Siouxland Community Blood Bank to accept blood donations from 16 year olds

The Siouxland Community Blood Bank (SCBB) will begin accepting blood donations from 16 year olds in Nebraska and South Dakota, effective Oct. 22.

"This change will standardize our donor requirements across Siouxland," announced Tim Hess, SCBB Director of Marketing. "We're updating the rules in Nebraska and South Dakota to match those already in place in Iowa."

"We currently receive about 18 percent of our blood donations from high school students," said Heather Marreel, SCBB Director of Recruitment. "We're excited to offer high school sophomores in Nebraska and South Dakota the same opportunity to donate as sophomores in Iowa."

To be eligible to donate blood individuals must be at least 16 years of age; however there is no upper age limit as long as the donor is in good health. Donors under the age of 17 require parental consent. In addition, donors need to weigh at least 110 pounds and have not donated whole blood in the past 56 days. A photo I.D. is required at the time of registration.

For more information about the Siouxland Community Blood Bank or blood drives, call 712-252-4208 or 800-798-4208 or visit www.siouxlandbloodbank.org

Community Theatre to present 'Lucky Stiff'

Members of the Wayne Community Theatre, in cooperation with Music Theatre International, will present a musical comedy entitled "Lucky Stiff" Nov. 1-4.

Performances will be held in the Ley Theatre in the Brandenburg Building on the Wayne State College Campus.

Performance times are at 7 p.m. on Thursday, Nov. 1, Friday, Nov. 2 and Saturday, Nov. 3 and at 2 p.m. on Sunday, Nov. 4.

Lynn Arens and Stephen Flaherty wrote this zany, offbeat, and very funny murder mystery farce about an unassuming English shoe salesman Harry Witherspoon (played by John Dunning) forced to take the corpse of his recently murdered Atlantic City crumpier uncle (played by Dan Baddorf) on a week-long vacation to Monte Carlo.

Should he succeed, Harry stands to inherit $6 million. If not, the money goes to the Universal Dog Home of Brooklyn.

The proceedings are sheer lunacy as Harry comes up against his uncle's insanely jealous and legally blind mistress (Carolyn Harder), her much put-upon optometrist brother (Alan Bruffat) and Annabel Glick

(Brooke Heym), a zealous representative from the Universal Dog Home determined to see Harry's inheritance "go to the dogs."

Other cast members include Jim Lindau, Jennifer Nelsen, Liza Landrie, Kyle Mundil, Deb Arickx, Marilyn Quance and Sherie Lundahl.

The show is being directed by Mollie Spieker and music is directed by Deneil Parke.

"Again this year our cast of the musical is incredibly talented, the show is smart and fun and I'm proud that Wayne Community Theatre can provide this quality of entertainment to our audiences. We've added a performance this fall to accommodate the demand in tickets. People are going to love this show," Mrs. Spieker said.

"Lucky Stiff" was first performed Off-Broadway in 1988.

Tickets can be purchased at Pac 'N' Save or at the State National Bank downtown location or by calling Mollie Spieker, 375-2869.

The show is being sponsored in part by the Wayne United Way, The Wayne County Convention and Visitor Bureau and the Nebraska Arts Council.

Neighborhood rivalry

In a battle of unbeaten area teams, Laurel-Concord High School traveled to Wakefield Friday night for the final regular season game. Above, the Wakefield players charge onto the field for introductions. Below, the Laurel-Concord team gathers for last minute instructions before the start of the game. With the end of the regular season, all five high school football teams in the Herald coverage area are moving on to state play-off games, scheduled for Thursday.

Winside Fire Department to note 100th anniversary

For 100 years the Winside Volunteer Fire Department has been protecting Winside and the surrounding community.

To celebrate this milestone, the department is hosting an open house for Sunday, Nov. 4. The event will be held at the Winside Fire Hall from 11 a.m. to 2 p.m. with lunch served during this time.

The Winside Volunteer Fire Department was organized on Dec. 20, 1907.

There had been many fires previous to this time, all of which were handled by the "Bucket Brigade." The water supply at that time was a well in the park and wells in the rear of stores.

A major fire prior to the organizing of the department was in 1888 when the McDermby store and Post Office were destroyed. A water works system and fire hydrants were installed in 1894. This system was paid for with donations and fundraisers, such as dances and suppers.

The first fire hall used by the department was part of Winside's first school building.

For many years the only equipment owned by the department was a two-wheeled cart used to haul hose and equipment.

On Jan. 7, 1908 Ly Holcomb, Manny Hyatt and Herb Lound were appointed to a committee to raise funds for fire equipment. A supper, raffle and dance were held on Feb. 7, 1908. This event raised $194.65, which was used to purchase 14 coats and hats at a cost of $66.65. The cost of outfitting 14 firefighters now would be $29,890.

Charter members of the original fire department were George Barlow, Fed Will, A.M. Hyatt, Herb Lound, Ernest Grauer, Anton Jensen, Lloyd Holcomb, C.J. Unger, Clyde Holcomb, Eddie Weible, Sam Schwerin, Sam Miles, Lew Boock, John Jaskowick and F.Wm. Fleer.

On Feb. 23, 1910 the department purchased badges for all the members and later that year a new rule was put into the by-laws stating that all firemen must wear

Three injuries result from accident by Wakefield

At about 9:30 p.m. on Oct. 22, a two-vehicle crash on Highway # 35 at the south edge of Wakefield sent three people to two Sioux City hospitals. Pedro Valadez was southbound on Highway 35 when a car driven by James Jones of rural Allen was making a left turn onto the same highway.

Wakefield Fire and Rescue Units responded to the scene and transported Valadez to Mercy Medical Hospital in Sioux City. They also transported James Jones and his passenger, Eleanor Jones to St. Luke's Hospital in Sioux City. A passenger that was not injured accompanied Valadez at the time of the crash. James and Eleanor Jones were the only occupants of that car.

The Wayne County Sheriff's Office is investigating the accident and was assisted by the Dixon County Sheriff's Office at the scene.

Blue Devil band earns another Superior rating

The Wayne High School "Pride of the Blue Devils" Marching Band traveled to Lincoln on Oct. 20 and participated in the NSBA State Marching Band Contest.

The contest was held at Seacrest Field.

The Blue Devil Band was the first to perform in their class. The band received a "Superior" rating and trophy at the state contest. In the past 19 years at the State Marching Band Contest, the Blue Devil Marching Band has received one "Excellent" rating and trophy and 18 "Superior" ratings and trophies.

Results from the Class B state competition are as follows:

Superior ratings - Wayne, Pierce, Holdrege, Fort Calhoun, Plattview and Minden.

Excellent ratings - Hastings St. Cecilia, Ashland-Greenwood, Adams Central, Syracuse, Bishop Neuman and David City.

Food safety important this fall entertaining season

The jack o' lanterns are carved and nothing sounds better than curling up with a cup of hot apple cider and pumpkin pie.

However, when it comes to enjoying harvest's bounty, food safety precautions still are important, a University of Nebraska-Lincoln food safety specialist says.

"Fall is a wonderful time for entertaining and having fun, but be sure to take food safety precautions so the fun isn't spoiled," said Julie Albrecht, food safety specialist in the university's Institute of Agriculture and Natural Resources.

Whether preparing a pumpkin pie or pumpkin soup, fresh pumpkins can spoil quickly and should be stored in a cool, dry place until ready to use, Albrecht said.

Pumpkin should be covered and refrigerated once the shell is cut, and pumpkins used as jack o' lanterns should not be eaten.

"Pumpkins can spoil quickly when exposed after carving and when exposed to bacteria," she said. "Be sure to throw away pumpkins as soon as possible after festivities."

Following trick or treating, it's also important to keep chocolate goodies out of reach of pets.

"Chocolate is toxic and can even be fatal for animals," she said.

The toxic substance in chocolate is called theobromine, a compound that is very similar to caffeine. Pure, unsweetened chocolate or cocoa powder is the most dangerous. Onions, grapes, raisins and macadamia nuts also are toxic pet foods.

Another fall treat - hot apple cider - also is popular now throughout the holiday season.

Apple cider and most juices are pasteurized, or have gone through a heat process that kills harmful bacteria.

"If you aren't sure that your cider is pasteurized, boil it for a minute to kill any harmful bacteria, such as E. coli," she said.

Unending job

Christopher Woerdemann was busy last week sweeping up leaves in front of Jacob's Room in downtown Wayne. His mother, Amy, said he enjoys both sweeping and vacuuming.

Library to celebrate Friends of Library Week

The Wayne Public Library invites the public to join in thanking the Friends of Wayne Public Library during National Friends of the Library Week, Oct. 22-28.

The Wayne Friends group was established in 2005 and has raised several thousand dollars for the library to date. Currently, close to 100 community members contribute annually to the Friends and several of these contributors also actively volunteer their time to assist the group with fundraising efforts that include the annual used book sale held every spring.

In just two short years, the Friends of Wayne Public Library have contributed to special programming for adults, provided funds for the children's program and hosted craft days for kids of all ages.

On Saturday, Nov. 24, the Friends will host the second annual Christmas Open House at the Library to help the Wayne community kick-off the Christmas season.

"Our library enjoys many benefits from the Friends," said Library Director Lauran Lofgren. "The funds they raise definitely put the icing on the cake. I think most patrons would be surprised to learn just how many of the services and programs they enjoy are supported by the Friends."

Please contact the library at 375-3135 to find out how to become a member of the Friends, or to find out more about the work they do to support the public library.

Wayne State SAAC Committee to hold food drive on Halloween

The Wayne State College Student Athletic Advisory Committee (SAAC) will hold its third annual Trick or Treat For Cans food drive on Halloween Night (Wednesday, Oct. 31) from 7 - 9 p.m.

Athletes from Wayne State College will go door to door in Wayne, Wakefield and Laurel seeking donations of canned food items that will be forwarded to the Northeast Nebraska Food Pantry in Wayne.

Last year, WSC student athletes collected over 3,500 pounds of canned food items for the Food Pantry.

Wayne and Wakefield receive grant funding from Nebraska Department of Economic Development

The Nebraska Department of Economic Development has awarded $6,268,176 grant funding to communities and local housing partnerships as part of the 2007 Nebraska Affordable Housing Program. Grants are made available to fund housing projects statewide through the Community Development Block Grant (CDBG), HOME Investment Partnership and Nebraska Affordable Housing Trust Fund (NAHTF) programs. All projects listed benefit low- and moderate-income households.

"With readily available affordable housing as a key component to attracting new and expanding businesses, it is essential to ensure our communities are fully capable of providing housing and other amenities that people seek when searching for the ideal place to live and work," said Governor Dave Heineman.

The City of Wayne—A $387,416 NAHTF grant to build 17 homes and provide down payment assistance to nine homebuyers purchasing these homes.

The City of Wakefield—$235,600 CDBG funding to provide down payment assistance for approximately 10 homebuyers.

Expansion planned for Rainbow World Child Care

By Lynn Sievers
Of the Herald

An expansion of Rainbow World Child Care at 1110 E. 14th Street in Wayne is planned. The new building will be just north of the present location and should be finished early in 2008. A groundbreaking is planned for Friday, Nov. 9 at 9:30 a.m.

In April, 2008, Rainbow World will celebrate 15 years. Rainbow World is a non-profit organization and does not receive any government funds or grants. Presently, there are 97 children enrolled in Rainbow World but with the new facility, that number should double. Business hours are Monday through Friday, 6 a.m. to 6 p.m.

Age groups served at Rainbow World are six weeks to 12 years. The divisions are: infant, Wobbler (one year), Toddler (two years), Preschool and school age. When the new building is finished, there

The new building will be constructed just east of Rainbow World. The lot where the expansion will be built is shown in the background.

year olds. The preschool teacher is Becky Wiseman. The board plans

Staff checks each child's development through the use of the ESU #1 at Wakefield, which gives assessments of the children and then follows up with services such as Speech Pathology, Occupational Pathology, Physical Therapy, etc. as needed.

At Rainbow World, early learning guidelines are used, as well as Creative and Theme Based curriculum. In preschool, "Handwriting without Tears" is used, which is a fun way to teach how to make letters. Each classroom has a weekly planned curriculum that includes activities that are age appropriate. Rainbow World works in partnership with Wayne State College (WSC) as students observe and complete internships.

Rainbow World also participates in WOW (Words of Wisdom), which provides continuing education for childcare providers and parents. Rainbow World is also part of the Service Learning division at WSC, which provides opportunity for students and the community to work together.

Rainbow World is part of the Child and Adult Care Food Program (CACFP), which is offered through the State Department of Education and is the same as used by the schools. Breakfast, lunch and snacks are provided at Rainbow World.

The children at Rainbow World are involved in the community as staff take them on walks to the city parks, Premier Estates Senior Living, The Oaks and other locations. The children also take part in activities at the library, Wayne Community Activity Center and in the summer, the school age children go to the swimming pool twice a week.

There are 16 full and part time employees at Rainbow World and several more will be hired next year. Full time employees include: Amber Costa, Robin Johnson, Chris Costa, Cali Broders, Jennifer Knox, Becky Wiseman, preschool teacher and Shelly Fehring, director.

"Since I came three years ago, it's nice to see Rainbow World grow and expand," Shelly Fehring said. "It's nice to know we provide good service for the community. My main concern is that it's a happy and healthy environment for the children and that we are meeting their needs as well as their families. I think not having enough space and a waiting list were the main things that spurred constructing a new building. I feel it is a big plus that most of our full time help has been here a long time."

Rainbow World's board members are: Jan Dyer, president; Melissa Urbanec, vice president; Irene Fletcher, secretary; Jennifer Phelps, financial director. Also, Jeanie Harris, Cory Luft, Todd Luedeke, Kevin Armstrong and Melodie Longe.

"This project started because the city, WAEDI and businesses realized a need for more reliable daycare in Wayne," said Melissa Urbanec, board member and parent with children enrolled at Rainbow World. "Since we started working on our new construction, I have been very pleased with the outpouring of support from community members, businesses, the City of Wayne and WAEDI."

Other parents who have their children enrolled at Rainbow World had this to say, "As a parent, I am very supportive of Rainbow World's services and quality of care," Kim Schultz said. "I am pleased with the city's approval of the building expansion."

"My son, Jamison, loves going to Rainbow World," Melissa Meyer said. "The staff there takes care of him like he was their own. I am very excited for the building expansion. I believe it will allow them to offer Jamison more services and opportunities."

Anyone who would like to donate towards the new expansion, has questions about Rainbow World or would like to place their child's name on the waiting list can call Shelly Fehring at 402-375-3200.

This recent exhibit gave a glimpse into history noting that until December, 1944, most U.S. POWs in Nazi-German camps, per capita, came from the upper Midwest.

Traveling exhibit about Midwest Prisoners Of War in Nazi Germany stops at WSC

The mobile exhibit titled "Behind Barbed Wire" provided a window for history in front of the Student Center on the Wayne State College campus, Oct. 17. Until the Battle of the Bulge in December 1944, most U.S. POWs in Nazi-German camps came, per capita, from the Upper Midwest.

"Behind Barbed Wire," a new exhibit that tours the Great Plains states, explores the experiences of Midwest prisoners of war (POWs) who were imprisoned in Hitler's Third Reich. The St. Paul-based, non-profit educational organization TRACES created this exhibit.

"Behind Barbed Wire" posed five primary questions: why did some Midwest POWs survive certain conditions or experiences, while others did not; what roles did art, freetime and religion play in helping those men who did survive imprisonment by the Nazi regime; why did some Germans or Austrians assist Midwest POWs, while others did not; how did the liberated POWs come to terms with their experiences; and how do nations get beyond war?

As the opening panel of the exhibit reminded viewers, "The prisoner of war experience is one few men or women know directly. Being taken prisoner is, in itself, neither dishonorable nor heroic. Capture is largely an accident; often, it comes as a complete surprise and is frequently accompanied by injury. Usually, the confinement is painful; too often, it is fatal. In war, not everyone is lucky: some lose. Those taken captive are part of the unlucky ones."

According to the exhibit, "There were three main waves of Midwest POWs: those captured in North Africa in 1943, pilots shot out of the sky during the air war over Europe, and soldiers captured at the Battle of the Bulge, near the war's end. All who survived left a provocative legacy: how does armed conflict between groups of people play out, face-to-face, when the guns are lowered; how 'should' humans treat each other and, ultimately, live together?"

Quite a situation

Rehearsals continue for the upcoming Wayne Community Theatre's production of "Lucky Stiff." The play focuses on the ability of an English shoe salesman to take his uncle's corpse to Monte Carlo for a week before inheriting $6 million. Performances will be Thursday through Sunday, Nov. 1-4 in the Ley Theatre on the Wayne State College campus.

Spooktacular

The Carroll Firemen's Annual Halloween Dance was held Saturday at the Carroll Auditorium. Terry and Kathy Luhr of Wayne (above) won the couples costume contest and the Winside firemen won the group costume contest.

Wayne radio station sold

NRG Media has announced that an agreement has been reached to sell KCTY-FM and KTCH-AM in Wayne and KNEN-FM in Norfolk to Red Beacon Communications, LLC.

Red Beacon Communications is a Norfolk-based company headed by Michael Flood. Flood is part owner of US92 (KUSO-FM), through Flood Communications, LLC, and serves as a Senator representing the 19th Nebraska legislative district.

As a result of the completion of the agreement, Red Beacon Communications will begin operating these stations under the terms of an LMA on November 1, 2007.

Mike Flood was in Wayne to meet the staff and to communicate his intention to keep these two stations local. At the present time, no changes in staff are planned.

Mick Kemp was named General Manager in September and will remain as general manager of Oldies 104.9 and Country Classics 1590.

WSC mystery dinner theatre event tickets are available

The Wayne State College Science Fiction and Fantasy Club will host two performances of "Roman Ruins," a mystery dinner theatre event, on Nov. 16 and 17 at 6 p.m. in the Niobrara room of the Student Center on the WSC campus.

