Leadership group travels to South Korea, China

By Clara Osten,
Of the Herald

Citing a desire to "think outside the box and know what is going on in the community, country and world," Andy Bose of Wayne became part of the Leadership Education/Action Development (LEAD) program in September of 2007.

As one of the culminating activities of the two-year program, Bose and 28 other members of LEAD XXVII traveled to South Korea and China on a two-week international study/travel seminar.

The group left Omaha on Jan. 10 and traveled to Tokyo and on to Seoul, South Korea on the first leg of the trip.

"In South Korea we visited the U.S. trade office and learned about the U.S. relationships with South Korea and trade of U.S. agricultural products, including beef, corn and soybeans. We visited the U.S. embassy and learned that the South Koreans, even after 50 years, are extremely grateful to the U.S. for our assistance to South Korea during the Korean War," Bose said.

The group also visited Incheon Port and a grain terminal where much of the imported grain arrives in the country.

After spending 2 1/2 days in South Korea, the group traveled to Beijing, China, which Bose noted was "very clean, due to the fact that the city just hosted the Olympic Games. While there we saw the 'Bird's Nest' and other facilities that were constructed for the Olympics."

During a visit to a John Deere factory, the group learned that an average tractor in China costs $6,500 to $7,500 and is very small by U.S. standards. In addition the tractors are 'very bare-boned and have no extras.'

Bose said that at the present time there is a huge migration of Chinese people from the rural areas, which are very poor, to the more populated areas where they are able to make more money.

To offset the migration, the government has begun reducing taxes in the rural areas and providing subsidies for equipment.

"The average farm in this part of China was one acre. The farmers live in the village and farm the surrounding areas. Crops raised vary, depending on the region and include rice in the middle and northern regions, cotton in the northwest and corn and wheat in the middle regions. There are also lots of greenhouses and fresh vegetables and food markets are everywhere," Bose said.

Bose noted that he saw lots of bikes and trikes, which are modified bicycles with basket-like devices on the back to transport goods. More and more cars are becoming part of the Chinese culture.

The group was also able to visit the U.S. embassy, the Great Wall and the Forbidden

City. From Beijing, the group traveled to Shanghai. Among the sites they visited there was the Case-New Holland factory, which Bose noted produced tractors and

Band directors to be honored at Winter Band Concert Feb. 12

There will be a Winter Band Concert on Thursday, Feb. 12 at 7:30 p.m. at Wayne High School. Two band directors will be honored: Don Schumacher and Ron Dalton, who were at Wayne High School before instructor Brad Weber came. The three directors combine for over 45 years of teaching band at Wayne High School.

Dalton will direct one of the band songs. Schumacher will not be able to attend due to declining health. Schumacher was the director from 1961 - 1969. Dalton started at Wayne at the Middle School in 1968 so he spent a year under Schumacher and Dalton was at WHS until 1986. Weber started in the fall of 1986 and has been at WHS since.

Dalton is directing a song with the combined Varsity/Cadet Band. Brent Ramsey the student teacher from Wayne State College, also will be directing a song with the combined Varsity/Cadet Band, Jazz Band II and Jazz Band I. When Ramsey is not directing he will be performing with the groups on Clarinet and Trombone.

Calkin will be playing tuba. His wife, Lauren Calkin, will be playing in the percussion section. The order of the concert on Feb. 12 is as follows: Jazz Band II, Jazz Band I and Combined Varsity/Cadet Band.

Mrs. Amy Jackson, Wayne art teacher, will have on display in the hallway an example of what the Q-125 Mural is going to look like.

Wayne State observing Christian Emphasis Week

Students, staff and faculty at Wayne State College will observe Christian Emphasis Week Feb. 9-13 with a number of activities.

The Cooperative Campus Ministry Group (an ecumenical group committed to proclaiming the gospel on Campus) is sponsoring these events during Christian Emphasis Week. This year's theme is "Hearts On Fire For Jesus" and will include a look at Strengths Based Leadership by Lisa Kelly, executive director of Leadership for Life. A prayer breakfast, Worship service, Improv Artist Matt Geiler, 24 hour prayer and much more.

"Each year we have these really cool events, and this year is exceeding all expectations. Student leaders are planning and implementing things all over Campus! This just shows how many WSC students have hearts that are on fire for Jesus," said Julia Shear, campus minister at the Welcome House and Chapel.

"Why is it so important to raise up

Christian leaders today?" Shear asks. "Well, one reason is that over 35,000 people die because of starvation, everyday." Countless others, she added, are thirsty, lonely, orphaned, or homeless. Their ultimate need is Jesus, but their immediate needs are what Christians should be concerned about. "Because we live in a world of hungry, lonely, thirsty, sad, and desperate people, as Christians we need to understand that to introduce them to Jesus means to meet their immediate needs first, which creates the opportunity to meet their need, for a relationship with Jesus," Shear said.

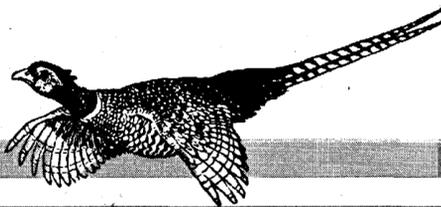

"It is about learning to be the hands and feet of Jesus at Wayne State and beyond," says Shear.

Events planned for the week are listed below and each of the Campus Ministries are involved regardless of location.

County commissioners hear update on pipeline project

By Lynn Sievers
Of the Herald

The Wayne County Board of Commissioners met in regular session on Tuesday. Jeff Raugh of the TransCanada Keystone Oil Pipeline project gave an update. He noted they are getting ready in May for construction of the pipeline through Nebraska. The pipeline will be located on the west side of Wayne County.

Raugh gave a little information on their company. TransCanada has been in business for more than 50 years. They have 36,500 miles of wholly owned pipeline in the U.S. with 4,800 miles of additional interest in pipeline and 18 power plants. The U.S. uses 21 million barrels of oil a day and Canada is supplying more and more of that oil.

He added that two of their pump stations that are being constructed are close by (Stanton and Hartington). He stated that 10-15 percent of their work force will be filled with workers from the area and will be union jobs. Work will be done in around 130 mile segments and there will be around 450 workers in that area. Midwest Constructors is the primary construction contractor. They will have two crews in Nebraska; Spread 4 B will run from Hutchinson, SD to mid-Colefax County and Spread B will run from mid-Colefax County into Kansas. In 2009, construction will be completed to Wood River and Pakota with pipeline in service by the end of '09. Over 1,000 miles of pipeline will be built this year.

Construction progress reports will be available county by county at www.transcanada.com/keystone. Raugh added that they will bore paved and improved gravel roads and will cut the rest.

Bud Neel, a Wayne County employee and a Veteran, gave an update on the Veterans Memorial project. He noted he would suggest to the committee that placement of the donor list be outside of the courthouse near the memorial so people can see it better.

Neel also discussed courthouse building and grounds concerns focusing on snow removal and the need for help in keeping the sidewalks clear. Commissioner Kelvin Wurdeman noted county road employees are busy with roads, especially this winter, so can't help on regular basis. Different methods of removal were discussed.

Jan Jorgensen of the RC&D gave an update on some of their recent projects. She also noted there were new people on the board: Gary McCoy, a Wayne County representative; Dennis Wacker, president and Carol Peters, program support assistant. She ended with the public is invited to attend their meetings. Their next meeting is Feb. 23 in Bloomfield at 5:30 p.m. with a wind farm presentation. Commissioner Dean Burbach made a motion to nominate Gary McCoy to the RC&D board of directors. Wurdeman seconded the motion that passed unanimously.

Elizabeth Carlson, Wayne County Highway Superintendent, reported she received a request from Qwest to place a utility line in a county road right of way at 854th Road (two miles south, one mile east and next mile south). Qwest plans to place the line in April or May. Wurdeman made a motion to grant the request. Burbach seconded the motion which passed unanimously.

In Wayne County Board of Equalization, Wayne County Assessor Joyce Reeg noted she received a request past deadline from the Independent Faith Baptist Church for a property tax exemption. There is a penalty of 10 percent of the taxes due or $100, which ever is less, for late requests so there is a charge of $41.26 to the church. Commissioner Jim Rabe made a motion to charge the penalty. Burbach seconded the motion which passed unanimously.

In the commissioners meeting, parking on the courthouse grounds was discussed. It was noted making some of the parking spots reserved for customers would be a good idea. The lawn sprinkler contract was discussed as well as removal of some trees on the courthouse grounds. Wurdeman noted to see quotes on tree removal, lawn sprinkler contract and lawn mowing. Burbach made a motion to get quotes. Wurdeman seconded the motion which passed unanimously.

A job description for contract cleaning was reviewed. Wurdeman reported visiting with several businesses and felt a job description was not necessary. After a lengthy discussion, motion by Wurdeman, seconded by Burbach that the full-time maintenance position include cleaning duties effective April 1. The motion passed unanimously. Bud Neel will be asked to continue in this position without a change in pay. The current cleaning contract will be allowed to expire on March 31.

Wurdeman made a motion to approve securities substitutions at Farmers State Bank and at First National Bank. Burbach seconded the motion which passed unanimously. Wurdeman made a motion to approve securities withdrawal from Winside State Bank. Burbach seconded the motion which passed unanimously.

EMC Insurance policy dividend of $8,043 was discussed. It was noted that amount could be used towards the next payment or taken in a check. Burbach made a motion to receive the amount in a check. Wurdeman seconded the motion which passed unanimously.

Burbach made a motion to accept bids for lawn spraying. Wurdeman seconded the motion which passed unanimously.

The personnel policy review was discussed. In an effort to be better managers, it was decided to have employees report time off to Burbach. Complaints, concerns, etc. will come to the board and each employee should provide monthly calendars to the board.

The next meeting of the Wayne County Board of Commissioners will be on Tuesday, Feb. 16 at 9 a.m. at the courthouse in Wayne.

Planning Commission recommends approval of redevelopment plan for the Windom Ridge LLC

By Lynn Sievers
Of the Herald

The Wayne Planning Commission met in regular session Monday night. Discussion was held on the redevelopment plan for Windom Ridge LLC. It was noted that this is the second time this has come before the Planning Commission (PC).

The PC had reviewed the redevelopment plan and confirmed that the area is blighted and substandard as defined in the Nebraska Community Development law. The PC finds that the redevelopment contract and redevelopment plan will help eliminate blight and substandard condition in the area affected by the plan. The PC again recommended the adoption and approval of the redevelopment plan to the city council.

Discussion was also held on Sec. 74-103 of the municipal code preliminary plat submittal checklist. Lou Benscoter of Benscoter Plumbing and Construction and a member of NOWWA (Nebraska On-site Waste Water Association) noted that anyone who installs a septic system has to be licensed. He added that a lot of people don't realize that.

It was noted that city officials aren't required to enforce state regulations but they do try to make people aware.

Commissioner Bill Kranz asked about underground injection wells which Benscoter noted are handled in a different area of the DEQ (Department Environmental Quality). Commissioner Mark Sorensen said in working in finances, realtors call asking about septic systems and if they have been checked out. Benscoter said it is up to the certified professional to do that. He wondered why inspecting septic systems couldn't be another line of compliance. Commissioner Lee Brogie was concerned with the language and fee per lot. Chair Sharon Braun noted city, county and state need to work together.

Benscoter added another problem is if an area can't handle waste water, then what? He noted some in some places, a wastewater permit is the first thing obtained. Brogie said she'd like to see the word submitted written into the application. Commissioner Pat Melena said it is not their responsibility to do that. Brogie said a completed form is their duty. Benscoter agreed with Melena, that people should contact a professional.

