Board gets suggestions for various county positions

By JON BURLERSON
Of The Herald

After much deliberation, the Wayne County Board of Commissioners have reached a conclusion and decided to make a decision - at their next meeting.

The three-member board heard recommendations for contracting a public defender, an emergency management director and someone to remove snow from the courthouse sidewalks, but no action was taken on these items during the meeting Nov. 3.

Attorney Kate M. Jorgensen appeared before the board with a proposal to be the county's contracted public defender. A public defender is a lawyer employed by the government to represent those who are charged with a crime and cannot afford an attorney. The court will appoint a private attorney at public expense, or assign a private attorney from a volunteer attorney list.

Jorgensen has experience as a public defender in Madison and Pierce Counties since 2007. She has also been aiding fellow attorney Mandy R. Burkett in the role of PD for the last couple of years.

She presented the commissioners a two-year contract stipulating that she would name a salary figure if the board wished, but that the amount was negotiable. The board asked for a beginning figure and Jorgensen quoted $42,000 per year for two years. She also handed the commissioners a break down of the hourly costs the county had incurred over the last year for public defender services.

"Billing by the hour would cost the county more overall," she said. "With mileage and other costs added in it would amount to more than a set salary."

Prior to the commissioner's meeting, County Attorney Mike Pieper informed the commissioners that a contract was not mandatory. He asked to speak with each commissioner, at a later time, in order to give them a full rundown of their options.

Pieper said that a policy board would probably have to be set up to determine the parameters of any contract. He said the basic fact is, that the current system does not require a contracted public defender.

The board members told Jorgensen that they would review her suggestions and contact her about their decision.

Wayne County Sheriff LeRoy Janssen also approached the board with a recommendation for the county. Janssen has also been acting as the interim Emergency Management Director since taking over for Deanna Beckman.

He and Commissioner Dean Burbach were two of the three members of a panel formed to test applicants to fill the EMD position. Janssen was present to present the selectee - Nicholas Kemnitz, the current Deputy Emergency Management Director.

Sheriff Janssen explained that Kemnitz had scored highest on the five-question exam the panel had

City council has short meeting

By CLARA OSTEN
Of The Herald

Only three items were considered by members of the Wayne City Council on Tuesday.

In a meeting that lasted less than 15 minutes, council members denied a claim submitted by Don Forney, tabled a resolution and approved a change order.

Forney had submitted a claim in the amount of $581.76 for a Recreation Football accident involving his son, Ronnie.

Council members voted to deny the claim after City Attorney Mike Pieper told the group that the city's insurance company had recommended denying it.

Council Member Doug Sturm said that all those involved in the accident had followed proper procedure and "accidents happen when you play sports."

Council members tabled a decision on Resolution 2009-10, involving the adoption of a Redevelopment Plan/ Contract with Northeast Nebraska Investors, LLC. This involves the motel project for the city of Wayne.

Council members Brian Frevert and Dale Alexander were absent from the meeting and Council members Kaki Ley and Jon Haase would have had to abstain from a vote on the item due to a conflict of interest. Therefore, council members agreed to wait to discuss the agenda item until the next meeting.

A change order that resulted in a deduction in costs was also approved during the meeting.

Garry Poutre, Public Works Superintendent, told the council that the original plans for the Well House and Municipal Well 2009 Project was designed to include an 18 inch casing which would have had to have been metal. Poutre told the council that "a 16 inch casing is more than adequate and a PVC casing can be used to prevent corrosion."

The change will result in a savings of $5,088 on the project.

The council's next meeting is Tuesday, Nov. 17 at 5:30 p.m.

Postseason Trick or Treat

Halloween came and went once again, but the costumes weren't limited to the little ones knocking on local doors. It seemed the spirit of the holiday was carrying over into postseason sporting events as well, as local fans got in the act to support their favorite teams.

In the top photo, Mike Jaixen has a head for the game of volleyball, literally, while showing his support for Wayne High in their subdistrict tournament. At right, Laurel-Concord fan Kyle Koester goes as a giant "Hello, I'm..." name tag while cheering on the Lady Bears at the NENAC championship.

Both Winside and Allen will play in district championship matches tonight (Thursday). Winside meets Hartington at 7 p.m. in Randolph, while Allen takes on Howells at 7 p.m. at Wisner-Pilger High School.

Rural Health Opportunities Program will expand to Wayne State College

The opportunity to pursue a career as an allied health professional just got easier for students in Nebraska. Beginning with the next admission cycle, the University of Nebraska Medical Center's School of Allied Health Professions (SAHP) will expand its participation in the Rural Health Opportunities Program (RHOP) to Wayne State College (WSC).

Since the inception of the RHOP program, the SAHP, unlike the other UNMC colleges, has only provided RHOP positions for students at Chadron State College. The addition of 10 total positions in physical therapy, physician assistant, clinical laboratory science and radiography education programs represents a 40 percent increase in available RHOP positions.

"The expansion of the allied health RHOP to Wayne State College is an indication of the SAHP's commitment to both the education and health of rural Nebraskans," said Kyle Meyer, Ph.D., associate dean of the UNMC School of Allied Health Professions.

"The need for rural health professionals continues to grow and RHOP is critical to meeting our future demands for rural health professions," said Dave Peitz, Ph.D., coordinator of the RHOP program at Wayne State College. "We are delighted in the UNMC School of Allied Health Professions' decision to add allied health opportunities at Wayne State."

RHOP, which began in 1989, is designed to address the special needs of rural Nebraska by encouraging rural residents to pursue healthcare careers. If selected, students obtain early admission into participating UNMC programs upon completion of their studies at Chadron State or Wayne State College.

"I cannot tell you how much I appreciate UNMC and the RHOP program and their dedication to rural Nebraska," said Lois Veath, Ph.D., vice president for academic affairs at Chadron State College. "Without the RHOP program, we would not have the pipeline of health professionals that our communities so desperately need. I applaud the School of Allied Health Professions for its support of the RHOP program at both Chadron and Wayne State."

The success of RHOP is evident in the 536 students who have pursued a health care degree. Of those, 315 students have graduated from UNMC and completed their residencies. Currently, there are 203 students in the RHOP pipeline attending Chadron State College, Wayne State College or UNMC.

"Almost half of all RHOP graduates are from our allied health programs," said Greg Karst, Ph.D., SAHP assistant dean for academic affairs, "but the need for allied health professionals in rural Nebraska remains a significant concern."

The deadline for applications to the RHOP program is Dec. 1 at both Chadron State and Wayne State. Students are then notified the following spring if they are accepted into the program. Peterson named vice chairman of state college board of trustees

The Nebraska State College System Board of Trustees selected Larry Teahon of Chadron as the 2009-10 chair and Carter "Cap" Peterson of Wayne as vice chair. Teahon, who presided over his first NSCS Board meeting in September, succeeds past chair Bill Roskens of Omaha.

Peterson will assume the chair position for the 2010-11 year.

Along with the vice chair position, Peterson also serves as the chair of the Board's Fiscal and Facilities Committee. An insurance salesman and former claims adjuster, he and his wife, Nana, own Northeast Nebraska Insurance Agency, Inc., and Nana's This and That in Wayne.

A Wayne State graduate and former adjunct instructor in business at the college, Peterson has served as a trustee and member of the executive board for the Wayne State College Foundation. He also received the Wayne State College Distinguished Service Award.

"Chadron, Peru and Wayne State provide their area with cultural and academic resources that these small communities would not have without these colleges," Peterson said. "The colleges and the system are all about the students. I wanted to be part of this board to help maintain and expand the statewide offerings, because they are good for Nebraska and the surrounding states."

Active in the community, Peterson has been chair of the Wayne County Red Cross and member and past master of the Wayne Masonic Lodge. He has served on the Board of the Nebraska School Board Association, Wayne Community School, Wayne Kiwanis, and the Chamber of Commerce. He was also on the board for United Way and Wayne Industries.

"Cap has vast experience in many different areas, including Wayne State. He provides great insight for us and takes particular interest in hearing the students' perspective," Carpenter said.

The NSCS Board of Trustees also includes: Chair of the Academic, Personnel and Student Affairs Committee Gary Bieganski of Chadron, Enrollment and Marketing Chair Michelle Suarez of Lincoln, Bill Roskens of Omaha, Floyd Vrtiska of Table Rock, and Roger Breed of Omaha, who is also the State Commissioner of Education. The student trustees are Doug Liewer of Butte, Chadron State representative; Samantha Meyer of Fairbury, Peru State representative and David Seger of O'Neill, Wayne State representative.

Two-year-old shows fight against rare form of cancer

By JON BURLERSON
Of The Herald

Meet Dylan Pospisil - the toughest fighter you'll ever meet. No, he's not a cage fighter, nor is he a Special Forces commando or even the guy with the big mouth in the bar on the corner.

Dylan is the two-year-old son of Ryan and Felicia Pospisil of Pierce. He has been fighting for his life every day for the last three months.

On Aug. 8, he underwent surgery for a tumor in his brain. According to his great aunt, Rachele Pospisil of Winside, the doctors discovered the growth was a rare form of cancer known as an astrocytoma.

"The diagnosis ended up to be high-grade astrocytoma," she said. "A very rare and cancerous tumor, which only affects around 30 children nationwide."

Astrocytomas are cancers of the brain. According to Dr. J.C. Buckner of the Mayo

Laura Fredrickson

Laura Fredrickson, 94, of Carroll died Thursday, Oct. 29, 2009 at Providence Medical Center in Wayne.

Services were held Monday, Nov. 2 at Bethany Presbyterian Church of rural Carroll. The Rev. Gail Axen officiated.

Laura Agnes Fredrickson was born July 11, 1915 at Carroll to Christian and Averina (Sylvanus) Fredrickson. Laura spent many hours in her kitchen preparing cookies, candies, homemade jellies, canned beef, homemade soups and ice cream for family members and friends. Her cinnamon flaps were one of her many specialties! Family members can attest that she never forgot a birthday. Laura carried on the traditional Fredrickson Family Easter Egg Hunt that has been enjoyed by five generations. Her home provided the setting for family Christmas and Thanksgiving dinners as well. As a young woman, Laura enjoyed playing softball. She was a pitcher. In her later years, she continued to be interested in sports and enjoyed watching a good game of baseball on television, as well as the Nebraska Cornhuskers.

Laura followed a teaching career in rural Wayne and Cedar County schools, Seward City Schools and finally Carroll and Wayne City schools. She retired from education in 1984 after 49 years of dedicated services.

The matriarch of the Fredrickson family, Laura's guidance and counsel were sought by each member of the family at one time or another. At no time was her presence more needed than in the '60's when she, her mother and her fellow siblings joined together in the rearing of a niece and four nephews following the death of the children's parents, Jim and Ruth Fredrickson. Jim, Bob, Jerry, Don and Janelle, ranging in age from five to 14, became the focus of the entire Fredrickson family, especially Laura and her mother, in whose home the children resided until the boys joined the military service and Janelle completed her college education.

She was preceded in death by her parents, five brothers and spouses, Joseph (Leona), William (Rose), James (Ruth), Elmer and Ted (Lucille); two sisters, Anna Thomas. (Dewey) and Ethel Malmberg (Robert) and one brother-in-law, Vermont Nelson.

Survivors include two sisters, Ruby Nelson of Carroll and Mable Jones of Lincoln; one brother-in-law, Thomas Jones of Lincoln and many nieces, nephews, friends and former students.

Honorary pallbearers were Laura's nieces and nephews. Active pallbearers were Jamie Fredrickson, Chris Fredrickson, Scott Fredrickson, Matt Bartling, Ryan Steckelberg and Larry Ballinger.

Burial was in Bethany Cemetery in Carroll. Hasemann Funeral Home in Wayne was in charge of arrangements.

Memorials may be made to Carroll and Winside Fire and Rescue Departments.

A second memorial service will be held Saturday, Nov. 21 at 10 a.m. at First Unitarian Church, 2508 Jackson Street in Sioux City, Iowa. The Rev. Kent Matthies of Germantown Unitarian Church of Philadelphia, Penn. will officiate. Burial will be in the summer of 2010 at a time to be announced at Elmwood Cemetery in Waterloo, Iowa.

Tom was born Aug. 23, 1943 in Des Moines, Iowa. He graduated from Fargo High School in 1961 and from Carleton College in 1965. He received a Master's degree in the Philosophy of Science from Princeton University in 1968 and a Ph.D. in the History and Philosophy of Science from the University of Pittsburgh in 1976. He received a Masters degree in Criminal Justice from the University of South Carolina in 1981. He married Patricia Leavitt in Cedar Falls, Iowa on April 8, 1972. He taught at Coe College in Iowa 1968-71, at UNC-Charlotte from 1973 to 1979, at community colleges in North Carolina and Virginia prior to teaching criminal justice at Wayne State College 1990-2006. He took leaves of absence from WSC to teach Oral English with his wife Pat at Hangzhou University 1998-99 and Changsha University 2001-2002 and Spring 2005 on mainland China. Beginning in 1990 he was active for years in the First Unitarian Church of Sioux City and the Wayne Lions Club. Pat and Tom performed together regularly in northeast Nebraska nursing homes and senior centers doing music gigs. They taught nearly 1,000 people to do Couples Country and Ballroom Dancing 1989-94. They were "karaoke stars" in Las Vegas during the winters of 2007-08-09.

Survivors include his wife, Pat; a sister, Mary Cook Gervais (Marty) of Breckenridge, Colo.; nephews Will (Drew) Gervais of Vancouver, B.C., Jack (Nicole) Gervais of Portland, Maine,

He was preceded in death by his mother and father, Carolyn (Hyde) and Kenneth Cook. His father was a minister in the United Church of Christ for 25 years.

Memorials may be made to the Wayne State College Foundation, Nebraska Lions Foundation, Northeast Nebraska Chapter of the American Red Cross and First Unitarian Church of Sioux City.

Hasemann Funeral Home of Wayne is in charge of arrangements.

Mary Louise Eckert

Mary Louise Eckert, 90, of Peoria, Ariz. died Saturday, Oct. 24, 2009 at Peoria, Ariz.

Wayne Elementary School to celebrate 50th birthday

By Clara Osten
Of the Herald

Activities are planned at Wayne Elementary School to celebrate the 50th anniversary of the building of the school.

In-school activities will take place during the week of Nov 9-13 and culminate with an all-school assembly on Friday, Nov. 13. All former teachers at the school are being invited to attend the party.

