Voters express opinions at the polls

Fifty-eight percent of eligible Wayne County voters expressed their opinions by casting ballots in Tuesday's general election.

This number includes 470 voters who cast absentee/early ballots. County Clerk Debra Finn noted this number was considerably higher than the 200 votes cast early in the primary election in May.

In Wayne County races, all incumbents vying for re-election retained their positions.

County Clerk Debra Finn, County Treasurer Karen McDonald, County Sheriff LeRoy Janssen, County Attorney Michael Pieper, County Surveyor Terry Schulz and County Assessor Joyce Reeg, were unopposed in the election.

Clerk of the District Court Debra Allemann-Dannely defeated challenger Onar Spar by a 2,095 to 972 margin.

The County Commissioners race, Kelvin Wurdeman was unopposed in District I, while in District III Republican James Rabe defeated Democrat Jeffrey Farren.

In city races, Mayor Lois Shelton retained her position by defeating Anthony Lawrence by a margin of 1,105 to 292.

City council races that were contested included Ward 2 in which Dale Alexander (227 votes) defeated Kelby Herman (148 votes) and Ward 4 where Kenneth Chamberlain was the winner over Patty Wieland (325 to 171 votes).

In the race for Wayne Airport Authority, Logan McClelland and Carl Rump were top vote getters.

In the race for School District 17, Wayne Community Schools Carolyn Linster, Mark Evetovich, Jr. and Jeryl Nelson will fill the three open positions.

In School District 95R, Winside Public Schools, the top three vote getters were Steven Jorgensen, Scott Watters and Laurie Ljenemann. They defeated John Thies and Dana Bargstadt.

In the race for trustees in the Village of Carroll, the winners were Mark Tietz and Kirby Hall.

County Clerk Finn noted that due to a lack of a full slate of candidates, recounts will take place for the positions of trustees for the Village Boards in Hoskins and Winside.

In Hoskins, James Miller and Debbie Stueckrath and a third, yet to be determined person will fill the three positions on the Village Board. Dean Mann was the only candidate to have his name on the ballot for the three positions for Village Board.

According to unofficial results, Joel Hansen was the winner in the race for the at-large position for Director of the Lower Elkhorn Natural Resources District (NRD). He defeated Jean Lutt by a margin of 10,993 to 10,122.

In state races, Wayne County voters followed the lead of fellow voters, electing Dave Heinemann as governor, Ben Nelson as U.S. Senator, Jeff Fortenberry as House of Representatives for District 1, John Gale as Secretary of State, Shane Osborn as State Treasurer and Mike Foley as Auditor of Public Accounts.

All results are unofficial at press time.

Poll workers at the Carroll City Auditorium prepare ballots for voters, while voters at Our Savior Lutheran Church in Wayne cast ballots on Tuesday.

Children's Book Week to be celebrated

The love of books and reading, is passed from adult to child; generation to generation, and from peer to peer, is a lifelong treasure that helps uncover the secrets of the universe. The week of Nov. 13-19 marks the 87th annual observance of Children's Book Week, with this year's theme, "More Books, Please!"

The Children's Book Council, encourages all parents and caregivers to spend time with their kids this week exploring the exciting world of children's books in your local library.

"Take your child to hear an author speak or see a storyteller perform, or to visit the Wayne Public Library and spend time looking through books. Look at the covers and the pictures inside; read the descriptions, a few pages, or the entire book," said Julie Osnes, Youth Services Director at WPL.

"Take a couple of books home with you. Each day this week we will also have special activities for young people to enjoy after school," Osnes said.

Planned activities include, Monday, mask activity; Tuesday, making collages;

Wednesday, mini pillow activity; Thursday, snowflake activity and Friday, cookies.

These activities will be led by students from Pam Langley's Introduction to Early Childhood Education Class, who are participating in the Service Learning Program at WSC. The goal of this program is to provide students with opportunities to apply course knowledge and skills to community projects. In turn, this allows the students to recognize the value and importance of civic engagement in today's society.

"If you can't go out, celebrate at home. Read your favorite books together. Act out a favorite scene. Have a party with some snacks from your kids' favorite stories, such as Stone Soup," Osnes said.

"Reading shouldn't be a chore, and there's no better way to make reading fun for your children than to make it a family activity. You'll have a great time with your family and give your children a love for this valuable experience that will serve them well for years to come. However you choose to celebrate, Happy Children's Book Week from the Wayne Public Library!"

The first Children's Book Week celebrated the goal of bringing parents, teachers, librarians, booksellers and publishers together "to talk about books and reading and, out of our knowledge and love of books, to put the cause of children's reading squarely before the whole community, and community by community, across the whole nation. For a great nation is a reading nation."

Eighty-seven years later this noble cause is as important as ever before. During Children's Book Week, and indeed every week, parents have the opportunity to share with their kids the joy and wonder of reading. Reading is a tool, a tremendous tool, without which life is very difficult. But reading can, and should also be an enjoyable and exciting experience. Everyone who's ever cried with Wilbur the Pig, laughed with Charlie and Willie Wonka, run with Tom and Huck or just spent an afternoon with Harry Potter, knows how a book can change lives in ways both great and small.

Commissioners listen to discussion on plat maps of two new subdivisions

By Lynn Sievers
Of the Herald

Wayne County Board of Commissioners met in regular session Tuesday at the courthouse in Wayne. George Ellyson, Wayne City Planner, was present to review plat maps of two subdivisions. The first of which is Pick's First Addition, west of Greenwood Cemetery. Ellyson noted two parts of a larger tract are being sold; the acreage and 21 acres. The Community Development Agency is buying the 21 acres.

The second subdivision is Kardell Industrial Park, east of Logan Creek and Centennial Road. Ellyson noted Kardell is keeping the acreage and Wayne Industries has a purchase agreement for lots 2, 3, and 4. The City of Wayne will retain ownership of lot 5 because it is where the old city landfill is located. Ellyson informed commissioners there would be a dedication to the county of 33 feet on the West and North side and 60 feet in the center of the area.

Commissioner Kelvin Wurdemann informed Ellyson, the County doesn't accept a dedication until it meets their specifications because when a dedication is accepted, responsibility goes with it (such as having to put in a road later, etc.) Commissioners decided to speak to Wayne County Attorney Mike Pieper about the possibility of putting a paragraph in the subdivision agreement that states the county is not responsible for placing a road.

Ellyson said he would relay the message to the committee as the plat goes to preliminary status next Monday night at the next Planning Commission meeting.

LeRoy Janssen, Wayne County Sheriff and Wayne Denklu, Emergency Management Director, addressed the commissioners on the appointment of an Emergency Manager. It was decided a committee of Janssen, Denklu and Commissioner Myron Miller would review applications and come back to the board with a recommendation of who to hire for the position.

Elizabeth Carlson, Wayne County Highway Superintendent, told board members she received a letter from Nebraska Dept. of Roads requesting to have someone travel each Wayne County road and update Wayne County's General Highway Map. Updates would include marking existing houses, businesses, schools, churches, cemeteries, road types, etc. and note changes through the years. Commissioners approved Carlson to undertake the project.

Commissioners approved a request by Qwest to bury utility lines in county road right of way on a Wayne County road near the Thurston County line.

Commissioners received a letter from the Pender Care Centre District, Inc. The letter stated the District is applying for a loan from the USDA to construct a 14-unit assisted living facility to be located at Slaughter and Hwy. 16 in Pender and community support is needed to complete the process. Commissioners approved sending a letter of support for the project.

A report on distress warrant certification by County Treasurer Karen McDonald was discussed. Each year the county board receives a report on uncollected personal taxes as shown by distress warrants returned by the sheriff unsatisfied. Total number of distress warrants issued 11/1/05 was 60; 39 were paid ($12,603.18) and 21 were unpaid ($17,267.76). This year on 11/1/06, there were 55 distress warrants in the total amount of $37,536.68 issued and delivered to the Wayne County Sheriff.

The next regularly scheduled meeting of Wayne County Board of Commissioners is Tuesday, Nov. 21 at 9 a.m. at the courthouse in Wayne.

(Editor's note: In the last story of the commissioners meeting, it was incorrectly stated a bid was accepted from Midwest for a road drag for Dist. #3. It should have said the bid was accepted from B's Enterprises for the road drag.)

High tea at the library

Youth attending Saturday's Fall Storytime at the Wayne Public Library were treated to dress-up clothes, tea and cookies in conjunction with last week's theme, "Tea Party." Above, Julie Osnes, Youth Services Director, serves tea after reading several tea-related stories.

Square dancers to dance in Wayne

Leather and Lace Square Dance Club members danced to caller Elaine Peacock on Oct. 27 with approximately 30 people from several clubs in the area present.

Single Wheelers took the banner home. On Oct. 31, several members from Leather and Lace went to the Single Wheeler Halloween Dance to retrieve the banner, which is now home again.

The pot was split three ways and Dale Preston won the free pass.

The next scheduled dance for Leather and Lace will be Friday, Nov. 10 with Dave Riley calling. The dance will begin at 7:30 p.m. at the Wayne City Auditorium.

The Leather and Lace Club once again is offering square dance lessons on Thursday evenings from 7 to 8:30 p.m. at The Oaks. The group will not meet on Nov. 16 or 23, but will again have lessons on Thursday, Nov. 30.

Spectators are welcome to attend the regular dances.

Investigation leads to arrest of Wayne man

The SNARE Drug Force completed a three month investigation that led to the arrest of Random Wicker, 25, of Wayne. Wicker was arrested without incident for Delivery of Marijuana and Delivery of Steroids. He is currently being held in the Thurston County Jail.

'More Books Please' theme of Children's Book Week

Promote Reading! Children's Book Week will be observed Nov. 13-19 with the theme "More Books, Please!"

Since 1919, educators, librarians, booksellers, and families have celebrated Children's Book Week during the week before Thanksgiving. The theme for the 87th annual observance of Children's Book Week is More Books, Please!

More than ever, Children's Book Week is essential as it was in its beginning in 1919. Today Children's Book Week gives children an opportunity to introduce young people to authors, illustrators, and books in schools, libraries and homes.

During Children's Book Week, Wayne Middle School wants to promote the love of reading through book-related events and spread the joy of reading by spending some time with a book each day.

A popular event with students is Sponsoring an Accelerated Reader test. Students, parents, grandparents, teachers and community members have their favorite books they like to read. They may choose to sponsor the book. Once the student sponsors the book a nameplate is put into the book. For information about sponsoring a book contact Jeaneen Kindschuh, Wayne Middle School library media specialist, 375-2230. Visitors are welcomed during the week to visit the Wayne Middle School Library.

Wayne Middle School will observe Children's Book Week with the following activities:

Throughout the week students may Sponsor Accelerated Reader titles: See Ms. Kindschuh for details.

Monday, Nov. 13, during home-room, seventh and eighth grade "Breakfast Read and Feed" cinnamon rolls and juice, sponsored by the WEB group;

Friday, Nov. 17 during library classes fifth and sixth grade "Celebrate CBW" cupcakes and juice, sponsored by the WEB.

A book drawing will be held for students who checkout books during the week.

Wayne man killed in accident

On Nov. 2 at 3:35 p.m., the Dixon County Sheriff's office received a call of an accident two miles south of Martinsburg on Highway #9. Officers from the Dixon County Sheriff's office and the Nebraska State Patrol responded to the scene.

Investigation revealed that a Northeast Nebraska Public Power

District utility truck was south-bound when the truck lost its back wheels, causing it to roll.

The driver of the vehicle was partially ejected. He was pronounced dead at the scene. Seat belts were not in use.

The driver of the vehicle was identified at 24-year-old John Bessmer of Wayne.

Honey Sunday activities planned

Local volunteers are expected to participate in the distribution of honey for Honey Sunday in the Wayne area.

Several groups from Wayne State College, including the Catholic Newman Center and the Counseling Center, will be selling honey in specific buildings on campus, with others selling off campus.

