Children enjoy Vacation Bible School

Many churches in the area have been having vacation Bible school and others are preparing for the yearly event. Photos above and below are children in the Vacation Bible School program at Winside on June 1. Trinity Lutheran Church and United Methodist Churches of Winside had 35 children attend Vacation Bible School throughout the week. The theme this year was Avalanche Ranch. The kids put on quite a show and ended the week with pony rides, courtesy of Hilltop Ponies.

Local officials caution residents about dangers and signs of tuberculosis

A recent international incident of a young man with Tuberculosis traveling across several continents and sharing the bacteria with other passengers on two trans-Atlantic flights has local health officials cautioning others of the dangers and warning signs of TB. The young man was transferred from Georgia to a Denver hospital Thursday, further heightening the awareness of the disease in Nebraska.

"The type of drug resistant TB diagnosed for the individual from Atlanta who recently flew to Paris, Greece, Prague and then returned to the U.S. through Canada, is not your garden variety TB bacteria," Deb Scholten, Health Director of the Northeast Nebraska Public Health Department said. "The XDR TB (extensively drug resistant pulmonary tuberculosis) he is receiving treatment for in a Denver hospital is a subtype that is resistant to two or more of the antibiotics normally used to treat TB."

Local health districts across Nebraska, like Northeast Nebraska Public Health Department deal with communicable diseases like TB on a regular basis, Scholten said. TB is spread through the air. It usually infects the lungs and can be fatal if left untreated.

Behind the scenes, NNPHD is working to monitor and help treat individuals diagnosed with these contagious illnesses to help stop the spread of disease to the public. Nebraska saw 25 cases of tuberculosis in 2006 and 35 in 2005, with 1 case locally.

"We contact patients to help supervise their medication," Scholten said. In addition to follow up, the health district staff often offers medical care and works with the local hospitals, medical clinics, emergency managers and the community to stop the spread of communicable disease in general, Scholten continued. "Our patients' confidentiality is strictly maintained, however. The national media attention for the patient now being treated in Denver, is an exception."

Scholten concluded by saying area residents should see their health care provider if they have been in contact with a person infected with TB or exhibit any of the signs of a TB infection or disease: a bad cough lasting three weeks or longer, pain in the chest, coughing up blood or phlegm from deep inside the lungs, weakness or feeling very tired, having no appetite, chills and fever or sweating at night or when you are sleeping. TB can be fatal, but it can also be cured with a strict regimen of more than one antibiotic for a course of six to nine months.

"Good old-fashioned fresh air and sunshine, in addition to the meds" help kill TB germs too, she added.

Significance of Relay For Life noted

The following is an explanation of the significance of the timing of this year's Relay For Life event, scheduled for Friday and Saturday, June 8-9.

"Relay For Life starts at dusk and ends at the next day's morning. The light and darkness of the day and night parallel the physical effects, emotions and mental state of a cancer patient while undergoing treatment.

"The Relay begins when the sun is setting. This symbolizes the time that the person has been diagnosed as having cancer. The day is getting darker and this represents the cancer patient's state of mind as they feel their life is coming to an end.

"As the evening goes on, it gets colder and darker, just as the emotions of the cancer patient do. The time around 1 to 2 a.m. represents the time when the cancer patients start treatments. They become exhausted, some sick, not wanting to go on, possibly wanting to give up. As a participant, you have been walking and feel much the same way. You are tired, want to sleep, maybe even want to go home, but you cannot. You cannot stop or give up, just as the cancer patient cannot stop or give up.

"The time around 4 to 5 a.m. symbolizes the coming of the end of treatment for the cancer patient. Once again, they are tired, but they know they will make it.

"The sun rising represents the end of treatment for the cancer patient. They see the light at the end of the tunnel and know that life will go on. The morning light brings on a new day full of life and excitement for new beginnings for the cancer patient. As a participant, you will feel the brightness of the morning and know that the end of the Relay is close at hand.

"When you leave the Relay, think of the cancer patient leaving their last treatment. Just as you are exhausted and weak, so is that person after treatment.

"Remember, there is no finish line until we find a cure."

Nebraska intriguing to exchange student

By Clara Osten
Of the Herald

When Tobias Grunert left Berlin, Germany last August, he knew he was coming to Nebraska as an exchange student through the E. F. Foundation.

However, he had no host family and it wasn't until he arrived in Chicago, that he found out that he would be spending the school year in the home of John and Karen Mangels and sons, Aaron and Seth, on a farm near Winside.

Tobias (Toby), who turned 17 while he was in Nebraska, adapted well to life in Nebraska, on the Mangels farm and at Winside High School.

"I had never even heard of Nebraska. At first thought I was going to Alaska," Toby laughed.

While Toby was arriving in the United States, coordinators with the E.F. Foundation were attempting to match him with a host family.

A call was made to the Winside school and the Mangels' family was named as a possible host family. Winside hadn't had an exchange student in a number of years and Karen said it was a "good opportunity for the school and the community."

"We agreed to having Toby come live with us on a Monday and on Tuesday we went to the airport in Lincoln to pick him up. We have an extra bedroom, but we had to get it ready in a hurry," Karen said.

At Winside, Toby took Journalism and Creative Writing, Auto Mechanics, English 10, Weightlifting, Drafting, American History, Advanced Biology and Art.

Toby was able to have classes with both Aaron, who will be a junior, and Seth, who will be a sophomore.

"In Germany, we don't have a choice of classes. I would have taken Biology, Chemistry, Physics, math, history, geography, English, German, French, Physical Education, Art History and Music History," Toby said.

He said that in Germany, elementary school goes through sixth grade and then students are divided into three different types of schools, based on their academic skills. Students attend school through 13th grade. Toby has one year of school left and will finish when he returns to Germany.

Toby said that when he arrived in Nebraska, "it was very hot and very humid. Later we had a lot of snow and school was canceled. We never have that in Germany. It does snow but not as much. In fact, Berlin had no snow this year."

Sports have been a significant part of Toby's experience while at Winside.

"Sports are all private, not part of school. I knew track before I came and played soccer, but not the other sports," Toby said.

The day after he arrived in Winside, Toby began football practice. He started as a kicker and later played running back. He played with Aaron and Seth.

Later in the school year, Toby joined the wrestling team "because I don't play basketball."

"It was a hard season and I didn't do very well, but I was sad when the season came to an end. I was probably in the best shape at that time. Also, I got to know lots of people and got to go to the state tournament."

When the track season began, Toby ran the 100 yard dash, 200 yard dash, 4 x 100

Local residents to go to jail

Community members of Wayne will be serving time to save babies with the Nebraska Chapter of the March of Dimes on Tuesday, June 12 from 11 a.m. to 1 p.m. at Pizza Hut.

All bail money raised will go to benefit the March of Dimes.

They met as strangers at Northeast Community College in Norfolk in August of 2004.

And through lots of hard work, tears, perhaps even moments of desperation, the five reached their goal together when they followed each other across the stage at recent Northeast commencement exercises. All five earned an associate of arts degree in business administration.

The five, Lisa Hochstein of Wayne, Deborah Cliffe of Randolph, Christy Pospisil of Belden, Kimberly Neiman of Pilger and Cecilia Holland of Norfolk, all earned their degree through the Weekend College Program at Northeast Community College. Beginning in the fall 2004 semester, the students met for five weekends each semester for three years. The students earned a total of 61 credit hours for their AA degree.

The five took two weekend classes, plus an on-line class, per semester. No classes were scheduled during the summers.

All five women are non-traditional students (older than 26 years of age) and all worked full time while pursuing their degrees.

