Talking to the spirits

Sandy Bartling, left, visits with Mable and Walter Savidge, seated and Fr. Kearnes at Greenwood Cemetery in Wayne. At right, several spirits make plans to take part in a tea party with Amelia Hughes. These spirits and others will be part of a Spirit Walk fundraiser for Greenwood Cemetery on Sunday, Sept. 9. The event begins at 3 p.m. in the northwest corner of the cemetery and will include stops at the graves of a number of early residents of Wayne and the surrounding community.

Budget approved for next fiscal year

By Clara Osten
Of the Herald

A number of budget items received approval during Tuesday's meeting of the Wayne City Council.

A public hearing was held prior to the passage of the ordinance which approves the annual appropriation bill.

City Treasurer Nancy Braden presented a powerpoint, outlining where tax money goes and comparing tax asking for the upcoming fiscal year with the asking during the last two years. She noted that the tax levy has remained basically unchanged during that time. She also listed the amount of tax homeowners would pay, based on the value of their home.

Following the passage of the appropriation bill, the council voted to approve the allowable one percent increase in base limitation of restricted funds. The action is done annually at the time the budget is set and can be used if needed.

Prior to the beginning of the regular agenda items, the council recognized two city employees for their recent work.

Jeff Brady and Doug Echtenkamp were recognized and thanked for their work "above and beyond the call of duty" during recent heavy rains in the city of Wayne. The two monitored the city's overloaded lift station and took measures to prevent flooding in the city.

Permission was given to close 10th Street on Saturday, Sept. 8 for a Cross Rock Fest. The request was granted with the stipulation that organizers obtain liability insurance to prevent the city from being liable in the event of an accident. The street will be closed from 3 p.m. to 11 p.m.

Several resolutions received approval at Tuesday's meeting.

They include Resolution 2007-76, which indicates the council's support of the city's participation in Nebraska's Economic Development Certified Community Program. It was noted that the county has also voted to approve participation in the program.

Resolution 2007-77 approved Eisenbraun & Associates as the Engineering consultant for the 10th Street Improvement Project. The state of Nebraska requires the use of an engineer when STP funds are being used.

Resolution 2007-78 approved an extension of six months on the Down Payment Assistance Contract with the Department of Economic Development. In 2005 the city received a $150,000 Nebraska Affordable Housing Trust Fund Grant. Funds are to be loaned out to make down payment loans to qualified households for the purchase of a residence. There are currently funds available and additional time is being requested to make the money available to prospective homeowners.

Resolution 2007-80 approves continuing support for Community Development funding for Wayne Area Economic Development, Inc. (WAEDI). Council member Kaki Ley said she would like to see a list of goals set by the organization and how they are being met.

Ordinance 2007-10 was discussed and the three readings waived. It amends a portion of the city code regarding occupation tax and franchise fees.

In the past, the city levied an annual in-lieu-of-tax fee on the water and sewer utility and electric utility gross revenues. This will now be a seven percent tax on water and sewer utilities and an 8.5 percent tax on the electric utility revenue.

Passage of the ordinance will re-classify the money and give city Treasurer Nancy Braden more flexibility with budget management. The tax collected will continue to be deposited into the city's general fund.

Considerable discussion was held on the city's financial commitment to the Summer Sports Complex.

To date the city has authorized a $60,000 water main extension to the softball field complex and has budgeted $60,000 to install lighting for another field at the complex.

Council member Don Buryanek said that throughout the years, the perception of who the complex belongs to has changed and asked "who does it belong to and who is responsible? It doesn't look good for the city and we need to be looking at ways to improve it."

Sherry earns 50 year recognition

By Clara Osten
Of the Herald

Nov. 5, 1957, is a day that stands out vividly in Alice (Susie) Sherry's memory.

It was that day that doctors determined she had diabetes and she began what has been a half-century of treatment to control the disease.

Ell Lilly and Company, the company that produces commercially marketable insulin, recently acknowledged that fact by presenting her with a "LillyforLife™ 50-Year Insulin Award" and medal.

Lilly established the award in 1974 to recognize people with diabetes who have been on insulin for at least 50 years. An estimated 1,500 people have received the award since the beginning of the program.

In a letter accompanying the award, company officials said, "While insulin is important for diabetes care, managing the disease is solely the responsibility of the individual. In addition to dealing with the regular demands of daily life, eating healthy foods, checking blood glucose levels, exercising regularly and adapting to new technologies for more than 50 years is a remarkable accomplishment."

Sherry said that she was pre-diabetic as a teenager, but was officially diagnosed by Dr. Benthack after being dehydrated.

"I have always had shots. At first Bob (her husband) gave them to me and later I started giving them to myself. Now I get four shots each day," Susie said.

The Sherrys have four children, three of whom were born after Susie's diabetes diagnosis. None of the children have been diagnosed with the disease. She does have a sister who is also a diabetic and has been so for approximately 25 years.

Susie is now seeing a diabetes specialist and noted that there have been a number of positive changes in diabetes treatment.

"The medical professionals have come a long way since I was diagnosed. We have glucose monitors and glucose tablets and insulin pumps," Susie said.

Bob said that his wife has had a number of incidents resulting from her blood sugar being too high or too low, and Susie said she has been hospitalized several times to regulate her blood sugar.

"I have had some issues with my eyes, but I'm fortunate that my kidneys are working well and I have no major foot problems," she said.

She said that through the years she has learned that regular exercise helps control her glucose levels and tries to remain active.

"Bob has been a lot of help through the last 50 years. He has always been there for me. I really could write a book about all of my experiences, but I am very lucky," she said.

Commissioners approve base restricted funds by additional one percent and final tax request

By Lynn Stevers
Of the Herald

Wayne County Board of Commissioners met in regular session on Tuesday. A budget hearing and a tax request hearing were held. No one from the public was in attendance.

Commissioners discussed a number of points during the budget hearing. They had previously reviewed each department's budget. The Road/Bridge Fund, Special Police Protection Fund and Noxious Weed Control Fund are balanced by transfers from General Fund because tax dollars are not levied directly by these funds.

Commissioners also kept in mind that several major road/ bridge projects are under construction or are scheduled, including federal-aid projects and soft-match projects. A full-time Emergency Manager position and operating budget was included, as well as the cost of obtaining and supplying the Emergency Operations Center.

Also in this budget, a $22,000 payment for GIS mapping was included (a $15,000 payment for GIS mapping was made in June; the county will transition from cadastral maps to GIS over a three-year period); $52,000 in tax dollars was applied to the courthouse, tuck pointing and roof bond payment. To balance the budget, a $200,000 transfer was made from Inheritance Tax

Political conversations dangerous in Ethiopia

Our conversation stops as silent eyes glance to the knock that came from the door, a student appears to ask a question and leaves.

Talking about politics is a dangerous undertaking in Ethiopia. Those who are willing to speak about such things, only do so under the agreement of remaining anonymous. Stories of people being harassed by the Federal Police are common. It generally starts with a warning phone call about a comment or activity that they call into question.

A newspaper publisher tells me about an opinion column he runs in his business newspaper. He heard once on a BBC TV interview with the current Ethiopia President that he doesn't plan to run again, and he shared that statement in his newspaper. He was called about it, and warned to write only about business, not politics, even though that decision would affect business.

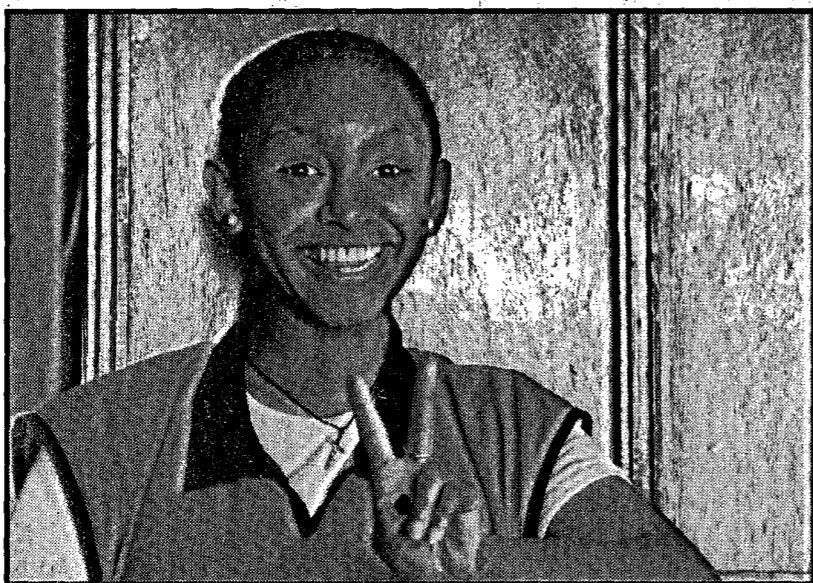

After the student leaves, my office companion, whom I will call David says: "did you see the marks on his eyebrows, that means he comes from the Tigray region where the President is from?" This communicates a potential loyalty to the current government.

Elections in 2005 were marked with irregularities, according to international officials observing the process. The irregularities are thought to be changed ballots, or switched ballot boxes.

After the election, the word got out that the sitting government rigged the election. "It was so obvious that everyone knew," so students began to demonstrate peacefully, said David.

Another knock on the door, and our conversation once again stops. This time it is a student David wants me to meet, "she's very clever and understands what is happening."

This student, whom I will call Tigist, shares some of her thoughts about the current situation. "The people are frustrated, and because it is not safe to express one's opinion, they continue to swallow those frustrations. But one day, people will not be able to swallow any more, and we will explode like a volcano," says Tigist.

Once she knew no one was watching, a young waitress flashes the opposition party symbol during a playful moment inside a restaurant.

When asked about the timing of that explosion, she pauses and says, "the economic situation is not good in Ethiopia, the inflation is running high, and if it continues, people will no longer be able to afford basic food. I feel it will happen sooner rather than later."

Those peaceful demonstrations turned deadly as Federal Police opened fire on unarmed civilians, killing 22. People do demonstrate now, but only when the international press is around because the demonstrators know the Federal Police will not take action in front of international media, at gatherings like major football matches or running races where large groups make it hard to single out one person.