The next meeting of the Wayne Planning Commission will be on Monday, March 2 at 7 p.m. in the city council chambers with a public hearing on Sec. 74-103 of the municipal code preliminary plat submittal checklist on the agenda.

Kayla Hochstein, third from the left in the second row, was among the Doane College students who spent three weeks in Galveston doing clean-up work following Hurricane Ike.

Doane College students tackle hurricane clean-up

At the end of the first day of their three-week trip, a group of Doane students stand, beaming, around the back of a flatbed trailer.

In work gloves, sunglasses and shirts with rolled-up sleeves, they are the conquerors of a trailer-load of hurricane debris.

It's a small victory at a 2000-acre Texas state park that Hurricane Ike covered with 40-inches of water in 2008.

Any other year, the Doane group would have spent January completing a marine biology interterm course with the Marine Biology Department at Texas A&M University at Galveston.

But that was before Ike, which made landfall near Galveston as a Category 2 hurricane on Sept. 13, 2008. It will likely end up as the third costliest natural disaster in the U.S. behind Hurricanes Katrina and Andrew, according to the National Weather Service, and it closed the TAMUG campus.

So this January, the Doane group headed to Galveston for a service-learning project helping the Texas Parks and Wildlife Department clean-up Galveston Island State Park.

Among those involved with the clean-up project was Kayla Hochstein of Wayne, a 2006 graduate of Wayne High School and the daughter of Dale and Laura Hochstein.

Galveston Island State Park used to make more than $1 million in revenue each year from campers and visitors. Today, the park is closed and parts of its grounds will not open for five years.

The Doane students helped make sure the park could partially open in March, putting in roughly 600 hours of work; collecting more than 80 cubic yards of debris.

"They removed a huge amount and variety of debris, large and small in size, that was harmful to wildlife and the safety of the public using the park," said Dr. Russ Soucek, associate professor of biology, who led the Doane trip.

The students' pictures and blogs show just how much damage - and work - remains.

"The park looks normal from a distance, until one gets close enough to see the tons of debris still caught among trees and shrubs.

The beaches hold the skeleton frames of destroyed structures, from beach-front mansions to the Galveston Balinese Room, a 66-year nightclub that once extended 600 feet into the Gulf of Mexico.

They drove past the front steps to businesses that no longer exist, homes with blue-tarp roofs still waiting for repairs, and boats tossed far from water, sitting like wrecked cars on the sides of the road.

At the park, students restored an area by a salt water lake used for angler education, and cleared debris and hazards, such as damaged steps and walkways.

On free days, they visited the NASA Johnson Space Center, Oklahoma City National Memorial, Bush Presidential Museum and Library, a public aquarium and a marine fish hatchery.

Their work may seem small in the face of the damage, but it makes a big difference, even in morale, according to park police officer and project manager Hans Haglund. The Doane group saved valuable labor dollars that they can now use for other items the park still needs.

"Because of their willingness to give of their time we will be able to open a much cleaner, safer, and healthier park in March," Haglund said.

In addition to Hochstein, Doane students making the trip included Aaron Coufal of Bee, Ben Deaver of Brady, Larry Dostal of Papillion, Alicia Exstrom of Lincoln, Angie Frerking of Beatrice, Alicia Holdorf of Springfield, Clayton Kovanda of Milligan, Morgan Martin of Grand Island, Bret Schomer of Elkhorn and Katie Talbott of Olathe, Kan.

Doane College Faculty Advisor for the group was Russ Soucek.

The project was supported by a grant from the Midwest Consortium for Service-Learning in Higher Education.

Generous Friends

Members of the Friends of the Wayne Museum recently presented a check for $5,200 to the Wayne Historical Society. The money represents the proceeds from the annual Holiday Gala and raffle held late last year. It will be used for general upkeep for the museum. Involved in the presentation were, left to right, Joann Proett, Claudia Racely, Leon Meyer and Jan Magnuson.

Special events noted at Public Library in February

Three events are features with special book displays at the library during the month of February.

A special section in the Teen corner has been set up featuring "Everything Abraham Lincoln." This year, 2009, celebrates the 200th birthday of Lincoln. Along with biographical books about Lincoln there are recipes used by Mary Todd Lincoln to maps that will take you around Lincoln Land in Illinois to Civil War history featured in this area.

Black History month is also commemorated in a special section. Fiction, biography, DVD and CDs are available for patron use. Checkout the wide variety of selections honoring Black Americans. All items are available for checkout.

Library personnel will be wearing RED on Friday, Feb. 6 in recognition of American Heart

Month. A special display with educational materials from the Nebraska Office of Women's health has been set up at the library. Staff has added a selection of books on women's health with recipe books, stress free living ideas, exercise and health tips. Patrons checking out this area will have the opportunity to register for prizes provided by the Women's Health Office.

In addition to the three special displays, a Basic Word Processing class will be held Thursday, Feb. 12, at 6:30 p.m. at the library. Call 375-3135 to register. We will be using Office 2007. The class is designed for the true beginner and introduces the average computer user to the basics of word processing. Students will learn about fonts, underlining, cutting and pasting, deleting and copying.

NSP carrier division responds to questions with town meetings

In response to confusion about federal safety regulations, the Nebraska State Patrol Carrier Enforcement Division will continue to hold town meetings to educate owners, truck drivers, and farmers who are affected by the regulations.

When troopers assigned to the Metropolitan Aggressive and Preventative Selective (MAPS) Team conduct surprise inspections in cities across the state, drivers often indicate they are not aware of the extent federal safety regulations apply to them. Officers often face the same reaction when they conduct compliance reviews (which involve audits of individual companies to ensure they are complying with regulations).

Because the goal of the Patrol is to encourage compliance, the agency is continuing to take a pro-active approach to ensure small companies and operators who are impacted by safety regulations understand the requirements.

The purpose of the town meetings is to provide information about Nebraska's safety regulations. The meetings should be attended by anyone who operates any of the following vehicles within the state of Nebraska (intrastate).

A pickup pulling a trailer (over 10,000 pounds combined weight or gross combination weight rating).
 A pickup or truck weighing over

- 10,000 pounds
- A pickup, trailer, truck or semi requiring a class A,B or C commercial drivers license
- Any motor vehicle transporting hazardous materials in a quantity that requires placards
- Any farm truck displaying farm plates and registered for more than 16 tons
- Any passenger carrying vehicle designation or used to transport 8 or more passenger, including driver, for compensation
- Any passenger carrying vehicle designed or used to transport 15 or more passengers, including driver, and not used to transport passengers for compensation.

The schedule for the Nebraska State Patrol Carrier Division Town Meetings is as follows:

Wayne: Monday, Feb. 23: 7-10 p.m. at Wayne State College Niobrara Room, 1111 Main Street
 Chadron: Tuesday, Feb. 24 from 7-10 p.m. at Best Western Motel, 1100 West 10th Street.

Ogallala: Wednesday, Feb. 25, 7-10 p.m. at Valentino's, 55 River Road, Ogallala.

Hastings: Thursday, Feb. 26, 7-10 p.m. at Quality Inn, 2205 Osborne Drive East.

Lincoln: Monday, March 2 from 7-10 p.m. at Lancaster County Event Center, Lancaster Room (east side of Event Center), 4100 N. 84th Street.

equipment similar to that of the John Deere plant they had earlier visited.

The next stop on the trip was Hangzhou where the LEAD group visited Zhejiang Agricultural University, a sister university to the University of Nebraska-Lincoln. There they visited with the Director of Ag Services and were able to spend the night in a dormitory.

A visit to a silk factory was among the highlights of this stop.

"China is a contrasting society - there are those that are very rich and many others live in poverty and dirt. The people are hard, diligent workers and value education. Much of what we take for granted here in the United States, they would love to have," Bose said.

He noted that China has a one child per family policy. It is modified in many of the rural areas and if a family has a girl as a first child, they are allowed to wait four years and have a second child.

Bose said that pollution in China is rampant and visibility is often one-half to one mile due to smog.

The next stop on the trip was at Xian, in east central China.

"This is a small village with very happy people. We did, however, visit a 300 head dairy. The owner has a very nice house, but just across the street is a dug-out home," Bose said.

The size of the dairy was unusual, as most dairies average three or four cows.

Highlights of this stop included the Terracotta Army. This is a recently discovered group of more than 7,000 life-size terra-cotta soldiers buried hundreds of years ago.

In Hong Kong the group learned that the city has 700,000 people per square mile and that the cost to buy a home is approximately $5,000 per square foot.

"Hong Kong is a very big, glamorous city. It is near a mountain range and very beautiful," Bose said.

Bose said that food, on the trip included lots of vegetables and lots of fish in areas closer to the ocean. He said, while he was happy to get back to Nebraska for a hamburger, "the Peking duck we had was excellent."

Bose, who is beginning his fourth year of cash grain farming north of Wayne and was involved for four years in the banking industry as an ag lender, said the trip has given him a broader appreciation of agriculture, politics, culture and society in general.

"This was a very eye-opening experience. We don't always realize how things affect you, especially from a political standpoint," Bose added.

Andy Bose, center, was often asked to have his picture taken because of his height. Above he poses in with two Korean women in a Seoul, South Korean Supermarket.

Street improvement plan approved

By Clara Osten
 Of the Herald

Routine matters were on Tuesday's agenda when the Wayne City Council met.

Public hearings were held on the city's one and six year street improvement plan and the annexation plan for the property known as the Kardell Industrial Park Subdivision.

Joel Hansen, with the Street Department, presented a list of street improvement projects to be completed in the coming years.

Hansen noted that each of the projects did not have to be completed, but a project had to be on the list to be completed. Projects could also be shifted to different years if the need arises or if funding becomes available.

Among those listed for 2009 are work on Summerfield Drive from Centennial Road eastward; mill and overlay of asphalt on a number of streets; the Lage Subdivision; Folk Street and pedestrian underpass on West Seventh Street.

Work on East 10th Street from Main Street to Windom Street has been scheduled for 2010. The project was earlier scheduled for 2008 but due to funding and the need to complete preliminary work, the project was delayed.

Following the public hearing, the council voted unanimously to approve the one and six year street improvement program.

A second public hearing involved the annexation plan for the Kardell Industrial Park Subdivision located east of Great Dane on Centennial Road.

City Administrator Lowell Johnson explained the plan for the annexation and costs associated with the project. Among those were paving costs and water and sewer lines. Discussion was held on when the assessments for the improvements should be assessed.

The council approved the ordinance that will allow for the annexation of the property on first reading. The ordinance will be read again at the council's next meeting.

Unanimous approval was given for a resolution approving the purchase of tax increment revenue bonds of the City of Wayne Community Development Agency for the Western Ridge Area.

As a Community Development Agency (CDA), the council authorized the CDA Chair to sign purchase agreements and closing documents for the sale of three lots in the Western Ridge Subdivision.

City Administrator Johnson presented a report on actions taken by the city during the Jan. 12 blizzard.

He told the council that the "city's system worked well." During the blizzard, the city's dispatch received more than 300 phone calls, many asking which roads were open to travel.

Johnson said that minor changes will be made in the city's policy to allow any building to be made available in time of an emergency and to allow other city officials to make the decision to do so in the event that the police chief and/or city administrator are unavailable.

During Tuesday's meeting, Wayne Mayor Lois Shelton read proclamations for the city's Q-125 celebration and National Wear Red Day on Feb. 6.

City Treasurer Nancy Bradengave

a report on the NIFA Conference she attended recently. She noted "there are still companies looking at locating in Nebraska" and communities need to be prepared to offer them the opportunity to come to Nebraska. She said statistics indicate Nebraska may not get hit as hard by the economic recession as other areas of the country.

