Tailgating

Christina Houghtelling, an alumni of the University of Nebraska and current Wayne State graduate assistant volleyball coach, was a guest of Mike Jairen's second grade class last week. The students gathered at the Kern Track just south of the elementary school for a tailgate party. The group did a number of Nebraska cheers, ate hot dogs and played football. Jaixen, an avid Nebraska fan, encourages his students to wear red each Friday and support the Cornhuskers.

Wayne State to present Glenn Miller Orchestra

Performing Arts Series will open its 2008-2009 season with a special performance by the world famous Glenn Miller Orchestra. The performance will take place in Ramsey Theatre on the WSC campus on Monday, Oct. 6, at 7:30 p.m.

Touring for more than 50 years, The Glenn Miller Orchestra has delighted generations of fans with distinctive arrangements and contemporary compositions. The most influential band leader of the Swing era, Miller became a legend with his clarinet-centered sound in such tunes as "In the Mood," "Body and Soul," and his signature theme, "Moonlight Serenade." Currently led by outstanding trombonist Larry O'Brien, the group presents nearly 300 performances while traveling more than 100,000 miles each year.

The legendary Glenn Miller was one of the most successful of all the dance bandleaders in the Swing era of the 1930s and 1940s. A lengthy string of hit records, constant exposure on radio broadcasts, and the drawing power of the orchestra for concerts and dances built and sustained the band's unprecedented popularity.

In 1942 Miller disbanded his musical organization at the height of its popularity, to volunteer for the Army. He then organized and led the famous Glenn Miller Army Air Force Band which performed for servicemen throughout Europe. On Dec. 15, 1944, Major Miller took off in a singleengine plane from England to precede his

The Wayne State College Black and Gold band to France, and was never seen again. The army declared him officially dead a year later.

The 19-member band continues to play many of the original Glenn Miller arrangements as well as more modern selections that naturally lend themselves to the Miller style and sound. The entire repertoire for the Glenn Miller Orchestra now exceeds 1,700 compositions.

Tickets for general admission are on sale at the WSC business office in the Hahn Administration Building on campus. The cost for general admission is $10. Tickets will be available at the door beginning at 6:30 p.m. on the night of the performance but seating is limited and purchasing tickets in advance is recommended.

Upcoming performances include:

• President's Holiday Gala Concert, Sunday, Dec. 14, Ramsey Theatre, 2 p.m. Free Admission.

The Wayne State College Black and Gold performing arts series presents the popular annual President's Holiday Gala Concert. Designed as a fast-paced concert presented in a collage-like atmosphere, the concert will highlight some of the select performing organizations from Wayne State College.

-Red Cross NE Nebraska chapter needs to raise $34.580 to help cover disaster relief expenses

The American Red Cross is needing to raise $100 million by the end of 2008 to cover all their expenses related to the increased amount of disaster relief they have provided across the country this year. That goal has been divided up between all 50 states and from there down to each individual chapter. The Northeast Nebraska Chapter's fundraising goal for the National Disaster Relief Fund is $34,580.

Donations to the American Red Cross can be sent to the NE Nebraska Chapter at 106 W. 3rd, Wayne. One hundred percent of money collected at the local level will be sent directly to the relief efforts.

Allen's school received 40 large, highquality reproductions of great American art and a comprehensive teachers resource book to facilitate the use of the works of art in core subjects. Picturing America's resources are designed to allow each work of art to enhance the study of American history, social studies, language arts, literature and civics.

From Jan 7 through April 15, over 26,000 schools and public libraries in all 50 states, the District of Columbia and five U.S. Territories successfully applied to receive Picturing America in the program's first nationwide application period. A complete list of recipient schools and public libraries in cities and states across the country is available on the media page of the Picturing America web site at http://picturingamerica.neh.gov/public_awards.php

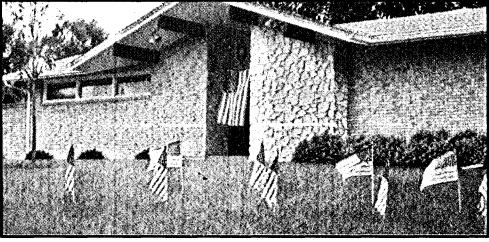

The NEH will offer Picturing America to more schools and libraries in 2009. Applications are currently being accepted. All eligible organizations in the U.S. and its territories that have not previously received Picturing America may apply for the program through Oct. 31 at PicturingAmerica.neh.gov

Picturing America is distributed by the NEH in cooperation with the American Library Association (ALA).

Ready to roll

After several years of planning and more than a year to construct, the Wayne Volunteer Fire Department took possession of a new pumper last week. The pumper is the first new fire truck the department has purchased in nearly 20 years. This group of firefighters posed for a picture Sunday afternoon while working to make the truck ready to respond to future emergencies.

Patriot Day

Scott and Mary Kay Hasemann took the opportunity on Sept. 11 to observe Patriot Day. The couple adorned the front yard of their home (above) with a number of small American flags and hung a large flag in the entry way to their home. At left, several rows of small flags were on display in front of Hasemann-Schumacher Funeral Home in observance of Patriot's Day.

Hair donation is family affair

Donations of hair to Locks of Love or other such organizations are relatively common, but the Osnes family took hair cutting to a new level when three family members donated a total of 39 inches of hair.

Kelli Whitt got to do a lot of cutting as the Osnes girls and their mom, Julie, all made donations to Locks of Love.

Meg cut her hair on Sept. 14. She had 11 inches cut off. Her sister Emma's hair was cut on Sept. 12. She donated 17 inches. Mom Julie's 11-inch pony tail was cut off earlier this summer.

"My hair was damp at the time, so I dried it out in a open plastic bag. According to the Locks of Love web sight, hair can be kept for up to two years and still be used to make wigs. I had just never gotten around to sending it in. Now I am glad I hadn't, because it made this picture for their grandmother possible."

Prospective and transfer students can learn more about the University of Nebraska-Lincoln's College of Agricultural Sciences and Natural Resources during the Experience the Power of Red Open House Oct. 11.

The open house from 9 a.m.-2 p.m. at the Nebraska East Union on UNL's East Campus will allow students to meet with UNL faculty and staff, experience campus and learn about the college's 28 programs of study and two pre-professional programs, said Laura Frey, UNL college relations director.

"Students will be able to explore career opportunities, meet current students and register for a scholarship and other prizes," Frey said. "It is a great opportunity to see what the college is all about and connect with other future students."

The open house begins at 9 a.m. with a browsing session that allows guests to visit department displays to learn more about the college's programs of study. A welcome and overview will start at 10 a.m., followed by student and parent sessions until 12:45 p.m. The open house wraps up with lunch and a scholarship drawing. Optional tours begin at 2 p.m.

Academic interest areas featured at the Power of Red Open House include: agribusiness/agricultural economics; agricultural education/agricultural journalism; agronomy/plant biology; animal science; biochemistry; diversified agricultural studies; food science and technology; food technology for companion animals; forensic science; grazing livestock systems; horticulture/turfgrass and landscape management; hospitality, restaurant and tourism management; insect science; mechanized systems management/agricultural engineering/biological systems engineering; natural resources; professional golf management and veterinary science.

Preregistration for the open house is due Oct. 3. For more information or to register, visit the Web at http://casnr.unl.edu/openhouse, e-mail casnr@unl.edu, or call (800) 742-8800, ext. 2541.

NECC class to teach positive behavioral support

'Bridges out of Poverty' strategies for professionals and communities

Parents, early childhood and family service providers, and home/center-based caregivers of infants and toddlers will learn important strategies for developing social-emotional wellness in infants and toddlers in a three-session class being planned at Northeast Community College in South Sioux City.

The class, Positive Behavioral Supports (PBS) for Infants and Toddlers, with course number HUMS 0130-08S/08F, is set for Mondays, Sept. 29, Oct. 27, and Nov. 24, from 6:30-8 p.m. in Room 113 of the Education Center at 3309 Daniels Lane in the Westside Business Park.

Participants in this three-session class will learn about the newest evidence-based strategies to support positive social-emotional foundations in young children. Each session will highlight critical areas to use as common language with parents and staff members who care for infants and toddlers.

Those dealing with children with moderate-to-severe mental health and behavioral problems, as well as typically developing children, will learn how to help infants and toddlers experience, regulate, and express emotions, form close and secure interpersonal relationships, and explore and learn from the environment.

Cost of this class is $10.

Commissioners approve deputy emergency manager appointment

By Lynn Sievers Of the Herald

Wayne County Commissioners met in regular session Tuesday. Deanna Beckman, Wayne County emergency manager, was present to discuss the deputy emergency manager appointment

The commissioners considered action on a resolution stating that Nicholas Kemnitz completed basic academy and that the emergency manager deputy position is unpaid, eligible only for expense reimbursement and mileage to attend training.

Wurdeman voiced his concern that there's not enough in Beckman's budget to cover fuel expenses. She noted they will travel together as much as possible. County Attorney Mike Pieper said the commissioners need to be clear when he's appointed. Rabe made a motion to approve the resolution with reimbursement only for out of pocket expenses. Nissen seconded the motion. Wurdeman voted against the resolution. The motion carried two to one.

Pieper explained the Interlocal Agreement with Cuming County for consolidation of emergency management services which includes: it is a 10 month agreement with an Oct. 1, 2008 start, 90 day nonrenewal, Wayne County is supervisor/host, each county adopts their own budget, there is a 50/50 split of all expenses.

Pieper continued that if a disaster occurs, each county has to pay their own expenses. If there are grant funds, that amount will be spent in both counties. There is a full-time emergency manager who is under Wayne County employee package. Each county will pay for their own office supplies. Deputy salaries are not split but benefits are. Beckman noted Wayne County keeps the EMPG grant money ($30,000) which was acquired before the interlocal agreement. Rabe made a motion to adopt the interlocal, Wurdeman seconded the motion and it passed unanimously.

Tietz was present to discuss the library project in Carroll and thanked the county for helping dispose of the old building. He noted village administration was under the assumption the three vacant lots north of where the old library was belonged to the village but found out two do and one belongs to Wayne County. He noted they want to straighten that out before plans continue to put a library building on those lots. Commissioner Bob Nissen said they are willing to check into everything first.

Committee member Bud Neel said he talked to Kevin Kay about dirt work for the project and also to Mark Klein about electrical issues. Loreta Tompkins was present to voice her opinion on the Memorial placement and that she feels having it near the courthouse will detract from each other. She feels it would be best to have it at Henry Victor Park on south Main Street, which the city is considering expanding. Neel said he spoke to a member of the National Register of Historical Buildings in Lincoln who felt it would be a great addition to the courthouse. Layne Beza and Neel

The commissioners approved all of the requests except for TransCanada, which they want more information on first.

