The evolution has been especially dramatic in recent years as pharmacists have moved beyond compounding and dispensing medications to become vital members of multidisciplinary patient-care

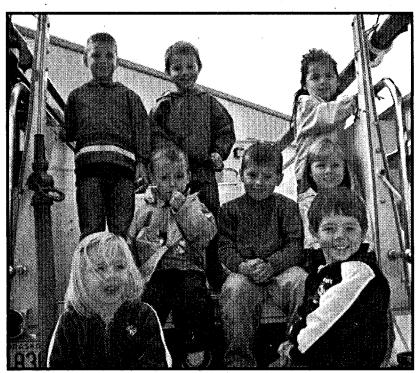

"Many consumers are not aware that pharmacists play a critical role in preventing medication errors, advising prescribers on the best drug choices, and working directly with patients to ensure they understand how to use their medications safely and effectively," said Dr. Kim Bentjen, PharmD., PMC Pharmacist.

Pharmacists are experts on the thousands of medications available today, how each one works in the

They advise doctors and nurses on the best medications and monitor every patient's medication therapy and provide quality checks to detect and prevent harmful drug interactions, reactions, or mistakes.

School board approves putting elevator project out to bid

Of the Herald

Wayne Community Schools Board of Education met in regular session Monday night.

Jodi Pulfer, board member, discussed the Wayne High School Foundation and that they have decided to support the elevator project. Dr. Reinert also discussed putting in an elevator and there should be $220,000 in the Quality Capitol Fund by fall, 2009. Nelson made a motion to put the elevator project out to bid, Pulfer seconded the motion, which passed unanimously. Pulfer noted they are committed to the project at $220,000 or less but if it costs more than that, they would have to re-evaluate the project.

It was noted that Pamida and Pamida Foundation gave a gift of $100 to Wayne Elementary School.

Bids and contracts were discussed. Board members approved low bid for monthly payment of $405 to Gill Hauling. Jeryl Nelson, board member, made a motion to accept the low bid and Carolyn Linster seconded it. Brent Jamison, a WSC student and member of Fellowship of Christian Athletes told board members they want to start a club at Wayne High School for Christian athletes. The board asked him for more information and a list of schools that have clubs for Christian athletes, which he is to bring to the next meeting.

Dr. Joe Reinert, superintendent, told the board he went to a conference in Omaha on Standards and Assessments. He noted the State is bringing in a new testing system, possibly by 2009, which will be different than what they have.

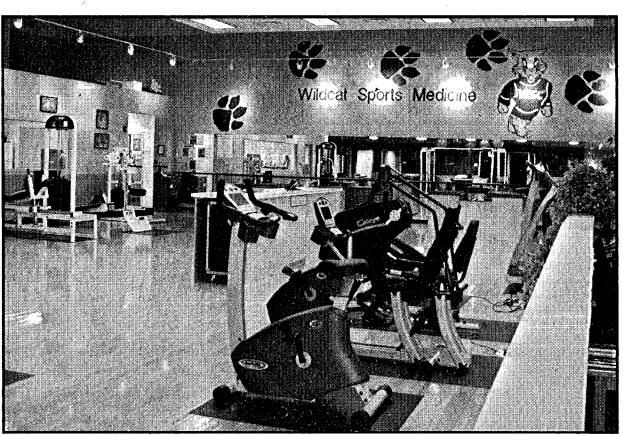

Approved was the second reading of Policy 5319 (Anti-bullying).

Dr. Reinert discussed high school choir students taking a trip to Kansas City, May 9 and 10, 2009. Mark Evetovich, board member, made a motion to approve the trip, Kelly Kenny, board member, seconded the motion, which passed unanimously.

Discussed was a 403 (b) program. A vote will be held on this at the next meeting. Due to changes in Federal Legislature on the 403 (b) program, the "Security Benefit Company" has been selected contingent on board approval.

Future agenda items include action on hiring a part time para professional in special education.

The next board of education meeting is set for Monday, Nov. 10 at 5 p.m. at the high school in

Second quarter scoring barrage guides Wildcats to fourth straight Homecoming win

By Casey Schroeder

Sporadic bouts of rainfall, boisterous crackles of thunder, homecoming hoopla and the cheers of 1,579 gold clad fans proved to be the winning formula for the WSC football team who capped off Homecoming festivities last Saturday with a 30-11 win over Bemidji State.

WSC won their fourth straight homecoming game and improved to 5-2 overall and 4-2 in the Northern Sun Intercollegiate Conference (NSIC) while Bemidji State dropped to 2-5 overall and 1-5 in league play.

"We took advantage of our opportunities," said WSC head football coach Dan McLaughlin. "When we got a chance we took care of business. We had some big plays."

Bemidii State recorded the first score of the afternoon when they used a fake punt to set up a 42yard field goal by Paul Potemra to take a 3-0 lead with 11:05 left in the first quarter.

On the Wildcats' second possession of the first quarter, WSC quarterback Silas Fluellen was sacked in the end zone by the Beavers' Luke Knutson for a safety to increase the Beavers' lead to 5-0 with 6:16 remaining in the first quarter.

"We just got to do a better job, we've talked to them about it and we've stressed it in practice and it just keeps showing up and that obviously is a thing that we got to get cleaned up," McLaughlin said.

"It was a win and we'll take it and we're glad we won and there's no such thing as an ugly win, you always take them. But, we weren't really excited afterwards about how we played."

Later in the first period, WSC stopped the Beavers' offense at the WSC 23 yard line as senior Luke Hoffman picked-off a pass by BSU quarterback Josh Williams.

On the ensuing play, WSC's Frederick Bruno took an option pitch from Fluellen and raced 77 yards downfield for a touchdown, to put the Wildcats on top at 7-5 with from 1998-2001. 53 seconds to play in the first quar-

Despite the Wildcats slow start in first quarter, WSC bounced back in the scored period, scoring the first of three touchdowns on a Travis Rhone one-yard plunge with 9:44 left that put the Wildcats ahead 13-5 after a failed extra point attempt by Nick Hope.

Later in the quarter, each team exchanged turnovers as Fluellen fumbled at the WSC 14 yard line, only to have the ball recovered by BSU's Terrell Phelps at the Wildcat 10 yard line.

On the next play, BSU tried to catch the Wildcats off guard with a little trickery as BSU's Williams tossed the ball to running back Erick Newman, who attempted a pass back to Williams.

However, WSC strong safety Greenway intercepted Newman's pass and rumbled 97 yards downfield for the touchdown to increase the Wildcats lead to 20-5 with 7:15 left to play in the half.

Greenway's interception, which is a new school record, topped the previous school record mark of 91 yards that was set by Chuck Ross in the 1971 season.

WSC went on to close out the second quarter scoring with 17 seconds remaining in the first half as Fluellen scored on a three yard run which capped of a four-play, 81 yard drive that took just 43 seconds, to give the Wildcats a 27-5 lead at halftime.

