Witkowski hopes India trip will inspire others

By CLARA OSTEN Of the Herald

For Ann Witkowski, mission trips are not something new. The Wayne women recently returned from her fourth mission trip and second to India.

Witkowski was one of 15 members of TEAM India from Norfolk who spent two weeks in southern India ministering to the Dalit people (formerly known as the 'untouchables) in the Hindu caste system

With assistance from the Wayne Rotary Club (of which Witkowski is a member) and Pamida, Witkowski was able to take vitamins to the women in the area she

Since her return from the trip, Witkowski has given several presentations on her trip and is willing to do so to other groups interested in learning more about the people and culture she encountered. She and the group she traveled with have put together approximately 4,000 slides and even with those, "it is impossible to tell all."

Witkowski noted that the caste system in India is over 4,000 years old and still in effect. She said the top class, the Brahmins, make up five percent of the population and include priests and doctors. The Kshatriyas are next on the list and make up another five percent of the population. They include members of the military. The Vaishyas are business owners and also make up five percent of the population. The Shudras are farmers and laborers and make up 50 percent of the population.

The Dalit are sweepers and scavengers in Indian society. They make up 25 percent of the population but "don't exist as human beings and are treated worse than animals," according to Witkowski.

More than 250 million people are part of the Dalit, but have no rights and live a miserable life.

TEAM India, which stands for Touching the Untouchable, Empowering Women, Assisting Those Who Serve in India, Mobilizing Community Involvement is part of an effort to teach basic health and nutrition to the women. The group works with Operation Mobilization to work with the Dalits, especially women, on several Witkowski said the people she met were "warm, loving people and the young people are such an inspiration. The hardest part of the trip was having to leave these people."

Operation Mobilization has established schools and clinics in India and are putting up churches, although Witkowski noted that preaching Christianity can be very Good Shepherd Schools have been in existence in India for approximately 20 years and have financial sponsors from around the world.

"Schools are the hope of India," Witkowski said, adding that TEAM India asks for donations to help support the schools by "adopting" students and enabling them to receive an education. Funding also pays for medicine and team members traveling to

County sets 1- and 6-year road plans

By MICHAEL CARNES

Of The Herald

Wayne County has 16 road projects scheduled for construction during 2010 after the Wayne County Commissioners approved its one- and six-year road plans Tuesday morning.

The schedule of construction projects amounts to an estimated $871,000 in total costs and how many of these projects will get done this year will depend on the amount of federal and state funding that is made available to the county.

Board member Kelvin Wurdeman didn't sound very optimistic that federal funding would be available anytime soon.

"It would be a miracle if we see any federal dollars by 2012," he said.

The list of projects (a complete list is available on the county highway superintendent's Web page at www. waynecountyne.org), however, is subject to "Circumstances could change," Elizabeth Carlson, county roads superintendent, told the board. "If a bridge goes down somewhere, then we'd have to replace that as soon as possible." All but one of the projects scheduled for the 2010 construction season involve a bridge in the county, which is becoming a problem for Wayne County and other counties in Nebraska. In fact, of the 212 bridges - designated by the county as 20 feet or longer in length - in Wayne County, 52 are fracture-critical,

Delay in setting local sewer rates ends with Council rate approval

Of the Herald

After several weeks of debates, including discussion at the annual retreat, Wayne City Council members have adopted a resolution establishing sewer rates for the city of Wayne

Council members were told that $470,000 in additional revenue would be needed each year to pay for the costs of the new wastewater treatment facility.

A number of options were discussed, including no subsidies from other areas of the city budget, increasing the monthly service charge to as much as $26.75 per month and subsidizing the cost with as much as $250,000 from the water department and the city sales tax.

Council member Ken Chamberlain made a motion to establish a rate based on a $150,000 per year subsidy, of which $75,000 would come from the water department and $75,000 would come from city sales tax revenues. The rate would be established with a $6.50 monthly service charge and $5.12 per 1,000 gallons used. Council member Brian Frevert said he was in favor of starting the rates on a lower end and raising them in the future if it is determined that more money is needed to fund the project. B.J. Woehler, representing Woehler

Trailer Court, asked the council to delay implementing the rate increase to allow the needed time (60 days) to pass the rate increase on to tenants.

Chamberlain amended his motion to allow the rate increase to take effect with the May billing.

In other action, the council approved resolutions approving the collective bargaining agreement between the City of Wayne and the Wayne Chapter No. 54 Fraternal Order of Police and approving the wage and salary schedule for Wayne Chapter No. 54 Fraternal Order of Police.

The resolution will affect dispatcher and officers with the Wayne Police Department but not Chief Lance Webster and Lt. Phil Shear. The term of the agreement is from Jan. 1, 2010 to June 30, 2012.

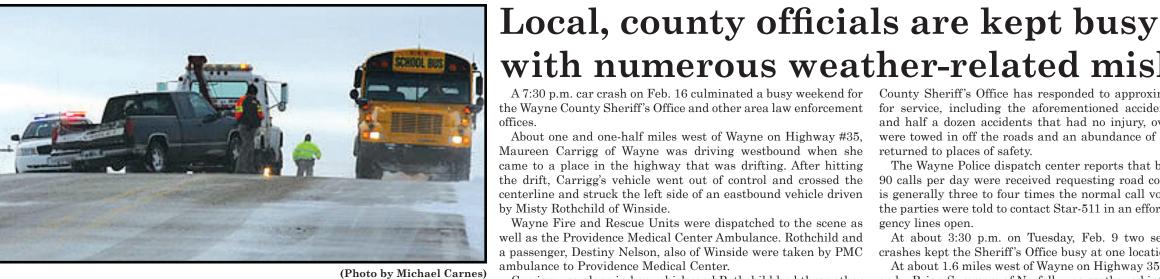

Council members also gave second reading approval to Ordinance 2010-3 which amends the city code in regard to definitions of sexual predator. The changes are necessary to bring the city code into compliance with state statues.

The council rescinded action which approved a Responsible Charge interlocal agreement with the city of Laurel which they had approved on Jan. 19. A change in wording by the Nebraska Department of Roads (NDOR) made that document obsolete and during Tuesday's meeting the council also approved a resolution in regard to a new agreement with wording approved by the NDOR.

The council also approved the appointment of Rod Tompkins to the Wayne Airport Authority to fill the unexpired term of Logan McClelland.

The council will next meet in regular session on Tuesday, March 2 at 5:30 p.m.

in council chambers.

New Sewer Rates

Wayne utility customers will have new sewer rates on the May 1 Utility Bill.

1) Check the following new rate against your last sewer bill: Divide the gallons used on your last bill by 1,000 and multiply that by the new rate of $5.12 per 1,000 gallons. Then add the $6.50 monthly sewer fee and that is what that bill would be under the new sewer rates approved by the council. 2) The new rates are needed to help pay $470,000 per year for the Administrator at 375-1733 or email

3) The rate philosophy used to set the new rates is to allocate the increased costs in the ratio of the amount of sewer usage by all 1,700 sewer users in Wayne.

4) The water rates have not increased.

5) If you rent property and are paying the water and sewer bills for your rental property you will want to check the impact of these new rates on your costs.

Providence Physical Therapy hosts course on new therapy

Providence Physical Therapy of Wayne recently hosted a continuing education course featuring instruction on a new therapy which offers pain relief and self treatment

Referred to as Total Motion Release (TMR), this type of therapy is a simple, active approach to healing and uses the good areas of the body to fix the bad or injured areas of the body. The good areas are usually found on the opposite side of the body.

According

Providence

Physical Therapy Supervisor, Gail McCorkindale, TMR is the brainchild of a North Carolina-based physical therapist, Tom Dalonzo-Baker. "Working the part of the body opposite the side that hurts, is one of the main objectives of TMR," she said. She went on to explain that one of the most important aspects of the TMR system is that the process can be taught to patients, which allows them to become their own therapist.