The council will next meet in regular session on Tuesday, Feb. 17 at 5:30 p.m.

Second half heroics propel Wayne past West Point-Beemer

Blue Devils escape from Cadets 49-42

By Casey Schroeder

The Wayne Blue Devils extended their current win streak to three Friday night as they overcame a late fourth quarter West Point-Beemer rally to defeat the Cadets 49-42.

With the win over West Point, Wayne improved to 6-10, overall while the Cadets dropped to 5-10.

"I thought our kids played well in the first half. We were not the same team the second half until the final minutes of the game," said Wayne head coach Rocky Ruhl.

"West Point adjusted their defense in the second half and we didn't execute ours. I'm proud of the guys for not giving in and finding a way to comeback and win the game. When we really needed it they came through."

In the first quarter of action, Wayne jumped out to an early 7-0 lead over West Point following a 4-0 scoring run by Derek Poutre that was further complimented by a Ryan Pieper three-pointer at the 3:13 mark.

The Cadets narrowed the deficit to three at 7-4, but got no closer in the first quarter as Wayne's Tyler Schaefer scored an additional four points to give the Blue Devils a 11-4 advantage going into the second quarter.

With only seven points separating the two teams, Wayne increased the lead to 16 points, their largest of the night following a Zac Braun three-pointer with 8.0 seconds remaining in the quarter making it 30-14 going into halftime.

Following the intermission break West Point outscored Wayne 15-7 in the third quarter, getting as close as eight points at 37-29.

In the fourth quarter, after leading throughout much of the contest Wayne relinquished the lead to West Point following a 9-0 Cadet scoring run that left the Blue Devils trailing 38-37 with 4:25 remaining in the game.

The Cadets then pushed their lead to 42-39 with 2:20 to play in the half, but failed to preserve the win as Wayne rallied back to tie West Point at 42-42 following a Pieper three-pointer with 2:04 left in the half.

Wayne then used a Poutre put-back to regain the lead at 44-42 with just under one minute to play before Pieper and Jacob Zeiss secured the 49-42 win, with near perfect five of six shooting from the free throw line.

Wayne hit 17 of 34 shots from the field for 50 percent while going 6 of 17 from beyond the arc and 9 of 14 at the charity stripe.

West Point connected on 15 of 39 shots from the floor for 38.5 percent while going 4 of 17 from the three point line and 8 of 9 in free throw attempts.

The Blue Devils were led in scoring by Pieper with 12 points and Poutre who added 10.

Zeiss scored another nine points for the Blue Devils in the win and was followed by Schaefer with eight.

The Blue Devils held a 22-17 rebounding advantage over the Cadets while both teams finish with 13 turnovers.

Wayne will return to action on Friday, Feb. 6 when they return to Norfolk for the second round of the Mid-State Conference Tournament with tip-off scheduled for 7:45 p.m. at Norfolk Catholic.

Blue Devils cruise past Cadets 68-45

By Casey Schroeder

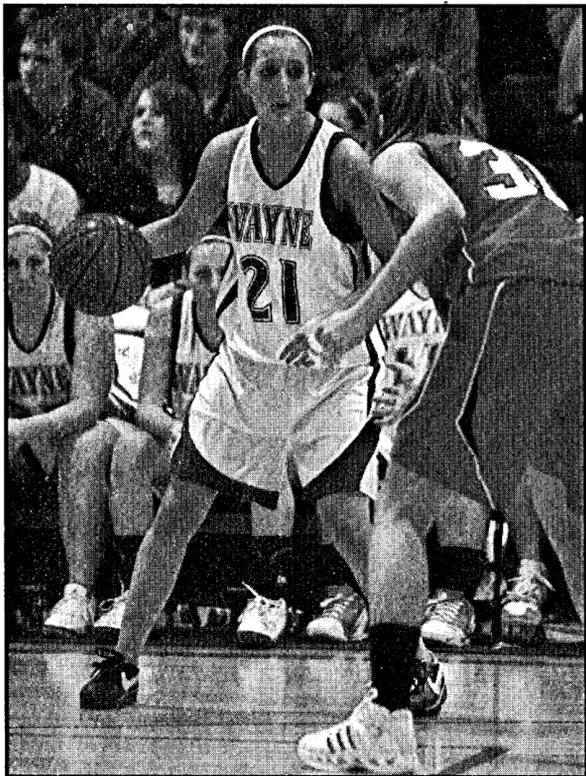

The Wayne Blue Devils outscored the visiting West Point-Beemer Cadets 37-22 in the second half en route to 68-45 win on Friday night in Wayne.

"We played very well against a quality opponent. Offensively, we were really in sync," said Wayne head coach Nate Wall.

The Blue Devils trailed only once throughout the entire contest at 2-0 with 7:14 remaining in the first quarter before pouring on 17 points to close out the first quarter with a 17-14 lead.

From that point on, it was all Wayne, as the Blue Devils added

Following the intermission break Wayne continued to pour it on, outscoring West Point 21-12 to take a 17 point lead of 52-35 into the fourth quarter.

The fourth quarter saw Wayne add another 16 points before settling for the 68-45 win.

Nicole Rauner scored a team-high 25 points in the win while Shannon Jarvi added eight.

Caitlin Fehringer and Jessica Calhoon had seven points apiece and were followed by Katie Hoskins with six points and 10 rebounds.

"Nicole was red hot and Jessica did an outstanding job of running our offense in her first career start," said Wall. "We are really playing our best ball of the year."

Additional scorers for Wayne included Alesha Finkey with five points and Kayla Grone who added four.

Wayne held a 33-22 rebounding advantage over the Cadets and finished with 16 turnovers to the Cadets' 20.

Stiff competition sees Winside claim fifth at Ainsworth Invite

By Lee Koch

Winside finished in fifth place at the Ainsworth Invitational Saturday behind Class C Nebraska Scholastic Wrestling Coaches Association (NSWCA) first-rated Central City and Class D third-rated Amherst along with perennial wrestling powers Sargent/Burwell and Burke/Gregory South Dakota.

"I felt we had a rather rough weekend out at Ainsworth. It is a good experience for the kids, but it also disrupts their sleep cycles and I always think that makes a difference on Saturday. But it is helpful in the long run at state," said Winside head coach Paul Sok.

"We had some good rounds and bad rounds on Saturday. Part of our difficulty lies with getting a large number of fourth seeds and having to go against the top seed in the semis. Overall we had a few slip ups but the majority of wrestlers placed that were needed. We just didn't finish in the right spots in a few cases."

Winside had no individual champions with Kalin Koch (140) being the only Wildcat to reach the gold medal match.

Koch lost to Class C second-rated Noah Brockmeier of Central City by pinfall in the championship match.

In the 171 pound weight class Wildcat teammates Jordan Nelson and Anthony Nelson faced each other in the consolation finals with Jordan winning an 8-7 decision to earn third place over Anthony.

Garet Hurlbert (189) finished third for the Wildcats while Ethan Thies (119), Kelby Prince (160) and Jared Brockmann (285) all earned fourth place medals.

"This was a good wakeup call for us at this time. I don't think most of the wrestlers were ready to go two to three hard matches and that showed up in the end," Sok said.

"There were some extremely tough weights at the tournament with a number of state rated teams in both Class C and D. When you throw in Gregory/Burke and Chamberlain from South Dakota that made the competition pretty stiff."

The Wildcats travel to Clearwater on Friday, Feb. 6 for their final competition prior to the District D-2 qualifying meet that will be held in Pender on Feb. 13-14.

Listed below are the team scores and individual results for the Ainsworth Invitational.

Wildcats and Trojans outpace short-handed Blue Devils 3-0

By Casey Schroeder

The Wayne High wrestling team closed out another busy week hosting both Parent's Night on Jan. 27 in a dual against Winside and a triangular on Jan. 29 against Hartington Cedar Catholic and Wakefield.

In Thursday night's triangular, the Blue Devils were forced to wrestle short-handed with the only wins being recorded by Logan Owens (135) and Riley McManus (152).

Both of Wayne's wins were recorded against Hartington C.C. as Owens pinned Josh Heikes in a time of 3:59 while McManus defeated Nick Uhing by pinfall in 1:22.

In the 140 pound weight class Wayne freshman Cglin Loberg went toe-to-toe with Hartington C.C.'s Brett Leise in a match that went down to the wire with Liese coming out on top by a score of 13-12 with a last second takedown.

However, in the end the Trojans proved to be too much for the Blue Devils as Hartington C.C. went on to record the 33-18 win.

In the second round of Thursday night's dual action Wayne faced Wakefield where the Trojans came out on top 54-18.

McManus capped off his night with another win by pinfall as he defeated Trojan wrestler Henry Greve in 1:20.

Drew Loberg (171) also collected a win by fall as he pinned Cody Henschke in a time of 2:39 while Owens received a win by forfeit in the 130 pound weight class.

Preceding Thursday night's triangular action, the Blue Devils hosted Winside on Tuesday night with the Wildcats earning a lopsided 57-9 win.

Of the six wrestlers who competed for the Blue Devils, only two recorded wins as McManus defeated Winside's Brad Doffin in a time of 1:44 while Roman Roberts (125) edged Peter Hansen 13-6.

Wayne will return to action on Saturday, Feb. 7 when they travel to Norfolk Catholic for the Mid-State Conference Wrestling Tournament.

Wayne State women drop NSIC contest to St. Cloud State 63-54

Boss lifts Wildcats past Golden Eagles 70-62

By Casey Schroeder

Wayne State College sophomore center Jodie Boss scored 16 of her career-high tying 22 points in the second half to guide the Wildcats past Concordia-St. Paul, 70-62 on Saturday evening in Wayne.

WSC improved to 11-9 overall and 8-5 in the Northern Sun Intercollegiate Conference (NSIC) with the win while the visiting Golden Bears dropped to 13-10 overall and 5-8 in league play.

"We executed offensively, probably the best that we have all year. It was a fun night in Rice, it was a good atmosphere," said WSC head coach Chris Kielsmeier.

"The fans were into it and I knew this team would be really fun to watch at home at some point. I was hoping that it would happen sooner or later as there's been times when we haven't given our fans a whole lot to cheer about and Saturday we did."

Concordia led for most of the first half, leading by as many as seven points before settling for a 32-30 advantage at halftime.

The Golden Bears extended the lead early in the second half and led by as many as eight points on two separate occasions.

However, the Wildcats managed to hang with the Golden Bears and took their first lead of the game at 56-55 with just under five minutes to play following a layup by Alisha Brown.

With the game deadlocked at 58-58 with just over three minutes remaining, Boss ignited a key run to give the Wildcats the lead as she hit a layup at the 2:15 mark and was fouled on the play where she later connected on the free throw to give WSC a 61-58 lead.

Boss then came up with a steal on the Golden Bears' next possession where Clare Duwelius connected with Boss on the layup to push the Wildcats' lead to five at 63-58 with 1:48 left in the game.

The Golden Bears got as close as three at 64-61, but the Wildcats held on for the 70-62 win.

WSC hit 22 of 60 shots in the game for 36.7 percent. The Wildcats were 8 of 14 from the three point line and connected on 18 of 24 attempts from the charity stripe for 75 percent.

"If we score 70 points we're undefeated. We haven't lost a game all year long when we score 70 points," Kielsmeier said.

"Obviously, our offense has been inconsistent even though we scored 70 points Saturday night. We did a lot of good things around that allowed us to score 70, because it just wasn't our offense."

