How high will it go?

Sinclair owner Tim Schaefer changes gas prices on Wednesday morning reflecting the market trend which saw crude oil at a record high of $110 a barrel. Schaefer says he has no idea how high gas prices will go. The so-called experts on television say don't count $4 a gallon out of the picture. Gas prices are up nearly 75 cents a gallon from one year ago.

College officials increase police presence

Members of the Wayne Police Department All of the agencies repeatedly said the and Nebraska State Patrol were on the Wayne State College campus on Tuesday.

They were there in response to a Feb. 19 statement from the college which stated that a message was etched onto the back of a toilet stall door in Pile Hall, a residence hall on the WSC campus. The message indicated that a school shooting would take place at the college on a future date.

Jay Collier, director of College relations, said that based on advice from law enforcement and in consultation with the FBI, Wayne State would not verify if Tuesday actually was the date indicated on the threat.

Collier said that there was an increased police presence on campus, which included up to six officers, both from the Wayne Police Department and the Nebraska State Patrol

"Wayne State College's crisis management team got the best advice it could from the Wayne Police Department, Nebraska State Patrol, the FBI and Campus Security. threat against the community was "low level." While college emergency management personnel agreed with this assessment, Wayne State officials thought it best to have an increased police presence on campus Tuesday," Collier said.

"The college would like to thank the Wayne Police Department and Nebraska State Patrol for sending additional personnel to campus. Their presence eased the minds of students, staff and faculty and was very much appreciated. Law enforcement officials also appreciated the opportunity to continue their investigation, which is still ongoing," Collier added.

The increased police presence was obvious to people walking on campus on Tuesday, but Collier said everything was "business as usual. Everyone is going about teaching and learning."

Police officers remained on campus through the evening and college crisis team members will continue to monitor and assess the situation

Wayne Community Schools Board of Education met in regular session on Monday. On the agenda was a resolution to approve the voluntary severance agreements and resignation of four certified teachers: Elizabeth Maryott (HS Math Dept.), Jeaneen Kindschuh (MS Library/ Media), Jessica Sebade (MS ELL) and Lyndy Williams (MS Health 7-8), effective the end of the 2007-08 school year. The board approved the resolution and resignations

The school board noted this was it for needed certified staff cuts at this time (April 15 is deadline for contracts) but that all positions are still being looked at to help get the budget down to where it needs to be. It was added that they are still looking at the possibility of sharing some positions, including curriculum director, SPED (Special Education) director and more, with other schools but no decisions have been made at this time.

Phyllis Trenhaile, teacher, asked if the ELL (English as a Second Language) position that Sebade held will be filled, as there are more students coming in needing that service than are going out. School board

Anderson celebrates 30 years of business

By Lynn Sievers Of the Herald

Sheryl Anderson, owner and master stylist of The Headquarters at 120 W. Second Street in Wayne (in the Mid City Plaza), is celebrating 30 years of business. Business hours are Monday - Friday, 8 - 5 p.m. and Saturday, 8 - noon. The telephone number is 402-375-4020. Her motto is: If your hair isn't becoming to you, you should be coming to Looking back, Anderson opened her business on Valentine's Day, 1978 at 320 Main Street in Wayne. The first location was in a house that was attached to Andy's Pizza and owned by Andy Mannes. Jeanette Shufelt worked with her in those early years and was with her for many years. Through the years, there have been several hairstylists work with her. Anderson has been at her present location for 13 years.

Some styles that were popular in the 70s were the shag haircuts, curly perms and updos. Backcombing was in before that and blow drying was coming in. Blow drying styles required a lot of products so there was more retail sold then.

In 1978-79, Anderson started cutting men's hair and Monday nights were "men only." "I had the television tuned in to football while giving haircuts," Anderson said. "Monday nights were fun!"

She added they were always booked. They gave a lot of perms and frosts. Pulling hair through a frosting cap and then bleaching it was an ordeal but easy now. As for hair color, Henna, a natural hair dye, was popular and was used alot.

In the 80s, she was a sponsor of the annual Bridal Show that was held at the Wayne City Auditorium and they fixed the models hair. She also sponsored a softball team for many years.

Styles that are popular now have highlighting, loose curl and feathering (layered) cuts. A lot of different products are used and sold now. Several of the brand names of hair products that Anderson sells are Matrix, Redkin, American Crew and Nioxin.

"Hairstyles have repeated themselves through the years," Anderson said. "From straight to layered, straight to curly and back again."

Besides hairstyling, tanning beds are also available. Anderson has three tanning beds; two are 10 minute beds and one is a 20 minute bed.

"Tanning beds are not just popular for proms or college kids but also for professional adults going on cruises, getting ready for summer golfing and more," Anderson said. "I have learned that tanning gets you ready to go outside. By preparing, weekends don't have to be sunburns because people can tan through the week instead."

eyebrows as they are honey waxed now. An elderly instructor we had in beauty school used to have a fit if we said we were going to 'pluck' eyebrows because that's what you do to chickens. She would remind us that we 'tweeze' eyebrows, not 'pluck' them," Anderson said.

She has fond memories of her 30 years in business including of the many women customers she had who were like mothers to her. "There are so many memories and we had so much fun," Anderson said. "The ladies watched me grow up. You get close to your customers as though they are part of your family and you are part of theirs."

Anderson is from Laurel originally. She graduated from Bahner Beauty College in Fremont and moved to Wayne in 1975. The first salon she worked in was Jane's Beauty Shop in Woehler's Trailer Court before she opened The Headquarters. She is a single mom of two sons, Joel, 23, an EMT at Iowa City, Iowa for an ambulance company. He's taking additional classes and will soon be a paramedic. And, Justin, 20, who is a sophomore at Wayne State College who is studying in physical education and biology with a coaching endorsement. He also works at Pac N Save in Wayne.

Working with Anderson is Renee Jensen, who has rented a chair for the past five years.

Anderson enjoys being around people and loves what she does. There is a fun-loving atmosphere at The Headquarters and her light-hearted remarks such as "hair raising," "clipping right along," kind of hairy," and "teasing" reflect that. She notes that there is so much more to this kind of business than hairstyling. She hopes her customers leave with more than the service they came in for.

One thing that has changed is tweezing Sheryl Anderson stands by her new sign in front of her shop at 120 W. Second Street in Wayne (in the Mid City Plaza). She is celebrating 30 years of business.

'Cats' weekend ends in split to conference foes Wildcat women set to dance in NCAA Division II tournament

By Casey Schroeder

The Wayne State women's basketball team earned the seventh seed in the NCAA Division II North Central Region Tournament, after they finished the weekend 1-1.

WSC was downed by Concordia-St.Paul 70-65 in the NSIC Final the University of Mary 70-58 on Friday in St. Paul, Minn. The Wildcats (21-9) will look to keep their season alive as they square off against second seed North Dakota (27-3) at 1 p.m. on Friday in the first round of tournament action at the Dakota Dome in Wayne State's Jonathon Thomas in a prior match-up versus the Warriors. Thomas had eight points in the loss.

Saturday, after they dismantled Vermillion, S.D.

While WSC earned a spot in the NCAÀ Division II tournament, the road traveled for the 'Cats was a hard fought affair.

Saturday's loss started off with a Jodie Boss goal, that put the Wildcats ahead 2-0, before the Golden Bears went on a 17-5 scoring run, that saw them take a 17-7 lead with 11:32 left in the half.

Concordia held a ten point lead at 27-17 with 5:20 to go, before the 'Cats amassed a 10-2 run that brought WSC within two at 29-27 after a Kylee McGill jumper.

The 'Cats continued to nip at the heels of the Golden Bears, but WSC's effort wasn't enough as Concordia took a 32-27 lead into halftime.

After the break Concordia continued to score against the Wildcat defense and held a 45-36lead with 12:07 remaining.

The Wildcats then took control of the game with a 12-2 scoring run, that was highlighted by another McGill jumper at the 8:16 mark to give WSC a 48-47 advantage.

"Our execution was really good," WSC head coach Ryun Williams said. "It was some of the best basketball we've played all year."

However, the Golden Bears reclaimed the lead after a Candace Olstad three pointer and an Amanda Behnke layup that made it a 52-48 contest.

With 5:10 left in the half, WSC's Laquisha Cook nailed two free throws to cut Concordia's lead to two, but it wasn't enough as the Golden Bears set the net ablaze in the final minutes.

Concordia used a 13-3 run to take control of a 65-53 lead that was capped off by a slew of free throws that handed the Wildcats the 70-65 loss.