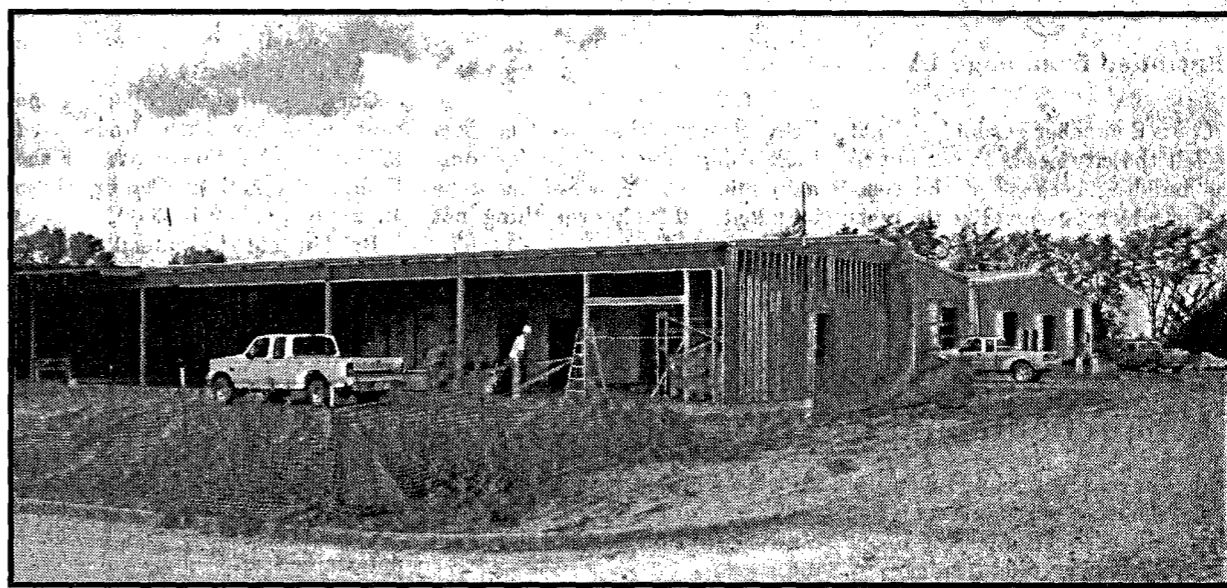

The opposition has a symbol, the peace sign that people in the US would recognize from the 1960's.

"Once I was waving down a taxi using the same two fingers to let the taxi know there was two of us," says David, "A Federal Policeman saw me, ran over and started beating me. I had a hard time explaining I was just trying to wave down a taxi."

The people of Ethiopia are frustrated with the US government. Many have family or friends in the United States, so it is hard to be critical of a place they feel connected to. "But the US Government is supporting the corrupt Government of Ethiopia, and that is bringing a larger suffering to the majority of the Ethiopian people as a whole," said David.

People are just surviving according to Tigist and waiting for the next elections. "I don't think there will be an election, those who want to run are in prison. Whatever you call the opposite of Democracy, that is what we currently have in Ethiopia," concludes David.

Work is progressing on the Wayne State College building that will house Network & Technology and Facility Services.

Construction continues on WSC building where Network & Technology and Facility Services will be located

By Lynn Sievers
Of the Herald

Anyone driving around the Wayne State College campus can't miss the large building that is under construction. With 41,000 square foot of space, both the Network & Technology department and Facility Services will be located on the northeast side of campus across from Providence Medical Center and Mercy Medical Clinic.

Radee Construction of Hartington has the contract for construction, which is to be completed in 330 days (March-April '08), depending on the weather.

Dennis Linster, Chief Information Officer of the Network & Technology department and Derby Johnson, Director of Facility Services, are pleased with the idea of having their equipment and employees in one location with paving and space for 100 parking spots.

"We're very excited about the new facility and helped design it. We will have three times more space than we currently have access to," Linster said. "We will be on the south side, closest to the street."

The Network & Technology department has been working out of the basement of the Hahn Administration building for many years. Linster added there are no windows or storage there. There are 12 full time employees and 10 students working part time in Network & Technology.

Linster has been on campus for 33 years and has always been involved with some type of technology. He started the Network & Technology department in 1992. The function of the department is to purchase all technology equipment for the college (computers, etc.), install and maintain them, as well as Internet services, campus phone system, e-learning system and all web services.

Looking back at technology at WSC in 1989, the college had a contract with IBM for a network computer lab; there were 20 computers. In 1991, the college was connected to Internet and the auto library system was started.

There are 1,600 state-owned computers on campus, 1,200 student-owned computers brought onto campus (after Labor Day, there will be a total of 2,800 computers connected to the network at WSC). In addition, computers in the City of Wayne offices and in the Wayne School system are also connected to the college network. Network & Technology handles all of the technology for faculty and staff at WSC.

"We provide a lot for people that no one even realizes," Linster said. As for Facility Services, Johnson added that he's happy there will be clearly defined areas for each of his departments, as well as a conference room. There will be three areas on one floor in the new building. The northern part should be done in December so he can move some of his people in over the Christmas break.

"We have some of our guys located under the Stadium and need to get them out so HHPS academics can go in there," Johnson said. "We can move the rest of the staff in the spring, after graduation (which includes staff in the old armory on the northwest side of campus, across Main Street). The old armory will be torn down."

Johnson added that offices for Facility Services will be on the east side of the new building. Johnson has been with the college for 12 years and with Facility Services for four years. He notes there has always an Operations and Maintenance Dept but the name was changed to Facility Services in 2003.

Siouxland Community Blood Bank earns accreditation

The Siouxland Community Blood Bank (SCBB) has been granted accreditation by the American Association of Blood Banks (AABB) according to Janet Twait, SCBB CEO.

Accreditation follows an intensive on-site assessment by specially trained AABB assessors and establishes: that the level of medical, technical and administrative performance within the facility meets or exceeds the standards set by AABB. By successfully meeting those requirements, SCBB joins approximately 1,800 similar facilities across the United States and abroad that have earned AABB Accreditation.

"The AABB's accreditation procedures are voluntary," Twait explained. "The Siouxland Community Blood Bank has sought this accreditation because this program assists facilities around the world in achieving excellence by promoting a level of professionalism and medical expertise that contributes to quality performance."

The Siouxland Community Blood Bank was founded in 1967 and is the sole provider of blood and blood products to 36 Siouxland area hospitals.

Donors must be 17 years of age (16 in Iowa with parental consent), must weigh at least 110 pounds and may not have given whole blood in the previous 56 days. Other restrictions apply. Visit www.siouxland-bloodbank.org for more information.

Since 1958, AABB has been engaged in the accreditation of blood banks and transfusion services. Today its Accreditation Program assists blood banks, transfusion services, cellular therapy facilities, relationship testing laboratories, immunohematology reference laboratories and perioperative services in determining whether methods, procedures, personnel knowledge, equipment and the physical plant meet established requirements.

The minimum requirements for accreditation are based primarily on a set of specific standards for the area in which accreditation is being sought. These standards not only reflect the level of professional proficiency for blood banks and transfusion services in the United States, but also provide the basis for practice in similar facilities around the world.

AABB accreditation is the designation of choice for blood banking, transfusion medicine, blood management, relationship testing, and cellular therapies because it demonstrates an organization's commitment to advanced learning, continuous improvement and innovation by striving to sustain the highest possible level of patient and donor care. AABB accredited organizations are recognized by their peers as leaders in their field and as pivotal voices in the dialogue through which consensus based, voluntary standards are developed and implemented.

AABB is an international non-profit membership organization dedicated to advancing the field of transfusion medicine and related biological therapies. AABB sets standards, accredits facilities, publishes books and publications and produces educational programs to improve patient and donor safety.

AABB membership comprises independent blood centers, hospital blood banks, transfusion services, HPC facilities, cord blood banks, somatic cell facilities, relationship testing facilities, and perioperative services and the dedicated professionals who staff them, in fifty states, the District of Columbia and eighty countries. AABB serves about 1,800 institutions and 8,000 individual members, including physicians, scientists, administrators, medical technologists, nurses, researchers, blood donor recruiters and public relations personnel.

Council member Verdel Lutt said he felt the city needs to commit to the building because of the restrooms, which "are just like the restrooms at any of the city's parks."

Laura Gamble and John Sinniger, representing the Summer Sports Complex Committee, said that with recent developments in regard to the building of the concession stand/restrooms, the exact cost of the project is not known. They stressed that "lighting is a huge thing, and not just for tournaments. Also, the water line to be installed will "help everything, not just the complex."

No decision was made in regard to a contribution.

City Treasurer Braden also presented information to the council on the possibility of a local option sales tax for the city.

Currently, the city collects a one cent sales tax with funds used to pay construction bonds for the Community Activity Center. These should be paid off in 2009.

Braden told the council that LB 840 allows for the collection of local option sales tax for economic development. She noted that the majority of those entities collecting such taxes have put time limits on collection and do not allow the tax to be collected indefinitely.

Local option sales taxes could also be used for property tax relief. Collection of such taxes would be determined after approval of the voters in the city, during either a general or special election.

The council will next meet in regular session on Tuesday, Sept. 18 at 5:30 p.m.

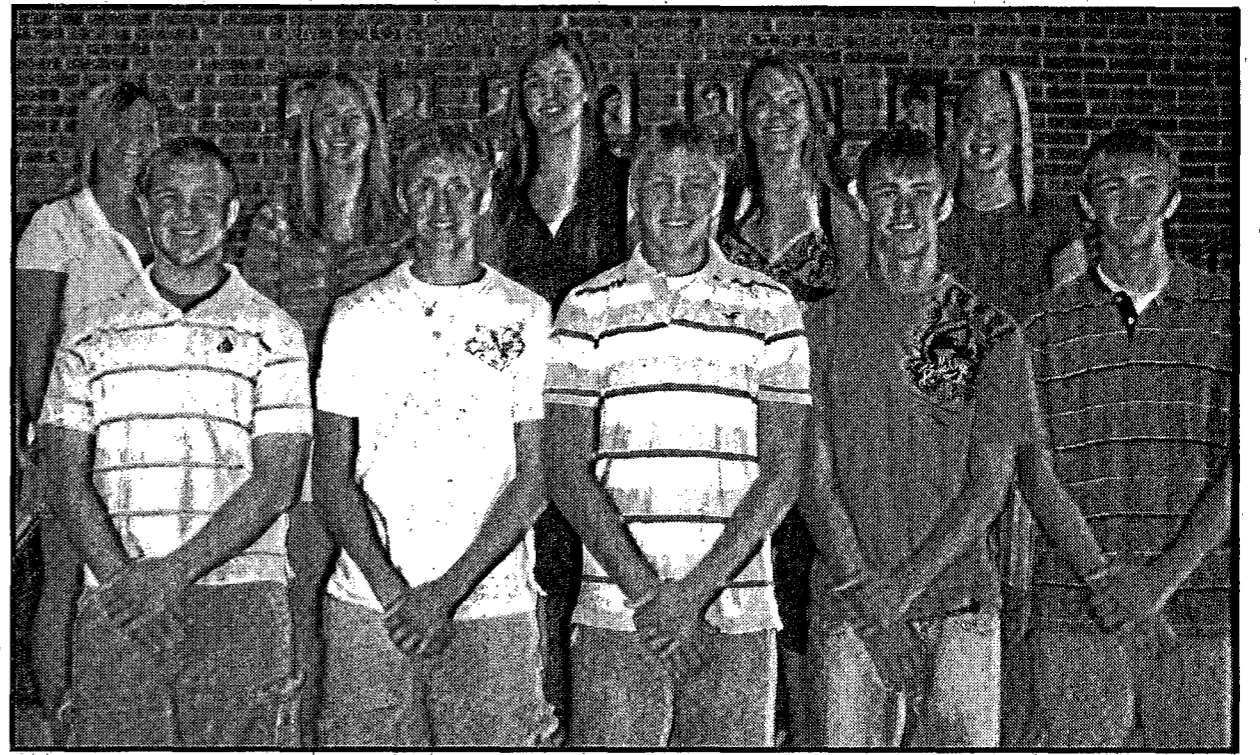

Entrepreneurs and Inventors Club to meet

The Entrepreneurs and Inventors Club will meet Thursday, Sept. 13 at 6 p.m. in the North Meeting Room of the Wayne City Auditorium.

