Sexual assault suspect arrested

On Oct. 23, 20-year-old Lance Fick was arrested for multiple counts of First Degree Sexual Assault by the Wayne Police Department. This arrest resulted from an investigation begun on Oct. 13, after Wayne State College authorities contacted the Police Department to report a possible sexual assault that was alleged to have happened on campus.

Fick, who was a Wayne State College student at the time the assaults are alleged to have happened, is originally from the Inman area. Fick was released from custody on Oct. 24 after posting bond.

Fick faces formal charges of multiple counts of First Degree Sexual Assault. He is scheduled to appear in the Wayne County Court on Monday, Nov. 3.

Community Theatre to present 'Love Letters'

Wayne Community Theatre will present playwright A. R. Gurney can command. the Pulitzer Prize nominated play "Love Letters" on Friday, Saturday and Sunday, Nov. 14-16.

Show times will be at 7 p.m. on Nov. 14-15 with a matinee scheduled at 2 p.m. on Nov. 16 in the Ley Theatre on the Wayne State College campus.

"Love Letters" is an adult production, by A. R. Gurney, which traces the lifelong correspondence of the dutiful Lawyer Andrew Makepeace Ladd III and the lively, unstable Artist Melissa Gardner. The story of their bittersweet relationship gradually unfolds from what is written - and what is

A smash hit off and on Broadway, "Love Letters" captures Andy and Melissa with a precision of detail and depth of feeling only

The Wayne Community Theatre will also be including in the performance "some wonderful period music which echoes the eras over which the play evolves." A talented group of local musicians will offer this music along with each performance of the play. Everyone in the community is being encouraged to make plans to attend this year's fall production.

Tickets for this production will be available after Nov. 1 at State National Bank or from any Community Theatre member.

Wayne State College Power Drive Program competes in Kansas City

Wayne State College student Power Drive participants competed in the KAN-AM ELECTRIC CHALLENGE in Kansas City at the Kansas Motor Speedway recently. The WSC car finished ninth in open class.

The Wayne State College team completed 21 laps at 31.5 mph. The WSC team is assisted by Greg Vander Weil, assistant professor, and Jason Novotny, instructor. Both Vander Weil and Novotny are WSC alumni and have been involved with the Power Drive program at WSC since it began in 2001. Power Drive began at WSC through a student project with Novotny. WSC alum and Wayne High School instructor Tony Cantrell also has continued to be involved with Power Drive through his time as a WSC student and later as a high school instructor.

Wayne High School also competed in Kansas City for an open class finish of 14th and standard class finishes of 4th and 10th. The WHS team raced at 22.5 mph for 15 laps in open class. Standard class finishes were at 34 mph for 23 laps and 27 mph for 18 laps.

The race also gave participants an opportunity to race at the Kansas Speedway, the 1.5 mile NASCAR track located in Kansas City, Kan. The electric car event was the first national competition held in Kansas.

The race was attended by 31 teams with 47 cars from Kansas, Iowa, Maine, fastest times with Team Electrolite of Portland, Maine, setting a new world record by covering 58.2 miles in an hour. Cloud Electric Racing of Woodinville, Wash., came in second at 53. 2, breaking Team Electrolite's previous world record of 53.16 set in October 2006.

The KAN-AM Electric Challenge is nationally sanctioned by Electrathon America, the national organization that establishes design and racing rules. The cars are single-person, lightweight aerodynamic vehicles with three or four wheels that are built by each team. Each car is powered by deep cycle lead acid battery packs not exceeding 67 pounds.

The competition, based on time and distance, is won by the team that completes the most laps in one hour. The cars have three classifications: standard, powered by batteries; experimental, powered at least partially by solar; and open class.

The Power Drive effort is designed to be a learning experience for students. The program is an educational effort that challenges students to design and build oneperson electric vehicles during the school year. These teams compete at organized rallies. Students are given as much responsibility as possible in the design, construction, maintenance and operation of the vehicle. All accredited public and private high schools are eligible to participate in the Power Drive competition. Post-secondary students are eligible to participate in the "exhibition" class.

The Power Drive Program was established in 1998 by Omaha Public Power District (OPPD). Power Drive encourages interest in energy-related and automotiverelated industries. A light-electric vehicle (LEV) competition, Power Drive does so by bringing a practical focus to students' math, science and vocational education.

During the course of a school year, students design and construct a safe, energy-efficient electric vehicle. In addition to OPPD, program co-sponsors include Nebraska Public Power District, the Nebraska Department of Education and the U.S. Department of Energy Clean Cities Program. The sponsors believe the Power Drive Program is an invaluable way to invest in the future of Nebraska and in the state's energy future.

Fall foliage

Weather conditions this fall have been ideal for creating brilliantly colored trees and shrubs in northeast Nebraska. Many of leaves are still on the trees, despite the weekend winds.

Celebrating movement during National Physical Therapy Month

This month Providence Physical Therapy has joined the American Physical Therapy Association (APTA) in 'Celebrating Movement'. The APTA, originally founded as the Physical Therapy Association in 1921 by Mary McMillan, is a national professional organization that represents over 72,000 mem-

Physical therapists examine individuals of all ages and develop plans of care using treatment techniques to promote the ability to move, reduce pain, restore function, and prevent disability. Physical therapists also work with people to prevent the loss of mobility by developing fitness and wellness-oriented programs for healthier and more active lifestyles.

The cornerstones of physical therapy are therapeutic exercise and functional training. In addition to "hands on" care, PT's educate patients to perform exercises and take care of themselves to prevent future occurrences without the need for routine follow-up vis-expect, and we are especially proud of our specialized services involving women's health, pediatric physical therapy, vestibular rehab, and treatment for lymphedema," said Supervisor Gail McCorkindale. "We have therapists who are certified in adult neuro-developmental techniques and lymphedema therapy."

Providence Physical Therapy continued to grow this year with the hiring of Dawn Addison-Corbit, PT, DPT, and Barb Braun, PTA. Dawn is a resident of Laurel. She received her Bachelor of Science degree from the University of South Dakota in 1992 and earned her Doctor of Physical Therapy degree in 2008 from the University of South Dakota. Dawn's interests include orthopedics, geriatrics and aquatic therapy.

Barb Braun graduated from Western Iowa Community College in August of 2005. She graduated with an Associate of Applied Science degree as a physical therapist assistant. Barb is originally from Niobrara. She currently resides in Ponca. Her interests include orthopedics, aquatic therapy, and hands-on therapy techniques.

The Wayne Housing Authority guests at the meal. Board of Directors hosted a Fall Harvest dinner on Oct. 16 in the community room at Villa Wayne.

Mayor Lois Shelton, Jeannie Anderson, Bonnell Stanley, Shirley John Melena gave the evening meal grace. Board members Co-Chairman \mathbf{John} Melena; Commissioners Jean Lutt and Dorothy Cull; and Resident Commissioner Robert Sherry, were introduced and thanked for serving the meals. The commissioners' husbands, Leigh Cull and Dennis Lutt, were also welcomed. John Melena and Robert Sherry served meals to the shut-ins.

Mayor Shelton extended greetings to the tenants. Claribel Anderson was thanked for furnishing the fall table favors. A thank you was also extended to Jody Lamprecht for setting and decorating the tables. The flower arrangements in pumpkins were given to Shirley Bergt and Bonnell Stanley in appreciation for their years of service on the board. Shirley Bergt, serving as Executive Director at Wayne Villa, hosted the first dinner in 1985.

New residents were recognized and welcomed.

The meal was catered by Vel's Bakery. They were thanked for the meal and their service.

Raymond Peterson was unable to entertain at this year's event, due to his wife's fall.

Residents all expressed a hope that "next year his good music on the accordion from the times we all remember will be with us again."

Mariah Frevert, Wayne Elementary

Hurricanes Gustav and Ike hit. When the couple left Norfolk, they were sent to Baton Rouge, La, then to Houma, La., which is southwest of New Orleans and were stationed in a shelter that was set up at a junior high school, helping in the kitchen.

At the shelter, the couple did everything from working at the registration desk to serving food, setting up cots, clean up and more. They also took care of the sick. One woman was diagnosed with bronchitis and pneumonia. There was a Red Cross volunteer awake at the shelter every night and usually a nurse available. The Red Cross also provided chaplains and mental health services for clients and volunteers. Red Cross volunteers came from across the U.S.

"So many at the shelters were appreciative of the Red Cross," Darlene Miller said. "No one had complaints of the Red Cross. Many were spiritual; they had nothing left but had faith in God.'

A big part of the Millers' job was talking with the clients and they became close friends with some of them.

One of the women staying at the shelter told them her grandpa was kits. FEMA had to inspect the Darlene and Lawren Miller of a shrimper and because of the Norfolk, Red Cross volunteers, storm was forced to not go out with his boat until conditions had cleared, which took a long time. She added that her house was on the south side of the levy so was severely damaged.

"We became good friends with the family of shrimpers," Darlene said. "While at the shelter, the family had a barbecue and invited us."

Captain Bob and his crew of two were also staying at the shelter. He said many fishermen stay on their boats when hurricanes hit but this one was different so they were waiting approval for the water to be safe so they could sail again.

The Millers noted that after Gustav passed through, homes had a lot of damage in that area. For example, light was coming through the roof in each home they saw. There was a storm surge with Gustav that caused the water to rise quite high. They saw homes that had rooms full of mold and kitchens with what had been clean dishes but were covered with mold. With Ike, additional rain ruined insulation and tiles were down. After Ike hit, the Millers were sent further north to Schriever, La., to a shelter housing 260 people. The houses in that area had a lot of flood water damage. Red Cross workers handed out clean up were still waiting for help.