Cook led the Wildcats with 14 points, while McGill posted a 12 point effort. Jennifer Yee and Mara Hjelle rounded out WSC's scoring attack with 11 points each.

Before the Wildcats' loss to Concordia on Saturday, WSC defeated the University of Mary Marauders 70-58 in the NSIC semi-final.

The Wayne

The Marauders opened the game with a three pointer by Kayla Rogers, which was Mary's only lead throughout the game.

WSC went on to score the next nine points to make it a 9-3 contest.

With a lead in hand, the Wildcats' stingy defense shutdown First Team All-NSIC forward Nicci Landdeck, who recorded her third foul with 13:58 left in the half.

After the 'Cats neutralized Landdeck and the rest of Mary's scoring threat, WSC built a 22-9 lead with 6:03 remaining.

The Wildcats managed to keep the lead going into halftime; however the Marauders narrowed the 'Cats lead to just six points at 36-30

"There was no flow to this game," Williams said. "We just had to survive."

After a close first half, Mary stayed on pace in the second half as they matched WSC's effort on offense, and knotted the game up at 49-49 with 9:52 left.

At the 6:30 mark WSC led 57-55 and went on to score an additional nine points that was highlighted by a jumper and layup from Cook, in addition to two free throws and a three pointer by Andrea Schoepf.

The Wildcats closed the game with two free throws that put them ahead and gave them the 70-58 win.

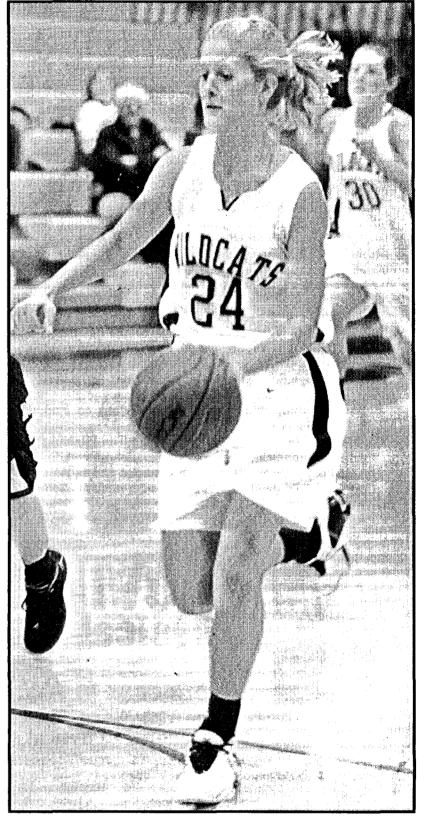

"We seemed to gain some composure midway through the second half," Williams said. "I though the last eight minutes we played Wildcat basketball."

Schoepf led all Wildcats with 22 points, while McGill and Cook added 19 and 12 points respectively

The Wildcats were 20 of 59 (33.9 percent) from the field, while hitting 23 of 26 (88.5 percent) from the free throw line.

WSC men fail to outlast Winona State in NSIC semi-final.

By Casey Schroeder

A 9-0 scoring run by Winona State in the final stretch of the second half was all it took to claim a 71-62 win over the Wildcat men's basketball team in last Friday's NSIC Tournament semi-final.

While the Warriors stepped off the court with the win, the Wildcats tested Winona repeatedly throughout the game, which hadn't been the case in the 'Cats previous two meetings with Winona State.

"I think one of our biggest challenges was to get past the mental part of the game," WSC head coach Rico Burkett said. "As a team they have great balance, and can hurt you inside and beat you from the perimeter."

In the first half the Wildcats started off slow as the Warriors scored the first five points of the half.

However, WSC fired back and took a 9-7 lead with 15:26 left in the half after Bryce Caldwell drained a three pointer.

The Wildcats continued to dominate the half, with a pair of three pointers by Jamar Diggs, which gave WSC a 15-9 advantage.

"We felt like we had an advantage over their squad with Diggs and Caldwell," Burkett said. "The way those two guys compliment each other, they are a difficult match-up to contain when their both on their game."

At the 9:30 mark, WSC claimed its biggest lead of the night after a Brian Metz layup which made it a 20-12 contest.

With the lead in hand, WSC briefly fell apart as a Travis Whipple three tied the game at 29-29 with 3:08 left in the half.

The Warriors then remained on pace and scored six of the final eight points to take a 35-31 lead into intermission.

The second half found both teams in a highly contested battle with the Warriors holding onto a 50-42 lead with 8:39 to go in the half.

Knowing the implications of a loss, WSC responded back with a final run as the 'Cats pulled within two at 53-51 with 6:37 left in the half after a Caldwell layup. WSC who hung with the Warriors throughout the game, failed to close out the half as Winona State used a 9-0 run over the next 2:32 to grasp a 62-51 before closing out WSC 71-62.

"I was proud of our kids' performance," Burkett said. "With five minutes to go we were right in the game...we had some clean looks, but they just didn't go down."

Diggs lead the Wildcats with 26 points and ten rebounds.

"I personally feel like my stats may have been good, but I didn't do enough," Diggs said. "That game showed us how much we've grown this year."

Caldwell finished his career with 16 points to rank 14th all-time in WSC men's basketball scoring.

With the loss, the Wildcats ended the season with a 15-13 record. "I think overall this team continued to get better all season,"

Burkett said. "I'm really excited about the possibilities that lie ahead for this program."

WSC Track and Field sends four athletes packing to NCAA Indoor Championships

2B

The Wayne State College indoor track and field team had four athletes qualify in five events for the NCAA Division II Indoor National Track and Field Championships on March 14-15 in Mankato, Minn.

The Wildcats will send three women athletes in four events, while the men's squad qualified one athlete.

Senior Katie Wilson will compete in the shot put and 20pound weight throw after she earned an automatic qualifying mark in both events.

Wilson ranks fifth in NCAA Division II in the shot put with a mark of 47' 9 1/4," that was achieved at the South Dakota Last Chance Qualifier on Feb. 23. Wilson a 2006 All-American will compete in the shot put on Saturday, March 15 at noon.

The Glenwood, Iowa native also ranks tenth in NCAA Division II with her throw of 57' 7 3/4" that occurred at the Prairie Wolf Open in Lincoln on Feb. 22. The weight throw is scheduled for Friday, March 14 at 1:30 p.m.

Senior hurdler Rachel Roebke is a returning indoor qualifier in the 60-meter hurdles for the Wildcats.

The Seward native is ranked seventh in NCAA Division II with an automatic qualifying time of 8.65 seconds, which took place at the Prairie Wolf Open.

Roebke, was 16th at last year's national indoor meet in the 60-meter hurdles with a time of 9.01 seconds. The women's 60-meter hurdles prelims are slated for Friday, March 14 at 6 p.m.

Sophomore hurdler Kylie Herian also returns to the national indoor meet in the 60-meter hurdles, as she ranks eighth in NCAA Division II with a season best time of 8.66 seconds that occurred at the Wildcat Open on Feb. 9.

The Pierce High School graduate finished 15th at last years national meet with an 8.94 second peformance.

Herian will compete in the 60-meter prelims on Friday, March 14. at 6 p.m.

The lone men's national qualifier is senior Tim Pilakowski, who will compete in the long jump.

The Genoa native is a first time qualifier and is ranked ninth in NCAA Division II after recording a jump of 23'9" at the Wildcat Open.

Pilakowski, will compete on Friday, March 14. at 6:20 p.m.

Hard luck casts a grim cloud over the Wildcats in Florida

By Casey Schroeder

After a week of highs and lows at the Gene Cusic Classic in Fort Myers, Fla. the Wayne State softball team returned home with a 6-4 record.

"We played very well down in Florida,"head coach Krista Unger said. "Our defense and pitching were both solid."

The Wildcats wrapped up their annual spring break trip with a split in the last day of action last Friday.

WSC lost their first game 5-4 after the St. Cloud State Huskies scored on a game winning run with two outs in the bottom of the seventh inning.

Leading up to the seventh inning both teams, kept each other in check as both teams battled it out in the first inning as St. Cloud and WSC both scored two runs.

The second inning found the Cats in control, as WSC scored a single run and took a 3-2 lead.

After a scoreless third inning, the Huskies set the tempo in the bottom of the fourth inning and scored two runs, which gave them the 4-3 advantage over WSC.

The Wildcats kept things interesting in the sixth inning as they scored and knotted the game up at 4-4.

In the seventh inning the Huskies managed to put the 'Cats to sleep, as they scored on a single run with two outs to edge the Wildcats.

outfielder Junior Amy Sandstrom led the 'Cats going ance and falls. In this article, we are focusing on tips to prevent falls inside the home. Here are some suggestions.  $\bullet$  When choosing proper footwear, look for supportive, low heeled, broad based shoes.

