Herald set to debut Web site

The Wayne Herald now has a home on the Internet.

Thursday, the newspaper is debuting its new Web site, www.mywaynenews.com, which will offer a variety of unique features that will enhance the local newspaper's traditional coverage.

"A number of weekly newspapers across the state are joining their big-city daily brothers on the Web, and this is an opportunity for The Wayne Herald to not only provide local residents with an enhanced online source for news and information, but will serve as a vehicle to further promote our area," managing editor Michael Carnes

The Web site will include updated news, sports and obituary information from the area, as well as a photo gallery. Eventually, video clips produced by Herald staff members will be included, as well as regular blogs from the editorial staff.

Additionally, visitors to the Web site will have an opportunity to offer comments on a variety of stories that will be published on the site, which will be updated on a daily basis and as major news breaks in the area.

"As we become more comfortable with this new vehicle, we will be able to offer updated news much faster than we have before, which will give readers a chance to not only get more news as it happens, but get an idea of the more detailed information they will find in our printed product," publisher Kevin Peterson said. "Now we have the opportunity to offer news headlines and breaking news on a daily basis."

New minister begins duties at Calvary

The Pearson family had a busy month in August.

Tim began his duties as senior pastor at Calvary Bible Evangelical Free Church - the same time he and his wife, Sonya, adopted four-year-old Nevaeh.

The family moved to Wayne from Pleasanton where Tim pastored at Pleasanton Evangelical Free Church.

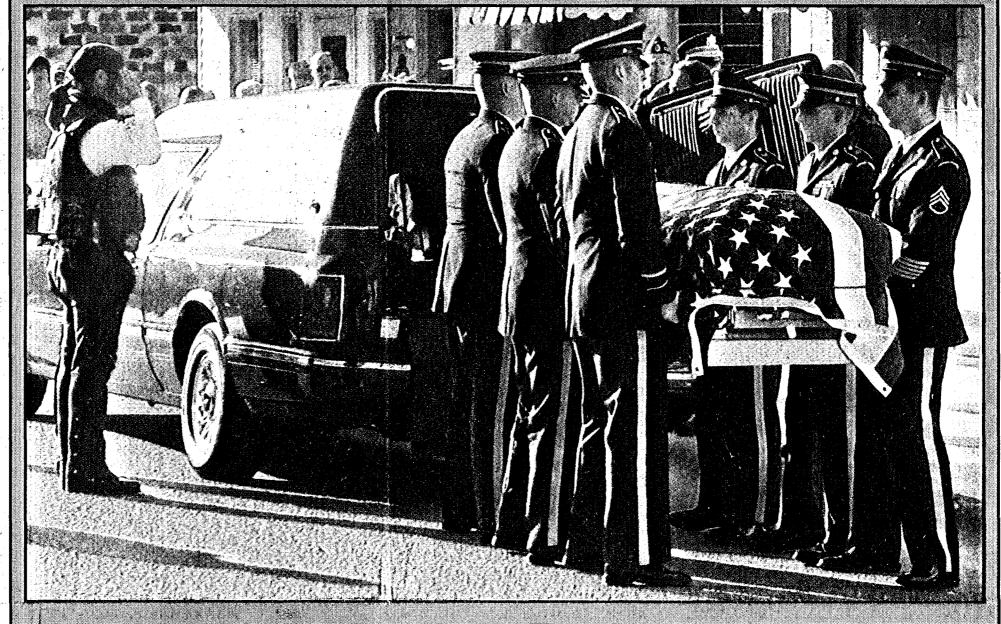

Pearson, a 1994 graduate of Cedarville University in Cedarville, Ohio, was ordained in 2005.

He has also served congregations at the Scotia Baptist Church in Scotia and the Sandhills Community Church in Dunning.

He and Sonya were married in 1997. Both come from pastor's homes and were born and raised in the plains states.

Pearson said the process of becoming the senior Pastor began early in April when his name was recommended to the congregation as a possible replacement for Cal Kroeker, who left to accept a position in South Dakota.

First mixed martial arts event in Wayne draws screaming crowd, local fighters

By MICHAEL CARNES Of The Herald

They entered a steel octagon-shaped cage, wearing only a pair of tight-fitting shorts, a mouthpiece and a facial expression that ranged from extremly focused to borderline psychotic.

As they made their way into the cozy quarters of the Wayne City Auditorium, loud heavy metal music rumbled from the speakers, each song serving as the inspirational entry for each competitor as they prepared for battle.

A near-capacity crowd of more than 500 cheered and screamed for their favorite fighters during the first Tri-State Cage Fighting spectacular held Thursday in Wayne. Three members of the Wayne-based Team Adrenaline were among 20 fighters competing in a fundraiser for the Wayne State College rugby club team.

While the common perception of mixed martial arts fighting is one of a street fight where anything goes, the fights are sanctioned by the state's athletic commission and are as much a psychological war as it is physical for the combatants in the ring.

A number of the fighters have backgrounds in much." either martial arts or wrestling, including two members of Team Adrenaline who won matches in their adopted home town Thursday night.

Jeff Mills, a sophomore from Grand Island, has a pretty good read on the psychological aspect of the sport - after all, he is a psychology

"It's a huge mental game," the former high school wrestler said. "I thought wrestling was mental, but this is so much more so. We train our bodies, but if your mind isn't into it you're in so much trouble.

Mills, who won his match by decision, got his start in the sport shortly after coming to Wayne State. He was disappointed that the college did not have a wrestling program, but was going to be a part of the school's track and field team. It was around Halloween, though, that he began to question whether he wanted to compete in track and field.

"I was sitting in my room, asking myself if I wanted to pole vault or go join the wrestling club," he said. "Then I heard some guys were doing MMA and I just missed wrestling too

After training for a few months, he and fellow fighter Thaner Thiem went to watch a fight when Mills unknowingly found himself making his fighting debut.

"I went with Thaner to watch a fight and one of the guys didn't have an opponent," he said. "I was just joking and told Thaner I'd fight that guy, and he gets this look on his face and goes, You want to? Next thing I know, I'm going through the physical and then I fought the guy and won, and I just got hooked."

Thiem, a junior from Crete majoring in industrial education, had a similar path to Mills' when he decided he wasn't big enough to play college football and didn't have a wrestling program to join. He and some old wrestling teammates were going to give boxing a try, but the trainer at the gym told them they were natural MMA athletes.

"We all trained and won our first fight, and I just fell in love with it," he said.

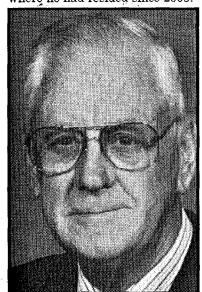

Both Mills and Thiem, along with Josh

Dedication ceremony set for Wayne State Campus Commons Project

Wayne State College will host a dedication ceremony for the college's campus commons project at 3:30 p.m. on Friday, Oct. 2.

WSC President Richard Collings will speak at the event, which will include a visit by the pride of Wayne State, the Wildcats Marching Band.

The campus commons project, which was completed this summer, replaced a street that ran through the core of the Wayne State campus The commons area runs from the west end of campus beginning at the roundabout on J.G.W. Lewis' Drive to the east side of campus terminating at Schreiner Drive.

The project costs included the construction contract of $643,000, design at $54,000 and other items at $4,000. Funding for the project came from the Wayne State Foundation ($256,000), the college's cash reserve for capital projects ($350,000) and WSC special projects ($101,000).

The Wayne State Foundation extends its sincere appreciation to the following donors for their generosity in supporting the campus commons project: Dolores M. Troup; Mike and Coleen Riedmann: Al and Krissy Riedmann; Al and Shirley Riedmann; Mike and Vicki Bousquet; Irv Hoffbauer; Deborah and Bruce Lundahl; Don Hickey and Connie Clark; Beverly and Gary Buhrman; Dorothy and Norman Weber; Douglas and Cindy Christensen; and Norman Small II and Lee Sherry.

The public is invited to attend the dedication of this beautiful addition to the college grounds. Please gather at the entrance to the commons walkway at the roundabout on J.G.W. Lewis Drive.

Examination table beneficial to patients, employees at Providence Medical Center

Recently, the Providence Medical Center Foundation presented a check to Providence Medical Center in the amount of $5,460 for the purchase of a new exam table to benefit the outpatient services

Patients using the PMC Outpaient Clinic now have the benefit of a high/low table in one of the examination rooms.

