Former City Council rep joins mayoral race

Wayne School Board president decides she will run for a third four-year term

By MICHAEL CARNES
 Of The Herald

Voters in Wayne will have a mayoral race to consider this November, and the last of the three incumbent members of the Wayne Board of Education has thrown her hat into the ring for another term.

Former Ward 4 City Council representative Jane O'Leary filed Monday for the mayoral seat that will be open when Lois Shelton leaves office at the end of the year. She is the second resident of Ward 4 to run for the city's top office. Kenneth Chamberlain, the current Ward 4 City Councilman, has already filed to run for mayor.

The last of the three incumbent members of the Wayne Board of Education has also decided to run for another four-year term. Board president Dr. Carolyn Linster announced earlier this week that she will seek a third term.

O'Leary, a 30-year resident of Wayne and a part-time instructor at Wayne State College, was a member of the City Council from 1988-2000, and decided now was a good time to get back into city government.

"Ever since I was on the City Council, I thought (being the mayor) would be an interesting thing to do," she said. "There hasn't been an incumbent that I wanted to run against, so this is the first opportunity for me to run."

O'Leary said her past experience in city government would be an asset to the city as the new mayor.

"I believe I have the skills to do it, and I think I would enjoy it and be able to contribute more to the city," she said.

O'Leary, who was a member of the council when the city began work on the library/senior center and the community activity center, said the city needs to look to the future and do some strategic planning to meet the community's needs well into the future.

"We need to take a big look at the future, do some strategic planning and see how the city needs to position itself for the next 20-30 years," she said. "We have a lot of young people that are going to be staying here, and they need to be assured of a promising quality of life. We need to look at planning for the future."

Linster, who has served two terms on the Wayne

Board of Education, took some time before deciding to run for a third term.

"It took a while for me to reflect on what would be best, but I think we have a board in place and a new superintendent, and there are a number of initiatives that we're discussing and I'd like to be a part of the continued planning."

Linster cited the board's reaching out to the community and being involved as a liaison to other community organizations as one of the keys to the board's success in recent years.

"I think we're getting more communication out to the public, and I think the board we have is a very

School day to last 10 minutes longer

By MICHAEL CARNES
 Of The Herald

Students in Wayne Public Schools will start the day earlier and end it later next school year.

The Wayne Board of Education approved the 2010-11 school calendar at its meeting Monday night, which will add 10 minutes to the school day and give the district more than enough hours to meet the state requirement for instructional time.

Next year, the school day will start at 8:05 a.m. and run until 3:35 p.m. each day. Assuming there are not days off for weather-related cancellations or other events, students will get about 1,175 hours of instructional time.

"We wanted to be at or above the state average (1,150) as far as instructional minutes go, and doing this will allow for that, even if we have another bad winter and have to change things," superintendent Mark Lenihan said. "This allows us, as we need, to take time off for snow or other situations, like state tournaments, and not have to add days like we're doing this year."

The board approved the receipt of a number of gifts made by the community, including a $45,000 gift from Wayne Community Schools Foundation for a number of school projects.

Lenihan said the board appreciates the gifts that were received, which will go to help improve the school.

"The district appreciates the work that the parent organizations and others in the community have done to help us out with all the projects that we've done this year," he said. "We wouldn't have been able to do them without the donations from the community."

The donation from the foundation will go toward funding for the new message center outside the high school, the sound system in the gym and theater, upgraded wireless technology in the district buildings, a new practice mat for the wrestling room and a new kiln for the art room.

The Wayne Booster Club donated $10,000 to help with the purchase of the new sound system in the gym. Other donations included $1,500 from Pamida Foundation for classroom LCD projectors, and a donation from Tim Schaefer in memory of his mother for the purchase of a new bass clarinet.

The board adopted a resolution in support of the Nebraska School Activities Association, which is coming under fire with the introduction of LB1021, a plan to restructure the school organization, in the Nebraska Legislature.

The bill looks to change the governance structure of the school organization, but Lenihan said smaller school districts don't want to lose their voice in the organization.

"If we start adding regional representatives based on student numbers, the larger schools would have more representation than we would, and they already have that when they get to the

Foundation makes $300,000 donation

Members of the Providence Medical Center Foundation Board of Directors formally presented a check to Providence Medical Center (PMC) in the amount of $300,000 during the foundation's Annual Board of Directors meeting.

The funds are designated to be applied towards the hospital's new Magnetic Resonance Imaging (MRI) equipment.

Instead of offering MRI scans two mornings a week, we now have this service available in-house Monday through Friday during business hours. "Our patients are benefiting greatly. The convenience, excellent image quality and imaging speed are beneficial," said Marcile Thomas, PMC Administrator.

"All of us at the PMC Foundation are extremely grateful to our friends who so generously continue to invest in Providence Medical Center through the foundation.

We, in turn, are able to donate funds back to the hospital. Presenting $300,000 to Providence Medical Center at this time is extremely satisfying to all. We are most certainly realizing the impact that our Planned Giving programs are having on our hospital," said Foundation President, Sandra Bartling.

"Since its inception in 1963, members of the foundation board continue to be diligent in their efforts to see that the

A tow truck pulls a Wayne Public Schools van out of a ditch the morning after it overturned while the girls basketball team returned home from a game in Norfolk.

Basketball team's van overturns on icy road

By CLARA OSTEN
 Of The Herald

Mark Lenihan, Superintendent of Wayne Community Schools, sent an email to staff concerning an accident that happened Thursday, Feb. 4 approximately 1 1/2 miles west of Wayne on Highway 35.

The van was on the way home from the basketball games in Norfolk. The email states that "The van Mr. Wall was driving hit a patch of ice near the radio station and slid into a ditch. The hill leading to the ditch was rather steep and the van slid onto its side as it came to the bottom. Everyone in the van was buckled in and nobody was hurt. Mr. Wall was driving no faster than 30-35 miles per hour when this happened."

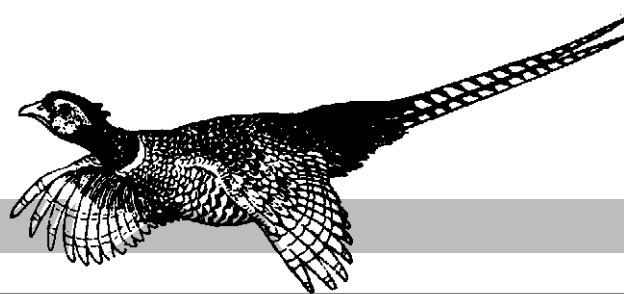

"The girls were incredibly calm and maintained composure during the entire time. The girls were helped out of the van and driven back to school by other coaches and parents. Obviously we are fortunate no one was hurt, and, after talking to Mr. Wall, the coaches did everything they could have done according to protocol."

"Mr. Wall, Mr. Hoskins, and Mr. Johnson handled this situation very well and did a great job keeping the kids safe. It does serve as a great reminder when driving vans to make sure all passengers are buckled in, and drive slowly when conditions warrant as the coaches were doing."

Obituaries

Marcia 'Mabruka' Arntzen

Marcia "Mabruka" Arntzen, 57, of Austin, Texas, and formerly of Syracuse, N.Y., died unexpectedly Monday, Feb. 1, 2010, while a patient at Texas Neuro-Rehab Hospital in Austin.

Marcia "Mabruka" Arntzen was born June 12, 1952 in Buffalo, N.Y. to Erwin and Marion Gallery. She had been working as an office manager but her passion was belly dancing and traveling. While still in New York, under her stage name "Mabruka," she was the proprietor of 'Mid-East Mystique' which afforded her the opportunity to perform in Germany, Turkey, Egypt, and across the United States. After moving to Austin, "Mabruka" continued performing at many of the locally produced shows as well as in Mexico and the Caribbean.

Marcia is survived by Lee, her husband of six years; her brother, Michael of Tucson, Ariz.; mother-in-law, Pearla Benjamin of Wayne, as well as her beloved extended family of horses, dogs and cats.

She was preceded in death by her parents.

A celebration of life will be scheduled at a later date, and in lieu of flowers, the family asks that donations be made to the Austin Humane Society (SPCA) in Marcia's name.

Elaine Schlichter

Elaine Schlichter, 86, of Wayne, formerly of Danville, Ill. died Tuesday, Feb. 9, 2010 at Premier Estates Senior Living Community in Wayne.

Memorial services will be held Tuesday, Feb. 16 at 10:30 a.m. at St. Mary's Catholic Church in Wayne. There is no visitation.

Burial will be in Danville, Ill. at a later date. Hasemann Funeral Home of Wayne is in charge of arrangements.

Winton Wallin

Winton Wallin, 90 of Wayne, died Tuesday, Feb. 2, 2010 at Providence Medical Center in Wayne.

Services were held Saturday, Feb. 6 at Concordia Lutheran Church in Concord. The Rev. Karen Tjarks officiated.

Winton Wymore Wallin was born Jan. 8, 1920 near Concord in Dixon County to Wymore and Ruth (Peterson) Wallin. He was baptized and confirmed at Concordia Lutheran Church. He attended rural School District #39 in Cedar County and graduated from Concord High School and attended Wayne State College. Winton served in the United States Army Air Force from January 1944 to November 1945. He was a gunner on a B-29, stationed in the U.S. and on Tinian Island where he and his fellow crew members flew many missions over Japan. Winton married Marilyn Anderson on Aug. 11, 1951 at Concordia Lutheran Church in Concord. The couple farmed south of Concord and Winton was a school bus driver. In 1976, the couple moved to Wayne where Winton worked for M & S Oil Company in Wayne. He was a life-long member of Concordia Lutheran Church, served on Church Council, Sunday School Teacher, Lutheran Men in Mission and Wayne Chapter of American Legion. Winton enjoyed the senior league bowling team in Wayne, loved sports, playing baseball, umpiring for the Laurel Town Team, and watching sports on TV. Most of all he enjoyed spending time with his family.

Winton is survived by his wife, Marilyn; daughters, Karen (Mike) Wirth of Wakefield, Nancy (Bryan) Reinhardt of Wayne, Janis (Craig) Pffingsten of Omaha, Julie (Tim) Anderson of North Platte, and Renee (John) Wagner of Hooper; 14 grandchildren; three great-grandchildren; two step-grandchildren; a sister Evonne Magnuson of Laurel; three sisters-in-law and one brother-in-law, Carol Bard of Wakefield, Helen Jackman of Denver, Colo. and Ron and Jean Anderson of Ithaca, N.Y.; nieces and nephews.

He was preceded in death by his parents and brother, Arlen in 1991.

Honorary pallbearers were Winton and Marilyn's granddaughters, Melissa Wirth, Jennifer Reinhardt, Amanda Wirth, Jessica Schmitz, Kristi Anderson, Megan Pffingsten and Jenna Pffingsten. Active pallbearers were Winton and Marilyn's grandsons, Tim Reinhardt, Scott Reinhardt, Dustin Baker, Jay Wirth, Andrew Baker, Joel Baker and Trevor Anderson.

Burial with military rites was in the Concord Cemetery at Concord. Hasemann Funeral Home of Wayne was in charge of arrangements.

Learning Symposium scheduled at Wayne State

The Seventh Armstrong Learning Symposium will present "Literacy Solutions: Focus on Phonics" with Peggy Stahr and will take place in Gardner Auditorium on Monday, Feb. 15, from 2:30 to 4:30 p.m.

This is event is sponsored by the Wayne State Foundation, Wayne

Public Schools and the WSC School of Education and Counseling. All students and the public are welcome.

For more information contact Jan Dinsmore (375-7428) Joni Irlmeier (375-7116) or Daryl Schrunck (375-3854).

Those attending the first Youth Council meeting enjoyed ice cream sundaes after the meeting.

Wayne Youth Council conducts first meeting

More than 50 youth, in grades six through nine, gathered at the Wayne Community Activity Center on Feb. 5 for the first meeting of the Mayor's Youth Council.

Wayne Mayor Lois Shelton said she had recently been meeting with several adults in the community to begin the process for the formation of a Youth Council.

"This is an opportunity for youth to have an impact on those issues that are important to them and could make their life more enjoyable here in Wayne," Shelton said in a letter that was sent to 96 youth who had been identified by teachers and other community members.

