WSC Black and Gold series to present Aquila Theatre Production

The 2008-09 Wayne State College Black and Gold performing arts series will continue on Wednesday, Feb. 18 with the touring company Aquila Theatre performing the classic William Shakespeare work, "The Comedy of Errors," at 7:30 p.m. in Ramsey Theatre on the WSC campus.

For interested patrons, WSC will also host a pre-performance talk by a member of the company from 6:30 to 7 p.m. in classroom #105 adjacent to Ramsey Theatre.

Based in New York City, Aquila is the foremost producer of touring classical theatre in the United States, visiting 60-70 American cities per year.

Described by The London Times as "hugely enjoyable and very funny," and The New Yorker as "beautifully spoken, dramatically revealing and crystalline in effect," Aquila's unique and ingenious staging of classical comedy have received both prestigious international prizes and high praise from audiences, critics and scholars. Aquila has represented the National Endowment of the Arts at the White House performing Shakespeare for the President and First Lady and in the summer of 2007, made their Edinburgh Festival debut. The New York Times wrote of Aquila's production of Comedy of Errors "No one who sees the rousing production by the excellent Aquila Theater Company will forget it."

The Comedy of Errors is one of Shakespeare's most vibrant and sparkling comedies. The shrewd and inventive plot relates an intricate and energetic story of two pairs of identical twins in the same household separated by a devastating shipwreck. But as this delightful comedy unfolds, all is not what it seems. Shakespeare's staging propels a glorious, farcical romp set in the sumptuous surroundings of the ancient city of Ephesus. Brilliant comedy abounds in this witty tale of mistaken identity, assumed personas, hilarious machinations and whimsical family ties. Shakespeare expertly weaves these boisterously entertaining strands together allowing his audience to stay one step ahead of his characters and laugh heartily at the outrageous results.

Tickets for general admission go on sale at the WSC Business Office beginning Jan. 26 and the cost for General Admission is $10. Tickets will be available at the door but purchasing tickets in advance is recommended. For ticket information please call the WSC business office at 375-7517.

Stories shared of blizzard experiences

As last week's snow storm goes down in history as 'the blizzard of 2009,' northeast Nebraska residents are sharing stories of how all managed to survive the white-out conditions, treacherous driving situation and cold temperatures.

Among those with a story are three executives of First Bankcard Center.

Jill Sweetland, Second Vice President of First Bankcard Center, said three executives from Omaha were in Wayne Monday morning. The three, all from larger areas, like New York City, have been in Nebraska for approximately three years.

The trio left Wayne at approximately 1:30 p.m. and headed south on Highway 35. A half-hour later they called the Bankcard Center to say that they had pullover due to visibility issues. They were able to give an E 9-1-1 address of their location.

Bankcard Center employees did some investigating and determined that the group was at the Bob and Deb Reinhardt home. A call was made to Deb, who works in Wayne, and she assured them that it was fine to 'camp out' at her home until the storm was over.

Although the three men were hesitant, they were finally persuaded to use the key that was hidden, unlock the house and go inside where it was warm.

Deb told them to help themselves to any food in the house. The group fixed pasta and passed the time by playing cards.

Later that evening Bob, with a Great Dane employee who had been stranded, arrived home. By that point, visibility was much improved and the three men decided to continue their trip back to Omaha.

"When I talked to them the next day, they kept saying how 'deeply touched' and 'overwhelmed' they were by this experience and the people of northeast Nebraska," Sweetland said.

Sweetland said that a number of Bankcard Center employees stayed with co-workers in Wayne and others spent the night at the Bankcard Center during what fortunately turned out to be a short-lived storm.

Tumbling classes resume in Wayne

By Clara Osten
 Of the Herald

Gina Gaiffoglione has resumed teaching tumbling classes at the Wayne Community Activity Center.

While that may not surprise Gaiffoglione, others may find the Wayne State College senior Counseling major quite amazing.

Gina was involved in a car accident in Wayne on March 22, 2008. The accident left her paralyzed from the waist down. At that time she was hospitalized for one week in Sioux City, Iowa and received in-patient rehabilitation at Immanuel Hospital in Omaha for three weeks. She continued to receive out-patient therapy for several months after that.

Gina was able to complete her spring semester classes during the summer and took classes on-line during the fall 2008 semester.

She and her family found an accessible apartment last fall and she returned to Wayne from her home-town of Glenwood, Iowa. She is able to travel with the assistance of a specially-equipped, hand-control vehicle.

She noted that she lives alone and has "figured out ways to do things."

"It is good to be back in Wayne and on campus. People in this community have been awesome. They have motivated me and trusted me," Gina said.

She said she began working with the group of advanced tumblers known as the "Extreme Team" and the group performed an exhibition in October. Early this month she resumed teaching tumbling classes, something she had done for several years before her accident.

Members of the Extreme Team assist with classes in various ways.

"I explain and they are my legs," Gina said. During a recent session with four and five-year olds, Gina spent a portion of the class period instructing from her wheelchair and later made her way to the tumbling mat to assist in demonstrating a tumbling routine.

"Classes are held Friday afternoons from 4:30 to 5:15 p.m. and on Saturdays from 10 a.m. to 3:30 p.m. I limit each class to no more than six students. If there is enough interest, we can add another class. My students range in age from four to 13 years of age," she said.

Gina said her family has recently learned of a new therapy available and she travels home each weekend for therapy.

The energetic tumbling instructor gives credit to her motivation to her students and said tumbling has been a part of her life since she started walking.

"People can do anything they set their mind to," she added.

The Striking Diamond Belles' Red Hat Society group has members from Wakefield, Wayne and Allen.

Red Hat Society group meets at The Depot in Wakefield

The Red Hat Society group, calling themselves "The Striking Diamond Belles" met Jan. 10 at the newly restored Wakefield Depot for their "annual disorganizational meeting" (as they like to call it). The luncheon was provided by Chefs On The Go of Wakefield. This group of ladies is from Wakefield, Wayne and Allen. Their name was chosen because Wakefield is Nebraska's Baseball Capital and the officers' names reflect this. Queen Bee Batter, (president) is Merna Jones of Allen; Pitch Hitter (vice president) is Barbara Stout of Wakefield and Wild Pitcher (Historian) is Connie Kirkpatrick of Wayne.

The group meets once a month and has 25 members. Members take turns selecting the place or event. A few trips to mention include: Sioux Falls, SD to visit the Butterfly House and Falls Park; the O'Connor House in Homer to see Christmas decorations; Ashfalls; Salt Dog game in Lincoln and Stars on Ice in Sioux City, Iowa. The group has laughter and food to eat; sometimes they order dessert first but most of all it is about the friendship and fellowship between the ladies.

Wayne area physicians earn Recognition for Quality Diabetes Care

The National Committee for Quality Assurance (NCQA) and the American Diabetes Association (ADA) have recognized Dr. David Felber and Dr. Benjamin Martin, physicians at the Wayne Mercy Medical Clinic, for providing quality care to their patients with diabetes.

To date, only four physicians in the state of Nebraska have achieved Diabetes Physician Recognition status.

Designed to improve the quality of care that patients with diabetes receive by recognizing physicians who deliver quality diabetes care, the NCQA/ADA recognition program also seeks to motivate other physicians to document and improve their delivery of diabetes care.

To receive such recognition, which is valid for three years, Drs. Felber and Martin submitted data that demonstrates performance that meets the program's key diabetes care measures. These measures include eye exams, foot exams, nephrop-athy assessment, lipid profiles, tobacco status and counseling referral, and blood pressure tests, among others. When people with diabetes receive quality care as outlined by these measures, they are less likely to suffer complications such as heart attacks, stroke, blindness, kidney disease and amputations.

"For a person with diabetes, the right physician can make the difference between living with diabetes as opposed to suffering from diabetes," says Dr. Robert A. Rizza, president of the American Diabetes Association. "Physicians who earn recognition through the Diabetes Physician Recognition Program have an established track record of providing excellent diabetes care. These physicians are on a list of recognized doctors that is the first place to look if you or a loved one has been diagnosed with diabetes."

Mercy Medical Center—Sioux City and its affiliated clinics across northwest Iowa and northeast Nebraska have taken a leadership role in diabetes care.

The Wayne Mercy Medical Clinic, part of the Mercy Diabetes Education Program, gives people with diabetes the knowledge, skills and tools they need to successfully manage their diabetes and avoid many of the complications associated with the disease.

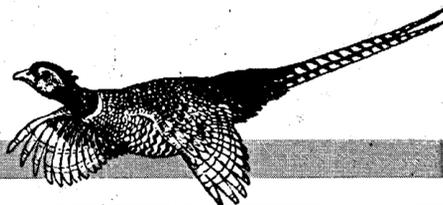

Diabetes is a serious disease that affects the body's ability to produce or respond properly to insulin, a hormone that allows blood sugar to enter the cells of the body and be used for energy. An estimated 16 million Americans have diabetes; it is the sixth-leading cause of death by disease in the U.S. and it has no cure.

To learn more about the Diabetes Physician Recognition Program, visit www.ncqa.org/dprp, or call (202) 955-1721.

To make an appointment with Dr. Martin or Dr. Felber, call the Wayne Mercy Medical Clinic at (402) 375-2500.

'Divided We Fail' launches next phase of national campaign to fix America's health and economic crises

Recently, leaders of AARP Nebraska launched the next phase of Divided We Fail, a national movement to bring health and financial security to every American. Joining with the Business Roundtable, the National Federation of Independent Business (NFIB) and Service Employees International Union (SEIU), AARP is hosting more than 50 events in nearly every state to educate and engage the public about issues of health reform and economic security.

Divided We Fail will also present to lawmakers more than 1.6 million pledges signed by supporters from across the country, including signatures from nearly 7,600 Nebraskans.

"The last two years have been an important platform for the real work that begins today," said AARP State Director Connie Benjamin. "We want Divided We Fail to be the catalyst for real health and economic reform. The president-elect and new Congress have hit the ground running this month, and we're here to help with the support of over 221,000 Nebraska AARP members."

Since its formation in 2007, Divided We Fail has organized nearly 1,000 local events including 500 "Community Conversations" to inform Americans about the options to address health care and financial security and gather new ideas from the public. Volunteers in their red Divided We Fail shirts became a fixture on the campaign trail, showing their support from the early primary states to Election Day.

In Nebraska, Divided We Fail is launching its 2009 mobilization and education with visits today and on Jan. 14 to the offices of U.S. Senators Nelson and Johanns and Reps. Fortenberry, Terry and Smith. The launch continues over the first Congressional recess where Divided We Fail will host town hall meetings to help constituents connect with their lawmakers and discuss how the health care and economic crises are affecting them.

"For 20 straight years, small businesses have said that health-care costs are their number one issue, and things haven't gotten any better," said NFIB State Director Bob Hallstrom. "The Divided We Fail coalition will spur our nation's political leaders to begin working together to address the threats to America's healthcare system and our overall economic competitiveness."

"Partisan gridlock won't do anything to end the health and economic problems our country faces," added Jane Fleming Kleeb, Nebraska spokesperson for the SEIU. "If our organizations-labor, consumers and business representing 53 million Americans - can join forces, so can our leaders in Washington. We're just getting started and we're ready to help."

Divided We Fail's supporters include more than 360 members of the 111th Congress who have signed the pledge or written a letter of support. All five members from Nebraska are supporters of Divided We Fail. In addition to AARP, Business Roundtable, NFIB and SEIU, more than 100 independent groups have pledged their support.

Nebraska organizations that have joined Divided We Fail are the Nebraska Chapter of the National Association of Social Workers, Nebraska Nurses Association, Visiting Nurse Association of Omaha, Center for People in Need, Nebraska Appleseed Center, Alzheimer's Association Great Plains Chapter, and the Nebraska Association of Area Agencies on Aging. To learn more and sign the pledge, visit DividedWeFail.org.

It's time we ensure health and long-term financial security for all. That's why AARP, Business Roundtable, the Service Employees International Union and the National Federation of Independent Business, are leading Divided We Fail, an initiative to give voice to millions of Americans who are tired of letting Washington gridlock stand in the way of affordable, quality health care and long-term financial security - the most pressing domestic issues facing our nation.

Common sense solutions are needed, and everyone - individuals, businesses and government - has a role and a responsibility in ensuring health and financial security for all. Go to www.dividedwefail.org to learn more.

Expressway system update presented

Completion of the uncompleted Nebraska Expressway System would regain priority status under a proposed measure by State Senator Bob Giese of South Sioux City. The measure, LB 334, would require the Nebraska Department of Roads to consider the impact uncompleted sections of the expressway system have on economic development in rural Nebraska when prioritizing new construction projects.

Originally crafted in 1988, the Nebraska Expressway System was designed to connect larger cities in rural Nebraska to the Interstate system by 2003. More than five years past the original deadline, 179 of the 600 originally-proposed miles of expressway remain unfinished. Three additional expressway sections - finishing the Heartland Expressway connecting Colorado with the Black Hills through the Nebraska Panhandle; widening U.S. Highway 75 from Nebraska City to Auburn; and improving Nebraska Highway 35 from Norfolk to South Sioux City - have since been proposed as additions to the system. In addition to prioritizing the Nebraska Expressway System, LB 334 would formally add these proposed sections to the system.

While recognizing the challenges caused by increased construction costs and falling gas tax revenues, Giese stressed the growth in economic development that completing the expressway system could have to rural Nebraska. "The federal government is looking at road and bridge construction as a major component of the economic stimulus package and the uncompleted expressway segments should be prime candidates for that federal funding. In addition to creating jobs, these projects could provide the economic spark that towns throughout rural Nebraska desperately need in these tough economic times."

Kaden Sukup catches good-sized bass while ice fishing

On Jan. 17, Kaden Sukup of Carroll, was ice fishing with his grandfather Bill Ogden of O'Neill. Kaden's grandfather was surprised when a five pound, seven ounce, 21 and a fourth inch bass jumped out of the hole while Kaden was trying to pull it in by backing up with the line. Grandpa Ogden was shocked when the fish helped Kaden by hopping out of the hole. He said next time he would believe Kaden when he said he had a big one on the line. The large mouth bass was caught in a Boyd County farm pond.

By Lynn Sievers
Of the Herald

office were Carolyn Linster, president; Jeryl Nelson, vice president and Ann Ruwe, secretary/treasurer. Committee members (finance, legislature and public relations/ facilities were chosen).

On routine business and action, Nelson made a motion to accept with regrets the resignation (effective 6/30/09) of Kris Janke, fourth grade teacher. Janke noted in her letter of resignation that she and her husband are moving closer to his work, which is mainly in Omaha and Lincoln. New school board member Wendy Consoli seconded the motion which passed unanimously.

Board member Mark Evetovich made a motion to accept the resignation of Kevin Finkey as head football coach. Nelson seconded the motion which passed unanimously. (Note: the resignation of head football coach is an extra duty for Finkey. He is not resigning his teaching position).

New board member Rod Garwood made a motion to hire the School Board Association to perform the superintendent search for the fee of $5,000 plus expenses. Nelson seconded the motion which passed unanimously.

Cap Peterson of Northeast Nebraska Insurance Company gave a review of the school's insurance. He noted there was a $1,000 deductible in the policy and there is 90 percent replacement costs. Total for the insurance package in 2007-08 was $71,987 and $75,175 in 2008-09. He added that workers compensation accounts for over half the amount of the policy.

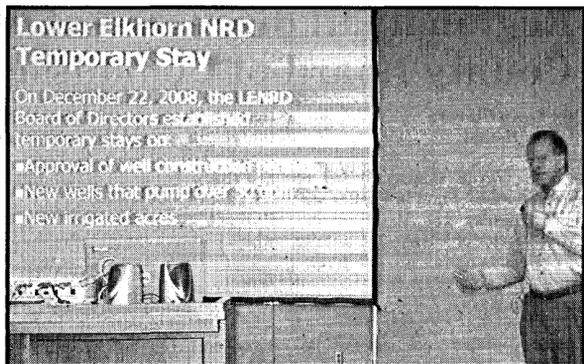

Informational reports included: building principals: High school: Mark Hanson; Brent Ramsey will be student teaching this semester under the supervision of Brad Weber, band director. He noted eight students appealed for credit for the first semester. The total represents less than three percent of the student population that exceeded the maximum days of absence allowed (which is 10 days). Middle School: Tim Krupicha; Chantelle Hoffman will be student teaching in seventh and eighth special education during the fourth quarter. The Change Game Fundraiser ended on Dec. 19 with $360 raised going to the Wayne Food Pantry.