Midwest Band in Norfolk. The evening will also allow for networking time for those attending.

The next meeting will be Thursday, Oct. 11 at 6 p.m. in the North Meeting Room of the City Auditorium.

Fund to General Fund.

Tax requests for 2007-08 were: General Fund: $2,768,588.20; Reappraisal: $2,557.90; Relief/Medical: $1,758.92; Institutions: $1,963.38; Veterans Aid: $787.25 and County Improvement: $52,000. Total: $2,827,655.65. The total tax dollar request reflects an increase of $100,126.14 over 2006-07. The Wayne County 2007-08 tax levy will be .369921.

Wayne County tax rate comparisons are: 2007-08: .369921; 2006-07: .389929; 2005-06: .399301; 2004-05: .415810; 2003-04: .416535 and 2002-03: .396256.

In this year's budget, commissioners noted there were some good breaks and they are sharing those with the public. One area in which there was a big savings was the insurance policy for county employees, which saved the county $300,000 and helped keep the need for additional funds down.

Both the need to increase base restricted funds by an additional one percent and the final tax request of $2,827,395.65 for the 2007-08 fiscal year were approved.

Other action taken included approving the tax sale certificate resolution, which states the county treasurer has submitted a certified list of all delinquent real estate taxes for 2002 and before. Commissioners directed the county treasurer to issue tax sale certificates for those parcels of real estate on the list.

In the tax sale foreclosure resolution, commissioners directed the Wayne County attorney to institute action to foreclose the lien of all taxes delinquent on real estate offered for sale and remaining unsold for more than three years.

Deanna Beckman, Wayne County emergency manager, told commissioners about the National Incident Management System statement of compliance, which they signed. The commissioners also approved accepting a memorandum of understanding, which was also for state compliance. She noted the state is pushing for radio equipment across Nebraska that is compatible, in case of disasters so emergency personnel can communicate with each other. Wayne County is part of the northeast region in which there are 12 counties working together on emergency issues.

Beckman also asked the commissioners for cable installation for emergency management (storm watching) purposes. Commissioners are looking into the request.

In road and bridge business, Elizabeth Carlson, highway superintendent, noted she had a resolution vacating the unused portion of Highview Drive but said the resolution should be subject to dedication of the 250 foot cul de sac area. The commissioners passed the resolution, subject to the dedication.

Also discussed and passed was a resolution on participation in Project No. HRRR-STWD (79), horizontal curve signage. There is no cost to this county to participate in the project.

Commissioners directed Carlson to solicit bids for gravel for road district #1.

The commissioners approved a 60 month lease agreement of $385.27 per month for a postage machine. They also approved the HRA bank account authorization resolution for opening an account at First National Bank for health care insurance purposes.

The next meeting of the Wayne County Board of Commissioners will be on Tuesday, Sept. 18 at 9 a.m. in the courthouse in Wayne.

WSC's Logan Masters (left) takes to the air against a pair of Chadron State defenders to make a catch that he would then run for a Wayne State score in last Saturday's season opener at Chadron.

Wildcats drop season opener to Chadron St.

NCAA Division II 5th-ranked Chadron State used a balanced offensive attack to roll up 467 yards of total offense in a 55-14 win over Wayne State last Saturday afternoon in the Wildcats' season opener played in Chadron.

The Eagles opened the scoring early in the game as Craig Kaiser scooped up a fumble on Wayne State's third play from scrimmage and scampered 47 yards for a score, putting CSC ahead 7-0 with 14:24 left in the first quarter.

Later in the quarter, Danny Woodhead, the 2006 Harlon Hill Trophy winner as Division II's top player, scored on a one-yard run to put the Eagles ahead 14-0 after the first quarter.

Wayne State answered with a 14-play, 86 yard drive as junior running back Travis Rhone scored from five yards out with 13:22 left in the second quarter, making the score 14-7.

But Chadron State used two more scores in the second quarter, a Mark Haag eight-yard run and a Woodhead five-yard run, to put the Eagles in front 27-7 at half-time.

The lone score of the third quarter was a one-yard run by CSC quarterback Joe McLain at the 11:00 minute mark, making the score 34-7.

McLain added another score, an 11-yard run, early in the fourth quarter, to give the Eagles a commanding 41-7 lead.

The Wildcats responded as, on the ensuing drive, Logan Masters made an acrobatic catch against two CSC defenders and then rambled 80 yards for a score with 12:08 left in the game to make the score 41-14.

Aaron Cooksley's 14-yard run and an 11-yard pass from Zac Zapdstra to Tyler Watson closed out the scoring for Chadron State to make the final score 55-14.

Chadron State finished with 467 yards of total offense while Wayne State gained 450 yards in the contest.

Sophomore quarterback Silas Fluellen completed 16 of 26 passes for 237 yards with one touchdown and one interception.

Wakefield emerges with win against Wayne High

For the second straight season, Wakefield opened the fall campaign with victory over its western neighbor.

Defending state champion Wakefield held off Wayne for a 13-2 win over the Blue Devils in the season opener for both teams played at Wayne on Aug. 31.

Much as the final score indicated, the game was a balanced performance by both squads.

Wakefield held a 13-0 lead heading into the final period of the game after Nick Curnyn and Ian Miner each tallied touchdowns in the second quarter.

Curnyn's score came off a manufactured pass play by Trojan quarterback Joel Nixon, while Miner's run from near the 10-yard line gave Wakefield a 13-0 advantage.

Nixon closed the game a 4-for-12 with 106 yards passing, while Wakefield's rushers tallied 161 yards.

Wayne's sole score came in the closing two minutes of the contest when Micah Agler sacked Nixon for a safety to avoid the shutout.

Area Sports Roundup

Allen 40, Lynch 0
ALLEN — It was a defensive effort that brought a smile to the face of Allen football coach Dave Uldrich.

Allen's defense allowed only 100 yards — 41 of those came on the very last play of the game against the Eagle reserve unit — in a 40-0 home shutout of Lynch in the season opener for both teams on Aug. 31.

Through the opening three quarters, the Eagles only let Lynch gain 35 yards.

"I was very happy with our defensive performance," Uldrich said. "We had a few mistakes mentally, such as penalties on the defensive side and five of those six penalties gave Lynch a first down."

The defense set the tone early, forcing a Lynch punt, but Allen could not advance the ball down the field on the opening drive, due to penalties.

Following the second Lynch procession, the Allen offense got into gear and drove the field and capped the drive with a Scott Wilmes touchdown run from one yard out. Corey Klug added the PAT kick to give Allen a 7-0 lead.

In the second frame, Allen hung up 13 more points including an 11-yard scoring strike from quarterback Drew Diediker to Michael Bock and another 14-yarder to William Gnat.

Allen held a 20-0 lead at the half-time break before scoring 20 more points in the third quarter.

The first scores of the quarter came off a one-yard TD scamper and a 22-yard run by Wilmes to extend the lead to 32-0.

On the next Lynch possession, Klug delivered a hit to the Lynch quarterback to cause a fumble and Scott Chase picked up the loose ball. Diediker took the ball over the goal line to extend the lead to close out Allen's shutout.

Wilmes led all rushers with 87 yards on 13 carries and three touchdowns. Gnat hauled in two passes for 46 yards and one TD, while Bock added a score on an 11-yard catch.

Chase led the defense with 13 tackles and one recovered fumble, while Gnat and Jacob Malcom each finished with 10 and Bock contributed nine stops.

The Eagles travel to Rising City on Friday, Sept. 7.

Winside 57, Osmond 6
WINSIDE — Jordan Brummels scored four touchdowns on runs of 31, 1, 8, and 51 yards, while leading Winside to a 57-6 win over visiting Osmond on the Wildcat's home field in Winside on Aug. 31.

Brummels also added an aerial strike of 27 yards to senior class mate Tucker Bowers as the tandem hooked up for a 112 yards through the air on four completions. Brummels was 4-for-9 passing on the evening with all receptions to Bowers.

Brummels' team-leading all purpose 316 yards included 151 yards rushing and 112 yards passing along with three punt returns for 64 yards and a kickoff return of 19 yards.

Kalin Koch added 65 yards on 18 carries scoring a pair of touchdowns on 4 and 26 yard runs with Michael Lage adding the Wildcats final tally of the night with a 10 yard run.

Garet Hurlbert, (2 carries for 5 yards) Bowers, (1 carry for 9 yards) Blake Hokamp (1 carry for 5 yards and Lage (1 carry for 10 yards) all added to the Wildcat's 245 rushing yards on 34 attempts.

Jake Kander added 5 points to the Wildcat total with successful PAT attempts with a Brummels to Bowers pass and an Anthony Nelson run providing additional Win side PAT scoring.

Nathan Janke, Jordan Nelson

and Chase Langenberg all had fumble recoveries for Winside with Hurlbert recording a pair of quarterback sacks resulting in 18 yards lost by the Tigers. Hurlbert also recorded a pass break up to the Winside defensive effort.

Leading the Wildcat defensive tackle charts were Langenberg (12), Bowers (10), Hurlbert (9), Nathan Janke (8) and Matt Peter with 7 stops.

The Wildcats, rated No.8 by the Omaha World Herald, will travel to Coleridge Friday night (Sept. 7) to face the Bulldogs who won their opening game 46-0 over Omaha Nation.

Laurel-Concord 28, Randolph 14

LAUREL — The traditional meeting of Northeast Nebraska Activities Conference teams saw Laurel-Concord pick up a 28-14 season opening win over the visiting Randolph Cardinals.

Bear senior quarterback Heath Erwin was 12-of-23 passing for 154 yards and threw for a pair of touchdown passes in the L-C win.

