Super Sunday

Despite sub-zero temperatures, a large crowd was on hand for the Mid Winter Arts Festival on Sunday at the National Guard Armory. Above, children of all ages enjoyed balloon art and magic. The event, sponsored by the Wayne Community Theatre and St. Mary's Fighting For Life Relay for Life team, also included food, music, crafters and vendors.

Nichols' grandson in good condition after snowmobile accident by Wisner

Logan Polenske, nine-year-old son of Tim and Susie Polenske of Wisner and grandson of Larry and Mary Nichols of Wayne, was injured when the snowmobile he was riding went through a barbed wire fence. The accident occurred about 4 p.m. Sunday approximately two miles west of Wisner.

Logan was riding the snowmobile across a field and when he approached the end of the field, he attempted to turn the snowmobile but was unable to turn in time. Polenske went through two strands of the barbed wire fence. Polenske sustained a severe laceration to the neck area and a fractured jaw. The accident occurred in a field adjacent to highway 275. LifeNet medical helicopter was also dispatched to the scene. Highway 275 was closed for a short time to allow the helicopter to land on the highway. Polenske was flown to Mercy Medical Center in Sioux City, Iowa.

As of late Monday afternoon, Polenske's condition had been upgraded to good. Responding to the accident was Wisner Fire and Rescue. The accident was investigated by the Cuming County Sheriff's office and assisted by the Nebraska State Patrol.

Warning signals explained

As northeast Nebraska moves into the severe weather season, an explanation of the different warning signals has been issued.

The tornado or alert signal is a steady blast or tone for three minutes.

When this signal is sounded, residents are asked to take protective action immediately. They are to take shelter and tune into radio station KTCH/KTCY or another northeast Nebraska radio station for official instructions and listen for additional messages over the Wayne outdoor warning system.

The fire signal warning is an alternate high-low tone for approximately three minutes.

The fire signal means citizens should be on the alert for the following: fire personnel who will be reporting to the fire hall at a high rate of speed and emergency vehicles which will be reporting to the fire location at a high rate of speed.

The public address/notification signal is a series of two short blasts about 10 seconds in length.

Retirement brings closure to over three decades at Allen Consolidated School

By Lynn Sievers
Of the Herald

Wrapping up 31 years at Allen Consolidated School District #70, Darlene Fahrenholz, administrative assistant to the superintendent, will retire on March 15. She took over the position after the late Eva Durant retired after 29 years. During her years at the school, Fahrenholz worked for five superintendents: Robert Heckathorn, John Werner, Dr. Dan Hamill, Don Schmidt, Dr. Katherine Meink. Talking about her job, Fahrenholz notes her duties are multiple and too numerous to mention. The children is what she likes to talk about and will miss the most.

"I have watched many children walk through the front doors of the original 1918 building and the new 2003 building," Fahrenholz said.

She continued, the students came to school, graduated and now their children are attending Allen Consolidated Schools. Each year a new group of Kindergarten students appear - it is a joy watching the hesitation of leaving the nest and being in school without mom or dad. She loved to watch the busses unload the end of August, students getting off with big smiles, new clothes, book bags and sporting their new height from summer growth. And then on to graduation when they march in brings back memories of when they started. Tears are held back as the Allen School Band plays and students receive their diplomas. Each student is special in their own way.

"The happy smiles and little hugs have helped me through cancer twice (back to 1982) and open heart surgery and a heart valve - to come back to smiles and happy faces of our next generation," Fahrenholz said.

Through the years, Fahrenholz has seen many changes in the school and in the town. When she started, she worked half time for the superintendent and half time for the principal, did all the bookkeeping by hand in journals, hand wrote paychecks and stubs, calculated the payroll for yearly W-2s by hand and typed them with a typewriter. The world of technology arrived now all of her work is computerized, reports generated, W-2s calculated and generated, uploads and downloads, e-pays and electronic deposits.

When she started working at the school the 1978-79 school year, enrollment at Allen Consolidated was 282 (K-12) and after 31 years, it is 261.

"In 2003, our original school building of 1918 was demolished and replaced by a new school under the direction of the board

Nathan Shapiro completes Basic Training in the Israeli Defense Forces

If you ask Nathan (Nate) Shapiro, a 2005 graduate of Wayne High School, how a native Nebraskan ended up volunteering in the Israeli Defense Forces, you will get a variety of answers. The first answer might be an offhand comment, such as, "I was bored with college and job jobs, and I wanted to do something different."

But the conversation soon turns in a more serious direction, "I looked at the world situation," he said, "and I realized that Israel's role is to be the protector of Jews all over the world. Whenever Jews are threatened anywhere, Israel takes them in, as they have with Jews from Ethiopia and Yemen. Israel has enemies, such as Hamas and Hezbollah, which are Islamic terrorist groups that are backed by Iran. These groups are sworn to destroy the Jewish state. I have a great deal of respect for what Israel has accomplished in the 60 years since the country was established in 1948. It is a democratic society that has achieved excellence in education, technology, medicine, agriculture and many other areas."

Nate goes on to say, "As a Jew, I feel proud of Israel, and wanted to do my part to help protect the citizens of Israel. Israelis are drafted into the military right out of high school: boys for three years, girls for two years. Many people do not realize, because it is not well publicized here, that Hamas constantly fires rockets into southern Israel from the Gaza Strip. These rockets are aimed at civilian targets: homes, schools, busy downtown streets. The Israeli army catches suicide bombers, who try to sneak in to Israel and murder innocent people. My hope is for peace between Israel and the Palestinians, and for a Palestinian state which would exist side-by-side with Israel. But as long as Hamas does not recognize Israel's right to exist as a country, I feel it is important to insure the safety of Israeli citizens. (20 percent of Israelis are Arabs, by the way, so the Israeli army is defending them as well.) And I also want to insure the future of Israel."

The roots of Nate's commitment to the protection of the Jewish state go deep. His grandmother, Edith Shapiro, was a refugee from Nazi Germany, who barely escaped with her life. Nate and his older brother, Eric, grew up in a Wayne, where there were no other Jewish children in the school system. He is accustomed to teaching non-Jews about Judaism and Israel, as are his parents, Charles and Joan Sudmann Shapiro, who have lived in Wayne for 25 years. Nate and Eric received their Jewish education at Congregation Beth Shalom in Sioux City, Iowa.

When Nate first began talking about his desire to join the Israeli army, his parents felt that before he made a decision to put his life on the line for Israel, he should experience living in that country, to see what it was like. He had visited Israel only as a tourist. So, as a junior at the University of Nebraska-Lincoln, he arranged to study abroad at the University of Haifa for spring semester, 2008.

While living there, his knowledge and Homestead Exemptions available

The Nebraska Department of Revenue Property Assessment Division would like to remind property owners that homestead exemption applications may be filed at the local county assessor's office from Feb. 2, 2009 through June 30, 2009.

A homestead exemption provides relief from property taxes by exempting all or a portion of the valuation of the homestead from taxation. The state of Nebraska reimburses the counties and other governmental subdivisions for the taxes lost due to homestead exemptions.

In Nebraska, a homestead exemption is available to three groups of persons:

a) persons over age 65
b) certain disabled individuals, or
c) certain disabled veterans and their widow(er)s.

Each category is subject to household income limitations. Information about the homestead exemption program including maximum value and maximum exemption requirements is available on the Nebraska Department of Revenue Property Assessment Division's website at: <http://pat.ne.gov/exemptions/homestead/>

For more information on homestead exemption, please contact the local county assessor's office or Mark Rosenberg at the Nebraska Department of Revenue toll free at 1-877-339-0631, ext. 5882.

As a team, competing with only half a squad, Wayne finished fourth.

Wayne Planning Commission approves addition of item in Municipal Code Preliminary Plat Submittals

By Lynn Sievers
Of the Herald

The Wayne Planning Commission (PC) met in regular session Monday night. A public hearing was held amending Sec. 74-103 of the Municipal Code Preliminary Plat Submittals. The following (item #19) was added: If the proposed subdivision area will not be serviced by city utilities, a copy of Form SD On-Site Wastewater Permit application required by the Nebraska Department of Environmental Quality (NDEQ) will need to accompany the preliminary plat submittals. Commissioner Lee Brogie made a motion to forward recommendation to the city council amending Sec. 74-103 of the Municipal Code Preliminary Plat Submittal by adding item #19. She added the findings of fact are that it is consistent with the comprehensive plan and the current and future land use maps. Commissioner Pat Melena seconded the motion which passed unanimously. Discussion was held on amended Chapter 90 zoning draft. Lowell Johnson, Wayne City Administrator, noted three Planning Commission members (Sharon Braun, Mark Sorensen and Lee Brogie) have been on the zoning steering committee and have put in a lot of time working on the draft. The present comprehensive plan was discussed.

Johnson noted neighbors have a right to know if something (such as a hog farm or packing plant) is planned near them. He noted there is a conflict on Main Street as a group wants to use an empty building as a church.

The steering committee will need to review that as a church is not on the permitted commercial use. The committee may make exceptions; the present language doesn't say it can't be done but they need to remember that once a use is granted, it goes with the property forever if a certain number of years isn't stated. Johnson added there is a trend for municipalities to have a more neighborhood approach to zoning and not be so rigid. That could mean some big changes for Wayne. He noted he is comfortable with that but it will be more of a load on the Planning Commission as they will have a lot to do.

Commissioner Sharon Braun, chair, said that as an outsider looking in, it seemed as though the city was being difficult. Zoning isn't being changed, it is allowing more to happen.

Commissioner Mark Sorensen stated a use by exception still gives a quite a bit of control.

Johnson said he came back from a planning and zoning conference where they discussed a couple of trends. Those trends were allowing smaller more affordable vehicles (three and four wheelers, golf carts, etc.) and affordable housing that manufacturers make that are foundation ready and meet USB standards.

Commissioner Melena asked if they loosen up on zoning, how will that work? Zoning regulations have always been used and what is being suggested sounds like the opposite. How do they continue to be fair and impartial? Johnson said the findings of facts makes it workable. Melena continued that if they say no, they have to have a reason why. Johnson said that each individual is unique, just listen to concerns, look at the issue and go with what counts. There is a place for everything but not something where it shouldn't be.

Discussion was also held on the Kardell Industrial Park annexation and setting a public hearing date for PC recommendation. Johnson noted that area plus the Felix Industries property is proposed to be annexed to the city except for 30 acres to Great Dane, which was sold through the Community Development Agency (CDA).

Chair Braun asked if the balance of the land there is owned by the CDA, why does the city want to annex it? Johnson said real estate taxes is part of what they're looking at but also if the city is providing water, sewer, streets, etc. then past council policy has been that it should be annexed. Also without annexing, there isn't a good way to get it paved and there is a lot of paying to be done.

The city council had the second reading on this issue but everyone had looked at city code and not at state statute in regard to annexing. That wasn't on the checklist but is now and that is why it's being resubmitted. The stimulus package was discussed in regards to the paving project. Johnson noted that was researched but streets eligible have to be collectors or arterial, which those in Kardell Industrial Park aren't.

