Several Wayne County bridges are reviewed and inspected

Wayne County Board of Commissioners met in regular session on Tuesday. A review of the Wayne County bridges was conducted by FHWA representative Greg Kolle on June 7. The review consisted of five bridge files and field inspection of two bridges; all of which were built in 1934 or before. Results of the review will be given at a later date.

Since the six month probation of Highway Superintendent Elizabeth Carlson is over, she asked the commissioners for the raise that was promised to her when she was hired for the position. Commissioners discussed expectations and a raise of $3,500 was negotiated.

An update on the Court Services building renovation includes carpet installation during the week of June 19 and final painting during the week of June 26. The commissioners approved payment application No. 6 with the balance to finish the project (including retainage) being $100,183. Commissioners rejected change estimate proposal (No. 9) for a bronze plaque.

Commissioners signed an audit management representation letter regarding county financial statements as of June 30, 2005. Also approved was a letter to County Attorney Mike Pieper requesting him to provide contingency information for time period ending June 30, 2005.

The Cuming County jail needs assessment study was discussed. Wayne County Sheriff Leroy Janssen provided potential inmate figures that were requested.

Also requested was the county's preference: paying a daily fee for prisoner board or assisting with construction funding/overall management of a new Cuming

County facility and participating in a regional/ multi-county facility. Commissioners decided Wayne County would not state their preference until it's known what type of coalition is established and they complete their review of the Wayne feasibility study.

Wayne County Clerk Deb Finn requested to have the walls and shelves renovated in the election supply area. Commissioners approved her request.

The Wayne County Ag Society liquor license application was approved. The application was for authorization to sell beer and wine in designated area #1 at the Wayne County Fairgrounds on July 27-30 (during the fair), subject to the condition the hours of consumption on Sunday, the 30th will be from noon to 1 a.m. Also, consumption of beer and wine to be in designated area #2 during tractor pulls and demolition derby.

Discussed was a joint city and county retreat for strategic planning at the Winside library conference room. Optional dates were given and commissioners chose to attend Aug. 22 from 6-9 p.m.

Also discussed was the first commissioners meeting in July. Because of the 4th of July holiday, the meeting will be held July 5.

Certification for Wayne County Assessment Roll for 2006 was filed by Joyce Reeg, county assessor. Notices have been mailed out. Final date for filing a valuation protest with the Wayne County Board of Equalization is June 30, 2006.

The next meeting of the Wayne County Board of Commissioners will be June 20 at 9 a.m. in the courthouse in Wayne.

Torch Run to pass through Wayne and stay overnight at Armory

Husker Linebacker Bo Ruud and wrestling National Guardsman Rob Pilcher, who won the 2005 National State Games Athlete of the Year Award, opened the Cornhusker State Games Torch Run together on May 24. Gabe Hammer of Wayne is one of the participants in the run.

Runners are scheduled to arrive at the Wayne Armory late Sunday afternoon and stay overnight there. The group will leave Wayne on Monday and run to West Point. The public is invited to cheer them on.

From West Point, the next stops will be Fremont on June 13, Omaha on June 14, Tecumseh on June 15, Beatrice on June 16, Fairbury on June 17, Seward on June 18, Wahoo on June 19 and Lincoln on June 20.

At the beginning of the run, Ruud and Pilcher jogged the opening mile after a torch-lighting ceremony at the Nebraska-Wyoming border west of Kimball on Highway 30.

Ruud, with 80 tackles including 14 for losses, was the third-leading tackler for the 2005 Huskers, who capped an 8-4 season with a thrilling come-from-behind victory over Michigan in the Alamo Bowl. The redshirt junior from Lincoln missed spring practices with a broken arm suffered before the Bowl game, but is expected to be ready to play in the season-opener Sept. 2 vs. Louisiana Tech.

Pilcher earned the 2005 Cornhusker State Games Male Athlete of the Year Award by amassing a 13-0 record and five gold medals in wrestling. The feat was even more special considering he was on leave from active duty in Iraq at the time. He was later named the National State Games Athlete of the year from among 250,000 athletes who compete in state games events nationwide.

The Torch Run, sponsored by the Nebraska National Guard and Tobacco-Free Nebraska, is conducted annually to promote entry in the Cornhusker State

'In Wayne' project update presented

Scott Brummond, Project manager for the Highway 15 "In Wayne" project, has provided the following update of work completed in the last week and work to be completed within the next week.

"As always, the description of future work is weather permitting and can change," Brummond cautioned.

Work completed includes:

Last Wednesday through Friday, June 2:

- Continue water service line installation;
- Continue storm sewer installation;

Monday, June 5:

- Continue water service line installation;
- Continue storm sewer installation.

Tuesday, June 6:

- Continue water service line installation;
- Continue storm sewer installation.

Wednesday, June 7:

- Continue with water service line installation;
- Continue with storm sewer installation.

Thursday through Tuesday, June 13:

- Continue water service line installation;
- Continue storm sewer installation.

NOTE: The Wayne North job Phase #1 work continues the past week, which is from Highway 15 north from 13th Street to 21st Street (Country Club Road). Work the past week included storm sewer work, grading for the widened roadway, and City water utility work near 13th Street. Thursday through the end of the week, the contractor will be preparing the subgrade for paving and may begin yet this week.

The Phase #1 portion of the North project as described above, should be opened back up to traffic by July 18 or sooner, weather permitting.

Making progress

Ideal weather conditions for construction have allowed contractors and subcontractors to get ahead of schedule in the Main Street Construction project. Currently, storm sewers are being installed at the south end of the project. Water main work continues at the north end of the project and it is hoped that street section could be poured as early as July.

Teaching career comes to an end

By Clara Osten
Of the Herald

The last 29 years "have gone by too quickly, but have been great" for Wayne Elementary Principal Dave Lutt.

Lutt is retiring after 37 years in the field of education, the majority of those at Wayne Elementary School.

Lutt was born and raised in Wayne. After graduating from Wayne High School, he attended Norfolk Junior College in Norfolk and taught for two years while obtaining his four-year degree from Chadron State College. He served as a graduate assistant at Chadron State College, completing his Master's degree and working at Crawford Public School. He taught sixth grade at the Norfolk Public School for four years.

Lutt served as high school principal at Crawford for two years, before signing a contract with Wayne Public Schools to become the Elementary Principal in 1976. On June 1, he ended his teaching career in the same school system he attended as a child. During this time he completed his Specialist's Degree in Administration.

Lutt recently made a list of what the Wayne school system was like when he came in 1976 and the changes that have occurred since that time.

They include: two elementary schools, one in Wayne and one in Carroll; two homerooms at Wayne Elementary; no guidance program; no male teachers in home rooms; one-half day kindergarten; lunch cards punched by home room teachers and

Humane Society conducting fundraiser

The Northeast Nebraska Humane Society has announced the beginning of its second annual "For the Love of Animals" fundraiser.

Those wishing to contribute are asked to donate any picture(s) they want of animals, along with a $10 donation per picture. There can be more than one animal in the picture. The pet's name and their parents' names should also be included.

All pictures will be featured in the calendar.

A vote will be taken to see who gets the large, monthly picture slots, as well as the coveted front cover.

Pictures will be accepted until Thursday, July 6.

There will then be two scheduled voting dates to pick the monthly pictures. The first of these will be at Henoween on Friday, July 7 and the second will be during the free barbecue at the Wayne County Fair on Friday, July 28.

All votes cost $1. The pictures with the most votes get the 12 monthly pictures and the top vote getter will be featured on the cover.

Calendars will be available for sale beginning in November.

Those wishing to submit pictures can mail or drop them off to Nancy Wherley at D&N Service, 614 Main Street in Wayne or mail them to P.O. Box 151, Wayne, Neb. 68787. Anyone wishing to have the photo returned is asked to include a self-addressed, stamped envelope.

Road work continues ahead of schedule

Work on Main Street continues to run ahead of schedule.

Water service lines are now installed to businesses on the east side of Main Street up to Third Street. Work will begin shortly on the west side to connect business lines before the storm sewer is laid.

Ellis Plumbing of Wayne has been named the sub-contractor to install water lines inside the commercial businesses.

As underground work is completed, street sections will begin to be poured as early as July.

Concern has been expressed over the 25 mile per hour speed limit on the graveled county road detour north of Wayne. Officials indicate this is a maximum limit established on unimproved roads given the heavy traffic using the detour. Drivers are urged to use extra caution on the detour route.

Public meetings with the Nebraska Department of Roads and the contractor have been moved from the city auditorium to the Coffee Shoppe at 211 Main Street beginning at 8 a.m. each Thursday. It is hoped that the earlier hour will be more advantageous for shop owners to attend.

Website provides instant access to parade entry forms and info on Q125 celebration

Need to get your parade entry form submitted for Wakefield's Q125 parade? Check out www.ci.wakefield.ne.us click on the Q125 link. You will also find a complete schedule of events for the June 30 to July 4 celebration.

Grand Marshalls for Wakefield's Q125 Grand Parade are Raymond Paulson and Edith Erickson.

Kids no exception to heat-related illness

When the weather gets hot, don't forget to pack a water bottle alongside the kids' soccer shoes and baseball gloves, a University of Nebraska-Lincoln nutrition specialist said.

Like adults, children need to drink plenty of fluids to avoid heat-related illnesses during the summer months, said Linda Boeckner, nutrition specialist at UNL's Panhandle Research and Extension Center at Scottsbluff.

"Adult guidance is especially important with young children," Boeckner said. "The younger the child, the more responsibility must be taken on by the adult."

Children are becoming more involved in sports and other outdoor activities, so there is less time for rest and replenishing body fluids, Boeckner said. Parents need to schedule time for kids to rest and drink fluids so they don't become dehydrated, she said.

Unfortunately, not all fluids are created equal, Boeckner said.

"Some fluids are too concentrated with sugar," Boeckner said. "This decreases the rate of absorption into the system and the body's ability to restore fluids lost to perspiration."

Drinks with high levels of sugar, such as pop and fruit juices, eventually will absorb into the body, but not as quickly, she added.

However, some sports drinks are formulated for quicker absorption, Boeckner said. A great advantage of these drinks is they are more attractive to kids than water and kids are more likely to drink something that appears fun, she said.

"Water is still good though," Boeckner said. "You can't go wrong with water."

Providing children with healthy, well-balanced meals also will help prevent heat-related illnesses. Fruits and vegetables make great snacks because they contain a high percentage of water and help children obtain additional water, Boeckner said.

"Regular meal and snack times are another opportunity to rest as well," she said.

Children who show symptoms of a heat-related illness might complain of a headache and feel light-headed, dizzy or nauseous, Boeckner said. If this is the situation, a child should be taken to a shaded or air-conditioned area to cool down. Try to get fluids moving through the child's body and remain watchful in case conditions get worse, she said.

If symptoms don't improve, contact a doctor, Boeckner added.

Above all, parents need to remain mindful that even though kids seem too excited to take a time-out from the fun, they need to be encouraged to stop for water, Boeckner said. If not, serious problems could occur, she added.

Main Street Focus

These are exciting times in downtown Wayne with the Highway 15 construction, the extended media coverage and the various promotions of the Wayne businesses and the variety of committees attempting to insure that there isn't any significant change in the number of consumers that are visiting our local businesses. It was interesting to read the front page story and to see the photo of our downtown area in the Norfolk Daily News on Saturday.

I find watching the progress of the construction very interesting and I am proud to see how the various business people are working together to overcome any negative affects that might result from the construction. But it pleases me to no end to see how well the general public has responded and are supporting the Wayne businesses. So many people are contributing their time, talent and financial support to these efforts.

With everybody's cooperation, it appears that there is no parking problem. Business owners, employees and our wonderful customers have accepted walking a little farther to make their purchases and to go to work. Observing the traffic, it appears that most people have become more cautious and are obeying the reduced speed limits. There are several that I have observed where people are really being careful - Third and Pearl and Second and Pearl. And that is good!

Many questions have arisen over the location of the Chicken Days Parade route! This was discussed at length at our Tuesday morning meeting and it appears that the city Administrator, Police Chief Webster and the Chicken Days officials and parade committee will have a special meeting to work out the route and details to insure the safety and convenience of the parade participants and parade spectators. We hope to let you know the route in our next column.

The Community Picnic will be held this Thursday at the Main Street Park and we hope that you had an opportunity to attend and that you enjoyed yourself. In May there was a picnic lunch for the road construction crew, sponsored by local businesses under the auspices of the TEAM 15 Promotions Committee. It appears as the various road construction crews change during the construction process, there will be more luncheons to show our appreciation for the workers and the job they are doing for our community.

Looking ahead, we would like to remind our reading audience once more of the "Outback Flea Market" to be held on Saturday, July 22 between 8 a.m. and 4 p.m. in the alleys on both sides of Main Street between Second and Third Streets. Anyone interested in setting up a table should contact Irene at the WAEDI office (formerly the Chamber office). Your support is also asked for the Farmers' Market which will be held for the first time this Saturday at the USDA Building on East Seventh Street, beginning at 8 a.m. Producers are encouraged to join this new venture in the community. With everybody's support, we can do this each Saturday during the summer.

