City of Wayne receives recognition for economic development

Nebraska Public Power District has honored the city of Wayne with two awards for their outstanding economic development efforts in 2008.

Mayor Lois Shelton, City Administrator Lowell Johnson and Wayne Area Economic Development Inc. Executive Director Dave Simonsen accepted the awards from NPPD Economic Development Consultant Mary Plettner on behalf of the city council at their regular meeting on Tuesday.

The honors were awarded in the categories of "successful business and industry expansion" and "prospect ready."

The first award recognized the city of Wayne for its effort in the expansions of Western Wats and Sand Creek Post & Beain. The second award for Prospect Ready community recognizes work completed in five areas to improve competitiveness for business and industrial development.

"Wayne has consistently demonstrated its dedication to helping business thrive," Plettner said. "in these challenging economic times, the citizens of Wayne are fortunate to have a growing business community."

Presented annually, NPPD's annual economic development awards are judged by an independent team of experienced Nebraska economic development professionals which does not include NPPD employees.

Wayne was one of 13 communities in Nebraska to be recognized with NPPD awards and the only city to receive two awards.

Renewable energy forum to be held at Wayne State College on April 22

Wayne State College will present a public forum on renewable energy in Nebraska on April 22 at 6:30 p.m. in the Niobrara Room of the WSC Student Center. The forum will be followed by a music and dessert reception.

The public is invited to attend and submit questions for discussion by panel members Robert Byrnes from Nebraska Renewable Energy Systems; David Becker, Operations Project Manager of the Gavins Point Project; John Richards, Engineer, Nebraska Public Power District; Wesley Slaymaker, Vice President of Business Development, EcoEnergy, Madison WI; Gene Hansen, Production Superintendent, City of Wayne; and Wyatt Fraas, Assistant Director of the Rural Opportunities and Stewardship Program at the Center for Rural Affairs.

The forum will be moderated by Dr. Barbara Hayford, Assistant Professor of Life Science and Director of the A. Jewell Schock Museum of Natural History at WSC.

Renewable energy is energy that can be naturally replenished and generated from sources such as sunlight and geothermal heat.

Often criticized for cost that is still relatively high as compared to traditional ways of generating energy, increasing governmental support is driving renewable energy legislation, research, incentives, and commercialization. "Approximately 20 percent of energy consumption in the world is generated from renewable sources including hydroelectricity, solar, geothermal energy, wind power, ocean energy, ethanol fuel and wood-burning. Wind power is the fastest growing form of renewable energy, growing at approximately 30 percent per year.

The renewable energy forum at WSC is part of the College's annual Earth Day activities, which will also include a noon presentation on wind energy by Professor William Slaymaker (Elkhorn Room, Student Center), an Energy Fair (1 to 6 p.m., Elkhorn Room, Student Center), a running and bicycling event along the Wayne Bike Path (3 to 5 p.m.), and a cookout at 5 p.m. sponsored by the WSC Biology Club in the Willow Bowl on cam-

General Wayne visits Wayne Public Library

General "Mad Anthony" Wayne is scheduled to make a stop at the library Tuesday, April 14 at 6:30 p.m. As part of the continued programming celebrating the city's 125th anniversary, Tom Cook, who portrays Gen. Wayne will present an interesting and educational program on the General's life.

Dr. Cook, a retired Wayne State College professor of Criminal Justice, has always been a history buff. He has enjoyed investigating and studying the life of this little known historical figure. He says portraying the General allows him to be involved in the year-long festivities in the city. He also has found through his research that he has a distant relative who fought with Gen. Wayne in the Battle of Fallen Timbers in 1794.

If you want your questions answered as to why Wayne America is named after "Mad Anthony" or why this man was important to westward settlement or whether the General was really "mad," the library is the place to come.

This program is free and open to the public; no reservations are required. Call 375-3135 if you have questions. The "General" himself may be reached by calling 375-1171 or email him: tigertom43@hotmail.com

Renovation of athletic facilities 'worth the wait'

By Deb Harm

Four and a half million dollars can certainly make a difference.

The renovation of athletic facilities at Wayne State College is a perfect example.

A sense of pride and accomplishment exists on the north side of campus these days as student athletes, staff and alumni enjoy the transformation.

"The current facilities are exceptional in their quality and long overdue for a program such as ours," Reggie Yates, class of '71 tight end, said.

The beginning stages of work in the football stadium, built in 1944, began in December, 2007.

"When they began pulling out the old equipment and other items that had been stored under the stadium for years and years, it was hard to imagine what that old dirt floor and concrete structure could become," Eric Schoh, WSC Director of Athletics, said.

A state-of-the-art weight lifting room now occupies the main level of the stadium. The football locker room and the first ever women's soccer locker room complete this area.

Eighteen weight lifting platforms allow 72 student athletes to work out at the same time.

"The new facility was worth the wait," Silas Fluellen, WSC junior quarter back, said. "Stepping into the building feels like a Division I environment."

Newly created football offices are located on the mezzanine level.

The men's and women's basketball offices, the volleyball office and the sports information office were also renovated in Rice Auditorium. These offices are now centrally located, on the main floor of Rice Auditorium.

Other areas updated in the project include the men's basketball and volleyball locker rooms, with women's basketball gaining their own locker room for the first time in Wildcat history.

A new general student-accessible weight room has been created in the former football locker room.

"The new student weight room, which includes free weights, selectorized equipment, a stretching and core exercise area, is a great addition for all WSC students, faculty and staff," Mike Barry, Associate Athletic Director, said. "Along with our cardio room, pool, racquetball courts and arena, the new area provides another space and option for a work out."

Completion of the project will be showcased Friday, April 24, at a grand opening event, in conjunction with the Wildcat's spring football game. The Special Events committee of the Wayne Area Chamber and Economic Development office, along with the Wayne Area Ambassadors will work in conjunction with the WSC Athletic Department to host the event.

"We were looking for a way to invite the community to tour the new facility at the stadium. Doing something in conjunction with the spring football game just seemed to be a natural. Not only will we be able to show the people of Wayne the great work that has been done, but many of the football parents will be here to take a look as well," Schoh said.

A ribbon cutting ceremony will take place at 5:30 p.m. with kick off slated for 7 p.m. Tours of varsity weight room, offices, locker areas and equipment room will run from 5:30 to 6:30. A post game party is planned at the Max Again beginning at 8:30 p.m.

Free hot dogs, chips and pop, courtesy of Wimmers and Pac-N-Save, will be available at the field from 5 to 6:30 p.m.

April fools day a little late

Tracy Keating noticed that Mike Barry had made a snowman in his yard on Oak Drive but hadn't decorated it so she decided to help him out. Left, Keating turns Barry's snowman into a snow bunny. Right, when Barry came home for lunch that day, he wasn't sure what to think of Keating's creation but he got a good laugh out of it.

Transportation in Romania discussed

By Gary Van Meter

Editor's note: The following is another in a series of articles written by former Wayne resident Gary Van Meter, who is currently living and working in Romania.

Bucharest is a wonderful mixture of surface transportation (the underground subway is a topic for another day.)

Less than 20 years ago, almost everyone walked or used the tram or trolleys here; cars were few and far between and even then, weren't much of a threat to space (see photo.) Now, cars are numerous and everywhere and people often walk in the streets while autos are parked mostly on sidewalks because no one in the Communist era ever planned for the classless society to own a "machina" as they are called.

Regardless, there is still great demand for public transportation and two favorites are the electric powered trolley buses and trams that run throughout the city. A grid of overhead electrical wiring keeps these pollution-free vehicles energized, but with the faint smell of ozone as they spark through intersections.

Trams pass on the streets of Bucharest during rush hour.

This old car is representative of what cars were like in Bucharest until recently.

The pilots of the trolleys drive sort of like cowboys as they get up to speed quickly for their size as their electric motors have a tremendous torque curve. If the driver is in a hurry (to catch a light or intimidate a much smaller car) he can make his rig really wind out, much to the delight of kids on board and to the horror of oldsters trying to read their paper.

The trams are quite the opposite. Like any light rail system, they are a noisy, rolling cacophony of nostalgic sight and sound for the rider. There are few seats, but lots of windows from which to watch the world go by.

The tram driver has no horn, but instead uses a quaint bell to warn off traffic on the track, sounding more like an ice cream truck than a serious threat to anyone ahead. Only the formidable mass of the tram presents any real threat to other traffic on the rail ahead. These sturdy workhorses shake the earth as they pass through a neighborhood, sometimes setting off car alarms if one is parked too close to the railway.

It costs about 40 cents in our currency to get on and ride for as far as you wish and with diesel (most everything here runs on this fuel, even luxury cars) costing well more than $5 per gallon one can safely bet that these alternative forms of transportation will be around for a long time.

Kites, boomerangs to fly high at event

Celebrate the wind (or not!) with the Northeast Nebraska Resource Conservation & Development (RC&D) Council at their inaugural Spring Fling Air Affair event on Sunday, April 19 in Plainview. The soccer field north of the High School football field is the site and activities start at 2 p.m. The small fee to attend includes a free boomerang.

Dennis Wacker, RC&D Council President and avid kite and boomerang flyer, will lead the event. Participants will learn the basics of flying kites and boomerangs. There will be two contests in the boomerang division - one for accuracy of the throw and the other for number of catches. Be sure to bring your own kite or boomerang too.

Besides being National Kite Month the RC&D is kicking off their promotion of boomerangs. As a well thrown boomerang returns and drops at your feet, a task well done brings great satisfaction and results. The RC&D prides itself on providing needed services and assisting in the completion of community projects. The funds generated from boomerang sales will be used to help with those efforts. Several sizes are available for purchase from Council members or at the office.

Concerns that county competing with local contractors aired at recent meeting

By Lynn Sievers
Of the Herald

Wayne County Board of Commissioners met in regular session Tuesday. First order of business was a change in agenda, executive session (contract) was not held. Dennis Otte and others were present with a complaint that they felt the county is competing with private contractors. Otte had a letter of concern signed by a number of local contractors and individuals in regards to work done by the county on private property at tax payers expense.

The letter stated they don't understand why it's right for county equipment and employees to do contractor work on private property. The county shouldn't be in direct competition with private contractors. If the county needs concrete for stabilization, why not notify contractors where it is needed and let them do their work. The county shouldn't dig out foundations. The letter said this has been a win win situation for some property owners at tax payers expense and treats people unfairly. Can farmers call the county for their clean up jobs at tax payers expense? Maybe there can be a disposal site in each district. Otte noted they weren't singling any individual out, they just wanted such practices to stop.

Wayne County Attorney Mike Pieper asked the commissioners if a drop off site was a possibility. It was noted by several that other stuff will probably be dumped along with the concrete. It was also noted the DEQ has rules about dumping concrete in creeks; it has to be clean. Pieper suggested communication between the county and the contractors would probably minimize problems. Otte said if clean concrete is needed for creek bank stabilization, contractors can contact the county when they have some.

Commissioner Kelvin Wurdeman said he has no problem with that idea - they need to sit down and talk to contractors and come up with a plan. One problem he sees is late winter/early spring is when county employees work on certain projects and that is not usually the time that contractors are around doing work yet. Pieper noted the board has a resolution to review on the subject. Wurdeman stated concern with how the resolution was worded, that it may hinder the district doing a job to have to come to the board each time something needs to be done and may cost the tax payers more in the long run.

Road and bridge business included: discussion and authorization for the highway superintendent (Elizabeth Carlson) to certify that soft match project C009003025, six miles south and 3.3 miles east of Wayne has been completed and any temporary construction easement is terminated. Wurdeman made a motion for Carlson to certify that any temporary construction easement is terminated, Burbach seconded the motion which passed unanimously. Fuel tank replacement: Commissioner Dean Burbach reported that he found there are self-contained fuel tanks with 15,000 gallons capacity available. Burbach will obtain additional information on the tanks. Wurdeman will contact the State Fire Marshall's office to see if they are compliant.

