Mayoral candidates answer questions

Chamberlain, O'Leary differ little on their views of city's needs, issues

By MICHAEL CARNES
 Of The Herald

The mood was relaxed and cordial Tuesday as two of the three candidates looking to become the next mayor of Wayne, America answered questions at a forum at the Wayne City Auditorium.

About 40 residents sat in on the 75-minute forum, sponsored by Wayne Area Economic Development and the American Democracy Project at Wayne State College. Each candidate answered questions as local residents asked about 20 questions on topics ranging from the candidates' thoughts on economic development to the recent acceptance of grant funding by the City Council for an underpass to be built under Highway 35 on the west side of town.

The city's finances was the most popular topic of the evening, and both candidates were pretty much in agreement on a lot of the issues the city now faces, as well as those they foresee in the future.

Chamberlain, currently a member of the City Council as a Ward Four representative, said the city will be seeing cuts from the state coming, but is confident the city's staff will be able to handle the challenges that the city will face.

"Our staff does a phenomenal job with financing, doing more with less," he said.

O'Leary said it will be important for the city to continue to maintain its streets "within whatever funding is available," and hopes her experience as a former City Council representative will help her communicate with the City Council.

When questioned about the viability of maintaining some city services that don't make money for the city, both candidates said there are certain expectations people have about the services the city should offer.

"There are certain services we need to provide for a better quality of life, and outside of utilities we don't have any huge money-makers," Chamberlain said. "The activity center, the library and the pool are not real money-makers, but they provide a better quality of living and those things are expected, and it's up to

Wayne State College commencement set for Saturday, May 8

Wayne State College will hold commencement for graduate students at 9:30 a.m. in Rice Auditorium and undergraduates at 2 p.m. on Saturday, May 8 in the Willow Bowl.

A total of 507 degrees - 146 graduate degrees and 361 undergraduate degrees - will be conferred by Wayne State President Richard J. Collings.

Jessica Rachele Helgren, daughter of Randy and the late Ava Helgren, will deliver the graduate ceremony invocation. She graduated from Neligh-Oakdale Public Schools in 2004. While at Wayne State College for her undergraduate education, she served in several leadership roles including president of Theta Phi Alpha sorority, president of Greek Council, and Student Senate vice president. After graduating in August 2008 with a double major in sport management and mass communications, Helgren returned to WSC for her graduate education and took on a position as a graduate assistant.

During the past two years, she has taught classes while working on her master's degree in sport management. She serves as the Theta Phi Alpha Northeast Nebraska Alumnae Association president and on the Chapter Advisory Board. Helgren is the new operations director of the Cox Classic golf tournament in Omaha. She enjoys being active and spending time with family and friends.

Jeremy Francis, who is receiving his master's degree in curriculum and instruction, will deliver the graduate ceremony commencement address. He graduated from Midland College in Fremont, with a bachelor's degree in elementary education and was part of Wayne State's Fremont Learning Community. Francis teaches second grade at Hillrise Elementary in Elkhorn. He serves as part of the CORE team for developing, ordering for, and selecting staff for West Dodge Station Elementary in Elkhorn, which will open in the fall. Jeremy will be teaching second grade at West Dodge Station. Francis and his wife, Jill, both of Hooper, have two children, a son, Kayl, and a daughter, Keegan. Jeremy is the son of Wayne and Sharon Francis of Fremont.

Katherine Fitzgerald is the daughter of Mark and Jacqueline Fitzgerald of Norfolk. She is a double major in Spanish and speech communication with an emphasis in organizational leadership and public relations.

Quadruplets for couple inspiration for diaper drive starting Mother's Day

By CLARA OSTEN
 Of The Herald

Parents of new-born babies will agree that the cost of diapers can be huge. Multiply that by four to imagine what Paul and Jessica (Raveling) Zulkosky will be going through this summer when their quadruplets are born.

In an effort to help the new parents, a diaper drive will be kicked off on Mother's Day, both in Wayne and Wakefield.

