all-state honorable mention during her junior season and helped Millard South to the semifinals at last year's state tournament.

"Elise has an eye for the goal and will help add depth to our forward line," Twelvetrees said.

Lind earned honorable mention all-state honors and second team all-conference during her junior season at Omaha Central.

She is a four time varsity letter winner at Omaha Central and is a member of the Arsenal Strikers, a club team that has won state the last six years.

"Anne-Marie will add a different dimension to our game, she is an extremely creative player who is a proven winner," Twelvetrees said. "She is a solid midfielder who possesses great vision and technical ability."

Schools invited to join NSIC

The Northern Sun Intercollegiate Conference (NSIC) Board of Directors agreed to extend invitations for league membership to the University of Mary and Upper Iowa University last week.

The Board has agreed to expand the league to 10 teams with the addition of University of Mary and Upper Iowa effective with the 2006-07 academic year.

Both Mary and Upper Iowa will be eligible to compete for NSIC championships in 2006-07.

Wayne State athletic director Eric Schoh said the addition of the two schools would expand the Northern Sun's geographic coverage from three to five schools.

"It's a good thing," Schoh said. "And it adds Iowa and North Dakota to the conference coverage."

The University of Mary is a private, Catholic university located in Bismarck, North Dakota.

Upper Iowa University, located in Fayette, Iowa, is the largest private college and only Division II institution in the state.

The NSIC, a Division II conference, is comprised of Bemidji State University, Concordia University-St. Paul, Minnesota State University Moorhead, Northern State University, Southwest Minnesota State University, University of Minnesota, Crookston, Wayne State College and Winona State University.

Winside track opens season

By Lee Koch
Herald Correspondent

Winside's boys' and girls' track teams continue to improve after competing in the first meets of the season.

The Wildcats took 26 athletes to compete in the Dan Lennon meet held in the Dakota Dome in Vermillion S.D. on March 29.

The meet featured athletes from Iowa, Minnesota, South Dakota and Nebraska. An estimated 600 contestants representing over 45 schools participated in the meet. The top five placers in each event were awarded a plaque designating their finish.

Lindsay Harmeier was the lone Wildcat winner as she placed first among 20 athletes in the triple jump. Her 33-foot, 2-inch jump was a quarter of an inch better than runner up Tia Haines of White Lake High School.

Amber Aulner finished fifth of 41 runners in the 3200-meter run in a time of 13:04.2, while Kass Holdorf earned a plaque for his fifth place finish in the 60 meter hurdles in a time of 9.84 seconds.

Other Winside athletes finishing in the top eight places of their event included Bo Brummels (sixth of 55 participants in the 60 meter dash), Dan Morris (eighth place in the 60 meter hurdles), Mark Hawkins (eighth with a jump of 18-feet, 8 inches) in the long jump and the boys 4x200 meter relay team finished eighth out of 22 schools. The relay team included Jordan Brummels, Holdorf, Morris and Bo Brummels.

The Winside boys team finished in a fourth place tie in the nine team field at the Stanton Invitational on March 31.

The team effort was led by Kass Holdorf, who won the 300 hurdles in a time of 42 seconds flat. Holdorf anchored the winning Wildcat 4 x 400 relay team, who completed the race in 4:33. The relay team included Bo Brummels, Dewey Bowers, Mark Hawkins and Holdorf.

Other Winside placers included Bo Brummels (400-meter dash, fourth at 58.55), Mark Hawkins (fourth in the triple jump, 38-10, and fifth in the long jump, 18-7), Marcus Messersmith (third in the triple jump, 38-11 1/2 and third in the high jump, 5-8), Cody Lange (fifth shotput 40-5.25), Justin Nathan (fifth 800 meter run with 2:14.4), Dan Morris (sixth in the 110 meter hurdles, 18.59) and the 4x100 relay (fifth, 46.9, with Dan Morris, Kass Holdorf, Mark Hawkins, Bo Brummels).

Senior Lindsay Harmeier finished third in the triple jump (32-6 1/4) and fourth in the long jump (14-2) to lead the Winside girls' team effort in Stanton.

Also placing for the Wildcats were: Virginia Fleer (fourth 1:21.5) and Kristy Doffin (sixth 1:23.2) in the 800 meter run, Sally Schwedhelm with a throw of 91 feet, 1 inch placed fifth in the discus, Brittany Greunke fifth with a time of 13.50 in the 3200 meter run and Virginia Fleer who ran 6:10.7 in the 1600 meter run to place fifth.

The 3200-meter relay team consisting of Brittany Greunke, Michaela Staub, Kristy Doffin and Virginia Fleer finished in fourth place.

The boys' team won its first team title in three years as the Wildcats outlasted Bancroft-Rosalie 124-122 to win the Hartington Track Invitational on April 7.

The squad was led by the performance of Bo Brummels and Holdorf. Brummels won the 100-meter dash in 11.61 seconds, while Holdorf ran away with 300 hurdles title in 42.63, which was a three second margin over the second place runner.

The team title came down to the last race of the day as both teams were tied at 114 points heading into the 4 x 400 relay.

The girls team scored 104 points and was led by Amber Aulner, who captured gold in the 3200 with a time of 12:54.3.

The Wildcat 4 x 800 team consisting of Aulner, Doffin, Staub and Fleer also took first place with a clocking of 10:54.

Next action for the Wildcats will be on Thursday (today) when the team travels to the Homer Invitational.

Sports Briefs

Wrestlers compete at Madison

MADISON — The Wayne Youth Wrestling team wrapped up its season on April 2 at Madison.

WSC rugby rebounds with weekend win

The Wayne State rugby team traveled to Des Moines, Iowa, last Saturday to face the Des Moines Rugby Club women's team and claimed a 45-0 shutout.

