Commissioners approve construction of Veterans Wall on courthouse grounds

By Lynn Sievers
Of the Herald

Wayne County Commissioners met Tuesday at the courthouse in Wayne. On the agenda, was discussion by Galen Wiser of Wayne discussing the intention of his committee to put up a veterans wall. Dennis Spangler, a member of the committee, was also present. They are interested in constructing the wall on the east side of the courthouse and were asking permission to have it there.

The committee, which includes Paul Otte, Leo Ahmann, and John Melena, has met with the local veterans organizations to get their support and input. The majority feel the wall would be most visible to people driving by on the east side of the courthouse. The men noted it could take a year before the wall is up, especially if fundraising has to be done.

The commissioners approved a motion to allow a veterans wall to be constructed on the courthouse grounds.

Commissioners also authorized the making of offers (based on re-appraisal) to purchase six tracts of right of way on Federal Aid Bridge Project BRO-7090 (16), Wayne Southwest.

Action was taken on approving purchase of a used excavator. Sealed bids had been taken and accepted was the bid from Nebraska Machinery in Norfolk for $107,000. The excavator is needed to put in culverts and tubes when doing road work.

Action was also taken on sealed bids received for the sale of a 1974 John Deere loader/backhoe, Serial #203932T, Unit #122. Dee-Lutt's bid of $4,500 was approved.

The board approved a supplemental agreement with Nebraska Department of Roads and the City of Wayne for Project No. STPD - 15-41 (116), Wayne N., for the improvement of Hwy. N-15. Signing of the agreement authorizes the State to use the roads: N. Centennial and E. 21st as a detour while working on the highway north of Wayne.

The board did not sign a resolution of support for the 35 Highway Expressway for presentation to the legislature as they wanted to find out more about the project route first.

Also on the agenda was Phil Lorenzen of Kirkpatrick Pettis of Omaha who gave the board options on funding the renovation of the Juvenile Detention Center building into a court services area. He noted he studied the present debt of Wayne County on the last bond issue of $400,000 in 2002 which requires a $50,000 a year payment.

The board decided he could add three payments on to the bond payments and that loan would give the board an extra $200,000 to go towards JDC renovation. By doing so, the rate would stay around four percent.

A budget hearing was held at 2 p.m. with discussion of the 2005/06 fiscal budget and the need to increase base restricted funds by an additional one percent.

Highlights of this year's budget include a continuing decline in interest income due to the decrease in interest rates and a reduction in invested funds, the beginning cash balance is $222,819.14 less than last year, there are several major road/bridge projects under construction or are scheduled (including Federal aid projects and soft match projects), $52,000 in tax dollars will be applied to the courthouse tuck pointing and roof bond payment, to balance the budget, a $300,000 transfer will be made from snow removal and equipment fund to county road fund.

The total tax dollar request reflects an increase of $148,525.02 over 2004-05. The Wayne County 2005-06 tax levy will be .399301.

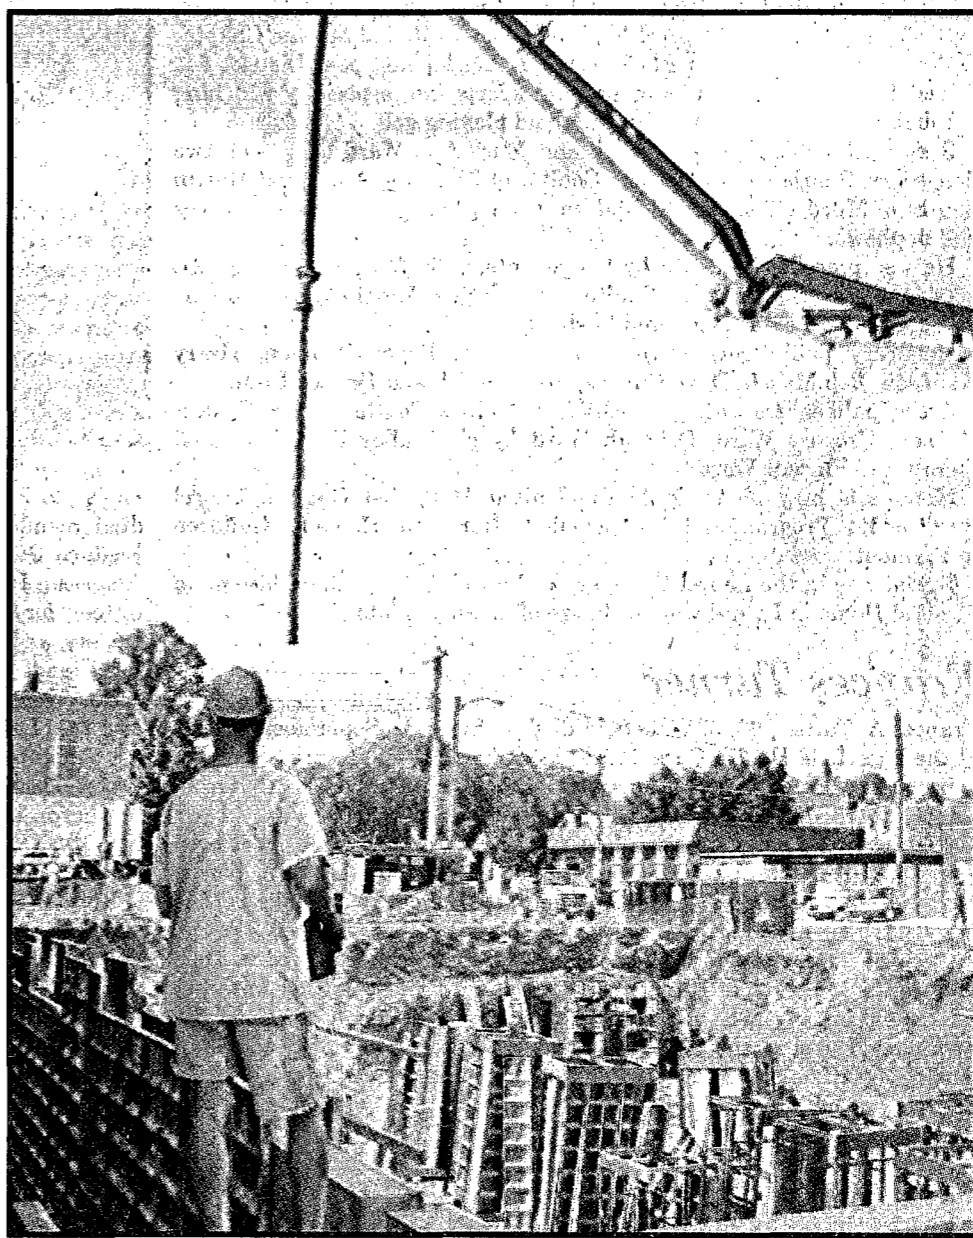

A tax request hearing was held at 2:30 p.m. The board approved the 2005-06 property tax request resolution. Tax requests for 2005-06 approved were: General Fund: $2,437,941.23, Institutions: $5,072.72, County Improvement: $52,000.00, Total: $2,495,013.95.

The board approved the one percent increase as well as the budget adoption resolution.

The 2005-06 property tax request is set at $2,495,013.95. A Wayne County tax rate comparison is as follows: 2005-06 tax rate is .399301; 2004-05 tax rate was .415810; 2003-04 tax rate was .416535; 2002-03 tax rate was .396256; 2001-02 tax rate was .386256.

The meeting recessed and will reconvene at 6 p.m. on Tuesday, Sept. 13 to listen to results of jail needs assessment and feasibility study that was prepared for the City of Wayne and Wayne County.

The next regularly scheduled Wayne County Commissioners meeting will be Tuesday, Sept. 20 at 9 a.m. at the courthouse in Wayne.

Bank in progress

Construction crews continue to pour cement walls on the new State National Bank & Trust building on the corner of Second and Main Street. Area residents have been able to watch as the project continues to move forward. It is anticipated that the building will be completed in October of 2006.

Economic Development Director hired

The Wayne Area Economic Development Corporation, Inc. (WAEDC) has announced the hiring of David Simonsen of Bloomfield, Iowa as the Executive Director of the corporation.

Simonsen comes to Wayne having previously served as the Executive Director of the Davis County (Iowa) Development Corporation. He has experience as an economic developer and has been involved with grant writing.

It is anticipated that Simonsen will begin his duties on Oct. 3. He and his wife, Maggie, will be moving to Wayne in the near future.

"David comes to us with great references. He was chosen from the 28 applicants for the job. We conducted an interview process for three candidates and had several quality applicants," said Dennis Linster, Chairman of the Board of Directors for the WAEDC.

Linster noted that Simonsen will start his duties by working directly with the Board to get the organizational structure complete.

"The board has been working to get everything in order, but there is still lots of work to be done," Linster said.

Police respond to two related accidents

In what turns out to be a very unique set of circumstances, the Wayne Police Department responded to two related traffic accidents simultaneously on Tuesday afternoon.

A westbound Chevy Blazer, driven by 18 year old Sean Draper, pulled into the Sixth and Pearl intersection and struck a Buick LeSabre driven by 91 year old Leona Kluge. The impact caused Kluge's car to spin onto a lawn on the southeast corner of the intersection.

Kluge's car then traveled east on Sixth Street, coming to rest next to the Ideal Interiors building. Extensive damage was done to the curb around the building and to Mrs. Kluge's car. Mrs. Kluge was taken to the Providence Medical Clinic by ambulance.

Because of the unusual circumstances Wayne Police Chief Lance Webster contacted the State Department of Roads to determine if this should be treated as one accident or as two. It was determined that two accident reports would be needed.

Local Red Cross chapter ready to respond

On Sept. 5, approximately 75 people attended a meeting at First United Methodist Church in Wayne to hear about updates in regards to Hurricane Katrina and the possibility that buses of evacuees could be sent to our local community.

Loren Park, Disaster Services Director for the Northeast Nebraska Chapter of The American Red Cross, explained to those in attendance the basics of opening a shelter and Red Cross requirements to care for and feed for people in need.

The local chapter started receiving information on Saturday about the possibility that some of the people from the affected southern states may be brought to the Midwestern states for temporary sheltering. Some of these people may have family who could come and get them; some may attempt to find temporary employment and get back on their feet with the intention of returning to their home state down the road; and others may decide to relocate permanently.

Park stressed that first of all, information is very sketchy and it changes day-to-day and even hour-to-hour so they may get as short as a two hour notice that people are headed here so plans need to be put into place now. And, there is a possibility that people may not end up in Wayne at all. The one important thing he shared was that Wayne is a leader with trained shelter operation personnel, staffing, access to supplies and may be called upon to even help a surrounding area.

Discussed at the meeting were the requirements of a shelter (a place to prepare and serve food, enough bathroom facilities, and enough space for sleeping. The Wayne chapter has approximately 120 cots and blankets, but it was noted that they would need sheets and pillows, and even possibly towels and wash cloths. Red Cross requirements for a shelter operation is that clients are served a minimum of one hot meal and two cold meals, as well as other food that is available at all times. Food is considered a comfort and healer and therefore, at all shelters, it is common that snack foods, fruit, coffee and other such things are available at all items for the residents staying at that location. It was also discussed that food must be prepared on site or by a commercial caterer; no homemade food is allowed to be donated and served at a shelter.

Park also discussed medical and mental health needs and others in attendance discussed the possibility of getting children into local school systems should that be a need. The Wayne community has adequate means to meet these needs and Supt. Joe Reinert met with Park after the meeting to work out details regarding children being allowed to attend school in Wayne, even if it was for a temporary, short-term basis.

Transportation would also be a big need in many ways. People may have to be transported to medical facilities, to school, and depending on where the shelter was set up, they may have to be transported to other facilities each day for showering.

There would also be a need for people who could do heavy lifting of equipment and other items brought into the shelter. There would be laundry needs and people would be responsible for clean-up duties. Clean up would not only include sweeping floors, taking out trash, etc., but would also include setting up cots each night for sleeping and taking those down perhaps in the morning depending on the shelter site. Park explained that it was also important to try to involve the clients staying in the shelter in some of these duties to give them a sense of duty and to help them feel useful and productive again.

There would be a communications center set up at a separate site from the shelter. People would be needed to work phone lines. People would be needed to register EVERY person at the shelter and people

Loren Park, Disaster Services Director for the Northeast Nebraska Chapter of The American Red Cross, addressed approximately 75 people at the Methodist Church in Wayne on updates on Hurricane Katrina and the possibility of evacuees coming to Wayne. Two items discussed were Red Cross requirements and the basics of opening a shelter.

Organizational meeting being planned to show support for troops

An organizational meeting will be held Tuesday, Sept. 20 at 7 p.m. in the North Meeting Room of the Wayne City Auditorium for ideas and suggestions for a WSO (Wayne Service Organization) Show.

The purpose of the show is to show support for the Nebraska Army National Guard 189th Transportation Company as well as the other men and women who are currently serving or who have served in Iraq, Afghanistan and abroad.

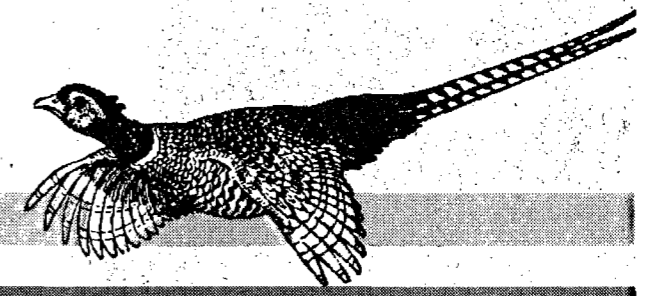

The talent show will be held some time early next year and will be videotaped and sent to the 189th. The event will also include a "Honey Do" table where volunteers can sign up to assist with projects that family members of the troops need completed.

Proceeds from the event will be used to pay for postage for sending care packages and other materials to the troops.

Civic, educational, veterans, religious groups and all individuals who are interested in helping plan this fun event are asked to contact Della Pries at (402) 375-5266 or Leo Ahmann at (402) 375-2240 with any questions.

The 2005 Retailer of the Year will be announced at an awards banquet on Friday, Sept. 16 at Hillcrest Country Club in Lincoln.

The Nebraska Retail Federation is non-profit organization that represents the state's retail industry.

Saving Nebraska's Soil and Ag Tourism on NET Television's 'Statewide'

Nebraska is losing both soil and the agricultural producers who farm it. Erosion from wind and water is sweeping away rich topsoil and farmers are trying alternative techniques to save it. And, other farmers are turning to alternative ways to grow their income.

"Statewide," NET Television's award-winning weekly news magazine, airs Friday, Sept. 23, and Saturday, Sept. 24, at 7:30 p.m. CT, as well as Sunday, Sept. 25, at noon CT on NET.

Erosion claims between 1.5 and 2 billion tons of farmland in the United States each year. In Nebraska, several million acres of farmland are classified as highly erodible. Reporter Mike Tobias travels to Elgin, to talk with Jerry Heitoff, a farmer and local Natural Resources District board member who is concerned about the amount of soil being lost to erosion.

Tobias' story also includes Battle Creek farmer Dan Gillespie, who travels the state for the University of Nebraska-Lincoln (UNL) Cooperative Extension Service promoting no-till farming, a method that helps conserve soil. Steve

Two accidents are investigated by Wayne County Sheriff's office

A couple of vehicle crashes have been investigated by the Wayne County Sheriff's Office.

On Aug. 31 at about 2:15 p.m. a southbound truck driven by Roger Gall of Clarkson could not stop in time to avoid striking a turning vehicle that pulled out in front of him at the Highway 35 and 16 Junction two miles south of Wakefield. The driver of that vehicle was Yvette Gomez of Columbus.

Gomez and a passenger, Jorge Flores were taken by Wakefield Rescue to the Mercy Medical Center in Sioux City, Iowa. The driver of the truck was not injured. The airbags were deployed in the Gomez vehicle and seat belts were used. The second accident was recorded at about 12:45 p.m. on Sept. 1 at the intersection of Wayne County Road 857 and 574th Avenue.

A northbound car driven by Connie Holdorf of Wayne and a westbound car driven by Jerome Irmeier of Elgin collided in that intersection. Both drivers and an 18 month old passenger in the Holdorf vehicle by the name of Hanna Waterman of rural Wayne were taken to Providence Medical Center by the Providence Medical Center ambulance.

Both drivers were using seat belts and the child was in a car safety seat.

Chick of the Natural Resources Conservation Service also offers insight into the problem.

In another agriculture-related story, Perry Stoner reports that there are 20,000 fewer farms in Nebraska today compared to the 1970s. On average, the remaining farms are larger, but not all farmers and ranchers are able to increase the size of their operation to increase income. An alternative option is diversification. In northeast Nebraska, a network of farms and businesses hopes the practice helps them maintain their rural life style and showcase agriculture.

Stoner visits with producers in Cedar and Knox counties who are part of Heartland Experience. They grow alternative crops such as sunflowers and organic foods and offer covered wagon tours through bison and elk herds.

"You can also see rolling natural prairie and grazing Scottish Highland cattle while the St. James Marketplace offers a unique farmer's market and handcrafted gifts from an historic schoolhouse," Stoner said.

Also in this "Statewide" episode, welders spend weeks working with sculptors to transform their creative designs into finished works of art. The Bemis Center for Contemporary Arts collaborated with Valmont Industries to commission five large steel sculptures for exhibit at the Qwest Center in Omaha.

Two local men had their court cases continued in recent court appearances and a third is set for sentencing next week.

A hearing was scheduled for Troy Jorgensen of Coleridge in District Court at the Cedar County Courthouse on March 30, 2005. Sentencing is scheduled for Brian Young, Monday, Sept. 12 at 9 a.m. in District Court at the Cedar County Courthouse in Hartington. Charges were filed against Young in the death of Sage Gray of Laurel on April 10, 2005, after an altercation the two men had on April 9, 2005.

A pre-trial conference was scheduled for Seth Rhodes of Stanton on Sept. 6. There was a motion for continuance to Oct. 3 at 2:30 p.m. in District Court at the Stanton County Courthouse in Stanton. Charges were filed against Rhodes in the death of Mariah Scott of Stanton on March 30, 2005.

