Leaders travel to lobby for roadway

Several local officials, including Wayne Mayor Lois Shelton, was among those who traveled to the nation's capitol to meet with congressmen and other officials.

Approximately 70 people were involved in the trip that was sponsored by the Siouxland Chamber of Commerce.

"The purpose of this trip was to lobby for issues important to the region, including the Highway 35 Expressway," Mayor Shelton said.

While in Washington, the group met with Secretary of Transportation, Norman Mineta and a number of congressmen and senators, as well as former Nebraska Governor, now Secretary of Agriculture, Mike Johanns.

The group spent the two days in conversation with the elected officials in an attempt to secure additional funding for the Highway 35 Expressway in Nebraska and the Highway 20 project across Iowa.

"The goal is to create two routes into Sioux City and establish a route from Minneapolis and Chicago to Denver," Mayor Shelton said.

She noted that studies on the Highway 35 Expressway continue to be done and an exact route has not yet been determined.

Mayor Shelton noted that the members of the group were "an interesting mix" and included businesses owners, attorneys and members of chamber.

Meth use to be focus of program

A call to action to address the scourge of methamphetamine use in Nebraska will be issued in a special program on Monday, May 9, at Northeast Community College in Norfolk.

U.S. Congressman Tom Osborne will be among the speakers for the half-day event.

The panel, entitled "Methamphetamine: A Statewide Call To Action," is scheduled from 1-4 p.m. in the Cox Activities Center. The event will also be available on a satellite down link on NebSatII, Channel 105.

The event will also be broadcast live on Wayne cable channel 24 for Wayne Hfntel viewers.

Moderated by State Senator Mike Flood, the afternoon will include an

Time left to include your story in the Elderfest memory book

By Lynn Sievers
Of the Herald

Elderfest was held recently at the Wayne City Auditorium. Not only was it a day-long celebration but also an opportunity for folks to reminisce. From a list of 10 questions, 55 people recalled their memories which will be included in the 2005 Elderfest year-book/memory book. If you missed the chance to tell your story, talk with Dianne Leighty, owner of dianne's at 210 Main Street in Wayne, by July 1. You can stop in or call her at 833-5315.

The idea for a memory book came about because Leighty had been reading the book, "What's Worth Knowing," a collection of stories from people who were in their 70s, 80s, 90s, and 100s. Leighty loved the book and shared it with Sandra Bartling, Foundation Director at Providence Medical Center. Bartling and another PMC employee, Diane Peterson, therapist, had been thinking of the Elderfest idea and asked Leighty to be part of the committee.

At Elderfest, Leighty, Deb Harm, and Deb Morlok talked with 55 people who shared their stories. The questions that were asked were: What does it take to make a good life? What is your best advice for a happy marriage? What is your favorite childhood memory? What were your responsibilities as a child? What are your memories of WWII? What is your favorite memory of your grandmother/grandfather? What is your favorite memory of school? What are your hobbies?

- When did you start these hobbies?
- What is your earliest memory of radio, television, cars, etc.?
- What are your favorite recipes/ and where did the recipes originate?

The stories that poured forth from answering those questions included memories of: barn dances; box socials; Christmas programs; war stories include memories of rationing, Pearl Harbor, and knitting afghans for soldiers; recipes for happy marriages; memories of grandparents; windmills; radio shows; summer storms - tornadoes, etc.; winter storm - 20' plus snowdrifts; simple pleasures of smelling old-fashioned flowers such as sweet peas and lilacs.

A variety of responses came from the questions that were asked. "Most wrote their memories or stories," Leighty said. "A few recorded them and those have been transcribed and will be added to the book. After reading these memories, I am convinced there is an entire book inside every one of these people," Leighty said. "It is my hope that they will record their memories and advice for their children and grandchildren."

"These are real stories from the people who taught us about living and hard work, we need to listen," Bartling said.

"This is about preserving and celebrating our history," Peterson said.

Consider telling your story so it can be included in the memory book, which hopefully will be ready for holiday sales, sometime in October.

Among those participating in writing for the memory book at Elderfest were, left to right, Donna Ring, Merle Ring, Sandra Emry, Bonnie Sandahl, Neil Sandahl, and Arnold Emry.

That time of the year

As the 2005-06 school year comes to close, students of all ages are holding final concerts. Above, the fifth and sixth grade Music Makers from Wayne Middle School performed at a concert last Thursday. At left, students at St. Mary's Elementary School in Wayne presented a "Hats Off to You, Parents" concert at the school last Tuesday. Several other concerts were held this week at various schools.

Wayne State College to hold two commencement ceremonies

For the first time in school history, two spring commencement ceremonies will be held at Wayne State College on Saturday, May 7.

A ceremony for approximately 170 graduate degree candidates will be held at 10 a.m. in Rice Auditorium, while an undergraduate ceremony will be held at 2 p.m. in the Willow Bowl, weather permitting.

Approximately 375 students will receive bachelor's degrees from President Richard Collings at that ceremony.

U.S. Senator Chuck Hagel (R-Neb.) will deliver the commencement address in the afternoon, while Catherine Kwapioski of Columbus, a member of the Fremont learning community Master of Science in Education program, will give the commencement address at the morning ceremony. A total of 126 members of the Fremont and South Sioux City learning communities, the first to complete the Wayne State program that began in 2003, will receive master of science in education degrees (curriculum and instruction).

Other degrees to be awarded at that ceremony include master of business administration, master of science in education, and education specialist.

At the afternoon ceremony, Ronald W. Hunter, an Omaha attorney and a 1953 Wayne State graduate, will receive the Alumni Achievement Award. Sandra Metz, Ph.D., associate professor of family and consumer sciences at Wayne State College, will be honored upon her retirement.

Master's candidate Judith Stukenholtz of Wahoo, who is also a member of the Fremont learning community, will give the invocation during the morning ceremony. Jenny Kriens, a Summa cum Laude graduate from Omaha majoring in speech communication/corporate, community, and public relations with a minor in advertising, will give the invocation in the afternoon.

The public is invited to attend both commencement ceremonies. In the event of inclement weather, the afternoon ceremony will be moved to Rice Auditorium; seating will be limited.

Commissioners vote to accept agreement

Wayne County Commissioners met in regular session on Tuesday. Among agenda items was the architectural agreement (of the old jail/Juvenile Detention Center building) with Mannes Architects of Yankton. Chris Connolly of Olds, Pieper and Connolly in Wayne, had reviewed the agreement and gave recommendations for changes which Glenn Mannes made. The areas in which changes made were in the termination clause.

Plus, the commissioners looked at the performance bond which is set at $250,000 to see if it should be set higher if project costs go up to $350,000 (estimated cost of the project is between $175,000 to $350,000). They decided to leave performance bond at $250,000.

A motion was made and seconded to accept the architectural agreement with Mannes Architects with the amended changes. Motion carried.

Mannes Architects can start working on blueprints of the Judicial Services Center and bring them to the Commissioners at a later date.

Wayne High graduation is scheduled for May 14

Graduation ceremonies for 83 Wayne seniors will take place on Saturday, May 14 at the Willow Bowl on the Wayne State College campus.

The speaker at the 2005 commencement exercises will be Brad Weber, band instructor at Wayne High School.

In addition, featured addresses will be given by the Valedictorian and Salutatorian of the class.

The Wayne High School Choir will provide special music and the Wayne High Varsity Band will play the processional and the recessional.

Bill Dickey, President of the Wayne Board of Education, will present diplomas.

Retiring staff members will receive special recognition.

The Class of 2005 lists their class flower as a red rose tipped in silver and class colors as royal blue, black and silver. The class motto is: "Yesterday is gone. Tomorrow is not yet here. We have only today. Let us begin." (Mother Teresa)

Obituaries

Clara Echtenkamp

Clara Echtenkamp, 94, of Wayne died Tuesday, April 26, 2005 at Premier Estates Senior Living Community in Wayne.

Services were held Saturday, April 30 at Grace Lutheran Church in Wayne. The Rev. Carl Lilienkamp and the Rev. John Pasche officiated.

Clara Virginia Echtenkamp, daughter of William and Donna (Barker) Nickols, was born Feb. 16, 1911 at Fries, Va. As a small child, she and her family moved to Crowley, Colo. and farmed there for several years. At the suggestion of her mother's brother, Steve Porter, the family moved to Wayne in 1919. They lived on a farm north and west of Wayne where they worked for Jack Bush. She attended rural school and worked as a hired girl for area families. On Jan. 23, 1930 she married Amos Echtenkamp at Grace Lutheran Church in Wayne. They farmed on the Echtenkamp home place until moving to their farm north of Wayne. The couple retired there and she moved to Wayne in 1981. In September of 2001, she moved to The Oaks and then to Premier Estates Senior Living Community in March of 2004. She was a member of Grace Lutheran Church, Ladies Aid and several card clubs.

Survivors include two daughters, Kathleen and Merlin Frevert of Wayne and Virginia Meyer and her fiancé, Don Shearer, of Pilger; seven grandchildren; 15 great-grandchildren; one great-great granddaughter; one brother, Bill and Kathy Nickols of Sparta, Mo.; nieces and nephews.

She was preceded in death by her parents; husband, Amos, in 1975, one daughter and nine brothers and sisters.

Burial was in Greenwood Cemetery in Wayne. Schumacher-Hasemann Funeral Home in Wayne was in charge of arrangements.

Robert L. 'Cobb' Anderson

Robert L. "Cobb" Anderson, 65 of rural Wakefield died Wednesday, April 27, 2005 at Pender Community Hospital in Pender.

Services were held Saturday, April 30 at Salem Lutheran Church in Wakefield. The Rev. Jerome Cloninger officiated.

Robert L. "Cobb" Anderson, son of Joseph and Margaret (Parson) Anderson, was born Nov. 10, 1939 at Wakefield. He attended Sand Creek Country School and graduated from Wakefield High School in 1957. He served as a reserve in the U.S. Marine Corps. He then worked with his uncle in Los Angeles in construction, later returning to farm north of Wakefield. On Nov. 25, 1967 he married Marla Carlson at St. John's Lutheran Church in Germantown, Iowa. The couple farmed north of Wakefield. He was employed as a road grader operator for Dixon County for several years. He was a member of the Salem Lutheran Church in Wakefield. He enjoyed 4-H, the Newcastle Saddle Club, nature, the land, his cattle, hunting and his family and friends.

Survivors include his wife, Marla; two sons, Mike and Tracey Anderson of Wakefield and Matthew Anderson of Iowa City, Iowa; one grandson; one sister, Mildred and Jerry Bodlak of Thurston; one brother-in-law, Dan and Sharon Carlson of Madison, S.D.; one sister-in-law, Linda and Doug Theige of Trinidad, Colo.; mother-in-law, Mildred Carlson-Miller and her husband, Gordon of Germantown, Iowa; nieces and nephews.

He was preceded in death by his parents; one infant brother and his father-in-law.

Honorary pallbearers were his friends and neighbors.

Active pallbearers were Sandy Otte, LeVern Lundahl, Harvey Anderson, Jim Salmon, Bob Lubberstedt and Ron Bodlak.

Burial was in the Wakefield Cemetery in Wakefield. Schumacher-Hasemann Funeral Home in Wayne was in charge of arrangements.

Larry Raveling

Larry Lee Raveling, 51, of Wayne, died Wednesday, April 27, 2005 at Wayne.

Services were held Monday, May 2 at Our Savior Lutheran Church in Wayne. The Rev. William Koeber officiated.

Larry Lee Raveling, son of Jordan and Delores (Dumkrieger) Raveling, was born May 14, 1953 in Cherokee, Iowa. He was baptized at First Congregational Church in Peterson, Iowa and confirmed there. He spent his early years on the family farm near Peterson and attended school at Sioux Valley Community School in Linn Grove, Iowa, where he played baseball and football. After graduating in 1971, he attended Western Iowa Tech at Sioux City, Iowa. Following his graduation from WIT, he began working for the General Telephone Company in Emmetsburg, Iowa. On Aug. 24, 1974 he married Linda Nelson at Trinity Lutheran Church in Linn Grove. The family moved to Wayne in July of 1987 where he continued to work for the phone company, which is now known as Quest, for nearly 27 years. He was a member of Our Savior Lutheran Church, where he was a past member of the church council. He enjoyed hunting, fishing, gardening and farming. He was a charter member of the newly formed Logan Valley Strutters for turkey hunting enthusiasts. He volunteered annually to help with the Iowa Deer Classic Show in Des Moines, Iowa. He enjoyed having coffee with his friends at many coffee shops in Wayne, but mostly he enjoyed following his daughters' activities and family vacations.

Survivors include his wife, Linda of Wayne; two daughters, Jessica and Paul Zulkosky of Omaha and Jennifer of Wayne; his mother, Delores Raveling of Peterson, Iowa; one sister, Lori and Mark Roberts of Cedar Falls, Iowa; aunts, uncles; brothers and sisters-in-law, Bernard and Maxine Nelson and Richard and Nancy Nelson of Linn Grove, Iowa, Nelda Nelson, Carolyn and Francis Kies of Storm Lake, Iowa, Dianne and Tom Petty of Sioux Rapids, Iowa and Janice and Ed Nelson of Ida Grove, Iowa; numerous nieces, nephews, relatives and friends.

He was preceded in death by his father, Jordan Raveling; one brother, Loni Raveling; father and mother-in-law, Nelvin and Olga Nelson and nephew, Brian Nelson.

Burial was in Oakland Cemetery in Peterson, Iowa. Schumacher-Hasemann Funeral Home in Wayne was in charge of arrangements.

Women's Health Week to be observed with free screenings available

National Women's Health week is May 8 - 14, 2005. This week, which follows Mother's Day, is an opportunity to encourage moms, aunts, sisters, spouses, and best friends to call medical providers and schedule preventive services and screenings.