Shelton said that the idea of a mayor's youth council has been around for many years and she felt it would be a good idea to begin with younger students for several reasons, including schedules that become busier as students move through high school and the fact that having students involved and excited about the process as they move through school years would be valuable. During the initial meeting the youth formed groups and came up with ideas/issues and needs of the community they felt were important to them and the future of the community.

These ideas were then ranked into what the youth felt were the highest priority items.

Top vote getters included a mall/clothing store, different sports (lacrosse, soccer, laser tag), an indoor pool, adding skating to bowling, a late start/early dismissal to the school day, having a street dance, arcade/entertainment, an actual movie theater, recycling (including glass) and providing an animal shelter.

Following the discussion of these ideas, those in attendance were served ice cream sundaes.

The next meeting for the Youth Council will be Friday, Feb. 26 at the Community Activity Center. At that time the group will begin talking about leadership roles and committees for the future.

Goodwill trailer to make 'Ambassador Visit'

Goodwill's Ambassador trailer will receive donations in Wayne through Wednesday, Feb. 17.

Donations are to be placed in the Ambassador trailer located in the northwest corner of the Pac 'N' Save parking lot, parallel to Highway 35.

Donations are to be placed as far to the front of the trailer as possible. Unfortunately, furniture and large appliances cannot be accepted.

Goodwill will accept donations of sellable clothing, usable working small appliances and household goods, sporting goods and toys.

Donations are processed and sold in the Goodwill stores to support the programs and services provided to people with disabilities and disadvantaging conditions.

Goodwill is a non-profit organization and through its many programs, provides services to hundreds of people with employment barriers.

Pheasants Forever to provide incentives for improving wildlife habitat

The Logan Creek Pheasants Forever Chapter is planning to provide incentive payments to landowners for doing practices on their CRP contract acres to improve wildlife habitat.

These incentive (cost share) payments would be in addition to the USDA payments and there would be no strings attached to this work. The group is only looking for habitat improvement.

Mid-Contract management is a current requirement under the contract and Pheasants Forever is inviting landowners to a workshop providing information on how to efficiently and effectively accomplish Mid-Contract Management on a CRP field and explain the incentive program.

The workshop will be held Tuesday, Feb. 16 from 1 - 4 p.m. at the Lifelong Learning Center at the Northeast Community College 801 East Benjamin Ave. in Norfolk. There will be no cost for participants in this workshop.

Representatives from the Farm Service Agency (USDA), Lower Elkhorn NRD, Natural Resources Conservation Service (USDA), Nebraska Game and Parks Commission, and Pheasants Forever representatives should be presenting topics relative to the subject and answering questions.

Anyone with questions relative to this workshop is asked to call the NRCS office in Wayne County at (402)-375-2733, Extension 3.

Supporting the department

More than 300 people attended the recent Winside Fire Department's Omelet Feed. Above, fire fighters served an auditorium full of people. Below, future firefighters Carter and Jaysen Hasemann, son and daughter of Scott and Mary Kay Hasemann were among those attending the event. Funds raised will go toward the purchase of department equipment.

Get second dose of H1N1 flu vaccine for children under 10

As parents, we try to protect our children, keep them healthy and out of harms way. We sanitize and wash their hands, tell them to cover their cough and care for them if they're sick. We also need to make sure our kids are vaccinated against H1N1 flu.

Did you know that 15 percent of the entire country has been infected with H1N1, according to the Centers for Disease Control and Prevention? That's one in six people which means many of us are still susceptible, including children.

The traditional flu season is far from over. Nasty viruses still have the potential to pick up the pace and invade homes, schools and child cares. We know kids not only spread the flu, but they're more susceptible to complications. That's why it's important for children under 10, who've already received their first dose of H1N1 flu vaccine, to get a second shot in the arm or spray in the nose so they achieve full immunity.

If your kids haven't received any H1N1 vaccine yet, it's not too late. The H1N1 vaccine is safe and effective. Almost all children can benefit from getting it, especially those under 2 and those with chronic health conditions. The nasal spray vaccine is a great option for children who are afraid of needles. It's available for healthy kids 2 and up. Vaccine is plentiful so contact your health care provider or local health department.

As parents, getting our children vaccinated against H1N1 now will help protect them for months to come.

Food Check Out Week to be observed in Wayne

Food Check Out Week is devoted to helping to teach Americans how to stretch their grocery dollars with healthy, nutritious food. Food Check Out Week will be observed in Wayne on Thursday, Feb. 25.

The Ag Taskforce of Wayne Area Economic Development/Chamber/Main Street will set up information tables all day at both Pac 'N' Save and Quality Food Center where customers may register to win Grocery Certificates.

Also on that day, from 5-7 pm, members of the Ag Taskforce will be staffing the tables and offering information about using the food pyramid to plan nutritious and affordable meals. Eight winners of $10 Grocery Certificates will be announced at Chamber Coffee on Feb. 26.

With many Americans feeling an economic squeeze, they may be eating out less and preparing more meals at home. Public health experts fear that lean economic times may mean an already overweight public may resort to cheaper high calorie foods, which can lack important vitamins, minerals, fiber and other nutrients.

The price of readily available fresh fruits and vegetables, such as Iceberg lettuce, bananas, whole carrots, Red Delicious apples, broccoli and tomatoes, has remained stable compared to dessert and snack foods. This suggests that the price of a healthy diet has not changed relative to an unhealthy one.

Americans enjoy a food supply that is among the safest, most abundant and most affordable in the world.

Based on Agriculture Department statistics, it takes just five weeks for the average American to earn enough disposable income to pay for the family's food supply for the entire year.

Recent retail price increases at the grocery store are due primarily to higher energy costs for processing, hauling and refrigerating food products.

U.S. consumers still spend just under 10 percent of their disposable annual income on food according to USDA data. Consumers in other countries spend much more:

France 14 percent, Japan 15 percent, China 35 percent, Philippines 37 percent, and Indonesia 46 percent.

Of the 2.13 million farms dotting America's rural landscape, 98 percent are operated by individuals, family partnerships or family corporations.

American agriculture provides jobs, including production agriculture, farm inputs, processing and marketing, along with retail and wholesale sales, for 15 percent of the U.S. population.

A 2009 survey of America's young farmers and ranchers revealed that 92 percent planned to farm and ranch for life. And 96 percent said they would like their children to follow in their footsteps. This provides strong incentive for today's farmers and ranchers to protect and preserve the natural resources on their property.

Not only is the land and its resources a farmer's lifeblood today, it represents the future for his family and the entire agriculture segment of the economy.

Milo Meyer Construction earns NLICA award

The Contractor of the Year award was presented to Steve and Mark Meyer, owners of Milo Meyer Construction in Wayne during the Nebraska Chapter of the National Land Improvement Contractor Association (NLICA) convention on Jan. 20 at the Holiday Inn Midtown in Grand Island.

Their father, Milo Meyer, began his business in 1951, buying his first motor grader for $10,000 to do custom work.

He married Betty Schmit in 1952 and the couple had four sons, all of whom worked for their father when they were old enough. Betty kept the company books.

Milo joined NLICA in 1964 when he had one dozer, one scraper, one grader and a low-boy.

Services offered by the business include site preparation, lagoons, demolition, tree removal, terracing, dams and bin sites. They also own their own borrow site and sell topsoil and clay.

Steve began working full-time for the company in 1974 and is currently President of the company. Steve was married to Cindy Erskine in 1981 and they have two children, Ashley and Derek.

Mark became full-time with the company in 1983 and serves as Vice-President. He married Lona Nicholas in 2004 and they have two children, Riley and Tucker Nichols.

Milo and Betty sold the business in 1989 to Terry, Steve and Mark. Terry has since retired from the business and his share was purchased by his brothers in March of 2004.

Steve and Mark have seven full-time and several part-time employees. They own 13 pieces of equipment including excavators, scrapers, motor graders, a dozer, side dump and compaction equipment.

Milo Meyer Construction supports many organizations in the community including Pheasants Forever, the American Legion, Wayne State College, the Wayne Country Club and St. Mary's Catholic Church.

In 2011 Milo Meyer Construction will be in business 60 years and according to information from the award ceremony, "has survived because of hard work and commitment to excellence."

Wayne students tabbed for UNO Honor Choirs

During the weekend of Jan. 29-31, eight students from Wayne Middle and High Schools attended honor choirs held at the University of Nebraska-Omaha.

Hundreds of students from Eastern Nebraska and Western Iowa audition annually for these honor choirs.

Students selected from Wayne Middle School were Sydney McCorkindale and Brandon Bear. They participated in the annual UNO Middle School Honor Choir which was held on Jan. 29.

Following a day of rehearsals with Dr. Matthew Harden, choral director at UNO, the students presented a concert for family and friends that afternoon on the campus of UNO. Dr. Harden complimented all the seventh and eighth graders in the honor choir on their preparation and their focus during rehearsals.

Beginning immediately after the Middle School Honor Choir, six Wayne High School students began rehearsals for this year's BOCH (Band, Orchestra, and Choir Honors) Festival. Students selected from Wayne included Natalie Sieler to the Women's Honor Choir and Katie Kietzmann, Lisa Temme, Rebecca Agler, Sawyer Jager and Nick Monahan to the Mixed Honor Choir.

The directors for the high school's Women's Honor Choir was Dr. Greg Zielke from Grace University in Omaha and Dr. James Stegall from Western Illinois University directed the Mixed Honor Choir.

Students rehearsed Friday and Saturday in preparation for the festival's final concerts, which were held Sunday in the Holland Performing Arts Center in downtown Omaha. Due to the generosity of donors to the UNO and the BOCH Festival, the honor choirs, bands, and orchestra are given the opportunity to perform in the greatest venue in all of Nebraska and one of the best in the region.

"What an exciting opportunity for these students to experience the Holland! It was truly a wonderful event for those students and I am very proud of all these middle and high school students. They are some of Wayne's finest and should be commended," said Tracy Anderson, director of both the middle school and high school students.

WHS students take part in Festival of Honor Bands

The Wayne State College Festival of Honor Bands was held Jan. 30 at the college. It involved both middle school and high school band students.

Directors for the event included Mrs. Joann Couton, Director for the Middle School Band; Mr. Kevin Massey, Director of the Symphonic Band and Mr. Joshua Calkin, Director of the Wind Ensemble.

The students spent the morning and early afternoon rehearsing the selected pieces of music before presenting a concert in Ramsey Theatre on the WSC campus that afternoon.

Several Wayne High School band

students auditioned and were accepted.

The following are the names of the students who were accepted and what band they performed in:

- Ben Bruflat - Trumpet, first chair
- Wind Ensemble Honor Band;
- Collin Jeffries - Percussion - Wind Ensemble Honor Band;
- JoAnn Parker - Bass Clarinet - Symphonic Honor Band;
- David Arickx - Tenor Saxophone - Symphonic Honor Band;
- Dillon Wieland - Trumpet - Symphonic Honor Band;
- Kendra Liska - Percussion/Mallets - Symphonic Honor Band.

Wildcats get great recruits

Here's a few thoughts and observations from a wild and crazy world of sports:

— Wayne State football coach Dan McLaughlin and his staff did a fantastic job with the 27 recruits that will be wearing the black and gold next fall.

The Wildcats had some definite needs, particularly on the offensive line and at linebacker, and he has some great talent coming in that should help fill those gaps in the years to come.

From a local perspective, it was nice to see Nathan Janke of Winside and Johnny Saunders of Laurel-Concord commit to Wayne State. McLaughlin also made some great area signings with kids like Jared Curry of Ponca, Chad Koch of Hartington Cedar Catholic and Brent Schlote of Battle Creek.

One recruit I'm excited about seeing down the road is Joe Trouba, a 6-foot-6, 220-pound tight end out of Creighton Prep. I don't know if UNO, Nebraska and other schools fell asleep on this kid, but watching some of his highlight footage last week, I was very impressed with this young man's quickness. Put a few more pounds on this guy, and he could be quite a target for Wildcat quarterbacks in the years to come.

— The Bleacher Bum is going to take a semi-educated guess and say that the area will have 15 wrestlers competing in next week's state tournament in Omaha.

Winside looks to have the lion's share of qualifiers, with at least five that have a good shot at finishing in the top four of the D-2 district at Stanton. The Wildcats might sneak another one or two in as well, so don't be surprised to see Winside take a half dozen to Omaha.