The shelter in Schriever was in the Baptist church. "Matthew 22," a nationwide group, came in at both the noon and evening meals each day and served the people. The Orphan Grain Train was also helpful. And, the Millers helped in any way they could. Darlene was not new to Red Cross, "I became a spontaneous volunteer following Huricane Katrina after working in the Astrodome. I was evacuated with the Red Cross to San Antonio for Hurricane Rita and worked in a shelter at Kelly Air Force Base. When I returned home to Pleasanton, Calif., I decided that I wanted to find out what Red Cross was really like. Lawren joined this past spring."

The Millers lived in California and recently retired before moving to Nebraska around a year ago. The Millers have the following to say about the Red Cross:

"I had the strangest experience while at the Houma Junior High School," Darlene said. "The power wasn't on at the school but was in another part of town so we went out to eat. I hadn't showered and had slept in my clothes but life was going as normal in that restaurant.

It was a strange feeling of disconnect." She added that the shelters became little communities. Some people were good friends and helped each other, including watching each others children.

Lawren ended by saying he was impressed with the Red Cross while working in Louisiana. People all over are suspicious and think someone is taking advantage of a situation so it felt good to help. He likes the Red Cross philosophy, which is no questions asked, just committee met Tuesday evening at the Coffee Shoppe. The meeting began with a report from Deb Dickey on the work of Amy Jackson, Wayne High School Art teacher and her students. They have completed 10 life-sized cake sculptures and are working on 19 life-sized birthday cupcakes that will be on display at various businesses prior to the Q-125 birthday party and then will be moved to the City Auditorium for the Feb. 2 birthday party.

At the birthday party, a plan for the Q-125 mural will be unveiled. The students will be painting the mural on panels and when completed they will be attached to the north side of the "This and That" business building downtown.

In other business, Chairman Kochenash announced that he has been in contact with the First Sergeant of the Nebraska Army Reserve Band and that the appearance of the band in Wayne for Flag Day is still a possibility; more

The Wayne Community Q-125 will be known when their budget process is completed. Kochenash also said that he will be meeting with Donavan Roy, the director of the WSC Multi-Cultural Center to plan and discuss various programs for Hispanic Heritage Month in September and Native American Month in November. There is a possibility there can be programs both on the WSC campus and downtown Wayne.

Bob Carhart, representing the Masonic Lodge, gave more detail on the Beard and Mustache Contest. Two different badges are being designed and will be sold for those who will participate. The committee approved allowing people who purchase badges to get into the Garden Show on June 13 and the Dinner on Aug. 8 at a discount price if they are wearing their badges. The contest will kick-off at the Q-125 Birthday Party on Feb. 2 and will be judged prior to the parade on Saturday, Aug. 8. Winners of the contest will then be featured in the Q-125 Parade after the judging.

Marie Mohr gave a presentation of the activities that her subcommittee planned for the Q-125 weekend of Aug. 7-9. Some discussion took place and members volunteered to make contact with various persons and organizations to complete the schedule of activities for the weekend.

Lauren Lofgren reported that the calendar was completed and sent to the printers. The calendar should be ready to proof later this week or early next week. The committee passed a motion to pay the printing bill.

Q-125 souvenirs and clothing were discussed and it was decided that committee members would bring their ideas, samples and various catalogs to the next meeting for further discussion.

The next meeting will be held on Tuesday, Nov. 11 at 7 p.m. at the Coffee Shoppe on Main Street. Interested people and volunteers are always invited to participate.

The Belt family includes, left to right, Jamie, Mike, Andi, Tabitha, Lynda and Michaela, A benefit for the family is being planned for Sunday, Nov. 9.

Bears down Trojans 20-7

By Casey Schroeder

Haskell Field in Laurel served as the backdrop for last Friday night's marquee match-up between the visiting Wakefield Trojans (4-3) and the Laurel-Concord Bears (4-

So what made the game a marquee match-up?

How about two great head coaches (Justin Smith and Terry Beair), two great running backs (Ian Miner and Justin Hart) and two teams vying for a Class C-2 playoff berth.

In the end, it was Laurel-Concord who proved to be the more dominate team of the two as the said. Bears cruised to a 20-7 win over the Trojans.

"This was a good game for us,"

Beair said. "I have good players and it showed tonight.

In the first quarter of action at Haskell Field, Wakefield delivered their first and only score of the night as Miner scored from 15 yards out to give the Trojans a 7-0 lead following a Uvaldo Reves extra-point conversion with 6:19 left to play in the quarter.

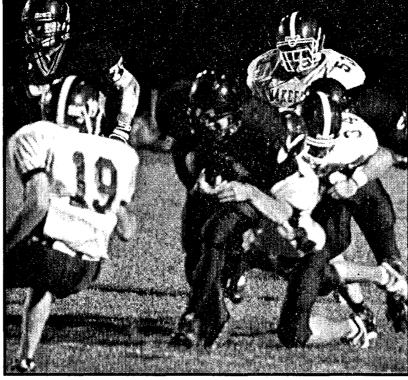

After Wakefield's opening score, both teams found their offensive production hampered as neither team was able to connect with the end zone, which allowed the Trojans to take a 7-0 lead into the second quarter.

"We started off very well," Smith

"Then we got into some situations later in the game where we put ourselves in long yardage situations that we don't have the type of athletes Laurel has to get out of those situations. We have to play

However, Wakefield's lead was short lived in the second period as Hart connected with Ross Kastrup on a 16-yard touchdown reception with Josh Anderson converting on the extra-point attempt to make it 7-7 at halftime.

With the game tied at 7-7 going into the third quarter, Laurel-Concord took their first lead of the night when Travis Nelson found Hart with just under nine minutes left in the quarter on a 34-yard touchdown reception, that put the Bears ahead 14-7 following a successful Kevin Gildersleeve extra-point attempt.

Despite the Trojan' best attempt to slow down the Bears, Wakefield had little success as Laurel-Concord posted their second score of the third period when Johnny Saunders hit paydirt on a 15-yard run to close out the game at 20-7, following a scoreless fourth quar-

"We missed a lot of assignments," Smith said. "Laurel is a pretty good team. We can play much better though.' Statistically, Laurel-Concord 185 yards compared to 171 for the Trojans. Laurel-Concord finished the night with 144 yards while Wakefield gained 22 yards through

"That is way too much yardage to give up," Smith said. "We tackled poorly and missed too many reads. We will play much better if we see them again."

Hart led the Bears' ground game with 171 yards on 29 carries with Saunders adding 24 yards on eight attempts.

Miner highlighted the usually potent Trojans' offense with 114 yards on 21 carries with one touchdown followed by Brock Soderberg who used 7 attempts to rush for 41

Nelson went 9 of 13 for 128 yards with a touchdown and interception while Soderberg completed just 2 of 8 passes for the Trojans for 14 yards with two interceptions.

Ezra Schantz led the Bears' receiving corps in the win with three catches for 60 yards and was followed by Hart who had one reception for 34 yards and a touch-

Laurel-Concord (5-3) will return to action on Thursday, Oct. 30 when they travel to Dwight for the opening round of Class C-2 playoffs where they will face East Butler (4-4) at 6 p.m.

TACKLES (UA-A)--N/A.

A whole lot about nothing...

Every morning, I walk into Sinclair, pour myself a 20 oz. cup of coffee and then proceed to the counter where small talk is made with the blue clad barrel-chested cashier, whom we'll call "Tim".

However, on Tuesday morning there was no small talk as "Tim" asked if I had caught last night's Monday Night Football game between the Colts and Titans.

It was only after I responded with a "not really, as I was watching 'The Hills' with Jen (my girlfriend)," that it was brought to my attention that I am whipped.

As I reflected throughout the day, I came to a general consensus that "Tim" was completely right as there was a time, not to long ago when sports were my life and that is all I watched on television.

But, that isn't the case anymore as I have ditched the unscripted drama of the NFL for the semiscripted dramatics of both ABC and MTV.

Prior to Jen, I made it routine to catch Monday

Unfortunately, that dream has yet to come true this season as MNF has been replaced by the 30 minute lives of Adriana, Lo, Lauren, Stephanie and Spencer on MTV's "The Hills".

So what's the big deal, it's just Monday Night Football, right?

And that is where it starts. It all begins with giving up Monday nights which then transitions into an every night occurance. For me, Tuesday nights used to be saved for ESPN Classics "Fight Night", not anymore as I now find myself curled up on the couch with you know who, watching all these sappy light-hearted romantic comedies.

Movies that all end in the same way; guy and girl are torn, girl likes guy, but guy is an idiot and fails to recognize the signs of true love.

Following tear-jerker Tuesdays, Wednesday nights once served as an opportunity to kick back, get my drink on and live out my dreams of playing for the Chicago Bears (Madden '08).

But those nights of hanging 70 points on the Packers are few and far between as I now find myself succumbing to a three hour marathon of Jon and Kate Plus Eight.

Thanks a lot, Mr. and Mrs. Gosselin!

So with three nights of sports related T.V. down the drain, one would figure that by this time in the week, the misses might allow boyfriend to catch a little bit of something semi-sports related on Thursday.

That would be great, but it's unrealistic as Thursday is national Grey's Anatomy girl's night out.

A night in which the girls can get together, eat popcorn, discuss guys, McDreamy and every other thing that a rugged man like myself has little to no interest in.

Luckily, Friday arrives with its' counterpart high school football, which has proved to be my only saving grace from succumbing to the couch for another bout of dramatic DVDs.

And what about Saturday?

To be honest, Saturday is the only day that I get to be fully removed from the tyranny of anything remotely unmanly as I am either at a 'Cats game, helping coach rugby or simply being a guy with a fishing pole or gun in hand.

While the week drags on, the weekend always goes way too fast as my reign of freedom is brought to an abrupt halt on Sunday morning, when I'm awakened for mass which is usually followed by brunch and shopping.

