Insurance and budget discussed

By Clara Osten
Of the Herald

Health insurance rates and the budget of the Community Development Agency and the city were topics of discussion during Tuesday's meeting of the Wayne City Council.

Rod Storm, City Administrator of Blair, spoke to the council and answered questions about the plan currently in place in Blair.

He noted that "what works in Blair may not work in Wayne" and "we are not endorsing any company or service."

Storm told the council that Blair had looked to control the rising cost of health care in the city and explained the process city officials had gone through in recent years.

Blair is currently nearly a year into a plan whereby the city self-insures its employees and "so far, it seems to be saving the city money," Storm said.

During the meeting, the council recessed as a council and convened as a Community Development Agency (CDA).

The CDA approved minutes and claims from a July meeting and voted to present a budget recommendation to the council for the upcoming year.

Members discussed where the money for the CDA comes from and how much risk and how involved they wish to be when the area west of the cemetery is developed.

After re-convening as a council, the budget request was approved on a 7-1 vote with Council Member Verdel Lutt voting against.

The city's budget for the 2006-07 fiscal year was also approved on a 7-1 vote with Council Member Doug Sturm voting against, noting "it is time to quit taxing our electric customers" in regard to a budget item regarding contributions to WAEDI.

The council gave its approval for the Wayne Police Department to use a house at 319 South Nebraska for police training.

Police Chief Lance Webster explained that the department plans to work with the Nebraska State Patrol and conduct various trainings in the near future.

He noted that no dangerous activity would take place and neighbors would be notified before any training occurs.

The council also approved Resolution 2006-60 which will ask the Nebraska Department of Roads to leave the intersection at Fairgrounds Avenue and Logan Street and the intersection at Seventh and Logan Streets as wide as possible to make it easier for trucks to turn onto those

Giving the gift of life

Siouxland Blooddrive phlebotomist Christine Lethcoe works with blood donor and Wayne State College senior Deirdre Kottick of Falls City, Aug. 30 in the student center on campus. The Wayne Educational Office Professionals Association (WEOPA) reminded all college personnel to become blood donors to save lives. This time of year the need for blood is greatest. Members will be keeping track of how many college employees give blood until the end of September. Total number of donors and pints of blood will be sent to the State organization. If you donate, please contact Sharon Fleer. You may send a short e-mail to shfleer1@wsc.edu or reach her at 375-7228.

Lisa Temme to compete for title of 'America's Top Young Scientist of the Year'

The race to find out who is the nation's top young scientist has begun as Discovery Communications, Inc. announced the 400 middle school students from around the country, including Lisa Temme from Wayne Middle School, selected as semifinalists in the 2006 Discovery Channel Young Scientist Challenge (DCYSC).

The DCYSC is the nation's premier science contest for students in grades 5-8. The competition, created by Discovery Communications, gives students the opportunity to test their knowledge and push their limits as they explore the world of science.

The 400 semifinalists, and contenders for the title of "America's Top Young Scientist," come from 43 states, Puerto Rico, and the District of Columbia and were selected from a group of 1,900 formal entries, initially chosen from a pool of 70,000 students who entered science fairs nationwide. The top state represented is Florida with 36 semifinalists. California and Texas each have 32, and Missouri and Utah, both with 18. Lisa is the only semifinalist from Nebraska.

The 400 projects selected to advance to the semifinals run the scientific gamut, from biochemistry to physics, from zoology to health, and from mathematics to engineering. Each of the students submitted projects that were innovative and imaginative, with a level of complexity that might make the average adult's head spin. These semifinalists were also chosen for their ability to effectively communicate the reasoning and purpose behind their projects.

Temme's eighth grade science research project was titled "Cryopreservation." The purpose of her experiment was to see if freezing seeds in liquid nitrogen would affect the germination rate of seeds. Lisa used corn, soybeans, and oats in her experiment.

The countdown to choosing America's Top Young Scientist continues next month, on Sept. 14, when the field of 400 semifinalists is narrowed by the DCYSC judges to the "Final Forty." The finalists will spend a week in Washington DC. During their stay, the young scientists will use their scientific know-how to find solutions to this year's five-part challenge. The students will compete for more than $100,000 worth of scholarships and special prizes, as well as the title of "America's Top Young Scientist of the Year."

"Discovery is proud to continue the tradition of supporting middle school education and cultivating the next generation of American scientists," said John Hendricks, Founder and Chairman, Discovery Communications. "Each year, the breadth of knowledge demonstrated by the DCYSC's 400 semifinalists is inspiring and a bit humbling. These young men and women have the intelligence, energy, creativity and dedication to become the nation's scientific trailblazers of the future. We remain committed to celebrating their achievements and scientific learning."

"As the United States struggles to compete with other nations in the fields of science and technology, Americans need goal-oriented, knowledgeable and imaginative students who excel in these areas. This year's semifinalists fit the bill exquisitely," said Steve Jacobs, DCYSC Head Judge. "Even more impressive, and a fundamental part of our competition, is their skill in explaining their work to others, a prerequisite of scientific leadership."

The DCYSC identifies and honors America's top middle school students who demonstrate the best skills in leadership, teamwork and scientific problem solving.

Lisa Temme's parents are Doug and Mary Temme of Wayne. Her eighth grade science teacher was Mrs. Lee Brogie. The full list of 400 semifinalists, their hometowns and schools and the titles of their winning entries can be found at: <http://www.discovery.com/dcysc>.

Innovative Technology Advancing Cardiac Bypass Surgery available in Norfolk

Faith Regional Health Services has announced that Alec Akbarov, M.D., Ph.D., a cardiothoracic surgeon at Faith Regional Cardiovascular Institute, is the first surgeon in Nebraska to perform bypass operations utilizing an innovative imaging technology that helps confirm the bypass surgery is successful, avoiding repeat heart surgery and reducing complications.

Traditionally, after bypass surgery, a doctor makes an educated guess about whether new arteries are functioning properly, but Dr. Akbarov at Faith Regional is utilizing a new system to eliminate the guesswork. The new technology, called the SPY® Intra-operative Imaging System (SPY® System), is the first, and only fluorescent imaging system cleared by the U.S. Food and Drug Administration for use in coronary artery bypass surgery, the most common open-heart surgery in the country with approximately 400,000 patients undergoing the procedure every year.

SPY® enables cardiac surgeons to simply and efficiently confirm proper placement of their bypass grafts and to visually assess the quality and effectiveness of those grafts while the patient is still in the operating room. Usually, doctors are only able to get an image of the heart after the patient's chest is closed and out of the operating room to determine whether blood was flowing through the newly created vessels. Use of the SPY® System may potentially reduce the number of patients that must return to the operating room for the revision of improperly functioning or potentially misplaced grafts.

"There are multiple benefits of the SPY® System. It doesn't add to the complexity of the procedure, and it gives documentation and verification of the quality of the graft prior to the closing of the chest," said Dr. Akbarov. "Before the SPY System was available, heart surgeons would have to rely on their intuition and an elaborate technique to measure the flow of the graft. If the flow was compromised after surgery, the patient would have to undergo an angiogram to ensure proper flow. By using SPY® System, we now have intra-operative imaging available to confirm the success of the graft."

The SPY® System uses a fluorescent imaging agent that is injected to the blood stream and emits light when stimulated by an infrared laser. The technique does not heat up heart tissues and does not pose any risk to the patient or staff in the operating room. The injected agent lights up blood flowing through the veins and arteries in real time, and the camera captures live images of the heart. These images can be captured on a computer screen, saved and printed for medical reference.

Faith Regional is the first hospital in Nebraska using the new imaging system. Some of the other institutions utilizing the SPY® System include Stanford University Medical Center, Medical City Dallas, The Methodist Hospital's DeBakey Heart Institute, Cleveland Clinic Foundation and The Mayo Clinic.

Faith Regional Health Services is a 166-bed acute care health system specializing in heart and cancer care, orthopedics and physical rehabilitation, emergency care and women and children's services, serving northeast and north central regions of Nebraska. Its affiliates include Saint Joseph's Rehabilitation and Care Center, Skyview Villa Assisted Living, Faith Regional Surgery Center, Faith Regional Physician Services and AHP-MHR Home Care.

Kountry Kruiser Rally planned in Pender

The Newmar Kountry Kruiser Rally will be held in the Blue Ox RV Park in Pender on Tuesday through Thursday, Sept. 12-15.

Group members from all over Nebraska will be gathering to enjoy some sights of the northeast corner of Nebraska and each other's company. The four days are filled with activities to entertain and educate all the attendees.

Blue Ox will be sponsoring a back-up contest for the Newmar motorhome owners. Couples can sign up for the contest in which one person is blindfolded and the other is given a radio. The blindfolded person has to back up around cones by listening to the directions from the other person as they give them over the radio.

Blue Ox will also be hosting a Barbecue dinner to welcome all the guests at the rally. The attendees will also have a chance to tour the factory and attend a seminar about Blue Ox products, towing tips and the RV lifestyle.

Hosts Jim and Marilyn Krueger have planned a golf outing, a tour of Stanek Dairy in Walthill, a visit to six South Designs and a tour of Heritage Homes in Wayne. There will also be a variety of activities including games, visiting and food at the RV Park.

"We are pleased to have the Kountry Cruisers stay with us and we hope that everyone in the area will make them feel at home while they are visiting," said Jay Hesse, president of Blue Ox.

Curious George joins favorite PBS kids characters on NET Television

Starting Sept. 4, NET Television will offer a new series based on the beloved book character Curious George, a new program block that is specially designed for preschoolers and a new children's program line-up.

"Curious George" is all about the adventurous antics of a little monkey who lives to find new things to discover, touch, spill and chew. "Curious George" will be the first program in a new hosted preschool block. Each weekday morning from 8 - 10 a.m. CT on NET1, Miss Lori will lead children through a morning of their favorite PBS Kids programs.

In specially created segments appearing between and within four favorite kids' series -- "Curious George," "Clifford The Big Red Dog," "Dragon Tales" and "It's a Big Big World" -- Miss Lori and her furry, animated sidekick Hooper will thread together a fun and engaging morning. As a bonus, NET2 will feature the same programs each evening from 6 - 8 p.m. CT, on Mondays through Wednesdays and Fridays.

"Parents can trust the programs their children watch on NET Television. They are always safe, educational and entertaining. There isn't a better place for kids to watch TV," said Steve Graziano, NET's Manager of Television Program Services.

There's also something new on "Sesame Street." Entering its 37th season, "Sesame Street" goes "back to the basics" with a focus on preparing preschoolers for the classroom and introduces a brand new character, Abby Cadabby -- a pink "fairy-in-training" who uses rhyme and magic to express herself. "Andy" each Friday afternoon at 2:30 p.m. CT, another new show, "FETCH! With Ruff Ruffman" will air on NET1. Part game show, part reality TV and part spoof, "FETCH! With Ruff Ruffman" features real kids, real challenges, real science and an unreal animated host -- a dog named Ruff Ruffman.

The new preschool block brings several additional changes to the weekday line-up of children's programming on NET Television. For the complete, updated schedule visit netNebraska.org. Follow the links from the "Television" page to NET Kids. The website also has great activities for families -- just click on NET Kids and NET Parents.

Sympathy not in politics

Main Street Focus

What an exciting time in Wayne - the schools are opened and the college students have returned to town, the Highway 15 Project is nearing completion, new buildings are going up and new business ventures are coming to town and fall sports have kicked off. Main Street Wayne is proud to be one of the three sponsors under the umbrella of WAEDI for tonight's salute to the 189th at the Wildcat football game. We keep them in our prayers and await their safe return in the near future.