• Avoid walking in socks, stockings or slippers with plastic or cloth soles. Look for rubber treated alternatives to prevent slipping.

• Keep floors clean of clutter, to prevent you from tripping over them.

• If area rugs are used, make sure they have rubber

• Make sure stairways are well lit and clear of clutter.

Handrails are also good to have for extra support. • Install grab bars in the tub or shower to help with transfers. Put a rubber mat on the floor of the tub/shower to help prevent slipping.

• Use a cordless phone, or have an answering machine to avoid rushing to get the phone.

• Use night-lights in hallways, bathrooms, and bedrooms to light your way when you get up at night.

three for four with a double, RBI and two RBI's, while Emily Walker sion to the University of Sciences and run scored. Blaire Kuhl, aided Sandstrom going two for three with and an RBI, while Earlywine went 1 for 2.

After the close loss to the Huskies, WSC rebounded back and defeated Bloomfield of New Jersey 6-2.

In the first inning both teams tested one another, as both WSC and Bloomfield recorded a single run

After a close-knit first inning, WSC secured two runs in the second inning to take a 3-1 lead.

Bloomfield answered back in the bottom of the fifth inning with a score, which was their final score of the day.

The 'Cats went on to score three runs in the sixth inning, and closed out Bloomfield 6-2.

Freshmen Jennifer Radley led the 'Cats at bat, as she was three for three, which included a double, two singles and two RBI's.

Sandstrom continued to have success throughout the day, as she was two for three with a double

Wayne sixth grade boys crowned MIT tournament champs

The Wayne sixth grade boy's basketball team (22-3) defeated the Lincoln Crusaders 46-23 in the championship game of the 27th Annual Midwest Invitational Tournament in Lincoln last Saturday and Sunday.

Wayne finished the weekend 3-0 after they defeated Sterling 32-20 in the first round, Gretna 53-46 in second round and the Lincoln Crusaders in the championship game.

added two hits that included a double and two runs scored.

Katie Goetzinger (5-2) pitched seven innings for the 'Cats and earned the win, as she allowed two runs on nine hits with four strikeouts and two walks.

"We came out and played pretty well, but I think we definitely could have done  $\mathbf{much}$ better," Goetzinger said.

Prior to the Wildcats' sub-par performance on Friday, WSC swept wo opponents on Thursday.

WSC earned two wins as they defeated Bloomfield 5-2, and then managed to edge Bridgeport (Conn.) 4-1 in their second game of the day.

"We worked well as a team," Earlywine said. "However, I think there is a lot of developing that we need to do as a team."

Bloomfield took an early lead in the game against the 'Cats, as they jumped out to a 1-0 lead going into the bottom of the third inning.

However, the 'Cats showed resiliency, and answered back with five runs in the third inning.

Hannah Engelkamp started the WSC scoring explosion as she lined out at the beginning of the inning.

Valerie Robinson added a walk Earlywine highlighted the effort as she singled to put runners on first and third.

With a scoring threat in the works, Sandstrom scored Robinson and Kuhl hit a two-run triple to centerfield, which scored Kelli Benes and Sandstrom to give the Cats a 3-2 lead.

Radley, kept things alive for WSC as she chalked up a home run that scored Kuhl and gave the 'Cats the 5-2 win.

"We started to score runs, but we were pretty slow to begin with," Goetzinger said.

The Wildcats finished with six hits in the game, five of which were in the third inning.

Freshman Amber Baird finished two for three with a pair of singles, while Radley's home run and Kuhl's triple were the only extra base hits for WSC.

Additional hits came from Sandstrom and Kuhl, who each added a single.

Kylie Peterson (1-0) pitched the win, as she worked five innings as a starter. Peterson, allowed two runs on six hits with five strikeouts.

in Philidelphia, and then fell victim to a 3-1 loss to St. Cloud State in their second game of the day.

In the first game, University of Sciences scored in the second inning, which proved to be the lone score for both squads.

WSC was limited to three hits throughout the game, with the hits Engelkamp, coming from Earlywine and Emily Walker.

Engelkamp and Walker, both recorded doubles, while Earlywine could only muster up a single.

Baird, pitched the loss for the 'Cats, as she allowed one run.

With Baird having little luck on the day, Peterson relieved Baird and went on to pitch scoreless relief for WSC.

With one loss on the day, WSC continued to stumble as they failed to compete with St. Cloud State on all levels in their second game of the day.

Alaina Novotony, led the 'Cats with a solo home run in the fifth inning, that resulted in the WSC's only score of the game.

Novotony, finished the game two for three, with a home run and a double.

Aside from Novotony's strong performance, Radley had two hits that included a double, while Kuhl doubled to close out the top hitters for WSC.

Goetzinger, pitched a complete game for WSC and recorded the loss.

After a week off, the Wildcats will resume play on Thursday. March 20 when they visit Northwest Missouri State in a doubleheader that is scheduled for a 1 p.m. start.

Keitges ignites Mustangs at NAIA Track and Field Championship

Former Allen Eagle, Erin Keitges continued to build upon her already successful season with a pair of outstanding finishes last Thursday at the NAIA Indoor Track and Field National Championships in Johnson City, Tenn.

Keitges, served as a leg on the Mustangs' 3200 meter relay team that finished sixth with a time of 9:39.72, which also broke a previous school record that was set earlier in the season.

Aside from strong performance in the 3200 meter relay, Ketiges, finished ninth in the 3000 meter run, with a time of 10:42.66 to rank 18th overall.

strikeouts in the final two innings. With one win on the day, the Wildcats continued to find success as they defeated Bridgeport 4-1.

WSC took an early lead in the second inning, with a three-run performance that gave them the 3-0 lead. The Wildcats scored an additional run in the fourth inning.

However, Bridgeport retaliated with a score to make it a 4-1 contest, that the 'Cats held on to for the win.

Earlywine led WSC in hitting going two for four. Sandstrom was one for three and Engelkamp went one for two in the win.

Goetzinger pitched the win for WSC, as she struck out six batters. "Our defense was pretty solid the whole way around," Goetzinger said. "But our offense struggled a bit at first."

While the 'Cats played two days of complete softball in the later half of the week, WSC failed to meet the challenge on Wednesday.

The Wildcats dropped a 1-0 decirebounds in addition to her eight points, nine rebounds and four blocks in Saturday's loss to the Golden Bears.

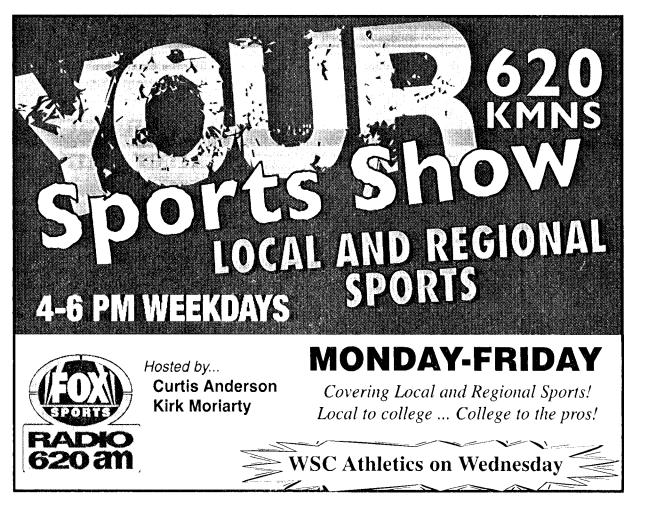

McGill, a 6-1 forward from Little River, Kan, averaged 13.7 points and 10.0 rebounds in three tournament games, that also included a pair of double doubles.

In WSC's first round game against Northern State, McGill had a ten point performance that included eight rebounds.

On Friday night against the University of Mary, McGill scored 19 points and added 11 rebounds, which helped the 'Cats secure a 70-58 win.

McGill, then went on to add 12 points and 11 rebounds in the Wildcats 70-65 title game loss to Concordia-St. Paul on Saturday.

The Wildcats will look to keep their season alive as they will face the second seed North Dakota on Friday in the first round of the NCAA Division II National Tournament at the Dakota Dome in Vermillion, S.D.

Wildcats notch-up wins over Findlay and #13 Armstrong

By Casey Schroeder

The #21 WSC Wildcat baseball team ended the Savannah Spring Break Invitational Baseball Tournament in Savannah, GA with a pair of wins against Findlay of Ohio, and #13 Armstrong Atlantic State of Georgia.