WSC exploded in the game with eight touchdown runs, with every score by first year players.

Vicky Parker, Cami Jo Kalkowski, Karen Sharp, Tiff Shepherd and Dani Rayman all crossed the goal line with Parker scoring three times and Kalkowski twice.

The game was highlighted on the last WSC scoring play as a series of option pitches exchanged the ball with the last pitch coming off an assist by Kylie Hayes that popped the ball out to Parker for a 55 yard touchdown scamper.

WSC will begin rugby conference play this Saturday traveling to Vermillion, S.D. to face USD.

Humanities Council nominations due June 1

The Nebraska Humanities Council is seeking nominations for its board of directors. The deadline for nominees is June 1.

NHC board members are selected statewide from nominees who have a strong interest in the humanities and the cultural life of Nebraska, with special emphasis on community leaders from the state's diverse geographic, occupational and ethnic constituencies. The council seeks a balance between involvement in the humanities and other professional, business or community pursuits. The council is also interested in nominees from Nebraska's Asian communities.

Council members are expected to attend three board meetings a year, serve on one or more subcommittees, assist in private fundraising, make a financial contribution to the council, promote public awareness of the NHC and its objectives and attend and evaluate programs funded by the council.

Among the programs that the council supports are the Great Plains Chautauqua, the Humanities Resource Center Speakers Bureau, "Humanities Desk" programming on Nebraska Public Radio, Capitol Forum on America's Future and the annual Governor's Lecture in the Humanities. For a full description of NHC programs, visit www.nebraskahumanities.org.

Her activities in high school include: sports, National Honor Society, church youth group, band and choir.

April is sexual assault awareness month

April is Sexual Assault Awareness Month. Nebraskans are concerned about sex offenders being in their communities, and voted to require sex offenders to register with law enforcement upon their release from prison. The Community Notification Act allows law enforcement to alert the community to SOME of the offenders. While community notifications may help some people feel safer in their communities, Haven House would like to take this opportunity to remind everyone that most sex offenders are never identified by this system.

The best way to keep yourself and your family safe from sexual assault is to learn the facts. Contact Haven House at 1-800-876-6238 (statewide) 24 hours a day for more information or to schedule informational programs.

Sower Award nominations due June 1

The Nebraska Humanities Council (NHC) is seeking nomina-

Previous awards have recognized the work of humanities faculty who have taken the humanities to the public beyond their classroom; volunteers who have enhanced the cultural life of their state and thoughtful journalists and filmmakers who have brought the humanities to bear on important public issues.

Among other winners are museums, historical societies and libraries that have expanded their mission to include active collaborations with schools, churches and civic organizations; businesses and foundations whose support for the humanities has enriched Nebraskans' lives; and communities that have incorporated local ethnic and historical identity in community planning and economic development.

Among individuals who have won the Sower Award are historian Frederick Luebke, public TV pioneers Jack McBride, and Ron Hull, State Sen. LaVon Crosby, storyteller Nancy Duncan, humanities advocate Jack Campbell, philanthropist E.N. "Jack" Thompson, and poet Don Welch. Winning institutions include El Museo Latino, the Beatrice Public Library and the Omaha World-Herald. Cozad, Gering and Scottsbluff are among communities that have won the award.

NEBRASKA HUMANITIES COUNCIL

tions for its annual Sower Award in the Humanities, which recognizes individuals, institutions, businesses and communities that have made a significant contribution to public understanding of the humanities in Nebraska.

Sower Award nominations must be postmarked no later than June 1. For more information or to receive a nomination form, contact the Nebraska Humanities Council at 215 Centennial Mall South, Suite 500, Lincoln, NE 68508; call (402) 474-2131, ext. 102, fax (402) 474-4852 or email hhc@nebraskahumanities.org

The Sower Award will be presented during ceremonies at the 10th Annual Governor's Lecture in the Humanities.

Regular Eye Exams

Growing old doesn't have to mean losing your eyesight. Many causes of blindness in older adults can be prevented by getting regular eye exams. For those over 40, that means every 2-4 years and for people over 65, every 1-2 years. A qualified specialist can check for early stages of glaucoma by dilating your eyes. Diabetes left untreated can also lead to loss of vision. Eating a healthy diet, not smoking, wearing sunglasses that protect against ultraviolet rays and regular exams can all help prevent eye disease.

WSC to host Plains Writers Festival

The Wayne State College Department of Languages and Literature will host The Plains Writers Festival on Thursday, April 21.

The festival, which will be held in the Humanities Building on the Wayne State campus, is sponsored in part by four Nebraska-based publishers: Lone Willow, Morpo, The Backwaters Presses and Logan House.

The festival will showcase ten Nebraska writers and poets, including Nebraska State Poet William Kloeffkorn, Neil Harrison and Barbara Schmitz of Norfolk, Marjorie Saiser of Lincoln, and Omaha poets Matt Mason, Sarah McKinstry-Brown, Steven Langan, Dan Leamen and Bruce Koborg.

The readings will begin at 9:30 a.m. and run through the day. They are free and open to the public. In addition, the publishers will host a book fair through the day.

The festival will conclude that evening with SLAM XIII at Riley's Pub in downtown Wayne beginning at 7 p.m.

For more information, contact J. V. Brummels at 402-375-7401.

Annual WSC Spring Run-Off 5-K Fun Run/Walk scheduled

The Department of HHPs, Stadium Sports, and the Northeast Nebraska Department of Health and Human Services is sponsoring the third Annual Spring Run-Off on Saturday, April 23.

