Multi-jurisdictional Hazard Mitigation Plan meetings scheduled

Norfolk, is undertaking a planning effort to develop a "Multi-jurisdictional Hazard Mitigation Plan" for the District in coordination with the Nebraska Department of Natural Resources (NDNR), Nebraska Emergency Management Agency (NEMA) and the Federal Emergency Management Agency (FEMA). Each community and county located in the District is eligible and encouraged to participate in the planning process.

The hazard mitigation plan will be a community-guided document that will identify each participating community's vulnerability to natural disasters such as flood, drought, earthquake, wildfire, winter storm, tornado/high wind storm, dam failure, etc. The plan will set goals for each community, establish mitigation alternatives and prioritize projects which can alleviate potential damages to property and life when future disasters occur. Proactive hazard mitigation planning allows a community to take actions to reduce or eliminate these threats.

'In order to reinforce the importance of hazard mitigation planning and to emphasize planning for disasters before they occur, the Disaster Mitigation Act of 2000 (DMA 2000) legislation was signed into law on Oct. 10, 2000 (Public Law 106-390). This act established that a predisaster hazard mitigation program would

According to the DMA 2000, a community must have a FEMAapproved hazard mitigation plan in order to receive project grant funds. Once a hazard mitigation plan is developed and adopted, the jurisdiction will also be eligible for pre-disaster mitigation project grants to implement the mitigation solutions identified in the plan.

There is a series of three public meetings planned around the district to receive public input and comments about the disaster types, problem areas and potential mitigation solutions. Meetings have been scheduled for: Wednesday, Nov. 14, 7-9 p.m., Wayne Fire Hall in Wayne and Nov. 28, 7 -9 p.m., City Council Chambers in West Point (there was a meeting on Nov. 7 at the Life Long Learning Center in Norfolk). Once approved by both NEMA and FEMA, the Lower Elkhorn NRD plan can be adopted by each local participating community. Lower Elkhorn has hired JEO Consulting Group, Inc. to assist with the development of the plan over the next two years. This project is being funded by grants from NEMA and Lower Elkhorn

Commissioner Sharon Braun, chair, noted they are expected to be ready with this issue for a public hearing on Dec. 3 but feels a special committee is needed. Hansen added that legal council would also be helpful.

Laurel man found dead

Larry Apking, 64, of Laurel was found dead by his car at the city park in Laurel at 7:15 a.m. on Nov. 1. A motorist passing by discovered the body and called 911. The Nebraska State Patrol is in charge of the investigation and stated that Apking appeared to die from natural causes. An autopsy was being tives of WAEDI or the property owners of 617 Pearl Street or 115 W. 7th Street were present.

City Administrator Lowell Johnson was in attendance and stated that since he is also a member of WAEDI, he would address the issue. He noted the property being considered is for a potential dental clinic and WAEDI has been helping develop this and that the owner of the business does not want to be mentioned at this time.

Several neighbors in that area were present and had questions. Dr. Richard Collings of 606 Pearl Street had concerns on what the Discussion was held on amend- because if changed to commercial, ing Sec. 90-710 (c) parking or dri- it encroaches onto a residential what really is being approved? Braun discussed permitted uses and noted many different businesses can be in B-3. Commissioner Sweetland stated hours of operation is an issue. Commissioner Mark Ahmann said he has a concern with the property owners not making the request. Dr. Collings added that he is concerned with the unknowns and that it seems like sort of a blank check for future development and that while a dental clinic looks better than some of the other businesses that are allowed in B-3, there are no guarantees.

Johnson noted the proposed den tal clinic is wanted in the 7th Street traffic area, Commissioner Derek Hill said that corner is bad for traffic anyway and Hansen said turning into a parking lot would add to the congestion. Ahmann said a dental clinic doesn't need high visibility. Johnson reminded the Planning Commission they have the authority in rezoning; buying property is an open process; they can make specifications. He added that while code does not require it, the Planning Commission could state the need for a barrier fence.

Braun read permitted uses of R 1 and noted it looked like a dental clinic could function in R-1 and wondered why they wanted the rezoning. Sweetland stated maybe they wanted more options.

Another neighbor, Mary Ettel, 619 Lincoln, said she is also concerned with the traffic as she works at the college and with busses and vehicles heading to school every morning, it is already a challenge to get to work.