Guests will help solve a murder in a garden with a priceless statue missing, follow the performances of the great Roman characters and solve the mystery. The event is intended as a history lesson come to life.

Audience members will have an opportunity to use investigative skills and laughter during an evening meal and event filled with intrigue, suspense, adventure and comedy. This event includes a scripted mystery and improvisation. Guests will watch for anything suspicious and may try to be the first at each table to solve the crime.

badges at all fires, meetings and other functions. If caught without a badge at any of these times, a firefighter had to buy a case of "small ones" (pint bottles of beer). When a new member joined the department, he had to pay a 50¢ deposit for the badge.

Following World War I the fire company broke up, due to lack of interest and leadership. On June 10, 1920, the night of a fire at the Bakery and French Realty building, the department was re-organized.

The first fire truck purchased by the department was a 1927 Model T Ford. In 1931 a Model A Ford truck was purchased at a cost of $497. This truck was purchased from the Gabler Bros. Garage, which was owned by George Gabler. This truck is no longer in service, but is used by the department for parades and celebrations in the area.

In 1941 the Winside Fire Department hosted a N.E. Nebraska Firemen's Convention. The event drew participants from 82 towns and cities with 182 delegates registered and 500 people present at the banquet.

Fire phones were installed in the homes and several businesses in the early 1960's. In 1984 the Village of Winside and the Winside Rural Fire Board installed a pager system which required every member to wear a pager. In 1993 a 9-1-1 system was put in place to report emergencies. Calls are dispatched through the Wayne Police Department.

In 1970 a rescue squad was established. The first firemen to become EMTs were Charles Jackson, Ted Hoeman, Russell Prince and George Voss. The first rescue unit was a Ford station wagon, which was purchased from the State Forestry Service. In 1975 a new Ford van was purchased and was equipped as a rescue unit.

In 1964 a new fire hall was built at the east end of Main Street. The building was financed by the Village and Rural fire funds and was constructed with donated labor. In 1997, the Village of Winside and Winside Rural Fire Board again joined forces to plan for the construction of the current 80' x 80' building. The department moved into the new building in January of 1999.

In 1984 a committee of firemen and EMTs started a fund drive to raise money to purchase a new ambulance. A number of fund raisers, including, basketball games, consignment sale, fishing tournament and sale of Pickle cards. In 1987 a new ambulance was purchased.

Through the years, a number of other vehicles were purchased for use by the department. The most recent is a new Smeal 1250 Gallon Pumper/Tanker with a 1250 GPM pump on a 2007 Freightliner four door chassis. The vehicle has been in service since Aug. 31 of this year.

At the present time there are 26 active members of the Winside Volunteer Fire and Rescue Department. Eighteen of these are both EMTs and firefighters.

Myron (Mike) Miller is president of the department; John Thies, vice president; Shelli Keiser, secretary/treasurer and Marysa Wagner, privacy officer.

Other officers include Terry Nelson, Pickle card officer; Kenny Jensen, maintenance officer and Chris Olander, training officer.

The department has eight vehicles, which include the 1931 truck, a pumper/tanker, two ambulances, two pumpers, a first response vehicle and a grass rig.

Donald Skokan is fire chief; Ronald Prince is assistant fire chief/pickle card officer and VerNeal Marotz is rescue captain.

The department currently responds to 70 to 80 rescue calls per year and 25 to 35 fire calls each year. This includes both call in the Winside Fire District as well as mutual aid calls to area communities.

Recent recall of cold and cough medicines discussed; local pharmacists give comments

Recently several popular cold and cough medicines were taken off pharmacy shelves because of overdose dangers for children. The recalled brands of medicine included Dimetapp, Little Colds, PediaCare, Robitussin, Triaminic and Tylenol. Most products are drops for colds and coughs and thin strips for decongestants.

Although the medicines have been proven to be safe, officials claim some parents aren't giving the correct dosages to their infants.

Even though products such as Triaminic were recalled, doctors say the medications themselves aren't dangerous but instead, they say parents are mis-dosing their children.

Physicians stated that it is very important to realize that children two and under need to be dosed a very small amount and if you go over that amount there are safety concerns.

Some of the side effects that come with the safety concerns are irritability, over-sedation, becoming agitated easily, the child losing a normal waking pattern and some cases even resulted in death.

Many experts are calling for mandatory warning labels be put on these medicine boxes saying children under the age of two should not use them.

Local pharmacists gave their comments about the problem. Mark Patefield of U-Save in Wayne noted they took PediaCare (for infants) off their shelf. He said the situation is unfortunate as the recalled brands have been used a long time and are effective.

"It is sad because the recalled medicine worked well and more than anything it is a case of people not paying attention," Patefield said. "People assume because the medicine isn't prescription that there is no risk but that is wrong. If the directions state a certain amount, you shouldn't give more than that."

He continued that when giving a dosage, you have to consider both the age and the weight of the child. He noted U-Save is a resource. They also have a dosage chart that people can refer to.

Several cold and cough medicines were taken off pharmacy shelves recently due to overdose dangers to children.

He ended with children and infant medicines have basically the same ingredients but different dosages. Infants medicines are more concentrated. Grabbing children's medicine and dividing it for infants can cause problems. Labels state that for children under six, contact a doctor. Strong labels may help end the problem.

Becky Barner of Pamida Pharmacy in Wayne said the recall of the infant cold and cough medicine will help end confusion as the infant products are more concentrated than childrens. For safety, the recall is a good move.

"I encourage parents to call in if they have questions," Barner said. "Children grow so fast and symptoms change from one illness to the next. When they call, we can discuss the age and weight of their child, because both are important when it comes to how much medicine should be given."

Anyone with questions is urged to call the local pharmacists or stop in and talk to them. The telephone numbers and addresses of the pharmacies in Wayne are: U-Save Pharmacy, Inc., 216 E. 7th Street; 402-375-2922 and Pamida Pharmacy, 615 Dearborn Street, 402-375-2079.

The mighty, mighty Trojans pull through tough contest with Bears, remain undefeated

After their game against the Laurel Bears, the Wakefield Trojans football team gathered on their home-field 50-yard line with family and friends, chanting

Everywhere we go
Everywhere we go (chorus)
People want to know
People want to know
Who we are
Who we are
So we tell them
So we tell them
We are the Trojans
We are the Trojans
The mighty, mighty Trojans
The mighty, mighty Trojans
The chant is featured in the movie "Remember the Titans." The movie, a classic football film, is about boys uniting as a team under any circumstances.

As in the movie, the Trojans used the line as a symbol of unity, a unity that has now led Wakefield to 21 consecutive wins over two seasons and an excellent shot at a repeat C-2 championship title.

"We focus on getting better everyday in practice," said head coach Justin Smith. That is one of our philosophies. We don't even talk about the streak.

"Our kids are good sports. We stress not celebrating in unsportsmanlike ways, giving the ball to the officials after plays, and helping other players on the opposing teams up. Winning isn't just about the score on the board, it is a matter of behavior as well."

However, last Friday, Oct. 19, people from all over the district streamed into Eaton Field to bear witness to the score of "the" regular season game. A game in which two undefeated teams, the Laurel-Concord Bears and the Wakefield Trojans, clashed like titans, seeing much the same fashion until a break, with three seconds left on the clock, resulted in a 20-yard run by Ryan Klein that finally broke the goal-line barrier. After Usvaldo Reyes made good on the extra point, the half ended with Wakefield in the lead 7-0.

"We gave up a couple of big plays and they converted on them," said the Bear's head coach Terry Bear.

hitting Tyler Petersen four times for 46 yards and Eli Schantz one time for 50 yards. However, Erwin could not deliver a touchdown pass—TD passes being a vital part of Bear scoring.

"We stressed all week the importance of pressuring a quarterback to get him out of rhythm," said Smith. "To prepare we just used our base coverages that we used all failed, and they fell just short of tying the mark 7-6.

Once again, the defense of both teams took over, stopping many scoring opportunities within 10 yards of their respective goals. Hard hits were administered from the Bears side, as No. 7 Erwin and No. 33 Andrew Gothier led the way with 12 and 10 tackles respectively. Despite continuing tough defensive play by the Bears, the Trojans had an answer in the form of quarterback Joel Nixon.

Less than a minute into fourth-quarter play, Nixon led the Trojans down the field and delivered another touchdown off of a 10-yard run. Reyes extra point made the score 14-6.

Although Laurel-Concord threatened to score, the Trojans held on to the bitter end, maintaining their lead. In the end, the Trojans' 217 rushing yards, 116 of which came from Ian Miner, outshined the Bears' 62 rushing yards.

"The" game was over, and the Bears walked bruised but not broken to the southern goal. Meanwhile Wakefield gathered on the 50-yard line of their home field, celebrating their victory and making sure everyone remembered the Trojans.

Wakefield and Laurel will both be playing in play-off action today, Oct. 25.

Laurel (7-1) will face Palmyra (5-3) at home at 6 p.m.

Wakefield's Ian Miner outruns Laurel's Johnny Saunders.

Wakefield (8-0) will match up against Louisville (4-4) at home at 4:30 p.m.

Wildcats overcome slow start, post win

Wayne State overcame a slow start and went on to defeat MSU Moorhead 3-1 in NSIC volleyball Friday evening at Rice Auditorium for the Wildcats' fifth straight win. Scores of the match were 15-30, 30-26, 30-23 and 30-23.

MSU Moorhead jumped out quickly, using an array of blocks, to roll in the first game 30-15 forcing WSC into 12 hitting errors. However, WSC rebounded and won the next three games by scores of 30-26, 30-23 and 30-23 as the Wildcats improved to 8-4 in league play and 16-9 overall.

Senior middle hitter Emily Schroeder recorded 19 kills and 14 digs to lead Wayne State. Brittany Van Beek accounted for 11 kills with Jordan Schaffer adding 10. Senior libero Laura Dolezal finished with 37 digs and freshman setter Jenna Jansen handed out 49 set assists for the Wildcats.

MSU Moorhead's top hitter was Megan Norling with 18 kills to go with 20 digs. Libero Calla Oftedahl had 45 digs and Julie Vancura was credited with 49 set assists. The Dragons are now 14-7 overall and 9-5 in the NSIC.

WSC ruggers play for conference championship, hand out hot dogs

The men's Wayne State College rugby team will play their final game of the year at home on Oct. 27, at noon against Univ. of Nebraska-Omaha.

Admission will be free, and free hot dogs will be given out to all fans. The winner of this game will be champion of the Great Plains Rugby Conference and will get an automatic bid to the USA National Playoffs.

Blue Devils score win against O'Neill, head to playoffs

In a game that was moved from Oct. 18 to Oct. 19, the Blue Devil football team pummeled O'Neill on the Eagles' home turf 31-6.

"Friday's game was one in which we finally put together four good quarters of football," said head coach Kevin Finkey. "With the exception of three big penalties in the first period to stop our only drive, we played very well."

Wayne outrushed (248 rushing yards to O'Neill's 130) and outpassed (138 passing yards to O'Neill's 24) O'Neill, gaining the upper hand on offense.

After a scoreless first quarter, the Blue Devils put together a mounting attack led by Matt Poehlman's 108 yards rushing on 14 carries, and Jesse Hill's recurring connection with Sam Kurpgewit. Kurpgewit caught eight Hill passes for three touchdowns and 90 yards.

Daniel Muren led the special teams going 4-for-4 on extra points and hitting a 35-yard field goal in the fourth quarter.

The only other Blue Devil score occurred in the second quarter when Poehlman carried the pigskin over the goal line.

Hill completed 13-of-20 on the afternoon and followed Poehlman's lead, rushing for 84 net yards of Hill's own.

Derek Poutre and Nathan Sieler also chipped in with 21 rushing yards and 23 rushing yards, respectively.

Cory Harm nabbed three catches for 30 yards, and Taylor Racely pulled in two aerials for 18 yards.

Defensive play was led by Micah Agler, who totalled eight tackles.

Kurpgewit and Poehlman tackled six and five Eagles, respectively. Ryan Pieper and Sieler contributed four tackles apiece.

Sieler's defensive efforts did not stop there, however. He also blocked a kick returning it five yards.

The Blue Devil's record was improved to 4-4 after this win, earning them a ticket into the playoffs in which they will travel to their opponents house.

They will face-off against West Point-Beemer on Thursday, Oct. 25 at 7 p.m.

"Thursday's game with West Point will be a big game for both teams," said Finkey. "We [Wayne and West Point-Beemer] are close in power points, and only have a few common opponents, with the same results in those games."

Colby Henderson stretches to grab a pass. The pass fell incomplete.

The fourth grade Junior Blue Devils played their second and final game of the season against Emerson on Oct. 16. Wayne won the game, 20-0, ending their season 1-1. Drew Davis scored the first points of the game, rushing 19 yards for a touchdown. Dylan Hurlbert connected with Noah Braun for the two-point conversion after Davis' touchdown. In the second quarter, Malik Knox scored on a 27-yard run, raising the score to 14-0 at halftime. The third quarter was scoreless, but the fourth quarter proved fruitful for the Junior Blue Devils as Keith Mundil hauled the pigskin 23 yards for a touchdown.

Bear volleyball experiences NENAC success

The Laurel-Concord Bears won the first two rounds of the NENAC tournament, improving their record to 17-3.

In the first round, Laurel-Concord walked over Randolph in three straight sets on Oct. 22.

"The athletes did what they needed to do to earn a first-round win in the tournament," said head coach Patti Cunningham. "Several members served aggressively, and the team made adjustments defensively, allowing us to keep Randolph out of system throughout most of the match."

Kari Schroeder led the players in strong serving with seven aces. Amanda Troyer and Keena Twohig both added to the ace tally with four and one respectively.

Jenni Schroeder led the defensive play with 18 digs. K. Schroeder followed her sister closely with 16 digs. Jessica Pigg and Kacie Gould both kept nine balls alive. Troyer also contributed eight digs.

Tarah Jelinek assisted the Bear's defensive play by blocking five times, collecting ace-block points on three of those. Jessica Pigg, Taryn Dahlquist and K. Schroeder all posted a single ace block.

Troyer kept the offense running dishing out 23 set assists.

Jelinek led the offense with 11 kills. K. Schroeder was next in line with seven kills. Dahlquist and Gould both tallied four kills.

The final score was 25-8, 25-20 and 25-18.

In the second round, the Bears faced Crofton on their home court on Oct. 23.

The match was a hard-fought trial of determination in which the Bears won in four close sets, 25-13, 17-25, 27-25 and 25-19.

"The girls showed a lot of determination through out the match and worked to overcome any let downs," said head coach Patti Cunningham. "Players demonstrated leadership, commitment to each other, and a focus on dictating the outcome of the game."

The offense was led by K. Schroeder's 17 kills. Gould also contributed with 11, closely followed by Jelinek, who tallied eight kills.

K. Schroeder also contributed three points in ace serves to the Bear offense. Pigg, Gould and Troyer all contributed a single ace serve as well.

Troyer's 43 set assists kept the hitters going.

The defense was led by J. Schroeder, who recorded 23 digs. Pigg posted 12 digs. Gould and Troyer both put 11 digs into the books.

The Bears will participate in sub-district play on Oct. 29 in Norfolk Catholic.

Eagles blast Coleridge in DakotaDome Contest

by Dave Uldrich

Eagles faithful who traveled to Vermilion were treated to a game of two different halves; the Eagles stumbled to a 21-16 halftime lead and then turned on the jets, running off to a 60-16 win over Coleridge on Oct. 18.

The Eagles scored early, taking the first drive of the game down the field for a score, as William Gnat took a 13-yard pass from Drew Diediker. The Eagles held the Bulldogs on the team's second series, and Diediker again went to the air, hitting Michael Bock on a 44-yard strike. Diediker passed to Bock for the PAT and a 15-0 lead.

Coleridge responded on their next offensive play as Jamie Huss passed to Alex Broderson to cut the lead to 15-8.

The Eagles either let up, or became confused for the next 10 minutes of football as Coleridge converted on play after play, and with 3:43 left in the half, Coleridge took the lead, as Huss hit Hefner again.

The Eagles came back on the final offensive play of the half. Diediker found Gnat on a 46-yard touchdown pass, repeating the action for the two-point conversion. Allen regained the lead at halftime, 23-16 at halftime.

In the second half, the Eagles marched the second half kickoff the length of the field, and Diediker dove over from a yard out.

The Eagles defense held the

Trojan volleyball triumphs in last five battles

The Trojans' volleyball team won both all three rounds of the Lewis and Clark Tournament on Oct 22 and 23.

In their first round, Wakefield played Osmond and won in three straight sets, 25-15, 25-23 and 25-17.

Kristina Lunz had a solid game posting 10 kills, a single ace block, five ace serves and five digs. Whitney Rouse also recorded an excellent game with one kill, 20 set assists, a single ace serve and ten digs.

Other offensive contributors included Carly Gardner (eight kills), Lexi Nelson (four kills) and Des Driskell (two kills).

Anna Brownell chipped in with two ace serves, and Nelson, Bard and Henderson also posted a single ace serve.

Nelson led the defense with 17 digs, closely followed by Brownell with 14 digs. Rouse and Henderson notched 10 digs respectively.

In the second round, the Trojans faced Newcastle, upping their record to 24-6.

The score was 25-11, 25-13 and 25-5.

Lunz, Gardner and Nelson all put two ace blocks into the books. Lunz also posted 11 kills and three ace serves.

Gardner and Nelson posted three and six kills respectively. Brownell and Nelson both recorded 11 digs, and Rouse put 12 digs into the record books.

Rouse also shelled out 16 set assists.

In the third and final round which took place on Oct. 23, Wakefield battled Coleridge for the tournament championship, winning in three sets 25-18, 16-25 and 25-23.

Lunz had a powerful showing once again, dishing out 13 kills, one set assist, six ace blocks, four ace serves and six digs.

On the offensive side, Gardner and Nelson both chipped in seven kills, and Bard hit two serves home for aces.

