Art students create life-sized cakes, cupcakes and prepare for mural for Wayne's Q125

Lynn Sievers Of the Herald

Gearing up for Wayne's Q125, Amy Jackson, art instructor at Wayne High School, has been having her eighth grade first quarter students make life-sized paper mache' cakes for the town's Feb. 2, 2009 birthday celebration. The second quarter eighth grade students created life-sized cupcakes. The artwork, which is finished in acrylic paint, will be placed downtown for the community to see and to help bring awareness to the upcoming celebration.

For the design, Jackson used the works of artist, Wayne Thiebaud, as an example more advanced students and painting fits looking cakes. Thiebaud was famous for Jackson said. painting images of food and consumer goods in the early 1960s.

Jackson has also been working with her high school advanced art and painting class on sketches for a mural downtown that will reflect the community theme, "Preserving the Past, Building the Future," . Wayne, NE. 125 years. The mural will be located on the side of the This & That building at 222 Main Street in Wayne. The drawing of the mural will be shown at the Feb. 2 birthday party at the Wayne auditorium.

Looking back, Jackson noted she first got the idea for the projects from Deb Dickey, a member of the Q125 committee, who came to her with a request to include students into the upcoming celebration.

"I want to thank Deb Dickey for being my connection with the Q125 committee, Jackson said. "I also want to thank Cap and Nana Peterson for allowing us to have the mural on their property."

Jackson ended by saying the projects have been fun and are great for community service.

Re-zoning recommendation tabled by city council

By Clara Osten Of the Herald

After a half hour of debate, the Wayne City Council voted to table any action on a re-zoning recommendation for the city's zoning map.

George Ellyson, Zoning Administrator, has identified several areas on the city's zoning map where existing uses do not match the map or where boundaries do not follow property lines.

Zoning changes require public hearings to allow abutting property owners the opportunity to voice opinions. Corrections to the map initiated by city staff or the Planning Commission are at the cost of the city. Requests for zoning changes by individual property owners are at the cost of the owner making the request.

The Planning Commission had earlier recommended to the council that several lots in the Roosevelt Park Addition of the city of Wayne be re-zoned from B-1 Highway Commercial to R-3 Residential.

During a public hearing several property owners in the area spoke in favor of the rezoning proposal.

Mike Sievers, Lynn Sievers and Karen McDonald, who own homes in the area, said they were in favor of making the area zoned residential.

The re-zoning would benefit the home owners if some type of disaster were to destroy the homes. Under the current zoning, if more than 50 percent of the home were damaged, the home could not be

We appreciate the support of both Farmers & Merchants State Bank and the FHL Bank of Topeka," said Dave Simonsen, Executive Director for the Wayne Area Economic Development.

"The Wayne Main Street program is Concord-Dixon Senior Center receives gift of books to begin a library

By Susie Johnson Concord Correspondent

The Concord-Dixon Senior Center was gifted during the past month with approximately 1,100 books to begin a library at the center. They were given in loving memory of Mrs. Kenneth Salmon (Elaine), who passed away two years ago in August. She was an avid reader, with a private library of her own in her home at Wakefield.

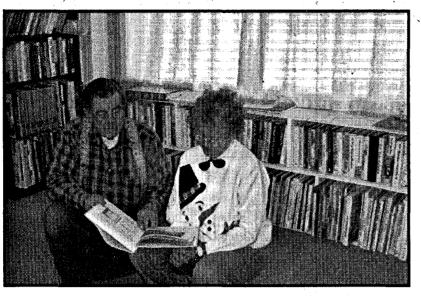

President Roy Stohler and wife, Shirley, have been busy sorting, carding and cataloging each book and placing them on the shelves especially built for them. Shelving and material for shelving has been donated by Kenny and his new wife, Phyllis. Stohler has been building the shelves. More will be built after determining the measurements and sizes needed.

There is a set of encyclopedias, many kinds of "How to" books, books about all types of wildlife, animals of all kinds, home decorating books, many, many novels, fiction and non-fiction, biographies, plus two School Year Books, dated 1925 from the Sioux City High and Central High Schools in Sioux City, ful gift. Iowa.

The assortment is very clean and in excellent condition. Future plans include the sharing of all of this reading material with the public. Lots of work is yet to be done, but special thanks are in order to the Salmon family, for this wonder-

Future announcements will be made for the naming of the library and plans for added books. Thanks go to Roy and Shirley Stohler for their many hours of time spent so far and during the days to come. The Community is looking forward to this wonderful project.

Two students share 2008 Armstrong scholarship award

Foundation President, Sandra Bartling, announced the 2008 recipients of the Marjorie L. Armstrong Education Scholarship recently.

This year's scholarship winners are Evan Janssen, a sophomore at Wavne State College, majoring in Human/Sport Physiology and Molly Mitchell of Wayne, a junior majoring in Communication Disorders at the University of South Dakota.

Evan is employed with the Providence Medical Center Physical Therapy Department and is from Randolph. Molly's mother, Janice Mitchell, has worked in the PMC dietary department for 12 years. Molly and her family are residents of Wayne.

The Marjorie L. Armstrong Endowment Scholarship provides financial support to members of the Providence Medical Center staff and/or their immediate family members and was created by the late Marjorie L. Armstrong through a Charitable Gift Annuity with the hospital foundation.

"During her later years, Marj spent a considerable amount of Providence Medical Center time at Providence Medical Center. She frequented the wellness center, as well as other departments throughout our facility. She was an extremely observant, caring, woman who was keenly aware of those individuals within our facility whom she felt were not reaching their full potential in the medical field, due in part to a lack of financial ability to continue their education," said Bartling. "That is why there is a Marjorie L. Armstrong Endowment Scholarship at the Providence Medical Center Foundation today! She wanted her charitable gift annuity funds to make a difference in the lives of our employees. She would be very pleased."

Janssen and Mitchell were each awarded the sum of $450 from the Providence Medical Center Foundation. According to Gary VanMeter, a member of the Foundation's selection committee, the committee members were "unanimous in their choices", noting that each of the winners demonstrated excellence in academics while working hard in jobs to help pay for his/her education.

Wakefield's Nearly New, Inc. opened with the spirit of giving in mind

By Lynn Sievers Of the Herald

Rhonda Lorenzen had two thoughts in mind when she opened Wakefield's Nearly New, Inc. in March and that was providing low cost of necessities to families who need them and donating the money from her store back into the community of Wakefield.

Since opening her non-profit business at 303 Main Street, donations have primarily gone to youthbased Christian activities and organizations. Both physical items and monetary donations have been made through the store.

Business hours at Wakefield's Nearly New, Inc. are: Wednesdays from 1:30 - 7 p.m., Thursdays from 1:30 - 5:30 p.m., Fridays from 1:30 - 5:30 p.m. and Saturdays from 9 a.m. to noon.