"It continues to amaze me that we can go 80 yards in 40 seconds and then we can't go 80 yards in 30 minutes of a whole half, but that pretty impressive," McLaughlin said. "We did some good things to put ourselves in position to win it."

In the second half, the lone score for the Wildcats came with 6:10 remaining in the third quarter as Nick Hope connected on a 21-yard field goal to make the score 30-5.

Early in the fourth quarter, a career milestone was achieved for WSC junior wide receiver Logan Masters, as Masters hauled in a nine-yard reception from Fluellen, to make him the all-time career yardage receiving leader at WSC.

Masters, who finished the game with four catches for 83 yards, currently has 2,468 career receiving yards, which passed Tavarus Johnson's previous school record of 2,464 yards that was amassed Bemidji State closed out game with the final score of the afternoon with 5:37 left to play as Williams hit George Kadlec on a 41-yard pass play to make the final score 30-11.

WSC finished with 365 yards of total offense compared to the BSU's

"We were inconsistent on offense Mock 1-0; Gettel 1-0; Solors 0-1; l day, we just keep doing things Pitman 0-1; Bonderson 0-1. WSC, all day, we just keep doing things too shoot ourselves in the foot and we're struggling to find some consistency and it just didn't happen," McLaughlin said.

The Wildcats gained 209 yards on the ground and accounted for 156 through the air while the Beavers had 94 yards rushing and 197 passing.

Rhone led the Wildcats on the ground with a season-high 110 yards on just 14 carries with one touchdown.

Fluellen completed 10 of 14 passes for 156 yards with Masters being his favorite target with four receptions for 83 yards.

"We just got to take it week by week and win week by week," Masters said.

Williams led Bemidji State going 17 of 30 with one interception for 152 yards. Brandon Miles topped the Beavers in rushing with 55 yards on 12 carries.

Defensively, WSC was led by Hoffman who had a game-high 12 tackles with one interception and a pass breakup.

Senior defensive end Troy Pribnow added eight stops, including 3.5 sacks and 4.5 tackles for WSC will return to action on Saturday, Oct. 18 when they host Winona State in a key NSIC South Division battle at 1 p.m. "We got Winona coming in and they have been until this year the best team in the league and it's going to be a great game," McLaughlin said.

Sorry, for the brash introdu tion to this week's column. But Casey regardless of where I have been or where I will go this football season one thing remains common, there is always someone who thinks they can do it better, rather it be from the bleachers or from the outskirts of a roped off However, unless you have coached I am sure that many of you are unaware of the amount of time that our coaches invest in their respective sports season, as it is a profession that requires a year long com-So with that, I contacted a former high school football coach of mine and asked him to give me a synopsis of what a usual year entailed when he served as both an assistant and later as a head coach.

(Pre-season)

January: Revise current playbook, researching new sets, schemes, plays, formations and review

February: Finish playbook revisions; adopt new concepts for upcoming season and reject components of last season's playbook that didn't work or were not used. Also, attend at least one coaching

March: Make final revisions to playbook. Begin to review previous season's game films; chart what opponents did (tendencies, plays, etc.) while also reviewing what we did throughout the season.

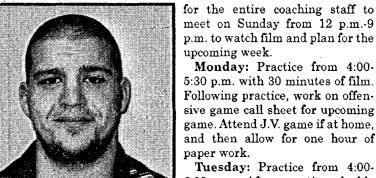

April-May: Try to take two months off, to fully dedicate time to spring sports season. Attend booster club end of the year awards athletic banquet to discuss season and announce any major award or scholarship recipients.

June: Supervise weight room at least 3-4 times per week. Also, begin planning with coaching staff. July: Supervise weight room at least 3-4 times per week. Continue meetings with coaching staff. Attend summer football camps with athletes while also setting up and conducting our own summer camp at the end of the month.

August: Attend coaching clinics, rules meetings, start serious preparations for upcoming season; depth charts, preseason practice plans, etc. (In-Season)

Sunday: Attend church, and postpone all football related activities until after brunch. Following brunch begin to break down film, and start making practice plans for upcoming opponent. Watch game film at least 2-3 times, in order to fully understand the opponent's schemes and alignments on offense, defense and special teams. Create a flip book for scout team and handout booklets (opponent's tendencies, alignments, etc) for players and assistant coaches. Also, conduct a meeting with entire coach staff to discuss and plan the upcoming week's practices and opponent.

My former coach also indicated that when he served as an assistant, that it was not uncommon meet on Sunday from 12 p.m.-9 p.m. to watch film and plan for the upcoming week. Monday: Practice from 4:00-

5:30 p.m. with 30 minutes of film. Following practice, work on offensive game call sheet for upcoming game. Attend J.V. game if at home, and then allow for one hour of Tuesday: Practice from 4:00-

6:00 p.m. After practice, double check offensive play list for Wednesday's practice. Begin to pencil out defensive alignments and automatic shift, based upon opposition's offense. Again, allow an extra hour to work on play and game preparation sheets.

Wednesday: Practice from 4:00-6:00 p.m. Following practice work on paper work, Friday night's game plan and map out Thursday's pre-game practice.

Thursday: Pre-game practice from 4:00-5:30 p.m. Attend team supper, then allow 1-2 hours to make final call sheet for Friday's game, sequence different calls for different zones of the field and then make an updated depth chart for assistant

Friday: Following a full day of classes, return to the school before the first athletes arrive. Conduct a pre-game meeting with players and assistant coaches, have athletes dress out and take field for game. Play game.

After the game and locker room has cleared out, begin to dub 3-4 copies of the night's game (a copy for each coach and one to be traded). Total statistics and email information to media outlets. Watch the night's game film and then retire home around 12 or 1 a.m. While at home, watch the film for a second time to grade and evaluate players' performances.

Saturday: Call in for local radio show at 7 a.m. Upon the conclusion of the radio interview return to the school to make personnel adjustments and then travel to exchange film with upcoming opponent. After the film trade allow 3-4 hours in the afternoon to study upcoming opponent on film. Following, another full days worth of work, attempt to watch a football game, or in most cases take a nap. (Post-season)

November-December: Playoffs if qualified otherwise begin to burn DVDs for senior players. Fill out and submit post-season honor nominee forms. Lastly, conclude season with a banquet for players and coaches.

While the afore mentioned information represents only a greater extent of what a coach may do throughout an entire year, my former coach also indicated that when you assume the duties as a coach you also become a press agent (submitting stats and doing interviews), a conspirator (checking with other coaches on opponents), a college recruiting assistant (filling out and submitting prospective student-athlete questionnaires), a figure of public ridicule and lastly a mentor (one who provides council to young men in school, athletics and life).

In closing, I hope that you have taken something from this column.

Something, that can be applied to Friday nights or any other game night when you have that sudden urge to have your so-called opinion heard from the bleachers or the outskirts of a roped off sideline.