Sentencing is scheduled for Brian Young, Monday, Sept. 12 at 9 a.m. in District Court at the Cedar County Courthouse in Hartington. Charges were filed against Young in the death of Sage Gray of Laurel on April 10, 2005, after an altercation the two men had on April 9, 2005.

Letters

Please support the Red Cross

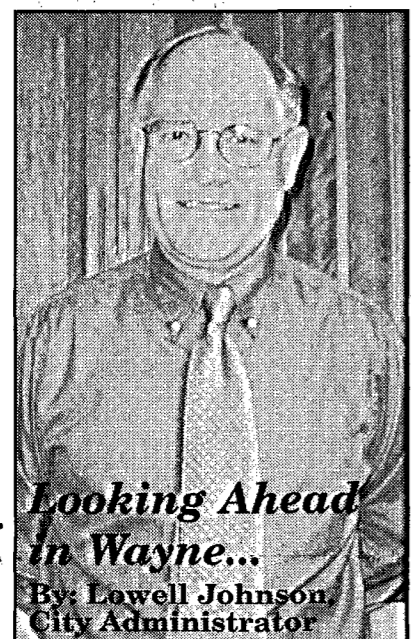

Dear Editor,
As a former resident of Wayne, I am requesting any one who has money to spare to please support the Red Cross.
Over three fourths of our state was hit by Hurricane Katrina, with the Gulf Coast suffering the worst damage. The city of Brandon finally had the rest of the electrical power restored yesterday so we will be able to go to school this Thursday (8th).
We still have many people in our local Red Cross shelter and they will probably be here for up to three months or maybe even more. These people lost everything. The local churches are supplying help, but the Red Cross is still in charge and needs your support.

Many communities to the south of us still have no power, phones and some have no running water. They too will need help for months to come.

Attorney General Jon Bruning shows no signs of running from the kitchen because of political heat stemming from his prosecution of a man who got a 13-year-old girl pregnant, then married her.
Bruning is keenly aware of criticism stemming from his prosecution of Matt Koso of Falls City. Koso was 21 when he impregnated the girl. The two went to Kansas and married. She has since turned 14 and given birth to a girl.
No one holding elective office can enjoy the kind of flak that has been tossed at Bruning. Detractors have said he is grandstanding and/or that the couple should be left in peace in light of the marriage.
Bruning has steadfastly pointed to state law, saying that Koso committed what is generally called statutory rape when he had sex with the girl in Nebraska, prior to their marriage. Girls under age 16 cannot consent to sex in Nebraska. It is illegal for someone 19 or older to have sex with anyone under age 16.

Bruning has been supported, but with less public enunciation, by those who agree that sex crimes against children should be prosecuted regardless of circumstance or explanation or later marriage.
The attorney general has also said that if other such cases are brought to his attention they would be reviewed for possible legal action.
The Richardson County attorney declined to prosecute Koso in light of the Kansas marriage. Bruning stepped in and filed a rape charge against Koso. He has pleaded innocent. A trial could begin in October.

Gasoline prices were soaring nationwide last week.

State Sen. Matt Connealy of Decatur said the situation created a perfect opportunity for the Legislature to mandate that gasoline sold in Nebraska contain ethanol.
Motorists would be receptive to the mandate since ethanol is cheaper than ordinary gasoline, Connealy said.
Critics have argued that the market should dictate ethanol's place in the energy food chain, and that ethanol is not good for all engines.
A legislative committee is conducting public hearings on the issue and will issue a report to the 2006 Legislature.

It seems virtually certain that the proposed repeal of a school consolidation law approved by the 2005 Legislature will be decided by general election voters in 2006.

The referendum seeks to repeal the law that requires the state's smallest school districts to merge with those offering kindergarten through high school.
Of equal, if not greater interest, is the fate of an initiative petition aimed at amending the Nebraska Constitution. It would prohibit such forced mergers, allowing voters to decide whether one school district could be taken over by another.
Try to imagine the school consolidation issue with such an amendment in place.
Supporters of both ballot issues argue that local school districts should control local education.

Nebraska is catching up with some other parts of the country when it comes to what one might think of as political shenanigans.
A couple of Democrats purchased some names for websites in order to prevent Republican candidates from using them.
Such political jostling is of no practical value. The other fellows just get a different domain name, and that's that.
The only value to be had in this schoolyard game of gotcha! is the fun that one side has in [maybe] putting the other side to some inconvenience. Mostly, it's nothing more than insiders tying knots in each others' shoelaces.

The Fate of Cities
Quoted from the Sept. 1 issue of the Wall Street Journal —
"The key to understanding the fate of cities lies in knowing that the greatest long term damage comes not from nature or foreign attacks, but often from self-infliction. Cities are more than physical or natural constructs, they are essentially the products of human will, faith and determination."

Sharing information

Wayne City Administrator Lowell Johnson, left, met with a number of property owners in the area of West Third and Blaine Streets on Monday to discuss a Redevelopment Area and Blight Determination Study that has been completed. Property owners had the opportunity to ask questions such as what will be done in the future and the effect of property values. Those in attendance were encouraged to attend the Planning Commission meeting Monday, Sept. 12 or the City Council meeting Tuesday, Sept. 13.

Nebraska's Senator Ben Nelson provided the following list of telephone numbers and websites for agencies administering relief efforts to victims of Hurricane Katrina. The list was provided to congressional offices by the Federal Emergency Management Agency (FEMA).
FEMA asks that those seeking to offer assistance or seek information please bear with the emergency personnel and rescue teams and realize that it may be difficult to get through because of downed communication lines, and the overwhelming life-saving measures that are taking place.

"Many Nebraskans have been contacting my office asking for information on how to help and how to contact friends and loved ones," said Senator Nelson. "FEMA's list is a good place to start if you want to offer help or need information. I know that just as in the aftermath of the Sept. 11th terrorist attacks, Nebraskans stand ready to help the victims of this devastating natural disaster in any way they can."

The list provided by FEMA is broken down by state.

would be needed to do logistics and run many errands. Childcare workers are also needed as children can be affected and sometimes just need some down time and their parents need a break as well.

Shelters are open 24 hours a day, which means people are needed to operate shelters 24/7. People are needed who are willing to work in supervisor/coordinator roles for various areas such as Feeding manager, Shelter manager, Volunteer coordinator, etc. are needed. Security is also a very important issue and is also required 24/7. The usual routine for a Red Cross shelter is to have "lights out" around 10 p.m. but people are needed to be "on duty" throughout the night in case there is a disturbance so that it can be handled without disturbing the other clients in the shelter. People can work in a variety of shifts that would fit into their schedule should they have regular, full-time jobs.

People in attendance were asked to leave their name and contact information, along with area(s) they would prefer to work within the shelter and the times they would be available. There was also some discussion of possible people who may have employment opportunities within our community, as well as housing availability.

Park noted that we do have to remember that if we are asked to set up a shelter here in Wayne for people being evacuated from the Gulf area, it would most likely be for no more than a 14-day period. It is a transition period for these people to either connect with family members, perhaps decide to stay here-find employment and housing, or work with the Red Cross and some of their coordinating agencies in helping them make the next step in their transition process. This will NOT be a long-term shelter situation.

Park added, "There may be some employers who will want to think of needs they might have and although the Red Cross does not act as an employment agency, Park said that as volunteers working in the shelter they may want to take the time to sit and visit with the people to see what their interest is, their past experience, and or future plans to see if there may be a fit somewhere in the community."

Park continued that one example was that it is soon going to be harvest time here and maybe some of these people may have experience in that and could find some temporary employment that could get them some spending money or a start in rebuilding their lives-whether that would be in Wayne or going back to the south.

Park added that he was really overwhelmed with the number of people, as well as the diversity of those who attended the meeting. He continued, "This is the true meaning of 'community spirit' and people's willingness to reach out and help others in need. I think this is a great strength of Wayne that is sometimes overlooked or perhaps taken for granted, but none-the-less a true Christian attitude of compassion."

Red Cross in need of volunteers to help with hurricane relief

The American Red Cross is in SEVERE NEED of relief workers who would be able to spend at least three weeks in one of the five states they are assisting in at the present time.

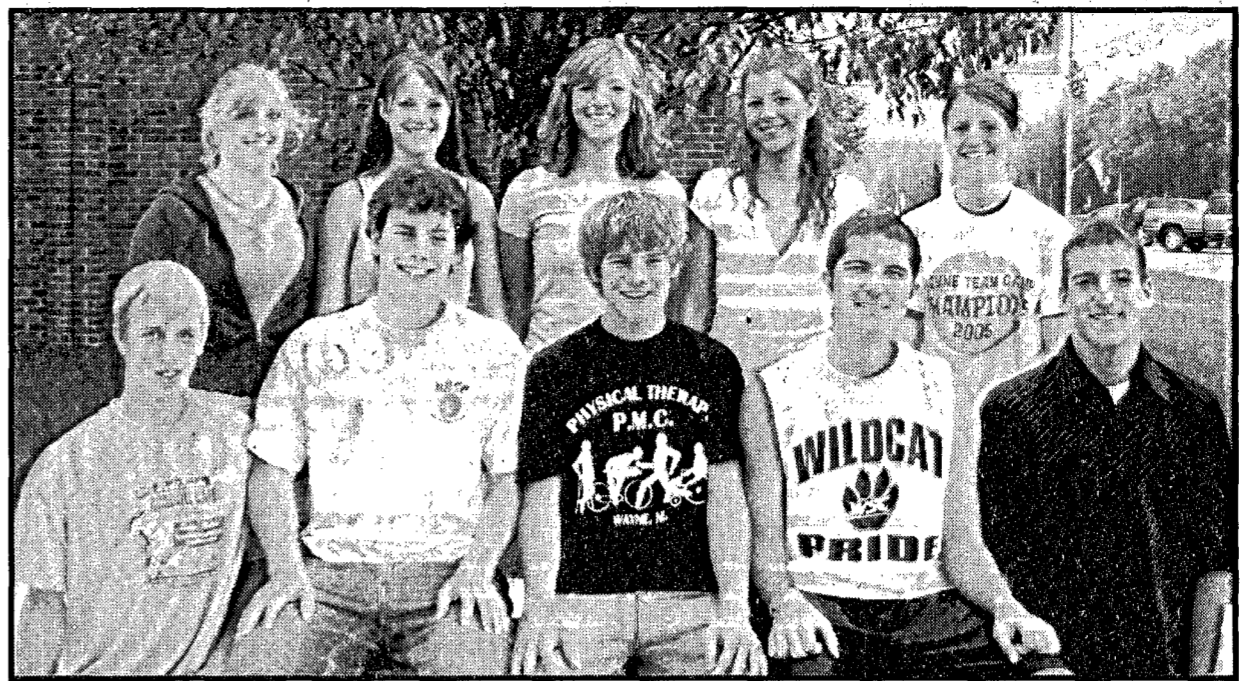

Volunteers must be able to sign a waiver of good health. Workers must be able to stand, work, and even sleep on hard wood floors (sleeping bag), work 12-16 hours days in hot, humid temperatures with no air conditioning, under stressful conditions.

Volunteers would be assisting with shelter work, feeding, and general needs. Previous training is not required, only that you have the basics in CPR and First Aid training as you may be called upon for Red Cross assistance. Processing can be done within 48-72 hours.

This will be an on-going effort so volunteers will be needed for at least three to four months. Expenses are covered by the American Red Cross and you would fly out of Omaha to Mobile, Ala., then to headquarters where you will be placed.

If you can spare the time or know someone who can, please call the local Red Cross chapter at 402-375-5209 immediately.

Homecoming activities have been scheduled at Wayne High School

Homecoming candidates and activities for this year at Wayne High School have been announced. Queen candidates include Amanda Brenner, daughter of Randy and Jill Brenner; Jessica Dickey, daughter of Bill and Deb Dickey; Robyn Heithold, daughter of Kevin and Nancy Heithold; Emlyn Mann, daughter of Les and Debbie Mann and Renee Theobald, daughter of Paul Theobald and Jan Theobald.

King candidates include Scott Baier, son of David and Joan Baier; Derek Carroll, son of Dean and Shelly Carroll; Cale Giese, son of Breck and Kris Giese; David Loberg, son of Dan and Kris Loberg and John Whitt, son of Ron and Deb Whitt.

Coronation will take place Monday, Sept. 12 at 8 p.m. in the High School Lecture Hall.

Other activities planned for Homecoming Week include Hall Decorating on Sunday, Sept. 11 from 6 to 7:30 p.m.

Breakfast will be served from 7:30 to 8:05 a.m. on Wednesday, Sept. 14, compliments of the Student Council.

On Friday, Sept. 16 classes at the High School will be dismissed at 2:15 p.m. Students will then gather in the bleacher area in front of the track. A pep rally will be held with performances by the dance squad, activities, introduction of new students and other speakers.

From 5:30 to 6:30 p.m., a tail gate party will be held at the football field at Wayne State College. Hot dogs, chips and a drink will be available for $2. An extra hot dog will be offered for $1.

At half time of the Wayne High-Madison football game, introduction of the 2005 Homecoming King and Queen and royalty will take place.

A dance will be held in the Food Court area of the Wayne State College Student Center. Admission to the dance, which runs from 9 p.m. to 12:30 a.m. is $3 per person or $5 per couple and will include free pop and game room.

In addition to the above activities, Spirit Week will be held during Homecoming Week with different dress-up themes each day of the week.

Local communities to benefit from assessment, planning meeting

Joan Francis, a respected and accomplished community organizer, will lead a Community Based Service Assessment and Planning workshop for Northeast Nebraska on Monday, Sept. 19, 9 a.m. to 3 p.m. at the Wayne City Auditorium.

Francis, sponsored by Northeast Nebraska Public Health Dept., Nebraska Health and Human Services, Nebraska Children and Families Foundation, and Nebraska Crime Commission on Law Enforcement and Criminal Justice, has successfully led the Panhandle Partnership in western Nebraska to become an award winning model program that brings together all partners and stakeholders involved with children and youth.

There are several reasons for undertaking this important assessment and planning at this time. First of all, communities need to develop a new 3-5 year Juvenile Justice Plan during 2005 in order to receive funding through the Nebraska Crime Commission.

Secondly, the Nebraska Children and Families Foundation has had requests to support communities in developing prevention plans for grant applications.

A third component to the planning will take place at a later date as Nebraska Health and Human Services are assessing and developing plans at a community level for improvement of the Child Protection Services System in response to the Federal Child Welfare review.

The day will consist of two sections. Section one will be held from 9-3. This section will assess prevention and early intervention services in Northeast Nebraska, and will then design a plan to prioritize our strengths and develop the areas that need to be strengthened.

Participants in this section include schools, early childhood services, community recreation, Head Start, domestic violence groups; advocates, food pantries, programs for women and infants, faith groups and anyone providing services to children and youth.

Section two will be held concurrently from 1-3 p.m. and will focus on the juvenile justice system. The system will be assessed and a meaningful, outcome based plan for effective use of resources will be developed. Participants of this section include law enforcement, school guidance counselors, principals and superintendents, county attorneys, probation office, office of juvenile services and local judges.

In return for the investment of volunteer time and resources, the community will receive: 1) a core data list of relevant information for prevention, early intervention and juvenile justice services, 2) a written 3-5 year prevention and early intervention assessment and systems plan which can serve as the foundation for determining future community projects and funding, 3) a written juvenile justice services assessment and planning template, and 4) information about innovative programs, best practices, sustainability and outcomes measures for inter-related prevention programs.

Nebraska Health and Human Services, Nebraska Children and Families Foundation, Nebraska Crime Commission, and Northeast Nebraska Public Health Dept. acknowledge the challenges communities face in ongoing assessment and planning processes. The organizations will work together to assist and support communities in developing a meaningful assessment and plan.

If you would like more information about this workshop or would like to register, please contact Northeast Nebraska Public Health Dept. at 402-375-2200 or 1-800-375-2260. Lunch will be served so registrations are required by Thursday, Sept. 15.

Fall Story Time to begin at Wayne Public Library

The Wayne Public Library will be kicking off their fall story time next Saturday, Sept. 17 at 10:30am.

"We will be having ONE LAST CAMPOUT! Each child is welcome to bring a flashlight, sleeping bag, or pillow & blanket and we will have our own fantasy camping trip before fall comes. Let's read SMORE!" said Julie Osnes, Children's Librarian.

Fall story time will continue through Saturday, Nov. 19, with new themes each week, including, balloons, Halloween and Thanksgiving of course, and many more. "We are very excited to have, 'The Real D.W.' from Arthur book series coming for a special visit on Oct. 22, at a special time of 11 a.m. We look forward to seeing you each week, and every day at the Wayne Public Library," Osnes said.

Celebrate Hank Day

A fund raiser to assist with Hank Overin's medical expenses will be held in Wayne on Saturday, Sept. 10 from 4 to 8 p.m. at Hank Overin Memorial Field. It will include a free-will donation supper, silent auction and games. A short program will be held at 7 p.m.

Wayne Volunteer Firemen were on the scene at Geno's Steakhouse for approximately two hours on Sunday to deal with a grease fire.

Fire causes damage to Geno's

A grease fire at Geno's Steakhouse on Sunday caused damage to the kitchen area of the building.

The Wayne Volunteer Fire Department received a call shortly after 5:30 p.m.

The fire did minimal damage to the stove and exhaust fans in the building. It was contained to the hood region of the cooking area.

Only two people were in the establishment when the fire broke out and no injuries were reported.

Assistant Fire Chief Todd Hoemann said that the building received smoke damage, but very little water damage. Firemen were on the scene for approximately two hours.

The State Fire Marshall investigated.

Geno's is closed temporarily to allow for clean up of the facility.

Staff at Back in Touch offer several different types of massage therapy

Connie Hassler, owner of Back in Touch at 114 West 3rd in Wayne and Shanna Rastede offer customers several different types of massage therapy such as swedish (relaxing), deep (therapeutic), combination, pregnancy massage, and myofascial (gentle stretch). Hours of business are Monday, 9 a.m. to 5 p.m.; Tuesday, 1-7 p.m.; Wednesday, 9 a.m. to 7 p.m.; Thursday, 1-7:30 p.m.; Friday, 9 a.m. to 5 p.m. and Saturday, 8 a.m. to 1 p.m.