Here is a tentative schedule for Henoween.

The state will be set up at Third and Pearl Streets and at 6 p.m. the World's Largest Chicken Dance will be held in front of the stage. At 6:30, Our Savior Lutheran Church Quartet will entertain, followed at 7 by the Cement Chicken Auction. At 7:45, Del Hampton, our Chicken Days Cluck Off Champion, will entertain with music and he had promised to demonstrate some of his award winning Cluck Off performances. At 9 p.m., a helicopter will land at the ball field area and the 189th will be honored prior to the 10 p.m. Fireworks Show. There will also be a Teen Dance held in the vicinity of Third and Pearl Streets.

Save this information for future reference. If it should change, we will inform our public.

The Main Street Wayne Promotions Committee, which sponsors our Henoween Celebration, needs your help. First, we need volunteers who will paint the concrete chickens. We really need help here since we use the auction to raise the money to pay for your entertainment. Although we have a fine group of volunteers from the WSC Athletic Department to set up and tear down the seating area - more volunteers would be appreciated. Call Mel Meyer or Patty Wieland if you can help.

It was interesting to see that a long time Fremont jewelry store was going out of business and more recently the Warren Pharmacy of Crawford announced that it will close its doors after 114 years of business in Crawford. This was a shock to your writer, not so much that they were closing, but for the reason they were closing. They were closing not for a lack of business, but for a lack of succession or the inability to find new owners. Two fine independent businesses closing their doors.

We mention this because one of the goals of the Main Street Program, particularly the Economic Restructuring Committee, and a goal of the WAEDI Program is to develop a plan to help our Wayne businesses to develop succession programs or to help them find new replacement owners. Let's hope we can soon develop a plan for business succession!

June 14 is Flag Day and Main Street Wayne encourages all our citizens to flag on this day and every day that you can. Best wishes.

Appeal made

Dear Editor:
Recently the Siouxland Community Blood Bank issued an "Emergency Appeal" to the blood donors in our area asking them to make the commitment to give the gift of life. Sending out such an appeal is not something we take lightly; it is done only when it is absolutely necessary.

Only through the donations of concerned people can we guarantee that there will be a safe and adequate supply of blood to meet the urgent needs of patients in emergency rooms and hospital throughout our area. The Siouxland Community Blood Bank needs to collect over 1500 units of blood every week to meet those demands. The Siouxland Community Blood

Court case is example of checks, balances

By Ed Howard
Statehouse Correspondent
The Nebraska Press Association

A sexual assault case that gave rise to a firestorm of controversy also served as a good example of what amounts to the checks and balances within the judicial system.

People by the thousands were outraged, in Nebraska and elsewhere around the country, when a convicted child molester in Sidney was sentenced to 10 years of strict probation instead of being sent to prison.

District Judge Kristine Cecava cited the perpetrator's slight stature - about five feet tall and 125 pounds - as well as his mental condition when she announced the sentence.

The people of Sidney had a fit. They protested at the Cheyenne County Courthouse and circulated a petition calling for Cecava to resign.

The system of judicial review also kicked in.

Attorney General Jon Bruning appealed Cecava's ruling to the Nebraska Supreme Court. He argued that the sentence was far too lenient and that the man convicted of the crimes should be sentenced, and given a prison sentence.

Within that appeal lies the hope of many that a child molester will get a dose of what they consider a sentence that reflects justice.

The higher court might or might not respond with a decision that Cecava's critics will favor.

Appellate courts are supposed to make decisions based on the facts of each case, not the popular will of the public. If a judge hands down an inappropriate sentence - be it egregiously severe or lenient - society can look to the higher court to decide whether justice was served, whether a judge abused his/her allowed discretion, and whether the defendant's rights were observed throughout the criminal justice process.

Again: A higher court's ruling obviously cannot please everyone. In a court case, there is virtually always a winner and a loser. The winner feels that justice was served. The loser might feel that all judges are wrong-headed fools.

The important thing to remember is that we are not at the mercy of any one jurist whose judgment, temperament and ability raise great concern.

Sometimes a decision that is unpopular with the public nevertheless reflects the law of the land, and the citizenry must live with it - or go to the Legislature or the ballot box (via petition) and try to have the law changed.

The good news is that the people ultimately have the right, through the First Amendment to the U.S. Constitution, "peaceably to assemble, and to petition the Government for a redress of grievances."

Those rights apply from the protests on the steps of the Cheyenne County courthouse, to the state Capitol where laws that apply to all manner of issues, criminal and civil, may originate.

Nebraska election changes fare well in first test

Secretary of State John Gale says Nebraska's major changes in election administration performed very well during the May 9 primary election, the first statewide election for the changes.

The state's 93 counties were using new voting equipment - optical-scanning machines to count paper ballots and voting machines for people with disabilities - and a new statewide voter-registration system. The voting equipment cost $10.9 million, and the voter-registration system cost $4 million.

The changes were made to comply with the federal Help America Vote Act (HAVA) of 2002.

"Considering all the changes, the election went very well with few problems," said Gale. "Neal Erickson, my election deputy, said it was the smoothest statewide election he has experienced since joining the office in 1995.

"These changes probably represent the most significant changes in election administration in Nebraska in the last 100 years. Despite these challenges, our county election officials did an outstanding job of conducting the May election."

Paul DeGregorio, chairman of the U.S. Election Assistance Commission, visited Nebraska on May 8-9 and gave the state a grade of A for its HAVA compliance and performance, Gale said.

Gale made his comments about the May 9 election in connection with the June 5 meeting of the Nebraska Board of State Canvassers to certify results of the election.

In years past, 42 counties counted ballots by hand, while the rest used optical-scanning machines to count ballots.

That disparity needed to be resolved, so all 93 counties were furnished with new optical-scanning equipment to ensure uniformity across the state in the way ballots are counted.

Gale noted that the optical-scanning machines provide faster and more accurate counts. "Nebraska has used optical-scanning equipment for almost 20 years and has found this equipment to have an error rate of less than one percent," he said.

For the May 9 election, 11 counties had their results completed by 9:30 p.m. (CDT), 1 1/2 hours after the polls closed.

"We had never had such quick results before," Gale said. "Those 11 counties were first-time users of the optical-scanning equipment and previously would not have completed their results until 11 or 11:30 p.m."

He noted that as county officials become more familiar with the equipment, results statewide should come in more quickly in future elections.

The state also provided counties with an AutoMARK terminal for each precinct. The machines meet a HAVA requirement that people with disabilities be able to cast an unassisted and private ballot.

The AutoMARK terminals are touch screen and have accessories to accommodate various disabilities. "Our AutoMARK equipment was very well received," Gale said.

In addition to the new voting equipment, Nebraska has implemented a new statewide voter-registration system as required by HAVA.

The computerized system allows for uniform maintenance of voting rolls and provides county election officials with more tools to manage elections. Previously, each county maintained its own voter-registration records.

The voting equipment and voter-registration system were paid primarily with federal funds. Limited state matching funds also were used.

Gale's office has been working for more than 3 1/2 years to comply with HAVA. Nebraska was awarded $18.8 million in federal funds to implement the legislation.

"Many states have struggled mightily to comply with HAVA," Gale said. "Nebraska has avoided the pitfalls of other states and has successfully implemented HAVA mandates."

Bank wishes to thank everyone who gave the gift of life during our visits to the Wayne area in May. We registered a total of 188 donors and collected 183 units of life saving blood. We also recruited 10 new donors!

The following donors deserve special recognition for reaching gallon milestones during the month:

high school students eating hot lunch in the elementary gym.

Today, Lutt noted that there are three home rooms for each class, K-4; the physical education position is now full-time; all day kindergarten has been introduced, the elementary office has been enclosed, a computer lab was added to the library; lunch cards are scanned by an Accu-scan system; an addition has been added to the west end of the Elementary School; a TV and VCR are available in each classroom and Wayne Education Bootser program has been formed.

Lutt and his wife, Eileen, who has had a business in Wayne for 23 years, have two sons, Jay, a superintendent at Farragut, Iowa and Brian, who is a policeman at Chandler, Ariz. They have five grandchildren. His mother lives in Wayne and two brothers farm in the Wayne area.

Lutt also has a list of things he hopes to accomplish during his retirement.

These include hunting and fishing, more golfing, visiting his grandchildren more often, travel with his wife to new places, try to learn how to sleep in and "eat downtown without people asking me why I'm not eating in the cafeteria."

Among the things Lutt won't miss are lunch room duty and finding subs at 6 a.m.

"I will miss everything that makes Wayne Elementary a great school," Lutt said.

Chicken Walk to be part of Chicken Show

In order to promote physical fitness, and incorporate another event into the Chicken Show week's activities, the 2004 Chicken Walk has been revived.

The event is scheduled for Thursday, July 6 (rain date, Friday, July 7) from 11 a.m. to 1:30 p.m. and from 4 to 6:30 p.m.

The walk's beginning and ending points will be at the start of the Wayne State College's Fitness Trail on 14th Street near the school-house museum.

This year participants can choose to walk either 1.5 miles or 3.0 miles (4.8 K), and may practice ahead of time to time their walk. Walkers will not be allowed to carry timepieces on July 6 and those who best predict on their registration forms their exact walk times will receive medals and Subway six-inch sub coupons in four different age categories, ranging from 15 and under to 51 and over.

Parking will be available in WSC Lot 4, directly across the street, or in the larger Lot 10 down the hill.

Registration will require a $5 fee, payable to the Wayne Area Chamber of Commerce, 108 West Third Street, Wayne, Neb. 68787. Pre-registration will occur between Thursday, June 15 and Saturday, July 1. Registration blanks are available at the Wayne Community Activity Center and the Walk's four sponsors, Subway, Providence Wellness Center, Wayne Mercy Medical Clinic and the Chamber office.

Walkers may register the day of the event at the tent on 14th Street, but only those who register by July 1 are eligible for door prizes, provided by the sponsors, which will be given out at the tent as walkers finish.

In addition, Providence Wellness Center will be giving each entrant a bottle of water upon arrival.

Route maps included with registration blanks may be kept for reference.

The 1.5 mile route will consist of walking twice counterclockwise around the "Big Loop" at the east end of the WSC Fitness Trail and back to the tent.

The 3.0 mile (4.8 K) route begins in a small way and proceeds as follows - 1) Once clockwise around the edge of the small playground near the tent (Gamefield). 2) Go north on the WSC Fitness Trail (only 1.5 mile walkers use the "Big Loop") past the Big Loop fork a short way to the tall tree at the fork with the grassy road intersecting the WSC athletic field. Return on the Trail to 14th Street. 3) Follow the Wayne Walking Trail from 14th Street to the Seventh Street sidewalk. 4) Take latter sidewalk west to Providence Road. 5) Take Providence Road sidewalk up to 10th Street, rejoin the Wayne Walking Trail and proceed to the tent. 6) Take WSC Fitness Trail (no Big Loop) to end by WSC gym lot, turn around and return to the tent.

Organizer Pat Cook also noted that while walkers are in the vicinity of #3 and 4, they should be able to see at some point the kites flying that day in the Wayne Rugby Field at the east end of Fourth Street. These kites are made in June at the Wayne Public Library by local youth with the assistance of Bob Porter.

Jaycees to host display

Last year the Wayne County Jaycees joined forces with the Wayne Chicken Show to celebrate the 25th anniversary of the show, along with the Fourth of July.

Due to positive feedback, the group has decided to once again have the Wayne Jaycees' annual fireworks display after Henoween activities.

This year's show will be dedicated to the 189th Transportation Company and all service men and women.

The Jaycees are asking for community support for those serving, their families and the fireworks display.

Donations are currently being accepted to help offset the cost of the show, entitled "Light up the Sky." All money received goes toward the display.

Contributions can be made to the Wayne County Jaycees, P.O. Box 85, Wayne, Neb. 68787.

Power District has been serving area for nearly 70 years

By Clara Osten
Of the Herald

"The Northeast Nebraska Public Power District is dedicated to providing reliable and competitively priced electricity to our consumers while maintaining a sound financial position and effective, fair and consistent service."

With that official purpose, Northeast Public Power has been providing service to rural northeast Nebraska customers since 1938.

The Northeast Nebraska Public Power District (NeNPPD) was formed in 1998 as a result of the consolidation of two smaller power districts: The Wayne County Public Power District and the Northeast Nebraska Rural Public Power District. At the time the Boards of Directors felt a consolidation would be an effective way to hold down overhead costs, improve efficiency and service and ultimately keep retail electric rates low.

NeNPPD currently operates 3,000 miles of line.

At the present time there are 30 employees at NeNPPD. This includes two linemen at Osmond; two linemen at Ponca; four linemen at Emerson and 11 linemen in Wayne; a warehouse manager; five people in management/ supervisory positions and five office personnel.

In 2000 the NeNPPD assumed responsibility for serving 14 villages and towns with electric service. The villages and towns had previously been served by the Nebraska Public Power District, the only lines from the Nebraska Public Power District which owns coal and nuclear generating plants. NeNPPD has crews in Osmond, Emerson, Ponca and Wayne.

"We also have an agreement with surrounding towns to provide assistance in times of need," said Mark Shultz, general manager of NeNPPD.