Johnson noted state statute doesn't require a public hearing but that it is up to the PC. He added the Kardell family doesn't want the annexation. If annexed, the family might be assessed approximately $18,000 in fees for 240 feet of paving. Braun made a motion there should be a public hearing. Melena seconded the motion, which passed unanimously.

The next PC meeting will be held at 7 p.m. on Monday, April 7 in the city council chambers.

March is Red Cross Month

March is American Red Cross month and the Red Cross Chapter in Wayne is celebrating with all chapters across the nation a tradition of service in times of disaster and need.

The Northeast Nebraska Chapter offers free classes in disaster preparedness drills and family safety events. They also host courses in first aid, CPR, AED (automated external defibrillation) training, life guarding and water safety at a fee to cover books, paperwork, card certification and cost of instructors.

Read Across America

Wayne Elementary School celebrated Read Across America Day with a visit from the "Cat in the Hat" on March 2. Third graders held a rocking read-a-thon during the morning and several other reading activities were planned during the week. Kindergartners made red and white hats after reading Cat in the Hat and several of the classrooms had visiting college students who did special reading projects during the week. Dr. Seuss is honored on this day across America in schools and public libraries for all of the fun books he authored for children. The Cat in the Hat poses with, left to right, Sarah Wibben, Megan Keiser, Dylan Carlson and Johnathon Vick.

Minor courthouse improvements planned for upcoming Q-125 celebration in Wayne

By Lynn Sievers
Of the Herald

The Wayne County Board of Commissioners met in regular session Tuesday. Jo Junck, county employee, visited with the commissioners about updating the kitchen area in the basement of the courthouse. She noted the employees felt it would be utilized more and with the Q-125 tour and activities coming up in August, now would be a good time to do so. Improvement plans were minor. The commissioners asked her to get them some costs on what was wanted.

The courthouse cleaning job description was discussed. Bud Neel, county employee, went over the list with the commissioners. Neel noted his priority is maintenance. Communication issues were discussed. It was decided a calendar of district court cases would be put into the county court office. Cleaning duties would be assessed after a month.

Wayne County Board of Equalization was held. Tax list corrections were discussed. Those corrections include: Game & Parks; because of a state software glitch, there is a credit of $141.43 which does not go to the Game & Parks as that is a government entity; the City of Wayne Felix Industries, $282.24; The Hair Studio and also the Laundromat, which were both sold. Commissioner Jim Rabe made a motion to accept the tax list corrections, Commissioner Dean Burbach seconded the motion which passed unanimously.

Burbach made a motion to approve the computer technical grant application 09-01 for Sharolyn Biermann, county employee, who purchased a new computer for $1,041.

Commissioner Kelvin Wurdeman made a motion to approve two Wayne County Convention and Visitor's Bureau grant applications: Elderfest: $500 and Winside Volunteer Firemen's Association annual street dance: $100. Burbach seconded the motion which passed unanimously.

Dr. Gutshall to perform at WSC

Dr. Elise Gutshall, soprano and professor of voice at Wayne State College, will be accompanied by pianist Philip Pfaltzgraff for an evening performance of German Lied (art song) selections featuring works of Franz Schubert, Johannes unanimously.

Elizabeth Carlson, Wayne County highway superintendent, discussed solicitation of informal bids for small round culverts. It was decided each commissioner would make a list of what was needed in their district. It was also decided to wait a while to see what the prices were looking like.

Carlson discussed a resolution regarding the new Local Public Agency (LPA) Manual which is scheduled to be adopted on March 9. She noted according to the manual, the design engineer can not be the same firm as the construction engineer for county road/bridge projects. It was noted that if this passes, it will end up costing the county more for each project. Wurdeman made a motion to approve the resolution to change the LPA manual. Burbach seconded the motion which passed unanimously.

Wurdeman made a motion to approve substitution of securities for Farmers State Bank. Burbach seconded the motion which passed unanimously. Wurdeman made a motion to approve withdrawal of securities at First National Bank. Burbach seconded the motion which passed unanimously. Wurdeman made a motion to cancel warrant 09020107 as it was a duplicate payment. Burbach seconded the motion which passed unanimously.

The commissioners reviewed lawn service quotes and went with the lowest bids: fertilizing/weed control: Y & Y Lawn Service: $1,260 (courthouse) and $195 (social services building east of town); lawn sprinkler service: Eischeid Artificial Rain, $175. Wurdeman made a motion to accept the lowest bids. Burbach seconded the motion which passed unanimously.

The Wayne County Board of Commissioners is convening on Friday, March 13 at 6:30 p.m. for a strategic planning session. The next regularly scheduled meeting is Tuesday, March 17 at 9 a.m. at the courthouse in Wayne.

First year anniversary may be last

By Lynn Sievers
Of the Herald

On top of hard economic times, a new federal law, the Consumer Product Safety Improvement Act of 2008 or HR 4040, could put some thrift stores out of business. Some thrift stores, including Wakefield's Nearly New store, have pulled children's items such as toys, clothing, shoes, books and movies trying to adhere to the new law.

The law, which focuses on protecting children from exposure to lead, went into effect on Feb. 10. Penalties for violation can include a $100,000 fine.

"We were ready to celebrate our first year in business but the way this looks, it could be our last as a lot of our sales are children's items," said Rhonda Lorenzen, director of Wakefield's Nearly New non-profit store located in the Hatchery building at Third and Main in Wakefield. (Profits above operating costs have been given to the community, especially to youth programs. They also had given many books and videos to Gardner Public Library in Wakefield.)

On the Consumer Product Safety Commission (CPSC) website, there is a 16 page guide for small businesses, resellers, crafters, charities, garage and rummage sales, anyone selling products intended for children 12 and under. A lot of information can be found online on HR 4040 but it is ambiguous. Some could interpret that garage and rummage sales could also be affected.

The Consumer Product Safety Improvement Act of 2008 is forcing thrift stores to clear shelves of many children's items. Above is a rack at Wakefield's Nearly New store.

Resellers are not required to test for lead but could be held responsible if something is sold that was tested and contains lead or phthalates (plastics) that exceed safe limits for children's health. Domestic manufacturers and importers are supposed to certify that children's products made after Feb. 10 meet all new safety standards.

Norfolk Salvation Army and the Goodwill store in Sioux City, Iowa have also cleared their shelves of many children's items.

In a Feb. 16 letter to their customers, Goodwill Industries/Wall Street Mission noted that due to a lack of clear guidance from the CPSC and the desire to take no chances with consumer safety, they are removing many children's items including clothing with metal clasps, fasteners and decorations. Also, toys including painted metal or painted wood items intended for the use of children.

Lorenzen noted they recently went through a large box of children's tops and found only one shirt that could be sold that didn't have zippers, decorative paint or something that might contain lead.

In a statement from Senator Ben Nelson, "Nobody wants to see a child come in contact with a dangerous product and nobody wants to see thrift and resale stores, which play a valuable role in our communities, go out of business. The Consumer Product Safety Commission plays a very important role. As the agency that oversees this legislation, a sensible approach needs to be taken while also making sure that unsafe products are taken out of circulation. As this legislation moves from paper to the people, a balance needs to be found between a practical, common sense enforcement of the law and store proprietors being mindful of harmful products."

Anyone interested in bringing change to this new law is urged to contact their congressional delegation at: (email addresses): Senator Nelson: bennelson.senate.gov; 1st District Representative Jeff Fortenberry: fortenberry.house.gov; 2nd District Representative Lee Terry: leeterry.house.gov; 3rd District Representative Adrian Smith: adriansmith.house.gov or by mail: Senator Mike Johanns at 1 Russell Courtyard, Washington, D.C. 20510.

of education, Superintendent Don Schmidt and Principal Monty Miller. I watched with tears in my eyes as the building was demolished and my office of 25 years was ripped away by giant jaws and a crane. Our new building was erected and school resumed the first week of September, 2003."

Allen has expanded with a new housing development on the east side of town, the hardware store was replaced by an antique store, also new is a seed dealership, Genesis (a manufacturer of vinyl and fabric products used to make tents, canopies, tarps, etc.) and in the future, a possible mini-mart gas station. There are a number of other businesses also.

"Allen is a caring community, 'One Small Town - One Big Family,' What more could one ask for," Fahrenholz said.

As for goals after retirement,

Fahrenholz notes they have been guardians of their granddaughter, Jennifer, since second grade - she is 20 years old. Jennifer was diagnosed with a malignant brain tumor on her brain stem when she was in Kindergarten. She has had two major brain surgeries, many doses of chemotherapy, then radiation, then to Rochester for more radiation. Her prognosis was not good. She is truly a miracle. She graduated from Allen two years ago this May. She carried the banner in a wheelchair around the track for the Wayne Cancer Walk the first year Wayne held it.

"I have been very fortunate to watch our children and grandchildren attend school here and to be with Jennifer 24-7," Fahrenholz said. "My #1 ambition is to set goals high for Jennifer with schooling, employment and independent living skills."

She adds that she also wants to plant flowers and mow her own yard, see her family in Wisconsin more, see her grandchildren, travel a little and spend time with her sister, Susie, who lives only a half mile away on their farm.

Fahrenholz' other family members include her husband, Trumap, four children and 14 grandchildren.

Fahrenholz ends by saying she has been truly blessed with being part of the Allen Consolidated School system and thanks each and every child and parent that crossed her path. She also appreciates and thanks each superintendent and principal she worked for, the board of education, the faculty and staff.

"I will truly miss everyone and being part of the world of education," Fahrenholz said.

An open house sponsored by the Board of Education, Administration and the Allen Education Association will be held Sunday, March 22 from 2-4 in the commons area at the school.

Signals

When the Wayne Public Address/Notification signal is sounded, citizens should be alert for an important public message such as the following:

1. an electrical system brownout or peaking emergency is in effect;

2. a water emergency is in effect;

3. some other important public message will be forthcoming.

The attack warning signal is a wavering tone of short blasts for three minutes. It will be sounded if an actual attack against this country has been detected. If this happens, citizens are asked to do the following:

1. Take protective action immediately. Take shelter.

2. Follow directions in your community shelter plan.

3. Tune to radio station KTCH/KTCY or another northeast Nebraska radio station for official instructions.

Theme, t-shirt design announced for Chicken Show

Stacey Craft, chair of the 2009 Chicken Show Committee has announced that the theme for the 2009 Chicken Show has been selected.

This year's theme, "O Pioneer Chickens-Roostin' in Wayne 1884-2009," connects the community's historical celebration with the 29th Annual Chicken Show. The dates for the show are Friday, Saturday and Sunday, July 10-12.

The t-shirt design will be printed in brown ink on a natural colored shirt for an antique look. The artwork was created by Tracy Keating and the shirts are being printed by Stadium Sports. Keating will receive $25 in Chamber Bucks and the first 2009 Chicken shirt for her efforts.

Shirts will be available for sale at area businesses and the Chamber and Economic Development office after May 1.

The Chicken Show Committee members are being sought to help coordinate the event which annually brings approximately 10,000 people to the community.