The Board of Equalization was held with valuation changes as pivots were found on two properties in Wayne County through use of GIS. Rabe made a motion to increase valuation on the properties, Nissen seconded the motion and it carried

She noted rescinding on the decision made at the last meeting wouldn't change the 2008-09 budget (which hasn't been filed yet) but would change the restricted funds. Lengthy agenda greets council

By Clara Osten Of the Herald

Water pressure, business expansion and parking were among the items highlighting the Wayne City Council agenda on Tuesday.

Water pressure in the western portion of the city, specifically at the Northeast Nebraska Public Power District (NNPPD) Office on West Highway 35, was discussed and plans made to move forward on improvement of the situation.

Mark Schults, representing NNPPD, told the council that the power company is a business partner with the city of Wayne and talked about expansion that has occurred in recent years and the amount of money spent by the company in the community of Wayne.

He asked for assurance from the council that plans to provide adequate water pressure to the business are concrete and moving forward.

Mayor Lois Shelton told the council and those in attendance at the meeting that the city conducted a study of water pressure throughout the city in an attempt to "get the best solution at the best price." Garry Poutre, Public Works Superintendent informed the council of what the city has done since finding out about the low water pressure and said engineers have designed a pumping station to resolve the situation. He said the city expects to have the new pumping station in place by February of 2009.

City officials told representatives of NNPPD that they would be kept informed of progress of the project.

Following a public hearing, the council approved a resolution to sign an application for Community Development Block Grant Funds.

The funds will provide financial assistance to Sand Creek Post and Beam, Inc. for expanding the business in Wayne.

Director of the Wayne Area felt allowing vehicles to be parked Economic Development, Inc., spoke on the street would create safety to the council on the proposed expansion and how the business has developed over the years. In addition to a $200,000 Community Development Block Grant, Sand Creek Post and Beam will be seeking $500,000 from the Small Business Administration and provide additional funding on its own. The total cost of the expansion project is $1 million.

Parking restrictions in several locations in the city were approved and discussion held on the implementation of current city ordinances in other areas was held during Tuesday's meeting.

Parking will be prohibited on both sides of East 14th Street between Providence Road and Claycomb Road following the passage of Ordinance 2008-18. The three readings of the ordinance were unanimously waived.

Motorists will not be allowed to park on either side of West 13th Street from Main Street to Lincoln Streets. The council also waived the three readings of this ordinance on a 6-1 vote, with Council member Doug Sturm voting against final approval.

Ordinance 2008-17 failed to receive enough votes to become law. The ordinance would have eliminated the midnight to 5 a.m. parking restriction on the north side of Fairgrounds Avenue to the city limits.

B.J. Woehler, whose family owns the trailer court on the north side of Fairgrounds Avenue, told the council that parking stalls cannot be put on the property due to limited space. He asked council to allow residents of the trailer court to park on the street.

Council member Sturm said that past councils have not allowed parking exceptions in other areas of the city and did not feel this council should make an exception to the current restrictions.

Brent Doring, who lives in the neighborhood, said that while he David Simonsen, Executive understood Woehler's situation, he concerns with children in the area. The council unanimously approved an ordinance amending the zoning map regarding Burmood Acres Subdivision and approved the preliminary and final plat for the subdivision.

The council did discuss the city code language that requires subdivisions to make a contribution to the "City Park Fund." Although a park would not likely be constructed in the subdivision, a cash contribution could be used for park improvements in other parks in the city.

No action was taken on an ordinance that would allow ATVs on city streets.

Council members discussed safety issues with the use of the vehicles, licensing issues and whether to allow only city use of the ATVs.

Negotiations will continue with two firms who could bring a pilot wastewater treatment plant to Wayne.

The council has agreed to postpone a decision on what type of system to construct in the city until they have had the opportunity to view the systems in action through the winter.

The council voted 6-1 to provide a $5,000 contribution to the Wayne Works Marketing Campaign. Council member Verdel Lutt voted against the contribution which will provide brochures, TV and radio announcements and newspaper advertising in an effort to promote the city of Wayne.

The council voted 7-0 to reserve funds from the current city budget for the purchase of a police car in the next fiscal year. Without the council's action, the money would have gone into the General Reserve and would not be able to be used for this purpose in the future.

In other action, the council approved the final plat for the Western Ridge II Subdivision and adopted the new official zoning map.

The council will next meet in regular session on Tuesday, Oct. 7 at 5:30 p.m.

NECC Board approves budgets

Community College Board of successful completions of the capi-Governors has approved a budget tal campaigns. It is anticipated that was revised from its original draft. The Board approved the tentative 2008-2009 budget at its July meeting. But after considerable study and discussion, the Board for the two facilities. An additionhas approved a slight increase in its property tax levy using the authority given it by the 2007 Legislative re-write of the community college funding formula.

According to Lynne Koski, vice president of administrative services at Northeast Community College, the total levy for 2008-2009 is $.090000, including a mandatory capital construction levy of $.0100. Koski said the owner of a home in Northeast's 20-county service area with a taxable value briefed in committee at the July of $100,000 would pay $90 per year to support Northeast Community College, compared to $82.30 last 'that, in spite of cost increases in year.

The 2006-2007 tax levy for Northeast's 20-county district was $.090421.

ent budgets for fiscal 2008-2009 at its regular meeting Thursday Ken Echtenkamp, chairperson of afternoon. The General Operating Budget was set at $29,815,484, Capital Improvement Budget at $3,426,420, ADA/Hazardous Material Budget at $29,234, and Other Funds Budget at $36,915,829.

Koski said the total for all budgets for 2008-2009 is $70,186,967, compared to $52,907,381 last year. "The vast majority of the increase is in the Other Funds budget. That budget has a $14.3 million increase for next year. These are restricted, non-tax-supported dollars that come from the capital campaigns for new building projects and proceeds from revenue bonds issued by the Facilities Corporation for the new College Welcome Center that is under construction."

Currently Northeast Community College is conducting a $12.9 million capital campaign for a University of Nebraska Medical Center College of Nursing Northern Division on its campus in Norfolk and a $3.5 million capital campaign for the College Center of South Sioux City, a joint facility with Wayne State

Both are contingent upon requests for curricular programs, that a portion of the funds raised through the two campaigns will be expended during 2008-2009 during the initial phases of construction al $1.1 million is an increase in Restricted Funds due to anticipated expenditures from a federal grant program.

"We must be sure our budget is high enough to provide us adequate budget authority. Because we cannot exceed that budget authority, we estimate as closely as possible so we do not over-expend, which is a violation of state statutes," Koski said.

"The Board of Governors was meeting about the tentative 2008-09 budget, and it was determined energy, insurance, employee salaries and benefits, and opening new regional education center in West Point, it would be pos-The Board approved four differ- sible to hold the line by setting the tax levy at last year's rate," said the Board of Governors Finance Committee.

the Board of Governors decided to increase the levy to near the maximum levy rate for the ensuing fiscal year. This decision was reached with great consideration and with a consensus of the Board."

"Because state aid is based primarily upon enrollments, it was felt the additional tax dollars for new and expanded curricular programs would result in increased student enrollments and thus increased state aid," Echtenkamp said.

"While it is never easy to raise property taxes," said Dr. Bill R. Path, president of Northeast Community College, "the Board did so only because need dictates it. When the Board took a long, hard look at unfunded, important requests from the faculty and staff for 2008-2009, the Board felt it would be negligent not to use the authority given it to raise our levy to near the maximum allowable rate."

"The Board felt that it would be extremely difficult to ever ask the Legislature for more money when we are not using the maximum local levy allowed us to finance our operations," said Keith Harvey, chairperson of the Board of Governors. "By increasing our general fund levy from the originally planned $.0723 to $.0800, we will generate additional income to meet some of the urgent needs on

Missouri River Outdoor Expo is scheduled

The fourth annual Missouri River Outdoor Expo will run this weekend, Saturday, Sept. 20 and Sunday, Sept. 21 at Ponca State Park. Each year, Nebraska Game and Parks Commission, Scheels All Sports and other organizations work together to provide the event where outdoor enthusiasts can learn and participate in many activities.

The event is for all ages, for families and individuals. Expo hours are from 9 a.m. to 6 p.m. on Saturday and 10 a.m. to 4 p.m. on Sunday. Food vendors are available at this event. Last year, over 38,000 people (most of which were families) attended.

Besides hands-on activities, there will be exhibits, seminars and demonstrations on topics such as fishing, hunting, game calling, camping, outdoor and game cooking, trapping, wildlife and the arts, outdoor survival, wildlife watching and optics, bird dog training, canoeing/kayaking, biking, outdoor photography, fish and wildlife management, live fish display, fly tying, conservation history, hunter ethics, firearms safety, habitat stewardship, shooting sports (shotgun, pellet rifle, muzzleloader, and archery), and many more.

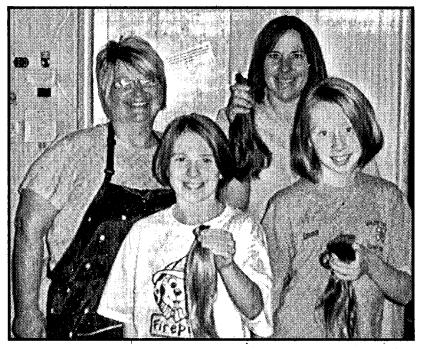

All the activities at this event are free to the public. Prize drawings and special discounts will be offered. A valid Nebraska Park Entry Permit is required. Free hayrack shuttles to different venues and through Ponca State Park's early fall colors are available.

Wayne drops to 0-2 overall, Wakefield now 1-1 Wakefield shuts out Wayne 28-0 on Friday

By Casey Schroeder

On the outside, Friday night's cross county matchup appeared as nothing more than a game in which two winless teams were in search of a needed victory.

While Wayne failed to accomplish the feat of securing a win as they were defeated 28-0 by Wakefield, the No. 8 Trojans, however, reestablished themselves as a top contender in Class C-2 after they fell to No. 6 Plainview last week.

"Overall I was happy with the shutout, even though we missed a lot of reads we flew to the ball better than last week," said Wakefield head football coach Justin Smith.

"Offensively, we didn't shoot ourselves in the foot as much, but we still missed too many assignments."

After an offensive stalemate in the first quarter in which neither managed to score, Wakefield opened the second quarter with a two play drive that was capped off a couple of costly interceptions when we were in their end of the field," said Wayne head football coach Kevin Finkey.

"I really think these things will decrease with experience."