NeNPPD is governed by an 11 member board made up of persons from the area's three districts.

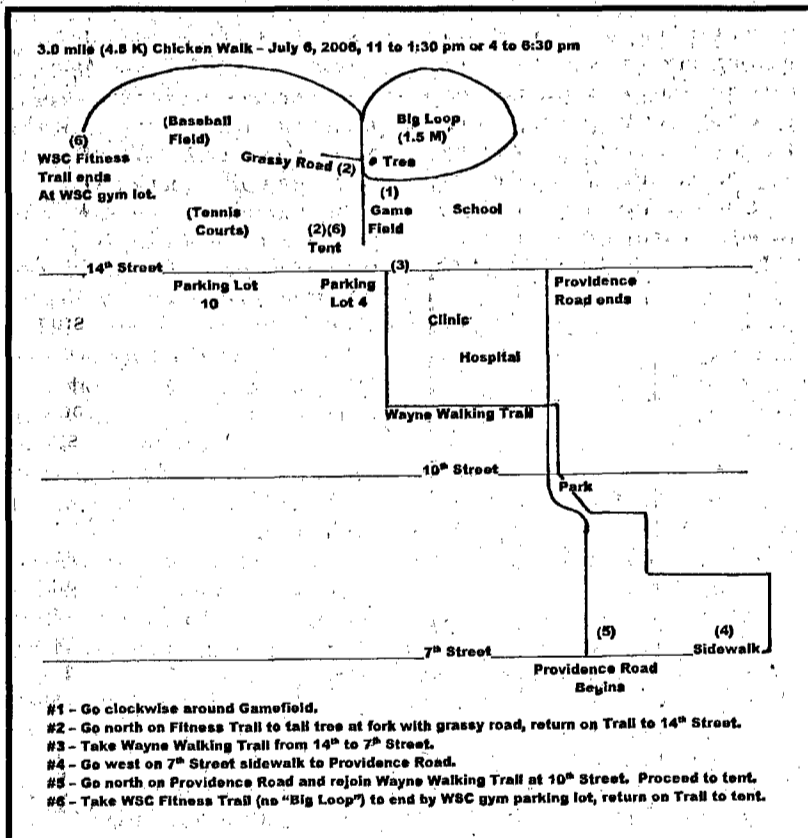

Current members include Don Larsen of Wayne, president; Paul Bodlak of Emerson, vice president; Sy Kneif of Newcastle, treasurer; Dan Loberg of Carroll, secretary; Mark Shultz, manager; Chris Connolly, attorney; Lowell Birkely of Jackson, Dan Ganseboom of Osmond; Tom Gustafson of Wakefield; James Decker of Ponca and Larry Silhacek of Wee Town.

NeNPPD is currently in the process of opening an operations center on west Highway 35 in Wayne, just west of Pac 'N' Save.

The facility will be home to materials currently being stored at the pole yard on South Lincoln Street and vehicles and equipment housed at 206 Logan Street and the garage at the office at 306 Logan Street.

A Chamber Coffee is being planned for Friday, June 23 at the new location. By that time it is anticipated employees will be working out of that central location.

"People in Nebraska pay very reasonable prices

Relay For Life to be held in Wayne June 9-10

The eighth annual Relay For Life event is set for this weekend, Friday and Saturday, June 9-10 at Wayne State College.

This year's theme is "The Places You Will Go."

Events will begin with opening ceremonies and a welcome by Relay For Life Chair Lori Butler at 7 p.m. The "Star Spangled Banner" will be sung by Tracy Anderson and greetings will be presented by Committee member Sarah Claussen and Ruth Korth with an invocation by Father Mark Tomasiewicz.

The actual walking part of the Relay will begin with a Survivor Walk, led by the Color Guard.

Rynae Reifenrath, chair of team recruitment will introduce the 17 teams involved in this year's Relay. Throughout the evening a number of activities and events designed to entertain and raise funds for the American Cancer Society will be held.

A tentative schedule of events include:

Pac 'N' Save will be grilling brats and burgers which will be on sale for those in attendance.

Games will be played at the campsites and the theme baskets will be on display and bids taken.

Cancer Awareness banners will be posted around the track; a memory video will be played continuously and music will be played all night. Locks For Love Haircut will be given.

Also on the list of entertainment will be a performance by "On Our Toes" Dance Studio, Locks for Love haircuts, the Miss Relay Talent and Contest and the Newly Wed Game with Eric "Vito" Cole as master of ceremonies.

The Luminaria Ceremony will be held at 10 p.m., honoring and remembering loved ones diagnosed with cancer.

Activities will continue with "The Amazing Race" and food provided by campsites that represent various locations throughout the world that each was assigned earlier this year.

Games scheduled for the early morning hours include "Who Wants to be a Millionaire?" "Hollywood Squares," a scavenger hunt and team relay races.

Activities conclude with a morning stretch at 5 a.m., closing ceremonies, breakfast and clean-up.

Everyone is encouraged to participate in any or all of the activities.

For more information, contact Lori Butler at 375-5904.

The NeNPPD Operations Center will soon be home to the district's supplies and equipment.

statewide electric company in Nebraska.

NeNPPD serves approximately 8,500 retail electric customers in Pierce, Thurston, Wayne, Dixon and Dakota Counties in Nebraska. NeNPPD operates about 3,000 miles of electric lines and over 100 miles of high voltage transmission lines. Power is delivered to the Cities of Wayne, Wakefield, Winside and Emerson over NeNPPD transmission for power and local companies do a good job of keeping costs down," Shultz added. "Wayne is a good community to do business in and a good community to recruit employees to."

Shultz noted that electricity makes modern life possible and Northeast Nebraska strives to serve its customers in the most efficient manner possible.

Winside driver opens new chapter

Recent racing victory highlights rookie season dedicated to grandfather

By David W. Carstens
Of the Herald

Grant Hulbert never had the opportunity to meet his grandpa.

One could, however, make a compelling argument that the spirit of late Winside stock car racing legend Marvin "Bun" Herscheid is a motivational force for Hulbert during his rookie racing season.

There are plenty of area racers who remember Bun, who died in an auto accident in December 1965 when his car slid off the roadway way on a snow-covered patch of black ice.

The impact of Bun's passing rattled the racing community and many of his friends gathered on the Winside cemetery hill south of town to pay their final respects to the man in Car 85 known for his clean-style racing and one of the true pioneers of the Nebraska dirt tracks.

Now, hit the gas pedal and drive ahead 41 years.

Emotions run high for Grant Hulbert, that's to be expected.

Aside from entering the maturing process that all rookie drivers have to go through, Hulbert also carries the tradition set up more than four decades ago.

"I want my first season to be a memorial to my grandfather," Hulbert said. "It's hard to believe that a man who has been dead for 41 years can touch somebody he's never met."

Racing under his grandpa's retired number 85, Hulbert is bringing smiles to those who knew and loved Bun, short for Bunny.

Among those fans is his mother, Marlyce, who operates Samz Hometown Tavern in downtown Winside, who says her son does have many of the same traits that her father did.

Marlyce and Grant moved back to Winside several years ago after living in Garland, Utah. She was able to purchase the bar in her hometown and one can see the family's love of racing by the memorabilia that adorns the walls of the establishment.

Grant said he became a student of the sport five years ago and later teamed up with his friend and crew chief, Don Nelson of Winside to begin to turn the dream into reality.

"I learned the ropes of everything and what it takes to make a good car," he said. "I don't think people really understand how much it really takes for us guys out there on that track every weekend."

Last summer, it was decided that a race car was going to be built.

A 1982 Cutlass was resurrected to its present glory over the course of cold winter nights and long hours in a machine shop that had no heat.

As winter's cold gave way to spring, the car began to take on a character of its family tradition.

Hulbert said the first weeks of his rookie racing season threw him on a quick learning curve.

Before heading out of town, though, there's been a two-hour pre-race routine.

"Every weekend, when I pass by the cemetery up the hill, I always give Bun a honk, a wave and tell him to get on in," Hulbert said as he fought back tears that showed his strong emotional ties to his grandfather.

He said in his first races it was frustrating because he wasn't getting the kind of finishes he was hoping for.

In his third week out, Hulbert held an eight-lap lead before two flat tires pushed him out of the top spot.

Still being a student to his sport, Hulbert and his mom traveled to a race at Onawa, Iowa, a week ago to watch and learn.

A long conversation about winning ensued on the trip back to Winside.

"Mom told me that if it was meant to be, it would happen," he said. "There for a while I kept saying something's got to happen because I'm racing a winning number."

But something special happened for the Hulbert Racing Team on Memorial Day weekend that was a fitting tribute for a time of remembrance.

Hulbert said he got in his car at Riviera Raceway in Norfolk on May 27 and looked at the words he wrote on the dashboard: "This one's for Bun."

His first Hobby Stock race of the night saw him place third in his heat. Fellow Wayne County racer, Sean Spann from Wayne told Hulbert he had a plan to take the A feature race.

"He told me to run right up front

Wayne Seniors baseball team now 4-5 on season

The Wayne Seniors Legion team is currently 4-5 on the season after last week's busy schedule.

The team opened the week with a 6-5 loss at Wisner on May 31 after a two-run rally late in the game fell short.

Nate Finkey took the loss on the mound and dropped to 1-1 on the season.

Bren Vander Weil provided a pair of RBIs for Wayne in the loss.

Nathan Milander pitched a complete game and struck out 13 batters as Wayne dominated Hooper Logan View 5-1 at home on June 2.

Finkey recorded two hits, two runs and a pair of RBIs to pace Wayne in the win.

Wayne lost a pair of games in the Paul Otte Tournament in Wayne on June 3.

The team dropped a 9-6 decision against eventual tourney champion O'Neill in the first game of the day.

Vander Weil led Wayne with a double, but the team struggled to generate runs as 14 runners were stranded on base for the offense.

Wake Jarvi took the loss on the mound for Wayne.

The second game saw Wayne slip in a 7-5 loss to Laurel.

Vander Weil notched a pair of doubles and two runs to lead Wayne, but in a similar fashion as the opener 13 Wayne batters were left on base.

Jarvi and Tyler Wiessler each had a pair of RBIs.

Wayne got back on the winning track on June 5 as the team

Nathan Milander pitched a complete game and struck out 13 batters against Hooper last Friday evening.

Juniors improve to 7-2

The Wayne Juniors stand at 7-2 after playing games with Wisner, Hooper Logan View and Tekamah during the past week.

Wisner handed Wayne a 3-2 setback after a late three-run rally in a road loss on May 31.

Wayne pitcher Nathan Summerfield had a no-hitter heading into the final inning before Wisner erupted for three runs in the bottom of the seventh.

Jacob Triggs paced Wayne's offensive effort with a double and drove in a run.

Triggs, Summerfield, Drew Workman and Shaun Kardell all tallied hits in the loss.

Wayne spotted Hooper Logan View three runs in the first inning but tied the game in the second inning and exploded for six runs in the fifth to win a 11-4 home victory on June 2.

Summerfield broke the game open in the fifth inning with a three run double.

Shawn Jenkins earned the pitching win with eight strikeouts and only a pair of walks.

Kardell had a pair of hits, while Jesse Hill, Kardell and Jenkins each finished with a hit for Wayne.

The team traveled to Tekamah on June 5 and picked up a 13-3 victory.

Hill drove in three runs and earned the pitching win with 10 strikeouts, while Triggs sparked the offense with four hits.

Wayne is scheduled to host on Wakefield on Thursday (tonight) at 6 p.m. at Hank Overin Field.

Sam Kurpgewit runs for home plate in last Friday's home game with Hooper Logan View.

and he was going to be right behind me and if we did that this race would be ours," Hulbert said. "He knew how bad I wanted to do this for my family. It's a feeling that nothing will ever top."

Hulbert opened the race from the outside pole, took an early lead and held the advantage for all 12 laps, while Spann finished second.

An emotional Hulbert stood on top of his car at the end of the race.

"If that's the only win I get this season, so be it," he said. "I felt like Bun was there and I thought I did him proud. I wouldn't trade this sport for anything."

downed Tekamah in five innings 13-2 in a contest that ended on the ten-run rule.

Phillip Anderson and Shawn Jenkins drove in two runs and each finished 2-for-4 at the plate.

Milander picked up his third pitching win of the season as he struck out 10 batters in his five innings of work.

Wayne will play host to Wakefield on Thursday (tonight) at 8 p.m. at Hank Overin Field.

12-under White

The Wayne 12-under White team is 1-2 on the season after its opening games last week.

The team opened Ralph Bishop League play on May 30 and dropped a pair of games to Wakefield 2-1 and 7-3.

In the first game, Brady Soden took a tough loss on the mound despite allowing only a single hit in 3 1/3 innings. He finished with six strikeouts and two walks.

Eric Schoh had two hits to lead the team offensively and scored the only run.

The second game saw Schoh, Soden and Bradley Longe each recording a single and runs were earned by Longe, Sean Ganseboom and Tyler Robinson.

Pitching duties in the contest were shared by Ganseboom, Schoh and Layne Hochstein.

The team earned its first win of the season with an 8-5 win against Norfolk on June 1.