In my last column I commented on the successful "Merchandising on Main Street" seminar that was held on Aug. 9 and told about the tele-seminar being conducted on Aug. 17. There are several reasons why I mention these again.

Someone approached me and asked me why Main Street Wayne doesn't do seminars like this. Again, I was taken back and wonder how good our public relations program is at Main Street.

Main Street Wayne does and did co-sponsor these seminars under the auspices of our parent organizations - The Nebraska Lied Main Street Program and the national Main Street Center of the National Trust for Historic Preservation. Both of these programs provide us a framework to operate within and provide us with training in various areas of the Main Street Four Point Approach which were explained in earlier articles and which may be covered again in the future to help re-educate our publics about the Main Street Program.

By the way, both of these seminars were very educational and many of the businesses that attended have implemented some of the ideas the presenters shared with us. I was fortunate to attend the tele-seminar because I got a number of new ideas that I think we can implement. Our presenter, Jon Shallert, spoke on "Marketing Don'ts Most Businesses Do." He taught us to think outside of the box and how to develop our businesses as destination stores.

Fall is step-up time for Main Street volunteers and Board members. Our committees generally pick up from the summer slack and review their annual plans and work to achieve the goals they set for themselves in January. Summer is generally a slow-down time, but our Promotions Committee has been super-active and has worked within the TEAM 15 Promotions in order to help keep an acceptable traffic flow in downtown during the construction period and they have a number of ideas for the future and for the Holiday Season which is quickly approaching. It will be nice to see the Parade of Lights going down a new Main Street in our community.

There were many positive comments that were made in our mid-year evaluation recently from the state office and they included our belonging and participating in the new WAEDI organization, our budget and its creative fund raising ideas, our talented new management team and the fine job they are doing on the required monthly reports.

Another plus is the weekly Tuesday morning, 8 a.m., "All Hands" meetings in the Main Street Office.

One area of concern is training of new board members, volunteers and staff. A great opportunity to improve on this will be available when the state convention is held in Wayne Sept. 28-29.

The program includes many opportunities to learn about Main Street and its operations. To make things easier for all interested persons to attend the program sessions, Main Street Wayne is offering all attendees an opportunity to register for the conference for half price (this doesn't include the Awards Dinner on Friday Night).

So, if you are interested in Main Street and may be contemplating becoming a volunteer or running for the board, call Irene at the WAEDI office to see what you can do to volunteer and participate in the conference at a half price rate.

Politics is not a racket famous for sympathy.

If it were, anyone with a heart might be inclined to toss at least a small dose to the state's Democratic Party. Such as it is.

Not only could the Democrats not field a candidate for the office of State Auditor, at this writing they were fighting like a down-and-out baseball franchise to acquire the services of a player from the other league. A controversial player.

Incumbent State Auditor Kate Witek recently switched her party registration from R to D. Just a few days later, she was nominated by the Democrats as their candidate for re-election. The aforementioned nomination issued from the party's annual state convention, where Witek had arrived, conveniently enough, with an acceptance speech.

We all know the new girl in school sometimes snags instant popularity, but geeeee whiz!

Witek has often been acknowledged in this column as a determined champion of what most consider the right wing of the Republican Party. Words like tough-minded and hardnosed and irrepresible and even in-your-face don't do justice to the former state senator.

The road to her baptism as a Democrat began after she agreed to be Tom Osborne's running mate, shortly after Osborne decided he wanted to be the GOP candidate for governor. A majority of voters in the Republican primary decided they wanted Governor Dave Heineman for their candidate. That left Osborne and Witek facing political unemployment come January.

It must be observed that, for one of extraordinary conservative inclinations, Witek has exhibited more than the customary capacity for embracing the serendipitous.

A Democrat grouching about Witek's jump from one team to another would put it differently; probably with inhospitable phraseology, inclusive of "carpetbagger" and "opportunist" and some other stuff that isn't printed in your local newspaper, no matter who says it.

The state's top Democratic apparatchiks quickly beat the drum for Witek, saying her switch was proof of their party's inclusiveness. Witek said she made the move because those at the top of Nebraska's Republican heap were interested in controlling elected offices, but hadn't much interest in solving the state's problems.

Secretary of State John Gale quickly chimed in to set the stage for that which no political controversy can do without these days: A lawsuit.

Gale said Witek could run on her own, by gathering a paltry 2,000 signatures to petition onto the ballot. She could not, however, run as the Democrats' nominee. He said the law does not allow a political party to make a post-primary election nomination in cases such as this. The Democrats went to court. Stay tuned for more on that one.

The November ballot must be certified by Gale on or before Sept. 15 - meaning that's when he must announce which candidates and ballot issues will go before voters.

This election season has almost as many exciting possibilities as the 2006 Nebraska football campaign, although it will never have nearly as many fans.

The Wayne Community Development Agency was formed in 1993 to provide incentives to build The Oaks Retirement Center. Since then it has offered incentives for Wayne East and other new construction.

Next Tuesday, Sept. 5 at 7 p.m., the Community Development Agency is hosting an information meeting in the city auditorium for area builders about Tax Increment Financing (TIF) incentives for building new commercial, industrial and residential properties in Wayne.

Mike Bacon, an attorney who specializes in Nebraska redevelopment projects, will discuss how Gothenburg and other communities have used TIF to create new business and residential projects that would not have happened without TIF incentives. Mike will also discuss how builders can calculate and apply for TIF incentives for projects in Wayne they are considering.

On Tuesday, Sept. 19 at 7 p.m. in the city auditorium the Community Development Agency will host area development groups, realtors and others involved in housing to review specific development plans for 21 acres of land the CDA is purchasing west of the Rebecca and Seth Watson are happy to be in Wayne and a part of Calvary Bible Evangelical Free Church.

Youth pastor finds Wayne a 'special place'

By Clara Osten
Of the Herald

"God is leading me to this," said Seth Watson of his recent selection to become the Associate Pastor of Christian Education at Calvary Bible Evangelical Church in Wayne.

Watson recently began his official duties at the church, although he has been involved in activities at the church for a number of years.

A 2001 graduate of Fremont High School, Watson graduate from Wayne State College in May of 2006 with a teaching endorsement in life science biology and chemistry. While at WSC, he helped with the AWANA programs at the church and taught junior and senior high Sunday School classes.

"My father is a minister and I have been involved in the church all my life. Although I applied for several teaching positions, I feel God was leading to this position," he said.

This past summer Watson and his wife Rebecca worked at Maranatha Bible Camp at Maxwell. The camp is designed for all ages of children and adults. It was while he was there that he submitted his application and went through the interview process for the position at Calvary Bible Evangelical Church.

"My main responsibilities here are the youth groups, both junior and senior high. I will again be teaching junior and senior high Sunday School. I am also in charge of the Christian Education programs and will help with the AWANA program," Watson said.

Additional responsibilities include facilitating the college ministry for Wayne State students and filling the pulpit when Pastor Cal Kroeker is unavailable.

Watson noted that in his spare time he enjoyed "hanging out with friends, reading and hunting."

His wife Rebecca is also involved with activities at the church.

She is a 2000 graduate of Ord High School and a January 2005 graduate of Midland Lutheran College in Fremont. She earned an elementary education degree with an early childhood concern as well as a youth and family ministry minor.

She did substitute teaching prior to the couple's marriage in May of 2005 and is currently a first grade teacher at Wayne Elementary School.

Both Seth and Rebecca have indicated they are happy to be in Wayne.

"The Wayne community is a special place. We have found it to be open, welcoming and friendly," Seth said.

Sunday School classes at Calvary Bible Evangelical Free Church will begin Sunday, Sept. 17 at 9:30 a.m. Classes are available for those in kindergarten through adult. In addition, the Senior High Youth Group meets at 7 p.m. each Sunday evening and the Junior High Youth Group meets on Wednesday at 7 p.m.

For more information on activities at Calvary Bible Evangelical Free Church, call 375-4946.

Mayor appointments at Tuesday's meeting included Bill Kranz to the Planning Commission and Mark Evetovich, BJ Woehler, Joel Hansen, Ann Lambert Liska and Tom Karch to the recently formed Trail Landscape Committee.

City Administrator Lowell Johnson presented a report on a meeting he had attended with the Nebraska Public Power District and told the council it is anticipated that wholesale electric rates could be increasing more than three percent.

The council will next meet in regular session on Tuesday, Sept. 12 at 7:30 p.m. in Council Chambers.

Library to host Alex Kava

The Wayne Public Library and the Northeast Nebraska Humane Society invite the public to meet Alex Kava, author and Nebraska native at the Wayne Public Library on Wednesday, Sept. 13.

This meet and greet event will include a 7 p.m. presentation by Kava, followed by the opportunity to visit with the author and book signings. The evening will also include a free-will donation dessert bar, with all proceeds going to benefit the NE Nebraska Humane Society.

"We are very pleased that Wayne was chosen as a host site for Ms. Kava during her 'One Book One Nebraska' tour of the state," said Lauran Lofgren, Library Director.

Alex Kava

"She is being very generous with her time, and I would encourage everyone to take this opportunity to meet an author who has over 3 millions' books in print and has been on the bestseller lists in Australia, the UK, Germany, Italy, Japan and Poland."

Alex Kava's book, "One False Move," has been selected as the feature read for the 2006 'One Book One Nebraska' program. The book is a chilling work from beginning to end. Kava's portrayal of Charlie Starks is unsettling; the similarity of his name to the notorious, real-life Starkweather and their identical interests contrast with Starks' unwitting innocence and childlike demeanor. The mix of personalities and situations leaves the reader wondering from page to page what will happen next.

The library has several copies of "One False Move" in paperback for purchase at cost. Additional copies of all of Ms. Kava's books will be available for the program on the Sept. 13, when the author will be on hand to autograph them.

Dirt has been moving in various locations along Main Street as crews continue to move forward on the road project.

Grant funds available for tree planting

Millions of mature trees in communities across the state have been lost from diseases, insect pests, weather events and other causes over the last few decades. In addition, emerging threats such as emerald ash borer, pine wilt disease and worsening drought could kill millions more trees in the coming years.

To help address both the past tree losses and looming threats, Trees for Nebraska Towns was created by the Nebraska Statewide Arboretum and the Nebraska Forest Service. The initiative makes nearly $300,000 in grant funds available to assist with tree planting in communities across the state.

"Because of prolonged drought, ice storms and untimely snows," Eric Berg of the Nebraska Forest Service said, "many Nebraska communities have experienced a trend where their forest canopy has actually decreased some 20-40 percent over the last two decades."

The principal goals of the program are to improve species diversity in participating communities; to promote the planting of large-growing trees (shade trees or large evergreen trees); and to foster better maintenance of trees for long-term success, Berg said.

The maximum funding request is $20,000. A 50 percent funding match is required of all projects. Donated and in-kind goods and services, including volunteer labor, are allowed toward the required match. Applications, which will be accepted through Nov. 17, are available by contacting the NSA offices at (402) 472-2971, sending an e-mail to jeverson1@unl.edu, or by downloading the form on-line at <http://arboretum.unl.edu/>. The TNT Program is a cooperative effort of the arboretum and forest service funded by the Nebraska Environmental Trust, a beneficiary of the Nebraska Lottery.

Bar M in business for 11 years

By Lynn Sievers
Of the Herald

On Sept. 1, Cindy and Ed Milligan, owners of Bar M in Wayne, will celebrate 11 years in business. The Milligans bought the business from Mert and Vonnie Ellis, who had it for a number of years.