Brownell led the defense with 25 digs. Rouse, who tallied 35 set assists on the night, also recorded a double-digit dig mark with 15. Nelson contributed 14.

The Trojans also played their last games of the season on Oct. 18 at the Winnebago triangular.

Wakefield won both games. In their first contest, Wakefield won against Winnebago in two straight sets, 25-8 and 25-12.

Whitney Rouse orchestrated the offense with fourteen set assists. Lunz and Gardner both posted five kills on the night. Brownell, Nelson, Driskell and Chelsea Sherer all accounted for two kills.

Lunz also tallied the only ace block on the evening.

Rouse and Brownell who both dug seven balls led the defense. Keri Lunz and Nelson had three digs apiece.

Six Trojans marked at least one ace serve.

In their second contest, the Trojans met up with Homer and defeated the Knights in three sets 22-25, 25-23 and 25-10.

Four Trojans reached double digits in digging tallies, including Jenna Henderson's leading tally of 21 digs.

Lunz led the offense with ten kills. Gardner and Anna Brownell both accounted for six kills. Nelson posted five kills.

Rouse also contributed by dishing out 25 set assists.

The Trojans finished their regular season with a 22-6 record.

Lady Eagles downed by Newcastle in Tournament

By Missy Sullivan

The Lady Eagles traveled to Wakefield to begin the Lewis & Clark Tournament. They were paired against Newcastle, who they had lost to in five sets previously in the season.

This time would be no different. The Eagles lost in three sets - 20-25, 17-25, and 22-25.

"We continue to struggle, communication being our biggest problem, and ourselves our biggest competitor," said head coach Denise Hingt. "We had a hard time getting the pass to the setter, which transferred into our hitting and setting."

"If we can not run an offense, we need to step up our defense and that didn't happen."

In other competition the Lady Eagles traveled to Homer on Tuesday, Oct. 16. The Eagles went in hoping to improve their split record of 11-11 to a winning one. That didn't work out.

The Eagles lost in four sets - 14-25, 18-25, 25-19 and 24-26.

The first and second set didn't go the Eagles' way, because Allen had a hard time setting up the offense. Homer was scrappy and dug up everything the Eagles delivered.

By the third set, it seemed the girls were ready to play and took the set 25-19. The Fourth set went back and forth with both teams working hard for the win. The Eagles came up short - losing 24-26.

Courtney Sturges led in set assists with 26. In serving, Sarah Sullivan had a good night with six ace serves followed by Jenny Warner with four. In hitting, Sarah Sullivan led with 11 kills followed by Jenny Warner with six and Codi Hingt with five.

Defensively, Warner led at the net with five ace blocks. In digs, Kelynn Cyr led with 14 digs followed by Sullivan with 13.

The Eagles will compete in sub-district play on Oct. 29 and 30 on Hartington Cedar Catholic's home court.

Wayne's Michelle Jarvi and Kaitlyn Centrone go up for the block.

The Wayne volleyball team squared up against Pierce and Madison in the first and second rounds of the Mid-States Tournament on Oct. 22.

The Blue Devils lost their first round competition with the hard-hitting Pierce, 25-17, 25-20 and 25-20.

Michelle Jarvi led both offensive and defensive efforts with ten kills and 24 digs.

Three other Blue Devils reached double-digit, dig figures: Samantha Dunklau (12), Liz Kenny (11) and Jessica Kranz (15).

Kranz also recorded one kill and two set assists.

Dunklau's 18 set assists allowed Justine Carroll, Megan Loberg, and Kaitlyn Centrome to convert on three, two and four kills, respectively.

Carroll, Centrome, and Kenny also added to the Wayne tally with a single ace serve apiece.

In round two, the Blue Devils recovered nicely, disposing of Madison in three straight sets, 25-10, 25-19 and 25-14.

In the match seven Blue Devils scored on ace serves.

Jarvi led the spiking effort once again with a tally of 11. Carroll trailed Jarvi with eight kills of her own. Kenny dispensed six kills against the dragons, and Centrome pounded out four kills.

Samantha Dunklau's 27 set assists, two kills, three ace serves and ten digs contributed greatly to the Blue Devil victory.

Jarvi led the defense with 15 digs. Jessica Kranz saved 11 of her own, and Kenny kept six balls alive.

After losing the first round and winning the second round, the Blue Devils then matched up against Boone Central on Oct. 23, winning in three sets, 26-24, 25-17 and 25-14.

Jarvi continued her outstanding tournament play, once again leading the Blue Devils in defense and offense. She tallied 13 kills and 15 digs.

Ace serves also played a big role in the Blue Devil win once again. Carroll (two aces), Centrome (two aces), Dunklau (two aces) and Kenny (one ace) all reaped ace serve points.

Kenny and Kranz both contributed 11 digs to the defense. They were closely followed by Courtney Preston, who chipped in with 10 digs.

Loberg was the next in line after Jarvi in the offensive effort, recording seven kills. Carroll and Dunklau both put away five kills of their own.

Dunklau also contributed 25 set assists.

The win gave the Blue Devils fifth place in the tournament.

In regular season play, the Blue Devils traveled to Hartington for the Hartington Cedar Catholic (HCC) triangular.

The Blue Devils split their triangular games falling to HCC and victing over O'Neill.

After winning their first game 23-25, the Blue Devils fell short in two straight games (25-23 and 25-15) to HCC.

Jarvi led the Blue Devils' effort with 21 kills and 16 digs. Carroll added 11 kills and ten digs.

For the offense, Loberg (three), Centrome (two), Dunklau (two) and Kenny (one) all added to the kill tally.

Kenny and Loberg also provided a block apiece to the defensive effort.

Other defensive contributions were made by Kenny, who dug 14 balls, Jessica Kranz, who supplied 10 digs. Courtney Preston and Loberg also supplied seven digs apiece.

Dunklau shelled out 38 set assists in the match.

Impressive serving led the Blue Devils to a win against O'Neill, 25-14 and 25-15.

In the contest, the Blue Devils had six ace serves. Dunklau supplied two of those serves while Jarvi, Loberg, Centrome and Kenny all chipped in with one.

Dunklau dispensed 24 set assists, allowing Jarvi, Carroll, Loberg and Centrome to shell out kills.

Jarvi's 11 kills and eight digs led the team on offense and defense.

Preston also supplied the defense with eight digs while Kenny and Kranz both supplied seven digs apiece. Dunklau's five digs were also a contributing factor to the Wayne win.

Winside drops heart breaker to Wynot

By Lee Koch

Winside was eliminated from the Lewis and Clark Conference Volleyball Tournament as the Wildcats suffered a heartbreaking five-set loss to the Wynot Blue Devils.

After winning the first and fourth games the Wildcats dropped the tie breaker 18-16 in a tightly-contested match where neither team had more than a two-point advantage before the Blue Devils scored consecutive game points.

Katie Gray and Hillary Lienemann led the Winside offense with 10 and 11 kills, respectively. Sam Harmeier contributed six blocks to the Wildcats defense. Audrey Roberts posted 31 digs to the Wildcats effort with Sally Schwedhelm adding 18 digs. Gray, who also played well on the defensive side of the net, tallied 20 digs.

The Wildcats advanced to the quarterfinal round of the tournament with an easy three game victory over Walthill 25-12, 25-16 and 25-3.

Winside spread the kills around as the Wildcats recorded 25 kills during the three-game win. Ashley Doffin (5), Lienemann (5), Gray (3), Shelby Meyer (3) and Sally Schwedhelm (3) led the Wildcats offense.

Audrey Roberts contributed 13 digs and Lienemann added eight ace serves to the Wildcats victory.

Winside outscored visiting Hartington 25-14, 25-17 and 25-20 in their final regular season game earning the Wildcats a three-game victory and upping the team's season record to 12-10.

Hillary Lienemann, with her eight kills, four ace serves and three blocks, led the Wildcats attack with Audrey Roberts heading up the Winside defensive effort with 22 digs.

Sam Harmeier added six kills and three blocks to the team's effort. Jordyn Roberts, who tallied 13 set assists and two kills, and Mashala Thies with her 11 set assists and three aces contributed to the Wildcats victory.

The Wildcats (13-10) will travel to Wakefield on Oct. 30 for sub-district play.

In the men's division, MSU Moorhead rolled to the team title with 38 points with Wayne State in second at 64. Northern State was third at 68 points and Mary in fourth with 70. Rounding out the team scoring were Winona State (131) and Concordia-St. Paul with 147 points.

Wayne State junior Nate Preston, a graduate of Omaha Benson, was the individual men's champion with a time of 25:50 on the 8,000-meter course. It was the second straight season that WSC had the individual champion after Jeremiah Herron (now graduated) won last year's individual title. Kyle Eckhoff of MSU Moorhead placed second, 10 seconds behind Preston, in a time of 26:00.

Also earning All-NSIC honors for the WSC men was freshman York Thomas of Lennox, South Dakota, who placed 10th overall at 26:49. The next runner for the Wildcats was John Kern, who was 14th at 27:19.

Wayne State will compete at the NCAA North Central Regional Championships on Saturday, Nov. 3 in Vermillion, S.D.

Concordia-St. Paul edges WSC in NSIC volleyball, 3-2

No. 4 Concordia-St. Paul edged Wayne State 3-2 in Northern Sun Conference volleyball played Saturday evening in Wayne. Scores of the match were 30-26, 28-30, 31-33, 30-26 and 16-14. The visiting Golden Bears improve to 25-2 overall and 14-1 in the NSIC while Wayne State is now 16-10 overall and 8-5 in league play.

CSP held a slight edge in hitting over the Wildcats, 160 to 148 as the Golden Bears recorded 86 kills to 69 for Wayne State. Emily Palkert accounted for 25 kills to lead Concordia-St. Paul followed by Kate Bennett with 18. Libero Mary Slinger finished with 35 digs and Maggie McNamara, the NCAA Division II leader in assists, handed out 75 for the Golden Bears in the win.

Wayne State's Emily Schroeder finished with a rare triple-double, posting 21 kills, 16 digs and 11 blocks. Brittany Van Beek added 12 kills and Jordan Schaffer finished with 11. Libero Laura Dolezal notched 26 digs and setter Jenna Jansen was credited with 58 set assists.

Katie Jacobsen celebrates after her race. Jacobsen earned a 15th place finish in spite of prior illness.

Laurel-Concord/Coleridge's Haahr, Jacobsen haul hardware home

In the 2007 state cross country meet held in Kearney on Oct. 19, Megan Haahr repeated a feat she had performed in both the 2006 and 2005 state cross country meets; she medaled. Haahr, who placed fifth her freshman year and 11th her sophomore year, strided her way to a 14th place finish (16:50.10) this year. Haahr was not alone however, she was followed closely by freshman Katie Jacobsen, whose 15th place finish was more than a battle won. Jacobsen had been fighting pneumonia in the weeks prior to the meet. As a result, she ran little in the days that led up to the big event, but still pulled through with a time of 16:50.94—just good enough to earn Jacobsen a medal. Nicholas Burbach, the only male competitor for Laurel-Concord/Coleridge, placed 63rd in his 5,000-meter race with a time of 19:26.49. Other area harrriers included Michaela Staub of Winside. Staub was a returning state cross country qualifier. This year, Staub placed 93rd with a time of 18:39.

Four Blue Devils chosen for All District C-5 softball honors, 2 earn honorable mention

The Blue Devil softball team raked in even more honors as four members of the 2007 state runner up softball team became All District C-5 softball picks, and another two earned honorable mention spots. Shannon Jarvi, Alesha Finkey, Andrea Pieper and Nicole Rauner were selected to the all-district team.

Onderstal takes 12th at state cross country meet

The Wayne cross country runners obtained their goals at the state meet on Oct. 19 in Kearney. "If you look at the state ratings our boys were totally out of the picture. Our goal [the boys' team] was to improve on last year's eighth-place finish," said head coach Rocky Ruhl. "We accomplished that and then some."

The boys team placed sixth, finishing just two points behind the fifth-place team of Bennington.

"I am extremely pleased with our finish and how we ran. We beat Syracuse who was a district champion and avenged an earlier loss to Millford at the Aquinas Invite," said Ruhl.

Sheldon Onderstal, a senior, took 12th place with a time of 17:37, earning a state medal for the first time in his career. He was the only Blue Devil to receive a medal.

Other Blue Devil runners included Zach Long who finished in 37th place (18:31), Andrew Long, 54th place (18:55), Zach Thomsen, 56th place (19:01), Reggie Ruhl, 66th place (19:20) and Shawn Jenkins, 69th place (19:26).

The boys competed in a 12-team, 94-individual-runner field.

Jordan Alexander was the only female competitor for the Blue Devils.

"Alexander had a great race for her first running at state cross country," said coach Ruhl. She experienced a fast first mile and had a great finish.

"Down the stretch she used her strength to pass over six runners to almost get into the top 30."

Alexander finished in the 31st spot with a time of 17:27.

"State is always a different atmosphere from any other meet you run during the season. Energy and adrenaline levels are higher than usual with a state championship on the line," said coach Ruhl. "As a runner, you have to fight back temptations to run at a faster rate than you have ever run when you start the race. If you can keep that in control and run a first mile that your body can handle you usually have a good race. I thought we did that at state."

The Blue Devil Boys team are poised at the line, waiting for the state race to begin.

With many of the Blue Devil competitors returning, the coach has high hopes for next season.

"We have a great group of runners coming back next year," he said. "With some work, we hope to give the top teams some more competition."

team captain. Outfielder Pieper, yet another team captain, is also a senior. Rauner, a junior, played the second base position.

Caitlin Gustafson (short stop) and Riley Hoffart (first baseman) were among 12 players from the C-5 district who earned honorable mention titles.

Winside Wildcats wins eight-man playoff spot

By Lee Koch

Tucker Bowers returned an errant Hartington pass 40 yards for the winning touchdown as time ran out on the game clock Friday night to give Winside a hard-fought victory over the visiting Wildcats.

Bowers interception assured the Winside an appearance in the state Class D-1, eight-man playoff brackets for the fourth consecutive year.

Jordan Brummels drew first blood for Winside with a 5-yard scoring run five minutes into the second quarter after Hartington had stopped the Wildcats on a first and goal situation to end the opening period. Garett Hurlbert added to the Winside total scoring on an 11-yard run to give Winside a 12-6 half-time lead.

The teams exchanged possessions in the fourth quarter with neither team being able to mount a serious scoring threat prior to Bowers game winning interception with six seconds left on the scoreboard.

Kalin Koch led the Wildcat running attack, gaining 108 yards on 22 carries, and Brummels picked up 85 yards on 19 carries. Garett Hurlbert ran for 74 yards on 15 attempts while Anthony Nelson added four yards on a pair of carries and Michael Lage gained 1 yard on his lone attempt.

Brummels completed 4-of-14 passing attempts good for 23 yards with Lage hitting Bowers for a 19-yard completion on his lone passing attempt. Bowers led the Wildcat receivers with two catches for 27 yards. Koch with a single catch good for 8 yards and Hurlbert added a pair of receptions good for 7 yards to the Wildcat air game.

Jared Brockman (9) and Chase Langenberg (8) and Matt Peter (8) led the Wildcat tackle charts. Nathan Janke and Garett Hurlbert each had six stops while Kalin Koch and Jordan Brummels added seven tackles to the Winside defensive effort.

The Wildcats (6-2) travel to Bruning (Thursday) to face the No. 5 seeded Bruning-Davenport Storm in a 5 p.m. contest.

Schroeder named volleyball player of the week

Emily Schroeder of Wayne State College has been named the Northern Sun Conference Volleyball Player of the Week after recording a rare triple-double and double-double in two home matches over the weekend. It's the second time this season and the fourth time in her career that Schroeder has received the NSIC Player of the Week award.

The 5-11 senior middle hitter from Belden, Nebraska (Laurel-Concord HS) averaged 4.44 kills, 3.33 digs and 1.78 blocks per game. Schroeder had 19 kills and 14 digs in a 3-1 win over MSU Moorhead Friday evening and followed that with 21 kills, 16 digs and 11 blocks in a 3-2 loss to #4 Concordia-St. Paul Saturday. For the season, Schroeder ranks 12th in NCAA Division II at 4.68 kills per game and ranks 15th nationally in blocks per game at 1.41.

left in the first quarter, cutting the Mustang lead to 14-7.

The lone score in the second quarter came just before halftime as Derek Townsend was on the receiving end of a 25-yard scoring pass by quarterback Josh Shudlick with just 12 seconds left in the second quarter, giving Southwest Minnesota State a 21-7 lead at the intermission.

But the Wildcats came out strong in the second half and used a punishing rushing attack to get back into the ball game. WSC needed just four plays and 75 yards, all on the ground, to score on the opening drive of the second half as Rhone hit pay dirt from 14 yards out, making the score 21-14 in favor of SMSU. After forcing SMSU to punt on their first series of the second half, WSC used a six play, 54 yard drive to knot the score midway through the third quarter as Eric Meyer scored on a one-yard run at the 8:54 mark, making the score 21-21. The Wildcats took their first lead of the game at the 4:22 mark of the third quarter when Meyer scored on a two-yard plunge to cap a six-play, 58 yard drive to give WSC a 28-21 lead. However, SMSU scored on the next drive, marching 77 yards on seven plays, to tie the score at 28-28. The scoring drive was capped by Zach Wysong's 22 yard run. But Wayne State wasted little time to regain the lead as Meyer sprinted 62 yards for his third score of the third quarter, giving the Wildcats a 35-28 lead entering the fourth quarter. Wayne State added an insurance score in the fourth quarter as Silas Fluellen scored on a four-yard run with 4:16 remaining to give the Wildcats the 42-28 win.

WSC finished the game with 567 yards of total offense (366 rushing, 201 passing) with 395 coming in the second half. SMSU finished with 411 yards, but only 156 came in the second half when the Wildcats made their comeback. Travis Rhone led a balanced rushing attack for Wayne State with 155 yards on 27 carries and two scores. Freshman Robert Perry added 85 yards on just six attempts while sophomore Eric Meyer had a career-high 72 yards rushing on five attempts with three resulting in touchdowns. Fluellen completed 18 of 26 passes for 201 yards with no touchdowns or interceptions.