Wakefield will also be in that district, and they have at least four kids with a good shot at making it to state. I wouldn't be surprised to see the Trojans bring home a medal or two as well with the group that is projected to qualify.

Wayne High should get no fewer than three into the big show and I see four making it to Omaha. A lot of people are sleeping on heavyweight Jorge Dunklau right now, and it wouldn't surprise me to see him in the semifinals Friday night with a shot at the finals on the line.

Laurel-Concord does have one probable qualifier in Austin Roach, and I think if they can keep the kids currently in the lineup for another year, we'll see more Bears make it to state in 2011.

District tournament action gets rolling this week, with Wayne heading to Schuyler, Laurel-Concord competing at West Point and Wakefield and Winside going to Stanton.

— You may not realize this, but The Bleacher Bum has some radio chops to go with his somewhat understated writing capabilities, and you'll be able to hear my golden pipes on the radio during the state tournament.

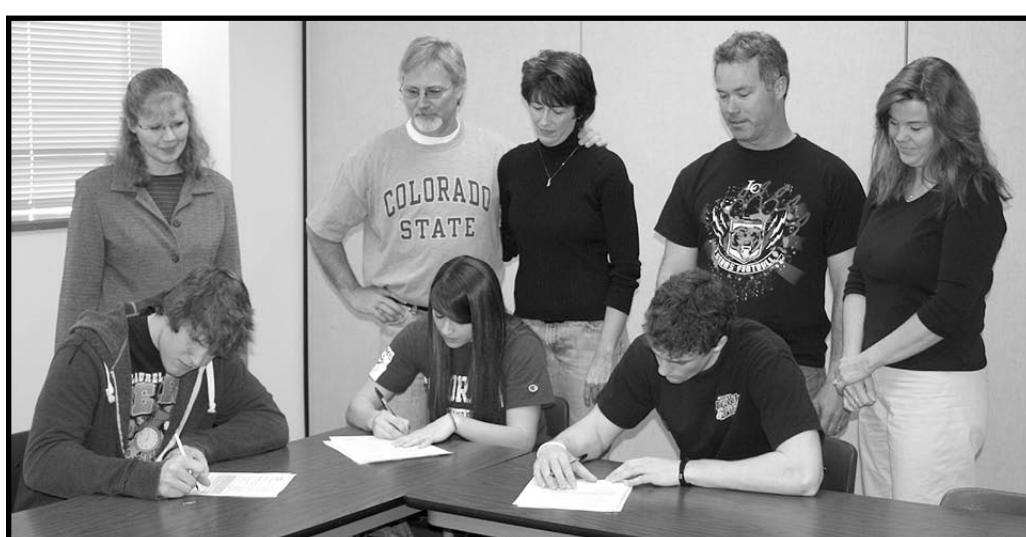

Of course, we'll be keeping you up to date with the tournament as it happens on our Web site at www.mywaynews.com, but I will also be updating the coverage area for radio stations in Norfolk and Wayne during the tournament.

The two Wayne stations, Y104-FM and 1590-AM and the trio of Norfolk stations at WJAG 780AM, Lite Rock 97.5 and Kix 106, will air my broadcast reports from the Qwest Center.

— The regular season comes to an end for the five area girls basketball teams this week, and seedings for subdistrict play are scheduled to be released today (Thursday).

We will have the first-round pairings and tournament schedules for all five girls teams available on our Web site at www.mywaynews.com as soon as they are available. You will be able to stay updated on our area teams' progress, both through the Web and here in The Herald.

Good luck to our area girls teams in their pursuit of a trip to the state tournament next month in Lincoln.

National Signing Day saw four area athletes sign letters of intent to play college athletics at NCAA Div. I and Div. II schools. ## Wayne State lands 27 recruits for football Wayne State College head football coach Dan McLaughlin has 27 new recruits coming into the football program for 2010.

National Signing Day was last Wednesday, Feb. 3, and a number of student athletes have signed national letters of intent to play football for Wayne State College.

The 2010 recruiting class includes 25 high school recruits and two junior college transfers. Of the 25 high school signees, 20 come from Nebraska, with the other five hailing from Iowa. The Wildcats signed nine offensive linemen, six defensive linemen, five wide receivers, four linebackers, one tight end, one quarterback and one running back with this year's class.

"This is the largest signing class in the five years that I have been here," McLaughlin said. "Our focus this year was to sign offensive line prospects, because we only signed two last year, and I feel our hard work was rewarded with the signing of nine new offensive linemen."

This year's class includes some local flavor, as lineman Nathan Janke of Winside and Laurel-Concord wide receiver Johnny Saunders. Several area standouts are on the list, including Ponca linebacker Jared Curry, Hartington Cedar Catholic running back Chad Koch, and Battle Creek standouts Zac Bierman at wide receiver and offensive lineman Brent Scholte.

Here is a brief synopsis of the Wayne State recruiting class (position, height, weight and hometown in parenthesis):

Zac Bierman (Wide Receiver, 6-3, 190, Battle Creek, Neb.)

Bierman was an All Mid States Conference selection in football as a junior and senior at Battle Creek High School, helping the Braves reach the Class C1 State football playoffs.

Michael Bohn (Offensive Line, 6-3, 250, Ravenna, Neb.)

Bohn was a Class C2 All State selection at offensive line by the Omaha World-Herald and Lincoln Journal Star as a senior, helping Bluejays to an 8-2 record and the second round of the Class C2 football playoffs. He earned Academic All-State honors three seasons and was a three-time All-District pick.

Cody Calhoun (Wide Receiver, 6-2, 185, Maxwell, Neb.)

Calhoun set a new Class D1 single-game playoff record this season with 214 yards receiving and helped his team to a 7-3 record and the second round of the Class D1 playoffs. He was named Class D1 All-State as a linebacker by Omaha World-Herald and as a punter by the Lincoln Journal Star as a senior. He had 79 catches for 1,122 yards and 18 TD's as a junior, helping his team reach the semifinals for first time in school

Defense dominates Augie, Wildcats win sixth straight

While Wayne State's offense has been rolling of late, it's the Wildcats' defense that has been leaving other teams wondering what train hit them.

The Wayne State women remained red hot Saturday, winning their sixth straight with a dominating 75-46 win over Augustana at Rice Auditorium.

Sophomore Ashley Arlen earned her seventh double-double of the season with 32 points and a career-high 14 rebounds. But it was the Wildcats' defense that had coach Chris Kielsmeier smiling.

"They just continue to get better," he said of his team. "Teams that get better this time of year are the teams that continue to win, and we've wanted these girls to stay motivated and want to get better at everything we do, and they have done that."

Both teams got off to a sluggish start, but the Wildcats continued to pressure the Vikings in the first half, forcing 11 turnovers and turning those turnovers into 11 points. Arlen had a mammoth first half with 20 points and 10 rebounds, leading the Wildcats to a 43-19 lead at the break.

"She is playing hard and has really figured the system out, and with her energy she brings a lot to the table for us," Kielsmeier said. The second-year Wayne State coach was particularly impressed with his team's defensive effort, particularly in the first half.

"I didn't expect to hold them to 19 points, because they're a great team, but I do have a tremendous amount of confidence in our defense and our players' ability to execute the game plan," Kielsmeier said. "This team is motivated to do something, so it's exciting to see what they can do."

Point guard Alisha Brown came in off the bench and poured in a season-high 14 points to go along with five assists.

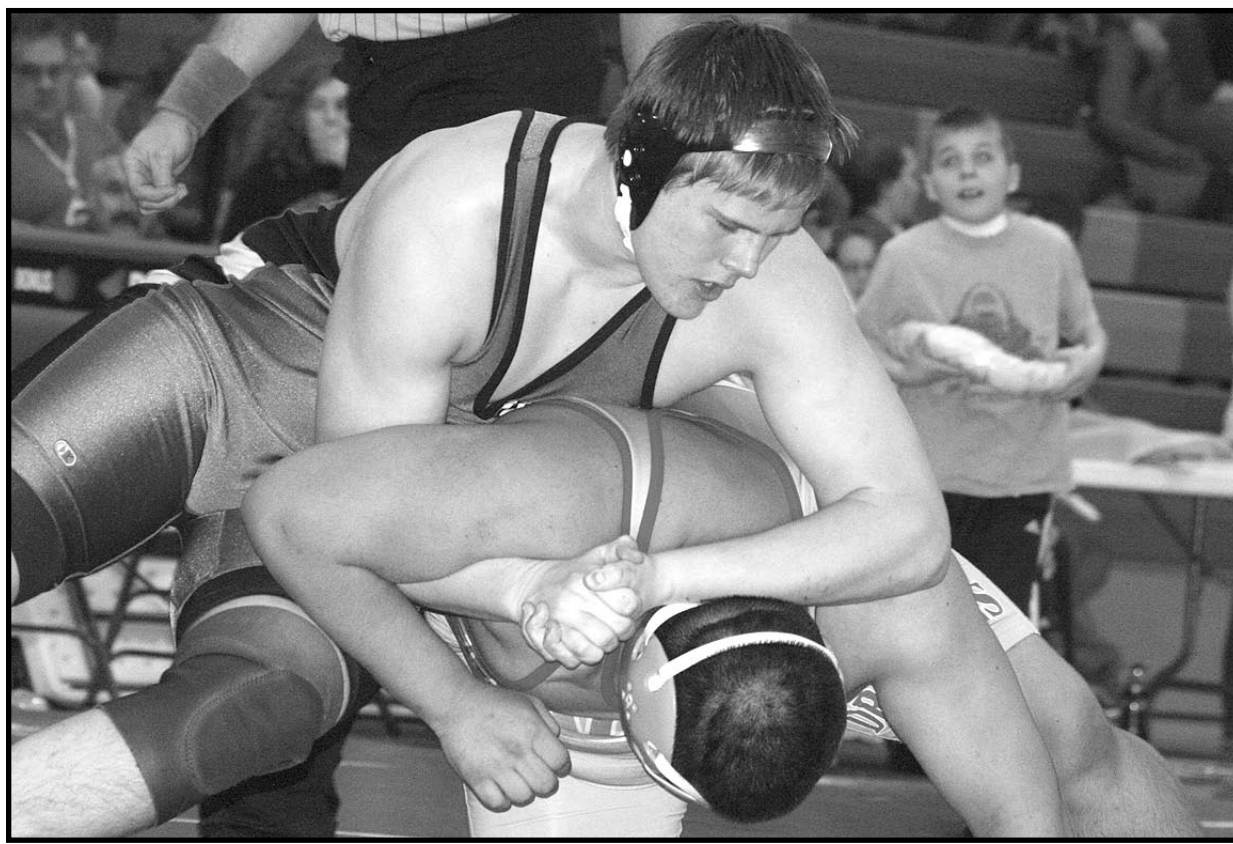

"She has a lot of talent and understands the system really well, and she can get everybody involved and has learned to drive it inside with her quickness," Kielsmeier said.

Sophomore guard Clare Duwelius added 10 points and three assists and Mara Hjelle added 11 rebounds.

Wayne State, 17-4 overall and 10-4 in the NSIC, hosts Winona State Friday at 6 p.m. and Upper Iowa Saturday at 4 p.m. in a pair of key Northern Sun Conference games.

NORFOLK — When three-fourths of your wrestlers come away with medals, you've got to figure it was a pretty good day.

That's how Wayne High wrestling coach Anthony Lawrence summed up the Blue Devils' effort at the Mid-State Conference tournament Saturday at Norfolk Catholic, as the Blue Devils finished a solid fourth in the eight-team tournament and finished with two champions and six medalists.

