Walking for a cure

The sixth annual Relay For Life was held in Wayne Friday with the Survivor Lap led by members of the Wayne military branches providing a color guard (at left). Above, the luminarias lit the track throughout the night as the walkers circled the track.

Two arrested in drug bust are charged

Lyle Widhalm, 41, and Dina Fendrich, 40, were charged in Wayne County Court on Monday. The two were arrested recently by the Nebraska State Patrol in connection with a methamphetamine manufacturing operation, approximately 15 miles west of Wayne. Evidence recovered included drug-making materials and equipment, firearms and illegal drugs.

Widhalm was charged with four counts: possession with intent to manufacture and deliver methamphetamine, possession of a firearm in connection with drug violation, transporting an automatic weapon, and possession of controlled substance.

Fendrich was charged with aiding and abetting all violations of Lyle Widhalm.

There will be continued first hearings for both. Widhalm is scheduled to appear in court on Monday, July 11. Fendrich is scheduled to appear in court on Monday, June 20.

Widhalm's bond was reduced from $100,000 - 10 percent, and Fendrich's bond was set at $10,000 - 10 percent.

Tractor riders to stop in Wayne

Antique tractors from several states will be participating in the Great Nebraska Tractor Ride on Friday and Saturday, June 24-25.

Participants can choose from either a one-day or two-day ride. Both routes will begin and end in Decatur. All tractorists involved in the ride must be at least 25 years old and organizers estimate nearly 100 tractors will participate in either the one-day or two-day ride.

The two day ride will be approximately 170 miles long. Tractors will leave Decatur on Friday, June 24 and have an overnight stay in Norfolk.

Towns on the ride include Bancroft, Pender, Wayne, near Winside, near Hoskins and to Norfolk.

Tractors will leave Decatur at 7 a.m. and should arrive in Wayne in the mid-morning at Northeast Equipment.

In conjunction with the Great Nebraska Tractor Ride, Northeast Equipment will host the Chamber Coffee at 10 a.m. on Friday, June 24.

The Wayne County 4-H Council will serve lunch at Northeast Equipment from 10:30 a.m. to 1:30 p.m. The menu will include hot dogs, hamburgers, chips, potato salad, baked beans, bars and drink. Money raised from this fundraiser will be used for 4-H scholarships.

Also during the day, Pastor John Pasche of Grace Lutheran Church will be using his John Deere one-cylinder engine for making ice cream.

The second day ride will begin in Norfolk and travel to Stanton, Aloys, West Point, Lyons and back to Decatur.

Tractors participating in the one-day ride will travel approximately 72 miles, through Decatur, Lyons, Oakland, West Point, Lyons and back to Decatur.

Personnel issues are approved

Wayne Community Schools Board of Education met in regular session Monday night. Several agenda items were moved to executive session: adding 20 days to secretary's position, approval of credit for faculty member, and coaching recommendations.

Approved was the resignation of Sara Tvrdy (kitchen help) and hiring of the following staff: Rebecca Watson (first grade teacher), Kristin Hochstein (one year position - high school social studies to replace Brendan Dorcey who is leaving with the local National Guard), and Deneil Parker (three fourths time - to teach health, Math 8, and study hall in Middle School).

The board also approved taking money from the building fund to put air conditioning into the high school. Supt. Dr. Joe

Housing issues debated

By Clara Osten
Of the Herald

Discussion at Tuesday's meeting of the Wayne City Council ranged from hours of fireworks being discharged to town houses and boarding houses.

Ordinance 2005-14 failed to receive second round approval after considerable discussion by several council members.

Council member Doug Sturm said that many people mow lawns or use snow blowers in the early morning hours and created noise similar to that created by fireworks.

Council member Verdel Lutt said he felt hours of fireworks discharge should be limited because fireworks can be heard three to four blocks away.

Following a public hearing in which a number of residents voiced disapproval, Resolution 2005-59 failed.

The resolution would have granted the Wayne Area Habitat for Humanity a Use by Exception permit to construct a townhouse at 1014 Douglas Street.

Several property owners in the neighborhood indicated that having that type of housing would cause the depreciation of property values of other houses. Cindy Meyer, Dorothy Wert and Jean Lutt spoke to the council with a number of questions and concerns, including the clutter created by not having a garage for storage and parking issues.

Sharon Braun, a member of the Planning Commission, which recommended approval of the request, told the council that having a housing is economic development and that building a townhouse would be a nice blend to the community.

During Tuesday's meeting, the council also voted to not introduce an ordinance amending the Wayne Municipal Code in regard to boarding houses.

Council member Will Wiseman said he was a part of the committee formed to develop boarding house language. He noted that he had heard lots of negatives from residents who didn't want boarding house language in the city code.

In other action, the council waived the three readings on two separate issues.

The first will amend the city's zoning map and re-zone property owned by Ray

Emily Bruflat is an accompanist for many groups, including the concert choir (above).

Musician uses talents in many areas

By Clara Osten
Of the Herald

Emily Bruflat can remember the exact date of her first piano lesson.

The soon-to-be Wayne High School senior started taking piano lessons on Sept. 8, 1992, when she was just four years old.

And, while not every moment since that time has been completely smooth, she has worked on perfecting her talent and expanding it to other areas of music.

Emily was born in Monmouth, Ill. and moved to Wayne with her parents, Alan and Madge in 1990.

"I really got my start playing piano after my friend gave me an eight-key Little Tykes piano before we moved to Wayne," Emily said.

She began playing songs such as "Mary Had a Little Lamb" and "Joyful, Joyful" by ear, even before the beginning of formal lessons.

Marcile Uken has been Emily's piano teacher from the beginning and continues to work with Emily today.

"I've worked with Emily since she was a little girl and I've seen her grow to a very responsible, dependable young lady with outstanding talent," Mrs. Uken said.

Emily remembers her first competition - the National Federation of Music Clubs' Piano Festival in Sioux City, Iowa. She played two songs, "Highways" and "Captain Candy" and earned a Superior rating.

When she was in fourth grade she began taking violin lessons with Mrs. Day and continued for three years.

When she was in fifth grade she began playing the trombone in the Middle School band. Later she switched to the flute and eventually went back to playing the trombone, the instrument she still plays in the Wayne High School band.

Last summer she added the bass guitar to the list of instruments she is capable of playing and also took drum lessons for a short period of time.

In addition to playing musical instruments, Emily has also been involved in all the vocal music groups offered through the Wayne Public Schools. She has been involved with Music Makers, Swing Choir, Jazz Choir and Concert Choir.

Grand opening being planned

Area residents can now enjoy the new bath house at the pool in Laurel. A grand opening is planned from 9 - 10:30 a.m. Saturday, during Ag Days in Laurel. A number of drawings are planned. Lou Benschoter of Benschoter Plumbing and Construction was contractor of the project. The public is invited to attend.

The new facility features two modern outdoor restrooms that are handicap accessible and open to the public so anyone at the Lions Park next to the pool can use them too.

The bath house is a result of recent donations and fundraising. Also, working with a local contractor helps keep the cost in line. Working one on one with the city, Benschoter Plumbing and Construction and Lackas Service furnished materials and labor for less to help the project to completion.

Various individuals contributed time and labor towards the project. The City of Laurel paid for the construction plus city employees put in many hours to help complete it. City employees also completed the landscaping.

The pool area and the Lions Park are visible as you come into Laurel and they look great. Lower Elkhorn Natural Resources District gave a grant for a foot bridge which will be built in the park.

Laurel school children are excited about the new bath house. At a Northeast Nebraska Coalition workshop, children identified their school and also the pool as being important to the community and to them.

"I'm glad to see the bath house come to the final stages," Laurel City Administrator Harley Reineohl said. "There's just touch up left. I want to thank the community for their support and anyone who helped with building it."

Looking back to the early days of swimming in the Laurel area, residents used to swim in Lake Lo-Val, north of Laurel. In 1954, the Laurel Lions Club donated $1,500 to kick off the swimming pool drive. The Lo-Val Sportsman's Club was dissolved.

Please help celebrate the completion of the bath house at the pool in Laurel by attending the grand opening this Saturday.

Karen Green

Karen Kay Green, 49, of Wakefield died Tuesday, June 7, 2005 at her home under Hospice care.

Services were held Saturday, June 11 at St. John's Lutheran Church in Wakefield. Pastor Terrence Bueche officiated.

Karen Kay Green, daughter of Eldon and Mary (Brown) Libke, was born July 20, 1955 at Cherokee, Iowa. She was baptized at the First Lutheran Church in Kingsley, Iowa and graduated from Kingsley-Pierson High School in 1974. On July 3, 1977 she married Ronald Green. The couple made their home in Wakefield. She worked at Milton G. Waldbaum for the past 28 years. She enjoyed traveling on the motorcycle, sight-seeing, collecting Precious Moments figurines and being with family and friends.

