Preparing for the fair

Hundreds of volunteers have been giving of their time to get ready for the 2007 Wayne County Fair. Above, 4-H'ers, leaders and volunteers made 40 pies last week for the 4-H Food Stand. Below, a large group of 4-H'ers and their parents took part in the annual fair clean-up at the fairgrounds on Monday evening. Despite temperatures in the 90's and high humidity levels, clean-up and preparation for the four-day event went smoothly. When the work was completed, volunteers were treated to supper, prepared by the Wayne County Agricultural Society members.

Cyclists traveling around the world

By Clara Osten
Of the Herald

For more than a year J.C. Connor and Tyger Pliska of Portland, Ore. have been riding their bikes through various parts of the world.

The two made a brief stop in Wayne last week on their current adventure, a trip to Central America, with stops throughout the United States.

"After college, we decided to travel, so in March of 2006 we left Oregon and flew to Amsterdam. We biked around the Netherlands, Belgium, Germany, France, England, Scotland and Spain," Tyger said.

The two travel very economically, spending money only on bike parts.

"We juggle for money and do volunteer work for food. We have worked for organic farmers and if we need to, get food from garbage cans," J.C. said.

While in Europe, the two were involved with a number of political action groups and demonstrations.

"We were a part of Camp for Climate Action, a group against the coal power plants in Europe. They are an environmentally conscious group against the green house gasses produced by these plants," J.C. said. They also have worked with various groups doing social work and providing legal support for those in need.

The pair travel approximately 75 miles a day with no set plan.

After returning to the United States this past Christmas, Tyger worked for Pure Cirkus as a juggler. On June 21, the Summer Solstice, the two men left Oregon with a short-term goal of meeting up with a small group of bikers, Cycle Circus, in Tyger Pliska, left and J.C. Connor were treated to lunch on their way through Wayne last week.

Birds in Wayne County test positive for West Nile Virus

Two birds in Wayne County have tested positive for the West Nile Virus according to the Northeast Nebraska Public Health Department. The birds were identified as blue jays and were found in Carroll and Wayne, Nebraska on July 7, 2007. The Northeast Nebraska Public Health Department tests birds and mosquitoes every year during the West Nile season. The blue jays were the first positive birds of the 2007 season. No mosquitoes have tested positive thus far.

"Positive birds indicate that the virus is present in our environment," said Deb Scholten, Director of the Northeast Nebraska Public Health Department. Ms. Scholten stated that West Nile is transmitted through the bite of a mosquito that has picked up the virus by feeding on an infected bird and urged everyone to protect themselves from West Nile Virus through the following precautions:

- Avoid outdoor activities at dusk and dawn when mosquitoes are most active.
- Wear long-sleeved shirts, pants, shoes and socks when outdoors.
- Always use mosquito repellent (ages 12 and above - use repellent with DEET).

Eliminate standing water outdoors.
Change water in bird baths on a weekly basis.

Most people who are infected by a mosquito have no symptoms or only mild flu-like symptoms. Less than one out of 150 people who get bitten by an infected mosquito and become infected will get seriously ill. However, people over 50 and those with weakened immune systems are especially vulnerable to the disease and are more likely to experience serious consequences. West Nile fever includes flu-like symptoms such as headache, fever, and muscle weakness.

Because two birds in Wayne County have been confirmed with West Nile Virus, dead birds should still be reported, but will not be collected or tested within Wayne County. Dead crows, magpies, hawks, owls, and blue jays will still be collected in Dixon, Cedar, and Thurston counties.

For further information on the West Nile Virus and reporting dead birds, please contact the Northeast Nebraska Public Health Department at 1-800-375-2260 or 402-375-2200.

Rural Outreach Clinic to be held at the Wayne Armory on Aug. 14

VA Nebraska/Western Iowa Health Care System has developed a program to provide a rural outreach mobile clinic to Operation Iraqi Freedom/ Operation Enduring Freedom Veterans. A Wayne Rural Outreach Clinic will be held at the Wayne Armory on Tuesday, Aug. 14 from 9 a.m. to 4 p.m. Newly returning Veterans, as well as all Veterans, are encouraged to attend. For more information or to set up an appointment, call 402-480-1801.

The Wayne Rural Outreach Clinic was held for the first time on May 10. On that date, the clinic provided Primary Care and Mental Health Services to 24 returning Veterans. There were high satisfaction marks on the patient surveys.

The Wayne Rural Outreach Clinic is equipped to provide full history and physicals, mental health assessments and clinical care. The services include lab work, immunizations, medication assessment and prosthetic assessments. If there is a need for a Veteran to be referred to a specialist, the appointment will be made for follow up at the Omaha VA or Lincoln VA, depending on the speciality and preference of the Veteran.

The clinic is unable to provide x-ray or other imaging services. They are also unable to provide gynecological services. If these different services are needed, the Veteran will have a choice for a follow up appointment at the Omaha VA or Lincoln VA.

This clinic will help in assessing for PTSD and Traumatic Brain Injury along with other health problems that can be a result of deployment to a combat zone. It is an opportunity to address and assess the whole person.

The goal of this initiative is to engage Operation Iraqi Freedom/ Operation Enduring Freedom Veterans residing in rural areas in Medical and Mental Health treatment through a team of VA providers. The clinic aims to provide enrollment, screening, basic medical and mental health evaluation and follow-up to Veterans residing in rural areas. The program is being piloted in Wayne with the hope to expand to other parts of the state. A partnership with the Nebraska National Guard has allowed the VA to use the Wayne Armory to establish the clinic for one day and revisits every three months.

Any Veteran who has questions about the program and the upcoming clinic or would like to set up an appointment can call 402-480-1801.

Minneapolis, Minn.

"We have gotten resistant to the heat. It was hotter (than in Nebraska) when we were in Idaho, but drier heat. We sleep in tents and sleeping bags wherever we are at. We go to sleep and wake up with the sun," Tyger said.

As far as modern conveniences, the two said they have no cell phone, do laundry in streams and deal with being dirty and smelly.

"We do sometimes stay in houses if we happen to find someone who happens to know someone we know," Tyger said.

There are no plans to stop traveling and so far, Tyger and J.C. have traveled 9,000 miles on the road and additional miles of leisure biking.

"We usually stay on highways, but not major highways. In Germany, we went without a map for a while and did go in a circle, but that's about it," J.C. said.

Both men agree that they generally get along and have had no major fights during their travels.

"We plan to keep traveling. I would like to someday go back to Greece and travel through Egypt to see the pyramids.

Garage sale signs, such as this one, are not to be placed on utility poles in the city of Wayne.

Utility poles not for advertisements

The Wayne Police Department received complaints of garage sale posters being placed on municipal utility poles. City ordinance specifically prohibits anyone from attaching any sign, poster or other advertisement on utility poles. Wayne Police Chief Lance Webster said this is especially true for the new light poles recently installed downtown. Webster said the duct tape often used to hang these fliers may damage the painted surface on the new pole. He suggests that downtown business owners notify the police department if they see illegal signs on the new light poles.