SMSU was led offensively by quarterback Josh Shudlick, who completed 27 of 47 passes for 314 yards with one touchdown and three interceptions.

Defensively, junior linebacker Luke Hoffman paced the Wildcats with 10 tackles followed by Nick Baldetti with nine and a fumble recovery. B.J. Campbell had two interceptions for WSC with Benny Collins also picking off a pass. Wayne State will put their four-game win streak on the line Saturday at Concordia-St. Paul with kickoff set for 1 p.m.

WSC's Travis Rhone rushing. He had 155 yards and two touchdowns Saturday in 42-28 win over SMSU.

WSC Women's soccer falls, 4-1 and 3-11-2 overall while Wayne State remains winless in league play at 0-7 and 1-13-2 overall.

Wayne State outshot the Mustangs 10-7 in the contest, but could only muster an own goal in the 83rd minute as the Wildcats fell 4-1. SMSU's Tatum Borstad scored at the 2:21 mark to give the Mustangs an early 1-0 lead. Joelle Dean scored less than six minutes later to put SMSU up 2-0 8:03 into the game. Ashley Elbers found the net from 40 yards out at the 27:36 mark to give SMSU a 3-0 lead at the intermission.

Cait Miller scored 56 seconds into the second half to give SMSU a 4-0 lead until the Wildcats got on the board with an own goal to make the final score 4-1. Freshman Emily Walker and sophomore Rachel Fuchs both saw action at goalkeeper for the Wildcats with Fuchs allowing just one goal and recording two saves in 46:34 while Walker allowed three goals in 43:26 of playing time.

WSC basketball exhibition

Wayne State College's basketball teams kicked off their season with an exhibition scrimmage on Oct. 17. The men begin their season on Oct. 31 at Northern Iowa with an exhibition game. The women begin their season on Nov. 16 and 17 with the Wildcat Classic vs. Colorado School of Mines.

WSC Women's soccer posts first win of the year at St. Cloud State

The Wayne State College women's soccer team won their first game of the year Saturday afternoon, 2-0 at St. Cloud State. The Wildcats improve to 1-12-2 overall while St. Cloud State is 4-10-1 on the season after the non-conference match.

St. Cloud State outshot the Wildcats 12-9 with the Huskies having one more shot on goal than WSC, 6-5. Sophomore goalkeeper Rachel Fuchs recorded the shutout for the Wildcats with six saves.

Mark Ahmann inducted into sports Hall of Fame

Mark Ahmann of Wayne was recently inducted into the 2007 Nebraska High School Sports Hall of Fame.

The induction ceremony was held at the Lied Center for the performing arts in Lincoln on Sept. 23.

Mark Ahmann

Program notes from the ceremony said "Ahmann was the primary face and voice of Nebraska high school sports while hosting KOLN/KGIN's Friday night sports scores from 1972 to 1980."

A broadcaster for more than 50 years, Ahmann also covered Nebraska high school sports in Lexington, Cozad and North Platte, as well as Iowa and Michigan.

He called a number of Nebraska high school and collegiate sporting events and hosted television program with University of Nebraska football coaches Bob Devaney and Tom Osborne.

Ahmann also played minor league baseball in the New York Yankees organization in 1953.

He began his broadcasting career in 1956 with KCM Radio in Carroll, Iowa and has been employed with radio and television in Lansing, Michigan, Sioux City, Iowa and Lincoln, Cozad and North Platte before becoming the general manager of KTCH Radio in Wayne in 1986.

At the present time, he works part-time for KTCH Radio in Wayne, hosting "The View from Wayne America" and provides play-by-play of high school and Wayne State athletics.

Mark and his wife, Jane, recently celebrated their 50th wedding anniversary. They are the parents of three children, John, Lisa and David. They have six grandchildren and one great-grandson.

Ahmann is a past member of the Wayne Kiwanis Club and Public Relations Director of the Nebraska Department of the American Legion. He was named Wayne Citizen of the Year in 2001.

Preparing for the hunt

The 10th annual Pheasants Forever Youth Mentor Hunt was held at the Izaak Walton Lake recently. Youth were able to learn about hunting and safety and had the opportunity to hunt in a supervised situation. The local Pheasants Forever Chapter was assisted in this event by members of the Nebraska Game and Parks Commission.

'Operation Teddy Bear' provides healing touch for families

A heartwarming gift for children their families need it most. will come at a time when they and Children's Hospital, with support from Oriental Trading Company, Inc. of Omaha, is launching Operation Teddy Bear.

The program, announced on Oct. 23, will put teddy bears in the arms of children who undergo a surgical procedure or require special sedation at Children's Hospital.

A generous donation from Oriental Trading Company helped bring Operation Teddy Bear to life. The Omaha-based corporation will deliver thousands of bears to the hospital, allowing children who go through Children's Ambulatory Recovery and Express Services (C.A.R.E.S.) unit to receive his or her very own Oriental Trading Company Feel Better Bear.

The teddy bears will be available to children in the hospital's C.A.R.E.S. unit which houses 33 private beds. It is known as a "day hospital," providing pre- and post-surgical care for outpatient procedures.

The unit also serves children who need sedation before undergoing diagnostic scans such as Magnetic Resonance Imaging (MRI) or Computed Tomography (CT). The unit cares for more than 8,000 children each year.

About Children's Hospital has been serving children since 1948, Children's Hospital is the only full-service, pediatric health care center in Nebraska. Located in Omaha, it provides expertise in more than 30 pediatric specialty services to children and families across a five-state region and beyond. The 142-bed, non-profit hospital is home to a nationally recognized eating disorders program and houses the only dedicated pediatric emergency department in the region. For more information on Children's Hospital go to www.chsomaha.org.

About Oriental Trading Company Oriental Trading Company is the nation's leading direct marketer of value-priced novelties, toys, and party supplies, and the leading direct marketer of home décor products. Brady Wurdeman

Brady Wurdeman wins gun at Youth-Mentor Hunt

Brady Wurdeman, 13, was the winner of a 20 gauge shotgun given away at the Pheasants Forever Youth-Mentor Hunt.

The drawing was held Oct. 14 during the annual hunt. All those attending received a hunting vest, a red cap, fanny pack and a camera to be used on the hunt.

"I loved hunting with the dogs and would encourage all hunting youth to attend this fun event," Brady said.

The event was sponsored by the Logan Creek Chapter of Pheasants Forever, along with the help of the Nebraska Game and Parks Commission.

The day began with donuts and hunting classes. These were followed by field hunting with a mentor and dog. It ended with lunch and the drawing for the shotgun.

Brady is the son of Roger and Becky Wurdeman.

Nov. 1 is date set for Masons' Soup supper

The masons of Wayne Lodge #120 A.F. & A.M. met Oct. 16 and completed final details for the annual Soup Supper.

The event will be held at the lower level of the Masonic Lodge Building at 911 Lincoln Street on Thursday, Nov. 1. Serving will begin at 5 p.m. and run through 7.30.

Three traditional soups will served - chicken, bean and chili, along with complementary relishes.

Tickets are available from all local masons, as well as at the door. Adult tickets are $4 each and tickets for children under age 12 years are $2.

Proceeds from the supper enable masons to provide academic scholarships for high school graduates, Masonic Marching Band Scholarships in conjunction with the Nebraska High School Shrine Bowl and support for the Christmas Rooks for Kids program, as well as support for other area programs that benefit youth.

Deadlines announced for sending mail to troops

Local veterans officials have announced the deadlines for sending Christmas mail to troops stationed overseas.

For troop support, Christmas mail should be sent by:

Tuesday, Nov 13 - surface mail (truck or ship);

Tuesday, Nov 27 - for space available mail;

Tuesday, Dec 4 - parcel airlift (packages not priority or express);

Tuesday, Dec 11 - Priority mail and First class letters;

Tuesday, Dec 18 - Express mail.

The Wayne Vet's Club will be starting to ship boxes of Christmas cards to the troops for them to have to mail to their loved ones. Any donations of boxed cards can be dropped off at Pamida, Zach's, the Wakefield Republican, Wayne Courthouse or the Vet's Club.

As always, the Vet's Club accepts any other types of boxed cards for shipment throughout the year (i.e. birthday, anniversary, thank you, etc.).

"The Wayne Vet's Club would like to thank everyone for their support and donations in keeping this program going since March 2004. We have supported several troops from Wayne County with the continued support from the public and families," said Bud Neel, one of those who has been involved with sending the packages since the program began.

More insurance classes are set

Two, one-session courses for insurance professionals are scheduled at the Northeast Community College Education Center in South Sioux City on Friday, Nov. 9.

What Did You Say? (Ethics) #SA 15101, with course number INS 0300-03S, meets from 9 a.m.-noon in Room 113 of the South Sioux City Education Center at 3309 Daniels Lane in the Westside Business Park. Larry Silacek is the instructor.

This session will explore the importance of ethics in our society today, and the need for good communication. The class will look at different cases and the need for better communication with clients and agents. Three continuing education hours will be awarded P&C.

A second session, Personal Inland Marine #SA 15098, with course number INS 0300-04S, meets the same day, Friday, Nov. 9, from 1-4 p.m. in the same location.

In this class, Instructor Silacek will lead a discussion on this history of the Inland Marine Policy. Class discussion will include the loss conditions of an ISO Personal Inland Marine Policy and some general questions asked about an Inland Marine Policy.

Three continuing education hours will also be awarded P & C. Cost of each session is $35. To register for either or both classes, call (402)241-6400.

NET Television presents broadcast

Tucked away in attics, basements and boxes, our family and community heritage is slowly disintegrating. Most of us own treasured items such as photographs, furniture, quilts, knickknacks, but few of us care for them properly.

"Saving Nebraska's Treasures," a co-production of NET Television and the Nebraska State Historical Society offers advice to help owners preserve and protect their heirlooms. An encore broadcast airs Thursday, Nov. 1, 9 p.m. on NET1.

Segments will introduce viewers to the science and art of conservation, including how to improve the care of treasures at home. Conservators offer information about preserving paper, textiles and photographs, as well as storing quilts and polishing silver.

The "Saving Nebraska's Treasures" project also includes a comprehensive Web site. The site offers video clips, step-by-step advice and links to other Web sites for those who are interested in preserving their own heirlooms. Visit netNebraska.org/treasures for more information.

"Saving Nebraska's Treasures" is a cooperative effort of NET, the Nebraska State Historical Society's Ford Conservation Center and the Nebraska Library Commission. It is funded in part by the Partnerships for a Nation of Learners project of the Institute of Museum and Library Services and the Corporation for Public Broadcasting.

NET1 is part of NET Television, a service of NET. For more information about NET programming, go to netNebraska.org/television.

NATIONAL CORN HUSKING

Kelli Rastede, Marcia Rastede, and Alvin Christensen competed in the national contest at Dell Rapids, SD on Oct. 21.

Marcia placed fourth in Ladies Open Class, Kelli placed seventh in Ladies 21 to 49 Class and Alvin placed seventh in Men's Open Class at the National Corn Husking Competition.

Only 132 years ago, a man at Beatrice invented the cornhusking hook which was credited with the ability to raise corn as a profitable commercial crop. Now, a century later, there have been many advances in corn production. While many museums have displays of items used in areas. Some like to participate -- thrashing with steam power, plowing with horses and husking corn by hand. This is just a tidbit of the history of Cornhusking.

There was a special guest at the competition - Bob Blumer from the TV show Glutton for Punishment. Culinary adventurer Bob Blumer (The Surreal Gourmet) seeks out extreme epicurean challenges around the world in this exciting new series.

Whether it's braving the heat as a BBQ Pit Master in Kansas City or braving the elements during five days of backbreaking grape picking in Germany, there is no distance too far and no challenge too intimidating for this genuine Glutton for Punishment (from shows website). Bob practiced for a week to compete in the South Dakota State and National Championships. The TV crew was there to film the seven days Bob trained. They will be broadcasting a 20 minute show on Corn Husking by hand.

FALL FESTIVAL PLANNED

First Lutheran Church will be celebrating a Fall Festival in the church basement on Sunday, Oct. 28 from 11 a.m. - 1:30 p.m. The main entrees will be pulled pork and cheesy potatoes. Members will be adding fall food items to the meal, such as corn, zucchini and squash along with pumpkin and apple pie, to name a few items. A free will donation will be uplifted to aid in supplementing church expenses. There will also be a Craft and Bake sale.

order. Santa and Mrs. Claus will be at the Christmas Concert on Dec. 17 and hand out candy sacks at that time. It was decided to decorate the tree in the trailer park instead of the gazebo. Decorating will be done before Thanksgiving on a warm day. Everyone is invited to the community Thanksgiving meal at 6:30 p.m. at the Village Inn on Nov. 19. A sign-up sheet will be in the Village Inn so Ron and Pat can get an estimate on food preparation. The sheet must be signed by Wednesday, Nov. 14. The next meeting of the Allen Community Club will be Dec. 3 due to concert on regular meeting date. Meeting adjourned.

UNITED METHODIST CHURCH

Hallelujah Party at Allen United Methodist Church from 5 - 7 p.m. on Sunday, Oct. 28. On Wednesday, Oct. 31, Trunk or Treat at Ponca United Methodist Church.

TIPS FOR TROOP MAILINGS

Judy Olson, Allen's Post Mistress, would like to let you know about free mailing kits. Sending care packages to loved ones serving in the U.S. Armed forces is easy with a free Military Mailing Kit from the United States Postal Service. The kit contains eight Priority Mail boxes - six of which are flat rate boxes, eight address labels, eight customs forms with sleeves and a roll of Priority Mail Tape.

To order a Military Mailing Kit, call 1-800-610-8734 and select option one. This kit will be delivered in 7-10 days.

BABY GIRL

Lyle and Torry Rahn are the proud parents of a little girl - Linkin Kale Marie Rahn - born Oct. 17, 2007. Linkin weighed 8 lbs and was 20 and one half inches long. Grandparents are David and Jean Rahn of Allen and Robert and Kelly Sittre of Butte. Great Grandparents are Bob Lewis and Mary Lewis of Riverton, Wyo; and Joanne Rahn of Allen.

ALLEN BOOK CLUB

Fourteen members of Allen Book Club met at the Senior Center to discuss The Grapes of Wrath on Oct. 26. This poignant story of a family's desperate attempts to find work and survive the 30's Dust Bowl and Depression brought forth several personal stories of surviving tough times here in the 30's.

This month Allen is reading Julie and Romeo by Jeanne Ray. Loosely based on Shakespeare's Romeo and Juliet, the tale starts when two "older" members of feuding families fall in love. The book discussion is planned for Tuesday, Oct. 30.

MUSIC BOOSTERS

Allen Music Boosters will be having a Tailgate party before the Allen-Bloomfield First Round Playoff Football game. It will be Thursday Oct. 25 from 5:30 to 7 p.m. They will be serving chili, vegetable beef soup, carrot and celery sticks and drinks. This will be a free will donation.

FOOTBALL STATE PLAYOFFS

The Eagle Football team finished the 2007 season undefeated at 8-0 with their win last Thursday versus Coleridge. Allen is seeded sixth in the D2 State Playoff Bracket which has them playing 11th ranked Bloomfield at Allen at 7 p.m. on Thursday, Oct. 25.

With a win, the next game will be versus the winner of the Elgin (#3)/Parkview Christian (#14) game on Wednesday, Oct. 31. The next game would then be played on Nov. 3 and the State Championship game would be played at 10:30 a.m. at Memorial Field in Lincoln.

Before the game, the Allen Music Boosters will be hosting a tailgate party where they will be serving chili, vegetable soup, etc. They will be serving from 5:30 to approximately 7 p.m.

CARDS AVAILABLE

Hand-crafted all-occasion greeting cards are now available at the Senior Center during the Center's hours of operation. Cards for specific occasions can also be ordered upon request from ViAnn Stange.

HISTORICAL SOCIETY

The Dixon County Board of Supervisors were treated to an old fashioned potluck by the Historical Society on Sept. 18. Close to 30 people were at the museum and feasted on Tatanka Taverns and all the trimmings. The occasion was to thank the County for their continued financial support to the Society. Several supervisors remarked that they had not known the tremendous number and type of displays present. They lauded the Society for their efforts in keeping Dixon County history alive. Much credit goes to the officers and the many volunteers.

Allen Alumni weekend was well attended and many visitors were attracted to the museum to view the exhibits. Also celebrated was the Society's 43rd anniversary. A general fix-it and clean-up day was held on Sept. 13. The museum had Sundays in September open to the public on a trial basis.

The Society cordially invited new members to join. Please contact any of the officers or current members. Annual fee is a treasure and bargain at the same time: $5. The next meeting is Tuesday, Nov. 20 at 1:30 p.m.

ALUMNI FALL NEWSLETTER

Kathy Boswell is beginning to gather information for a fall newsletter which will be sent to Allen alumni members. If you have something to be included in the letter, please let her know. Address corrections are also appreciated.

HALLOWEEN OPEN HOUSE

Security National Bank will be hosting coffee and cookies on Wednesday, Oct. 31. Please stop in and enjoy Halloween goodies anytime between 9 a.m. and noon.

US FLAGS FOR SALE

The Legion sponsored United States Flags, formerly sold at the Cash Store, are now available at Security National Bank. The cost of each flag is $15. Please stop at the bank if interested in purchasing.

HARVEST DINNER

Security National Bank's Classic Club will be hosting their annual Harvest Dinner on Wednesday, Nov. 7 at 12 p.m. (noon) at the Allen Fire hall. SNB will provide the turkey, dressing, rolls, beverages and table service. Please bring a salad, vegetable dish or dessert to share. Come and enjoy the fun and fellowship. Bingo will follow the meal for those wishing to stay. Members are welcome to attend any location with pre-registration requested. Those who will be dining in Allen need to RSVP by Nov. 2.