Massage can rid the body of chronic problems, is a great stress reliever as stress is the number one cause of illness - mental, physical, and emotional, boosts the immune system, relieves headaches and backaches, and lowers blood pressure.

Hassler read this thought in one of her massage textbooks: if everyone in the world had a massage every day, there would be no wars.

Rastede is taking training to be a Doula labor assistant. The training helps her understand the natural process of labor. Once finished with her training, she will be available to be hired by couples to be part of their natural childbirth process.

Hassler started her business in the Mineshaft Mall in Wayne in 1997. She worked by herself for two years. She had been working in Sioux City, Iowa, in the mental health and addiction field. A co-worker suggested she get a massage, which she liked. It intrigued her enough to decide to go to school and go into massage therapy full time. She attended the Bio-Chi Institute in Sioux City for one year and then decided to set up shop in Wayne because it is a college town and there is the amount of population she was looking for.

Rastede started working with Hassler in 1999.

She attended the Gateway College of Massage Therapy, graduating after 1,000 hours (Nebraska has the highest number of hours required; each state is different). Massage therapists must renew their license every two years so continuing education hours are required; for Nebraska, it is 24 hours every two years.

Hassler is a lifelong resident of Emerson. She graduated from Wayne State College in 1989 with a bachelor of science in psychiatry/ psychology and Human Service counseling. She and her husband, Mick, have three grown children, Joe, Heidi and son-in-law Troy Sayers, and Michael. The couple live on a farm by Emerson and raise buffalo.

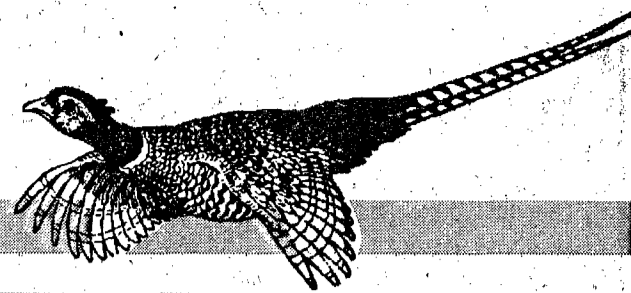

Rastede graduated from Norfolk Senior High and attended Northeast Community College for a year in the LPN program and then made the change to massage therapy. She and her husband, Brian, live in Hoskins. They are the parents of a daughter, Jaden, 2 1/2 years old and a child due in October.

Both women agree that the community has been very responsive to the benefits of massage and that it continues to be great being in Wayne. Any one with questions can contact them at Back in Touch, 402-375-2373.

Shanna Rastede and Connie Hassler offer a variety of massages at Back in Touch.

Blue Devils notch victory in opener

Opening games provide coaches and players alike a good gauge of what's developed over the course of preseason drills.

For Wayne High football coach Kevin Finkey, the finished product — 12-0 shutout against West Point-Beemer last Friday — was proof enough.

"This was as good of a first game as I have had in my 20 years of coaching," Finkey said. "Returning only one starter, I was fearing the worst, but these kids have really come together."

After both teams battled in a scoreless first quarter, quarterback Nate Finkey scored Wayne's first touchdown on a three-yard scamper with about three minutes left in the first half.

Finkey connected with Cory Harm for the only other score of the game on an eight-yard pass play in the third quarter to give Wayne the season-opening win.

Turnovers and penalties proved to be a costly combination for West Point-Beemer as two lost fumbles and a pair of interceptions were able to work in Wayne's favor.

Finkey finished 11-of-19 with one interception for 166 yards passing and picked up 49 yards rushing. As Wayne's punter, he averaged 32.7 yards on his nine punts during the game.

George Sherry carried the bulk of Wayne's running chores with 58 yards on 17 carries on the night.

Nathan Summerfield and Scott Baier were the Blue Devils' leading receivers with 72 and 66 yards, respectively.

Wayne's defense stole the show in the shutout and were paced by Matt Poehlman who tallied 10 tackles and one fumble recovery.

Cory Stoltenburg had four solo stops and two assists and found the West Point-Beemer offensive backfield to be a comfortable place to be as he had three quarterback sacks on the night.

Josh Fink also was a defensive leader in the shutout with seven tackles and a blocked pass attempt.

"Defensively, those three had great nights for us," coach Finkey said.

The game was not without opening night mistakes, however, as the offense turned the ball over on Nate Finkey's interception and lost 95 yards on penalties.

"I am really proud of the kids' efforts," Finkey added. "We made some mistakes, but not for lack of effort. I am really optimistic about this upcoming week and the season."

Wayne will hit the road again this Friday and travel to North Bend Central.

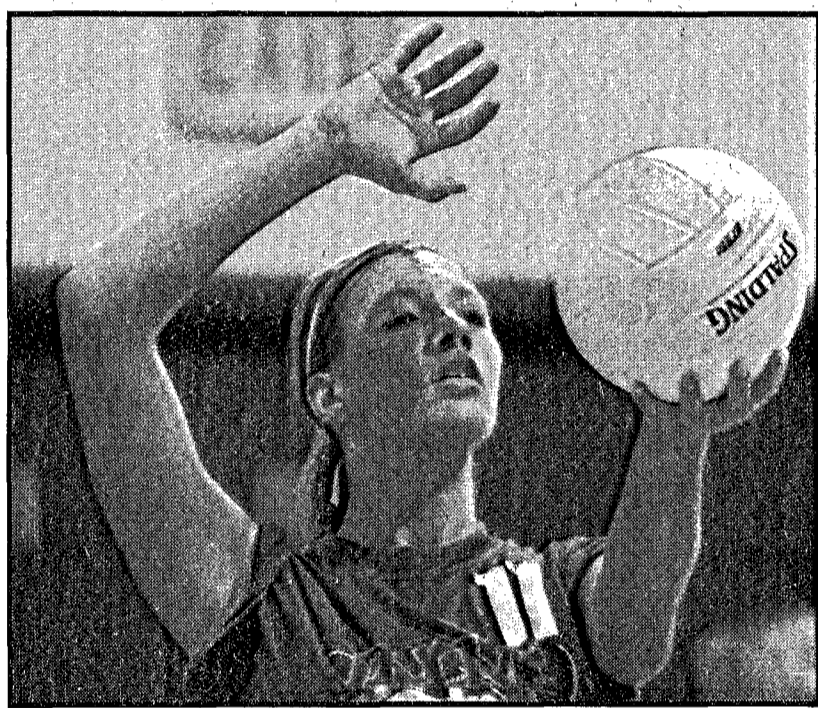

The team will make its home debut under the lights at Cunningham Field at Wayne State College on Sept. 16, when Madison will open conference play on Homecoming Night.

Nathan Summerfield is tackled by a trio of West Point-Beemer defenders after catching a pass in Friday night's season opener.

Fan bus to O'Neill planned

A chartered bus to O'Neill for the Wayne High football game on Friday, Oct. 6 is being organized. Those interested in making the trip can reserve one or two seats by contacting Marty Summerfield during the day at 375-4888. The deadline to make reservations is Wednesday, Sept. 14.

Robyn Heithold prepares to serve in last Thursday's first round match of the Northeast Nebraska Classic at Wayne.

WHS volleyball squad finishes third at Classic

Wayne High volleyball coach Joyce Hoskins was happy with what she saw from her team in the first matches of the new volleyball season.

The Blue Devils finished third in the 12-team Northeast Nebraska Volleyball Classic on Sept. 1 and 3 in contests played at Wayne and Wisner.

On Thursday, Wayne took the home court and rattled off straight-set wins against Lutheran High Northeast and North Bend Central to earn the right to play in the tournament's gold bracket.

Michelle Jarvi and Emyln Mann combined for five kills apiece as the Blue Devils downed Lutheran High 25-21 and 25-15.

Jessica Dickey dished out 17 set assists, while Robyn Heithold led the team with seven digs.

The game, believed to be Wayne's first home opener since the early 1970s, also saw the debut of a new position as approved by the Nebraska School Activities Association for addition this season.

Melissa Frahm played the defensive libero position for Wayne in Thursday's first round games.

"I was pleased with our first games," Hoskins said. "The girls really played as a team and did a great job defensively."

Wayne defeated North Bend Central in Thursday evening's second game 27-25 and 25-18.

Kara Hoeman paced WHS with six kills, while Jarvi, Dickey and Frahm each tallied nine digs.

Dickey also finished her matches with 13 set assists.

The wins advanced Wayne to the Gold bracket for play at Wisner on Saturday, Sept. 3.

The Blue Devils challenged Fremont Bergan in a defensive battle in the first match on Saturday, but fell in straight sets 26-24, 25-21.

Dickey served up 20 set assists, while Jarvi and Mann each record 11 digs each.

Heithold led the Blue Devil hitters with seven kills and Hoeman added six.

Things didn't get any easier for Wayne as the team dropped its second match of the tournament in a 25-20, 25-21 loss to West Point Central Catholic.

A Loper-sided win

WSC falls to Nebraska-Kearney in first home game

The weather was sunny and hot, but for Wayne State's football team, it was partly cloudy with occasional heavy downpours.

Nebraska-Kearney stormed the field with 540 yards of total offense in a 45-7 win against the Wildcats in the first home game of the season last Saturday.

"There weren't too many bright spots for us," WSC football coach Dan McLaughlin said. "We played poorly and it was like a boxing match where you take shot and try to recover from the hit you took before."

The problems started early when the Wildcats only had the opportunity to touch the ball for only two series in the opening quarter.

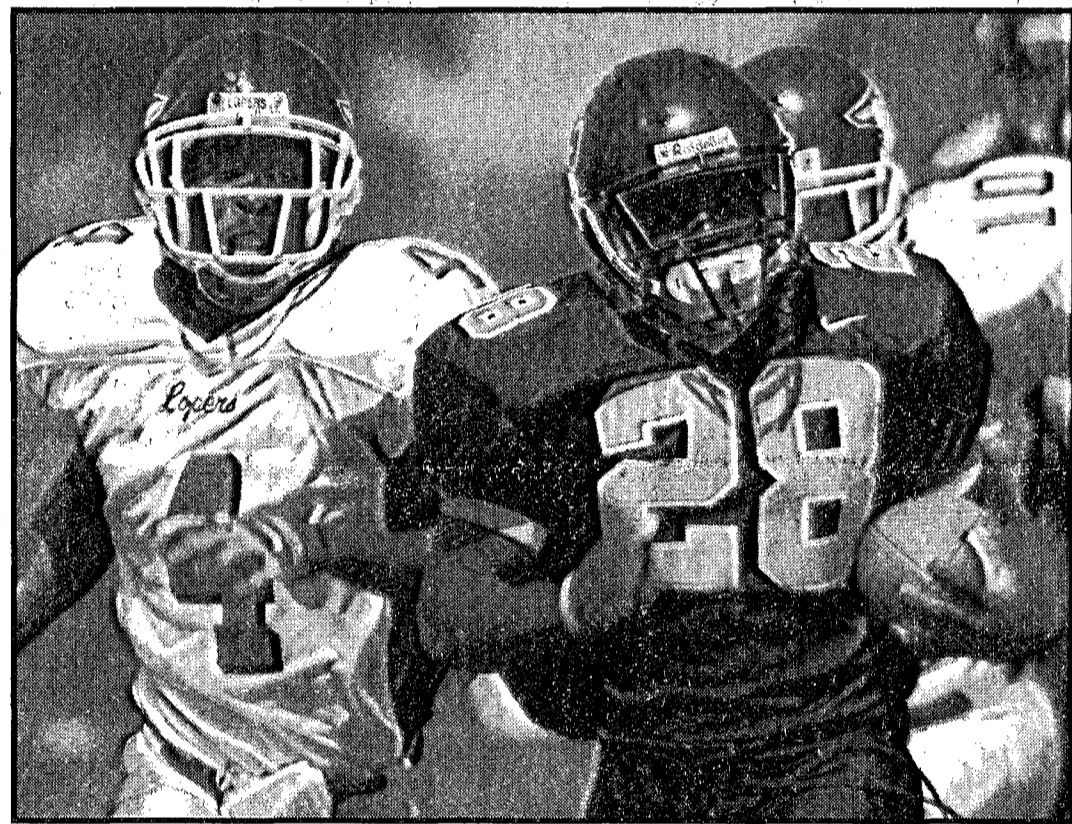

The Lopers opened the scoring in the first quarter on an eight-yard pass from Marcus Goldenstein to Richie Ross to put UNK up 7-0 with 24 seconds left in the opening stanza.

Ross struck another blow at WSC when he hauled in a 47-yard strike from Goldenstein at the 8:50 mark to move out to a 14-0 advantage. Kyle Rupp was the next Loper to record a score when he caught a five-yard pass from Goldenstein, while Geoff Carnahan tallied a 24-yard field goal with :37 left in the half to allow UNK to take a 24-0 lead to the locker room.

The Lopers took to the air again in the third quarter when Tyler McNitt caught a 34-yard pass from Goldenstein to take a 31-0 lead.

A punt return by Russell Trujillo for 88 yards for a score gave the Lopers a 38-0 lead in the third.

WSC was able to score its first touchdown on the season late in the third quarter when Alex Hall's two-yard run made the score 38-7 after three quarters.

Alex Hall breaks loose from two Nebraska-Kearney defensive players in Saturday's home loss.

Jake Richards added another UNK score in the fourth quarter on a 28-yard run en route to the 45-7 final.

"You can always tell something happened when the punter is the star of the game," McLaughlin said.

WSC punter Kurtis Hoefling averaged 45.7 yards on his nine punts, including his longest completion of 78 yards.

Wayne State finished with 132 yards of total offense as Hall rushed for 106 yards on 20 carries for the bulk of the Wildcat offensive output.

Wakefield's Luke Hoffman led the WSC defense with seven tackles.

The Wildcats will seek to pick up the first win of the season in a road game with undefeated Missouri-Rolla this Saturday evening.

"They are a well-coached, sound football team," McLaughlin noted. "It doesn't get any easier for us as we have a nine hour bus ride to get there."

Wayne man nets hunting opportunity

Wayne bar owner Jim Milliken will have a once-in-a-lifetime chance to add a unique mount to his impressive collection of wildlife mounts at the White Dog Pub.

Milliken found out last week that he was the lucky winner of Nebraska's coveted hunting experience for a chance to hunt a bighorn sheep in the annual lottery sponsored by the Nebraska Game and Parks Commission.

"I still can't believe I was that lucky somebody who won it," Milliken, who was one of about 1,500 hunters who paid $20 to apply for the chance to hunt bighorns in the state.

Milliken got a call from commissioner Bill Grewcock last Wednesday informing him his name was drawn at a commission meeting last week.

He said he will travel to Northwestern Nebraska and hunt for his trophy bighorn in the ponderosa pine-covered bluffs by Fort Robinson State Park, which is near Crawford. He will embark on a four-day, guided hunt on Nov. 26.

"My guide knows the herd well and I'm going to stay out at the fort while I'm there," he said. "I'm really looking forward to it."

Milliken's permit was one of only two issued by the state this year. In February, an Alabama man bid $83,000 at a convention to have the experience.

The commission reported that it won't issue any bighorn permits next year as disease has cut down the number of adult sheep in the herd.

Officials estimated that only five full-curl rams are part of the existing Fort Robinson herd, with only two that are large enough to be trophy-quality.

WSC volleyball sweeps Mountain Lion tourney

The Wayne State College volleyball team continues to roll.

The Wildcats improved to 8-1 and claimed its first tournament championship of the season after picking up four wins at the Mountain Lion Invitational at the University of Colorado-Cororado Springs last Friday and Saturday.

"I was very pleased with how we played this weekend," WSC head coach Scott Kneifl said. "We played real well as a team and are really clicking for this early in the season."

In action on Friday, the Wildcats downed St. Mary's of Texas in the first match 30-25, 30-22, 31-33 and 30-21, then swept host University of Colorado-Cororado Springs 30-14, 30-20 and 30-26.

Lani Recob pounded 15 kills in the St. Mary's win, while Emily Schroeder and Jacey Schwarz each contributed 14 kills. Michelle Eckhardt added 12 for the WSC offense.

Schwarz paced the Wayne State defense with 25 digs, followed by sophomore libero Laura Dolezal with 24 and freshman Merydy Dubbs came off the bench to add 14. Julie Jacobsen set up 49 assists.

"Lani Recob really played well in the St. Mary's match," Kneifl said. "Laura Dolezal had another great defensive game and Julie Jacobsen did a great job passing the ball to our hitters. We also had great balance hitting, so they couldn't focus their blocks on just one player."

The second match saw Wayne State roll to a straight set win over host Colorado-Cororado Springs as Schwarz tallied 14 kills to lead the Wildcats. Schroeder also finished in double digits with 10.

Dolezal recorded a team-high 20 digs, while Dubbs and Jacobsen each accounted for 11. Jacobsen also contributed 32 set assists in the win.

"We played really well the first two games, then trailed 22-14 in the third game and came back to win," Kneifl added. "I was happy to see that our team didn't let up when trailing in the third set. I think that shows our team has some character."

The squad added two more wins on Saturday to take the tourney championship as the Wildcats swept Cameron College 30-23, 30-25 and 30-20 and Angelo State of Texas 30-15, 30-10 and 30-19 on Saturday to improve to 8-1 on the season.

Schroeder led a balanced WSC hitting attack with 13 kills in the Cameron win.

She was followed by Eckhardt with 12 kills, Schwarz with 11 and Lani Recob with 10.

Dolezal finished with 18 digs for the defense, while Jacobsen tallied 12 to go with her 41 set assists.

Kneifl said all 14 players saw action in Saturday's second match against Angelo State.

Schwarz finished with eight kills and three service aces, while Emily Schroeder added seven kills and three aces.

Dolezal led the defense with 14 digs and Jacobsen dished out 23 assists.