. "This table is very beneficial to both the patients and the employees at PMC. It will help prevent injuries to patients who may have trouble getting situated on the examination table. It can go flat to allow patients to get on the table," said Joan West, Outpatient Services Coordinator.

She noted that the table can be lowered to a height of 18 inches to allow easy access for patients.

The high/low table will also prevent injuries to PMC employees who in the past may have had to assist in lifting a patient on to the examination table.

"I am very pleased that proceeds from the annual Pro-Am Golf Tournament were designated for this unique examination table," said Sandra Bartling, Foundation President. "Joan West tells me that the table has been well received by our phythat's extremely satisfying," she said.

Q-125 Pumpkin contest entries due this weekend

Zane Jackson and James Kielty, fourth grade students at Wayne Elementary School, have been anxiously waiting for the weekend of Oct.

The two are among the students who received pumpkin seeds through the University of Nebraska-Lincoln Extension Office in May as part of the community's Q-125 celebration.

James said he had 16 pumpkin seeds that he and his father, John, planted in four hills in his back yard.

When the seeds were first planted, James said he checked on them 'lots.'

As the plants grew and began to blossom, the family cut off the little pumpkins in an attempt to get a large pumpkin. One plant was allowed to grow all its pumpkins.

The Kielty family ended up with "one big pumpkin and a couple of medium-sized pumpkins, including two that are orange and two that are still green."

James said that while his family has a garden with tomatoes, peppers and cucumbers, this was the first time he has grown pumpkins.

Zane received a packet of approximately 10 seeds and instructions from Amy Topp, Extension Educator, on how to plant the seeds and was informed "that if they grew, I could enter a really cool contest."

He and his family planted two hills of pumpkins in their garden, along with tomatoes, carrots, squash, broccoli, cucumbers and onions.

throughout the summer as he watched his pumpkins grow and develop.

"We had six pumpkins on the plants but two were 'squishy' so we really had four. I gave two to my cousin and kept two," Zane said. He added that this was the second time his family had tried to raise pumpkins, but this was the first time they were successful.

Zane and his cous, in, Brodrick Tiedtke, now have pumpkins for both the contest and to decorate for Halloween.

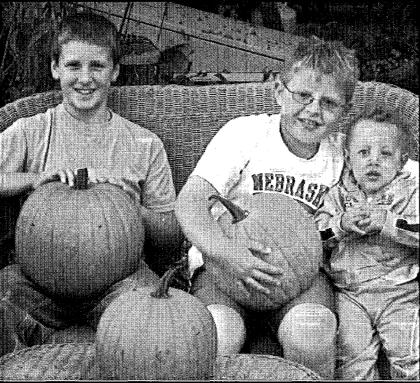

Any individual who grew pumpkins this year is eligible to compete in the Q-125 Pumpkin Growing Contest sponsored by Pac'N' Save.

Pearson said that the church in Wayne is poised with "strong potential to do great things for God."

"I am thankful for those who have brought the ministry to this point," he added.

Pearson hopes to build a strong family atmosphere through teaching each individual's spiritual journey. He also wants to build a praying church because "the church only goes forward on its knees."

Sonya plans to help in the church whenever and wherever she can, including with the Sunday School program and AWANA activities. In addition, she plans to give private piano lessons.

The Pearsons have found the community of Wayne to be a safe, friendly place to raise a family.

Prokpec, who also won his fight, are a part of Team Adrenaline, a group of MMA fighters training in Wayne. They have relied on the support of a number of local sponsors, including White Dog Pub, Mikey's Bar, Onderstal Farms, Sinclair and the Wakefield bowling alley, to help them train and develop the skills they need to compete in the sport.

Thiem, who won by technical knockout in the first period, has developed a reputation as one of the area's top fighters. He knew he'd have to attack his opponent, John Chester, right away to offset his opponent's ju jitsu talents.

"I knew this guy was a Brazilian ju jitsu specialist who went to Vegas and won a belt down there, so I didn't want to get into a submission match with him," he said. "I had to knock him in the head a couple of times and get him from there."

And while some may view the sport as violent and barbarian, the fighters not only operate within a set of specific rules on what con-

"You always have some knuckleheads who will give the sport a bad name, but a lot of guys who have grown up in the sport know about the discipline it takes, and generally everyone is really respectful," Mills said. "Of course, you're not nice to them during the fight, but I've been able to sit and talk with guys I've fought after the fight and it's been a good experience."

Both Mills and Thiem are having success in the sport, and Thiem is strongly considering becoming a professional after he finishes his degree. He knows, though, that teaching and coaching (he is the head wrestling coach at West Point Central Catholic) is a delicate balancing act.

"Right now I'm concentrating on getting my degree at Wayne State, but I really love teaching and coaching," he said. "It was never my intention to go pro, but it's starting to become a reality and tact is legal or not, there is a lot I may have to go fight at the next level eventually. After I get my degree, maybe I'll take some time out and fight (professionally). I've got the rest of my life to work."

Mills is also realistic about his future involvement in the sport.

"I've had some success with it and it's a lot of fun, but right now school is first and odds are I'm going to go pro in something else," he said. "It's a hobby right now, but it's a hobby you have to take very seriously. If you don't, you're going to get beat up."

WHS teams' progress is intriguing

I have had an opportunity to see all the area teams in action this season, and I am intrigued by a trifecta of teams from one school.

The three teams all hail from Wayne High School. One is a perennial power that could win a state title. Another is a young team with unlimited potential that has yet to be reached. The third is a team at a crossroads between its dubious past and an impressive future.

The Blue Devil softball team has been an instant success here in Wayne. Having missed the state tournament only twice in its short 10-year history, the team has won a pair of state titles and is in the hunt to go deep in the state tournament yet again this season.

What I'm impressed with is the workmanlike attitude these girls show on the field. They play a fundamentally sound game, have two outstanding pitchers who can silence opposing bats, and are playing at a high level on a consistent basis. They are a fun team to watch, and I would be very surprised if they aren't playing for all the marbles later this month in Hastings.

When you have the kind of consistent success this team has had, it's easy to take that for granted. It's also very easy to emulate if you're in the situation the volleyball and football teams at Wayne High face right now.

The volleyball team is still a young team with only one senior on the varsity roster. Judging from what I've seen of these young ladies, they are a very talented team with a tremendous amount of potential. The problem is...I don't think they are aware of it yet.

I know coach Joyce Hoskins would love to get this team to a higher level. See BLEACHERS, Page 2B

Rugby team to host UNL on Saturday

The women's rugby team will take on Nebraska in a match Saturday at 4:40 p.m. at the park, located next to the Wayne Softball Complex on East Fourth Street. The game is expected to be videotaped by the Nebraska Educational Television Network, with highlights to be shown during the weekly "Big Red Bears regained service and rattled Wrap-Up" program that features Nebraska football highlights.

The matchup is expected to be a big one, as two of the top teams in the Midwest will do battle. The National Guard's 189th Unit from Wayne is expected to be on hand, along with the Wildcat Marching it just felt like the air went out of Band and Wayne State cheerleaders supporting the team.

Wayne State's women's rugby team has been to the Elite Eight in the USA National Playoff club rugby competition and has been there." nationally ranked for the last three years, according to coach Darin Barner. The women's team is 6-0 so far this season and is the six-time defending Great Plains Division champions.

The Nebraska team features one of the top amateur rugby players in the nation, as Becky Holmes was selected to represent the USA International team in games against Canada, Wales and England earlier this year.

It should be an interesting matchup for sports fans who may not be familiar with the sport, Barner said. The game is 80 minutes in length, with two 40-minute halves running on a continuous clock. The ball is moved up the field with a series of backward pitches in an effort to score a touch, which is similar to a touchdown in football, but the ball must actually be touched in the "try of the season. zone" to be counted as a score.

Blue Devils knock off ranked foe

By MICHAEL CARNES Of The Herald

two decades, the Wayne High football team pulled off an upset over a state-ranked team.

It took a missed extra point in the closing seconds, but the Blue Devils upset 10th-ranked Battle Creek 14-13 Friday night at Cunningham Field, giving Wayne an important victory in their first district matchup of the season.

The Blue Devils got a 72-yard interception return from Derek Poutre in the third quarter to break a 7-7 tie, but Battle Creek got within one point of sending the game into overtime when they scored on a fourth-and-goal play with 2:26 to go. The Blue Devils' special teams pressured the point-after kick, which sailed just right of the goal posts, and the offense was able to run out the clock to help Wayne improve to 3-1 (1-0 in district) on the season.

