The Market Seller (Jacob Abraham) is questioned by Isabella Silva-Goos, the prosecuting attorney in the case of Jack Climber, as Judge Jenessa Kardell studies the evidence. The mock trial, organized by Cheryl Connolly, helped fifth grade students learn about the judicial system.

A number of city projects are submitted for federal stimulus funds by providing tax rebates, mortgage assis- stimulus funding to the projects on the not. tance and other financial incentives to offer relief. With hopes of collecting federal stimulus funds, the following Wayne projects were submitted: city well #11, the new waste water plant, the UV new installation, 10th Street, 1st Street and the Phase II Trail for stimulus funding.

Lowell Johnson, Wayne city administrator, notes the stimulus funds allocation process used by the states is as follows:

Waste Water Facilities: 1. Each year the Nebraska Department of Environmental Control prepares a "Needs List" of future waste water projects being planned in the state that will need funding assistance. Each city's project is given state priority points for the following: a. the percent of that city's population in the last US Census that are Low and Moderate Income persons b. the urgency of need to build the project based on the degree the facility is out of compliance with the discharge permit c. the city's ability to finance the project d. whether or not the city is under Administrative Order to build a new proj-

Needs List from the highest priority down the list until the money ran out. 4. The Wayne waste water plant was not considered "Shovel Ready" because a plan wasn't selected or designed yet and also it was too far down the Needs List of priorities to get funded. 5. The UV system was bid out last November and had four things against it: a. the commitment to build was too early b. the contracts with Severn Trent and Penro did not contain the required federal Davis Bacon minority and union labor requirements that must be followed to be eligible for federal stimulus funds c. the UV plant was ordered without a requirement for American steel d. Wayne is too far down the priority list to be funded with the limited amount of stimulus funds sent to Nebraska.

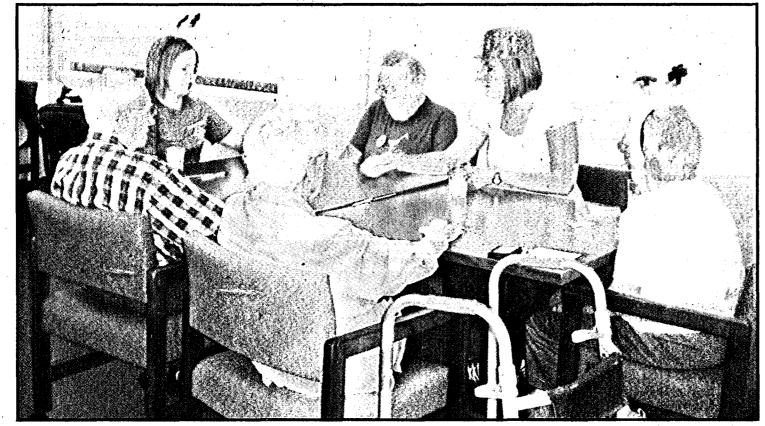

Water System Projects: 1.Well #11 is not designed yet and not shovel ready 2. Nebraska cities with an actual shortage of water or with a nitrate contamination got much higher priority points because of their emergency status. > Streets and Highway Projects: This money has not been allocated yet. 1. $156 million of the $235 million in stimulus funds coming to Nebraska for roads will be kept by NDOR for state projects. Omaha and Lincoln get most of the remainder. However $9 million will go to counties for local projects and $19 million will be allocated to First Class cities like Wayne for street projects.

> 2. That allocation process for cities of the First Class will be as follows: a. NDOR has asked the League of Municipalities to review the list of all street projects submitted to NDOR by Nebraska First Class cities and select the projects to fund with stimulus funds b. The League Board has asked the Nebraska city administrators to establish a set of criteria to allocate the stimulus funds c. that process is just getting started 3. Weber earns Donald A. Lentz Outstanding Bandmaster Award

Brad Weber of Wayne earned the "Donald A. Lentz Outstanding Bandmaster Award" at the Nebraska State Bandmasters Association annual awards banquet in Lincoln on Friday, March 6.

The award is the NSBA's highest award and is intended to recognize an individual who has made an outstanding contribution throughout his or her career.

The honor came after a number of nomination letters were sent to the NSBA on Weber's behalf.

Among the quotes from the letters are the following:

"He pushes each group to achieve their best and never settle for mediocrity." "Mr. Weber has built a musical dynasty where all students are successful and are part of a winning band tradition." "He instilled in my children a discipline and confidence which continues to affect their lives to this very day." "Brad Weber has the capacity to make every band member feel that they are an integral part of the 'team' ". "I pay him the highest compliment I believe a teacher can be paid - he made me better than I thought I could be."

Following the announcement of this award, Weber was elected to the Nebraska State Bandmasters Association Executive Board as President on March, 7 for a three-year term consisting of the first year as "President Elect", the second year as "President" and the third year as "Past President." This is the third time Weber has served on the NSBA Executive Board including 1985-1988 as Secretary, 1990-2001 as Membership Chair and once on the Nebraska Music Educators Association

Brad Weber

Executive Board from 1992-1994 as Chair of Band Affairs.

Weber is a graduate of Randolph Public High School, Wayne State College and the University of Wyoming. Weber graduated from Wayne State in 1977 with a bachelor's degree in fine arts in education with a major in instrumental music and a performing concentration of percussion and clarinet. He earned a Master of Arts in Music in 1992.

He is employed as an instrumental music

Sawyer Brown will entertain on Aug. 1 at the Wayne County Fair.

Wayne County Fair slated for July 30-Aug. 2; Sawyer Brown to be featured entertainment

Save the date of Thursday, July 30 through Sunday, Aug. 2 for the Wayne County Fair. Saturday night's big entertainment this year is the popular Sawyer Brown. The local band, Leafy Spurge, is opening for Sawyer Brown.

Thinking about the popular band, Sawyer Brown's world is filled with dirt roads, small towns, little thrills, tiny moments and intimate connections but mostly, it is about the recognition of how major those things really can be; every day people seeing themselves in each other, the five men from Apopka, Florida and their songs. "We came out of the notion we were there to entertain people, to make sure everybody had a good time," concedes creative catalyst Mark Miller, known as much for his hyperkinetic performances as for writing, "Some Girls Do," "The Dirt Road," "Hard to Say," "This Time," "The Boys & Me," "Thank God For You," and "The Walk." You're looking at a bunch of blue collar people, who were raised to put the work in, to make sure the people are satisfied and who really love being on that stage and seeing the people letting it all go. Somebody once told me, 'If you can't have fun at a Sawyer Brown show, you can't have fun...' I don't know but it would sure be nice if it was true."

After 23 years, over 3,500 shows, gold and platinum albums, a smattering of awards and more long odds than any act you can think of, Sawyer Brown remains a band you can count on. Never ones to get above their raising, they have a deep appreciation for the heart of small towns, rural realities, lives lived in common places and truths so basic they go unnoticed.

"It was a different time," remembers bassist Jim Scholten. "People thought we were too different, too outside the box and it took a lot to get us happening. But we

At the March 16 court appearance, Larry Washington appeared in person on his own behalf. Judge Richard Krepela presided. Wayne County Deputy Attorney Amy Weiblehaus called Dr. Lauri Zink of Wayne Veterinary Clinic to the stand. Dr. Zink verified that Brown and Washington's three dogs were impounded by the city of Wayne for the dog attack and kept at the vet clinic. She noted she treated Gehner's dog. It was stated the bill came to $263.76 (including late fees) that the clinic was not reimbursed.

Washington asked Dr. Zink if they could have picked up their dogs sooner. Dr. Zink noted they couldn't because the dogs were impounded by the city. Washington commented to the judge that he told Gehner he would pay him, but that his story changed each time and each time it was more money.

Weiblehaus gave the judge receipts from Gehner for the original amount he paid for his dog, which was $350. Brown had already paid $592.50 so the judge said she could request credit at a future hearing.