Just keep in mind that it is our coaches who are putting in the time and not us. So cut the coaches a little slack the next time they blow a call, use poor judgment or do something that you would never do, as they've earned that right to do so.

After the Blue Devils' lopsided win over Wisner-Pilger, Wayne continued their search for a District Championship when they snuck by Tekamah-Herman 2-0.

Cassy Miller preserved the win for Wayne as she pitched a complete game where she gave up just After going 2-0 on Thursday, Wayne moved one step closer to a District title and State Softball berth when they resumed play on in the Friday District Championship.

While the the Blue Devils held their previous two opponents scoreless, Wayne failed to accomplish the feat as they edged Logan View/Scribner Snyder 7-2.

In the first inning of play, Calhoon was the first to cross home plate as she singled and then went on to score on a Rauner single.

After a scoreless second inning by the Blue Devils, Wayne used the third inning to record their second score of the day as Rauner singled and scored on a fielder's choice by Fehringer.

With only two runs scored Wayne then added runs by Fehringer, Calhoon, Finkey and Hoffart in the fourth inning to put a comeback out of arms reach for Logan View/Scribner-Snyder. In the fifth inning Wayne recorded their final score of District Tournament and secured the 7-2 win when Calhoon singled and scored on a Hoffart solo hit.

Calhoon led Wayne in hits with four and three runs scored followed by Rauner who added three hits, two RBI's and a run scored.

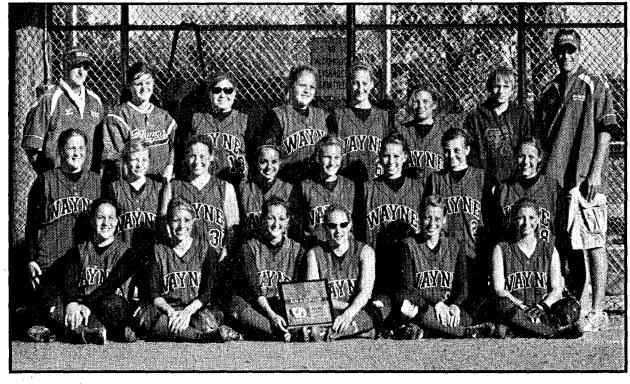

Rounding out the Blue Devils' offensive attack was Fehringer who finished with two hits and a lone run scored.

Miller earned her second win of the District Tournament as she allowed only two earned runs on five hits while striking out five.

ASK THE TRAINER

This week I am going to discuss childhood obesity. Childhood obesity is a rapidly growing problem for industrialized nations and ours is no exception. The Centers for Disease Control and Prevention found that one-third of American children are overweight or at risk of becoming overweight. This is a serious issue because children can begin to have medical problems at an early age due to being obese. Some of these problems include:

- Type II diabetes
- High blood pressure • Sleep Disorders
- Early puberty

 Metabolic syndrome • Respiratory Problems Liver disease

Eating disorders

• Skin infections The above listed medical problems do not include the emotional fallout associated with growing up obese. Children can suffer from the emotional prob to obesity such as depression and low self-esteem well into adulthood.

There is an answer to childhood obesity though and it comes in the form of a family commitment to being healthy. Parents or guardians must take responsibility and start making better choices at the grocery store. Parents must also limit screen time whether it is television or computer and increase family activity levels, This is a commitment to the future because we are at a time when the life expectancy for kids could be lower than their parents.

If you have more questions give me a call at the Providence Wellness Center. Always check with your doctor before beginning any exercise program.

Make 2008 the year you take the time to improve your overall health!

Blue Devils oust Bluejays 45-0

The Wayne seventh grade football team improved to 3-0 overall with a 45-0 win over Pierce last Thursday in Wayne. Trevor Pecena led the Blue Devils, scoring three touchdowns from 12, 45 and 48 yards while rushing for 127 yards on just five carries.

Quarterback Jalen Barry had a 67 yard kick return to start the game that led to Pecena's first score and a punt return for a touchdown that was called back due to a penalty.

Other offensive leaders for the Blue Devils included Jared Anderson who caught two passes for 37 yards.

Defensively, the young Blue Devils have yet to allow a point in three games and were led by a host of defenders, allowing Pierce only two first downs throughout the

The seventh graders will try to finish their season with a perfect 4-0 mark on Thursday, Oct. 16 when they travel to Hartington to face Cedar Catholic at 4 p.m.

Pierce rallies over eighth grade Devils

The Wayne eighth grade behind some fresh legs, jumped to a 12-0 after one half, but seemed to lose some "mustard" in the second half as a physical Pierce squad rallied for a 28-12 win last Thursday in Wayne.

Drew Carroll started the scoring for Wayne with a 37 yard fumble return for a touchdown while Brad Longe after an Eric Schoh interception and return, padded the lead with a six yard run to make it 12-0 at halftime.

A physical Pierce squad came out in the second half and shut down the Blue Devils' offense, racking up 28 points on numerous off tackle runs and an interception return.

The Blue Devils will have a chance to even their record to 2-2 this on Thursday, Oct. 16 when they travel to Hartington to face Cedar Catholic in their last game of the season.

Warriors run away with 42-3 win over Blue Devils on Friday

By Casey Schroeder

The Wayne Blue Devils (1-5) traveled to Crofton last Friday night in search of their second win of the season, only to be denied by the Warriors 42-3.

"Execution was our problem all night," said Wayne head coach Kevin Finkey.

"We did not handle the pressure from Crofton's defensive line and we had a lot of problems stopping Crofton's offensive line."

Crofton scored seven points in the first quarter before adding an additional 14 to close out the first half with a 21-3 lead.

Wayne's lone score of the night came in the second quarter when Jacob Triggs split the uprights with a 41-yard field goal.

With a comeback within in arm's reach for the Blue Devils, Crofton used the third quarter to tack on an additional seven points to extend their lead to 28-3.

"We had several new players on both sides of the ball who had to play due to injury or disciplinary action," Finkey said.

"I was happy with their efforts, but they are still really young and need some time and experience."

. In the final quarter of action, the Warriors took advantage of several

Eagles blow by Wausa 57-12

By Casey Schroeder

The Allen Eagles picked up their third consecutive win of the season as they cruised to a 57-12 win over Wausa last Friday night in Wausa.

In what turned out to be a slow paced game for Allen, the Eagles drove deep into Viking territory, only to see back-to-back penalties move them back out of scoring

"The pace of the game was really slow, although we did not play poorly, but we played a little lethargic," said Allen head football coach Dave Uldrich. "After we picked up the pace of the game, we really got a rhythm going."

The Allen defense, however, provided a second chance opportunity for the Eagles with a turnover that led to a Scott Wilmes 14-yard run. Wilmes then converted on the two point conversion to give the Eagles a 8-0 lead with 6:58 left in the first quarter.

