Local Red Cross chapter gets new name

The Wayne County Chapter of the American Red Cross received official notification from American Red Cross National Headquarters in Washington, DC that their chapter name will change to the Northeast Nebraska Chapter of the American Red Cross. This name change is effective July 1, 2005 and the chapter received a new, signed charter to hang in their main office located in Wayne, Nebraska. "This project has been in the works for over a year," stated new Chairman Dr. Steve Becker. "Our chapter has been serving many counties surrounding Wayne for several years on behalf of the state, however we were unable to do any fundraising in those areas because the state funds any disasters that occur outside of our jurisdiction."

Becker continued, "So as our budget got tighter, as many non-profits are experiencing, our board started looking at ways to remain strong and grow. Over a year ago, our development directors such as past chairmen Bill Claybaugh and Cap Peterson, as well as other board members looked at some of the surrounding areas and saw a potential not only for our growth, but also an opportunity to perhaps increase our funding sources."

Lori Carollo, Executive Director of the local chapter worked very closely with Janine Brown, State Director over all the chapters in Nebraska in finding ways that this project could work. While Wayne was working on this project, National all of a sudden was looking at the similar type of thing.

"It really was a perfect timing issue," states Carollo. "Steve Becker went back to Washington this past spring to a Chapter Chair Institute and all the things that the new in-coming chairs were being told that were going to be happening in the next year to 18 months were the things our chapter has been working on for the last year to 18 months, so naturally the people back there took notice!"

The actual name-change process doesn't just happen over-night. Letters need to be requested from surrounding chapters, applications have to be filled out, as well as documentation of board support, and many other "t's" crossed and "i's" dotted!!

"We were very fortunate that our state director was so supportive of this change and spoke to our Regional Director numerous times about the changes within our chapter and the strong leadership we have that would support such a change in structure," states Carollo. "During this past year a completely new procedure was implemented throughout the entire Red Cross organization where each chapter must complete 47 chapter performance standards and are 'graded' on each of those items. I am very proud of the fact that our chapter met or exceeded every one of those goals."

So what exactly does this new name change all involve? The American Red Cross National Headquarters long-term, nationwide goal is that there will not be ANY areas throughout the country not serviced by a Red Cross chapter. By July 1, 2006, every county will be under a governing Red Cross chapter.

"Our chapter is trying to be pro-active in accordance with having Red Cross coverage and service available to everyone in every county equally across the state and nation. We have built good relationships with fire and rescue departments in these other counties by our service after disasters, as well as working with many of their pools. We will now be expanding to train disaster responders, work with various emergency managers and getting shelters assigned and people to work them. We will also be building our health & safety services in these other areas by providing first aid at their local events and offering training to the communities, schools and businesses," states Cap Peterson, past Chairman of the Board.

Another major event that has helped the local chapter be able to expand is that the Service Area out of Des Moines, Iowa has recognized this pro-active challenge that the Wayne group is trying to take and recently allotted them a grant of $17,000 to hire some part-time people to assist in making the needed contacts and do training in these other counties.

During that year, the local chapter can get responders trained, build up health & safety programs and even do fundraising in local communities that they serve. There is still state money available for approximately a little over a year that will still help cover any disaster expense occurred, so with Wayne moving forward at this point, they will have time to develop these relationships before they are "forced" to take on additional counties and cover all expenses before having these plans in place!

The counties that Wayne will now be covering are: Cedar, Cuming, Dixon, Knox, Thurston, and Wayne. The main reason that was given for changing the name was to help these other counties feel more "inclusive" than the "Wayne Red Cross" name going into these other towns. "We basically cover all of Northeast Nebraska except for Dakota County, which is covered

County Commissioners hold meeting

By Lynn Sievers
Of the Herald

Wayne County Commissioners met in regular session Tuesday. On the agenda was Lance Webster of Wayne, representing Muhs Acres and himself, with a request to reclassify the first quarter mile of West 21st Street and move the urban line in exchange for Grainland Road and Pheasant Run. He also noted reclassification would be good to help Wayne County receive STP funds to pave West 21st Street.

Commissioner Kelvin Wurdeman stated the urban area boundary line of Grainland Road and Pheasant Run would have to be moved to allow the city to reclassify the first quarter mile of West 21st Street. Rich Robison of Kirkham Michael has been asked to look into the procedure to reclassify the roads around the city to a collector series, making them eligible for STP funding. This has been attempted twice in the past. The first time it was denied because

Long time business man retires

By Lynn Sievers
Of the Herald

After 42 years in the dentistry profession in Wayne, Dr. Wayne Wessel has decided to retire and trade in his dentist's chair for an easy chair. His plans include catching up on some well-deserved fishing, hunting, golfing, reading and traveling.

Looking back to when Dr. Wessel was first working in Wayne, he started his career with Dr. Gordon Shuppe in 1963. At that time, the office was across from its present location at 115 W. 3rd Street, which Dr. Shuppe bought in 1967.

Through the years, Dr. Wessel worked with a number of dentists: Dr. Denaeyer, who has his own practice in Wayne; Dr. Lodes, who is in the Littleton, Colo. area; Dr. Bierbower, who has his own practice in Wakefield; Dr. Cooley of Rapid City, S.D.; and Dr. Burrows, who is in the office at 115 W. 3rd.

Thinking of the changes in local dentistry, Wessel notes that when he began his business, people believed they couldn't keep their teeth and they would eventually have them all pulled out.

People also thought dentures were necessary. He remembers having to convince people that they could comfortably have their teeth restored and keep them for a lifetime. Dr. Wessel said that Wayne school staff were great in helping him get his message of good dental health across to the young people.

Wessel has always believed his number one priority to people is the relief of pain.

His next big step in dentistry came in 1975 at the community election. He asked local physicians, patients and their families to endorse the need for fluoride in the water. A door-to-door campaign was also launched.

With the addition of fluoride, Wessel noted they expected to see a 50 percent decrease in dental decay.

The issue passed by eight votes. A recount was ordered which showed 16 votes for fluoride. He noted that Chuck Carhart was instrumental in getting the issue passed.

After local children were exposed to fluoride," Wessel said, "if you saw much tooth decay, you knew they hadn't grown up in Wayne."

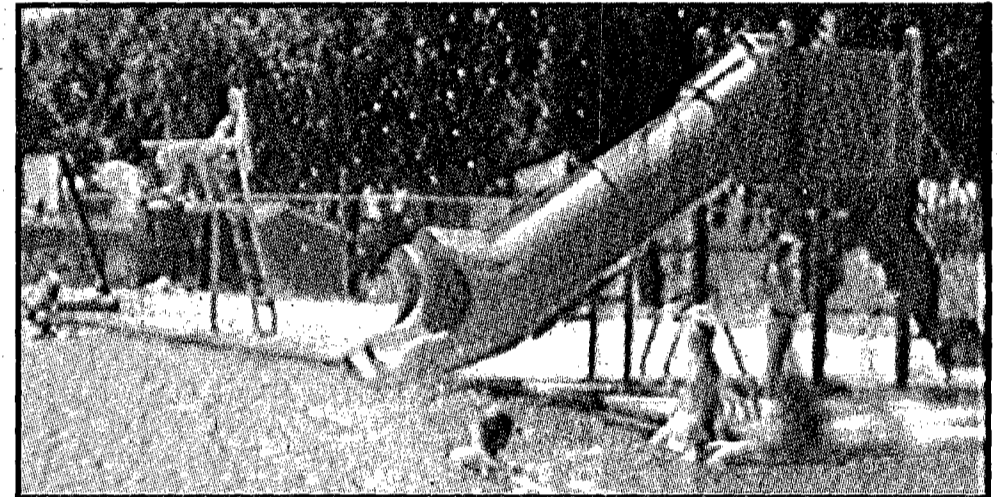

The next phase in the prevention of tooth decay was good home care, nutrition and regular professional dental visits. People were seeing they could prevent decay and periodontal disease.

One thing that helped, starting in 1984, was fissure sealants which were painted into the grooves in the teeth so decay couldn't start. With fissure sealants and fluoridated water, the dentists saw big improvements in the dental health of their patients.

"It makes me feel good when local parents, who are grandparents now, tell me their grown children have no cavities and their grandchildren are graduating from high school with no fillings," Dr. Wessel said.

He added that his patients were

'Extreme Backyard Makeover' gives family renewed energy

By Clara Osten
Of the Herald

Although not expecting to win anything, Tamara Koch of Coleridge sent in a video of her backyard to a contest co-sponsored by Country Nursery of Wayne and KCAU Channel 9.

The contest, "Extreme Backyard Makeover," was designed to give someone in the KCAU viewing area the opportunity to have a backyard makeover.

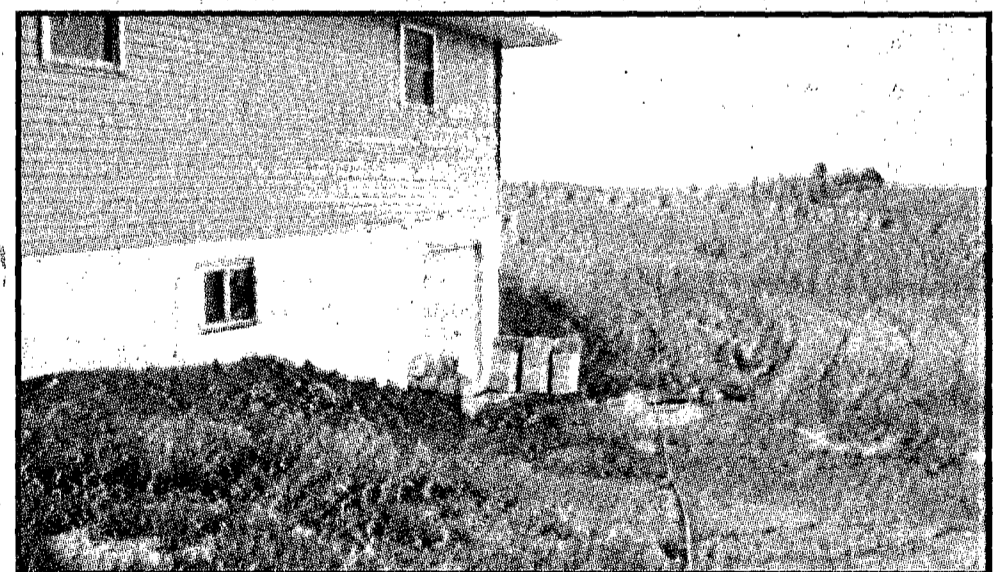

"We received approximately 250 entries in the contest. Many of these were very touching stories, including a family who wanted to have a backyard party for sons returning from Iraq and a family whose backyard was being neglected while they traveled back and forth to Rochester, Minn. for cancer treatments for their son," Mike Lutt said.

Lutt said that the list of entries was narrowed to nine finalist and he and his full-time employees sat down and watched videos, looked at pictures and read letters before selecting the Russ and Tamara Koch home as the winner of the backyard makeover.

Russ and Tamara and their three daughters, Kaitlynn, 10, Kalli, 8, and Karlie, 3, lost their house, vehicles and buildings when a tornado went through their farm

Before the Backyard Makeover, the Koch's backyard was mainly mud and weeds. Afterwards, the area has a retaining wall and a whole new look.

Bruning hands down sentence in Hancock case

Attorney General Jon Bruning announced that Jennifer Hancock of Winside has been sentenced to prison by District Court Judge Robert Burkhard.

Hancock, 29, plead no contest to one count of motor vehicle homicide, a Class IIIA felony, and one count of possession of methamphetamine, a Class IV felony, on June 2, 2005. She was sentenced to 30 months to three years in prison on the motor vehicle homicide charge and 12 to 36 months in prison on the possession of methamphetamine charge. The sentences will be served concurrently.

