Commissioners approve local health department's request to apply for grant

By Lynn Sievers
Of the Herald

Wayne County Commissioners met on Tuesday at the courthouse in Wayne. Agenda items included a request from Kelly Heithold of Northeast Nebraska Public Health Department (NNPHD) to pass a resolution so their agency can apply for a one year grant.

The grant they want to apply for is for up to $50,000 and is from the Nebraska Children & Family Foundation. If received, the grant will be used for substance abuse prevention. Commissioners gave their approval but told her that it is their policy that when grants run out, the county doesn't take over giving the funding.

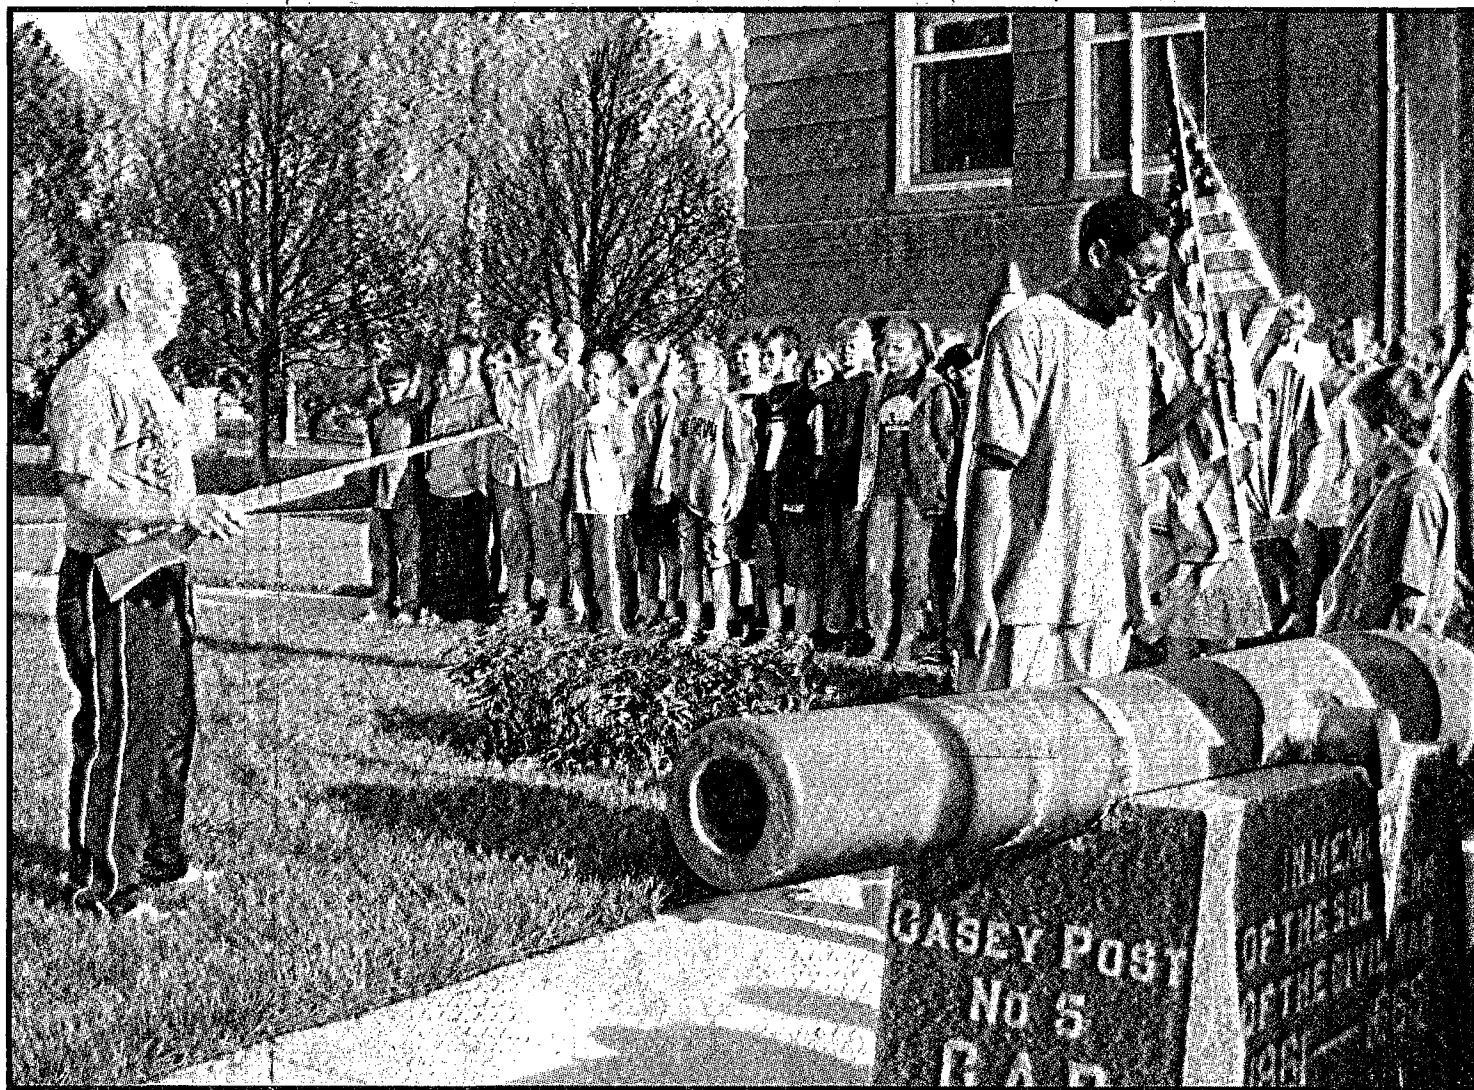

Heithold also noted that NNPHD will be giving a Pandemic Flu presentation this Friday from 11 a.m. to 2:30 p.m. at the fire department in Wayne. The presentation is for the community and will cover what the Pandemic Flu is and why we should be concerned about the possibility of it spreading to our area.

Bud Neel, who works in maintenance at the courthouse, discussed the elevator maintenance agreement from the KONE Company, which is costing around $3,000 yearly. He noted if they went to quarterly payments, there is a discount, but the payment needs to be made in advance.

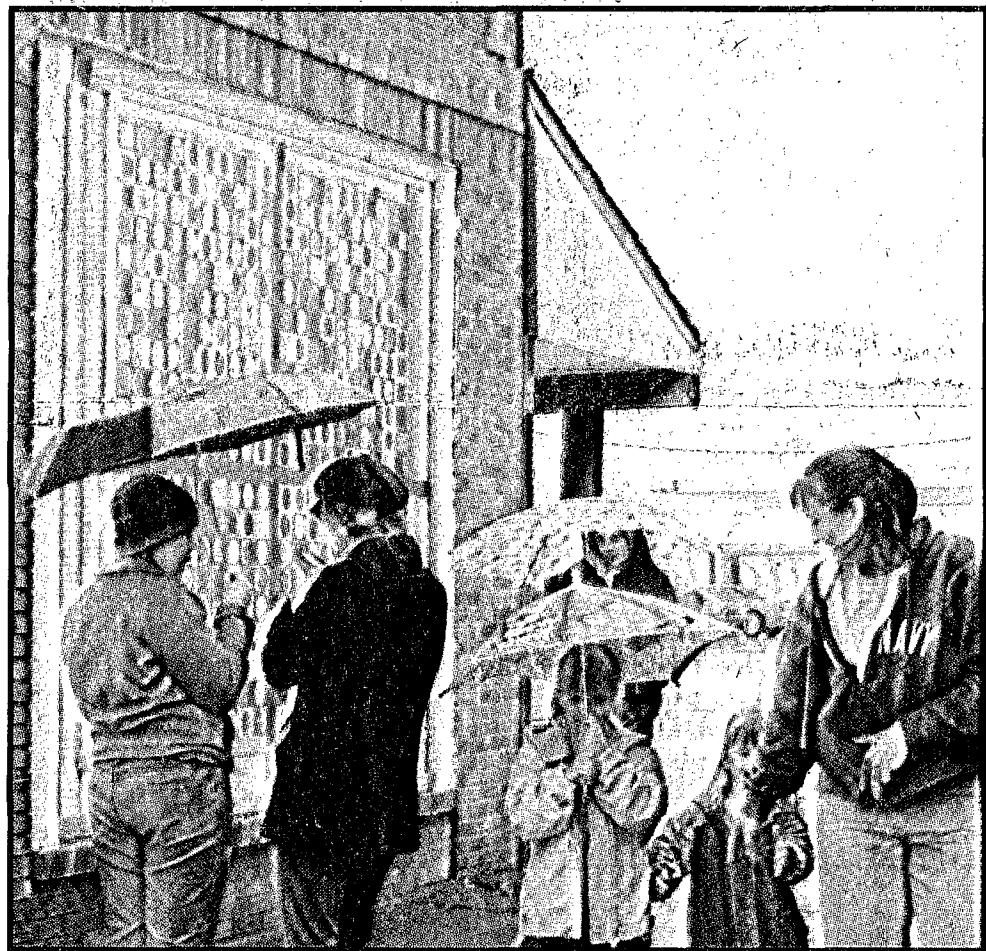

Neel also voiced several concerns with the maintenance contract: service requests, which should be from 8 a.m. to 5 p.m. or else it costs extra. Also, the indemnity clause, which he feels the county

Listen up, soldiers

Alley project unveiling

Despite soggy conditions, a number of youth and their parents took time to visit the art project located in the alley between Main and Logan Street. The youth were able to identify the drawings they had done and receive a prize with the assistance of students in Dr. Pearl Hansen's art and education classes at Wayne State College.

'In Wayne' project update presented

Scott Brummond, Project manager for the Highway 15 "In Wayne" project, has provided the following update of work completed in the last week and work to be completed within the next week.

"As always, the description of future work is weather permitting and can change," Brummond cautioned.

Work completed includes:

Wednesday through Friday, April 28:

- Worked on Water Main installation at the south end up to Third Street.
- Switched the project crossing from Third Street to Fourth Street Thursday afternoon.

Monday, May 1:

- Due to wet soil conditions, water main fittings were worked on, no digging or installation.
- Smoothed up the Fourth Street crossing.

Tuesday, May 2:

- Continuing with Water Main installation working between Third Street and Fourth Street.
- Began crushing the broken concrete for foundation course.

Wednesday, May 3:

- Getting ready for Water Main tie-in at Second Street East on Thursday morning starting at 7 a.m.

Thursday, May 4:

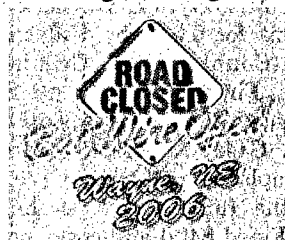

- Removal and pour back driveway on Sixth Street.
- Continue with broken concrete crushing operation.

Thursday through Tuesday, May 10:

- Thursday at 7 a.m., water will be shut off along Main Street for approximately four hours from First Street through Fourth Street and on Second Street between Main Street and Logan Street.

- Continuing with Water Main work between Fourth Street and Seventh Street and may begin on installing water service tie-ins starting on the south end after passing tests.
- Friday afternoon, May 5 or Monday, May 8 the Fourth Street crossing may shift to Third Street after tie-in and backfill is complete.

Lifetime achievement award to be presented posthumously to Seymour

A lifetime achievement award honoring the late Dr. Lyle E. Seymour, Wayne State College president from 1974 to 1982, will

Wayne High School graduation set for May 13

Graduation ceremonies for 71 Wayne seniors will take Saturday, May 13 at 2 p.m. at Rice Auditorium on the Wayne State College campus.

The speaker at the 2006 commencement exercises will be Brendan Dorsey, World Studies and the U.S. History instructor at Wayne High School, currently stationed in Iraq. His speech will be broadcast live, via satellite.

In addition, featured addresses will be given by the Valedictorian and Salutatorian of the class.

The Wayne High School Choir will provide special music. The Wayne High will be presented to members of his family at the Wayne State College spring commencement.

WSC President Richard J. Collings will make the presentation during the undergraduate commencement ceremony in the Willow Bowl at 2 p.m. Saturday, May 6. Seymour's widow, Virginia (Ginny) and their daughters, Pamela Johnson and Linda Hillman, will be on hand for the presentation. The Seymours' son, the Rev. Ron Seymour of Seattle, Wash., will be unable to attend. Dr. Lyle E. Seymour died on Dec. 2, 2005 at the age of 83.

"Lyle Seymour was exceptional," said Collings. "His knowledge of, and interest in, Wayne State College was tremendous. Lyle worked diligently on behalf of the college and community. This lifetime achievement award is one way that we at Wayne State College can honor his life and accomplishments."

Much of Seymour's life was intertwined with Wayne State College. His family moved to Wayne when he was a young boy.

Providence Road closing

Monday, May 8 at approximately 7:30 a.m., the City of Wayne Public Works Department will close Providence Road between 7th Street and 10th Street for the installation of a storm sewer crossing. This section of Providence Road will be closed to through traffic, and will reopen late afternoon Wednesday, May 10, weather permitting.

During this time it is advised that traffic use Hillside Drive and Pine Heights Road, to travel between 7th Street to 10th Street.

The City of Wayne would like to thank you for your cooperation during this time.

Local roots get editor's career on right track

By David W. Carstens
Of the Herald

The tracks leading to what's been an exciting career path for Carl Swanson started back in Wayne County.

Surrounded by model trains of every size and scale, one would think the 1979 Wayne High graduate would have one of the best jobs in the world.

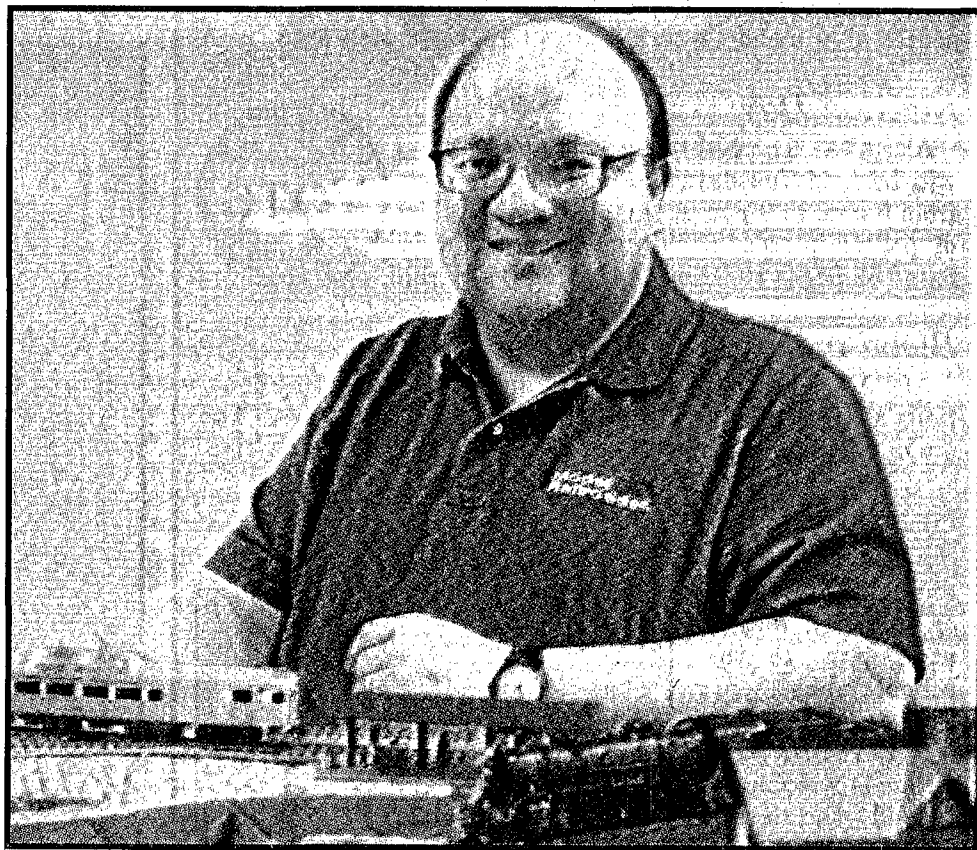

Even though Swanson has worked his way up to Senior Editor at "Model Railroader," the largest model train magazine in the world, he still feels a connection back to his roots on a farm south of Carroll.