Many of the leading causes of death among women can be successfully prevented or treated if the warning signs are caught early enough.

The top three causes of death among women are heart disease, cancer, and stroke. Heart disease is the number one killer of American women and, in fact, more women die of heart disease each year than do men. Cancer is the second leading cause of death, with lung cancer being the top cancer killer among American women followed by breast cancer and colorectal cancer. Stroke is the number three killer of American women. Each year, 30,000 more women than men have strokes.

The second annual National Women's Health Week, coordinated by the U.S. Department of Health and Human Services (HHS), is a nationwide observance to promote awareness of the measures women can take to prevent fatal and debilitating illnesses. According to HHS, maintaining regular check-ups, being physically active, eating a healthy diet, not smoking, and following general safety rules are five health habits for improving women's health.

To participate in National Women's Health Week, women should schedule appointments with their health care providers or contact the Reproductive Health/Family Planning clinics in Fremont and Norfolk for free or low-cost exams.

The Norfolk Family Planning Clinic is offering free pap smears and breast exams on Monday, May 9 for women over the age of 40 who do not have insurance to cover these exams. The Fremont Clinic is offering these exams on Tuesday, May 10.

Additional information on recommended screenings and tests for women can be found on the National Women's Health Information Center web-site: www.4woman.gov.

Update presented on local road projects

Next council meeting
The next council meeting will be Tuesday, May 10 at 7 p.m. in the council meeting room at 306 Pearl Street.

Paving streets and roads. Do you like detours?

- Country Club Road and Claycomb Road: The road is closed past the golf course. It will be paved this week and open next week. Eighty percent of the cost will be paid by the Nebraska enhancement plan for some sidewalk brick inlay and decorative street light to be completed with street repaving if 80 percent STP funding is available. The other 20 percent would be paid by the property owners. The detour during this project will be Logan Street.

- Highway 15 from Wayne State College campus north to Dog Creek Bridge: The Nebraska Department of Roads is planning to rebuild and repave this section in 2006 under traffic. We are looking at the option of having a sidewalk included along the road for this project. No decision yet.

- Wayne Trail Phase II: This will be designed this summer and will be built in 2006 around the south, west and north sides of Wayne.
- Highway 35 Expressway: The Nebraska congressional delegation is starting to have some initial funding success for purchasing right-of-way and preliminary design.

The Department of Roads consultant, URS, is now two years behind its original date to recommend a route to the highway department and now project 2006.

My personal estimate of the construction date past Wayne is 2020 and my personal guess for the route is along the current alignment of Highway 35. If the project is built and it is different, you can say I was wrong.

Fight continues over tax dollars

By Ed Howard
Statehouse Correspondent
The Nebraska Press Association

Someone has to lose in the Legislature's 2005 budget-writing contest.

If no interest groups lose in this upcoming contest, you will lose. All of you, pretty much. We're talking about losing money. You could lose it to local property taxes or you could lose it to some higher state tax rate or to some new fee(s) or higher fee(s).

It is easy to look at the fight over taxpayer dollars as something that centers on (much-maligned and much-storied (in newspapers) interest groups. Business interests of all kinds. Education at every level. Those concerned with tax-funded programs that help the poor, the elderly, the sick.

The fact is, it centers on you. It centers on the Legislature's collective perception of what you (that's a plural "you") want, what you will settle for, what you will put up with, and what you (in the collective context) will do about it if you are displeased with what you get or with what someone else gets at your expense.

At this juncture, it is appropriate to say something about our representative form of government. Just a reminder: People are elected to the Legislature so they can devote themselves to becoming familiar with issues and make policy decisions - all the while keeping in mind the special concerns of their constituencies.

The interests of constituencies often vary. Big businesses are interested in getting more tax breaks... for doing business. Little people are interested in paying less in taxes... all kinds of taxes. They also are interested in jobs.

If business gets everything it wants, there is at least the possibility that the little people will pay more in taxes... to pay for tax breaks so that business might create more jobs... for little people.

Imagine the plight of a lawmaker, in Nebraska or elsewhere. Let's see. Vote for more tax breaks in hopes of creating jobs. The jobs might be created and more little people might have employment. Of course, many of them might be upset about higher rates of taxation, even though the higher taxes are paying for the tax breaks that might have created the jobs.

Vote against tax breaks (intended, at least) to create more jobs. Business interests might well tell your "little people" constituents that you opposed a bill that would have created jobs; and that your vote meant business interests would pay taxes that interfere with creating jobs.

Does your head hurt, yet? The "wish lists" of some interests - like big business - can acquire an aura of inevitability. Example: "The state's main tax program has not been sufficiently revised to further benefit business in some 20 years; hence, it must be time to sweeten the pot." Such might be the case. That case, however, is not what is at issue here.

What is at issue here is the candid observation last week of Sen. Chris Beutler of Lincoln.

Putting it in the simplest of analogies, Beutler told the wannabe sugar daddies and mommas that there ain't enough sugar in the state's financial jar to cover all the sweetness that business wants - or that lawmakers might want to give.

What next? Beutler noted that underwriting the tax package sought by business would likely mean: higher taxes, or reducing aid to education - and thus creating the possibility of higher local property taxes, or otherwise taking money from some interest group(s) to provide greater largesse elsewhere.

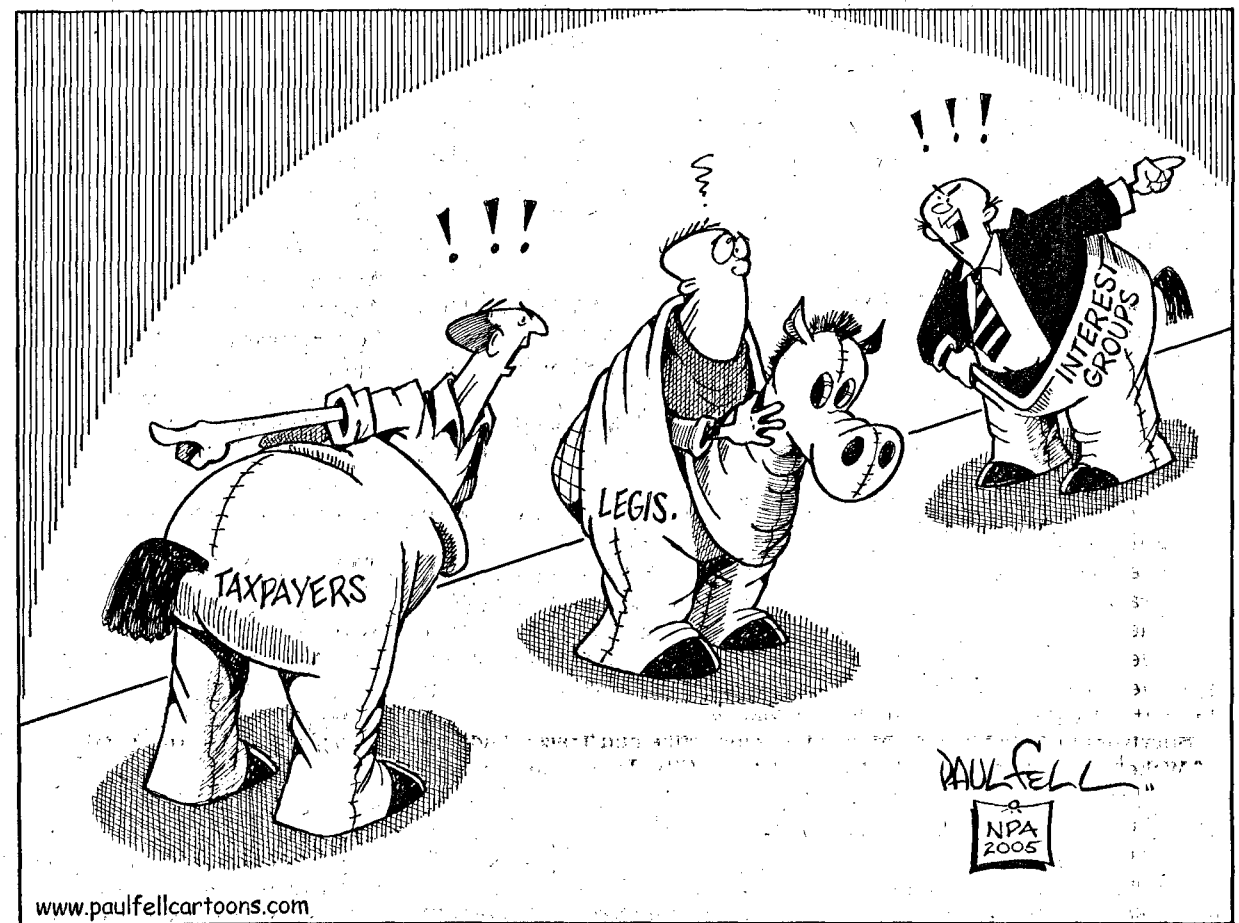

What figures into how lawmakers figure out what to do? Upon what might their decisions hinge, at least in part?

Like we said before: It centers on the Legislature's collective perception of what you (that's a plural "you") want, what you will settle for, what you will put up with, and what you (in the collective context) will do about it if you are displeased with what you get or with what someone else gets at your expense.

Unless you want your representative in this representative government to just guess at what you want - while hearing plenty from other interests about exactly what they want - this would be a good time to read your newspaper closely. Get a sense of the spending issues. Then let your senator know what you want - and don't want.

Lawmakers often act upon their perceptions of the public will. Too often, they do it by guess and by gawd!

Council members seek community input

City Council members can always use extra input from citizens on issues we have to decide on. We could really use some input from citizens on a couple of issues we now have before us.

First, we discussed at this year's retreat that it might be valuable to have the council meetings televised and broadcast on the local cable channel. We made this item one of our priorities to look into and have sought technical help to achieve this. At the last meeting, a firm came and made a presentation for a very basic system that would improve our sound system and include two cameras operated manually and could tie in with local cable for public viewing. The ballpark figure for this very basic system would be $30,000 to $35,000. We did not feel we could proceed with this because of the cost at this time without further study. We did not know any figures when we talked about the basic concept at retreat. This is considerably more than I think any of us envisioned.

As I See It...
By: Willis Wiseman, M.D.

A portion of the problem is that not everyone enjoys a cable TV hookup. The cost issue is considerable. We now need to know what the voters think of this. Do you want us to spend this amount to make the council meetings more "accessible" and we have some concerns how many people would watch it anyway as opposed to coming to the council meetings and see (hear) for yourselves.

The second item now under consideration is that of Boarding Houses. Some years ago Wayne Code allowed boarding houses. This was not well written and not enforceable at all and allowed for all kinds of abuse of overcrowding and the other problems of high density living conditions. The city council took out all language pertaining to boarding houses and has not allowed any such thing for several years. Now we have a request to re-consider language and permit some type boarding houses in Wayne.

The council did approve studying this further and will soon be trying to draft some language that might allow boarding houses under some conditions yet to be determined. Some of the issues are what zones to allow this type housing (if at all) and what size restrictions as well as how many persons can occupy such dwellings. There are serious concerns about parking issues with any high density housing as well. These, as well as safety concerns (plumbing, wiring, structural integrity and so forth) will all be considered.

We (the members of the council) really need your input as to what you feel about these issues. Please contact your council member from your ward and let them know how you feel. There is no reason you cannot contact more than one council person if you are so inclined. We can reach the proper decisions much better if we know what the majority of citizens feel about the issues. I also invite you to come to the council meetings

(the second and last Tuesday evenings at 7:30 pm.) in the city hall building at Second and Pearl Street.

A list of your council representatives is listed below for your convenience. Thanks for your concern.

- Willis L. Wiseman M.D., Fourth Ward - 375-2500 (day), 375-4189 (evening);
- Don Buryanek, Fourth Ward - 375-7282 (day), 375-2350 home;
- Darrel Fuelberth, Second Ward - 375-2134 (day), 375-3205 (evening);
- Betty Reeg, Second Street - 375-3759;
- Doug Sturm First Ward - 375-4691 (day), 375-2975 (evening); boards from throughout the area. Also included were Dr. Richard Collings of Wayne State College and Dr. Bill Path of Northeast Community College in Norfolk, whose institutions would benefit from the expressway and whose purpose was to obtain funding for a South Sioux City campus.

This was the 51st time a group from Siouland has made this type of trip and the group represented the oldest Chamber-organized lobby group in the country.

Mayor Shelton noted that due to the efforts of Congressman Jeff Fortenberry, $9.5 million has been appropriated for this project at this time.

"During our trip we let them (congressmen and representatives) know that in the interest of economic development to our area, we will be after them to continue to allocate more money for this project," Mayor Shelton said.

overview and introduction by Congressman Osborne, special speakers and a panel discussion featuring community leaders and mental health care professionals. Nebraska Governor Dave Heineman has also been invited to participate.

Marilyn Fox and Sue Brown of the Nebraska Cooperative Extension will kick off the afternoon presentations with a program on "Meth: One of Rural Nebraska's Greatest Challenges."

A panel discussion on the "Impact of Meth on Communities" from several different perspectives will follow. Participants will include Dan Kuester, Norfolk Area Human Resources Association president, Dr. Randy Nelson, superintendent of the Norfolk Public Schools, the Rev. Ray Wilke representing the Norfolk faith community, and Dr. Kevin Piske, Ph.D., of the Norfolk Regional Center. A representative of the Nebraska State Patrol will also participate. Audience questions will be welcomed at the conclusion of the panel discussion.

Nebraska Attorney General Jon Bruning will follow the panel discussion and focus on legislation and enforcement. Remarks by Joe Ferguson, director of business, industry and economic development at Northeast Community College, and a Call to Action will be issued by Sen. Flood to close the afternoon.

