Parking ordinances receive final approval

By Clara Osten
Of the Herald

After several months of debate and numerous revisions, two parking ordinances received final approval at Tuesday's meeting of the Wayne City Council.

Considerable discussion was held on Ordinance 2006-10, which deals with parking regulations for recreational equipment.

As passed, the ordinance requires that all recreational equipment be parked behind the building line except for a period of 72 hours for loading and unloading.

Dan Pries spoke to the council and questioned the three-day time frame.

He said he felt the ordinance was "an intrusion on the use of private property" and asked "what are we trying to do here?"

Council member Doug Sturm said the council has "taken a lot of time to make this ordinance right."

After debating whether or not to put the issue on hold, council member Betty Reeg said, "has has gone on long enough and we need to move forward."

A second ordinance related to parking, Ordinance 2006-4 also received third reading approval.

It prohibits parking on grass or unimproved areas in front of the building line or on the city owned terrace.

Also on the agenda at Tuesday's meeting was a public hearing on a request by NE Colorado Cellular, Inc., doing business as Viero Wire for a Use by Exception request to construct a building in the 300 block of Main Street and install a 125 foot tower behind the building.

John Luisi, a representative of the company, was on hand at the meeting to explain that the company is a small, rural cell phone company that is expanding into northeast Nebraska. The firm expects to hire at least two full-time employees at the Wayne office.

The council also held a public hearing and passed an ordinance and resolution in regard to the upcoming year's fiscal budget.

City Administrator Lowell Johnson presented several graphs and charts explaining the source of city funds and the percentages spent in various departments.

He noted that with a decrease in the levy and an increase in property valuation, the city's tax asking portion is significantly less than 20 years ago.

He said that the 2006-07 budget includes no major staffing changes in city personnel. He also cautioned that increases in water, sewer and electric rates are possible

Budget, property tax request approved

Wayne Community Schools Board of Education met in regular session Monday night. A budget hearing and property tax request hearing was held prior to the regular meeting.

During the hearings, discussion was held on last year's budget compared with this year's budget. Total last year for the following funds (general, bond, special building) was $4,162,210. Principal and interest on the bond was $298,960. This year the total is $4,647,551.09 and the principal and interest on bonds is $497,273.79.

Last year's property tax request was $3,885,044.18. The tax rate last year for District 17 was 1.16736047. This year, the property tax request is $4,213,788.57. The tax rate for District 17 is 1.20221243 - (four cents difference from last year). Valuation in District 17 last year it is $358,913,006 and this year it is $392,867,094, which is a 10-11 percent increase.

During the regular meeting, several coaches were hired: Kevin Finkey as Middle School Head Track Coach, Josh Johnson as High School Assistant Track Coach, Dave Hix as High School Assistant Boys Golf Coach and Matt Schaffer as High School Football Coaches Aide.

Board members voted on the 2006-07 budget and also voted on the tax request and both were approved.

Teacher negotiations were approved. Teacher base pay increased from $26,025 to $26,300.

Also, a Masters column was added to the salary schedule which increased salaries for those teachers above a Master's degree.

Darla Munson, secretary at the Middle School, had a contract request. In August, she asked the board, superintendent and elementary school principal to consider revisiting her number of vacation days she is eligible for. In December, 2005, her position changed from 11 months to 12 and she was put on the beginning vacation schedule (five days). She has been employed in the school system for 18 years. This issue was held for executive session.

Two bids were received from Arnie's Ford Mercury in Wayne. Board members approved purchase of a 2005 Ford Windstar priced at $17,296. The purchase will replace a mini van that was being used for driver's ed.

Cheryl Suehl, a teacher at Wayne Elementary, gave a summary of summer school. She noted the program was very successful and asked the board to keep money in the budget for next year.

Amy Jackson, Wayne High art teacher, and several of her students showed the board proposals for an 12'x8' art fine arts mural for the lecture hall. The board approved her request.

Josh Johnson, social studies teacher at Wayne High, noted the Mock Trials program has been expanding and he asked for more help. Johnson has been coaching the program for three years, starting with six students and having over 30 students now. He said Mike Pieper, Wayne County Attorney and Amy Wieblhaus, an assistant county attorney from his office, are volunteer lawyer coaches. The students take part in Nebraska Mock Trial competition every year. The board approved hiring an assistant if Wayne Educational Association approves.

Second readings were held on policies: #1200-open meetings act-types, schedule

Governor awards Laurel CDBG funds

Governor Dave Heineman has awarded Laurel $241,000 Community Development Block Grant (CDBG) funding to help Giant A & M, Inc., a manufacturer and wholesale supplier of automotive branded advertising products expand its operations to Laurel. The company will create 13 full-time positions. As a result of the project, estimated impacts that are expected over time could result in as many as eight secondary jobs in other sectors of the area economy.

"I am so proud of the efforts of communities and economic developers all across Nebraska in taking advantage of the tools they have available," Gov. Heineman said.

"Whether they use the Nebraska Advantage or federal CDBG funds, the jobs these important programs help create are engines for economic growth in communities of all sizes."

Laurel will loan the company $236,000 for working capital, to purchase stamping, injection molding, screening and welding equipment, and to consolidate existing equipment from its California operations to the new Nebraska location. The remaining $5,000 will be available to the city of Laurel for administrative expenses.

An additional $1.072 million from Giant president Lynn Madsen, Security National Bank of Laurel, the Nebraska Economic Development Corporation, and program income funding from the city of Laurel will go toward construction of a 10,000 sq. ft. manufacturing and warehouse building addition, new equipment and working capital.

Giant A & M, Inc., will convert a former bank in Laurel into its Nebraska headquarters, and build an addition to the manufacturing facility located along Highway 20. While the company's California manufacturing and assembly plant will close, its principal sales office there will remain open.

Suspect arrested for violation of Wayne vending ordinance

On Monday night the Wayne Police Department received several complaints of door to door sales people trying to sell magazines without a vendor's permit. The sales persons were telling people that they were involved in a sales contest to earn trips overseas. The vendors said they were selling magazines for Atlantic Circulation, Inc. A company spokesman said she had no knowledge of any contest.

Nineteen year old Rusty Revels, of Una, S. C., was arrested for violation of the Wayne Vendor Solicitation ordinance. Revels had been stopped by the police after the first complaint and was told to obtain a vendor's permit. He failed to obtain the permit and was arrested approximately one hour later.

Shortly after 9 p.m. the Wayne Police Department was called to assist Wayne State College Campus Security with six people who were soliciting sales on campus. Wayne State College strictly prohibits solicitation on campus and the six people were also violating Wayne city ordinances. During this investigation the police ascertained that three of the six vendors stopped were suspected of committing felony crimes out of the state of Nebraska.

The joint police campus security investigation also revealed suspected fraudulent sales tactics, such as telling people to give cash for a "children's hospital" without providing receipts. Students who purchased magazine subscriptions or gave cash to these itinerant sales people were given their money back.