On Monday, Washington was sentenced to a $500 fine, $44 court costs, $972 restitution to the city, $263.76 costs to the Vet Clinic and $300 to Gehner. Washington has until June 15 to pay the amount in full or be in contempt of court. The judge added that if the fine is paid in 60 days, Washington can request credit on the $500 fine.

On Dec., 16, 2008, the State of Nebraska Department of Natural Resources (DNR) issued a preliminary determination that the Lower Platte River Basin, including tributaries, is fully appropriated. Nine Natural Resources Districts (NRDs) - including all eight in the lower Platte - recently concluded their review of this determination. As provided by statute, the 90 days following the preliminary determination are to be used by DNR for hearings and receiving evidence and for the NRDs and DNR to consult water users and stakeholders regarding the preliminary find-

The NRDs worked closely with DNR during this period of time, engaging in an open dialogue, exchanging information, and working together to ensure the final determination is based on the best science and is consistent with the regulations. Although the NRDs previously shared this information with DNR, they presented their findings at the final hearing in Fremont on March 12.

These findings include the follow-

1. The methodology used in the 2009 Annual Evaluation is inconsistent with DNR's regulations because it: (a) includes impacts for wells outside the hydrologically connected area; and (b) assesses the 65/85 rule against a junior appropriator, rather than the most junior appropriator.

2. The 2009 Annual Evaluation substantially over-estimates the current levels of groundwater pumping in the basin.

3. The 2009 Annual Evaluation utilizes an out-dated methodology - known as the Jenkins method - to calculate stream depletions outside the ELM area. This methodology is not the best available science.

Clarification of dog ordinance among council agenda items

By Clára Osten, Of the Herald

Clarification of several items in the city's vicious dog ordinance highlighted discussion during Tuesday's meeting of the Wayne City Council.

Following a late December incident in which three dogs were euthanized following an attack, the council and Wayne Police Chief Lance Webster discussed the need for several additions to the current ordinance.

Discussion centered on the city's responsibility for having the dog euthanized and the owner's right to have the dog removed from the city or euthanized by a veterinarian of his or her choice. The amended ordiance received first reading approval on a 7-1 vote with Council Member Verdel Lutt voting

A public hearing was held in regard to amending the city code's preliminary plat information.

City Administrator Lowell Johnson told the council that the Nebraska Department of Environmental Quality recently notified the city that they (the city) will be required to provide notice to developers planning developments outside city limits, but within the capital improvement project budget city's two-mile jurisdiction of septic system requirements and the state fees associated with lots not connected to the city sewer system.

Following the public hearing, in which no one from the public spoke, the ordinance connected with the change in code received first reading approval.

First reading approval was also given to an ordiance which will amend the city code in regard to the purposes and duties of the Planning Commission for land annexation into city limits. The change is necessary to add state requirements and bring the city in compliance with statutory require-council. unanimously The approved the Senior Center budget for the Northeast Nebraska Area Agency on Aging. It was noted that the cost for meals for those under age 60 will be raised to $6 to meet costs and the cost for Meals on Wheels raised to $6.25.

A change order for the Ultraviolet Disinfection System for the city's wastewater treatment plant was approved. It will lower the cost of the project by $9,629.25.

was presented by City Treasurer Nancy Braden. She listed 24 capital projects that have been discussed by the council during previous meetings and retreats.

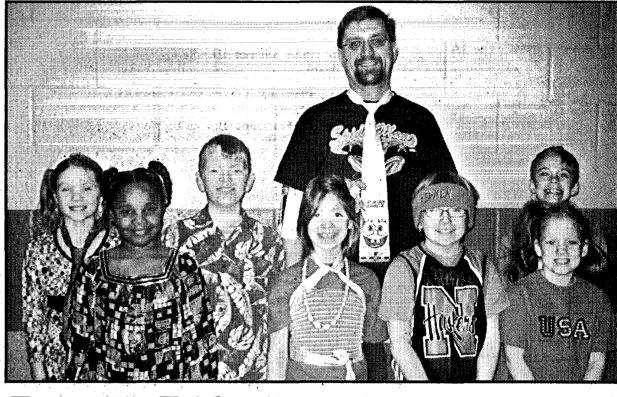

Braden noted that the recently approved one-cent sales/use tax set to begin later this year would bring in approximately $240,000 per year to be used for capital projects. She said the council would be responsible for determining what the money would be used for and how various projects could be paid for, including taxes, bonds and the city's reserve.

The council listed to an update from Brian Kesting, Technology Support Specialist, on the city's new email and procedures.

Kesting told council members that new state law requires that cities archive email for a period of two years. New email accounts have been established for all elected officials.

The council approved Mayor Lois Shelton's appointment of Karen Van Delden to the Wayne Housing Authority Board.

The council will next meet in regular session on Tuesday, April 7 A review of the projected 10-year at 5:30 p.m. in council chambers.

Water line extension to Muhs Acres part of discussion at recent commissioners meeting cussed courthouse kitchen renova-Also discussed was authorization

By Lynn Sievers

Of the Herald The Wayne County Board of Commissioners met in regular session on Tuesday. Lowell Johnson, city of Wayne administrator, spoke to the board about the water line to Muhs Acres north of Wayne. He discussed the county road ditch along 21st Street and what the city is planning to do with the water line there.

Johnson noted the home association in Muhs Acres wants the city to assess and finance extension of the water main there. He said that there are not a lot of options when a project is outside city limits, it is up to the bond council to finance it and what is done. Johnson added the project is ready to bid. Olson Associates is the engineer for the project. He stated the residents of Muhs acres aren't sure how they are going to pay for the project as state statute doesn't allow equal division but instead says payment should be from lineal frontage.

Johnson said the estimated cost of the first quarter is about $70,000, which city council is thinking about footing as a pioneer project. From Larry Skokan's east fenceline on, the estimated cost is around $150,000 because there would be a lot of work in putting up hook ups, etc. in that area. The county commissioners told Johnson he would need to fill out a permit which would go to the highway superintendent and then to the commissioners for approval.

Layne Beza, a local veteran, spoke to the commissioners about the Veteran's Memorial which is to be built on the courthouse grounds. He noted they have staked out the location, which is in the southeast quadrant. He wondered if the location is where the commissioners feel it should be. He added the following issues have been considered: backfill, mowing, sprinkler system, etc. As for electrical issues, four lights will be placed around the memorial and Beza asked who would be responsible for the electrical runs? Commissioner Jim Rabe noted the county needs to rewire anyway so they could foot that bill. Removal of a tree was discussed. Beza noted that work on the project would probably begin the end of April or first of May. He added that Kevin Kay volunteered to do some of the needed dirt work and Rabe said some of the county employees could help too to save some cost. Jo Junck, county employee, dis-tion. She noted the committee met on March 13 and got some pricing. It looks like 33 yards of flooring will be needed. Decisions need to be made on what type of flooring, etc. but it was agreed the committee could pick up paint and begin. She stated Bud Neel, county employee, agreed to work on the remodeling project.

Elizabeth Carlson, highway superintendent, discussed authorization of solicitation of informal bids for small round culverts. She will obtain quotes for the small round culverts once a listing of needed culverts has been submitted to her. Mainelli Wagner will be asked to submit a quote for sizing culverts for bridge replacement of solicitation of sealed bids for soft match project C009000335, eight west and 0.2 miles north of Carroll. Commissioner Dean Burbach made a motion to authorize solicitation of bids for the project, Commissioner Kelvin Wurdeman seconded the motion which passed unanimously.

Other authorization requests included: advertising for county flag contest, hosting 2009 Farmers Market on courthouse grounds, Wayne Library Summer Reading Program parking and surplus property to consignment auction.