At the time she began her Northeast studies, Hochstein was self-employed as a daycare provider and Holland worked as a waitress at the Country Café in Norfolk. Cliffe now works at Wal-

These five women celebrated their Northeast Community College graduation recently after attending classes on weekends for three years. They earned an associate of arts degree in business administration. Pictured, from left, are Christy Pospisil of Belden, Kimberly Neiman of Pilger, Deborah Cliffe of Randolph, Lisa Hochstein of Wayne and Cecilia Holland of Norfolk.

Mart and Hochstein is a teacher's aide in Winside.

Cliffe worked at the Plainview Nursing Home, Pospisil was employed at Ameritas in Wayne, and Neiman worked for the Village of Pilger.

While all five are extremely busy, Holland just may have been a bit busier as she is the mother of five children with another on the way. She describes her Northeast degree as a dream come true. Her employer at the Country Café, Vaughn Wiebusch, told her she did the equivalent of climbing Mt. Everest by earning her degree. "He was a great support to me," she said. She hopes to work in a management position at her current job after earning her degree. Neiman and Hochstein are also mothers.

All five agreed that the unique weekend schedule was the only way they could have earned their degree. They also agreed that there were times they thought they just couldn't do it anymore (attend college.) "John Blaylock, our dean, encouraged us a lot and kept us going," said Neiman. "He rearranged the weekend schedule to make it more accommodating. That helped a lot. On-line and telecourses helped us too."

"We are all extremely proud of ourselves," Hochstein said. "It wasn't easy, but it was well worth the effort."

All five participated in graduation ceremonies while their families watched proudly from the audience. "It was a Kodak moment, made even more enjoyable because of the hard work and sacrifices we made to earn the degree," Neiman said.

Munson quietly walks away a champion

A few weeks ago the 2006-2007 school session ended at Wayne Public Schools and as the halls of Wayne high fell silent without the foot-traffic it had seen for the previous nine months, teachers emptied out their classrooms, packed things up and too, left for the summer.

Guidance counselor Terry Munson spent a little more time emptying out his office because after 22 years at Wayne Public

For Pete's Sake
By: Kevin Peterson

Schools, he retired.

Munson took over Wayne's golf program in 1986 and he attempted to fill the giant footsteps of legendary coach Harold "Mac" Macjewski.

To say he more than filled those footsteps may be as big an understatement there possibly could be.

All he did in 22 years as Wayne's golf coach was go to State...22 times. Twenty of Munson's teams qualified for state with the other two seasons, an individual qualifying for state.

And if you think this coach left when the cupboard was bare you have, another think coming. "I think Wayne will be very strong in boys high school golf for years to come," Munson said. "This year's team that qualified is very young and now they have that taste in their mouth of what it takes to compete at state."

Terry had two team state champs, the 1989 team consisting of Robb Reeg, Jed Reeg, Elliot Salmon, Eric Runestad and Kevin Hausmann along with the 2000 team with Klinton Keller, Joel Munson, Mike Varley, Adam Ellingson and Jason Parks.

"Those two teams were very similar in the fact they both were senior dominant and both had multiple years of state experience," Munson said. "I think that's the key to competing at state consistently."

Munson said the two squads had a lot of maturity and were very intelligent in the way they managed the golf course.

It's hard to argue against the 1989 team being the best ever in Wayne as three of the five players, Robb Reeg, Jed Reeg and Eric Runestad were all four-time state qualifiers. These three players also were part of a historic stretch of being four-time district team champs.

"That particular group of players were amazing," Munson said. "They were relentless in their goal to be state champs."

Munson said Klinton Keller, (1999 individual state champ) was among the best players he's coached. "Klinton is still proving what kind of golf he can play, winning the Wayne Open recently," Munson said. "It's hard to sit back and say who's the best player that I had in my tenure but Klinton was certainly be near the top or at the top."

Wayne had a stretch from 1998-1999-2000 where they nearly had a trifecta of individual champs as Ryan Sturm lost a four-hole playoff for the title in 1998 before Klinton Keller won it in 1999 and Mike Varley in 2000.

Speaking of Mike Varley, he may still be the biggest surprise champion Class B has ever seen. "He went into the State Tournament as our number three golfer behind Klinton Keller and Joel Munson and he kind of shocked the state with his opening day score of 72 and maintained the narrow lead through day two for the state title," Munson said. "I remember several coaches asking me who this guy was and the simple answer was...a

Munson said he feels his key to success was not playing golf during the seasons he was coaching. "I didn't feel it was enhancing to the team if I was playing," Munson said. "I know that kind of made me the blacksheep of the coaching fraternity but that's how I felt."

Munson said he "gained" his coaching skills through many different clinics he attended including the national high school golf coaches association along with the Nebraska Coaches Association. "I learned from the pros in the field," he added.

Here's a quick look at Munson's state qualifiers over a 22-year span.

1986--Team qualified with Dave Ellis, Robb Reeg, Eric Runestad, Tom Perry and Jed Reeg.

1987--Team qualified with Robb Reeg, Eric Runestad, Jed Reeg, Dave Ellis and Kevin Griess.

1988--Team qualified with Robb Reeg, Jed Reeg, Elliot Salmon, Eric Runestad and Kevin Hausmann.

1989--Team qualified with Robb

1998--Team qualified with Klinton Keller, Ryan Dahl, Joel Munson, Ryan Sturm and Jason Parks.

1999--Team qualified with Klinton Keller, Ryan Dahl, Joel Munson, Adam Ellingson and Mike Varley.

2000--Team qualified with Klinton Keller, Joel Munson, Mike Varley, Adam Ellingson and Jason Parks. This team was State Champs!

2001--Team qualified with Andy Martin, John Jensen, Ric Volk, Brad Erickson and Eric Sturm.

2002--Team qualified with Andy Martin, Brad Erickson, Tyler Anderson, Ric Volk and John Jensen.

2003--Team qualified with Trevor Krugman, Andy Martin, Brad Erickson, Tyler Anderson and John Jensen.

2004--Team qualified with Trevor Krugman, Ben Mohl, Brian Mohl, John Whitt and Tyler Johnson.

2005--Team qualified with John Whitt, Ben Mohl, Brian Mohl, John Brady and Tyler Johnson.

2006--John Whitt qualified individually.

2007--Team qualified with Andi Diediker, Colin Jeffries, Sam Kurpogweit, Shaun Kardell and Nate Summerfield.

You would think after 22 years of coaching, you'd seen about everything but Munson said this year's team had a slightly different spin. Nate Summerfield came out for golf his senior year only, after suffering the tragic loss of his father Marty just over a month before.

Being the competitor he is, he fought hard to earn a spot on the varsity. When Wayne qualified for state by placing third as a team at districts, Nate appeared to be on his way to state...not so fast.

"Because we can change our lineup between districts and state, we had a 36-hole playoff for our fifth spot to go to state and Nate came out on top," Munson said. "This wasn't some story about playing to the sympathy of this young man and just putting him on the varsity, he earned it."

Munson said Nate's leadership on this year's team was tremendous despite being on the team for a single year.

So now that 22 years have passed with high school golf coaching responsibilities, Munson said he's ready to tee it up and focus on his game.

Congrats coach Munson.

Big crowd sends troops off

A total of 190 soldiers said their final farewells to their families on May 31 before heading for Fort Bragg for one to two months of training, then to Operation Iraqi Freedom, with the exact destination unknown.

The Nebraska National Guard's 600th Transportation Unit, based in Omaha, will spend a year in Iraq. Alyssa Uldrich, Nathan Sturges, Joshua Malcom and Kyle Sperry, all of Allen, are among the soldiers that are preparing for deployment.