CSP made 24 of 67 shots in the contest for 35.8 percent. The Golden Bears hit 9 of 28 three point attempts and went just 5 of 13 from the free throw line.

WSC held a 49-41 rebounding advantage over CSP while the Golden Bears had 12 turnovers compared to the Wildcats' 11.

Boss paved the way for WSC, adding a game-high 11 rebounds and five blocks to her 22 points.

"Jodie Boss played great down the stretch of the game and the entire night. But it wasn't just Jodie Boss," Kielsmeier said. "Her teammates did a great job of getting her shots that she could make and then she hit them."

Duwelius added 12 points and four assists while Ali Schwartzwald scored 10 points for the Wildcats.

For the Golden Bears, Candace Olstad scored a team-high 19 points and grabbed seven rebounds while Kali Olstad followed with 15.

Preceding Saturday night's win over Concordia-St. Paul, WSC opened the weekend with a 63-54 loss to St. Cloud State (17-2 10-2) on Friday night in Wayne.

"We can't lose sight that this is all new for them, not to mention that you got a young team to begin with," Kielsmeier said.

"At times I've forgotten that and I've tried to remind myself that every single day you've got a young team that doesn't understand your system, be patient with them and they'll come! and we've seen that. We've gotten better and we played well."

The Huskies led by as many as 15 in the first half and took a 39-26 lead into halftime.

SCSU hit 16 of 32 shots in the first half, while WSC managed to connect on just 11 of 29 shots (37.9 percent) in the opening half of play.

The Wildcats managed to hang with the Huskies throughout second half, getting as close as five on two separate occasions before falling 63-54.

SCSU hit 22 of 57 shots in the game for 38.6 percent. The Huskies made 17 of 26 from the free throw line while also going 2 of 6 from beyond the arc.

WSC made 21 of 64 shots on the evening for 32.8 percent. The Wildcats connected on 9 of 11 attempts from the free throw line, but made just 3 of 21 shots from three point range.

The Huskies held a 48-37 rebounding advantage in the game and had 18 turnovers compared to 13 for the Wildcats.

Rachel Booth led the way for SCSU with 18 points and 12 rebounds while Katie Tacheny and Talisha Barlow each added 12 points for the Huskies.

WSC was led in scoring by Laquisha Cook with a game-high 25 points followed by Mara Hjelle with 10.

Hjelle also grabbed a team-high eight rebounds while Boss added seven boards and five blocked shots in the loss.

WSC will return to action on Saturday, Feb. 7 when they visit Augustana College in Sioux Falls, S.D. for a 6 p.m. NSIC contest.

WSC men succumb to Concordia-St. Paul 81-74; fall to St. Cloud State 66-50

From one extreme to another Wildcats go 0-2 in weekend NSIC action

By Casey Schroeder

Despite shooting a season-high 64.4 percent from the field, Wayne State College still fell short as they were defeated by Concordia-St. Paul 81-74 on Saturday evening in Wayne.

The visiting Golden Bears upped their overall record to 9-11 overall and 7-6 in the Northern Sun Intercollegiate Conference (NSIC) while the Wildcats slid to 8-12 overall and 4-9 in league play.

"I thought we played hard, we played passionate and we did a great job of following our game plan and kind of took one of the best scorers in Craig Heiman essentially out of the ball game," said Wayne State head coach Rico Burkett.

"And we did have some breakdowns and mistakes, but when you turn it over 20 times and you shoot 77 percent in the second half, it really negates all the wonderful things you do from an offensive end because you just don't get enough shot opportunities."

The game saw five ties and two lead changes in the first half before the Golden Bears settled for a 35-33 halftime lead.

CSP built a nine point lead early in the second half at 49-40 with 15:49 to play, but WSC fired back with a 14-4 scoring run over the next 4:19 to take a one point advantage at 54-53 following a layup by Brett Spiker.

Moments later with WSC leading 60-59, CSP used a 10-1 run over the next 3:05 to regain control of the ball game at 69-61 with 6:11 to play.

The Wildcats got as close as two points at 73-71 on a free throw by Jonathon Thomas with 2:02 to play, but the Golden Bears preserved the lead by making eight of nine free throws down the stretch as CSP went on to pick up the 81-74 win.

"For the most part I thought the guys did a great job of rallying together and putting forth a great effort," Burkett said.

"But it all goes for nothing when we don't secure the little things and those little things for us tend to be big things for us."

Thomas led WSC in scoring with 22 points on 9 of 12 shooting from the floor.

Brian Metz finished with 14 points and 11 rebounds for his fifth double-double of the season while Brent Jackman added 13 points.

The Wildcats were 29 of 45 from the field for 64.4 percent, including 77.3 percent (17 of 22) in the second half. WSC was 5 of 9 from the three point line and 11 of 19 from the charity stripe.

For CSP, Sammy Ricks poured in a career-high 27 points on 10 of 13 shooting to pace the Golden Bears.

Mike Cunningham added 19 points as CSP shot 29 of 53 from the field for 54.7 percent, including 16 of 26 (61.5 percent) in the second half.

WSC held a 26-20 rebounding advantage as Metz hauled in 11 boards to lead the Wildcats while Cunningham had seven rebounds for the Golden Bears.

WSC had 20 turnovers compared to just 14 for CSP.

Prior to shooting a season-high 64.4 percent from the floor Saturday, WSC experienced another extreme Friday night as they gave up a season-high 24 turnovers in a 66-50 loss to St. Cloud State (13-6 8-4).

"The last four ball games we've averaged over 20 turnovers. Some of those games I felt were winnable games, but when you put yourself in a hole...it's just deflating and it really forces you to be perfect on the defensive end and not make mistakes," Burkett said.

"We haven't done a great job with our defensive rebounding of late and when you combine those two assets, especially with our ball club it's kind of been the recipe for our disaster."

SCSU used a scoring spurt late in the first half to take control of the game after the Huskies and Wildcats battled back and forth with six lead changes and one tie early in the game.

With the Huskies ahead 27-21 with 4:21 to play in the first half, SCSU used a 7-0 run to take a 34-21 lead into halftime.

The Wildcats never were closer than 13 points the rest of the night as the Huskies pulled away for the 66-50 win.

"In honesty I feel that we didn't play with a sense of urgency. I just thought we were really complacent and I didn't think St. Cloud by any means played their A-game. I just felt as if it were two teams just going through the motions," Burkett said.

"We played with them at times, but we never really posed a true run or a true threat of any significance in the second half of the ball game. I felt like the game was on a bit of a rollercoaster where neither team really wanted it or displayed a killer instinct to get back into the ball game or finish the other team off."

The lone double figure scorer for WSC was Metz with 12 points and 11 rebounds.

The Wildcats shot just 40 percent from the field, making 18 of 45 while also going 1 of 9 from beyond the arc and 13 of 20 at the free throw line.

SCSU had three players in double figures and were led by Andrew Bernstetter with 13 point and seven rebounds.

Taylor Witt added 12 points with Theo Rothstein scoring 10.

The Huskies hit just 23 of 59 shots from the field for 39 percent while going 6 of 18 from the three point line and 14 of 22 from the foul stripe.

WSC outrebounded SCSU 39-33 thanks to 11 boards by Metz while Bernstetter's seven caroms paced the Huskies.

The Wildcats had 24 turnovers in the game to just 12 for the Huskies.

The Wildcats will return to action on Saturday, Feb. 7 when they travel to Augustana College for a 8 p.m. league contest.

Wayne State softball to finish fifth in NSIC Preseason Coaches Poll

The Wayne State College softball team was selected to finish in fifth place in the 2009 Northern Sun Intercollegiate Conference (NSIC) Preseason Softball Coaches Poll released Jan. 29 by the league office in St. Paul, Minn.

The Wildcats received 128 points in voting conducted by league coaches.

Defending NSIC Tournament champion Winona State was picked to win the league title this season with 175 points and eight first-place votes followed by Minnesota State in second place with 165 points and three first-place votes.

Defending NSIC regular season champion Southwest Minnesota State was a close third with three first-place votes and 164 points.

Concordia-St. Paul (135 points) was fourth followed by Wayne State in fifth. Minnesota Duluth (127 points) was sixth followed by Augustana, St. Cloud State, Univ. of Mary and MSU Moorhead in the top 10. Upper Iowa, Northern State, Bemidji State and Minnesota, Crookston round out the NSIC preseason softball coaches poll.

Junior outfielder Amy Sandstrom and sophomore pitcher Katie Goetzinger were tabbed as players to watch for Wayne State in the NSIC this season.

Sandstrom, from Millard North, earned First Team All-NSIC honors last season while setting four new school records for the Wildcats after hitting a team-high .384 with four homers and 25 RBI's. She set new school records for at bats (177), hits (68), runs scored (43) and doubles (16).

Goetzinger, a graduate of Harlan, Iowa, was a First Team All-NSIC selection last season after posting a 23-14 record on the mound with a 2.52 ERA, striking out 142 batters. She set new school records for wins in a season (23), appearances (46) and innings pitched (236.1) while notching five shutouts, the second-most in a single season by a Wildcat pitcher.

The Wildcats finished the 2008 season with a 30-23 mark, just the third winning season in softball at WSC since 1992.

WSC went 12-6 in the NSIC to finish in third place and returns eight starters and nine letter winners for this season.

The Wildcats are scheduled to open the 2009 season February 20-22 at the NSIC/RMAC Cross-over Tournament in Colorado Springs, Colo.

Underdog Trojans knock-off powerhouse Bears 47-45

By Casey Schroeder

The Wakefield girl's basketball team picked up their biggest win to date last Thursday night as they outlasted the visiting Laurel-Concord Bears 47-45.

"Losses are difficult regardless of who you're playing, but last night's was difficult because we did some uncharacteristic things," said Bears head coach Nate Sims.

The Trojans led the Bears throughout much of the contest, leading by two points at 11-9 in the first quarter before closing out the half in control of a 23-18 advantage.

However, the Bears rallied back in the third quarter, outscoring the Trojans 12-9 while also cutting Wakefield's lead to just two points at 32-30.

With only two points separating the two teams, the fourth quarter proved to be another highly contested affair as both teams scored 15 points which was all the Trojans needed to preserve the 47-45 win.

"This was a real nice win for our girls," said Trojans' head coach Matt Brenn.

"We have had a tough go of it in the past week or so and to the girls' credit they have kept working and maintained a positive attitude."

Wakefield hit 17 of 50 shots from the field for 34.0 percent while going 2 of 7 from beyond the arc and 11 of 18 from the free throw line.

"Offensively we showed some patience and hit some shots," Brenn said.

"Defensively, we were aggressive, but smart and we also had a double digit rebounding advantage which helped in not allowing Laurel-Concord so many second chance baskets."

Laurel-Concord hit just 17 of 61 shots from the floor for 27.9 percent while going 5 of 20 from the three point line and 6 of 10 from the charity stripe.

The Trojans held a 39-33 rebounding advantage over the Bears while both teams had nine turnovers.

"They (Wakefield) did a nice job of protecting the basket and limiting our post touches," Sims said.

"We had a lot of good shots both inside and out that just didn't go in. We were close to a season-low shooting percentage."

Wakefield was led in scoring by Carly Gardner and Keri Lunz who finished with 13 points each while Jenna Henderson added 10.