Three Wildcats were named to the All-Tournament team including Schwarz, Jacobsen and Eckhardt.

WSC will travel to the NSIC/NCC Crossover Tournament on Friday and Saturday in Aberdeen, S.D. with the opening match against No. 4-ranked Minnesota-Duluth on Friday.

WHS second, Nolte first

Jenny Nolte fired a 44 to win a home quadrangular with Columbus Lakeview, Elkhorn Valley and Battle Creek on Tuesday afternoon.

Nolte edged Whitney Saalfeld of Lakeview by two strokes for medalist honors when she fired off four consecutive pars on hole Nos. 5-8.

Wayne finished second behind Lakeview with 209, while the winners posted a 203.

"It was nice to see our girls improve from the first meet at Wayne," Wayne High coach Eric Henderson said. "I hope our improvement continues."

Other Wayne scores included Sheree Kathol 41, Kourtney Schmale 55, Liz Baier 59 and Maddy Moser 64.

The team will travel to Pierce for a tournament on Saturday, Sept. 10.

Wayne High sweeps tourney

The Wayne High girls softball team earned its first tournament win of the season last weekend.

The squad went 3-0 on Saturday to take first at the Boone Central tournament in Albion.

Mirisa Carroll pitched a complete game in the opener and threw seven strikeouts in the Blue Devils' 3-1 first round win against High Plains.

Jean Pieper, Kayla Hochstein and Leslie Backstrom all notched runs for Wayne, while Pieper, Faye Roerber and Alesha Finkey each tallied hits. Doubles were recorded by Backstrom and Brooke Anderson.

Finkey's two RBIs, plus another from Hochstein rounded out Wayne's offensive highlights.

Wayne dominated host Boone Central with three-run innings in the second and sixth en route to a 9-2 defeat of the Cardinals in the second game of the tournament.

Carroll earned her second win of the tourney from the mound and struck out seven Boone Central batters.

Wayne was sparked by triple by Pieper, while Hochstein, Nicole Rauner, Ally Miller and Steph Owens each had singles, and Finkey finished with a pair of singles.

Anderson and Andrea Pieper finished with two runs apiece, while Rauner and Carroll each batted in two Wayne runs.

Wayne clinched the tourney title with a 10-2 victory against Cross County.

The Blue Devils generated nine hits, all off singles, including highlights from Pieper (2-3, run, two stole bases), Finkey (2-3, run, one RBI), and Sam Denklau (2-3, two runs, 2 RBIs).

Carroll pitched four innings, while Jean Pieper finished in relief.

Overall, coach Rob Sweetland said it was an excellent effort by the Blue Devils.

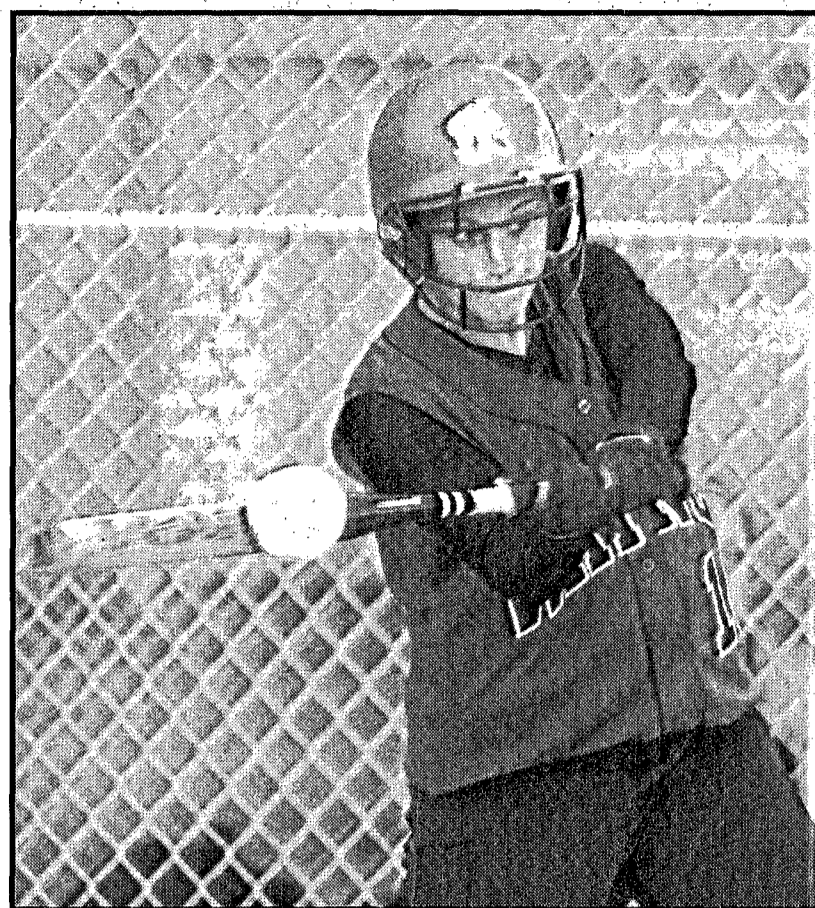

Col. Lakeview 5, Wayne 0

Wayne managed to hold off Class B No. 2 Columbus Lakeview for six innings, but five runs in the sixth proved to be a tough challenge.

Hochstein, Carroll and Denklau finished with singles in the loss.

Wayne dropped the earlier JV game 11-0.

Next on the schedule for Wayne (6-2) will be the Schuyler Tournament on Saturday.

Jean Pieper hits a single in Tuesday's home game against Columbus Lakeview.

Why guarantee your parking space before each Husker football game?

Because you just missed seeing 73,456 red balloons fly out of Memorial Stadium!

Here's a great parking game plan for Husker football fans near and far. One game at a time, or for the entire season, you can reserve a space in any of the City's nine downtown Lincoln parking garages.

The convenience, security and peace of mind of guaranteed parking on a Husker game day is almost as good as a Husker victory. Most of all, you'll be able to see the ascent of the red balloons from your stadium seat.

Reserve your game day parking space or season pass on-line at parkiddowntown.org

Classic

"We played close with two very good teams in West Point Central Catholic and Fremont Bergan," Hoskins said. "I feel that we will continue to be competitive with most teams."

Hoeman pounded out 10 kills, while Dickey engineered 21 assists for the offense.

Jarvi led Wayne defenders with nine digs and Mann finished with nine in the loss.

Wayne clinched third place in the tournament with a 25-17, 27-25 win against Wakefield in the final match of the Classic.

Mann topped the hitting chart with eight kills, while Frahm produced 13 digs during the win. Dickey was Wayne's set assist leader with 23.

Wayne vs. Schuyler

Wayne took a 25-18, 23-25, 25-14 loss at home to Schuyler on Tuesday night.

Hoeman and Jarvi each tallied five kills, while Dickey dished out 16 set assists and Mann was credited with 10 digs.

Wayne won the JV match 25-15, 25-20 behind Liz Kenny's seven points and five from Kaitlyn Centrone. The freshman match also went in Wayne's favor 25-12, 25-21. Leading scorers were Morgan Campbell with 13 points, Ambre Ruzicka with eight and Cori Volk with seven.

Next action for the Blue Devils will be Thursday (tonight) and Saturday at the Wakefield Invitational.

WSC teams open fall at USD meet

The Wayne State College men's and women's cross country teams opened the season Saturday at the Don Baker Invitational held at the University of South Dakota.

The Wayne State women were led by a fourth-place finish from Haley Reeves, who covered the 5,000 meter course in 19:55. Nicole McCoy finished seventh in 20:25, followed by Erin Norenberg (8th, 20:40); Erin Oswald (14th-21:18) and Lisa Froistad (15th-26:13).

"The women's team had an outstanding performance to start their season," WSC head coach Marlon Brink said. "Haley Reeves had an improvement of almost two and a half minutes from last season and Nicole McCoy and Erin Norenberg both had good races to finish in the top 10."

The Wayne State men's team was led by senior Ben Crabtree, who crossed the line on the 8,000-meter course in seventh place overall with a time of 27:26.

Jeremiah Herron was right behind in eighth at 27:42, followed by Matt Schneider (8th-27:42) and Casey Ide (9th-28:35). Other WSC finishers included: Nathaniel Bergen (13th-29:44) and Stephan Lamas (15th-29:52).

"I thought the men's team had a solid performance as almost all of the runners improved their times from one year ago, so that's a good indicator that they are in better shape this year," Brink said. "Ben Crabtree, Jeremiah Herron and Matt Schneider all ran consistent races. I was pleased to see that we ran well as a pack early in the race."

Anne Bledsoe was born in Nathan's Creek, a tiny North Carolina mountain community, in 1904. She was in Washington, D.C., studying to become a nurse when she met Washington native Bill France. He was also a student and part-time bank clerk. They met at a dance at Children's Hospital in the nation's capital, and were married in 1931. They arrived in Daytona Beach, Fla., in 1934.

Anne France, an expert at figures, finance and general business procedure, played a huge role in her husband's business enterprises. He organized and promoted races and she took care of business.

She first served as secretary and treasurer of NASCAR, and when Daytona International Speedway opened in 1959, she served in the same roles for International Speedway Corporation.

She also managed the speedway's ticket office. She remained active in family and business life until her passing in 1992.

"My brother, Jim and I can readily attest that dad had his vision and dreams. But make no bones about it, mom was his reality," said NASCAR chairman of the board Bill France of his parents' partnership.

"While he was climbing to reach lofty goals, mom firmly held the ladder and provided him with a rock-solid foundation. Vision, dreams and reality. This is the true legacy they left."

Football

Allen 36, Lynch 16

The two-hour bus ride home was definitely one filled with excitement for the Allen Eagles football team.

Allen opened the fall campaign with 36-16 road win at Lynch last Friday.

Allen scored first on a 51-yard run by Luke Sachau in the first quarter.

The Eagles took advantage of a Lynch fumble on the next series as Sachau connected with Kyle Sperry on a 22-yard pass play to take a 12-0 lead.

Chris Blohm added another score for Allen in second quarter to take an 18-0 advantage, while Lynch punched in a score to narrow the margin to 18-6.

Allen went back to work before halftime and added scores by Josh Malcom on a five-yard run and a two-point conversion from Nathan Sturges to Chad Oswald, plus a 34-yard field goal by Sam Verduyn closed out the half with a 29-8 Eagle advantage.

The next scoring came in the fourth period when Lynch blocked a field goal and ran the recovery back 75 yards to make the score 29-16.

Allen sealed the win on a 27-yard run and Verduyn kick for the 36-16 final score.

Allen outscored Lynch 316-138 yards, paced by Sachau who ran for 178 yards on 17 carries. Malcom finished with 64 yards and two touchdowns.

"It was a nice way to start the year," Allen coach Dave Uldrich said. "After three weeks of practice and not knowing where you're at, it was good to see the things we practiced come together."

Sturges, Derek Hingst, Andy Chase and Sachau finished with 15, 15, 13 and 12 tackles, respectively, for the defense.

Allen (1-0) will host Wynot on Friday at 7 p.m.

Wis.-Pilger 12, Laurel-Concord 6
WISNER — In a defensive battle, Laurel-Concord fell 12-6 to Wisner-Pilger in the season opener for each team on Friday evening.

The Bears' only score came off a 98-yard interception return by Michael Patefield.

L-C was limited to 80 total yards on the night, with 58 yards on the ground.

"The defense really played well tonight," L-C coach Terry Bear said.

Heath Erwin led the way offensively for Laurel-Concord with 31 rushing yards, while Tony Nelson ran for 14.

Erwin, a sophomore, was 2-for-12 passing for 22 yards.

Laurel-Concord (0-1) will host Randolph this Friday.

Winside 14, Wynot 6

Winside's defense held on to turn back a last ditch Wynot effort to down the visiting Blue Devils 14-6 in the season opener for both teams Friday night.

With the game seemingly put away and the Wildcat's in possession of the football with 1:19 left in the contest and an eight point lead, a Winside fumble and Wynot recovery put the final outcome in jeopardy.

Wildcat Jared Roberts broke up a pair of Blue Devil passes and Josh Staub intercepted a fourth down attempt as the Winside pass defense held the visitors to no gain and regained possession of the football with less than a minute left in the game thus preserving the season opening win.

Sophomore quarterback Jordan Brummels ran for a pair of touchdowns, opening the Wildcat scoring with a second quarter 60-yard scamper and added the decisive tally with an almost identical 64-yard run 21 seconds into the final stanza.

Brummels capped off his first start for the Wildcats with 34 passing yards and 22 carries for 179 yards.

Justin Nathan, Mark Hawkins and Jarad Thies were on the receiving end of Brummels' three completions. Thies also gained 36 yards in 10 carries with Hawkins adding 20 yards on his lone carry of the evening.

A tenacious Wildcat defense held the visiting Blue Devils to 99 yards rushing on 46 carries and 83 yards passing with eight completions out of 20 attempts.

Jarad Thies led the defensive effort with 15 tackles with Cody Lange and Colby Langenberg adding 14 stops apiece.

Josh Staub, in addition to the interception, had 12 tackles on the night.

The Wildcat pass defense kept the Wynot passing game in check as Thies and Nathan each had quarterback sacks with Langenberg contributing a pair of sacks of his own.

The Wildcats travel to Howells Friday night to face the five-time defending state champion Bobcats and their 51 game state leading win streak.

Volleyball

Allen at NENE Classic

WISNER — The Allen Eagles captured third place in the Silver bracket division of the Northeast Nebraska Volleyball Classic played last Thursday and Saturday.

The team opened with a win in the opening in a defeat of Scribner-Snyder 25-13, 25-22.

"We served well but had a little trouble getting into defense. We scrambled a bit," coach Denise Hingst said.

Offensively, Erin Keitges led the hitters with five kills, while Samantha Bock followed with four. Carla Rastede was tough at the net with two ace blocks.

Alissa Koester set up the offense with 13 set assists and Sarah Sullivan was 88-percent from the service line with two ace serves.

Thursday's second game pitted the Eagles against West Point Cedar Catholic which handed Allen a 25-14 loss in both sets.

Rastede led all hitters with three kills and an ace block.

"We knew West Point was a tough team so going in to the game the girls were a little unsure of themselves," Hingst said.

The loss dropped Allen into Saturday's Silver Division games as Wisner.

The team dropped its first round match to North Bend Central, 25-18, 25-17.

Bock tallied seven set assists, while Erin Keitges led the way defensively with five digs. Bock was 20-for-20 at the net with five offensive kills.

"We did a lot of changing and didn't come ready to play. We had a few good runs, but did not have constant play," Hingst said about Saturday's first round loss.

Wisner-Pilger handed the team its third loss of the season in a three set match that ended 25-18, 20-25 and 25-12 in the Gators favor.

"We came off a break and seemed to be pepped up a bit. The first set started the same as we had trouble setting up the offense because of our passing," Hingst commented. "We seemed to get going in the second set after we could get our passes where they needed to be."

Amanda Marshall stepped up off the bench and got the Eagles on track with four ace serves in the second set.

Erin Stewart led the hitters with five kills and Bock added

The final match of the tourney saw Allen sweep Oakland Craig 25-7, 25-21 to claim third place in the Silver team bracket

"We had come off a good game with Wisner-Pilger, and with a 30-minute break, we were back on the court," Hingst said. "It seemed to help us keep going. In the second set, we were tired and the passing wasn't where it needed to be so that won't help with setting up our offense."

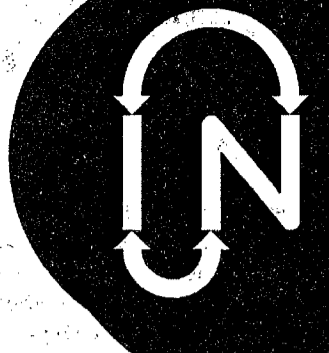

Alissa Koester led the setters with 11 set assists, while Bock had eight kills at the net followed by Carla Rastede with five.

Defensively, Sullivan and Bock each had an ace block with Sullivan leading the way with seven digs.

Carla Rastede led with three ace serves followed by Sullivan and Amanda Marshall with two aces apiece.

Wayne, area cross country teams open schedules at Beemer meet

The Wayne High, Winside and Laurel-Concord cross country squads opened up the season last Thursday at the Wisner-Pilger Invite at Indian Trails Country Club near Beemer.

The Wayne boys team finished third in the Class B and C division, while Winside's girls team took Freshman Megan Haahr of Laurel-Concord led the way for area individuals as she took first in her first ever varsity cross country meet with 16:58 in the girls Class B and C division.

Winside's second-place finish was led by Amber Aulner who covered the 3,000 meter course in 17:15, while teammate Virginia Flier finished third at 17:16.

Filling out the Wildcat effort were Michaela Staub (8th, 17:53) and Jessica Janke (23:08).

Wayne High's Sheldon Onderstal finished with a medal as he placed fifth (18:46).

Also earning a medal for the Blue Devils was Jared Bethune, who finished 12th (19:29).

Reggie Ruhl and Max Stednitz just missed medals, finishing 16th and 17th (20:03, 20:07), respectively.

Taylor Nelson (21:05) was 20th and Anthony Mack (23:14) was 27th.

The Wayne High girls, with only two runners, did not have a team score, however Regan Ruhl earned an individual medal as she finished 11th at 20:02. Becca Dowling finished out of medal contention in 18th place finish.

Laurel-Concord two-time state qualifier Mindee Haahr finished 14th with a 20:16 effort.

In the boys JV race, Wayne earned two top 15 medals.

Senior Derek Carroll was fourth (20:35) and Bill Smith (21:24) finished eighth. Joe Whitt finished 28th with 23:54.

The Wildcat effort was led by junior Ryan Janke, the only male Wildcat to run in the varsity portion of the boy's meet finished 27th with a time of 23:04.

Andrew Mohr and Sam Barg participated in the JV portion of the meet and finished with times of 25:25 and 28:00, respectively.

