OCT 2 7 2005

In honor of the 55th anniversary of being in operation, the M.G. Waldbaum Company in Wakefield provided a free omelet feed for the community on Saturday in conjunction with Balloon Festival activities. During the omelet feed, a slide show was presented, listing employees of the firm and the length of time they had been with the company. More photos on the event can be found in today's Herald.

Decisions made on fate of several city properties

By Clara Osten Of the Herald

Improving property in several areas of Wayne was the topic of several agenda items at Tuesday's meeting of the Wayne City Council.

The council spent considerable time discussing whether an extension should be granted to Harlin Brugger for a house he is building at 12th and Douglas Streets.

Brugger purchased the property from that time, agreed to have a house completed within a year. However, at Tuesday's meeting, Brugger asked the council to ject is not completed by Nov. 1. grant a 196 day extension for the completion of the project.

Council member Will Wiseman said that there were no weather-related issues or other unforeseen circumstances that have prohibited the completion of the project.

"It was his option to begin construction when he did and if we grant this extension, we delay getting the property on the tax rolls and lose six months of property taxes," Wiseman said.

Mayor Lois Shelton suggested that if the council agree to the extension, the city assess a penalty of six months worth of taxes on the property to Brugger.

No decision was made on the request and the council will discuss the item at its next meeting.

Following discussion in executive sesland in the east part of Wayne to Kenneth Jorgensen for $1 and lease additional property in the area to him for $750 per year. During the regular session of the meeting, several council members stressed the need for Jorgensen to keep the property looking good and controlling where garbage was placed, as the property is adjacent to the city's walking trail.

The ordinance directing the sale of the property received first reading approval and will again be on the agenda at the council's next meeting.

In another property-related issues, the council voted to accept a bid for a shingling project on property at 1116 Pearl Street.

Although the bid received was considerthe city approximately one year ago and at ' ably higher than anticipated, the council voted to have the work done and costs assessed to the property owner if the pro-

A bid from Sharp Construction was accepted for the purchase of property at 12th and Douglas Streets.

Two bids were received for the property, but the other bid did not meet the requirements as stated by the city.

Ordinance 2005-31 received first reading approval.

It will amend the city code to allow underage persons in liquor establishments for specific activities, such as pool tournaments, and only for specified hours. The minors will not be allowed in establishments that do not serve food at any other time.

The council listened to a presentation from Police Chief Lance Webster on bid specifications for a four-wheel drive vehicle for the police department. Chief Webster sion, the council voted to sell a parcel of listed several requirements for the vehicle and noted that the police department is in need of a new vehicle as those currently being used are beginning to need costly

It is an exciting time in Wayne these activities. We would like to Northern Sun Conference and our congratulations go out to the team and their coach, Marlon Brink. Marlon was also named NSIC's Men's Cross Country Coach of the Year, great work.

It appears that the leadership team of the Wavne Area Economic Development Association is now complete and will soon start work. From all we hear, the new team comes to Wayne, and their positions with a long list of successes. There is still much work to do to lay the foundation of the Association and to pull the three participating groups under their umbrella. They have a huge job ahead of them and we are hopeful that the future will bear the fruits of their endeavors in changing the face of Wayne and the businesses available in Wayne.

The beautiful weather that we had this Fall is beginning to cool and the darkness comes much sooner, and it will even be much sooner when the clocks are turned back. This is the time we must be ever alert in our driving and be watchful of the youngsters that are out walking, especially this Halloween weekend. Let's slow down and be ever alert.

After Halloween, we move quickly to Thanksgiving and the Christmas holiday season. Capitol View Sheriff's action causes frustration

By Ed Howard

The Wayne Herald

> Statehouse Correspondent The Nebraska Press Association In Nebraska, a death sentence is automatically followed by an appeal to the state Supreme Court. No question about it. The appeals of such cases are mostly predictable. And almost always unsuccessful.

The defense files a brief. It argues that the condemned Nebraska Supreme Court, I uncondeserves a new trial, or reduced sentence, or a reversal with an order that the lower court dismiss the case.

Reporting it is more clerical than reportorial.

That is one reason the appeal that was filed in the 1975 case of mass killer Erwin Charles Simants is memorable. And not just memorable in the sense of being merely interesting.

No. The Simants appeal is memorable in the fashion of, say, a pep band jumping out of a casket at a Baptist funeral and launching into a graveside rendition of It's a Great Day for the Irish!

It was unimaginable.

October 18th marked the 30th anniversary of the gruesome Simants rampage. He murdered six members of one rural Sutherland family, including three children. He was convicted of firstdegree murder and sentenced to die.

