City of Wayne in 'very good shape'

By Clara Osten
Of the Herald

From the city's financial status, to housing funds and the purchase of holiday decorations, the Wayne City Council dealt with a variety of issues at Tuesday's meeting.

Terry Galloway with Almqvist, Maltzahn, Galloway & Luth, PC presented the fiscal year 2005-06 audit to the council.

The 77 page report gave a detailed account of the city's assets and explained areas within the city budget that could use improvement.

Galloway told the council that Wayne "is in very good shape. The city is one of the finest in the state of Nebraska."

He did point out areas, including the sewer department and transfer station, that have been losing money and suggested the city look at these areas and make adjustments.

During a public hearing the council heard from Mechele Grimes with the Northeast Nebraska Economic Development District.

Grimes told the council that an application is being submitted for $387,416 in state funds in the form of a three year grant. She is working with the Community Development Agency on developing 17 lots in the area west of the cemetery. The money would be used to get lot prices down to create affordable housing.

Cox Development of Norfolk is the developer for the project. The plan calls for building nine houses valued at $110,000 and eight houses valued at $132,000 in a three year time frame.

If the city is successful in its quest for this grant, funds would be released in October of this year, with building to begin in the spring of 2008.

The council unanimously approved the resolution which allows for the applying of these funds.

A public hearing and corresponding ordinance were removed from Tuesday's agenda.

The two items involved the rezoning request of Matthew Kavan and Frank Mrsny to re-zone property from R-2 (residential) to A-2 (agricultural residential). Several property owners in the area did not receive notification of the proposed change and the issue will return to the Planning Commission for re-evaluation and a public hearing.

The council passed a resolution authorizing the sale of property located at 319 South Nebraska Street to the Wayne Community Housing Development Corporation (WCHDC).

City Planner George Ellyson explained to the council that the city purchased the

Local Northeast Nebraska Red Cross chapter responds to record number of fires this year

The Northeast Nebraska Chapter of the American Red Cross has responded to a record number of fires this year, and thus are way over budget for this line item.

"Since I started with this chapter seven and a half years ago, the most fires we have had in one year was seven. This year so far, we have had 12 and we are only three fourths of the way through with our fiscal year," states Director Lori Carollo.

The chapter has expended approximately $7,200 so far this fiscal year. They have helped 23 adults and nine children. Volunteer responders are on call for the Red Cross 24 hours a day, 365 days a year. They have also assisted with lost medication and eyewear need on occasion, as well as referrals to other agencies for permanent housing and other necessities.

Another major change that came to all Red Cross chapters' nation-wide this past fiscal year was the implementation of "Client Assistance Cards." This was used quite extensively during Hurricane Katrina, but this past year all Red Cross chapters had to implement this system. Clients served are now given a Red Cross debit card to go and purchase the items they need to replace. This provides more independence to the clients and is quite a bit less paperwork for the chapter.

"We are really in great need of financial funding this year as our disaster budget is actually in a deficit at this point. We have a direct mail campaign that should be arriving in people's mailboxes soon and we hope that people will take the time to send in a donation to help us through these difficult times. And remember, we still have 3-4 months to go!" states Carollo.

But no matter what or when they are called, they will answer because . . . . "HELP CAN'T WAIT!"

Northeast Nebraska American Red Cross soup luncheon to be held Friday, March 2

The Northeast Nebraska American Red Cross will have a Soup Luncheon on Friday, March 2 from 11 a.m. to 1:30 p.m. (or until they run out of soup) at the Wayne Vets Club at 220 Main Street in Wayne. There will be a free will donation.

Two kinds of soup will be served (potato and chili), along with crackers, bars and a drink.

Funds raised will help support disaster assistance in Wayne County.

Plans underway for annual Elderfest celebration in Wayne

The historic Wayne City Auditorium will provide the setting again this year for Wayne's Elderfest celebration on Thursday, April 19.

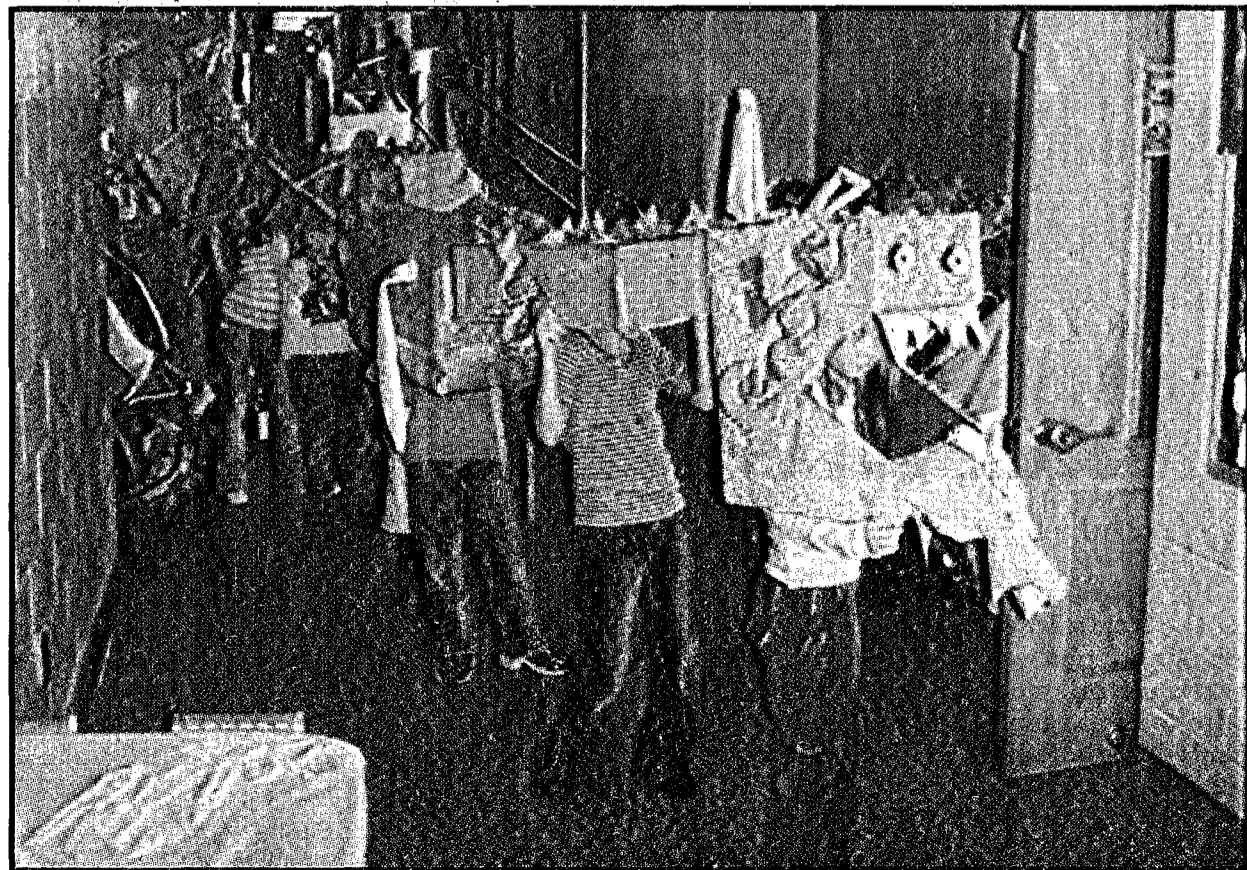

A daylong celebration honoring senior citizens, the fest will include free food, music, entertainment and information and will again be capped off with a free candlelight dance with music provided by Gwen and Artie Schmidt Duo and hors d'oeuvre buffet and refreshments.

Returning again this year will be a vintage style show, which will feature both men's and women's fashions across the decades. The committee is seeking individuals with vintage clothing, which could be modeled at the style show.

Anyone who can be of assistance is asked to call Susan Wells at The Oaks Retirement Community in Wayne Nebraska at 402-375-1500.

"Again, mark your calendar for Thursday, April 19 and attend the third annual Elderfest celebration at the Wayne City Auditorium, beginning at 9 a.m. and concluding with a candlelight dance in the evening, and it's all free!" Wells said.

Chinese New Year

The second graders at Wayne Elementary School celebrated the Chinese New Year. The following is what the students read to the classrooms, "Feb. 18 was the beginning of the Chinese New Year. In China, on New Year's Day everyone is on their best behavior. Many Chinese families believe that whatever happens on this day will determine the family's luck for the rest of the year. The dragon shows strength and goodness as it weaves back and forth through the streets. It is believed to scare away the evil spirits of the past year and to clear the way for good fortune. Once a year the dragon appears to wish the Chinese people peace, wealth and good luck."

Setting the strategy

Scott Brummond, center, with the Nebraska Department of Roads conducted an informational meeting on Feb. 28 at the North Meeting Room of the Wayne City Auditorium. Brummond talked about the remaining phases of the in-Wayne Highway 15 project to be completed this spring. Weather permitting, work will begin next week with the milling of the highway from Carquest south to the Logan Creek bridge. It is anticipated the project could be completed as early as mid-May, but all those involved stressed that the dates will be dependent upon the weather. The work will be done under traffic, with the west portion of the highway being completed first. During the informational meeting, which included city employees and contractors, the order of completion was discussed.

Winter wonderland

Recent storms have blanketed the area in snow with promise of more bad weather on the way. While the snow is beautiful, slick conditions have made travel difficult.

NSP warns of real estate scam

The Nebraska State Patrol wants Nebraskans to be aware of a real estate scam involving the sale of business property. The Nebraska State Patrol is investigating an incident in Dawes County in which a business owner lost $5,000. Investigators say the victim entered into an agreement with a company called Alliance Acquisitions out of Atlanta, Ga., in which the company would advertise his business for sale nationwide. The company would also guarantee at least one potential buyer for the business in a year's time. If that potential buyer was not located, the $5,000 initial investment would be returned. The victim entered into the agreement in January, 2006. Early contact with the company assured the victim his promised "business package" detailing the advertising for his company was in the mail. The package never arrived and eventually calls to the company revealed the number had been disconnected.