Elementary School: Daryl Schrunk: Wayne State College student teachers are: Lance Sovde (HK), Katie Wilson (H3) and Chantelle Hoffman (SpEd) for the spring 2009 semester. On Friday, Jan. 30, there will be elementary P/T conferences. Schrunk also noted that the elementary building is 50 years old starting the 2009-10 school year. He would like to have a mini celebration in the fall to start the year but wanted to get the board's support first.

Dr. Joe Reinert, superintendent, discussed the elevator at the high school and noted they are looking at early August as the completion date of the project.

Future agenda items include discussion on the dance squad; state aid; review of 2009-10 calendar; April board meeting (which is in the Easter week).

The next meeting of the Wayne Community Schools Board of Education will be Monday, Feb. 9 at 6 p.m. at the high school in Wayne.

Rich Wozniak of the LENRD was one of the speakers at the recent informational meeting in Norfolk.

Representatives of LENRD and DNR discuss fully Appropriated designation

By Lynn Sievers
Of the Herald

A public informational meeting on the state ruling that the Elkhorn River basin is fully appropriated was held recently in Norfolk. Representatives of Lower Elkhorn Natural Resources District (LENRD) and Nebraska Department Natural Resources (DNR) were present to discuss the preliminary finding of fully appropriated and what that designation could bring.

The preliminary finding of the Platte River basin, which takes in the Elkhorn River basin, as fully appropriated means that no new irrigation wells, or expanded irrigation, is allowed in hydrologically connected areas so future depletion of surface water does not occur. Areas affected are along the Logan Creek, the Elkhorn River, most of Madison and Pierce counties and other areas (detailed county maps can be found at www.LENRD.org). A final determination should be coming around mid-April.

Elden Wesely, LENRD chairman welcomed over 300 attendees. Also speaking were DNR Director Brian Dunnigan; Integrated Water Management Division; Jim Schneider and Jesse Bradley; LENRD staff members Stan Staab and Rich Wozniak, as well as Upper Elkhorn Natural Resources District (UENRD) staff member Dennis Schueth.

Dunnigan explained the determination process noting criteria must be met to be classified as fully appropriated. Bradley discussed the methodology used in the preliminary finding. The Elkhorn Loup Model (ELM) and study were discussed. Both short and long term water use and supply are considered.

Water supply numbers are based on previous 20 year streamflow record. Aquifers across the state are dependent on each other. It was noted that for current uses on long term supplies, they look 25 years in the future, which gives a lag effect (rate of water depletion versus amount looking in the future). More on ELM can be found at <http://ne.water.usgs.gov/projects/elm.html>. The study is in joint partnership with eight NRDs, DNR and USGS. Bradley added that the best science available to them was used.

Schneider discussed Integrated Management Planning (IMP) which is a continuous process and was developed by DNR and NRD to come up with a balance between basin supply and use. Requirements of IMP include goals, map, groundwater controls, surface water controls and a plan (monitor) - input from meetings part of developing a plan. He noted the Department has to follow state statutes as there are rules. More information can be found on the DNR site or local NRD website (www.LENRD.org).

Wozniak discussed the temporary stay (180 days) the LENRD has and state law 46-707 (2) that gives LENRD the authority to put the stay into effect. He noted the DNR (state) focus is streamflow and NRD (local) focus is groundwater flow and that the two departments have been working together on a joint plan for three to five years.

Ray Jensen of Wakefield was among many attendees asking questions. He noted he received a permit and drilled a well last May but wasn't able to use it due to wet conditions. What choices does he have now? Does he have legal rights? Jensen was told he must wait to see if the board will come up with a variance and that circumstances are beyond their control. Also, that using the well is against the law and there are penalties if that is done.

A DNR Fully Appropriated public hearing has been set for Tuesday, Feb. 17 at 1:30 p.m. at the Lifelong Learning Center in Norfolk. Public testimony on the temporary stay on new wells and new irrigated acres will be received.

Wayne Community Schools Board of Education meets to discuss superintendent search

A special meeting of the Wayne Community Schools Board of Education was held on Jan. 8 at the high school in Wayne. Marcia Herring with the Nebraska Association of School Boards spoke with board members about the superintendent search service they provide.

She noted the board needs to establish a search timeline. The board requested interview dates the week of Feb. 23. Discussed was the interview format which will include input from administrators, certified staff, classified staff, community members and past board members.

The NASB Search Service process was reviewed and Herring addressed questions regarding search protocol, procedures and accountability. The interview process will be discussed further during the planning meeting scheduled on Monday, Feb. 2.

She added that the board needs to identify advertising venues.

Rapid Response Information Session held at WSC

By Lynn Sievers
Of the Herald

A Rapid Response Information Session for workers faced with lay-offs was sponsored by Wayne Area Economic Development Inc. (WAEDI) at Wayne State College (WSC) on Jan. 16. Dave Simonsen, executive director of WAEDI welcomed everyone to the meeting and introduced the speakers.

The speakers included: Jill Schreck, Unemployment Benefits Field Manager, Nebraska Workforce Development; Loren Kucera, WSC Business Development Center director; Russ Peterson and others of Northeast Community College; Dave Ley, CEO, State National Bank in Wayne and Kendrick Marshall of Nebraska Workforce Development.

On unemployment insurance, Schreck noted a unemployment claim can be filed as soon as someone is unemployed or underemployed via the Internet by going to www.NebraskaWorkforce.com or by calling 402-458-2500 in Lincoln. At that time, the social security number, employment history and separation information must be provided when filing a claim. A requirement will be to select debit card or direct deposit as a payment method. If selecting direct deposit, the bank routing and account number will be required.

She added that any money paid by the company where a person worked, such as wages in lieu of notice, vacation and severance pay, may be disqualifying. The Department of Labor will determine what is disqualifying through fact finding with all parties involved.

The weekly benefit amount is set at one-half of the "average weekly wage" rounded down to the nearest dollar amount. A limitation on this is that it is not to exceed one-half of the State Average Weekly Wages as calculated annually. What that means is that for 2009, the maximum benefit amount is $308. More information on Unemployment insurance can be found by calling Schreck at 402-471-9812.

On entrepreneurship, Kucera gave the common characteristics of an entrepreneur: desire for responsibility, preference for moderate risk, confidence in ability to succeed, desire for immediate feedback, high energy level, future orientation, skill at organizing, value achievement over money, high degree of commitment, tolerance for uncertainty and flexibility and tenacity. Other points to keep in mind if considering starting a business: *personal objectives, *self-starter, *getting along with different personalities, *technical skills needed to operate business, *good decision maker, *physical and emotional stamina needed, *planning and organizing skills, *strong drive needed and *family support.

Knowing what can contribute to success and having a new business checklist is important. Anyone interested in discussing entrepreneurship can call Kucera at 402-375-7575 or contact him at Lokuce1@wsc.edu

On further education, representatives of Northeast Community School (NECC) and of Wayne State College (WSC) were present with information about courses. They noted there are many avenues available in two and four year degrees, as well as in technical courses. Anyone with questions can contact NECC at: northeastcollege.com or WSC at: www.wsc.edu

As for finance, Ley noted that is a priority and anyone facing layoffs should not panic as changing jobs 17 times over a work career is the average. He added that anyone is welcome to come in and talk to him about finance and their situation. Ley added that he recommends education as there are a number of fields in demand including teaching and healthcare.

Ley said a budget and finance plan are beneficial. The two most important needs are shelter and food and there is help available for that as well as other needs. When faced with financial hardship, he added talking to a variety of sources including: personal banker and credit card company is important.

He noted the economic crisis came to a head last fall and has been spiraling down. A lot of the problems have come from greed and desire. In the housing market, many people became owners when they couldn't afford to. Overall, many benefitted from what happened with the housing market as it gave extra work to those who built the homes, etc. Many people blame Wall Street for the economic troubles but there are a number of causes and it created a domino effect. In the past, recessions tend to last around eight months but this one could last longer. He reminded attendees that employers may have a different focus then they did a year or two ago.

Ley added that area churches are another good source of help and some are offering the Dave Ramsey course, which offers tips for a total financial makeover (First United Methodist Church in Wayne just finished with the course and Journey Christian Church is putting one on soon).

Marshall discussed training, employment and career services. He noted there are a number of options available and urged attendees to contact them at 105 E. Norfolk Avenue in Norfolk, 402-370-3430 or at www.NebraskaWorkforce.com

Simonsen ended by saying at WAEDI, their primary goals are helping people to find jobs near Wayne and helping people to get employed period. Right now the outlook for those unemployed may look bad but it may be a chance to see where they want to go and that there is help available in getting there.

Recipes are sought for Q125 cookbook

Wayne Area Economic Development has begun collecting recipes for a cookbook to be published this summer. The committee would like your favorite family recipes to add to the collection.

Since the 20th anniversary Chicken Show cookbook has been sold out for several years and the Wayne Area Economic Development office receives numerous requests each year for the cookbook, the group thought that the Q125 year would be a good time to publish a new community cookbook.

Recipes should be submitted to the economic development office and should include a recipe title, ingredients, directions, serving size, and a contributor name, in the typical categories of Appetizers & Beverages, Soups & Salads, Vegetables and Side Dishes, Main Dishes, Breads and Rolls, Desserts, Cookies & Candy, and This & That.

Those interested should submit recipes in any format to the Wayne Area Economic Development office at 108 West Third Street, Wayne, Neb. 68787 or info@waedi.org by Saturday, Jan. 31.

Regional jail discussed at recent Wayne County Board of Commissioners meeting

By Lynn Sievers
Of the Herald

The Wayne County Board of Commissioners met in regular session Tuesday. Lee Myers, executive director of Wisner Community Development, was present to discuss the possibility of a regional jail for Wayne, Cuming, Stanton and Thurston counties. He noted other counties each have a jail in Nebraska except for these four counties. (Thurston has a jail but it is out of code). Myers said the last time he spoke to the commissioners, it was stated that a study was done by the city of Wayne and he would like to find out what is planned.

The location of a regional jail was also discussed and Myers noted that it should be close to a town but centrally located between the counties. Cost was also discussed and Myers stated there are options, one of which is financing through tax free bonds, which are in demand. Myers ended by saying he would find out more and report back to the commissioners.

Joyce Reeg, Wayne County assessor, discussed personnel policy reimbursement and noted the policy needs to be updated. Commissioner Kelvin Wurdeman noted they will review the policy.

Discussion was held on Nebraska Federal Surplus Property representation. Wurdeman made a motion that the three commissioners and the sheriff should be authorized to buy Federal Surplus Property and that only one signature would be needed. Commissioner Dean Burbach seconded the motion which passed unanimously.

Wurdeman made a motion to cancel check no. 09010014 ($285 for dental work for an inmate) as it was a duplicate payment. Burbach seconded the motion which passed unanimously.

Elizabeth Carlson, Wayne County highway superintendent, discussed the Scrap Tire Collection. She asked for authorization by the chairman to sign a cleanup grant (due Feb. 1) for the Nebraska Department of Environmental Quality. Wurdeman made a motion to authorize the chairman to sign the grant and Burbach seconded the motion which passed unanimously.

Carlson discussed the upcoming One and Six Year Road plan. It was decided to go over the plan individually and then come to the meeting Feb. 17 with it.

An emergency item was acted on. The Board of Public Roads Classification & Standards upgraded their minimum design requirements. Abridge (seven miles east and 9.7 miles south of Wayne) was designed based on the old standard. Carlson asked the commissioners to pass a resolution asking the Board of Public Roads Classification & Standards for relaxation of standards for that bridge. Wurdeman made a motion to pass the resolution and Burbach seconded the motion which passed unanimously.

The Wayne County Board of Equalization met. Current business included two motor vehicle exemptions: Goldenrod Hills Community Action (Chevy van used for Head Start program) and Our Savior Lutheran Church (trailer that is used for mission trips and other church-related activities). Commissioner Jim Rabe made a motion to grant the two motor vehicle exemptions and Burbach seconded the motion which passed unanimously.

Also part of current business was property tax exemption of Trinity Lutheran Church (Altona) parsonage. Rabe made a motion to grant the property tax exemption and Burbach seconded the motion which passed unanimously.

Lee Swinney was present to discuss his driveway on his property on the Randolph road. He noted the road going by his driveway has become more dangerous and wondered if some of the hill could be taken off so he could see better there. Burbach noted he would look into the situation and get back to him.

The next Wayne County Board of Commissioners meeting will be Tuesday, Feb. 3 at 9 a.m. at the courthouse in Wayne.

Council listens to updates on financial situation

By Clara Osten
Of the Herald

In several related items, the Wayne City Council heard about the city's financial status during Tuesday's meeting.

Phil Lorenzen with D.A. Davidson & Co. spoke about various types of improvement projects that could be funded by the city, the methods of funding these projects and the status of current indebtedness by the city.

He said that bonds issued to pay for the construction of the Community Activity Center will be paid off in June of 2009, nearly six years ahead of schedule. The city's debt overall is considerably less than the five percent of assessed value.

"The city of Wayne has a low amount of debt and is in good shape, financially. The city is extremely well-run and well-managed," Lorenzen said.

City Treasurer Nancy Braden spoke to the council on the city's investment policy.

Braden explained where the city's money is invested and changes that have taken place in investment practices during the last year. She noted that most investments are currently short-term, due to low interest rates.

Braden also presented her annual report to the council during Tuesday's meeting. She explained the areas of the city's finances she is responsible for, including the city budget, investments, grants and loans.

Prior to the start of the meeting, members of the Fraternal Order of Police and Mayor Lois Shelton presented Kimberly Zuniga with a commendation for her bravery in a recent incident with aggressive dogs.

Kimberly heard a call for help from Wilfred Gehner and rushed to his assistance. She restrained one of the dogs involved in the incident and was able to call 9-1-1 for assistance.

According to Lt. Phil Shear with the Wayne Police Department, "Kimberly is commended for her bravery in running toward a situation and rendering aid when most other young people her age would run away from that same situation."

The council also received a check for $12,100 to the Wayne Community Development Agency for the Western Ridge Project. The money came from the Lower Elkhorn Natural Resource District through the Urban Conservation Assistance Program.

Following a public hearing, the council voted 6-1 to authorize a chief elected official to sign an application for Community Development Block Grant funds to be used for financial assistance to the city for Downtown Revitalization Phase II activities. Council member Verdel Lutt voted against the resolution.

The $250,000 grant money would require matching funds and would be used for Americans with Disabilities Act approaches and commercial rehabilitation, including facade improvements.

Lisa Hurley with the Northeast Nebraska Economic Development District told the council that the plans drawn up for use of this grant have been matched with the projects most suited to this type of funding. She also noted that a sidewalk improvement district would need to be created and details of the project could be adjusted in the future.

In other action, the council received an update on the Aquarius pilot plant designed to treat wastewater.

Garry Poutre and Doug Echtenkamp explained that the plant came to Wayne in mid-November and was made operational shortly after that. They noted that 2 1/2 weeks after that, lines bringing water into and out of the plant froze. Representatives of the company, along with city employees, worked to make changes to the system and ensure the equipment would not freeze and, according to Echtenkamp, "the system is doing what they said it would do."

Both men noted that a full-size system would be located underground and process one million gallons of wastewater per day, rather than the pilot, which is above ground and capable of processing 750 gallons per day.

A meeting of members of the Wastewater Treatment Committee is scheduled for this week to observe the plant in operation.

As a Community Development Agency the group voted to approve a Black Hills Energy proposal for the Western Ridge Subdivision.