Lorenzen works part time as a para professional at the school in Wakefield where she became aware of the needs of families. She got the idea for giving the proceeds above her operating expenses from the New to You Store in Emerson which opened in 1999 and has benefited many in the Emerson community.

"Our best selling items are furniture, especially dressers and chairs, appliances, men's clothes, sheets, bed pillows and towels," Lorenzen said. "Our worst selling item is books. We even dropped our prices to 25 cents for any book. Gardner Library has first pick of any book that comes in the store. To date we have donated 785 books to the library and 54 videos as well as several stuffed animals and holiday decorations."

Donations made since opening include: $100, Family Crisis Grant (death of a spouse); $100, Family Crisis Grant (cancer benefit); $150, St. John's Lutheran Church for the Vacation Bible School; $1,000 to the Wakefield Pool; $1,000 to the American Legion Auxiliary Kitchen Fund; $25 to the Library for summer reading books; $15 to the Dixon County Fair for a trophy; $50 to the Wakefield Athletic Boosters; $500 to the Sabor Latino Dancers (for dresses); $500 to the CHIC (Christian Youth Camp Kids); $2,500 to the Youth 4 Truth (nondenominational Youth Group for a New Year's Eve party).

Also donated were all the new cleaning supplies in the store to the Iowa Flood Relief in June, clothes and miscellaneous to the Little Red Hen Theater, a post surgical ice therapy machine to the Wakefield Care Center, boxes of books on tape to the Wakefield Senior Center as well as a cassette player to play them on, boxes of clothing and miscellaneous to Goodwill in Sioux City, Iowa.

"Our customer base is mainly from Wakefield but we are starting to expand," Lorenzen said.

She added they are grateful for the items they receive from all over. There are some items, though, they do not accept: live plants, live animals, dirty automotive parts and liquids (including makeup) that are not new with a seal.

Lorenzen said they have a huge list of customer wants and needs and when something comes in fitting the description, they call.

She noted they recently participated in the Balloon Festival in Wakefield by having a food stand at the school. Barb Stout helped with her Chefs on the Go trailer and raised $400 which is to go towards a computer for Nearly New, Inc., which Lorenzen needs to help keep books for the store.

There are a number of volunteers who help out at the store by donating time, items and/or services. There is also a board of 10 members: Officers: Elizabeth Carlson, president; Sheila Puls, vice-president; Amy Samuelson, treasurer; Jenny Heimann, secretary; and Debbie Borg, Sandy Driskell, Lisa Scott, Eleanor Liekhus, Heidi Meyers and Jennifer Pommer who help out.

Lorenzen stated they still accept monetary donations as they are working on becoming 501C3 so that when the time comes, they can move into a larger space, for a computer or to help in the efforts to support local activities. Anyone wishing to make a donation can mail it, drop it off at the store or at the Iowa/Nebraska State Bank in Wakefield, where they have a checking and a savings account.

"Quite honestly, the best way people can help is by coming to the store, shopping and telling others about us," Lorenzen said. "Also, if they know a family with children who have no coats, maybe they could find one in our store or if someone needs blankets for their beds or dishes for their kitchen. Shopping at the store is a cheap way to supply an apartment. And, we always need volunteers. Even if it is to bring someone to the store or drive a neighbor over so they can shop. There are tons of ways people can help that doesn't involve writing a check."

Lorenzen and her husband, Ryan, are both originally from Minnesota. Ryan works for the federal government as a land surveyor and she works at the school in the elementary ESL (English as a Second Language) department. They are the parents of two daughters: Hannah, 11, who is in the sixth grade and Sarah, 10, who is in the fifth grade.

Wakefield's Nearly New, Inc. can call Lorenzen at 402-287-8700.

Robert Woehler, who also owns property in area to be re-zoned asked "why does the city want to change the zoning. This is basically a flood plain. I am opposed to this change.

B.J. Woehler said he was not opposed to the re-zoning, but objected to the city making the request.

Following the public hearing, council members voted to post-pone any action on the ordinance which would amend the zoning map. The issue will be brought before the council at its next meeting.

Prior to the start of Tuesday's meeting, a demonstration of ZAP electric utility vehicles was provided by Midwest Voltage Express, Inc. of Lake Park, Iowa.

City officials and staff were able to examine and drive several of the vehicles offered by the company, including a Zaptruck, Zapcar, Zap moped and Zap scooters.

The Rotaract Club at Wayne State College is an active group on both the community and college level. The organization was formed in 1998 by Rotarian John Stoll. There are 62 student memberships. Rotaract meets every Tuesday at 9 p.m. in the Meadowlark Room in the, WSC Student Center. Wayne Rotary Club sponsors the Rotaract Club.

Dr. John Fuelberth, a member of the Wayne Rotary Club, has been the sponsor for the past three years. Recently, Dr. Fuelberth retired as math professor at WSC and now he and his wife, Anita, work with the local club.

On the community level, the local Rotaract Club helps with the annual Rotary Soup and Pie Supper at the Wayne Auditorium; organizes an event for the local TeamMates and their mentors to enjoy and has a highway cleanup twice a year. Rotaract members also make and deliver holiday cards to residents of Premier Estates Senior Living Community.

Local businesses also donate items to auction off on campus and the proceeds go towards Rotaract's international project.

On the college level, Rotaract activities include Grocery Bingo, where members buy bags of groceries and invite the campus to play bingo and win goodies for their friends in the dorms.

One of the projects Rotaract has been working on recently includes the International Project, where they continue their support with polio and the Zambia project. Recently, Rotary District 5650 Governor Sharon Wherry and her husband, Dan, who are active in the Zambia project, gave a presentation at the meetings of both the Rotaract and Rotary clubs.

"Sharon and Dan were very captivating during their presentation," said Megan Hogmire, president of the local Rotaract. "Their enthusiasm and commitment for their work shows in their effort to stop the spread of polio in these poor children. The time with the Wherry's really sent the message home and helped us realize how our fundraising efforts and donation of money impacted the lives of others in such a positive way."

Last year, the WSC Rotaract Club was awarded for demonstrating how Rotary Shares its talents, skills and energy in order to create a better world by the International Rotary President and by the District Governor for their efforts last year.

Furthering their international efforts, Rotaract may be starting a two-year project this spring to help pioneer a Rotary organization in Romania.

Another project Rotaract is involved in is the WSC Homecoming Parade. The organization makes a float each year and has received first place recognition three years in a row. Rotaract also helps with the Siouxland Community Blood Drive on campus four times each year.

The Siouxland Community Blood Bank has been the sole provider of blood products to Providence Medical Center since 1975. A whole blood donation takes less than an hour of your time and has the ability to save up to three lives. The Siouxland Community Blood Bank needs to collect 1500 units each week to meet the needs of our hospitals. Only 37 percent of the population is medically eligible to donate ... and of that, only five percent actually do.