"As a whole I thought we played well...we used a combination of great pitching and good hitting," WSC first baseman Marc Manganaro said.

Thursday morning the 'Cats got off to a sour start, as Findlay took a 2-0 lead in the second inning.

Wildcat starting pitcher Justin Kelly allowed four hits and two runs in one and one-third innings.

The Wildcats sluggishly responded to Findlay's call in the bottom of the sixth as Darren Kamp scored on a Seth Chadick RBI single.

With the score at 2-1, WSC capitalized on a Brian Sulzman strikeout that was followed by a double by pinch-hitter Ian DeLaet.

The 'Cats kept the momentum, as Chad Corbett advanced to third base after Sean Soderberg reached on an error that put runners on first and third base.

It was only after Justin Hemauer's RBI single that Corbett scored and tied the game at 2-2 in the bottom of the ninth inning.

With the score knotted-up, a wild pitch by Findlay's Josh Barney connected WSC's Manganaro who was at bat.

Manganaro named NSIC Player of the Week

WSC senior Marc Manganaro was named the NSIC player of the week on Monday by the league office in St. Paul, Minn.

Manganaro was 8 for 18 in six games on Wayne State's spring trip to Georgia with two homers, 8 RBI's and a .833 slugging percentage.

His top game was against #13 Armstrong Atlantic State of Georgia, where Manganaro was 3 for 4 with two homers, four RBI's and three runs scored to lead #21 Wayne State to a 11-3 win.

Barney's blunder allowed Soderberg to score from third base and gave the Wildcats the narrow 3-2 win.

The Wildcats had only five hits on the day with hits coming from Alex Koch, Darren Kamp, Chadick and Hemauer.

DeLaet, highlighted the Wildcat offense with a pinch-hit double that was the only extra base hit for WSC.

Prior to the narrow finish against Findlay on Thursday, the Wildcats surprised #13 Armstrong 11-3 on Wednesday afternoon.

"Armstrong was a good win for us," Manganaro said. "We came out strong and kept putting pressure on them and it got us the win."

Manganaro, started the 'Cats off C on the right foot with a two-run W home run in the first inning, that S was complimented with another hit H in the third inning to give WSC a 3-1 lead.

After a brief dry spell, the Wildcats returned to top form in the top of the seventh inning as WSC scored three runs to hold onto a 6-1 lead.

Seventh inning hits included an RBI single from Koch, and a fly by Manganaro.

While the 'Cats had minor success, Atlantic played a strong seventh and eighth inning as they scored twice, to cut the WSC lead to 6-3.

"We played well at times but still have a lot of room for improvement," Koch said. "Baseball is a very humbling sport."

With the Pirates in arms reach of regaining control, they failed to shut down the Wildcat offense in the ninth inning.

In the final inning WSC scored five runs and closed out Atlantic 11-3 after a Koch RBI single, and additional singles by Manganaro, Sulzman and Hemauer.

"Baseball is baseball...Marc and Alex had some timely hits and gave us some momentum," WSC head coach John Manganaro said. The Wildcats were led throughout the day by the steady and consistent play of Manganaro who went three for four, and finished the day with two homeruns, four RBI's and three runs.

With the win against Armstrong, WSC improved to 8-2 on the season.

The Wildcats will return to action on Saturday as they host Augustana College at the Pete Chapman Baseball Complex at 1 p.m.

Proceeds from the print will go to the Wayne Veterans group to buy AAFEES gift cards, which soldiers can use at any military exchange in the world. The Logan Creek Pheasants Forever chapter purchased the print for the troop support donation.

HazMat Training, meets Wednesday, March 19, from 8:30 a.m.-4 p.m. in the same location.

This U.S. Department of Transportation class is designed for those who offer or are involved with transporting, labeling, and marking hazardous materials. According to the Nebraska Safety Council, a "HazMat Employee" could be anyone who meets any of the following criteria: 1. A person who offers a hazardous material for transportation; 2. A person involved in the transportation of a hazardous material; 3. A person who labels or marks packages that are being transported.

In this class, participants will learn how the 49 CFR 172 applies to them and their business. They will also learn the regulations and how to comply with the guidelines Cost of this workshop is $145 for members; $175 for non-members.

For more details or to register, call the Nebraska Safety Council at (888)704-7233.

HAVING MORE RETIREMENT ACCOUNTS IS NOT THE SAME AS HAVING MORE MONEY.

Many investors won't put all their retirement savings at a single broker because they believe it's far too risky. Actually, there may be more risk in having multiple accounts. Without a single focus, it can be difficult to keep track of your investments and to see if you're properly diversified.* At the very least, multiple accounts usually mean multiple fees.

Bringing your accounts to Edward Jones could help solve all that. Plus, one statement makes it easier to see if you're moving toward your goals.

To learn why consolidating your retirement accounts to Edward Jones makes sense, call your local financial advisor today.

Eight sophomore biology students from Winside Public School were involved in a series of water wheel presentations on March 4-5 at Wayne State College.

The students made four presentations each day to groups of approximately 15-16 fifth graders from various northeast Nebraska schools.

Seth Mangels and Jordan Nelson were first up for each session and centered their discussion on the history and uses of traditional windmills.

Second on the agenda were Peter Hansen and Kyle Skokan. Their demonstration involved the various types of water wheels, how they were used and their structures.

The third pair to go, Stephen Perkins and Kalin Koch, explained how hydroelectric turbines work and ultimately how electricity is produced.

Attorney General Bruning announces settlement with directory billing company

Attorney General Jon Bruning recently announced a multi-state settlement with Directory Billing, LLC (doing business as USDirectory.com). The settlement stems from allegations that the company engaged in a deceptive business practice by using "live" activation checks to obligate businesses and organizations to pay for a preferred business listing on Directory Billing's online yellow page directory.

"Businesses that use questionable methods to take advantage of Nebraskans must be stopped," Bruning said, "These deceptive practices are a growing threat, and we must do more to prevent Nebraskans from becoming victims."

State Sen. Kent Rogert introduced LB 781 this legislative session at the request of Bruning to explicitly prohibit this type of practice. The bill has been advanced by the Judiciary Committee and is awaiting consideration by the full Legislature.

The agreement is the result of an investigation by Nebraska and 25 other states regarding the company's use of activation checks.

According to the settlement,

Directory Billing agreed to stop using activation checks as the means of obligating businesses to purchase its products and services. The company will also pay $400,000 restitution to the states. The money will be used to reimburse customers who didn't understand the consequences of depositing the activation checks and the costs of the states' investigation. Directory Billing also agreed to contact its current activation check customers to inform them of their right to cancel their agreement and of their potential eligibility for a partial refund of money paid to Directory Billing, LLC. Nebraska will receive $8,064.32 as part of the settlement. There were 296 customers of Directory Billing in Nebraska.

Consumers who are affected by the settlement should be contacted by letter within the next two weeks by Directory Billing.

Consumers who believe they are victims of this or any deceptive practice should contact the Attorney General's Consumer Protection Division toll-free at (800)727-6432 or file a complaint online at http://www.ago.ne.gov

Rotary Club honors January and February Student of the Week

The Wayne Rotary Club recently honored Student of the Week for the months of January and February. Recognized were the following:

Seventh grader Jacob Stenka, son of Jennifer and Andrew Parker of Wayne. Jacob was nominated by Shannon Corkle who said, "Jacob has a positive attitude, is very helpful to teachers and other students and is polite. He has helped me on several occasions by running errands, classroom tasks, and greeting me with a smile."

Seventh grader Lila Goos, daughter Rebecca Goos of Wayne was nominated by Brad Hoskins. Hoskins said, "Lila consistently turns in quality work in a timely fashion. She models diligence, determination, and self-motivation and certainly can be a role model for other students to follow. Lila also demonstrates a healthy sense of humor by sharing comic strips and cartoons with me and her classmates."

Eighth grader Cassie Harm, daughter of Deb Harm of Wayne and Kevin Harm of Columbus, was also recognized. Cassie was nominated by Mrs. Lutt who said, "Cassie always has a positive attitude and a willingness to help others. She is kind and friendly to everyone."

Seventh grader Dalton Dunklau, son of John and Diann Dunklau of Carroll was honored. He was nominated by Matt Schaub who said, "Dalton sets a great example by showing up for class well prepared and highly motivated. He takes tremendous pride in participating in class discussion while maintaining an A average throughout the school year. Dalton also spends time outside of school, learning about current event news stories which enhances classroom discussion."

And, seventh grader Miranda Denklau, daughter of Bryan and Susan Denklau of Wayne, was also recognized. She was nominated by Lyndy Williams who said, "Miranda is very deserving of student of the week. She does a great job in the classroom. She gets her work done and is willing to help out if needed. She is always considerate of her classmates as well as her teachers. You will always see a smile on Miranda's face as she is walking down the hall."