This statewide conference is sponsored by Northeast Community College, University of Nebraska Cooperative Extension, UNL Northeast Research and Extension Center, Educational Service Unit VIII, the Lower Elkhorn Natural Resources District and Wayne State College.

Hagel to speak at commencement

Chuck Hagel, Nebraska's senior U.S. Senator, will deliver the address at Wayne State College's undergraduate commencement on Saturday, May 7 at 2 p.m.

Hagel, a Republican who is serving his second term in the United States Senate, is a member of four Senate committees: Foreign Relations; Banking, Housing, and Urban Affairs; Intelligence and Rules.

Hagel served in Vietnam with his brother Tom in 1968. He earned many military decorations and honors, including two purple hearts.

Hagel has received the 2005 Woodrow Wilson International Center for Scholars Public Service Award; 2005 American Association of School Administrators Champion of Children Award.

Hagel was born in North Platte. He graduated from St. Bonaventure High School, Columbus; the Brown Institute for Radio and Television, Minneapolis, Minn.; and the University of Nebraska at Omaha. He attended Wayne State College during the fall semester of 1964-'65.

Hagel and his wife, Lilibet, have two children.

Grand opening, dedication and tours held at Little Red Hen Theatre in Wakefield

A grand opening and dedication of the Little Red Hen Theatre in Wakefield was held Sunday. Over 225 guests attended the event. Young Actors' Association guides led tours afterwards.

The Little Red Hen Theatre began in 1992 when Jeanne Gardner placed an ad in her local paper asking for persons interested in working on a community theatre production to attend an organizational meeting. Directors volunteered, the play was chosen ("The Hobbit") and a search was begun for a site to perform. At the time, the building at 316 Main Street was not being used by M.G. Waldbaum's, so the front third was gutted and cleaned; the Little Red Hen had her first home.

Val Bard

From then until September, 2002, LRHT presented three major productions each year and hosted a variety of other fine arts events and fundraisers.

The old building was torn down when deemed unsafe, and the new structure built in the same location.

LRHT will offer four productions yearly, beginning in January, 2006; patronages will go back into effect at that time.

The Young Actors' Association will present a one-act play early in June in support of summer reading programs offered by local libraries. YAA! traditionally goes "on tour" of the surrounding communities and presents their one-act in local parks, but this year young readers will be invited to attend the free production in the new nest in Wakefield. Details will be mailed to local libraries soon.

Aug. 11-14 will bring "Tom Sawyer, the Musical" to the stage. The musical director will be Tracey Anderson and all ages are needed for the musical; auditions will be held May 16 and 17 at 7 p.m. at the theatre. Instrumentalists are needed to play a piano, fiddle, guitar, bass (maybe electric), mandolin and drums.

The Farndale ladies will revisit Wakefield in October in "They Came from Mars and Landed Outside the Farndale Avenue Church Hall in Time for the Townswomen's Guild's Coffee Morning," a comedy, written by McGillivray and Zerlin.

The Little Red Hen Theatre plans to offer special events (Special Somethings) which will feature music, dance and art as well as other programs of interest.

Administrator supports Elderfest

In last week's article on the success of Elderfest, a word was omitted from a paragraph attributing the success of the event, in part to Providence Medical Center Administrator Marcile Thomas.

The paragraph should have said: All of the committee members have indicated that the event would NOT have been as successful without "Marcile Thomas and her vision and support of us."

The word "not" was inadvertently left out of the sentence. The Herald apologizes for the omission.

Trust fund is set up

A trust fund has been set up for 20-month-old Mariah Scott of Stanton who was killed on March 30. Her grandmother, Teresa Rhoads of Wakefield, set up the fund to help with funeral costs. A portion of the money collected will be donated to Haven House who provides services to women and children who have suffered family violence. Donations can be made through State National Bank & Trust in Wayne by requesting money be put into the Mariah Scott memorial fund account.

Seth Rhodes of Stanton was arrested in March on two counts of child abuse in connection with Mariah's death. He is scheduled to appear in District Court on May 9.

Copy Write strives to serve the community's needs

Copy Write Publishing owners Curt and Coleen Jeffries have been a part of the Wayne community for more than 20 years and although they have changed careers during that time, they continue to be an active part of the community.

The couple, who previously taught music in the Wakefield and Winside schools, purchased Word Works at 216 Main Street in Wayne from Jane O'Leary in 1996.

The name of the business was changed to Copy Write Publishing and since that time, the couple has expanded the services offered to include a full range of printing including business cards, letterhead, envelopes, brochures, catalogs, newsletters, black and white high speed copying, full color copying and printing, offset printing, laminating, labels, business forms, carbonless forms, thank you notes and invitations. Also available are self-inking rubber, notary and signature stamps.

In addition to the printing side of the business, Curt has been involved with Keepsake Video Production for nearly 15 years.

He is able to assist with event videography - capturing graduations, anniversaries and weddings on tape.

"Video memory scrapbooks are a huge part of this business," Curt said.

He is also able to transfer home video tapes to DVDs.

Another part of the business Curt is involved with is Keepsake Custom Framing.

He is able to frame items such as certificates, needlework, print certificates and photos.

During his time in the business he noted that the most unusual items that he has framed are a full, authentic Native American dress and a cross-country memory shadow box, including shoes.

A recent change at the business has been the addition of office supplies to the list of items available for sale.

"Since early this year, we have been offering supplies such as print cartridges, file folders, labels, calculator ribbons, paper clips, adding machine rolls and pens and pencils," Coleen said.

Other supplies can also be ordered as is necessary. The Jeffries note they are trying to compete, price-wise, with the larger, discount/department stores.

Copy Write is also the location for payment for utility bills for Aquila, Qwest, AT&T long distance, Cingular Wireless, Alltel and MCI.

Fax service is available for those who do not have a fax machine. The fax number is 375-1539.

"We are happy to be a part of the Wayne Community! We appreciate the positive response and support of the people of Wayne and the surrounding area as we continue to expand our business. We look forward to serving our patrons in the future," Curt said.

Business hours at Copy Write Publishing are Monday through Friday, 8:30 a.m. to 5 p.m. and 9 a.m. to noon on Saturday.

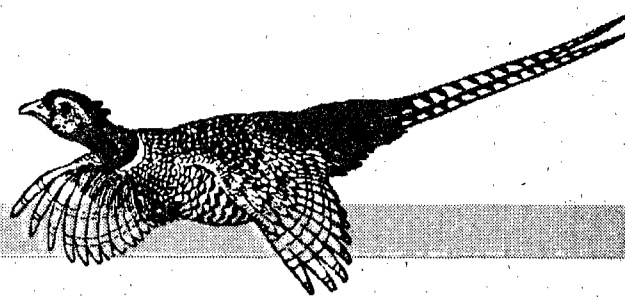

For more information on the products and services available at Copy Write Publishing, call 375-3729 or visit their new website at www.keepsakecopywritepro.com

Vanis resigns as Wayne State volleyball coach

Sharon Vanis

Wayne State's winningest volleyball coach has announced her resignation.

Head coach Sharon Vanis resigned from her position last week as head volleyball coach and senior women's administrator at the school to take a job at Hamilton High School in Phoenix, Ariz.

While at WSC, Vanis compiled a 214-212 record in 12 seasons and guided the Wildcats to five 20-win seasons.

Her 2001 team was co-champion of the Northern Sun Conference with a 16-2 league mark and 24-9 overall.

She also served as assistant athletic director and senior women's administrator for the past seven years along with monitoring the athletic department's academic support programs. She was also the advisor for the Student Athlete Advisory Committee.

"I leave my family and Wayne State College with a very sad heart, but I am proud of where this program is and the direction it is headed," Vanis said. "After my accident in September, I realized that life can be taken from you at any moment. I have wanted to live in Arizona since I took my 1992 volleyball team to the national tournament at Mesa, so an opportunity came along and I have decided to take it."

Vanis will coach volleyball and teach physical education at Hamilton High School in Chandler, Ariz., with a total enrollment of 3,200 students.

"I feel like I did my job at Wayne State and throughout the 12 years made many friends at the college, on my teams and in the community of Wayne," she said. "Wayne State College and the city of Wayne are just great places to be, I am very pleased and honored that I had the opportunity to work in such a great environment."

Before coming to Wayne State, Vanis coached at Central Community College in Columbus, where she compiled a 137-44 mark in four seasons.

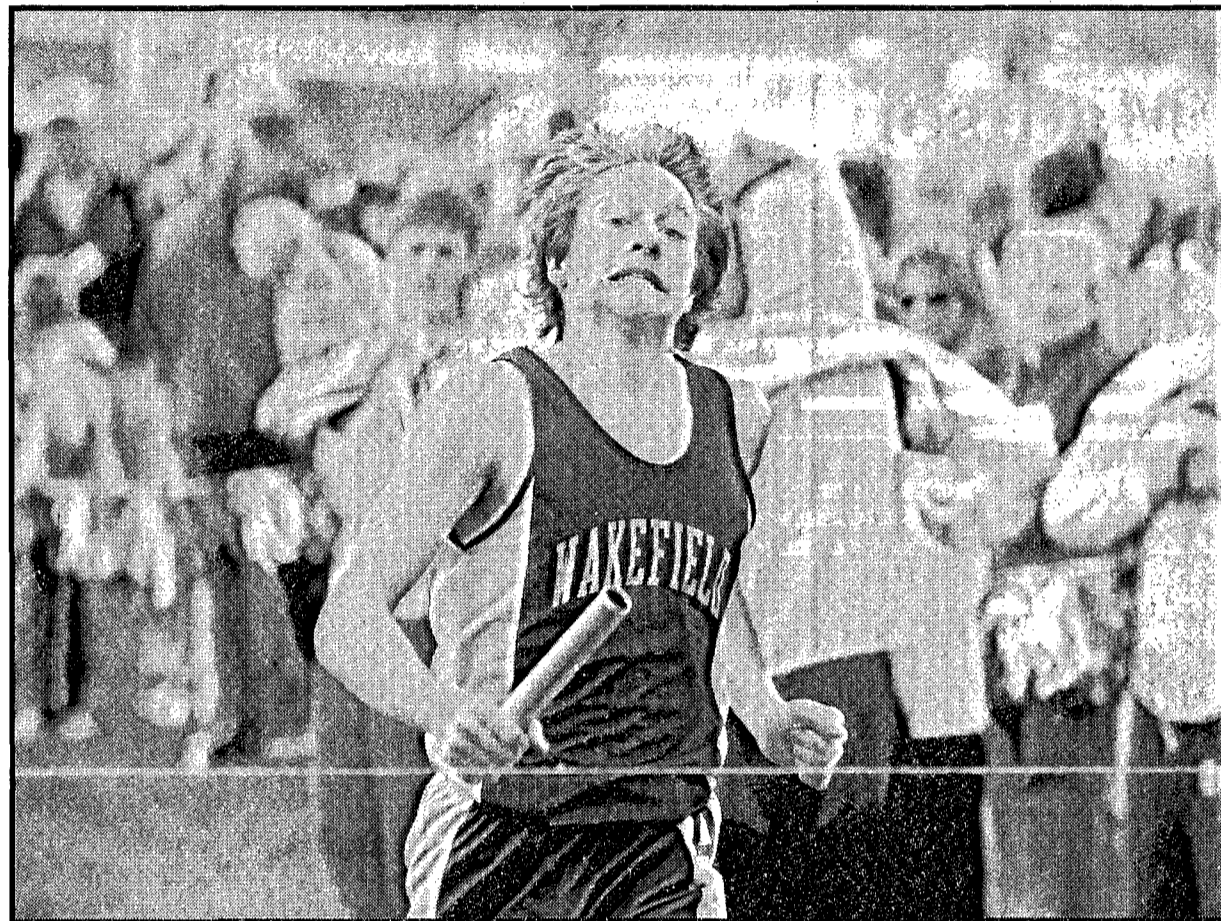

In 1992, she was named the NCCAC and District 13 Coach of the Year after leading her team to a 54-6 mark and a seventh place finish at the NJCAA Tournament.

Assistant coach Scott Kneifl has been named to the interim head coaching position, effective July 1.

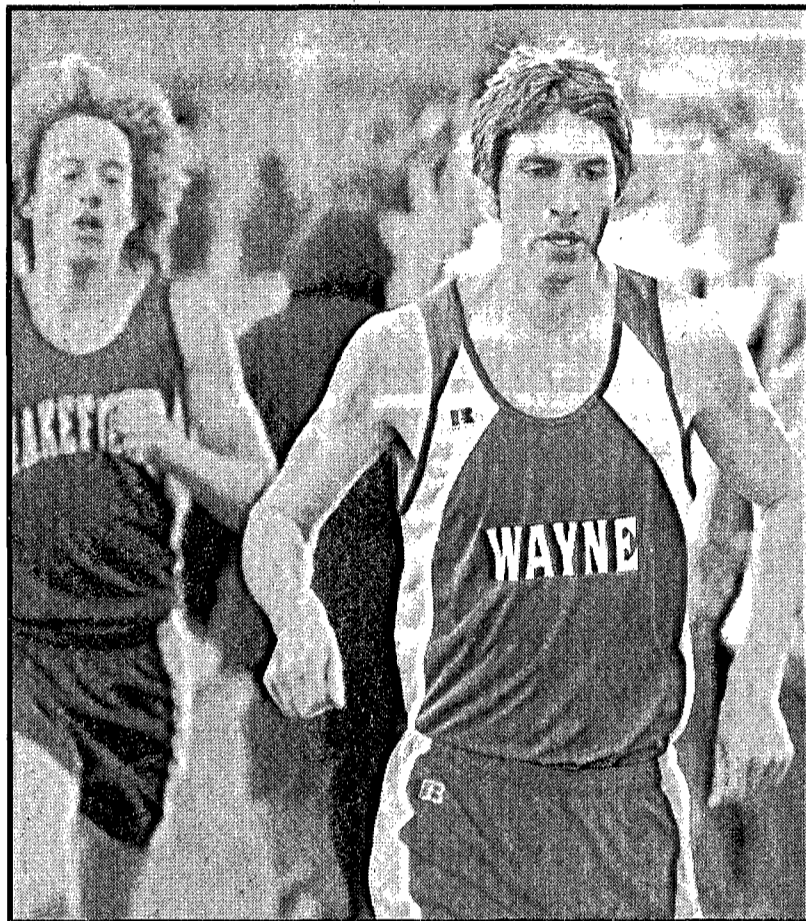

Kneifl will begin the search for an assistant coach this spring in hopes of having someone in place by July 1.

