Thousands expected to flock to Wayne this weekend

The countdown continues to the start of the activities for the 28th annual Wayne Chicken Show, scheduled for Friday, Saturday and Sunday, July 11-13.

The event has grown considerably during the last 28 years. What originally began as a brainchild of the Wayne Regional Arts Council has become a three-day event that draws visitors from throughout the United States and from foreign countries.

This year's event begins with a Flea Market in downtown Wayne on Friday, July 11 and continues through the Last Cluck Poker Run on Sunday afternoon.

Committee members have been meeting regularly for months, working on plans and activities for this year's show, using the theme "Let the Cluckin' Games Begin" in honor of this year's Olympic games in Beijing, China. Winning contestants in a number of the contests will receive Olympic-like medals for their efforts.

Friday's events include the Flea Market, Chamber Coffee, arts, crafts and food vendors, the World's Largest Chicken Dance, a Rooster and Hen Contest, Let's Make A Deal, the Cement Chicken Auction, a Saucy Hot Wing Eating Contest, entertainment by nine-time National Cluck-Off Champion Del Hampton, the Wayne Jaycees-sponsored fireworks display and a teen dance sponsored by KTCH/KTCY and the First Presbyterian Youth Group.

Friday's activities are coordinated by Main Street Wayne.

Saturday's schedule will include a number of traditional events, such as a pitch tournament at the Wayne Eagles Club, a softball tournament at the Wayne Summer Sports Complex, a quilt show at the Masonic Lodge at 10th and Lincoln Streets (across from Bressler Park), arts, crafts and food vendors, the Kiwanis-sponsored omelet feed, a live rooster crowing contest and the Wayne Chicken Show Parade, set to begin at 9:30 a.m.

More than 80 entrants have signed up for the 5k run and 1 mile walk, which will follow the Wayne Community Walking Path. Prizes will be awarded in three categories - 19 years and under; 20 to 39 years and 40 years and over.

The Nebraska Daylily Society's Flower Show will be held at the Wayne State College Student Center from noon to 3 p.m.

Following the parade, a number of contests and activities will take place at Bressler Park.

Free entertainment will be provided by Sheltered Reality, a group that uses percussion and high energy choreography to engage and motivate audiences.

This year's Chicken Feed will be served from 11:30 a.m. to 1 p.m. and will feature an 'egg-normous' barbecue chicken breast sandwich, grilled on site, and beans, chips and a drink.

Making tracks to Wayne

These three cement chickens are among those who will be attending the 28th annual Wayne Chicken Show this weekend. They, and more than 20 others, will be auctioned off on Friday evening as part of the traditional Henoween activities. This year's theme, "Let the Cluckin' Games Begin" celebrates the 2008 Summer Olympics in Beijing.

Light bulbs designed to save energy

Editor's note: This is the third in a series of articles on saving energy that is being offered by the City of Wayne.

Have you ever wondered what it costs to use the lights in your home throughout the year?

While you may change your thermostat setting to reduce the amount of energy needed to heat and cool your residence, most people do not consider what they could save by changing what they screw into their light sockets.

Think about "switching" the standard light bulbs you use the most in your home to ENERGY STAR® qualified compact fluorescent lamps (CFLs). They are available in many different sizes and shapes, including mini-spiral, spiral and A-line.

Wayne County Veteran's Memorial update given

In June, the Wayne County Veterans Memorial committee voted to choose the Colonnade style Memorial. A poster of the chosen Memorial is available for viewing in the Veteran's Club window at 220 Main Street in Wayne.

The committee also voted to include the names of all Veterans of Wayne County, living or deceased, on the Memorial. The Veteran's names will be compiled from the Veteran's lists from the Memorial Day Honor rolls and members of the Wayne County Veteran's organizations. (If you have a relative from Wayne County that served their country, please ensure their name is given to be included).

Luken Memorial of Yankton, S.D. was chosen as the company to build the Memorial.

The County Courthouse lawn will be the location for the Memorial. It will be

"Thank you for being in Wayne"

A new component has been added to the Wayne Area Economic Development's (WAEDI) business retention program. Once a quarter the organization will be recognizing a business by bringing them a basket(s) of fruit for all of their employees to enjoy. "It is our way of saying 'thank you' to the company for being in Wayne and thanking the employees for working in Wayne," said David Simonsen, Executive Director of WAEDI. The baskets for the First National of Omaha Card Center were two bushel baskets full of apples, oranges, bananas, grapes, and nuts.

Contests add a little spice to life for 3-Ball BBQ team and family

By Lynn Sievers
Of the Herald

A family cook-out holds a different meaning for several members of the Reeg family of Wayne. While most families gather in the backyard to grill out and share time together, this extended family enters Kansas City Barbeque Society sanctioned contests and travel across the Midwest.

The "3-Ball BBQ" team of Kevin Armstrong and Jed Reeg usually enter four or five contests each summer. Kevin and Jed are the cooks but the other family members also get involved. Those family members are Kevin's wife, Heidi (Reeg), Emily and Bo Armstrong, Jed, his wife, Ann, and children Katie and Hank Reeg and Joyce Reeg.

"We treat BBQ contests like big family reunions," Kevin said. "It's a great place for the kids to play. We practice on the different meats on weekends and usually serve it to friends and family. We are always tinkering with the rubs and cooking times. We try to find the right technique and duplicate it for the contest. We use the local Ted's Seasonings on some of our meats."

It all started in the fall of 2005, when Jed Reeg of Olathe, Kan. (formerly of Wayne), a cooking hobbyist got his family interested in the idea of entering BBQ contests. He thought getting started in entering the contests would be a fun family activity.

The first contest they competed in was in West Point and the most recent one was in Marshalltown, Iowa. The group has gone to other contests including ones in Platte City, Mo. and Paola, Kan., which are both in the Kansas City area.

"The Kansas City Barbeque Society regulates all of their contests and sends representatives to each event to make sure things are run properly," Armstrong said. "The contests we compete in usually have between 40-70 teams."

Armstrong noted there are four main categories in the BBQ contests and they are: chicken, pork ribs, pork butt/shoulder and beef brisket. Some contests add other side categories such as turkey, sausage and dessert.

The rules include no propane or electric cookers. Grills and cookers need to be refueled by wood or charcoal. All competing teams have to bring everything with them, including all of the meat (pork shoulder, brisket, pork ribs and chicken), grill and smokers.

Most teams arrive at the contest early on Friday and go home Saturday evening after the awards ceremony. Some teams sleep in tents and others bring campers and R.V.s. Armstrong noted Mother Nature recently damaged their BBQ tent and they had Pat Garvin at Innovative Protectives Inc. in Wayne stitch it back together for them.

"We just won our first 1st place ribbon in the chicken category," Armstrong said. "We are still searching for our first Grand Champion, which is given to the team that does the best across all four sanctioned categories. We won the People's Choice award at the Platte City, Mo. BBQ contest in May, 2007. That is an award voted on by all of the people who attended the contest rather than by the official BBQ judges."

Armstrong added that their team has won numerous awards in the past few years with their best overall finish of 7th place in Platte City in 2006. "Each meat is judged individually," Armstrong said. "The judges judge on taste, tenderness and appearance."

Cash prizes and ribbons are awarded to the top five or 10 places. Sometimes banners are awarded for Grand Champion, Reserve Grand Champion and People's Choice awards.

"We received a large banner for winning the People's Choice award at the Platte City contest," Armstrong said.

Thinking about contests in the area, West Point was the closest they have competed in. The team will compete in Omaha in late September. Armstrong stated that some people have been looking into having a competition in Wayne.

About the members of "3-Ball BBQ team" and family members, Kevin works at Wayne State College in the Foundation and is originally from Omaha. His wife, Heidi, is a Wayne native. They have two children, Emily, 6, and Bo, 4. Jed and his wife, Ann, have two children, Katie, 6, and Hank, 4. Joyce is Heidi and Jed's mother and she is the Wayne County assessor.

As for barbecuing in general, "Some people confuse the terms 'grilling' and 'barbecuing,'" Armstrong said. "BBQ is slow cooking over wood or coals while grilling is cooking on a standard propane or electric grill."

Armstrong summed up their BBQ experiences by saying that they have met a lot of friendly people on the BBQ circuit. Anyone who would like to find out more information on the Kansas City BBQ Society can go to www.kcbs.us or give Armstrong a call at 402-833-5051.

South Sioux administrator receives distinguished service award from NECC

City Administrator Lance Hedquist was surprised at this week's meeting of the City Council of South Sioux City when officials from Northeast Community College presented him with a Distinguished Service Award.

The award recognizes individuals who have played important roles in the support and development of Northeast Community College. Dr. Bill R. Path, Northeast president, presented him with the award.

Hedquist has served as the City Administrator for South Sioux City since 1980. He grew up in South Sioux City and returned in 1972 after graduating from Wayne State College with a bachelor of science degree.

He is recognized as a leader and innovator in the Tri-State area and across Nebraska for his foresight to lead one of the most progressive cities in the state. Due to his leadership and foresight, the City of South Sioux City succeeded in receiving the 2003 All-America City Award and the 2003 Nebraska Showcase Community Award.

Hedquist is a dedicated friend to education and specifically to Northeast Community College. He was very receptive to the proposed College Center in South Sioux City that will house Northeast associate degree programs and Wayne State College bachelor's and graduate-degree programs. He has worked tirelessly to help make that happen.

He has served on the Advisory Committee for Northeast Community College's South Sioux City Education Center and is currently serving as an advisor for the Leadership Committee for the Capital Campaign for the College Center. He was very persuasive and determined in working with the Nebraska Coordinating Commission for Postsecondary Education to seek its approval of the College Center building.

Hedquist is well-known in Lincoln and advances issues that are crucial to Northeast at the state level, often without request, because he believes in the philosophy and mission of NECC.

At the July 11, 2005, City Council meeting, the South Sioux City Council voted to give special recognition to Lance Hedquist for his 25 years of dedicated service to the City of South Sioux City by naming the Technology Speculative building, located at 3309 & 3311 Daniels Lane, the "Lance Hedquist Technology Building." NECC's South Sioux City Education Center is located in that building.

Basic nurse aide course to begin

Another session of a three-credit-hour Basic Nurse Aide course will be offered by Northeast Community College in Norfolk soon. With course number HLTH 1110-01/08B, the class meets Tuesdays, Wednesdays and Thursdays, July 15-August 14, from 5-10 p.m. in the Ag/Allied Health Building, Room 202. Sara Ruda is the instructor.

Students in this three-credit-hour or 76-contact-hour class will learn the skills necessary to administer residential health care to the ill and elderly in nursing homes and long-term care facilities under qualified supervision. They will be taught to recognize the aging process and changes which accompany aging. Physical/emotional needs of geriatric patients in the clinical setting will also be reviewed.

Students will also be taught basic knowledge, skills and attitudes specific to geriatric care and to identify means to assist residents in obtaining and maintaining optimal, functional potential.

Cost of this three-credit-hour Basic Nurse Aide class is $219. Books are not included.

To register, call Northeast Community College at (402)844-7265.

Safe Routes Nebraska announces available funding and application workshops

The Nebraska Department of Roads "Safe Routes Nebraska" Program is announcing the availability of funds for projects that encourage and better enable children in Nebraska to walk and bike safely to school.

"Safe Routes Nebraska" is conducting workshops in July to assist communities with project ideas.

Schools, state, local, and non-profit organizations may apply by completing an intent-to-apply form located at www.SafeRoutesNE.com. The deadline for intent to apply is Sept. 5, 2008.

"Safe Routes Nebraska" representatives will conduct workshops July 22 in Ogallala; July 23 in Gering; and July 24 in North Platte. The format will consist of a presentation with information about the program followed by a working session for communities to discuss project ideas. Participants are encouraged to bring materials, such as maps and photos to help explain their project ideas.

Safe Routes funding is 100 percent funded by the federal government and requires no matching funds by local entities. The funds, benefiting elementary and middle school students, are divided into two categories: infrastructure (school route improvements, traffic diversion and bicycle facilities) and non-infrastructure (promotional materials, student bicycle and pedestrian safety education sessions).

The Safe Routes to School program is focused on promoting physical activity and improving health, making routes to school safe, and reducing traffic congestion around schools by encouraging children to walk and bike to school. Childhood obesity rates have more than tripled in the past 30 years while the number of children walking and biking to school has declined.

According to the 2001 National Household Travel Survey, less than 16 percent of students between the ages of five and 15 walked or biked to or from school, compared to 42 percent in 1969.

Through the 2005 passage of the Safe, Accountable, Flexible, Efficient Transportation Equity Act: A Legacy for Users (SAFETEA-LU), Congress designated a total of $612 million toward developing the National Safe Routes to School Program. These funds will be distributed through the Nebraska Department of Roads and will fund education, planning and implementation of Safe Routes to School plans and programs.

For more information regarding the "Safe Routes Nebraska" Program, visit www.SafeRoutesNE.com.

Local volunteers assist in Omaha area

By Lynn Sievers
Of the Herald

In response to damage from a storm in Omaha and surrounding areas on June 27, four Red Cross volunteers, John and Ann Witkowski of Wayne, Mitch Osten of Carroll and Karma Thomas of Newcastle, answered a call for help by donating their time. The local volunteers helped with client case work and Witkowskis' were in charge of a shelter in Ralston.

Osten and Thomas' assignment was to get a list of damage, talk to people in affected areas and offer Red Cross assistance. Both Red Cross volunteers stopped at over 70 homes in the southeast part of Omaha and later in the Woodcliff and Fox Run housing developments, southwest of Fremont. Within the affected areas, there were pockets with even more severe damage.

Osten, who is a fireman with the Carroll Volunteer Fire Department, ended up also helping with a couple of fires in Omaha on Tuesday night. One fire was at an apartment complex and the other was a single family house fire.

The shelter that the Witkowskis were in charge of was in the Ralston Fire Department facility. Besides offering assistance, they also answered many phone calls.

On Wednesday, the four volunteers conducted property damage assessments in southwest Fremont. The Witkowskis noted that some of the damage to homes in this area was extensive with hail damage on the west and north sides of houses and glass embedded everywhere.