"We were able to go ahead early and keep the lead, but we weren't satisfied with the way we achieved the win," L-C coach Terry Bear said. "We had quite a few mistakes and were a little fatigued early on. This is a great bunch of kids and they respond well to tough situations."

Erwin connected with Ezra Schantz on an 11-yard TD reception in the second quarter for Laurel-Concord's first touchdown of the new season.

The Bears' next score was on the ground after Justin Hart ran in the ball from one-yard line and Andrew Gothier added a two-point conversion run to give L-C a 14-0 halftime lead.

Erwin connected with Tyler Peterson on an 18-yard pass reception in the third quarter and Erwin's extra point kick was also good to give the Bears a 21-0 lead heading into the final stanza.

Randolph reached the endzone twice on pass plays of 22 and 7 yards, respectively, in the fourth quarter.

Travis Nelson extended the L-C lead with a 1-yard run and Erwin added another extra point kick to round out the Bears' scoring total for the game.

Laurel-Concord's offensive effort yielded 336 total yards, including 182 rush and 154 through the air.

The Bears held Randolph to 179 total yards and forced five turnovers, while L-C turned the ball over two times.

Hart was the Bear's leading rusher with 69 yards on nine attempts, while Petersen made four receptions for 43 yards.

The defense was paced by Johnny Saunders' 15 stops, while Tate Cunningham and Gothier had nine and eight stops, respectively.

The Bears will visit another league foe this Friday (Sept. 7) as the team travels to Creighton.

Laurel-Concord def. Randolph 3-0

RANDOLPH — Visiting Laurel-Concord downed Randolph in straight games (25-23, 25-9, 25-14) to open the season here on Aug. 30.

Kari Schroeder and Tarah Jelinek were strong at the net for the Bears with nine and eight offensive kills, respectively.

Jessica Pig also aided the offensive cause with 23 set assists.

After a slow back-and-forth start in the first game that saw the Bears come away with a 25-23 win, the team got on track in the second match with a 25-9 victory and then again in the third game with a 25-14 advantage.

"Members of the team can take great pride in their ability to overcome adversity," L-C coach Patty Cunningham said. "The loss of our setter to an ankle injury in the first game forced the team to work through different serve receive formations and to perform out of position, both offensively and defensively."

Jenni Schroeder led the Bears' defensive effort with 17 digs, while Kaci Gould notched three aces from the service line.

Laurel-Concord will play Stanton and Hartington Cedar Catholic in the first round matchups of the Wakefield Invitational that starts tonight (Thursday) at Wakefield.

WSC cross country runners dominate home meet

The Wayne State College cross country teams hosted the Black/Gold Alumni 5K Run on Sept. 1 at the Wayne Country Club.

Freshman York Thomas and sophomore Megan Zavorka posted the top times for the men's and women's Wildcat squads respectively.

Thomas, a native of Lennox, S.D., covered the 5,000 meter course in a time of 16:40, 10 seconds ahead of teammate Cheto Cerda, a junior college transfer from Garden City Community College in Kansas.

Redshirt freshman Ricky Trevino came in third at 16:52, followed by freshman John Kern (17:28) and junior Nathaniel Bergen (17:48) rounding out the top five.

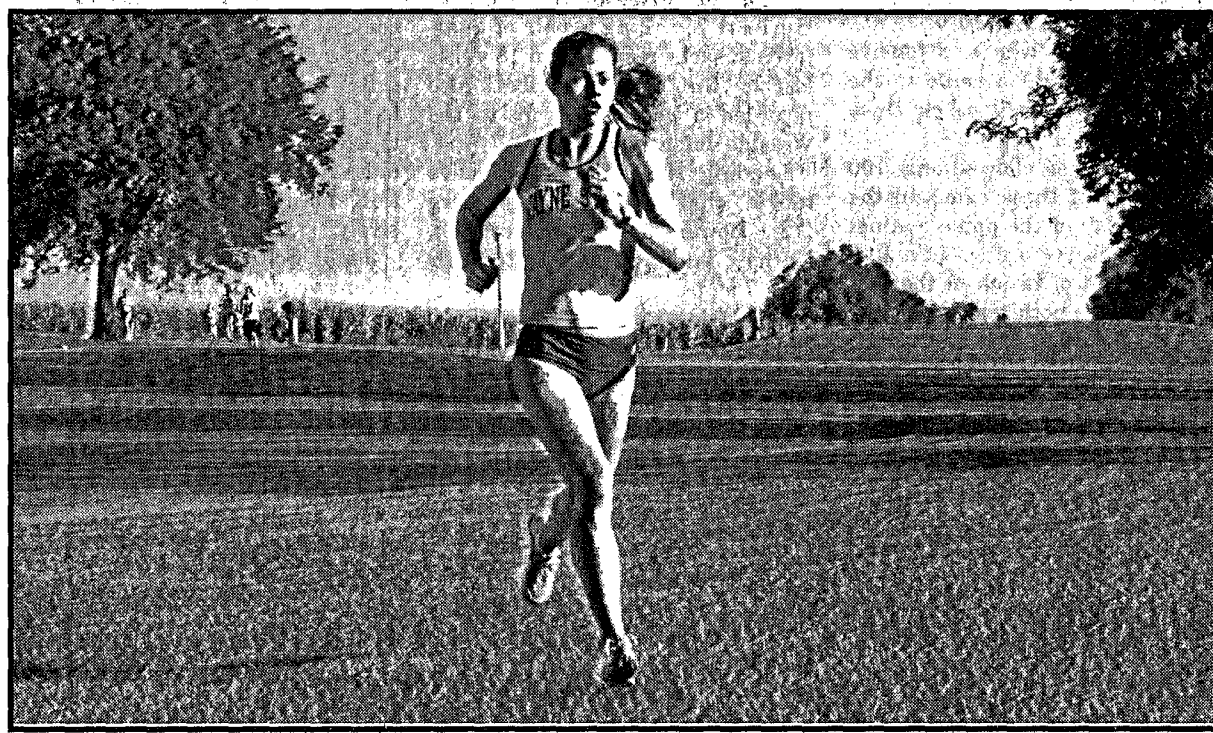

Other WSC runners and their times included: David Obermeyer 17:50; Ben Jansen 17:54; Lee Anderson 17:56; Jimmie Doherty 18:31 and Andrew Bachman 18:42.

"The men's team ran a solid race," remarked WSC head coach Marlon Brink. "Almost all of our guys equaled or improved their times from our first time trial two weeks ago on an easier course, so that is encouraging. They will have to continue to improve though to reach our season goals."

Sophomore Megan Zavorka led the field for the Wayne State College women's cross country team, as the sophomore from Torrington, Wyoming posted a time of 19:36 on the 5,000 meter course, finishing just over 90 seconds ahead of freshman Melissa McIntosh (Ainsworth). McIntosh's time was 21:12 in her first meet as a Wildcat.

Freshman Jenna McCoy (Lincoln Pius) was right behind McIntosh in third at 21:13, followed by Sara Thomsen (21:14) and Meghan Costello in fifth at 21:31.

Other WSC runners and their times included: Molly Gibson (21:44), Anna Wolverton (22:02), Kristy Doffin (22:08), Meghan Jacob (22:13), Megan Knudson (22:20) and Marissa Dargy (23:20).

"I was happy with how the women's team ran," commented Brink. "We had our top five girls at 21:30 or under, which on our course is a good starting point this early in the season. Megan Zavorka got out fast and ran well. She will be helped when she has competition at some of the big meets we go to and really help lower her time. Our freshmen group really looked good for their first collegiate cross country meet. I think they will have a very positive impact on our team."

Wayne State's next meet will be Saturday, Sept. 15 as the Wildcats compete at the Woody Greeno Invitational at the University of Nebraska in Lincoln.

WSC freshman York Thomas won the men's race at last Saturday's 5,000-meter race at the Wayne Country Club.

Day at State Fair filled with activity

It's 9 p.m. on Labor Day and the Big Farmer is switching back and forth between the Royals baseball game and the "Bowden Bowl" between Florida State and Clemson. Apparently, the father has taught the son very well.

We spent the day at the Fair; you know, the State Fair. We volunteered in the Farm Bureau booth last year; this year, we were in the Devaney Center with Thrivent. That's seeing the fair in an entirely different way than in the old days when we were there to show cattle, or at least to watch the beef show.

At least it's air conditioned in there. We started our session getting rid of some bright orange bags that will hold lots of goodies that had been left over by Tabitha earlier in the week. All you have to do is hand out a few; pretty soon, they are flocking to your table, asking for one! We emptied a big box in less than an hour. After that, our business slacked off because all we were giving away was a pencil.

I wandered around to check out what was going on; it's amazing. In our row, this gal was demonstrating a wonder mop and by the end of our session, I had her spiel memorized. She never seemed to get tired, and she stayed so cheerful. She was selling a lot of the things,

There was the usual jewelry cleaner and purse and jewelry sales, and shirts and hats. There were Branson vacation packages, and hot tubs, and mattresses, and furniture, and a giant play set all made of wood. There was also handwriting analysis, palm reading, nerve analysis, and lots of vitamins and fitness regimes. And by the looks of a lot of the folks walking by, we could use some of the latter! We ate lunch at the Beef Pit, which is just about the best beef promotion I have ever seen. Every year, the lines get longer, and the beef is delicious. We checked out the needlework and listened to the Happy Czechs play some great polkas.

But the "highlight" of the evening was the Charlie Daniels Band, to begin at 7. We headed to the open air auditorium at 6:15 and almost didn't get a seat. This guy has Fans! I like country music, sometimes, and I know he's a true patriot, but if you really want to torture me, put me in a hot venue and turn the sound UP! My ears are still hurting, and we left after an hour.

The neat part was that, after watching a mother and daughter and granddaughter for over 20 minutes, I finally realized I was seeing Greta Grubbs and Mary Bowder from Winside; as they waited for, and saved seats for, Marilyn Morse and Judy Jacobsen. Because I consider it a lost day to spend that many hours in a place with that many people if I don't see some familiar faces, that made my day. And we had a good half hour to visit and catch up. Did I mention that the band was LOUD!

RC&D Council holds meeting

The Northeast Nebraska Resource Conservation & Development Council learned about Civil Rights in a fun way by playing a modified Jeopardy game to start their meeting. Civil Rights for $100 - Unequal treatment of persons because of race, color, national origin, religion, sex, age, or handicap - (What is discrimination?)

Later, President Bud Knuth, Royal took over to conduct the meeting. His first order of business was to introduce Dennis Wacker of Osmond as a new board member representing Pierce County.

Three new projects were approved: one for grant writing assistance to St. James Marketplace and two for special recycling efforts - Household Hazardous Waste and Computer Collections. Several environmental projects will have grants submitted soon to request funding.