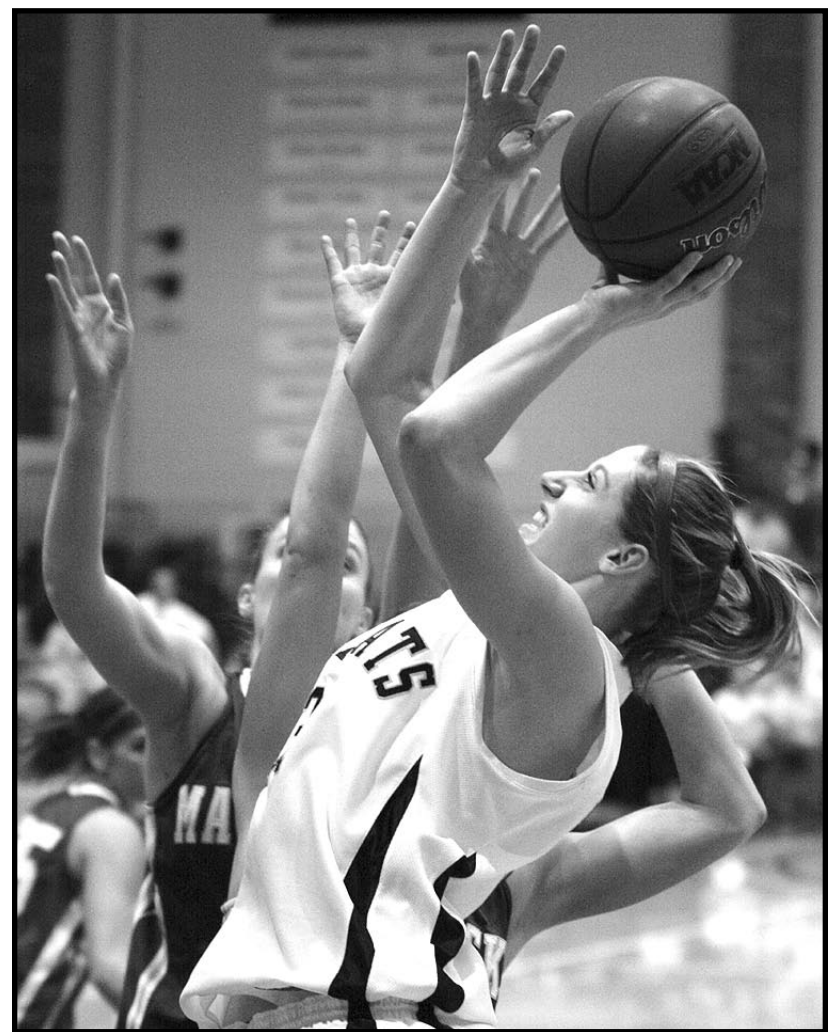

"We only brought eight kids down and came away with six medals, so I was excited with how we performed," he said. "The kids did very well."

Leading the charge were Logan Owens and Jorge Dunklau, both of whom matched the record of 36 wins in a season set by Matt Nelson in the 2001-2002 season and finished the day as conference champions.

Owens, who leads the way with 37 wins, dominated Chris Hawk of Battle Creek to take the 135-pound title with a 14-6 major decision. His win total is one better than Dunklau, who won an exciting match over Madison's Izzy Martinez to take the heavyweight

Iowa State, but she didn't feel she was a good fit for the program.

"I liked it (at ISU) at first, but after that first year I just felt it wasn't a good fit for me," she said. Not long after she told Iowa State coach Bill Fennelly of her decision, she was in touch with Kielsmeier, whose connections with Fennelly helped him get the early jump on the talented player.

"When you hear there's a Division I transfer out there, you make a call," Kielsmeier said. "I did an intern when I was a student at Iowa State and know the coaches there really well, and (Fennelly) got me the release for her that day. I had the release in my hand before any other coach in the country."

Arlen was joined by her father and boyfriend on the recruiting visit, and she ran into Clare Duwelius, a teammate of hers on an AAU summer team in Iowa who was playing for the Wildcats. "I knew Clare from playing AAU and after we took a visit, I really liked what I saw here," she said. Kielsmeier said he saw Arlen's play during the NCAA tournament

Blue Devils settle for third in Mid-State

By MICHAEL CARNES
 Of The Herald

NORFOLK – Hartington Cedar Catholic and Wayne played two nail-biters during the regular season, but the Trojans weren't about to wait around for a third heart-stopper.

The top-seeded Trojans raced to a 9-0 lead in their third matchup with the Wayne boys, and the Blue Devils didn't have an answer as they dropped a 61-41 decision in the semifinals of the Mid-State Conference tournament Friday at Northeast Community College.

Coach Rocky Ruhl said his team didn't have the fire to match Cedar Catholic's fast start, and it was an uphill battle all the way.

"They played a great game and shot the ball well, and we came out and didn't have the emotion we needed to play the game," he said. "When you get off to a rough start like that, you're always fighting to get back in it and the shots just didn't go for us."

The Trojans got a pair of baskets from Nick Lauer to propel themselves to a 9-0 advantage, and Wayne went almost four minutes before Jacob Zeiss got the Blue Devils on the board. Gage Rethwisch followed later with a 3-pointer to move Wayne within six points at 11-5, and another 3-pointer by Jordan Barry made it 13-8, but that was as close as the Blue Devils would get.

"One of the things was we needed to score when the clock wasn't running, and we weren't hitting our free throws," Ruhl said, noting the team's 5-for-12 effort at the free throw line. "That kind of took away from what we were trying to accomplish."

Cedar Catholic led by as many as 13 points midway through the second period before back-to-back baskets by Derek Poutre and Geoff Nelson got the deficit back into single digits.

The Trojans seemed to have a response for every Wayne run, though, and they got the lead back to 14 points quickly on a 3-pointer by Lauer and a basket by Kevin Wintz, making it 32-18 midway through the quarter. Wayne could never get closer than eight points after that, falling into the consolation bracket.

The Blue Devils did bounce back on Saturday, handling Pierce in the consolation game 47-39.

"We took some of our players out of the Hartington game early so we could have more legs under us the next day, and I thought the kids did a good job responding to that and bouncing back from the loss to beat a good Pierce team," Ruhl said.

Zeiss had a game-high 18 points to lead the way for the 12-7 Blue Devils, while Poutre added eight title. "Wrestling takes a lot of heart and dedication, and I had some good, tough matches today," Owens said of his effort. "The O'Brien kid (Jeff O'Brien of West Point Central Catholic) was tough, and I think he'll do well at state, so it was good to beat him."

Dunklau almost didn't reach the school-record total Saturday, as he nearly found himself stuck after turning Martinez for a two-point nearfall. Martinez caught Dunklau and rolled through to put the Wayne senior on his back for a three-point nearfall, but Dunklau was able to make his way out of the situation before coming back to pin him with time winding down in the second period.

"When you're facing a big guy like that, it's hard to keep the hips on top and get control," Dunklau said. "I was able to bridge out of (the near pin) and get it done, and it's a good feeling to go out against a high-caliber wrestler like (Martinez)."

Lawrence said he was happy with the efforts of his conference champions.

"They've wrestled lights out the last couple of weeks, and there's not much more you can ask of them going into districts," he said.

Riley McManus was Wayne's third finalist on the day, but he ran into a solid opponent in Madison's Collin Crilly, who dominated the 160-pound title match early and cruised to a 10-2 major decision over McManus.

Wayne also won two of three in the consolation brackets, as Roman Roberts moved up a weight class to finish third at 130 and Drew Loberg hung on for the consolation title at 189 pounds.

Roberts handled Logan Sudbeck of Pierce 10-6 to take consolation honors, and he put himself within striking range of the school's takedown record of 130, also set by Nelson in 2001-2002.

"Roman bumped up a weight class today and did a nice job for us, and he's only going to get better," Lawrence said.

Dom Reinke picked up his first varsity medal with a fourth-place finish at 215 pounds, earning praise from his coach.

"He hasn't wrestled much varsity all season, and when Shawn Davie went down with an injury he took over and did a really nice job today," he said.

The Blue Devils will travel to Schuyler this weekend to take part in the B-2 District, with top-four finishers advancing to state.

WSC baseball picked second in NSIC

Wayne State College was picked to finish second in the 2010 Northern Sun Conference preseason baseball coaches poll.

It's the first time since 2003 that Wayne State has not been picked as the preseason favorite in NSIC baseball. The Wildcats captured a sixth straight NSIC regular season title last season, going 27-4 in league play to set a new record for league wins in a season. Wayne State finished 45-15 overall, reaching the NCAA Central Regional championship game.

Wayne State senior outfielder Joe Wendte was named the 2010 NSIC Preseason Player of the Year in a vote of conference coaches.

The Sioux City Heelan graduate was named to the 2009 Rawlings/ABCA All-American first team, as well as being named the 2009 NSIC Player of the Year, after hitting .396 with 14 homers and 67 RBI's last season. He set a new school record with 83 runs scored, which ranked fifth in NCAA Div. II, and had 51 walks, ranking eighth in NCAA Div. II last season.

and had a pretty good idea of what she could bring to the table at Wayne State.

"We knew she'd be a great fit with her ability, and we like to have our four-spot play inside and outside, and she fits that mold great," Kielsmeier said. "There aren't too many 6-foot-2 players who play on the outside of a zone like she does, and with what we wanted to do in our system it was only a matter of time before she'd do what she's done lately."

While there was no doubt she would be a force on the offensive end, it's her improvement on defense that has really helped the Wildcats become a force in the NSIC race this season.

Early on, Kielsmeier said Arlen wasn't playing the kind of defense he was expecting her to play, but she has answered the challenge and made some big strides forward to become a force at both ends of the floor.

"She needed to get going on defense early in the year and wasn't close to the level she could be at, and we challenged her and she responded to it," he said. "Almost every young player who comes into my program doesn't understand at first how hard they have to play to be a great defender, and it takes time to figure that out and she's figured it out."

"She's as valuable to us as a defender and a rebounder as she is a scorer," he added.

Evidence of that could be seen Saturday when the Wildcats mauled visiting Augustana College 75-46 at Rice Auditorium. Arlen had 20 points and 10 rebounds in the first half alone, finishing the game with 32 points and 14 rebounds to record her seventh double-double of the season.

"I knew coach was expecting points out of me, and I think I've come pretty far with learning how coach wants the defense to run," she said of her effort. "We can't have one person slacking off on defense, and I definitely don't want to be that one person."

One could hardly accuse Arlen of slacking off. She plays an average of 30 minutes per game, is averaging 23.7 points and 10 rebounds during Wayne State's current winning streak and has cracked the 30-point barrier three times this season.

Arlen said the team's chemistry is part of the reason for the success the Wildcats are enjoying this year, something that was an immediate attraction to her when she came to Wayne.

"The girls are really close, and we hang out together off the court as well as at practice, so there's a great chemistry with this team and the coaching staff is great," she said.

And, for all the success that Arlen is having, Kielsmeier said she still has room to grow as a player.

"She's in a new role at this level, and she has to play a lot of minutes and score a lot and defend a lot," he said. "She still has areas to grow, yet she's aware of that and works hard to make it better and she wants to be a great player. She's doing things not many college sophomores are doing at any level."

Wildcats

team that comes in with a lot of confidence, so this is another big weekend for us," Kielsmeier said. "We want to improve our situation for conference and regional rankings, and to go where we want to go, we have had to go through some tough teams. We had to go through Augustana and now we'll have to go through Winona next."

Jordan Youngman (Offensive Line, 6-4, 285, Pella, Iowa)

Youngman was a two-year starter and three-year letter winner at Pella Community High School, helping the team to a 10-4 record and the school's first ever trip to the Class 3A State Championship game. He was named First-Team All-State by Iowapreps.com and Second-Team All-State by the Iowa Newspaper Association as a senior to go with All-District honors. He was a Second Team All-District selection as a junior, helping Pella to a 12-1 record and an Iowa 3A State semifinal appearance.

Keith Bieber (Offensive Line/Center, 6-1, 270 Fairview, Mont.)

Starting center in 2009 for North Dakota State College of Science team that reached the West Division championship game of the Midwest Football Conference. He was named First-Team Midwest Football Conference All-Conference in 2009 and has two years of eligibility with the Wildcats.

Tommy Warren (Wide Receiver, 5-11, 180, Omaha, Neb.)

Omaha North graduate Tommy Warren transfers to Wayne State after playing two seasons at Northwest Missouri State, where he had eight catches for 59 yards in two seasons with Bearcats. He earned All-State Second-Team honors and was an Omaha World-Herald All-Metro defensive back in high school at Omaha North.

WSC track signs three

Wayne State track and field coach Marlon Brink announced that three high school track standouts have signed letters of intent to attend Wayne State.

The recruits are Holli Erickson of Murrieta, Calif., Sammie Garrison of DeWitt, and Erin Klein of Papillion.