Scott Kneifl

Andy Hampl crosses the finish line for Wakefield's 4 x 800 team who placed first in last Thursday's 11th annual Norfolk Classic held at Norfolk High School. Hampl also won the 800-meter run at the event.

Bryan Fink and Wakefield's Jim Bierbower hold the top two places during the 3200-meter run at the Norfolk Classic. Fink took first in the race.

Watson is NSIC honoree

A Wayne State College basketball player was recognized earlier this week with one of highest honors made to student-athletes in the Northern Sun conference.

WSC senior Brett Watson was named the 2005 Dr. William Britton Scholar-Athlete Award winner.

The award recognizes the conference's top male student-athlete.

Watson will be recognized for the honor on Friday, July 29, at the 2005 NSIC Hall of Fame banquet at St. Cloud, Minn.

He is the first Wayne State College recipient of the Britton Award, which also carries a $1,000 post-graduate scholarship.

Watson is a native of Elk Horn, Iowa, and is an education major at WSC.

As a member of the Wildcat basketball squad, Watson was a three-time NSIC All-Conference Academic selection and was named as a first team All-Conference member this past season.

During his Wayne State career, he tallied 1,208 points to rank No. 13 on the Wayne State scoring list.

Watson was named as Wayne State College's male athlete of the year at last weekend's WSC athletic awards banquet.

The Britton Award was created in 1985 in honor of Dr. William Britton, a longtime faculty member at Bemidji State.

Candidates for the award are nominated by conference schools based on a 3.2 or better grade point average, academic excellence and community involvement.

Area's star athletes shine 11th annual Norfolk Classic

By David W. Carstens
Of the Herald

Despite weather that was more like fall than mid-spring, several local and area athletes were red-hot in last Thursday's annual Norfolk Classic Track and Field meet at Norfolk High School.

Wakefield finished the invite-only meet that included the season's best area qualifiers with one individual champion as Andy Hampl took gold in the 800-meter run and one relay champion in the boys 4 x 800 relay team that included Taylor Peters, Joel Nixon, Eric Bodlak and Hampl, which set a new school record of 8:15.32, and shattered the previous school record of 8:17.

The same group also ran the school's 4 x 400 relay that finished second behind Norfolk High with a time of 3:34.42.

Hampl shaved time off this meet-qualifying mark in the 800 as he finished the eight-man race in 2:01.35. Bodlak took third in the event with a 2:04.97. The Trojans took second in two other relay events as the girls' 4 x 100 relay (Regina Dutcher, Lexi Nelson, Becky Vraspir, Amanda Nelson) finished with a 51.56, behind Humphrey St. Francis (51.20) and the boys' 4 x 400 (Peters, Tanner Soderberg, Chris Storm and Nixon) at 3:34.42 was second to Norfolk High (3:33.37).

Wayne High senior Bryan Fink captured the 3200-meter title (10:14.26), while Wakefield's Jim Bierbower (10:29.09) took third and teammate Luke Henderson finished fifth (10:33.11). Fink finished first at last year's Classic in the 1600-meter run.

Wayne's other individual qualifiers, Jean Pieper, took fifth in the 100-meter dash (13.21) and Samantha Dunklau finished in 12th place.

Wayne's girls relay teams finished third (4 x 800), fourth (4 x 400) and eighth (4 x 100).

The Blue Devil 4 x 800 team (Maddie Jager, Brooke Anderson, Jordan Doescher and Kayla Hochstein) bested its season mark with 10:11.57, an improvement of .03 seconds.

Wayne's 4 x 400 (Jager, Hochstein, Doescher, Pieper) clocked a 4:16.60 to improve more than three seconds from the team's best finish this season.

Jensen signs letter

Wayne High senior Dawn Jensen, will become the fourth graduating Blue Devil softball team member to continue her softball career.

Jensen, a catcher with this year's state champion team signed a national letter of intent on Wednesday morning to play softball at Bellevue University.

"She has a lot of quickness and will be a great addition to our team," Ed Lehotak, Bellevue Bruin coach said at Wednesday's signing.

She is the daughter of Dennis and Deb Jensen of rural Carroll.

Wildcats go 3-1 in contests

The Wayne State men's baseball team, currently ranked No. 16 in the country in NCAA Division II, went 3-1 in games last week.

The team is now 37-11 on the season and will host Bemidji State on Saturday and Sunday with a chance to clinch the regular season Northern Sun Conference title.

Results from the week's games were:

WSC vs Minn. State

Two streaks were snapped in home action last Saturday. The team tied the Wayne State school record for consecutive wins by notching its 14th straight win in a 4-3 win in eight innings against Minnesota State at home last Thursday.

The Wildcats dropped the second game of the doubleheader 6-2 to end the winning streak at 14 games.

WSC rallied for the first game win after scoring runs in the seventh and eighth innings.

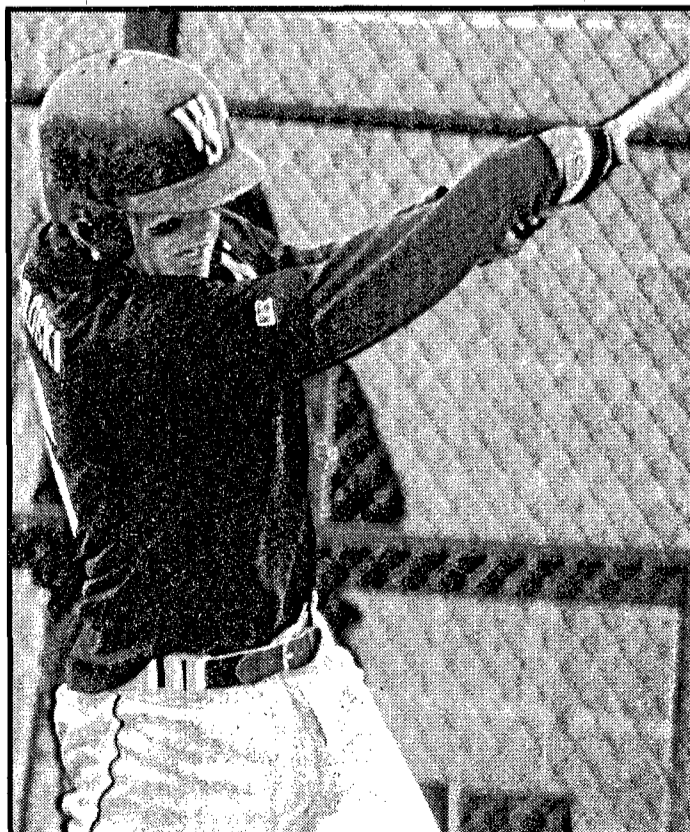

In the seventh inning, Kyle Hansen led off the inning with a double and was replaced by pinch runner Travis Oosthoek.

Shortstop Danny Bengé followed with an RBI double to rightfield to score Oosthoek and tie the game at 3-3.

In the eighth inning, leadoff man Dustin Jones walked, stole second and advanced to third on a throwing error.

Minnesota State intentionally walked Marc Manganaro and Scott Bidroski to load the bases with one out.

The win was secured with Chris Pedroza at the plate for WSC and Jones scored on a passed ball by MSU catcher Jim Scott Bidroski pounds out a hit in Sunday's home doubleheader with Upper Iowa.

Classic

The 4 x 100 (Pieper, Renee Theobald, Amber Lutt, Angie Ahrenholtz) finished the relay with a 53.13 time.

Allen High's Erin Keitges was a force to be reckoned with in two long distance runs as she took first in the 3200 (12:05.56) and second in the 1600 (5:36.14).

The Eagles' other individual qualifiers, Sarah Sullivan finished seventh in the 100-meter dash (13.48) and sixth in the 200 in 27.19 seconds, while Codi Hingst was seventh in the 3200 with her time of 12:51.30.

Allen's 4 x 800 group (Sullivan, Samantha Bock, Hingst, Keitges) took fifth with a clocking of 10:24.76, which was six seconds better than the squad's previous top finish this season.

Laurel-Concord's tandem of Angie Peters and Katie Bloomfield finished second (39-1) and fourth (37-5 1/2), respectively, in the girls shot put.

Wakefield's Shay Tullberg took eighth in the discus with her completion of 95 feet, 2 inches.

Wildcats

Bohmbach.

Hansen and Bengé each doubled to lead the way for WSC.

Outfielder Brian Van Driel was 0-for-2 in the game and left the game in the fourth after sustaining an injury to end his 23-game hitting streak for the Wildcats.

Russ Emerick earned the win in relief for WSC and worked the final two and two-third innings and allowed two hits with no strikeouts.

The nightcap saw Minnesota State hold the Wildcats to just five singles as the Mavericks pulled out a 6-2 win.

WSC was paced by Travis Oosthoek who recorded two singles. Starting pitcher Josh Anderson was tagged with the pitching loss for WSC.

WSC vs. Upper Iowa

The team overcame cold, brisk winds in a post a sweep against Upper Iowa in home action on May 1.

The Wildcats took a 7-6 win in eight innings to win the first game and pounded out an 11-1 victory in the nightcap.

The Wildcats put together a late-game comeback in the opener with two runs in the bottom of the seventh inning to tie the game at 6-all and followed up with a double in the eighth inning to score the winning run.

Ben Albury's RBI single in the seventh inning scored Ovals, to cut the Upper Iowa lead to 6-5.

The game was tied later in the inning with a sacrifice fly by Hansen scored Pedroza to tied the contest at 6-6.

In the bottom of the eighth, Scott Bidroski's double to left center field scored Jones in the bottom of the eighth, who had reached base on a fielder's choice, with the game-winning run.

Bidroski finished the game 3-for-5 with two RBIs to lead WSC.

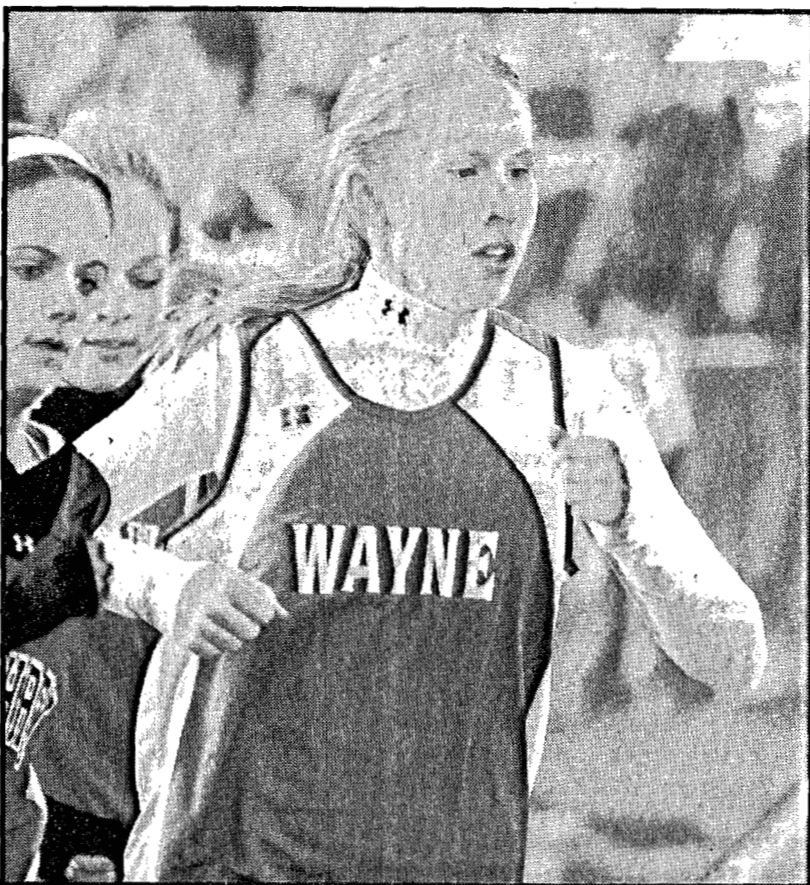

Jones, Pedroza and Albury each added two hits for the Wildcats.

Dustin Nilius, improved to 5-2 on the season and pitched the final one and two-third innings and struck out two batters and allowed no hits.

The second game saw senior starter Travis McCarter throw a complete-game in a three hit shutout with seven strikeouts. McCarter improved to 3-1 on the season with his best outing of the season.

Kevin Gerken was 3-for-4 with four RBIs and three runs scored to lead WSC's 14-hit outing.

Sorensen, Ovals and Pedroza each tallied two hits for WSC.

Samantha Dunklau participated in two meets last week as she qualified for the Norfolk Classic on Thursday and took sixth at the Mid-State conference meet last Saturday.

Wayne track teams compete in Madison

The Wayne High Blue Devils faced tough competition on April 30 at the Mid-State conference track meet in Madison.

The boys team took fourth, while the WHS girls finished sixth overall in the team standings.