Wayne Police Chief Lance Webster wants to remind people to ask questions of anyone trying to solicit them. The City of Wayne requires all non-resident door-to-door sales people to register at the Police Department and obtain a Vendor's Permit. This permit must be carried by the sales person and should be presented upon request by any citizen. Webster also said using an out of country trip or high pressure sales tactics are common in vendors trying to sell magazine subscriptions door to door.

He said the buyer should beware. He said one person in Wayne purchased a subscription and paid 20 percent more for 40 percent fewer weeks than a subscription could be purchased from the magazine itself.

Webster said a Google search of the company, Atlantic Circulation, Inc. showed a number of hits alleging fraudulent activity on the part of this company. The company spokesperson, Danielle Brown, said Atlantic Circulation, Inc. does not hire the door to door sales staff. She said these are all independent contractors and there are paid based on what they sell.

Leviticus later earned bachelor's and master's degrees from Technion, Israel Institute of Technology and a Ph.D. from Purdue University.

He is Professor Emeritus and curator of the Larsen Museum at the University of Nebraska - Lincoln. As a professor at UNL, he specialized in biological systems engineering (power/machinery) and served as director of the Nebraska Power Lab and Tractor Testing Laboratory.

Leviticus will encourage his audience to take a stand against the beginning stages of discrimination, address misconceptions about the Holocaust and explain the impact of the Holocaust on individual lives and families. His parents were killed at Auschwitz in 1942.

Beth Dotan will join Leviticus for the 2 p.m. presentation. Dotan directs the Institute for Holocaust Education at the Plains States Regional office of the Anti-Defamation League in Omaha. She has a master's degree in Jewish education from the Hebrew Union College-Institute of Religion in Los Angeles. She has worked as an interviewer in Israel for Steven Spielberg's "Survivors of the Shoah Visual History Foundation" and at Yad Leyeled Children's Memorial at the Ghetto Fighters' House Holocaust and Jewish Resistance Heritage Museum in Western Galilee, Israel. Border security is election year issue

By Ed Howard
Statehouse Correspondent
The Nebraska Press Association

A scribe can't take much of a bow for being correct when it turns out that several hundred other keyboard braggarts made the same, obvious and easy prediction.

The notion that those cosmetic congressional hearings on illegal immigration were going to amount to anything - in an election year - was a load of codswallop from the start.

It wasn't hard to understand the election-year intent and know that there would be no meaningful outcome prior to the November balloting.

Nebraska Senator Ben Nelson sided more than a year ago with those in the Senate, and the House, who said nothing would be accomplished unless legislation centered on border security.

Nelson's continuous demand for "border security first" reflected the views of lots of voters, but not the political strategy and policy views of a Senate majority. Nelson warned that nothing was likely to get past the House if it didn't center on locking down the borders, while avoiding anything akin to amnesty.

Nebraska Senator Chuck Hagel took the lead for the other side, carrying a proposal viewed favorably by the White House. Adopted by the Senate, it included provisions that critics - Republicans and Democrats - decried as a type of amnesty for millions of "illegals."

Hagel said from the get-go that an overall approach to the issue was required. He and Nelson obviously disagreed. And all three Republican members of the Nebraska House delegation - Tom Osborne, Lee Terry and Jeff Fortenberry - voted against the Hagel plan.

Hagel recently began warning Republicans that November voters would be annoyed and might seek retribution if some legislation, especially border security provisions, is not enacted.

That move understandably annoyed Nelson, and others, who earlier warned that a broad program would never win approval in the House, let alone get through a House-Senate committee intended to forge a compromise.

The view previously published here: Everyone in the Senate and the House knew that the summer hearings were a stall; nothing more than a sop to voters. Something which might look like something, while doing nothing. The do-nothing wheeze was regarded as the most politically safe scheme.

The comparatively new concern among many in Congress is that the smokescreen did not work, that a passel of voters want three things: border security, border security and border security.

The Hagel-Senate plan included tougher penalties and fines for those who hire people who are in the United States illegally.

The senior Nebraska Senator raised eyebrows among the border security-first constituency when he said: "We would fully expect that this new law . . . would be absolutely enforced just like any law in this country."

The current view from here: It is unlikely that many Nebraskans would have great expectations for any immigration law, the anticipated effectiveness of which would reflect the current standards of enforcement.

Main Street Focus

The excitement is building for the Nebraska Lied Main Street Fall Conference and Awards Program which will be held Sept. 28-29 in our own city and hosted by Main Street Wayne.

Get ready to "Capture the Excitement" as our Main Street nears the completion of its summer-long construction work and hopefully we will be able to show-off our new sidewalks and street lighting to our guests from throughout Nebraska and Main Street Programs from other states.

If you are a business person in Wayne, and if you do not fully understand the Main Street Program, you need to take at least Friday off to attend the conference - you will come away with a better understanding of what the Main Street Program can do for our town.

On Thursday visitors to our community will be able to tour the Main Street Project, the new bank as it nears completion as well as upper floor development projects and alley beautification. That will be followed by one of the Nebraska Lied Main Street's favorites, "Resources for Downtown," an open session for participants to talk with state agencies and Main Street representatives about project ideas or questions that you might have. A "Networking Supper" will cap the day at the Wayne Country Club.

On Friday morning, Sept. 29, forget your cup of coffee and join Nebraska Lied Main Street Director J.L. Schmidt for some power walking on our beautiful trail system. Your wake up call will continue as we welcome Oklahoma Main Street Assistant Director Matthew Weaver for two high energy sessions. Matt will wake you up and keep you as he leads two morning sessions no Wayne businessperson can afford to miss, "Developing Main Street Road Maps," and "Company's Comin!"

Road Maps are the structure upon which the Vision of the community is managed - they motivate volunteers to achieve specific goals and provide benchmarks for success. When Road Maps are effectively implemented, they can also attract donations for specific projects, improve the success rate of projects and greatly reduce confusion and conflict. The second of the two morning sessions deals with tourism in communities. You will discover how to look at your community through the eyes of the tourists and what you need to do to get ready for them. Bring your mental backpacks and prepare to hike around your community to find out what needs to happen, 'cause Company's Comin!"

Friday's lunch will feature a keynote address and the release of the latest reinvestment statistics from Lt. Governor Rick Sheehy, who is no stranger to Nebraska's main street. Friday afternoon's program includes the all-time favorite round table sessions that are always a success at Main Street Conferences.

The day will be concluded by an evening barbecue cookout and awards program at "The Barn." Kick back, put on your jeans and join us for a non-alcoholic event. Dusters in Columbus will be providing kegs of Root Beer and Cream Soda.

Mark this on your calendar and support the Main Street Wayne Program as we attempt to show-off Wayne to our fellow Main Street participants. You can volunteer to help at the conference by calling Sandra Bartling at the hospital or her home. By volunteering, your registration fee will be cut in half. However, you will still have to pay the full price of the barbecue and awards dinner.

Want to know more about how important Main Street is to Wayne and the state of Nebraska? Join us on these days. Call the WAEDI office for registration materials, but don't drag your feet, registration deadline is approaching quickly.