The Distillers Grain Research project was recently completed and the report can be found on the RC&D website at www.northeastrcd.org or by contacting the office for a copy. This project's focus was to test and track over an 11 month period the quality and consistency of distillers' grain as a livestock feed ingredient.

Bob Porter, RC&D Council member from Wayne passed away recently and will be missed by everyone involved with RC&D. He was involved in local projects, served on the state association board and took an active role in national endeavors too. He was also leading the effort to establish an endowment for the RC&D Council.

National RC&D Week, Sept. 23-29 will be celebrated as a featured member at the Corps of Discovery Welcome Center. The next Council meeting will be held there at 1 p.m. on Monday, Sept. 24 with a reception to follow. Council projects will be featured daily throughout the week. Everyone is welcome and encouraged to attend.

Seminars focus on agriculture as well as business, industry, labor, economics, public policy, religions, politics, governments, history and other areas designed to develop leaders through exposure to a broad array of current topics and issues and how they interrelate.

Splash Dogs is hosting a national dock jumping competition at the Missouri River Outdoor Expo, Sept. 22 and 23.

Splash Dogs comes to the Missouri River Outdoor Expo

Splash Dogs is coming to Ponca on Sept. 22 and 23 to take part in the Missouri River Outdoor Expo. Splash Dogs will be hosting a national dock jumping competition as one of many family friendly activities at the Expo. From seasoned pros to first timers, high flying dogs will be splashing down in Ponca.

The Splash Dogs competition is open to all dogs and handlers who wish to participate. There will be several competition waves on Saturday and Sunday. The pool and dock will be open in between competition waves for practice. All newcomers are welcome to try this sport with their dogs. There will be practice time and newcomers are encouraged to compete. Cost for all day practice is $10 per dog, competition waves run $20 per dog per wave. For more information please visit www.splashdogs.com

What is dock jumping? Dock jumping for dogs is quickly becoming one of America's most popular outdoor events! The key elements of the sport are to demonstrate the dock jumping dog's strength, confidence, speed and all around athleticism.

Dock jumping consists of a dog and handler team competing to see how far their dog can jump into a body of water. Dogs run down a 40 foot dock and launch off the end chasing after their favorite floatable toy. The distance is measured from the edge of the dock to the point where the base of the tail enters the waters surface. This sport is similar to the long jump competition in Track and Field.

About Splash Dogs - Splash Dogs is a California based dog enthusiast company that organizes and promotes dock jumping competitions across the United States. Splash Dogs has a history of providing high quality events for the entire family to enjoy. In 2007, Splash Dogs plans to visit more than 30 U.S. Cities and 14 different states, demonstrating a strong increase in corporate visibility.

Jara Settles wins Master Showmanship Contest

Jara Settles of Hoskins has been showing cattle "my entire life" and Saturday her years of hard work paid off.

Jara, 18, won first place and a $2,000 scholarship to the college of her choice at the second annual Master Showmanship Contest at the Nebraska State Fair.

Taryn Pieper, 17, of Farnam was second. She won a $1,000 scholarship. Third was Dayna Olson, 17, from the rural North Platte area. She won a $500 scholarship.

Contestants had to be 14 or older and show at least one animal at the Nebraska State Fair. Contestants took a written test, prior to exhibiting their showmanship skills in the swine, beef and sheep areas. The three top finishers were among 25 contestants from across Nebraska.

Jara is a freshman at Butler Community college in El Dorado, Kan. She is majoring in ag business and intends to go to law school.

Although Taryn shows cattle, swine and sheep, she stuck with cattle at the State Fair. A senior at Eustis-Farnam High School in Eustis, she wants to be a veterinarian or physical therapist.

Dayna is a senior at Hershey High School in Hershey. She also shows cattle, swine and sheep, but showed swine at the State Fair. She is undecided about what she wants to do.

More information on the Nebraska Master Showmanship Contest can be found on the Nebraska Department of Agriculture website at www.agr.ne.gov

LADY EAGLES WIN TWO

The Lady Eagles took part in the Northeast Nebraska Volleyball Classic over Labor day weekend. The tournament took place at four different sites: two sites in Pender and two sites in Wisner-Pilger.

The Eagles played Aug. 30 versus Wayne at the old Pender gym.

The Eagles came off to a slow start losing the first set 12-25. The second set went a little better but lost 20-25. The second game of the night paired the Eagles up with a tough Bancroft team. The Eagles started out again slow behind 8 -1 but were able to rally and tie the score at 22. The Panthers went on to win the set 25-22. The second set was also given to Bancroft with the Eagles losing 19-25.

On Saturday, the Eagles returned to Pender to play in the Bronze site. The first game of the morning had the Eagles against Lutheran High Northeast. The Eagles had a tough time getting started and lost the game in two sets: 10-25 and 8 -25. After rallying together inbetween games, the Eagles went on to win their next two games versus Pender and Scribner-Snyder. The Eagles beat Pender in 2 sets - 27-25 & 25-16. Versus Scribner-Snyder the Eagles played tough and won 25-18 & 25-21.

“We had trouble with our serve receive in each game we played. Saturday versus LHNE was a tough game to watch as the girls had trouble getting started and couldn't get the ball to our setter. In the game versus Pender, the Eagles were a different team. We served tough and passed very well. As a team, we had 16 ace serves versus Pender and 14 ace serves versus Scribner-Snyder. Follow that up with good passes, we were able to get our type of game going,” said Assistant Coach Missy Sullivan.

The Lady Eagles play Tuesday night against Wynot at home and then next week for Homecoming week, the Lady Eagles play in a triangular at Ponca on Tuesday, and then at home versus Emerson-Hubbard on Thursday.

Statewide fund-raising events will benefit Parkinson's Disease Education in Nebraska

The American Parkinson Disease Association (APDA) Nebraska Chapter is sponsoring a series of statewide fund-raising events during the first week of October to benefit the organization's educational and support group initiatives. "Hand in Hand - Linking Lives for Parkinson's" is the theme for the organization's inaugural fund raising effort, according to Lisa Brovold, coordinator for the APDA Information and Referral Center.

"Nebraska is rated the fourth highest state in the U.S. for reported cases of Parkinson's Disease, which is why raising public awareness through education is a priority," Brovold noted. "Among the neurological diseases, Parkinson's is second only to Alzheimer's in occurrence and it affects more people than multiple sclerosis, muscular dystrophy and Lou Gehrig's disease (ALS) combined."

Highlighting the October events is a special evening of food and entertainment by the Chris Saub Band on Oct. 6, from 6 to 10 p.m., at the Bemis Center for Contemporary Arts at 12th and Leavenworth Streets in Omaha. Honored guests that evening will be Dr. John Bertoni, a movement disorder specialist with Creighton University Medical Center, and Dr. Howard Gendelman, a Parkinson's Disease researcher at the University of Nebraska Medical Center. The evening will include a live and silent auctions and ticket contest.

APDA-affiliated support groups across the state will also host events located in Columbus, Kearney, Lincoln and Spencer on Oct. 6 or during that week. "We hope gatherings such as these will become annual events," Brovold added. "With 1.5 million people in the U.S. affected by Parkinson's, the need to raise public awareness of the disease through the work of the Nebraska APDA Chapter and Information & Referral Center, as well as the local support groups has never been greater."

For more information about the Nebraska Chapter of APDA of any of its October events, contact the APDA Chapter at 402-392-2732 or the Information & Referral Center at 866-626-7347.

APDA was founded in 1961 with the dual mission to "Ease the Burden and Find the Cure" for Parkinson's disease. It is the largest grass roots organization in the United States dedicated to fighting Parkinson's disease by focusing on research, patient and caregiver support, education, and increasing public awareness through a network of Information and Referral Centers and affiliated support groups nationwide.

Nebraska Department of Banking & Finance issues consumer advisory on foreclosure rescue services

Nebraska Department of Banking and Finance Director John Munn issued a consumer advisory urging Nebraskans facing the possibility of foreclosure on a home mortgage to be cautious when working with foreclosure rescue consultants and companies.

Recent inquiries to the Department regarding foreclosure have prompted Department officials to warn Nebraskans of the potential risks associated with foreclosure rescue services.

agreement," said Munn. "If the terms sound too good to be true, I would stay away."

While the Department of Banking and Finance cannot stop foreclosures, Munn stated that borrowers can file a complaint with the agency against individuals or companies for deceptive and misleading lending practices. "We cannot serve as an attorney, but we can contact the appropriate regulatory authority with issues described in the complaint," said Munn. Borrowers can find the complaint form on the agency's Web site at <http://www.ndbf.org>

In many foreclosure rescue deals, individuals or companies offer to take ownership of the property as part of an arrangement that allows the homeowner to lease and buy back the home at a later date. The rescuer often promises to save the homeowner from foreclosure, pay the mortgage, save the homeowner's credit status and/or sell the house quickly. Distressed homeowners are often pressured into signing documents giving ownership of the home to the rescuer and the rescuer walks away with all or most of the home's equity.

"We advise homeowners facing foreclosure to be cautious consumers and talk with licensed professionals such as lawyers and real estate agents before signing any

Public invited to new utility line building ribbon cutting at NECC

The public is invited to a Ribbon Cutting Ceremony and Open House in September at the new Utility Line Building at Northeast Community College in Norfolk.

Activities begin Thursday, Sept. 20 at 4 p.m., at the new 36,800-square-foot facility located east of campus at 1601 East Benjamin Avenue. Refreshments will be served.

Some 76 utility line students and six professional truck driver training students began the fall semester in the $2.7 million facility that includes nine new classrooms/labs, six offices, and two mechanic's bays. Crafts Inc. was the general contractor.

The building is also surrounded by 600 acres of outdoor lab space. The facility can accommodate over 100 full-time UL students on a daily basis and up to 48 truck driving students a year.

According to Lyle Kathol, Northeast's dean of applied technology, this is the first facility of its kind in the United States. "When designing this new facility, our architects, Beringer Ciacio Dennell Mabrey of Omaha, could find no comparable facilities to research," he said.

Kathol also noted that Northeast's program is one of three, two-year utility line programs in the country. The program began in 1972 with 16 students under the leadership of the late Al Ehlers. The Northeast Graduation Program from 1974 lists 11 electrical utility line graduates who earned an associate of applied science degree.

Northeast's utility line program includes five full-time, on-campus faculty members and three, full-time, off-campus trainers.

"At long last, one of Northeast's signature programs has the facilities it deserves," Kathol said. "We attract students to this program from all over the country and it is fitting that these students have such state-of-the-art instructional facilities."

Kathol also noted that up to 48 per cent of current utility line workers will retire in the next 10 years. "This is an ideal time to expand our facilities and enrollments," he said. "We did this to help alleviate some of the personnel shortages expected in the not-too-distant future of this industry."