Erickson is a middle distance and cross country runner from Vista Murrieta High School in California. She is a three-year letter-winner in track and field and a two-year letter-winner in cross country. Erickson has personal bests of 2:23 in the 800 meters and 5:21 in the 1,600 meters, and earned Second-Team All-League honors in cross country. She is a cousin of current Wildcat Molly Gibson.

Garrison is a pole vaulter and sprinter from Tri County High School, where she is a three-year state track qualifier and last year as a junior qualified in three events, placing sixth in the Class C pole vault while also running in the 100- and 200-meter dashes at state. She holds the school record in the pole vault (10' 4").

Klein is a sprinter from Papillion-LaVista South High School, where she is a four-year letter-winner and starter in track and field and a three-year letter-winner and starter in cross country. Klein is a two-year state track qualifier, earning two medals in the Class A state meet as a sophomore, in the 400-meter dash and as a member of the 400-meter relay team. She also qualified for state last season in the 400-meter dash.

Kenny signs letter with Dakota Wesleyan

Levi Kenny, the son of Joseph and Kelly Kenny of Carroll, has signed a letter of intent to play football at Dakota Wesleyan University.

Kenny, a 6-foot, 180-pound defensive back, was a three-year letterwinner and a two-year starter at Wayne High School, where he was an All-District Honorable Mention selection at defensive back and was named the team's Most Improved Player.

Kenny plans to major in health sciences at DWU.

WSC soccer signs four new recruits

Wayne State women's soccer coach Molly Grisham announced that four student-athletes have signed national letters of intent to attend Wayne State and play soccer for the Wildcats in the 2010 season.

The list includes Macy Hagen of Bellevue, Kayli Hopper of Norfolk, Kelly Lange of Omaha and Ryan Wells of Arlington, Texas.

Hagen is a 5-7 midfielder/defender from Bellevue East, where she is a three-year starter and four-year letter-winner in soccer. Hagen has scored eight career goals with 20 assists entering her senior season for the Chieftains. She led the team in assists last season and was named defensive MVP and academically has been selected to the honor roll and National Honor Society.

Hopper is a 5-foot-9 forward from Norfolk High School, where she is a three-year starter and letter-winner for the Panthers. She scored 11 goals last season for Norfolk and has 19 career goals and 10 assists entering this spring's senior season. Hopper received All-Greater Nebraska Athletic Conference honors as a junior and was named to the All-Conference and All-State Academic Teams. She helped Norfolk High School to a district runner-up finish last season and the Greater Nebraska Athletic Conference title.

Lange is a 5-foot-5 forward/midfielder from Omaha Marian. Lange attended Cor Jesu Academy in St. Louis, Mo., for more than two years and played for the St. Louis Soccer Club Team that competed in the inaugural Red Bull National League for Girls season. She was also a member of the Missouri ODP State Team that was selected for Regional ODP pool play and was the starting midfielder for the Omaha FC Club Team that was a Nebraska State Cup Finalist.

Wells is a 5-foot-6 goalkeeper from Martin High School in Arlington, Texas, where she is a two-year starter and four-year letter-winner. She posted a 13-3-3 record in goal with 10 shutouts and 0.47 goals against average in the 2009 season. Wells helped Martin High School win three district titles in Texas Class 5A soccer and the 2010 team was ranked fifth in the state of Texas.

Grisham said she expects to sign up to eight more players in the upcoming weeks of the 2010 signing period that will help the team improve on last year's 4-15-1 record.

Lady Bears come up short in NENAC

CROFTON – Laurel-Concord was hoping to knock off the host team in the NENAC finals Thursday, but the Crofton girls had other ideas. The Lady Warriors shot almost 50 percent from the floor and hit eight 3-point shots to run away with the NENAC title, taking a 77-50 win over the Lady Bears. Coach Nate Sims felt his team played well, but ran into a team playing at another level. "Our effort was very good, but we just ran into a buzzsaw," he said. "Crofton shot the ball better than they have all year and just came ready to play. We didn't play poorly, but it was one of those nights where Crofton was getting after it and it would have been hard for anybody to beat them the way they played." The Lady Bears were down by 10 points early in the game and managed to keep pace through the end of the first half. Crofton came out hot once again in the third period, scoring 24 points to put the game out of reach. "We were down 10 and (Jordan) Sanger scored 19 in the first half, so we felt pretty good about where we were at," Sims said. "Then they came out and continued to get after it in the third period and they had people come off the bench and score and we had some turnovers that hurt us. To their credit, they just had an outstanding night playing basketball." Bethany DeLong scored 22 points to lead the 9-8 Lady Bears, who close out the regular season this weekend at Wisner-Pilger and Neligh-Oakdale. "These games are important to us to set a tone heading into (subdistricts) next week," Sims said. "Both games are good road tests that will give us a chance to work on some things on the road and gear up for next week."

L-C boys come back to take third place

CREIGHTTON – After a tough loss in the semifinals, Laurel-Concord bounced back Friday night to claim consolation honors in the NENAC tournament with a 51-46 win over Elkhorn Valley. The third-seeded Bears played second-seeded Crofton tough before coming up short in the semifinals, and coach Shannon Benson was concerned his team might not have the fire to play a third-place game. "It's tough when you play so hard and get pumped up for a game like Crofton and it's close and doesn't go your way," he said. "To have to come back after a game like that and play is tough, but I thought the kids came out and played pretty well." Laurel-Concord was down early as the Falcons jumped out to a 14-5 lead, but the Bears pulled to within a point at intermission and took control in the second half to come away with the consolation trophy. "Elkhorn Valley is getting a lot better and is really well-coached, and they caught us in the beginning and controlled the tempo," he said. "We were able to slow it down after the first quarter and took control of the game." Michael Oleson scored a game-high 19 points and has stepped up and filled the inside game for

Laurel-Concord. "Michael really steps up and plays hard and has been a go-to kind of player," Benson said. "He had 12 rebounds in this game and he works hard inside." The 11-5 Bears got some good news heading into this weekend's road trip to Wisner-Pilger and Neligh-Oakdale, as senior Ezra Schantz will be back in the lineup after missing more than a month recovering from toe surgery. "He's been a leader for us the last couple of years, and the rest of the team is excited to have him back," Benson said. "If these guys who have stepped up continue to play well with Ezra back in the lineup, it gives us a chance to go far this postseason." The Bears were scheduled to play at Elkhorn Valley in a regular season game Tuesday, but the game has been moved to Monday night. Laurel-Concord 51, Elkhorn Valley 46

Chad Clay shoots over Newcastle's Tyler Mohr during the Trojans' upset of the top-seeded Raiders Thursday in the Lewis and Clark Conference tournament.

Trojans fall in semis of Lewis and Clark

By MICHAEL CARNES
 Of The Herald
 WINSIDE – When you are the ninth-seeded team in a 16-team tournament, it's always nice to find a way to the final four. Wakefield rode the momentum of their opening-round win in the Lewis and Clark Conference tournament to an upset of top-seeded Newcastle before a tough second-half effort by fourth-seeded Ponca sent the Trojans home one game short of the finals. The Trojans beat Newcastle 34-32 in a tough defensive battle Thursday night, despite being at a significant size disadvantage. The Raiders' front line included two players over 6-foot-4, while the Trojans lineup boasted only one starter as tall as 6-foot-2. But what Wakefield lacked in size, they more than made up with their defense. "This was the type of team that gives us problems, and I was proud of the guys' effort," coach Mike Clay said. "We made some mistakes that let them back in it, but we found a way to win and it's a win we'll certainly take." Trailing 10-7 in the second period, Wakefield went on a 9-2 run to close the half and take the lead for good. Dusty Sherer, Tyler Bodlak and Chad Clay all found the basket during the final four minutes of the first half to give Wakefield a four-point edge and some much-needed momentum heading into the locker room. That momentum was still in Wakefield's favor to start the second half, and when Clay opened the third period with a 3-pointer, Wakefield was able to increase its lead to seven points and led by as many as 10 in the fourth quarter. Newcastle would rally, though, and when Clay missed two free throws with 6.6 seconds left, the Raiders had the ball and a chance to tie or win the game. Wakefield's defense came to the rescue, though. As Newcastle tried to break Wakefield's full-court press, the ball was dribbled off the leg of Wakefield's Chris Matias. He ran down the ball and flipped it to Clay, who dribbled out the last second to secure the win for the Trojans. The following night, Wakefield had fourth-seeded Ponca on the ropes for much of the first half, but a late surge by the Indians carried over into the second half, and Wakefield couldn't answer the challenge as they fell to the Indians 49-35. "We didn't play a bad first half, but we kind of lost the momentum toward the end of the half," Clay said. "We had a couple of turnovers early in the second half and kind of got in a hurry offensively and forced some shots, and we were trying to pack it in defensively but our rebounding wasn't very good and they got a lot of second chances." Wakefield got out to a 6-1 lead early in the game and led by as many as seven points late in the first half before Ponca rallied behind a three-point play from Matt Dohma and a basket by Jared Curry as time expired, cutting Wakefield's lead to 24-22 at the half. Ponca came out and scored the first 10 points of the second half, keyed by back-to-back 3-pointers from Ben Gehring. Wakefield got baskets from Bodlak and Sherer to get within six points, but that's as close as the Trojans would come as Ponca's defense shut down the Trojans in the second half. Still, getting to the final four in the conference should serve as a spark for the 9-9 Trojans, Clay said. "It's nice to get to that semifinal round and get three games in, and hopefully that will help us down the stretch," he said.

Wayne bowlers ready for state tournament action

Wayne's boys and girls bowling teams return to Lincoln as part of the Class C field in the Nebraska High School Bowling Federation State Championship tournament this weekend at Hollywood Bowl and Sun Valley Lanes. The boys return to Lincoln as defending Class C champs with momentum behind them thanks to an undefeated regular season and a district title this season. Dillon Wieland (190 average) and Josh Doorlag (183) led the way for this year's squad. To defend their championship, Wayne will face a field of schools that includes Centura, Doniphan, Ravenna, Plainview, McCool Junction, Burwell, Hartington, Wisner-Pilger, and St. Paul. The latter three schools are involved in a state championship first. All three were tied for the last wild card position. Without any clear cut way to determine the final wild card slot, all three will be competing for the last spot during Saturday's opening round of play. The girls, led by Amanda Kudrna (160) and Miranda Denklaue (154), head to Lincoln as a wild card entry and as co-champions of their conference during regular-season play. Joining the girls in the Class C field are Centura, McCool Junction, Plainview, Ravenna, Norfolk Catholic, Crofton, and two-time defending champion Burwell. Class C competition opens at Hollywood Bowl on Saturday at 10 a.m., with a four-game block and a best-of-5 single-elimination round using the Baker format. Saturday's competition will narrow the field down to the two teams that will compete for the Class C championship at Sun Valley Lanes on Sunday. Admission on Saturday is $5. Admission to Sunday's finals will be $5 per session or $10 for an all-day pass. Sunday's final matches take place in the specially constructed "arena-style" environment. Bleacher seating will be available alongside the championship pair of lanes and directly behind the bowler's area. The entire "arena" will be curtained off from view by the rest of the bowling center. Nebraska Public Television, will televise this year's finals. The NET broadcast will air on Sunday, Feb. 21, beginning at 8 a.m. The girls' finals will be broadcast first, followed by the boys'. Fans can also keep up with the scoring in the finals in real time by going to the Sun Valley website, www.sunvalleylanes.com.

Brett Spiker shoots over an Augustana defender during the Wildcats' loss to the Vikings Saturday at Rice Auditorium.

Second-half surge lifts Augie over Wildcats

Augustana shot a blistering 70.8 percent from the field in the second half to rally for a 70-54 win over Wayne State Saturday at Rice Auditorium.

As it was earlier in the year, Saturday's game was a contrast of two halves. Wayne State played solid defense and led 23-20 at intermission, only to see the 25th-ranked Vikings catch fire in the second half.

"It was a game of tempo," coach Paul Combs said. "We played to our tempo in the first half and took away their transition and perimeter shooting, and the second half they played like the top 25 team they are and made their shots and played solid defense."

Wayne State tied the score at 33-33 on a Brad Starken 3-pointer with 13:34 left, but Augustana put together another scoring spurt, going on an 11-2 run to take a 44-35 lead and the Wildcats never got closer than seven points the rest of the game.