Swanson works for the magazine, which is the flagship monthly publication of Kalmbach Publishing, located in Brookfield, Wis., a western suburb of Milwaukee.

His responsibilities cover everything from product testing, interviews and research, plus being a member of the 10-member Model Railroader editorial staff. It's a job that combines hard work with one of the world's most treasured hobbies.

"As far as big cities go, Milwaukee is a pretty nice place to live, but I think about Nebraska often," Swanson said during a recent interview just as the July issue of MR was going to press.

Wayne High graduate Carl Swanson currently serves as Senior Editor for Model Railroader magazine, the world's leading model trains publication with a circulation of 176,000 readers.

Project continues to be on track

While the recent spring rains temporarily halted work on Main Street, work continues to be on schedule and on track.

Rain delays are built into the construction timeline by contractors so the few days lost were anticipated long before the first brick was turned up. Contractors this week are already to Third Street with the laying of the new water main and are beginning work on some of the storm drain crossovers.

It's interesting to note that service lines will be tapped and run later off the new water main meaning that portions will be dug up once more to make the connections. While it may seem to be a redundant activity, it is both safer and more efficient to complete the water main project in this fashion. With no trenches bisecting, the risk of soil cave-in is minimized and service lines being run to shops and businesses do not slow up the larger trenching equipment laying the water main.

Are you wondering how to walk across the street? Just look for several of the "sand sidewalks" set up

Seat belt usage being encouraged

The Nebraska State Patrol joins the Nebraska Office of Highway Safety (NOHS) in an effort to emphasize seat belt usage through two mobilization efforts. "Buckle Up in Your Truck," runs from Sunday, May 7 through Saturday, May 13, while the nationwide "Click It or Ticket" mobilization will take place May 22- June 4.

The biggest factor in preventing death or serious injury in a motor vehicle crash is the proper use of seat belts and child restraints. Statistics from NOHS show during the past six years, only five of 74 pickup truck drivers involved in fatal crashes were using seat belts.

"Last year 20 people lost their lives in roll-over crashes involving pickup trucks," said Colonel Bryan Tuma, Superintendent of the Nebraska State Patrol. "Of those 20 fatalities only three were wearing seat belts. That number is too high. We want pickup truck drivers and all drivers to realize buckling up can make a difference."

Statistics show one in every 21 licensed drivers in Nebraska will be involved in a motor vehicle crash each year. Safety belts cut the risk of death or serious injury in a crash by up to 50 percent.

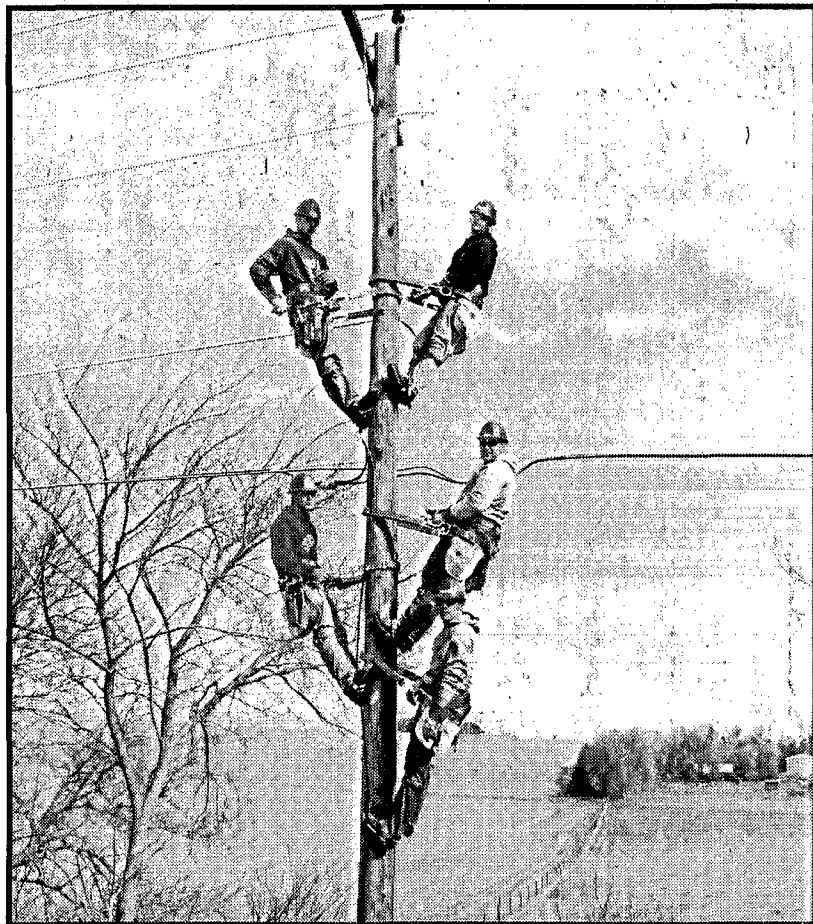

at various intervals for pedestrian traffic. Presently, there are sidewalks at Main and Second, Main and Third, and one between The Coffee Shoppe and dianne's Creations. Look for more to be laid at First and Main and Fourth and Main shortly.

Are you uncertain where to drive across Main Street? Look for "thru street" signs posted on both Logan and Pearl Streets. Currently the through street is located on Fourth Street and drivers should use caution in the transition from hard to soft surfaces.

Does it seem like the traffic is moving too fast on the Logan Street detour? The State Department of Roads has installed a speed check station near Snakey Jake's to alert motorists that the speed on residential streets remains at 25 mph. Road officials remind motorists that speeding fines in construction zones are doubled, so relax and enjoy the trip. Logan Street is in a residential neighborhood with a number of young families, making drivers' attention to cautious driving a number one priority.

"Remember to tell your out of town friends who may be coming to visit for the graduation weekend about the detours and access areas to downtown Wayne; they'll thank you for it!" said members of the TEAM 15 Communications committee who have been providing the weekly updates on various aspects of the project.

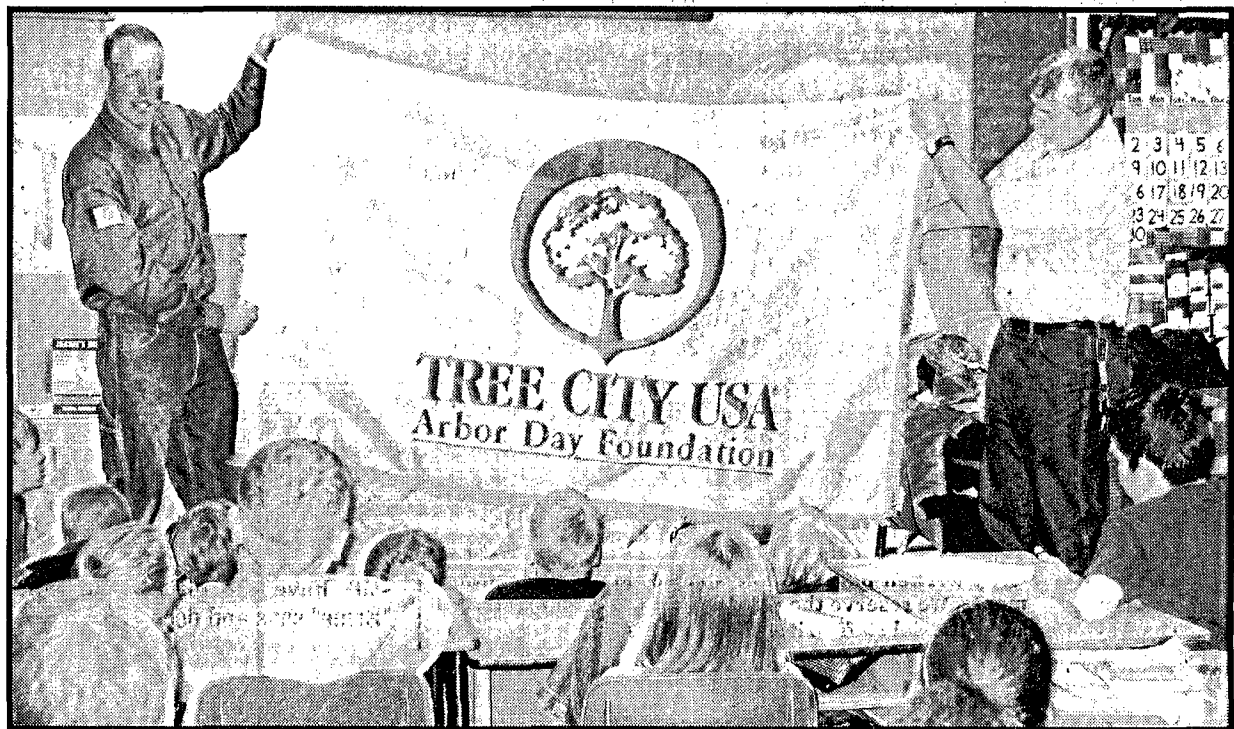

Gaining experience

Five utility line students from Northeast Community College in Norfolk, pose for a picture atop a pole when they were in Wayne recently. To gain experience, 20 class members working in conjunction with the City of Wayne Electric Distribution Department, took part in removing overhead power lines just north of Wayne. These lines were in conflict with the upcoming highway construction and had previously been replaced with new underground lines. In exchange for retiring the lines, the students and NECC received materials for use in their classrooms and labs.

Poster contest

Tree city presentation

Joel Hansen, Certified Street Superintendent for the City of Wayne, left, and Steve Rasmussen, Nebraska Forest Service District Forester, display the Tree City USA flag earned by the city of Wayne. The two presented an Arbor Day program to fourth grade students at Wayne Elementary School. It included a video on trees, discussion on the parts of a tree and the city's plan for replacing trees that are removed for various reasons.

Volunteer reception

The Wayne Public Library recently hosted a Volunteer Reception for all those who have volunteered in various capacities at the library during the past year. Above, Lauren Lofgren, Library Director, left, visits with several of the volunteers. In addition to the reception, each volunteer received a gift in appreciation for the work they do.

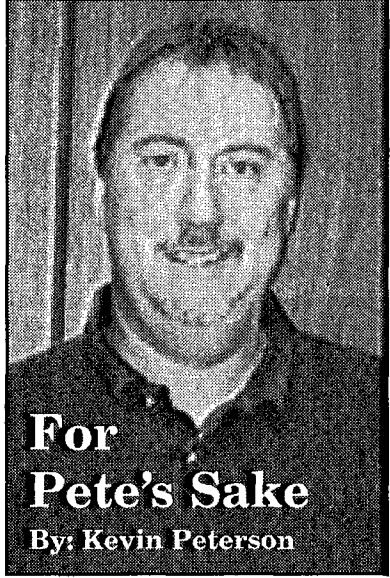

Herald does not endorse any political candidate

A few weeks ago I was attending a local function when an individual approached me and asked my opinion about some of the local races on the ballot for next Tuesday's election.

As we discussed in detail our opinions, (I stress ...opinions), I felt the gentleman was referring to the Wayne Herald opinion being my opinion and this is simply not true.

The Wayne Herald does not endorse candidates and the reason is quite simply, "it's just not fair to do so." We are in the business of reporting the facts not swaying public opinion.

For Pete's Sake
By: Kevin Peterson

And of course with that being said, we strongly urge all registered voters in Wayne County to get out and vote next Tuesday. The reason it's called judgement day is because we the people, dictate our country's futures with our votes. If we decide not to show up at the polls, we really have nothing to complain about if the outcome is not as we desire.

As the calendar pushed into May this week and the rush is on for graduations, pending summer vacations, etc. it also allowed me a moment to reflect on an individual that had an impact on my family's life indirectly.

Former First National Bank president and a friend Bob Reeg, passed away two years ago this week. I was living in Plattsmouth at the time and I remember feeling devastated when I got the call from Steve Muir about his passing.

Everyone who knew Bob has stories about him whether it be from banking experiences or golf course anecdotes.

My rush to memory about Bob is how much he cared about people. How he went out of his way to help in anyway possible. This is no more evident than having him call my family after the birth of my daughter Britney and all of the complications that followed with her pending stay at the Medical Center in Omaha.

Bob was one of the first people to call me and offer assistance even if it was just to have someone to talk with about what my wife and I were going through.

He always visited with me about work and what my goals were and if he could help get me to my goals.

As the month of May begins with all of the fresh beginnings and the excitement of what's to come, it's only fitting the month of May ends with Memorial Day and a time to reflect on those who have passed who had a major impact on where we are today.

Capitol View Chambers is 'champion of downtrodden'

By Ed Howard
Statehouse Correspondent
The Nebraska Press Association

Just say "Ernie."

If the conversation involves government, anyone with more than a passing interest in the subject understands the reference to Senator Ernie Chambers of Omaha.

The fiery orator has been the most consistent darling or devil (choose one) of legislative observers for better than three decades.

The only black member of the Unicameral, Chambers describes himself as a champion of the downtrodden.

There are those who believe voter approval of term limits on Nebraska legislators was bolstered mightily by those who just can't stand Ernie. A master of procedural rules, he has sometimes brought the Legislature to a virtual halt as he opposed one thing or another.

Chambers will be "term limited out" of the Legislature in a couple of years.

What next? Although he came no where close to a commitment, Chambers recently said he just might run against Douglas County Commissioner Chris Rodgers in a couple of years.

Rodgers is opposed to a law, championed into enactment by Chambers, dividing the Omaha Public Schools district into three smaller, independent entities.

The view from here: If Chambers is ever elected to a local office, news from Omaha will be of markedly increased interest to lots of folk in small-town Nebraska. Chambers has entertained and/or outraged folks - some of them grateful and some of them hateful - to the point of iconic status. Lots of them will still have an interest in what "Ernie" says and does.

A lot of political wags are interested in a campaign ad for Governor Dave Heineman.

It notes that the governor is the only candidate in the GOP primary with endorsements from the Farm Bureau, Farmers Union, Right To Life and the National Rifle Association.

Heineman campaign types note that those combined umbrellas cover a whole bunch of voters, from Omaha to Scottsbluff and most counties in between.

Heineman faces Congressman Tom Osborne and businessman Dave Nabity in the gubernatorial primary. The winner will face Democrat David Hahn in the general election.

Hahn has been traveling the state, meeting and greeting as he prepares for the extraordinarily steep, uphill battle leading to November's balloting.