And no, we're not talking about shopping for guns, decoys or anything of the like, were talking

Clothing that must be tried on 3 billion times, clothing that when tried on requires an opinion from someone wearing a pair of ragged Skoalringed jeans, t-shirt, boots and a greasy ole' ball

It is only after our afternoon shopping spree has resulted in at least two fights that I am allowed to retire home for a little football, but only until 8 p.m. when Jen and I dive into the lives of the "Desperate

While most guys will relate, some may wonder where in the heck I am going with all of this.

Which leads me to my next point.

Being whipped ain't such a bad thing after all, as there are only a few times in a man's life, or even a woman's when true love comes a knocking and affords one an opportunity to be that somebody's someone, while sports will always be here for us.

Bulldogs bite not enough in 29-6 loss to Eagles By Casey Schroeder son play on Thursday, Oct. 30 when Dominated, overpowered, trounced and steam rolled are just a few adjectives that can be used to describe the fashion into which Coleridge lost last Friday's Dakota Dome Classic to Allen, 29-6.

"They (Allen) played with pasgame."

The Eagles used a "grind it out" mentality, coupled with a stifling defense to hold the district champion Bulldogs, to just 158 yards of total offense with 65 of those yards coming on a lone touchdown run late in the third quarter.

Allen held the ball most of the first half by grinding out drives on the ground.

The first Eagle drive of the evening was capped off by a Heath Roeber 18-yard run that was followed by a Cody Stewart extrapoint kick that saw Allen take a 7-0 lead 9:22 left to play in the first quarter.

Allen then drove two more times, but came up short as the Eagles botched a 22-yard field goal attempt and later turned the ball over on downs in Bulldog territory.

In the second quarter, patience by the Eagles resulted in their second score of the night as Scott Wilmes found the end zone from 19 yards out to increase Allen's lead to 13-0 going into halftime.

In the second half Coleridge adjusted defensively and held the Eagles on their first two series of play of 10 or more yards when Tyler Hefner broke loose on a 65yard touchdown run up the middle to cut the Eagles lead to 13-6 with 5:42 left in the period. Despite the Bulldogs' best efforts

Williams snagged a 45played an absolutely tremendous yard pass from Roeber to make it a 19-6 contest with just under five minutes left in the third quarter.

With a 19-6 lead, Allen used a safety in the third quarter to tack on two more points before they posted their fourth and final touchdown of the night as Roeber scored from three yards out to bring the score to the final count of 29-6.

Offensively, Wilmes rushed for a season high 183 vards on 35 carries with one touchdown while Roeber added 62 yards on 13 attempts for two scores.

"Offensively, we did not throw the ball the entire first half and still dominated," Uldrich said. That was huge.

On defense, the Eagles were on task and led by Williams who finished with 19 tackles with Corey Klug adding 18 stops on the night. Additional defensive leaders for

ASK THE TRAINER

This week I am going to talk about the anterior cruciate ligament or ACL. As fall sports are here and active, it is a good time to talk about the ACL and how to reduce injuries to it.

The ACL provides a majority of the stability for the knee. It is not the only ligament in the knee, which also has the posterior cruciate, medial collateral, and lateral collateral ligaments. The combination of these powerful ligaments helps to keep the knee operating like a hinge. The ACL is the most often talked about because along with the medial collateral ligament they are the most often injured in athletics.

The ACL's primary job in the knee is to prevent the tibia (lower leg) from moving forwards below the femur (upper leg), but the ACL also limits rotational movements of the knee. Often times the ACL is injured from hyperextension and/or rotation. In sports, these events can happen by landing from a jump improperly or from impact to the front of the knee causing excessive hyperextension. Women seem to have a greater risk for injury than men generally due to weaker quadriceps and hamstrings, poor landing mechanics, and also from hormonal influences on joint laxity.

Preventing an injury to the ACL requires strengthening the quadriceps and hamstrings as well as a look at an athlete's movement mechanics. A few examples of exercises to implement include squats, lunges, and stiffleg deadlifts. Watching form and technique is crucial as some of these exercises, if done improperly, can add to the injury risk.

If you have more questions give me a call at the Providence Wellness Center. Always check with your doctor before beginning any exercise program.

Wildcats' prowling defense secures 28-8 win over Augustana

By Casey Schroeder

Aided by a defense and offense that both rank third overall in the 14-team Northern Sun Conference, the Wayne State College football team won their fifth straight game last Saturday as they defeated Augustana College 28-7 at Howard Wood Field in Sioux Falls, S.D.

WSC improved to 7-2 overall and 6-2 in the NSIC with the win while Augustana's four game win streak was ended, dropping the Vikings to head coach Dan McLaughlin. The Wildcats efficiently capitalized on three of four Augustana turnovers with touchdowns, while the Vikings' only score of the contest came with two seconds left in the fourth quarter against WSC's second string defense to settle the final score at 28-7.

the game and they were kind of looking forward to that." McLaughlin said.

"I felt for them in that regard, but looking at the big picture a win is a win and you take the win and it doesn't matter what the score is."

WSC's defense set the tone early in the game as linebacker Reno Blomquist intercepted Augustana quarterback Luke Butler on the Vikings' first series at the Augustana 44 yard line and moved the ball downfield for 40 yards to create a Wildcat first and goal opportunity at the Vikings' four yard line.

On the next play, WSC running back Travis Rhone scampered four yards for a touchdown that gave the Wildcats a 7-0 lead with 14:04 remaining in the first quarter.

Later in the first quarter, WSC wide receiver Logan Masters made school history by becoming the alltime receptions leader after he snagged an 18-yard pass from Silas Fluellen with just under 4:00 to play in the first period.

Master's reception put the junior ahead of former NFL All-Pro tight end Byron Chamberlain, who recorded 161 catches in his two season with the Wildcats in 1993-

Midway through the second quarter, Augustana appeared to be driving for a score as the Vikings' found themselves in a first and goal situation at the Wildcats' two yard line.

But the Wildcats' defense snuffed out their second turnover of the game when Viking running back Joe Clark fumbled that ball only to have WSC's Robert Manuel recover at the three yard line to stop the scoring drive with 6:10 to play in the second quarter.

From their own three yard line, WSC then drove 97 yards on 11 plays to take a 14-0 lead into halftion on our kid's part, because we time as Fluellen connected with lost the shutout on the last play of Brian Chapman on a four-yard reception with 50 seconds left in the second quarter.

> With two turnovers already on the day, WSC recorded their third of the day midway through the third quarter when defensive end Tyler Krueger sacked Butler, to force a fumble at the Viking 15 yard line that was recovered by fellow defensive lineman Troy Pribnow.

> The Wildcat offense then turned the turnover into seven points as Rhone scored his second touchdown of the day on a one-yard run to culminate a four play, 16 yard drive that increased WSC's lead to 21-0 with 6:04 to play in the third quarter.

> Rhone clinched the win late in the fourth quarter as he broke loose on a 65 yard run with 2:00 left in the game to make the score 28-0. However, Augustana avoided the shutout in the final two minutes of play as Butler capped off a 10-play, 65 yard drive with a one-yard plunge on the last play of the game to bring the final score to 28-7, in favor of the 'Cats.

WSC outgained Augustana in total yardage with 413 compared to just 266 for the Vikings.

The Wildcats rushed for 264 yards and threw for 149 while Augustana finished with 178 yards rushing and just 88 passing.

The Wildcats were penalized 11 times for 72 yards compared to just three Viking penalties for 31 yards.

"It was just stupid stuff, I think we had five procedure penalties that I don't know what the heck was going on," McLaughlin said. "It was almost like Gremlins, just stupid stuff."

Augustana had four turnovers in the game to just one for WSC.

Individually, Rhone finished the game with 112 yards rushing on just 14 carries and three scores while Fluellen finished with 110 yards rushing on 17 attempts.

Fluellen went 15 for 25 in passing for 149 yards with one touchdown and one interception.

The top receiver for WSC was Masters, who finished with five catches for 40 vards with Frederick Bruno adding four catches and 47 yards.

Defensively, linebacker Ryan Reeves was credited with a gamehigh 16 tackles followed by Luke Hoffman with 14 stops.

Blomquist and Manuel each recorded interceptions while Manuel and Pribnow each were credited with fumble recoveries.

WSC will return to action on Saturday, Nov. 1 when they host Concordia-St. Paul in the 20th annual Egg Bowl with kick-off scheduled for 1 p.m.

"It's another game like the Southwest game (Southwest Minnesota State), they're a good football team, they really are," McLaughlin said.

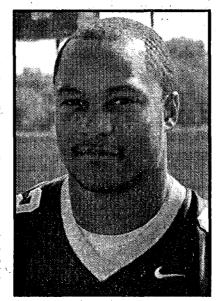

"The thing about that is that we're going to have to play well to win. And if we play well we will win. But if we bring our B- or C+ game they'll beat us, so that's the way it is.'

"Friday night's game was going with two interceptions followed by Dexter Brown who completed 0 of 2 passes with one interception.

"Sophomore Justin Anderson, "Norfolk Catholic was giving up although throwing a couple interceptions played better and is develonly three points a game while oping as the leader of the offense," scoring just short of 40 points a game, but I was impressed with the Finkey said.

The Wayne receiving corps was led by Mike Kay who finished with one reception for eight yards while Poutre snagged one reception for negative two yards.

"Drew Workman and Mike Kay had a good night for us," Finkey said. "I know the scoreboard didn't show that, but they lead the team and played with a high level of back to business in the second effort."

Finkey further added "Nathan Sieler also had an outstanding game, but will not really be noticed in the stat sheets, as well as Jacob Triggs and Tyler Schaefer."