New events and contests are being developed for the 2009 show. Any business or organization that is interested in sponsoring a particular event or contest, is encouraged to let the committee know. This will ensure that the event is listed in the Chicken Show brochure and on the website, www.chickenshow.com and other promotional materials that are being developed.

Cement chickens will soon be available to be decorated for the cement chicken auction. Those wishing to decorate a chicken are asked to contact the Chamber and Economic Development office to reserve a chicken. All those interested will be notified when they arrive. Proceeds from the Cement Chicken Auction help fund the Friday night Henoween activities.

appreciation grew, and his commitment deepened. He made his decision and enlisted for an 18 month tour of duty which began in August. He anticipates discharge on Feb. 20, 2010 and will return to Nebraska, to complete his education at UNL.

Nate finished Basic Training at the end of February, and was granted a one week leave from the army. He surprised his mother, who thought he was going to vacation on the beach in Israel, with a visit home. While in Wayne, Nate visited sixth grade students at Wayne Middle School and talked with them about his experiences.

He thanked them for the wonderful letters they had written to him. "I really appreciated that package of letters and I read every one. I showed them to my friends, and bragged about all the support from my home town. It really made me feel good."

One student asked him what he disliked about the army. He replied, "You always have to do what you are told, even if you don't agree with it or think you have a better idea about how to do something. You do things the way the commander wants them done."

He has a great deal of respect for his commanding officers, however. Whatever they expect of their soldiers, whether it is a 10 km hike with heavy gear, drills, target practice, or a 5 km run, they are out in front, leading the way.

Nate told the students that the rations when they were out training in the desert were pretty bad - canned meat, tuna, bread, a candy bar - but that the food in the mess hall on the base was okay.

Another student asked him if Israel and the U.S. are allies. "Absolutely," he responded. "Israel and the U.S. are very close allies. I use an American gun and I sleep in an American tent." When a student asked if there was anything he missed while in the military in Israel, Nate did not hesitate. "Root beer," was his reply, "I LOVE root beer."

Activity Center Fitness room to be moved

By Clara Osten
Of the Herald

The location of the equipment and the operating hours of the Fitness Room at the Community Activity Center highlighted discussion during Tuesday's meeting of the Wayne City Council.

Nearly a year ago discussion began on switching the location of the fitness area with the Youth Room, which is approximately 400 square feet larger. The larger facility is necessary due to the high demand for the Fitness Room.

The council had earlier voted to move $25,000 from the construction fund into the budget to be used for the switch. Several pieces of new equipment were included in the budget for the move and would be paid for with construction funds.

Jeff Zeiss, Recreation-Leisure Services Director, presented to the council a list of items that would need to be completed to make the switch and gave cost estimates on a door that would allow for 24-hour access into the fitness area.

Considerable discussion followed on the need for having the fitness center available 24 hours a day and possible ways to accomplish this.

Representatives of Push, Pedal and Pull, a firm that sells fitness equipment, including many of the pieces of equipment currently in use at the Activity Center, spoke to the council about the benefits and drawbacks of having the facility open 24 hours a day. Among the drawbacks is the lack of shower facilities connected to the fitness center.

Council member Verdel Lutt made a motion to move forward with the switch of rooms, but not with the purchase of new equipment or the 24-hour use of the facility.

His motion failed on a 2-5 vote, with council member Brian Frevort voting with Lutt and Council members Ken Chamberlain, Kathy Berry, Doug Sturm, Dale Alexander and Jon Haase voting against it.

A motion by Ken Chamberlain to move forward with the planned move and purchase of equipment and explore other security options before opening the fitness center to 24 hour use passed on a 5-2 vote with Council members Lutt and Frevort voting against it.

The council unanimously voted to move forward with a proposed heat energy reduction plan for a new cooling system, winter drain back for the Wayne Power Plant.

Gene Hansen, Electric Production Superintendent, told the council that the current radiator system had been installed in 1960 and 1967 and was inefficient. A new system would eliminate the need to have water heated at all times.

Bill Hilger with Mid States Directors spoke to the council and said a new system would "save lots of energy. Also, the cost of this type of project has come down in the last year and this is an opportune time to do the work."

He noted that if the city would like to have the project completed by the next heating system, they need to move forward in the near future, due to the amount of time needed to complete the plans and actual work.

Electrical rates will not be increased for 2009 following a presentation by Garry Poutre, Superintendent of Public Works & Utilities.

Poutre explained that the cost of electricity is determined by the fixed costs and the cost of electricity that the city purchases from wholesale distributors.

A five percent increase in rates would cover the increased costs, while no increase could mean the city could lose up to $95,000. It was noted that the city could absorb this amount from money in the electric fund.

A motion to increase the rates failed to generate a second so a second motion was made to leave the rates unchanged. It received unanimous approval.

During the meeting the council unanimously approved action to appoint the city administrator as Interim Zoning Administrator, Interim ADA Administrator and Interim Flood Plain Administrator. Acting as the Community Development Agency, the council voted to adopt a policy for the search/located location in the Western Ridge II Subdivision.

Discussion centered on the fact that the utilities in the subdivision are located in front of the houses and what to do in the cul de sac areas.

Brian Frevort and Dale Alexander volunteered to serve on the search/steering committee for a regional jail.

The council listened to annual reports from Jeff Zeiss, Recreation-Leisure Services Director, Gene Hansen, Electric Production Superintendent and Penny Vollbracht, Senior Center Coordinator.

Zeiss said that the city has been chosen to host district softball tournament and state baseball tournament. Both of these tournaments are expected to bring a large number of people to town.

Hansen talked about the incentive programs being offered by the city and Nebraska Public Power District (NPPD) to help reduce energy use. He also spoke of the number of times the city was called to generate electricity as directed by NPPD.

Vollbracht presented a comparison of numbers of meals served at the Senior Center and said the facility is "a hub of fun activities." The council will next meet in regular session on Tuesday, March 17 at 5:30 p.m. in council chambers.

'Riding the Orphan Train' scheduled at Wayne Public Library, Sunday, March 15

Wayne Public Library will host the first of three Nebraska Humanities Programs celebrating Wayne's Q125 on Sunday, March 15 at the Wayne Senior Center.

Dressed in period attire, Charlotte Endorf will present an educational and entertaining program on the real-life stories of the children who rode the Orphan Trains between 1854 and 1929. Ms. Endorf has traveled more than 8,500 miles seeking the last surviving riders and descendants to document her presentation.

"Excess Baggage: Riding the Orphan Train" is one of approximately 300 programs offered through the Nebraska Humanities Council Speakers Bureau. This program is also sponsored by donations from our local "Friends of the Library" organization. Charlotte's session will feature a short DVD presentation, commentary and time for questions from the audience.

This program is open to the public. No reservations are required. Light refreshments will be served. Call 375-3135 for more information.

Wayne State's three game win-streak ends in 67-62 loss to Southwest Minnesota State

By Casey Schroeder

It's been said that "all good things must come to an end."

Unfortunately, for the Wayne State College women's basketball team their "good thing" was a three-game win streak that was ended in a 67-62 loss to Southwest Minnesota State on Wednesday night in Wayne.

SMSU improved to 13-16 overall, and 5-14 in the Northern Sun Intercollegiate Conference (NSIC) with the win while WSC dropped to 14-12 overall and 11-8 in league play.

"It was disappointing. I wouldn't say I was surprised with the loss I was just disappointed with the way we played," WSC head coach Chris Kielsmeier said.

"You need to play better when you get a lot at stake and we had a lot at stake."

SMSU jumped out to an early 7-0 lead and led by as many as 16 in the opening half.

The Mustangs hit 6 of 9 three point attempts in the first 20 minutes and settled for a 35-27 half-time lead.

The game remained close throughout the second half and WSC took their first lead of the game at 54-52 following a layup by Laquisha Cook with just over five minutes remaining in the half.

After SMSU responded to take a 59-58 lead, WSC took its final lead of the game at 60-59 with just over two minutes remaining on a layup by Alyssa Fischbach.

From there, the Mustangs used an 8-2 scoring run and solid rebounding down the final stretch of the game to secure the 67-62 win.

"In the second half we just played a whole lot harder and with a lot more urgency. We came out at the start of the game flat and didn't play well," Kielsmeier said.

"They hit a lot of shots on us and we got down deep and that made us battle back the entire night which is difficult to do in this league. We just needed to come out ready to play from the start and we didn't do that and that's the main reason why we lost."

The Wildcats hit 19 of 55 shots in the game for 34.5 percent and made 22 of 28 shots from the free throw line, but only managed to convert on 2 of 14 three point attempts.

WSC was led in scoring by Mara Hjelle with 16 points and 11 rebounds for her third double-double of the season while Cook added 13.

SMSU hit 22 of 61 shots in the game for 36.1 percent while going 7 of 14 from beyond the arc and 16 of 19 at the free throw line.

Laura Kramer scored 16 points and pulled down a team-high eight rebounds to lead the Mustangs in the win.

Also scoring for SMSU were Sara Leidall with 15 points followed by Tori Fink with 10.

WSC held a 42-36 rebounding advantage in the game and finished with 12 turnovers to 11 for SMSU.

Hjelle adds 19 points while Cook follows with 10 Duwelius' 24 points in 26 minutes guides Wildcats past Beavers 89-58

By Casey Schroeder

Freshman Clare Duwelius tied a season-high of six three-pointers and scored a game-high 24 points to lead the Wayne State College women's basketball team past Bemidji State 89-58 on Saturday evening in Bemidji, Minn.

"I expected us to play with a lot of excitement, energy and as if we're a playoff team that's fighting to play well and get hot," WSC head coach Chris Kielsmeier said.

"And that's what we did, we played with a sense of urgency. We played as if we have to win this game and we played as if we need to be great and we were great. It was one of our best performances of the year for us."

With the win WSC improved to 15-12 overall and 12-8 in the Northern Sun Intercollegiate Conference (NSIC) while Bemidji State closed out the season at 3-24 overall and 1-19 in league play.

After falling behind 3-2 in the opening minutes of the first half, WSC took a 15-10 lead with 12:21 to play before going on an 11-0 scoring run that saw the Wildcats jump out on top 26-10 with 9:04 remaining in half.

From that point on, it was all WSC as they closed out the first half in control of a 44-22 lead before settling for the 89-58 win.

The Wildcats were led in scoring by Duwelius who scored a game-high 24 points in just 26 minutes of playing time as she hit 9 of 19 shots from the field, including 6 of 12 from the three point line.

Mara Hjelle also reached double figures with 19 points while Laquisha Cook finished with 10.

WSC connected on 29 of 59 shots from the floor for 49 percent while going 11 of 27 from beyond the arc and 20 of 25 from the charity stripe.

"Offensively we were really good. From the start of the game to the end. We shot 50 percent from the field and we put up 89 points, which tied a season-high of 89 points," Kielsmeier said.

"And I thought defensively, for the most part we were really good. We made some mistakes defensively in the second half, but I was pleased with our overall effort. It was great to see our team bounce back."