"The exciting thing about Total Motion Release (TMR) is that people who are dealing daily with painful joints and muscles may now come to Providence Physical Therapy where our therapists will introduce them to this fast-acting, movement-based system where they can learn and progress on their own to ease their back pain symptoms or the limited mobility of their joints," said McCorkindale.

Project Majestic begins renovations on theater

Thousands of volunteer hours including hundreds of hours from Wayne State College students have paid off. This past week Project Majestic started renovations at Wayne's downtown theater.

"We started our first demolition day in August and made tremendous progress," said Jeff Morlok, Steering Committee member and Design and Construction Committee Chair. "We have gutted this entire building, and none of this would have been done without the help of this community."

Last week contractors came together to start the renovation process. Carhart Lumber and Sharp Construction both contributed labor to insulation of the building and the beginning of framing respectively. "As demolition proceeded, we discovered this building was not insulated at all," Morlok said. "It has also been impressive how quickly we have started the framing process and we are excited to show the community our progress on Friday, March 12 at that Chamber Coffee."

Fundraising efforts for the restoration are still in progress. "Funding comes in almost every day," said Reggie Yates, Steering Committee Member and Fund Raising Committee Member. Currently there is more than $420,000 committed to Project Majestic. According to Yates, private donations are still needed to make the $575,000 renovation budget.

"Everyone throughout the Wayne area can be a part of this project. Many have already volunteered time and committed financially and we are looking forward to announcing some of those commitments as well at the upcoming Chamber Coffee."

For those in the community who would still like to support the work of Project Majestic, the not-for profit organizational renovation of Wayne's theater, checks can be sent to Project Majestic, PO Box 161 Wayne, Neb. 68787. Visit www.projectmajestic.org for additional information.

Wayne library receives funding from NLC one of eight libraries from across the state of Nebraska to receiving funding from the Nebraska Library Commission.

A total of 19 applicants submitted proposals for funding. Wayne will receive $7,311 for a mobile computer lab, extending wireless access, software and peripherals.

Library Director Lauren Lofgren spoke during Tuesday's meeting of the Wayne City Council and explained the application process and what would be required of the library for additional funding.

Library Improvement Grants totaling $51,346 were recently awarded to five Nebraska public libraries. The Nebraska Library Commission had requests for nearly $263,000 but had available funding of less than one-third that amount of federal LSTA funds to distribute. Because of this, it was not able to fund the majority of the proposals made.

In addition, three additional libraries had grant applications that were reviewed favorably. These three libraries are among those that would qualify to receive a Broadband Technology Opportunities Program (BTOP) program if Nebraska is successful in receiving that federal grant. (The Commission will learn the status of this grant in September

Two other area libraries will receive federal LSTA grant funds for their projects. Hartington Public Library will receive $4,242 for upgrading its technology lab, while the South Sioux City Public Library will get $10,510 for a mobile computer lab.

Premier Estates has new owners after sale to Sioux City group

Effective March 1, Premier Estates Senior Living will be owned by Careage Management, LLC of Sioux City, Iowa.

The 92-bed facility is currently owned by the Boyle Company, which has owned a facility in Wayne for 37 years. The current facility, at 811 East 14th Street, was built in 1992 and the named changed to Premier Estates Senior Living Community. Prior to that the company owned the facility on Main Street known as the Wayne Care Centre.

Miriam Wall, Administrator of Premier Estates, said there are no plans for change in staff. At the present time, the facility employes 80 to 100 full and part-time employees.

"We were pleasantly surprised at the announcement of change in ownership and are looking forward to the change and all the company (Careage) has to offer for the staff, residents and community," Wall said.

Careage Management currently owns six facilities in Iowa and three in Nebraska, including Colonial Manor/Colonial Estates in Randolph.

A number of 'face lift' type changes are planned for Premier Estates and an interior decorating company will be coming in to do redecorating of the facility in order to provide a more home-like environment.

"We will be focusing on resident-centered care and will offer restaurant-style meals, the choice of room decor and other changes to de-institutionalize the facility," which means they would collapse if one of the membranes of the bridge were to collapse.

For more information on Premier Estates, call (402) 375-1922. For information on Careage Management LLC, visit the Web site at www.careagemanagement.com.

A total of 62 projects are on the county's one- and six-year road plan, with some roads scheduled for construction as late as 2015.

The bridges in Wayne County have held their own throughout an unusual amount of heavy snow this winter, but the amount of snow that has been moved by county and state crews is starting to take its toll on the equipment.

Emergency manager Nic Kemnitz told the board that some of the roads in the county have drifts as high as 10 feet, which is making moving the snow more of a challenge. "Using maintainers is becoming useless, and payloaders are starting to become useless with these drifts,"

Wurdeman, who has spent numerous hours helping county road crews with snow removal, said it's not going to get better anytime

"If we get another two or three inches, the blowers are only going to be able to open the width of the road, and you see how quickly the highways are getting plugged up," he said. "Everything we opened (Monday night) was plugged again (Tuesday) morning. Probably 90 to 95 percent of the roads in the county are blocked, and we're percent every two hours." The board did elect to go ahead with the pre-approval process to apply for a county-wide owneroccupied housing rehabilitation opening them at a rate of about 1

Tom Higgenbotham of the Northeast Nebraska Economic Development District told the board that having the county apply would allow for a regional program to be created that would create opportunities for rehabilitation of houses throughout the county.

Wurdeman said he misunderstood comments from a recent meeting, thinking that only villages or a city, like Wayne, would be eligible for such funding. "I think we can go outside the county," Higgenbotham said. "The purpose of the program is to help folks both in and outside the city limits, so the intent would be to be a county-wide situation that would serve all of the county."

By going ahead with the preapproval process, the county would not be required to match any funds and is not committed to the program by doing the pre-approval application, Higgenbotham said.

The next step, he added, would be to contact communities in the county and do some research to find out what interest there is in the program.

In other action, the board:

– accepted the delivery of a 2010 Ford Escape for couthouse use from $\,$ Arnies Ford-Mercury.

down for a vehicle in front of him. Christiansen crossed the center line and crashed nearly head-on into a westbound vehicle driven by Warren Westrom of Plainview, Nebraska. Both vehicles spun around after the impact and rolled backwards into opposite ditches. There were four occupants in the Christian vehicle and three of them were taken to Providence Medical Center by the PMC ambulance.

After investigation of both crashes the Wayne County Sheriff's Office reports that a total of four persons were taken to PMC in Wayne and treated for non-severe injuries. It also appeared that all front seat occupants were wearing their seatbelts.

The Wayne Fire and Rescue crews and Providence Medical Center ambulance crews assisted the Sheriff's Office at the scene.

Blue Devils send three to state

SCHUYLER - Three's company for the Wayne High wrestling team, as a trio of Blue Devils will head to Omaha this week for the 2010 Nebraska State High School Wrestling Championships.

The Blue Devils finished seventh out of 12 teams in the B-2 district tournament at Schuyler, and coach Anthony Lawrence said he was happy to see Logan Owens (135), Riley McManus (160) and Jorge Dunklau (285) work their way to a state tournament appearance.

"I can't say enough about Logan and Jorge," he said. " Logan has wrestled lights-out all year and has the confidence to beat anybody, and Jorge had a great tournament and has really showed vast "And Riley really deserved this one," he added. "He wrestled all summer and worked hard in the weight room and had to beat a tough Skutt kid to get there.'

Dunklau was the lone Blue Devil to reach the finals, and he found himself in one of the biggest matches of the final round.

The senior heavyweight met Jacob Hasz of Omaha Skutt in the finals, and a lot more than a district title was riding on the outcome of the match. If Dunklau could avoid being pinned by the 2009 Class B 215pound state champion, Bennington would come away as district champions, marking the first time since 2000 that Omaha Skutt had lost a district tournament.