"We scored where we thought we would," Wayne High coach Dale Hochstein said. "We have a tough conference with a lot of talent and depth on the top two or three teams."

Norfolk Catholic topped the boys division with a team score of 217, while Wayne's fourth-place finish netted 31 points.

The Blue Devils were led by senior Bryan Fink who captured his second 3,200-meter run victory of the week with a time of 10:25.72.

Fink also took third in the 1,600-meter run with a finish of 4:49.53.

The boy's 4 x 800 team (Wade Jarvi, Ransen Broders, Fink and John Temme) finished second with a 9:10.07.

Other finishers for the boy's team included Broders, who took sixth (2:14.85) in the 800, the 4 x 100 team (Scott Baier, Josh Fink, Todd Poehlman, Dana Schuett) who placed fourth and the 4 x 400 squad (Baier, Broders, J. Fink, and Schuett) who finished fifth (3:51.77).

The girl's team had two first-place relay teams as the 4 x 400 (Maddie Jager, Renee Theobald, Jordyn Doescher, Kayla Hochstein) finished with a 4:23.68 and the 4 x 800 group (Jager, Brooke Anderson, Doescher, Hochstein) clocked a 10:38.03.

Pierce won the girl's division with 126.5 team points, while Wayne finished with 45 points for sixth place.

The girl's 4 x 100 group (Cheyanne Mrsny, Theobald, Amber Lutt and Angie Ahrenholtz) claimed fifth with a time of :54.64.

The Blue Devils had three high finishes in the 800-meter run as Hochstein (2:33.33) took second and Anderson (2:35.15) and Jager (2:36.72) took third and fifth, respectively.

Jean Pieper finished fifth in the 100-meter dash (13.11) and Samantha Dunklau placed sixth (13:48.23) in the 3200-meter run.

Amber Lutt rounded out Wayne's individual finishers with a fourth-place finish in the 300 hurdles (5:14.0).

The Blue Devils will travel to Battle Creek Thursday (today) and then prepare for the District meet at Albion on Thursday, May 12.

Sports Briefs

Basketball meeting on agenda

WAYNE — A meeting of the Wayne Basketball Development Association is planned for 6:30 p.m. on Sunday, May 15, at the Community Activity Center. Discussion topics include the association handbook, recap of the 2004-05 season and coaching personnel for next season. Parents, coaches and anyone interested in coaching next year is invited to attend. Contact Jeff Zeiss at 375-4803 for more information.

Cleanup Night planned

WAYNE — Wayne Softball Complex Cleanup night will be held on Monday, May 16, at 7 p.m. Players, coaches, and parents of all ages are encouraged to attend. Please bring any work materials you may need.

WSC athletes honored

WAYNE — The Wayne State College athletic department recognized its top student-athletes for the 2004-05 school year Sunday evening during its annual athletic honors banquet held at the WSC Student Center.

Basketball player Brett Watson was named the male athlete of the year, while volleyball player Chelse Schultz received the female athlete of the year award.

The male freshman athlete of the year was given to cross country and track standout Matt Schneider, while the female freshman athlete of the year went to volleyball player Laura Dolezal.

Another special award was also handed out this year as the Wildcat Inspiration Award was given to women's soccer player Kelly O'Connor.

In addition, Watson and track and field standout Jodi Rhodig received the Bob Cunningham Scholar-Athlete awards. The Cunningham Awards, named after longtime supporter Bob Cunningham, are presented to the department's top male and female scholar athletes.

Wildcats sign four Texas players

WAYNE — Wayne State head football coach Dan McLaughlin announced last week that four Texas recruits have signed national letters of intent to play with the Wildcats.

The four recruits join 22 others in the 2005 recruiting class to date.

Included in the quartet are Kevin Hosea, Darnell Lee and Robert Manuel of Houston and Brian Okonofua of Dallas.

Hosea, a 5-11, 217-pound linebacker, was a three-year starter in football and baseball.

He was an All-District selection in football during his junior and senior seasons, helping his team to a district championship and Hosea was named the team's most valuable defensive lineman and most improved varsity player. Last year, he had 120 tackles with four sacks and one interception.

Lee is a 6-2, 215-pound defensive end, also from Houston. He was a two-year starter and a three-year letter winner, earning all-district honors at defensive end.

Manuel, a 5-10, 170-pound defensive back, is a two-year letter winner in football, track and powerlifting, who is the third Houston player in the group.

He was named first team all-district while helping his team win district championships in 2003 and 2004. Manuel had five interceptions, including two for touchdown returns, as a senior.

Dallas offensive lineman Okonofua, is a 6-6, 320-pounder who was a first team all-district player, while serving as a co-captain.

Glossary of Terms

BACK MARKER
A car running off the pace near the rear of the field.

BALANCE
When a car doesn't tend to oversteer or understeer, but goes around the racetrack as if its on rails, it's said to be in balance.

BANKING
The sloping of a racetrack, particularly at a curve or a corner, from the apron to the outside wall. Degree of banking refers to the height of a racetrack's slope at the outside edge.

CAMBER
Camber addresses the angle at which a tire makes contact with the track surface. "Positive camber" indicates the angle of the tire is tilted away from the vehicle's centerline while "negative camber" indicates the tire is tilted toward the centerline. A typical oval track setup would have positive camber in the left front and negative camber in the right front to help the vehicle make left-hand turns.

CAMSHAFT
A rotating shaft within the engine that opens and closes the intake and exhaust valves in the engine.

WSC softball finishes regular season

The Wayne State softball team wrapped up a busy week to finish the regular season at 16-32 heading into the Northern Sun Conference Tournament at St. Paul, Minnesota on this Friday and Saturday.

The team will open the tournament as the No. 4 seed and will face No. 5 Southwest Minnesota State at noon on Friday.

Results from games this past week were:

WSC vs. SDSU

The team was swept in road losses at South Dakota State on April 27 in Brookings as SDSU downed the Wildcats 2-0 and 6-1.

The Jackrabbits put a pair of runs on the board in the third inning to claim the 2-0 win the opener.

Wayne State put up four hits off singles from Jackie Harrison, Courtney Shanno, Kristina Walker and Jenn Boothby.

WSC pitcher Whitney Wilczynski allowed just four hits and two runs over six innings with three strikeouts and four walks.

SDSU erupted with four runs in the third inning and added two more in the fifth to take a 6-1 win in the nightcap.

Stacy Shonka tallied WSC's only run when she singled and later scored on a Boothby double in the fifth inning.

Pitcher Karen Hain took the loss for WSC and allowed six runs on 10 hits with one strikeout and four walks.

WSC vs Augustana

Augustana College posted a 4-0 shutout against WSC in a road contest at Sioux Falls, S.D., on April 29.

Only one of the two games on the doubleheader was played due to a scheduling conflict.

The Wildcats were limited to only three hits as Stacy Shonka, Boothby and Whitney Wilczynski each tallied a single.

Hain was dealt the pitching loss on the mound and allowed three runs on seven hits over three innings.

Wilczynski worked three innings of relief and allowed three one run on one hit.

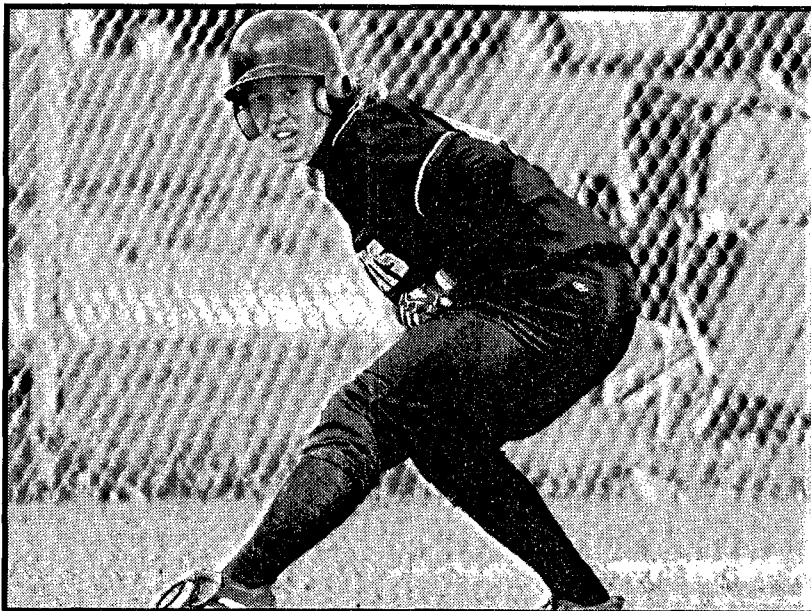

WSC vs Mount Marty

The team finished the regular season with a home split against Mount Marty College on Sunday as the teams experienced windy and chilly weather with occasional snow showers.

The Wildcats won the first game 9-1 against the Lancers in five innings and lost the second game 3-2 in eight innings.

Wilczynski allowed just one hit, and improved to 7-13 on the season. She also struck out four and walked just one Lancer batter.

Harrison was 4-for-4 with three doubles, four RBIs and two runs scored.

Jackie Harrison prepares to lead off third base in home action with Mount Marty last Sunday.

Bre Parks and Haley Thorpe each added two hits to add to WSC's 11-hit attack.

The Lancers scored a tie-breaking run in the top of the eighth inning, then threw out the potential game-tying run for WSC in the bottom of the inning to hold on for a 3-2 win in the nightcap.

Mount Marty scored a pair of runs in the first inning and held a 2-0 lead until the WSC made a comeback in the sixth and seventh innings to tie the score a 2-2.

With WSC trailing 2-0 entering the bottom of the sixth, Parks doubled and scored on Kristina Walker's RBI triple to make the score 2-1.

In the bottom of the seventh, WSC tied the game on a two-out single from Erica Reitz to score Amber Johnson.

The Wildcats had a chance to take a 3-2 lead in the bottom of the eighth inning, but Walker was thrown out at home plate on a ground ball to second to halt WSC's comeback attempt.

Hain (8-18) suffered the loss on the mound and struck out nine batters and allowed five hits and three runs over eight innings.

Wildcats wind down season, new NSIC record set by Wilson in shot put

The Wayne State College track and field teams competed in their final meet at the Nebraska Wesleyan Twilight Meet held in Lincoln before heading to this week's Northern Sun Conference Championships.

One of the highlights for the Wildcats was a new, all-time Northern Sun Conference mark in the women's shot put by freshman Katie Wilson.

Wilson took fourth in the event with a toss of 45-11 1/2 and shattered the old NSIC mark of 44-3" set by Bemidji State's Patti Fitzgerald in 1989.

The throw was also a new Wayne State school record, topping the previous record of 45-3 set by Diana Asay in 1986.

Wilson's throw was also earned her a national provisional qualifying mark to place her in the top 15 nationally.

Lindsey Stockwell improved on her national provisional qualifying mark in the discus and was fifth with a toss of 145-3 1/2.

She also placed sixth in the women's hammer throw with a mark of 148-8 1/2.

The top finisher for the WSC women was high jumper Lisa Barr, who tied for first by clearing the bar at 5-6. Teammate Tanna Walford tied for fourth at 5-4.

Other top finishers included: Erin Oswald, fourth in the 400 meter dash (59.25); Kari Torgerson, sixth in the discus (143-3) and Rachel Roebke, sixth in the 110 meter hurdles (15.40).

Two relay teams also placed for the Wildcats as the 1600-meter relay team of Rachel Roebke, Jodi Rhodig, Erin Oswald and Angie Kraus took second in 4:10.40, while the 400-meter relay team of Rhodig, Oswald, Tiffany Schacher and Roebke placed third with 50.25 seconds.

Leading the men's team was Jeremiah Herron, who won the 3000-meter steeplechase in 10:04.90.

JJ Washington took fourth in the 100-meter dash at 10.74 seconds, the top time in the NSIC this season.

Nate McIntire placed fourth in the 800-meter run in 1:57.50 and Ben Crabtree captured sixth place in the 1500 meter run with a time of 4:08.70.

The men's 400-meter relay team of Freddie Ellis, JJ Washington, Matt Welsh and Teddy Young took fourth with a time of 43.43.

Two other WSC athletes competed unattached and fared well as Casey Ide won the 1500-meter run in 4:02.60 and Matt Doggett placed second in the pole vault with a top effort of 14-8.

Wayne State will compete at the Northern Sun Conference Championships in Moorhead, Minn., on Friday and Saturday.

WSC picks up Northern Sun athlete awards

Wayne State College received three of the four Northern Sun Conference track and field athlete of the week awards for their performance at the Nebraska Wesleyan Twilight Open.

J.J. Washington was named the men's track athlete of the week, while Heath Grone was named the women's track athlete of the week. Katie Wilson was named the women's field athlete of the week.

Blue Devils place high at two meets

The Wayne High varsity and junior varsity golf teams continue to finish near the top of the leaderboard in recent tournament action.

In varsity play last Thursday, Ben Mohl carded a 75 to finish second overall and the team took fourth place in the Lakeview Invitational played at Columbus.

Other finishers for Wayne included John Whitt who fired an 82 to finish in 12th place, while other scores included Brian Mohl with an 85, John Brady with a 80 and a 96 from Tyler Johnson.

Ben Mohl lost in a playoff to finish second in varsity play at last Saturday's Oakland Invite. Mohl finished with a 78, while his brother, Brian, shot an 82 to finish in eighth place. Other Wayne scores were Whitt 87, Johnson 91 and Brady with a 94.

Next action for the varsity squad will be at the Wayne Mac Invite on Thursday (today) at the Wayne Country Club.

The JV team traveled to Pierce last Saturday and took seventh in the 14-team event. Individual scores were: Dan Heithold 85, Taylor Racely 90, Kyle Kwapioski 92, Jesse Dunklau 101 and Taylor Nelson 102.