The first thing the Milligans did after purchasing the business was to remodel the building; only an original cooler is left, everything else was replaced. A pool table was also added.

Special times and events at Bar M include happy hour, Monday through Friday, from 5-6 p.m. and Sunday, 3-7 p.m. (There is no happy hour on Saturdays). Fridays are popcorn day, with free popcorn served all day.

There is also a Bar M pool team who took first place for the 2005-06 Wayne Eagles Pool League.

"My birthday is in January and I celebrate by having a co-ed pitch tournament," Milligan said. "We also have a 'Man's man' (men only) tournament in December and we have a lot of fun at both."

She added that pitch winnings are always donated to the Wayne Vet's Club to be used for various projects.

Some of the other events that take place at Bar M through the year are promos by both Norfolk Beverage, Northeast Beverage and Sterling Distributors.

Besides offering special events, Milligan adds they are always a friendly place. "We're a visiting bar," she said, "if strangers come in, someone will talk to them so they won't be strangers anymore."

Milligan noted all ages, from 21 to 80, visit the bar, depending on the time of day. People even bring in CDs to listen to. "College kids hang out here," she said. "they are a nice bunch and don't give us any trouble. Some have given nicknames for the bar such as M Bar, BarMizzel and The M."

Besides Milligan who works Mondays through Saturdays approximately 60 hours a week, there are four bartenders. One, Lisa Allen of Wayne, has worked at Bar M since the beginning.

Milligan's family includes her husband, Ed, who works at Central Valley Ag in Wakefield. Between them, they have seven children; six girls and a boy. There are 13 grandchildren and three great grandchildren.

Looking back, Milligan started bartending at the age of 25. Through the years, she worked at these Wayne bars: Windmill, El Toro and Les' Steakhouse. When the bar came up for sale, Milligan was working at Marra Home Improvement and bartending one night a week.

"I always said that I wouldn't bartend again full time unless I owned the bar," Milligan said.

Milligan invites customers to come celebrate the anniversary with them on Sept. 1. Anyone with questions can call her at 402-375-9990.

Speaks at Rotary Club meeting

Rocky Ruhl, activities director in the Wayne School system, was a recent speaker at the Wayne Rotary Club in Wayne. Ruhl informed Rotary members of the school's fall sports schedule, noting it is a busy time for student athletes and staff. The Rotary Club has a different speaker each week at their meetings which begin at 7 a.m. at Taco's & More in Wayne and last about an hour. Anyone with questions about Wayne Rotary Club or who is interested in becoming a member is welcome to attend a meeting or call Wilma Moore at 402-375-4172.

2006 Wildcat Fall Preview

Women's Golf

Things will look a bit new for the Wayne State College women's golf team this fall.

PGA Golf Professional Troy Harder takes over as the head women's golf coach this season.

Harder will rely on the team's lone senior, Johnna Olson of Broken Bow, to guide a young team that includes three incoming freshmen who will be asked to contribute immediately.

Olson is a fourth-year player who posted the team's top scoring average last season.

"Johnna is a solid returning senior who will be looked upon for guidance and leadership for the rest of the team this season," Harder said.

The talented freshmen group of players for the Wildcats include Kelsie Katsampes of Gretna, Jenna Meyer from Pender and Norfolk Catholic's Hayley Pile.

"All of the girls have done a great job in preparing for the season. The biggest factors for the new players will be the longer holes and they have already done a good job in tryouts of adjusting to the college game," Harder said. "These three girls will be the foundation for bigger and better things for the Wayne State women's golf program, which we hope will lead to a conference championship."

Harder added the goal for this season is to get better as a team and become competitive in the Northern Sun Intercollegiate Conference where Southwest Minnesota State is the six-time defending champion in women's golf.

WSC opens the season this Friday (Sept. 1) at the Northwestern College Invitational in Storm Lake, Iowa and will host the annual WSC Fall Classic on Sept. 15.

Women's Cross Country

The Wildcat women's cross country team is coming off the most successful season in school history, placing second at the NSIC Championships.

WSC also captured first and second individually with Erin Norenberg edging Haley Reeves (graduated) to become the first women's individual champion in school history.

Nicole McCoy also earned All-NSIC honors with a seventh place finish, giving WSC three All-NSIC performers.

However, all three athletes have graduated and the Wildcats will rely on two seniors and a talented group of eight freshmen runners to duplicate the achievements by WSC one season ago.

"It is going to be a challenge for our team to try to replace Norenberg, McCoy and Reeves because they had so much experience and were such competitive runners," Brink said. "However, I think we have some good talent that will develop quickly because they know that they have to step up and compete immediately."

Brink will rely on seniors Erin Oswald and Ashley Smith to provide leadership for a young Wildcat squad this season.

"Ashley is a former NSIC All-Conference performer who has much experience and I think can help lead our young team," Brink stated. "Erin ran cross country for the first time last year and had a successful season. She is learning how to compete successfully in cross country and should have a chance at NSIC All-Conference honors after taking 13th last season."

Softball team opens season with home victory against Twin River

It wasn't exactly the kind of first inning a team likes to see in the season opener, but once the Wayne High softball team got rolling the fortunes quickly changed.

Wayne opened the 2006 fall campaign with a 9-3 home win against Genoa Twin River on Aug. 24, but went 1-2 against a tough Class A and B field at the Lincoln Public Schools tournament in Lincoln on Aug. 26.

In the opener, Twin River plated three runs off three hits, while taking advantage of three Wayne errors in the first frame to jump out to a 3-0 lead.

Wayne came to life in the bottom of the sixth with eight runs off five hits and took advantage of two Twin River errors to take a 9-3 advantage to close out the game.

Mirisa Carroll pitched a complete game and went 3-for-3 at the plate, while batting in a pair of Blue Devil runs. Andrea Pieper recorded two Wayne runs.

Additional runs were tallied on the night by Samantha Denklauf, Sara Frerichs, Alesha Finkey, Nicole Rauner, Steph Owens, Dacia Gansbom and Riley Hoffart.

Wayne posted a 6-2 victory in the earlier JV game as Shannon Jarvi pitched a one-hitter and Bayli Ellis worked the sixth inning to seal win.

Lincoln Tournament

The girls went 1-3 in action on Saturday at the Lincoln Public Schools Invitational.

The first game of the tourney saw Wayne plate seven runs off seven hits in the first two frames to take a 7-3 victory over Waverly.

Carroll earned her second win of the new season with a three-hitter as she threw four strikeouts and allowed only one earned run.

The offense was paced by Finkey, who was 2-for-3 with two runs scored.

The Blue Devils dropped their first game of the season in a 4-0 loss to Class A Lincoln North State as the Navigators limited WHS to three hits during the contest.

"Their pitching kept us off balance and we didn't adjust well throughout the game," Wayne coach Rob Sweetland said.

Wayne dropped its other game of the tourney in an 8-2 loss to Lincoln Pius X. Pius exploded with all of its runs with two outs in the third inning.

Finkey and Rauner tallied Wayne's runs during the game.

Andrea Pieper makes a dash for home plate in Wayne High's season opening contest against Twin River played at the Wayne softball complex last Thursday.

Wildcats win first two contests

Two contests, two wins.

The Wayne Wayne College women's soccer team started the 2006 season with a pair of wins last week to jump out to a 2-0 start after winning the four-team Wildcat Classic.

The squad notched its first victory of the season on Aug. 25 with a 5-1 win over York College in the Wildcat Classic played at the WSC Soccer Complex.

The Wildcats held a sizeable 20-3 advantage in shots over York to secure the win.

Senior M.A. Liebenritt opened the scoring in the seventh minute for Wayne State, scoring on a penalty kick to put WSC in front 1-0.

The lead moved to 2-0 in the 27th minute of the first half when Melissa Benson's kick deflected off York's Lauren Sinnott for a team goal.

Any Gustafson put WSC ahead 3-0 right before intermission with a 20-yard blast past York goalkeeper Mandy Saar.

In the second half, York College cut the WSC lead to 3-1 at the 64:13 mark when Kly Randall's shot went off Wayne State's Cassidy Goc into the net for an own goal.

WSC added a pair of insurance scores late in the contest as Benson scored at the 79:48 mark to give the Wildcats a 4-1 lead and freshman Megan Kenealy closed out the scoring with a goal off a pass from Valerie Robinson in the 82nd minute to make the final score 5-1.

WSC sophomore goalkeeper Jamie Anderson recorded two saves to earn the win for the Wildcats.

The team team defeated Northwest Missouri State 1-0 to win the Classic on Aug. 27.

Although the Wildcats were out shot by their opponents 10-5, they still hung on for the win.

Liebenritt scored the only goal of the game from 20 yards out in the first half at the 17:10 mark after a pass from junior forward Gena Romano.

NWMS threatened in the second half with six shots, but freshman goalkeeper Jamie Anderson made five saves to preserve the win.

The Wildcats will be back in action this weekend at the CMSU Classic in Warrensburg, Mo.

WSC will play the host Central Missouri State on Friday evening and will wrap up the Classic on Sunday afternoon against Washburn at 1 p.m.

WSC senior forward M.A. Liebenritt (right) battles with Alyssa Bahler of York College in last Friday's home contest.

WSC goes 3-1 to open campaign

The Wayne State volleyball team started the 2006 season in dominating fashion with a 3-1 showing at the UNK Fall Classic in Kearney played on Aug. 25-26.

The team opened the tourney on Friday by splitting two matches.

WSC rolled to a 30-14, 30-10 and 30-19 win over Iowa Wesleyan in the first contest of the day, then dropped a five-game heartbreaker to No. 23 Rockhurst 30-28, 30-27, 23-30, 30-32 and 21-19.

In the Iowa Wesleyan win, WSC hit a sizzling .383 while holding Iowa Wesleyan to a .112 hitting percentage.

Senior Michelle Eckhardt hit .778 for the match by recording 14 kills in just 18 attacks.

Senior setter Brittany Coleman accounted for 44 set assists and 10 digs for the Wildcats, while libero Laura Dolezal paced WSC defensively with a team-high 14 digs.

Rockhurst built a 2-0 lead over the Wildcats, then had to fight off a WSC rally and win the fifth game 21-19 to hang on for the win.

Coleman, a transfer from Creighton University, in just her second match in a WSC uniform, notched a new school record 79 set assists in the loss for the Wildcats.

The previous record of 73 was set last season by now-graduated Julie Jacobsen.

Schroeder paced Wayne State in hitting with 28 kills, followed by Eckhardt with 26 and Van Beek with 21 kills.

Dolezal had 33 digs to pace the Wildcats on defense, followed by Meredy Dubbs with 26 digs and Brittany Coleman with 23.

In Saturday's action, the Wildcats won both matches to post three overall wins at the tourney.

The Wildcats defeated North Dakota 30-19, 30-27 and 30-28, then swept Southwestern Oklahoma State by scores of 30-16, 30-25 and 30-18.

Van Beek pounded out 22 kills to lead the Wildcats in the three-game sweep over North Dakota. Van Beek also finished with 12 digs for WSC.

Eckhardt added 13 kills, while Schroeder produced 10 kills and 14 digs.

Dolezal notched a team-high 23 digs and Coleman handed out 50 set assists in the win.

WSC hit .194 for the match while holding UND to a .099 hitting percentage.

Statistics were unavailable for WSC's second game win over Southwestern Oklahoma State.

