Highway work being done in Wayne

The Nebraska Department of Roads would like to update the public on the Wayne Highway 35 project that began earlier this week. Seal Coat Services from Omaha has been contracted to re-seal the joints and cracks and complete some cross-stitching work along the concrete pavement portion of Highway 35 from just west of Pheasant Run on the west edge of Wayne to just east of Centennial Road on the east edge of Wayne. The project time frame has 15 working days to complete all work. Traffic will be maintained in two of the three lanes via cones or flagging when necessary. The contractor's schedule is Monday through Friday from 6:30 a.m. to 6:30 p.m. At each day's end the work zone will be cleared of all cones. The estimated completion date will be June 15, weather permitting.

Memorial meaning

Many area residents attended Memorial Day programs, Monday. People of all ages took time to reflect. Above, 1st Sgt. Joe Wrenn gave the Memorial Day address at Veterans Memorial Park in Wayne. Top left, this girl looks at the United States flag that adorns a grave of a fallen veteran at Greenwood Cemetery in Wayne. Below that, Fr. Mark Beran, who served as an chaplain in Iraq, spoke to those in attendance at the program in Carroll. Below that, taking part in the Memorial Day services at the Wakefield Cemetery were, left to right, Gary Salmon, American Legion Post 81 commander; speaker Mrs. Shirley (Grella) Haase, sister of MIA Spc. Donald C. Grella; Jim Clark and Rev. Charity Potter. Bottom, SFC Dale Alexander was this year's featured speaker for the Memorial Day Program in Winside.

Cancer survivor giving back

By Clara Osten
Of the Herald

Among those who are a part of this year's Wayne County Relay For Life Committee is Courtney Anderson.

Courtney is the chair of the Survivor Committee. Twenty-eight year old Courtney is also a cancer survivor.

"On April 26, 2005 I saw Gary West, PA at Wayne Mercy Medical Center because my hair was falling out," Courtney said.

She immediately underwent a number of tests including thyroid testing and blood tests. Her white blood count was more than 10 times higher than normal. By that evening she was at the June E. Nylen Cancer Center in Sioux City for additional testing.

These tests revealed that Courtney had chronic myelogenous leukemia (CML).

"That night I had dreams of skeletons and death. I was a single mom with a four year old son and all I could think of was that I wanted to be alive long enough so he could remember me," she said.

The following day Courtney underwent a bone marrow biopsy to determine the exact form of leukemia she had and then discussed with her doctors possible treatment options, including a bone marrow transplant.

She immediately began taking Gleevec, a drug that had been created and researched through the work of the American Cancer

Courtney Anderson and her son, Kaleb.

Society. Courtney said since her diagnosis, she has done research that indicates that if she had been diagnosed with CML just a few years earlier, the diagnosis would have been terminal.

She has experienced numerous side effects from her cancer-fighting drug, including joint pain, headaches, fatigue and fluid retention. She has also had problems with memory loss due to the cancer and its treatment.

Approximately 1 1/2 years ago, Courtney was put on a different cancer-fighting drug. She currently takes two Sprycel pills each day and will have to take this pill or some type of similar drug for the rest of her life.

On March 13 of this year, Courtney found out her cancer was in remission. She is cautiously optimistic about her future, but noted that "remission is not the same as being cured. In order to be cured, I would have to have a bone marrow transplant. My older brother has already been tested and is a match, should I need to have the transplant. I know this would be very painful for him, and would mean I would have to be away from my son, and everyone else for several months, so I hope that I don't have to have the transplant," she said.

Courtney said that her son, Kaleb, who is now eight, was not immediately aware that his mother had cancer, but has reacted well to his mother's illness. She said he is very protective of his mother.

Courtney's diagnosis of CML is somewhat rare in her age, as only 1 in 300,000 people are afflicted with it. It is more common in older adults. Courtney said at the present time there is no one in northeast Nebraska with this type of cancer, so she travels to Omaha periodically to meet with

Q-125 Garden Walk to be June 13; tickets available at locations in Wayne

The Q-125 Garden Walk is set for Saturday, June 13 from 1 - 4:30 p.m. (rain date is June 14). The event is sponsored by the Wayne Community Q-125 committee and the Plant Market, E. Hwy. 35, Wayne.

The four gardens in Wayne to be featured belong to: Linda and Wayne Anderson, 314 W. 4th Street; Terri and Dave Headley, 114 Douglas Street; Julie Cull, 208 Douglas Street and Bonnie and Mike Fluent, 115 S. Lincoln Street.

Each week one of the gardens were featured in the Wayne Herald; this week it is the fourth garden which belongs to Julie Cull.

"My garden is centered around my potting shed," Cull said. "The potting shed is my sanctuary and the source of my gardening ideas. My garden is continually changing as the seasons change. My ideas always inspire me to try new things."

Brochures/tickets can be found in Wayne at the following locations: banks, Greenhouse, Plant Market, Swan's Apparel and will also will be available at each garden the day of the walk. Point of purchase signs have been distributed to the businesses that sell tickets. The tickets are $5 and each ticket holder will get a bottle of water at the first garden they visit.

Anyone with questions about the garden walk can call Tony Kochenash, committee chair, at 375-4332.

A beautiful fountain and potting shed are part of the garden area in Julie Cull's yard at 208 Douglas Street.

Nebraska State Patrol brings back 100 days of summer initiative

The Nebraska State Patrol (NSP) will again utilize the traffic safety initiative "100 Days of Summer" to help reduce the number of fatal crashes on Nebraska roads during the heavily traveled months of May, June, July and August.

Each day from May 25, 2009 (Memorial Day) through Sept. 1, 2009 (Labor Day) the Nebraska State Patrol Field Services Division will work to hold at least one traffic safety enforcement operation somewhere in the state.

Professor of the Year

Dr. Randy Bertolas, professor of geography at Wayne (Neb.) State College and coordinator of the Geographic Educators of Nebraska, was named 2009 Professor of the Year at his campus by the WSC Student Senate. Bertolas also won the first Professor of the Year honor in 2005 at Wayne State College.

First instituted in May 2008, the "100 Days of Summer" initiative is an opportunity for the Patrol to keep motorists abreast of planned special enforcements. Travelers can visit the Nebraska State patrol web site at www.nsp.state.ne.us and click on "NSP Enforcement Activities" in the Quick Links Box on the upper right hand side of the home page. The link will display monthly calendars, with each day listing the type of special enforcement planned and the location of the special enforcement.

"We have received positive response to this initiative," said Field Services Commander, Major Russ Stanczyk. "Our goal remains the same. We are working to reduce the number of fatal crashes on Nebraska roads. By publicizing the agency's special enforcement efforts, we hope the motoring public will be reminded to comply with all traffic safety laws during this busy travel period."

Blood drive set for June 10 in Wayne

A Siouxland Community Blood Bank Drive is planned for Wednesday, June 10 from 3 - 6:30 p.m. at Our Savior Lutheran Church in Wayne.

To be eligible to donate blood individuals must be at least 16 years of age; however there is no upper age limit as long as the donor is in good

Computer and T.V. recycling to take place in Randolph

The Northeast Nebraska Resource Conservation & Development (RC&D) Council is hosting one more recycling event, but this time to include both computers and TVs. It will be Wednesday, June 10 in Randolph at the parking lot across the street north from the City Auditorium. The collection will be from 3 - 6 p.m.

There is small fee for computer monitors and TVs, but all of the peripherals such as keyboards, mice, speakers, scanners, fax machines, DVDs, VCRs, CPUs, and printers are free. This project is funded in part by a grant from the Litter Reduction and Recycling Grant Program of the Nebraska Department of Environmental Quality.

Recycling computers and TVs allows for the recovery of valuable materials from the circuit boards, metal wiring, leaded glass, and plastics. Many electronics recyclers also donate items that are in good, working condition to charities, schools, or other groups in need.

Call the RC&D at 402-582-4866 for more information.

McIntosh gift to benefit generations of nursing students

Eleanor McIntosh wanted to be a nurse. But love, marriage, and five children changed the plans she had as a very young girl from Pilger. Now a gift from J. Paul and Eleanor McIntosh of Norfolk will help nursing students for generations to come.

At a press conference recently, Northeast Community College President Dr. Bill R. Path announced that the new building for the University of Nebraska Medical Center (UNMC) College of Nursing Northern Division and Northeast's nursing programs will be named the J. Paul and Eleanor McIntosh College of Nursing. That followed a commitment by the McIntoshs to donate what has been described as "well over $1,000,000" to the capital campaign to build the facility on the campus of Northeast Community College.

The College of Nursing will house UNMC's bachelor's, master's and doctoral programs and Northeast's basic nurse aide, licensed practical nurse, and associate's degree nursing programs. The gift will also enable Northeast to begin an endowment fund to allow for ongoing updating of the state-of-the-art equipment, offsetting the need for taxpayer support.

The capstone gift will assure the success of a capital campaign of $11.9 million that was launched in February 2008. Many believe that campaign is the largest in history in northeast Nebraska.

With a long history of philanthropy to Northeast Community College, J. Paul continues to believe the McIntosh family gifts have been a tremendous investment. "In the days of the Wild West, the Colt .45 was the great equalizer," he has said many times. "Today the great equalizer is education. With an education, the sky is the limit."

"I am so thrilled to help bring this building to Norfolk and northeast Nebraska," Eleanor said. "Norfolk could not get a better program. We are so low on nursing numbers both here and nationwide. We have the means to make donations like this and there's no better place to put our money."

Through health issues of their own and the 19-year cancer battle of their late daughter, LaRayne, J. Paul and Eleanor know the vital importance of good nursing care. "The excellent nursing care, the personal nursing care provided by the nurses at our own Faith Regional Health Services has meant a great deal to our family," J. Paul said. "Good nursing care is so, so important."

"This new College of Nursing will educate good nurses to serve in our entire area. I am just so excited about this," Eleanor said again.

J. Paul said his parents were great role models and taught him the importance of giving. "In the 1930's, when nobody had anything, a missionary came to our Pilger church and discussed the great needs in what I believe was India," he said. "My mother made a decision then to donate her gold wedding band to that missionary because her love for my dad was greater than that gold band."

"I received a huge inheritance from my parents," J. Paul said, "none of which was money."

He also said that he and Eleanor have been blessed to have five really good kids. "It's much more important that they establish themselves in their own rights," he said. "What we have given them is more important than money."

J. Paul and Eleanor have a long history of generosity that has spanned their 63-year marriage. They welcomed the first of several foreign exchange students to their home 45 years ago. "We had eight people...two adults and five children... living under one roof," Eleanor laughed. "None of the children had bedrooms of their own and we all got along just fine."

Eleanor also noted that she found a long time ago that the more you give, the more you get. J. Paul concurs and said that "over the years, things have happened that made me extremely grateful to be alive. Some of this giving is a manifestation of this gratitude."

Northeast President Dr. Bill R. Path said it is a privilege to know role models like J. Paul and Eleanor McIntosh. "They model the way and others should feel privileged to follow the examples they have set," he said. "Not only is their beautiful marriage a great example to others, but they way they live their lives in an inspiration. We at Northeast Community College are extremely grateful for all the great things the McIntosh gifts have done for our students and will continue to do for our students for generations to come."

"On behalf of our students, our administration, our faculty and staff," Dr. Path said, "we extend our gratitude for the honor it has been to have such exemplary supporters as J. Paul and Eleanor McIntosh."

Chamber Coffee

WAYNE — This week's Chamber Coffee will be held Friday, May 29 at Sand Creek Post & Beam at their new location at 116 West First Street. This is a change from what was originally announced and is in addition to the other open house activities planned at Sand Creek Post & Beam that day. The coffee begins at 10 a.m. and announcements at 10:15.

Relay For Life

AREA — The Relay For Life Committees and teams will meet Monday, June 1 for Bank Night, beginning at 5:30 p.m. in the First National Bank meeting room. All team envelopes and money should be turned in at that time.

Swim Team practice

WAYNE — The Wayne Dolphin Swim Team will begin practice on Monday, June 1 at the Wayne State College pool. Anyone who did not attend the informational meeting is asked to come to the practice to pick up information needed. For more information contact Zach Long at (402) 375-5381.

Food pantry items

AREA — The Wayne Food Pantry is in need of the following items — protein items such as tuna, canned meat and stews, canned fruit and liquid laundry detergent in small containers. These items may be dropped off at First Presbyterian Church weekday mornings or other arrangements may be made by calling (402) 375-2669.

Show of support

The Wayne Middle School and Wizards Relay For Life team has gone "above and beyond." Not only has this team been involved with the Wayne County Relay For Life for 11 years, but they go beyond the fund raising and show their support emotionally. Ms. Joan Sudman's (Elementary/Middle School Counselor) niece in New York is fighting bone cancer.

In an effort to let her know that there are people fighting for her and other cancer patients, the Wizard's team and Middle School students took pictures on the last day of school to send to her. The Wizards are planning a garage sale at the Middle School on Friday and Saturday, May 29-30 and will be part of this year's Relay on June 5-6.

A visit around the Romanian countryside

By Gary Van Meter

Editor's note: This is another in a series of articles written by former Wayne resident Gary Van Meter, who is currently spending time in Romania.

In Eastern Europe, Romania is second only to Poland in land mass and has much the look of Colorado with the Carpathian Mountains and foothills running through the nation.

The mountains are often referred to as the Transylvanian Alps of Eastern Europe. The villages and countryside are largely the same as they were hundreds of years ago, I think, for the lack of need to change. It is rich in fertile farm land and agriculture continues to contribute up to 20 percent of the nation's gross national product. I saw many wheat, corn, alfalfa, and potato fields in the countryside and scores of sheep herds. There was often, in many areas, as many horse-drawn vehicles as there were cars and trucks.

The only importance the region has held over the centuries was during the Crusades when Ottoman Turks came through on their way to conquer Europe. These fortified Romanian churches were the first line of defense against the advancing Muslims. Many remain to this day as testament to the determination of Christians to hold their ground.

Shown are photos of a restored church. The bell towers doubled as lookout posts watching for advancing armies from Turkey to the south and east. Massive walls and more towers surrounded the churches, and nearby villagers likely took refuge inside the church walls when the bell was sounded. No doubt it was not hard for the priest to get a full house for attendance to worship services—nothing like a captive audience fearing the Muslim hoard knocking at the door for listening closely to a minister's homily.

Next week we'll visit Vlad Dracul's castle (yes he really did exist) and learn about some of his persuasive mental warfare tactics that discouraged more than one advancing Turkish army.

This Romanian church served as a fortress against the invading Muslims.