The next blood drive at WSC will be in the Student Center on Monday and Tuesday, Dec. 8 and 9 from 11 a.m. to 4 p.m.

And, Rotaract helps with Kids Against Hunger by combining their efforts with the local Rotary Club to spend a few hours packaging food items for the hungry. The group traveled to Norfolk on Nov. 13 for this event.

WSC Rotaract officers for 2008-09 are: Megan Hogmire, president; Laura Hansen, vice president; Mara Hjelle, secretary; Jon Ciochon, treasurer; Larissa Lechner, historian; Lisa Bellar, publicity; Britni Korth, sergeant of arms; Colby McMann and Ashley Theis, district representatives

"Anyone interested in joining our group is welcome,"Hogmire said. "Being a part of Rotaract is a great way to stay active in your community and on campus when you are away from home. Many people think college students are too busy partying and enjoying their freedom to care for those around them but we aim to prove them wrong! We like to have fun but we like to make a difference too. Many students participated in community service during their high school years and would like to continue these resume-building activities in college if given the chance."

Hogmire ended by saying that Rotaract is unique in that a member can choose their participation level. Rotaract offers a lot of activities but the meetings are kept short to lessen the stress in their busy lives.

Anyone with questions about Rotaract can contact Hogmire at shmegs_05@hotmail.com or can call her at (308) 201-0063.

Turnover bug plagues Wildcat in NCAA Playoff debut No. 22 Wayne State ends season at 9-3 after 23-17 loss to No. 12 Chadron State

By Casey Schroeder

In the past seven weeks the Wayne State College football team advantage of another costly Eagle has grown accustomed to winning. Winning that has propelled the Wildcats past their last seven oppose returned it 62 yards to put WSC nents by a margin of 253 to 111 ahead 10-7 with 1:17 left in the which in return earned them a spot in both the National Rankings and this year's NCAA Division II Playoffs.

In just their third post-season appearance in 93 years, the No. 22 Wildcats fell short as they were defeated by No. 12 Chadron State 23-17 in the first round of the NCAA Division II Playoffs on Saturday in Chadron.

"We can play better and we have played better and we just didn't, and that was disappointing" said WSC head coach Dan McLaughlin.

"They played hard and gave everything they had. Some of those kids just drug themselves off the field at the end. They just gave every ounce of energy that they had and I'm so proud of them."

CSC moved to 11-1 overall and advances to the second round of the playoffs where they will face Minnesota Duluth on Saturday yards on 10 plays with McClain while the Wildcats ended their season at 9-3.

CSC took an early 7-0 lead over the Wildcats after they used the opening drive of the game to move 82 yards down field, with 73 yards being on a touchdown reception from Eagles' quarterback Joe McClain to Joel Schommer.

The Wildcats responded quickly with a 12 play drive capped off by a Nick Hope 40 yard field goal to cut the Eagles lead to 7-3 with 7:42 remaining in the first quarter.

The teams then traded turnovers as the Eagles' John Ritzen fumbled with Wildcat Matt Greenway recovering the loose ball.

With an opportunity in hand, WSC failed to capitalize on the opportunity as CSC's Terrance Newman picked off Silas Fluellen on the ensuing series to give the ball right back to the Eagles. However, the Wildcats took turnover to take the lead as Greenway intercepted McLain and quarter.

The score remained in favor for the Wildcats until the 3:32 mark in the second quarter when CSC's Brett Gumb blocked a Wildcat punt for a safety to cut the Wildcats lead to one at 10-9.

Following the Wildcats' free punt, the Eagles marched 71 yards on 11 plays to take a 16-10 lead as McClain hit Issac Stockton on a 14 yard touchdown pass.

With just under one minute left to play in the half WSC ran out the remainder of the clock, giving the Eagles a 16-10 lead at halftime.

In the second half, WSC relied upon a no-huddle offense to drive deep into Eagle territory.

However, Fluellen was picked off for a second time by CSC's Aaron Bauer to stop the Wildcats' drive.

The interception was later turned into points as CSC drove 74 hitting Tyler Watson on a 13 yard scoring strike to increase the Eagles lead to 23-10 with 8:18 to play in the third quarter.

With the Wildcats' window of opportunity slowly closing, WSC moved the ball once again all the way down to the CSC two yard line.

However, another turnover cost the Wildcats a possible score as an Eric Meyer fumble saw the Eagles' Nick Milani recover the ball in the end zone for a touchback to close out the third quarter with the Eagles still on top at 23-10.

In the fourth quarter, WSC got off to a rocky start as Wildcat running back Travis Rhone fumbled the ball in the early minutes of the period.

Luckily, the Wildcat defense held on the Eagles' ensuing offenisve possession to return the ball back over to WSC with just under 10 minutes remaining in the game. On the following Wildcat possession WSC moved down the field and kept the drive alive as Fluellen connected with Frederick Bruno on a fourth down conversion attempt.

Two plays later, Fluellen hit Logan Masters for a 30 yard touchdown reception to pull WSC within six at 23-17 with 7:45 left in the game.

The Wildcat defense then forced a Eagle three and out. However, WSC offensively sputtered and went three and out as well.

After a blocked field goal by WSC, the Wildcats set up for one final scoring drive, but had little success as they went 1 for 4 in passing with the Eagles retaining possession with 1:35 left in the fourth quarter,

With a six point lead, CSC used their final possession of the game to take a knee three times and punt the ball away with eight seconds remaining.

Bruno returned the Eagles' punt to CSC's 40 yard line, but time ran out and securing the 23-17 win for the Eagles.

WSC finished with 375 yards of total offense compared to 352 for CSC.

"We shut their run game down which is what we wanted to do," McLaughlin said. "They picked on us with the short passing game and were effective with that, but I thought our defense played really well."

Fluellen completed 17 of 40 passes for 236 yards with one touchdown and two interceptions while also leading the Wildcats in rushing with 16 carries for 60 yards.

In addition to Fluellen's performance Rhone finished with 56 yards on 11 carries while Masters led the Wildcat receiving corps with nine catches for 118 yards and a touchdown.

First downs

When Wayne State College took the court on Saturday afternoon against MSU Moorhead there was a great deal of uncertainty that echoed throughout the confines of Rice Auditorium.

A form of uncertainty that would bring on an automatic berth to this year's NCAA National Volleyball Tournament or that of leaving everything up to chance.

Luckily, chance worked in favor for the Wildcats as they still earned a spot in this year's NCAA Tournament despite their 3-2 loss to MSU Moorhead on Saturday.

"I think this loss really scared our team. It definitely could have been the last match of the year for us," said Wayne State head coach Scott Kneifl.