The group returned home to the Wayne area on Thursday. Following are some comments about Red Cross from several of the volunteers:

"I was impressed by how much the Red Cross did," Ann Witkowski said. "This was a good first experience for me. I was also amazed at the people we offered assistance to. Even though some had nothing left, they refused help and asked us to give donations to others."

"I feel the same," John Witkowski said. "I was impressed with how broad of a reach the Red Cross has and their capability of helping. I also saw how much money it takes to run the organization. No one else does what the Red Cross does; they certainly fill a need in times of disaster."

"I think the Red Cross did an outstanding job for the few people they had helping," Osten said. "Red Cross volunteers I saw were really getting tired after 18 hour days. They did an excellent job. People we talked to in the damaged homes were impressed too. The Red Cross covered a broad region."

It took a team effort to do what the Red Cross did after the storm in Omaha. They provided more than 13,000 meals and snacks to those in need and more than 500 people visited or stayed at their two shelters or their respite center. They also visited more than 180 homes to provide case work.

The local Red Cross (NE Nebraska Chapter) is needing more volunteers to help with local disaster relief. All disaster training is free and once a responder is trained, they can respond to disasters in neighboring communities, across the state and even throughout the nation if they want - but the basic level training can be obtained through the local chapter. Anyone interested can call 402-375-5209 for more information as the NE Nebraska Chapter is planning to have training later this month.

The Red Cross could also use monetary donations as they have been hit hard lately. Here are the latest figures for the Nebraska storms only: (cost of job: $317,000, raised/pledged to date: $162,997 (as of July 8, 2008), still need to raise: $154,003). This doesn't even include the Iowa floods or anything else happening in the central United States. The last report from Red Cross National, is that there was over $30 million in costs, with about $20 million raised in cash and pledges, but relief efforts are still on-going.

All American Red Cross disaster assistance is free, made possible by voluntary donations of time and money from the American people. You can help the victims of thousands of disasters across the country each year by making a financial gift to the American Red Cross Disaster Relief Fund, which enables the Red Cross to provide shelter, food, counseling and other Assistance to victims of disaster. The American Red Cross honors donor intent. If you wish to designate to a specific disaster, please do so at the time of your donation. Contributions to the Disaster Relief Fund may be sent to The Northeast

Nebraska Chapter of the American Red Cross, P. O. Box 94, Wayne, Neb. 68787. Internet users can make a secure online contribution by visiting www.redcross.org.

POW/MIA memorial display case dedicated

By Lynn Sievers
Of the Herald

During this year's alumni banquet in Laurel, a POW/MIA memorial was dedicated by the Laurel-Concord High School Class of 1958 to their fallen classmate, Don Grella.

In 1965, Grella, 25, was in his second tour in the Army in Vietnam and assigned to the 229th Attack Helicopter Company, part of the 1st Cavalry Division of the U.S. 7th Army Special Forces Group when his helicopter went down. The memorial is in the Laurel Community Learning Center in Laurel, which is open to the public.

Bob Dickey of Laurel, a member of the Class of '58 and a Vietnam Vet, thought of the idea of the display case memorial after seeing a similar one at the airport in Sioux City, Iowa. Dickey asked Scott Stanton of Laurel, a Desert Storm Vet, to help him make a replica of the case which holds several symbols.

Inside the display case is a small table set for one, which symbolizes the frailty of one prisoner, alone against his or her suppressors, a white tablecloth, which is symbolic of the purity of their intentions to respond to their country's call to arms, a single red rose in a vase, which signifies the blood that many have shed in sacrifice to ensure the freedom of our beloved United States of America. The rose also reminds us of the family and friends of our missing comrades who keep the faith, while awaiting their return.

Above, Bob Dickey of Laurel stands by the POW/MIA memorial display case that he and Scott Stanton of Laurel made. The memorial was dedicated by the Laurel-Concord High School Class of 1958 to their classmate, Don Grella. Below is a close-up of the symbols inside the display case.

There is a yellow ribbon on the vase in the display case which represents the yellow ribbons worn on the lapels of the thousands who demand with unyielding determination a proper accounting of our comrades who are not among us, a slice of lemon on the plate reminds us of their bitter fate, salt sprinkled on the plate reminds of the countless fallen tears of families as they wait, the glass is inverted, as they cannot join in a toast, the chair is empty - they are not here and the candle is reminiscent of the light of hope which lives in our hearts to illuminate their way home, away from their captors, to the open arms of a grateful nation.

Also in the case is a photograph of Don Grella and the last two letters he wrote to his mother, Alberta Sutton - the last being written on Christmas, 1965, three days before he went missing. The photo and the letters were supplied by Shirley Haase, who was unable to attend the dedication ceremony in Laurel. Haase is a member of a POW/MIA organization that annually visits the defense department to continue to find out what happened at the crash site and to see if recovery efforts are progressing.

Dickey's brother, Bill Dickey of Wayne, video taped the dedication ceremony and gave the Haases' a CD of the event.

Funding for the memorial was from the Class of '58, Laurel Veterans Club, Laurel-Concord Alumni Association and Ron and Shirley (Grella) Haase of Omaha (Don's sister).

Reflecting on his fellow classmate, "I appreciate the fact that Don not only served his country once but served it twice," Dickey said.

Anyone with questions can contact Dickey at 402-256-3841 or 402-640-0686.

Kindergarten teacher hired at St. Mary's Elementary

"I've always wanted to be a teacher so decided to try," said Gail Hochstein, who has recently been hired as a kindergarten teacher at St. Mary's Elementary School in Wayne.

Hochstein earned her Bachelors degree in Elementary Education from Wayne State College in May of 2007. During the 2007-08 school year she did substitute teaching in pre-kindergarten through high school at area schools and did some long-term substitute teaching at St. Mary's.

Her family includes her husband, Roger, who is the director of Security at Wayne State College; three daughters, Tonja and Jeremy Graves of Colorado Springs, Colo., Amanda and Jason Zulkosky, also of Colorado Springs, Colo. and Nicole and Kevin Addison of Lincoln. She also has four grandchildren.

Claussen reflects on being a lifeguard at the U.S. Olympic Swim Trials

By Lynn Sievers
Of the Herald

Heather Claussen noted being a lifeguard at the Qwest Center in Omaha during the U.S. Olympic Swim Trials, June 29 - July 6, was an experience of a lifetime. Claussen, who is originally from Harlan, Iowa, is married to Matt Claussen of Carroll. She is manager of the swimming pool in Wayne and starting in August, will be working at the American Red Cross office in Norfolk.

While it was thrilling to watch world and American records broken, her daily schedule of 12-14 hour shifts was not easy. "There were two to three guards taking turns every 20 minutes watching the warm-up and competition pools," Claussen said.

She added that the lifeguards were on duty for the safety of the swimmers as deck marshalls made decisions on warm ups, sprints, different starts, etc.

Security measures in the Qwest Center were at an all time high.

"Security was real tight," Claussen said. "We had to wear a pass with our name, position and credentials on at all times and it was checked regularly. The pass was color coded for the different places in the facility." "Plus, bags were checked going in and out of the building. Once, police with dogs were present in the building on a search. I'm not sure what that was about but with 14,000 people in one place, they had to be careful."

As for the swimmers, there were probably several hundred swimmers from all over the U.S. There were the qualifying top 100 swimmers in each category and some were in multiple races. The preliminaries were first, then semi-finals and finals. Some races were long, such as the 1500 mens' free style which had 10 meets, each 10-15 minutes or really short, as the mens and womens' 53 free style, which lasts only about 25 seconds each.

A couple of Claussen's favorite memories included seeing the swimmers up close, especially Michael Phelps who is tall on television but taller in person. And, being at the Qwest Center during the recent tornado warning and damage in Omaha.

"It amazed me that people who were not from the Midwest didn't know what a tornado was," Claussen said. "They would ask what the time frame was on the storm and I told them it was the weather, who knows? Their schedules are so rigid. It was funny to listen to them."

While the majority of the lifeguards were from Omaha, some were from Iowa, Missouri and Nebraska.

Claussen has been a lifeguard since she was 15 years old and an EMT with the Carroll Rescue Squad for the past two years. She was a school teacher for four years, most recently at Coleridge Public Schools. She is a graduate of Wayne State College.

Claussen ended by saying that any time you can see a high, superior athlete perform in person, it is completely amazing!

Afternoon activities include the live chicken flying contest, egg toss, racing pyramid egg contest, best chicken legs, hard-boiled egg eating contest and the always-popular egg drop/catch.

This year's National Cluck Off will include three categories, 13 years of age and under, 14 years of age and older and professionals. Prize money of $400 will be awarded to the winners.

A number of 'cluck-tibles' are also available this year, including the Chicken Show t-shirt, a chicken leg hat, bells, postcards, keychains and koozies. They will be available for sale both Friday evening on Main Street and Saturday at Bressler Park.

In its early history, the Chicken Show ended with the above activities. However, in recent years organizers have been scratching out new ideas to make the event a weekend-long one.

Saturday night a street dance will be held in the Riley's/ Final Touch parking lot on South Main Street. Music will begin at 7 p.m. and will be provided by Eric (Vito) Cole, Cactus Flats and Leafy Spurge. Those attending will receive a discount on admission with an advanced koozie purchase.

On Sunday an airport fly-in will be sponsored by the Wayne Airport Authority, Becker Aircraft Maintenance and the Nebraska Council on Aviation.

Brunch will be served at the airport from 8 a.m. to noon.

A "Crowing Motors" Car Show is scheduled from 8 a.m. to 2 p.m. All vehicles are welcome to take part and prizes will be awarded on spectator vote.

The finale of this year's Chicken Show will be the Last Cluck Poker Run. Registration begins at 10:30 a.m. at the Wayne Airport, with the last bike/car out by noon. Prizes will be awarded at the White Dog Pub at 5 p.m.

Anyone still wishing to be volunteer for any of the activities is asked to contact the WAEDI office.

Swimmers, to your marks...

The Wayne Kiwanis Club helped sponsor Monday's swim meet at the Wayne Municipal Pool. Kiwanis members assisted with timing of the events and served in several other areas. The Kiwanis Club annually assists with a swim meet in the club's motto of "Young Children, Priority One." Several other Kiwanis-sponsored youth events are scheduled for later this month.

Q125 committee holds meeting

By Lynn Sievers
Of the Herald

The Q125 committee held a meeting in the south room of the Wayne Auditorium on Tuesday night. Committee members discussed a number of items.

Jane O'Leary reported on applying for grants for the Q125 and that it might be better to apply for several rather than just one. She noted she will look into that possibility. Nebraska Tourism grants were suggested and it was stated they are more for promotion of events. It was also suggested that the Nebraska Humanities Council may be able to help.

Committee members defined what fundraising costs are needed for which includes auditorium rent for several activities, Q125 promotion costs (advertising, etc.), postage, and more.

Some discussion centered around a birthday cake for the City of Wayne. Marie Mohr had a drawing of how 125 cakes could be placed on tables to resemble patchwork quilts. O'Leary thought nominating 125 people to light the candles on the cakes would be a good idea. It was confirmed that the birthday party would be on Monday, Feb. 2, which is the incorporation date of Wayne.

It was suggested there be a mayor proclamation read at the town birthday party, attendees wear costumes and that Mad Anthony Wayne should make a visit (or someone impersonating him). It was also stated that might be a great night for a skit. Irene Fletcher said that since that would be the first event, a skit would be great to set the year. It was noted that Ron Lofgren is revamping the play from the Wayne Centennial so perhaps that could be the skit.

It was also noted that having each class at the Wayne schools learn an old song and perform was an idea for entertainment.

Mohr suggested that research on the businesses in town, which would include ownership and purpose of the buildings through the years, might be a good idea. She said the finished result could be displayed on the business windows so people could stop by and read the historical facts. It was stated the local Questers organization has been conducting research on Wayne and that maybe they would take on this project.

A garden/flower tour was mentioned and that Friends of the Museum were talking about putting that together. Mohr offered to help with the event.

Ken Liska spoke about having a Spirit Walk in Wayne and said he and Steve Gross attended the recent Niobrara Cemetery Walk which was good and they got some ideas. He noted Gross and Lou Wiltsie would be in charge of the Spirit Walk.

Promo items were discussed; one item was bumper stickers with Wayne Q125 and a website printed on them. It was decided "clings" were more up-to-date than bumper stickers. It was stated perhaps the banks could put some Q125 info on the marquees occasionally and also businesses could add the website to their statements to spread the word of the upcoming event. Another suggestion for a promo item was baseball caps.

Mohr suggested a schedule of events is needed; especially for Labor Day, 2009. Several events slated for that weekend were discussed, such as the ladies luncheon and style show, arts festival, parade, BBQ cooking contest, etc. It was also noted churches need to be contacted for Sunday services events.

Other activities mentioned included a car show, antique tractor pull and waterfight. It was suggested that maybe some of the activities could be held during the Wayne County Fair. Liska offered to look into this idea. It was also stated a schedule of events and time slots should be prepared and O'Leary offered to help with that project.

Pat Cook noted the Wayne Lions Club may be interested in helping with a Chautauqua, especially if youth are involved. She added if there is a chautauqua, it has to be in June, about two weeks before the Chicken Show.

Jan Magnuson suggested holding a cake walk. She reminisced about past cake walks that Hahn School used to have and thought it would be fun to plan one for 2009. It was noted that maybe following the town birthday party or the BBQ may be a good time to have one.

Another event idea was having a tug of war. Tom Cook said a tug of war had been an Olympic event until 1920.

The next meeting of the Q125 committee will be on Tuesday, July 22 at 7 p.m. at the auditorium in Wayne. The public is welcome to attend. More members are needed.

which fit in almost any fixture.

On average, each CFL can save more than 430 in electricity costs over the lifetime of the bulb. In addition, they last six to 16 times longer than standard incandescent bulbs while using 70 to 75 percent less energy.

When you realize that nearly one-fifth of the energy used in your home is for lighting, the savings can really add up.