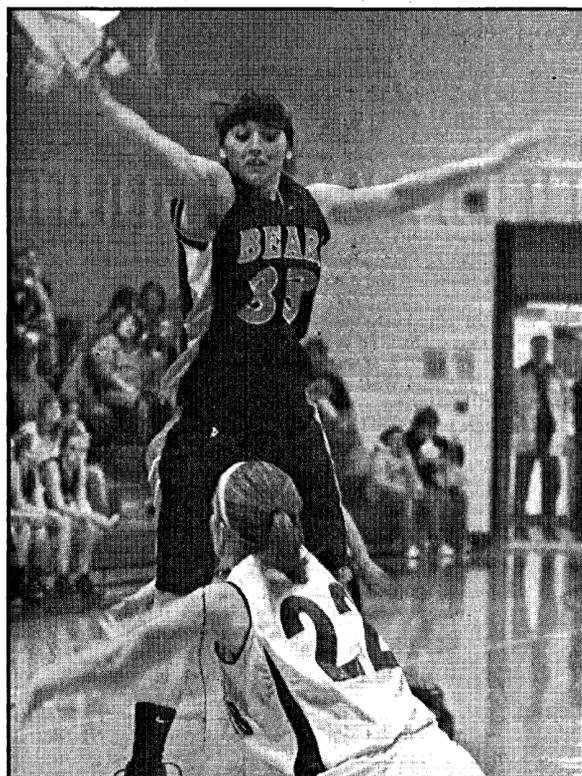

Other scorers for the Trojans included Libby Henschke with five points followed by C.J. Kay with four.

"I was really pleased with our scoring distribution during the game," Brenn said.

"I think being balanced doesn't allow an opponent to necessarily key on one girl and that helped us Thursday night and also in previous games this season."

For the Bears, Bethany DeLong scored a team-high 18 points while Kari Schroeder finished with 14 in the loss.

Katie Jacobsen scored another four points for Laurel-Concord and was followed by Mandy Nelson and Audrey Kastrop with three each.

Laurel-Concord's Bethany DeLong applies some unneeded pressure. DeLong had 18 points in the 47-45 loss.

Listed below is a box summary of the Laurel-Concord-Wakefield game.

Wayne State women claim three wins at Minnesota State Open

By Casey Schroeder

The Wayne State College indoor track and field teams competed at the Minnesota State Open in Mankato, Minn. on Jan. 30-31.

The Wildcat women's squad won three events and were led by Jade Lippman who set a new school record in the women's pentathlon while the men's team recorded five second place finishes in the meet.

"Overall, this meet was a big improvement from our marks and places a week ago," said WSC head coach Marlon Brink. "We need to keep building momentum for the next three weeks until the NSIC Championships."

Leading the way for the WSC women's team were event winners Misty Rystrom, Christina King and Sarah Thomsen.

Rystrom, won the high jump clearing 5' 3 1/4" while King finished first in the 600-yard run with a time of 1:37.98 followed by Thomsen who won the 5,000-meter run in a time of 18:54.22.

"I was happy with the progress that our athletes made in winning their respective events," Brink said. "Christina ran a good 600-meter run, but still can take more time off in that race by being more aggressive."

"Misty is very close to getting a provisional mark in the high jump. I think it will come very soon for her. Sarah had a personal best time in the 5,000-meter run by over 17 seconds which is a good improvement."

Lippman regained the school record in the pentathlon by placing fifth with 3,048, just edging the previous school record mark of 3,046 points set by Paige Pollard in December at the University of Nebraska-Kearney (UNK) Pre-Holiday Open. Pollard finished right behind Lippman in sixth place with 3,045 points.

"Jade and Paige both competed well in the pentathlon, but felt like they could have done better in a couple events," Brink said. "None of our athletes are at their peak yet, so they should continue to improve over the upcoming meets."

For the WSC men, senior hurdler Garrett Flamig took second place in the 60-meter hurdles with a time of 8.38 seconds while Jacob Mathiesen placed second in the weight throw with a mark of 53' 8 1/2".

Other Wildcats who finished second at the Minnesota State Open for the men's squad included Rashad Moxey in the triple jump (44' 11 3/4"), Ben Jansen in the 600-yard run (1:23.92) and John Kern in the 1,000-meter run (2:37.59).

"I felt like our men accomplished a lot...and competed very well with the Mankato athletes who are easily the top team in the NSIC. We have a fairly young team that is starting to become a more experienced team as the season rolls on," Brink added.

"Our seniors on the team are competing about where I would expect them to be at. The underclassmen are on the verge of some big breakthrough performances. So, I am optimistic that they will get to that point in the next few weeks."

WSC can next be seen in action on Thursday and Friday, Feb. 6-7 when they compete at the Bill Hill-Brand Open in Vermillion, S.D. at the Husker Invitational in Lincoln.

Bears sneak past Trojans 58-56 in overtime

By Casey Schroeder

The Laurel-Concord Bears won in stunning fashion last Thursday night in Wakefield, defeating the Trojans in overtime 57-53.

"It's always a good game when Laurel-Concord and Wakefield meet. I know that so we were ready for a close game and maybe some excitement," said Bears' head coach Shannon Benson.

"Wakefield is a great team and they shoot really well so we knew that we would have to execute very well to be able to win the game."

The Bears and Trojans went toe-toe throughout the entire contest with neither team having much of an advantage as Laurel-Concord closed out the first quarter leading Wakefield by only two points at 16-14.

The second quarter saw the Bears lead by as many as nine points at 23-14 with 5:16 remaining in the half following two successful free throw attempts by Laurel-Concord's Ezra Schantz.

However, the Trojans rallied back later in the quarter to narrow the deficit to just four points at 27-23 after an Alex Schultz score at the 1:57 mark.

The Bears then added another three points down the final stretch of the second quarter to take a seven-point 30-23 lead into the intermission break.

Wakefield rallied back throughout the third quarter getting as close as two points at 40-38 following a Chad Clay layup and successful free throw attempt, but failed to get any closer throughout the remainder of the period as Laurel-Concord used a Schantz free throw to take a 41-38 lead into the fourth quarter.

In the final quarter of play with the win being up for grabs, Wakefield tied Laurel-Concord at 51-51 after a Nixon three-pointer with 1:15 remaining on the clock.

On the ensuing possession a Tyler Bodlak foul sent Schantz to the free throw line where he reclaimed the lead (52-51) for the Bears by converting on one of two free throw attempts.

The Bears then added another free throw by Travis Nelson following a foul by Zach Blessing to increase their lead to 53-51, but the Trojans weren't done as a Schantz foul sent Jacob Blessing to the charity stripe, where he converted on both attempts to tie the game at 53-53 and send it into overtime.

"With the way Wakefield can shoot from the three point line they are never out of the game. They did a great job of getting the ball to their shooters with room to get a good shot off," Benson said.

"Our defense was good, Wakefield just does a great job of making you defend farther out than most."

After a rocky finish in the fourth quarter, Laurel-Concord put the relentless Trojans to bed by narrowly outscoring Wakefield 5-3 to earn the 58-56 win.

"I think the biggest disappointment was we got off to another slow start," said Wakefield head coach Mike Clay.

"We seem to dig ourselves a hole in the first half and make a run in the second half. That takes a lot of energy to get back in a game."

The Bears were led by Schantz who finished with a double-double as he had 28 points and 12 rebounds in the win.

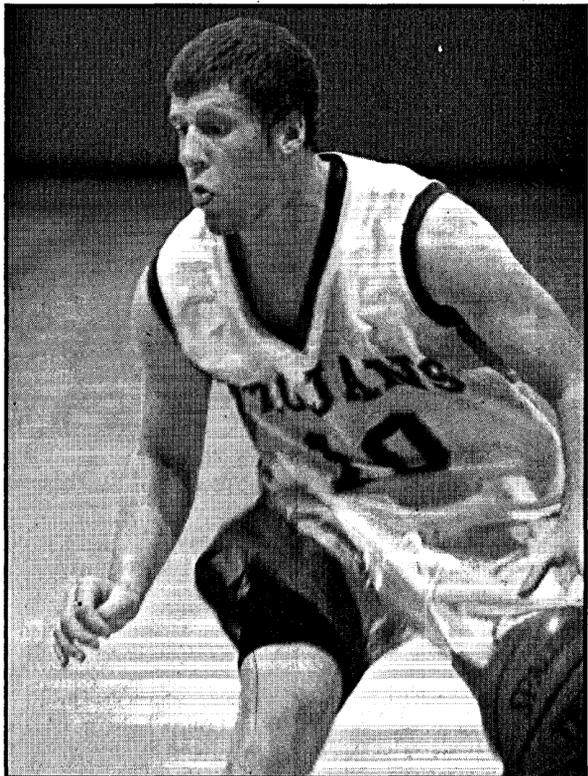

Additional high-scorers for the Bears included Kastrup with 10 points followed by Justin Hart with seven.

Nixon led the Trojans in scoring with a team-high 20 points followed by Chad Clay with 12.

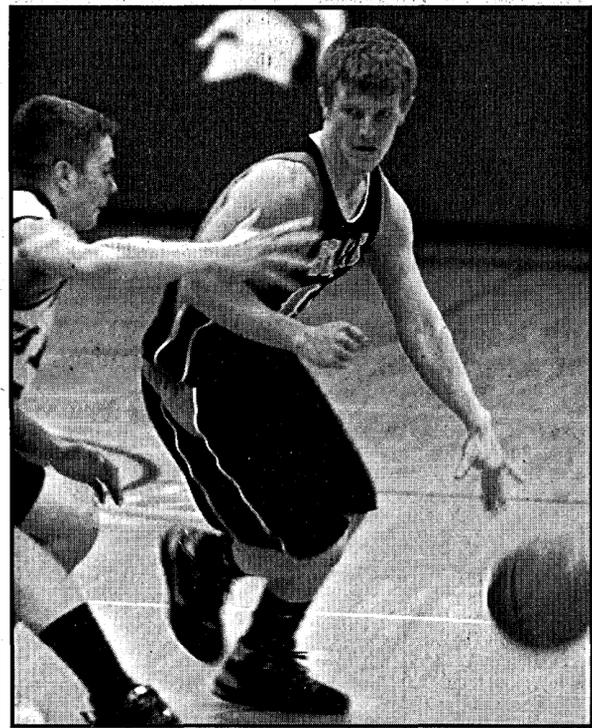

Jacob Blessing added another 10 points while Alex Schultz scored seven.

Listed below is a box summary of the Laurel-Concord-Wakefield game.

Diediker defeats Clark 11-0 to finish third at Plainview Invite

By Casey Schroeder

The Laurel-Concord wrestling team led by Arik Diediker traveled to Plainview last Saturday where they competed in the 17-team Plainview Invitational.

The Bears failed to place as a team, but had one individual medalist as Diediker earned third overall after compiling a tournament record of 4-1.

Diediker's first win of the day occurred in the first round where he defeated Brandon Moes of Osmond by pinfall in 1:14.

Diediker then went on to claim his second win of the day, defeating Dylan Bartling of Syracuse in the quarterfinals 8-3 before falling to Colton Harper of Arlington in the semi-finals 4-1.

Following what would be his only loss of the day, Diediker responded back in the consolation bracket with a pair of wins that included a 9-2 decision over Spencer Mitchell of West Point-Beemer and a 11-0 major decision over Plainview's Alex Clark.

"It makes for a rough day when starting with the top seeds. Diediker was the fourth seed and wrestled very well en route to a third place finish," said Bears' head coach Don Maxwell.

"Arik beat a tough kid from Syracuse in his quarterfinal match before falling in his semi-final match to Class C second-rated Colton Harper of Arlington in a close 4-1 decision. Diediker came back strong and avenged his first loss of the season to Alex Clark of Plainview by dominating him for an 11-0 major decision."

The Bears will return to action on Friday, Feb. 13 when they travel to Wisner-Pilger for C-2 Wrestling Districts.

Listed below are Laurel-Concord's results from the Plainview Invitational.