Also, Authorization for solicitation of a proposal for engineering services for a federal aid project to replace bridge C009030820, five miles north and 2.3 miles west of Wayne, 861st Road, mile 573. Burbach made a motion to solicit a proposal from Mainelli-Wagner for engineering services, Wurdeman seconded the motion which passed unanimously. Discussion and action on an agreement between the state of Nebraska and Wayne County for federal aid project BRO-7090 (20), Wayne West, two miles west and 0.6 miles south of Wayne. Wurdeman made a motion to approve the State and Wayne County project, Burbach seconded the motion which passed unanimously.

And, Discussion and action on authorization of solicitation of proposals for engineering services for projects in Wayne County for 2009-2011. Wurdeman made a motion to solicit proposals from six engineering firms, Burbach seconded the motion which passed unanimously. Discussion and action on quotes received for small culverts. Presco company had the lowest quote. Burbach made a motion to approve Presco to provide the small culverts, Wurdeman seconded the motion which passed unanimously. Discussion and action on applications for permission to place utility line in county road right of way (one in Wurdeman's district and other in Burbach's district). Wurdeman made a motion to approve the application in his district, Burbach seconded the motion which passed unanimously. Burbach made a motion to approve the application in his district, Wurdeman seconded the motion which passed unanimously.

A motion was made by Wurdeman, seconded by Burbach to approve action taken by the lodging tax committee (approval of applications for the Wayne County Fair, Henoween and Chicken Day). A motion was made by Burbach, seconded by Wurdeman to approve technology grant application 09-02.

The next Wayne County Board of Commissioners meeting will be on Tuesday, April 21 at 9 a.m. at the Wayne County courthouse.

Wayne Planning Commission hears proposal for new subdivision

By Lynn Sievers
Of the Herald

The Wayne Planning Commission (PC) met in regular session Monday night. Commissioner Kelly Herman served as chair for Sharon Braun, who was absent.

Herman called for a change in the agenda, moving up the item: proposal for a new subdivision south of McDonalds and the fire hall. The area is zoned residential. The issue was brought before the PC to see if it could be changed to commercial zoning. Louis Bencoter told the PC that he and his wife, Javanah, plan to buy the property and develop it into an elderly housing unit, as well as a motel. The issue was discussion only but at this point the PC seemed favorable to the idea.

Next on the agenda was the use by exception request, Sec. 90-394 (12) for a church at 117 Main Street. The applicant was Juan Rojas of Norfolk. The current zoning code in Wayne states that when any group meets and conducts religious services, a use by exception permit is required.

Rojas told the PC that they were wanting to buy the building where the probation office was and also the lot to the south of that building. Rojas noted they have a congregation meeting in Wayne that is growing and that's why they are looking at that location. Commissioner Mark Sorensen asked what days their services are. Rojas noted Wednesday or Thursday evenings and Sunday afternoons/evenings is when they would meet.

Commissioner Jill Sweetland asked Johnson if the city has checked into if other businesses downtown would be negatively affected. Johnson noted that it's primarily retail businesses in that area and in following the comprehensive plan, a use by exception permit would be needed. Commissioner Lee Brogie asked Rojas how many people are in the congregation that would occupy that building. Rojas said roughly 80-100 (estimate). He noted parking would be behind the building.

Bill Melena, owner of White Dog Pub, spoke to the PC and stated he questions the parking to make sure it would be adequate. His understanding is a church should be 150 feet from a bar and 300 feet from a college or university. He noted the Eagles Club, The Max and the White Dog Pub are close by. Sweetland asked Lance Webster, Wayne Chief of Police, his thoughts. He noted that according to the Nebraska Liquor Commission rules, present bars are grandfathered in because they have pre-existing licenses. Cec Vandernick of the Wayne Eagles Club, which is located next to 117 Main, also questioned the parking. She said there's only space in back for three to four vehicles and she's concerned with the Eagles Club fire exit which could get blocked. She added they're not opposed to a church but space for parking is needed, especially on Thursday nights.

Sweetland wondered if a church in that location will possibly affect incoming businesses. BJ Woehler told the PC his concern is that a church isn't an adequate use of retail on Main Street. A church doesn't allow for good downtown retail space. Marie Mohr of Swan's Apparel told the PC there is already a limited number of parking spaces downtown. Renee Jacobsen of Snakey Jakes stated there is a dance group in the Mineshaft Mall Monday through Thursday nights so the area is full.

Commissioner Pat Melena said there is nothing in B2 zoning about parking but his concern is having a church downtown is not keeping with the comprehensive plan and would also limit future businesses. Johnson said the intent for B2 zoning is business. Melena made a motion to recommend the request for the use by exception be denied with the finding of fact that it is inconsistent with the comprehensive plan, Sorensen seconded the motion which passed six-one with the nay vote cast by Brogie.

A public hearing was held on the annexation of Kardell Industrial Park (containing 39.02 acres, more or less) to the city of Wayne. Steve Meyer of Milo Meyer Construction noted they recently purchased Felix Industries, which they don't want annexed. Sorensen asked why not and Meyer said annexation can kill industry. He added their business is in it's 58th year, never annexed and they want to keep it that way.

Jeff Morlok of Otte Construction told the PC he strongly urges them not to annex. He urged them to do their homework and they will see that Great Dane, Heritage Homes and the business that will locate in the spec building bring more money than the added property taxes the city could gain.

Woehler told the PC that their business is in city limits so when they buy equipment, they have to pay the extra one percent sales tax. He feels annexation should happen; if the area has city utilities, it should be annexed.

Sweetland said not annexing the area would probably make it more attractive to new businesses and help retain existing ones. Sorensen made a motion to recommend disapproval of annexation, Sweetland seconded the motion which passed six to one with Kranz having the nay vote.

The next meeting will be held Monday, May 5 at 7 p.m. in the city council chambers.

Consumer urged to look for 'Energy Star'

The U.S. government has a program that can help consumers make an Energy Wise decision when purchasing electric appliances for the home.

Always look for the ENERGY STAR logo.

When buying an appliance, remember that it has two price tags - what you pay at the store and what you pay for the energy and water it uses after you get it home.

ENERGY STAR qualified appliances incorporate advanced technologies that use 10-50 percent less energy and water than standard models. The money you save on your utility bills can more than make up for the cost of a more expensive but more efficient ENERGY STAR model.

Simple actions can make a big difference. If just one in 10 homes used ENERGY STAR qualified appliances, the change would be like planting 1.7 million new acres of trees.

Focus: Refrigerators

In most households, the refrigerator is the single biggest energy consuming kitchen appliance.

Looking for the ENERGY STAR could make a huge difference when considering the purchase of a new refrigerator. For example, replacing a refrigerator bought in 1990 with a new ENERGY STAR qualified model would save enough energy to light the average household for nearly four months.

Other refrigerator Energy Wise Tips:

You may also be interested to know that you can reduce the amount of energy your refrigerator or freezer uses, whether with a standard or an ENERGY STAR qualified model:

- Position your refrigerator away from a heat source such as an oven, a dishwasher or direct sunlight from a window.

- To allow air to circulate around the condenser coils, leave a space between the wall or cabinets and the refrigerator or freezer and keep the coils clean.

- Make sure the door seals are airtight.

- Keep your refrigerator between 35 and 38 degrees Fahrenheit and your freezer at 0 degrees Fahrenheit.

- Minimize the amount of time the refrigerator door is open.

- Recycle older or second refrigerators - or if you have a second older inefficient refrigerator for refreshments, consider unplugging it. Ask your local public power utility for more information on a refrigerator recycling program.

For more information about the ENERGY STAR program, visit /

Anyone interested in knowing about additional steps that can be taken to conserve water in improve energy efficiency is asked to contact the local public power utility. Lots of useful energy efficiency information is also available at nppd.com

Your public power electric utility wants you to get the most energy value for your money. It costs far less to save energy than it does to build a new power plant to generate additional power.

Forward-looking city

Rest room updates, paving debated

By Clara Osten
Of the Herald

Rest rooms in city parks, paving in the Industrial Park area and the possibility of additional motel rooms in the city of Wayne were among items on the agenda during Tuesday's meeting of the Wayne City Council.

Joel Hansen, a city employee and member of the Lower Elkhorn Natural Resources District (LENRD), spoke to the council on cost-share money that may be available from the LENRD to replace the rest room at Bressler Park. He showed photos of buildings designed to withstand vandals and the weather. The buildings would be pre-made and brought into Wayne. He also discussed the costs of having a building built locally. Having a building built on site would require engineering costs to make sure the building meets requirements.

Considerable debate followed Hansen's presentation and included discussion on what can and needs to be done to the present building to make it handicapped accessible.

Council member Doug Sturm told the council that "if we do something, I would like to see someone local do it."

No action was taken on the application for cost-share funding. Instead, council members asked city employees to explore options for working with the existing building.

Rod Hansen with Olsson Associates spoke to the council on plans for paving, storm sewer and storm water run-off on Summerfield Drive in Industrial Park.

Hansen presented a map to council members and talked about what needs to be done in the area. He noted that the original plans have been modified to allow the work to be done in phases.

City Treasurer Nancy Braden told the council about possible methods of paying for the project, including using LB840 tax funds, using the remaining sales tax revenue when the Community Activity Center is paid for.

Council member Kaki Ley questioned why the project needs to be completed at this time. City officials noted that without paving to the recently completed speculative building, it would be difficult to attract a business to the community to purchase it.

Council member Sturm said he was concerned with the cost of the project and said "hopefully we won't spread ourselves too thin."

Following the discussion, the council voted unanimously to move forward with the first phase of the project.

As a Community Development Agency (CDA), the council listened to information on the use of tax increment financing by Louis Bencoter for the purchase of the Scottie Thompson property and a potential motel project in the city of Wayne.

Dave Simonsen, Executive Director of Wayne Area Economic Development Inc., presented information on a recent Hotel Market Study for the city of Wayne. Simonsen told the council that the study indicated that the local market could support up to 100 more motel rooms in the city. He said these would be mid-range priced rooms and gave several examples of motel chains included in this range.

The council did express support for the project concept but took no action at Tuesday's meeting.

Other agenda items during Tuesday's meeting included approval of a request to waive the auditorium rental fees for a Q-125 celebration dance on Oct. 11; approval of engineering consulting services on the First Street paving and storm sewer project; approval of engineering consulting services on the Windom Street paving and storm sewer project and the acceptance of an engineering proposal with HDR for the Power Plant Cooling Tower Project.

Prior to the start of meeting, Mayor Lois Shelton read proclamations Support Citizens with Mental Retardation Week and noting April as Alcohol Awareness Month. Mayor Shelton and several others also accepted two awards presented to the city by Mary Plettner with Nebraska Public Power District. The awards recognize the city's efforts in economic development.

No action was taken on a bid for excavating and installing moisture barriers at the city auditorium. Instead, city staff will look into the possibility of having city employees do the work. The item will be again addressed at the council's next meeting.

The council will next meet in regular session on Tuesday, April 21 at 5:30 p.m. in council chambers

Autism Walk scheduled in Norfolk

The 2009 Puzzle Walk, supporting and advocating for individuals with autism and their families, will be held Saturday, April 25 in Norfolk.

The event will be held at the Norfolk YMCA with registration beginning at 9:30 a.m. There will be activities for children and the walk begins at 11.

One-half of the money raised during the walk will go to the Autism Society of Nebraska and be used for education, putting on the conference, scholarships for families enabling them to attend the conference and training of law enforcement.

The other half of the money raised stays with local support groups and will be used to raise awareness, provide education and to provide activities for local families.

Autism is a complex developmental disability that typically appears during the first three years of life. The result of a neurological disorder that affects the brain, it is four times more prevalent in boys than in girls and knows no racial, ethnic, or social boundaries.

It is part of a group of disorders known as Autism Spectrum Disorders (ASD). Today, 1 in 150 individuals are diagnosed with autism, making it more common than Pediatric Cancer, Diabetes and AIDS combined.

Autism impairs a person's ability to communicate and relate to others. It affects communication, social skills, pattern and range of interests and sensory responsiveness.

Autism is a spectrum disorder, meaning the symptoms and characteristics of autism can be present in any combination of the behaviors and symptoms can range from very mild to quite severe.