Survivors include her husband, Ron of Wakefield; one son, John and Eve Green of Wayne; one daughter, Jennifer Danhousnrou of Omaha; four grandchildren; one sister, Diane and Don Conyers of Hastings; three brothers, Mike and Carol Libke of Correctionville, Iowa, Richard Libke of Anthon, Iowa and Dennis Libke of Hastings.

She was preceded in death by her parents.

Honorary pallbearers were Carey Rhoads, Dan Green, Dave Pawley, Michael Rhoads, Larry Murfin and Michael Libke, Jr.

Burial will be at a later date. Thompson Chapel Funeral Home in Wakefield was in charge of arrangements.

John Ehlers

John W. Ehlers, 89, formerly of Winside, died Wednesday, May 18, 2005 at the Hillcrest Care Center in Laurel.

Graveside services were held Saturday, June 11 at the Union Cemetery near Battle Creek. Memorial services were also held Sunday, June 12 at the Hillcrest Care Center.

John W. Ehlers, son of Henry and Caroline (Dahm) Ehlers, was born Nov. 17, 1915 at Winside. In August of 1950 he married Helen (Hayes) Krei. They spent most of their married life on farms in the Winside area. They retired to Winside in 1980.

Survivors include two step-daughters, Edna and Bill Wendt of Hoskins and Betty and Carl Walter of Norfolk; a step-daughter-in-law, Maxine Hayes of Council Bluffs, Iowa; 10 step-grandchildren; many great and great-great-grandchildren; three nieces and two nephews.

He was preceded in death by his parents; his wife in 1981; two sisters; one brother and one step-son.

Blood Bank needs donors

The Siouxland Community Blood Bank is in full swing for their 2005 donor recruitment campaign, "Heroes Unite, It's About Life". The campaign is designed to recruit new donors in the summertime, retain current donors, and increase the frequency of volunteer blood donation. This is accomplished through a partnership with local Fire, Police and Rescue squads.

The "Heroes Unite, It's About Life" campaign helps recruitment efforts through education by the Siouxland Community Blood Bank staff and community participation.

From May through September the blood bank will be conducting blood drives in over one hundred communities in the tri-state area.

The top three communities with the highest percentage of blood donors registering to donate in comparison to the size of their Fire, Police and Rescue squads combined will win a sponsored donation towards community fire and rescue equipment. The top prize this year will be $1000.

If you are donating in a different community you can still give your home town credit for the "Heroes Unite, It's About Life" contest. When you register to donate blood just let the Siouxland Community Blood Bank employee know which community you would like to give credit to that day.

Your next opportunity to donate in Winside, Nebraska is on Wednesday, June 29 from 2 p.m. to 6 p.m. at the Library.

Nationwide 4 million lives were saved last year by volunteer blood donors. These heroes come from every walk of life but out of their kindness blood is available at our local hospitals when needed.

To be eligible to donate blood individuals must be at least 17 years of age (16 in Iowa with a Siouxland Community Blood Bank parent consent form); however there is no upper age limit as long as the donor is in good health. In addition donors need to weigh over 110 pounds and have not donated whole blood in the past 56 days. A photo I.D. is required at the time of registration.

For more information about "Heroes Unite, It's About Life", the Siouxland Community Blood Bank or blood drives in your area, call 712-252-4208, 1-800-798-4208 or visit their website at www.siouxlandbloodbank.org

Faith Regional receives an isolation grant for purchases

Faith Regional Health Services has been awarded a grant for the purchase of isolation and personal protective equipment under the Isolation Capacity Grant from the Nebraska Department of Health and Human Services System.

The grant will assist in providing protection for the public from bioterrorism, public health threats, emergencies and other outbreaks of infectious disease.

According to an assessment done by the Nebraska Health and Human Services System, in order for hospitals to be prepared to respond appropriately to a highly infectious disease event and to ensure the safety of facilities and staff, resources need to be devoted to enhancing the equipment that may be used in responding to the release and presence of a threatening biological agent, or to care for patients with confirmed or suspected highly infectious diseases.

Faith Regional is one of seven hospitals included in the four Nebraska Bioterrorism Hospital Preparedness Regions. These regions ensure that Nebraska hospitals have the capacity to maintain, in negative pressure isolation, at least 10 suspected cases of highly infectious diseases. Examples of such cases are small pox, pneumonic plague, SARS, influenza hemorrhagic fevers or any other febrile patient with a suspicious rash or other symptom of concern that might possibly develop into a potentially highly contagious disease.

Up to $55,500 will be made available through this grant. Faith Regional will be eligible to receive reimbursement for the purchase of isolation capacity equipment such as Personal Protective Equipment (3M Aire-Mate), Portable Isolation Equipment and Differential Pressure Monitors (manometer).

Jessica Johnson
Jessica Johnson is award winner

The United States Achievement Academy has announced that Jessica Johnson of Wayne has been named an All-American Scholar.

The USAA has established the All-American Scholar Award Program to offer deserved recognition to superior students who excel in academic disciplines.

The All-American Scholars must earn a 3.3 or higher, grade point average. Only scholars selected by a school instructor, counselor or other qualified sponsor are accepted. These scholars are now eligible for other awards given by the USAA.

Jessica, who graduated from Wayne High School, was nominated for this national award by Brad Weber, band director at the school.

Her name will appear in the United States Achievement Academy Official Yearbook, which is published nationally.

"Recognizing and supporting our youth is more important than ever before in America's history. Certainly, United States Achievement Academy winners should be congratulated and appreciated for their dedication to excellence and achievement," said Dr. George Stevens, Executive Director of the United States Achievement Academy.

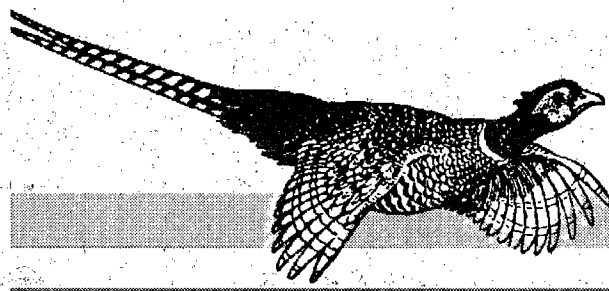

The Academy selects All-American Scholars upon the exclusive recommendation of teachers, coaches, counselors and other qualified sponsors. Once awarded, the students may be recognized by the USAA for other honors.

Jessica is the daughter of Dale and Karen Johnson of Wayne. Her grandparents are Donald and Elizabeth Johnson of Norfolk and the late Eldon and Muriel Brodersen of Denison, Iowa.

Need for blood is great

Dear Editor,

An estimated eight million people donate blood in the U.S. each year, but the demand for blood is greater than ever as the nation's supply needs constant replenishment.

Every three seconds, someone needs blood and every day, approximately 40,000 units of blood are used throughout the country. More than 23 million units of blood and blood components are transfused each year. However, less than five percent of healthy Americans eligible to give blood actually donate each year.

The Siouxland Community Blood Bank wishes to thank everyone who gave the gift of life during our visits to Wayne in May. We registered 160 donors and collected 152 units of life-saving blood.

Congratulations to the following donors who reached gallon milestones this month!

Ten gallons: Doug Temme; Eight gallons: Carmen Tilgner and Robert Ensz; five gallons: Steven Thies and Jo Sloan; four gallons: Shane Guill and Lesa Backstrom; three gallons: Kevin Keyes; two gallons: Brent Sebade, BJ Ruwe, Anne Ruwe, Brian James and David Mann; one gallon: Jacey Klaver and Loree Echtenkamp.

A special thank you to the following businesses and churches for allowing us the use of their facilities: Grace Lutheran Church, Great Dane Trailers and Wayne Fire Hall.

Donating blood regularly is the only way to guarantee that it will be available when needed. Your participation in the blood drives is greatly appreciated!

Sincerely,
Heather Marreel, Donor Consultant

Capitol View

Politics can be confusing

By Ed Howard

Statehouse Correspondent
The Nebraska Press Association

Some political types are singing a verse from a not-too-old country song.

It is the one that went: How can I miss you if you won't go away?

The chorus is coming from Republicans and is directed at state Sen. Nancy Thompson of La Vista.

Thompson, a Democrat in the officially nonpartisan Legislature, announced last week that she was rescinding her previously announced intention to resign from the Unicameral.

That was particularly unpleasant for Tim Gay, a Republican and Sarpy County board member who was ready to take Thompson's place. Gov. Dave Heineman had designated Gay as Thompson's replacement.

However, since Thompson had not submitted a letter of resignation, her announced intention was only that; and she was free to change her mind.