When finding the garage sale signs on utility poles, or traffic sign posts, officers will remove them and contact the person having the garage sale. Right now Webster said his officers will be issuing written warnings but citations could result if the problem persists.

Mount Marty to host open house in Norfolk

New and prospective students can meet with Mount Marty College representatives from 11 a.m. to 2 p.m. on Thursday, August 2 as part of an Admissions Open House.

Scholarships are also available for the 2007 school year.

Students who plan to attend the Open House should bring copies of their high school transcripts as well as a copy of their 2006 tax return forms so a financial aid estimate can be given.

Pheasants Forever supports Farm Bill

Pheasants Forever (PF), including the local chapters, strongly supports the Conservation Title in the Farm Bill passed by the U.S. House Ag Committee.

PF views the bill as a strong starting point favorable to America's farmers, ranchers, hunters and anglers.

The bill (H.R. 2419) extends and improves significant conservation programs including the Conservation Reserve Program (CRP), Wetlands Reserve Program (WRP), Grasslands Reserve Program (GRP) and it improves hunter access and wildlife habitat through the "Open Fields" provision.

"This bill provides a solid foundation for conservation," said Dave Nomsen, Pheasants Forever's Vice President of Government Affairs. "Many critical conservation priorities have been addressed, and the bill provides a strong revenue stream for America's farmers and ranchers, thus ensuring we can be successful implementing the many voluntary incentive-based conservation programs."

"The House Ag Committee has shown it considers the Farm Bill's Conservation Title to be extremely important not only to this country's wildlife and natural resources, but to all of America's farmers and ranchers that have enrolled in conservation programs and the sportsmen and women who've experienced the results each fall across America's pheasant fields," Nomsen said. "We thank House Ag Committee Chairman Collin Peterson (D-MN) and Ranking Minority Member Bob Goodlatte (R-VA) for their commitment to this crucial legislation."

Major conservation provisions in the bill include:

- The reauthorization of CRP at its current level of 39.2 million acres. Maintaining CRP - the most successful conservation program in U.S. history is crucial for the continued success of pheasant, quail and other wildlife populations.

- New provisions for "Open Fields" that would provide $20 million to help fund and augment state-managed, voluntary sportsmen's access initiatives, often called "walk-in" programs. Walk-in programs are great not just because they provide for improved public access to private lands, but also because in most cases they require those lands be managed to optimize their value to fish and wildlife

- It provides $1.6 billion to re-establish WRP, and the expansion of WRP to a new nationwide cap of 3.6 million acres. The U.S. Department of Agriculture's Secretary has the authority to enroll 250,000 acres per year.

- A new baseline for GRP - up to 1 million acres.

- A new Regional Watershed Enhancement Program (RWEP)

that allows Non-governmental organizations (NGOs) to administer conservation practices.

- New provisions disallowing crop insurance on newly converted native prairies "Sod Saver."

The House of Representatives is expected to vote on the Farm Bill before the end of July. Now is the time for America's conservationists to act.

The 2007 Farm Bill will address land management decisions on over 50 million acres and the bill going to the floor of the U.S. House of Representatives would ensure the creation and protection of wildlife habitat, soil resources, water quality, and our outdoor hunting heritage.

Pheasants Forever strongly encourages you to contact your U.S. Representatives (<http://www.pheasantsforever.org/page/LegislativeAction>) immediately and urge them to pass the Farm Bill (H.R. 2419). Help Pheasants Forever and future generations by being an active supporter of this country's wildlife and natural resources and relay your support of this bill.

Ribbons are not the important things

For many 4-H families, this is a very busy time of year as they enjoy the fair where they can display their projects. In going through my files last week, I ran across the following poem.

I thought there were many important points that this 4-H dad

You in years to come,
You've conquered the fear
Of addressing a crowd,
You've learned how to stand
Up tall; nice and loud."

"You've learned how to lose
Without making a beef
You know the judge judges
To his best belief.
You've learned how to win
Without boasting too loud,
A kid can lose friends
If he's overly proud."

"Patience you've learned
In you projects too,
As well as you skills
That will always help you.
You've learned the fine
Feeling it gives you to lend
A glad helping hand
To a stranger or friend."

"You've learned to cooperate
With majority rule,
To give in with grace
And not be a fool.
Who must always have
His very own way,
Be in club work
In school or at play."

"These are the things
Most important to you.
You'll remember and use them
All your life through.
They'll help you become
A mighty fine man,
They'll do more for you
Than a prize ever can."

Author Unknown

Please plan to join Wayne County 4-Hers at the Wayne County Fair to learn about the many important things in 4-H, beyond the ribbons. If you were at the fairgrounds on Monday during clean up night, you witnessed youth who may only see each other during the fair, working together to prepare the livestock barns and 4-H Building. You saw community members working with the youth, setting examples of teamwork and cooperation. You witnessed an older 4-Her being followed closely by a younger 4-Her (these kids are huge role models). Yes, ribbons and trophies are an exciting part of the fair and we appreciate the community support in providing these awards, but hopefully they are just one of the vehicles that give the youth their many learning experiences.

August Calendar

highlighted to his son. Often times, those involved in 4-H and the public perceive the fair as the "main event" in 4-H, actually there are numerous educational events throughout the year. These are the life skills that the 4-H program focuses on, the skills that are with you even after the fair comes and goes each year.

The Important Things Are Not Ribbons

There once was a boy
Who won ribbons, mostly blue
Came home from the fair
With a big trophy too.
With a voice glad and proud
He said to his dad,
'tis the very best year
That I've ever had."

Said his very wise Dad,
"Son, I'd like to hear,
Why you think that this was Such a very fine year."
"Why, dad, you well know
All the prizes I've won;
How I've come out on top
In most things I've done."

"Just look at the ribbons
That hang on my wall,
And think of the money
I've made since last fall.
From premium checks
And a big auction price
You can't help but think
Cash and ribbons are nice."

But the man said, "My son
You're not thinking right,
Blue ribbons, 'tis true
Are better than white;
But ribbons will fade
And trophies grow old,
Money's soon spent
And fame soon grows cold."

"The important things, son,
Are not ribbons or pins,
And sometimes it's really
The loser who wins;
Now here are the things
Most important, it's true
Your 4-H experience
Has accomplished for you."

"You've seen how a business Meeting is run.
This knowledge will help

Methodist youth attend gathering

After a year of fundraising and planning, eight youth from the Wayne and Carroll United Methodist churches, along with two adult leaders, journeyed to Greensboro, N.C. for "Youth '07." The "Youth" event is the largest United Methodist youth gathering in the country, with some teens coming from other countries and is held every four years. This year's theme was SPLAT (seek, pray, learn, act, and teach). The local group joined 6,000 other high school age youth in worship, song, and fun.