Upcoming Trip - Here's your chance to celebrate Christmas, German-style with the German/American Club in Omaha. The Mormon Trail will be the first stop to see the incredible gingerbread displays made especially for the holidays. Then, the tour comes alive when you hear your favorite Christmas songs sung by the Sangerchoir and Die Singenden Wanderer (men's choir), as well as performances by the Die Heimat Tanzer dancers. Sign up deadline is Nov. 1. Call the bank for more information.

rated safe viewing for everyone...

When thinking about window covering our first considerations tend to be focused on style, color, and function. But if you have children, children who come to visit, or provide day care services, safety is also a serious consideration. Cords on window coverings can contribute to fatal accidents. Each year nearly 50 children in the U.S. are injured or killed by strangulation involving window covering cords.

October is National Child Safety Month

Hunter Douglas has long been the leader in the window covering industry and they are the leader in safety features both standard or optional. These include...

UltraGlide... a single retractable cord that remains the same length whether the shade is raised or lowered, keeping the cords out of reach of young children.

PermAssure... a safety wand which eliminates looped cords completely, replacing them with a wand that remains safely out of reach.

Break-thru... a safety tassel designed to break open under pressure should a child or pet become entangled.

LiteRise... a touch system which allows you to raise and lower blinds with a single touch... thus no cords.

In fact now thru December 15th Hunter Douglas is offering a FREE LiteRise system on every Duette Honeycomb Shade. Visit our showroom and our trained staff can go over the details and show you all of the safety options available.

For a child to whom the world may seem big and scary sometimes... it's good to know we can make home the safest place to view it.

Ethanol Plant tour for RC&D members held

Prior to the start of the Northeast Nebraska Resource Conservation & Development Council's regular meeting 15 members and guests toured Husker Ag LLC, the local ethanol plant. Seth Harder, general manager explained the processes used throughout the operation and answered questions. The expansion will open soon making this plant capable of producing over 60 million gallons of ethanol per year.

President Bud Knuth led the meeting with 19 present. The annual meeting will be next month in Plainview with tours of the Klown Doll Museum before-hand. Board vacancies exist in Antelope, Cedar and Wayne counties and recommendations were discussed.

The RC&D Endowment fund has been started with the Nebraska Community Foundation and serves as a memorial to Bob Porter, former Wayne county board member. Chris Kreycik and Rhonda Kneif told of the Nebraska Tourism Conference activities. St. James Marketplace received the Outstanding Attraction award for a small community.

Jerry Wagner and Merlyn Kuhl, both of Osmond gave an update on the work of the woody biomass committee. Waste material generated at sawmills, in old windbreaks, in community forestry situations and more has potential as an energy resource rather than landfill material.

State RC&D Conference attendees told about presentations and tours that took place. Virginia Buerman thanked everyone for their work with the RC&D Council and shared that Northeast RC&D came home with the Outstanding Council Award. Donna Christiansen received Outstanding Council Member and Jan Jorgensen Outstanding Coordinator.

Project Extra Mile Wayne County Coalition holds meeting at Journey Christian Church in Wayne

Colts country?

Nate Burrows, left, and Austin Fernau, both second graders at Wayne Elementary school, dressed up for Fantastic Friday as triplets with Mr. Schunk, the elementary school's principal. The three are Indianapolis Colt football fans and wore their Peyton Manning jerseys.

The monthly Project Extra Mile Wayne County Coalition meeting was held on Oct. 12 at the Journey Christian Church in Wayne. Cassandra Greisen, program specialist for Project Extra Mile, was the speaker.

A video was shown titled, "this place," which was created by the FACE, Inc. The video is based on the Institute of Medicine's 2003 report to Congress called, "Reducing Underage Drinking: A Collective Responsibility."

Strategies were shown in the video that give hope that change is possible, especially if communities pull together to fight against alcohol, which kills four times more young people than all illicit drugs combined.

Also noted in the video was the concern of the advertising for flavored alcoholic drinks that strongly marketed to kids and that kids are starting to take their first drink of alcohol as young as 9-years-old. The mindset of many youth has been going from not just drinking but drinking to get drunk. Why the change? When did drinking become casual, innocent and expected? In an environment where alcohol is nearly everywhere, it's no wonder that young people are starting to drink younger and younger - it's what they see.

Research shows the impact that early alcohol drinking is having on developing brains. Alcohol impairs and damages the frontal lobe of the brain, where new memory is locked in, marking a big change in adolescence and leaving young teens four times more likely to go on to become alcohol dependent. Aside from brain damage, alcohol can also cause poisoning due to the quantity consumed, as well as promiscuous behavior and a host of crime-related activities. Where are the youth getting the alcohol? Before seventh grade, many get alcohol from their parents' stock in their homes and later, older siblings and peers supply.

The video ended with a message of hope, though. Many adults are seeing the problems and are not waiting for law enforcement to try to fix the problem but are doing it themselves. Adults are taking the reins and doing what they can to bring an end to underage drinking by changing children and adults attitudes, as well as policy initiatives that spur change.

Greisen noted that Project Extra Mile focuses on adult attitudes and behavior toward alcohol because it's adults who market the alcoholic products, create them and sell them. Children simply live in the environment that adults create.

She said in Omaha, neighborhood associations are going to city council meetings and to the Liquor Control Commission to raise their voices that they don't want more liquor license establishments in their neighborhoods.

One neighborhood association even took its case to the district court because a business was given a license despite the group's protest. The district court ruled in favor of the neighborhood association, stating that local municipalities and the Commission must take citizens' concerns into consideration when making decisions on liquor licensing issues. The business owner appealed the decision to the Nebraska Supreme Court, which upheld the district court ruling. Other neighborhoods are doing the same thing.

Greisen ended by saying if flavored alcoholic beverages were taxed appropriately, it would help prevent underage drinking. Currently in Nebraska flavored alcoholic beverages are classified and taxed as beer; however, Project Extra Mile believes that according to Nebraska law, they should be taxed as distilled spirits. She noted that taxing the drinks appropriately would help increase price and reduce the amount of locations the drinks are sold in, which are all proven strategies to prevent youth access to alcohol.

"Positive things are happening," Greisen said. "Local citizens can bring change."

The next Project Extra Mile Wayne County Coalition meeting will be held on Friday, Nov. 9 at 10 a.m. at Journey Christian Church in Wayne. Anyone with desire to make the community a safer place for children is welcome to attend.

Local law enforcement officer attends training session

Chief Lance Webster of the Wayne Police Department was among eight law enforcement officers who recently learned skills to train law enforcement agencies on effective strategies to enforce the underage drinking laws.

On Oct. 22, Project Extra Mile coordinated a mock underage drinking party dispersal as part of the training for officers on enforcing underage drinking laws. The event was held at the Hilton Garden Inn Omaha West.

The following law enforcement officers also participated in the mock party dispersal to learn skills in order to train other agencies on effectively controlling underage drinking parties: Capt. Monty Daganar, Sarpy County Sheriff's Office; Sgt. Robert Elliott, Nebraska State Patrol; Inv. Steve Halley, Blair Police Department; Sgt. Kris Hillbrand, Lancaster County Sheriff's Office; Sgt. Rob Jones, Douglas County Sheriff's Office; Retired Officer Robert Vondrasek, Omaha Police Department and Sgt. Bryan Waugh, La Vista Police Department.

In recent years, Project Extra Mile has worked to increase training opportunities for officers across the state and it is with the cooperation of the Nebraska Office of Highway Safety and the Pacific Institute for Research and Evaluation (PIRE) that this training was possible. The purpose of this type of exercise is to train officers to address underage drinking parties safely and efficiently.

"For two years, law enforcement trainers from PIRE have come to Nebraska to train officers on enforcing the underage drinking laws," said Diane Riibe, executive director for Project Extra Mile. "It made sense to organize a group of Nebraska officers to train agencies statewide and localize the training."

Law enforcement agencies can request training assistance by calling Project Extra Mile at 402-963-9047.

Microsoft Excel 2007 class set

A three-session, noncredit Microsoft Excel 2007 class is set to begin Monday, Oct. 29, at the Northeast Community College Education Center in South Sioux City.

With course number DP 0302-04S, Microsoft Excel 2007 will meet Mondays, Oct. 29 and Nov. 5 and 12 from 5:30-8:30 p.m. in Room 109 of Northeast's South Sioux City Education Center at 3309 Daniels Lane in the Westside Business Park.

Microsoft Excel is one of the most popular spreadsheet programs on the market. Students will learn how to work with spreadsheets by entering, selecting, saving, and modifying data in this class. They will also be taught to perform calculations and format worksheets. Students will do a special project that involves creating a home expense worksheet, address/phone number worksheet, and family history timeline.

Cost of this noncredit class, with Annette Leu as instructor, is $25. To register, call (402)241-6400.

Email etiquette class planned

Northeast Community College in South Sioux City has scheduled another Email Etiquette class designed to teach students to make a good impression by using email effectively.

The class, with course number DP 0302-09S, meets Friday, Nov. 9 from 12:30-4:30 p.m. at the South Sioux City Education Center, 3309 Daniels Lane in the Westside Business Park. Cost is $15 and Fern Rocklin is the instructor.

Students in this class will learn proper etiquette for email in the business setting and in personal use.

To register for this class, call Northeast's South Sioux City Education Center at (402)241-6400.

Strengthening Nonprofit Leadership

The Nonprofit Association of the Midlands, the Human Services Federation of Lancaster County and EndowNebraska (an affiliated fund of the Nebraska Community Foundation) announce that the convening of Nebraska's first Nonprofit Summit will be on Nov. 1 in Lincoln.

Nonprofit leaders from across the state will meet to share information, network and build relationships to further enhance the important work of the nonprofit sector.

On Nov. 1, nonprofit leaders, volunteers, board of directors and providers of services will convene at the Embassy Suites in Lincoln, for the Nonprofit Summit which will innovatively provide summit attendees with a variety of timely and informative information sharing, networking, and relationship-building.

This is a dynamic era for the nonprofit community—internal and external forces are creating a demand for systemic changes in operations, accountability, professional development, and visionary thinking. Sustainability must become the strategic goal and direction for the nonprofit sector. Collaboration is the key.

Gov. Dave Heineman will provide opening remarks and the keynote address will be given by Jan Masaoka, a leading writer and thinker on nonprofit organizations with an emphasis on board of directors, business planning and the role of nonprofits in society. For the past eight years Masaoka has been named one of the "Fifty Most Influential People" in the nonprofit sector nationwide, and in 2003 the Nonprofit Times named her "Nonprofit Executive of the Year".

The schedule of events also includes lunch with Nonprofits of the Year Awards and concludes with a Legislative Reception where a Legislator of the year Award will be announced.

To learn more about this unprecedented event sponsored by Usbank, or to register please visit www.nonprofitam.org

CENTER CIRCLE CLUB

The Center Circle Club met on Oct. 18 at the home of Shirley Bowers. Ten members and one guest, Karen Hartman were present. President Janice Jaeger called the meeting to order. Roll call was a "trick or treat." Shirley Bowers took roll call and read the minutes of the last meeting. Cleora Fisher gave the treasurer's report.

A cash gift was sent to Cleora Fisher's son and bride. Members discussed locations for the Dec. Christmas party. Dianne Jaeger will check into them. Cleora Fisher's birthday was recognized with a gift and song. Secret sisters were revealed and new ones drawn. Ten point pitch was played with prizes going to Rose Janke, Arlene Wills, Dianne Jaeger and Betty Miller.

The next meeting will be Nov. 15 at Janice Jaeger's. Roll call will be "one thing you are most thankful for this year."

National Authors Day planned

The Corps of Discovery Welcome Center is sponsoring an opportunity to meet local authors to commemorate National Authors Day. The event will be held at the Corps of Discovery Welcome Center on Thursday, Nov 1, from 10 a.m. - 4 p.m. This is free to the public with light refreshments being served.

National Authors Day was made official in the United States in 1949, submitted by the Federated Women's Club.

Not all invitees have been able to confirm their availability for the event, but so far six authors have signed up to speak and discuss their books: Dennis Vossberg, Louise Guy, Joan Burney, Maxine Kinsley, Margaret Hunhoff and Marilyn Kratz. It is estimated that 10 authors will be on hand with their display of books. These names are well known locally and perhaps also known on a national level, due to the number of their works and volume of sales.

There will be a wide range of author's work represented, including local history, children's books, biographies, mystery, romance novels, and a variety of other subjects. This is a great opportunity to hear a brief introduction of the authors and their work and philosophy, followed by personal visits, at which time their current publications will be on sale and will be signed personally by each author.

Many area writers have their work published on a regular basis, and this event will only include a few of those. The Corps of Discovery Welcome Center hopes that this can become an annual event that can include different authors next year. CDWC appreciate the chance to meet their neighbors who live and work and help to make up this varied and talented community.

Upcoming events at the CDWC: Gallery Exhibit through Oct. 30 is Michael Gibbs, Vicky Koch and Mary Schaefer Roper. Featured Member - Oct. 26 is the Neihardt Center from Bancroft. Meet the Artist, Mary Schaefer Roper Oct. 27 and 28 1-4. fundraiser this weekend Oct. 20-21 at St. James Market Place and Halloween Fun with Uncle Mikey Trading Post on Oct. 31.

The Corps of Discovery Welcome Center is a non-profit 501 (C) 3 organization whose mission is to share the unique history, culture and landscape as well as enhance traveler's visits into the area. Please stop or call to find out how to be a part of this adventure by calling Rhonda Kneifl, Director at 402-667-6557.

Showing support

The elementary students of Winside Public School participated in Homecoming Activities the week of Sept. 17. Activities included hat day, crazy hair day, favorite character day and spirit day. On spirit day, the Friday of Homecoming, each class participated in a parade around the football field during the pep rally showing off "floats" they had made. The Kindergarten class won the favorite character award. The Kindergartners pictured are: front row (left to right) McKinzi Edison, Matthew Frederick; back row: Brody Meis, Alex Carlson, Eddie Ober, Mikenzie Schafer, Andi Bargstadt and Georgia Little. Mrs. Laura Straight is their teacher.

Win crazy hair days contest

Sweet treat

Winside first grade boys fed one of the goats at Garry's Apple Orchard in Yankton, where they visited recently. Pictured are Michael Jensen, Hunter VanHouten and Cameron Muhs.

SBA loan guarantees maintain record-breaking trend in FY2007

The U.S. Small Business Administration posted record-breaking loan numbers again in FY 2007, expanding access to capital to thousands of entrepreneurs across America. SBA set records for both the combined number and dollar volume of loans, and increased loans to small businesses in underserved areas by more than 5.5 percent.

SBA approved 110,275 loans totaling more than $20.6 billion under its two primary small business loan programs during the 12 months ending on Sept. 30 2007, compared with 107,233 loans worth $20.25 billion in 2006. With the strong results in 2007, the combined outstanding loan balances in the 7 (a) and 504 loan programs increased 6.5 percent to $66.7 billion. The total does not include an additional $2.65 billion in venture capital funding provided by SBA-licensed Small Business Investment Companies to more than 2,000 small businesses.

"We play an increasingly vital role in enabling small businesses across the country to get the capital they need to start and grow their businesses, create jobs and build their communities, and we do it through programs that operate without a taxpayer subsidy," said Administrator Steve Preston. "This progress reflects the strength of our relationships with our lending and resource partners, who have been essential in providing record numbers of small business loans in each of the last six years." Although SBA does not make direct loans to small businesses, the agency's use of its guaranty authority enables commercial lenders and Certified Development Companies to make loans to small businesses they otherwise would not have made.

Both primary loan programs combined set records this year. The 7(a) loan guaranty program - most often used for working capital - increased the number of loans from 97,290 in FY 2006 to 99,607 loans in FY 2007, although the dollar volume declined slightly from $14.52 billion to $14.29 billion.

The Certified Development Company - or 504 - program, for the purchase of real estate and fixed assets, provided 10,668 loans worth $6.31 billion, up from the 9,943 loans worth $5.73 billion in FY 2006.

Nearly a third of all loans went to start-ups, and a third went to minority borrowers. In fact, loans to minority groups increased by 7 percent, with the largest increase coming in loans to African Americans, which increased by 23 percent, from 7,238 to 8,903. Smaller volume increases were recorded to business owned by Asian Americans, Native Americans and women, while loans to Hispanics declined slightly. Overall, loans to businesses in underserved areas amounted to more than 36 percent of total loan approvals.

"We have made substantial progress in our ability to deliver loans to small businesses in underserved communities," Preston said. "SBA lending in designated Enterprise Zones, HUBZones and Low and Moderate Income areas increased by better than five percent, more than twice the increase in lending overall. We remain absolutely committed to enabling small business success, particularly in underserved markets and those areas hard hit by disasters."

The SBA's loan programs have been setting records for six consecutive years, and have more than doubled since fiscal 2000, from 48,313 to 110,275. During this period, SBA has approved more than 555,000 loans worth more than $107 billion to American small businesses, more than in the previous 10 years combined. Over this time, the agency's total small business loan portfolio has grown to $66.7 billion, compared to $45.9 billion at the end of FY 2002 and $62.6 billion a year ago.

Mole Day 2007 celebrated

"Happy Mole Day!" These words could be heard in the hallways of Wayne Middle School as students celebrated the Mole on Tuesday.

Activities planned by the Nerd Herd (Wayne Middle School's Science Club) included dressing as nerds, making slime using one mole of water, saying the mole pledge, and playing the mole anthem "A Mole is a Unit."

National Mole Day is celebrated by chemists around the world on Oct. 23 (from 6:02 a.m. to 6:02 p.m.) in honor of chemist Amadeo Avogadro and Avogadro's Number. The name "Avogadro's Number" is an honorary name attached to the calculated value of a mole - a unit used in chemistry to measure the number of atoms or molecules in a substance.