The Nebraska State Patrol warns the scam has already cost consumers nationwide hundreds of thousands of dollars. Individuals looking to sell commercial property are urged to be on the look out for representatives of out of state companies guaranteeing buyers and wanting money up front for advertising packages.

For more information on how to protect yourself from fraud and deceptive trade practices or to submit a complaint please contact the Consumer Protection Division of the Attorney General's Office at 800-727-6432.

Looking Ahead in Wayne

By Lowell Johnson, City Administrator

Next City Council Meeting

The next meeting of the Wayne City Council will be held Tuesday, March 13 at 5:30 p.m. in the city office building at 306 Pearl Street. New City Council meeting time Regularly scheduled Wayne city council meetings now start at 5:30 p.m.

Laurel

Congratulations to the folks in the Laurel community on the multiple new business announcements recently. Momentum creates momentum and new jobs for our kids and grandkids. Thanks for getting it done.

Waste Water Treatment Plant

Water comes in and water goes out. Why does it cost more for sewer than water?

- New EPA regulations require sterilizing waste water with ultraviolet light before it goes into Logan Creek.

- New EPA requirements will require more removal of ammonia, nitrates and phosphorus for all cities in the Mississippi River Basin because these nutrients in the rivers stimulate plant growth in the Gulf of Mexico.

- The Wayne treatment plant is rusting out and must be rebuilt or replaced.

- Our sewer revenues did not cover costs last year and we must operate on a break even basis.

We will be raising sewer rates by a large amount soon to begin accumulating reserves to help pay the multi-million dollar cost of a new or rebuilt plant.

Emergency Planning Issues

In case of emergency, are you prepared to be a helper or one needing help?

Phase II Pedestrian Trail

The council will receive the final design in April and bid it out for summer '07 construction. Maps and estimated costs are available at the city office for those interested.

Garbage Rates

The council approved new garbage rates at the transfer station beginning April 2. Our revenues last year did not cover our costs. We will also substantially reduce the number of days the transfer station is open for walk-in dumps beginning in May.

Capitol View

This is not an election year

By Ed Howard

Statehouse Correspondent
The Nebraska Press Association

Despite whatever impression mass communications might have created among Nebraska voters, this is not a presidential election year.

I know. I know. With wannabe presidents getting so much space and airtime in news venues, it is easy to find yourself anticipating exercise of the franchise in November. (The other day, I almost called the Nebraska Secretary of State to ask for a sample ballot.)

Interestingly, while some have been looking forward to a November election that is not going to happen, virtually no one has thought about a May primary election - which also won't happen.

This is easily explained. Consciously or otherwise, Nebraskans know that their presidential primary elections don't really mean anything. By the time May of an election year arrives, the big states and big money have usually finalized the major party candidates.

There is an easy way to identify an election year. Whenever there is so much political reporting and commentary in the air that you aren't sure if an Electoral College soiree is upcoming, remember this:

If your radios and televisions are not spewing soppy or insulting advertisements at an annoying rate, it cannot be an election year. Why doesn't this clarifying fact occur spontaneously to more people? Easy. As soon as one election year is over, people automatically try to forget stupid political ads. Subconsciously they are actively trying not to remember them. This is understandable. After all, one might have a sense that a doctor's appointment is on the horizon; but it would be silly to dwell on the upcoming colonoscopy, wouldn't it? Besides: If there were a Nebraska primary coming up, Don Stenberg and Attorney General Jon Bruning would either be in it, or would have spent the last several months talking about whether to be in it.

Sure and certain signs of middle-aged political junkies? When politics is in the air, they will take or make an opportunity for a palaver on previous elections. A favorite part of the exercise will be correcting popular misconceptions that crop up in such discussions.

In the usually unrealistic hope of not being caught spouting one election-year myth or another, I often read of past presidential campaigns.

Embarrassingly, it was learned that my long-perceived meaning of the historic political expression "waiving the bloody shirt" was altogether incorrect.

The previous (erroneous) view from here was that it had something to do with politicians in the Old South - raising the issue of the Civil War (the bloody shirt) to win votes in subsequent elections. Wrong.

In 1868, a government official in Mississippi was dragged from his home in the night (whenever else?) and flogged by local Ku Klux Klan types. The shirt he had worn was given to a northern congressman.

During a House speech supporting legislation to allow a President to use the army to enforce federal law in the South, the northern congressman waived the bloody shirt above his head for emphasis. Thereafter, when northern politicians ranted against the South for starting the Civil War, it was called "waiving the bloody shirt."

Legislators debate fate of Class I schools

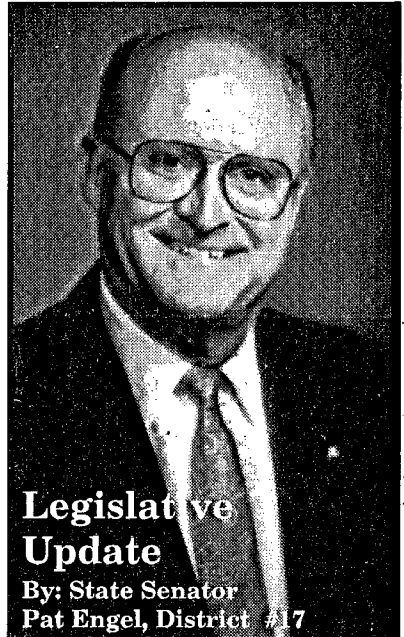

During the first portion of the legislative session, noncontroversial bills can move rather quickly. Now that we have passed the one-third mark for this legislative session, things are beginning to slow down. Senators are starting to discuss priority bills, which are generally controversial. It is not uncommon for the Legislature to discuss the same issue for several days.

Two years ago, legislation was passed to require Class I (elementary only) school districts to merge with K-12 districts. Safeguards were included in the legislation to prohibit the closure of elementary attendance sites if certain conditions were met. Last November, voters chose to repeal this legislation through the referendum process. However, since not enough signatures were gathered to suspend the law from taking effect, the mergers had already occurred by the time the law was repealed by voters.

Four bills were introduced on the topic of reestablishing the Class I districts. LB 30, introduced by Senator Carol Hudkins of Malcolm, would reorganize the Class I and Class VI (high school only) districts as they existed as of Nov. 30, 2005. The school board of the reorganized district would then hold a special election within two months to decide if the district should remain open.

LB 234, introduced by Senator Cap Dierks of Ewing, provides for the reestablishment of every school district which existed on Nov. 30, 2005, but was later dissolved. The reestablished school district would have the same boundaries, assets, liabilities and board members that the district possessed prior to the merger.

Legislative Update
By: State Senator Pat Engel, District #17

LB 357, introduced by Speaker Mike Flood of Norfolk, restores the building protections that were contained in LB 126. LB 658, introduced by Senator Ron Raikes of Lincoln, would allow for the creation of new Class I school districts pursuant to a reorganization plan submitted by an individual or group of individuals. If the plan is approved by the State Reorganization Committee, proponents would have to gather signatures from 15 percent of the registered voters in the K-12 district and 55 percent of the voters in the proposed Class I district, in order for the proposal to be placed on the next general election ballot for the voters in that K-12 district.

Of the 215 Class I districts, 53 have closed pursuant to LB 126. The remaining 162 former Class I districts have been reopened as an attendance center. It is unclear if the requirements contained in LB 30 and LB 234 are even possible, as the buildings of some of the 53 sites that closed have either been sold or razed. Additionally, there are constitutional problems associated with LB 30 and LB 234. The constitution prohibits legislation pertaining to a closed class or select group. Since other districts can no longer become a former Class I district, this would represent a closed class.

At the public hearing, testifiers stressed that the voters have spoken and the Class I districts should be reinstated. Others testified that, although they may not have supported the merger initially, they are pleased with the results of the merger and do not want to go back in time.

I intend to strongly support the bill that restores the building protections that were contained in LB 126, but no longer in effect due to its repeal. Safeguards would, among other things, prevent the K-12 school district from closing a former Class I attendance center if it has at least 10 resident students and is located at least 10 miles from another school or the attendance site is the only school located in a city or village.

If you have any comments on the school reorganization bills or other issues pending before the Legislature, I encourage you to inform me of your opinions. I can be contacted at District #17, P.O. Christon MacTaggart, Domestic Violence/Sexual Assault Program coordinator, Nebraska State Patrol was one of the speakers at the conference held Tuesday at Wayne State.

Improving Community Response to Domestic Violence in Nebraska conference held at WSC

A conference, "Improving Community Response to Domestic Violence in Nebraska" was held at Wayne State College on Feb. 27 and 28. The conference was presented by the Nebraska Attorney General's Office focusing on rural communities and highlighting police protocol, victim assistance and prosecution methods.

Presentation of the conference was in partnership with the Nebraska State Patrol and NDVSAC (Nebraska Domestic Violence Sexual Assault Coalition - a coalition of agencies) and was made possible through a VAWA (Violence Against Women Act) grant.

Welcoming attendees were Jon Bruning, Nebraska Attorney General; Dr. Richard Collings, WSC president; LeRoy Janssen, Wayne County Sheriff; Lance Webster, Wayne Chief of Police and Kerry Crosby, Investigator, Nebraska Attorney General's Office.

Conference speakers included Christon MacTaggart, Domestic Violence/Sexual Assault Program Coordinator, Nebraska State Patrol; Kerry Crosby, Investigator, Nebraska Attorney General's Office; Tricia Freeman, Chief Deputy County Attorney, Sarpy County Attorney's Office; Marty Beyer, Probation Officer, State of Nebraska; Tonya Folk, Batterers' Intervention Program Coordinator, North Platte; Sue Michalski, MS, RN, Training and Education Director Domestic Violence Coordination Council.

MacTaggart's Domestic Violence 101 presentation covered domestic violence dynamics and defined domestic violence. Domestic violence is an intimate relationship in which one partner uses a pattern of coercive and abusive behaviors with the purpose of establishing and maintaining power and control over the other person and the relationship.

Facts presented about domestic violence include the following points: •conflict vs. abuse •It's not an anger management issue •It's not caused by drinking or stress •Victims and abusers represent all ages, races, socioeconomic levels, educational and occupational backgrounds, personalities and religions •Victims may or may not

Crystal Farms distribution operations in Wakefield close

The distribution operations of Crystal Farms in Wakefield has been closed, noted Mark Witmer, Michael Foods, Inc. treasurer.