Taking part in the day of giving were Norfolk Culver's owners Rich and Lisa Riley, and Heather Claussen, Chapter Operations Manager of the Northeast Nebraska Chapter.

AMERICAN CANCER SOCIETY RELAY FOR LIFE

Celebrate.

Remember.

Fight Back.

Schedule announced for annual Relay For Life event in Wayne

The 2009 American Cancer Society's Wayne County Relay For Life will take place Friday and Saturday, June 5 and 6 at the Wayne State College Track.

Fourteen groups and organizations have formed teams for this year's event. Many have been conducting fund raisers throughout the year in an attempt to reach the $70,000 goal set for this year.

Following is a tentative schedule for this year's event.

Survivor Registration begins at 5 p.m. at the track.

The Survivor Meal at WSC Student Center, provided by Chartwells will begin at 5:30.

The Opening Ceremony, including the Celebration of Cancer Survivors and survivors taking the first lap, is scheduled for 7 p.m.

Beginning at 7:30 p.m., there will be food available in the tailgate area of the football field, provided by Northeast Cattlemen's Association and Pizza Hut (free will offering accepted for Relay For Life).

Kid's Carnival will continue until 9 p.m.

The Miss Relay Pageant, where those in attendance vote for your favorite contestant with a donation, will take place at 8 p.m.

Corporate Sponsorship Recognition and Awards Ceremony is scheduled for 9 p.m., along with the playing of Plinko.

The Luminaria Ceremony to remember those who have battled cancer will begin at 10.

Luminaries available from any team or committee member and the night of the event.

Following the luminaria ceremony, a Scavenger Hunt is scheduled for 11 p.m. and the Fight Back Ceremony at midnight.

Following that, Fear Factor will take place and more games and food continue throughout the night.

Closing ceremonies will take place at 6 a.m. on Saturday, June 6.

"Everyone is welcome to join us at the Wayne County Relay For Life where we will Celebrate, Remember and Fight Back," said Sarah Claussen, who is co-chairing this year's event with Sheryl Grone.

Participate in the Pumpkin Growing Contest

Every fall when the pumpkin harvest begins many of us are in awe over the spectacle of the harvested pumpkins and set plans on buying and decorating the pumpkins for some special occasion.

This year the Q-125 Committee in conjunction with the Extension service and Pac 'N' Save have the perfect plan for "what you can do" with that perfect pumpkin you grew or brought. Enter the Q-125 Pumpkin competition.

The committee has designed a pumpkin competition that will award three prizes in five different categories of pumpkins and the best part of the competition is that you don't have to be a third or fourth grader to enter.

People of all ages are invited to enter, from the very young to the most senior of senior citizens.

On October 3 and 4, bring your pumpkin to Pac 'N' Save and enter categories that include the largest pumpkin (a special prize will be given to the person with a pumpkin closest to 125 pounds), smallest pumpkin, most unique pumpkin and most originally decorated pumpkin.

Each category will have first, second and third place winners and on Oct. 9, judging will begin.

This event is sponsored by Pac 'N' Save. Any one is eligible to enter and please remember that seeds need to be planted soon. In addition, there are novelty seeds available as well.

Some pumpkins used in this contest will also be used to decorate the city Auditorium for the Harvest Fest Dance Oct. 11.

Seeds are available at Swan's Apparel or at the County Extension. There is also a newsletter on fun facts and history of pumpkins. Any questions see Amy Topp.

Garden Walk among topics discussed at recent Wayne Community Q-125 committee meeting

The Wayne Community Q-125 committee met on Tuesday at the Coffee Shoppe in Wayne. Garden Walk, June 13, updates were given. There will be bottles of water given to each person buying a ticket, plus extra for sale. Tickets are $5 each and can be found in Wayne at the banks, Plant Market and will be available at each garden.

The Q-125 t-shirts are in and are for sale at Swan's at the Coffee Shoppe along with other souvenirs.

Flag Day, June 14, was discussed. The Norfolk Elks are coming to Wayne to do their presentation at 6 p.m. at the Senior Center, which involves a fraternal order standard ritual and has a history of the flags that represented our country through the years. Mark Ahmann will give a patriotic address and refreshments will be served.

There will be a Humanities program, "Music of the Plains," on June 16 at 6 p.m. at the Wayne Senior Center.

Steve Gross will be putting together several books of Wayne photographs and information in honor of the city's 125th anniversary. The committee agreed to pay for three books (estimate costs between $40 - $50) and give one to each of the following: city library, museum and courthouse. There is a possibility that CDs will also be made and will be for sale.

Updates were given on the big Q-125 weekend of August 7-9. Jennifer Nelson of Wayne Community Theatre discussed the Melodrama, The Drunkard, which will be held at the WSC Willow Bowl or at the Ley Theatre Aug. 5-7, depending on the weather. The group will also perform a Reader's Theatre about a murder that took place in Wayne years ago that Dwaine Spieker's Wayne High School writing class put together.

Bob Carhart gave some Masonic Lodge sponsored beard contest information. There will be three categories, each with three winners (first, second, third). Judging will be on Saturday, Aug. 8 at the auditorium.

Ken Liska noted he is working on getting a jet flyover for the parade, Saturday evening, Aug. 8. He noted it is quite involved getting it done but he is working on it. He also said the Wild West Creations (Omaha Community Theatre) will perform a couple of bank robberies at the Farmers & Merchants State Bank in Wayne at 11 a.m. and at 2 p.m. The cost for the performances is $500.

Marie Mohr went over the schedule for the Aug. 7-9 weekend which includes the following: Friday: Melodrama; Tours of: Schools, Courthouse, Historical Cars, Wayne Industries; Quilt Show at Senior Center; Leather and Lace square dance; Car Show; Antique Show and also Optimist Crafts for Kids at Our Savior Lutheran Church. Saturday: Clydesdale wagon rides; Tree Tour. Sunday: Museum open house; Library program, "Old Country Tales," at the senior center; Jaycees Mud Volleyball at the fairgrounds; Art Schmidt dance in the evening.

The next meeting of the Wayne Community Q-125 committee will be Tuesday, June 9 at 7 p.m. at the Coffee Shoppe in Wayne. Everyone is invited to attend.

'Celebrating Wayne — A Great Place to Live!'

Wayne Elementary and St. Mary's Elementary students put together 125 reasons to live in Wayne in honor of Wayne's Q125 Celebration. There will be 10 of the reasons running every week. Following are the second 10 reasons:

1. We can play in the parks
2. We are part of the USA!
3. We have fresh air
4. We have good friends here
5. We have stores close by
6. We have nice houses
7. We have good places to eat
8. We have good schools
9. We have good friends
10. You get to go to the park

Culvers and Red Cross Day of Giving a great success

People helping people. That is how this year's annual Culver's Day of Giving became a success. "I was so excited to see all the support the community of Norfolk and the surrounding area showed for Culvers and the American Red Cross," says Heather Claussen, Chapter Operations Manager of the Northeast Nebraska Chapter.

On May 12, Culver's nationwide teamed up with their local Red Cross to raise money for disaster services, with 10-percent of the day's sales to go directly to the local Red Cross. Nationwide, over $160,000 was raised for the Red Cross.

In Norfolk, a total of $483.06 was raised. "Just amazing," says Claussen. "This will be able to help a family in the time of a disaster." This couldn't have been done without the help of the community, Culver's Owners Rich and Lisa Riley, and the great staff at Culver's. Next year will even be bigger and better!

On May 12, there was either a Red Cross staff or volunteer there throughout the day to greet customers and give out information about the American Red Cross. There were also Red Crosses sold for $1 each with people writing their names on them and putting them on the wall. Besides donating 10 percent of their sales that day, the employees of the Norfolk Culvers also made donations totaling $112 and they had a couple of donation canisters out that day as well if people wanted to contribute more to the Red Cross (or their change). This was a national event with Culver's across the nation donating 10 percent of their sales that day. Customers could choose between five different non-profits but they had to choose a local organization.

Lori Carollo, executive director of the American Red Cross Northeast Nebraska Chapter said, "This is a great fundraiser that Culver's do for the Red Cross every year and we really appreciate the support of Rich and Lisa Riley, owners of Culvers, as well as all of their employees who worked very hard that day! 100% of the money raised will stay with the local Northeast Nebraska Chapter of the American Red Cross to help with our disaster relief efforts!"

Adult Summer Reading Program planned at Wayne Public Library

Q125 ideas abound throughout the city and planning for the Adult Summer Reading Program (ASRP) at Wayne Public Library has embraced this theme.

Celebrating not only Wayne's history but the stories of our own lives and that of other small towns in the state will be the topic for the library's third annual ASRP. This year our focus will be on the stories, celebrations and memories of Nebraska's history as well as the stories of our own lives. Thus the book chosen for the three month program will be 'To Bucktail and Back... A million miles of memories by Tom Allan. Twelve copies of the book will be available for check-out starting June 1. We encourage patrons to read the book for best participation in the program.

The first program will be held Tuesday, June 23 at 6:30 p.m. Area adults are invited to come share stories of their family, ethnic celebrations, recollections of their childhood or memories of their hometown. At the beginning of the evening those in attendance will hear Dorothy Stevenson and her daughter, Mary Marchio, tell of their experience with the StoryCorps.

largest oral history projects of its kind, creating a growing portrait of who we really are as Americans.

"Wayne Public Library is fortunate to be able to have reserved two StoryKits from the StoryCorps' national office. The Library will raffle off the opportunity to record your story. The drawing will be held at the August program during the Q125 celebration weekend. The winners will be able to record their story in mid-September. Area adults, 18 and over, may sign up for the drawing and this wonderful opportunity to record your story. Register whenever you are in the library June 1 through Aug. 9.

On Tuesday, July 14, at 6:30 p.m. the summer program will continue with a book club format discussion of Mr. Allan's book. Tom Allan was a roving reporter for the Omaha World Herald and spent his time traveling the width and breadth of the state. His book tells of his travels and the delightful people he met, the celebrations of life and the stories of towns across our state. We encourage patrons to bring their thoughts, questions and comments to make this a lively and entertaining evening.

ASRP will conclude Sunday, Aug. 9, during the city-wide Q125 celebration weekend, with a 2 p.m. Nebraska Humanities Council program. Guest Presenter Richard Kimbrough will entertain and delight the audience with Country Tales and Truths, a look at the residents of a small Nebraska town during the 1930's and 40's - examining both their sense of humor and their values. Mr. Kimbrough promises an afternoon of education, information and fun for the whole family about this era in Nebraska's history.

"All programs are free and open to the public and will be held at the Wayne Senior Center. We extend our thanks to the Nebraska Humanities Council and Friends of the Library for their help in funding this summer's program," said Rita McLean, Adult Services Librarian at Wayne Public Library.

Additional appreciation is given to the Wayne Senior Center for use of their facilities. Light refreshments will be served at each event. Stop in or call the library, 375-3135 for more information.

Last day of school

This group of Wayne Middle School students were all smiles as the final bell rang for this school year. Students throughout the area are now enjoying summer vacation. Historical tidbits from Wayne and Wayne County provided by the Wayne County Museum for Wayne's Q-125

The first train tracks were laid in the fall of 1881 on frozen ground, the ride was pretty bumpy. After the train pulled into Wayne it had to back up all the way to Emerson until the remaining lines to Norfolk were finished.

Wayne's site was determined by the railroad, the original town site being purchased in 1880 from holders of military script from the War of 1812. It was donated to Frank Peavy who was connected with the railroad and O.D. Brown, R.B. Crawford and James Britton reserved an interest in the land.

"Through all my trips to doctors, both at the June E. Nylan Cancer Center in Sioux City and the Lied Transplant Center in Omaha, I have always had a very good support system. Somebody has always been with me," she said.

Courtney's involvement with Relay For Life began three years ago when she was a part of the Ameritas team. The past two years she has been on the Gail's Little Angels team.

Early this year she decided that being the chair of the Survivor committee is "something I can take pride in. Throughout my battle with cancer, I have never wanted sympathy, just understanding. I don't want people to do things for me, I just want them to understand that some things take me a little longer."

Courtney said she is very aware that funds raised by Relay For Life have been instrumental in developing drugs that have saved her life.

Help can't wait for local Red Cross chapter

The Northeast Nebraska Chapter of the American Red Cross, our local office, is in dire need of financial assistance. Their fiscal year ends June 30 and they are $12,000 short because they have been very busy helping with community needs. They have been called out to over 25 fires and provided assistance to over 62 people, not including aid to area firefighters. Providing this assistance has cost the chapter nearly $15,000.

Besides helping with the fires and assisting with the needs of many people, they have made numerous military communications to help reunite soldiers with their families. Often times that means calling soldiers in time of illness and/or death at a cost of $23 per call.

The chapter also faithfully continues to teach lifesaving classes such as CPR and First Aid. Recently, they have been busy with lifeguard classes to help prepare staff at all of the swimming pools in the nine counties they serve. It is because of the Red Cross that area children know how to swim. Swim lessons are given to over 1,200 children every summer in northeast Nebraska.

This is a critical time for the local chapter. "In the 10 years that I have been associated with this chapter, this is the first year that our donations have not matched our needs and thus we need to ask everyone in the community for assistance," said Lori Carollo, executive director.

The American Red Cross relies completely on donations from the public and receives no financial support from the government.

Did you know that every 24 hours Red Cross volunteers make an incredible impact on the world every day. They come together to provide the following services: Red Cross volunteers help 200 families who lost everything in a house fire or other disaster, the Red Cross connects deployed service members with their families 475 times, 19,000 people outside the United States receive urgent care from the Red Cross following a disaster, 21,000 people receive a blood transfusion from a Red Cross donor, 43,000 people receive life-saving Red Cross health, safety and preparedness training, 290,000 children receive a measles vaccination from the Red Cross and its partners. Red Cross volunteers make an incredible impact on the world every day.

The local chapter who gives so much to the community needs financial assistance if they are to remain open. Please consider making a donation by stopping by or sending a check to: 106 W. 3rd Street in Wayne. The chapter has been there when they are needed and with financial help, they will continue to be there when the need or emergency occurs.

Memorial project progressing

Work continues on the Wayne County Veterans Memorial project on the Wayne County courthouse grounds. Above, Steven's Construction of Crofton poured cement footings and floating pad on Wednesday. Lukens Memorial of Yankton, SD will be doing the granite work and graphics. Donation of time and equipment for site prep (dirt work) was by the following Wayne companies: Milo Meyer Construction and also Dennis Otte of Otte Construction, Inc. The goal is to have dedication of the project on Veteran's Day.