The team hosted Crofton and Laurel-Concord in dual action on Monday with two JV teams participating in the meet which Crofton edged Wayne.

Individual scores were: Racely 43, Jon Brady 46, Kwapioski 48, Heithold 50, Sam Kurpogewit 44, Derek Schardt 45, Nelson 46 and Adam Reinert 52.

Wakefield boys, Allen girls dominate meet

Wakefield's boys track team captured the Lewis and Clark conference title, while Allen's girls finished as runner-up at the Lewis and Clark conference track and field meet at Wayne State College on Saturday, May 30.

In the boy's division, area teams Winside and Allen placed third and ninth respectively, while the girl's side saw Winside take third and Wakefield in fourth place.

Wakefield, Winside and Allen results were:

ELEMENTARY TRACK

The annual Elementary Track meet was held on April 28 at the football field. Students in grades K - Sixth were included in the afternoon. New this year was adding grades K-Second. These grades all competed against the students in their class in the 50 yard dash, three legged race, long jump and the softball throw.

The other grades were able to choose which events they would be in. The third grade class competed against the fourth graders and the fifth graders were versus the sixth graders. The field events included were the shot put, softball throw, long jump, and the Frisbee throw. The running events included the 100 yd. Dash, 50 yd. Low hurdles, 400 yd. Dash, gunny sack race, 50 yd. Dash, 200 yd. Dash, 75 yd dash, 3 legged race, and the 4x100 relay. The afternoon was part of Mrs. Chase elementary PE class. She was helped by members of the high school track team.

SENIOR BRUNCH

The 2005 Senior Class, along with their parents, class sponsors, and administration, will be attending the Senior Brunch on Monday, May 9 at 8:30 am. This year the First Lutheran Church in Allen hosts the event.

TREE CITY USA

The Village of Allen has received word from the National Arbor Day Foundation that Allen has been named a Tree City USA for 2004. The effective community forestry program is an ongoing process of renewal and improvement - a program of tree planting and care that continues through the years.

Mrs. Chase and the second grade class at the Elementary Track meet taking turns running the 50 yard dash.

The Tree City USA award is an indication that Allen has met and continues to meet the criteria in this process of improvement. For a community to receive Tree City USA awards, it must have a tree board responsible for public trees, use $2 per capita on its tree resources, have an ordinance that deals with tree resources, and have a formal Arbor Day celebration.

Allen students attend contest

Twenty-nine students from Allen High School attended the NECC Inter-High School Scholastic Contest at Northeast Community College on April 25.

At the contest, students competed against other schools by participating in written testing in a variety of areas.

The following students placed: Christopher Levine, accounting 1, third; Diana Diediker, art/art history, third; Alyssa Uldrich, personal finance, second; Lindsay Swetnam, English composition, first place, keyboarding, second, and music, third.

Through an application process in late 2003 citing activities in the Allen Nature Grove, Allen Historical Grove, and public property trees, a committee determined that Allen had fulfilled the requirements. A formal presentation by Nebraska governor Dave Heineman and Nebraska State Forester Scott Josiah was made on April 7 in Lincoln. The award was announced to the public by Tree Board Chairman Marcia Rastede at the National Honor Society induction and academic awards ceremony at the school on April 26.

COMMUNITY CLUB

The Allen Community Club met on April 18 at the Village Inn for dinner and meeting. Vice-President Alvin Christensen called the meeting to order. Members are reminded to pay their dues of $25 for an individual/couple, $35 for a small business, and $50 for a large business to Treasurer John Werner.

Mary Johnson reported that many children enjoyed the Easter egg hunt. Anyone wanting to have a garage sale and be included on the garage sale listing/ map on June 11 should contact Marcia Rastede.

Plans were made for serving the post-prom breakfast on May 8. The community clean-up day will be May 11. Volunteers, pickups and trailers are needed to help in this project and should meet at the school parking lot on May 11 at 1 p.m.

The next meeting will be at 5 p.m. on May 16 for a work session on the caboose, followed by a potluck picnic at the trailer park.

The September meeting will be at the museum with Darrel Draper as guest speaker.

PLEASURE & PROFIT 4-H

The Pleasure & Profit 4-H Club will be holding a carwash the morning of Saturday, May 7 at the Fire and Rescue Building as a fund raiser for a planned summer outing to the Cedar River to go tanking.

SPONSORS BLOOD DRIVE

The Siouxland Blood Mobile will be in Allen Monday, May 9. This Blood Drive will be located at the Allen School from 2 - 7 p.m. The event is sponsored by the Allen School Science Club.

DRIVER'S ED

The driver's education class will be held June 1 - 14 from 8:30 a.m. until 12:30 p.m. The driving portion of the class will begin on June 6. Students need to sign up in the main office at the school. Only 20 students are allowed to take the class each summer, so be sure to sign up right away if you want to be included.

The cost is $150 for those who attend Allen and live in the district, $160 for those who live in the district and do not attend Allen and $200 for those who live out of the district and do not attend Allen. Students must be 14 by the time the class starts, but it is recommended that you wait until you are 15 to take the class.

FFA BANQUET

On April 30, the Allen FFA held their banquet. There were approximately 140 guests and members present. Diana Diediker began with the invocation followed by the meal made by the mothers and Dave and Jean Rahn. Opening ceremonies were by the retiring officers. Jenny Warner and Crystal Rahn recited the FFA Creed and Luke Sachau and Samantha Bock announced this year's FFA state qualifiers.

The year activities were presented with a slide show by the senior FFA members. Awards were given out: Greenhand Degrees: Daniel Baier, Robert Tanderup, Drew Diediker, Michael Bock, Crystal Rahn, Jenny Warner, Derek Hingst, and Luke Sachau. The Star Greenhand went to Jenny Warner.

Receiving Chapter FFA Degrees were Brooke Stewart, Alicia Gregerson, Ross Rastede, and Jennifer Farenholz. Ross Rastede received Star Chapter Farmer and Alicia Gregerson received the Star Agribusiness award. Mr. Wilmes recognized the seniors and those who were State Degree recipients. Past FFA members were then asked to rise if present to be recognized.

This year's fruit sales awards went to Warner, Alicia Gregerson, and Crystal Rahn. Diana Diediker and Brandon Sands gave their retiring speeches. Appreciation awards were presented by Carla Rastede and Erin Stewart. Drew Diediker and Robert Tanderup gave special thanks and Ross Rastede and Zeena Farenholz announced the final bids from the labor auction.

The closing ceremonies were given by the new officers. Retiring reporter - Samantha Bock.

News from Yesterday's Wayne Democrat April 5, 1906

PRICE OF ICE GOES UP.

The price of ice to consumers in Lincoln has been fixed at a rate more than double what it was last year. Thus, it will cost more to keep the refrigerator going and take more cash to buy a dish or quart of ice cream. Everything requiring ice - doubtless including liquid hilarity - will go up in prices. That is of course due to the mild winter which kept the ice harvest from reaching usual proportions. The diminished cost of living during the mild winter, which reduced the tax for coal and warm clothing, will be made up in a measure in the near hence by the extra added to the retail price of congealed aqua.

Training held at Wayne Fire Department

On April 14 and 15, Haven House hosted a training focused on coordinating community efforts to enhance safety for victims of domestic violence and sexual assault and enhance efforts to hold the perpetrators of these crimes accountable.

Over the two-day training, 76 individuals attended, participants were from Cedar, Dakota, Dixon, Thurston, and Wayne counties and the Winnebago Reservation. Represented at the training were city, county, state, and tribal law enforcement, prosecution, probation, victim advocates, mental health and education professionals.

The training was the first step in establishing Coordinated Community Response Teams (CCRT) in Cedar, Dixon, Thurston, and Wayne Counties. Coordinating the CCRT's is the primary role of MaryAnn Brown, Criminal Justice Liaison of Haven House. If you would like to join a CCRT in your community please contact MaryAnn at the Wayne office 375-5433.

Haven House offers a variety of prevention programs that range from Violence in The Workplace to age appropriate programs designed specifically for K-12 students (Bullying, Dating Violence, Healthy Relationships, etc.). If you would like to learn more about the programs they offer please contact Kathy Fink, Prevention Specialist, at Wayne office 375-5433 or Carol Ryan, Prevention Specialist, at South Sioux City 494-7592. 24Hour Crisis Line: 1-800-876-6238

Seventy-six individuals in law enforcement, prosecution, probation, victim advocates, mental health and the education professional took part in the two-day training.

Nebraska Domestic Violence Sexual Assault Coalition, provided training on organizing a Coordinated Community Response Team.

Kathy Fink, Prevention Specialist and Mary Rose Wattier, PLMHP, both of Haven House, provided training on Domestic Violence 101 and the Effects of Domestic Violence on Children. Ed Matney, Dakota County Attorney, and Laura Barelman, Attorney and WSC Business Professor, provided training on the Role of Prosecution and State and Federal laws. Jeanette McFee, Domestic Violence Officer of So. Sioux City Police Department, provided training on Law Enforcement Response.

A panel made up of members from the existing CCRT in Dakota County provided participants with Sioux satellite office. If you would like to join the Dakota County CCRT please contact Denise Palmer at the South Sioux City office 494-7592.

Haven House recently was awarded a Rural Domestic Violence and Child Victimization Enforcement Grant through the Office on Violence Against Women, U.S. Department of Justice grant #2004-WR-AX-0068, which supported this project. The primary purpose of the Rural Program is to enhance the safety of victims of domestic violence, dating violence, and child abuse by supporting projects uniquely designed to address and prevent these crimes in rural America.

The grant challenges victim advocates, law enforcement, prosecutors, judges and other court personnel, probation and parole officers, and community leaders to work together to craft solutions to overcome the problem of domestic violence.

The geographic isolation, economic structure, particularly strong social and cultural pressures, and lack of available services in rural communities significantly compound problems confronted by those seeking support and services to end the violence in their lives. It also complicates the ability of the criminal justice system to investigate and prosecute domestic violence, dating violence, and child victimization cases.

In addition, sociocultural, economic, and geographic barriers create difficulties for victim service providers to identify and assist victims of domestic violence and dating violence and their children. The Grant #2004-WR-AX-0068

This Wayne State College computer programming team of Dan Froistad, Greg Adams, and Joe Meier recently won the College Computer Programming Contest at Northeast Community College in Norfolk.

Northeast hosts computer programming contest

The 2005 Nebraska College Programming Contest was held recently at Northeast Community College in Norfolk with 15 teams from five area colleges participating.

Teams of two- to-four students were given seven programming problems to solve with the goal of solving the most problems in the least amount of time within a three-hour time limit.

Wayne State's team of Dan Froistad, Greg Adams, and Joe Meier won the competition by solving five problems. Second through fourth place went to teams from Southeast Community College, Northeast Community College won fifth place.

The second-place team from Southeast was made up of Adam Dillon, Josh Beck, and Taylor Dorman.

Third place team members were Trevor Daniels, Brent Ficke, Stefanie Vocasek, and Tony Dyer.

The contest was sponsored by Microsoft who donated software for the participants.

Blood Bank begins HIV/HCV testing locally

The Nucleic Acid Testing (NAT) laboratory at the Siouxland Community Blood Bank will begin testing on April 18 for HIV and Hepatitis C. Previously, daily shipments of test samples had been sent overnight to a reference laboratory. By discontinuing the outsourcing, the Siouxland Community Blood Bank will eliminate air transportation time and possible delays due to weather. In addition, two additional testing positions have been added to the laboratory staff to perform the HIV and the HCV tests.

"Internal testing gives us the ability to provide blood products faster to our patients," said Dr. Michael Kafka, Medical Director of the Siouxland Community Blood Bank.

Initially, NAT testing was only performed at specific sites across the country, but technology has advanced and automated equipment is now available for blood centers to perform their own testing. NAT testing reduces the window period from detection to infection for HCV to 20 days from 60 to 80 days and for HIV to 10 days from 16 days. The testing reduces the risk of transmission of both viruses. Siouxland Community Blood Bank collects and processes over 50,000 donations annually. Siouxland Community Blood Bank supplies blood and blood products to 34 area hospitals in Iowa, Nebraska and South Dakota. Siouxland Community Blood Bank is a member of America's Blood Centers, the international network of community-based blood center that collects over half of the U.S. blood supply and all of the Canadian supply.

Lingenfelter recognized for academic achievement at WSC

Dr. Cheryl Waddington recently presented a certificate to graduating Wayne State College senior Kyle Lingenfelter of Plainview for the Business Student Achievement Award in recognition of academic achievement in business administration. He also received an engraved pen.

Lingenfelter will graduate on May 7 with double majors in business administration with a concentration in finance and exercise science/wellness. While at WSC, he has participated in Habi-tat for Humanity, Sigma Beta Delta business honorary and intramurals.

He achieved recognition as a President's Scholar Athlete for eight semesters and on the Dean's List for nine semesters. Lingenfelter was named 2004 Exercise Science Student of the Year and was a member of the Wayne State College football team as a four-year letter winner. His athletic awards included membership on the 2001 Verizon Academic

All-Region Second Football Team and the 2002 Cosida Academic All-

American Football Team. Following graduation, he will be a manager trainee for Wells Fargo Financial.

Spring concert

The Wakefield Elementary School held a spring concert April 25. The seventh and eighth grade choir, above, also performed several numbers. It was also the farewell concert for Mrs. Tracy Anderson, who is leaving Wakefield to teach at Wayne next year.

RC&D holds meeting

The Northeast Nebraska RC&D Council met on April 25 in Plainview for their regular monthly meeting. Gary Howey, Vice-President presided.