South Sioux City Dual

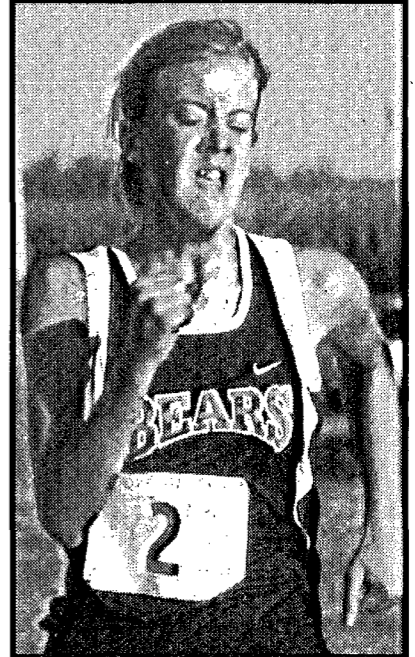

The Wayne High School and Middle School teams traveled to South Sioux City for a dual on Tuesday.

Onderstal took first in the boy's race with his finish of 18:42, while Geoff Nelson won the junior high boys race with a course time of 6:29.

Regan Ruhl finished third to lead the girls with 18:24.

Other Wayne finishes included:

Laurel-Concord freshman Megan Haahr won the girl's Class B and C division at the Wisner-Pilger Invite last Thursday.

WSC soccer goes 1-2 on week

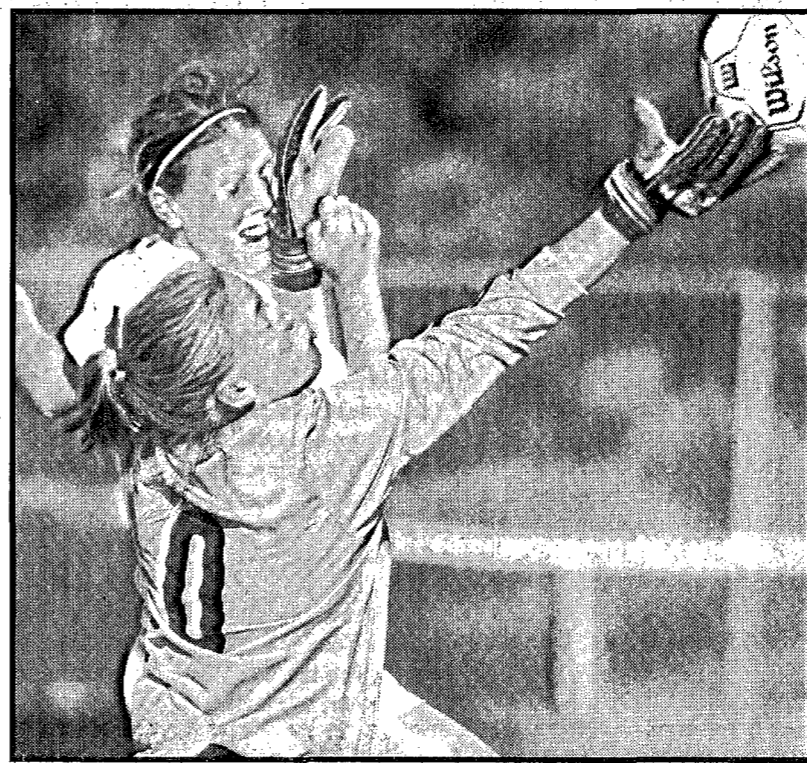

The Wayne State women's soccer team picked up its first win of the season over the weekend, but encountered a pair of losses during the week.

Last Wednesday, the Wildcats dropped a 3-2 decision at home as South Dakota scored a goal with four seconds left in the first overtime to give the Coyotes a 3-2 overtime win. Cassie Beaman and Melissa Bensen accounted for WSC's goals in the loss.

On Saturday, WSC scored three goals in the second half, including the game-winner by Bensen with just 11 seconds remaining, to score a 3-2 come-from-behind win at Missouri Western. Other WSC goals were tallied by Kate Goss and Sarah James.

Wayne State wrapped up the weekend trip to Missouri with a 4-0 loss at Missouri Southern on Sunday.

The Wildcats were back in action this week on Wednesday against Morningside and host Northern State and MSU-Moorhead on Sept 10-11.

WSC men host golf tourney

Briar Cliff University captured the Wayne State College Men's Golf Invitational played last Thursday at the Wayne Country Club, topping Dakota Wesleyan 294-296.

Buena Vista came in third at 305 followed by the Wayne State Black team in fourth at 307.

Ben Irlbeck of Dakota Wesleyan claimed the individual title for the second straight year, shooting a blistering seven-under par 65.

Rounding out the top five included Norfolk's Jason Love of the Wayne State Black team who shot one-over 73 to tied for fifth place.

Other scores for the Wayne State Black team included Scott Cudly shooting a 74 to finish sixth overall, Colin Wilson finished with a 79, Jared Wetovick carded an 81 and Brian Torpin shot 82.

The Wayne State Gold Team finished eighth out of 14 teams with a 317.

Alec Rector posted the top Gold score with a 75, followed by Garrett Rathke (77), Zach Roeder (80), Brent Hoising (85) and Josh Reinders (89).

The men's team will play in the following meets this season: Sept 7: at Dakota Wesleyan (Mitchell, S.D.); Sept 13: at Dordt (Sioux Center, Iowa), Sept 19: at Briar Cliff (Sioux City, Iowa), Sept 23-24: at NW Iowa (Orange City and Storm Lake, Iowa) Sept. 25-27: Fall Central Regional (Detroit Lakes, Minn.), Oct 7-9: at Northern Sun championship (Becker, Minn.).

Area Sports Roundup

Volleyball

Winside at Hartington Quad. HARTINGTON — Winside dropped three matches at the Hartington Quadrangular last Saturday.

"We still have some areas we need to improve on, but for being this early in the season, I'm very proud of the girls' performance," new Winside coach Jill Zimmerman said.

In the opening match, Hartington downed the Wildcats 24-26, 25-12, 25-16. Jessica Hansen paced the team with three kills, while Josie Longnecker contributed three ace serves. Hansen also led the Wildcats with 12 set assists.

The team fell in the straight sets in the second match with Howells 25-17, 25-12. Hansen recorded three kills to lead the offensive effort and finished with 17 set assists.

Lindsay Holy Family handed Winside another straight-set loss in the third match 25-16, 25-9 behind five kills from Hansen and a team leading four set assists by Longnecker.

Wakefield at NENE Classic

WISNER — Wakefield advanced to the Gold Bracket of the Northeast Nebraska Volleyball Classic with a pair of wins to open the 2005 season last Thursday.

The team overcame a first set loss to Bancroft-Rosalie to bounce back to take a 19-25, 28-26, 25-22 win.

Alissa Bressler recorded eight kills and Amanda Nelson dished out 19 set assists in the win, while Anna Brownell and Whitney Rouse paced the defense with 12 and 11 digs, respectively.

Wakefield played three sets in the second match against host Wisner-Pilger but notched a 24-26, 25-22, 25-22 win.

Bressler pounded nine kills and Nelson was credited with 15 assists. Brownell led the defensive effort with 12 digs and Lexi Nelson added eight.

Wakefield fell to 2-3 on the season with losses to West Point Central Catholic (25-22, 25-14), Fremont Bergan (25-15, 25-18) and Wayne (25-17, 27-25) in Gold division play on Saturday.

Statistically, Bressler tallied five kills and Amanda Nelson was credited with 12 assists to lead team against Central Catholic.

Both also finished tops in the same categories (6 kills, 8 assists) in the loss to Bergan.

Brownell hit six kills to lead the squad against Wayne, while Nelson finished with 17 assists.

Laurel-Concord vs. Randolph RANDOLPH — It took five sets to determine the winner in the season opener for both Randolph and Laurel-Concord on Sept. 1.

Randolph downed the Bears 20-25, 21-25, 25-16, 26-24, 17-15.

"We built up a lead and then allowed Randolph to work its way back into the match," L-C coach Patti Cunningham said.

Andrea McCorkindale sparked the L-C offense with seven kills, while Nikki Lubberstedt contributed a pair of ace serves and Becky Hoising added 19 digs.

Scores only- Sept. 6 matches
Allen def. Wynot 25-23, 25-18, 25-27, 25-20
Bancroft-Rosalie def. Winside 25-12, 25-14

'Play Ball' echoed over three decades

Overin fields dreams in hearts of youth

The following story was run in the July 2, 1992 issue of the Wayne Herald.

By Kevin Peterson
Sports Editor

Henry Clay Overin III may not be your every day household name, but mention the name "Hank" to folks around Wayne, and you are instantly talking about a man who has literally touched the lives of thousands of youth.

"I think I am doing what I was destined to do," Overin said. "I've always been a coach. Even when I was playing I was a coach. I started actually coaching when I was 14-years-old and have been doing it ever since."

A 1952 graduate of Carmel (Calif.) High School - the same town that movie star Clint Eastwood served as mayor for a short time - Overin still holds his high school record for having the most varsity letters in a four-year span: 18.

An only child of Henry Overin II and Laura, Hank was a four-year letter winner in football, basketball, track and the sport he loved most - baseball. He also lettered twice in golf. Overin said his high school golf team played their home Colorado Springs," Overin said.

"I wasn't getting much playing time in and eventually I asked to be traded where I could be used more than once a week and involved in a regular rotation."

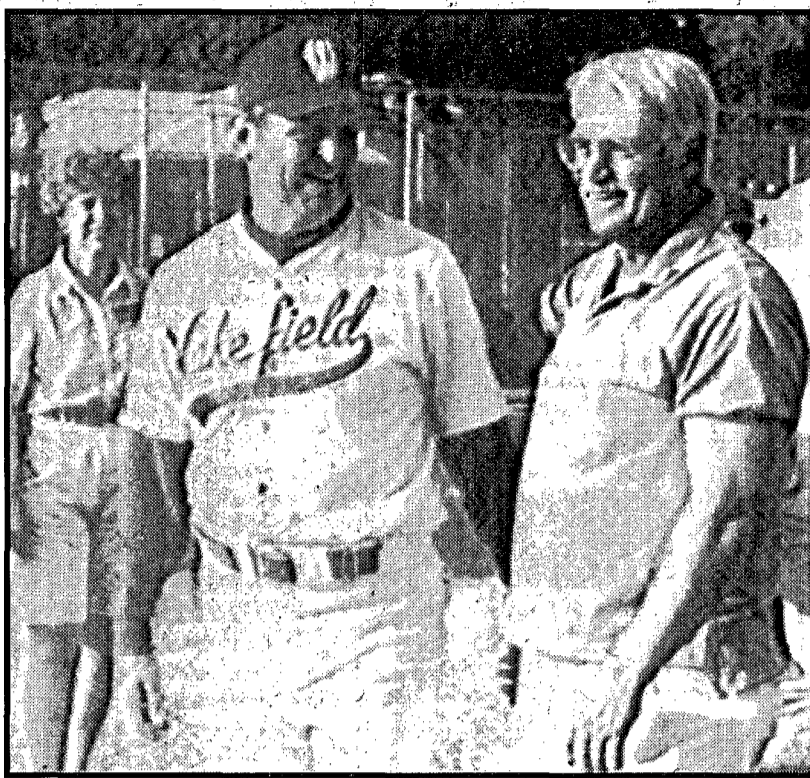

Hank was sent back to the California League where he threw his arm out but continued to play anyway. "I went 9-18 that year and then I was released," Overin said.

Hank still didn't think he was done playing ball so he traveled up the coast to Yakima, Wash. and tried out for the double AA independent team. "I was kept until the last cut and my coach told me that had a spot for me if I wanted one but only pitching once a week," Overin said.

"They sent me to Yankton, S.D. in what was called the Basin League. That league consisted of nine pro players and six college players who were likely to be drafted."

Since the league didn't begin until after the College World Series in May, Hank decided to play for the Northeast Nebraska League as a pitcher for Coleridge.

It was in Coleridge where he was spotted by Wayne baseball board members Norris Weible and Alvin Peterson. "It was in June of 1958 when they approached me and Wakefield coaching legend Paul Eaton congratulates Wayne legend Hank Overin.

At that time Hank had all boys between the ages of 8-15 in what was called the Midgets. He continued to work for Otte Construction in the offseasons until 1963. "One winter day in 1963 Glenda anyway, I decided to take the concession stand over and now, 29 years later, I'm, still popping the popcorn."

Hank also volunteered to start up the high school baseball team which had been absent from the Wayne Public School for five years. "I coached the high school team for three years but had to give it up when I felt was dedicating so much time to 15 guys when I could be helping 50-60 in the rec program."

Hank enjoyed his work with the Midgets and in 1963 his team and the Junior Legion team coached by the late Ralph Bishop, both won the state baseball championship.

"One of my best friends was Ralph Bishop," Hank said. "He was a great man and he knew how to coach. I assisted him with the Legion team but I never got in the way of his coaching. I helped him with infield practice since he was in a wheelchair."

Bishop, a fine athlete in his own right, suffered a horse and buggy accident at age 16, which eventually led to the amputation of both legs. "He was a heck of a coach," Hank said.

Following the state championship of 1963, Hank was approached by Ralph Bishop and was told that the program would be his the following year because he wouldn't be back.

"I thought he was crazy for saying that," Hank said. "He obviously knew something that I did not because he passed away the following winter."

Hank wanted to keep Bishop's legacy alive and he did so with the inception of the Bishop Baseball League which is still in existence today.

"I suggested we start a league in honor of Ralph and we had a board of directors," Hank said. "The league was set up so that one coach could coach all the teams because other towns had trouble getting volunteer coaches."

Wayne, Wakefield, Pender, Emerson, Wisner, Ponca, Winside and Laurel all took part in the initial Ralph Bishop League years with Homer and Hartington eventually joining.

The board eventually dissolved but the league stayed together with Hank doing all of the scheduling and planning of games. During this time, Hank was running the Ralph Bishop League, coaching the Midgets, along with girls softball.

To say that Hank is a workaholic could be the understatement of three decades. That's because in 1961 he had a spare hour of his day left each weekday--the noon hour, so he volunteered to be the physical education instructor for St. Mary's School--a position he held for 23 years.

"I did that because those kids were not participating in my rec program," Overin said. "So I dedicated some of my time to help them."

Glenda began working with Wayne Public Schools as a secretary in 1972--a position she held until her retirement in 1987. Hank continued his work with the kids while coaching the Midgets and Legion.

In 1981 plans came out in the Wayne Herald for a new ball park. Baseball was big in Wayne and for a good reason. Hank had guided the 1980 Legion team to the state championship--the sixth state championship team Hank had coached.

"I noticed after looking at the plans in the paper that it wasn't going to work because they had the softball fields overlapping each other," Hank said. "I approached the city administrator and he must have felt offended because he turned to me and said if I thought I could do a better job of designing the field to do it myself--so I did."

Gilmore and Associates were the ones who built the field and they did not change a single thing that Hank had constructed on paper and in 1982 the mayor of Wayne called Hank and Glenda together to the ball field where the City of Wayne had named the ball field Henry "Hank" Overin Field. Hank was also named the 1982 Nebraska Amateur Coach of the Year by Baseball Digest.

Baseball along with other sports has changed dramatically since 1958 when Hank first wandered into the town to play the game he loved for minimal pay.

"The rec programs have grown so much that kids have too much to do," Hank said. "The youth is spread out so fine that burn out becomes prevalent. Kids today have no rest period in between sports--it's like a job."

I believe they've taken the word fun out of the games and replaced it with the word, work. I think it should be changed back."

Hank also feels that television has changed sports and kids as well. "First, television has helped kids with fundamentals with all and have done it for well over 40 years. I consider myself a lucky man because many people go to a job they don't like everyday and I have loved my job in Wayne since the day I walked in."

"It wasn't always a fun filled time," Glenda recalled. "Sometimes Hank's dedication to the kids of Wayne would sometimes cause him to slight his own kids. He didn't do it knowingly but it just happened. He would be so involved with the rec program that he didn't get to see his oldest two children play a lot of high school sports."

When Hank's youngest son Steve entered high school athletics he did make time to go and watch. "After three plus decades of being together, the only thing Hank and I don't agree on is his music and the air conditioning in the car," Glenda said.

Hank officially resigned his position as City Rec Director in the November of 1991. He signed on the contingency that as long as his health stayed good, that he'd come back in the summer and coach the Juniors.

"I'd like to continue next summer with these kids we have now and after that, we'd just have to wait and see," Hank said. "We will always consider Wayne our home matches on Pebble Beach - the same course used for the annual Bing Crosby Pro Open and later, an annual PGA stop including this year's U.S. Open.

Glenda and Hank Overin chuckle during one of the many speeches given in honor of the two for their dedication to the youth of Wayne for the past three decades. Pictured in front are some of the state championship trophies Hank's teams earned through the years.

Hank was an all-conference selection in baseball all four years. He was selected as a first baseman for the team his freshman year and pitcher for the next three seasons.

He was also an all-conference selection in basketball twice, and football once as a running back. Hank's final three baseball years in high school saw him sport a 47-2 pitching record. His final year he was 16-1 and averaged 14 strikeouts per game along with a miniscule era of 0.35.

In his senior season he was selected to the Northwest California all-star team which played in San Francisco. Following that game he was selected to take part in a camp in Oakland, Calif., along with 110 other players.

"The scouts were at this camp and they selected two of us," Hank was selected by the Baltimore Orioles to play on their A league team in Albuquerque, N.M. in the summer of 1952.

Hank spent the next two years of his life in the Army where he went to Korea to fight. In 1955 he returned to Albuquerque where he went 15-14 from the mound.

He transferred to the California State League - a stronger league than A-ball, and Hank went 12-9 the following season. "I got invited to play triple A ball in 1957 in Vancouver, Wash. with spring training in Riverside, Calif. but I got traded to the Chicago White Sox organization and was sent to asked if I would consider coming to Wayne to pitch once a week and play first base and right field during the other days," Hank said. "Plus, they told me that I could work for Otte Construction which would help supplement my income."

Hank did return to the Basin League in Yankton--for two weeks, before he decided to return to Wayne. "The amount of travel involved in the Basin League was more than I wanted so I returned to Wayne," Hank said. "I liked it here very much and decided to return the following summer ('59), where I was offered the Wayne Summer Rec position for boys baseball."