You are invited to Flag Day

Patriotism runs high in the community of Wayne. When we sent the 189th off and when these troops returned, our city streets were lined with well wishers and many of the well wishers were truly committed to the beliefs that America and its place in the world are held in high esteem. Held high in that belief is that the Stars and Stripes are the symbol of American pride and freedom.

In keeping with this belief, the Q-125 Committee is having as a part of its year long program activities, a special Flag Day Ceremony will be held on Sunday, June 14 at the Wayne Senior Citizens Center at 6 p.m. The Public is invited to join the committee in celebrating the flag at this time.

The Norfolk Elks will conduct their annual Flag Day ceremony in which they review and show the various Flags that flew over this wonderful country of ours. The first of these flags is one that General Washington used in leading his Continental Army into battle and the last being the 50-star flag after Alaska and Hawaii were admitted into the union. This is a stirring and uplifting display and should be witnessed by everyone who is not aware of all the flags that have flown over us as Americans.

Mark Ahmann, past public relations officer of the Nebraska American Legion, will then present a short speech to commemorate the occasion and this will be followed by a demonstration on the proper way to fold the American Flag by our local Wayne Veterans Groups.

Refreshments will be served following the ceremony.

DeLong breaks state record in long jump and defends crown in 200-meter dash; LCHS boys finish sixth

Bears earn back-to-back Class C State Championships

By Casey Schroeder

Have you heard the one about "How many Bears does it take to win back-to-back Class C state championships?" It may come as a shock, but only five Bears are needed.

With the likes of Ashley Lunz, Megan Haahr, Erika Hochstein, Katie Jacobsen and Bethany DeLong at the helm, Laurel-Concord returned home from this past weekend's State Track Meet at Omaha Burke Stadium as back-to-back Class C state champions, joining a pedigree of distinguished schools who share the same accomplishment.

In the team standings, Laurel-Concord scored 54 points to hold off Hastings St. Cecilia who finished in the runner-up spot with 50 points.

"It's a great feeling to win back-to-back state titles. It's hard enough to win one, but the girls have done an exceptional job of staying focused and working to improve. It makes a coach's job easy when you have such great kids to work with," Bears head coach Nate Sims said.

"I think the girls were really striving to repeat as champions. We have a group of kids that really enjoy track and have a good work ethic. They were looking forward to the State Track Meet from the beginning of the year and our times this year were even better than last year's at the State Meet."

For Laurel-Concord, DeLong single-handedly dismantled any form of competition that crossed her path as she picked up a pair of wins in the long jump and 200-meter dash before contributing to a first place finish on the Bears' 400-meter relay team.

In Friday's long jump, DeLong used just one attempt of 19' 1 1/2" to grab first place honors as her mark was good for not only a gold medal, but also for a new meet and Class C state record.

DeLong's record setting jump, topped the previous mark of 18' 11" that was held by Hastings St. Cecilia's Nancy Kindig (1976) and Dundy County's Kathy Janick (1989).

Following her performance in the long jump, DeLong who was the reigning state champion in the 200-meter dash turned in a time of 26.45 seconds to finish first in her respective heat of Friday's preliminaries, advancing her to Saturday's final where she again swept a field of eight qualifiers (25.59) to give her back-to-back wins in the event.

DeLong then closed out her very successful run at State by contributing to yet another win as the Bears' 4 x 100-meter relay team of Ashley Lunz, Kari Schroeder and Katie Jacobsen took first in the event with a Laurel-Concord's Bethany DeLong in mid flight of her record-setting jump of 19' 1 1/2" in Saturday morning's long jump.

Wayne returns home empty-handed after qualifying 14

Blue Devils 'Burked' at '09 State Track Meet

By Casey Schroeder

The Wayne girl's track and field team concluded its season in irregular fashion this past weekend at Burke Stadium in Omaha, joining the likes of 17 other schools who qualified, but failed to place in the girl's division of the 2009 Class B Nebraska State Track Meet.

In the team standings, Columbus Scotus (58 points) ran away with the Class B state championship while Fillmore Central (41 points) topped Omaha Roncalli/Duchesne Academy (40 points) and Waverly (40 points) for runner-up honors.

"I thought we competed pretty well at the State Meet, Wayne head coach Dale Hochstein said. "It is always an eye-opener for young athletes who have never been to an atmosphere such as State."

"The personal records were great and gives us something to build on.

There really isn't much you can do to get athletes ready for the environment of State. We had some jitters and our young squad realized that not all of them had their best performances, but left with positive attitudes."

Wayne, who sent just eight girls to Omaha, saw each of its eight state qualifiers fail to advance past the preliminaries.

The Blue Devils were led by junior thrower Carly Fehringer, who qualified for State by virtue of her second place throw in the B-4 District Meet (39' 1") used a mark of 36' 3 1/4" in the shot put on Saturday afternoon to finish 12th out of 18 competitors.

Other individual state qualifiers for the Blue Devils included Marissa Fallesen, Caitlin Fehringer, Megan Stalling and Alesha Finkey.

Fallesen finished fourth in her respective heat of Friday's 100-meter dash (13.10) while Caitlin Fehringer nabbed fifth place honors in her heat of the 300-meter hurdles with a time of 49.88 seconds.

In the 3200-meter run, Stalling finished 21st out of 24 competitors with a time of 13:00.25 followed by Finkey, who ended her career as a Blue Devil on Saturday morning with a time of 2:32.49 in the 800-meter run.

In the relays, Wayne's 4 x 800-meter relay team of Jordan Alexander, Taylor Burke, Kristin Carroll and Finkey finished in 15th place with a time of 10:29.50.

In the boy's division, Wayne's six state qualifiers were dealt the same misfortune as the girl's team as they also failed to score any points, making them just one of 16 schools throughout Class B who left Omaha empty-handed.

In the team standings, Boys Town (65 points) claimed the Class B state title with Lexington (38 points) outlasting Norfolk Catholic (36 points) and Scottsbluff (36 points) for second place honors.

The Blue Devils who qualified just six boys, again saw each one of its six state qualifiers fail to advance past the preliminaries.

Wayne was led by junior Marcus Baier who claimed 12th place out of 24 competitors in Saturday's 800-meter run (2:01.64) after he finished seventh in his preliminary heat of Friday's 400-meter dash with a time of 54.09 seconds.

Aside from Baier, junior Cory Foote placed 19th in Saturday's 1600-meter run (4:47.85) and was followed by freshman Quentin Jorgensen who finished 23rd out of 24 qualifiers in the event with a time of 4:55.57.

Jorgensen also competed in Friday's 3200-meter run where he finished 14th overall with a time of 10:14.86.

In the field events, Wayne's lone state qualifier, junior jumper Darnell Collins finished 15th out of 19 entries in Friday's triple jump with a mark of 40' 10 1/2" while also claiming 19th place in Saturday's long jump with a leap of 19' 1 1/4".

With Wayne only losing a handful of seniors to graduation this year, Hochstein remains optimistic about next season as the Blue Devils return several seasoned underclassman who will continue to develop as athletes in hopes of making an immediate impact.

"The first step to rebuilding and becoming a contender is getting athletes to the State Meet which we were able to do this year. The next step is to challenge ourselves to push a little harder and continue to improve to bring some medals home," Hochstein said.

year." The Bears were led by the one-two punch of junior thrower Ezra Schantz and senior sprinter/jumper Justin Hart.

Schantz, who was a returning state qualifier in both the shot put and discus debuted at Burke Stadium on Friday morning where he re-established himself as a dominant force in the event with a winning throw of 53' 11", topping his previous mark of 43' 6" that was set last season.

Following Friday's gold medal performance, Schantz settled for runner-up honors on Saturday afternoon as he finished second in the discus with a toss of 154' 3" which

Ryan Sturm claims Wayne Men's Open

By Kevin Peterson
Of the Herald

The annual Wayne Men's Amateur Open Golf Tournament was held Sunday at Wayne Country Club with nearly 120 golfers taking part.

The championship flight had 47 participants with the low 32 earning a spot in the championship round. Sioux City's Tyson Bodlak held a slim one-stroke lead over former Wayne standout Ryan Sturm heading to the final round but Sturm turned the tables with a two-under par 34 over the last nine holes to claim his first Wayne Open.

Sturm finished the 27 holes with a 106, two-under par. Bode Hill of Columbus also fired a two-under par round of 34 over the final nine holes which catapulted him past Bodlak for the tournament's runner-up finish at one-under 107. Bodlak claimed third place with an even par 27-hole total of 108.

Troy Schwartz of Beemer finished fourth at 108 while Alex Salmon, another former Wayne standout player finished fifth at 109. Travis Vanhouten finished sixth at 109. The Omahan claimed the low round of the day at three-under 33 over the final nine holes.

A couple Wayne State players placed seventh and eighth with Mike Varley chips on to the green on hole six during the championship round on Sunday. Varley fired a 2-under par 34.

scores of 109 with Tyler Dejong and Adam Fields while Wesly Bernt of Omaha was 10th at 111. Joey Baldwin of Wayne was 11th at 111 and Wayne's Doug Rose was 12th at 111.

There were eight additional flights of golfers participating with David Ellis claiming the first flight with a 74 while Sam Prue was second at 75 and Bruce Conant, third at 78. Brian Hanson won flight two with a 74, five strokes ahead of Tim Carlson. Billie Rager was third with an 81.

Max McDonald won flight three with a 77 while Cody Mittelstaedt finished second at 81 and Duane Blomenkamp, third at 83. Mike Conley won flight four with an 84 followed by Tom Mau with an 85 and Jim Doenhofner, 87.

Anthony Earth was the fifth flight winner with an 83 while Kiel Buss was second with an 84 and Rodney Doenhefer, third at 85. Phil Griess captured flight six with an 80 followed by Bill Sharpe with an 85 and Corey Dahl, 87 while the seventh flight was won by Craig Walling with an 89. Tom Burns fired a 90 for runner-up honors and Courtney Berg followed with a 90. The final flight was won by Ben Martin, Sr. with a 93 while Bud Nitzschke carded a 93 for second place and James Campbell, 103 for third.

Keitges earns NAIA Scholar-Athlete honors

Morningside College announced late Saturday afternoon that twelve members from its men's and women's track and field teams have been named Daktronics NAIA Scholar-Athletes.

In order for a student-athlete to be eligible for Daktronics NAIA Scholar-Athlete honors, they must be of at least junior status and have a minimum grade-point average of 3.50 or better.

Area students-athletes who were named Daktronics NAIA Scholar-Athlete include Erin Keitges, a junior from Jackson (Allen High School), who has a cumulative grade-point average of 3.95 with a major in elementary education.

Jeffries stands tall for Wayne golf team

By Kevin Peterson
Of the Herald

At first glance Collin Jeffries doesn't strike fear as an intimidating sort. The 5-6 Wayne high junior however, doesn't let that affect his will when he goes into battle.

His weapons of choice include a driver, some fairway woods, a number of irons and of course, a putter.

His drive to compete left him standing tall at last week's district golf tournament in Blair. Staring at a five-stroke deficit at the midway point of the tournament, Collin used his blue collar approach and just went to work.

He parred the number 10 hole and then ripped off four consecutive birdies. "It was very windy out but I tried to block that out and just play," Jeffries said. "My first birdie on hole 11 was nearly an eagle on the par four as my second shot lipped out."

Holes 12 and 13 were par fives and Collin dropped a 15-foot putt on 13 for birdie. He drained a lengthy putt on hole 14 for a birdie on the par three. Meanwhile, Blair's own Cody Dorsett who once owned a five-shot lead on Collin after firing an even-par 36 on the front nine, found his lead dwindled to just one stroke with four holes to play.

Both players parred number 15, a par four. Collin bogeyed number 16, a par four but Dorsett double-bogeyed the hole which left the duo tied with two holes left. The match was still even after both parred the 17th hole, a par three.

"At this point I figured we may end up going to sudden-death playoff," Collin said. "I got a par on the 18th hole and my opponent struggled a little and finished with a double bogey, leaving me as the winner with a 74."

The feeling of being crowned district champion was further enhanced when the 17-year-old found out his teammates had held their own allowing the Blue Devils to win the district team title...by a whopping 10 strokes.

"I couldn't believe it," Collin said. "It's been a tough spring with inconsistent weather and finding the right mix of guys to comprise the squad. We hadn't won an invite all season and here we were, district champs. It felt pretty sweet."

Collin got his first taste of golf in the fourth grade when he took part in Wayne's summer rec golf program. "I really liked the game and I just kind of caught on," he said. "I also put a lot of time into it. I've taken lessons from Troy Harder and I spent a lot of time in my front yard pitching balls to Ashley Park, toward the stone monument--about 50 yards."

"There's no doubt the secret to good golf is a solid short game," he added. "I pride myself in getting up and down around the greens for pars if I'm not on in regulation. In fact my only goal for myself at State this week is to get up-and-down 100 percent of the time I got chances to do so from 30 yards and in."

In order to spend some of that quality time with family, Collin thought the secret was to get dad and mom (Curt and Colleen) involved with the game of golf since neither of them played at the time he started...He found himself successful in that venture as well.

"They are my biggest supporters," Collin said. "They give me plenty of space and they don't give me a lot of advice, probably because they know I've been playing golf longer than they have."

This is Collin's third consecutive trip to State so the nerves should be held in check pretty well. "I remember my freshman year it was really nerve-racking," Collin chuckled. "It was a great relief to me the support I got from senior Nate Summerfield that year. He was fun to be around, had great character and was just a really good leader and role model."

Just two short years later Collin finds himself in a similar position. "Andi (Diediker) and I have been to State but it's the first time for Joe Whitt, Collin Preston and Trent Beza," Jeffries said. "It's our job (Andi and me) to make sure these guys are ready to go."

Not only is it Collin's third straight trip to State but it's also his third top 10 finish at districts. He placed seventh as a freshman, 10th as a sophomore before claiming top honors this season.

As far as setting goals for State, the answer is no. "We really don't have a bunch of team goals," Collin said. "Just to play as best we can, regardless of conditions. Andi's dad Dave told us that only 12 teams made it to State and we were one of them so enjoy the moment...and I think I will."

You can be sure that when Collin Jeffries steps on that first tee at State, inside that 5-6 frame lies the heart of a Lion.

Adam Fields tees off on hole number five during the men's open tournament, Sunday. He fired a one-under par 35 on the final nine holes.

Lunz finishes fifth in 100-meter dash

Bodlak bodes well at '09 State Track Meet

By Casey Schroeder

The small, but mighty Wakefield Trojans closed out the 2009 track season last week, sending three athletes to Omaha for the 2009 Nebraska State Track Meet at Burke Stadium.