Robinson earned the pitching win and paced the team at the plate as he went 3-for-3 with two RBIs and two runs. Longe also scored two runs and added an RBI single. Soden tallied an RBI double, while Schoh and James Ping also added singles.

12-under Blue

The Wayne 12-under blue team earned third place at the Battle Creek Tournament played on June 3-4.

In the first game of the tourney, Wayne pounded out 14 hits en route to a 17-12 victory over Madison.

Tony Sinniger came in to pitch to solid innings of relief to help Wayne break away from a 10-10 tie.

Offensive leaders were Corey Doorlag with three three hits, a triple, a double and two runs; Frank Bernal with two hits, a double and three runs; Sinniger with two hits and two runs; Dan Melena with two hits and two runs and Trent Beza and Jordan Backer with one double each.

In the second game, Wayne lost, 8-6 to Battle Creek.

Alex Onnen paced the offense with a triple.

Wayne bounced back with a win in the third game in a 12-11 victory against Pierce.

Backer was the closing pitcher in the final three innings, while Melena had two hits and Ben Braun recorded a triple.

The team improved its league record to 2-0 with a 7-5 win against Norfolk VFW on June 1.

Keegan Dorcey and Trent Beza shared pitching duties, and Dorcey tallied seven strikeouts and Beza finished with five.

Offensive leaders included Bernal with a pair of hits, a double and to runs batted in along with two runs from Sinniger.

Softball

12-under Blue

The Wayne 12-under Blue softball team finished a champions in the Wayne 12-under Tournament played at the Wayne Softball Complex on June 3-4.

The team downed Norfolk Kelly's 7-5 to secure a first round win and disposed of Sergeant Bluff, Iowa, 9-1 in the second game behind a three-hit performance by Caitlyn Fehring.

Wayne posted another win over Sergeant Bluff in a 4-1 victory in the third game.

Hannah Gamble and Elle Schram each had three hits and Miranda Denklaue contributed two as the girls defeated Norfolk Kelly's 11-2 in the championship game.

Kristen Carroll was the winning pitcher in all four games of the tournament.

"The girls have come a long way and played very hard," Wayne coach Rachel Robins said. "Everyone had at least one hit in every game."

The team was scheduled to

Summer Sports Roundup

take on Bancroft on Wednesday, June 7.

12-under White

The Wayne 12-under White team is now 5-3 on the season after taking third place at the Wayne Tournament in Wayne last weekend.

The team started off last week with a 5-3 loss to the Wayne 12-under Blue team.

Elisa Robinson went 1-of-2 with a pair of runs to pace Wayne in the contest.

The squad bounced back in aggressive fashion in a 16-3 home win over Stanton on June 1.

Tia Jech was the winning pitcher with five strikeouts.

Jech and Lindsay Frahm each tallied doubles and scored three and two runs, respectively.

In last weekend's Wayne tourney, Wayne lost to Norfolk Kelly's 11-1 and Pierce 6-2, but posted a 14-2 win against Wakefield to finish in third place.

14-under

The Wayne 14-under team posted a 3-1 record in games last weekend and finished third in the Wayne Tournament played at the Wayne Softball Complex.

The girls downed Scribner-Snyder 8-1 in the opener, 8-1. Shannon Jarvi pitched a complete game to earn the win as she struck out eight batters in her six innings of work.

Bayli Ellis finished with three hits and two runs to pace the offense, while Jessica Calhoun also added a pair of runs.

In the second game of the tourney, Wayne edged Pierce 4-3 behind two runs each by Calhoun and Ellis, who also earned the pitching win. Jarvi was credited with the save for Wayne.

Wayne dropped its first game of the day on June 4, as the team slipped to Sergeant Bluff in a 5-3 loss.

Wayne trailed 5-0 heading into the final inning but plated three runs in the last frame in a comeback effort.

The girls finished out the tournament with a 10-2 victory against O'Neill in five innings.

Wayne exploded for eight runs in the third inning to seal the victory. Ellis earned the pitching win as she retired nine batters in her complete game.

The bats were alive for Wayne as nine players collected hits in the contest.

Riley Hoffart and Katie Stoltenberg tallied three and two hits, respectively, while Stoltenberg finished with three RBIs.

In other action during the week, the girls defeated West Point Pizza Ranch 12-4 on May 30, as Jarvi pitched a complete game in the road win.

The offense was paced with three-hit outings by Jarvi, Hoffart and Stoltenberg.

Wayne also downed Wisner 13-1 in home action June 2.

Ellis earned the pitching win in the three-inning contest and contributed a pair of hits.

Courtney Steenken also finished with two hits for Wayne.

Wayne (10-3) was scheduled to host West Point on Thursday (tonight).

Hochstein places at meet

CRETE — Wayne High graduate Kari Hochstein capped her first year as javelin thrower at Doane College with an appearance at the NALA national meet. Hochstein finished 12th overall with her throw of 129 feet, 10 inches, at the national meet held in Fresno, Calif., last month. Doane finished the meet in seventh place in the overall team standings.

Garvin finishes at nationals

COFFEYVILLE, KAN. — Cloud County Community College sophomore Caleb Garvin placed in two events and broke two school records in the meet for the Cloud County men in the NJCAA National Outdoor Track and Field Championships.

Garvin finished third in the discus with a toss of 172-5. That broke the old school record of 171-2 held by Jeff Hake.

With a best throw of 163-11, Garvin placed eighth in the hammer throw. He also broke Hake's CCC record of 163-1.

Meyer earns recognition

ABERDEEN, S.D. — The South Dakota Basketball Coaches Association has named Don Meyer of Northern State as its men's college basketball coach of the year.

In his 34 seasons, Meyer's teams have gone 841-287. That makes him the fifth all-time winningest college men's basketball coach in history.

Meyer, a Wayne native, trails only Harry Statham, Dean Smith, Adolph Rupp and Bobby Knight.

The Wolves have gone 139-67 in the last seven seasons under Meyer.

Nelson signs national letter

COLUMBUS — Recent Wakefield graduate Amanda Nelson has signed a national letter of intent to continue her athletic career.

Nelson, the daughter of Blaine and Donna Nelson, signed to play volleyball for Central Community College in Columbus.

"Amanda is a great addition to the Raider volleyball program," Central coach Mary Young said. "She possesses all the characteristics of being a great setter. She's quick, plays good defense and is competitive."

Nelson recorded 628 career set assists during her years at Wakefield.

Post-season honors given

NORFOLK — Former Laurel-Concord girls basketball standout Angie Peters recently picked up post-season accolades from Northeast Community College in Norfolk.

Peters, a freshman letter winner, earned academic all-region and academic all-conference honors for carrying a 3.25 or higher grade point average on 30 hours of cumulative course work.

Sok to wrestle at Morningside

SIOUX CITY, IOWA — Recent Winside High School graduate Andrew Sok was among 10 high school recruits who signed national letters of intent to join the Morningside College wrestling team at Morningside in Sioux City, Iowa.

Sok amassed a 116-27 record in high school with 56 falls and placed at state four times during his high school years.

He posted a 23-5 record and placed third in Class D as a senior and went 36-5 to finish third as a junior. Sok placed third and fourth at state, respectively, during his sophomore and freshman seasons.

WSC players earns honors

WAYNE — Wayne State College center fielder Dustin Jones has been named to the ESPN The Magazine Academic All-American College Division Baseball Team.

Jones, a junior from Dakota Dunes, S.D., and a graduate of Sioux City Heelan, was selected third-team All-American in national voting by members of the College Sports Information Directors of America (CoSIDA).

Jones, who carries a 3.85 grade point average majoring in business management and marketing, topped Wayne State in many offensive categories, batting a team-high .393 with two home runs and 25 RBIs from the leadoff position.

Jones ranked first in the Northern Sun Conference in at bats, hits, runs scored and stolen bases, ranked second in walks and triples and was third in average and on-base percentage.

He will enter the 2007 season just 10 hits shy of the school record for career hits, which is 217 held by Dale Clayton (1985-88).

Three other WSC baseball players were selected to the National Collegiate Baseball Writers Association of America (NCBWA) All-Central Region Baseball Team.

Starting pitcher Travis Mortimore was a First Team honoree while starting pitcher Josh Andersen and second baseman Vicente Cafaro were Second Team selections.

Mortimore, from Torrington, Wyo., notched a 9-2 record with a 2.07 ERA to earn Northern Sun Conference Pitcher of the Year honors.

Overall, Mortimore worked a team-high 74 innings and struck out 79 batters, which also led the team.

Andersen, of Brandon, S.D., was 8-1 with two saves and a 2.83 ERA this past season. He was selected First Team All-Northern Sun Conference and was named the Most Valuable Pitcher at the 2006 NSIC Tournament, recording two wins for the Wildcats. Andersen worked 60.1 innings this season, allowing just 55 hits and 21 runs (19 earned) with 43 strikeouts and 25 walks.

Cafaro, freshman from Maracay, Venezuela, received First Team All-Northern Sun Conference honors at second base for the Wildcats this past season, hitting .351 with six homers and 45 RBIs. He led the Wildcats in total bases (106), assists (124) and hit batsmen (18). He was one of just three players to start and play in all 53 games for the Wildcats.

Reeves named to team

WAYNE — Haley Reeves of Wayne State College has been selected to the ESPN The Magazine Academic All-District VII women's track and field/cross country team as voted on by the College Sports Information Directors of America (CoSIDA).

Reeves, a junior from Gordon, received Second Team All-District honors with a 4.00 grade point average majoring in pre-med.

Emergency planning meeting set for June 21 at Wayne Fire Hall

Emergency preparedness has begun. You can do your part. Attend the next planning meeting at the Wayne Fire Hall on Wednesday, June 21 from 11 a.m. - 2 p.m. R.S.V.P. (for meal count) to Northeast Nebraska Public Health Department at 402-375-2200 or 1-800-375-2260.

The Northeast Nebraska Public Health Department Disease Investigation Team, all trained in applied epidemiology, routinely investigate infectious diseases in Cedar, Dixon, Thurston, and Wayne Counties.

Food-borne outbreak illnesses like salmonella or E-coli food poisoning are a common type of investigation. West Nile Virus surveillance involves sending certain species of dead birds and mosquitoes to the Nebraska Public Health

Lab. Recently, cases of pertussis (whooping cough) and the mumps epidemic, have re-emerged, much to the surprise of public health and medical officials. Each case is investigated and entered into a database recorded both at the state and national levels.

How do these disease surveillance methods help protect residents of northeast Nebraska? The Nebraska Health and Human Services System and the Northeast Nebraska Public Health Department track the number of cases of influenza and other infectious diseases, the population being affected, and disease severity.

At least four surveillance systems are active during flu season: one uses reports from health care providers and local health departments (such as Northeast Nebraska Public Health Department); a second uses test results reported by laboratories; a third monitor school absenteeism, and the fourth surveillance system keeps track of the number of patients admitted to acute care hospitals with a diagnosis of influenza-like-illness (ILI).

Through disease surveillance, the World Health Organization, the Centers for Disease Control and Prevention (CDC), Nebraska Health and Human Services System and the Northeast Nebraska Public Health Department are carefully awaiting any changes in the H5N1 virus (the type of virus currently infecting bird populations with Bird Flu) that might indicate the beginning of a flu pandemic.

How likely is it that a flu pandemic will occur? No one can say for sure whether or not a pandemic is near. Scientists are sounding the alarm... it's inevitable and it's coming. But when? That's the big question, and we don't know the answer. It could be next year or years from now. However, history tells us that when pandemic flu strikes, it takes many lives with it. The 1918 pandemic flu killed almost 700,000 people in the U.S. alone...that's why planning now could help save lives later.

Putting a flu pandemic into perspective for Northeast Nebraska... Based on previous flu pandemics, the U.S. Department of Health and Human Services has estimated the number of people who may become ill and require various levels of health care. The estimates are based on a 30 percent attack rate (percentage of the population that becomes ill) and an assumption that 50 percent of people with illness will seek care. The number of hospitalizations and deaths will depend on the virulence of the pandemic virus.

A look at local data shows that the population in Cedar, Dixon Thurston and Wayne counties is approximately 33,000. If 30 percent of this population became ill, that would be 9,900 individuals. If 50 percent of those that became ill needed medical care, that would mean 4,950 office/hospital visits. If 10 percent of those that sought medical care required hospitalization, that would be 495 people.

Currently, there are 65 hospital beds in the four-county area. Communities need to plan in order to work together to take care of themselves and each other in the event of a flu pandemic.

Local planning for a pandemic has begun. The message for everyone is "educate yourself" and "prepare". Individuals need to have enough food, water, medications and supplies on hand to take care of themselves for approximately six weeks. Businesses need to have a plan in place to continue operating with a reduced workforce. Medical providers are planning for increased patient load. Local governments are preparing for continuation of services, and communities are assessing resources and coordinating overall response efforts.

For more information on emergency preparedness, log onto www.pandemicflu.gov.

County Convention is held in Wayne

The Democratic Party of Wayne County held its County Convention on June 1 at the Wayne Courthouse.