Students and staff at Wayne Elementary School will have dress up days each day using a decade from the school's past. Plans call for Monday, Nov. 9 to be 50's and 60's day with fourth grade students making a banner representing a timeline of events taking place at that time. The third grade will make a banner for Tuesday, Nov. 10 representing the 1970's; the second grade will make the banner for the 1980's on Wednesday, Nov. 11; the first grade will remember the 1990's on Thursday, Nov. 12 and the kindergarten the present and future on Friday, Nov. 13.

Lunch menus at the school will coincide with the theme for each day and music from that decade will be played in the lunchroom.

Wayne Elementary School was built in 1959 as a kindergarten through sixth grade school. At that time, it had 275 students and 11 faculty members, but no in-house principal.

Prior to the building of the new building, public information was distributed to area residents on the need for a new building.

Excerpts from the pamphlet included the following information:

"A special election has been called and will be held Tuesday, Dec. 9, 1958, at the usual polling places in Wayne and Carroll, Nebraska, between the hours of 8 a.m. and 8 p.m., at which time the qualified voters of the district will decide on the question of construction of a new, modern elementary school.

"55 percent majority of the vote is necessary! It is important that you vote on Dec. 9, 1958. It is equally important that you vote 'For'."

"Here are some of the problems confronting us now in our effort:

The present building is 50 years old with an improvement 20 years old. It represents a building primarily designed for educational needs of a half century ago.

"Lack of Space:

All classes in the lower grades have more students than recommend maximums of 25 pupils per teacher. This presents a serious handicap for both teachers and pupils.

"Improvement of Home Economics Department:

It is difficult to carry out a complete and well correlated program of Home Making with our present facilities.

"Lack of Locker Space:

We are now assigning three or four children per locker. There is no room available in which to set up additional lockers to correct this situation.

"Expansion of Laboratory facilities:

Science plays a far more important role in modern education than in the old traditional curriculum. This requires a well-equipped laboratory. We cannot presently provide sufficient laboratory space and equipment for Senior High students and no science laboratory is provided for Junior High."

The pamphlet went on to state that "after a careful study of all the facts and conditions, your School Board has agreed that the most practical solution is:

1) To convert the present school building into a Junior-Senior High, and

2) Construct a new Elementary School.

"This decision, which is wholeheartedly recommended by the State Department of Education, is based on the fact that the present building lends itself more favorably to a high school curriculum than to that of an elementary school."

Although the building was built in 1959, the actual dedication ceremony was not held until Nov. 13, 1960 and therefore, this year's celebration party will be held exactly 49 years after the dedication of the building.

Faculty members in 1960-61 included: Gladys Macklin, kindergarten; Anna Thomas, first grade; Lena Miller, first and second grade; Etta Fisher, second grade; Anna Behmer, third grade; Wildred Witte, third and fourth grade; Violet Rickers, fifth grade; Richard Oxenford, fifth and sixth grade; Eleanor Edwards, sixth grade; Margie Smith, Elementary Spanish and Leonard Schwanke, custodian.

Members of the Board of Education at that time included: Edith Wightman, Albert Kern, Edward Seymour, Loyd Jensen, Lynn Roberts and Harold Hein.

In the 1963-64 school year, a half-time principal position was added. This turned into a full-time position during the 1964-65 school year. In the fall of 1967, the fifth and sixth grades were combined with the seventh and eighth grades for a new Middle School and Wayne Elementary became a kindergarten through fourth grade building.

Since the 1989-90 school year, the elementary has maintained three sections of each grade.

With a continually growing enrollment, in the fall of 1990, an addition consisting of four classrooms and two offices was added to the west end of the building. Students moved into this addition at the start of the second semester of the 1990-91 school year.

Currently, the enrollment stands at 315 students with 23 certified teachers and 11 support staff members.

All dressed up

Army Band to present concert in Wayne

The 43rd Army Band of the Nebraska National Guard will be performing at the Wayne City Auditorium Nov. 15 at 2 p.m.

The 43rd Army Band's concert will include traditional concert band literature, marches and medleys performed by the 60 member Concert Band. This concert is free and open to public.

The concert is another in the year-long Q-125 events and was organized by the Q-125 committee to recognize and honor area veterans who have served the country during the city's history.

Members of the band who are associated with the Wayne area include SPC Matt Dregalla (band director for Pender Public Schools) and SPC Michael Sindt (band director for the Pierce Public Schools).

The 43rd Army Band is under the command of Chief Warrant Officer Brian Anderson. The band is comprised of citizen soldiers who bring a variety of skills, talents and longevity to the unit.

The average years of service of the senior non-commissioned officer staff is in excess of 32 years. In addition, the members' various civilian jobs and experiences contribute a great deal to the overall success of the 43rd Army Band.

This group meets one weekend each month and 15 days during the summer to rehearse and to fulfill military training requirements.

Officially, the band traces its history back to 1924 when it was created in Crete as the "Band Section, Service Company 110th Medical Regiment." Throughout its history, the band has had several reorganizations and on March 3, 1948, the band was federally recognized as the 43rd Army Band.

The mission of the band is to provide musical entertainment for the morale of soldiers and to support the local communities when possible. As the only musical unit of the Nebraska National Guard, the 43rd Army Band represents the National Guard at a variety of civilian and official military functions throughout the State of Nebraska.

The Band performs at parades, concerts and political inaugurations. For annual training, the Band either replaces an active duty band or supports local communities and recruiters by performing concert tours throughout Nebraska.

The 43rd Army Band has had the privilege of performing at the West Point Military Academy, New York; Fort Sam Houston, Texas; Fort Monroe, Virginia; Tompkins Barracks, Germany and Schofield Barracks, Hawaii.

Since 2006, the 43rd Army Band has performed in Ainsworth, Alliance, Auburn, Blair, Broken Bow, Chadron, Columbus, Crete, Dodge, Fort Robinson, Fremont, Gering, Grand Island, Hastings, Holdrege, Kearney, Lexington, McCook, Minden, Nebraska City, Norfolk, North Platte, Ogallala, Pender, Pierce, Ponca, Rushville, Seward, Stromsburg, Tecumseh, Tekamah, Wayne, Mount Rushmore, S.D. and Cheyenne, Wyo.

The Colonel George S. Howard Citation of Musical Excellence, which is awarded by the John Philip Sousa Foundation, is an annual international competition for reserve components and active duty bands. The 43rd Army Band has received this prestigious award six times.

Belt home is about traditions

By Clara Osten
Of the Herald

This is the third in a series.

The biennial Tour of Homes, sponsored by the Friends of the Museum, has been scheduled for Friday and Saturday, Nov. 20 and 21.

Hours for this year's tours will be from 5 to 8 p.m. on Friday and from 11 a.m. to 2 p.m. on Saturday.

Homes on the tour include those of David and Donna Ewing at 1110 Sunset Drive; Cap and Nana Peterson at 502 Douglas Street; Brian and Traci Bruckner at 416 West Ninth Street; Randy and Jill Belt at 625 Fairacres Road and David and Kaki Ley at 1120 Sunset Drive.

The Wayne Museum will be open on the days of the event for ticket sales and refreshments.

Tickets for the tour are $10 each and may be purchased at the local banks. Proceeds from this event have been designated for exterior painting of the museum.

A description of one of the homes on the tour will be included in the Herald each week until the event.

Randy and Jill Belt and their children moved into their home in December of 2006. After a short three years, they have grown to love the home, location and quiet neighborhood.

Like this home, the neighborhood is about traditions evidenced by trails of Christmas lights in the yards. This two-story home appears much differently now than it did when they moved in. All of the flooring has been replaced, and the basement and upstairs bathroom have been completely remodeled. This home went "green" many years ago. It is equipped with radiant and solar heat. The kitchen and living rooms are spacious for entertaining, doing homework and competing to be the next "Iron Chef."

The backyard is a work in progress. One thing that the Belts did not expect when buying this home was their pleasure of living by the cemetery. Many nice days are spent walking through the cemetery remembering those that we all love.

Everyone in their family loves their bedrooms. Not only are they spacious, but they are also filled with their favorite things. Their son Jackson is a collector. You will quickly see his love for Denver, Colorado and sports through his collections. His tree is decorated as if it were in a cabin in the Rocky Mountains. Randy and Jill's daughter, Hannah has her room decorated in her favorite colors. Her love for music, softball and friends will be easy to see as she has decorated her room with her favorite pictures. Her tree was decorated by her cousin who also loves glimmer and glitz.

Most of the Christmas decorations in the home have a special meaning. The Christmas tree in the basement is one of their favorites. It is a true family tree. It has 133 picture ornaments of the most important people in their lives, their family.

The nativity scene in the living room was a wedding gift given to Randy and Jill by their nieces and nephews 19 years ago.

Although Christmas is a very exciting time, the Belts wanted to remember Thanksgiving as one of the important times of the year. Thus, the office is decorated in autumn colors to remember Thanksgiving and our blessings, now and throughout the year.

The Belts want to wish you a blessed Thanksgiving and a Merry Christmas! May your holidays be filled with love and joy. Thank-you for sharing your holiday with us!

WSC to present:

'A Conversation About Health Care'

Everyone is invited to attend a "A Conversation about Health Care" with Dr. Dean O. French, Nov. 18, at 7 p.m., in Connell Hall Room 131 on the Wayne State College campus.

Dr. French is the Vice President of Medical Affairs and Quality at Faith Regional Health Services in Norfolk.

Dr. French is a board certified Family Physician who specializes in Hospital Medicine and Emergency Medicine.

He has practiced rural - frontier family medicine, developed innovative delivery systems for medicine in small rural communities and championed improvement in quality and patient safety in hospital medicine. Dr. French will consider health care and health care reform from the perspective of someone within the medical community.

Conversations is a program from WSC's American Democracy Project and is co-sponsored by the Wayne Political Union. Conversations brings students and members of the community together to discuss important and timely policy issues.

Look for more Conversations in the near future. For more information contact Joe Blankenau at 375-7541.

Use 511 when traveling on state highways

The Nebraska State Patrol reminds motorists traveling west on Interstate 80 to utilize the state's 511 automated road and weather condition information system.

Motorists are advised to utilize the state's 511 automated road and weather condition information system before heading out. By dialing 511 from any landline or cellular phone, motorists will be able to gauge how the weather is affecting travel conditions. The system can also be accessed via the internet at www.511nebraska.org.

Travelers outside of Nebraska wanting to check weather and road conditions can dial (800) 906-9069.

Motorists in need of emergency roadside assistance should dial the Nebraska State Patrol Highway Helpline when safe to do so, at Star-55 from any cellular phone or (800) 525-5555 from any landline.

ble because of the diffuse infiltration of tumor cells into normal parenchyma [the functional parts of an organ, in this case the brain]. Thus, high-grade astrocytomas inevitably recur after initial surgery or therapy, and are usually treated similarly as the initial tumor. Despite decades of therapeutic research, curative intervention is still nonexistent for high-grade astrocytomas; patient care ultimately focuses on pain management.

After Dylan's surgery, he was in the hospital for a week. After being discharged, the Pospisils were told to follow-up with their oncologist in Omaha. Her name was Dr. Elizabeth Thompson.

"She was really nice, but wasn't too confident in treating Dylan's rare case," said Felicia. "So, she sent us to St. Jude Children's Research Hospital in Memphis, Tenn."

Dr. Thompson is no lightweight when it comes to medicine. In addition to being an oncologist, she is a pediatric hematologist. A pediatric oncologist-hematologist is a physician who specializes in treating children with chemotherapy, and consults with other physicians to coordinate other methods of cancer treatments. Dr. Thompson has more than 40 years of such experience. She recommended St. Jude because she knew it was the best possible place for Dylan.

St. Jude is a place where many doctors send some of their sickest patients and toughest cases. It is unlike any other pediatric treatment and research facility. Discoveries made there have completely changed how the world treats children with cancer and other catastrophic diseases. With research and patient care under one roof, St. Jude is where some of today's most gifted researchers are able to do science more quickly. St. Jude researchers are published and cited more often than any other private pediatric oncology research institution in America; a place where cutting-edge research and revolutionary discoveries happen every day.

It is America's second-largest health-care charity so the science never stops. All patients accepted for treatment at St. Jude are treated without regard to the family's ability to pay.

So, on Aug. 23, the family traveled to Memphis to begin Dylan's treatments at St. Jude. He is receiving aggressive and intense treatment. This will continue for the next six months.

"The doctors here are very good at what they do!" said Felicia. "They did inform us on just how rare Dylan's case is. They said that this type of tumor in little kids, there are maybe between 20 and 40 cases a year in the entire nation."

The plan is to have Dylan go through chemotherapy and see how he does. They hope he won't have to go through radiation.

His parents have been working in shifts to make sure Dylan gets to his appointments and treatments. Sometimes that means a trip to get IV fluids at the hospital pharmacy or "medicine store," a test and then into in-patient where Dylan undergoes chemo. Then, there is recovery.

Dylan has a central venous catheter also known as a peripherally inserted central catheter. PICC lines are used when intravenous access is required over a prolonged period of time, as in the case of long chemotherapy regimens. He calls it his "buddy."

It is through this line that he is hooked up to an intravenous drip to receive fluids while he sleeps. This means Mom must get up and change his diaper at about midnight, or his bed will be soaked by morning.

Last week, Felicia was going to take Dylan to get his hearing tested, then to his E Clinic visit and finally chemo; pretty much an average day.

"We had to be at the hospital at 8:30 a.m. for the hearing test...his E Clinic visit at noon, and then we were supposed to be admitted at 5 p.m. for chemo," Felicia said. "After the hearing test, we had an hour's wait for an E Clinic visit. This went okay because a Child Life lady had some paint and Play-Doh out for the kids to do, so he was happy."

Child Life Council specialists are experts in child development. They promote effective coping through play, preparation, education and self-expression activities. They provide emotional support for families of children facing a broad range of challenging experiences, particularly those related to healthcare and hospitalization. These specialists are on hand at the St. Jude E Clinic.

The E Clinic is designated as the neuro-oncology clinic at St. Jude. Its staff includes the group of doctors, practitioners and nurses that care for children with brain tumors. The doctors are specially trained in chemotherapy as well as neurology, so they are able to address all the unique needs of brain tumor patients.