Paul, a 1997 graduate of Wayne High School, is the son of Dan and Joyce Zulkosky of Sioux Falls, S.D., formerly of Wakefield. Jessica, a 1999 graduate of Wayne High School, is the daughter of Linda and the late Larry Raveling of Wayne. The couple currently reside in Omaha.

The community diaper drive will begin Sunday, May 9, Mother's Day and continue through the weekend of June 5-6. Diapers can be dropped off in the narthex of Our Savior Lutheran Church from 9 a.m. to 8 p.m. each day, except Sunday; at the Wayne State College Student Center and at the Covenant Church in Wakefield.

It is estimated that each of the babies will need eight diaper changes every day. This fact, multiplied by four, will lead to the need for lots and lots of diapers and the drive by several members of Our Savior Lutheran Church to organize the drive is an effort to help the first-time parents.

"Paul and Jessica would prefer diapers in size 1 and above as a donation of newborn diapers has already been received and babies tend to grow out of smaller sizes very quickly," Linda Raveling said.

The Zulkosky's had been struggling with infertility for more than four years before determining that in vitro fertilization was their best option for conceiving. Even that option gave the couple only a 30 percent chance of being successful.

Early in January of this year the couple

 Paul and Jessica Zulkosky will soon be the parents of quadruplets, and a community diaper drive is being held in Wayne and Wakefield to help the couple when their babies arrive later this spring.

City sales tax numbers down slightly in April

By MICHAEL CARNES
 Of The Herald

A dip in local car sales fueled the third drop in sales tax revenue in the last six months for the city of Wayne.

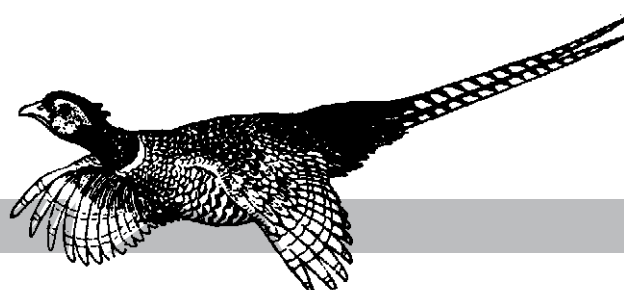

Sales tax revenue for the month of April was down 3.6 percent from last year, dropping from almost $38,500 last year to a little more than $37,000 this year.

It has been a roller-coaster year so far for the city's sales tax receipts. After back-to-back losses in November and December, revenue figures have bounced back and forth in comparison to the previous fiscal year.

In spite of that, the city is still ahead of last year's pace for sales tax revenue, sitting at more than $291,000 for the first seven months of fiscal year 2009-10. At the current average, the city is on pace to generate about $500,000 in sales tax revenue, which would eclipse last year's total of just over $498,000 but would fall about $11,000 short of the projected 2 percent growth the city is looking for.

Obituaries

Howard Morris

Howard Morris, 91, of Wayne, died Thursday, April 22, 2010 at The Oaks in Wayne. Services will be held Friday, April 30, 2010 at 10:30 a.m. at First Presbyterian Church in Wayne. The Rev. Ray D.E. McCalla will officiate. There is no visitation.

Howard Erville Morris was born April 4, 1919 on a farm near Winside to William and Laura (James) Morris. He attended rural school at District #83 near Winside. Howard married Orgetta Nielsen on Dec. 23, 1940 in Dakota County. They lived in Wayne County where Orgetta served in the Wayne County Clerk's Office and was Wayne County Clerk until retiring in 1990. Howard farmed and was then employed by John Deere Implement and Wayne City Schools until retiring. The couple moved to Colorado in October 2005 and later returned to Wayne. He was a member of Bethany Presbyterian Church near Carroll.

Survivors include his wife, Orgetta; son, Roger Morris of Santa Ana, Calif.; two daughters, Linda Janke of Huntington Beach, Calif. and Marjean Richmond of Parker, Colo.; four grandchildren; 10 great-grandchildren; nieces and nephews. He was preceded in death by his parents, two brothers, three sisters, and one granddaughter.