Residential parking issues discussed

City Council Meeting

The next council meeting will be Tuesday, Sept. 26 at 7:30 p.m. in the city office building at 306 Pearl Street.

Parking in Residential Areas

There are changes in the parking ordinance for residential areas. In the past the ordinance required all major recreational vehicles parked in front of homes in residential areas to be in a carport or garage. In the past there has been very little enforcement of that restriction. Lately as motor homes and boats have become larger we have fielded more complaints from neighboring property owners about the blocking of view down the street from their front yard and in some cases the difficulty seeing around neighboring rigs when backing out of driveways.

Parking is clearly an issue where there is no right way or wrong way. Each community must determine the kind of residential neighborhood it wants to maintain. Most city zoning ordinances for residential areas with single family homes reserve open green space lawns, lower density building and restrictions on types of vehicle parking allowed. The presence of large vehicles in front of the homes creates conflicts with the open space concept and so they are often required to be parked beside or behind homes.

The new Wayne parking requirements in residential areas now are as follows:

- Recreational equipment must be parked beside or behind homes.
- Commercial type vehicles cannot be parked on residential terraces.
- Motor vehicles parked in front of homes cannot be parked on grass but must be parked on concrete, asphalt or contained crushed rock areas without weeds and dirt showing through.

- No more than one half of the front yard can be used for parking.
- Driveways must have the curb ground down for access off the street.

Annual conference to be held

Nebraska's premier conference on downtown revitalization will be held in Wayne Sept. 28-29. "Main Street: Capture the Excitement!" is the theme of Nebraska Lied Main Street's 12th Annual Conference. This year's conference features hands-on tours of outstanding downtown projects in Wayne and two high-energy and information packed training sessions from Matthew Weaver, former deputy director of the Oklahoma Main Street Center. Weaver and the staff and partners of the Nebraska Lied Main Street program will be available both days to offer their expertise and answer questions about downtown revitalization and historic preservation in Nebraska.

Also, back by popular demand, is the Main Street roundtable session where selected communities will make short presentations for conference attendees, sharing their secrets on how they accomplished successful and highly visible projects in their communities, providing ideas on how others can carry out similar projects.

Lt. Governor Rick Sheehy will be the Friday luncheon speaker and share his enthusiasm for Main Street, highlight community successes over the past year and announce the annual economic reinvestment numbers.

Friday night's banquet and awards program will be an informal affair at The Barn, east of Wayne. A barbecue cookout precedes the awards program and the induction of the three newest Main Street communities.

Further information is available by calling the Main Street office at (402) 323-7337 or on the Main Street website www.nebraska.mainstreet.org in the future as Nebraska Public Power passes on rate increases and the city prepares to make improvements or construct a new facility.

Johnson also noted that 10 years ago, the city's operational costs paid for by property taxes amounted to just over $546,000. Today, that number is approximately $580,000.

The council passed Resolution 2006-65, which will approve an application to the Game and Parks Land and Water Conservation Fund for a grant for lighting at the Summer Sports Complex.

Darrin Barner spoke to the council on behalf of the Wayne State College Rugby Team.

He asked council to approve additional buildings that have been placed at the Rugby Field to store equipment that has been acquired recently.

The council approved the buildings that are currently in place, but asked that no more be added without council approval.

Representatives of the Siouxland Blood Bank were at the meeting to request the council waive the rental fee and deposit for use of the Fire Hall for monthly blood drives.

In the past, issues of who was responsible for cleanup of the facility after the drive have come up.

Jan Twaitt with the Blood Bank said she was not made aware of these issues and apologized to the council.

"I am more than willing to clean up after each blood drive. We cannot afford to pay a rental fee," she said.

Following discussion, the council voted unanimously to waive the fee and deposit.

While acting as a Community Development Agency, the group took action on a revised purchase agreement with the correct legal description for the 21 acres of land being purchased, selected Elliott and Associates to complete a preliminary plat for the land and appointed Don Buryanek, Kaki Ley, Lois Shelton and Will Wiseman to serve on a TIF Agreement Review Committee.

Mayor Lois Shelton appointed Doug Sturm and Darrel Fuelberth to the Wayne Golf Course Improvement Committee.

The council's next regularly scheduled meeting will be Tuesday, Sept. 26 at 7:30 p.m. in council chambers.

Josh Fink takes to the air to block a pass attempt by Tekamah-Herman quarterback Ethan Warren in last Friday's Blue Devil home win.

Blue Devils soar in home victory to move to 1-1

Much like heavy rains darkened the skies north of Wayne last Friday evening, the Wayne High Blue Devil football team eclipsed Tekamah-Herman 51-6 on the field at Wayne State College.

The Blue Devils rattled off 51 unanswered points as quarterback Nate Finkey threw for 205 yards and was 8-of-11 with three touchdowns in the offensive blowout.

Not only was the offense motivated in the win — which improved WHS to 1-1 on the season — but the defensive unit also posted impressive statistics on the night.

Ryan Pieper blocked a pair of back-to-back Tekamah-Herman punt attempts, while Nathan Sieler came up with two recovered fumbles and Jason Carollo and Chris Sherry scooped up one fumble apiece.

The Wayne defense kept TH scoreless through three quarters and was paced by Matt Poehlman with 12 solo tackles and Josh Fink, who recorded 10. Nathan Summerfield also provided a defensive highlight with an interception return of 50 yard for a touchdown in the second quarter.

Wayne's offense found success with a balanced mix of rushing and throwing and cranked out 709 yards, 272 on the ground and 437 of the arm of Finkey, who also led all rushers with 89 yards.

Ransen Broders lead Wayne's receiver corps with 200 yards, Cory Harm completed 87 yards and Summerfield finished with 71 yards. All three players, plus Josh Fink, recorded touchdown receptions. Fink also had a rushing touchdown in the first half.

Wayne will travel to take on an improved Class B team at South Sioux City (2-0) on Friday, Sept. 15.

Ransen Broders sidesteps for a touchdown in Friday's home victory against Tekamah-Herman.

Winside 42, Coleridge 13

WINSIDE — Winside ran to a 28-6 halftime lead over visiting Coleridge before the game was stopped because of lightning with three minutes and three seconds left in the second quarter.

The Wildcats picked up where they left off after a 45 minute delay scoring 14 third quarter points resulting in a 42-13 win over the Bulldogs.

Dewey Bowers matched his opening week total of four touchdowns scoring on runs of 4,10,4 and 11 yards leading Wildcat scoring on the night. Bowers gained 123 yards on 16 carries and added 11 tackles to his night's work.

Jordan Brummels connected with Jared Roberts on a 40 yard scoring strike with Garet Hurlbert adding the last Wildcat tally with a three-yard third quarter run.

Freshman Kalin Koch carried the ball 13 times for 95 yards also adding a 13 yard pass reception from Brummels, while Hurlbert added 16 yards on six carries.

The final quarter was played by the Wildcat junior varsity with Blake Hokamp adding a 35-yard carry to the Winside offensive game total of 283 yards rushing.

Winside had 19 first downs with the defense, holding Coleridge to 5 first downs.