Gabe Tramp with Black Hills Energy explained the cost to the CDA of $6,800 could be paid in three installments and would allow for natural gas lines to be installed in the subdivision. He said a portion of that money would be used for an advertising plan and additional money would be returned to the city in the form of incentives for those installing natural gas in their homes in the area by 2011.

The action will allow those desiring to build in the subdivision the option of having natural gas or electricity in the homes.

The CDA also voted to raise the cap from $120,000 to $200,000 on the remaining lots priced at under $12,000 in the Western Ridge Subdivision.

Discussion was held on the fact that the current limit is too restrictive to allow for the construction of most homes. CDA Chairman Ken Chamberlain said "we want people to build" and the increase would allow more people that option.

The council approved Mayor Shelton's appointment of Ed Brogie to the Wastewater Treatment Plant Facility Committee and Gary Boehle (four years), Darrell Miller (three years), Curt Frye, Della Pries, Don Buryanek (two years) and Traci Bruckner and Liz Hagmann (one year) to the LB840 Committee.

The council will next meet in regular session on Tuesday, Feb. 3 at 5:30 p.m.

The Wayne Herald

WSC falls short in 85-76 loss to No. 16 Winona State

Unselfish play propels Wildcats to 78-67 win over Peacocks

By Casey Schroeder

The Wayne State College men's basketball team built an 18-point second half lead, then held off a late Upper Iowa rally to defeat the Peacocks 78-67 on Saturday evening in Wayne.

The Wildcats improved to 8-8 overall and 4-5 in the Northern Sun Intercollegiate Conference (NSIC) while Upper Iowa dropped to 2-14 overall and 1-9 in league play.

With the exception of one lead chance (Upper Iowa led 10-9 with 15:18 left in the first half), WSC held the lead for a majority of the first half and held a 37-29 advantage going into halftime.

"We played harder...we haven't always had the focus to come out and play with such urgency," said WSC head coach Rico Burkett.

"For the most part I thought we did that on both ends of the floor. We were pretty efficient from an offensive standpoint and when we need to we got stops. I thought the guys did a great job of being unselfish."

The Wildcats then increased that lead to 18 points several times throughout the second half before Upper Iowa rallied back following a technical foul on Peacocks' head coach Brian Dolan, getting as close as three points before WSC pulled away for the 78-67 win.

WSC senior guard David Walters scored 20 points, one shy of his career-high, thanks to five of eight shooting from the three point line, to lead the Wildcats in scoring.

Senior forward Jonathon Thomas added a double-double, his fourth of the season with 19 points and 10 rebounds while junior Brent Jackman also reached double digits with 11 points.

WSC finished the game shooting 50 percent from the field, making 27 of 54 shots while also going 6 of 15 from the three point line and just 18 of 30 at the charity stripe.

For Upper Iowa, Nick Kramer scored 20 points followed by Dan Bestul with 16 and Keith Steffek at 12.

The Peacocks were 23 of 48 from the field for 53.5 percent as they hit 4 of 8 shots from beyond the arc while going 17 of 21 at the free throw line.

WSC held a commanding 34-20 rebounding advantage over Upper Iowa with 17 boards coming on the offensive end for the Wildcats which contributed to 23 second chance points.

Thomas led WSC at the glass with 10 rebounds followed by Jackman with five while Kramer's four boards paced the Peacocks.

Prior to the Wildcats' win over Upper Iowa on Saturday, WSC dropped a 85-76 decision to No. 16 Winona State on Friday night.

Winona State built an eight point lead at 27-19 with 3:11 left in the first half, but WSC used an 11-2 run to take the lead at 30-29 going into halftime following a three pointer by Thomas with 37 seconds remaining in the half.

After WSC took a four point lead early in the second half at 35-31 following a three point play by Thomas with 18:51 to play, Winona State scored the next eight points to take a 39-35 lead and the Warriors never relinquished the lead again.

Later in the half with Winona State in control of a 63-54 lead with 7:01 to play, WSC made one final run at the Warriors, getting as close as four points on two different occasions with the last being at 65-61 with 5:00 left in the half following two free throws by Walters.

However, Winona State used stellar shooting from the field and the free throw line (16 of 21 in the second half) to preserve the 85-76 win.

"Winona is a team that if they got a chance to secure the victory, they'll secure it and not give you a chance," Burkett said.

"I thought we played a really good ballgame and to Winona's credit every time we tried to make a run or tried to get that critical stop or key bucket, they'd knock down a big jump shot or three to extend their lead."

Thomas finished with a season-high 28 points, one shy of his career high, on 12 of 17 shooting from the field to pace the Wildcat scoring effort.

Walters had 12 points followed by Jackman with 11 and Brian Metz at 10.

The Wildcats finished the game shooting 30 of 59 from the field for 50.8 percent, including 6 of 22 from the three point line and 10 of 12 at the free throw stripe.

Winona State placed four players in double figures and were led by Travis Whipple and David Johnson with 18 points apiece.

Jon Walburg added 15 points while Ben Fischer scored 13.

The Warriors made 29 of 52 shots from the field for 55.8 percent, including 65.4 percent (17 of 26) in the second half. Winona State was 11 of 22 from beyond the arc and 16 of 21 at the charity stripe.

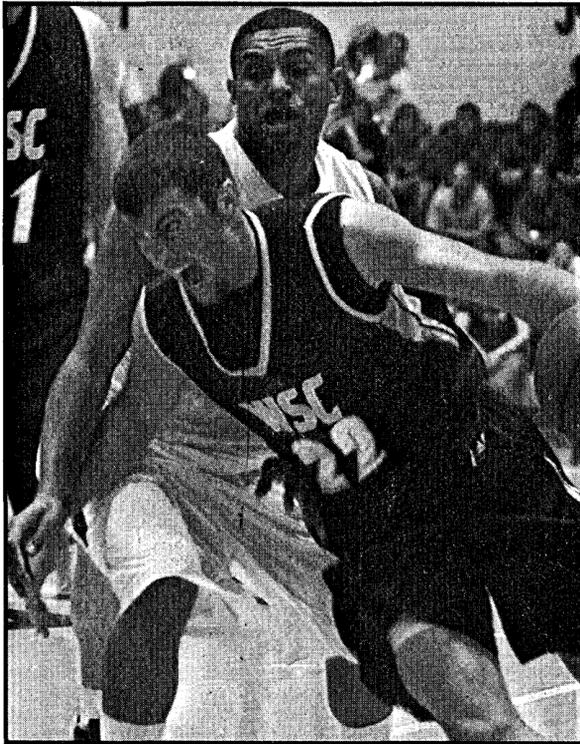

WSC held a slight 29-26 edge in rebounding over Winona State as Thomas hauled in seven boards to lead the Wildcats while David Johnson had six caroms to lead the Warriors.

The two teams were similar in turnovers with Winona State having 12 to WSC's 13.

The Wildcats will return to action on Friday, Jan. 23 when they travel to ninth-ranked Minnesota State for a Northern Sun Conference game with tip-off scheduled for 8 p.m.

WSC knocks-off Upper Iowa to remain third in NSIC, but fall to Winona State 67-51

Nothing gained in 89-28 win over short-handed Peacocks

By Casey Schroeder

The Wayne State College women's basketball team coasted to an 89-28 win over Upper Iowa on Saturday evening in Wayne.

With the win over, WSC improved to 9-7 overall and 6-3 in the Northern Sun Intercollegiate Conference (NSIC) while Upper Iowa dropped to 5-12 overall and 1-9 in league play.

In what turned out to be one of the oddest games played in Rice Auditorium history, Upper Iowa started the game with five total players.

However, Upper Iowa was left with only four players following an injury to Lene Lox midway through the first half.

With a one player advantage WSC cruised to a 35-11 lead by halftime after hitting 15 of 34 shots from the field for 44.1 percent which also included 5 of 13 from beyond the arc.

However, things only got worse for Upper Iowa in the second half as Lyndsay Westgaard fouled out with 11:34 remaining in the game, leaving the Peacocks with just three players to overcome a 42 point deficit at 59-17.

Following Westgaard's foul, WSC outscored Upper Iowa 30-11 while going on to record the 89-28 win.

"My focus on Saturday was to try to make my team better. I wanted our players to play hard and not worry about what was going on at the other end of the floor," said WSC head coach Chris Kielsmeier. "I talked to Coach Brown from Upper Iowa and he told me everyone associated with WSC handled the situation in a first class manner. It wasn't fun for anybody. In no way was I trying to run up the score."

The Wildcats hit 38 of 81 shots on the evening for 46.9 percent while going 13 of 39 from behind the three point line.

Upper Iowa hit just 11 of 49 shots from the field for 22.4 percent, including 1 of 11 from beyond the arc and 5 of 9 from the free throw line.

WSC held a commanding 55-28 rebound advantage over Upper Iowa, thanks to a career-high 15 boards from Mara Hjelle.

The Peacocks had 21 turnovers compared to just nine for the Wildcats.

JulieAnn Wagner scored a career-high 17 points and was followed by Laquisha Cook and Clare Duwelius with 13 points apiece.

Other scorers for the Wildcats included Katie Jo Christensen with 11 points and Jodie Boss who added 10.

Upper Iowa was led in scoring by Paige Devine with 13 points.

Prior to the Wildcats' win over Upper Iowa on Saturday, WSC fell short in a 67-51 loss to Winona State on Friday night in Wayne.

Winona State led from start to finish as the Warriors led by as many as 11 points in the opening half of play.

"All of WSU's players can shoot the ball. We left them open too much and they can hit the shots," Kielsmeier said.

"Defensively they double our posts and we didn't handle that very well. We also just missed shots that we normally hit, but WSU played really well."

WSC cut into Winona State's lead in the second half and got as close as four points before the Warriors pulled away with the 67-51 win.

Winona State made 29 of 26 shots for 51.8 percent and had 25 assists in the game.

The Warriors went 8 of 20 from behind the three point line, but hit just 1 of 8 shots from the free throw line.

WSC was 20 of 56 from the field for 35.7 percent while going 7 of 22 from beyond the arc and 4 of 8 from the free throw line.

Winona State held a 38-30 rebounding advantage while both teams had 15 turnovers.

Cook scored a game-high 23 points and added a team-high seven rebounds and five steals to lead WSC in the loss.

Alyssa Fischbach added eight points followed by Wagner with six.

Jamie Majerowicz had 18 points and 11 rebounds to lead the way for the Warriors.

Ana Wurtz had 14 points and Natalie Giger added 11 points and nine assists for Winona State.

WSC will return to action on Friday, Jan. 23 when they travel to Minnesota State for a 6 p.m. Northern Sun Conference game.

Out of the Shadows

By Deb Harm

In the shadows – protecting those in the light.
On Saturday afternoons, college football fans across the state come out to watch the offense. They watch those in the light move the ball up and down the field, score points and receive much of the lion's share of the glory.
It's the same at Memorial Field on the Wayne State College campus – the image of the offense casts a giant shadow over the defense.
This fact does not change one thing. The Cats' defensive linemen come from homes where being in the spotlight has never been a driving force. These northeast Nebraska young men play for the love of the game.

The Wildcat defense knows the game is played on a real grass field. The WSC paw is still painstakingly hand painted in the center of the field, and the stadium bulges at 3500 seats.
It's theirs to protect.
And the seniors from northeast Nebraska who anchored a defensive line asked to protect that paw helped transform the Wildcat team into a power house in the NSIC League and are proud to wear the black and gold.
Young men like seniors Luke Hoffman of Wakefield, Troy Prib-now of Scribner, Tyler Krueger of Pierce, and Chris Barry of Battle Creek brought a hard-nosed, never-say-die attitude that led the Wildcats to their first-ever showing in the NCAA Division II playoffs.

For the first time in over a decade, the WSC football team earned national rankings in the AFCA (American Football Collegiate Association) and tied a school record with nine victories in a single season.
Wayne State finished the 2008 season with a 9-3 record, ranking 19th in NCAA Division II and finishing in a tie for the NSIC South Division title with Minnesota State going 8-2 in league play.
Wakefield native Luke Hoffman, a 6-2, 205 pound senior linebacker was recently selected to the ESPN The Magazine Academic All-American College Division First Team and was named to the 2008 Daktronics Super Region #3 Football Team.
"I knew since I've been a little boy it was the side of the ball I loved to be on," Hoffman said, who recorded 97 tackles from his outside linebacker position.
Hoffman ranked second on the team and eighth in the NSIC in tackles per game at 8.1. He finished his four-year career with 385 tackles as a four-year starter.
"I decided to be a Wildcat for three reasons – opportunity to get on the field quickly, be a part of bringing a program to a high level of competition and it was the best financial aid package for me," Hoffman said.
When WSC head coach Dan McLaughlin and his staff arrived in 2004, his redshirts showed promise.
"Hoffman was a redshirt freshman when this staff first arrived at Wayne State. We were told that he was the #1 recruit in that class, and that he was an outstanding linebacker."
"Luke has certainly lived up to those expectations. Relatively small for a Division II linebacker, he makes up for his lack of size with tremendous intelligence, great feet, and tackling ability."
"Quiet and reserved, Luke is a leader by example, and his consistent high performance and toughness has gained the respect of the entire team," McLaughlin said.
"He is a shining example of what can be achieved at Wayne State with effort, perseverance, intelligence and toughness."
Senior defensive end Troy Pribnow, a product of the town of Scribner, NE, stands 6-3 and weighs 250 pounds. He led the NSIC this season in sacks (14), tackles for loss (22), fumbles forced (5) and fumbles recovered (4).
Pribnow has been named to the AFCA Division II Coaches' All-America Team and to the Daktron-speakers talk of someone giving '110%', they are talking about Tyler Krueger.

"I can honestly say that, in four years of watching him practice and play, I never saw him take a play off. Not once."
"A tough competitor, a true team leader, a leader of our Unity Council, a team captain, a three-year starter, the very definition of the term "student-athlete" – Tyler Krueger is all of those, and so much more," McLaughlin said.
In Division II football, heart can go a long way, and Krueger wasn't the only Wildcat to display his this season.
Chris Barry, a 6-1, 280 pound senior defensive end joined the Wildcat program in the spring of 2006, transferring from UNO. He finished his black and gold career with 34 tackles this season with a two-year career total of 65 tackles.
"The way our defense is set up, everyone is responsible for a gap and if everyone does their job, the line is successful. I was lucky to have a great defensive coach in Clint Brown. He taught me about the game, about defense and about life in general," Barry said.
"A linebacker at Omaha, Chris came to us with an attitude of 'I just want to play,' McLaughlin said.
"Coach Brown moved Chris to the defensive line, which is not an easy thing to do. Struggling at first with the techniques asked of him, Chris exhibited a dogged determination to learn and to improve."
"An ever-say-die attitude allowed him to eventually earn a starting position as our nose guard, a position that demands double-teaming by the opposition offensive linemen," McLaughlin said.
"It is a rough, dirty, thankless job, but it was one that Chris embraced and thrived at, solidifying perhaps the best defensive line, along with his teammates in Division II football in 2008."
"It takes a special kind of a football player to excel in such a position, and Chris Barry is an example of what can be achieved with the right attitude and effort," McLaughlin said.
And that determination – that evident love of the game – helped the WSC defense climb out of the shadows during the 2008 season.