Throughout the week of Nov. 13-17 volunteers will be selling honey as a fundraiser for The Arc of Norfolk in its work for and with children and adults with developmental disabilities and their families.

Honeybees offer a parallel to the work of The Arc of Norfolk. A honeybee may spend an entire lifetime to produce one and a half teaspoons of honey. It takes many, many bees working together to produce honey. In the same way, it takes many, many parents, siblings and friends working together to effect significant change and improve the lives of children and adults who experience mental retardation and other developmental disabilities.

On Thursday, Nov. 16, a table will be set up in the Student Center from 11 a.m. to 2 p.m. Volunteers will be selling honey at that time.

On Saturday and Sunday, Nov. 18-19 volunteers will be going door-to-door selling honey off-campus.

For more information, or to place an order, email advit01@wsc.edu or call 375-6041.

Spanish classes observe 'Day of the Dead'

Wayne High Spanish classes recently celebrated the holiday of "Día de los Muertos" (Day of the Dead). They held fiestas in which they made and tasted food from Spanish-speaking countries. Spanish 2 also made ofrendas, or altars, to honor someone who has died.

"This is not a sad or morbid celebration," said Rachel Martin, Spanish teacher, "The altars are not for worshipping, but for remembering relatives that have passed away. The deceased's favorite items are put on the altar, such as a certain food or drink. They may also put toys out if it is for a child."

This holiday is believed to have originated in Mexico when the Aztecs celebrated a month long festival of remembering their departed relatives at the end of July and the beginning of August. When the Spanish arrived, in an attempt to help convert the indigenous people to Catholicism, they moved the celebration so that it coincided with "All Hallow Eve" now known as Halloween.

"Altars" were created by Spanish students as part of the "Day of the Dead" celebration at Wayne High School.

LIVE helps make decisions

Dear Editor,
"Because I could not stop for Death - He kindly stopped for me" wrote poet Emily Dickinson.

When Dickinson died in 1886, Americans lived, on average, less than 50 years. Most deaths came quickly, at home, with little medical intervention. Most came from accidents, infection or childbirth.

Today we have significantly reduced death from those sources. Instead, death now often comes from lingering, chronic conditions battled by significant and expensive medical interventions. Today, the overall U.S. life expectancy average stands at its highest level ever: 77.6 years.

But, still, death stops for all of us.

Providence Medical Center Hospice has joined the national "It's About How You LIVE" campaign to encourage those in Wayne and surrounding areas to make informed decisions about their end-of-life wishes - before a crisis hits.

Too many Americans today have not thought through how they would want care decisions made if they can't make those decisions themselves. As a result, loved ones are left guessing, feeling guilty, or, as the Schiavo situation illustrates, in conflict over those decisions.

The "LIVE" campaign encourages individuals to make informed decisions in advance. "LIVE" stands for Learn about options for end-of-life services and care; Implement plans to ensure your wishes are honored; Voice your decisions with family, friends and health and spiritual care providers; Engage in personal or community efforts to improve end-of-life care.

Hospice is a key end-of-life service that surveys continues to show people know little about, even though last year Hospice helped over one million Americans live their last months and weeks with dignity, comfort and compassion. Hospice interdisciplinary teams of health care professionals and trained volunteers provide pain management, symptoms control, emotional and social support and spiritual cares for patients and their families - coping with life-limiting illness. But most Americans do not know, for instance, that hospice costs are paid by Medicare, Medicaid in most states, and most private insurance plans and HMO's.

Providence Hospice is committed to improve end-of-life decision-making and access to quality care. For information about hospice or end-of-life decisions, including Advance Directives, call (402) 375-4288.

Death will stop for you whether you are prepared or not. We encourage you to "LIVE" - Learn, Implement, Voice and Engage. Make decisions for your end-of-life wishes today and share those decisions with each person who might be involved when that time comes. Be prepared - for yourself and for the sake of those you love.

Providence Hospice has been serving Wayne and surrounding communities for over 25 years and has been involved with over 220 patients and families in the last 11 years.

Attack ads prove effective

By Ed Howard
Statehouse Correspondent
The Nebraska Press Association

Do you know one of the big reasons that attack ads are so often effective in every election year? Because there is safety in numbers.

A few decades ago, virtually any negative political advertisement that was outrageously misleading, or probably false, could bring tough questions from reporters.

"This ad said your opponent has a history of violent behavior in public. Actually, he tackled a three-time felon who had just mugged an old lady. So, are you a liar? Or, just a bottom-feeder who figures people are easily misled?"

A truly smarmy campaign ad or ridiculous allegation could itself become a continuing story; one that could ultimately do more harm to the attacker than the attacked.

No more.

What changed?

Numbers changed. The airwaves became flooded with advertisements that purveyed stuff formerly reserved for "whispering campaigns." There were actually those (including some then-youngish political reporters) who figured that "going negative" on television would prove itself a losing strategy. After all, it seemed, if you fib about people and things on tape, eventually you will be caught. Found out. Embarrassed.

When it became obvious that attack ads were often successful, they became standard operating procedure in more and more campaigns. Actually, they became a multibillion dollar industry. Once distortion, falsehood and malevolence became norms, there was no turning back - and that was that.

There aren't enough competent reporters in America to check out all or even the most blatant of disreputable political advertisements.

Once in awhile a real stinker comes along, something that will draw coverage and criticism. These days, however, we are unlikely to hear anyone apologize for falsehoods delivered in tasteless and sometimes vulgar wrapping. The most ridiculous, fact-bending drivel will find defenders - in either party - who will stand by their positions with the fervor of Darrow and Bryan.

After school hours prove to be deadly for teen drivers

Many parents rightfully worry about their kids being on the road on Friday and Saturday nights, but a new AAA analysis of crash data shows another time of the week - the after school hours - rival weekend nights as the most deadly for teen drivers. The data reinforce the need for parents to be just as focused on monitoring their teens' afternoon driving as during the weekend nights they've been conditioned to worry about, according to AAA Nebraska.

In analysis of crash data, AAA found that nearly as many 16-17 year old drivers were involved in fatal crashes between 3 and 5 p.m. Monday through Friday as were on Friday and Saturday nights between 9 p.m. and 2 p.m. Between 2002 and 2005, the totals for fatal crashes were 1,100 and 1,237 respectively for the weekday and weekend periods.

"Parents are right to be worried about their novice teen drivers being on the road during the high risk evening and late night hours when most state licensing programs limit teen driving," said Rose White, traffic safety director for AAA Nebraska. "But parents also need to be engaged in their teens driving activities during the after school hours when so many teens are on the road and tragically many are involved in deadly crashes."

"Many after school teen trips - driving to part time jobs and home from sports and other activities are appropriate as teen drivers gain experience. Yet during these unstructured hours between the end of school and when parents get home from work, many teens do dangerous things behind the wheel in cars loaded with passengers," White said.

AAA also noted that during these afternoon hours there's increased traffic on the roads, with commuters and adults making other trips, which makes driving more difficult for teen drivers and less forgiving when they make mistakes.

Currently, 44 states including Nebraska have graduated driver licensing systems that limit night driving for new teen drivers.

Thirty-five states limit the number of teen passengers for a new driver. Nebraska's graduated drivers' license law does not include this restriction.

Fatal crash statistics released by the Nebraska Office of Highway Safety support AAA's national study. From 2002 through 2005, 11 drivers ages 16 and 17 were involved in fatal crashes on weekday afternoons, compared with 10 drivers on Friday and Saturday nights.

AAA says parents can play a key role in going beyond state laws by being just as diligent in monitoring their teens' afternoon driving as they would be on Friday or Saturday nights. AAA recommends that parents do the following:

1. Set very clear driving rules with your teen. Following the rules leads to a teen gradually increasing the driving he may do. Breaking the rules leads to fewer liberties. Parents can find a parent-teen driver agreement at www.aaa.com/publicaffairs.
2. Prohibit their new teen driver from carrying any passenger during at least the first three months of driving. Permit no more than one passenger for the rest of the first year of independent driving. Crash rates increase drastically for 16 to 17 year old drivers as you add young passengers to a car. Thirty-five states limit passengers for new teen drivers. Every parent should do the same thing - regardless of state law.
3. Do not permit your teen to ride with a new teen driver. Carpooling with a school mate seems like a sensible way for teens to ride to school, home and activities but it can promote risky business.

Research shows that it's more dangerous for several teens to ride in one car than for them to drive individually in multiple vehicles.

4. Ban the cell phone - handheld and hands-free. Teens have trouble managing distractions, especially while driving. Text-messaging, a feature on many cell phones, is especially dangerous when performed while driving. Even if there is no law in Nebraska, cell phone bans behind the wheel should be a family rule.

5. Require your teen to wear a seat belt every time he or she rides in a car. Teens have the lowest belt rate of any age group, a tragic irony given that new teen drivers have the highest crash rates.

6. Make your rules known to other adults in your teen's life. A parent-to-parent agreement with the parents of your teen drivers' friends or teammates can establish standard rules among a group of teenagers, making gradual licensure easier for everyone. Letting your neighbors know your teens' driving rules can give you extra sets of eyes when you're not around.

"Parents should remember that there is no better role model that you," said White. "If you speed, tailgate and run red lights, your teen probably will too. Be a positive role model for your young driver and make sure your teen understands your family's driving rules."

Individuals visit community clothing store in Torrington, Wyo.

A group of individuals interested in starting a community clothing store in Wayne recently returned from an exploratory trip to "Our Clothing Store" in Torrington, Wyo. The group, Amy Bowers, Christin Lutt, Sandra Bartling, Gary VanMeter, Mel Meyer, Joan Settles, Irene Fletcher and Dave Simonsen traveled to Torrington on Oct. 27.

Fletcher noted their trip was enhanced by Settles' extensive knowledge of western Nebraska and her hometown of Torrington. Upon arrival at the store, the committee was greeted and provided with a coupon for the Shareholders sale that was being conducted that weekend. The group spent the afternoon learning how residents of Torrington developed their own community store.

After viewing the store merchandise and layout, plus visiting with store manager Jill Mancuso, some members of the group met with Goshen County Economic Development Director Brad Sutherland and "Our Clothing Store" board members Bill Pickerel and Harvey Shmer to further discuss details of the project.

Other members of the group stopped by the various downtown businesses and visited with local community members. The demographics of Torrington are very similar to Wayne. It was noted that five new businesses have opened in downtown Torrington since "Our Clothing Store" opened in the fall of 2005.

The group returned to Wayne the following day after brief stops at Chimney Rock and Carhenge, while Settles remained in Torrington for an extended visit with her family.

During their return trip, the group shared discussions they had with the Torrington community leaders. As a result, committees were more clearly defined and a work plan was drafted.

In thinking about a community clothing store in Wayne, Marie Mohr Koehenash, owner of Swan's Apparel in Wayne said she is asked on a regular basis by her customers and visitors where to find men's and children's clothing and shoes.

The proposed community clothing store would be an independent, full-line clothing store offering infant, children, young adult, men and women wear at reasonable prices.

The plan is to have the business located on Main Street in Wayne. Money for the business will be raised through the sale of shares in the clothing store.

The Clothing Store Group will continue to meet weekly at 8 p.m. on Wednesdays at the North Meeting Room of the Wayne City Auditorium. New members are welcome to attend or call the WAEDI office at 375-5405 to learn more information.

Supporting a soldier

Members of Josh Ford's family visit with those in attendance at Sunday's scholarship fundraiser. The event was held at the Wayne Volunteer Fire Hall. It was organized by Josh's fiancée, Michelle Frohlich and members of Zeta Tau Omega at Wayne State College. Also included in the day's activities were a raffle and silent auction. Money raised will be used for scholarships for students enrolled in the art program at Wayne State College.

