Springtime storms

While northeast Nebraska has escaped the severe weather that has hit other parts of the country, recent rains and high winds have caused damage in certain areas. Above, fields north of Wayne were under water late last week. At left, a tree at the home of Brad and Connie Dangberg southwest of Wayne was blown over last Thursday evening. Connie said she heard a noise outside the window and all of a sudden "the tree was in my face." She said that while her house and yard are a mess, the family was lucky because no one was hurt. Additional rain is forecast for the area for the remainder of the week.

Wayne is grant recipient

The Nebraska Department of Economic Development (DED) is implementing a new, aggressive two-pronged approach to holistic revitalization or redevelopment of downtown infrastructure, and it has invited Cozad, Gothenburg, Nebraska City, Sidney and Wayne to pioneer the process for other communities across the state.

For the first time, DED is infusing CDBG funds into communities for developing downtown strategic revitalization studies, to be immediately followed up with CDBG funding for implementing the planned results in those same communities.

The maximum CDBG amount for Phase 1 (Planning) is $30,000 per community, and is taken from the Department's Planning Category.

Earning awards were:
• Cozad - $28,200 CDBG. Of 90 commercial buildings in downtown Cozad, approximately 35 percent now stand empty and in disrepair. A good 65 percent of the buildings were constructed more than 40 years ago and city officials realize they can't attract tenants until the buildings are refurbished, and in some cases, partitioned to better serve the needs of smaller business owners. The empty buildings also have negatively impacted attendance at a nearby museum. An additional $8,900 will come from the Cozad Chamber of Commerce, City of Cozad, Board of Public Works, Business Improvement District, Cozad Development Corporation and downtown businesses.

• Gothenburg - $28,200 CDBG. Gothenburg officials knew downtown improvements needed to be made as early as 1992 and maintaining the city's historic integrity was high on their list. In 1995, Gothenburg was selected to participate in the Nebraska Lied Main Street program, which gave it the foundation to enact change. However 39 of 84 downtown buildings remain blighted and substandard. One problem is visitors' first impressions.

The city hopes to tackle façade improvements, unattractive gateways to downtown, blighted alleyways, and spruce up Highway 30 among other projects. An additional $8,900 will come from the City of Gothenburg.

• Nebraska City - $19,300 CDBG. Unlike many communities with town squares, Nebraska City's downtown stretches along 14 blocks, which discourages pedestrian traffic somewhat due to the length and "spread out" quality. A 2005 study area defined 75 blocks of commercial, transitional and residential areas, including the Central Business District, as needing attention. Some substandard and blighted conditions identified included buildings in

Groundbreaking held at Bonnie Plants

Gov. Dave Heineman joined state and local officials in a groundbreaking ceremony for Bonnie Plants at Wakefield on June 3.

Sen. Pat Engel, representatives from the Nebraska Department of Economic Development, Northeast Economic Development District, Nebraska Public District as well as members of the city of Wakefield and Bonnie Plants also participated in the ceremony.

The new facility is Bonnie Plants first in Nebraska. The company is a subsidiary of the nation's largest commercial plant and flower production company, Alabama Farmers cooperative, Inc., which serves customers such as K-Mart, Menards, Lowe's, Wal-Mart and Home Depot. Their expansion into the state is expected to create five full-time and 20 part-time positions.

"This is an exciting day for Wakefield," said Jim Litchfield, City Administrator. "Bonnie Plants is the first business to build in the city's newly acquired 40-acre industrial park. We are anticipating that this will be the catalyst for future development to broaden the tax base for our community."

Wakefield received a $130,000 Community Development Block Grant (CDBG) from the Nebraska Department of Economic Development to help Bonnie Plants expand to the state. The city is using the grant, plus $125,000 in matching funds to build a street leading to and from the company's new facilities.

Skokan to serve as 'Hero of Hope'

By Clara Osten
Of the Herald

Among those participating in the 10th annual Wayne County Relay For Life this weekend is the event's founder, Vicky Skokan.

Skokan, a 22-year cancer survivor, was approached 10 years ago about starting a Relay For Life event in Wayne.

"Someone from the Omaha office of the American Cancer Society got my name. Mary Beth Stodola, Terri Jeffrey, Connie Meyer, Amy Taylor and I met every week and I organized the Relay within four months," Vicky said.

Because of her involvement with the Relay For Life and the fact that she continues to battle her cancer, Vicky will be this year's 'Hero of Hope' during the Relay.

The first year's goal was $10,000. A total of $16,450 was raised that year and 12 teams participated.

In 2000 Vicky had her head shaved during the Relay after the event raised $45,000, exceeding its goal. She has also had her hair dyed purple as part of the event.

She noted that this year's goal of $60,000 has been exceeded and she will be having her head shaved at 9 a.m. on Friday, June 6 at the Wayne State College track.

Even though she has been a part of the walk each of the past 10 years, she said that after five years of being chairman, she was 'burnt out.'

Skokan was diagnosed with cancer in 1986, at the age of 42, when one of her tonsils exploded.

"I had a lump on my neck, which was not cancerous, and was not sick. I had cancer of the tonsils, which is very rare, especially in women. It is usually associated with male smokers. The doctors think I was born with it," she said.

Skokan underwent 45 radiation treatments at St. Luke's Hospital in Sioux City.

"At that time, the doctors gave me six months to live. They have since called me their 'miracle patient,'" she said.

She has high praise for her doctors, "Dr. Bob (Benthack) was unbelievable. Dr. Tegt from Lincoln did the surgery. He was wonderful."

She said that the radiation treatments left her with out saliva glands and taste buds and she is unable to eat any food that is sharp.

In 2001 Skokan said she noticed her teeth were getting bad.

A trip to the Mayo Clinic in Rochester, Minn. determined that her chin bone had deteriorated and a number of teeth were removed.

"They sent me to Clarkson Hospital in Omaha where I had 36 hyperbaric treat-

Wayne Council discusses housing development area

By Clara Osten
Of the Herald

Development of Western Ridge II Subdivision in Wayne was the center of discussion during Tuesday's meeting of the Wayne City Council.

The Subdivision was part of the regular council agenda and was again on the agenda as part of the Community Development Agency's agenda.

Following considerable discussion, the council approved reimbursement of funds to pay for infrastructure improvements for the Western Ridge II Subdivision.

City Administrator Lowell Johnson explained that funds would be used for water mains, sewer and grading for the area, which includes 58 lots west of Greenwood Cemetery. He noted that the costs associated with the project are an "investment in the city of Wayne." A portion of the cost would be paid for through a grant the city has received and other portions would be absorbed by the city with a goal of obtaining additional tax revenue through the construction of homes in the subdivision.

Council member Doug Sturm asked "how much can we (the city) absorb?"

Council member Don Buryanek said the city needed to ask "what is the cost of doing this and what is the cost of not doing it?"

As a Community Development Agency, council members also talked about the costs of the work to be done in Western Ridge II.

An agreement was approved for additional professional civil engineering services with Kirkham Michael. The additional work is necessary because the actual amount of land in the subdivision is less than originally planned and work is necessary to revise the original plans.

The CDA also approved the option of tax increment financing to help with the cost of the infrastructure for both Phase I and Phase II of the subdivision.

Kent Franzen, representing the LB840 Committee, told council members that a townhall meeting will be held Thursday, June 5 at the Wayne City Auditorium for the purpose of informing the public on the sales tax issue.

In other action, the council approved a Wayne Revolving Loan Fund Application from the City of Wayne Community Development Agency.

The loan, in the amount of $27,825, will be used to purchase land from Felix Industries to allow for better street alignment with Industrial Drive.

The council voted to amend the city's sewer service and use rates. The adjustment will help deal with those customers who irrigate lawns and do not have separate irrigation meters. The change comes after the council voted to increase sewer rates to help build cash reserves for future work on the waste water treatment facility.

The council approved a request from the Veterans' Memorial Committee for grounds maintenance and parking on city easements should a veterans' memorial be constructed along Highway 35 near Providence Road.

No action was taken on creating an alley improvement district for the downtown area.

Council member Kaki Ley said she had taken pictures of the area and asked "why do we have to improve our alleys. The alleys are not bad."

Garry Poutre, Superintendent of Public Works and Gene Hansen, Superintendent of Electric Production, spoke to the council on the recent power outage in Wayne. A switch at Sixth and Logan Streets failed and caused several fuses to be blown. Although the cause of the switch failure is not known, it is possible that it was caused by a lightning strike.

Resolution 2008-52 was approved, supporting membership in the Nebraska Expressways for Economic Development. The membership is $560 and will pay to lobby for money for new roads in outstate Nebraska.

Mayor Lois Shelton re-appointed Bob Keating and Byron Heier to the Recreation-Leisure Services Commission and appointed Rod Hunke as a new member.

The council will next meet in regular session on Tuesday, June 17 at 5:30 p.m. in council chambers.

Veterans memorial discussed at recent commissioners meeting

By Lynn Sievers
Of the Herald

Wayne County Board of Commissioners met in regular session on Tuesday. Members of the Veterans Memorial Committee were present and showed the commissioners a drawing of the memorial and said the final location for the memorial is being determined. The board had stated at a prior meeting the memorial could be placed on the courthouse grounds but reaffirmed the statement.

If placed on the courthouse grounds, the county would be responsible for the perpetual care of the grounds. If selected, the memorial would be placed on the east side of the courthouse facing Pearl Street. It was also agreed that once built, the area would be re-landscaped and indirect lighting may be needed. No date was chosen to start the project; the committee may wait until the funds needed are raised.

Amy Topp, UNL Extension Educator, reported on the copier/printer lease agreement. She noted she is comparing lease figures for a color copier/printer unit as compared to the current leased copier and printer. Two bids that included a buy out on the current copier were reviewed. She was authorized to continue the comparison if she's comfortable with the final figures.

Sandie Abernethy, custodian, asked the commissioners if the second phase of the second floor carpet replacement project could be finished. The rooms to be carpeted would be the commissioners conference room, law library, judges chamber and the jury room. The commissioners approved her request.