The E Clinic, also known as the Brain Tumor Team, was formally established at St. Jude Children's Research Hospital in 1985, when the diagnosis of any type of a brain tumor was dismal. At that time, the only treatment options were limited to surgery and radiation therapy. Since 1985 the team has made tremendous strides. The discovery of new and better forms of chemotherapy has caused the prognosis for many types of childhood brain tumors to significantly improve. The Brain Tumor Program is one of the fastest growing programs at St. Jude. In 2005 alone, they saw more than 145 new patients. St. Jude anticipates even more new patients so they have expanded their services. Brain tumor patients and medical teams were given their own clinic in January 2004.

The reason Dylan needed a hearing test was to determine if the chemotherapy had caused any hearing loss. This can be a side effect of chemotherapy - it is called ototoxicity.

Ototoxicity occurs most often, after patients have received certain medications. Ototoxic medications are drugs that can cause damage to the inner ear, and result in temporary or permanent loss of hearing.

Some common medications that cause ototoxicity, may include:

- Cisplatin, and other types of chemotherapy
- High doses of salicylates, such as aspirin
- Non-steroidal anti-inflammatory medications (NSAIDs), such as naproxen sodium
- Diuretics or "water pills," such as furosemide (Lasix)
- Antibiotics, such as Erythromycin, Gentamycin, Tobramycin or Streptomycin.

Ototoxicity following medications may be due to a long-term exposure to these drugs. The risk for developing ototoxicity increases as the drug accumulates in the body. It may also come from giving high doses of the drug at a time, which may damage certain cells in the inner ear. The hearing loss may be irreversible.

administered. He scored a 140 out of a possible 150. The other two applicants scored 125 and 109.

The commissioners accepted the recommendation. There was some disagreement as to what the panel's instructions had been regarding the recommendation process. Commissioner Kelvin Wurdeman stated he felt that he would have liked to see all three applicants come before the county board.

"I would have liked to go through an interview process," he said. "I think we should see how they would work with us."

He suggested that perhaps a new panel should be selected to go through the process again, and then have the top three candidates come before the board for interviews.

The final recommendation came from the board itself. Commissioner Jim Rabe said he had spoken with Randy Lutt about being in charge of snow removal for the county courthouse. Rabe said Lutt had seemed receptive to the idea and all of the commissioners agreed Lutt would be easy to work with. The commissioners did not elect to hire Lutt during the meeting.

In other Board business: - The board heard from Highway

Superintendent Elizabeth Carlson about bridge repairs. Carlson submitted to DR Form 530, Project Programming Requests for county bridges needing repairs. The first bridge is located two miles west and 7 miles south of Wayne on 5745th Avenue, while the second is five miles north and about two miles west of Wayne on 861st Road. Both bridges have worn girders and cracks. Both will be replaced with continuous concrete slab bridges. The combined cost will be about $1.4 million. The construction would not begin until 2013. The next meeting is scheduled for 9:15 a.m., Tuesday, Nov. 17.

Last hurrah for WSC's senior class

This Saturday is the home finale for the Wayne State football program, and it could very well be the final game for a senior class that will go down in team history as one of the school's finest.

The 13 young men who are playing their final home game came to Wayne State, quite frankly, on a wing and a prayer. Dan McLaughlin was in his first year and there was a real negative vibe in the program, a culture that had developed through years of mediocrity.

McLaughlin has righted the ship rather quickly. This team made the playoffs last year, and have an outside shot at going back again this year, and a lot of that is the result of the work of this group of seniors.

Players like quarterback Silas Fluellen and receiver Logan Masters have etched their names, not only in the school's record books, but in the history of the NSIC and NCAA.

Fluellen owns just about every quarterback-related record the NSIC has, including total yards, passing yards and completions. He's been an outstanding quarterback these last four years, and is going to be sorely missed under center.

Masters has caught at least one pass in every game he's played at Wayne State. Check that...he's caught at least TWO passes in every game. He's as dependable as a morning sunrise and has played a key role in the Wildcat offense throughout his career. His departure, like Fluellen's, will leave a huge hole in the WSC offense.

Ryan Reeves is another of the seniors whose loss will be felt next year. He's been the team's leading tackler, and the best tackler in the NSIC, for the last two years. He's got a tremendous nose for the football and is one of the hardest-hitting defenders in Div. II.

These three are typical of the talent and commitment that has been shown by the seniors at Wayne State, and they have set a very high bar for the current underclassmen, and future incoming classes, to jump over. They will be the first class to have back-to-back seasons of eight or more wins in school history and will have the best overall win percentage of any previous class.

Wildcat fans should give these young men a rousing ovation this weekend for their contributions to the Wayne State football program these past four years, contributions that have led to the best run of success in this team's long history.

Their accomplishments are, certainly, worthy of applause.

It was a good week, even though three of my four high school picks went south on me. Allen saved the day and all six of my college picks hit, so it was a 7-3 week to move me up to 54-35-1 (.606) for the year.

Here are this week's picks, with a couple of NFL games thrown in to spice things up...

Oklahoma 42, Nebraska 24 (Nebraska's last loss until the Big 12 championship game.)

Wayne State 48, Mary 17 (If this is the finale for the Wildcats, it's a great finish for the best senior class in school history.)

Northwestern 31, Iowa 27 (If Iowa played in a real conference, they would be .500 at best.)

Missagain 34, Purdon 24 (Can you tell I'm not a big fan of Big 10 football?)

LSU 21, Alabama 20 (The chips start falling for a Cincy-Boise State national championship game.)

Penn State 27, Ohio State 24 (I'd love to see the Nittany Lions in a rematch with the Fraudeyes.)

Navy 34, Notre Dame 31 (Navy was looking ahead and slipped against Temple. This is not good news for Golden Domer fans.)

New Orleans 65, Carolina 7 (I wish I had Drew Brees as my fantasy QB instead of Peyton Manning.)

Seattle 17, Detroit 14 (If my Seahawks lose, I'm afraid I will hear, "With the first pick in the 2010 NFL Draft, the Seattle Seahawks select...")

Elisa Robinson (14) and Erica Sebade (11) team up to block a West Point-Beemer attack during subdistrict action Monday at Norfolk High School. The Blue Devils beat the Lady Cadets before falling to top-seeded Wisner-Pilger to end the season.

Wayne players put up record numbers in subdistrict action

NORFOLK - Although the Wayne High volleyball team saw its season come to an end in the C1-5 subdistrict, it didn't end without some record-setting fireworks.

Elisa Robinson tied a school record and Jessica Biermann set a new standard during the Blue Devils' four-set win over West Point-Beemer in the opening round Monday night. Robinson recorded 29 kills and Biermann broke the school record for set assists in a game with 52 as Wayne dispatched West Point-Beemer, 28-30, 25-23, 25-23, 28-26.

The Blue Devils let a good lead get away in the first set against the Cadets, but responded with a gutsy effort to win each of the next three sets.

"After that first set, I kind of got on the girls a little bit and talked with them about playing to our level, and they went out and did that the last three sets," coach Joyce Hoskins said. "I don't know what motivated them, but they just decided they were going to go out and play hard and not get outthusted."

Biermann and Robinson teamed up on numerous occasions during the course of that comeback, and both found themselves etched in the school record books as a result.

"Elisa had a really nice night and played with a lot of confidence, and Jessica is such a hustler and went after it and turned some good passes into some nice sets," Hoskins said.

Biermann's development has been impressive. She came on midway through the season and has developed into a solid distributor on offense, Hoskins said.

"She's really improved, especially with turning bad passes into something good, which says a lot for her as a setter," Hoskins said. "She's so quick, and that's a benefit to have as a setter. She's one of those kids who loves to play and works hard and wants to get better, and that's a benefit for her."

Katie Hoskins also had a good night at the net in the win over West Point-Beemer, finishing with 19 kills. Her jump-serve also netted four aces on the night. Robinson and Cassie Harm led the defense with 17 and 15 digs, respectively.

Wayne's hopes of upsetting the top seed in Tuesday's final did not come through, as Wisner-Pilger came away with a 25-11, 25-16, 25-19 win to end Wayne's season at 12-18.

"After a tough game Monday, I think we might have been a little tired, but Wisner is a great team and they run everything so quick and have a very aggressive serve game," Hoskins said. "We really couldn't get relaxed and play."

Robinson and Hoskins each had eight kills for Wayne. Biermann had 18 set assists and 17 digs to lead the team.

The Blue Devils lose just one senior starter, Kristin Liska, and Hoskins hopes the team will continue to show improvement next year.

"Kristin was a good leader and a positive player for us, and we'll miss her next year," Hoskins said. "We had to face some adversity this year that built a lot of character, and hopefully we can take what we've learned and apply it to next year."

Wildcats keep slim playoff hopes alive with 26-21 road win

ST. PAUL, Minn. - It was a rollercoaster kind of afternoon for the Wayne State football team, but when the ride came to a stop, the Wildcats finished the day as a winner.

Nick Pulscher scored his second touchdown of the day on a 1-yard run with 2:12 left to help the Wildcats edge Concordia St. Paul 26-21 Saturday afternoon, keeping alive their slim hopes for a NCAA Div. II playoff berth.

The Wildcats led 20-7 going to the fourth quarter before the Bulldogs rallied and took a 21-20 lead midway through the fourth quarter. The Wildcats responded with an 11-play, 73-yard drive and the defense held on at the end to help Wayne State improve to 7-3 overall and 6-3 in the NSIC.

"We were up and down," coach Dan McLaughlin said. "We played really well at times and really poorly at times, so it was an interesting day."

The Wildcats got on the board in the first period when quarterback Silas Fluellen hooked up with Mit Montgomery on three consecutive first-down pass plays, setting up Frederic Bruno's eight-yard touchdown run.

The Wildcats made history on their second-quarter scoring drive. Fluellen found Logan Masters for a 16-yard gain to the Concordia 41-yard line, giving Masters a pass reception in an NCAA Div. II record 45 games. The drive ended when Fluellen and Pulscher hooked up on a short five-yard pass as Wayne State took a 14-7 lead into the locker room.

Wayne State's special teams had an interesting day. While the team's kick coverage was the best its been all year, the punting unit had a difficult day. Both punters, Randy Weich and Jacob Bell, were unable to get off kicks and were sacked for losses.

Winside earns trip to district volleyball final

BATTLE CREEK - Last year, Winside's volleyball team fell one match short of the state tournament.

This year, they're back in a familiar place after surviving a comeback by Newman Grove to take the D1-6 subdistrict crown with a five-set win, winning 25-15, 25-18, 23-25, 23-25, 15-10.

The 19-8 Wildcats now have one more hurdle to clear for their first state tournament appearance in 16 years, and that's just where coach Teresa Watters said her team wants to be right now.

"This is what they've been working for, and I don't think it matters now who we're playing. They just want to make sure they're still playing," she said.

The upstart Bluejays made sure Winside didn't cruise to Thursday's district final, though, as they played a spirited match Tuesday at Battle

Knights knock out Wayne's upset hopes

By MICHAEL CARNES Of The Herald

NORFOLK - One week earlier, Wayne nearly pulled off a big upset at Norfolk Catholic.

The Knights quickly made certain there would be no second chance for the Blue Devils.

Norfolk Catholic scored on their first two possessions, added two more scores in the final 90 seconds of the first half, and cruised to a 49-7 win over the Blue Devils in the first round of the Class C1 playoffs Thursday night at Memorial Field.

The loss ended Wayne's season with a 4-5 record, and coach Rich Rethwisch said he knew his team would face a tough challenge.

"We gave all our heart and soul (to beating Norfolk Catholic) one week earlier, and then we had to come back here and try to do the same thing," he said. "That a lot to ask of any player, to come back and play with that same passion a week later. We just couldn't find anything early and couldn't stop them."

The Knights marched quickly down the field on their first drive, going 76 yards in five plays. Kelby Seyl, who scored the game-winning touchdown in the Knights' 12-7 comeback win over Wayne a week earlier, found the end zone from 40 yards out to get Norfolk Catholic on the scoreboard.

The Knights found the end zone on their next drive, with Seyl scoring the second of his three touchdowns on a two-yard run, and it was 14-0 with less than four minutes gone in the first quarter.

While the Knights' offense got a quick start, Wayne couldn't get out of the starting blocks against a stiff Norfolk Catholic defense that forced six three-and-outs in Wayne's first seven possessions. Wayne was limited to 17 yards in total offense and one first down in the first half, and when the Knights put two more scores on the board in a 68-second span late in the half,

Wayne State set to host cross country regional Saturday

By MICHAEL CARNES
Of The Herald

Some of the top cross country runners in NCAA Div. II will hit the ground running, literally, here in Wayne this weekend.

Wayne State College is the host school for the NCAA Div. II Central Regional cross country meet, which will be held on the college campus and adjacent Wayne Country Club Saturday beginning at 10 a.m. The 6,000-meter women's race will get the day started, while the men will compete in a 10,000-meter race at 11:15 a.m.

The Central Regional is arguably the toughest region in the country for cross country. Three of the top five men's teams in the nation will be at this meet, led by defending champion Adams State. Second-ranked Western State and fifth-ranked Colorado School of Mines will also be among the 20 men's teams who will compete.

A total of 23 women's teams are scheduled to take part in the event, highlighted by defending women's champion Adams State. The top five men's teams and the top six women's teams, along with the top two runners from non-qualifying teams, will advance to the national championships, scheduled for Saturday, Nov. 21 in Evansville, Ind.

Wayne State coach Marlon Brink is optimistic about how his teams will perform on their home course with a trip to nationals on the line.

"Our goal for the women is to get into the top 10, and I think we're right on the bubble," he said. "Our highest finish was 10th in 2006, and we'd like to top that. I think if we have a good race from all five scoring runners, I think we can break into the top 10."

NCAA Div. II

Leading the way will be senior Megan Zavorka, who has been the team's leading runner throughout the season and could be a contender for one of the individual qualifying spots at nationals.

"Megan has been running really consistently the whole season, and she definitely has a shot at being a national qualifier," Brink said. "There are a couple of girls from our conference and another from the RMAC that she'd have to beat out, but if she runs a great race I think she has a shot at nationals."

Brink said that senior Sarah Thomsen and freshman Ky'Lee Engelken have both performed well down the stretch, and he is hoping for good things from those two runners as well.

"Sarah usually finishes the season strong, and she's a senior so with this being her last meet I'm sure she'll be up and ready to go," Brink said. "Ky'Lee has run really well for us as a freshman, so I'm excited to see how she does."

The Wayne State men have a young group that are led by junior York Thomas, a second-team All-NSIC runner who has competed well and could finish among the top 30 runners in this week's meet, Brink said.