Workshop on troop re-entry into the community held at WSC

A workshop on troop re-entry into the community was held at Wayne State College for Wayne State College Counseling Center staff and guests. Presenting was Twila L. Preston, Ph.D from Prairie Psychological Services, Inc. in South Sioux City.

Preston discussed Post Traumatic Stress Disorder and other mental health struggles which returning military folks and their families may face and noted research regarding such disorders in combat veterans as well as those involved with Peace Keeping missions. She said that some of the research findings may not fit into lives of members of the 189th T.C. who recently returned from deployment to Iraq, but does provide guidelines for how our community, our veterans and our veterans families cope.

Preston noted deployment is different from civilian day-to-day life in several ways; for many it's the first time soldiers are away from their families for a long period of time, first time they're unable to have instantaneous communication with them (although cell phones and the Internet provide quicker communication than in earlier situations such as WWI, WWII, the Korean Conflict and the Viet Nam conflict, first time they lack privacy as they have been living in barracks or tents with other soldiers and what they do day-to-day is unpredictable, at times boredom, other times on alert, still other times under direct attack.

PTSD (Post Traumatic Stress Disorder) was first identified in WWI when it was termed "shell shock," then "combat fatigue" in WWII. PTSD can also be found in people who feel their lives are threatened in assaults, automobile accidents or traumatic experiences over a period of time which is especially true in children. Dreams, memories, flashbacks, smells, etc. can cause trauma to be re-experienced in individuals. People tend to avoid situations that bring bad memories back.

Studies have shown more soldiers with long term negative effects from being in Iraq than being in Afghanistan. Statistics show 15.6 to 17.1 percent Iraqi vets have problems afterwards as compared to 11.2 percent of soldiers who have been in Afghanistan. Only 23 to 40 percent of those identified with problems sought help because they don't want to be stigmatized for seeking mental health care. Adjusting to memories of and experiences in military as it can be hard for soldiers because they have been taught to be strong defenders and if this is true they may wonder how can they not be in control of their feelings.

Sometimes symptoms of PTSD do not develop until years after the threatening or traumatizing experience. This is referred to as "delayed onset" of PTSD. Often soldiers become dependent on chemicals, have family and/or occupation problems, etc. before they realize their mental struggles are leading to problems.

Counselors help military experiencing PTSD and other mental health troubles re-integrate into society by doing things such as helping them get and keep jobs.

Counselors have found that veterans often don't want to talk about their military experiences because they are trained to be tough and shut down emotions. Many military personnel don't trust civilians, especially if they get negative reactions from them early on after re-entry into civilian life. If counselors talk about mental health problems with vets, often vets bring up other reasons other than mental health struggles to explain their symptoms. Counselors can best help by acknowledging that while other reasons may be true, the symptoms with which the vet is struggling can be addressed by counseling.

In managing symptoms (learning ways to cope with stress is helpful). Hyper-arousal can be managed by learning ways to calm oneself using techniques such as breathing, prayer, meditation and listening to music. If anger is an issue, it has to be addressed because it can get in the way of therapy.

Preston emphasizes that psychotherapy helps traumatic memories and letting vets talk about their experiences and problems over and over works in the long run for many vets. She stresses it's important to get a complete trauma history before counselors start helping veteran clients otherwise some of the troubling memories may not be addressed. The veteran's own questions about their experiences, thoughts and feelings in therapy are good. She notes there are no short cuts in therapy.

Sometimes vets feel their deployment didn't work out, that it was immoral and unjust as soldiers are trained to do things in the military that as children they were told not to do. When vets' actions are called into question by those in the military, it's often confusing and hard for vets to cope. Some vets struggle with feelings of shame for what they were ordered to do while deployed. Such feelings can lead to mental health problems if not "worked through" as in counseling.

Veterans, their families and community members need to realize there are people who can help so feelings don't have to be held inside. Among the list of local counselors are Jill Belt of Providence Medical Center, services at RWay, Heartland Counseling, Behavioral Health, services from local clergy and WSC students can go to the Counseling Center at WSC. Dr. Preston also sees patients at PMC twice a month.

Plainswriter series to host four authors on WSC campus

The Wayne State College Arts and Humanities Plains Writers Series will host four authors reading their works in the Humanities Building Lounge on Thursday, Nov. 16. Student works will be read during "Slam 16," a semi annual competition and public event at Uncle Dave's in downtown Wayne at 7 p.m.

Readings for the Writers Series include: 12:30 p.m.:

- Neil Harrison- "Into the River Canyon at Dusk"
- Barbara Schmitz- "How Much Our Dancing Has Improved"
- 2 p.m.:
- Jim Reese- "These Trespasses"
- Greg Kosmicki- "Some Herd of the Past"

The Sigma Tau Delta English honor society will host a lunch stand.

The Poetry Slam will allow students to read their original work to an audience and a panel of judges. Through rounds of readings, poems are judged on literary merit and the strength of the performance. Top winners collect cash prizes.

The Plains Writers Series is dedicated to introducing students and others to contemporary literature of the highest caliber through the voices and presence of the writers themselves and to supporting writers by enlarging their readership.

Wayne State College initiated the Plains Writers Series in 1977. The Series has hosted readings by a number of poets, essayists, novelists and writers on the WSC campus.

Holiday Tour of Homes to be held in Wakefield on Dec. 3

Wakefield Music Boosters will be offering a Holiday Tour of Homes on Sunday, Dec. 3 from 1 to 5 p.m. Four homes, the Graves Library Museum and the Gardner Senior Center at 320 Johnson Street, will be featured.

Various organizations and groups are decorating the former Haskell House rooms. Special Wakefield High School musical small groups will share their talents when tour guests stop for a few minutes of music and to enjoy cider and cookies, compliments of Music Boosters. Thanks to a number of generous area crafters, Music Booster raffle tickets will also be offered at the Senior Center during the Tour of Homes.

The homes opening their doors to guests belong to Jeanne Gardner, Jim and Jill Lehmkuhl, Gerald and Kathy Muller and Rod and Ginger Nixon. Graves Library Museum has also agreed to decorate for the holidays and share some Wakefield history with those on the tour.

Tour tickets (in a brochure format) will be available beginning Nov. 20 from Wakefield junior high and high school music students; advance tickets will be $7 and will also be offered at the Gardner Foundation, Iowa-Nebraska State Bank and the Gardner Senior Center. Tickets may be purchased the day of the tour for $8 at the Senior Center.

Students selected for All-State Band

Jessica Kranz, a junior bass clarinet player, and Andrea Wert, a sophomore bassoon player, have been selected to participate in this year's All-State Band.

This is Kranz's second year of selection and Wert's first year. Both are students at Wayne High School.

The two will be a part of the Nebraska Music Educators Association Annual Conference/Clinic along with the North Central Music Educators National Conference's Annual Clinic Nov. 16-18 in Lincoln.

At this conference/clinic will be the Nebraska All-State Band, Choir, Orchestra and Jazz Band.

On Thursday afternoon, re-auditions for chair placements will take place, followed by the first rehearsals of the All-State Groups on Thursday evening.

The groups will rehearse Friday morning, afternoon and evening and Saturday morning and afternoon before giving a final concert that evening in the Lied Center on the UNL Campus.

Guest conductor for this year's

All-State Band is Paula A. Crider, Professor Emeritus at the University of Texas-Austin.

Students from all high schools, classes D, C, B, A, AA, across the state of Nebraska audition for only 145 spots in the Nebraska All-State Band.

US Cellular opens store in Wayne

U.S. Cellular has opened a new store in Wayne at 214 Main St called Cellcom. The former Cellular One was bought out by U.S. Cellular in Kansas and Nebraska late this summer. The new owners of the store in Wayne are Rick and Robin Pearson of Hartington. They have been in the cellular phone business for over 10 years and have two other locations, one in Hartington and one in Crofton. They also have the Chevy-Buick dealership in Hartington.

"We saw a need for a store in this area, Pearson said. "More stores are needed in the area so people don't have to drive so far to obtain service. We are very excited about Cellcom and being in Wayne."

Pearson and three of her employees are all graduates of Wayne State College and feel a special kinship with the community.

The store manager is Christopher Lidgett from Wayne. Lidgett is originally from Chambers and has several years experience in the cell phone business in the area. He invites people to stop in and compare what they have. Lidgett said "We are very competitive and offer great business and individual plans." Ryan Jenness from Primghar, Iowa is a wireless consultant at the store and also a student at Wayne State.

U.S. Cellular is currently the fifth largest carrier in the nation and has plans to expand their network capabilities in northeast Nebraska. They have been working on many new tower sites including a brand new 500 ft. tower on Highway 12 and 81 to serve the Crofton area. They've also been busy upgrading their current towers with newer technology to give their customers a better calling experience.

According to Pearson, customer service is US Cellular's main asset. "We have the highest customer satisfaction rating in the industry and we plan on keeping it." "Our goal is to give our customers the ideal experience no matter what their needs are."

Regular office hours at the store are Monday through Friday, 9 a.m. to 5:30 p.m. and Saturdays 10 a.m. to 2 p.m. Expanded holiday hours will soon be implemented. The team at Cellcom invite you to stop in or call them with any questions at 833-5065.

Wakefield, Laurel-Concord play in district finals

By David W. Carstens
Of the Herald

Both Wakefield and Laurel-Concord were only one win away from advancing to this weekend's state volleyball tournament.

Unfortunately, bids by both teams came up short after each squad fell in district final contests played on Friday, Nov. 3.

Wakefield was swept by Columbus Scotus Central Catholic in the C1-3 district championship at Clarkson, while Laurel-Concord was defeated in three by Atkinson West Holt at the C2-4 final at Plainview.

Wakefield vs. Columbus Scotus

Winning a district championship against Scotus was a tall order for the Trojans as the Shamrocks entered the game with 17 consecutive district championships to its credit.

Despite a strong Wakefield defensive effort, Scotus earned at trip to state with a 25-19, 25-23, 25-22 sweep in an evening filled with less-than-crisp play from the Shamrocks.

"Our girls played to the best of their ability throughout the match," Wakefield coach Cheryl Greve said. "I was impressed with their heart and intensity."

In each game, just when it looked like Scotus was ready to break things open, Wakefield came up big defensively and completed tip attacks to give the Shamrocks fits.

Alissa Bressler contributed eight kills and 15 digs and Anna Brownell tallied 41 digs to lead the Trojans. Lexi Nelson recorded six kills on the night. Whitney Rouse and Kelsey Bard added 12 and 10 assists, respectively.

Coach Greve added that she was surprised that the success that Wakefield was able to find on tipped balls during the game.

Scotus' outside hitter Laura Blair provided the biggest challenge for WHS as she recorded nine kills total in the first two games.

After a pair of Scotus hitting errors found the second game tied at 23-23, Blair sealed the win with a kill and ace serve to give the Shamrocks a 2-0 advantage.

The Shamrocks (23-3) put together a 13-1 run in the third game to jump to a 17-7 lead, however Wakefield put together a late rally to get within two points, but it was Blair who closed the contest with her 13th kill to end the game and squash Wakefield's state tournament aspirations.

Wayne State takes second at tournament

The Wayne State women's volleyball team achieved its goal of playing for a conference championship with a pair of wins at the Northern Sun Conference volleyball tournament in St. Paul, Minn., on Nov. 2-3.

The team fell short of capturing the league title, however, as the Wildcats fell in the conference championship on Saturday at Concordia-St. Paul.

WSC (29-7) earned fourth seed for the NCAA Division II North Central Region volleyball tournament that will be played Thursday-Saturday, Nov. 9-11 at St. Paul, Minn., at the host school, Concordia-St. Paul.

It marks the second straight season the Wildcats have qualified for post-season play.

Wayne State, currently ranked No. 20 in the national coaches' poll, will face a familiar foe in the first round of play (at 5 p.m. today) as the 'Cats face NSIC rival, Southwest Minnesota State.