The next Wayne County Board of Commissioners meeting will be Tuesday, April 7 at 9 a.m. at the courthouse in Wayne.

subsidiary of Edison International (NYSE:EIX), and Nebraska Public Power District (NPPD) announced that EMG's Elkhorn Ridge wind the current best evidence-based project near Bloomfield is now providing electricity to NPPD. The project is majority-owned by EMG, with one-third owned by Nebraska employee-owners of Tenaska, a privately held energy company headquartered in Omaha.

Elkhorn Ridge can generate up to 80 megawatts (MW) of power, enough energy on an annual basis to meet the needs of approximately 25,000 homes. The project is powered by 27 wind turbines, each capable of generating nearly three megawatts of electricity at full motivation and active participation capacity. All of the output is sold to NPPD under a long-term power purchase agreement.

With this project, EMG's nationwide wind generation portfolio has surpassed 1,000 megawatts of installed capacity at 23 projects cal therapy, visit the Consumer in nine states. The company curlink on the Nebraska Chapter of rently has two other wind projects construction work for its largest wind project to date, a 240MW facility in Illinois, and has approximately 5,000 MW of potential, additional projects in its development pipeline.

Elkhorn Ridge marks an important milestone both for our wind development efforts and for providing the residents and businesses of Nebraska with clean, renewable energy," said Ron Litzinger, chief executive officer of EMG.

"This is another major step forward in NPPD's strategic goal of having 10 percent of our energy mix by 2020 coming from renewable energy sources," said Ron Asche, President and CEO of Nebraska Public Power District. NPPD will retain half of the electrical output, or 40 MWs, from Elkhorn Ridge and will resell the other 40 MWs to Omaha Public Power District, the Municipal Energy Agency of Nebraska, Lincoln Electric System and Grand Island Utilities.

Gov. Dave Heineman attended groundbreaking ceremonies last spring for the facility, which is the first wind project developed under Nebraska's Community-Based Energy Development (C-BED) legislation. C-BED provides benefits to rural communities through investment in development and construction, jobs, property taxes, annual lease payments, revenues paid to Nebraska owners of the project, and diversity of fuel sources for Nebraskans. C-BED requires that one-third of project revenues be returned to qualified Nebraska

"This C-Bed bill is all about economic development here in rural Nebraska," said state Sen. M.L. 'Cap" Dierks, who introduced and worked to see the bill become a law and also attended the groundbreaking event. "It's a win-win situation for everyone, farmers, ranchers and residents." Dierks said Nebraska needs to live up to its ranking as the state with the sixth-highest potential for wind energy.

Maura Loberg places in Braille Challenge

Maura Loberg, a second grade encourage blind children of all ages student at Wayne Elementary School, placed first in the apprentice level at the Nebraska Regional in the sighted world. Braille challenge held in Nebraska

The daughter of Ken and Jean Loberg, Maura was among 28 blind and visually impaired students from Nebraska and Kansas who tested their Braille skills.

Nationally, the challenge is the only academic competition for blind students in the United States. The national program of the Braille Institute of America serves to Dan Reinhardt poses with the sixth grade students at Wayne Middle School. The American flag appears backwards because our troops are defending and protecting our nation, so that it appears to be flying in the wind behind them to honor them.

Hometown hero visits students

Story and pictures by Deb Harm

Wayne native, Dan Reinhardt, returned to Iraq a few days ago.

Along with the typical items that traveled back to the desert, he took with him memories and well wishes from his hometown sixth grade class.

"The support from home is important to me," Reinhardt said. "Everyone gets a letter or a package and for a few seconds we forget that we're over here."

Reinhardt flies an Army Apache AH64 Longbow helicopter over the treacherous fields of Iraq.

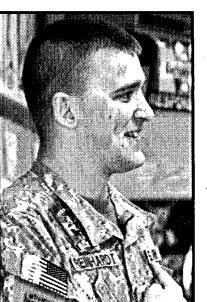

Several months ago Wayne Middle School's sixth grade teacher, Jill Niemann, suggested to her students they contact Reinhardt and offer him a taste of home in the form of letters.

"Knowing that Dan was deployed and with Christmas upon us, it felt right to send wishes to him thanking him for serving our country," Niemann said.

The students were thrilled to participate in the project for their hometown hero.

An American flag, donated by dianne's, of Wayne, traveled with the bundle of good wishes.

The flag was flown in the Army chopper in a mission over Mosul Iraq recently and was returned safely to its American home on Reinhardt's leave this past week.

Dan Reinhardt discusses his work in Iraq during a recent visit to Wayne.

Along with the flag, a certificate was presented with the following proclamation:

"Operation Iraqi Freedom 08-09 on Behalf of C Company 1-10 Reconnaissance Battalion this flag is presented to Wayne Middle School 08-09 6th grade class. Let it be known that this flag was flown during Operation Crazy Red Pursuit in an AH-64D Longbow attack helicopter in the face of the enemy and bears witness to the resolve of U.S. Forces in contact with terrorists threatening the freedom of the United States of America and the world."

When asked by a student about his job, Reinhardt responded, "The hard work is worthwhile. I hear on the radios the boost in confidence that soldiers on the ground sense knowing that we can protect them from the skies while they patrol the streets."

During his class room visit, Reinhardt presented handwritten letters to over sixty students explaining what days are like in a foreign desert.

Future plans were also included in the letters.

"I will probably go back to a new faraway place where soldiers are needed," Reinhardt wrote.

"We are doing a lot of good things and I am proud to be here."

And then he presented the flag to them. And thanked them for their support.

"He didn't have to join, but he wanted to," Abbie Hix, sixth grader, said. "By choosing to be in the service, I think he really loves our country."

Amid the usual commotion of six graders getting ready for class to end. Reinhardt and a student, a Wayne boy scout, folded the prized symbol.

Freshman pitcher Eric Schwieger improves to 3-0; WSC erupts for seven runs in the fourth inning

Wildcats pummel Mustangs 15-3 in '09 home opener

By Casey Schroeder

Junior outfielder Justin Hemauer went 3 for 5 with a triple, two doubles and a pair of RBI's to lead the Wildcats to their fourth straight win Tuesday afternoon as WSC defeated Morningside College, 15-3 in the 2009 home opener at the Pete Wayne.

WSC improved to 8-5 with the win while Morningside dropped to 15-9 on the season.

A seven-run fourth inning by the Wildcats broke the game wide open lead. to support freshman starting pitcher Eric Schwieger, who improved to 3-0 with five strong innings.

"I thought the team was motivated and our level of play improved. Eric pitched very well and our defense was much better," WSC head coach John Manganaro said.

"We still have a lot of improvements to make at the plate and with our baserunning. We take way too many fastballs. Our team has Chapman Baseball Complex in a long way to go to be a conference contender and regional type team."

> WSC opened the scoring in the second inning when Mike Bisenius singled to center field, scoring Alex Koch to give the Wildcats a 1-0

In the fourth inning, Polk produced a two-run double that scored Eric Bond and Bisenius for a 4-0 lead while Hemauer connected on a two-run triple that drove home Nick Bidroski and Polk to give WSC a 6-0 advantage.

Josh Yost then added an RBI groundout that scored Hemauer to give WSC a 7-0 lead before Alex Koch singled to bring home Wendte for an eight-run cushion that was further highlighted by a RBI single by Bonds that scored John Plasha to close out the seven-run inning, putting the Wildcats in front 9-0.

Koch laced a two run single in the fifth inning, scoring Hemauer and Yost for an 11-0 lead.

"Big innings are something that we strive for each game, when given the opportunity," Manganaro said. "We had timely hitting and heads up baserunning."

In the sixth inning, Morningside got on the board when Jared Noteboom's RBI double brought home Bret Hoch, who singled to start the inning, making the score 11-1.

However, WSC scored again in the bottom of the sixth when Bond's sacrifice fly to centerfield scored Treye Hacker, who tripled, giving Rightfielder Josh Yost turns on the jets on his way to first the Wildcats a 12-1 lead.

derson doubled and scored on a two-run home run by Noteboom while WSC yielded three runs in the bottom of the inning without a single hit to bring the game to a close at 15-3.