(Hank's wife who grew up just a few miles from Carmel on the Monterey peninsula) and I were talking about the boys that had nothing to do after school so we started a Boys Club," Overin said. "It was located where Pat's Beauty Salon is now and it was for freshman through senior boys to come to after school."

It was open from 4-7 p.m. and kids could play ping pong, pool, pinball, and other table games. I got the idea from a place back in Carmel called the Bing Crosby Youth Center and figured something similar would be nice for Wayne."

It was also in 1963 that the City of Wayne approached Hank about taking over as a full-time Rec Director. "That decision took me all of about two minutes," Hank said. "This position allowed me to make up programs for the city that were approved by the Rec Board, which is how we've implemented the programs we now have."

Hank was living the life he'd dreamed about since the days he volunteered to help out with the Carmel Mission Catholic School.

"I used to coach the football and basketball teams from the Mission School while I was going to school," Hank said. "I was lining and marking the football fields when I was in eighth grade."

Hank said he even served mass during the middle of the week for the Mission School and he wasn't even Catholic.

During the time Hank was busy working with Otte Construction and coaching baseball, Glenda was working as society editor for the Wayne Herald for a year, and she spent time working part time for Wittig's Grocery Store.

"I worked part time while we were raising our children Earle and Julie," Glenda said. "In 1963 the Boy Scouts gave up working the concession stand at the ball games so Hank and I talked it over and, since I was at all the games the tapes and manuals on how to be the best in every sport. However, parents are also watching these tapes and are trying to be their own child's coach which is just leaving many of them confused."

Hank gets a kick out of coaching the kids of the kids he coached many years ago. During his tenure in Wayne, Hank has coached two families where each of the boys has won a state championship jacket.

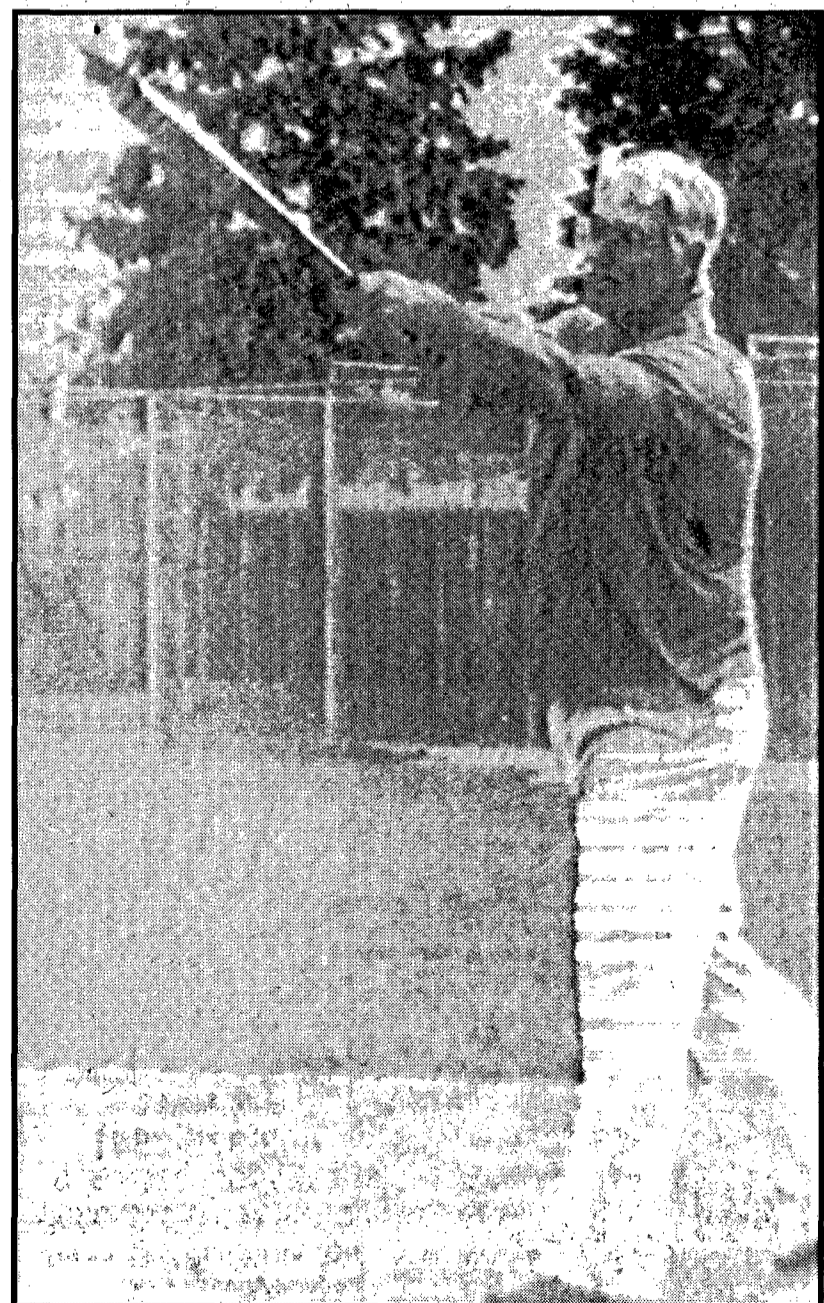

Don, Jerry, and Mike Meyer, the sons of Edna, and the late Don Meyer along with Don, Rick, and Randy Helgren have each earned state championships. Hank also coached a father and his two sons to state tournament berths with Rod Jorgensen and sons Jeff and Jason.

"I believe in having fun at my job," Hank said. "I love coaching after we've gone. We plan on moving to Florida permanently when I get finished coaching but we will visit Wayne as our yearly vacation spot."

Hank and Glenda's children currently reside in the following places: Earle, a 1975 grad of Wayne High lives in the Monterey Peninsula in California with his wife Terry and their sons Henry Clay Overin IV and Lucas, Julie, a 1977 grad of Wayne High resides in Denver, Colo. and Steve, a 1985 grad of Wayne High resides in Orlando, Fla.

No matter when Hank steps down, his legacy will be a part of Wayne athletics for generations to come. He has earned the rite of passage into the hearts and minds of thousands of youth who will in turn pass the torch.

Hank hits a few balls during the softball game held during the Hank Day celebration.

Celebrate Hank Day

A fund raiser to assist with Hank Overin's medical expenses will be held in Wayne on Saturday, Sept. 10 from 4 to 8 p.m. at Hank Overin Memorial Field. It will include a free-will donation supper, silent auction and games. A short program will be held at 7 p.m.

Wayne County District Court office perform administrative duties

(Editor's note: the following story is third in a series on the functions of the Wayne County offices)

The Wayne County District Court Office is located on the second floor of the Wayne County Courthouse. Deb Allemann-Dannelly, Clerk of the District Court, and Ellen Carlson, Deputy, work together in performing administrative duties associated with the court. There are two judges for the Nebraska 7th Judicial District, Judge Patrick Rogers of Norfolk and Judge Robert Ensz of Wayne, who is the primary judge for Wayne County.

The Clerk of the District Court is elected every four years with the only requirement that the person must be a resident of Wayne County. Allemann-Dannelly began her term in January of 2003. Carlson was appointed as Deputy in 1973.

District Courts have original jurisdiction in all felony cases, equity cases and domestic relations cases and civil cases where the amount in controversy involves more than $51,000. District courts also function as appellate courts in deciding appeals from certain county case types and various administrative agencies. When acting as an appellate court, the District Judges review the county court records of testimony and evidence in order to rule on the appeal.

There are many responsibilities in the District Court office which includes receiving and filing papers, issuing all necessary notices such as summons, keeping records, filing protection and harassment order cases, and maintaining monthly, quarterly and yearly reports. This office is also responsible for money that comes into the court such as spousal support, restitution, garnishments, fines, probations costs and court costs. After court, which is held the first Wednesday of the month, the staff is responsible for entering all judgments, orders and decrees of the court on the Justice system. The Justice system is a state-wide court case management system that is used by the courts. In a 2004 report from Lincoln, District court filings have increased in eight of the past 10 years. In 2004, 42,605 new cases were filed in the district courts. Domestic relations cases accounted for 25,269 of these filings with 8,690 felony criminal filings and 7,268 civil cases. In addition, district judges conducted appellate reviews on 1,378 cases that originated either in the county courts or in a variety of other administrative tribunals. Case filings have risen approximately 1,000 cases per year for the past several years.

District court also houses a public access computer which can be used during business hours of 8:30 a.m. to 5 p.m., Monday through Friday.

The Clerk of the District Court noted that one area that the public seems interested in is how the jury pool is attained for Wayne County. First, the Clerk of the District Court also serves as the Jury Commissioner not only for District Court but also for County Court. Several years ago, a new state law came into effect requiring counties to select a new jury pool each year.

So once a year, the county sends a list of registered voters over the age of 19, along with a list of licensed drivers over the age of 19 to Lincoln where the lists are combined, and duplicate names deleted. With that updated list, all registered voters and licensed drivers from Wayne County are eligible to be included in the jury pool.

Once all the names are grouped together, the names are numbered and then a key number from one to nine is picked by the District Judge. Names with the number ending in that digit are then used for the jury pool for the year. For example, if the number is three, numbers called would be 3, 13, 23, 33, etc. Members on a jury panel who are called in as potential jurors are paid $35 a day plus 40 1/2 cents a mile for mileage. There has been one jury trial in district court and one in county court. Responsibilities for the Jury Commissioner include updating the jury pool and sending out jury questionnaires on an annual basis, keeping records of active and exempt potential jurors, mailing out summons for jury duty and/or witnesses and keeping records of attendance and mileage.

Taking applications for passports is also part of the duties of the Clerk of the District Court's office. People are encouraged to call or stop by the office if they have any questions as to what is needed to obtain a passport. Normally it takes six weeks to process an application, unless it is expedited, then the general rule is three weeks.

In the past, the District Court office was also responsible for all the Naturalization and Declaration of Intent records. However, due to the fact that the records were in very bad shape, they have all been transferred to the Nebraska State Historical Society office in Lincoln to help preserve such important information.

Allemann-Dannelly has been a resident of Wayne County since 1968 and has two children, Dustin Allemann, who is the Assistant Manager at Sartor Hamann Jewelers in Lincoln and Benjamin, who is a sophomore at the University of Nebraska-Kearney. Her husband, Dennis Dannelly, is self-employed at Loup Valley Insurance Services in Genoa. They are members of Grace Lutheran Church in Wayne.

Carlson was born and raised in Wayne County and is married to Dennis Carlson, who is employed at Waldbaums. They have three grown children. Doug, who works as a welder at Heritage Industries, lives south of Wakefield with his wife, Elizabeth and family. Mike, who is a probation officer in Dakota City, lives with his wife, Lisa, and their family in Ponca. And, Lori Peterson, who is an Assistant Vice President of Fidelity Bank, lives with her husband, Don, in Rockford, Minn. Dennis and Ellen are members of the Covenant Church in Wakefield.

Anti-Meth law became effective on Sept. 4

The State of Nebraska's new comprehensive anti-methamphetamine law went into affect on Sept. 4, 2005.

The law requires all pseudoephedrine-based products except liquid pediatric formulations to be placed behind the counter or in an area otherwise inaccessible to purchasers without the assistance of a retail seller. The law limits the amount of pseudoephedrine base a person can buy in any 24-hour period to 1440 milligrams and requires purchasers and sellers to be at least 18 years of age. The law also requires purchasers to show a valid ID card at the time of purchase.

Common in cold and allergy medication, pseudoephedrine is a key ingredient used to manufacture methamphetamine.

Liquid pediatric formulations of pseudoephedrine-based products designed and manufactured for children 12 years of age and under and containing a dosage of 15 milligrams or less of pseudoephedrine will be allowed to remain on store shelves until such products are found at a methamphetamine-manufacturing site.

If liquid pediatric formulations are found at a methamphetamine-manufacturing site, the Chief Medical Officer of the Nebraska Health and Human Services System will issue an order requiring pediatric liquids formulations to be placed behind the counter. The Nebraska State Patrol will work with retailers to implement the order, which would become effective 60 days from issuance.

"This new law is designed to put meth labs out of business," said Colonel Bryan Tuma, Superintendent of the Nebraska State Patrol. "It is not designed to keep law abiding citizens from getting the medicine they need to battle colds and allergies. The Nebraska State Patrol is committed to working with citizens and law enforcement to interpret and enforce this important public safety initiative."

The new law also strengthens the criminal penalties for meth manufacturers and dealers, equating its production and sales with that of cocaine.

Jerry Lewis' MDA Telethon appealed for hurricane relief

Legendary comedian Jerry Lewis' annual Labor Day Telethon benefiting the Muscular Dystrophy Association also featured celebrity fund-raising appeals for the relief efforts in the aftermath of Hurricane Katrina. He also announced that MDA will donate $1 million of its funds to help victims in Louisiana, Mississippi and Alabama.

Lewis said stars of music, movies, comedy and other fields were recruited to make appeals for hurricane relief during the first four and last four hours of the 21 1/2-hour broadcast. The show began on Sunday and ended on Monday. A special 800 number was used for the hurricane donations, with all proceeds going to the Salvation Army's efforts in the stricken states.

"While the needs of 'my kids' are with us all year round, Hurricane Katrina is a national disaster on a scale that's difficult to comprehend," Lewis said. "We simply couldn't ignore the need to help. We already have the infrastructure in place."

"If I've learned anything in the more than 50 years that I've led MDA, it's that the generosity of the American people knows no bounds," he said. "I'm sure that with their fellow citizens in such dire need, they'll dig deep and do everything they can to help. I'm hopeful that many people will be willing to make two phone calls and donate to both causes."

This was the 40th year for the MDA Telethon, which is being broadcast live from The Beverly Hilton in Beverly Hills, Calif., on nearly 200 "Love Network" stations.

Last year's Telethon raised $59.4 million to support the Association's programs of research and services benefiting more than one million Americans affected by neuromuscular diseases.

American Red Cross Disaster assistance is free, made possible by voluntary donations of time and money from the American people.

Area residents can help the thousands of victims from Hurricane Katrina by making a financial gift to the American Red Cross matching funds by Thrivent. Local donations are also being taken at Security National Bank in Laurel.

Other ways to donate are through the public website: www.redcross.org, where you can also find up-to-the minute facts Disaster Relief Fund. This enables the Red Cross to provide shelter, food, clothing, and counseling assistance to those in need.

The Dixon County 4-H Clubs are coordinating a benefit at the Dixon County Fair Grounds near Concord on Sunday, Sept. 18 from 4:30 until 7 p.m. All proceeds will be donated to the American Red Cross.

The evening will include a picnic supper and local entertainment. A free will donation will be taken and about the Red Cross efforts in regards to the hurricane disaster relief assistance. Residents can also call 1-800-HELP-NOW to make a donation by phone. Donations may also be mailed to: The American Red Cross Disaster Response Fund at P.O. Box 37243, Washington, DC 20013.

Please make all checks out to the American Red Cross.

Special blessing

Wayne State College students, staff members and numerous others attended the dedication of the Catholic Newman Center last week. Above, the crowd listens as Archbishop Eldon Francis Curtiss gave a blessing. At left, Sr. Cynthia Hruby, ND, Catholic Minister, spoke to those in attendance as officers of the Catholic Newman Club carried out various rolls in the ceremony. The Center is located at 317 East 10th Street.

PEACE DORCAS SOCIETY

The Dorcas Society of Peace United Church of Christ met at the church on Sept. 1 with Christine Lueker as hostess.

President Shirley Mann presided and read from Psalm 25. Pastor Olin Belt gave the opening prayer. Nine members and one guest, Ramona Puls, answered roll call. They welcomed Ramona as a new member.

The hostess' favorite hymn, "An Evening Prayer," was sung. The birthday song was sung for Pastor Belt, Shirley Mann and Ramona Puls.

The secretary's and treasurer's reports were read and approved. A donation was made to Kamp Kaleo from proceeds at the Fenske sale.

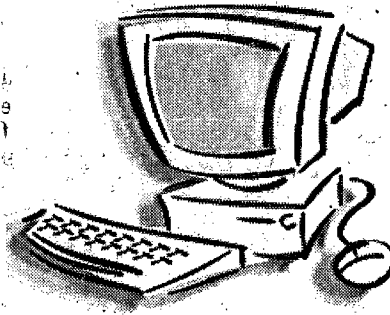

Ladies of Peace Church received an invitation to Guest Day at Computer collections were held

Area residents, schools, government agencies and businesses in northeast Nebraska had the opportunity to give old, outdated computers the old heave-ho when the Northeast Nebraska RC&D and Keep Northeast Nebraska Beautiful organized two used computer collections recently.

One collection was held in Hartington on Aug. 19 at the Cedar County Fairgrounds and the other on Aug. 5 in Pierce at the Pierce County Fairgrounds. The collections were aided by a total of seven volunteers including RC&D Council representatives and staff.

Both waste computer collections were well attended and approximately 26,000 pounds of technology equipment were collected and will be reused or properly recycled. In addition to helping get rid of the bulky equipment, proper collection and disposal of computer components rids the environment of potential chemical contamination that can lead to human illness. Material that is unusable is tested and donated to non-profits or sold.

Other material that can be recovered during computer equipment collections include plastics, metals, leaded and non-leaded glass, circuit boards, power supplies and drives. Electronics Recyclers, Inc. of Omaha was awarded the bid.

Expenses were covered by a grant from the Nebraska Department of Environmental Quality's Waste Reduction and Recycling Grant Program and donations of $5 for each computer monitor brought in.

Trinity Lutheran Church of Winside on Sept. 14.

Final plans were made for their Guest Day on Thursday, Oct. 6. The program is entitled "Quilted with Love."

Mary Jochens brought a prayer quilt that was tied and will be given to Duane Hansen.

Mission Sunday will be in October.

The Bible Study was Isaiah, Chapter 61.

Shirley Mann will be the November hostess.

ZION LADIES AID

Zion Lutheran East Ladies Aid and LWML met Sept. 1 with six members and Pastor Riege present.