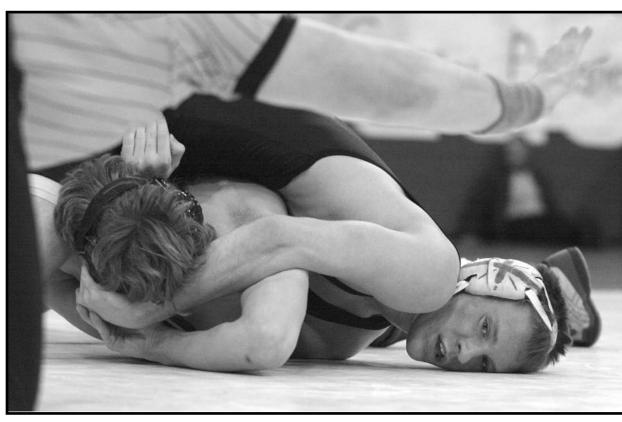

Unfortunately, Dunklau was caught late in the first period by Hasz, who stuck the Wayne senior in 92 seconds to give Omaha Skutt a 187-186.5 win over the Badgers in the race for district supremacy.

Owens, who was the first to eclipse the school record of wins in a season at last week's Mid-State Conference tournament, became the first Wayne wrestler in school history to win 40 matches in a season. He did so Saturday after going down to defeat in the semifinals. Needing a win to qualify for state, he came through with a win in the consolation semifinals, then dominated Blair's Gage Ryan in the third-place match with a 15-0 technical fall to give him 41 wins heading into the state

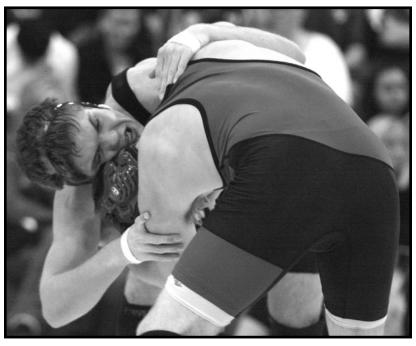

McManus, who earned AAU All-American honors during the summer, saw that off-season work pay off in the 160-pound weight bracket, as he fought his way through to a top-four finish. He reached the consolation

STANTON - Winside finished third in the tough Class D-2 District Nebraska State Wrestling Championship wrestling qualifying tournament as the Wildcats trailed co-champions Howells and Plainview by 11.5 points.

Wakefield scored 70 points and finished in the middle of the pack of the 17-team tournament, qualifying four wrestlers to advance to state meet competition with the Trojan team finishing ahead of Elgin/Pope John.

perennially tough D-2 tournament saw six of the top 10 rated small-school wrestling programs battle on the mats for two days to qualify the best four wrestlers in each weight class for the 2010 Nebraska State Wrestling Championships at the Qwest Center in Omaha, which will start Thursday with Class D action beginning at 4:30 p.m.

Saturday afternoon medal action got off to a rousing start as Nebraska wrestler and former Howells standout Craig Brester was introduced in the center mat to a standing ovation from the capacity crowd. Brester, the NCAA Div. I No. 2-rated wrestler, will meet No. 1 Jake Varner on Sunday as the Huskers face Iowa State for the first time this year.

subdistrict basketball action was delayed one day due to the winter weather, and one tournament faced a second delay as road crews worked to clear area highways.

The C2-6 subdistrict at Wayne High saw its games pushed back to Wednesday night, with Ponca and Wakefieldopeningsubdistrictplayin that tournament. The tournament, which also includes Laurel-Concord will run Wednesday, Thursday and Saturday at Wayne High School.

In Class D action, the Allen girls advanced to the second round in the D1-7 subdistrict at Laurel-Concord, posting a 48-40 win over Walthill.

Allen's defense limited the Bluejays to 14 points in the first half while the offense hit several nice shots to build a 27-14 halftime lead. Walthill mounted a fourth-quarter comeback, but it was not enough to overcome a 14-point third-quarter deficit as the Lady Eagles advanced to Wednesday's semifinal against Hannah Flores and Ashlee Hingst each had 10 points to pace the 2-18 Lady Eagles, while Brittany Sullivan put in eight. Hingst had a team-high 12 rebounds.

The Winside girls saw their season come to an end in the D1-6 subdistrict at Bloomfield Tuesday. The Queen Bees buzzed the Wildcats on a 21-5 run in the second quarter to pull away and post a 61-36 win in the first round at Wausa.

Bllomfield had an 11-0 run in the first four minutes of the game, then went on a 12-2 run early in the second quarter to take a commanding 29-12 lead, ending Winside's 2-16 season.

"We played maybe our worst game and Bloomfield played very well," Winside coach Tim Manzer said. "It's hard to figure coming off playing a very good game against Osmond last week. We just didn't have an answer."

Laurel-Concord wrestlers come up empty at C-2 District

WEST POINT - Things didn't go well for the Laurel-Concord wrestlers at the C-2 district wrestling

The Bears brought five wrestlers to what is arguably the toughest district tournament in Class C, but were unable to secure any state qualifying efforts during the two-day meet.

"We were hoping to get one or two in, but we just didn't wrestle well," coach Don Maxwell said. "It was a very tough district, but the little things hurt us."

Jon Jacot went the farthest in the tournament, running into two eventual state qualifiers before bowing out in the second round of consolations at 160 pounds.

"Jon was the only one of our wrestlers to win a match," Maxwell said. "He lost to the kid who finished fourth in the first round, then had to face the fourthseeded wrestler in the bracket after he got upset in the quarterfinals, and that kid got third, so he got beat by two quality kids."

Maxwell said all five wrestlers will be back next year for the Bears, and he should see a busier wrestling room next year with some good younger kids set to join the program next year.

"We'll look forward to returning these kids, and we'll have more numbers next year which will help us out in the wrestling room," he said.

finals before losing by decision to Bennington's Nate Stene.

The Blue Devils had three wrestlers come one match short of qualifying for state. Austin Frideres (103), Jared Klassen (152) and Drew Loberg (189) all fell one match short of a trip to state. Loberg came the closest of the three. leading until the final seconds of his consolation semifinal match before a late takedown resulted in a heartbreaking defeat.

Still, that three more wrestlers were that close showed that the program has made a lot of positive strides this year, Lawrence said. "From where we are now to where kids," he said. "Ten of the 11 kids were still in it after the first day, and we lost a lot of heartbreakers and took some lumps. Still, a lot of these kids are underclassmen, and that taste of disappointment is going to drive these kids next year and hopefully they can get to that next step and get to state."

we were, the credit goes to these

Lawrence was particularly complimentary of two wrestlers who didn't make it to state, Klassen and 125-pounder Roman Roberts.

"Jared didn't wrestle until his senior year, and to come as close as he did to qualifying he has a lot to be proud of," he said. "Roman wrestled in one of the toughest weight classes, and everybody who qualified there is probably going to place at state. He went from four wins last year to 35 this year, so those two are indicators that this program is going to get better."

led by district champion Kalin Koch (140), runner-up Zach Brokaw (152), third-place finishers Jordan Nelson (171) and Anthony Nelson (215) and fourth-place medalists Ethan Thies (130) and Cody Wylie "Districts went very well for us," Winside coach Paul Sok said. "Qualifying six out of this district was a definite plus. Overall, I think the team felt we could have qualified a few more. Brady, Paul, Peter. Sage and David all lost in the heartbreak round, and that is always the tough one when you get that close to going to state and come up just a bit short. All of them had beaten at least one individual in their weight that qualified, but due to positioning in the brackets and losing at the wrong time things did not work out."