The equation is:
 $6.02 \times 10^{23} = 1 \text{ mole}$  OR $602,000,000,000,000,000,000,000$

"Here is a little chemistry review. Atoms have a nucleus and in the nucleus are neutrons and protons. The total number of neutrons and protons in the nucleus is the atom's atomic molecular mass," said Lee Brogie, Wayne Middle School science teacher.

She also noted that hydrogen has one proton with an atomic mass equal to one. Oxygen has eight pro-tons and eight neutrons with an atomic mass of 16.

"Therefore water molecule (H<sub>2</sub>O) has one oxygen atom and two hydrogen atoms ... so this molecule has an atomic mass of 18 (16 + 1 + 1). That means that 18 grams of water equals 1 mole of water or 602,000,000,000,000,000,000,000 molecules of water," Mrs. Brogie said.

"You could hold a mole of water molecules in the palm of your hand, but one mole of notebook paper would be a stack that would reach to the moon and back 80 billion times."

Christmas at the Museum being planned in Winside

A Christmas event is being planned by the Winside Museum Committee for Sunday, Dec. 9, at 5 p.m.

The program will include Christmas music and fellowship to take place in the sanctuary of the Theophilus Church building.

The church became part of the museum when it was moved into Winside in 1987. The museum celebrated its 20th anniversary this past June with an evening of hymns and fellowship. Our Savior Quartet, a gospel group from Wayne, was invited to perform at this celebration.

The celebration was a success so the committee has asked the quartet to return and sing at this upcoming event in December. The public is invited for an old fashion Christmas at the museum.

Refreshments will be served following the performance of the Our Savior Quartet.

Picking out pumpkins

The Winside Kindergarten and first grade classes visited Garry's Apple Orchard in Yankton. Each student was able to pick a pumpkin from the pumpkin patch to take home. The students enjoyed a hayrack ride through the orchard and pumpkin patch. Mr. and Mrs. Dale Hebda, the new owners of Garry's, showed the students how apples are picked, sorted, processed and made into cider. The students were able to run through the hay maze created by Mr. Hebda and ate lunch in the apple orchard. Each student left with a treat bag that included an apple, apple cider and crayons. Some of the students shown left to right are: Matthew Frederick, Michael Jensen, Andi Bargstadt and Kellie Kampa.

Attorney General Bruning names eight students from area to Youth Advisory Council

Attorney General Jon Bruning announced recently that Randolph Public School students Joseph Aschoff, Elizabeth Bobenmoyer, Emily Gubbels, Jacob Korth, Moriah Lindemoen, Hannah Loberg and Elise Svitak of Randolph and Stephanie Smith of Carroll are among 125 high school juniors and seniors selected from across Nebraska to serve on the Attorney General's Youth Advisory Council (AGYAC).

The Council is designed to involve Nebraska's youth in the processes of government and law. It also provides a forum for members to express their views by facilitating an open dialogue with the Attorney General.

"Engaging our youth in government is the first step toward building a strong generation of new leaders for Nebraska," Bruning said. "Our discussions give me a fresh perspective on the issues we face every day in the Attorney General's Office."

Members of the Council were nominated by state senators, educators and other community leaders. Students were also required to submit formal applications to be considered for the Council.

AGYAC will participate in a series of events at the State Capitol in Lincoln this spring including meetings with members of the executive, legislative and judicial branches. They will also tour the Nebraska State Penitentiary.

Tamara Schardt

Tamara Schardt part of art exhibition

Tamara Schardt, a 2003 graduate of Wayne High School, recently conducted her bachelor of fine arts exhibition, Frames of Mind, at the Liberty Group in Hays, Kan.

The exhibit is in conjunction with the Hays Art Council 2007 Fall Gallery Walk.

Tamara said her art work is inspired by "memories and nature." She has created a number of specific works for the current show, while others are projects she has been working on for some time.

She listed a number of visual artists who have influenced her, from Leonardo da Vinci to Frida Kahlo, Gustav Klimt and Robert Rauschenberg. She also gives credit to her art degree advisor, Amy Schmierbach and Aaron Rupp for supporting her and her ideas.

Tamara is the daughter of Lowell and Karen Schardt of Wayne. She is currently a senior at Ft. Hays State.

Take tour

Wayne State reaches out

The Wayne State Expository Writing Class will present a collection of brief biographies that chronicle the lives of several residents of The Oaks Retirement Community. Led by their teacher, Patti Ruth Felt and Wayne State College student Brittany Barritt of Norfolk talk during the Oaks Retirement Community project.

Wayne High yearbook earns award of distinction

Wayne High School's 2007 Devil Daze earned an Award of Distinction at the fall Nebraska High School Press Association convention in Lincoln on Oct. 15. In addition, Golden Kernal certificates were presented in recognition of exceptional photography and academic coverage within the book. "In Living Color" was the book's theme. Staff included editors Megan Powell and Heidi Garvin plus Eric Carstens, Megan Kardell, Bren Vander Weil, Jordan Eberhardt and Kalie Sprouls. Maddie Jager also contributed. Students were responsible for all advertising and book sales, layout design, writing, and photography within the publication. The book was 133 pages and included 35 color pages. It also featured a full index with topic, student and advertiser entries. Copies of this book are available for $55 from Adviser Lauren Walton at Wayne High School.

WSC Planetarium show to begin Oct. 28

Wayne State College will begin presentations of "Fifty Years and Counting," a review of the past, present and future of space exploration. The show will be presented each Sunday at 3:30 p.m. until Nov. 18 in the Fred G. Dale Planetarium at Wayne State College. There is no admission charge. "The world was initiated into the 'Space Age' with the launch of the Soviet Union's Sputnik 1 satellite. In the 50 years since, the U.S. and many other nations have continued the move into the heavens with the launch of thousands of earth orbiting satellites and hundreds of probes to the Moon, planets and beyond. The "Star of Christmas" will be presented Dec. 2 through 16. The planetarium is located at the south entrance of the Carhart Science Building on campus. Special showings may be arranged for school groups and other organizations by calling Carl Rump, director of the planetarium at (402) 375-7343.

Burris, the students interviewed the residents as part of a Service-Learning project. In mid-September, the classes arrived at The Oaks and visited with willing participants in order to discover the past through the eyes of Wayne residents. The students spent a substantial amount of time visiting with each interviewee before compiling unique excerpts from their lives.

Accompanying each biography is a photograph of not only the interviewer, but also the distinctive member of The Oaks. The photos are featured in black and white to achieve a historical representation. This collection will be available for viewing near the end of October. Make sure to be on the lookout for this tribute to Wayne's finest. Service-Learning grants at WSC are part of a grant from the Midwest Consortium for Service-Learning in Higher Education (MCSLHE) made possible through the Corporation for National Service under the Learn and Serve America: Higher Education grant program. ### HOSKINS SENIORS

The Hoskins seniors met Oct. 16 at the Community Center. Winners at pitch playing were Shirley Mann, Arlene Gurk and Mary Jochens. A no-host lunch was served. The next meeting will be Tuesday, Oct. 30.

Elementary students Gabby Casillas of Dakota City, Alex Conley of Wakefield and Shyanne Raff of Dakota City work on creating blankets to donate to Omaha Project Linus during the Elementary Leadership Conference on Oct. 10 in the Student Center on the Wayne State College campus.

Elementary Leadership Conference involves service-learning projects

An Elementary Leadership Conference was held on Oct. 10 in the Student Center on the Wayne State College campus. Penny Dickes, member of the National Guard who served two terms in Iraq, showed participants a booklet about dealing with bullies that students in Iraq read. She said the students in Iraq had many of the same issues to deal with as students in the United States in many ways, although there are also many differences that she also discussed with elementary students attending the conference.

Participants also put together care packages to send to guard members. More than 230 fourth, fifth and sixth graders from Area III schools attended the conference. This year's theme is Service to Self, Others, Community and Country. Students tied blankets to donate to Omaha Project Linus. Participants also put together care packages with hundreds of items to send to guard members. WSC education students in Development of Social Studies in Elementary and Middle School under the direction of Sherry Dorman served as leaders for the day of activities that included songs and messages about how to treat other students, creating friendship bracelets and a National Guard member Penny Dickes spoke to area elementary school students about Iraq at the recent Elementary Leadership Conference held at WSC.

Students made blankets for the Linus Project to be given to seriously ill and traumatized children. The Wayne State College School of Education and Counseling hosted the event with assistance from a service-learning grant. Service-Learning grants at WSC are part of a grant from the Midwest Consortium for Service-Learning in Higher Education (MCSLHE) made possible through the Corporation for National Service under the Learn and Serve America: Higher Education grant program. Other partners in the event were Region III Administrators and Omaha Project Linus.

Main Street Focus

Congratulations to all the Main Street Wayne businesses and individuals who received awards from the Nebraska Lied Main Street Program at their annual dinner held in Minden on Oct. 14.

The judges said the Best Streetscape over $50,000 was in downtown Wayne and the best infill new building construction was the State National Bank and Trust. Both projects received Awards of Excellence. Jacob's Room received honored recognition in the under $10,000 facade improvement category.

The Merchants of the Year Award went to Curt and Coleen Jeffries of Copy Write Publishing and Keepsake Video Production and Custom Framing. The Wayne Main Street Volunteer of the Year went to Reggie Yates who is a charter member of the Main Street Wayne program.

Mayor Lois Shelton and City Administrator Lowell Johnson attended Tuesday morning's All-Hands meeting and shared with us the awards presented by the Nebraska Department of Roads as Recognition Collaboration to the Main Street Wayne coalition, the TEAM 15 Coalition and to the City of Wayne. These were first-time awards awarded by the Department of Roads to show their appreciation for the planning and participation of these groups in the downtown Main Street Reconstruction Project. "Hats Off" to everyone who worked together to make this project work as smoothly as it did.

Good news! Since the last article of Main Street Focus, several people got together to make the community Christmas Tree for Seventh and Main Street a reality. Northeast Nebraska Public Power will help with a pole truck and the city will allow use of its equipment to decorate the tree. Thank you for your help.

Now we still need volunteers. Projected time for set up is still not definite, but talk around the table indicated that we might do this the Saturday prior to Thanksgiving when it is thought that more help would be available. Volunteers should call the WAEDI office to make a commitment to help.

The Promotions Committee reported that Customer Appreciation will be held Friday, Nov. 2. It is double stamp day for card holders and many of the participating businesses will be having drawings for prizes. A $500 drawing will be made from all the registered customers at participating businesses at 9 p.m. at the Main Street office. The winner person must be present at a participating business in order to win the $500. Thereafter, a $50 cash drawing will be made weekly at the Chamber Coffees. Two final drawings of $500 will be made Friday, Dec. 28. This should wrap up the Christmas promotion.

The Promotions Committee also wants to remind people that the Parade of Lights followed by Living Windows will be held Thursday, Nov. 29. Churches, organizations, band, youth groups and other groups and individuals are invited to participate. Get your generators and make your plans for both the parade and Living Windows and call the WAEDI office to reserve a spot in both activities.

A final project of the Promotions Committee for the Holiday Season will be Fantasy Forest on Thursday-Friday, Dec. 6-7 with Holiday Sounds to wrap up the festivities on Friday night, Dec. 7. On Thursday evening, the annual Rotary Soup and Pie Supper will be held while the Chamber Coffee will be held in the auditorium on Friday morning. These two activities have been traditional over time, while Holiday Sounds is entering its fourth year. The local churches will be providing the Holiday Sounds with their choirs and bell choirs. It has been a great show, so mark it on your calendar now.

Next meeting of Main Street Wayne is scheduled for Tuesday morning, Nov. 13. It is a combination Board and All-Hands meeting. If you are interested in Main Street, join us at 8 a.m. Meetings are usually less than an hour.

Capitol View

Conservative, common sense describe Johanns

By Ed Howard
Statehouse Correspondent
The Nebraska Press Association

Conservative.
Conservative, conservative.
Conservative, conservative, conservative.
Common sense.
Hopes and dreams.
Conservative, conservative.

With those words, in that order, Mike Johanns announced he wanted the Republican nomination to the U.S. Senate. A former governor, and most recently U.S. Secretary of Agriculture, he was immediately and overwhelmingly acknowledged as the GOP frontrunner.

Naturally, Johanns didn't stand before his assembled pals and a clump of reporters, chattering only the above-cited words like a parrot. Those carefully chosen words were surrounded with others, thus fashioning complete sentences.

Johanns referred to "conservative experience," and "conservative leadership," and "conservative Nebraska values," and "conservative values and principles," and a "conservative agenda and values," and some more "conservative values."

He said "Nebraska common sense" would sure help fix what's wrong with Washington; and that he had talked with the electorate about "my hopes and dreams for Nebraska."

Johanns then referenced our "shared conservative values," and said he wanted to put his "conservative experience" to work in the Senate. His remarks were mercifully short, but he told voters what he most wanted them to think of when thinking of him: Conservative.

Specific positions on the right or wrong of foreign policy, earmarking federal dollars, policy, preserving Social Security, ethanol - all can be explained and discussed and debated down the road. In the beginning, it was the C word that had to be emphasized. Johanns gave a fine example of how a politician can "stay on message." The former is regarded as central to successful electioneering - so long as the message remains En Vogue with the electorate. And in Nebraska, self-proclaimed conservatism is always in style.

Johanns' most high-profile GOP opponent is Attorney General Jon Bruning. One way and another, they will look to out-conservative one another.

Underdogs have to bite whenever they have an opportunity, and Johanns' speech might have given Bruning an opening. Did you catch it?

It was the part where Johanns said he had talked to Nebraskans about hopes and dreams.

Hopes and dreams! Mike

Johanns said hopes and dreams!

For those lacking in Nebraska political history, Democrat Bob Kerrey was propelled to an entirely successful political career - as a governor and two-term U.S. Senator - in no small measure by a free-spirited style. It included lots of references to the seemingly mystic "hopes and dreams" of Nebraskans. It was part of Cosmic Bob's appeal. (Along with the vicarious thrills some people enjoyed when he dated Debra Winger.)

Imagine a Bruning interview in your local newspaper, or a campaign commercial with those sinister intonations:

"Mike Johanns. For years he has been in Washington, a well-known liberal Shangri-La. Now, he's back ... and he's quoting Bob Kerrey!" It could lead to some comic relief.

Bruning could note that Johanns started out as a Democrat. Johanns could note Bruning was once a young liberal who endorsed legalizing marijuana.

The potential for entertainment value would be enhanced if Kerrey accepted the Democratic nomination for the Senate. It is easy to envision him being asked about a Johanns/Bruning quarrel about which of them is the most conservative. A prototypical Kerrey response: "I don't know - but they're both lawyers!"

Speaking of Nebraska's home-grown cosmic cowboy: It was in August or early September when Kerrey said his decision on whether to run for the Senate would come "soon."

You know how it is. The future is in the hands of tomorrow.

Concert well done

Dear Editor,
The Wayne-Cerroll school choir concert on Oct. 16 was very well done.

The parking lot was full and there was hardly a place to sit. It never ceases to amaze me how well these students represent their community and their school. Many of them rehearse outside of school time to prepare difficult music for their own enjoyment and sense of accomplishment as well as for the enjoyment of those who attend the concerts.

The Music Makers, comprised of fifth and sixth grade students, performed with much energy and enthusiasm and because their teacher makes singing fun for them, many will continue in junior high and high school.

The Junior High choir performed a three movement Latin piece that many directors would not attempt with such a young choir. They did a great job and many of them will continue because they were challenged to excel with difficult music and they met the challenge.

When the Junior High choir was finished, they walked down from the risers to much applause. Then a puzzling thing happened, 150 - 200 people left the concert. The High School students had not yet performed. The Jazz Choir, Girls' Glee, Boys' Glee and Concert Choir demonstrated to a very appreciative remaining audience what they had learned and accomplished so far this semester. They are definitely worthy of any praise and accolades for their performance. Though not perfect, they have rehearsed a great deal in school and on their own time to memorize their music and present it in a very entertaining and pleasing manner. These musicians did a great job.

It is unfortunate that more people did not see and hear what the upper level students and their director, Mrs. Anderson, are capable of doing.

Cheer!!
Eric Smith,
Wayne

Movie extols 'The Good Life'

Dear Editor,
On Oct. 14 a 'little movie' called "The Final Season" quietly opened amidst such giants as "Gone Baby Gone" and "Elizabeth: The Golden Age" after NO guest spots on TV talk shows (that I know of - I watch a lot of them!) and NO ads on TV either.

I suggest it be brought to Wayne so we can see it before it disappears into "A Field of Dreams" like the 1921 Chicago White Sox (or eventually into DVD stores).

Based on a true story, it takes place in Norway, Iowa (population 542) in 1990-91 and concerns the verbal struggles between parents and the school board over consolidating into a school 20 miles away, hence closing theirs (students population 101). Sound familiar, Nebraskans?

The main reason NOT to close Norway High School was simple and valid: 1990 was the 19th state championship in boys basketball it had won in 24 years. A 'dynasty' would abruptly end. These wins were mostly against big schools. During those 24 years, half of Norway's players went on to play college ball and 14 went on to the majors.

Fielding scenes in the movie reminded me of "10 best plays of the week" on ESPN. The real coach of their one final season given to them by the stubborn school board is currently a high school principal near where the movie was filmed (in and near Cedar Rapids, population approximately 120,000, whose teams they played in the regular season).

The movie's coach and star is Sean Austin, who is also the executive producer. He was the "good Hobbit" in "Lord of the Rings," but here he looks and talks a lot like Wayne's Eric Smith of quartet-singing fame.

The infield practice was Norway's "well-rehearsed dance" that they perfected to intimidate those opposing teams before a game began. It's shown twice in the movie and is amazing to watch - like an Olympic medalist performance or something.

The major subplot of a farm couple taking their high school age grandson for a year to get him away from Chicago life is especially charming, fun to watch and well-acted. Does "Rudy, the water boy" mean anything to you? Someone in line in Sioux City said they came because they heard he was in it. Maybe he's the grandson (Michael Ardano or some such last name).