Autism was first identified in 1943 by Dr. Leo Kanner of Johns Hopkins Hospital.

At the same time, a German scientist, Dr. Hans Asperger, described a milder form of the disorder that is now known as Asperger Syndrome. These two disorders are listed in the DSM IV (Diagnostic and Statistical Manual) as two of the five developmental disorders that fill under the autism spectrum disorders.

The others are PDD NOS (Pervasive Developmental Disorder), Rett Syndrome and Childhood Disintegrative Disorder. All of these disorders are characterized by varying degrees of impairment in communication skills and social abilities and also by repetitive behaviors.

Other fund-raising activities for autism include the annual Fore Autism Golf Tournament, organized by Brook Valley School in Omaha. The tentative date for the tournament is Monday, July 6.

Wayne State track and field cleans house at Wildcat Classic

By Casey Schroeder

Marlon Brink said.

The Wayne State College outdoor track and field teams made use of the familiar confines of Cunningham Field when they won an unprecedented 15 events at last Friday's Wildcat Classic in Wayne.

"I was pleased to see the competitiveness of our athletes against the competition," WSC head coach

"Everyone gave a great effort, which early in the season is more of what I hope to see than great marks. The marks will come as the season progresses if the level of effort is there."

Teams competing in the meet included Northern State, Briar Cliff, Morningside College, Mount Marty and Northwestern College of Iowa.

"This was a meet that I felt we should do very well at, given the fact that most of the competition was against smaller schools," Brink said.

"It was a good meet for our younger athletes to build some confidence going into bigger meets on our schedule."

The Wildcat women's team had nine first place finishes and one NCAA national provisional qualifying mark.

Katie Wilson, the defending NCAA Division II Outdoor shot put champion, set an NCAA provisional qualifying mark with a throw of 49' 8 1/2" to win the event.

In addition to winning the shot put, Wilson also finished second in both the discus and hammer throw with marks of 137' 2" and 162' 9", respectively.

"Katie had a great meet. I think because she is the defending National Champion that it is easy for her to take her marks for granted," Brink said. "She is about right where we hope she would be."

Sprinter Christina King won two events, taking first in the 200-meter dash (26.08) and 400-meter dash (58.62) while also being involved in the Wildcats' gold medaling 4 x 100 and 4 x 400-meter relay teams.

Other winners for the Wildcats included Paige Pollard in the 400-meter hurdles (1:03.71), Danielle Wessel in the 800-meter run (2:26.19), Megan Zavorka in the 3,000-meter run (10:40.13) and Brianna Hofstetter in the triple jump (35' 8 1/4").

The 4 x 100-meter relay team of Jade Lippman, King, Hofstetter and Pollard finished first in 50.24 seconds while the 4 x 400-meter relay team of King, Lippman, Wessel and Pollard also took first in a time of 4:02.89.

For the WSC men, distance runner Nate Preston won two events, claiming victories in the 3,000-meter steeplechase (9:35.14) and 3,000-meter run (8:53.50).

"Nate had a very solid pair of races for his first race of the outdoor season," Brink said.

"He never had to overextend himself in either race, so that tells me that he has a lot more left in his tank. He will really start to get after getting a national qualifying mark in the steeplechase now."

Other Wildcat winners included Andy Jansen in the 400-meter dash (51.40), Garrett Flamig in the 400-meter intermediate hurdles (55.77), Alex Timperley in the triple jump (44' 4 3/4") and John Sloup in the hammer throw (174' 4").

A whole lot about nothing...

For the few of you who still believe that sports related news or any other form of news just instantly appears out of thin air, and makes their way into the paper, it may come as a shock to you, but they don't. Sorry!

The only reason that I bring this to your attention is that I received an anonymous complaint last week from a disgruntled grandparent, regarding the Herald's lack of coverage towards Wayne W.B.D.A. Basketball.

The grandparent felt that the Herald purposely "ignored" their grandchild and all of his or her exploits this past season on the hardwood as there were no statistics or pictures all season long.

And to some extent I sympathize with the grandparent.

However, I won't be blamed for the lack of coverage and neither should the Herald as no statistics were provided in the first place.

Therefore, before you write, call, or stop by with a complaint, please make sure that you have sufficient proof that the Herald or myself is at fault

I can almost guarantee that whatever comes across my desk or into my hands makes its way into the paper.

In closing, not to play the blame game, but if you don't see something that you feel should be in the Herald and it's happening on a continual basis, please check with the individual who is suppose to be submitting the information as they sometimes forget to carry out all of their "coaching duties."

And then if you are still not finding what you've been looking for, please give me a call, write me a letter or send me an email and I will be more than willing to help you resolve your matter.

If the HERALD doesn't contain all the news that it ought, just remember that what you knew and didn't tell us was one of the many things we failed to find out. The moral of this: Don't keep what you know to yourself, but tell it to the printer-Anonymous.

Wildcats swipe Golden Bears' honey in two-game sweep Friday

By Casey Schroeder

The 28th-ranked Wayne State College baseball team improved to 20-7 overall and 10-0 in the Northern Sun Conference (NSIC) with a two-game sweep of Concordia, St. Paul (20-8 1-5) on Friday in Wayne. Scores of the games were 4-3 and 7-2.

"I thought that we played as well as we had all year," WSC head coach John Manganaro said.

"Our competitiveness was there, we played sound fundamental defense, we had timely hitting and we pitched exceptionally well."

In Friday's opener, WSC took an early 2-0 lead over CSP in the bottom of the first inning when Alex Koch delivered a two-run double to right center, scoring Justin Hem-auer and Trey Hacker.

The Wildcats then added a lone run in the third inning on an RBI single by Hemauer, giving WSC a 3-0 lead.

However, CSP responded with two runs in the top of the fourth inning.

Brenden Furrow doubled down the left field line to start the inning and later scored on an RBI single by Zane Froehlich.

Zach Strouts followed with an RBI single for CSP, scoring Froehlich to cut WSC's lead to just one at 3-2.

With the Golden Bears nipping at the Wildcats' heels, WSC scored again in the bottom of the fourth to take a 4-2 lead when Eric Bond used an RBI single to score Nick Bidroski, who doubled earlier in the inning.

In the fifth inning, CSP loaded the bases on a pair of walks and a single by Jake Schmidt, but only managed one run, a sacrifice fly by Furrow, making the score 4-3 in favor of WSC.

The Golden Bears were unable to rally in the final two innings of play, and WSC held on for the 4-3 win.

CSP had six hits in the game compared to five for WSC while both teams finished with one error.

Koch went 1 for 3 with a double and two RBIs followed by Hacker who went 1 for 2 with a run scored and an RBI to lead WSC offensively in the win.

Chad Moreland (3-2) earned the win on the mound for the Wildcats, allowing three runs on five hits with three walks and two strikeouts in four and two-thirds innings of work.

Trenton Lee struck out three of the four batters he faced to earn his second save of the season for WSC.

"I thought that we were more competitive than Concordia," St. Paul was in both games. Our guys got up for the game and did a great job of being very competitive," Manganaro said.

"I think that Chad Moreland, Jared Hegdahl and Trenton Lee did a great job as far as coming in and pitching pitch for pitch with Jake Schmidt."

Froehlich went 1 for 2 with an RBI to lead CSP in the loss.

Schmidt took the loss on the mound for the Golden Bears, allowing four runs on five hits with two walks and six strikeouts in six innings of work.

In game two, CSP jumped out to a 1-0 lead in the second inning on an RBI single by Froehlich, scoring Furrow who led off the inning with a double.

WSC had no hits through the first three innings of play, but erupted for five runs on four hits in the bottom of the fourth inning.

Josh Yost led off the inning with a double while Joe Wendte walked and Hacker singled to load the bases.

Koch followed with an RBI single which scored Yost to tie the game at 1-1.

With the bases still loaded, WSC's Mike Bisenius belted a grand slam homer to give the Wildcats a 5-1 lead.

After three scoreless innings, the Golden Bears managed one run in the fifth on an RBI single by Strouts to make the score 5-2.

However, WSC responded with two more runs in the bottom of the fifth on a sacrifice bunt by Koch and an RBI single by Bisenius, making the final score 7-2.

WSC had eight hits in game two compared to six for CSP.

Bisenius went 2 for 3 with five runs batted in, including a grand slam while Hacker also went 2 for 3 with two runs scored for WSC.

Austen Wisroth (4-1) earned the win on the mound for the Wildcats, allowing two runs on five hits with no walks and nine strikeouts in five innings of work.

Matt Meier pitched the final two innings for WSC, giving up just one hit with a strikeout.

Furrow and Froehlich each had two hits to lead CSP in the loss.

Nick Anderson (2-1) took the loss on the mound for the Golden Bears, allowing five runs on four hits with three walks and four strikeouts in three and one-third innings of work.

Omaha Marian's Baumert signs with Wayne State

Alexandra Baumert of Omaha Marian High School has signed a national letter of intent to attend WSC and play women's soccer for the Wildcats in the fall of 2009.

The two-year letter winner is the third player to sign for Wildcat head coach Molly Grisham, joining Allison Reynolds of Indianola, Iowa and Lydia Myers of Grand Island.

During her junior year, Baumert helped guide Omaha Marian to a district title and an appearance in the Class A State Tournament where the Crusaders fell to Lincoln Southeast 2-1.

Omaha Marian finished last season with a 17-3 record and is already off to a 5-0 start this season where the Crusaders are currently ranked in the top five in Class A.

Wayne State women's golf faces uphill battle at Upper Iowa Invite

By Casey Schroeder

The Wayne State College women's golf team shot a two-day total of 741 (368-373) to finish in sixth place out of nine teams at the Upper Iowa Women's Spring Classic Golf Tournament in Iowa City, Iowa this past weekend.

Teams played 27 holes on Saturday with the final nine being played on Sunday due to predicted bad weather in the area.

"We had a chance to step ahead of some teams in the region, but unfortunately did not," WSC golf coach Troy Harder said.

"The weather conditions were bad and the girls just did not play to their potential. They are a young team and are still improving."

Upper Iowa won the team title with a two-day total of 646 (317-329), 23 shots better than runner-up Concordia, St. Paul who finished with a 669 (327-342).

"The weather conditions were terrible, cold temperatures, 30 mile per hour winds and a difficult course helped us shoot some higher scores than we wanted," Harder said.

Individually, Kelsee Katsampes had the top score for the Wildcats, shooting rounds of 87 and 89 for a 176 to finish in a tie for 17th overall.

Paige Barry trailed Katsampes, finishing 22nd overall with a 179 (91-88) while Heather McCabe tied for 36th place with a 192 (94-98).

Katie Isom shot a 194 (96-98) to finish in a tie for 38th place and was followed by Ali Fuchtmann in 40th with a 195 after she shot rounds of 96 and 99.

The next meet for the Wildcats will be on Saturday, April 25 when they compete at the Northern Sun Intercollegiate Conference Championships in Brookings, S.D.

Listed below are the team scores and individual results for WSC golfers who competed at this past weekend's Upper Iowa Invite

Now, on to U.S. "Sweet Sixteen" in Florida

On an icy cold, windy and snowy Sunday at the Air Force Academy in Colorado Springs, the Wayne Ladies — underdogs for sure — beat Texas Tech 12 to 5 to be ranked #16 in the United States.

The Girls routinely win over college teams such as Kansas State and Missouri in their regular season and have gone on to the Western Regional 6 years in a row. Because they are a non-varsity team, they are one of the few teams that have to "PAY TO PLAY" and pay all their travel expenses, motels, and etc.

HELP! They could sure use your help. They drove 7 cars to Colorado Springs, but now are faced with traveling all the way to Orlando and spending 6 days in motels, etc, about $7,000 expense for these girls. If you would like to help support this team who represent WSC and Northeast Nebraska, send your donations to Galen Wiser at the State National Bank before Wednesday the 15th.

They will play University of Michigan Wolverines on Friday the 17th in Orlando. Only three victories away from playing on ESPN-TV for the national championship.