Thies battled his way back after a quarter final loss to qualify for the state meet while Wylie upset No. 3 seed Ben Burmester of Pender in the heartbreak round to earn his trip. Brokaw lost his gold medal match to NSWCA No. 2-rated Teran Boyer of Plainview and Anthony Nelson was defeated by Josh Watchorn of Ponca, the top-rated wrestler in the 215-pound weight class, in semifinal action. Jordan Nelson won his match against Brendan Nicholson of Wakefield.

The Trojans qualified four wrestlers for state, including second-place medalists Wyatt Jacobsen (119) and Trevor Rose (135), with Christian Gallardo (112) finishing third and fourth-place medalist Brendan Nicholson at 171 pounds. Gallardo was forced to comeback through the wrestleback round after being upset in his quarterfinal match by Paul Hansen of Winside, while Nicholson lost his final match of the day to Jordan Nelson of Winside.

Wakefield coach Travis Volk was well pleased with his squad's performance in Stanton, saying, "We were hoping (to qualify) five and we got four. We wrestled some great matches so overall it's an exciting year for us. Getting four of age to play.

down to state is the most we've had since the late 1970s in Wakefield. It's a great feeling to know that happened.

"We wish we could have got one or two more kids down to state but I'm satisfied. We'll take two seniors and two juniors so it's absolutely satisfying," he added.

Trojan T.J.Rose pulled off the upset of the tournament, winning his semifinal match with topseeded Jeffery O'Brien of West Point Central Catholic by a 6-4 decision, earning the win with a takedown in the overtime sudden victory period. Volk said, "T.J. Rose making it to the finals and getting second was a surprise for us. We know he's a solid wrestler and he came away with an overtime win against the West Point CC kid, so you know that was a pretty good deal for us." Wyatt Jacobsen qualified for his first state meet competition, losing his finals match to NSWCA No. 2rated Carter Tegeler of Elkhorn Valley. "I feel pretty confident in my wrestling ability right now. I was a little tired after my last match but I feel confident and I feel confident in the whole teams ability down at state." he said. Jacobsen added, "I had three tough matches to get there. I knew the district was tough and figured they would come after me and they did. I'll have to wrestle well if I want to place in Omaha but I think I could (place)."

Wildcat Kalin Koch is hoping to become Winside's seventh fourmedal winner and win a state championship in Omaha. Wildcat assistant Coach Mark Koch (and Kalin's dad) was Winside's first wrestler to earn four medals at the state championships and won the 119-pound weight class as a senior.

"It feels good (to be in a position to win a fourth medal) but during the season I put a lot of pressure on myself just because I had a lot of expectations. Hopefully I can get it (a gold medal) and it will feel good to be up there with my dad in the rankings of Winside history.

I'm satisfied with my district performance." Koch said.

Koch added, "I had a good first match and got some revenge on an upset earlier in the year (Jase Johnson of Pender) and that gave me a lot of my confidence back."

Koch's finals opponent, Joe Brown of Oakland-Craig, who has been battling an injury, decided to default the finals match.

"Not wrestling Brown in the finals is not the way I wanted to win a district title but he has to do what he has to do to keep himself healthy for state," said Koch.

Blue Devils get two big conference wins

Rocky Ruhl isn't too picky when it comes to winning games in the Mid-State Conference . . . he'll take any win he can get. The Blue Devils picked up a pair of impressive conference wins over the weekend, dominating Madison at home Friday and picking up an overtime win on the road at West Point Central Catholic to improve to 14-7 on the year.

"Any time you get two wins in the Mid-State in a week, you take it," he said after his team's 79-29 win over the Dragons and 62-59 road thriller over the Bluejays. "Madison's had a tough year, but it was still a good win for us. And then to go on the road and beat West Point, that was a a big win because that's a tough place to get a win."

The Blue Devils jumped on the outmanned Dragons in Friday's 50-point win, getting out to a quick 20-3 advantage and expanding that lead to 25 points by halftime.

"The kids came out ready to play, and I think our starters might have played about 14 minutes," Ruhl said. "Our kids came off the bench and played pretty well for us."

Three Blue Devils finished in double figures, led by Jacob Zeiss' 17 points. Justin Anderson had 12 points and Keegan Dorcey added 10 to highlight a dominating inside

On Saturday, Wayne got out to a good lead, but saw the Bluejays

Wayne boys basketball coach come back and eventually tie the game to send it into overtime. Wayne hit some key shots in the extra session and made their free throws at the end to seal the win.

"They hit a big three on an inside-out play like we run to get them back in it," Ruhl said. "We got up by 10 early and just didn't take care of the ball and let them back in the game, but we got to the free throw line and hit them down the Derek Poutre had a game-high 17 points and Jordan Barry hit four 3-pointers to finish with 14 points for the winners.

Lady Bears split final two of regular season

The Laurel-Concord girls bounced back from a tough overtime loss on the road to finish the regular season on an upbeat note with an easy win at Neligh-Oakdale.

On Friday night, the Lady Bears battled back from an eight-point first-quarter deficit and had a chance to win it in regulation, but ran out of gas in overtime as they dropped a 51-41 decision at Wisner-

"We were really flat the first quarter and didn't have a lot of energy early on," coach Nate Sims said. "We spent quite a bit of energy getting back into that game, and we did have a chance to win it at the end of regulation but things just didn't go our way.'

The Lady Bears outscored the Lady Gators 13-7 in the final period and had a shot miss the mark that would have won the game. Wisner-Pilger took advantage of the momentum swing early in overtime and outscored the guests 10-0 in the extra session.

Mandy Nelson finished with a game-high 16 points and Jade Cunningham added 11 in the losing

On Saturday, Laurel-Concord exploded for 22 points in the third period to turn a close game into a rout as they took a 10-9 record into the subdistrict round.

"We started slow and didn't execute well, but we changed things up in the second half and were able to attack their zone and once we did that we were just fine," Sims said.

Cunningham had a big night, finishing with 18 points and 16 rebounds.

"They were sitting in a 3-2 zone and that left the post pretty open, and she did a nice job either hitting a shot or kicking it into the corner, and with her size advantage we did a nice job finding her when she was open," Sims said.

Nelson and Bethany DeLong each added 10 points in the winning

Schantz returns, Bears split road games

Laurel-Concord basketball team welcomed senior Ezra Schantz back to the lineup over the weekend, and the Bears picked up a split in a pair of road matchups.

Schantz had been out for about two months after having toe surgery, and he didn't waste much time dipping that toe back into the basketball waters, leading the Bears with 17 points in a losing effort at Wisner-Pilger Friday, as the Gators beat the Bears 49-36.

"The kids were excited to have him back and he came out really strong," coach Shannon Benson said. "He had seven points in the first half and a bunch of rebounds and came out and really played well for us."

While Schantz was back, the Bears went without sharpshooter Kyle Koester, who was out with an illness

"Not having Kyle in the lineup hurt us, and we struggled from the outside without him," Benson said. "We were right there with Wisner down the stretch and we just couldn't hit from outside to keep pace with them.'

Koester was back in the lineup Saturday, and the Bears totally dominated the paint against Neligh-Oakdale en route to an easy 65-36 win.

Winside teams come up short vs. Osmond

WINSIDE - The Winside girls came up short in a solid effort in their home finale Thursday, while the Winside boys ran into a tough, quick Osmond squad.

The Lady Wildcats were looking for their third win of the season and had visiting Osmond on the ropes, but the Lady Tigers came back in the final few minutes and pulled out a 43-39 win in front of a boisterous Parents' Night crowd.

Winside trailed early in the game, but rallied to take a 33-25 lead going into the final period. In the end, Osmond was able to hit their shots down the stretch while the Wildcats couldn't find the basket.

"If you're winning, you find a way to win," coach Tim Manzer said. "We didn't shoot well down the stretch and they did, and if we make those shots we'll win it going away."