Wakefield, who qualified only three athletes in Carly Gardner, Keri Lunz and Tyler Bodlak put together several key performances over the course of the two-day event that saw the Trojans climb through the ranks.

"I couldn't be more pleased with the way our kids performed down at Burke," Wakefield head coach Mike Hassler said.

"Were there a couple instances where we were hoping for a little better performance or placing? Sure, but I can't fault our athletes efforts.

I felt like they went out there and gave it their best effort."

In the girl's division, Wakefield failed to score any team points, but saw sophomore sprinter Keri Lunz advance to Saturday's 100-meter dash final where she finished fifth overall with a time of 13.15 seconds after qualifying in Friday's preliminaries with a time of 13.07 seconds.

In addition to her fifth place finish, Lunz also competed in the 400-meter dash Friday where she fell short of qualifying for Saturday's finals after she claimed fifth place in the preliminaries with a time of 1:02.10.

"I'm thrilled with the way Keri performed. At mid-season we were just trying to find ways to get her to Burke, she really stepped up the last third of the year and turned in her best performances," Hassler said.

"To see her go down to Burke and medal in the 100 was a great finish to her year. It was also great to see her post a personal best time in the 400 as well. Keri will be a big part of the success of this team over the next two years, she just keeps getting better."

In the field events, Wakefield's lone qualifier was senior Carly Gardner.

Gardner who was a returning state qualifier in the discus where she finished eighth last season with a mark of 114' 6" failed to place this year after she turned in a top mark of 109' 6" on Friday morning.

"Carly had a good year. It didn't quite finish the way she had hoped it would with a state medal, but you can't take away from the fact that she got back down to Omaha, which isn't an easy thing to do," Hassler said.

"Discus is a difficult event. There are so many little things that have to be in the right place at the right time for a great throw. With Carly it seemed like we were always one little thing away from her popping a big throw."

In the boy's division, Bodlak directed himself, the only Trojan to a tie for 37th place in the team standings with four points, matching Kenesaw and Ainsworth who had twice as many state qualifiers as Wakefield.

In Friday's 3200-meter run, Bodlak clinched first with a time of 9:55.22, topping Hasting St. Cecilia's Jimmy O'Keef who followed in second place at 9:55.89.

Following Friday's gold medal performance in the 3200-meter run, Bodlak finished second in Saturday morning's 800-meter run with a time of 1:59.66 before going on to place 14th out of 24 competitors in the 1600-meter run at 4:44.98.

"Tyler had a great State Track Meet. He is a great leader and he works hard, he is a great example for his teammates," Hassler said.

"We've got a nice group of seniors coming back next year with some talented underclassmen, we'll have a nice team going into next year."

Listed below are the individual results for the Wakefield athletes who qualified for the 2009 Nebraska State Track Meet.

Girl's Results

100 Meter Dash: Kallie Irannagan, Shelton, 1st (12.85); Keri Lunz, Wakefield, 5th (13.15).

400 Meter Dash: Abby Jackson, Hastings St. Cecilia, 1st (99.62); Keri Lunz, Wakefield, 5th prelims (1:02.10).

Discus: Alyssa Norton, Gordon-Rushville, 1st (131' 9"); Carly Gardner, Wakefield, DNP (109' 6")

Boy's Results

800 Meter Run: Derek Snyder, Burwell, 1st (1:59.41); Tyler Bodlak, Wakefield, 2nd (2:01.39).

1600 Meter Run: Jimmy O'Keefe, Hastings St. Cecilia, 1st (4:34.14); Tyler Bodlak, Wakefield, DNP (4:48.98).

3200 Meter Run: Tyler Bodlak, Wakefield, 1st (9:55.22).

Winside senior Andrew Mohr clears that bar during his second jump in Friday's high jump. Mohr failed to place for the Wildcats, but finished ahead of six other state qualifiers after clearing 5' 10". Mohr was just one of three Winside boys who qualified for the 2009 Nebraska State Track Meet.

WSC track and field standout Katie Wilson qualifies for Nationals in Texas

By Laquisha Cook

Wayne State College 2008 national champion and All-American, Katie Wilson balanced it all this season with her tireless work ethic and humbled attitude in spite of all her success as a track and field athlete.

She continued her dominant championship reign as a competitor in the indoor and outdoor shot put and discus, but her domineering hand in the sport did not come without a price.

Wilson, an elementary education major and fifth-year senior juggled not only the hectic schedule of practice, but student teaching as well. Her day was tied up from early morning to late in the evening.

"It took teamwork between my teacher, coach and me," Wilson said.

Born and raised in Inglewood, Iowa, Wilson dabbled in an array of sports starting at the tender age of five.

She played softball, basketball, and added volleyball and track to the list in the seventh grade and continued as a multi-sport athlete throughout her high school career.

Wilson eventually narrowed her athletic expertise down to track and field when she reached WSC.

It was then that she was introduced to hammer throw for the very first time.

At first, it took a tremendous amount of practice to perfect her technique. But after a while, Wilson began to reap results.

In 2008, she competed in the Northern Sun Conference Outdoor Track and Field Championships, and threw a new school record of 172' 7" to win the hammer throw.

Her performance qualified her for the 2008 NCAA Outdoor Track and Field Championships in California where she placed 11th out of 19 competitors with a mark of 160' 9".

That same year, Wilson also became WSC's first women's NCAA national champion after she won the shot put with a school record throw of 51' 11" 3/4 at the NCAA Outdoor Track and Field Championships.

While placing first in the shot put earned Wilson All-American honors, she also finished fourth in discus with a throw of 154' 5" for yet another school record which brought her 2008 total to three.

Wilson was just as successful during the 2008 indoor track and field season as well.

At the NSIC Indoor Championships she finished as a

Hochstein earns NAIA Daktronics Scholar-Athlete honors

Former Wayne High School graduate and current Doane College senior, Kayla Hochstein was announced Monday afternoon as one of 21 Doane College student-athletes who were recently awarded NAIA Daktronics Scholar-Athlete honors.

To be named a Scholar-Athlete, a student-athlete must have a 3.50 grade-point average or better and be of at least junior academic status.

Hochstein is a 2006 graduate of Wayne High School and is the daughter of Dale and Laura Hochstein.

Katie Wilson

runner-up in shot put (47' 5 1/5") and placed third in the weight throw, qualifying her for the 2008 NCAA Indoor National Championships where she finished 10th out of 15 competitors.

For Wilson, the 2009 outdoor season proved to be no different than the previous one.

Wilson won a pair of NSIC championships, both in the shot put (48' 0 3/4") and discus (159' 5") and also finished second in hammer throw (169' 11").

"People ask you are you going to do it again this year?" Wilson said. "There is always going to be pressure but you can't let it stress you out."

For Wilson, however, it remains simple. It's all about going out and competing to the best of her ability. She just wants to do her best and that's all that really matters to her.

As for this season, Wilson's personal goal was to reach 50 feet in shot put, which she accomplished

First hole-in-one since '06

The Frazee Golf Course in Frazee, Minn., recorded its first hole-in-one since 2006 on Saturday, May 9 as Gary Wright from Wayne holed-out on the second hole with a 7-wood from 185 yards out.

Witnesses were Richard Freeman, Rick and Dan Heinke.

To commemorate the occasion, Wright received a limited edition golf cap embroidered with "Frazee Golf Course Hole in One."

His name will also be included on the club house's hole-in-one plaque.

and to see her teammates be equally competitive in newly formed 14-team Northern Sun Conference.

With her busy schedule, and desire to be the best, Wilson looked to her dad, Bret Wilson, for support.

Her dad reminded her that this "is life and its just track, so go have fun."

Wilson said that she wants to continue to improve because her career is not over just yet. She still has Nationals.

"You always want to win and not hold back because this is the last meet," Wilson said.

When Wilson walks into her bedroom and sees all the awards and trophies, she does not get to overwhelmed because she has not reached her peak.

"Maybe when I am done I can look back and say 'wow' I did all of that in college"

Setzer latest to sign with WSC women's soccer

Hayler Setzer of Maple Grove Senior High School in Minnesota has signed a national letter of intent to attend Wayne State College and play women's soccer for the Wildcats in the fall of 2009 according to Wildcat head women's soccer coach Molly Grisham.

Setzer is the fifth member of the 2009 recruiting class, joining Lauren Briscoe of Rochester, Minn., Allison Reynolds of Indianola, Iowa, Lydia Myers of Grand Island and Alexandra Baumert of Omaha.

Setzer, a 5-6 defender, is a four-year letter winner and three-year starter in soccer, earning Northwest Suburban Conference honorable mention All-Conference honors as a senior at Maple Grove Senior High School last fall.

As a junior at St. Michael-Albertville High School, Setzer helped her team to a 14-0-1 record. She also

Annual Willie Invite to benefit founder

By Brad Kurtenbach
The Wakefield Republican

What makes the Willie Invitational Golf Tournament so unique is not just the size of the 8-inch cups on the greens, but the fact that the proceeds are given away to a local cause or family every year.

It's not about winning the event that counts either. There are no winners or losers.

The tournament is all about giving a little something back, helping neighbors and just having a little fun on the links.

The 14th Annual Willie Invitational will be held at Wakefield's Logan Valley Golf Course on Saturday, May 30 with a 10 a.m. shotgun start. It will be an 18-hole event.

Willie Nixon founded the event with a little help of a few of his friends back in 1995.

The first Willie Invite started with a group of construction guys that worked together. "It was supposed to have been a party with a bunch of guys that worked together," Willie said. "We were supposed to have five, two-man teams."

In the beginning, the tournament was held on a Thursday evening, the night of the Kickoff Classic college football game.

It was a nine-hole affair which started at 5 p.m. That went on for three years until it became a much larger 18-hole event.

One of the first recipients of the tournament was the golf course for the purchase of a big screen television. Monies raised over the years included two more televisions for the clubhouse, part of the fountain construction on the pond on the third hole, cart paths and other improvements on the course.

Other recipients include Wakefield and Wayne VFWs, a local flower club and a tent for the Wakefield High School Track and Field team.

Proceeds contributed to the Wayne Vets helped send packages to local troops stationed in Iraq four years ago, the local National Guard 189th Transportation Company.

Many local folks faced with medical problems have also been recipients of the charitable event.

Last year, there were 103 participants in the tournament. The proceeds benefitted the Sheila Brown family. Sheila's husband Baxter passed away earlier in 2008 after a very long illness.

Two years ago, proceeds went to the Sandy Otte family after Ryan Marlys and Willie Nixon look forward to the charity golf tournament that will be held at the Logan Valley Golf Course in Wakefield this Saturday.

Otte lost his life in an accident.

Besides Willie, wife Marlys and daughter Renee, 2009 Tourney Director, also pitched in by helping out at the event last year, which used to be open by invitation only. This year, the invite is open to anyone.

Wherever there is a timely need for help, so goes the donations from the Willie Invitational.

Willie found out earlier this year he had a baseball-size tumor on his voice box.

A tracheotomy was performed. Doctors discovered a baseball-size tumor. Willie uses an Electrolarynx to help him speak.

His medical issues have taken him to hospitals in Pender, Sioux City and Omaha, many times by ambulance, once by helicopter.

Medical expenses have mounted.

Willie started chemotherapy on Tuesday at the June Nyland Cancer Center in Sioux City. The treatments will continue for at least six weeks, maybe eight, Marlys said.

It was decided by some of Willie's friends, that this year, Willie would be the recipient of the tournament's proceeds.

Thrivent Financial for Lutherans has also kicked in supplemental funds for the Nixons.

If you'd like to play in the tournament (3-person scramble format), call Logan Valley Golf Course at (402)-287-2343 to sign up. Cost is $30 per person or $90 per team. All proceeds will be donated to the family. Golf carts are extra.

Lunch will be provided during the tournament, free-will donation.

Silent Auction items will be available to bid on throughout the tournament.

If you are not a golfer, or can't participate in the tournament and would like to contribute, checks may be made out to and mailed to Willie's Cup, P.O. Box 461, Wakefield, NE, 68784.

For more information, or if you have questions about making a contribution or donation, please call Terry Hoffman, (402)-369-0526 or J.J. Skinner, (402)-369-0797.

Schneider, Rystrom collect NCAA Division II All-American honors

By Laquisha Cook

Wayne State's Matt Schneider and Misty Rystrom earned NCAA Division II All-American honors Saturday evening at the NCAA Division II National Outdoor Track and Field Championships in San Angelo, Texas.

Schneider, a senior from Nebraska City, set a new school record in the 3,000-meter steeplechase to place fourth with a time of 9:05.82.

The previous school record of 9:08.46 was set by Nate Preston on April 25 at the Drake Relays.

Schneider is the first outdoor track and field All-American at WSC since Ed Blackburn (110-meter hurdles) in 1981.

Schneider had the second fastest qualifying time entering Saturday's finals at 9:15.64 and entered the NCAA Division II national meet ranked ninth nationally with a time of 9:08.78.

"Matt Schneider ran a really smart race. He was ranked ninth coming into the meet and really surprised some people, I think," WSC coach Marlon Brink said.

Wildcat teammate Nate Preston just missed the finals as he was 13th overall out of 17 runners with a time of 9:32.49, and missed the finals by only 3.44 seconds.

The winner of the 3,000-meter steeplechase Saturday evening was Reuben Chebon-Mwei of Adams State, who was the top qualifier in Thursday's prelims, crossing the line first in a time of 8:47.10.

Rystrom, a junior from Pierce, cleared 5' 7 1/4" to earn sixth place in the high jump. She entered the national meet ranked fourth after clearing 5' 8 1/2" during the season.

"Misty has a great ability and I believe will jump even higher next year as a senior," Brink said.

It is the first All-American honor for Rystrom. The winner of the event was Linda Rain Water of UC-San Diego clearing 5' 9 3/4".

Wildcat senior thrower Katie Wilson finished 10th out of 18 competitors Saturday evening in the discus.

Wilson's top throw was 141' 9", which was a mere 11 inches short of finals. She entered the national meet ranked sixth in the event with a top regular season throw of 159' 5".

The winner of the discus was Adree Lakey of Angelo State with a throw of 161' 10".

In other action, Wilson recorded a top mark of 156' 9" in the hammer throw to come in 17th out of 18 competitors.

She entered the national meet ranked ninth in the event with a top mark of 174' 6". The top qualifier in the event was Danielle Thu of UC San Diego with a top throw of 198' 8".

Also competing for WSC was runner Paige Pollard.

The sophomore from Newcastle failed to make the finals after she finished 13th out of 17 runners in the 400-meter hurdles with a time of 1:01.80.

The top qualifier was Christine Merrill of UC San Diego with a time of 59.22 seconds.