For Bemidji State, Heidi Matzke and Sydney Epema accounted for 14 points each.

The Beavers made 22 of 65 shots from the field for 33.8 percent while going 6 of 19 from the three point line and 8 of 10 at the free throw line.

The Wildcats won the rebounding battle over the Beavers 42-33 as Jodie Boss, hauled in 10 rebounds to go with six blocked shots.

Bemidji State was led at the glass by Colleen McKay with six boards.

WSC will return to action on Wednesday, March 4 when they travel to Winona, Minn. for the first round of the NSIC/Sanford Health Women's Basketball Tournament where they will face the Warriors at 6 p.m.

A whole lot about nothing...

Sorry for the long introduction, but I'm still catching my breath, as I just completed a 3-0 minute Yoga workout with my personal trainer M-a-y-a.

Okay, now that I've caught my breath please let me explain myself.

Due to the nature of my job, I have to admit that I've grown apart from all that I have known for the past 6 years, in terms of personal fitness, specifically strength and conditioning.

For me, weight lifting was never about getting big, but it was more or less a way for me to keep off the 55 pounds that I gained throughout my sophomore and junior years of high school as I once weighed in at a whopping 245 pounds.

Luckily, for me I found my niche within the gym which enabled me to transform my 245 pound body into a leaner 190 pounds that I've maintained, for the most part up until this past fall when I bulked out to 225 pounds.

It was then after several months of tireless training that I began a "rest cycle", a four week break that enables the muscles just enough time to recover.

This cycle which was the first of its kind in nearly six years of training was needed as I also felt that it was time to reevaluate my fitness goals and possibly change my outlook on life. However, instead of changing things, I did nothing.

Needless to say, three months later and after countless pints of Blue Bunny and Bud Light I decided to make a change.

Change that I can believe in.

So with a goal in mind, I went to work this past weekend where instead of spending $180 on a gym membership I opted to stimulate the economy by investing my hard-earned tax dollars into a Nintendo Wii and accessories.

Enter "My Fitness Coach" and Maya.

I will admit at first I was rather skeptical, but I figured what do I have to lose as it was either this or going back to the gym and doing the same-old, same-old, day after day.

Plus, there are no guarantees that I will make it to the gym everyday, considering my often chaotic schedule. Now I have no excuse for skipping a workout as my television sits three feet away from my couch.

Okay, so how does it work?

After the disc loads, you create a profile where you input the usual data; name, weight, height, date of birth, social security number and bank account number (the last two were a joke).

With that information in books, Maya begins a pre-evaluation by asking you to input more data.

Casey Schroeder

Data that includes measurements from specific areas such as the bicep, chest, waist, hips and thighs.

After calculating your measurements which you can skip, Maya will assist you in finding your current pulse and resting heart rate. Now here is where the fun begins, not really.

Following, the pre-evaluation, Maya puts you through a battery of tests to determine your fitness level. Tests include jumping jacks, pushups and crunches with the goal (usually 50 repetitions) of each exercise being how many repetitions you can complete.

I did superb on the jumping jacks and push-up segment, completing the maximum number in both exercises, but fell short in the crunches, completing just 40 of the maximum 50.

Upon the completion of the health tests, Maya analyzes your data where she then makes a recommendation on what type of fitness plan you should develop.

No surprise here, mine was weight loss. With that information you then set-up a schedule with Maya, indicating the number of days you want to workout and for how long. She makes recommendations, but they can be changed to accommodate.

It is here where you also select a target weight, for me it was 190 pounds as I am neither a football or a rugger anymore.

While this initial process may seem like a lot, it only took me 30 minutes to complete where I then moved into my workout.

In my first workout with Maya, I focused on Cardio. The workout itself only lasted 30 minutes, but within that time period we got a lot accomplished.

From leg kicks to the grapevine we did it all.

And while it would have been just as easy to turn off the Wii and T.V. when things got tough, Maya kept me interested as she asked for feedback throughout the session, wanting to know how I felt about the last series of exercises that we just completed where I then provided feedback, which she said she'll take note of for future exercises.

After a brief cool down and a light pep talk from Maya I was still feeling rather spunky, despite my burning lungs and aching legs so I decided to do a 15 minute session of Yoga.

For me Yoga was just as weird as it was relaxing. But then again, maybe it was just the Yoga music and Dojo I was working out in.

Whatever the case may be, I'll be definitely doing a lot more Downward Dog and Sun Salutation in my spare time.

And here I sit, just three days into my workout routine, second guessing myself as every muscle aches with each move I make. Boy, it feels good to have the old feeling back.

Wildcats stumble in 54-51 loss to No. 14 Mustangs

By Casey Schroeder

Southwest Minnesota State clinched a share of the Northern Sun Intercollegiate Conference (NSIC) men's basketball regular season title last Wednesday evening with a 54-41 win over Wayne State College in Wayne.

The No. 14 Mustangs, won their 14th straight game and improved to 24-5 overall and 16-3 in the NSIC while the Wildcats dropped to 10-16 overall and 6-13 in league play.

"It was very disappointing, I felt like we played well enough to win. The guys did a great job to be successful," WSC head coach Rico Burkett said.

"We were right there, they (SMSU) just made the necessary plays in the stretch."

SMSU raced out to an early 15-2 lead in the first five minutes of the game and held a 30-23 advantage at halftime.

In the second half SMSU increased their lead to 42-31 with 11:32 to play, but WSC used a Jonathan Thomas three pointer to cut the Mustangs' lead to two points at 49-47 with 1:27 left in the game.

Andy Bielek then made a layup for SMSU with 1:10 to go, pushing the Mustangs' lead to 51-47.

However, Thomas followed suit, hitting a jumper of his own to cut SMSU's lead back to two at 51-49 with 42 seconds to play.

Following a WSC foul, SMSU's DeAnthony Zanders made two free throws with 38 seconds left in the half to give the Mustangs a four point advantage at 53-49.

With time now becoming a decisive factor, WSC used a Ryan Rudloff layup with 22 seconds left in regulation to cut SMSU's lead back to 53-51.

Kevin Andrews of SMSU was then fouled with 18.9 seconds to play where he made one of two free throws to push the Mustangs' lead to 54-51.

On the ensuing play, WSC moved quickly down court where Marcus Messersmith missed on a long three pointer with four seconds remaining in the half.

Thomas got the offensive rebound for WSC and found Rudloff who tried his luck from the left wing, but missed as time expired, giving SMSU the 54-51 win.

"We went in with a game plan and we played solid throughout the game," Burkett said.

"We executed on both ends of the floor. They really challenged us and it just came down to the last final minute."

Thomas scored a game-high 13 points to lead WSC while Brent Jackman also reached double figures with 11.

WSC shot 19 of 52 from the field for 36.5 percent while going 5 of 18 from the three point line and 8 of 9 at the charity stripe.

For SMSU, Nick Dale and Scott Roehl scored eight points each.

The Mustangs hit 20 of 54 shots for 37 percent and converted on just 1 of 6 attempts from beyond the arc while going 13 of 22 at the at the free throw stripe.

WSC held a slight 35-34 edge in rebounding over SMSU, the top rebounding team in the NSIC.

Metz had nine boards to lead WSC and all rebounders while Taylor Huseby and Ryan Krome grabbed six boards each for SMSU.

WSC had 13 turnovers in the game to just six for SMSU.

Wildcats snap five-game losing streak in Bemidji

'Fluke shot' gives Wildcats 88-87 overtime win over Beavers

By Casey Schroeder

Redshirt freshman Marcus Messersmith drained a nearly 40-foot three pointer as time expired in overtime to give the Wildcats an 88-87 win over Bemidji State on Saturday night in Bemidji, Minn.

WSC improved to 11-16 overall and 7-13 in the Northern Sun Intercollegiate Conference (NSIC) with the win while Bemidji State ends their season at 8-19 overall and 6-14 in league play.

The win by WSC also snapped a five-game losing streak in Bemidji that dates back to the 2002-03 season.

"It was definitely a big momentum boost after coming off a seven-game losing streak," WSC head coach Rico Burkett said. "It was definitely a nice way to go out."

The Wildcats jumped out to an early 11-2 lead, their largest of the night with 15:15 remaining in the first half following a layup by Nate Trueblood.

WSC maintained the lead throughout much of the first half, but Bemidji State used a late 14-5 scoring run in the final six minutes of the half to take a 36-32 lead into halftime.

Following the intermission break, Bemidji State made the first basket of the half to take their largest lead of the game at 38-32 with 19:53 to play as neither team held more than a five point lead the rest of the way.

With 40 seconds remaining in the half and down 75-70, WSC cut the Beavers' lead to 75-73 following a three pointer by Brent Jackman.

Later, Bemidji State's Jake Lindstrom drained a pair of free throws with 26 seconds left in the half to push the Beavers' lead back to three at 78-75.

Luckily, for WSC Jonathon Thomas connected on a three pointer with 11.2 seconds left in regulation to send the game into overtime tied at 78-78.

In overtime, WSC built a four point lead at 85-81, but failed to ward off the Beavers as a foul by Trueblood sent Bemidji State's Seth Haake to the free throw line where he connected on both attempts to tie the game at 85-85 with 2:09 left to play. With nine seconds remaining in overtime, Bemidji State used a Bryce Tesdahl basket to reclaim an 87-85 lead.

WSC then brought the ball down court and found Messersmith, who sank a nearly 40 foot shot to secure the 88-87 win.

"The actual shot was a fluke, he freed himself and got a shot off," Burkett said. "Most guys wouldn't have been able to do what he did, but because of his size he was."

Thomas scored a team-high 21 points in the win and became just the 30th player in Wildcat men's basketball history to surpass the 1,000 point mark as he finished his WSC career with 1,019 points.

"Thomas' situation was a fitting finish," Burkett said. "He's been a guy who's been overlooked or overshadowed. It was a great accomplishment for him."

Brian Metz added 19 points while Messersmith finished with a career-high 12 points, all from the three point line for his first career double digit game as a Wildcat.

WSC hit 31 of 53 shots from the field for 58.5 percent while going 9 of 18 from the three point line and 17 of 20 at the free throw line.

For Bemidji State, Brady Fairbanks score a game-high 28 points followed by Haake with 24.

The Beavers were 28 of 64 from the field for 43.8 percent, but hit just 5 of 22 shots from three point range and 26 of 31 at the charity stripe.

WSC held a commanding 40-22 edge in rebounding over Bemidji State thanks to nine boards from Thomas and a career-high eight caroms by Elijah Miller.

Bemidji State's top rebounder was Haake with five.

The Wildcats were plagued by a season-high 27 turnovers in the game to just 12 for the Beavers.

WSC finished the season winning three of their last four games and lose three seniors who include David Walters, Billy Delano and Thomas.

WSC men finish sixth; women place seventh

Wailing Wildcats silenced at NSIC Championships

The Wayne State College indoor track and field teams closed out the 2008-09 season this past weekend in Bemidji, Minn. where they competed in the Northern Sun Intercollegiate Conference (NSIC) Indoor Track and Field Championships.