The other members of the Mustangs' winning distance medley relay team were Kara Nelson, Tessie Cook and Heather Hoefs.

Aside from her contributions on the Mustangs' distance medley relay team, Keitges also finished second in the 3,000-meter run in a time of 10:39.19.

Super Bowl Sunday?

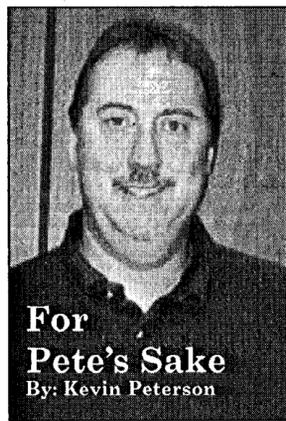

I'm not sure when it was but I'm guessing sometime around Thanksgiving is when my wife asked if I'd be interested in going to a Broadway performance at the Orpheum Theater in Omaha.

After all, it would be a chance for me to meet some of her cronies from where she works at the Nebraska Medical Center in Omaha.

I like musicals and I thought, what the heck, let's do it. As time passed through the Christmas and New Years holidays I started thinking about this musical and how pleased Shannon was that I was finally going to meet some of her work pals.

Finally in mid-January I asked her exactly the date of this performance...and then she told me. F-E-B-R-U-A-R-Y 1ST. Are you kidding me? Don't you know that is Super Bowl Sunday! What the heck was I thinking. Wait, I don't think I was thinking.

Well, no turning back now. I had already committed and of course the tickets were already purchased. I should have known something was amiss when she told me her friends were impressed that I was coming

For Pete's Sake
 By: Kevin Peterson

to Omaha. In my wife's defense however, she isn't a football fan so she had no idea it was Super Bowl Sunday from the Final Four.

So typically this one day of the year when the snacks are prepared hours in advance (the pregame of course is five hours long) and my cell phone rings continuously from fellow football fans about the big game, I'm unavailable.

In fact, you could have located me in the Grand Tier Section, Row C and seat 28 for the 127-minute Broadway production of CATS.

The show was good, her friends were very nice and I received just a few text messages during the performance. I won't share with you the exact contents of those texts because I'm still trying to figure out what some of it means.

The ride home was exciting because we ran into a stretch of blizzard like conditions. This day just keeps on getting better. My wife is getting numerous calls on her cell phone from the friends we had just seen the show with and they are wanting to know what I thought of the show. Now what's that all about?

Finally we reach the house and I rush to the television with my digital video recorder (DVR) for you electronically challenged folks and I hit the start over button. I begin watching the Super Bowl and fast-forwarding between each play.

I got to the end and I got to watch the game's final 23 seconds live. What a great country.

Thanks for coming to the party

Dear Editor,
On behalf of the Wayne Community Q-125 Committee, I thank all the wonderful people who joined our Q-125 Birthday Celebration at the City Auditorium on Monday evening.

A very special thanks goes out from the committee to all the gracious and helping people and organizations who baked birthday cakes for the celebration - you really helped make the celebration a success and we had many more cakes than we needed, so we took the liberty to sell some of the cakes and on Tuesday morning, we took the remaining cakes to a number of places in town, including the Senior Center, our nursing homes and to the various schools in the community.

It takes many people to make a celebration like our birthday party a success and these people include the city workers who set up the auditorium and tore it down after the celebration, the city administration and Council who are always so gracious in offering their assistance; Pac 'N' Save and the Coffee Shoppe, who contributed the utensils and paper supplies for the party; the Wayne Greenhouse who contributed the table skirts and decorations; the Wayne Herald and KTCH who provided us great publicity and support in our advertising efforts; Mayor Lois for her contribution of coffee and her leadership in making this activity a success.

Thanks also to Amy Jackson and her art students in the Wayne School District; Jane O'Leary who lead the singing and provided leadership for this party; Post Master Frank Sheda for providing logo stamp cancellation; the Q-125 Committee which has been planning and working since last June to help Wayne have a successful birthday party and all the volunteers who joined us to make the night very special.

So many people stepped forward to make this work and if I missed mentioning you, I apologize and ask you to remind me so that I can personally thank you for your efforts and contribution.

Very sincerely yours,
Tony Kochenash, Chair,
Wayne Community Q-125 Committee

Excellent care received

Dear Residents of Wayne,

Do you realize how fortunate we are to have such a wonderful team of doctors and nurses right here in Wayne, America?

I spent six days over Christmas in the hospital - not exactly where I wanted to be, but the staff jumped in and gave us a room for my family and me to have Christmas.

It's been a while since I have spent time in the Wayne Hospital. I had forgotten how well you are treated - the care and concern was amazing. Dr. Martin wasted no time sending me on to Sioux City for surgery. My trust in him is why he has been my doctor for so many years.

I just needed to remind you all how lucky we are to have Providence Medical Center and our great team of doctors right here among us!

Analyzing governors' speeches

By Ed Howard
Statehouse Correspondent
The Nebraska Press Association

By way of keeping up with what's going on around the country, as well as acknowledging that life isn't too exciting around the home-stand, I have perused the Internet and had a gander at the state of the state speeches offered by some of the nation's governors.

This year, one might surmise that each governor, regardless of political party, attended the same "how to" seminar on presenting such messages to legislatures and constituents at a time when the economy is circling the drain.

It seems a lot of governors wrote their speeches based on the same outline. It goes this way:

Quickly acknowledge tough times, but proudly boast of the state being populated by tough people, in the context of the pioneer spirit. The old "We did it before, and we can do it again!" sort of thing. Do not take a drink of water at this point. It gives the impression that even you are having a hard time swallowing that idea.

Assert that, while times have been tough, your administration has nonetheless done good things, and tried to do even more. Recite as diverse a list as your staff can assemble, since you want every interest group to feel like they got something from you in the past.

If state and/or local taxes have been on the increase, acknowledge it, but quickly add that it was for a good purpose and, by golly, it would have been worse if not for you! If you opposed the tax increases, do unto your political opposition as they would do unto you - scapegoat the suckers mercilessly, but add that "this is no time for pointing fingers."

Follow the above by asserting that, while frugality with the public purse is a constant virtue, even more frugality is required in the current economic climate. This is where you begin to describe the upcoming nightmare. Use multisyllabic words, phrases popular with economists and accountants. Avoid the candor of the vernacular, especially rhetorical questions such as: "Boy, ain't this a helluva trainwreck?"

Announce what agencies and programs will get fewer dollars. However, follow each proposed budget cut with: "By increasing efficiency, avoiding duplication, combining resources and redoubling our efforts, we can accomplish these savings while still meeting the legitimate needs of our citizens." (At the post-speech news conference, avoid getting into how "legitimate needs" are determined.)

Finally: Propose overhauling something. Like the entire social services system, or the education system. An overhaul so great that it might strike some as an undertaking of great import, one that represents a move to shake things up in response to hard times.

Ohio Gov. Ted Strickland probably set the standard for the latter.

He proposed revising the Buckeye state's education system so thoroughly and drastically that, the guess is, it would cost a zillion or so dollars to get it in place, before it could begin delivering the promised efficiencies and improvements in delivering education.

Strickland and governors in other states where unions wield some power can rely on another advantage. If they propose something with unfathomable cost, which is also guaranteed to draw all-out resistance from labor, they can use their proposal as a rallying cry, billing it as the cure for countless ills - if it weren't for the other guys.

The moral: If you never have to prove something is true, it doesn't cost anything to say it's true. And that, fellow citizens, is a lesson that virtually every politician has learned.

And everyone else should, too.

Looking Ahead in Wayne

By Lowell Johnson,
City Administrator

Council Retreat

The annual Mayor and Council Strategic Planning Retreat will be held at 5:30 p.m. Saturday, Feb. 6 and 8:30 a.m. Saturday, Feb. 7 in the city council room at Third and Pearl Street.

Council meeting

The next Regular City Council Meeting will be held Tuesday, Feb. 17 at 5:30 p.m. in the council room.

Jobs

The city council is annexing most of the Kardell Industrial Park area to provide water, sewer and streets for future business development. It is a slow, risky and expensive process to convert bare land to lots for industrial growth.

Why would Wayne Industries members and elected officials do this hassle, have more and longer meetings, and take the risk to do this with no apparent benefit to themselves? The long 40 year history of success of the partnership between Wayne Industries, Wayne County and the City of Wayne has been one of carefully deliberated development and risk taking that has led to jobs and population stability.

Somebody has to make a profit for others to have jobs. In the world market there is no "standing still" - there is only "falling behind" or "moving ahead".

Band Concert

AQ125 Celebration Band Concert will be held Thursday, Feb. 12 at the school at 7:30 p.m.

Weekly Legislative Update

Greetings from the Unicameral! In the early months of the session, the afternoons are filled with committee hearings. Each and every bill proposed during bill introduction must have a public hearing, during which ordinary citizens are entitled to voice their opinions on the bill's merits.

My Mondays and Tuesdays are

Legislative Update
By: State Senator
Bob Giese, District #17

spent in the Education Committee, while Wednesdays, Thursdays and Fridays I am in the Government, Military and Veterans Affairs Committee. A complete list of the bills that have been scheduled for a hearing is available on the Legislature's website, www.nebraskalegislature.gov, and I would encourage District 17 residents to contact me regarding any bills which have hearings coming up.

My office is close to several hearing rooms, so please feel free to stop in and meet my staff if you plan on visiting the Capitol during committee hearings.

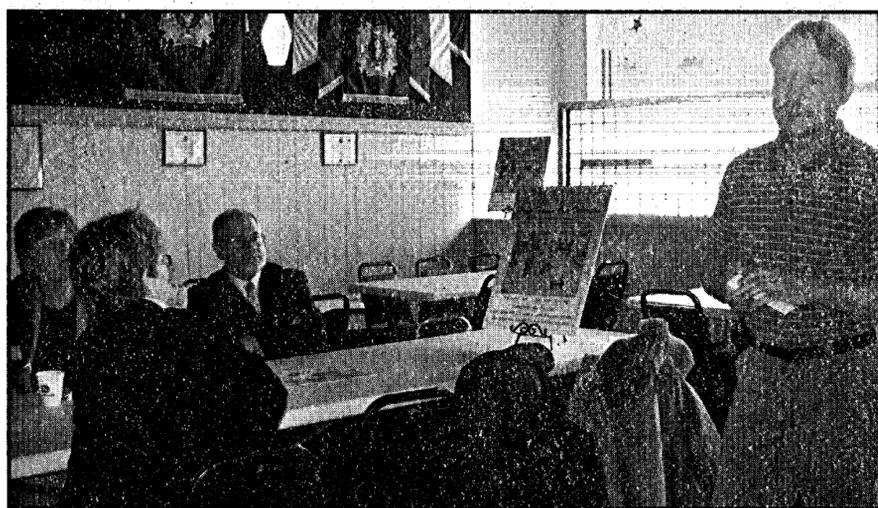

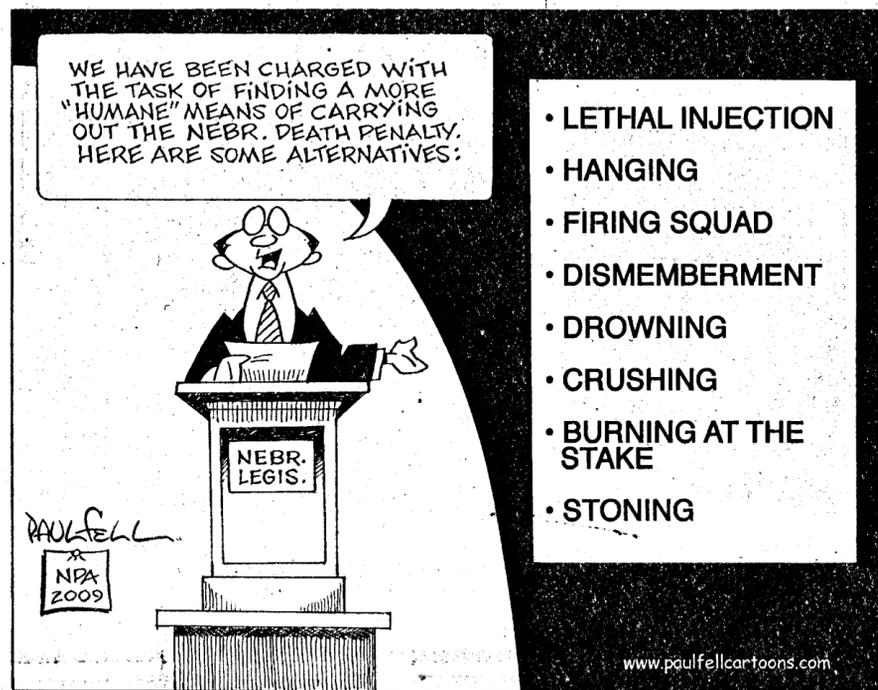

Two of my bills have already had hearings, and three more are scheduled over the next two weeks. Between Education and Government Committee hearings and testifying on behalf of my own legislation, it feels like I've been down in Lincoln for six months and not just one! One of the bills I'm busy working on is LB 538, which would exempt government pension plans from state income tax.