The 5-K (3.1 miles) event is open to runners and walkers of all ages. Registration and check-in for pre-registered runners begins at 9 a.m. The 5-K run will start at 10 from the Stadium, with the walkers starting right after the runners. Age group trophies for winners and medals for 2-6 as well as special awards will be given. All activities will conclude by noon, just in time for the Spring Football Scrimmage at 1 p.m.

The entry fee is $15 up to the day of the event for WSC students, and Blair Sommerfeld, Deniz Rudin, Kel Gahagen, Megan Powell, Renae Allemann, Heidi Garvin, Erin Zink, Maddie Jager, and Jenny Holm.

State speech participants were: Ashley Gentrup, Adem

Lead-Safe practices training classes to be offered

Any housing contractor or worker who has not yet attended and successfully completed the training course for the safe removal of lead-based paint will have another opportunity to participate in a training course offered in Norfolk.

The training is scheduled for Thursday, April 21 from 8 a.m. to 5 p.m. (lunch on your own) at the Howard Johnson Express-White House Inn in Norfolk, 2206 Market Lane (West High 275 bypass). Registration is $85 and includes a student manual.

The deadline to register is Monday, April 18.

The eight-hour "Lead-Safe Work Practice Training" course is geared toward contractors and workers whose rehabilitation or remodeling work includes structural repairs, weatherization and unit upgrading. Participants will learn how to perform interim controls of lead hazards in federally-assisted housing under HUD's Lead-Safe Housing Rule. Upon successful completion of the course, participants will receive a certificate indicating that they have received this training and can provide lead-safe work practices services.

Della Pries said, "Contractors working with HUD-funded housing programs must be trained in Lead-Safe Work Practices, at a minimum, if their remodeling or rehabilitation work will disturb lead-based paint."

Other federally funded housing programs also have this requirement.

Pries is also asking that the contractors contact her after they have completed this course so she can put them on her Lead Base Paint Safe Practice list.

Contractors may contact Leigh Alexander at (402) 582-3580.

Local families needed

ASSE International Student Exchange Programs is seeking local host families for boys and girls, from a variety of countries around the world.

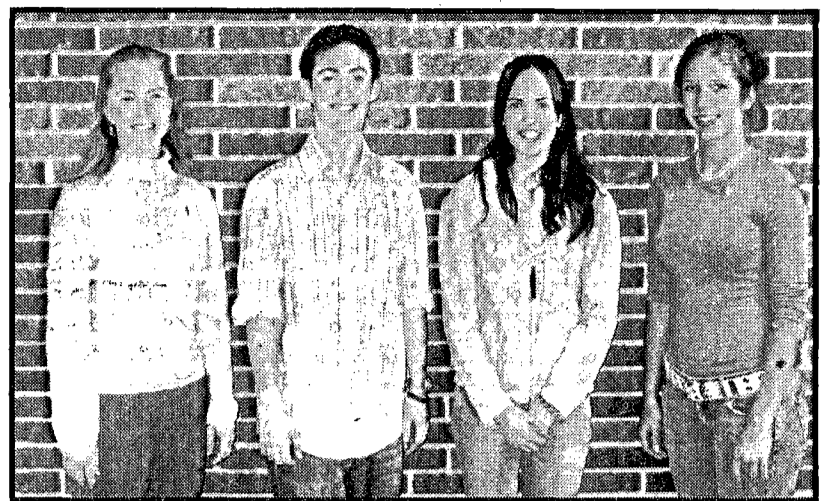

These exchange students are 15 to 18 years of age, and are coming to this area for the upcoming high school year or semester. These reasonable and academically select exchange students have good English and are anxious to learn about the USA by living as part of your family, by attending high school and by sharing their own culture and language with you.

The exchange students arrive from their home country shortly before school begins and return at the end of the school year or semester. Each ASSE student is fully insured, brings his or her own personal spending money and expects to bear his or her share of household responsibilities, as well as being included in normal family activities and lifestyles.

The students are well screened and qualified by ASSE. Families may select the youngster of their choice from extensive student applications, family photos and biographical essays.

To become a host family or find out more about ASSE and its programs, please call 1-800-736-1760. There are hundreds of students to choose from, so call and begin the process of selecting your new son or daughter today.

Yearbook participants present at the coffee included, left to right, Advisor Lauren Walton, Alex Wieland, Megan Powell and Sarah Jensen.

You Can Stay in the Area for Cataract Surgery... So You Can Focus on the Little Things.

John R. Willcockson, M.D. Ophthalmologist, Cataract & Laser Surgery

Donald E. Koerber, O.D. Optometrist, Primary Eye Care

Larry M. Magnuson, O.D. Optometrist, Primary Eye Care

Cataracts affect over 80% of our senior citizens. In fact over one million cataract surgeries are performed annually in the U.S. alone.

New technological developments in implants, ultrasonic equipment, lasers, diagnostic testing, and surgical techniques have made cataract surgery one of the most effective procedures today. Currently over 98% of cataract patients experience significant improvements in vision, without major complications.

Until now, the high cost of this new technology for cataract surgery was only available in the larger surgical facilities. This meant that you would have to travel for a complete eye examination and surgery. Not any longer.

Complete eye care and cataract surgery is now available at Providence Medical Center in Wayne. You don't have to travel outside of your community to have your vision tested for cataracts. With Dr. Willcockson, Dr. Koerber and Dr. Magnuson offering comprehensive diagnostic and surgical services, you now have the most advanced eye care available right here in town.

Call Dr. Koerber or Dr. Magnuson for a complete eye examination and cataract vision screening today. If you would like more information on cataracts for yourself or someone you know who may be experiencing loss of vision, call today for a free informational brochure.