Following the regular order of business council members heard an update on the Lewis & Clark Watershed Assessment project. The update highlighted activities impacting the Ft. Randall Dam to Gavins Pt. Dam section of the Missouri River including Lewis & Clark Lake, lower part of the Niobrara River, plus lower part of Verdigre, Bazille and Ponca Creeks. The watershed is being assessed to address non-point source pollution problems.

Following the program those present were served cake and refreshments to celebrate National Volunteer Month. Gifts of appreciation were handed out as a thank you from USDA NRCS with the theme "Together We're Making History".

A RC&D Endowment project proposal was presented and adopted to sustain and continue the work of the Council into the future if federal dollars are jeopardized with potential budget cuts.

Updates on six other projects were given; the Spring into Summer Fest planned June 25, Rural Youth Connection Young Entrepreneurs Meeting July 16, Northeast Nebraska Welcome Packets committee assignments, Outlaw Trail Scenic Byway 5th Annual Meeting held in Lynch April 19, Food, Land & People workshop June 21, and support for the Nebraska Grazing Conference August 8-9 in Kearney.

Staff comments included the proposed Meridian trail to Corps of Discovery Welcome Center, request for Lied Main Street assistance, meeting on a potential regional water system in Northeast Nebraska, and Prevention Pathways Forum in Norfolk May 5th on preventing substance abuse. One-hundred visitors enjoyed the St. James Marketplace Open House April 16th, and Dave Vogt, Creighton will have on display at the RC&D his wrought iron furniture through June.

The next meeting is Monday, May 23, 7:30 p.m. at the RC&D office in Plainview. All are welcome and encouraged to attend.

Fruits & Vegetables Lower Risk of Cancer
Research in a new study says that a compound, sulforaphane, found in broccoli, brussel sprouts and kale, blocks the growth of breast cancer cells. Other studies show that people who eat diets rich in plant-based foods have lower risk of serious diseases including cancers. Phil Griess R.P. The National Cancer Institute recommends eating at least five or more servings of fruits and vegetables a day. One note of caution for those on blood thinners like warfarin, large amounts of vitamin K found in foods like green leafy vegetables may counteract the drug's effect. Be sure to discuss your diet with your doctor.

EMS DEMONSTRATION
Members of the Winside Volunteer Fire/Rescue Department visited Winside elementary third grade students to discuss and show them emergency medical procedures. A video on "What Paramedics Do" was shown to the class then squad members demonstrated the use of a backboard and wheel cot for loading injured persons into the rescue unit. They also show the student the inside of the ambulance and what equipment they use.
Representatives of the Winside Volunteer Fire Squad who participated were VerNeal Marotz, Sandra Atkins, Pete and Shelly Keiser, Brian Petzoldt and Don Skokan.

KIDS AND CRITTERS 4-H CLUB
The Kids and Critters 4-H Club met on Feb. 13 in the Winside Legion Post with President Danielle Wurdeman presiding. Courtney Petzoldt gave the secretary report while Morgan Petzoldt gave the treasurer's report.
Members discussed making a club banner for the 4-H building. Ideas should be brought to the next meeting. A Sewing Day in the Legion Post was set for Feb. 26.
Courtney Petzoldt, news reporter.

NO NAME
Ernie and Dianne Jaeger hosted the April 23 No Name Kard Klub with 16 members and two guests, Mick and Sue Topp, present. Tripoly, Hearts, Spoons and Pitch were played throughout the night with prizes going to Dwight Oberle, Randall Bargstadt, Toni Shrant and Sue Topp.
The next gathering will be Sept. 10 at Richard and Georgia Janssen's.
THEME NIGHT
Winside Public Elementary School held an "Animals" Theme Night on April 21 for parents and other interested persons. Each grade decorated their room, made information and pictorial displays as well as costumes and other items pertaining to their individual room theme.
The Kindergarten class displayed farm animal information as well as a live baby duck; Grade one was on African animals; grade two on dinosaurs; grade three, ocean animals; grade four, birds; grade five, Alaskan wildlife; and grade six, on animals of the jungle, which included making their entire room look like a jungle of trees and animals.
There were representatives of Northeast Community College Veterinary Technician Program. There were several breeds of dogs, a cat, rabbits, a pig, a lamb, hamsters and guinea pigs, ferrets, birds and even a very colorful but not too friendly chameleon. Visitors were allowed to pet most of the animals.

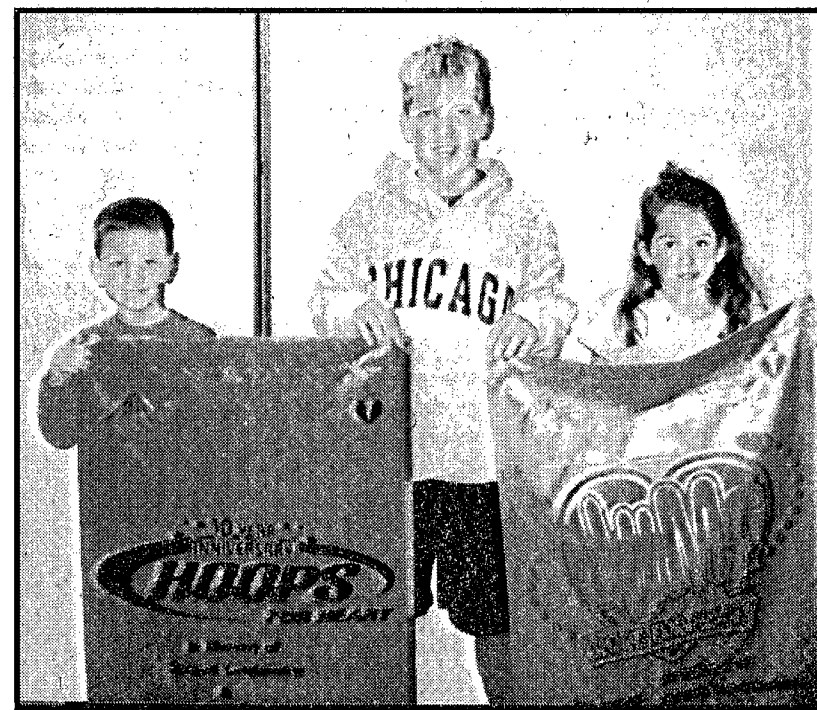

WINSIDE SIXTH GRADE THEME NIGHT IN THEIR CREATIVE JUNGLE ROOM.
The junior high/high school also had displays but they were on an international level with various demonstrations of food and crafts.
HOOPS FOR HEARTS
Winside elementary students made an extra special effort this year in raising funds for the American Heart Association to help with the fight against heart disease. They did it "in memory of Bob Wacker and Russell Longnecker," the husbands of two elementary staff members, who unexpectedly died from heart disease.
The students raised a total of $3,000.10. The three students who raised the most money were: Jami Lynn Jaeger, first grader who collected $134.65; Trevor Lenton, Kindergarten, $127; and Blaine Meyer, fifth grader, $125.
For all the student's efforts, the school will receive a $200 gift certificate to U.S. Games for the purchase of physical education equipment. The school also received two banners that will be hung in the school with "In Memory of Bob Wacker and Russell Longnecker" printed on them.
The school thanks all who donated and also the parents of the students who participated in the event. You helped fight our nation's #1 killer - heart disease.
ALUMNI BANQUET
The 99th annual Winside Alumni Banquet will be held May 28 in the Village Auditorium beginning with a 5 p.m. registration and social hour. All graduated classes ending in 5 will be honored including this year's including this year's May 2005 class.
Home Town Market of Pierce will serve a pork loin supper at 6:30 p.m. Cost will be $8.50 in advance or $10 at the door. Advance tickets can be purchased at Oberle's Market and Winside State Bank in Winside and Elkhorn Valley Bank in Hoskins and Norfolk.
This year's alumni officers are: Tami Hoffman, president; Bob Bowers, vice president; Jill Wylie, secretary; Doug Wylie, treasurer; John Gallop, historian; Nicole Deck, table decorations.

During Theme Night, two-year-old Lance Muhs of Carroll is excited looking into the eyes of a chameleon.

Maintain energy through healthy eating, exercise and sleep Engagements

The daily grind can often zap energy reserves, but developing healthy habits naturally helps defend the body from exhaustion. The keys to staying energetic are smart eating, exercise and sleep.

Like many other machines, the human body requires fuel, or food, to function properly.

Healthy eating begins with a good breakfast, which starts the body off with a boost of energy. Continue to make smart eating choices throughout the day.

Carbohydrates are one of the body's main fuels; try to consume the ones that have nutritional value. Some examples include whole grains, which contain fiber and help maintain blood sugar, and fresh fruits and good vegetables in a variety of colors, which contain phytonutrients that promote good health and build immune systems.

After choosing healthy foods, decide on an optimal eating schedule. Some people function best by eating three big meals a day; others prefer six smaller meals.

Physical activity not only helps

Amy Topp
Extension Educator
4-H & Youth

keep hearts healthy and weight at proper levels, it helps people feel better. Adults should get about 60 to 90 minutes of exercise most days of the week.

On top of everything else, get a good night's sleep. The average person needs eight hours of sleep every night to stay alert and energized during the day; it's difficult to revitalize people's energy if they consistently lack sleep.

Carroll Legion Auxiliary holds meeting

Carroll American Legion Auxiliary Ervin Lyons Post #165 met April 25 at the Firehall with 10 members present.

President Jo Ann Owens called the meeting to order with a regular opening. She gave a report on the Spring District meeting held in Beemer. The Carroll unit was honored with a gift of a heart-shaped flower decoration for early dues sent in to State.

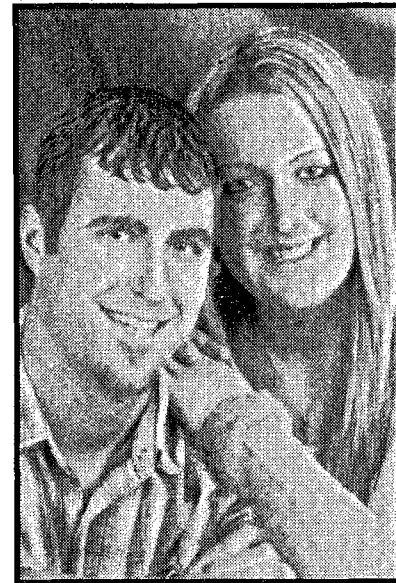

Pat Roberts, Membership Chairperson, received this gift. The unit also received a red and white crocheted Husker University of Nebraska afghan in a drawing of the District President's Project.

President Owens gave a reading entitled, "The Military Wife."

Money donations were given in lieu of Poppy Sales.

Norma Stoltenberg served lunch.

The next meeting will be held Tuesday, May 24 at the Carroll Auditorium. The unit will refurbish Memorial Wreaths at this time.

Members of the WSC Newman Ministry, Dr. Richard Collings and others involved with the organization pose in front of their new home. With them are Bob and Susie Sherry, second and third from the right, former owners of the home and Pat Gross, far right, who assisted with the transfer of the home's ownership.

Newman Ministry gets new home

On April 29 the Archdiocese of Omaha finalized purchase a house at 317 East 10th Street (just south of Terrace Resident Hall) for the Catholic ministry at Wayne State College.

The Newman Ministry has been renting a WSC house since Feb 2002.

Previous owners of the home were Robert and Susie Sherry. The Sherrys had lived in the house for more than 14 years.

Robert (Bob) is a Knight of Columbus and the couple are members of St. Mary's Parish, Wayne where they have been active in many roles. Bob has been a security guard for many years at Wayne State College. He recently retired from a full-time position and continues to work on a part-time basis.

Honored altar servers

Briefly Speaking

Women's Club learns about Las Vegas

WAYNE - The Wayne Women's Club met April 8 at the North Meeting Room of the City Auditorium. The program was presented by Kerry Otte on her travels to Las Vegas, Nev. and the southern part of the Grand Canyon. Kerry Otte and Donna Shufelt were hostesses at the meeting. The next meeting will be held Friday, May 13 at 9:30 a.m. at Heritage Express. The club will be having a brunch along with the regular meeting.

Acme members talk about spring

AREA - Nine Acme Club members met May 2 at Tacos & More for a breakfast meeting. Verdelle Reeg called the meeting to order and offered a prayer. Bonadell Koch gave the thought for the day. Roll call was answered by telling what each member liked about spring. The minutes of the previous meeting were read and approved. The treasurer's report was given and filed for review. President Verdelle Reeg reported she had purchased and mailed a soft plush cross to Pauline Merchant. Bonnadell Koch and Joann Temme showed the book "Characters" by Chris Wallace which will be placed in the Wayne Public Library in celebration of the 120th anniversary of the Acme Club. Delores Utecht read the poem of which verses were written by members. The yearly club history was written and read by Zita Jenkins. The members will meet at 9 a.m. on the first Monday of each month at Tacos & More during the summer months. New officers will be Bonnadell Koch, president; Betty Wittig, vice president and Delores Utecht, secretary-treasurer. President Reeg thanked the members for their cooperation and support and the meeting was adjourned.

The fourth and fifth grades from Allen Consolidated Schools attended an Arbor Day observance on April 29 at the Northeast Arboretum located on the Haskell Ag Lab research farm located near Concord.

The classes learned about what an arboretum does and heard from one of the original founders of the arboretum, Lawrence Fuchs from Belden, about bird books and tree books.

The youth took a brief tour and looked at some of the plantings and helped plant a blue ash tree. The tree was planted in honor and memory of a long time member of the arboretum, Dr. Bichel, from Wakefield.

Each student was given a tree which was provided by the Lower Elkhorn NRD.

The fourth and fifth grade students from Allen Consolidated Schools pose with Del Hemsath following their visit to the Northeast Arboretum at the Haskell Ag Lab.

Adam Rudin

Rudin receives scholarship to the University of Minnesota

Adam Rudin, son of Ali Eminov and Catherine Rudin of Wayne is a 2005 graduate of Wayne High and has been awarded the University Sponsored Merit Scholarship.