Talented singers

A large number of groups and individuals, both vocal and instrumental, were part of the annual Wayne State Music Festival. The students performed in individual and group events and received ratings. The annual event was organized by Dr. David Bohnert, director of bands and associate professor of music at Wayne State College. A listing of results will be included in a future edition of the Herald.

Letters Supporting Barack Obama

AND DESCRIPTION OF THE OWNER OWNE

Dear Editor,

After talking with family and friends, I am beginning to see there are a number of Republicans in Nebraska who are supportive of Barack Obama for President. I am one of those. We are a state of hard working mostly lower middle class Americans with a strong moral compass. I believe there are many other Nebraskans, like me, who are frustrated with federal policies that have encouraged concentration of our wealth into the hands of fewer citizens, alienated other world leaders, and have lacked foresight, compassion and effectiveness in legislatively addressing severe and real needs of massive levels of our citizens, especially in the areas of health care, trade and energy independence.

We have spent billions in Iraq diverting needed tax dollars from addressing problems that are important and becoming severe here in the USA. We now have relief organizations bringing health care volunteers into the US for weekend clinics. People line up a day ahead at those sites in hopes that they will be helped there. In 1969 I read the book "1984" by George Orwell where the government, Big Brother, fabricated an endless war to keep the economy going. Well this war we are in is not imaginary. We have real friends and relatives in Iraq and real Nebraskans have lost their life there. I do not want our involvement to be endless. I believe John McCain himself has said we may be there for a very long time. If he is willing to see that future, then I do not want him as our leader. I have seen an encouraging, unique quality in Barack Obama to inspire, motivate, and equip our citizens to become involved in our democracy. In the words he chooses and in his attitude and demeanor, he shows a mediator's skill to bring people together to find ways to pursue solutions rather than just fight about problems. His Christian faith truly motivates him to use his intellect and skills to help people help themselves. Barack Obama shows that he knows and understands that it will take a global community working together to make our country and world more secure

I confess to being a rather uninvolved voter in the past. As you can see. I have been motivated to some action by Obama. After hearing many of Barack's speeches, researching on the Internet and going to hear his wife, Michelle Obama, speak in Lincoln, I have refined some of my thoughts to summarize my political beliefs.

Apathy is a greater threat to democracy than terrorism, and hope is a much greater motivator to change than fear.

Because of this, I see Barack Obama as the best presidential candidate to lead our country in a more positive direction in these very difficult times.

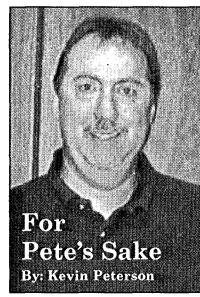

If you would like to discuss this with me, e-mail NERepublicans ForObama@yahoo.com to share your thoughts or join me in working as a Republican for Obama, or log on to BarackObama.com to make calls, download posters and find Nebraska activities. I believe, working together, we can make a difference.

Williams leads WSC women back to Regionals

The Wayne State women's basketball team will be taking part in the Regional Basketball Championships this Friday through Monday in Vermillion, S.D. That's the equivalent of the Big Dance in Division 1.

Ho hum, another stellar season for head coach Ryun Williams and his 'Cats. It's nearly become a routine as you watch his teams year-in and year-out. This will be the second time in three seasons WSC has com-

Capitol View Marijuana and ethanol are hot topics

By Ed Howard

The Wayne

Herald

Statehouse Correspondent The Nebraska Press Association

The people can set term limits for lawmakers, but issues facing the Legislature have unlimited longevity.

Take marijuana and ethanol. In the 1970s and early '80s lots of policymakers worked to decriminalize pot. Nebraska was among states that decided a citation and comparatively modest penalties would suffice, rather than arrest and criminal prosecution for possession of small amounts of marijuana

Times and attitudes have changed. The 2008 Legislature decided to update marijuana penalties, toward the tough side.

Sen. Ernie Chambers of Omaha unsuccessfully fought first-round advancement of the plan. He argued that it marked a return to failed anti-drug policies which crowded jails with pot users - not dealers - who don't need incarceration.

His colleagues steamrolled a filibuster, shutting off debate and advancing the measure on a 31-4 vote

Regardless of whether they don't inhale, or still take a ride on Puff the Magic Dragon, young pot smokers might not be avid readers of local newspapers. For those who do check the news, here is what the new measure, sponsored by Sen. Russ Karpisek of Wilber, proposes: It would increase the fine for first-offense possession of an ounce or less of marijuana from $100 to $300. Fines for a second offense would be increased from $200 to $400, and for third and subsequent offenses from $300 to $500.

The penalty for possessing more than an ounce but less than a pound of marijuana would increase to a maximum of three months in jail and a $500 fine. The current penalty is up to seven days in fail and a $500 fine.

Ethanol, which began its struggle to public acceptance as Gasohol, was a hot topic for the Unicameral in the 1970s and has since become ed, with the downstream consean even hotter issue. More controversial, too.

In the "old days," skeptics said the corn-based fuel was hardly more than a scam to put money in the pockets of corn farmers. After all, this is the Cornhusker State.

The chief criticism then, as now, was that ethanol was a net energy loser. More fuel was used to produce it than could be derived from it. That criticism stands, but supporters from the President and Congress on down say ethanol can ultimately help reduce dependence on foreign oil, and help to clean up the environment. Critics scoff at the first notion, and question the second.

The Nebraska Legislature enacted a host of tax incentives over the years that helped to spur the growth of ethanol plants.

Corn prices have now skyrocketquence of pushing up feed costs for the cattle industry.

President Bush acknowledged that situation just days ago.

"I'm beginning to hear complaints about the price of corn," he said. "We're going to do something about it."

One can only imagine the number of farm state lawmakers clamoring to get the president to explain the "what" part of his "do something about it" assertion.

Creating ethanol with switchgrass and woodchips is now the subject of tens of millions of dollars in research, funded by the feds and others, aimed at finding a more economically viable product. Will the move to cellulosic-based ethanol lead to another round of tax incentives for farmers/developers in Nebraska?

Meanwhile, what might happen to all those new corn-based ethanol plants and the plans for new ones? The AP reported last week:

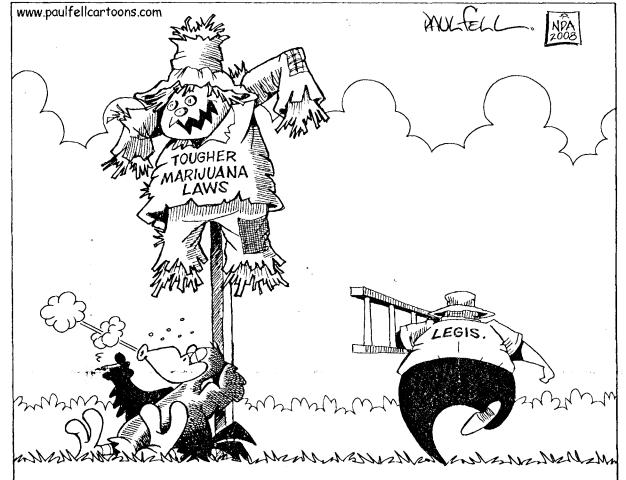

"Ethanol stocks plummeted Tuesday as investors dumped their holdings amid fears that recordhigh corn prices will push margins into negative territory."

This must be a dizzying time for lots of farmers and ethanol investors.

The view from here: If someone could develop a formula to create energy efficient ethanol, using corn and grasses and marijuana, Nebraska could benefit greatly.

Don't laugh!

And don't be in such a hurry to criticize those millions of dollars that can be had through congressional "earmarking" of federal funds. After all, if the U.S. can afford in-depth studies of insect procreation, and build bridges to nowhere ....

peted in the Regional Championships but what is even more impressive is watching his team take on his personality....every year.

As a fan of not only Wayne State women's basketball, I find myself a huge follower of Ryun Williams. He's one of those people that you just want to see do well. He's lively on the sidelines in each and every game and he doesn't have to sell you on the fact he's passionate for the game of basketball...it's a given. Heck, even when he's wrong on a call that goes against his team, he's so passionate about his take of what happened on the play that you find yourself actually believing him. This is why I won't be drinking any of the Kool-Aid he's serving. (That's a joke for those of you that don't understand the analogy).