Leo Ahmann attends class on economic development

Leo Ahmann, Interim Executive Director of the Wayne Area of Chamber of Commerce, was one of approximately 70 students, representing six states, attending the 18th annual Heartland Economic Development Course April 3-7 in Excelsior Springs, Mo.

The Heartland Economic Development Course allows participants to gain a better understanding of the full range of economic development strategies. The course instructs participants on ways to maximize the use of local and external resources and attempts to impart an understanding of the effects of global competition on local efforts.

"With fierce competition among communities and regions for new sources of jobs, income and labor, enhanced professional skills and understanding of economic development techniques becomes absolutely critical for success," said LaDene Bowen, Course Director for the Heartland EDC.

As the first economic development course targeted at professionals within the region, the curriculum for the Heartland EDC focuses on economic development factors relevant to the Great Plains states.

Completion of course is the step toward meeting the education prerequisites for sitting for the certified professional economic developer exam administered by the IEDC.

The Heartland EDC is developed and directed by the Institute for Decision Making, Business and Community Services Division, University of Northern Iowa in cooperation with the Kansas Economic Development Alliance; Professional Developers of Iowa; Missouri Economic Development Council; Nebraska Economic Development Association and the Oklahoma Economic Development Association.

Pariss Bethune, left is the Girls State representative and Kayla Hochstein is the alternate.

Wayne's Girls State representatives chosen

This year's Girls State representative and alternate have been chosen to represent Wayne.

Pariss Bethune, a junior at Wayne High School will be the Girls State representative.

She is the daughter of Ken and Pat Bethune. She is a junior at Wayne High School.

Her school activities include cross country, color guard, jazz band, pep band, FBLA, Spanish Club, W-Club and serving as a peer tutor.

Pariss has served as class treasurer and FRIENDS secretary.

In addition, she was served as a volunteer in the nursing home, spent five years as a Girl Scout, attended 11 years of religious education at St. Mary's Catholic Church where she is a member and has been involved with road-side cleanup.

Her application letter indicated that she is interested in government and hopes to find out more about how the system deals with the complications that arise and what lawmakers' plans are for bettering the nation's future.

This year's Girls' State alternate is Kayla Hochstein, daughter of Dale and Laura Hochstein of Wayne.

During her high school career she has been involved in varsity softball, varsity basketball, varsity track & field, marching band, pep band, concert band and junior class core group representative.

She served as the freshman class secretary and was a HOBY alternate as a sophomore.

Kayla has assisted with the Lions Club Little Kids Track Meet, served as clock operator for W-Club tournaments and as a concession worker.

In addition to school activities, she has served as a Vacation Bible School Aide, been involved with roadside cleanup and the WINGS Youth Group at St. Mary's Catholic Church. At church she also serves as a Eucharistic Minister and Music Ministry Leader.

Her application letter indicated she hoped to learn more about the government system because "it is unique and effective. I feel the Nebraska system reduces the effect of bipartisan bias and allows legislators to more freely represent their constituents."

New leadership

Health Fair is a success

Over 250 people participated in Wednesday, March 30, at the Allen the Health Fair held on High School. Teens from Allen, Ponca, Newcastle, Wakefield and Emerson schools participated. Special thanks goes to the Allen High School for hosting the event and all of the organizations that provided booths, speakers, screening, door prizes, food, and a variety of health related materials.

The program focus from 1 until 3 p.m. was for teens. Topics included: Internet Safety, When Choices are Not Healthy, and Self Defense. More than 20 booths and screenings will be part of the afternoon. Other speakers in the afternoon will address topics of Diabetes; Alzheimers and Normal Memory Loss, Low Carb and other Popular Diets, Steps for Health, and Radon.

Teens from the Allen High School provided health and safety related programs and activities for area youth. They participated in activities that measured nutrition knowledge, fire safety, and more. Forty elementary youth participated in the activities and competed for prizes. Sandy Chase was their instructor, who helped coordinate these activities.

Screening that will be part of the program are for Blood Pressure, Fitness, Blood Sugar, Fat Analysis, Pulmonary Function, and much more.

Members of the planning committee included a wide variety of organizations and included: Sandy Chase, Allen High School; Michelle Rinas, Ponca High School; JoAnn Rahn, Allen; Fran Carnell, Ponca; Barbara Sievers, Ponca; Leta White, Ponca Senior Center and Sandy Preston, UNL Extension, Dixon County.

HEALTH FACTS
From your Local Homecare Nurses

Diabetes - Diabetes is a condition in which the body does not produce or properly use insulin. Insulin is a hormone that is needed to convert sugar, starches and other food into energy that is needed for daily life.

The cause of diabetes continues to be a mystery, however, genetics and environmental factors such as obesity and lack of exercise appear to play roles.

There are 18.2 million people in the United States that have diabetes. It is estimated that 5-10% of Americans have Type I diabetes, which is the body's failure to produce insulin, the hormone that "unlocks" the cells of the body allowing glucose to enter and fuel them. The rest of the population, approximately 90-95%, have Type II diabetes, which is when the body has insulin deficiency and fails to use the insulin properly. Unfortunately, approximately 52 million people are unaware they have diabetes. Some of the first symptoms may include excessive thirst, frequent urination, weight loss or blurred vision.

If you or a family member suspect you may have diabetes, see your physician.

Donna Evans

"I am diabetic and unable to fill my own insulin syringes. With the help of the Home Health Care nurses who come to my home and fill my syringes, I am able to give my own insulin injection and remain in my own home."

Briefly Speaking

PEO chapter learns about fitness trail

WAYNE - PEO Chapter ID met March 31 in the home of Kathy Johnson.