If all of us started using more CFLs, we could make a dramatic difference. In fact if every American home replaced just one light bulb or fixture with an ENERGY STAR® qualified CFL, we could save enough energy to light more than 3 million homes, more than $600 million in energy costs and prevent greenhouse gases equivalent to the emissions of more than 800,000 cars every year," said Gene Hansen, Superintendent of the Wayne Electric Production Department.

Hansen encourages everyone to "switch and make a difference."

NECC's Dr. Path maintains close contact with congressional delegation Northeast Community College President Dr. Bill R. Path continues to maintain close contact with Nebraska's Congressional delegation as he watches funding requests go through the proper channels in Washington.

Recently, Dr. Path was informed by the office of Sen. Ben Nelson that $500,000 for construction costs for the College Center at South Sioux City has been included in the senator's Transportation and Housing and Urban Development subcommittee's Fiscal Year 2009 (FY09) appropriations request. Sen. Nelson also requested another $1,000,000 for equipment for the College Center in his Labor-Health and Human Services-Education subcommittee FY 09 appropriations request.

Additionally, Sen. Nelson requested $594,081 for the University of Nebraska Medical Center (UNMC) College of Nursing Northern Division in his Labor-Health and Human Services-Education subcommittee FY 09 appropriations request.

The college of nursing will be located on the campus of Northeast Community College and house Northeast's basic nurse aide (commonly called certified nurse aide), licensed practical nursing, and associate degree nursing programs and UNMC bachelor's, master's, and doctoral nursing programs. If awarded, the $594,081 will be used for training equipment in the facility.

During the FY 08 budget cycle, Northeast was awarded an earmark of $162,117 for training equipment for the UNMC College of Nursing. Sen. Nelson was an advocate for this appropriations request.

"We continue to appreciate the efforts of our Congressman and Senators in helping us bring these visionary projects to fruition. During this election year, the term 'earmark' has been heard many times," Dr. Path said. "Some of our candidates have spoken very negatively about earmarks."

"I would like to remind people, though, that the earmark is essential in maintaining a balance in our federal appropriations process," Dr. Path continued. "Without the legislative branch's (Congress) ability to earmark appropriations requests, only the executive branch (the president) would be allowed to direct any federal monies."

"I truly wonder if that is what we want," he said. "We all pay taxes in to our federal treasury. And while we must always be mindful not to be wasteful, we also hope to get some of those dollars back for local projects."

"While I am not a history instructor, I doubt very much if the framers of our Constitution wanted to give that sole authority to the executive branch of our government," Dr. Path said.

The proposed College Center in South Sioux City would allow students to take their freshman- and sophomore-level courses from Northeast and then take junior and senior-level or graduate-level courses from Wayne State College, all in the same location in South Sioux City. This proposed center is believed to be the first collaborative effort in higher education between a two- and four-year institution in Nebraska to construct a new jointly owned facility.

Officials from both institutions continue to meet to evaluate building design, possible programming, space requirements, and joint funding efforts for College Center of South Sioux City.

The UNMC Facilities Planning and Construction Department projected the UNMC College of Nursing on Northeast's campus would require 34,973 square feet. The total project cost is estimated at $12,900,000. These funds will be provided by private donors, foundations, and federal appropriations. Northeast Community College will donate the land, valued at $500,000, for the structure.

"It is most important that the federal government partner with us on these initiatives," Dr. Path said. "It has always been very gratifying to me to see that, indeed, our Congressional delegation shares our vision and will do everything it can to help us bring these dream projects to reality."

"We believe in an open and transparent process for requesting federal financial support for these initiatives which are vital for expanding educational opportunities and rural economic development," he concluded.

Wayne dismantles Hogan's Hurricanes 12-4 in finals 14-and-under Dirtdevils crowned 2008 Class B State Champions

By Casey Schroeder

When the Wayne 14-and-under girls' softball team left town last week they had dreams of returning home with a State Championship. Unbeknownst to Wayne (33-7) that dream would come true nearly two days later after they defeated the Hogan's Hurricanes of Kearney 12-4 in the Championship game of the 2008 Class B State Softball

Tournament in Hastings, Neb. "Over the course of two days the girls played extremely well offensively and defensively," Wayne 14-and-under coach Rachel Robbins said. "They showed a lot of heart to come away with the Class B State title." Wayne kicked-off their title run with a 3-1 win over the Titan Twisters on July 5. Elle Schramm, Caitlin Fehringer and Kristin Carroll paced the the Dirtdevils' offense with one hit each, while Fehringer and Carroll both recorded runs in the win. Carroll opened things up for Wayne on the pitcher's mound as she allowed just two hits while striking out 13 in seven innings of work.

Following the Dirtdevils' win over the Twisters, Wayne claimed their second win of the day as they shutout McCook 6-0.

Caitlin Fehringer led the Dirtdevils in the win with a pair of hits and runs scored while Schramm added two hits and a run.

Carroll pitched her second complete game of the day and was tagged with the win as she struck-out 11 while allowing just two hits in seven innings of work.

With two wins on the day, Wayne closed out Saturday with a 2-0 victory over the Hogan's Hurricanes.

Megan Hoffart and Fehringer stole the win from the Hurricanes with two hits each that was further highlighted by their two runs scored.

In addition to Hoffart and Fehringer, Tia Jech, Megan Bessmer and Carroll all added one hit each in the win.

Carroll again recorded the win from the pitcher's mound as she saw seven innings of work where she gave up three hits while striking out nine.

"This was one of the best all-around games we played all year,"

Wayne 14-and-under coach Rachel Robbins said.

With few obstacles standing in the Dirtdevils' way, Wayne returned to action on Sunday where they extinguished the Beatrice Flames 5-3.

The Dirtdevils were led to the win by the solid offensive performance of Hoffart who had one hit and a lone score in the win.

Aside from Hoffart, Schramm and Caitlin Fehringer also found success on offense as both contributed one hit and run.

Carroll improved to 4-0 from the mound as she struckout five while allowing only six hits.

With the win over Beatrice, Wayne advanced to the Championships where they lost a 3-0 decision to the Hogan's Hurricanes.

Carroll and Fehringer attempted to spark the Dirtdevils' offense while at bat, but failed as they only posted one hit each in the loss.

While the Dirtdevils dropped their second game to the Hurricanes, the third installment of what turned out to be a marquee matchup saw Wayne come out on top 12-4.

Gamble assisted Wayne to the eventual win with two hits and a pair of runs scored while Caitlin and Carissa Fehringer both added a hit and two runs.

Carroll was tagged with the pitching win even though she allowed six hits while striking out only two in six innings of work.

Blue Ponys use recent mark of 6-1 to improve overall record to 19-7

By Casey Schroeder

The Wayne Blue Ponys' continued to build upon an already successful season as they swept the Wayne White Ponys' in a double-header at Hank Overin Field on June 28.

In game one the Blue Ponys' used pitcher Alex Onnen to down the White Ponys' 11-1.

Trent Beza led the Ponys' offense with two hits and a pair of RBI's while Trevor Beza and Onnen both had two hits in the win.

Following game one, Wayne returned to action and picked up a 7-3 win over the White Ponys'.

Drew Carroll earned the pitching win, while Trent Beza led Wayne from home plate with a trio of hits and was further complimented by base hits from Frank Bernal, Brady Soden and Tony Sinniger.

With two wins on the week, Wayne kept the momentum going as they hit the road and posted wins of 15-1 and 13-1 over the Norfolk VFW on June 25.

After a couple days of rest the Blue Ponys' resumed play only to go 1-1 at the Wakefield Mid-Summer Classic on June 28.

In Saturday's debut, Wayne saw Onnen pitch four shutout innings to earn the 11-2 win over Stanton.

Aiding Onnen in the victory was Keegan Dorcey who led the team offensively with two hits and a run scored while Soden contributed a double, run scored and an RBI.

Following the win over Stanton, Wayne failed to keep the bats hot in game two as they fell to Ponca 11-6.

Despite the loss to Ponca, Wayne returned to top form on June 30 as they traveled to Crofton, Neb., and earned back-to-back wins.

Bernal led Wayne to a 12-0 win in game one with a performance that included three hits, four RBI's and a pitching win.

While Bernal guided the Ponys' to their first victory over Crofton, it was the duo of Soden and Carroll who propelled Wayne to a 8-2 win over Crofton in game two.

By Casey Schroeder

After going 6-1 in the first seven rounds of the 2008 Class B State Softball Tournament in Hastings, Neb., the 12-and-under Dirtdevils needed just one thing in order to return to Wayne with a State Championship; a win.

However, instead of a win Wayne (36-13) was dealt out a 4-2 loss by the North Platte Jr. Belles on July 7.

"It was a real team effort," Wayne 12-and-under coach Laura Gamble said. "The girls never gave up."

Prior to the Dirtdevils' loss to the Jr. Belles, Wayne had few problems in recording the first of many wins as they were awarded a win by the Lincoln Rockets-Grey who failed to show up.

Following Wayne's forfeited win over Lincoln, the Dirtdevils returned to work on Saturday and defeated the 'Lil Cats 8-1.

Amanda Hurlbert highlighted the Dirtdevils' offense with a home run and was assisted by Alexis Owen and Rachel Waddington who both singled in the win.

Kendall Gamble pitched a complete game for Wayne and was tagged with the win as she allowed only two walks while striking out 10.

With the win over the 'Lil Cats, Wayne returned to action Saturday afternoon and posted a 4-1 win over St. Paul.

Jalyn Zeiss led Wayne in hitting with one hit while all of the Dirtdevils' scores came as a result of walks.

Gamble earned her second consecutive pitching win as she struck out 7 while giving up only one hit and two walks.

After a great 2-0 start, Wayne closed out Saturday's tournament play with a 2-0 loss to the Jr. Belles.

Wayne's offensive leaders included Emily Leeper and Hurlbert who both posted lone hits in the loss.

Gamble was tagged with the loss as she gave up two hits and a walk while striking out six.

With the loss, Wayne fell into the loser's bracket, but failed to give up as they opened Sunday with 10-1 win over the Grand Island Flames.

Leeper led Wayne from the batter's box with a single and a double while Zeiss contributed a solo hit in the win.

Gamble recorded the pitching win for Wayne as she struckout four while allowing just one walk and two hits in four innings of work.

With the win over Grand Island,

Wayne continued to build upon their freshly established momentum as they downed Wahoo 16-0.

Leeper again led Wayne in hitting as she recorded a triple while Lauren Gilliland and Hurlbert both singled.

Gamble and McKenna Gibson split time on the pitcher's mound and preserved the shutout as the two combined for four strikeouts while allowing just one hit in five innings of work.

With double digit scores becoming a reoccurring pattern, Wayne picked up their second win of the day as they defeated the Blair Dirtdevils 14-3.

Zeiss paved the way for Wayne with a triple and two singles and was assisted by Gibson and Hurlbert who both added a pair solo hits.

Defensively, Wayne used Gibson and Gamble to earn the five inning win as the duo only allowed two walks and run while striking out five.

Following Wayne's thumping of Blair, the Dirtdevils took center stage in the Championship game and fell to the Jr. Belles 4-2.

Ashton Schweers shined in the loss for the Dirtdevils with a one hit and a score while Victoria Kranz and Gilliland both singled.

Gamble took the pitching loss, as she struckout four batters while allowing three walks and two hits in five innings of work.

White Ponys' drop Norfolk VFW like a bad habit

The Wayne White Ponys' traveled to Norfolk on July 1 and swept the Norfolk VFW in a pair of games.

In Tuesday's opener, Wayne won 19-2 behind the strong pitching performance of Eric Schoh.

Offensively, Wayne was led by Bradley Longe who had a single and a double while Ezra Broderson, Ben Braun and James Ping each soloed.

Following game one, Wayne kept on pace as they used pitcher Ben Braun to grab the 14-6 win over the Norfolk VFW.

Leading Wayne at the plate was Braun and Steven Sherman who each had a single and a double in the victory.

In addition to Braun and Sherman, Tyler Robinson, Ramsey Jorgensen and Longe all contributed a single in the win.

After sweeping Norfolk, Wayne returned to the road on July 3 and split a pair of games against Ponca.

The Ponys' won the first game of the night 16-1 under the guidance of Robinson who struckout 11 batters.

Broderson, Robinson and Jorgensen highlighted the Ponys' offense with two hits each while Andy Scholl added an additional solo in the win.

After getting off to a great start, Wayne saw game two slip away from them as they lost 5-4 with Broderson taking the loss on the mound.

Wayne was led at the plate by Sherman with two hits while Broderson and Braun each singled in the loss.

Wayne 10-and-under girls slide past West Point III in 9-8 win

By Casey Schroeder

The Wayne 10-and-under girls' softball team wrapped up regular season action with a 9-8 road win over West Point III on July 1.

The State bound Dirtdevils were led to the win through the dynamic offensive play of Tarah Stegemann who had a trio of hits, runs scored and RBIs.

Rachel Rauner was tagged with the pitching win for Wayne, despite the fact that she allowed seven hits, two walks and eight runs while only striking out eight in five innings of work.

Prior to Wayne's narrow win over West Point III, the Dirtdevils tamed the Stanton Mustangs in a Tuesday night doubleheader at the Wayne Softball Complex on June 30.

In Tuesday night's opener, Wayne defeated Stanton 12-2.

Rauner led Wayne from home plate with two doubles and three runs scored while teammate McKenzie Rusk added two hits and a pair of scores.

In addition to her efforts on offense, Rauner shined on defense as she struckout seven while allowing just one hit, two walks and a pair of runs in three innings of pitching.

Following Wayne's opening win over Stanton, the Dirtdevils returned to action and dealt the Mustangs a 15-4 loss in game two.

Jenessa Kardell paced the Dirtdevils on offense with two hits, a pair of runs scored and a lone RBI.

Defensively, the Dirtdevils saw Rauner and Stegemann split time on the mound where the two combined for eight strikeouts while allowing just six walks and four earned runs.

Wayne (24-8) will return to action on Friday, July 11 at 6:30 p.m. when they travel to Hastings, Neb., for the first round of the 2008 Class C State Softball Tournament.