"The group spent Tuesday night, July 10 in a hotel by the Omaha airport in preparation for a very early 6 a.m. flight the following morning. Of course, most trips do have some minor problems. The group got up at 4 a.m. on Wednesday, July 11 and their adventure began with a delay and an over-booked flight," Terry Wert said.

They arrived in Greensboro only about a half hour late, quickly noticing the differences from Nebraska, like the red dirt, plethora of trees, and thick southern accents. Everyone gathered luggage and met the bus to take them to their hotel. The hotel was right next to a mall with a great food court, which everyone visited at least once while there.

"Then, it was off to the coliseum for Expo events. The Expo was a great experience with informational booths, food, and interactive games. The teens could experience a myriad of activities from water massage to basketball to rock climbing and bungee jumping, then turn around and learn about Christian colleges and mission trips. That evening opening worship was held and everyone was reminded that even though there may have been some problems for some groups getting there, that was in the past and to get ready to experience "Youth '07," Wert said. There were many speakers who entertained with fun, interactive dances, touching stories and lots of humor; all with a Christian message. In addition to speakers, there were Christian rock bands playing each morning and night. Fusebox was the house band playing at all of the worship services with Kutlass, The Katinas and Superchick also performing during the five-day event.

SPLAT shops were held each afternoon. SPLAT shops were small gatherings where youth could pick topics that interested them. Some of the SPLAT shops were discussions, some were Bible studies and others were more interactive. One thing the group noticed right away was the friendly atmosphere pervading every aspect of the gathering.

"How many of us get in an elevator, turn around, face the door and not say a word? But for this event, the big catch phrase was, "where are you from," whether in an elevator, on a bus or in the lobby. Everyone talked to everyone and it was great hearing where everyone was from," Wert said.

The Wayne group met people from Oregon, Washington, California, Virginia, Texas and all places in between - even Alaska. It was bittersweet to find out that the group from Wayne/Carroll was the only group from Nebraska to make the trip to Greensboro.

Each evening during worship, one of the ideas - seek, pray, learn, act and teach was a focus. A major focus was on action, encouraging youth to return to their local churches with new ideas and energy.

The group returned to Wayne late July 15 after a very energizing and faith-building experience. Planning will begin soon for Youth '11 which is expected to be held somewhere in the mid-west.

Wiseman reunion to be held

Descendants of the Henson and Phoebe Wiseman family will have a reunion on Sunday, July 29, at the St. James Marketplace in St. James, one mile north of Highway 12.

After sharing a potluck between family members, the offspring of this pioneer settler family would be willing to share their family history and discuss it with visitors to the Marketplace beginning at 2:30 p.m.

The Wiseman family is well-known throughout northeast Cedar County for having suffered an Indian massacre. On July 23, 1863, five Wiseman children, home alone, were killed by a band of Indians. Wiseman himself was off fighting Indians in the Civil War in South Dakota and his wife had traveled to Yankton to buy supplies for the family.

They presently operate the St. James Marketplace today. They rescued the Catholic elementary school building from its demise when they purchased it from the Omaha Archdiocese and created a marketplace and meeting center for area residents.

Join the St. James Five on the last Sunday in July as they welcome the Wiseman family to the Marketplace for a "Meet the Descendants" gathering. (Source: Linda Wuebben)

'Blackwood Legacy' to perform in Wakefield

The Tennessee-based "Blackwood Legacy" gospel group, featuring former Blackwood Brothers Quartet lead singer and Gospel Music Hall of Fame Inductee Rick Price, will perform on Saturday, July 28, 7 pm at the Evangelical Covenant Church in Wakefield. Admission is free and a love offering will be received.

During the Great Depression, the Blackwood Brothers were at the height of their fame singing gospel classics and spiritual standards. The vocal group amassed nine Grammy awards and 27 Dove awards over their decades-long career, and was inducted into both the Gospel Music and Grammy Hall of Fame.

As the original Blackwood Brothers retired, various singers came in to take their place including, in 1977, Rick Price. Eventually the original group was formally dissolved. After much soul-searching and hundreds of requests for the music of the original Blackwood Brothers Quartet, Price created the Blackwood Legacy, a tribute to the world renowned ministry he was involved with for so many years.

Blood Bank's 'Heroes Unite' campaign is in full swing

With the Heroes Unite, It's About Life campaign in full swing at the Siouxland Community Blood Bank, many towns are hosting community or employee blood drives and recruiting donors to ensure patients in their area will have blood products when needed.

include (in alphabetical order): Iowa: Le Mars, Onawa, Manning, Cherokee, Ida Grove, Orange City, Carroll and Hull. In Nebraska: Wayne and in South Dakota: Yankton.

Your next opportunity to donate in Laurel is on Friday, Aug. 10 from 10 a.m. to 4 p.m. at United Presbyterian Church.

The top three communities with the highest percentage of blood donors registering to donate in comparison to the combined size of their fire, police and rescue squads will win a sponsored donation towards community fire and rescue equipment. Cash awards for Heroes Unite, It's About Life are provided through corporate sponsorship from Cargill Inc., Prestige Collision Repair and McClintock Insurance.

The Heroes Unite, It's About Life campaign began May 1 and continues through Sept. 30. With about three months of the Heroes Unite, It's About Life campaign yet to go, many communities still have the opportunity to hold additional blood drives, and potentially affect their ranking a great deal. Community support and participation is integral to the success of this program, as blood donors are working hand in hand with fire, rescue and police units in town to save lives.

Your next opportunity to donate in Laurel is on Friday, Aug. 10 from 10 a.m. to 4 p.m. at United Presbyterian Church.

"We have witnessed area patients and their families that are experiencing tough times as they deal with illness or injury, and these struggles happen on a daily basis. We, as citizens, can guarantee blood is available when patients need it by supporting a blood drive and participating in Heroes Unite," said Terry Stecker, Director of Operations for Siouxland Paramedics.

To be eligible to donate blood individuals must be at least 17 years of age; however there is no upper age limit as long as the donor is in good health. In addition, donors need to weigh at least 110 pounds and have not donated whole blood in the past 56 days. A photo I.D. is required at the time of registration.

To date, the top 10 communities

Elkhorn Valley Racing participates in race

Nine riders turned out for the second race of the Norfolk Criterium Series, part of the Norfolk Race Series. The race was held July 18 at Northeast Community College. July weather had turned out in full force but the rain stayed away this time. The evening races included a crash and two flats but no casualties.

In the Beginner category - Men's class Norfolk's Dennis Smith extended his lead for the 2007 season points race with another first place over Mark Herzinger of Beemer.

Duane Blair of Norfolk jumped off the front in the Advanced - Men's category and held the lead throughout the race. Brother Scott Blair of Pierce held on for most of the race but drifted back as the race wore on. John Spray brought home third place. A mid-race crash took Richard Hake of Madison out of contention for the lead and flats eliminated both Todd Jochum and Dan Spray.