Co-hostesses were Jodi Pulfer and Marian Clark. The program was introduced by Kathy Johnson. Lowell Johnson spoke about the new fitness trail in Wayne.

The next program will be in the home of Karen Marra. Kaki Ley will give the program.

Minerva Club meets with Lois Youngerman

AREA - The Minerva Club met April 11 at the home of Lois Youngerman.

The president opened the meeting with a spring poem by Ted Kooser. Ten members answered roll call with what they liked about spring. Phyllis Rahn was a visitor.

Minutes were read and approved and the treasurer's report was given.

Historic moments by Hollis Frese were read from the minutes of the May 9, 1966 meeting, emphasizing a program by Minnie Rice on the Turbulent 20th Century. Another meeting in April of 1966 mentioned Maude Swan showing pictures of her trip to Hawaii.

The nominating committee presented a slate of officers who were unanimously elected.

Discussion was held on planting flowers at the library.

The next meeting will be Monday, April 25 at the home of Joyce Mitchell.

Lois Youngerman's program centered on James Lord Pierpont's life. He was the composer of "Jingle Bells."

Acme Club gathers at Senior Center

AREA - The Senior Center was the meeting place for seven Acme Club members to enjoy a Dutch treat luncheon on April 4.

President Verdelle Reeg called the meeting to order. She gave the thought for the day.

Roll call was answered by stating if your April Fool's joke was a success or failure.

The minutes of the previous meeting were read and approved. The treasurer's report was read and filed for review.

Joann Temme reported that her group is continuing to work with the librarian in choosing a book to mark the club's 120th anniversary.

Mary Doescher will host the Monday, April 18 meeting and will notify members as to where it will be held.

Members were reminded to bring their poems to Delores Utecht to compile.

The meeting adjourned.

Elenor Jensen read various club minutes from years past.

Margaret McClelland hosts PEO chapter

AREA - Chapter AZ PEO met April 5 at the home of Margaret McClelland. Pam Matthes and Joan Carhart assisted the hostess.

The yearbook committee distributed the new 2005-06 yearbooks. Dianne Leighty gave the program, showing different kinds yarns and crocheted and knitted articles available at her store.

The next meeting will be a 7:30 p.m. evening meeting at the home of Pam Matthes on Tuesday, April 19.

Card shower being requested for Mr. and Mrs. Werner Mann

Trish and Paul Jackson

Jacksons to perform at Praise Assembly of God

Paul and Trish Jackson will present a versatile program of vocal music, guitar and keyboards at Praise Assembly of God, 1000 E. 10th Street on Thursday, April 28 at 7 p.m.

The program is open to the public. A free will offering will be taken. The presentation is by Jetstream Ministries, Inc.

Since 1976, the Jacksons have traveled from coast to coast in the United States, Canada, and overseas sharing in concerts, revivals, camps, retreats, crusades, and service clubs. The couple has performed in Branson.

They have also received numerous awards from the CGMA

(Country Gospel Music Association) including Reciter of the Year, Lyricist of the Year, Instrumentalist of the Year, Sound Engineer of the Year, Female Vocalist of the Year, Female Entertainer of the Year, Male Entertainer of the Year, Acapella Group of the Year, Duo of the Year, Vocal Group of the Year, Children's Ministry of the Year, and Comedian of the Year with their hilarious portrayal of "Harley & Mama."

The Jacksons are also members of CMA, the Christian Motorcyclists Assn., and find this to be another exciting area of ministry that reaches far beyond the walls of the church.

Wayne Area Association of Retired School Personnel met March 7 at Tacos & More in Wayne.

Twelve members were present. Loren Park, who serves as Disaster Director in the Wayne County Chapter, gave an informative program on the American Red Cross. He had hand-out sheets telling of the year's activities, board member personnel and the financial side of the organization.

He stressed that volunteers make this much-needed program possible.

The next meeting of the Retired School Personnel organization will be Monday, May 2 at the Pizza Ranch in Laurel.

Right at Home Design and Decorating Inspiration

Getting personal...

Whether your home is new with a blank canvas or reflects the taste of a previous owner, you can give it a personal, decorating touch by considering the following things...

Color - the easiest and most affordable way to add something to a room. Color sets the mood. Consider room size when looking to add color. Before committing look at paint chips or wall paper samples in the room during both daylight and evening lighting.

Furniture arrangement - Furniture is the clothing of a room. Although you want it to be beautiful it must also be comfortable and functional. Think of traffic patterns, conversation areas, and focal areas in a room such as fireplaces and entertainment units.

Pattern - Pattern adds personality. The trick is using pattern in coordination. Mix and match as long as there are common colors or shapes.

Stay tuned as we continue our discussion on ways to make a room and your home a reflection of your personal style.

Registrations now being accepted for 4-H summer academic camps

Youth have the opportunity to explore career fields alongside University of Nebraska-Lincoln faculty during the 2005 Big Red Summer Academic Camps in June and July.

Several academic departments are teaming up with Nebraska 4-H to host a series of career exploration camps open to Nebraska junior and senior high school students, said Kathleen Lodi, 4-H youth development specialist. "These three to five day camps are designed to provide students with an introduction to UNL, as well as exposure to a future career field," she said.

Participants can choose from topics such as child development, building the best burger, culinology, movie making, golf, fashion design, horsemanship, computers and more. Each camp will have a culminating event to allow campers to demonstrate their new knowledge and skills.

Camp participants will explore UNL, experience campus life, interact with faculty members and develop friendships with peers who have similar interests, Lodi said.

Camp titles, dates and topics are:

June 12-17 -- Fashion Design, ninth-12th grade. Participants will enhance their design skills and learn to select and work with natural fibers such as cotton, silk and wool.