Wildcats place 31 on Northern Sun Conference Spring All-Academic Team

Wayne State College had 31 student-athletes selected to the 2009 Northern Sun Conference Spring All-Academic Team that was released last Wednesday by the league office in St. Paul, Minn.

For the 2008-09 school year, WSC finished with 72 student-athletes named to the NSIC All-Academic Teams (25-fall, 16-winter and 31-spring).

To be eligible for the NSIC Spring All-Academic Team, a student-athlete must be a member of the varsity traveling team and have a cumulative grade-point average of 3.20 or better.

The student-athlete must also have reached sophomore academic and athletic standing at the institution represented with one full year completed at that particular institution.

The following is a listing of WSC student-athletes who were named to the 2009 NSIC Spring All-Academic Team.

Joe Wendte and Eric Bond named to ABCA/Rawlings All-American Baseball Team

Joe Wendte and Eric Bond of Wayne State College were named to the 2009 American Baseball Coaches Association (ABCA)/Rawlings Division II Baseball All-Central Region Team that was released Tuesday and voted on by Division II coaches across the country.

Wendte, a junior outfielder, received First Team All-American honors while Bond, a junior shortstop, was named Second Team All-American as an infielder.

This marks the sixth time in the last seven years that a Wayne State College baseball player has achieved All-American status, joining Travis McCarter and Brian Foy in 2003, Tim Richt in 2004, Brian Van Driel in 2005, Dustin Jones and Scott Bidroski in 2007 and Nick Schumacher last season.

Wendte, a graduate of Sioux City Heelan (Iowa) High School, was named the 2009 NSIC Player of the Year after hitting .396 this season with 14 homers and a team-high 67 RBI's to help the Wildcats win a sixth straight Northern Sun Conference regular season title.

He set a new school record with 83 runs scored, which ranked fifth in NCAA Division II, and had a team-high 51 walks to rank eighth in NCAA Division II.

Wendte was a three-time NSIC

Player of the Week this season and he led the Wildcats this season in hits (78), doubles (20), stolen bases (19), slugging percentage (.741) and on-base percentage (.527).

Wendte also received First Team Daktronics Inc. All-Central Region honors this season.

Bond, from Blue Springs, Missouri (Longview Community College), was named the 2009 NSIC Newcomer of the Year and First-Team All-NSIC after hitting .365 with a team-high 19 homers and 61 RBI's for the Wildcats this season.

His 19 homers set a new single season Wildcat record for homers, breaking the previous mark of 18 set by Bill Schwartz in 1981. Bond led the team in at bats (211) and total bases (152) while ranking second in hits (77) and stolen bases (13).

WSC finished the 2009 season with a 45-15 record, tying the school record for wins in a season set by the 2005 team that was 45-14.

The Wildcats won a sixth straight regular season Northern Sun Conference title, going 27-4 in league play, and advanced to the NCAA Tournament for the sixth straight season and the seventh time in the last nine years.

WSC advanced to the NCAA Central Region title game before falling to Mesa State 8-2.

Multi-sport athlete Paige Pollard races towards the finish line in the 100-meter hurdles at the NSIC Outdoor Championships.

Pollard passes on the hardwood for asphalt this season

By Laquisha Cook

Hurdler and middle distance runner, Paige Pollard, continued to make an impact on the Wayne State College women's track and field team this year.

She blazed the track, literally, and the only place left for her to go was up.

The multi-event and once-upon-a-time, multi-sport sophomore at WSC, created a name for herself as she continued to grow and progress within her prospective sport.

Pollard, who was a member of the WSC women's basketball team during the 2007-08 season, decided that she wanted to focus primarily on developing as a track athlete.

"Doing track all year around really helped out a lot," Pollard said. "I now feel I am in better track shape."

Pollard, who specializes in the indoor and outdoor pentathlon, heptathlon and the open 800-meter dash also competes in the 400-meter hurdles where she set a new school record by placing second at the 2008 NSIC Outdoor Track and Field Championship in a time of 1:01.95.

The 2009 indoor season gave Pollard an opportunity to really showcase her talent as a legitimate track athlete.

She placed third in the 800-meter run (2:16.63) and set another school record scoring 3,329 points in the pentathlon, which was good for a sixth place finish at the 2009 NSIC Indoor Championships.

This year during the outdoor season, the physical therapy major showed a vast amount of resilience continuing to transition from high school to college and becoming more patient with herself.

With enduring encouragement from senior teammates Jade Lippman and junior Christina King, getting better was the only option for Pollard who continually improved throughout the season.

This season, Pollard won the 400-meter hurdles (1:01.80) at the 2009 NSIC Outdoor Championships breaking the previous school record that was set last season.

"I was close all year, and just wanted to go all out for conference," Pollard said.

Pollard's goal for the year was to improve in all of her events and she accomplished what she set out to do in the hurdles.

Although the pentathlon and heptathlon remain relatively new to Pollard, her desire and work ethic propels her.

Following her strong performance at the NSIC Championships this season, Pollard qualified for the 400-meter hurdles in the 2009 NCAA Outdoor National Outdoor Championships in Texas.

Her goal for nationals was to make it to finals and run an over-all faster time.

Pollard placed 13th out of 17 competitors in the event with a time of 61.99 seconds.

"By my senior year I want to be an All-American," Pollard said.

And as of now, that seems to be the only direction that the multi-dimensional sophomore from Newcastle is headed in.

PMC hosts BikeFEST 2009

BikeFEST 2009 was held May 18 at Providence Medical Center in Wayne. A total of 50 youth participated in the annual event. Providence Physical Therapy staff completed bike and helmet fit assessments. "We had a beautiful day and a great turn-out for BikeFEST 2009. Parents appreciated our help getting their kids ready for the 2009 bike season," said coordinator of the event Jean Harrold-Loberg, PT.

and Ice in Yankton, SD was the expert bike mechanic for on-site minor bike adjustments. He was also available to make recommendations for appropriate bicycle size. A variety of antique bikes were displayed during the event, including a 3-wheeled bicycle from 'This and That' complete with wicker baskets, reminiscent of earlier times in history.

Gerald Klinetobe, an officer with the Wayne Police Department, performed bike licensing. Kris Hinnerichs, a professor at Wayne State College and athletic trainer for CNOS, conducted bike rides on the Wayne Bike Trail and reviewed bike safety and "rules of the road." Children also participated in an obstacle course.

A variety of bicycling-related prizes were given away throughout the event. These prizes were donated by Providence Physical Therapy, Mike's Bikes and Ice, and Pamida. Nutritious refreshments were donated by Pac 'N' Save and MPM Farms.

Meghan Battles of Wayne was the winner of the new bike and helmet donated by Providence Physical Therapy. This modern style of bicycle, is a descendant of the "safety" or "low" bicycle which was developed in the early 1880s. Prior to this invention, bicycles were made with a big front wheel and a small back wheel. As we celebrate Wayne's 125th, we must also reflect on the history of bicycling and the 125th anniversary of the first bicycle boom in America.

Anyone who was unable to attend BikeFEST this year can contact the physical therapists at Providence Physical Therapy for bike or helmet adjustments.

Second race of the Norfolk Race Series held May 26

The Norfolk Race Series moved to the dirt for the second race of the series, May 26 with a mountain bike cross country (XC) race. Riders were asked to sign in prior to the race and be on hand for a rider meeting prior to the start.

The course at Maskenthine Lake north of Stanton, built by the Elkhorn Valley Cycling Club in conjunction with the Lower Elkhorn Valley Natural Resource District, is approximately 5.2 miles long. Riders completed 1.5 laps in a mass-start format. Riders were separated into three categories: A - Advanced, B - Beginner, and C - Citizen.

Riders accumulated points in their respective category during the Norfolk Race Series which continues through September and includes both road (individual time trials) and mountain (XC) events. Awards were made at the conclusion of the season for the high point winners in each discipline. An overall Cyclist of the Year was also recognized.

The Norfolk Race Series continued featuring a XC mountain bike race on its second night of racing. Devin Bethune, riding an unseen and borrowed bike, rocked the course with a 12.66 mph average over approximately 1.5 laps of the course. Todd Jochum chased valiantly but was unable to close the gap. Nick Cleveland and Matt Classen rode wheel to wheel most of the race and finished a second apart but in different classes. A mid-race crash took Cody Cleveland out of contention but he still finished strong.

MTB: Advanced - Men 6.5 miles
 1. Devin Bethune, Carroll, 12.66.
 2. Todd Jochum, Stanton, 11.47. 3. Nick Cleveland, Norfolk, 11.04. 4. Cody Cleveland, 10.73.

MTB: Beginner - Men 6.5 miles
 1. Matt Classen, Norfolk, 11.04.

The series continues on June 9 with a time trial at Norfolk Beverage. For series details see http://www.nencycling.org/race_information_and_results and see http://www.nencycling.org/2009_race_results

Not happy with headlines

Dear Editor,
 "After" being wrote off as this year's perennial Class B losers" What a way of starting out a sports article where the Wayne High Boys Golf team took first place in the Class B District competition. (See May 21 article of Wayne Herald).
 "Perennial loser" is just as bad as last year's headlines on the Wayne High track team which state, "No Luck for the Blue Devils at District Track in O'Neill." (Story on sports page of 5-15-2008 edition of Wayne Herald. Wayne indeed sent five track athletes to the state competition in 2008; however, by the headlines you would NOT have realized this. Now we are on to the "perennial Class B losers?"
 This Wayne High golf team is in no way "perennial losers" and we wish them all the best at their competition at state this week in Lincoln.

 Don and Shelley Preston

Thanks to band students

Dear Editor,
 A huge thank you to all the Wayne High Band Students who volunteered their "free" time to be a part of, and perform at the Memorial Day Program on Monday.
 Your time, effort and support of this important day is truly appreciated. Thank you to Mary Kay Hasemann for volunteering her time to perform with the Wayne High Band and thank you to Tracy Pierson and Deneil Parker for helping with the high school band uniform check in after the Memorial Day Program.

Brad Weber,
 Wayne High Band Director

Weekly Legislative Update

Greetings from the Unicameral! Two of my bills were passed by the full Legislature and are awaiting the Governor's signature. LB 412, passed 48-0, would align deadlines for Sanitary Improvement District (SID) elections with other mail-in elections, and is designed to make things easier for county election officials. LB 537, also passed 48-0, would enable smaller communities that rely entirely on volunteer fire departments to supplement their volunteers with paid firefighters during the business day.

Many first-class cities, including South Sioux City, are frequently faced with a shortage of volunteer firefighters. LB 537 will provide these communities with the flexibility to continue providing the services that residents depend on in an emergency.

Because the Legislature works in two-year cycles, any bills that weren't acted on this session will pick up right where they left off next January. This means that while LB 334, my priority bill to spur completion of the Nebraska Expressway System, did not emerge from the Transportation Committee this session, I can continue to work with committee members next session to address their concerns. In addition, I recently submitted LR 102, which directs the Transportation Committee to study issues related to the expressway system over the interim.

More than 130 interim studies were proposed this session on a wide variety of topics, and a full list of the proposed studies is available at www.nebraskalegislature.gov. Each study is referred to one of the Legislature's standing committees, and committee staff will work in conjunction with the staffs of senators who sit on that committee as well as the staff of the introducing senator. In addition to LR 102, I proposed two additional interim studies and am co-sponsoring four others.

Legislative Update

 Bob Giese, District #17

As always, I would encourage you to contact me if you have any questions or simply have an opinion on legislation before the Unicameral. Feel free to call my office at (402) 471-2716, send me an e-mail at bgiese@leg.ne.gov, or stop by in person any time you're in Lincoln.

Pell grant increases make NECC even more affordable

A recent stroke of President Barack Obama's pen has made Northeast Community College even more affordable. Due to a combination of the FY 09 federal budget and the Economic Stimulus Package, Pell Grants for postsecondary education students have increased for fiscal year 2009-2010. Maximum Pell Grant awards are up $619 from $4,731 to $5,350 per academic year.

According to Stacy Dieckman, director of financial aid at Northeast Community College, Pell Grants are provided by the federal government for postsecondary education based on a student's financial need. Even if a student does not qualify for the full grant amount, partial grant disbursements are possible if the finances of the student's family fall within a pre-determined range set by the U.S. Department of Education. Pell Grants for full-time students range from $976 to $5,350.

To be considered for a Pell Grant, students must submit a Free Application for Federal Student Aid (FAFSA). After determining an Expected Family Contribution (EFC), the Pell Grant amount is determined by the Department of Education. Pell Grants can be used for tuition and fees, room and board, textbooks, or other educational expenses.

Students eligible for Pell Grants are also eligible for Academic Competitiveness Grants (ACG) and National SMART Grants administered through the federal government.

Another feature of the Economic Stimulus Package that makes Northeast even more affordable involved the Hope Scholarship Tax Credit. It has now been renamed the American Opportunity Tax Credit. Dieckman notes that this is not a scholarship but a tax credit that will go into effect for educational expenses paid in 2009. The American Opportunity Tax Credit increases the tax credit to $2,500 from $1,800 and now includes textbooks as a qualified expense.

"Because every college is affected by the increase in Pell Grant awards, many colleges are advertising affordability now more than ever," Dieckman said. "But students should be cautious when considering an institution's total costs."

"Some institutions are even advertising they will waive tuition that exceeds the Pell Grant awards," she said. "But, in most cases, the increased Pell Grant covers all tuition and fees."

She did note, however, that federal financial aid will go much farther at Northeast than at four-year colleges. "Because tuition rates at four-year colleges are higher, tuition and fees may consume most financial aid," she said. "At Northeast Community College, on the other hand, a student may apply all his or her financial aid awards to tuition and fees and still have many hundreds of dollars left over to pay auxiliary costs like books, housing, even transportation costs."

She advises students to do the math to figure out for themselves where financial aid will go the farthest. "Pencil it out," she said. "Dollar for dollar, the best educational value comes at Northeast Community College."

License plate design stirs comments

By Ed Howard
 Statehouse Correspondent
 The Nebraska Press Association

A reader sent along a nice note, expressing surprise at the view expressed in this column some weeks ago - that abortion was no longer a "hot button" issue in the Legislature.

Perhaps the definition of what constitutes a button which is hot could have been a tad clearer.

The Legislature, as this column went to press, had just given second-round approval to a bill aimed at prompting women to make last-minute decisions against having abortions. It was advanced for a final vote by a margin of 38-6.

In addition, lawmakers rejected a proposed amendment that would have exempted from the bill those women whose pregnancies resulted from rape and incest. It fell just two votes short of adoption, but it was nonetheless rejected.