In spite of the loss, Manzer said he saw some good things from his

"We played better defense and we finally started to understand that we can't have unforced turnovers and we need to rebound, and we did that very well," he said. "It was one of our best efforts in terms of rebounding defensively."

Jordyn Roberts had a gamehigh 12 points for Winside, Audrey Roberts added nine and freshman Nazya Thies put in six.

"Nazya has really come a long way as a freshman, and she's going to be a really good player the next three years," Manzer said. "And Audrey has also been really solid for us on rebounding.'

The Winside boys had trouble getting things going offensively in the second half of their matchup with the Tigers, and the visitors pulled away in the final two periods to pick up a 55-28 win, dropping the Wildcats to 1-15 on the season.

"I don't think their quickness posed any real problems, but we iust didn't shoot the ball effectively in the second half," coach Jeff Messersmith said. "I thought we did a good job holding them into the 50's, so I thought our defense did the job, but our offense was a struggle for us." Tanner Woslager led the Wildcats with nine points and 6-foot-5 senior post player Nathan Janke hit a 3pointer and finished with seven points. As a team, Winside shot 31 percent (10-of-32) from the floor. "We are just having trouble putting the ball in the basket, but if our defense keeps playing like it did and we can figure (the offense) out, we'll be tough to beat," Messersmith said. The Wildcat boys close out the regular season at home Friday against Newcastle and at West Holt on Saturday in Atkinson. Girls Result

Wildcats fall to Winona, pluck Peacocks at home

Amry Shelby led five Wildcat players in double figures in Wayne State's 63-54 win over Upper Iowa Saturday night.

Wayne State struggled early, trailing the Peacocks by as many as nine points in the opening 10 minutes of the game. The Wildcats battled back to take the lead late in the half, but Upper Iowa made a layup in the final 10 seconds of the stanza to tie the game at 28-28 going into the break. The Wildcats took control of the game in the second half, though, shooting 50 percent from the field in the half, going 7-of-14. WSC also shot more than 64 percent from the free throw line, making 20-of-31 free throw shots. Wayne State had five players in double figures, led by Shelby with 13 points. Elijah Miller added 11 points off the bench, and Brett Spiker, Brian Metz and Brad Starken each added 10 points. The win puts the Wildcats a half-game out of a spot in the conference tourament. The Wildcats are 10-13 overall and 7-10 in the NSIC. On Friday, David Johnson scored

Dias breaks school record, Wildcats get 13 firsts at home indoor meet

Megan Dias broke an 11-year-old school record and Cody Diehl set an NCAA provisional national qualifying mark to highlight Wayne State's effort Saturday at the Wildcat Open at the WSC Recreation Center. Dias took first in the triple jump with a mark of 37 feet, 6 1/2 inches, breaking the previous school mark of 37 feet, 4 inches, set in 1999 by Deanna Gollobit.

Diehl qualified for the NCAA indoor meet with a leap of 15 feet, 9 inches in the pole vault, taking first place in the meet. He was one of four Wildcat men winners and 13 Wayne State firstplace efforts on the day.

Other individual winners included Brad Wright in the weight throw, Andy Jansen in the 800-meter run and Cheto Cerda in the 1,000meter run. The other wins were by relay teams as the 4-by-400 relay team of Kenneth Moore, Mickey Doerr, Joe Chebul and Jason Schaaf crossed the line first in 3:48.17, and the 4-by-one mile relay team of Cheto Cerda, Lee Anderson, John Kern and Nate Preston set a new school record with a time of 18:22.32, breaking the previous mark of 18:51.4 set by Mark Merritt, Donnty Thongby, Chris Garvin and James McGown in 1995.

Casey Buskirk won the shot put and weight throw to highlight seven wins by Wayne State women on the day.

Buskirk won the weight throw and the shot put, while Christina King won the 600-meter run. Also winning were Ky'Lee Engelken in the 1,000-meter run, Megan Zavorka in the mile run and Savannah Wakeley in the high jump.

Wayne State will be in action again on Friday, competing at the Nebraska Tuneup Open in

Blue Devils fall to HCC, slay Dragons at home

After a tough second half sent the Wayne High girls basketball team to a tough loss on the road, the Blue Devils bounced back for an easy win over Madison on Friday night.

The Blue Devils played a solid first half against Hartington Cedar Catholic on Thursday, but the second half was another story as the Trojans came back to post a 52-30 win over Wayne.

"We played a wonderful first half then Cedar came out in the second half and got every single loose ball and rebound," coach Nate Wall said. "We didn't have an answer for their energy in the second half. They are one heck of a team. They are state championship caliber. Playing teams like this so late in the year, gets us post-season ready."

Katie Hoskins had a solid effort in the loss, finishing with a gamehigh 17 points, 10 rebounds and five blocked shots.

Wayne bounced back Friday night, gearing up for the postseason with an easy 47-26 win over Madison.

The Blue Devils outscored Madison 40-19 in the final three periods and got some great efforts all around, led by Shannon Jarvi's 12 points and Kayla Grone's 11 the second half and Shannon had another solid game, and Kristin Carroll provided a huge spark in the second half as well," Wall said.

Wayne coach also complimented the efforts of Lisa Temme and Tess Moser, who played well in their first career starts, as did Carly Fehringer, who finished with six rebounds.

Wakefield boys fall to Winnebago in home tilt

WAKEFIELD - The Wakefield boys basketball held its own with Winnebago during the first half, but could not keep pace in the second half as they dropped a 64-52 decision in action Friday.

The two teams battled throughout the first half, with the visitors taking a one-point lead into the locker room. Winnebago came out hot in the second half, and the Trojans were unable to keep pace.

"We played really well in the first half, and they had a big run and made a couple of threes backto-back," coach Mike Clay said. "They went on a little run there that got them up 10 points, and we could never really close the gap after that."

Clay said Winnebago switched defenses in the second half, and the Trojans were unable to handle the change. "We did well against their 2-2-

1 the first half, and they switched it up to a diamond-and-one press and that gave us some problems," Chris Matias and Chad Clay each had 13 points for the Trojans, who fell to 9-12 with the loss.

BLOOMFIELD - The Allen girls played a solid defensive game, but couldn't generate enough offense against an equally-stingy Bloomfield squad as the Lady Eagles dropped a 39-33 decision here Friday.

In the team's final regular-season game, Allen held its own with the Queen Bees and took an 18-17 lead into the locker room at the half. Bloomfield outscored Allen 13-6 in the third quarter and made that lead stand up.

"We struggled on the offensive end and didn't shoot the ball well, but I thought we played pretty well defensively and the girls played their hearts out," coach Logan McPhillips said.

Wakefield girls fall to Emerson-Hubbard

The Wakefield girls stumbled in the second half of their regularseason finale last week, as visiting Emerson-Hubbard came alive in the second half to post a 54-43 win

Wakefield trailed early in the game, but rallied to overtake the Lady Pirates and led 23-20 at intermission.

The lead would be short-lived, however, as the visiting Pirates went on a 20-8 run in the third quarter to take command of the game, turning a three-point halftime deficit into a nine-point lead going into the final

Jenna Henderson hit a 3-pointer and had 17 points and Keri Lunz added 15 to lead the Trojans in the

Thank you for the award

To members of Wayne Area Economic Development, Chamber and the Wayne community:

We were recently honored and humbled by being named as recipients of the 2009 Wayne Area Economic Development Chamber's " Citizens of the Year" award.

Needless to say, we were taken by surprise when the announcement was made at WAEDC's annual banquet and subsequently stammered to express our inadequate thank

This is our attempt at a more coherent expression of our deepfelt gratitude for the award and, more importantly, the blessedness we feel for our life together, lived almost entirely in this community.

Our love for each other and the community was incubated during our brief attendance at WSC in the late 1950's. It now seems that our return to Wayne in the mid 60's was destined and we have never wanted to be elsewhere since.