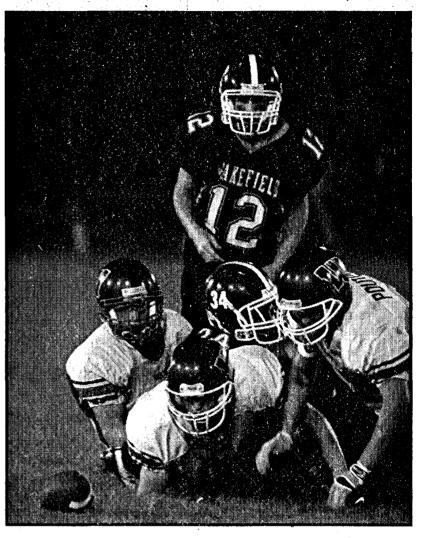

Following Clay's interception, the Trojans drove the length of the field and recorded their second touchdown of the night on a four yard keeper by Clay that was further complimented by a Reyes field goal to make it 14-0 with 5:41 left in the quarter.

After giving up two touchdowns to Wakefield, Wayne regained possession of the ball, but failed to capitalize forcing them to punt after going three-and-out.

However, Wayne's attempt to create some needed space between the Trojans' and the endzone failed as Wakefield's Chris Matias blocked the ensuing punt with 3:53 left in the quarter.

With excellent field position Wakefield capitalized on the opportunity that was granted to them as they moved 41 yards before Clay

Wayne was paced by Brittney Peterson with a 55-51 (106) while Jessica Farmer tallied rounds of 54-55 (109).

Justeen Powell followed at 57-53 (110) and Lisa Temme carded 60-57 (117).

Taylor Burke also competed for the Blue Devils but her 63-57 (120) was not included in the team scoring format of play five, score four.

The Blue Devils finished as runners-up to Elkhorn Valley who edged the Blue Devils by two strokes 213-215.

Lauryn Braun and Farmer tied for third place honors with 53's while Burke carded a 54.

Powell finished with a 55 for the team score of 215.

Other Blue Devils who made the trip, but where not included in the scoring were Temme (61), Ambre Ruzicka (61), Kara Potter and Alexis Reinert.

Wayne will compete at the Humphrey St. Francis at 80 with Hartington Cedar Catholic Triangular on Thursday, Sept. 18 before playing at the Boone Central Invite on Saturday, Sept. 20 and Columbus Lakeview Triangular on Tuesday, Sept. 23.

Following a Uvaldo Reyes field goal, the Blue Devils took possession of the ball and looked to move down the field.

But the Blue Devils never got the opportunity to do so as Wayne's quarterback Justin Anderson was picked off by Wakefield's Chad Clay on the Trojans' 32 yard line.

The Trojans would later cap off the drive with a Reyes' field goal to take a commanding 21-0 into halftime

Statstically, Clay led the Trojans' ground game with 16 carries for 100 yards and two touchdowns while Alleman touched the ball 11 times for 71 yards and one touchdown.

In addition to his 100 yards on the ground, Clay also accounted for 80 yards through the air as he went 7 for 14 in passing.

Leading the Blue Devils on offense in the loss was Dexter Brown with 97 yards on 13 carries. Wayne's air attack was led by Brown who completed 3 of 9 passes for 21 yards.

Wakefield can next be seen in action this Friday when they travel to Lutheran High Northeast in Norfolk for a 7 p.m. game.

lowing her outstanding performance at the SBU Bearcat Challenge.

Hefner, a 6-1 sophomore middle blocker from Archer, Neb., averaged 3.81 kills and 1.25 blocks per game in helping the Wildcats to a 4-0 tournament record.

She led WSC in kills in three of the four matches over the weekend, highlighted by a weekend-high 17 kills with seven blocks in a 3-1 win over Texas A&M-Commerce on Sept. 5.

She also posted 15 kills and three blocks in the Wildcats 3-1 win over the previously undefeated Arkansas Tech.

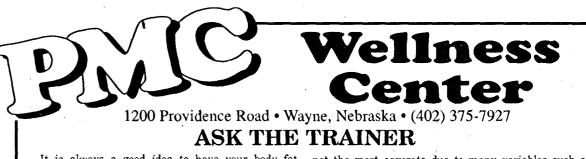

Wessel, a 5-8 senior outside hitter from Humphrey, Neb., also had a steller weekend in helping the 'Cats to a 4-0 record at the SBU Bearcat Challenge.

She averaged 3.75 kills and 1.81 digs per game in four matches, recording 10 or more kills in each victory.

Her top match was against Rockhurst College on Sept. 5 where she pounded out 22 kills while hitting .375 in a 3-2 win.

For the weekend, Wessell hit .306 in four matches.

It is always a good idea to have your body fat assessed when you begin an exercise program. Knowing your body fat percentage will help you determine if you are gaining lean muscle or just running and dieting it all away in an attempt to simply change your scale weight.

There are several ways to measure body fat percentage, but two common ways use either calipers or electricity. Using electricity to get your body fat percentage sounds painful, but bioelectrical impedance analysis or BIA is a pain-free and very fast way to estimate body fat. These machines are generally hand-held or used in a scale and can be done with limited training. The technology uses a low voltage electrical current to measure the amount of time to travel from one electrode to another. Since muscle contains more water than fat it is a better conductor and will have less impedance. The machine measures the impedance and estimates body fat. This process is easy and fast, but not the most accurate due to many variables such as hydration and machine quality.

The next method uses skin-fold calipers to measure the amount of subcutaneous fat. This method requires a skilled assessor and is a little more time consuming than BIA. The advantage is more accuracy due to more con-trol of human variables. With this method, marks are made on specific areas of the body and the amount of fat is pinched, measured, and recorded. The numbers are then plugged into formulas along with other data to estimate body fat percentage.

Both of these methods have their pros and cons, but accuracy is a good thing and can help you get your new healthy lifestyle started on the right foot. Call now to schedule your assessment at P.W.C.!

Eagles stuffed 53-8 by #3 Tigers on Friday night.

Allen

Ewing

By Casey Schroeder

After last week's 58-22 loss to No. eight Dodge, the Allen Eagles hoped to turn their season around when they squared off against the No. 3 Tigers on Sept. 12 in Ewing. However, Ewing proved their worthiness of the No. 3 ranking bestowed upon them as they defeated Allen 53-8. "There is not much to say about what happened on Friday," said Allen head football coach Dave Uldrich.

"If you were there you saw it. We did not play with intensity and unity and that will be our number one objective to fix."

The game was never close for Allen, as Ewing relied upon a potent dosage of high powered passing and a tough running to hang 22 points on the Eagles, before closing out the half with a 47-0 lead.

Offensively, the Eagles struggled all night to gain yardage and found little success as the Tigers' defense held Allen to just 179 yards of offense on the evening.

"Our execution everywhere was poor, and that must change as we enter the district loop," Uldrich said.

Despite Allen's poor execution, the Eagles did, however, manage to get on the scoreboard as Scott Wilmes found the endzone on both a nine yard touchdown run and two-point conversion 'attempt to make it 58-6 with 6:53 left in the game.

Wilmes led the Allen ground game with 11 carries for 71 yards and a touchdown while A.J. Williams added 41 yards on five carries before being injured.

Heath Roeber completed just 4 of 11 passes for 76 yards with Cody Stewart, Corey Klug, Williams and inning. "We came out in attack mode, but didn't make adjustments to the pitching changes they made, Sweetland said.

"I think the girls really wanted to get a run rule victory, but the lack of hitting adjustments didn't allow it."

Leading the Blue Devils' offensive charge in the first inning was Jessica Calhoon with a double while Alesha Finkey and Nicole Rauner both added an RBI single.

While Finkey and Rauner opened the game with a pair of runs scored, it was Caitlin Fehringer who closed out the inning with a single that returned both Riley Hoffart and Michelle Jarvi to home plate for two additional scores.

Defensively, Jarvi (6-2) earned the pitching win as she gave up just three hits and one unearned run while striking out eight in two innings of work.

Prior to the Blue Devils' 7-1 victory over Tekamah-Herman on Thursday, the Blue Devils' dealt out a 1-0 loss to Columbus Lakeview on Sept. 9 in Columbus. Highlighting Wayne's offense in the win over Columbus was Kristin Carroll who was credited with a triple and the Blue Devils' only score of the night.

Defensively, Jarvi pitched a complete game for the Blue Devils, but suffered the pitching loss as she gave up one hit and two walks while only striking out seven.

After falling to No. 6 Clearwater-Orchard 48-20 last week, Winside dropped their second consecutive game of the season to a ranked opponent as No. 1 Howells downed the Wildcats 36-6 on Sept. 12 in Winside.

The Wildcats were unable to contain All-State prospect Clint Belina as the Howells' tailback accounted for five first half touchdowns while only using 17 carries to amass 282 yards on the ground in the 36-6 loss.

Belina scored the first of his five touchdowns with 10:58 remaining in the first quarter before he added an additional 71 yard touchdown run, to give the Bobcats a 12-0 lead with 2:33 left on the clock.

The Bobcat runner then went on , to add three touchdowns before halftime to give Howells a commanding 36-0 lead at intermission.

The Wildcats' only score of the night came with 8:23 left in the fourth quarter on a two-yard run First downs by Kalin Koch after the Wildcat junior set the table on the previous play with a 45 yard gain from the line of scrimmage.

Koch finished the night with 81 yards rushing on 16 carries while also adding 48 yards in pass receptions and 59 yards on kick-off returns to lead the Wildcat offensive effort.

Michael Lage, starting his first came at quarterback, accounted for 108 all-purpose yards as the Wildcat sophomore was six of 12 for 71 yards passing, gained 23 yards rushing on nine carries and added another 14 yards on two kick-off returns.

Second day woes find WSC men's golf in seventh place at NSIC Championship

By Casey Schroeder

4B

The Wayne State College men's golf team with only three meets under their belts is currently in seventh place after they completed 36 holes of the 2008 Northern Sun Conference Men's Golf Championships on Sept. 14-15 in Woodbury, Minn.

The Wildcats held the team lead after 18 holes on Sunday with a 294 and then concluded Monday's action with a 313 to finish the twoday event with a total of 607 for seventh out of 11 teams.

WSC's team total of 294 on Sunday was the second-best score ever recorded by a Wildcat men's golf team for 18 holes.

This year's total of 294, trails only the 287 that was shot by the 1980's men's squad in the first round of the NAIA District 11 Championsips that were held at the Wayne Country Club on May 1, 1980.

St. Cloud State currently holds a one stroke lead over Minnesota State 589-590 after 36 holes while Bemidji State is in third place at 593 and Augustana and Upper ' Iowa are tied for fourth at 598.