Reporters were on lookout for the appeal briefs; not because they were expected to contain important substance, but because the story itself was so big that everything related to it was considered news. Upon a first reading of the Simants appeal, those many years ago, my first thought was that the allegations it contained could not possibly be true. Some overzealous attorney had exaggerated. He probably was headed for trouble, too!

It alleged that the then-Lincoln. County sheriff had - while playing cards with the jury - expounded upon his personal knowledge of Simants. This included the defenthe sheriff's personal opinion of Simants. Even a curbstone, bar-rail, jailhouse lawyer would know what it meant. If true, it meant a new trial. This is impossible, I kept thinking. This is ridiculous. When perusing the brief, standing in the offices of the Clerk of the sciously burst forth with a four-letter word that can serve as a noun, a verb and a full-bodied expletive. Court Clerk George Turner, an aged grump with excellent sartorial taste, glared at me from across the counter. He barked, "What? What did you say?" I ignored him. He would have to grump at me later, which he did. Simants slaughtered six people.

Now, he would get a "do-over" bad-mouthed an acknowledged mass murderer who was on trial for his life!

> The second Simants trial was moved to Lincoln. It was heard by a jury from Lancaster County. He was found "not guilty by reason of insanity."

The outrage was palpable and statewide.

What in heaven or hell was that sheriff thinking about? The Legislature rewrote the law in the wake of the Simants case. "Not guilty by reason of insanity" was erased from Nebraska statutes. A person can now be found "not responsible" by reason of insanity, but not absolved of guilt.

For Simants, however, the ver-because a sheriff was so dumb that dict in his case meant he was free he played cards with jurors, and from prosecution. He had been found "not guilty." He had unarguably done the murders, and now he could go free, unless ...

Simants was committed to the Lincoln Regional Center, a state mental hospital, as a mentally ill and dangerous person.

If the courts ever decide that Simants is no longer mentally ill and dangerous, the man who literally destroyed a family could be released. His mental status is reviewed by a district judge each year.

I can only imagine what my thoughts might be if Simants one day goes free. My suspicion is that it would be much like my reaction the day that brief arrived at the Supreme Court. This is impossible. This is ridiculous.

Despite the rain on Saturday, a large crowd was on hand for a fundraising event at Pamida. Pamida employees and several service organizations from the community ran carnival games, sold ice cream sundaes and had a bake sale in addition to the hot dog feed that was a part of the event. Above, the rain forced the groups to move into the Pamida Store shortly after the event began. Below, Jeff Loberg was one of the first to purchase a hot dog at the event. Also during the day, donation boxes were available for those wishing to donate items to be shipped to the troops overseas. Money raised from the event will be used to help offset the cost of mailing the supplies and for the purchase of other materials needed by the troops.

Kick-off for needs drive for 189th begins

Gary VanMeter, owner of Mines Jewelers, has announced the kickoff of a unique Needs Drive for the 189th Wayne Transportation Division. Customers and the general public are invited to bring in food and other items requested by our troops in Iraq. Mines Jewelers is working with Bud Neel to insure that these items will be delivered to our local boys in the 189th.

In return for donations, they will "Diamond Point receive Certificates." These certificates are a part of a contest in which six fabulous prizes with a total value of over $4,500 will be awarded to the top six participants that collect the most Diamond Points. For each item donated on the U.S. Troops needs list, the participant will receive from 200 to 400 Diamond, Points good towards winning exciting prizes.

These prizes include a beautiful ladies 14 karat gold designer diamond pendant, a pair of ladies diamond earrings, a diamond "Tennis" bracelet, and many more valuable jewelry prizes.

Gary feels the diamond prizes' will be a good way to say "thank you" to the community for helping with the items needed by the boys appreciated items include Poptarts, beef jerky, Twizzlers, peanuts and mixed nuts, wrapped hard candy, and powdered Gator Aid.

Veteran's coordinator Bud Neel said there is an immediate need for "boxed holiday cards" so they can be shipped to the boys before the Christmas mailing season starts. For each package of holiday cards donated the participant will receive 500 Diamond points toward winning prizes.

You may drop off your donations and get a complete list of items needed by dropping into Mines Jewelers during store hours which 5:30, Thursday open until 8 and Saturdays, 9 to 5.

Outstanding team and individual performances were turned in by the Wayne area's representatives at the state cross country meet last Friday at the Kearney Country Club in Kearney.

The Wildcats were paced by sophomores Virginia Fleer and Michaela Staub, who placed ninth and tenth, respectively with times of 16:25.34 and 16:25.83 on the hilly 4,000 meter course.

Winside junior Amber Aulner also picked up a Top 15 finish as she took 13th place at 16:28.78.