The public hearing closed and the Planning Commission stated they want clarification to the rezoning; they want WAEDI to explain why it's important to change from R-1 to B-3. Chair Braun made a motion they recommend zoning designation remain as stands as R-1 for those two properties. Ahmann seconded the motion. (There were six for, one against and one abstaining-Hansen noted she lives within the 300 feet of the two properties).

The next regular Planning Commission meeting will be Monday, Dec. 3 at 7 p.m. in the council chambers at 306 Pearl Street in Wayne.

Wayne County Board of Commissioners met in regular fall if weather permitted. They session on Tuesday. Wes Blecke ended with, once everything is in of WAEDI and Kent Franzen of Wayne Industries were present to discuss the upcoming spec building and ask the county for help with dirt work for the project.

They noted with the help of $255,000 from the Department of Economic Development, as well as support from Wayne Industries, local banks and the city, a spec building will be built on what was the Kardell property northwest of the Wayne airport (lot 3, which is 6.57 acres). The building will be 20,000 square feet and should be large enough to house a business that would have 15-20 employees. They noted many prospective businesses won't consider a location unless there is a building ready to move into.

Blecke and Franzen added that they know the county was helpful with dirt work when Timpte came to Wayne years ago. They wondered if the county could do the same at the spec building location, which would save around noted they could do the rough stuff in attendance and many were area

The commissioners told Fuller and get back to him. Later, discussion included that while what was offered in help would be nice, there was a concern about a third party (even though it's secure) having access to employees social security numbers, etc.

Deanna Beckman, Wayne County emergency manager, gave the commissioners an update which included the Oct. 25 meeting with Jim Egr, upcoming NRD Hazard Mitigation meetings and NIMS $40,000 (pre-lim estimate) in cost. training. ity issues from rural fire boards, Open Meeting Act and more.

Beckman also noted there is a LENRD Hazard Mitigation meeting planned at the Wayne Fire Station at 7 p.m on Nov. 14. She discussed NIMS (National Incident Management System) training and noted the commissioners and elected officials are among those needing certification. She added that NIMS will be checking in 2008 to see if regulations are being kept, up to date and if they aren't, grand funds will be stopped. Beckman added there is a LEOP (Local Emergency Operations Plan) meeting planned for Nov. 29 which will include a number of entities. She they would discuss the information, noted she is working on details and will let everyone know the time of the meeting.

LaMichuacana Restaurant at new location in Wakefield

By Lynn Sievers

Of the Herald

LaMichuacana Restaurant has moved into the building at 108 Main Street in Wakefield, where the popular food business, The Hotel, was located years ago. LaMichuacana is open Monday through Saturday, 7 a.m. to 9 p.m. and is closed on Sundays. Rosalva Brambila is the owner.

Some of the most popular specials at LaMichuacana include: Breakfast: #2: Two eggs, bacon, toast and hash browns, $5; Burittos, small order, $4/ large order, $5.50; Egg sandwich, $3.50/ with hash browns, $5.50. Lunch: dinner specials - each served with rice, beans and salad: Chimichanga, $7.50; Quesadilla, $5.50; Enchilada, $6. Supper: dinners: shrimp, $8 - $9; Seven Seas (seven seafoods, crackers, hot and cold soup, beans, toastados), $9; Carne Asada (grilled steak), $8.

There is a grocery area in the front of the building featuring Mexican/ Central American groceries that include herbs and teas.

Prior to moving to 108 Main Street in Wakefield, LaMichuacana was located in the old Rexall Drug store on Main Street in Wakefield. Brambila noted moving to the new location was desirable as there is plenty of room there for dining, a buffet area and seating, as well as a bar area that is separated from the dining areas.

"When I first looked into this building, I said WOW, why has this placed been closed," Brambila said. "It is perfect. There is a house in the back and the dining and bar areas are divided. I've heard a lot of stories of how the building used to be. I want to bring back Friday night chicken and fish frys and Saturday night prime rib. I think having a pool table, darts, and entertainment in the bar area is great. And, I want to have an arcade for children by the dining room. Hopefully, there will also be meetings in the back room in the future."

She noted that some of the stories she heard of the old Hotel, came from her friend, Roberta Puls of Wakefield, who used to cook there years ago. She said Puls plans to help her in the future.

Brambila added that they are also planning to spruce up the front of the building too by painting and fixing the brick. She noted the building has so much potential and she has so many goals.