Members of the 600th Transportation Company will be joined by approximately 30 members of the Norfolk and Wayne based 189th Transportation Company. The soldiers will help with transportation equipment as well as convoy escort missions.

The families spent a final day together at Camp Ashland, before attending the formal sendoff at the State Fair Grounds in Lincoln. Nearly 2,200 people were dealing with the stream of emotions as the soldiers were seen off.

"Sure, I'm uneasy about it, just as the other soldiers are, Capt. Ryan Kramer of Lincoln acknowledged. But, he said, the troops are prepared, motivated and skilled. We've got lots of experienced soldiers, including more than 30 who previously have been deployed. They'll teach and support the newer soldiers," Kramer, 35, commander of the company, promised to get the soldiers back to their families as quickly as possible.

Gov. Dave Heineman headed the list of speakers at the hour-long ceremony. Nearly all the seats in the arena were filled, and many people stood in the back and lined both sides. "Thank you for your service to this great country", the governor said. "We are proud of you."

and 4 x 400 dashes.

"Later I dropped the 100, but ran all the others at every meet. We made it to state in the 4 x 100. That was really exciting."

While in Nebraska Toby was able to obtain his driver's license by taking Driver's Education classes in Norfolk.

"In Germany it costs about $2,000 to take driver's education classes and students don't get a license until they are 18 years old. Most don't get cars until they are 19-20 years old because they can't afford them," he said.

Families in Germany generally have only one or two cars per family and most use public transportation. In fact, Toby said that there is not a parking lot for students at his school, as students use the bus or underground transportation.

"Gasoline is very high in Germany. It is sold by the liter and would be about $8 a gallon," he said.

Among the extra items Toby is taking back to Germany with him are lots of clothes, especially t-shirts and sweat shirts from the various sports he was involved with at Winside High School.

Toby's parents, Roland Lange, and Manuela Grunert, had the opportunity to join their son at the Mangels' farm last week and spent several days in Nebraska. Roland is a salesman for a housing construction company and his mother works in an office for a music company.

The family will now travel to Las Vegas, Nev. and then travel up the California coast before returning to Germany on June 15.

"Letting Toby go home will probably be more of an adjustment than having him come," John said. "He was always willing to pitch in and help with what we were doing as a family."

Toby said that while he had never been on a farm before, moving cattle was probably the most enjoyable of his chores.

Karen said that even though food preparation and laundry were increased with Toby as part of the family, "having him worked perfectly this year. The boys bonded and became typical brothers."

After Toby's parents arrived and before the family left Nebraska, the Mangels' hosted a graduation/going away party. More than 150 friends, teachers and parents attended.

Toby said he is sad to leave and will miss his friends, family and sports at Winside, but has an address book and plans to stay in contact with those he has met in the past 10 months.

He will also miss tacos, fast food, Mountain Dew and Dr. Pepper.

The Mangels will miss Toby as part of the family and plan to savor the experiences they have had as a host family before having another student join their family.

Board of Equalization meets; dates are set for property tax protests

By Lynn Sievers
Of the Herald

Wayne County Board of Commissioners met in regular session on Tuesday. The Board of Equalization met. Approved was a Citi Corp leasing correction. Citi Corp leases fork lifts and heavy equipment to Carharts. Recently it was discovered Citi Corp was paying taxes on the equipment in Wayne County and Carharts was paying on the same equipment in the county where the equipment was located. A refund of $6,517.02 was approved.

Board of Equalization also gave approval to an exemption that Providence Medical Center applied for as they received a house in Wayne, with value of $45,160 as a gift. The Board of Equalization set dates for property value protest hearings on July 3 at 1:30 p.m., July 10 at 9 a.m. and July 17 at 1:30 p.m., with decisions being made by July 25.

Assessor Joyce Reeg discussed GIS/Cadastral maps with the commissioners. She noted Kearney County (comparable to Wayne County as Kearney County has 7,000 parcels and Wayne County has 6,600) updated their maps in 2002 and just finished the process. Reeg noted some of Kearney's costs were $5,100 annually for maintenance and support, $3,600 annually to maintain the information on the maps on the website, $5,000 for a plotter (print full size maps) and $3,500 for the template. She noted this is a big investment but replacing Cadastral maps cost around $300,000. Wayne County's maps haven't been updated since 1965 and needs to be done.

Sheriff LeRoy Janssen noted with GIS, the county would be able to receive federal government money faster if a disaster occurs. For example, if a tornado touches down in Wayne County and destroys nine farms, a line could be drawn around the area and the assessed value is shown within 10 minutes. If more damage is done than the assessed value, NEMA National Emergency Management Association) will send a refund.

The commissioners signed a 2007 Emergency Management grant resolution. Deanna Beckman, Wayne County Emergency manager, noted the purpose of the grant is interoperable communications. The 2007 grant application deadline is June 15, 2007. Beckman told commissioners about the meeting she had with NEMA where they discussed a number of items including that the government is working on a mutual aid frequency so emergency personnel can talk to each other across the state.

Harlan Aevermann, a representative of Gary Pavel, CPA, discussed the 2005-'06 audit review and noted he needed a paper from the county attorney stating no one is suing the county and a management letter stating he has received all of Wayne County records.

Also to balance the books, commissioners signed a resolution stating the Homeland Security 2004 grant fund was audited and an available balance of $889.01 was found. Wayne County didn't claim anything for administration or office expense. Commissioners resolved that the Homeland Security '04 grant fund be closed and the balance of $889.01 be transferred to general fund. It was noted in the future when equipment is purchased with grant money, Wayne County Emergency manager should list serial numbers and where items went (to area fire stations, etc.) and those personnel need to sign they received the items and the item(s) are their responsibility. It was decided a list needs to be made of past and future items.

Commissioners discussed the emergency manager position, part-time vs. full-time. It was noted there is a grant available so counties can be reimbursed 50 percent on the expenses of a full-time emergency manager (first year limit is $11,000, after that it's 50 percent). There is a deadline to apply. Commissioners are thinking about having Beckman full-time. They also approved they are in charge of that position.

Commissioners approved lodging tax requests for Henoween, $1,500; Jaycees Light up the Sky, $350; Chicken Show, $1,500 and Wayne County Fair (advertising), $750. Commissioners also approved reappointment of members to the Wayne County Convention and Visitor's Bureau. Commissioners approved the court services building bond interest payment.

Highway Superintendent Elizabeth Carlson discussed road/bridge business. She noted Speece-Lewis Engineers sent a conflict of interest and disclosure form for consulting engineering service contract. Commissioners authorized the chairman to sign the form. Also approved was authorization of the chairman to sign a contract with M.E. Collins Contracting Co. Inc. for federal aid soft match project C009003210, three miles south and 1.9 miles west of Winside.

Commissioners discussed a stop or yield sign at the intersection of Highway Drive and West 21st Street and decided to turn the matter over the county attorney.

Commissioners authorized the chairman to sign a change order for federal aid project BRO-7090 (15), Winside southeast (drain tile, $4,027.38) and authorize the chairman to sign the change order. Commissioners also approved a request by Pierce Telephone Company for permission to bury utility lines in county road right of way.

Wayne County Board of Commissioners will meet Tuesday, June 19, 9 a.m. at the courthouse.

Rain delays dampened attempts at the Wayne Tournament on June 2, but the girls were able to post two wins on their home diamond. The squad plated two runs in the third and two more in the next inning en route to a 4-1 victory against Pierce in the first game of the tourney. McKenna Gibson took the loss on the mound for Wayne, while Amanda Hurlbert led the offensive effort with a single. The second game of the tourney saw Wayne edge West Point 2 in an 8-7 loss. Recovery and rehabilitation are an important aspect of your total knee replacement surgery. You will work with your surgeon and physical therapist to develop a program best suited to your situation. You must take an active and responsible role in the rehabilitation. Regaining range of motion (ROM) and strength are crucial. Strength will come with time, yet ROM needs to be restored soon after surgery before scar tissue forms. It is important for you to work towards fully extending and flexing the knee.