Jamie Bachmann of Norfolk was the lone entry in the Advanced - Women's category and successfully raced with the Advanced - Men's class.

The next race in the series is a time trial on Aug. 1 at Norfolk Beverage. For more information go to www.nencycling.org

RC&D Council tours Neligh businesses

The Northeast RC&D Council took their July meeting to Neligh so they could visit and learn more about two manufacturing businesses - Blackburn Mfg. Company and Smeal Fire Apparatus.

In 1957 Bud Blackburn opened their operation in Neligh with 2 flag machine operators, 2 wire cutters and sales of 3,326,800 flags. After 50 years of continued success as a marking flag manufacturer they're about to make their 4 billionth flag and have approximately 60 employees in two locations - Neligh and Paso Robles, California.

Smeal recently expanded their operation from Snyder to Neligh where 25 welders make steel and aluminum bodies for fire trucks as well as ladders. Each weld is thoroughly inspected by Underwriters Laboratory before anything leaves the plant.

Bud Knuth, President led the meeting at the Antelope County Supervisors room. The Council needs a new logo and will make the design a competition for the public to take part in. A $100 savings bond will be awarded the winner and entries are due by August 15.

Five new projects were approved. Supporting the adoption of Organic Farming will be the focus of this statewide effort since the practice is proving itself to be very beneficial to soil quality. Makin' Money

Camp 2008 will work with young people who have an interest in becoming entrepreneurs. The RC&D Council will assist in promoting the Missouri River Outdoor Expo coming up in Sept. 22 and 23 at Ponca State Park. A Biomass project will look at using woody materials to create energy. And adding additional opportunities for Windbreak Renovation will highlight the value of this conservation practice.

Look for the RC&D booth at each of the County Fairs! The next meeting is at 7:30 p.m. on Monday, Aug. 27 in Plainview at the RC&D office. All are welcome to attend.

Visit is 'walk back in time'

Editor's note: This is the 11th in a series of articles written by Dean Jacobs about his travel excursions through Ethiopia.

Emperor Fasiladas's castle, in background, stands as a testament to the great period in Ethiopian history.

Ethiopia today is one of the poorest countries in the world, but there was a time when it was one of the wealthiest. There was a time when the capital city of Gondar with its high stone walls and castles were as famous as New York or London today.

A visit to Gondar is a walk back in time filled with regal banquets and pageantry. So impressed with the castles, that I returned three times to soak up the gallant past.

First, of all, we almost never think of 16th century castles when our minds picture Africa. Walking through the majestic castles, some as high as 105 feet, leaves no room for doubt that this place is special.

I was lucky enough to be invited by a group of Swiss architect students to join their tour. They had an excellent guide. Being a fan of "Lord of the Rings," I asked the guide what was the meaning for the word Gondar.

He explained;

"According to legend, King Fasilidas was out hunting for a lion, he shot it, but couldn't find the lion, so he made camp and went to sleep. A local man found the lion, and the next day approached the king and asked him if he was looking for a lion and that he knew where it was. The king replied yes, and asked where he could find the lion, and the villager said, you are sleeping right next to the lion, which is the meaning of Gondar, sleeping next to the lion."

After the tour I took a mini bus to explore Fasilidas's bath, a sunken bathing pool. In the center of the large pool is a large two-story building that supposedly was the king's second residence. It was quiet and empty of water and people. I sat in the shade of a tree at the edge of the pool and soaked up a moment of being completely alone and imagined royalty splashing in clean clear cool waters.

Later in the day, I worked my way back to the Royal Enclosure and sat on the green grass to watch the colors change against the walls of the six castles that stand inside the complex. It was peaceful and royal. I sat there and wondered how a country so rich and royal could end up to where it is today. It was a reminder that just because a place is wealthy and powerful once, doesn't mean it will be always. It begs the question, "what lessons can be learned from here?"

As I leave the royal complex, a beggar comes up to me and says; "you, you, give me money" and so quickly the royal feelings fade away.

I walked to the bus station to buy my ticket for the next day. My destination is a town called Shire. And I begin to wonder if another author once passed through these parts.

Work to restore the special royal structures has been supported by Unesco since 1979, after it was declared a World Heritage site. Here workers repair a pathway in the enclosure.

Ron and Nancy (Sheppard) George, traveled from England to take part in Nancy's class reunion activities.

Classmate travels across the ocean to attend reunion

By Clara Osten
Of the Herald

When Nancy Sheppard graduated from Wayne High School in 1957 she left the area to seek her fortune.

She did not return to her alma mater until July of this year.

"After I graduated, I went to Denver to work to earn money for college. From there, I went to Moody Bible Institute in Chicago for two years and San Bernardino College in California, where I earned a degree in English," Nancy said.

During the past 50 years she has done much and endured much and has much to be thankful for.

"After college, I went to Europe with a group of students and ended up staying. During that time, I traveled in the Middle East working with youth. I met my husband, Ron George, and we were married in Iran in 1964," Nancy said.

Shortly after being married, she was involved in a serious car accident in Yugoslavia. She broke a number of bones and was paralyzed from the neck down.

"I was hospitalized in Belgrade for four months. After surgery, I began to get some movement back," she said.

She credits her recovery and the fact that she is where she is today to three factors - a terrific medical team, people who believed in her and "a tremendous amount of hard work."

After surgery, Nancy was flown back to England for physical therapy and rehabilitation.

"As I started to get movement back, I had to learn how to walk again and how to live. Through all of this, approximately a year later, our son was born. He truly is a miracle child because they told me I would never be able to walk and never have children," Nancy said.

The family then moved to India where Ron traveled throughout the country, helping hundreds of youth.

"We lived in Bombay and I saw so much disability and horrible living conditions. This made me want to live my life as normal as possible," Nancy said.

In 1983 the family returned to England for further studies and for the children's education.

Ron began working in the Soviet Union, which until 1991 involved working behind the Iron Curtain.

"We started a radio program with seminars in youth work. During this time we were sometimes in dangerous situations," Ron said.

The family spent a short period of time in the United States, but Nancy, whose father was in the construction business when the family lived in Wayne, was not able to visit here.

Several family members live in the U.S., including Nancy's sisters, who live in Colorado, and the George's son, who lives in San Francisco, Calif.

"Our son works for an organization called Fair Trade, which encourages fair prices for products throughout the world. It is a concept that is slowly gaining popularity in the United States. It is much more widely known in Europe," Ron said.

Both Nancy and Ron are very active in World in Need, an organization designed to empower local people to do their own work. They find training and resources that allow these people to become self sufficient.

"We find that our resources can go much farther if we teach these people how to support themselves rather than just give them a hand-out," Ron said.

Ron still travels a great deal and just recently returned to England after spending time in Afghanistan. Nancy runs the child-sponsored part of the program and works to "restore childhood to these children."