"Beating a ranked team is absolutely huge," a relieved coach Rich Rethwisch said after the game. "I thought we were the better team tonight, but I don't know how I can get these kids to understand that they're a better team. We moved the ball up and down the field, and then it's like we're drawing up plays in the sand and struggling to score, and that's my fault."

Indeed, the Blue Devils looked dazed and confused on their first two plays. An agitated Rethwisch called time out and gave his team a quick talking-to, and the team responded with a 33-yard pass on third down from Gage Rethwisch to Justin Anderson.

That play highlighted an 11-play, 85-yard drive that was capped by a 33-yard gallop from Darnell Collins to give the Blue Devils the early 7-0 lead.

"We came out sound asleep, and For the first time in more than I had to call a time out and wake them up," Rethwisch said. "Boy, if you're not ready to play in this district, you're going to get your helmet handed to you and we need to realize that."

Wayne looked to be on their way to another touchdown later in the period, but the drive stalled and a fourth-down pass from Rethwisch to Keegan Dorcey fell incomplete.

Battle Creek tied the game on the ensuing drive, as Jaime Gray hit Zach Pochop with a 33-yard pass to make it 7-7 with 9:56 to go in the half. The Blue Devils were in position to possibly kick a field goal at the end of the half, but time ran out before they could get the kicking team out on the field.

It stayed tied until late in the third quarter when Gray tried to go deep, but was picked off by Derek Poutre at the Wayne 28-yard line. Poutre turned up the Battle Creek sideline, got some good blocks and rambled 72 yards to break the 7-7 tie and give the Blue Devils some much-needed momentum.

"We really came together on that play and the defense rotated when we needed to," Poutre said of the pickoff. "I saw the quarterback throwing and had position on the receiver and was able to get a jump on the ball, and my teammates did a great job blocking on the return." Rethwisch said he challenged the senior at halftime.

"I thought he wasn't running hard the first half, so I talked to him and he ran that play hard," Rethwisch said.

The Blue Devil defense turned away several Battle Creek opportunities, but the Braves finally found See DEVILS, Page 2B

Like a champion fighter, though, the Golden Bears fought back and delivered the knockout punch late in the first set, carrying that momentum to a 29-27, 25-21, 25-21 Tuesday night in an NSIC battle that featured two of the hottest teams in the country.

energy and emotion to get out to a good lead early. Artz served five consecutive points midway through the set, getting help at the net when Lea Hartigan and Mindy Moody combined on back-to-back blocks to help the Wildcats extend the lead to 21-13.

Concordia chipped away at the lead, thanks to the efforts of Sadie Kessler, who had five of her 12 kills in a late run that helped the Golden Bears bounce back. She served the ace at set point, and it seemed the energy shown by the Wildcats and their rowdy supporters had suddenly left the building.

Kneifl credited the effort of a very talented Concordia squad that features four All-American standouts.

"There aren't many weaknesses over there," he said. "We did a good job exploiting their weaknesses early, but they have four All-Americans on that side and they make you earn every point . That's what we did right up until 24, but you play to 25 and we need to learn to push it to the end."

Concordia broke a 3-3 tie in the second set after a ball-handling error by the Wildcats and never trailed again in the set. Wayne State tied the set at 18-18 and 20-20, but the Golden bears responded each time, closing out the set in similar fashion to the first on an ace serve.

The Golden Bears continued their momentum and overcame a couple of short rallies by the Wildcats, who could never quite match the intensity they showed in the first set, losing their first match since losing two at a tournament in Colorado Springs, Colo., exactly one month earlier.

Mindy Moody (4) and Lea Hartigan (9) combine on a block against Concordia St. Paul's Emily Palkert during the first set of Tuesday's NSIC matchup at Rice Auditorium. The twotime defending champions handed Wayne State a three-set defeat, ending their 15-game winning streak.

Hartigan had 15 kills and Jennifer Hefner added 10 for the Wildcats. Artz had 32 set assists and Leigh Connot led the team with 17 digs. Concordia's Megan Carlson had 15 kills and Sadie Kessler added 12. Maggie McNamara had 41 set assists and Mary Slinger led the team with 19 digs.

Despite the loss, which dropped the Wildcats to 16-3, Kneifl was proud of the team's effort.

"I'm proud because we know we can compete with (Concordia) and we can take a lot of positives from this. We know we have some things to work on and we'll get back to practice and work on those things.

By MICHAEL CARNES

Of The Herald

"I think 16 is a better number from a scheduling standpoint," Wayne State AD Eric Schoh said. "Fourteen schools doesn't really give you an option to go to divisions for travel on weekends for volleyball or soccer, and with 16 you would have eight teams in each division, and that would make scheduling easier."

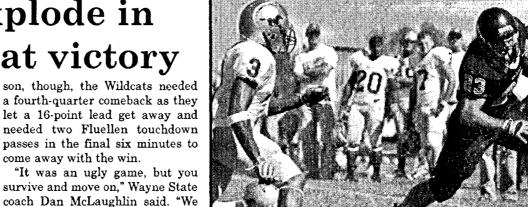

Schoh said the NSIC school presidents want to see if there is interest in other schools joining the conference.

"I know University of Sioux Falls and Minot (N.D.) State were among seven schools that were accepted for Division II, and we already have all the Division II schools in South Dakota and North Dakota in the league," he said. "We want to take a look at what's out there."

Schoh said there is a possibility that some Division III and NAIA schools in Iowa, Minnesota or Wisconsin might move up to Division II, and he mentioned Nebraska-Kearney as a school the conference might want to consider.

"They're already affiliated with (the Rocky Mountain Athletic Conference), but the league might want to look at them and see if it would make sense to have them join the conference,' he said. "With the NSIC's recent success, we want to bring in schools that would be the best fit, both academically and athletically."

Institutions who want to be considered for membership in the conference must submit a letter of interest to the conference by June 1, 2010.

Battle Creek lined up for the extra point, but Collins got pressure from the right side, which forced kicker Matthew Henery to rush his extra-point try. The ball skidded right of the goal post, and Wayne was able to recover an onside kick and run out the clock to get the win.

"I thought we were going to overtime because they have a good kicker, but Darnell got some pressure on the right side and if he's 12 advantage. Wayne State BC: Zach Pochop 33 pass from Jaime Gray scored on four of its first five possessions, coming up empty only WAYNE: Derek Poutre 70 interception return on a Nick Hope 33-yard field goal attempt that trickled right of the BC: Payton Rrauner 2 run (kick failed), goal post.

Fluellen found Frederick Bruno on a 44-yard pass and hit Robert Perry from 10 yards out to give the Wildcats a 14-12 first quarter lead. Nick Pulscher scored on a two-yard run early in the second period before Melvin scored to give the Wildcats a 16-point lead.

The Mustangs came roaring back, through, scoring a quick touchdown before halftime, taking the secondhalf kickoff in for a second score and turning a blocked punt into a third touchdown to turn a 16-point deficit into a 32-28 lead.

McLaughlin said the scenario was similar to when Wayne State beat St. Cloud State two weeks earlier.

We went up 28-7 and St. Cloud was driving, and we picked off a pass in the end zone and came back with a field goal to make it 31-7 and take them out of it," he said. "This time, it was the same scenario, only Southwest scored before teams at the Mustang Invitational, the half, then took the kickoff and scored again. Suddenly it's a dogfight and we're kind of wondering what's going on.'

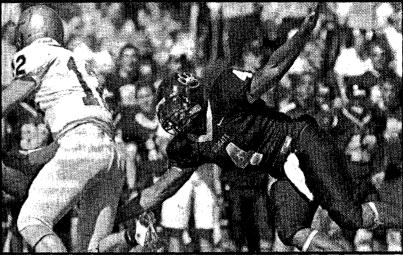

Wayne State's offense continued moving the ball, but two fumbles kept the Wildcats out of the end zone until midway through the shot 183, Paige Barry and Ali fourth quarter.

> Fluellen marched the Wildcats down the field on an eight-play, 87-yard drive. He found Logan Masters three times on the drive, the final connection coming on a 23-yard pass with 6:02 left to give the Wildcats the lead for good.

> The Wildcats appeared to put it out of reach on the next drive when Fluellen made an adjustment on third-and-four and hit a wide open Mit Montgomery in stride for a 60yard scoring strike with 2:53 to go.

> "The corner had bit on our out route, and I just threw to the spot where I knew the receiver would be and he caught it and went for the score," Fluellen said after the game.