The Wildcat defense held their opponent under 100 yards rushing for the second week in a row, limiting Coleridge to 71 yards on the ground.

Travis Brockman led the Wildcat defensive effort with a pair of sacks resulting in 17 yards lost for the Bulldogs, while Zach Jaeger, Chase Langenberg and Hurlbert also contributed sacks to the Winside defensive totals.

Brockman tallied 13 tackles with Jaeger and Will Janke added eight stops for the Wildcats.

The Wildcats will host Newman Grove in a 7 p.m. home contest Friday.

Allen 46, Rising City 6

ALLEN — Even with a delay of 1 hour and 45 minutes due to weather, Allen upped its season record to 1-1 with a 46-6 home win over Rising City on Sept. 8.

The Eagles set the tone early with a first possession three-and-out against the visiting Terriers and marched the ball to the end zone for the first touchdown of the season when Chris Blohm ran in for a score from three yards out at the 6:56 mark in the first quarter.

Luke Sachau added another Eagle touchdown on a 13-yard jaunt, and Blohm connected with Michael Bock for a 13-yard TD completion to give Allen 19-0 advantage after the first quarter of play.

Blohm — who finished 4-of-5 passing for 55 yards — threw another touchdown pass to Drew Diediker from 17 yards and Scott Wilmes ran in untouched from the 25-yards out to boost the Eagles to 31-0. Bloom connected with Sachau on the conversion to give Allen a 33-0 halftime advantage.

The Eagles opened the third period with a tough running drive and Chris Blohm ran in from the three-yard line to stretch the score to 40-0.

Rising City recorded its only score of the game on a broken play in the third quarter when Dion Kover hit paydirt on a 75-yard scoring run.

Diediker added Allen's final score of the night on a 46-yard run at the 3:03 mark in the final quarter.

Allen's defense rose to the occasion with William Gnat (15), Scott Chase (13), Corey Klug (12), and Derek Hingst (10) all recording more than 10 tackles.

"Our defense continues to set the tone and the intensity level at which our entire team plays," Allen coach Dave Uldrich said. "They played with directed passion and purpose."

The Eagle offense racked up 310 yards and were led by Sachau with 110 yards and Blohm with 51.

Allen travels to Winnebago on Friday, Sept. 15.

Wakefield 48, Lyons-Decatur Northeast 7

LYONS — Wakefield cracked into the state's Class C2 rankings at No. 10, thanks to a dominating 48-7 road win on Sept. 8.

The Trojans (2-0) left little doubt of their statewide ranking after the first half as the team jumped out to a 41-0 lead at intermission.

Tim Haglund opened the scoring frenzy in the first quarter with a 10-yard scamper, followed by another TD in the first frame on a 42-yard run by Joel Nixon.

The second quarter was all Wakefield as the Trojans piled on 29 unanswered points. Ryan Klein scored two in the quarter off a pair of short runs, while Saul Ortiz added an extra point and Drew Rose connected with Nixon to notch a two-point conversion.

Haglund, who lead all rushers with 127 yards added his second touchdown of the night on a 36-yard scamper and Paul Moody scored a touchdown on a short run to cap the half.

The Trojans allowed their only touchdown in the third frame, but Hagland added his third and Ortiz nailed an extra point to round out Wakefield's scoring.

Nixon also had a successful evening as the Trojan quarterback racked up 92 yards rushing in the victory.

Wakefield will face a tough road test this Friday, Sept. 15, when they visit state-ranked No. 2 Creighton.

Creighton 45, Laurel-Concord 20

LAUREL — The first test of a competitive season for Laurel-Concord's football team came a day late as heavy rains on Sept. 8 forced the cancellation of that evening's scheduled game and move the contest to the next night.

Creighton, currently ranked No. 2 in the statewide C2 polls, overtook Laurel-Concord 45-20 here in a tough battle where the host Bears were haunted by costly mistakes and 10 fumbled snaps.

Creighton scored a touchdown in the first quarter and LCHS back Brian Saunders responded in the second frame with 14-yard run to pull the game within 7-6. The LCHS point-after attempt failed and Creighton went to work to capitalize on the Bears' miscues to score 14 more points before the half to 21-6 lead at intermission.

The Bulldogs added another TD following the break, but Saunders — who finished with 185 yards on the night — ran back a 90-yard kick return to narrow the gap.

Saunders added another TD off one more kickoff return and Heath Erwin added a two-point conversion run in the fourth to close out the game at 45-20.

"I am very proud of the team and how they kept pushing and fighting through the tough parts," Laurel-Concord coach Terry Bear said. "We have to clean up our mistakes and things will be different this week."

The Bears will have another tough challenge this week with a road contest at Plainview on Friday, Sept. 15.

Laurel-Concord's Tony Jacobsen leaps over a Creighton defender to gain a first down in last Saturday's home matchup with the state-ranked Bulldogs.

Three members of the Wayne State College women's golf team participated in the Interstate 80 Classic played last Thursday in York and Friday in Hastings.

Dakota Wesleyan won the nine team tournament with a 672, 21 shots better than runner up Hastings College. The individual medalist was Kelli Baseley of Dakota Wesleyan with a 161, shooting rounds of 84-77.

"I was pleased with the second day results," remarked WSC women's golf coach Troy Harder. "York is a hard course for anyone to play and the girls came back with a solid performance at Lochland the second day to give us strong momentum heading into our tournament on Friday."

The Wayne State women will host the Wildcat Fall Classic on Friday, Sept. 15, at the Wayne Country Club starting at noon, while the men will be playing two 18-hole tournaments, also at the Wayne Country Club, Thursday, Sept. 14, at 1 p.m. and Friday, Sept. 15 at 9 a.m.

Blue Devils now 7-5

The Wayne High softball team moved to 7-5 on the season after two home contests and a weekend tournament at David City.

The team fell 3-2 at home to Tekamah-Herman on Sept. 7 after the visiting Tigers took advantage of two Wayne errors in the sixth inning to plate the game winning run.

Mirisa Carroll went 2-for-3 at the plate and notched a double, while Riley Hoffart also added a double for the Blue Devils.

Leslie Backstrom and Sam Denklaun recorded runs in the home loss.

Wayne won the earlier JV contest 10-3 as Jessica Calhoun, Caitlin Gustafson each tallied two runs on the night.

Another big inning doomed the Blue Devils in the first game played at the David City Tournament played in Schuyler on Sept. 9.

Wahoo Newman plated five runs in the fifth inning to erase a previous three-run deficit and sneak to an eventual 6-3 win.

Carroll moved 6-5 on the season with the pitching loss.

Wayne had its chances for the victory as the Blue Devils had runners at second and third base with no outs in the seventh inning.

The game slipped out of reach when a hard-hit line drive turned into a double play to end Wayne's attempt.

Nicole Rauner finished 2-of-4 at the plate and scored a run, while Hoffart batted in a pair of runs.

Rainy weather led to the cancellation of the third game of the tourney after Wayne posted a 3-0 lead over Seward. The game, however, didn't count as a completed

WSC soccer tallies wins

Two more wins and a second-place conference standing.