Gay said he would run for Thompson's seat in 2006. Heck, by the time next year's legislative session ends, Thompson might be ready for a re-election bid.

Note to Mr. Gay: Life is neither fair nor unfair, it is inexorable. However, if it is any comfort, remember what the late, great Sen. Terry Carpenter often said: "Politics is a dirty, double-dealing business. That's why I love it!"

The decades-old brawl over school consolidation policy is headed for a few more rounds. The slugfest will continue for quite some time.

After all, what is an election year in Nebraska without a petition for a ballot issue - or two?

Gov. Heineman vetoed that historic school consolidation bill passed by the Legislature. His veto was promptly and overwhelmingly overridden.

Supporters of the state's smallest school districts - the ones that the new law would eventually put under the control of larger districts - were down. They were not out and in no way prepared to throw in the towel.

They promptly announced a pair of petition drives.

One is a referendum aimed at asking voters to repeal the law just enacted by the Legislature. The other is an initiative that would offer voters a constitutional amendment. It would bar dissolving a Class I school district (offering kindergarten and elementary-only classes) from being arbitrarily swallowed up by a bigger district.

It would allow such takeovers only when voters in the smaller district approved them.

Dave Nabity, the Omaha businessman who wants to be the Republican candidate for governor, found a way to take just an itty-bitty swipe at 3rd District Rep. Tom Osborne.

T.O. is the popular, former football coach at Nebraska. He is the current favorite to win the GOP nod, even though incumbent Republican Gov. Dave Heineman also wants the nomination.

Osborne, whose age is a lot and whose health remains a question in the minds of some, has said he would likely serve just one, four-year term if elected governor.

Nabity's gambit: Four years is too short a time for a governor to accomplish the changes needed in state government.

Heineman supporters can only hope that Nabity will continue to nibble at Osborne's worthiness to be governor.

Osborne has pledged that no one will hear him say anything against Heineman, that he wants an issues-oriented campaign.

Heineman can handle any kind of rough 'n' tumble campaign that any opponent might throw at him. But how can he counter an icon such as Osborne, who refuses to throw a punch? If run-of-the-mill political nastiness is initiated against the fellow who is still called "coach" in most cafes, it is more likely to spark a lynching than popular support.

News & Notes from the Wayne Chamber of Commerce & Industries
By: Leo Ahmann

Congratulations to the Chamber's Ag Taskforce for their work in making the 13th Annual Steer and Heifer Show another success. The numbers were up over last year. They are looking to possibly tie into a similar show the day before or after the Steer and Heifer Show, which will make it even more successful.

I would like to thank the Northeast Cattlemen's Association (Wayne-Dakota-Dixon-Thurston counties) and President Scott Nichols, for inviting me to be their Master of Ceremonies at their seventh Annual Steak Fry last Sunday evening in Pender. Nancy and I had a wonderful time and the steak dinner was excellent. Featured entertainment was Mr. Gayle (yes, he made fun of his name all night) Becwar, a comedic magician... he was tremendous! The Northeast Cattlemen's Association had information about the livestock production industry in Nebraska... a $6.1 billion industry. It contributes in many ways to the financial health of every Nebraskan. The livestock industry and the agricultural industry in general, has a trickle down effect on the state's entire economy. One other related Nebraska natural resource statistic I find interesting is the fact that Nebraska's farms and ranches utilize 45.9 million acres, 93 percent of the state's total land area.

We're getting very close to the community's 25th Anniversary of the Wayne Chicken Show. Festivities get underway Friday night as Henoween, coordinated by the Wayne Main Street, takes place. Saturday's Chicken Show gets underway with the Kiwanis Club's annual Omelet Feed on the Wayne State College Campus. The parade kicks off the festivities at 9:30 a.m. Be sure to read the Wayne Herald/Morning Shopper and listen to KTCH radio for the details of the 25th Anniversary Chicken Show. There will be much more information on the Chicken Show in subsequent columns.

T.E.A.M.-15, the community highway reconstruction taskforce, met again this week. They continue to prepare for the reconstruction of the highway through town in a myriad of categories. Regarding that, as you noticed in the Main Street column last week, the Main Street program, in conjunction with the T.E.A.M.-15 Taskforce, is sponsoring an Ally Party, JUST for the businesses and business owners on both sides of Main Street. Those people have received an invitation to that event. In conjunction with that, the T.E.A.M.-15 TF has invited the Chamber's Retail Taskforce and Main Street's Promotion Committee to join the Promotion committee of the highway group. The original members of the T.E.A.M. group will continue to be a part of the committee. The addition of the groups will expand the volunteer base, the creative input and groups that have been successful with other promotions.

We are still looking for a few volunteers to assist us with the Chicken Show... NOT the whole day... just some spot duty. Community Pride, please step forward and give us a hand. Thanks to all that have committed already, to help us.

Questions, concerns or comments????... contact the Chamber. We're here to serve you! Until next time...

Grass, junk and nuisances: Are you looking out your window

Looking Ahead in Wayne...
By: Lowell Johnson, City Administrator

can we do as a city government? We often hear that Wayne is an attractive community. What about those properties that don't get as good of care? Wayne has a lot of properties owned by people who live elsewhere and sometimes out of sight is out of mind. Why does it take the city so long to get some of this taken care of?

For the general good of the community, and the protection of abutting property owners, Wayne city councils, since 1884 have passed and enforced rules to abate nuisances. The process goes like this:

- 1) Someone makes a verbal or written complaint to the police department or city office or we drive around and observe a problem.
- 2) We contact the property owner in writing about the problem and ask them to take care of it by a certain date.
- 3) We check back after the deadline of the notice to see if the work is done.
- 4) If the work is not done, we verify that the notice was received and hire someone to mow the property or clean up the nuisance and bill the property owner.

5) If the bill goes unpaid, we forward the bill to a collection agency and file a lien against the property.

6) This process can take up to a month from start to finish because we want to make sure we meet all legal notice requirements to preserve the public's right to collect from the property owner.

7) We treat all complaints as anonymous. If you have experience that is otherwise, I would like to know.

8) You can call 375-2626 (the Wayne Police Department) with complaints.

Wayne Country Club hosts state's Juniors

Scott Kneifl

Kneifl named WSC coach

Wayne State College athletic director Eric Schoh has announced that Scott Kneifl has been named head volleyball coach of the Wildcats, effective July 1.

Kneifl, an assistant coach with Wayne State College for the past two seasons, was named interim head volleyball coach on April 27 when Sharon Vanis resigned to take a coaching position at Hamilton High School in Chandler, Ariz.

Kneifl is a native of Newcastle and has 10 years of coaching experience at the high school and college level.

He served as the head volleyball coach at Allen High School for three seasons (1995-97) before making the jump to the collegiate level as an assistant coach at Doane College from 1997-98.

Kneifl then served as the head volleyball coach at Dorchester (1998-99), Millard South (1999-2001) and Pender High School (2001-2003) before coming to Wayne State, where he served as an assistant coach under Vanis for the past two seasons before being named head coach after a formal search was conducted by the school.

Kneifl takes over a team that was 20-14 in 2004 and lost just two players to graduation.

Vanis, who was 214-212 in her 12 seasons as head coach at WSC, will continue to serve as senior women's administrator at WSC until June 30.

O'Neill's John Hurley chips onto the green on No. 12 during Tuesday afternoon's round of 16 at the Nebraska Junior Match Play Championship at the Wayne Country Club.

By David W. Carstens
Of the Herald

The Wayne Country Club has played host to a collection of the state's brightest junior golfers this week.

The action at WCC started on Monday when Brandon Crick of McCook and Kyle Jaacks of Lincoln both shot one-under-par 71s to share medalist honors at stroke play qualifying for the Nebraska Junior Match Play Championship.

Jaacks made four birdies during his round, including a birdie at the 389 yard, par-4 18th hole.

Crick made three birdies while firing a two-under-par 34 on the front nine, then shot 37 on the inward nine for 71.

O'Neill's John Hurley led a trio of area qualifiers shooting an even-par round of 72.

His round set up a match with Jarod Moran (79) of Beatrice in Tuesday morning's quarterfinal.

Norfolk High School's Jason Fuehrer, who carded a two-over-par 74 on Monday, was matched with Jordan Reinertson (78) of Gibbon on Tuesday.

Beemer native Brian Stastny, who golfs for Wisner-Pilger, shot a 78 on Monday and was set to play Nate Jaeger (73) of Lexington.

The match play portion of the championship started on Tuesday morning with the low 32 individuals from Monday's stroke play qualifying to compete head-to-head.

In Tuesday morning's matches involving area golfers, Fuehrer lost to Reinertson (3 and 2), while Jaeger downed Stastny (5-4) and Hurley pulled out a 4-3 victory against Moran.