Kimberly Hansen, Clerk Magistrate, told the commissioners that the office copy machine is broken and that parts are not available. There were three estimates for leasing or purchasing a copy machine presented. The commissioners approved up to $5,000 from the General Fund for the purchase of a copy machine.

Deanna Beckman, Wayne County Emergency Manager, reported on responding to assistance requests for tornado damage in Kearney and the flood damage in Platte Center and Schuyler. The commissioners approved the purchase of Threat Net, a storm tracking system, which enables localized tracking of storm systems on a laptop computer. Beckman gave the commissioners information to review on the emergency operations center.

Beckman also noted there will be a PIO (Public Information Officers) course at the Wayne Fire Hall, 510 Tomar in Wayne, on June 24 and 25 from 8 a.m. - 5 p.m. Anyone interested in attending should RSVP to Deanna Beckman at 402-833-5190 or wayne_em@qwest.net

Also approved was an agreement with Barone Security Systems to monitor the alarm system at the court services building. There is a one-time connection fee of $300, an annual inspection of $125 and a monthly monitoring fee of $29.

On road and bridge business, Elizabeth Carlson, Wayne County Highway Superintendent, was instructed to get more information so action can be taken on 864th Road, Miles 560-562.

Also discussed was timber bridge inspections by Kirkham Michael, engineers. There are 36 to be inspected in Wayne County. The Nebraska Department of Roads requires each county to hire engineers to inspect bridges in their county. Last year, the fracture critical bridges were inspected.

Discussion also included progress on a request from the Nebraska Department of Roads for gravel removal on the bridges by June 15. It was reported that District 2 has completed the request, work is progressing in District 1 and work hasn't started in District 3. The report is to be given to the Nebraska Department of Roads on a bridge by bridge basis.

Joyce Reeg, assessor, reported to the commissioners that there was an increase in property tax valuations. She said protest hearings will be held each Tuesday in July with the first hearing to be on July 8.

The next Wayne County Board of Commissioners meeting will be on Tuesday, June 17 at 9 a.m. at the courthouse in Wayne.

First Wayne Q125 meeting held; committee members, ideas needed

The first Wayne Q125 meeting was held on Monday. Area towns' Q125 celebrations were discussed. More suggestions and committee members are needed. Anyone interested in attending the next meeting can come to the north meeting room in the Wayne Auditorium at 5 p.m. on Monday, June 16.

At the June 2 meeting, Curt Frye, WAEDI Board chair, conducted the meeting. Tony Kochenash volunteered to be interim chair. Kochenash suggested the theme, "Preserving the Past, Building the Future" and using it in events throughout 2009. It was proposed to have a New Year's Eve kickoff and end the celebration on the next New Year's Eve.

A number of suggestions were given for activities for the Wayne Q125, such as: art sculptures on Main Street, updating the centennial mural on Dr. Don Koeber's office, mud volleyball, water fight, street dance, steak grilling contest, all school reunion, old movies on downtown wall, barbecue cookoff, Q125 calendar by Wayne Library, historical walk and brochure, city of Wayne birthday cake, historical assemblies at the schools, proclamation by the mayor.

Also, a beard contest, old-time outfits visitors can wear for photographs, souvenirs (including Christmas ornaments), ping pong drop, having several parades through the year, ice cream social at the museum, quilt show, plowing bee, free breakfast, Fantasy Forest and Holiday Sounds with a historical twist and community bands.

The consensus of the group was to incorporate all the usual events and activities that take place during the year and have the sponsoring organizations include the Q125 theme in their plans however they decide.

Anyone who can't attend the June 16 meeting but has ideas for the Wayne Q125 can email tonykochenash25@msn.com or ifletcher@waedi.org

Special purchase

Wayne Mayor Lois Shelton, right, was among those who purchased a bird feeder at the Makin' Money Camp last week at Wayne State College. Students in fifth through eighth grade had the opportunity to learn about how to be successful business persons. They also had a chance to tour local businesses during the two-day event. Also checking out the available goods was Cap Peterson. The Camp was funded in part by a grant from The Connie Fund Foundation. Other partners were the Northeast Nebraska RC&D, UNL Extension, the Center for Rural Affairs, Wayne State College and Wayne Area Economic Development.

need of repairs, paint and visual structural help; buildings that were 50 years or older; and commercial buildings with long-term vacant second floors. Of 542 structures within the 75-block area, 297 were deemed deteriorated or substandard. An additional $6,000 will come from the City of Nebraska City.

Sidney - $29,600 CDBG. Sidney has aggressively pursued downtown improvements since it was first designated substandard and blighted in the city's 1994 redevelopment plan and 1999 re-designation. Yet much remains to be done. Among its goals are cleaning up neglected and abandoned downtown properties; establishing a beautification corridor along U.S. Highway 30; rebuilding two downtown streets along NE Highway 30; installing taller, more appealing historic downtown lighting; enhancing the downtown drainage system; and installing 40 new historic signs on the new decorative light poles. An additional $9,400 will come from the City of Sidney.

Wayne - $30,000 CDBG. Wayne's downtown business district extends into adjoining areas that encompass residences transitioning into commercial/light industrial use, traditional government and civic service organizations and heavier industrial use. Of 217 buildings, 161 are more than 83 years old while 56 have no official documentation and age cannot be determined. Many buildings are in need of complete internal and external overhauls, including new roofing, windows, siding, wiring/plumbing, bathroom facilities and air and heating. Wayne officials want to make the downtown more ADA accessible, replace aging infrastructure, create additional green space, and better mesh downtown businesses with the needs of Wayne State College students and faculty, among many other goals. An additional $9,400 will come from the City of Wayne and other local organizations.

Following the announcement, Wayne Mayor Lois Shelton issued the following comments,

"Wayne is thrilled that we were chosen to receive this grant and the opportunity to work with DED as they develop this new program. The community has made a great start on bringing the downtown area back to a state of health and success. The new businesses that have located on Main Street since the highway reconstruction are a sign that we are moving in the right direction. We are all aware that a strong community with a great future needs a vital downtown as a base on which to build."

"This grant will assist Wayne in our continued progress toward that great future by allowing us to continue the improvements into a wider area," Shelton added.

The maximum CDBG amount for Phase II (Project Implementation), which will follow in approximately six months, will be $250,000 per community, and drawn from the Department's Economic Development Category.

The new Downtown Revitalization Category is open to incorporated Nebraska municipalities of populations 20,000 or less, having earned designations as Economic Development Certified Communities, and having already adopted comprehensive plans, zoning and subdivision ordinances, building codes, code enforcement, and building permit processes.

She spent the majority of that summer in Omaha during treatment and recovery. She said that for a month she stayed at the Lied Center in Omaha and for a portion of time stayed with her son and his family.

Through the course of treatment, Vicky's vocal cords were nicked and she is losing her voice.

Although she does not take any medication for her cancer, Skokan has had two strokes and a heart attack. She does take medication for high blood pressure.

Skokan said that through her involvement with Relay For Life she has learned of the services offered by and information available from the American Cancer Society.

"I hope people support it (Relay). There is lots of help available for those with cancer and we have to keep working on it (finding a cure)."

She said that during the past 10 years she has lost one or two friends per year to cancer.

Skokan said family, especially her husband, Larry, has helped her through her cancer battle.

Her family also includes a son, Todd and his wife, Lisa, of Omaha and daughter, Sonja and husband, Rod Hunke of Wayne. She has four grandsons and one granddaughter.

Through the years Vicky said she has "done what I have had to do. I don't even think about it. Ninety-eight percent of the fight is attitude. If you're a fighter, you can't give in and you can't give up."

The high cost of fuel has hit trucking businesses especially hard. Unfortunately that added expense gets passed on to the consumer. Following is what a couple of local trucking firm owners and a driver had to say about the high cost of fuel and how it's affecting their business and the economy.

T & S Trucking of Wayne, owned and operated by Todd Clausen, is celebrating 10 years of service to area farmers. Besides Clausen, he has a full time driver and several part-time drivers. Most of their loads (75 percent) are grain, cattle, seed and are within a 120 miles radius of Wayne, six to seven days a week. Clausen notes that when he started his business, he paid about $1.25 a gallon so the average cost per truck (he has three) per day was $125 but now it costs $465 per truck. With the combined weight of the truck and load usually averaging 80,000 pounds on five axles, the average miles per gallon is only

Emily Kinney to have guest role in 'Law and Order'

Emily Kinney, a 2002 graduate of Wayne High School and a 2006 graduate of Nebraska Wesleyan University will be featured in a lead guest role in Law and Order, Criminal Intent.

The episode is called "Contract" and Emily plays a young girl whose brother has been killed. It is tentatively scheduled to air on NBC on Saturday, June 14 and on USA on Sunday, June 15.

Emily lived in Wayne from second grade, through her graduation from high school. This is Emily's first big TV role since moving to New York the day after graduating from college. She has had numerous off-Broadway and off-off Broadway opportunities as well as small TV roles and movie "extra" parts. She played Gina in "Aunt Tigress", a short film that made it to the Cannes Film Festival last fall.

According to Emily's family, "Emily is loving every minute she gets to perform."

Significance of Relay For Life noted

The following is an explanation of the significance of the timing of this year's Relay For Life event, scheduled for Friday and Saturday, June 6-7.

"Relay For Life starts at dusk and ends at the next day's morning. The light and darkness of the day and night parallel the physical effects, emotions and mental state of a cancer patient while undergoing treatment.

"The Relay begins when the sun is setting. This symbolizes the time that the person has been diagnosed as having cancer. The day is getting darker and this represents the cancer patient's state of mind as they feel their life is coming to an end.

"As the evening goes on, it gets colder and darker, just as the emotions of the cancer patient do. The time around 1 to 2 a.m. represents the time when the cancer patients start treatments. They become exhausted, some sick, not wanting to go on, possibly wanting to give up. As a participant, you have been walking and feel much the same five. Clausen said that unfortunately the increased cost in fuel has to be passed on to their customers. They try to absorb as much as they can by not purchasing newer equipment and doing as much repairs and maintenance as they can themselves.

"We continue to have good customers that hire us to haul their grain," Clausen said.