"If York can get under 33 minutes, that would be a personal best and I think that could get him in the top 30," he said. "The top 15 in this region usually end up as All-Americans, so to get in the top 30 would be a very respectable finish for him."

Junior John Kern has run near the front of the pack for the Wildcats as well, and if he can overcome some recent injuries, Brink feels he could finish the season strong as well.

"He's been running quite well, but he struggled at the conference meet and started hurting, and we're not sure what it was. He has the ability to run with York and they always train together, so hopefully we can get that figured out and get him running his best Saturday."

Having the home course serve as the host for regionals should give the Wayne State runners an extra lift as well, Brink said.

"I think it will help us a fair amount," he said. "I don't know how many seconds it can knock off, but having family and friends there to cheer us on has to be worth something, and hopefully it will give them a little more adrenaline and make them run a bit faster."

Creek High School and came back from a two-set deficit to send the match to the limit.

"Newman Grove had a couple of nice outside hitters and some aggressive servers, and we struggled with it at times," Watters said. "Newman Grove has a quick and solid team and they did a really nice job defensively, but we were able to push through and get it done in the fifth set."

The Wildcats had a balanced attack at the net, led by Shelby Lienemann's 10 kills. Audrey Roberts had eight kills, Erin Gray added six and Jerree Doffin put down four kills and had six blocks.

"Erin and Jerree both did a good job protecting the net for us, and Jerree had some nice blocks at some key times," Watters said. "Our back row also did a great job on defense and Jordan Roberts set the ball well and made some good sets on some tough passes."

Roberts had 27 set assists on the night and was co-leader with Lienemann in digs with 23. Cassie Mrsny added 21 digs, Audrey Roberts had 11 and Doffin and Nazya Thies had 10 apiece.

On Monday, the Wildcats outlast Clearwater/Orchard, winning 25-19, 25-14, 23-25, 25-15. Lienemann had 13 kills and Gray added 11, while Doffin had eight kills and five blocks. Thies and Jordan Roberts each had four ace serves.

Allen sweeps Pender, on to district finals

WINNEBAGO - The Allen Lady Eagles struggled with their serving, but had no troubles getting out of the D1-6 subdistrict to earn a shot at a trip to the state tournament.

Allen took care of Emerson-Hubbard in four sets Monday, winning 22-25, 25-21, 25-21, 25-15; then swept Pender in Tuesday's subdistrict final at Winnebago High School, winning 25-21, 25-16, 25-22. The wins put Allen in the D1-3 district final at a site to be determined for a 7 p.m. game Thursday against Howells, who defeated Allen earlier in the season.

Coach Cheryl Greve said she was happy with the play of the 16-14 Lady Eagles.

"I thought we played pretty well in these two matches," she said. "Our serving was a little inconsistent, but it's something we can fix. I thought overall that we executed our offense pretty well."

The Lady Eagles stumbled briefly against Emerson-Hubbard in the first round, and Greve said the Pirates came out with a good early effort.

"They came out ready to play and really played hard, but we served better the last three games and really tried to get the ball to Ashlee (Hingst) and she did a nice job at the net for us."

Hingst recorded a season-high 20 kills and had four of Allen's 23 ace serves on the night. Shannon Sullivan and Bentley Hingst each had six kills, Sullivan had six ace serves and Hannah Finnegan directed the offense with 30 set assists.

Allen faced a Pender team that showed some quickness on defense, but Allen was able to work around the Pender attack with Sullivan's 12 kills and Bentley Hingst's 10 slams leading the way.

"Pender had a couple of big blockers in the middle and were quick defensively, but we were able to work around that and get some good play at the net," Greve said. "Our hitters were swinging at the ball pretty well, and we also had 16 ace serves, which was a big help."

Sullivan had six ace serves and Ashlee Hingst and Brittney Sullivan each had three aces to highlight the Allen serve game.

The Lady Eagles lost to Howells earlier in the year at the Scribner-Snyder Invite, and Greve looks for another tough matchup as her team tries to earn a trip to the state tournament.

"Howells has twin sisters who are 6-foot tall, and they also have a good outside hitter," Greve said. "They're a pretty solid team, and we'll need to try to get our blocks up and play hard."

Allen gets big road playoff win

FALLS CITY - Allen got down early, but came back strong to advance in the first round of the Class D2 state football playoffs.

The visiting Eagles gave up an early second-quarter touchdown to Falls City Sacred Heart, then responded by scoring the game's final 40 points to pull away with a 46-8 win over the Fighting Irish Thursday evening, earning the Eagles a second-round home matchup with Humphrey St. Francis that was played Wednesday evening (check www.mywaynews.com for highlights).

"It was a great team effort," coach Dave Uldrich said. "To defeat a program with the history and continuity of Falls City Sacred Heart is a huge win for our program."

A.J. Williams got the Eagles on the board with a 66-yard run on their second play from scrimmage. It was the first of two scoring runs for Williams, who finished with 118 yards on 10 carries.

After the Fighting Irish scored on a long pass play and converted the two-point pass to take an 8-6 lead, it was all Allen as the Eagles exploded in the middle two periods.

Cody Stewart gave Allen the lead for good with the first of four touchdowns he converted on the night. His six-yard run midway through the second made it 12-8, and he added a 23-yard run later in the period to give the Eagles a 20-8 halftime edge.

Quarterback Heath Roeber scampered 44 yards on the third play of the second half, Williams added his second touchdown on an eight-yard run and Stewart closed out the scoring with touchdowns coming off both sides of the ball. He returned a fumble 36 yards for a score and capped a 12-carry, 161-yard night with a 35-yard run late in the third period.

"Our lines, both offensively and defensively, provided us opportunities all night, and the backs on offense and our linebackers and corners on defense did a super job with their assigned tasks."

The Eagles finished the night with 411 yards in total offense, while the defense gave up 295 yards. Stewart led the team with 15 tackles, Williams added 11 and Austin Roeber contributed 10 tackles. Heath Roeber picked off a pair of passes.

The Eagles were to set their sights on Humphrey St. Francis Wednesday, who pummeled Newcastle 78-6 in the opening round. Allen had similar success against the Raiders, winning 64-8 earlier in the year, but Uldrich knows his team will face a stiff test against the perennial power Flyers.

"We look forward to taking our best shot at a very good St. Francis team," he said.

Hot start by Wakefield cooled off in C2-5 subdistrict finals

By MICHAEL CARNES
Of The Herald

Wakefield carried the momentum of an easy first-round win in the C2-6 subdistrict into the first set of Tuesday's championship match, but lost it and couldn't find a way to get it back in time.

As a result, Bancroft-Rosalie overcame the early one-set deficit and put away the Trojans in four sets to take the title at Wayne High School, ending Wakefield's season with a 14-25, 25-18, 26-24, 25-13 defeat.

The Trojans got off to a good start against the top-seeded Panthers and rolled to an easy win, but Bancroft-Rosalie jumped out to a 4-0 lead in the second set and seemed to take the momentum away from Wakefield at that point.

"I think their back-row attack threw us off a little bit and got us out of sync, and it seemed like we just struggled to get the momentum back after that," coach Megan Nixon said.

The Trojans got a good start thanks to the net play of junior Keri Lunz, who had a pair of kills and a block in a three-point rally that put Wakefield ahead to stay in the first set. Wakefield extended its lead to 14-6 in the first set on a kill by Abby Schultz and a pair of Panther miscues, and Jenna Henderson blocked a Bancroft-Rosalie attack to give the Trojans the first set.

"We're a team that feeds off of hitters, and different girls have stepped up for us this season," Nixon said. "It was Morgan's turn there in that first set and she really stepped up for us."

Bancroft-Rosalie scored the first four points of the second set and jumped out to a quick 10-3 lead, and it seemed Wakefield struggled to find a rhythm after that.

The Trojans did make a game of it in the third set. Trailing 19-13, Wakefield ran off seven straight points to take a 20-19 lead. But a key call on a play where a Wakefield player was called for a deflection that did not appear to be a deflection became a rallying point for the Panthers, and they dominated the match from there.

"We had that one back-row attack where they called a tip on us, and it kind of threw us off and really shifted the momentum," Nixon said. "We were battling back through it, but it just wasn't there for us."

Lunz had 17 kills and three ace serves to lead Wakefield, who finished the season 14-17. Jenna Henderson had 17 set assists and Erika McNeil added 12. Abby Schultz led a balanced defense with 15 digs.

Wakefield advanced to the subdistrict final with an easy three-set win over Homer, winning 25-23, 25-19, 25-23.

"We played a lot like we did in the first set (against Bancroft-Rosalie)," Nixon said. "We never let up when they'd get a run going and just got good play all around and had things clicking."

Lunz had 18 kills and Morgan Lunz added nine for Wakefield in the win. Henderson had 20 set assists and Sydney Rose had 16 digs.

Winside falls victim in playoff upset to Emerson-Hubbard, 22-14

By LEE KOCH
Special to The Herald

WINSIDE - The Wildcats couldn't seal the deal as Winside lost the rematch to visiting Emerson-Hubbard 22-14 on a rainy Thursday night in the first round of the Class D1 state football playoffs.

Winside, who had defeated the Pirates 26-12 in week four of the regular season, had problems on offense in the first quarter, ending the period with a minus-1 yard of offense on the rain-slickened and muddy field.

The Pirates opened the scoring with 2:17 to go in the first quarter on an eight-play scoring drive, ending in a seven-yard touchdown run by running back Scott Servino to give the visitors an 8-0 lead.

Wildcat head coach Mark Koch said, "Drawing Emerson-Hubbard for the playoffs was not the best draw for us. Through my experience as a coach it is always tough to beat the same team twice. I felt both teams made some good adjustments for the second game."

The Wildcats mounted a pair of second-quarter scoring drives that were plagued by miscues, keeping the home team off the scoreboard. Kalin Koch's 47-yard run to the Pirate 15-yard line was stopped when the Wildcats fumbled on the ensuing play. The next possession saw the Wildcats advance the ball to the Emerson-Hubbard 25-yard line before 25 yards in penalties placed the Wildcats in a fourth-and-8 situation, forcing a Winside punt from their own 38-yard line.

Koch added, "However, in games like this and under the weather conditions, the team that takes care of the ball and makes the fewer mistakes generally comes out on top. We had too many penalties and turnovers at inopportune times. Emerson-Hubbard played a good game and I wish them the best of luck throughout the playoffs."

Winside closed the gap to 8-6 on a six-play drive covering 36 yards, ending in an Anthony Nelson score from the 12-yard line with two minutes left in the third quarter. The Wildcats sandwiched a five-play scoring drive covering 45 yards between a pair of Pirate scores to reach the final score of 22-14, eliminating Winside from the state football playoffs.

Koch added 146 yards rushing on 24 carries, bringing his season total to 970 yards for the year and gave the senior running back a school eight-man record of 3,079 yards gained on the ground. Nelson gained 68 yards on 15 carries, with Kelby Prince adding 10 yards on two carries to the Wildcat rushing total.

Prince led the Wildcat defensive effort with a season-high 17 tackles, including three solos and 14 assists. Nelson contributed 13 stops to the Winside defensive effort, while Brad Doffin and Justin Buresh each had a fumble recovery.

Sage Schwedhelm and Zach Brokaw added a dozen tackles apiece for the Wildcats, while Buresh (nine tackles), Jordan Nelson and Doffin with seven stops each also added tackles for the Wildcat defense.

Coach Koch said, "As far as the season goes, this year was a good season for us. Our goals at the beginning of the year were to make the playoffs and win the district. We started the season with two losses. After making some changes in our offense and defense and making a quarterback change, our season got back on track.

"We reached our goals by qualifying for the playoffs for the sixth consecutive year and won our district. It would have been nice for our season to go on for a couple of more playoff games. This year's team worked through some adversity during the year and really came together."

He added, "I am very proud of our players and how hard they worked throughout the season. We finished the season with a 6-2 regular season record and an overall record of 6-3."

Bergan defense shuts down Laurel-Concord

FREMONT - Laurel-Concord's hopes of pulling off a first-round road upset were soundly defeated by a tough Fremont Bergan defense.

The Knights converted two Bear turnovers into points and never let the Laurel-Concord offense get on track, ending the Bears' season with a 32-0 shutout in the first round of the Class C2 playoffs Thursday at Christensen Field.

Laurel-Concord, which started the year 4-0, was shut down by a solid Fremont Bergan defense.

"Their defense really had our number," coach Terry Beair said of the defeat. "They have one of the best linebackers around that did a lot of things right. I thought we matched up well with them size-wise, but they were quick and did a lot of things right."

The Knights went to the air on a rainy night for their first score, as Riley Gross tossed a 61-yard pass to Josh Boggs in the first period. Bergan added a pair of short touchdown runs to take a 20-0 halftime lead and cruised from there.

"They had a pretty good scheme," Beair said. "We shut down their passing game, but their running game kept our defense on the field the whole night and our offense was three-and-out most of the night. We just couldn't establish any field position, and they were able to control the ball and keep it on our side of the field."

Laurel-Concord did have one threat to score after Johnny Saunders went 50 yards on a screen pass from Travis Nelson. The Bergan defense stiffened and kept the Bears out of the end zone, ending the team's 5-4 record.

"I was hoping we could have done better this year, but after the loss to (Hartington) Cedar Catholic, it seemed like we lost our mojo and couldn't really get it back," Beair said. "We faced some tough teams like Cedar and Ponca, and those were tough games to bounce back from."

Wayne sees upset hopes thwarted by 49-7 defeat

it was 28-0 and Wayne's comeback hopes were all but done.

Norfolk Catholic scored on its first two possessions of the second half, and the final 22 minutes of the game were played with a running clock due to the 35-point rule. Wayne avoided the shutout midway through the final period when Derek Poutre got loose on a 20-yard gallop to the end zone with 7:57 to go in the game.

Poutre led the Wayne offense with 57 yards on seven carries, accounting for almost half of the Blue Devils' 119 yards in total offense. Darnell Collins had 35 yards on seven tries.

The loss ended the Blue Devils'

4-5 season, but Rethwisch said he was proud of the effort the team put out throughout what has been a challenging schedule.

"We knew it was going to be hard and it would be a lot of work, but I can't thank these kids enough," he said. "They were absolutely easy to coach and they played hard throughout the year. They got that big win against Battle Creek and played Norfolk Catholic tough earlier in the year. I couldn't ask for anything more out of them."

Rethwisch also gave kudos to the 15 seniors who played their final game in a Blue Devil uniform.