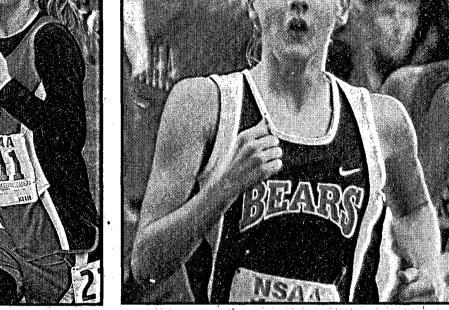

Aulner, who has been fighting back from (injuries all season, rolled her ankle earlier in the week, but toughed out her injury to achieve medalist status this year.

Last year, she ran to a 20th place finish at the state meet. Other Winside finishers at Kearney included junior Brittany Greunke (69th, 18:20.97), senior runner Jessica Janke (101st, 21.02.22) and freshman Jaycie Wolslager (104th, 21.48.60). "I couldn't be more proud of the team, especially Virginia, Amber and Michaela," Winside coach Jennifer Kesting said. "They really ran well together this year and pushed each other to great places and times. I will really miss Jessica, she may not be our fastest runner, but she is the heart and soul of this team and we will miss her."

In the Class C girl's race, Laurel-Concord/Coleridge freshman Megan Haahr capped her stellar first year with a fifth place finish of 15:52.83 and earned the distinction of being the school's first cross country state medalist.

Wildcats go 2-1 at home

The Wayne State volleyball team added two more wins in games played at Rice Auditorium over the past week,

Last Friday, Jesseca White recorded a double-double with 20 kills and 25 digs to lead nationally ranked No. 22 MSU Moorhead over Wayne State in conference action at WSC.

The Wildcats won the first game 30-20, but the visiting Dragons rallied to win the match by taking the next three games 30-24, 30-26 and 30-25.

MSU Moorhead, ranked sixth in the North Central Region, improved to 20-3 overall and 7-3 in the Northern Sun with the win.

Emily Schroeder led Wayne State with 19 kills and 29 digs. Jacey Kuck Schwarz also had a double-double with 11 kills and 22 digs.

Michelle Eckhardt added 13 kills for WSC, while Brittany Van Beek contributed 12, Libero Laura Dolezal had a team-high 35 digs and setter Julie Jacobsen was credited with 55 set assists and 11 digs.

WSC had 33 hitting errors to 25 for MSU Moorhead during the contest. The team bounced back on Saturday afternoon, Oct. 22, in a three-game sweep over Northern State in another Northern Sun conference contest.

The Wildcats topped the Wolves 30-16, 30-22 and 30-27. WSC trailed 21-14 in the third game before rallying for the game and match win.

Schroeder paced WSC in the win with 18 kills and 16 digs, while. Jacey Kuck Schwarz also recorded a double-double with 12 kills and 11 digs.

Van Beek added 12 kills and Dolezal finished with a team-high 25 digs. Julie Jacobsen accounted for 45 set assists and 12 digs.

The Wildcats snagged a big win this week on Tuesday night as the team snapped NAIA seventhranked Dordt College's 16-match win streak with a 3-0 win over the Lady Defenders.

The Wildcats won tightly contested contests in the first two games 34-32 and 31-29, then pulled away in the third game for a 30-14 win.

Wayne State now 22-8 on the season, while Dordt was handed its third loss of the season.

WSC claims its first-ever NSIC cross country title

The accolades keep on flowing for the Wayne State cross country program.

The WSC men's cross country team won the team title at the Northern Sun Conference Championships last Saturday in Moorhead, Minn., while the women's team placed second.

It is the first-ever team title in cross country for Wayne State since joining the conference in 1998, while the Wildcat women's squad picked up their best-ever team finish in the conference championships.

For winning the team championship, WSC head coach Marlon Brink was named the NSIC Men's Cross Country Coach of the Year.

"It was a great team effort," Brink said. "Our top four runners ran great as a pack and our number five runner (Nathaniel Bergen) passed a couple of guys down the stretch to help clinch the team title. I am really pleased with how our program has developed and hopefully this will build a tradition for WSC cross country. The kids are also excited about winning their first-ever team conference championship." In the men's division, Wayne State edged Northern State for the team title 38-43. MSU Moorhead was third with 51 points, followed by Concordia-St. Paul (116) and Winona State (120).

The Wildcats had four runners finish in the top 10 to earn All-Northern Sun Conference honors Matt Schneider, placed sec-

WSC women's team preseason No. 1

WAYNE - The Wayne State College women's basketball team has been picked as the team to beat in the Northern Sun Conference preseason coaches poll released last week by the league office.

The Wildcats received five first-place votes and 67 points to earn the top spot, two points more than second-place Concordia-St. Paul, who finished with 65 points and the other three first-place votes. WSC went 20-11 overall last season and was sixth place in the NSIC with a 7-7 league mark, but lost just one senior (Kim Malone) from last year's squad.