Attorney General Jon Bruning said, "This case is a heart-wrenching illustration of the tragedies that occur when someone makes the decision to use meth. It's proof that this scourge not only destroys the lives of the people who use it, it also destroys the lives of innocent people in their path."

"I want to thank Dakota County Attorney Ed Matney for bringing this case to our attention. He was instrumental in helping us obtain this conviction."

The charges stemmed from an accident that occurred in April 2001 near Hubbard. Hancock was behind the wheel of a car that crossed the center line on Hwy 35 and collided with a car Jeff Beacom was in. Beacom and Hancock's two children, 8 year-old Talia Hancock and 4-year-old Damien Wendt, were killed in the crash. Hancock had meth in her system at the time of the crash.

Criminal Bureau Chief Don Kleine handled the case.

at the Douglas County Election Committee for the last two years where he found and trained poll workers and oversaw around 300 polling places in the Omaha area.

Phipps worked for Heinemann in the state treasurers office from 1995 to 2001, and was Rep. Lee Terry's 2002 campaign director.

The election committee is responsible for the number of votes, registration, absentee program (mail and in-person), co-ordination of poll workers in Douglas County. Last election day there were around 2000 workers helping with the election in Douglas County and 341 voting precincts (265 physical locations) where people voted in Douglas County.

He's also responsible for tabulation, records, and jury committee where he has to summon and draft people for jury duties.

Phipps helped instrument the 2002 Help America Vote Act (HAVA) which was put into place because the state of Florida had a number of challenges with their state wide voter registration system. Because of HAVA, there will be new equipment at Douglas County precincts in January of next year that will help disable voters be able to vote on their own without the help of other individuals.

Also to Phipps credit, is the implementation of a new child support collection system at the state treasurer's office. Phipps noted that Heinemann wanted continuity; someone who knew the office.

"I am very humbled by the Governor's confidence in me and am excited about the new position," Phipps said. "I look forward to the challenges ahead."

WSC residence hall room waiver drawing planned

Wayne State College is offering a $500 residence hall room fee waiver to the winner of a drawing at the upcoming Wayne County Fair to be held July 28-31.

The person holding the winning entry will receive a $500 residence hall room fee waiver which will be applied to the student's first semester of enrollment as a full-time student at WSC. The certificate is transferable to an immediate family member, including a child, grandchild or sibling, and must be redeemed before May 1, 2010.

"This has been a very popular drawing at previous fairs, and we anticipate a lot of interest again this year," said Judy Johnson, director of college relations. "What's especially nice about it is that it isn't just for the coming school year. Young people who will be in the eighth grade are eligible for the drawing as well as those who are entering college this fall."

Registration for the drawing will be at the Wayne State booth in the commercial building throughout the four-day fair. The drawing will be held following the fair and the winner will be notified.

For more information, call the college relations office at 402-375-7324.

Main Street Focus

We, at Main Street Wayne, would be remiss if we didn't say "thank you" to all the people who stepped forward to help with the various tasks associated with conducting our annual Henoween party.

All of you should be receiving, if you haven't already received, a personal thank you from our office. However, we do want to single out a few people who went above and beyond — Irene Fletcher who oversaw the total operations of Henoween and Mel Meyer, who took care of the "heavy work" and volunteers. A very special "thank you" goes out to Eric Shoh, Athletic Director at WSC, and his wife, Stephanie, Mike Barry, Associate A.D. at WSC, all the coaches and athletes who helped with the seating area and chicken auction. You people did a great job and we appreciate your efforts.

Special thanks also go to Pearl Hansen and all the artists for the great job they did with the art show: Gene and Shirley Fletcher and Gary Van Meter for the use of the Second and Main property for the Art Show. The Art Show was very busy throughout the weekend and brought back pleasant memories of the first Chicken Show.

Henoween and Chicken Days were a great success and, again, we thank all those involved who took the time to make these activities a success. Without you these activities would not take place. Most of the comments we have heard about the weekend have been positive and as we continue to work on our evaluations of the weekend, we will look at all the comments we have received to see where we can improve. A number of changes are already being planned for next year's program.

Things are happening up and down Main Street. This weekend many of our retailers are conducting their annual July clearance sales — Christmas in July. If you are looking for bargains, you are sure to find them in the various stores participating in this Main Street Wayne promotion.

Last week we had the groundbreaking ceremony for the State National Bank's new building and this week the large machinery is on site and things are beginning to happen. We also got the news that the First National Bank will be building at a new location on East Seventh Street. This is a good indication that our economy in Wayne is strong and hopefully we will see more new additions to our retail mix in downtown Wayne.

RomArts at 222 Main Street has posted their hours and for now they will be operating on weekends. Their hours are from 11 a.m. to 6 p.m. on Friday; 11 a.m. to 5 p.m. on Saturday and from 1 to 4 p.m. on Sunday. Joining us on Main Street in August will be the Inspiration Christian Book and Gift Store at 316 Main Street. They will be a welcomed addition to the variety that is offered on Main Street. As a reminder, the Main Street Wayne's Economic Restructuring Committee is available to anyone who is thinking of starting a business in Wayne or in locating to our downtown area. Doctors Chuck Parker at Wayne State College and Tony Kochenash at Swans co-chair this committee and would be available to assist and point anyone who wants a retail business in Wayne in the right direction.

The Economic Restructuring Committee will be undertaking the task of conducting a Business Building Inventory in the Main Street Wayne designated area. Part of the process will be to make maps of the area identifying all the buildings in the area with significant and useful data on the buildings so that people who are interested in Wayne have a better understanding of the business climate in Wayne. Eventually, this committee wants to produce a retail business recruiting brochure. This is a big task and if you are looking to volunteer some time to your community, Chuck and Tony would appreciate hearing from you.

Congratulations go out to Dr. Wayne Wessel who is retiring after many successful years as a dentist in downtown Wayne. We will miss him — he is a great dentist and a truly community-minded person. We wish him the best in his retirement and invite all of you to his Open House on Sunday, July 24 at Our Savior Lutheran Church from 2 to 4 p.m.

Heineman has plans to bring jobs to Nebraska

By Ed Howard
Statehouse Correspondent
The Nebraska Press Association

Gov. Dave Heineman outlined some big goals in his recent hopscotching around the state to ballyhoo the revised program for encouraging business development and such.

Everyone knows America has been on the short and dirty end of the stick when it comes to jobs being exported to cheap-labor countries.

Heineman said he plans to reverse that deal a bit, at least insofar as it involves Nebraska.

With the use of new business incentives and (presumably) some very convincing salesmanship, Heineman said he would be able to import some jobs to Nebraska from some other, unspecified countries.

WOW!
If Heineman can make that happen in virtually any context worthy of note, his political stock in the 2006 GOP gubernatorial primary can only go up.

Heineman, you surely will recall, faces retiring U.S. Rep. Tom Osborne (among others) in that contest. Osborne, you surely will recall, is the former NU coach whose teams won three national championships during his final years at the helm.

A reminder about that GOP fight or nomination as governor. Osborne has said he will not accept Political Action Committee money. Or funds from special interests.

Running a statewide campaign without lots of advertising dollars is going to be a trick. Perhaps Osborne has another source of funds lined up. Given the limits he also has placed on individual contributions, you have to wonder.

Regardless of how Nebraska does on the gridiron this year the Huskers' will be doing it on new turf. It is described as something of a two-tone sort of thing.

If the season goes well, look for T.O. to benefit if he is the GOP nominee. Look for Heineman's pals to remind people that the new turf was put in during his administration.

If NU isn't doing well by the time the election day rolls around, look for the athletic director and the coach to catch a lot of grief.

As for the Democratic candidate: He should just get his picture taken with as many players as possible. He might even pick up a few votes if he were photographed with Osborne (regardless of whether T.O. is the GOP nominee). You know there will be a little bit of "Well, Tom had his picture taken with the guy. He can't be all bad."

Giving reasons for walk

Dear Editor:

The Northeast Nebraska Humane Society would like to thank everyone who has taken an interest in our organization. We have recently had some people express concern over the shelter dogs being walked in this year's Chicken Days Parade. The dogs were given water three different times during the parade. However, it was hotter than we anticipated, and some of the dogs did not tolerate the heat as well as others. The dogs are all doing fine and have not shown any ill effects from being walked in the parade. Due to some of the dog's reactions, we will no longer be walking them in future parades. We will still, however, participate in parades in the future by having the dogs on a float, as the dogs enjoy visiting the public.

The heat can be a problem throughout the summer. We keep our dogs cool by spraying their cement floor kennels down with cold water. We also let the dogs play in a pool after walking them in the evenings. They all enjoy their pool time, and they have given us quite a few laughs. The Northeast Nebraska Humane Society has worked very hard to become a licensed, state-approved shelter and only want what is best for the dogs. We improve our shelter every year and implement recommendations from the inspector of the Department of Agriculture. Thank you to everyone who has contributed and taken an active role in caring for our animals. Our success depends upon you, and we won't let you or our dogs down.

Hot air balloon ride fulfills wish who invited them to attend.

"It was the first time we attended," Carol said. "Nate loved the ride. We were there Friday night and Saturday from noon until it ended. We enjoyed all of it."

The Wayne Jaycees brought the balloon rides to Wayne. There were 40 rides given that night. The balloon belongs to Flying Colors of Tilden. The four banks in Wayne: First National Bank, State National Bank, Farmers & Merchants State Bank, and BankFirst, sponsored bringing the event to Wayne.

Special announcement

Bill Dickey, President of First National Bank of Wayne spoke to those at last week's Chamber Coffee and announced that the bank would be building a new building at 411 East Seventh Street, just east of Gas 'N' Shop. A construction date has not yet been set, but bank employees hope to be in the new facility within two years. The new building will provide additional space for the bank, which has outgrown its present facility. The announcement was made at this time to allow the community to be aware of what the bank's plans are.

by the Siouxland Chapter in Sioux City, Iowa," stated Carollo. "This is right in alignment of National's them of being 'One Red Cross.' It is very important that our constituents identify the American Red Cross with themselves - that it is THEIR Red Cross."

"We are here to serve ALL the people in Northeast Nebraska - with disaster response, military assistance, and health & safety training. Our hope and vision is that our chapter will continue to grow over this next year and that the part-time people we are going to hire will be able to stay on permanently. The main office will continue to be here in Wayne, Nebraska which I believe is a big plus because the Service Area looked at this very hard due to the size of our county and location. I also think it is very important for people to know that money that is donated in a particular county will stay within that county to meet the needs of that county. Everything will be run administratively out of Wayne, but separate accounts will be maintained, as well as separate records and reports. This is a very exciting time for the American Red Cross and especially our chapter," stated Dr. Becker.

Janine Brown, Chapter Solutions Manager for Nebraska, stated "One of the reasons that I am in such support of not only this name change and financial support that has been allocated to Wayne is that I have met extensively with their board as a whole and especially Cap Peterson and Steve Becker this past year and they have one of the strongest governing boards of all the chapters I oversee in the state of Nebraska. They do an outstanding job of knowing what their mission is and are not afraid to look outside of the box at ways to grow. They focus very directly on the Red Cross mission statement to help people prepare for, prevent and respond to emergencies. They are being very proactive and I think they have gained recognition within our region and even at national because they have been working on this vision even before it became a vision at National Headquarters. And like all Red Cross Board of Directors, they are a group of VOLUNTEERS, but they have invested a lot of time into making these changes and I am very proud of this chapter, their board and their chapter exec.

"We all play a vital role in the chapter's success. I see Wayne as a strategically located chapter that could become the driving force for Red Cross services in our area of the state. We have educated and committed community leaders on our board, as well as a strong and committed group of paid and volunteer staff. The Northeast Nebraska Chapter of the American Red Cross will provide consistent quality service delivery throughout Northeast Nebraska for many years to come!" stated Dr. Steve Becker, Chapter Chairman.