Brambila has two children, Mayra, 15 and Louis, 11. They moved here from California in the spring of 2000, so Brambila could help her mother, Maria Guizar, originally of Mexico, who had started the restaurant at the previous location and was ill at that time. When Brambila's mother passed away. she decided she wanted her mother's dream of owning her own business to continue. She added that she likes Wakefield and is glad she decided to stay.

Besides her busy life as a restaurant owner, she helps both the local health department and police as a translator for the Hispanic population. Last year, she took 12 Hispanic children to the Lincoln Health Department for a dental day.

Anyone who would like to know more about LaMichuacana Restaurant can stop by and visit Brambila or can call her at 402-287-2952

Rosa Brambila, far left, is the owner of LaMichuacana Restaurant at 108 Main Street in Wakefield. The business recently moved to the new location.

Wakefield charges past Elmwood-Murdock

The Wakefield football team took it on the road for the first time this playoff season; the distance did not seem to phase the Trojans, because they defeated Elmwood Murdock 35-14 on the Knights (9-1) home field on Nov. 5.

"Our kids are used to it [traveling long distances]," said head coach Justin Smith. "They remem, ber the trip to Heartland last year which was a bit longer. We just follow a strict itinerary and when we get there, all is normal."

The Trojans took the lead early on an Ian Miner 1-yard run for a touchdown. They scored again on a Joel Nixon 1-yard touchdown run in the first quarter, and a 43 yard pass from Joel Nixon to Mason Nixon in the second quarter. However, it would not be an easy.

On the ensuing kickoff Joel Nixon's 96-yard return for a touch down, and a Trojan two-point conversion swung the Wakefield momentum into overdrive. Ian Miner sealed the win with a final 10-yard touchdown run, boosting the score to 35-14.

Elgin's option ends Allen's season

by Dave Uldrich

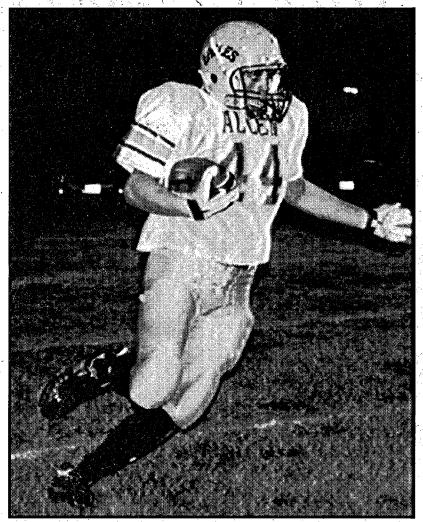

The Allen football team fell victim to Elgin's execution of the option offense on Oct. 31 in Elgin. The 66-28 loss haulted the Allen Eagles playoff run.

Elgin drew first blood on a 69yard punt return.

Allen responded by driving 65 yards, capping the drive on a Drew Diediker to William Gnat pass of 16 yards.

The previous scenario was the case for many possessions, and scores continued as neither Allen nor Elgin could control the opposition. Self-induced mistakes by both teams led to scoring, and in the first quarter and a half of play Elgin began pulling away 28-20.

Jacob Malcom tries to shrug off an Elgin blocker to tackle the ball carrier during last week's state playoff tilt.

Elgin's control of the ball and timely strong running plays allowed them to continue to score, but Allen's offense failed to find true rhythm, and the team's three turnovers put the last nail in its

Elgin exploited the Allen defense by rushing for 435 yards, which almost doubled what the Allen defense allowed through the entire regular season.

Meanwhile, the Allen offense rolled up 318 yards.

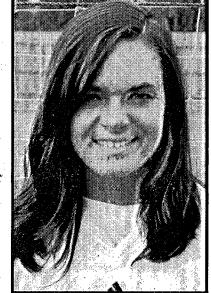

Statistically, Scott Wilmes ran 27 times for 102 yards. Diediker connected on 10-of-18 passing with one interception and two touchdowns. Gnat and Michael Bock led receivers with seven catches for 124 yards and a touchdown and two catches for 36 yards and a touchdown, respectively.

Defensively, sophomore Williams drug down 20 Elgin Eagles. Scott Chase tackled 16 of the Elgin ball carriers. Wilmes contributed with 13 tackles and Corey Klug, Bock and Gnat all pulled down ten Elgin Eagles. The loss brought one of Allen's most successful seasons (9-1) to an end. During the course of the season the Eagles climbed to No.1 in news polls for the first time ever. The team also finished their regular season undefeated for the second time in school history.