Officers were elected for the next biennium; Charles Shapiro was elected chair; Monica Snowden, vice-chair; Frank Anderson was elected Secretary-Treasurer. Charles Shapiro and Edith Zahniser were elected delegates to the Nebraska Democratic Convention in August, and Frank Adams was elected alternate. Candidates for office spoke to the convention. Onar Spahr, running for Clerk of the District Court, spoke about her qualifications and desire to work hard for Wayne County.

Maxine Moul, running for the 1st District Congressional seat, spoke about unifying the district and representing Nebraska in Congress. Plans were made to participate in the Chicken Day Parade and have a booth at the County Fair. Tracy Bruckner is the chair of the Chicken Show Parade and will coordinate the event with the various campaigns for office in November.

STUDENTS RAISE MONEY

Candice Rastede and Lindsey Sullivan, third graders, asked Mr. Miller for permission to have a fund raiser. After organizing other third grade students to help, the students made bracelets, necklaces, and wrote books. The sale of these items earned enough money the flowers in the barrels by the entrance of the school. Congratulations on the success of a service project that was well done.

RECEIVES AWARD

At a banquet held on April 30 at Wayne State College, the Wayne Optimist Club held their third annual Celebration of the Arts. The Wayne Optimist Club feels that students who excel in art, drama, speech, creative writing, and/or music receive little or no recognition for their achievements, especially students who are not yet in high school.

The Club recognizes and honors one elementary student (K-4), one middle school teacher (5-8) and one high school student (9-12) from each of the Wayne area schools.

Luke Logue, a 2006 graduate of Allen, was chosen for this award. Past Allen Winners were: Kelli Rastede and Scott Wilmes (2003-2004).

Luke is the son of Curt and Carla

Logue. Both vocal and instrumental music are an important part of Luke's life. In addition to being a percussionist in the band, he sings in the choir and has had lead parts in the spring musicals. He spent last July traveling overseas while singing with the Sounds of America. An avid gamer and artist, Luke plans to study game design at Collins College in Tempe, Ariz.

Special Olympics bowling was held at Maplewood Lanes in Omaha on May 19. Representing Wayne and coming in first in their respective division were, left to right, Feather Webster, Brian Mizner, John McQuistan and Chris Martin. Those assisting with the event said, "What a special effort achieved by these young people."

AMBER ALERT stamp to be unveiled

The U.S. Postal Service, Nebraska Attorney General's Office and Nebraska State Patrol will unveil the new AMBER ALERT stamp on May 25 at the main post office in Lincoln.

The stamp honors the AMBER Alert program, which is dedicated to the rapid recovery of America's missing and abducted children.

May 25 marked National Missing Children's Day.

Attorney General Jon Bruning, Postmaster Doug Emery, U.S. Postal Inspector Dave Margrizz and Sgt. Scott Christensen of Nebraska's Internet Crimes Against Children unit unveiled the stamp.

Six AMBER Alerts have been issued since Nebraska's AMBER program began in 2002. In each case, the child was returned to their family alive.

"The AMBER Alert program has been effective because the good people of Nebraska have responded quickly during the first critical hours after an innocent child is taken. It's imperative we have a statewide network of people looking for that child and the criminal who abducted them," Bruning said.

"The AMBER ALERT stamp reminds us that we must all do our best to protect and recover the many children who turn up missing every year," Margrizz says. "The stamp also pays tribute to the dedicated professionals involved with the AMBER program."

AMBER is an acronym for America's Missing: Broadcast Emergency Response. The AMBER Alert program originated in the Dallas-Fort Worth, Texas area in 1996 after the kidnapping and murder of nine-year-old Amber Hagerman, for whom the program is named.

Other states and communities soon began adopting similar plans, and by 2005 a national alert system coordinated by the U.S. Department of Justice extended across all 50 states.

In 1983, President Ronald Reagan proclaimed May 25 "National Missing Children's Day." Each administration since has honored this annual reminder to the nation to renew efforts to reunite missing children with their families and make child protection a national priority.

National Missing Children's Day is a reminder to all parents and guardians of the need for high-quality photographs of their children for use in case of an emergency, and for the need for everyone to pay close attention to the posters and photographs of missing children.

The AMBER ALERT stamp shows a chalk pastel illustration by artist Vivienne Flesher. It depicts a reunited mother and child entwined in each other's arms.

The 39-cent stamps are available at post offices nationwide. Stamps can also be ordered using a credit card at usps.com, or by calling 1-800-STAMP24.

Brumm graduates from Creighton University

Wayne resident, Rebeca J Brumm, DPT, was among more than 1,200 students who received their degrees during Creighton's 115th spring commencement ceremony on May 13 at the Civic Auditorium in Omaha.

NBC Political Analyst Tim Russert delivered the commencement address during the morning ceremony.

Northeast auto students build bio-diesel mixing/filling station and take trip

A class project to build a bio-diesel mixing/filling station and a field trip to Kansas City wrapped up the academic year for some automotive technology and auto body repair technology students at Northeast Community College in Norfolk. Under the supervision of instructor Bowdie Otte, eight automotive technology students were challenged to design, build and test a bio-diesel filling station as a semester project. Research on the Internet led to the design for the project.

According to Otte, a mixture of vegetable oil, kerosene, gasoline, cetane boost and naphtha was used to make the fuel. After it was made, it was tested on a V-8 Perkins diesel engine. The first test was run on straight number two diesel and yielded 138 horsepower. The second test was conducted on straight bio-diesel and yielded 132 horsepower. Tests also indicated a reduction in revolutions per minute (RPM) of 50 on bio-diesel without making pump adjustments. "The students concluded that if pump adjustments were made, the horsepower and rpm would have been identical," Otte said.

Northeast students involved in the project were Andrew Calvert, Norfolk, Adam Christensen, St. Paul, Michael Guenther, Crofton, Cory Johnson, Ainsworth, Jason Koch, Meadow Grove, Bryan Mohnsen, Leigh, Jarod Olsen, Farwell and Steven Svitak, Howells.

Some 40 automotive technology and auto body technology students also took a field trip to Kansas City this spring. While there, they toured the General Motors Assembly plant, the only plant in the world which produces the Malibu, Mahibu Max and Saturn Aera. They also toured a Harley Davidson motorcycle factory and the Kansas Motor Speedway.

They were accompanied by Northeast instructors Roger Carnell, Scott Berg and Otte.

Patrons at the Wakefield Library examine various animal furs and shells during a recent Summer Story Hour at the library.

'Paws, Claws, Scales and Tales' presented at Wakefield Library

A representative from the Henry Doorly Zoo presented a program at the Summer Story Hour in Wakefield on May 31.

The presenter shared information about many different animals and showed various animal furs and shells. Participants were able to ask questions and touch the animal furs.

The program was sponsored by the Library Foundation.

Summer Story Hour will continue at the Gardner Public Library in Wakefield each Wednesday n June from 10 to 11 a.m. On June 14 Dick Clyde of Norfolk will be the special guest. He will share experiences with his dog guide. On Wednesday, June 28 Pastor Terry Bueche of St. John's Lutheran Church in Wakefield will be making balloon animals for the participants.

Once again the Omaha Royals Baseball team is offering tickets for the Summer Reading Program participants. There are a limited number of tickets available. A drawing for these tickets will be held for those children attending the June 28 Summer Story Hour. Ticket winners will also receive an extra ticket for a parent/guardian.

Summer Story Hour in Wakefield is being planned and taught by youth who are a part of LEAP (Leaders Energizing Activities in Partnership). Those interested are encouraged to join the Summer Story Hour on June 14, 21 and 28 from 10 to 11 a.m.

Serving time to save babies

The Nebraska Chapter of the March of Dimes will be conducting a fundraiser in Wayne. Serving time to save babies is planned for June 13 from 11 a.m. until 1 p.m. at the Pizza Hut. Wayne community members were recruited to put themselves in jail and call upon others for bail money. All bail money raised will go to benefit the March of Dimes.

"This is a fun event to put on in our Nebraska communities and it gives the community the opportunity to unite for a good cause," says Jeffrey W. Beckman, Nebraska Executive Director. "The proceeds will be invested into our mission of improving the health of babies and reducing preterm birth and infant mortality." The March of Dimes is a national voluntary health agency whose mission is to improve the health of babies by preventing birth defects, prematurity and infant mortality. Founded in 1938, the March of Dimes funds programs of research, community services, education and advocacy to save babies and in 2003 launched a five-year campaign to address the increasing rate of premature birth.

For more information, visit the March of Dimes website at www.marchofdimes.com or its Spanish website at www.nacersano.org.

Entrepreneurship camp held in Laurel

Makin Money Entrepreneurship Camp held June 1 at Laurel's Learning Center was fun and educational. Fifteen fifth through seventh grade youth from seven towns in northeast Nebraska took part. It was a day of learning and creating a product that customers would want to buy.

The youth learned what entrepreneurs are like - that they 'think outside the box', develop products or services that meet a need, and that they like being their own boss.

Characteristics that are needed in the workplace were discussed such as honesty, responsibility, respect, and trustworthiness.

As the day progressed they were taught advertising and marketing methods, created business plans and developed a business name for the product they would make that day, and decided how to price their product. Each participant then had to present their business plan to the banker to get a loan for their business, go to the teller to get the cash and then purchase a license to operate their business - very much like what happens in real life.

Participants left that day knowing at least part of what it takes to start their own business. They identified business ventures they might like to do and were encouraged to try them at home. Many resources are available to help them, including their parents, if they choose to go ahead.

Sponsoring groups for the Rural Youth Connection Entrepreneurial Camp were University of Nebraska - Lincoln Extension in Dixon and Cedar Counties, the Northeast Nebraska Resource Conservation & Development (RC&D) Council, Center for Rural Affairs, and Laurel Economic Development.

The Rural Youth Connection project originally was the dream of Rita Brhel, Coleridge, who was an entrepreneur herself in high school and college. She saw the need to help kids at a young age learn about how they can have their own businesses and be successful.

Buena Vista names students to Dean's List

A Wayne student from Buena Vista University has been named to the Dean's list at Buena Vista University for the 2005 fall semester.

Todd Wical, the son of Allen Wical and Catherine Wical, is a sophomore at BVU.

Those students named to the list must have a minimum grade point average of 3.5 for the semester, based on a 4.0 grade point system, and must have taken at least 12 hours of coursework.

son's identification with the intent to commit unlawful activity.

The Identity Theft Resolution service provided to BankFirst customers will help build a criminal case against identity thieves. Identity theft is the misappropriation of another person's identifying information in order to obtain credit, steal money, apply for loans, file for bankruptcy or even obtain a job. Identity thieves want personal data including date of birth, social security number, drivers license number, credit card information, bank account information and mothers maiden name.

BankFirst is one of the first banks in Nebraska to offer the service of Identity Theft Resolution which provides assistance to customers who have been victims of identity theft. A Personal advocate will assist BankFirst customers in contacting credit bureaus, credit card issuers, creditors, debt collectors, law enforcement, and government agencies. Assistance will also be provided in filing a police report and the customer is automatically enrolled in monitoring services that will help track changes to the customer's identity that has been lost.

In addition to assistance to victims of identity theft, the Bank provides a link on their website - www.bankfirstonline.com with information on how to prevent becoming a victim of identity theft, as well as information on current frauds and scams that are occurring called "threat alerts." It is important to stay abreast and avoid becoming a victim of the new scams that are arising daily.

If you would like more information or if you feel that you have been a victim of Identity Theft contact any BankFirst Branch location in Norfolk, Wayne, Columbus, Ord or O'Neill.

Nebraska Medical Association accepting award nominations

The Nebraska Medical Association (NMA) is now accepting 2006 award nominations. Award categories include: Physician of the Year, Young Physician of the Year, Distinguished Service to Medicine, and Friend of Medicine. Nominations for Physician and Young Physician of the year can be submitted by the public.

For a nomination form, contact Carole Bates at (402) 474-4472 or caroleb@nebmed.org. The deadline to submit a nomination is Friday, June 30.

The awards will be presented at the 2006 NMA Annual Session which will be held at the Embassy Suites in Lincoln on Friday and Saturday, Sept. 14 and 15.

The Nebraska Medical Association was founded in 1868, and currently represents nearly 3,000 Nebraska physicians, students and residents. The mission of the Nebraska Medical Association is to serve physician members by advocating for the medical profession, for patients and for the health of all Nebraskans.

University of Nebraska Rural Initiative, Dialogues Across Nebraska (DAN) has announced the selection of Mathew Habrock of Wayne for a summer intern position.

Habrock will be working in the Chadron area this summer. He is a junior at the University of Nebraska-Lincoln where he is majoring in Ag Business and political Science. His parents are E.J. Habrock of Madison and Jenny Cadwallader of Ridgway, Colo.

DAN is a youth-led community development process that engages people of all ages in discussion around one common issue. The process is useful for a community to use in finding common ground on projects to address for the future. University and college students train youth leaders and adult partners in the community to organize and carry out dialogues. The community strives to implement the ideas that come from the volunteers during the dialogue.

This summer DAN's goal is to work with 24 communities around four regions of the state. Student interns will be located in Chadron, Norfolk, Curtis and Lincoln. Partners in the process this summer are Chadron State College, the Nebraska College of Technical Agriculture in Curtis, the Midwest Consortia for Service Learning, The Groundwater Foundation and 4-H.