Down by eight and with one quarter in the books, Wausa opened the second period with an offensive drive of their own as Jamie Ketelsen found the end zone from two yards out to cut the Eagles lead to 8-6 with 11:26 remaining in the first half.

With the Vikings slowly nipping at Allen's heels, Heath Roeber regained the lead for Allen with touchdown runs of 27 and 16 yards while Wilmes added a 69 yard score to put the Eagles ahead 30-6 at halftime following a pair of successful Cody Stewart two point conversions.

While Wausa struggled throughout much of the first half, one play in the second half spelled doom for the Vikings, as Roeber connected with Jacob Woodward on a 44-yard reception with 11:07 left in the quarter to increase the Eagles lead to 37-6 after a Stewart extra point attempt. Regardless of what the Vikings tried, relief was no where to be found as Wausa threw three straight interceptions on each of their following offensive possessions with all three being returned to within 10 yards of the end zone. "I have to say the defense continues to improve drastically week by week," Uldrich said.

With prime field position, Allen capitalized on the opportunity afforded to them as Roeber scored on runs of 8 and 15 yards while Bobby Adair added a two-yard touchdown to bring the score to 57-6 at the end of the third quarter.

In the fourth quarter the Allen junior varsity took the field and held the Vikings scoreless until Jeff Bloomquist found the end zone on a seven-yard run with 36 seconds left in the game to bring the final score to 57-12.

Offensively. Wilmes carried the ball 17 times for 132 yards and two touchdowns while Roeber used Sage Schwedhelm and Nelson led the Wildcats on defense with eight stops each followed by Blaine Meyer, Casey Lange and Brokaw who all were credited with five tackles apiece in the win.

Winside will travel to Osmond on Friday, Oct. 17 for a 7 p.m. game. Listed below is a box summary of

Wildcat volleyball claws their way to wins at MSU Moorhead and Minnesota, Crookston

By Casey Schroeder

The Wayne State College volleyball team dropped one spot in this American Volleyball Coaches Association (AVCA) Division II Coaches Top 25 Poll from No. 24 to No. 25 after going 2-0 on the road this weekend in Northern Sun Intercollegiate Conference volleyball action.

The No. 25 Wildcats came back from a two-set deficit to win 3-2 at MSU Moorhead in a NSIC volleyball contest that was played in Moorhead, Minn. on Oct. 11.

"We basically got outplayed in every facet of the game. We really challenged our team at the intermission and we told them that we have to have more then one or two people step it up and it has to be a complete team effort to comeback and it showed," said WSC head volleyball coach Scott Kneifl.

"They showed a lot of character coming back from a 0-2 deficit on the road against a quality oppo-

Scores of the match were 23-25, 16-25, 25-23, 25-20 and 15-9.

"Moorhead's record is very deceiving, they're probably one of the best .500 teams that I've ever p.m. NSIC contest. faced,"Kneifl said. "They're huge, they had three or was really banged up in the begin-they've lost to a lot of quality teams and a lot of their losses are against top 25 opponents." With the win, WSC improved to 16-3 overall and 6-3 in the NSIC while the Dragons slipped to 9-12 overall and 3-6 in league play. The Wildcats were led by Jennifer Hefner and Mindy Moody who combined for 37 kills in the come-from-behind win. Hefner finished the afternoon with 20 kills while hitting .400 for the match while Moody added a season-high total of 17 kills with just one hitting error to finish the match with an impressive .571 hitting percentage.

"Mindy and Jennifer had great weekends. They were phenomenal," Kneifl said.

Lea Hartigan and Brittany Van Beek also reached double digits in kills with 11 and 10 respectively. Senior Meredy Dubbs dished out prepare for the Northern Sun 21 digs followed by Tali Conference Championships in Fredrickson with 14.

"Tali came off the bench to provide us a little spark and that really helped us out," Kneifl said. "She was playing a position that she's not really accustomed to, but she really stepped it up and helped us battle back."

Other contributors for WSC included Jenna Jansen who finished the match with 60 set assists and 10 digs. Preceding WSC's narrow win over MSU Moorhead, the Wildcats opened the weekend with a 3-1 win over Minnesota, Crookston (2-15 2-6) on Friday by the scores of 25-13, 25-19, 15-25 and 25-21. Hefner led WSC offensively with 17 kills with just one error to hit .593 for the match while Moody recorded a career high 14 kills to finish with a .400 hitting average. As a team, the Wildcats hit .298 for the match compared to .168 for Minnesota, Crookston. Jansen again led the Wildcats in set assists as she handed out 43 to go with her seven digs. Tessa Wietfeld and Dubbs each finished the night with eight digs to lead the Wildcats on defense.

The 25th-ranked Wildcats will return to action on Friday, Oct. 17 when they host Winona State in a 7 "Winona is another team that ning of the year. I think they started off at 1-6, so their record is really deceiving," Kneifl said. "It's really important for us to defend our home court, and we always talk about defending our home court in league."

Fields finishes first at Hastings College Invite, Wildcats place third overall

By Casey Schroeder

The Wayne State College men's golf team finished the 2008 fall season with a third place finish out of 20 teams at the Hastings College Fall Invitational played on Oct. 9-10 in Hastings, Neb.

"This team just keeps getting better each tournament," said WSC golf coach Troy Harder. "We're looking forward to the spring season already."

Bethany College of Kansas won the 36-hole tournament with scores of 295 and 291 for a combined total of 586, to finish five shots better than Dakota Wesleyan at 591 (292-

WSC finished third with a 595, after they shot a new school record round of 291 on Thursday followed by a 304 on Friday, which is a new 36-hole tournament record for the Wildcats.

The old school record was 597 and was set by the 1980 team in the NAIA District Championship at the Wayne Country Club.

"This team will continue to break school records before they graduate," Harder said. "This is a great group of golfers to be around."

Individually, sophomore Adam Fields captured medalist honors by carding back-to-back rounds of 69 for a 36-hole total of 138, to finish five shots ahead of Hastings College's Brian Loyd (143).

"Adam continues to play solid golf," Harder said. "He hits his driver all over the golf course and still plays well. That is a sign of a very composed person and golfer."

The 138 recorded by Fields is a new school record for a 36-hole tournament, which topped the previous mark of 145 that was shot by Steve Erwin in 1980.

Fields' rounds of 69 (3-under par) also matched a school record that Fields set earlier this year and is held by six other golfers in WSC school history.

In addition to Fields, WSC had two other golfers finish in the top 20 as sophomore Tyler DeJong tied for eighth place overall at 149 while Blake Thompson tied for 18th place at 153.

Other Wildcat golfers who competed but failed to medal included sophomore Jake Hirz (156) and Keith Eriksen (159).

By Casey Schroeder

The Wayne State College men's and women's cross country teams each took third place at the UNK Pre-Regional Cross Country Meet that was held at the Kearney Country Club on Oct. 11.

Individually, two runners finished in the top 10 for WSC.