Wayne State senior center Kristin Humphries was one of three players selected as the NSIC Preseason Players of the Year, joining Concordia-St. Paul's Nakia Carlisle and MSU Moorhead's Jessica Fessenmaier.

Humphries averaged 13.5 points and 6.0 rebounds per game last season and became the 12th player in school history to surpass the 1,000-point mark. She was a second team All-NSIC selection and was named to the NSIC Red Baron Basketball Classic All-Tournament Team.

Listed as a player to watch was senior Nicole Gruntorad. The 5-9 guard from Kearney earned First Team All-NSIC honors for the Wildcats last season, averaging 14.1 points per game to go with 5.5 rebounds a contest. She connected on 43 percent of her shots from the field and was 82.4 percent from the free throw line.

WHS takes fourth at Mid-State

The season is heading down the home stretch for the Wayne High volleyball team that will enter subdistrict play next Monday, Oct. 31, at Norfolk High School.

Last week, the Blue Devils split matches in triangular action at O'Neill, while the team finished fourth this Tuesday at the Mid-State Conference tournament played at Battle Creek and Madison.

O'Neill Triangular

Wayne High finished a triangular in O'Neill on Oct. 20 with a split after a posting a sweep against Hartington Cedar Catholic in the first game and a close loss to O'Neill.

Kara Hoeman pounded eight kills, while Michelle Jarvi, Emlyn Mann, Angie Ahrenholtz and Robyn Heithold tallied three apiece as WHS downed Cedar Catholic 25-13, 25-19.

Melissa Frahm added 10 digs in the win and Mann added eight for the Blue Devils.

The second game saw the O'Neill Eagles fly away with a 28-26, 25-22 sweep.

Jessica Dickey led the Wayne effort with 20 set assists, with Ahrenholtz and Jarvi recording seven and six kills, respectively.

Blue Devils fall to Creighton, just miss playoffs

By David W. Carstens Of the Herald

The Creighton Bulldogs lived up to their ranking as the top C1 team in the state's power point rankings last Friday evening. Creighton snuffed out Wayne High's postseason playoffs ambitions with a 53-25 win at Cunningham Field at Wayne State College to end the Blue Devils' season at 5-3. Seven turnovers proved to be costly against the Bulldogs who took a 40-6 lead by halftime. "Turnovers took us out of the game plan that we had prepared," Wayne High coach Kevin Finkey said. "There's no doubt why Creighton has the top power point rating in the state."

Creighton took a 34-point lead until WHS was able to respond with a touchdown.

Riley Tusha scored the first touchdown for Creighton on an 18-yard run he intercepted Wayne quarterback Nate Finkey.

The Bulldogs added another score on the next CHS drive the started at the Wayne 32-yard line after quarterback Aaron Williamson made the score 12-0 on a two-yard scamper to the end zone.

Another Blue Devil turnover on the next series set up another short run by Jason Curtis to up the score to 20-0 with 6:56 left in the opening frame.

One more turnover deep in Wayne territory on the next series set up a second short run by Williamson to close out the first quarter with a 27-0 Creighton

WSC mauled by Golden Bears

James McNear left little doubt he is one of the brightest stars in the Northern Sun conference.

McNear, a senior quarterback for Concordia-St. Paulracked up 383 yards as the Golden Bears scored 39 unanswered points to rally from an early 20-7 deficit in a 46-20 win against Wayne State last Saturday in St. Paul, Minn.

The wins moved CSP into sole possession of second place in the league (7-2, 4-1), while WSC dropped into a tie for third place with Northern State at 3-2 against NSIC foes and 3-6 overall.

The Wildcats benefitted from some big plays to take a 20-7 lead midway through the first quarter, but Concordia-St. Paul put up 577 yards of total offense and held WSC to just 121 to overcome the early deficit and pick up the win.

The Golden Bears tallied the first score early in the game on a Brian Holmes 20-yard run to take a 7-0 lead at the 8:57 mark of the first quarter.

WSC scored moments later when junior Marque McCray took the ensuing kickoff 100 yards for a touchdown to tie the score at 7-7.

The Wayne State defense then recovered a fumble on the kickoff return by Concordia's Montez Bridgefourth to set up the WSC offense at the CSP 11 yard line.

on a five-yard touchdown pass, putting the Wildcats ahead 14-7 with 7:15 left in the first quarter.

WSC struck moments later when the Stuart Morrow blocked a CSP punt and freshman Ryan Molacek ran two yards for a score to give the Wildcats a 20-7 lead with 6:04 remaining in the first quarter.

Concordia's Brody Johnson closed out the high-scoring first quarter with a 24-yard field goal, following a WSC pass interception, to make the score 20-10 in favor of Wayne State.