Inc. All-America Football Team, receiving Second Team All-American honors.
"I choose WSC because of family ties – all of my siblings have attended WSC," Pribnow said. "Defense allows me to hit someone, rather than be hit by someone."
He ranks third in NCAA Division II in sacks and eighth in NCAA Division II in tackles for loss. Pribnow finished fourth on the Cats defensive with 65 total tackles, including 41 solo stops in the 2008 season and ended his WSC career with 158 tackles.
Much like for Hoffman, McLaughlin is full of praise for Pribnow.
"Troy was another redshirt freshman already here when the new staff arrived. Tall and skinny, but blessed with tremendous athleticism, Troy gained weight and strength to become perhaps the best defensive end in Division II this past year," McLaughlin said.
"It was a remarkable season for Troy, especially knowing that, as we found out after the season ended, he played the last four games with a broken collarbone."
"Troy is a very hard worker who made himself, with the help of his coaches, into a technician as well as an athlete, who had the ability to change the entire complexion of a football game with a big play."
Defensive end Tyler Krueger, a 6-1, 265 pounder from Pierce ranked second in NSIC games with 7.5 sacks and had a total of 42 tackles with three forced fumbles during league play for the Wildcats.
"Knowing that the game rests on the defense's shoulders is what I thrive on. If the defense plays good and the opposing offense doesn't score, we win – simple fact," Krueger said.
Krueger ended the 2008 season with 52 tackles with a career total of 145 tackles.
"The biggest reason I choose WSC was because of the coaching staff. Within the first five minutes on my campus visit, I was sold," Krueger said.
Krueger was also one of the first pieces McLaughlin put into place in his effort to rebuild the WSC program.
"Tyler was my first recruit at WSC. Out on the road, I was told by other high school coaches that Tyler was the best defensive lineman in Northeast Nebraska that year," McLaughlin said.
"Upon meeting him, I was unimpressed with his size, but I had no idea, until later, how large his heart is."
"Tyler is the ultimate competitor. When coaches and motivational speakers talk of someone giving '110%', they are talking about Tyler Krueger.

"I can honestly say that, in four years of watching him practice and play, I never saw him take a play off. Not once."
"A tough competitor, a true team leader, a leader of our Unity Council, a team captain, a three-year starter, the very definition of the term "student-athlete" – Tyler Krueger is all of those, and so much more," McLaughlin said.

Panthers pound Eagles 76-32 in Friday contest

By Casey Schroeder

But in the end, Allen still came up short as Bancroft-Rosalie went out to pick up the 76-32 win.
"The girls did a good job of picking themselves up every time they were knocked down. We struggled a little bit in the first half, being down by a large margin," McPhillips said.
"It's hard to keep going in circumstances like that. But I stressed to the girls that our effort is not based on circumstances. We give it all we got, no matter what."
Ashlee Hingst led the Eagles in scoring with 10 points followed by Shannon Sullivan with nine.
Additional scorers for Allen included Jamin Cyr with seven points while Holly Stark added four and was followed by Becca Swetnam with 2.
Allen will return to action on Thursday, Jan. 22 when they travel to Wausa for a 6:15 p.m. game.
Listed below is a box summary of the Allen-Bancroft-Rosalie game.

The Allen girls' basketball team journeyed to Bancroft last Friday night in high hopes of knocking-off the second-ranked (Omaha World-Herald) Panthers.
However, Allen fell short in accomplishing the task as Bancroft-Rosalie downed the Eagles 76-32.
"Even when our girls did everything right on defense and we boxed-out, they (Bancroft-Rosalie) would get to the ball first just because of their height advantage," said Allen head coach Logan McPhillips.
"Their size, and talent are outstanding. They have done a great job building a program."
With an unsizable height advantage, Bancroft-Rosalie had few problems in securing the win as they built a 31-2 lead over Allen in the first quarter before settling for a 47-10 advantage going into halftime.
Following the intermission break, Allen's offensive execution improved as the Eagles scored 22 points while holding Bancroft-Rosalie to 29, as opposed to the 47 points that the Panthers scored in the first half.

Trojans claim eighth while Bears finish 10th Braves, Mustangs outlast Wildcats at Battle Creek Wrestling Invite

By Lee Koch and Casey Schroeder

Winside fell three points short of winning Saturday's Battle Creek Invitational as the Wildcats finished in third place one and a half points shy of runner-up Stanton and two points behind the host Braves who won the team title.

Less than 10 points separated the first four teams in the tightly contested contest.

Wakefield's Christian Gallardo (103) and Laurel-Concord's Arik Diediker (215) were the area's only individual champions.

Gallardo led the Trojan efforts on the mat and was joined by teammates Wyatt Jacobsen (112) with a third place finish and Seb Kramer who finished fourth at 140 pounds, earning medals for Wakefield who finished eighth in the 14 team varsity tournament.

"Everyone did a great job and are continually improving," said Wakefield wrestling coach Travis Volk.

Diediker headed up the Bear effort winning his first gold medal of the season and was joined by Jon Mullen who finished third in the 285 pound weight class.

The Wildcats had no individual champions in the meet, but found 8 of their 11 varsity wrestlers earn medals with Kalin Koch (140) and Jared Brockmann (285) both finishing as runners-up in their weight divisions.

Placing third for Winside were Paul Hansen (103), Zach Brokaw (152) and Jordan Nelson (171).

Forrest Jones (135), Kelby Prince (160) and Garett Hurlbert (189) earned fourth places medals for the Wildcats.

Winside and Laurel-Concord will compete in the Oakland-Craig Invitational on Saturday, Jan. 24 while Wakefield will travel to Madison Friday, Jan. 23 for a tournament and to Wayne for a triangular with the Blue Devils and Hartington Ce-

Blue Devils nab third place at Pender Dual

The Wayne Blue Devil wrestling team took third at the Pender Dual Tournament this past Saturday.

The Blue Devils defeated Ponca, Omaha Bryan and Creighton Prep, but suffered losses to Wisner-Pilger and Pender.

Wayne was down by five points going into the last match of the Pender Dual and needed a pinfall in order to record the team title, but fell short as they ended up losing the dual by 11 points.

More importantly, Saturday marked the first time in four years that the Blue Devil wrestling team was able to finish in the top three at a tournament.

Wayne will return to the mats on Friday, Jan. 23 when they travel to Madison.

Listed below are the individual results for Wayne.

Logan Owens (4-1), Riley McManus (4-1), Drew Loberg (4-1), Shawn Davie (3-2), Jorge Dunklau (3-2), Pedro Zavala (3-2), Aaron Lucheson (3-2), Roman Roberts (2-3), Levi Kenney (2-3).

break in," said WSC head coach Marlon Brink.

"Sometimes athletes have a tendency to take it too easy over the break and that was something that we stressed to the team that they could not do. Overall, our marks were as good or better than our first meet in December."

The best performance for the Wildcat women's team came from Newcastle sophomore Paige Pollard who finished fourth in the 800-meter run with a time of 2:21.36.

"Paige Pollard ran a really strong 800-meter run and showed she will go even faster in a heat with even faster runners," Brink said.

Other Wildcats who finished in the top eight included Sarah Thomsen who took seventh in the one mile run (5:28.48) while Melissa McIntosh followed in eighth place with a time of 5:32.98.

The women's distance medley relay team of Tatiana DeLosSantos, Molly Gibson, McIntosh and Thomsen placed fourth overall with a time of 13:07.17 and was followed by Misty Rystrom who finished eighth in the high jump at 5' 3".

"Misty Rystrom jumped very well in the high jump, clearing 5' 3" and just missing 5' 5", which would have been a provisional national mark," Brink said.

In the men's division, freshman Cody Diehl of Grand Island (Northwest High School) placed fifth in the pole vault at 15' 1".

"Cody Diehl vaulted extremely well clearing 15' 1". He had a couple of good attempts at 15' 7" which is a provisional national qualifying mark," Brink said.

Jacob Mathieson was sixth in the weight throw with a mark of 54' 4 3/4" while senior Garrett Flamig made the finals in the 60-meter hurdles before finishing 12th overall in a time of 8.58 seconds.

The men's distance medley relay team of Cheto Cerda, Andy Jansen, Ben Jansen and Matt Schneider took fourth place in a time of 10:32.44.

- Clear snow and ice from windows, lights, windshield wipers, the hood, and the roof of your vehicle, before driving. The windshield-washer reserve should be filled with a freeze-resistant cleaning solution.
- When you see plows, stay at least 200 feet behind them.
- Leave room for stopping. Brake early and carefully.
- Don't use cruise control. The short touch of your brakes to deactivate the cruise control can cause you to lose control of your vehicle.
- Pay attention. Look ahead to see what other vehicles are doing. That way you will know about any impending road or weather conditions.
- Watch your speed. Even if your car handles well in snow and ice, other drivers' cars may not. Drive according to the conditions: Don't exceed the speed limit and drive slowly in harsh conditions. Don't try to out-drive bad weather.

Bears hammer Blue Devils 61-49

By Casey Schroeder

Laurel-Concord's Ross Kastrop and Justin Hart combined for 43 points to guide the Bears to a 61-49 victory over Wayne last Tuesday night in Laurel.

"I told the guys this is the biggest win of our year so far. Just because of the talent and style that Wayne plays," said Bears head coach Shannon Benson.

"They are a great team and will have a great year when it's over. It was a good win at home and gave us a great boost of confidence for the rest of the year," Benson said.

The win over Wayne was the Bears fifth consecutive victory, improving their overall record to 5-3 while Wayne fell to 3-8.

"I told my players not to worry about the record that Wayne has. The talent they can put on the floor is unmatched in our area and on our schedule. The style of play they bring on offense and defense is very intense," Benson said.

"I told my guys that if we can play with them and get a win, we can beat anyone on our schedule. Wayne is that good and talented."

The Bears hit 24 of 46 shots from the field for 52.1 percent and were 3 of 8 from the three point line while also going 16 of 21 at the charity stripe.

Wayne made only 26 of 67 shots for 38.8 percent and managed to connect on just 7 of 19 three point opportunities while hitting only 7 of 14 shots from the free throw line.

Laurel-Concord had a 29-17 in rebounds over Wayne, but lost the turnover battle as they had 16 compared to the Blue Devils' 10.

Kastrop had 27 points and 10 rebounds in the win while Justin Hart scored 16 points.

Ezra Schantz added 12 points and was followed by Zach Thompson who finished with four.

The Blue Devils were led in scoring by Jacob Triggs who finished with 19 points and six rebounds in the loss.

Other high-scorers for Wayne included Dexter Brown with six points along Tramp Derbai and Ryan Pieper who finished with five points each.

Laurel-Concord will return to action on Thursday, Jan. 22 when they host Battle Creek at 8 p.m. while Wayne can't be seen on Friday, Jan. 23 when they host Hartington Cedar Catholic at 8 p.m.

Blue Devils overcome first quarter woes to down Bears 52-42

By Casey Schroeder

The Wayne girls' basketball team returned to action last Tuesday night in Laurel, where the Blue Devils picked up a stunning 52-42 win over the Bears.

With the win, Wayne improved to 6-3 overall while Laurel-Concord dropped to 4-3 on the season.

The Blue Devils trailed early on, down by five at 16-11 going into the second quarter, but quickly overcame the deficit to take a 23-21 lead into halftime.

"As is always the case, we got off to a rough start defensively in this one. However, we quickly settled down," said Wayne head coach Nate Wall. "We played really solid defense throughout the game."

Following the intermission break, Wayne added another 15 points in the third quarter to extend their lead to seven at 38-31 before settling for the 52-42 win.

"I'd say our biggest challenge was to play well for 32 minutes. We played well for part of the game, but we still need to continue to find a way to play well for the entire game," said Bears head coach Nate Sims.

Wayne was 20 of 50 from the field for 40 percent, hitting just 5 of 12 shots from beyond the three point line while also going 7 of 13 from the free throw stripe.

Laurel-Concord hit 18 of 64 shots for 28.1 percent and were 0 of 4 from beyond the arc and 6 of 17 from the free throw line.

"I'm sure Wayne's pressure had a little to do with our shooting, but we also missed quite a few point blank shots inside," Sims said.

"What hurt us more than our field goal percentage was our free throw percentage. I think we pressed the issue a little too much and just need to relax and play in big games, trusting what we've done in practice."

The Bears held a slight 36-34 rebounding advantage over the Blue Devils while both teams finished with 21 turnovers.

Nicole Rauner led the Blue Devils in scoring with a game-high 24 points while Jessica Calhoon added seven.

Additional high-scorers for Wayne included Shannon Jarvi and Riley Hoffart with five points each followed by Jordan Alexander with four.

Bethany DeLong, Kari Schroeder and Jade Cunningham paced a balanced Laurel-Concord attack with nine points each.

Other scorers for the Bears included Mandy Nelson with eight while Katie Jacobsen added six.

Both teams will return to action on Thursday, Jan. 22 as the Bears will host Battle Creek at 6:15 while Wayne will travel to West Point Central Catholic for a 8 p.m. game.

When I walked into Dr. Herman's office I was in a great deal of pain. My hope was that I would get some relief in my knees and hips. Dr. Herman has also worked intensely and patiently on a shoulder injury which I was told I would just have to live with. An added bonus is to find out that Herman Chiropractic offers fitting for orthotics and at such a reasonable cost. I now have orthotics which fit in dress shoes as well as sports shoes, allowing me to walk distances again. I'm so impressed with the treatment I've received and the friendliness of the staff at Herman Chiropractic. I'm so excited that I don't have to rely on drugs and medication, and I'm not shy to tell people that.

Trojans slide by Wildcats 51-36 on Friday night

By Casey Schroeder

Jenna Henderson scored a game-high 16 points on Friday night to guide the Wakefield Trojans past the visiting Winside Wildcats 51-36.

"Everybody played their role and that's what you want," said Wakefield head coach Matt Brenn.

"Giving the ball up to somebody who's open or just doing those little things that sometimes get overlooked. That's what were doing and that's what makes us successful."

While Wakefield earned the win in the end, it was Winside who jumped out to an early lead as the Wildcats led the Trojans at 8-6 with 3:34 remaining in the first quarter following a layup from Hillary Lienemann.

However, with under three minutes remaining in the half Wakefield tied Winside at 8-8 after C.J. Kay nailed a jumper at the 2:44 mark.

The Trojans then used a Libby Henschke layup to take a 10-8 lead, their first of the game into the second quarter.

With a newly established lead, Wakefield wasted very little time in putting away the Wildcats as the Trojans led by five points throughout much of the second quarter before settling for a 25-18 lead at half-time.

Following the intermission break, Wakefield extended their lead to as many as 10 points at 32-22, but then watched as the Wildcats rallied back to come within five at 35-30 with 13.7 seconds remaining in the third quarter.

The Wildcats would get no closer than five throughout the remainder of the contest as Wakefield outscored Winside 14-6 in the fourth quarter while going on to preserve the 51-36 win.

"We need to be more deliberate on offense, look for the best shot not necessarily the first one," said Winside head coach Jeff Messersmith. "Our ability to handle the ball has improved and as we get more familiar with the offensive and defensive schemes we will improve."

Wakefield was 15 of 40 from the field for 37.5 percent while going 20-25 from the free throw line and 1 of 3 from beyond the arc.

Winside hit 14 of 38 shots for 36.8 percent, hitting just 3 of 8 from beyond the arc and 5 of 12 at the charity stripe.

Winside held a slight 22-20 rebounding advantage over Wakefield, but gave up 23 turnovers compared to 11 for Wakefield.

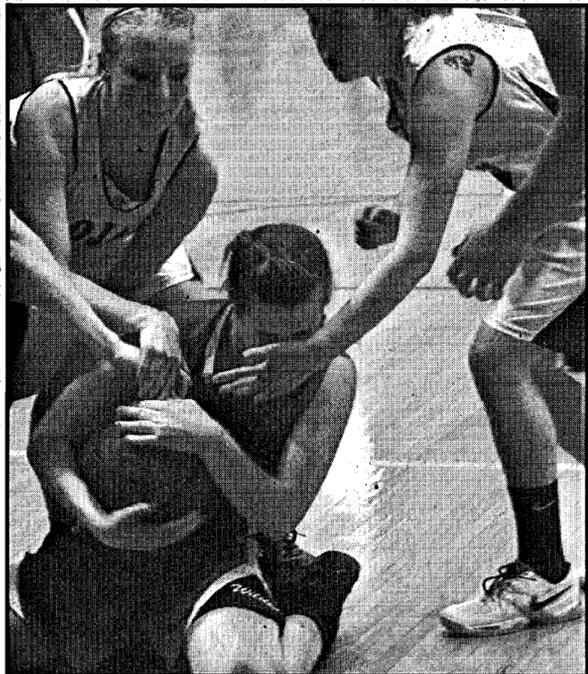

Henderson led the Trojans in scoring with a game-high 16 points and was followed by Kay who added 11.