No answer for Juniors in 11-7 loss to Wakefield in Chuck Ellis Championship

By Casey Schroeder

The Wayne Junior baseball team wrapped up Chuck Ellis Tournament action with a 11-7 loss to Wakefield on July 3.

While Wayne entered the contest with a 13-8 overall record, Wakefield proved to be too much for the Juniors as they used an early 9-4 lead over the Juniors to record the win.

Offensively, Derek Poutre shined in the loss with three hits and two runs while teammates Taylor Carroll and Jacob Paustian both added a hit and run scored.

On defense, Poutre earned the pitching loss as he worked six innings where he allowed eight hits, six walks and four earned runs.

Listed below are the statistics from Thursday's nights Chuck Ellis Championship game in Wakefield.

ASK THE TRAINER

"I have weak knees and want to know what the best exercises to help strengthen them are?"

Many people question what exercise is the "best" at strengthening a certain muscle. There really aren't any exercises that are the "best" because each exercise has its limitations. The best approach is to use multiple exercises, which challenge the body's many movements.

If the knee is the weak point, initially one would have to know why the knee is weak. I will assume for this answer that there are no injuries present to the tendons, ligaments, bone structure, or muscles involved with the knee. If no injury is present and weakness is the problem, I would suggest starting slowly with closed-chain multiple joint exercises such as the squat, leg press, lunge, and dead-lift. These exercises work the knees and hips together to improve total lower body function. A mistake people often make when wanting to improve strength in a specific area is to do too many isolation movements. In this case avoid doing too many knee extensions and curls and instead train muscle groups together for the greatest gains.

The exercises I have mentioned are strenuous and take time to master proper technique, so to avoid injury seek help from a certified personal trainer and as always check with your physician before beginning any exercise program.

Wayne Blue Little League stun Norfolk VFW

By Casey Schroeder

The Wayne Blue Little League baseball team improved to 14-0 overall and 7-0 in league standings following a two-game sweep of Norfolk VFW on July 1.

In the first game of the Tuesday night doubleheader Wayne Blue shutout Norfolk 11-0.

Curtis Moeller led Wayne offensively with three base hits while Jalen Barry and Kaje Maly both contributed two hits each in the win.

On defense, Barry shined with a 10 strikeout performance that was further highlighted by not allowing a single hit.

With one win on the night, Wayne continued their success as they downed Norfolk 14-4 in game two.

Guiding Wayne to the double-digit win was Dylan Sokol, Aaron Bernal and Barry with three hits a piece.

In addition to a strong offensive showing, Wayne saw Jacob Lutt, Tyler Schoh, Maly, Sokol and Moeller combine for the defensive win as they allowed only four hits (two by error) and several walks.

18-and-under Dirtdevils grab fourth place honors at State Softball despite 4-2 finish

By Casey Schroeder
With an overall record of 18-9, there may have been some doubts as to how the Wayne 18-and-under girls' softball team would fair at this year's Class B State Softball Tournament in Lexington, Neb., on July 4-6.

However, when the dust settled upon the conclusion of the Dirtdevils' 0-5 loss to Lakeview on Sunday there were few doubts left as Wayne used a tournament record of 4-2, to nab fourth place honors.

"The girls played hard all weekend, it was a great tournament," Wayne 18-and-under coach Jean Pieper said.

The Dirtdevils opened round one of the State Tournament on July 4 with a 3-0 win over the Cozad Classics.

Alesha Finkey led Wayne to the offensive win with two hits and a lone score while teammates Caitlin Gustafson, Michelle Jarvi and Andrea Pieper all added one hit each.

Mirisa Carroll (15-8) was tagged with the pitching win as she gave up just one hit and three walks while striking out 10 in seven innings of work.

Following the Dirtdevils' opening win, Wayne saw game two slide away from them as they were downed 3-2 by the Seward Jazz on July 5. Offensively, Wayne saw Carroll post two hits and a score in the loss while Maddy Moser added an additional hit and run scored.

Carroll earned the loss from the pitcher's mound as she allowed five hits, two walks and a pair of earned runs while striking out three in seven innings of play.

Following the Dirtdevils' loss to Seward, Wayne sluggishly bounced back in game three with a 2-1 win over the Gothenburg Blues.

Finkey rallied the Dirtdevils' offense with two hits and score and was further assisted by Carroll and Moser who both added two hits and an RBI in the win.

Defensively, Carroll earned the pitching win for Wayne as she struckout four batters while allowing four hits, two walks and a earned run in seven innings of work.

After going 1-1 on Saturday, Wayne opened Sunday's tournament action with a win over the Hogan's Rage of Kearney.

Jarvi led Wayne to the win in the bottom of the eighth inning with a lone hit that saw two Dirtdevil baserunners return home for the 3-2 win.

In addition to Jarvi, Carroll preserved the win for Wayne from atop the mound as she struckout six Rage batters in eight innings of work. Following the Dirtdevils win over Kearney, Wayne returned to action and handed out a 8-3 loss to the Milford Express.

Wayne's Alesha Finkey propelled the Dirtdevils to a 4-2 finish with nine hits and five scored runs.

Finkey highlighted the Dirtdevils on offense with three hits and a pair of runs while Rethwisch and Gustafson added a trio of hits and one run each in the win.

Carroll was tagged with the pitching win as she allowed seven hits, two walks and three earned runs while striking out seven.

Despite Wayne's three-game win streak the Dirtdevils saw their season come to a close on Sunday afternoon with a 0-5 loss to Lakeview.

Gustafson led Wayne in hitting with two hits and was aided by Rethwisch, Jarvi and Carroll who all added an additional hit in the loss.

Carroll dropped to 18-10 on the season following a seven inning performance where she managed only three strikeouts while giving up seven hits and four earned runs.

Daniel Muran to kick for Warriors in '08 campaign

Midland Lutheran College offensive coordinator Kelley Lee on July 3 announced that Daniel Muran of Wayne recently signed a letter of intent to attend and play football for MLC in the fall of 2008.

Muran, who is a 2008 graduate of Wayne High School will be competing for starting kicking duties for the Warriors who finished the 2007 season with an overall record of 2-8. "We think Daniel has a very strong leg and a ton of potential. Having only kicked for one season, he has a great upside."

Midland Lutheran College is a NAIA School located in Fremont, Neb., and is a member of the 13-team Great Plains Athletic Conference (GPAC).

16-and-under Dirtdevils' run at State title ended in 4-2 loss to Lincoln Lightning and was tagged with the win as she gave up six hits while striking out seven.

Jordan Alexander provided two hits in the Dirtdevils 1-2 finish at the Class B State Championships.

Despite the Dirtdevils' success story against Ogallala, Wayne returned to action on Saturday only to be dealt a 6-1 loss by the Wahoo Rage.

"Wahoo was very solid, but you can not give extra outs to a good team like we did," Wall said.

Bayli Ellis and Jarvi led Wayne offensively, as Ellis posted a two hit effort that included a double and triple while Jarvi was the lone scorer for the Dirtdevils.

Jarvi earned the loss from the pitcher's mound as she allowed three hits and a walk while striking out seven in five innings of work.

Following Wayne's loss to Wahoo, the Dirtdevils failed to bounce back as they closed out Saturday with a 4-2 loss to the Lincoln Lightning.

"We actually hit the ball well, just right at people," Wall said. "We competed hard in this game, but things just didn't work out for us."

Jarvi directed the Dirtdevils' offense with a pair of hits while Katie Stoltenberg and Calhoun were the lone scorers for Wayne in the loss.

In addition to her two hits, Jarvi was credited with the pitching loss as she allowed just one hit, four earned runs and six walks while striking out 10 in six innings of work.

Cornhusker State Games opening ceremonies are set to be July 18

Ex-Husker High Jumper Dusty Jonas, who qualified for the Olympic Games Saturday, will get a first-rate Nebraska sendoff at the Cornhusker State Games Opening Ceremonies on July 18 as he leads athletes in the CSG Oath.

Jonas' appearance is just part of an action-packed evening of entertainment, including skydivers, fireworks, the cauldron-lighting by a mystery athlete and a motorcycle performance by former World Trials Champion Tommi Ahvala.

The Opening Ceremonies is held at Seacrest Field, 7600 A St., in Lincoln beginning at 8 p.m. and is

Area riders compete in State Mountain Bike Championships

The 2008 USA Cycling Nebraska State Mountain Bike Championships were held on June 21 on the trails at Ponca State Park. The race course at Ponca was chosen as the site of the 2008 Championship due to the trails there being some of the more difficult trails in Nebraska, if not the region.

Stanton residents John and Jim Weiland took first and second, respectively, in the Beginner Open category. Wayne resident Tim Powell, riding for Norfolk's Elkhorn Valley Cycling powered by Monster team, took eight in a very competitive Sport Men's 45+ class. Norfolk's Jon Downey also competed in this class.

Students will learn how to improve their digital or scanned photos in a one-session class planned by Northeast Community College in West Point.

The one-session class, Digital Photo Editing, with course number DP 0300-31/08F, meets Wednesday, July 23, from 6:30-9:30 p.m. at the new West Point Education Center, 202 Anna Stalp Avenue.

Cost of this one-session class is $10.

To register, call Northeast Community College in West Point at (402)372-2269.

preceded by SportFest, the pre-Opening Ceremonies dinner and games. Admission is free for registered athletes and kids 12 & under. The cost is $5 at the gate for all others.

The Ceremonies begin with the parade of athletes, led by NASA astronaut Clayton Anderson, an Ashland native who spent five months on the International Space Station beginning June 8, 2007. During SportFest, Anderson will present a slide show chronicling his amazing journey, which included three spacewalks. Read more at <http://www.jsc.nasa.gov/Bios/htmlbios/anderson-c.html>.

The evening's headliner is motorcyclist Tommi Ahvala, a former World Champion Trials Rider. Ahvala performs aerial and balance maneuvers atop a mechanical mountain. Cycle Connections Magazine describes the exhibition as a series of wheelies (front and back), jumps, vertical climbs, drop-offs, stair-climbs and descents and other amazing feats. Read more at <http://www.cycleconnections.com/articleDetail.asp>.

As usual, skydivers from the Lincoln Sport Parachute Club will be a crowd favorite as will the mascot races, National Guard Chopper fly-in and the fireworks finale. Omaha recording artist Heidi Joy will perform the National Anthem. Joy, who has recorded five solo albums, has become renowned for her stirring rendition of the Anthem and her moving Omaha holiday concerts. Read more at <http://www.heidijoy.com/>.

Of course, as the ceremonies draw to a close, all eyes will be on the cauldron, where the identity of the mystery torchlighter, always a high-profile athlete with Nebraska ties, is revealed. Last year, a pair of noteworthy athletes, UNL Volleyball All-Americans Sarah Pavan and Jordan Larson, did the honors together.

Athletes are encouraged to come early for the SportFest meal, including Arby's Roast Beef Sandwiches, Pepsi beverages, Frito Lay chips and Hyland-Roberts Ice Cream. The Kid Fiddlers headline the main stage in the dining area. The six-piece family band from Salt Lake City features a mom and her five children, ranging in age from 6-17 and performing vocally with traditional blue-grass instruments and clog-dancing. Read more at <http://www.kidfiddlers.com/>.

Before and after dinner, Jonas, Ahvala, Anderson and Miss Nebraska USA Micaela Johnson will meet and greet athletes and guests. Inflatables games and interactive displays, like the Nebraska Game & Parks Commission's mobile archery range, cater to those looking for a hands-on experience.

More than 10,000 Nebraskans are registered for the 2008 Cornhusker State Games, which take place July 19-27 at more than 70 Lincoln venues. Officials expect final numbers to top 11,000 as registration remains open until the event for the cycle tour, fishing, Footstock (5K run/walk), sailing, trap & skeet and volkswalk.

ALUMNI BANQUET

The 102nd annual Winside Alumni Banquet was held May 24 in the Winside Auditorium. The welcome was given by President Tim Jacobsen along with the introduction of the 2008 officers and guests. The invocation was offered by Pastor Timothy Steckling.

The meal was catered by the Branding Iron of Tilden. One hundred seventy-five people were served with $450 raised. Social hour before and after was provided by Samz Bar of Winside. The crowd was entertained after supper by the Winside High music department singing several vocal selections accompanied by Mrs. LeNell Quinn, Vocal Instructor.

Christina Mundil welcomed the six attending members of the honored class of 2008. The twenty-four members of the class of 2008 were announced, which brings the total alumni members to 2065.

The secretary's report was read by Brenda Hokamp and the treasurer's report was read by Justin Bargstadt. Tom Koll read the historian report. No old business was brought up for discussion. Chuck Peter gave an update of the Winside Auditorium renovation. Lorraine Prince gave a brief history of the Winside Scholarship Foundation and the recent recipients. Justin Bargstadt motioned that the Winside Alumni donate $250 to the Winside Scholarship Foundation with a second by Christina Mundil. The motion passed.

Classes ending in "8" were acknowledged and asked to send a representative forward to introduce the attending members. They included: 1898 - no graduates; 1908 - members deceased; 1918 - members deceased; 1928 - no members present; 1938 - no members

Debra Finn attends workshop

Debra Finn, Wayne County Clerk, completed a three-day workshop conducted in Kearney June 18-20 for Nebraska county clerks, election commissioners and registers of deeds.

The annual workshop, attended by approximately 100 county officials and employees, is part of a continuing education and leadership development series sponsored by the Nebraska Association of County Officials.

The workshop updated county officials on recent changes in state laws and provided extensive training on the responsibilities of their respective offices.

present; 1948 - Earl Thies introduced the seven members present; 1958 - Lonnie Behmer introduced the eleven members present; 1968 - Dan Jaeger introduced the seven members present; 1978 - Bill Thomas introduced the fourteen members present; 1988 - Steve Jorgensen introduced the seven members present; 1998 - Jenny Wade introduced the nine members present; 2008 - Ryan Janke introduced the six members present.