Hurley became the last area golfer to be eliminated from the tournament after Andy Sajevic of Fremont posted a 4 and 3 match play win.

After 36 holes of match play Tuesday, eight individuals advanced into Wednesday morning's quarterfinal round.

Top-seed Crick was a 2-up winner over John Emerson of Columbus on Tuesday morning and then outlasted Lincoln's Trent Price in 20 holes to win 1-up in his afternoon match.

Monday's co-medalist Kyle Jaacks of Lincoln was defeated in the first round of match play by Omaha's Spencer Altman, 2 and 1.

Wednesday's morning's matchups put Crick against Ben Porter of Kearney, while the second quarterfinal match pitted Sajevic against Lincoln's Austin Anderson.

Mike Coatman of Lincoln was to face Reinertson in the third quarterfinal and Omaha's Tom Gross was set to take on Jaeger in the final quarterfinal match.

Quarterfinal play was set to begin on Wednesday morning, with semifinal play scheduled for Wednesday afternoon.

The 36-hole final to match the remaining two golfers is scheduled for Thursday (today).

Kyle Jaacks (left) of Lincoln and Brandon Crick of McCook both shot one-under-par 71s to share medalist honors at Monday's stroke play qualifier at the Nebraska Junior Match Play Championship at the Wayne Country Club.

Wayne Seniors now 3-10 after recent games

Team combines with Wakefield at tourneys

The Wayne Seniors roll into mid-June with a 3-10 record following a busy schedule earlier in the season.

Wakefield posted a 7-0 shutout over the Seniors at home on June 1. Wade Jarvi took the loss on the mound for Wayne, while James Neel was 2-for-3 in hitting.

The team traveled to Wisner on June 3 and dropped a 12-3 decision.

Nate Milander, Wade Jarvi and Nathan Summerfield each had doubles, while Milander added a triple and three RBIs.

Milander took the Wayne loss and threw 10 strikeouts during the game.

Wayne exploded for four runs in the fifth inning to clinch a 5-2 home win against Homer on June 6.

Blake Lyon paced the offense with a double, two RBIs and one run, while Milander contributed two runs with Jarvi and Sam Parker each adding a run apiece.

Milander was the winning pitcher with 12 strikeouts on the evening.

South Sioux City handed Wayne a 25-4 home loss on June 8, as Jarvi moved to 0-3 from the mound this season.

Milander, Lyon, Matt Sharer and Tyler Schaeter each finished with runs for the Wayne.

Wayne fell to West Point 6-3 in action on June 10. Milander (1-4) threw 10 strikeouts against West Point and tallied one run for the offense, while additional runs were added by Sharer and Jarvi.

The team hosted Pender this Monday and dropped a 19-2 decision as Pender added to its 9-2 lead with 10 runs in the fourth inning.

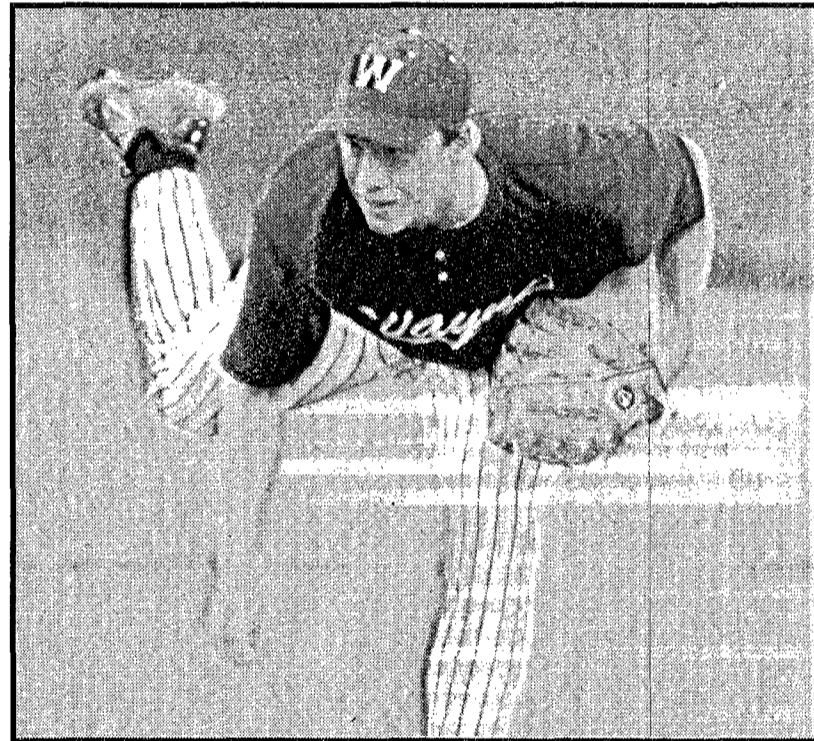

Sharer and Jarvi recorded both of Wayne's runs, while Jarvi took the loss on the mound.

In tournament play, Wayne's team combined with Wakefield to round out each team's respective rosters.

At the Valley Tournament on June 4, Valley downed Wayne-Wakefield 5-3 and W-W bounced back with a win in the second game 8-3.

The team went 12 innings at lost a 3-2 decision to Omaha Central in the Wooden Bat Tournament in Wakefield last weekend and downed O'Neill 7-1 in the second game of the tourney.

Additional information for the combined team's games was unavailable.

Wade Jarvi pitches in last Thursday's home contest with South Sioux City.

All-Star hoops take the court

Local and area basketball standouts were part of winning teams at last Saturday's Swedish Basketball Classic played at Oakland-Craig High School before 1,400 fans.

Five boys players from the Wayne Herald coverage area were members of the North squad, which posted a 101-95 decision over the South team.

Wayne High's Bryan Fink scored 10 points and pulled down a team-leading 14 rebounds, while Allen's Brett Koester tallied seven points and recorded eight boards and five assists to pace area athletes on the all-star roster.

Taylor Peters (Wakefield) added five points, Josh Ruwe (Wayne) finished with five and Laurel-Concord's Josh Hart (one point) rounded out scoring by North team members from the area's senior talent.

The girls' all-star game was also won by the North squad in a lopsided 100-54 victory.

Wakefield's Katie Jensen and Regina Dutcher scored nine and six points, respectively, while Angie Peters of Laurel-Concord added two points for the North team.

Peters was North team's rebounding leader with 10 rebounds. Jensen pulled down eight grabs.

Wakefield coaches Matt Brenn and Mike Clay were also present on the bench as each was named as a co-coach for the North girls and boys, teams, respectively.

The summer all-star basketball games will continue this week when Bryan Fink and Angie Peters will play in the 22nd annual Northeast Nebraska All-Star Classic at Northeast Community College on Friday, June 17.

Tip-off for the girls, game is 6 p.m., while the boys, game is set for 8 p.m. at the Cox Activities Center.

Juniors win 13 inning thriller to take Wayne Juniors tourney

Bren Vander Weil hits a single in last Thursday's home game against South Sioux City.

The Wayne Juniors baseball team moved to .500 on the season with a home loss to Pender earlier this week.

But the big wins for the team came over the weekend as the team clinched the Wayne Junior Tournament title. Wayne defeated Laurel-Coleridge 10-9 to claim the Wayne Tournament championship on June 12.

The comeback trail for Wayne to claim the championship was definitely a rough one as Wayne trailed 7-1 in the fifth inning of the 13-inning final.

"The kids never quit," coach Jeff Zeiss said to sum up the finals game.

A rally in the seventh inning tied the game at 7-all.

Contributions were also turned in by Wayne's pitchers as Sam Kurpgeweit relieved Shawn Jenkins in the fifth and successfully got Wayne out of loaded bases situations twice during the inning, including one where he ran the count to 3-0 and came back to get a ground out.

Nate Summerfield stepped up to the mound in the eighth inning to pick up the victory.

Matt Sharer scored the winning run for Wayne in the 13th inning, while Nate Finkey added three runs to lead the offense.

Jesse Hill pitched a complete game with no earned runs in a 7-1 win against O'Neill in other tournament action. Finkey and Hill combined for two runs each, while Shaun Kardell and Phillip Anderson also added runs for Wayne.

In other team action, Wayne scored two runs in the bottom of the seventh to rally for a 4-3 home win against South Sioux City on June 8.

Shaun Kardell led off the final inning with a single and Matt Davis scored to tie the game at 3-3. Shawn Jenkins laced a base hit to score pinch runner Kendall Jones, who ran for Bren Vander Weil who notched a double to set up the win.

Vander Weil finished with four hits and three singles to pace Wayne, while Nate Finkey pitched a complete game for the win and struck out six South Sioux batters.

The team traveled to West Point on June 10 and dropped a 10-5 decision.