Two large customers have switched to pick-up basis at another Crystal Farms location rather than delivery. Six positions have been terminated with the closure of the distribution operations in Wakefield.

The distribution center handled all of the Crystal Farms products including cheese, shell eggs, butter, margarine, bagels, English muffins, etc. Crystal Farms is a Michael Foods, Inc. company.

have been abused as children or witnessed domestic violence as children •Studies say that 20 - 50 percent of all women will be victimized at some time during their lives by an intimate partner.

As for the gender, although both women and men may be victims of domestic violence, women are the victims of the vast majority of these crimes. Eighty-five percent of violent victimizations by intimate partners between 1993-1998 were perpetrated against women (DOJ 2002). Domestic violence is the largest single cause of injury to women, more than auto accidents, muggings and rapes combined (1993). Intimate partners are responsible for 30 percent of all female homicides and 2.8 percent of all male homicides (DOJ 2000). There are 500,000 women a year having injuries requiring medical attention that were inflicted by a partner (DOJ 2000). Eighty-seven percent of stalking victims are female and 62 percent of the time, the stalker is a current or past partner (DOJ 2001).

It has been found that women do not use violence the same way or for the same reason as men. Most women who are violent in their relationship would not be if their partner were not abusive. Women's violence is reactive or retaliatory, not for domination and control. Women's use of violence is not as effective as men's use of violence.

To gain power and control in domestic violence, often intimidation, emotional abuse, isolation, minimizing, denying and blaming are used, as well as children, male privilege, economic abuse, coercion and threats.

Batterers use a number of excuses for their actions, some of those include: trying to keep family together, acknowledges family problems but denies violence, she bruises easily, she was hysterical, she was high or drunk, had to restrain her, was defending self and it was an accident.

Domestic violence leaves behavioral, physical and social effects on children. There are many reasons why victims of domestic violence stay including fear, denial, limited consequences, no support, stigma, frequency and severity, children, promises to change, pets/animals, isolation, self-blame and low self esteem, family pressure, guilt and retaliation.

MacTaggart ended by saying that leaving is a process, not an event. It must be accomplished in steps. Domestic violence is the most serious crime that road officers will investigate.

From the other presentations it was found that •Crosby: the goal is to educate the participants on the role of law enforcement, the current statutes and investigate techniques in matters relating to domestic violence.

•Freeman: on improving community response to domestic violence and the role of prosecution, it was noted there is a collaboration between the County Attorney and law enforcement, judges, probation, advocates, 911 and medical. The objective is to stop the violence, keep the victim safer, hold the batterer accountable and approach every case as if preventing a homicide.

•Beyer: the probation mission statement states that leaders in community corrections, juvenile and restorative justice are unified in their dedication to deliver a system of seamless services which are founded on evidence-based practices and valued by Nebraska communities, victims, offenders and courts. They create constructive change through rehabilitation, collaboration and partnerships in order to enhance safe communities.

•Folk: on offender accountability, essential elements for a Batterers' program to operate within a coordinated community response includes domestic abuse program/advocacy services available, good law enforcement response/arrests, prosecutor willing to go forward with case/prosecute, probation officers willing to hold perpetrators accountable, batter's program that will work collaboratively with all of the above and judge(s) that will hold perpetrators accountable if they fail to comply with probation/batterer program.

•Michalski: in the healthcare response to strangulation and related injuries, strangulation accounts for 10 percent of all violent deaths. It was noted that 50 percent of women are physically abused-sexually, 50 percent of sexual assaults involve strangulation, 50 percent of rapes present with head injuries, 60 percent of injuries are to the head, face and neck, 35 percent present with orbital fractures.

•MacTaggart: on developing a coordinated community response to domestic violence, coordinated response team activities should include a common philosophical approach, standardized practices, monitoring and tracking cases, coordinating information and networking, resources and services for victims, sanctions for offenders, undo harm to children, training and evaluation.

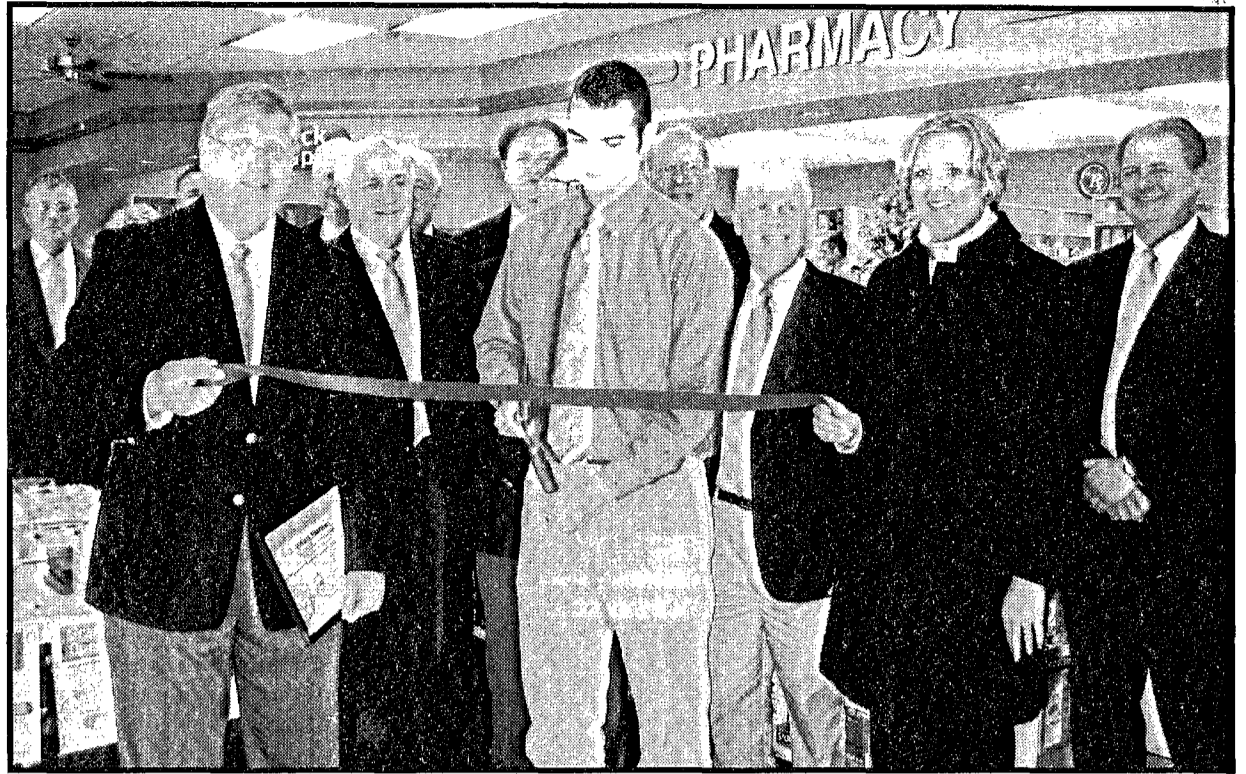

Local crisis intervention and support services for domestic violence and sexual assault victims can be found at Haven House, which serves the following counties: Wayne, Cedar, Dixon, Dakota and Thurston. Haven House can be reached at the 24-hour crisis line (800) 440-4633 or in Wayne at 402-833-5526, South Sioux City (402) 494-7592 or Hartington (402) 254-2553.

property from Housing and Urban Development (HUD) and therefore, the property cannot be offered to sale to the general public, but needs to be transferred to a non-profit agency.

Della Pries, representing WCHDC, told the council that her board of directors requested several changes in the original language of the resolution, eliminating the time frame for completion of a house on the property.

The council also gave first reading approval to the ordinance directing the sale of this property. It will come before the council for second reading at the next meeting.

In other action, the council approved Resolution 2007-20, approving the bid specifications for the purchase of a pickup for the city's Wastewater Department.

Garry Poutre, Superintendent of Public Works and Utilities, presented a report on the proposed Electrical Distribution Project slated to be completed in 2007 in the Pine Heights area.

Poutre noted that this project would include putting electrical lines underground in the area near the National Guard Armory. There is $250,000 in this year's budget for the project and additional funds are available in the capitol improvements portion of the budget.

Currently, the lines near the Armory are above ground and surrounded by trees. This makes work on them difficult for the electrical department. Moving the lines underground will also mean that storms would not affect electrical service to that portion of the city.

Considerable discussion was held on the design and costs for Phase II of the Trail Project.

City Administrator Lowell Johnson presented a history of this project and talked about the estimated cost. He expects the project to be bid out in April with a completion date of October if the bids are within the council's estimated cost.

Effective April 1, the rates for solid waste disposal at the city's Transfer Station will be raised and the hours of operation cut.

The cost for disposing of a 35 cubic gallon or less container at the Transfer Station will go from the present cost of $3.50 to $5. A pickup truck load of waste will cost $38 to dispose of, up from the current rate of $34.

At this time, the Transfer Station will begin to be open only on Saturdays.

These changes were necessary to meet the costs of operating the facility.

After deliberation, the council voted to purchase 34 wreaths to be placed on half of the light poles on Main Street.

Council member Verdel Lutt said he felt the city should purchase wreaths for one-half of the new light poles and "see how we like them" before purchasing the remainder. The total cost for the purchase of the wreaths for each of the 67 new poles would be $10,800.

Garry Poutre, who has been involved in the discussions as to what type of decoration should be purchased, told the council that the group involved felt a wreath would be a better option than garland and that the city has purchased other decorations in the past from the same company offering the wreaths and they have been very durable.

The council will next meet in regular session on Tuesday, March 13 at 5:30 p.m.

Stopped short

Blue Devils denied trip to state by Boone Central

By David W. Carstens
Of the Herald

Wayne's season-long dream of returning to the state basketball tournament for the first time since 2003 came to halt on Monday evening.

The Blue Devils (19-5) had triumphed against Mid-State foe Boone Central two times this season. The third time wasn't exactly charmed as WHS fell to the Cardinals 53-43 in the C-1-3 district final at Norfolk High on Monday.