In the men's division, Minnesota State scored 144.50 points to win the NSIC title while Minnesota Duluth followed in second at 95 points.

Concordia-St. Paul (89), University of Mary (76) and Northern State (75.50) rounded out the top five with the WSC men in sixth at 67.50 points.

"We were disappointed that the men's team didn't finish higher," WSC head coach Marlon Brink said.

"We missed some opportunities to pick up points in events that we should have scored more points in. We should be a stronger team by the outdoor season."

Minnesota State also won the women's team title with 150 points followed by Minnesota Duluth in second with 127 points.

St. Cloud State (93), University of Mary (80.50) and Augustana College (76) closed out the top five while MSU Moorehead edged WSC (50) for sixth with 63.50 points.

"The women's team really performed quite well considering the competitiveness of the new NSIC teams," Brink said.

"We scored about as many points as we had figured we could going into the meet. We will be a stronger team in the outdoor season when we add Katie Wilson and Megan Zavorka back to our rosters, who were red-shirting during the indoor season."

Leading the WSC men was freshman Rashad Moxey, who won the triple jump with a leap of 47' 2 1/4".

"Rashad is a very talented jumper who just joined our team in January," Brink said.

"He is from the Bahamas and has not only had to adjust to indoor track, but to a completely new environment. He has high expectations of himself and I am not surprised that he was able to win the title."

Other All-Conference finishers included Nate Preston who took second place in the 5,000-meter run (15:16.27) and Cheto Cerda who earned third in the 800-meter run with a time of 1:57.71.

Cerda also finished sixth in the one mile run (4:32.01) while senior Matt Schneider placed in two events, taking seventh place in the 1,000-meter run (2:40.19) and eighth in the 5,000-meter run (15:40.26).

For the WSC women's team, sophomore Casey Buskirk recorded the highest finish, taking second in the shot put with a toss of 42' 10 3/4" while also placing fourth in the weight throw with a mark of 51' 7 1/4".

"Casey really peaked in both her technique and training and threw to her potential, whereas some of the other throwers did not," Brink stated.

Other All-Conference finishers included Jade Lippman who placed third in the high jump after clearing 5' 3 3/4" and Christina King who earned third in the 600-meter run with a time of 1:37.43.

"Jade really competed well in the high jump. She cleared every height without a miss up to 5' 3 3/4", Brink said.

"She has been a consistent performer for us throughout her career, so it was especially pleasing to see her earn All-Conference honors her senior year."

In addition to Lippman and King, Paige Pollard also earned All-Conference honors as she placed third in the 800-meter run with an NCAA provisional national qualifying time of 2:16.

"She (Pollard) was in contention right down to the final 50 meters when the other two girls just pulled ahead of her slightly to edge her out of the win," Brink said.

"She is a great competitor who really excelled in the indoor season."

Listed below are the individual results of WSC athletes who competed at the NSIC Indoor Track and Field Championships in Bemidji, Minn.

Note-The top three finishers in individual events earn All-Conference honors while the top two teams in relays are named All-Conference.

SAFE WINTER DRIVING TIPS

- Clear snow and ice from windows, lights, windshield wipers, the hood, and the roof of your vehicle, before driving. The windshield-washer reserve should be filled with a freeze-resistant cleaning solution.
- When you see plows, stay at least 200 feet behind them.
- Leave room for stopping. Brake early and carefully.
- Don't use cruise control. The short touch of your brakes to deactivate the cruise control can cause you to lose control of your vehicle.
- Pay attention. Look ahead to see what other vehicles are doing. That way you will know about any impending road or weather conditions.
- Watch your speed. Even if your car handles well in snow and ice, other drivers' cars may not. Drive according to the conditions: Don't exceed the speed limit and drive slowly in harsh conditions. Don't try to out-drive bad weather.

Keitges to compete in NAIA Indoor Championships

The Morningside College indoor track and field teams will compete in seven events at the 2009 National Association of Intercollegiate Athletics (NAIA) Indoor Track and Field Championships from March 5-7 in Johnson City, Tenn.

Athletes from the area who will be competing include junior Erin Keitges of Allen.

She will compete in the women's 3,000-meter run after she finished second at the Great Plains Athletic Conference (GPAC) Championships with a time of 10:20.70 to break the former Morningside record time of 10:24.52 that was set by Kara Nelson last season.

Keitges was also the runner-up in the 5,000-meter run at the GPAC

Championships with a school-record time of 18:00.82 which also broke her own former Mustang standard of 18:20.42 she set last season.

Keitges, who also qualified for nationals in the 3,000-meter run last year, ranks 16th among this year's qualifiers with the national leader being Caroline Karunde (9:40.25) of Wayland Baptist University.

Defending champion Jaime Canterbury of Azusa Pacific University ranks second among the qualifiers with a time of 9:42.26 while Stephanie Helm of the College of Idaho, who was last year's runner-up, is also in the field.

NAIA All-American status will be awarded to the top six finishers in all individual and relay events.

Child care provider in-service scheduled

Area child care providers are invited to attend an educational program to be held Saturday, March 21 at the Cuming County Courthouse Meeting Room in West Point.

Program topics include: "What is Your Safety Quotient?" by Lyle Tienken, Deputy Sheriff, Cuming County Sheriff Department; "Child Abuse & Neglect: It Can Happen to You" by Burdette Kratke, Safe for You Trainer for Early Childhood Training Center; and "Story Time and Beyond" by Lisa Benson, Program Advisor for Providers Network.

State statutes now requires child care providers to complete four (4) hours of training every five years on child abuse, SIDS and shaken baby syndrome. By attending this conference providers will complete two hours required by this new law filling the child abuse requirement. Participants will have the opportunity to view 10 or more exhibitors and visit with the other participants. Pam List, APRN of Franciscan Care Services will be available at 7:15 a.m. to do health evaluations required annually by Nebraska Department of Health & Human Services.

The educational programs will begin at 8:15 a.m. and conclude at 12:45 p.m.

"This is an opportunity for child area providers to continue their learning and receive four hours of in-service credit," said University of Nebraska-Lincoln Extension Educator, Debra Schroeder. These programs are sponsored by the UNL-Lincoln Extension in Cuming County, Northeast Early Childhood Professional Partnership, Early Childhood Training Center, and Cuming County Sheriff's Department.

Cost is $20 per person. Registrations are due Monday, March 16 to the UNL Extension Office in Cuming County, 200 South Lincoln, Box 285, West Point, Neb. 68788-0285 and limited to the first 50 registrations. Scholarships to cover cost of the registration fee are available from Northeast Early Childhood Partnership.

For more information, contact Extension Educator, Debra Schroeder at 402/372-6006.

STATE WINNER

Ashley Gregerson was recognized by the Nebraska VFW as third place state winner in the Patriots Pen essay contest. She and her parents, Mike and Tamie Gregerson, attended the awards ceremony at Grand Island on Jan. 31.

Each of the three essay winners and 11 Voice of Democracy speech winners was escorted by the honor guard into the awards area where they received their plaques and medallions. Later everyone enjoyed a meal, several speakers, and the top Patriots Pen and Voice of Democracy winners presenting their winning entry.

OPEN HOUSE PLANNED

In recognition of Darlene Fahrnholz's upcoming retirement after serving as secretary at Allen Consolidated Schools for 31 years, the Allen Education Association is holding an open house on March 22 from 2 to 4 in the School Commons. Everyone is invited to attend and offer thanks for her service to the school and good wishes for the future.

CHILI COOK-OFF

Upcoming Event: A Chili Cook-off where several cooks will be bringing ingredients to cook their own version of Allen's "best" chili. You will be able to watch them prepare their chili and hopefully get a peek at their "special secret" ingredients. Then you'll taste the results and vote for your favorite. The event will be sponsored by Trade Wind Energy and money raised will go to the Allen Gym Fund. Look for more information in the upcoming Allen News.

90TH BIRTHDAY

Rowena Ellis will celebrate her 90th birthday with an Open House on Saturday, March 7 from 1:30 - 3:30 p.m. at The Meadows in Norfolk. The event will be hosted by her family. No gifts requested. Cards will reach her at The

FUNDRAISER

This year's annual fundraiser for Allen Daycare and Preschool will be a spaghetti dinner held at the Allen Fire Hall, Sunday, March 8, from 11 a.m. to 2 p.m. The event will include a bake sale and basket sales, along with a free-will donation for the meal.

HEALTH FAIR

The Dixon County Health Fair will be held in Allen this year on Wednesday, March 18 from 1 - 3 p.m. The 9th -12th grade students will be attending the event along with about 175 students from the five County High Schools in attendance.

PLEASURE & PROFIT 4-H

The Pleasure & Profit 4-H club met on Feb.28 at the Allen School Resource Room. Acting President Christian Madsen called the meeting to order. Pledge of Allegiance and the 4-H Pledge were given. Acting Vice-President Brooklyn Madsen had roll call - "What are you doing today?" Secretary's report was given by Marissa Brentlinger. Acting Treasurer's report was given by Katelyn Madsen.

Old Business: Club dues $1 and Insurance $1. New Business: Quality Assurance, March 12 at 6:30 p.m. at the Northeast Station; Bake & Take, March 28-29; Public Speaking entries due April 27. Election of officers: President Christian Madsen, Vice-President Brooklyn Madsen, Secretary & News Reporter Marissa Brentlinger, Treasurer Katelyn Madsen.

Two new members have joined our 4-H club - Antoinette Miles and Victoria Miles.

The next meeting will be Saturday, April 18 at 9 a.m. to pick up trash on Highway 9 followed by a pizza party. The meeting was adjourned. Madsen's provided lunch. Marissa Brentlinger - Secretary.

Iowa author to present seminar at NECC

Iowa author Jean Tennant will present another Writer's Seminar through the continuing education department at Northeast Community College in Norfolk in March.

Tennant will present on Saturday, March 7, from 9 a.m. to 4 p.m. This seminar/workshop is for anyone interested in writing fiction or nonfiction, full-length and shorter works.

Topics to be reviewed include "Your Great Manuscript Idea," "Sharpening Your Writing Skills," "Finding a Publisher," and "Agents."

Cost of the workshop, with course number BUS 0118-02/09S, is $49.

Tennant has lived in the Midwest for more than three decades. She says she understands the unique challenges of writing for publication while living in a rural area. She has had seven novels and more than 200 short stories and newspaper articles published.

Her novels have been reprinted in several languages, and her short stories and articles have appeared in internationally published periodicals. Her latest work is the popular new anthology, Walking Beans Wasn't Something You Did With Your Dog, a nostalgic look at growing up in small towns in the Midwest. The anthology features two stories by Nebraska authors.

In addition to many pages of handouts, the participants of the Writers' Seminar are given the opportunity to submit their own work for critiquing. During this hands-on experience, Tennant will share her love of the writing process with those who aspire to see their own work published.

February Character Students of the Month pose with their certificates.

Character Students recognized

Wayne Elementary School held an assembly on Feb. 27 to honor February Students of the Month and recognize February birthdays.

A group of fourth grade girls presented an original play, entitled, "The Bully Blockers Save the Day."