Gifts of painted, wooden Wildcats were presented to: Alumni who traveled the furthest - Roger Morris (1958) from California; Alumni who traveled the least - Charlie Jackson (1943) one block; Alumni who wore class ring - Florine Graef (1948); Oldest cheerleader - Lorraine Heier Prince (1955); Oldest football player - Darrell Trautman (1953); Oldest homecoming queen - Shirley Barner Trautman (1953); Oldest homecoming king - Dean Janke (1955); Most children and grandchildren currently attending Winside High - Russell Prince (1955).

New officers for 2009 were announced: President - Max Kant; Vice President - Fritz Weible; Secretary - April Frevert; Treasurer - Corinne Morris; Historian - Jon Jaeger; Decorations - Joanie Roberts.

The raffle winner of a Terry Redlin print donated by Jacobson Therapy Services was Vern Nelson. School songs were sung by all. The evening adjourned with a prayer and benediction offered by Pastor Timothy Steckling.

LEGION AUXILIARY TO MEET

Roy Reed Unit No. 252, American Legion Auxiliary, Winside, will hold its July 14 meeting at the Winside Legion Post at 7:30 p.m. Hostesses for the evening are Bonnie Frevert and Pat Miller. Installation of Unit Officers will be held as well.

The 2009 Membership Campaign is underway and members may send their renewals to Greta Grubbs, Treasurer, PO Box 262, Winside, Neb. 68790-0262. Senior dues are $15 and Junior dues are $3. You may pay now without a notice. National will not be sending notices out until Sept. 1. Junior members do not receive a notice, so please consider this your notice.

Any female relative of a Veteran having served during World Wars I and II, Korea, Vietnam, Granada, Panama, Lebanon and the current Gulf War (Iraq and Afghanistan) are eligible for membership. This could be the mother, sister, wife, daughter, granddaughter, great-granddaughter or grandmother of the Veteran, as well as step-relatives. Female veterans may have dual memberships in The American Legion and Auxiliary. Female family members may join if the Veteran of eligibility is still living and also a member of an American Legion Post. However, if their veteran of eligibility is deceased, the female family members may join the Auxiliary even though the Veteran of eligibility was not a member of The American Legion during his/her lifetime. There are many in the Winside/Hoskins community who are eligible and they would certainly welcome your membership. There is always room for more volunteers.

The Unit is aging and they would like to invite new members to join to bring in new ideas and talents. Anyone interested may attend any of their meetings, which are held the second Mopday of each month at 7:30 p.m. at the Legion Post. They would love to have you join. They hold one fundraiser each Memorial Day with their dinner and proceeds are used to fund Cornhusker Girls State, Poppy Poster Contest, many projects and events for the Norfolk Veterans Home and the VA Medical Center in Omaha. They are very proud of our Poppy Day Distributions in the communities of Hoskins and Winside and the generosity of the public to this program.

The Memorial Poppy is handmade by Veterans at the Veterans Homes or their own homes. All proceeds go back into the program for purchase of supplies for the Veterans to make the Poppy and to pay the Veterans for making the Poppy. The Unit purchases between 1,000 and 1,400 small poppies each year to make Poppy wreaths for all the Veterans' graves at the cemeteries our local Legion Honor Guard visit on Memorial Day. So you can see, more members are needed to assist in planning and carrying out the Memorial Day dinner and Poppy Distribution Day and to plan for the many other programs the Unit is involved in.

Once again, the Nebraska American Legion Auxiliary will be selling new subscriptions to the "Nebraska Life" magazine for the Permanent Membership Fund. This year we will partner with the Sons of the American Legion in this effort with both groups sharing in the proceeds. The Sons portion will be going to the American Legion Legacy Scholarship fund. This campaign will be conducted from Feb. 1 through May 31, 2009.

Junior members of Unit 252 will not meet until September but are welcome to attend any of the Senior meetings until then.

Mike Delaney, president of the Raccoon River Watershed Association (RRWA), presents a research grant to BVU senior Todd Wical. Also in the photo are RRWA board members Pete Harris and Dr. Melinda Coogan, who is assistant professor of biology at BVU and Todd's faculty advisor on this research project.

Raccoon River Watershed Group awards grant to Todd Wical

Todd Wical, a Buena Vista University (BVU) senior from Wayne, has been awarded a grant from the Raccoon River Watershed Association (RRWA) to expand his research on the impact of pollution in tributaries of the river.

Todd, a biology major with minors in chemistry, psychology and general science, began his research in the fall 2007 semester in a class taught by Dr. Melinda Coogan, assistant professor of biology. His project focused on the environmental impact of Outlet Creek, a Raccoon River tributary that originates at Storm Lake.

He was invited to present his findings from that research at the annual meeting of the Society of Wetland Scientists International Conference in Washington, D.C. in May, an event that is typically a venue for presentations by graduate students.

The RRWA, with the help of IOWATER (Iowa's volunteer water quality monitoring program), organized water quality snapshots over the past two years and concluded that the Raccoon River is impaired and that the life in the river is threatened, says Mike Delaney, Des Moines, RRWA president.

"We are currently encouraging IOWATER and others to focus attention upon the relationship between water chemistry and the health of the macro-invertebrates, mollusks and fish in the river," says Delaney. "Todd's work fits in perfectly with our interests. The RRWA decided in 2007 to award research grants and Todd's is the first."

The $1,500 RRWA grant will enable Todd to begin work this summer and into the fall to expand on the experimental design work he started with the Outlet Creek study to other tributaries along the Raccoon River. He will also be working on an odonate and mollusk census using GPS coordinates as he travels within Buena Vista County. He plans to present his findings to the RRWA Board in December.

"I feel exceedingly honored to have received this first-ever research grant awarded by the RRWA. Being a part of the RRWA has allowed me to develop many relationships with people concerned about watershed health," Todd said. "Dr. Brian McGarvey, an RRWA board member, graciously took me up in his personal aircraft to take aerial photos and gain a better understanding of what Outlet Creek looks like. These photos were used for my Washington, D.C. presentation."

"With this grant I would only expect these types of relationships to continue to develop. I am using the grant to extend my research beyond Outlet Creek and into the entire Raccoon River watershed. I hope to gain a better understanding of the nutrient and E. coli levels in each of the sub-basins of the watershed with the idea of being able to better focus remediation efforts. These data will also serve as baseline information for future research being done on the watershed."

This summer, funded by a BVU research grant, Todd is also developing a computer modeling program that could assist in projecting seasonal nutrient input variations along Outlet Creek. He will be meeting with an Iowa State University scientist who has developed a computer modeling program and has invited Todd to Ames for training. He is also researching nitrate, phosphate and E. coli remediation efforts by investigating wetland water quality in relation to land use in the watershed.

Todd's research projects are both continuations and expansions of his Outlet Creek project, says Coogan, who is an RRWA board member. "Current practices in aquatic toxicology look at watersheds and land use in order to predict potential problems and remediation possibilities," she said. "Outlet Creek is one of many contributing factors to the high nitrate levels in the Mississippi River Basin."

"Todd's study will produce historical data that will be valuable to future watershed researchers," adds Coogan. "Several other BVU students are currently involved in related projects and will certainly benefit from Todd's initial investigations."

Formed three years ago, the RRWA is an all-volunteer, nonprofit organization of more than 240 members who are dedicated to preserving and enhancing the Raccoon River and its watershed. Members range from farmers, hunters, anglers and land-owners to bird-watchers, paddlers and others along the entire Raccoon River.

Ak-Sar-Ben announces 2008 Nebraska Pioneer Award winners

The Knights of Ak-Sar-Ben and the Nebraska Fair Managers Association recently announced the 185 honorees for the 2008 Pioneer Farm Family Awards. In order to qualify for this distinction, members of the same family must have owned a partial of land consecutively for at least 100 years.

Since its inception, 52 years ago, more than 7,000 families have been granted this award from across the region. Each honoree receives an engraved plaque and gatepost marker as permanent recognition of this milestone. The awards are presented during the annual county fair in which the land is located.

The following is a listing of the recipients by local county: Wayne: Leland Walter Herman and Randy Dunklau, both of Wayne; Dixon: Eilene Loetscher, Kendall and Cheryl Loetscher, Azala Jo and Thomas Lewis of Wayne.

HOSKINS SENIORS

The Hoskins Senior Citizens met July 1 at the Community Center to play pitch.

Prize winners were Shirley Mann, Ed Gnirk and Betty Andersen.

All brought refreshments to share.

The next meeting will be Tuesday, July 15.

MUD VOLLEYBALL

Thirty-one teams competed in the mud volleyball tournament, which took place at the Hoskins Horse Arena on June 29.

Those who were on the winning team were Bob Hofman (leader), Nick Weich, Kendra Aldag, Ashley Walters, Amber Walters and "Red," all from Norfolk.

Second place team leaders were Nicole Marx and Desi Irish, with Justin, Jamie and Mark Oestreich, Mel Wright, Cemir Magara and Adrian Acosta.

FOURTH OF JULY

The July 4 parade in Hoskins took place at 8 a.m.

Prizes were awarded to Trinity Lutheran Pre-School and Springbranch 4-H Club.

Following the parade, between 275 and 300 people were served at the Pancake, scrambled egg and sausage breakfast at the Community Center.

In the afternoon, 18 couples took part in a pitch tournament. Dean Owens and Bob Hank took first place; Kenneth Dunklau and June Baier, second place and Jim Rabe and Ray Jacobsen, third.

There was a tractor pull in the afternoon.

The firemen were in charge of the barbecue in the evening. Approximately 250 people were served.

Winners of the raffle were, Jennifer Kester, TV; Ed Brogie, grill and Stanley Norton, Harley mirror.

On July 5, Cactus Flats provided the music for the street dance.

Poehlman attends nutrition conference

"Put some magic in Fun, Food and Fitness" was the theme for the Nebraska School Nutrition Association's 51st Annual State Conference on June 22-25.

This year's conference was held at the Marina Inn in South Sioux City.

Among those attending was Judy Poehlman of Wayne Public School.

The 250 plus attendees attended workshops consisting of interpersonal skills and leadership training. Sessions included nutrition, time management, valuing differences in the work place, getting the most from your work day and round table discussions.

Chef Jon Ashton, Extreme Makeover: School Lunch Edition-British celebrity, lead several discussions and presented ways to put pizzazz into school meals and increase participation and excitement among students. The Productivity Pro, Anne McGurty, focused on work discipline and getting the most out of our work day.

Magician and comedian Gayle Becwar was this year's entertainer. Next year's conference will be held in Grand Island.

Installed as officers for the coming year were Elaine Burda of Wilbur, president; Mike Birkel of Columbus, president-elect; Gaylene Glenn of Kearney, vice-president; Sherri Wetzler of Grand Island, secretary and Mary Goebel of Franklin, treasurer.

Installing officers was Katie Wilson, PhD, SNS, SNA President-Elect.

Breakfast of Champions event held in Lincoln

The University of Nebraska-Lincoln Office of Admissions, along with a host of corporate sponsors, presented the 10th annual Breakfast for Champions.

This event celebrates the accomplishments of more than 300 of the state's most outstanding eighth-grade student leaders and is aimed at encouraging the continued pursuit of academic excellence and leadership, the breakfast provides student honorees with a unique opportunity to interact with other exceptional students from around the state. UNL was proud to celebrate and honor these students' achievements and give them a brief glimpse into an exciting future as a Husker student.

Luke Trenhaile, son of Jason and Phyl Trenhaile of Wayne, was chosen by Wayne Middle School staff and administration to represent Wayne Community Schools. This event took place at the Bob Devaney Sports Center on the UNL campus.

Speakers included Governor Dave Heineman and former football coach and current athletic director of the University of Nebraska Tom Osborne. Luke had the opportunity to meet several outstanding athletes and academic alumni of UNL.

He received the Breakfast of Champions Award and was acknowledged for his commitment to scholarship, leadership and service among Nebraska's youth.

"I was honored to represent my school and community at such a prestigious event," Luke said.

Other students who received this award in the area were Luke Lundahl of Wakefield and Alec Sindelar of Winside.

The Springbranch 4-H Club took part in this year's 4th of July parade.

Support re-classification

Dear Editor,
In July, the Nebraska Liquor Control Commission will hear public testimony regarding the classification of products known as alcopops, or flavored alcoholic beverages. Their decision on how to classify the products will ultimately impact youth access and availability to these kid-friendly alcoholic drinks.

Inappropriately classifying alcopops as beer leads to wider availability of the products, lower prices and increased advertising. These are all significant factors when it comes to reaching underage drinkers. Alcopops are fueling the epidemic of underage drinking, especially among young girls. Statistics show that girls as young as 14 start drinking these alcopops because they do not have a bitter alcohol taste.

Not only does the current classification of alcopops put Nebraska youth in danger, but it is bearing an unnecessary economic burden on our state. Alcopops are currently being regulated and taxed as beer, resulting in a $2 million loss in revenue each year. Meanwhile, the alcohol industry continues to profit from this misclassification at the expense of Nebraska's youth.

Underage drinking is an issue that begs to be addressed, not worsened through poor policy decisions. It's time for the Liquor Control Commission to recognize alcopops for what they are and classify them as distilled spirits to help protect young people.

Sincerely,
Lance W. Webster,
Chief of Police, Wayne Police Department and

Wayne County Sheriff

Petition process creates controversy

By Ed Howard
Statehouse Correspondent
The Nebraska Press Association

The right to try to put issues before voters via statewide ballot is central to Nebraska's constitution. It is the first right reserved to the people and, in at least one context, it is always the most controversial.

The perpetual controversy centers on how the state regulates, or fails to regulate, the petition process utilized by the citizenry in trying to put an initiative or referendum on the ballot.

When petition circulators are in the field, allegations of various levels of impropriety are on the way. Some criticism always involves, and usually documents, examples of circulators violating state law as they try to convince people to sign a petition and thus help to put the enactment or repeal of some law or constitutional provision on the ballot.

Petitions for a proposed constitutional amendment, to bar the state from using what are commonly called "affirmative action" policies, are currently making the rounds.

Affirmative action has been politically, socially and economically controversial since the day the phrase was coined by President Lyndon B. Johnson in the mid-1960s.