Each and every person in our community can ALWAYS count on the American Red Cross for a helping hand, a comforting smile or hug, and a compassionate heart. The Northeast Nebraska Chapter of the American Red Cross will continue to be the calm following the storm, a pillar of strength and knowledge, and a pace-setting humanitarian organization. We invite you to become part of a glorious past, inspiring present and exciting future with the American Red Cross.

For more information, you can contact the chapter at 402-375-5209 or at 112 E. 2nd St., in Wayne, Nebraska 68787.

County

they were awaiting results of the census, which could have caused the urban boundary to be moved. The second time, the city did not have enough allotted miles to reclassify their roads in the urban boundary.

Webster asked the commissioners to consider different plans so that if the whole perimeter can't be changed, at least some of it can. Commissioner Wurdeman stated the county is looking at all possible avenues, including full reclassification or doing it in segments.

On road and bridge business, the commissioners passed a supplemental agreement with the Nebraska Department of Roads for Federal Aid Bridge Project No. BRO-7090 (18), Winside southeast, located six miles south and one and a half miles east of Winside, as for revising requirements for placing utility line in county road right of way, commissioners passed a resolution to modify county rules for burying utility line; they approved a bid for a rotary disk mower that needs replacing. The bid was by Midland Equipment of Wayne for $7,400 which included $4,400 for old mower trade in allowance so purchase price is $3,000. Neither Green Line or Dinkel turned in bids.

Continuing with road and bridge business, on authorizing solicitations of sealed bids for purchase of a used excavator, commissioners passed a motion to advertise for a used one; and on request for permission to bury utility lines in county road right of way, commissioners passed a request by Qwest on minimum maintenance road south of Randolph (two miles south of Cedar County line) to bury cable three feet deep in middle of road. There is a cable there already, it needs to be replaced.

Other business included Craig Smith of Barone Security System of Omaha visiting with the commissioners on courthouse security and the possibility of adding panic buttons to the present fire alarm system throughout the building. Smith noted a wireless panic button system could be installed through a number of receivers by way of a primary and secondary phone lines for around $29 a month. He added that when a panic button is pushed, the signal goes to the Barone Security System main office in Omaha and they alert Wayne authorities. The commissioners will check on the telephone lines and determine the chain of communication needed.

Also on the agenda, was Jim Williams of the Nebraska

Department of Natural Resources who has been working with FEMA on re-mapping the flood plain of five Nebraska counties: Wayne, Dodge, Platte, Cass and Saunders. He noted everything has been pretty routine with the flood plain not hitting structures or buildings except for in Hoskins.

Williams noted the maps are slated to go preliminary in September when county officials will review them. FEMA will be scheduling an open meeting in this area. The goal is to be finished with this project in a year.

George Ellyson, Wayne City Planner, told Williams he doesn't see any changes from the old 1960s FEMA map. Williams told him the new map will be based on 1993 equations so should be more accurate. Ellyson noted there is degradation of creeks in northeast Nebraska which is a real problem and that FEMA should evaluate depths in stream beds. Stream erosion has increased creek capacities in northeast Nebraska so FEMA should evaluate new bank depth and width for more accurate flood plain determination.

Williams said re-mapping should take place again around 2010 but fears with costs and lack of funding, this may be the last time mapping is done for many years.

For Ley family

Banking tradition continues

By Clara Osten
Of the Herald

In 1892 Henry Ley applied for a bank charter and opened The State Bank at the corner of Second and Main Streets and since that time, the Ley family has been involved in the banking business.

Recently, ground was broken on the lot on the corner of Second and Main for a new State National Bank & Trust building.

"The bank operated in the same location from the time until it burned on Jan. 2, 1986," said David Ley, great grandson of Henry Ley and current president of State National Bank & Trust Company.

In 1929 Rollie W. Ley, son of Henry Ley and President of the bank, applied to the Comptroller of the Currency for a National Charter. The State Bank then became the State National Bank. In 1967 Henry E. Ley, grandson of Henry Ley and president of the bank at the time, applied for Trust Powers which was granted on Dec. 29, 1967. The name was then changed to its present name, State National Bank and Trust Company.

David Ley joined the bank in 1970, becoming the fourth generation Ley involved with the bank.

David's son, Matthew Ley, plans to join State National Bank & Trust Company in 2010 and will become the fifth generation to be a part of the bank. He is presently the vice-president of Foundation bank of Seattle, Wash.

Through the years, additional space was added to the bank, and at the time of the fire in 1986, the bank was 75 feet in wide. It had been remodeled in 1979.

"Before the bank burned, the building was a two story facility. The bank was on the main floor and Addison Law Office, Goblirsch Dentistry and Jerry Malcom, CPA were on the second floor. In the back of building, Triangle Finance and State National Realty," David said.

Ley said that the fire in 1986 did not disrupt business as the majority of the records were on microfilm and salvageable. All the materials in the sale were saved.

"We operated from the drive-in at 10th and Main Streets for the first day. On Sunday, equipment was moved in to the empty building at 116 West First Street and we opened for business on Monday," he said.

David said that rebuilding has always been an option but the economic conditions of the area and changes in the banking industry caused him to consider all his options before building.

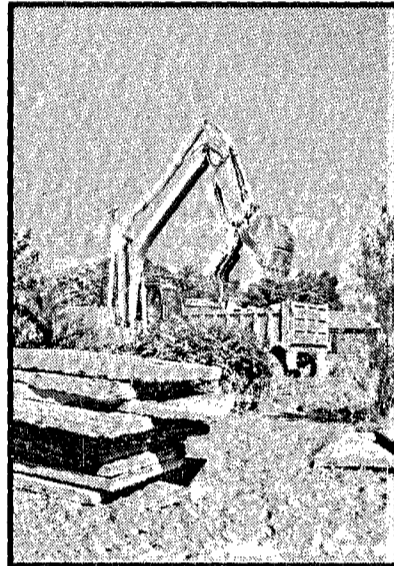

"I wanted to keep this as a family bank and last year, when Matt made the commitment to come back to Wayne, we moved forward with our plans to build."

Construction work has already begun on the new building and it is anticipated that the project will take 14 months to complete. Otte Construction is the general contractor for the project.

Current members of the Board of Directors for the bank are Jonathan H. Ley, son of Henry E. Ley; Logan McClelland, agricultural businessman, Patrick Gross, retired senior vice president of the bank and David Ley, Robert Jordan, James Nissen and Galen Wiser.

The bank has an equivalent of 18 full-time employees, many who have been with the facility for more than 30 years.

After Viet Nam, Dr. Wessel was at the army base at Ft. Riley, Kan. It was during this time the decision was made to come to Wayne.

"I was born during the depression," Wessel said, "and agriculture has always been important to me so I knew I wanted to practice in a rural community of around 5,000 people. Wayne had a good school system and having Wayne State College here was a plus."

He said they chose to come to Wayne because it was a good place to raise their family. Their family consists of Scott and Jane Wessel and their daughter, Autumn; Brenda Duffack and son, Luke; of West Palm Beach, Fla.; Jennifer and Jon Stoltenberg, and their children, Max, Maggie, and George, of Dr. Wessel says he is leaving the office in good hands with Dr. Burrows who has been joined by two dental hygienists. All of the dedicated staff that worked with Drs. Wessel and Burrows will continue to serve their patients.

Dr. Wessel said God has kept him in good shape and he has many things that he wants to do. Spending time with the grandchildren is a big part of his future plans.

A retirement open house is planned for Dr. Wessel this Sunday, July 24 at Our Savior Lutheran Church in Wayne from 2-4 p.m.

Makeover

on June 23, 2003.

"Insurance paid for the new house and vehicles and we helped build our new home, but were pretty much burned out by the time it came to doing something with the backyard. It was all dirt and weeds before the project began," Tamara said.

"We picked the Kochs for several reasons. First of all, they have three young daughters who will be able to enjoy their new backyard for many years. Also, the farm has been in the family for a long time and will continue to be in the family. We also wanted to get them enthused again about going on," Lutt said.

The Kochs learned of their good fortune when the winner of the contest was announced on television in late June.

Country Nursery and KCAU contacted a number of area businesses to assist with the project.

Pflanz Electronics provided an outdoor sound system, Jensen

Sprinkler, the sprinkler system, HOM Furniture, the patio furniture, Ace Engine, a lawn mower DMD Manufacturing, an arbor (archway).

Wayne businesses who became involved with the project included Bomgaars who provided the water feature tank and pump and The Plant Market which supplied planters and annual flowers.

The project itself took 12 days to complete and involved between 100 and 150 hours of work for the various crews.

It included the installing of a retaining wall, a brick pathway, a two-tiered brick patio, a small water feature, an irrigation system, sod, trees and a hedge which "brings the backyard in closer."

Those contributing to the project included Coleridge National Bank, Kathol Turf, Country Estates Fence, Pilger Sand & Gravel, K. Porter Construction, Greenleaf Nursery, Mitchell Electric, Echo Systems, Meyer Enterprises, Hartington Tree LLC, Reams Sprinkler Supply, Sioux City Brick & Tile Co., Versa Lok and Willow Creek.

"While we were working on the project, the girls colored pictures and wrote us thank you notes," Lutt said. "They also said that walking out into their backyard now is like going into a rich person's backyard."

The KCAU crews filmed the family in their new backyard last week for a segment which was to be aired on July 20 and after the filming, the Kochs and Lutt were talking about the project when one of the girls came to Mike and asked if she could run through the new sprinkler.

"I told her 'yes' and after changing into swimming suits, the girls ran through the sprinkler, laughing and giggling and I realized that that made the whole project worthwhile," Lutt said.

"The final result was a lot more than what we expected. It makes a big difference and other than planting more grass, the backyard is now completely done," Tamara said.

Wayne Seniors take second in district tournament

By David W. Carstens
Of the Herald

Wayne's collection of players heading into last weekend's Class B Area 3 District Senior American Legion tournament at Omaha's Sandlot Field included some of the league's top athletic talent.

Due to lack of numbers, Wayne's Senior team combined with players from Wakefield and Laurel-Coleridge to include players from seven area towns.

Wayne entered the tourney as fourth-seed, but worked through a tough elimination bracket and hot summer heat to advance to Monday's district championship game, which saw Wayne finish as district runnerup to Omaha Roncalli.

Wayne 14, Logan View 8

In the opening round, Wayne posted a 14-8 win against Hooper Logan View.

Taylor Peters scored first for Wayne after hitting a lead-off single before the floodgates opened in the second inning that saw the locals score eight runs off eight hits to take a commanding 9-0 lead.

Derek Carroll turned a single into another Wayne score in the next inning, to jump out to 10-0 advantage.

Logan View came to life in the fourth inning with a two-run homer, but Wayne responded with runs by Eric Nelson and Blake Lyon to hold on a 12-2 lead after the inning.

Logan View tallied three more runs in the fifth, while a double by Nelson scored Joe Meyer for Wayne to move to 13-5 heading into the sixth.

final run en route to the 14-6 final.

Three Wayne batters finished with two runs apiece (Peters, Nelson and Carroll), while Wade Jarvi recorded an RBI and a double.

Matt Hahne pitched a complete game and threw 132 pitches in the win.