June 12-17 -- Culinary, ninth-12th grade. Participants will explore this new career field and bring out their creative side with activities such as plate painting, dessert designing and garnishing dishes with edible flowers.

June 12-17 -- Golf, ninth-12th grade. Participants will learn, develop or improve their golf game. A PGA professional will teach the lessons.

June 12-17 -- Child Development, ninth-12th grade. Become a camp assistant during the third annual Ruth Staples Nature Camp for children ages 3-5. Learn how children think, behave and learn about their world.

June 12-17 -- Ultimate IT Getaway for Girls, ninth-12 grade. Design a Web site complete with animation. Camp fee includes Flash software.

June 12-17 -- Linux Boot Camp, ninth-12th grade. Participants will get hands-on experience with Linux, a free operating system used to create software programs, ranging from simple games to 3-D simulation software.

June 12-17 -- Theatre, ninth-12th grade. Participants will meet and work with theater professionals from across the country in workshops, rehearsals and performances. At the end of the week, there will be a fully staged workshop production that will give every camper the opportunity to act.

June 12-17 -- Movie-making, 10th-12th grade. Participants will be immersed in theater during one full week of classes, workshops, rehearsals and performances working with movie-making professionals from Nebraska and across the country.

June 14-17 -- Horsemanship, ninth-12th grade. Participants will learn about horse anatomy, care, handling, riding and career possibilities.

June 14-17 -- Building the Best Burger, ninth-12th grade. Discover the fast-paced, high-paying challenging and rewarding careers in the world of food and animal science.

July 17-22 -- Web Design/Flash/3-D Animation, ninth-12th grade. Design a Web site complete with animation. Explore Flash animation and create a Flash movie and use 3-D animation. Camp fee includes Flash software.

July 17-22 -- Media Mania, ninth-12 grade. This camp will offer an introduction to the media world from the perspectives of creators of media messages and their intended audiences. Explore the changing media environment and discuss issues facing the industry today.

Registration deadline is May 1. Register early as space is limited and camps will fill on a first-come, first-served basis.

For more information about the camps, cost, scholarship information or a registration form, visit the Web site at <http://bigredcamps.unl.edu/> or contact Lodi at (402) 472-9012 or e-mail klodi1@unl.edu.

4-H is part of Cooperative Extension in the university's Institute of Agriculture and Natural Resources.

Pioneer Farm Families sought

The Knights of Ak-Sar-Ben Foundation and the Nebraska Fair Managers has announced that nominations for the 50th annual Nebraska Pioneer Farm Awards are being accepted. The program honors farm families in Nebraska whose land has been owned by members of the same family for 100 years or more.

To date, over 6,000 families in 93 Nebraska counties have been honored at various county fairs. Each honoree receives an engraved plaque and gatepost marker as a permanent recognition of this milestone.

Nomination forms can be obtained from the local County Fair Board Office or by writing the Ak-Sar-Ben Pioneer Farm Awards, 302 South 36th Street, Suite 800, Omaha, Neb. 68131. All nominations must be received by the county fair board office in which the land is found by May 1, 2005.

This program is one of those supported by the Knights of Ak-Sar-Ben Foundation which was founded in 1895 "to build a more prosperous Heartland, where communities can flourish and every child can succeed."

LEAD Fellowship applications accepted

Fellowship applications for Nebraska LEAD (Leadership Education/Action Development) Group XXV are now available for men and women involved in production agriculture or agribusiness.

Up to 30 individuals will be selected from production agriculture and agribusiness with preference given to individuals ages 25 through 50 who have "demonstrated leadership potential", according to Allen G. Blezek, Nebraska LEAD Program director.

In addition to monthly three-day seminars, throughout Nebraska (September through March) each year, LEAD "Fellows" also participate in a 10-day National Study/Travel Seminar and a two-to-three-week International Study/Travel Seminar. Seminar themes include economics, foreign cultures, government, communications, international trade, politics, business, labor, environment, finance and industry, as well as agriculture, Blezek said.

The Program is designed to prepare the spokespersons, problem-solvers and decision makers for Nebraska and its agriculture industry, Blezek said.

Applications are due no later than June 15 and are available from the Nebraska LEAD program at Room 318 Biochemistry Hall, University of Nebraska-Lincoln, 68583-0763 or by phoning the office at (402) 472-6810 and requesting an application packet.

Nebraska LEAD Program offices are at the Institute of Agriculture and Natural Resources on NU's East Campus in Lincoln.

Baier is award winner

The United States Achievement Academy has announced that Scott Baier of Wayne has been named a United States National Award winner in English.

This award is a prestigious honor very few students can ever hope to attain. In fact, the Academy recognizes fewer than 10 percent of all American high school students.

Scott, who attends Wayne High School, was nominated for this national award by Sylvia Ruhl, an English teacher at the school.

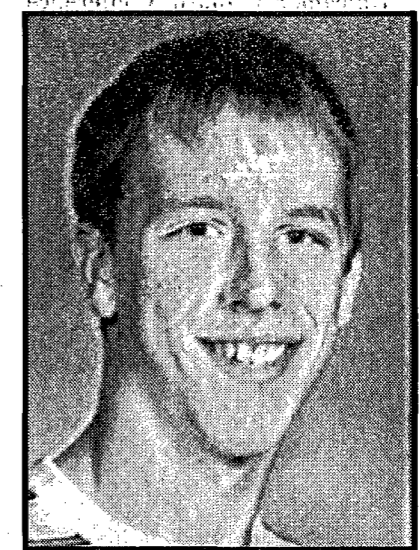

His name will appear in the United States Achievement Academy Official Yearbook, which is published nationally.