The Wildcats will travel to Golden, Colo., this weekend and play four matches in the Colorado School of Mines/Days Inn Denver West Volleyball Tournament.

Coleman, teammates honored

Brittany Coleman was named Most Valuable Player of the Tournament and was joined by teammates Michelle Eckhardt and Brittany Van Beek on the All-Tournament Team at the UNK Classic.

Earlier this week, Coleman earned recognition as the Northern Sun Conference "Setter of the Week" for her play last weekend.

2005 team earns recognition

The 2005 WSC volleyball squad was honored last week by the American Volleyball Coaches Association (AVCA) with the Game Plan/AVCA Team Academic Award for the 2005-06 season.

The 2005 WSC volleyball team had a 3.52 team grade point average.

WSC was one of three Northern Sun Conference schools to receive this honor.

most experienced newcomers," Brink added. "They have had some very good success in high school cross country and I think can make an impact immediately."

Meghan Costello and Molly Gibson, both from Grand Island Northwest, and Melissa Schmitt of Randolph have had limited cross country experience in high school, but have been very successful in track and should adjust to college cross country racing quickly.

Megan Zavorka is a quality runner who competed in track at Chadron State last year while Ashley Cochran and Ashley Baumbach will add depth to a very young Wildcat squad.

The Wildcats open their season at the University of South Dakota Invite on Sept. 2.

Wayne State will host the WSC Pre-Regional Open on Sept. 30 and compete in the Northern Sun Conference Championships in St. Paul, Minnesota on Oct. 21.

The Wildcats will also host the NCAA Division II North Central Regional Cross Country Championships on Saturday, Nov. 4.

"We have a very demanding schedule which will force our athletes to learn to compete at a high level very quickly," Brink said. "If we keep everyone healthy and progress like I think we can, we could surprise some people in the NSIC who think we will really drop off because of graduating three NSIC performers."

Men's Golf

There's increased interest in the Wayne State College men's golf program this season as 16 players are battling in tryouts at the Wayne Country Club to earn a spot on the Wildcat roster this fall.

The Wildcats look to improve on last season's fifth place finish at the Northern Sun Conference Tournament, where the Wildcats shot a two-day total of 641 to finish 40 shots back of league champion Winona State.

"Our goal for this season is to improve in scoring and overall play and establish some depth, which will help build towards a conference title," said first-year WSC coach Troy Harder.

Returning seniors Jared Wetovick (Fullerton) and Brian Torpin (O'Neill) are expected to lead the Wildcats this season after competing as the number three and four players last season. A talented group of newcomers should bring depth to the Wildcat squad and make for interesting practices in battling for the top five positions.

Tyler DeJong and Lee Olson have looked strong in tryouts and should make a solid impact right away. Drew Shively, a sophomore from Norfolk, gained valuable varsity experience last season and will also be a contributor for the Wildcats this fall.

Other players expected to contend for varsity spots include juniors Matt Bialas, Josh Reinders, Alec Rector and Zach Roeder (Laurel-Concord).

Wayne State opens the 2006 fall season on Wednesday, September 6, at the Buena Vista Invitational in Storm Lake, Iowa.

The Wildcats will host two meets this season, the WSC Fall Invite on Thursday, Sept. 14 and the Wildcat Fall Invite on Friday, Sept. 15.

Men's Cross Country

The Wayne State College men's cross country team returns three All-Northern Sun Conference performers as the Wildcats defend their first-ever NSIC men's cross country championship.

The team will also be trying to improve on their ninth place finish (best in school history) at the NCAA Div. II North Central Regional Championships.

This year's team will be led by senior Jeremiah Herron and junior Matt Schneider.

Herron was the top finisher for the 'Cats at the 2005 NCAA Regional Championships (29th) is a three-time All-NSIC performer, placing fourth in 2005, second in 2004 and ninth in 2003.

"Jeremiah has been a very tough competitor throughout his career," remarked WSC head coach Marlon Brink. "He has some high goals set for himself and the team this season and I think he will provide good leadership in helping the new guys on the team."

Schneider, a two-time All-NSIC performer from Nebraska City, is looking to improve on his second place finish at last year's NSIC Championships.

"Matt really reached some, new levels last year as a runner and I think his talent will continue to emerge in cross country this year," Brink added.

Sophomore Casey Ide, who placed sixth at last year's NSIC Championships, headlines an experienced core group of veteran runners.

Others who return for the Wildcats include senior Nathan McIntire and sophomores Nathaniel Bergen, Benjamin Jansen and Ryan Williams.

Freshmen Andrew Bachman, Jimmie Doherty, Logan McPhillips, Mike Tarin and Jesse Wassenaar will provide competition for the experienced runners and give Wayne State its deepest team in a number of years.

Coach Brink, entering his seventh season at Wayne State College, says a tough schedule will challenge the Wildcat runners.

"The schedule will test our athletes very early in the season at the UNL and University of Minnesota meets. We will see what kind of competitive drive this team has with how they perform at those big meets," he said.

Brink added that the teams' goal

Marlon Brink

this season will be to repeat as the NSIC Champions and contend for a top five finish in the North Central Regional Championships, hosted by Wayne State on Nov. 4.

Wayne High golfer Sheree Kathol chips onto the green at last Thursday's home dual meet with South Sioux City. Kathol golfed a personal best 44 on Friday to place third at the Wakefield Invitational at Wakefield.

Blue Devil, Trojan girls golf teams start seasons

Wayne High and Wakefield both started their respective fall girls' golf season with meets last Thursday and Friday.

On Aug. 24, Wayne hosted the South Sioux City Cardinals for a dual meet and took and claimed a 217-246 team win.

"This was a great way to start to a new year," first year Wayne coach Liz Garvin said. "The girls have worked hard the last two weeks in order to be ready for this first dual."

Sheree Kathol carded a 48 to pace Wayne, while teammate Kourtney Shmale finished with 52.

Other Wayne varsity scores included: Maddy Moser 58, Liz Baier 59 and Lauryn Braun with a 74.

Lisa Temme recorded an 84 in the junior varsity division.

Wayne (404) took fourth overall, while host Wakefield (53) finished ninth at the Wakefield Invitational on Friday, Aug. 25.

Kathol recorded her personal best with a six-over par 44 and placed third after losing in a playoff for second. Wakefield was paced by Kristina Wageman, who finished with a 102 in 11th place.

Hill earns Geis Memorial scholarship

WAYNE — Former Wayne High softball standout Molly Hill recently received the coveted Julie Geis Memorial Scholarship.

The scholarship honors Geis, a four-year letterwinner for the Nebraska softball team in the 1970s who was killed in the World Trade Center attacks in New York City in 2001.

The scholarship highlighted a successful 18-2 freshman pitching season for Hill at the University of Nebraska-Lincoln. Hill also carried a perfect 4.0 grade point average at Nebraska this past school year.

The daughter of Kevin and Melody Hill of Wayne is the fifth recipient of the award.

Wayne State baseball camp planned

WAYNE — The Wayne State College baseball program will be conducting two baseball camps during the month of September. The Total Skills Camp will be on Sunday, Sept. 10 with the Hitting/Pitching Intensity Camp set for Sunday, Sept. 17.

The Total Skills Camp will emphasize all aspects of baseball — which include fielding, pitching, catching, hitting and base running. This camp is ideal for young baseball players. The Hitting/Pitching Intensity Camp is designed to give each camper advanced instruction in each area.

The Wayne State coaching staff and the Wildcat baseball team will instruct the camps. One of the many great qualities of the camps is the one-on-one instruction all of the campers receive from the Wildcat staff of instructors.

Both camps will run from 10:00 a.m.-2:00 p.m. at the Pete Chapman Baseball Complex with registration starting at 9:15 a.m. at the baseball field. The camps are open to players ages 8-18. Players are asked to bring their baseball shoes, glove, bat and gym shoes.

The fee for one camp is $45 or $80 for both and includes a camp T-shirt. In case of inclement weather, the camps will be moved indoors to the WSC Recreation Center.

For more information on the camps or for registration information, e-mail WSC head baseball coach John Manganaro at jomanga@wsc.edu or phone the WSC baseball office at (402) 375-7012 or 1-800-228-9972 ext. 7012.

New softball recruit added at WSC

WAYNE — Wayne State College head softball coach Krista Unger has announced the addition of Morgan Tysor to the 2006 recruiting class. She will join Valerie Robinson, Cassandra Ward, Mickayla Montalvo and Jami Worrall as other members of the Wildcats' 2006 recruiting class.

Tysor was a five-year starter and letter winner in softball at Sidney High School in Iowa, helping her team win three Iowa Class 1A district championships. She earned honorable mention All-Conference as a junior and senior while earning honorable mention All-State honors as a freshman.

Tysor also excelled in the classroom, earning Academic All-Conference honors four seasons. Tysor was a multi-sport standout at Sidney High School, starting three seasons in basketball and golf while also earning one letter in track and field.

Hole-in-one recorded at WCC

Back to school safety tips given

With the start of the new school year, students will be rushing to be on time, parents will be getting them on their way and drivers will be going about their business - all could heed some advice on safety.

"This is a critical time of the year," noted Ray Palermio, director of public information for Teachers' Insurance Plan. "Drivers need to reacclimate themselves to having children on and near the road, particularly at rush hours. And, both children and their parents need to get back into their good traffic safety habits."

Palermio offered several tips from their "Back to School" safety brochure.

Tips for walking or biking to school: •walk with a friend •pay attention to all traffic signals and crossing guards - never cross the street against a stop light •cross only at crosswalks and never run into the street from between parked cars •look left, right and over your shoulder for traffic before crossing a street and continue to check each direction •make sure drivers see you by making eye contact with them •if riding a bicycle, scooter or skateboard to school, always wear a helmet and ride in the same direction as traffic - walk your bike if crossing a street.

Tips for school bus riders: •do not play in the street while waiting for the bus •line up facing the bus, not along side it •after getting off the bus, move out of traffic •wait for the bus driver to signal you to cross the street - walk away from the front of the bus so the driver can see you.

Tips for parents and drivers: •everyone should wear a seatbelt and children should be in age appropriate car seats •stay focused on driving and don't be distracted by kids in the car or with other activities •slow down in school zones - driving just five miles per hour over the speed limit increases both the risk of hitting a child and the severity of any injuries •you never know if children crossing the street are paying attention so remain stopped until the child has crossed not only your lane of traffic but the adjacent lane as well •never pass a vehicle that has stopped at a crosswalk as they may be waiting for someone to cross •do not pass a school bus when its red lights are flashing even if it is on the other side of the street •use extra care in areas where children may enter the road from between parked vehicles or other things that block drivers view of the road - and watch out for bicycles.

For more information on driver and passenger safety, go to their website, www.teachers.com.

Presentation of children who rode the Orphan Trains to be given

The new season of Sunday Afternoon at the Museum programs will begin on Sept. 10 at 2 p.m. with a presentation by Charlotte Endorf of Norfolk, author of "Plains Bound: Fragile Cargo," documenting the real-life stories of the children who rode the Orphan Trains between 1854 and 1929.

The Orphan Train program came about as an off-shoot of the Children's Aid Society and The New York Foundling Hospital in New York City. The huge numbers of immigrants to America in the late 19th century produced many homeless, neglected or orphaned children. As charitable organizations filled to capacity, they gathered up and relocated more than 400,000 children to the Midwest over a 75 year period.

The original goal of the orphan trains was to provide the children, many not more than toddlers but most in their pre-teens, with a better life, sparing them from the New York City ghetto poverty in which they had been barely surviving.