Wildcats stumble in 6-1 loss to Vikings

By Casey Schroeder

Augustana College handed the Wayne State College softball team its first loss in Northern Sun Conference league play Saturday afternoon, topping the Wildcats 6-1 at the Pete Chapman Softball Complex in Wayne.

Augustana improved to 14-16 overall and 5-0 in the NSIC while WSC slipped to 19-12 overall and 4-1 in league play.

Augustana shortstop Ally Rutherford was a one-person wrecking crew for the Vikings as she went 3 for 4 with two home runs, a double and three RBI's with three runs scored in the win.

In the first inning, Rutherford opened the Vikings' nine-hit attack with a solo homer to left field, giving Augustana a 1-0 lead.

However, WSC responded back with a lone run in the bottom of the second inning to tie Augustana at 1-

Second baseman Blair Kuhl ironically slides into second base in Saturday's showdown with Augustana College.

The Wildcats' Brittany Greenwood and Hannah Engelkamp then walked while Kiley Peterson singled to the catcher to load the bases.

With the bases loaded, Amy Sandstrom then belted a single to second base, scoring Engelkamp for WSC's only run of the game.

And that is as close as the Wildcats would get as Augustana's Rutherford added an RBI double in the third and a solo homer in the seventh before settling for the 6-1 win.

WSC had seven hits in the game to nine for Augustana.

Sophomore Blair Kuhl went 3 for 3 with a double to lead WSC in the loss while Jennifer Radley finished 1 for 3 with a double.

Also yielding hits for the Wildcats were Katie Goetzinger, Sandstrom and Peterson who all singled.

Goetzinger (14-8) suffered the pitching loss for WSC, allowing six runs on nine hits with eight strikeouts and three walks.

The Wildcats will return to action on Friday, April 10 when they host the University of Mary in a NSIC doubleheader starting at 12 p.m. at the Pete Chapman Softball Complex in Wayne.

Wayne State escapes Concordia, St. Paul 4-3

By Casey Schroeder

John Plasha's single to left field drove home Treye Hacker with the game-winning run in the bottom of the seventh inning to highlight a three-run rally as the 28th-ranked Wayne State College baseball team defeated Concordia, St. Paul 4-3 on Saturday in Wayne.

"They had a 3-1 lead going into the last inning and they walked the leadoff hitter. Joe gets a base hit, Treye lays down a perfect bunt and then basically we just did what we had to do to win and we did a great job of doing it," WSC head coach John Manganaro said.

With the win over the Golden Bears, WSC improved to 21-7 overall and a perfect 11-0 in the Northern Sun Intercollegiate Conference (NSIC) while CSP dropped to 20-9 overall and 1-6 in league play.

The Golden Bears jumped out to an early 1-0 lead in the first inning following the play of Jake Schmidt who led off the inning with a single and later scored on an RBI double by Jon Stockton.

WSC tied the game in the second inning on an RBI single by Plasha which scored Alex Koch who walked earlier in the inning.

With the game at an even 1-1, CSP reclaimed the lead with single runs in the third and fourth inning. Chris Herbert had an RBI single for CSP in the third while Stockton later added an RBI single in the fourth to push the Golden Bears' lead to 3-1.

The score remained unchanged until the bottom of the seventh inning when WSC erupted for three runs on three hits.

Jake Ritzdorf led off the inning with a walk and advanced to second on a single by Joe Wendte while Treye Hacker followed with a bunt single to load the bases for the Wildcats.

After a strikeout, the first of the inning, Mike Bisenius earned a walk to score Ritzdorf, cutting the Golden Bears' lead to just one run at 3-2.

Nick Bidroski then grounded out to first base which scored Wendte to tie the game at 3-3.

With runners at second and third and only one out to spare, Plasha delivered a game-winning RBI single off the left field fence to lift the Wildcats past the Golden Bears, 4-3.

The Golden Bears had 10 hits in the game to nine for the Wildcats while WSC finished with two errors.

"We didn't hit very well...our defense was like our defense is some days. We made a couple of errors that we shouldn't have made and we didn't get a ball that we should have got," Manganaro said.

"But we stayed competitive and we stayed competitive to the end. We can be much better hitting, fielding and base running. Much better.

Plasha went 3 for 4 with two runs batted in, including the game winning double, to lead WSC offensively in the win.

Jared Hegdahl (1-1) earned the win on the mound for WSC, allowing no runs and no hits with one walk and three strikeouts in two innings of relief for the Wildcats.

John Snyder started the game for WSC and gave up three runs on 10 hits with one walk and three strikeouts in five innings of work.

Stockton went 3 for 4 with two runs batted in and a run scored while Bryan Lippincott and Jake Schmidt each added two hits in the loss.

Kirk Ingram took the loss on the mound for CSP, allowing two runs and three hits with one walk and one strikeout in a relief effort.

Chris Kimpton started the game for the Golden Bears and gave up two runs on six hits with five walk and three strikeouts in six innings of work.

The Wildcats will return to action on Friday, April 10 when they travel to Bolivar, Mo., for a 12 p.m. contest against Southwest Baptist.

Fiery Flyers outlast with Wildcats at Stanton Invite

By Lee Koch

The Winside girls track squad led by double gold medalist Hillary Lienemann placed second at last Thursday's Stanton Invitational in Stanton.

Lienemann, the school record holder in the shot put, won both of her specialty events with a toss of 32' 10 1/2" in the shot put and a throw of 103' 3" in the discus.

The Wildcats' only other first place medalist was Jordyn Roberts who finished with a career best leap of 15' 4 3/4" in the long jump.

Roberts also earned fourth in the triple jump, an event that she qualified in for last year's state meet with a jump of 31' 11 1/2" while going on to finish third in the 100-meter hurdles with a time of 18.4 seconds.

Katie Gray earned a second place medal in the high jump going over the crossbar at 4' 8", and added a sixth place finish in the 400-meter dash with a time of 1:10.12.

Gray also garnered a fourth place medal as the leadoff runner in the Wildcats' 1600-meter relay as she along with Kristin Messersmith, Tina Nelson and JaRae Doffin posted a time of 3:59.36.

Amanda Backstrom finished third in the discus at 84' 5" and fourth in the shot put with a mark of 28' 4 1/2" while teammate B.J. Cushing placed fifth overall in the discus with a heave of 78' 0".

Rounding out Winside's efforts in the field events was JeRae Doffin who earned a pair of sixth place medals in both the long jump (14' 8") and triple jump (30' 4").

On the track it was Caitlyn Prince who led the Wildcats with four fourth place finishes.

Prince medaled in the 100-meter hurdles (18.53), 100 (14.11) and 200-meter dashes (29.88) while also anchoring the 400-meter relay team of Shelby Meyer, Mrsny and Weinrich who posted a time of 59.73 seconds.

Other medalist for the Winside girls were Tina Nelson in the 1600-meter run (5th 7:13.21), Doffin in the 300-meter hurdles (6th 56.09) and Mrsny who finished sixth in the 200-meter dash at 30.80 seconds.

In the boy's division, Winside placed third in the team race, finishing with a total of 77 points behind meet winner Humphrey St. Francis and runner-up Stanton.

The Wildcats' lone individual gold medalist was Zach Brokaw who covered the metric mile in 5:11.39, an event the sophomore runner qualified for in last year's state meet in Omaha.

Brokaw also placed third in the triple jump with a career best leap of 40' 1" and ran a leg on the 1600-meter relay team that finished second overall in a time of 3:59.07.

Joining Brokaw were teammates Anthony Nelson, Kelby Prince and Andrew Mohr.

Nathan Janke led the Wildcat effort in the field events with a third place throw of 108' 8" in the discus while also finishing second in the shot put with a mark of 44' 2".

Joining Janke as a medalist in the throws was Aaron Mangels who used a toss of 101' 1" to place fourth overall in the discus while he also went on to finish fifth in the shot put with a mark of 37' 0".

Andrew Mohr placed second in the high jump, clearing a personal best 5' 10", in addition to earning third in the 110-meter hurdles with a time of 18.35 seconds.

The 400-meter relay team of Kalin Koch, Blake Hokamp, Gare Hurlbert and Anthony Nelson finished third in a time of 47.30 seconds while Koch nabbed a six place medal in the long jump with a leap of 18' 1".

Other medalists for the Wildcat boy's team included the 3200-meter relay team of Seth Mangels, Jake Kander, Michael Lage and Peter Hansen who finished fourth in a time of 10:02.50.

In the 100-meter dash, Anthony Nelson took fifth while Ethan Thies finished sixth in the 300-meter hurdles with a time of 53.61 seconds.

National Public Health Week being observed

The week of April 6-12 has been designated as National Public Health Week. This year's theme is "Building a Healthy America."

The Northeast Nebraska Public Health Department has released the following statistics in conjunction with the observance.

- People in the U.S. can expect to live 78 years, but this ranks us 46th in the world behind Japan and most of Europe, as well as South Korea and Jordan.

- A baby born in the United States is more likely to die before its first birthday than a child born in almost any other developed country.

- The U.S. is among the top 10 countries that have the most people with HIV/AIDS.

- Minority populations in the U.S. have nearly eight times the death rate for key health conditions than non-minority populations.

We lead the world in many ways, but have more work to do to make everyone in this country healthy. During Public Health Week, April 6-12, think about the people who do help make us healthy. They are all around us, thank them for bringing us vaccines, teaching us the importance of wearing bike helmets and seat belts and helping us to quit smoking; and they do so much more.

In 2008, Northeast Nebraska Public Health Department (NNPHD) provided the following services for people in Cedar, Dixon, Thurston and Wayne Counties:

- Infectious Disease Surveillance and Investigation - Including Hepatitis, Giardia, Salmonella and more.

- Public Health Emergency Preparedness Planning - Including Pandemic Flu and other Natural and Man-made Disasters.

- Child Fetal Infant Mortality Review - To identify underlying factors for local infant and child mortality rates being higher than state rates.

Roberson brothers compete in hockey

Jackson and Will Roberson of Wayne recently finished their respective seasons participating in the Siouxland Youth Hockey Association (SYHA). The brothers began the six month long schedule in October of last year. Jackson is an eighth grader at Wayne Middle School and Will is in first grade at Wayne Elementary. The boys are the sons of Kevin and Mary Jean Roberson of Wayne.

Will Roberson

Jackson played goaltender and served as an assistant captain for the Sioux City Jr. Musketeers Bantam Green travel team and was "in net" every game. The team traveled to tournaments in Sioux Center, Iowa, Fairmont, Minn., Brookings, SD, Buffalo, Minn. and hosted a tournament in Sioux City.

At the "Shootout in Sioux City," Jackson was awarded "Player of the Game" pucks against Sioux Center and Omaha in which he faced 45 and 52 shots on goal, respectively, in the 36-minute games. The Jr. Musketeers also participated in conference play in Des Moines, Kansas City and Lincoln. Sioux City finished in sixth place out of eight teams in the Midwest League. The highlight of the season for Jackson was a shutout against Brainard, Minn. at the Buffalo tournament. Brainard led Sioux City in shots on goal by 38-12 but due to some excellent defensive play Sioux City won the game 2-0. Jackson will return for his second year in the Bantam program next year.

Jackson Roberson

Will completed his third year in the SYHA program and his first year in the Mite division. He played defenseman in the Siouxland House League program for the team sponsored by Michael Foods and also played on the Mite Green Jr. Musketeer travel team. The Mite Green team traveled to Mitchell, SD, Okoboji, Iowa, Sioux Falls, SD, Worthington, Minn. and hosted a tournament in Sioux City. Will scored his first official goal in a house league game in December on a slap shot just inside the blue line.

His first goal in a travel game came against Sioux Center Blue at the Okoboji Winter Games in February on a breakaway. The game was played "pond hockey" style (smaller rink) on West Okoboji Lake. The ambient temperature when the game started was -5 degrees F. Will was very active this season on defense stopping opposing players from getting shots at the net as well as guarding the blue line for his team in their offensive zone. He will compete in the Mite program again next year.