Nancy said that as she grows older, she has some paralysis on her left side but continues to live a normal life.

Nancy and her husband were in Wayne to take part of the Class of 1957 reunion and Chicken Show.

"It is such a treat to be here (in Wayne). Wayne has changed, but lots of things are the same," Nancy said.

Checking out options

Vendors with all sorts of wares, both chicken and non-chicken related were part of this year's Chicken Show at Bressler Park. Those attending were able to view and purchase t-shirts, jewelry and other souvenirs. This year's Chicken Show was held at Bressler Park due to construction activity at Wayne State College.

Progress continues on Habitat for Humanity home

Work continues on the Wayne Area Habitat for Humanity second house build. Volunteers worked July 14, during the Wayne Chicken Show and on July 21, to install windows and doors, pour concrete for the porch and garage, and to lay shingles.

During the next several weeks, contractors will install the plumbing and electrical wiring. Once completed, sheetrock will be hung. During this time, siding will also be added to the exterior. For more information on volunteer opportunities, contact John Witkowski (375-4509) or Kyle Rose (375-2340).

Habitat for Humanity is a non-profit, ecumenical Christian housing ministry seeking to eliminate poverty housing and homelessness from the world. Habitat for Humanity international has built more than 225,000 houses around the world, providing more than 1 million people with decent, affordable shelter.

Through volunteer labor and donations of money and materials, Habitat builds and rehabilitates simple, decent houses with the help of the future homeowner family. The future homeowner puts in hundreds of hours of work—sweat equity—helping to build their own home. Habitat houses are sold to the homeowner at no profit and financed with affordable loans. The homeowners' monthly mortgage payments are used to build future Habitat homes.

WEOPA takes tour of Preston's farm and their Alandru Belgians

Members of Wayne Educational Office Professionals Association (WEOPA) traveled to Rosalie on June 12, for their Ladies Night Out. They toured the farm of Ruth and Al Preston, owners of Alandru Belgians, who raise and show Belgian draft horses.

The Prestons have been involved with draft horses for about 25 years. They show in a variety of classes including two, four, and six horse hitches, western pleasure, and ladies cart. They have shown their horses at the Missouri and Iowa State Fairs and the Nebraska State Fair in Lincoln and have participated in many local parades. Ruth usually participates in ladies driving, especially costumed competition.

Al periodically assists Amish farmers with training techniques and often hosts other guests who drive well-known draft horse teams. A recent visitor was the driver of the Budweiser six-horse hitch. Ruth and Al also attend a large draft horse sale each year in Iowa.

WEOPA members learned about the horse shoes used on the Belgians, the show harness worn in parades and competitions, and were able to pet and see the mares and new colts. This included one new colt who was being bottle fed after its mother began experiencing a problem with one of her teeth which resulted in weight loss for the mare. The colt was being weaned and was receiving supplemental feeding. Although most of the colts were only 2-3 months old, many were already the size of a pony or small horse. Each member was also given an opportunity to sit on one of the mares. Al explained how the horses are transported to events, the amount of time it takes to get the horses ready and harness a six horse hitch (anywhere from 4-6 hours), and the camaraderie between owners. It is not unusual for a truck to pull up at a fair and many other draft horse owners will assist in unloading the horses and taking them to their stalls. If they are not participating in a particular event, they will also help each other during the shows.

The WEOPA members rode in a specially built wagon made for training the horses and for transporting people around the farm. Everyone had an opportunity to drive the team with assistance from Al. Assisting was Michael Hawk, a student at Bancroft-Rosalie High School, who periodically helps the Prestons with the Belgians. On the evening of the visit, he demonstrated unhitching the team and how they would be cooled down in the barn. If not cooled down properly after working, a horse may roll in the dirt while still sweaty which could cause respiratory problems.

WEOPA is a professional association at Wayne State College organized in 1977 with state (NEOPA) and national (NAEOP) affiliations. WEOPA provides professional development opportunities for WSC Office Professionals, funds two student scholarships, and is a contributing patron of the WEOPA Plaza, just west of Neihardt Hall. The members periodically host the state conference, provide Christmas gifts for Haven House families each year and provide cookies for students at the beginning of each semester. Members are encouraged to complete the Professional Standards Program (PSP) certification and achieve CEOE, Certified Educational Office Employee.

The 2006-2007 monthly meeting topics included professional development, information on the LaPorte Cemetery, Steve Rasmussen's Australia trip, a tour of the Wayne Plant Market and an antique question and answer session at Antiques on Main. Members also host their supervisors at the annual Bosses Luncheon. This year's speaker was Bob Henrickson from the Nebraska Statewide Arboretum.

Ladies Night out is the annual summer outing for WEOPA members. Previous trips have included visits to a bed and breakfast in West Point, the new visitor's center in Ponca, a riverboat ride on the Missouri River near Yankton and a garden tour at Clarkson. Each ladies night out also includes lunch at a fun location. This year it was at the Country Pub in Bancroft.

Many WEOPA members have served as officers, committee members or committee chairs in NEOPA, the state association. Nebraska is one of the central area states hosting the national conference to be held in Denver in 2008.

Educational office personnel in the public and private school systems, college system, educational service units and other educational organizations in the Wayne area are welcome to join WEOPA. For more information, you can contact President Carol Stephens at 375-7510 or President-Elect Deb Daehnke at 375-7030.

During their tour, WEOPA members rode in a specially built wagon made for training the horses and for transporting people around the farm.

Ann Witkowski of Wayne gave a presentation to the Wayne Rotary Club about her recent trip to India, where she was part of a group who helped the Dalit or "untouchables" of India. Above, Witkowski is wearing a salwar and kameez, which is traditional wear in India and was one of the requirements of the group to help gain acceptance from the people in India.

Witkowski tells of plight of the Dalits in India and about upcoming documentary

Ann Witkowski, a member of the Wayne Rotary Club, recently spoke to the club about her March trip to India. Witkowski, a local nurse, traveled with eight others from Norfolk and surrounding towns to India to care for the Dalits or the "untouchables" of India. The trip was made possible through the Dalit Freedom Network in the U.S. and Operation Mobilization of India. The trip touched her deeply as she became aware of the plight of the Dalits of India. Her article will be featured in next week's issue of the Wayne Herald.

To learn more about the Dalits, the DFN is presenting a documentary, "India's Hidden Slavery: Caste, Apartheid and Exploitation in the World's Largest Democracy." The documentary will be held on Tuesday, July 31 from 7-9 p.m. at the Lifelong Learning Center at 601 E. Benjamin Avenue in Norfolk.

Witkowski adds that she has been speaking in the area about her trip to India and would be willing to talk to any group; she can be reached at 402-375-4509.