Individually, sophomore Adam Fields is tied for ninth after 36 holes with a 148 after carding rounds of 69 and 79.

Fields' total of 69 on Sunday tied the WSC school record for 18 holes which is currently shared by five different players.

The most recent to achieve the feat was Tim Hornbeck on Sept. 4, 2003 at the Supertel Invite at the Wayne Country Club.

Other WSC scorers inluded Jake Hirz, who's tied for 20th with a 151 (73-78) followed by Tyler DeJong who is also tied for 23rd after shooting rounds of 78 and 74 for a 152.

Senior Blake Thompson shot a 74-83 for a 157 and is tied for 39th while freshman Tyler Thompson carded rounds of 84-82 (166) and is tied for 50th.

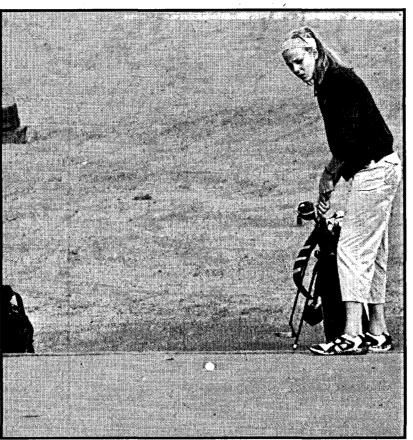

The second of these three rounds will be held on Sept. 29-30 at the Hastings Country Club in Hastings, Minn., with the final round held next spring at The Jewel in Lake City, Minn., on April 12-13.

Wayne State will travel to Sioux City, Iowa on Sept. 22-23 for the Briar Cliff Invitational at the Dakota Dunes and Green Valley Golf Courses.

Listed below are the team standings and individual results for WSC.

Team Scores: 1. St. Cloud State, 295-294--589; 2. Minnesota State. 301-289--590; 3. Bemidji State, 306-287--593; 4. Augustana College, 310-288--598; 4. Upper Iowa, 302-296--598; 6. WSC women's soccer shows 'heart' in 7-1 loss to Dana

By Casey Schroeder

Winning is never easy. The old saying proved to hold true for the Wayne State College women's soccer team who recently fell to 0-6-1 following their 7-1 loss to Dana College on Sept. 14 in Wayne.

While WSC eventually lost the game to Dana, the 'Cats, however, held their own early on as they only trailed the Vikings 2-1 going into halftime.

"We are a team of heart and courage." said WSC women's head soccer coach Brook Bredenberg. "No matter what circumstances we come across, these girls give it their all."

In the first half it was Dana who gave it their all as they used a penalty kick by Aimee Kersigo and an unassited goal by Kara Fox to jump on top of a 2-0 lead.

However, the 'Cats were quick to strike back as WSC's Erin Fullmer scored her first goal of the season can," Brendenberg said. "When they play together and talk they do some amazing things. Working together and for each other is key."

The Viking's were led on offense by Michelle Mullen with three goals while Kersigo recorded two scores in the win.

Defensivly, Dana saw goalkeeper Chelsea Griffin earn the win as she gave up only one goal while making eight saves. For the Wildcats, Emily Walker took the loss in the net as she allowed seven goals while making only nine saves.

Prior to the Wildcats' loss on Sunday, WSC opened the week with an 8-1 loss on Sept. 10 to the University of South Dakota in Vermillion, S.D.

South Dakota scored four goals in each half, compared to WSC's one that came as a result of a Valerie Robinson penalty kick at the 56:55 mark in the second half.

By Casey Schroeder

After going 2-0 in the first two weeks of the college football season, the Wayne State College football team suffered their first loss of the season as they were defeated last Saturday by St. Cloud State 31-17.

."Believe it or not we played better this week then we did against Moorhead," said WSC head football coach Dan McLaughlin.

"They were better athletes than we've seen and they were faster and that makes a difference. You have to give the other team credit. they did well"

The Huskies maintained possession of the ball for a majority of the contest, owning the ball for 37:24 compared to 22:36 for the Wildcats.

St. Cloud State used the opening drive of the game to march 65 yards down field on 11 plays to take control of a 7-0 lead following a five-yard run by Husky junior quarterback Mitch Watkins with 8:53 left in the first quarter.

Following the Huskies scoring drive, WSC scored on back-to-back possessions late in the first quarter and early in the second to take a 14-7 lead.

The Wildcats' defense created the first scoring opportunity for WSC as defensive end Troy Pribnow sacked Watkins which forced a fumble that was recovered by defensive tackle Darius Davis at the St. Cloud State 16-yard line.

The Wildcats then scored three plays later when Frederick Bruno found the endzone on a five-yard run to tie the score at 7-7 with 1:32 left in the first quarter.

After WSC forced the Huskies to punt, the Wildcats took their only lead of the game when quarterback Silas Fluellen connected with Brian Chapman on a five-yard touchdown reception, which capped a seven-play, 59 yard drive, giving WSC a 14-7 lead with 10:43 to go in the first half.

St. Cloud State closed the half with two scores to climb on top of a 17-14 lead at halftime as the Huskies used a Brian Cristan 20yard field goal to close a 14-play, 61 yard drive midway through the second quarter to cut the Wildcats lead to 14-10 with 4:20 left in the half.

After forcing a Wildcat punt, the Huskies then marched 76 yards on eight plays in the final 1:30 of the half where they scored on a two-The Coyotes held a commanding yard pass from Watkins to Tony Parker with just 21 second left in St. Cloud State had 313 yards of offense in the game to just 220 for WSC.

The Huskies had 112 yards rushing and 201 passing while WSC finished the day with 101 yards on the ground and 119 passing.

Penalties hurt the Wildcats as WSC was flagged seven times for 68 yards with five of those penalties resulting in St. Cloud State first downs.

"We can't have so many silly penalties," McLaughlin said.

"But the simple fact is when you play a team that's as good or better than you are physically or athletically then you have to play very well to beat them, if they're playing well."

Watkins led the Husky offense in the win as he completed 13 of 21 passing attempts for 201 yards with two touchdowns and one interception while he also accounted for a pair of rushing touchdowns.

Offensively, WSC was led by Fluellen who completed 8 of 21 passes for 119 yards and one touchdown.

Travis Rhone was the top receiver with three receptions for 40 yards while Masters finished with two catches for 56 yards.

The top rusher for the Wildcats was Rhone with 39 yards on 14 carries and Fluellen who had 31 yards on 11 attempts.

"Offensively, I was pleased with how the option worked," McLaughlin said. "I thought we did a good job with executing that, and I was surprised that our passing game wasn't better, as our passing game is usually our strength."

The top tackler for WSC was Reeves with 13 tackles, an interception and a pass breakup while safety Matt Greenway added 11 tackles.

Wayne State will return to Bob Cunningham on Sept. 20 when they host Minnesota State with game time scheduled for 1 p.m.

Jesse Hill

Hill receives award

Jesse Hill, a 2008 Wayne Senior Legion Baseball player was recently, awarded a $500 Jim Hurlbert Memorial American Legion Baseball Scholarship provided by the N.E. American Legion to be used at a Nebraska school of his choice.

Hill is currently enrolled at the University of Nebraska-Kearney on a baseball scholarship. He is the son of Kevin and Melody Hill of Wayne.

Metro group inspires birders to flock to the region

Bird Watchers now have a new way to search for great birding hotspots in eastern Nebraska, www.nebraskametrobirding.com. The new web site targets one of the fastest growing recreational activities in the country. The site was created by the Nebraska Metro Group, a regional partnership between Cass, Dodge, Douglas, Lancaster, Sarpy, Saunders and Washington counties in Nebraska. Birding is becoming an increasingly popular niche within the tourism industry. In Nebraska there are over 400 species of birds and over 400 public and private birding sites. These sites are tremendous tourism assets and the Nebraska Metro Group feels by reaching out to the birding community it also boosts the regional economy. The U.S. Fish and Wildlife Service estimates over 20 million people spend an average of 14 days a year traveling to observe wild birds. The new Metro web site features information such as a regional bird calendar and must-see birding locations in each county. Birders are also encouraged to revisit the web site to share their Metro birding experiences through pictures and stories. Lodging, attraction, and dining information is also available through a link to each county's web site.

After a dominant performance against Lutheran High Northeast in week one, the Laurel-Concord Bears resumed action last Friday night in Plainview where they were defeated 21-7 by the sixth-ranked Pirates.

"My team did not come out on top," said Bears' head football coach Terry Beair.

"I am pleased to see my players compete to the very end. We made mistakes as a staff and as players, but the important thing is that we learn from them and get better."

While Plainview entered the game as the No. 6 team in Class C-2, the Bears shutdown the Pirate offense early on as both teams were tied at 0-0 going into the second quarter.

After a slow start in the first quarter, the Pirates opened up the second quarter with a two-yard touchdown run and a successful extra point kick to take a 7-0 lead into halftime.

Following the intermission break, the Pirates continued to bully their way down the field as they used a one-yard touchdown run to close out the third quarter with a 13-0 lead.

"The defense was on the field too much and with a team like Plainview you need to keep their offense off the field as much as possible," Beair said.

After three quarters of keeping Plainview's offense in check, the Bears' defense finally broke in the fourth quarter as they allowed the Pirates to score on a 33 yard run to make it a 21-0 game.

However, Laurel-Concord responded back with a touchdown of their own as Justin Hart carried

Results given from Norfolk Race Series

Scott Blair returns to racing form after an extended time off the bike to take part in the final Norfolk Race Series Time Trial of Sept. 2, turning in a very respectable time of 33:27 over the 12 mile course and an average speed of 21.52 mph.

Duane Blair maintained his string of victories with a win in the A-Race and Dennis Smith capped his year with a win in the final B-Race. Race regular Mark Herzinger crashed on some loose gravel in one of turns, and Jan Hake earned the "Eagle Eye" award for being the only one to notice a certain feature along the race course.

Congratulations to all participants in the 2008 TT series, which continues in 2009 bigger and better than ever. Scouting reports indithe ball 32 yards downfield for a Laurel-Concord touchdown.

The Bears would later convert on a Josh Anderson field goal to bring the final score to 21-7.

Justin Hart led the Bears' offense carrying the ball 25 times for 157 yards and one touchdown while quarterback Travis Nelson completed 8 of 20 passes for 77 yards.

Laurel-Concord will return to action on Friday, Sept. 19 when they host Neligh-Oakdale with kick-off scheduled for 7 p.m.

DORCAS SOCIETY

Shirley Mann presided at the Sept. 4 meeting of Peace United Church of Christ Dorcas Society.