Anyone in the community who is interested having DAN visit is asked to contact Sandi Sattler Weber or Kyla Wize at (402) 472-1744.

ALUMNI BANQUET HELD

The 100th Winside Alumni Banquet was held on May 27 at the Winside Auditorium. The honored classes were 1936, 1946, 1956, 1966, 1976, 1986, 1996 and 2006. Those attending were pleased to have six of the 2006 graduates attend.

The meal, which served 170 people, consisted of boneless pork loin, mashed potatoes and gravy, macaroni salad, corn, roll and butter, tea and lemonade. The food was catered by The Branding Iron of Tilden.

This year's officers were: President - Barb Hawkins; Vice President - Connie Bargstadt; Secretary/Treasurer - Jeremy Cleveland; Historian - Kevin Cleveland; Gifts/Table - Barbara Junck.

Prayers were led by PMA Glenn Kietzmann. Responses were read by the honored classes. Reports were given by the Secretary, Treasurer and Historian. Old and new business was discussed. It was decided to table the idea of buying something for the school with money in the savings account until next year's banquet.

Crowning of the Queen went to LaJean Marotz and King went to Russell Prince. Gifts were also given as such: Farthest to attend - Duane Neary; Oldest attending - Dorothea Troutman; Oldest Volleyball player - Tami Hoffman; Oldest Homecoming King - Roger Hill; Two with most school colors - Lois Bowers and Tyler Frevort; Oldest wearing class ring - Norma Smits; Oldest Alumni officer - Lila Chambers.

The Winside Scholarship report was given by Lorraine Prince and the Winside Boosters report was given by Corrine Morris.

Next year's officers will be: President - Dan Jaeger; Vice President - Darci Janke Fraham; Secretary - Kathy Leighton Meyer; Treasurer - Bev Stevens Sprick; Historian - Jeff Warnemunde; Gifts/Table - Melodi Westerhaus Jaeger.

There was a 50/50 drawing which was won by Dean Junck. Dean donated the $56 he won to the Booster Club.

School songs were sung by all. The meeting and banquet was adjourned. Social hour was held before and after and was served by Porky's Bar and Grill of Winside.

VACATION BIBLE SCHOOL

"All Aboard the Gospel Express!" was the theme of this year's Vacation Bible School for Trinity Lutheran Church and United Methodist Church children. About 33 kids attended May 30 through June 2 from 9 a.m. to noon.

On the evening of Friday, June 2, the students showed off what they learned during the week. They sang and danced and a few of the kids read to the family and friends attending the program.

Following the presentation, bars, ice cream and drinks were served in the basement of Trinity Lutheran Church. LeNell Quinn, Rachel Rabe, Josie Longnecker, Lori Finn, Caitlyn Prince, Sam Barg, Cody Wylie and Kathy Jensen were some of the people who helped with the Bible School this year.

40TH CLASS REUNION HELD

Mick and Sue Topp hosted a reunion at their home on May 25 for the Winside Class of 1966. There were 31 in the graduating class. Two are deceased and there were 17 graduates present along with their spouses.

Those in attendance were Larry Ave, Marcella (Shufelt) Jensen, Jackie (Stevens) Trainer and Stephen Mueller, all of Colorado. Elroy Brogren of Hoskins, Richard and Jackie (Jeffrey) Ditman of Austin, Texas, Keith Gamble and Sandy (Frink) Atkins, both of Wayne, Kay (Gries) Milo of Omaha, Roger Hill of Lincoln, Larry and Kathy Redel of Columbus, Greg Kirsch of Norfolk and Clair (Bleich) Brogren and Mick and Sue Topp of Winside.

The evening began with a tour of the high school at 5 p.m., followed by social hour, supper and visiting to follow.

Superman Batman #26 benefit planned

On June 1, ACME Comics & Collectibles began selling a very special comic book at its store. Superman Batman #26 was slated to be 17 year-old Sam Loeb's first writing assignment for DC Comics. Tragically, Sam passed away from a rare form of cancer only two months after his 17th birthday.

To honor his memory, his father Jeph Loeb decided to have a few of his friends help complete the comic issue. The result of his work is undoubtedly one of the biggest events in recent comic book history with 26 of the top artists and writers contributing to the book.

Every artist and writer has agreed to donate their fees and royalties directly to The Sam Loeb College Scholarship Fund. In addition, tion, all of the artwork will be auctioned off this summer at the Wizard World comic book convention in Chicago with all those proceeds will go to the Fund as well.

Purchase of this comic book will help support June E. Nylén Cancer Center.

The Sam Loeb College Scholarship Fund was set up in September 2005 and awards a $10,000 scholarship to one student each year who attend Sam's High School, North Hollywood High Gifted Magnet Program. The student best exemplifies Sam's qualities both as a student and as a person - in other words, brilliant with a sense of humor.

"Jeph Loeb had contacted the retailers a few months ago to let us know about how special Superman Batman #26 would be" said ACME Comics owner Fran McGarry. "He had asked us to order extra copies of the issue to help with the scholarship fund. When we heard about Superman Batman #26 and the circumstances behind it we immediately thought of the June E Nylén Cancer Center. In addition to ordering almost 10 times the normal amount we would normally order, we decided to donate $1 from every sale of the book to the June E Nylén Cancer Center. We admire all of the great work that they do there and we would like to help out in any way we can."

"As a comic book goes this is a true 'All Star Issue.' Jeph was able to get the best talent in the industry to finish this book. We have not seen anything like this since Marvel comics tribute book to 911 called Heroes. Collectors and comic book fans alike will love this story. This is truly a great book with a great cause."

"After seeing Jeph and Sam in Chicago two years ago at a convention, I can see why Jeph was able to convince his friends to finish Superman Batman #26 in Sam's honor" said ACME Comics co-owner Kevin McGarry. "Here was Sam, who was obviously suffering at the time, joking with his father and having a great time with his fellow comic creators. To see a young man like that, with everything in the world to look forward to, tragically taken away from his family before his time has really affected us. We couldn't be more pleased to be helping out the June E Nylén Cancer Center."

Superman Batman #26 takes place at the height of INFINITE CRISIS. Robin and Superboy team up for an extra-sized story that's not to be missed! Written by Sam Loeb and some of the best writers in comics today, this issue was completed by Sam's artist and writer friends - a veritable Who's Who of modern comics, including Jim Lee, Mike Turner, Geoff Johns, Joss Whedon, Brad Meltzer, Ed McGuinness and many more! This issue also features a bonus SUPERMAN FOR ALL SEASONS short story by Jeph Loeb and Tim Sale! Don't miss it!

The entire creative team consists of: Written by Sam Loeb with Jeph Loeb, Allan Heinberg, Joss Whedon, Joe Kelly, Brad Meltzer, Mark Verheiden, Brian K. Vaughan, Geoff Johns, Joe Casey and Paul Levitz; Art by John Cassaday, Joe Madureira, Jeff Matsuda, Ian Churchill, Ed McGuinness, Rob Liefeld, Jim Lee, Tim Sale, Arthur Adams, Joyce Chin, Mike Kunkel, Duncan Rouleau, Carlos Pacheco, Michael Turner and Pat Lee; Cover by Michael Turner.

The following information comes from a story that aired on MSNBC: Sam Loeb was a superhero. He accomplished things in his 17 years that most comic book- and TV-loving teenagers only dream of. And he faced things that no kid should ever have to deal with during his three-year struggle with a rare form of bone cancer.

"Sam always taught us that life was all about 'finding the funny' in any situation," says his father, Jeph Loeb, a veteran comic book, film and TV writer.

The elder Loeb is known for writing contemporary Superman and Batman comics, including the "Superman for All Seasons" graphic novel that influenced the tone of WB Network's "Smallville" series centering on Clark Kent in his high school days.

Now a supervising producer on "Lost," Jeph Loeb spent three seasons on "Smallville," where his son was a frequent visitor to the writers' room. "Smallville's" fifth-season opener in September was dedicated to Sam. So was a recent episode of "Adult Swim's" "Robot Chicken."

Sam had befriended a lot of comic book and TV writers during the time spent hanging out with his dad. And Sam was a comer in his own right, having collaborated with "Buffy the Vampire Slayer" creator Joss Whedon on a comic, "Tales of the Vampires 5," for Dark Horse Comics. (Whedon had been impressed with the younger Loeb's story sensibilities while working with Jeph on the "Buffy" animated series that never got off the ground.)

Sam was ready to follow up that debut by writing his own issue of DC Comics' popular "Superman/Batman" series, one that appropriately enough would revolve around teenage apprentices Robin and Superboy. He finished the story for the issue, but he ran out of time before he could see it through to comic book stores. Sam died June 17, two months and four days after his 17th birthday.

His ordeal had started three years earlier with a little bit of numbness in his left leg. It was diagnosed as osteosarcoma and pretty soon Sam had 14 inches of bone removed from his leg. He went through an intense chemotherapy regimen. His doctors believed that they had licked it, but six months later the cancer turned up in his jaw. They took more bone out of his other leg to build Sam a new jaw. And then they found small growths on his lungs that required periodic surgeries to remove them.

Sam's funeral last year drew an overflow crowd that ranged from top comic book creatives to "Smallville" staffers to his many friends at North Hollywood High School, the magnet school where Sam was a high achiever in the gifted-student program.

Out of shared grief at the funeral came the idea to assemble an all-star roster of comic writers and artists to finish Sam's issue. Jeph also found some solace in writing a companion piece, "Sam's Story," about a friend of Clark Kent's in Smallville who gets cancer and dies. It's lovingly illustrated by Jeph's longtime collaborator, Tim Sale.

ACME Comics & Collectibles is located at 1622 Pierce Street in Sioux City. The store, established in 1995, is considered a comic book, game and collectible specialty store. They quickly rose to be one of the leaders in the comic book and gaming industry. In 2004 they were named the Will Eisner "Spirit of Comics" Retail Award Recipient, equivalent to being named the World's Best Comic Book Store.

For further information or questions please contact Kevin or Fran McGarry at 258-6171.

Survey will help RC&D serve area better

The Northeast Nebraska Resource Conservation & Development (RC&D) Council is gathering public input for their new long-range plan called the "Area Plan". They've developed a three-page survey to assess the needs of the six-county region. What's important to you and your neighbors? How can the RC&D Council serve you better?

Right now Council members are distributing the surveys in and around communities and asking people to fill them out.

Those involved in this effort include: Duane Fanta, Creighton; Gary Howey, Hartington; Donna Christiansen, Plainview; Cy Pinkelman, Hartington; Mike Brhel, Coleridge; Rhonda Kneiff, Newcastle; Eric Frederick, Randolph; Rod Garwood, Wayne; Julie Joyce, Wausa; Chris Kreycik, Niobrara; Bud Knuth, Royal; Darrel Magnuson, Emerson; Myron Miller, Winside; Dale Morrill, Creighton; Bud Twiss, Santee;

Also, Stan Baier, Wayne; Nancy Schulz, Wakefield; Jill Heemstra, Osmond; Art Kuhl, Randolph; Marvin Forbes, Brunswick; Ray Naprstek, Creighton; Bob Porter, Wayne; and Gary Robinette, Niobrara. As a thank you for completing the survey each person receives an RC&D wildflower postcard.

Sometime this summer the Council will also be hosting public meetings as another way of gathering ideas and needs from citizens. Plan to participate and share your thoughts. Additional information about the Northeast Nebraska RC&D Council can be found at www.northeastrcd.org or by calling the office at 402-582-4866 or by visiting with one of the Council members.

The RC&D is a partnership between USDA and this local non-profit organization that serves the six counties of Antelope, Cedar, Dixon, Knox, Pierce and Wayne in Northeast Nebraska. The purpose of the Council's efforts is to Connect People and Their Communities to Resources. Together they help plan and carry out activities that support economic development, increase conservation of natural resources, and enhance the quality of life. Community development, alternative agriculture, and tourism promotion are topics that the Council works on as well as others requested by citizens, organizations and groups.

Understanding Mutual Funds

Hailed as an efficient way for individual investors to access the market, mutual funds, like other useful investment tools, have become increasingly popular. Since 1969, assets in mutual funds have grown from $48 billion to nearly $8.6 trillion. In just the last 10 years, mutual fund assets have nearly tripled. And today, nearly half of all U.S. households own mutual funds, compared with less than 6 percent in 1980 Investment Company Institute (ICI), [www.ici.org].

So, what is a mutual fund? At its most basic level, a mutual fund is a portfolio of securities owned by a collection of shareholders. While mutual funds have many different investment strategies, they primarily come in three basic types. Equity funds invest primarily in stocks; fixed-income funds invest in government or corporate securities offering fixed rates of return; and balanced funds invest in a combination of equity and fixed-income securities.

According to the ICI, the trade organization representing the mutual fund industry, there are now approximately 8,300 U.S.-based mutual funds. With all the choice available to U.S. investors it's important for individuals to know about this popular investment vehicle.