Lots of good things are happening for the Wayne State women's soccer team, now 4-2 on the season.

Three goals in the first 16 minutes lifted Wayne State to a 3-0 win over Missouri Western last Wednesday afternoon at the WSC Soccer Complex.

The host Wildcats struck early as Jenna Pendley scored her first goal of the season off a crossing pass from Cassidy Goc at the 3:36 mark to put WSC ahead 1-0.

Katie Kelley's goal off a corner kick from Pendley at the 8:06 mark gave the GCats a 2-0 lead and the same two hooked up again at the 15:03 mark to give Wayne State a commanding 3-0 lead.

Wildcat goalkeepers Jamie Anderson and Rachel Fuchs combined to shut down the visiting Griffons as Wayne State posted the 3-0 win.

WSC recorded 13 shots to Missouri Western's seven and held a 10-3 shots on goal advantage in the contest.

Anderson finished with two saves, while Fuchs made a solid save in the 85th minute off a shot from Missouri Western's Meigan Soo to preserve the shutout.

M.A. Liebenritt's one goal and two assists propelled Wayne State to a 4-0 non-conference win over Doane College Sunday afternoon at a rain-soaked WSC Soccer Complex.

WSC opened the scoring early as Pendley scored off a crossing pass from Liebenritt at the 3:57 mark to put the Wildcats in front 1-0.

The Wildcats pushed the lead to 2-0 in the 32nd minute when Megan Kenealy scored her second goal of the season off a pass from Liebenritt.

Less than four minutes later, Liebenritt scored her third goal of the season on a pass from Valerie Robinson to give WSC a comfortable 3-0 lead at the intermission.

The lone goal scored in the second half was a 35-yard blast off a free kick by senior defender Sarah James at the 59:33 mark, giving Wayne State the 4-0 win.

Wayne State held a commanding 20-2 advantage in shots over Doane College.

Goalkeepers Anderson and Fuchs combined on the shut out for WSC with Anderson making the lone save for the Wildcats.

Wayne State was scheduled to travel to the University of South Dakota on Wednesday for a non-conference match.

Each of the 180 chalkboard bus pinups papering the store's front wall represents a $1 donation to be used in purchasing new school supplies for local elementary school children whose families could not afford to buy them this year. The Pamida Foundation matched the 180 bus $1 donations made by Wayne Pamida customers and a check for $180 was presented to Daryl Schunk, principal of Wayne Elementary School in a presentation on Sept. 9. Wayne Elementary plans to use the money for various projects, including monthly recognition gatherings and assemblies.

and has been operating in Norfolk since 1999. Its primary purpose is to help all those who are affected by unplanned pregnancy with all of its implications.

Agape Pregnancy Care Center helps women and men by offering education and support about prenatal care, fetal development and newborn care. Trained volunteer mentors offer one-on-one support to help answer questions about some of life's most difficult questions - "How will I support my baby by myself?"; "I'm the baby's father, do I have any rights?"; "I don't know if I could possibly go through with adoption, I need more information"; "I've got a new baby and I have so many questions"; "If I have an abortion, will that choice affect me in the future?" - just to name a few.

In addition to providing services to help address the aforementioned questions, APCC is adding a sexual integrity program to help empower young people to make wise sexual decisions that affect their emotional and spiritual health. All services are free and confidential and mentors can be reached 24/7 by calling a toll-free helpline - 1-866-844-5683 OR by communicating with someone online at info@agapepcc.org.

Walkers are needed who will commit to navigating the fitness trail at Wayne State, which takes about an hour. Each walker recruits sponsors who pledge a dollar amount to the walker. No money is collected by the walker - the center will invoice all sponsors. Funds this year will go towards the new sexual integrity program; further developing our site in Wayne, and to operating expenses.

The following churches in Wayne have registration information: Calvary Bible Evangelical Free Church, Journey Christian Church, Praise Assembly, St. Mary's Catholic, First Presbyterian Church and also the following churches in the Laurel area: United Lutheran Church, United Methodist Church and Concord Evangelical Free Church.

Sister Cecilia at Providence Medical Center has registration forms. Interested persons can also contact Amber Olson at the center for more information or to request registration forms at 402-844-3000. There will be a walk in Norfolk on the same day at Skyview Lake Park.

Leadership Nebraska accepting applications

Sept. 8 was the official announcement of the State Chamber's Leadership Nebraska program and the beginning of the application period for the inaugural class. Applications will continue through mid-October and the first class will be notified in December.

"The program is aimed at persons who have demonstrated community and professional leadership experiences. The program will offer six 1 1/2-day to 2-day sessions per year that would give class members an opportunity to develop and hone leadership skills and gain a broader understanding of issues facing Nebraska," said Bob Harris, chairman of the State Chamber's Leadership Nebraska Council.

Sessions will begin with an Orientation Retreat at Mahoney State Park Feb. 14-16, 2007; a session on Public Service in Lincoln in March; an Agriculture session in Scottsbluff in early May; the Economic Development session in late June; the Education session in Kearney in late July and early August; and the Health/Healthcare/Human Services session in Norfolk in September. A graduation ceremony will be held in Lincoln in October.

At each leadership session, recognized authorities - practitioners, teachers, professionals and analysts - provide information and insight into program topics. A variety of views will be presented on each topic considered, and visits are made to local sites to reinforce, through observation and practical experience, the subject matter of the program.

Eventually, a statewide network of Leadership Nebraska alumni targets areas of involvement and actively engages in finding solutions that will enhance Nebraska's future growth and prosperity. We intend to have the alumni also conduct an ongoing series of meetings and programs to strengthen relationships developed and to maintain and enhance the knowledge gained during their Leadership experience.

Selection is competitive and applications are due in mid October. Candidates learn the decision of the Selection Committee in December, are introduced to the state at the State Chamber Annual Meeting in early February, 2007. The sessions begin in late February.

Tuition for the 2006-07 Class will be $3,000. Meals and lodging are included, but participants are responsible for travel costs to the class site. Scholarship funds based on need are available.

Nomination Forms for the next class may be submitted through Oct. 15, 2006. Those interested in applying are not required to have a third party nomination; self-nominations are encouraged. A tax-deductible non-profit 501(c)(3) organization has been organized for The State Chamber's Leadership Nebraska, and we have been successful in obtaining some grant funds, notably from the Peter Kiewit Foundation.

The program is still in need of financial support and would welcome sponsors and donors to help underwrite costs, help match our Kiewit Foundation grant, and provide for scholarships for qualified candidates.

For more information on any aspect of the State Chamber's Leadership Nebraska program, please contact Council Chairman Bob Harris or Executive Director Don Mihovik at the State Chamber office.

Applications are available at www.statechamberleadershipnebraska.com, or call the State Chamber's Leadership Nebraska office to obtain an application through the mail.

The State Chamber is Nebraska's largest statewide business association, comprised of large and small companies and firms, trade associations, and local chambers of commerce.

Runestad earns promotion at Concordia College

Concordia graduate Eric J. Runestad has been named the new director of Cultural Events and Music Organizations at Concordia College in Moorhead, Minn.