Rudin will be a freshman in the fall at the University of Minnesota - Twin Cities in the Institute of Technology.

In offering this highly competitive award, the University of Minnesota-Twin Cities honors incoming students who have demonstrated exceptional academic performance and leadership.

How does your garden grow? Early this year

An unseasonably mild spring across much of Nebraska this year notwithstanding, there are certain time-proven laws that govern gardening on the Plains:

- That old bromide -- wait until Mother's Day to plant those annuals and other tender plants -- is still a pretty good one, even if it does hit 80 degrees in early April.

- Most turfgrass weeds aren't growing yet, so there's not much point in trying to kill them now.

- Some of those gorgeous new plants that look so tempting in the catalogs haven't been fully tested by Nebraska weather, so try them if you must -- and most gardeners must -- but be prepared for some losses.

Still, it's an uphill battle this spring for horticulturists with perfectly good advice.

"This season is so advanced, a lot of what I say is thrown out the window," said Kim Todd, a landscape horticulture specialist in the university's Institute of Agriculture and Natural Resources.

Dale Lindgren, horticulturist at the university's West Central Research and Extension Center at North Platte, notes one telling indicator of spring's mildness in his part of the state:

"The magnolia trees almost always get hit by frost and don't do well here," he said. "But the few we have here have looked nice this spring."

On the other hand, Todd said, she's already seen slug damage on hostas, which means gardeners may need to monitor and treat for pests and diseases earlier than usual this year.

The unusually early green-up also means time is growing short for moving and dividing perennials; Todd said. Some are close to being too far along to safely tinker with, but if you must, wait for a cool, cloudy day and offer some extra care afterward.

For perennials that benefit from some early to mid-season pinching for fuller growth, it will be important this year to be on the lookout to do that earlier than usual, she added.

And it really is too early to plant most annuals and vegetables.

Really. Final frost dates vary in Nebraska, but it's not unheard of to have a freeze in some areas in mid-to-late May. "It's just way too early for the majority of annuals," Todd said.

Gardeners who are stocking up on annuals now should find a safe place to store them for a few weeks or, if they do plant them, be prepared to cover them, she said.

The exceptions are pansies and cool-season vegetables.

"We've been harvesting asparagus for at least 10 days," Lindgren said. "If you've got asparagus, you might want to check it, because you don't want it to get too tall."

It's also too early to apply weed treatments to lawns, said university turfgrass specialist Roch Gaussoin. Research shows that pre-emergent treatments are best applied the first week of May. It's a good time to aerify lawns. While fall is the best time to seed lawns, the spring window for seeding remains open until about the second week of May, Gaussoin added.

Here are some other chores that should be on gardeners' to-do lists for the next couple of weeks:

- Adjust bed border lines as needed.
- Finish cleaning up debris.
- Check winter survival of herbaceous perennials, most of which should be showing growth by now. "This is a good time to see ... where the holes in the garden are," Todd said.
- Repair and install drip irrigation systems.
- Explore garden centers and make a list of new plants you'd like to try.
- If your garden is plagued by deer damage, get protection up now.
- Place supports around floppy plants before they get too big.
- Get containers cleaned, and ready for planting.
- Organize and maintain garden tools so they're right where you need them for the season.
- Get water gardens cleaned and started up for the season; any freeze at this point is unlikely to be severe enough to affect the pump, but don't install tropical plants yet.
- If you're thinking of some special planting areas in your landscape -- maybe a rock garden or berm -- start building.
- Bring in new topsoil as needed to address grade problems in your yard.
- Check trees planted in the last year. If they've been through an entire growing season, it's probably time to remove stakes and wires.
- That's enough to keep anybody busy without having to plant your annuals," Todd said.

IT'S YOUR CHOICE.

Agriculture

Thoughts are shared on moving.

These weeks are flying by too fast! They say you are never really ready for an auction; you just set a date and have it. This is our third, and that is still true. The Big Farmer is outside right now, with a neighbor who is changing the oil on the tractor. Since the neighbor hopes to buy the tractor and the front-end loader, he's helping get it in shape. We are giving him our picnic table in exchange for his help with this and some other projects.

We've been cleaning out drawers of the furniture that is to be sold. It's amazing what you find when you clean out drawers: our birth certificates, photos of the '49 blizzard, and a pair of eyeglasses that belonged to my mother-in-law! The latter are being donated to the Lions, even if the frames are a bit old-fashioned.

The pictures of the blizzard reveal two-story high snow drifts on either side of a one lane opening of the road west of the farm in March. There is also one of a train with a snow blower that Mike remembers as being 10 feet wide and 10 feet high, trying to open the tracks south of the farm in the area known as the Apex. That was some winter!

After my diatribe a month ago about Star Wars fans, I have to tell you about the sermon I heard last Sunday. My Sis lives in Papillion and attends a Baptist church there. She had been telling me about the wonderful sermons that are 45 minutes long, but no one minds because they are so interesting. So, I decided to go with her last week.

The Farmer's Wife
By: Pat Meierhenry

Would you believe the minister had just come back from a Star Wars convention in Indianapolis? It seems his 17-year-old son is a huge fan. And he wove the convention skillfully into the things he was telling us. He did have us chuckling at times; for instance, when one of the attendees told him that Star Wars fans know the difference between fantasy and reality; he advised that fellow to look around him. I'm assuming there were all kinds of folks in costume.

There were 40,000 people there, and they stood in line for nine hours on the first day; four just to get into the center. To me, that is mind-boggling. (And quite a waste of a day, I'm thinking.) Of course, they got to know the other people in line quite well by the time they got to where they were going.

George Lucas was even there one morning, but their friend was in line at 4 a.m., to see and hear him; they decided that was too early. I guess! He made his point very effectively: would that we were that passionate about our faith.

Anyway, I heard a great sermon. And now it's on to the armoire, which has to be ready to sell on Saturday. I wonder what treasures I'll find in it.

Tips offered for preventing soil erosion

Soil erosion is rampant in crop fields, with hillsides the most susceptible. Allowing this erosion to continue year after year will cause lower crop yields, higher fertilizer and pesticide costs and poorer soil for future generations.

By some accounts, nearly half of the original topsoil in the Midwest has been lost over the past 150 years. Even with erosion rates reduced, buildup of soil is far slower than soil loss. Soil takes nearly 500 years to gain one inch of topsoil.

Over the past few weeks, rain storms have passed through the area, causing ruts and gullies in crop fields. Many of these gullies and ruts will simply be tilled in and forgotten. Tillage is only a temporary solution, rain will come again and the gullies will reappear. Each event takes hundreds to thousands of pounds of soil — soil that contains much of the field's fertility and any preemerge herbicide. Topsoil loss exposes the poorer soils underneath and will reduce the quality of soil. There are many reasons to prevent erosion, but in the end each producer has to find their own motivation.

Erosion control has taken many forms, including terraces, waterways, contour farming, and buffer strips. As many ways as there are to prevent erosion there is an excuse not to do it. "Takes too much time to farm around the terraces," "The co-op sprays and kills the waterways," "I like to farm in straight lines," "buffer strips take away from my acres." Each reason is understandable but each is just an excuse for not doing the right thing.

Alternative types of erosion control also exist, for example tile outlet terraces where two terraces with outlets are installed instead of four or five terraces. Cover crops can also help where winter wheat, rye, or oats are grown in erosion prone areas and simply planted through in spring and killed with the first herbicide pass. Plant material can be a great way to reduce erosion because plant roots hold soil and residues slow water surface water in Nebraska, and if you don't believe me, show me a river that is not brown most of the year. Reduce erosion now.

Many cost share programs exist for erosion control practices including no-till, visit your local NRCS office for more information.

You can reach John Hay at (402) 329-4821 or e-mail at jhay2@unl.edu flow. No-till can be a great erosion control tool with or without other control measures. No-till soil is held together with plant roots and microorganisms. Surface residues reduce the speed of water moving down the hillside by acting as mini dams. No control is perfect but very little in agriculture is.

There are also other positive side effects to erosion control. Many practices involve grassed areas, or buffer strips which are good wildlife habitat. Pheasants and other wildlife will live and thrive on your land if you provide the habitat.

Undergrads experience research firsthand working with scientists

Cattle feeders are using findings by Rik Smith, senior agribusiness major from Laurel.

For an Agricultural Research Division honors project, this CASNR student surveyed Nebraska feedyards, compared employee variables such as wages, education and benefit packages, and calculated industry averages that feedlot managers can use in hiring decisions. "To take everything I've learned in the classroom and apply it to a real world project with implications far beyond my final grade opened my eyes to what my education has really been about," said Smith, who co-wrote a Nebraska Cooperative Extension publication with his adviser, agricultural economist Darrell Mark.

Mark said Smith's published work would be widely used in the cattle feeding industry.

"Rik learned the value of applied research while producing something that benefits the university and the cattle industry," Mark said. "That's what a land-grant (university) education is all about."

Working with scientists and graduate students helps undergraduates choose educational opportunities and careers.

"I have a much better idea of what I can do next," said Nancy Jimenez-Gonzalez, a junior biology major from Lincoln who analyzes DNA from high-protein soybeans developed by IANR plant breeders. "I know that when I graduate I will be able to do genetics work."

Her adviser, plant breeder George Graef, said he doesn't hire undergraduates merely to perform tasks. "Their work makes a big difference in the way things get accomplished in the lab."

Jimenez-Gonzalez's work helps plant breeders pinpoint genes that influence protein levels and aids ongoing research to boost the nutritional value of soybeans, a plus for consumers and producers.

WSC students serve Wakefield library

Wayne State College School of Business and Technology students presented librarian Nancy Fredrickson of the Gardner Public Library of Wakefield with the results of two service-learning projects that were recently completed. Tom Brownell of the Computer Technology and Information Systems Department created a Website for the new library. The Website, at <http://www.gardner-publiclibrary.com>, lists the features of the new library and offers patrons an overview of the library's many services.

For more information about the Wakefield Library project contact Nancy Fredrickson at: 402-287-2334. Anyone involved with a non-profit organization (in the greater Wayne area) and needing student assistance is asked to contact Laura Barelman at 402-375-7020.

Local student receives WSC scholarship

Melissa Knutson of Wayne has been awarded a Dr. Archie McPherran & Margaret

Melissa Knutson

McPherran Scholarship valued at $575 to continue her education at Wayne State College. She is the daughter of Michael Knutson and will graduate from Wayne High School in 2005.

At Wayne High, Knutson is on the She Devils Dance Team and also in Band.

Students enrolled in a Wayne State College's School of Business and Technology, Strategic Communications class also worked on a project for Fredrickson.

The students created a portfolio of various letters, programs, press releases and Website information and other documents for the new Gardner Public Library 'Friends of the Library' organization.

"The 'Friends of the Library' is a volunteer organization of people who love books and the library. They will gather several times a year to help build awareness of the collection and of the library services," said Laura Barelman, assistant professor of business and instructor for the class. "The students are excited that their work serves the community to promote literacy."

Tom Brownell, WSC student and Laura Barelman, WSC Asst. Prof. of Business present their service-learning projects to Nancy Fredrickson, Gardner Public Library librarian.

Local students receive leadership scholarship

Midland Lutheran College awarded the Anderson Leadership Scholarship to Wade Jarvi, Sarah Jensen, Benjamin Mohl and Josh Rasmussen, all of Wayne.

This prestigious scholarship is awarded to students who have exceptional academic achievements and demonstrated leadership in school, church or community activities.

The leadership experience selection process included interviews with faculty, staff, and current Anderson Scholars as well as participating in a group problem solving project with other applicants. The scholarships are named in memory of Marie Anderson, a 1934 Midland graduate and long-time friend and benefactor of the college whose generosity afforded the opportunity to create the scholarships.

Students in the Anderson Leader Scholars Program participate in dynamic leadership experiences during their four years at MLC. The program includes a mentorship experience, a leadership workshop weekend outside of Nebraska, and dynamic seminars with world leaders.

Speakers who shared their perspectives with the Anderson Scholars this past year included an ultra-marathon runner and former corporate CEO Dr. Stan Cottrell, Augsburg Fortress Press CEO Ms. Beth Lewis, noted horseman and author Mr. Sam Powell, and the Commander of the U.S.S. NEBRASKA nuclear submarine, Commander John Carter.

Now in its 121st year of academic excellence, Midland Lutheran College inspires people to learn and lead in the world with purpose.

To learn more, visit Midland Lutheran College on the web at: www.mlc.edu or call (402) 721-5480 or (800) 642-8382.

Blood Bank kicks off campaign

The Siouxland Community Blood Bank will be kicking off their fifth annual "Heroes Unite, It's About Life" campaign in May. This campaign helps recruitment efforts through education by the Siouxland Community Blood Bank staff and community participation. Wayne will be holding their community blood drive on Monday, May 16, from 1 p.m. to 5:30 p.m. at Grace Lutheran Church.

From May through September the blood bank will be conducting blood drives in over one hundred communities in the tri-state area. The top three communities with the highest percentage of blood donors registering to donate in comparison to the size of their Fire, Police and Rescue squads combined will win a sponsored donation towards community fire and rescue equipment. The top prize this year will be $1000.

"The reality is that one out of three people will need blood in our lifetime and we all should feel special about keeping this lifesaving gift available for our community," said Jan Twait, CEO of the Siouxland Community Blood Bank.

To be eligible to donate blood individuals must be at least 17 years of age (16 in Iowa with a Siouxland Community Blood Bank signed parent consent form); however there is no upper age limit as long as the donor is in good health. In addition donors need to weigh over 110 pounds and have not donated whole blood in the past 56 days. A photo I.D. is required at the time of registration.