As for the cost of fuel, Clausen said fuel prices are not consistent as they can range 5-10 cents difference per gallon within the area they travel. Since they travel close to home, they purchase their fuel in Wayne most of the time no matter what the price is.

"Most people don't realize that the cost of oil also increases the cost of tires and oil (approximately $9 a gallon) for oil changes (a truck holds 10 gallons of oil)," Clausen said. "Just like everyone else, we are also seeing an increase in everything including truck insurance, repairs, maintenance, etc."

Rod Lutt of Lutt Trucking of Wayne notes they travel all over the United States with the majority of their loads being livestock but also grain for distillers of ethanol and bi-products (on average, their loads are cattle to Kansas three days a week and moving grain for ethanol four days a week). He said an average load is 50,000 pounds and they get five miles a gallon. Lutt has an office in Wayne and in Holdrege.

"The price of diesel in Kansas and Oklahoma is a little less in price," Lutt said. "The fuel tax is more in some places as it varies from state to state. Over the years, fuel was more in California but it's the same as it is here now. A fill up has been running around 250 x $4.30 a gallon diesel plus surcharge. Two years ago it cost around $3 mile to move a load but now it's over $4, which affects the volume of business."

Lutt continued that they try to be more weight efficient by trying to reduce dead head miles so they get paid all of the time as the average cost per mile unloaded is over 90 cents. "Sometimes that means I have to pay the driver to sit an extra day to wait for a load," Lutt said.

He notes the big thing is that everything is up; fuel, tires, repairs, etc. Everything costs more. Operating costs, Lutt said, have doubled in the past few years. For example, what was $2 a gallon is now over $4 and with 10 trucks or more, that makes a lot of difference.

Ed Sherer of Wayne, drives for Shaffer Trucking of New Kingstown, PA. (Crete Carrier is the parent company) over 48 states, five weeks at a time. He has driven for Shaffer Trucking for 16 years and prior to that for Walbaums over 18 years. His loads consist of medical supplies, meat, orange juice, fruit, vegetables, vinyl siding and more. He notes they can haul 45,000 maximum load and average six miles per gallon (weather makes a difference as mileage is better in cool temperatures).

"East and west coasts are the high price areas," Sherer said. "Fuel price is an issue. I'm routed so there are people in the company who study where the cheapest fuel is on my route and tell me where to get it and how much."

He added that his truck holds 200 gallons and can carry 80,000 pounds total weight.

Sherer said the cost of everything has done a 360. People don't understand that everything gets to its destination by truck and with the cost of fuels, it has made everything go up. With the increase in cost of fuel and surcharges that trucking companies have to pay, there has to be a surcharge passed on to the customer. Anything with an engine is costing alot to operate and companies are struggling to stay alive.

An average route for Sharer may take him, for example, to Hershey, PA. to pick up candy with the final stop in California; a stop off in Arkansas to deliver a partial load, another in New Mexico and empty in California. He has noticed increased fuel cost is affecting number of loads as people aren't buying as much. A big trucking firm buys millions of gallons of fuel and locks in on price but small companies can't afford to do that.

"Unfortunately, the working class is feeling the brunt of all of this," Sharer said. "They have to pay for a roof over their head, high fuel, rising grocery costs and many are having to decide whether they can pay the mortgage or eat. The economy isn't good. It is entirely a different type of world than when we grew up."

Following are some of the opening comments from the subcommittee on Highways and Transit's recent hearing on "Rising Diesel Fuel Costs in the Trucking Industry." The hearing was held to shed light on the rising prices for gasoline and diesel fuel and the impact this continues to have on the trucking industry, drivers, consumers and national economy.

At the hearing, the Honorable James L. Oberstar stated that the cost of a gallon of diesel fuel has risen 48 percent in the past year and 78 percent in the last three years; 166 percent since 2003. Every one cent increase in the price of diesel fuel translates to an annual additional cost of $391 million to the trucking industry. He continued that it costs nearly $800 more for a driver to fill a standard tractor-trailer than five years ago.

He added that there is a gross imbalance between enriched oil companies and captive consumers which must be addressed.

"Remember, there is no finish line until we find a cure."

Jason Peterson snags Men's Amateur Golf Open

The annual Wayne Men's Memorial Golf Open was held Sunday at Wayne Country Club with over 100 players in action. There was a solid mix of up-and-coming young golfers and some older familiar faces that donned the championship flight.

Speaking of old familiar faces, Jason Peterson returned to the winners circle after a five-under par performance over the 27 hole tournament. Peterson, who once owned a winning streak in Wayne that stretched over 10 Open championships, returned to the familiar winners circle.

The Oakland native shot a two-under 70 over the first 18 holes before a three-under 33 over the final nine holes. He won the title by three strokes over Omahan Rick Dusek who was two-under at 106 over 27 holes.

Brian Schultz of LeMars, Iowa was third with a one-under 107 over 27 holes with youngster Tyler Thompson placing fourth at 109 (one over par). Thompson, a recent May graduate of Glenwood, Iowa high school, will be attending Wayne State this fall to play golf for Troy Harders' Wildcats. He will join older brother Blake on the 'Cats squad. Blake placed 10th in Sunday's Open with a 115. Mark Luebe of Pierce was fifth with a 110 before Wayne's Kelly Hammer, who also fired a 110 but lost the tie-breaker. Omaha's Jonathan Hanner was seventh with a 111 while Bode Hill of Columbus was eighth at 112. Wayne's Doug Rose placed ninth overall at 113 before Blake Thompson.

The story of flight play came in the third flight as Wayne's Chuck Parker surgically maneuvered the golf course to the tune of a one-

Wayne goes 4-0 to win tourney title

18-and-under Dirtdevils find nothing but success at Dirtdevil Invite

By Casey Schroeder

Prior to Saturday, the Wayne 18-and-under girls' softball team saw both the highs and lows of success as they entered the 2008 Dirtdevil Invite with an overall mark of 2-1.

However, by weekends end that all changed for Wayne, as they improved to 6-1 overall and earned the 18-and-under team championship.

Wayne wasted very little time on Saturday, as they shutout Pinnacle Bank-Columbus 8-0.

Leading the Dirtdevils in game one was Alesha Finkey, who belted out a double and further highlighted things for Wayne with pair of runs and RBIs.

Aiding Finkey, was Carly Gardner of Wakefield who came up with two runs to help fuel the Dirtdevil offense.

Mirisa Carroll (2-1) pitched a complete game for Wayne and gave up just one hit while striking out five batters.

With one shutout on the day, the Dirtdevils added a second one as they defeated the Norfolk Kelly's 9-0.

"Everyone contributed," Wayne 18-and-under coach Jean Pieper said. "Mirisa Carroll pitched a great game and had good defensive help from teammates."

Offensively, Wayne was led by Michelle Jarvi.

Jarvi used three hits (all singles) to rally the Dirtdevils, while adding three runs and two RBIs.

In addition to Jarvi, Finkey saw her stock continue to rise as she hit two solos and two runs, while Gardner added a pair of hits.

Mirisa Carroll, continued her win streak from the pitcher's circle as she struckout four and gave up just one walk in five innings pitched.

After Saturday provided the Dirtdevils with little to no competition, Wayne was finally put to the test on Sunday when they took to the field against Genoa. and came away with a narrow 7-5 win.

While it took the entire Dirtdevils' squad to secure the game, it was Dacia Gansbom, Cali Rethwisch, Mirisa Carroll and Jarvi who guided Wayne to a win.

Gansbom and Rethwisch both recorded two hits each (all singles)

Former Wayne State softball coach Jon Misfeldt returned to Wayne to win the first flight with a 73 while Wayne's Chad Metzler was second at 77. Tim Carlson placed third at 78.

Scott Luebbe won flight two with a 77 while Wayne's Reggie Yates edged Wayne's Nick Muir for runner-up honors at 81.

A whole lot about nothing...

For my few readers who do read this column, my apologies for a five week hiatus.

However, in the span of a month a great deal has happened in both the world of sports and in my personal life, and I guess for our purposes I will focus on both.

To be quiet honest, the month of May was nothing but a whirlwind, which I am still recovering from.

For me this whirlwind began the first week of May when I made the transition from a Wayne State College student to alumnus.

In one week I was not asked to say goodbye to the world that I had become all too familiar with, but instead was left to abandon it all—class, professors, rugby and friends.

But as I have noticed now, none of those things really matter once you go out into the "real world", as everything is constantly evolving or you are soon to be forgotten.

Enter the real world.

Following a week and a half stint of adjustments at a new house and work, which I still have not completely adapted too, I found myself on the road heading to Omaha for State Track.

And all I can say is, wow!

My hat goes off to every athlete, regardless of the event they participate in, as the State Track Meet puts it all into a perspective which I had not seen prior to my road trip to Omaha.

From this day on, I have a greater appreciation for both the sport itself and all of the athletes involved.

Upon returning to Wayne, I put in a few hours at the office only to hit the road, this time on my way to Lincoln for the Class B State Golf Meet.

However, my time in Lincoln was limited as I was there strictly for business, and I soon was back enroute to Wayne.

It was only when I got back to Wayne that the day truly started, as I still had to shell out four pages of sports by noon the following day.

And it is with little to no surprise, that I found out that it all can be done within a 16 hour time-frame if need be.

However, as I have found out at this juncture in my early career, there is no rest for the eager journalist, as our special State Track insert was due the next day.

While my bed and I were on the verge of a near divorce as it felt neglected, I was left with little choice but to abandon it as I still had hundreds of State Track photos to sift through.

So it was back to work, again.

With eyes pried open and fingers swollen, I continued to press on, and I delivered with little to no time to spare.

It was only after my dear friend and co-worker Alyce told me that we were done that I let out a huge sigh of relief.

So with nothing to do, I returned to my humble abode and found myself lost, as I actually had nothing to do.

Which leads me to my next point.

Sports are needed.

Without them, I would be a complete and total mess right now. These "real world" adjustments are tough to deal with—bills, being an adult, etc.

Sports are the one thing, that I can always depend on to lull myself out of these depressive bouts.

To cut this short, if you are feeling a bit blue, get outside and do something about it, instead of sulking around the house. It only makes matters worse.