Seven members and Pastor Olin Belt were in attendance. Mrs. Mann read "Footprints" and Pastor Belt gave the opening prayer.

Shirley Mann was hostess and the group sang her favorite hymn, "God Will Take Care of You."

During the month, a get-well card, baby congratulations and a sympathy card were sent.

The Happy Birthday song was sung for Pastor Belt, Shirley Mann and Ramona Puls.

The Dorcas Society received an invitation to the Northeast Nebraska Women's Assembly on Sept. 9 and information on New Tribal Missions. They also received a thank you from Vicki Walker.

The secretary's and treasurer's reports were given and accepted. The women thanked the hostess and closed with The Lord's Prayer. Lorelei Belt had the lesson for Mary Jochens, who had been ill.

They studied the life of Jael. The October hostess will be Ramona Puls and Lolamaye Langenberg will have the lesson. HOSKINS SENIORS

Hoskins Senior Citizens met at the Community Center on Sept. 9. Winners at pitch playing were Ed Gnirk, Lucille Krause and Shirley Mann. A no-host lunch followed. The next meeting will be Tuesday, Sept.

HOUSE NUMBERS

The Hoskins-Woodland Park Rescue is asking the residents of Hoskins to PLEASE put their house number on their mailbox or on the front of their house.

It is very important for them to be able to find the proper residence in a short amount of time in the event of an emergency. RESCUE TEAM

The Hoskins-Woodland Park Rescue is looking for people who would be interested in joining their team.

At present, there are only eight people to cover both units. They are in dire need of help, in order to keep these unit running.

Requirements to become an EMT are: 1) you must be 18 years of age or older; 2)127.5 hours of classroom time and five hours of lab.

It they get six local people interested, they can have their own class in Hoskins and the class can meet whenever the students and teacher decide. The cost of the class is $585.01, but this will be picked up by the rescue unit, with the understanding that the student

Project Extra Mile-Wayne County coalition meets

By Lynn Sievers Of the Herald

The Project Extra Mile - Wayne County coalition meeting was held on Friday. Steve Shear, Wayne coordinator, discussed items on the agenda that included the following:

•Amethyst Initiative, which is an organization of U.S. college presidents and chancellors that in July launched a movement calling for the reconsideration of U.S. drinking age laws, particularly the minimum age of 21 as established nationally by the National Minimum Drinking Age Act of 1984. The group would like to see the age rolled back from 21 to 18.

Shear noted research has shown there are more than 1000 lives saved each year since the age has been 21. Why would college presidents do this? Shear added that college presidents and chancellors want to teach responsible drinking as they believe it will change behavior.

He continued that that way of thinking is somewhat hypocritical. He pointed out that some kids below the legal age to use tobacco, still obtain and use tobacco. However no one is suggesting that the legal age for use of tobacco be lowered and kids should just be taught to use tobacco more responsibly.

•Household permissiveness and drinking. Shear noted that youth living in permissive households are more likely to drink heavily than those from nonpermissive households, according to a longitudinal survey of youth attending South Dakota schools.

Overall, 10 percent of youth lived in a permissive household and 10 percent lived in a nonpermissive household, based on the youth' reports of whether their parents would be upset if they drank or used marijuana, kept track of their whereabouts, or set curfews. Three-quarters (76 percent) of at Journey Christian Church in youths from permissive households Wayne.

reported heavy drinking in the ninth grade, compared to only eight percent of youths living in nonpermissive households.

•An argument that is heard often is that at 18, if you're old enough to die for your country, you should be old enough to drink. Shear said the military is not suggesting that is a good idea. He cited a news article from Fort Bliss, Texas that stated that there were too many drunken-driving crashes, arrests and fights so the new commanding general raised the drinking age on base from 18 to 21, which is what has been the law in the rest of Texas since 1986. And, the soldiers are barred from going across the Mexican border to Juarez.

Shear cited other articles that showed how public safety has increased since the drinking age has been 21. Shear noted that young people are risk takers and adding alcohol in the mix is like throwing fuel on a fire.

Shear added that it's time to focus on strategies and collaborate with law enforcement. If rules aren't being enforced, there might as well not be any.

•He also discussed the alcopops issue and that they expect a ruling on Sept. 16 or 17. Whatever the ruling is, he expects there will probably be more action.

•A topic of discussion was developing youth groups in Wayne, which they want to do. Shear said he's in the process of getting one started in Cedar County. He added that leadership is key and that helps students want to make changes.

•Energy drinks were also discussed and it was noted that alcohol and caffeine are a dangerous combination.

The next meeting of the Project Extra Mile - Wayne County coalition is Wednesday, Oct. 8 at 1 p.m.

Allison Hedge presented a reading of her poetry on the WSC campus on Tuesday.

Visiting scholar Allison Hedge Coke gave presentation at Wayne State College

Visiting scholar Allison Hedge Coke presented a reading on Sept. 16 at 2 p.m. in the Humanities Building student lounge at Wayne State College. While at WSC, Prof. Hedge Coke visited classes and presented a public reading of her poetry.

Her books include: Dog Road Woman, American Book Award, Coffee House Press, 1997; The Year of the Rat, chapbook, Grimes Press, 2000; Rock Ghost, Willow, Deer: A Story of Survival, University of Nebraska Press, 2004; Off-Season City Pipe, Wordcraft Writer of the Year for Poetry, Coffee House Press, 2005; Blood Run, Wordcraft Writer of the Year for Poetry, Salt Publications, UK 2006-US 2007; and To Topos Ahani: Indigenous American Poetry, Oregon State University, 2007.

Of her book Rock, Ghost, Willow, Deer: A Story of Survival, Booklist has written: "This is a harrowing book. Statistics about alcoholism and family violence among dispossessed American Indians fail to show the sheer human suffering it causes and the personal heroism of those who struggle through to an integrated life. Prof. Hedge Coke writes in a stately, unashamed manner of beatings and binges, always connecting her personal sufferings to the larger questions of how Indian people can reclaim their cultural and personal pride and authority."

Poet Joy Harjo has said, "What I've always admired about Allison Hedge Coke's poetry is her astounding courage. And the ability to seamlessly weave the tobacco to perform in the World Poetry fields of childhood with the stark plains and hills of South Dakota. And more than all that-the shining spirit of compassion." Hedge Coke is a MacDowell, Black Earth Institute Think-Tank, Hawthornden Castle, and Center for Great Plains Research Fellow, and holds the Distinguished Paul W. Reynolds and Clarice Kingston Reynolds Endowed Chair in English as an Associate Professor of Poetry and Writing at the University of Nebraska, Kearney. She is a core faculty in the University of Nebraska MFA

Program and Visiting Faulty of the MFA Intensive Programs at University of California, Palm Desert and Naropa University.

She has won the Naropa Poetry Prize; the New Mexico Press Women's Creative Writing Award and several South Dakota Arts Council fellowships and awards. An excellence in literary arts Mayor's Award winner, she has also Community two earned Foundation excellence in teaching awards; the King-Chavez-Parks Excellence in Teaching Award; and the Wordcraft Circle of Native Writers and Storytellers National Mentor of the Year award. She has received a National Endowment for the Arts project award to support her directorship of a Writers Voice Program. She has served as a director for the American Indian Registry of Performing Arts and worked as an area coordinator for California Poets in the Schools.

Her volunteer work has served students of writing in all age groups and includes service on boards overseeing arts in education, educational and literary arts programs. She taught in K-12 for years and was instrumental in initiating a Native Studies program at Kilian College and the WINGS program (mentoring formerly incarcerated juveniles returning to high school) in northern Sioux Falls.

In the summers of 2005 and 2007, she performed in the world's largest poetry festival in Medellin, Colombia; in 2006 as the only woman poet from the United States Festival in Venezuela: and in fall of 2007 she will perform as the only United States poet in the Rosario International Festival of Poetry in Argentina. A speaker at the United Nations, she has participated in the United Nations Women's Peacekeeping effort. She is Cherokee (Tsalagi), Huron (Wendat), French Canadian, Metis, Creek, English, Irish, French, and Portuguese. For more information, please contact Gretchen Ronnow at 402-375-7097.

NECC plans keyboard class

Northeast Community College in Norfolk has scheduled a one-credithour class to familiarize students with a computer keyboard while making a minimal time investment.

The class, Personal Keyboarding, with course number OFFT 1990-01, is set for Tuesdays, Sept. 23-Nov. 4, from 3-5 p.m. in the Maclay Building, Room 141, on the Northeast campus in Norfolk.

Hope Beam is the instructor of this class with a cost of $78.

To register, visit www.northeast.edu or call (402)844-7265.

Books will be the student's expense up front, but they will be reimbursed after one year with the unit.

Registered nurses can run with a rescue unit on their nursing license, if they are interested in joining.

Current members of the squad encourage local residents to "please think about joining the squad, more helpers are needed."

Anyone with questions or interested in becoming a part of the squad is asked to contact Becky Lange in Hoskins or Brian Schwartz in Woodland Park.

Letters

THE REAL PROPERTY OF

Editor's note: This letter is being re-printed due to the omission of the word 'not' in the second paragraph.

Check Palin's record Dear Editor,

Before you hop on the Sarah Palin bandwagon, please examine her performance as the mayor of a town slightly larger than Wayne.

She fired a police chief whose greatest mistake was wanting to close the bars at 2 a.m. instead of 5 a.m. to keep drunk drivers off the streets. She threatened to fire a librarian for hesitating to censor books that were probably not as racy as some parts of the Old Testament. She summarily dismissed several other department heads because she "felt in her heart" that they were NOT completely loyal to her. She hired less competent cronies to replace some of them.

Then, as her crowning glory before term limits thankfully forced her to seek other opportunities, she ran up a deficit of more than $20 million on frivolous construction projects. That's approximately $3,000 for every man, woman and child in her town. One of the projects was on land to which the town did not have clear title, and the lawyers are still wrangling over it.

With that record, Sarah Palin could never have been re-elected mayor of Wayne, so why should we elect her vice president of a whole country at a crisis point in its history?

For supporting fact, you may just put "Sarah Palin," "mayor" and "scandal" into Google and you'll get all the ammunition you'd ever want. Look especially for a long letter from Anne Kilkenny, who monitored city council meetings during Palin's disastrous regime. Sincerely,

Tom Cook, Wayne

Candidates need to present ideas Dear Editor,

I received a fund raising letter recently from the McCain Leadership Committee and was shocked at the rhetoric. After lis- two new donors. tening to John McCain's speech at Republican National Convention, I expected a much different tone. In the fund raising letter he made the following accusation, and I quote; "Americans don't want to hand a victory to al Qaeda - the Democrats do." Based on what I have heard from Senator Obama, it is hard to understand how McCain could arrive at this conclusion. John McCain might believe that the Democrat's policies will have that effect, but to accuse them of wanting an al Qaeda victory is pure political hyperbole. I would say, "Americans don't want that type of electioneering - the Republicans apparently do."