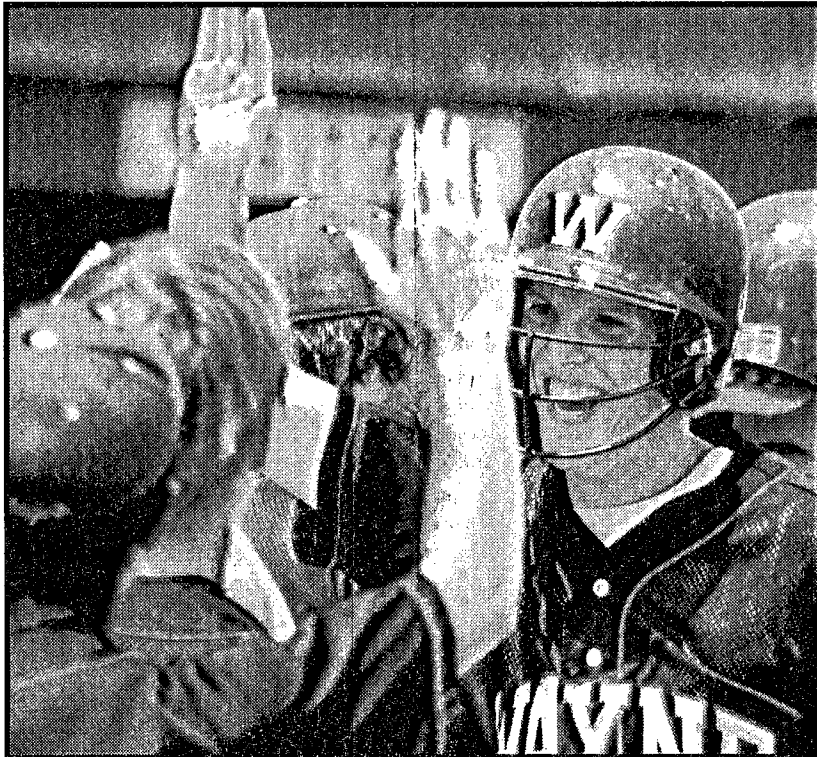

Blair 10, Wayne 5

Blair handed Wayne its first loss of the district tournament with a 10-5 setback in action on Saturday, July 16.

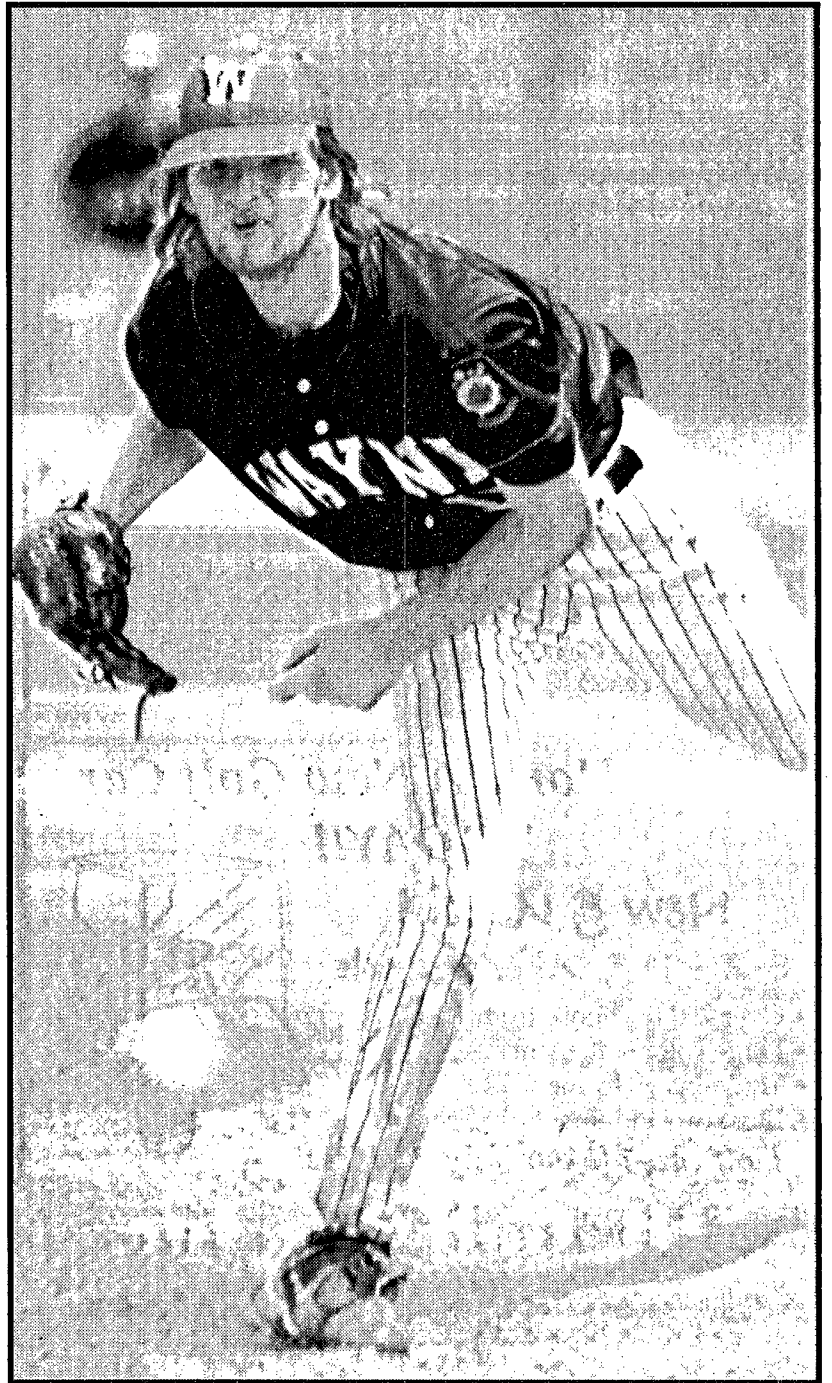

Blair opened with a 1-0 in the first inning but Wayne was quick to answer with a two-run homer by Nathan Milander to score Eric Husen for a 2-1 Wayne advantage in the top of the second.

Blair responded with a pair of runs in the bottom of the inning and added another run in the fourth to jump out to a 4-2 lead.

Wayne regained the lead when

Tim Schroeder gets a "high-five" from his teammates after scoring a run in district action in Omaha on Saturday.

Juniors fall short in district heartbreaker, rebound with win

Some losses hurt more than others and Wayne Juniors coach Jeff Zeiss said Monday's loss to Blair in the conclusion of a rain-postponed Class B Area 3 district opener from Sunday was probably one that will be remembered for a long time.

Wayne (19-15) continued play of a 1-1 game started on Sunday at Hank Overin Field.

Bren Vander Weil responded in the top of the ninth inning with a two-run double to score Jesse Hill and Nate Finkey, who also scored Wayne's sole run on Sunday.

A throwing error in the bottom of the inning allowed Blair to tie and eventually win the game at 4-3.

"It was one of the most difficult losses I've been a part of," Zeiss said. "I couldn't have been more proud of this group of young men in the way they responded in our second game on Monday against Logan View."

Finkey worked seven innings in the game with 12 strikeouts, while Hill closed with the loss.

Wayne responded in a second game Monday with a 14-2 thumping of Logan View.

Matt Sharer opened with four innings from the mound, while Nathan Summerfield picked up the save.

Shaun Kardell paced the offense with three runs, while Sam Kurpgeweit drove in four Wayne scores.

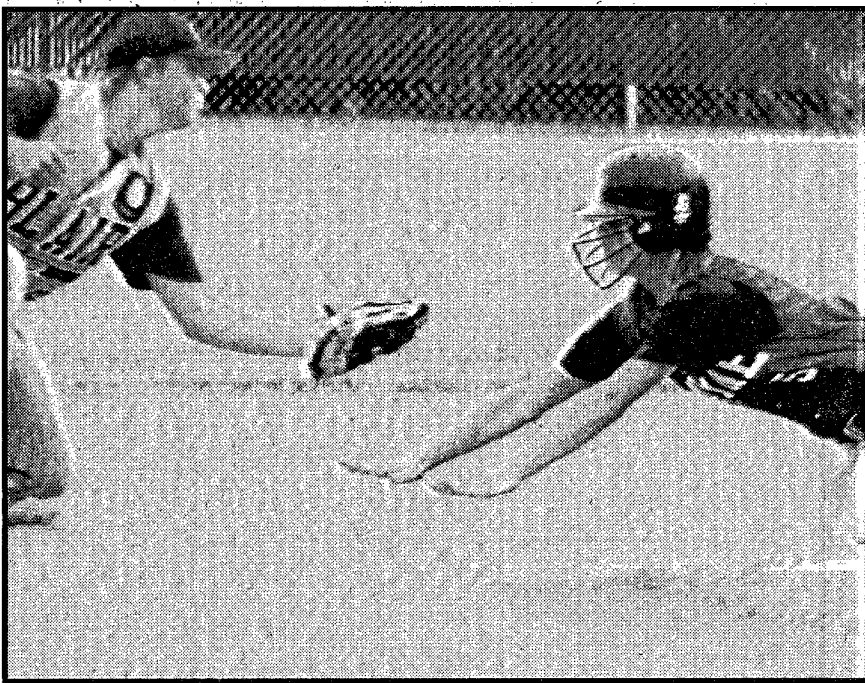

Sharer, Vander Weil, Summerfield, Kurpgeweit and Cory Harm all tallied a pair of runs during the slugfest.

As of press time on Wednesday, Wayne's hopes for a berth in state tournament remained intact as the team was scheduled to face top-seed Arlington in an elimination game at 8 p.m. Wednesday.

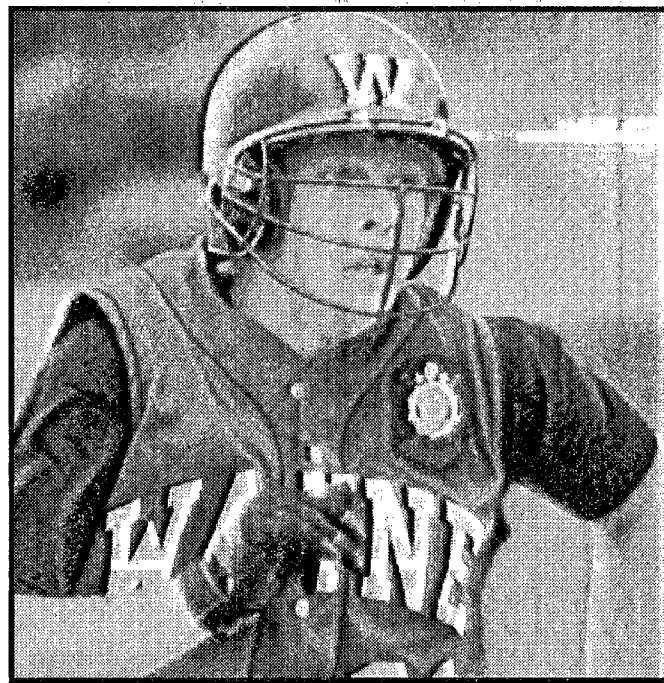

Blair and Omaha Roncalli were to play in Wednesday's winner's bracket matchup.

Shawn Jenkins just misses a catch to right field in Sunday's first round of Junior League baseball districts at Wayne.

Cory Harm prepares to slide into second base in Sunday's first round of districts against Blair.

Shaun Kardell heads for third base in district action against Blair last Sunday afternoon.

10-under team claims league championship

Fresh off a third place finish in the Class C state tournament, Wayne's 10-under girls softball team continued to roll with a four-game sweep to claim the Logan Valley league title in action in Scribner last weekend.

The team finished the summer campaign with 27-7 overall record, which is believed to be among the top finishes for Wayne's 10-under program.

The squad drew a bye in first round action on July 16 and were matched with host Scribner-Syder in Saturday's second game.

Tia Jech's home run, plus triples from LaVona Lawton and Cassie Harm paced the offense in the 5-2 win against the host team.

Kristin Carroll struck out eight batters in her four innings of work, while other offensive highlights included a pair of base hits from Megan Hoffart and a double by Miranda Denklau.

Carroll continued to roll in the first of three games on Sunday as she retired 11 batters in a 5-0 shutout of Dodge. She also tallied a pair of triples and Lawton finished with two base hits during the contest.