Melissa Schmit took sixth place with a time of 23:27.90 and Sarah Thomsen finished seventh overall with a time of 23:30.70.

"Melissa and Sarah competed really well for the women's team," Brink said.

"Sarah had a great last half-mile finish and moved up to right behind Melissa. They will give us a very solid one-two scoring punch at the NSIC Championships.'

"The men's team is going to be trying to win the NSIC title. It should be a real good battle between Mankato, Augustana, Minnesota-Duluth and WSC," Brink said. "It will come down to who has five guys run in really good performances.'

As a life-time resident of Wayne, I would like to urge you to support the ballot initiative which would continue the present Wayne City Sales Tax. This method of raising taxes offers benefits to our community and the life-style which makes Wayne a great place to live. The sales tax would continue to allow the city to fund needed capital improvements that would otherwise be funded by local property taxes. Also, the continued sales tax would generate funds for both general operating costs and economic development. The general operating cost would therefore require less property tax income. Increasing economic development would add property tax income from sources which do not now exist and such would also lower the property tax burden on present property own-

Continuing the sales tax in Wayne is definitely a win-win situation for all Wayne property owners and will also allow our community to maintain the benefits we now have as residents

Voting "yes twice" for the city sales tax is a vote for a positive future of Wayne and Wayne State College. Increasing job opportunities available in our community is vital in retaining and attracting people to the community, including students to WSC. The lack of employment opportunities may be the deciding factor whether someone will/or can live in Wayne and attend WSC. Attracting companies to town that would provide future career opportunities to WSC graduates is crucial for the future of Wayne. With an ever aging workforce, it is vital that we continue to develop a community that is attractive to young professionals and their families. If a new graduate is interested in staving in a community they have become familiar with as a student, let's work hard to develop career opportunities for them that would encourage them to stay in Wayne and contribute to the community.

Early detection is key in reducing breast cancer deaths

As the nation marks the annual National Breast Cancer Awareness Month this October, the American Cancer Society is encouraging women to fight breast cancer by taking charge of their personal breast health and supporting efforts against the disease.

40 and older about the importance of getting a mammogram annually to detect breast cancer in its earliest, most treatable stage. An estimated 182,460 new cases of invasive breast cancer are expected to occur among women in the U.S. in 2008, and about 40,480 deaths are expected.

detection of breast cancer through mammography greatly improves treatment options, the chances for successful treatment and survival.

Early-stage breast cancer typically produces no symptoms when the tumor is small and most treatable, so it is important that women follow recommended guidelines for finding breast cancer before the symptoms develop. On average, mammography will detect about 80 percent to 90 percent of breast cancers in women without symptoms.

"Survival rates for breast cancer are significantly higher when the cancer has not spread," said Kirsten Bruce, manager, health initiative field support, at the Cancer American Society. "Numerous studies have shown that early detection increases treatment options and can save lives. That is why it is so important for women 40 and older to get an annual mammogram."

The American Cancer Society recommends yearly mammograms and clinical breast exams for women 40 and older and a clinical breast examination at least once every three years for women between the ages of 20 and 39.

The Society also recommends magnetic resonance imaging (MRI) for certain women at high risk.

Women at moderate risk should talk with their doctors about the benefits and limitations of adding MRI screening to their yearly mammogram.

While we do not yet know how to prevent breast cancer, we do know that women who maintain a The Society is reminding women healthy weight, eat a well-balanced diet, and are physically active 45 to 60 minutes on five or more days of the week can reduce their risk of breast cancer. Also, limiting alcohol consumption can reduce breast cancer risk - two or more drinks a day may increase breast cancer risk by 21 percent.

The American Cancer Society Studies clearly show that early and its partner advocacy organization, the American Cancer Society Cancer Action NetworkSM (ACS CAN), continue to engage in activities to increase funding for the National Breast and Cervical Cancer Early Detection Program (NBCCEDP). This important program provides low-income, uninsured and underinsured women access to mammograms,

> Pap tests, follow-up care and treatment when needed. Current funding only enables the program to serve one in five eligible women ages 50 to 64 nationwide, and for the first time since the program's inception, fewer women are now being served due to flat funding rates and cuts in funding over the past five years. This lifesaving program cannot > be fully realized if eligible women can not get early detection tests due to insufficient funding. ACS CAN encourages anyone touched by this disease to let Congress know that support for the NBC-CEDP is important and that an increase in funding for this program, to $250 million this year, is vital to its continuation. The faster members of Congress make their commitment of support, the better the program can serve more of our mothers, sisters, daughters and > friends. To get involved, or to learn more about this effort, please visit http://www.acscan. org/makingstrides.

The American Cancer Society has invested more than $352 million in breast cancer research grants since 1972, and has been an important part of nearly every major breast cancer research breakthrough of the past century, including the use of tamoxifen to reduce the risk of first or second breast cancer occurrences. The American Cancer Society Cancer Action Network is also active in the fight against breast cancer, mobilizing more than 100,000 volunteers to defeat legislation that would have allowed insurance companies to remove laws guaranteeing cancer screening coverage for women who need it. ACS CAN continues to support legislation that would improve the quality of treatment for breast cancer patients and the quality of life for breast cancer survivors

The American Cancer Society is dedicated to eliminating cancer as a major health problem by saving lives, diminishing suffering, and preventing cancer through research, education, advocacy, and service. Founded in 1913 and with national headquarters in Atlanta. the Society has 13 regional Divisions and local offices in 3,400 communities, involving millions of volunteers across the United States. ACS CAN is the nonprofit, nonpartisan partner advocacy organization of the American Cancer Society, dedicated to eliminating cancer as a major health problem. ACS CAN works to encourage lawmakers, candidates and government officials to support laws and policies that will make cancer a top national priority. Wayne State College hosted and event to increase awareness of poverty as a part of the Community Action in Nebraska 2008 Poverty Solutions Tour in the Student Center on Oct. 7. WSC Students who participated in the event were included in role-play to examine the issues that affect the lives of low-income families, from single parents trying to care for their children to senior citizens trying to maintain self sufficiency. Participants were given the task to provide food, shelter and other basic necessities for their family during the poverty simulation while interacting with various community resources. Although it uses "play" money and other props, fictional scenarios, and time limits, the poverty simulation is not a game. After students participated in the poverty simulation a discussion was held to reframe and refocus work in Nebraska to reduce poverty.

The Poverty Solutions Tour is in year two of a three-year process to discuss the causes, conditions, and solutions to poverty at the local level. The tour stems from a national report called "Rooting out Poverty" which included the input of nearly 1,000 community action leaders and supporters at the National Symposium on Poverty and Economic Security in Bethesda, Md. The report concluded that the economic security and the lives of low-income people can be improved through thoughtful, cost-effective strategies.