The idea for the play originated in a situation that arose in school. A few students were bullying one of their classmates and a teacher observed some mean behaviors and reported it to the counselor. Ms. Sudmann met with the student and she acknowledged that some of the students had been mistreating her. Ms. Sudmann asked the girl for names of students who were never mean to the girl, and could be trusted to treat her kindly. This was how the "Bully Blocker Club" was born. The name of the book is derived from a children's book about peers sticking together to prevent bullying.

The group of nine girls met regularly with Ms. Sudmann to discuss how things were going, and how to handle bullying incidents. With the support of this peer group, things improved greatly for the girl. Their message to their classmates is, "It is not okay to be mean and we are not going to let that happen in our school."

One day, the girls came up with the idea of writing a play about the Bully Blockers Club. With a little help from Ms. Sudmann, they wrote the script, rehearsed the play and performed it for the grades K - 4 in the assembly.

Members of the cast of "The Bully Blockers Save the Day" are:

Morgan Barner, Felicity Jech, Hattie Phelps, Amelia Blankenau, Kiara Hochstein, Nicole Carrier, Natalie Muren, Taylor Granquist and Taylor Gamble.

Character Shines students for February included:

Kindergarten: Lutt - Reid Korth; Meyer - Dakota Spann; Heikes - Edwin Vahlkamp.

First: Colleen Janke - Alex Roberts; Maas - Simone Robinson; Ostrand - Madison Kaup.

Second: Suehl - Symphony Jareske; Wall - Meghan Battles; Jaixen - Hannah Leeper.

Third: Garvin - Kennedy Maly; Thomas - David Vergara; Hansen - Sarah Wibben.

Fourth grade: Kris Janke - Tyler Pecena; Spethman - Morgan Swanson - Ruskamp - Rylee Bessmer.

Girl Scout cookies are here

Make room in your cookie jar, it's time for Girl Scout Cookie delivery. 12,000 cookie selling Girl Scouts participated in their first statewide Cookie Program and sold nearly 2 million boxes of cookies to meet their 2009 goals.

Warehouses will be filled with Thin Mints, Caramel deLites, Shortbreads and the rest of the cookie lineup. Girl Scouts started their delivery to those who ordered cookies.

The 2009 Cookie Program marks the first time that the newly-merged Girl Scouts Spirit of Nebraska Council sold cookies as a statewide organization. In May 2008, the five existing Girl Scout councils across Nebraska merged to form one.

The cookie sale helps girls and young women practice valuable life skills like: planning, decision-making and customer service. All of the proceeds from the Spirit of Nebraska Cookie Product Program stay in Nebraska. The generated revenue supports the girls and their troops and the programs provided statewide by the council.

BJ Schellenberg, former Winside native, proudly displays the ball he sank for a hole in one last week at Primm Valley Lakes Course, Las Vegas, Nevada.

Winside native notches hole-in-one

You can almost smell spring is in the air. Of course it won't be official until the golf course opens up...well that's just my opinion anyway. For those of us golf fanatics that can't wait until spring, there are the random trips south to play a few days just to shake the cobwebs loose. In my case, it was west. Last week several area golf enthusiasts embarked on Primm Valley which sits about 45 miles west of Las Vegas and about 260 miles east of Los Angeles. Many of us had been to Primm before and some, several times. In fact, I experienced my first trip to Primm back in the early 2000's when a buddy forced my hand when I said I'd love to go but I didn't have the time.

For Pete's Sake
By: Kevin Peterson

That same buddy told me on several occasions that if I never made the time, I'd run out of time. Obviously there is a fine line between being a prophet and being full of well, something else. At that time I felt this friend was full of the latter but I went, had a good time and have gone back several times. Just a handful of years later that same friend turned out to be a prophet on his time analogy. If you don't make the time, you will run out of time. That genius of course was the late Marty Summerfield.

Now back to this trip. You all know Brian Bowers and you all know that he has about seven trillion relatives. One of those kin met up with us in Primm. Former Winside native and now current Phoenix resident BJ Schellenberg met up with our clan for the second straight year.

Here's the deal! We were playing our second round of three in a three-day stretch. BJ is teamed up with Randy Dunklau and Steve Meyer of Wayne and Don Osborne of Fairbury, NE (coincidentally, my home town).

They are on the 17th hole and BJ is first to the tee. He strikes his 7-iron toward the green on the 157-yard par three and watches it land a few feet in front of the hole and promptly roll in. Are you kidding me? Sure enough, His first ace. The proud son of Dallas and Marcella Schellenberg posts a 1 on the scorecard.

I'm still not sure how you watch that happen and then have to hit afterwards but Randy and Steve were both on the green with their tee shots. Funny, I played that same hole about 20 minutes before they did and I don't remember it being that easy. In fact my group of Dave Ley, Doug Rose and Courtney Berg managed just one tee shot on that par three green. Talking with the third foursome of Troy Harder, Kelly Hansen, Phil Griess and Reggie Yates, they also didn't remember it being as simple as that illustrious group made it look.

They usually say what happens in Vegas stays in Vegas. This however, was too good to keep to myself.

Looking Ahead in Wayne

By Lowell Johnson, City Administrator

Next Council meeting

The next regular city council meeting will be held Tuesday, March 17 at 5:30 p.m. in the council room at 310 Pearl Street.

2009 Electric Rates

The city has received notice of a 21 percent rate increase for 2009 from Western Area Power for the wholesale electric power we buy from them and NPPD has raised their wholesale power rate for 2009 by seven percent.

The council has decided to leave the rates for Wayne retail customers unchanged for 2009 and allow the emergency cash reserve to adjust if needed to any operational loss. Since public utilities are operated at break-even cost, the long term goal of the mayor and council has been to maintain the necessary cash reserve for emergencies and to prepare for a potential takeover of all plant from the current NPPD lease in 2022 if necessary.

Don't Buy It

The biggest help the Wayne rate payers can be during the 2009 rate freeze is to conserve electric use on the hot summer days when the cost of power is the highest of the year.

It will reduce your costs and the costs of the electric system also. We can all help reduce costs by adding a load control switch on our AC if we don't have one, replace the old AC with a 14 SEER heat pump, better attic ventilation and higher thermostat settings.

Call Gene Hansen at the power plant to ask about incentive payments.

Discussion of illegal aliens heated

By Ed Howard
Statehouse Correspondent
The Nebraska Press Association

It was a little surprising when Gov. Dave Heineman ducked questions about a move to repeal a law that allows some illegal aliens to qualify for in-state tuition rates at public colleges and universities.

Sen. Charlie Janssen of Fremont caused a ruckus during floor debate when he tried to amend a bill, aimed at curbing the employment of people in the country illegally, so that it would also erase the controversial in-state tuition policy.

Janssen withdrew the amendment, at least for awhile, after several of his colleagues said that offering it was, in plain language, a lousy thing to do. The Judiciary Committee had worked on the provisions of the main bill for almost two years. It wasn't fair, critics said, to jeopardize it to fight another round in a continuing war over the tuition law.

When asked whether he favored Janssen's amendment, Heinemann stepped back from the plate.

"Let them work their will," Heineman said of the Legislature. "What?"

Heineman vetoed the in-state tuition law when the Unicameral first sent it to him. Lawmakers overrode his veto and enacted the measure.

He made in-state tuition for qualified illegals an issue in the 2006 Republican primary when he defeated then-Congressman Tom Osborne. Heineman cited his opposition to the law. Osborne did not favor its repeal.

The law allows illegal immigrants, who have been in the United States for at least three years and graduated from a Nebraska high school, to pay in-state tuition rates.

The governor has consistently made clear his opposition to the existing law, saying it is bad policy that sends the wrong message to virtually everyone.

So, what policy or political considerations figured in his decision to let a softball float by him at that news conference?

Otherwise: The original bill, which was given first-round approval as this column went to press, appeared to have more good intentions than teeth.

It seems a shame that what is generally regarded as the world's best criminal justice system sometimes seems wasted ... on criminals.

Most of us are familiar with a horror story or two about some guiltier-than-Dillinger dirt bag getting away with anything from killing to stealing Girl Scout cookies.

An unfortunate result is that some specific, horrendous cases can lead to a misunderstanding of our system in general. It's especially disturbing, for example, to hear someone say of a defendant: "He didn't prove that he was innocent!"

The Founding Fathers most specifically made clear that, unlike monarchies of their day, the American government would have to prove the guilt of those accused of crimes.

When accused in a criminal court, you are not required to prove anything. You can't even be required to say anything. It is the responsibility of the government to prove, beyond reasonable doubt, that you are guilty.

The men who wrote the Constitution, and the Bill of Rights, had witnessed the corruption and suffering that results when an authoritarian government can snatch an individual and say: "Prove you didn't do this!" They wanted better for their fellow Americans.

Weekly Legislative Update

Greetings from the Unicameral! Two of my bills have been advanced from committee to General File, which is the first round of floor

Legislative Update
By: State Senator Bob Giese, District #17

debate. With the exception of priority bills, those bills placed on General File are heard in the order they emerge from committees, so it could be several weeks before I have the opportunity to introduce them to the full Legislature.

The first bill, LB 412, is a clean-up measure that would align deadlines for Sanitary Improvement District (SID) elections with other mail-in elections. LB 412 was heard by the Urban Affairs Committee, and was advanced to the floor last week on a unanimous vote.

My second bill to advance to General File was LB 544, which would require the Secretary of State's office to publish a uniform elections guide for election workers at the precinct level. While the Secretary of State currently publishes a variety of resources for our local election officials, many neighboring states, including South Dakota and Iowa, have some form of uniform guide available online.

LB 544 would provide our county clerks and election commissioners with a valuable tool for training poll workers, and ensure Nebraska voters that their elections are being conducted in a fair and efficient manner. LB 544 was heard by the Government, Military & Veterans Affairs Committee, and was advanced to the floor last week on a unanimous vote. I look forward to advocating on behalf of both LB 544 and LB 412 before the full Legislature.

One date that has been circled in red on my calendar in March 10th, when LB 334, my priority bill, is scheduled for hearing before the Transportation and Telecommunications Committee. LB 334 would prioritize the completion of the Nebraska Expressway system, including the improvement of Highway 35 between Norfolk and South Sioux City. My office has been reaching out to communities throughout Nebraska which would be affected by completion of the expressway system, and we hope to have a big turnout next Tuesday!

As always, I would encourage you to contact me if you have any questions or simply have an opinion on legislation before the Unicameral. Feel free to call my office at (402) 471-2716, send me an e-mail at bgiese@leg.ne.gov, or stop by in person any time you're in Lincoln. With Girls State Basketball this week, my office is looking forward to visits from fans of the South Sioux City Cardinals and Newcastle Raiders!

Community minded

Trisha Hansen, president of the Wayne County Jaycees, left, spoke during last week's Chamber Coffee, which was hosted by the group. Hansen told of some of the activities the group is involved with throughout the year and highlighted a number of fund-raising activities planned in upcoming months. The group is open to anyone under the age of 40 years and is currently seeking new members.