Wayne advanced to the championship game with an 11-0 win against Arlington.

The hits kept coming for Wayne as a Lawton home run was complimented by successful outings from Carroll, Jech and Catlyn Fehringer, who recorded two base hits apiece. Hannah Gamble, Hoffart and Harm each reached base in the shutout.

Carroll pitched a complete game and added 12 more strikeouts in the win.

Wayne took the league championship title with its third straight shutout in a 5-0 win against Scribner-Snyder to wrap up action on Sunday. Fehringer sparked the offense with a home run and a pair of base hits, while Carroll added two more in the win. Carroll closed out her 19 innings of work in which she retired 40 batters with 11 strikeouts against Scribner-Snyder.

Summer programs highlighted

The Wayne Herald — thanks to the generous support of many area sponsors — is pleased to offer a gallery salute to Wayne's Summer Youth programs, over the next two weeks.

The gallery format featured this summer, marks the third consecutive year that Wayne's summer youth programs have been highlighted by the Wayne Herald.

Thanks are also extended to the coaches, teams and parents who contributed information and pictures for the feature.

Olson captures three golds at Cornhusker State Games

Despite hot weather, Randy Olson of Wayne, managed to bring home the gold once again at this year's track and field events at the Cornhusker State Games in Lincoln on July 16.

Fortunately, the track competitions began later in the day last Saturday, but most events were run with temperatures in the upper 80s and lower 90s.

Competing in the long jump, Olson landed a 14-10 3/4 foot jump to win the gold.

His next winning event was the high jump, which he won with a final height of 4-4 feet.

Olson was also able to maintain the state record he set last year in the 110-meter high hurdles of 19.3 seconds to take the gold.

His last event was the 200 meter race in which he placed fourth.

Olson, 57, began competing as a track athlete at the age of 43 and has coached track for more than 30 years at the high school and college levels.

He will next represent Nebraska at the State Games of America in Colorado Springs from July 28-31 and then competes in the Nebraska Senior Games in Kearney in mid-August.

Peters smacked a three-run homer over the left field wall to score Jarvi and Tim Schroeder.

The game unraveled for Wayne in the bottom of the fifth when Blair added four runs off three hits to establish an 8-5 advantage.

Wayne was able to get itself into scoring position in the sixth inning, but Blair turned up the defensive pressure and added two more insurance runs in bottom of the inning to take the 10-5 win.

Wayne starter Scott Blohm was retired and Milander closed the game from the mound.

Blair clinched the victory with eight singles, three doubles and seven RBIs to send Wayne into an elimination game on Saturday night.

Wayne 15, Arlington 3

Wade Jarvi went 3-for-4 from the plate and Tim Schroeder nailed a home run and drove in four runs as Wayne combined for 15 hits in a 15-3 win to knock Arlington out of district play on Saturday night.

Peters, Blohm and Zach Wemhoff all reached home plate in the opening inning to set the tone for the seven-run (Peters, Nelson, Blohm, Wemhoff, Schroeder, Carroll and James Neel) second frame.

The hits and runs kept flowing in the third, thanks to scores by Wemhoff and Husen off a three-run home run strike by Tim Schroeder over the wall in center field.

Nelson and Blohm each added another run in the fourth inning and the game was called in the fifth with the ten-run mercy rule.

Peters picked up the win on the mound for Wayne.

Wayne 10, Blair 8

Nathan Milander dominated with 6 1/3 solid innings of pitching and went 2-for-3 with three RBIs at the plate as Wayne eliminated

Blair 10-8 on Sunday to earn a place in Monday's district final.

Blohm picked up the save for Wayne in the game that avenged the locals' loss in the second game of the tourney.

Peters recorded Wayne's first score in the opening inning, with three more runs added in the top of third to allow Wayne to take a 4-2 lead.

Blair tied the game in the bottom of the third a 4-all.

Wayne picked up steam in the fourth inning with a five-run rally with two outs that was sparked by a RBI single by Wemhoff to score Blohm.

Milander added to the offensive onslaught as he notched a double to allow Wemhoff and Husen to cross home plate.

Milander was next to score for Wayne after Hahne popped a single.

Jarvi continued his strong tourney performance with base hit to score Schroeder to close out the inning with a 9-6 Wayne advantage.

Wayne added one more run in the fifth, while Blair tallied two for the 10-8 final the set up Monday's district championship game with Omaha Roncalli.

Omaha Roncalli 18, Wayne 3

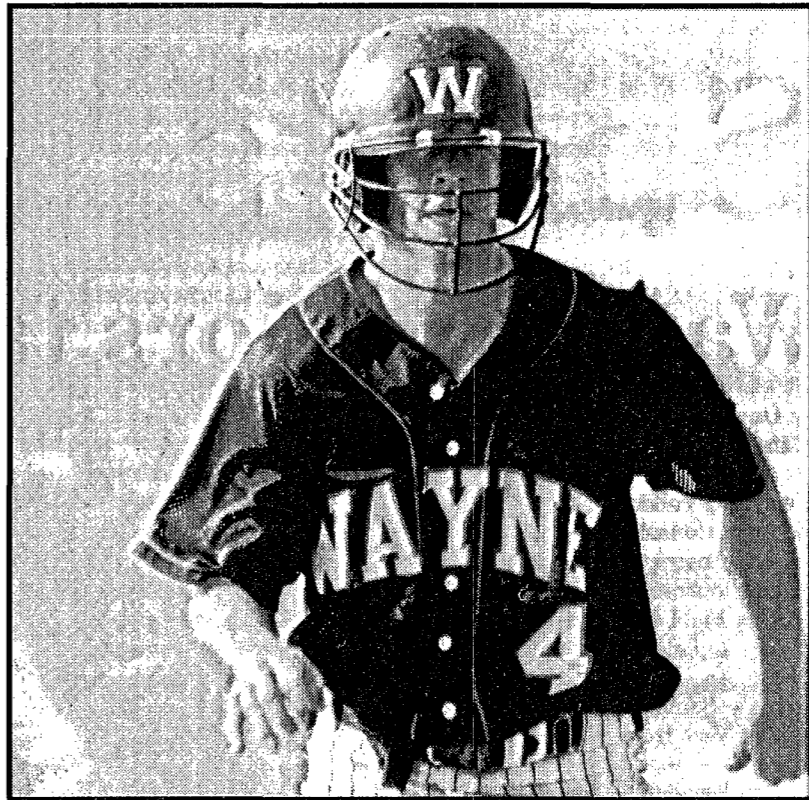

Wayne's quest for a state tournament berth fell short as Omaha Roncalli derailed Wayne 18-3 in the district finals game.

Roncalli's batters rattled through Wayne's pitching lineup, that saw its only highlight when Blohm threw seven consecutive strikes in relief of starter Taylor Peters.

Runs by Blohm and Husen gave life to Wayne in the second inning to narrow the lead to 4-2 in the third inning, but Roncalli responded with 10 runs in the fourth to put the game out of reach.

Jarvi scored Wayne's other run in the fifth off a sacrifice fly by Nelson.

The loss ended Wayne's season at 7-17.

Taylor Peters heads for home plate in Wayne's victory against Arlington in Saturday's district contest in Omaha.

Simple steps can conserve water and keep lawns looking good this summer

As Nebraskans face the hot, dry dog days of summer, a University of Nebraska-Lincoln turf expert says it's not only possible to conserve water and maintain a healthy lawn, it's actually good for the grass.

Water conservation always should be a priority, but continued drought in parts of the state makes it especially important, said Roch Gaussoin, UNL turfgrass specialist. Most conservation methods he recommends require little aesthetic sacrifice.

"Many homeowners are notorious for applying too much water to their lawns," he said. "Water restrictions can actually result in better lawns because homeowners are not over-watering."

Several Nebraska communities have instituted mandatory or voluntary water restrictions. Gaussoin said people should follow any restrictions that are imposed. Watering on alternate days can reduce water use by 40 percent to 50 percent.

"Turf doesn't need to be watered every day," he said.

When watering, it's important to water uniformly. Watering from 4 a.m.-9 a.m. is ideal, Gaussoin said.

Watering during the day wastes water because much of it evaporates in the heat.

"During summer months, about a half-inch every two to three days for a total of 1.5 inches per week will do. If it rains, subtract the amount from weekly waterings," he said. "Do not put on more water than the soil can take. Runoff, especially during drought, is unacceptable."

Mowing properly also helps conserve water and keeps turf healthy. A good rule of thumb for mowing is "never remove more than one-third of the grass at one time," he said. Gaussoin recommends raising the height of the mower at least one setting higher than the one you used this spring. Mowing higher helps grass to develop deeper roots and shades the turf.

Other tips to conserve water include:

- Try mulching, even if you don't have a mulching mower. Lawns tend to lose more water and nutrients through evaporation when clippings are removed, he said.

- Be sure to maintain lawn care equipment. Sharpen mower blades at least twice during the summer. Dull blades tear grass, forcing it to use 40 percent to 60 percent more water.

- Be sure to check in-ground sprinkler systems for leaky valves and heads that may be wasting water.

 • During the hot days of summer, homeowners should not fertilize. Fall fertilization is most effective.

Health Departments receive grant funding

Diabetes and its complications are among the chronic conditions that seriously affect a person's health. Nowhere is this better understood than among the Hispanic community who experience diabetes and its related complications at twice the rate as their non-Hispanic counterparts.

In the past two years, two local health departments -- Elkhorn Logan Valley Public Health Department at Wisner and Northeast Nebraska Public Health Department -- have done something to lower this rate. With a program funded through the Nebraska Department of Minority Health, Hispanic residents of Dixon County have received education about diabetes that has been life changing.

Leading the program is Minority Health Coordinator and Educator Julia Icaza.

Now that program will continue with the receipt of a $14,345 grant from the Nebraska Health and Human Services System. The health departments are among 16 grantees to receive monies over the next two years to expand or enhance delivery of health services to the state's racial and ethnic minority populations.

"The health department has a strong record of making a difference and improving lives," said Kathy Nordby, Health Director of Elkhorn Logan Valley Public Health Department. "It makes sense to invest in preventative services to reduce the long term consequences of diabetes, like hospitalization and amputation. It saves money and it saves lives."

Educational programs are conducted in Dixon County in cooperation with the Siouxland Community Health Center that brings its mobile van to Wakefield.

Screenings for dental caries and diabetes takes place in participating schools, business locations, and other sites such as the Head Start centers and Women, Infants and Children nutrition (WIC) clinics managed by Goldenrod Hills Community Action, based in Wisner.

The Social Sciences Research Center located at Wayne State College completes on-going evaluation of the project.

Not only will this program continue in Dixon County, but in Madison and Cuming counties as well, with a combined grant awarded of nearly $180,000. To show the magnitude of the program, last year in a three-month time period alone, more than 4,000 people were screened and/or educated on dental health and diabetes in the three counties. Since the program's beginning in 2003, more than 17,700 people have been screened for both diabetes and dental caries, and given education when appropriate, and screened for dental caries.

Chicken show fun

The Wayne Boy Scouts and the Sharp Shooters 4-H Club were among the local organizations who provided activities for those attending this year's Henoween festivities. The Scouts used their paper trailer as a paint ball booth and allowed those participating the opportunity to hit various targets. The Sharp Shooters provided their shooting trailer and conducted demonstrations on the shooting programs offered through 4-H.

Seminar to explore economic security of Nebraska women

The work and family landscape has changed dramatically during the past 50 years; unfortunately, workforce policies, women's pay and caregiving burdens in Nebraska have not changed with it.

The economic and social impact of increasing numbers of Nebraska women working, but for low wages, little advancement, and the financial insecurity that culminates in women's older years, has spurred the interest in exploring a statewide network to address these and many other related economic issues.