Last Thursday, Wayne advanced to the district final after recording a 43-42 victory against Wisner-Pilger in overtime in the C-1-5 sub-district final at Oakland.

Monday's loss marked the final high school contest for five Wayne seniors — Ronnie Backman, Nate Finkey, Nathan Summerfield, Ransen Broders and Ben Poutre.

Recaps from the Blue Devils' final two contests include:

Wayne 43, Wisner-Pilger 42 OT
The rematch of one of this season's thrilling matchups for the Wayne High Blue Devil boys' basketball team was also a nailbiter the second time around.

A pair of clutch free throws by senior Nathan Summerfield with four seconds left in overtime allowed Wayne to post a 43-42 win against top-seed Wisner-Pilger in C-1-5 subdistrict final action at Oakland on Feb. 22.

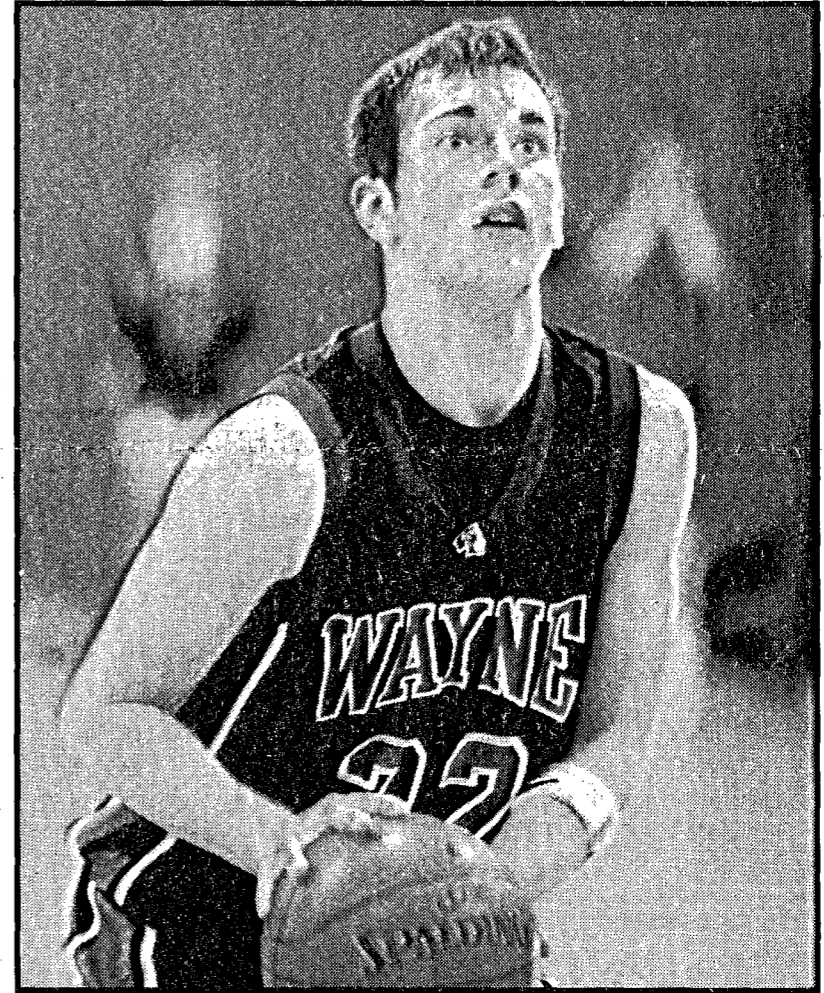

"It was another great game for the fans and our kids found a way to get it done, again," Wayne High coach Rocky Ruhl said. "The storybook ending was great for Nate and the team."

Free throws were a scarce commodity on the night as each team struggled at the charity stripe. Wayne finished 6-of-14 at the line, while the Gators connected on 4-of-15.

The opening quarter was virtually deadlocked as W-P held a 7-5 advantage for the period.

Reggie Ruhl sparked Wayne in the first frame when he hit his first of two treys on the night to open scoring for the Blue Devils.

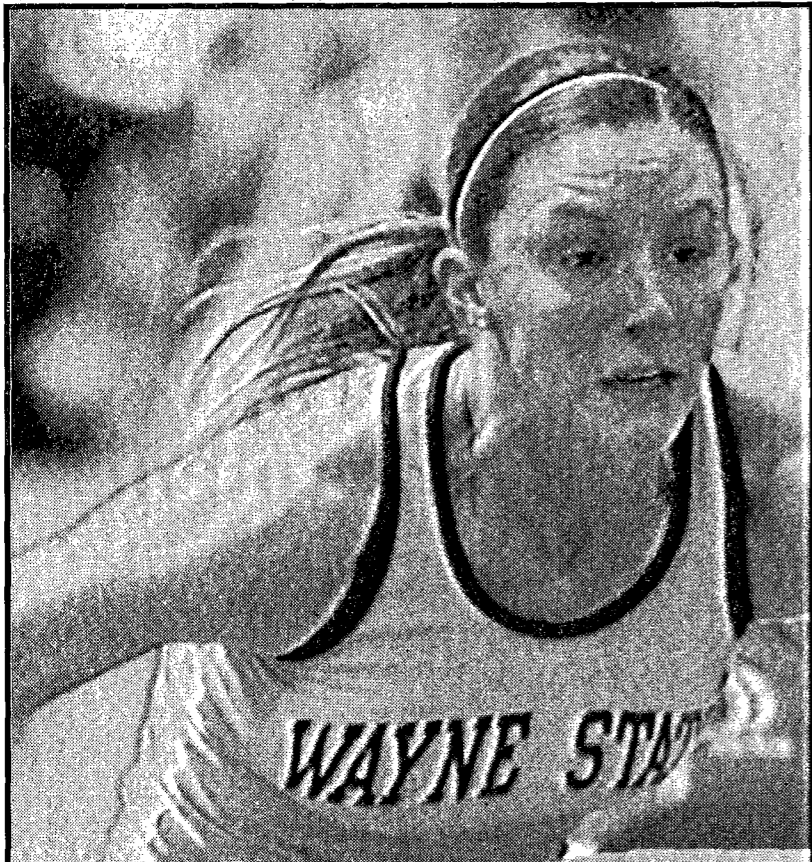

Jesse Hill hit a pair of 3-pointers and added another basket in the Nathan Summerfield concentrates before throwing his game-winning free throw in last Thursday's subdistrict final game in Oakland.

WSC freshman Kylie Herian of Pierce was named the NSIC Womens' Indoor Track Athlete of the Year after last weekend's conference meet in Bemidji, Minn.

WSC women post seventh-straight

The winning streak keeps on rolling for the Wayne State womens' basketball team, who wrapped up an impressive one-two punch to conclude the regular season.

The Wildcats knocked off the Northern Sun's two top teams on consecutive nights in home games at Rice Auditorium last weekend.

The wins secured a first-round home game in the conference tournament that was scheduled to open on Wednesday (last night) for the Wildcats, who moved to 18-9 overall and 11-7 in the league.

Recaps from last weekend's home contests include:

Wayne State 90, Concordia-St. Paul 78

Wayne State College handily defeated Concordia University-St. Paul 90-78 Friday evening in a Northern Sun conference game played in Wayne at Rice Auditorium, snapping the Golden Bears' 10-game win streak.

The Wildcats have now won six straight games and improved to 17-9 overall and 10-7 in the NSIC, while dropping CSP to 17-9 overall and 14-3 in the NSIC.

With the exception of one tie early in the game, 2-2, Wayne State led the entire game.

Wildcats split final home games

The Wayne State mens' basketball team closed out the regular season with a home split last weekend after dropping a contest on Feb. 23 to Concordia-St. Paul and notching a win against Minnesota State-Moorhead on Feb. 24.

The team, now 15-12 on the season and 10-8 in the conference, was scheduled to meet Concordia in the first round of the Northern Sun league tournament on Wednesday evening (last night) at St. Paul Minnesota.

The Wildcats enter the tournament as the No. 5 seed.

Recaps from last weekend's home games include:

Concordia-St. Paul 82, Wayne State 72

Concordia University-St. Paul used balanced scoring to defeat Wayne State 80-72 in a conference contest played at Rice Auditorium in Wayne on Feb. 22.

Wayne State held the lead for most of the first half until the visiting Golden Bears took the lead at halftime 33-31.

The Wildcats built an early nine point lead, 18-9 with 12:36 left in the first half, following a three pointer from Bryce Caldwell.

However, the Golden Bears took the lead just before halftime at 33-31 after a dunk by Marlon Walker with 38 seconds remaining in the first half.

Concordia-St. Paul never let WSC get closer than three points in the second half and built a 14 point lead, 63-49 with 6:05 remaining, and then used free throw shooting down the stretch

Bears lose in final

Laurel-Concord only trailed by three points at halftime, but a scoring drought after intermission allowed Ponca to extend its lead and cruise to a 58-43 win in the C-2-7 sub-district final at Wayne High School on Feb. 22.

Laurel-Concord, who ended the season at 14-9, was outscored 20-6 in the third frame to give Ponca the boost it needed for the win.

Heath Erwin led LCHS with 11 points, while Colten DeLong and Ezra Shantz added nine apiece.

The game marked the final contest for a group of four Laurel-Concord seniors — Tony Jacobsen, Michael Patefield, Colten DeLong and Pat Harrington.

second quarter to led WHS and give Wayne a 16-15 advantage at the half.

Wayne dominated the third quarter as they held a 13-8 scoring advantage over the Gators.

Wisner-Pilger started a seven-point run with five minutes left in regulation to get within a basket (32-30) of Wayne.

Both team traded scoring opportunities and trips to the free throw line in the final minute of regulation, however a basket by Wisner-Pilger junior Mychael McClure knotted the game at 35-all with 12 seconds left to send the game into overtime.

In the extra frame, W-P hit a trey to go ahead 38-35, but a basket by Ransen Broders and rebound and another field goal by Summerfield gave Wayne a 39-38 lead with two minutes left in overtime.