Defensively, Wayne was led by Jared Klassen who finished with nine tackles while Sieler and Poutre added six stops each.

Additional defensive leaders for the Blue Devils included Schaefer with six tackles followed by Shawn Davie and Kay who finished with three stops apiece.

"I give a lot of credit to the seniors on the team for never quitting," Finkey said.

"They battled hard in their last game, I just wish the score would have turned out different for them. but regardless they stepped up to the challenge and played hard."

Hartington rolls past Winside 24-12

By Lee Koch

Winside scored too little too late after falling behind 16-0 as the Wildcats in red lost a 24-12 decision to the Wildcats in purple at Hartington last Thursday night.

Winside who was again plagued by the fumble bug, spotted Hartington an 8-0 lead in the first quarter as Zack Bakke stripped the ball from a Winside runner on the Wildcats' own two yard line and walked into the end zone for the game's first score with 4:57 left in the first period.

Winside put the ball on the ground seven times for the second consecutive week with three fumbles resulting in Wildcat turnovers.

Hartington struck quickly through the air at the 10:13 mark in the second quarter on a 30-yard pass completion from Mason Miller to Caleb Lammers to give the purple Wildcats a 16-0 lead going into the halftime intermission.

Following the halftime break, Winside opened the third quarter Winside-Hartington, Stats with 23-yard touchdown run by Anthony Nelson which capped off a Hartington five play, 49 yard scoring drive that saw the Wildcats cut Hartington's lead to 10 points with 7:37 remaining in the period.

However, Hartington was quick to fire back with a score of their own as Miller completed his second touchdown of the night when he found Lammers on a 24-yard touchdown reception to increase the Wildcats' lead to 24-6 with 9:11 left to play in the game.

Winside battled back late in the fourth quarter when Michael Lage hooked up with Kelby Prince on a 19-yard touchdown strike with 2:13 left in the game to bring the Wildcats within 12 points of Hartington.

With time working against Winside, the Wildcats opted to try their luck with an onside kick on the ensuing kick-off, but failed as Hartington recovered the ball, ran out the clock and went on to record the 24-12 win.

Kalin Koch led the Winside offensive effort gaining 114 yards on 20 carries while adding 12 yards on three receptions.

Nelson finished the night with 20 yards on three carries with Prince on the receiving end of a pair of Michael Lage passes good for 40 yards.

Garet Hurlbert gained 13 yards on seven carries while Lage completed 6 of 16 passes for 49 yards.

Defensively, the Wildcats were led by Sage Schwedhelm with 17 tackles while Nathan Janke added nine stops and two tackles for loss.

Winside won the battle, but lost the war as the Wildcats dominated the game holding Hartington to just 110 yards of total offense (47 rushing and 63 passing) while holding Hartington's Miller to a minus eight yards on 24 carries and Bakke to just 46 yards on 11 attempts.

The Wildcats (5-3) will travel to Cedar Bluffs (5-3) to face another team of Wildcats in the first round of the Class D-1 football playoffs on Thursday, Oct. 30 at 6 p.m.

Winside head volleyball coach Teresa Watters rallies the Wildcats in their 3-0 match win over Ponca on Monday. Winside defeated the Indians by the scores of 25-18, 25-13 and 25-20. Winside also defeated Wakefield 3-0, but then dropped a five set match to Bancroft-Rosalie in the Lewis and Clark semi-final by the scores of 25-22, 25-19, 13-25, 24-16 and 16-

No. 23 WSC volleyball goes 1-2 in recent week's action

By Casey Schroeder

On Oct. 25, two NCAA Division II-ranked teams commenced battle with the No.4 Southwest Minnesota State Mustangs knocking-off the No. 23 Wayne State College Wildcats by the scores of 25-18, 19-25, 25-21 and 25-18.

"We need to improve our consistency," said WSC head volleyball coach Scott Kneifl. "We're allowing too big of runs to be successful against the top teams in the coun-

With the win SMSU improved to 23-3 overall and 12-2 in the Northern Sun Intercollegiate Conference (NSIC) while WSC fell to 20-5 overall and 9-4 in league play.

The Mustangs outhit the Wildcats .292 to .201 as SMSU had 61 kills to the Wildcats' 48.

Both teams had 144 attacks and 19 hitting errors.

Senior Brittany Van Beek accounted for a game-high 16 kills to lead WSC in hitting followed by Jennifer Hefner with 10.

Meredy Dubbs recorded a teamhigh 14 digs while Diedra Artz finished with 27 set assists for the Wildcats.

Prior to the Wildcats' Saturday evening loss to the Mustangs, WSC opened weekend play with a 3-2 win over Minnesota State in Makato, Minn., by the scores of 18-25, 26-28, 25-16, 25-15 and 15-11.

"Minnesota State had a really nice team, they're very underrated...but physically are probably one of the most physical teams in the league," Kneifl said.

"We didn't ball handle very well, we weren't very aggressive in the first two sets, but to be able to fight back on the road shows that this team has a lot of character. It was a really good win of us."

Hefner led the Wildcats to a "w", with a career-high 26 kills while hitting .619 for the game without a single hitting error in 42 total

Sophomore Jenna Jansen was credited with 47 sets assists in the win for WSC

For the Mavericks, Ashley Nachreiner notched 17 kills and 13 digs while Brittany Stamer added 53 set assists for Minnesota State.

Leading up to the Wildcats' twogame NSIC tour, WSC started the week off last Wednesday when they hosted No. 11 Nebraska-Kearney as part of "Pack the House" Night which drew 1,382 fans which was the second-highest attendance in WSC history.

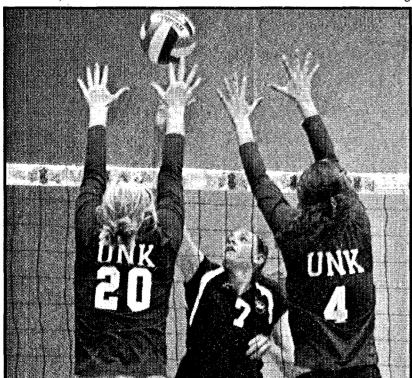

Despite the large legion of black clad fans, WSC had a tough time putting the Lopers away as UNK swept the Wildcats in three sets by the scores of 25-21, 25-23 and 25-

"We didn't execute from the beginning, we couldn't get a lead and we were always playing catchup," said Kneifl.

"You can't play catch-up against Wayne State (20-4 9-3): Wessel 8k, ne of the top teams in the country and expect to pull a win out. It was just a weird volleyball match."

The Lopers took an early lead and held off late WSC rallies in each of the three sets.

Wildcats take third and sixth at NSIC Championships

By Casey Schroeder

The Wayne State College mens' and women's cross country teams returned to action last Saturday at the 2008 Northern Sun Conference Championships in Aberdeen, S.D. where the men's and women's squads took third and sixth place, respectively.

The WSC men's team scored 108 points to finish third in the 11 team field with Minnesota State capturing the team tile with 22 points while Augustana finished in second place at 74.

Wildcat men's cross country up one spot to seventh in latest USTFCCA Region Rankings

The Wayne State College men's cross country team has moved up one spot to seventh in the NCAA Division II Central Regional Cross Country Rankings that were released Tuesday by the U.S. Track and Field and Cross Country Coaches Association.

The Wildcats are coming off a third place finish at last weekend's Conference Northern Sun Championships, where they trailed only Minnesota State and Augustana in the team standings.

Minnesota State is third this week followed by Colorado School of Mines and Augustana (S.D.) in the top five.

Metro State of Colorado is sixth with WSC up one spot to seventh.

New Mexico Highlands also moved up one spot to eighth with St. Cloud State and Northern State entering the rankings this week at ninth at 10th.

The top six men's teams from the region will advance to the NCAA Division II National Championships in Slippery Rock, Pa., on Nov. 22.

The Wildcats are off this week and will prepare for the NCAA Division II Central Regional Saturday, Nov. 8.

The next action for the Wildcats will be on Saturday, Nov. 8 when they compete at the NCAA Division Central Regional Championships in Kearney.

"The men's team is in a position that if they race up to their abilities, they still can have a shot at qualifying for Nationals by placing in the top six qualifying spots," Brink said.

"With the race being a longer distance (10,000-meters) it may play to the strength of our team.

Brink further added "The women's team I think has a shot at a top ten finish, but again it will require all scorers to have a good

Golden Eagles soar to 4-0 win over Wildcats

By Casey Schroeder

College The Wayne State women's soccer team continued their season of misfortune as they were handed a 4-0 loss by Minnesota, Crookston on Sunday afternoon in Crookston, Minn.

With the loss, WSC dropped to 1-16-1 overall and 1-10 in the Northern Sun Intercollegiate Conference (NSIC) while the Golden Eagles improved to 3-14-1 overall and 2-9 in league play.

UMC held a 1-0 lead at halftime, then scored two goals in the first 4:30 of the second half to steal a 3-0 lead that they failed to relinquish on their way to a 4-0 victory.

The Golden Eagles held a 15-7 edge in shots over the Wildcats. which included a 7-1 lead in corner kicks over WSC.

Megan Kenealy, Valerie Robinson and Samantha Mueting each recorded two shots to lead the Wildcats on offense. Sophomore goalkeeper Emily Walker was credited with three saves while allowing four goals in the loss for WSC.

Prior to being defeated on Sunday, WSC opened the weekend with a narrow 1-2 loss to MSU Moorhead (7-6-1 4-5-1) on Saturday in Moorhead, Minn.

MSU Moorhead scored two goals in the first 15 minutes of play to edge the Wildcats 2-1.