An opening round win would set up a meeting on Friday at 5 p.m. with the winner of Concordia-St. Paul/Northern State tournament matchup.

NSIC Tournament

The Wildcats cruised past Minnesota-Crookston in the first round of the tourney last Thursday as WSC swept the Golden Eagles 30-21, 30-25 and 30-16.

Michelle Eckhardt had a match-high 18 kills to lead Wayne State as the Wildcats hit .296 in the match.

Emily Schroeder added 12 kills along with nine digs and four blocks. Brittany Coleman was credited with 43 set assists, while Meredy Dubbs topped the Wildcats defensively with 11 digs.

The following evening, Wayne State College jumped out to a 2-0 lead, then had to hang on for a 3-2 win over No. 23 Southwest Minnesota State in the tourney semifinal.

WSC won the first two games of the match 30-22 and 30-25 with the Mustangs winning the next two games 30-26 and 30-14. After SMSU held a 2-0 lead early in the fifth game, WSC rallied to score five straight points and never relinquished the lead to pick up a 15-10 win in the fifth game.

After Wayne State won the first two games, Southwest Minnesota State hit an astonishing .525 in the third game with 23 kills and just two errors in 40 attacks.

The Mustangs took advantage of poor hitting by WSC in the fourth game as the Wildcats hit .175 with 11 hitting errors.

But the Wildcats used hot serving from sophomores Danielle Wessel (five straight points with two service aces) and Amanda Johnson with three straight points to give the Wildcats much needed momentum in the fifth game to rally for the win.

"We played extremely well in the first two games, but they (Southwest Minnesota State) really came out fired up and took it to us in the third and fourth games," remarked WSC head coach Scott Kneifl. "I thought our team showed tremendous character to come back after struggling so much in the fourth game and get the win in the fifth game."

Eckhardt had another great night for us and is having a tremendous tournament and I thought our defense really stepped up and won us the match."

Wayne State was led in hitting by Eckhardt with 21 kills, followed by Schroeder with 18 kills, 11 digs and seven blocks.

Laura Dolezal topped WSC on defense with 28 digs with Dubbs adding 14. Coleman contributed 49 set assists and 15 digs in the Wildcat victory.

The Wildcats fell to nationally ranked No. 4 Concordia-St. Paul Saturday evening in four games in the championship match of the tournament.

After the Wildcats won the first game 30-28, the Golden Bears stormed back to win the next three games 30-17, 30-16 and 30-23 to win the match.

WSC got off to a strong start, hitting .364 in the first game with just three errors to win 30-28. CSP responded by hitting Wayne State's Adam Peterson (right) delivers a hit to Missouri-Rolla wide receiver Mike Greaving to cause an interception that's about to be caught by Nick Baldetti for a 20-yard return in the fourth quarter of last Saturday's home win.

Solid defensive effort gives Wildcats fifth victory of the season in final home contest of 14 senior players

Wildcat football fans got their money's worth in the final home contest of the season.

Wayne State held Missouri-Rolla, the top-ranked passing team in NCAA Division II, to just 272 yards passing as the Wildcats held off the Miners 14-9 at Cunningham Field in Wayne last Saturday afternoon.

With the win, Wayne State improves to 5-5, while Missouri-Rolla slips to 5-5.

The win for Wayne State marked the first time since 1995 (6-4) that the Wildcats have won more than four football games in a single season.

UMR entered the game averaging 359.0 yards per game passing to lead NCAA Division II, but the Wildcats forced the Miners into five turnovers, including four interceptions, to pick up the win in a defensive battle.

WSC opened the scoring early in the second quarter as redshirt freshman Tyler Jones scored on a six-yard run to cap a 10-play, 67-yard drive, giving the Wildcats a 7-0 lead with 12:50 remaining in the first half.

The Miners answered back with a scoring drive as Tim Valencia booted a 27 yard field goal to culminate a 12 play, 58-yard drive for Missouri-Rolla to make the score 7-3 with 9:13 to go in the second quarter.

The next drive saw Wayne State move the ball to the UMR 22 yard line, but a 39-yard field goal attempt by Wayne State's Nick Hope was wide right to end the scoring threat. Both teams failed to move the ball the rest of the first half to make the halftime score 7-3 in favor of Wayne State.

The opening drive of the second half saw Missouri-Rolla move the ball to the Wildcats' nine-yard line, but a Joe Winters pass was picked off in the end zone by WSC linebacker Luke Hoffman to stop the scoring threat for the Miners.

The Miners put together another solid drive later in the quarter, only to have quarterback Joe Winters fumble at the WSC 20 yard line, recovered by Wildcat defensive back Matt Greenway, to end the drive.

Early in the fourth quarter, Wayne State took advantage of a UMR turnover to score their second touchdown as junior linebacker Nick Baldetti intercepted a Miners pass and returned the ball 20 yards to the UMR 30 yard line.

On a fourth and four at the UMR 24, senior running back Zach Molacek broke loose for a 24-yard scoring run to put the Wildcats ahead 14-3 with 11 minutes left in the game.

The Miners then turned to backup quarterback Mark Becker to score their first touchdown of the game as he guided Missouri-Rolla on a two-play, 44 yard drive midway through the fourth quarter to make the score 14-9 after connecting with Ashton Gronewald on a 38-yard scoring play.

Wayne State was forced to punt on their next series, giving Missouri-Rolla the ball at their own 22-yard line with 1:26 left in the game. The Miners moved the ball to the Wildcat 31-yard line and faced a fourth and seven, but Becker's pass, intended for Brandon Landry, was intercepted at the goal line by Laron Striplin, who returned the ball to the 24-yard line to preserve the win for the Wildcats.

Missouri-Rolla outgained Wayne State in the contest 353-303.

The Wildcats were led offensively by senior running back Zach Molacek, who gained 142 yards rushing on 30 carries with one touchdown.

Molacek moved into second place on the all-time rushing charts at Wayne State and now has 3,333 yards for his career. He passed Lamont Rainey, who gained 3,268 yards in his career from 1991-94.

Freshman quarterback Silas Fluellen completed just 5-of-17 passes for 89 yards, while backup Travis Dietz was 2-of-3 with one interception for 12 yards. Freshman Logan Masters was the top receiver with three catches for 36 yards.

On defense for the Wildcats, sophomore linebacker Luke Hoffman had a team-high 10 tackles to go with one interception.

Brian Locke jumps for a pass completion in last Saturday's contest with Missouri-Rolla.

Nick Baldetti, Robert Manuel and Laron Striplin also had interceptions, while Matt Greenway recovered a fumble.

Sophomore Tyler Krueger had his best game in a Wildcat uniform, recording six tackles with two sacks and one forced fumble.

Wayne State will close out the season at the NSIC Merchants Bank Metrodome Classic in Minneapolis this Saturday with a contest against #22 Winona State starting at 3:30 p.m.

Players garner weekly awards

Zach Molacek and Luke Hoffman were honored Monday afternoon with Nebraska NCAA Division II Player of the Week honors.

Molacek was selected Offensive Player of the Week for the second time this season, while Hoffman received Defensive Player of the Week honors.

WSC runner Megan Zavorka placed 22nd at last Saturday's NCAA meet at the Wayne Country Club

WSC plays host to NCAA meet

Wayne State College hosted the NCAA Division II North Central Regional Cross Country Championships last Saturday at the Wayne Country Club. The region has produced the last 14 national champions in both men's and women's divisions. The top five men's teams and the top six women's teams along with the top two individuals from a non-qualifying team advance to the NCAA Division II National Championships in Pensacola, Fla., on Nov. 18.

In the men's division, Adams State of Colorado won the team title with 26 points, followed by Western State (55), Colorado Mines (71), Minnesota State Mankato (138) and Augustana (193) all qualifying for the national meet. Wayne State finished 17th out of 21 teams with 495 points. Individual national qualifiers from the men's division were Eric Atkinson of Minnesota-Duluth and Tyler Wetering of South Dakota. The top individual finisher for Wayne State was senior Jeremiah Herron, who was 53rd out of 134 runners with a time of 33:42 on the 10,000 meter course. Other WSC times included: 98. Ryan Williams 35:39, 109. Jimmie Doherty 37:01, 116. Nate McIntire 37:36, 119. Andrew Bachman 38:20, 122. Nathaniel Bergen 38:37. In the women's division, Western State topped Adams State for the team title 40-48. University of Colorado-Colorado Springs was third at 107, followed by Augustana (127), North Dakota (152) and Fort Lewis at 228 to qualify for the national championships. Wayne State had its best ever finish at a regional meet as the Northern Sun Conference champions took 10th out of 24 teams with 284 points. Individual national qualifiers were Amy Lindner of South Dakota and Kaci Lickteig of Nebraska-Kearney. Wayne State freshman Megan Zavorka placed 22nd out of 154 runners with a time of 22:48 over the 6,000-meter course. Randolph freshman Melissa Schmit was next for the Wildcats in 48th place at 23:36. Other WSC finishers included: 50. Sarah Thomsen 23:38, 79. Molly Gibson 24:35, 85. Megan Knudson 24:48, 103. Meghan Costello 25:26.

Ryan Williams of Wayne State approaches the six-mile mark at Saturday's NCAA Regional Cross Country meet in Wayne.

Finals

Kayla Neuhalfen (right) notches a dig for Laurel-Concord, while libero Jenny Schroeder watches the pass in the Bears' C2-4 district volleyball final at Plainview.

The Trojans end the season at 24-10 with the three seniors playing their final game on Friday: Alissa Bressler, Shay Tullberg and Kyna Miner.

Laurel-Concord vs. West Holt
It was a team that Laurel-Concord was familiar with, unfortunately the result was all too familiar.

LCHS entered last Friday night's Class C2-4 district final against Atkinson West Holt with two previous losses to the newcomer to the Northeast Nebraska Activities Conference, most recently just a week before in the tightly contested third-place game of the conference tournament.

Shooting for its first state tournament appearance in four years, Laurel-Concord (14-10) lost its third meeting of the season to the Huskies 25-17, 25-23, 25-14 at Plainview High School.

"While it wasn't our best performance in this big game, we stand by what we've said many times, 'Winning and losing doesn't define who you are, it's the effort you display that shows what you're all about,'" LCHS coach Patti Cunningham said.

The win gave West Holt (16-7) its first-ever trip to the this weekend's state tournament in Lincoln. Friday's rematch had all the ingredients of yet another nail-biter and the first game saw a point-for-point exchange until the contest was tied at 15-11.

That's when West Holt's Leah Dostal provided a difference-making performance that makes the 6-foot senior one of the state's top high school athletes. Dostal stepped up to the net and nailed four kills, plus an ace block on a crucial 6-2 West Holt run that ended with a 25-17 score in the first game.

Dostal added three more kills early in second game to give the Huskies a 6-1 lead early, but Laurel-Concord crept back into the match with an impressive rally and eventually pulled to a 23-22 Bear advantage. The lead was short-lived, however, as a pair of Dostal-fired tips sealed up the game at 25-23.

She finished the contest as the evening's kill leader with 22.

Realizing that its state tournament dreams were quickly fading, LCHS opened with a 6-3 advantage in the third game, thanks to a pair of ace serves by Becky Hoelsing. An ace block by Kylee Slaymaker tipped the score to 9-8 in favor of West Holt and the Huskies simply powered their way to the 25-14 final on the strength of a 9-0 run.

Tarah Jelinek had six kills and a pair of ace blocks to lead the Bears, while Kacie Gould recorded five kills and Kari Schroeder, Kayla Neuhalfen and Nikki Lubberstedt each contributed four kills.

Kim Lubberstedt and Amanda Troyer aided the offense as the ydished out 14 and 7 set assists, respectively.

Four Laurel-Concord seniors wrapped up their volleyball careers following Friday's game: Nikki Lubberstedt, Becky Hoelsing, Katlyn Dahlquist and Kayla Neuhalfen.