Runestad brings 12 years of management experience in arts administration to the position.

Since 2004 Runestad has been executive director of the Wisconsin School Music Association and was also responsible for the Wisconsin Music Educators Association and the Wisconsin Foundation for School Music in Waunakee, Wis. He managed the daily operations of the 1,000-member association of public and private schools, the 2,000-member professional organization of music teachers and a philanthropic foundation supporting music education. Runestad previously served for 10 years as executive director of the Minnesota Music Educators Association, where he was responsible for the daily operations of a 2,000 member professional organization of music educators.

Runestad is the co-author of a guidebook to managing music education associations and was chair of the National Council of MENC State Managers. He supervised construction and managed operations of the $2.2 million, 16,000-square foot Wisconsin Center for Music Education, the first of its kind in the nation. The facility includes a recording studio, music technology center, resource library and space for meetings and workshops.

Runestad succeeds Lowell Larson who retired last spring after 25 years of service to the college. Runestad will take over a diverse portfolio of activities at Concordia, including planning and booking the annual Cultural Events Series, management of the college's music organizations including recordings and tours, serving on committees such as the Nobel Prize Forum and Symposium and hosting special campus events.

Runestad is son of Cornell Runestad of Wayne.

Take advantage of the health benefits in soybeans

Harvest season is closing in and there is lots of talk about corn and soybeans. Let's visit a little bit about the health benefits of the soybean crop that will soon come out of the fields in Northeast Nebraska.

Soy protein can be a good substitute for animal products because unlike other beans, soybeans contain all the amino acids in the correct balance that are essential to good nutrition. Soy has been linked to improved heart health, as well as decreased risk for some types of cancers.

Soybeans are approximately 40 percent protein, 20 percent fat, 35 percent carbohydrates and five percent minerals. The benefits of soy can be found in its protein because the protein contains isoflavones.

Soy isoflavones are called phytoestrogens or plant estrogens, which act as a weak form of estrogen. Research on the health benefits of soy has been in the form of whole foods, not soy supplements. Consuming over 40 grams of soy per day, as a supplement, can slow the production of thyroid hormone. A diet that incorporates whole soy foods does not interfere with thyroid hormone production.

Soy isoflavones can reduce menopausal symptoms and bone loss. They also can prevent LDL cholesterol from harming the walls of blood vessels by decreasing the formation of plaque in the vessel wall. Research is mixed on soy and cancer risk reduction. Soy foods added into the diet of younger adult women were shown to be beneficial in decreasing the risk of breast cancer. However, in older women it may have the opposite effect, especially when consuming more than 40 grams of soy per day in the form of supplements.

Kim Barnes
Extension Educator

Soy foods come in several forms: traditional, second-generation, and "hidden" soy products.

Traditional soy products can include soy nuts, soy flour, soy milk and tofu. One-third cup of soy nuts has 20 grams of protein, tofu can contain 9 to 20 grams of protein per cup and soy milk has between 6 to 10 grams of protein per eight ounces. Soy milk can be added to baked goods and desserts, poured on cereals or used to make smoothies. Soy flour can increase the protein of breads, cakes and cookies.

Second-generation soy products can include meat analogs and soy dairy products, such as cheese and yogurt. Soy meat products can be grilled or used in sandwiches or lasagna and on pizza. Soy cheese contains six grams of protein per ounce and soy yogurt contains about five grams of protein per six ounces.

"Hidden" soy products can be found in cereals, protein bars and soy drinks. Two cereal products currently on the market that have added protein are Quaker Oats' Nutrition for Women and General Mills' Harmony. Protein bars usually have soy added along with other forms of protein. The bars vary a lot in their soy protein content, so check the label. Powdered soy usually is added to make soy drinks.

Soy products can be added to a diet in a number of ways. Begin adding soy slowly to get used to the texture and taste. Once accustomed, gradually increase consumption to 25 grams per day.

Mission Festival planned at Immanuel Lutheran

The annual Mission Festival will be held Sunday, Sept. 17 at Immanuel Lutheran Church of rural Wakefield.

Newly ordained Sudanese Minister for Lincoln and Omaha, the Rev. John Deang of Lincoln, will be the speaker for the service, which begins at 10:30 a.m.

A potluck dinner will be served following the service. The Rev. Deang, a native of the Upper Nile of Sudan, was deployed by the Nebraska District to Sudan to assist the EICS. While in Sudan, Rev. Deang also visited emerging congregations. After 21 years of war, peace has come to Sudan, allowing Sudanese to return to their homeland from refugee camps. LCMS World Mission and the Sudanese Lutheran Mission Society of Sudanese Americans have helped Lutheran congregations to form in refugee camps and in Sudan.

While in Sudan, Rev. Deang was joined by Nebraska District President Russ Sommerfeld and the two attended the installation of a bishop and the ordination of two pastors, as well as the dedication of a new brick church building.

The public is invited to attend the Mission Festival.

Emergency loans available from Farm Service Agency

Farm Service Agency (FSA) Wayne County Office has announced that family farmers in four counties who suffered physical or production losses due to damages and losses caused by drought and severe weather that has occurred from Jan. 1, 2006 and continuing, may be eligible for Farm Service Agency (FSA) Emergency (EM) loans.

The counties designated include Burt, Dakota, Thurston and Washington.

These four Nebraska counties became eligible for this assistance because they are contiguous to one or more of the 20 Iowa counties that were designated on Aug. 31, 2006 by the Secretary of Agriculture due to this disaster.

Family farmers interested in finding out if they are eligible should contact either Craig Rowland, CED Dakota County, Vickie Peterson, CED Burt County, Everett Moore, CED Thurston or Mark P. Moser, Farm Loan Manager, Wayne County for more information.

They can be reached Monday through Friday between 7:30 a.m. and 4:30 p.m. at (402) 494-4949 (Dakota County), (402) 374-1920 (Burt County), (402) 846-5655 (Thurston County) or (402) 375-2453 (Wayne County).

Emergency loan applications are available and must be submitted through the local FSA county office from any applicant who qualified for a physical or production loss (at least 30 percent reduction from normal) in a single enterprise from this disaster in the counties.

To qualify for an EM loan, an applicant must be an established family farm operator; provide evidence of having suffered a qualifying physical or production loss; be unable to obtain suitable credit from a source other than FSA.

The low interest loans may cover up to 100 percent of their actual production losses, up to a maximum amount of $500,000. The applicants must show ability to repay the loan and the loan must be adequately secured. FSA loans for production losses may be used to buy feed, seed, fertilizer, livestock or to refinance certain debts.

The current interest rate for EM loans is 3.75 percent. The deadline for submitting applications is May 1, 2007.

In addition to the Emergency (EM) Loan Program, FSA has other Direct and Guaranteed Farm Operating and Farm Ownership Loan Programs, which can be considered in assisting farmers to recover from their losses. Additional information about FSA Farm Loan Programs is available at www.fsa.usda.gov/dafl

Life is good with rain, cooler temperatures and relaxing retreat

For much of the summer, we could not get rain. Now, it won't quit! It's Tuesday morning, and the forecast is for sunshine this afternoon. But the temperature will only get to 70 and overnight has been 55. Which makes for mighty good sleeping. We haven't had the AC on for two weeks, which should help the electric bill a lot.