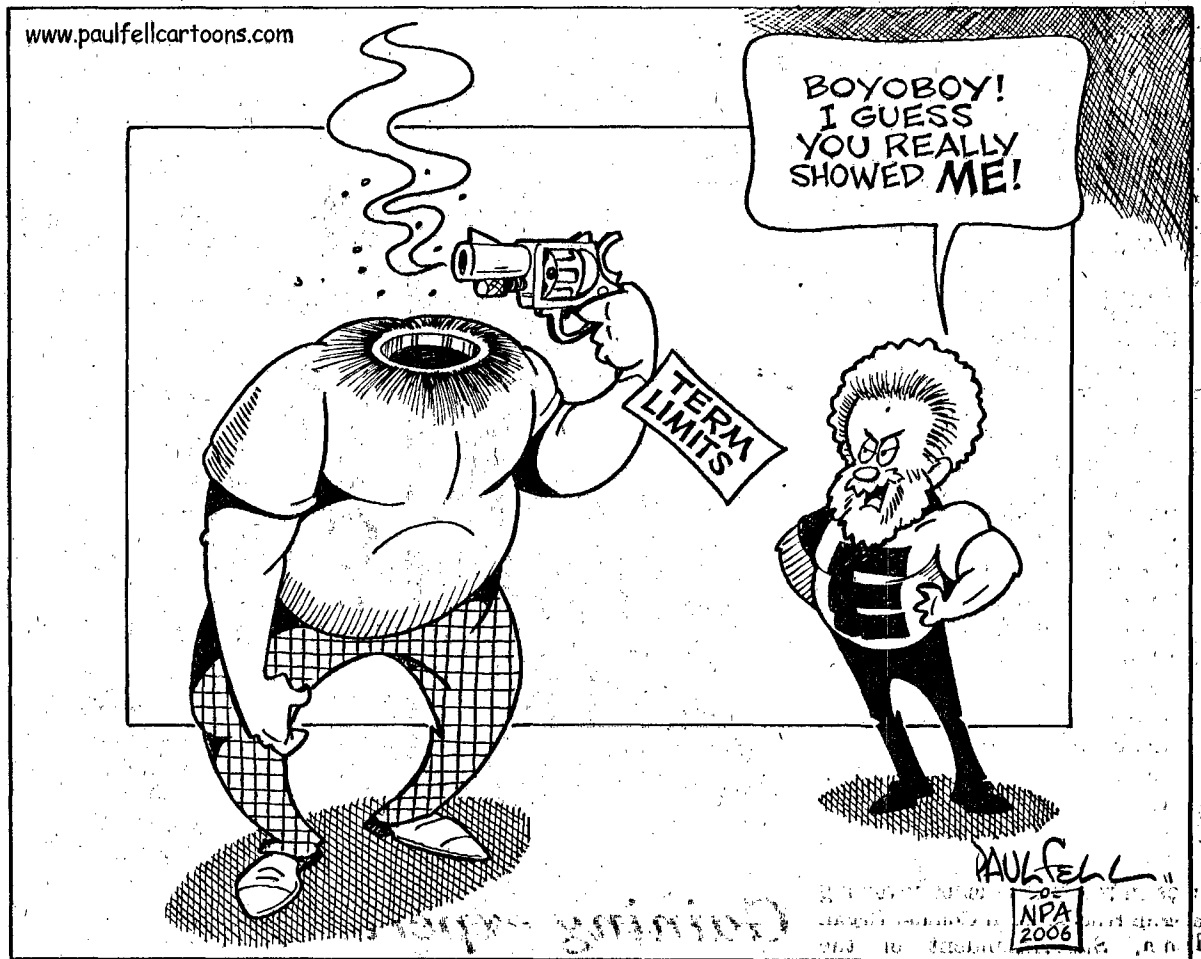

"There will be lots of time to put detailed positions and ideas out there," Hahn said. "People have complained for a long time about big-spending campaigns that go on forever, and the fact that every campaign just brings out the same rhetoric and promises. I'm not spending a lot of money, and the theme of my campaign is 'reality,' and what choices Nebraska has to make."

Nowhere in Nebraska is political joy more visible than in the campaign of GOP Senate hopeful Pete Ricketts.

Independent polling, as well as his own, shows him with a sizeable lead over one-time attorney general Don Stenberg and former Republican Party chairman Dave Kramer.

Stenberg is dismissive of Ricketts' survey, saying it was a so-called push poll, designed to get the response Ricketts wanted.

Incumbent Democrat Ben Nelson will face the winner of the Republican primary.

Several projects move forward in Wayne

City Council Meeting
The next regular meeting of the Wayne City Council will be Tuesday, May 9 at 7:30 p.m. in the city council room at 306 Pearl Street.

Waste Water Treatment Plant
We are interviewing prospective engineering firms to have one prepare an analysis of the current treatment plant and make a recommendation for up-grading the current one or replacing it with new technology.

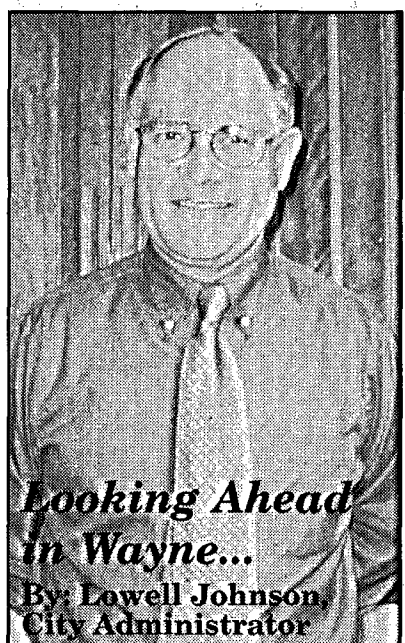

The critical issues expressed to date are cost of operation, odor reduction, location, future EPA requirements for waste water and expandability in case a new industry is located here.

Our existing plant is working well and meeting all requirements. New EPA requirements coming are disinfection of all treated water flowing into Logan Creek and probable removal of nitrogen and phosphorus.

A committee of citizens, city staff and elected officials has been appointed to work on this project.

Main Street Project
The water main is being laid and covered. The contractor will dig in the water service lines to the buildings later when the new water main is tested and passes inspection.

It is easier and safer to dig the service lines in separately than having two sets of water line trenches open.

Sale is successful

Dear Editor,
The Friends of the Wayne Public Library would like to thank the community of Wayne for coming out in force (and in the rain!) to support its annual book sale. It was such a success we plan to move the sale from the North room to the main floor of the City Auditorium next year.

We would also like to extend a special thank you to KTCH's Mark Ahmann for his enthusiastic promotion of the sale and its ultimate mission: to assist the library in its quest to serve our community.

Friends of the Library will celebrate its first birthday this month. Because of Wayne's commitment our future prospects look bright.

Respect candidates

Dear Editor,
As we approach the primary elections on Tuesday, May 9, we must also approach the conduct of our citizenry.

Each American citizen, regardless of age, race, or creed, is given the privilege of freedom of speech. However, when citizens do not agree with the candidates in any election their privilege of freedom of speech does not allow them to trespass onto private property, destroy private personal property or steal same. Freedom of speech was not initiated to benefit one at the expense of another.

During the past week candidates have experienced the removal of signs which were legally placed by permission of the property owners. Whether those who are exercising their freedom of speech are adults of voting age or minors is not relevant. What is relevant is the campaigns of candidates have been interrupted, trespassing has occurred, personal property has been tampered with and stolen. Your privilege of freedom of speech has demonstrated a lack of conscience and a lack of responsibility to your fellow citizens.

Members of our communities have every opportunity to express their pleasure or displeasure of candidates by going to the polls on Tuesday, May 9 and casting their votes. This is the American expression of democracy and justice. Let's not allow a few to discourage our candidates from seeking public office. Persons responsible for the above acts in all due respect should return the personal property to its location, place it back to where it had been and issue an apology to the landowners as well as the candidates.

It takes a lot of personal commitment, energy, financial strain and conviction for any candidate to pursue public office, especially when there are citizens among us who take it upon themselves to act in a manner that is not within the lawful boundaries of freedom of speech.

May our citizenry take time on Tuesday, May 9 and get out and vote. Thank you for your consideration.

Beverly Neel,
Wayne

Donors appreciated

Dear Editor,
The need for blood affects all of us. Nine out of 10 of us will need blood some time in our lives, and one out of every 10 hospital patients requires a transfusion.

Blood is in constant demand for treatment of accident cases, cancer patients, hemophiliacs, and for use during surgery. The need for blood never takes a holiday. Patients who need blood are counting on healthy people to give blood.

Donating blood regularly is the only way to guarantee that it will be available when needed. Your participation in the blood drives is greatly appreciated.

The Siouxland Community Blood Bank wishes to thank everyone who gave the gift of life during our visits to the Wayne area in April. We registered a total of 101 donors and collected 105 units of life saving blood. We also recruited 17 new donors.

The following donors deserve special recognition for reaching gallon milestones during the - month:

- Harold Flee-16 Gallons.
- Judy Martindale-seven gallons.
- Ronald Sherlock-five gallons.
- Ritchie Workman and Joseph C. Nelson-two gallons.

- Melanie Nelson, Alana Feak, Dena Brock, Bradley Wilder and Mary Venteicher-one gallon.

A special Thank You to the following businesses and churches for allowing us the use of their facilities: Wayne State College, Ameritas and Wayne Fire Department.

Donating blood regularly is the only way to guarantee that it will be available when needed. Your participation in the blood drives is greatly appreciated.

attorney should look at. And, venue, because if there's a dispute, you have to go to Illinois to settle it.

Neel asked if there was another company they could look into instead of KONE but commissioners noted other area businesses that have elevators also have this company which probably means there isn't.

It was the general consensus that the elevator is being used more so they have to have someone in the area to fix it. The elevator at the courthouse broke three weeks ago and the repairman was there to fix it in a little over an hour. The commissioners decided to ask a KONE representative to attend their next meeting to answer some of the questions they have.

Other agenda items included discussion on the courthouse cupola that was taken from the original courthouse at LaPorte southeast of Wayne and placed on the Wayne County courthouse grounds. Lois Shelton, Wayne mayor and a member of Wayne County Historical Society, told commissioners they want to put up a sign by the cupola. The sign will have a photo of the original courthouse on it as well as historical facts.

Commissioners noted the cement where the cupola is sitting will be re-done as part of the remodeling of the old JDC building, which is to be finished in June. They told Shelton that if the historical society wants a fence around the cupola, they should have it there soon so the posts can be put into the new cement.

Elizabeth Carlson, highway superintendent, reported Wayne County received a scrap tire grant of $10,276 from the Department of Environmental Quality. Commissioners are planning to have a collection at the fairgrounds in Wayne, possibly in August.

Carlson also noted there will be a town hall meeting on Monday, May 15 at 2:30 in the courthouse basement meeting room. She noted the town meeting is being held so people can see the new digital flood maps of the county.

Wayne Denklaue, emergency management director, and Leroy Janssen, Wayne County Sheriff, told commissioners that the next round of emergency management funds are available (June 1 deadline). Janssen will be at the next meeting of the Northeast Nebraska Public Health Department on May 8. After that, a meeting will be set up with other counties to discuss the possibility of going together and working on requirements for future funding. The grant Wayne County received last year was for communication purposes for emergency personnel, which they would like to keep receiving.

The next meeting of the Wayne County Commissioners will be on Tuesday, May 16 at 9 a.m. at the courthouse in Wayne.

Conference on meth was an 'eye opener'

Wayne Police Chief Lance Webster and several other people from the Wayne area, representing the Northeast Nebraska Public Health Department and the Wayne County Foster Care Review Board recently attended a conference in Norfolk that dealt with the significant negative effects methamphetamine has on children.

Webster said the conference dealt with the physiological effects on children caused by Methamphetamine labs. He noted it is not unusual for children to be present in homes where Methamphetamine is manufactured and/or sold. The long term effects on the development of children exposed to Methamphetamine addicted parents is staggering, and costly.

One problem often seen is that parents who are addicted to Methamphetamine very often forgo their children in an effort to get more Meth. Statistics bear out that children raised by meth users are very likely to be abused and neglected.

The positive aspect of the conference was the concept of community coalitions being developed to combat the use of meth. Webster said the cost of prevention is $1 compared to $14 per person incarcerated.

The Wayne Police Department will be partnering with the Wayne Rotary Club to provide methamphetamine (and other drugs) educational programs this year thanks to a grant from the Rotary Foundation.

Webster said he thinks the programs being developed locally will help bring a lot more partners to the table and help Wayne look at ways to combat meth and other drugs locally.

Following high school graduation, Swanson attended Wayne State College for one year and transferred to the University of Nebraska-Lincoln to study journalism and English.

Swanson soon developed his interest in photography and completed his education at Woodland School of Photography in West Virginia.

His first job out of college was as a photographic copy and restoration specialist at a lab in Lexington, Kentucky.

"It was interesting work, but it didn't demand much creativity," Swanson recalled. "I quit and moved home to Nebraska and pondered what to do with my life."

He put his journalism skills to use as a Wayne County correspondent for the Norfolk Daily News. Swanson joined the paper as a full-time reporter in 1986.

He still credits his five-years of experience of working for a daily newspaper as a foundation for his job today.

"Good reporting in any form — book, magazine or newspaper — requires balance, judgement and an appreciation for solid facts. It was there I learned these skills which help me every day in my work," Swanson said.

Swanson, a lifelong fan of railroads and model trains, got his opportunity to take his career to the next level in 1991 when he was offered a job in Milwaukee as editor of Passenger Train Journal, a publication produced by another company in that city.

He accepted the job, got married, bought a house and started a family all within the next few years.

Seven years ago, after sensing what was the eventual collapse at the Journal, Swanson joined the staff at Kalmbach where he worked as an editor at another of the company's 12 publications, "Classic Toy Trains."

One of Kalmbach's unique qualities is found in its extensive, research library that the staff is expected to utilize when writing articles.

Naturally, this room filled with countless rows of industry publications and 165,000 railroad photos became more than just a great job perk for Swanson.

Three years ago, the company asked Swanson to produce a hard-cover book of images that honored the human side of railroading.

His book, called the "Faces of Railroading," gave Swanson an opportunity to showcase some of the exceptional photography from the Kalmbach archives.

Swanson said he worked every weekend and late into the overnight hours to put the book together over the course of a summer.

"My wife (Judith) was pregnant with our daughter, Rachel, at the time and she had to keep our two sons entertained, while I spent hour after hour in front of our computer surrounded by teetering stacks of reference books," he said.

Of all his accomplishments, Swanson said he is most proud of the accolades that were bestowed upon him after the book was released.

He was interviewed by the Voice of America, an international radio service about the book and he said even though the program is heard by an estimated 87 million listeners worldwide, it was another endorsement that made everything come full circle.

The Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers issued a press release citing the union's approval of Swanson's new book.

"These are the kind of guys I wrote the book for and it means a lot to know they appreciate what I've done," Swanson said.

Blue Devils compete at Mid-State meet in Albion

The season is slowly drawing to a close for the Wayne High track and field team.

Select members of the team traveled to the Norfolk Classic meet on April 27 at Norfolk High School in an event that matched some of the area's best performers this past season.

Wayne High was paced by the girls' 3200-meter relay team (Brooke Anderson, Kayla Kayla Hochstein, Alesha Finkey and Maddie Jager) who placed fourth with a finish of 10:24.17 minutes. Individually, the Blue Devil girls were led by Jean Pieper who placed fifth in the long jump (15-7 3/4 feet) and sixth in the 100-meter dash with her clocking of 12.89 seconds.

The Wayne High boys were highlighted with a fifth-place finish by Scott Baier in the 400-meter run with his finish of 53.29 seconds.

Other final results and placings for the Wayne High at the Norfolk Classic were:

Girls results

800 — 9. Brooke Anderson, WAY, 2:34.91; 400 relay — 8. WAY, 54.05; 1600 relay — 8. WAY, 4:28.71.

jump — 9. Nate Finkey, WAY, 18-8 3/4.

Mid-State Championship

Even though rain forced a reschedule of the Mid-State conference championship meet, Wayne High was able to log improved finishes when the event was run on Monday, May 1 at Albion.

The girls' team placed fifth overall, while the boys took sixth.

The girls' 3200-meter relay team captured the conference title with a season-best time of 10:20.0 to avenge a two-second loss to Norfolk Catholic in the Norfolk Classic in the previous matchup with both teams.

Pieper brought home three silver medals from her respective finishes in the long jump, 100-meter dash and 400-meter run.

Pieper also ran a leg in the third-place 400-meter relay group, along with Finkey, Amber Lutt and Angie Arhreholtz.

Other finishes for Wayne High's girls' team included Brook Anderson's fourth-place finish in the 800, Maddy Moser with fifth in the high jump, Michelle Jarvi at sixth in the 1600-meter run and Anna West's sixth-place finish in the 3200.

The Blue Devil 1600-meter relay team (Jager, Megan Nissen, Finkey and Hochstein) rounded out Wayne's scoring with a fourth-place finish.

The boys' team was paced by Baier and Joe Mrsny, who placed second in the 400- and 800-meter runs, respectively.

The 1600-meter relay team (Mrsny, Nate Finkey, Mike Kay and Baier) also won a silver at Monday's meet.

Other leading individual finishers for the Blue Devils were: Chris Sherry, sixth, shot put and Sheldon Onderstal, fifth, 1600.

The boys' 3200-meter relay team (Mrsny, Zach Long, Reggie Ruhl, Onderstal) and 400-meter relay team (Kay, Ryan Pieper, Finkey and Baier) both took fifth.