Wildcats

.472 in the second game with just three errors to win 30-17.

The third game saw the Wildcats struggle at the net, hitting .025 with 10 errors as the Golden Bears won 30-16.

The fourth game was much tighter, but with the score tied at 21-21; Concordia-St. Paul pulled away down the stretch to win 30-23 and take the match in four games.

Schroeder led Wayne State with 22 kills and six blocks, while hitting .264 for the match.

Eckhardt also reached double figures in kills with 11, while Dolezal paced the Wildcats on defense with 20. Coleman added 51 set assists to become the new single season record holder for set assists at Wayne State.

With 1,702 on the season, Coleman passed Kasey Meyers' school record of 1,662 set in the 2002 season.

Players earn accolades

Four players from Wayne State were selected to the 2006 Northern Sun Conference All-Conference Volleyball Team released last week by the league office and voted on by the league's coaches.

Named to the NSIC All-Conference First Team were seniors Brittany Coleman and Michelle Eckhardt along with juniors Laura Dolezal and Emily Schroeder.

Dolezal was also selected the NSIC Libero of the Year for the second straight season.

Dolezal and Schroeder were also named to the 2006 Daktronics, Inc. All-North Central Region Volleyball Team released earlier this week and voted on by sports information directors in the North Central Region.

Both players garnered First Team All-Region honors and will now be considered for All-American honors.

At the conclusion of last week's Northern Sun conference volleyball tournament, Eckhardt, Schroeder and Coleman were named as members of the conference all-tournament team.

Wildcats move upward

The team moved up one spot to 20th in the latest CSTV/AVCA Division II Top 25 Coaches poll released late Monday afternoon.

WSC plays in exhibition game with Iowa State

Iowa State pulled away in the second half for a 55-41 men's college basketball exhibition win over Wayne State College at Hilton Coliseum in Ames, Iowa Monday evening.

The Cyclones, coached by former WSC head coach and recent Athletic Hall of Fame inductee Greg McDermott, held a 21-16 lead over Wayne State at halftime.

With the score 30-26 with 14:26 remaining in the game, Iowa State held WSC to just seven points over the next 10 minutes to build a 46-33 lead with 4:33 left and Wayne State never got closer than 10 points the rest of the game.

The Cyclones shot just 32.1 percent from the field on 18 of 56 and out-rebounded Wayne State 43-34.

For Wayne State, junior guard Bryce Caldwell scored a game-high 13 points, while senior guard Dallas Hodges accounted for 11 points.

WSC shot just 27.3 percent from the field on 12 of 44, including 7 of 21 from the three point line for 33 percent. The Wildcats had 24 turnovers compared to Iowa State's 17.

Wayne State will open the regular season at home on Wednesday, Nov. 15, against York College at 7 p.m.

ASK THE TRAINER

"How do I know if I am using enough weight when I lift?"

This is a good question, because research at Grand Valley State University and Wayne State College has shown when individuals lift on their own they are unlikely to use enough weight to cause an increase in strength or muscle. The results of this particular study showed men and women used a weight below 60% of their one-repetition maximum (1RM) when given no direction or guidance. This is inadequate since exercisers must use a minimum intensity range of 60-75% 1RM to see improvements in strength or muscle tone.

The bottom line is you should be using a minimum repetition range of 10-16 and selecting a weight heavy enough to fatigue the muscle. This is a good start, but an effective program will contain many adjustments to volume, intensity, and rest. This is why consulting an exercise professional can be very beneficial. When left to self-select intensity, many new and experienced lifters fall short, become discouraged, and may even quit. For these people, a simple consultation and adjustment in intensity can keep them on track and happy with their progress. Keep the questions coming!

Football Playoff Roundup

Trojans still alive, Laurel-Concord, Winside fall

Wakefield 17, Archbishop Bergan 7
Wakefield advanced to the state semifinals for the first time in school history with a dominating performance of the playoff's top-seed team Archbishop Bergan in a 17-7 win in Monday night's quarterfinal game played at Wakefield's Eaton Field.

Bergan forced an early three-and-out against Wakefield (11-1) and then took advantage of a high punt that was blocked after it was kicked and recovered by Bergan's Jordan Mruz in the end zone to give the Knights a 7-0 lead just three minutes into the game.

The Bergan surge was silenced for the next 45 minutes as the Trojans held the Knights scoreless for the remainder of the game.

Wakefield tied the game with 52 seconds left in the first frame when Nixon capped a 57-yard, 13-play drive with a 1-yard touchdown run by Joel Nixon.

The next series saw the Knights mount a drive to the Wakefield 10-yard line, but a fumbled pitch was recovered by Brady Nicholson to put the Trojans back in business.

WHS cranked out a 14-play drive that covered 86 yards and finished with a 22-yard field goal by Usvaldo Reyes with 3:01 left in the first half.

The Trojans demonstrated their expertise at clock management following the halftime break with a 20-play 58-yard scoring drive that took more than nine minutes in the third period.

The drive was punctuated with a touchdown pass from Nixon to Drew Rose at the 2:10 mark to wrap up scoring on the night as Wakefield feasted on Bergan's turnovers and offensive breakdowns.

Wakefield's rushing attack tallied 278 yards and was led by Joel Nixon with 96 yards and 93 from Paul Moody. Tim Haglund also had a big night for the Trojans with 75 yards.

Nixon completed nine passes for 111 yards, while Ben Henderson led the team with three catches for 50 yards.

The win advances Wakefield into the C-2 semifinals this Saturday at Howells (10-1).

Wakefield 35, Heartland 8

Wakefield's second stop on its post-season thrill ride took the Trojans on their longest road trip of the season.

Heading into last Wednesday's second round playoff game at Heartland High School at Henderson some 160 miles to the south, Wakefield (10-0) averaged 36.3 points per game, while allowing only 7.7 by a stingy Trojan defense.

The scoreboard on Wednesday told the same story: Wakefield 35, Heartland 8.

Costly turnovers and mistakes

Wakefield's Tim Haglund collides with Fremont Archbishop Bergan defender Travis Brown in Monday's C-2 playoff quarterfinal at Wakefield.

haunted Heartland (6-4), who had been riding a five-game winning streak heading into the match-up with the state's No. 1 team in Class C-2.

The Trojans took full advantage of five Huskies' turnovers (including four interceptions) and only allowed a late score in the closing seconds of the game.

Wakefield scored first on a 11-play, 51-yard drive that was capped by an 11-yard run by Tim Haglund and point-after kick by Usvaldo Reyes with 7:59 left in the first period to go up 7-0.

WHS extended the lead with just under five minutes remaining in the first half when quarterback Joel Nixon highlighted another extended drive of 62 yards with a one-yard scamper to the end zone. Reyes added another kick to give the Trojans a 14-0 lead at intermission.

Heartland had two of its drives snuffed out by the Trojans in the first half as Nixon pulled down a one-handed interception in the Wakefield end zone to deny what had been a strong opening drive for the Huskies, who finished with 189 yards of total offense, including 135 passing yards.

Trojan linebacker Ian Miner also was a force to be reckoned with as he pulled down two interceptions, including one at the start of Wakefield's 21-point third quarter.

Wakefield scored the first three times the team had the ball in the second half starting with Haglund's second TD of the game on a five-yard run at the 8:22 mark in the third frame. Nixon connected with Ryan Klein for another score on a 22-yard pass play about 30 seconds later following another Huskie turnover.

Nixon ran the ball 41 yards to pay dirt on the next possession for Wakefield's final touchdown with 5:56 left in the third. Reyes provided three more points for the Trojans as he was a perfect 3-of-3 in the quarter on extra point kicks.

The 35-0 Trojan lead held until the final four seconds of the game when Heartland capped a 99-yard drive that concluded with a 4-yard touchdown strike from Bryce Wall to Kellen Goertzen and a two-point conversion run by Colton Chrisman.

Offensively, Wakefield racked up 297 yards on 49 on the ground, despite playing without the services of injured right guard Garek Bebee.

Nixon rushed 10 times for 74 yards and completed 5-of-6 passes for 54 yards.

Other rushing leaders included Wes Erickson with 55 yards, Klein with 47 yards, Haglund with 45, Paul Moody's 36 yards and Miner, who recorded 27 yards for the offense.

Oakland-Craig 28, Laurel-Concord 19

Laurel-Concord kept things close, but injuries sustained by key personnel in last Wednesday's physical battle with Oakland-Craig kept the Bears in check as the Knights downed LCHS 28-19 in second round play of the Class C-2 playoffs at Laurel's Haskell Field.

With game time temperature readings hovering around the 10-degree mark, Oakland-Craig (9-1) seemed the thrive in the cold as the Knights iced over Laurel-Concord's passing game to limit the Bears to only 157 yards passing and limited LCHS signal caller Heath Erwin to only 14-of-31 passing with a pair of interceptions.

Oakland-Craig never trailed in the contest as the Knights opened with a 7-0 lead with just under seven minutes in the opening quarter when Kurtis Charling connected with Nic Hoffmann on a 24-yard touchdown pass and Charley Cull added the PAT kick.

Laurel-Concord tied the game in the opening seconds of the second quarter when Tony Jacobsen ran in an eight-yard touchdown run and Michael Patefield added the extra point kick.

Oakland-Craig broke the tie at the 6:52 mark in the third frame when Charling ran in a one-yard touchdown run, followed by another Cull kick to give the Knights a 14-7 advantage.

LCHS then put together an impressive drive that was capped by a 21-yard touchdown run by Brian Saunders. Patefield's subsequent point-after kick dinged off the bottom of the crossbar and the Bears trailed 14-13 with 4:40 left in the third period.

The fourth quarter saw the Knights stay cool under LCHS defensive pressure, including a potential tide turning interception by Bear defender Eli Schantz at the Laurel-Concord seven yard line early in the period.

O-C's defense tightened up and stopped the next LCHS drive and the Knights were able to score on the next possession when Charling ran in another short TD and Cull added the extra-point kick to extend the score to 21-13 with 8:11 left in the game.

The kickoff return saw another Bear starter encounter bad luck as Saunders sustained a game-ending ankle injury on the far sideline.

Schantz sparked the LCHS offense with a nice reception to take the ball to the Oakland-Craig 26 yard line and Patefield made another catch to preserve the drive inside the OCHS ten yard line.

Erwin found pay dirt on the next play with a nine-yard TD run with 5:51 left in regulation.

A critical two-point conversion pass attempt to Patefield fell short and the score stood at 21-19.

The Bears' subsequent outside kick attempt fell short and the Knights were able to start their next possession at mid-field. OCHS running back Jon Lawler ran in the final TD of the game on a 35-yard run with 2:16 left in the contest.

Saunders led Laurel-Concord in rushing with 91 yards, while Erwin finished the game with 43 yards and Jacobsen ran for 19.

Erwin and Tate Cunningham led the Bear defense with 17 tackles apiece.

Wednesday's contest marked the career finale for 10 Laurel-Concord seniors: Michael Patefield, Pat Harrington, Skyler Curry, Tony Jacobsen, Ben Kneiff, David Brandow, Ian Engebretsen, Cody Hartman, Anthony Nelson and Brian Saunders.

Lourdes Central Catholic 22, Winside 14

Winside came up with too little too late in the Wildcats bid to upset No. 2 seed Nebraska City Lourdes Central Catholic in the Class D-1 eight man state football playoffs.

The Wildcats finished the year with an 8 win 2 loss record after dropping a 22-14 decision to the visiting Knights.

A Kalin Koch touchdown from the 1-yard line and a Jordan Brummels pass to Tucker Bowers for the two point conversion with one minute and two seconds left on the clock gave Winside a last second chance to regain the football on an inside kick attempt that failed sealing the win for the visitors.

Brummels sandwiched a three-yard scoring run between a pair of Lourdes touchdowns leaving the Wildcats trailing 16-6 at halftime.