There are a lot of things that can be done around Wayne.

Take a walk, ride a bike, go golfing or watch some baseball and softball, and if that doesn't do the trick hit up the weightroom or pack your pole and gear and find your favorite fishing hole as all of these are a cheaper alternative to some high dollar meds.

Wayne Senior baseball defends Overin Field over weekend

By Casey Schroeder

The Wayne Senior baseball team got down and dirty this past weekend as they defeated Ponca 7-1 on Friday, May 30, and then swept O'Neill in a Saturday doubleheader at Hank Overin Field in Wayne.

On Friday night Jesse Hill directed Wayne to a win as he came up with two hits (one single and one double), two runs and three RBIs.

Aiding Hill in the win was Jacob Triggs who made his mark on the competition as he also came up with two hits (one double and one single), two runs, and a stolen base.

Other Seniors who found success offensively against Ponca included, Shawn Jenkins and Nathan Summerfield who both had one double.

Shawn Jenkins was tagged with a win from the mound as he allowed no walks, one run and four hits to go with 11 strikeouts.

Following the 7-1 win against Ponca on Friday, Wayne upset O'Neill 8-1 in game one of Saturday's doubleheader.

Shawn Kardell and Triggs shined in the win over O'Neill as Kardell had two hits (one single and one double), two runs and an RBI while Triggs contributed a pair of hits (one single and one double) and three RBIs.

Hill earned the win from the pitcher's mound as he worked seven innings and gave up just one walk, one earned run and three hits while striking out ten.

After a lopsided 8-1 win in game one, Wayne wasted very little time as they swept O'Neill 6-4 in game two.

Hill led Wayne from home plate with two hits (one single and one double) and two RBIs while Drew Workman, Heath Erwin and Sam Kurpgeweit all contributed one hit each.

Ryan Pieper pitched six innings for Wayne to earn the win as he struckout six while allowing just one earned run, three hits and three walks.

Also finding success atop the mound was Erwin who recorded the save as he struckout three batters in one inning.

"I thought all our pitchers did a nice job today on the mound," Wayne head coach Jeff Zeiss said.

Listed below are the statistics from Saturday's doubleheader against O'Neill.

Wayne Dirtdevils crowned 14-and-under champs at Dirtdevil Invite

By Casey Schroeder

After a second place finish last weekend at the Wahoo Softball Tournament, the Wayne 14-and-under Dirtdevil softball team put it all together this past weekend to win the 2008 Dirtdevil Invite at the Wayne Softball Complex.

Entering the tournament with a 7-2 record Wayne opened Saturday's tournament action with a 8-0 win over the Columbus Bullets.

"It was a great effort to start the tournament by our offense," Wayne coach Rachel Robbins said.

Caitlin Fehringer led Wayne from home plate as she had two hits (both singles) and one run while teammate Katelyn Mathes added both a single and a run.

Kristin Carroll guided Wayne to the win from the mound as she struck out eight and gave up only three hits in five innings pitched.

After routing Columbus 8-0 in game one, Wayne kept things rolling as they defeated Pierce 10-1 on Saturday afternoon.

Fehringer again led Wayne in hitting as she had two hits (one single and one triple), three runs and two RBIs.

Aiding Fehringer in the win was Carroll who added two hits, two runs and two RBIs and Tia Jech with one hit (double) and one run. Carroll was near perfect from atop the mound as she gave up one earned run with one hit and 11 strikeouts in seven innings of work.

With day one in the books and two wins recorded, Wayne returned to action on Sunday and chalked up a narrow 3-1 win over the Twin River Rockers.

Offensively, Wayne was guided by Megan Hoffart, Courtney Davie and Hannah Gamble who each posted singles while Fehringer added a double.

From the mound Carroll earned her third win of the tournament as she gave up just one walk, one earned run and one hit while striking out 11 in five innings pitched.

"Kristin's strikeouts really played a huge part in the win," Robbins said.

With a perfect 3-0 tournament record following Wayne's win over Twin River, the Dirtdevils took center stage against the Scribner Red Rippers in the championship game of the 14-and-under division.

Kristin Carroll recorded four pitching wins over the weekend as Wayne finished first at the Dirtdevil Invite.

Dirtdevils overcome second game woes to finish as runners-up in Dirtdevil Invite

By Casey Schroeder

Following a 20-2 win over Pierce on Saturday morning at the Dirtdevil Invite in Wayne, the Wayne 12-and-under girls' softball team suffered a 3-2 loss to Sergeant Bluff, Iowa and then went on a three game win streak before Sergeant Bluff downed the Dirtdevils for a second time.

Wayne opened day one of the two-day affair with a deafening 20-2 over Pierce.

Mckenna Gibson and Abbie Hix both belted out singles in the win while Amanda Hurlburt connected on a double to highlight the Dirtdevil offense.

Kendall Gamble worked three hitless innings for Wayne, to record the win as she struck out seven while walking just six.

While Wayne walked out of game one with a win and some additional swagger, everything came to an abrupt halt for the Dirtdevils as they were dealt a 3-2 loss by Sergeant Bluff in game two.

Ashton Schweers led Wayne in hitting with a pair of singles, while Rachel Waddington and Lauren Pitcher Kendall Gamble led Wayne to a second place finish at the Dirtdevil Invite.

Gilliland both added singles.

Gamble was tagged with the loss from the pitcher's mound as she gave up six walks and three hits while striking out four in five innings pitched.

Following the loss to Sergeant Bluff, Wayne responded back with a 7-2 win over the Norfolk Golden Girls on Sunday.

Jalyn Zeiss paved the way for the Dirtdevils with two hits (both singles) while Emily Leeper, Hurlburt and Gilliland all contributed singles.

Gibson led Wayne from the mound to earn the win as she pitched six hitless innings that were highlighted by eight strikeouts and five walks.

After getting back on track against Norfolk, the Dirtdevils continued their success as they defeated the Fire and Ice 7-3.

Kendall Gamble rallied the Dirtdevils from homeplate, with a two hit performance (both singles) that was further complimented by singles from Skyler Gamble, Gilliland and Leeper.

Kendall Gamble found equal success on the mound against the Fire and Ice, as pitched five innings and gave up two hits and four walks while striking out nine to earn the win.

While the Dirtdevils managed to put two complete games together, their luck would be tested again as they pulled off a narrow 5-4 win against the Columbus Bullets.

Big time hitters for Wayne included, Gilliland, Schweers and Kendall Gamble who all soloed for the Dirtdevils.

Gibson got the win for Wayne on the mound with a hitless five inning performance where three walks and four strikeouts were recorded.

With the win, Wayne improved their overall tournament record to 4-1 and advanced to the championship game where they faced Sergeant Bluff for a second time.

However, once again Sergeant Bluff proved to be too much for the Dirtdevils as Wayne was defeated to earn second place honors.

Zeiss led Wayne in hitting with one single, while Gibson and Kendall Gamble split time on the mound.

Gibson worked two innings for Wayne and gave up five walks with two strikeouts.

Relief pitcher Kendall Gamble pitched the final three innings for Wayne and had limited success as she allowed five walks while striking out just one batter.

Mckenna Gibson suffered the loss from the pitcher's mound as she gave up one hit and 12 walks while striking out three batters in four innings pitched.

The Dirtdevils will take a brief breather before they resume play on Friday, night when they host West Point at the Wayne Softball Complex at 6:30 p.m.

16-and-under finish 2-2 and Dirtdevil Invite

Golden Rule of a weekend limits Dirtdevils' success at home tourney

By Casey Schroeder

For the Wayne Dirtdevil 16-and-under girls' softball team, Sunday served as a constant reminder of the old saying, "do unto others as you would have them do on to you".

Wayne kicked-off Saturday's opening round of the Dirtdevil Invite with a 3-2 win over Winside.

Riley Hoffart led Wayne from the home plate with a lone double, and an RBI while teammates Shannon Jarvi, Bayli Ellis and Carly Fehringer all recorded solo hits in the win.

Jarvi (6-2-1) earned the win from the mound for the Dirtdevils, as she allowed one walk and one hit, while striking out 10 Winside batters.

Following the narrow escape against Winside, Wayne closed out Saturday with a 5-1 win over the Columbus Bullets-White.

Offensively Wayne saw Fehringer lead the charge with two hits (one double and one single), Carly Fehringer gets the out for Wayne on Saturday afternoon as the Dirtdevils downed Winside 3-2.

Shannon Jarvi picked up two pitching wins over the weekend as she combined for 28 strikeouts in four games.

three RBIs and a walk.

Jarvi and Jessica Calhoon further highlighted the Dirtdevil offense against Columbus with two hits each (all singles) and two runs.

In addition to serving her team at home plate, Jarvi improved to 7-2-1 on the pitcher's mound as she struck out four batters and gave up four hits and one earned run in six innings worked.

"Shannon was masterful on the mound," Wayne 16-and-under coach Nathan Wall said. "She dominated the Bullet hitters."

While Wayne dished out losses on Saturday with minor ease the gesture was returned to them in full force on Sunday, as Columbus Lakeview topped the Dirtdevils 4-0.

Leading hitters for Wayne included, Hoffart with two hits (both singles) and Lindsy Frahm with a solo.

After a string of wins from atop the mound, Jarvi suffered the pitching loss as she gave up one run, one walk and four hits with four strikeouts.

Following the loss to Columbus Lakeview, Wayne's struggles only continued as the Columbus Bullets-Blue upset the Dirtdevils 5-4.

"The Bullets hit the ball well," Wall said. "We made mistakes and they took advantage."

While mistakes may have plagued Wayne, Calhoon took the initiative to rally her squad as she belted out two hits (both singles), and added both a pair of RBIs and runs to highlight the Dirtdevil offense.

Jarvi recorded her second loss of the day from the pitcher's mound, as she allowed five hits, three earned runs and two walks, to go with six strikeouts.

"I was proud of how we came back, but we have to finish the job," Wall said.

Wayne will look to 'finish the job' as they travel to Norfolk this weekend and participate in the two day Golden Girls Softball Tournament.

18-and-under Dirtdevil Dacia Gansbom fields a ball on Sunday afternoon.