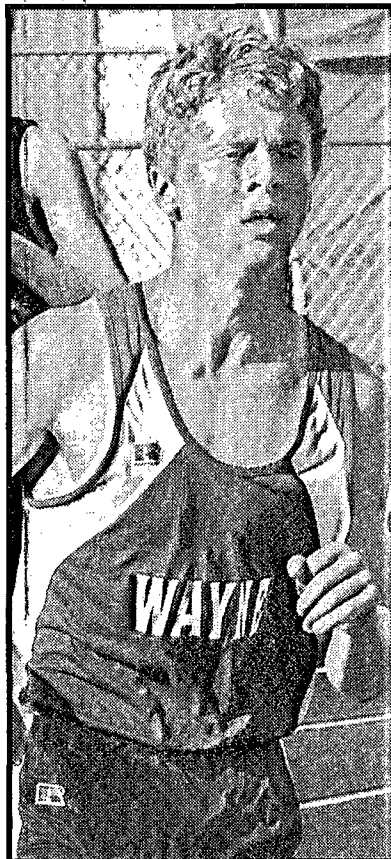

The Blue Devils will be back in action Thursday (today) at the Battle Creek Invitational and will enter District competition on Thursday, May 11, at Norfolk Catholic.

Maddie Jager finishes her individual race in recent action. Jager also ran a leg in the conference champion 3200-meter race earlier this week.

Misfeldt dismissed by WSC

A search for a new WSC softball coach is underway.

Wayne State College athletic director Eric Schoh announced late last Friday afternoon that head softball coach Jon Misfeldt has been terminated from his position at the school.

Misfeldt, who also served as equipment coordinator and women's golf coach, had a 140-197 overall record and a 59-50 mark against Northern Sun Conference teams in his seven seasons as head coach.

WSC is 9-32 overall this season and 6-8 in the NSIC, marking the first time that the Wildcats have had a losing record in Northern Sun Conference play.

"Coach Misfeldt was terminated because the program was not heading in the direction we want it to go," Schoh said.

Graduate assistant coach Amanda Davey will coach the team in the Northern Sun Conference tournament this weekend in Crookston, Minn.

Schoh added that a national search will begin to find a replacement.

On the previous day, the University of South Dakota swept a college softball twin-bill over Wayne State Thursday evening in Vermillion, S.D., 5-1 and 7-3.

The host Coyotes scored four runs in the bottom of the sixth inning in the first game to win 5-1, then scored three runs in the fourth inning in the second game to snap a 3-3 tie and go on to a 7-3 win.

Wayne State's Bre Parks gave the Wildcats an early 1-0 lead in the first game, connecting on a home run to left field.

USD tied the score in the bottom of the first inning on Tagney Jones' RBI double that scored Sarah Wrage.

The score remained 1-1 until the bottom of the sixth inning when the Coyotes broke loose for four runs on four hits and used one WSC error to plate four runs and grab the win.

Wrage belted a two-run homer to make the score 3-1.

Wildcats clinch top seed in conference tournament with home sweep over Northern

The friendly confines of Wayne State's Pete Chapman Baseball Complex will become even more cozy in the next few outings for the WSC baseball team.

WSC (32-13-1), carrying the best league record with 19 wins and one loss against conference foes, wrapped up yet another regular season title earlier this week when WSC secured the top seed in the Northern Sun Conference Baseball Tournament sweep over Northern State.

The Wildcats will now host the NSIC tournament on Thursday-Saturday, May 11-13.

The wins against Northern on Monday provided an excellent rebound opportunity after the Wildcats lost a pair of back-to-back games at Augustana on April 26.

Augustana used a pair of late-inning rallies to top Wayne State 6-4 and 3-2 in non conference action in Sioux Falls, S.D.

In the first game, the host Vikings rallied from a 4-1 deficit as Ryan Kessinger belted a three-run homer in the bottom of the fifth inning to give Augustana a 6-4 win over Wayne State.

The Wildcats took the lead in the second inning on Danny Benges' two-run single to put WSC in front 2-0.

A Scott Bidroski solo home run in the third inning gave WSC a 3-0 cushion.

Augustana scored in the bottom of the third inning on Gary Walz's run-scoring single to cut the 'Cat lead to 3-1.

WSC took a 4-1 lead in the fourth inning when Dustin Jones' RBI single brought home Ian DeLaet.

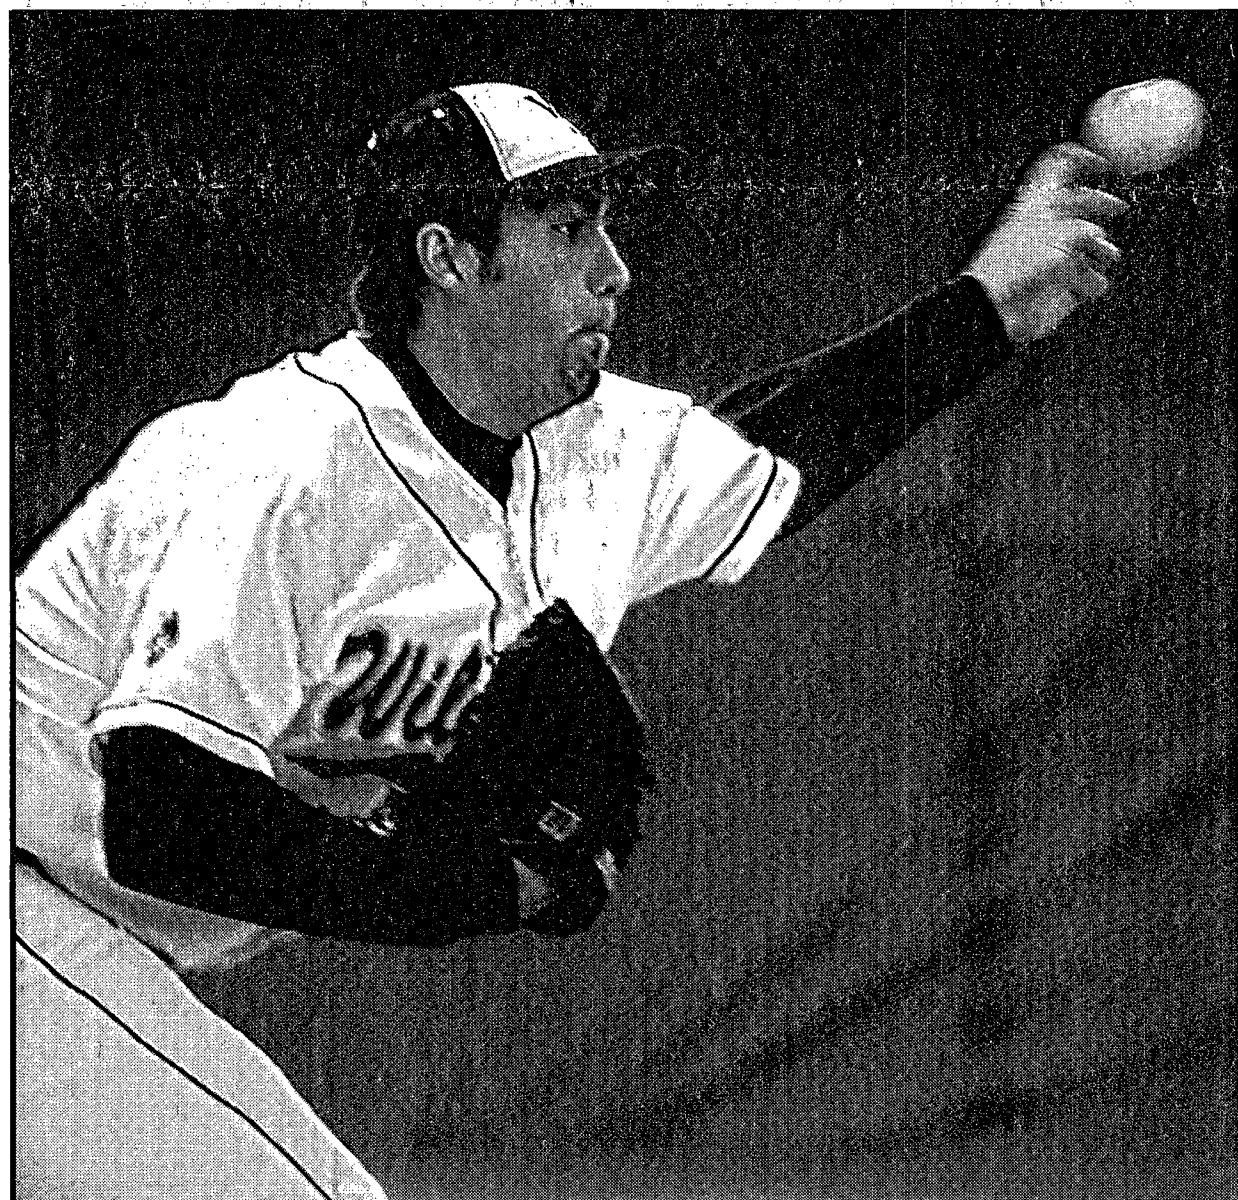

But Augustana plated two runs in the fourth inning on a WSC error and an RBI groundout and captured the lead for good in the fifth inning on Kessinger's three run homer to give the Vikings the win.

Junior reliever Nathan Gettler (1-1) suffered his first loss of the season, giving up his first runs of the season in 17 innings pitched.

He allowed two runs on two hits in two innings in relief of starter Michael Donohoe, who worked the first four innings. Donohoe was charged with four runs on six hits with four walks and three strikeouts.

Augustana had eight hits in the game to six for Wayne State. Ian DeLaet went 3 for 3 to lead the Wildcats, followed by Bidroski's solo home run and Benges' two-run single.

See CHAMPIONS, page 2B

Travis Mortimore improved to 7-1 after pitching six strong innings in Monday's home win over Northern State to earn WSC a home field advantage in the upcoming NSIC tourney.

Wayne State hosts athletic honors event

The Wayne State College athletic department recognized its top student-athletes for the 2005-06 school year on April 30 during its annual athletic honors banquet held at the WSC Student Center.

A dedication ceremony was also held to name the baseball and softball complex in honor of the late Pete Chapman.

The ceremony was moved indoors due to the cancellation of Sunday's NSIC baseball double-header with Northern State at Wayne State.

The Pete Chapman Baseball/Softball Complex honors the first full-time athletic director at Wayne State, who served 17 seasons at the school. Chapman was instrumental in Wayne State's acceptance into NCAA Division II in 1989 and the Northern Sun Conference in 1999.

Chapman died in 2003 at the age of 53 following a lengthy battle with cancer.

Seven major awards were handed out at Sunday evening's athletic banquet as baseball player Dustin Jones was named the Male Athlete of the Year, while basketball player Nicole Gruntorad received the Female Athlete of the Year Award.

The Male Freshman Athlete of the Year was given to baseball standout Vicente Cafaro, while the Female Freshman Athlete of the Year went to basketball player Kylee McGill.

The second annual Wildcat Inspiration Award was given to Cody Gregory from the men's track and field team.

In addition, senior basketball players Ashley Arndorfer and Dusty Smith received the Bob Cunningham Scholar-Athlete Awards.

The Cunningham Awards, named after longtime supporter Bob Cunningham, are presented to the department's top male and female scholar athletes.

A brief summary of the athletes honored include:

Jones, a junior from Dakota Dunes, S.D., is just 20 hits shy of becoming the all-time hits leader in WSC baseball history with one full season left to play. He has played on two NSIC championship teams and two NCAA regional clubs and was named the MVP of the 2005 NSIC Baseball Tournament. This season, he leads the NSIC with a .414 batting average and also ranks first in hits (65), stolen bases (19) and plate appearances (189).

Gruntorad, a senior from Kearney, helped Wayne State win its first-ever NSIC regular season championship this past season, averaging 13.4 points, 4.23 assists, 3.9 rebounds and 1.71 steals per game. She was named the NSIC Player of the Year this past season and was chosen the MVP of the NSIC Red Baron's Women's Basketball Classic. Gruntorad led NCAA Division II in three point shooting this past season (48.6 percent) and helped WSC advance to the NCAA National Tournament with the best season in school history, 27-4.

Cafaro, a freshman from Maracay, Venezuela, has had a tremendous freshman season for the WSC baseball team, leading the NSIC in runs scored (52) sacrifice bunts (10) and hit batsmen (15). He is batting .333 for the season and is on pace to break the school record for runs scored in a season. Cafaro also ranks second in the NSIC in doubles (15) and plate appearances (187).

McGill, a freshman from Little River, Kan., had a stellar season for the WSC women's basketball team, playing in all 31 games. She averaged 5.7 points and 4.2 rebounds per game, shooting 54.9 percent from the field and 76 percent at the free throw line. McGill made the game-winning shot in a 61-60 win over Northern State on Jan. 6 and had two double figure games in the NSIC Red Baron Women's Basketball Classic to be named to the All-Tournament Team.

Arndorfer, a senior from Algona, Iowa, finished second on the all-time list in career three pointers at WSC with 216 and just missed the 1,000 point club with 960 career points. Ashley was a three-time NSIC All-Academic Selection and was selected to the ESPN/The Magazine/CoSIDA Academic All-America District VII Third Team with a 3.95 grade point average majoring in pre-med/life science.

and the Coyotes added two more runs when Stephanie Bergman reached on a Wildcat error resulting in two insurance runs for USD to make the final score 5-1.

Emily Voshall (2-12) suffered the pitching loss in relief of starter Lisa Stewart. Both pitchers worked three innings for the Wildcats. South Dakota had eight hits to Wayne State's five. Parks finished the game 2 for 3 with a double and home run to lead Wayne State at the plate. Erica Reitz added a double for the Wildcats.

The second game saw Krystal Kirwan and Sarah Wrage homer for the Coyotes as South Dakota recorded a 7-3 win over Wayne State. WSC scored all three of its runs in the first inning as Erica Reitz laced a two-run single and Hain produced an RBI groundout to give the Wildcats an early lead.

USD countered with two runs in the bottom of the first on back-to-back solo homers by Kirwan and Wrage to make it a 3-2 score. USD tied the score with one run in the third inning and took the lead for good in the fourth inning by scoring three runs to make it 6-3.

USD had just one more hit than Wayne State, 9-8. Parks led WSC at the plate again, going 3 for 4 in the second game to finish 5 for 7.

Hain (6-17) was tagged with the loss for Wayne State, allowing five runs on four hits with six walks and one strikeout in three and one-third innings pitched.

The Wildcats will enter this weekend's Northern Sun conference tournament as the No. 5 seed and will face No. 4 MSU-Moorhead at noon on Friday, May 5, at Crookston, Minn. Win or lose the Wildcats, 6-8 in league play, will play a second tourney game at 4 p.m., also on Friday.

WSC dropped a pair of close games to Moorhead during the regular season.

Vicente Cafaro heads toward third base in Monday's doubleheader against Northern State that saw WSC seal the host spot for next week's conference tournament.

Champions

The second game saw Augustana's Mason Vig produce a pinch-hit, two-run single with one out in the bottom of the seventh inning to give the Vikings a come-from-behind 3-2 win over Wayne State.

WSC scored runs in the first and second innings to take an early 2-0 lead. Chris Pedroza's sacrifice fly in the first inning scored Dustin Jones and Ian DeLaet scored on an Augustana error in the second inning.

Augustana scored once in the bottom of the fifth inning on Ryan Kessinger's solo home run to make the score 2-1, then used the seventh inning rally to produce the 3-2 win.

The Vikings had six hits to just four by Wayne State. Danny Bengé was 2 for 3 to lead WSC while DeLaet and Vicente Cafaro each singled.

Junior reliever and Wayne native Adam McGuire (2-2) was tagged with the pitching loss for WSC, allowing two runs on three hits in one-third inning of work.

Connor Bramlet started the game and pitched four and one-third innings, allowing just one run on one hit. Josh Andersen and Travis Mortimore also worked in relief for WSC.

WSC vs. Northern State

Wayne State clinched the top seed in the Northern Sun Conference Baseball Tournament Monday afternoon with a 10-8 and 4-3 sweep over Northern State in college baseball played at the Pete Chapman Baseball Complex in Wayne.

The Wildcats had to survive a pair of seventh inning rallies by the visiting Wolves to win both games.

Northern State plated six runs with two outs in the final frame of the first game to make the score 10-8 and scored two runs with two outs in the top of the seventh of the second game to make the final tally 4-3.

The first game saw Wayne State jump out to a quick 5-0 lead in the first inning.