The free organizational meeting, will be held on Aug. 9 at the Lincoln Woman's Club, 407 South 14th Street, from 9:30 a.m. - 3 p.m. There is no fee for the seminar, and all interested persons are welcome to attend, and registration is encouraged by calling the Nebraska Commission on the Status of Women at 402-471-2039 or e-mailing lgood@alltel.net. A lunch break is planned at the state capitol cafeteria from noon - 1 p.m. at the attendee's expense.

Rebekah Lusk, Network Development and Services Manager of the national organization "Women Work!" based in Washington, D.C. will serve as consultant in the initial conceptualization stage to develop a state strategic plan. "Women Work!" The National Network for Women's Employment, is a national non-profit organization, dedicated to empowering women from diverse backgrounds and assisting them in achieving economic self-sufficiency through job readiness, education, training, and employment.

"Statewide Women Work! Networks are forming across the nation, to address self-sufficiency and economic security of all women," Lusk said. "There are policy solutions and business practices that can guide Nebraska and its employers in crafting job security for women, which in turn can help Nebraska's families and the economy."

"The data shows that Nebraska women, with children under the age of six, are represented in such huge numbers in the Nebraska work force, that they are ranked first in the nation, explained Lisa Good, Director of the Nebraska Commission on the Status of Women. "However, women's pay in Nebraska ranks 42th in the nation. The national ranking for Nebraska women occupying managerial professions or professional occupations is almost dead last, at #49."

The newly re-funded Nebraska Women's Commission will leverage its role as a vital link between programs, agencies and educational institutions that can provide education, job training and support services to hundreds of Nebraska's women workers, displaced homemakers, single mothers and other women in transition.

For more than 25 years, the Women Work! Network has more than 1,000 programs located in every state across the country, and has served an estimated 10 million women in transition. For more information, please call 202-467-6346 or visit www.womenwork.org.

Northeast Nebraska RC&D update given

Northeast Nebraska RC&D gave updates on activities as follows:
Spring Into Summer Festival - This was a first for the RC&D Council and may become an annual event as many have suggested. Approximately 300 people attended from as far away as Grand Junction, Colo. Twenty nine vendors helped make the day a success. There were baked goods, homemade pickle relish, handmade gift cards, crocheted items, woven rugs, handcrafted dolls and bears. Willow baskets were being woven, locally grown meats could be sampled, and popcorn was on hand.
 The animals were a real hit! Zoo Nebraska brought a bear cub, chinchillas, dingoes, a burro, and more. One enterprising young entrepreneur even sold three puppies. Horse and buggy rides were enjoyed by many too. Little Sprouts Gardening School offered lots for kids and putt-putt golf, a lunch stand and silent auction added to the day.
 An event like this couldn't have been done without the dedicated work of Clo Ann Shamblen, Experience Works staff member, and Sandy Patton, Rural Storefront Project Manager. Thanks also go to Affiliated Foods for the use of their tent, vendor donations for the auction, Knox County Visitors Committee grant, and to all the volunteers for their help all that needed to be done.

Project Highlights: Rural Youth Connection - There weren't enough registrants to hold the conference scheduled for this Saturday, but that hasn't discouraged the committee. They are regrouping and have started planning for an Entrepreneurial Camp to be held summer 2006.
Scrap Tire 2005 - The Pierce County tire collection was July 19th at the Osmond District #2 Shop Knox County. FFA students collected inner tubes for their fundraising project.
 Knox County's collection is tentatively set for July 27th. For specific times and locations, contact the Knox County Clerk's office. The Dixon County collection is August 3rd from 10 a.m. to 3 p.m. in Allen at the County Shop.
Potential Water District - The first real phase of this project is to get community support to fund an engineering study which is needed to determine the feasibility for a system like this. It would describe what the system might look like and make recommendations. To move ahead now the communities need a resolution committing them to help fund that study.
 Contact Tim Rutledge with the Midwest Assistance Program, 402-862-3227, trutledge@neb.rr.com for more information.

Meridian Trails - A preproposal for Transportation Enhancement funding through the Nebraska Department of Roads was submitted for the walking/biking trail to connect the Meridian Bridge with the Corps of Discovery Welcome Center. The Lewis & Clark Natural Resources District and Cedar County are co-sponsors of the project. If requested, a full proposal will be developed.
Farm-to-Family Connection - Linking producers to consumers is the main focus of this project. Currently Curt Arens, Crofton is doing a radio program to reach local consumers.
 The Rural Storefront Project led by Sandy Patton has been searching out local producers and assisting them with feasibility studies and business plans. Together the two will expand both projects through a grant if awarded. Results might include a producer directory, cookbook, tours/events, website and more.
Waste Computer Collections - The RC&D was awarded a $9,103 grant from DEQ to clean up obsolete computers and related items. They will be recycled, reused and made into new products when possible. The lead, cadmium and mercury in the computers are toxic to the environment if improperly disposed of. See the enclosed flyer for information on the collection dates, locations and times.
Autumn Outing - Interested in genealogy? How about the history of the region? The Cemeteries & Ghosts Towns motor coach tour is on Saturday, Sept. 10th.
Shannon Trail - The Shannon Trail Promoters have lined up a first-class concert for Aug. 5th and 6th thanks in part to a grant from the Nebraska Arts Council. Along with other sponsors they're bringing the Corps of Discovery String Band to eight communities in Knox and Cedar counties.
RC&D Summer Tour & Meeting - Come tour Wakefield with us on July 25.

Piecemakers Quilt Guild

Piecemakers Quilt Guild was well represented in the recent Chicken Show parade, as well as having a display of quilts in the Lutheran Student Center near the WSC campus. A drawing of the organization's chicken quilt was held that Saturday with Dorrine Liedman of Carroll winning. The quilt was made up of quilt blocks each member of the group made. The guild makes a quilt for Chicken Show each year.

Diabetes Association to hold kickoff event

A short meeting that allows people to sign up as team captains for the America's Walk for Diabetes Team Captain Kickoff Event (Oct. 9, 2005) is planned for Monday, Aug. 1 from 6:30 to 7:30 p.m. at Faith Regional Health Services - West Campus, at 2700 West Norfolk Avenue, Norfolk, in the Nebraska Room.
 Anyone interested can call 1-888-DIABETES (342-2383), ext. 6885 to RSVP for the event or request information on the walk event.

Also, anyone who wants to have a team in the America's Walk event to support diabetes in the Norfolk and surrounding area is invited to participate.
 Diabetes is reaching epidemic proportions. There are 18.2 million people in the U.S., or 6.3 percent of the population, who have diabetes. Having a team in the America's Walk for Diabetes event ensures that the necessary funds will be raised that supports research and educational programs of the American Diabetes Association.

Check your vulnerability with new online survey

The Nebraska Department of Justice recently unveiled a new weapon in the fight against consumer fraud, scams and identity theft. Our new online consumer vulnerability survey, which can be found at www.ago.state.ne.us, is designed to determine whether Nebraskans are at low, moderate or high risk for falling victim to various types of schemes.
 Unfortunately, there are a lot of people who may not realize that something as simple as carrying your Social Security Card or ATM PIN in your wallet puts you at higher risk.
 Consumers who click on the home page icon are asked a series of 10 yes or no questions and are immediately given a ranking of their vulnerability. They are also referred to a series of brochures available on the Web site that offer tips on how to guard against everything from identity theft to sweepstakes fraud.
 The following tips can help you avoid becoming a victim:

By: Attorney General Jon Bruning

- Keep your Social Security card in a "safe," secure location. Never carry it in your wallet or purse unless you have a specific reason for doing so.
- Shred all unwanted credit card offers or other documents that may contain personal information before throwing them away. Trash can be treasure for identity thieves.
- Don't be a victim of high-pressure sales tactics. Ask for information to be sent in the mail.
- Beware of sweepstakes, chain letters, foreign letters and other scams. If it sounds too good to be true, it probably is.
- For more tips on how to protect yourself, visit our Web site at www.ago.state.ne.us or contact the Consumer Protection Division at 800-727-6432.

United Way seeks service extension

The Nebraska Public Service Commission formally opened proceedings on July 19 to expand 2-1-1 dialing for health and human services referrals to Dixon and Wayne Counties in northeast Nebraska.
 The Commission acted on a request by United Way of the Midlands of Omaha, the agency that holds the authority to operate 2-1-1 services in Nebraska.
 By dialing 2-1-1, a caller is provided with free referral service through United Way of the Midlands' First Call For Help program.
 Commissioner Rod Johnson of Sutton, whose Fourth District includes Dixon and Wayne Counties, said 2-1-1 service has proven itself to be a valuable community asset. "Thirty counties now have 2-1-1 dialing, representing 75 percent of Nebraska's population. United Way of the Midlands has demonstrated its ability to operate the system efficiently and professionally for the benefit of persons in need of the service."
 Persons wishing to comment on the application have 30 days to do so. If no protests or interventions are received in that time, the Commission will hold a public meeting in the area before addressing United Way's request for 2-1-1 for Dixon and Wayne Counties.

Chicken Show originators

Two of the Chicken Show originators, Jane O'Leary, front (in back seat), and Gail Korn, took part in this year's Chicken Show parade.

Reunion held for District 55

The land is a cornfield now. No trace of the school remains. But, on July 9, 39 people celebrated the memory of rural Wayne County School District 55.

Nebraska's illustrious poet laureate, the late John G. Neihardt, taught at District 55 around 1899. He wrote 'Black Elk Speaks' and other works about the American West. He wrote about his first teaching job at District 55 in his autobiography.

Neihardt applied for the position of teacher to Peter Jensen who had donated the land for the school. Jensen's great-granddaughters, Patricia Maas Putman of Madison and Marilyn Maas Puntney of Wausa, attended the reunion. They went to District 55 as children, as did their father and grandfather. Neihardt taught their grandfather during his tenure there.

It was a short tenure. Neihardt taught four months one winter and four months the next, beginning when the cornhusking was done and ending when the planting began. He also taught two months in between, starting when the corn was laid by and ending when the cornhusking began.

Organized on Dec. 15, 1887, District 55 counted two buildings in its history. The second one was remembered with great fondness by those at the reunion. It was built in 1929 and torn down in 1980.

The group gathered July 9 at former student Bill Thoendel's farm. He lives near the site of the vanished school which rang its big bell back then about eight miles north of Hoskins.

Years ago at District 55, the students sang for 15 minutes every morning. Doreen Pritchard Seibel of Westcliffe, Colo. saved one of the old songbooks from the school. She brought it and a keyboard to the reunion. She and her brother, Duane Pritchard of Valley Center, Kan., led the group in singing the old familiar songs.

One attendee was both former student and former teacher at District 55, Velda Koepke Groninger Warneke of Norfolk. Another present was both former teacher and mother of a former student, Elta Roberts Wederski of Hershey. The other former teacher attending was Edna Wendt of Hoskins.

Other former students at the reunion were Sandra Aevermann Jochens of Columbus; Lila Anderson Hansen of Winside; Carolyn Gosch Tuchenhagen of Grand Island; Dick Gries of Kearney; Peg Gries Collins of Lincoln; Connie Jones Bargstadt of Winside, Eva Jones Glass of Norfolk, Bud Jonson of Pierce, Deanna Jonson Buske and Bill Koepke, both of Norfolk, Galen Koepke of Nederland, Colo., Ivan Koepke of Pierce, Janis Koepke Bible of Lincoln, Judy Koepke of St. Louis, Mo., Mary Ann Maas Heckman of Norfolk, Terry Roberts of Hershey and Eva Ryan Meinke of Omaha.

Other District 55 mothers who came were Bonnie Aevermann, Ruth Gries, Dorothy Koepke and Viola Thoendel, all of Norfolk.

Weed management area grant received

The Northeast Nebraska RC&D recently received a $50,681 grant from the National Fish & Wildlife Foundation through the Pulling Together Initiative. Funds are for the Northeast Nebraska Weed Management Area's initiative to control noxious weeds and educate citizens on their detrimental effects.