This season's version of the 'Cats is chapter 10 in Williams' tenure. Already the all-time winningest coach in WSC history with 181 wins after passing G.I. Willoughby on Dec. 1 of 2005 with a 54-48 win over Augustana (always nice to break a record against a North Central Conference team), the Wildcats guru has a 62-game edge on the next winningest coach in 'Cats history.

All this guy seems to do is win. His 10-year stretch includes three, 20-win seasons including a 27-4 record two seasons ago. He's only had two years where the record was below .500 and that was 13-15 and 12-15. Not bad I'd say.

This year's team is most likely Williams' most surprising team. Not because of sheer athleticism, but because of youth. Only one senior will make the trip to the Regional Championships, Andrea Schoepf, the stellar shooter from nearby South Sioux City.

The only other senior underwent back surgery this week and will not be suited up, Amanda Covington. We wish her a speedy recovery.

Five freshman will make the trek along with three sophomores and two juniors. 6-4 Jodie Boss of Columbus and 6-2 Mara Hjelle of White Bear Lake, Minnesota have done a phenomenal job in the paint and on the boards all season long. This dynamic freshman duo will entertain Wildcat faithful for years to come.

JulieAnn Wagner of Sioux Falls, Alyssa Fischbach of Mellette, S.D. and Paige Pollard of Newcastle are also freshman on this 21-9 squad . Sophomores include Teresa Case of Sioux Falls, Kati Jo Christensen of Audubon, Iowa and Jennifer Yee of Omaha while juniors are Kylee McGill of Little River, Kan. and Laquisha Cook of Houston, Texas.

WSC will play North Dakota on Friday at 1 p.m. At the beginning of the season, Williams told a lot of us fellow Catbackers this could be an interesting year with all the youth. Ryun isn't big on guarantees but he assures us that he's as pleasantly surprised about his team's success this year as we all are....sure coach, now pass that Kool-Aid, I'm getting thirsty

Illegal aliens, school testing highlight legislative agenda

By Senator Pat Engel 17th Legislative District

On Feb. 27, the second to last day of committee hearings, the Judiciary Committee held the public hearing on LB 963.

This bill was introduced by Omaha Senator Mike Friend, at the request of Governor Dave Heineman and Attorney General Jon Bruning. It would require every agency or political subdivision to verify the lawful presence in the United States of any person who has applied for federal, state or local benefits. This would include state or local retirement benefits, welfare, health, disability, public housing, food assistance, and unemployment benefits. The exemptions to this requirement are for K-12 education, medical emergencies, and short-term emergency disaster relief.

LB 963 would also repeal instate tuition at public post-secondary institutions for illegal aliens that graduated from a public or private high school and have resided in the state for at least three years. This provision was placed into law several years ago after a governor's veto was overridden.

The day after the public hearing, the Judiciary Committee voted to kill LB 963. This angered the Governor and the Attorney General, who held a press conference the following day and urged Nebraskans to contact Judiciary Committee members, asking them to reconsider their vote. A week later, after considering amending the bill to remove the repeal of the in-state tuition provision, the Judiciary Committee reported that the bill had been killed on a 5-1-2 vote.

Any political subdivision that provides a service that is funded with federal dollars is already required to verify an applicant's legal status under federal law. No examples of anyone receiving benefits illegally were given. However, the governor felt that the bill is necessary to ensure that the verification requirement is applied uniformly and consistently across all agencies of government.

I am not a member of the Judiciary Committee, therefore I was unable to vote on this bill. However, I believe that something needs to be done to address the illegal immigration problem. Ideally, the federal government should take the lead, as it is a federal issue. However, if the federal government continues to bypass its responsibility, I think that states, including Nebraska, will have to take action on their own. Legislature debated The statewide testing for K-12 students, as is required under federal law. LB 1157 was given first round approval this past week. It would bring Nebraska in line with other states by requiring common tests among public schools in reading, mathematics and science. A statewide assessment in writing is already in place. School districts would be allowed to continue to offer local assessments. However, the State Board of Education could not require local assessments and the results would no longer need to be reported to the state.

It is unfortunate that there has been so much quality effort put into the STARS assessment process, but we heard on the floor of the Legislature that these local tests were becoming overly burdensome for school districts. It is unknown at this time whether the federal government would continue to approve Nebraska's approach of local tests rather than statewide tests. This is a highly controversial issue and even the State Board of Education was split on their support for the bill.

The Legislature also discussed impeachment this past week. Our constitution states that all civil officers of this state shall be liable to impeachment for any misdemeanor in office. LR 4 is a constitutional amendment that would expand this provision to include misdemeanors committed during the campaign for office. When the Legislature voted to impeach Nebraska Regent David Hergert for campaign finance violations, the court never ruled whether misdemeanors prior to being elected to office are impeachable, because the fact that he had signed his campaign statement after he took office was used against him.

LR 4 attempts to close this loophole. Prior to its advancement, an amendment was adopted that tied impeachment to a moral turpitude standard.

NECC Music Department to host annual Jazz Festival this month

Northeast Community College in Norfolk, in association with the Northeast Area Jazz Ensemble (NAJE), will host the 26th Annual Jazz Festival in late March. For only the second time in its history, the 26th Annual Jazz Festival will be a two-day event on Tuesday and Wednesday, March 25 and 26, in the Cox Activities Center. The festival begins at approximately 8 a.m. and will continue into early evening both days.

About 80 different performing groups from junior and senior high schools throughout the Midwest will perform. Trophies will be awarded to the top four jazz bands and swing/jazz choirs in each of the four levels of competition.

The music department at Outstanding instrumental soloist and vocal soloist trophies will also be presented in each division.

> One of the few jazz festivals in the Midwest approved by the National Association of Secondary School Principals for high school and junior high school participation, the Northeast Jazz Festival is free and open to the public.

"We see some very talented young musicians at our festival every year and encourage the public to come to campus to enjoy some great performances by these young people," said Dr. Linda Boullion, department chair and festival manager.

Furniture can be arranged to help handle the traffic flow of a room. Move furniture away from the walls to improve traffic patterns, if necessary.

Does too much stuff or clutter interfere with activities? De-clutter the area, if this is a problem. Look around the house, find the area needing help and start there. It may be the whole room or a bookcase, closet or even the junk drawer. Make de cluttering a top priority. When de-cluttering be sure to get rid of items no longer having a use in your home.

Furniture groupings, doors and windows, etc., can dictate how a room is used. What is the focal point of the room? What do people notice first when they enter the room? Arrange furniture, use curtains, or dividers to work as sound buffers or hide a messy area. The color of a room intrigues and excites us. Blues, violets, and greens are cool colors. Red, yellows and oranges are warm colors.

The color of a room can affect the way you feel in the room. Consider color harmony when decorating or redecorating a room. Select a color scheme comfortable for your family. When planning a color scheme for your home

1. consider the people who will use the home;

2. decide on the effect to be created;

3. evaluate existing furnishings; 4. break the areas into categories of large and small rooms and color areas:

5. subdivide the room and furnishings into main areas (floor, walls, ceiling), secondary areas (window treatments and large furnishings) and accent areas; and

6. plan for purchases in the future. 7. Accent colors can be used to pull areas together. Include family members in making decisions about the home. Perhaps children can select a theme for their room or the play or study area. To assist with upkeep of the areas give each person a responsibility for a certain task and rotate them throughout the family. By having ownership of a duty or area one often will take more time to make it look the best it can.

As you do spring housecleaning, consider a one-to-five year plan to make your home the most useable for your family. Are there items you don't use which could be donated to charity or other family members? Refresh your home with a new accent color or accessory. Enjoy your home by making it more fun and easy to live in.

Tomah Shinga is an ELCA Camp near Junction City, Kan. that is slated for development in cooperation with Nebraska Lutheran Outdoor Ministries.

The Mission Team will enjoy the beautiful natural surroundings of this undeveloped camp while improving camper facilities that will benefit future camp programming.

This will be the Mission Team's eleventh support trip in as many years. Previous year's trips have included the Cherokee Nation, Tahlequah, Okla.; Rocky Boy Indian Reservation, Box Elder, Mont.; the Oaks Indian Center, Okla., in 1999, 2002 and 2007; Agape Center, Omaha; Santee Sioux Reservation; and the Wilderness Canoe Base, Lake

Winside St. Paul's women

St. Paul's Lutheran Ladies Aid and LWML of Winside met in the church social room on March 5 with 14 members and Pastor Steckling. The meeting was conducted by President Susie Schmidt. It opened with the LWML pledge. Faye Mann read a Lenten article entitled "Counting the Cost," closing with a prayer and hymn.

Pastor Steckling lead a Bible Study on Ruth, Chapter 3.