I got back to northeast Nebraska last weekend, and noticed a lot of silage cutting going on. There was also hay down in several places. And there was only one melon stand on Highway 81 on Saturday afternoon. As I slowed down, he got out of his pickup, and I apologized for getting him out into the rain. He smiled and said that after 40 years, he knew to be prepared for anything. He even had a port a potty nearby. That had been one of my goals, a Norfolk melon, and the muskmelon was a bonus.

I was a guest at the annual LWML retreat at Our Savior in Norfolk; the theme was SPA, spiritual and physical awakening. There were over 160 women there, of all ages, including an infant in a tote basket. I did not hear one peep from her. And the committee carried out the theme in style.

There were candles and sea shells in the middle of all the tables, along with a big white towel tied with lavender. The art of aromatherapy teaches that lavender relaxes, and there was even lavender soap in the bathrooms, along with a basket of the plant.

We were truly entertained and

By: Pat Meierhenry

pampered, beginning with a praise band from the host church. Then a local pastor, whose mother has been a life-long LWMLer, led us in a Bible study encouraging us in the disciplines of healthy living. And he set the tone by reminding us that we are spiritual, physical, and mental creatures, needing food and exercise for all three.

There were breakout sessions that included hand massages, foot massages, talks on nutrition and exercise with therabands, uplifting messages, and a prayer walk in a small labyrinth. The only thing missing was a back rub, and we did that for each other.

I have yet to explore the labyrinth which is just down the street from us at a church. But I understand the good Benedictine sisters in Norfolk have installed one near their convent. The process asks us to quietly walk the path, and focus on the concerns of our hearts. Hopefully, by the time we reach the center, we have turned those concerns over to our Father, who has promised to care for them.

Oh, yes, we practiced deep, abdominal breathing. The experts tell us that we do not breathe right! It needs to be the way our voice teachers in high school kept preaching; in through the nose and all the way down to our belly. That, folks, helps us to relax.

Of course, lunch was all salads, wonderful ones. It was a fun day, a welcome break, and good for the body, mind, and spirit. AMEN!

Decisions need to be made on alfalfa cutting

The weather has thrown some curves to the alfalfa producers in northeast Nebraska during 2006 with early rains and drought during the summer.

The early rains allowed a good first cutting and re-growth for the second cutting and as rain became less frequent, there was doubt about getting a third cutting. Rains provided a third cutting for most producers and now the decision is when and if to cut again.

Producers must remember that the last cutting of alfalfa should be timed close to a killing frost which is usually around mid October. This will not allow the alfalfa to grow and to build up root reserves for the winter so the crop will be able to emerge in the spring and produce well.

Del Hemsath
Extension Educator

Cutting too early in the fall, allows the alfalfa to spend energy for new growth before the killing frost and result in possible winter kill. If timing does not allow the cutting at this time before frost, waiting until after the frost is another option. Cutting time decisions need to be timed according to the rain and frost forecasts for this coming fall. This is difficult to do, but it is time to do some planning about the upcoming harvest cutting times.

These types of decisions are especially critical for new plantings of alfalfa where the cutting times are a little different from the established stands. It is critical for the new plantings of alfalfa that the new plants be allowed to develop root reserves for the winter months. New plantings are also more tolerant of cutting during the winterizing period because of new variety characteristics, so decisions to cut or not should be based upon individual fields. Older fields can tolerate the late cuttings and if one is going to rotate out of alfalfa, the decision to cut is a lot easier.

Antique and garden show being planned

The third annual Antique and Garden Show at Lauritzen Gardens, Omaha's Botanical Center in Omaha will run Sept. 29 through Oct. 1. The show will feature nearly 30 antique dealers, lectures by design and antiques experts and thousands of rare antiques on display and for sale.

This year's show brings several new offerings for various interests including an added "Shop the Show" event, unique firearms exhibit, new dealers and renowned speakers. The show will teach, entertain and inspire. General admission tickets are $10 each and allow admission to all three days of the show. The show will be open from 9 a.m. to 5 p.m., daily, rain or shine and free parking will be available.

Lauritzen Gardens is a 100-acre botanical garden, comprised of many outdoor garden areas. The visitor and education center includes the 5,000 square foot floral display hall, a cafe, gift shop, resource library, classrooms, banquet area and a community room.

Lauritzen Gardens is open 9 a.m. to 5 p.m. and the cafe serves lunch from 10 a.m. to 2 p.m., every day except Thanksgiving, Christmas and New Year's Day. Lauritzen Gardens is located in the riverfront hills at First and Bancroft streets and is close to the Henry Doorly Zoo, Rosenblatt Stadium and the Old Market. three miles west of Allen or three miles east on Concord at 58158 866 Road.

Everyone is invited to come to watch AND participate in picking corn by hand. Lessons will be provided at the time of registration. Age categories for picking are 0-10 years of age, 11-18 years of age, 19-50 years of age and 50+. Each picker will do a five minute pick and winners will be determined by the greatest number of ears picked (deductions will be made for ears left on the stalk).

Plans are to have three rows being picked at the same time with FFA members serving as the timers, counters, and gleaners, and horse-drawn wagons being used to throw the picked corn into. There will be no admission or registration charges; there will be a concession stand on the grounds.

The Dixon County Historical Society will have items relating to the corn picking on display at the site.

Fill the boot

The Wayne Eagles Club and the Wayne Volunteer Firemen conducted the third annual "Fill the Boot" event to benefit the Muscular Dystrophy Association. The event was held on Labor Day at the Pamida Parking Lot. Organizers noted that the event raised over $1,200 and extended a "thank you to everyone who contributed to the event."

Working with peppers requires care

The season is upon us when many families take to their kitchens and begin canning some of their favorite foods to enjoy during the winter months.

Special care must be taken when handling hot peppers such as jalapeno, cherry, bell cayenne, chili and habanero.

Capsaicin, the oily chemical irritant found in these peppers, can cause irritation, redness and burning pain when handled. The oil is spread easily, so avoid touching areas such as the eyes and face. The best prevention is to wear rubber gloves while canning.

If you develop skin irritation or burning while canning, call the Nebraska Regional Poison Center or your physician. The Nebraska Regional Poison Center recommends the following:

1. Wash exposed area thoroughly with soap and warm water.
2. Cold water has been recommended but seldom provides long lasting relief.

3. Soaking the afflicted area in liquid antacids has been known to provide relief.

4. Vinegar water or vegetable oil soaks have been shown to be moderately successful in providing relief.

The Nebraska Regional Poison Center offers tips on poison prevention as a free community service. For more information, contact the Nebraska Regional Poison Center by calling 402-955-5555 in the Omaha metropolitan area or by calling toll-free, 1-800-222-1222.

The Nebraska Regional Poison Center is sponsored by The Nebraska Medical Center, Creighton University Medical Center and University of Nebraska Medical Center.