- These funds will be used for:
- 1) Containment of salt cedar (tamarisk)
 - 2) Additional chemical and biological control of purple loosestrife, especially along the region's rivers (Niobrara, Missouri, and Elkhorn)
 - 3) Increased biological control of spotted knapweed and leafy spurge in grassland and pasture areas
 - 4) Protection of the Western Prairie Fringed Orchid
 - 5) Training and equipment for county weed superintendents on GPS
 - 6) GPS maps for newly treated areas of noxious and invasive weeds

7) Educational programs (e.g. weed tours, field days, meetings, etc.) for private landowners and citizens.

Included in the Northeast Nebraska WMA are the counties of Antelope, Boyd, Cedar, Dixon, Holt, Knox, Pierce, and Wayne.

Membership in the organization includes county government, Nebraska Game and Parks entities in the region, Natural Resource Districts, National Park Service, and others. Working together in a more cooperative way will make better use of limited resources and do a better job of controlling noxious weeds.

The Northeast Nebraska RC&D is also a partner in the effort and was the grant applicant. Contact Bruce Ofe at (402) 887-4659 or the RC&D for more information.

Obsolete computer collection set by RC&D

A two-day computer collection is planned by the Northeast Nebraska RC&D in its six County area which includes Antelope, Cedar, Dixon, Knox, Pierce and Wayne counties. The collection is made possible by a grant from the Nebraska Department of Environmental Quality.

Why recycle your computer? According to the National Safety Council's Environmental Health Center, there will be 315 million obsolete computers in the U.S. by 2004. That will amount to 1.2 billion pounds of lead, 2 million pounds of cadmium, and 400,000 pounds of mercury. If these computers are improperly handled or disposed of, these toxins can be released into the environment.

Help keep these toxins out of the environment, by bringing your old computer to one of the collection sites! The first collection will be on Friday, Aug. 5 at the Pierce County Fairgrounds in Pierce, Nebraska from 2 - 7 p.m.

The second collection will be Friday, Aug. 19 at the Cedar County Fairgrounds in Hartington, Nebraska from 2 - 7 p.m. There will be a minimal fee for the collection of computer monitors with peripherals of CPUs, mouse, keyboard, speakers, scanners and printers.

For more information contact the Northeast Nebraska RC&D office at 402-582-4866.

Graduates from UW-MADISON

Seann Van Osdel of Wayne recently graduated with a Bachelor of Arts degree. He majored in history.

More than 5,000 students received degrees during the University of Wisconsin-Madison's spring commencement ceremonies, May 13-15.

Design and Decorating Inspiration

The forecast is... colorful.

Home... is a word that can evoke strong feelings of emotion. Memories, smells, a feeling of refuge or relaxation... your home is an expression of yourself.

2006... color predictions are all about self-expression. Residential colors will reflect what families value and enjoy. Cooking, travel, technology, studying are a few examples.

Colors... trends will be toward the clean and colorful splashed with vivid hues. Fashion trends and decorating television programs have influenced consumers to use more color and be bold with their choices. World events are driving people to more "happy" colors. For example a living room done in neutrals may have a splash of pink, orange, or aqua in accessories, pillows etc.

Choose... color that best fits you and your life and you can't go wrong. No color is really considered "out".

Next... time we will begin an exploration of the different categories that may influence your color decisions.

What kids need to be successful

In order to understand what kids need to be successful, we need to first understand what a successful kid is. A successful young person is one who can grow into adulthood with the ability to manage his/her own life. They stay out of trouble, they can get and keep a job, they manage their finances, they get along with other people, and they are content. Success can be defined in many ways, but the definition above is what we will use for this article.

Ruth Vonderohé
Extension Educator

Kids need the loving support of at least one adult in their lives. That person is, ideally, a parent. But other adults can serve that role, too. Teachers, clergy, 4-H leaders, and many other adults are in roles where they can make incredible differences in children's lives. The more adults the child has who offer encouragement and support, the better.

Kids need boundaries. Many kids know the difference between right and wrong, or between what is good for them and what is not, but without adults there to set boundaries, provide limits, and guide them through the pitfalls of temptations and life, they may have a lot of difficulties. One group of children was doing something they knew they shouldn't, and one was overheard to say, "I can't believe that grown ups aren't stopping us." We need to stop them. Kindly. Calmly. Until they are old enough and developmentally ready to manage their own boundaries, we need to protect them from themselves.

Kids need to feel competent. By this, we don't mean a sense of puffed up pride or of haughty conceit, but simply a feeling that they can do things. Some kids can do lots of things. Others can do fewer. The point is, all kids can do something. In a sense, it is the everyday little things they need to feel competent about. The ability to keep their food safe and clean and to choose things to eat that are good for them. The ability to dress themselves appropriately.

The ability to do little things around the house so that when they are young adults they can manage an apartment or household. Wash the dishes, change the bedding, clean out the sink, take out the garbage. Kids who spend hours watching TV or playing video games may not set aside time to gain these everyday skills that all kids need. They need the encouragement of adults to learn skills. The old adage "It's for your own good," is maddening to them, but it works.

Kids need relationship skills.

How to make friends by being a friend. How to treat others with respect by being considerate, and by not putting down or hurting both other kids and adults. How to treat themselves with respect by taking care of their body, spirit, and mind. How to be where they are expected to be so others can trust them. How to be honest and dependable. How to manage conflict so there is not a wall of animosity between themselves and others.

These needs may seem like a tall order. But every kid in the world needs these things. They learn them from the examples around them. There are many examples, widely available, that are not positive ones. Adults can guide kids towards appropriate examples by pointing them out, and by setting limits in their whereabouts and their contacts in the world and through media. It is our job. We are the grown-ups.

This week, log on to unforfamily.unl.edu, click on TIPS and let us know what you think children need to be successful.

Back row, Fritz Temme, Willard Bartels, Gladys Juhlin, Harvey Brader, Esther Brader, Roland Temme, Dick Temme, Caroline Caauwe and Don Caauwe.

Temme family gathers for reunion

The family of the late Henry and Anna Temme gathered for their annual reunion at the Burbach area of Weigand on July 5-6. Forty-two family members, including all nine children, were present. Jan Brown and Christine and Beth Caauwe attended from California. Nebraska towns represented included Wakefield, Battle Creek, Blair, Norfolk, Lincoln, Raymond, Columbus and Wayne. The family will meet again at the same place July 9-11, 2006.

Ladies auxiliary gathers

The Llewellyn B. Whitmore Post #5291 Ladies Auxiliary met July 11 at the Sunnyview Community Room.

President Glennadine Barker called the meeting to order. It was a regular meeting, which opened according to ritual. Opening ceremonies were held, after which the minutes were read and approved. Treasurer Eveline Thompson gave the treasurer's report.

The group received minutes from the Department Convention which was held in Norfolk in June.

General Order No. 1 was read and filed. The group also read excerpts from "Doughboy Express." Department President Karen Linden's special project for the year is the bus fund at the Grand Island Veterans Administration Medical Center. The bus is for transportation to the Omaha Veterans' Hospital.

The auxiliary has a pattern for helmet liners to either knit or crochet. They are for the troops stationed in Iraq, Afghanistan, Kosovo and Korea. These are head coverings which can be worn under Kilvau helmets for warmth. This will be a Nebraska project and those completing the liners should bring them to any department meeting and they will be mailed to the troops.

The auxiliary will have the second annual Duck Marathon at the Department Convention in June of 2006. This is a fundraiser for the incoming National President, Dixie Held, who is from Nebraska.

A resolution was read to change the Department of Nebraska by-laws Article I to increase Department dues by 75 cents for a total of $4.50 per annum. It was adopted and approved as read.

A letter was read from Kraft Pillow Service indicating that pillow cleaning will be held Friday, Sept. 16 at the Eveline Thompson residence.

A thank you was received for the memorial gift given to Our Savior Lutheran Church Memorial Fund in memory of Helen Sommerfeld.

Membership Chairman Eveline Thompson reported that the auxiliary has six paid up members for the year 2006. The membership dues this year are $15. They need to be sent to the membership chairman by Dec. 1, 2005.

The July Council and School of Instruction will be held July 30 at Columbus, starting at 9:45 a.m.

The July bingo and birthday party will be held Wednesday, July 27 at 2 p.m. at the Norfolk Veterans Home.

The trustee report was read by Trustee Darlene Elaine Draghu. The report was accepted as read.

Closing ceremonies were conducted in accordance with ritual. The closing prayer was given by Darlene Elaine Draghu.

The next meeting will be held Monday, Aug. 8 at the Sunnyview Community Room.

The members held a salad luncheon after the meeting.

Association offers thanks

The Wayne Association of Congregations and Ministers (WACAM) has issued a "thank you" to the Wayne community for its support this past fiscal year.

Because of the members of the community, the churches and the Wayne United Way, WACAM was able to provide $959.11 worth of aid to needy transients and local residents.

Sixty-three percent of the aid provided went to help local residents with medical aid, food, gasoline, utility and rent assistance. The remaining 38 percent of the aid helped stranded travelers with lodging, gasoline and food.

The ministerial raises money from offerings at its joint Thanksgiving and Good Friday services. Churches pay dues and give toward this fund. Other funds come from a share of the CROP walk donation and in the past several years, the Wayne United Way has contributed a large percentage of the funds for this emergency fund.

Officers of the organization include Pastor Steve Sneed of Praise Assembly, president; Pastor Bill Koerber of Our Savior Lutheran Church, secretary and Pastor Cal Kroeker of Calvary Bible Evangelical Free Church, treasurer.

"The officers and members of the Wayne Association of Congregations and Ministers want to say thanks to the Wayne community for a job well done in helping those in need," said Pastor Kroeker.

Eagles Auxiliary holds meeting

The July 18 meeting of the Wayne Eagles Auxiliary was called to order by Madam President Amy Renz.

There will be a steak fry on Saturday, Aug. 6 from 6 to 9 p.m. Members who attend are asked to bring a salad or dessert. The public is welcome to attend.

O'Neill's Eagles Club will be celebrating their 30th anniversary on July 23 with supper and a dance, for anyone interested in attending.

The traditional ice cream social will not be held this year, instead orders will be taken for ice cream for two weeks, starting now until Aug. 8. Ice cream will be made on the 9th and it will be available for pick up or delivery on the 11th of August. The ice cream will be sold for $10 a bucket, $4 a quart, and $2 a pint.

If anyone is interested in buying ice cream, just call 402-375-9956 (the club) and they will take your order. If you are unable to pick it up, they will deliver it to you in Wayne.

Don't sweat summer heat: drink plenty of water

Hot summer days and the increased threat of dehydration that accompanies them can lead to heat-related illnesses for those taken unaware, a University of Nebraska-Lincoln nutrition specialist said.

Thrivent Financial for Lutherans hold meeting

The Wayne-Dixon Chapter met July 12 at Tacos & More with six board members present. President Kenny Thomsen, conducted the business meeting. The 10 chapter Care in the Communities projects were finalized. These projects raised $65,000.

The Chapter is in need of someone to maintain their web site. Please consider to assist, as it can be very rewarding.

Planning is being done for the all member annual fall meeting. This is scheduled for Sunday, Oct. 16 for an evening supper meeting at Grace Lutheran Church-Wayne.

Thrivent Financial for Lutherans will have a booth at the State Fair. Volunteers are welcome for tending the booth.

The next Chapter noon meeting will be held Aug. 9 at Tacos & More.

with humidity facilitate dehydration, but a little common sense and a bottle of water go a long way in preventing problems, said Linda Boeckner, nutrition specialist at UNL's Panhandle Research and Extension Center at Scottsbluff.

"The biggest tip for people is not to depend on their thirst," she said. "By the time people feel thirsty, they're already in a state of partial dehydration. They need to drink fluids ahead of their thirst."