Christian Life Chairman Joyce Saegebarth read an article "Weakness Workout." Pastor Riege's topic was "What About Creation and Evolution?"

President Diane Koepke opened the meeting. A moment of silence was observed in memory of Lorena Weich who passed away on Aug. 19.

The minutes of the Aug. 4 meeting were read and approved. The treasurer's report was read, approved and filed.

The Card Committee sent one cheer card and one sympathy card.

A thank you from the family of Lorena Weich was read.

A reminder was given for the LWML District Retreat to be held at Camp Luther on Sept. 17.

Delegates to Fall Event on Oct. 8 at Mt. Olive in Norfolk will be LaVerda Kruger, Ione Fahrenholz, Inez Freeman and Joyce Saegebarth.

It was reported that 96 persons were served at the Weich funeral.

Volunteers are needed to help serve Meals on Wheels from the Senior Center in Pierce the last half of September.

LWML Sunday will be observed on Oct. 2.

Those on the Altar Guild for September are Inez Freeman, Barb Hegr, Elaine Ehlers and Edna Herbolshemer. Inez Freeman will be in charge of flowers.

Elaine Ehlers served as hostess. The meeting closed with The Lord's Prayer and table prayer. Inez and LaVerda won plate prizes.

Three more quilts were tied.

The next meeting will be held Thursday, Oct. 6 at 1:30 p.m.

Down payment assistance available for homeowners

The Wayne Community Housing Development Corporation (WCHDC) works with eligible homebuyers to identify older housing stock that are in need of improvement to bring them in line with current housing standards.

WCHDC will purchase the property, perform the necessary improvements in cooperation with the family's wishes and resell the residence to the family with up to 20 percent down payment assistance to help make the first mortgage financing possible.

Requirements for the HPRR program are as follows:

- $1000 minimum in improvement to qualify;
- Homebuyer must meet income eligibility requirements;
- First mortgage financing, and
- Must attend a 12-hour homebuyers' education workshop. WCHDC has two programs available for participants with the following income guidelines:

Program I
1 person - $29,400; 2 persons - $33,600; 3 persons - $37,800; four persons - $42,000; five persons - $45,350; six persons - $48,700; seven persons - $52,100; eight persons - $55,450.

Program II
One person - $36,700; two persons - $42,000; three persons - $47,200; four persons - $52,500; five persons - $56,600; six persons - $60,800; seven persons - $65,000; eight persons - $69,200.

This program has limited funding and assistance will be granted on a first-come, first-served basis. Anyone interested in the HPRR program is asked to call Della Pries at the Wayne Community Housing Development Corporation at (402) 375-5266.

All business is done in accordance with the Federal Fair Housing Law.

Schultz named Director of ABE

Nancy Schultz of Bloomfield has begun her new duties as Director of Adult Basic Education (ABE) at Northeast Community College in Norfolk.

As the ABE director, Schultz will oversee Northeast's Adult Basic Education program in the college's 20-county service area. Her responsibilities also include administration of the ABE staff, establishment of ABE sites, management of classroom facilities, and selection of materials. She will also be responsible for financial accountability for the disposition of federal funds, initiation of grant proposals, and state reports. Other duties include supervision of all General Educational Development (GED) testing and all non-credit English As A Second Language (ESL) classes in Northeast's 20-county area.

A graduate of South Sioux City High School and Morningside College, she holds a master of business administration degree from Wayne State College. She worked for North Star Services, an adult developmental disability organization in Bloomfield, for 22 years as area director and then as quality assurance director.

Same songs... new verse...
Some melodies... just never go out of style. We still recognize the notes of classic tunes as soon as they come on the radio. A few add a new twist or verse to make it more relevant to today's lifestyle.

Window coverings... are similar in many ways to those classic songs. Many styles are familiar to us, but added functions or colors make them more in line with our busy multi-tasking lifestyles.

For Example... horizontal and wood blinds are well established products but continue to update textures, designs, and slat sizes as well as options of being cordless or motorized.

Shades... including cellular and pleated are offering options that are cordless, continuous cord-loop controls, top-down bottom up, blackout and dual shades that combine sheer fabrics with opaque fabrics.

Stop... into our showroom to see the newest updates first hand...but excuse the dust during our expansion. Exciting new products and displays are being added to bring the latest to our area.

Local grocery stores are celebrating National 5 A Day Month

Northeast Nebraska Public Health Department has teamed up with Nebraska Health and Human Services and local grocery stores to bring the 5 A Day healthy eating campaign to our area.
A local and national coloring contest for kids, free recipes, and fruit and vegetable specials will be available throughout the month at Wakefield Fair Store, Wayne Quality Food Center, Wayne Pac N Save, Hartington Foodtown and Winnabago Heritage Food Store. Special events with a time to "Ask the Dietician", free samples of various fruits and vegetables, and free nutrition information will be held at the following locations: Winnabago Heritage Food Store, Friday, Sept. 9 from 10-2:00, Hartington Foodtown, Thursday, Sept. 15 from 9:30-12:30, and Wayne Pac N Save, Sat. Sept. 24 from 10:30-2:30.

Stef Sjuts, the wellness coordinator for Affiliated foods, will also be visiting the grocery stores at the following times: Hartington Foodtown on Sept. 22, 10-noon, Wakefield Fair Store Sept. 22, 1:30-3:30, and Wayne Pac N Save Sept. 23 from 11:30-1:30. She will be providing tips for choosing produce, guidance on reading the food labels and advice on plate portion control.

The 5 A Day for Better Health program was developed in 1991 as a partnership between the National Cancer Institute and the Produce for Better Health Foundation. This unique partnership has been successful in increasing both the awareness of the health benefits of fruits and vegetables and their consumption.

Research shows that good nutrition lowers people's risk for many chronic diseases, including heart disease, stroke, some types of cancer, diabetes, and osteoporosis. A diet rich in fruits and vegetables is one of the best ways to maintain good health. If there's anything close to being "proven" in nutrition research, it's that eating lots of fruits and vegetables reduces the risk of heart disease, some types of cancer and other chronic diseases.

Nebraska's fruit and vegetable intake is in a slump. Fewer than one in five high school aged and older Nebraska residents eat five servings of fruits and vegetables per day. Nebraska adults rank poorly in five a day consumption compared to all 54 U.S. states and territories, ranking fifth lowest in 2003.

Overweight and obesity are increasing at epidemic proportion both in Nebraska and the nation, a clear reflection of physical inactivity and unhealthy eating. Between 1990 and 2003, obesity among Nebraska adults more than doubled, increasing from 11.6 percent to 23.9 percent. One in four Nebraska adults (23.9 percent) is obese, and three in five or 60.9 percent is either overweight or obese.

Take charge of your health today. Take The 5 A Day Challenge by monitoring what you eat for an entire week to see if you are eating at least five servings of fruits and vegetables every day.

Also, thank your local grocery store for providing a choice of healthy fruits and vegetables, whether fresh, frozen or canned. Funding for this campaign is provided by Nebraska Cardiovascular Health Program and Comprehensive Cancer Control Program, Northeast Nebraska Public Health Dept. and the local grocery stores.

Youth learn by teaching 4-H presentations to others

I spent my weekend at the State Fair working with 4-H members who had earned the opportunity to present their 4-H presentations at the state level.

What a great experience! All the youth were selected to represent their counties so the best participants from across the state gathered for this event.

Several categories were available for the youth to share the knowledge gained through their 4-H work. In the traditional format, youth have the opportunity to tell or show about something they have learned using posters as their visuals. The past few years the youth have been able to use a power point presentation in place of posters, to enhance their posters. The past two years, youth have also had the option to do their presentations entirely through a power point presentation. In this category, older 4-H members who are part of the state technology team, serve as judges for the event. But no matter what form is used, the 4-H members do a great job of selecting important topics, organizing their information and then planning their strategy to teach that information to others through their demonstration or presentation.

Youth from age 10 to 19 bring their posters, computers, dogs, sheep, foods, and a variety of other items to teach others what they have learned. It is always an interesting event with a great deal of tion and find interesting and effective ways to communicate their knowledge. Then they had to develop the presentation skills to stand in front of the group to tell their stories. What a great learning experience! It is one that will help all the young people as they continue through school and will help many of them with presentations they will need to do in their future careers.

It was great to see all the families come in with the youth to give them moral support and encouragement, as well as to share the positive recognition with the youth as they received their ribbons, rewards, and praise from the judges.

I learned so much this weekend, and once again, saw the successes of the 4-H members when they "learn by doing" and have a great opportunity to share their knowledge with others and work with other family members as part of the process. Youth have the opportunity to gain important life skills as they learn, relate their learning to others, and set goals. Four-H provides youth with so many important life skills. Thanks to all the youth who took time to teach others the skills they learned, and also to their families as they supported the youth and allowed them to expand their skills by participating in the events at the Nebraska State Fair.

For more information about this excellent learning opportunity, please contact the local UNL Extension Office.

variety. This year we heard all about counting carbs from a 10 year old diabetic. We also learned how to give a baby a bath, with a very cooperative baby brother assisting. We learned about electronic identification of animals, identity theft and internet addiction. We learned the perils of riding horses alone from a young lady who had a bad accident when she had gone riding her horse by herself without taking the safety precautions she now teaches to others.

We also heard about the health risks of being in the sun, and from another member, we learned how to keep in shape. We even had a great demonstration about improving our golf game. Some wise young people were also able to give us tips on handling stress, planning balanced menus using the new food pyramid, using digital cameras and taking award winning pictures. Dog obedience and quilting were among the other presentations. And of course, there was the presentation on how to wash and groom your pig to show at the fair. Altogether, about 125 presentations were given this weekend.

In addition to learning about their subjects, the youth had to plan and organize their informa-

Our Savior to note anniversary

The Wayne community is invited to a barbeque and concert on Saturday, Sept. 17 as Our Savior Church celebrates its 10th birthday.

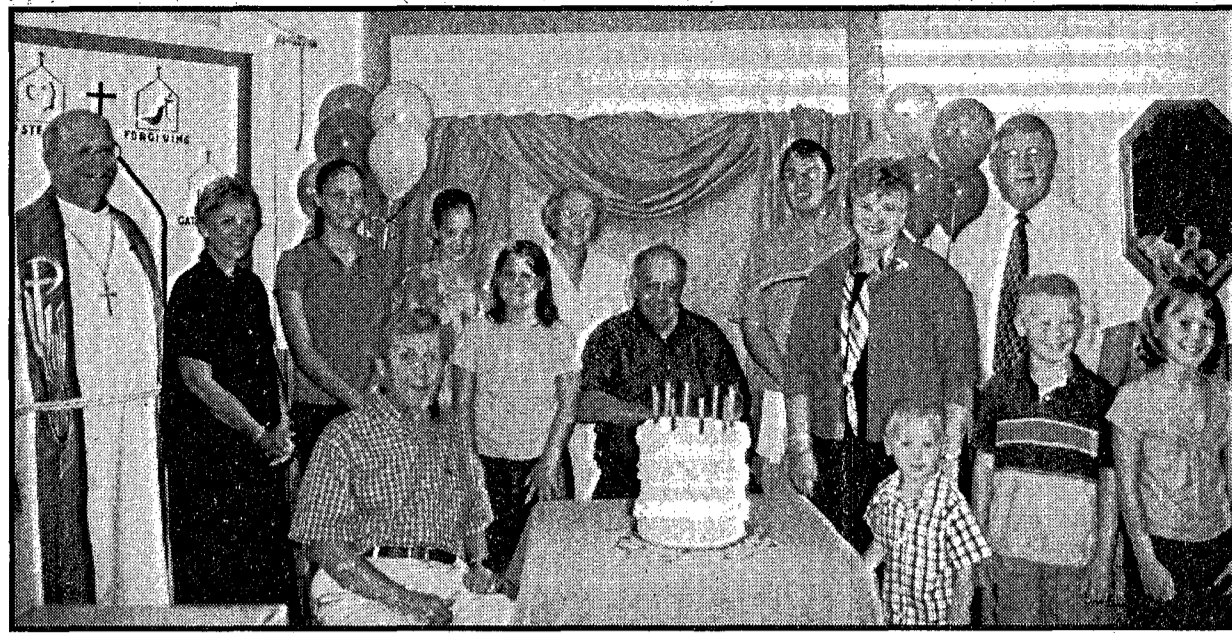

Burgers and all the fixings will be served up on the church's south lawn from 5:30 to 7:30 p.m. A free-will offering will be accepted with proceeds going to the Red Cross aid for victims of Hurricane Katrina.

A concert of local talent will be held from 6 to 8 p.m. Fourth Street will be blocked off between Main and Pearl Streets for the stage and bench seating. Those attending are also encouraged to bring their favorite chair or blanket for seating on the grass. A complete listing of performers can be seen on flyers posted in local businesses.

Bill Koeber, Our Savior's Senior Pastor said, "We want to give thanks and celebrate together with the Wayne community the wonder ways God has blessed us our first 10 years, so that we can be a blessing to others."

Our Savior Lutheran Church was founded in 1995 when Redeemer and St. Paul's Lutheran Churches joined. The church offers both traditional and contemporary worship services. A number of small groups provide opportunities for community service and spiritual growth.

The public is being encouraged to mark their calendars for this event and join in the birthday party of music, food and fun.

An inter-generational group of members of Our Savior Lutheran Church gathered recently in preparation for the celebration of the church's 10th birthday.

You Can Stay in the Area for Cataract Surgery... So You Can Focus on the Little Things.

Primary Eye Care

Cataracts affect over 80% of our senior citizens. In fact over one million cataract surgeries are performed annually in the U.S. alone.

New technological developments in implants, ultrasonic equipment, lasers, diagnostic testing, and surgical techniques have made cataract surgery one of the most effective procedures today. Currently, over 98% of cataract patients experience significant improvements in vision, without major complications.

Until now, the high cost of this new technology for cataract surgery was only available in the larger surgical facilities. This meant that you would have to travel for a complete eye examination and surgery. Not any longer.

Complete eye care and cataract surgery is now available at Providence Medical Center in Wayne. You don't have to travel outside of your community to have your vision tested for cataracts. With Dr. Willcockson, Dr. Koeber and Dr. Magnuson offering comprehensive diagnostic and surgical services, you now have the most advanced eye care available right here in town.

Call Dr. Koeber or Dr. Magnuson for a complete eye examination and cataract vision screening today. If you would like more information on cataracts for yourself or someone you know who may be experiencing loss of vision, call today for a free informational brochure.

The Northeast Nebraska RC&D is helping to observe the importance of the 375 RC&D Councils around the country and their role in cooperative conservation.

An historic three-day conference began Aug. 29 to talk about ways to share ideas and develop effective approaches to cooperative conservation. The White House stated that President Bush wants to ensure that the federal government listens to local citizens concerns and ideas and works closely with them in restoring and conserving the natural heritage of the land.

Local RC&D Councils carry out cooperative and innovate conservation projects that care for natural resources, support economic development and enhance the environment as well as trying to improve the standard of living in local communities. Examples of cooperative conservation projects in this area are the Scrap Tire Events, Waste Computer Collections, and the Weed Management Area efforts.

The Northeast Nebraska RC&D has collected 201 tons of scrap tires and over 26,000 lbs. of waste computer equipment that has all been properly recycled. They're working on controlling noxious and invasive weeds through the Northeast Nebraska Weed Management Area by putting out biological control insects and chemically controlling Salt Cedar.

Resources Conservation Service organizations made up of community volunteers that work in partnership with USDA's Natural program provides an ideal way for residents to join together to decide what is best for their community. Contact RC&D office, 582-4866.

Methodist youth complete Mission Trip

Seven youth from the First United Methodist Church, one youth from Our Savior, and their three adult leaders spent a week in Kansas City working with Habitat for Humanity.

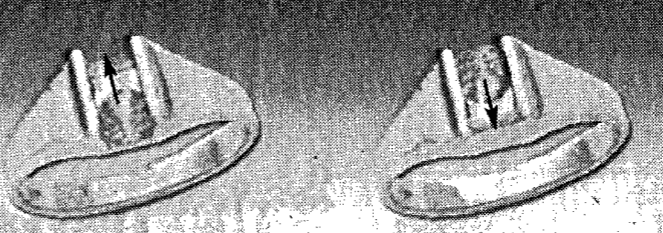

The group left Wayne on Aug. 8 for Kansas City. They spent the week at a United Methodist church in Platte Woods, a northern suburb of Kansas City and worked Tuesday through Friday. They spent most of their time working to re-hab a Habitat house to get it ready for new owners. Work consisted of some demolition, spackling, painting, and cleaning up the yard.

The youth also spent an afternoon helping to get rebar into the basement of a new house in preparation for the concrete pour of the basement floor. It was quite warm in Kansas City with afternoon temperatures hitting 98° degrees one afternoon.

Saturday was a fun day at Worlds of Fun/Oceans of Fun. According to those on the trip, "although the fun was cut short by thunderstorms, it was a great day of relaxation." The group went to a worship service Sunday morning and then headed home.

Habitat for Humanity Kansas City was founded in 1979, making it the 7th chapter founded in the United States. They approve approximately 50 applications for families and build 7-12 homes per year. Most homes are new construction but they do re-hab some homes. Typical price for a new home is $60,000-75,000.

Feeling fortunate after seeing sad scenes from the south

The garbage truck has already been by, and now I hear the sound of lawn mowing. We are gradually getting used to city amenities. And after watching TV and reading the paper all week, we are feeling very, very fortunate.

I knew that people were buried above ground in New Orleans, for good reason, but I did not realize that the whole city was below sea level. And, furthermore, sinking one inch a year. How did it happen that the city was even built there?

I have a friend who was once a traveling nurse and worked at Charity Hospital in that city. That's the hospital that was apparently the last one evacuated. Even when she worked there, many years ago, there were bars on the windows and long lines for the emergency room every night.

I can't imagine what the medical staff in any of the hospitals and nursing homes has been through. I think the worst thing we ever had in Norfolk was moving folks for tornado warnings. And, of course, we all went through the great ice storm in October, 1997, but the facilities all had generators.