I went because I knew one of my very best friends had several walk-on appearances. I also went a second time. I enjoyed the movie as much the second time, and especially the sparkling performances of the grandparents. This movie shoves "The Good Life" in the grandson's face and says, "Try it, you'll like it!" And, of course he does.

NECC plans Pops Concert

The concert series presented by the music department at Northeast Community College in Norfolk continues with a Pops Concert on Sunday, Nov. 4.

The concert, which is free and open to the public, will be held at 2 p.m. in the Cox Activities Center Theater. The Northeast Singers Express, the Northeast Jazz Machine and the Northeast Area Jazz Ensemble (NAJE) will perform.

The Northeast Singers Express, an audition swing choir, performs on campus and goes on tour in the spring to high schools in several states. At the Pops Concert Sunday, Nov. 4, the Singers Express will perform "Swing Dancin'" and "Something Latin" by Kirby Shaw and "Doctor Blues" by Peter Blair among others.

Dr. Linda Boullion, music department chair and director of vocal music activities, is the director of the Northeast Singers Express.

The Northeast Jazz Machine is an audition jazz band that performs at Northeast basketball games, goes on tour in the spring to area schools, and performs at Northeast Community College concerts. The Northeast Area Jazz Ensemble was formed to promote Big Band Music in the Norfolk area and provide a performance outlet for area musicians. Many members of the ensemble are area band directors. The NAJE performs several concerts a year, co-sponsors the Northeast Jazz and Swing Choir Festival in the spring, and provides scholarships for Northeast music students. The group is also available to play for area events as its schedule permits. Dr. Randall Neuharth, instrumental music instructor/director of instrumental activities, is the director of the Northeast Jazz Machine and the NAJE.

Instrumental selections at the Nov. 4 Pops Concert will include "Jamin' on the Railroad," arranged by Mike Lewis; "Comin' Home Baby," arranged by Roger Holmes, "Saturday Night Blues," by Les Hooper, and "Hog-Squealin', Rip-Snortin', Belly-Achin' Blues" by Michael Sweeney.

NECC is site of Basic RSLOGIX 5000 training

Northeast Community College in Norfolk is the site of a three-day workshop that will teach participants about RSLogix software.

The workshop, Basic RSLogix 5000, is set for Monday through Wednesday, Oct. 29-31, from 8 a.m. until 5 p.m. in Northeast's Lifelong Learning Center.

Cost of the three-day workshop is $450 with some of the registration fee being paid through the President's High-Growth Job Training Mechatronics grant.

The class will use the Compact Logix platform and FESTO I/O simbox and EasyVeep simulation software to reinforce the learning objectives.

Hands-on training will be provided using trainers and simulators with actual RSLogix 5000 systems control signals. A general knowledge of machine tools and a basic knowledge of PLCs is a pre-requisite to this class.

To register call 402-844-7235 or email Kathi@northeastcollege.com

Black and Gold performance

FINANCIAL FOCUS

Investing in a challenging economy

A weak housing market and problems related to the subprime mortgage market have suddenly transformed a slow and growing economy into an economy with challenges. A number of economic prognosticators and financial journalists are even tossing around the possibility of recession.

What does that mean for investors? Are signs of a downturn in the economy an indication that it is time for investors to pull back from stocks and stock mutual funds and look for lower risk alternatives in their portfolios? History says the answer may be no.

The challenge of short-term market predictions

It is never easy to predict where the stock market will stand six months or one year from now. And the state of the economy does not make it any easier.

Historically, there have been nine recessions going back to 1950. A recession is officially defined by the National Bureau of Economic Research (NBER) as "a significant decline in economic activity spread across the economy lasting more than a few months." The primary measure of economic growth is the nation's Gross Domestic Product (GDP). Traditionally, a recession is defined as two consecutive quarters of a declining GDP.

But, as is always the case in short periods of time in the market, the performance record for stocks during recessionary periods is mixed. During the past nine recessions, the stock market, as measured by the Standard & Poor's 500 (an unmanaged index of stocks) actually gained, on average, 1.24 percent during the length of the recessions. Through five of those nine recessions, the market posted positive returns.

Markets tend to be predictive
So why would the stock market potentially gain value at a time

Jennifer Phelps, Financial Advisor
George Phelps, AFA

ameripriseadvisors.com/jennifer.s.phelps

when the U.S. economy is struggling? One reason is that the stock market tends to anticipate events several months in advance. Even if the economy is in the doldrums, investors are often looking ahead to factors that would indicate that better times are on the horizon, and invest accordingly.

A consistent record of rebounds

In eight of the nine recessions since 1950, stocks generated significant gains in the 12 months following the official end of each recession (as defined by the NBER). It is important to know that economists need a few months to determine exactly when an economic downturn begins and when it may be finished.

In the 12 months after the end of the past nine recessions, the S&P 500 gained an average of 13.47 percent. Only after the last recession, in 2001 (coming off the unprecedented bull market of 1991 to 2000 and the September 11 terrorist attacks) did stocks decline in the subsequent 12 months after the end of the recession. In most cases, the environment continued to benefit stock investors post-recession. The S&P 500 Index rose, on average, 34.66 percent over the course of five years following the close of the last nine recessions.

Stick to the plan

There is no telling whether the U.S. is headed for a recession now, or if current economic struggles will be overcome and the country will enjoy a more prosperous economy. The important point to remember is that if you have long-term goals, it really shouldn't matter.

It can be easy to get caught up in the current stream of negative news about the markets and economy and become defensive with your portfolio - a mistake made by many investors. Despite potential short-term impacts on the markets, it is important that you stay focused on your long-term goals. Three valuable concepts to keep in mind are:

1. Stick to your long-term investment strategy - if the plan you've already developed makes sense for the long run, don't let current distractions take you off your established course.

2. Stay diversified - owning a variety of investments that perform differently through various market cycles can help cushion the blow of a downturn in any single investment.

3. Keep on investing - if you can continue putting money to work, even at times when the markets are fluctuating in value, you are likely to get closer to achieving your goals.

Just because the economy may be going through temporary turmoil does not mean you have to take cover with your investments. A good long-term strategy may be the best defense to short-term challenges. A financial advisor may be able to help identify your financial strategy and investment options.

Be proactive, informed when it comes to health insurance

It may seem like health insurance is an empty expense, but without it health care is not guaranteed. In addition, inability to cover health care costs is listed on more than half of personal bankruptcy petitions.

Being proactive and informed about health insurance can allow today's consumers to reduce health insurance costs without dropping the coverage completely. Decisions about the best insurance coverage are personal.

If possible, get a group health insurance policy instead of an individual one. Group policies, usually available through employers, generally cost less than individual policies.

Sandy Preston
Dixon County

If insurance costs are unaffordable, do everything possible to keep some coverage. One option is to ask an insurance representative, benefits officer or professional financial planner about reducing health insurance to cover only the most catastrophic of costs.

For families that meet certain income guidelines - up to 185 percent of poverty, which includes many Nebraskans - the state offers Kid's Connection insurance coverage. This insurance covers regular check-ups, medications, dental treatments, eyeglasses, hospital care, counseling and more for children up to 19 years old. To find out about eligibility, contact the local Health and Human Services office. More information about the coverage is available online at <http://www.hhs.state.ne.us/med/kidscnxapp.htm>.

Health care is a significant expense in a family budget, and it doesn't take a major crisis to rack up big costs. Following policies of preventative care is a good way to keep costs low. Adopt a healthy lifestyle, eating nutritious food, exercising regularly and taking steps to prevent injury or disease. Many sources readily provide reliable research about healthy living. Though it's impossible to control everything, common sense precautions go a long way in lowering health care costs.

Find practical ways to save money on health care. Keep good health care records to be sure no payments or treatments are duplicated, especially if not all treatments are received from the family's primary health care provider. Look for free or sliding fee-based community health care services to cover important preventative services such as tests, immunizations, mental health care, screenings, substance abuse treatments and others.

Learn to communicate effectively with health care providers by asking questions. Most health care professionals welcome inquiries, even those that may seem simple. To be able to ask better questions, read reliable research about health care conditions family members might have. Study prescription inserts to understand and most effectively use medications. Be sure to ask about foods, beverages or conditions that should be avoided when using the medication.

Talk to primary health care providers to see if lower price options are available for the prescribed care. Ask them to prescribe generic drugs, which usually are equivalent to name-brand drugs but cost less. However, some generic drugs may not be as effective for certain health situations as name-brand ones, so be sure to consult the health care provider.

Also, compare local, mail-order and Internet pharmacies to find which ones fill prescriptions at the lowest price. When using mail-order or Internet pharmacies, it is best to order just one prescription at first to get an idea of the company's service quality before turning all prescriptions over to them.

United Methodist Women hold October meeting

The United Methodist Women met on Oct. 20. The program, World Thanks Offering, was given by Marj Porter. Hostess was Susan Schroeder. After the program the business meeting was held.

Plans for the Fall Harvest Festival were discussed. It will be held at the church on Sunday, Nov. 4 from 11 a.m. to 1:30 p.m.

The meal will be ham, turkey, mashed potatoes with gravy, green beans, relish and a roll. The cost will be $6 for a meal (both meats) or $4.50 for a half-meal (one meat), $1.50 for a slice of pie and 50 cents for coffee or milk. Meal delivery will be offered in Wayne. Orders can be placed beginning at 11 a.m. by calling the Methodist Church at 402-375-2231.

The General Store with its Crafts and Baked Goods will be open at 11 a.m. A Silent Auction with items to use for gifts will also be held. There will be knives with some great Dip products added. As always, the United Methodist Women's Corgie for Missions will be available. For a dollar you can support World Missions and give someone you appreciate a HUG.

Everyone was asked to contribute to the Festival and the meeting was adjourned. The next meeting will be on Saturday, Nov. 17 at 9:30 a.m. The program will be "Our Place in the Story."

Immanuel Ladies Aid holds meeting at Premier Estates

The Ladies Aid of Immanuel Lutheran Church of rural Wakefield met Oct. 18 at Premier Estates to be with Bonnie Schrieber.

Pastor Willie Bertrand led the Quarterly Bible lesson, "Celebrating Life as the Handiwork of God." President Mrs. Lloyd Roebber conducted the business meeting. Eight members answered roll call. Bernita Sherbahn and Fern Kraemer were guests. The minutes were read and the treasurer's report was given.

A thank-you was read from Alta Meyer and family for serving lunch at Reuben's funeral.

Bills were approved for payment. The Aid will help pay for redecorating of the church bathrooms. A thank you will be sent to Cheryl and Rachael Waddington for helping with the church's 125th anniversary.

Nila Schuttler gave her visiting report. The birthday of Beverly Ruwe was honored.

A potluck lunch was served and Eddie and Esther Baker, Marvin Echtenkamp and Lloyd Roebber joined the group.

Wanted ... Church news

The Wayne Herald would like to print information and schedules from area churches.

All information submitted to the Herald by Monday at 5 p.m. (delivered to the Herald office) or emailed by 8 a.m. on Tuesday will be included in that week's edition of the paper.

Articles may be mailed to P.O. Box 70, Wayne, Neb. 68787 or emailed to clara@wayneherald.com

The Herald thanks its readers and area ministers for their cooperation in our effort to keep informed on the happenings at various churches.

Thrivent Financial for Lutherans Care Abounds in Communities chapter program locally.

Through this program, Thrivent Financial adds financial support to volunteer projects and/or fund-raising activities conducted by local Thrivent chapter members to benefit individuals, families and qualified nonprofit organizations—providing help to people in need and the community.

Incoming 2008 chapter leaders include: president, Ken Thomsen, Wakefield; vice president, Gerald Muller, Wakefield; records director, Sondra Mattes, Wakefield; financial director Sue Olson, Wayne; and congregational service team director, Karen Mangels, Winside.

The chapter is asking volunteers for a communications director, an assistant financial director, a community service team director, a youth director; and an events director. The contact person is Art Greve 375-1589. Outgoing officers are: Art Greve as president; Kathleen Johs, communications director, Lynne Allemann, events leader; and Kathy Johnson, community service team director.

Thrivent Financial for Lutherans, through its chapter system and Care programs, helps its members and others multiply the good they do together and deliver an even greater impact to help individuals and families in need, qualified nonprofit organizations and Lutheran congregations.

Members are reminded to vote via mail for national directors by Nov. 30.

Heidi Garvin and Jordan Eberhardt were among those participating in this year's CROP Walk.

CROP Walk held in Wayne

The annual CROP Walk was held in Wayne on Oct. 14.

The day was blessed by having wonderful volunteers willing to come out into the rain to help raise money for hungry people all over the world. Sixteen walkers walked the route and collected pledges from many more volunteers.

The Food Pantry and the Wayne Association of Congregations and Ministers (WACAM) will receive a share of the $750 raised with the remainder of the money going to Church World Service to help those in need.

A special thanks has been extended to all the walkers braving the rain:

- Megan Stalling, Gina Smith, Virginia Backstrom, Janet Reeg, Jamie and Lynda Belt, June Baier, Lynette and Roger Lentz, Phyllis Rahn, Ben Bruflatt, Andrew Long, Heidi Garvin, Jordan Eberhardt, Kai Weixelman and Deb Hammer.

Trinity WELCA meets in Winside

Winside Trinity Lutheran's WELCA met Oct. 11 in the church basement. PMA Glenn Kietzman led the lesson taken from 2 Kings 5:1-15. President Kathy Jensen shared a reading "Why Do We Give?" based on Bible reading Matthew 6:3-4. There were eight members and PMA Glenn Kietzman who answered roll call. The secretary's and treasurer's reports were read and approved. A thank you from the church council was read for the donation given to be used for landscaping in the front of the church. It was noted that the landscaping was complete and "everything looks very nice." President Jensen shared the Haven House list with the ladies. Lois Krueger read a letter concerning the Synod-sponsored Winter Retreat to be held in Grand Island on Jan. 18, 2008. The WELCA will make a donation to this event to be used for Lutheran World Relief.

It was noted that the group had three members who went to Stanton on Sept. 13. They included Arlene Rabe, Greta Grubbs and Kathy Jensen. Election of officers will be held at the next meeting. The office of president is up for election.

Irene Fork thanked everyone for the cards and prayers she received. Get-well cards were signed for Dorothy Jo Andersen and Willard Holdorf. The next meeting will be held Thursday, Nov. 8 with Mary Lou George serving.

The meeting closed with The Lord's Prayer. Lunch was served by Greta Grubbs.

Among those attending the annual dinner meeting were, left to right, Dennis Engelbart, Ken Thomsen, Anita Sites and Art Greve.

Thrivent chapter holds meeting

The Thrivent Financial for Lutherans of Wayne-Dixon County Chapter was hosted at Salem Lutheran Church in Wakefield for their fifth annual dinner meeting on Oct. 14. A sit down dinner was catered by Chefs on the Go and served by the Youth 4 Truth group of Wakefield. The youth plan to use the serving proceeds for booking The Remedy Drive band to perform on New Year's Eve in Wakefield. Our Savior Lutheran Quartet from Wayne entertained the audience with many good gospel songs.

Karen Mangels, congregational service team director, was master of ceremonies and welcomed the 75 guests. Dennis Engelbart, Regional Manager of Lutheran Community Services of Omaha, gave the invocation. Also, Anita Sites, Thrivent Community Service Specialist from Hastings was a special guest. Sites spoke on the group on how important it is for churches to utilize their $1,300 or $1,600 for projects in their congregations.

She thanked the people that serve as Congregational Coordinators. She mentioned how to obtain matching funds for Orphan Grain Train in Norfolk. Thrivent sponsored trips to Biloxi, Miss. and the Gulf Coast to aid in disaster relief. Manager Engelbart spoke about the Habitat for Humanity homes being built in Norfolk with Thrivent sponsorship. Brochures were distributed explaining the Thrivent programs offered: Simply giving, Giving Plus, Charitable giving, Thrivent building giving and members' support volunteer efforts. Thrivent Financial for Lutherans is one of the nation's largest benevolent organizations. The fundamental purpose of the fraternal is to help others.

Sue Olson, Financial Director, gave the Care Abounds in Communities report. The Wayne-Dixon chapter funds available amounted to $14,590. Projects have been spaghetti feeds, potato bake, pancake breakfasts, fish feed, quilt auction and three benefits for medical expenses. These events raised $40,327 with supplemental Thrivent funds of $7,900. Volunteer hours for these activities raised 3,100 hours. Appreciation was expressed for the jobs well done. Just to mention that "Make a Difference Day" is Oct. 27. This is a national day for assisting others. A benefit is planned for Nov. 4 at the Wayne Fire Hall for Micah Jensen of Hubbard.

Mangels reported on the Care in Congregations. There are 10 churches within the chapter and nine were represented at the meeting. Table decorations were pumpkins for fall and 13 door prizes were given away. The organization's scrapbook was on display.

The Nebraska Fraternal Congress has extended an invitation to at least one chapter member for this annual meeting to be held at Camp Carol Joy Holling on Nov. 2. The event will begin with a lunch, followed by assembling 365 birthday kits for the Omaha area food pantries, hayrides to enjoy the fall foliage, silent auction used for scholarships and an evening banquet with speaker Dr. Micah Parker. He is a Christian motivation speaker talking about leadership and overcoming adversity.

TOPS conducts weekly meeting

On Oct. 17 TOPS NE #200 met at the Boardroom of the Providence Hospital with 19 TOPS and three KOPS present.

Roll Call was "What happened this week to make you feel Good". The secretary's report was read and approved. The treasury stands at $73.62.

TOPS Best Loser was Kay Saul and she received her coupon. KOPS Best Loser was the Lois Spencer and she received her coupon.

Charms were earned by Kay Saul, who received one for her monthly (September) best loser. Tracy Henschke received a charm with five coupons. Those receiving bingo gifts were Kay Saul, Tracy Henschke and Diane Sullivan.