Keri Lunz added 10 points in the win while Carly Gardner and Henschke added five each.

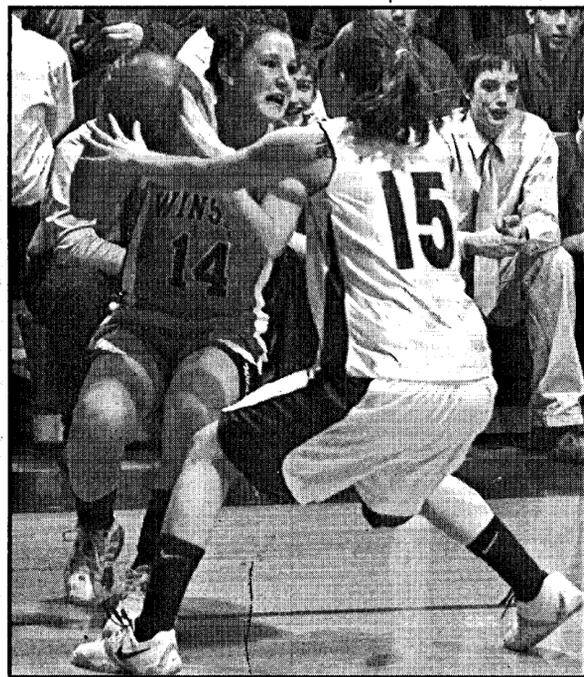

Shelby Meyer paced the Wildcats with a team-high 14 points and was followed by Hillary Lienemann with 10.

Additional scorers for Winside included Audrey Roberts with six points and Katie Saul with four.

Winside can next be seen in action on Friday, Jan. 23 when they host Wausa while Wakefield will welcome Randolph on Saturday, Jan. 24.

Winside's Audrey Roberts clings to a loose ball in the first half of Friday night's game with Wakefield.

Winside's Shelby Meyer is confronted by Wakefield's Jessica Berns. Meyer finished with 14 points in the loss.

Wildcats caught napping in 51-17 loss to Trojans

By Casey Schroeder

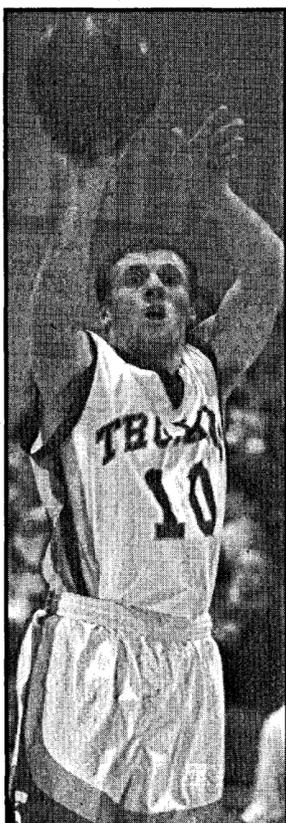

cats 51-17.

The Wakefield boy's basketball team added another mark to the win column Friday night as they defeated the visiting Winside Wild-

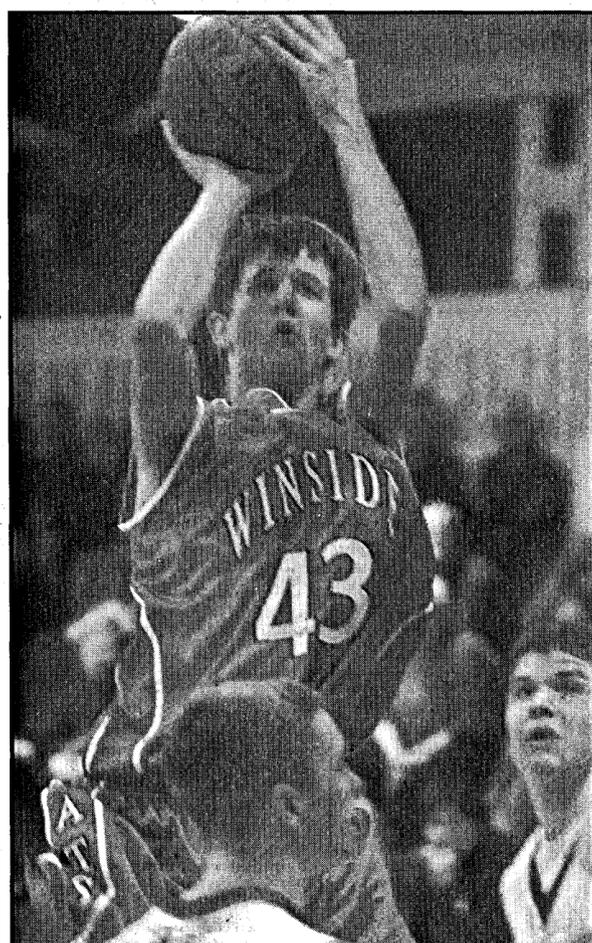

The Trojans jumped out to an early 12-2 lead over the Wildcats and never looked back as they led by nine points at 21-8 going into halftime.

Wakefield's Tyler Bodlak follows through on a pass Friday night.

Wakefield's Mason Nixon hits a three pointer in the second half. Nixon finished with 10 points.

Winside's Andrew Mohr led the Wildcats in scoring Friday night with 11 points.

"Offensively we got good looks at the basket we just need to execute and finish each possession. We will improve our game before the conference tournament," said Winside head coach Jeff Messersmith.

Wakefield hit 19 of 41 shots from the field for 46.3 percent while going 6 of 16 from beyond the arc and 7 of 14 at the free throw line.

Winside made just 7 of 36 shots for 19.4 percent, including 1 of 7 from the three point and 2 of 16 from the charity stripe.

"We continue our shooting difficulties, but continue to play good defense," Messersmith said.

"Anytime you shoot under 25 percent from inside the arc you are going to have difficulty winning the basketball game, we aren't trying to miss so I believe we just need to change which shots and how we go about shooting them."

The Wildcats held a 27-24 rebounding advantage over the Trojans, thanks to seven boards by Andrew Mohr and another four by Casey Lange.

However, Winside had 19 turnovers compared to just 10 for Wakefield.

Chad Clay paced the Trojan scoring effort with 18 points followed by Mason Nixon 10.

For the Wildcats, Mohr had a team-high 11 points while Lange scored four and was followed by Michael Lage with two.

Winside will return to action on Friday, Jan. 23 when they host Wausa while Wakefield can be seen on Friday night at Emerson-Hubbard.

Listed below is a box summary of the Winside-Wakefield game.

Working out in 2009? What you need to know about health club and gym memberships

By Nebraska Attorney General Jon Bruning

The New Year is in full swing, and now is a perfect time to focus on our resolutions. If yours includes hitting the gym or even joining a health club, be sure the facility you choose suits your personal needs and fitness goals before signing on the dotted line. Decide what's important to you by considering location, staff, programs, equipment, maintenance and social interaction.

With countless health clubs and gyms in Nebraska, there are many choices and different types of contracts. Most people use gyms and clubs without a problem, but some consumers have complained about high pressure sales tactics, club closings, automatic renewals and cancellation and refund problems.

Take advantage of the tour most clubs offer. A tour allows you to see the facility and talk to the staff. Make sure you ask questions about issues that are important to you.

Here are some tips to remember before joining a health club or gym:

- Check with your doctor before beginning a fitness program.

- When you sign a contract, know what you're signing. Take time to research the facility until you feel comfortable you have all the information you need.

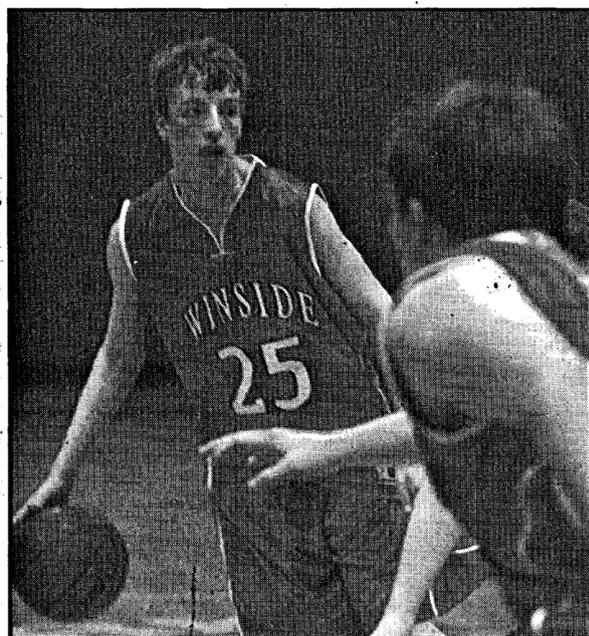

- Ask your friends, family and co-workers about the reputation of the health club. You can also research the business either by visiting the Better Business Bureau Web site, www.bbb.org or by calling (402)391-7535.

- Visit the health club during the hours you would most likely use it to determine if it is overcrowded.

- Determine what services require paying additional fees such as tanning, child care or racquetball.

- Remember, financial positions can change quickly. Ask about shorter contracts and always know the cancellation policy. If the club closes while you are a member, you may not be able to get a refund.

- If you would like more information about gym or health club memberships, call the Attorney General's Consumer Protection Division at (800) 727-6432.

Women's History Month art and poster contest planned at NECC

For the first time ever, Women's History Month activities at Northeast Community College will include an art and poster contest.

According to members of the Women's History Month workgroup, all students, faculty, staff, alumni, and friends of Northeast Community College or any of its predecessor institutions are encouraged to participate by submitting a poster or a piece of artwork. The entry should feature women as positive role models, celebrate historical contributions made to society by women, or recognize the 2009 theme for Women's History Month: Women Taking the Lead to Save our Planet.

Posters and artwork must be submitted to the Northeast Community College Library no later than Monday, February 16, 2009. The artist's name, contact information, and a brief paragraph that describes the piece should be included. Group projects are also welcome.

An opening reception to view the posters and artwork will be held on Wednesday, March 4, from 3-6 p.m. in the Maclay Building, Room 100B, on the Northeast campus in Norfolk. Visitors will have the chance to vote for the "People's Choice Award" at the reception. Entries will then be displayed in the Library until the end of March.

Prizes will be awarded for the contest. First-place prize is $100, second place is $75, and third place is $50.

The Women's History Month workgroup retains the right to accept or reject any submitted piece.

For more information about the contest, contact Brandi Rossmann at (402)844-7275, or email brandi@northeast.edu

Supporters of Wayne Community Theatre raising money with every search of the Internet and every purchase on-line

What if even a fraction of the $140 billion generated by search engine advertisers* and online shopping was directed towards the arts?

That is the concept behind GoodSearch.com a new search engine powered by Yahoo! GoodSearch donates 50 percent of its revenue, approximately a penny per search, to the charities designated by its users. You use it exactly as you would any other search engine and the pennies add up quickly - just 500 people searching four times a day will earn around $7,300 in a year. It doesn't cost the users a thing.

Similarly with GoodShop.com, consumers are helping their favorite causes by shopping at hundreds of well known retailers including Amazon, Target, Apple, Macy's, Best Buy, Orbitz, Staples and others. The shopping experience and the prices are exactly the same as going to the retailer directly, but by going through GoodShop, up to 37 percent of the purchase price is donated to the user's favorite cause!

Wayne Community Theatre recently registered with the sites, giving its supporters a chance to raise money for the cause every time they search the Internet or shop online. The goal is to earn money through the site this year which will be used to help fund

WCT projects and the renovation of the old City Hall/Fire Hall.

More than 72,000 nonprofits and schools are now registered with GoodSearch and GoodShop and more than 100 charities and schools are registering daily. GoodSearch has quickly spread via word-of-mouth and the blogger community.

Examples of other organizations listed on the site include: The Cystic Fibrosis Foundation which has earned more than $10,000; The ASPCA which has raised more than $23,000; and The Bubel/Aiken Foundation which supports children with disabilities and has earned more than $12,000.

Using GoodSearch is simple. Because the site is powered by Yahoo, users are assured of high quality results - but each time you search, money is generated by the advertisers for your favorite charity or school.

"Every penny counts", said Jennifer Nelsen of the Wayne Community Theatre. "While doing a search or shopping online why not raise money for our cause? There is absolutely no reason not to use GoodSearch and GoodShop - it's so easy."

"We know there are a lot of people who want to do good but may not have the time or the money to help out," said Ken Ramberg, Co-Founder of GoodSearch and former President of MonsterTRAK, the largest online career site for college students (now a division of Monster.com). "GoodSearch and GoodShop make it as easy as possible. We've taken something people do every day - searching the Internet and shopping online - and have turned it into doing good."

Students, director selected for UNK Honor Band

The University of Nebraska-Kearney will be conducting an Honor Band and Choral Clinic on Monday, Jan. 26.

Over 1,000 instrumentalists and vocalists auditioned for the clinic.

Wayne High School Director of Bands Brad Weber has been selected to be the Festival Honor Bands

Guest Conductor/Clinician for the Honor Band.

Seven students from Wayne High School Band were also selected to be a part of the Festival Honor Band also.

They include:

JoAnn Parker - Clarinet; Rachel Maxson - Clarinet; Ben Bruflat -

Trumpet; Sawyer Jager - Trumpet; Jason Trautman - Tuba; Collin Jeffries - Percussion and Joe Whitt - Percussion.

The students will spend the day rehearsing and following a 4:30 p.m. supper, will perform a concert at 6:55 p.m. in the Health & Sports Building on the UNK campus.

Receive Outstanding Tree Planter Award

The Lower Elkhorn Natural Resources District (LENRD) board honored outstanding conservationists at their annual awards banquet on Jan. 15. The event was held at Prenger's Restaurant in Norfolk and attracted over 70 people.

In making the award presentations, LENRD Board Chairman Elden Wesely of Oakland described the winners as "models in conservation work."

Outstanding Tree Planter Award - Delmar and Nyla Eddie:

The Outstanding Tree Planter Award is presented annually within our district to individuals who have shown a strong commitment to the planting and care of trees. Delmar and Nyla Eddie of Carroll are the recipients of the 2008 Outstanding Tree Planter Award. Delmar and Nyla Eddie are recently retired. Nyla retired from Nebraska Eggs Ltd. and Delmar retired as the contract tree planter for the Lower Elkhorn NRD. They live on a farm north of Carroll. They have spent many hours caring for their tree plantings as well as the up-keep around their farmstead.

On their own land they have planted trees for Farmstead Windbreak protection and Field Windbreaks for cropland protection of which all provide wildlife habitat and improve air quality as well. Their plantings began in 1992 - with 2.2 acres of Farmstead Windbreak, 1993 - 5.2 acres of Field Windbreak, 1994 - 6.1 acres of Field Windbreak and in 1995 - 3.0 acres of Farmstead Windbreak.

According to Marty Marx, Soil Conservation Technician at the Wayne Co. NRCS office, "Delmar and Nyla take excellent care of their tree plantings. They recognize the benefits of the water conservation mulch and have installed it on their windbreak systems. Many hours have been spent mowing around the different plantings as well as planting and replacing trees as needed. They also work closely with and seek advice from the NRCS office and the local Foresters."

Delmar has assisted with the Wayne Middle Schools fifth grade tree planting day as well as being a past chapter sponsor of the Logan Creek Pheasants Forever Chapter. Marx continued, "Throughout Delmar's years as the District Tree Planter in Wayne County he has planted 536 acres of windbreaks to include over 152,000 trees and installed several miles of Water Conservation Mulch."

According to Kathy Dohmen, LENRD Programs Assistant in Pierce County, "Delmar started planting trees in Pierce County in the spring of 1990, planting about 27,000 trees that year. Since then over 263,000 trees have been planted by Delmar and his crew in Pierce County. Converting that number to acres protected by trees would be about 16,650 acres. Delmar and his crew planted trees in Pierce and Wayne Counties for over 18 years."

The Eddie's were nominated by the Wayne and Pierce County NRCS offices. Wesely stated, "The Eddie's are very deserving of this fine award."

The following LENRD staff were honored for their years of service at the banquet:

Reynold Erbst, Stanton - Conservation Aide, Stanton County - five years of dedicated service to the district.