In 1955, using the concept of selling everything for $1, the business was very successful and stock was offered to the public in 1968, when the name was changed to Dollar General. The consumer-driven distributor of consumable basics still has 30 percent of merchandise priced at $1 or less. the Dollar General Literacy Foundation. The commitment to literacy started with J.L. Turner, co-founder of Dollar General, who overcame great odds having only a third grade education. Eligible organizations within the Dollar General market area must be committed to improving the functional literacy of adults or families and must provide direct literacy services to low-level literacy adults and their families within their community. More than $3.5 million in grants to 335 non-profit organizations that submitted proposals in 2007 have been awarded.

More information on the Dollar General Literacy Foundation and grants can be found at www.dollargeneral.com. Anyone with questions about Dollar General or the literacy program the company offers can stop in at the Wayne location or call Kim Kai at the store at 402-375-5025.

District champions head west

Wayne Juniors capture Class B Area 3 title over Blair to earn trip to state tournament in Sidney

The dream is alive. For the second straight season, the Wayne Juniors Legion baseball team claimed a district championship and punched their ticket to the state tournament.

The road to the Class B Area 3 district title was a challenging one that involved defeating district host Blair twice in one week. Blair forced second championship game after turning back Wayne the night before the Junior's district clinching win.

Thanks to a spectacular catch and a tough defense in last Thursday's deciding game, Wayne (24-10) now will make a long trek to the state tournament in Sidney at face Greta in the opening game slated for 1 p.m. (CDT) on Friday, July 27.

In district contests last week at Blair, Wayne dropped an 11-8 decision to Blair on a hot and humid night on July 17. The Blair win forced a second championship game for July 18 in a contest the saw Wayne hold off the host team in a 4-3 victory.

Wayne's emotional win in the second finals contest was highlighted when left fielder Drew Workman delivered a heroic catch that ended the game.

Wayne pitcher Tyler Schaefer, who pitched a complete game in the finals, faced two outs and Blair runners on second and third.

Blair's Jarrett Grabbe ripped a shot to deep left field where Workman found the ball in a dimly lit Blair outfield and made a falling down catch to end the game.

Defense was the order of the night for Wayne, who came up with four other big catches during the game to deny Blair a chance to win the game.

Ryan Pieper also was credited with a big play in the sixth after he made a huge through from center field to Wayne catcher Zac Braun to prevent Blair from knotting the score at 4-4.

After trailing 1-0 early, Wayne was able to jump to a 3-1 lead in the second as the offense took advantage of a sacrifice fly by Tory Booth, a RBI double from Workman, a base hit from Pieper and two Wayne batters who were hit by pitches. Wayne added its fourth run in the fourth inning.

Offensively, Wayne was paced by Braun, who tallied two hits for a triple and a single. Workman contributed a double and an RBI, while Pieper had an RBI. Michael Denklau crossed home plate twice and Jacob Zeiss also added a run for Wayne.

Blair 11, Wayne 8

It was a game where Wayne answered many times with a rally.

Unfortunately, the final time Wayne needed the runs that comeback effort fell short.

Blair forced a second championship game by handing Wayne an 11-8 loss on July 18.

Blair took leads of 3-0 and 5-3 in the second and third frames but saw Wayne rally both times. The host team outscored Wayne 6-3 over the next four innings to clinch the win.

Derek Poutre aided the Wayne offensive effort with a triple, double and single, plus four RBIs and two runs of his own.

Other offensive highlights included Zeiss and Denklau with one double each and two singles by Jacob Triggs.

Pieper closed out the game's final six innings for Denklau, who started for Wayne on the mound.

Wayne Juniors team members celebrate their Area 3 district championship over Blair last Thursday night at Blair.

Zac Braun eyes the ball before taking a swing in the Area 3 district final game against Blair at Blair last week. Braun played strong offense in the championship game and was solid in the districts as the catcher for the Wayne Juniors.

Wayne 12-under team to travel to national softball tournament

Normally a team has to qualify to the national softball tournament by winning a state title.

This season, a team that took fourth in the recent 12-under state tournament, plus a supporting cast of several select players, will represent Wayne and Nebraska at the national ASA Tournament in Salina, Kansas.

The Wayne 12-under team, who were coached this past season by Rob Sweetland and Rachel Robbins, will travel to the national tournament on July 31-Aug. 5 and compete against the nation's best in their division.

Both coaches were unable to coach at the tourney due to other commitments, so Todd Levell of Seward and Angela Miller of Wayne agreed to coach the team at nationals.

Levell, who coaches at Lincoln North Star and coached the 2007 Class B 12-under championship team at Seward, has coached six other teams at nationals.

This season, Seward was unable to field a national team, so he asked Wayne if they would be interested in forming a team.

Also included on the team include: Katelyn and Shelby Wobken from Scribner and Whitney Level of Seward.

Wayne Seniors battle in Area 3

After opening with two wins in the Class B Area 3 District Senior Legion baseball tournament played at Wayne's Hank Overin Field, the Wayne Seniors were set to battle through the loser's bracket against Bennington in order to clinch a spot in Thursday's (tonight) championship game against Omaha Roncalli. Recaps from Wayne's district games include:

Wayne 4, Platte Center 3

Wayne held on for a win in the opening game of the tournament as they held off Platte Center 4-3 to advance to the second round of the winners bracket.

Jesse Hill scored the winning run after reaching home plate in the bottom of the seventh inning, thanks to an RBI single by Shaun Kardell.

Wayne was cruising until the sixth inning when Platte Center scored three runs on two hits and took advantage of two Wayne errors to tie the game at 3-3.

Shawn Jenkins threw a strong game to open for Wayne and Hill earned the save on the mound when he threw three consecutive three straight strikeouts in the top of the seventh.

The Wayne offensive effort was led by Kardell, who tallied a single and a double. Hill finished with two singles and a pair of runs.

Wayne 4, Blair 0

Wayne handed Blair a 4-0 defeat in the second round of the winner's bracket game, thanks to timely hits and a tough defensive stand.

Hill picked up right where he left off in the opening game as he pitched a complete game and struck out eight batters and only allowed two hits and no walks.

Wayne got on the scoreboard at Hank Overin Field in the top of the fourth inning after straight singles from Nathan Summerfield, Matt Sharer, Hill and Kardell.

Wayne added two more runs in the top of the fourth and poured on the defensive pressure for the rest of the game to preserve the shared pitching duties in the the loss with Jenkins.

Summerfield was able to reach first off a leadoff walk in the opening inning and Sam Kurpgewit was able advance to first off a walk in the third for Wayne's sole offensive bright spots early in the game.

Hill and Kurpgewit made it to second base in the fourth and fifth frames, respectively, after each was hit by a pitch.

The loss dropped Wayne to the loser's bracket on Wednesday (last night) to meet Bennington, who eliminated Blair in Tuesday night's elimination game.

Omaha Roncalli will await the winner of that game and will face that team in the championship game on Thursday (tonight) at 7 p.m.

If either team would defeat Roncalli tonight, both teams would square off in a second finals game in Wayne at 7 p.m. on Friday, July 27.