WSC had 14 hits in the game to six for Morningside.

Hemauer went 3 for 5 with two RBI's and two runs scored to pace a balanced Wildcat attack.

Koch finished 3 for 4 with three RBI's while Bisenius and Bond each accounted for two hits.

Schwieger improved to 3-0 on the season by working five strong innings where he allowed no runs on just one hit with three strikeouts and two walks.

"Eric has pitched well in all of his starts this season. Once he commands his off-speed pitches he is going to be tough on opposing hitters," Manganaro said.

"Morningside hit a couple of balls hard that the wind held up and we were able to run them down in the outfield which helped Eric's cause. Considering that Eric is a true freshman, he has done a great job." Josh Voth then pitched the next

Wayne State rallies for 9-8 win over Concord after trailing 8-3

By Casey Schroeder

Wayne State College (7-5) scored Win-Krueger (4-7). Loss-Goetzingsix runs in the bottom of the ninth inning to rally for a 9-8 win over Concord University of West Virginia (7-5) last Friday in the Wildcats' final game of the Savannah Spring Break Invitational Baseball Tournament in Savannah, Ga.

"We just haven't played well. Not making an excuse, but the fact is that we just haven't played with the edge that we had when we opened the season at Pittsburg," WSC head coach John Manganaro said.

"But like they say 'God only helps them who help themselves' and we didn't do anything to help ourselves until the last inning."

The Wildcats took a 3-0 lead in the second inning, but the Lions scored one in the third, three runs in the sixth, one in the seventh and three in the top of the ninth to take an 8-3 lead.

In the bottom of the ninth inning, WSC used four hits, three walks and an error by Concord to rally for the come-from-behind win.

Nick Bidroski's pinch-hit single scored Josh Yost to make the score 8-4. WSC then used a Joe Wendte three-run homer to cut Concord's lead to 8-7.

With only one run separating the two teams, John Plasha singled to right field where pinch runner Derek Eversole advanced to third base on a wild pitch and a sacrificed

Brandon Polk later drew a bases loaded walk to even the score at 8-8 with one out. Yost then sent a sacrifice fly to right field, bringing home Koch with the game-winning run as WSC rallied for the 9-8 win.

WSC had 11 hits to 10 for Concord. Wendte finished 2 for 3 with five Plasha c RBI's to lead a balanced attack for the Wildcats.

Mike Bisenius went 2 for 3 with a run scored while Justin Hemauer was 2 for 5.

Reliever Matt Meier (1-0), the fourth and final Wildcat pitcher of the game, was credited with the win Moreland p as he worked the final one-third of an inning, allowing one hit.

Starter Chad Moreland pitched Meier p five and two-thirds innings, giving up four runs on six hits.

Jared Hegdahl was the first of three Wildcat relievers and lasted for two and two-thirds innings, yielding three runs (one earned) on three hits with four strikeouts.

Eric Schwieger also worked one third of an inning, allowing one

"Our pitchers haven't became pitchers yet. So what they have to Moreland 5.2 6 4 4 1 2 do is just become pitchers," Man- Hegdahl 2.2 3 3 1 1 4 ganaro said.

"With that being said, they're not going to strikeout a lot of guys because we don't have that capability this year like we did last year with Nick Schumacher and Mitch Her-

Rich Rethwisch

Rethwisch named head football coach at Wayne High School

On Tuesday, March 17, Wayne High School athletic director Rocky Ruhl announced that Rich Rethwisch has been named the new head football coach of the Blue Devils.

Rethwisch, who will begin his head coaching duties immediately, replaces Kevin Finkey, who resigned on Jan. 15 after six sea-

"The most important thing is that we start today. This all starts today. We will not chat about the past rather it was 10, 20 or two years ago. We simply want to move a close. forward and make our own identity. And the identity would be such that I hope you see a lot of energy," Rethwisch said.

"This is their team (the kids) and not my team or our coaching staff's team. It's their team. And that's the one thing you'll hear me say a lot. What we do is what they do," Rethwisch said.

"What we implement of course is going to be a part of it, but generally our whole goal is to have those kids get out of their comfort zone. When they see that playing hard is fun, and playing hard is the most fun in any athletic contest. And that's when you get out of your comfort zone and do things that you never thought you were ever capable of."

Rethwisch brings over 30 years of coaching experience, including an overall record of 99-75.

Throughout his coaching career Rethwisch has found success on the BEN 000000000 field as he helped guide St. Mary's WSC 300021X-6 of O'Neill to a perfect 13-0 record in 1984 after the Cardinals defeated Grant 39-15 in the Class C-2 State Championship.

He has also served as an assistant coach at Pierce High School, guiding the Blue Jays to an 11-2 record and a runner-up finish in the 1989 Class B State Championships where they lost to Elkhorn 33-17.

In addition to two State Championship appearances, Rethwisch led Ainsworth to four straight East Rangeland Conference titles from 1979-82 and a first-ever Class B playoff apperance in 1980 where the Bulldogs lost to McCook 35-7.

Rethwisch who has been actively involved within the Wayne Community Schools system for the past two years, is no newcomer to Blue Devil athletics as he's spent that past two seasons coaching both junior high and varsity athletics.

"I have a lot of energy, even at my age. I think a lot of people are looking to retire at 55 and here I am taking on a challenge that's going to be a tremendous amount of fun," Rethwisch said.

"I'm looking forward to it. Wayne's always had a strong tradition and they love their sports and it's nice to be in a community that thinks athletics is important."

Rethwisch will get his first attempt of rebuilding a rich tradition of Blue Devil athletics on Friday, Sept. 4 when Wayne travels to North Bend Central for a 7 p.m. game against the Cardinals.

Federal Universal Service Charge Notice

For the 2nd Quarter of 2009, the Federal Universal Service Charge (FUSC) contribution factor will increase from 9.5% to 11.3%. This will result in an increase in the charge that appears on your monthly telephone bill. The factor is applied to services designated as interstate by the FCC and changes from time-to-time based on the needs of the federal universal service fund. The federal universal service fund was established and is maintained to ensure that all consumers, regardless of location, have access to essentially the same telecommunications services at affordable prices. The fund also provides schools, libraries, low-income consumers and rural health care providers with assistance in obtaining telecommunications services.

Wayne High graduate now sheriff in California

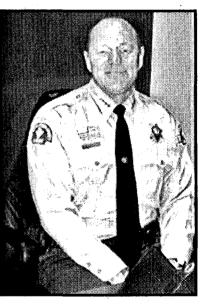

Editor's note: The following information was taken rimoftheworld.

Rodney Hoops, 1975 graduate of Wayne High School, was recently appointed the Sheriff of San Bernadino County, Calif.

In addition to taking the oath, Hoops received an additional two stars, to add to the two stars he has worn as an assistant sheriff since 2005. This will elevate him to the rank of Sheriff/Coroner. Prior to this, Hoops was responsible for the patrol, specialized investigations and the narcotics divisions, as well as department wide operations.

Hoops, a resident of Highland, Calif., has been affiliated with the department he now heads for three decades. The new sheriff's first assignment back in 1979 was as a patrol deputy in the west end of the San Bernardino Valley. In 1984, Hoops was promoted to detective, and assigned to the Career Criminal/SWAT Division.

Two years later, he was promoted to sergeant, and served as the department's legislative liaison at the state capitol in Sacramento. He was promoted to lieutenant in 1989, and worked in the public affairs and research and planning divisions, as well as the central station and training academy in Devore.

Hoops was transferred to employee services in 1995 after being promoted to captain, then went on to command the station in Rancho Cucamonga for five years before being reassigned to the bureau of administration.

In 2003, Hoops was elevated to Deputy Chief, and then Assistant Sheriff in 2005.