"We controlled our own destiny and we didn't do what we were suppose to do. We left it up to chance.' After the Wildcats won the first two sets of the match by the scores of 25-17 and 26-24, the visiting Dragons rallied back where they defeated the Wildcats in the final

"In spurts we're playing really thing," Kneifl said.

23-9 overall and 12-8 in the Northern Sun Intercollegiate Conference (NSIC) while MSU Moorhead improved to 17-15 overall and 11-9 in league play.

Statistically, both teams were very similar with the exception of blocking where the Dragons held a 18 to 11 advantage over the Wildcats.

MSU hit .190 in the match compared to .189 for WSC with both teams recording 28 hitting errors. Individually, Mindy Moody led the Wildcats in hitting with 17 kills and eight blocks followed by Brittany Van Beek with 16 and Jennifer Hefner's 13.

WSC libero Meredy Dubbs recorded 26 digs in the match and was aided by Van Beek with 22 and it was kind of a scary feeling, but our kids came out and played clean and performed pretty well."

Van Beek guided the Wildcats at the net with a double-double as she finished with 11 digs and 10 kills while Hefner added 10 kills and five blocks in the win.

Additional offensive contributors for WSC included Moody with eight kills and Artz who recorded 33 set assists on the night.

"Our attackers are best when they stay aggressive. Whenever they're aggressive good things seem to happen," Kneifl said.

"It's when they're tentative that the errors start to happen. I liked the way every one of our attackers was aggressive and attacked the ball at the net."

The 23-9 Wildcats received the sixth seed in the Central Region of the NCAA National Tournament where they will face third seed Minnesota Duluth on Thursday, Nov. 20 in St. Paul, Minn. with game time set for noon.

"We know that this is a match we can win. It's not a scare match," Kneifl said.

"There is nothing to be scared about. It's just a match that we have to go out and play hard and extremely focused."

Wayne State men's basketball opens season with 60-47 win over Minnesota, Crookston

By Casey Schroeder

The double-double scoring tandem of Brian Metz and Jonathon Thomas helped propel the Wayne State College men's basketball team to a 60-47 win over Minnesota, Crookston on Saturday afternoon in St. Cloud, Minn.

"We really did a great job defensively. I thought we did a solid job of establishing a tone," said Wayne State head coach Rico Burkett.

"Our defensive pressure really took them out of what they wanted to do, and from that we we're able to convert and create some easy opportunities from a scoring standpoint."

In the Wildcats' season opener, WSC used stellar first-half shooting (15 of 17) to take a 20 point lead into halftime at 41-21.

The Wildcats made 7 of 12 three pointers in the first half and hit 55.6 percent of their shots from the field in the first half, but then struggled throughout the second half as they scored only 19 points while hitting just 8 of 23 shots from the field, including 0 of 8 from the three point line.

WSC held a 51-30 lead with 11:15 to go in the game, then saw their lead dwindle as Minnesota, Crookston got as close as 10 points at 55-45 with 4:40 remaining, before the Wildcats hung on for the 60-47 win.

Metz, a 6-8 junior forward from Keswick, Iowa, put up a careerhigh 17 points and 10 rebounds to lead the Wildcats to the win as he went 5 of 6 from the field while also hitting 7 of 8 shots from the free throw line.

Thomas, a senior forward from Earlville, Iowa, also accounted for 14 points and 10 rebounds to complete the Wildcats' second doubledouble of the game.

The Wildcats closed out the game 23 of 50 (46 percent) from the field which included going 7 of 20 from three point line and 7 of 10 at the charity_stripe.

WSC out-rebounded the Golden Eagles 35-24 due in part to 10 boards by both Metz and Thomas.

"From an offensive standpoint we made some stride and improvements from the struggles we had in the exhibition season to convert," Burkett said.

"But, we didn't carry that over for the full 40 minutes, I felt like we played a solid 30 minutes of good basketball and then just went through the motions in the second half."

Minnesota, Crookston was led by sophomore guard/forward Nic Schulwitz who posted a team-high 13 points and four rebounds in 25 minutes of play.

The Golden Eagles shot 20 of 47 from the field (42.6 percent), hitting just 2 of 12 attempts from the three point line while also converting only 5 of 12 shots from the free throw line.

Following the Wildcats win on Saturday, WSC returned to action on Sunday where they were defeated 78-66 by St. Cloud State.

With the win, St. Cloud State to play in the game. improved to 2-0 overall while the Wildcats dropped to 1-1 overall.

"To play against that type of opponent coming off the game we played against Crookston, I really felt like we took a huge step up from a confidence standpoint,' Burkett said.

The Wildcats lead throughout most of the first half until the Huskies put together a 15-4 scoring run over a span of 4:17 at the end of the first half, to take a 38-32 lead over WSC.

The Huskies then tacked on an additional two points to increase their lead to 40-35 going into halftime.

In the second half, St. Cloud State used a 14-2 run to take their biggest lead of the afternoon at 60-44 with just under 13 minutes left

However, the Wildcats fought back, scoring 10 straight points to get as close as four at 65-61 with 7:04 to play following a three pointer by guard David Walters.

But, regardless of what the Wildcats tried it wasn't enough as St. Cloud State put together a 11-2 scoring run over the next four minutes to build a double digit lead that saw the Huskies prevail over the Wildcats, 78-66.

Metz again paced the Wildcats in scoring with 16 points, going 7 of 8 from the field with a team-high nine rebounds.

Walters, followed Metz with a 13 point effort while Thomas chipped in with 10 points and seven rebounds.

The Wildcats shot 46.9 percent from the field, hitting 23 of 49 shots. WSC was 7 of 18 from beyond the arc while also going 13 of 17 from free point line.

WSC turned the ball over 17 times compared to 11 for St. Cloud State while both teams finished with 29 rebounds.

"As I go back and look at the film and evaluate the game a lot of them were turnovers that we can control," Burkett said. "Two or three offensive charge fouls, a couple offensive push-offs and then we just had some foolish mistakes by our guards."

The Huskies leading scorer was junior center Matt Schneck, who finished with 24 points and 10 rebounds while Taylor Witt accounted for 12 points and Brett Carmichael scored 10.

St. Cloud State shot 53.6 percent from the field, making 30 of 56 shots which included 3 of 11 from the three point line and 15 of 21 from the free throw line.

The Wildcats will return to action Monday, Nov. 24 when they host Nebraska-Kearney at 8 p.m.

The Chris Kielsmeier era is officially underway as the Wayne State College women's basketball team opened their 2008-09 season at the Colorado School of Mines Tip of Classic in Golden, Colo. this past weekend.

In Kielsmeier's debut as head coach of the Wildcats, Wayne State got off to unfavorable start on Saturday as they were defeated by Colorado Christian 62-59 in overtime.

"We have a very young basketball team and we just didn't execute," Kielsmeier said.