Longin Karel, Norfolk - Maintenance Crew at Maskenthine Lake, Stanton - five years of dedicated service to the district.

Outgoing board members, Helen Feller of Wisner and Warren Renter of Plainview, were also honored. Feller has been on the Board since 1993 and Renter since 1997. LENRD General Manager Stan Staab said, "We honor these directors for their dedication and hard work over the years. We wish them well."

The next board meeting will be held Thursday, Jan. 22 at the Lower Elkhorn NRD office at 7 p.m.

Mishap leads to valuable teaching experience for NECC students

Every irrigator's worst nightmare became a valuable learning experience last fall for students enrolled in the irrigation technology program at Northeast Community College.

A locally-owned center pivot irrigation system was extensively damaged when the system's auto stops and barriers failed and it rolled in to a shelter belt. Select Northeast freshmen and sophomore students were then charged with rebuilding the system to workable condition.

With Chuck Guenther as instructor, the students trouble shot the system to determine why the stops and barriers failed. They then replaced four sections of pipe, repaired several brackets, and remounted a new auto stop for better operation. They also built new barriers to stop the pivot if the auto stop should again fail.

Guenther's freshman and sophomore students also trouble shot and

Freshmen students enrolled in the national electrical code for irrigation technology class and involved in the pivot rebuild project included: Joshua Freudenburg, Norfolk; Taylor Nelson, Wayne; Taylor Speckmann, Yutan; Derek Thiele, Bloomfield, and Cody Wolf, Madison Sophomores Jacob Knauß, Cozad; Jarrett Koch, Creston; Ken Kumm, Wausa; Jacob McDaniel, Norfolk, and Adam Wachter, Pierce, also participated as part of their motor repair class.

"What started as a worrisome negative turned to a positive teaching tool," said Dan Rose, associate dean of applied technology. "Our students learned a great deal in this center pivot rebuild."

For more information about Northeast's irrigation technology program, contact Rose at (402)844-7223.

Jaycie Woslager displays her award-winning photos and the note cards she received.

Woslager's accomplishments recognized

Two photographs taken by Wayne County 4-H'er Jaycie Woslager have earned recognition.

The Nebraska 4-H Foundation informed Jaycie that a photograph taken during the 2008 4-H year was selected for use for the Nebraska Foundation's 2009 promotional items. The photo was selected by Michael Forsberg of Lincoln's Michael Forsberg Gallery from photos entered in the 2008 Nebraska State Fair. Among other things, Forsberg is photographer for National Geographic Magazine.

In addition, the Winside High School senior had an action photo from the 2007 Nebraska State Fair selected to be on display in a dean's office at the University of Nebraska at Lincoln campus during the 2007-08 years.

Jaycie has been enrolled in Photography projects in 4-H for nine years. She plans to enroll in the University of Nebraska-Kearney for the 2009-10 year, majoring in secondary English education. She noted that someday in the future she would also like to do "something" with her photography hobby.

BLIZZARD
During the Jan. 12 blizzard, about two dozen Winside Public School staff, students and travelers from Wayne, Winside and Norfolk took refuge at the Winside Public School. Head cook Mrs. Carolyn Backstrom and her daughter, Amanda, served the stranded visitors delicious hamburgers and French fries. After an officer from the Wayne County Sheriff's office stopped and said the highway was clear, travelers left for their destinations.

Monday's blizzard was the anniversary of the Children's Blizzard that blasted the American Plains beginning on Jan. 12, 1888. That storm had its greatest impact on children in portions of Nebraska and South Dakota. Therefore, it was later dubbed the Children's Blizzard, the Schoolchildren's Blizzard or the Schoolhouse Blizzard due to the high proportion of children numbered among the storm's victims.

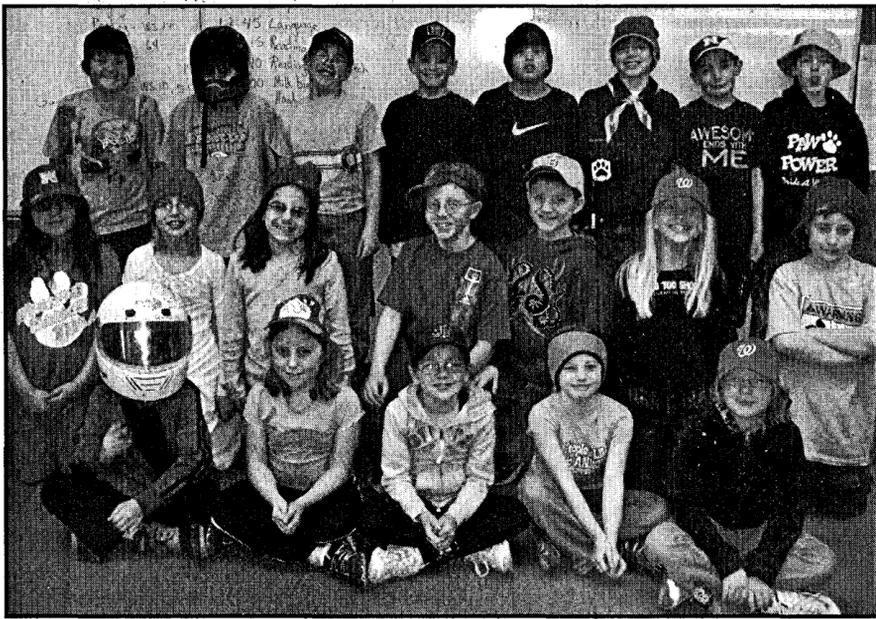

Winds accompanying the storm whipped snow into the air, limiting visibility to near zero which made even the shortest journey difficult at best. But the real killer in this storm was the frigid air advancing behind the low pressure system to replace the spring-like conditions that preceded the storm.

NATIONAL HAT DAY

Winside Elementary School celebrated National Hat Day on Jan. 15. Students and staff wore a variety of hats and head gear.

Those stranded in Winside by the recent blizzard enjoy a meal at the school.

Third graders proudly display their hats. First row, Christian Cautrell, Victoria Buresh, Fauneil Ober, Sarah Wolfe and Kiersten Brader; middle row, MaKinah Stenwall, Tori Koehler, Catherine Thompson, Brandon Watters, Trey Meis, Alyssa Brogren and Gage Wendte; back row, M.J. High school students participate in Doane vocal festival

Students from more than 80 Nebraska high schools were on campus Jan. 11-12 for the 33rd annual Doane College Vocal Festival, conducted by Dr. Kurt Runestad, Director of Choral Activities at Doane.

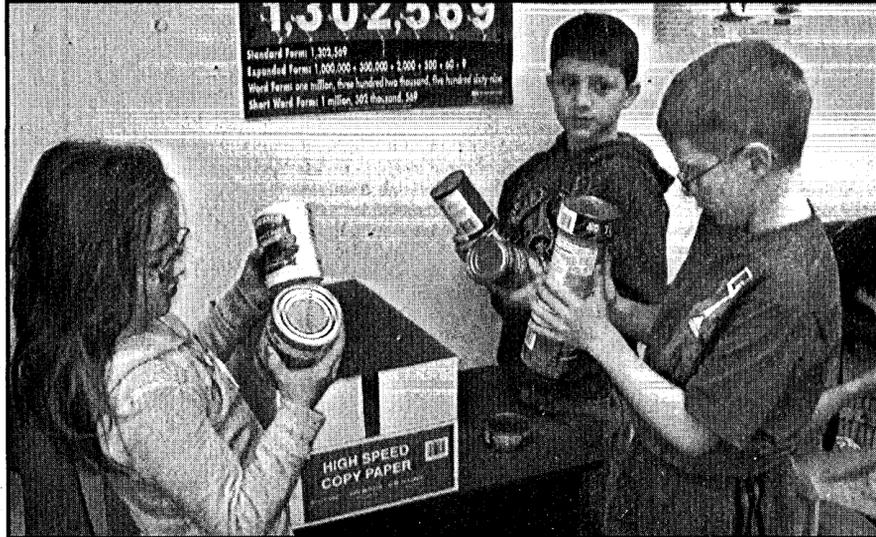

The annual festival provides high school students a chance to participate in an honor choir and to prepare and sing a contest solo for comment from faculty members.

The event culminated with a concert at Doane's Heckman Auditorium. The concert included a festival chorus and soloists, who auditioned and were selected to perform solos of their choice.

Wayne High School students selected to attend included:

Rebecca Agler, Collin Jeffries and Holly Smith from Wayne High School.

Due to scheduling conflicts, Rebecca Agler was the only student able to attend the event.

Food Pantry

Winside Public School third graders Fauneil Ober, Trey Meis, and Brandon Watters pack canned goods that were recently collected for the Wayne Food Pantry.

Rebecca Hermann to show work at WSC

Parallel Universes, a collection of paintings, drawings and animations by Becky Hermann, opened on Jan. 21, with show continuing through Feb. 12.

A demonstration - Mixed media - was planned for Jan. 21 with Hermann giving a PowerPoint presentation about the genesis of her work.

Hermann graduated from Creighton University with a BFA in painting and an MFA in painting from Cranbrook Academy of Art in Bloomfield Hills, Mich. She has exhibited in numerous juried and invitational shows around the country. She divides her time between her painting studio and teaching computer graphics at Metro Community College where she is very involved with animation. She enjoys the complementary thought processes of both disciplines. For the past 10 years she has included art trips as part of her process, traveling to Southern France and other European countries to collect visual forms.

The exhibit at Wayne State College will be available for viewing at the Nordstrand Visual Arts Gallery from 9 a.m. - 4:30 p.m. on Monday through Friday while classes are in session.

Financially Strapped Families: What Can A Family Do When the Unexpected Happens?

Ruth Vonderohe,
UNL Extension Educator
Cedar/Knox Counties

Families can "recession proof" their wallets when it comes to everyday bills. We can buy generic brands instead of name brands, and we can cut back on clothing costs. But what about the unexpected things that happen? How can we cut costs in the event of an unforeseeable tragedy?

For peace of mind, begin thinking about your own wishes for end-of-life care. There may come a day when you will be in a position to make decisions for a member of the older generation, or worse yet, your spouse or your own child. Having a discussion now with your children about your future choices will be an enormous help to them should they ever be in that decision-making role.

Few people are comfortable talking about funerals. But making funeral arrangements is one of the most difficult responsibilities families and friends face after someone dies. It also is one of the most expensive purchases many people will make in their lifetime. After buying a home and a car, a funeral is the third most expensive item you will purchase. When still in shock from their loss, people can spend more than is needed on a funeral—and more than they can afford. It could even be much more than you wanted them to spend on your funeral. You may wonder how you could ease the emotional and financial burden on your loved ones—and have the kind of service or life celebration you want. One way is to plan your funeral/memorial service before you die.

Funeral costs vary widely and depend on the type of funeral chosen. The Federal Trade Commission estimates that the average cost of a basic funeral with burial is around $6,500, but can easily exceed $10,000 if additional services are included, such as obituaries, flowers, and receptions. The cost of cemetery plots is on the rise, too, because of increasing land and maintenance costs. Cremation, a less-expensive option, is the choice of about one in three Americans. "No-frills" cremations can cost between $400 and $1,800; additional services can drive the cost to close to $5,000.

Planning your funeral before you die has two steps: Making decisions about the kind of funeral or memorial service you want and "shopping" for services. Shopping is the best way to get the most for your dollar. By planning now, you will have the time to talk with several funeral service providers and compare prices. Funeral homes are required to give you a written General Price List for their services—or provide prices over the phone. The Funeral Consumers Alliance's How To Read A General Price List can help you get the most from information on these price lists.

You can make arrangements for your funeral or memorial service directly with a funeral home or through a funeral planning or memorial society. They can help you make a list of your product and service choices and keep a copy for you, usually at no charge. You also can write down your instructions on the My Funeral Choices worksheet and give copies to your heirs, faith leader, and others who might be involved in making funeral arrangements. If you include funeral instructions in your will, be sure a copy of the will is easy to find so your instructions can be read and followed.

You can pay in advance for some or all funeral or memorial service expenses. It's a good idea to find out if there are state laws that protect your money and ensure it will be used to pay your funeral expenses when the time comes. Here are some questions to ask before paying any money in advance:

- What does this amount cover? Only products (casket, burial vault), or products and funeral services?

- What happens to the money after I pay it? Some states require funeral homes and cemeteries to invest a portion in a state-regulated account or buy a life insurance policy with death benefits assigned to the funeral home or cemetery.

- Can I cancel the contract and get my money back if I change my mind? Will I get all my money back? Three alternatives to paying in advance are:

- A Payable-on-Death (POD) savings account. In many states, the money in this account can go quickly and directly to a funeral home, or to an heir who has promised to use the money to pay for funeral costs.

- A special life insurance policy purchased through a funeral home or other facility. The funeral home generally is the beneficiary of the policy.

- A prepaid trust account set up through a funeral home or other facility. This might include a burial trust established under Medicaid rules.

Even though this is a difficult topic to discuss with your loved ones, take time to make these decisions so you and your family can save thousands of dollars.

Support appreciated

Dear Editor,
The Wayne County Museum Friends would like to thank Lu Wiltse and the Wayne Greenhouse for donating a bouquet of fresh flowers each month for a year for our recent raffle.

We decided to have two winners — each receiving a bouquet in alternate months. The drawing was held in December and the winners were Joyce Saunders and Shirley Prokop. Congratulations!

The proceeds will go to the Wayne County Museum for upkeep and maintenance. Thanks to all who purchased chances and to everyone in this community who continues to support our museum.

We are already in the planning stages of the Christmas Tour of Homes to be held Friday and Saturday, Nov. 20-21. So, mark your calendars. The hosts will be announced this fall. We're looking forward to another fun event.

Best wishes for the new year.
Sincerely,

Wayne County Museum Friends

Thanks to donors

Dear Editor,
We would like to thank the 28 donors who braved the cool weather and snow and registered to donate blood on Jan. 13 at Grace Lutheran Church. Thirty units were collected.

The following donors reached milestones in their giving: Irene Fletcher and Mary Temme, nine gallons and Mark Shults, two gallons.

We also want to thank the ladies who brought and served snacks.

Pro-life supporter

Dear Editor,
In the spring semester of 2008 the Wayne State College group LIFESAVERS, had a list of pro-life speakers they planned to bring to campus. Among the names on the list were individuals such as Bobby Schindler, the brother of Terri Schiavo and a woman named Norma McCorvey, who joined the pro-life cause in 1995, and now dedicates her life to speaking on behalf of the pro-life movement. Thirty-six years previously she was involved in the most far-reaching, devastating court decision in our country's history, under the alias of Jane Roe. Norma was the infamous Roe of the Jan. 22, 1973 Supreme Court case Roe vs. Wade.

In this decision the court ruled that all abortion laws across the country were invalid because they violated the ninth and 14th amendments to the constitution. These amendments are set forth to protect the privacy of the individual and, as Roe's lawyers, Sarah Weddington and Linda Coffey, argued that it was a woman's body and a woman's baby therefore making the matter of abortion private and not under the control of the government to limit it. In all, nine judges heard this case, and of the nine, seven concurred with the plaintiff's cry of constitutional violation and only two disagreed, William Rehnquist and Byron White. Justice Byron White went on to say later, "I find nothing in the language or history of the Constitution to support the Court's judgment" in Roe vs. Wade, (Roe Reality Check, Secretariat for Pro-Life Activities).