Sheriff Hoops holds a Bachelor of Arts degree in criminal justice and a Masters degree in public administration from California State University Fullerton (CSUF).

He married Monica Kovensky, also a 1975 Wayne High School graduate. She and the couple's son, Andrew, were present at the swearing in ceremony.

He will serve a term that expires in 2011 and has promised to "hit the ground running and not embarrass myself, this department, or this county,"

The Wayne Herald, Thursday, March 19, 2009 History of Polio and Rotary's involvement

Mich., scientists gathered to discuss trial results by Thomas Francis and Jonas Salk of a new polio vaccine. Polio has been around for thousands of years and through the years, many people had the disease, especially when there was a lack of Polio, an intestinal virus, comes from feces and is spread through poor hygiene entering the body through the mouth. Two types of polio are bulbar and spinal. In bulbar, the virus destroys nerves in the brain stem, making it hard to breathe, swallow or speak. In spinal polio, the virus attacks nerves in the spinal cord, causing muscles that were controlled by those nerves to become paralyzed. There have been polio epidemics. In New York City in 1916, 27,000 people were paralyzed and 9,000 killed by the virus.

In 1952, there were 58,000 cases reported in the U.S. and 5,000 in Canada. Rotary Clubs worked with the National Society for Crippled Children (Easter Seals), which was founded by Rotarian Edgar Allen. Since 1840, there have been a number of people who have made discoveries about polio which helped in the understanding of the disease.

In the 1940s, Jonas Salk worked with Thomas Francis at the University of Michigan to develop a flu vaccine for the U.S. Army during WWII. Salk moved to the University of Pittsburgh in 1947 to head the virus research lab. It was there that he started his work on a polio vaccine with National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis funding. Salk used formaldehyde to kill the virus and used it to trigger production of antibodies in the blood. The antibodies stop the spread of the virus in the body.

On July 2, 1952, the Salk used the vaccine on children who had polio and were recovering. He found their antibodies increased. In 1954, more than 1.8 million schoolchildren in 44 states participated in the field trial of the new vaccine. After that, six companies started manufacturing the vaccine and by the end of 1955, 10 million children in five countries were immunized. By 1957, there were fewer than 6,000 cases in the U.S.

Meanwhile, Albert Sabin in Cincinnati, was working on a different method to fight the disease. He worked with stimulating the body to create antibodies by using a live, but less virulent mutant strain of the virus. His vaccine was given orally. Since so many children had already been immunized with Salk's vaccine, he conducted his trials in the Soviet Union in the late

The oral polio vaccine was approved for the U.S. April 24, 1960. By 1964, there were only 122 cases of polio recorded in the U.S. WHO certified that the Americas were polio-free in 1994, western Pacific region in 2000 and Europe in 2002. Polio is still crippling children in: Afghanistan, India, Nigeria and Pakistan. Because the oral vaccine is easy to use and gives longer-lasting immunity, it is used in global campaign to eradicate the disease.

Sabin, an honorary Rotarian, gave the first drops of the vaccine to himself to launch Rotary's PolioPlus

Kiwanis appreciates community support

Dear Editor,

Once again members of the Wayne community stepped up to support the Kiwanis Pancake Feed held at the National Guard Armory. Proceeds from the annual event help our service club donate to numerous local youth activities. Three key components helped this year's Kiwanis Pancake Feed to be particularly successful. First, National Guard Rep Jon Wren and his staff provided his facility to our group at no charge. Thank you, Jon. Second, Pac 'N Save provided the food at a very reasonable price. Thank you owners Don and Nancy Endicott as well as Store Manager Pat Riesberg.

And finally, the citizens of Wayne and the surrounding area patronized the event to the extent Kiwanis was able to more than double our revenue from the previous year. Thanks to each and every one of you.

This Pancake Feed is just one of many fund raising efforts undertaken each year by Kiwanis - efforts that support our club's $20,000 annual budget.

It's exciting for members of our group to see these monies raised through fund raisers only rest temporarily in our checking account Nearly as soon as funds are generated they, in turn, are donated to a request supporting a local youth activity.

For 86 years our Wayne Kiwanis has contributed to hundreds of worthwhile local youth and their projects. Some groups and activities receiving donations in recent years have included Boy-Cub Scouts, Girl Scouts, Middle School field trips, Elementary School Boosters, various high school projects, Junior Golf, and softball field improvements.

And, of course, for five decades our Honors Banquet has saluted the academic achievements of thousands of students in grades 7-12. In some cases, two generations of the same family have been honored at this annual Spring gathering.

Our Wayne Kiwanis Club couldn't assist the community by itself. We appreciate the overwhelming support given to us by the citizens of Wayne. Public support for local service organization projects is a critical component for a strong and vibrant community.

Correspondent comments on issues

By Ed Howard Statehouse Correspondent The Nebraska Press Association

It was hardly surprising to learn that there had been no use, at this writing, of the state's revised safe haven law for children.

Lawmakers amended the statue last November to specify it applies to infants up to 30 days of age.

For awhile it seemed parents from other states, and a comparative few home-staters, were flocking to Nebraska hospitals to dump troublesome younguns like so much overripe fruit. They didn't want it around the house and they didn't know where else along the road to put it out.

Anational organization that compiles statistics on homeless families says 4,484 Nebraska children were homeless at last count. And 1,884 of them were less than 6 years old. Figures on homeless families, and especially children, always raise two questions in virtually every state: Is the situation the result of bad policy or bad economic times.

If it ain't one thing it's always something else. Take the case of Clatonia, a village of some 275 not far from Lincoln.

First, local voters gave 59-14 approval to allow keno gambling. A few days later, the only bar in town that could accommodate the game closed its doors.

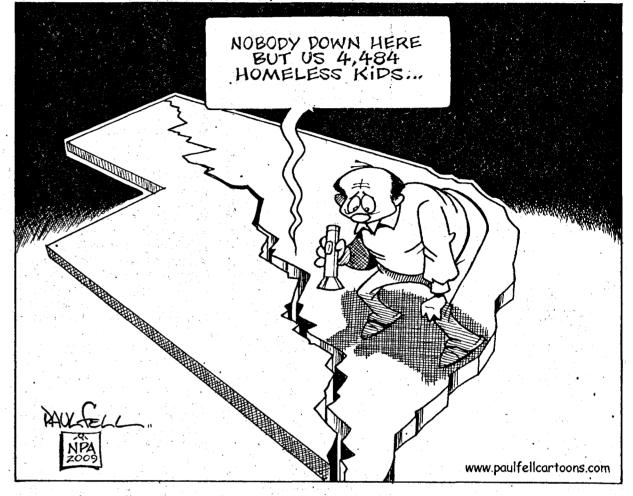

How about the drug-running trade contributing to some serious money to help finance local schools?

Last month, in one five-hour period, a state trooper was reported to have confiscated a total of $261,690 in two Buffalo County traffic stops near I-80. Serious money, for sure. The drivers and a passenger in each car were charged ment operations. with the minor offense of possessing less than one ounce of pot.

The county attorney said that if the defendants can't show in court that the money belonged to them, and that it wasn't being used for drug trafficking, it could be confiscated. Half would go to schools and half would help fund law enforce-

Question: In both traffic stops, the trooper said he smelled marijuana coming from the vehicles. It's probably more evidence of what they call the stuff "dope," but you have to wonder why drug mules so often smoke their own stash, or speed, or whatever. .

Take steps to protect your loved ones during Red Cross Month

Dear Editor,

If there was something you could do to protect yourself and your loved ones, save yourself time and money and help create a stronger community, would you do it?

As Northeast Nebraska's partner in disaster preparedness and response for over 90 years, we know from experience that people who prepare ahead of time can do just that. But while ninety-six percent of Americans agree that it's important to prepare for a disaster, only seven percent have taken the necessary steps to do so according to recent American Red Cross polls.