"It's a credit to their defense," Combs said. "It seemed the more shots they hit, the better they became on defense and they did a nice job pressuring the ball."

Shelby led Wayne State in scoring with 15 points followed by Starken with 14 and Brett Spiker with 13. David Foster poured in a game-high 25 points, making 6-of-9 attempts behind the 3-point line, and Cody Schilling added 14 points for the Vikings.

Wayne State, 9-12 overall and 6-8 in the NSIC, will be at home this weekend for a pair of key NSIC battles, as the Wildcats host Winona State Friday at 8 p.m. and Upper Iowa University Saturday at 6 p.m.

Combs said both games will be important to keep the Wildcats' postseason hopes alive.

"Both of these games are very important, and we need to play better and just be more consistent," Combs said. "We battled Winona tough last time and had an opportunity to win, then we won a tight game at Upper Iowa the next night, so both of these games are going to be huge challenges for us."

Wayne girls take fifth in Mid-State tournament

After falling in the first round of the Mid-State Conference tournament, the Wayne High girls bounced back with two wins to take fifth-place in the eight-team tournament.

On Thursday, the Blue Devils dominated Madison with a solid all-around game, coming away with an easy 51-28 win over the Lady Dragons at Norfolk Catholic High School.

"Our girls went into this game with a business-like attitude," coach Nate Wall said. "We knew we were the better team, so our girls went in, made a statement and left no doubt."

Wayne's pressure defense bothered Madison throughout the night, allowing Wayne to take a comfortable 31-9 halftime lead and cruise to the easy win.

Katie Hoskins poured in a game-high 20 points and had eight rebounds to lead the Blue Devils. Shannon Jarvi also had a nice game, finishing with 11 points and eight boards; and Caitlin Fehringer put in six points.

On Saturday, the Blue Devils came from behind in the fourth quarter to take care of the Lady Bluejays and bring home the fifth-place trophy at Northeast Community College.

"It was a game of runs," Wall said. "We got ahead to start the game, then we were down . . . and finished the game on a 17-4 run."

Wall credited the team's variety of presses with his team's comeback effort.

"We mixed two different presses at Pierce in the second half and they struggled with how to attack them," he said. "It was a wonderful team effort and a gigantic win for our team."

Jarvi led a balanced attack with 11 points, Fehringer added nine and Hoskins put in seven while recording nine rebounds and four blocks.

Winside takes Clearwater Invite title

No. 6 Wildcats outlast three ranked teams in pre-district battle

By LEE KOCH
Special To The Herald

CLEARWATER – The Winside wrestling team, rated No. 6 in Class D by the Nebraska Scholastic Wrestling Coaches Association, won the Clearwater/Orchard Invitational Friday, finishing ahead of No. 3 Howells, No. 5 Plainview and No. 9 Elgin/Pope John.

"It was a pleasant surprise to take first over Plainview and Howells in the same meet," coach Paul Sok commented. "The guys wrestled fairly well throughout the meet and finishing with three champs and three runner-ups was great. A number of the wrestlers should end up with top six seeds at districts. Kalin secured a top seed with his win over Jessen from Plainview in the finals."

Ethan Thies (130), Kalin Koch (140) and Zach Brokaw (152) all won individual championships in their respective weight classes to lead the Wildcats to the team title. Thies pinned all of his opponents, including finals opponent Nathan Anderson of Elgin/Pope John, 2:30 into the match.

Koch, rated No. 1 at 140 in Class D by the NSWCA, won a 5-1 decision over Jake Jessen of Plainview to earn his gold medal; while Brokaw, rated No. 3 by the NSWCA, pinned Brandon Wragge of Howells in the first period of his medal match.

Cody Wylie (145), Jordan Nelson (171) and Anthony Nelson (215) all wrestled to second-place finishes for Winside, with Brady Wurdemann (103) and Peter Hansen (125) earning third place medals. Brad Doffin (160) and David DeCock contributed fourth-place finishes to the Wildcat cause.

Sok commented, "Paul Hansen had to pull out of the meet at the last second with a case of the stomach flu, but all 13 wrestlers finished in the top six of their weight with eight finishing in the top three. Districts should be a real barn-burner for us with six teams rated in the top 10 of class D. Throw in another 12 teams and the competition should really heat up Saturday during the qualifying rounds."

Jordan Nelson, rated No. 6 in class D, lost his finals match to No. 1-rated Cory Brester of Howells. Nelson won his 100th career victory in his first match of the day, pinning Randy Kruse of Osmond in 1:02.

Winside will travel to Stanton Friday and Saturday to compete in the Class D-2 District Wrestling tournament. The D-2 district is traditionally considered the toughest small-school district in the state to qualify for the state meet, which will be held next week at the Qwest Center in Omaha.

Wakefield girls win 71-53

WAKEFIELD – The Wakefield girls came alive in the fourth quarter, burning up the nets for 26 points in the final period to pull away for a 71-53 win over Winnebago Tuesday night.

Three Wakefield players finished in double figures, led by Keri Lunz with a game-high 21 points. Jenna Henderson hit two 3-pointers on her way to a 19-point evening, while Katelyn Tuttle added 11 points.

Winside girls, Allen boys hang on for wins

By MICHAEL CARNES
Of The Herald

ALLEN - When two schools' teams are struggling on the basketball floor, it can make for a very tough night of basketball.

The Winside and Allen boys and girls basketball teams have combined for a grand total of four wins this year, so it seemed fitting that each school picked up a win from their boys-girls doubleheader Tuesday at Allen High School.

In the girls' game, the visiting Wildcats overcame a six-point fourth-quarter deficit, and free throws by Jordyn Roberts and Marissa Prince proved to be the difference as Winside edged the Lady Eagles 39-37.

The boys' nightcap went into overtime, and Allen's boys matched the comeback effort of the Winside girls, spotting the Wildcat boys the first five points in overtime before rallying for a 41-37 triumph.

Winside coach Tim Manzer was proud of his team's effort, which saw them get out to an early lead, then fall behind before going on a 13-5 run the last 4 1/2 minutes to get their second win of the year.

"The girls stayed with it and we were able to cut down our turnovers the last 4-5 minutes of the game, and I was happy we were able to do that and come back and get the win," he said.

The Wildcats went on a 7-0 run in the first period and held a 9-6 lead, but Allen shut down the Wildcats for the first six minutes of the second period to take a 15-9 advantage. Back-to-back baskets by Hannah Flores gave Allen a six-point lead before Roberts hit a pair of free throws to end the nine-point Allen surge.

Roberts, who finished with a game-high 17 points, scored a pair of baskets early in the second half to tie the game at 18-18, and the two teams went back and forth throughout a physical third period. Allen led 32-26 on two Flores free throws with 5:54 left before Roberts' 3-pointer ignited the Winside rally. "Jordyn is our floor general and really came through when we needed her tonight," Manzer said.

Allen, 1-16, made a number of key turnovers that Winside was able to take advantage of down the stretch, Lady Eagles coach Logan McPhillips said.

"We had a couple of turnovers in a row there that they were able to capitalize on and get back in the game, and we kind of lost patience down the stretch and made some costly mistakes at the end," he said.

The boys needed an extra period to settle their score, which was as tightly-contested as the girls game.

The two teams traded scores for much of the first period before Zach Crom drilled a 3-pointer with time winding down to give the Eagles an 11-8 first-quarter lead.

As it was in the girls' game, Allen's defense shut down the Winside offense until late in the period, but Allen was just as ineffective, scoring their only points on a Cody Stewart basket with 3:56 to go in the period and a Stewart free throw seconds later after a Winside turnover and foul. Seth Mangels found the basket for Winside late in the period to pull the Wildcats to within four at intermission.

Allen led by as many as eight points in the fourth quarter before the Wildcats took advantage of a rushed Eagles' offense, using full-court pressure to create problems for Allen's press-break offense and eventually send the game to overtime.

Winside got out to an early lead on a Meyer 3-pointer and a pair of Mangels free throws, but Allen rode the efforts of Stewart, who scored seven of his game-high 25 points in the final two minutes of overtime. He scored on three consecutive possessions to turn a five-point deficit into a lead that the Eagles would not relinquish.

"That was the best part, getting down five in overtime and coming back and stepping up on defense," coach Luke Hoffman said. "Cody shows up most every night and is a leader for us and he showed it with his performance tonight."

Stewart's third basket in his one-man run came off a series of offensive rebounds that gave Allen the lead with :21 left, and Cody Logue sealed the deal on the ensuing inbounds play, stealing the pass and driving to the hole. He later drew a charge with :08 to go in overtime, and Stewart put the game out of reach with a free throw to give Allen, 2-13, the win.

Mangels scored 14 points and Nathan Janke added eight for the Wildcats, who fell to 1-14.

King sets nation's best in 400-meter dash at Sevigne meet

Senior sprinter Christina King broke the school record in the 400-meter dash for the third time this season to highlight the Wayne State indoor track and field team effort this past weekend.

King broke the school record in the 400-meter dash for the third time this season at the Frank Sevigne Husker Invitational, running 55.81 seconds to top her previous school mark of 57.50 set at last weekend's Minnesota State Open in Mankato. It also improves her national provisional qualifying mark, which unofficially ranks as the top time in NCAA Div. II.

Junior Paige Pollard set a new school record at the Sevigne Invitational by placing fourth in the 800-meter run with a time of 2:15.07, eclipsing her own school mark of 2:16.51 set last season. Her time is also a provisional national qualifying mark.

At Vermillion, freshman Savannah Wakeley scored her third straight win in the high jump, clearing 5 feet, 3 inches. Other top five finishers for the Wildcats were Brianne Hofstetter, taking third in the triple jump and fifth in the long jump; and Megan Dias, placing fourth in both the long jump and triple jump.

For the Wayne State men, sophomore Andy Jansen set a new school record in the 400-meter dash at the Husker Invitational Friday night with a clocking of 49.78 seconds, breaking the previous school record of 50.34 seconds set by Travis Fredrickson in 1996.

Jansen set another new school record in the 600-yard run, placing 12th in a time of 1:14.75 to better the previous school mark of 1:16.22 set by Corey Kriz in the 2004 season.

At Vermillion, Cody Diehl scored the lone win for the Wildcats, winning the pole vault with a best clearing of 15 feet, 6 inches. John Kern placed second in the mile run, Alex Timperly finished third in the triple jump with Lucas Sirek placed fourth. Michael King was fourth in the 60-meter dash.

Wayne State will host its own Wildcat Open held at the Wayne State Recreation Center on Saturday, with field events starting at 10:30 a.m. and running events at 12:30 p.m.

Sports Shorts

Youth wrestling signups are set

The Wayne Youth Wrestling club will have its 2010 sign-up available Feb. 15-17 at the Wayne Community Activity Center.

Sign-ups will be taken each day from 4:30 to 7 p.m. Practice begins Monday, Feb. 22 in the wrestling room at Wayne High School.

For more information, contact Brian Loberg at 375-1903.

Adult women's VB league ready

A women's volleyball league, open to area adults ages 19 and older, will be conducted by the City of Wayne Recreation Department.

Registration deadline for teams will be March 1, with league play running March 10 through April 21.

Team captains must register their team and pay league fees at the Community Activity Center by Monday, March 1. For more information, contact the Activity Center at 375-4803.

Baseball players, coaches needed

Registration for the Wayne Baseball Association's Little League and Pony divisions will be held beginning March 2 at the Wayne Community Activity Center.

Registrations will be taken from 5:30-7:30 p.m. on Tuesday and Thursday, March 2-4, and Monday and Wednesday, March 8-10. Cost is $75. The playing age of the child is determined by his age on Jan. 21, 2010.

Coaches are also needed for these age groups. For more information, call Jacki Zeiss at 369-1919 after 3:30 p.m., or Jeff Zeiss at 375-4803.

WSC women fourth in region

The Wayne State women's basketball team moved up to No. 4 in the NCAA Div. II Central Region rankings last week.

Wayne State is behind Fort Lewis of Colorado, Concordia-St. Paul and Adams State in the latest rankings. Trailing the Wildcats are Minnesota-Moorhead, Augustana, Minnesota-Duluth, Colorado School of Mines, Winona State and Colorado State-Pueblo.

The top eight teams qualify for the Central Regional tournament in March.