"No regrets, no apologies, no excuses, nothing but good things to say about our team. Elgin was better than us. We worked hard to achieve what we did this year and we gave it all we had. We just didn't get it done."

Allen had nine senior players on their squad this season. They were Danny Baier, Diediker, Jacob Malcom, Bock, Gnat, Robert Tandrup, Scott Chase, Charley Green and Luke Woodward.

Trojan volleyball team loses heartbreaker

Neither team would break their intensity. The fourth game was especially tough. Each team traded points. Whitney Rouse's ace serve tied the match at 23 all and a Des Driskell kill tied the match again at 25.

Citizenship emphasized at Wayne Elementary

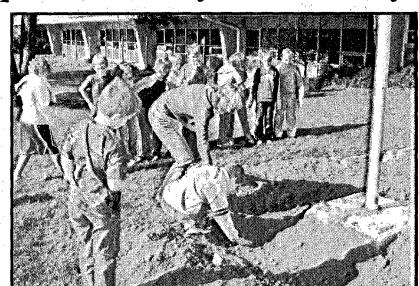

Citizenship is being emphasized at Wayne Elementary School in October and November.

Second grade students planted bulbs around the flagpole in front of the school building. The red tulips, white daffodils and crocuses and blue hyacinths were purchased by WEB (Wayne Elementary Boosters).

Sudmann, Counselor, explained that the Guidance Class project gave students the opportunity to put good citizenship into practice.

"Good citizenship involves caring about our community and our country, and stepping up to improve things in our school or neighborhood. The flowers will bloom in the spring, enhancing the school grounds and bringing some patriotic color to the area around the flagpole," Ms Sudmann said. "We are all looking forward to the red, white and blue flowers in April."

He chaired the capital campaign that built the Elkhorn Valley Museum in 1997 and later chaired an endowment fund campaign that raised $600,000 for the museum. nurses by 2020 in Nebraska. The UNMC College of Nursing Division in Norfolk will help alleviate that shortage while providing close-tohome educations for students.

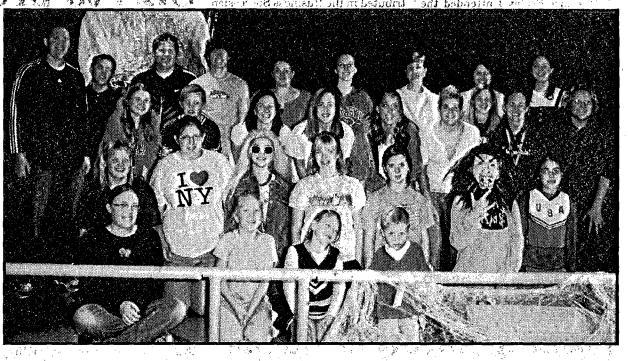

Based on the successful completion of the capital campaign, the ground breaking for the facility has been tentatively scheduled for 2009. The first classes in the new building are tentatively set to start in the fall of 2010.

"Ron brings a successful history in fundraising to this effort," said Northeast Community College President Dr. Bill Path. "He has always been an enthusiastic member of our Foundation Board and brings that same enthusiasm to this campaign. Success is the only option for Ron. He has already worked tirelessly on this campaign and I know he will continue at that pace until he brings it to a successful conclusion. We are delighted to have him as general campaign chair."

The volunteers at Main Street Wayne would like to congratulate the college and Northeast Nebraska high school sports' teams and the athletes who participate on the teams. A number of football, volleyball and cross-country teams have reached the state playoffs and could become state champions. The WSC volleyball team started their league playoffs this past Tuesday and the Wildcat football team has an important game in the Metrodome on Saturday afternoon that will decide their playoff possibilities. I came back with loads of ideas and materials that I would like to share with our Main Street volunteers. Hopefully, we can gain more interested people to join us as volunteers in the improvement of our community. The York Chamber is planning an "Egg Fest." They claim York once had an Egg Processing Facility and they are using that as a basis for developing their festival which they hope to hold around Easter each year. I thought that the only thing we do in the area other than Chicken Days is the annual Egg Bowl football game which was held this past weekend.

Seems to me that the community and the college can get together to really make this a big event. It is also Parents Weekend at the college and we have a natural crowd to work on an Egg Bowl Festival.

Years ago when I taught a Marketing class at WSC, I had a group of WSC baseball players who worked on a project that was designed to enhance the Egg Bowl game. My memory fails me but I remember most that they had suggested that the Waldbaum trucks running around the country should be painted sometime in the summer with signs promoting the Egg Bowl game as they drive the highways of our country.