CENTER CIRCLE CLUB

Dianne Jaeger hosted the Feb. 26 Center Circle Club with 10 members and four guests present. Guests included Georgia Janssen, Carol Jorgensen, Gail Jaeger, and Carson Brogren. Club President Claire Brogren called the meeting to order. Roll call was a Valentine exchange. Shirley Bowers took roll call and read the minutes of the last meetings. Dianne Jaeger read a thank you from Irene Fork and her family for serving at Ed Fork's funeral. A donation was received from the family. Dianne Jaeger gave the treasurer's report.

Members discussed the club scrap book and possible plans for their summer trip. Dianne Jaeger will check into several trip ideas.

Members voted to make a cash donation to the Wayne County Fair children's department open class and it was presented to Georgia Janssen.

Hearts was played with prizes going to Georgia Janssen, Betty Miller, and Betty Andersen. The birthday song was sung for Arlene Wills.

The next meeting will be March 19 at the home of Janice Jaeger. Roll call will be "Tell where your ancestors came from and wear something green if you are Irish".

RECIPE DEADLINE

The Winside Auditorium Renovation Committee is still in need of your recipes for their fund-raising cookbook. Recipes can be dropped off at the Village Clerk's office, the Lied Winside Public Library, Oberle's Market, and Winside State Bank. The deadline for recipes to be turned in is March 31.

DENTAL HEALTH MONTH

Winside Elementary concluded February Dental Health month with a visit from the school nurse, Mrs. Tricia North. Mrs. North demonstrated how to brush teeth and also discussed a healthy diet. She gave Kindergarten and first graders toothbrushes.

TECHNICAL LEARNING

Winside Elementary technology instructor Mrs. Barb Kollath taught the fifth graders how to use technology to create letter people alphabet books for the Kindergarteners. The fifth graders created each letter of the alphabet by twisting and turning their bodies. A picture showing each people letter appears in the book which was presented to the Kindergarten class. All letters A to Z are shown.

Wayne County Spelling Bee winners are recognized. Finalists for the Wayne County Spelling Bee, left to right, include: Zane Jensen (1st place winner and representing Wayne County in Omaha), Jayd Roberts, Hanna Gamble, and Morgan Carson. The Spelling Bee was held at the Winside Public School Library.

Mrs. Tricia North, school nurse, showed elementary students how to brush their teeth.

Winside Kindergarten students accepting the Letter People Alphabet Book include in the front row: Jacqueline Escalante, Jaden Rastede, Alli Hurlbert, Toby Heinemann, Dominique Reed, Cody North, and Kylie Cautrell; Fifth graders in back row: Brandi Mann, Marcos Escalera, Cody Buckendahl, Jadyn Prince, Sophie Milenkovich, Jami Jaeger, and Kindergarten teacher Mrs. Laura Straight.

The Winside Elementary February Good Listener trophy was awarded to the third graders. Pictured in front: Tori Koehler, Victoria Buresh, Alyssa Brogren, Fauneil Ober, Sarah Wolfe, and MaKinah Stenwall; middle: Trey Meis, Brandon Watters, Gage Wendte, Catherine Thompson, Christian Cautrell, and Kiersten Brader; back: Dylan Brogren, JaShaun Vyborny, Trevor Lenton, Josh Greunke, Garrett Schafer, Caleb Kampa, MJ Montgomery, and teacher Mr. Tim Stubbs.

Optimists hold NOW dinner

The Wayne Optimist Club held a "NOW" Dinner (New Optimists Wanted) at Our Savior Luther Church Social Hall on Feb. 24 with 12 members and 11 guests present.

Optimist members provided the meal for the guests present. The Rev. Bill Koeber gave the invocation and President Bob Keating introduced the members and guest.

Lynette and Doug Krie, Kayla Hahn, Mike Varley, Cindy Von Fange and Phyllis Rahn shared information about the club. Bob Wriedt gave an invitation to join and Cindy Von Fange did the New Member Induction. The evening closed with the Optimist creed.

New members inducted were Stephanie Reynolds, Kim Dunklau, Cathy Varley, Meaghan Bode, Barb and Byron Heier and Loren Parks.

The Optimist Club meets the second and fourth Tuesday at Tacos and More at 6 p.m. Anyone interested in joining is asked to contact President Bob Keating at 375-5212, a board member or just come to a meeting. The goal of an Optimist is to 'Bring Out The Best In Kids'.

Be sure to 'count your blessings' Engagements

As a child, I remember my Grandmother reminding me to "count my blessings." In today's economy, it is especially important to remember to be appreciative of all we have as we hear the negative reports of the economy across the country and in our own communities.

Grandma raised her family during the Great Depression as she and my grandfather worked hard to make ends meet on their farm. My mom is now 90 and has many memories of growing up during those difficult times. We have much to learn from those who lived during that era. It would be a good time to visit with family members, friends, or neighbors to see how they coped with tough economic times. We have much to learn from them.

Mental health experts agree with Grandma's concept of counting blessings. They report that taking time daily to appreciate what we have results in better mental and physical health. The mental health benefits are increased as we share or validate the things we appreciate. Very often, that means thanking those who are providing the things we appreciate.

Jane Armstrong
Cedar County

Whether we are facing financial stresses or health challenges, we need to focus on the important things we have rather than thinking about what we do not have or may not have in the future. Very often, what we do have and appreciate, such as time with family and friends, is much more important than what we may be having to give up. For example, if you need to make family budget cuts, you may decide to spend less on entertainment. That may mean fewer movies, concerts, computer game purchases or similar expenses.

However, you may find more family time together as you enjoy playing board games, gardening together or reading. Your local library can provide great entertainment in the forms of books or movies. Your local UNL Extension program can provide inexpensive 4-H manuals so you can learn new skills and examine everything from cooking and home environment to robotics, entrepreneurship, wildlife or any of the 166 project topics.

Another benefit from challenging times can occur if you take time to prioritize the things that are most important to you. If time, money or other resources are limited, you must think carefully about what is most important to your family and be sure the most important needs are met. My sister's family has always used "family council" time for each member of the family to share their opinions and suggestions for everything from naming the new dog, planning family vacations, and deciding on budgets and activities. Not only does this help in prioritizing, but it strengthens family relations.

In short, being appreciative of what you have and prioritizing your family's needs will help you make good decisions and keep a positive attitude. As your family works together to meet the challenges of today's economy, remember the resources available from UNL Extension. For financial management resources as well as information on building family strengths, contact your UNL Extension Office, where you can Know How and Know Now.

Thomsen — Wagner

Craig and Tammie Thomsen have announced the engagement of their daughter, Jessica Marie, to Drew Wagner, son of Mr. James Wagner and Ms. Kay Wagner.

The bride-to-be graduated from Wayne High School in 2004 and is currently attending St. Luke's College in Sioux City, Iowa, majoring in Radiology. She works for Family Healthcare of Siouxland, while attending school.

Her fiance graduated from Wayne State College in 2006 and is currently teaching K-5th grade Physical Education in South Sioux City Community Schools while working on his masters in Administration through Wayne State College. He is also a member of the 185th Air Refueling Wing in Sioux City, Iowa.

The couple is planning a July 25, 2009 wedding at the First United Methodist Church in Wayne.

Vrooman-Hix

Jim and Terri Vrooman of Atkinson and Dave and Karla Hix of Wayne have announced the engagement of their children Kimberly Anne and Ryan David.

Kimberly, a 2004 graduate of West Holt High School and a December 2008 graduate of Wayne State College, received a Bachelor's Degree in Elementary Education and Early Childhood Education. She is currently working as a substitute teacher in the Atkinson area.

Ryan, a 2004 graduate of Wayne High and December 2008 graduate of Wayne State College, received a Bachelor's Degree in Sport Management. He is employed at Security National Bank in Laurel.

Kimberly is the granddaughter of Clara Vrooman and the late Harold Vrooman of Atkinson and Teresa Bredar of Omaha.

Ryan is the grandson of Phyllis Hix and John and Darlene Bowers, all of Wayne.

The couple is planning a May 30, 2009 wedding in Atkinson.

Minerva Club gathers

Lila Brown hosted Minerva Club at the Wayne Senior Center on Feb. 23. Twelve members answered roll call by telling of an old or present day cold remedy.

President Phyllis Rahn opened the meeting with a patriotic quiz, which the members passed with flying colors. She also shared historic happenings from the Q-125 calendar.

Minutes were read and approved. Donna Hansen gave the treasurer's report. The hospitality committee reported remembering Joyce Mitchell with a gift after her recent surgery.

Historian Hollis Frese read minutes from March 18, April 14 and May 6 of 1929. It was interesting to learn that the cost of a Minerva Party was $3 and $5 was donated to the Nebraska Children's Home. Music Week was observed at the Country Club House which, at that time, was out by the airport area but then was moved to the present Country Club location.

Lila Brown's program was about medicine during the era around 1884. It was thought that blood in the body flowed back and forth but Dr. Harvey set forth the present day concept of blood circulation. Pasteur and Koch developed the theory of how germs determined a person's health. Dr. Crawford's discovery of ether opened a new avenue for surgery. The State Health Department already existed in 1880 and the concept of heredity played a role in doctoring.

Lila also shared photos of tools used back then for amputation, pumping the stomach and drilling into the skull. We are all thankful our modern day medicine practices.

The Monday, March 9 meeting will be hosted by Margaret Anderson at the Wayne Senior Center.

Briefly Speaking

Acme Club discusses Q-125 activities

WAYNE — Verdelle Reeg hosted the Acme Club on March 2 at Tacos & More. Eight members answered roll call.

Betty Wittig conducted the business meeting. Discussion followed on Wayne's Q-125 celebration.

The next meeting will be held Monday, March 16 at The Oaks. The meeting was adjourned and was followed by a program by Verdelle Reeg. She discussed the children's poet, Eugene Field.

Women's Club learns of quilted postcards

WAYNE — The Wayne Women's Club met Feb. 13 in the North Meeting Room of the Wayne City Auditorium.

The program was presented by Mollie Spieker, who presented information on quilted postcards.

Hostesses were Martha Svoboda and Donna Shufelt.

The next meeting will be held Friday, March 13 at the North Meeting Room of the City Auditorium. The program will be about wood carving.

Bible Scholar Dr. Tim Gray coming to Norfolk

Dr. Tim Gray, popular Catholic author and Bible scholar who has unlocked the mystery of the Bible for the hundreds of thousands of people, is coming to Norfolk on Saturday, March 28 to present The Bible Timeline seminar at Sacred Heart Parish Center.

Dr. Gray is director of the Denver Catholic Biblical School, President of Denver's Augustine Institute, and professor of Scripture at St. John Vianney-Seminary.

"Many Christians have picked up their Bibles, resolving to read them cover to cover, only to become frustrated after a month or so because they've lost the story," explained Jeff Cavins, creator of The Great Adventure Bible Studies. "I discovered that losing the story is a result of losing the narrative thread of the Bible."

The Bible Timeline focuses on teaching people to learn the narrative books of the Bible, to get the "big picture", before they begin a deeper study of scripture.