There was nothing surprising about either vote. The makeup of the Legislature has changed in the last couple of years. More than enough to usually ensure that Nebraska Right to Life et al will have their way on proposals such as those previously mentioned.

The nature of the latest abortion measure: It requires that doctors display an image of an ultrasound of a fetus in a room with the woman who is about to have an abortion. She isn't required to look at it, but the doctor is required to tell her that the image is being displayed.

Sens. Danielle Nantkes and Amanda McGill, both of Lincoln, fought for the exemption that would have applied to victims of rape and incest. Each suggested it was cruel to require that a victim of rape or incest, awaiting an abortion, be told that she could see an image of a fetus by just turning around.

Another license plate for Nebraskans means another round of criticism.

And not just run-of-the-proletariat criticism. We're talking about heartfelt griping, sometimes purported to reflect genuine agony, shameless insult to the artistic sense of all but the Troglodyte and the Philistine.

The view from here: Next time around, the Legislature should require that a cartoonist provide the image for the plates.

Furthermore, the image must portray a mob of angry folk in the process of hitting, kicking, pinching and giving hard-knuckle nuggies to the cartoonist.

The appropriate assumption is that many, especially those among Boobus Nebraskus, won't like any design for any license plate. Therefore, it makes sense to have a plate, which depicts a mob thrashing some poor soul involved with creating the license plate.

After all, this license plate thing is tricky business. Once upon a time a Nebraska plate declared "Where the West begins!" And another proclaimed Nebraska "The Beef State!"

They lent themselves to such unfortunate rejoinders that the state abandoned the sloganeering until it settled on "The Good Life."

Torch Run is set for May 30

The Torch Run for the 25th Cornhusker State Games will begin at the South Dakota border north of Chadron at 3 p.m. on May 30, 2009. A group of 14 Nebraska National Guardsmen will run the first mile together in cadence.

Elliott Eliason, a stand-out basketball player from Chadron high school and Brett Hunter, a two-time National Champion wrestler from Chadron State College, will carry the torch into a local welcome ceremony at Chadron State College Physical Activity Center later on the 30th at 6 p.m. The public is welcome to attend the ceremony.

The Torch's final destination of Lincoln will be reached on June 25, but the Run won't officially end until the cauldron is lit at the Games' Opening Ceremonies, on July 17. Nearly 1,000 runners will carry the Torch, relay-style, over the route's 1,200 miles.

The Torch Run, which is sponsored by the Nebraska National Guard and the Nebraska Air National Guard, serves as the Games' largest promotion, signaling that registration for the annual sports festival is open.

The National Guard runners, which include six soldiers who have served overseas, will be followed by a party of flags and Hummers in recognition for their commitment to their country. Participating Guardsmen include: 1LT Tim Buskirk, Cadet Erin Hanson, SFC Carl Dehling, SSG Colby McCoy, SGT Kyle Demaree, SGT Henry Dehling, SGT Lindsay Buckland, SGT Patti Hoegerl, SGT Lori Russell, SPC James Manternach, SPC Robert Jones, SPC Chip Hartman, SPC Mark Colerick, PFC

Eric Holmes and PFC Christopher Lohman.

Eliason, a 6' 11" center led his team to the 2009 Nebraska State High School Tournament averaging 14.8 points, 10.4 rebounds and 3.8 blocked shots per game. He was a first team Class C1 All State selection and a third team All-Class All State selection.

Hunter is Chadron State College's all-time winningest wrestler with a record of 133-32 and has claimed a pair of Division II Wrestling Championships.

The Cornhusker State Games, which take place July 17-26 in Lincoln, is expected to draw more than 13,000 athletes. For more information on how to participate, call (800) 304-2637 or visit CornhuskerStateGames.com.

GSE team from Taiwan visit local Rotary Club

The Wayne Rotary Club (District 5650) recently had a visit from members of the GSE (Group Study Exchange) Taiwan District 3500. A number of activities were planned locally for the group. The group of five were: (Wayne) Peng Gwo-wei, (Liber) Chen Jia-Jun, (Alice) Chen Pei-Chun, (Jessica) Chang Fang-Chieh and (Peter) Wu Te-Kun. While here, Lois Shelton, mayor of Wayne, gave them the key to the city.

About the GSE team: Wayne has been an elementary school teacher for over 10 years since graduating from college. While teaching, he used his spare time to pursue higher education. In March, 2008, he obtained the Ph.D. Candidacy of Physical Education in National Taiwan Normal University.

He is in charge of the Special Education Division, focusing on arranging the teaching material for special education students and conduct training related classes for the teacher and parents on special education. On the other hand, since he has a degree in P.E., he had the opportunity to create a Tai-Chi Team for competition. Thus far, the team has won many awards. Human Movement Science is his research topic for his Ph.D. dissertation. In recent years, Wayne has participated in many international conferences in Asia and Europe to gain insights for his research paper.

His wife works for a tutoring school. They have three children: Sam is a sophomore in university; Tina is a third grader in junior high school (which is equivalent to a freshman in U.S. high school) and Winnie is a sixth grader. The family enjoys leisure activities. Every half a year, they arrange mountain climbing, swimming and traveling for the whole family. As for Wayne, he loves sports, whenever he has spare time he will play badminton

GRADUATION RECEPTION

A graduation reception was hosted for Casey Lange on May 15 at his home. Friends and relatives celebrated with him from Winside, Hoskins, Carroll, Wayne, Norfolk and Pierce. Graduation exercise was held May 16 at 2 p.m. in the Winside gym. Casey will continue his education next fall at Northeast Community College in Norfolk. His major will be in the Diversified Ag program. Casey is the son of Rick and Becky Lange.

and practice Tai-Chi.

Liber is a native of Kaohsiung. Growing up in the south of Taiwan, he inherits the native character of being passionate and easy going. During the period of pursuing education, he was selected as a Youth Representative in high school. He was the chairman for Business Administration Society and Vice-Chair for Student Association. After graduation, he moved to north of Taiwan and started as a salesman in an electrical component company. He moved to different industries, a manufacturing company and international trade company to gain the essence of being top sales. Now, he works for his own fastener company located in both Taiwan and China. The company's main clients are automakers and related industry buyers.

Liber was married in the year 2000. The couple has three children: a third grader, first grader and one in kindergarten. In their spare time, they enjoy traveling. Liber also enjoys joining social clubs to expand his social circle such as International Junior Chamber of ChungLi and is serving as Vice President.

Alice is a native of Hsinchu, Taiwan. Her family members are her parents, two younger brothers and one younger sister. Alice has entered into one of the top law firms after her graduation from college. She admires her boss's professionalism, integrity, righteousness and passion, which thus far leads to her seven years of total devotion and dedication to her boss and the law firm.

Learning English is one of her interests and traveling is her favorite activity. Two of the educational tours that she attended while in college were unforgettable, especially the second language tour at UCLA for 35 days. There she had the opportunity to exchange culture with international students from all over the world, attend classes together and go on outings with her classmates. Also, the professors use a guiding method for students to explore the answers on their own instead of feeding and memorizing the answers are done in Taiwan. All the students had the opportunity to get on stage to express their thoughts and opinions, while everyone's interactions moved Alice and continue to influence her.

Jessica's home town is located in Yangmei, Taoyuan County, a well-known place for growing tea. She has two sisters. Her older sister is working in the hotel industry and her younger sister is working in a foreign company. She is thankful to her parents support that she and her sisters could pursue their career according to their interest. As all the family members have stringent schedules, they cherish the time spent together on vacations, holidays and anniversaries. Jessica works for the family business, which manufactures fitness equipment; she is in charge of international sales. She developed her interest in learning English while overhearing her father's conversation with foreign clients in her childhood. Jessica majored in English. She developed her interest in sales while she assisted her family business three and a half years ago after she graduated from college. Gradually, she was able to participate in international trade shows and conduct negotiation with foreign clients, which enhance her social skills. One of her hobbies is traveling and through traveling, her life became colorful. She dreams of living in foreign countries to experience various cultures to enrich her attitude of life.

Peter joined the Rotary club of Chunan in 1993 and became the President of the club in 2001. He is a Paul Harris Fellow and has also served as one of the chairs in the district committees every year since 2003. He has been a regular speaker (trainer) for PET or DTT since then and has been invited to many clubs in the District 3460, 3500 and 3520 for sharing his knowledge and experiences.

Peter is the owner and principal of a tutoring school for 28 years. The school provides tutoring in subjects such as English, Math, Science for junior high school students after school. He has a daughter and a son. Ting-ting, the eldest daughter, is a pharmacist and Peterson, the younger son, is preparing for the entrance exam for medical school. Peter's belated wife, Jean, passed away last March due to colon cancer. Peter and his children enjoy traveling around the world. They have been to many places such as Japan, Los Angeles, Malaysia, Germany, Switzerland, Austria, Finland, etc. Whenever he has spare time, he enjoys listening to music, reading and writing.

The Rotary Foundation's Group Study Exchange (GSE) program is a unique cultural and vocational exchange opportunity for businesspeople and professionals between the ages of 25 and 40 who are in the early stages of their careers

Memorial Day holiday was fatality free

For the third time in four years, Nebraska roadways were fatality free over the Memorial Day Holiday weekend. There were no fatalities during the holiday reporting period, May 22-25.

The death of an 82-year-old Omaha woman in a traffic crash, May 22, is believed to be medically related. Dorothy Grove of Omaha lost control of her vehicle while driving westbound on Industrial Road near 149th Street in Omaha. Her car left the roadway, traveled up an embankment striking a tree.

A fatality free holiday weekend can be attributed to everyone on the roadway," said Colonel Bryan Tuma, Superintendent of the Nebraska State Patrol. "Through increased law enforcement efforts and the cooperation of the motoring public, we were able to save lives. I encourage everyone to continue to utilize safe driving practices as we head into the summer travel season."

In 2008, there were two fatalities recorded over the Memorial Holiday weekend that compares with zero fatalities in 2007 and 2006. In the past ten years the highest number of recorded fatalities over the Memorial Holiday weekend occurred in 2002 when there were 7 fatalities.

Currently Nebraska stands at 70 fatalities in 2009, compared with 85 fatalities on this same date in 2008 and 100 on this date in 2007.

Lots of receipts

Representatives from Wayne schools and Pac 'N' Save were involved in a check presentation last week following a school-year promotion at Pac 'N' Save. Customers were able to deposit sales receipts in specified boxes and earn points for the respective schools. Above, students at Wayne Elementary hold a portion of the receipts. Below, Fr. Mark Beran, center represented St. Mary's Elementary School. Bottom, Daryl Schruck, center, represented the three Wayne Public Schools. With them are, left to right, Adam Endicott, Don Endicott, Nancy Endicott and Kim Endicott.

Wayne State College students awarded for vocal arts competition

Fifteen voice students from Wayne State College's Department of Music had the opportunity to participate in the Dana Vocal Arts Competition April 15 in Blair. More than 50 students from six area colleges and universities from Iowa and Nebraska participated.

Each student was required to present a variety of vocal solo repertoire in more than two languages (including but not limited to: French, German, Italian, and English). They were all judged according to their vocal ability, the accuracy of language and technique, as well as their musical expression.

Eight of the 16 won either first or second place in the five classical divisions.

Students awarded included: Division IIA first year: Austin Dvorak, first place; and Jordyn Vogel, second place; Division IIIA third year: Erin Galvin, first place; Eric Heithoff, second place; Division IB second year: Joe Osborne, first place; Division IB fourth and fifth year: Krista Ohde, first place; Calyn Schramm, second place; Division IVA: Mike Fulton, second place; High distinction awards were earned by: Mike Fulton, Jesse Rosberg, Jordyn Vogel, Joe Osborne, Austin Dvorak, Erin Galvin, Krista Ohde and Calyn Schramm.

Honorable mention awards were earned by: Mike Fulton, Connie Lade, Jesse Rosberg, Joe Osborne, Matt Weinrich, Eric Heithoff, Matt Gunter and Katie Bencken.

Ping and Lubberstedt each chosen as Wayne Rotary Student of the Week

Wayne Middle School students James Ping and Evan Lubberstedt were each chosen recently for Wayne Rotary Student of the Week.

James, an eighth grader, is the son of Joe and Annette Ping of Wayne. He was nominated by the Seventh/Eighth grade team. James has showed tremendous improvement as an eighth grader. He has made big strides both academically and socially. His effort in class is consistently strong and he has a lot of ambition to do well.

Evan, a seventh grader, is the son of Stuart and Brenda Lubberstedt of Dixon. He was nominated by Seventh/Eighth grade team. Evan has a very positive attitude and is willing to work hard in order to achieve success. He has a great work ethic and is a role model for other students.

Give children choices

Sometimes giving children the simplest choices can yield the best results. Giving children choices ensures that when in their teenage years, choices will be easier for them and they will be more able to pick the right ones.

If a parent makes all of a child's decisions for him or her, that child won't know how to make decisions when on their own. Have children make a decision as simple as choosing between a purple and green T-shirt in the morning. Give them only two colors, not another like red. It's important to give choices

Amy Topp
Extension Educator
4-H & Youth

but also to limit them. Otherwise, the child may never choose a shirt or will take a long time picking one.

When parents allow their children to make their own choices, it makes them feel better. If they have to choose between two vegetables they don't like and pick the one they like more, it makes the child more accepting of their choice. Limiting choices also allows them to make the best choice based on their options. Later, a child may have to choose between drinking alcohol or not drinking. If they haven't been making choices, they will likely follow someone else when they should be making good decisions.

It takes practice for parents to remember to give children choices. Sometimes parents don't always give choices or give too many choices. Other times parents need to just ask a child to do something, such as a duty or chore. Children should have choices rather than being told what to do all the time; but it's important for them to know the difference when it comes to housework or schoolwork.

When anybody makes a poor decision, usually there is a consequence. Parents should make sure to follow through on consequences for their children who make wrong choices even when they're busy. This teaches a child the critical difference between right and wrong decisions. If a child decides not to do a school assignment, he or she likely will be held after school or will get a bad grade. It's important for parents to enforce consequences for wrong choices as well.

Special concert

Dead Men Singing, a men's quartet from Boone, Iowa, will perform in concert on Sunday, May 31. The concert begins at 6:30 p.m. at Praise Assembly of God Church in Wayne. The public is invited to attend the concert.

Carroll St. Paul Ladies Aid holds May meeting

The Carroll St. Paul Lutheran Ladies Aid and LWML met May 21 for their regular meeting.

The Pastor selected Matthew V for his Bible study, "Christ begins his sermon on the mount-declaring who will be blessed and who will be the salt of the earth. That he came to fulfill the laws."