The fact of the matter is that Americans need a strong dose of reality from both candidates. John McCain is not doing that. He may have a reputation for plain speaking but he is not doing that now. Regarding energy he claims that the Democrats want higher gas prices and the Republicans don't. Whether we want to admit it or not, high gas prices have finally made us think about our energy use. Nothing wakes us up like market forces leading us in the right direction. As a fiscal conservative, McCain should be touting how the market is 'working.' We are addicted to oil; McCain's policy of drilling into our reserves seems to be the equivalent of allowing more drugs into the country to keep the price down so a drug addict can stay addicted. Shame on him!

Finally, McCain accuses the Democrats of 'tax and spend' policies. Has he been asleep for the last eight years? President Bush has been pursuing a 'no tax-but spends' policy that is even more reckless. He has waged war and initiated many domestic programs with no plan to fund them; he has squandered the national surplus; he has failed to compromise on saving Social Security, and could not get his own party to vote for immigration reform.

It is time our politicians talked straight to the American people, and the first way to do it is to stop sending exaggerated fund raising appeals. Let the candidates present their ideas and explain why theirs are better. Sincerely,

Charles A. Shapiro

Capitol View Make televising Nebraska football a law?

By Ed Howard Statehouse Correspondent The Nebraska Press Association

The much-faded scribbles in a reporter's notebook, dating back to 1980, were partially legible.

The notes reflected a visit, but not an interview, with a fellow who was meandering around and about the Capitol. He was a Nebraska came to telling truth to power. The football fan on a mission.

The probably 50-something Husker loyalist was looking for a senator who would agree to introduce a bill requiring television networks to broadcast more NU games.

Our visit began after I saw that he was obviously unfamiliar with the innards of the Statehouse. A simple "Can I help you?" probably got things started.

He explained his mission. A suggestion was made that his notion might have great support among the proletariat, but was almost certainly unconstitutional.

The notes seem to indicate he figured out or was told he was talking to a reporter, that he instantly showed disgruntlement, and apparently said "all the press" was against Big Red.

Never saw him again or heard tale of him. The suspicion lingers, however, that there are still those who would endorse his views ... but that bill he wanted would still be unconstitutional!

Siouxland Community Blood Bank will supply blood to hurricane victims, urgent need for blood donations

The American Association of Blood Banks (AABB) has called upon the Siouxland Community Blood Bank (SCBB) to send units of blood to blood centers in Texas that have been affected by Hurricane Ike.

The Siouxland Community Blood Bank is a member of AABB's Disaster Task Force which means that they will act immediately to help those areas that need blood.

SCBB is urgently calling Siouxlanders to donate. There is a high demand for O+ and O- but all types will be necessary to fulfill the needs of the southern blood centers. Because the Texas residents are overcome with repairing damaged homes, clean-up efforts and trying to find the normalcy they once had, they don't have time to make their regular donations which leaves a large deficit in the blood supply.

"One thing that we at SCBB pride ourselves on is that we have loyal donors who answer the call to action," said Jan Twait, CEO of SCBB. "The fact that our donors are ready to help out others in Siouxland in a heartbeat gives us the security to know that they will readily help people who have had terrible traumas in other parts of our country. Although the residents of Texas may have lost their homes, belongings and possibly loved ones, they can be absolutely positive that the Siouxland Community Blood Bank donors will make sure they have blood."

Donating as soon as possible is the best way to ensure that the blood is available for the hurricane victims and other patients in surrounding hospitals. After donation, loco Bair the blood is tested in the SCBB lab

and shipped off within 48 hours of donation

A total of six blood centers in Texas and one in Louisiana have been adversely affected by the hurricanes. While most are able to collect blood via their mobile collection units, they will not be able to collect the quantity of blood they need to sustain the hundreds of hospitals and patients they serve.

"During our times of need other blood centers have offered their help and support in a similar manner as this," said Twait. "It is crucial that we do the same.'

To be eligible to donate individuals must be at least 17 years of age (16 with a Siouxland Community Blood Bank signed parent consent form); however there is no upper age limit as long as the donor is in good health. In addition donors need to weigh at least 110 pounds and have not donated whole blood in the past 56 days. A photo I.D. is required at the time of registration as well as a list of any medications they are currently taking.

For more information about the Siouxland Community Blood Bank, call 712-252-4208, 1-800-798-4208 or visit their website at www.siouxlandbloodbank.org

"Along with learning about ways to conserve energy and save money, the renewable energy fair will be a great opportunity for people to learn how rural communities can build on unique assets such as wind power and biofuels to create jobs and economic opportunities that help build a better future for everyone in our communities," said Chuck Hassebrook, Center for Rural Affairs Executive Director. Hassebrook will kickoff the renewable energy fair with a welcome and comments about renewable energy and rural community development.

According to Hassebrook, renewable energy is a way to bring in good paying, knowledge based jobs that will help attract a new generation of families to our rural communities. The energy fair will be a great place for community developers to learn how wind power, biofuels, energy efficiency and other related industries can play a crucial role in their community's development efforts.

When the Renewable Energy Fair concept was presented to the Cedar County Commissioners, Commissioner Marle Kraemer expressed his support by saying, "This is true economic development." Hartington Mayor Bill Yates said, "We are excited about hosting the Renewable Energy Fair in our community. I think the ideas and programs discussed will make

NECC expands digital camera classes to session on SLR cameras

Northeast Community College expands its digital camera classes with a new class on Digital SLR Cameras. The class, with course number DP 0300-03/08F, is set for Thursday, Oct. 2, from 6:30-9:30 p.m. in the Lifelong Learning Center on the campus in Norfolk. This class is for those who own or want to own a Single Lens Reflex (SLR) camera with interchangeable lenses. This class will cover the more advanced features and capabilities that the SLR-style camera offers, including the ranges of lenses available today. Instructor Chris Mannel will explain what lenses to use for different shooting situations and specialty shots that are possible with an SLR camera. Mannel will also review the many accessories available to enhance creativity and shooting abilities for changing environments. Participants will leave this class with a better understanding of the modes, functions, and settings that most influence the 'look' of the photograph. Cost of this class is $10. To register, call (402)844-7000.

Cornhusker Marching Band makes 2008 debut

The University of Nebraska-Lincoln's 290-member Cornhusker Marching Band made its 2008 debut Aug. 30 at Memorial Stadium with pregame and halftime performances at Nebraska's football season opener against Western Michigan.

Among those selected to be a part of the band is Sam Barg of Winside, a sophomore tuba player.

This year's band includes representatives from nearly every region of the country, but 80 percent of the students are from Nebraska. Approximately 25 percent of the students are music or music education majors. The remainder of the students are studying in more than 70 other degree programs across campus. Each band member passed two auditions to gain admittance to the group.

Anthony M. Falcone, associate director of bands in the UNL School of Music, is the director of the Cornhusker Marching Band. Douglas W. Bush is the assistant director of bands and assistant marching band director. Carolyn Barber, associate professor of music, is director of bands. Other band staff members are graduate teaching assistants Ryan Baldwin, Abby Rahn and Scott Winship. Nate Campbell is the band's percussion instructor and Ashlea Jurgens is the color guard instructor. Craig Falls is the instrument technician, Rose Johnson is the administrative assistant for the band program, Jan Deaton is band secretary and Nolan Schmit is the announcer.

The drum majors for the 2008 marching band are senior Douglas Bogatz and junior Jessica Thacker of Omaha and senior Chris Watson of Lincoln. The twirlers are juniors Emily Brinton of Lincoln and Jennifer Curtis of Papillion. The Cornhusker Marching Band was founded in 1879 as an ROTC unit and is one of the oldest marching bands in the nation. The Marching Red has received many honors throughout its 129-year history, including a Distinguished Recognition Trophy presented by John Philip Sousa in 1927 and the John Philip Sousa Foundation's Sudler Trophy in 1996 for high musical standards and innovative marching routines. The Sudler Trophy is the highest honor given to collegiate bands.

The Marching Red has been seen by millions of viewers on television including in 2005, when the band was featured on the NBC primetime series, "Tommy Lee Goes to College," and in 2007 on ABC's "Extreme Home Makeover: Home Edition." The band was the first collegiate ensemble to perform at all the major football bowl games (Rose, Orange, Fiesta, Sugar and Cotton)

Fall Kickoff

The TeamMates program held a pizza party on Sept. 2. TeamMates is beginning a new year and conducted the TeamMates Fall Kickoff with pizza from Snakey Jakes. Coordinator Jenny Hopkins said, "It was a time for students and their families to meet and get re-acquainted with their mentors. Thank You to Snakey Jakes for the great pizza."

Children and prescription drug abuse: drugs readily available at home

Although illicit drug use among teenagers continues to decline, emergency physicians are reminding parents and caregivers that prescription medications remain a threat to teenagers and very small children, principally because they are so readily available at home.

"The word is getting out to teens and their parents that prescription medications are dangerous when used improperly, but plenty of risk remains," said Dr. Linda Lawrence, president of the American College of Emergency Physicians. "Fatal overdoses by young people most often involve prescription painkillers, and a new study out this week in the Annals of Emergency Medicine reports that tiny children are getting their hands on these medications as well, which can be lethal at even very small doses. Adults need to monitor closely all medications in the house, and apply the same sense of caution that they would to any potentially dangerous substance."

The news on young people and drugs is mixed. A government report out this week shows a decline in all types of drug abuse by children ages 12 to 17, from 11.6

2007, though it also shows a rise of 12 percent in illicit use of prescription pain relievers among young adults ages 18 to 25. A report out earlier this year from the Centers for Disease Control and Prevention shows that despite an overall drop in illicit drug use, deaths from drug use among people age 15 to 24 more than doubled between 1999 and 2005.

And a study published this week in the Annals of Emergency Medicine reports nearly 10,000 accidental ingestions of opiates by children age six and under; study authors speculate that the actual number is likely much higher, since their study only assessed a portion of U.S. poison control centers, not all of them.