Vicente Cafaro hit a solo home run, then the Wildcats put together five consecutive doubles by Ben Albury, Pedroza, Alex Koch, DeLaet and Arnaldo Ovalles to take a 5-0 lead. In the second inning, Cafaro tripled and scored on Scott Bidroski's RBI groundout to put WSC in front 6-0 after two innings.

The Wildcats grabbed an 8-0 lead in the third thanks to an RBI single by Ovalles and a bases loaded hit batsman to Cafaro.

Northern State plated two unearned runs in the fifth inning on a two-run single by Aaron Kappes.

WSC took a 10-2 lead in the sixth inning when Pedroza delivered a two-run double. In the seventh inning with two outs and no one on base, Northern State used six straight hits, highlighted by Christian Tavarez with a two-run home run, to make the game interesting before WSC final shut the door on the Wolves for a 10-8 win.

Wayne State finished the first game with 14 hits compared to Northern State's 10.

Cafaro was a perfect 3 for 3 with a home run, triple and single. Pedroza was 3 for 4 with three runs scored, including two doubles. Albury, Koch, DeLaet and Ovalles each contributed two hits to the balanced hitting attack for the Wildcats.

Travis Mortimore (7-1) was the winning pitcher, working six strong innings. He allowed two unearned runs on four hits with 10 strikeouts and two walks.

The second game saw Wayne State hold off another seventh inning rally to preserve a 4-3 win over the Wolves. WSC scored single runs in the first three innings to go up 3-0.

Jones tripled to start the game and scored on Cafaro's RBI ground out to put the Wildcat ahead 1-0 in the first.

Bengé laced an RBI single up the middle to score Cafaro in the second inning to give WSC a 2-0 lead.

In the third inning, Pedroza's RBI double plated Cafaro to build the lead to 3-0.

The Wildcats plated another run in the sixth inning as Ovalles connected on a solo home run to make the score 4-1.

In the top of the seventh inning, Northern State's Christian Tavarez belted a two-run homer to right center field, scoring Aaron Kappes, who singled earlier, to make the final score 4-3.

Wayne State had 11 hits to Northern State's seven.

Jones was 3 for 4 with two triples and a single to lead Wayne State at the plate.

Bidroski added three hits, while Ovalles finished with two, including a home run.

B.J. Wierzbicki (8-1) worked the first five innings to notch the pitching win for Wayne State. He allowed one run on five hits with seven strikeouts. Josh Andersen worked the final two innings and recorded his first save.

Wildcats travel to Drake Relays

The Wayne State College track and field teams finished competition Saturday at the Drake Relays in Des Moines, setting two new school records at the three-day event.

The 4 x 800 meter relay team of Nate McIntire, Casey Ide, Ryan Williams and Ben Jansen ran a time of 7:39.70 to place 11th overall. The old school record of 7:49.13 set by the same quartet last weekend at the Sioux City Relays.

Senior distance runner Nicole McCoy also set a new school record in the 10,000 meter run with a time of 39:26.25, good for 15th place overall. The old school record of 40:48.09 was set by McCoy two years ago. Also competing individually for WSC at the Drake Relays was Ben Crabtree, who placed 21st in the 10,000 meter run with a time of 32:47.34.

The WSC men's distance medley relay team of Casey Ide, Matt Schaffer, Ben Jansen and Matt Schneider ran Saturday morning and finished in 11th out of 20 teams with a time of 10:18.17.

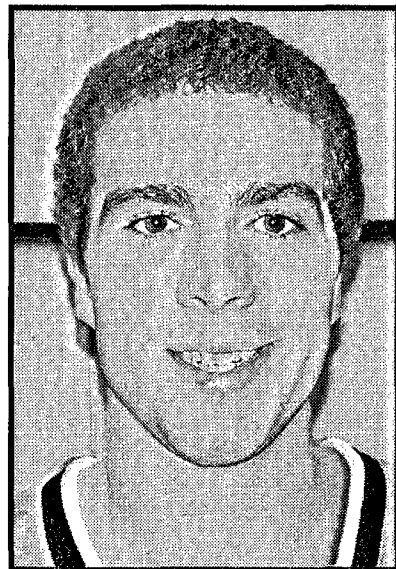

Wayne State will travel to Sioux Falls this weekend to compete in the Howard Wood Relays on Friday and Saturday.

Honors

Smith, a senior from Sioux City, Iowa, became the 27th player in school history to score 1,000 points in his career. He finished third on the all-time three point list with 209 career three point baskets. Dusty was named Third Team All-Northern Sun Conference as a senior and was selected to the ESPN The Magazine/CoSIDA Academic All-America District VII Third Team with a 3.81 grade point average majoring in computer information systems.

Gregory, a sophomore from Walton, Nebr., was the winner of the Wildcat Inspiration Award. He was diagnosed with testicular cancer as a senior in high school and underwent several months of chemotherapy treatments. He has been in remission since and came to Wayne State as a walk-on track and field athlete. He has earned at least one medal in every Northern Sun Conference Indoor and Outdoor Track meet he has competed in.

Dusty Smith

Smith named NSIC scholar

Dusty Smith of Wayne State College was named the 2006 Dr. William Britton Scholar-Athlete Award for Academic Excellence, winner by the Northern Sun Intercollegiate Conference.

In its 22nd year, the Britton Scholar-Athlete Award for Academic Excellence recognizes the NSIC's top male student-athlete. His award marks the second straight season that a Wayne State student-athlete has won the award.

Men's basketball player Brett Watson won the award in 2005.

Smith is a senior computer information systems major and was a four-year member of the Wildcats' men's basketball team.

He will be recognized on Friday, July 28, at the 2006 NSIC Hall of Fame Banquet at St. Cloud, Minn., where he will get a $1,000 post-graduate scholarship.

Athletes sign with Wayne State

WAYNE — Two student-athletes signed national letters of intent last week to continue their athletic careers at Wayne State College. Meghan Costello of Grand Island Northwest High School has signed to compete in cross country and track and field for the Wildcats according to Wayne State head coach Marlon Brink.

Costello joins high school teammate Molly Gibson as one of three cross country runners and six female track and field standouts to join the 2006 recruiting class at Wayne State College.

Costello is a three-year letterwinner and three year state qualifier in track and field and qualified for state cross country in her only year of competition as a senior last fall. She helped the Grand Island Northwest 4 x 800 meter relay team to a fourth place finish at last year's state track meet and also qualified in the 800 meter run.

"Meghan will be a very nice addition to the women's cross country and middle distance squads at Wayne State," Brink said.

Wayne State College men's basketball coach Rico Burkett has announced that Ryan Rudloff of Newman Grove High School has also signed with that Wildcats to play basketball.

Rudloff is a 5-11 guard who averaged 17 points per game during his senior season at Newman Grove High School to earn Second Team Class D-1 All-State honors. He shot 47 percent from the field, 39 percent from the three point line and 74 percent at the free throw line this past season.

"Ryan has good size and perimeter skills and has the chance to develop into a very solid player," commented WSC head coach Rico Burkett. "He brings a great work ethic both on and off the floor and will be a nice addition to our program."

Rudloff is the fifth player to sign with Wayne State in the 2006 recruiting class.

Track athletes garner awards

WAYNE — WSC's Matt Schneider was named the Northern Sun Conference Men's Track Athlete of the Week last week. The sophomore from Nebraska City won the 3,000-meter steeplechase at last weekend's Sioux City Relays with a time of 9:14.82, a new WSC school record and an NCAA national provisional qualifying mark. His time ranks eighth best in NCAA Division II.

Three other WSC athletes received honorable mention consideration for the NSIC Athletes of the Week. They included Matt Doggett (pole vault), Erin Norenberg (women's steeplechase) and Katie Wilson (shot put).

COMMUNITY CLEANUP

Community Cleanup day will be held on Wednesday, May 10. Volunteers are asked to meet at the school parking lot at 1 p.m. on that day. Residents are reminded to have items at the curbside. The volunteers will not go into homes/garages to remove items.

Also, residents are asked to use discretion as to the size and amount of items put on the curbside. Because of the cost of renting the roll-off garbage containers, anyone wishing to help cover the cost is asked to make a donation at the bank.

RECEIVES BEST OF CLASS A

On Sunday, April 23, the Allen Band traveled to Kansas City, where they competed in the Worlds of Fun Band Competition. Competing against highly qualified schools and in front of nationally recognized adjudicators, Allen was Best of Class A, with a 1- rating. They also turned in the outstanding performances of the day.

The State Music Contest, District 3 was held as WSC on April 21. Below are Allen's results: Band, Chorus and Jazz Band each received III (a 1 from 3 judges). Those who received a Superior (1) rating were: Luke Logue, Alissa Koester, Luke Logue/Alissa Koester duet, Vicky Green, Carla Rastede/Erin Keitges duet. Those receiving an Excellent (2) were: Amanda Schneider, Crystal Rahn, Carla Rastede, Christopher Levine, Samantha Turney/Vicky Green duet. (submitted by Music Director - Richard Lacy)

FFA BANQUET

The Allen FFA Banquet was held on April 28. It was a very special event as it marked Mr. Tom Wilmes' 30 years as FFA sponsor at Allen Consolidated School. Allen FFA Alumni were mailed a special invite to the FFA Banquet to mark this special event with a surprise for Mr. Wilmes.

POPPY DAY

Poppy Day will be Saturday, May 6 in Allen. The poppy is the National Memorial Flower of the American Legion. The annual event pays tribute to those veterans who have served our country in the last 75 years. The poppies are made by disabled Veterans.

BLOODMOBILE

The Siouxland Bloodmobile will be in Allen on Monday, May 15 at the Allen Fire Hall. The event will be hosted by the Legion Auxiliary. The Siouxland Community Blood Bank is sponsoring the "Heroes Unite, It's About Life" program from May 1 through Sept. 30. It will be their summer-time donor recruitment campaign.

To participate, please inform them when you donate blood. The Allen Fire Department will be listed on your donor card because the Blood Bank is partnering with the local law enforcement, fire and/or rescue squads. By establishing partnerships, squad members are encouraged to recruit area residents, family, friends, co-workers, and neighbors to donate in support of their squad. The top three communities that register the most donors in correlation with their number of squad members will receive sponsored donations of $1000, $500, and $250 respectively, to be used towards the purchase of safety equipment.

Donor participation is determined on a percentage, so communities of differing sizes can have an equal chance of winning.

Also, a donor can volunteer to donate blood at any mobile location or at the 1019 Jones Street address in Sioux City. To participate in the program, the donor must register under the community name that they wish to give credit to during the program.

Again, the bloodmobile will be Allen on May 15, on July 10, and Sept. 11.

BOOK FOR DISCUSSION

A Lantern in Her Hand by Nebraska author Bess Streeter Aldrich is the second book selected by Allen's newly formed book discussion group. This is a classic story about homesteading on the Nebraska prairie. Anyone interested is invited to read the book and gather to discuss it at a date and place to be announced later, some time in mid-June.

ALL SCHOOL REUNION

Attention! Allen Alumni! Mark your calendars for next summer! The alumni officers have met to set the date for the next all-school reunion in 2007.

The alumni banquet and meeting will be held in Allen in our air-conditioned school gym, Saturday, July 7, 2007 - an easy date to remember 07-07-07. Early plans include having the school open at 4 p.m. for visiting and touring prior to the 6 p.m. catered meal.

NSCS Student Trustees appointed by Governor

Governor Dave Heineman recently appointed Michael Jacobsen of Laurel, Tyler Pribbeno of Imperial, and Crystal Ellis of Humboldt, as student representatives on the Nebraska State College System Board of Trustees. The students will serve on the board during the 2006-07 academic year beginning May 1.

Jacobsen is majoring in biology, chemistry, and computer science at Wayne State College. He is part of the Biomedical Research Infrastructure Network (BRIN), which is now known as Idea Networks of Biomedical Research Excellence (INBRE), a program where students work on collaborative research with the University of Nebraska-Lincoln and the University of Nebraska Medical Center.

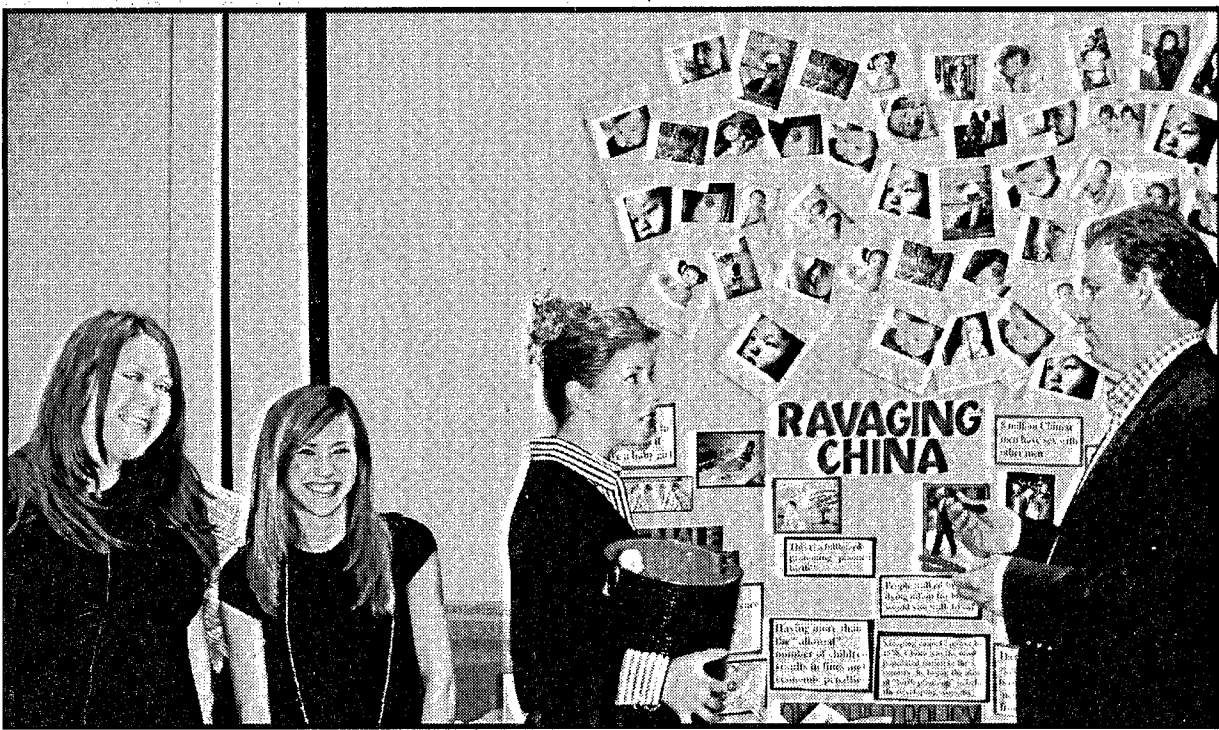

Currently a junior, he is a mentor for local middle and high school students and assists them with their science projects. He has also been a judge at several regional and state science fairs.

Last year, Jacobsen served as a student representative on the Biology Faculty Search Committee. He is also a member of the WSC Chapter of Association for Computing Machinery.

Here's the three "S's" of managing work zones safely. Speed, Space and Stress.

MANAGE YOUR SPEED:

- Slow Down when approaching all work zones. You will be in the work zone quicker than you think.
- Follow Posted Speed Limits, especially within construction zones, and try to maintain a consistent speed with the traffic flow.
- Don't Resume Normal Speed until you see roadway signs indicating it's safe to do so.

MANAGE YOUR SPACE:

- Leave Room. Leave adequate braking room between your vehicle and the one ahead of you. Also, keep a safe distance between your vehicle and traffic barriers, trucks, construction equipment and workers.
- Don't Pass on the Shoulder. Don't drive across the median. This creates a very dangerous situation for you, construction workers and other motorists -- not to mention the steep fine.
- Leave Yourself an Out. When stopped in traffic, leave a safety zone between you and the vehicle in front of you. A good rule of thumb is that when stopped in traffic you should be able to see the bottom of the tires of the vehicle in front of you.
- Watch Out for Tailgaters. Do not force tailgaters to back off by slamming on your brakes or reducing your speed significantly. This practice can lead to road rage and increases the chances of a collision.