This March during Red Cross Month the Northeast Nebraska Chapter is encouraging everyone to take three simple actions to get "Red Cross Ready" for disasters and other emergencies:

1. Get a kit,

2. Make a plan and 3. Be informed.

Taking these basic preparedness actions can better prepare you for a variety of disasters from a power outage to a fire to a tornado. To get started, visit our free online education module at www.redcross. org/BeRedCrossReady, where you can download a disaster supplies kit shopping list and emergency contact card, and learn how to create a family disaster plan. You can receive this information in a brochure or community presentation by contacting the Northeast Nebraska Chapter at 402-375-

As we celebrate Red Cross Month by honoring the volunteers, donors and supporters who help us make Northeast Nebraska a safer place to live, work and play, we hope you will join us by getting prepared

Weekly Legislative Update

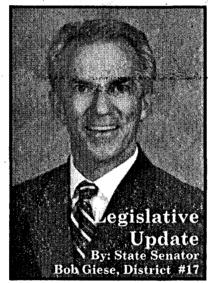

Greetings from the Unicameral! Last week, many of the Legislature's standing committees completed their public hearings for the session. Hearings were held for the last three of my bills this week, LB 411, LB 334, and LB 265.

Lori Carollo, Executive Director Northeast Nebraska Chapter

The first of the three bills, LB 411, would update the State Electrical Act to reflect changes in the National Electric Code. Historically, the code is updated every three years when new national standards come out, but the bill updating to the 2008 code stalled in the Legislature last year. Following the hearing, the General Affairs Committee voted to advance LB 411 to General File on a unanimous vote.

Last week also brought the hearing for LB 334, which would spur development of the Nebraska Expressway System, including Highway 35 between Norfolk and South Sioux City. As my priority bill, LB 334 will receive preferential treatment for floor debate once it emerges from committee. Representatives from communities throughout Nebraska turned out for the hearing before the Transportation & Telecommunications Committee in support of the bill, but the committee has yet to take any action.

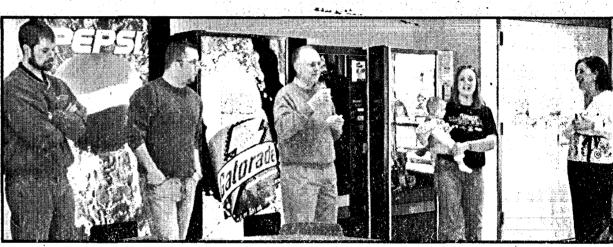

Finally, a hearing was held on Thursday before the Judiciary Committee on LB 265, which would expand the Sexual Predator Residency Restriction Act to include public parks.

Under current law, cities and other political subdivisions may enact an ordinance or resolution restricting Class III sexual predators from living within 500 feet of a school or childcare facility. If passed, LB 265 would allow cities to restrict these same predators from living within 500 feet of a public park, swimming pool, or athletic field. The committee has yet to take any action on the bill, and could ultimately decide to combine LB 265 with other legislation as part of a comprehensive package.

Thursday was also the deadline for senators and committees to designate their priority bills, and a full list of priority bills is available at www.nebraskalegislature.gov. Most of these bills have already advanced out of committee, and will be the major policy discussions on the floor this session. As always, I would encourage you to contact me if you have any questions or simply have an opinion on legislation before the Unicameral. Feel free to call my office at (402) 471-2716, send me an e-mail at bgiese@leg.ne.gov, or stop by in person any time you're in Lincoln.

Looking Ahead in Wayne

By Lowell Johnson, City Administrator

City Council meeting

The next regular City Council meeting will be held Tuesday, April 7 at 5:30 p.m. in the council room. Why Does the Waste Water Plant Stink?

The putrid odor for the last few days will probably continue for about another week or two. The odor is coming from the lagoon. The thick ice covered the lagoon for a longer time than usual this winter. The water underneath the ice contains algae from last summer and sludge aeration pond effluent that isn't fully treated.

When the lagoon water was open last summer, the wave action from the wind plus oxygen coming in with the effluent from the sludge aeration pond provided enough aeration to complete the waste water treatment process in the lagoon. This kept the lagoon water fresh and relatively odor free. Over the winter when the ice sealed off the water below, the lack of oxygen didn't allow the effluent water coming from the sludge aeration pond to complete its waste treatment and let the algae start to decay from anaerobic bacteria. This anaerobic process allowed the water under the ice in the lagoon to become septic and putrid during the winter.

When the ice on the lagoon melted off recently, this septic water was now exposed to the air and the odor is now being released and carried downwind. The odor is worse than usual this year because the lagoon was covered with ice lon-

Two of the new closed system biological treatment plant options we are testing don't generate sludge and will eliminate the lagoon. The other two options which are 1) an upgrade of the existing plant or 2) build a Sequential Batch Reactor plant would generate sludge and would continue using the lagoon for sludge effluent storage.

The U.S. and the global economy

The current economic woes have affected economies around the world. When U.S. stocks tumbled following the collapse of investment giant Lehman Brothers and troubles at insurance monolith AIG in 2008, the devastation on Wall Street reverberated around the globe. Within hours foreign markets began a downward spiral, and it's been a roller coaster ride ever since.

Globally connected

There are a number of reasons why Wall Street has a domino effect beyond our borders. One contributing factor is that over the years, as global trading and foreign investments have increased, world economies have grown increasingly interdependent. U.S. companies are heavily invested in foreign markets, and vice versa, making us all vulnerable to international events that affect stock values, which can include everything from political upheavals to natural disasters, poor investment decisions, fraud and more. Overseas operations

The United States has also become less financially insular as more U.S. companies have expanded their overseas operations. We've all read the media reports about manufacturing. customer service and technical support jobs flowing over seas, further globalizing businesses.

Due to advances in technology and financial infrastructures, businesses are able to move more quickly. Reliance on electronic financial transactions, which enable lightning-fast debits and credits, have removed buffers that once helped delay and sometimes temper the reaction of markets when the world traded at a snail's pace. Improvement in the transportation of goods has also helped accelerate the interdependence of global economies.

Government efforts The U.S. government is influential as well. With influence comes control, and the U.S. has prided itself on being an economic superpower for the last century. According to the Federal Reserve, the U.S. dollar is the most preferred transaction currency around the globe, accounting for half of the world's foreign exchange reserves, and the U.S. Treasury would certainly like to keep it that way. The Federal Reserve regularly conducts financial business with

If the fragility of the U.S. economy gives you jitters, your concerns are not unfounded. Our business community needs to work harder than ever to ensure innovation and free enterprise prevail, create jobs and bolster demand for U.S. goods and services. For the U.S. to continue to prosper, we need to excel in every way, including policies, health care, education and Despite recent events, history shows the cyclical nature of the stock market and points to a strong likelihood we will weather this financial storm and come out on the other side stronger. Journalism students awarded internships

Undergraduate students in the University of Nebraska-Lincoln College of Journalism and Mass Communications have been awarded internships by businesses and state agencies.

The internships allow the students to apply what they have learned in their classes and laboratories at the university while picking up valuable on-the-job experience as they prepare for careers in various aspects of journalism.

Journalism students, who blog about their internships throughout the country, have posted their entries at www.unl.edu/journalism/ students/blogs/2008/blogs.shtml.

Among those awarded an internship is Gayle Olson of Wayne, senior, advertising/public relations emphasis, Lincoln Saltdogs baseball team, assists team's communications director with media guide, designs program guide, runs gameday press operations.

Making the decision to lose weight

Finding the motivation to lose weight can be difficult, especially if you have tried lots of diets and gained and lost many pounds. Losing weight permanently involves changing your eating habits and increasing physical activity, which is not easy to do in today's hectic world. Taking the time to think about how ready you are to make these changes is critical for success. To make a change means making a personal commitment that you will eat and exercise differently than before. You will move more and eat less while choosing small portions. This will allow you to create a new routine and continue that routine for six months so it becomes a habit.