Ruhl hit a pair of throws on Wayne's next trip to the line to give WHS a 41-39 lead with 1:47 remaining.

The Gators tied the game again at the 1:21 mark when senior Kellen McClure scored his only field goal of the night to even the score at 41-41.

Wisner-Pilger took its final lead over Wayne with 46 seconds remaining McClure hit a free throw to take a 42-41 lead.

Both squads missed a couple of free throw opportunities and field goal attempts in the final 30 seconds of overtime until Summerfield clinched the win at the line.

"We got a little tired and they started to get some second shots offensive rebounds that really hurt us," Ruhl added.

Hill led all scorers with 18 points, while Summerfield finished with nine and lead the squad with four rebounds.

Boone Central 53, Wayne 43

Wayne entered the C1-3 district final game on Feb. 26 at Norfolk High School with the goal of winning each quarter.

In the first half, Wayne's plan to punch its ticket to the state tournament held up.

The Blue Devils held an 11-6 advantage over the Cardinals after the opening frame and held a 23-19 lead at the half that was capped on a jumper by Summerfield at the buzzer.

Wayne opened strong after intermission after Hill nailed a 3-point shot and Summerfield added another basket to give the Blue Devils a 28-21 lead with about six minutes left in the third.

It was then that Boone Central's defense came to life.

The Cardinals forced four Wayne turnovers and limited to the Blue Devils to a lone field goal in the final six minutes of the quarter.

Conversely, Boone Central scored consecutive baskets and notched a free throw to take their first lead of the game with 1:25 left in the third.

"They increased their effort on defense and we couldn't overcome that," Coach Ruhl said. "They also had 11 offensive boards and that gave them opportunities."

Wayne retook the lead after Hill made a layup with 32 seconds in the quarter, but a final trey by Boone Central in the frame gave the team the momentum to carry through for the win.

The Cardinals locked up the state tourney berth in the fourth period by hitting 10 of their final 12 free throws.

Another difference-maker for the Cardinals was turnovers as Wayne forced eight in the first half and were only able to muster two turnovers against Boone Central in the second.

Hill paced the team with 16 points, including four from behind the arc.

Summerfield added eight and Cory Harm and Shaun Kardell finished with six.

Broders pulled down five rebounds, while Summerfield and Reggie Ruhl each had four.

"The boys played hard and tired all they could," Ruhl added. "We had a great season, it just ended a little too soon."

WSC baseball opens new season

The Wayne State College baseball team split a season-opening doubleheader Friday afternoon at Pittsburg State in Kansas.

The Wildcats dropped the first game 3-2, but bounced back to take the second game 9-1.

The host Gorillas took advantage of three WSC errors to win the first game 3-2.

Pittsburg State scored an unearned run in the second inning and added two more runs in the third to take a 3-0 lead.

The Cats scored again in the fifth inning when Jordan Deglan crossed the plate on a sacrifice fly by Dustin Jones, making the score 3-2.

WSC had a chance to tie the game in the seventh inning when Darren Kamp doubled with one out and pinch runner Sean Soderberg advanced to third on a ground out to first by Deglan, but Diego Marquez fouled out to third to end the game as Pittsburg State won 3-2.

Travis Mortimore (0-1) suffered the loss on the mound, giving up just four hits and three runs (one earned) over five innings of work with five strikeouts.

Region awarded federal funds

The Northeast Nebraska Region has been chosen to receive $28,001 to supplement emergency food and shelter programs in the area.

The selection was made by a National Board that is chaired by the Federal Emergency Management Agency (FEMA) and consists of representatives from the Salvation Army, American Red Cross, United Jewish Communities, Catholic Charities, USA, National Council of Churches of Christ in the U.S.A. and United Way of American which will provide the administrative staff and function as fiscal agent.

The Board was charged to distribute funds appropriated by congress to help expand the capacity of food and shelter programs in high need areas around the country.

A local Board made up of government, United Way, Salvation Army, Red Cross, Native American representation, National Council of Churches of Christ, Catholic Charities and Homeless will determine how the funds awarded to the Northeast Nebraska region are to be distributed among the emergency food and shelter programs run by local service organizations in the area. The Local Board is responsible for recommending agencies to receive these funds and any additional funds available under this phase of the program.

Under the terms of the grant from the National Board, local agencies chosen to receive funds must: 1) be private voluntary non-profits or units of government, (2) have an accounting system, (3) practice nondiscrimination, (4) have demonstrated the capability to deliver emergency food and/or shelter program and (5) if they are a private voluntary organization, they must have a voluntary board. Qualifying agencies are urged to apply.

The Northeast Nebraska Region has distributed Emergency food and Shelter funds previously with Haven House, Care Corps, Goldenrod Hills Community Action, Inc. and Salvation Army.

Survey confirms Business.gov web site saves time and money

Business people who visited Business.gov, the new one-stop federal compliance Web site for businesses, confirm the site saves time and money on their business operations. Of businesses surveyed, 72 percent said they saved up to 25 hours. Almost half of surveyed businesses reported saving money.

"By providing a one-stop Web site for federal compliance resources, Business.gov continues to improve services to businesses through technology," SBA Administrator Steven Preston said. "The positive responses and feedback allow Business.gov to streamline the site to businesses' needs."

According to survey respondents, the Business.gov information most searched include compliance, business law, business library, business licenses and permits, launching a business, and advertising and marketing. The most useful content areas were the federal forms, business library, and business law section.

"Business.gov is a fabulous resource for small business," Amy Frey, President, ATC International, Inc. said. "I run a company that is growing rapidly and in an ever-changing environment where time is of the essence."

"I've found it enables me to get information about up and coming issues for my business related to legal, as well as tax and human resource concerns."

The site's new focus on compliance information, federal forms, and contacts was re-launched in October 2006 and since the launch has received close to 11,000 visits per day. Based on survey results, the largest percentage of visitors are small businesses and people thinking of starting a business.

Those surveyed had between five and more than 20 years experience in their fields. Feedback from Web site users will allow Business.gov to make updates and integrate state and municipal compliance information into the site, set to release in fall 2007.

"Just keeping up with the paperwork could be a full-time job," said Beth Boyll, Adult Day Care Director, of Randolph Hills Nursing Center. "The easy access to federal forms provided by Business.gov makes my job easier and gives me more time to spend on the needs of my clients."

Business.gov is managed by the U.S. Small Business Administration in partnership with 21 other federal agencies and is part of the President's Management Agenda. Originally launched in 2004, the Web site provided information on starting, growing, and managing a small business. The new compliance focus is designed to better meet the needs of the business community, based on feedback from test groups.

The Wayne Middle School Science Fair Open House is open to family, friends and members of the Wayne community.

Upcoming science fair events include: Northeast Nebraska Junior Academy of Science's Regional Science Fair - Thursday, March 15, UNMC's Eighth Grade Health/Science Meet - Monday, March 19 and the Greater Nebraska Science and Engineering Fair - Friday, March 23-25.

Enforcement, prosecutors gather for training on youth alcohol laws

A two-day law enforcement training focusing on youth alcohol enforcement operations was held on Feb. 28 and March 1 at the Nebraska Law Enforcement Training Center in Grand Island. The training was for representatives from law enforcement and prosecutors statewide who work directly on the issue of underage drinking.

The training was designed to help law enforcement representatives and prosecutors gain a better understanding of the criminal and administrative processes as well as overall protocols of enforcing underage drinking.

Training topics included information on alcohol compliance checks, selective/party patrol enforcements, large party crowd dispersal, source investigation, the criminal and administrative processes, building the case for youth alcohol violations and the value of community support for enforcement efforts.

The event was sponsored by Project Extra Mile, the Nebraska Office of Highway Safety, the Nebraska Crime Commission, the Grand Island Law Enforcement Training Center and nationally by the Pacific Institute of Research and Evaluation (PIRE).

There are two other trainings scheduled, one was conducted Feb. 26 and Feb. 27 in Omaha at the National Safety Council, Greater Omaha Chapter and the other will

Emily Kinney part of 'Welcome to New York!'

Emily Kinney, a 2002 graduate of Wayne High School, was one of four New York actors chosen to be a part of a "Welcome to New York!" spotlight in which they shared stories of their struggles of finding their way in the metropolis and offered advice on a number of topics.

The following are excerpts from "Emily Kinney Makes Eye Contact" by David Sheward, in which Kinney talks about the road she took to get to New York and her current job status.

"New York is a lot different from Nebraska," laughs 22-year-old Emily Kinney, recalling her early days in the big city as a student at NYU for a semester. "It was my first day going to class, and we had to wait in line to get into the elevator at the dorm where I was staying. I remember thinking how odd that was. And then we packed into the elevator, just the amount of people, and no one holds a door for you, and no one says Hi to you. In Nebraska, that's an automatic thing. They'll make eye contact with you there. If a person makes eye contact with you here, you should be scared." She giggles and adds that this is a generalization not true of all New Yorkers. But, she says, the atmosphere here is definitely more challenging than in Lincoln, capital of the Cornhusker State, where she grew up and where - apart from her one semester at NYU - she attended Nebraska Wesleyan University.

Kinney moved here in May 2006, has already appeared in Manhattan Repertory Theatre's October festival of one-acts, and will be shooting an independent horror film called Aunt Tigress. She counts her time at NYU as invaluable in making the transition from Midwestern college student to ambitious New York performer. "I got to study with all the juniors that were in the program at Playwrights Horizons," she explains, "so I got to get that kind of conservatory training even though I wasn't part of the program. That was the first time I had ever been to New York. While I was here, I started to go on some open calls, and got in a show-an outdoor production of A Midsummer Night's Dream in New Canaan, Conn.-during the summer. I stayed for a while after that, and moved back to Nebraska to finish my college degree at Wesleyan."

During that first foray in the Big Apple, Kinney learned how to get along here and made the decision to return to pursue an acting career.

"From going on the open calls, I learned that you have to show up early, and just the basic things-like having your headshot and résumés ready. I hadn't done any of that stuff before. My first headshot was one that I'd had someone at Wesleyan, back when I was in Nebraska, do for practice. I had one of those and I actually went to Kinko's and Xeroxed it. I took that one to my Midsummer audition. It wasn't good at all.