MANAGE YOUR STRESS:

- Keep Your Cool. Calm down and don't rush.
- Pay Attention. Avoid cell phone or radio distractions, as well as those of other stopped cars or construction.

Reggie Ruhl is All-American Scholar

The United States Achievement Academy has announced that Reggie Ruhl of Wayne has been named an All-American Scholar.

The USSA has established the All-American Scholar Award Program to offer deserved recognition to superior students who excel in the academic disciplines. The All-American Scholars must earn a 3.3 or higher grade point average. Only scholars selected by a school instructor, counselor or other qualified sponsor are accepted.

Reggie, who attends Wayne High School, was nominated for this national award by Rocky Ruhl, athletic administrator at the school.

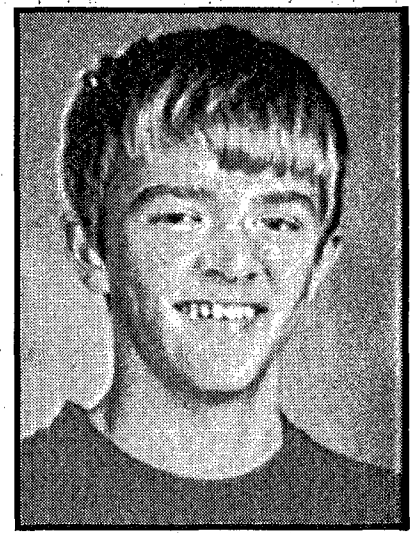

His name will appear in the All-American Scholar Yearbook, which is published annually.

"Recognizing and support our youth is more important than ever before in America's history. Certainly, winners of the All-American Scholar Award should be congratulated and appreciated for their dedication to excellence and achievement," said Dr. George Stevens, Founder of the United States Achievement Academy.

The Academy selects All-American Scholars upon the exclusive recommendation of teachers, coaches, counselors and other qualified sponsors.

Reggie is the son of Rocky and Sylvia Ruhl of Wayne. His grandparents are Leo and Dorothy Ekeler of Exeter.

Psi Chi (psychology): Amanda Nolting and Nikki Ruge.

Phi Alpha Theta (history): Gary Brownell, Matthew Pernicek, Bruce Dellinger, Gregory Ptacek, Jeremy Fajman and Michael Reichmuth.

Alpha Phi Sigma (criminal justice): Heidi Blair, Erin Oswald, Adam Bowder, Ross Pesek, Paul Campbell, Jeremy Polacek, Jake Dilsaver, Matthew Rathje, Brandon Ehlers and Kari Schulze.

Pi Gamma Mu (social sciences): Jazmin Aguilar Salazar, Christine Horner, Heidi Blair, Jason Karsky, Adam Bowder, Roger Mancastropa, Gary Brownell, Leah Maskell, Brian Bruckner, Ann Marie Matulka, Paul Campbell, Arnaldo Ovalles, Brandon Ehlers, Adam Paitz, Susan Ellis, Matthew Rathje, Jeremy Fajman, Beth Sholes, Joel Gruber and Kevin Wiese.

The outstanding students in the social sciences at Wayne State College were recognized at the Annual Awards Ceremony on April 21.

They included: Kristin Echtenkamp (history), Angela Cornett (psychology), Laura Neidhardt (sociology), Corey Carnahan (political science), Franceska Cassell (political science), Kelsey Fuerhoff (geography), Christopher Lord (geography), Breanna Anderson (anthropology), Nellesha Daws (criminal justice), Amy Starkey (criminal justice), Lisa Stewart (criminal justice), Allison Peters (psychology) and Terry Hickman (social sciences education).

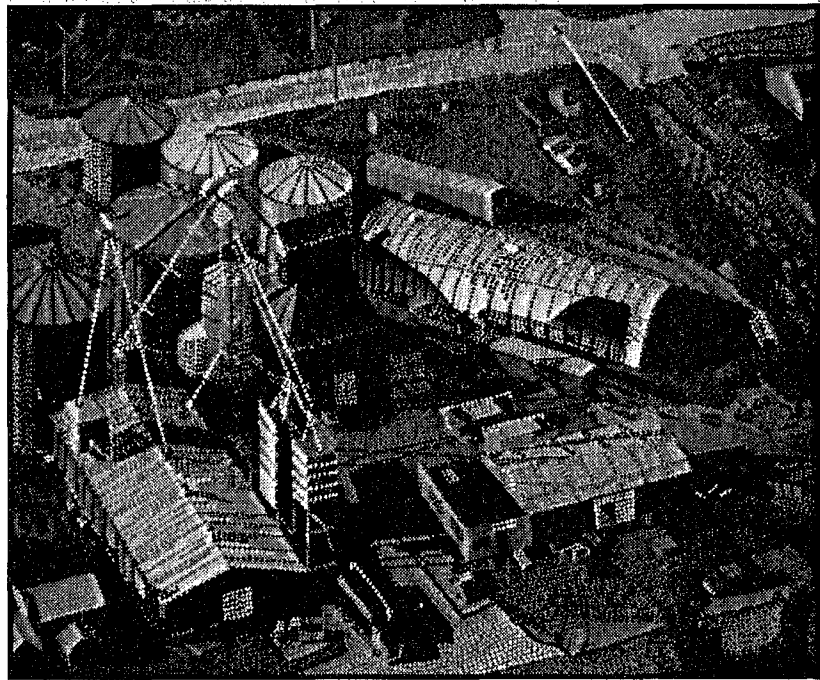

End-of-year concerts

Students at Wayne Middle School have showcased their talents recently in two musical concerts. Above, Keith Kopperud conducts the combined fifth through eighth grade bands in "Three Cheers." Below, Cheryl Kopperud and Tracy Anderson direct the finale of the vocal concert held last week at the school.

Endicott speaks at Rotary

Nancy Endicott of Wayne was a recent speaker at a Wayne Rotary Club meeting. She told members about her trip last year to Israel where she was part of an archeological dig. The Rotary Club meets every Wednesday at 7 a.m. at Taco's & More in Wayne.

Mueller has several paintings on aerial views of the area.

Works by WSC Marlene Mueller to be shown at Norfolk Art Center

Marlene Mueller, Wayne State College art professor, will exhibit paintings and drawings at the Norfolk Art Center May 6-June 9. A reception for the artist will be held Saturday, May 13 from 1-3 p.m. with an artist talk at 2 p.m. The public is welcome at no charge.

Mueller has created acrylic paintings that reflect aerial views of the Wayne area. Several scenes were based on photographs the artist took from an airplane.

Charcoal drawings from Mueller's work were inspired by her work as a volunteer firefighter for nine years. She has been documenting the various types of training exercises fire or rescue personnel receive in preparing themselves for an incident.

Mueller teaches painting and drawing in the Department of Art and Design and exhibits locally and regionally.

Some of Mueller's works were inspired by her experience as a volunteer firefighter. Above, is a charcoal drawing.

Wayne State College student media win state awards

Wayne State College student media received a number of honors at the 2006 Nebraska Collegiate Media Association's Golden Leaf Awards presentation. The awards ceremony took place at the Nebraska Press Association (NPA) spring conference at the Cornhusker Marriott Hotel in Lincoln on April 22.

For the first time since 1996, The Wayne Stater, the WSC student newspaper, earned the overall excellence award for the best small-college newspaper. The judges found the Stater to contain "a good mix of campus news and sports with features and editorials" and a "consistent use of graphic elements across issues. This is an excellent example of a newspaper that serves the entire campus community." Wayne Stater staff members won first place in 10 of the 22 categories, along with nine second-place, three third-place and three honorable mentions.

"I want to thank the staff and everyone else on campus who have contributed to our success this year," David (Max) McElwain, the Wayne Stater faculty adviser, said. "Also, the NPA was very gracious in hosting us and supporting many activities."

Wayne State student broadcast media, KWSC-FM radio (K92) and KWSC-TV, also received awards. The radio station earned honors in eight of the 11 awarded categories, including six first-place awards, three second-place and one honorable mention.

"The K92 students earned first place awards in over half of the presented categories," said Mike Marek, faculty adviser to the radio station. "They took both first- and second-place in three categories, plus an honorable mention. This recognition is a tribute to the efforts of the K92 students all year long to serve the public and produce outstanding radio programming." K92 students competed against the work of students from the University of Nebraska-Kearney, Hastings College, and Doane College.

Two entries received first- and second-place awards for the campus television station, KWSC-TV. Maureen Carrigg is faculty adviser.

The Nebraska Collegiate Media Association promotes journalism and electronic media studies to foster a closer relationship between mass communication programs at member colleges, encourage high standards of media ethics, and to recognize outstanding student achievement. Judging is divided between large schools (above 5,000 students) and small schools (fewer than 5,000).

Ways offered to make cooking outdoors safe

Spring is here again. This means that we can be outside to do some of our cooking. There are some precautions that we should be aware of while we are grilling, cooking over an open fire, or using the turkey cooker that we got for Christmas.

Let's talk about the grill, whether it is gas or charcoal. Both of these devices create a lot of heat, therefore they must be used in the open areas of our yard. They should not be used on a wooden deck, or on a porch, and not under an overhang. When lighting a charcoal grill, use enough starting fluid to start the charcoal. Never put starting fluid on a smoldering or burning charcoal fire base. When the dinner is cooked, either allow the grill to sit where it is, or put the charcoal fire out with water. In either case, don't move the grill till it is cool.

The turkey cookers that use L.P. Gas for heat can be another problem. Make sure the amount of oil that you put in the cooker is the right amount that is needed for the size turkey you want to cook. If too large a turkey is placed in the cooker, the oil will come over the top, and run down to the burner and catch fire. Also, never put a frozen turkey in the hot oil, because, again the oil will come over the top of the cooker and catch fire.

Perhaps a good suggestion to determine the right amount of oil that is needed, is to put water in the cooker without any heat, insert the turkey and see what happens. Water can be regulated for safe cooking. When the right amount of water is determined, dump the water, and put in the like amount of oil.

Have a safe and fire free summer. — Wayne Volunteer Fire Dept.

Schulz is OU/EDI graduate

Nancy E. Schulz of the Nebraska Public Power District became a graduate of the University of Oklahoma's Economic Development Institute (OU/EDI) on April 6 at the OU/EDI session held in Oklahoma City, Okla.

OU/EDI is a three-session program, each one week long, which provides a broad spectrum of advanced education for the economic development professional and is accredited by the International Economic Development Council.

OU/EDI classes focus on three major core areas: Business Retention & Expansion, Real Estate, and Finance as well as areas of concentration in Marketing, Strategic Planning, and Managing Economic Development Organizations. Students complete 117 hours of instruction selected from more than 50 seminars, workshops and discussion groups.

Begun in 1962, OU/EDI now has over 3400 graduates.

Conway receives award

Jerry Conway, associate professor at Wayne State College, was awarded as the "Delta Sigma Pi Outstanding Business Faculty Member" by Vince Hoehne, left, a WSC student from Stanton, during the School of Business and Technology Scholarship and Awards Reception, April 27 in Gardner Hall Auditorium on the WSC campus.

What's this called?

Wayne High Anatomy students, Molly Mitchell, Pariss Bethune and Emlyn Mann, study the circulatory system and identification of vessels of a cat as they prepare for the opportunity to test over another system. Identification, function, disorders, and diseases of all the major systems are covered to help the students prepare for future careers in the athletic training, medical and veterinary professions. Other students in the class not pictured are Brooke Anderson, Scott Baier, Kayla Hochstein and Jean Pieper. Dale Hochstein teaches the Anatomy class at Wayne High School.

Students were sworn in by Judge Robert B. Ensz during County Government Day held recently at the Wayne County Courthouse.

Students learn about government firsthand

Students from Josh Johnson's government classes at Wayne High School visited the Wayne County Courthouse on April 5.

They learned how government on the local level works firsthand. Students were sworn in and watched district court cases in the morning.

The students were able to talk to the offices in the courthouse and found out how each worked.

"It was a great learning experience for all," Johnson said.

Parker earns Award

JoAnn Parker received a purple ribbon and Certificate of Merit for Outstanding Achievement for her score on the National Latin Exam.

Students who are enrolled in Latin or have completed a Latin course during the current academic year are eligible to take the exam. In 2005, more than 134,000 students from all 50 states and more than a dozen foreign countries took the National Latin Exam at one of five levels.

During the second week in March of this year students took the exam in their own schools or administered through several colleges.

Parker has completed a first-year high school level Latin course. She participated in the exam at the Introduction to Latin level under the supervision of Dr. Patricia Lutt at Wayne State College.

The National Latin Exam is offered under the joint sponsorship of the American Classical League and the National Junior Classical League. The year 2006 was the 29th year the exam has been offered. The National Association of Secondary School Principals voted to place the National Latin Exam on the Advisory List of National Contests and Activities for 2005-06. Last year, the Introduction to Latin Exam was taken by more than 15,000 students.

New pool?

Work has begun on the new swimming pool in Laurel. Both the baby pool and the regular pool have been removed. A number of fund-raisers have been undertaken and others are being planned to fund the project.

Michael Jacobsen named as a Goldwater Scholar, Student Trustee

Wayne State College junior Michael Jacobsen of Laurel has been awarded a prestigious Barry M. Goldwater Scholarship to continue his studies at Wayne State College next year.

The Goldwater Scholarship Awards this year were selected on the basis of academic merit from a field of over 1,000 mathematics, science and engineering students nominated by the faculty of colleges and universities nationwide. Jacobsen was one of only 323 students nationally, and one of only three Nebraska college students, to receive the Goldwater award this year. The scholarship will cover

State student Kelli Chocholousek of Norfolk.

It's been a couple of really good weeks!" he said.

Jean Lutt, left, accepts the Outstanding Computer Technology Information Systems faculty member award from Roger Timperley, a Wayne State College student.

Lutt receives award at WSC

Jean L. Lutt, instructor of computer technology at Wayne State College was awarded as "Outstanding Computer Technology/Information Systems" faculty member by Roger Timperley, a Wayne State College student from Valley during the School of Business and Technology Scholarship and Awards Reception, April 27 in Gardner Hall Auditorium on the WSC campus.

Lutt has been at Wayne State College since 1976, and has taught technology classes for the past 10 years. She has received the Burlington Northern Foundation Faculty Achievement Award, the Wayne State College Outstanding Business Teacher Division Award, and the Nebraska State Business Education Association "Outstanding College/University Business Educator" Award.

In January 2006 she received the Wayne Area Chamber of Commerce Educator of the Year Award.

Michael Jacobsen

the cost of tuition, fees, books, and room and board up to a maximum of $7,500 per year.

Jacobsen is completing three majors at Wayne State: chemistry, biology, and computer science. Upon graduation, he hopes to obtain a Ph.D. in biochemistry and to conduct research on the physicochemical and biochemical aspects of drug delivery in hopes of designing more effective drug delivery systems. He plans to graduate in 2007.

"I'm excited about this scholarship because it identifies future researchers in the medical field, which I hope to someday be," Jacobsen said. As a sophomore last year, he was named honorable mention for the Goldwater Scholarship.

Goldwater Scholars have very impressive academic qualifications that have garnered the attention of prestigious post-graduate fellowship programs. Recent Goldwater Scholars have been awarded 63 Rhodes Scholarships (5 of the 42 awarded in the United States in 2006), 80 Marshall Awards (8 of the 40 awarded in the United States in 2006), and numerous other distinguished fellowships. The Goldwater Scholarship is the premier undergraduate award of its type in these fields.

A Neihardt Scholar at Wayne State College, Jacobsen is also the recipient of a $3,000 C. Bertrand and Marian Othmer Schultz Collegiate Scholarship from the Nebraska Academy of Sciences. This scholarship is new this year to a junior or senior at an accredited college or university in the state of Nebraska. The recipient must have a declared natural sciences major and be anticipating a career in a science related industry, science teaching or scientific research.

In April, Jacobsen was appointed by Gov. Dave Heineman to be the Wayne State College student representative on the Nebraska State College System Board of Trustees for the 2006-07 academic year, beginning May 1. He also recently became engaged to fellow Wayne

Business students inducted into international honorary

The top 65 graduate and undergraduate students in the University of Nebraska-Lincoln College of Business Administration were inducted into the UNL chapter of Beta Gamma Sigma in an April 21 ceremony at UNL.