After the Open House, visitors can tour the five-acre Corn Maze north of the Ag/Allied Health Building. Members of Northeast's Drafting Club designed the maze while members of the Diversified Ag Club planted the corn. Northeast's utility line and electrical construction and control students will also provide lighting.

For more information about Northeast's utility line program, call Kathol at (402)844-7215.

Seven counselors are serving the community this semester with the Help Clinic at Wayne State College.

Anyone with difficult personal issues may call to arrange an appointment with a counselor. The counseling services are made available to all members of the community at no cost by Wayne State College. Appointments may be scheduled in Wayne and in Norfolk.

The counselors understand the stress involved in dealing with problems such as grief, worry, family and relationship conflicts, emotional pain, and alcohol and drug abuse. Talking to a professional about these issues can provide support, guidance, and may help to find new solutions. The Help Clinic would be happy to answer any questions you have about the counseling. Call (402) 375-7210 to inquire. If you reach the answering machine, leave your name and phone number and your call will be returned.

The counselors are supervised by Dr. Keith Willis, the Chair of the Counseling & Special Education Department at Wayne State College and Dr. Terry Hamilton, Professor of Counseling.

Tawna Luschen graduated from Wayne State College in 2001 with a bachelor's degree in Human Service Counseling. After graduation, she worked as a CTA with troubled teens and their families in Omaha. She has also worked as a Family Support Worker in Norfolk, working with parents and children in need of guidance and support. She has supervised visitations with families, and helped facilitate adoptions. She is currently attending WSC to obtain the Master's Degree in Community Counseling. Tawna is married to Jeff and they have an almost two year old daughter named Tirany, two cats, two dogs and fish.

Cherie Brandt interned at Child Protective Services in Pierce while completing her Bachelor's Degree in Human Service Counseling in 2002. She is now completing her MSE in Community Counseling at Wayne State College. She is also working towards receiving the LADC, licensure as an alcohol and drug abuse counselor.

Shirley Kriesch is a Norfolk resident who is completing her graduate program in Community Counseling at Wayne State College. She has experience working with people with mental illness and chemical dependency issues. She has also served as an advocate for people who have experienced domestic violence or sexual abuse. Shannon Gibson is currently working on completing her Masters Degree in K-12 School Counseling. She has been teaching for the past nine years in Special Education and is currently teaching at Wayne High School. She lives in Wayne with her husband Brian and children McKenna, Ashten, and Jess.

Samantha Stahl has been employed as a hairdresser for 12 years before returning to college. She received her Bachelor's Degree in Social Science from Portland State University in 2005 and is currently completing her Master's Degree in Community Counseling at Wayne State College.

Julie Hovland is an elementary school counselor working toward an endorsement in school counseling. She has 25 years experience as a classroom teacher. Julie lives in Sioux City, Iowa and works at Sergeant Bluff-Luton Schools.

Andrea Kropf is currently working on her Master's Degree in Community Counseling. She has had previous experience working with children and adolescents during her undergraduate internship. Andrea hopes to continue working with children and adolescents as a grief counselor. She would like to continue her education, eventually obtaining a Ph.D. in Counseling Psychology.

Time Management and Goals class planned at NECC

The Norfolk Area Human Resource Association will present a one-session, half-day class on Time Management and Goals at Northeast Community College in September.

The class, with Daniel G. Kuester as presenter, meets Tuesday, Sept. 11, from 8-11 a.m. in the Lifelong Learning Center at Northeast. The class, with a cost of $39 that includes refreshments and materials, is also sponsored by Northeast Community College and the Norfolk Area Chamber of Commerce. Registration deadline is Tuesday, Sept. 4.

According to promotional materials, time is one of the most valuable resources anyone has and everyone has the exact same amount of it. The class will review why some people accomplish more in their personal and professional lives than others.

Kuester will also present tricks that successful people use to maximize their time to accomplish tasks to become successful. Kuester will also address the importance of goal setting, delegation, and time management.

To register, call (402)844-7000. Norfolk Area Human Resource Association members are asked to call Rose Ann Rogers at Northeast Community College at (402)844-7263 to register.

Stop identity thieves cold

New law gives Nebraskans the Right to 'freeze' their personal credit information

A new law took effect Sept. 1, allowing Nebraska residents to lock identity thieves out of their personal credit information. Nebraska residents may now place a "freeze" on their credit file held by the three major national credit reporting agencies. A freeze protects your personal credit information from being used to open a credit account or obtain loans without your knowledge.

"This is one significant way to help prevent identity theft," said AARP Nebraska State President Sunny Andrews, himself a victim of credit card fraud in recent years.

"It gives Nebraska consumers control over who has access to their personal credit information."

Most businesses cannot open a new account or extend credit without checking a consumer's credit file first. "When your credit file is frozen, even someone who has your name and Social Security number will not be able to take out credit in your name," said Jaimee Napp, executive director of the Identity Theft Action Council of Nebraska. Her birth date and Social Security number were used fraudulently to apply for credit cards.

Placing a freeze costs $15 per credit reporting agency for a total of $45, but is free to minors and identity theft victims who have a police report.

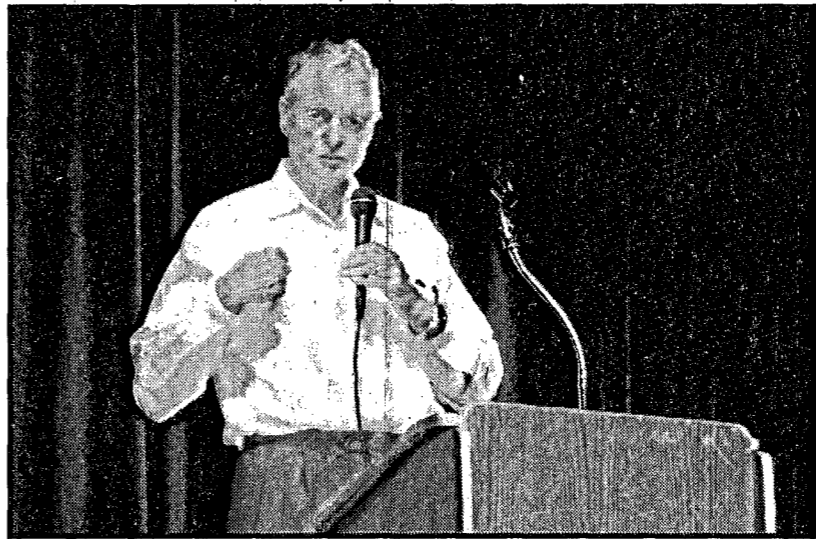

"Consumers may lift the freeze temporarily in order to apply for a loan or new credit card, or they can remove it permanently," Andrews said.

A security freeze is especially appropriate for victims of identity theft, consumers whose personal information was involved in a security breach and consumers who want to be proactive in protecting their identity, Napp said.

"Some claim security freeze is a hassle," she said. "But when you compare it to the hassle of cleaning up your credit after your identity is stolen, security freeze is worth it. I wish it would have been available to me two years ago."

The Identity Theft Action Council of Nebraska and AARP pushed strongly for a security freeze measure in the 2007 legislative session. Nebraska is among 39 states that have adopted similar laws to combat identity theft.

For more information on how to sign up for a freeze, call the Nebraska Consumer Protection Hotline at 1-800-727-6432 or log onto www.ago.state.ne.us. Sample letters requesting a security freeze are available at www.aarp.org/ne and www.idtheftne.org.

Discussion of Initiative 300 goes on . . . and on

By Ed Howard

Statehouse Correspondent
The Nebraska Press Association
Think of something that can simultaneously cause anxiety, upset stomach and anger, tinged with a hint of nausea.

Like sitting on a runway in a glorified cattle car while flight attendants with plastic smiles walk the aisle. "We should be taking off reaaaal soon. We should be taking off reaaaal soon. We should be . . ."

Such unpleasantness comes to mind when thinking of the potential for frustration among those who want to find something akin to a replacement for Initiative 300 - the state's ban on non-family corporate farming which federal courts have declared unconstitutional.

Some well-intentioned souls want the Legislature to author a formula that would, somehow, provide some level of protection for comparatively smallish agricultural operations that qualify as "family" endeavors.

Others, with equally sincere motives, are sure it's time to set aside such notions, allowing "the market" to sort things out. It's the "survival of the economically fittest" rule.

It is appropriate to feel a level of sympathy for lawmakers and staffers and bureaucrats and even reporters called upon to deal with this thing.

Sitting through debates and, most especially public hearings, on any sort of plan to do or undo anything having to do with any I-300 related ideas.

It compares with, say, squatting on that runway.

Or waiting two hours in an uncomfortable chair while anticipating another two hours of discomfiture in a dentist's chair.

Or realizing that the squawking 3-year-old in the back seat isn't screaming, "I gotta go potty!" He is screaming "I went to duh potty!"

Having been through it doesn't make it easier to contemplate enduring more of it. In fact, knowing what will happen generally adds to the torment.

Think about the stories you've read in your newspapers (going back to the 1980s if you are that old). You probably could substitute some of those stories from 1988 for ones that you will read in 2008 - specifically, the ones about the moral and philosophical aspects of the debate.

The public at large won't take more than a passing interest in the subject unless something big happens. In this case, "big" would be yet another petition drive to again write some sort of regulation into the state constitution, or the Legislature reaching the verge of sending a plan to the voters for a statewide vote, or the governor coming out in absolute support or opposition to some proposal.

In the meantime, the discussion will go on and on, on and on, on and on. And someone has to be there to listen to the other side, or both sides, or maybe three or four sides.

It's not that the issues aren't important. They certainly are. But so are root canals and routine bodily functions. Most of us don't want to discuss those for a quarter-century, either.