Mix a hot-button issue with the state's politically volatile petition system and you get ... exactly what you've got. A controversy alongside another controversy.

The view from here: It is literally impossible for authorities to closely monitor the gathering of petition signatures, or to otherwise closely enforce the law which spells out what circulators are required to do when they're out there on the street - or wherever.

An observation from here, based on more than 35 years of observing the system: The most common violations are going to continue, probably from now until forever. Unless you assign a cop to every circulator, and/or find a county attorney or state prosecutor willing to take every violator to court, the way it is will be the way it's going to be.

The basic problem is easily explained. Some circulators, regardless of training or anything else, will not bother with the law's requirements that the purpose of the petition be clearly explained, in part through a reading of the statement of its purpose.

During years of watching petitions related to tax policy come and go, I never saw a change in the basic approach of most circulators I observed. It was usually something like: "Do you want to sign a petition to lower your taxes?" This, regardless of the guts of the proposition, its complexity and fine points.

The pitch being used by a documented few of the current petition circulators is altogether predictable and understandable.

The objective of the petition is to eliminate affirmative action, which began and continues as a program officially intended to combat some elements of gender and race discrimination.

Critics labeled affirmative action as "reverse discrimination," probably not more than ten minutes after it fell out of LBJ's mouth.

So, it isn't surprising that some circulators have approached potential signers and asked them if they want to sign a petition that would end gender and race discrimination in Nebraska.

Intelligent people of good will (and others, for that matter) can disagree about everything involving affirmative action.

Intelligent people of good will can hardly disagree about one reality of Nebraska's petition process: Some people are going to cheat, because of laziness or zealotry or whatever.

Question: Would cheating be diminished if, say, the Legislature enacted a comparatively severe penalty for documented examples of failing to comply with the law? Would the effort then be bolstered greatly if Attorney General Jon Bruning turned a few subsequent prosecutions into the sort of high-profile cases that draw sustained media coverage?

Should prosecution of well-documented (like, videotaped) violations be mandatory? What if county attorneys and attorneys general don't want to do it?

Well, in that case, people could start a petition drive and ...

Protecting yourself from identity theft

By Congressman Jeff Fortenberry

In this electronic age, identity theft is a growing problem. Your identity can easily be stolen by someone who obtains your name, Social Security number, or credit card number. However, there are simple steps you can take to prevent this crime from happening to you.

Some ways a criminal can gain access to your personal information are by dumpster diving, pretexting, and skimming. Pretexting occurs when a thief contacts you and pretends to be with a financial institution in order to get personal information from you. Skimming involves a dishonest employee of a legitimate merchant using a special device that steals credit/debit card numbers when processing your card.

To prevent identity theft from happening to you, shred anything that has any personal information on it before throwing it away. Never reveal any personal information unless you know and trust the person or institution that is contacting you. Pay close attention when someone else is handling your card. And check your credit card and bank statements regularly to make sure there is no suspicious activity.

If you become a victim of identity theft there are several steps you may have to take in order to clear your name. Contact your credit card company and/or bank to notify them of the fraudulent charges as soon as you become aware of them. Monitor your financial records for several months after the crime.

You should also file two reports. The first is an Identity Theft Report that you file with your local police department. This report entitles you to certain legal rights that include blocking fraudulent information from appearing on your credit report.

The second is an ID Theft Affidavit that you file with the Federal Trade Commission (FTC). This enables you to simplify the process of alerting companies about fraudulent accounts that have been opened in your name. You can download this affidavit by visiting the website <http://www.ftc.gov/opa/2002/02/idtheft.shtm> of contact the FTC at 1-877-438-4338.

Protect yourself to keep away mosquitos, West Nile

Heavy rainfall has affected most of the Midwest, but flooding won't be the only consequence. An increased mosquito population will be an outcome of more rain as well, said Barbara Ogg, a University of Nebraska-Lincoln Extension educator in Lancaster County.

"It's already increased," she said. "We've seen a lot of mosquitoes, and it's going to continue. We're going to see numbers of mosquitoes that we haven't seen for many years."

The greatest risk associated with mosquitoes is the West Nile virus. In 2007, 163 Nebraskans contracted West Nile with four of those leading to fatalities, according to the Department of Health and Human Services Web site.

To help protect against mobs of mosquitoes, Ogg said, Nebraskans need to prevent mosquito breeding while protecting themselves.

Any containers or standing water should be dumped. A small pond or body of water that can't be removed can pose problems. Ogg said products containing bacillus thuringiensis israelensis, or BTI, come in the form of doughnuts, biscuits or granules and can be put into a pond to cut down on mosquito larvae.

"You don't have to worry about wildlife or animals drinking out of a pond," Ogg said, "because it is something that is real specific to mosquito larvae."

She said BTI products can be bought at hardware stores or garden centers and cost $10 to $15. Ogg said the amount of BTI product to buy depends on the square footage of a pond or standing water.

For those with plenty of cash, a device called a Mosquito Magnet can be bought for about $500. They work with a propane tank to generate carbon dioxide, which attracts mosquitoes and traps them.

"Unfortunately, bug zappers don't work on mosquitoes," Ogg said. "Mosquitoes aren't attracted to light - they find us by detecting carbon dioxide and other odors we give off."

The Center for Disease Control recommends three types of repellents that work best against mosquitoes.

DEET is the most common chemical in insect repellents. DEET works best for those who want to stay outside for long periods of time. However, Ogg said, many people dislike the oily feeling and odor of DEET. She said no definitive studies show DEET causes heart problems in children, but the American Association of Pediatrics doesn't recommend its use on children under 2 months old.

Picaridin is a repellent that has similar effectiveness compared with DEET. Advantages are that it is not greasy and has no odor. The AAP has not formulated recommendations about using picaridin on children.

Natural oil of lemon eucalyptus is available in Repel Lemon Eucalyptus, a non-greasy product with a pleasant smell. Oil of lemon eucalyptus may not last as long as the other two repellents. A natural botanical product, it may appeal to those who want to use green products.

Ogg said because the elderly are at a greater risk of having serious reactions from the West Nile virus, people older than 50 should always wear repellent if they are exposed to mosquitoes.

She said Culex tarsalis, the mosquito that is the best vector for the West Nile virus, is more prevalent farther west. For that reason, those in central and western Nebraska need to be especially conscious of mosquitoes and protect themselves with repellents.

"There's a lot of cases in the eastern part of the state," Ogg said,

"but it's because populations are higher. On an individual basis, people in the western part of the state are more at risk."

Symptoms of West Nile, which causes the brain to swell, include headaches, neck stiffness, skin rash, stupor, disorientation, paralysis, coma and possible death. Ogg said symptoms begin to show 3 to 14 days after the virus is contracted. She recommends seeing a doctor as soon as these symptoms show.

Mosquitoes may be more prevalent this summer, and Ogg said they will continue being a health concern for months ahead.

"These Culex tarsalis mosquitoes start feeding on humans and other large mammals in the summer after nesting birds leave their nest," she said. "The risk of West Nile virus will continue through the summer months until frost."

NECC business division to kick off three new certificate programs

Ever in the growth mode, the business, math and technology division at Northeast Community College will introduce three new certificate programs during the 2008-2009 academic year.

Classes in the computer application specialist and visual programming for personal computers certificate program will begin this fall semester. Classes for the IBM iSeries Programming certificate will begin during the Spring 2009 semester.

According to John Blaylock, division dean, the computer application specialist program will prepare individuals for entry-level work in any setting that requires knowledge and skills of computer-application software.

"Students enrolled in this program will receive 18 credit hours of intensive instruction in word processing, spreadsheet, database, and web page development software applications," Blaylock said. "Students with this certificate will be prepared for entry-level work in any modern office or workplace."

This certificate can be completed over two semesters of course work on the Norfolk campus.

The visual programming for personal computers certificate option requires a minimum of 19 credit hours of selected information technology courses. All coursework will apply to the associate of applied science degree in computer programming offered by Northeast Community College.

"This certificate option is specifically designed for those who want to update their skills in today's rapidly changing environment of visual personal computer programming," Blaylock said. "This PC programming certificate option is also ideal for those who want to learn entry-level programming skills so they can change occupations."

Classes for this certificate will be offered during evening hours requiring at least two evenings a week for four semesters to complete the sequence of courses on the Norfolk campus.

The IBM iSeries Programming certificate option, which begins in January, consists of at least 17 credit hours of selected courses from the information technology program at Northeast. Most of this course work will apply to an associate of applied science degree in computer programming.

"We have developed this certificate program because the IBM iSeries is a mid-ranged computer system used by many mid-sized organizations in northeast Nebraska," Blaylock said. "This certificate is also designed for those who want to update present skills or learn different skills so they can change occupations."

Classes for this certificate will be offered during evening hours requiring at least two evenings a week for four semesters to complete the sequence of courses on the Norfolk campus.

Fall semester classes begin Monday, August 18, at Northeast Community College. Blaylock reminds students that they can upgrade their skills or develop new skills for an entirely new profession at great savings at Northeast Community College.

For more information about any of these three certificate programs, contact Blaylock at (402)844-7292.

Scott Wessel, Nebraska Game & Parks Commission explains to the children on the tour that native grasses are very interesting. This one, porcupine grass, can be thrown like a spear which sticks in people's clothing or, as nature intended, works it's way into the ground to grow a new plant.

Wildflower tour taken

Northeast Nebraska RC&D Council Board member, Dennis Wacker, organized the Wildflower Adventure Tour. Forty-eight other people were also able to participate on July 2. On the tour, they found the Western Prairie Fringed Orchid flower is very rare and needs just the right soil and conditions to grow. The hawk moth is one of their most essential pollinators. It is estimated that the life span of the Western Prairie Fringed Orchid is only about eight or ten years and requires a fungi which is found in some wetlands.

Late June and early July is the flowering time for this plant. Tour guides, Scott Wessel, Private Lands Biologist and Gerry Steinauer, Botanist, both with the Nebraska Game and Parks Commission explained the native flowers and grasses and some of the attributes of how they grow.

Jim and Beth Peschel, rural Osmond, were gracious in letting the group see their wildflowers which were started from seed about five years ago on a two and one-half acre plot. Lyle Venteicher and children of rural Pierce, showed the group a meadow that has never been tilled and is still in its native state. Wildflowers and native grasses were found in abundance on this site.

The group toured Bruce and Connie Zimmerman's business, the Milkhouse, before returning to Plainview. This was a real treat for many people to get out and see these native plants since many enjoy them, but don't know their names or just where to view them in their own habitat. The tour may become an annual event - at least many on the tour this year hope so.

FINANCIAL FOCUS

Enjoying your family vacation - on a budget

Ask a child where they would like to vacation with their family and Walt Disney World® ranks as a top choice. Kids love the magic of Disney and parents appreciate the family-friendly experience. With a little forethought, you can plan an exciting family vacation that works with your budget.

Time your stay. If you can, try to schedule your trip during the off season. According to Disney World, there are lighter crowds beginning in August and running through December. Their resorts may offer lower rates at this time as well. You may also be able to get lower fares because you won't be competing with spring break or summer fares.

Look for affordable accommodations. If you want to stay at a Disney World Resort, you can choose from a wide range of properties and price tags. At the low end, you can pitch a tent at Disney's Fort Wilderness and pocket significant savings. Resort guests have access to free airport and park shuttles (and free parking if you drive to the resort), so you can subtract a daily parking expense that would accrue if you stayed at a non-Disney property. Another way to save money is to look for a hotel or rental property in nearby Kissimmee, Fla. - preferably with a kitchenette so you can prepare your own meals. However, if you have small children, having your hotel in walking distance of the park may be a convenience you can't afford to pass by.

Buy your tickets in advance. Advance ticket purchase may make it easier to plan your trip and budget your time and money. The most affordable tickets allow one park entry per day. However, Disney allows you to customize your tickets with the flexibility to visit additional theme and/or water parks for an additional fee. The more days you purchase, the more you save. For example, based on a recent visit to the official Walt Disney World site, you can save $36 per ticket per day for an adult "Magic Your Way" ticket by simply extending the daily passes you purchase from a 3-day ticket to a 7-day ticket. Of course, you'll spend more simply by lengthening your vacation those extra four days, but you're getting more value for the days you're there.

Jennifer Phelps, Senior Financial Advisor Ameriprise Financial Services, Inc. 120 W 2nd Street, Wayne, NE 402 833 5285 ameripriseadvisors.com/jennifer.s.phelps

You may be eligible to purchase discounted family vacation ticket packages through your employer, so be sure to inquire. You can try to purchase family theme park tickets on eBay, but there's no guarantee you'll find the combination of days you need or that you'll win the bid.

Limit your meals in the park. Eat a hearty breakfast before you start the day to avoid a hunger attack inside the doors. If you plan to spend more than several hours on site (and most people do), pack snacks and beverages rather than purchasing expensive park fare. Disney discourages guests from bringing food into the park but does provide a picnic area outside of the gates and lockers are available to store a small cooler or backpack. To please the kids, the character breakfast (or lunch or dinner), a fun-filled meal featuring the likes of Snow White, Cinderella, Mickey and other favorites, is one park meal you may want to consider. Advance reservations are recommended.

Gather free information online. The official Disney World site provides a wealth of information on their parks, ticket packages, hotel options and much more. Between this information and the many public sites offering tips and recommendations for how to best enjoy your time at the other parks, you will have plenty of information with which to plan your trip.

Start saving now. If you plan to go on a family vacation or visit Disney World within the next year or two, start saving now so the expense is easier to bear. Set a target budget for your vacation to determine how much you need to set aside each month to afford your trip. Consider talking to a financial advisor for ideas on how to save for your short- and long-term goals. Make the right choices for your finances now so you and your family can experience the magic of Disney and much more in the years to come.

Heroism and athletics converge in Omaha this summer for event

The 28th National Veterans Wheelchair Games, scheduled to take place July 25-29 in Omaha, will attract more than 500 veterans with disabilities.