Birthdays this week were Paula Haisch on the 17th and Phyllis Rahn on the 19th. The group sang Happy Birthday to Paula. Phyllis was absent.

Leader Twilla Kessinger reminded everyone about having Linda Carr at next week's meeting for a Body Mass Index test and information.

JoAnn Stoltenberg passed out a list of snacks containing 50 calories or less and Kay Saul read on "Losing weight and keeping it off." Lois Spencer read the "How the idiot dieting and lower carbohydrates can cause persons to quit a diet" and Twilla Kessinger read, "The reasons to eat an apple a day."

NECC's SAC plans haunted house for teens, young adults and adults

Check your courage at the door and be prepared for a frighteningly good time at the Halloween Haunted House sponsored by the Student Activities Council at Northeast Community College in Norfolk. The event is Saturday, Oct. 27, and Tuesday and Wednesday, Oct. 30 and 31, from 8 p.m. until midnight at Northeast's Ag Complex, located one mile east of campus at the intersection of Highway 35 and Benjamin Avenue. Admission is $3 for Northeast students/staff and faculty with a Northeast ID and $4 for non-students. According to Student Activities Coordinator Carissa Kollath, the Haunted House is suitable for those 12 years old and older. She said it promises to be great fun and add lots of excitement, maybe even some temporary fright, to a Halloween observance this year. For more information, call Kollath at (402)844-7159.

The Llewellyn B. Whitmore Post #5291 Ladies Auxiliary met Oct. 8 at the Sunnyview Community Room. President Glennadine Barker called the meeting to order. It was a regular meeting with opening ceremonies conducted in accordance to ritual. Chaplain Pro-tem Ruth Korth gave the opening prayer. Minutes were read and approved. The treasurer's report was read by Treasurer Eveline Thompson. Excerpts from "The Sparkler" noted that true patriotism comes from the heart. The student deadline for the Voice of Democracy Scholarship to the Post is Nov. 1. All entries need to be turned in to the District by Nov. 20. The deadline for submission to state headquarters is Dec. 13. The Young American Creative Patriotic Art Competition is available for those in grades nine through 12. There is no theme. It was stated that the Federal Flag Code must be followed when displaying entries so that student artwork is not disqualified. The deadline for the auxiliary is March 31, 2008. The deadline for the state chair is April 15, 2008. A letter was read from Arlene Lundahl, thanking the auxiliary for her Gold Star gift. Community Service Chairman Ruth Korth reported that National Family Volunteer Day is Saturday, Nov. 17. The tragedy in Minneapolis is a reminder of disaster preparedness. Membership Chairman Eveline Thompson reported that there are seven paid up members. National does not send out dues notices any more. The dues are now due. Pillow cleaning was conducted on Sept. 15 at the Eveline Thompson residence. Those helping were Verna Mae Baier, Glennadine Barker Darlene Elaine Draghu, Darlene Helgren, Ruth Korth and Eveline Thompson. The Veterans' Supper was held at the Norfolk Veterans Home on Sept. 24. The event was sponsored by American Legion #43, VFW Auxiliary #5291, DAV Auxiliary #28 and Am Vets Auxiliary #22. Those helping serve the meal included Glennadine Barker, Eddie Baier, Verna Mae Baier, Bonnie Otte, Mable Sommerfeld, Jean Lutt, Dorothy Wert, Harold E. Thompson, Jr. and Eveline Thompson. Ray Peterson furnished the music for the evening. There were 75 people served that evening. The auxiliary received its auxiliary inspection report. Inspection comments included that the auxiliary had "very good minutes read of previous meetings. Good reports of chairmen, pillow cleaning Sept. 14, very active auxiliary. This is an A Plus auxiliary. Entertainment at Veterans' Home and thank you to Wayne Herald for news they put in the paper." At the next meeting the group will take care of the Christmas assignment for the hospital. Closing ceremonies were conducted in accordance to ritual. Chaplain Pro-tem Ruth Korth gave the closing prayer. The next meeting will be held Monday, Nov. 12 at 2 p.m. at the Sunnyview Community Room. Serving lunch was Darlene Helgren.

Art faculty to display work at WSC

Wayne State College art faculty member Judith Berry will show paintings and constructions during an exhibit, Oct. 22 through Nov. 9. Berry completed her thesis work for her M.F.A. this fall and work from her thesis show will be included in this exhibit at Wayne State College.

Berry said her goal has been to connect to everyday experiences on a personal level to offer an insight into our human commonalities. "Through my development of space I want to offer the viewers familiar experiences; yet, evoke an odd sense as individuals experience my imaginary space," said Berry. Berry's work features paintings with constructed spaces that extend beyond the canvas. She is combining traditional painted canvases with found objects and constructed walls to create an architectural installation. Groups of paintings are presented as living areas in and out of a typical house in which the viewers become participants in the space. The subjects of the paintings are figures. Berry is an instructor for the Art and Design Department at Wayne State College. Berry authored a National Endowment for the Arts

Juanita Reed-Boniface inducted into National 4-H Hall of Fame

Juanita Reed-Boniface, long time Minnesota Extension Educator 4-H Youth Development, has been inducted into the National 4-H Hall of Fame.

The induction ceremony took place at the National 4-H Youth Conference Center in Chevy Chase, Md. on Oct. 5.

She was a 4-H member in Wayne County from 1948-1955, and her parents, the late Robert and Inez Boeckenhauer, were long-time leaders. She was a member of 4-H girls clubs, Needle and Thread, Happy Helpers and Stitch and Stew and a member of boys clubs, LaPorte Tail Twisters and BPM.

"My Wayne County 4-H experiences gave me a good foundation in public speaking and leadership," she said.

Reed-Boniface was also a student at Wayne State College for two years before transferring to UNL to complete her degree.

Reed-Boniface was recognized for her contributions to 4-H during more than 40 years of service to the organization as a 4-H volunteer, extension professional and agribusiness partner.

"This year's National 4-H Hall of Fame laureates have impacted millions of 4-H youth, leading by example with their passion, dedication and creativity and helping to build strong leaders and citizens" said Clyde Jackson, President of National Association of Extension 4-H Agents. (NAE4-HA). "We are proud to celebrate their contributions by welcoming these inspirational people into the National 4-H Hall of Fame."

Reed-Boniface began her 4-H career as a 4-H member in Brown and Wayne Counties, Nebraska where she was named an Ak-Sar-Ben Outstanding 4-H member and was awarded a trip to National 4-H Congress. After graduating from the University of Nebraska she began her professional career in Otoe County, Nebraska. In 1963 she joined the University of Minnesota 4-H faculty. Juanita is known for her organizational, writing and teaching skills and her ability to build relationships with the livestock community and building teams of youth and adults.

During her career, Juanita served on numerous national committees, co-authored 4-H curriculum, led leader and staff training workshops across the state and nation and was Superintendent of the 4-H Department at the Minnesota State Fair. One of her most prominent legacies is the Minnesota 4-H Ambassador program, which will celebrate its 40th year in 2008.

In retirement, she supports 4-H as a donor, as a member of the Anoka County Extension Committee and as an agribusiness partner. Currently along with her husband, Dick, Juanita serves as program coordinator for the Minnesota Foundation for Responsible Animal Care. In this role, she partnered with others and gave leadership to designing and implementing Minnesota's nationally recognized Livestock Quality Assurance and Ethics program for young producers.

"The 4-H Program was an ideal match for Juanita on this topic," says Brad Rugg, Director of Animal Science and Fair program at the Center for 4-H and Community Youth Development, University of Minnesota Extension, "as a result of her vision, over 20,000 Minnesota 4-H members have been certified in Livestock Quality Assurance and Ethics"

Reed-Boniface has received numerous awards from her state and national extension professional associations, was named the University of Nebraska Cather Circle Alumna of the Year in 2007 and along with her husband was inducted into the Minnesota Livestock Hall of Fame in 2004.

"4-H is in the people building business-helping people become the best that they can be" stated Reed-Boniface, "throughout my life, I have had mentors who lived that motto and I have tried to follow their example. I am proud to have served the 4-H program."

The National 4-H Hall of Fame was created in 2002 as a 4-H Centennial project, to recognize and celebrate those people who have had a significant impact on 4-H and its millions of members. A new class of laureates is inducted annually. The Hall of Fame is a cooperative project of National Association of Extension 4-H Agents, National 4-H Council and Families, 4-H and Nutrition a division of the Cooperative State Research Education and Extension Service of the United States Department of Agriculture.

American Income Life Insurance Company partnered with National 4-H Council to support the ceremony. NAE4-H A sponsors the National 4-H Hall of Fame online at www.nae4ha.org/hof/

Leigh Dam project moves another step forward

The Lower Elkhorn Natural Resources District (LENRD) Board of Directors recently voted to move forward and seek bids for the construction of the Leigh Dam project.

Board members also approved an agreement with the Nebraska Department of Roads to raise Highway 91, which will pass over the north end of the new lake. This phase of the project will begin in the spring of 2008.

The LENRD is working with the U.S. Army Corps of Engineers to obtain a Section 404 permit needed for the work in wetlands.

The board also approved a work order to relocate Loup Power District lines and to build a temporary power line south of Highway 91. The LENRD will pay the $155,000 cost of the work in the project area.

The earthen dam project will receive a name later this year in a "naming contest" sponsored by the district. The dam will be approximately 50 feet tall and located immediately west of Leigh - across the West Fork of Maple Creek, north of the Colfax County fairgrounds. The $6.9 million project will provide flood protection for the fairgrounds below the dam including property owners on the south side of Leigh, and downstream land-owners along the west fork of Maple Creek.

The project consists of 557 acres of land that will contain a 160 acre reservoir divided into two parts by Highway 91. The draft of the recreation plan includes camper pads, a swimming beach, a walking/biking trail, fishing, boating (5 mph - no wake), and picnic shelters. LENRD Assistant General Manager, Ken Berney, added, "Part of the plan will include raising Highway 91 which would create a sediment retention/wetland area to provide good water quality and extend the life of the lake." Olsson Associates will continue as engineers for the project.

The LENRD received a grant from the Nebraska Resources Development Fund for up to $3.7 million, not to exceed 55% of the total project cost which is currently estimated at $6.9 million.

LENRD General Manager, Stan Staab, said, "After more than seven years of planning, we are pleased to move to the construction phase of the project."

Celebrating National Friendship Month

Every once in a while, I get an e-mail that says it's National Friendship Month, and then has lots of nice things to say about the value of friends. I think it's been around so long, no one knows when that month actually is, but I like the concept. I've always said I don't collect things; it's more fun to collect friends.

About a month ago, I received a very formal letter saying the writer "celebrates me"...she went on to say that she valued my friendship and that she was having a dessert luncheon to honor her friends and I should RSVP.

Well, the luncheon was last Saturday, and I certainly was not going to miss that. As you know, it was a beautiful sunny day and the game wasn't really worth listening to, so we gathered at 1:30 for cheesecake and carrot cake.

This friend was a classmate in nurses' training and we have kept in touch. We spent several weekends in each other's homes and got to know each other's families. Now that we are both retired, sort of, we can actually get together a little more often. Plus, we sang in Lincoln Lutheran choir together.

I was curious to see who would all be there. Two were old friends from grade school; they had gone all through high school together and sang in a trio. Their high school class still gets together for brunch periodically. And our nursing buddies in and around Lincoln get together for lunch every other month.

The Farmer's Wife
By: Pat Meterhenry

Two ladies who were there had taught nursing with her at Southeast Community College, Beatrice campus. One, with her two daughters, had been in 4-H horse shows with the hostess and her two daughters; both of whom were also there, along with her one and only grand daughter, also a horse lover.

One lady attends the same church, and when they were getting acquainted at some meeting at that church, Fritz, my friend, mentioned she was from Sterling. The new member asked if she had known the Wolffs. Fritz responded that her mother was a Wolff. The new gal informed her that her cousin had married Loren Wolff and she had been a flower girl in the wedding. Fritz then informed her that she had been a flower girl in the same wedding! They had not seen each other since.

We each received a hand embroidered tea towel, and a heartfelt note about the meaning of our friendship. It was a very special afternoon, and I was honored to be a part of it.

You don't have to go to all that work, but if you haven't told your friends lately how important they are to you, I suggest you do it, national friendship week or not. We need to say these things while we can. It's a proven fact that good friends contribute to good health, and happiness, if not wealth. And that's more important, anyway!

Two-day workshop on Pesticide Resistance Management planned

UNL's Department of Agronomy and Horticulture will present a two-day workshop on Pesticide Resistance Management, Dec. 4-5 at the Nebraska East Union on the UNL campus in Lincoln.

The workshop, consisting of lecture, discussion and "hands-on" activities and problem-solving, is designed to provide producers, agronomists, and other agribusiness professionals with a basic understanding of why crop insect pests, pathogens and weeds develop resistance to pesticides and other management techniques.

Topics include the evolutionary biological, genetic and pest biological principles underpinning pest resistance and its management. The role of transgenic crops, is also examined. Upon completion of the workshop, participants will be design and evaluate pesticide management.

Workshop presenters include the department's Plant Pathology and Course coordinator is specialist, Dr. Mark

Bernards.

The workshop is available for UNL academic credit, noncredit professional development, and CEU credit. Sessions will run from approximately 9 a.m. to 4 p.m. each day. ## More insurance classes set for Nov. 9 in South Sioux City

Two, one-session courses for insurance professionals are scheduled at the Northeast Community College Education Center in South Sioux City on Friday, Nov. 9.

What Did You Say? (Ethics) #SA 15101, with course number INS 0300-03S, meets from 9 a.m.-noon in Room 113 of the South Sioux City Education Center at 3309 Daniels Lane in the Westside Business Park. Larry Silacek is the instructor.

This session will explore the importance of ethics in our society today, and the need for good communication. The class will look at different cases and the need for better communication with clients and agents. Three continuing education hours will be awarded P & C.

A second session, Personal Inland Marine #SA 15098, with course number INS 0300-04S, meets the same day, Friday, Nov. 9, from 1-4 p.m. in the same location.

In this class, Instructor Silacek will lead a discussion on this history of the Inland Marine Policy. Class discussion will include the loss conditions of an ISO Personal Inland Marine Policy and some general questions asked about an Inland Marine Policy.

Three continuing education hours will also be awarded P & C. Cost of each session is $35. To register for either or both classes, call (402)241-6400.

Celebrating National Friendship Month

Every once in a while, I get an e-mail that says it's National Friendship Month, and then has lots of nice things to say about the value of friends. I think it's been around so long, no one knows when that month actually is, but I like the concept. I've always said I don't collect things; it's more fun to collect friends.

About a month ago, I received a very formal letter saying the writer "celebrates me". She went on to say that she valued my friendship and that she was having a dessert luncheon to honor her friends and I should RSVP.

Well, the luncheon was last Saturday, and I certainly was not going to miss that. As you know, it was a beautiful sunny day and the game wasn't really worth listening to, so we gathered at 1:30 for cheesecake and carrot cake.

This friend was a classmate in nurses' training and we have kept in touch. We spent several weekends in each other's homes and got to know each other's families. Now that we are both retired, sort of, we can actually get together a little more often. Plus, we sang in Lincoln Lutheran choir together.

I was curious to see who would all be there. Two were old friends from grade school; they had gone all through high school together and sang in a trio. Their high school class still gets together for brunch periodically. And our nursing buddies in and around Lincoln get together for lunch every other month.

Two ladies who were there had taught nursing with her at Southeast Community College, Beatrice campus. One, with her two daughters, had been in 4-H horse shows with the hostess and her two daughters; both of whom were also there, along with her one and only grand daughter, also a horse lover.

One lady attends the same church, and when they were getting acquainted at some meeting at that church, Fritz, my friend, mentioned she was from Sterling. The new member asked if she had known the Wolffs. Fritz responded that her mother was a Wolff. The new gal informed her that her cousin had married Loren Wolff and she had been a flower girl in the wedding. Fritz then informed her that she had been a flower girl in the same wedding! They had not seen each other since.

We each received a hand embroidered tea towel, and a heartfelt note about the meaning of our friendship. It was a very special afternoon, and I was honored to be a part of it.

You don't have to go to all that work, but if you haven't told your friends lately how important they are to you, I suggest you do it, national friendship week or not. We need to say these things while we can. It's a proven fact that good friends contribute to good health, and happiness, if not wealth. And that's more important, anyway!

Two-day workshop on Pesticide Resistance Management planned

UNL's Department of Agronomy and Horticulture will present a two-day workshop on Pesticide Resistance Management, Dec. 4-5 at the Nebraska East Union on the UNL campus in Lincoln.

The workshop, consisting of lecture, discussion and "hands-on" activities and problem-solving, is designed to provide producers, agronomists, and other agribusiness professionals with a basic understanding of why crop insect pests, pathogens and weeds develop resistance to pesticides and other management techniques.

Topics include the evolutionary biological, genetic and pest biological principles underpinning pest resistance and its management. The role of transgenic crops is also examined. Upon completion of the workshop, participants will be better able to design and evaluate pesticide resistance management strategies. Workshop presenters include faculty from the departments of Agronomy and Horticulture, Plant Pathology and Entomology. Course coordinator is weed specialist, Dr. Mark

Bernards.

The workshop is available for UNL academic credit, noncredit professional development, and CEU credit. Sessions will run from approximately 9 a.m. to 4 p.m. each day. For noncredit participants, the registration fee is $250 if received on or before Nov. 27; $300 thereafter. The fee includes all workshop-related materials, parking permit, lunch and refreshments both days. For individuals unable to attend the workshop, the content will also be available online.

For more information or to register, please visit the Agronomy and Horticulture Distance Education and Life-Long Learning Program website at: <http://www.agronomy.unl.edu/prospective/distanceed.html> or contact Cathy Dickinson, cdickinson2@unl.edu, 402.472.1730. Individuals interested in registering for the workshop for noncredit or CEU credit can purchase the registration online through the ADEC eStore at: <https://estore.adece.edu/>