Currently, Nebraska is one of just twelve states which fully taxes these pension plans, which serves as an incentive for retiring workers to leave the state. Our teachers, police officers and firefighters deserve better, and I look forward to testifying on behalf of the bill.

Debate on the floor is in full swing, and the Legislature has already passed its first few bills. One of those bills, LB 61, came out of the Education Committee, and was signed late last week by the Governor. Last year, many public schools were given state aid information by the Department of Education, only to have their state aid allocations changed later. By changing the date the department must certify state aid allocations, LB 61 seeks to ensure that local school boards have accurate information on which to base their annual budgets. The Education Committee is hard at work reviewing the state aid formula, and we will be striving to ensure that even in these difficult economic times, our public schools still have the resources they need.

As always, I would encourage you to contact me if you have any questions or simply have an opinion on legislation before the Unicameral. Feel free to call my office at (402) 471-2728, send me an e-mail at bgiese@leg.ne.gov, or stop by in person any time you're in Lincoln.

Remembering our veterans

Layne Beza, representing the Consolidated Veterans organizations, spoke during Friday Chamber Coffee. The coffee was hosted by the group and allowed for those in attendance to view drawings of the Wayne County Veterans Memorial. The memorial will be placed at the Wayne County Courthouse and it is anticipated that it could be completed by Veterans' Day, Nov. 11, 2009.

Lifestyle

Save money by improving food preparation skills

Next time you reach for that prepackaged rice or pasta sidedish on the shelf, think again. You know, those packages where all you need to do is add water and little else.

In general, the more that is done for you at the factory before it goes into the box or other container, the higher the price. Let's take that box of rice, seasonings and dehydrated vegetables. Yes, they are convenient but cooking that same type of food from scratch isn't that difficult and does not take that much more time. In addition, cooking from scratch allows you to add your own seasonings and lets you control the amounts. This is especially important with salt, which is sodium chloride. Sodium content can be very high in prepackaged mixes. Instead of salt, use herbs and spices to add flavor. A little bit of spice or herb goes a long way. Or use garlic or onions to add flavor.

Cooking rice from scratch takes about 20 minutes and requires only a pan with a lid. Use a two to one ratio of water to rice. If using a gas stove, you may need to use 1/4 to 1/2 cup more water to prevent burning. Those prepackaged rice mixes sometime require around 20 minutes so you really aren't saving much time. Add frozen or canned vegetables to your cooked from scratch rice and seasonings. While you are at it, make extra rice for tomorrow night's meal. A package of plain rice is much, much cheaper than a prepackaged rice mix. Rice is nutritious, especially if using brown rice which is a whole grain.

Look in your cupboard and see what mixes you regularly use. Ask yourself, "Can I save money by making the item from scratch?" Another question you might need to ask is, "What food preparation skills do I need to learn or improve in order to make the items from scratch?"

Look at different ways to prepare food. Braising is a method of cooking a tougher piece of meat with water for a longer period of time. This moist heat method turns a less expensive cut of meat into a delicious addition to soups, stews, casseroles, sandwiches or is tasty on its own.

Ruth Vonderohe
Extension Educator

Don't forget the freezer. What kind of prepackaged items are in there? Instead of frozen pizza, try making your own. Ingredients for the crust are simple but it does take more time and is not as convenient. By making your own pizza, you can reduce the amount of fat and sodium by adding fresh vegetables. Use leftover pieces of chicken or meat as part of the topping.

While you are looking in the freezer, do you see ready to heat chicken fingers or nuggets? Make your own using pieces of chicken (watch for sales and stock up) and a breading from leftover dried slices of bread. Once again, you control the seasonings and the fat for a healthy yet yummy food.

Convenience foods are what they say - convenient. But convenience comes with a higher price. What items are you willing to prepare from scratch using basic food preparation skills?

To learn more about food preparation skills and healthier eating, contact your local UNL Extension office and ask for the nearest staff member with the Nutrition Education Program. This program is free of charge to limited resource families.

Eagles Auxiliary plans upcoming events

The Wayne Eagles Auxiliary's Feb. 2 meeting was called to order by Madam President Jessica Olson.

Initiation was held for new members Karen Vandelden and Kelsey Clark.

Jessica Olson reported on the Eagles Display at the Wayne Public Library for the month of February. The display show-cases the contributions the Eagles have made to the community and recipients of Make A Wish who have been granted their wishes and what their wishes were. All are encouraged to stop and view the Eagles display.

The group discussed doing Child Advocacy and the Art Contest again this year. Future details will be available about both events.

Members were encouraged to mark their calendars for the following events:

Saturday, Feb. 7 from 6 to 9 p.m. will be the Steak Fry. Anyone who is able to provide a salad or dessert is encouraged to do so.

The annual Eagles Smoker will be held Saturday, Feb. 14 from 6 p.m. to 1 a.m. Anyone who would like to be on a committee is asked to sign up at the Club. Tickets can be purchased from any Eagle member or at the club. Organizers encourage everyone to "take your sweetheart out for an evening of fun."

Members will set up for the Smoker on Friday, Feb. 13 at 7 p.m. Help is needed for this activity.

A tentative date for the Girls Day Out has been set for Saturday, March 14 from 10 a.m. to 2 p.m. Further details will be available soon.

All of the above events are open to the public.

Information was received on the State Eagles Convention to be held in Hastings June 11-13.

Serving at the meeting was Wendie Meyer. Serving at the next meeting, which is set for Monday, Feb. 16, will be Stacy Craft.

The auxiliary received word that Glendora Wieseler is in the hospital in Omaha. She would appreciate cards. Her address is Glendora Wieseler, Room 826, University Medical Center, Omaha, Neb.

Carroll Legion Auxiliary schedules upcoming events

Carroll American Legion Auxiliary Unit #165 met at the Carroll Fire Hall on Jan. 27 with five members present.

Poppies were put on some new cemetery wreaths.

President JoAnn Owens opened the meeting with the Flag Salute. Chaplain JoAnn Stoltenberg gave the opening prayer and the group had a silent prayer for veterans and read the Preamble.

The secretary read the roll, the minutes of the last meeting and gave the treasurer's report.

The group voted to take angel food cake, cherry pie filling and whipped topping to the Vets' Home on Feb. 23 when the group goes to play bingo. Due to the fact that home-baked food can no longer be brought to the Vets' Home, the group will purchase the cakes in Norfolk.

Preparations are being made for the District Convention to be held in Carroll March 21

Because of the group's visit to the Vet's Home and the District Convention, there will be no regular meeting for the group in February or March.

Nancy Junck furnished lunch.

Birthday honoree

Members of the Acme Club participated in the 89th birthday celebration of Zita Jenkins on Jan. 30. The celebration was hosted by her daughter-in-law, Pat Jenkins and was held at The Oaks. The Birthday song was sung for Mrs. Jenkins by the guests and residents.

Living Resourcefully

Breaking the cycle of keeping up with the Jones

Janet Hanna
Garfield, Loup
and Wheeler Counties

We notice when other parents around us are into competitive or materialistic parenting, but it is hard to admit we might be at fault ourselves. Most of us are as blind as our teenagers when it comes to seeing how peer pressure influences our own decisions. We are just trying to do our best to provide for our children. Kids will take cues from us as we regain confidence in finding our own path to what is most important in our family life.

Here are a few tips:

1. Increase your awareness of consumerism and what separates wants from needs of your children. Watch the advertisements your kids watch and look at their magazines. Who is influencing your kids?

2. What influences you as a consumer? If it is a major purchase, consider the influence of peer expectations.

3. Involve your child in community service with the rest of your family to instill that everyone can help others.

4. When it comes to name brand, consider the alternatives. You might pay a portion of a name brand jean for example but the teen must pay the rest by doing jobs to make their own money.

5. Share your values about things like drugs, sex or peer pressure. The evidence is quite clear that these conversations are very influential. Parents are the anti-drug.

6. Hold on to your child, even as a teen or young adult, and your family by making time for family, not surrendering to the busyness of culture.

It takes considerable courage to raise responsible children in a materialistic society where consumption of what the world offers is so advertised. If you want your family to be important to your children, you need to make it important to you. Ultimately, our success depends on our own leadership, citizenship and the courage to expect a great deal of ourselves and our children.

Project Extra Mile Wayne County discusses future legislative issues

The Project Extra Mile Wayne County Coalition meeting was held on Jan. 14 at Journey Christian Church in Wayne. A number of items were on the agenda including group discussion on alcohol control policies. The Neb. Legislative session began Jan. 7. Many bills of interest to Project Extra Mile will be introduced during this session.

One of the most important bills that will be introduced will be the "Use and Lose" bill which would suspend the driver license of minors who are caught in possession or consumption of alcohol and / or drugs. Thirty six states currently have such laws and they can make a dramatic impact on underage drinking.

Steve Shear, Project Extra Mile coordinator, noted as a result of pressure from Attorney's General from 14 states and various prevention groups nation wide, MillerCoors has agreed to halt production and distribution of their alcoholic energy drink Sparks. He continued that alcoholic energy drinks are of particular concern because of health issues regarding the amount of caffeine along with the alcohol in the drinks. Caffeine can mask the effects of alcohol and cause a consumer to consume more and more, causing extreme levels of intoxication. With the removal of Sparks from store shelves, 85 percent of all alcoholic energy drinks are now off the market.

Members of Project Extra Mile youth groups across the state will continue to testify at LCC hearings each month on various issues.

The Wayne Youth Group meeting that had been scheduled for Jan. 13 was again cancelled due to the extreme weather. The initial Wayne Youth Group meeting is scheduled for Feb. 10 at 6:30 p.m. The meeting will be held at The Front Porch on the Our Saviors Lutheran Church campus.

Anyone with questions or who is interested in information about the youth group can contact Steve Shear, Project Extra Mile coordinator at 402-833-5441.