"Recognizing and supporting our youth is more important than ever before in America's history. Certainly, United States Achievement Academy winners should be congratulated and appreciated for their dedication to excellence and achievement," said Dr. George Stevens, Executive Director of the United States Achievement Academy.

The Academy selects USSA winners upon the exclusive recommendation of teachers, coaches, counselors and other qualified sponsors and upon the Standards of Selection set forth by the Academy.

The criteria for selection are a student's academic performance, interest and aptitude, leadership qualities, responsibility, enthusiasm, motivation to learn and improve, citizenship, attitude and cooperative spirit, dependability and recommendation from a teacher or director.

Scott is the son of David and Joan Baier of Wayne. His grandparents are Irma Baier of Wayne and LaVerle and Delores Schnoor of Norfolk.

Rain is welcome

Finally, a general soaking rain! We have really been needing April showers and they have arrived. And, so far, minus the tornadoes that were forecast yesterday.

I had a speaking gig at Dana College in Blair yesterday. Since I didn't know for sure where I was going, I left early. The sun was shining here, and the temperature was 65 degrees. I had on a light, unlined, cotton jacket that coordinated with my outfit. Actually, I call it my speaking outfit, because I wear it all the time.

By the time I headed towards Blair on highway 30, it was dark and grey and ominous. The radio was full of static and kept giving little weather warning gongs. It made me nervous.

It was raining at Blair, and I was trying to follow my directions on the thing from mapquest. We have learned that mapquest gives directions for the shortest distance, not necessarily the shortest time. When I admitted I was lost and pulled into the YMCA, it was pouring. Heading back on highway 75 towards the college, it hailed, too. I pulled into a service station to wait it out.

I got wet going into the campus building, and I got soaked going out. Then I drove south towards Elkhorn because I was scheduled in Dorchester last evening. Here the rain let up and only the clouds stayed with me. Again, as I got closer to my destination, driving south of the Interstate on highway 15, there were those grey clouds with ragged edges that seem to signal storms.

But there weren't any, and I drove back home at 8:30 in rain all the way. I don't like driving at night in the first place, and in the rain, it was just more nerve-wracking. My guardian angel works that way.

The Farmer's Wife
By: Pat Meierhenry

overtime at those times. The event in Dorchester was to celebrate one year of a walking program coordinated by the Crete and Friend hospitals. I sat by a delightful woman from a little hamlet called Sprague and she shared with me that she and four friends walk every morning, six days a week. On the seventh, they attend the Sprague Community Church and walk in the afternoon.

On their walks, they carry plastic bags and pick up cans. These go to Trinity Chapel in Roca, where they are collected and turned in for cash. The cash then goes to a place in Lincoln that serves a daily meal for twenty cents! And I'm reading that there are more and more hungry people in our two major cities.

If some outfit can rustle up something to eat for that amount per person, they deserve a lot of credit. And I think I'll start collecting cans and turning them in for that purpose, too.

These five women are doing something good for themselves in socialization and exercise, keeping their little town cleaned up, and providing food for others while they do it. I think they deserve some kind of award, and I'm trying to come up with one. We could all do well to emulate.

Anyway, it drizzled here all night, and it looks like we could get more today, so my closet-cleaning project will keep me in the house. And, hopefully, that grass seed will finally take off!

Livestock Market Report

The fat cattle sale was held Friday at the Norfolk Livestock Market. There was a run of 500 fat cattle. The market was $3 to $4 lower on fat cattle and $8 to $10 lower on cows.

Strictly choice fed steers were $90 to $93. Good and choice steers were $88 to $90. Holstein steers were $75 to $84. Strictly choice fed heifers were $90 to $93. ## Early alfalfa pests require attention

Army cutworms and alfalfa weevils are early spring pests of alfalfa.

Cutworms feed on newly emerging leaves near the crown of alfalfa. This feeding often slows or delays alfalfa green-up. Look for army cutworms near the crowns of your alfalfa plants. During daylight they often are found in the loose soil surrounding the plant. Scratch around the crown area in the soil to find them if you don't see them right away.

Del Hemsath
Extension Educator

The economic threshold for spraying insecticide is four or more cutworms per square foot on established alfalfa, but only two larvae are needed in fields seeded just last year.

Once your alfalfa gets four to six inches tall, spraying for cutworms is unlikely to be beneficial unless you see a lot of active leaf feeding. At this four to six inch height, begin monitoring fields for alfalfa weevil instead. Weevil damage first appears as small holes eaten on new leaves near the growing tips. As feeding increases, the field begins to take on a grayish tint.

If you see damage, carefully cut 50 stems per field and shake the stems against the inside of a bucket. Count the number of weevil larvae in the bucket and use charts available at local extension offices to help you make a decision on whether to control the weevils. If control is recommended, either harvest alfalfa early or use approved insecticides.

Monitor your alfalfa fields regularly this spring for army cutworms and alfalfa weevils in order to save on the first cutting losses.

Annual Unicameral Youth Conference slated in June

Unicameral Youth Conference 2005 will give youth a chance to learn the ins and outs of Nebraska's unique legislative process.

Registration has begun for the June 12-15 conference in Lincoln. Youth in grades 9-12 are eligible.

Participants will learn how to make a difference in their communities, learn the art of debate, make friends with similar interests and learn how to be a state senator, said Bob Meduna, University of Nebraska Cooperative Extension educator and district 4-H youth program coordinator.

Participants will spend three days at the Capitol interacting with legislative aides, policy experts and others, Meduna said.

They will take on the role of state senator, learning how a bill becomes law, how individuals are affected by issues, how conflict and controversy are part of the legislative system, the importance of compromise and the connection between Nebraska's government and world affairs.