CSP scored three times in the second quarter to take a 30-20 lead at halftime.

The lone score in the third quarter was by Concordia-St. Paul as the Golden Bears used a Brody Johnson 28-yard field goal to take a 33-20 lead after three quarters.

In the fourth quarter, the Golden Bears added a pair of insurance scores as McNear scored on a three-yard run with 13:34 left in the game and Brian Holmes hauled in a 39 yard pass from McNear at the 9:25 mark to make the final score 46-20.

McNear had a big day for the Golden Bears as he accounted for 383 of CSP's 577 total yards of offense. McNear rushed Three plays later, quarterback Travis Dietz found McCray for 145 yards on 15 carries with one score and was 12 of 28 passing for 238 yards with two touchdowns.

> McCray had a stellar day on WSC's special teams with five kickoff returns for 201 yards, including a 100-yard return for a score in the first quarter.

> WSC was held to just 31 yards rushing on 32 carries in the game.

Defensively, Wayne State was led by senior defensive lineman Dan Kruger with eight tackles, followed by linebacker Mitch Reeves with seven.

McCray picks up two weekly awards

Wayne State wide receiver/kick returner Marque McCray garnered two Special Teams Player of the Week honors earlier this week for his performance against Concordia-St. Paul last Saturday.

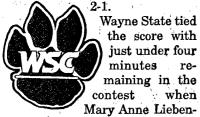

He was named as the Northern Sun Special Teams Player of the Week, along with the Nebraska NCAA Division II Special Teams player of the week.

MSU Moorhead opened the scoring in the 43rd minute on a goal by Kim Hinga to take a 1-0 lead.

The host Dragons added another goal to stretch the lead to 2-0 in the 52nd minute on a goal from Richelle Ross.

The Wildcats responded five minutes later as defender Sarah James scored her third goal of the season at the 57:30 mark to cut the Dragons' lead to tritt scored an unassisted goal at the 86:44 mark to send the game into overtime.

Neither team scored in the two overtime sessions with the contest ending in a 2-2 tie.

WSC goaltender Jamie Anderson was credited with 10 saves in the contest.

The team picked up a win on Sunday as Melissa Benson scored the lone goal of the game in the 38th minute to give Wayne State a 1-0 win against Northern State at Aberdeen, S.D.

The win upped the Wildcats' conference mark to 6-5-2 and 8-8-3 on the season,

Benson recorded her eighth goal of the season, an unassisted goal, at the 38:37 mark of the first half for the only score of the game. Northern State had 15 shots in the game to nine for WSC.

The Wildcats played a physical contest with the Wolves, called for 19 fouls to just three for Northern State. Northern State had one more corner kick than WSC, 3-2. Anderson recorded her third shutout of the season for WSC ad she tallied nine saves in the win. Wayne State will host fifthplace conference foe Southwest Minnesota State in a key standings matchup this Saturday at 10:30 a.m.

The top four teams in the NSIC at the end of the regular season will host first round games in the NSIC Tournament on Tuesday, Nov. 1.

WHS JV volleyball ends season

The Wayne High JV volleyball team completed its season last week after night winning both matches in a triangular with Lutheran High Northeast and Wakefield at Wakefield.

In the first game, Wayne defeated LHNE 25-5; 25-15 with all ten girls contributing.

Leading the way in scoring was Liz Kenny with 10 points. including five aces, Justine Carroll with seven (three aces) and Kaitlyn Centrone with six (three aces).

Wakefield then defeated LHNE in the second game of the evening in three, before Wayne defeated Wakefield 18-21; 21-11; 21-19 in the nightcap.

"We struggled, committing six service errors in the first set and Wakefield did a nice job of utilizing our mistakes." coach Dale Hochstein said.

With only one service error in the second set and being able to string three and four points together in the second set, Wayne was able to get the win.

After a slow start in the third set trailing 8-3, Wayne was able to slowly close the gap and the game was back and forth the remainder of the contest with us getting the last two points to break a 19-19 tie.

In action from Oct. 13, the JV team posted a win against Battle Creek, 25-11, 25-17. Liz Kenny scored 12 points in a row in the first game to give Wayne a commanding lead. Justine Carroll scored five points on the night. Wayne closed its season with 8 wins in their last

Making Halloween fun, but keeping it safe

Halloween can be a time of great fun for children, but it is also a time when adults who care for children have special concerns about

The following tips from Massachusetts Poison Control System should help insure that Halloween is safe without interfering with children's enjoyment. TREATS:

• Encourage children to have fun collecting treats, but tell them to wait until they return home before eating any.