Be an Informed Investor

With any investment product, it's important to understand how it works - its attributes and how it fits in an investment portfolio. The following provides some information about mutual funds. Diversification. You don't have to know much about investing to know it's not wise to put all your eggs in the same basket. A mutual fund may hold securities from dozens or even hundreds of issues - a level of diversification that few investors can achieve on their own. Through diversification, shareholders can potentially reduce the risks associated with any single security.

Diversification helps spread risk throughout your portfolio, so investments that do poorly may be balanced by others that do relatively better. Of course, diversification is not a guarantee of overall portfolio profit.

Professional management. Few people have the time and expertise

Jennifer & George Phelps Financial Advisors

Certified Financial Planner Practitioners necessary to select and manage a stock or bond portfolio. When you invest in mutual funds, you gain a team of professional money managers, including analysts and traders who strive to help the portfolio meet its objectives.

Lower cost. Just as buying in bulk is cheaper than buying an individual product, securities are generally less expensive to buy and sell when traded in large blocks rather than single transactions. The buying power of a mutual fund generally reduces transaction costs for its shareholders, who benefit by splitting the commissions generally associated with diversification, liquidity and portfolio flexibility.

Convenience. You can buy mutual funds directly from a fund company or through brokers, banks, financial planners or insurance agents. Fund shares come in different share classes with different pricing and features designed to accommodate the various lengths of time investors intend to hold the shares. Fund shares can often be traded by mail, telephone or the Internet, and many fund companies offer extensive recordkeeping services to help you track your transactions and the performance of the fund. It's also easy to move money back and forth between your fund account and your bank account for other uses.

Liquidity. While mutual funds are not as liquid as an exchange traded fund which trade like individual securities, prices for mutual funds are priced daily.

No guarantees. When stocks make up a good share of the fund's assets - think equity or balanced funds - the fund's value will be influenced by the fluctuating value of each stock in the portfolio. Investors need to understand the risks associated with mutual funds when determining whether or not to invest.

Costs. Whether you are investing on your own or find value in working with a knowledgeable financial advisor, take the time to understand what expenses and fees are associated with the fund share class you are purchasing. Each mutual fund comes with a prospectus, which includes a wealth of useful information about the fund objective, strategy, portfolio management team, fees, expenses and historical rates of return. You can also read a fund's statement of additional information - both the prospectus and statement of additional information are available for free from fund companies and are posted on fund company websites. Those investors who work with financial advisors should also ask their advisor how she or he is compensated for the advice they are providing.

Risk versus Reward

All mutual funds involve some sort of investment risk. Choosing investments that match your risk tolerance is an important part of planning your portfolio. Generally, the higher the potential return the greater the risk that you could lose part of your investment.

Understanding the ins and outs of mutual funds investing takes time. Take the time to educate yourself about this popular investment product and consider working with a knowledgeable financial advisor to help you develop an investment strategy to support your unique investment goals, time frame and risk tolerance.

You should consider the investment objectives, risks, charges and expenses of mutual funds carefully before investing or sending money. For a free prospectus, which contains this and other important information about RiverSource Funds, please call 1-800-297-3863 or visit www.ameriprise.com. Read the prospectus carefully before you invest.

Michelle Jarvi is All-American Scholar

The United States Achievement Academy has announced that Michelle Jarvi of Wayne has been named an All-American Scholar.

The USSA has established the All-American Scholar Award Program to offer deserved recognition to superior students who excel in the academic disciplines. The All-American Scholars must earn a 3.3 or higher grade point average. Only scholars selected by a school instructor, counselor or other qualified sponsor are accepted.

Michelle, who attends Wayne High School, was nominated for this national award by Rocky Ruhl, Activities Director at the school.

Her name will appear in the All-American Scholar Yearbook, which is published annually.

"Recognizing and support our youth is more important than ever before in America's history. Certainly, winners of the All-American Scholar Award should be congratulated and appreciated for their dedication to excellence and achievement," said Dr. George Stevens, Founder of the United States Achievement Academy.

The Academy selects All-American Scholars upon the exclusive recommendation of teachers, coaches, counselors and other qualified sponsors.

Michelle is the daughter of Keith and Mary Jarvi of Wayne.

Geoff Nelson named to Who's Who

Geoff Nelson of Wayne has been notified of his selection to the 2005-06 edition of Who's Who Among Outstanding Middle School Students.

Only five percent of middle school students from the nation's 22,000 schools are honored annually.

His biography will appear in the 2005-06 Who's Who Among Outstanding Middle School Students.

Geoff, who will be a freshman at Wayne High School, is a member of Country Classics 4-H Club.

He is the son of Don and Lisa Nelson of Wayne.

Free 'Learn to Fly' seminar scheduled for Sioux City

The public is invited to a free "learn to fly" seminar to be held in downtown Sioux City. Flight instructor Greg Finzen of Sioux City, Iowa will present information on what it takes to become a licensed pilot, the time and costs involved, training opportunities for beginning pilots in the Siouxland area, and activities pilots in Siouxland take part in after getting their pilot license.

Finzen, a licensed commercial pilot and FAA Advanced Ground Instructor, will also provide details about a new accelerated ground school for those interested in obtaining the Private or Sport Pilot certificate. That class will be held in Sioux City starting in July.

The free one hour seminar will take place Wednesday, June 21 at 7 p.m. at the Holiday Inn, 701 Gordon Drive, Sioux City, Iowa. For more information, call Frinzen toll free at 866-706-1495 or in Sioux City at 712-255-3417.

Walk Nebraska virtually with a web program

Always wanted to see Nebraska, but just haven't done it. Now you can see Nebraska by walking one of five routes in different areas of the state, start your walking program, and not leave your home community. A new web program has been developed by the University of Nebraska - Lincoln, Extension. This program is designed to help individuals become more physically active but it can also be useful with a group of friends, co-workers or your family.

The web site is www.walknebraska.org and allows you to select from five routes to explore Nebraska while actually walking in your own community. "Walk Nebraska" can add interest to your daily walks. Through Walk Nebraska, you will walk on your own but select a trail for a "virtual walk" across the state. As you record the number of actual miles walked, messages will automatically appear along your virtual trail, giving useful health tips as well as showing beautiful scenery, notable landmarks and interesting sites in Nebraska.

Once you have completed a trail, you may choose another route for more adventurous walks in Nebraska <http://www.walknebraska.org/> Logging into the site allows you to return to the point in the trail that you left off.

Newsletters with healthy eating and exercise tips are available on the site as well. Becoming physically active is something that doesn't need to happen overnight - it can be achieved slowly. If not very active now, try including an extra 100 steps somewhere during the day and gradually increase the level of physical activity. Walking has several advantages

Family reunions

Koehlmoos - Stuthman family

Forty-five members of the descendants of Heinrich and Maria (Mindemann) Koehlmoos and Deitrich and Maria (Biermann) Stuthman gathered for a reunion on May 28 at St. John's Lutheran Church Hall in Pilger.

Relatives attended from Columbus, Fremont, Norfolk, Omaha, Papillion, Pilger, Wayne, Wisner, Brownton, Minn., Henning, Minn., St. Paul, Minn. and Las Vegas, Nev.

Traveling the farthest were Merlin and Connie Timm of Brownton, Minn., Beverly Lannon of Henning, Minn., Deon Stuthman of St. Paul, Minn. and Eldon Stuthman of Las Vegas, Nev.

The youngest person in attendance was Owen Conrad, son of Joseph and Sara Conrad of Omaha. The oldest person in attendance was Elsie Stuthman of Columbus.

It was voted to have a Koehlmoos-Stuthman reunion in two years at St. John's Lutheran Church in Pilger with a potluck at noon.

Methodist youth complete mission trip

Nine youth and three adults from First United Methodist Church in Wayne recently traveled to Shiprock, N.M. for a summer youth mission trip.

Their work was coordinated through the Four Corners Native American Ministry. The group worked on three homes on the Navajo Reservation.

Some of their projects included yard clean-up, installing a fence and gate, painting the outside of a house and installing new roofing.

One of the homeowners was a widow with a daughter graduating from high school. Their house had no running water or electricity. The daughter explained to the Wayne group that she would do her homework outside until dark and then go in the house and light a candle to finish it.

The group from First United Methodist Church spent evenings playing games and reflecting on the day's work and memories.

On the way back to Wayne, the group stopped for an extra day in Fort Collins, Colo. where they went horseback riding and sightseeing in the Rocky Mountains National Park.

Confirmation

Salem Lutheran Church in Wakefield held confirmation services on June 4. Eighth grade students confirmed were front row, Cody Henschke and Andrew Leonard and Pastor Cloninger. Back row, Allison Haglund, Libby Henschke and Sydney VanderVeen.

Bishop David deFreese re-elected on first ballot at Assembly 2006

The Rev. Dr. David L. deFreese, 51, was re-elected June 2 to a second six-year term as bishop of the Nebraska Synod of the Evangelical Lutheran Church in America (ELCA) at its assembly in Kearney. Pastor deFreese, first elected as bishop in 2000, was elected on the first ballot for bishop with 603 votes.

Bishop deFreese received 603 of 757 legal votes on the first ballot which requires 75 percent to elect. There were 16 nominees on the first or nominating ballot. At the time of the election, 782 voting members were registered on Friday morning; 761 votes were cast. Four votes were deemed illegal by the Nebraska Synod Elections Committee.

Runners-up were the Rev. Gordon Peterson, 50 votes; the Rev. Wenda Fry, 42 votes; the Rev. Damon Laaker, 32 votes; the Rev. Gary Panko, 13 votes; the Rev. Jonathon Jensen, seven votes; the Rev. William Barth, two votes; the Rev. David Bronstad, one vote; the Rev. Jane Denison, one vote; the Rev. Ron Drury, one vote; the Rev. Lee Griess, one vote; the Rev. Peter Jacobsen, one vote; the Rev. Brian Maas, one vote; the Rev. Terry Nielsen; one vote; and the Rev.

David Zellmer, one vote.

David deFreese was born in Hastings. He graduated from Augustana College, Sioux Falls, S. D. in 1978, and worked with mentally and physically disabled people through Easter Seals and Martin Luther Homes in Nebraska. Responding to a call to ministry, he earned a master of divinity degree from Lutheran School of Theology at Chicago, Ill. in 1982. Augustana is one of 28 ELCA colleges and universities; LSTC is one of eight ELCA seminaries.

Ordained in 1982, deFreese served as pastor of three Nebraska Synod congregations: Christ Lutheran in Pierce, Immanuel Lutheran in Bellevue, and First Lutheran in Kearney. Midland Lutheran College awarded him an honorary doctoral degree.

Bishop deFreese and his wife, Anita, are parents of three daughters and reside in Gretna.

The Nebraska Synod, ELCA includes more than 127,000 baptized members in 265 congregations and ministry sites in the state of Nebraska. The synod office is in Omaha, with staff deployed in the central and western parts of the state.

Local resident participates in AQHA Horseback Riding Program

Joan Schmoltdt of Wayne recently earned an award for logging 50.0 hours in the American Quarter Horse Association Horseback Riding Program. The program recognizes and rewards AQHA members for time spent with their American Quarter Horses in activities such as trail rides, working cattle, pleasure driving and simply riding.

A unique aspect of the program is its simplicity. Current AQHA members complete a program application and pay a one-time $25 enrollment fee. Each enrollee receives an official AQHA log sheet to record their hours driving or riding an American Quarter Horse. Participants need not own their own horse, but all official hours must be accrued with a registered American Quarter Horse.

The first award, a program recognition patch, is given after only 50 hours have been logged and verified. Patches and nine subsequent awards are presented at 100 to 5,000 hour levels and range from merchandise gift certificates from Drysdale's Western Store to a Montana Silversmith trophy belt buckle at the highest level.

Other awards provided by AQHA corporate sponsors include a $25 gift certificate at the 100 hour level, good towards any item from Drysdale's Western Store and 750 hours, a Tex Tan basket stamped belt. For each additional hour levels achieved, members will receive Montana Silversmith products as awards. Also at both 500 hours and 5,000 hour award levels, recipients receive recognition in "The American Quarter Horse Journal," AQHA's monthly magazine.

Stephanie McCommon, AQHA Manager of Membership Services said "AQHA is very proud to offer this program rewarding people who enjoy riding and driving American Quarter Horses. Enrollees are doing such diverse activities that it's obvious this program literally fits everyone who likes spending time with horses."

AQHA actively encourages horseback riding as a recreational activity that can be enjoyed alone or shared with family and friends.

For more information about AQHA and its programs, visit www.aqha.com or call 806-376-4811.

Mr. and Mrs. Mitchell

Open house to honor Mitchells

An open house is being held on Sunday, June 18 to honor Gene and Joyce Mitchell on their 50th wedding anniversary.

The event will be held from 2 to 4:30 p.m. at the Wayne Community Activity Center, 901, West Seventh Street in Wayne.

Hosting the celebration will be the couple's children, Rich and Marie Mitchell of Hutchinson, Kan., Rob and Bobbie Mitchell of Bellevue and Dan and Laura Mitchell of Yankton, S.D. They also have four granddaughters and one great-grandson.

Gene Mitchell and Joyce Halleen were married at Union Presbyterian Church in Belden on June 3, 1956.