As the train made its stops, the children were lined up on courthouse lawns to be examined by prospective families. The results were mixed. In some cases, in memoirs and later interviews, they were very positive about their prospective families, having been well treated, even loved. However, in many cases, they became unpaid labor, adopted only for the work they could do and many were severely mistreated. The last generation of Orphan Train riders is still living in towns across the United States.

In her book "Plains Bound: Fragile Cargo," Endorf relates a series of interviews with orphan train riders and their descendants. She will share these touching stories with the Neihardt audience. Director Nancy Gillis, a teacher of history at Wayne State College and at Northeast Community College, planned this program because of this year's theme carried over from the Spring Conference of "political voice and social conscience." She says this type of attempts at social reform was common in the Gilded Age and Progressive Era of America's history but many times the plan became a band-aid to relieve a burden on the larger society and did not take on the root of the problem nor the potential long term impacts, particularly on the individual children.

The program is free and open to the public. A reception for the author and a book signing will follow the presentation.

The John G. Neihardt State Historic site is located at 306 W. Elm Street in Bancroft.

For more information, call 1-888-777-4667 or 402-648-3388 or email: neihardt@gpcom.net.

Upcoming programs following the general theme include: Oct. 15: Dr. Richard Collings of Wayne State College on "American Democracy and the Part-time Citizen" and Nov. 12: John Carter of the Nebraska State Historical Society on "The Edges of Genius: Nebraska's Visionary Artists."

Northeast Medication Aide class set for Wayne

The Allied Health Department at Northeast Community College will present another Medication Aide class beginning in late September at the Providence Medical Center in Wayne.

Medication Aide, with course number HLTH 1120-32, will meet Mondays and Tuesdays, Sept. 25 through Oct. 31, from 6-9:45 p.m. Dani Frahm is the instructor for this three-credit-hour class with a cost of $208.50 for Nebraska residents and $252.75 for non-residents.

This course is designed to prepare the student to meet the requirements of the Medication Aide Act and the responsibilities of the medication aide in an assisted-living facility and/or a nursing facility.

The course includes information regarding medication administration, pharmacology, rules and regulations, classification of drugs, orders, storage, and abbreviations. An overview of commonly-used drugs and documentation will also be given.

Upon completion of this course, the student is eligible to take the state-administered written exam. After successfully passing this examination and completing the application procedure, the student's name will be placed on the medication aide registry at the Nebraska Health and Human Services Regulation and Licensure, Credentialing Division.

National vote underway for all-time greatest heroes in fifth anniversary Volvo for life awards

Who would you give a Volvo to? A 73-year-old Alabama florist serving as a volunteer first-responder? A Wyoming woman devoting a decade to protecting nearby critical habitat from unnecessary development? A 14-year-old Michigan boy managing a clothing drive for needy kids in his school?

These are just a few of the top heroes nominated over the past five years for the Volvo for life Awards - an annual, nationwide search for real-life heroes across America. This year, in honor of the 5th anniversary of these awards, Volvo has selected the top five heroes from every state - and published all 250 of their stories online at www.volvoforlifeawards.com.

Now, for the first time in history, Volvo is inviting America itself to serve as one of the Volvo for life Awards judges. Through Feb. 4, 2007, the American public can visit the Web site, read as many stories as they like, and vote for their favorite heroes online. This democratic vote will decide the finalists in the fifth anniversary awards in the categories of Safety, Quality of Life and Environment.

The finalists' nominations will then be narrowed down to three winners by a panel of distinguished judges - including Hank Aaron, Sen. Bill Bradley, Caroline Kennedy, Maya Lin, Paul Newman, Dr. Sally Ride, Val Kilmer, Eunice Kennedy Shriver and previous Volvo for life Awards top winners. Winners receive a $50,000 charitable contribution from Volvo; finalists receive a $25,000 contribution.

On April 4, 2007, Volvo will fly the winning heroes to New York, where they will be honored at the 5th Anniversary Awards Gala by Volvo and members of the celebrity judging panel. At the climax of the ceremony, Volvo will reveal which of the three top heroes is also the winner of the Grand Award of a Volvo for life - a lease on a new Volvo every three years for the rest of their lives.

"Over the past five years the Volvo for life Awards has received more than 15,000 hero nominations," said Anne Belec, president and chief executive officer of Volvo Cars of North America. "All of these heroes demonstrate incredible conscience, care and character. We felt the proper way to mark the fifth year of the Volvo for life Awards would be to highlight the top five heroes from every state in America. Having the public help us select the winning heroes is a truly exciting - and democratic - addition to this year's program. We look forward to discovering just who 'America's greatest hometown hero' will be."

To learn more, or to vote for your favorite hero, visit www.volvoforlifeawards.com. A Spanish version of the site can also be accessed at this address.

Nebraska Rural Health Association Conference to focus on transformations in rural healthcare

The obstacles faced by health care providers and patients in rural areas are very different from those in urban areas. Some of these obstacles include economics, lack of qualified staff and emergency responders and limited access to specialized health care or technology.

Rural Nebraskans face a unique combination of factors that create disparities in health care such as economic factors, cultural and social differences, educational shortcomings, lack of technology and the sheer isolation of living in remote rural areas.

The Nebraska Rural Health Association (NeRHA) Conference will be held Sept. 8 and 9 at the

Hausmann named to New York Life Quality Council

Hausmann has been a New York Life agent since 1987, and is associated with New York Life's Nebraska General Office in Omaha.

Hausmann is a member of the Wayne Area Economic Development Incorporated, The Wayne Ambassadors and is chair of the Legislative Committee for the Wayne Area Chamber of Commerce. He has resided in Wayne for 23 years. He is married to Leslie and has two sons, Jeff and Kevin, and two grandchildren.

New York Life Insurance Company, a Fortune 100 company, founded in 1845, is the largest mutual life insurance company in the United States and one of the largest life insurers in the world.

Holiday Inn and Convention Center in Kearney. This year's theme, "The Transformation in Rural Health Care" will focus on the changing face of rural health care.

Presenters at the conference will demonstrate new approaches in rural health care delivery focusing on finance, delivery, organization and people. Participants will be challenged to envision a health care delivery transformation across the entire continuum focused on persons, not diseases or specific episodes of illness or trauma.

Specific conference topics include Transforming Rural Health Care, Health Information Technology, Saving Lives Through Recruitment and Retention, Rural Frontier EMS: New Agenda For the Future, Federal Rural Health Policy: A View from the Hill, and Rural Health Policy and the 2006 Nebraska Elections.

Additional vital topics offered at the 2006 Rural Health Conference include: Nebraska Behavioral Healthcare and Early Childhood Mental Health; Critical Access Hospitals: How the Balanced Scoreboard is Improving Performance; Health Information Exchange: Planning and Implementation; Nebraska Registry Partnership: Improving Chronic Disease Management; Pandemic: Managing Disaster Preparedness; Medicare Part D and Medicaid Effecting Rural Pharmacies.

The 2006 Nebraska Rural Health Association Conference is open to administrators, health professionals, association personnel, health service agencies and anyone interested in making a difference in vital health care in Nebraska.

For additional information, contact the NeRHA conference office at 402-470-2569, email nerhaconf@alltel.net or view conference information at www.nebraskaruralhealth.org under "Annual Conference."

Out with the old, in with the new Changes can be observed on a daily basis on the Main Street Project. Construction crews are currently working removing sidewalks and replacing them with new, nine-foot portions of walk. The additional space between the side and street will include paver bricks to be installed in the near future.

Additional West Nile cases reported

Ten more cases of West Nile virus among humans have been reported to the Nebraska Health and Human Services System (HHSS) this week, bringing the total of cases in the state so far this year to 28.

Cases of the illness have been reported in 14 counties in the state: Buffalo (4), Clay (2), Colfax (1), Dodge (1), Douglas (7), Kearney (1), Lancaster (3), Lincoln (2), Madison (1), Morrill (1), Platte (1), Saline (2), Scotts Bluff (1), and Seward (1).

Last year there were 188 human cases of the virus reported in Nebraska, with five deaths. In 2004 there were 54 cases and no deaths. In 2003 there were 2,366 cases with 29 deaths. In 2002, the first year that the virus appeared in the state, Nebraska had 174 cases and eight deaths.

The virus is transmitted through the bite of a mosquito that has picked up the virus by feeding on an infected bird.

In addition to human cases, 162 mosquito samples in 17 counties and 58 birds in 22 counties have tested positive for the virus.

Most people who are infected by a mosquito have no symptoms or only mild flu-like symptoms. Less than one out of 150 people who get bitten by an infected mosquito and become infected will get seriously ill. However, people over 50 and those with weakened immune systems are especially vulnerable to the disease and are more likely to experience serious consequences.

West Nile fever includes flu-like symptoms, such as fever and muscle weakness. Symptoms of West Nile encephalitis include inflammation of the brain, disorientation, convulsions and paralysis.

To avoid mosquito bites, the Health and Human Services System recommends that people "fight the bite" during outdoor activities by: •Applying mosquito repellent containing DEET, picaridin or oil of lemon eucalyptus; • Wearing long-sleeved shirts, pants, and socks; • Avoiding going out at dawn and dusk, when mosquitoes are most active; and eliminating standing water to reduce mosquito breeding sites.

More information can be found on the HHSS Web site at www.hhs.state.ne.us/wnv.

This photo was taken during the ground breaking ceremony for the Winnebago Bison Turnout. This is an area along the west side of US Hwy 75/77 on the north edge of Winnebago. The Winnebago Tribe keeps their bison herd at this location and people were always stopping to take pictures of the herd. It was not a safe area to be doing this - thus the reason for constructing an automobile turnout.

Automobile turnout at bison pasture to be constructed

Sometime around 1992, the Winnebago Tribe began discussions with the Nebraska Department of Roads and others to secure permission and funding to construct an automobile turnout at the bison pasture located on the north edge of Winnebago.

In 2001, the Lewis & Clark Scenic Byway took on the project and made application to the Federal Highway Administration for funds to go toward the project.

On May 13, 2002 the announcement was made that the project had been funded for the amount of $112,800 in National Scenic Byway funds.

On Aug. 25, 2006, the Winnebago Tribe held a ground-breaking ceremony for the project. Those taking part in the ground-breaking ceremony were Kenneth Mallory (Tribal Council), Marcell Picotte (Tribal Roads Department), John Blackhawk (Tribal Chair), and Dick Leitschuck (Lewis & Clark Scenic Byway).

Earth-moving is scheduled to start in the near future with the project scheduled to be finished by Nov. 1, 2006. Part of the project involves moving a State Historical Marker currently located southeast of Winnebago to this site. Four additional Interpretive Panels will also be installed at this site as part of the project.

The Lewis & Clark Scenic Byway is a project of the Nebraska Loess Hills RC&D. Dick Leitschuck serves as Treasurer for both groups and was instrumental in getting this project approved and started.

still naturally light and refreshing...

One of the many considerations when choosing window coverings for your home is the natural light coming into the room. Last time we looked at how dramatically different the type of light is depending on the direction it's coming from, how this should be a consideration when choosing a window treatment and we reviewed light coming in from the North and South... now let's turn another direction.

For example... East-facing windows offer warm, bright light, especially in the morning. Early morning light may mean that rooms heat up quickly. Look for window fashions that will diffuse the light, which will help keep the room cooler. Honeycomb style window treatments will also trap warm or cool air in their cells, lessening the intensity of the temperature entering the room. They will also block ultraviolet (UV) rays and protect furnishings.