New assistant coach named

Wayne State College head softball coach Krista Unger has announced the hiring of Stephanie Kuhl of Logan, Iowa, as assistant softball coach.

Kuhl will serve as hitting coach at WSC. "Stephanie is a great addition to our Wildcat program," Unger said. "She is very knowledgeable about the game and knows what it takes to succeed at the next level. I am very excited to have her as my assistant coach and expect great things from her."

Kuhl replaces Monica Gordy, who left Wayne State College last month to take an assistant coaching position at Upper Iowa University.

Blue team wins RBL tournament

The Wayne Blue Little League baseball team capped a successful season by being crowned as the Ralph Bishop League Champions. The team (29-3) posted three wins last weekend at the league championship in Wakefield.

The team downed Wakefield 8-6, Pierce 5-4 and then beat Pierce again 8-6 in the championship game.

In the first game Brady Soden got the win in relief of Jordan Backer, while Tyler Robinson led the offense with two triples and a pair of runs.

A two RBI single in the third inning by Bradley Long sparked the team in the second game, while Robinson earned the win, with Soden wrapping things up in the final frame to pick up the save.

Wayne downed Pierce in the rematch in the championship as Drew Carroll threw seven strikeouts for the win and Soden worked the final 1/3 inning for the save.

For the offense, Soden had a triple, a double, and two runs, while while Eric Schoh had two runs and two hits.

The team, coached this season by Wade Jarvi also posted a pair of recent doubleheader sweeps.

Wayne downed Wakefield 18-9, 14-2 on July 17 at Wakefield, and defeated Norfolk 16-0, 12-0 in a road sweep on July 21.

Area baseball teams compete in district tournaments

The Wakefield Seniors Legion team remain undefeated in district tournament play at the Class C Area 3 tournament, while two other teams competing in the same tourney were eliminated this week.

Laurel-Coleridge and Winside both ended their respective seasons after losses in the Area 3 Tournament in West Point earlier this week.

Laurel-Coleridge opened with a 6-5 win against Newcastle-Ponca on July 20. L-C scored the winning run in bottom of the seventh when Travis Nelson was hit by pitch with bases loads to score Drew Diederik's winning run. Heath Erwin.

The wins set up a second round meeting with Wakefield that ended with an 11-1 win by the top-seeded defending Class C state champions. Joel Nixon earned the win on the mound for Wakefield, and contributed three hits for the offense. Ben Henderson also had a strong game with a triple and two RBIs, while Tanner Soderberg and Ryan Klein each finished with two base hits. Jamie Huss took the pitching loss for L-C.

The win advanced Wakefield to the third round game on July 24 in which Jacob Blessing smacked a RBI double in the top of the seventh inning to allow Wakefield to pull away from Dodge-Scribner-Howells en route to an 8-4 win. Wakefield (34-8) was scheduled to face the winner of Tuesday's second game that pitted West Point against Wisner-Pilger-Beemer.

Laurel-Concord was eliminated from the tournament on July 23 after a 10-2 loss to Tekamah-Herman. L-C had the bases loaded at the bottom of the second, but Tekamah-Herman pitcher Seth Olson struck out the next two batters to silence L-C. Erwin tallied singles for L-C, while teammates Pat Harrington and Travis Nelson each finished with doubles. Chris Blohm took the loss on the mound for L-C.

Winside went 0-2 in tourney play to face an early exit on July 22. The team dropped a 10-0 decision to Elkhorn Mount Michael on July 20 and slipped to Tekamah-Herman 10-1 on July 22. Kalin Koch took the pitching loss in the first game, while Sam Barg was the losing pitcher against Tekamah. Second game highlights for Winside included three hits and one run batted in by Tucker Bowers.

The tournament, with the winner advancing to the state tourney in Geneva, continues through Saturday, July 28.

ASK THE TRAINER

This week I am going to discuss childhood obesity. Childhood obesity is a rapidly growing problem for industrialized nations and ours is no exception. The Centers for Disease Control and Prevention found that one-third of American children are overweight or at risk of becoming overweight. This is a serious issue because children can begin to have medical problems at an early age due to being obese. Some of these problems include: Type II diabetes, Metabolic syndrome, High blood pressure, Respiratory Problems, Sleep Disorders, Liver disease, Early puberty, Eating disorders, Skin infections.

There is an answer to childhood obesity though and it comes in the form of a family commitment to being healthy. Parents or guardians must take responsibility and start making better choices at the grocery store. Parents must also limit screen time whether it is television or computer and increase family activity levels. This is a commitment to the future because we are at a time when the life expectancy for kids could be lower than their parents.

If you have more questions give me a call at the Providence Wellness Center. Always check with your doctor before beginning any exercise program.

The above listed medical problems do not include the emotional fallout associated with growing up obese. Children can suffer from the emotional problems tied to obesity such as depression and low self-esteem well into adulthood.

Make 2007 the year you take the time to improve your overall health!

Bicycle racing update given

July is a busy month for bicycle racing in Nebraska. With several races already run and more to come, it's hard to keep up with the action. Here are some updates to keep readers in the know.

Mountain Bike Update: http://www.nencycling.org/files/118504438776\_tim\_manawa.jpg Elkhorn Valley Cycling powered by Monster team member Tim Powell of Wayne raced in the Manawa MTB Mayhem, http://www.nebraskacyclingnews.com/content/blogcategory/169/191/Psycowpath\_race\_at\_Lake\_Manawa\_on\_July\_7. Powell reported that the conditions were hot and humid, a condition made even worse by the course's location deep in the trees next to the Missouri River just outside of Council Bluffs, Iowa. After a poor start, Powell battled to make up for time lost getting stuck behind an early race pile-up and was never able to close the gap on the leaders.

In the final results, http://www.nebraskacyclingnews.com/images/stories/news/2007/psycowpath/manawa\_results.pdf, Powell ended up with seventh place in the Sport Masters 45+ category. That place solidifies his hold on 2nd place in the same category in the 2007 Psycowpath standings: http://www.nebraskacyclingnews.com/images/stories/news/2007/psycowpath/psycowpath\_standings.pdf. He currently sets at the midpoint of an 80 point spread between first and third in the series.

Road Racing Update: http://www.nencycling.org/files/john\_joe\_Papio\_crit.jpg A short squad of five EVCpM riders competed in the inaugural Papio Twilight Crit in Papillon: <http://www.nebraskacyclingnews.com/content/view/full/741135/>, NE July 14, all in Cat 4. The Cat 4 field, much like Powell's Sport Master 45+ field the week before, was quite large, possibly the largest this year with 30 starters. As seemed to be typical of the evening's races, leaders jumped out early in the race splintering the field from the beginning. The course was extremely short and fast which compounded confusion caused by the large field sizes and interesting race tactics of the night.