While in the hospital, the inpatient physical therapist will visit with you daily and teach you the correct methods of getting in and out of bed and/or chairs and walking with crutches or walker. They will also teach stretching and strengthening exercises.

Following hospitalization, you may go to a rehabilitation center. Physical therapists will continue to work several times a week with you, building strength, knowledge, and endurance. Once home, you will be expected to do most or all of your own therapy. It is important to adhere to the program taught to you by your doctor and physical therapist unless any problems occur. Plan on spending 30 minutes, twice daily on your rehabilitation.

For questions about knee replacements please contact Providence Therapy at 375-7937.

Northeast students attend national student nurses annual convention

Two members of the Northeast Community College Student Nurses Association represented the Northeast group and the Nebraska State Student Nurses Association at the recent annual convention of the National Student Nurses Association (NSNA) in Anaheim, Calif.

Kodi Nelson of Wakefield recently received her associate degree nursing (ADN) from Northeast

Community College and will continue her studies for a bachelor of science degree in nursing from Creighton University. Malia Brown of Stanton received her licensed practical nursing diploma this month and will continue for her associate degree nursing at Northeast this fall.

The two accepted the award on behalf of the Nebraska State Student Nurses Association (NSSNA). The NSSNA was honored for its innovative and charitable work in giving to the NSNA Foundation. Jennifer Cordell, a nursing student from the University of Nebraska Medical Center (UNMC) in Scottsbluff and president of the NSSNA, also accepted the award on behalf of the group. NSNA's Foundation President Joseph Duffy said that the Nebraska association was setting a bright example for other state organizations to follow.

The Foundation's mission is to promote the nursing profession through scholarship, leadership and development.

Individual sponsors for the Nelson-Brown trip included Susan Blaney, Kate Steinbock and Interim Dean Dr. Susan Wilhelm from the University of Nebraska Medical Center, Scottsbluff. Group sponsors were the Leadership Academy and Pioneer Chapter from UNMC-Scottsbluff and the NECC Student Nurses Association.

Wayne State College business students met with officials of the School of Education and Counseling and the School of Business and Technology to develop a publicity and communication plan for the reopening of the schoolhouse. Hana (Marie) Abbott, Dr. Laura Barelman, Associate Professor of Business; Dr. Anthony Koyzis, Dean of School of Education and Counseling; Dr. Vaughn Benson, Dean of School of Business and Technology; Brett Wiedenfeld and Michael Hirschman review the scrapbook project.

Complete project before semester ends

Wayne State College students of Strategic Communications, Managerial Communications and Labor Law from the School of Business and Technology completed a project for the McCorkindale School.

The McCorkindale School is an authentic one room schoolhouse that is situated on the campus of Wayne State College. The school is available for tours and will be opened for living history school days for area fourth graders in the coming school year.

To complete the project, the business students met with officials of the School of Education and Counseling to develop a publicity and communication plan for the reopening of the schoolhouse. Students produced a scrapbook, a DVD, a brochure, a newsletter and fifteen fundraising campaign ideas to be used to fund museum activities.

"We learned a lot about the heritage of education in northeast Nebraska" said Dr. Laura Dendinger, Associate Professor of Business and leader of the communications project. "Many students had either attended a similar one room schoolhouse or had family members who received part of their education in such a school."

The project was supported by the Wayne State College Service-Learning project. For further information about the McCorkindale School or to get assistance with your nonprofit's communication needs contact Dr. Laura Dendinger at 375-7020.

Local resident participates in AQHA horseback riding program

Joan Schmoltdt of Wayne recently earned an award for logging 250 hours in the American Quarter Horse Association Horseback Riding program. The program recognizes and rewards AQHA members for time spent with their American Quarter Horses in activities such as trail rides, working cattle, pleasure driving and simply riding.

A unique aspect of the program is its simplicity. Current AQHA members complete a program application and pay a one-time $25 enrollment fee. Each enrollee receives an official AQHA log sheet to record their hours driving or riding an American Quarter Horse. Participants need not own their own horse, but all official hours must be accrued with a registered American Quarter Horse.

Nine subsequent awards are presented at 100 to 5,000 hour levels and range from merchandise gift certificates from Drysdale's Western Store to a Montana Silversmith trophy belt buckle at the highest level.

Other awards provided by AQHA corporate sponsors include a $25 gift certificate, at the 100 hour level, good towards any item from Drysdale's Western Store, and 750 hours, a Tex Tax basket stamped belt. For each additional hour levels achieved members will receive Montana Silversmith products as awards. Also at both 50 hour and 5,000 hour award levels, recipients receive recognition in "The American Quarter Horse Journal", AQHA's monthly magazine. Stephanie A. McCommon, AQHA Manager of Membership Services, said "AQHA is very proud to offer this program rewarding people who enjoy riding and driving American Quarter Horses. Enrollees are doing such diverse activities that it's obvious this program literally fits everyone who likes spending time with horses."

AQHA actively encourages horseback riding as a recreational activity that can be enjoyed alone or shared with family and friends. For more information about AQHA and its programs, visit www.aqha.com or call 806-376-4811.

Siouxland Community Blood Bank supports World Blood Donor Day, June 14

Community blood centers from Illinois Coalition of Community Blood Centers and Iowa Blood Centers' Alliance have joined together in a bi-state effort to celebrate World Blood Donor Day (WBDD) on June 14.

Siouxland Community Blood Bank is a member of the Iowa Alliance. The Coalition and Alliance are statewide organizations of locally controlled, community blood centers, dedicated to increasing awareness of the importance of voluntary blood donation through advocacy and public education.

World Blood Donor Day is designed to raise awareness of the need for safe blood around the world, to thank and honor those blood donors who make transfusion possible and to encourage healthy, eligible individuals to give blood regularly. "In celebrating WBDD, Siouxland Community Blood Bank recognizes blood donors for their important contributions within our community and encourages others to follow their example," said Janette Twait, CEO Siouxland Community Blood Bank. "It is important to ensure that blood is available whenever and wherever it is needed."

Siouxland Community Blood Bank hopes healthy, eligible area residents will join in this important celebratory event by making an appointment to give blood. To donate blood, one must be healthy, and meet age, weight and other donor requirements. To locate a blood donor center in your area and schedule a blood donation appointment, visit www.siouxlandbloodbank.org.

The overwhelming majority of the world's population does not have access to safe blood. According to the World Health Organization, more than 80 million units of blood are donated every year, but only 38 percent are collected in developing countries where 82 percent of the global population lives. The chance of receiving a safe transfusion varies enormously from one country to another, depending largely on whether there is a good, safe blood donor program in place. Some 60 percent of the global blood supply goes to 18 percent of the world's population.

Blood is needed in hospitals and emergency treatment facilities to care for patients with cancer and other diseases, for organ transplant recipients and to help save the lives of accident and trauma victims. As additional donor restrictions are implemented and the population ages, the United States and other countries could lose more willing donors, causing an even greater threat to our global blood supply. While the need for blood is universal, access to blood for those who need it is not.

According to the four key partners of World Blood Donor Day (World Health Organization, International Federation of Red Cross and Red Crescent Societies, International Federation of Blood Donor Organizations and International Society of Blood Transfusion), women and children in low-income countries have the greatest need for blood.