West-facing windows admit the hottest light and the most harmful UV rays. Plan on window treatments that provide the highest levels of light control, energy efficiency and protection against UV rays.

Whatever "direction" you may be considering with window treatments... visit our Design Showroom and our trained design staff can assist you in finding just the right style and function for your home.

Or... we'll bring the showroom to you. Our great selection of samples are can't wait to get out of the showroom for a visit to your home. Call toll-free to arrange for a free In-Home Design Consultation.

'Great Books for Great Kids' to benefit Wayne Public Library

Runza® Restaurants will conduct the annual Great Books for Great Kids fundraiser on Tuesday, Sept. 12. The funds will benefit the Wayne Public Library.

Last year, over $22,000 was raised to benefit children in communities with Runza® locations and over the last four years, over $70,000 has been donated.

Runza® Restaurants has been a long time supporter of reading.

"Reading is vital to lifelong success and provides an excellent opportunity for families to spend time together," said Becky Richter, Marketing Communications Manager for Runza® National. "Donating funds for books and promoting literacy is an important endeavor for children and the community."

"The Wayne Public Library will use these funds, as in years past, to purchase new books and books on CD exclusively for the Children's Room and Teen Corner collections," said Julie Osnes, Youth Services Librarian. "It is just such a wonderful idea and I think people feel they are doing something special by eating at Runza on this donation day. We are always so thankful for all the generous support we receive from the businesses and people in the Wayne community. A recent study showed that Americans do not voluntarily choose reading as a pastime, but I don't think they took that survey in Wayne, Nebraska!"

Runza® Restaurants - famous for the Runza® Sandwich, with its delicious blend of ground beef, cabbage, onions and secret spices, baked inside homemade bread; made to order hamburgers; and homemade onion rings - operates and franchisees 74 restaurants in Nebraska, Colorado, Iowa and Kansas.

For more information call Julie Osnes at the Wayne Public Library 375-3135.

Dr. Robert Krugman
elected to NCPA board of directors

Dr. Robert Krugman of Wayne was recently elected to serve as Secretary of the Nebraska Chiropractic Physicians Association (NCPA) board of directors at its annual meeting which was held Aug. 10-13 in Gering.

The organization serves over 360 chiropractors from across the state of Nebraska. Dr. Krugman's clinic, Wayne Sport and Spine, P.C. is located at 214 Pearl Street in downtown Wayne.

In addition to the annual meeting, Dr. Krugman attended continuing education sessions in areas including x-rays and chiropractic care for special needs children, young athletes and those with scoliosis. The seminars attended by Dr. Krugman were part of a program of continuing education that all chiropractic physicians must attend for license renewal.

The goal of the State Board of Chiropractic is to keep all chiropractors in Nebraska up to date on all new developments in the chiropractic field and to ensure that the highest standards of practice are used by all Nebraska licensed chiropractors.

2006 Nebraska Rural Institute highlights research in rural community development

The 2006 Nebraska Rural Institute Sept. 19-21 in Ainsworth will highlight research in rural community development and give participants advice on keeping rural ties strong. The theme is "Ride into the Sandhills... Rich in Natural Resources, Business and Rural Hospitality."

Guest speaker Peter Kenyon of the Bank of I.D.E.A.S. (Initiatives for the Development of Entreprenising Action and Strategies) in Australia will offer participants new ideas for advancement in rural communities. Kenyon has worked with over 1,000 communities to encourage residents to invest in their own ideas and resources.

"The Institute presents timely topics that are innovative and beneficial to rural Nebraskans," said Bob Stowell, an attorney from Ord who has attended the Institute in the past and strongly encourages past and new participants to attend. "It is an awesome opportunity for rural citizens to gather and network."

Featured research presentations include The Economic Impact of Wal-Mart on the Economic Growth of Nebraska Counties, by Azzeddine Azzam, a University of Nebraska-Lincoln agricultural economist; Improving Local Retail Markets, by Diane Vigna from UNL's Department of Textiles, Clothing and Design; and Doing Business in North Central Nebraska, by Eric Thompson of the NU Bureau of Business Research.

Investing in rural youth also will be featured during the Institute. Sessions will include a panel of area youth who have worked to strengthen community development, a presentation on encouraging youth to be active citizens and a panel of young entrepreneurs who have returned to work in their rural communities. A community and youth partnership exhibit also will be on display to demonstrate how youth can become engaged in the community.

"Rural Nebraskans need to become more active towards the future and raise hope for all rural businesses and the opportunities they have to offer local youth," Stowell said. "Education used to mean kids didn't return to their rural communities. Today, value is added from education upon their return."

Many mobile workshops are planned for this year's Institute. Topics include creating sustainable bio-based businesses in rural areas with a tour of the Nebraska Public Power District's Wind Energy Farm, using existing natural resources for economic development at Smith Falls State Park and the Valentine Wildlife Refuge and a community business tour with stops at innovative businesses and manufacturing companies along Highway 20.

Registration for the entire conference is $200 if paid before Sept. 8 and $275 after. Daily rates for Sept. 19 and 20 are $75 before Sept. 8 and $100 after. Sept. 21 registration is $60 before Sept. 8 and $80 after. Partial day rates are available upon request.

Registration costs include two meals Sept. 19 and 21 and three meals Sept. 20. Extra meals can be purchased for spouses or guests. Group rates for lodging are available at the Comfort Inn or Super 8 Motel in Ainsworth.

Information for full or partial scholarships is available upon request.

To register or for more information visit the Web <http://cari.unl.edu/nri> or contact Charlotte Narjes at (402) 472-1724 or e-mail cnarjes@unl.edu. Entrepreneurs offer business skills at the Nebraska State Fair's 4-H Cyber Fair Nebraska youth can learn more about starting their own business during the 4-H Cyber Fair's Entrepreneurship Patio Experience Sept. 2-4 at the Nebraska State Fair.

The event, in the covered patio area connected to the Farmland Building, gives youth and others opportunities to construct their ideal entrepreneurship town at E-Town, talk to Nebraska entrepreneurs at several exhibit booths and view entrepreneurship resources, including the new 4-H curriculum, ESI: Entrepreneurship Ship Investigation.

"I thought a lot of the things people thought up were very interesting," said Shailana Dunn-Wall, 14, of Omaha, who was at the event the fair's opening weekend.

Robin Lindauer, owner of WebTechSolutions in York, decided to exhibit as an entrepreneur because she thought it was a good

"My business is going well, so I thought I'd give back and share my story," Lindauer said. "If it helps a 4-H'er it's worth it to share that with them."

Derry Tramp, an Ord High School teacher and one of the ESI curriculum writers, said he hoped the activities-based entrepreneurship curriculum would help students understand what opportunities are available for them back home and keep kids in their communities.

Dawn Hromanik, director of education for the Oxbow Academy in Murdock and one of the exhibitors, agreed.

"Entrepreneurship is very important for economic development," she said. "We hope this gets high school graduates working locally instead of moving to other states."

Oxbow Academy employs 50 people in Murdock, population 267, Hromanik said. E-Town, a virtual town projected on a screen, allows youth to build a town on the giant screen or, build businesses out of several supplies, such as paper, blocks, etc.

Hoffman part of Rural Long Term Care Reform Committee

Terry Hoffman, Wakefield Health Care Center Nursing Home Administrator in Wakefield, is part of a Rural Long Term Care Reform Committee. The formation of the committee was recently announced by the Health and Human Services (HHSS). The committee will advise the Medicaid Agency on implementation of key recommendations contained in the Nebraska Medicaid Reform Plan.

The costs of long term care, pushed by the growing number of elderly and disabled people in the state, have been identified as one of the major causes of future growth in state Medicaid expenditures.

"We need to find efficient, safe and sustainable ways to move the care of elderly and disabled persons from expensive institutional care to less expensive home and community services," said Dick Nelson, director of finance and support. "We are delighted with the cross-section of Nebraskans who have volunteered to help us tackle change in the rural areas of the state, which are our greatest challenge."

Committee members will be asked to identify barriers to effective home and community services and to help Medicaid identify solutions. The first committee meeting was scheduled for Aug. 30 at the Holiday Inn in Lincoln.

The Medicaid Reform Plan can be accessed at <http://www.hhs.state.ne.us/med/reform/>. Contact Linda Shandera, HHSS Home and Community Services, 402-471-9462 or linda.shandera@hhs.ne.gov for more information.

Decrease in crimes reported in Nebraska

Michael Behm, Executive Director of the Nebraska Crime Commission, announced recently that Nebraska experienced a three percent decrease in the number of crimes reported to law enforcement agencies during 2005 compared to 2004.

Behm indicated there were 63,669 crimes reported during 2005 compared to 65,579 reported in 2004. These numbers include only the offenses of Murder-Manslaughter, Forcible Rape, Robbery, Aggravated Assault, Burglary, Larceny-Theft, Motor Vehicle Theft, and Arson which serve as the basis for the Crime Index used to measure crime statewide.

In the violent crime category, Nebraska experienced a six percent decrease with 4,951 violent crimes reported during 2005 compared to 5,271 reported in 2004. Murder, Manslaughter increased five percent (from 41 to 43 offenses). Forcible Rape decreased five percent (from 597 to 566). Robbery decreased nine percent (from 1,128 to 1,031) and Aggravated Assault decreased six percent (from 3,505 reported in 2004 to 3,311 reported in 2005).

In terms of property crime, a three percent decrease occurred with 58,717 offenses reported in 2005 compared to 60,305 reported in 2004. Burglary decreased five percent (from 9,518 reported in 2004 to 9,032 in 2005). Larceny-Theft decreased three percent (from 45,276 to 43,918). Motor Vehicle Theft increased nine percent (from 5,186 to 5,486) and Arson decreased 14 percent (from 325 in 2004 to 281 in 2005).

"The overall decrease in crime mirrors what is happening nationwide," said Behm. "In contrast to 2004, Nebraska has seen an overall decrease in violent crime while nationwide there has been an increase."

Crime in Omaha decreased three percent (from 25,294 offenses reported in 2004 to 24,521 offenses in 2005). Lincoln experienced a two percent decrease (from 14,384 to 14,088). Cities of 5,000 to 99,999 in population saw a two percent decrease (from 16,641 to 16,258). Cities under 5,000 population had a four percent decrease (from 1,534 to 1,475 in 2005). County areas reported a five percent decrease (from 7,228 to 6,864). Crime occurring on State Property decreased seven percent (from 498 to 463).

The number of persons arrested in Nebraska during 2005 increased two percent from 2004. In 2005, there were 96,814 arrests compared to 94,572, an increase of 2,242 arrests.

The top five categories in terms of number of arrests made during 2005 include: Driving under the Influence (14,528 arrests); Liquor Law Violations (12,782 arrests); Drug Abuse Violations (11,297 arrests); Simple Assault (9,520 arrests), and Larceny-Theft (8,394 arrests).

Adult arrests (involving persons age 18 and over) increased two percent, from 79,703 arrests in 2004 to 81,512 arrests in 2005. Adult arrests accounted for 84 percent of the total arrests made statewide. Significant increases were seen in Driving under the Influence (from 13,829 to 14,227), Drug Abuse Violations (from 9,758 to 10,134), and Aggravated Assault (from 904 to 1,152). Decreases were seen in Larceny Theft (from 5,689 to 5,488) and Disorderly Conduct (from 3,708 to 3,568).