The Wildcat defense, led by Dewey Bowers with 17 tackles and Jared Roberts with 12 tackles, a pair of pass break ups and a fumble recovery, held the Knights to six points in the second half.

What may have been the best all around team defensive effort of the year for the Wildcats found Travis Brockman with 10 tackles, Tucker Bowers (8) Chase Langenberg (8), Zach Jaeger (7) Brummels (7) and Matt Peter with six stops.

Langenberg and Peter added a quarterback sack for a minus 6 yards to their game effort.

Brummels, with 58 yards on 16 carries and eight pass competitions good for 112 yards, led the Wildcat offense. Dewey Bowers added 32 yards on the ground on 14 carries and a pass reception good for six yards to the Wildcat totals.

Koch carried the ball eight times for 18 yards and was on the end of a pair of Brummels passes good for 14 yards. Tucker Bowers, with four receptions for 79 yards and Jared Roberts with a single catch good for 13 yards, rounded out the Wildcat offense.

The Wildcats qualified for the state play offs for the third consecutive year for the first time in school history and the eight wins this season were the most for a Winside team since 1997.

Winside will lose seniors Dewey Bowers, Travis Brockman, Zach Jaeger, Jared Roberts, and Tobias Grunert — an exchange student from Germany — to graduation.

THANKSGIVING SERVICE

The Community Thanksgiving Service will be held on Wednesday, Nov. 15 at the United Methodist Church at 7 p.m. Before the service, the ACCTS children will be serving a soup supper from 5:30 - 7 p.m.

SCIENCE CLUB BLOOD DRIVE

The Science Club is hosting the Siouxland Blood Mobile on Monday, Nov. 13 from 2 - 7 p.m. They would like to beat the number of donations they collected last year which was 42 units.

LOOKING FOR RECIPES

The Allen Music Boosters is currently collecting recipes for a cookbook as a fund raiser for the organization. Putting the cookbook together is at no cost to the group, so all money raised would go to the Music Boosters program.

If you have a recipe you'd like to have contributed to the cook book or have any questions, please contact Carla Logue at cellogue@yahoo.com or mail to 740 S. HWY 9, Allen, NE 68710. She needs to have the recipes by Nov. 17 to have them included in the cookbook.

COMMUNITY THANKSGIVING

The community Thanksgiving meal will be served at the Village Inn on Nov. 20. Everyone, whether they are a member of the Community Club or not, is invited to enjoy food and fellowship. The cost will be paid for by the attendee. A sign-up sheet will be posted at the Village Inn to assist Ron and Pat in determining the amount of food preparation.

STEERING COMMITTEE

The steering committee will be having an Omelet Feed on Sunday, Nov. 12, 7 a.m. - 1 p.m. at the Allen Fire Hall. They will be serving omelets (with your choice of ingredients), hash browns, bagels, and drinks. The purpose of this Fund raiser is to help with project expenses such as postage, brochure development and other fund raising expenses. This is to insure 100 percent of donated funds are directed to the project and not used up in fund raising expenses. (Asking for your help in purchasing items for the feed. If items are purchased at the Cash Store, they will store and deliver the items the day of the feed- items needed are green peppers, large red tomatoes, white onions, gallons of orange juice, salsa, large cans of chopped mushrooms, boneless hams. Look for continued item updates as they will be marked off as items needed are filled).

LEGION AUXILIARY

On Nov. 11, the Dixon County Convention will be held at the Ponca State Park MURR Resource & Education Center. Entrance fee into the park does not have to be paid for as it is being provided. Cookies, tea, or coffee will be at 4:30 pm with the Ladies Meeting to follow. The meeting will take place following dinner at 6:30 pm. Megan Kumm has tickets for the meal. They are $8 for couples or $4.25 for singles. If you want to purchase them you can call her at 402-635-2552.

FINANCIAL AIDE PROGRAM

Attention Parents of Sophomores, Juniors and Seniors! Education Quest Foundation will be presenting a Financial Aid, Program at Allen Consolidated on Monday, Nov. 13 at 6 p.m. in the Distance Learning Lab (next door to the Superintendent's office). The program will be broadcast to three other school sites, so you get to see how the distance equipment works.

At this meeting, Education personnel will be explaining the FAFSA (Free Application for Federal Student Aid). They will present those in attendance with scholarship sites to search and help with any questions there might be about sending your student to college. Any questions, may be directed to Mrs. Von Minden at the School.

KELLOGG HONORED

The Springbank Township Library board hosted a birthday party for librarian, Bonnie Kellogg, at the library on Saturday to celebrate Bonnie's 80th birthday. The party was well attended by friends, family, staff and children from the Allen Day Care where Kellogg also works. She has been librarian for 28 years.

HISTORICAL SOCIETY

Dixon County Historical Society will be holding their meetings in the daytime in both November and December. They will meet Nov. 21 and Dec. 19 at 9 a.m. at the museum for a business meeting and workday. They will also be visiting the Wakefield Museum at 7 p.m. on Dec. 19.

HARVEST DINNER

The Annual Harvest Dinner for Classic Club members will be Friday, Nov. 10 at the Allen Firehall at noon. Please bring a favorite salad, vegetable dish or dessert. Activities acknowledge hunger

Students in Dr. Jean Karlen's Introduction to Sociology class have been working the past month with Tiffany Olson, Goldenrod Hills Wayne Family Services Coordinator, to plan service-learning projects related to national Hunger and Homelessness Awareness Week, Nov. 13-17.

Activities are designed to raise awareness about hunger and homelessness and to assist the local agencies and food pantries who serve needy individuals and families to collect donations to support their clients.

Members of the campus and Wayne community will have multiple opportunities to help these agencies.

The class' main project is called "Cram the Wagon." For this project, students will staff an enclosed trailer that will be parked at three different locations in Wayne during the week. The class is asking for Wayne area residents and students to bring canned items, clothing, and other necessities to three locations around town to help them fill the trailer. On Tuesday, Nov. 14, the "Cram the Wagon" trailer will be located in the Pamida parking lot (10 a.m.-8 p.m.); on Wednesday, Nov. 15, on the west side of WSC's Student Center (10 a.m.-8 p.m.); and on Thursday, Nov. 16 in the Pac 'N' Save parking lot (10 a.m.-4 p.m.).

Another community activity occurring throughout the week from Nov. 13 - 17 includes the distribution of "Hunger and Homelessness Awareness Week" donation jars located at a variety of businesses around town. All donations will be split equally among the Haven House, the Food Pantry, Golden Rod Hills, the Ministerial Association, and Salvation Army.

Other activities will also be occurring on campus throughout the week. From Nov. 8-Nov. 16, dorms will be competing to gather the most goods, and the winning dorm will get a movie and popcorn party. Students will also be conducting a raffle outside the cafeteria from Nov. 14-16 with the winner being drawn Nov. 16. Educational flyers about hunger and homelessness will be distributed throughout the community.

Gives performance

Dr. Jay O'Leary performed on clarinet and oboe, Nov. 2 at 7:30 p.m. in Ramsey Theatre. He was accompanied on piano by Jane O'Leary, his wife.

WSC to host Physiology Understanding Week

The Departments of Health, Human Performance and Sport and Life Sciences at Wayne State College will host American Physiological Society PhUn (Physiology Understanding) Week activities Nov. 6-10 with an open house on Friday, Nov. 10 for 7-12th grade, Wayne and Laurel science teachers and students.

The theme this year is the Physiology of Exercise. The PhUn Week program has been developed by research physiologists and science teachers to engage K-12 students in concepts of physiology as well as introduce them to potential career opportunities. The PhUn Week Explore Physiology Open House at Wayne State College will include lunch and a brief presentation, tours and demonstrations of WSC Human Performance and Molecular Genetics laboratories.

Dr. Kevin Hill, dean of the School of Natural and Social Sciences, and Dr. Barbara Engebretsen, associate professor, will address students before they tour the WSC Human Performance Lab.

Other presentations will include: Dr. Tammy Evetovich - Physiology of Muscle Fatigue and Biofeedback

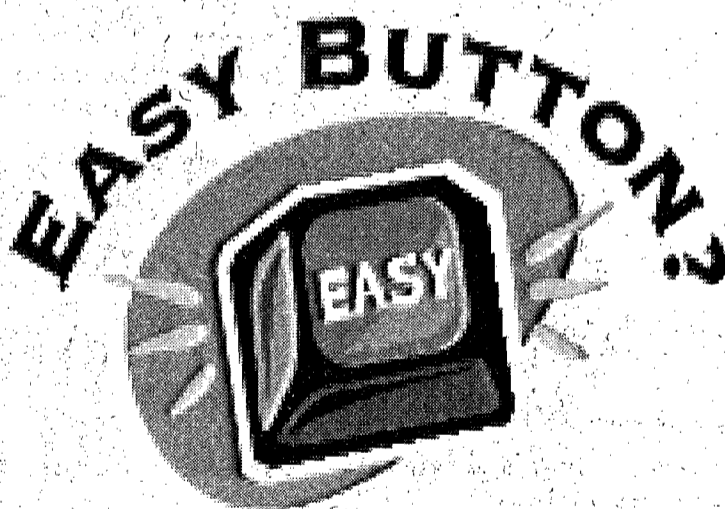

- Electromyography, Dr. Donovan Conley - Indirect Calorimetry - Using the Metabolic Cart to Analyze Ventilation, VO2 and VCO2 Responses to Exercise, Dr. Shawn Pearcy - Molecular Tools for Physiologists: Cell Culture, Protein, RNA and DNA following a tour of the Carhart Science Molecular Biology and Genetics Lab.

For more information, please contact Dr. Barbara Engebretsen of the School of Natural and Social Sciences, Dept. of Health, Human Performance, and Sport at (402) 375-7044 or baengeb1@wsc.edu.

Supporting United Way

The 76 employees at Ameritas in Wayne raised $2,334.77 for this year's Wayne United Way campaign. Some type of fundraising event was held each day during Ameritas' United Way campaign, including a chili cook-off, a coffee breakfast and the playing of "Deal or No Deal" and "Wheel of Fortune." A number of Wayne businesses contributed prizes for the contests and organizers have expressed their appreciation for the contributions. Members of the United Way committee pose with representatives of the Wayne United Way Board. They include, front row, left to right, Andrea Hansen, Jenny Williams, Liz Macrander, Darlene Jensen and Tracy Henschke. Back row, Jeff Carstens (United Way Board), Jill Olesen, chair of the committee, Stacey Kai, Lorinda Hille and Alan Baier (United Way Board).

SENIOR CENTER

The monthly 'potluck' was held on Nov. 3 with 20 in attendance. President, Roy Stohler led the business meeting. Reports were accepted. Bills were presented and motion made to pay all. An instant heat water heater with a switch to turn on when needed was discussed; something that may be considered in the future to lower the electric bill.

Linda Wells from the NE Area Agency on Aging gave a nutrition lesson on fruits and vegetables. She handed out a quiz and information about nutrition.

A count was taken of those interested in attending the Thanksgiving dinner at the Wayne Senior Center on Tuesday, Nov. 21.

Martha Walton gave a reading and Velma Dennis gave a reading for Veterans' Day.

Betty Anderson gave a health reading about influenza and pneumonia shots.

The next meeting will be held on Friday, Dec. 1, with a 'potluck' lunch and an afternoon of Bingo. Hildegard Thomas will bring a cake. Anyone 55 years of age or older welcome to join the group.

RUTH CIRCLE

Ruth Circle met at the church on Nov. 2 with eight members present. Leader, Doris Nelson, opened the business meeting with a reading entitled, "November". Minutes were accepted. A 'thank you' was read from Opal Carlson for kindness shown at the time of Minnie Carlson's death and funeral.

Plans were made to serve the November meeting. Lyla Swanson and Elaine Lubberstedt volunteered to serve. Doris Nelson and Suzie Johnson agreed to lead the Circle for another year.