The theme of our working lives By ED HOWARD has been homes . . .yours and ours. We thank the hundreds of you who have allowed us to build your homes and the countless others who have enhanced their homes with the products and services we have offered over the years.

Perhaps the reason we are both resisting retirement is because of with a straight face. the people we encounter in our work. We are no immune to occasional frustrations but they pale in comparison to the pleasure derived from the interaction we re-election campaign. Heineman have enjoyed with the people of this

Our family has been blessed in every aspect of life in Wayne and did yeoman work as he told a we wish the same for each and every one of you.

Thank you for your patience...

LB200 dead for session

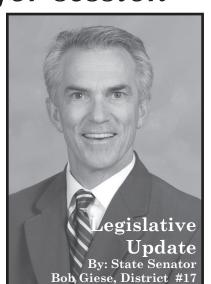

Greetings from the Unicameral! Debate on priority bills has begun in the Legislature, despite the fact that only a few senators have selected their priority for the ses-

The first priority bill to be debated last week was LB200, introduced by Sen. Charlie Janssen of Fremont, which would repeal Nebraska's motorcycle helmet law. I was one of several co-sponsors to the bill, and supported repeal of the helmet law because of the potential benefits to our local economies. On an annual basis, hundreds of thousands of motorcycle riders traveling to rallies in Sturgis, S.D., and elsewhere in the western United States, avoid traveling through Nebraska in part because of its helmet law.

In addition to being the first priority bill debated in 2010, last week LB200 also became the first bill to fall victim to a filibuster this year. While the Legislature can pass a bill with as few as 25 votes, a minority of senators can prevent bills from receiving an upor-down vote and extend debate indefinitely by offering numerous amendments and motions dealing with the underlying bill.

In the event of a filibuster, the senator who introduced the bill can invoke what is known as cloture, which forces an end to debate and immediate votes on the bill and any amendments or motions that are still pending. Senator Janssen did invoke cloture, but failed to obtain the two-thirds majority vote required to end debate. As a result, LB200 has essentially been killed for the remainder of the session.

While individual senators are limited to just one priority bill per session, each of the Legislature's standing committees may designate two bills each session as committee priority bills.

One of the Government, Military & Veterans Affairs Committee's priority bills this session is LB951, which would bring Nebraska in compliance with a new federal law designed to eliminate obstacles to voting for military personnel and overseas citizens.

Under the federal Military and Overseas Voter Empowerment (MOVE) Act, states are required to provide for the electronic transmission of voter registration forms, absentee ballot requests, and ballots to voters who are overseas. LB951 would make the necessary changes to Nebraska's election laws to implement the MOVE Act, and helps to ensure that our men and women serving overseas receive their ballots on time and have their votes counted on Election Day.

As always, I would encourage you to contact me if you have any questions or simply have an opinion on legislation before the Unicameral. Feel free to call my office at (402) 471-2716, send me an e-mail at bgiese@leg.ne.gov, or stop by in person any time you're in Lincoln.

Competitive race is expected

Statehouse Correspondent The Nebraska Press Association

LINCOLN - A basic rule of salesmanship, in politics or any endeavor, is "Say it like you mean

If that's not doable, at least say it

Give credit, then, to Dean Dennhardt. He is the fellow who raises campaign funds for Republican Gov. Dave Heineman's is seeking a second full-term in the Statehouse.

In a recent interview, Dennhardt reporter he believed the Democratic Party would, in fact, find someone Carolyn and John Vakoc to run against Heineman. And he topped it off nicely, too.

> "We anticipate a competitive race," he said, straight faced.

Being overconfident can be fatal when you're facing re-election. Ask that take-it-for-granted former U.S. senator from Massachusetts. The one who thought the seat once held by the late Ted Kennedy was akin to a Democratic trust fund, so she chose a crucial month in the campaign season to take a vacation.

At this stage, however, it's barely even money that Democrats will find someone to loan their name, let alone time and money, to the 2010 Nebraska gubernatorial ballot.

Competitive? Probably not. Senators' pay raise is off the ballot

It's official. A constitutional amendment that would have increased annual pay for state senators will not be on the May primary ballot. If approved, it would have increased their salary by ten grand – to $22,000.

It was one of two proposed changes in the state charter nixed by Secretary of State John Gale. He concluded lawmakers erred by not scheduling them to appear in earlier elections.

lawmakers wanted Several to forego putting the pay raise question to voters because of the current economic downturn.

About economic development A proposal for a new downtown arena will go before Lincoln voters. Like such projects everywhere it is billed, as something the community needs to secure the blessings of economic development.

Arena opponent Lynn Darling told the City Council she opposed the idea, and she offered an alternative.

"What we really need is a darn good casino!"

Lawmaker warns of firings, layoffs

Members of the state's largest employee union overwhelmingly said "No" to a request from Gov. wage freeze. Heineman said his proposal was "a good faith attempt to save jobs and do what was best" for employees and taxpayers. Union representatives said employees had negotiated contracts with the state in good faith, too; and that state workers had made a variety of economic sacrifices in recent years. The scheduled 2.5 percent increases are needed by many simply to cover the costs of increased insurance premiums.

Sen. Lavon Heideman, chair of the Appropriations Committee, said he thought the union's position "will lead to more firings and layoffs, in my opinion."

The union noted Heineman wouldn't guarantee that a wage Dave Heineman that they accept a freeze in the next fiscal year would, in fact, save jobs.

MIP and driving privileges

www.paulfelicartoons.com

Remember that a minor can be ticketed for being in possession of alcohol, regardless of whether they consumed it or maintain they didn't intend to consume it - the "Someone left it here," or "I was just holding it for a friend" stories.

The full Legislature will debate a proposal to slap teens in possession of alcohol with suspension of their driving licenses for 60 days or 90 days for a first offense. Fines and other penalties could kick in for repeat offenders.

In support of the measure, Sen. John Harms of Scottsbluff told a committee that existing law simply requires teenagers to pay a fine. Many, he said, seen the MIP bust as something to brag about.

A teachable moment from your new neighbor Allow me to introduce myself. thinking my long-term plans.

I'm your neighbor.

I moved here last summer from California. Three days with the cat in the car. Brutal. But I knew it would be worth it. I had visited Wayne several times before and I loved the community and its people. I came to teach at the college in hopes of making a difference in some young people's lives. I couldn't wait to get here.

I bought a house, took part in Chicken Days (my sister-in-law came in third in the Chicken Hat contest), visited the County fair, the Farmer's Market, the theatre at the Willow Bowl, ALL those parades and just about every other event that led into our beautiful In November, I rode on a combine to learn more about local farming and the magnificent harvest process.

I know my neighbors. I've lent a helping hand when someone's needed it. I buy locally whenever I can. I pay property taxes and I've been out there shoveling snow and braving this winter like the rest of you. And I work very very hard - and enjoy - teaching your sons and daughters at WSC.

But last weekend I learned that the gossipmongers have me in their crosshairs. A friend called to let me know that they heard something about me that didn't sound right. They wanted to let me know what people were saving. Okay, I thought, how bad can it be? Well, fasten your seatbelts for this one.

The story is that I have a lady lover in Sioux City, which - also according to the story - explains why I'm apparently not married and living alone with no children. Wow. Really? Care to tell me – or the whole town - anything else about my own life? I was stunned. And so was everyone who actually knows me. Most people laughed out loud. And that's the thing. In a lot of places, this would be hilarious. People wouldn't care a bit. Instead, they'd probably be glad to hear that someone was going to Sioux City so often. Hey, can you grab a few things for me at Target? But here, it's a different story. And I understand that a lot of folks would be disturbed to learn this about me or anyone else in these parts. Sad and intolerant,

I don't want to dignify these baseless rumors with a response, but I must – if for no other reason than to help people realize how destructive it is to talk about people you don't even know. Perhaps if you hear me disclaiming these ridiculous tales, you'll hear how pitifully petty and bizarre they really are. Shana Alexander said that "trying to squash a rumor is like trying to unring a bell." That's about right, but here goes.