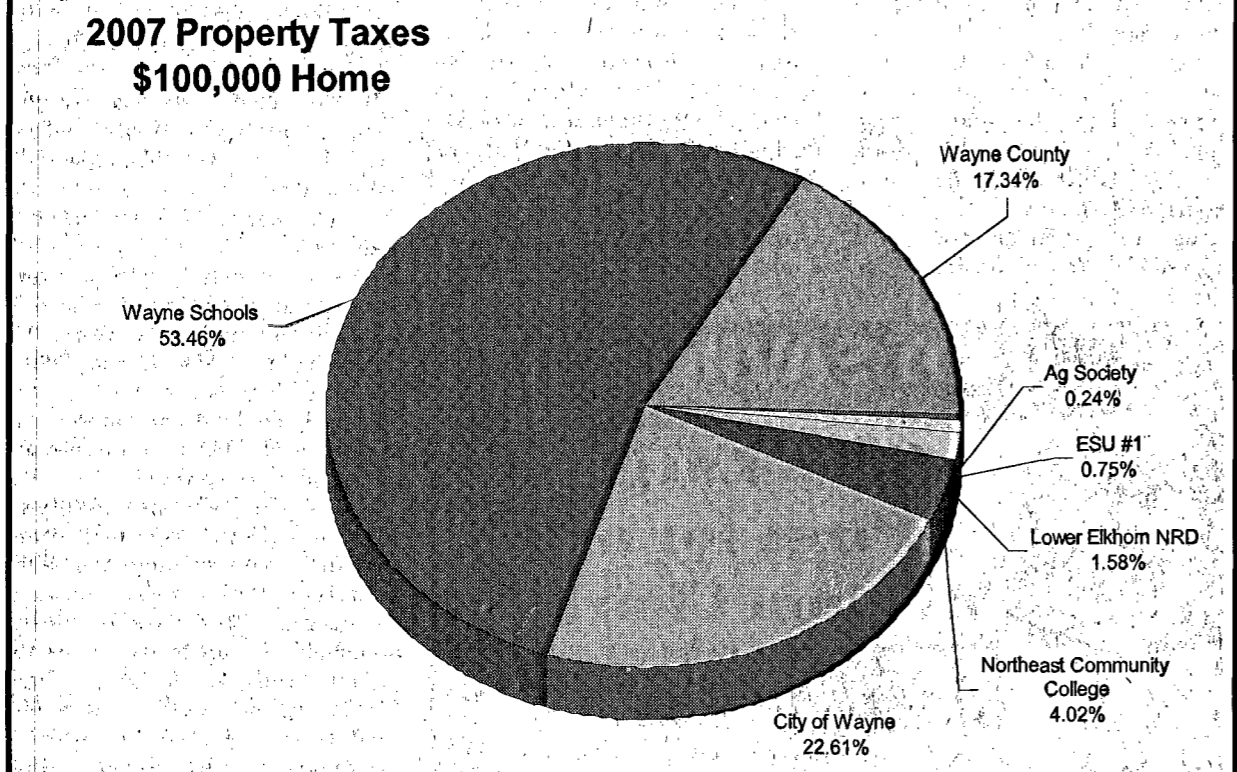

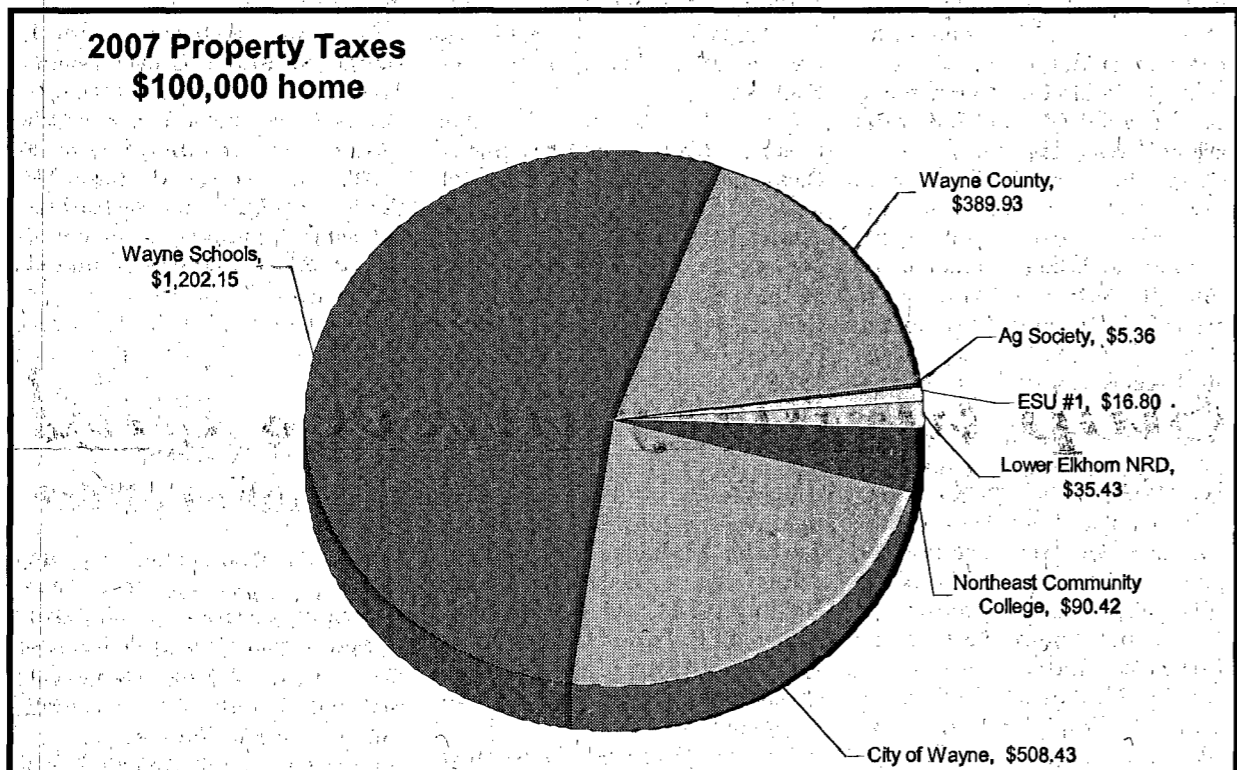

We recently passed on the view that it takes local "people power" to accomplish lasting results when it comes to neighborhood violence, such as that raging through a portion of Omaha.

Mayor Mike Fahey is calling on churches and faith-based organizations to become more active in trying to quell the gun violence that has increasingly plagued the state's biggest city. The rate of shootings, including fatal shootings, is rising, especially in the minority dominated area of North Omaha.

Grand opening

Natalie Endicott, right, welcomed those in attendance at Friday's Chamber Coffee. Endicott recently took ownership of Jammer Photography in Wayne. She spoke about the services available and awarded several door prizes to those in attendance. The business hosted an open house throughout the day for the community.

Where the money goes

The pie charts shows the allocations of the current property tax in Wayne. The city mill levy for next year's budget will be the same as this year. The city's full-time employee staffing levels in the budget remain the same for next year. The city of Wayne's fiscal year runs from Oct. 1 through Sept. 30. The charts represent the year 2007 tax askings.

Bruning comments on death penalty case

Attorney General Jon Bruning recently commented on the death penalty case of child killer Raymond Mata of Scottsbluff. Oral arguments were presented to the Nebraska Supreme Court.

Bruning said the State argued that electrocution does not violate the cruel and unusual punishment clause of the 8th Amendment.

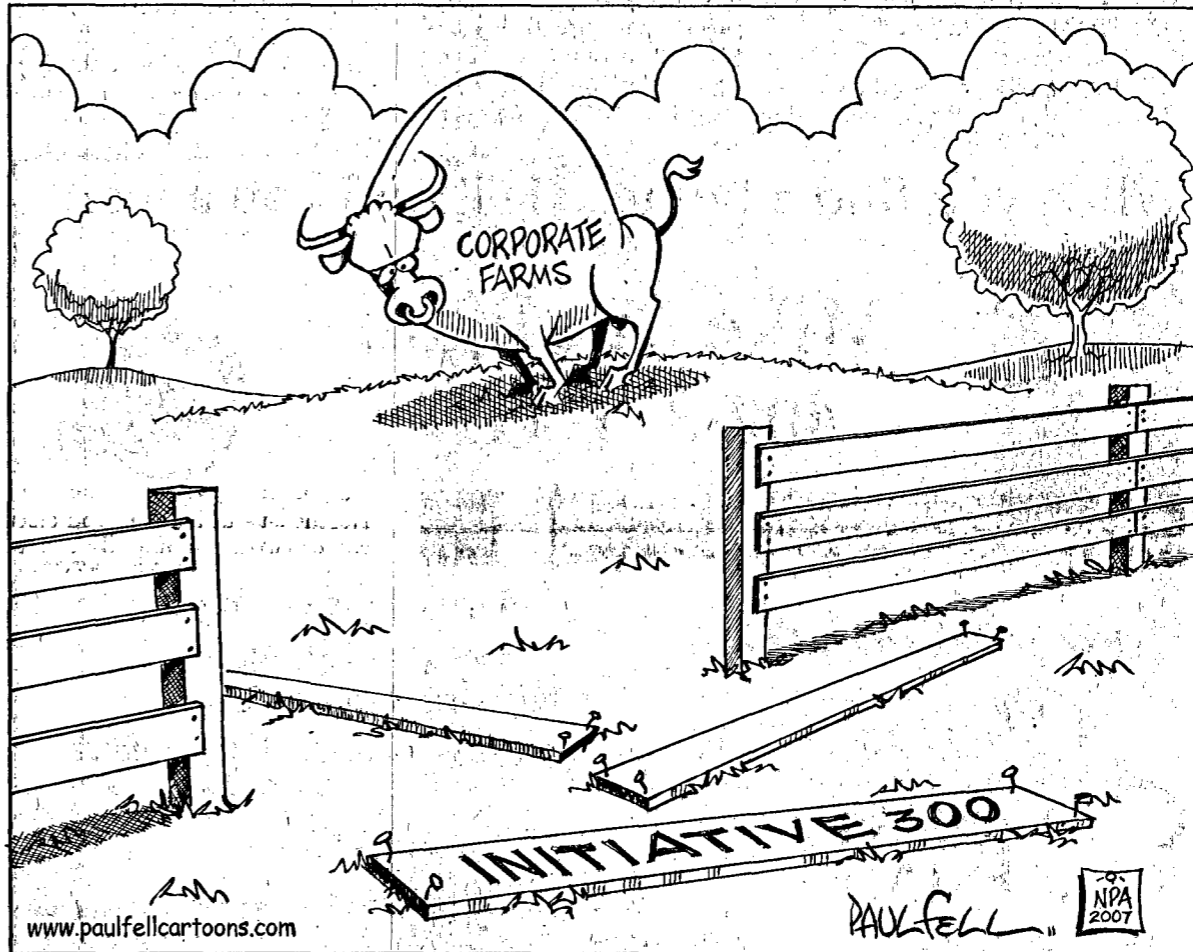

"We asked the court to uphold the Nebraska Legislature's chosen method of execution and allow justice to move forward," Bruning said.

The State argued that the U.S. Supreme Court has never found that any method of execution violates the 8th Amendment. The state district court found Mata offered no convincing evidence that electrocution causes a death-sentenced prisoner "unnecessary pain."

The State also argued that the fact that Nebraska is the only state that authorizes electrocution as its sole method of execution is not relevant. Currently 12 state legislatures have approved electrocution as a method of enforcing death sentences. That number has remained stable over the last decade.