"I also learned that you focus on the work," she continues. "I didn't have the greatest headshot or résumé at that point, because I didn't know what I was doing, but I did have a good monologue. And I learned from the other people auditioning. I remember seeing this other girl's résumé, and it looked really, really good. It had a little picture on the résumé side, and the credits were neatly typed. I remember looking at hers while I was waiting to be called in and thinking, 'That looks really nice.'"

In Sheward's article, Kinney goes on to explain the process she has gone through to obtain a roommate, acquire New York survival skills and what her future plans are, including joining the unions.

When not auditioning or performing, she works at a café called Gimme! Coffee a few blocks from her home.

Kinney is presently nonunion, but joining the union is definitely a goal for her: "I just did a show at Manhattan Rep and it was nonunion, but it was very good experience for me. I got another job through it: A guy who had seen the show called me and said, 'Hey, do you want to do this reading? I think this is a good part for you.' So I'm willing to do nonunion stuff most of the time. But I am pushing myself more to go to those Equity calls, because I do feel this is not just for fun; this is my job. I want to get paid fairly for it."

Artifacts returned to veterans

Bruning puts end to museum operations

Attorney General Jon Bruning announced that museums operated by Kyle Kopitke of Nelson, will be immediately dissolved and their assets returned to the veterans who donated them under a consent decree approved in Lancaster County District Court.

"Mr. Kopitke is a professional con-artist who made a living off the sacrifices of Nebraska veterans," Bruning said. "He can never take advantage of another veteran in Nebraska again."

Under the decree, Kopitke is prohibited from establishing or managing nonprofit organizations in Nebraska. His existing nonprofit corporations, the National Korean War Museum in Edgar and the Vietnam War National Museum in Nelson, are immediately dissolved, and the corporate assets will be transferred to the care of court-appointed custodians.

All war artifacts and memorabilia will be returned to those veterans who donated the items or their families. Kopitke also admitted violating the Nebraska Nonprofit Corporation Act, the Uniform Deceptive Trade Practices Act, and the Consumer Protection Act.

"These veterans trusted Mr. Kopitke with their personal possessions only to have them mishandled," Bruning said. "Preserving their memories and returning the artifacts to their owners was a priority for us."

The lawsuit involved allegations that Kopitke set up charitable war museums in Oxford, Edgar, and Nelson to defraud Nebraska war veterans, local governments, and private individuals out of personal possessions and money for his own benefit.

Kopitke presented the museums to the affected communities as long-lasting "economic development opportunities." Each community offered volunteer services and thousands of dollars in incentives and benefits to Kopitke in order to establish the museums in their communities. Assistant Attorney General Jeff Gaertig handled the case.

Drum Circle presentation and performance

Wayne State College graduate Chad Barnhill gave a drum circle performance and presentation on various aspects of the drum circle on the WSC campus on Feb. 21. Barnhill will also perform during a Wayne State College brass and percussion concert on April 26 at 7:30 p.m. For more information, please call Brad Weber at 375-3150.

Northeast HVAC Department joins 13 other colleges with state-of-art system

The heating, ventilation and air conditioning department (HVAC) at Northeast Community College in Norfolk recently joined the ranks of 13 other two- and four-year colleges with a state-of-the-art cutting system.

A 5' X 10' CNC Plasma Cutting System by Plasma Automation Inc. of Bohemia, N.Y., was recently installed in the HVAC department at Northeast Community College. The system features Kaliburn SR45i plasma power and its own ViSoft cutting system software for Windows®.

According to Northeast Instructor Scott Owen, this new system expands the user's working envelope to increase productivity in the fast-paced HVAC industry. "We have also learned that the ViSoft cutting software is very user-friendly and customizable to meet customer requirements," Owen said.

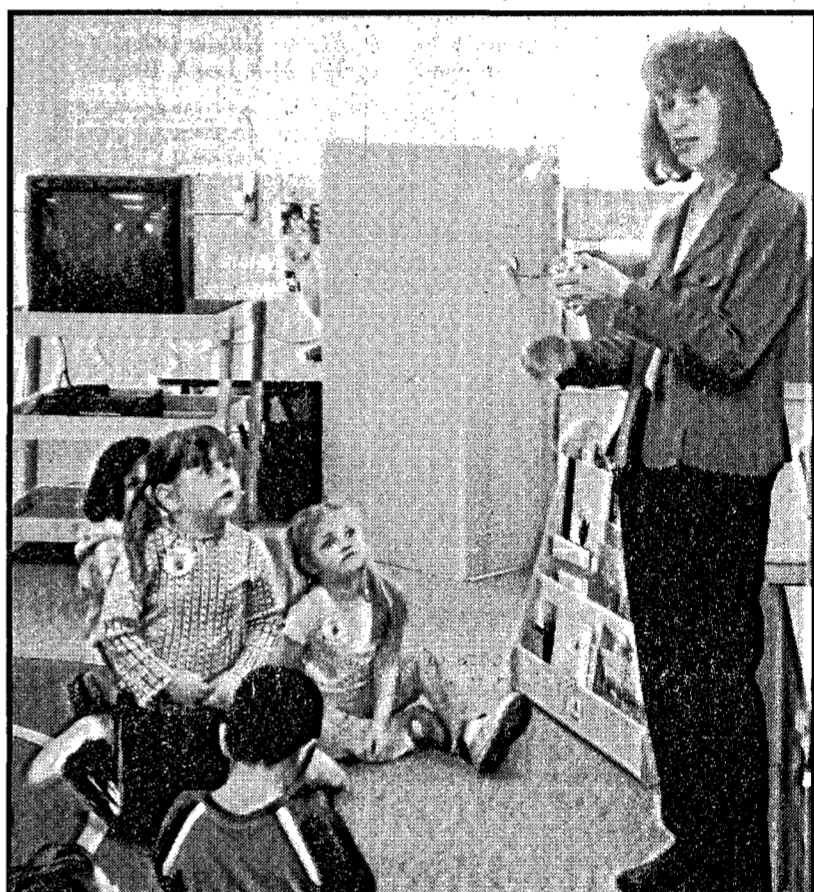

Other educational institutions that have added this training tool include Cornell University in New York, Ferris State University in Michigan, and North Arkansas College in Arkansas.

"We are very happy to offer this training tool to our students," Owen said. "It is just one more way to make our students more employable as they enter the work force. Training on this state-of-the-art tool will make our students more qualified in the job market than many other graduates from institutions that do not have this CNC Plasma Cutting System."

Owen also reports that current Northeast Community College students have really enjoyed using the machine while installing ductwork for the Habitat for Humanity housing projects

For more information about the system or Northeast's HVAC program, contact Owen at (402)844-7231.

Teaching about germs

Hoelsing shares parliamentary procedure

Duane Hoelsing of Hartington, regional expert on Parliamentary Procedure, shared his knowledge with the Northeast Nebraska Resource Conservation & Development (RC&D) Council.

"Robert's Rules of Order" for parliamentary procedures came about in the late 1800's because Henry Robert, a major in the U.S. Army, saw that the various ways people conducted meetings was very confusing. The pocket manual he wrote became very popular and is the official guide for many groups yet today. Hoelsing taught FFA for 20 years in Hartington.

Reading to children is essential

Imagine living in our society without knowing how to read. In the United States today it is estimated that up to 10 percent of children have learning disabilities. What better gift can we give to our children than a love and motivation for reading? By teaching children to love and respect books we give our children a head start to succeeding in life.

The discovery of a child's interest is an important first step in the motivation process. Although very young children can't read, reading to them can be that essential first step. Reading to young children encourages and fosters creative thinking skills, promotes reading as an enjoyable activity, provides an educational opportunity for children to grow and develop mentally, gives children an appreciation and respect for books, enhances language and vocabulary development, and allows for quality family time, among other things.

Begin reading to children at a very young age. To get a non-reader interested in reading you can create books with your child. Not only does this encourage reading or wanting to be read to, but it also provides an opportunity for a family activity. You can make a book for or with your baby or young child by cutting sturdy pieces of fabric or cardboard into square pieces. Glue a large, colorful picture of the child, family members, pets, toys, or other things your child may be familiar with on each page. You may also want to glue on a piece of sandpaper, fabric, or other textured items that the child can feel. Write a word or a couple of words in large, clear letters under the picture and bind together by sewing, stapling or using a three-hole punch and yarn or ribbon.

When we read to children we: Answer children's question; Promote language skills; Promote reading skills; Develop longer attention spans; Strengthen family relationships; and Parents who don't read can still encourage reading to children by making up stories to go with picture books with no words or attending a regular storytelling time with their children.

Most libraries offer programs for young children and young readers. Some programs offered are story times, reading programs, puppet shows, films or videos, craft events and helping children find appropriate books that meet their interests.

Libraries also offer an up-to-date, large selection of children's books to meet the needs and wants of their young patrons.

As you can see, teaching children to enjoy and appreciate reading goes beyond the home. The school system is another place where reading can be encouraged.

As parents, encourage teachers to be as certain as possible that anything they require children to read is something they can and will want to read. This will help children enjoy reading and make them look forward to reading rather than dreading it.

Although there are other means for encouraging reading, such as public libraries and schools, encouragement to read from parents is essential. Reading to children and giving them opportunities to be read to at a young age instills a love for reading in children that will continue to grow throughout their life.

Carroll St. Paul women learn about history of Rose Bowl parade during recent meeting

The Carroll St. Paul and LWML met Feb. 15 for a regular meeting. Pastor Steckling, his daughter, Hannah and six members attended. The Bible Study was the "Fall of Man," taken from the book of Genesis, chapter 3, led by the pastor. The League Pledge was recited in unison. Mites were collected. The president called the meeting to order. Roll call and minutes of the November and December meetings. There was no meeting in January. The Summary for 2006 was read by the secretary. They were accepted as read. The treasurer gave her report. Numerous bills were paid. The Aid served at the funerals of Marvin Paulsen on Jan. 5 and Carl Peterson on Feb. 3.