I have no lover – lady or otherwise - in Sioux City. I confess to being quite attached to the HyVee and a certain Thai restaurant in the old section of town, but sorry, no lurid same-sex hookups for this aging professor. Nice juicy story wrong person. As my neighbors will attest, my life is about as racy as a Golden Girls rerun. Snore,

As for marital and living status, sorry to offend for allegedly being single. But for all you know, I'm married and my husband lives somewhere else for now while I get settled in my new job at the college. Maybe I'm not married because my husband died years ago and I never re-married. Feel better? Maybe I don't have children because I wasn't able to have them and it still hurts to this day. Feel bad? Maybe I do have children or maybe I have a cat named Cheeto.

But you don't know because you never took the time to ask me. You never took a moment to get to know me or to determine whether the story you were telling is true. Instead, you burned the phone lines and probably grabbed an elbow after church or in the grocery store to get the word out.

I hope it felt good for you because it sure feels awful for me. It hurts. I feel betrayed and distrustful. I wonder who is watching and judging me. I have had to go to my neighbors and colleagues to warn them about these lies. I'm re-

But I came here to teach and so maybe this is one of those teachable moments that I must seize. Maybe you've given me the reason and opportunity to speak out against gossip and judgment, and to remind people that it's pure hypocrisy to worship on Sunday next to the neighbor you know and then spread lies on Monday about the neighbor you don't know. Think before you pick up that phone or whisper in an ear. Think about how you might affect someone, their reputation, their sense of community, their faith in other people. Think instead about how you might approach them and get to know them.

Maybe they do have a lover in Sioux City. So what? Maybe you'll find out why. Maybe it's a great story and you'll have a laugh. "Hey, you'll never guess but I met a lesbian in Wayne the other day nicest gal!" Or maybe you'll disapprove in horror. But you will probably have made a friend and most importantly, you will have done no harm. At the very least, stop judging. You'll free up a lot of time to be nice to people instead. As the old Jewish proverb says "what you don't see with your eyes, don't witness with your mouth."

Finally, as this was going to print, I learned from my friend that the gossipmongers were mistaken turned out it isn't me with the lady lover in Sioux City, but somebody else. Whew, what a relief But if the woman with the lady lover is out there, can you grab a few things for me at Target?

Winside freshmen pose at the Holland Center while experiencing the play "Romeo and Juliet Meet West Side Story."

Freshman, Freshman Wherefore Art Thou Freshman

By Alec Sindelar, Winside High School

Thanks to a grant from the Nebraska Arts Council (NAC), 21 freshman, three senior sponsors, and two teachers from Winside High School made their way to the Omaha Symphony on Jan. 27 for the play "Romeo and Juliet Meet West Side Story."

Jennifer Kesting, the freshmen English teacher at Winside High School, applied for and received a grant from the NAC known as School Bus for the Arts which offers up to $500 to accepted schools in order to help pay for bus drivers, gas money, and even the event tickets for fine art events. The NAC is a grant program that, through the help of a special appropriation from the State of Nebraska, offers many grants every year to schools in Nebraska to aid in the payment of fine art related events and trips.

Everyone from Winside who went to the performance thoroughly enjoyed the production and would like to express great gratitude to Senator Robert Giese for his support of fine arts in the schools of Mrs. Kesting said.

In a letter to Senator Giese, Mrs. Kesting said, "I want to thank you helped me to understand Romeo and they learned many interesting facts for supporting fine arts in the state Juliet better," says Colin Hansen, a of Nebraska. This was an excellent opportunity to reach those kids who are unable to visualize what dents were involved in a question they read as well as energize the and answer session with the symkids who are interested in pursuing a career in the arts. Finally, this opportunity provided me with a way to connect the classromm teaching of Romeo and Juliet and show the students how this play would have appeared hundreds of years ago in the Globe Theatre with minimal props and no scenery.'

Mrs. Kesting decided to apply for the grant because the Winside freshmen were studying Romeo and Juliet at the time. She says that it was an excellent way to incorporate the reading and the writing of the curriculum into a visual and auditory culmination.

Not the same old tax return new rules for this year's tax season

www.thewaynegreenhouses.com

Few things induce more anxiety this time of year than the looming April 15 tax return file deadline. As you begin the process this year, keep in mind that changes to the tax rules could affect your tax liability and possibly make you eligible for new tax reduction opportunities. More details can be found at the Internal Revenue Service website (www.irs. some of the more prominent changes that could affect your final 2009 tax bill: Homebuyer Tax Credit - This has been one of the most highly publicized changes of the past year. First-time homebuyers-i.e. those who have not owned a principal residence for the three years prior to purchase-may be eligible for up to an $8,000 tax credit. (A credit is a dollar-for-dollar reduction of your tax bill). Generally, the purchase must have been completed in 2009 to qualify for the tax credit on your 2009 return. However, the credit will continue to be available for new home purchases under written contract by April 30, 2010 and closed by June 30, 2010. A special election exists to claim the 2010 purchase on your 2009 tax return. A similar credit of up to $6,500 is available for existing homeowners who purchased a replacement home. This credit applies only for purchases made after November 6, 2009 and by the above deadlines. To qualify, existing homeowners must have owned and used the same home as their principal residence for five consecutive years in the eight-year period prior to the purchase of a new home. Note that income and other limits apply to qualify for both credits. If your tax liability is less than the amount of the credit, you still qualify to receive the entire credit in the form

Tax Credit for Post-Secondary Education - A tax credit of up to $2,500 per student attending a four-year college is available (for taxpayers who meet income and other requirements). If the credit is more than your income tax liability in 2009 and 2010, 40 percent of it can be returned as a refund. To learn more about the American Opportunity Tax Credit, visit www.irs.gov

Making Work Pay Tax Credit - Many employees saw a slight reduction in the amount of tax withholding from their paychecks earlier in the year, an adjustment made due to the Making Work Pay Tax Credit. The credit amount is 6.2 percent of the taxpayer's earned income up to a maximum of $400 for a single tax filer and $800 for married couples filing a joint return. The credit must be claimed on your tax return. If the credit has not already been reflected in your paycheck or if you are self-employed and have not accounted for the credit, you will adjust the amount of your tax liability as you complete your 2009 tax return. Income limits apply to qualify for the credit.

Sales Tax Deduction for the Purchase of New Vehicles -- If you purchased a new car, motor home, light truck or motorcycle between February 16, 2009 and December 31, 2009, the sales or excise tax amount you paid can be deducted from your income even if you do not itemize deductions (a deduction reduces your taxable income and, as a result, the amount of tax vou pay).

Energy Tax Credits -- Various credits tied to making homes more energy efficient are available. These include a tax credit valued at 30 percent of the amount paid for qualified solar water heating equipment, solar electric equipment, small wind energy property, or geothermal heat pumps installed in your U.S. residence. A similar credit with maximum credit limits exists for the installation of qualified fuel cell property in your principal residence. Also, 30 percent of the cost, up to an aggregate of $1,500, is provided for energy-saving home improvements such as qualified windows, outside doors, insulation, roofing, high-efficiency furnaces, water heaters, heat pumps, biomass fuel stoves, air circulating fans, and central air conditioners that are placed in your U.S. principal residence in 2009 and 2010. Other pointers as April 15 approaches

As you prepare for the tax filing deadline, here are a few things you can do today to help make the process easier:

Gather your records - if you haven't already, you should be receiving statements from banks, investment firms and mortgage companies with tax information. Keep it filed in one safe place. Make sure you receive W-2s or 1099s (reporting income received) from employers or firms you may have contracted Determine your most efficient way to complete a return – there are numerous software programs available, many of which are accessible online, to complete the job. Or make sure you have your accountant or tax preparer in place and ready to deliver a timely return.