More than half a million women die every year from complications related to pregnancy and childbirth - 99 percent of these deaths happen in developing countries. Hemorrhages account for 25 percent of complications and are the most common cause of maternal death. Up to 70 percent of all blood transfusions in Africa are given to children with severe anemia due to malaria, which accounts for about one in five of all childhood deaths in Africa.

Members of the Illinois Coalition of Community Blood Centers: Central Illinois Community Blood Center, Springfield Community Blood Services of Illinois, Urbana Heartland Blood Centers, Aurora LifeSource Blood Services, Glenview Mississippi Valley Regional Blood Center, Davenport, Iowa, Rock River Valley Blood Center, Rockford.

Additional information on WBDD: Go to www.adrp.org and/or www.aabb.org.

Siouxland Community Blood Bank; in 1967 the Siouxland Community Blood Bank (SCBB) was incorporated in the State of Iowa as a community not-for-profit charitable corporation, through the cooperation of the Woodbury Medical Society and four Sioux City hospitals: St. Vincent and St. Joseph Hospitals (now Mercy Medical Center) and the Lutheran and Methodist Hospitals (now St. Luke's Regional Medical Center) to fulfill the blood needs of the hospitals in the tri-state area.

Their sole purpose is to provide a safe and dependable supply of voluntarily donated blood to patients in Iowa, Nebraska and South Dakota. Siouxland Community Blood Bank is the sole supplier of blood and blood components to thirty-six area hospitals. Siouxland Community Blood Bank not only has met the community's continuous need for blood and related blood components, but also, has expanded the services it provides to its clients.

Regional 4-Hers have a lot to talk about

Several area 4-Hers received awards at the Regional 4-H Public Speaking Contest that was held on May 30 at the Lifelong Learning Center in Norfolk.

Ninety-nine youth competed in their respective age division in the 2007 Regional 4-H Speech competition and 52 contestants competed in their respective age division in the 2007 Regional 4-H Public Service Announcement (PSA) category.

Contestants earn the opportunity to participate in regional competition by winning their age division at the county level. Contestants may compete in one or both categories. A relatively new division for Novice speakers, ages 8-10 were able to read a poem or tell a story. In the Junior (11 years of age and younger), and Intermediate (12 to 13 years of age) and Senior division, speakers were required to prepare an original speech about 4-H. The second category included 4-Hers from those age groups doing a 60-second PSA promoting 4-H.

Contestants were awarded purple, blue, red or white awards in recognition for their speech or PSA. In addition, the top four individuals received medals in all divisions. The four winners of the senior division speech and PSA competition are given the opportunity to compete for awards at the State 4-H Public Speaking Contest to be held in Lincoln on Sept. 1 during the Nebraska State Fair. All youth competing in state competition will receive a $50 savings bond. The top two speech and PSA winners in State 4-H Public Speaking Contest receive $500 scholarships.

Wayne County results for the Junior Speech Division include: Emma Loberg, daughter of Ken and Jean Loberg of Wayne, purple and Sylvia Jager, daughter of Huck and Chris Jager of Wayne, blue. Intermediate Division Speech results include: Sawyer Jager, son of Huck and Chris Jager, blue and Brady Wurdeman, son of Roger and Becky Wurdeman of Wayne, red. Brandon Wurdeman competed in the Senior PSA Division and earned a blue ribbon. He is the son of Roger and Becky Wurdeman.

Mangels is award winner

The United States Achievement Academy has announced that Aaron Mangels of Winside has George Stevens, Founder of the United States Achievement Academy.

The criteria for selection are a student's academic performance, interest and aptitude, leadership qualities, responsibility, enthusiasm, motivation to learn and improve, citizenship, attitude and cooperative spirit, dependability and recommendation from a qualified sponsor.

Aaron is the son of John and Karen Mangels of Winside.

Aaron Mangels

been named a United States National Award Winner in English. This award is a prestigious honor very few students can ever hope to attain. In fact, the Academy recognizes fewer than 10 percent of all American high school students.

Aaron, who attends Winside High School, was nominated for this national award by Penny Baier, an English teacher at the school. His name will appear in the United States Achievement Academy's Official Yearbook which is published nationally.

"Recognizing and supporting our youth is more important than ever before in America's history. Certainly, United States Achievement Academy winners should be congratulated and appreciated for their dedication to excellence and achievement," said Dr.

Powell places in Kanesville Krusher mountain bike race

Wayne's Tim Powell of the Elkhorn Valley Cycling powered by Monster race team took second in Sport Masters 45+ class at the Kanesville Krusher mountain bike race in Council Bluffs, Iowa Saturday June 2. After some threatening rains earlier in the week, the trails were in near perfect condition — very tacky but not muddy or slick. Combined with a temperature in the low 70s and no rain, the race conditions were excellent.

The Kanesville Krusher was held in the scenic bluffs below the Lewis and Clark Monument near Council Bluffs. It is the fourth race in the Nebraska Lottery Psychowpath race series which comes to northeast Nebraska on Aug. 11 for the Maskenthine XC Classic.

Enjoys Memorial Day activities

Dear Editor,
Carroll's Memorial Day observance holds a warm place in my heart and I wish to thank those who had a part in it this year.
As a small girl, I remember the large crowds, the World War I veterans marching to Elmwood Cemetery, the Methodist Church dinner and all that made the day so exciting.
The Memorial Day service still goes on, though interest is waning. Now, when I hear the roll naming Robert E. Johnson, his memory brings a tear. Bob spent four years in World War II, receiving a Purple Heart medal from wounds received at St. Lo, France. He died on Memorial Day in 1978. Not only he, but all veterans, no matter the length of service, war time or peace, deserve our praise.

I salute those who made our Carroll Memorial Day, May 28, 2007 happen again. Some of whom I think deserve special recognition are Ervin Lyons Unit #165 Post Commander Franklin Gilmore (ill in hospital), Post Commander Pro Tem Keith Owens, Post Chaplain Dennis Junck, Speaker David Watters of Randolph (great speech), Taps Charles Morris, Legion members, firing squad, flag bearers, American Legion Auxiliary President JoAnn Owens, workers with the flags, crosses and wreaths at the cemetery and the ladies and men of the Methodist Church.
Patricia Johnson Roberts,
member of the American Legion Auxiliary for 61 years

Main Street Focus

At Tuesday morning's All-Hands meeting of the Main Street Wayne, it was moved and passed that we discontinue weekly meetings and move our meeting to the second and fourth Tuesday of the month, beginning immediately. On the second Tuesday of the month, the monthly Board meeting will be held. The fourth Tuesday will be reserved for All-Hands meetings. The other Tuesdays will be reserved for various committee meetings.
So the next meeting on June 12 will be the monthly Board meeting.
After Jan. 1, 2008 we will review this meeting time to see if it has been helpful and productive.
The Flea Market/ Sidewalk Eggs-travaganza will be held on Friday, July 13 from 8 a.m. to 1 p.m. and will kick off our annual Henoween celebration. If you are interested in being a vendor, you are encouraged to call dianne Leighty at 833-5315 or Nana Peterson at 375-3178 or 833-5152. There is a $10 fee for non Team Wayne members and vendors must provide their own tables. Check with the ladies mentioned previously for locations. Many of the prime locations are going quickly, so please reserve your spot soon.
The concrete chickens are in and can be had for painting at the WAEDI office. There is just over a month to get a chicken painted and returned to the WAEDI office before our big Henoween celebration. Several people, especially newcomers to town, have asked what this is all about. This is a tradition which started when Main Street Wayne got involved sponsoring Henoween as part of our Chicken Days weekend. A chicken is our symbol and we ask people throughout northeast Nebraska to paint them for us - and we have so many good artists that do a fine job painting the chickens. On Henoween evening we auction them off to raise money to pay for our expenses with the entertainment and for everything else that we need money for to make this an enjoyable night in Wayne.