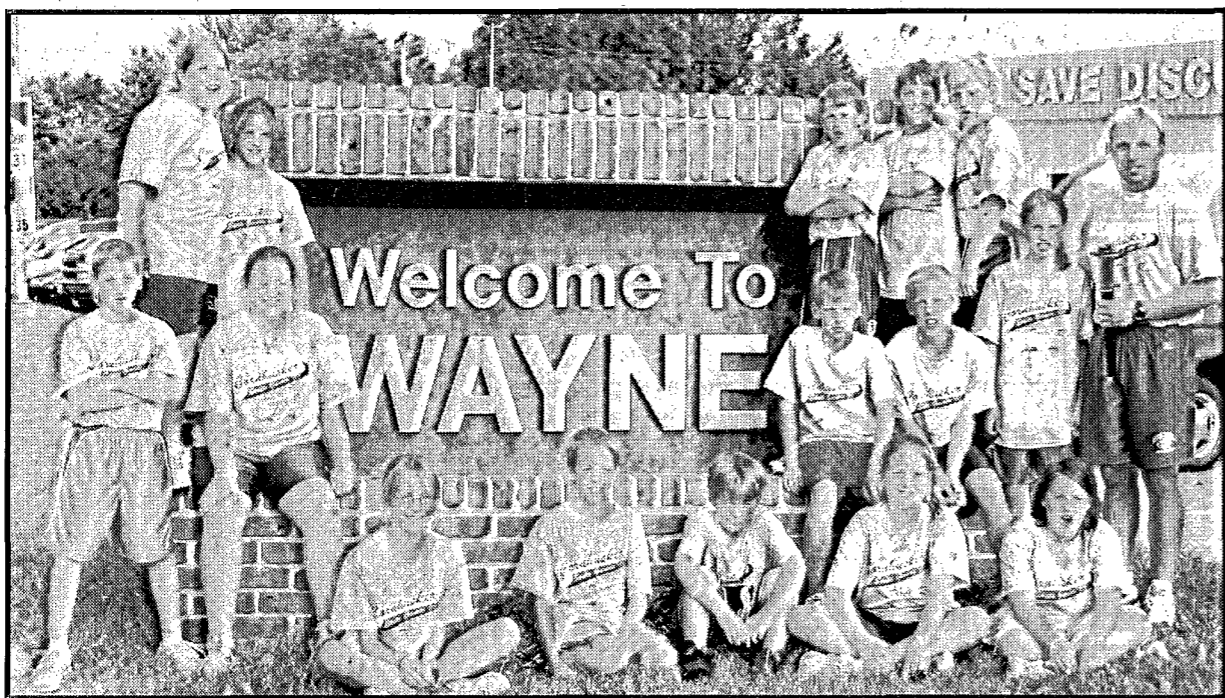

Wayne closer Jesse Hill took the loss for Wayne, while starter Matt Sharer pitched four innings and threw eight strikeouts.

Finkey tallied a pair of runs for the Wayne offense.

The Juniors were edged 8-7 by Pender in home action on Monday.

Kurpgeweit took the loss on the mound for Wayne, while Finkey added two runs, two RBIs and a double and triple to pace Wayne's offense.

The Juniors (9-9) were scheduled to play a doubleheader with Norfolk (tonight) at Wayne.

Torch bearers

Last year, Tyler Lindsay of Pierce was one of the youngest people to carry the torch for the Cornhusker State Games.

This year, he and 15 of his sixth grade classmates carried the torch for nearly 20 miles along Highway 98/35 into Wayne last week.

Above, the group posed with their teacher, Mr. Sindelar, beside the sign on the west edge of Wayne.

Tyler, 12, is the son of Alan and Jane Lindsay of Pierce and grandson of Larry and Jeanne Lindsay of Wayne. After arriving in Wayne, the group had a picnic at Bressler Park. The group plans to carry the torch again next year.

Future stars

Girls in grades three through eight took part in a basketball camp at Wayne High School last week. More than 40 youth spent each morning learning the fundamentals of basketball as coach Eric Henderson, at right, and several others assisted. Also taking part in the camp were more than 20 high school basketball players. The older girls assisted with the morning part of the camp and then took part in their own camp during the afternoon.

Design and Decorating Inspiration
Crossing the finish line...
Last time... we discussed quality of paint being an important factor when purchasing paint. Your next consideration should be the finish or sheen.
Finish... or sheen is how much light reflects when the paint is applied to the surface. Most paints are available in five finishes: Flat, eggshell, satin, semi-gloss, and gloss.
Flat... paints reflect less light making a color appear dull. It is also the least durable type of paint. It may mark easily and is not very washable.
Eggshell... and satin finishes provide a more durable surface with little shine. They provide a good combination of both sheen and durability. They are the most popular finishes.
Semi-gloss... and gloss paint reflect the most light, making colors appear brighter and more shiny. They are the easiest to clean and it takes longer for surfaces to scratch or look worn.
Next... we will explore how quality, sheen, and color of paint work together to achieve the look you desire for your decorating or home improvement project.

DORCAS SOCIETY

Peace United Church of Christ Dorcas Society met at Bel Air Nursing Home for the June 2 meeting.

President Shirley Mann presided and gave the opening prayer. For scripture, she read Psalm 91.

Seven members answered roll call. They welcomed honorary members, Elvira Anderson, Frances Langenberg and Frieda Meierhenry and guests Laura Bauermeister, Jan Jochens, Elsie Hinzman and Ramona Puls.

The secretary's and treasurer's reports were read and approved.

Bill Fenske asked if the Dorcas Society would be interested in having a lunch stand at his sale on Saturday, July 9. The group voted to do this. Lolamaye Langenberg, Gerri Benton and Adeline Anderson will be on this committee.

Two cards were to be sent. Lolamaye Langenberg will be the hostess on Thursday, July 7.

Each Dorcas Society member contributed to the afternoon's program, with readings and hymns. Ramona Puls sang a solo.

The afternoon program closed with The Lord's Prayer.

Those in attendance enjoyed refreshments of cookies, bars and coffee.

Students attend Health/Science meet

Seventy-three eighth-grade students from 31 schools across Nebraska attended the University of Nebraska Medical Center's 13th annual Health/Science Meet June 9-11, for an educational and fun experience.

Among those attending were Wayne Middle School students Jeremy Ray Loberg of Wayne, Ambre Ruzicka of Wayne, Jake Teater of Carroll and Andrea Wert Wayne.

The meet's goal is to inspire students, especially those from rural communities, to pursue careers in health care. The students qualified for the meet by submitting science projects in regional science competitions earlier in the year.

"This helps us know a lot more about the many careers in medicine," said Haley Mondt of Funk. "I respect what a lot of people do behind the scenes."

The expense-paid meet exposes students to the health professions, medical research and patient care. Events include hands-on science activities, presentations about a variety of health science disciplines, touring UNMC, a team science competition and entertainment.

"We saw a lot of experiments and some other neat stuff," said Brent Bartak of Ainsworth Middle School. "I learned a lot from this experience."

Students interested in applying to attend next year's eighth-grade Health/Science Meet should contact their science teacher, school counselor or principal in the fall.

SON RECEIVES AWARD

Strategies Budget Analyst Joseph Rechtermann of Alexandria, Va. son of Julius and Esther Rechtermann, received a national Individual Meritorious Award from the American Society of Military Comptrollers (ASMC) in the category of Contractor Support: Major Command Headquarters or Higher, for his work with the U.S. Air Force financial community.

Joseph Rechtermann provides full-time support to the Headquarters U.S. Air Force Comptroller Office, Directorate of Budget, personnel and Training Division. He is known throughout the Air Force as an authority on the interpretation of policies, legislation and regulations covering the Civilian Pay Program. He redesigned, tested and improved the efficiency of Civilian Pay Cost Model and created new rates and factors that drastically reduced human error.

He received his award at the ASMC National Professional Development Institute ceremony in Salt Lake City, Utah on June 3.

He received the ASMC Washington Chapter Award for the same category in March.

Supporting our troops

School-age children at Rainbow World Preschool and Childcare conducted a hot dog sale early this week, raising more than $100. The money was then used to purchase an American flag to be flown on the streets of Wayne. They dedicated the flag to the members of the Wayne National Guard unit. Remaining funds will be used to purchase supplies for the troops serving overseas. Manning the hot dog stand, above, are left to right, Cassie Rogers, Victoria Kranz, Cienna Stegemann, Justin Stahl and Christian Rogers. Below, posing with Irene Fletcher of Main Street Wayne, are left to right, Madison Morris, Anna Cole, Kiley Wiedeman, Quentin Morris, Wyatt Biggerstaff and Chris Bird.

New employee at bank

Farmers & Merchants State Bank President Tim Keller announced the hiring of Bryan J. Hestekind as an officer trainee/lending.