Hjelle, Wagner on all-district team

Wayne State basketball players Brian Metz, Mara Hjelle and Julie Ann Wagner were named to the ESPN The Magazine Academic All-District team.

Metz, who has a 3.93 grade-point average as a business management major, was named to the second team for the second straight year.

Hjelle, a first-team selection, has a 3.92 grade-point average while majoring in counseling. Wagner earned third-team honors and has a 3.95 grade-point average as a political science major.

King earns NSIC track honor

Christina King was named the NSIC Women's Track Athlete of the Week for her efforts at the Frank Sevigne Husker Invitational.

King broke her school record in the 400-meter dash for the third time this season. Her time of 55.81 seconds is the best time this year in NCAA Div. II.

Wildcats ranked 16th in baseball

The Wayne State baseball team is ranked No. 16 in the National Collegiate Baseball Writers Association's Div. II preseason poll.

Wayne State was 45-15 last year and is the only team from the NSIC in the rankings. Wayne State is also No. 2 in the Central Region, trailing only Mesa State of Colorado, who is ranked No. 7 in the national preseason poll.

Eighth-grade boys win again

The Wayne eighth-grade boys team won their own tournament and picked up another win to improve their record to 6-0.

Wayne beat Madison (68-16) and Norfolk Catholic (59-23) to win its own tournament. Ten different players scored in the win over Madison, led by Luke Rethwisch's 17 points. Jalen Barry and Austin Keiser each had nine, Jared Anderson and Jacob Lutt scored eight points each, Matt Schrunk added six, Tyler Schoh put in five, Kaje Maly three, Trevor Pecena two and Payton Janke one.

In the win over Norfolk Catholic, Barry scored a game-high 29 points to lead the way, while Rethwisch added 13. Also scoring were Lutt with four, Pecena three and Maly, Janke, Schoh, Keiser and Schrunk with two each.

In other action, Rethwisch had 19 and Barry put in 18 to help Wayne beat Bancroft-Rosalie by a 59-28 margin. Pecena scored seven points, Keiser scored six, Schrunk added four, Anderson put in three and Lutt scored two.

Tea Anyone?

What prompted people to spontaneously form groups that were fed up with our Washington representatives, who act like drunken sailors on shore leave?

These demonstrations, called tea parties, were held and will be held by grass-root Americans like you and me who have had it!

I am thankful to those who showed up and spoke up. They believe, and know, that changes begin at the grassroots. Sarah Palin addressed the first national gathering of the tea party and she said it all and she said it well.

I wonder what those who voted for President Obama are thinking these days. Are they getting what they want, or is he acting in a manner that you would never tolerate in your own home?

I am a news freak and I just learned that our representatives raised our debt ceiling even higher. Have you figured out how you are going to explain that to your kids and your grandchildren if and when they ask you what you did to stop it? Is that what you want?

Not only does the professor fumble with the word corps, he fumbles with our security. He is learning on the job and we simply cannot afford that. Is that what you want?

If you voted for Obama, could you give me one reason why you did so? Did he ever run a business? Did he serve in the Armed Services? What did he achieve during the few days he was in the Senate? Do you realize he did his campaigning on your dime?

Until you can rebut any of this, you should have some sleepless nights because you are standing on the same rail everybody else is standing on. The difference between you and me? I know that the train is coming.

Legislature learns haste makes waste

By ED HOWARD
Statehouse Correspondent
The Nebraska Press Association

LINCOLN — "Haste makes waste" is not a law of nature.

Ask anyone who has outrun a bully, or stepped on a snake.

It is true, however, that when doing important things, it is good to do them with care.

The Legislature learned something (one hopes) with the original, misbegotten safe-haven statute that opened the door for people who wanted to drop their kids off at hospitals when they felt unable to care for them. Most lawmakers thought it would apply to newborns whose mothers felt they couldn't keep the infants; but parents started using it to unload teenagers.

The episode made Nebraska look like a place where legislators make policy the way Toyota makes accelerators.

That particular mess could have been avoided if the appropriate attorneys who work for state senators had rightly advised their bosses. Maybe: "Whoa, chief! This makes less sense than a tuna fish and jelly sandwich!"

So, let's give credit where it is eventually due.

The Legislature recently stepped in a bucket of stuff when it rewrote a pending bill so that it would require some people — those who would ride motorcycles without helmets — to buy insurance to cover any long-term care they might need as a result of choosing to ride motorcycles without helmets. Another well-intended idea.

www.pou.fellco-teore.com

The good news — this is where due credit is given — is that shortly after the requirement was written into law someone figured out it would cost motorcyclists somewhere between $4,000 and $5,000 annually. The requirement was eventually erased from the measure.

At this writing an amendment was pending to require those who want to ride without helmets to acquire $1 million worth of medical care insurance. It was held up after a lawmaker familiar with the insurance business noted such coverage wasn't available in Nebraska. Thus was another potential embarrassment avoided.

Schools Mum On Anti-Lobbying

No school districts, or lobbyists, showed up at a hearing to oppose a bill that would ban the districts from spending state tax dollars to lobby the Legislature.

Sen. Bill Avery of Lincoln, sponsor of the measure, said school superintendents should be able to explain their districts' positions to lawmakers.

Letters Welcome

Letters from readers are welcome. They should be timely, brief (no longer than one type-written page, double spaced) and must contain no libelous statements. We reserve the right to edit or reject any letter.

Letters published must have the author's name, address and telephone number. The author's name will be printed with the letter; the address and the telephone number will be necessary to confirm the author's signature.

Bills are up for debate in Education Committee

Greetings from the Unicameral! The Education Committee has a full plate this session, with work on major topics like the kindergarten entrance age and the community college funding formula awaiting the committee in the coming weeks.

While these major policy debates will likely take up a significant amount of the committee's time this year, sometimes the smaller changes to state law have the greatest impact on our local communities. LB711, introduced by Senator Cap Dierks and advanced on a unanimous vote by the Education Committee, is one of those small changes that will help local school districts in Northeast Nebraska.

In 1998, the Legislature created a process called school unification, allowing smaller school districts to share resources without going through the consolidation process. Unified school districts are essentially treated as a single school district, but each district is allowed to retain their own identity and sports teams.

Unfortunately, the original unification law made the process of "unifying" difficult, by forcing districts to either unify or consolidate with another district. Under LB711, school districts that seek to unify would be able to use interlocal agreements to terminate the unification. While there are only three unified school districts in existence at the current time, the bill opens up the possibility of unification for school districts facing an increasing shortage of resources.

Two bills that I introduced this session have passed the first round of debate. The first bill, LB746, would extend and enhance the provisions of Nebraska's existing ban on racial profiling. As many Nebraska communities have learned through experience, bringing law enforcement and the affected communities together is essential to finding broad-based solutions that can best address the difficult issues facing our state. LB746 will likely be debated on Select File in the coming weeks.

My other bill awaiting second-round debate on Select File is LB873, a "clean-up" measure designed to eliminate taxpayer confusion by repealing an additional notice that is currently sent to owners of mobile homes, cabin trailers, manufactured homes and other types of property that are subject to personal property taxes.

As always, I would encourage you to contact me if you have any questions or simply have an opinion on legislation before the Unicameral. Feel free to call my office at (402) 471-2716, send me an e-mail at bgiese@leg.ne.gov, or stop by in person any time you're in Lincoln.

By this time next week, we will know which of our elected leaders plan to run for re-election this November.

Now the question is — who among you will give us a choice when we go to the polls this year?

The best thing about being an American citizen is that we have the opportunity to choose who will represent us in the halls of government at every level (at least locally — when it comes to the federal elections it's pretty much the lesser of two horribly incompetent evils, known as the Democrat and Republican parties, but that's another column for another day).

We have the right to determine who will serve the public as representatives of our city councils, school boards and other public offices. If we don't like the mayor, or the county clerk, or certain members of the school board, we can vote them out and bring in somebody who, in our view, will best represent us as a member of that particular governing body.

These days, though, there seems to be a growing apathy toward public office. Everybody seems to be more than willing to complain about the job being done by a certain elected official, but suggest to them that they run for that individual's office, and they seem to be more willing to give themselves a colonoscopy than make the effort.

And make no mistake, it is an effort to serve as a representative of a governing body, whether it's

Don't get me started

By: Michael Carnes
Managing Editor

the local school board or President of the United States. The scheduled meetings that most of the public sees (if they bother to attend the meetings) are just the tip of the iceberg for a public official.

Whether it's the school board or the city council, a public official's schedule is a busy one. There are meetings with subordinates, attending certain functions, going to state and regional meetings relating to their position, the hours spent poring over financial information and budgets, and the daily conversations — many of them negative — with constituents who want to give them their two cents worth of criticism regarding an issue related to the office they hold.

Most of the decisions an elected official will make, generally, go unnoticed by the public unless it directly affects them. Nobody pays much attention to the county sheriff's office until they get pulled over for speeding (or worse). The school board won't draw much attention from the public unless they make a drastic change in curriculum or the price of school lunches (although they recently added 10 minutes to the school day, which might put them in dutch with the kids in the district... then again, the kids aren't old enough to vote, so what the heck).

It's those tough decisions, the ones that could have a profound effect on the school, community or county, that will draw the attention of the public, and more often than not, that attention won't be the kind that makes them want to go out in public. Ask a board member how much fun it is to hear from people who just had their property taxes raised, and they'll tell you that those conversations are not the ones they relish taking part in.

These people put a lot of time and effort into representing the will of the people, and they should be applauded for their efforts. At the same time, they should not get comfortable in their positions as a member of school, city or county government, and that's why we elect and re-elect people every two and four years.

To do that, incumbents need challengers to run for public office. We need a choice when we go to the polls, if for no other reason than to keep those now in office from becoming complacent in their positions as a representative of the public. Every governing body, from the school board to Congress, needs new ideas and new energy, and the only way that will happen is if we, the people, are given a choice at the ballot box.

This is not to say that those currently serving in office who have filed for re-election (or are about to) are not worthy of continued representation in their respective positions. I think the vast majority of those now serving in office at the city, county and state levels have done as good a job as they are capable of, and if people are comfortable with having those people serve another four-year term in their respective office, then we should go ahead and vote them in.

But in order to have the right representation, voters need to have a choice during the May 11 primary and the November 2 general elections. Which of you will step up and give us a choice when we step into the ballot box?

Learn to stretch your paycheck

Managing money is a skill that almost everyone can learn and benefit from, especially to teach youth about saving money.

For example, one of the most common money mistakes is making a major purchase impulsively. Wait a day or two to evaluate if the purchase is necessary. Another financial mistake is buying an item on sale just because it's on sale. This also can be hard on the check-book. Learning to rethink these and other expenditures can help you manage your money wisely.

To stretch your paycheck, here

Angela Abts
Dakota County Treasurer

are some helpful suggestions:

1. Make a list of "fixed" expenses, such as a house payment or rent; automobile payments, school or other loans; or periodic payments, such as insurance payments or a child's orthodontics. Be sure to include deposits into a savings account.
2. Pay "fixed" expenses first.
3. Balance "flexible" spending. Flexible spending usually includes expenses that vary from month to month, such as groceries, maintenance on an automobile, clothing, etc.
4. Learn to identify the difference between needs (essentials) and wants (extras) in your spending plan.
5. Keep track of miscellaneous expenses. Spending a dollar a day in a vending machine at work may not seem like much, but if you multiply a dollar times five (for each day of the week) times 52 weeks, it adds up to $260 a year.
6. Comparison shop. Check prices, product guarantees, and service at two or more places when purchasing costly items, like a major appliance or a car.
7. Use credit with care. Be sure to limit credit card purchases to an amount that can be comfortably paid within a given time frame. Using a credit card for small purchases is, however, fine if you always pay the total balance and don't accrue interest charges. Keep track of credit card expenditures to minimize surprises when the bill arrives. Try carrying an index card or small notebook to keep a running total of credit card expenditures if you have difficulty managing credit.

Can parents help children learn the value of a dollar? Here's an easy exercise that can help parents teach children about purchasing power. Choose a time when a supermarket is not likely to be crowded. Ask a child to choose two grocery items from the same shelf and help the child compare the size of the boxes; the number of servings; price and/or price per serving, which usually is posted. Or, help them check how many of two or three different items, such as grapes, potatoes, and/or bananas they might purchase for the same amount of money.