Plans for a summer Working Mission Team coordinator at Our Wapogasset Lutheran Bible Camp in 2004, 2005 and 2006.

Last year's trip to Oaks Indian Center, Oaks, Okla. included two teen participants. Peter and Paul Hansen of Winside traveled with the adults. According to Mr. Roberts, "Peter and Paul were great to have on the trip with all us older folks! They reminded us of how much energy we used to have and constantly outworked us."

This year, seven Our Savior teens will travel with the Mission Team to Tomah Shinga, including Peter, Paul, and John Hansen, Dustin and Garrett Heikes, Megan Stalling and Paul Karch.

Sue Stover commented on the teen participation saying, "Today's teens are very active, so scheduling frequent activities or youth meetings is extremely challenging. Trips like this provide the staff and other adults in the church to work with teens in meaningful and productive ways. The relationships built through our confirmation mentoring program and mission trips like this really do last a lifetime. "The group gathered recently to serve a Lenten Supper to help supplement funds for their trip.

Stover has taken a leadership role on the staff this year and will be responsible for leading a team of counselors in setting up a Day Camp program at Hollis Renewal Center in Kansas City. She will also be responsible for running a new service trip experience, called "A Van, A Plan and STAN." This program is for sixth-eighth graders and ninth-12th graders. Each age group will spend a week traveling across Nebraska and Kansas and serving in different communities. They will also have lots of time for fun, friendship and faith development.

More importantly, says Pr. Eric Meissner, Director/Programs, "Andrea is asked to be a Christian role model in her every day living. This role modeling is what leads the other staff and campers in the right direction."

Besides the skills that each staff member leaves with, they each will also gain a new sense of themselves and their personal faith. "So many times, youth leave their homes with their parent's faith as their other experiences, allows the staff

Twenty-four faculty members and six campus organizations involved more than 40 community partners in opportunities to learn through serving others.

A strong majority of students, faculty members and community partners responded on servicelearning assessment surveys that their involvement in service-learning was mutually beneficial. Students remarked that their "hands-on" service-learning participation confirmed their career aspirations. Community partners stated their approval of the opportunity to teach and learn alongside students and faculty. This constructive interaction also strengthens bonds between the campus and the surrounding community.

Once, I thought I couldn't write anything creatively except in long hand. This morning the computer is frozen and I find it hard to write without it.

AND DESCRIPTION OF THE OWNER OWNE

Further, I used to be proud of my hand writing, but the good Palmer penmanship habits are gone. So Clara will have the task of deciphering after I fax this thing. I wish her good luck.

I often wonder how we all got along before fax machines. We use them at work to communicate with physicians, pharmacies and other facilities.

I bought one because the insurance assessments I do require being faxed to the company. But I find it comes in handy for other things.

Anyway, I'm hopeful that spring is really here. Our thermometer hit 49 degrees yesterday. We received one last (hopefully) snow last Thursday night. We went to a state tournament basketball game that ended around 11 p.m. A young man who worked for us on the acreage was a senior starter on the Elmwood-Murdock team.

They played Heartland, which is Henderson and Bradshaw. When school buses, two of the longest we had ever seen. I even commented that I was glad I wouldn't have to drive that home.

It turns out that by the time they got to the interstate, the snow had started and the highway was slick, so they were going 30 miles per hour.

A semi jack-knifed in the east bound lane and was headed right for them. The bus driver was able we left the school, we noticed their to get off the road and keep the bus upright, even getting back onto the highway after the wrecker removed the truck. It was a miracle.

Our Elmwood Murdock Knights went on to defeat returning champ Ponca in overtime on Friday and Grand Island Central Catholic Crusaders on Saturday. At least we could watch the final games on TV, at home in our rockers.

On Sunday, watched Nebraska men demolish Colorado from the same perch. All the tributes to Aleks Maric, including the Australian National Anthem, were very moving.

Unfortunately, our Creighton Bluejays lost to Drake and they were eventual Missouri Valley Conference Tournament champs. Both teams had a Korver, brothers to Kyle, and there is one more still in high school. I can't imagine raising four Division I basketball players. It must be like having two pro football quarterbacks in the family.

Which brings me to one other sports item, the retirement of Brett Favre. He will be missed.

I'm beginning to sound like a sports writer instead of a farmer's wife. I'll revert to the latter next week.

Happy St. Patrick's Day.

Researchers at UNL determine on-farm costs of producing switchgrass for ethanol

switchgrass for cellulosic ethanol averages about $60 per ton, according to a new study by a University of Nebraska-Lincoln agricultural economist and others.

The study, which contracted 10 farmers in Nebraska, North Dakota and South Dakota to commercially grow switchgrass for five years, starting in 2000 and 2001, gives a real-life look to farmers interested in growing and contracting switchgrass, said Richard Perrin, the UNL agricultural economist who was the primary economic analyst for this study.

"This is the most comprehensive study to date on assessing the economic costs of producing switchgrass biomass in commercial fields," he said. The joint U.S. Department of Agriculture-Agricultural Research Service and Institute of Agriculture and Natural Resources study will be published in this month's BioEnergy Research. It is available online at http://dx.doi.org/10.1007/s12155-008-9005-y.

The on-farm cost of producing ally costs to produce ethanol from switchgrass because that industry is not really born yet."

Researchers offered a speculative scenario that factored in transportation and ethanol production costs. Estimating production cost at $50 per ton and assuming a conversion efficiency of 80 to 90 gallons per ton, the cost of switchgrass feedstock delivered to the refinery would be equivalent to 58 cents to 66 cents per gallon of ethanol.

The Energy Independence and Security Act of 2007 mandates the use of 100 million gallons of cellulosic biofuel by 2010, possibly more than will be produced, Perrin said.

The technology to convert cellulosic materials to ethanol on a commercial scale has been difficult to develop. Cellulose first must be broken down into starch and sugar before it can be fermented into because they account for nearly half of all production costs.

Fields used in the study were in Nebraska near Atkinson, Crofton, Lawrence and Douglas; in South Dakota near Highmore, Bristol, Huron and Ethan; and in North Dakota near Streeter and Munich. Land was marginal cropland that would have qualified for the Conservation Reserve Program.

Farmers were paid for their work under contract with UNL and recorded all costs for producing switchgrass biomass start to finish, including machinery and labor, materials such as seed and fertilizer and land rent.

Total baled biomass yields were determined for each farm

In the study, two farmers with previous experience growing switchgrass had the lowest production costs of $39 per ton. The five farmers with the lowest costs had production costs of less than $50 per ton, which should be achievable by other farmers as they gain production experience, Perrin said.

Six cellulosic biorefineries cofunded by the U.S. Department of Energy also are in the works across the U.S. and should be completed over the next few years. These plants are expected to produce more than 130 million gallons of cellulosic ethanol per year, according to the U.S. Department of Energy. The closest of these will be in Iowa and Kansas.

Perrin and the agronomists involved in the study expect production costs will decline further as farmers' experience with switchgrass grows and new ethanolfriendly cultivars are developed. "Currently there is not an exact fig- Increasing land rents will significantly increase production cost

Gov. Heineman declares March as Wellness Month in Nebraska

Gov. Dave Heineman has signed wellness component to the state schools. The campaign was devela proclamation declaring March as Wellness Month in Nebraska. Throughout the month, the Governor will be highlighting efforts that promote wellness in Nebraska, emphasizing wellness at paign. N-Lighten Nebraska school, work, home and in local communities.

"It's our goal to create a culture of wellness across the state," Gov. Heineman said. "By changing our mindset, we can surround Nebraskans with wellness and improve our already good quality of life. This applies to everyone, young and old."

Dr. Joann Schaefer, Chief Medical Officer for the state, said, "Surrounding children with wellness at school, adults at work, communities where people live and reminding folks of the importance of choices they make at home is the cornerstone to achieving better health in Nebraska. Wellness emphasizes four components: prevention, active lifestyles, good nutrition, and stress management."

As a major employer in Nebraska, the state is trying to lead by example with LB 884, introduced by Sen. Tim Gay of Papillion, which would give the administration more flexibility to design an innovative and dynamic being implemented in four Lincoln employees' health insurance program.

The Governor has also encouraged state employee participation in the N-Lighten Nebraska camencourages adults and children to participate in wellness activities and provides a way for individuals to track progress toward goals.

Two Nebraska businesses have recently achieved national recognition for outstanding wellness programs. Duncan Aviation and Lincoln Industries were among only nine U.S. businesses recognized recently by the Centers for Disease Control and Prevention for their success in encouraging employee wellness. Both programs have improved employee health, reduced stress, lowered absenteeism and reduced the company's healthcare costs. Employees have benefitted from these efforts by lower health insurance premiums.