"I'm so proud of all the seniors," he said. "They worked hard and played hard and really came out and represented themselves well."

They kept their heads and really showed their character tonight. They don't like ending it like this, but they're going to handle it and that's the kind of character you want those kids to have."

Wildcats hang on for 26-21 win over Concordia

its been all year, but we had two situations where our punters got sacked, which is like a blocked kick, and we also had a point-after kick blocked," McLaughlin said. "It was a rollercoaster kind of day."

The Wildcats appeared to be in good shape late in the third period when Masters caught a 17-yard touchdown pass from Fluellen, who finished the day with 369 yards passing on 31-of-48 completions.

But Concordia responded with a pair of touchdowns, one coming on a trick play when Sam Campbell took a pitch from quarterback Mitch Brecke and found the quarterback for an 18-yard scoring pass early in the fourth period. Campbell's 10-yard run with 6:28 to go gave the hosts their only lead of the game at 21-20.

Wayne State, which has made a name for itself with game-ending scoring drives, came though again on its final drive.

Fluellen found Masters for 14 yards and he called his own number for 14 more yards to the Concordia 47-yard line. Robert Perry caught a 10-yard pass on third down to keep a drive alive, and Fluellen and Masters hooked up on a 28-yard strike to the Concordia 7-yard line. Three plays later, Pulscher bowled over for the winning score, and the defense sealed the deal with Richard Daniel recovered a fumble at the Concordia 40-yard line with 1:00 to go.

"As a whole, I thought our defense played really well today," McLaughlin said, singling out the work of the defensive line of Jeff Pokorny, Michael Bazata, Cody swanson, Mark Jansen and Kirkland Grant. "They really played well for us."

The Wildcats close out the regular season Saturday with their annual Egg Bowl game against the University of Mary at 1 p.m.

"Mary was an NAIA power before they came into the league," McLaughlin said. "They've struggled some this year, but they're a tough team and we're going to have to play well."

"Playoffs or not, McLaughlin said a win Saturday will cap an excellent season for the Wildcats.

"We have a chance to be 8-3, and that's a great season when you look at our history," he said. "We've won eight or more games only three times the last 25 years, so there's a lot to play for whether or not we make the playoffs."

Lady Bears reclaim NENAC title

By MICHAEL CARNES
Of The Herald

PLAINVIEW – After losing the first set and trailing in the third, in the NENAC championship match, the Laurel-Concord Lady Bears got down to business.

An early time out and a rather intense discussion between coach Patti Cunningham and her team got the Lady Bears back on track, allowing them to defeat Creighton in four sets to reclaim the conference crown that they last won in 2007, winning 21-25, 25-17, 25-23, 25-14 at Plainview High School.

The usually calm-and-collected Cunningham left little doubt that she was less than satisfied with her team's play when they fell behind 5-2 in the third set. With the match tied at a set apiece, she didn't want them to lose focus.

"Serving and passing is always the difference, and we didn't have a lot of that intensity early on and I felt we needed to get that back," she said.

It took a few points after the time out before Laurel-Concord got going, but once they did, they dominated the final two sets to walk away with the conference title.

The comeback started when Taryn Dahlquist nailed a spike off a Jade Cunningham set, sparking a four-point rally that cut the Creighton lead to 9-6. After trading side outs, the Lady Bears went on a four-point rally, highlighted by kills from Amy Pritchard and blocks by Pritchard and Mandy Nelson, to take an 11-10 lead.

The set was hotly contested until late, when Cunningham dumped a set into the back row to tie the match at 19-19 and Pritchard, who had a team-high 16 kills, slammed a kill off a Creighton block to give the Lady Bears a 20-19 advantage. A Creighton hitting error made it 21-19, and Dahlquist, who added 11 kills, ended the set with a spike off a Cunningham set.

Laurel-Concord trailed early in the final set, but a Creighton error and a Dahlquist kill gave them the lead for good and Pritchard closed out the match with a spike off a Nelson assist.

Lady Bears fall in subdistrict

O'NEILL – Hopes for reaching the state volleyball tournament came to an abrupt halt for Laurel-Concord in the first round of the C2-6 subdistrict Monday night.

The Lady Bears were swept by West Holt, losing 25-23, 25-22, 25-18 to end the season at 20-9.

"Unfortunately we didn't play with that insatiable desire and determination to succeed no matter what the circumstances are," coach Patti Cunningham said.

Senior Taryn Dahlquist had 12 kills and three blocks, Amy Pritchard added nine kills and Emma Engebretsen had six kills. Jade Cunningham had 32 assists and Audrey Kastrup had 14 digs.

"We just had to keep working and not doubt ourselves, and we came out and played well after that," Dahlquist, the team's 6-foot-1 senior middle hitter, said. "We're really playing well and I feel we've got ourselves in a good place going into districts."

The Lady Bears had solid net play for much of the night, with Cunningham adding nine kills and Lexi White putting down eight. Cunningham had 35 set assists and three ace serves, while Audrey Kastrup led the team with 24 digs.

Wildcat netters gearing up for final run

Wayne State volleyball coach Scott Kneifl likes where his team is at heading into the home stretch of the season.

"We've talked about how we want to peak at the end of the year, and we're going to keep working hard the next couple of weeks," he said. "We have a couple of matches against top 25 teams, and if you can't get excited about playing those matches this time of year, then something's wrong."

Wayne State gave top-ranked and two-time defending national champion Concordia St. Paul its toughest match of the season, falling to the Golden Bears in St. Paul, Minn. Saturday, 25-23, 25-23 and 25-16.

"It was frustrating for us, because we're trying to find ways to win those points in close sets against great teams, and it came down to who made those plays at the ends of those sets and they made a few more than we did," Kneifl said. "They're the best right now, and we want to try and beat the best and I feel we're not far away."

Jennifer Hefner notched 11 kills and Tali Fredrickson added 10 for the Wildcats. Setter Diedra Artz had 29 set assists while libero Leigh Connot was credited with 12 digs to lead the Wayne State defense.

The Wildcats easily defeated St. Cloud State in conference action Friday at St. Cloud, Minn., winning 25-15, 25-19, 25-17.

"We went into St. Cloud and played really well and were focused early on," he said. "St. Cloud plays at a slower pace that threw us off a bit, but we did a nice job handling their offense and our offense did a nice job producing kills for us."

Hefner led the way for the Wildcats with 11 kills, freshman Madison Pernicek added 10 and Fredrickson had eight. Artz handed out 34 assists, Leigh Connot had a team-high 17 digs and Fredrickson added 11. Mindy Moody had seven blocks and Shelby Schultz and Pernicek each added three blocks.

On Tuesday, the Wildcats dropped a four-set decision on the road at fourth-ranked Nebraska-Kearney, losing 25-15, 25-14, 21-25, 25-17.

The Wildcats struggled out of the gate, hitting at a minus-.030 in the first two sets. The Wildcats bounced back in the third set with 12 kills and had a 9-5 lead in the fourth set, but the Lopers scored five straight points to retake the lead, then pulled away down the stretch to end the match in four sets.

Hefner had nine kills and seven blocks to lead Wayne state, while Fredrickson added eight kills and Moody and Schultz had seven apiece. Artz had 31 set assists and Connot led the defense with 24 digs.

The Wildcats, 24-6, have three home games in five days to close out the home portion of their schedule. They host No. 16 Minnesota Duluth Friday at 7 p.m., meet Bemidji State Saturday at 4 p.m. and host Augustana Tuesday at 7 p.m. at Rice Auditorium. They close out the regular season next weekend at Minnesota Crookston and Minnesota State.

Wildcats fall in exhibition to SD State

The Wayne State College women's basketball team fell to NCAA Div. I South Dakota State 93-51 Sunday afternoon in an exhibition game played at Brookings, S.D.

The host Jackrabbits, who return four starters from last year's 32-3 squad, shot 54.5 percent (37-of-68) for the game while racing out to a 44-18 halftime lead against the Wildcats.

Junior center Mara Hjelle led Wayne State with 13 points on 6-of-13 shooting from the field. She also led the Wildcats in rebounding with eight caroms. Sophomore Ashley Arlen, a transfer from Iowa State, also reached double figures for the Wildcats with 11 points and seven boards.

Wayne State shot 35.6 percent from the field, making 16-of-45 shots. The Wildcats were just 1-of-12 from the three point line and 18-of-30 at the free throw stripe.

Wayne State is scheduled to open the 2009-10 regular season on Sunday, Nov. 15 at the Super 8 Tipoff Classic in Aberdeen, S.D. against Colorado School of Mines at 6 p.m.

Rugby team hosts South Dakota

The Wayne State College women's rugby team will look to close out a 10-0 regular season this weekend as they take on South Dakota in a match at The House of Pain in Wayne.

Kickoff for the matchup at the complex, located on East Fourth Street, is Sunday at 1 p.m. Admission is free.

Coach Darrin Barner said the Wildcats will face either Texas Tech or LSU in the playoffs, which will be played next spring.

"I came to Wayne about 5 years ago for a job opportunity and along the way have made many friends. About a year and a half ago I went back to school and in August received my licenses for massage therapy. I stayed in Wayne and opened my own massage practice in with Peterson Therapy Services because of the tremendous support I have received from friends, other massage therapists, and the entire business community in Wayne. I believe everything happens for a reason, and the doors of opportunities for me in Wayne have opened in a way that has been very synchronistic. It seems it is meant to be. I now have my own business and the best job in the world. I am proud my job helps make people feel better one person at a time, and I am proud to call Wayne home!"

Occupation: Network and Technology Services, Wayne State College

"Growing up in Wayne meant sports camps at WSC, endless hours swimming, and trips to the library. I held pride in Wayne High sports and carried on band traditions. Events like the Chicken Show, Homecomings, WSC Athletics and concerts always gave us something to do. Looking ahead, it is great to know the opportunities I enjoyed in my youth will be available when Kristine and I start our family. Kristine and I have had many experiences traveling around and outside the United States. People should take time to live life and experience the world, but have a place to call home. Wayne is that place for us. We enjoy spending time with our parents, walking the community trail, golfing with friends and family, and we look forward to the events we've discovered as a couple in Wayne. If someone speaks of Wayne with the words 'No opportunities', ask them, 'Have you truly experienced Wayne?'"

PTK installs officers, new members at NCC

Phi Theta Kappa, Tau Chi Chapter, at Northeast Community College in Norfolk recently installed new officers and hosted a Phi Theta Kappa Induction Ceremony for new members.

Since the installation of Northeast's Tau Chi chapter in 1996, some 1,902 students have been inducted into the honor society which recognizes academic excellence.

New officers include FayeMarie Roeber, Wayne, chapter president; Chelsea Spiegel, Norfolk, president of communications; Ashley Simoni, Norfolk, president of service; Megan Eggers, Tilden, vice president of scholarship; Emily Kreutz, Aurelia, Iowa, vice president of service; Maria Spenner, West Point, vice president of leadership; Melanie Veik, Humphrey, recording secretary, and Alyssa Fischer, Hartington, public relations secretary.

For more than 80 years, membership in Phi Theta Kappa has signified a singular honor and a willingness to embrace the Society's shared commitment to academic excellence.

The Northeast students who were recently inducted into PTK have earned at least 12 credit hours and achieved a minimum grade point average of 3.5 or above out of a 4.0 system.

The following were welcomed to PTK during the Fall Induction Ceremony:

Jenny Warner of Allen; Peggy Hank of Carroll and Corrine Volk of Wayne.

Phi Theta Kappa sponsors are math instructor John Miller, wellness/aerobics instructor Amy Ries, and English instructors Julie Ptacek-Wilkey and Bonnie Johnson-Bartee.

Sedivy receives Oswald Outstanding Service award

"Completely surprised and extremely honored," is the way that Bruce Sedivy described his reaction when it was announced that he was the recipient of the Gerald S. Oswald Outstanding Service Award.

Sedivy received the award at the annual Nebraska Speech, Communication and Theatre Association's annual convention held recently at the Kearney Ramada Inn.

Sedivy is a Ewing High School graduate and received his Bachelor of Arts in Education from Wayne State College where he was involved in the speech and debate teams. He and his wife, Lisa, have lived in Waverly for the past 29 years. Bruce is the son of Ray Sedivy of Wayne.

Retiring in May of this year, after 35 years of teaching, coaching speech and directing plays at Friend and Waverly Public Schools, Sedivy was a contemporary of Oswald.

"Gerald was one of those individuals who would not hesitate to help another speech coach, because he knew that ultimately the students would benefit," Sedivy said of Oswald.

According to letters of recommendation submitted by his most recent principal, Ryan Ricenbaw, a former student and current collegiate speech coach, Charlie Parrott; and his 2008-09 speech team, Sedivy too, 'has gone above and beyond to ensure success in the speech program,' "is committed to his work," and "is dedicated to his students."

Present at the awards ceremony, along with his wife, Lisa, were Amy Blomenberg and Ben Sedivy, two of Sedivy's children who had competed on their father's teams and in his casts. Ben Sedivy, the Class B state champion in entertaining speaking in 2002, spoke of his father's devotion and sacrifice in order to serve his students "With him, it was never about the final rankings. His goal was to make students better."

Getting Sedivy to the awards luncheon and surprising him with the award did not prove to be a difficult task. Patsy Koch-Johns, the president of hte NSCTA simply asked him to fill in for "a presenter at the convention who had cancelled at the last minute." According to Koch-Johns, he responded immediately that he would be glad to help out. He also had no clue that his wife was privy to the conspiracy, as they had planned to continue on to Colorado to visit their other daughter, Becky, and her family.

Local paraoptometrics attend state convention

Melia Hefti, Sonja Hansen, Lisa Niemann and Brandy Saltzman recently completed the Nebraska Optometric Association Annual Fall Convention in Kearney recently.

The four women are employed by Dr. Larry Magnuson and Dr. Joshua Hopkins of Magnuson Hopkins Eye Care.

Excellent educational opportunities were available to the almost 200 paraoptometrics who attended the conference.

Classes included information on instrumentation, anatomy of the eye, children's vision, referrals, reports and more.

A motivational speaker provided courses on management, team building and excellent customer service.

Paraoptometrics are allied health professionals who assist optometrists in providing their highest level of vision care to patients.

Front office procedures, chair-side assisting, pre-testing, contact lens instruction, frame styling and fitting and vision therapy are some of the duties paraoptometrics perform while working directly with an optometrist.