Wes Blecke advised members that he is working with the Nebraska Lied Main Street Program to have a Design Program brought to Wayne sometime in mid-August. Gordon Schultz from the UNL School of Architecture and some advanced students will put on a walking tour of our Main Street area and commenting and making suggestions of what building and store owners could do to improve their store fronts and appearance. Main Street does provide a drawing service for store fronts for a small fee which is refundable if a store uses the suggestions. Several store owners have used this service and have been very satisfied. We will have more information on this and a specific date in a future column.
Main Street Wayne is still looking for volunteers to serve on its Board. Interested candidates must be a WAEDI member and committed to be active participants in the program and attend various meetings. Volunteers are also needed to serve on any of the four required committees of Main Street + Organization, Economic Restructuring and Design. Interested people should call Wes Blecke at the WAEDI office. If you are interested in seeing Wayne grow as a community, here is your opportunity to have a say.
The Farmers' Market will begin this Saturday in the area of the old Firehouse on Second Street and across from the Post Office. Farmers and customers are needed to make this work. It works in many other communities, why not Wayne?
A Fire Hall clean up is scheduled for Saturday, June 23. It will begin at 8:30 a.m. If you have some free time on this date, come help clean it up so the firehouse can become the home for the Community Playhouse and art activities that are still in the planning stage. With your help on this and our committees, all things are possible.

Cyberstalking law is bad news for online predators

By Attorney General Jon Bruning
Last week, legislators delivered a big blow to Internet predators by passing LB 142, the cyberstalking bill.
Under the bill, it is illegal for adults over 18 to knowingly send sexually explicit language and material by computer, text messages or other communication devices to victims under 16. Those who do are guilty of a class IV felony, punishable by up to five years in prison and a $10,000 fine.
Prior to this legislation, no specific crime for sending sexually explicit material to minors existed. I knew Nebraska could do better, which is why I included LB 142 in my legislative package.
The National Center for Missing and Exploited Children estimates one in seven children who regularly use the Internet is sexually solicited, and one in 11 is harassed or threatened.

If you don't think it happens in Nebraska, I'm here to tell you it does. Last year, I participated in a Nebraska State Patrol demonstration. An officer, posing as a young Nebraska girl, entered a chatroom at 10 a.m. Within 15 seconds, three men using Web cams had sent sexual photos and videos of themselves to the "girl".
Predators have gone high-tech. Thanks to the Legislature and State Senator Mike Friend, who introduced the bill, we have the right tools to fight them.
We'll continue doing everything we can to put sexual predators behind bars where they can't hurt our children, but education is our best defense. For more information on Internet Safety, contact our office toll free at (800) 727-6432 or by visit our Web site at www.safekids.ne.gov.

Capitol View

School district organization causes frustration

By Ed Howard
Statehouse Correspondent
The Nebraska Press Association
The die-hard supporters of a movement to revive Nebraska's elementary-only school districts worked like dogs, although not with any great success, for their cause.
The Legislature rewarded their efforts last week, in a way that had something of a comic element to it. Imagine that a dog is hungry, and that someone gives it a can of the food it wants. Literally.
"Okay, Fido. Here is the food. Right here in this can. And, see? I'm putting the can-opener right here, in your paws!"
Comedy, like beauty, is a subjective thing.

Those forces were taking a faux bow in the direction of the majority of voters who, in a statewide election last year, repealed the 2005 law that dissolved those Class I school districts which served mostly rural areas.
In tossing out the law that killed the Class I districts, the clear message from the voting majority was "Leave 'em alone!"
The new law was the Legislature's way of saying: "It turns out you might have wanted to save the life of an institution we already killed. We aren't going to bring it back to life; but rather than have you think we're ignoring the will of the people, whatever that is, we're going to give voters the opportunity, locally, to create new Class I districts."

As previously described, one might view the "opportunity" provided as akin to giving a dog a can of food, and a can-opener.
Some legislative supporters of the Class I districts, led by Senator Cap Dierks of Ewing, opposed the new law. They generally argued that it added undeniable insult to unwarranted injury.
Note: At this writing, Governor David Heineman had not decided whether to sign the bill into law, allow it to become law without his signature, or veto it. Heineman supported the successful initiative referendum that led to repeal of the statute that dissolved the Class I districts. The completely uninformed guess from here: Heineman is likely to let the bill become law, concluding that something is better than nothing, even if, in this case, not by much.

A final thought from a lover and keeper of critters. Sometimes a frustrated dog will just go away. Sometimes, it will whine, or growl, or both. Those things are natural. There is no need to worry, unless the dog senses it is being teased or otherwise abused. A dog usually won't bite the hand that feeds it - but that isn't necessarily the same as a hand that tossed a can at it.

Legislative session comes to an end

The 100th Legislature, First Session, is now complete. We adjourned sine die on May 3, completing a 90-day session filled with many accomplishments. Overall, it was a hectic but very productive session. We were able to cut taxes, reduce state spending, and pass necessary legislation.
The Legislature passed a budget containing a 4.6 percent average spending growth rate over the biennium, substantially lower than the 7.4 percent average growth rate in the previous biennium and noticeably lower than the 20-year average spending growth rate of 6.9 percent.
Even though the Legislature successfully contained spending, we were still able to pass a tax relief package amounting to $424 million over the biennium. It provides for a property tax credit, repeals the estate tax, eliminates the marriage penalty in our income tax system, and repeals the sales tax on construction labor.
Due to an earlier Nebraska Supreme Court decision, ruling that political subdivisions would no longer have the protection afforded to owners of land by the Recreation Liability Act, the Legislature passed a law aimed at reinstating liability protection for political subdivisions in regards to recreational activities that are provided to the public free of charge.
The break-up of the Omaha Public School district was rescinded and legislation was passed that requires the Douglas and Sarpy County school districts to work together in order to provide quality educational opportunities for all students. A learning community will be developed. A common levy was put in place for the 11 school districts in the learning community and a coordinating council was created, in addition to the individual school boards, to administer the activities assigned to the learning community.

A bill that addresses both our short-term issues in the Republican River Basin and creates a framework for addressing our long-term water challenges was passed this year. A Water Resources Cash Fund was created and will be used to help the state continue to comply with interstate compacts and agreements and reduce consumptive water use in areas declared to be fully or over appropriated. The majority of funding will come from the affected Natural Resource Districts (through a higher property tax levy and/or an occupation tax on irrigated acres), but will also include an annual state appropriation. Additionally, a three-fifth cent checkoff fee on corn and grain sorghum for a 7-year period beginning in 2012 will be deposited in the fund. Funding was also appropriated for a vegetation removal program in fully and over appropriated areas of the state.

As a result of the petition drive and the vote to repeal LB 126 (consolidation of elementary-only school districts), a process was put in place to create Class I school districts. The legislation also created a financial incentive for the K-12 district to keep an attendance site open. I added an amendment to the bill to allow families affected by LB 126 to have another opportunity to use the enrollment option program. The Governor vetoed LB 126 and we failed to override the veto. Consequently, the financial incentives to keep a building site open and the opportunity for another choice under the enrollment option program are no longer available.

With the completion of the legislative session, Dee and I are looking forward to moving back home to South Sioux City for the interim. I will be serving as your state senator for one more year before term limits affect me. I am happy with this past session and exceptionally pleased that we were able to secure funding for a joint venture with Northeast Community College and Wayne State College in South Sioux City. I am also glad that my priority bill passed to revamp the state funding formula for community colleges, providing for more equity, as well as property tax relief.
During the interim, you may contact me at home or my office staff will be available throughout the year. The contact information for my office in Lincoln is District #17, P.O. Box 94604, State Capitol, Lincoln, NE 68509; my telephone number is (402) 471-2716; and my e-mail address is lengel@leg.ne.gov.