Body of missing Crofton man located

The body of a Crofton man reported missing more than four months ago has been recovered from a pond in a field southeast of Crofton, on County Road 888, in Knox County.

At approximately 2:30 p.m., April 03, the Nebraska State Patrol Troop B Headquarters- Norfolk received a call from a citizen who reported recovering what appeared to be pieces of a vehicle and a license plate in a field southeast of the Knox County town. Investigators responded to the scene and determined the license plate belonged to a pickup driven by a missing

Crofton man, 47-year-old Donovan Potts.

A detailed search of the area led to the discovery of a 1999 Ford pickup partially submerged in a muddy pond about a quarter of a mile off of the roadway. The body of Potts and his dog were also discovered in the water.

"At this time it appears, Mr. Potts died as a result of the vehicle crash," said Troop B Investigative Services Lieutenant Randy Morehead. "We have scheduled an autopsy to determine the exact cause of death. Until that time our investigation will continue."

Potts was reported missing on Nov. 21, 2008, having last been seen on the evening of Nov. 20, 2008, in Crofton. The original missing persons report was taken by the Cedar County Sheriff's Office and was listed on the Nebraska State Patrol Missing Persons Clearing House. Numerous agencies, departments and volunteers from Nebraska and South Dakota have been involved in this case in an effort to locate the missing rural Crofton man.

LEAD fellowship applications available for group XXIX

Fellowship applications for Nebraska LEAD (Leadership Education/Action Development) Group XXIX are now available for men and women involved in production agriculture or agribusiness. "Up to 30 motivated men and women with demonstrated leadership potential will be selected from five geographic districts across our state," said Terry Hejny, Nebraska LEAD Program director. In addition to monthly three-day seminars throughout Nebraska from mid-September through early April each year, Nebraska LEAD Fellows also participate in a 10-day National Study/Travel Seminar and a two- to three-week International Study/Travel Seminar. Seminar themes include economics, foreign cultures, government, communications, international trade, politics, business, labor, environment, finance and industry, as well as agriculture, Hejny said. The Nebraska LEAD Program is designed to prepare the spokesper-sons, problem-solvers and decision makers for Nebraska and its agricultural industry. In its 28th year, the program is operated by the Nebraska Agricultural Leadership Council, a nonprofit organization, in collaboration with the University of Nebraska's Institute of Agriculture and Natural Resources and in cooperation with Nebraska colleges and universities, business and industry, and individuals throughout the state. Applications are due no later than June 15 and are available via e-mail from the Nebraska LEAD Program. Please contact Shana at sgerdes2@unl.edu. You can also request an application by writing Room 318 Biochemistry Hall, University of Nebraska-Lincoln, 68583-0763 or by calling (402) 472-6810. Nebraska LEAD Program offices are in the Institute of Agriculture and Natural Resources at the University of Nebraska-Lincoln.

Wayne boys place in national reading contest

Andrew and James Simpson, sons of Jeff and Colleen Simpson of Wayne, love to read. That passion paid off in a big way recently when the boys' school, Zion St. John (ZSJ) Lutheran School, rural Wisner, won a national reading contest. Beating out schools with 550 times their enrollment, ZSJ claimed the top spot in the 2009 National Lutheran Schools Accelerated Reader (AR) Challenge. Out of the 78 Lutheran elementary schools nationwide that participated in the challenge, ZSJ had the highest per-student average — 42.58 points per student. The closest school to them, Our Savior's First Lutheran School in Granada Hills, Calif., had 39.91 points per student.

"Every child participated and met their individual reading goals," ZSJ principal Wende Carson said. "Because every single grade did so well, we won the national contest." Andrew, a fifth-grader, earned 115 points, which earned ZSJ the top berth in the fifth grade category. James earned 42 points, with ZSJ first graders placing third overall. Other grades earned the following honors: Second grade placed 16th, fourth grade placed 25th, sixth grade placed ninth, and seventh and eighth grades placed second. With 11 ZSJ students enrolled in the reading challenge, some of the grades had only one or two students earning points. The total number of points for the school was 468.4. ZSJ has been participating in the challenge for three or four years, and the highest the school had ever come before was 13th place, Carson said. Andrew and James' father, Jeff, said he thinks ZSJ's multi-grade setting helps contribute to students' success. "That setting helps pull up the education level," he said. Andrew agreed with the assessment. "In a small classroom, you can excel in your grades faster than in larger classrooms," he said.

Goldenrod Hills Community Action, Inc., is offering free, last-minute tax help at their Family Services offices. For the nearest location call 1-800-445-2505 or 1-402-529-3513. The service is courtesy of the IRS Volunteer Income Tax Assistance program. Goldenrod Hills Community Action, Inc. will help people whose incomes are $42,000 or less to prepare their federal and Nebraska income tax returns and provide free electronic filing. Assistance is provided on a first-come, first-served basis, so we encourage people to make an appointment. Taxpayers seeking assistance must have photo identification and Social Security Cards (or Individual Taxpayer Identification Numbers) for themselves, spouses and dependents. They should also bring this year's tax package (if available), wage and earnings statements (Forms W-2), interest and dividend statements (Forms 1099), a copy of last year's return, and any other information concerning their income and expenses for 2008 Tax Year. E-filing provides the highest degree of speed, accuracy and security in filing tax returns. Last year, more than 487 residents e-filed their federal tax returns. E-filing is one of the most popular innovations ever introduced by the Internal Revenue Service and has been recognized by both taxpayers and professional return preparers alike for its ability to make filing taxes easier.

Shawn Hanson joins American Broadband as President and General Manager

American Broadband Communications (ABB) recently announced that Shawn Hanson will join the rural telecommunications company as President and General Manager of Nebraska and Missouri operations effective April 30. "Shawn's experience and proven success exemplify the operating and management philosophy that creates an environment that is aligned with our long-term focus on growth and community involvement in rural America," said John Duda, Executive Vice President and Chief Operating Officer. As general manager and chief executive officer of Nemont Telephone, the 14th largest cooperative in the United States, Hanson oversaw telecommunications services in three states, serving approximately 27,000 telephone, 1,500 video, 9,000 Internet, and 12,800 cellular customers. He has served on the boards and executive committees of various state telephone associations. Hanson began his telecom career with US West in 1979 where he remained for 19 years. He spent the next several years in the CLEC arena, co-founding a regional competitive telecommunications firm before joining McLeod USA as Director of Service Delivery where he remained until joining Nemont in 2005. "I'm very pleased to be joining the American Broadband team where the benchmarks of progress are measured by value creation, financial performance, operating efficiency, world class customer service, and strong employee commitment and community support," said Hanson.

Adopt-A-Door program

Adopt-A-Door program was started in an effort to continue community involvement with Wayne Community Schools and local businesses. Once a month, various business reps greeted students. Above, Amy Topp, UNL Extension-Wayne County, greeted Wayne Elementary School students. (Not shown but also greeting were Pam Greunke and Laurie Gansehom, also of UNL Extension-Wayne County).

Aspiring authors

Each of the students at St. Mary's Elementary School in Wayne recently wrote an original story or poem. Based on their entries, Grace Heithold and Sarah Greenwald were selected to represent St. Mary's at the Young Authors' Festival to be held Saturday, April 18 at Wayne State College. Pictured are those recognized for their writing. They include front row, left to right, Grace Lindsey and Sarah Greenwald. Back row, Sidney Biggerstaff, Breanna Kallhoff, Grace Heithold and Abby Ankeny.

Kietzmann chosen for Girls State

Kaitlin Kietzmann, a junior at Wayne High School has been selected to attend this year's Cornhusker Girls State Session. Girls State is a nationwide program sponsored by the American Legion Auxiliary. Each year more than 400 girls from throughout the state are offered an opportunity to be active participants in structured role-playing that emphasizes our Democratic form of government. The selection process is difficult and only the most qualified high school juniors are selected to participate. The American Legion Auxiliary works with the local high schools in the process. The students selected have demonstrated an interest in learning government and are leaders in their high schools. The Department of Nebraska

American Legion Cornhusker Girls State session will be conducted at the University of Nebraska-Lincoln, from May 31 to June 6.

For more information on the Girls State program, contact the local American Legion Auxiliary Girls State Chairman, Jean Lutt.

Optimist members undertake projects

Members of the Wayne Optimist Club participated in two projects recently. On April 2 Optimist supported the bowling party for about 30 Teammates and their mentors after school. Snacks were provided after bowling. Chairperson for that project was Mike Varley. On April 4 Optimist members helped with the Easter Egg Hunt at Premier Estates with about 50 participants involved in finding the eggs. Bob Keating and his son Zach chaired this project in the absence of Phyllis and Darrel Rahn. Members are reminded to attend the next scheduled meeting on Tuesday, April 14 at Tacos & More at 6 p.m. Optimist is an organization whose main goal is to bring out the best in kids. Anyone wishing to find out more about the group should contact Bob Keating at 402-375-2696 or any member.

Happy hunters

Area children had plenty of opportunities to fill their Easter baskets during three Easter Egg hunts in Wayne on April 4. Above, the Easter Bunny helped at the Wayne Jaycees Egg Drop at the National Guard Armory. At right, the shelves at the Wayne Public Library served as hiding places for lots of eggs. The hunt was held indoors due to the inclement weather. Below, residents at Premier Estates enjoyed the Easter Egg Hunt as much as the children involved in this year's event.

Based on the quality of their research, category medals, specialty awards, top 10 awards, and first, second and third place overall awards were presented to students.

In addition to being judged at this science fair, students enjoyed their time at the Lied Lodge swimming and hiking the trails. They also visited the Lewis and Clark Museum and had fun bowling at Farbe Lanes. Chaperones and van drivers for this trip were Mrs. Lee Brogie and Dr. Cheryl Waddington.

Six of the top 10 Junior Division Medalists were from Wayne Middle School. They included Jaci Jenkins, McKenna Frevert, Kendra Liska, Rachel Waddington, Dillon Wieland, and Emily Leeper.

Students in Free Enterprise team wins two trophies and prizes

The SIFE (Students In Free Enterprise) team from the University of Nebraska at Kearney brought home two trophies and $1,000 in prizes from regional competition held recently at Los Angeles.

The 14-member SIFE team was named to the "Top 20 Nationwide" in the Financial Literacy Competition and were first runner-up in overall league competition.

Local members of the team include Nick Curry of Wakefield and Nathan Summerfield of Wayne.

Reggie Ruhl of Wayne is also a member of the team.

"I couldn't be prouder of how these students have performed all year in completing their projects," said Dr. Susan Jensen, SIFE faculty adviser, "not to mention how wonderfully they represented UNK at this competition."

Prizes are awarded to first place, first runner-up, second runner-up and rookie of the year in overall league competition. League winners advance to the national competition. Twenty teams are selected in individual topics and then advanced to the national competition as well.

"Our team has always gone to a different regional competition each year as a way to meet teams from around the country and visit new cities," Dr. Jensen said. "They were eligible to compete, because they had more than 10 members and had completed several quality projects prior to the competition registration deadline."

The team will now have the opportunity to compete nationally in Financial Literacy category at Philadelphia in May.

Dr. Jensen established the SIFE team in the fall of 2003. "The SIFE team creates and delivers a variety of educational outreach projects that serve UNK students, as well as Kearney community members and elementary, middle and high school students throughout the region," Jensen said.

Last year, SIFE completed 20 projects that have had a direct impact on an estimated 17,000 people. Projects included Smart Money Week, What Not to Wear and Books for Africa. Currently, SIFE is working on three additional projects that will affect an estimated 3,000 more people this year.

Membership is open to both graduates and undergraduates.

"All majors are welcome, and the only requirement is to want to work hard to make a positive difference in the community," Dr. Jensen said.

Storm spotter training

A storm spotter education class was hosted by the Winside Fire Department last week. The class was led by Cathy Zapotocny with the National Oceanic and Atmospheric Association. Approximately 60 people from Winside, Wayne, Carroll, Hoskins, Pierce and Meadow Grove Fire Departments, the Wayne County Sheriff's Department and Wayne County Emergency Management attended the training.