Thank you notes were received from Bethesda, Norfolk, Restite Mission and the Salvation Army for gifts received over the holidays. A thank you was received from Pastor Steckling and family for a food certificate. A special card with drawings by the Steckling children was received thanking the group for the small gifts they received for Christmas.

The Christian Growth Leader gave a short history of the Rosebowl Parade. The LWML has sponsored a float for 57 years. This past year they won the Princess Trophy with "God's Great Nature." Dates to remember include the Spring Workshop at St. John's at Wakefield. The theme, "On Christ, The Solid Rock."

The National LWML Convention will be June 21-24 in Sioux Falls, S.D. The meeting closed with The Lord's Prayer and the common table prayer. A no-host lunch was served.

Grace Evening Circle hosts mission speaker

Grace Evening Circle hosted the evening when the Rev. Jon Muhly, a missionary in Moscow, Russia, gave a presentation on his mission work. The Rev. Muhly and his wife and two small children were soon going back to Moscow, Russia. Donations were given to the Rev. Muhly with matching funds provided by Thrivent Financial for Lutherans. There were 36 people in attendance and the Grace Evening ladies served coffee and bars after the presentation. In January of this year, the Rev. Jon Muhly was ordained at his home church in Lodi, Calif.

Adrian Timm and Seth and Rebecca Watson coached the Wayne clubbers. Following the Quiz, the Awana clubbers swam at the Norfolk YMCA.

Save a loved one with donation

Everyone has it and everyone needs it...Blood saves lives. The Siouxland Community Blood Bank is looking for blood donors to be life-savers, as one blood donation can save as many as three lives. Your next opportunity to support your community blood supply is on Friday, March 2 from 9 a.m. to 3 p.m. at the Evangelical Church in Wakefield. Blood cannot be manufactured. This is why the Siouxland Community Blood Bank depends on volunteer blood donors to ensure that there is enough blood for hospital patients in a moment's notice. Every time someone donates, they are saving a family's loved one. Every single time. The use of blood products grows every year as medical technologies are advancing, which allows people to live much longer and have more complex surgeries. Patients with cancer, severe burns or anemia can require blood products as part of their care. Also, emergencies such as automobile or farming accidents increases the demand for blood products. Your help is needed in order to provide your community blood supply to 36 area hospitals in Iowa, Nebraska and South Dakota including hospitals in Armour, Gregory, Mitchell, Parkston, Platte, Scotland, Tyndall, Wagner, Wessington Springs and Yankton. To be eligible to donate blood individuals must be at least 17 years of age (16 in Iowa with a Siouxland Community Blood Bank signed parent consent form); however there is no upper age limit as long as the donor is in good health. In addition donors need to weigh at least 110 pounds and have not donated whole blood in the past 56 days. A photo I.D. is required at the time of registration.

For more information, contact The Siouxland Community Blood Bank or blood drives in your area, call 712-252-4208; 1-800-798-4208 or visit their website at www.siouxlandbloodbank.org

Much to watch on television; add Today show contest to list

I didn't watch the awards; I never do. I haven't seen any of the movies, so I wasn't that concerned. Besides, former winners have not been my type; example: Chicago. But I just finished checking out the website with photos of 46 of the celebrities as they arrived. I have two comments; one, they should have used more of the fabric from the hem for the top; and two, they must use glue on that top! Made me nervous just looking at them.

Anyway, that's over for another year, thank goodness. The hype becomes almost unbelievable, especially when there seems to be a lot more serious stuff going on. Of course, for us, that would mean another snow storm. I picked up my Mom at 5 p.m. for church on Saturday eve; it had been raining all afternoon and now it looked like sleet on the windshield. When we left the church at 6:30, big, fluffy snow flakes were covering everything and there was thunder and lightning. I don't remember ever seeing that before. But, we only had four inches, and the branches did not break; and, fortunately, neither did power lines. Because it sounds like a lot of them did in Iowa.

By 9 a.m. on Sunday, our snow removal crew had been here and gone. They must be wondering why all the measurable snow has been on the weekends. They were very efficient this time, with bob cats, and snow blowers for the walks.

The Big Farmer had willed the Husker basketball team to an overtime win over Mizzou, and Creighton seemed to have an easier time with the Shockers. We know that coach's parents, and would like to see him win more often, except when he comes to Omaha.

On Sunday morning, we usually tune in to the Crystal Cathedral.

The music is grand, the guests are always interesting, and we appreciate the theology. This morning, Dr. Schuller interviewed a 25 year old man who sounded Australian. I don't know where he was from. His mother was a nurse and his father a pastor. He was born without any limbs! That's right, none. He has a strange, small foot he uses to type on the computer. They showed a video of him completely independent in his own home, even in the swimming pool. He has a motorized chair, of course, that he can operate with that strange foot.

It was incredible. And he quoted "I will praise Him, for I am fearfully and wonderfully made," and Jeremiah 29, where God says, "for I know the plans I have for you; plans to prosper you and not to harm you, plans to give you hope and a future." I was in tears.

And I don't plan to complain about decreased ability any time soon. If you have access to the Internet, put your search engine to work on Life Without Limbs. You will be amazed, and humbled.

One more thing, from the woman who never watches TV. I read that the Today show is having a contest for anchor for a day. And there is a guy from Lincoln, and one from Iowa, who are finalists! Log on and vote for Dave. His interview is great!

Alfalfa weed control is vital

Bruce Anderson, forage extension specialist from UNL shares his ideas on how to control the winter annuals that can cause some problems in alfalfa.

"Weeds like pennycress, downy brome, mustards, cheatgrass, and shepherd's purse are common in first cut alfalfa. They lower yields, reduce quality, lessen palatability, and slow hay drydown. If you walk over your fields after the snow has melted off, you probably will be able to see their small, green, overwintering growth.

You can't control these weeds very well once alfalfa starts growing. However, if you treat your alfalfa as soon as possible during this winter's spring-like weather, you can have cleaner, healthier alfalfa at first cutting.

Several herbicides can help control winter annual grasses and weeds in alfalfa. They include Sencor, Velpar, Sinbar, Pursuit, Raptor, and Karmex. They all control mustard and pennycress. Karmex and Pursuit do not control downy brome very well, but Karmex has enough residual soil activity that can help control a few summer annual grasses like foxtail and barnyardgrass.

Del Hemsath
Extension Educator

To be successful, though, you must apply most of these herbicides before alfalfa shoots green-up this spring to avoid much injury to your alfalfa. During mild winter weather would be a great time. If you wait and alfalfa shoots are green when you spray, your alfalfa growth might be set back two or three weeks.

Timing is everything when controlling winter annual weeds in alfalfa. So get ready now, in the next few weeks before alfalfa greens up, to take advantage of nice weather when you get it."

Farm Financial Recordkeeping with Quicken 2007 Workshop announced

Over the years, Computerized Financial Recordkeeping workshops have been one of the most popular in-depth extension programs offered.

This workshop series will be presented in two locations within the Northeast Extension District in the spring of 2007. The Norfolk workshop will be held on Thursday, March 29 at the Lifelong Learning Center, 601 E. Benjamin Ave. The workshop will start promptly at 9 a.m. and will end around 4 p.m.

Registration will be limited due to space and computer availability on a first-come first-served basis. After the class is filled, a waiting list will be developed in case of a cancellation. If you are interested, please contact the extension office at 402-370-4040 and ask to have a brochure sent to you.

All instruction will be presented in a hands-on teaching style with participants sitting at computers performing the tasks being demonstrated. Participants, therefore, should have a basic familiarity with using a computer and typing on a computer keyboard but typing is purposely kept to a minimum in the interest of time.

No prior computerized record-keeping experience is necessary. However, some prior experience with a hand-kept single entry accounting system (such as the extension blue book) would be useful. At a minimum, participants should have experience with keeping a check ledger, (preferably one that is periodically reconciled with bank statements).

The concepts taught in this workshop are applicable to any of several inexpensive computerized recordkeeping programs, with slight modifications in procedure. This workshop will be taught hands-on using Quicken 2007 Basic in the classroom.

Participants will receive instruction in starting Quicken and setting up the data file, creating, customizing, and memorizing reports, setting up and managing term loans, performing bank reconciliations, and a multitude of other ag related financial tasks.

Reference materials, lunch and refreshments are all included in the registration fee. The registration fee for each workshop is $50. A second person sharing the same computer and sharing a single set of handouts can attend for an additional $10 to cover lunch and refreshments. Please make your check payable to UNL Extension. Preregistration must be received with payment in order to hold a place in the workshop. Registrants will receive a registration confirmation and a map showing directions to the workshop location by return mail.

SBA administrator proposes more support for veterans

Administrator Steven C. Preston of the U.S. Small Business Administration (SBA) issued the following statement: "I am delighted that Sen. Kerry has chosen to focus on America's veterans in his first hearing as Chairman of the United States Senate Committee on Small Business and Entrepreneurship."

He continued with the U.S. Small Business Administration, including nearly 800 veteran employees, is also committed to serving those who are serving our nation. A great deal has been done to date, and it's intended that more will be done.

He added, under President Bush's Executive Order 13360, the SBA is responsible for helping other federal agencies meet the requirement to award three percent of their contracts to service-disabled veteran-owned small businesses (SDVOSB). This is an ambitious goal, as fewer than one percent of all small businesses are SDVOSBs. However, SBA and the Department of Veterans Affairs are leading by example; both agencies exceeded the three percent goal in FY 2006.

Government-wide, substantial progress is also underway, from FY 2004 to FY 2005, the most recent years for which data is available for all federal agencies, federal contracting with SDVOSBs increased 58 percent to $1.9 billion. And last month, the General Services Administration announced contract awards to more than 40 SDVOSBs, with a potential value of $5 billion over the life of the contracts.

Early this month, the White House's Office of Federal Procurement Policy and SBA sent a joint letter to the heads of other federal agencies, reaffirming commitment to the three percent goal across government. To help achieve that goal, SBA has increased the staff of the Veterans Business Development office by 50 percent this year. If Congress acts on the request to address the $21 million shortfall in our operating fund they will dedicate more resources to this effort this year; if not, they will prepare to further ramp up our training and oversight next year.