Emergency physicians offer some tips for restricting access to prescription medications:

•Keep all medications in a secure location, which may not be the bathroom medicine cabinet

·Discard any prescription medications that are left over or Rico and the District of Columbia. expired

•Alert grandparents who visit or prescriptions should always be other government agencies.

percent in 2002 to 9.5 percent in locked up and hidden away, including individual pills which curious toddlers may put into their mouths

> •Monitor your teenager's internet use for shopping on pharmaceutical websites

> •Discuss with neighbors and parents of your child's friends the importance of keeping prescription medications locked away

> "Children of all ages are naturally curious, and teenagers are especially prone to peer pressure," said Dr. Lawrence. "Parents need to emphasize to their children that all drugs can be harmful if misused. The bottom line is access: If your kids can't get the drugs, they can't hurt themselves with them."

Optimist Club schedules upcoming events

Wayne Optimist 200 met Sept. 9 a Tacos & More with the President Mike Varley opening the meeting and introducing the guest speaker for the evening, Wes Blecke Assistant Executive Director of WAEDI.

Blecke shared with the group what Wayne Area Economic Development means to the community of Wayne. He shared information about the importance of having the Wayne Works Marketing Campaign to promote Wayne to keep business in Wayne. He also shared with us how Wayne Chamber, Wayne Industries and Main Street Wayne work together to benefit the community as a whole.

Mark Clausen, Zone Lt. Gov. of Norfolk, also attended the meeting and congratulated the group for all their accomplishments and encouraged them to continue the good work.

Bob Keating updated the group as to the coming Punt Pass and Kick program on Sept 14.

Mike Varley closed the meeting by announcing that Optimist would celebrate its 10th anniversary by having a celebration including spouses and kids at the Coffee Shoppe on Sunday, Sept. 21 at 7 p.m. Members are reminded to contact Mike or Trisha at 375-2043 for reservations.

A hay bale maze, face painting and plywood cutouts are also planned for young children. There will also be concessions.

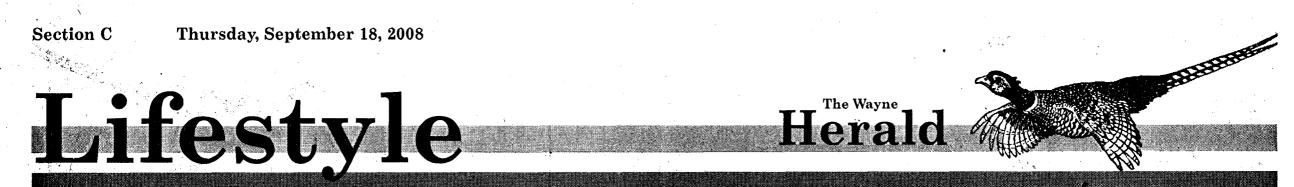

Members of Northeast's Drafting Club designed the maze while members of the Diversified Ag Club planted the corn. Northeast's utility line and electrical construction and control students will also provide lighting.

"Our first-ever Corn Maze last year was a great success," said Danny Whitlock, Drafting Club advisor. "Well over 2,000 people went through it and found it both challenging and fun. This year's will be equally as fun and challenging. Those seeking an extra thrill will love the screams heard during the Haunted Corn Maze. That takes the fun to a whole new level." Admission is free for children five and under, and $3 for children age 6-12. Those 13 and older will be charged a $5 admission. Proceeds

The next meeting of the Northeast Nebraska Reading Council will be at St. Mary's School on Jan. 27.

Smart ways to reduce food shopping expenses

During these times of high food make ends meet. It just takes a litand fuel prices, you might be asking yourself "What can I do to save money?" A smart spending plan at money-saving ideas to consider: the grocery store is one way to Spending - When you spend $60 at the supermarket one week and $100 the next, you may not realize that your monthly grocery bill is one of your biggest expenses. Save your receipts and analyze them. You will be amazed at how much you spend on groceries and how much you can save by shopping more carefully. Take the time to create a food budget and follow it.

Plan Every Shopping Outing Experts say that planning meals in advance and making detailed shopping lists can cut your grocery spending by 20 percent or more. Check your pantry before you go shopping to be sure of what you need. Review store flyers and build your list around what's on sale and the best coupon deals. Buying in bulk, when possible, can often help save money in the long run.

Stick to Your List - Grocery stores are designed to entice you to buy more with irresistible marketing. By sticking to a list, you will only purchase what you need and "get in and get out" of the store quickly.

Do Not Shop on an Empty Stomach - If you go to a supermarket hungry, you will most likely purchase more food than you need, including expensive items. As your mother said years ago and food shopping experts all agree, "Never go food shopping when you're hungry."

Eagles Auxiliary

Leave Young Kids at Home, if Possible - Young children want all of the products that are marketed to them and conveniently placed at their "eve" level. Avoid potential instore battles and try to shop alone. Break Yourself of "Brand Habits" - Generic or store brands are generally better buys. Basic commodities such as sugar, flour, tomato sauce, and paper towels are often indistinguishable when the label is removed.

Go Easy on Highly Processed Foods in Expensive Packaging-Buy the basics and add your own sugar, spices, condiments, and sauces. You'll save 50 percent or more, and feel much more creative. The closer a food is to its natural state, the less it tends to cost.

Beware of End Caps - Food items on aisle "end caps" are often attractively displayed to entice shoppers to make additional purchases; these displays are not always a shopper's bargain.

Look Up, Look Down - Items on the upper and lower shelves are often cheaper. Big brands often pay big bucks for eye-level shelf space. Don't Do All Your Shopping at the Supermarket - Toiletries, for instance, are usually cheaper at discount stores. A little comparison shopping could save you a lot of money.

Buy Fruits and Vegetables in Season - Stock up when items are cheap. Check out local farmer's markets.

Avoid Food Shopping at Convenience Stores - They are generally more expensive than supermarkets.

Don't Pay Interest on Food Bought With Credit Cards - This only increases the cost of food even more.

thinking warm thoughts...

Temps are beginning to cool and the days are getting shorter. It's that time of year when we start planning for the winter months ahead. It may be time to put away the patio furniture... or put down the fall fertilizer on the lawn.

It's also the time to plan on how to reduce energy costs for the colder months ahead. This may involve such things as weatherstrip or maybe a new storm door. Your energy savings plan should also involve taking a look at the window coverings in your home. Installing Hunter Douglas energy savings blinds and shades can make a big impact on your energy bill this fall and winter.

Heat naturally moves from warm to cold, such as the glass in your windows. As a result some experts estimate that up to 40% of all heat in the home is lost this way. Upgrading your window treatments can significantly reduce this heat loss.

shades such as Hunter Douglas Duette shades and especially the new Duette Architella shades with their patented honeycomb within a honeycomb design, actually traps air within the cells of the shade to decrease the intensity of the temperature as it enters the room. These window treatments can translate into significant saving on your utility bills, especially if you have windows with a cold northern exposure.

And gone are the days when drawing the shades for winter meant living the next few months inside a dark cave. These energy efficient shades still offer 5 levels of privacy... letting in as much light as you desire to keep your rooms bright. Plus the added benefits of helping to reduce your cooling costs in the summer, reduce noise transmission from the outside, and simply making your rooms looks great.

Discover all the benefits of Hunter Douglas shades with a visit to our professional design showroom... or set up a time with a member of our Design Team for a free in-home consultation.

House received a gift of $265 from Our Savior Lutheran Church, Wayne, during Sunday morning worship on Sept. 14.

Haven House is a private, nonprofit agency that is part of a state and national network of domestic violence programs. Haven House' mission is to empower, shelter, and advocate for survivors of domestic violence and sexual assault. In the United States, a woman is beaten every nine seconds. Domestic violence is the leading cause of injury to women. It is estimated that one third of all emergency room visits by females are related to domestic violence and over one third of pregnant women are battered. Evidence now shows that one in four high school students and one out of three college students have been abused. Funding for Haven House comes from grants, private foundations, and donations.

The gift from Our Savior was the accumulated "Dollar Door Offering" from June. Pastor Kim Rebecca Onderstal of Haven Stover said that the "Dollar Door Offering" is a simple way for members to give a little to do a lot.

"In addition to their regular offerings, members have opportunity, as they leave the sanctuary, to offer a dollar. All of us can do without a dollar, yet all of our dollars together start to add up. I've told the worshippers that if they ever need their dollar back. I will return it to them! Its just a little way to learn again that God does provide what we need. We can always give a little more and all of us together can do a lot. Sharing the gift during worship also gave the congregation an opportunity to better understand how one of its members, Rebecca Onderstal, makes a critical contribution to the lives of women in northeast Nebraska," Pastor Stover said.

Haven House is located at 509 Dearborn, Wayne. Our Savior Lutheran Church is located at the corner of Fifth and Main in downtown Wayne.

Co-ed softball games for all ages follow the barbecue at 12:45 p.m. Concessions will be available through the afternoon.

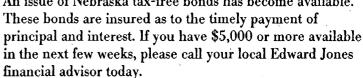

Jess Gibson, son of Brian and Shannon Gibson of Wayne, will throw out the first pitch and honorary home plate umpire Cornell Runestad will call the first pitch. Our Savior's Worship and Music Committee and Youth and Family Ministry Committee are helping with organization.

Following the event, Our Savior will apply for a matching grant from Sheridan Lutheran Church, Lincoln. Sheridan matches up to $4,000 raised by local congregations who financially support seminary students.

Lutheran pastors complete seminary with a Master of Divinity Degree, 400 hours of Clinical Pastoral Education (hospital based chaplaincy), and a 12-month supervised congregational Internship.

VAN GELDER - Jom and Stephanie (Bailey) Van Gelder of Waterloo, Iowa, a daughter, Olive Lynn, 8 lbs., 3 oz., 21 inches, born Aug. 28, 2008. Grandparents are Lynn and Barb Bailey of Wayne and Doug and Ruth Van Gelder of Cedar Falls, Iowa. Great-grandparents are Wilva Jenkins of Wayne and Margaret Cunningham of Carroll, Mary Carter of Ottumwa, Iowa, Keith Carter of Davenport, Iowa and Tom Van Gelder of Graybull, Wyo.

RETHWISCH - The Rev. Stuart and Jennifer Rethwisch of Wartburg, Ill., a son, Elijah Joseph, 8 lbs., 12 oz., 20 1/2 inches, born Aug. 18, 2008. Siblings are Lydia, Elizabeth (Lizzy) and Logan. Grandparents are Ronald and Evelyn Schilmoeller of Remsen, Iowa and Dwaine and Carol Rethwisch of Wayne.

The College of Nursing at Montana State University is in its 13th year of this program, which enhances rural women's ability to manage their chronic condition and assesses its effect on their quality of life. As one participant said, "We rural people are sometimes isolated from the real world. It was great to be part of something that not only helps yourself but others as well."