Dr. Tim Gray has taught the The Great Adventure studies to hundreds of thousands of people over the years, both through live seminars and video presentations. He has teamed-up with Jeff Cavins and Sarah Christmyer to launch the new Great Adventure Bible Study Learning System. The learning system builds on the seminar and fills a demand for programs that go deeper into the story of as read in Scripture.

"I have gone through other Catholic studies and they were lovely, but they just scratched the surface. In The Great Adventure, all of the stories came to life and were connected in the plan of our salvation," said Crystal Crocker, a participant in a parish study in Minnesota.

Great Adventure Seminars are

Immanuel Lutheran Ladies learn of upcoming events

Immanuel Ladies Aid met Feb. 19. Pastor Bertrand opened the meeting with prayer and led the Bible Study. It was titled "The Journey of Life" taken from the LWML Quarterly. He closed with prayer.

Mrs. Lloyd Roeber, vice president, conducted the business meeting. The minutes of the December meeting were read and approved. The treasurer's report was given, as was the year-end report. Correspondence was given.

It was decided to send a gift to Camp Luther. Neva Echtenkamp gave the visitation report.

The Spring Workshop will be held at First Trinity of Altona on Tuesday, April 21 with registration starting at 9 a.m.

Neva Echtenkamp served lunch. The meeting closed with The Lord's Prayer and table prayer.

held all over the country, attracting an average of 300-500 people per weekend event. Ascension Press, the publisher of the program, reports that it is adding 3-4 new parishes every day that are picking up its foundational Bible study, The Bible Timeline.

To register for this event or for more information, please contact Peter Kennedy at 402-553-5524 ext. 5.

TOPS conducts weekly meeting

TOPS NE#200 met Feb. 25, in the boardroom of Providence Medical Center with 11 TOPS and one KOPS attending. Leader Twilla Kessinger requested the reciting of the TOPS and KOPS Pledges respectively.

The secretary's report was read by Paula Haisch and a correction on the time for the dinner at 6 p.m. not 6:30 p.m. and the installation of officers at the Coffee Shoppe in Wayne.

The treasurer's report was not given as the Treasurer, Tracy Henschke, was absent.

Roll Call today was to "Remember the short inspirational message" to be given until the end of Lent and a copy of it to be collected by Pam Barelman to print for distributing to all members.

Weekly Stats for TOPS showed Shelley Frevert was the Best Loser. She received her coupon.

Weekly Stats for KOPS showed No Best Loser.

Twilla Kessinger will celebrate her birthday on March 4. Also remember that Twilla will have her gallbladder removed at Providence Medical Center on the March 10.

Results of the January and February towel contest indicated that first place was Paula Haisch for the most pounds lost and she won six towels of her choice.

Dee Rebensdorf won second place for pounds lost and first place for most points collected and won six towels. Twilla Kessinger won second place on most points obtained and received four towels and Shelley Frevert was third place for pounds lost and received four towels. The ladies also received a bottle of dish soap dressed like an angel.

A new contest for March will be started next week and under the direction of Pam Barelman.

Debating the length of prison sentences

I'm sure most of you are like me and are more than ready for the predicted warming trend. We just had to have a few more inches of snow first, didn't we? I know I'm heading for the car wash later today; the salt and gunk are kind of thick on the Escape.

We just came back from a quick trip to northeast Nebraska, and of course, your snow piles are higher than ours. But the gas is cheaper; we filled up in West Point for $1.78, and the station on highway 77 at Ceresco said $1.99. That's quite a difference.

The Big Farmer has a retirement hobby called watching the Legislature. He can watch it live on a local cable network. This morning, they are debating the bill that would give the "Beatrice 6" a huge sum of money for all the years they were wrongly imprisoned. I have mixed feelings about it, as I do for many of the proposals.

Supposedly, they are to get to #307, which would change life sentences in prison for those who are under the age of 18 at the time they commit a murder. It would change it to 25 years for those under 14, and 50 years for anyone under 18. This would mean they would also be eligible for parole, after half their sentence has been served.

There is a young man in prison

By: Pat Meierhenry

who shot and killed his mother at the age of 13. As the trial proceeded, it was learned that he had been abused by an older brother and his mother, an alcoholic, had ignored the abuse. That is very sad.

But there is also in prison, for life, a woman who was 17 when she shot former neighbors of ours at Murdock, and even wrote in a diary that she loved doing it and would like to do it again. Should she ever be free? I know nothing about her childhood and parenting, or lack of parenting. But there is something very twisted in her mind.

As long as we are talking about prisons and sentencing, what about the maximum of one year and $1,000 for motor vehicle homicide, typically while running a stop sign or some such violation? We witnessed this a few years ago, and were appalled to learn that the driver, on a suspended license, with no insurance, would get just one year for causing the death of a mother of two young boys. I know that these things can happen, and I pray every day that it would not happen to me, and that it can be an accident. But I saw that driver come across the highway without stopping, or even slowing down. I also saw him exhibit no remorse at the scene, and it has haunted me since.

Our legislators have tremendous responsibilities; sometimes, I wonder if they realize how tremendous when they decide to run for the seat. I guess more than anything, they need our prayers. And, as long as we are praying, I am giving thanks for the news that a dear friend whom I visited yesterday has had a cancer-free scan and blood work, following surgery and chemo. She has no hair, but she also has no cancer! Praise God!

Nebraska 4-H Camps now open for registration

Nebraska youth looking for a fun summer camp to attend need look no further than Nebraska 4-H Camps late May-early August near Gretna, Alma or Halsey, the director of Nebraska 4-H camp operations said.

Registrations now are being accepted for the Nebraska 4-H

Learn more about swine reproduction at this year's seminar

For those who have questions about the latest information on advanced swine reproduction, a free March 20 seminar has the answers. The seminar will be at the Northeast Community College Utility Building, 801 E. Benjamin Ave., in Norfolk. Registration begins at 9:30 a.m. and the program begins at 10 a.m.

The seminar is intended for producers interested in learning about new technology and management methods. Knowing these things will help achieve a high and efficient sow reproductive rate, said Don Levis, University of Nebraska-Lincoln Extension swine specialist at the Northeast Research and Extension Center at Norfolk.

Topics and keynote speakers include: enhancing reproductive performance by using parity segregation and strategies to monitor and manage diseases related to reproduction, Rodney Baker, senior clinician at Iowa State University; case studies involving identification and solving of reproductive problems, Levis, UNL; the ins and outs of air filters installed in your facility -- fine tune your ventilation system to save energy and money, David Stender, field swine specialist at ISU; what's in the swine news -- NAIS sow tags, Premise ID, PQA Plus, Site Assessment, COOL, TQA, Richard Ness, extension educator at UNL.

No registration fee is required, but those who want to reserve a lunch must send in registration. Call (402) 370-4000 or mail registration to Northeast Research and Extension Center, 601 E. Benjamin Ave., Suite 104, Norfolk, NE 68701-0812. Call early to reserve a lunch as a meal count needs to be known by March 16.

For more information, call Levis at (402) 370-4016 or e-mail dlevis1@unl.edu.

The conference is sponsored by UNL and ISU Extension and the Nebraska Pork Producers Association.

UNL Extension is part of the university's Institute of Agriculture and Natural Resources.

Camps and Centers, which are open to all youth. Campers who register before April 1 receive a 10 percent discount.

The camps are open to a variety of audiences and age groups and offer an assortment of camp lengths, interest areas, locations and prices. There are over 40 day and overnight camping programs and trips scheduled for summer 2009.

"All Nebraska youth can enjoy a 4-H camp this summer," said Jill Walahoski, director of 4-H camp operations. "4-H Summer Camp is a place for anyone to discover, learn and grow. Whether their interests are in tubing down the Niobrara, navigating a robot with GPS, or zipping down a zip-line, there are a lot of things for anyone to learn about."

Facilities are modern and well-maintained, and staff is employed and trained by University of Nebraska-Lincoln Extension, which through the 4-H youth development program has been offering 4-H camps for over 50 years, Walahoski said.

All three sites are ACA Accredited which means each operation meets over 300 standards established by the American Camp Association.

"The Nebraska 4-H Camps and Centers through their strong affiliation with UNL provide an outstanding camping experience for all youth," Walahoski said.

The Eastern Nebraska 4-H Center near Gretna is a 30-minute drive from Omaha and Lincoln. It is just eight miles south of Gretna and shares 350 acres with Schramm State Park and the Ak-Sar-Ben Aquarium and Outdoor Education Center.

The South Central 4-H Center is on the north shore of Harlan County Reservoir, the state's second largest reservoir.

The Nebraska State 4-H Camp near Halsey is located in the Nebraska National Forest, meshing with the state's scenic Sandhills. For more information about the 4-H Camps, to register online or obtain a registration form, visit the 4-H Camps' Web site at <http://4h.unl.edu/camps>, call Jason Villalobos at (402) 472-2846, e-mail jvillalobos2@unl.edu or contact a local UNL Extension office.

Nebraska 4-H is part of UNL Extension in the university's Institute of Agriculture and Natural Resources.

THANK YOU

The Family of Jerry Allvin would like to thank everyone for the cards, visits, hugs and food brought to our home. Special thanks for the care of Faith Regional Hospice Services and to Pastor Winter and Pastor Rosenthal for their comforting words. God Bless Each One of You. Judy Allvin and Family

Thank you to everyone for the cards, gifts, telephone calls and greetings as we celebrated our 60th Wedding anniversary. Special thanks to our kids, grandkids and great grandkids for the beautiful flowers and the wonderful meal. Milford and Myrna Roebor

I WANT to thank my family and friends for all the prayers, cards, visits and phone calls during my stay at the Faith Regional Hospital. Herman Oetken

Thanks to everyone for their thoughts and prayers after losing our beloved Martha Krueger. Thanks for your kind expressions of flowers, cards and memorials. Thanks to Premier Estates for her care the last 4 years and also to Hospice for all your caring ways. Thanks to Hasemann Funeral Home, Scott & Diane for your kindness. Thanks to Rev. Steckling for your comforting words, to Heather Steckling and Darci Frahm for the beautiful music and to the St. Paul's Lutheran Ladies Aid for serving lunch. Everything was appreciated and God Bless. Donna Robinson-niece Marlene Dahlkoetter-friend

Thank you to Brian for the trip to the hospital in the blizzard, the doctors and nurses in the ER that night, the ambulance driver & staff for the safe trip to Mercy Medical, the doctors and nurses at Mercy during and after the operation, the nurses and staff and PT people during recovery, and the safe trip back to Wayne in the ambulance (on a cold windy winter day they make it look so easy). Thanks to the doctors and nursing staff at Providence for my recovery care and the PT for wonderful training and advice, the Pastors from Grace and the Sisters at Providence for all the kind words and prayers. Thanks to my wife & family for keeping everything in tact while I was gone and for all the visits, cards, and phone calls from friends and family. And again, thanks to Brian for keeping the roads open and the cows fed. Thanks to All of you and may God Bless. Lyle Grono