Success

while Jarvi and Mirisa Carroll both added a doubles.

Mirisa Carroll (4-1) worked eight relentless innings to record the win from the mound as she allowed five hits, one walk and two earned runs, in addition to five strikeouts.

"The Dirtdevils fought all eight innings and pulled the win because of clutch plays and disciplined hits," Pieper said.

After the close win against Genoa, Wayne got back to business and handed down a 7-1 loss to Council Bluffs, Iowa.

Gansbom highlighted an aggressive Dirtdevil offensive with two hits (one single and one double), two runs, a pair of RBIs and two stolen bases.

Pitcher Justine Carroll (2-0) secured the win from the mound as she threw out five batters, walked seven and gave up just one hit and one earned run.

The Dirtdevils will look to keep their winning streak alive as they travel to West Point for an 8 p.m. game on Thursday night.

Michelle Jarvi eagerly awaits to advance bases.

Norfolk Classic Cycling Weekend coming June 7-8

Riders from around the region and some regionally-ranked local competitors, will be racing their bicycles in and around June 7 and 8 in the Norfolk Classic Cycling Weekend.

Top local riders expected to compete are Norfolk's Duane Blair and John Spray, Richard Hake of Madison and Morgan Chaffin, formerly of Norfolk now residing in Omaha. Spray is currently in a close second place in the 2008 Nebraska Rider of the Year competition for his race category behind rival Justin Maresh. Blair and Hake are both in the top 10 in each of their race categories. All ride for the local race team Elkhorn Valley Cycling powered by Monster. Chaffin is always strong and usually finishes at or near the top. She races for UNMC/Team Kaos of Omaha.

Other riders to watch for are Kevin Burke of Lincoln, Mark Brackenbury of Omaha; Sydney Brown from Lincoln, Cody McCullough of Sioux City, Iowa; Joe Savoie of Omaha; and Troy Krause of Lincoln.

The Norfolk Classic Cycling Weekend is in its third year and grows each year. This year the Saturday road race will again be held on the (in)famous Stanton Road Race course. Race headquarters and the start and finish will be at the Stanton Fairgrounds. Riders will roll to the line for a 10AM start with waves of riders starting every few minutes. Depending on the category of rider, racers will ride either 32 or 64 miles before finishing for the day.

Sunday the venue changes to the popular Downtown Norfolk Criterium Course. Back again for 2008, the course features left and right hand turns, awesome spectator spots, two-way racing in front of the announcer stand, and a long finish line stretch tailor-made for exciting sprints and photo-finishes.

Several area restaurants and watering holes will be open during the day featuring front row seating for the action. Neutral support during the criterium will be provided by Cleveland Bike and Sport of Norfolk. Riders will do circuits on the course for 30, 45, 60, or 75 minutes dependent upon the race category. A free kid's race will be held at 12:30 p.m. in downtown Norfolk on the same course as the other racers.

Traffic will be rerouted around the downtown area during the morning and early afternoon of the 8th with full closure of Norfolk Avenue from 1st to 5th Street and on Braash Avenue from 2nd to 5th Streets.

Emergency Physicians offer swimming safety tips

With warm weather upon us, many families are spending a lot of time at the pool and the beach. But with the report of a spike in the number of drowning deaths among young children sparking a renewed public debate over the safety of cheap inflatable pools in particular, it may be time for parents to review the rules of water safety.

"Drowning is one of the leading causes of death among children ages one to four, in part because it can happen so quickly," said American College of Emergency Physicians President Dr. Linda L. Lawrence, who cited a new report from the Consumer Product and Safety Commission which found that the annual number of drowning deaths involving children under age five had increased to 283 for 2003-2005, up from 267 in 2002-2004. Most of these deaths and injuries occur in homes and yards, and involve children under age two, according to the report.

"It only takes a few seconds for a child to drown, and small children can drown in just a few inches of water — in a bathtub, a toilet or a bucket," Dr. Lawrence added. "Moreover, for every child who drowns, more than 10 children are treated in emergency departments for near drowning."

Because of these dangers, parents need to keep a close eye on their children when they are near any water sources, especially pools, streams, lakes or at the beach. In addition, parents need to know the limits of their child's ability to swim and to set firm ground rules for play around the water, and to never leave kids unsupervised.

Finally, while drowning occurs most often among small children and people who can't swim, "even experienced swimmers may be susceptible, depending on weather conditions, water currents, their health and other circumstances," added Dr. Lawrence.

Pool safety tips-

Before your family ventures out into the water this summer, keep in mind the following safety measures:

Never leave babies or young children unattended near tubs, pools or buckets of water — even for a few seconds.

Teach your children to swim—

Never allow children to swim alone or without adult supervision. They should only swim in places that are supervised, and preferably with a lifeguard on duty.

Install safety fences with child-proof latches around swimming pools.

Remind children never to dive into unfamiliar water. Never drink alcohol and swim.

Beach safety-

If your family is at the beach, you should also take the following additional precautions:

Check with lifeguards about surf and beach conditions before going in the water.

Make sure children swim or surf only in designated areas.

Obey warning signs regarding dangerous swimming areas.

Don't overestimate you or your child's swimming ability, especially in bodies of water that may have dangerous currents or riptides. Never depend on flotation devices for your child's safety.

Encourage your children to avoid cliff edges, stay behind fences and obey warning signs.

What to do in case of drowning- If a person appears to be drowning (e.g., is flailing in the water, yelling for help, coughing or going under, or appears to be unconscious or floating in the water), check the area, alert a lifeguard if one is nearby, then call 911 or your local emergency number. In addition:

Do not attempt to rescue a drowning person while in the water yourself unless you are trained to do so and have lifesaving equipment. People who are drowning may panic and pull you underwater with them; dangerous circumstances — such as strong currents or rip tides — may also endanger you.

If possible, reach out with or throw an object that floats to the person from a secure out-of-water position, such as a boat, a swimming pool ladder or a dock.

For a person pulled from the water, tilt the head back, lift the chin and check for breathing and other signs of life. Expel fluid or other objects from the mouth.

If the person is not breathing, give two slow rescue breaths. If rescue breaths go in, give cardio-pulmonary resuscitation (CPR). If rescue breaths do not go in, reposition the airway and reattempt.

Continue uninterrupted CPR until advanced life support is available.

Consumers warned about home repair and home improvement scams

Has recent storm damage left your home in need of repair? Or, are you thinking about making some home improvements this spring? If so, it's important to make sure you don't fall into the hands of an unscrupulous contractor. While most home repair specialists and home improvement contractors perform a valuable service at a fair price, there are those who take advantage of their customers.

"Nebraskans take pride in their homes," said Attorney General Jon Bruning. "These contractors promise to improve your home's value. But they'll walk away with your money and leave you with shoddy work or nothing at all."

The Nebraska Attorney General's office has received 59 complaints about home improvement contractors this year. The Better Business Bureau has received 31.

The Better Business Bureau keeps records of company reliability and customer complaints. Access to these reports and other tips can be found on its Web site at www.bbb.org

"People work hard for their money and need to be cautious in selecting a contractor. Always check with the Better Business Bureau before you hire," says Jim Hegarty, President and CEO of the Better Business Bureau.

Here are some tips for consumers to follow if they're considering hiring a contractor:

- Always get at least three estimates. Compare the prices and what's included for the price. Be sure you are comparing apples and apples.

- Ask friends for recommendations. Make sure that the contractor is bonded, licensed and insured. Get proof in writing and call the agencies to confirm.

- Insist on a written contract. Contracts should include description of the work being done, materials used, and beginning and end dates. Don't sign an incomplete contract.

- Keep records of all contracts, correspondence, and anything related to the work done.

Out-of-state contractors can be more difficult to contact if there's a problem. Be careful working with a contractor who doesn't have a local address.

Consumers who believe they have been victims of a contractor scam should contact either the Attorney General's Consumer Protection Division toll-free at (800)727-6432 or the Better Business Bureau at (800)649-6814. Consumers can also file a complaint online at www.ago.ne.gov

PREPARE FOR BUSY MONTH

Members of Roy Reed Unit No. 252, American Legion Auxiliary, Winside met on May 12 with seven senior and five junior members in attendance. The pre-meeting activity consisted of preparing poppy wreaths to decorate Veterans graves in seven area cemeteries.

The meeting was called to order by President Rose Ann Janke, with Adeline Anderson providing prayer and Marilyn Morse serving as secretary. The members recited the Pledge of Allegiance and Preamble to the Auxiliary Constitution. Minutes of the April meeting were read and approved, as was the Treasurer's report.

President Janke and Chaplain Anderson provided "Draping of the Charter" ceremony for two of the deceased members, Bernice Witt and Judy Jacobsen. A grave marker will be provided to each family for their family member as well as a donation to the Unit's Memorial Fund in honor of Bernice and Judy's years of service with the Unit.

Memorial Day Dinner plans were made and proved successful. The dinner serves as the only means by which the Unit raises funds each year to support the many programs such as Cornhusker Girls State, Poppy Poster Contest, Norfolk Veterans Home and more. Thank you to everyone who leant a helping hand or provided a salad or dessert. We could not have done it without your assistance.

Poppy Day was held at both Winside and Hoskins with proceeds being shared with the Poppy Program to purchase additional supplies and paying the Veterans for making the Memorial Poppy. Additionally, funds will be donated at a later date to the Norfolk Veterans Home. Community support continues to be good with this project. Many wore their Poppies during the week of Memorial Day as well as an expression of remembrance of those Veterans who have sacrificed for our freedom and continue to do so today.

The next meeting will be June 9 at 7:30 p.m. at the Winside Legion Post. Renewal notices for the 2009 Membership year will be sent from the National organization beginning Sept. 1. Department Convention will take place at Kearney, June 26-29. Everyone is welcomed to attend. The meeting adjourned with prayer.

Book signing to be held at Corps of Discovery Welcome Center

The Corps of Discovery Welcome Center will be hosting Bob Fritschen at the book signing of "Dakota/Eifel" on June 7 from 1 - 4 p.m.

The "Dakota/Eifel" by Robert Fritschen is said to be a wonderful example of how to organize and account for family history. He details how events and land shaped the lives of his people.