Owning a computer is not necessary, but access to a telephone land line in the home is required. Women interested in participating in the group must be physically able to use a computer, have a basic knowledge of how to use a computer, be between the ages of 35 and 65 and be living with a chronic disease such as arthritis, cancer, multiple sclerosis, diabetes or heart disease. Participants also must reside in a rural area. That is defined as living at least 25 miles outside of a town of 12,500 people or more, in or around a town of less than 12,500, or on a farm or a ranch in Montana, Idaho, Nebraska, North Dakota. Women in the project are assigned to one of two groups. One group is provided with Internet access that allows them to participate in a selfhelp support group and gain information from health teaching units and group discussions. The second group does not use computers but provides important health-related data. All groups participate in a telephone interview and complete three written mail questionnaires.

"It was a 'great' experience, especially for those who knew nothing of computers, as we were taught how to find information on the Web, how to judge if it was good or bad information, and how to gain knowledge on whatever subject you wanted," wrote one woman who participated in the computer group.

Public invited to compete for gold at the 2008 Northeast Nebraska RC&D Autumn Olympics

The Northeast Nebraska RC&D Council is planning an exciting event Monday afternoon, Sept. 22, to celebrate the 2008 National RC&D Week.

Everyone is invited to join Council members, staff, and volunteers on the first day of autumn for fun games and friendly competition through the 2008 Northeast Nebraska RC&DAutumn Olympics. This free event is open to the public and will be held at the RC&D office in Plainview, 702 E. Park Ave. Activities begin at 4 p.m., followed by an awards ceremony at 6 p.m., a free hot dog feed, and the regular monthly Council meeting. The Autumn Olympics is being spearheaded by Dennis Wacker, of Osmond, a Pierce County Representative to the RC&D Council. He said he brainstormed the idea after a challenge from Jan Jorgensen, program coordinator for the local RC&D.

He recalled his early experiences with the Northeast Nebraska RC&D: "The RC&D office is located right here in Plainview. I drove by it for 12 years and never knew what they did, besides some grantwriting," he said. "People just need a connection."

Wacker met Jorgensen a couple times before he visited the office and struck up a conversation about wildflowers, a hobby that eventually led him to head up a wellattended Wildflower Adventure Tour for the public this summer.

"The more I learned about the RC&D, I learned this is a neat, fun group with a lot of interesting, good people working to not only identify the resources we have in the area but to promote and conserve them," he said. "We work together and feed off of each other's ideas. These are super good people, who really have the best interests in mind for Northeast Nebraska."

"I have a good imagination and got to thinking: People still remember the Olympics, and Sept. 22 is the first day of fall. Once I got the idea, I just let the wheels turn."

The RC&D Autumn Olympics will feature seven games, each created to recognize some of the RC&D most successful projects in recent years. In each, the top three participants will receive an award:

• "Are You Smarter Than a Knit-Wit?" Quiz Bowl ? testing the knowledge of the RC&D program, Council, and projects, in honor of the Artist of the Month program that displays artwork, crafts, and books by area residents including several crocheted and knitted items;

•Computer Cycling ? timing the speed to race a bicycle balancing a computer monitor on its back

Mouse Relay: timing the speed to race computer mice down a series of rain gutters, also in honor of this year's huge success in the Waste Computer Collections;

•Paint Bucket Bombing: testing the accuracy of tossing a gallon paint can into a 55-gallon drum, in honor of the Household Hazardous Waste Collections that have helped rid the area's homes of environmentally damaging garbage;

•Watermelon Seed Spitting ? testing seed-spitting distance and accuracy, in honor of the Farm to Family project that helps promote area farmers' direct-marketing efforts;

Through these games, Wacker hopes to give those involved with the RC&D a fun way to get to know each other better, as well as to introduce the RC&D to more people in the public. Too many people know too little about this organization, its dedicated Council made up of 24 local volunteers, and its far-reaching projects.

NECC PTA graduation honors 12 students

Some 12 physical therapist assistant (PTA) students at Northeast Community College in Norfolk were honored recently at a special graduation ceremony for completing their course of study. Graduating from this area was Taylor Suehl of Hoskins Opening remarks were given by Jodie Rubens, PTA program director/instructor, Dr. Bill R. Path, president, and Sarah J. Dempsey, vice president of educational services. Longtime biology instructor Roger Gipson, B.A., M.S.E., was invited by the graduating class to give the commencement address. He gave the graduates several pointers as they left Northeast Community College. "Be nice....We all respond better to kindness," he said.

He also encouraged graduates to know where they want to go. "Education gives us choices," he said. "Now it is up to you to know where you want to be in five years." He also advised students not to work too fast, to proofread all their papers and notes, and appreciate Nebraska by coordinating a new project or assisting with an existing project. In addition, there is one open seat on the Council for Cedar County. If interested in joining the Council, or helping in another way, contact Jorgensen or Peters at the RC&D office at 402-582-4866.

the bigger picture. "Remember," he said, "in a month or two, today's problem probably isn't going to matter.'

He also reminded graduates that learning is where you find it. "The trick is to realize when it has struck," he said. He encouraged the graduates to keep in touch and come back and visit. He closed with the famous Motel 6 slogan, "We'll keep the light on for you."

Amanda Koch, class president, also spoke to the graduates. A slide show of class highlights, prepared by Stoddard, concluded the ceremony.

According to the American Physical Therapy Association, a physical therapist assistant (PTA) is a professional health worker who works under the direction and supervision of a licensed physical therapist. Successful completion of the national PTA examination is required by law in all but a handful of states before beginning employment as a physical therapist assistant.

Area Writers Workshop scheduled for September

Romance writing will be the focus at the annual Pen Pointers workshop to be held Saturday, Sept. 27, at the United Methodist Church of Christ in Wisner. Pen Pointers, a workshop for writers, is sponsored by Elkhorn Valley Arts Unlimited, a local organization dedicated to promoting the arts in Wisner, Beemer and Pilger.

Presenters at this year's workshop will be Stephanie Grace Whitson of Lincoln and Nancy Glaubius of Wisner, who will both present and lead writing activities. Registration will begin at 9 a.m. and the workshop will conclude around 4 p.m.

Stephanie Higgins writes under the name Stephanie Grace Whitson. Her first book, Walks the Fire, was published in 1995. Her 15 fiction titles have appeared on the Evangelical Christian Publishers Association bestseller list numerous times and have been finalists for the Christy Award, the Inspirational Reader's Choice Award and the ForeWord Magazine's Book of the Year. Her non-fiction work, How to Help a Grieving Friend, was released in 2005.

Nancy Glaubius, writing as Margo Lukas, published her first novel, Half Moon Rising, with Samhain Publishing. Her debut paranormal romance novel is available in both e-book and trade paperback. She has spent several years learning the ins and outs of e-publishing and the use of the internet for both writing and marketing purposes. Those interested in attending are asked to register by Wednesday, Sept. 24. Published authors are welcome to sell their books at the workshop. For more information or to register, contact Ina Glaubius at (402) 529-6469 or LaRayne Topp at (402) 529-6310. The registration fee will include lunch.

The United Methodist Church of Christ is a handicap accessible facility.

in Lincoln in the late 50s, I often ject, because, of course, many stuwent to church at the student chapel on the UNL campus. It was ure we served around 200 people. a great place to meet other young people, including guys! Since the dorms did not serve an evening meal on Sunday, the students took turns preparing and serving a supper in the basement meeting room there. It seems to me there was an annual banquet, also.

Anyway, I did meet some nice fellows; one, in particular, was from Madison. We lined up my roommate with his fraternity brother. That didn't take, but later, I married the fraternity brother!

The chaplain there was Pastor Al Norden, and he stayed there for thirty years! That's a long time to minister to college students, but he seemed to love every minute of it. And he was famous for his memory for names: he never seemed to forget one. I ran into him some years later, and he knew me immediately.

Tuesday, Sept. 16, he turns 90. And there was a dinner at the chapel yesterday in honor of that milestone. Different churches in Lincoln take turns serving a noon meal for the students on Sunday, and yesterday was our turn. Little did we realize that 150 alumni

There were a lot of speeches, and some good-natured reminiscing. The last one to praise Pastor

Norden was ex Senator Kermit Brashear, and he simply read a paraphrase of 1 Corinthians 13, saying that Pastor Norden exemplified Love. Then it was time for the honoree to speak. He mentioned that so many had asked about the number of marriages, etc., that he checked his records. There were well over 100 marriages, 600 plus confirmations, and 40 some adult baptisms. What a legacy! Many present were some of those he had married.

The present pastor announced that he had gone to visit the older man shortly after he came to the campus and asked how to be successful at the work. He said Pastor N said, "Just love them. Love the students and they will be there."

As you all know, college students are not always easy to love. One speaker confided that he had visited the pastor's office on more than occasion, to talk about things he could not discuss with his parents. And Pastor Norden listened, and advised, and kept it all confidential.

It was a grand occasion, and one that should take place more often. We need to tell those who have been influential in our lives while they can hear and understand, and not wait until their funerals. "The greatest of these is love", and those who practice unconditional love should be appreciated. We did that yesterday; hopefully, there will be more occasions like it.

The 10th annual 4-H Foundation Trail Ride Oct. 11-12 at the Nebraska National Forest near Halsey offers Nebraska horse riders a fun-filled weekend.

Participants will enjoy trail rides through the hills and trees, a steak barbecue, cowboy entertainment, craft making, cowboy breakfast and inspirational services, and a fund-raising auction, said Dewey Teel, UNL Extension educator in Antelope County.

Previous rides have proven to be fun and exciting for all ages as riders enjoy the forest and the Nebraska Sandhills by horseback, Teel said.

"This fun-filled weekend will include lots of fun and plenty of riding," he said.

Windmills, livestock, wildlife and wildflowers are common sites along the trails. Proceeds from the trail ride go to the Nebraska 4-H Foundation to help support 4-H activities and events.

"Plan now to enjoy a wonderful weekend riding the guided trails in the scenic Sandhills of Nebraska," Teel said. "Enjoy great meals, activities and live entertainment at the Nebraska State 4-H Camp."

The registration deadline is Sept. 26. For more information or to register, contact the 4-H Foundation Office at (402) 472-4748 or a local UNL Extension office. Information, including a registration form and schedule, also is available at http://4h.unl.edu/foundation/trailride.htm.

Schultz, Gibson, and Jorgenson families of the Elevator/Lift Committee-Mrs. Gibson discussed with the board that she had talked with the foundation president-Tracy Pierson, and she stated that the foundation would wait for a decision to be made so they can discuss putting the elevator on a funding letter. She also wanted to know the time line before the process beoins? She also stated that one of our goals for our students is to create independence in their educational environment. Any equipment which students cannot operate on their own creates dependence NOT independence. Elevator or Elevator Lift for American