I have a good friend and classmate in Houston, who remembers that flood just a few years ago. I think the biggest thing those hospitals lost were patient records. I count that as nothing compared to the loss of life we are hearing about.

When the BTK murderer in Topeka was finally put away, I could not believe that he had been the chairman of his church. Somewhere, I read that his pastor visits him at the jail, saying "seminary never prepared me for anything like this."

We have a new associate pastor, straight from the recent graduating class at the sem. He has a classmate in Baton Rouge in a congregation much the size of ours, and that is good-sized. The head pastor is in Russia, teaching at a seminary. Their church and school has become a location for families displaced at the time of the original evacuation. Again, seminary never prepared for anything like this. Our school is collecting back packs, school supplies, and hygiene articles. It feels good to have a specific task. One can feel overwhelmed by the staggering needs.

The Farmer's Wife
By: Pat Meierhenry

Friends in West Point sponsored a family of Vietnamese refugees thirty years ago. They have relocated to New Orleans, where the climate is much like theirs, and built homes and businesses. They are refugees again. We have heard that they are all safe, but they are starting over—again.

We are feeling blessed to have air conditioning, showers, hot coffee, and refrigerated food. But it always brings home to me how interconnected we all are; how disasters in one area of our country affect all of the rest of us. We just take for granted that the flow of gas and goods will not be interrupted; and it can be, so quickly. I'm also very glad right now that we have moved closer to our doctors, work, and businesses. Praise be!

A farmer north of Hadar says he was flooded out in 1969. The government came to offer help; they were going to meetings when they needed to be cleaning up. He got a low interest loan and $5000 forgiveness. The next year, he paid it off because the rules were so cumbersome, he couldn't farm! He says his advice to the folks in the south would be, "forget the government and do what you can on your own."

Nebraska Crop Surveillance Network explained

Starting last summer a group of Extension Educators throughout eastern Nebraska started the Nebraska Crop Surveillance Network. Each educator scouts one soybean field once a week to monitor for soybean diseases and insects. Each week those results are added via the web to a webpage. The information on the webpage is available to the public to monitor insect numbers, and disease outbreaks in your area.

To access the web site go to NCSN@unl.edu choose insect or disease information, year (2004 or 2005) then your nearest county will give you a graphical representation of what has happened in each field. Bean leaf beetle infestations happen about 3 times a year and having an idea of when they are happening in your area can help with scouting.

The surveillance network has added another unexpected benefit to Nebraska. The NCSN team was a perfect group already in place to scout for soybean rust. Educators already in the field scouting for other diseases and insects have added rust as a disease to look for. We all hope to not see it, but if we do we should be in place to have an early identification.

Other issues are out there for your consideration include Roundup Ready alfalfa. With its approval, it will now be available but at what cost? High is the answer and use of RR alfalfa may be left to those with a specific plan, according to Bruce Anderson UNL forage specialist Roundup Ready alfalfa won't be right for everyone. This fall, enough seed will be available for about 75,000 acres nationwide.

F. John Pries, Extension Educator

Roundup Ready alfalfa will be expensive, with a technology fee of $2.50 per pound or $125 per 50-pound bag in addition to the regular price of top-of-the-line alfalfa seed. The seed only will be available in top-of-the-line varieties.

The new alfalfa will be an easy weed solution in places that consistently have problems with weeds when establishing new stands. However, Roundup Ready alfalfa probably will be used more frequently to help solve special problems. Such problems might include bluegrass in irrigated alfalfa, mustards and downy brome in spring growth, curly dock or late season waterhemp growth, or trouble with summer grasses such as foxtail, crabgrass and sandburs.

Because of the cost, Roundup

Ready alfalfa will be most suitable when intended for use in higher value situations, such as for dairy or horse hay. By eliminating weeds, it will be easier for growers to produce this hay and capitalize on these cash hay markets.

Roundup Ready alfalfa also may help extend stand life by eliminating weeds, especially winter annual weeds, that hurt alfalfa stands the most.

Consider the costs, consider the benefits and then maybe wait a couple of years to jump in with more than a few acres.

John Hay can be reached by phone at (402) 329-4821 or by e-mail at jhay2@unl.edu

Local farm manager earns highest professional status

Dan Pries, with Farmers National Company in Wayne has recently been awarded the Accredited Farm Manager (A.F.M.) designation from the American Society of Farm Managers and Rural Appraisers (ASFMRA).

Pries' A.F.M. designation demonstrates that he meets stringent education and experience requirements, has passed rigorous oral and written examinations and maintains the highest standards of integrity, professionalism, competence and ethics. He joins a select 36 percent of the ASFMRA membership who have received, and maintain through continuing education, the Accredited status.

"We are pleased with Pries' commitment to professional excellence and his dedication to providing superior farm management services," said Tom Boyer, A.F.M., A.R.A., ASFMRA President. "By receiving this designation, clients, associates and industry peers can easily recognize Pries' personal investment in his career and dedication to maintaining an exceptional degree of knowledge and skill."

Accredited Farm Managers are specifically educated and experienced in agricultural management and understand efficient production and profitable marketing by focusing on procedure, analysis, critical thinking and innovation. Farm Managers have specialized expertise in production, business, environmental issues and government activities. In addition, an Accredited Farm Manager is directly connected to an international network of professionals and leaders in the industry.

The ASFMRA is the recognized leader as an international organization for professionals who provide management, consultation and valuation services on agricultural and rural assets. Its focus is to create and maintain a professionally trained group of Accredited Farm Managers (A.F.M.), Accredited Rural Appraiser (A.R.A.), Real Property Appraisers (R.P.R.A.) and Accredited Agricultural Consultants (A.A.C.), who are capable of providing expert guidance and assistance to people who own and/or operate agricultural lands and rural resource properties.

MS Walks mark summer's end

Two sure signs summer is ending in Northeast Nebraska are the MS Walks in Norfolk and Wayne on Saturday, Sept. 10.

The Nebraska Chapter MS Walks presented by Blue Cross Blue Shield of Nebraska will take place at Bel-Air School, 1101 North 18th Street in Norfolk with registration at 8 a.m.

The Norfolk walk starts at 9 a.m. following a route for 2 to 8 miles around the lake, according to Norfolk MS Walk Coordinator Ken Merkel.

In Wayne, registration begins at 8:30 a.m. at the Eagles Club, 209 Main Street, according to coordinator Tracy Gamble. The Wayne MS Walkers will go from the Eagles Club to Henry Victor Park and then along the hiking trail to the softball complex and back to the park. Rides will be available for those who cannot make the 3.3-mile walk, according to Ms. Gamble.

Funds raised by the event will help the National Multiple Sclerosis Society end the devastating effects of multiple sclerosis by supporting research and providing patient assistance programs.

The goal is to raise more than $10,000 and to involve at least 75 persons in this year's Norfolk Walk. While in Wayne, Walk organizers hope to have 35 walkers raising $3,200.

Registration forms are available at many area businesses in both Norfolk and Wayne, and can be picked up at the Norfolk Sunset Plaza Food Court, 1700 Market Street and at the Norfolk Chamber of Commerce and the library.

In Wayne, registration forms are at Wayne State College and at the Wayne Chamber of Commerce.

A minimum donation of $25 is requested. The local walk raises money to provide support to approximately 65 persons in the Norfolk/Wayne area who have been diagnosed with multiple sclerosis.

Organizations and businesses are encouraged to assemble teams to raise money and walk for the cause. Gamble encourages school groups, as well as sororities and fraternities to form teams and to engage in healthy competition to see who can raise the most money to fight MS. Both Merkel and Gamble welcome individual walkers to join the events.

Merkel, who has MS, will cover the Norfolk 8-mile route with his scooter. Gamble's father had multiple sclerosis and passed away about 10 years ago.

"I never saw my father walk without an aid," Gamble said. "We know the route will be too long for some, so we'll provide rides."

Pamida will donate bottled water for walkers in Wayne on September 10. "We are grateful for their help,"

Gamble said.

Persons interested in walking or helping with the walk should call Ken Merkel at 402-379-3629 in Norfolk, and Tracy Gamble, 402-833-5055 in Wayne.

Multiple sclerosis is a chronic unpredictable neurological disease. MS can cause blurred vision, loss of balance, poor coordination, slurred speech, tremors, numbness, extreme fatigue, problems with memory and concentration, paralysis, and blindness. These problems may be permanent, or they may come and go. Most people with MS are diagnosed between the ages of 20 and 50.

Since its founding in 1946, the National Multiple Sclerosis Society has been the leading provider of programs for people with MS and their families and friends. Local chapters enable the Society to help meet the needs of Americans living with MS.

For more information or to register for the MS Walk or for information about Nebraska Chapter programs call 402-572-3190, e-mail nen@nmss.org or call 1-800-FIGHT MS, or visit our website at nationalmssociety.org/nen.

Gov. Dave Heineman proclaims September 2005 as Red Cross Preparedness Month in Nebraska

Today, the mission of the American Red Cross is more relevant than ever as we confront a changing America full of unique challenges. With troubling headlines, nonspecific terrorist threats and fluctuations of the Homeland Security Advisory System, individuals are more concerned than ever about their well-being - and their ability to react quickly and appropriately in an emergency.

For 124 years, the American Red Cross has honored its mission: to provide relief to victims of disasters while helping people prevent, prepare for and respond to emergencies.

Over 100,000 Nebraskans in schools, workplaces and neighborhoods throughout the state have taken preparedness classes. Victims of some 500 disasters turn to neighbors familiar and new - the nearly 6,000 volunteers of the American Red Cross. 55,000 Volunteer blood donors made blood donations, the gift of life, in the Midwest blood region.

In a collaborative effort with the federal government and other members of the emergency planning community, the American Red Cross in Nebraska and its partners are leading the way in empowering individuals and families to protect themselves with the five simple steps of Together We Prepare™ - make a plan, build a kit, get trained, volunteer and give blood. These five actions can help us to protect ourselves and our loved ones whether we face house fires, hurricanes, acts of terrorism or other unforeseen events.

The victims of more than 500 disasters - from fires that displaced a family to the flood and hail storms of Central Nebraska - received help from the Red Cross last year. In addition, thousands of U.S. military families received direct assistance from the Red Cross, keeping them connected in times of great personal sorrow and joy.

Those who need blood, those who are victims of disaster or those who are the recipients from the broad spectrum of community services rely on the American Red Cross every day. Compassionate and caring people who want to make a difference in Nebraska and across the nation, at home and abroad, channel their support through the American Red Cross.

On behalf of a grateful state, I applaud and recognize the selfless dedication of generations of Red Crossers. Now, therefore, I Governor Dave Heineman by virtue of the authority vested in me by the State of Nebraska do hereby proclaim September 2005 as Red Cross Preparedness Month in the State of Nebraska.

As we commemorate Red Cross Preparedness Month, I call upon our citizens of Nebraska to become partners in preparedness with their local Red Cross chapters and to become active participants in advancing the noble mission of the Red Cross.

Is Bruising Cause for Concern?

As we age, our skin tends to thin. The tiny veins in our skin are weakened by age and sun damage. This causes them to break more easily and blood seeps out into the surrounding tissue. Medications like aspirin and anticoagulants can also increase bruising. Bruises are usually no cause for concern, but sometimes they can indicate a more serious condition. See your doctor if you experience any of the following: large or painful bruises that develop for no apparent reason, bruising with abnormal bleeding elsewhere (i.e. nose, gums or intestines) or sudden bruising after starting a new medication.

WAYNE CITY COUNCIL PROCEEDINGS
 August 22, 2005
 The Wayne City Council met as a committee-of-the-whole at the Wayne City Auditorium on August 22, 2005, at 7:00 p.m. In attendance: Mayor Shelton; Councilmembers Buryanek, Reag, Sturm, Ley, Fuelberth and Wiseman; City Attorney Pieper; City Administrator Johnson; City Clerk McGuire. Absent: Councilmembers Frevert and Lutt.

 The purpose of the meeting was for Council to make a decision on whether or not to commit STP funding to pay for 80% of the cost of the Main Street Enhancement Project in the event that the City's Application for competitive enhancement funds is not approved in December. However, as of this evening, the NDOR engineering is allowing the City to leave the planned enhancements in their plans. The Council does not need to make a decision this evening.

Administrator Johnson stated two things that could pose as a negative to getting funding for the Downtown Improvement Project are that the area is not a historic designation, and this is the third time applying for said funds, but the positive is that it isn't earmarked for another trail.

Mayor Shelton opened the meeting for the public to speak.

Those speaking in favor of Council committing STP Funds to the Downtown Business Improvement District Project were to wit: Dave Ley, Dr. Collings, Paul Lindner, Dave Ewing, Marie Mohr, Jeannia Bressler, Jeff Morlok, Randy Pedersen, Gary Van Meter, George Holm, Marian Ameson, Tim Keller, Rod Tompkins, Sandy Bartling, Reggie Yates, Sue Janner, Nana Peterson, Duane Schroeder, and Jim Milliken.

General comments from those speaking were to wit:
 • Improving the downtown business district will be a valuable tool in recruiting new businesses and families to moving to Wayne.
 • Main Street benefits all streets and they couldn't think of any other project or street that would take priority over Main Street.
 • Main Street is the front door/lawn of a community, and it is vitally important to keep it as vibrant as possible.
 • Business owners have made a commitment to downtown and the City should too.
 • Council was urged to commit to the beautification of downtown; a commitment was made to the CAC and the trail projects.
 • The downtown supports the whole community, it's time to return that to the downtown.
 • This is a one-time chance in the next 30 years' to make these improvements. Everyone, including the Council, has an interest in bettering the community.

Councilmember Buryanek stated that he had been contacted by businesses off of Main Street who would like to see their property get improved also. Mayor Shelton stated that clarification needs to be made because a lot of side streets do not qualify for STP Funds.

Councilmember Wiseman, in a response to a comment that was made, stated he hadn't heard of any comment to scrap the project if the STP funding wasn't approved. The BID and Council are both guilty of not continuing to talk on the subject of what happens if the funding isn't approved.

APPROVED:
 Res. 2005-71 approving submittal of NDOR form 73A to request that NDOR approve the commitment of the unallocated balance in STP Funds to be used for the design and construction of the 10th Street Revolving Project as listed in the City of Wayne One & Six Year Street Plan.
 Meeting adjourned at 9:15 p.m.

As fuel prices keep rising, a University of Nebraska-Lincoln engineer said energy conserving tips can keep combines running smoothly and minimize grain drying this harvest season.

Paul Jasa, UNL Extension engineer, recommends not getting overeager to harvest early.

"Grain that is harvested too early will be too wet and too much money will be spent on drying it in the bin," he said. "Let grain dry as much as possible in the field naturally."

However, this means producers will have to pay extra attention to the weather this fall so crops aren't damaged by strong winds or become wetter from rain or an early snow.

To make drying in storage bins more efficient, producers can make sure their combines are set properly to clean the grain or use a grain cleaner. This will minimize foreign materials that wind up in the grain bin.

"Residue and trash in the grain bin restrict airflow and make drying more difficult," Jasa said.

"Clean grain is better when it comes to saving energy on drying."

Depending on the crops and their rotation, producers also may want to consider not harvesting all of the corn before switching to soybeans.

For example, switching to soybeans before all the corn is harvested allows corn fields to continue drying and gives grain driers a chance to catch up.

"Moisture management on grain will be very important this season," he said, to conserve energy.

Farmers also should scrutinize grain hauling costs, Jasa said.

"Make sure you have marketing and storage plans to minimize hauling costs," he said. "Some farmers look at the current grain price, and if they can get a nickel more at another elevator further away they may haul it there. This year, they'll need to make sure it's worth it to make up for higher fuel prices. If it costs 10 cents more to haul it, they would actually be losing a nickel."

While it's probably too late for this year, producers should consider securing diesel, propane and natural gas prices through contracts in the future.

"This was a good year to secure a cheaper diesel price earlier in the year through a contract as diesel prices continue to go up the closer it is getting to harvest," he said.

Another money saver is skipping fall tillage. As the combine is going through the field harvesting the crop, make sure it is properly processing and spreading residue for next year. This eliminates the need to go through the field to shred stalks.

"It's best to skip fall tillage all together to conserve soil moisture, residue and energy," Jasa said.

Jasa also recommended:

- Do routine maintenance on the combine. Make sure the engine is in top shape, filters are clean and everything is properly lubricated.
- Avoid rounded edges on augers and conveyers. Replace rounded and worn edges to maintain proper flow of materials.
- Be sure chains and paddles are in good shape so the combine handles grain properly and money is not wasted on grain and residue slipping through the combine.

- Don't set the thresher more aggressively than necessary to remove grain. An aggressive thresher breaks kernels and uses extra energy.
- As crops dry throughout the harvest season, adjust the thresher because grain becomes easier to thresh the drier it gets.
- Read the owner's manual when making adjustments.
- Make sure all other pieces of equipment, such as grain carts, wagons and augers, are in good shape.
- Don't get fatigued. A sleepy machinery operator will miss adjustments they should be making.

Ample blood donations needed to maintain blood supply

Jan Twait, chief executive officer for the Siouland Community Blood Bank is asking volunteer blood donors to donate blood when the next blood drive is scheduled in their communities, schools or businesses and also to make future appointments in order to maintain the community supply in the upcoming weeks.

"At present, the blood supply is adequate in the areas impacted by Hurricane Katrina," states Twait. "The need for blood will be ongoing, especially over the next several weeks due to the fact that blood has a shelf life of only 42 days and with interrupted collections in the affected areas, blood supplies will need to be replenished." Twait states, "the national organization for blood banks is asking people across the nation to make appointments in the near future to donate blood at their local blood drives".

To be eligible to donate individuals must be at least 17 years of age (16 in Iowa with a Siouland Community Blood Bank signed parent consent form); however there is no upper age limit as long as the donor is in good health. In addition, donors need to weigh at least 110 pounds and have not donated whole blood in the past 56 days. A photo I.D. is required at the time of registration, along with a list of medications they are currently taking.

For more information about the Siouland Community Blood Bank or blood drives in your area, call 712-252-4208, 1-800-798-4208 or visit their website at www.sioulandbloodbank.org