The President called the meeting to order. Mites were collected, followed by the business meeting.

The Aid wishes to say Thanks for the gift of a new water heater and its installation. It was given by Ed Fork as a memorial.

A Get Well card was sent to Dick Hitchcock. He had a serious injury to a hand.

The Spring Workshop was held at First Trinity, Altona. Forty five people attended. The Ingathering produced 144 bibles to be delivered to various prisons. The National LWML Convention will be held June 25-28 at Portland, Ore. There will be no buses going from our area.

The group's next meeting will be held at Premier Estates to honor Lucille Schnoor on her birthday, which is Thursday, June 18 at 2 p.m.

Birthdays this month were Pastor Steckling, his children, Sarah and Elijah, and Edith Cook. The birthday song was sung for them.

The meeting closed with The Lord's Prayer and the common table prayer. A no host luncheon was served.

Local business featured in report

The Nebraska Enterprise Fund is celebrating its 15th year of support for services for small businesses in both rural and urban areas.

The State has supported this micro enterprise development for 12 years now. During this period of time over $19 million has been loaned to businesses with over 20,000 receiving training and or business coaching.

Small and micro businesses are the base of Nebraska's economy. These business generate income, contribute to the tax base, purchase and hire locally, they help stabilize the economy, help build personal assets and create jobs.

To highlight this important work, the Department of Economic Development and Nebraska Enterprise Fund publishes a yearly report to the Legislature.

Diane Peterson from Peterson Therapy Service, LLC was featured in the 2009 report for the assistance she received from a micro program and the progress of her business.

To read the full report and the business profile on Peterson Therapy Services LLC, go to www.nebbiz.org.

Vacation Bible School to be held in Bressler Park

A community Vacation Bible School program is being planned for Monday through Friday, June 1-5 at Bressler Park.

The event will run from 1:30 to 3 p.m. and is being hosted by Camp Assurance.

This year's Vacation Bible School will include games, snacks, Bible stories and a missionary story about the life of a young lady from Haiti.

For more information, contact Shannon Arduser at (712) 301-1268.

TOPS group gathers

TOPS NE #200 of Wayne met May 20 in the Boardroom of Providence Medical Center.

There were 12 TOPS and two KOPS present at the meeting. The roll call question this week was "How does TOPS help you control your eating emotions?"

Phyllis Rahn was the TOPS Best Loser this week and received a coupon. Paula Haisch was a double bingo winner and chose her prizes.

Anyone seeking more information about TOPS, Inc. is welcome to join the group any Wednesday evening.

CENTER CIRCLE

Claire Brogren hosted and conducted the business meeting of the Center Circle Club on May 21 in the Winside Library room. Nine members answered roll call which was "Show a picture of your mother and tell a memory about her."

Carson Brogren and Alyssa Brogren were guests. Shirley Bowers read the secretary's report and Dianne Jaeger gave the treasurer's report.

The June 18 summer trip to Pierce was discussed and final plans were made. Members will meet in Winside at 9 a.m.

Election of Officers was held. Elected president is Cleora Fisher, Vice President is Gloria Evans, Secretary is Helen Holtgrew, and Treasurer is Janice Jaeger. The Executive Committee will be Gloria Evans as chairman, Dianne Jaeger, Cleora Fisher, and Shirley Bowers.

Betty Miller, Gloria Evans, and Claire Brogren were honored for their birthdays. Yahtzee was played for fun with prizes going to Gloria Evans, Cleora Fisher, and Helen Holtgrew.

The next gathering will be the June 18 tour. In September Shirley Bowers will be hostess.

Service-oriented activities planned for Vacation Bible School

"Studio Go" is the theme for this year's Vacation Bible School at Journey Christian Church in Wayne.

The theme is Joshua 1:9 and it is all a game show with Wade Winslot as the host. Ages preschool through sixth grade are invited.

Vacation Bible School starts Sunday, May 31 and runs till Thursday, June 4. Times are 6:15-8:45 p.m. Parents can register their children at www.journeychristianonline.org or can register at the door any night they can come.

At Studio GO! Game Show kids will:

- Discover stories of Bible people who decided to team up with God and GO! for it!

- Accept a daily challenge to GO! make a difference.

- Meet real-life servants, participate with friends in service projects, and use their Serving Feet to GO! serve in the community.

- Play fun-filled games, enjoy yummy snacks, and create unforgettable crafts that remind them to GO! lead, GO! risk, GO! tell, GO! obey, and GO! serve.

- Take home the promise that God is with them wherever they GO!

Joint Vacation Bible School planned by First Trinity, St. John's

First Trinity of Altona and St. John's Lutheran of Pilger will hold joint Vacation Bible School Wednesday and Friday, June 3 and 5 at 6:30 p.m. and Saturday, June 6 from 9 a.m. to 2:30 p.m.

Vacation Bible School will be held at St. John's in Pilger. Last year's joint Vacation Bible School was held at First Trinity.

Snacks will be provided by both churches.

Joint worship will be held at St. John's on Sunday, June 7 at 10:30 a.m. Vacation Bible students will sing several songs during worship.

A potluck dinner will be held after the service. Meat will be provided by First Trinity Lutheran of Altona. All those attending are asked to bring potluck, other than meat.

All children ages three years through eighth grade are invited to attend this year's Vacation Bible School.

Church mortgage burning ceremony set for June 7

Praise Assembly of God Church in Wayne is inviting the community to a special 10th anniversary celebration of the new building, coinciding with the city of Wayne's Q-125 celebration.

The event will take place Sunday, June 7 at 4 p.m. at the church, located at 1000 East 10th Street in Wayne.

The congregation has paid off its mortgage on the church facility and is celebrating with a mortgage burning party.

Dwight Sandoz, the Nebraska District Superintendent of the Assemblies of God, will be the guest speaker.

The celebration will include special music with Phil and Sherry Phaltzgraph and others, along with food and fellowship following the ceremony.

"Come and rejoice with us! Everyone is welcome," said Pastors Rick and Ellie Snodgrass.

As part of this year's event, the students will be doing different projects for different people in the community each evening.

They will be doing the following:
Sunday: Military Care packages -hear from an officer.

Monday: Haven House welcome kits for kids (tie blankets, books, toothbrushes, etc.) - hear from a worker at Haven House.

Tuesday: Bracelets for kids at Juvenile Detention Center (letters) - probation officer speaking.

Wednesday: Flowerpots for service organizations in Wayne (fire-hall, Red Cross, police, EMTs, pastors, Agape, etc.) - Fireman speaking Thursday: Serving meal to all families of students who attend throughout the week. Students hope to serve the meal and proceeds go to organizations.

"Through this year's Vacation Bible School, we hope to instill in kids the importance of reaching out and service," said Brook Jech, one of those helping organize this year's event.

RC&D Council has meeting

Coordinator Jan Jorgensen was the training speaker at the recent Northeast Nebraska Resource Conservation & Development (RC&D) Council meeting. Her topic, Roles & Responsibilities within RC&D, focused on non-profit management and how the board and staff work together to make things run smoothly. This presentation was recently given to the Nebraska RC&D State Association as well as the Five Rivers RC&D in Tecumseh.

President Dennis Wacker, Osmond conducted the meeting and shared information about the Money Marketplace held at Creighton Elementary last week. It was a spinoff of the Makin' Money Camp project.

This year's camps are in Wayne on May 28 and 29 and in Neligh June 4-5. A grant from The Connie Fund will assist in hosting these events. There's still time to register and the application can be found at www.wayne.unl.edu or www.anelope.unl.edu. Students in fifth to eighth grades are eligible to participate.

Dick Haskin, step-on guide for the Wine & Wayfaring Tour reported it was a successful venture, participants really enjoyed the day, and the featured businesses were great hosts.

"The next TV Recycling event will also include computers and related electronics too", Donna Christiansen said. The collection will be the second week in June in a central location within the six-county RC&D area. Watch for more information as it becomes available.

A new project, Blossoms &

Wayne Immunization Clinic scheduled for June 2

Goldenrod Hills Community Action will hold the Wayne Immunization Clinic on Tuesday, June 2, from 9 a.m. to 4 p.m. at United Methodist Church, 516 N Main Street, Wayne. For an appointment, call (402) 529-3513.

The Immunization Clinic is open to the public, and there are no income guidelines. Each child should be accompanied by the parent or guardian. Past immunization records are required. Proxy forms are needed when a parent or legal guardian is unable to accompany the child to clinic. Proxy forms may be obtained by contacting the Wisner office at (402) 529-3513. A suggested donation of $20 per child would be appreciated to help defray administrative costs. If a child only receives one immunization, then the suggested donation is $13.50.

No one will be denied immunizations for inability to make a donation. Immunizations are needed at ages: two months, four months, six months, 12-15 months, and four-six years. This project is supported in part by Federal Immunization Program Funds awarded to Butterflies was accepted. This July tour will feature beautiful native wildflowers found in the area as well as the pollinators and butterflies that rely on them.

Dick Haskin and Jan Jorgensen will be attending the National RC&D Association's Triennial Conference in Albuquerque, NM in June because the Council was selected to present their success story on the Farm to Family Connection project and a poster paper on the Computer Recycling Collections. This is an honor for the Council to be chosen.

The next meeting will be June 22 at the RC&D office, 7:30 p.m. and everyone is welcome to attend. Dave Titterington of the Nebraska Birding Trail & Wild Bird Habitat Stores will be the featured speaker on the economic development opportunities of birding.

Goldenrod Hills Community Action by the Nebraska Department of Health and Human Services.

Goldenrod Hills Community Action, in conjunction with the Nebraska Health & Human Services Vaccines for Children Program, offers the Pediarix vaccine, which consists of the DtaP, Hepatitis B & IPV (polio) as a combination vaccine. Also available is Menactra (meningitis) for 11-18 year olds, Tdap (tetanus with pertussis) for 10-18 year olds, Hepatitis A for 12 months to 23 month olds only, RotaTeq (rotavirus) for infants, and Gardasil for VFC eligible 11-12 year olds entering the 7th grade, as well as other recommended childhood vaccines.

The Influenza vaccine is now available for children six months to 18 years. Adult vaccine (MMR, Hepatitis A, Hepatitis B, Td, Tdap, TB testing) is available to the public for a mandatory fee at all immunization clinics to anyone 19 years or older. These fees cover the cost of the vaccine.

Siouxland Community Blood Bank's 2009 Heroes Unite campaign begins

The Siouxland Community Blood Bank's 9th annual Heroes Unite donor recruitment campaign will begin on Monday, June 1. Heroes Unite is a competition between Siouxland communities to see who can collect the most units of blood to reward their fire and rescue squads with a cash prize.

Two communities will each be named winners of a $1000 cash prize sponsored by Cargill, McClintock Insurance, Inc., and Prestige Collision Repair Center all of Sioux City. The cash prize will be used for needed safety equipment.

Heroes Unite runs from June 1 through July 31. One category is for communities who host blood drives one time during the campaign and the other is for the communities who host more than one blood drive during the campaign.

Donating in a blood drive held by a community will award the point towards that community unless otherwise specified at the time of donation.

To be eligible to donate blood towards a community, the donor must be 17 years old (16 with a signed parental consent form found at www.siouxlandbloodbank.org in general good health and not have donated within the past 56 days. All donors must bring a photo ID to present at registration. To locate a blood drive and make an appointment, go to www.siouxlandbloodbank.org.

The Siouxland Community Blood Bank is a nonprofit organization that has been in operation since 1967 to serve the Siouxland area's blood needs. Currently, the Siouxland Community Blood Bank is the sole supplier of blood and related services to hospitals located in Iowa, Nebraska and South Dakota. Living Resourcefully

Include beef in your economical meal plan

Debra Schroeder - UNL Extension Educator, Cuming County

You know that eating smart is a daily challenge, especially when you are also concerned about saving money. What you may not know is that something as rich and satisfying as beef can help you meet that challenge. That's because lean beef provides many essential nutrients needed for a healthy diet. By studying the meat counter carefully and planning the foods that you will serve with beef, you can put a nutrient dense meal on your family's table for less than it costs to go out to eat.

The average three-ounce serving of lean beef delivers nutrients that people of all ages need every day to stay healthy and energetic. Lean beef is considered naturally nutrient-rich because it packs a powerhouse of essential nutrients in a reasonable amount of calories.

According to the US Department of Agriculture a 3-ounce serving of beef (179 calories) contributes less than 10 percent of calories to a 2,000-calorie diet yet it supplies more than 10 percent of the Daily Values for: protein - 51 percent, zinc - 38 percent, vitamin B12 - 37 percent, selenium - 26 percent, phosphorus - 20 percent, niacin - 17 percent, Vitamin B6 - 15 percent, iron - 14 percent and riboflavin - 12 percent.

Avoiding beef is perhaps one of the most common misconceptions about following a heart-healthy diet. The American Dietetic Association in their book The Healthy Beef Cookbook says that there is clear-cut evidence that a heart healthy diet including lean red meat (beef, veal and pork) can be just as effective at reducing blood cholesterol levels as can chicken and fish. The practice of cutting out lean beef is not only unnecessary for most people it also can be potentially unhealthy. Here's why. Including lean beef in a low-fat diet offers the additional variety that may improve your ability and desire to stick with a heart-healthy diet in the long run. Studies show that when you deprive yourself of favorite foods, you can sabotage your good intentions over time. Instead of making a seemingly positive change, eliminating beef from your diet may actually make it harder to reach your diet, health and money saving goals. You can include sensible portions of lean beef in addition to chicken and fish. There is no rule that says being heart-healthy means sacrificing eating pleasure.

Based on this evidence you may want to include more beef in your family meals but are concerned with what it will cost you. First, remember that the USDA suggested serving size of beef for all ages is 3-ounces cooked beef. Raw beef will lose some moisture when it is cooked. Four ounces of raw meat will be three ounces cook meat on the plate not counting the weight of a bone in the cut. Most of us eat larger servings of beef than the recommended 3-ounce serving. Cutting back to a 3-ounce serving per person will allow you to plan beef into your menu to capitalize on the nutritional benefits of beef and still save you money on your meals that include all cuts of beef.

To also save money you can evaluate beef purchases based on the cost per serving - not just the price per pound. The amount of beef to buy varies with the cut selected. Check a cookbook for the number of suggested servings per pound or request a chart from the Extension Office. Divide the cost per pound by the number of servings per pound to give you the cost of each serving. Many times the cost per pound is not the true indicator of the cost per serving. Cooked beef yields per pound are related to the amount of bone, fat trim and cooking method.