"It was a route we'd thrown several times earlier, but Silas was always hitting the underneath route and it was usually an easy five yards for us," McLaughlin said. "It was a beautiful throw and Mit looked for the ball and it hit him in stride, so it was a great job by both of them.

But the visiting Mustangs weren't done. They quickly marched down the field for a touchdown with :41 left, but their onside kick failed to go 10 yards, allowing the Wildcats to run out the clock and hang on for the win.

Fluellen was 34-of-47 for 425 yards and four touchdowns, and also added 64 yards on 19 carries to account for 489 of Wayne State's 623 total yards. The Wildcats rushed for 198 vards on 44 carries, with Pulscher leading the way with 71 yards on 11 tries. Masters caught 10 balls for 117 yards. The Wildcats will face Upper Iowa for homecoming on Saturday, and the Peacocks come in struggling with a 2-3 record. They were blown out by both St. Cloud State and Southwest Minnesota State - teams Wayne State has beaten - but McLaughlin wasn't about to get into score comparisons.

"If you do that, then you can figure Slippery Rock will win the national championship," he said. "(Upper Iowa) has struggled this season, but they've always had good talent and they had a coaching change and are doing some good things, so we can't go in thinking we're going to blow them out."

She is a passionate and competitive coach who, I'm sure, is frustrated that the light hasn't come on yet for these girls.

Sometimes, the biggest obstacle a young team faces is the one between their ears. The mental mistakes that are being made can be corrected, but it's a matter of the girls realizing that they are capable of better than what they are showing right now.

volleyball Fortunately, the season has plenty of time left, and this team is showing signs of being a very good team. Once they stop making the mistakes players below their level make, the Wayne High volleyball team is going to be a very good one down the road.

The football team, however, is the one that interests me the most. This is a team that has a wealth of talent, but sometimes lacks the discipline that a team of this caliber needs to succeed at the highest level.

Standing on the sidelines Friday night, I watched as coach Rich Rethwisch and his staff dealt with the frustration of watching their team make execution mistakes that, four games into the season, should not be made. Rethwisch said there were a couple of times where it looked like the plays he called were substituted with plays that were drawn up in the sand.

This team does not have the luxury of freelancing its way through the schedule. The Blue Devils play in a very tough district, and three of their next four games are against teams that are among the best in the state. You don't beat teams of this caliber playing an undisciplined style of football.

Rethwisch has come in to change the vibration in the football program. This is a team that has a ton of potential, and he is trying to install a sense of discipline that will lead to success on the scoreboard. As it stands, the Blue Devils should finish no worse than 4-4, but could be as good as 6-2 if they can beat two very tough opponents the next two weeks. Quite honestly, I think they have the talent to compete with Pierce and Crofton. Do they have the discipline to stick with the program that will allow them the opportunity to beat the Bluejays and Warriors? If they do, they have a good chance of making the playoffs and doing something no Wayne team has done since 1984 - win a playoff game.

These three teams all represent the same school, yet are at different levels in their development. One team has shown that it can play at the highest level, while the other two have the talent to get there. Whether they have the belief in their abilities and the discipline to stick with the program will be interesting to watch.

It was a good week in the picks department, as the local teams came through to highlight a 7-3 week that puts me at 24-16.

Here are 10 predictions you can put your money on (if you insist, although we wouldn't suggest it): Blue Devils 21, Pierce 20 (Time for the Blue Devils to put an end to another streak...last win over Bluejays was 1994.)

'Cats 56, Upper Iowa 10 ('Cats beat St. Cloud and SW Minnesota by 21 and 3 points, respectively Peacocks lost to the same two teams by 47 and 28 points. That's a 93-point differential, so I'll split the difference.)

Wayne State women's soccer 2. Augustana 1 (No Husker game this week, so here's a shout out to the ladies of the pitch.)

West Virginia 42, Colorado 20 (After a tough matchup against a quality Auburn team, Mountaineers get a breather against a cupcake.)

Miami 31, Oklahoma 27 (After getting drilled by Virginia Tech, 'Canes put end to Sooners' hopes of choking in another title game.)

LSU 24, Georgia 21 (First of two big SEC matchups for Tigers.)

Washington 34, Notre Dame 28 (Irish needed last-second heroics to beat Michigan State of Confusion and Purdon't? Yeesh.)

Minnesota 35. Wisconsin 21 (Can't give any respect to a D-1 team that schedules Wofford.)

Northern Illinois 31, Western Michigan 21 (Your multidirectional state school game of the week, where the loser's season will, literally, go south.)

Cal 38, USC 35 (How's this for a media bias... USC will lose this game and fall three spots in the polls. If Cal loses, you won't see them in the polls until 2047.)

Winside gets easy win over Winnebago, 52-12

By LEE KOCH Special to the Herald

WINNEBAGO - Kalin Koch returned the opening kick off 64 yards to paydirt and added a 71yard punt return for a touchdown to set the tone for Winside's 52-12 win over Winnebago Friday night.

The Wildcats added two more touchdowns on a 22-yard scamper by Kelby Prince, and Anthony Nelson went into the end zone untouched from the 24-yard line with Sage Schwedhelm kicking the extra point to give Winside a 25-0 first-quarter lead.

Koch added a 49-yard run from scrimmage for his second score of the night, giving the locals a 32-0 lead. The Winside senior running back led all rushers, gaining 101 yards on seven carries. Koch had 236 all-purpose yards for the evening.

Nelson added his second touchdown on a 16-yard run with 6:24 left in the first half. Nelson finished the night with 66 yards on five carries. Also adding yardage to the Wildcat rushing game were Michael Lage, Kelby Prince, Ethan Thies, Forrest Jones and Jordan

Winside coach Mark Koch pulled his starting team off the field with five minutes remaining in the second quarter, turning the game over to the JV, who held their own against the Indians. Jordan Jaeger scored on a one-yard plunge in the third quarter, with Ethan Thies adding the final Wildcat touchdown with 5:10 left in the game.

Kelby Prince led the Wildcat defensive effort with a fumble recovery and 11 tackles with freshman Colin Hansen also recovering a Winnebago fumble. Coltin Brokaw had eight tackles, and Schwedhelm and Cody Wylie each added seven tackles to the Winside defensive effort.

invitational Saturday. Cassy Miller threw a no-hitter in the semifinals and a three-hitter in the championship game to lead the Blue Devils to the title, while Caitlin Fehringer found her way into the team's record books after breaking the mark for most RBIs in a season.

Coach Rob Sweetland was happy with his team's effort, particularly on the mound and on defense.

"Our defense has been getting better," he said. "It's something that we have been working on a lot, and it's starting to show and I hope we keep that going. Our pitching has been solid as well, and Cassy pitched very well for us the last two games and is really starting to come around."

In the first game Saturday, the Wayne bats battered Battle Creek in a 13-1 affair that lasted three innings. Fehringer and Lindsi Frahm both had two-RBI doubles and Kristin Carrol had a pair of RBI singles to help the Blue Devils to the easy win.

In the semifinals, Miller threw her second no-hitter of the season, allowing just one baserunner in a 3-0 shutout of North Bend.

Wayne got all the runs they would need in the third inning, as Fehringer stroked a two-run double and came home when her sister, Caitlin, slapped an RBI single.

Caitlin Fehringer tripled and scored on a sacrifice fly by Riley Hoffart in the final, and that's all Miller would need as she threw a three-hit shutout in a 1-0 win over Wisner-Pilger.

"Caitlin had a really good weekend for us, and she's put together a real good season," Sweetland said of Fehringer, whose 37 RBIs has already surpassed the 34 brought Blue Devils.

Blue Devil volleyballers take fifth at Wisner meet

The Wayne High volleyball team came away with a fourth-place finish at the Wisner-Pilger Invitational after a disappointing loss on the road earlier in the week.

The Blue Devils beat Madison in three sets before losing straightset matches to Wisner-Pilger and Pierce in efforts that were much better than the scores indicated, according to coach Joyce Hoskins.

 ${\bf ``Ithoughtwe\, played\, competitively'}$ against Pierce and the scores don't reflect how close the game was," she said. "Wisner-Pilger is a very good team and I thought we did some good things against them. They had some serving streaks that hurt us, but other than that I thought we were competitive with them play for play."

The Blue Devils, 4-11, opened the tournament with a 25-18, 23-25, 25-17 win over Madison, getting 11 kills and three blocks from Elisa Robinson and nine kills from Erica

"I was really happy with the girls' effort against Madison," she said. "I was pleased the girls didn't give up and kept going and played with a lot of heart."