Kyle Gorsuch, a young but nationally-accomplished boxer from Dix, will open the Cornhusker State Games Torch Run Friday, June 8. The 12 year-old is also a State Games regular, having won boxing medals the past four years and is currently ranked third in the nation in his division.

Gorsuch will jog the opening mile after a torch-lighting ceremony at 8 a.m. (MST) at the Nebraska-Wyoming border west of Kimball on Highway 30. The first of 20 community arrival celebrations will take place at noon at Gotte Park in Kimball.

The public is welcome at the opening and the arrival celebration, where hot dogs and refreshments will be served. Door prizes are being provided the National Guard and U.S. Cellular, both overall sponsors of the Torch Run.

Gorsuch will be the first of an estimated 900 runners to carry the Torch over its 1,100-mile route to the capital city. The culmination of the Torch Run comes July 20 at the CSG Opening Ceremonies when a mystery torchlighter ignites the cauldron.

Openings for torch runners remain and those wishing to carry the torch can call 1-800-30-GAMES.

Enjoy summer vacation by planning for it

Summer usually is an ideal time for family vacations. With the proper planning, a vacation can bring a family together without breaking the bank.

Plan summer vacations before leaving the house because so many people take vacations during this time. Be sure to make reservations for hotel rooms or camp sites and car rentals to ensure there will be one available. Compare prices before buying airline tickets or reserving cars, hotel rooms or camp sites.

Consider the total budget picture. Decide which expenses can be put on a credit card and which should be paid with cash or from the checking account. Break the budget down based on food, lodging, travel and entertainment and activities. Monitor Web sites and read travel guide books for the best deals and cost-cutting alternatives.

Ruth Vonderohe

When considering what to do on vacation, collect as much information as possible about the end destination by looking at places online or in travel guide books or even talking to someone who has been there before. If driving, consider detour attractions that may take time or money away from the end destination activities. Have family discussions about where to go and what to see. Let each person decide on one or two activities to do and create an itinerary. This can help calculate costs.

If a refrigerator is available at the vacation destination, visit the local grocery store to buy snacks and light meal items, such as fruits, vegetables, cheese and crackers. Buying these items can save on food expenses. Plan on using these items to make at least two meals for the day. These meals will end up being healthier and less expensive than grabbing food at a vending machine or restaurant. Eating out at a restaurant a few times during the vacation can be a nice treat, but be sure to calculate restaurant expenses into the budget.

Lutheran pastors honored

Nearly 1,000 Nebraska Lutherans - voters and visitors - gathered at Midland Lutheran College in Fremont on June 1-3 for the Assembly of the Nebraska Synod, Evangelical Lutheran Church in America.

Those gathered participated in worship, workshops and forums, concerts, a Bible Village experience, conversations and church business during the three day event. The Saturday evening banquet honored landmark ministry anniversaries for ministry leaders.

Pastor Bill Koeber of Our Savior Lutheran Church of Wayne was honored for his 40th year anniversary of his ordination into the ministry. Pastor Koeber was ordained on June 18, 1967 in his home congregation, Redeemer Lutheran Church in Wayne by Pastor Hugo Welchert, Secretary of the Nebraska Synod. He received his B.A. from Wayne State College and then attended the Lutheran Seminary in Philadelphia and received a Master of Divinity degree in 1967.

Upon ordination he served First Lutheran Church, McCool Junction, Nebraska. Beginning in November of 1972 he served Resurrection Lutheran Church, Gretna, Nebraska, for 21 years. In August, 1995, following two years as District Representative with Lutheran Brotherhood, he became Interim Pastor at Our Savior Lutheran Church in Wayne and on Jan. 1, 1997, Our Savior Lutheran Church called him as Associate Pastor.

Also honored at the Saturday evening banquet were four commissioned Associates in Ministry and seven pastors who have retired since Assembly 2006. Sixty-six pastors were honored for ordination anniversaries of 10 years through 65 years. Pastor Doniver Peterson was honored for 45 years being ordained in 1962. Pastor Peterson served St. Paul's Lutheran Church, Wayne from 1969 - 1984. Pastor Daniel Monson was honored for 50 years being ordained in 1957. Pastor Monson served Redeemer Lutheran Church, Wayne from 1980 - 1987. Pastor Donald Olson was also honored for 45 years. Pastor Olson served an Interim Pastor at Our Savior Lutheran Church, Wayne from September 2004 - June 2006.

Preschool graduates

Fishers of Kids Preschool in Wayne held a closing program on Friday, May 18. Graduating prekindergarten students were honored and preschool students were recognized. The children sang songs with actions and rhythm instruments, recited nursery rhymes, counted and named colors in Spanish, and told about favorite Bible stories. While refreshments were served in the Fellowship Hall, guests enjoyed a slide show of the year's activities. Fishers of Kids Preschool's teacher is Mrs. Amy Steinmeyer, and is a ministry of Grace Lutheran Church in Wayne. Those graduating included, left to right, Rachel Hangman, Cole Lundahl, Freya Young, Olivia Scott, Garrett VanderVeen, Keagan Mrsny and Ethan Sebade.

Avalanche Ranch Adventure

Vacation Bible School was held May 29 through June 1 at St. Mary's Catholic Church in Wayne. Approximately 60 children, preschool through fourth grade, were taken part in songs, crafts, Bible study, games and snacks. Older youth served as leaders as the children moved from one station to another. Above, the children and leaders, dance to one of the many songs they learned during the week.

Mother Nature has major impact on Hackberry trees

The environment has a major impact on the health of plants each year.

The spring of 2007 has been unusual with very early season warm temperatures, high winds and followed by a late freeze occurring in a short period of time, very similar to the 2004 season. Trees are impacted by these unusual swings in weather especially when the young leaves are at a time of emergence. One major example of the effect of weather has been the hackberry leaf loss. The cold temperatures occurring at the most sensitive time in the emergence of the leaf may have caused this loss. Other trees were further along in the formation of leaves and were not affected as much by the cold temperatures and other extreme environmental conditions.

The extreme continuous windy conditions have also impacted the tree leaf emergence. The leaves are very tender and easily damaged by the winds because it causes the leaf to dry out quickly in addition to being very tender. It is common to find tattered leaves, almost as if parts of the leaf have been eaten by insects. Leaf tatter can occur on those new, tender leaves as they unfold and emerge from the bud.

Trees that have lost the first set of leaves will send out a new set as time goes by, allowing the tree to establish a set of leaves for the year. There is not anything one can do to help the tree recover. One of the things that is first thought about is to fertilize the tree, but that is the worst practice for the tree. The soils in this area of the state have adequate nutrients for the hackberry tree and other trees to grow normally.

Patience is the key for the visual problem seen on the damaged trees.

Bubble Bath. Made with Soft Water.

Hard water is bad because it:

- wastes soap
- makes hair dull and lifeless.
- spots and streaks glassware and dishes.
- leaves soap scum in the bathtub and shower.
- leaves scale deposits in appliances and clogs hot water heaters
- leaves soap curd on fabric fibers, causing threads to become brittle and destroying them.
- leaves soap curd and detergent deposits on fabrics making fabric colors dull and white fabrics grey or yellow.
- can't make bubbles like soft water!