• Inspect all treats and throw out any with torn or unsealed wrappers. • Homemade treats should be thrown out. • Bringing candy or other treats to be x-rayed is not completely reliable, since many objects cannot be detected this way. • Report any suspicious treats to your local police. • If your child has allergies, check the ingredient list carefully.

TRICK OR TREATING: • Set a time when your children must return home.

that they can trick or treat only at seen in the dark.

homes of neighbors they know. • Check your walkways and lawns for obstacles, and leave your outside light on.

• It's a good idea for children to have flashlights, so they can see and be seen in the dark.

• Keep pets indoors or confined to an area where they will not interfere with children.

• Younger children should always be accompanied by an adult.

• Consider sharing and planning neighborhood parties as an alternative to trick-or-treating. COSTUMES

• Check masks to be sure children can see and breathe easily. • Make sure costumes are flame resistant and roomy enough to allow the child to dress warmly underneath.

• Children should understand • Make sure costumes can be

> • Use face paints, glues and glitters that are made of nontoxic materials. Keep in mind that some children can have allergic reactions to these products.

• Neon glowsticks and neckbands contain a chemical that is irritating to skin nd could be harmful to eyes. Children should not bang, crush or throw glowsticks or neckbands and they should avoid doing anything that might release the chemicals.

JACK O' LANTERNS:

• Let your child have fun drawing on the pumpkin and scraping out the contents, but an adult should do the carving.

• Jack O' Lanterns with candles should be watched carefully and placed where they can't start a fire.

Thrivent Financial for Lutherans holds annual meeting and dinner

The Thrivent Financial for Lutherans Wayne-Dixon County Chapter held their annual meeting and dinner on Oct. 16. The event was hosted by Grace Lutheran church in Wayne. Sondra Mattes, chapter secretary from Wakefield, was in charge of names tags for the 103 guests attending the event.

Chapter President Ken Thomsen from Wakefield gave the welcome and introductions of Tim Flock from Bancroft, Financial Associate for Thrivent, and Dennis Engelbart, Manager of Lutheran Community Services in Omaha. A catered sit-down meal was served by the Grace LYF along with youth from other churches.

Mae Greve, who had been on a 2004 mission trip to Tanzania, shared her experienced trip with pictures, souvenirs, and how the people live there. Dennis Engelbart, Regional Manager of Lutheran Community Services spoke on how important volunteering is within the chapter, congregation, community and region.

Thrivent members wishing to donate to the Katrina Hurricane may do so with a special response form. Members making this gift make it eligible for four organizations to be supplemented $1 for every $2 given, up to $300 per member.

All funds, raised through the Response Plan, are directed to four eligible recipients: Lutheran Disaster Response, ELCA Domestic Disaster Response, LCMS World Relief/Human Care, and WELS Committee on Relief. The listed organizations will distribute this money to the needy hurricane area survivors using established procedures.

If a congregation wishes to donate, they may as a group and have it supplemented. This may be done by writing a check to Thrivent Financial for Lutherans, and send the check to Dennis Engelbart. 11602 West Center Rd, #200, Omaha, NE 68144. He will submit the money to chapters in Mississippi and Louisiana for designation.

Members were advised to look for the winter issue Thrivent magazine with a form to order 5 CD's, 2006 calendar, and other member benefits. A Thrivent goal is to build 500 homes in the US per year by 2008. Wäyne may be a host com-munity within the future. Volunteers have contributed more than 1.4 million hours in building simple, affordable homes for people who lack shelter. As a benefit Thrivent member, of a fraternal benefit society, casting a vote to select members for the board of directors is a responsibility and right. The ballots need to be returned no later than Dec. 10. 2005 to Schenck & Associates. Around 10 Congregational Coordinators attended this event.

There are three coordinators from each of the 10 churches in the Wayne-Dixon County Chapter. Lynette Lentz spoke on the GivingPlus Challenge Grant that is available to benefit and associate members. This program allows members to make monetary gifts with a special form to Lutheran schools, universities, camps, health care facilities, campus ministries, and many others. Lentz extended thanks to the chapter for the funds given towards landscaping at the Wayne Lutheran Campus Ministry (WeLCoMe House), The chapel was recently completed and there was a dedication service held. Sandra L. Braasch is the Lutheran campus minister.