"We made a lot of mistakes throughout the whole game, but way to many in the last two minutes and overtime."

The Wildcats jumped out to an early 9-0 lead and had several double digit leads throughout the first half, including a 26-15 advantage with just under a minute left to play, before settling at 26-19 lead going into halftime.

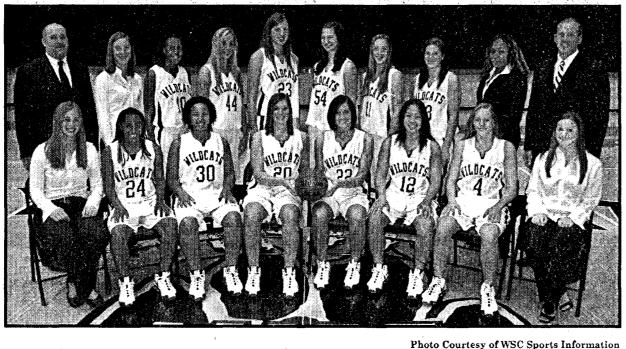

In the second half, the Wildcats held a 32-21 lead with 17:38 to play following a layup by Kati Jo Christensen.

However, Wayne State's lead was short lived as Colorado Christian put together an 11-point effort to tie the game at 32-32 with 14:43 remaining.

The two teams went on to exchange several leads and ties with Wayne State scoring six straight points to take control of a 53-48 lead with 2:58 left in the half.

With a marginal lead in hand, Wayne State's opportunity for a win diminished as the Cougars scored five unanswered points to tie the game at 53-53 with 29 seconds left on a three pointer by Jodie Krall.

Wayne State's Jodie Boss gave the Wildcats a 55-53 lead with 14 seconds to play on a layup, but the Cougars Talmai Aguirre hit a jumper with five seconds left to send the game into overtime tied at 55-55.

In overtime, WSC hit just 1 of 6 shots, but still had a chance to send the game into a second overtime as a three pointer by Jen Yee was missed with four seconds left, allowing the Cougars to escape with the 62-59 come-from-behind win.

Laquisha Cook led the Wildcats in scoring with 14 points followed by Boss with 13 and Christensen at 10.

WSC made just 24 of 65 shots from the field for 36.9 percent, including 1 of 10 from the three point line and 10 of 14 from the charity stripe.

The Wildcats also had 27 turnovers in the loss to Colorado Christian.

"We turned the ball over way too many times and that takes possessions away from us," Kielsmeier said. "Our rebounding on both ends of the floor was not good at all. Both areas need to get better in a hurry."

the win with a game-high 22 points and was followed by Abby Rosenthal who added 14 points and 13 rebounds.

The Cougars were 23 of 74 from the field (31.1 percent), 5 of 26 from beyond the arc and 11 of 20 at the free throw line.

Colorado Christian out-rebounded Wayne State 53-49 with JulieAnn Wagner hauling in 12 boards for the Wildcats.

After falling to Colorado Christian on Saturday, Wayne State rebounded on Sunday with a 57-50 win over Colorado School of Mines.

With the win, the Wildcats improved to 1-1 overall while the Orediggers dropped to 1-1.

"We just played with a lot more energy and passion for the game on both ends of the floor," Kielsmeier said. "I found out this team does not like to lose. They did not want to feel that way again on back-toback nights."

Career exploration workshops planned at NECC Education Centers

The Northeast Community College Career Service Director will soon visit Northeast's Education Centers in South Sioux City, O'Neill, and West Point to help students determine a career path.

Rose Ann Rogers has scheduled two sessions of a free Career Exploration Workshop at the Northeast Education Center in West Point at 202 Anna Stalp Avenue, the Education Center in O'Neill at 409 East Adams Street, and the Education Center in South Sioux City at 3309 Daniels Lane in the Westside Business Park.

The workshops in West Point will be held Wednesday, Dec. 3 from 3-5 p.m and again from 6-8 p.m. in Room 222 of the Education Center. The O'Neill workshops are Tuesday, Dec. 9 from 3-5 p.m. and 6-8 p.m. in Room 105. The South Sioux City sessions are Tuesday, January 6, from 3-5 p.m. and 6-8 p.m. in Room 109.

According to Rogers, these sessions are designed to help students determine a course of study before classes begin at Northeast Community College on Monday, Jan. 12. The sessions are for those individuals uncertain about a college major, interested in a career change, looking for alternate employment, or re-entering the workforce after an absence. The sessions can also be used to confirm that individuals are on the correct career path.

"Basic questions about interest and academic strengths will be answered in these workshops," Rogers said. "If a student is uncertain about a college major, we will look at his or her skills, likes, dislikes, interests, strengths and weaknesses."

"After we have determined the strengths, we will then match those strengths with potential careers," she said. "But before the career, comes the education and we will also help our guests determine the best college major to ultimately be prepared for those careers."

There is a limit as to how many an attend each session. To register for sessions in West Point, call (402)372-2269. To register for an O'Neill session, call (402)336-3590. Those interested in attending the workshop in South Sioux City should call (402)241-6400.

'Alcopops' Starter Drink problem needs YOU

Dear Editor,

On Oct. 23 the Nebraska Liquor Commission ruled 2 to 1 in favor of classifying "alcopops" (fruity, sweet malt liquor beverages) as beer. This in spite of the fact they contain distilled spirits such as whiskey or vodka.

If this ruling is not vetoed by Gov. Heineman by Dec. 31, alcopops can then be sold widely in convenience stores, etc. The tax on distilled spirits is 12 times that of beer, so there would be less state tax revenue as a result.

A recent survey of people who admitted to drinking alcohol found that EIGHTH GRADERS preferred alcopops to drink at the whopping rate of 78 percent. The percentage went down by age from there. It certainly would be easier and cheaper for parents to buy their kids alcopops at the convenience store than at a liquor store. Do you really think an eighth grader could get away with using a fake ID anywhere? C'mon, PTA's and teachers organizations across the state. let's start writing to Gov. Heineman before the Dec. 31 deadline. (He won't take phone calls on this, hmmm.)

His address is: Office of the Governor, PO Box 94848, Lincoln Neb. 68509-4848. His email is dave.heineman@nebraska.gov

A 2004 AMA study showed that one-third of teenage girls and onefifth of teenage boys have tried alcopops.

A 1997 survey by Grant and Dawson found that youth who begin drinking before age 15 have a 41 percent chance of future alcohol dependence. That's what the liquor industry wants, folks, more "starter drinks" for first-time drinkers.