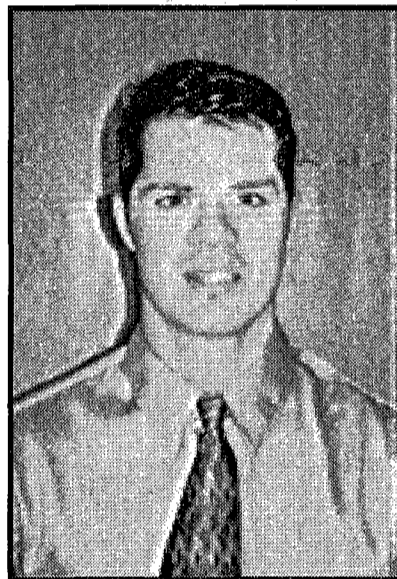

Bryan is a native of Elgin, Nebraska where he graduated from Elgin Public High School in 1998.

He is a college graduate of Northeast Community College in 2000 and the University of Nebraska-Lincoln in 2002. He received a bachelor's degree in AgriBusiness from the University of Nebraska-Lincoln.

Prior to his banking career, Bryan worked as a production supervisor at the Hormel Foods plant in Fremont for three years.

He and his wife, Crystal, are excited about the new opportunities the city of Wayne has to offer and they are looking forward to being involved in the community.

"I am excited to have the opportunity to work for Farmers and Merchants State Bank. This bank is a great fit for my wife and I and it is exactly what I was looking for in my recent career change. I'm looking forward to be able to work with our great employees and customers as well as the community of Wayne. I hope over the next several years I can make many customer's dreams come true here at Farmers and Merchants State Bank," he said.

Bryan's hobbies include hunting, fishing, golfing, exercising and spending time with his wife.

Hestekind said he and his wife are planning to join Our Savior Lutheran Church in Wayne.

"I am excited to offer an opportunity to bring new people to the Wayne Community," Keller said.

Manufacturers form group

Local manufacturers have united to form Pender/Thurston Manufacturers. The group was formed to share information, find solutions to common problems within the region and promote awareness of local manufacturing companies.

The six local manufacturers that are participating employ 235 people and pay $7.2 million in wages. Combined, they purchase $15.2 million annually, of which nearly 50 percent is purchased from local and regional businesses. Providing support for the local economy; $821,884 is spent in the Pender/Thurston area with an additional $6,602,164 being purchased from companies within a 120 mile radius. On the average, these companies have been in businesses for 45 years.

The group has chosen Alumni weekend to provide an opportunity

Lewis and Clark, performances planned during Ag Days

The Laurel Players will be performing again during this year's Ag Days. "Lewis and Clark, the Musical" is a light hearted version of Lewis and Clark's expedition. The performance will be held in the Laurel-Concord old gym on Friday night at 8 p.m. and on Saturday after the alumni banquet, around 8 p.m. There will be a free will donation for each performance.

The group has been performing for the past five years during Ag Days and three or four times throughout the year. They write their own shows.

Proceeds from previous performances have been used recently in purchasing sound equipment which the group plans to use during this production.

For community members to tour their manufacturing facilities and visit with group members. The facilities will be open on Saturday, June 25 from 9 a.m. until 2 p.m. Participants include: Blue Ox, National C, DMD Manufacturing, Emerson Manufacturing, Thurston Manufacturing and Wenke Manufacturing.

"We feel that this will be the perfect opportunity for area residents and alumni to visit local facilities; these companies are a large piece of the puzzle that keeps our communities strong and growing" said Jay Hesse, President of Blue Ox.

'Drive for Life' Fundraiser was a success for Blood Bank

The Siouland Community Blood Bank raised over $24,000 at their fifth annual Siouland Community Blood Bank "Drive for Life" golf classic held on Monday, June 6, at Whispering Creek Golf Course with 124 players participating in this fundraiser.

"This day was possible thanks to the support of our major sponsors: AC&R Specialists, Square Tire Total Car Care, L & L Builders, Security National Bank, Haemonetics Corp., Outback Steakhouse, KPTH Fox 44 and Avery Brothers," said Janette Twait, CEO of the Siouland Community Blood Bank. "The Drive for Life golf classic is the only fundraiser that the Siouland Community Blood Bank holds on a yearly basis. We do not receive funding from any other groups or organizations throughout the year, so the support from our sponsors, golfers, hole sponsors, businesses and community members is greatly appreciated."

This fundraiser will assist the blood center in purchasing a double red cell machine. By donating through the automated double red cell technology the Siouland Community Blood Bank can better match the donations collected to the needs of the 34 area hospitals they service. Donations collected by this procedure allows doctors and medical staff to treat patients more efficiently and allow the Siouland Community Blood Bank to maintain a safe and adequate blood supply.

Generations of Hope!

'Generations of Hope' was the theme for the sixth annual Relay For Life held Friday and Saturday in Wayne. This year's Relay was held at Wayne State College. Above, the survivors and others in attendance pause for prayer before the beginning of the event. Throughout the evening a number of activities were held as fundraisers, including the Miss Relay Contest, second photo. Each of the 14 teams participating was encouraged to submit a contestant for the event. They were then asked to perform a task and collect as much money as possible. Dean Boeckenhauer of Nancy's Caddies collected $153.13 and was named Miss Relay. At left, bingo was enjoyed by a number of those at the Relay. Bottom photo, members of the First National of Omaha Bankcard Center pose in front of their tent which was decorated in accordance to this year's theme. Preliminary figures show that more than $30,600 was raised for the American Cancer Society during this year's event. Rain forced the event to end early Saturday morning.

Laurel receives grant from Park Service

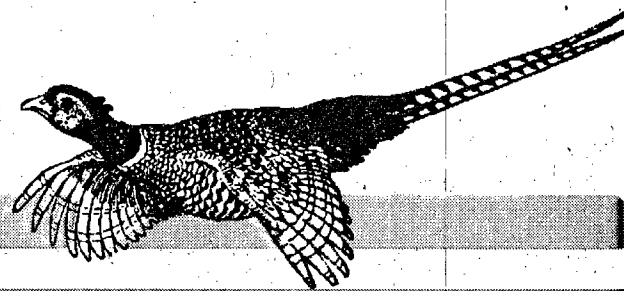

U.S. Sen. Chuck Hagel (R-NE) announced recently that the City of Laurel has been awarded $73,889 from the National Park Service Land and Water Conservation Fund (LWCF). The money will be used to make public recreation facility improvements.

"It is important for our communities to have quality outdoor recreational areas and open space. This grant money will make our public parks more enjoyable to people of all ages," Hagel said.

LWCF grants help state and local governments acquire, develop, improve and maintain high quality outdoor recreational areas and open space. The funding will assist in replacing an old swimming pool and bathhouse with a new zero-depth entry pool and a water slide in the Laurel City Park.

Workable ways to practice new food pyramid guidelines Engagements

Wedding Dance
JILL ANDERSON & KYLE ROEBER
 Wayne City Auditorium
 June 18, 2005
 8-Midnight

This year's new dietary tips from the U.S. Department of Agriculture and Health and Human Services offer some simple rules for maintaining a healthy lifestyle. The guidelines, an update from five years ago, rely on the same basic principles of the food pyramid but have an added focus on four aspects of healthy living -- regulating portion sizes, eating a variety of foods, enjoying foods in moderation and getting adequate physical activity. The biggest change is the way portion sizes are addressed. Instead of referring to sometimes ambiguous serving sizes, the new guidelines define the necessary amounts of each food group in ways that are easier to visualize. Still, it is often helpful to measure out the serving sizes at first until they become habitual. The following examples are for a 2,000 calorie diet. Particularly important for Nebraskans are the fruit, vegetable and dairy guidelines, which Nebraskans often don't meet. It is best to eat four, 1/2-cup servings of fruit each day and five, 1/2-cup servings of vegetables. Get three servings of dairy products each day from low-fat (1 percent) or no-fat (skim) milk, low-fat yogurt, or reduced fat cheeses. One serving size of milk or yogurt is 1 cup; one serving size of hard cheese is 1.5 ounces.

Because of large portion sizes, many people surpass the recommended two, 2.5- to 3-ounce portions of meat per day. Judge portion size by checking out menus at restaurants, which usually specify how many ounces of meat a menu choice offers; otherwise, the rule of thumb is that a meat serving is about the size of a deck of cards.

The fats and sugars that used to be on the top of the pyramid are now better defined. Get less than 1 teaspoon of added salts per day and 8 teaspoons of added sugars each day, which amount to about one can of regular soda, 2 small cookies, a 2-inch by 2-inch piece of cake with frosting or an eighth of a pie. Get no more than 6 to 7 teaspoons daily from fat sources such as oils and soft margarines. The guidelines recommend that these servings come from fats that are liquid or soft at room temperature, pushing canola, olive, peanut, soybean, corn, safflower and sunflower oils and margarines.