Where will you find motivation? Are you willing to make changes in eating and activity habits? Are you willing to be physically active 60-90 minutes each day? Do the benefits of weight loss coincide with the costs? Research tells us that being overweight may cause serious health problems as well as affect our lifestyle. Being overweight may prevent you from doing the things you want to do and can strip you of the energy to be an active person. It can also crush positive feelings about yourself. Losing weight will help you to look and feel better and increase your energy level so you can do the things you enjoy.

Now is the time to take action

Once you are ready to make the commitment to lose weight, you are ready to take action to adjust eating and fitness habits to reflect your new goals. You are likely to succeed if you develop a plan and set realistic objectives. Your goals for weight loss need to be specific and attainable. This means they must describe what you plan to achieve and be within your reach to accomplish. For example, a goal of "walking more" is a great idea but is not specific enough. A goal of walking three miles a day, or approximately 5,800 steps, is specific and attainable. Even though 10,000 steps a day would be the benchmark goal, breaking your goals down to smaller more achievable goals will increase your chances for success.

annual Travel and Training Meting (TNT) to provide an opportunity for training and fellowship for Fontanelle dealers.

A critical element of this meeting is the Stalkholder Dealer Council. The Council is a select group of dealers meeting with company managers to discuss ideas, plans and company direction into the VerNeal Martoz of Winside was one of the 10 Fontanelle dealers to serve on this year's Council held in LaVista on Feb. 27.

"Our Stalkholder Councils are always helpful and this year was the best to date," Steve Pike, president of Fontanelle Hybrids in Fontanelle said. "We asked the Stalkholders to think strategically to tell us what they need today and be successful. It was an interesting discussion of the needs of the dealerships but more importantly, the discussion centered around what their customers need now and will need in the future. This was a very customer-focused group, which really fits with Fontanelle's

"For the rest of the time during TNT, we see the Council members taking a leadership role," Pike said. "They are usually in the middle of a group of dealers explaining what was discussed and getting feedback from other dealers on the topics covered. We'll be following up with the Council in a couple of months to make sure we capture all of that feedback."

Propane irrigation engine rebate available

& Research Council (NPERC) is excited to announce the Propane Irrigation Engine Efficiency Rebate Program through Dec. 31, 2009. This program makes available a $500 rebate to Nebraska farmers for purchasing a modern efficient propane irrigation engine to replace an existing stationary diesel, gasoline, or propane engine or to purchase a new propane engine for a new agricultural well.

With energy costs consistently increasing, farmers are striving for ways to improve efficiency. One effective way farmers can reduce pumping costs is to replace old engines with new efficient propane engines.

The University of Nebraska -Lincoln, through the support of the Propane Education & Research Council (PERC) and NPERC, are currently studying the fuel consumption of modern propane Testing Lab and in the field. Preliminary results from these tests show modern propane engines

The Nebraska Propane Education are 20-30 percent more efficient over past generations. The new improved generation of propane irrigation engines includes technology such as electronic spark control ignition, overhead cam, and overall better quality components. The advantage of these new engines vs. past generations is that the reliability and life expectancy is similar to comparable to diesel models.

PERC is providing two complimentary training sessions to assist engine dealers in learning about the maintenance and repair of propane fuel systems on stationary engines. These one-day classes are scheduled for April 21 in Kearney and April 22 in Hastings. All materials and lunch are provided through a grant from PERC.

For more details on the $500 Propane Irrigation Engine Efficiency Rebate Program, registering for the "Maintenance and Repairing Propane Fuel Systems on engines in both the UNL Tractor Stationary Engines" classes, or propane irrigation, contact the NPERC office at 402-475-3996.

Deadline nears to apply for crop loans, payments

Dan Steinkruger, Acting State Executive Director for USDA's Farm Service Agency in Nebraska reminds producers of the March 31, 2009 deadline to apply for 2008 crop year commodity loans for wheat, oats, barley, canola, crambe, flaxseed, honey, oats, rapeseed, and sesame seed and the June 1, 2009 deadline to apply for 2008 crop year commodity loans and LDPs for corn, grain sorghum, soybeans, dry peas, lentils, mustard seed, safflower seed, chickpeas and sunflower seed.

Commodity loans provide producers interim financing to meet cash flow needs without having to sell their commodities. Producers must have beneficial interest in the commodity on the date of a loan or LDP request and must retain beneficial interest while the loan is outstanding. Producers must meet other eligibility requirements to be eligible for loans and LDPs.

The 2008 crop year commodity loan interest rate for loans disbursed during March 2009 is 1.500 percent, up from 1.375 percent in February 2009. Contact the local FSA Office to request a loan or

Rural poll to focus on economic downturn

This year's Nebraska Rural Poll will ask rural residents how they're faring during the current economic downturn. The University of Nebraska poll is the largest annual survey of rural Nebraskans' views on quality of life and policy issues. Letters were mailed this month notifying about 7,000 households in Nebraska's 87 rural counties that they had been randomly selected to participate in the poll.

bic Nebraska so far has weathered the recession better than some states, but the downturn's impact here is growing. Businesses have begun laying off employees, and the state Legislature is struggling with a tight budget picture.

The 14th annual poll includes questions focusing on how the economic climate is affecting rural Nebraskans. It also includes followup questions about the digital television conversion.

The annual poll is conducted by the Institute of Agriculture and Natural Resources' Center for Applied Rural Innovation. Funding also is provided by UNL Extension and the Agricultural Research

Illness is opportunity to love

On my mind and heart today is the memorial service we attended at our church yesterday. Dave McMahan died of multiple sclerosis. He lived with it, and so did his family, for 25 years. The service was truly a celebration of his homegoing. As I told his friend and caregiver, Michelle, "there are a lot of things worse than death."

We saw a video put together by his son that included photos from infancy, through high school graduation, then college, then marriage, of a handsome, gentle fellow with a wonderful sense of humor. When we knew Dave, he was walking with a cane, and soon, was in a wheelchair. MS takes away memory, balance, hearing, vision, continence, and more. But it never destroyed his personality.

Last year, in the same church, there was a service for Brad Meyer, a victim of ALS, amyotrophic lateral sclerosis, Lou Gehrig's disease. Brad lost the ability to breathe on his own, and was on a ventilator for a short while. But the two diagnoses are eerily similar; the main difference, in my mind, that of time. ALS moves much more quickly.

I guess the main thing I want to share with you about these men is their wives. Cassie and Trudy are examples of "wedded love and faithfulness" that are amazing.

heroic measures were decided upon. But he had a young, strong heart. And his prayer was not answered for a whole year.

Meds were given every fourhours, around the clock. A hospital bed went into the family room. Someone slept on the couch nearby; that someone was usually Cassie, his wife. Food was brought in. We took turns staying while Cassie worked. Thankfully, some of her work could be done at home, on line. A couple from fifty miles away, who both work here in Lincoln, stayed Monday through Thursday, to save gas and help. Hospice provided nurse visits and baths.It was the "new normal".

And, finally, it's over. I would say it's a classic example of the Lord giving strength when strength was needed. And the same day that I had the call that Dave had finally accomplished his desire, I met a woman who told me her father had. MS, diagnosed after her parents were married ten years. And her mother divorced him. A counselor advised her to. I don't presume to judge, but it made me sad. Something you're born to do Everybody has something that they do best. It's something you're born to do. Farming is like that. It's not easy and it's not for everybody.

Some years right at the very last minute a storm comes through, takes a would be bumper crop and flattens it like a pancake. It takes courage to face those odds every year. You have to believe in agriculture to do that.

We believe in it, too. Ag banking...it's what we do best. If you're in agriculture, we would like to be your bank.

MARCH BOWLING PARTY

The yearly all church bowling party was held on March 15 at the Bowling Center in Laurel, with over 40 members, young and old, in attendance. Doug and Lynette Krie and Marilyn and Ron Harder were in charge. Each bowler enjoyed two lines of bowling and a free soda. Refreshments were furnished by volunteers.