Swanson led the Bible Study, "Suffering as Becoming". Many reasons, good and bad, for suffering were discussed. The meeting opened and closed with a special prayer for those who are suffering in our community. The offering was lifted and table grace was said. Suzie Johnson served refreshments. Our next meeting as a Circle will be held on Jan. 4 at 2 p.m. with Pastor Karen leading the Study and Vandelyn Hanson as hostess.

Limited Lunch Time?

If your idea of a quick lunch is sitting in a drive-thru lane for 15 minutes — staring at the words "Wash Me" on the back window of the vehicle in front of you and having his exhaust being sucked through your heater vent then you have a lot of choices. If you want a fresh made sandwich, a variety of finger foods or a hot filling meal, then you have one choice.

Dream It! Do It! manufacturing campaign planned at Northeast

A meeting to raise awareness, develop programs, and prepare the next generation for careers in Nebraska manufacturing is set for Friday, Nov. 10, at 10 a.m. in the Lifelong Learning Center at Northeast Community College in Norfolk.

The Dream It. Do It. Campaign is set to reach out to educators, parents, and students to inform them about the exciting and high-tech careers available to them.

Nebraska is the first to implement the Dream It. Do It. Campaign on a state-wide basis, with Columbus, Lincoln, and Omaha currently implementing the program. The purpose of the Friday, Nov. 10 meeting is to introduce northeast Nebraska community leaders, educators and manufacturers to the Dream It. Do It program and show the impressive results achieved in other areas of the United States.

The campaign, developed by the National Association of Manufacturers (NAM) and the Manufacturing Institute, is partnering with the Nebraska Workforce Development, the Nebraska Department of Economic Development, the Nebraska Community College System, and local Chambers of Commerce, and

Wayne Eagles Auxiliary holds meeting

The Nov. 6 meeting of the Wayne Eagles Auxiliary was called to order by Madam President Amy Renz.

The elf in Bailey City

By Danica
Grade 3

Mrs. Hansen's Reading class

These four kids wanted a new playground. The four kids names are Melody, Eddie, Howie and Liza.

All of a sudden a truck came and park right in front of them. Then an elf came out and said "Do you need a new playground kids." Then all of them said "Yes, Let's get going then guys," Hollis Bell said. The they got a new slid and a new swing set and new monkey bars also and they had one more thing. They got a Christmas tree. Five days later was Christmas. Then they open presents and then they made Christmas cookies. There was angels, Santa and stars. They had a wonderful holiday.

The end.

New associates at Sand Creek Post & Beam include Cal Wiechman, front, and Mandy Kubik, Laura Penlerick and Leigh Anne Oswald, back row.

Sand Creek Post & Beam announces additions

Sand Creek Post & Beam of Wayne has announced the addition of associates to their management team.

With the continued growth of the company, the corporate office of Sand Creek Post & Beam has expanded to include a Sales Director, Marketing Director and Office Manager.

"Our accelerated growth has prompted the need for more associates throughout the company and we look to further expand over the next year," said Len Dickinson, co-owner of Sand Creek Post & Beam. "Our products are featured across the country and we continue to cultivate dealer partnerships throughout the US."

The Sand Creek Post & Beam plant is managed by Cal Wiechman, a native of Pilger. He carries the responsibility of plant manager/purchasing agent and has been with the company since 2005. He is a graduate of the University of Nebraska at Lincoln with a bachelor's degree in Agricultural Education and masters in Vocational Agriculture. He has had vast experience in the industry serving for many years at Builders Alliance in Bellingham, Wash. He held many positions at the company, with his last position as Relationship Manager for Industrial Sales before moving back to his hometown of Pilger. He and his wife Nancy reside in Pilger with their two children, Lucas, 11, and Leah, 8.

Mandy Kubik of Laurel assumed the position of Sales Director in June of 2006. Originally from Lincoln, Ms. Kubik comes to the company with a wealth of sales experience. Most recently she was a Manager in Training at Rogers Jewelers in Lincoln. She and her fiancé, Jon Fredrickson of Laurel, are planning a Nov. 25 wedding.

Laura Penlerick of Wayne joined the team as Marketing Director in August of 2006. A graduate of Iowa State University with a degree in Industrial Administration/Marketing Management concentration, she has many years of experience in the marketing field. Most recently she was an associate of Blue Ox in Pender, filling numerous positions within the marketing team. She currently resides in Wayne with her husband Mark. Together they have 5 children, Jenni, 20, Sara, 18, and Jay, 14, Schrader and Brittany, 13, and Nicholas, 11, Penlerick.

Leigh Anne Oswald became Sand Creek Post & Beam's new office manager in August of 2006. She recently graduated from Faith Baptist Bible College in Ankeny Iowa with an Associate of Arts degree in the Administrative Assistant Program. She is originally from Emmetsburg, Iowa and now resides in Laurel with her husband, Kyle.

the State Chamber of Commerce.

According to Joe Ferguson, director of business, industry and economic development at Northeast Community College, manufacturing is still the most robust sector of the U.S. economy. Manufacturing employs more than 14.6 million people, and local manufacturers, both large and small, desperately need a trained workforce to continue their growth in the high-velocity, highly-competitive global manufacturing industry.

"The Dream It. Do It Campaign will get the message to our students, teachers, and parents that manufacturing is an ideal choice for future career paths," Ferguson said.

Dream It. Do It seeks to foster economic growth by the creation of a skilled workforce. The campaign helps interested students identify what they are passionate about and find these fulfilling careers in manufacturing, with beginning annual compensation of $35,000 on up to some of the best paying careers in business.

Radio, print, and other media, plus the interactive Dream It. Do It Web site (www.dreamit-dot.com), will publicize these opportunities. The Web site offers streaming videos, links to training and educational opportunities and career

The next meeting will include the Aid Christmas party, beginning at noon on Thursday, Dec. 7.

Wayne Middle School students and staff conducted a Husker Pep Rally during Red Ribbon Week.

FRIENDs celebrates Red Ribbon Week

The Wayne FRIENDs Drug Free Youth Group coordinated Red Ribbon Week activities in the Wayne Elementary and Middle Schools, Oct. 24-27.

Theme days were celebrated with stickers, treats and pencils. The middle school was decorated with drug and alcohol prevention posters and red ribbons.

Tuesday was "Drugs Give Me the Blues" day and students wore blue. Wednesday was "Give Drugs the Slip" day; students wore slippers. Thursday was "Shade Out Drugs" day in the middle school and students wore sunglasses and hats. In the elementary school, student brought stuffed animals to school on Thursday for "I'm Wild About a Drug Free Life" day. Students wore red on Friday to celebrate "Wear Red Day."

FRIENDs officers Jake Zeiss, Zach Rasmussen, Jaime Fernandez, Drew Hix, and FRIEND Teachers Kennra Dunker and Lindsy Frahm led a Red Ribbon Week Husker Pep Rally on Friday afternoon at the Elementary School Character Shines assembly.

FRIENDs members made presentations at SCRAM (Saving Children: Rotarians Against Methamphetamines) programs and were recognized with a "Service Above Self" plaque from the Rotary Club.

Red Ribbon Week got started in 1988, when drug agent, Enrique Camarena was kidnapped and killed while trying to stop big drug dealers in Mexico. His family and friends started wearing red ribbons for one week in October to honor his memory by spreading the drug free message. The idea caught on and it has become a tradition all over the country.

FRIENDs, which stands for Facts Raising Interest Ending Needless Drugs, was started in 1989 by Counselor Ms Sudmann and a group of seventh and eighth graderstudents. FRIENDs is funded, in part, by Wayne United Way.

Stickers, treats and pencils were handed out by FRIENDs officers at Wayne Middle School.

Managing and reducing debt

Living with debt can be difficult. It takes a family commitment to successfully manage when debt seems overwhelming. Following are tips that are important in managing and reducing debt.

Make getting out of debt a priority. Do not go shopping just for something to do. Pay at least the minimum on debt and loans. Look for temporary sources of income if possible. Look at ways to reduce expenses. Re-evaluate deductibles everywhere possible. Contact creditors before you miss a payment. Involve everyone in the decision making process (including children that are old enough). Think about insurance needs (example - unemployment is not the time to let health insurance coverage lapse if it can be avoided). Learn about community resources. Make having an emergency fund a priority. Do not use credit for day-to-day expenses. Avoid credit as a way to live beyond your means. Make sure you know all of the credit charges and rates of interest. Know what it costs to live. Keep records of your expenses. Plan for larger expenses by saving each month. Challenge the whole family to find ways to save money.

Look for low cost forms of entertainment. Don't carry cash. It has a tendency to disappear. Wait at least 24 hours for any large purchase. Invest in yourself if education will help you find a better job. Try to preserve as much of your equity as possible.

Remember to involve everyone in the decision-making process and challenge the whole family to find ways to save money.

Wayne AmVets Auxiliary conducts October meeting

AmVets Post #22 Auxiliary met Oct. 30 with eight members and two guests present.

Sergeant-at-Arms/ Chaplain Teri Samuelson advanced the colors and gave the opening prayer. The Pledge of Allegiance and Preamble were recited.

President Jean Lutt thanked those ladies present who helped with the Fish & Chicken Supper and the breakfast in October.

Dorothy Wert read the minutes of the September meeting and gave the treasurer's report.

President Lutt passed out the AmVets patches for the jackets. She reported that she has knitted three pair of slippers. She encourages anyone else who likes to knit to do slippers also.

The AmVets Auxiliary sponsored an evening of making "Yellow Ribbons" for the welcoming home project for the 189th. They made 400 - 500 ribbons that night. A thank you was extended to all who helped.

Pictures were shown of the homecoming events of the 189th and reminiscing followed.

President Lutt reminded members that the dues for 2007 membership are now due and need to be turned in to the treasurer. There were applications of membership made out for two new members.

Members signed up to help with the November Fish & Chicken Supper and Breakfast.

Teri Samuelson gave the closing prayer and retired the colors.

Plans underway for seventh annual Thanksgiving Dinner

Thanksgiving is a time to give thanks, share in fellowship and friendship and enjoy the bounty of a fall harvest in the form of a turkey dinner and all its trimmings.

Holidays are more joyful when they are spent in the company of others.

Representatives from six local churches and many volunteers are working together to plan, prepare and serve this meal.

Anyone who wants fellowship, friendship or good food is asked to plan to share in a community-wide Thanksgiving Feast. There will be charge for this meal - it is a gift to those who come from those who participate in the preparation, serving and enjoyment of this meal.

Organizers have indicated that now is the time to make plans to attend.

"We will be delighted to share in your company at noon on Thanksgiving Day at Our Savior Lutheran Church Fellowship Hall, Fifth and Main Streets in Wayne."

Reservations may be made by calling (402) 375-2899 by Friday, Nov. 17. Transportation will be provided for those who need a ride.

The group operates under this premise: "If a person comes, they have a need. We really don't care what the need happens to be. Some have a need to serve others; some have a need for fellowship; some have a need for friendship; some have a need for food and others want to have fun."

Boecker-Hoehne married in August ceremony

Faith Lutheran Church in Stanton was the setting for the Aug. 26, 2006 wedding of Cara Mlady Boecker of Battle Creek and Vincent Hoehne of Stanton.

Pastor Timothy Booth officiated. Parents of the couple are Leon of Lindsay. Lindsey Hoehne of Omaha, niece of the groom, was the flower girl.

The bride's personal attendants were her cousin, Mallorie Wilken of Lincoln, and friend, Amanda Driver of Madison, S.D. Amanda also performed a solo at the ceremony.

The attendants wore two piece celadon gowns. Each chose a different bodice. They carried bouquets similar to the bride. The flower girl wore a floor length sleeveless white gown similar to the bride. She carried a basket of white rose petals.

The groom's Best Man was his cousin, Todd Hoehne of Vermillion, S.D.

Groomsmen were his brothers, Andrew Hoehne of Omaha and Jason Hoehne of Stanton and friend, Zach Molacek of Wayne.