Windbreaks necessary for snow control

"Let it Snow, Let it Snow, Let it Snow" is a great holiday song that may be even more pleasant if people could control where the snow falls. "We can somewhat control where the snow falls by where we plant trees and shrubs, especially in windbreaks in rural areas," says

Dennis Adams, Nebraska Forest Service forester. Properly planned windbreaks can significantly reduce wind velocity, thus affecting the distribution of blowing snow. By modifying wind flow, blowing snow can be distributed across an open field or deposited within a zone, instead of your drive way, work area or livestock pens. Properly designed windbreaks can save on labor and energy needed for snow removal and reduce stress on livestock," said Adams. Field windbreaks can spread snow across protected areas, provide moisture for crop and rangelands, increase productivity because of the soil moisture and add to economic return in both yields and crop protection. Research has found winter wheat yields can increase 15-20 percent, said Adams. Windbreaks in rangeland provide protection for spring calving or other new born livestock.

The width and location of a field windbreak for depositing snow are important. A single row of a tall deciduous tree species, planted 15-20 feet between trees and perpendicular to prevailing winter wind can provide snow distribution in a field 10 to 15 times the height of the trees. Snow blowing over the tree tops falls to the ground on the leeward (downwind) side of the windbreak. A denser field windbreak may cause too much snow near the tree row. This may trap too much moisture near the windbreak which can delay field operations in the spring.

Farmstead or feedlot windbreaks are planted to reduce the force of winter wind in the sheltered zone on the leeward side of the trees and shrubs. Feedlot windbreaks can get livestock out of strong winds and driving snow. In addition the animal is less stressed aiding in better animal health. Both home and feedlot windbreaks should be Something you're born to do

Everybody has something that they do best. It's something you're born to do. Farming is like that. It's not easy and it's not for everybody.

Some years right at the very last minute a storm comes through, takes a would be bumper crop and flattens it like a pancake. It takes courage to face those odds every year. You have to believe in agriculture to do that.

We believe in it, too. Ag banking...it's what we do best. If you're in agriculture, we would like to be your bank.

SAFE WINTER DRIVING TIPS

- Clear snow and ice from windows, lights, windshield wipers, the hood, and the roof of your vehicle, before driving. The windshield-washer reserve should be filled with a freeze-resistant cleaning solution.
- When you see plows, stay at least 200 feet behind them.
- Leave room for stopping. Brake early and carefully.
- Don't use cruise control. The short touch of your brakes to deactivate the cruise control can cause you to lose control of your vehicle.
- Pay attention. Look ahead to see what other vehicles are doing. That way you will know about any impending road or weather conditions.
- Watch your speed. Even if your car handles well in snow and ice, other drivers' cars may not. Drive according to the conditions. Don't exceed the speed limit and drive slowly in harsh conditions. Don't try to out-drive bad weather.

Advice offered for bagworm control

By Kim Bearnes, Extension Educator

Bagworms have become an increasing problem in Nebraska. Last year, Horticulture Extension staff and Master Gardeners received hundreds of calls on bagworms. They can severely defoliate and kill evergreens, such as spruce and junipers. Bagworms may also feed on shade and ornamental trees, fruit trees, ornamental shrubs and perennial flowers. Since deciduous plants grow new leaves each year, the defoliation caused by the feeding usually does not kill them.

Please take the time to inspect your landscape for bagworms. Bagworms are small, one to two inch long, brown bags covered with dead brown plant material and tightly attached to twigs. The overwintering bags contain as many as 300 to 1000 eggs each. Removing the bags before the end of May can help reduce their summer populations. Crush the bags or place them in the trash in a sealed trash bag. If bags containing larvae are discarded on the ground, the larvae may return to host plants after hatching. Once the eggs hatch in early June, large bagworm populations can completely defoliate and kill evergreens during summer. Light infestations slow the growth of evergreens and lower their wind-break value and aesthetic appearance.

Lifecycle

Bagworm eggs hatch in late May and early June. Young bagworms are as small as one-eighth inch long and can be difficult to see. After hatching, the larvae emerge from a hole at the base of the bag and spin down a strand of silk. The tiny insect is often caught by the wind and ballooned to nearby plants.

Once a host is found, larvae begin to form a new bag around their body. The larva is a brown or tan caterpillar with black markings. Larvae remain in their protective bag, sticking their head out to feed.

Bagworm larvae feed up until late August. The mature larvae then attach their bag to a branch with a strong band of silk and begin to pupate. Adult males emerge in September. They are small, furry gray moths with clear wings. The adult female does not have wings and never leaves the bag. After mating, the male moth dies. The female lays eggs in the bag. The female dies in the bag, mummified around the egg mass that overwinters until the following June.

Inspect, remove and dispose of bagworms.

Crush the bags or place in trash in a sealed bag. Don't discard bags on the ground.

Chemical Control

Insecticide control needs to be aimed at young larvae in mid to late June to be effective. Spraying trees is expensive. To get the best control for wind breaks or large stands of trees, late June to early July is the best time to apply insecticides for bagworm control. Feeding by mature caterpillars slows in August before pupation into adults, so chemical control in late summer and fall is not effective. Bacillus thuringiensis is available at nurseries and garden centers as Dipel or Thuricide. Other insecticides currently labeled for bagworm control include acephate, carbaryl, cyfluthrin, malathion and permethrin. Affected plants must be thoroughly covered with the insecticide in June so the insects ingest it as they are feeding. Be sure to read and follow all label directions.

Nebraska LEAD XXVII travels to South Korea, China and Hong Kong

Twenty-nine Nebraska LEAD XXVII Fellows recently returned from an International Study/Travel Seminar to South Korea, China and Hong Kong.

"This seminar is designed to provide first-hand appreciation and understanding of the global/international community and the potential for people of all nations to work together," said Terry Hejny, Nebraska LEAD Program director and group leader.

During the Jan. 10-24 seminar, LEAD Fellows attended briefings at American embassies and met with "American business," agricultural trade and commodity groups.

Additionally, LEAD Fellows were able to observe agricultural production with visits to farms, along with briefings at agricultural research centers and universities.

"After traveling almost 20,000 miles, I'm sure many of Nebraska LEAD Group XXVII look back on our International Study/Travel Seminar as an educational and eye-opening experience," said Alan Estes of Stuart. "I was amazed at the Korean people's continuing appreciation for the United States because of our role in protecting their freedom over 50 years ago."

"In China, we saw so many farms of less than one acre, but are still very productive. I also think of all the walls ... from the Great Wall to the city walls, to the walls around their houses and fields. However, the walls between our nations are coming down as we learn to work together, and further develop better understandings of each other. This was a great experience and I thank the Nebraska LEAD Program for providing it."

LEAD XXVII Fellows that participated were: Wayne Bahler, Lamar; Diane Becker, Madison; Frank Beel, Johnston; Glenn Beller, Lindsay; Lynn Belitz, Fullerton; Andrew Bose, Wayne; Bruce Bostelman, Brainard; Don Bristol, Fairmont; Melissa Dearmont, Rose; John Doerr, Osmond; Doug Ferguson, Blue Springs; Adam Fischer, Valentine; Curtis Friesen, Henderson; Eugene Goering, Platte Center; John Hay, Palmyra; Joel Kuehn, Heartwell; Troy Linn, Overton; Steve Nelson, Schuyler; David Nichols, Chambers; Jecca Ostrander, Gordon; Mike Oswald, Aurora; Kenneth Rajhes, Elwood; Julie Rau-Ruhter, Ainsworth; Todd Reichardt, Aurora; Stephanie Stedman, Burr; Brandy Van De Walle, Ohio; Ryan Walker, Scottsbluff; and Travis Wenzel, Hyannis.

The Nebraska LEAD Program includes men and women, currently active in production agriculture and agribusiness and is a two-year leadership development program under the direction of the Nebraska Agricultural Leadership Council, in cooperation with the Institute of Agriculture and Natural Resources at the University of Nebraska-Lincoln.

For more information, or to request an application for Nebraska LEAD XXIX, contact the Nebraska LEAD Program, 318 Biochemistry Hall, University of Nebraska-Lincoln, Lincoln, Neb. 68583-0763 or call (402) 472-6810. The application deadline is June 15.

Character Counts Students of the month at Wayne Elementary School pose with the certificates they earned.

Former NECC music instructor, ensemble play at inaugural gala

A former Northeast Technical Community College (now Northeast Community College) music instructor led his Jazz Ensemble in a performance at an Inaugural Gala in Washington, D.C., on Inauguration Day.

Dr. Tom Husak, now a professor and artistic director at Austin (Texas) Community College, and his 20-piece band were invited to perform at the LINK-live Presidential Inaugural Gala 2009 at the Corcoran Gallery of Art. The nonpartisan event was hosted by nonprofit organizations promoting technology and education.

Four national and internationally-recognized singers also performed. Special guest Andrew Heller and Big Band Music of the Americas joined the Austin Community College (ACC) band.

Hillary Clinton was among the guests.

The ACC Jazz Ensemble performed at Howard University Monday, Jan. 19, as part of the institution's inauguration activities.

Dr. Husak taught at the then-Northeast Technical Community College in the late 1970's. He and his wife, Deborah, visited Norfolk in 2007 to attend the 60th wedding anniversary of Maurice and the late Dr. Leon Engelbart. While in Norfolk, music instructors Drs. Linda and Jim Boullion led the Husaks on a tour of the music department at Northeast Community College.

Character Shines students recognized

Wayne Elementary School celebrated CARING in an assembly on Jan. 29.

The Character Shines word for December and January was "caring." Second grade students, directed by their teachers, Mrs. Suehl, Mr. Jaixen and Mr. Wall, performed an original "Family Feud" skit to illustrate the many different ways that students can show that they care.

Correct answers to "List ways we care for our school" included planting trees and picking up litter. Correct answers to "List ways we care for our school and our classmates" included saying please and thank you, keeping hands and feet to yourself and don't talk when others are talking. Wrong answers included, "Do other people's homework for them," and "Shout out my answers so the teacher can hear me." The game show format was enhanced with the use of a Smart Board, purchased with funding from the Wayne Education Boosters (WEB).

Students of the Month were recognized with certificates and pins, and January birthdays were also celebrated.

The Character Shines word is RESPONSIBILITY.

Character Shines Students of the Month included:

Kindergarten: Lutt — Jozi Sims; Meyer — Graysen Schultze; Heikes — Kallan Herman.

First grade: Colleen Janke — Aracely Vergara; Maas — Cassidy Manu; Ostrand — BreAnna Bruns.

Second grade: Suehl — Tyler Gilliland; Wall — Sara Duncan; Jaixen — Gabi Meyer.

Third grade: Garvin — Austin Fernau; Thomas — Kendall Braun; Hansen — Hunter Jorgensen.

Fourth grade: Kris Janke — Taylor Gamble; Spethman — Will Anderson; Ruskamp — Alvaro Lopez.

Nominations must be post-marked by March 6, 2009 to be eligible for entry. Nomination forms are now available online at www.GiveSalvationArmy.org. Forms may also be obtained by contacting Patti Cameli at 402-898-5906.

Honorees receive a $5,000 scholarship toward their selected college or university. D.J.'s Heroes will be recognized at the D.J.'s Hero Awards Luncheon on May 4, 2009 at Qwest Center Omaha.

Criteria for selecting honorees include: •Nebraska residency •Commitment to others and the community •Courage to act independently •Enthusiasm for life •Humility •Unique achievements that set them apart from others

D.J. Sokol, son of David & Peggy Sokol of Omaha, lost his courageous battle with cancer at the age of 18. Through the D.J.'s Hero Award, his memory lives on through the recipients who share his qualities of dedication to faith, selfless acts for others, volunteerism and commitment to the community.

Proceeds from the luncheon benefit Salvation Army programs for children and families.