Tom Roberts,

Help needed

Dear Friends,

As a result of an active year of disasters - a record number of tornadoes, the worst flooding in the Midwest in 15 years, an early wildfire season and an active hurricane season that is not yet over - the American Red Cross has launched a national fundraising campaign to raise an initial $100 million to fill the depleted Disaster Relief Fund.

The Disaster Relief Fund allows Red Cross volunteers to provide emergency assistance to help victims of disasters meet their immediate needs for food, shelter, counseling and other critical services. The Red Cross responds to 70,000 disasters each year - the majority of them "silent" disasters never making the news. After tragedy strikes, the Red Cross relies on this fund to mobilize volunteers and resources to help communities throughout the United States.

The Red Cross is always there when disaster strikes, but this year and the cost of providing relief has rapidly outpaced contributions. We sheltered more people during the first nights of Hurricane Gustav than the first days of Katrina. While the media has packed up and moved on, we are still there helping a large number of people.

The American people have always responded generously to support their neighbors during their time of need, and I urge you to make a contribution to the Disaster Relief Fund today. I know that the economy is a big concern for many of you, but remember that no matter what the size, every donation can change a life.

You can help the victims of thousands of disasters across the country each year, disasters like the Hurricanes of 2008, by making a financial gift to the American Red Cross Disaster Relief Fund. You can log-on to www.redcross.org or call 1-800-RED-CROSS (1-800-733-2767) or 1-800-257-7575 (Spanish) to make a donation. You can also mail your gift to the Northeast Nebraska Red Cross, P O Box 94, Wayne NE 68787.

The Northeast Nebraska Chapter of the American Red Cross hopes that your gift to the American Red Cross Disaster Relief Fund does not interfere with your support of the local United Way Campaign. Gifts to the United Way support local preparedness and response activities in the Northeast Nebraska area.

Thank you. Lori Carollo Executive Director

Times are not that tough

By Ed Howard Statehouse Correspondent

The Nebraska Press Association

Lots of us can remember parents and grandparents telling stories about the Great Depression. One of those which made a great impression on me came from

"If people have financial troubles today, they sit down over a cup of coffee and cigarettes and talk about it," he said. "During the Depression, you see, there wasn't coffee to be had. Who had a nickel? Not the worst off of us, and we were in the millions. Cigarettes were picked up out of the gutter by a lot

In California, some people starved and it was later shown that authorities regularly attributed such deaths to everything but starvation. No sense in making morale even worse.

So, times are tough in 2008, but they aren't that tough. It isn't likely such times will come around. The government of Herbert 'the government has to stay out of it' Hoover is gone.

Social Security is up against financial trouble, but it's still there. The promise inherent in pensions and the 401-K might be at risk, but not Great Depression-type risk.

There were some ironies that came out of the Great Depression. It was old Joe Kennedy who became the first director of the Securities andExchange Commission. He was the Kennedy who fathered a president and a couple of U.S. Senators. The SEC has been about as effective as a puppy guard dog in the last several decades, but Joe Kennedy first put together an outfit that was pretty

The irony? Joe Kennedy seldom hesitated to acknowledge that he made the SEC effective, in part, by outlawing some of the very practices he had used to make a great fortune prior to the Depression.

On a much, much smaller scale, that story is remindful of the late and legendary one-time congressman and longtime state Sen. Terry Carpenter.

Carpenter accumulated a personal fortune by borrowing money, buying large amounts of liquor on credit, then selling it at rock bottom prices. Nothing wrong with that in those days.

When Carpenter got to the Legislature he mobilized and won the support of temperance forces. He muscled the Legislature into banning the practice that made him rich - buying liquor on credit. It wasn't until the 1970s that Nebraskans were even allowed to put drinks served in a hotel on their credit card, or hotel tab!

Another irony: Carpenter didn't drink alcohol.

His oft stated view: "That stuff is for selling!" not drinking.

Politics wasn't nearly so downand-dirty as it is these days, but Carpenter had a sense of gallows' humor, directed at himself, when he ran unsuccessfully against longtime U.S. Sen. Carl Curtis. Both men were elderly.

'If you don't like me or Curtis, vote for me,' Carpenter said in a lengthy television spot he personally paid for. 'I'm older and I'll die sooner!

He did, too.

Council Meeting The next regular City Council meeting will be held Tuesday, Oct. 21 at 5:30 p.m in the council room.

New Pedestrian Trail

Final documents have been sent to the Department of Roads and we expect them to authorize Wayne to bid out the construction of the Phase II trail this fall for construction in the spring. Maps of the new trail route are available at the utility billing counter in the city office.

New City Well

The city budget for 2009 contains funding to install a new city well five miles north of Wayne. The estimated cost is about $350,000. The location and the rights to install a well at this location were secured in 1987. In the past two years, the city's night time summer peak demand for water has been near the capacity of the current wells so the council has allocated the funds to drill an additional well. This peak demand occurs at night because the most lawn sprinkler systems operate simultaneously then creating the highest rate of use.

New Waste Water Treatment Plant

The waste water committee is evaluating three options:

1. Two replacement systems that are totally enclosed with no odor, that break down the waste including sludge using varying levels of oxygen and biological

2. Renovation of the existing rotating bio-disk treatment plant to meet new discharge permit requirements for Logan Creek.

The committee recommended the council approve at least one mobile pilot test biological closed system plant to be operated in Wayne during December through March to evaluate the performance.

The markets are unpredictable - rising and falling. In any election year, an additional element of uncertainty is added to the investment mix. Investors can only speculate as to the outcome of the presidential election in November. The question then becomes what to make of the results from an investment standpoint. The answer, according to recent history, is that the impact on investors may be limited.

The immediate reaction to election results in the first weeks after the election, appear to work moderately in favor of Republicans. In the post-war era (beginning with the election of Democrat Harry Truman in 1948), the stock market (as measured by the Standard & Poor's 500 stock index, an unmanaged index of stocks) rose an average of 2.25 percent in years when Republicans captured the presidency (nine times). Markets gained 1.31 percent from Election Day to the end of the election year, on average, in the six times Democrats won the presidential race.

A mixed bag of results

In the past, the situation changed over longer time spans. Using those same 15 post-war presidential elections as a measuring stick, history shows that over the first six months after elections, markets actually fared better when Democrats won compared to Republicans. The average return of the S&P 500 over the six months after the election was 5.61 percent when Democrats won and 2.17 percent when Republicans were elected. Looking over the four-year period (from January 1 postthrough election year December 31 of the last full year of each term), the advantage remains with Democrats. The average fouryear return when Democrats won the nation's highest office was 43.51 percent, while the average when Republicans prevailed was 31.80 percent.