Against Wisner-Pilger, Katie Hoskins had four kills and Sebade added three, while Jessica Biermann came through with 11 set assists. Hoskins had eight kills and Robinson added five in the Pierce

The Blue Devils won the first set on the road Thursday at Crofton, but the Lady Warriors came back to beat the Wayne girls in four sets, 24-26, 25-18, 25-15, 25-22.

"That was a disappointing loss," Hoskins said. "We won the first set and played well, but we just seemed out of sync after that and didn't play as well after the first set."

Hoskins had 11 kills and two blocks to pace the Wayne offense. Robinson added nine kills, Sebade had seven and Elle Schram put down five. Biermann had 25 set assists.

Eagles dominate Walthill

ALLEN - The varsity put it out of reach early as the Allen Eagles pounded visiting Walthill 63-8 in eight-man action here Friday.

Allen put up 41 points in the first 10 minutes of the game, and coach Dave Uldrich got his younger players some quality playing time as the Eagles improved to 2-2.

"We challenged the boys to play hard and straight ahead all evening, and they did a reasonable job," Uldrich said.

Allen scored in the game's first minute when A.J. Williams scored from 33 yards away. He added his second score on the next drive, and hit paydirt from 19 yards out later in the period. The defense put points on the board as Cody Stewart returned a pass 17 yards for a score. Brothers Heath and Austin Roeber both threw touchdown passes during the Eagles' first-quarter assault to help Allen to a 49-0 halftime lead. Freshman Brandon Sullivan scored on a 23-yard gallop and D.J. Kennelly added a 10-yard run to add to the Eagles' blowout win.

Trailing 6-0 in the second period the Bears took the lead when Travis Nelson found Ezra Schantz on a 44-yard scoring strike. Touchdown runs by Mitch Heikes and Saunders lifted the Bears to a 20-6 halftime lead.

Midway through the third period, Saunders broke free for his second score of the night, hitting paydirt on a 61-yard run to make it 28-6. Nelson and Schantz hooked up a second time, and Saunders followed a Randolph score with a 61-yard kickoff return for a touchdown in the closing seconds of the period, moving the Bears to a 40-12 advantage. Heikes scored on a 28yard run late in the final period to close the scoring.

Saunders finished the night with 138 yards on 20 carries, and Heikes added 73 yards on seven tries. Nelson was 5-of-12 passing for 92 yards and two touchdowns.

Laurel-Concord's Amy Pritchard hits past a Chambers defender during the Wisner-Pilger Invitational on Saturday.

Bears bounce back, take fifth at Wisner match to open the tournament, the Laurel-Concord girls bounced back with two wins to post a fifth-place finish Saturday at the Wisner-Pilger Invitational.

The Lady Bears fell to Chambers 15-25, 25-20, 25-13 in the first round, but bounced back to beat Homer (22-25, 25-17, 25-10) and Humphrey St. Francis (25-22, 25-17) to end the day with a 2-1 mark and improve to 9-7 on the season.

Laurel-Concord played well in the opening set against Chambers, but the Coyotes came back and won a tough second set and used that momentum to take the match.

"We got off to an aggressive start with consistent passing, strong hitting and several stuff blocks, but faltering at the end was disappointing," coach Patti Cunningham said.

Lexi White had eight kills and Taryn Dahlquist added seven in the game, while Jade Cunningham had 15 set assists and Mandy Nelson had 12 set assists and 10 digs.

In the Homer match, the Lady Bears let a first-set lead get away before coming back to dominate the Lady Knights.

"It was good to see the team regroup after giving up the big lead in the first set," Cunningham said. "Having the confidence to finish is a crucial element in this sport, and winning in a decisive manner in the third set was a real plus."

White and Dahlquist led a balanced offensive attack with eight kills apiece, and Emma

Cross country teams run at Crofton, UNK

The Wayne High cross country teams got a first look at the course they run if they qualify for state at Monday's UNK Invitational.

The Wayne boys finished second out of 20 teams and the girls placed seventh out of 16 teams on the course at Kearney Country Club, which serves as the host site for the Nebraska State High School Cross Country Championships that will be held later this month.

"It was a great experience to get the kids on there before state," coach Rocky Ruhl said. "Sometimes, the first time you run that course you can get overwhelmed by it, so it was good experience and, hopefully, we can come back here for state."

Cory Foote led the Wayne boys with a third-place finish, while Quentin Jorgensen was eighth to help Wayne finish 12 points behind Ogallala and 17 points ahead of top-ranked Gothenburg.

"We were able to beat Gothenburg, and Ogallala had a great day as' well," Ruhl said. "Looking at our times and the goal times we set, if there with them."

On Friday, Wayne and Laurel-Concord were in action at the Crofton golf course, as both Blue Devil teams placed third in the Class B top-five team Plattsmouth won the boys division, and Norfolk Catholic ended a two-meet losing string to the Blue Devils by finishing

"Norfolk Catholic's fourth runner ran better than our fifth and sixth, and with the size of the meet we didn't get enough spacing between our last runner and their fourth,"

The meet came after a hard week of practice for the team. Ruhl said. and he felt his runners competed well on a tough track.

"We had a pretty tough week of practice and went into it with some tired legs, but the kids responded well to the course we were on," he said. "Crofton's course has a lot of big hills, and it was the type of meet we needed."

All six Wayne boys finished in the top 20, led by Foote's third place effort. Jorgensen was 10th, Jordan Barry 11th, Seth Onderstal 12th, Zach Thomsen was 14th and Taylor Carroll finished 18th.

On the girls' side, Megan Stalling finished seventh, Jordan Alexander placed 10th and Martha Mitiku finished 14th to lead the Blue Devil

Laurel-Concord's Katie Jacobsen recorded another high finish to highlight the Lady Bears' effort, finishing third with a time of 17:26. Freshman Sammie Camenzind also ran well, finishing 17th overall.

"We had spent the last week we run those at state, we'll be right running numerous hills at different speeds, and I think that really helped," coach Megan Meyer said. "Katie ran a good race, and Sammie had some amazing kicks at the end to go from 22nd to 17th. She has really become a strong competitor, and I'm looking forward to seeing what she can do the rest of the season.

> Isaac Haahr finished 23rd and Gabe Abts was 44th to highlight the Laurel-Concord boys' efforts.

"Isaac ran well and is a fierce competitor, and he had a really good kick at the end," Meyer said. "Gabe has really improved his times and ran a very good race."

"We're starting to make a habit of this," coach Megan Nixon joked of her team's slow start. "We came out kind of slow and just killed ourselves with unforced errors the first two sets."

From the Governor's Office Gov. Dave Heineman

Nebraska Diplomats work to promote state

I want to highlight an organization that plays an important role in our business recruitment efforts here in Nebraska. The Nebraska Diplomats is the largest economic development organization in Nebraska with more than 375 business and community leaders from across the state.

For more than 40 years, members of the Nebraska Diplomats have worked to grow Nebraska by promoting opportunities for business and industry to locate in our state. Their mission is to help build the state's economy by supporting the business recruitment efforts of the Nebraska Department of Economic Development and working to improve Nebraska's business climate and competitiveness.

Diplomats have a unique perspective on what our state has to offer. Its members are executives and business leaders who live and work in Nebraska. The current class of Nebraska Diplomats represents nearly 50 communities and Diplomats presidents in recent years have come from Scottsbluff, Norfolk, Crete, Columbus, Grand Island, Aurora, Lincoln, and Omaha. They are leaders of energy and hospitality companies, manufacturers. and transportation and logistics companies to name a few.

Each Diplomats member commits to making contact with several business leaders in other states in an effort to interest new companies in doing business in Nebraska. As business leaders who know firsthand the benefits of doing businesses in Nebraska, they add credibility to the efforts of the professional economic developers who work for the state and local communities. Diplomats also host business prospects and special guests visiting the state and help local leaders prepare for visits from prospective companies.

Through face-to-face meetings and personal connections, Diplomats help expand the number of contacts the State of Nebraska can make in a given year, which is particularly helpful in pursuing opportunities overseas. Many Diplomats represent companies with business interests in international markets. As part of their regular business visits, Diplomats commit some of their time to make connections on behalf of Nebraska.

The Nebraska Diplomats have also been strong supporters of Nebraska's past trade missions to other countries. The organization sponsored the Reverse Trade Mission which brought 130 professionals from countries around the world here to encourage international companies to explore opportunities for investment in Nebraska. The event was coupled with the Diplomats' signature annual event, the Passport to Nebraska Weekend.