Children and the elderly are particularly susceptible to dehydration and heat. Children often are more interested in playing than keeping hydrated, so parents should regularly remind their children to drink water. Older adults have not always established the habit of drinking extra fluids. Changes in body composition that occur with aging and the impact of medications and other health conditions make them more sensitive to dehydration, the Institute of Agriculture and Natural Resources specialist said.

Boeckner recommends scheduling strenuous outdoor activities for cooler times of day, such as in the morning and late afternoon or evening, and wearing sunscreen.

When outdoor play or work during the heat of the day is unavoidable, follow appropriate precautions. Drink fluids before going outside so the body has sufficient hydration from the beginning and keep drinking water while the activity continues. Provide fruits and vegetables as snacks because they also are a source of water, Boeckner said.

Parents and coaches at summer sports programs should be sure to provide plenty of beverages for both children and adults to keep them adequately hydrated. Having a ready supply of fluids makes it easy to replace water that was lost as sweat, and is particularly important when activities last longer than two hours, Boeckner said.

However, all drinks are not created equal.

"Be wary of the kind of fluids you drink to replenish," Boeckner said. "Some beverages, such as those that contain caffeine, too much sugar or alcohol, are either dehydrating or do not replace fluids adequately."

Guaranteed loan funds are available for renewable energy and energy efficiency projects

USDA Rural Development announced that up to an estimated $200 million in guaranteed loan funds are now available for investments in renewable energy systems and energy efficiency improvements by agriculture producers and rural small businesses. The $200 million ($11.4 million in actual cost to the government) is part of the $22.8 million announcement made in March of 2005 by Agriculture Secretary Mike Johanns.

In the March announcement, Johanns indicated that the $22.8 million would be made available in two stages: In March of 2005, USDA would begin receiving grant applications while the remaining $11.4 million, which will convert into an estimated $200 million in guaranteed loan funds, would be delayed pending the publishing of the application guidelines for the guarantee loan program. The period for receiving grant applications closed on June 27, 2005.

Section 9006 of the 2002 Farm Bill established the Renewable Energy Systems and Energy Efficiency Improvements loan and grant program to encourage agricultural producers and small rural businesses to create renewable and energy efficient systems. The $200

What are these large wasps?

One of the more interesting insects seen starting in mid to late July continuing into August is an insect called "cicada killer".

It is seen next to sidewalks, landscape walls, brick piles, open areas in the garden or other areas that are devoid of vegetation. The name or other areas that have an easy access to the hole, and create a pile of soil where the hole has been dug.

The cicada killer will find a locust, paralyze it and carry the victim back to the hole, lay an egg on the paralyzed locust, and fill the hole with soil. The egg will hatch and feed on the food supply and be ready for next year.

The cicada killer is not considered to be harmful to humans even though they appear rather aggressive and dangerous. If the insect is left alone, not stepped on with bare feet or pinched with your fingers, it will not normally bother anyone. If there are several of these insects around and there are small children present, one can use carbaryl (Sevin 5 percent dust) sprinkled over the burrows in late evening and scratched in with a rake. The cicada is forced to dig through the treated soil and get a dose of the insecticide.

Cicada killers are a good specimen to collect for entomology collections as they add another type of interesting insect to the collection.

The cicada killer is rather large, about 1 1/2 inches long and has a large abdomen with stripes and looks rather threatening as it flies around the landscape. It will dig holes along sidewalks, driveways

Shopping becomes 4-H project

I'm Elizabeth Baier and I'm 16 years old. For eight years, I have been a member of Coon Creek Clovers 4-H Club.

I love to shop for clothes, so it makes sense that my favorite project is Shopping in Style. This project consists of purchasing an entire outfit for a specific occasion or activity.

However, when I shop, I must consider many factors of the purchase.

The factors I consider include a cost comparison of the purchased outfit I tried but did not purchase, the fabric content, the expected care, accessories and other tops and bottoms of my existing wardrobe which can be worn with the outfit.

After the shopping, I write a report which includes my explanations for the purchases. Pictures are also part of the project. These include front, side and back views of me wearing the newly purchased outfit and of the possible combinations of other tops and bottoms from my wardrobe.

Finally, the report and photos are compiled into a notebook and exhibited at the fair.

This project is for any teenager who has a flare for fashion. For more information, contact the UNL Extension Office in Wayne County.

Crop disaster program sign up continues through Sept. 9

Wayne County producers who suffered crop losses from damaging weather in 2003 or 2004 have until Sept. 9 to sign up for benefits under the Farm Service Agency's Crop Disaster Program.

Ak-Sar-Ben announces Pioneer Award winners

The Knights of Ak-Sar-Ben and the Nebraska Fair Mangers Association have announced 171 honorees for the 2005 Pioneer Farm Family Awards.

To qualify for this distinction, members of the same family must have owned a parcel of land consecutively for at least 100 years.

Since its inception 49 years ago, more than 6,500 families have been granted this award from across the region. Each honoree receives an engraved plaque and gatepost marker as permanent recognition of this milestone. The awards are presented during the annual county fair in which the land is located. Those recognized include:

Dixon County - Ernest and Lyla Swanson of Wayne.

Wayne County - Milton Owens of Carroll and Ted and Deanna Gunnarson of Wayne

FSA County Executive Director Debra J. Pieper said, "We are pleased to be able to provide these benefits to producers as quickly as possible. Drought and floods are unpredictable weather events that put farmers and ranchers at risk in producing a dependable and affordable national food supply."

Signup for the program opened on March 14 of this year. To meet the deadline requirements, Pieper said producers must submit a completed form CCC-750, Crop Disaster Program Application, and all supporting documentation on the appropriate closing day.

Producers suffering a greater than 35-percent production loss or more than a 20-percent quality loss are eligible.

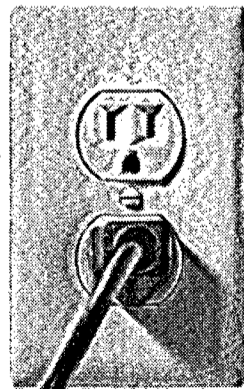

The payment rate for CDP has been increased to 65 percent of the established commodity price for insured crops and noninsured crops, and 60 percent of the price for uninsured commodities. Previous disaster assistance provided payments of 50 percent of the established commodity price for insured and non-insurable crops and 45 percent for uninsured crops.

Producers may apply for CDP for any crops that are eligible for coverage under the Federal Crop Insurance or the Noninsured Crop Disaster Assistance programs.

For more information on these issues, visit FSA's Web site at <http://disaster.fsa.usda.gov>.

Trying to understand mysteries of computers and the Internet

It's Sunday morning, and we are leaving for the Black Hills today, so I'd better get this thing typed and sent. The Sunday paper arrived before 6 am; I'm really glad I don't deliver morning newspapers. The heat just doesn't dissipate, and I must be getting old, because I sure don't tolerate it very well.

I was surprised to see that the column made it in last week's paper. I typed it and pushed send before I left for work. When I got home at 5, I found that my e-mails had not gone, and the computer had a message that said I was not connected to internet.

You know, it was never my idea to have one of these things. Jon just simply sent us one in the middle of a cold, snowy day that left the UPS guy wondering how to get it in the driveway of the Farm House.

Then, it was a long, slow, tortuous process to teach me how to use it. I picked up a few things from Monte and Kay, and had a couple of one on one sessions with the son of the local ISP. (This was after we first had dial-up. A small company came to Cass County and put antennas on all the elevators. If we could see an elevator, we were supposed to be able to get service.) This company had financial problems, and sometimes, we didn't have service because they had not paid their bills. This was not a major inconvenience for us, but Oxbow Pet Products, Murdock's employer of many people and shipper of pet food all over the world, got really upset when this happened!

The Farmer's Wife
By: Pat Meierhenry

Finally, a Lincoln company bought it and things improved, sort of. . . . There was no tech support after 5 p.m., a fact that drove Kay nuts. We got a web site, and I finally learned to send Word documents as attachments.

Last week, when I had no internet service, I called Alltel. I was on hold for 15 minutes. Finally, a technician came on and ran me through some random checks. He finally concluded that I had an overactive virus protection that had thrown up a firewall and wasn't allowing me to get on the net. (Actually, I felt pretty smart even understanding what he was talking about.) I told him I would have to wait until my "guru", Monte, could come over to disarm it. Monte had already spent hours installing the thing in the town-house.

I called Monte to ask when he might be able to come over again, and he suggested just turning the thing off and "rebooting". I did that, and voila! I was back on. He claims that eight out of 10 times, that will solve the problem. Why the technician didn't think of that, I don't know.

And how the Wayne Herald got the column in last week, I also don't know. There are many mysteries in the computer world. I'm not even sure I want to know more about them. Anyway, have a good week. I hope it's cooler in the Hills, but I have a hunch it's hot there, too!

Keep cattle cool during hot, humid days

Summer's hot, humid days can take a toll on cattle, which means producers need to take steps to ward off heat stress, a University of Nebraska-Lincoln beef specialist said.

Cattle do not handle heat stress as well as humans, said Terry Mader, beef specialist at UNL's Haskell Agricultural Laboratory near Concord.

"Sunny days with temperatures in the mid-80s or above can be stressful, particularly if there is no wind and humidity is above 50 percent or high due to a recent rainfall," Mader said.

Dry surfaces in feedyards can radiate heat up to 140 degrees on sunny days, he said.

"There are very few places that cattle can dissipate heat on a hot, sunny day," the Institute of Agriculture and Natural Resources specialist said. "A cooler, damp surface can help take some heat away from the animal's body."

Producers can wet pen surfaces to provide a cool place for cattle to go, he said.

In an emergency, cattle can be sprayed with water to cool them down.

"Once you start doing that, though, you have to keep doing it," Mader said. "By spraying them and using evaporative cooling, you limit the animals' ability to adapt to the heat. That's why this is an emergency step."

Producers also should have an emergency plan in case water supplies are low or cut off, he said. Contact a local farm co-op or fire department to arrange for emergency water that is safe for cattle to drink.

Avoiding handling cattle when it's hot and never after 10 a.m. also can help, he said. Cattle's body temperatures can rise 0.5 to 3.5 degrees during handling. Cattle that arrive at a packing plant with elevated temperatures can result in carcass defects.

Ample water supplies also are vital on days when temperatures reach over 80 degrees, Mader said.

"Drinking plenty of water is the fastest, most efficient way for cattle to reduce body temperature since they dissipate heat through sweating and urination," he said. "If possible, provide extra watering tanks."

Also, Mader suggests feeding cattle most of the day's feed several hours after the day's peak temperature in the late afternoon or evening.

Avoid filling up cattle with feed late in the morning when the added heat generated by digestion will peak around the hottest time of the day, he said.

"We see the greatest heat stress problems when cattle consume large amounts of feed in the morning, then body temperatures shoot up in the afternoon and climatic temperatures rise rapidly," Mader said.

Lowering the energy content in feed also may reduce the amount of heat cattle generate to digest feed, he said.

Minimizing other stressors also can help.

"Improve airflow in pens," Mader said. "Be especially attentive to airflow needs of heavy, finished cattle and newly arrived, high-risk cattle."

Mader recommends cutting down vegetation around pens and moving cattle away from windbreaks, which can limit circulation and lead to overheating. Building earth mounds in pens also can increase airflow by preventing cattle from bunching together.

Signs that cattle are overheating including drooling, increased breathing rate, elevating their heads to make it easier to breathe and decreasing exposure to the sun by seeking shade from other cattle or even a small amount provided by a fence post.

For more information about managing heat stress in feedlots, consult UNL Extension NebGuide G00-1409-A, Managing Feedlot Heat Stress, available at local county extension offices or on the Web at <http://ianrpubs.unl.edu/beef/g1409.htm>.