MSU Moorhead's Richelle Ross opened the scoring at the 7:06 mark to give the Dragons a 1-0 lead while Tricia Vanyo later found the goal in the 15th minute to make the score 2-0 in favor of MSU Moorhead. The score remained the same until the 74:23 mark in the second half when WSC's Rachel Fuchs scored her first career goal with an assist by Tiffani Kellerman to bring the final score to 2-1.

The Dragons held a 34-22 advantage in shots over WSC, but the Wildcats had three corner kicks to just one for MSU Moorhead.

Walker notched 21 saves in the contests for WSC while allowing just two goals.

WSC will return to action on Saturday, Nov. 1 when they host Bemidji State at 10:30 a.m.

WSC's Reeves collects NSIC Defensive Player of the Week honors

Ryan Reeves of Wayne State College was named the Northern Sun Intercollegiate Conference (NSIC) Defensive Player of the Week Monday following his performance in the Wildcats' 28-7 win at Augustana College.

It's the first time this season and the first time in his career that Reeves has received player of the week honors from the NSIC.

The 6-3, 215 pound junior middle linebacker from Wahoo (Wahoo Neumann High School), had a career-high 16 tackles to lead a Wildcat defense that held Augustana to just 266 yards.

Reeves finished the game with seven solo stops and nine assisted tackles with tackle for loss.

He is WSC's leading tackler with 95 total tackles and tops the NSIC in tackles per game with 10.6.

CALIFORNIA VISIT

Katie Fletcher traveled to Sacramento, Calif. on Oct. 11 to visit with her daughter, Cheryl Curley and family.

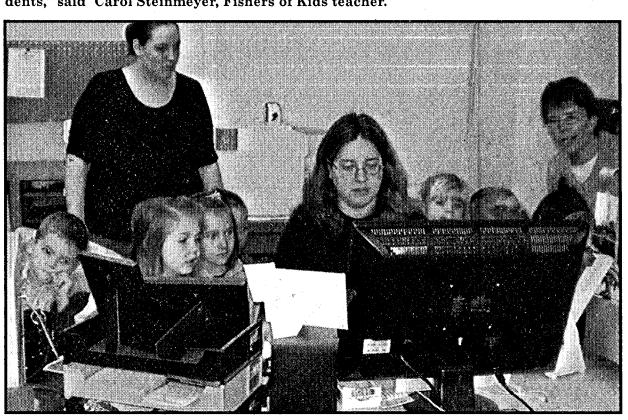

While there she got to spend a week with her new identical twin great-grandsons who were born Sept. 5. She did not have much of a chance for sightseeing, but had "a wonderful time getting to know the new babies."

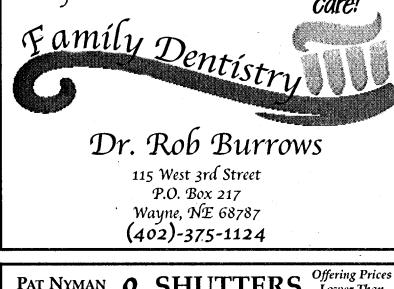

Katie returned to Hoskins on Oct. 19. Just as she returned home, she and Bob were surprised with a short visit from their son, Arthur Diagrepont and their grandson, Matthew. They had finished a job in Minot, N.D. and were on their way back to Louisiana. The men spent the night and the next morning were on their way.

Fishers of Kids visit Wayne

Students at Fishers of Kids Preschool in Wayne visited many places of business in town as they studied Community Places and People during the month of October. At Jammer Photography, students were amazed at how big the room was. At the Wayne Herald students observed the printing press and had the opportunity to meet some of the staff. "A special thank you to all of the area businesses for sharing their professions with our students," said Carol Steinmeyer, Fishers of Kids teacher.

Next Tuesday, Nov. 4 will go down in the record books as one of the most notable dates in our country's history. Not only will there be a newly elected president of the United States of America but the conclusion of the election will be marked as the most costly presidential election in history.

The two candidates Barack Obama and John McCain have not only surpassed the previous record of spending on political advertising, they have lapped the field several times over. It nearly borders on stupidity.

I surely hope many of the television networks don't file bankruptcy following the election. Afterall, how will they survive with out the hundreds of millions of dollars dumped in their laps for an election campaign that began some three years ago?

The finger-pointing and blame-game that has been going on for way too long will somewhat subside following Tuesday's election. Which ever candidate emerges will have a rough road ahead as they try to piece back together the American confidence which has been shattered the past several months.

Cheer up out there you political junkies, the last I checked we're just under 1470 days until the next presidential election.

While America goes to the polls to reshape our country, residents of Wayne County will not only be helping in that landscape project but will be sending a message about forging ahead with Wayne's progress into the future.

It's simple really, citizens will be asked to vote on the city sales tax issue as to whether to keep it where it's at (1 percent) with a YES vote or to allow it to sunset (dissolve) in 2009 with a NO vote.

A Yes vote is only part of the ballot and it's important that voters understand this. Should voters put the X in the Yes box they also need to put the X in the Yes box for the passage of the economic development program.

Voting yes twice, will allow the formation of a committee to make recommendations to the city council about various projects under the economic development umbrella. This program allows for economic development growth through a myriad of vehicles such as microgrants, optioning of land, revolving loan funds, incentives for new and existing business just to name a few.

More than 50 communities across our great State have economic development dollars through this type of vehicle working hard to give them the edge they need to keep their communities growing and prospering. There's no good reason why Wayne can not follow.

The beauty of the whole thing is we won't see any additional sales tax than what we're currently paying. Voters need to understand the 1 percent sales tax for Wayne being proposed is not an additional tax. It is a continuation of the tax we already

This 1 percent has been estimated to equate into a half-million dollars per year. If passed, 60 percent of these proceeds would go toward capital improvements in our community such as if a new swimming pool is needed down the road or perhaps the purchase of a fire truck when needed.

The other 40 percent of the proceeds of the 1 percent would go toward economic development. That doesn't mean a check will be issued to WAEDI with a note saying, here's a gift, spend as you

There will be control as a committee of seven people will be formed to determine the dollars to be spent upon the blessing of our city council. Should the people vote to keep the sales tax as is but vote against the economic development program, the remaining 40 percent generated from the 1 percent sales tax will go into the general fund of the City budget.

It is hopeful we as voters don't handcuff our own growth potential by not voting YES twice on Tuesday.

Those that wish to vote NO and then run off to other communities such as Norfolk or Sioux City to do their trade may be saddened to find out those communities already have higher sales tax than we do. Every dollar spent by a Wayne resident in those communities enables those cities to keep moving forward. Let's send a message to our proud community that we expect the Vote Yes twice on Tuesday Will Nebraska be 'fly over' state this election?

By Ed Howard

Statehouse Correspondent The Nebraska Press Association

Being a "fly over" state in a presidential election year doesn't seem so bad if the candidates are flying over, rather than stopping in, because everyone is sure the party of their preference is going to win their state.

That's pragmatic view Republican and Democratic operatives can agree upon.

Until this year, Nebraska represented five guaranteed electoral votes for the Republican presidential candidate. With the excruciatingly close 2008 election, and Nebraska's system of apportioning three of its electoral votes based on individual results in the three congressional districts, you might think Messrs. McCain, Obama and friends were tourists who had been charmed by one of those "Discover Nebraska!" campaigns.

Who has been here in 2008? Obama and Mrs. Obama. McCain and Mrs. McCain. Sarah Palin and Hillary Clinton. Perhaps Joe Biden will do a whistle-stop equivalency before election day.

Did the stars of contemporary politics come to Nebraska solely to compete for that electoral vote from Omaha-dominated Congressional District - the one most likely "in play" this year? And maybe because the 1st District vote, representing the rest of eastern Nebraska, might stand the teeniest chance of going either way?

As any Nebraskan might put it: "You bet!" As any Alaskan might put it:

"You betcha!" A state viewed totally as a lock

Would many a partisan Democrat want to do exactly the same thing if roles were reversed, and they could be virtually assured

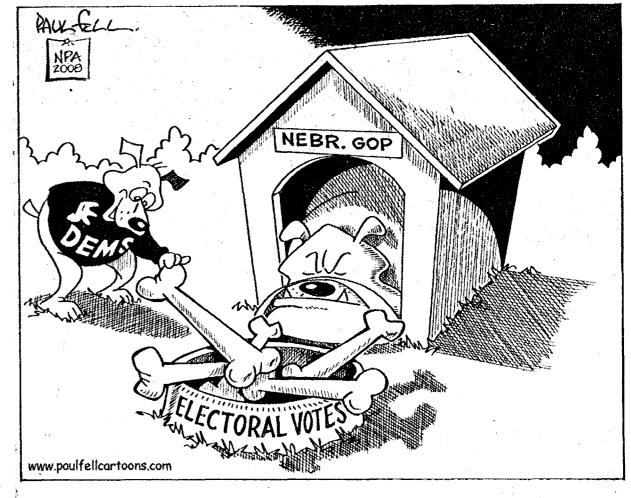

Since Republicans have a hefty majority in the officially nonpartisan Legislature, and since Gov. Dave Heineman has "GOP" tattooed on his soul if not his person, will Nebraska likely return to the winner-take-all system?

Word is that the "no age limit" policy for dumping children at hospitals will be replaced, and that the safe haven law will apply to newborns up to three days old. Look for debate over whether the period should be extended beyond three days - but don't expect anyone to get traction by arguing that the law should remain wide open.

When parents began dropping kids off in wholesale lots, and some began bringing teenagers from other states, changes in the law were literally guaranteed.

What happened? Can you spell 'politicians!'

It's hard for an economy to operate in the comfort zone when subject to death by a thousand cuts. Let's say you had enough money, pre-tax, to start a new business. After tax, however, you funded the economic development department, but your new business is still on the drawing board. Government can never stimulate the economy, or create jobs to the point of long-term net economic gain. Government is a non-productive entity, expensive and always takes more tax money out of an economy than it puts back in. Therefore, thoughts that economic health can be restored by government, government programs, bail outs and give-aways is wishful thinking, generally irresponsible and defies the laws of economic physics.