"The problem with the death penalty is the length of time it takes to impose a sentence," Bruning said. "Victims sometimes wait 20 to 30 years until justice is served."

NSP display drives home importance of seat belts

The white car ripped to shreds sits on a flatbed trailer surrounded by a simple safety message, "seat belts save lives." The display is a poignant reminder of a day that forever changed the lives of four Madison County teens and their families.

Put together by Nebraska State Patrol Trooper Chris Mannel with the help of community sponsors, the white car and its story were on display for all to see and learn from during the Nebraska State Fair.

Trooper Mannel investigated the crash in March 2005, which claimed the life of one teen, and seriously injured two others. A fourth teen escaped with only minor injuries. The investigation determined that speed coupled with an inexperienced driver contributed to the crash.

While all four teens were wearing their seat belts, the force of the crash and the point in which the vehicles impacted resulted in the death of the driver of one of the vehicles. It was determined, due to the tremendous forces involved, no one would have survived the crash had seat belts not been in use.

While not every crash is survivable, statistics from the Nebraska Office of Highway Safety show seat belts increase your odds of surviving a crash by up to 50 percent. What's left of the white car on display drives home the importance of buckling up; each and every time you get into a vehicle.

The Nebraska State Patrol would like to thank the following community sponsors for their support and dedication to saving lives;

AAA Nebraska, Omaha, S&W Welding, West Point, Renner Auto Body, Norfolk, Love Signs, INC., Norfolk.

The willingness of the community sponsors to assist in this project was pivotal in the completion of this powerful display platform. The seat belt display will join the Nebraska State Patrol's Rollover Simulator's and other tools used to educate the citizens of our state about the importance of seat belts and their effectiveness in saving lives and preventing fatalities.

Cyberstalking law takes effect

Attorney General Jon Bruning recently announced Nebraska's cyberstalking law went into effect on Sept. 1. The law makes it a crime for adults to send sexually explicit material to minors using electronic communication devices, such as computers, e-mails and text messages.

State Senator Mike Friend introduced the legislation in January as part of the Attorney General's legislative package.

"Child predators have gone high-tech, and our laws needed to reflect that," Bruning said. "This law will help provide law enforcement with the tools they need to protect our children."

"We as a society have to stay focused on changes in criminal behavior and how our laws apply to those changes," Friend said. "This law will allow our prosecutors to effectively deal with predators that are using the Internet to become more and more aggressive."

Under the cyberstalking law, adults over 18 who knowingly send sexually explicit language and material to victims under 16 could be charged with a class IV felony, punishable by up to five years in prison and a $10,000 fine. Previously, no specific crime for sending sexually explicit material to minors existed. At best, the action could have been charged as a class I misdemeanor, punishable by up to one year in jail and a $1,000 fine.

ASK THE TRAINER

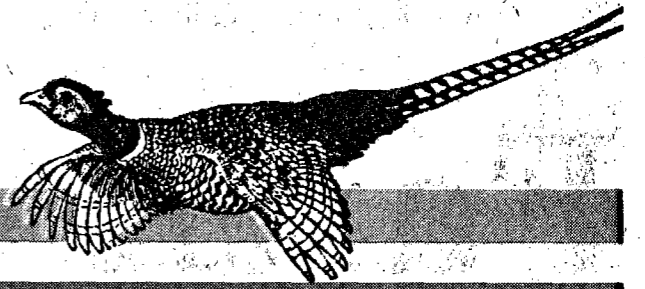

"How do you recommend training the abdominals?" For many people who exercise or are planning to start exercising it seems one of the most sought after results is well defined abdominals. If you flip on the television there is a high likelihood you'll find someone trying to sell you the new way to a "six-pack" stomach. Infomercials make millions trying to sell the easiest way to the best looking abs possible. Most people make the mistake of doing hundreds of repetitions on a daily basis to achieve results. The truth is the abdominal area should be trained just like any other muscle group in the body and it takes time and work to achieve results.

The abdominals are comprised of several muscles: rectus abdominus, transverse abdominus, and the internal and external obliques. If the goal is to "tone" this group of muscles then use 8-12 repetitions of multiple exercises designed to target their different jobs. Intensity is the key to training any muscle and the abs should be treated no differently. Sets and repetitions need to be altered periodically to avoid plateau with a minimum of 24 hours rest in between workouts to allow for recovery. The biggest enemy to seeing your abdominal progress is body fat, so in addition to training follow a healthy diet and you'll be on your way to a chiseled midsection.

Keep the questions coming!

Practice consistency to teach children life lessons Engagements

Consistency in dealing with children's behavior is necessary for effective parenting. Although no parent can expect to be perfectly consistent, some level of consistency is needed for children to learn the lessons of social life and feel self-assured. Children learn appropriate behavior easier when learning conditions remain constant.

Predictable and consistent behavior gives children a sense of security. Children should not have to figure out what parents are going to do next. If rules are consistent, results of disobeying them will be predictable.

The importance of a rule is learned by consistently having it enforced. A child who is disciplined for throwing a ball in the living room on Monday but not disciplined for the same action on Tuesday will be confused. This confusion results in children not understanding the reason for rules or principles. Consistent enforcement of rules and following through with consequences for misbehavior tells the child that rules are important.

Parents should agree on how to discipline their children. To become reliable to children, both parents must be consistent in dealing with similar situations. Disagreeing with each other over upbringing can create a confusing situation for children.

To avoid this type of situation, disagreements are best resolved

Amy Topp
Extension Educator
4-H & Youth

when children are absent. Inconsistency between parents causes children to play one parent against the other. When parents disagree, children naturally go by the easiest set of regulations. It is best for all involved when parents decide on a common set of rules.

When teaching good behavior, parents should "practice what they preach." Children learn values and beliefs more by the examples adults set than by verbal instructions.

Screaming at a child to be quiet or paddling a child for hitting is not effective. Decide what is important and what parental response to use to teach children. It would be more effective to calmly tell the child to be quiet or use "time-out" when a child is physically aggressive.

Allow for, and expect, change. Parents' feelings, children's feelings and specific details are constantly changing. Sometimes common sense will help decide when bedtime rules should be modified or table manners relaxed. As children grow and develop, rules and how to deal with them will change. The rules for a 4-year-old will be different for the same child at age 6 or 8. Some rules will be modified or abolished and new ones will be introduced.

The Winside Legion Post #252 Auxiliary met Aug. 13, with 11 members present and two guests, Girls Stater Michaela Staub and her mother, present.

President Rose Janke called the meeting to order with Chaplain Adeline Anderson opening with prayer, followed by silence for those departed. The "Pledge of Allegiance" and the "Preamble" were recited by the group and singing of the "Star Spangled Banner."

A Service of Prayers planned at Our Savior

A Service of Prayers for the Nation will be offered at Our Savior Lutheran Church on Sunday, Sept. 9 at 7 p.m. This public service of Prayers for the Nation is based on The Lord's Prayer as taught by Jesus of Nazareth and recorded in the Gospels of St. Matthew and St. Luke and includes singing, "God Bless America" and "America" according to Pastor Kim Stover. Pastor Stover invites the community to join in this service. Prayer during the service will be offered through word, through song; through silence and finally through acts of charity toward one another and the world. A Service of Prayers for the Nation includes elected officials, our president and staff as well as members of Congress and the Supreme Court. Prayer petitions allow time for silent prayer by those attending.

Bible study planned at Altona

The Rev. David Ohlman will teach Bible Study at First Trinity Lutheran Church of Altona on Sunday mornings. The classes will be held during the Sunday School hour and will be on the Sixth Day of Creation. Everyone confirmation age and above is encouraged to attend the advanced Bible Study. All children pre-school through eighth grade are encouraged to attend Sunday School. Divine worship services at Trinity Lutheran Church will be held each Sunday at 9:30 a.m.

That the service is offered near September 11 is no coincidence, although there are many days in history when events proved so horrific, prayer seemed the only response. Sciatica Sciatica is defined as pain that radiates from the lower back into the buttocks and down the back of one or both legs, caused by irritation of the sciatic nerves, the largest nerves of the body. It usually begins as an acute pain in the lower back and then radiates down the back of either of both legs. There are 5 pairs of nerves that exit the spine in the lower back. These nerves that exit the spine in the lower back. These nerves make up what we know as the sciatic nerves. If the vertebrae or bones in the lower back are misaligned or out of place; or the disc between the vertebrae are swollen, bulged or herniated, the result is pressure on those nearby nerves. This can cause tremendous pain and normal daily activities become almost impossible.

Symptoms:

- Sensation changes on the back of the calf or the sole of the foot
- Numbness, tingling, burning, pain in back of calf or the sole of the foot.
- Weakness of the knee or foot • Difficulty Walking
- Inability to move the foot (in severe cases)
- Inability to bend the knee (in severe cases)

Treatment: Chiropractic care works on correcting misaligned or out of place vertebrae and can remove the pressure placed on the sciatic nerve, reducing pain and improving flexibility and function. To see if chiropractic may be able to help you call 375-3450 today for a complimentary consultation.

There are no words to express the gratitude we have for the community of Wayne. Thank you for the food, flowers, gifts, prayers and words of encouragement we have received. I praise God everyday for putting us in this community. We thank Dr. Voldstegt, Dr. Lindau, nurses and dietary staff at Providence Medical Center. I had the best experience with everyone that I came in contact with at the hospital. Thank you also to Pastor Lillenkamp and Pastor Pasche for your visits, prayers and emails. Thanks to the Spirit Club for all the food and the beautiful flowers. Our children are truly amazed by the outpouring of friendship from all the teachers and students and their families. Last but not least I thank my husband and children and all my family that have stood beside me and sometimes held me up to fight this battle. Only with God, family and friends can I beat this disease. God is Great!

Jana Anderson

Thank you for the birthday cards, gifts, flowers, balloons, visits, and phone calls in honor of my 90th birthday.
Clyde Baker

Thank you family and friends for the cards, flowers, visits and phone calls after my surgery. Thank you P.M.A. Glen for your visit. You're thoughtfulness and concern are appreciated.
Dale F. Krueger

We would like to extend our heartfelt thanks to Dr. Martin and the nursing staff at Providence Medical Center for the wonderful care Sam received after his injury at the Wayne/Wakefield football game on August 31st. Thank you the EMT staff for their quick response and Laura Gambie for riding with us in the ambulance to the hospital.

Thank you also to Coach Justin Smith from the Wakefield football team for his phone call expressing his get well wishes for Sam.

We would especially like to thank Coach Finkey and his coaching staff, the Wayne High Football team and Sam's friends for their visits while Sam was in the hospital and the phone calls and visits after he was released.

The care and concern shown to Sam and us by so many has touched us deeply and will never be forgotten. It's wonderful to be part of a community that shows its care and support for the people who live here.