While almost 300,000 students receive bachelor's or master's degrees in business each year, only about 20,000 are inducted into lifetime membership in Beta Gamma Sigma. Students ranking in the top seven percent of the junior class, top 10 percent of the senior class, and top 20 percent of master's programs at schools accredited by the Association to Advance Collegiate Schools of Business are eligible for this invitation.

Beta Gamma Sigma was founded as a national organization on Feb. 19, 1913. The first national honor society in business was a merger of three separate societies established to honor academic achievement in business at the universities of Wisconsin, Illinois and California. With chapters in the United States, Canada, Hong Kong and the United Kingdom, Beta Gamma Sigma is an international society that remains dedicated to recognizing the most outstanding students of business and management.

Among those honored was Blake Erwin of Dixon, a senior at UN-L.

AmVets Auxiliary holds April meeting

Wayne Post #22 AmVets Theresa Samuelson presented the Auxiliary met at the Post Home on colors and gave devotions. April 24 with 10 members present. The Pledge of Allegiance and the Chaplain and Sgt. at Arms Preamble were recited.

Dorothy Wert read the minutes from the Feb. 27 meeting and gave a recap of the March 27 meeting. She also gave the treasurer's report and presented AmVets Auxiliary pins to all the members present.

Discussion was held on the Memorial Day dinner to be held at the Wayne Vets' Club on Monday, May 29. It will be hosted by the AmVets Auxiliary, with help from the veterans.

The dinner will be held from 11 a.m. to 1:30 p.m. It will include a salad bar and pork loin dinner. This will be a free-will donation with a suggested price of $6 for adults and $4 for children under 12 years of age.

Ladies then volunteered to help with certain jobs in association with the Memorial Day Dinner, the Vets' Club Fish and Chicken supper and the Sunday morning breakfasts for the month of May.

The AmVets Auxiliary will also take part in the service at Greenwood Cemetery that morning.

President Jean Lutt is working on the constitution and by-laws, be ready for a vote at the May meeting.

The Nebraska AmVets and Auxiliary State Convention is being held in Kearney June 2-4 at the Ramada Inn. Installation of Wayne AmVets Auxiliary Chapter will be at the Saturday, June 2 afternoon session. Jean Lutt, Sandra Bartling and Dorothy Wert are members planning to attend this installation.

Bills were presented for payment and with no other business, the Chaplain said a closing prayer and retired the colors.

The next meeting will be Monday, May 22 at 7 p.m. at the Post Home.

Anyone wishing to join the group is welcome to attend.

Engagements

Krenk - McIntire

Monica Krenk and Ben McIntire will exchange marriage vows on June 23, 2006 at Sacred Heart Catholic Church in Ida Grove, Iowa.

Parents of the couple are Juella and Fred Krenk of Wayne and Judy and John McIntire of Harlan, Iowa.

The bride-to-be is a 2000 graduate of Wayne High School. She is licensed in Iowa Cosmetology and presently working at Finesse Salon in Ames, Iowa.

Her fiancé is a 2000 graduate of Harlan Community High School and a 2004 graduate of Iowa State University. He is a Masters of Divinity student at Luther Seminary in St. Paul, Minn.

Hoefler - Mrsny

Sandra Hoefler of O'Neill, Dennis Hoefler of Grand Junction, Colo. and Steve and Jill Mrsny of Wayne have announced the engagement of their children, Candace Hoefler and Tony Mrsny, both of Lincoln.

The bride-to-be is a 2001 graduate of O'Neill High School. She received her Associates Degree in Business Administration from Southeast Community College in Lincoln in 2005. She is currently employed at Immigration Naturalization Services in Lincoln.

Her fiancé is a 1999 graduate of Wayne High School. He received his Associates Degree in Automotive Technology from Southeast Community College in Milford in 2001. He is currently employed at Jerry's Automotive in Lincoln.

The couple is planning an Aug. 5, 2006 wedding at The Assembly of God Church in O'Neill.

Carroll Legion Auxiliary makes May baskets

The Carroll American Legion Auxiliary met at the Carroll Fire Hall on April 25 with seven members present.

President Jo Ann Owens called the meeting to order, following regular order. She gave information on events at the District III convention.

Joyce Harmeier replaced Jo Ann Owens at County Government Day. The group voted to give $100 for items needed at the Norfolk Annex.

President Owens asked members to bring the following items to the next meeting - used ink jet cartridges, empty toner containers and used cell phones.

About 50 May baskets were made by the group for the Norfolk Annex.

April lunch was served by Jo Ann Owens.

The next meeting will be held Tuesday, May 23 at the Carroll Fire Hall. Hostess will be Pauline Bethune.

New Arrivals

SCHWARTZ - Dean and Tara Schwartz of Exeter have adopted a son, Reece Zander, 6 lbs., 9 oz., 18 1/2 inches, born March 27, 2006. Grandparents are LaVerne and Margaret Schwartz of Endicott, Pat and Jerry McDonald of Morrilton, Ariz. and Gary and Ilene Nichols of Wayne. Great-grandmother is Ruth Nichols of Faribault, Minn.

Minvera Club learns about Fanny Crosby

The Minerva Club met April 24 in the home of Lois Youngerman.

After a brief trivia quiz and the singing of the birthday song for Donna Hansen and Marilyn Wallin, President Lois Youngerman called the meeting to order. Eleven members answered roll call with their favorite spring flower.

Minutes of the last meeting were read and approved. The treasurer's report was given.

Old business consisted of an update on flower beds, changes in the constitution, plans for the last meeting of the year and topics for next year's programs.

After the meeting adjourned, Lila Brown and Lois Youngerman presented their programs.

For her program, Lila Brown chose Fanny Crosby, a blind lady who wrote the words to 6,000 hymns. She is well-known for writing the lyrics for "Safe in the Arms of Jesus," "Rescue the Perishing," "All the Way My Savior Leads Me" and "Blessed Assurance." At the age of 60 she began her second career - serving in a rescue mission. She chose to live in poverty and serve the poor.

For her program, Lois Youngerman chose to involve all the members. She distributed poems she had written, then read favorite poems from varied poets down through the ages, alternately with each member reading one of her originals.

Wayne Eagles Auxiliary plans May events

The May 1 meeting of the Wayne Eagles Auxiliary was called to order by Madam President Amy Renz.

Vickie Damme was welcomed as the group's newest member.

The group will not be having a Steak Fry in May due to the club being rented for Wayne State graduation.

Bev Neel will be honored as the Mother of the Year, as will all other mothers, on Saturday, May 22 at 10 a.m. with a brunch. All Eagles members and their mothers and daughters are encouraged to attend. Those wishing to attend and needing a ride are asked to call the club and arrangements will be made for a pick up.

New officers will be installed for the upcoming year on Thursday, May 18 at 8 p.m.

The Summer Pool League will start on Tuesday, May 23 at 7 p.m. It will be run on the point system like last year.

Serving at the meeting was Jessica Olson and serving at the next regular meeting, which will be Monday, May 15 will be DeAnn Behlers.

Rose Fredrickson

Fredrickson to celebrate 95th birthday

The family of Rose (Herbolsheimer) Fredrickson has requested a card shower in honor of her 95th birthday which is Monday, May 8.

Her family includes Elaine and Cliff Pinkelman of Wayne, Swede and Shirley Fredrickson, all of Wayne and Cleone Fredrickson of Wichita, Kan. She also has 10 grandchildren, 20 great-grandchildren and two great-great-grandchildren. Her husband, Bill Fredrickson, is deceased.

Cards may be sent to her at The Oaks, Room 44, 1500 Vintage Hill Drive, Wayne, Neb. 68787.

notes from dianne

♥ To both encourage you to come to Main Street and thank you for your support of our business, this is what we've done:
On the day that the street closed, we started having our customers put their name and phone number on a piece of paper - with the amount of their purchase. We record these purchases each day. On the day that the street is officially opened, we will draw four names.
Our GRAND PRIZE WINNER will receive the TOTAL AMOUNT spent at dianne's between now and then - IN CASH - up to $1000. Three more winners will receive gift certificates in the amounts of $100, $50 and $25.

♥ BACK IN TOUCH is going to give away a certificate for a ONE HOUR MASSAGE each month from now until Main Street is open! Register at dianne's.

♥ We are planning an ANNIVERSARY PARTY!!! (May 17th is our SECOND ANNIVERSARY) We will advertise the details in next week's paper - don't miss it!

♥ Business owners and employees have started parking outside of the improvement district - which leaves PLENTY of convenient parking for customers.

♥ Both our front door and our back door will always be open. Feel free to use whichever is most convenient for you. I suggest you park on 3rd street (because it's open across Main Street) and either walk down the alley to our back door or on the sidewalk to our front door. There are exciting things happening on Main Street right now - it's fun to watch! The result is going to be something our community will be proud of.

♥ You are also welcome to use us as your "personal shoppers." Just call or email - we will wrap - and deliver or ship whatever you ask. I promise to do my best for you.

♥ It is my goal that this shop be what you want and need it to be. I have been encouraged by the number of people who say it's not hard to find parking, it's easy to get and where they want to go and that they intend to continue to support local businesses. I thank you! It is an attitude that will save our business district.

♥ It is my prayer that every business on Main Street survive this improvement period - and continue to be at your service for many years to come.

Ask us about: the "special customer parking" directly behind our building, for anyone who has trouble walking from parking spaces on 2nd or 3rd streets.

Make Your Mother's Day Card A Keepsake

Think maybe Mom didn't really notice those Mother's Day cards you've sent over the years? Think again. Chances are she still has every one of them. Because to her they're more than cards - they're memories.

But they're not just any old memories. They're keepsakes. The forever kind of memories. And to think you can make them happen...

- Making Your Mother's Day Card a Keepsake...
- Little Masterpieces: Include drawings from little ones, either on the card or tucked inside. (Don't forget to help them sign their masterpieces.)
- Give Her a Hand: For really little ones, a handprint (or footprint) makes a special memory - put it right on the card! (This makes a nice yearly tradition.)
- Mommy-to-Be: Write a little note from Baby saying he/she can't wait to meet her.
- "Mom Moments": Include a personal note about one of your favorite memories with Mom. How did she make it special?
- Your Message Matters: Tell her that you love her... and tell her why. What does she do that makes her a good mom? Let her know how much you appreciate it. And don't be afraid to get sentimental - moms love sentimental!
- It's that easy... this Mother's Day, you can make a simple card become a forever kind of memory. It doesn't mean a lot of work. It doesn't mean a lot of time. But to her it might just mean everything.

Great ideas storewide...

The Prayer Garden located on the east side of Wayne United Methodist Church was dedicated on April 30.

Prayer garden dedicated

The Wayne United Methodist Church dedicated its new Prayer Garden in honor of its 125th anniversary.

Memorial gifts and a granite cross given to the church by Keith and Imogene Brasch in 1987 completed the Prayer Garden. Gifts were given in memory of Jociell Bull, Beulah Atkins, Barbara Ley and Pauline Merchant, Naomi Circle gave a gift in memory of Ruth Reed and the Wayne church's foundation contributed.

A new sanctuary piano was dedicated in memory of Milton Matthews.

Other memorials were dedicated for the church's north parking lot, the music department and the mission and ministry of United Methodist Women. Gifts were given in memory of Dorothy

Immanuel Lutheran Ladies Aid plans for upcoming events

The Ladies Aid of Immanuel Lutheran Church of Wakefield met April 20.

Pastor Willie Bertrand led the Quarterly lesson on "The Heart of God's Word."

President Mrs. Lloyd Roeber thanked all the ladies for their help with hosting the LWML Zone Spring Workshop.

Seven members answered roll call. The minutes were read, mites were gathered and the treasurer's report was given.

The LWML District Convention will be held June 23-24 in Fremont. Nila Schuttler and Beverly Ruwe will be delegates.

Neva Echtenkamp and Mrs. Lloyd Roeber gave the visiting report.

The birthdays of Bonnie Nelson and Laura Winters and the anniversary of Elmer and Bonnie Schrieber were acknowledged.

Lunch was served by Neva Echtenkamp and Beverly Ruwe. The next meeting will be a potluck lunch on Thursday, May 18 at 2 p.m.

Peace Prayer service was held at St. Mary's

St. Mary's W.I.N.G.S. (High School Youth) Group sponsored an Ecumenical Peace Prayer Service on April 30.

This prayer service took place to pray for world peace and the safety of all troops, especially 189th Transportation Company.

Fr. Mark Tomasiewicz, Pastor Steve Snead and Pastor Ray McCalla were the ministers present. Each church was asked to have students from preschool-eighth grade make a link to a paper chain that depicted peace — by either a prayer, scripture verse or picture.

The churches that participated were First Church of Christ, Praise Assembly, St. Mary's, First Presbyterian, Grace Lutheran, and Our Savior Lutheran Church. These chain links were displayed in the church for the service.

St. Mary's High School Youth and Praise Assembly's High School Youth made peace flags that were carried in at the ceremony. Mark Wieseler, who recently served in Iraq, presented the American flag. The music was done by St.

Mary's High School students and youth leaders and Stefanie Snead from Praise Assembly. Monica Jensen and Karen Kwapnioski accompanied the choir. The high school youth were ushers, greeters, read petitions and an essay written by Emilie Osten entitled, "What Peace Means To Me."

A social followed the prayer service in the church basement. The youth provided drinks and bars. A bouquet of balloons with attached Bible verses regarding peace were given to families who have a loved one who is or has served in Iraq.

Anniversary committees meet at Altona

The 125th Anniversary committees of First Trinity Lutheran Church at Altona met April 24. Bev Buhrman was the chairman.

Everyone is reminded that the RSVP deadline was May 1 for the dinner. Anyone who has not already done so is to send in reservations immediately to Leah Buhrman, 2473 Second Road, Wisner, Neb. 68791.

The Facilities Committee needs as accurate a count as possible, no later than May 10.

A new book and directory will be available at the celebration on Sunday, June 11. This will include pictures of the church members and some former members. All old pictures in the book are different than those in the Centennial book. The book includes a history of the past 25 years of the congregation.

The Worship Committee has begun choir practice on Sundays after worship with a least 12 probable singers. Anyone is still invited to sing in the choir.

A meeting of all committees will be scheduled sometime in May, with a date to be announced.

Loren and Marianne Bloomquist were the speakers at the LWMS Spring Rally held in Hoskins.

Hoskins church hosts Spring Rally

Trinity Lutheran Church in Hoskins was host for the Spring Rally of the area Lutheran Women's Missionary Society on April 29.

The theme for the rally was "The Kingdom Works" with Loren and Marianne Bloomquist of Norfolk speaking to the group about their experience as Kingdom Workers through the Wisconsin Lutheran Synod.

Mr. and Mrs. Bloomquist spent one year serving as lay workers in Cameroon Africa. They shared about their experiences working with the people of Cameroon as well as their day-to-day activities, which vary greatly from those of day to day activities in northeast Nebraska. They enjoyed the year they spent and describe it as "life-changing."

During the business meeting portion of the rally Toni Koelpin, Karen Mangels and Pastor Peter Unnasch from the area were elected to serve two year terms on the Circuit LWMS Board.

The Circuit will host a spiritual retreat in September with Karen Harmun of Jars Of Clay Ministries serving as the presenter. This retreat will offer the women a chance to be refreshed with fun on the side.

It's our Anniversary!

In 1982 we purchased Swans from Troy and Charlotte Vaught. TO CELEBRATE 24 YEARS, we are going to have a 24 DAY, 24% DISCOUNT SALE. This will be on all clothing, shoes and accessories on the main floor and in the Bargain Basement until Saturday, May 27th.

Both our front door and our back door are open.
Yes - we still do have a sidewalk in front of the store.

Welcome to Our Backdoor

We suggest that you park on Third Street and walk South to our store. Parking on Second Street also is available, but it is not a "thru" street. Swans is just the 3rd building in from the Second Street parking.

We're inviting you to come to Wayne to see the downtown Re-do! Remember to bring this with you to receive your 24% Discounts and to register for the door prizes!

This week we will highlight our final 2 categories: Cut/Loop and Commercial Loop.