Take more time if you need it, but let the IRS know - you can receive an automatic six-month extension by filing form 4868 with the IRS by the April 15 deadline to avoid interest and potential penalties. You must make payment for any tax that may be due by April

The students were treated to juice and cookies at the completion of the tour.

Students encouraged to enter Nebraska Spirit Art Contest

Nebraska students in kindergarten through fifth grade are encouraged to show their creativity by entering the 2010 Nebraska Spirit Art Contest.

The contest, which is designed to promote Nebraska, is sponsored by Nebraska.gov, the state's Web site.

Entries for the contest will be accepted starting March 1 and must be postmarked by April 26. Contest details are available at www.nebraska.gov/contest.

The winners from each grade will have their work featured on a downloadable computer screen saver. On June 4, a day of activities will be held in Lincoln for the winners and their families and teachers.

"The contest provides a great Secretary of State John Gale and opportunity to tap the inspiration of our students in promoting our state," Gale said.

> For further information about the contest, contact Nebraska.gov at Alleman. (800) 747-8177, (402) 471-7810 or support@nebraska.gov

WE BUY GOLD EVERY DAY

Fortunately, the truth of the matter is that every partnership is different and generalizations do not work very well. The beauty of this situation is that couples are forced, from the very beginning, not to think in stereotypes and jump to easy conclusions about each other. Couples have to learn how to communicate well, listen with empathy, and talk clearly, honestly, and Socialization of children in early childhood can be quite different for boys and girls. This leads to the development of what could be called boy culture and girl culture. Confusion often does occur when the two cultures come in contact with each other and misunderstandings happen. Talking about boys and girls this way, as we have said, can be overblown but is useful to keep in the back of one's mind when trying to understand the ups

The initiative aims to broaden and deepen Lutherans' study of the Bible. Sue Stover of Wayne serves as the Nebraska Synod advocate.

Her volunteer role is to inform congregations about the resources available, to encourage congregations to do more than they are currently doing with study of scripture, and to share ideas on the many ways of studying the Bible.

All ages are targeted. Stover said she is willing to lead an ecumenical conversation class called "Making Sense of Scripture" in Wayne.

Clear snow and ice from windows, lights, windshield wipers, the hood, and the roof of your vehicle, before driving. The windshield-washer reserve should be filled with a freeze-resistant cleaning solution.

- ➡ When you see plows, stay at least 200 feet behind them.
- Leave room for stopping. Brake early and carefully.
- Don't use cruise control. The short touch of your brakes to deactivate the cruise control can cause you to lose control of your vehicle.
- Pay attention. Look ahead to see what other vehicles are doing. That way you will know about any impending road or weather conditions.
- Watch your speed. Even if your car handles well in snow and ice, other drivers' cars may not. Drive according to the conditions: Don't exceed the speed limit and drive slowly in harsh conditions. Don't try to out-drive bad weather.

Nursing a cold with a good book

Somehow, I've managed to catch a disease; all I want to do is lay around with a box of Kleenex handy! The Big Farter is just getting over one, so I guess I know where I got it. Those flu shots don't keep us from getting a "common cold." When it lays you low, you don't think it's so common, either!

Fortunately, I had been to my favorite store, Barnes and Noblet, on Friday, and picked up the book, Making Rounds With Oscar, so I had something to read. Besides, in weather like we've been having, it's best to just stay home and read and drink fluids and rest!

You may have heard about the nursing home cat who spends the last hours with the residents who are dying. I'm pretty sure I saw something about him on television, and there have been news items about him on line from Nebraska Hospice. Last month, there was a condensation of the book in the Reader's Digest, which was when I discovered there was a book about

Each chapter has a quote about cats, and they are clever. The one I like, and have often used myself, is "dogs have owners, cats have staff!" Because it's so true. And Oscar is truly an unusual cat. But the book really isn't so much about cats as it is about dementia.

We will have private pesticide

Two sessions will be held, one at 1 p.m. and one at 6 p.m. Attendance at either session will certify you you if you already have a license.

First of all, almost all of the residents seem to respond to the cats, there are two on third floor; no matter if they no longer respond to their own names or those of family members. Something deep inside us seems to want to pet warm, furry animals; just as we respond to music, no matter how sick we

But the good doctor becomes convinced that Oscar really do have a special gift, and the reader ends up believing it, also. It's a heart warmer, and was perfect reading for Valentino's day, while nursing a cold and feeling sorry for myself. I highly recommend that you get hold of copy; it isn't thick and there isn't a lot of medicalese. I sat down in the coffee shop and read the first two chapters, then went back and bought a copy for our Alzheitler's unit. The staff, and the families, will gain from reading it.

Meanwhile, stay classy! And stay on the highways, if you can.

Update presented on Red Cross services provided in Haiti

but the Red Cross continues to make progress helping earthquake survivors in need. Red Cross teams are assessing ways to meet immediate needs and also how to provide long-term recovery assistance, such as continued provision of household supplies and addressing emergency

 Flights with humanitarian relief supplies continue to arrive in Port-au-Prince and now that specialized cranes are in place, the seaport is handling 350 containers

• The Red Cross is producing more than 1.2 million liters of water per day, enough for 300,000 people. Water distribution points are in 110 settlements with sanitation facilities in 12 settlements. Additionally, the American Red Cross has provided more than 1 million waterpurification sachets and containers that allow people to clean and carry

· Red Cross distributions of food and relief items (blankets, kitchen sets, hygiene kits, buckets, water containers, laundry soap/detergent, and mosquito nets) have reached nearly 37,000 families (or 185,000

· Shelter and sanitation remain urgent needs. The Red Cross is working to provide a range of immediate shelter assistance, and we also are working on a strategy to meet ongoing and long-term housing reconstruction needs. In addition, Red Cross Mass Sanitation teams are working to build latrines as quickly as possible in Port-au-Prince and Leogane. More than 150 latrines have been constructed to

The American Red Cross has spent or committed $80 million to meet the most urgent needs of earthquake survivors.

· This funding is aimed at immediate relief, with 69 percent of the funds spent or committed by the American Red Cross have been for food and water; 20 percent have been for shelter; and 11 percent for health and family services.

 The Red Cross is helping survivors address health needs and the emerging threat of the spread of infectious disease.

· To help meet the needs of the hundreds of thousands injured, Red Cross teams from around the world partnered to establish two field hospitals and four mobile healthcare clinics, which are providing medical services to up to 1,300 people per

· The American Red Cross has provided nearly 750 units of blood for earthquake survivors and funded $600,000 worth of food for the mobile clinics.

 To prevent the spread of diseases common after disasters of this scale, the Red Cross is supporting an immunization and hygiene promotion campaign led by the Haitian government's Ministry of Health and several United Nations agencies that will initially help protect and educate more than 250,000 children. A second phase will target 530,000 children in all affected

The American Red Cross is in Haiti as a part of the broader and coordinated Red Cross and Red Crescent network.

· The American Red Cross has more than 100 relief specialists and volunteers helping with the relief efforts in Haiti (including Creole interpreters on the USNS Comfort hospital ship). In total, more than 600 Red Cross and Red Crescent workers from 30 countries around the world are in Haiti working with more than 2,500 Haitian Red Cross volunteers in areas such as health, logistics, and relief supply distribu-

· Each Red Cross society team has its own roles and expertise on the ground. Working together, the global Red Cross network provides a very powerful engine for relief and recovery

· This is already the largest single-country relief operation in global Red Cross history in terms of emergency response teams deployed. The number of teams in Haiti is greater than the number that responded to the 2004 Indian Ocean tsunami, which spanned 14