Jackson Reimer of Mobile, Ala. cousin of the bride, and Myles Hoehne of Vermillion, S.D., cousin of the groom, were ringbearers.

The groomsmen wore black tuxedos with platinum vests and the ring bearers wore black tuxedos with white vests.

Ushers were the bride's cousins, Chase Wilken and Kip Smith, both of Bloomfield, the groom's cousin, Larry Thomsen of Norfolk and friend Cade Priester of Columbus.

The ushers wore black tuxedos with charcoal vests.

Pinning flowers were Karla Smith of Bloomfield and Deb Hoehne of Stanton. The candles were lit by Breanna Boecker of Omaha and Brett Hoehne of Norfolk.

A reception followed the ceremony at the Community Building in Stanton and was hosted by the bride's uncle and aunt, Warren and Karen Reimer and Godparents of the groom, Don and Linda Hoehne, all of Norfolk.

Nancy Lammers of Norfolk and Mackenzie Waltke of Lincoln attended the guest book.

Sheet cakes, baked by the bride's mother and decorated by the bride, were cut by Janel Eisenhauer of Battle Creek and Tina Thomsen of Norfolk.

Erin Reimer of Mobile, Ala. and Lori Schaefer of Norfolk served punch.

Video presentation planned for local ELCA Lutherans

Members of the ELCA Lutheran faith are invited to a video presentation by Pastor Tom Brock of Hope Lutheran Church in Minneapolis, Minn.

The presentation is scheduled for Sunday, Nov. 12 at 2 p.m. at the Community Fire Hall in Pender.

Following the video, discussion will be held concerning changes to the hymns, beliefs, creeds, way of worship and how the changes will affect the future of the church.

The program is being presented by Siouxland WorldAlone.

For more information, call (402) 385-2790.

Anniversary celebrated at First Baptist Church

First Baptist Church of Wayne celebrated its 125th anniversary on Nov. 5 beginning with a coffee and rolls fellowship hour, worship and a catered dinner. This was followed by a program of memories and anniversary cake and coffee in the afternoon.

Guests and former members came from Iowa, Oklahoma, Illinois, Florida and many areas of Nebraska.

A tribute to veterans was led by Linda Beam of Coleridge. "Seed Planting" was the chosen theme and scripture for the sermon by Pastor Doug Shelton of Hoskins.

Special music was performed by Heather and Kevin Reid of Omaha; For The Master Quartet; Greta, Diana and Holly Smith; Steve Swanson; Ken Dahl and Eric Smith, all of Wayne.

Lucas Thompson of Wayne shared some of his photos and experiences from a recent trip to the Holy Land. Letters and greetings were shared from all over the United States, Tasmania and China, from former pastors and members. A DVD of photos and film from the past was compiled and shared by Hope Beam of Norfolk.

Recognition was given to Bob and Mavis Penn, present members for 55 years and many others for various lengths of membership.

Memorabilia dating back to the 1800's was organized by Virginia Leonard and Joyce Pippitt and on display throughout the church.

Deanery meeting planned

The Rural Northeast Deanery will hold a meeting on Wednesday Nov. 15 at St. Mary's parish hall in Hubbard. Registration begins at 12:30 p.m. with the meeting to follow.

All women of the deanery parishes and parish priests are invited to attend.

Holiday musical to be presented at Concord Evangelical Free Church

"Operation Christmas Child," a unique holiday musical, will be presented by the Sunday School Department of the Concord Evangelical Free Church on Sunday, Nov. 12 at 7 p.m.

The musical is directed by Karla Kardell and will be given at the church, 617 Street in Concord.

The public is invited to attend. "Operation Christmas Child" is a children's musical based on the shoe box ministry of Samaritan's Purse. The musical takes place on a military base. "Soldiers" in the play come to understand that simple things can make a difference and we are blessed so that we can in turn bless others.

Through Samaritan's Purse, directed by Franklin Graham, millions of gift-filled shoe boxes bring Christmas to hurting children around the world each year.

Anyone who would like to pack a shoebox for Operation Christmas Child or for more information about the musical presentation, contact Karla Kardell at (402) 256-9303 or Deb Dickey at (402) 375-2469.

Medicare prescription drug program help available

Need help on Medicare Prescription Drug program? Help is available on Mondays from Nov. 20 until Dec. 11 between 1 and 7 p.m. at the Haskell Ag Lab near Concord. Medicare's open enrollment starts Nov. 15. Now is the time to evaluate your current plan - has it met your needs this year?

Important Medicare Enrollment Dates are Nov 15 - Open Enrollment Begins; Dec 31 - Open Enrollment Ends; Jan 1 - Coverage Begins Enroll early to make sure you can get the prescriptions you need on Jan. 1.

Some questions to think about include: COST: Will your premium and costs change in 2007? COVERAGE: Do you need more coverage in 2007? Will the prescription drugs you take be covered by your plan in 2007? CUSTOMER SERVICE: Are you satisfied with your plan's service?

If you are satisfied with your plan, you do not have to do anything to re-enroll. If you want to do comparisons using the Medicare Website, and would like some help in doing that, schedule an appointment by calling the UNL Extension Office in Dixon County, 402-584-2234.

Ready for election to be over

You know what? I will be so glad when the recorded election calls stop! I think I hate them worse than all the TV ads and all the flyers. I just hope someone pulls up all the yard signs on Wednesday. They spoil the lovely fall ambience around town.

I do wish that when a newspaper prints a bunch of photos, like from the fair, or from the welcome for the 189th, they would identify the folks in the pictures. We saw clips of the welcome at the college on the news, and rejoiced with all the rest of you that they were safely home again. Did you really have 200,000 yellow ribbons? When you think about it, that's a LOT of ribbon.

Other random thoughts this beautiful fall evening when the temperature hit 60 degrees again: Homecoming at UNL was perfect; weather and winning came together. Ty Pennington visited, as did Patrick Deuel.

I had no idea who Ty Pennington was, but I soon learned, as his team coordinated the demolition of an old house last Sunday and the construction of a new one on the site in five days! It has really caused a buzz in this city, about the way the winners of the lottery did, or the visit last fall of Tommy Lee. It's just fun to be on the outskirts of it all.

By: Pat Meierhenry

And reading about Patrick Deuel realizing a childhood dream of a Husker football game was tear jerking. He's still a big guy, but he's over seven hundred pounds less than when he started. Kind of makes you want to stick to your diet.

And then there are the Husker volleyball players, still unbeaten. They are such fun to watch.

I actually did the hospice nurse bit all last week, and was mighty glad to see Friday come. I always wonder how I did it for so many years, and fed guests for breakfast, too. I was younger, for one thing, and I'm guessing that is the most important thing.

The hard drive on my computer went out and I was without e-mail for two weeks. I was surprised at how dependent I've become on this darned thing. It's such a handy way to communicate; you can send a message any time, and not wait for an answer machine, or call waiting, or whatever. Plus, Lynn at the Herald had to try to read my writing again, which has deteriorated like everything else. Thank goodness for the geeks who know what to do when technology breaks down.

Now, to get ready for Turkey Day!

Wreath making workshop to be offered

The Northeast arboretum will offer several workshops in different locations on making Christmas wreaths.

The workshops are listed below for date, time and location. All materials will be provided for a wreath, spray or a new project this year for a small table top tree with natural materials.

Attendees will learn about the basics of design, materials to use and gift ideas for the holidays. Call for pre-registration one week ahead of the scheduled date of the workshop. Cost of the workshop will be $10 or $5 for arboretum members.

Call Alice Hemsath at (402) 256-9040 or Barb Junck at (402) 584-2234 for more information and to pre-register.

Workshops will be held the following dates at specified locations:

- Nov. 18 - Haskell Ag Lab, 10 a.m.;

Protect trees from rabbits, deer

A couple of wildlife problems associated with trees during the wintertime are rabbits and deer.

The most common would be rabbits, especially in towns or around shelter belts. Rabbits seem to find several places to reproduce to abundance and eat every green item they can find. Trees are inviting to the rabbits as the bark does furnish some nutrition during the cold winter months when there is no other eatable green plant available. Fruit trees, ornamentals and other smooth barked trees and many shrubs are attractive to the rabbit.

Protection is best achieved with a wire cage placed around the tree trunk spaced about six inches away from the trunk. Protection will be needed until the tree trunk is at least two inches in diameter. By that time, the bark will be less tender and not as attractive to the rabbit. The hard plastic tree wraps will also protect the trunk but does

Board of Trustees meeting announced

In compliance with the provisions of Neb. Rev. Stat. Section 84-1411, printed notice is hereby given that a regular meeting of the Board of Trustees of the Nebraska State Colleges will convene at Southeast Community College Continuing Education Center, 301 S 68th Place, Lincoln on Thursday, Nov. 16.

The agenda is: Executive Session, Nov. 16, 9 a.m.; Strategic Planning Review Session, Nov. 16, 9:45 a.m.; Committee Meetings, Nov. 16, 11:15 a.m.; Business Meeting, Nov. 16, 1:45 p.m.

The next regularly scheduled meeting of the Board of Trustees of the Nebraska State Colleges will be held Feb. 1 and 2, 2007 at Peru State College in Peru.

prevent sunlight from reaching the trunk and can set up conditions ideal for diseases. If one applies this type of protection, it is best to remove the plastic in the spring. Shrubs will often need protection until the shrub is well established after three to four years or growth.

Deer are also a problem but more so in the rural areas or on the edge of towns. Deer often will use young trees for rubbing of the antlers to remove the velvet on the antlers. This can cause severe damage to the young tree trunk and kill the tree. The only true barrier is a wire cage around the tree up to a height of six feet. Protection is needed for several years until the tree is large enough for the bark to be tough enough to handle the abuse.

During severe winters, the deer will also use the tree as a food source and eat the tender twigs and bark. Damage can be lethal or deform the natural growth of the tree. Wire protection is the only true protection.

Repellents are available for both rabbits and deer at many of the garden centers. Their effectiveness is limited for the length of time that the chemicals in the repellent are active and how good a job you do in application. Some folks will have good luck with the repellents working, others will not. Repellents have not proven to be effective for every situation.

Take some time before it really turns cold and set up some protection your trees and shrubs.

4-H News

COUNTRY CLASSICS 4-H CLUB

On Oct. 15 the Country Classics 4-H Club met at the Wayne County Fair's 4-H Building.

The whole club met the new members Brandon and Jacob Bear, Hannah Belt and Anna Loberg. Then the Country Classics members took roll, telling the club president what their favorite thing they did over the weekend.

The club then elected their officers. They elected Samantha Dunklau, president; Maddie Jager, vice-president; Megan Loberg, secretary; Jorge Dunklau, treasurer; Hannah McCorkindale, historian; Sawyer Jager, news reporter; Sylvia Jager, correspondence and Brook Bowers, flags.

After the meeting was adjourned, the awards presentation and supper was held at the 4-H Building.

COUNTRY CLASSICS 4-H CLUB

The County Classics 4-H Club met at First Presbyterian Church for the second meeting of the 4-H year on Nov. 5.

After naming their favorite fruit and candy bar for roll call, and after the treasurer's report, the club decided on three goals for the year. They decided to create hospital tray favors, held with the Food Pantry and paint trash cans at the County Fairgrounds.

When the meeting was over, demonstrations were given. Jack Belt presented his purple ribbon first aid kit, while Jacob and Andrew Pulfer demonstrated who the food party was organized and what it is used for.

The meeting was then adjourned.

All Banks Have Green Money

All banks have green money. All banks offer savings, loans and services like checking accounts. So, does it matter where you bank? Yes, you bet it does. Why? Because it's how we offer financial services that make us different. Take for example, the length of time you have to wait to get a straight up or down, yes or no, answer on your loan request. We don't have to consult an out of town loan committee. We make our decisions right here.