The keynote speaker was Dr. James Segedy, a senior planner with Olsson Associates based in Kansas City. His talk was filled with ideas that communities could use. He stressed planning and marketing. Senator Ernie Chambers found

The self-proclaimed atheist, noting that Nebraska football is often referred to as a religion in Nebraska, said he recognized the deity in the person of Tom Osborne.

Osborne is the former, legendary coach of the Cornhuskers. He recently became interim athletic director in the face of NU's waning gridiron fortunes.

Chambers named God as a defendant in a recent lawsuit. He asked the court to enjoin the Almighty from doing harm, or threatening to do harm, denizens of the earthly world.

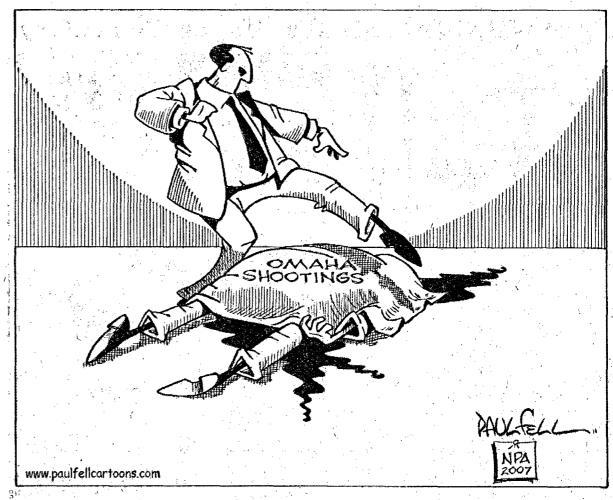

The Omaha lawmaker, himself a legend of the Unicameral, said he was demonstrating that anyone could file a lawsuit of virtually any kind, against virtually anyone.

What evidence was at hand to support his view that Osborne is God?

"In recent days it came to pass that there has been a type of prostration, adulation, adoration, veneration, thanks-giving, worshipful gushing and heart-felt outpourings of hosannas and hallelujahs throughout the land - appropriate only to one bearing the status, purported traits and powers of Defendant; that is to say, a deity."

It took Democrat Bob Kerrey a comparatively long time to make a decision that he said would be made in a short time. Ultimately, the former U.S. Senator and governor said he would not enter the Senate race in 2008.

Lots and lots of political observers quickly concluded that his decision would guarantee a victory for the Republican nominee. Former governor, former U.S. Agriculture Secretary Mike Johanns is the leading candidate for the GOP nomination. Attorney General Jon Bruning previously entered the race.

Big Farmer shares 'Life's Lessons'

The

The Big Farmer has been in the habit of giving each kid an antique for Christmas. Trouble is, sometimes, he has trouble coming up with four of a kind. So, last year, I convinced him to just write a story of an antique activity. He chose threshing, and I was surprised at how much detail he remembered about that neighborhood chore.

I was working quite a few days last December, and one day when I came home, he presented me with a list of "Life's Lessons From the Farm." He tells people that he was inspired long ago by Fulghum's Lessons from Kindergarten, thinking at the time that he could come up with something like that, too. He did.

The kids got a bang out of them, and I sent them to Nebraska Life magazine. They printed them, but gave me the credit! There was a correction in the next issue. (If you don't subscribe to this wonderful publication, I suggest that you look into it. It's published in Norfolk.)

A friend in Columbus went to a dinner sponsored by Pinnacle Bank there, and found a copy of the Snow has to be scooped from the feed bunks before feeding, and kids are the best at this.

• You don't get between a cow and newborn calf. (The new Nebraska Cattleman has ads for several kinds of calf haulers that attach to the back of the pickup and allow the cow to follow. Why didn't we think of that?)

• Be friendly to the banker; you probably have more of his money than he does of yours.

Always have baling wire around. (He claims this was a rule of Henry Ford's; I know it was one of his dad's.)

· Carry pliers; they are cheaper than a tow truck.

• Plant trees. Dogs are man's lessons at each place. They didn't best friend, but are not meant to share a bedroom.

· Cattle feeding is a lot like gambling at the local casino, but a lot more work!

Anyway, you get the idea. They are good ones. He ends with "God's greatest expectations lie with • Dad can usually predict the preachers and farmers. They are weather better than the weather- the caretakers of his creations."