In a controversial case such as this, even the judges were unsure as well as the very man who drafted the Roe decision, the former clerk to Justice Blackmun, Edward Lazarus. He is quoted as saying, "As a matter of constitutional interpretation and judicial method, Roe borders on the indefensible.... [It is] one of the most intellectually suspect constitutional decisions of the modern era," (Roe Reality Check, Secretariat for Pro-Life Activities). Were these men, who were so involved in the case, simply going against the grain or could they envision the devastating consequences of such an action? An action that allowed abortions in all 50 states, at any trimester for any reason, (as later defined by the sister case of Doe vs. Bolton which stated that women could get an abortion at any stage of pregnancy if the child threatened the mother's health. (A woman's health being defined as "all factors - physical, emotional, psychological, familial, and the women's age - relevant to the well being of the patient.") What that means is that women could now get abortions at any time for any reason. In the last 36 years that this law has been in place 49,551,703 babies have not been born (this total was recorded on Jan. 18, 2009). It is a number that changes daily. To see the statistics yourself visit <http://www.nrlc.org/ABORTION/facts/abortionstats.html>. This means that 49,551,703 doctors, lawyers, and future scientists with the possible cure for cancer have not been allowed to contribute to society. Every day there are 3,500 babies killed, 146 women make the choice every hour and a baby's life is cut short every 25 seconds. In the time it takes for someone to read this article, (estimate 5 minutes) 12 lives have been lost, and 12 women's lives will forever be affected.

Every 25 seconds we as Americans tow a slim line between life and death, between murder and choice. Think of this scenario. A young pregnant woman is walking along the sidewalk heading to a clinic. Almost there she is mugged and severely beaten. Although taken to the hospital, both she and her unborn child die. The ones responsible are caught and tried for double homicide. It is a worthy consequence, befitting the crime. Now, that same young pregnant woman is walking along the sidewalk heading to a clinic. The muggers approach, but just then a police cruiser passes by which deters them. The young woman makes it safely to the clinic, where her doctor performs an abortion. She then leaves the hospital minus one. There are no arrests; there is no trial, only a woman who has made the choice to relieve herself of her problems and responsibilities, right? Norma doesn't think so. In an interview with Father Frank Pavone in 1997 Norma stated, "What I have to say to those young people [who think that abortion is a choice] is that we live in a society today where these children can be wanted children. And even if you don't want to keep this child, after you've had it, there are plenty of young couples out there; there are plenty of young couples everywhere that want children. And, it's not your body; it's not your choice, because you got that from God. He gave that to you and He gave that to you from your Mama and your Daddy." Norma did not go looking for an abortion. In fact, "The adoption attorney that was handling the adoption case for my baby told me of these attorneys. They were Sarah Weddington and Linda Coffey. They were trying to overcome the Texas statute on abortion," stated Norma in the same interview when asked if she approached her lawyers herself. She stated that she was not looking to overturn the law, and when asked about her view toward the pro-life movement of the time she stated, "Well, Father I really didn't know of... I didn't know that there were two sides to the abortion issue. I didn't attend any of the court proceedings." In this same interview Norma admits to being, "very politically naive at the time."

How then, can we, as informed, caring and compassionate people, be OK with acknowledging the fetus in the womb as a child, a person worthy of respect in one instance, but not in another (as with the pregnant woman example)? Is human life so inconsequential to us that we can toss issues like life and death around haphazardly or sling words like choice and women's freedom around to defend that killing is OK.

In the courts there is the concept of reasonable doubt, a concept that keeps American citizens out of jail, if there is even a remote possibility they are innocent. After all, Americans have the right to Life, Liberty and the Pursuit of Happiness, and are guaranteed those rights unless proven undoubtedly guilty. Yes, the system can be flawed at times, but as a whole, the guilty go to jail and the innocent go free. Why then are we so willing to make a life and death decision on an issue that no one can agree upon? To this day all around the world the question is still asked, "When does life begin?" Does it begin at birth? When the brain begins functioning or the heart starts beating? (61% of Americans

Debates continues over property tax relief

By Ed Howard
Statehouse Correspondent
The Nebraska Press Association

Gov. Dave Heineman wants to maintain the modicum of property tax relief provided by a $230 million program that took effect last year.

In his recent State of the State and budget speech, Heineman delivered a message comparable in its theme to those being offered by governors around the country to lawmakers and the public.

"Clearly, we are heading into an uncertain economic future," he said.

One can almost hear the collective reply from legions of Nebraskans: "Tell me about it!"

The current property tax system provides an exemption of about $86 on each $100,000 of taxable value on land. The more land, and/or the greater the value of the home or other property, the greater the relief.

Property tax relief in Nebraska mostly consists of the state sending money to cities and towns in hopes to slow the growth of increased property tax burdens.

"Failing to fund this program would be a property tax increase on every home owner in Nebraska," Heineman said. "In an economic downturn, increasing property taxes on middle class families, seniors living on fixed incomes, small businesses and farmers and ranchers is unacceptable."

That it would be unacceptable to the folks the governor mentioned is undoubtedly true. For that matter, it would probably be unacceptable to rich people, too. The difference being that rich people might complain, while the other people referenced by the governor would be more likely to emit something like a squeal.

An interesting question: Will

Sen. Tom White of Omaha see his proposal to rewrite the system, in order to heavily favor homeowners, gain very much traction?

The view from here: If White's notion were put to a statewide, popular vote, there is at least the possibility that it would win big.

That is White's view, too.

The plan is virtually doomed in the Legislature, however, since businesses and large landowners would fight it since ... they aren't stupid. Homeowners might influence the outcome of the battle if there were a groundswell of support, for White's proposal made manifest through public pressure on the Legislature. Such a development is about as likely as a president of the United States presenting the Medal of Freedom to the leader of Hamas.

White wants to see the change funded by tapping into a portion of the state's $560 million cash reserve.

Attorney General Jon Bruning says lawmakers were wrong when they thought cities and towns were given authority to override state law allowing qualified Nebraskans to carry concealed firearms.

His official opinion set some communities on their ear, since they had adopted ordinances barring concealed firearms within their borders, regardless of whether the person packing was licensed by the state.

Bruning hopes the communities involved will repeal their ordinances, which he says are plainly unconstitutional.

If that doesn't happen, chances are that the question will ultimately be resolved by the Nebraska Supreme Court. Bruning said he would like to avoid the costs involved in such a test.

Looking Ahead in Wayne

City Council meeting

The next regular City Council meeting will be held Tuesday, Feb. 3 at 5:30 p.m. in the council room.

Financial Review of City Last Night

Each year the mayor schedules a financial review with the city's bond agent before the annual mayor and council retreat. We do financial review to assess the debt status and financial trends before updating the city's strategic plan.

The mayor and council have had three primary goals since I came here in 2000:

- Slowly and steadily reduce the city's property tax mill levy which has dropped from in 67 mills in 1983, to 52 mills in 2001, to 46 mills in 2008.

- Continue to provide basic services and maintaining cash reserves for emergencies.

- Look for ways to grow school enrollment by increasing businesses and job opportunities and making Wayne place to live that attracts our kids and makes others want to move here.

The financial review last night showed the mayor and council are still on track with debt reduction and reducing operating costs.

Our next big challenge is to find a way to afford a new or upgraded waste water plant by August 2011.

Q125 Celebration Starts on Monday, Feb. 2 in the City Auditorium at 7 p.m.

Don't forget to come to the cake and coffee birthday party at the city auditorium to start off the 125th celebration events for 2009. Communities that get together to talk and observe their trials and successes thrive.

Q125 Celebration Band Concert Thursday, Feb. 12 at the school at 7 p.m.

Before iPods and CDs, when Wayne County settlers had to make their own music, a musical instrument was precious and community bands were an entertainment connection to a previous life and folks back home. These kids are pretty good so come and have a good time.

Applications to be offered for Girls State program

Roy Reed Unit No. 252, American Legion Auxiliary in Winside will soon have letters and applications mailed to the Winside Public School Junior Class female members' parents introducing both the parents and their child to the Cornhusker Girls State Program. Cornhusker Girls State will be held on the city campus of the University of Nebraska-Lincoln from May 31 - June 6. An estimated 430 soon-to-be high school seniors will be selected by their local American Legion Auxiliary Units for this week of learning about their city, county and state government.

The objective of Girls State is to educate the participants about the duties, privileges, rights and responsibilities in a democracy so they will return to their communities as better citizens. Delegates will have achieved a greater understanding of how the government functions, both on the municipal and state levels.

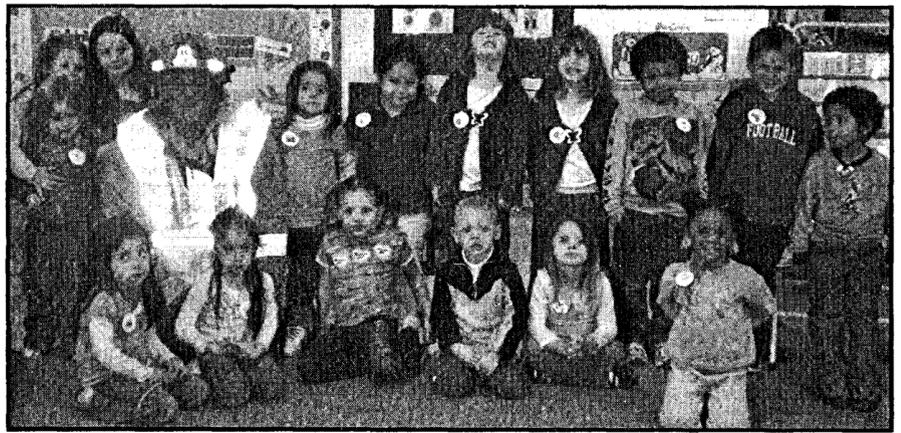

The week-long program will be filled with activities designed to provide a participatory learning experience. Elections are held to fill city, county and state positions. Delegates are divided into two mythical political parties. Activities include campaigning, party conventions, debating and voting. The highlight of the week is a visit to the State Capitol for the inauguration ceremony as well as visiting the city, county or state office that coincides with the position to which delegates are elected or appointed. Additional activities include sessions of the Girls State Legislature, District Court and Supreme Court. Plus guest speakers from across the State will speak to the delegates relating their relationship with the Girls State program as citizens and how their career goals were molded through participation in the Girls State program.

Participants look forward to the joint session with Boys State and address by the Governor of the State of Nebraska, the selection of Girls Nation Senators, a barbecue and graduation ceremonies where they transform from a Delegate to a Girls State Citizen.

Girls State is a unique citizenship-training program that will result in delegates becoming more involved citizens in the future, aware of our unique form of government and its impact on individuals and what makes our country great.

Parents of Junior Class female members please ensure that you and your student study the materials sent to your home, encourage their participation and they too may be able to say with pride "Cornhusker Girls State is a turning point in my life." For more information you may access the program through our website www.cornhuskergirlsstate.org

The American Legion Auxiliary pays the $230 fee.

Two Wayne State College students earn Nebraska Press Women scholarships

Two Wayne State College journalism majors have been named recipients of scholarships from Nebraska Press Women, according to Dr. Ruth Brown, NPW president.

The two, Skylar Osovski from Nebraska City and Sarah Thomsen of Wahoo, have been awarded the NPW Memorial Scholarship and the NPW Excellence in Media Scholarship, respectively. The scholarships will be applied to the spring semester.

Osovski, a mass communications journalism major at Wayne State College, is editor-in-chief for The Wayne Stater student newspaper. As a freshman, she served as assistant sports editor. In addition, she assists with broadcasting football, volleyball and basketball games on the campus radio station, 91.9 The Cat. Her work with The Wayne Stater has earned her awards from the Nebraska Press Association, as well as $2,000 NPA scholarship in April 2008 as one of two students awarded during the press association convention in Lincoln.

"Skylar has uncanny foresight and maturity for a college sophomore," said Dr. Max McElwain, WSC associate professor in the Department of Communication Arts.

Thomsen is also on The Wayne Stater staff. She serves as copy editor. She reviews and edits articles written by other students.

Thomsen has consistently earned a place on the Deans' List while twice earning all-conference honors as a track-and-field athlete. She covers and participates in the Wildcat men and women's track-and-field teams. "As the newspaper faculty adviser, and a former sports journalist, I normally would refrain from permitting a student to cover a team on which she is a member," McElwain said. "But Sarah is so conscientious and capable that she has succeeded in proving that policy a myth."

The two WSC students were selected from among a competitive group of applicants from private and public colleges and universities. The NPW Scholarship Committee selected the scholarship recipients. Members of the committee included Glennis Nagel, scholarship chair and director of Media Communications at the University of Nebraska at Kearney; Lori Potter, agriculture reporter for The Kearney Hub; and Jan Thompson, a lecturer in the UNK Department of English, and former arts and entertainment reporter for The Kearney Hub.

NPW annually awards two scholarships to upperclass or graduate women students entering the communications field. The scholarships are awarded competitively based on the students' professional and academic accomplishments.

NPW is a non-profit, statewide organization of Nebraska communications professionals. NPW is affiliated with the National Federation of Press Women.

FINANCIAL FOCUS

Protecting the most important assets of a small business

As jobs are being trimmed at large corporations, more Americans than ever have taken the plunge and are starting their own businesses. Most who own a business can tell you that being the boss entails a big "to-do" list and making sure the business and key players in it are properly insured can easily be forgotten. But for most up-and-coming businesses, owners and employees are important assets: How harmful would it be to the business if anything happened to those individuals?

Business insurance is not a matter to be taken lightly. Nothing would be more disruptive to the potential success of an enterprise than to lose a primary contributor due to an unexpected death, extended illness or disability. Fortunately, there are steps that business owners can take to make sure protection is in place if such an event should occur.

Protecting key employees — The future viability of a business can be placed in serious jeopardy if a key person is lost permanently or for an extended period of time. Forward-thinking business owners should implement key person protection to help defray costs associated with losing or replacing that individual. Ideally, a business purchases a policy (life and/or disability insurance) on each key employee and is named as the owner and beneficiary of the policy. Keep in mind that the primary purpose for such a policy is not to benefit the employee whose life is covered but to protect the company.

Business continuation — In circumstances where multiple individuals own a company, it is crucial to have a buy-sell agreement in place, typically funded with life insurance. Such a policy outlines specific triggering events that would result in the buyout of one owner such as death, long-term disability or retirement. It gives surviving owners a way to purchase the interests of the owner who passed away, became disabled or retired from the firm. The goal is to make it financially feasible for remaining owners to pay for the buyout while providing a fair settlement for the interest being sold. Such an agreement is based on a current valuation of the company, so it is important that any buy-sell agreement be regularly updated.

Executive benefits — Additional benefits for owners and other key employees are available as well. Specifically, companies have the option of providing life and/or disability insurance for executives that go beyond what is made available to all employees. This includes funding personal life insurance for individuals. In

In this instance, the employee is the owner of the policy and can name his or her own beneficiaries. This kind of additional benefit for a key contributor can help a company retain top talent.

Another option in creating such a benefit is to use a "split dollar" approach. In this case, the company pays the premiums, but has an agreement with the covered employee to repay the premium to the company with interest. Those payments are made from life insurance proceeds if the employee dies or from the cash value if the individual's term with the company ends. The remaining proceeds go to the named beneficiaries such as family members.

Preserving wealth — If all goes well, a business can turn out to be the most valuable family asset. That is why business owners need to pay careful attention to issues surrounding the disposition of a company after they die. While a buy-sell agreement is a critical part of any separation strategy from a company, individual owners also need to consider how best to preserve their estate. Legal documents such as wills and trusts can take on added complexity. If the business has attained significant value, you may want to consider using life insurance to help protect the value of assets being passed on to heirs from estate tax liability.

One of the key advantages that life insurance offers is that it can be used on a selective basis to help protect the business and individual owners to enhance the overall compensation package of key employees. If you own or plan to start a business, consider adding a life insurance review to your "to do" list.

Re: Superintendent Search - District Needs Assessment

The Board of Education is working diligently to prepare for the charge of hiring a quality superintendent to replace Dr. Reinert. Hiring a superintendent is one of the most important endeavors a board must face; therefore, we will approach this task with fervent attention to each vital detail necessary to ensure a rewarding and successful search. It is our goal to hire a quality and competent administrator to continue to lead the district forward in the years to come.

As the board plans for the hire, we value and seek the input of patrons, parents, students, staff and administrators. The Nebraska Association of School Boards is assisting the board in the superintendent search, and has scheduled a visit to our community on Tuesday, February 3, 2009. (continued from page 9B) stated in 2004 that abortions should not be permitted after the fetal heartbeat has begun an event that occurs in the first month. Or maybe life begins at conception? No one knows for sure. There continues to be reasonable doubt as to whether the "blob of tissue" in the womb is really just a "blob of tissue."