Cut / Loop

- Carved definition with cut-and-loop pile
- Accent colors spice up floor surfaces
- Multicolor effects hide soil and stains
- Looks great between vacuuming
- Choose from soft tonals to bolder color combinations

Commercial Loop-Pile

- Versatile styles blend comfortably with any decor
- Durable long-wearing surface pile engineered for high traffic areas
- Intriguing color choices suitable for professional and practical installations
- Textured surfaces provide subtle highlights

Several Northeast Community College students recently brought both team and individual awards from a national judging conference back to campus.

Students participated in the North American Colleges and Teachers of Agriculture (NACTA) Judging Conference at Western Illinois University in Macomb, Illinois. About 500 students from 15 two-year colleges and 17 four-year colleges from 18 states participated in the event.

Northeast Community College students finished second in the Two-Year College Division

Northeast Nebraska Resource Conservation & Development Council meeting held recently

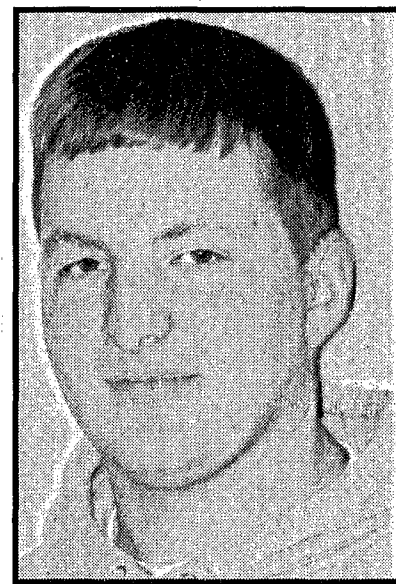

The Northeast Nebraska Resource Conservation & Development (RC&D) Council heard from Nancy Eberle, Congressman Osborne's Central Area Director at their meeting Monday night. Her topic, The Power of Choice, featured the 3rd District's video on entrepreneurship. Many young people have the desire and capability to start their own businesses, but they need resources and moral support. Nebraskans can provide both.

Prior to the start of the meeting and at a morning coffee volunteers were honored for their dedication to the RC&D projects they're working on.

Gary Howey, President, of Hartington conducted the business meeting. A new project for studying the quality and consistency of distillers' grain was approved.

Donna Christiansen reported on the successful waste computer collection that brought in 18,665#, served 70 people from seven counties. Art Kuhl of Randolph gave an update on the Wau-Col Water System project and his efforts at contacting potential rural customers.

Jill Heemstra of Osmond and Rhonda Kneifl of Newcastle updated the Council on the survey being developed to assess the needs of the

Kyle Schmale

Sweepstakes.

For the fourth consecutive year, the Agribusiness Management Team from Northeast Community College, coached by Don Benjamin, won first-place honors.

Individual members of the Northeast Agribusiness Management Team also brought home several individual honors. Flint Licking of Theford placed third while Kyle Schmale of Wayne won second place. Daniel Hake of Palmer won top individual honors.

Northeast Community College also finished second in the Two-Year Division of the College Quiz Bowl. Team members included

Carl Baier of Parkston, S.D.; Billy Ruwe, Blair; James Kirch, Wisner, and Brian Munk of Newport.

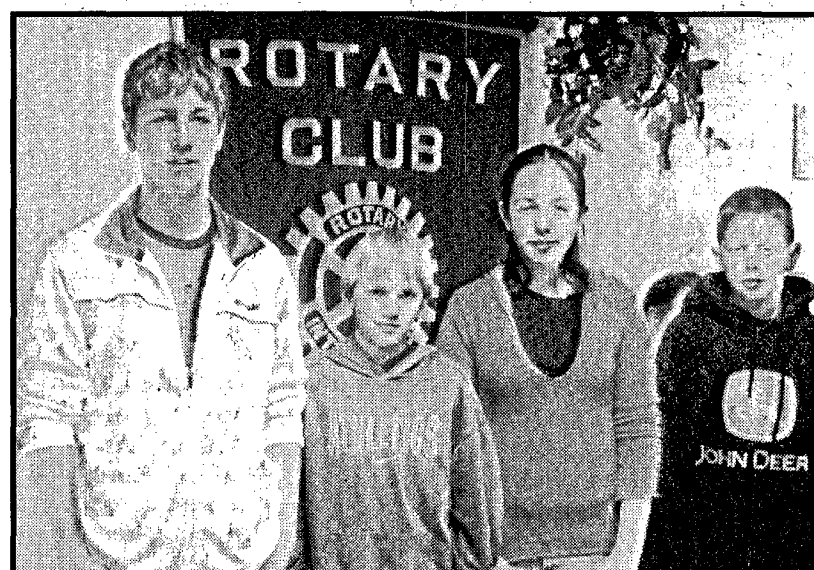

Northeast students also participated in the Crop Science Contest with James Kirch receiving third high individual in the agronomy quiz. Lucas Cameron of Lyons was third high individual in the math practical. The Crop Science Team finished second in the contest. Team members included Cameron, Jay Danielski of Valentine, Kirch and Laura Henery of Neligh. Bernie Thyen coaches the crop science team.

The NECC Horticulture Team, coached by Kim Radenz, finished third in the competition. Team members bringing home honors included Sherry Sohl of Norfolk who earned high individual in the general exam and second high individual in plant identification and Kelly Wedekind of Madison, who received high individual honors in landscape.

Northeast's Dairy Cattle Judging Team of Kristen Vreugdenhil, Alcester, S.D., Amanda Bayer, Leigh, Jill Roeber of Wayne and Wedekind placed second in Holstein judging and third in jersey. Individually, Vreugdenhil won second-place honors in brown swiss and Holstein while Roeber placed third in jersey. Benjamin also coached that team.

A total of 32 NECC students participated in the contest.

Rotary Students of the Week for March receive recognition

Students of the Week for March were recognized at last week's Wayne Rotary Club meeting, held at Taco's & More in Wayne.

Eighth grader Derek Poutre, son of Garry Poutre and Joni Heithold, both of Wayne was nominated by Mrs. Lutt. The reason for nomination, "Derek is a hard-working and mature student," Lutt said. "His desire to learn is obvious as he asks questions, he is attentive, and puts forth a strong effort. Derek helps his peers and is always polite and considerate of others."

Eighth grader Trey Hochstein, son of Nick and Lisa Hochstein of Wayne was nominated by Mrs. Parker because he is always willing to participate in both health and math activities. Parker added that he has shown continued improvement in quality and timeliness of assignments. Trey has a pleasant, positive attitude and an enjoyable sense of humor.

Seventh grader Seath Tellinghusen, son of Cathy Tellinghusen of Wayne was nominated by Mrs. Brogie because he is a wonderful student and a delightful person to have in class. Mrs. Brogie continued that Seath takes his role as a student seriously and actively participates in all learning situations. He did an exceptional job designing, implementing, and recording data for his experiment titled "Buoyancy." "I am honored to nominate Seath for Rotary Student of the Week," Brogie said.

Seventh grader Haley Lambley (guardians are Alan and Carolyn Baier of Wayne) was nominated by Mrs. Brogie because she is an exceptional science student. Brogie added, "This year she totally revamped her science research in order to attend the Greater Nebraska Science and Engineering Fair. Her project also earned her a slot at the NJAS regional science fair. Her commitment to excellence and never-give-up attitude are characteristics needed to excel in school and beyond."

Eighth grader Ryan Dowling, son of Robert and Tina Dowling of Carroll was nominated by Mrs. Liska because he is an extremely conscientious and hard working student. "He is kind and helpful to others," Liska said.

Information shared on establishing grasses

Many areas around homes, acreages, and farms are good sites to put some native grasses. Native grasses, both tall and short, have a desirable appearance both in the summer and in winter.

Buffalo grass can be started in an area where you still want a shorter grass that after establishment would need little mowing and no irrigation. Tall native grasses like big bluestem, switchgrass and Indiangrass can be great for areas near streams or drainages. Walking in well established tall native grasses can give you the feeling of what it might have been like to walk east of the Mississippi into the seemingly endless prairie.

Whatever your desire for native grass planting, establishment can be a bit challenging.

Preparing the Site

If is essential to manage weeds and erosion before, during and after planting grasses. In general, weeds are controlled with chemicals, mowing, or hand picking. An effective approach is to plant Roundup Ready soybeans the year before the grass buffer is installed. Although soybeans don't provide as much residue as corn, grass can be easily planted into the residue. Weed control can be improved by using a glyphosate herbicide the year before grass planting.

Seeding. Seeding of warm season grasses takes place in late May or June. Broadcasting involves spreading seeds on the ground and then incorporating them with light tillage. Mechanical drilling involves inserting the seed directly in the ground at a uniform depth. Drilling provides more accurate seed placement and is the preferred method. One common reason for grass establishment failure is placing the seed too deep in the ground. A drill can ensure that the seeds are placed only 1/4- to 1/2-inch deep. The mechanical drill does three things: 1) cuts and handles the residue, leaving some on the ground during planting for erosion control; 2) inserts the seed 1/4- to 1/2-inch deep; and 3) covers the seed to ensure seed-soil contact.

Seed sizes and weights vary; therefore, application rates vary. Grass drills can be calibrated to meter different types of seeds and seeding rates. Indiangrass and big bluestem are fluffy seeds and switchgrass is a small smooth seed. If you want to plant these seeds, it can be done correctly with a drill. Indiangrass and big bluestem fluffy seeds need to be metered by a finger-type mechanism. The switchgrass smooth seeds need to be metered by a fluted-type mechanism. Calibrate the drill for each type of seed before use to ensure that the metering mechanisms are releasing the right amount of seed. In some areas, drills may be rented from your local Pheasants Forever chapter or your Natural Resources District (NRD).

F. John Hay
Extension Educator

Post Planting. Buffalograss can be watered similar to establishment of cool season grasses, keeping the soil moist during the first few weeks to months. The primary postplanting concern in grass planting is weed control. Use mowing or herbicides to control weeds. If weed pressure is high, mowing or shredding may help, but to protect wildlife, grasses should remain at least six inches tall after mowing. Use the proper herbicide for the weed species you are trying to control, and note that warm season grasses require different herbicides than cool season grasses. Check herbicide label restrictions for use near water and other plants.

It may take native grass species two to three years to get well established. First-year plantings may look like a failure, but do not panic. Patience is needed for establishing a native grass.

TEXT OF PROPOSED AMENDMENT NUMBER 1

THE MEMBERS OF THE NINETY-NINTH LEGISLATURE OF NEBRASKA, FIRST SESSION, RESOLVE THAT:

Section 1. At a special election on May 9, 2006, the following proposed amendment to the Constitution of Nebraska shall be submitted to the electors of the State of Nebraska for approval or rejection:

To amend Article III, sections 7 and 19:

III-7 At the general election to be held in November 1964, one-half the members of the Legislature, or as nearly thereto as may be practicable, shall be elected for a term of four years and the remainder for a term of two years, and thereafter all members shall be elected for a term of four years, with the manner of such election to be determined by the Legislature. When the Legislature is restricted, the members elected prior to the redistricting shall continue in office, and the law providing for such redistricting shall where necessary specify the newly established district which they shall represent for the balance of their term. Each member shall be nominated and elected in a nonpartisan manner and without any indication on the ballot that he or she is affiliated with or endorsed by any political party or organization. Each Until January 3, 2007, each member of the Legislature shall receive a salary of not to exceed one thousand dollars per month during the term of his or her office. Beginning January 3, 2007, each member of the Legislature shall receive an annual salary during his or her term of office equal to twenty-one thousand dollars in 2007 and increased annually thereafter by the change in the prior calendar year in a consumer price index designated by law, not to exceed four percent. In addition to his or her salary, each member shall receive an amount equal to his or her actual expenses in traveling by the most usual route once to and returning from each regular or special session of the Legislature. Members of the Legislature shall receive no pay nor perquisites other than his or her salary and expenses, and employees of the Legislature shall receive no compensation other than their salary or per diem.

III-19 The Legislature shall never grant any extra compensation to any public officer, agent, or servant after the services have been rendered nor to any contractor after the contract has been entered into, except that retirement benefits of retired public officers and employees may be adjusted to reflect changes in the cost of living and wage levels that have occurred subsequent to the date of retirement.

Except as otherwise provided in section 7 of this Article, the compensation of any public officer, including any officer whose compensation is fixed by the Legislature, shall not be increased or diminished during his or her term of office, except that when there are members elected or appointed to the Legislature or the judiciary, or officers elected or appointed to a board or commission having more than one member, and the terms of such members commence and end at different times, the compensation of all members of the Legislature, of the judiciary, or of such board or commission may be increased or diminished at the beginning of the full term of any member thereof. Nothing in this section shall prevent local governing bodies from reviewing and adjusting vested pension benefits periodically as prescribed by ordinance.

The surviving spouse of any retired public officer, agent, or servant, who has retired under a pension plan or system, shall be considered as having pensionable status and shall be entitled to the same benefits which may, at any time, be provided for or available to spouses of other public officers, agents, or servants who have retired under such pension plan or system at a later date, and such benefits shall not be prohibited by the restrictions of this section or of Article XIII, section 3 of the Constitution of Nebraska.

Sec. 2. The proposed amendment shall be submitted to the electors in the manner prescribed by the Constitution of Nebraska, Article XVI, section 1, with the following ballot language:

A constitutional amendment to provide for an annual salary for members of the Legislature equal to twenty-one thousand dollars in 2007 and increased annually thereafter by the change in the prior calendar year in a consumer price index designated by law, not to exceed four percent.

ELECTION PREVIEW

EDITOR'S NOTE

Nebraskans will be voting on one issue when they go to the Primary Election polls on May 9. So that voters can better understand this important proposed change to the state Constitution, the Nebraska Press Association in cooperation with this newspaper has prepared this report. This report briefly defines the issue, explaining its purpose and finally stating the arguments for and against.

State senators have not had a pay raise in 18 years.

Voters will decide May 9th if an increase is due, and whether to wash their hands of making such decisions at the ballot box.

Amendment Number 1 would boost lawmakers' pay from the current, annual salary of $12,000 to the sum of $21,000.

Nationally, the average pay for state legislators is about $30,000. The proposed Nebraska increase would be the first since 1988, when annual pay went from $4,800 to its current level of $12,000.

Supporters of the amendment say its chances might be bolstered by the fact that voters earlier placed term limits on lawmakers. State senators can serve just two, consecutive four-year terms.

One traditional argument against better pay was that it could make the job too comfy. Some would be motivated by money instead of public interests, the argument went.

Term limits will provide plenty of turnover in the nation's only Unicameral Legislature. The day of the career lawmaker is gone.

Higher pay, supporters argue, would enlarge the pool of those who could consider serving.

Amendment No. 1 would end the practice of asking voters for senatorial pay hikes. It would base annual increases on a consumer price index, but limit any increases to no more than four percent.

There has been no apparent, organized opposition to the amendment.

The 2005 Legislature voted to put the amendment before voters in the 2006 primary.

The language that will appear on the May ballot:

"A vote FOR this proposal will increase the annual salary for members of the Legislature to $21,000 in 2007 and increase the salary annually thereafter in accordance with the change in a consumer price index designated by law, not to exceed four percent."

"A vote AGAINST this proposal will not increase the salary for members of the Legislature."

"A constitutional amendment to provide for an annual salary for members of the Legislature equal to twenty-one thousand dollars in 2007 and increased annually thereafter by the change in the prior calendar year in a consumer price index, designated by law, not to exceed 4 percent."

NOTICE TO ALL VOTERS

As part of the State of Nebraska's compliance with the 2002 Help America Vote Act (HAVA), all polling places in Nebraska will have at least one disability-accessible voting machine. Enabled by the federal HAVA funds, the state purchased the AutoMARK™, a voting assistance machine designed to provide privacy and accessibility to voters who are blind, visually-impaired, or have a disability or condition that would make it difficult or impossible to mark a ballot independently.

Key features of the AutoMARK™ include:
 • an audio function allows voters with impaired vision to listen to choices.
 • a zoom feature enables voters to increase the font size for all races listed on the optical scan ballot
 • a sip/puff tube for voters who are not able to use the touch screen or touch pad.
 • a multi-language capability ensuring all citizens can exercise their privilege to vote
 • the ability to support casting a vote for write-in candidates.