I say "Economics exist, survive, recover and/or thrive, not because of government, but in spite of it."

Pick up litter

Dear Editor,

I don't know who put those white crosses on roadways and in area fields, but they should have picked up their excess plastic pieces, wood stacks, spikes, etc.

If a tractor, combine or any vehicle were to run over any of this litter, it would result in an extremely costly repair job.

There is a littering law! Also, what about trespassing on private property?

ate, practical senator to help lead

Yesterday, I had the privilege of sitting in on a community round table discussion with Scott Kleeb. He had some very thoughtful, good perspectives and ideas on health care, a comprehensive grasp on the very real economic crisis, and he really listened to us. Prior to this scheduled meeting, I found information about him on the Internet. I was surprised to learn he had master and doctoral degrees from Yale in International Affairs and History. I also agreed with him on many, but not all, of his policy

When Mike Johanns was the Sec. of Ag, he said he would do whatever Bush wanted, and he did. He was not always working in the best interests of agriculture. I am very sure I don't want a "rubber stamp" senator, who may support the RNC's plank repealing the Renewable Fuels Standards. We need one who really investigates the history behind the issues and the long term effects of policy decisions and acts accordingly. I believe Scott Kleeb will be a careful, wise leader, not a follower. I urge readers to really look into his background and vote on Nov. 4. We thought Tom Osborne was a "no contest" for governor, and our independent citizens could just surprise Mike Johanns in this senate race, as well. Talk to your neighbors about it!

We achieved this by a combination of more load controls on customer air conditioner units and customer awareness and efforts to reduce energy costs. Because of this Wayne electric utility will save about $15,000 in transmission and wholesale power costs over the next 12 months.

Wayne electric customers held Highway Costs in the Future The Nebraska Department of summer than in previous years. Roads annual revenue for building and maintaining highways has dropped from $390 million four years ago to $317 million this year and continues to fall. This revenue comes from the 48 cents in state and federal gas tax on a gallon of gas. Drivers are driving less, buying more efficient cars, and soon we will be seeing electric and natural gas powered cars on the market that use the roads and pay no gas tax at all. The current bridge and highway funding program is no longer stable.

> The annual cost just to maintain Nebraska highways and bridges is more than $200 million per year and rising. In a few years the gas tax revenue will not be sufficient to maintain the existing bridge and highway system. Highway 275 will be left as is.

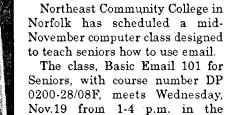

> Who will pay to fix the roads? The Nebraska public and the U.S. public will need to have a serious discussion about how to pay for roads in the future. Gas taxes will give way to a new form of user fees so pay attention to the debate. Questions or comments?

Wayne Works

City Administrator Lowell Johnson examines the Wayne Area Economic Development poster showing those who have contributed to the Wayne Works marketing campaign. As part of the program, television ads have recently begun airing, promoting the community.

0200-28/08F, meets Wednesday, Nov.19 from 1-4 p.m. in the Lifelong Learning Center on the Northeast campus in Norfolk. Cost is $15 and JoAnn McKenzie is the instructor. Students in this class will learn basic email skills and proper "Netiquette" in composing and sending emails. Students will open an email account that can be used anywhere in the world, not just from a home computer. McKenzie will review terms used in Internet usage and teach students to use spell check, add photographs, add and open attachments, and reply and forward emails. McKenzie will also help participants set up an entire network of recipients to keep families and groups connected.

Students may use their own Web-Based email accounts if they wish. They should bring the Website address of their email, Username (email address), and Password (if unsure, check with Internet service provider to get the information.)

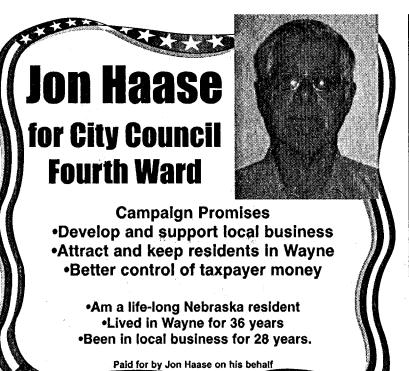

To register for this class, call Northeast Community College at (402)844-7000.

Fundraiser ongoing for Red Cross

A fundraiser for the American Red Cross is underway. If you or your son or daughter has a page on Facebook, please consider voting for the American Red Cross through "Our World Gives." It is an opportunity for a fortunate national non-profit to get a gift of $50,000. The National ARC has an opportunity to receive $50,000 donation based on the votes of Facebook users.

The Western Union Foundation recently announced a partnership, "Our World Gives," with Facebook to give its members the opportunity to vote and express their support toward a group of non-governmental organizations, including the American Red Cross. Beginning Oct. 10, Facebook http://apps.facebook.com/ourworldgives/ users can make their selection. The charity chosen by the Facebook community will receive $50,000 from the Western Union Foundation.

The Red Cross is trying to replenish its National Disaster Fund (DRF). This fund helps during large scale disasters. For example, the Red Cross has received money from this fund last spring as the storms moved through the midwest and for the floods in Iowa.

Coffee host

Doug Garwood, candidate for Legislative District 17, hosted last week's Chamber Coffee. The event was held at the Coffee Shoppe. Garwood told his audience of his experience and urged all to vote on Nov. 4.

Family meals nourish body and soul

One of the strengths of emotionally healthy families is spending time together. One characteristic of these families is eating meals together on a regular basis.

Just sitting together at the table doesn't always lead to fascinating family conversations or warm mealtime memories. Here are some ideas for building family traditions, improving nutrition and reducing stress:

· It's not what but how to feed family. Simple foods served with love and laughter will outshine gourmet goodies almost every time.

• It doesn't have to be hot to be healthy. Tuna sandwiches, a salad and some frozen yogurt can be just as healthy for a family as something slaved over at a stove.

· Focus on food choices versus forcing food. Allow children to eat until they're full without forcing one more bite or a clean plate. Children develop healthy eating attitudes through choice, not coercion. Instead of forcing food, offer a variety of nutritious choices.

· Eat well, live well. By improving a feeding relationship, children eat better and mealtimes are much more pleasant.

· Start slow. Don't try to go from the weekend. no meals to nightly meals. Start with one meal together weekly. Find what works in the family and go from there.

· Take turns talking with a "talking stick." If everyone in a family talks at once, borrow the "talking stick" idea from Native Americans. They only allow the person holding the stick to talk. Though talking sticks traditionally are made with feathers and bands of cured leather, devise a personal, family version of a talking stick. It might be something as simple as a wood spoon with a colorful ribbon tied to it.

· Don't answer the phone during mealtime. How often are meals interrupted by the phone? If it's bothersome, either unplug the phone or turn off its ringer. Use an answering machine or voice mail if it's hard to refrain from responding to a call. If some calls need to be answered immediately, consider getting caller I.D.

Turn off the TV. Encourage family members to star in their own lives and relate to each other rather than to some image on a TV screen. For an absolutely must see show occurring during dinnertime. tape it for later viewing.

Get children involved in making meals. Children, especially younger children, tend to tune in more to meals they help prepare. If everyone's hungry and in a hurry when they get home at night, try cooking together with children over · Cook it quick but eat it slow. Though meal preparation time may be hurried, allow ample time to enjoy the meal with family.

· Table talk. Share positive things that have happened during the day. Some families have a night when they have an assigned table

If little time is available for a family to enjoy food and fellowship together, here's a final thought: imagine viewing a movie through a VCR on fast-forward. Several movies can be seen in the time it takes to watch one in normal speed. But would they be enjoyed as much? Maybe it's time to hit stop or pause for several meals a week.

Read how chriropractic care has influenced the lives of people in your own community!

We first started at Herman Chiropractic with our 8-year-old son. Owen had been through two sets of tubes and the last set of tubes were not completely out when he started having problems with fluid in his ears. The doctor gave us one month on medicine to see if Owen's symptoms would get better. If they did not, we were in for a third set of tubes, which Owen tëally didn't want to go though again. In the meantime, along with taking medicine he also had a nose spray, which led to nose bleeds at night. We stopped the nose spray and medicine so the inside of his nose could heal and repair the damage.

My friend and Owen's daycare provider suggested Herman Chiropractic for his ears and told us the benefits that she had seen with chiropractic care, I was not convinced that this would work, but I was frustrated with doctor appointments, medicines, and his illness. Owen started seeing Or. Herman in January 2008 and has been going faithfully ever since. After the month was up and it was time to go back to the ear specialist, Owen got a clean bill of health and was told there was no need for more medicine or a third set of tubes. Owen and I were so happy. We called everybody, including Dr. Herman. This is when I became a bellever of chiropractic. Owen still sees Dr. Herman once a month. He looks forward to his appointments and I tell everyone that has a child with ear problems to try Dr. Herman's chiropractic care. We are so thankfull

Community conducts sucessful CROP Walk together and held a CROP Walk for World Hunger on Oct. 12.

Communities across the nation come together each year and have walks to raise funds to help poverty. The donations collected return up to 25 percent of their CROP Walk proceeds to hunger-fighting programs in their own community. In addition to the walk in the Wayne community, the First United Methodist Church hosted a Potato Bake lunch with proceeds going to help fund the event. The Wayne Community raised $900 for this years event.

Many factors contribute to hunger in the United States and

The Wayne Area Churches came around the world, including a global food crisis fueled by rising food prices, lower crop yields as a result of climate change, unemployment and poverty.