April is Child Abuse Prevention Month

April is Child Abuse Prevention Month and as such, the Nebraska Child Abuse Prevention Partnership in Northeast Nebraska has provided the following information for better dealing with stress and children.

Stress happens. Rethink your reaction.

Had a rough day at work? Dealing with car problems? Burned the meatloaf again? Stress is part of everyday life, but how do you react when stress happens?

If you fly off the handle, you're bound to upset those around you. Children are especially sensitive to your moods, words, and actions. Also, children learn how to handle their own stress by watching you. If you tend to overreact when problems arise, it is likely your kids will learn to do the same.

Finding positive ways to manage stress as a family is a great way to bond and show support for one another. Here are a few healthy ways you and your family can manage stress as a team:

Humor helps

Stress can make you want to yell, cry, or run away. But other responses can work better. You can escape tension—or at least make it more bearable—with humor. Lighten the situation by telling stories, jokes, reading, listening to music, or watching something fun with the kids in your life. Make each other laugh — you'll learn a lot about each other and show kids how to keep your cool when things go wrong.

Talking helps

Many adults and children do not spend enough time just talking to one another. No matter what age your child is, talking helps create a

NECC plans class to help students become real estate agents

Northeast Community College in South Sioux City will offer another real estate course soon to help individuals prepare for a career as a real estate agent.

This three-hour course, Real Estate Trust Account, with course number of RE 0302-01S, meets Friday, April 17, from 1-4 p.m. in Room 112 of the South Sioux City Education Center, 3900 Daniels Lane in the Westside Business Park. Cost of the class is $35.

This class is required for those planning to get a broker's license and must be taken before the brokerage license exam. The instructor is Ed Guinane, who is approved by both the Iowa and Nebraska Real Estate Commission.

For more information or to register, call (402) 241-6400.

healthy habit of sharing life experiences as a family. Children need conversation to learn. They do better in school and have more success as adults when their parents are actively involved in their lives.

Asking helps

Remember, it never hurts to ask. There are a lot of resources for when you feel like you've run out of ideas or answers. Start by looking at parenting books, web sites, articles, or sign up for a newsletter. Find other parents that you feel comfortable with and ask them for advice. Whether you are helping your child potty train or learn to drive, it's OK to have questions, and it's good parenting to ask for help when you need it.

We all handle stress differently, but by remembering these simple guidelines, we can all try to handle it effectively. To learn, go to the Prevent Child Abuse Nebraska site at nebraskachildren.org. The resources and tools tab will take you to another page that features the Rethink Your Reaction campaign. This campaign is sponsored by the Nebraska Child Abuse Prevention Partnership. Prevention Partnership members are the Nebraska Department of Health and Human Services, the Nebraska Child Abuse Prevention Fund Board, and the Nebraska Children and Families Foundation and coordinated through the Northeast Early Childhood Professional Partnerships.

April is Child Abuse Prevention Month, but children need our love and care every day of every month. By sharing this information we are helping to expand the circle of care and protection our children need and deserve.

Nebraska state law requires any person who suspects that a child has been physically or sexually abused or neglected to report it promptly to the Nebraska Department of Health and Human Services. To report abuse, call the Abuse/Neglect Hotline at 1-800-652-1999.

Learning and eating

Foods class members Jordan Barry, Andi Diediker, and Derek Poutre help guest speaker, Garry Poutre, make beef jerky. Mr. Poutre demonstrated how to make seasoned hamburger beef jerky from hamburger and jerky from marinated beef or pork roasts. Other members of the Wayne High Foods class taught by Karen Schardt are Tory Booth, Josh Calhoun, Kelsey Denklaue, Carly Ferhringer, Amanda Kuderna, A. J. Longe and Taylor Martin. This year four females and 20 males have taken the Foods course. Present popularity of TV and cable cooking shows have increased interest in cooking for enjoyment, nutrition benefits and cost cutting in the family budget. If you asked the Wayne students why they enrolled in a foods class, the most common answer is, "We get to eat!"

Winners in '50s contest

Grease performance is spot on!

This is going to be one of those flowery columns with a lot of name dropping where everyone gets credit. Those that don't like these types of columns, please feel free to browse on through, the rest of today's Wayne Herald.

For those still with me, thanks for your attention. I have to admit when I found out Wayne high school was going to be performing the musical "Grease" I was a little skeptical after seeing it several times on the television screen.

How are they going to cut out some of the parts that need cutting (for a high school performance) and still be effective?

ANSWER: Tracy Anderson and Carolyn Harder.

This duo did a magnificent job of working with the Tim Jacobs and Warren Casey production of the high school musical and of course they did it with...some incredibly talented Wayne students.

The performance was phenomenal to say the least. Joe Whitt's rendition of John Travolta as Danny was stellar as was Holly Smith's portrayal of Olivia Newton John as Sandy. These two were awesome in the way they sang and danced and interacted with the other characters on stage.

The Pink Ladies with Katie Kietzmann as Rizzo, Sarah Monahan as Frenchy, Ambre Ruzicka as Marty and Rebecca Agler as Jan were very good. Heck, Kietzmann had Rizzo's accent down pat.

Of course the T-Birds were a crowd favorite with Tory Booth as Kenickie, Collin Jeffries as Doody, Derek Poutre as Roger and Cory Foote as Sonny. The entire cast, performed admirably and these 50-plus students who performed deserve many accolades for a job well done.

The singing, dancing and one-liners throughout the performance which was held over three nights last week really highlighted the talent walking the hallways of Wayne high school.

One of the loudest ovations from the crowd on the night I attended, was for freshman Sawyer Jager who sang "Beauty School Dropout." This young man didn't waiver for an instant about being on stage in a high school musical for the first time. He simply nailed his performance.

The rest of the cast included: Genelle Gardner as Patty; Anna West as Cha-Cha; Josh Doorlag as Eugene; Andi Diediker as Vince Fontaine; John Murray as Johnny Casino; Meg Pierson as Miss Lynch; Laura Muren as the radio voice.

The "Angels" were played by Lisa Temme, Jenny Zink, Kristin Liska, Kelly Gentrup, Rachel Gilliland, Calyn Krantz, Jessica Farmer and JoAnn Parker.

Dance girls included Laura

Muren, Emily Nelson, Hannah McCorkindale, Brittany Wurdeman, Emma Carstens, Erica Sebade, Becca Jaixen, Jordan Alexander and Hannah Mitiku.

The dance guys consisted of Miles Anderson, Corey Doorlag, Sean Gansbom, Nick Monahan, Andrew Long, Zach Long, Tyler Poehlman and Jared Klassen.

Kenndra Dunker, Natalie Sieler, Megan Wherley and Jenna Pieper. Choreographers were Laura Muren and Jessie Henderson while those playing the role of students in the performance included Jordan Alexander, Carissa Fehringer, Lauralie Gulovsen, Alexis Reinert and Kori Witt.

Again, job well done everyone.

Moving from the magical musical of "Grease" back to the sports world, former Wayne standout softball player Molly Hill will be honored this Saturday as the Nebraska Cornhusker softball team takes on Texas at Haymarket Park in Lincoln with an 11 a.m. start time.

The senior pitcher will be part of the Hometown Husker spotlight and that light will shine on Wayne during the contest with the Longhorns.

Blue Devil Nation will join with Husker Nation to recognize Hill and all she's accomplished. Despite being Easter weekend, I hope the turnout from Wayne is solid. Molly will forever be part of the legacy of Wayne softball. She was the first female from Wayne High School to receive an NCAA Division I scholarship to play sports. Congrats to her and her family, Kevin, Melody and Jesse.

Speaking of softball, the Wayne girls softball program is teaming up with the boys baseball association in a spaghetti feed fundraiser on Tuesday, May 12 from 5-7:30 p.m. at the WSC student center.

Proceeds from the event will go toward dugout improvements. Mark that date on your calendars and come out to support this worthwhile venture.

By Ed Howard
Statehouse Correspondent
The Nebraska Press Association

It's the sort of thing that might have sent the late tax activist Ed Jaksha doing back flips all the way to the Statehouse, with a mountain of initiative petitions in tow.

Sen. Rich Pahl's of Omaha has chosen as his priority bill for the 2009 session a measure which would repeal the state's myriad sales tax exemptions - and thus make local property taxes entirely unnecessary.

How generous are the current sales tax exemptions, most of which go to business? Try this:

The state applies its 5.5 percent tax to approximately $2 billion in sales every year. Meanwhile, some $3 billion in additional sales are not taxed.

The bill is hardly to be taken seriously, even though its revenues really could make the much-despised local property tax unnecessary. That's right. Pahl's said that with revenues from a sales tax that isn't diluted with exemptions, local governments wouldn't need to impose property taxes.

Why does it not stand a chance? Those exemptions represent savings and profits so huge that, shortly after Pahl's selected his bill for premium treatment, nearly four dozen groups, industries, individual businesses and others formed a coalition to fight it.

How many lobbyists can dance on the head of a bill that would require their clients to pay sales taxes? Lots of them. Lots and lots. The first argument rolled out against the bill - in addition to the recession - was that some businesses would flee Nebraska if they lost the exemptions; and that others would surely steer their purchasing dollars to companies in neighboring states.

For some 30 years, Ed Jaksha led or supported petition drives to put tax cutting, tax limiting, or tax abolishing laws and/or constitutional amendments on the statewide ballot. Had he not died in 2005 at the age of 90, he might well have seen Pahl's measure as ripe for an effort to put it before the voters.

If the Pahl's proposal were on the ballot as a constitutional amendment tomorrow, there is every reason to believe it would be enacted. If it were to go through the sort of campaign it would be subjected to during a petition drive, its chances would be greatly reduced.

For one thing, everyone would be reminded that local property taxes provide a deduction to be used against their federal income taxes. That includes farm owners. Do away with property taxes and, obviously, you do away with the corresponding exemptions, large or small.

The Pahl's gambit represents an approach that would have won much favor with the late Sen. Jerome Warner of Waverly, a legislative giant who decried the Unicameral's constant surrendering of its tax base to interest groups and local governments, beginning with its enactment some 42 years ago.

Warner was against the entire notion of sales tax exemptions, period.

The better policy, he long opined, was to tax everything at low rates.

His was the point, or at least one of them, represented by Pahl's. The state could accomplish more, and create a better tax environment for its citizens and businesses if it did not give away its solid base of sales tax revenue.

For many, the vision of Pahl's and Warner represents that famous Shakespearean consummation - the one which is devoutly to be wished.

For many, many, more - more wealthy and more powerful - the sales tax is a thing from which the Legislature has freed them. For them, the seeking of more and greater favorable treatment in the state's application of its income tax no doubt looks far more appealing.

Looking Ahead in Wayne

By Lowell Johnson,
City Administrator
City Council meeting

The next regular City Council meeting will be held Tuesday, April 21 at 5:30 p.m. in the council room.

Don't Buy It

All the energy efficient furnaces in the world won't lower our heat or AC costs very much if our homes leak away all the savings through the walls and attic. Don't buy energy you don't need.

Federal Stimulus Funding

There will be new larger energy saving grants for residential weatherization and energy reduction. These energy funds will be distributed through state energy office and then into Goldenrod Hills in Wisner, the area agency that delivers these energy reduction funds into Wayne.

We have contacted Goldenrod Hills and found that the new annual household income eligibility levels will be higher than before:

One person	$21,660
Two persons	$29,140
Three persons	$36,620
Four persons	$44,100
Five persons	$51,580

If you are eligible, this is a serious opportunity to permanently reduce your energy costs when these funds become available. Check your next City of Wayne utility letter and our website at www.waynene.org for more information. When these new energy funds become available later this spring, we will let you know who to contact to apply.

Wayne Electrical Emergency Plan

Recent news reports about threats from other nations to disable the US electric system remind us that it is prudent to have a local plan. The mayor and our city utility personnel have been working for two years to prepare a local emergency plan for an extended electrical grid outage because power is so critical to our safety and quality of life and the national power grid is susceptible to interruption by man and nature. This local plan will continue to be a work in progress as conditions change and new equipment becomes available.