Chapter Treasurer Don Leighton of Winside gave the financial report. Pre registered and present guests were in a $100 drawing with the winner being Barbara Heier. Cyril Hansen won a stadium blanket. Door prize winners of a calculator or Thrivent t-shirt winners were: Dorothy Meyer, Bonna Barner, Lester Menke, Arlene Allemann, Arlene Gnirk, Glenn Kietzmann, Carol and Dwaine

Rethwich. The Wayne-Dixon County Chapter Vice-President, Art Greve, presented a slate for 2006 board officers. The required elected positions are: President, Art Greve-Salem LC, Wakefield; Vice-President, Gerald Muller-Salem LC, Wakefield; Records Director-Sondra Mattes-St. John's LC. Wakefield: Financial Director, Sue Congregational Service Team Director-Karen Mangels-Trinity LC, Hoskins. The optional elected follows: positions are as Communications Director, Kathleen Johs-Grace LC, Wayne; Community Service Team Director, Kathy Johnson-Our Savior, Wayne; Youth Director, Robyn Heithold-Grace LC, Wayne; and Events Director, Lynne Allemann-Grace LC, Wayne.

The chapter scrapbook, compiled by Kathleen Johs, was on display. An individual, who has volunteered much of his time to Lutheran Brotherhood, and three years with Thrivent, is Darrel Rahn of Wayne. Darrel, the Chapter Congregational Service Team Director, was presented with a gift for all the service he has given the chapter, coordinators, and the community. Due to term limits, Darrel will not be serving on the board next year. He has done a great job and will be missed.

Long-term outlook calls for above normal temperatures, precipitation uncertain warmer than normal if long-term forecasts hold, but the outlook for much needed moisture is less clear, the University of Nebraska-Lincoln state climatologist said.

Forecasts are calling for above normal temperatures, particularly during December through February, said Al Dutcher, UNL state climatologist.

With high natural gas prices forecast this winter, above normal temperatures might be a good thing from the pocketbook standpoint.

"However, that is the only thing long-term forecasts are hinting at," Dutcher said.

"There are no tendencies for any part of the state to receive above or below normal precipitation. That means there are equal chances for precipitation to be above or below normal in the long-term forecast," he said.

Forecasts could change going into winter months. The good news is that precipitation in December, January and February only accounts for seven percent of the state's yearly precipitation total.

"So if there aren't any significant changes in precipitation trends for these months, it is not too much of a concern because we're not losing

The coming winter may be that much ground," Dutcher said. into the soil, building up subsoil "What we want to see is precipitamoisture."

tion now through November." The two-month periods of October and November and March and April each account for 4 to 5 inches of the yearly precipitation total. "It is a critical time right now," Dutcher said. "We want to see four to five inches of liquid precipitation in the next couple of months and ample spring moisture to recharge the soil moisture profile."

Fall storm systems typically do not deliver widespread thunderstorm activity, Dutcher said, but generate more uniform precipitation patterns of 0.5- to 2-inch rains at a time across the state.

"The layer above the earth's surface is more stable at this time of year and we don't see the variances in precipitation like we do in the summer," he said. "In addition, rainfall generally doesn't fall very hard and does a good job soaking In western Nebraska, Lake McConaughy is seven feet higher than at this time last year. In addition, snow storms already have hit the Rockies this fall.

"Hydrologically, this is good for our lakes and streams," Dutcher said. "We have and could continue to see improvements in Wyoming and Colorado."

So far this year, parts of western Nebraska have received more precipitation than eastern part of the state.

"Western Nebraska has done exceptionally well on precipitation compared to eastern Nebraska, and many places in western Nebraska have higher precipitation totals than places in eastern Nebraska." Dutcher said parts of the western third of the state have received 10 more inches of moisture so far this year compared to the same time frame last year.

Moisture shortages in the eastern third of Nebraska, specifically east central and the extreme southeast, is of concern, especially for dryland crops, he said.

September was unusually dry statewide. However, areas that received late summer rainfall should have ample soil moisture for the winter wheat crop, Dutcher said.

"Wheat fields harvested in July and replanted should have received good rainfall, and wheat fields that were in fallow should be doing even better moisture-wise," he said. "Ample precipitation to keep the upper few inches of the soil profile moist so that proper germination takes place could be of some concern. But once the crop is emerged there still should be ample moisture deeper in the soil profile for good stand development across much of the winter wheat growing areas of the state."

Fall is great time to control most weeds

Fall is an optimal time to control most weeds in fields and pastures, University of Nebraska-Lincoln Extension educators say.

Following harvest, producers should be controlling winter annual weeds, such as henbit, horseweed and pennycress, which are emerging now through November. After weeds emerge, they go dormant during winter, come up again include weed control benefits, pasture record keeping, pasture monitoring, adding legumes to existing pastures, and irrigated grass said Brady Kappler, UNL weed science educator.

"Producers' who control weeds now will have much better luck at controlling them than if they would wait and do it in the spring," Kappler said. "Too often, producers wait until spring to attempt to control weeds. However, several factors are working against you in the spring."

Spring's unpredictable weather can bring cool, wet conditions one day and warm, sunny conditions the next. This makes it difficult to not be sprayed because it will spray herbicides and also reduces their effectiveness.