During one weekend each fall, the Nebraska Diplomats invite guests and prospects from across the country and around the world to visit the state and attend events including roundtable discussions with CEOs and business consultants, tours of Nebraska businesses and communities, as well as a tailgate hosted at the Governor's Residence followed by a Husker game at Memorial Stadium.

This year many of the special guests attending Passport to Nebraska Weekend were site selection consultants from around the country who scout locations for corporate clients looking to build new data centers, office parks and manufacturing facilities. Nearly a dozen site consultants took part in the event and shared comments such as "a truly first rate itinerary," that the visit "showed how hard local groups are working to prepare for recruiting," and "I would love to locate another project in Nebraska."

While other state's have partnerships with business leaders, few have as coordinated effort as the Nebraska Diplomats. Another visitor shared this comment: "We were impressed with the depth of support from the Nebraska Diplomats. It is the most effective organization of its kind we are aware of in the Having business executives and business recruiters work together gives Nebraska an edge in selling our state to prospective companies. I appreciate the outreach efforts of the Nebraska Diplomats. They play an essential role in letting other companies know that Nebraska is the right place to pursue new opportunities.

Capitol View

Not much to cheer about

By ED HOWARD Statehouse Correspondent The Nebraska Press Association

LINCOLN - This is a column about news from the Capitol, and the University of Nebraska football team plays in the Capital city, so it easily qualifies as an appropriate topic.

Besides, NU and the Huskers are going to generate yet another Unicameral resolution in 2010. The kind that is virtually guaranteed a unanimous vote for adoption.

The 300th consecutive sellout at Memorial Stadium was always destined to be part of every main story coming out of the NU -Louisiana-Lafayette football game. It's a national record that has helped many a fan keep the old chin up as Nebraska endeavors to return to the greatness of previous

And the story provides something of a diversion from news that has been less than cheering for the Cornhusker state.

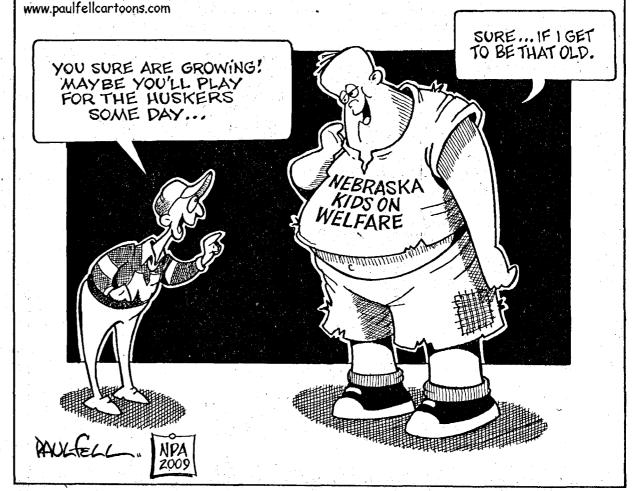

Welfare rolls are growing in Nebraska. Six hundred more families have been added to those collecting benefits from the Aid to Dependent Children. The rolls have grown by about 200 each month.

The program makes cash payments to some of the lowest income families. Recipients also become eligible for health care through the federal Medicaid program. (Note that is the Medicaid program - not Medicare.)

The increase in ADC recipients wasn't surprising, either. It followed previously recorded increases in unemployment, and in the number of people eligible for food stamps.

More than 500 Nebraskans will lose their jobs with the closure of the Tenneco plant in Cozad by the end of 2010. Another 70 are being put out of work with the closure of the Corvidien medical supply company facility in Norfolk.

Combine those with the continuing shortfall in state government's anticipated tax revenues.

Nebraska remains better off on most fronts than most other

Still, the assessment by Ronald Reagan many years ago still rings frue for most Americans: A recession is when your neighbor loses his job. A Depression is when you lose yours!

Most of the folk losing jobs in Nebraska will join the ranks of Americans, including the estimated 11 percent of Nebraskans, who are without health insurance. Count on proponents of President Obama's "government option" healthcare plan to point that out to Democratic Sen. Ben Nelson, perceived as a likely "No" vote on any such legislation.

Meanwhile, Nelson is asking the feds to make sure that the soon-to-be-unemployed workers in Cozad are advised of any programs for job training and job opportuni- congressional seat. White is cur- years - but those increases haven't ally courting Nelson's vote, it's a sure thing that Obama will remind Nelson of the increasing number of Nebraskans in need of health

And while the census estimates that 11 percent of Nebraskans were without health insurance in 2008, it doesn't detail the number that might be underinsured, or face potentially budget-busting costs for their insurance.

Sen. Mike Johanns, a Republican, is considered an automatic "No" vote on virtually any healthcare policy measure.

The Nebraska State Education Association was quick to make two important endorsements for the 2010 elections. The union endorsed Republican Gov. Dave Heineman for re-election, and supported Democrat Tom White of Omaha for the 2nd District unseat three-term Republican Rep. Lee Terry.

The NSEA is a union representing 28,000 public school teachers and educational support professionals.

The association's endorsement of Heineman was no surprise.

The governor recently wrote to teachers and told them it would be appropriate for them to expect local boards of education to agree to higher teacher pay in contracts negotiated this year.

Some school board members and teachers believe his action has contributed to teachers winning better contracts this year in many districts.

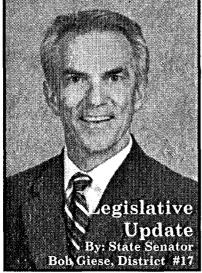

Heineman's move upset some school board members. The governor's position is that state aid to local school districts has increased appreciably in the last several Something to keep in mind: ties. With the president person- rently a state senator. He hopes to been reflected in teacher pay.

Weekly Legislative Update

Greetings from the Unicameral! One of the Agriculture Committee's top priorities this interim has been to examine possible ways to encourage the further growth of Nebraska's livestock industry. The growth of livestock production is a viable means of economic development for many rural counties, but the high infrastructure costs sometimes associated with bringing in new agricultural operations often serve as a barrier to that development.

Last session, I co-sponsored LB646, which would have adopted the Livestock Growth Act. Under the act, counties that had received a Livestock Friendly County Designation from the Nebraska Department of Agriculture would have received assistance in finding suitable locations for livestock production within the county and in marketing the county to outside developers. Additionally, counties would have been able to access a revolving loan fund to assist with the infrastructure development necessary to bring in new agricultural operations.

When LB646 was not advanced by the Agriculture Committee, the bill's sponsors introduced LR240, which asked the committee to examine possible ideas for encouraging responsible livestock development through voluntary participation between counties, cities, agricultural organizations and state agencies. A hearing on LR240 was held last week in Holdrege, with organizations like the Nebraska Farm Bureau, Nebraska Cattlemen, and Nebraska Association of County Officials offering their thoughts on the economic development opportunities available and possible incentives the Legislature could consider. I look forward to seeing the results of the committee's work, and am hopeful that LB646 will be advanced next session.

As always, I would encourage you to contact me if you have any questions or simply have an opinion on legislation before the Unicameral. Feel free to call my office at (402) 471-2716, send me an e-mail at bgiese@leg.ne.gov, or stop by in person any time you're in Lincoln.

Spec. Grella can, finally, rest in peace

Having spent a good chunk of Saturday afternoon watching the Wayne State football game. I was surprised to see the small American flags lining Highway 15 north of town.

It took a moment for me to process the reason for those flags, but I was quickly reminded that Spec. Don Grella's remains were to pass through the area that afternoon, and I was hoping that I hadn't missed the procession. Thankfully, it didn't take long to realize that the game had not interfered with this moment. What I saw on my way back to the office, though, touched me as an American citizen. As I made my way back to the office, I noticed a few people standing along Main Street as if they were waiting for a parade to start. The street was dotted with people, young and old, who looked like they were waiting for something to happen.

By the time I had reached the office, it looked like a smaller version of the crowd that lined Main Street for the Q125 parade a month earlier. People were sitting in chairs, on the curb and standing in front of the local businesses, waiting for a man few, if any, knew.

Don't get me started

> By: Michael Carnes Managing Editor

I hurried into the office to type up the stats from the game, then grabbed my camera to document the parade that rolled north up Highway 15 into Wayne. And what happened next made me proud to be a citizen of this country.

The casket with Grella's remains traveled past the office, and was followed by a motorcycle procession that was as mind-boggling in its size as it was bone-rattling in its power as the engines echoed their horsepower off the buildings downtown.