Fritschen also takes great effort in telling about the special nature of the Germans from the Eifel region of the Rhineland. His story is the story of tens of thousands of other immigrants but with a factual base. The book essentially tells what the reasons were for their leaving Germany. It then moves into what they found when they arrived in Dakota Territory and how it compared with what they left behind. The book tells what immigrants made from what was found in their new world.

Meet author Robert Fritschen at the Corps of Discovery Welcome Center to learn more of the book he has published about the area German heritage. Also stop to have a complementary beverage with the friendly staff.

Siouxland Community's Blood Bank's 'Gift of Life Scholarship Program' completes its first year successfully

The Siouxland Community Blood Bank's (SCBB) "Gift of Life Scholarship Program" has concluded for the 2007-08 school year with over $14,000 in scholarships being distributed to 31 area high schools in Iowa, Nebraska and South Dakota.

The Siouxland Community Blood Bank and The Waitt Family Foundation joined together in 2007 to develop the "Gift of Life Scholarship Program" which was made available to all high schools within the Siouxland Community Blood Bank's service area. Over sixty high schools conduct blood drives with the Siouxland Community Blood Bank each school year and over half of them met the requirements for the scholarship program.

Individual scholarship dollar amounts were based on the number of blood drives each school hosted as well as the overall number of units collected at each drive. Blood donations by faculty, parents and community members at each school-sponsored drive were strongly encouraged and counted toward the school's totals.

The selection of each school's scholarship recipient was based on guidelines set by each participating school.

"The Waitt Family Foundation is honored to partner with the Siouxland Community Blood Bank through our matching gift scholarship program," said the Foundation's Joan Waitt. "It is important that high school students get in the habit of donating blood. Hopefully the availability of a college scholarship will help the Blood Bank recruit hundreds of new donors."

"Statistics show that people who begin donating blood in high school are more likely to continue giving blood throughout their lifetime. We hope to spark the interest of young donors and build a lifelong relationship with them," said Jan Twaitt, SCBB Chief Executive Officer. "The support of the Waitt Family Foundation was critical to assisting us in building these lifelong partnerships. We look forward to offering the scholarship program to all of our high schools for many years to come."

Local schools that received a scholarship include Allen Public School and Pender High School.

To donate, donors must be 17 years of age (16 with parental consent), must weigh at least 110 pounds and may not have given whole blood in the previous 56 days. Other restrictions apply. The Siouxland Community Blood Bank was founded in 1967 and is the sole provider of blood and blood products to 36 Siouxland area hospitals.

Click It or Ticket enforcement stats released

There were 212 citations and 292 warnings issued to motorists who were not wearing their seat belt during the just completed "Click It or Ticket" campaign. The special nationwide enforcement campaign ran May 19- June 1 and encompassed the Memorial Day holiday weekend.

Troopers with the Nebraska State Patrol put in overtime hours during the campaign thanks in part to a $25,000 grant from the Nebraska Office of Highway Safety (NOHS).

There were 113 citations (66) and warnings (47) issued for child safety seat violations. Motorists were also cited for other crash causing behaviors to include Speeding (2,262), Driving While Intoxicated (125), Driving Under Suspension

(72) and No Proof of Insurance (78). "The Nebraska State Patrol is dedicated to reducing the number of traffic fatalities on our roadways," said Colonel Bryan Tuma, Superintendent of the Nebraska State Patrol. "We ask all drivers to make safety a priority by ensuring everyone in their vehicle is buckled-up."

Statistics from the Nebraska Office of Highway Safety show wearing your seat belt increases your odds of surviving a crash by up to 50 percent.

Nebraska's seat belt law is a secondary law. Drivers can be cited for this violation only if stopped for a separate violation. Violating Nebraska's seat belt law carries a $25 fine for each offense.

Students accepted for RHOP program at WSC

Fifteen students have been accepted into the Rural Health Opportunities Program (RHOP) at Wayne State College. "The need for rural health professionals continues to grow," Dr. David Peitz, professor at Wayne State College said. "These students have proven themselves to be gifted and dedicated to their profession. They have displayed the potential to develop into strong community leaders."

RHOP is a cooperative effort between Wayne State and the University of Nebraska Medical Center (UNMC) and encourages students from rural areas of Nebraska to return to rural settings after graduation to pursue their career. Individuals selected obtain guaranteed admission to UNMC Colleges upon successful completion of studies at WSC and receive a full-tuition waiver at WSC.

Students from communities of populations less than 10,000 are granted special consideration for admission to the RHOP program. Areas of study under the program include medicine; pharmacy; dentistry; dental hygiene and medical technology.

A shortage of rural health practitioners in Nebraska prompted higher education institutions to implement the RHOP program in 1989. Selection of candidates is based on an applicant's residency in a rural Nebraska community, academic potential and commitment to practice in rural Nebraska.

Individuals who will enter the RHOP program in the fall 2008, their hometowns and areas of study include: Mitchell Knudsen of Laurel; Medicine, Craig Baumgart of Humphrey; Brianne Hofstetter of Daykin; Travis Toepfer of Blue Hill; Kaitlin Zentic of Fremont; Emily Maguire of David City; Pharmacy, Sloane Hartzell of Hallam; Brandon Timm of Neligh; Jacelyn Watt of Sidney; Dentistry, Lacey Johnson of Taylor; Katelyn Olenich of Norfolk; Christian Petersen of Blair; Dental Hygiene, Ashley Gurney of Burwell; Nicole Schlautman of Pilger; Clinical Laboratory Sciences, Zacadia Krueger of Norfolk.

Information about the RHOP program can be found at: <http://www.wsc.edu/schools/nss/rhop/> or call 402-375-7329 or 800-228-9972 or email: PREPROF@WSC.EDU.

'The Other Iraq'

By Nebraska Attorney General Jon Bruning

I take my responsibility of protecting Nebraskans and building a stronger, safer future for our families very seriously. With that responsibility comes an obligation to learn more about the threats and opportunities that surround us.

When we think of the Iraq where our troops are fighting and sacrificing their lives, many of us may picture what we see on the news. An Iraq plagued by unrest, roadside bombs and killing, along with innocent people suffering - a war-torn, destroyed country.

Recently, at the request of the Kurdistan Regional Government, I spent several days in the Kurdistan Region in northern Iraq, a region known as "the other Iraq." I was honored that government officials came to me as Nebraska's Attorney General to learn my perspective on the rule of law and how we go about serving our citizens.

What I saw in the Kurdistan Region was so inherently different from the rest of the country that I'm compelled to share my experience with Nebraskans.

Kurdistan is a place where there is personal security and political stability. There are more than 40 million Kurds who are the largest ethnic group in the world without their own country. The thriving democracy is a sign of success, and the people are reaching out to Americans. It is truly a wonderful place, and the Kurds are very kind and very much pro-United States.

History tells the story. From 1987 to 1989, Saddam Hussein released his wrath upon the Kurds with what was called the "Anfal Campaign." An estimated 180,000 Kurds were killed.

Reminders of this genocide are still there. I visited what's called the "Red House." It's a prison where Saddam's men tortured and killed thousands of Kurds. Today, what you see in Kurdistan are very few men in their 40s and 50s. The Kurds turned the other cheek many, many times despite Saddam's atrocities and didn't return those atrocities in kind.

A few months after Saddam invaded Kuwait in 1990, Americans came in to stop him. In 1991, we encouraged the Kurds to rebel against Saddam, and they did. Shortly after that, we abandoned them.

Saddam Hussein treated the Kurds brutally, yet they are prospering. They were at our right-hand during our initial effort against him in 2003. The Kurds have been open and honest. There haven't been any American deaths in the region for years nor has there been the violence that many believe is a hallmark of Iraq. However, peace and stability in the region are somewhat dependent on our presence there.

Earlier this month I met with Kurdistan's Prime Minister Nechirvan Barzani. We had a frank discussion where he implored the American people to remain in Iraq until stability has been achieved across the entire country, not just in Kurdistan. He made it clear he thinks we're moving in the right direction.

Now, the Kurds want to increase connections with American state leaders and show that Kurdistan is not only safe, but its people are thriving and the area is ripe with opportunity for American investment.

Stability in the region and open communication among leaders not only helps the Kurds, it makes for a stronger America and a safer Nebraska.

Conversation between Hagel, McCain would be interesting

By Ed Howard
Statehouse Correspondent
The Nebraska Press Association

It's pretty much illegal to tap into other peoples' phone conversations. And it would be rude, anyway.

While standing foursquare against lawbreaking, and mostly against rudeness, it is nonetheless true that listening in on recent calls between Sen. John McCain and Nebraska Sen. Chuck Hagel would have been interesting and educational.

It probably would have been fun, too.

Both men are Republicans. Both are decorated Vietnam veterans. They are, or have been, one another's closest friends in the Senate. McCain is the presumptive GOP presidential candidate. Hagel had serious presidential ambitions.

Try to imagine the tone and tenor when Hagel and McCain talked, whether before or after the Nebraskan's latest torching of the latter's campaign rhetoric.

No doubt the conversation was as serious as it deserved to be - although parts of it might have been saltier than a Chris Rock/George Carlin duet - but the situation had as much potential for a Saturday Night Live skit as for historical drama.

Hagel first commented that McCain really is smarter than some of the things the candidate has been saying en route to the general election. Hagel told the world his pal is actually too intelligent a guy to believe some of his own straight-faced assertions.

More recently, Hagel flat out said he figured McCain was saying ridiculous things to get elected. Once in the White House, Hagel said, McCain would find a way around some of the positions expounded during the campaign.

Hagel as much as said: 'Listen, my good friend knows he has to say things that a lot of people want to hear, but he is smarter than to actually believe that stuff. They aren't smart, so he isn't being honest. You know how politicians are; once he's in the White House, he won't really act out on the stuff he said.'

Question: Who should be more annoyed? McCain's supporters, or McCain?

Some observers said it seemed a lousy thing for one friend to do to another.

Those observers should keep in mind the adage: If you want a dependable friend in Washington, get a dog.

The irony in the McCain/Hagel situation is obvious.