One more analogy to leave you with: A couple living in a small house in a nice neighborhood get into a domestic dispute. Police are eventually called out and one of the partners is rushed to the hospital, where they die from injuries. Can the surviving partner be charged with murder? It was a private argument, with a private couple, in a private residence. Under the ninth and 14th amendments, a person's right to privacy is protected. Does this amendment then protect the murderers of family disputes, citing that it was a private matter and it was therefore their choice whether or not to simplify their life, to rid themselves of the responsibility of another life? Does privacy matter when life is at risk, whether in a private residence or a woman's womb?

Please come out this week and join in the activities being sponsored by WSC LIFESAVERS, if only to gain more information. Don't let the Supreme Court or the loudest voice in the media today color your perception of the facts. Find out for yourself where you stand and don't let passive acceptance influence your life story as it did for Norma.

Oppose FOCA

Dear Editor,

Recently in Parade magazine President Obama wrote a letter to his two daughters, Malia and Sasha, speaking of the responsibilities and joys of fatherhood, reciting his wish-list for America's children: schools worthy of them, the chance to go to college, good jobs with good pay and benefits, a cleaner, safer planet, the peaceful settlement of differences, all worthy objectives. He also states that he wants "every child to have the same chances to learn and dream and grow and thrive" that his daughters have had. But such a lofty sentiment is not evidenced in his proposed policies.

In a speech to the Planned Parenthood Public Affairs Conference on July 17, 2007, then-presidential candidate Obama promised abortion rights advocates: "The first thing I'd do as President is sign the Freedom of Choice Act", a proposed federal law to nullify all federal and state limitations on abortion. President Obama's signature will negate 24-hour waiting periods, informed consent and parental notification laws. By a single stroke of his pen, Obama will wipe out the federal ban against partial-birth abortion that the Supreme Court upheld.

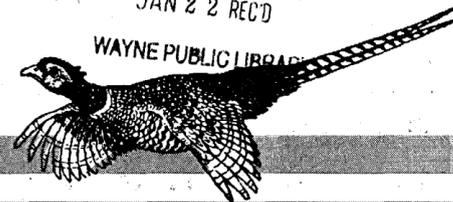

FOCA will require taxpayer funding both domestically and abroad. It will force hospitals with religious affiliations to offer abortions despite deeply held beliefs that abortion is morally wrong. Doctors and nurses will be forced to perform abortions or face the loss of their licenses. From a legal standpoint, FOCA will be America's low point concerning respect for human life.

When Congress convenes it is likely that this legislation will be introduced (S.1173 and H.R. 1964). It is extremely important to contact your senators and congressmen and voice your opinion regarding the "Freedom of Choice Act".

Most people agree that the number of abortions needs to be reduced. However, there is one thing absolutely everyone should be able to agree on: you can't reduce abortions by promoting abortion. We can't reduce abortions by invalidating the very laws that have been shown to reduce abortions, nor can we reduce abortions by insisting that every program supporting women in childbirth and child care must also support abortion.

The next four years are likely to see the greatest increases in abortion in our nation's history unless people who believe in the "sanctity of life" make their beliefs known to their representatives in Washington. Call or write them and tell them to oppose FOCA when it comes up for vote in the coming months.

New Year's resolution: Getting enough sleep

By Angela Abts,
Extension Educator

How are you doing on your new year resolutions? Most individuals have started to work on them to establish a behavioral change. Research has shown that will take eight to 10 weeks to change a behavior, so it is important to keep going. One behavioral change that most of us need to consider for our families would be getting adequate sleep, especially with youth.

School-aged children and adolescents need different amounts of sleep based on their developmental needs. School-aged children need an average of nine hours of sleep every night. Adolescents need as much as nine and a half hours of sleep each night, but they're getting less than seven and a half hours per night on average. Sleep patterns change in adolescence, making it harder for teens to fall asleep early and to wake up easily in time for school.

Researchers who study sleep behaviors have found that children who go to bed and get up at different times each day instead of at set hours often have trouble falling asleep at night. They believe that children should go to bed at the same time every night, including weekends, and get up at the same time every morning. They believe that by consistently sticking to a bedtime ritual, children will fall asleep easier and bedtime will be a more pleasant time.

There are several strategies for parents to establish a healthful lifestyle:

- Establish a bedtime routine with younger children by playing quiet games or reading stories one hour before bed, and encouraging teens to unwind earlier in the evening.

Eagles Auxiliary gathers Jan. 19

The Jan. 19 meeting of the Wayne Eagles Auxiliary was called to order by Madam President Jessica Olson.

Members were encouraged to mark their calendars for the following upcoming events:

The annual Eagle Smoker will be held Saturday, Feb. 14 from 6 p.m. to 1 a.m. Tickets can be purchased at the club or from any Eagle member. Anyone who would like to be on a committee or help with the smoker is asked to sign the sheet at the club. "Take your sweetheart out for an evening of entertainment."

Plans are underway to hold a Ladies Day Out. The tentative date will be sometime in March. All are asked to watch for further details.

The Aerie will have a Steak Fry on Saturday, Feb. 7 from 6 to 9 p.m. Anyone who is able to donate a salad or dessert is asked to do so, as this would be greatly appreciated.

All of the above events are open to the public.

Serving at the meeting was Jan Gamble. Serving at the Monday, Feb. 2 meeting will be Wendie Meyer.

- Eat breakfast. You will be more alert and perform better in class if you eat a good breakfast. Breakfast is the most important meal of the day since it has been eight to 12 hours since your last meal. Research shows that children who eat breakfast do better in school, are more creative, have better concentration in class, perform better on tests, and have fewer behavioral problems.

- Organize school outfits, pack lunches and back-packs, and discuss tomorrow's activities before going to bed.

- Parents can also role model these behaviors to ease the stress level in the home during the hectic busy morning routine.

- Be sure to include some form of physical activity into the daily schedule as a family (i.e. walking, riding bikes, etc.).

- Have healthy snack choices available after-school (fruits and vegetables with dip, cheese and crackers, etc.).

For more information on youth development needs, please contact the University of Nebraska-Lincoln in Dakota County Extension Office at (402) 987-2140 or visit the website at www.dakota.unl.edu

Briefly Speaking

Minerva Club holds first meeting of year
WAYNE - Minerva held the first meeting of the new year at the Wayne Senior Center with Hollis Frese as hostess. Thirteen members answered roll call by naming their favorite old time radio program. President Phyllis Rahn opened the meeting by telling of various upcoming activities to celebrate Wayne's 125th birthday. Minutes from November and December were read and approved. Donna Hansen gave the treasurer's report. Historian Hollis Frese read minutes from Dec. 3 and Dec. 17, 1928 and Jan. 7, 1929 minutes. It was interesting to note the annual meeting was held at the Hotel Stratton in Wayne with the gentlemen present. Communication was shared from the Christmas gift recipients, Blanche Nesladek, Norma Koeber and Phil Reese. Hollis Frese presented the program which focused on entertainment available around the time of 1884 when Wayne was a brand new town. Highlights were the fall festival in 1885 which turned into County Fair in 1925; the Savidge Brothers Circus; the Wayne Opera House and vaudeville. The next meeting will be Monday, Jan. 26 at the Wayne Senior Center with Hallie Sherry as hostess.

Acme Club meets at Tacos & More
AREA - Seven members attended the Acme Club meeting, which was hosted by Joann Temme at Tacos & More. Delores Utecht conducted the meeting. Joann Temme read the minutes of the previous meeting and gave the treasurer's report. There was no business conducted. Joann Temme gave a program on the poet James L. Riley. The next meeting will be Monday, Feb. 2 at the Wayne Senior Center.

Lydia Thomsen hosts Merry Mixers
AREA - The Merry Mixers Club met Jan. 6 at the Lydia Thomsen home. Roll call was answered by five members telling about an embarrassing moment in their life. The afternoon was spent playing pitch. The next meeting will be held Tuesday, Feb. 10 at the home of Gertrude Vahlkamp.

Soil and Water Conservation, Wildlife Program sign-up extended

The USDA Natural Resources Conservation Service is extending the cut-off date for conservation applications until Feb. 13 for two of its main programs, according to Steve Chick, NRCS State Conservationist.

"Most NRCS programs are already in a continual sign-up process, but on Feb. 13, we will rank the applications we have and begin to prepare contracts with producers," said Chick. "Contracts will be completed after the ranking; however this process may not be done in time before spring 2009 planting. Last October we had a cutoff thinking we would have the program rules from Washington shortly thereafter. We are still waiting for the rules so we wanted to give producers an added opportunity to apply. We will continue to take applications after that date and will fund those applications as money is available," he said.

The two programs with the extended deadline are the Environmental Quality Incentives Program and the Wildlife Habitat Incentives Program.

Last year in EQIP more than $29 million federal dollars in nearly 1,500 contracts were written in Nebraska. Terraces, fences, livestock watering tanks and pipelines to improve grazing, and low pressure irrigation systems to use less water are just some of the conservation practices applied. Assistance for animal manure systems is another growing request. "Landowners also contributed funds which show a high level of interest in protecting our natural resources," said Chick.

In the WHIP area for 2008, over $1.2 million was committed to wildlife habitat development practices.

There are several special initiatives in the EQIP funding. Some of those are: invasive species control in 11 natural resources districts, water quantity actions along Elm and Lodgepole Creeks, animal feeding operations statewide, NE Natural Legacy Project sites and water quality efforts in state identified locations. Producers should ask their local NRCS office for details if they are interested in these initiatives.

"There are other incentives like added cost share funds or 'up front money' for beginning farmers or ranchers (those generally in their first 10 years) and socially disadvantaged (ethnic) farmers or ranchers. People in these categories need to self-identify themselves during the application process," said Chick. In 2008, 76 beginning farmers received nearly $2.8 million in cost-share funds.

All these applications can become a long term contract, up to 10 years; however people need to know they will have to begin some of the conservation work in the first year. The contract is written and cost-share dollars are set at the time of contract signing. Inflation can work against you if you wait too long to install the practices, added Chick.

Producers wishing to update an existing application or make a new application are encouraged to contact the Natural Resources Conservation Service office in the USDA Service Center soon.

WINDSURFING AT WILLOW CREEK

Windbreaks around acreage, farm or ranch homes provide many benefits

Windbreaks around homes conserve energy, provide snow control, improve working and recreational conditions, enhance wildlife, provide visual screening and dust control, protect livestock, and can increase production of some crop and food products, according to Jim Brandle, Professor of Forestry with the University of NE-Lincoln and co-author of a recently published Extension circular "Windbreaks for Rural Living".

Well designed windbreaks can reduce home heating and cooling cost by 20 to 40 percent, depending on the site, climatic conditions, construction of the home and living habits, according to Brandle. Windbreaks reduce the force of the wind on the exterior surfaces of buildings thus reducing the amount of cold or hot air entering the home, he added.

Windbreaks can control drifting snow on driveways, service areas, and around buildings saving time and energy in having to move snow out of the way. Windbreaks can also make outside chores more tolerable. A moderately-dense windbreak can reduce a 20 mph wind to about 5 mph out to a distance of five times the height of the windbreak. "It can still be cold but working is more tolerable and less dangerous," said the forester.

In the summer, gardens planted in the sheltered zone of a windbreak can improve the yield and quality of fruits and vegetables by lowering damaging wind speeds and moderating the 'micro-climate' from the windbreak. Family barbecues or children playing outside are more comfortable behind the shelter of trees, added Brandle.

Trees can improve sound and air quality too. All the tree trunks, leaves, needles, twigs and smaller branches can deflect sound and dust particles that can carry odor. Plus these trees can provide desirable sounds like the rustling of leaves or singing birds.

"Planting trees doesn't necessarily mean a loss of potential income from the land. Walnut, oak, and pecan trees can be grown in many areas. Planting fruit trees or decorative woody florals on the downwind side can be harvested for the homeowner or resale. Windbreaks provide an excellent environment for a honey bee operation with pollinators for fruits and vegetables and honey for home use or sale," said Brandle. But Brandle cautioned that removal of wood products from a windbreak requires careful management to maintain the wind protection and he encouraged landowners to seek advice from a forester.

Free assistance on designing or planting a windbreak is available at any Natural Resources District or USDA Natural Resources Conservation Service office.

Office staff chosen for Legislative District 17

Senator-elect Robert "Bob" Giese recently announced the hiring of his office staff for the First Session of the 101st Nebraska Legislature. Giese, who served on the City Council and as Mayor of South Sioux City, was elected in November to represent Legislative District 17, which consists of Dakota, Wayne, and Dixon counties. Giese's legislative office in Lincoln will be managed by Trevor Fitzgerald, 26, of Omaha and Bri McLarty, 22, of San Antonio, Texas.

Fitzgerald, who will be serving as Giese's Legislative Assistant, is a native of rural Louisville, Neb. He earned a Bachelor of Arts Degree in Political Science from the University of Nebraska-Lincoln (UNL) in 2005, after which he earned a Juris Doctor from the Creighton University School of Law in May 2008. Trevor and his wife currently live in Omaha.

McLarty, who will be serving as Giese's Administrative Assistant, has strong ties to District 17. Her father is a native of South Sioux City, and her grandfather, William "Bill" McLarty, is a former South Sioux City Mayor and current Dakota County Commissioner. Bri earned a Bachelor of Arts Degree in Political Science from UNL in December 2008, and currently lives in Lincoln with her younger sister.

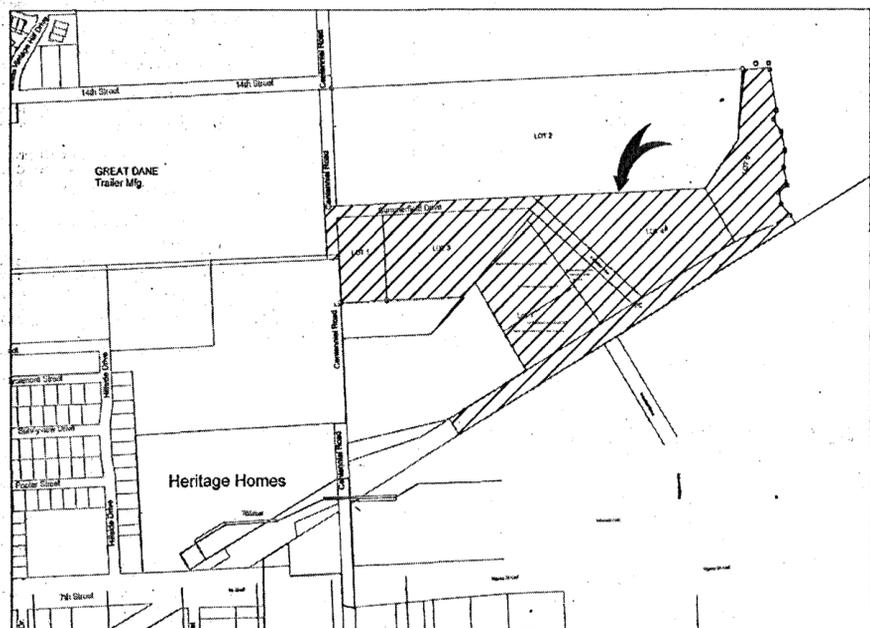

Giese said that he and his staff look forward to tackling the tough issues facing Nebraska during these difficult economic times. "Now more than ever, Nebraskans need the Legislature to hit the ground running, and they need to know that their representatives are listening to their concerns. With Trevor's legal background and Bri's ties to the district, I am confident that my office will be a strong advocate for District 17."

Face lift

Wayne Community Schools and First National Bank of Wayne

Partners in Education

We at First National Bank of Wayne care about the future of Wayne Community Schools. To do our part, we are going to donate $1.00 each quarter for every student in Grades 7-12 who make the Honor Roll during the 2008-2009 school year. At the end of the year, the money earned will be used toward the purchase of materials to enrich the academic program at their schools.

Below are the names of the students making the second quarter Honor Roll!!