The motorcycles kept coming...and coming...and coming. I stopped counting at around 100, wondering if, for those who weren't aware of the event, the constant stream of two-wheelers looked like the world's largest motorcycle gang was invading Wayne. The respect the Patriot Riders showed for this man, who was killed in action more than four decades ago in Vietnam, was beyond spectacular.

The procession, estimated by some to be more than five miles in length, came through town and was greeted by a community that - I am proud to have discovered knows how to show its respect to those who have fought and died for our freedoms. I looked north and south as I took photos of the endless wave of motorcycles and saw people waving flags, giving bikers the thumbs up and mouthing "Thank You" to them as they rolled by.

History has shown us that the American soldiers who fought in Vietnam were treated, shall we say, rudely on their return home almost 40 years ago. But this was the kind of welcome home every American soldier who fought and died for their nation should have and continue to - receive. The procession rolled north out of Wayne as fast as it came in and continued to its final destination in Laurel, where Grella's family can finally reach a peaceful resolution with their loved one's death. He will finally receive his proper resting place this Saturday in his hometown cemetery, rather than some anonymous, dark, desolate Asian jungle where his helicopter was shot down 44 years ago.

May Spec. Don Grella – finally - rest in peace.

Local council celebrates National RC&D Week

"Fall for RC&D - We're Here to Give You a Hand" was the theme of the Northeast Nebraska RC&D's celebration for National RC&D Week.

At their recent monthly meeting the theme was carried out in special treats and in the contest designed by Denny Wacker, President.

Jill Heemstra, Extension educator, shared information on the eXtension program, a national partnership of 97 percent of the land grant colleges.

Together they've developed "communities of resources and practices" with experts around the country. They've pooled their collective research-based knowledge so that countless information is now available at www.extension.org which can be accessed by anyone.

Reports were presented on the recent Organic Farming Tour held near Page and on the Volunteer Stream Monitoring effort done on Bazile Creek near Center. Together those events drew 35 interested people.

The Missouri River Outdoor Expo boomerang demonstration was a success with over 200 visiting the booth and trying their hand at throwing.

Council members approved their new website home page which can be found at www.nenercd.org. Information will continue to be added on an on-going basis. The look and feel of the website is the same as the newsletter now which will help with name recogni-

Market Moms project. The RC&D Council was just Tami Worner of Wayne State College. Recognition was notified that they received an $86,462 Ag Marketing Service grant for this program which will begin on Oct. 1. It is designed to assist existing and new farmers markets in both northeast Nebraska and southeast South Dakota. Young families and new Moms will also be a priority for training and educational efforts to show them how easy it is to find locally grown nutritious fresh foods and to become vendors at farmers markets if desired.

The next RC&D meeting will be Monday, Oct. 26, in Plainview at 7:30 p.m. Rick Otto, Ashfall Fossil Beds Superintendent, will provide an update on the new rhino barn and more.

Everyone is welcome and encouraged to attend.

WSC faculty members present at NATM Fall Conference

The Nebraska Association of Teachers of Mathematics held its fall conference at the Holiday Inn in Kearney on Sept. 14.

The conference was preceded by a pre-conference Sept. 13, focusing on mathematical connections within, across and outside of the curriculum. Monday's conference, entitled "Games Math People" Sandy Patton of Brunswick, reported on the Farmers Play," began with a welcome from NATM President given to outgoing board members and special awards Luncheon speaker for the conference was Angelo Casaburri, Aerospace Education Specialist for NASA, who spoke about NASA's Space Educators' Handbook.

Marilyn Mudge, an instructor at Wayne State College, presented at the conference. Her presentation, "Come Play Basic Fact Games!" demonstrated a variety of hands-on games that reinforce basic math facts.

More than 200 teachers and pre-service teacher from attended the conference across the state.

Dr. McGinty to speak after Life Chain

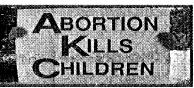

The 13th Annual Life Chain will be held in Wayne on Sunday, Oct. 4, from 2:30 to 3:30 p.m.

Life Chains will be occupying sidewalks in over 1,400 cities in the U.S. and Canada, as earnest defenders of human life seek God's divine help to end the legalized killing of pre-born fellow citizens.

The Life Chain is a peaceful yet powerful reminder to our community that families everywhere value the sanctity of human life.

Hungry Children in Nebraska

Economists and even real estate agents say we've been shielded from the recession here in the Midwest. But, a new report shows we're not immune and the ones hardest hit are our children.

According to the U.S. Census Bureau, 13 percent of children in Nebraska live in poverty. A closer look reveals a picture that's even more grim, with too many kids who can't count on their next meal.

Sitting down for a home cooked meal is becoming a thing of the past for many families facing tough times in this recession.

The Angel Food Ministries is here to help. Angel Food Ministries provides a month's worth of food for just $30 no matter how much or how little money you make. Angel Food Ministries couldn't come at a better time. A new report shows that one in seven of children in Nebraska are "food insecure" meaning they don't know when their next meal will be.

PEO Chapter has busy fall

P.E.O. Chapter AZ began a busy fall schedule on Sept. 13, when members and their spouses met for dinner and a social time at Leon Mexican Restaurant in Norfolk.

The first general meeting of the fall season was held on Sept. 22, in the home of Marilyn Collings. Assisting hostesses were members of the Yearbook Committee. Prior to the meeting, a variety of hors d'oeuvres was enjoyed by the group.

Katie Echtenkamp was announced as the recipient of the Bressler scholarship at Wayne State College for the coming year. The scholarship was given by Mr. and Mrs. Richard Bressler in honor of Richard's mother, Helen Bressler, a long time resident of Wayne and a former member of Chapter AZ, P.E.O.

The next meeting will be held on Tuesday, Oct. 6 at 7 p.m. in the home of Amy Bowers.

On Oct. 10, Chapter AZ will host a brunch for Reciprocity Group IV which is composed of a number of Northeast Nebraska Chapters of P.E.O. Chapter AZ vice president, Kris Giese, will be in charge of the program to be held in the Frey Conference Suite at Wayne State College.

Winside Methodist to hold Building Campaign dinner

Winside Methodist Church's Building Campaign Fellowship Dinner.

The dinner will be held at the church fellowship hall at 6 p.m.

Plans include entertainment provided by the children of the church family, last minute information about the building and the building campaign, dinner and fellowship. The children will be treated to a special party after their program which will be held at the church and a nursery will be provided for children under the age of three. The evening event is free for all that attend.

The church is planning to build a new building on Jones Street in Winside. The needs for the new building include handicap accessibility, educational rooms for education and activities, added fellowship area and better parking conditions.

For several years, activities such as funerals

Saturday, Oct. 3 marks the date of the and weddings have had to be held either at other churches in other towns or in community buildings due to the lack of space and the number of stairs in and out of the sanctuary. At the present time there are five Sunday School classes with three of them sharing an open basement area, one in the corner of the sanctuary and one in the kitchen. The church sits on the corner of a block and the only parking available is on the street which is dangerous during winter months when there is a lot of ice and snow because the building is on the incline

These are the reasons church members decided to try and build a new building.

The current Building Campaign can make that vision a reality. The Fellowship Dinner is the climax of several weeks of informational meetings and mailings to the church family and at that time requests will be made for pledges to finance the new construction.

There has been approximately $140,000 raised to date for the new building and the balance needed is $359,000.

The plans for the new facility include Sunday School rooms, large fellowship hall, a building all on one level without steps and an off-street parking lot with paved handicap parking spaces.

The Winside United Methodist Church is a small, rural church serving the Winside community. At the present time there are 110 members. The church is a part of a threechurch parish with the Pierce and Osmond United Methodist Churches. Pastor Carol Jean Stapleton is the Pastor and Judy Carlson is the Certified Lay Speaker who serves in Winside.

Anyone who did not receive an invitation or would like to be included in the evening's activities is asked to contact Tricia North at 402-286-8336 or Linda Barg at 402-286-4711 to make arrangements.

That's what it would cost to replace Nebraska's coal-generated electricity with wind power.

Wind is going to be an important part of Nebraska's energy future, but it is not free and it is not always available when we

To give you an idea of the size of the challenge, if you wanted to replace all of Nebraska's coal-fired electricity with wind, you'd have to put up several thousand large wind turbines and build hundreds of miles of new transmission lines. That would cost at least $20 billion, making electricity in Nebraska far more expensive and less

No one would seriously propose such a thing, but it does illustrate an important point: striking the right balance to provide abundant, reliable electricity as cleanly and inexpensively as possible is a complicated,

We believe that a combination of electric generating resources is the right answer. Wind will be part of that mix, but it is not, the whole answer to our energy challenges. We're working hard to bring the right solutions to you, and we urge you to visit www.nnppd.com to learn more.