Book should be read

I can't believe it's June and this year is almost half over already. With all the rain we've been having, everything looks lush and green. The sprinklers in our area have not been on at all, but I noticed water running down the street when I was at my Mom's yesterday. She said they are pre-programmed, and no one changes that, even when we are getting many inches of rain. That is so wasteful, it bugs me. Some day, it won't be oil we are wanting, it will be water!

Along that gloomy line, I want to do sort of a book review this week. A friend recommended that I read Because They Hate, by Brigitte Gabriel. I got it on line at Amazon.com, so it was not expensive.

Her description of the mideast mindset regarding the status of women and the importance of seeking revenge is chilling. She quotes a Dr. Sahr Muhammad Hatem of

By: Pat Meierhenry

This author was ten years old and living in Southern Lebanon when militant Muslims from throughout the Middle East poured into her country and declared jihad against the Lebanese Christians.

She is a journalist and news producer who started her career as an anchor for World News, an evening Arabic news broadcast throughout the Middle East. She is now a naturalized American citizen, a terrorism expert and the founder of a nonprofit organization. In fact, the web site for the organization is Riyadh, Saudi Arabia, "the mentality of each one of us was programmed upon entering school as a child to believe that Islam is everything. Instilled in our small heads was the notion that the Muslim has a right, whatever the cause, and that he will triumph, even if he is armed with a stick of wood against a tank, because he represents the truth and the others represent falsehood. They taught us that anyone who is not a Muslim is our enemy. If we escaped this programming in school, we encountered it at the mosque."

In my mind, one of the most important statements is that of Col. Georges Salas, who was in the Iraqi army. He maintains that 56 commercial flights with passenger seats removed flew weapons to Syria from Baghdad before the American invasion of Iraq.

This is a book that every American should be reading. And we need to take to heart the advice she gives at the end, such as 1) close our borders, 2) reform the immigration process, 3) profile! 4) develop alternative energy, and 5) silence teaching of hate and intolerance against our country. She also urges us to encourage patriotic education in our schools, to stay informed, defend movements toward personal freedom in the Middle East, reduce our fuel consumption, and finally, support our troops.

I realize this is heavy stuff, and I usually write about "fluff", but this author has challenged both of us to be more involved. I hope you will get hold of this book, and read it!

Annual bluegrass is noticeable this year

This year has been a good year for annual bluegrass to be noticed. Annual bluegrass is light green and very short when it produces a seed head. Mowing the grass short seems to stimulate the grass to produce even more seeds.

The grass is considered a weed because it is an annual. This plant spreads by seed so when one mows the grass, seed is spread into new areas. As the weather warms by early summer, this grass dies, leaving bare or thin areas in the lawn. The annual bluegrass was introduced through contamination with other seed sources and has established a presence in Nebraska.

Golf course managers have special management programs set up to keep this weed from invading the nice green turf areas. Homeowners may especially notice

Del Hemsath
Extension Educator

this grass (weed) this year as last fall was an ideal year for the seed to germinate in the fall, live over the winter and produce a seed head very early in the spring. The winter was a good winter for survival, so now the weed is noticed.

Well, okay, now that we know what this weed is, how do we get rid of it? It is always easy to ask a question, the answer is not so easy. The growth cycle of this weed makes it extremely difficult to control because the seed must first be stopped when it germinates in the fall. That means a fall application of a lawn pre-emergent will help reduce the population. Continued vigilance of control will help keep the weed from becoming a serious pest. In severe infestations, the lawn may need to be renovated. A lawn service company may also be able to provide a program of control for your lawn, contact them to see if they have a program of control.

Two NECC ag students awarded CHS Foundation scholarships

Two Northeast Community College students have been awarded $750 scholarships through the CHS Foundation's expanded Two-Year College Scholarship program.

The two, Matthew Lueshen of Beemer and Aaron Snow of Tekamah, will return to Northeast this fall semester to finish their agriculture studies. Lueshen is a double major studying agribusiness and diversified agriculture and Snow is majoring in agribusiness.

The CHS Foundation is the major giving entity of CHS Inc., a leading energy and grain-based foods company with a stewardship focus on building vibrant communities. "We're helping promising agricultural students from some of America's top two-year schools," says William J. Nelson, CHS Foundation president. "The CHS Foundation is proud to help educate and train tomorrow's producers, scientists, teachers, agronomists and agribusiness leaders."

An independent, external committee selected recipients based on essays, transcripts and reference letters. Under the expanded Two-Year College Scholarship Program, awards were increased to $750 and are applied toward the students' second-year costs.

A new feature of the program this year is the increased access to internships, professional or leadership development programs, career openings and international experiences for CHS Foundation scholarship winners.

More information on all CHS Foundation scholarships is available at www.chsfoundation.org.

Dram shop for minors wins final round of approval

The Minor Alcoholic Liquor Liability Act sponsored by Sen. Lowen Kruse of Omaha, was passed by the Legislature. Senators voted to hold adults accountable for giving alcohol to kids in both retail and social settings; the proposal now awaits Gov. Dave Heineman's signature.

The proposed law is commonly referred to as dram shop and social host liability because it establishes a legal basis for people suffering damages as a result of a sale to a minor or providing alcohol to a minor in a social setting. Similar proposals have been shown to prevent alcohol-related injuries, deaths and other damages among minors. Underage drinking cost Nebraska $447 million in 2005.

"Today the Legislature passed a significant piece of legislation that is a critical part of preventing underage drinking and its tragic consequences," said Diane Riibe, executive director for Project Extra Mile. "We've worked for years to get a dram shop/social host liability law passed in this state. Nebraska was only one of a handful of states that didn't have this law and we're delighted to see it pass, proving that protecting our kids is important to the state."

Under the bill, adults who serve or provide alcohol to minors can be held liable if that individual harms or kills someone. Surveys of youth show that adults are the most common place kids get alcohol.

"The goal of this bill is to provide an extra deterrent to adults who would not think twice about providing alcohol to youth," explained Riibe. "It sends a clear message to adults, including both retailers and parents that providing alcohol to kids will not bring a wink and a nod. It could cost you big."

Research has shown that dram shop/social host liability laws are effective. A number of states with the law have seen reductions in drinking driving and heavy drinking rates. Alone, dram shop does not solve the underage drinking problem, but it is an important piece of the puzzle.

Additionally, a keg registration provision was amended into LB 573 which tightens Nebraska's keg registration law. Any person who is in possession of a keg with an altered or removed keg identification number can be charged with a Class III misdemeanor, carrying a penalty of a $500 fine, up to three months in jail or both.

"Before, the keg registration law was difficult to enforce," said Riibe. "Most tags were immediately removed after purchase, making it difficult to track who purchased the keg. Now when law enforcement comes across an underage drinking party, they can cite the individual who has possession of the keg. This will close a critical loophole."

'Click It or Ticket' numbers released

From May 21 through June 3, the Nebraska State Patrol, in conjunction with the Nebraska Office of Highway Safety (NOHS), participated in a national effort to get motorists to buckle up. The "Click It or Ticket" campaign is designed to raise awareness about the need to wear your seat belt every time you get into a vehicle.

During the two-week long enforcement period, which encompassed the Memorial Day holiday weekend, the Nebraska State Patrol issued 151 Seat Belt citations, and 294 Seat Belt warnings. Seventy-four Child Restraint citations and warnings were also issued.

The Nebraska State Patrol utilized overtime hours and special selectives during the two week time frame, thanks in part to a nearly $17,000 grant from NOHS. The "Click It or Ticket" campaign was the second special enforcement in the month of May. Troopers also participated in the "Buckle Up in Your Truck" campaign.

Nebraska's seat belt law is a secondary law. Drivers can be cited for this violation only if stopped for a separate violation. Violating Nebraska's Seat Belt law carries a fine of $25 for each offense.