After an early race prime lap, won by Dan Spray of Norfolk, several riders in the middle chase group were inexplicably pulled from the race, including some EVCpM riders. Final results: <http://www.nebraskacyclingnews.com/content/view/full/742135/> were protested as was the procedure of the race, with final results not being posted for several days. John Spray of Norfolk ended up taking fifth place, Joe Savoie of Omaha, 11th and Duane Blair of Norfolk, 15th. Dan Spray and Scott Blair of Pierce, both previously pulled from the race, were awarded 20th and 21st places.

No substantial reason was offered for why riders from mid-pack were pulled and others left in and one wonders what the eventual outcome of the race would have been if it was allowed to be run without intervention.

With the season past the halfway point, Elkhorn Valley Cycling powered by Monster continues to excel due to the talent, hard work, and dedication of its members. With the Cornhusker State Games underway and the Dave Babcock Memorial Stage Race next week, the racing excitement continues.

New form of meth

Dear Editor,
Parents and students should be aware of a new form of Meth that is targeted at children.
They are calling this new form of meth "Strawberry Quick" and it looks like the "Pop Rocks" candy that sizzles in your mouth. It is a dark pink color and has a strawberry scent to it. Do not accept any candy from strangers. You can be certain that drug pushers will do all in their power to entice innocent children to become users.

Sincerely,
Adeline Prescott, Dixon

- Other revenues from charges and fees — $251,761
- Total Projected City Government Revenues — $2,326,814.

  - Transfer Station — $175,000;

Lives of elected official subject to scrutiny

By Ed Howard
Statehouse Correspondent
The Nebraska Press Association

It comes with the territory. Every elected public official knows that when they have trouble with the law, they can expect to read about it in a newspaper. Maybe a lot of newspapers.

Senator Danielle Nantkes of Lincoln was reported to believe the press had fallen into "sensationalism" with the publication of stories concerning her recent problems with the Nebraska Accountability and Disclosure Commission.

Nantkes gave the commission a check this month to cover a fine having to do with the late filing of a report.

A bank refused to honor the check. It was not a matter of insufficient funds. It turned out, the bank said, that Nantkes had failed to sign a required document so that the check could be honored.

Nantkes had a different version of what happened - but no matter. She quickly came up with a cashier's check to cover the amount, something over $785.

The view from here: It is easy to understand why the senator is sensitive about the whole thing, especially the headlines. Who needs that kind of publicity? Nonetheless, Nantkes was entirely wrong if she thought the reportorial crowd - in the words of an old song - "was doin' her wrong."

First, when there are irregularities of any kind involving the financing of campaigns, or reports related to them, the public record on those cases is appropriately subject to scrutiny. The public likes it that way, the law allows for it, and the press should do its job in monitoring such things.

Second, this was the second time Nantkes was fined for failing to timely file campaign finance reports. Any such violation is worthy of a news story. Two of them in one year demands a story.

Third, Nantkes might be understandably sensitive when it comes to reporting on her difficulties with the constabulary. She was busted for DUI earlier this year. She paid the required fine and was otherwise penalized. The case is common knowledge - because "it was in all the papers."

There you have it.

Supporters of Nantkes say the young lawmaker simply goofed in doing the complex paperwork that comes with filling out those reports on campaign financing. As for the DUI, a few other members of the Legislature have been involved in the same indiscretion over the years. People make mistakes - but when they are elected by other people, their mistakes are sometimes public property.

The higher up the political ladder, the more likely a politician is to holler "Foul!" when they screw up and find their names attached to embarrassing headlines.

The politicians can argue that they were victimized; by the system, their political enemies, the press, or all three.

What doesn't serve them well is to complain that stories about their circumstances are unfair, simply because those circumstances are inconvenient and embarrassing.

When you choose to live in the public arena, that is where your personal laundry gets hung out to dry.

It comes with the territory.

Wayne native part of award-winning publications

Jeff Griesch, Director of Media Relations for the University of Nebraska Media Relations Office, and a graduate of Wayne High School, was part of a group that earned a number of awards from the College Sports Information Directors of America (CoSIDA).

The UNL Media Relations Office earned 18 publication awards for the 2006-07 season. The awards were officially announced during CoSIDA's national convention in San Diego earlier this month.

Nebraska's 18 CoSIDA awards led the nation, as the NU Media Relations Office has finished among the top five schools nationally in the overall publications contest for seven consecutive years.

Among Nebraska's list of award-winning publications, five Husker media and recruiting guides were ranked "Best in the Nation" for their respective sports, while seven other publications ranked among the top five nationally in their contests.

"We enjoyed another outstanding year by leading the nation in the number of award-winning guides that we produced as a team in the Nebraska Media Relations Office," Griesch said. "Our success in winning publication awards over the past seven years is just another example of the entire athletic department's commitment to all of its programs. We have talented students, interns and full-time employees who come together and work as a team to produce all of our guides."

Award winning publications produced, at least in part by Griesch include the Corsi Country Media Guide, fourth in the nation, under the direction of Griesch, Brandon Gries and Dustin Tomes and the Women's Golf Media Guide, fifth in the nation/ best in the district, under the direction of Griesch and Megan McLaughlin.

Happy chickens

Regan Ruhl, left, and Sheldon Onderstal were all smiles after winning the Chicken Run this year. The runners used the Wayne Recreation Trail for the 5K Run. Below, a large crowd was on hand for the Henoween activities on Friday. All were able to enjoy the newly renovated Main Street area for the festivities.

Amy and her husband, Corby, left, and her family recently purchased the business from the Fuelberths, who have been involved in the real estate business for more than 40 years.

Embrace life with a Red Hat event at Ak-Sar-Ben's River City Roundup

Gather your Red Hat sisters, put on your signature red hat and join Ak-Sar-Ben's River City Roundup (ARCR) in a celebration designed just for you on Thursday, Sept. 27 at the Qwest Center Omaha.

In its third year, the event will begin at 10 a.m. with a demonstration on proper massage techniques by licensed massage therapists and owners of Just Relax Massage Therapy, Laurie and Richard Kuiken. Guest speaker Lyubov Logvinenko, president of The Appeal of Style, will speak with the Red Hat ladies on fashion and personal style. Coldwater Creek will follow with a fashion show using Red Hat ladies as models. Immediately following, the Nebraska Beef Council is providing lunch and a cooking demonstration to conclude the ARCR-Red Hat event.

The Red Hat Society was started by Sue Ellen Cooper of Fullerton, CA. She and some friends read the popular poem, "Warning," by Jenny Joseph that begins "When I am an old woman..." The poem briefly mentioned wearing a red hat and purple attire. The Red Hatters have since created a nurturing network of women over 50 (and under) to gain higher visibility for women in their age group and to reshape the way they are viewed by today's culture.

Contact Jessica DeLay at (402) 554-9600, ext. 107 or email info@aksarben.org for reservations. Visit www.rivercity-roundup.org to find more ARCR event information.