Hagel compiled a record as the Senate's most consistent supporter of legislation pushed by President George Bush. McCain had been labeled a "maverick" Republican, who split with the White House on taxes, war policy and some other things.

In observing politics, it's good to keep in mind the sage observation of the great Joe Louis.

"Life a funny thing."

Poison Center busy with spring poison calls

If there was any doubt that spring is here, you only have to ask the nurses at the Nebraska Regional Poison Center.

The calls on carbon monoxide and cough and cold medicines have been replaced by gasoline, ant killer, fertilizers, spring cleaning chemicals and critters that bite and sting.

This is a good time to spend a few minutes safeguarding against possible spring poisoning hazards.

Mixing certain cleaning chemicals can create toxic gases. Breathing in these gases can cause coughing, burning of the eyes, nose and throat and difficulty breathing. Never mix cleaning products and always work in a well-ventilated area when using these.

Fertilizers can irritate the skin. After using fertilizers, stay off the grass until the product has been watered in. Pesticides are a more dangerous hazard and you should take careful precautions when using or applying. Wear protective clothing and do not apply on a windy day. Always store lawn chemicals in the original containers with labels that list ingredients, directions for use and first-aid steps in case of an accidental poisoning.

Use caution when choosing toxic plants. Call the Poison Center if you are stung by a bee or bitten by a spider or snake. The nurses answering your call will provide the information that you need. When using ant killer, carefully read the label and avoid products that contain arsenic. Be sure to keep it out of the reach of children. Prevention is the best treatment for poisonings. Anyone who would like a free brochure with information on plants is asked to contact the Nebraska Regional Poison Center by calling (402) 955-5555 in the Omaha metropolitan area or toll-free at 1-800-222-1222. The Nebraska Regional Poison Center is sponsored by The Nebraska Medical Center and University of Nebraska Medical Center.

Learning experience

Sandy Preston, UN-L Extension Educator, left, spoke during Friday's Chamber Coffee. The coffee was hosted by those involved in the Makin' Money Camp. The two-day event was held at Wayne State College and encouraged those in fifth through eighth grade to learn about what it takes to establish a business. Each group of students designed and sold a product as part of the experience.

Get valuable information to help improve your personal and small business finances in more one-session workshops taught by Jeff Meyer at Northeast Community College in Norfolk in June.

An evening workshop, Debt Free Living!, with Course No. FINP 0102-15/08S, is scheduled for Monday, June 16, from 6-9 p.m., in the Lifelong Learning Center on the Northeast campus in Norfolk.

Meyer says that whether they earn $15,000 or $350,000 a year, participants will learn how to turn debt into wealth in this workshop. He will also explain why, contrary to "conventional wisdom or expert financial advice," debt is a person's best first investment.

Meyer will teach participants how to get completely out of debt, including mortgages, in five-to-seven years. He will also explain that if participants are contributing to retirement plans, they will want to put those contributions on hold until they are debt free.

He will also teach those in attendance how to live without credit cards and handle financial emergencies.

Participants are asked to bring a list of all debts, balances and monthly payments, a calculator, and a pencil. They will leave with a step-by-step debt elimination plan that allows them to eliminate those debts with their current income and without austerity plans.

Cost of the workshop is $27. A required materials fee of $54 is payable to the instructor at the class. This fee includes the 230-page textbook. According to Meyer, this is purely an educational class and no gimmicks, investments, insurance, or mortgage schemes are offered.

Meyer will also teach legitimate strategies that may reduce taxes up to 50 percent in the "Crouching Taxes, Hidden Profits!!" class scheduled on Tuesday, June 17, from 6-9 p.m. in the Lifelong Learning Center. Course number is FINP 0102-16/08S.

This class is for the self-employed or small-business owner including home-based business operator. It is also ideal for prospective business owners and wage earners that also file a Schedule C.

Participants in this class will learn how to audit-proof tax returns. They will also learn when to incorporate, use an LLC, Partnership or sole proprietorship.

Meyer will also answer questions like: Is a home office tax deductible? What are the benefits of hiring a spouse or child? Could meals, travel and entertainment fun be deductible? and Standard

Spices and herbs to reduce fat, sugar and salt

Spices and herbs can help retain flavor in your foods while cutting back on dietary fat, sugar and sodium/salt.

Reducing Fat. Removing a tablespoon of fat removes about 10 grams of fat and 100 calories - an amount which could represent a 10 pound weight loss in a year. The calories in herbs and spices are far less than in breadings, batters, gravies, sauces and fried foods. Reduce or eliminate these as much as possible.

Reducing Sugar. Reduce or eliminate sugar by using these sweet-tasting spices. Some spices that have a sweet taste include: all-spice, cloves, anise, ginger, cardamom, mace, cinnamon, nutmeg.

Reducing Salt. Use spices and herbs to help you reduce the salt in foods. Some of these include: Savory flavors, and flavors with "bite," such as black pepper, garlic powder, curry powder, cumin, dill seeds, basil, ginger, coriander and onion, are the most effective in replacing the taste of salt.

*Omit the salt when cooking pasta and flavor with basil, oregano, parsley and pepper or use an Italian seasoning blend.

*Use powdered garlic and onion rather than their salt form. Use half as much of the powdered form.

*Check labels to see if "salt" or "sodium" are listed among the ingredients.

Herb/Food Combinations. Here are some ideas to help you start combining fresh herbs with your foods.

BASIL - a natural snipped in with tomatoes; terrific in fresh pesto; other possibilities include pasta sauce, peas, zucchini

CHIVES - dips, potatoes, tomatoes

CILANTRO - Mexican, Asian and Caribbean cooking; salsas, tomatoes

DILL - carrots, cottage cheese, fish, green beans, potatoes, tomatoes

MINT - carrots, fruit salads, parsley, peas, tabouli, tea

OREGANO - peppers, tomatoes

PARSLEY - The curly leaf is the most common, but the flat-leaf or Italian parsley is more strongly flavored and often preferred for cooking. Naturals for parsley include potato salad, tabouli

ROSEMARY - chicken, fish, lamb, pork, roasted potatoes, soups, stews, tomatoes

SAGE - poultry seasoning, stuffings

TARRAGON - chicken, eggs, fish

THYME - eggs, lima beans, potatoes, poultry, summer squash, tomatoes

WINTER SAVORY - dried bean dishes, stews

Wayne High Class of 1942 holds reunion

The Wayne High School Class of 1942 held a 66th year reunion at The Max on May 31 with 10 members and five guests attending.

It was interesting to note that the class graduated known as "The Wayne High School Knights." The class of 1943 and the rest of the high school voted to know as "The Blue Devils" in the fall of 1942.

The football teams, coached by Fog Sullivan and Axel Bundgaard, had two seasons, the fall of 1941 and 1942, of untied, unscored upon football. Then, in the season of 1941-42 the basketball team won the state basketball championship.

There were no girls' sports competitions. Girls' Athletic Association (GAA) was held after school - only intramural.

Teachers never stopped teaching reading, writing and arithmetic, English, grammar and writing, short hand and typing, accounting, higher math, science and two years of Latin. The students had band, chorus, glee clubs, dramatics classes and orchestra. Some of these were before and after school.

State and local competitions were held and State Science Fairs were attended.

The class graduated 69 members. Baccalaureate and graduation services were held in the Wayne City Auditorium. This was the first class to graduate after World War II started and most of the boys in the class went to war shortly after that.

Those attending the reunion were Shirley (Powers) Bergt, Stan Gamble and Virginia Elkton, Rosalie (Korn) Diedricksen and daughter, Joyce Tasey, Gail Dunning and spouse, Carol, Earl Larson and spouse, Marcella, Bob Meyer and spouse, Mona, Curtis Nye of Omaha, Raymond Reeg and spouse, Verdelle, Bonnie (Grier) Stanley, Rodella (Gramberg) Wacker and Mable (Luschen) Tietgen.

MADD salutes athletic director Tom Osborne for being a leader

MADD Nebraska is holding their first annual MADD Breakfast on Tuesday, June 10 at 7:30 a.m. at the Holiday Inn Downtown in Lincoln. MADD salutes University of Nebraska, Athletic Director Tom Osborne for his concerted effort to ensure passage of the STOP Underage Drinking Act in 2006.

Additionally, Lincoln Mayor Chris Beutler will welcome those attending the breakfast and thank participants for their dedication and leadership in the fight to curb underage drinking and support our youth.

Cathy Wise, Development Director for MADD National, will travel to Nebraska to personally thank Tom Osborne for his leadership, to thank the coalitions across the state for their hard work on underage drinking prevention and recognize the support of business leaders who made the breakfast possible.

MADD, once again, would like to publicly applaud the STOP Underage Drinking Act's lead sponsors Representatives Roybal-Allard, Wolf, Osborne, Wamp and DeLauro and Senators DeWinn and Dodd. These individuals and over 100 House and Senate cosponsors not only addressed the issue they made sure it was a public priority.

"I know Nebraska and our community coalitions will benefit from the federal funds committed to combat underage drinking", stated Teri Effle, prevention leader, LCAD. This act will assist all of us who seek to reduce alcohol use among our youth. In 2006, nearly two in every five high school students (37.4 percent), an estimated 37,500 students, either drove after drinking or rode with someone who had been drinking (source: Youth Risk Behavior Survey).

"We want the entire community to come and show their appreciation for Tom Osborne and his leadership for our youth", said State Executive Director Simer Reynolds. Individuals interested in attending the breakfast can contact the state office at 402-434-5330 or e-mail staff@maddnebraska.org.

Proceeds from the breakfast will support MADD Nebraska's non-profit work across the state: to support the Campaign to Eliminate Drunk Driving, Every Child Deserves a Designated Driver and support victims impacted by drunk driving.

Helpful tips and advice for parents on child car seat safety

The widespread use of children's car seats has reduced the number of injuries and fatalities on American roads, but experts agree that more needs to be done.

"Every state requires that children under the age of four are secured while riding in a car," noted Ray Palermo, director of public information for Teachers' Insurance Plan™. "Yet despite the laws and warnings, car crashes are still the single largest cause of death among children under the age of fourteen." It is estimated that half of the approximately 1,500 fatalities each year could be prevented with the proper use of a child car seat.