The Nebraska Optometric Association represents over 200 doctors of optometry throughout the state.

Licensed optometrist provide more than two-thirds of all primary eye care in the United States, including diagnosis and treatment of eye disease and vision conditions.

Association members in Nebraska are also leading providers of pediatric vision care and offer two statewide public service programs to serve children.

Optometrists offer free vision evaluations for any infant through the Infant SEE program and free vision assessments for all three-year-olds through the See to Learn program. Information about both programs is available to consumers on the NOA Website at www.nebraska.aoa.org.

Keeping our priorities

By CRAIG R. CHRISTIANSEN
Executive Director
Nebraska State
Education Association

Our nation is in the throes of what economists are now calling the Great Recession. No one is isolated from the impact of the current economic downturn. Jobs are being lost, businesses are closing or scaling back, credit is tight, family budgets are in trouble, sales are down, and tax revenues are decreasing. The Governor has called the Legislature back to Lincoln for a Special Session to address the tax shortfall. Some say that state funding of public education will receive the biggest cut, because it is such a large part of the state budget. The common knowledge seems to be that it is the natural target for budget cuts because it is the biggest target.

It is a foolish argument. State funding of education is such a large portion of the state budget for the simple reason that it is such an important priority to this state. Yes, it is a major portion of the state budget. Past generations of Nebraskans have made public schools a priority of state funding. And now is not the time to back away from our priorities.

Economists tell us that when the economic growth trend shifts down during a recession or depression, the simple fact is that it will never recover to the point it would have been, even if the growth rate returns to its former value. That fundamental understanding applies to education as well. When state funding drops for any length of time, it does not "recover" by meeting needs that have gone unmet. A student who misses a quality fourth grade experience does not benefit if quality is restored after she is gone. That is why education has been a priority for this state during the worst economic times. That must not change.

Legislative Update

Special session should not change state aid to schools

Greetings from the Unicameral! My fellow senators and I will be returning to the Capitol this week to convene in a special session to address Nebraska's growing budget crisis.

Last week, we learned that our revenue shortfall over the two-year budget cycle has grown to an estimated $335 million. Because the special session was called pursuant to the Governor's authority in Article IV, Section 8 of the Nebraska Constitution, the Legislature will be limited in the actions we can take to address this shortfall. Governor Heineman has made it clear that tax increases will not be on the table, and it is likely that significant use of the state's cash reserve fund will not be an option, either.

In the education committee, the special session will likely bring proposals to cut state aid to K-12 schools. Given the fact that many school districts have already set their 2009-2010 budgets based on prior state aid amounts, potential cuts to this year's budget would leave districts with no choice but to raise local property taxes. While, undoubtedly, all areas of the budget will face some level of cuts during the special session, I do not support changing the state aid formula for this school year. School officials have already made a number of tough choices in these difficult economic times - forcing them to make further cuts this year with little to no warning would be devastating to communities throughout Nebraska.

For those District 17 residents who were unable to attend my previous town hall meetings, I am pleased to announce the details for the meeting to be held next month. It will be held Sunday, Nov. 29, at 2 p.m. at St. Peter's Hall, located at 407 Annie St., in Newcastle. Refreshments will be provided.

As always, I would encourage you to contact me if you have any questions or simply have an opinion on legislation before the Unicameral. Feel free to call my office at (402) 471-2716, e-mail bgiese@leg.ne.gov, or stop by in person any time you're in Lincoln.

Capitol View

Sometimes, reality bites

By ED HOWARD
Statehouse Correspondent
The Nebraska Press Association

LINCOLN — Give Sen. Lavon Heidemann some more points for plain-language candor as the Legislature looks at ways to reduce state spending.

Heidemann, who chairs the budget-writing Appropriations Committee, recently reiterated that every agency and every program will be subject to possible spending cuts during the November special session.

"Nobody likes to hear that, but it's just reality and, sometimes, reality bites!"

That's called putting the hay down where the goats can get at it, as someone once said.

Gov. Dave Heineman's proposals for erasing some of the state's red ink weren't available at this writing.

The view from here: At this writing, there is no view from here. For the first time in 35 years we don't have a grasp of how policymakers might fully deal with the anticipated $335.5 million budget shortfall. The only thing that appears to be certain is that higher state sales and income tax rates will not be considered, and the state program for providing some property tax relief apparently will survive intact.

What does innovative mean?

When governors call special legislative sessions they provide an official document, which sets boundaries for what lawmakers can consider. They can be broad or narrow.

Sen. Heath Mello, a member of the appropriations panel, said he hoped Heineman's outline "will allow us to be innovative."

In one news report, the Omaha solon was described as saying state government needs to change the way it does business.

Finally...a place he can call home

My first car was a 1970 Ford Galaxie 500. It was primer gray, got about 20 gallons to the mile, could go from zero to 110 in nothing flat and could comfortably seat about 30 teenagers.

My first kiss was with a girl named Carla who lived in a neighboring community that I met through a circle of friends who, as it turned out, were dating girls in the same town. I remember our teeth clicking the first time we kissed, which turned an awkward moment into a funny tension-breaker.

We all remember those "first" moments in our lives, and I can safely say that I shouldn't have any problem remembering the first time I bought a house.

It actually happened Tuesday afternoon. After more than two decades living out of rental properties in varying states of disrepair, I now have a place that I can call my own...a place that doesn't have neighbors living above me with children who stomp through the house, or neighbors living below me who don't grasp the notion that second-hand marijuana smoke does tend to find its way into the open windows above them.

Not quite a year ago, the thought of owning my own home seemed a distant fantasy. I had accepted that I would never find myself in a situation where I could have a place of my own. Paying rent and having somebody else fix the plumbing, shovel the snow and mow the grass

Question: Could anyone convince the Legislature to change horses in the middle of a declining revenue stream?

About that "family" thing
Governors and lawmakers like to compare government to Nebraska families, saying that when income is reduced, spending must be reduced.

They don't mention, however, that government has a big advantage. It can cut spending simply by telling some local governments and state agencies: "You know that money we said we'd pay you? Well, we ain't gonna do it!"

Families can hardly ring up creditors and announce a similar financial strategy.

Should motorists pay by the mile?

Highway funding always faces a Catch 22. If motorists use more efficient fuel-efficient vehicles, it naturally follows that revenue generated by taxes on fuel are reduced.

The public generally doesn't like the notion of increasing the state tax rate on gasoline and diesel, even if it's only to raise the same amount of revenue previously projected. Consumers anticipate paying less in such taxes after making a change for fuel conservation.

Currently there are ideas - and that's all they are - for adopting other revenue sources. One of them would be the motoring equivalent of a "pay to play" tax.

The feds and some states are studying a program that would require use of a GPS (global positioning system) aboard virtually every vehicle. It would allow the government to track the miles you travel - and effectively bill you accordingly.

Government now has considerable ability to track your spending, phone calls, e-mails and many other activities. Would the citizenry be much concerned if bureaucracies acquired the ability to know how many miles a personal vehicle travels?

Don't get me started

By Michael Carnes
Managing Editor

was just fine with me. Living the life of a self-described "nomadic Nebraskan" seemed to be the way I would go through this world.

This past spring, though, I replaced that thought with a new, exciting idea - having a place that I could call my own, without all the hassles that come with the rental life. For all the conveniences (like those listed earlier), there are a lot of real pains in the butt that I experienced over the years that made me decide to upgrade from perpetual renter to proud home owner.

At one apartment, I lived on the top floor, directly above an individual who thought nothing of smoking pot on his deck once the sun went down. While I don't have a problem with people screwing up their own lives, it becomes a problem when the smoke starts wafting through my open windows. Cigarette smoke stinks enough on its own, but a good whiff of second-hand ditchweed is enough to make you reach for the air freshener and eat an entire bag of Doritos while watching reruns of "The Family Guy."

Another experience of apartment life I'm not going to miss is the random romantic interludes of neighbors above and/or below. When you're trying to nod off after a long day on the job, the last thing you want to hear is the rhythmic crunching of bedsprings and the random expressions of amorous passion between two people of the opposite sex. And if they aren't involved in an expression of love (or lust, I can't tell the two apart sometimes), they're arguing over something of vital importance, like the conflict of network programming when "Desperate Housewives" interferes with "Sunday Night Football." That's something I think we all need to enjoy while we're trying to settle down with a good book and a glass of wine.

And don't get me started on the idiots who take up two parking stalls in an already-overcrowded driveway, then swing their doors open and put a dandy little dent in your vehicle. My car had absolutely no indentations in it when I purchased it last August. Before I could get the license plates attached, it looked like it had been sitting in the middle of driving range. It had more bumps on it than an acne-riddled teenager's face.

Those are but distant memories now that I have my own home. And instead of paying rent, my house payment will actually build equity that I can use down the road for important events...my daughter's wedding, a trip to Aruba or tickets to the Super Bowl (or maybe my daughter's wedding during the Super Bowl with a trip to Aruba afterward...let the good times roll, baby).

More important, though, is that it is a place I can finally call a home... a two-bedroom, two-bath home with a detached two-car garage in the heart of Wayne, America... a place where I can hammer a nail in anywhere I darn well please, paint the walls whatever color trips my trigger, and enjoy the kind of life I've always wanted to have.

It's another one of those special moments in my life that I'll always remember.

And, God willing, it's a place where I'll stay for a long, long time to come.

Character Connections Monthly assembly held at Wayne Elementary

Citizenship was the theme for the Oct. 26 Character Connections assembly at Wayne Elementary School.

Third grade students, under the direction of Mrs. Joan Hansen, Mrs. Peg Lutt and Mrs. Liz Garvin presented the program.

They began with discussing respect for the flag, the Pledge of Allegiance, the Star Spangled Banner and the Preamble to the Constitution.

Third grade students shared their own thoughts about what it means to be a good citizen in our community, school and family.

Students of the Month were recognized and October birthdays were celebrated.

The Character Connections team consists of Mrs. Lisa Meyer, Mrs. Courtney Maas, Mrs. Jodi Lutt, Mrs. Joan Hansen, Mrs. Kim Hix, Ms. Joan Sudmann (Counselor and Team Leader) and Mr. Daryl Schrunck (Principal). The five Character Connections words that are emphasized throughout the school year are Respect, Citizenship, Caring, Responsibility and Perseverance.

Those earning Character Connections awards for October included:

Kindergarten: Rockhill — Leanne Westphal; Meyer — Kaden Hopkins; and Heikes — Reagan Backer.

First grade: Thomas — Reid Korth; Maas — Anaka Krueger; Ostrand — Paige Milliken

Second grade: Suehl — Erin O'Reilly; Jodi Lutt — Cole Hobza; Jaixen — Savannah Leseberg.

Third grade: Garvin — Zach Urbanec; Peg Lutt — Shane O'Donnell; Hansen — Symphony Jareske.

Fourth grade: Hix — Jesus Reyes; Janke — Ethan Jareske; Wall — Kendra Holt.

Briar Cliff inducts 41 students into Honor Society

Briar Cliff University recently inducted 41 students to the University's newly awarded Epsilon Beta chapter of Delta Epsilon Sigma (DES), a national scholastic honor society for students, faculty and alumni of colleges and universities with a Catholic tradition. With BCU chapter established on campus, DES becomes the only honorary society at Briar Cliff that is open to all academic fields.

Among those inducted were Samantha Bock and Lukas Sachau, both of Allen and Alissa Bressler of Hoskins.

"It is a great honor for Briar Cliff University to be awarded the Epsilon Beta chapter of Delta Epsilon Sigma," said William Mangan, Ph.D., vice president for academic affairs at Briar Cliff University. "With the installation of our chapter and the induction of our first student members, the University has another opportunity to recognize academic excellence among our undergraduate and graduate students," Dr. Mangan added. "We are thrilled for our student honorees and pleased that they represent Briar Cliff and Delta Epsilon Sigma."

More than 100 colleges and universities have received charters to establish chapters of Delta Epsilon Sigma.

Membership at the undergraduate level is restricted to junior and senior students in the top 20 percent of their respective classes. Graduate level membership is restricted to students with a minimum grade-point average of 3.75 and who have half of their college degree credits completed.

Blood drive held in Winside

The Siouxland Community Blood Bank conducted a blood drive at Winside High School on Oct. 28.

Those taking part included: Carly Anderson, Sandra Atkins, Caroline Burris, David Decock, Paul Hansen, Peter Hansen, Helen Holtgrew, Phillip Janke, Dean Jensen, Carol Jorgensen, Amber Kittle and Barb Kollath.

Also, Erik Kravig, Donavon Leighton, Jeffrey Messersmith, Lesley Milenkovich, Terry Nelson, Morgan Quinn, James Rabe, Elaine Saul, Barbara Stenwall, Hope Voss, Frederick Weible, Gene Weible and Brandon Wurdeman.

Special congratulations were extended to those who reached gallon milestones:

Sandra Atkins and Phillip Janke — one gallon.

Winside High School's 1st Quarter Perfect Attendance

Congratulations to the following students for perfect attendance for 1st quarter:

Justin Buresh, Blaine Meyer, Hannah Clocker, Abbie Thies, Nazya Thies, Monica Marino, Breanna Elznic, Jade Hogencamp, Morgan Jensen, Cali Jorgensen, Shelby Pesek and Carly Schwager.

Winside Honor Roll criteria

In an effort to recognize a high level of academic achievement in scholastic endeavor, the office will release an honor roll each nine weeks.

The honor roll will be sent to the Wayne Herald each nine weeks for publication.

The Principal's Roll will consist of students who receive all 94 percent or better grades.

To qualify for the honor roll, the students must have all grades 86 percent or higher.

Honorable mention will be given to those students who receive grades with an average of 86 percent or better and no grades lower than 77 percent.

An unsatisfactory report in conduct can eliminate a student from the honor roll by action of the administration.

Grades used in determining the honor roll and honorable mention will include all numerical grades given for classes for which credits are given.

Information on diabetes offered at UNL program

Yes, we have come a long way since we first began working in the field of diabetes education. We now know that the complications associated with diabetes can be prevented or delayed.

Plus our growing knowledge of various foods and their effect on blood sugar levels enables people with diabetes to eat food they like, choose when and how much to eat and still control blood sugar levels.

It is the best time in history to have diabetes, especially in light of the difficulties our parents and grandparents would have encountered had they been diagnosed decades ago.

Today people with diabetes can choose from a wide variety of non-nutritive sweeteners and can even figure out how to fit sugar-containing foods into your meal plan.