The recommended number of grain servings has been changed from six to 11 servings daily to six servings daily. At least half of these servings should contain whole grains, which come from foods such as whole grain cereal or bread products made with whole wheat flour. One grain serving size is one ounce, which equals one slice of bread, 1/2 cup of rice, 1/2 cup of oatmeal, 1/2 cup of cooked pasta, 1 cup of grain cereal, half of an 8-inch tortilla or 3 cups of popcorn.

For variety, be sure to eat foods from all the food groups. An easy way to maintain a varied diet is to put color on the plate. Foods of different colors contain different nutrients, particularly fruits and vegetables. Moderation is a recurring theme. Follow the food pyramid's recommended amounts of each food group to create a balanced diet. Only 20 to 35 percent of calories should come from fat, which should be liquid instead of solid fat. Limit trans fats and hydrogenated fats and watch for hidden sugars and fats by paying attention to nutrition facts labels. High-protein, low-carbohydrate foods, for example, often substitute fat and sugar for carbohydrates. Nutrition facts labels refer to sugars in grams; remember that the recommended 8 teaspoons of sugar per day equals 32 grams.

Most people make mistakes in how much they eat within the food groups and how they use extra calories. Use caution when choosing where to spend 2,000 calories and try to pick nutritious foods instead of just sweets.

The new pyramid emphasizes daily physical activity in addition to following the dietary guidelines. Exercise 30 minutes daily to keep the heart healthy, 60 minutes to maintain fitness and weight levels, and 90 minutes daily if attempting to lose weight. Children need 60 minutes of physical activity daily.

Preventing Gallstones

If the bile in the gallbladder contains too much cholesterol, the cholesterol sometimes crystallizes and creates painful gallstones. Recent studies have shown that risk of gallstones is higher in men with waists over 40 inches. Exercise and weight loss can reduce risk. Another study showed that eating 5 oz. of nuts per week also reduced the risk of gallstones. The good unsaturated fat in nuts lowers LDL (bad cholesterol) which lowers cholesterol in bile. The fiber in nuts may help by reducing recirculation of the bile acids in the intestine. Nuts are high in calories so eat them in place of, not in addition to, other foods.

Bible School held at Grace Lutheran

Grace Lutheran Church's Vacation Bible School theme this year was "Safari Adventure - Discover Jesus the King."

The theme was taken from John 20:31 - "These things are written that you may believe."

There were over 70 youth in attendance nearly each day from May 31 to June 4.

On last day of Vacation Bible School a potluck was held for all the parents, children and teachers at church, due to rain. Pastor Pasche made homemade ice cream for all those in attendance.

On June 5 the children presented a program for family and friends, summing up what they had learned throughout the week and the songs they had learned.

Nancy Sutton was the director of this year's Vacation Bible School and Mary Temme was the music leader.

Joy Circle holds meeting

Nineteen members of the Joy Circle of the Women of ELCA of Our Savior Lutheran Church met June 8 in the Social Room.

Phyllis Rahn had the devotions for the day. She also reported on the Spring Gathering which was held at Atkinson on April 16. The theme was "Seize the Day."

Leslie Hausmann sang "On Eagles Wings," accompanied by Lois Youngerman. The group also sang "Stand Up, Stand Up for Jesus," "Precious Lord," "What a Friend, What a Friend We Have in Jesus," "Blest, Be the Tie that Binds," and "Onward Christian Soldiers."

Prior to each song, stories about the composers were read by Donna Lutt, Mylet Bargholz and Arlene Ostendorf.

Hostesses were Dorothy Wert and Rae Kugler.

Thrivent donated milk and juice for the students.

There were approximately 40 volunteers who helped make this year's event a success.

Rural storefront project concludes

Locally made and produced Nebraska products are of high quality, have endless variety, and are being done by literally hundreds of people around the state, says Sandy Patton, Project Manager for the RC&D's Rural Storefront effort.

For the past year she's been working with producers and artisans to promote and encourage them in their work.

Specifically she's been assisting five sites with feasibility studies and business plans to see if Rural Storefronts and an Online Store would be an effective method for marketing their foods, gifts and other items. The studies were finalized by students from the College of St. Mary's and by staff at the Nebraska Business Development Center in Wayne.

Funded by a grant from USDA Rural Development, this project is now coming to an end; however steps are being taken to continue this effort so that these sites become reality.

To showcase the producers and artisans that Sandy has been working with and as a wrap-up to the program a "Spring Into Summer Festival" is planned for Saturday, June 25 in the RC&D office backyard in Plainview.

Approximately 40 vendors of Nebraska products will participate. Additional activities that day will be a Little Sprouts Gardening School, horse and buggy rides, miniature golf and a performance by Plainview's Klow Band.

For further details on the project contact the Northeast Nebraska RC&D at 402-582-4866.

LB 962? What does it mean to you?

Nebraska's new Water Law may have far reaching impacts across the Elkhorn River Basin

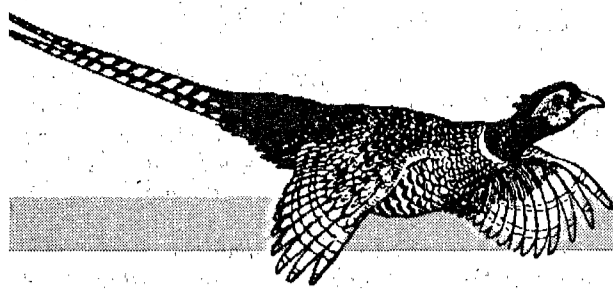

A public information meeting will be held on Thursday, June 16th • 7 p.m.

at the Lifelong Learning Center on the campus of Northeast Community College in Norfolk, NE

Speakers:
Roger Patterson - Director of the Nebraska Department of Natural Resources
Dave Cookson - Special Assistant to the Attorney General regarding water issues
Dean Edson - Executive Director of the Nebraska Association of Resources Districts
Nine State Senators are invited

Please attend this public information meeting designed to answer your questions and concerns about LB 962.

LB962 was passed by the Legislature in 2004 and extended the state's authority to regulate not only surface water, but groundwater. Specifically, the law grants the state final authority in determining if a river basin is fully appropriated. If a river basin is deemed fully appropriated, the state has the authority to require local NRDs to adopt rules and regulations that prohibit the drilling of new wells. Does this affect you?

Thinking about items collected through the years

Speaking of collections, which I was last week, I forgot to mention books and coffee mugs. For some reason, I have an unusually large collection of both.

I think the books go back about sixty years; I remember receiving Little Women for Christmas from an aunt. I burned that book this week; it was falling apart. I also took ten boxes of books, many of them paper backs, to the used book store. I think they call us bibliophiles; I just know that I love books and I hate to get rid of them, even if I never read them again.

The coffee cups are another story. Of course, everyone knows I love coffee. And I like having people over for coffee; sometimes, in big groups. But nobody needs this many coffee cups! We seldom use the ones that match the dishes because they are too small. So, they sit in the cupboard. And it seems that a coffee mug is a very popular advertising item. I know we once ordered twelve dozen that said Farm House Bed and Breakfast on them.

We have them from banks, from seed corn companies, from the post office, Norwest, Disney World, Lutheran Family Services, Hospice of Tabitha, OWLS (old Walther Leaguers), Lincoln General Hospital, Safari animal refuge, you name it. One simply says SIMPLY.

Another one announces that you can always tell a German, but you can't tell them much. Still another is by Mary Engelbreit, with some sort of message about enjoying life. Anyway, these have been thinned down, also.

By: Pat Meierhenry

While cleaning and sorting, I ran across an unsigned letter on yellowed tablet paper, hand written to the Farmer's Wife. It says, "I, too, married an older farmer. My mother warned me; said he would be too set in his ways.

"I dreamed of a warm June evening wedding with candlelight, strapless gown, a stunning tan, fresh flowers—but, we're in the field that time of year. We settled on March 24 and future pop-in-law said he could remember plenty of years when we were out drilling oats by the end of March. We finally picked the first of March and ended up getting married in a blizzard that brought around a foot of snow; a lot of family, friends, and wedding party never made it.

"We moved into a quaint, old-fashioned home which I was going to redecorate like those charming homes in the magazines. No to be. Money always seemed to go for farm equipment and stuff and there was only so much you could do to cover those old plaster walls. It was wallpaper or paneling, and when you panel, you learn how crooked the walls are."

It ends up with a tale of wearing a spiffy new short set to dress chickens, and coming home with bug bites and blood spots. It really brought back memories! And it was signed, "a young Farmer's Wife." Can you relate? I can!

Tree injuries require attention

Tree injuries are the rule rather than the exception. All trees receive numerous injuries or wounds during their lifetimes. Some are caused by man, while others result from natural causes.