Although state laws vary and parents should check to ensure they are complying with all local regulations, the insurer offered some general guidelines for parents to follow.

Start Out Right: The best way to get children in the habit of using safety restraints is to learn from their parent's example. The driver, all adult passengers and all infants and children should be safely secured before starting the engine.

Infants Up to 20 Pounds: Infants from birth to 1-year old and under 20 pounds in weight should be secured in an infant car safety seat on the back seat of the vehicle, facing the rear. This avoids injury from an inflated airbag and will be less of a distraction for the driver. If your vehicle does not have a back seat, deactivate the airbag for that trip, but be sure to reactivate it when an adult is the passenger.

Infants 20+ Pounds: Infants from birth to 1-year and more than 20 pounds should be either secured in a convertible safety seat or in an infant seat approved for their weight. The seats should be secured on the back seat of the vehicle, facing the rear.

Children 20 to 40 Pounds: Children older than 1-year who weigh 20 to 40 pounds should be secured in a child safety seat on the back seat of the vehicle, facing forward.

Children 40+ Pounds: Children who have outgrown their child safety seat, but are still too small (less than 4'9") to use the standard adult safety belt in the car, should use a booster seat. The lap belt should sit across the hips and the shoulder belt should not cross the neck or face.

Teachers' Insurance Plan also offered these cautions: Be sure to read the manufacturer's instructions on proper installation or check with your local police or fire department, who are often certified to inspect car seats. When buying a car seat, look for the DOT tag. Do not use a car seat that is broken or missing parts.

Singing in Latin will require practice

Way back in the 50s, when my cousin and I were in high school, and both of us were planning to be nurses, we decided we should learn some Latin, as a lot of medical terms are in Latin or are derived from the language. Waco High certainly did not offer any foreign languages, but they arranged for us to take it by extension from the university.

Well, taking classes by extension back then did not include videos, CDs, or even audio tapes. We each had a text book, and we were on our own. I don't even remember what I got for a grade, but it must have been a passing one. I do remember thinking that it was such an orderly language, with none of the exceptions that make English so tricky.

The Lincoln Lutheran choir often sang songs in Latin. They were tricky, but they tended to use the same "holy phrases" over and over, so I could learn them.

Well, guess what? The "nun choir" in Sound of Music sings mostly in Latin. That was something I had not thought of when I went to try outs. I'm certainly thinking of it today, as we had our first rehearsal last night. There is one lady older than me in this group, but she colors her hair, so I look like the oldest. There is every age variance younger. The director is a cute little thing with flashing dark eyes and long black curly hair; her grandparents were from Armenia and she has all the best characteristics. Plus, she has a gorgeous voice; we've heard her in many Lofte productions.

The music is beautiful, as you all know. Most of the choir music is four part; some is six. And there is one anthem that is all Allelujah. But the rest! How does Donec ponam inimicos tuos, Scabellum pedum tuorum strike you?

Compounding the fright for me is the fact that I must memorize all of this, words and notes. In LLC, we sing with our music, even if the director keeps telling us to watch him! The Lofte director informed us last night that he doesn't tolerate any flubbed lines, so we had best begin now! (I kind of suspected that, because any production @ the Lofte has never shown any evidence of a prompter.)

So, the next few weeks are going to give this old brain a good workout. The only blessing is that I don't have any solo parts, and there is strength in numbers. But I'm thinking it won't hurt to have many people praying for me; you can start now!

As I told the kids, it will be like being in choir, only with a very long robe. Plus, they added, a cover on your head! Wish me luck; I will need it!

Regional 4-Hers have a lot to talk about

Several area 4-Hers received awards at the Northeast Regional 4-H Public Speaking Contest held on May 23 at the Lifelong Learning Center in Norfolk.

Sixty-six youth from 21 counties throughout the state competed in their respective age division in the 2008 Regional 4-H Speech competition. Additionally, 42 contestants from 14 counties from the northeast district competed in their respective age division in the 2008 Regional 4-H Public Service Announcement (PSA) competition. Contestants earn the opportunity to participate in regional competition by winning their age division at the county level. Contestants may compete in one or both categories.

In the Junior division (11 years of age and younger), Intermediate division (12 to 13 years of age), and Senior division (14 to 19 years of age), speakers are required to prepare an original speech incorporating some aspect of 4-H in the content. The second category included 4-H members from those age groups recording a 60-second PSA promoting 4-H.

Contestants were awarded purple, blue, or red awards in recognition of their accomplishments in speech or PSA; in addition, the top four individuals in each division received medals. The four winners of the senior division speech and PSA competition are given the opportunity to compete for awards at the State 4-H Public Speaking Contest to be held in Lincoln on Aug. 30 during the Nebraska State Fair. All youth competing in state competition and staying for awards will receive special awards. The top two speech and PSA winners in State 4-H Public Speaking Contest receive scholarships.

Wayne County results for the Junior Speech Division include: Sylvia Jager, daughter of Huck and Chris Jager of Wayne, purple; Emily Essmann, daughter of Ken and Colleen Essmann, of Pender and Emma Loberg, daughter of Ken and Jean Loberg of Wayne received blue ribbons.

Intermediate Division Speech results include: Sawyer Jager, son of Huck and Chris Jager, purple. Senior Division Speech results include: Maddie Jager, daughter of Huck and Chris Jager, blue and Hannah McCorkindale, daughter of Dr. Mark and Gail McCorkindale of Wayne, blue. Emily Essmann competed in the Junior PSA

Division and earned a red ribbon.

Dixon County results include: Senior Division - Lydia Gould of Newcastle, red; Patrick O'Keefe of Dixon, blue.

Junior Division - Heidi Borg of Allen, blue and Kathryn O'Keefe of Allen, purple.

NDA rolls out 2008 Seniors Farmers' Market Nutrition program

The Nebraska Department of Agriculture (NDA) has officially kicked off another year of the Seniors Farmers' Market Nutrition Program (SFMNP). The program allows low-income senior citizens to receive locally grown, fresh fruits and vegetables at no cost.

Earlier this year, the NDA received $246,775 in U.S. Department of Agriculture (USDA) grant money for the program.

"We are expecting around 5,089 low-income senior citizens to utilize the Senior Farmers' Market Nutrition Program this year," said NDA Director Greg Ibach. "This program also benefits Nebraska's produce growers that will be providing the seniors with nutritious, Nebraska grown produce."

The SFMNP, established as a pilot program in 2000 and authorized in the 2002 Farm Bill, provides low-income seniors with coupons that can be exchanged for fresh produce at farmers' markets, roadside stands, and U-pick operations. The SFMNP is intended to provide fresh, nutritious, locally grown fruits, vegetables, and herbs to low-income seniors and to increase the consumption of agricultural commodities by expanding or aiding in the development of farmers' markets and other outlets.

Nebraska's SFMNP is a joint effort between NDA, Nebraska Department of Health and Human Services (DHHS) Medicaid and

STATEMENT OF QUALIFICATIONS

The City of Wayne is requesting a grant from the Nebraska Department of Economic Development for the Downtown Revitalization Initiative. This is a two-phase project. Phase I is planning, and Phase II is implementation. The study needs to be completed for submission of Phase II application in January, 2009. The City anticipates the award of a contract for Engineering Services contingent upon grant award and is requesting an expression of interest and statement of qualifications from your firm. The Plan will give Wayne the guidance to create a revitalized downtown which Wayne will implement beginning with Phase II. The goal is to stabilize the downtown district, expand the community's overall economic health and the elimination of substandard and blighted structures in the downtown area. The official downtown district starts at 7th Street, goes south to Logan Creek, and a block and east and west of Main Street.

SEWER CLEANING CONTINUES

June 2, 2008

Due to rain delays, the City of Wayne Sewer Department is still in the process of cleaning sewer mains in various parts of the City. This process will continue for at least the next two weeks. A number of mains will be cleaned in the area south of 7th Street and west of Main Street, as well as an area east of Main Street between Logan and Dearborn Streets. Other areas will be cleaned as well.

In this process, high pressure water is forced through the sewer pipe to clean it. This pushes solid materials to the manholes so they can be removed by vacuuming. This entire process is necessary to keep obstructions out of the sewer system and insure proper drainage of waste.

Residents should be aware that when this process is done, the high pressure water pushes the air in the sewer line which occasionally enters the private sewer lines into homes and businesses. If this happens, it can result in the air exiting through the toilet bowl, shooting the water out of the toilet bowl. This air should exit through the sewer vent of the building, but inadequate venting or location of toilets can cause the air to exit through the toilet. This is a rare occurrence and keeping the lid closed on the toilet during this time will keep most of the water in the bowl rather than the floor.

Again, during the next 2 weeks, when the toilets are not in use, cover them with a towel and keep the lid down.

If you have any questions about the sewer cleaning process, the areas the sewer main cleaning will take place, or when we will be cleaning near your property, you may call the Wastewater Treatment Plant at 375-5250.

Twenty-three young people from eight towns participated in the Makin' Money Camp held in Wayne on May 29 and 30.

Makin' Money Camp held in Wayne

Twenty-three fifth through eighth graders had a great time learning how to be successful entrepreneurs. They came from Laurel, Creighton, Atkinson, Clearwater, Wakefield, Newman Grove, Wayne, Hartington, Emerson and Plainview to take part in this two-day Makin' Money Camp.

Participants had fun while learning how to develop a business plan, borrow money from a banker, and create their billboard ads. Some made business cards and radio tapes too. Each camper put together a product - a gourd birdhouse, fishing lure, nature photography notecards, or bracelets and key chains which they sold to Wayne Chamber of Commerce customers at the Camp Marketplace.

After selling their wares they toured six entrepreneurial businesses in Wayne where the owners shared their thoughts on being the owners. They said it has to be something you love doing and that it takes lots of work and long hours to make it a success.

The Camp was held May 29 and 30 in Wayne at the Wayne State College Student Center. It was funded in part by a grant from The Connie Fund Foundation. Other partners were the Northeast Nebraska RC&D, UNL Extension, the Center for Rural Affairs, Wayne State College and Wayne Area Economic Development.