There WAS a concerted effort by Project Extra Mile's many offices across the state to lobby the Liquor Commission before Oct. 23. This organization is funded mostly by monies' from the NE Office of Highway Safety, plus there are private donations. Its sole purpose is to reduce underage drinking. For more info. go on internet to www.projectextramile.org. In fact, they presented before Oct. 23 a total of 900 petitions from concerned citizens across the state and were basically "pooh-poohed" by the Liquor Commission. Who says the liquor industry doesn't know how to lobby? And why won't the Governor take phone calls on this subject? (The Liquor Commission is appointed, by whom I don't know.) Maybe it will take Prominent Republicans Who Gave Big Bucks to the 2006 Heineman campaign to get his undivided attention. I bet THEY could call him. His number is 402-471-2244.

Capitol View Life, liberty and property are safe

By Ed Howard Statehouse Correspondent The Nebraska Press Association

"No man's life, liberty or property are safe, while the Legislature is in session."

People seem to love that quotation. Over the years it has appeared in this column several times. It has usually generated at who just wanted to say they agreed with the sentiment.

It has maintained its nationwide Americans no doubt entertain whenever a state lawmaking group convenes. That thought being: "Now what?"

The quote was, as a matter of official record, authored by Judge Gideon J. Tucker in 1866. The context was an estate case.

That it has lasted so long is a testimony to an assertion often put forth by the late Nebraska pollster Joe B. Williams. He said surveys concerning state législatures always have one thing in common. No matter the state in which people are asked about their legislature, each believes that their state's is the worst.

Such sentiments are easily understood, particularly since legislatures are responsible for matters of taxation, all manner of social policy and a great many of the sometimes pesky rules and regulations that accompany them, and annoy substantial elements of the citizenry.

The thing that so often leads to ridicule of lawmakers, regardless of their philosophies or party affiliations, is "The Law of Unintended Consequences." Some Nebraskans feel the safe haven law is an example of the aforesaid unwritten law. We know that most lawmakers,

UNL family economist: go green, simplify this holiday season to save money

Going green this holiday season not only can save families money but simplify the sometimes stressful holidays, a University of Nebraska-Lincoln family economist said.

From gifts to decorations and wrapping paper, simplifying the holiday season will not only give it more meaning, but give people things they really need while helping the environment, said Kathy Prochaska-Cue, family economist in the university's Institute of Agriculture and Natural Resources.

"The holidays put too much emphasis on spending money," Prochaska-Cue said. "Giving people things they need instead of all this accumulation of superficial stuff that we end up with in our houses can help lessen our carbon footprints."

For example, for the person that drinks a lot of bottled water, buy him or her a nice aluminum water bottle that can be cleaned and reused, she said.

"Ideas along that line, the whole idea of using less and recycling," she said.

Another example would be volunteering for a community service project in your community.

"Maybe instead of giving gifts this year, buy a potted Christmas tree and donate it to a park, school or public place," she said. "Come spring, this could be your family's gift to the community."

When it comes to cooking this holiday season, be sure to cook just enough for what will be needed, and if there are extras, be sure to plan for them.

"So many of the things we do are in excess, from food that gets thrown away to gifts that end up in the landfill," she said. "Going green is the whole idea of being aware of what your needs are and the difference between needs and wants. Just think about what is really important."

When wrapping presents this year, think creatively.

Prochaska-Cue recommends recycling gift bags and bows and instead of gift wrap try the Sunday comics.

Other basics for avoiding that financial holiday hangover include: -- setting a budget and sticking to it,

-- avoiding credit cards,

-- cutting back on how much you plan to spend,

-- planning ahead and making a written list, and

-- taking advantage of sales.

Before buying gifts, decide how much money can be spent and make a list of all the people gifts will be given to, she said. It's also important to decide how much money can be spent on each person and carry that list throughout the holiday season.

"Also, if you have any idea that your job might be in jeopardy, go cash this Christmas, use lay-away or start off by cutting back on how much you spend to begin with," she said. "While it may sound negative, people need to be realistic."

Prochaska-Cue said she thinks people will be cutting back this Christmas.

"Hopefully we'll see the state of the economy, industry and jobs improve, but that isn't going to hit by Christmas," she said.

priate content and illegal activity in the site's erotic services section. Under the agreement, Craigslist will require that posters of erotic services ads give a working phone number and pay a fee with a valid credit card. The site will provide that information in response to law enforcement subpoenas. All proceeds from erotic services ads will be donated to charity.

"We know some Nebraskans are using Craigslist to promote criminal activity like prostitution," said Bruning. "This agreement will help stop illegal behavior here in Nebraska and in other states across our nation."

The fee and phone requirements should significantly reduce the number of erotic services posts for illegal activity and provide law enforcement with a road map to prosecute violations of law.

Craigslist committed to sue 14 software and Internet companies that help erotic service ad posters circumvent the Web site's defenses against inappropriate content and illegal activity for a fee. Craigslist will provide the attorneys general with information about those businesses for possible civil and criminal prosecution.

Craigslist will also deploy search technology to assist the National Center for Missing and Exploited Children (NCMEC), who also joined the agreement, and law

Brad Thomas, center, and Sarah Surber, right, spoke during Friday's Chamber Coffee. The event was held at Concord Components. Both spoke of the increase of activity and the number of employees at the Wayne facility. The electronic components distribution facility has over 350,000 lines of inventory. Following the coffee, a tour of the business was conducted.

Prices increasing for 2009 Medicare Drug Plans

By Ruth Vonderohe, UNL Extension Educator

Medicare stand-alone drug plans (PDPs) are fewer in number in 2009 for Nebraska's Medicare beneficiaries. There will be 48 plans (down from 52 plans in 2008), only two of the PDP plans will offer a monthly premium under $25.

Medicare beneficiaries should have received a letter from their current plan informing them of the plan prices and options for 2009, or informing them the plan they are enrolled in will terminate as of the end of the year. If that is the case, beneficiaries need to enroll in a different plan so they will continue to have coverage Jan. 1 and beyond.

For 2009, the maximum plan deductible amount determined by CMS (Centers for Medicare and Medicaid Services) will be $295. In Nebraska, 27 (of the 48 plans available) have a $0 deductible. Amounts for plans requiring a deductible range from $50 to $295 for the calendar year 2009.

Monthly premiums for Part D in an affordable plan. plans (in Nebraska) range from $15.20 to $106.70 per month. Costs to the consumer include more than the monthly premium; consumers are also subject to plan deductibles and drug co-pays. Depending upon the plan formula-ry (list of covered medications), some' prescriptions have a $0 copay at the pharmacy. Plan information you have recently received from your current insurer will tell you what those costs will be in 2009.

Medicare beneficiaries are highly encouraged to compare options for 2009 drug plans, especially with the increase in costs both in terms of premiums, deductibles, co-pay amounts, and the coverage gap. A medication covered on a 2008 plan may no longer be available, or have a higher price under a 2009 drug plan. It is up to the consumer (Medicare beneficiary) to become aware of the changes, including costs, and make the best decision they can when it comes to enrolling

One-session Money for Life workshop set at NECC

Get valuable information and learn to develop a written, fool-proof, cash flow management plan in a onesession workshop to be taught by Jeff Meyer at Community Northeast College in Norfolk in early December.