Registration is required as space is limited. The cost of $200 covers all programs, meals and housing at the University of Nebraska-Lincoln's East Campus. Some scholarships are available.

Participants do not have to be 4-H members.

For more information about the Nebraska 4-H Unicameral Youth Conference or a registration form, visit the Web at <http://4h.unl.edu/programs/citizenship/civics/uyc/index.htm>, contact a local extension office or Meduna at (402) 472-9582 or e-mail rmeduna1@unl.edu.

Nebraska Cooperative Extension is in the university's Institute of Agriculture and Natural Resources.

United Airlines Trust Fund grants are available

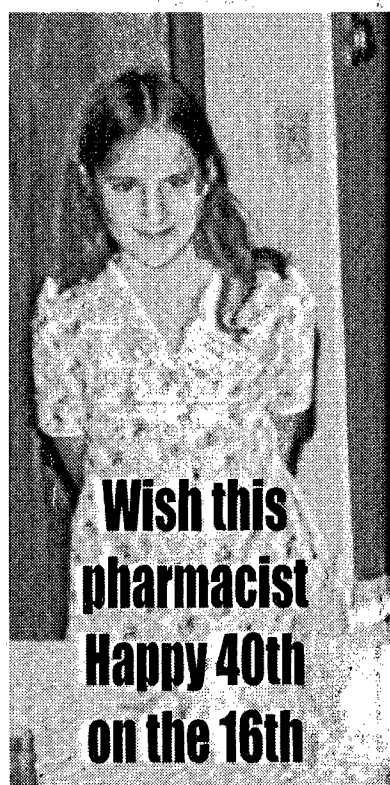

The Siouxland Community Foundation which serves a general 50-mile tri-state radius of Sioux City, Iowa, is now accepting applications for its United Airlines Trust Fund grant program.

An original and three copies of the grant proposal must be submitted to the Foundation postmarked on or before the May 15 application deadline. Awarded grants generally do not exceed $2,500.

In 1989, a donation from United Airlines to the Siouxland Community Foundation established this endowed Fund to commemorate Siouxland's response to the United Airlines Flight 232 incident. Grants are available to non-profit organizations and governmental agencies for emergency response and public safety projects that:

1. Promote or facilitate the development of social services, counseling, health care or crisis planning for use in the event of a community crisis or health hazard.
2. Establish or conduct educational programs which promote public safety or enhance a community's ability to respond to a local crisis.
3. Organize or assist the development of any civic organization which may be called upon to respond to a community disaster.
4. Provide training in social services and health care for public personnel who may be called upon to respond to any community disaster.
5. Provide any other community-based activity which promotes public safety.

Applications may be requested by contacting Debbie or Carolyn at the Siouxland Community Foundation, 505 Fifth Street, Suite 412, Sioux City, Iowa, 51101; (712) 293-3303; sxldfdn@aol.com

April is Public Health Month in Nebraska

Men and women are living longer than ever, thanks in large part to public health measures, according to Dr. Richard Raymond, director of the Nebraska Department of Health and Human Services Regulation and Licensure. "Living stronger, longer" is the theme of this year's Public Health Month in Nebraska.

Women now have a life expectancy of 80 years and men 75 years, or an average of 77.6 years, an all-time high, according to information from the National Center for Health Statistics. In 1900, the average age at date of death was 47, or 30 years younger than today.

The greater part of this increase in longevity can be attributed to public health measures such as health education, sanitation and vaccination," Dr. Raymond said.

"Of those 30 extra years of life, 25 of them are thanks to public health successes," Dr. Raymond said.

Challenges to public health a century ago included childhood diseases, crowded living conditions and smoking. In 1900, 30 percent of deaths were among children five years of age and under. Many of these deaths were the result of contaminated food and water and infections that now have been eliminated or greatly reduced by immunizations and antibiotics.

Childhood immunizations have led to a reduction or virtual elimination of diseases like polio, whooping cough, measles, tetanus, and rubella; In 2000, less than two percent of deaths were among children age five and under.

Smoking has dropped from a high of 44 percent in the 1960s to 22 percent.

Today's challenges include emerging infectious diseases like SARS and West Nile virus and the growing epidemic of obesity.

"The increasing number of obese youth and adults not only threatens a reversal of our increasing life span but also has the potential to reduce health in our senior years. Obesity contributes to chronic conditions like diabetes, arthritis, high blood pressure, and cardiovascular disease," Dr. Raymond said.

Longevity has been greatly increased in the last century but "people want not only to live long lives but to be healthy and independent during their senior years," Dr. Raymond said.

The keys to longevity and good health include:

- Keeping immunizations up to date, including influenza, tetanus, and pneumonia;
- Taking medications as prescribed; one in four older adults skips doses of medication because of costs, which can lead to health problems later;

Removing tripping hazards in the home that can lead to falls, which are the most common causes of injuries to older adults;

Adopting a healthy lifestyle, which includes being physically active, eating a healthy diet, avoiding tobacco products and practicing other healthy behaviors.

"The lifestyle choices that we make everyday can determine whether we live to be 75 or 100" Dr. Raymond said. "Taking a walk, eating fruits and vegetables, avoiding sugar, not smoking - these are the things that make the difference."

Visit www.livingto100.com for a Life Expectancy Calculator, a practical and empowering tool for individuals to estimate their longevity potential, sponsored by the Alliance for Aging Research.

For Pete's sake tell him.

Maybe he mentions chest pains. Maybe he makes jokes about shortness of breath. You're his best friend. Tell him. He should talk to someone at Mercy Heart Center. Maybe you should even drive him in for an appointment. That's what friends do.