Bats

Bats are native to Nebraska and reproduce in many places. You will see some bat perches show up around Wayne this spring through a cooperative Eagle Scout/City project to provide alternative places for bats to roost instead of buildings. Bats don't reproduce in these rooms.

Bluebird Houses

Bluebirds are native to the Wayne area also. You will see more of the small bluebird houses around Wayne this spring. They are being provided on public properties through cooperation with a benevolent local resident. These houses provide places for nesting and reproduction. They need to be undisturbed.

Native Habitat Areas

Red Wing Black Birds and Kildeer are some birds that can nest in habitat on the ground. You will see some small unmowed areas again this summer that are designated for bird and small game habitat. We plan to include some signage this year to help spot these areas. The size of these areas needs to be large enough to provide area protection from predators. Its ok if kids and other people walk through them.

Weekly Legislative Update

Greetings from the Unicameral! The Legislature has been holding all-day debate since last week, but there's still no shortage of bills to be discussed on the floor. With more controversial proposals taking up the lion's share of the Legislature's time, it can be difficult to give some common-sense bills their turn on the floor.

Several of my bills fit this definition, including LB 537, which was recently advanced to the floor by the Business & Labor Committee. LB 537 would enable smaller communities that rely entirely on volunteer fire departments to supplement their volunteers with paid firefighters during the business day.

Later this month, the Legislature will take up what is known as the Consent Calendar, a tool designed to give non-controversial legislation the chance to pass this session. In order for a bill to be considered for Consent Calendar, it must receive no opposition during its public hearing, emerge from committee with no dissenting votes, and address an issue or topic which is in no way controversial. Requests for a bill to be placed on the Consent Calendar are made by committee chairs, and I am hopeful that several of my bills, including LB 537, will receive consideration by Speaker Flood.

At this point, three of my bills are still being held by their respective committees: LB 265, which would amend the Sexual Predator Residency Restriction Act to include public parks; LB 334, which would require the Department of Roads to prioritize uncompleted sections of the Nebraska Expressway System, including Highway 35; and LB 490, which would allow the Nebraska Game & Parks Commission to restrict the issuance of non-resident hunting permits in certain congested areas.

As always, I would encourage you to contact me if you have any questions or simply have an opinion on legislation before the Unicameral. Feel free to call my office at (402) 471-2716, send me an e-mail at bgiese@leg.ne.gov, or stop by in person any time you're in Lincoln.

Don't spoil your garden by starting too soon

As the weather gets warmer, it is tempting to hurry out and start tilling the garden and planting this year's crop. Although some planting can be done in April, often a late frost will damage or kill vegetation and early tilling can do more harm than good when not done properly. Working the soil when it is too

Amy Topp
Extension Educator
4-H & Youth

wet causes compaction and destroys the soil's aggregation, which inhibits its oxygen and water infiltration. Compaction also makes it difficult for plant roots to penetrate the soil after planting.

Plants susceptible to cold shouldn't be planted until after May 10 in eastern Nebraska and after May 20 in the western part of the state. However, cool season vegetables like potatoes and onions may be planted earlier. In the flower garden, pansies are cool season annuals, which can withstand light frosts without being damaged. Bare-root fruit trees and shrubs can be planted as soon as the frost is out of the ground. Growing tomato transplants indoors is another way to get an early start. It takes approximately eight weeks to grow a tomato transplant so this should be done in advance of the May planting date.

April is a good time of year for pruning and trimming non-flowering trees and for maintenance pruning on fruit trees, which should be completed before trees begin to leaf out. Cut back last year's foliage on ornamental grasses and cut perennials as close to the ground as possible so dead foliage doesn't spoil their beauty later in the year.

Be careful using dormant sprays on fruit trees in April. These sprays should only be used before bud break occurs. Many sprays require a minimum temperature before spraying so be sure to read and follow the manufacturers' instructions.

Organizing the garden shed, sharpening lawnmower blades and tuning up tillers, mowers and trimmers will save headaches later and allow enjoyment of the first warm days of spring while being productive outdoors.

NECC plans another class for the hobbyist

Instructor Sandra Peaslee will show students how to incorporate these decorative elements to add accents or design or become a focal point for almost any surface. Participants will create three projects using rub-on elements to dress up a glass candle, adorn a picture frame, and create a simple greeting card. The final week of Lent begins with the Sunday of the Passion: Palm Sunday. The week concludes with The Three Days: Maundy Thursday, Good Friday, and The Easter Vigil. This year, The Sunday of the Passion is April 5, while Easter falls on April 12.

The most distinctive feature of the Sunday of the Passion is the procession with palms. This tradition originated in the church in Jerusalem during the fourth century. The oldest Greek and Latin liturgical texts understand the branches as symbols of hope, life, and victory. The hero's welcome accorded Jesus was seen as anticipating his impending victory over death.

The week remembers Jesus' celebration of the Passover, his betrayal, persecution, trial, and crucifixion. The intensity of Jesus' suffering is upheld during this time--as dreadful as it is, it is not to be denied. Suffering, especially the suffering of a Roman crucifixion, once thought to be a curse, is not outside the realm of God's redemptive power. It takes much faith to embrace this idea, and that is the faith we see in Jesus.

The Season of Easter

The celebration of the Resurrection of Christ, Easter, is regarded as the "queen of feasts" in the church year. It was the first festival in the

The origin of the word Easter is disputed, but probably relates to the fact that the sun rises in the East. The original name for the Resurrection celebration was Pasch (pronounced PAHSK), from Greek and Hebrew words meaning "passing through," referring to the Israelites' rescue from bondage when the avenging angel passed over their homes; the Israelites' passage through the Red Sea; and Jesus' passage through death to new life as told by the evangelists, Matthew, Mark, Luke, and John.

The Resurrection of Christ has been celebrated as a distinct festival since the early second century; it was the first festival in the church year. Its earliest observance was as the Easter Vigil, celebrated on Easter Eve.

The dating of Easter has been a matter of controversy in Church history. The earliest date was the same day as the Jewish Passover, the fourteenth day of the Jewish month of Nisan--that is, the first day of the first full moon of spring. According to this calculation, Easter could fall on any day of the week. By A.D. 325, Christians in Rome had adopted the practice of celebrating Easter on the first Sunday after Passover, and the early Christians became enmeshed in a great controversy about how the date of Easter should be determined. In A.D. 325, the Council of Nicaea determined that Easter would be celebrated on the first Sunday after 14 Nisan, that is the Sunday after Passover, which is the Sunday after the first full moon of spring. That practice has continued to this day.

In the early fourth century, Easter was celebrated along with the Passion in a unified three-day commemoration of salvation known as the Triduum (TRIH-doo-um). The Friday and Saturday prior to the Easter Vigil were observed with prayer and fasting.

Toward the middle of the fourth century, an additional preparatory period before Easter developed. Originally this period lasted three weeks, but soon it lasted six weeks, or forty days prior to the Triduum. This time became known as Lent, a time for the final, intense preparation of adult candidates for Baptism. In the fourth through the sixth centuries, Lent also became a season of penitence in preparation for Easter.

Easter celebrates an event so great that it cannot be limited to one day. Thus Easter is 50 days, a "week of weeks" plus one more day, the Day of Pentecost. Since the early Church, several practices have marked these fifty days: kneeling was prohibited on Sundays of Easter. Standing is the posture of the resurrection! Fasting was also prohibited, and "Alleluia" was restored to the liturgy as a profound expression of joy.

It is during the 50 days of Easter that the church recites the stories of the appearances of Jesus following his crucifixion and concludes with the festival of Pentecost or return of Jesus' Holy Spirit.

For their efforts, the children raised more than $250. "This money will go toward a number of projects, both in the community and in our church," said Tootsie Mission Coordinator Becky Longe.

Easter celebration begins Saturday evening at Our Savior Lutheran Church

The celebration of Easter joy begins with a 6 p.m. Service of Holy Baptism and Communion on Saturday, April 11 at Our Savior Lutheran Church, ELCA.

Sue Olson will serve as organist for the service with Rev. Kim A. Stover preaching and officiating communion. To be baptized is Jackson Daniel Ruttenbeck, son of Micky and Katie Ruttenbeck of Wayne. All Christians are welcome to Holy Communion at Our Savior.

The congregation will gather on Easter morning at 6:30 a.m. for a Sunrise Service of Holy Communion lead by teens in the congregation and assisted by Cindy VonFange.

A scrambled egg and coffee cake breakfast, served by staff members Margaret Hansen, Sue Stover, Kris Robinson, and friends will follow the first service and conclude at 9:45. The public is welcome to worship and enjoy Our Savior's Hospitality.

A Service of Holy Communion will begin at 8 a.m. Easter Sunday. Sue Olson will again serve as organist. Songs of the day will include "I Know My Redeemer Lives," "The Strife is O're, the Battle Won," and "Let All Things Now Living." The liturgy will be sung to familiar song melodies.

lege students Alex Wieland and Laura Heisse on trumpet; Jessica Stuthman, on Horn; Kimberly Garhart and Christopher Weddel on Trombone; and Joshual Calkin, on Tuba. Survey: Nebraska farmland Values hit plateau

Agricultural land values in Nebraska reached a plateau in the last year after several years of gains, according to preliminary estimates from the University of Nebraska-Lincoln. The state's all-land average value was $1,424 per acre as of Feb. 1, according to preliminary findings in the Nebraska Farm Real Estate Market Survey. That's identical to the all-land average value in last year's final report.

The survey also found that estimated 2009 cash rents are stable to slightly down from 2008 levels throughout most of the state. The findings "show" a clear picture of the market mood turning very cautious in response to the U.S. and global economic downturns," said Bruce Johnson, the UNL agricultural economist who conducts the survey.

A closer look at the data shows land values' response to changing economic conditions in the ag sector, Johnson noted. During the first nine months of the year, land values continued to increase "as crop commodity prices escalated to euphoric highs by mid-year," Johnson said.

As commodity prices headed down during the rest of 2008, land values followed suit. From Oct. 1, 2008 through Feb. 1, 2009, declines in many parts of the state were around 5 percent, Johnson wrote in this week's Cornhusker Economics newsletter from UNL's Department of Agricultural Economics.

Johnson cautioned against reading too much into that reversal. He said it's likely "more of a modest value recalibration than the beginning of a downward market freefall."

By class of land, dryland cropland and grazing land values declined slightly for the year ending Feb. 1, while irrigated land classes for the state as a whole recorded slight gains. The impacts of recent irrigation moratoriums are reflected in value declines for the dryland cropland class with irrigation potential in a number of the districts, Johnson said.

The preliminary findings show some distinct differences in land value changes among regions of the state. The East and the Northeast districts had overall decreases of 3 percent and 2.5 percent, respectively. In recent years, these regions had experienced some of the most dramatic percentage gains in values, Johnson said, "so in a longer term context, these cooling effects of recent months are still very slight."

The South and the Southwest districts recorded overall land value gains of 8.2 percent and 6.4 percent, respectively.

"These two districts had experienced much lower run-ups in values over the past several years, largely due to multi-year drought conditions and substantial irrigation water restrictions," Johnson said. "So, with better moisture conditions in 2008 and unusually strong commodity prices (particularly for wheat), these regions have experienced relatively stronger bidding for agricultural land in recent months."

The survey indicates that most recent buyers are active farmers looking to expand their operations. Non-farm investors are still in the market but were not big players last year, Johnson said.

"And any interest in agricultural land for secondary recreational purposes has essentially dried up for the time being," he added.

As for the cash rental market, the 2009 preliminary average rates for the cropland classes were down from 2008 levels in most cases, Johnson said. In categories where 2009 levels were higher, the percentage increases were modest.

Despite a strong income year in 2008 for the crop sector, "these levels would suggest that both land owners and tenants are factoring in much more restricted income expectations for 2009," Johnson said.

Despite difficult economic times for the state's cattle industry, pasture and rangeland rates for 2009 remain fairly similar to the previous year's levels.