In spring, many weeds are in the reproductive stage, meaning they sprout quickly, flower and set seed. Since the plant is large and flowering, it is less susceptible to herbicide.

"In the fall, the weather is more in a vegetative stage, making them more susceptible to herbicides," Kappler said.

As long as there isn't snow on the ground, winter annuals can be sprayed from now through early December. Kappler recommends using 2,4-D in most fields. 07.993 Fall also is an optimal time to control weeds in alfalfa and pastures.

Herbicides such as Karmex, Sinbar, Sencor and Velpar are effective in controlling winter annuals in alfalfa stands more than a year old.

"These herbicides will do a good job at controlling broadleaves like pennycress and mustard and a pretty good job of controlling down brome. Karmex is not good for downy brome, but may be the best choice for broadleaf control on low organic matter soils.'

Alfalfa seeded this year should injure young plants.

Take advantage of some opportunities now through November to control weeds," Anderson said. "That way you won't be plagued by them next spring."

THANK YOU

I WOULD like to thank Pheasants Forever for the shotgun I won at the south mentor hunt. It was a great experience. Zach Thomsen

MANY THANKS to all who remembered me with cards, flowers, visits and prayers following my surgery and recuperation. Thanks to Dr. Felber and all the doctors and nurses at Mercy Medical and Providence Medical Center. Special thanks to Pastors Pasche and Lilienkamp for their visits and prayers. May God bless you all. Rose Fredrickson

THANK YOU for the cards, gifts, phone calls and flowers given to us for our 50th wedding anniversary. They were greatly served or are now serving in the Armed Forces in defense of our country. We want them to know how proud we are of them!

On November 7 & 10, the Wayne Herald / Morning Shopper will publish a special feature to pay tribute to our Veterans. These men and women have given their time, effort and sometimes even their lives to serve our country.

cial veteran before November 1. Please include $15 per biography to help cover printing costs. Each photo should be labeled on the back with the veteran's name, your name, address and phone number. Also include a self-addressed stamped envelope and we will return your photos to you.

Career Day held at WSC

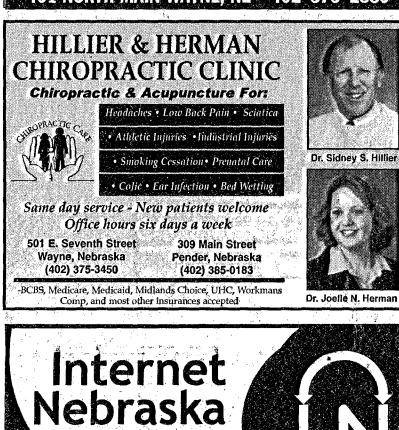

Wayne High School students individual career interests. were among 516 high school sophomores from 16 northeast Nebraska schools attending Career Day at Wayne State College last Thursday. This new event was coordinated by the Cedar County UNL Extension Office and co-sponsored by Wayne State College, ESU #1, Northeast Community College, Northeast Nebraska Department of Health, and Northeast Nebraska Area Health Education Council. The Wayne Rotary club also assisted in a variety of ways.

To begin their day, students were welcomed by Dr. Richard Collings, President of Wayne State College, before the keynote address by Senator Mike Flood of Norfolk. Next students attended three specific career sessions, based on their Afternoon breakout sessions featured topics related to students' career goals as well as information about preparing for their life after high school and for the world of work. During the day, 72 sessions were provided by 88 presenters from northeast Nebraska. Many Wayne area professionals shared their time and wisdom to help youth learn more about their possible future careers.

Students reported learning more about their favorite careers as well as receiving information to help them prepare and make decisions about their training after high school. Most also reported gaining some insights into reasons many professionals chose to live and work in the rural area.

The days... are getting shorter and the nights cooler. Leaves continue to fall from the trees and the combines are speeding across the fields. Our rural landscape gives us a view of a centuries old tradition. Although the machines have changed the traditional gathering in of the harvest in preparation for the winter months has been going on for hundreds of years.

Fall... is a great ime to take a look around and consider how the dynamics of your home will change in the months ahead,

MayBe... more time will be spent at home with the family during the cold winter months. This might be a perfect time to replace the family room carpet.

Are ... the in-laws headed your way this year for the holidays? This might be the time to repaint the dining room and get the family portrait framed and hung over the mantle.

As we... are putting away the tank tops and shorts and searching for the sweatshirts and scarves... wouldn't it be a great time to reorganize the closets and add that new wire shelving you've always wanted.

Fall... is indeed and great time to gather in a harvest of ideas and create a home that is a warm, inviting and relaxing refuge from the cold winter winds ahead.

Visit ... our newly remodeled showroom to see how we can help you with flooring, paint, picture framing and even closet shelving: Angela