CROP Hunger Walks Communities Responding to Overcome Poverty - are unique in that proceeds help to overcome hunger and poverty both domestically and internationally. Reformation Sunday celebrated at Our Savior Lutheran Church rates the posting of the "95 Theses" by Martin Luther in the 1500s, later resulting in a break from the Roman Catholic Church by religious protesters, or "Protestants."

Teaching this bit of church history was livened up this year for the eighth grade confirmation class of Our Savior Lutheran Church, when they rehearsed for and presented the play, "Time for Luther."

This original play, written by Sue Stover, Director of Lay Ministries at Our Savior, was directed by volunteer, Saralou Danielson of Laurel. It featured time travel in a silver time machine invented by one of the students, back to the time of Dr. Martin Luther. Through the students' conversations with Dr. Luther and reenactments of the tumultuous moments of Luther's

Niche markets offer opportunities for some pork producers niche markets.

In response, University of Nebraska-Lincoln Extension is helping pork producers learn more about niche markets, said Richard Ness, extension educator focusing on niche pork. In general, niche pork markets require a fatter pig than is grown in conventional systems, giving it a different eating quality, he said.

"The growth in the alternative swine production systems comes from consumer demand for alternatives to commodity pork products," Ness said. "These are consumers who have different values that they want met by the pork products they buy."

The niche or designer pork industry is based on creating a different product before the animal reaches the processing plant, Ness said. These differences include giving the animal no antibiotics, hormones or animal byproducts, not confining it in gestation or farrowing crates, and following animal welfare recommendations.

Other niche markets relate not to the way the animals are treated but rather revolve around breed, such as Berkshire, Heirloom and Heritage.

For many people, pork developed through niche markets represents quality, Ness said.

Niche pork "is not going to take over the pork industry," Ness said. "But there are a lot of people who read 'bon appetit' magazine and shop at Whole Foods Market. It's a certain segment of the population but they're serious about where their food comes from."

Extension has scheduled meetings Dec. 10 in Norfolk and Dec. 11

More and more consumers, no in Auburn for existing niche pork longer content to eat conventional farmers and those interested. The pork, are looking to purchase meat meetings are designed to educate developed through more selective people about niche pork production and let them know of the growing demand, Ness said. A niche pork expert from England will speak.

> Ness also has formed a learning group of niche pork producers. The group held two meetings earlier this year and plans to meet again in November and December to swap ideas.

> Extension is co-sponsoring a series of digital farm tours with Iowa State University that will cover niche pork, is developing educational materials to be available through the Internet, and plans to develop educational curriculum for agricultural students at UNL and community colleges.

> Most of Nebraska's niche pork farmers sell their animals to Niman Ranch, a niche food business that has a pork processing plant in western Iowa. Klint Stewart, Nebraska's field agent for Niman, estimated there are about 40 active niche pork farmers in the state who sell their pork to Niman.

> Dean Janousek of Clarkson, who has been raising hogs for about 30 years, is one of them. Janousek said he wouldn't be in the business if it wasn't for the niche pork market because it is the most profitable for a small 25-sow operation such

> "If we didn't have this specific market I would not be raising hogs," he said, explaining that he gets about 62 cents a pound for live hogs in niche production as opposed to about 50 cents in the conventional market.

> Janousek refuses to use farrowing crates for his 25 sows, believing that his animals need room to stand up and lay down. He does not use antibiotics and also raises the popular Berkshire breed, which he said has a better flavor.

"I get the satisfaction of raising some of the best pork in the country," he said.

The pork sold by Niman Ranch can be purchased at some restaurants and specialty grocery stores, including Chipotle Mexican Grill and some Whole Foods Markets, Stewart said. The company also is selling bacon and sausage at Super Target stores nationwide, he said. The pork is more expensive - sometimes double the price of pork sold in traditional grocery stores.

Hog farmers get involved in the niche pork industry for several reasons, Ness said. It is often a value issue - they believe this is the proper way to raise pigs. Some have raised their pigs this way for years and now they have a market for it.

For others, niche markets usually provide a floor price for the hogs which reduces the financial risk in a falling market, he said. Plus, the cost of getting started raising pigs for niche markets is considerably less than starting a conventional system because gestation crates and other equipment are not need-

"This makes niche pork attractive to younger, beginning farmers," Ness said.

UNL Extension is part of the Institute of Agriculture and Natural Resources, which also includes the Agricultural Research Division and the College of Agricultural Sciences and Natural Resources. RC&D learns of local industry Monday night's meeting of the Northeast Nebraska Resource Conservation & Development (RC&D) started off with Bob McKinley, CEO and President of Sidump'r Trailer Co., Plainview, NE sharing information about their operation.

The plant builds heavy construc-tion trailers whose use covers mining operations, agricultural and lots of construction work in between. Their unique design allows them to dump to either side which improves safety, is faster than end dumping, and increases productivity because material can be dumped while moving.

company started in Plainview and turned out it's first trailer in 2000. Since then this young company has been tweaking and adjusting their equipment to make it even better. In 2005 they were listed in "Inc. 500 Magazine", one of the top fastest growing private businesses in the country. Depending on their work schedule they employ between 20 and 50 people.

The Council's regular order of business was led by President Bud Knuth. Art Kuhl was elected to serve on the Wau-Col Water System Advisory Board as the RC&D representative. Dick Haskin reported on the Outlaw Trail's successful Shootin' the Breeze event which the Council supported with grant writing assistance. A report from Cy Pinkelman gave an update on the website rebuilding that will take place.

Donna Christiansen reported that the computer recycling event in Plainview kept 9,316# of obsolete equipment out of landfills and that the five collections this year tallied 52,600# - events very much appreciated by citizens

The annual meeting is Nov. 24 at 6 p.m. at Jerry's Hilltop near Randolph. More information about this will be out soon. All are welcome to attend.

Nebraska Safety Council plans class at NECC for young adults

The Nebraska Safety Council will soon present another class at Northeast Community College to help young adults make good life choices. The class, Alive at 25, meets Wednesday, Nov.19 from 5-9 p.m. in the Lifelong Learning Center on the Northeast campus in Norfolk. Cost is $40.

This student-centered course is designed to provide 16-24-year-old students a chance to practice and develop decision-making skills. An hour of the class will be dedicated to the latest defensive driving tech-

Veterans Affairs to open Norfolk Community Health Clinic

Veterans in Norfolk and surrounding counties will soon be able to receive their primary health care at a Department of Veterans Affairs community-based outpatient clinic (CBOC). The clinic opens Nov. 3 at 710 S. 13th St., Suite 1200, in the Pasewalk Plaza in Norfolk.

Veterans will be able to reach the clinic at (402) 370-4570. In addition, veterans are encouraged to call this number after Nov. 3 to schedule an appointment for a flu shot. However, walk-in flu shots will be available at the clinic Monday through Friday from 8:30 a.m. - 4 p.m.

Veterans must be enrolled in the VA Nebraska-Western Iowa Health Care System (NWIHCS) to receive care at the clinic. Veterans not already enrolled may apply for enrollment at the clinic or visit www.nebraska.va.gov for additional information about eligibility and enrollment.

closer to home for veterans in Norfolk and surrounding counties. It provides veterans access to primary care and limited mental health services. It also features multiple exam rooms, videoconspecialty clinics and a minor procedure room.

Dr. Robert Nutt will lead a staff of six people, which includes a nurse facility they wish to receive health practitioner, registered nurse, two licensed practical nurses and a clerk. The VA expects to have a to the VA to indicate their preferpsychologist hired soon.

About 300 veterans who currently receive their primary care receiving their health care through through a VA-contracted clinic in one of the VA NWIHCS facilities in Norfolk will automatically have their health care enrollment transferred to the new VA clinic. However, veterans who do not wish to be reassigned to the new VA clinic should notify the VA Nebraska-Western Iowa Health

The clinic brings health care Care System (NWIHCS) by calling (402) 486-7879. Veterans who are being transferred to the new clinic will receive an appointment or be notified via mail how to obtain an appointment.

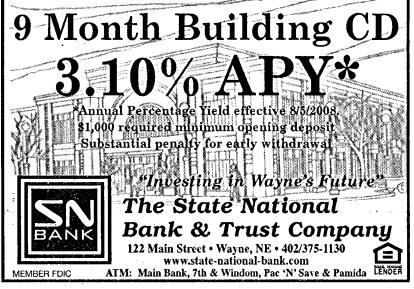

Veterans in Norfolk and surferencing services for group and rounding counties who are currently enrolled in the VA health care system will receive a letter that explains how to specify which care at. The letter will include a post card for veterans to return

However, veterans currently Omaha, Grand Island or Lincoln should continue to see their current primary care providers until they are notified they have been enrolled at the Norfolk VA Clinic to ensure continuance of care, said Jan Youngblood, VA NWIHCS CBOC Manager.

The VA Nebraska-Western Iowa Health Care System proudly serves more than 172,500 veterans in Nebraska, western Iowa and portions of Kansas and Missouri. Omaha's medical center is an inpatient facility and also a large outpatient clinic for primary and specialty care. The nursing home care unit is in Grand Island. There are community-based outpatient clinics in Lincoln, Grand Island, Holdrege, North Platte and Norfolk.

Energy Conference to look at present, future energy demands on Nov. 19

The impacts of higher energy costs and the opportunities in discovering conservation practices and renewable forms of energy will be topics of discussion and education at the Energy Conference to be held Wednesday, Nov. 19 from 8:45 a.m. to 3:30 p.m. at the Sioux City Convention Center.

Five sessions will discuss topics ranging from energy supply and demand and energy independence initiatives to impacts of energy prices on Midwest industries and technology opportunities in energy efficiency and renewable energy projects. The conference will conclude with a panel discussion on the impact of green initiatives on community development.