Adel Bohlken bowled the high score for the ladies. Dustin Thompson bowled the high score for the men. Pastor Karen Tjarks received the low prize for the ladies. Jay Vollers bowled the low score for the men. Ron Harder had eight spares for the afternoon.

High boy's game was tied between Izac Reifenrath and Zach Haptmann. High girl's game went to Shelby Krie. All the children present received prizes. Many bowled their first game ever and everyone had a great time.

Snow's keynote presentation will be "Connecting Assets to Actually Getting Things Done" and will include a hand-on exercise in asset mapping.

Another special focus of this year's conference will be on providing ways for youth to participate in the leadership of community development efforts. Luncheon speaker Joseph Piearson of the Iowa Council of Foundations will speak about the organization's "Youth Philanthropic Initiative" and how the initiative is promoting youth involvement as an untapped asset in community development.

The conference's main purpose is to have representatives from communities share their success stories with other rural communities, including sharing their contact information, so others can learn how to carry out similar plans in their communities.

Communities are encouraged to bring three or more representatives to the conference so one person can be at each of the three sessions that will run concurrently. Over the years, average attendance for the conference has been around 200 local leaders from the tri-state region. ANNUAL WATER QUALITY REPORT FOR CITY OF WAYNE - FOR THE PERIOD OF JANUARY 1 TO DECEMBER 31, 2008 This report is intended to provide you with important information about your drinking water and the efforts made by the City of Wayne water system to provide safe drinking water. For more information regarding this report, contact: Jeffrey J. Brady, 402-375-5250.

If you would like to observe the decision-making processes that affect drinking water quality, please attend the regularly scheduled meeting of the Village Board/City Council. If you would like to participate in the process, please contact the Village/City Clerk to arrange to be placed on the agenda of the meeting of the Village Board/City Council.

Drinking water, including bottled water, may reasonably be expected to contain at least small amounts of some contaminants. The presence of contaminants does not necessarily indicate that water poses a health risk. More information about contaminants and potential health effects can be obtained by calling the EPA's Safe Drinking Water Hotline at (800) 426-4791.

Source Water Assessment Availability: The Nebraska Department of Environmental Quaility (NDEQ) has completed the Source WAter Assessment. Included in the assessment is a Wellhead Protection Area map, potential contaminant source inventory, vulnerability rating, and source water protection information. To view the Source Water Assessment or for more information please contact the person named on the cover of this report or NDEQ at (402) 471-6988 Para Clientes Que Habian Español: Este informe contiene información muy importante sobre el agua que usted bebe. Tradúzcalo ó hable con alguien que lo entienda bien.

In order to ensure that tap water is safe to drink, EPA prescribed regulations which limit the amount of certain contaminants in water provided by public water systems. FDA regulations establish limits for contaminants in bottled water which must provide the same protection for public health. Sources of Drinking Water The sources of drinking water (both tap water and bottled water) include rivers, lakes, streams, ponds, reservoirs, springs, and groundwater wells. As water travels over the surface of the land or through the ground, it dissolves naturally-occurring minerals and, in some cases, radioactive material, and can pick up substances resulting from the presence of animals or from human activity The source of drinking water used by the City of Wayne water system is Groundwater. This water is pumped from wells maintained by the City of Wayne. Contaminants that may be present in source water include: Microbial contaminants, such as viruses and bacteria, which may come from sewage treatment plants, septic systems, agricultural livestock operations and wildlife.

Inorganic contaminants, such as salts and metals, which can be naturally occurring or result from urban storm water runoff, industrial, or domestic wastewater discharges, oil and gas production, mining, or farming. Pesticides and herbicides, which may come from a variety of sources such as agriculture, urban storm water runoff, and residential uses.

Organic chemical contaminants, including synthetic and volatile organic chemicals, which are by-products of industrial processes and petroleum production, and can also come from gas stations, urban storm water runoff, and septic systems. Radioactive contaminants, which can be naturally-occurring or be the result of oil and gas production and mining activities. Drinking Water Health Notes

Some people may be more vulnerable to contaminants in drinking water than the general population. Immuno-compromised persons such as persons with cancer undergoing chemotherapy, persons who have undergone organ transplants, people with HIV/AIDS or other immune system disorders, some elderly and infants can be particularly at risk from infections. These people should seek advice about drinking water from their health care providers. EPA/CDC guidelines on appropriate means to lessen the risk of infection by Cryptosporidium and other microbioal contaminants are available from the Safe Drinking Water Hotline (800-426-4791).

available from the Safe Difficing Water Houline (600-426-4791).

Infants and young children are typically more volnerable to lead in drinking water than the general population. It is possible that lead levels at your home may be higher than at other homes in the community as a result of materials used in your home's plumbing. If you are concerned about elevated lead levels in your home's water, you may wish to have your water tested. Flushing your tap for 30 seconds to 2 minutes before using your tap water will clear the line of any lead that may have leached into the water while the line was idle. Additional information is available from the Safe Drinking Water Hotline (800-426-4791) or the Department of Health and Human Services/Division of Public Halth/Office of Drinking Water (402-471-2541).

The City of Wayne is required to test for the following contaminants: Coliform Bacteria, Antimony, Arsenic, Asbestos, Barium, Beryllium, Cadmium, Chromium, Copper, Cyanide, Fluoride, Lead, Mercury, Nickel, Nitrate, Nitr Oxamyl (Vydate), Pentachlorophenol, Picloram, Polychlorinated biphenyls, Simazine, Toxaphene, Dioxin, Silvex, Benzene, Carbon Tetrachloride, o-Dichlorobenzene, Para-Dichlorobenzene, 1,2-Dichloroethylene, Cis-1,2,-Dichloroethylene, Trans-1.2-Dichloroethylene, Dichloromethane, 1,2-Dichloropropane, Ethylbenzene, Monochlorobenzene, 1,2,4-Trichlorobenzene, 1,1,1-Trichloroethane, 1,1,2 Trichloroethane, Trichloroethylene, Vinyl Chloride, Styrene, Tetrachloroethylene, Toluene, Xylenes (total), Gross Alpha (minus Uranium & Radium 226), Radium 226 plus Radium 228, Sulfate, Chloroform, Bromodichloromethane, Chlorodibromomethane, Bromoform, Chlorobenzene, m-Dichlorobenzene, 1,1-Dichloropropene, 1,1-Dichloropropene, 1,1-Dichloropropene, 1,1-Dichloropropene, 1,1-Dichloropropene, 1,2-Dichloropropane, Chlorotoluene, Bromomethane, 1,2,3-Trichloropropane, 1,1,1,2-Tetrachloroethane, Chloroethane, 2-2-Dichloropropane, o-Chlorotoluene, Bromobenzene, 1,3-Dichloropropane, 0-Chlorotoluene, Bromobenzene, 0-Chlorotoluene, 0-Chlorot

Dichloropropene, Aldrin, Butachlor, Carbarryl, Dicamba, Dieldrin, 3-Hydroxycarbofuran, Methonyl, Metolachlor, Metribuzin, Propachlor.

Note: The state requires monitoring of certain contaminants less than once per year because the concentrations of these contaminants do not change frequently. Therefore, some of this data may be more than one year old. MCL (Maximum Contaminant Level): The highest level of a contaminant that is allowed in drinking water. MCLs are set as close to the MCLGs as feasible using the best available treatment technology. MCLG (Maximum Contaminant Level Goal): The level of a contaminant in drinking water below which there is no known or expected risk to health. MCLGs allow for a margin of safety. AL (Action Level): The concentration of a contaminant which, if exceeded triggers treatment or other requirements which a water system must follow. ppm: parts per million ppb: parts per billion ppt: parts per trillion pCi/l: picoCuries per liter (measurement of radioactivity)