Since May is Beef month I encourage you to try the following recipe that you can prepare for under $1.50 per serving. Explore the versatility of ground beef. A perfect option for many recipe favorites is 95 percent lean ground beef, a convenient and economical way to add protein to a family meal. A traditional meatloaf is easily transformed into Southwest Meatloaf with the addition of a few flavorful, low cost ingredients. Extra servings can be frozen for future use, or continue the fiesta the next day and create a meatloaf burrito wrap.

Simple southwest meatloaf
2 pounds ground beef (95% lean)
1 - 6 ounce package stuffing mix with seasoning
1 cup water
2 eggs
¼ cup salsa (to give more southwestern flavor - add ¼ cup chopped onion, ¼ cup finely chopped red or green pepper, ¼ cup frozen corn and 1 ½ teaspoons chili powder)

Instructions
1. Heat oven to 350°F. Combine all ingredients in large bowl, mixing lightly but thoroughly.

2. Shape beef mixture into two loaves and place side by side in 9 X 13 inch pan. Bake in 350°F oven 1 hour until internal temperature reaches 160°F.

3. Let stand 10 minutes. Top with salsa; cut into slices.

4. Makes 8 3-ounce servings
5. Leftovers can be frozen for later use. Other ideas for leftovers is to crumble and serve rolled in tortilla with traditional vegetable trimmings or serve crumbled meatloaf on a bed of lettuce, tomatoes and top with salsa and shredded cheddar cheese.

Points North No-Till bus tour scheduled

No-till on the Plains, Inc., the premier no-till organization of the Midwest, is planning a summer bus tour in mid-June which will provide farmers with ways to increase profitability, gain better agronomic understanding of soils and their reactions to fertility, improve water quantity and quality, and also increase efficiency with new rotations and sequencing of crops.

Partially funded through a grant from the Nebraska Environmental Trust and in cooperation with NRCS and Nebraska Extension, No-till on the Plains offers this top-quality educational bus tour to see the "best of the best" in continuous no-tillage.

The power-packed hands-on learning opportunity will feature expert speakers as well as experienced continuous no-tillers in the Plains region. The Points North No-till Bus Tour will take place Wednesday through Friday, June 17 - 19 with two available pick-up and departure locations including the Lancaster Co. Extension Office in Lincoln and Northeast Community College in Norfolk. Registration is due by June 1 to attend.

This tour is a wonderful chance to candidly discuss production practices and management challenges with people committed to long-term success with no-till and to meet fellow no-tillers in various stages of no-till adoption. The air-conditioned motor coach tour features a spectrum of soils and climates, some of which are similar to the northwestern Nebraska region. Several excellent South Dakota stops will be made that feature no-till equipment and cropland as well as the always popular Dakota Lakes Research Farm at Pierre, S.D. with Dr. Dwayne Beck. Dr. Ray Ward of Ward Labs at Kearney and Paul Jasa of UNL Extension will accompany the tour and share their great knowledge of continuous no-till throughout the trip.

"The bus tour gives farmers an opportunity to learn about continuous no-till firsthand - to get their hands dirty on the farm of a successful no-till practitioner," said Brian Lindley, Executive Director of No-till on the Plains, Inc. "With this kind of format, participants can ask questions of the experts and producers and get immediate, practical answers. The interaction on the bus is just tremendous. Attendees of past tours have told us that these trips have changed their thinking, their farming practices, and their lives."

Registration for the tour is $89.95 which includes travel and double-occupancy lodging. Attendees are responsible for meal costs.

No-till on the Plains is a regional organization that reaches over 3,000 farmers yearly. The farmer-run group promotes practical and scientific application of continuous no-till farming. For more information on the Points North No-till Bus Tour, contact No-till on the Plains, Inc. at 888-330-5142 or www.notill.org. No-till for Life!™

Class reunion provides opportunity to visit friends

Memorial Day was a little earlier this year, as the last Monday of the month was on the 25th. But it was a typical one, with sun and humidity and rain. Places in York county had over four inches on Saturday night. Wish we could have some of that; we keep getting showers, but it doesn't amount to much. It actually looks like it could start here any minute this morning.

We had a record ninety four people at Waco High's alumni event on Sunday. Since the school has been closed for forty-two years, that's pretty good. The classes of '49 and '59 were there en masse, but there was only one from the class of '39 and a letter from the last survivor of the class of '29. Also, one attendee from the class of '30, and she will be 98 years old this year!

The Chances R outdid themselves again with food, and our entertainment was provided by a "fellow nun", Anne Bremer, who has a neat portable karaoke machine, a couple of mikes, and loudspeakers. Her card says she sings songs from the 30s, 40s, and 50s, and that certainly fits this age group. She calls them "piano bar classics."

That used to be one of my favorite things to do, sit around a piano bar and sing. Those ladies and gentlemen who could play anything you asked for, by ear, just amaze me. I'm also a bit envious, I admit.

By: Pat Meierhenry

We got home by 11:30, but I'm sure it was 1:30 by the time I got to sleep; I had to replay conversations! When you haven't seen someone for fifty years, there is a lot to catch up on. Consequently, I was sleepy all day yesterday.

So, I finished a book I received for my birthday. It's called The Faith Club, and is co-written by a Christian woman, a Jewish woman, and a Muslim woman. All married, with children, living in New York. It's hard for me to relate to living in an apartment and taking a cab when you want to take your child to a swim lesson.

But it is a fascinating look at life in the US for this generation of people who continue to profess to be Jewish or Muslim. And, I must admit, all three women are much more broad minded than most. There are lots of quotes from the Quran, and some background on the whole Israel/Palestine problem. Which I still don't understand thoroughly. But if you get only one lesson from the whole book, it is that religious radicalism in any faith should not be considered the norm. Unfortunately, that is the part that makes news.

Today, I'm headed to Louisville, to have lunch at the Sr. Center. I've been reminded again to cherish old friendships and see folks while they are still able to enjoy your visit. There are two ladies in the Care Center there whom I need to check up on. After all, I want people to come to see me when I get there!

Trap shooting opportunity available

"Dig out your shotgun and blow the dust off of it and try your aim at trap shooting," said Darin Greunke, leader of the Sharp Shooters 4-H Club.

The Sharp Shooters 4-H Club in conjunction with the Logan Valley Gun Club will be opening up the trap range at the Wayne County Fairgrounds on Tuesday nights beginning on June 2. The range is located in the southwest corner of the fairgrounds. Shooting times will be from 6:30 until 9 p.m. Hearing protection will be required. Cost will be $3 for a round of 25 rocks.

For more information, call Darin Greunke at 286-4895.

Livestock Market

The Nebraska Livestock Market conducted a fat cattle sale on Friday.

Prices were steady on both fat cattle and cows. There were 711 strictly choice fed steers, $83 to $84.50. Good and choice steers, $82 to $83. Medium and good steers, $80 to $82. Standard steers, $63 to $67.50. Strictly choice fed heifers, $83 to $84.80. Good and choice heifers, $82 to $83. Medium and good heifers, $80 to $82. Standard heifers, $60 to $70.

Beef cows, $50 to $55. Utility cows, $54 to $61. Canner and cutters, $45 to $52. Bologna bulls, $58 to $69.50.

The fed cattle sale was held on Wednesday and Thursday at the Nebraska Livestock Market in Norfolk.

There was no test on the market.

There were no sales at the Nebraska Livestock Market on Saturday, due to the Memorial Day Holiday.

Suggestions offered for controlling common native weeds in pastures

This is the time of year when we see some common weeds in our pastures, particularly when they have been overgrazed or are in less than good condition.

Two of the weeds we have seen so far are buckbrush and hoary vervain.

Buckbrush is a commonly found native weed in northeastern Nebraska's rangeland, woodland, ravines and along streams. It is a perennial forb that reproduces both by seeds and rhizomes. Rhizomes can access soil moisture from a deeper profile at much better rate than fibrous roots of pasture grasses, giving buckbrush the competitive advantage over grass, especially during dry years. Buckbrush plants usually start growing in sparse groups (patches or clusters) and then spread further if not controlled. The stem is erect, 2-6 foot tall, brownish, somewhat smooth, with many branches. Leaves are opposite, elliptic to ovate with pointed tips.

Hoary vervain, also known as woolly verbena or tall vervain is a commonly found native weed on over-grazed rangeland, prairies and disturbed sites in all soil types. It is a perennial forb that reproduces by seeds. The taproot produces individual erect plants. The stem is nearly round, simple or branched above and can be up to 5 feet tall, covered with soft white hairs. Leaves are opposite, leaf blades are ovate with many teeth. Like many other plant species, the overall growth and development of both of these plants depends on the amount and timing of rainfall.

Ranchers need to control buckbrush because heavy stands can reduce grass productions as much as 80 percent, especially in dry years, and the buckbrush plants have no value for livestock forage.

This weed can be controlled by various means. Goats and sheep can reduce the stands of buckbrush considerably if kept confined in the area. Single mowing of new 1-2 feet tall plants can also reduce buckbrush population, especially in dry years. Additional mowing will be needed in wet years. Mowing can also help remove previous year's growth to prepare the site for broadcast applications of herbicides.

Hoary vervain has no value to livestock because of its low palat-

Ag Happenings
Keith Jarvi
Extension Educator

ability. This weed can be controlled by various means. Mowing the plants when they are 3-5 inches tall can reduce vervain population considerably for the season. Mowing can be done one or two times per season depending on the amount of rainfall during the season. One mowing done in mid June can be effective (>75% control) if the season is dry, due to lack of moisture needed for weed regrowth. If the season is wet, an additional mowing is needed in July-August.

Herbicides can be also very effective in providing a season long control of buckbrush and vervain. Buckbrush herbicide application should be conducted when the new growth is 6-12 inches tall. The list of effective herbicides and their rates per acre includes: 2,4-D-Ester (2-3 qt/acre), Grazon P+D (1-2 qt/acre), Telar (1.0 oz./acre); a mix of Cimarron (0.25 oz.) with WeedMaster (16 oz.); a mix of Cimarron (0.25 oz/acre) with RangeStar (16 oz/acre); and Cimarron used alone at 0.5 oz./acre.

Vervain herbicide application should be conducted when plants are 3-5 inches tall. The list of effective herbicides and rates are: Salvo (12 oz/acre), Grazon P+D (32 oz/acre), Weedmaster (32 oz/acre), Ally (0.25 oz/acre), and Vista (22 oz/acre). Now is a good time to apply herbicides to these two troublesome plants.

Here is a last reminder that in early June we will be holding Tractor Safety Training in Wayne at the Wayne County Fairgrounds, in cooperation with Northeast Equipment of Wayne. The training will take place on Thursday, June 11 from 8:30 a.m. - 4:30 p.m. and Friday, June 12 from 8:30 a.m. - noon.

This training is for 14- and 15-year old youth working for farmers other than their parents or wanting to operate equipment on public roads. State Law requires training for those who are 14 or 15. Successful completion of the Tractor Safety Training course grants an exemption for 14- and 15-year olds to engage in agricultural employment, and also fulfills the driving and testing requirement to operate farm machinery on public roads in Nebraska.

Once the training is completed, you may contact the Department of Motor Vehicles, who will issue the proper permits. You must be 14 before you make an application to the Department of Motor Vehicles. Youth 13 years of age may take the class for training purposes.

Training will be a mix of classroom and hands-on learning. There will be a written exam and a driver's test. Pre-registration by phone is due by May 29 at UNL Extension Dixon County. The phone number is 584-2234. Registration fee is $20 payable on the first day. Lunch will be provided the first day.

THANK YOU

WE EXTEND a special thank you to everyone who came to our 50th wedding anniversary celebration on May 17. A big thank you to our kids and grandkids who worked so hard to make our party a success. Thank you to all who remembered us with their prayers, cards, and gifts. Also for a hanging pot of petunias which got separated from its' card. John and Mary Lou Wood

A sincere thank you for all the kind acts & expressions of sympathy at the time of Janice's passing. The Memorials, flowers, cards, food & visits were greatly appreciated. Special thanks to Pastor Bertrand for his many visits and to the Ladies Aid at Immanuel Lutheran Church for serving the lunch. And thanks to the Doctors & Nurses at Providence Medical Center & outpatient staff for their help & understanding. Thanks especially to those that took time to call & visit with Janny to help pass the time, and to Terri Samuelson & John & Dee Rebensdorf for helping out and being there when she needed help. Janny would have been happy to know so many people cared.

Area students are recognized as Nebraska Young Artist award winners

Area students were recognized at the University of Nebraska-Lincoln-Hixon-Lied College of Fine and Performing Arts Nebraska Young Artist Award Day April 2. Sixty-one high school juniors from across the state were selected as award recipients.

Among those students were Brianna Johnson from Laurel-Concord High School and Dominique Gowler from Winside High School.

The Nebraska Young Artist Awards annually recognize 11th grade students who are gifted and talented in the areas of visual art, dance, music and theatre. These students exemplify the pinnacles of creativity in one of the fine and performing arts.

High school teachers across the state nominated students and submitted an example of their work. Hixon-Lied College of Fine and Performing Arts faculty chose the students who came to UNL on April 2.

Honored students took tours of the arts facilities, attended classes, met faculty and college student, and had lunch. Their parents were also invited, and they also took part in tours and received information on careers in the arts and college curriculum. At 3:30 p.m., there was an awards ceremony honoring the winners in the auditorium in the Sheldon Museum of Art. Students received a certificate, as well as an original piece of artwork commissioned of this event made by Courtney Nore, an undergraduate student in the Department of Art and Art History.

Students selected to participate in the Nebraska Young Artist Awards were also asked to nominate the teacher who provided them with the greatest amount of mentoring and support in the development of their special talents. Those teachers were also at the Award Day.

Wayne State College student named Outstanding Senior in French

Wayne State College student Jacquelyn Erks of Utica was awarded the 2008-2009 American Association of Teachers of French Outstanding Senior in French Award.

This award is made annually to a graduating senior who has demonstrated excellence in the study of French as well as exceptional commitment to the French language and the many cultures where it is spoken. Recipients must have completed at least three years of French study at the time of graduation and be non-native speakers of French.

Erks studied abroad through the Wayne State College Spring Break Study Tour to France and served as an officer of the French Club. She is a member of the Alpha Mu Gamma Language Honor Society and participated in Modern Language Day activities. She has studied French for four years and is a student of Janet Schmitz, Wayne State College professor.

AATF was founded in 1972 for the promotion of the study of French language, French-speaking literatures and cultures at all levels. The organization recognizes achievements of outstanding students and their teachers. The group hopes to motivate students to continue their study of French.

Erks earned a bachelor's degree May 9 in Modern Languages/Cultures-French, with a minor in business administration.