"Communities and businesses at l levels are being challenged by rapidly changing energy demands and costs," said Northwest Area Iowa State University (ISU) Extension Education Director Don Nitchie. "This conference is for anyone interested in gaining knowledge and perspective about current and future energy needs and opportunities"

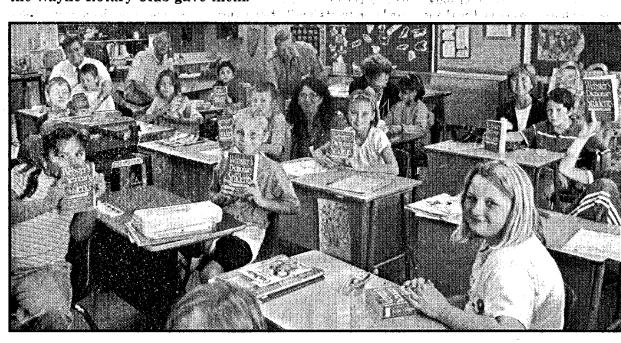

Presenters include Roya Stanley, director of the Iowa Office of Energy Independence, Dave Swenson, Iowa State University economist, and Bill Haman, engineer with the Iowa Energy Center.

The conference has been organized and facilitated by ISU Extension with sponsors including MidAmerican Energy, Iowa Farm Bureau, and NIPCO.

Registration information is available by contacting Nancy McConnell at the Northwest Area ISU Extension Outreach office at (712) 274-0048 or by visiting the Energy Conference website at www.extension.iastate.edu/northwestarea/news/EnergyConference

ACCELERATED READERS

The Lied Winside Public Library and the Winside Public School Library are collaborating while using the Accelerated Reading Program to promote reading school and community wide. Mrs. JoAnn Field and Mrs. Kristy Wittler planned the quarterly AR celebration that included several activities and the awarding of books to the top boy and girl readers in first through sixth grades.

Winside Elementary teachers burned rubber in a race to help celebrate the second quarter AR achievements. Students cheered their teachers on from the sidelines. The "vehicles" had to include some type of rubber wheel but no motor. The vehicles included bicycles, a grocery cart, a mechanic stool, and a wagon. Fourth grade student teacher Ms. Wolken won the race on her bicycle.

Winside AR Activities Slow and steady wins the race as Kindergarten students Alli Hurlbert and Lance Muhs compete in the pumpkin relay.

Halloween safety tips given

Halloween is a time of great fun for children, but it can be a little scary for parents and drivers. Children are often out after dark, crossing busy streets and perhaps going to unfamiliar homes.

"With excited kids frantically going from neighbor to neighbor, drivers need to be particularly cautious," said Ray Palermo, director of public information for Teachers' Insurance PlanTM. "However, by following some simple advice, parents, children, drivers and home-

TEXT OF PROPOSED AMENDMENT NUMBER 1

THE MEMBERS OF THE ONE HUNDREDTH LEGISLATURE OF NEBRASKA, SECOND SESSION, RESOLVE THAT:

Section 1. At the general election in November 2008 the following proposed amendment to the Constitution of Nebraska shall be submitted to the electors of the State of Nebraska for approval or rejection:

To amend Article XIII, section 2: XIII-2 Notwithstanding any other provision in the Constitution, the Legislature may authorize any county or incorporated city or village, including cities operating under home rule charters, to acquire, own, develop, and lease real and personal property suitable for use by manufacturing or industrial enterprises and to issue revenue bonds for the purpose of defraying the cost of acquiring and developing such property by construction, purchase, or otherwise. The Legislature may also authorize such county, city, or village to acquire, own, develop, and lease real and personal property suitable for use by enterprises as determined by law if such property is located in blighted areas as determined by law and to issue revenue bonds for the purpose of defraying the cost of acquiring and developing or financing such property by construction, purchase, or otherwise. Such bonds shall not become general obligation bonds of the governmental subdivision by which such bonds are issued. Any real or personal property acquired, owned, developed, or used by any such county, city, or village pursuant to this section shall be subject to taxation to the same extent as private property during the time it is leased to or held by private interests, notwithstanding the provisions of Article VIII, section 2, of the Constitution. The acquiring, owning, developing, and leasing of such property shall be deemed for a public purpose, but the govern-mental subdivision shall not have the right to acquire such property by condemnation. The principal of and interest on any bonds is-sued may be secured by a pledge of the lease and the revenue there from and by mortgage upon such property. No such governmental subdivision shall have the power to operate any such property as a business or in any manner except as the lessor thereof.

Notwithstanding any other provision in the Constitution, the Legislature may also authorize any incorporated city or village, including cities operating under home rule charters, to appropriate from local sources of revenue such funds as may be deemed necessary for an economic or industrial development project or program subject to approval by a vote of a majority of the registered voters of such city or village voting upon the question. For purposes of this provision, funds from local sources of revenue shall mean funds raised from general taxes levied by the city or village and shall not include any funds received by the city or village which are derived from state or federal sources.

Sec. 2. The proposed amendment shall be submitted to the electors in the manner prescribed by the Constitution of Nebraska, Article XVI, section 1, with the following ballot language: A constitutional amendment to change the powers of municipalities relating to fund sources for economic or industrial development.

PROPOSED BY INITIATIVE PETITION INITIATIVE MEASURE 424

Ballot Language for Initiative Measure 424

A vote "FOR" will amend the Nebraska Constitution to prohibit the State, any public institution of higher education, political subdivi-sion or government institution from discriminating against, or granting preferential treatment to, individuals or groups based upon race, sex, color, ethnicity, or national origin in operating public employment, education, or contracting. Existing court orders would not be invalidated under the amendment. Bona fide qualifications based on sex reasonably necessary to normal operation of public employment, education or contracting, and actions necessary to obtain federal funds through federal programs would be permitted. A cause of action for violation would be created. The amendment would apply to actions after its adoption.

A vote "AGAINST" will not cause the Nebraska Constitution to be amended in such a manner.

Shall the Nebraska Constitution be amended to prohibit the State, any public institution of higher education, political subdit institution from discriminating against, or granting preferential treatment to, individuals or groups based upon race, sex, color, ethnicity, or national origin in operating public employment, education or contracting? Existing court orders are not invalidated, bona fide qualifications based on sex reasonably necessary to normal operation of public employment, education or contracting, and actions necessary to obtain federal funds through federal programs are permitted. A cause of action for violation is created. The amendment applies to actions after its adoption.

ELECTION PREVIEW

EDITOR'S NOTE

Nebraskans will be voting on two issues when they go to the General Election polls on November 4. So that voters can better understand these important proposed changes to the state Constitution, the Nebraska Press Association in cooperation with this newspaper has prepared this report. This report briefly defines the issues, explaining their purpose.

Proposed Amendment 1

Cities and villages could have more choices in paying for local, voterapproved projects if Amendment 1 is adopted. Local governments are now barred from using state and federal dollars for some projects, and must use only local property tax and local sales tax revenue. If adopted, the amendment would give the Legislature the option to allow state, federal and other local revenue sources to be used for local economic development projects that are first approved by local voters. The amendment was unopposed in committee and passed by the Legislature without a dissenting vote.

Initiative Measure 424

The now limited authority of state and local governments to seek diversity in the workplace and the classroom through race and/or gender preferences would be eliminated through adoption of Initiative Measure 424. The U.S. Supreme Court in 1978 barred the use of quotas, and of preferences for those viewed as victims of previous discrimination, in affirmative action programs. However, this amendment allows state and local government to take action to establish or maintain eligibility for federal programs in order to obtain, or to avoid losing, federal funds. Opponents said white students were victims of discrimination at the University of Nebraska law college, where officials acknowledge that race is considered in the admissions process in order to enhance diversity. The language of the amendment, which critics said was misleading, was the subject of a lengthy pre-election education or public contracting; to apply the amendment only to action after the amendment's effective date; to allow bona fide qualifications based on sex that are reasonably necessary; to ex-empt any court order or consent decree that is in force as of the effective date of this amendment; to provide an exception for certain federal programs; to define state for purposes of the amendment; to provide for remedies; to make the amendment self-executing; to make provision in the event of conflict with federal law or the United States Constitution; and to provide for severability.

Text of Measure

Be it enacted by the people of the State of Nebraska that, Article I of the Constitution of Nebraska be amended by adding a Section 30 as follows:

(1) The state shall not discriminate against, or grant preferential treatment to, any individual or group on the basis of race, sex, color, ethnicity, or national origin in the operation of public employment, public education, or public contracting.

(2) This section shall apply only to action taken after the section's effective date.

(3) Nothing in this section prohibits bona fide qualifications based on sex that are reasonably necessary to the normal operation of public employment, public educa-tion, or public contracting.

(4) Nothing in this section shall invalidate any court order or con-sent decree that is in force as of the effective date of this section.

(5) Nothing in this section prohibits action that must be taken to establish or maintain eligibility for any federal program, if ineligibility would result in a loss of federal funds to the state.

(6) For purposes of this section, state shall include, but not be limited to: (a) the State of Nebraska; (b) any agency, department, office, board, commission, committee, division, unit, branch, bureau, council, or sub-unit of the state; (c) any public institution of higher education; (d) any political subdi-vision of or within the state; and (e) any government institution or instrumentally of or within the state.
(7) The remedies available for violations of this section shall be the same, regardless of the injured party's race, sex, color, ethnicity, or national origin, as are otherwise available for violations of Nebras-ka's antidiscrimination law. (8) This section shall be self executing. If any part or parts of this section are found to be in conflict with federal law or the Constitu-tion of the United States, this section shall be implemented to the maximum extent that federal law and the Constitution of the United States permit. Any provision held invalid shall be severable from the remaining portions of this