Meyer will teach the class, Money for Life!!, with Course No. FINP 0102-11/08F, on Tuesday, Dec.1 from 6-9 p.m. in the Lifelong Learning Center.

Whether participants earn $15,000 or $350,000 a year, they can learn to gain complete control of their income and where it goes in this one-session class.

After attending this workshop, participants will learn to pre-fund every expense, even the unexpected, plan, track, compare, and adjust every expense, and implement a household cash flow system that makes communicating easy and fun. Participants will also learn to spend less than they make and eliminate debt or invest for the future, use credit cards without ever increasing debt, and successfully manage their income in today's 'cashless' electronic society.

Participants will also develop their own net worth statement to be used as a benchmark for their progress and develop a personalized cash flow management plan to show them how to spend every dollar of income before the month starts.

Cost of the course is $27 plus a $74 required materials fee, (payable to the instructor at the workshop), that includes a 215page textbook/workbook, 12-week 'at home' sections, software, and a companion text.

To register for this workshop, call (402)844-7000.

However, Medicare beneficiaries need to know that if they believe their current plan's 2009 options work for them, there is no need to do anything. Beneficiaries will continue to be enrolled in their current plan (unless the plan is leaving the scene) for 2009 unless they initiate the change.

There are no plans offering full coverage through the gap; a limited number of plans will cover generic only, or generic and some brand named medications. The coverage gap begins at $2,700 in 2009; which includes both what the insurance plan and the Medicare beneficiary pays. The out-of-pocket threshold, otherwise known as 'catastrophic coverage' begins at $4,350. The dollars between $2,700 and $4,350 are solely the responsibility of the Medicare beneficiary. During the coverage gap, the consumer pays the full monthly cost of the medications out of their own pocket until total expenses exceed $4,350.

Low income subsidy clients [LIS] will have nine drug plans to choose from out of the 48 plans available in Nebraska. $33.19 is the benchmark monthly premium for LIS clients; those who select a drug plan with a premium of less than $33.19 will pay no plan premium or deductible in 2009. People with limited income and resources may qualify for assistance with premiums, deductibles and co-payments. Contact the Social Security Administration at 1-800-772-1213, or online at www.ssa.gov or contact the Nebraska SHIIP at 1-800-234-7119 to see if you qualify for extra assistance.

Ruth Vonderohe, University of Nebraska-Lincoln Extension Educator and trained SHIIP Volunteer will be assisting seniors in a one-on-one counseling session. Comprehensive planning gives investors confidence during turbulent times

It is hard not to let emotions take control when Americans are hearing words like "recession" or worse yet "depression" for the first time in decades. Consumers are worried about their 401(k)s, investments, job security and more. The U.S. banking and investment environment plunged markets into a crisis, taking iconic institutions with it.

In June and July of 2008 the Financial Planning Association® (FPA®) and Ameriprise Financial sponsored a study conducted by Harris Interactive that found those with a comprehensive plan feel more optimistic about their finances. In fact, they feel are nearly twice as likely to feel confident as those without a plan. A plan is a plan is a plan ... or is it?

Debt. Saving. Investment performance. These are the current topics in daily headlines and water cooler conversations. But there is more to a person's financial picture. A financial advisor looks at both financial and personal goals and prepares a written plan to help meet those goals. A comprehensive, written plan covers key areas of financial planning including cash flow, investments, retirement, taxes, estate, education and protection or insurance needs

The Value of Financial Planning study looked at three groups of investors to determine how a financial plan affects consumer attitudes and behaviors in a changing economy. The groups include those who are self-directed without an advisor or written plan, those who have an advisor but don't have a comprehensive plan, and those who have an advisor and a written, comprehensive plan*.

Jennifer Phelps, Senior Financial Advisor Ameriprise Financial Services, Inc. 120 W 2nd Street, Wayne, NE 402 833 5285 ameripriseadvisors.com/jennifer.s.phelps

The study found those who have a relationship with an advisor and a written, comprehensive plan reported differentiating attitudes and behaviors compared to other investors. Significantly, approximately nine out of 10 respondents (88 percent) with a comprehensive financial plan reported that they feel they have a clear financial direction, a number nearly 50 percent higher than those without professional support. Study participants reported feeling:

• More in control about their financial future.

• Optimistic and confident in their financial future even in times of market downturn.

• More prepared for unexpected events because they made emergency funds a priority and were generally better informed about financial issues.

• Calmer about their financial situation and confident they could weather a downturn

• More peace of mind and an ability to sleep at night.

In addition, investors with a comprehensive plan were more likely to report taking positive action during changing markets saying that they "stayed the course." They stated they were able to save at the same rate as prior-to-market downturn (50 percent), rebalance their portfolio (42 percent), invest in low-priced stocks (18 percent), and add more money into existing accounts (27 percent) and new accounts (15 percent). In contrast, the selfdirected investors were more likely to describe their financial approach as "sitting on the sidelines" (29 percent).

A guide on the path to financial peace of mind

Despite the popular advice to "buy low and sell high" it is during volatile times like these that investors are more likely to dismiss that advice and act out of fear. This can mean selling a stock when the market is low and the investment is worth less. It can also mean stopping systematic investing at a time when shares can be purchased at a lower price. This is when the guidance of a financial advisor can be beneficial. According to the study, the same investors who reported confidence and optimism were more likely to report that their financial advisor contacted them regarding these current market conditions with specific recommendations.

Financial planning is not just about numbers; emotions play a role. The support of a financial advisor and written, comprehensive plan may be the key to positive feelings and actions during these tough economic times.

Sporting events and music highlight week's busy schedule ball tournament were beaten on drive home was no fun, as it rained, Thursday, except for Ewing, and they were state champs in their class, with an NU recruit on their just too tempting to get over to team. And Chadron State beat Wayne State in football playoffs, but Wayne had a great season, just the same. And Elmwood-Murdock got waylaid in the semifinal football game, but Pierce is still in. Aren't sports a wonderful thing? And didn't you enjoy the Nebraska game? It was so thrilling to hear that the Blackshirts finally got handed out, and they seemed inspired by them on Saturday (except for a couple of great runs by KU.)

We had a really long week, but didn't miss much. We drove to Norfolk last Sunday afternoon and were treated to a steak dinner at the Kant house. We met the dirt mover at the farm bright and early on Monday morning; then I gave a little pep talk about Hospice to the student nurses at Northeast College. That Lifelong Learning Center is a very useful building. And it is National Hospice Month, after all!