March is National Colorectal Cancer Awareness Month and Dr. Schaefer cited the need for greater colon cancer screenings as a prime example of prevention. Nebraska has one of the lowest colon cancer screening rates in the country.

Dr. Schaefer also highlighted the new "Whatcha doin'?" campaign oped by a University of Nebraska-Lincoln advertising class to promote physical activity and proper nutrition among young people.

Stress management programs are available to encourage exercise, achieve better sleep and support wellness, particularly for those with chronic health concerns. Opportunities for physical activity are better than ever and provide significant cardiovascular and lung benefits while improving upper body movement and strength.

Information about wellness programs can be found online at the Department of Health and Human Services Web site, http://www.dhhs.ne.gov/hew/hewin dex.htm

Wayne State to host Just Juniors Day on March 15

Area high school juniors and their parents are invited to attend the Just Juniors Day at Wayne State College on Saturday, March 15. Activities include an optional, free A.C.T. preparation workshop (pre-registration is required) for the students, as well as informational sessions for both parents and students.

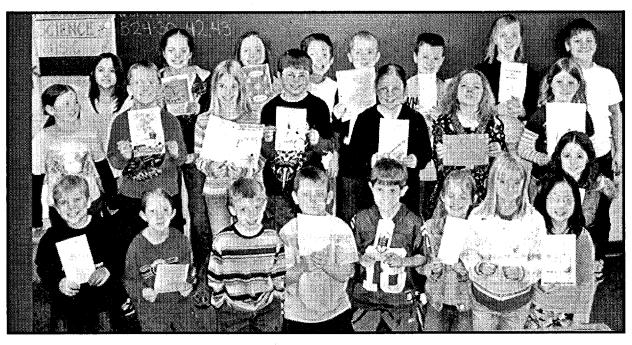

During the day, campus tours will be offered, and an academic fair, sessions on student services, financial aid and scholarships will be presented.

"Just Juniors is a great way for high school juniors to get a jump start on their college search process, while also getting a firsthand look at Wayne State College and the programs and services we provide," said Tammy Young, director of admissions and recruitment.

The day will begin with check-in at the student center at 8:30 a.m., and will conclude with a tour of the campus in the early afternoon. Because space in the A.C.T. workshop is limited, pre-registration is required. To register, call the admissions office, toll-free, at 866-972-2287, or 402-375-7234. Back row, Taylor Granquist, Hannah Belt, Marta Pulfer, Logan Milligan, Tanner DeBoer, Steven Keiser, Shanda Lambert and Mikey Reyes.

Third graders design brochures about city of Wayne

Joan Hansen's third grade class at Wayne Elementary School recently did a unit on Community, Community services and that led into a unit on local, county, state and national government.

As one of the projects, the students could design a brochure about their town. It was to include interesting facts, history and places in the town to get people interested in the community.

Hansen began the unit discussing citizens, volunteering and common good, and went on to facts about mayor, city council, city manager and services in our community, county and state.

WSC students involved in the L'Arche Heartland project included, from left, education major Deana Benne of West Point; education major Jaime Johannsen of Omaha; criminal justice major Andrew Mizner of Spencer and education major Diane Crary of Lincoln. The group was accompanied by, far right, Sr. Cynthia Hruby, N.D. of the Catholic Newman Center.

annual reading motivation and awareness program that calls for every child in every community to celebrate reading on or around Dr.

Seuss's birthday, which is March 2. GREEN BREAKFAST The National Education "Read Across America" is an 1998 since motivating children to read is such an important factor in student achievement and creating lifelong successful readers.

Winside Elementary School cele-Association began this event in brated "Read Across America Day" on March 3 with several activities. To commemorate Dr. Seuss's book "Green Eggs and Ham," the kitchen staff served green omelets for breakfast.

N-Lighten Nebraska one-month update given

Platte averaged 428 N-Lighten Nebraska activity points per person in February, leading all advanced activity teams for the first month of February. More than 7.700 Nebraskans are taking part in the three-month wellness challenge. One N-Lighten activity point is the equivalent of 1.5 miles walked. Totally Fit Forever team captain Georgia Osbon attributed the high activity total to good team chemistry.

Economic stimulus payments; how to get the check from the IRS

Soon Americans will start receiving the check from Uncle Sam. In May, the U.S. Treasury will start sending economic stimulus payments to more than 130 million households. Many are calling these payments the stimulus payment, the tax rebate or the refund.

"Many people are confused about whether they will get the check," said Wil Golden, a regional Extension agent with the Alabama Cooperative Extension System. "Basically, to qualify you must have received benefits or earned income of $3,000 or more in 2007. Qualifying income includes earned income from wages, salaries, tips, self employment, social security, certain retirement benefits and veterans' benefits."

Some people receiving social security and other benefits may not realize that they qualify for stimulus payments or that they need to file a tax return to receive their portion of the stimulus payments.

"Even if you do not owe taxes you must file a 2007 tax return to receive a rebate check," Golden added. "To get the rebate, file a tax return by April 15 and rebate checks will begin going out in May. If you do not normally file a tax return, you will need to file a 1040A or a 1040 form to get your check.'

Essentially eligibility works like this: If you earned less than $3,000 you do not qualify for a tax rebate. If you earned more than $3,000 but paid no taxes, you will receive $300. If you made more than $3,000 and paid taxes you will receive $600. And if you have children under 17, add an additional $300 per child.

A single person will receive a 600 rebate check and a married

The full leaderboard can be viewed at N-LightenNebraska.com. Winning teams in the three divisions vie for medals and all participants who report monthly are eligible for incentive prizes awarded on a drawing basis.

Officials also announced that more than 300 teams remain in the running for the grand prize of 10 mountain bikes, compliments of Subway and Bike Pedalers. To remain eligible, teams must include the maximum of 10 mem- the Nebraska Sports Council.

Teams with fewer than 10 members can become eligible by enrolling additional members online through March 31. All registrants receive an N-Lighten Nebraska T-shirt and free registration in the 2008 Cornhusker State Games Volkswalk July 19-20 in Lincoln.

Club work together on project

The Wayne Rotary and Rotaract Clubs joined forces to package food for Kids Against Hunger in Norfolk in late February. The Wayne Rotary Club packaged food for this worthwhile project in October and thought this would be a great project for both clubs to work on together. At the end of the hour and a half session, 2,160 individuals could be fed from the packages that were filled, sealed and boxed.

couple will receive $1,200. For those filing joint tax returns, only a total of $3,000 of qualifying income for both spouses is required to be eligible for a payment. Payments to higher income taxpayers will be reduced by five percent of the amount of income above $75,000 for individuals and $150,000 for those filing jointly.

For more information, contact the Internal Revenue Service at http://www.irs.gov or call (800) 829-1040.

Advanced Boiler Fundamentals class planned

ORDER

Lower Elkhorn Natural Resources District Norfolk, Nebraska

WHEREAS, a public hearing was held on the 21st day of February, 2008 at Norfolk, Nebraska by the Lower Elkhorn Natural Resources District (Lower Elkhorn NRD), to whether the Groundwater determine Management Area Rules and Regulations should be amended, and notice was given of such hearing as required by law, and

WHEREAS, the Lower Elkhorn NRD determined at said public hearing that the proposed amendments to the Rules and Regulations shall be established pursuant to the Nebraska Groundwater Management Act, and

WHEREAS, the Lower Elkhorn NRD Board of Directors, at their March 6, 2008 board meeting, passed a resolution to adopt the Rules and Regulations as presented at the February 21, 2008 public hearing. NOW, THEREFORE, it is ordered that the amendments presented at the Lower Elkhom NRD Board of Directors monthly meeting held on March 6, 2008, be made to the Rules and Regulations pursuant to the Nebraska statutes effective April 1, 2008. The following is a general description of the amended Rules and Regulations:

The Groundwater Management Area Rules and Regulations enforce policies established in the Lower Elkhorn NRD's Groundwater Management Plan, which was dopted by the Lower Elkhorn NRD Board of Directors and approved by the Nebraska Department of Natural Resources in 1996. The contents of the Groundwater Management Plan include the Lower Elkhorn NRD reservoir life goal, which is to "provide an adequate supply of acceptable quality groundwater to forever fulfill the reasonable groundwater demands within the NRD for domestic, municipal, agricultural, industrial, wildlife and other uses deemed beneficial by the NRD Board" as well as information about groundwater and its use in the Lower Elkhorn NRD, and the goals, policies, objectives and programs of the Lower Elkhorn NRD Board of Directors to achieve the reservoir life goal.