More than 14 percent of small businesses in America are owned by veterans. In 2001, to help small businesses that suffer when reservists and guardsmen are called to duty, SBA began offering the Military Reservist Economic Injury Disaster Loan program. However, this program only helps small businesses after the economic injury has occurred. SBA is now considering ways to provide improved counseling to reservists and members of the National Guard before they are mobilized, so that they do not suffer undue financial hardship when the call to active duty comes. A review of the coordination among contracting assistance, training, and other programs to ensure veterans' small business needs are well served has been ordered.

Preston said, "I know that Sen. Kerry, Sen. Snowe and the other members of the Senate Committee on Small Business and Entrepreneurship also consider veteran's needs a top priority. On behalf of the SBA I look forward to working with the committee to continue to ensure that America's veterans, who put themselves before us and harm's way, are properly supported."

The SBA and its Office of Veterans Business Development (OVBDD) provide comprehensive assistance, outreach and support to veterans. Each year the SBA assists more than 100,000 veterans, service-disabled veterans and Reserve Component members. Some key programs/services SBA provides include:

- Special support through 68 Veterans Business Development Officers (VBDO) nationwide who help veteran entrepreneurs access the full range of SBA programs and partners.

For your nearest VBDO, visit: <http://www.sba.gov/VETS/rep.html>.

- Funding for five Veterans Business Outreach Centers that provide outreach, training, counseling, mentoring and directed referrals to veterans owning or considering starting a small business. See: <http://www.sba.gov/VETS/vbop.html>.

- Planning, e-counseling and lending assistance for self-employed Reserve and National Guard members facing activation or deployment.

Visit: www.sba.gov/reservists.

- Federal goal setting and guidance for veteran-owned and service-disabled veteran-owned small businesses seeking contracting opportunities in the federal marketplace.

Conley Straight named as 'Tribland 4-H King'

Conley Straight of Shickley and grandson of Lloyd and Pat Straight of Wayne, was recently named "Tribland 4-H King for 2006 by the Hastings Tribune.

The award recognized Straight's motto "once you start trying, don't give up."

In a recent article in the Hastings Tribune, Straight talked about his 10 years of involvement in 4-H and the various projects he has been involved in through the years.

Straight began showing sheep, with the help of his father, Doug, who is the Shickley High School FFA adviser.

Conley said that as he has gotten older and began having success showing sheep, the younger members have started looking to him for advice. "It makes me feel good that they look up to me as a leader," Conley said in the Tribune interview.

Conley noted he has taken many projects throughout his 4-H career, from sheep to rocketry, from sewing to safety.

Upon graduation from Shickley High School in May, Conley plans to attend either Doane College or Wayne State College and major in pre-pharmacy. From there he plans to go on to pharmacy school.

After graduation from college, Conley plans to come back to a rural community in Nebraska.

"So I'm sure I'll do my best to stay involved in 4-H and other activities around the community" and doesn't plan to give up.

There will be no meeting in February for the Dixon Historical Society. The group's next meeting will be Tuesday, March 20.

ALUMNI LETTERS

Volunteers at the Senior Center recently folded 1250 "Allen Update" alumni newsletters. Of these letters, 190 went to residents with Allen addresses, 342 were delivered to addresses outside of Allen with 687 as the first three digits of their zip code. The Omaha area post office processed 276 of the letters and 402 went to addresses outside of the Norfolk or Omaha post office areas. Over 50 were sent to California. If you know of someone who should have received a newsletter but didn't, please contact Kathy Boswell.

JACKSONS TO CELEBRATE

Carol and Gaylen Jackson will be celebrating their 60th wedding anniversary with coffee and rolls at the Allen Senior Center on Saturday morning, March 3. The couple will also be celebrating later in the month, March 31 at the Allen United Methodist Church from 2 to 4 p.m.

ALLEN BOOK CLUB

Sixteen women met at the Senior Center on Feb. 16, to discuss The Wedding. A "dollar sale" netted $23 for postage on book orders. Lunch was served by Grayce Lund. On March 16, readers will share 5-minute reports on books they have enjoyed reading.

BENEFIT PLANNED

First Lutheran Church members are planning a benefit for Greg and Alicia Boeshart on Sunday, March 18 from 11 a.m. to 1:30 p.m. at the Allen Firehall. It will be a Spaghetti Dinner.

Greg has had a tough time the last few months. On Jan. 15, after two months of pain and numbness in his legs, Greg underwent surgery. This three part surgery consisted of first removing the bone that interlocks over the back of the spine on his last three lower vertebrae. Then, the doctor removed two damaged discs and inserted titanium spacers in place of the damaged discs. Then six titanium screws were inserted on each side of his spine followed by a titanium cage built to hold and support his spine during fusion.

Lastly, they sprinkled the crushed bone from the first step back into the area to start the fusion process. His muscles were stitched back into place and his 10 inch incision was sown up using 45 stitches. After three days in the hospital, he was sent home to recover. Three weeks later he had his stitches removed and started five weeks of physical therapy. It will be at least six months before he will be completely recovered. (Look for more information next week.)

PANCAKE BREAKFAST

The Dixon Fire & Rescue department is hosting their annual Pancake Breakfast & Bake Sale on Sunday, March 4 from 8 a.m. - 1 p.m. at the Dixon Town Hall. They will be serving pancakes, French toast, sausage, eggs, juice and coffee for a free will donation. They will also be raffling items off.

Both oral and written testimony will be accepted at the hearing on March 22, 2007. Written testimony may also be mailed to the NRD at the Lower Elkhorn NRD, P.O. Box 1204, Norfolk, NE 68702, or delivered to the Lower Elkhorn Natural Resources NRD office, Suite 101 in the Lifelong Learning Center, at 601 East Benjamin Avenue, in Norfolk, Nebraska, prior to the hearing.

The Groundwater Management Area Rules and Regulations enforce policies established in the NRD's Groundwater Management Plan, which was adopted by the NRD Board of Directors and approved by the Nebraska Department of Natural Resources in 1996. The contents of the Groundwater Management Plan include the NRD reservoir life goal, which is to "provide an adequate supply of acceptable quality groundwater to forever fulfill the reasonable groundwater demands within the NRD for domestic, municipal, agricultural, industrial, wildlife and other uses deemed beneficial by the NRD Board" as well as information about groundwater and its use in the NRD, and the goals, policies, objectives and programs of the NRD Board of Directors to achieve the reservoir life goal. No changes are proposed for the NRD Groundwater Management Plan.

Copies of the proposed amendments to the NRD Rules and Regulations are available for viewing at the NRD office at 601 E. Benjamin Avenue, Suite 101, in Norfolk, Nebraska, and on the NRD's website at www.lnrn.org.

The NRD Groundwater Management Area was formed in 1997, and includes the entire NRD as well as the following aquifers:

1. Ogallala Group and overlying deposits,
2. Niobrara Formation and overlying deposits,
3. Dakota Group and overlying deposits,
4. All other aquifers supplying groundwater for beneficial uses.

No changes are proposed for the geographic and stratigraphic boundaries of the Groundwater Management Area.

Current Groundwater Management Area Rules and Regulations require water well permits for new and replacement wells that are designed to pump more than fifty (50) gallons per minute within the entire Groundwater Management Area, and no changes are proposed for water well permit regulations.

The following is a general description of the proposed amendments to the Rules and Regulations, which apply to the entire NRD:

- 1) The NRD proposes to amend portions of the Groundwater Management Area Rules and Regulations in an effort to better define the rules and programs of the NRD.
- 2) The transfer of any water well permit issued under Rule 3 (which deals with water well permit requirements) of the NRD Groundwater Management Area Rules and Regulations shall not be allowed from one person to another person.
- 3) The NRD Board of Directors recognizes the need for improved groundwater use data throughout the NRD. Therefore, a) the NRD shall require the proper installation and maintenance of flow meters on wells constructed on or after May 1, 2007, except for the situations described in the next paragraph of this Hearing Notice; b) the NRD shall require the reporting of data from these flow meters; and c) the NRD authorizes NRD staff and/or their representatives to have access to these flow meters to perform inspections of the flow meters. The proposed amendments also explain the requirements for flow meter specifications, installation, care, maintenance, use, seals, and repair.

Any new water well that has been issued a water well permit under Rule 3 (which specifies water well permit requirements) of the NRD Rules and Regulations, and, the construction of such well commenced on or after May 1, 2007, shall be equipped by the owner of the well with an NRD approved flow meter prior to groundwater withdrawal, except that:

- a) Replacement Water Well - a flow meter shall not be required for a replacement water well if the construction of the original well being replaced started before May 1, 2007;
- b) Well Modification - a flow meter shall not be required for any water well modification, as described in Rule 3(d) (which deals with water well permit requirements for well modification) of the NRD Rules and Regulations, if construction of the well being modified was originally started prior to May 1, 2007;
- c) Late Permit - a flow meter shall not be required for any water well requiring a late permit under Rule 3 (which deals with water well permit requirements) of the NRD Rules and Regulations, if construction of that well began before May 1, 2007; and
- d) Inactive Status Well - a flow meter shall not be required for any water well that is registered with the Nebraska Department of Natural Resources as an 'inactive' status well, except, however, that a flow meter shall be required when the registration of a water well with the Department is modified from 'inactive' to 'active' status, provided the construction of that water well commenced on or after May 1, 2007.

- 4) Require the following reports from owners of flow meters installed to comply with NRD Rules and Regulations:
a) Reporting Flow Meter Installation - groundwater users shall report the installation of a flow meter to the NRD within 30 days of its installation.
b) Annual Reporting - groundwater users shall submit a report of groundwater withdrawal to the NRD annually, in a format provided by the NRD. The report must be received by the NRD or postmarked by the first Friday of December each year.
c) Reporting Malfunctioning Flow Meter - any malfunctioning flow meter must be reported to the NRD before the end of the work week following its discovery. The groundwater user shall report to the NRD the totalizer reading before repairing the meter on-site or removing the flow meter for repair.

- 5) The NRD may inspect flow meters upon installation for proper installation and operation, may randomly inspect flow meters to ensure proper maintenance and readings, and may seal flow meters to prevent tampering.