With carbohydrate information now readily available for most foods, diabetics can easily learn to count carbohydrates at each meal.

This allows diabetics to fit virtually any food into your meal plan.

Fitting diabetes into your life style is the key message today. Diabetes does not have to dictate how you live.

The University of Nebraska-Lincoln Extension invites you and your family members to participate in a new and exciting diabetes education program. Participants will learn about current issues related to diabetes from educators with over 20 years of team-teaching experience with the in-depth Living with Diabetes series.

On Wednesday, Dec. 2, "Control Diabetes for Life" topics that will be addressed during the two-hour program includes: "Drinking and Diabetes: Should You or Shouldn't You?"; "Modify Family Favorite Recipes"; "A New Year, A New Start"; "Medicare Part D Update"; "De-Stress the Holidays" and a question and answer period with credentialed professionals. Participants will receive recipes for diabetic appropriate foods. Team-teaching the program will be Phyllis Heimann, R.N. & Certified Diabetes Educator; Stacie Petersen, R.N. & Certified Diabetes Educator; Mary Clare Stalp, R.D., L.M.N.T., of Franciscan Care Services in West Point and Debra E. Schroeder, UNL Extension Educator in Cuming County.

The program will be offered on Wednesday, Dec. 2, from 1:30 - 4 p.m., at Our Savior Lutheran Church social room, Wayne.

"Control Diabetes for Life" is a joint project of University of Nebraska-Lincoln Extension and Franciscan Care Services of West Point. The program is offered free-of-charge. "Control Diabetes for Life" will help participants learn to control diabetes and prolong the onset of complications from the disease.

Participants are asked to pre-register for "Control Your Diabetes for Life" by calling UNL Extension-Wayne County 402-375-3310. Register by Monday, Nov. 30, so the proper number of handouts may be prepared. Nebraska School Food Service Association has approved this session for two hours of continuing education credits for food service staff for attending.

Take control your diabetes for life! Start by attending the Dec. 2, distance education program.

MERRY HOMEMAKERS

The Merry Homemakers Club met Oct. 27 in the home of Verlyn Anderson with 12 members present.

Vandelyn Hanson led the business meeting, opening with the Homemakers' Creed. Reports were accepted.

Plans are being made for the annual Christmas Party to be held at the Cedar View County Club in Laurel on Tuesday, Dec. 8 at noon. Following the meal, Secret Sisters will be revealed and gifts exchanged.

Anderson also had the program for the day. She showed her DVD of her trip to Hawaii last winter and her exciting helicopter trip over the island.

Roll call asked each member to name a visit to some place special that they enjoyed.

Anderson served refreshments. The next meeting will be held Tuesday, Nov. 24 at 2 p.m. with Betty Bothwell as hostess and Vandelyn Hanson in charge of the program.

CONCORD QUILTS

Concordia Lutheran Church's quilting season has ended for the year with a display of this year's quilts in the Sanctuary.

Thanks were extended to the Action Committee which chaired this work. Members include Evonne Magnuson, Verlyn Anderson and Lyla Swanson. Thanks were also extended to everyone who measured, sewed and tied to get them completed.

EMS Leadership Conference held in Grand Island

Forty-four individuals attended the sixth annual Emergency Medical Services (EMS) Leadership Conference Oct. 9-10 at the Midtown Holiday Inn in Grand Island.

The conference was sponsored by Central Community College, Nebraska Department of Health and Human Services and the Professional Ambulance Association of Nebraska.

Sessions focused on community para-medicine pilot project, generational differences, leadership case studies, seven keys for effective legislative advocacy, substance abuse in the workplace, and telling the right story about rural EMS.

Local participants included Dwight Lienemann of Hoskins.

American Legion Auxiliary to note birthday

By Beverly A. Neel
Americanism Chairman
American Legion Auxiliary
Department of Nebraska

The American Legion at its first National Convention established the American Legion Auxiliary and the National Charter was granted Nov. 10, 1919. By the time the 1920 National Convention rolled around there were already 1,342 Auxiliary Units across the nation. The Auxiliary held its first National Convention at Kansas City, Mo. in 1921.

You may ask why an Auxiliary was established. In order to answer you need to know a little of our history. For nearly every man in World War I who endured the dangers and hardships of camp, shore and battlefield, there was a woman serving at home to help make possible America's victory - his wife, mother, sister, daughter or granddaughter. The war was won and then the men and women of the armed forces banded together in the establishment of The American Legion to carry forward their services to the country in peacetime.

It was only natural that the women of their families should desire to continue to serve with them. The result was the American Legion Auxiliary, the largest and most influential women's organization of its kind in the world today.

The Founding Purposes for why the Auxiliary was established are few but impact the lives of Americans still today. One of the major activities of the auxiliary is caring for disabled veterans of all wars and conflicts and assisting thousands of other veterans to regain a place in civilian life. Women, who themselves have experienced the sufferings of war; can offer that warmth and understanding which no agency can.

The Auxiliary's Veterans Affairs and Rehabilitation program itself nets over $4 million dollars annually that provides for the needs of Veterans, in VA Medical Centers, Veterans Homes, community care centers as well as a Veteran's residence as well as homeless Veterans.

Along with these dollars, the volunteer hours given to all aspects of the program are comparable to the dollars expended.

The American Legion Auxiliary supports children and youth programs across the Nation as well. Our focus in this area is based upon our pledge to maintain the integrity of the American family. Not a child living, and certainly not a Veteran's child, should be without the necessities of life required to nurture becoming a Great American citizen.

College scholarships are made available nationwide as well as supporting programs that provide an educational experience such as the Americanism Youth Conference held at Freedoms Foundation in Valley Forge, Penn., each spring. This four-day educational opportunity for students in grades 10, 11, and 12 provides a hands-on vision into the establishment of the American ideals of Justice, Freedom, Democracy and Loyalty. Additionally, the Americanism Essay contest is open to students in grades three thru 12. The Girls State program supported by each Department (state) organization is an introduction to how government operates from the town, county, state and national level.

Each of these educational tools are at the expense of the American Legion Auxiliary, because we know educating our youth today will lead them to becoming great American citizens who will carry out their established habits towards "Service Not Self." These specific details for these activities are available through your local Auxiliary Unit.

You will find the Auxiliary in each of your communities serving on local boards, assisting with beautification projects, recycling methods and more all for providing a safe and clean community in which to raise children and spend their retirement years. The Auxiliary is a supporter of Girls and Boys Scout troops, 4-H clubs, summer recreation programs, blood drives, cancer awareness, emergency preparedness programs and more.

From the very beginning, the American Legion Auxiliary realized that security of America depends upon the Nation's ability to defend itself against attack. Auxiliary members are great supporters of our Troops sent into harms way as well as their families back home. Clipping coupons for military commissaries, sending goody boxes to troops here and abroad, petitioning elected officials to maintain the GI Bill benefits for all members of the armed forces, past and present, and over all our members continue to encourage the ideals of Patriotism and Americanism are not lost within our educational systems. Every American needs to know who they are, why they are and become a Great American in their own right. We would expect nothing less from ourselves.

So, this next week wish a hearty "Happy Birthday" to our American Legion Auxiliary Units in Nebraska. Better yet, come join your local Unit and get involved. They are there in "Service Not Self" for you, your community, its children and more importantly the Veteran.

God Bless America!!! Yes, He Has!

Minerva Club learns about covered bridges

The Senior Citizens Center was the site of the Oct. 26 Minerva Club meeting.

President Phyllis Rahn opened the meeting with Joan Burney's "Dead Cat Humor". Ten members answered roll call with their favorite rainy day activity. Minutes from the previous meeting were read and approved.

For the historian's report, Hollis Frese shared pictures from Dorothy Nyberg Huse's book, "History of Wayne County." Members viewed pictures of past members of Minerva, as well as people with a connection to Minerva Club. It was a nice trip down memory lane.

President Phyllis Rahn adjourned the meeting and proceeded with her program. In keeping with the theme of Festivals, Phyllis whisked the group away to Winterset, Iowa for the Madison Covered Bridge Festival. Held the second full weekend in October, visitors can enjoy the continuous entertainment on several stages, view crafts and antiques, taste varieties of foods, and take a bus tour of the world famous covered bridges.

Five of the original 20 covered bridges remain. Six of them, built in the 1800's, have been renovated; however the Cedar Covered Bridge was destroyed by arson and replicated in 2004. The Roseman Covered Bridge is most famous because it played a prominent role in the book and movie The Bridges of Madison County. (Starring in the movie were Clint Eastwood and Meryl Streep.) The Imes Covered Bridge is the oldest remaining covered bridge (built in 1870); Holliswell (the longest at 122 feet) and Cedar were also featured in the above mentioned movie. Length of the bridges ranges from 79 to 122 feet.

Greeting visitors as they enter the Winterset City Park is the Cutler-Donahue Bridge which was moved from near Bevington, Iowa. Customarily, the bridges were named after the nearest resident, but the Hogback took its name from the limestone ridge nearby.

Some bits of interesting trivia: Roofs provided protection for the more expensive heavy planking on the floor of the bridges. It was cheaper to replace a roof than a floor. George Washington Carver resided in Winterset so he could attend Simpson College, walking the 25 miles. The delicious apple was discovered in Madison County in 1872.

Other points of interest in Madison county are museums, the court house, and the Fons and

Porters quilt shop, but no trip to Winterset, Iowa is complete without a tour of John Wayne's birthplace, a tiny four room house filled with authentic furnishings and memorabilia from his many movies. Even though Wayne spent only his first three years in Winterset, he remains its most famous former resident. At the end of Ms. Rahn's program, members stopped by for a photo shoot with no other than... John Wayne...well, his likeness, no less.

The next meeting will be held on Monday, Nov. 9 in the home of Connie Glassmeyer.

Eagles Auxiliary plans upcoming events

The Wayne Eagles Auxiliary met Nov. 2 with President DeAnn Behlers presiding.

A thank you note was received from Iowa City Diabetes Research Center for the $230 donation.

The Eagles will celebrate Home & Family Month from Thanksgiving until Christmas.

The Thanksgiving committee announced the event will be celebrated with a potluck on Saturday, Nov. 14 at 7 p.m. Eagles members are reminded to bring family members and guests. Christmas will be celebrated on Dec. 12 with a pot-luck supper.

The December soup suppers will be held on Thursdays, Dec. 3, 10 and 17. Volunteers are needed to make soup, sandwiches and bars. A sign up sheet is located at the Aerie.

Watkins products can still be ordered until the end of November. The distributors will be set up at the Norfolk mall. Purchases there will be credited to Wayne Eagles if the group's name is mentioned. Contact Cheryl Henschke for further details.

Cec Vandersnick served lunch following the meeting. The next meeting will be Monday, Nov. 16, with Anita Lueschen serving.

LIFE IS FULL OF CHOICES.
YOUR BONDS AND CDs ARE NO EXCEPTION.
You have options when it comes to your maturing bonds and CDs. Let Edward Jones help you decide.
Edward Jones offers a variety of investment choices. Fortunately, if your bonds and CDs are maturing soon, this may be an ideal time to review your overall investment strategy.
CDs are federally insured up to $100,000 (principal and accrued interest). Equity investments are subject to market risks, including the potential loss of principal invested. Equity investments are not fixed-rate investments and may not distribute dividends (income). Bond investments are subject to yield and market value fluctuation. If a bond is sold prior to maturity, the amount received from the sale may be less than the amount originally invested. Bond values may decline in a rising interest rate environment. All CDs sold by Edward Jones are registered with the Depository Trust Corp. (DTC).

Call your local financial advisor today to discover how our personalized approach and long-term philosophy may make sense for your needs.

Wayne Zone LWML Fall Rally in Martinsburg

The Wayne Zone Fall LWML Rally was held Oct. 20, at Trinity Lutheran Church in Martinsburg. The theme was "God Sows and Harvests," based on 2 Corinthians 9:10-12.

Registration began at 9 a.m. and hymn followed at 9:45. Opening devotions were given by Pastor Kenitz of Martinsburg. Patti Mattes, the Host President, gave the welcome. The response was given by Dee Buss of Immanuel Lutheran Church of Laurel.

President Nila Schuttler led the LWML Pledge. She introduced guest Monique Wolske of Tilden, the District President.

Bible Study was held by Pastor Engebretsen of Immanuel Lutheran Church in Laurel. The group sang "I Know that My Redeemer Lives," followed with the Bible Study using Bible verses studying each stanza.

Monique Wolske gave the District Report. The District Convention will be held in Omaha at King of Kings Lutheran Church on June 4-5, 2010. Linda Riser, Past National President, will be the speaker.

Newly elected officers include Rhonda Sebade, secretary and Monica Ebmeier, vice president.

The Ingathering was for "In Christ Jesus Our Savior School" at Winnebago. Pastor Ricky Jacob is the pastor. They have 15 students in pre-school and 12 students, kindergarten through eighth grade.

The Christian Growth committee gave their skit, "Making His Deliveries." Alice Johnson of St. John's in Wakefield was the delegate to the 33rd Biennial Convention in Portland, Ore. She gave her highlights of the Convention and Servant events. There were 39 members in attendance as well as five pastors and two guests.

Pastor Steckling of St. Paul in Winside closed with devotion and the group sang "Serve the Lord with Gladness."

Date set for Methodist Church Holiday Fair

Wayne's First United Methodist Church is busy preparing for the annual Holiday Fair, which will be held Nov. 21, from 10 a.m. to 1:30 p.m.

There will be many old favorites appearing at the fair this year, as well as a few new additions.

The United Methodist Women are busy finishing up their homemade craft items that will be available to purchase, as well as preparing baked goods for sale at the Country General Store. There will also be themed baskets available at the silent auction.

Many activities are being planned for the children. There will be children's craft activities, a pop walk and the always popular holiday cookie decorating. Decorated cookies may also be ordered at the fair. Relieve some holiday stress and order decorated cookies to have on hand for the holidays.

A dinner featuring hot turkey sandwiches, mashed potatoes and gravy, green beans and homemade pie will be served from 11 a.m. to 1 p.m. Take-out will be available, as well as delivery by calling the church at 375-2231. Musical entertainment can be enjoyed while those attending relax with a hot meal or shop at the Country Store or the Attic. The Attic will feature nearly new and gently used items, as well as holiday-related treasures.

All are invited to "join us Saturday, Nov. 21 between 10 a.m. and 1:30 p.m. to get a head start on Christmas shopping with some wonderful homemade gifts. Come experience a great time, a wonderful meal and friendly fellowship."