Juvenile arrests increased three percent, from 14,869 in 2004 to 15,302 in 2005. Increases were seen in Simple Assault (from 1,692 to 1,961), Liquor Law Violations (from 2,178 to 2,426) and Curfew

(from 391 to 509). Decreases were seen in Larceny-Theft (from 3,044 arrests to 2,906) and Driving under the Influence (from 347 to 301).

"The increase in juvenile arrests is the first increase since 1998. While this is discouraging, it is important to emphasize the number of juveniles arrested is approximately 6,000 less than the number reported in 1998," stated Behm.

Hate crime statistics were also released. During 2005 there were 44 incidents reported involving crimes motivated by hate. This is a 13 percent increase from the 39 reported in 2004. Racial bias accounted for 43 percent of the total hate crimes while Religious bias accounted for 23 percent. Ethnic bias accounted for 16 percent and Sexual bias accounted for 14 percent. Of the hate crimes reported, 36 percent involved vandalism and 34 percent involved intimidation.

The complete 2005 Preliminary Report is available at the Crime Commission's Internet site at www.ncc.state.ne.us

Implement new dietary guidelines with small steps

"Steps to a Healthier You" is the theme developed by the American Dietetic Association to aid implementing last year's new dietary guidelines. It is believed that everyone, even the most fit person, can make steps to improve their health.

One of the first steps to better health is to make smart choices from every food group. Choose nutrient-dense foods that are low in sugar and fat more often than foods with added sugar or fat. Nutrient-dense foods are generally high in fiber such as whole grains, fruits and vegetables. Also, eat lean meats, such as grilled chicken, instead of fried meats, such as chicken fingers.

Skim or one percent milk and low-fat cheese or yogurt are dairy items that should be eaten daily. Dairy products that are high in sugar, such as ice cream, should be eaten less often and in moderation. However, ice cream can be healthier if topped with fruit, such as crushed pineapple or strawberries.

Another step that needs to be taken is to create a balance between food and exercise. To prevent weight gain, the amount of calories consumed each day should be equal to the amount of calories burned each day. Managing calories is good and being more physically active means being able to eat more.

Following a diet of nutrient dense foods and being physically active can even make calorie counting unnecessary. For example, foods high in fiber tend to make one feel full longer, so there is less tendency to overeat during other meals.

Becoming physically active is something that doesn't need to happen overnight - it can be achieved slowly. If not very active now, try including an extra 100 steps somewhere during the day and gradually increase the level of physical activity.

First Church of Christ to undergo name change

The First Church of Christ, located on East Seventh Street (Highway 35) in Wayne will soon be changing its name.

The congregation voted on Aug. 20 to change the name to Journey Christian Church.

This was the culmination of a process which began in April. The name change was undertaken in the hope of finding a name that would more clearly represent the ideals of the church.

The First Church of Christ is a non-denominational (independent) congregation, which belongs to the brotherhood of churches that grew from the Restoration Movement.

This movement began in this country at the beginning of the 19th century, with the twin goals of maintaining the Bible as the rule of faith and practice in the church and promoting the unity of all Christians.

Churches in the brotherhood are generally known as "Churches of Christ" or "Christian Churches," such as the Wakefield Christian Church and First Christian Church in Norfolk.

"One of the reasons for changing our name was to avoid confusion with other churches and denominations that have 'Church of Christ' as part of their name, yet we still wanted to have our name show that we are still faithful to the ideals that the First Church of Christ in Wayne was founded on," said Troy Reynolds, Pastor of the church.

"Along with that, the completion of our new worship center taking place on Sept. 17, it seemed like the appropriate time to make the change to Journey Christian Church," Reynolds added.

He went on to note that "the purpose, as a church, is to impact Wayne County and beyond, by bringing people to salvation in Christ, equipping them for service to other, and sending them out to make a difference in their world, so that God will be praised!"

"This will not change with the name. In fact, the name change reinforces our dedication to that purpose. Each of us is on our own spiritual journey. We're all at different points in that journey. That journey leads to two possible destinations," Reynolds said.

Journey Christian Church is not a destination. It exists to get people going and help to keep us going in the right direction toward the better of those two destinations.

"In any journey, there can be problems and setbacks. It helps to have people traveling with you for support along the way. Come join us on the Journey' at 10:30 a.m. on Sunday mornings," Reynolds said.

'Connie party'

Connie Webber hosted a "Connie Party" on Aug. 22. There were 7 Connies and one Conni present. Webber had talked about doing this for years "and it finally happened. It was a very fun time of meeting new "Namesakes" and having some wonderful conversation and of course some delicious food." The origin of Connie (according to Google sources) is Irish, meaning "strong willed or wise" and Constance is of Latin origin meaning "faithful or firmness." Those involved included, front row, left to right, Connie Webber, Connie Kirkpatrick and Connie Krueger. Back row, Connie Hall, Conni Davis, Connie Meyer, Connie Bargstadt and Connie Clark.

Blood donors needed prior to Labor Day weekend

In preparation for the holiday weekend, the Siouxland Community Blood Bank is asking everyone eligible to make a life-saving blood donation.

The Siouxland Community wouldn't have a blood supply without volunteer blood donors, and this is more evident in the summer and over the busy holiday weekends, including weekends like Labor Day when donations dwindle. This summer, the Siouxland Community Blood Bank is down a massive 1,000 units from their goal, which can be dangerous with a holiday weekend on its way.

"We understand that summer schedules get busy, however that means an increased chance for unfortunate accidents that would require blood transfusions, and during summer months, donations aren't as consistent to be relied on. It is necessary to have the commitment of the donors to ensure that our blood supply is sufficient," said Janette Twait, CEO. "People can donate for a number of reasons, whether it is for friends or family, the American troops overseas, to honor the five year anniversary of Sept. 11th, or to prepare for a possible national disaster, such as Katrina."

With Labor Day approaching, it becomes urgent that community members of every blood type participate in their local drives or visit the Siouxland Community Blood Bank's fixed site located at 1019 Jones Street in Sioux City, Iowa.

To be eligible to donate blood individuals must be at least 17 years of age (16 in Iowa with a Siouxland Community Blood Bank signed parent consent form); however there is no upper age limit as long as the donor is in good health. In addition donors need to weigh at least 110 pounds and have not donated whole blood in the past 56 days. And remember, a photo I.D. is required at the time of registration.

For more information about the Siouxland Community Blood Bank or blood drives in your area, call 712-252-4208 or 800-798-4208 or visit their website at www.siouxlandbloodbank.org

Volunteering at State Fair was a fun experience

It's State Fair time again. We seem to get the bug to go about every five years. We had read about problems plaguing it, and the fact that there had been less agricultural emphasis, so we hadn't really felt the urge. But this year, the Farm Bureau paper announced they needed volunteers in their booth. I told the Big Farmer that might be fun and not too much work. We could just sit there and visit with whomever walked by.

I called Cheryl Stubbendick, and she scheduled us for Monday, the 28th, older Nebraskan's day. I don't think she meant anything by that, but we figured it was appropriate. Promptly at a quarter of two yesterday, we found the booth in Ag Hall, next to the butter sculpture, after talking the car parkers into letting us park closer.

We had two items to attract folks, kids in particular. One was a giant pizza wheel, which they could spin and whatever kind of pizza it landed on, they were to answer a question regarding it. For instance, if it was a cheese pizza, the question might be "where does the cheese come from?" Well, they could usually answer that, but the more difficult one was "How many different kinds of cheese are there?" I would never have guessed that the answer was more than 400! Neither did anyone else.

The other activity was grinding whole wheat into flour with a little hand grinder. That seemed to fascinate folks, especially kids, and we sent them home with a baggie of whole wheat flour to bake something with. It was surprising to me how many told me they had some kind of grinder, usually electric, at home. We also reminisced about how it reminded us of the old hand corn shellers.

By: Pat Meierhenry

There was a fiberglass cow near us, with teats that actually gave a response. Lots of grown ups just had to see if they could still do it, and there were lots of laughs about aiming for the cat's mouth. Kids tried it, too, but with little success.

I had to try the honey ice cream, and it was delicious. I checked out the other booths, and was struck by how many actual ag related organizations we have in this state: the Grange, WIFE, Nebraska Cattlewomen, the bee keepers, NRD, corn growers, wheat growers, soy bean producers, the dairy association, and the beef producers.

It was a slow afternoon and Mike ended up visiting with John Hansen from the Farmer's Union booth, whom he had become friends with on the NRD board some 25 years ago. We ended up with complimentary tickets to the Beef Pit, where we finally saw someone from Wayne county: Trevor and Amy Topp. The prime rib sandwich was very tasty; we recommend it if you are going.

Apparently, the crowd was at the open air auditorium for Three Dog Night, not a big draw for yours truly, but certainly for a certain age group; I saw Peg Behmer heading there with a huge bag of pop corn. We headed home to recuperate! Oh, one more thing, it was the first time in my life I had to wear a jacket to the fair. It was cool.

Spreading manure on alfalfa requires precautions

Stock piles of manure can be seen around the area just waiting for that special time of application to the crops. Bruce Anderson, extension forage specialist from UNL, shares some ideas and suggestions on using manure on alfalfa.

Water testing available at State Fair

Fairgoers can have their drinking water tested for nitrates during the Nebraska State Fair in Lincoln Aug. 26 - Sept. 4.

Individuals who get their drinking water from domestic wells can bring a cup-size sample to the Devaney Sports Center (Booth C11) on the fairgrounds between 10 a.m. and 9 a.m. except on Sept. 4 when the booth will be open between 10 a.m. and 6 p.m.

There is no charge for the test, which takes about 10 minutes.

Nitrates are a health concern for infants under six months of age and pregnant women. High levels of nitrates interfere with the blood's ability to carry oxygen and cause "Blue Baby" syndrome.

The water testing is sponsored by the Nebraska Department of Health and Human Services Regulation and Licensure. For more information, contact the Environmental Health Services Section, (402) 471-2541.

If you have manure to spread during the summer, sometimes the only place available is an alfalfa field. But, manure can cause problems on alfalfa. Liquid manure can burn leaves due to salt injury, and dry manure can smother plants if it is applied too heavily or in large chunks.

Manure can spread weed seeds, and the nitrogen in manure can stimulate grasses already in the alfalfa to become more competitive. Also, manure application equipment can damage alfalfa crowns and compact soil.

Obviously, spread the manure on other land if it is available to avoid any of these problems. But, if you have no other choice but to spread manure on alfalfa, follow these suggestions:

First - apply less than three thousand gallons of liquid manure or ten tons of solid manure per acre to minimize salt burn or smothering. If manure is "dry, adjust" the spreader to break up large chunks that can smother growth.

Second - spread manure immediately after removing a cutting to minimize direct contact with foliage.

Third - only spread manure when fields are dry and firm to limit soil compaction and avoid wheel traffic damaging plant crowns.

And finally - if you wish to stimulate grass yield, apply manure to fields with lots of grass, otherwise select fields with little grass if you want to minimize grass competition.

Manure is an excellent source of nutrients and can enhance biological activity and soil physical properties. But be careful when applying it to alfalfa so you don't do more harm than good.

Graduation losses always figure into coaches' preseason outlooks, but this season's Wayne High volleyball team is hoping to offset its departures with depth and returning experience.

"I feel we will be competitive with a few core players returning," Blue Devil coach Joyce Hoskins, who is entering her 14th season at WHS, said.

Outside hitters Kara Hoeman and Michelle Jarvi, middle hitter Angie Ahrenholtz, plus Jessica Kranz, all return this season.