It has become the largest annual wheelchair sports competition in the world. Veterans from conflicts in Afghanistan and Iraq will again join their fellow veterans in 17 competitive events being offered in Omaha.

Among those who plan to be volunteers at this event are Robert and Beverly Neel of Wayne.

"We are proud to present this outstanding rehabilitation event, a therapeutic extension of the superior health care veterans receive in our medical centers each day," said Dr. James B. Peake, Secretary of Veterans Affairs. "Rehabilitation is crucial to living a full life following an injury. I applaud all of the veterans participating as they strive to achieve their goals during this week of athletic competition."

The National Veterans Wheelchair Games, presented by the Department of Veterans Affairs (VA) and Paralyzed Veterans of America (PVA), are open to all U.S. military veterans who use wheelchairs for sports competition due to spinal cord injuries, certain neurological conditions, amputations or other mobility impairments.

The VA Nebraska-Western Iowa Health Care System in Omaha and the Paralyzed Veterans of America Great Plains Chapter are hosting the 2008 Games. Veterans competing in the National Veterans Wheelchair Games come from nearly every state as well as Puerto Rico and Great Britain.

"Like serving our nation, the National Veterans Wheelchair Games are not really about the medals. Instead, they're a mix of camaraderie, competition and courage. And they're rehabilitation at its best for our paralyzed veterans," said Randy L. Pleva, Sr., National President of the Paralyzed Veterans of America. "If you are in the Omaha area, please join us this July. You'll be inspired."

At the Games, veterans will compete in swimming, basketball, track, weightlifting, softball, air guns, quad rugby, nine-ball, field events, bowling, table tennis, archery, handcycling, wheelchair slalom, trapshooting, a motorized wheelchair relay and power soccer. An exhibition event in sled hockey will also take place this year. For the second year, several stand-up events will be held for athletes with amputations who choose to compete using prosthetic devices instead of competing in their wheelchairs.

The 28th National Veterans Wheelchair Games begin July 25 with a kick-off wheelchair basketball demonstration at the Qwest Center Omaha, and the 2008 Disabled Sports, Recreation and Fitness Expo. Kids Day at the Games will take place on July 27 at Northwest High School, where local children with disabilities will meet the athletes and learn about wheelchair sports.

Opening and closing ceremonies will also be held at the Qwest Center Omaha, along with many of the week's competitive events. Other events will be held at the Henry Doorly Zoo, the University of Nebraska, Mockingbird and Thunderbowl Lanes and other area venues. Admission is free to the public and the community is encouraged to attend.

Sports are important in the therapy used to treat many disabilities. VA is a recognized leader in rehabilitation, with therapeutic programs available at VA health care facilities across the nation. For many injured veterans, the Wheelchair Games provide their first exposure to wheelchair athletics.

For more information about the National Veterans Wheelchair Games or to volunteer during the week, visit the Games Web site at www.wheelchairgames.org.

Many sources available for personal credit

Consumer credit comes from both traditional and nontraditional sources, but criteria exist for each source that lenders use to decide whether to give credit or not. Consumers also need to remember that all credit needs to be used with caution.

Consumers may find credit available from the following sources:

- Retailers may give credit accounts and issue credit cards. Such credit may be from local, regional or national retailers, such as Target or Sears.

- Financial institutions, such as banks, credit unions and savings and loans, offer loans, lines of credit and credit cards. Banks and savings and loans give credit to average and better credit risk people. Credit unions loan only to their members. Because credit unions are nonprofit, loan rates may be are lower than from other financial institutions.

- Finance companies usually require collateral for installment loans and second mortgages. Interest rates usually are higher than those offered by financial institutions because they borrow from commercial banks to get the money needed for their loans.

- Sales finance companies offer only collateral loans and are tied to the seller. Loans may include lower special promotion interest rates. Some sales finance companies specialize in mail or loans over the phone and advertisements via television and may charge higher interest rates than other financial institutions. Cosigners may be required.

- Pawnshops are lenders offering a single payment loan for a short time, generally one to two months, based on the value of the item left for collateral. If the borrower fails to repay the amount due plus interest and reclaim the property by the due date, the pawnshop owner sells the item left as collateral.

- Rent-to-own retailers provide a way to buy something with little or no down payment. The item is rented for a specified time before it's owned by the renter. Late payments will result in the item being seized with no payback of what has already been paid in rent. The actual cost of rent-to-own items usually is high because of the length of the loan.

Sandy Preston Dixon County

- Check cashing businesses also give cash for a check and may hold the check for a week or more before cashing it, thus extending credit to the consumer. They also cash checks for people who do not have traditional accounts at financial institutions.

- Rapid refund services loan money based on the amount of a future income tax refund. The borrower also pays a fee for this service so the full tax refund is not received.

- Life insurance companies allow policyholders to borrow against the cash value of life insurance policies if the policy has cash value. Usually these loans have a low interest rate, but the amount of death benefit coverage is reduced by the amount of any unpaid loan.

- Friends and relatives may be the only source of funds for very risky borrowers, those with no credit history or those without a reliable job. The borrower should sign a written statement stating the amount borrowed, and the terms of repayment including the payment amounts, repayment schedule and any interest.

Before loaning money, formal lenders often use the five Cs to determine whether they will extend credit to someone:

- Character is honesty and past reliability in paying bills on time. Late payments show up on credit reports. Stability also is an aspect of character. Owning vs. renting housing, living at the same address for a number of years and years of employment are considered signs of stability.

- Capital is a measure of financial net worth and the value of what's owned. Lenders look for more owned than owed but may consider the primary mortgage as a debt because the house is collateral.

- Capacity is income available to repay the lender. Having a good income, the same job for a number of years and not having many debts suggests strong financial capacity.

- Collateral is property or something of value pledged to guarantee repayment of a loan. If the loan is not repaid, the lender takes possession of the collateral. Lenders are more willing to loan money to people who have collateral in some form.

- Conditions, including general and local economic conditions, affect the ability to get credit. When money is in short supply, it's harder to borrow money. When the local economy is tight, it's also harder to get credit.

A cosigner may be needed if the lender's criteria is not met for getting a loan. A cosigner is someone who agrees to pay the loan if it's not repaid. Cosigners must meet the lender's criteria as well and are liable for all costs associated with the loan. If you decide to cosign for someone, you need to be ready to repay the debt.

Be aware that a cosigned loan will affect the ability to get credit because the cosigned loan will be included on a credit record as well. Credit can not be denied solely on the basis of sex, race, marital status, national origin, age or source of income.

Eagles Auxiliary plans Chicken Days events

The July 7 meeting of the Wayne Eagles Auxiliary was called to order by Madam President Jessica Olson.

Wendie Meyer reported on the Volunteer Fair at Ameritas. It was well-attended.

Cheryl Henschke reported that more help is needed for Chicken Days, serving food on Saturday. Anyone who is able to help is asked to call Cec Vandernick at the Wayne Eagles Club.

Stacy Craft gave a report on the State Convention which was held in North Platte. The Wayne Auxiliary received first place for its scrapbook and second place for the Membership Poster and Year Book. Jessica Olson moved up to the First Trustee as a State Officer. The State President's Charity for this year will be Make A Wish.

Serving at the Monday, July 21 meeting will be Stacy Craft.

Salem group goes on mission trip

Ten youth and three sponsors from Salem Lutheran Church in Wakefield joined 360 NE Synod ELCA youth and sponsors from across the state for a Mississippi mission trip on June 14-21.

All gathered at Camp Carol Joy Holling near Ashland and boarded seven motorcoaches for the 1,100 mile trip to the Gulf Coast. Saturday night, after a long day, they stayed at Covenant Methodist Church in Memphis, Tenn. and attended church there Sunday morning before traveling to Biloxi, arriving at the camp at 4 p.m.

Four motorcoaches stayed at Camp Victor in Ocean Springs and three motorcoaches, including Salem youth, stayed at Camp Biloxi in Biloxi, Miss. The group felt "close to home" as this camp was set up by Orphan Grain Train from Norfolk and organized by Lutheran Disaster Response.

Salem Lutheran Church youth and sponsors worked in a Croatian community, painting a home for Beverly Kovacevich, as her family was hoping to have her in her renovated home by her 80th birthday in July. It has been three years since her home and her son, Mike's, were almost completely destroyed. The foundation, four walls and the roof was all that was standing. They were the only two homes left on "the point" as he called it. More than 500 other homes on "the point" were destroyed. Besides the painting, the group trimmed trees and bushes, cleaned bricks and cleaned furniture that was salvageable.

Mike was setting up a tent in his yard so that her nine children, spouses, 23 grandchildren, three great grandchildren and her many friends could celebrate her 80th birthday. "This is our home, he said, and we are not going anywhere. My family's history is here."

The grandparents came from Yugoslavia for a better life, to work in fish factories and canneries along the Gulf Coast. These were all destroyed.

The Salem Lutheran Church group heard much history about this area and many said that without volunteers and the many church groups that helped, they wouldn't be where they are today. They were all very grateful.

In the evenings, there was entertainment with the other groups from Camp Victor at Christus Lutheran Church in Ocean Springs. Peder Eeide gave a Christian concert and message of serving with communion was held on Thursday evening with Bishop deFreese giving the message.

The group departed for home early Friday morning and all bedded down in sleeping bags at Trinity Lutheran Church near St. Louis, continuing on home on Saturday. The trip was rewarding for all, of "Discipleship Living Servant Lives."

Beginning Experience weekend scheduled

A Beginning Experience (BE) Weekend retreat for the widowed, separated and divorced is planned for Aug. 15-17 at the St. Benedict Center in Schuyler.

The weekend begins Friday evening and ends Sunday afternoon.

The loss of a loved one through separation, divorce or death is one of life's most traumatic experiences. This weekend retreat is designed to be a time to heal and a time to turn the pain of loss into an adventure of grace.

The weekend is open to individuals of all faiths. Pre-registration is required. For more information and an application, visit www.omaha-be.webhop.org or call Pat Seier at the Family Life Office at (402) 557-5514 or email paseier@archomaha.org.

Parking & Driveway Surfaces

Please be reminded the new parking and driveway surface ordinance takes effect on October 1, 2008. City staff has made an attempt to identify those properties around the community which will be affected by this ordinance. Please keep in mind that the list compiled by city staff is not all inclusive.

A mailing was sent out the last week of June to those property owners city staff was able to identify. If you did not receive a letter from the city identifying any specific issues related to your property and you are uncertain if your property will be affected by this ordinance, please feel free to contact my office and I would be happy to visit with you, 402-375-1733.

Joybell Concert to be held at Our Savior Lutheran Church

Kristine Stout, Handbell Soloist, will be featured in an inspirational, passionately joyous musical celebration at Our Savior Lutheran Church, Wayne on Sunday, July 20 at 2 p.m.

The concert, entitled "Joy Unspek-a-bell", will include a variety of music featuring hymns, patriotic music, classical music, and more.

Handbell solo ringing is a very rare, graceful form of musical expression. Using a form of dance combined with handbell weaving techniques, Kristine creates a "stunning musical achievement that will overwhelm your senses."

Watch Kristine as she gracefully handles three octaves of English Handbells (37 bells) ALL BY HERSELF! Not only will she amaze you with her gifts of grace and coordination with the bells, she also writes and/or arranges all of her own music for handbell solos and digital keyboard orchestrations. Those attending will hear more than handbells. Kristine is a symphony of one.

Kristine is one of only a dozen or so professional soloists in the country and averages over 350 shows per year. The three octaves of bells (37 bells) that Kristine plays are usually played by a bell choir of about 11 members. She and her husband Kirt own and operate the Joybell Theater in Nashville, Ind.

The public is invited to hear Kristine, Handbell Soloist, on Sunday, July 20 at Our Savior located at Fifth and Main Streets in Wayne. There is no admission charge and all are welcome. A free-will offering will be taken and refreshments will be served.

For more information, contact the church office at (402) 375-2899.

Blood drive in Wayne set for July 24

The Siouxland Community Blood Bank will be holding a blood drive in Wayne on July 24 from 8:30 a.m. to 3 p.m. at the Wayne Fire Department in Wayne.

The Siouxland Community Blood Bank was founded in 1967 and is the sole provider of blood and blood products to 36 Siouxland area hospitals.

To be eligible to donate blood individuals must be at least 16 years of age; however there is no upper age limit as long as the donor is in good health. Donors under the age of 17 require parental consent. In addition, donors need to weigh at least 110 pounds and have not donated whole blood in the past 56 days. A photo I.D. is required at the time of registration.

For more information about the Siouxland Community Blood Bank or blood drives in your area, call 712-252-4208 or 800-798-4208 or visit their website at www.siouxlandbloodbank.org a 4.0 scale. Sixty-four students graduated with distinction by achieving a 3.75 or higher cumulative grade point average.

SBA introduces two new online finance courses

The U.S. Small Business Administration has introduced two new free online finance courses to help small business owners with the basic principles of finance and borrowing.

The new self-paced courses, Finance Primer: Guide to SBA's Loan Guaranty Programs at <http://apl1.sba.gov/sbtl/registration/index.cfm?CourseId=29> and How to Prepare a Loan Package at <http://apl1.sba.gov/sbtl/registration/index.cfm?CourseId=28>, walk business owners through steps that answer questions about what debt financing is, what loan programs are available, what small businesses should know about borrowing money, how to prepare a loan package and how loan requests are reviewed by lenders.

"It is important for the SBA to provide information tools to help our nation's entrepreneurs who desire the personal freedom and economic independence that can come with business ownership," said SBA Acting Administrator Jovita Carranza.

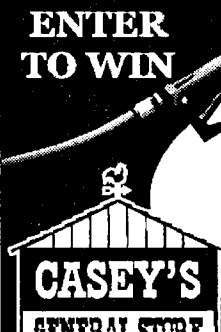

The Finance Primer gives an overview of the SBA's loan guaranty programs to help small businesses understand the variety of financial resources, including those from the SBA.

The finance courses can help entrepreneurs avoid some of the common mistakes made such as securing the wrong type of financing, miscalculating the amount of financing required, and underestimating the cost of borrowing money.