Cards may also be sent to the couple at 721 N. Pearl Street, Wayne, Neb. 68787.

The honorees request no gifts.

Fry to teach workshop

Friends are flowers in the garden of life

It's Monday evening, and I hear northeast Nebraska is having a rain storm. Good! Hope it comes this way; although we have been having regular showers and everything looks green. That hot, dry wind on Sunday of Memorial day weekend was most unwelcome.

We had a chance for baseball tickets for the regionals, and decided to watch on TV. Thank goodness; it was sad. The Big Farmer watched to the bitter end, and it was a good thing we had a visitor after that game on Saturday to help distract him. In fact, Texas is also out; and the last I knew, only Missouri and Baylor from the Big 12 are still in.

There is a small country church at Walton with a sign this month says, "Preach the Gospel. Use words if necessary." I smile every time I see it. And last Wednesday, I went to the funeral of a neighbor from Murdock who was the epitome of that advice.

The first time we saw the Farm House, we marveled at the flowers around the house to the west of it. Eventually, we came to know love Gene and Maxine Munch, who were the proud owners and the hard workers who tended a huge yard, many trees, and multitudes of every kind of flower. It was also home to an assortment of cats, so the birds stayed high up in the trees.

They had once lived in our house, and the first couple of years, they mowed our yard, too; since they had two large self-propelled mowers. Eventually, they declined our job, because they had all they could care for; plus, they were gone much of the summer in their Air Stream. They loved to travel as much as they loved to garden.

They were on their way home from a trip south last July when Max decided to check into an emergency room with strange symptoms. What they told her made them hurry home and to an oncologist in Lincoln later in that week.

The Farmer's Wife
By: Pat Meierhenry

It was ovarian. That's a particularly bad one, very hard to treat. But Max went right ahead with the chemo.

In fact, she came to see me after the knee surgery, and they came over to the townhouse with Krispi Krems doughnuts one morning after one of her treatments. But, of course, she lost her hair, and her appetite, and her energy. Finally, she lost her battle.

That service eulogized my friend for living her faith; every day, quietly, gently, kindly. Her son, who is a pastor, read from Proverbs 31. I don't like the Proverbs 31 woman, but Maxine really did come close to the description. She shared her flowers every Sunday in their church. She cooked and baked, and delivered meals on wheels. She took a crotchety lady to the doctor. She helped her grandson whenever he needed something extra. And she certainly was always available to me; sometimes, just to put breakfast on for guests because I had to leave early that day.

The soloist sang His Eye Is On the Sparrow, and we, the congregation, sang In The Garden. I think that song was written for her. I know the organist was having a hard time seeing the notes. I have missed having her as a neighbor, and I know I will miss having her friendship here on earth. Friends are truly gifts from God, and we were truly blessed at Murdock, just as we were at Hoskins, and Winside.

And now I appreciate you friends for allowing me the catharsis of writing about those I've lost. It really does help to do that, and I probably will continue the habit. Putting the words on paper helps to perpetuate their memory. At least they will be in my scrapbooks. And writing about them helps me grieve. I don't journal, but I think this comes close. Thank you for listening.

Extension Board to hold June meeting

The University of Nebraska-Lincoln Board - Wayne County will meet Tuesday, June 13 at the courthouse meeting room in Wayne.

The 3 p.m. meeting is open to the public.

An agenda is available at the Extension Office at 510 Pearl Street in Wayne.

'Getting Fit With 4-H' Clover Kids Camps planned

Two camps are being offered for youth 5-8 years of age. Campers will attend sessions on fitness and making healthy food choices.

The camps are scheduled for Thursday, June 29 in Wakefield and Friday, June 30 in Wayne, from 9:30 a.m. to noon. Cost is $1 per camper.

Registration forms are available at the UNL Extension - Wayne County office located in the basement of the Wayne County Courthouse and are due on or before Thursday, June 22.

Kelli Kwapnioski of Wayne was among those participating in the Working Ranch Horse Clinic held at the fairgrounds.

Working Ranch Horse Clinic for 4-H'ers held

A 4-H Working Ranch Horse Clinic was held May 31 at the Wayne County Fairgrounds.

Gary Stauffer, University of Nebraska Extension Educator conducted the clinic for many spectators and 14 participants and their horses. The clinic included a discussion on rules, class procedures and judging criteria.

All mounted participants worked cattle through the course while being critiqued and instructed.

The Working Ranch Horse Program was developed to provide an opportunity for youth to focus on and receive recognition for horsemanship skills developed through ranch work, since much of the horse industry in Nebraska is centered around ranching.

What is toxic blue-green algae?

Although it technically is not a true algae, what is commonly referred to as toxic blue-green algae refers to certain strains of cyanobacteria that produce toxins. These toxins were found in a number of Nebraska lakes in 2004 and 2005. Toxic blue-green algae can dominate the algal populations of a lake under the right combinations of water temperature, low water depths and nutrients (such as high nitrogen and phosphorus concentrations from wastewater discharges and runoff from agricultural land and communities).

What should I look for to avoid toxic algae? The toxic strains of blue-green algae usually have heavy surface growths of pea-green colored clumps, scum or streaks with a disagreeable odor and taste. It can have a thickness similar to motor oil and often looks like thick paint in the water.

Algae blooms usually accumulate near the shoreline where pets and toddlers have easy access and the water is shallow and more stagnant. It is important to keep a watchful eye on children and pets so that they do not enter the water. Aspects to watch out for include:
 •Water that has a neon green, pea green, blue-green or reddish-brown color
 •Water that has a bad odor
 •Foam, scum or a thick paint-like appearance on the water surface
 •Green or blue-green streaks on the surface or accumulations in bays and along shorelines.

What are the risks and symptoms? Pets and farm animals have died from drinking water containing toxic blue-green algae (or licking their wet hair/fur/paws after they have been in the water). Blue-green algae toxins have been known to persist in water for several weeks after the bloom has disappeared. The risks to humans come from external exposure (prolonged contact with skin) and from swallowing the water. Symptoms from external exposure are skin rashes, lesions and blisters. More severe cases can include mouth ulcers, ulcers inside the nose, eye and/or ear irritation and blistering of the lips. Symptoms from ingestion can include headaches, nausea, muscular pains, central abdominal pain, diarrhea and vomiting. Severe cases could include seizures, liver failure, respiratory arrest - even death, although this is rare. The severity of the illness is related to the amount of water ingested and the concentrations of the toxins.

Are some people more at risk? Yes. Some people will be at greater risk from toxic blue-green algae than the general population. Those at greater risk include:
 •Children. Toddlers tend to explore the shoreline of a lake, causing greater opportunity for exposure. Based on body weight, children tend to swallow a higher volume of water than adults and therefore could be at greater risk.
 •People with liver disease or kidney damage and those with weakened immune systems.

Here are some tips on what you can do and things to avoid:
 •Be aware of areas with thick clumps of algae and keep animals and children away from the water.
 •Don't wade or swim in water containing visible algae. Avoid direct contact with algae.
 •Make sure children are supervised at all times when they are near water. Drowning, not exposure to algae, remains the greatest hazard of water recreation. •If you do come in contact with the algae, rinse off with fresh water as soon as possible. •Don't boat or water ski through algae blooms. •Don't drink the water and avoid any situation that could lead to swallowing the water.

Is it safe to eat fish from lakes that are under a Health Alert?

The toxins have been found in the liver, intestines and pancreas of fish. Most information to date indicates that toxins do not accumulate significantly in fish tissue, which is the meat that most people eat. The State of Nebraska is currently reviewing data from a study conducted the fall of 2005, in which fish tissue samples were collected from three reservoirs in Nebraska that were most frequently on Health Alert status during 2004 and 2005. At this time, fishing is permitted at lakes under Health Alert but an analysis of information and state recommendations will be updated.

Where can I find out more information about lake sampling for toxic algae?

The Nebraska Department of Environmental Quality (NDEQ) is conducting weekly and twice monthly sampling at select public lakes that are either popular recreational lakes or have historically had toxic algae problems. A list of lakes being tested in 2006 can be found at the end of these facts and the sampling information is updated weekly on the agency website, www.deq.state.ne.us.

What should I do if I have concerns regarding a private lake?

As part of the University of Nebraska Water Quality Extension Program, UN-L has developed a Volunteer Monitoring Program and lake test kits that will be sent to interested lake associations, owners and individuals so they can collect a sample and send it to UN-L for analysis. To obtain more information and a test kit please contact the program at 402-472-7783 or 402-472-8190.

If I think a public lake has a toxic algae bloom, who do I call?

Please contact NDEQ's Surface Water Unit at 402-471-0096 or 402-2186.

If I am experiencing health symptoms, who do I call?

If you experience health symptoms, notify your physician and also report it to the Nebraska Health and Human Services System at 402-471-2937. You can also contact the Nebraska Regional Poison Center at 800-222-1222 for more information.

The following lakes will be sampled weekly, May through September, 2006 for both toxic algae and bacteria: Local lakes are: Maskenthine Reservoir near Stanton, Willow Creek Reservoir near Pierce, Lake Yankton (Cottonwood Lake), Lewis and Clark Reservoir at Weigand Beach on Nebraska side, Lake North near Columbus at northwest swimming beach.

Other lakes include: Morman Island Lake at Grand Island, Elwood Reservoir near Elwood, Johnson Lake near Lexington at southeast swimming beach and at north end, Lake McConaughy at Martin's Bay beach, Bridgeport Middle Lake at swimming beach, Minatare Lake near Scottsbluff at east swimming beach, Maloney Reservoir near North Platte at outlet beach, Sutherland Reservoir at Hershey beach, Carter Lake near Omaha at north boat ramp on Nebraska side, Louisville Lake #2 swimming beach, Two Rivers State Rec Area Lake #4 near Venice, Wagon Train Lake near Hickman, Bluestem Reservoir near Martell, Conestoga Reservoir near Denton, Pawnee Reservoir near Emerald east beach and west beach, Branched Oak near Malcolm, Liebers Point beach and area 10 beach, Swan Creek Reservoir 5A near Tobias, Big Indian Reservoir near Odell, Cub Creek Reservoir #12A near Plymouth at swimming beach, Fremont Lakes #9 at swimming beach, Fremont Lakes #10 at Swimming beach, Fremont Lakes #20 at east beach and west beach, Iron Horse Trail Lake near DuBois at Iron Horse Beach, Kirkman's Cove Reservoir near Humbolt at swimming beach, Wirth Brothers Lake near Tecumseh, Glenn Cunningham Lake in Omaha at the marina boat ramp.

Oliver Reservoir near Kimball at swimming beach, Box Butte Reservoir north of Hemingford at north swimming beach, Merritt Reservoir southwest of Valentine, Valentine Mill Pond will be sampled two times per month.

Design and Decorating Inspiration

Mirror, mirror ...

The use of mirrors can be an interior designers most powerful tool. Mirrors can be used to create the illusion of additional space where none exists. Mirrors can simulate depth to make a small room seem larger. They can be used to repeat a particular design element from other areas of the room. For example a large mirror on one side of the room can create a duplicate image of your favorite bookcase from the opposite side, or a small mirror might accent the flickering flame of a candle on a desk.

The addition of even the simplest mirror offers design rewards in duplicate. But don't ignore the mirrors we already have in our home. A bathroom mirror is perhaps the most viewed object in our home. Yet many of us see ourselves looking back from a boring unframed mirror. Framing your existing mirror or adding a new framed mirror is a simple but dramatic upgrade to any bath. Add a bold colored frame to link with a specific color scheme. Adding a large ornate framed mirror brings additional elegance to a formal bath.

Allow yourself to be creative in the location and placement of mirrors as well. Simply leaning a mirror against a wall rather than hanging creates interesting angles of reflection. On the opposite of that consider angling a mirror downward...say above a fireplace. Simply adding a wood block behind the frame forces the angle downward. Both techniques give a room a unique perspective.

Visit our Design Showroom to discover the multitude of options we offer for adding mirrors to your design plans. Choose from our beautiful in-stock mirrors, special order just the right look, and we can create a custom mirror of any size and style in the framing gallery.

Or... we'll bring the showroom to you. Call toll-free to arrange for a Free In-Home Consultation.

Learn about safety

Head Start children have been learning about Safety. Officer Swanson came to talk to the children about bicycle safety and explore the police car. Officer Swanson shared ideas on how to be safe and he also shared with them about what he does.

Named to Dean's honor list

Central Community College has announced the names of students who earned spots on the President's and Dean's honor lists for the 2006 spring semester. Norma Cooper and Dennise Pfeifer, both of Wayne were named to the Dean's honor list.

The students were enrolled full time at one or more CCC locations, which include the Columbus, Grand Island and Hastings campuses; Holdrege, Kearney and Lexington centers; and learning centers in about 60 central Nebraska towns.

Students on the President's Honor List earned a perfect 4.0 grade point average while students on the Dean's Honor List earned a GPA between 3.5 and 3.99.

Chadron honor roll released

Numerous students from northeast Nebraska have been recognized for high academic achievement during the spring semester at Chadron State College.

Those named to the Dean's List, which requires a grade point average of at least 3.5 on a 4.0 scale include Jodi Stovater of Wayne.