On Tuesday, I did a long term care insurance assessment in the morning and stayed with our friend who has MS in the afternoon. His wife teaches in our school, so we all take turns staying with him. On Wednesday, a nurse from Eagle and I drove to David City and did toenails at the Senior Center.

And on Thursday, the Big Farmer and I drove to Topeka for lunch! Cousin Paul is active in the Shrine there, and his wife was program chair for the wives this year. They have a monthly luncheon, and she knew where to get a cheap were eventual champs in their ed this week! We can only hope.

Well, shoot! All the northeast speaker! It was a fun group, and class, and we haven't figured out Nebraska teams at the state volley- the food was delicious, but the for sure just where Giltner is: hard!

The Wayne

Once we got here safely, it was East High to watch Lutheran High Northeast play volleyball. I could not believe how many people drove to Lincoln for an 8:30 p.m. game! Some had to work on Friday. Thankfully, I could just walk a few blocks to get home. But I did have two houseguests and we didn't exactly get to bed early!

Lutheran High played Johnson-Brock and the mascot for both is an Eagle. Both sides of the gym were loaded with fans. The high school guys in the cheering section were so fun to watch. And so was the game, by the way, but the southeast Eaglets prevailed. The noise level was unbelievable at times!

I sort of recuperated on Friday, even turning down an invitation to attend the Giltner game. They somewhere around Hastings, I guess.

On Saturday morning, it was an early trip downtown to the Cornhusker for a workshop. I've been to some lately that just were not worth the time and money, but this one was a winner: price was right, length was good (1/2 day), food was great, and information was new! Plus, I saw several old friends, which always makes it worthwhile

And on that evening, I joined the Jensens at the Lied Center to watch their grandson in Sing Around Nebraska. These are about 200 fifth and sixth graders who spent the day with a clinician and sang some darling songs for us. We were also treated to UNL singers, NWU singers, and the choir from York College.

We got up too late on Sunday for the 8 a.m. service, so trooped to the 10:30, which is contemporary. As the fellow next to me said, "A bit more lively than the earlier one!" Yes, but it's good for us once in awhile, and the music provided by our praise band makes you want to sing along.

One more musical event included our granddaughter, who was in a vocal recital that afternoon. Several of the singers did songs from Broadway musicals, so that was right up my alley! And Randa really surprised us with her range and maturity. You know what they say, "Grandchildren are God's reward for not killing your kids!"

All in all, a lot of music, which makes the world go round. And hopefully, it's drying enough that the rest of the corn will be harvest-

Medicare offers once-a-year chance to change prescription drug plans

Along with your trips to the mall for those perfect holiday gifts, you might need to consider another shopping excursion this time of the year-this one for your Medicare prescription drug plan.

With Medicare's annual enrollment period of Nov. 15 to Dec. 31. now is the time for people with Medicare to review changes being made by their current plan, compare it to other options and find the best plan to meet their needs.

During this enrollment season, people with Medicare can join, switch or drop Medicare prescription drug and Medicare Advantage plans. Changes take effect Jan.1, 2009 and there will not be another opportunity to change your drug plan until November, 2009.

"It's very important to review plan offerings each year to ensure that you are enrolled in the best plan for you," according to Tom Gilsdorf, Director of Individual Health Care Solutions for Blue Cross and Blue Cross Shield of Nebraska.

"The details of your prescription drug coverage may change every year, which means your current drug plan may increase your costs, no longer cover your medications or no longer contract with your local pharmacy next year."

Here are a few important steps to ensure you have the prescription drug plan to best meet your needs:

REVIEW 2009 costs for your current drug and health plan.

Review the monthly premium, co-pays for when you visit the doctor or hospital and how much you will pay out-of-pocket before your plan begins paying claims. You should have received a letter from your current prescription drug plan, explaining any changes to your plan for 2009, including the monthly premiums and co-pays.

COMPARE with other plans in your area-A great resource for comparing costs and coverage is the Medicare Prescription Drug Plan Finder at www.medicare.gov. Check to see if the plan you are considering covers your current medications, works with your pharmacy and doctors, and covers the services you need or anticipate next year. 'CHOOSE a plan that meets

• If you're happy with your current prescription drug plan and it your needs:

meets your needs in the coming year...you don't need to do anything to re-enroll.

·If you're not happy with your current coverage or decide that your plan will not meet your needs...compare the costs and list of covered drugs of other plans in your area.

•Once you determine which plan is best for you in 2009, you can enroll starting Nov. 15 at www.medicare.gov, call 1-800-MEDICARE, or contact the prescription drug plan directly.

"Most people with Medicare can save money and find a plan that is more tailored to their needs if they will take a little time to shop around," Gilsdorf said. "This is the perfect time to do it."

Some Key Reminders:

· Take time to make the best choice for you. You have only one opportunity during open enrollment each year to join a plan, switch plans or drop your plan. Once you have enrolled, you can't make any changes until open enrollment in November 2009.

• Switch first. Do not drop your current prescription drug plan until you identify your new plan and have enrolled. That way you will not lose your coverage or have to pay a late enrollment penalty.

Don't be late. Plan on enrolling by Dec. 15 so that your drug coverage and ID card are in place, and you can get the prescriptions you need starting January 1.

With higher costs on almost everything and concern about the nation's economy, families may find themselves tightening their belts. Where they may have at one time taken a family vacation every year, they may find that funds are just too short to take a nice trip. The cost of gas, lodging, and food, may be beyond the budget, let alone the cost of fun stuff to do.

It is quite possible to have a delightful family vacation without leaving your immediate area. If short drives are within your budget, map out how far you can go, do something interesting, and be back home by bedtime. Chances are there are interesting sites within that range that you haven't seen very often, or maybe even have never seen. We sometimes travel great distances to see things but bypass the nearby ones.

Small town museums make interesting stops. Many tiny towns have museums that you may have never considered stopping to see. The scenery of Northeast Nebraska is absolutely breath taking. Take some time to look at it and enjoy the views. Consider asking a farm friend if you can visit the farm. Or consider asking an in town friend if you can visit their business. You'll be surprised how much you can learn by seeing behind the scenes.

DRIVING TIPS

- Clear snow and ice from windows, lights, windshield wipers, the hood, and the roof of your vehicle, before driving. The windshield-washer reserve should be filled with a freeze-resistant cleaning solution.
- ➡ When you see plows, stay at least 200 feet behind them.
- Leave room for stopping. Brake early and carefully.
- Don't use cruise control. The short touch of your brakes to deactivate the cruise control can cause you to lose control of your vehicle.
- Pay attention. Look ahead to see what other vehicles are doing. That way you will know about any impending road or weather conditions.
- ➡ Watch your speed. Even if your car handles well in snow and ice, other drivers' cars may not. Drive according to the conditions: Don't exceed the speed limit and drive slowly in harsh conditions. Don't try to out-drive bad weather.