Carelessly or intentionally breaking branches or scraping bark from the trunk, and even proper tree care practices, such as pruning cuts, actually are 'wounds.' Most tree injuries result from natural causes including weather, animals, insects and even the natural dying of lower limbs.

According to Dennis Adams, forester, after a tree is wounded, it responds with a series of biological processes — the basic protection system of all trees.

When the outer protective bark of a tree is ruptured, the inner living tissue is exposed to bacteria and decay fungi. The tree immediately sets its protective mechanisms into action. Wood cells near the wound are plugged with resins and gums, and specialized cells are produced to build a protective wall so decay microorganisms only can invade the part of the tree present before the injury.

Actively growing tissue surrounding the wound begins to form callous tissue to close the wound. Tree wounds never heal, but simply close over with new wood tissue. The rate of closure depends on the species of tree, size of wound and health of the tree.

It is important to prevent as many tree injuries as possible. The following steps should help minimize tree injuries:

- Prune properly. Don't leave branch stubs. Prune when the branches are less than two inches in diameter.
- Place trees so there is less risk of injury. Placing trees close to sidewalks, streets or utility lines increases the risk of damage.
- Use caution operating lawn mowers and other equipment around trees. A mulch area around trees will help prevent mechanical injury and also provide a better growing environment.

Coalition for Youth continues discussion of Substance Abuse

The Cedar County Coalition for Youth will meet June 21 at the Hartington City Hall.

At a meeting held May 17, the benefits and roadblocks to creating and implementing a unified discipline policy among Cedar county schools regarding the use of alcohol, tobacco and other drugs was discussed. Individual school policies regarding commonalities and differences will be reviewed at the meeting on the 21st.

The public is encouraged to attend with a special invitation to law enforcement, youth, and school administration.

Delegates selected for Nebraska Agriculture Youth Institute

Nebraska Department of Agriculture Director Greg Ibach has announced the selection of nearly 120 high school juniors and seniors who will attend the 34th annual Nebraska Agriculture

Institute (NAYI).

NAYI will be held July 10-14 in Lincoln on the University of Nebraska campus.

Among those selected were David Loberg of Carroll, son of Dan and Kris Loberg and John Temme of Wayne, son of Doug and Mary Temme.

"These delegates were selected based on their interest in agriculture and their leadership skills; these are tomorrow's leaders in agriculture," Ibach said. "The interest in agriculture that these delegates demonstrate will help ensure agriculture continues to be in the forefront of this state."

"Agriculture: The Directions are Endless" is the theme for this year's Institute. The five-day event will allow the delegates the opportunity to discuss agriculture policy, international marketing and other issues important to the agriculture industry. Motivational speakers, discussion groups and a farm management program will challenge the delegates to develop leadership potential and strengthen pride in Nebraska agriculture.

Since 1971 more than 4,000 youth from across the state have participated in NAYI, which has served as a means of introducing Nebraska's high school students to the many opportunities in the agriculture industry.

NAYI is coordinated by the Nebraska Agriculture Youth Council, comprised of 10 college men and women selected by the Nebraska Department of Agriculture. Annette Parde of Sterling is the Agricultural Youth Coordinator for NDA and is responsible for overseeing the day-to-day planning of the Institute.

Makes presentation

Wade Jarvi, with the City Slickers and Country Mixers 4-H groups, presented two blankets to the American Red Cross recently to help families affected by a disaster. Accepting the blankets was Lorj Carollo and she stated, "Our chapter was just assisting a family who had experienced a house fire and they will definitely appreciate this kind donation!" The 4-H groups hope to help the Red Cross with some additional needs in the future.

Junior cadets get taste of life as law enforcement officer

High school students from across Nebraska will soon learn what it's like to be a law enforcement officer at the 38th Annual American Legion Junior Law Academy.

Thirty-six young women will spend the week of Monday, June 13, through Friday, June 17, at the Nebraska State Patrol Training Academy at 3600 North Academy Road in Grand Island.

Thirty-eight young men will attend the Cadet Program the next week in the same location.

The week long academy follows a strict itinerary providing the cadets with firsthand knowledge of what is required to become a law enforcement officer.

Each day begins at 6:15 a.m. with calisthenics followed by a flag raising ceremony. During the week, the young women will get hands-on experience in accident investigation, criminal interdiction, marksmanship (Wednesday), SWAT team tactics (Thursday), emergency vehicle driving/obstacle course (Thursday), and aerial patrol (Friday), among other skills.

American Legion posts across the state nominate the cadets, who are then selected by district. The American Legion and the Nebraska State Patrol originated the program in Nebraska. It has since been used as a model by many other states. Participants were selected based on worthy character, interest in law enforcement, "evidence" of self-discipline and the ability to share the knowledge gained with others.

The young women participating this week are from communities across Nebraska including, Anselmo, Bellevue, Boelus, Central City, Cody, Cook, Cozad, Deshler, Dunbar, Elwood, Emmet, Fairbury, Fort Calhoun, Gering, Glenvil, Hayes Center, Holstein, Humbolt, Indianola, Lawrence, Lincoln, Nelson, Nenzel, Omaha, Papillion, Paxton, Plattsmouth, Stromsburg, Superior, Sutherland, Table Rock, Taylor, Valparaiso, Wakefield, and York.

A graduation ceremony will be held at 2 p.m. on Friday June 17, at the Nebraska State Patrol Training Academy. The Junior Law Program coordinator is Sergeant Randy Leader.

Barg graduates from Augsburg

Katie Barg of Winside was among the 139th graduating class at Augsburg College.

The commencement speaker was Parker J. Palmer, a highly respected writer, lecturer, teacher and activist whose focus is issues in education, community leadership, spirituality and social change. He currently serves as Senior Associate of the American Association of Higher Education and Senior Advisor to the Fetzer Institute.

Augsburg College is a private liberal arts college of the Evangelical Lutheran Church in America located in Minneapolis, Minn.

WSC geography honor society initiates outstanding students

The Wayne State College Lambda Zeta Chapter of Gamma Theta Upsilon, the international geographical honor society, recently initiated 10 new members.

The honorary supports geography knowledge and awareness, encourages community service, and cultivates leadership development among its members. GTU membership is earned through superior scholarship; it is an honor, and a professional distinction. Members of GTU have met academic requirements and share a background and interest in geography.

This year's initiates were: Corey Carnahan, a political science major from Valentine; Dawn R. Hirschman, a graduate student from Laurel; Kevin Lindburg, a history and political science major from Stromsburg; Chris Lord, a geography and history education major from Sloan, Iowa; Jared Myers, a history major from Broken Bow; Linda Teach, a graduate student from Wayne; Gamma Theta Upsilon is a national geography honorary organization with over 100 chapters at colleges and universities in the United States. The chapter at Wayne State College was founded in the spring of 2002 by Dr. Randy Bertolas, associate professor of geography.

Social sciences initiates outstanding WSC students

The Wayne State College Alpha Zeta Zeta chapter of Phi Alpha Theta national history honor society initiated eight new members.

The honorary encourages excellence in history, social service, and leadership development among its members. Members have met academic requirements and share an interest in history.

This year's initiates were: Craig Dickes of Fordyce, Brad Hoising of Laurel, Kate Larson of Fremont, Chad Metzler of Wayne, Kyle Oswald of Allen and Cody Wintz of Creighton.

Phi Alpha Theta is a history honorary organization with approximately 15 members enrolled at WSC. Established at WSC in 1992 under the sponsorship of the history program, the Alpha Zeta Zeta chapter is advised by co-sponsors Dr. Randy Bertolas, professor of geography and Sharon Thomas, associate professor of history.

Since 1921 Phi Alpha Theta has grown nationally to more than 839 chapters in 50 states, more than any other accredited four-year college honor society.

The total number of initiates since its inception is more than 281,000.

Environmental literacy course to be offered

A week-long course for high school teachers will be held Monday through Friday, June 27-July 1 at the Haskell Ag Lab near Concord.

The course will feature research faculty from UNL discussing the scientific, environmental, social and economic impacts of the agricultural industry in Nebraska and ways teachers can include ag and environmental literacy in the high school curriculum.

"Agriculture is critically important in Nebraska," said Vicky Jones, course coordinator. "Ninety-three percent of the state's land base is in farm and ranch lands, yet only seven percent of our population are defined as 'farm' population according to the census. Today's high school students are tomorrow's policy and decision makers. It is important that all students have an awareness of the importance of agriculture to the state and the world."

The course, funded by a grant from the U.S. Department of Agriculture, is open to secondary agriculture, science, business and social studies teachers in northeast Nebraska. Tuition and a stipend are provided through the grant.

There are a limited number of openings for the course.