Children also benefit from learning that price is influenced by the place of purchase. For example, a candy bar is likely to be least expensive at a supermarket or discount department store; more costly at a convenience store; and still more costly at a movie theater or sporting event concession stand.

Acme Club President Delores Utecht and Wayne Public Library Director Lauren Lofgren pose with the letter from Andrew Carnegie in which he agreed to give money to the city of Wayne for the construction of a library.

Acme Club members learn of origin of Wayne Public Library

Members of the Acme Club met Feb. 1 for a noon luncheon and meeting at the Wayne Senior with Joanne Temme and Betty Wittig as hostesses.

Joann Temme gave the Thought for the Day which was a quote from Sharon Randall entitled "Dreaming of a World Full of Readers."

Roll call was about visiting libraries and reading books.

Lauren Lofgren, the director of the library, was the guest speaker for the afternoon. She took the group on a tour of the library. Members of the group learned there are many more items besides books that are available to be checked out at the library.

The Acme Club is observing the 125th anniversary of the organization of the club. It was organized in February 1985 as a literary society. One of the main purposes of the Acme Club was working for the Library Fund.

Following are some excerpts from a letter written by Mrs. John T. Bressler in 1945. "In the early life of the club there were several other clubs and they formed a city federation. The Acme Club also belonged to the state federation of clubs. Acme joined with other clubs to start a library and members of the various clubs gave books to the library.

The library was opened in a basement at the court house, which was furnished rent-free by the county. Turns were taken to open it twice a week, but in time, other clubs withdrew from the project, leaving the Acme Club with the project.

Later on, The Monday Club had a rental library downtown.

In April of 1910, according to an item printed in the Nebraska Democrat, a library board was appointed by the Mayor, Mr. Henry Ley. Their first meeting was held in the Baptist Church. After organizing, they asked the city council to levy a two mill tax for maintaining a library which they received. The board decided to buy a lot north of the church for the sum of $850 which was paid for by money being raised by subscriptions taken in town.

After the lot was obtained the matter of getting a Carnegie library building was undertaken. A letter was written to Andrew Carnegie. He responded to Mrs. John T. Bressler and told her what would be required of the city, so that he would make a gift for a library building. It was approved and Mr. Carnegie gave $10,000 for the construction of a building.

The Acme Club earned money in various ways in order to buy books, pay for a librarian, etc.

The letter that Andrew Carnegie responded to Mrs. Bressler is framed and hangs in the Conference Room at the library.

The next meeting for the Acme Club will be Monday, Feb. 15.

January Character Connections students of the Month at Wayne Elementary School pose with their certificates following last week's school assembly.

Character Connections students recognized

Students of the Month and January birthdays were celebrated during the monthly assembly at Wayne Elementary School on Feb. 1.

Kindergarten students, under the direction of their teachers, Mrs. Heikes, Mrs. Meyer and Mrs. Rockwell, were in charge of telling the school how they care for others. They talked about sharing toys, helping their parents or being kind to a neighbor.

They also spelled out the word CARING and told everyone what each letter stood for. Kindergarteners are wonderful examples of this word. . . they are little people with big hearts!

Responsibility is the Character Connections word for February and March.

Student of the Month included:

Kindergarten: Rockhill — Elle Barnes; Meyer — Ethan Wibben; Heikes — Amara Hurlbert.

First grade: Thomas — Christopher Woerdemann; Maas — Kallan Herman; Ostrand — Edwin Vahlkamp.

Second grade: Suehl — Kelsey Heggemeyer; Jodi Lutt — Jon Worner; Jaixen — Qwintin Billheimer.

Third grade: Garvin — Sara Duncan; Peg Lutt — Marrissa Lutt; Hansen — Owen Frideres.

Fourth grade: Hix — Shania

Anderson; Janke — Brennen O'Reilly; Wall — Colton Spahr.

Thomas Colbert, Pomona, Calif., was first runner-up to the king. He is a graduate of Upland High School and the son of Darryl and Cheryl Colbert of Adelanto, Calif. He is a sophomore general studies major and represented the men's Hawks' basketball team.

The king and queen were chosen by a vote of the student body. There were nine queen and nine king candidates.

Other candidates for the honor included:

Corinne Volk of Wayne. A graduate of Wayne High School, she is the daughter of Gary and Anne Volk and a sophomore pre-physical therapy major. She represented Phi Theta Kappa academic honor society.

The 2010 Homecoming Queen and King were crowned by last year's royalty, Barbara Kibugi of Nairobi, Kenya, and Nick Pavel of Lesterville, S.D.

A Homecoming Dance followed the coronation.

The evening also drew a record attendance for Alumni Night. The Northeast Alumni Association treated alumni of Northeast or any of its predecessor institutions to refreshments in a Hospitality Room.

Private pesticide applicator training classes scheduled

Private pesticide applicators whose licenses expire in 2010 and those seeking first-time certification can find information on pesticide safety education programs at their local University of Nebraska Extension offices.

Licensing as a private applicator allows farmers to purchase and use pesticide classified for restricted use by the U.S. Environmental Protection Agency in their own farming operations.

Extension provides the educational program, while the agriculture department is responsible for licensing. The training fee is $30.00. An applicator may also certify by self-study for a $60.00 training fee.

In 2001, the Nebraska Legislature created a state pesticide license fee of $25.00 for private applicators. The fee covers a three-year license period.

Wayne County training sessions are scheduled as follows:

Thursday, Feb. 18: 1 p.m. and 6 p.m. at the Fire Hall, 510 Tomar in Wayne.

Tuesday, March 30: 6 p.m. at the Auditorium in Winside.

For additional sites contact the UNL Extension Office - Wayne County at 402.375.3310 or check online at <http://pested.unl.edu> where you will find training sites listed by county.

WSC HELP Clinic counselors provide help for personal concerns

Counseling services are available to all members of the community at no cost by the HELP Clinic at Wayne State College. Appointments may be scheduled in Wayne and in Norfolk.

The counselors help persons cope with stress involved with problems such as grief, family and relationship conflicts, emotional pain, and alcohol and drug abuse. Talking to a professional about these issues can provide support, guidance, and may help to find new solutions.

The HELP Clinic would be happy to answer any questions you have about the counseling. Call (402) 375-7210 to inquire. If you reach the answering machine, leave your name and phone number and your call will be returned.

The counselors are graduate students in Counseling at Wayne State College, all nearing completion of the Master's Degree. They are supervised by Dr. Keith Willis, a Licensed Psychologist and Licensed Alcohol and Drug Counselor.

Cyndi Miens is employed at Boys and Girls Home in Sioux City, Iowa where she has worked with at risk youth for 11 years. She is in her second year of the MSE in School Counseling. Cyndi hopes to graduate May 2011 and become a school counselor in the public school system or in a small rural community not far from her hometown of Sioux City.

Newest addition to the club

Dean's List students for fall semester announced at UN-K

The University of Nebraska at Kearney has announced the names of students from Nebraska who have earned a place on the Deans' List for fall semester.

To earn a place on the Deans' List, UNK students must complete 12 credit hours, or more, with a 3.5 or better overall average. At least 12 of the hours must be for quality points, i.e., 4.0 for an "A," 3.0 for a "B" and 2.0 for a "C." Courses taken on a credit/no credit basis do not earn quality points, and thus, cannot be included among the necessary 12 credit hours.

Students who earned a 4.0 (all "A's") average are noted by an asterisk after their names.

In recognition of their academic achievements, Deans' List students will receive a certificate from their respective deans.

Deans' List students from this area include:

Jaycie Woslager of Carroll (Winside High School); Rebecca Hoising* of Laurel; Kelsey Bard, Nicholas Curnyn and Stephanie Klein of Wakefield; Kaitlyn Centrone, Jesse Hill, Michelle Jarvi*, Jessica Kranz, Regan Ruhl, Reggie Ruhl* and Nathan Summerfield*.

WAYNE COUNTY BOARD PROCEEDINGS

Wayne, Nebraska
February 2, 2010

No Board of Equalization session was held.

Wayne, Nebraska
February 2, 2010

The Wayne County Board of Commissioners met in regular session at 9:15 a.m. on Tuesday, February 2, 2010 in the upstairs conference room of the Courthouse.

Roll call was answered by Chairman Rabe, Members Wurdeman and Burbach, and Clerk Finn.

Advance notice of this meeting was published in the Wayne Herald, a legal newspaper, on January 21, 2010.

A current copy of the Open Meetings Act was posted in the meeting room and accessible to the public.

The agenda was approved.
The minutes of the January 19, 2010, meeting were approved as printed in the Commissioner's Record.

Lisa Hurley of Northeast Nebraska Economic Development District and Wayne City Administrator Lowell Johnson presented information on owner-occupied housing rehabilitation grants. The county can apply for up to $400,000, and award grants of approximately $25,000 per applicant for safety, code and ADA issues in owner-occupied houses within city or village limits. The county will take the first step by submitting a pre-application.

Emergency Manager Nic Kemnitz reported the Wayne County Emergency Operations Center was open for 71 hours from Friday, January 22nd at 1:00p.m. until Monday January 25th at 12:00 p.m. The operations center was located in the Wayne city council chambers.

Kemnitz also reported that emergency managers are now the point of contact for Homeland Security, and they would like to have all counties accredited within the next five years.

Several bids received for the purchase of a new skid steer were reviewed. One bid had been faxed in rather than mailed or delivered in sealed envelope. Wurdeman reported visiting with County Attorney Pieper and was told it could be accepted because the ad in the paper stated we could waive any technicalities or irregularities. The versatility of a skid loader was discussed, but there were questions as to what size would be best. Motion by Wurdeman, second by Burbach to table action until the February 16th meeting so the board can try out the different machines. Roll call vote: Wurdeman-aye, Burbach-aye, Rabe-aye; motion carried.

Highway Superintendent Carlson requested the board members stop in her office to review their district's projects for the One and Six Year Road Plan.

Computer Technology Application #10-02 in the amount of $1,202.11 was approved on motion by Burbach, second by Wurdeman. Roll call vote: Burbach-aye, Wurdeman-aye, Rabe-aye; motion carried.

A memorandum of understand with the Cedar County Board of Commissioners designating Cedar County as the "lead county" for the Nebraska Crime Commission's 2010 State County Aid Juvenile Justice Grant application was signed upon motion by Burbach, second by Wurdeman. Roll call vote: Burbach-aye, Wurdeman-aye, Rabe-aye; motion carried.

Nebraska Accountability and Disclosure Commission employment of immediate family member's disclosure statements were placed on file.
Chapters 1-3 in the county's personnel policy were reviewed with elected officials during a work session. Recommended updates were received and discussed. Chapter 4 will be reviewed at the next meeting.

Among the activities the Scouts participated in was a pheasant feed.

2010 marks the 100th anniversary of the Boy Scouts of America and the 87th year of Scouting in Wayne.

Lance Webster is Scoutmaster for Troop 174 which is chartered by Journey Christian Church and receives major financial support from Wayne Kiwanis and Wayne United Way.

Boy Scout membership is open to all boys ages 11-18 from all faiths.

Other adult committee members are: Bill Long, chairman; Colleen Simpson, treasurer; Kari Wren, secretary and; Jeff Simpson, Peg Webster, Scott Abraham, Gary Wright and Frank Teach. Former Scoutmaster Mark Klassen serves as Eagle Scout Advancement Advisor.

Most visible community service project is the monthly paper drive held the third Saturday each month for the past 35+ years. The Scouts recycle over 300 tons of material each year including newsprint, white copy paper, mixed office paper, magazines and aluminum cans.

Other Scouting contributions to the community include work at the County Fair, Kiwanis Pancake Feed, Fireman's Pancake Feed and various service projects associated with requirements for Eagle Scout. To date, 132 Wayne Scouts have achieved this highest honor and more local Scouts are working toward earning their Eagle in 2010.

During Sunday afternoon meetings, Wayne Scouts learn about citizenship, safety, first aid and camping.

In addition to weekend campouts in the immediate area, the local Scouts enjoy extended trips to Camp Cedars near Fremont as well as sites in Wyoming, Colorado, New Mexico, Florida and northern Minnesota-southern Ontario, Canada.

Younger boys in Wayne also enjoy numerous activities as Cub Scouts.

New members always are welcome in both groups.