Johnson offered this final thought: "The economic forces of the current recession have begun to hit the agricultural sector on many fronts. Clearly the bullish income conditions of recent years for agricultural crops have waned and are likely to remain so until some U.S. and global economic recovery commences," he wrote. "Nevertheless, the fact that land values and rents have, to this juncture, escaped sharply downward movements must be solace to any agricultural land owner. As the old land economists would often recite, 'productive agricultural land is a positive store of value.'

"In times such as these, when other aspects of wealth portfolios are rapidly shrinking, that statement rings more true than ever," Johnson added.

Reports from a panel of agricultural land experts were compiled for this survey, which is conducted in cooperation with the Institute of Agriculture and Natural Resources' Agricultural Research Division. Final estimates will be available in a report this summer.

The report is available in Cornhusker Economics, at <http://www.agecon.unl.edu/Cornhuskereconomics.html>

2008 Farm Bill informational meeting announced

On June 18, 2008, the United States Government enacted the Food, Conservation, and Energy Act of 2008; better known as the Farm Bill. This program re-authorizes federal farm, forestry, energy and nutrition programs for various entities across the U.S. The FCEA act of 2008 functions significantly different than the previous act of 2002, and there are a number of issues that agricultural producers must be aware of, particularly the new ACRE and SURE programs. As a producer, it is imperative that you have all the information necessary to make an informed decision regarding your participation in the 2008 Farm Bill.

The University of Nebraska-Lincoln Extension in Madison

County will be holding an informational meeting on the 2008 Farm Bill on Saturday, April 18 from Noon to 3 p.m. at the Northeast Community College Ag Complex located at 2391 E. Benjamin Ave. (one mile east of the main campus) in Norfolk.

This meeting will cover decision making aspects of the ACRE and SURE programs and much more. The meeting is free to all interested parties. Space is limited for this event; while pre-registration is not required, it is highly encouraged you call and reserve your seat.

For more information, contact the University of Nebraska-Lincoln Madison County Extension office at 402-370-4040.

NECC plans another intro to Photoshop class

Students in this class will learn the basics of Photoshop and be introduced to selections, tools and palettes, layers, collage, retouching, paths, and painting. This is an ideal course for those with some computer experience who want to enhance their digital photos.

Students are asked to bring their own digital camera, camera manual, flash card with photos, and cable to download pictures from the camera to the computer.

Cost of the class is $25. Jamie Bell is the instructor.

Long process

One of the eight sections of center pivot irrigation system purchased by Don Nelson makes its way through town last week. Nelson purchased the used system from a farmer near Fremont and will install the 1/4 mile pivot on his farm. On a related note, Nelson said that in recent months someone stole copper cables off of another of his pivots and he would like to encourage other farmers to be aware of this and inspect their equipment.

Thoughts on moving activities out state

Going to the State Fair in Lincoln has been a tradition for me since I was very young. My Dad would hire on with other farmers from our area to park cars and generally keep order. Once, my fellow 4-Her and I took a demonstration to the fair, and we were there on the day that Nathan Gold hosted all participants in 4-H to a dinner downtown at Gold's! A big deal for rural kids from all over the state.

Our kids showed cattle there a few times. But going to the State Fair happened easily for them because their grandmother lived in Lincoln, so they had a place to stay.

The annual fourth grade trip to the capitol usually included a visit to the Legislature, and a tour of the building, followed by a trip to Elephant Hall.

Later, we attended state wrestling tournaments in Lincoln. Since the volleyball and basketball tournaments are also here, it was an opportunity for those rural kids to shop in the malls and at the University Book Store.

Lately, as I have hosted folks from northeast Nebraska for the state tournaments, I've noticed things I hadn't before. For instance, two years ago, when we had that horrific snow storm the night before the girls' tournament, the Omaha schools had a hard time getting here that morning. The activities association had advised them to come the night before, but the coaches said "our girls prefer to sleep in their own beds!" Yes! So do the girls from Alliance, and Ravenna, and Bancroft.

By: Pat Meierhenry

I've also found, living close to our two big cities, that many people there have no clue where Alliance, Ravenna, and Bancroft even are. Nor do they seem to care.

Well, now the shoes will be on the other feet. Grand Island isn't quite the center of the state, but it's farther west by a couple of hours. The State Fair will be there soon; and now we learn that the basketball and volleyball games in 2010 and 2011 will be played there, and in Hastings, also.

Guess what! An Omaha coach has been quoted as saying his players and parents are not going to want to travel that much farther. I say, "tough patootie!" And, I bet, if they qualify, they will be there. And they might have to stay in motels. And their bands might have to travel back and forth in school buses because it is costly for them to stay in motels, also. When the Randolph boys won state, their band went back and forth to and from Lincoln, on school buses, each day. That's support! And I would hope that the Omaha schools would support their teams in the same way.

I think it's going to be very good for these metro area people to get out of eastern Nebraska and find out there is a whole lot of the state west of Lincoln! I wish Grand Island all kinds of luck in hosting both the fair, and the tournaments. I may not be there, as my goal has become getting to Husker Harvest Days. Guess where that is? Grand Island!

Prairie chickens to dance for tour

Prairie Chickens really do dance! If you'd like to see this spring ritual, come join the Northeast Nebraska Resource Conservation & Development (RC&D) Council for their Prairie Chicken Dance Tour on Friday, April 17. You'll have to be an "early bird" to catch the action because these birds start their antics at sunrise.

The tour will begin at 6 a.m. in Creighton at the City Hall and includes wildlife viewing and information about the birds and their habitat. Lucas Negus and Scott Wessel of the Nebraska Game and Parks Commission will share their knowledge and expertise about these birds.

The Greater Prairie Chicken is a member of the grouse family. They're found in short grass prairie situations which are common to the open grasslands in northeast Nebraska. Through the work of the Nebraska Natural Legacy Project in northern Antelope and all of Knox County there have been over 70 leks identified.

Prairie Chickens are known for this fantastic spring event where the males perform a courtship dance of chasing, leaping and booming noises to attract the females. Many prairie chickens gather together in this feather-raising and throat sac inflating display. It's worth seeing!

To pre-register, call the RC&D Office at 402-582-4866 on Wednesday, April 15. There is a small fee to attend.

Money available for Farmers Market Promotion grants

April 27, 2009 is the last day to submit applications for USDA's Farmers Market Promotion Program (FMPP) grants. The grants, authorized by the Farmers Market Promotion Program, are targeted to help improve and expand domestic farmers, markets, roadside stands, community-supported agriculture programs and other direct producer-to-consumer market opportunities.

Approximately $5 million is allocated for the FMPP program. The minimum award per grant is $2,500, with a maximum of $100,000 for any one proposal. Matching funds are not required. Entities eligible to apply include agricultural cooperatives, local governments, non-profit corporations, public health corporations, economic development corporations, regional farmers' market authorities and Tribal governments.

"The Farmers Market Promotion Program is a great opportunity to help producers and communities cover some of the start-up costs of establishing a local farmers market or other form of direct marketing from agricultural products from producers to consumers," said Mike Heavrin, Cooperative Development Manager at the Center for Rural Affairs.

According to Heavrin, farmers markets are good for communities, bringing farmers and consumers together to create a stronger local economy and providing consumers with fresh, affordable produce. And the flexibility of the grants, absence of matching fund requirements and the additional funding provided by Congress should allow the Farmers Market Promotion Program to potentially reach a lot more communities, especially rural communities with markets that are smaller or just starting up.

The Farmers Market Promotion Program was created through a recent amendment of the Farmer-to-Consumer Direct Marketing Act of 1976.

For more information on the Farmers Market Promotion Program Grants and how to apply, visit: <http://www.ams.usda.gov/FMPP>. Or contact Mike Heavrin, at the Center for Rural Affairs at (402) 687-2103 ext. 1008 or mikeh@cfra.org for assistance.

Advice offered for pruning roses, clematis

By Kelly Feehan,
Extension Educator

Roses and clematis benefit greatly from annual pruning with the main purpose being to increase flowering. Without pruning, these plants can become tangled masses with few blooms or blooms on only a small portion of the plant.

Pruning seems to be an intimi-dating task for some gardeners. With roses and clematis, pruning becomes even more intimidating when hearing the differing recommendations on when and how much to prune. For most gardeners, knowing on what age wood or the time of year a rose or clematis blooms is about all one needs to know to prune the right amount at the right time.

To simplify pruning, remember this point. If a plant has one major flush of blooms in spring or early summer, it most likely blooms on last year's growth. Wait until after blooming to prune these types, but don't wait too long.

If a plant begins to bloom later in the season and sometimes continues to bloom on and off during the summer, it most likely blooms on new or current year's growth. Prune these plants when they are dormant just before new growth begins each spring.

Modern roses like hybrid-teas, grandifloras, floribundas, and miniatures bloom best on new or current season's growth. These rose types are pruned hard in mid to late April. Hard pruning means removing one-half to two-thirds of the plants height and thinning out canes. After a tough winter, these roses may need to be pruned to the graft union near the ground.

Begin by removing all dead canes, cutting them an inch below the dead area. Then remove spindly and diseased canes and deformed growth. Ideally, three to five healthy, stout canes will remain. If winter injury is minimal, these canes can be pruned back leaving three to five outward facing buds.

Modern shrub roses, like the popular Nearly Wild and Knockout roses, bear flowers on past seasons growth. If these roses are pruned too hard, flowering will be reduced. The greatest flower production is on mature stems that are not too old and woody.

One or two years after planting, prune modern shrub roses in April just before or as new growth begins. First remove winter killed or diseased wood. Then remove one-third of the oldest canes to keep the plant from becoming an overgrown thicket of older, poor flowering canes. If the shrub is still fairly dense, remove up to one-third of the remaining canes to thin the plant.

Clematis are also separated into types that bloom on previous season's growth or on current year's growth. To further complicate pruning matters, clematis that bloom on last year's growth are further divided into early spring bloomers and large flowered clematis.

Early flowering clematis bloom in spring or early summer from buds produced the previous season. Wait until after blooming to prune these types, but don't wait too long. If pruning is delayed until mid to late July or later, flower buds will not develop for next years bloom.

When pruning, remove shoots that have bloomed. You can prune out more vines to reduce the size or to form a good framework of stems if needed. Do not cut into the woody trunks of these types of Clematis.

Most large-flowered clematis, such as Nelly Moser and Henryi, bloom in spring on the previous season's growth. These are best pruned lightly in late winter or early spring. Start pruning from the top down, removing only dead and damaged stems to the highest pair of healthy buds. Living buds may only be a couple of feet above ground, depending the plant and winter.

Small flowered summer or early fall blooming clematis, such as Jackmanni, Niobe, and sweet autumn clematis bloom only on new or current season's growth. Prune these extensively while they're dormant, usually in early spring. Start from the bottom of the plant and work upward from healthy buds, usually located 10 to 20 inches above ground. Remove all old top growth, even that which did not die over winter.

New Energy Taxes: a sure way to destroy Nebraska's and America's struggling Economies.

HIGHER ENERGY COSTS

A MORE STIFLED HOUSING MARKET

LESS INVESTMENT IN BUSINESS

Are you willing to pay $50, $100, $150, or more per month for your electric service or your other heating fuels?
Be prepared; it could be coming.

Congress will soon consider massive new energy taxes and fees, which could add costs of $1.3 trillion to $1.9 trillion to America's energy industries. This level could produce devastating effects on our economy at a time when all Nebraskans and all Americans can least afford it.

- New energy taxes & fees are a sure way to destroy ailing economies of the state & nation.
- These unprecedented increases in taxes & fees will certainly reduce current & future investment in business & industry that Nebraska & America need to boost their economies.
- These massive taxes & fees will stifle the current sluggish housing market.
- The new tax & fee increases will affect every Nebraskan & American—YOU—in many ways:
 - YOUR electric utility billings
 - YOUR other heating utility billings, and
 - the fuel YOU purchase at the filling station.

Can YOU afford an additional $50, $100, $150, or more per month?

With our economies in crisis, this is no time to burden Nebraskans and Americans with massive new energy costs.

Here is what you and your neighbors need to do . . .