Newcomers Sam Dunklau, Justin Carroll, Kaitlyn Centrone, Megan Loberg, Liz Kenny and Courtney Preston are all expected to contribute to the team this season as well, Hoskins said.

"Our strength is that we will have some depth on the bench," she added. "But one area we will need to improve is with our younger players gaining varsity experience."

Hoskins said conference tests will come often as the team will face Norfolk Catholic, Pierce, West Point Central Catholic and Battle Creek over the course of the season.

The district competition will also be tough as three of those teams (Norfolk Catholic, Pierce and Battle Creek) along with Madison will all be on the docket later in season.

Wayne opened the season on Aug. 31 at the Northeast Nebraska Classic.

Assistant coaches for the Blue Devils this fall will be Dale Hochstein and Diana Davis.

Wayne Blue Devil football fans can expect to see more experience on this fall's team.

The downside this season will be arguably one of the tougher schedules in the state, due to district alignments.

WHS head coach Kevin Finkey knew when districts assignments were announced last winter that the Blue Devils were in for a challenging road ahead.

"What a tough, tough district," he said. "Norfolk Catholic, Pierce, Battle Creek and Crofton."

Throw in a season opener at state qualifier Wakefield and a road trip to South Sioux City during the third week of play and one can see the tests that await Wayne this fall.

The Blue Devils hope to continue with their aerial attack to keep opposing defenses busy.

Quarterback Nate Finkey will once again have speedy receivers Nathan Summerfield and Ransen Broders, plus the strength of Josh Fink at fullback at his disposal.

Jon Pieper will anchor the line that includes Matt Davis, Chris Sherry and Bren Vander Weil.

Other players returning with experience include defensive back Ronny Backman, Jacob Nissen at offensive end and linebacker Matt Poehlman.

Newcomers Derek Poutre and Shaun Kardell are also anticipated to make contributions to this fall's squad.

Assistant coaches this season include Duane Blomenkamp, Ben Weih, Anthony Lawrence, Matt Schafer, Brandon Foote and Jay Fink.

"Last year was a tough year, but we got a lot of experience," Coach Finkey said. "Our weakness is the lack of depth. Injuries will play a major factor on the season, but if we stay healthy, we should be competitive."

Wayne High coach Rocky Ruhl said the optimism is running high for this season's Blue Devil boy's cross country team.

The team will return six runners with varsity experience, including senior Joe Mrsny who was plagued with injuries last season.

"With a year of maturity, plus the return of Joe Mrsny, along with some new faces on the team, our expectations are high," Ruhl said.

Ruhl is entering his 20th year as coach of the Blue Devil squad.

Newcomers Jesse Hill and Zach Long should make contributions to the team this fall as well.

Rocky Ruhl's 20th season at the helm of the Wayne Blue Devil cross country program is hoping for a small, but effective girls squad for 2006.

With only three participants heading into the fall workout runs — Regan Ruhl, Becca Dowling and Anna West — Coach Ruhl said he's still hoping to add two or more runners to the squad yet this season. "If we can add a couple of quality girl runners, we can be very competitive," he said.

Regan Ruhl has three years' experience, while Dowling is entering her second second with the team.

Wayne opened the season on Aug. 31 at the Wisner-Pilger Invite and will host a home invitational on Sept. 15 and a dual with Norfolk JV on Oct. 3.

The goal of returning to the state tournament for the third consecutive season is already on the minds of the Wayne High girls golf team.

First-year head coach Liz Garvin and assistant Johnna Olson have already noted the team is anxious to use its collective experience to accomplish great things for the program this season.

"The girls did a great job last year going all the way to state," Coach Garvin said. "With four returning starters, we will try to meet that goal again this year."

Returning team members Sheree Kathol, Kourtney Schmale, Liz Baier and Maddie Moser, plus the addition of two freshman golfers will round out the squad this season.

"The main focus is to keep a positive attitude and have a fun and successful season," Garvin added.

The 2006 Wayne High softball team will see some new faces along with those who have been part of a program that's only lost seven games in the past two seasons.

WHS head coach Rob Sweetland enters his fifth season at the Blue Devil reins looking to replace Jean Pieper, Kayla Hochstein and Brooke Anderson, who graduated last spring.

"Replacing the lost seniors will be a competitive challenge for our players," Sweetland said. "With ten freshmen, every one at every position is going to be pushing for playing time. That would make our depth a strength."

Mirisa Carroll will return to the mound as pitcher along with Sara Frerichs and Alesha Finkey, who will alternate at the catching spot.

Finkey will also see time in the outfield, while Frerichs will also provide her valuable leadership skills at infield.

Returning starters Sam Denklau and Nicole Rauner will handle third and second base chores, respectively.

Rounding out those with previous varsity experience are center fielder Leslie Backstrom and designated hitter Steph Owens.

"I think we will see a mentally tough team that will outwalk opponents this season," Sweetland added.

The assistant coaching lineup this season will remain intact as Nathan Wall and Kristin Hochstein both return to the squad this fall.

Newcomers expected to help the team this season include six freshmen who bring a wealth of experience from years of play in Wayne's summer softball programs.

Shannon Jarvi is expected to enhance the pitching corps, while Dacia Gansebom, Riley Hoffart and Andrea Pieper will likely see time in the outfield.

Jarvi and Bayli Ellis were also noted as being ready to see action in the infield.

Shortstop Caitlin Gustafson was also named as a newcomer to watch this fall.

The Blue Devils will once again embark on a tough tournament schedule this fall with a number of multi-game dates behind them when they host their own home tournament on Saturday, Sept. 23.

The team open the season at home on Thursday, Aug. 24, against Genoa Twin River.

"All our games are important," Sweetland said. "Our district includes last year's state-runnerup, Logan View. West Point Central Catholic and Tekamah-Herman will also be the main competition for us."

The second home game for the Blue Devils will be on Thursday, Sept. 7, against Tekamah-Herman.

Another tough schedule, plus replacing a talented group of graduated seniors will be the challenges awaiting the Allen volleyball team this fall.

Gone from the roster this season are familiar starters Samantha Bock, Erin Keitges, Carla Rastede, Alissa Koester and Erin Stewart.

Head coach Denise Hingst, set to start her 10th year with the Eagles, said leaders should emerge on the team as the season progresses.

"Look for the entire junior class of girls to be contributing all season," she said. "We have a lot of girls out with a lot of talent to go with them. I will also look to a great group of seniors for leadership and younger players stepping up on varsity.

Missy Sullivan returns this season as an Eagle assistant coach.

Hingst said Allen's tough schedule this fall includes meetings with Bancroft-Rosalie, Newcastle and Wynot.

The first home contest for the Eagles will be on Sept. 14, against Emerson-Hubbard, while the squad opens the season on Aug. 31, at the Northeast Nebraska Classic.

Back row: Daniel Johnson, Cody Stewart, William Gnat, Drew Diediker, Heath Roeber, Keith Jorgensen and Jarret Warner.

The 2006 Allen Eagles will be looking to earn their way back into the state football playoffs after a two-year absence.

AHS Coach Dave Uldrich, plus assistants Corey Uldrich and Casey McGhee, welcomed 27 athletes to fall camp and have noted that all players are working hard to improve upon last year's 2-6 season.

"We have a group of very hard-working guys," Uldrich said. "The numbers are high and the the enthusiasm is high. If the efforts that they are give are an indication of things to come, it could be an excellent season."

Returning letter winners and starters for the Eagles include seniors Luke Sachau, Chris Blohm, Derek Hingst and Ross Rastede.

The seniors will have the support of junior lettermen Michael Bock, Scott Chase, Drew Diediker and Charley Green, along with sophomore letter winners Scott Wilmes and Corey Klug.

Sachau will lead Allen's running backs, while Hingst is a returning all-district honorable mention lineman from the 2005 squad.

Others expected to make an impact on the team this year include Luke Woodward, Jacob Malcom, Scott Wilmes and Corey Klug and Sioux City West transfer William Gnat.

"We will have to eliminate little things like turnovers and penalties to be successful," Uldrich added. "We hope that injuries stay away and we can do our very best every night we step on the field."

Bloomfield, Newcastle and Wynot should be three major challenges for the Eagles. Coleridge also returns experience and speed and should give the Eagles a solid test this season.

A solid core group of returning players should provide plenty of spark for the Laurel-Concord volleyball team as it seeks to improve on last season's 12-14 finish.

Head coach Patti Cunningham said her team possesses excellent ball control and a desire to shine at the net this fall.

"The team is looking forward to a successful season," said Cunningham, who is entering her 14th season of coaching at LCHS, "if they remain injury-free and develop a strong offensive attack to compliment their ability to keep the ball in play, they will do well."

The combined team of Laurel-Concord and Coleridge will field a squad of 16 runners for the schools this fall.

Although the team lost one of its star runners, Mindee Haahr, to graduation, her sophomore sister Megan, looks to continue on from her successful freshman season.

Megan earned fourth place at last year's state meet in Kearney after strong finishes at meets over the course of the season.

The team will also be paced by a number of returning upperclassmen.

"We are very excited about the large number of new runners this year," coach Paul Timm said. "The students will have to stay focused and continued to push themselves to be better in practice."

Nick Hansen and Cody Wragge are expected to provide leadership for the team's boy's runners.

A second round state playoff finish in a loss to eventual state champion Plainview and a 6-4 overall record should provide an excellent starting point for the 2006 Wakefield High football team.

Trojan head coach Justin Smith embarks on his ninth season at the Wakefield helm with a group hungry to make another statement this fall.

"This is a very hard-working group of upper classmen," Smith said. "Depth is an issue on the line, but if we are healthy we could have one of the best lines in Class C-2."

The offense will seek to replace graduated seniors Luke Henderson (quarterback), linemen Dakota Roberts and Anthony Storm and tight end Cory Gustafson.

Returning starters for the Trojans include: Garek Bebee, Jared Miller, Dex Driskell, Brady Nicholson, Paul Moody, Evan Bartels, Joel Nixon, Tim Haglund, Ian Miner, Yancey Sherer, Saul Ortiz, Ben Henderson, Drew Rose and Ryan Klein.

Smith expects challenges this season from Wayne, Creighton, Ponca and Laurel-Concord.

Last year's 6-3 finish and trip to the first round of the state football playoffs are still fresh in the minds of Winside Wildcat football fans.

Mark Koch embarks on his third season and 13th year of coaching overall looking to replace vacancies left by graduated starters Cody Lange, Colby Langenberg, Jarad Thies, Mark Hawkins and Justin Nathan.

"We need to put together a line," Koch said. "If we can get a solid offensive line, we will have the ball-handling positions to have a quality season and I feel if we stay injury-free and continue to improve throughout the year, we could get into the playoffs."

Returning starters for the Wildcats include junior quarterback Jordan Brummels, senior running back Dewey Bowers, center Matt Peter and senior defensive backs Justin Tullberg and Jared Roberts.

Koch added he's expecting significant contributions from newcomers Travis Brockman (guard/linebacker), Tucker Bowers (end) and Zach Jaeger (guard/defensive end).

Bancroft-Rosalie's visit on Oct. 6 and a Sept. 15 road trip to Newman Grove will provide solid tests for the Wildcats this season.

"Bancroft-Rosalie should be the odds-on favorite to win the district," Koch said. "However, if we play to our capabilities, we should give the district a run."

Winside opens the fall campaign with a home contest against Osmond, on Friday, Sept. 1, and also hosts Macy Omaha Nation (Sept. 22), Bancroft-Rosalie (Oct. 6) and Hartington (Oct. 20).