With the Heroes Unite, It's About Life campaign coming closer and closer to arriving at its end at the Siouxland Community Blood Bank, it becomes even more urgent for the community or employee blood drives to recruit as many donors as possible to ensure patients in their area, like Doug Campbell, will have blood and blood products when necessary.

Your next opportunity to donate in Wayne is on Thursday, Sept. 28 from 8:30 a.m. to 3 p.m. at the Fire Department.

Doug Campbell was injured in a mowing accident and urgently received 200 units of blood and blood products in only 48 hours. Because of thoughtful, heroic blood donors, Doug is still with us today to share his courageous story.

The Heroes Unite, It's About Life program helps to save people like Doug and other patients in need. The campaign began May 1 and will run through a fast approaching Sept. 30.

Many communities still have the opportunity to hold additional blood drives, and potentially affect their ranking a great deal. Community support and participation is integral to the success of this program, as blood donors are working hand in hand with fire, rescue and police units in town to save the lives of their friends, families, and neighbors.

To date the top 25 communities include: Wayne and (rest in alphabetical order): Boyden, Iowa; Carroll, Iowa; Cherokee, Iowa; Coon Rapids, Iowa; George, Iowa; Hartington; Hull, Iowa; Ida Grove, Iowa; Le Mars, Iowa; Manning, Iowa; Mapleton, Iowa; Mitchell, SD; Merville, Iowa; Onawa, Iowa; Orange City, Iowa; Pender; Pocahontas, Iowa; Remsen, Iowa; Spencer, Iowa; Storm Lake, Iowa; Sutherland, Iowa; Yankton, SD; Wagner, SD; and Yankton, SD.

The top three communities with the highest percentage of blood donors registering to donate in comparison to the combined size of their fire, police and rescue squads combined will win a sponsored donation towards community fire and rescue equipment.

Cash awards for Heroes Unite, It's About Life are provided through corporate sponsorship from Cargill Inc., Prestige Collision Repair and McClintock Insurance.

To be eligible to donate blood individuals must be at least 17 years of age; however there is no upper age limit as long as the donor is in good health. In addition donors need to weigh at least 110 pounds and have not donated whole blood in the past 56 days. And remember, a photo I.D. is required at the time of registration.

For more information about "Heroes Unite, It's About Life", the Siouxland Community Blood Bank or blood drives in your area, call 712-252-4208 or 800-798-4208 or visit their website at www.siouxlandbloodbank.org

CONCORDIA'S RUTH CIRCLE

Concordia Ruth Circle met at the church on Sept. 7 with eight members and visitor, Verlyn Anderson, present. Doris Nelson opened the business meeting with a poem entitled, "Have You." Minutes were approved. Concordia Ruth Circle will have the program on Sept. 21. The group was reminded of the guest night at Trinity in Martinsburg on the 13th at 7 p.m.

Vandelyn Hanson led the Bible Study, "Make Sense of Suffering," from the series, "Hope In God In Time of Suffering." The theme verse was Psalm 22:1 and 2. Does God cause suffering? Does God allow suffering? Is sin always the cause of suffering? These questions and many more were discussed.

The offering was lifted and table grace said. Doris Nelson served refreshments. Tentative hostesses for the Oct. 5 meeting will be with Opal and Minnie Carlson at the Oaks with Suzie Johnson leading the Bible Study. If this does not work, our meeting will be held at the church with a 'no-host' lunch served.

Cutest pet photo contest open to local residents

The International Pet Owners Club has announced that over $10,000 in cash and prizes will be awarded in the 2006 Fall Cutest Pet Photo Contest.

Pet owners from the Wayne County area are welcome to win their share of the prizes. The contest is open to everyone and entry is free. Dogs, cats, rabbits, etc. are welcome.

"Every pet owner has at least one photo that shows just how cute their pet is," said Rosa Bonheur, contest chairman.

To enter, send one photograph (full color or b/w) size 8" x 10" or smaller. All photo entries must include the photographer's name and should be sent to: 2006 Fall Photo Contest c/o The International Pet Owners Club, P.O. Box 1908, Pittsburg, Kan. 66762.

Entries must be postmarked by Oct. 15, 2006. You may also submit your photo directly online at www.cutestpetcontest.com.

DORCAS EVENING CIRCLE

Dorcas Evening Circle also met at the church on the 7th. Lynette Krie led the Bible Study and Danita Hanson was hostess.

BRIDAL SHOWER HELD

A "By the Hour" Bridal Shower was held at Concordia Lutheran Church on Sept. 9 to honor Mandy Vollers of Coleridge. Peg Lutt introduced the bride and her family. She then opened the program with a Candlelight Memory Service in memory of the two Grandmothers who had passed.

The group was asked to finish the 'cliche' sayings of years gone by and compare them with how Mandy would finish them. Doris Nelson and Suzie Johnson gave a skit about getting a marriage license at the Motor Vehicle Bureau. Gifts were opened which had been purchased for different hours of the day. Table was decorated in the bride's colors of egg-plant and champagne.

Mandy and Jeremy Bruning of Coleridge will be united in marriage at Concordia on Saturday, Oct. 7. Hosting the shower were Peg Lutt, Charm Vollers, Carolyn Alt, Georgia Addison, Dawn Addison, Suzie Johnson and Alyce Erwin.

RALLY SUNDAY

Rally Sunday was held at Concordia Lutheran on Sept. 10 to kick off the beginning of the new Sunday School year. Camp songs and familiar choruses were sung. Pastor Karen gave a children's sermon "We Are All God's Children" and a sermon for all about the "Showing of Kindness to Everyone." A 'potluck' lunch was enjoyed following worship.

 2006-07 County Budget - As a result of the hearing the following questions were addressed by the board:
 □ Many of the road projects are being held up due to right of way negotiations.
 □ The county would need to draw up a deed to return unused land previously deeded for right of way purposes.
 □ Included in the Reappraisal Fund is residence photographing in 2007 and funds accumulating for cadastral map replacement.
 □ Funding for a part-time Emergency Manager will be available. Janssen and Denklaui were authorized to advertise the position as presented in the job description.
 □ The Veterans Service Officer salary can be appealed to the board in January.
 □ Snow Removal and Equipment fund can be used for any road/bridge expenditure except salaries. At the end of the fiscal year each road district deposits their unused operating budget funds into their respective portion of the Snow Removal & Equipment fund. The fund has been primarily used to purchase road maintenance equipment and for costs associated with bridge construction.
 □ The number of employees per road district depends on how each district delegates the work.
 □ The impact of maintaining procedures on road crowning was discussed.
 □ Wurdeman expressed his concern with transferring $50,000 out of each district's snow Removal & Equipment fund to balance the budget. He felt his district does not have enough funds on hand to make the transfer and operate his district in 2006-07. Miller felt that the transfer should be made rather than requesting additional tax dollars or transferring out of Inheritance Tax Fund.
 □ Motion by Miller, second by Wurdeman to approve the base restricted funds by an additional 1%. Roll call vote: all ayes, no nays.