Hagge new district sales manager for AgVenture

AgVenture - the Seed Source, Inc., an independent seed company based in Wayne, has hired Don Hagge of Hartington to serve the company's customers as District Sales Manager. Hagge brings more than 20 years of professional agricultural service and sales experience to the team. He will focus his efforts on working with customers in northern and northeastern Nebraska.

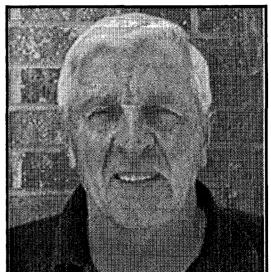

"We are very fortunate to find a conscientious, experienced person to represent our company with the customers' benefit in mind," said AgVenture President Lowell Schardt. "Don has a strong background of service to farm customers in the swine genetics industry and will bring those 'customer-minded' traits to helping those customers be more profitable in crop production in this area."

Hagge has spent the last 20 years in this area working for swine breeding stock the premier swine breeding companies in Nebraska.

"Most of my career has been working with the swine industry, where we valued superior genetics," he said. "AgVenture has outstanding access to the best and even the newest seed genetics and technologies on the market. I look forward to helping customers maximize their profits on every buy the book, "Three Cups of Tea," after I recommended it to you last year, I suggest you get it now. The author, Greg Mortenson, has been nominated for the Nobel Peace Prize!

Mr. Mortenson was in Lincoln last week and I was privileged to hear him at the evening presentation at the College View church. In 1993, he attempted to climb the K2 mountain peak in Pakistan as a gesture of honor to his sister, who had died.

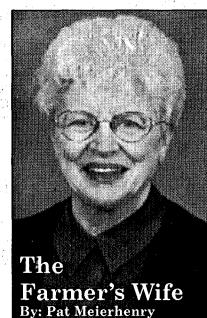

He failed, and while recovering from the climb in a village called Korphe, he met a group of children sitting in the dirt writing with sticks in the sand because they had no school.

He vowed to build them a school and went back to America and worked as a nurse until he had raised enough money to do that. Now, he is the director of the Central Asia Institute and there are 90 schools in Pakistan and Afghanistan. They provide education for 34,000 children, including 24,000 girls.

Stalk rot diseases becoming evident

In the last few weeks, stalk rot include Anthracnose, Fusarium, diseases have become evident in some Nebraska fields.

Farmers around the state have noticed some corn "drying down too fast or too early," and on further investigation, found that most of the plants had anthracnose and/or mine where you're likely to have fusarium stalk rot.

This week's high winds are the kind that could quickly down a field of diseased corn. Corn stalk rots occur to some extent every year, but when large areas are affected, it can complicate and hamper harvest and cut into yields. On aver-field. age, stalk rot diseases reduce yield by about five percent each year, although losses can be as high as 10-20 percent and on rare occasions, 100 percent.

Tamra Jackson, Extension Plant Pathologist, states that this sum- you can pinch or squeeze the plants mer's conditions were favorable for the development of stalk rot in many areas of the state, necessitating a careful field assessment If the stalks crush easily by hand, before starting harvest. THANK YOU

Thank you to everyone that supported us during the life and death of our son Isaiah Matthew.

We don't look at this as something that happened to us, it happened for us. It made us better, stronger people. Isaiah was a teacher like his dad. He taught us how precious all life is, no matter how big or how small, sick or fit, born or unborn.

Thank you to Fr. Mark Beran for officiating services and baptizing Isaiah, our proudest moment; Scott and his staff at the funeral home; the ladies at Flowers & Wine for the fun flowers; Carmie Marotz for Isaiah's birthday cake; all the teachers and numerous others for the meals and food; and the Wayne community for the countless cards and general support. If we forgot to thank anyone, we apologize - the support has been overwhelming. It is great to be part of such an amazing community.

Lastly, we would like to thank Isaiah. Thank you for giving us the gift of being parents. That is a gift that no one can ever take away from us. We love talking about you to anyone that will listen because God gave us you!

LOWER ELKHORN NATURAL RESOURCES DISTRICT ORDER OF DESIGNATION

WHEREAS, the Lower Elkhorn Natura Resources District (District) has adopted a management area throughout the entire District and, under Neb. Rev. Stat. § 46-739, is authorized to adopt controls for the conservation, protection, development, and sound management of natural resources within the management area:

WHEREAS, in order to further protect groundwater resources, the District imposed a temporary stay on new wells and new irrigated acres in the non-hydrologically connected area of the District on December 22, 2008, and on May 21, 2009 the District extended the temporary stay until December 20, 2009, in accordance with Neb. Rev. Stat. § 46-707(2); WHEREAS, the District held a Public Hearing on September 22, 2009, in accordance with Neb. Rev. Stat. § 46-743 to consider proposed amendments to the District's rules and regulations for the management area for, in part, managing irrigation growth in the non hydrologically connected area of the District and areas in the District where localized groundwater declines are of concern to the District:

WHEREAS, the District considered the testimony received at the Public Hearing; WHEREAS, the District finds it necessary for the general health and welfare of the District and for the conservation, protection, development, and sound management of natural resources within the management area, to adopt the proposed amendments to the District's rules and regulations for the management area. A copy of the Rules and Regulations as amended is attached to this Order as Exhibit A and incorporated herein by reference: WHEREAS, the new controls adopted under the amended rules include (1) preventing, without a variance from the District, the expansion of irrigated acres and the issuance of additional permits for the development of new irrigation wells within the non-hydrologically connected area of the District; (2) requiring the installation of devices for measuring groundwater withdrawals from water wells requiring a variance; (3) placing average and annual limits on the maximum new groundwater irrigated acres to be developed under the variance process: and placing additional requirements for variance applications within an NRD Stay Area.

WHEREAS, it reasonably appears that this action will mitigate or eliminate the condition which led to the designation of the management area and the imposition of the temporary stay area or will improve administration of the management area within the District;

NOW, THEREFORE, IT IS HEREBY ORDERED, that the Board of Directors of the Lower Elkhorn Natural Resources District adopts the amendments to the Rules and Regulations for the Enforcement of the Nebraska Ground Water Management and Protection Act in the Lower Elkhorn Natural Resources District as set forth in the attached

AND, IT IS FURTHER ORDERED that the effective date of this order is September 23, 2009, but the effective date of the amended Rules and Regulations shall be October 25, 2009, and the full text of the new controls shall be available to the public at the District office thirty days in accord with Neb. Rev. Stat. § 46-744.

DRINKING WATER WARNING CITY OF WAYNE HAS HIGH LEVELS OF SELENIUM

in accordance with the Nebraska Department of Health and Human Services (DHHS) Regulations Governing Public Water Supply Systems, the consumers of the City of Wayne public water supply system are hereby notified that the system is in violation of the established drinking water standard for selenium of 0.05 milligrams per liter (mg/L) for the quarterly period of April 1, 2009, through June 30, 2009. Selenium has been measured at an annual average concentration of 0.06 mg/L* in routine samples collected from the system. Selenium is an essential nutrient. However, some people who drink water containing selenium in excess of the MCL over many years could experience hair or fingernail losses, numbness in fingers or toes, or problems with their circulation. What should I do?

DO NOT BOIL THE WATER. Boiling, freezing, or letting water stand does not reduce the arsenic level. Excessive boiling can make the arsenic more concentrated, because selenium remains behind when the water evaporates. You do not need to use an alternative (e.g., bottled) water supply. This is not an immediate risk. The effects associated with exposure to selenium at these levels are the result of many years of constant exposure. However, if you have health concerns, consult vour doctor What happened? What is being done?

Selenium is a metal found in natural deposits as ores containing other elements. The greatest use of selenium compounds is in electronic and photocopier components, but they are also widely used in glass, pigments, rubber, metal alloys, textiles, petroleum, medical therapeutic agents, and photographic emulsions.

Corrective actions taken: Blending of water from point of entry No. 70-1 with point of entry No. 88-1 and 90-1. Since this notice, the water system has been sampled and retested and is compliant. Please share this information with all other people who drink this water who may not have received this notice directly (people in apartments, nursing homes, schools and businesses). This can be done by posting this notice in a public place or distributing copies by hand delivery or mail.