Ameriprise Financial Services, Inc. 120 W 2nd Street, Wayne, NE 402.833 5285

ameripriseadvisors.com/jennifer.s.phelps

The one thing that can be said with certainty is that there is no way to attribute market performance to election results. Any number of factors, from world events to the economic environment to other market conditions, will likely have far more impact than the party of the officeholder. The two best sixmonth returns occurred when Democrats were elected (Bill Clinton in 1996, +18.64) percent; John Kennedy in 1960, 15.30percent). However, the two worst sixmonth periods also occurred under Democratic Presidents (Harry Truman in 1948, -8.03) percent; Jimmy Carter in 1976, -3.54 percent).

Another caution

Market analysts also may try to determine which industries or types of stocks will perform best based on the election outcome. This may be a factor to consider in making investment decisions, but certainly not the only one. Among the uncertainties that must be accounted for is that policies promoted by a candidate may never become reality once they are thrown into the mix of Washington politics.

You can expect to see a fair amount of media attention over the coming months about the prospects for investors based on election results. There is no way to predict the markets. To determine appropriate investment options for yourself, speak with your financial advisor.

Communicate. Have a conversation with a child about Internet safety beforehand and keep the lines of communication open.

Determine what the child is doing online. Discuss with him or her what sites are being looked at and whether social networking sites are being used.

Supervise Internet friends. Parents should become acquainted with their child's online friends much like they would with friends walking into their homes.

Establish unrevealing screen names. Screen names, or aliases, frequently are used when communicating online. When determining screen names, parents should make sure screen names do not use suggestive language or personal information.

Monitor online activity. Parents should periodically review the history of online activities. Additionally, parents should consider setting their browser security to high to reduce the potential exposure to pornography or other inappropriate materials.

Place computers in a central location. Parents should allow Internet access only on computers in a living room or other central location.

Use filtering software. While it may not block all objectionable materials, the software helps to reduce them.

Model online respect. Parents should model appropriate online behavior as well as discuss with their children that foul language or name calling is intolerable.

· Set up a family Internet use contract. Parents and children should discuss age-appropriate Internet activities and what the family policy is for Internet use both within and outside the household.

Just as parents set safety guidelines for swimming, crossing the street and buckling seatbelts, parents also need to be vigilant when their children use the Internet. Parents must stay abreast with technology changes and help guard their children's safety online.

Climate predictions help make ag decisions federal resources that have gone into developing various observational data, computer models and space technology for weather forecasting. So it only makes sense to the University of Nebraska-Lincoln Extension climatologist that more people use the forecasts effectively to help them make money-saving Hu and his UNL team developed a Web education and training tool they named Think About It (http://driftwood.unl.edu/farms-Steve Hu knows the extensive mart/). This tool helps agricultural producers learn how to use scientific weather predictions for precipitation, temperature, humidity, wind, evapotranspiration rates and more in their crop management. When and how much to irrigate is an example of what Think About It might help a producer decide to do.

"This system becomes very useful" when producers face doubled energy costs and water allocations in many places, Hu said.

Rex Kirchhoff of Hardy is a south central Nebraska producer who participated in the 2008 Think About It workshops. Kirchhoff said he began working with the Little Blue Natural Resources District last year to use tools such as moisture blocks and evapotranspiration gauges. These tools help make decisions for irrigation scheduling, as well as the first and last irrigations for his diversified crop operation.

Now, climate predictions are "one more tool in the tool chest," Kirchhoff said, adding, "it's not just one thing that goes into the decision-making process."

Kirchhoff said so far he has used knowledge from Think About It to check weather maps for wind velocity and direction, which he said is beneficial for spraying.

Hu said weather predictions aren't 100 percent accurate, but learning to compensate through critical thinking is part of the process, and helps "cope with uncertainty."

Hu expects to offer Think About It education through online workshops within the year.

Second 'Farm Beginnings' class set mostly taught by farmers that focuses on small, alternative farms that produce value-added products, will begin Nov. 22 in Syracuse. The class will be taught in 10 sessions and is similar to a college course, said Gary Lesoing, University of Nebraska-Lincoln Extension educator in Nemaha County.

"If you or someone you know would like to become involved in this type of farming, this may be what you are looking for," Lesoing said. "If you don't have the land or the resources to farm conventionally, this will provide you with some ideas and encouragement for developing a farm."

The first two classes involve goal setting and whole farm planning. They use a holistic management approach, Lesoing said.

Class participants also will tour successful farms that are practicing alternative farming practices. These may include an organic grain producer, a vegetable produckets meat, he said.

The third and fourth sessions deal with financial management and assessing and developing a financial plan for your own enterprise and planning for profit.

The fifth session discusses building a business plan and financial options for getting started.

The final three sessions will involve tying everything together that was learned throughout the class and presenting an individual plan. There also will be discussion on preparing for and securing funding from local banks and also information on available resources. The final class also discusses working with a mentor. This includes discussions on effective communication, generational diversity and conflict resolution.

"There are a few producers in southeast Nebraska and the surrounding region that have these types of operations and are making a living doing it," Lesoing said. "Others are doing these things to supplement their income or as a second career."

He said there are few farmers producing organic corn and soyer or someone that directly mar- beans. "Farm Beginnings" was initiated in the mid 1990s by the Land Stewardship Project of Minnesota. A U.S. Department of Agriculture Sustainable Agriculture Research and Education (SARE) grant brought the program to Nebraska, Missouri and Illinois in 2005.

The initial class held in Syracuse in 2005-2006, had 12 different ag businesses from across Nebraska complete the program.

While not geared for conventional farmers, conventional farmers could incorporate some of the principles of the program or develop part of their operation in this manner, Lesoing said.

Cancer occurrences makes one appreciate life you all are, too. I try to be positive, as it is breast cancer month and I know many, many survivors of that one. Also, when I got out of school, Hodgkins and children's leukemia were killers; now, we save many folks with those. And prostate cancer is very treatable; I'm thankful for each step of progress.

But the Big Farmer lost one cousin to a brain cancer this summer, and another one to colon just two weeks ago. Then, we went to the funeral of the 42 year old son of a friend who also had colon cancer; it went to his brain and lungs before it was finished with him. Now, my cousin's husband is in a hospital in Omaha with an infection that got hold of him because his blood counts were lowered with the chemo he's taking for lung can-

And, I just came back from visiting a long-time nurse friend who is in hospice with ovarian. That particular one is vicious because it gets such a head start before we have symptoms. My neighbor at the Farm House died of it two years ago; now, her husband had a malignant lump removed from his and they didn't have cancer! And

I'm sick of cancer!! And I'm sure neck! The friend's cousin just died at age 59 of brain cancer. Is it my imagination, or are we seeing more of that particular one?

When I worked in Home Health Care in Norfolk, our office adjoined the cardiac rehab area. I used to walk through it and smile because these were all mended hearts who were getting better, and stronger, bypass surgery is about like an appendectomy anymore!

Thank goodness for hospice; at least we can tell our patients that their last days will be as comfortable as we can make them. And after all, that is all any of us would

It continues to make me focus on living each day. Our home really needs a good cleaning; but visiting my friend, and attending a grandson's football game, just seemed more important today.