Briefly Speaking

Wayne Women's Club tours Greenhouse

WAYNE — Members of the Wayne Women's Club met Oct. 9 at the Wayne Greenhouse for an interesting program about ordering flowers and later observed how a corsage is made.

Following the tour, the group returned to First Presbyterian Church for a business meeting and lunch. A donation was made to the Wayne County Veterans' Memorial.

Earlyne Murray was the program leader and served as hostess for the meeting.

The next meeting will be Friday, Nov. 13 at 2 p.m. Members are asked to meet at the Wayne Public Library for a tour and information about the library.

Winter Bridge played at Senior Center

AREA — The Winter Bridge group met on Tuesday, Nov. 3 at the Wayne Senior Center with 12 persons attending. Bridge was played at three tables.

Hostesses were Lois Jech and Pat Cook.

Bridge will be played again on Tuesday, Nov. 10. For reservations, contact hostesses Norma Backstrom at 375-2302 or Lucille Peterson at 375-1858.

'Keep the Faith' concert Nov. 8

First Presbyterian Church will host "Keep the Faith" in concert on Sunday, Nov. 8.

The concert will begin at 4 p.m. at the church.

Soup and sandwiches will be served following the concert. A free-will offering will be accepted to support the Wayne Ministerial Association's Emergency Fund.

Winside Methodist Church to hold roast beef dinner

The Winside United Methodist Church's 12th Annual Roast Beef Dinner will be held Sunday, Nov. 8, from 11 a.m. to 1:30 p.m., at the Winside Auditorium.

The menu is roast beef, mashed potatoes and gravy, coleslaw, apple-sauce salad, very green beans, roll and butter, dessert bar and drink. A donation of $7.50 for an adult meal, 10 and under $3.50 is being requested. Carry outs will be available. Anyone would like a meal delivered in Winside is asked to call (402) 286-4914.

There will be no Sunday school or worship services at the church on Nov. 8. Instead, a worship service will be held at the auditorium at 9:30 a.m. with Judy Carlson giving the message.

Everyone is welcome to attend.

CONCORD-DIXON CEMETERY ASSOCIATION 2009-2010 FUND DRIVE

Your monetary donations would be very much appreciated for yearly expenses of maintenance and upkeep. In addition, we ask your help in funding our current project of removal of the many old trees within the cemetery which are a hazard to the gravestones. Many of you perhaps are owners of a small portion of our cemetery as are family members who have gone before us. We thank you in advance for your consideration to these causes.

Please make checks payable to: Concord-Dixon Cemetery Association.

Distractions or dementia? Forgetfulness is a part of life

It's noon here, and I just received a voice mail from the Big Farmer that Clara had called from the paper, wondering where the column was! And I had been doing so well with that! A friend and I went to Omaha on Sunday to see "White Christmas" and we were discussing the things that make us sure we are headed to the dementia path.

First of all, I've been filling in again in Hospice because one of the full time nurses is on vacation in Florida. And it was so cold and rainy here that I was wishing I was the one in Florida! So, I've been kind of distracted.

One day, I was to see a lady at one facility on Normal Boulevard, so had that lovely street on my mind as I pulled into the parking lot of the other facility on Normal. In fact, it didn't dawn on me until I was at the door, wondering where room 106 was. I hurried back to the car, hoping no one had seen me.

This morning, I wanted to tell someone that I thought she had a cracked rib, not a fractured one. I could NOT think of the word crack. I'm sure it's painful, either one, but crack doesn't sound quite as ominous as fracture. I could not come up with the word, and two other people at work could not, either.

Finally, one of the other old nurses helped me out.

My friend told a tale about putting a whole gallon of milk in a pantry instead of the refrigerator and then wondering who would have put away a gallon of milk! I'm sure it was in bad shape when she discovered it.

The Farmer's Wife
By: Pat Meierhenry

I drove to Crete on Saturday to do an insurance assessment and listened to the game on the radio. It was a beautiful day to be in the country, but the corn in the fields there is really leaning. They had some strong winds earlier. I certainly hope they can get in there to get it out soon.

Driving around town this morning, I am admiring some of the big old trees and the different color leaves. I really don't think New England has anything over on us when it comes to color. But the streets, lawns and sidewalks are covered with fallen leaves; it looks like a terrific job.

Fall is still my favorite season: I said it long ago, jeans and sweat shirts are my favorite garb. But this year's October has been one long disappointment. Maybe we will get lucky and have Indian Summer now.

And maybe I'll get lucky and keep this old brain on track better. I parked in a hospital parking ramp this morning and looked around to make sure which level I was on. I've wondered around in those things, looking for my car, too many times! Maybe, just maybe, I should check in at the health food store to see what they suggest for these "old age" issues. Anyway, Clara, here's the column. Thanks for the phone call!

Several programs available to help alleviate costs for small wind turbines

John Hay, Extension Educator in Lincoln, has a lot of good information on biofuels and other sources of energy. Here is a brief summary of programs available for small wind turbines.

There is a lot of interest in renewable energy. One way Nebraskans can invest in renewable energy is with a small wind turbine. A small wind turbine is a smaller system based upon a specific energy load, such as a farm, house, or center pivot. These are different than large wind turbines which are usually built in groups, are owned by a utility or community, and are meant to put all their electricity out to the grid.

Small wind turbines can be an excellent source of energy and electricity. They can provide access to electricity in areas that are remote and scarce. They are one way to become involved in the ever-growing green movement.

Costs of small wind turbines vary. The cost of the system depends on the size of the turbine and height and type of tower and can vary from $1,000 to over $50,000 per system. Size and height of turbines will also influence the amount of energy produced.

A tall tower for a small turbine making it higher than obstacles such as buildings and trees will greatly improve the energy output over a short tower or one placed close to obstacles.

However, the cost of these systems can be reduced. Recently several national and state programs have become available, such as a 30 percent federal tax credit and Nebraska's net metering bill. For farms and rural businesses, there is the USDA Rural Development Grant.

Staubs' experience with geocaching

Geocaching is a high tech treasure hunt. Caches are placed and coordinates of the location are published on a Website - geocaching.com.

To find the geocache, you log on and find caches in any area you are interested in and put the coordinates in your GPS device. Hints are also published with the coordinates plus sometimes a history of the area or a unique characteristic found there.

You then use your GPS to locate the cache which can be as small as a thumb tack or as large as an ammunition box. The reward is actually finding the cache, although some do have trading items inside.

Once you find the cache, you sign the log book and record it on the Website.

Bill Staub of Hoskins has been geocaching since 2005 and has found more than 250 caches in eight different states, including Alaska.

Recently, Staub started placing caches, with one in Hoskins and two at what was known as the Bega School.

Geocaching has led the Staubs' to many interesting places that they would not have normally visited.

Guest to speak at Winside American Legion Auxiliary meeting

Roy Reed Unit No. 252, American Legion Auxiliary of Winside met on Oct. 12, with eight Senior and one Junior member in attendance. President Rose Ann Janke called the meeting together with prayers being offered by Chaplain Adeline Anderson. Members recited the Pledge of Allegiance and Preamble to the Auxiliary Constitution. Hostesses for the evening were Bonnie Wylie and Rose Ann Janke. Secretary Beverly Neel read the minutes of the September meeting which were accepted. The treasurer's report was given by Marilyn Morse and will be placed on file. As Unit Treasurer, Greta Grubbs will be moving to Lincoln in November, Bonnie Wylie has been selected to take her place. The Unit was able to send $140 to the Department for the Poppy Program and another $140 to the District 3 President's project. These funds were the net monies collected during the 2009 Memorial Poppy Days held in Hoskins and Winside as well on Memorial Day at the Winside auditorium. A Thank You was extended to the communities for the generosity and support of programs enabling us to support our Veterans, near and far. Members of the Unit will participate in the Veterans Day Program at the Winside Elementary multipurpose room on Veterans Day, Wednesday, Nov. 11, at 8:30 a.m.

Once again the members will present a small American flag to the elementary students. Additionally, the 2009 fifth grade class who designed Poppy posters this past spring will be recognized for their talent and each will receive a cash award for his/her efforts. Instructions for the Poppy Poster Contest of 2010 have been provided to Mrs. Nancy Berns, Art Instructor, at Winside Public School. Once again she will be working with the fifth grade students as they prepare the 2010 posters. As a result of the Department taking steps to raise its per capita portion of membership dues in June 2009, the Unit has raised its dues for the 2011 year from $15 to $17 in order to keep pace with the Department and still be able to keep its portion of dues at the Unit level for program and event support.

The Unit will serve the lunch on Sunday, Nov. 15 for a member's household auction in Winside. Many members are providing the essentials for this event and look forward to assisting our own member as well as having an additional fundraiser this year. Discussion has been had already as to how to utilize these additional funds and that will be decided possibly at the December or January meeting. Membership renewals are at a snail's crawl at present. There remain five outstanding. In addition, the Unit is seeking new members all the time. Annual dues remain at $15 for Senior and $3 for Junior members, age infancy to 17 years. Special guest at the Nov. 9, meeting will be LeRoy Janssen, interim Emergency Management Director, to speak on community preparedness and how we can get involved. The general public is welcome to attend this portion of the meeting, which will be at 7 p.m., on Monday, Nov. 9, at the Winside Legion Post. Members Laura Neel and Beverly Neel have attended a few "combined" meetings with The Legion and Sons of the American Legion representatives in Winside in drawing up plans to host a fundraiser for the "Heroes Park" at the Norfolk Veterans Home. Tentative plans at this time include "Artie Schmidt" dance ensemble of he and his wife, Gwen, and a light lunch of chicken noodle soup and sandwich on Sunday, March 21, 2010, at the Winside auditorium. Admission will be a freewill donation, which will provide lunch and an opportunity to kick up your heels to some "big band" music. Keep watching for more details as they become available. Member Deborah Ritze also in on this "combined" committee but has not been able to attend due to recent surgery. Regular meetings begin at 5:30 p.m., with a light lunch and business meeting. Hostesses will be Carol Rempfer and Mary Lou George. The Monday, Dec. 14, meeting date will serve as the members' Christmas social with soup and trimmings for all. The Unit Chaplain presents a special Christmas program with help from the members. Members look forward to this social gathering to wrap up a busy year and prepare for the next. All members are encouraged to attend and bring along a prospective member.

Pinching pennies necessary for Medicare beneficiaries

Without a Social Security COLA—Cost of Living Adjustment—for 2010, Medicare beneficiaries will need to be wise shoppers as they chose a Prescription Drug Plan for next year. Open Enrollment for Medicare Part D begins Nov. 15, and lasts until Dec. 31, 2009. There will be fewer stand-alone PDP's, or Prescription Drug Plans, available to Nebraskans than 2009. Forty-six drug plans, with premiums ranging from $22.30 to $104.10, and a standard deductible of $310 means plan enrollees may be paying higher prices than last year. Eighteen drug plans have a $0 deductible; ten have deductibles ranging from $50 to $175; sixteen have the maximum $310 deductible. For Medicare beneficiaries who are now or will enroll in Medicare Part B [Medical] before the end of the year, the 2010 Part B premium will be $96.40, the same as 2009. The majority of Medicare beneficiaries pay a $0 premium for Part A [Hospital]. Medicare beneficiaries with low incomes and limited resources may qualify for extra help paying for drug plan premiums, as well as the cost of prescription drugs. There are eight PDP's in Nebraska for people who qualify for Extra Help in 2010. Beneficiaries, who qualify for Extra Help but do not enroll in a plan that is designed for Low Income Subsidy, will be responsible for costs incurred for premiums, deductibles and medications. All people with Medicare should:

1) review the 2010 costs—Medicare & You, 2010 handbook sent from the Centers for Medicare & Medicaid Services—will be arriving in your mailbox soon;
2) compare your current drug plan with others available in your area on the Medicare.gov Website; and,

3) choose a plan that meets your needs and budget. University of Nebraska-Lincoln Extension is a partner with the Nebraska SHIP—Senior Health Insurance Information Program, Department of Insurance—assisting Nebraska Medicare beneficiaries and their families in learning more about their options and choosing plans that best meet their needs. Enrollment events are planned for the UNL Extension Office in Dixon County on Mondays beginning Nov. 16, until Dec. 7, from 1 until 4 p.m. Call the UNL Extension Office for an appointment at 402-584-2234. Other enrollment events are at the Wakefield Senior Center Tuesday, Nov. 17, and Dec. 14, from 9:30 until 4 p.m. (call 402-287-2149 for an appointment) and at the Ponca Senior Center on Dec. 2, from 9:30 a.m., until 2 p.m. (call 402-755-4180 for an appointment). You can also call the SHIP office for additional information. The number is 1-800-672-8368.

Sandy Preston
Dixon County

Free energy efficiency guides available

Winter drafts in your house can make you feel cold and have you turning up the thermostat. Reduce your household energy bill by making some simple energy-saving weatherization and insulation improvements to your home. It's not too late, eliminate air leaks — then insulate. You may think that insulating should be the first step in making your home more energy efficient, but consider this: Air leaks through the ceiling, walls, foundation and other areas typically are the greatest sources of heat and cooling losses in a home. So, controlling air leaks is the best way to conserve energy, save money and increase your home's comfort. The bottom line is this: if you don't tighten up your home first, money spent on insulating may be wasted. Learn more about home energy saving ideas by ordering free, easy to follow guides—the Home Series. Auto battery winterizing tips

- * Seek Professional Help — for Your Batteries, that is.
These aren't your typical AA batteries, so it's important to have the battery and electrical system checked by a professional. Sometimes the naked eye cannot detect the presence of corrosion because it is hidden under the metal between the connection and the post.
- * Protect Your Battery from Mr. Freeze.
The cold weather can dramatically reduce a person's energy level and it can do the same to a battery's available starting power. It's a good idea to have your car's starting and charging system tested every six months.
- * Charge It.
Use a battery charger to maintain charge levels and keep the battery in good condition. According to experts, a fully charged battery will not freeze until -76 degrees F; however, a fully discharged battery could start to freeze at 32 degrees F.
- * Small Maintenance Chores are Necessary.
Preparing your car for the winter doesn't end with the battery itself. You need to inspect your battery cables, posts, and fasteners. Make sure your cables are in good shape and are secured firmly to the battery.

The remarkable insulating qualities of a Pacific Coast down comforter allow you to comfortably decrease your thermostat and save on your energy bill. Cuddle up today!