The Loan Package course includes small business links to related information, and refers course participants for direct support in preparing a loan request to appropriate resources that include SBA's district offices, SBA resource partners and lenders.

Course participants who complete the 30-minute online training programs can earn a certificate of completion from the SBA, with their name, date and course title.

The new finance courses have been added to a menu of more than 26 online tutorials offered by the SBA. On a typical day, 800 to 2,000 customers register for free online courses offered by the SBA through its virtual training campus at the Small Business Training Network (SBTN) (www.sba.gov/training).

NDA reminds producers to be mindful of fungicide labeling

The Nebraska Department of Agriculture (NDA) is reminding producers to be mindful when applying fungicides to crops. The reminder comes after the Kansas Department of Agriculture today released some wheat from an embargo after tests confirmed that fungicide residues set by the U.S. Environmental Protection Agency and U.S. Food and Drug Administration were within tolerance.

At question were late applications of fungicides many of which require a 45-day waiting period between application and harvest.

"We are continuing to gather information relative to the use of the fungicide in Nebraska," said NDA Bureau of Plant Industry Administrator Rich Reiman. "As with any chemical used in the state, we want to make sure that Nebraska applicators and producers are following all of the label directions. If you are not following the label instructions, you are in violation of the law."

Several other fungicides require pre-harvest application intervals. A listing of those fungicides can be found on the NDA web site at www.agr.ne.gov, under Plant Industry.

Applicators or producers who have questions in regard to the fungicide, or labeling can contact the NDA Bureau of Plant Industry by calling 877-800-4080.

Reminiscing about mulberries

Mulberries! Do you like them? We do! And we haven't had any since moving off the acreage.

There was an article in the paper last week about the Farmer's Market. Folks were encouraged to write in about unique things they were buying there. This gal said she had found mulberries. I was amazed. And if I had found them, I would probably have bought some.

Mulberries are among my growing up memories. We had a half-mile shelterbelt planted by the WPA (Public Works Administration begun during the thirties to put people back to work.) The inside row was all Russian olive trees; the outside was mulberry trees.

When they were ripe, Mom grabbed the "shaking sheet" and herded the kids out to gather the berries. The shaking sheet was kept just for this purpose because after you shook mulberries, the purple stain was there for keeps. You laid it on the ground under the branches with the most berries; then, with us holding the corners, Mom took a stick and struck the branches, thus shaking the berries loose into the sheet. We did this until the buckets were full enough to satisfy her.

course, some of the memory of those things probably has to do with the passage of time. I do know this; they were a lot of work! Maybe that's why we appreciated them so much. Do you suppose?

The Farmer's Wife
By: Pat Meierhenry

That was the easy part! Next, we went through them and took out the twigs and leaves and bugs. Then, they were washed. And then, finally, we could have a bowl full with sugar and cream. The rest were canned or frozen.

Usually, they were canned with something tart because the mulberry flavor is rather bland. So, something like rhubarb or cherries were combined with them, and this made a great pie or cobbler.

Some years, Mom made wine from the berries. I just called her to ask how she did it and she laughed and said she didn't know! She thinks she probably mixed them with rhubarb then, too, and she says she didn't have a recipe. But everyone who ever tasted her wine will tell you it was good! One year, she got a blue ribbon at the Wayne county fair.

We had mulberry trees on our farm at Hoskins; one was white and they were delicious. I usually froze some to have when the Big Farmer's cousin Charlotte came from California. I knew she liked them, too, and they certainly did not have them there.

Just talking about them makes my mouth water. We haven't had any rhubarb this spring, either. I remember people laughing and saying, "do you think the rain will hurt the rhubarb?" And I have a hunch that this year it did.

I'll have to make do with the strawberries I keep bringing home from the store. But those aren't the same as the ones I used to pick in the strawberry patch, either. Of

Eighty Nebraska counties eligible for USDA emergency loans

Farm Service Agency (FSA) State Executive Director, Milton Rogers, announced that family farmers in 54 Nebraska counties are eligible to apply for low interest Emergency (EM) loans due to physical and production losses caused by severe storms, tornadoes, and flooding that occurred from May 22, 2008 and continuing.

The 54 Nebraska counties that were declared a disaster area became eligible for disaster assistance due to a Presidential Major Disaster Declaration signed on June 20, 2008. The primary counties named are: Adams, Chase, Gage, Kearney, Otoe, Saunders, Blaine, Colfax, Garfield, Keya Paha, Phelps, Seward, Boone, Cuming, Gosper, Lancaster, Platte, Sherman, Boyd, Custer, Hall, Lincoln, Polk, Stanton, Brown, Dawson, Hamilton, Logan, Red Willow, Thayer, Buffalo, Douglas, Hayes, Loup, Richardson, Thomas, Burt, Fillmore, Holt, McPherson, Rock, Thurston, Butler, Frontier, Howard, Merrick, Saline, Webster, Cass, Furnas, Jefferson, Nance, Sarpy and York.

In addition, 26 Nebraska counties became eligible for this assistance because they are contiguous to one or more of the primary designated counties. These counties are:

Antelope, Dixon, Harlan, Keith, Nuckolls, Valley, Arthur, Dodge, Hitchcock, Knox, Pawnee, Washington, Cherry, Dundy, Hooker, Madison, Perkins, Wayne, Clay, Franklin, Johnson, Nemaha, Pierce, Wheeler, Dakota and Greeley.

Emergency loan applications are available and must be submitted through the local FSA county office from any applicant who qualifies for a physical or production loss (at least a 30 percent reduction from normal) in a single enterprise from this disaster in these counties. To qualify for an EM loan, an applicant must be an established family farm operator; provide evidence of having suffered a qualifying physical or production loss; be unable to obtain suitable credit from a source other than FSA. The low interest loans may cover up to 100 percent of their actual production or physical losses, to a maximum amount of $500,000.

The loan applicants must show ability to repay the loan and the loan must be adequately secured. FSA loans for production losses may be used to buy feed, seed, fertilizer, livestock, or to refinance certain debts. FSA loans for physical losses may be used to repair or replace the property that was damaged or lost. The current interest rate for the EM loans is 3.75 percent. The deadline for submitting applications is Feb. 20, 2009.

In addition to the Emergency (EM) Loan Program, the FSA has other Direct and Guaranteed Farm Operating and Farm Ownership Loan Programs, which can be considered in assisting farmers to recover from their losses. Additional information about FSA Farm Loan Programs is available at www.fsa.usda.gov/dafl.

FSA 2008 Direct and Counter Cyclical program underway

"Farm Service Agency (FSA) Offices in Nebraska are currently processing the 2008 Direct and Counter-Cyclical (DCP) Program sign-up," announced Milton Rogers, FSA State Director. "This program was authorized by the 2008 Farm Bill effective May 22, 2008."

Nebraska farmers and landowners should contact their local FSA office as soon as possible for a DCP sign-up appointment. The law requires all contracts to be completed with all signatures by Sept. 30, 2008. The 2008 farm bill legislative process delayed the 2008 DCP sign-up.

To receive direct DCP payments, an individual or entity must be a producer on a farm with base acres enrolled in the DCP. Producers may elect to receive a 22 percent advance payment when they enroll in the DCP. Base acres are established on a farm for covered commodities based on historical plantings. For each covered commodity, the direct payment for 2008 equals 85 percent of the farm's base acreage for the crop, times the direct payment yield for that crop, times the direct payment rate for that crop. FSA reduces the final direct payment by any advance direct payment. Final direct payments will be issued after Oct. 1, 2008.

Commodities with base acres eligible for direct payments and their 2008 rates are: barley, $0.24 per bushel; corn, $0.28 per bushel; grain sorghum, $0.35 per bushel; oats $0.024 per bushel; soybeans, $0.44 per bushel; other oilseeds (canola, crame, flaxseed, mustard seed, rapeseed, safflower, sesame seed, sunflower seed), $0.80 per hundredweight; and wheat, $0.52 per bushel.

A change for 2008 affects FSA farms with base acreage of 10 acres or less. The 2008 Farm Bill defines that farms with bases of 10 acres or less are not eligible to receive payments. The exception is that farms (10 base acres or less) owned by a socially disadvantaged or limited resource farmer or rancher would be eligible for DCP payment.

Rogers added, "Nebraska FSA offices are now issuing 2008 advance direct payments. I would encourage all of our producers to work with their local FSA offices to get enrolled over the next several weeks, keeping in mind the Sept. 30 final enrollment deadline."

Energy Consumption Surveys

WAYNE COUNTY BOARD PROCEEDINGS

Wayne, Nebraska
July 1, 2008

The Wayne County Board of Commissioners met in regular session at 9:00 a.m. on Tuesday, July 1, 2008 in the upstairs conference room of the Courthouse.

Roll call was answered by Chairman Nissen, Members Wurdeman and Rabe, and Clerk Finn.

Advance notice of this meeting was published in the Wayne Herald, a legal newspaper, on June 19, 2008.

A current copy of the Open Meetings Act was posted in the meeting room and accessible to the public.

The agenda was approved.

The minutes of the June 17, 2008, meeting were approved as printed in the Commissioner's Record.

Emergency Manager Beckman was authorized to apply for an Emergency Operations Center (EOC) grant. The grant would be used to build an EOC that could be used during disasters of any kind. This grant requires a 25% grantee cost share or in-kind match.

Beckman was authorized to apply for an Emergency Management Program Grant (EMPG) to help pay for the costs of a full-time emergency manager. EMPG sub grantee awards have a 50% cost share requirement.

Fire Marshall Bob Shelbourn's inspection of the fuel plant at the Wayne County Shed was discussed. Bob Stanley of Stanley Petroleum will give estimates to bring the plant into compliance or to move the plant.

Jeff Ellis said the local companies would be able to perform the basic maintenance on the courthouse HVAC system, but they do not have the technical expertise to provide the level of service quoted in the TRANE maintenance agreement. Bud Neel will contract TRANE to see if an agreement with a reduced number of visits is available.

Various benches to set outside the courthouse were evaluated. Motion by Rabe, second by Wurdeman to purchase a plastic-coated eight-foot bench from Barco Products at a cost of $618.00 plus shipping. Roll call vote: Rabe-aye, Wurdeman-aye, Nissen-aye; motion carried.

A counter bid of $375.00 per month to clean the Social Services building submitted by Patty Wattier was accepted on motion by Rabe, second by Wurdeman. Roll call vote: Rabe-aye, Wurdeman-aye, Nissen-aye; motion carried.

Paul Dangberg was appointed as a Wayne County representative to the Northeast Nebraska Resource Conservation & Development board on motion by Rabe, second by Wurdeman. Roll call vote: Rabe-aye, Wurdeman-aye, Nissen-aye; motion carried. The term of appointment runs until December 2010.

A report of unpaid real estate taxes and special assessments submitted by the county treasurer's office was examined.

Motion by Wurdeman, second by Rabe to approve a security withdrawal submitted by First National Bank of Wayne. Roll call vote: Wurdeman-aye, Rabe-aye, Nissen-aye; motion carried.

Deserah Janke is recognized

The United States Achievement Academy has announced that Deserah Janke of Winside has been recognized by the United States Achievement Academy as a student of excellence in Mathematics.

This is an honor very few students can hope to attain. The Academy recognizes fewer than 10 percent of all American high school students.

Deserah, who attends Winside

High School, was nominated for this honor by Rachelle Rogers-Spann, a teacher at the school. Her name will appear in the United States Achievement Academy's Official Yearbook, which is published nationally.

"Recognizing and support our youth is more important than ever before in America's history. Certainly, United States Achievement Academy students should be congratulated and appreciated for their dedication to excellence and achievement," said Dr. George Stevens, Founder of the United States Achievement Academy.

The Academy recognizes students upon the exclusive recommendation of teachers, coaches, counselors and other qualified sponsors and upon the Standards for Selection set forth by the Academy. The Standards for Selection include academic performance, interest and aptitude, leadership qualities, responsibility, enthusiasm, motivation to learn and improve, attitude and cooperative spirit, dependability and recommendation from a qualified sponsor.

Deserah is the daughter of Deano and Debbie Janke of Winside. Her grandparents are Dean and Daisy Janke of Winside.

Class of 1978 holds reunion

The graduating class of 1978 held a 30th year reunion over the 4th of July week end.

They were the last class to graduate from the "old" high school, and the first first graders to attend the "new" elementary. The class members gathered at the ball park on the Fourth for baseball and fireworks. On July 5, they had a catered meal at the golf course club house.

Class member Val Johnson, and the world wide web, was able to find several classmates who left Wakefield during elementary and junior high. Many of those were able to join in the festivities, as well as a number of elementary teachers.

The class member coming the furthest was Bruce Coleman from Fresno, Calif. Others traveling a great distance were Verdell Ekberg from Florida, Lauri Sampson from Las Vegas, Melinda Groves from Emporia Kan., Paul Dahlgren from Colorado and John Viken from Minneapolis, Minn.

Optimist Club gathers

The Wayne Optimist group met June 24 at Tacos & More with President Mike Varley presiding.

Plans were finalized for the Chicken Show money making project. Doug and Lynette Krie will be the chairpeople in charge of grilling pork loins and hot dogs with chips and pop. The members present started the schedule sheet for setting up, serving and closing down the stand.

It was announced that the Optimist Zone meeting would be held the morning of the Chicken Show, Saturday, July 12 at 9 a.m. at Farmers & Merchants Bank and they would then watch the parade from the bank.

President Mike Varley announced that Richard Scheider of Beemer won the state Junior Championship golf tournament June 16 in Columbus. The Wayne Optimist Club sponsored Richard. He will play at the International Junior Championship PGA National Resort in Florida the end of July.

Officers for the Wayne Optimist Club for the 2008-09 will be President Bob Keating, Secretary Doug Krie and Treasurer Mike Varley. The International President Theo Golding will visit the Nebraska and Iowa clubs at the Omaha Elks Club on Saturday, July 19. Bob Wriedt and Cindy Von Fange will be attending from the Wayne Club.

The next scheduled meeting will be Tuesday, Aug. 12 at 6 p.m. at Tacos & More.