Someone asked me about the 401(k) I had at the hospital. I smiled and said I had used it to go to Germany in 1990. And the one I had at Tabitha? It took us to Ireland a few years ago! I'm not saying we shouldn't save for our old age, but we really did enjoy those trips. I guess it's all a matter of priorities, right?

So, do the preventive things: eat more broccoli, don't smoke, get out and exercise; but remember to cherish the friendships and make the most of the time we have left. My life verse is still "All things work together for good to those who love God and are called according to His purpose." Amen.

TEXT OF PROPOSED AMENDMENT NUMBER 1

THE MEMBERS OF THE ONE HUNDREDTH LEGISLATURE OF NEBRASKA, SECOND SESSION, RESOLVE THAT:

Section 1. At the general election in November 2008 the following proposed amendment to the Constitution of Nebraska shall be submitted to the electors of the State of Nebraska for approval or rejection:

To amend Article XIII, section 2: XIII-2 Notwithstanding any other provision in the Constitution, the Legislature may authorize any county or incorporated city or village, including cities operating under home rule charters, to acquire, own, develop, and lease real and personal property suitable for use by manufacturing or industrial enterprises and to issue revenue bonds for the purpose of defraying the cost of acquiring and developing such property by construction, purchase, or otherwise. The Legislature may also authorize such county, city, or village to acquire, own, develop, and lease real and personal property suitable for use by enterprises as determined by law if such property is located in blighted areas as determined by law and to issue revenue bonds for the purpose of defraying the cost of acquiring and developing or financing such property by construction, purchase, or otherwise. Such bonds shall not become general obligation bonds of the governmental subdivision by which such bonds are issued. Any real or personal property acquired, owned, developed, or used by any such county, city, or village pursuant to this section shall be subject to taxation to the same extent as private property during the time it is leased to or held by private interests, notwithstanding the provisions of Article VIII, section 2, of the Constitution. The acquiring, owning, developing, and leasing of such property shall be deemed for a public purpose, but the governmental subdivision shall not have the right to acquire such property

by condemnation. The principal of and interest on any bonds is-sued may be secured by a pledge of the lease and the revenue there from and by mortgage upon such property. No such governmental subdivision shall have the power to operate any such property as a business or in any manner except as the lessor thereof. Notwithstanding any other pro-vision in the Constitution, the Legislature may also authorize any incorporated city or village, including cities operating under home rule charters, to appropriate from local sources of revenue such funds as may be deemed necessary for an economic or industrial development project or program subject to approval by a vote of a majority of the registered voters of such city or village voting upon the question. For purposes of this provision, funds from local sources of revenue shall mean funds raised from general taxes levied by the city or village and shall not include any funds received by the city or village which are derived from state or federal sources.

Sec. 2. The proposed amendment shall be submitted to the electors in the manner prescribed by the Constitution of Nebraska, Article XVI, section 1, with the following ballot language: A constitutional amendment to change the powers of municipalities relating to fund sources for economic or industrial development.

A vote "FOR" will amend the Nebraska Constitution to prohibit the State, any public institution of higher education, political subdivision or government institution from discriminating against, or granting preferential treatment to, individuals or groups based upon race, sex, color, ethnicity, or national origin in operating public employment, education, or contracting. Existing court orders would not be invalidated under the amendment. Bona fide qualifications based on sex reasonably necessary to normal operation of public employment, education or contracting, and actions necessary to obtain federal funds through federal programs would be permitted. ELECTION PREVIEW

EDITOR'S NOTE

Nebraskans will be voting on two issues when they go to the General Election polls on November 4. So that voters can better understand these important proposed changes to the state Constitution, the Nebraska Press Association in cooperation with this newspaper has prepared this report. This report briefly defines the issues, explaining their purpose.

Proposed Amendment 1

Cities and villages could have more choices in paying for local, voterapproved projects if Amendment 1 is adopted. Local governments are now barred from using state and federal dollars for some projects, and must use only local property tax and local sales tax revenue. If adopted, the amendment would give the Legislature the option to allow state, federal and other local revenue sources to be used for local economic development projects that are first approved by local voters. The amendment was unopposed in committee and passed by the Legislature without a dissenting vote.

Initiative Measure 424

The now limited authority of state and local governments to seek diversity in the workplace and the classroom through race and/or gender preferences would be eliminated through adoption of Initiative Measure 424. The U.S. Supreme Court in 1978 barred the use of quotas, and of preferences for those viewed as victims of previous discrimination, in affirmative action programs. However, this amendment allows state and local government to take action to establish or maintain eligibility for federal programs in order to obtain, or to avoid losing, federal funds. Opponents said white students were victims of discrimination at the University of Nebraska law college. where officials acknowledge that race is considered in the admissions process in order to enhance diversity. The language of the amendment, which critics said was misleading, was the subject of a lengthy pre-election court battle.

education or public contracting; to apply the amendment only to action after the amendment's effective date; to allow bona fide qualifications based on sex that are reasonably necessary; to exempt any court order or consent decree that is in force as of the effective date of this amendment; to provide an exception for certain federal programs; to define state for purposes of the amendment; to provide for remedies; to make the amendment self-executing; to make provision in the event of conflict with federal law or the United States Constitution; and to provide for severability.

Text of Measure

Be it enacted by the people of the State of Nebraska that, Article I of the Constitution of Nebraska be amended by adding a Section 30 as follows:

(1) The state shall not discriminate against, or grant preferential treatment to, any individual or group on the basis of race, sex, color, ethnicity, or national origin in the operation of public employ-ment, public education, or public contracting.

(2) This section shall apply only to action taken after the section's effective date.

(3) Nothing in this section prohibits bona fide qualifications based on sex that are reasonably necessary to the normal operation of public employment, public educa-tion, or public contracting.

(4) Nothing in this section shall invalidate any court order or consent decree that is in force as of the effective date of this section.

(5) Nothing in this section prohibits action that must be taken to establish or maintain eligibility for any federal program, if ineligibility would result in a loss of federal funds to the state.

(6) For purposes of this section, state shall include, but not be limited to: (a) the State of Nebraska; (b) any agency, department, office, board, commission, committee, division, unit, branch, bureau, council, or sub-unit of the state; (c) any public institution of higher education; (d) any political subdivision of or within the state; and (e) any government institution or instrumentally of or within the state.

(7) The remedies available for violations of this section shall be the same, regardless of the injured party's race, sex, color, ethnicity, or national origin, as are otherwise available for violations of Nebraska's antidiscrimination law.

(8) This section shall be self executing. If any part or parts of this section are found to be in conflict with federal law or the Constitution of the United States, this section shall be implemented to the maximum extent that federal law and the Constitution of the Constitution of the Constitution of the maximum extent that federal law and the Constitution of the law and the Constitution of the United States permit. Any provision held invalid shall be severable from the remaining portions of this section,

Respectfully submitted,