Honorary pallbearers will be Lynn Heusinkvelt, Virgil Kardell, Norman Anderson, John Rees, Duane Creamer, Roger Morris and Todd Raabe. Burial will be at a later date in Elmwood Cemetery at Carroll. Hasemann Funeral Home in Wayne is in charge of arrangements. Memorials may be made to the Meals On Wheels Program and Elmwood Cemetery Association at Carroll.

Quentin Robert Whitmore

Quentin Robert "Whit" Whitmore, 90, died Thursday, April 22, 2010 in North Attleboro, Mass. Memorial services will be held at 11 a.m. Saturday, May 8, 2010 at the First Presbyterian Church in Wayne.

Quentin Robert "Whit" Whitmore was born in Orchard on Oct. 15, 1919, the fifth child of Sylvanus B. and Nanna (Carson) Whitmore. Three years after his birth his family sold their farm and moved to Wayne, where his father built the Students Supply Store to cater to the students of the Nebraska State Teachers College, (Wayne State). He graduated high school with honors from Wayne Prep in 1937. At Wayne Prep, Whit excelled at basketball and playing tuba in the band, achieved the rank of Eagle in Boy Scouts, was a member of the debate team that went to the state finals, and worked with his sisters in the Students Supply Store.

In 1941 Whit graduated from Wayne State with an AB in Mathematics and Education. At Wayne State he was a three year letterman in basketball, twice playing in the National Collegiate tournament in Kansas City, played Sousaphone in the band, was a member of Kappa Mu Epsilon fraternity (President in 1940), and Lambda Delta Lambda honorary science fraternity, was named to the Who's Who in American Colleges in 1941, and was elected editor of the 1941 Spizz yearbook. He enrolled at Massachusetts Institute of Technology in July of 1941 to major in meteorology which he studied until March 1942 when he and several classmates were recruited by the US Navy to fill a shortage of meteorologists. However, after joining the Navy he was diverted to flight school in Pensacola, Fla. and in December 1942 transferred to Seattle to wait for a combat assignment. Whit continued his flight training at Whidbey Island, Wash. until March 1943 when he asked Marjorie Hook, his college sweetheart, to travel by train from Ashland, where she was teaching second grade, to Mt Vernon, Wash. to marry him before he shipped off to war. They were married on March 30, 1943.

Shortly after their marriage, Whit was assigned to a Navy patrol squadron operating from Adak Island in the Aleutians. In December of 1944 Whit was reassigned to the Philippines where he flew PB4Y-1 (B-24) bomber patrols in the South China Sea until April of 1945. Upon returning from the Pacific the Navy sent Whit to the United States Navy Postgraduate School at Annapolis, Md. to study Aeronautical Engineering, and then in 1946 to the California Institute of Technology to complete his Professional Aeronautical Engineering Degree, with a jet engine specialty, which he received in 1947. Over the next 22 years as an officer and Aeronautical Engineer Whit was assigned as liaison to Navy jet engine manufacturers in Kansas City, to provide technical advice to the Navy Command Staff in the Pentagon and manage Navy aircraft overhaul and repair facilities in Norfolk, Va., Trenton, N.J., Jacksonville, Fla. and Atsugi, Japan.

After retiring from the Navy with the rank of Commander in 1967, Whit moved the family to Wallingford, Penn. where he joined Boeing Aircraft's Vertol Division as an engineering manager. In 1975 Whit decided to leave Boeing to obtain a degree in photography from the Antonelli School of Photography in Philadelphia. After graduation he was pleased to be offered an instructors position at the school which he accepted. After a few years of teaching photography, the school asked him to also manage their Barry & Homer Photo Lab. He reluctantly agreed to the additional responsibility with a reduced teaching load. Whit continued working in his third career until Marj finally prevailed on him to stop so they could travel, in 1994 at age 75.

Whit is a former member of the First Presbyterian Church in Wayne and was a member of the Wallingford Presbyterian Church in Wallingford, Penn., where he was an elder, trustee, and active in the choir, for 41 years. He was a 50-year member of the Country Club Lodge of Masons, a 40-year member of the Philadelphia Council of the Scottish Rite, a former member of The Valley Voices of Delaware County, Penn. and a member of the Delaware Camera Club of Wilmington, Del. where he was elected president twice and named a Fellow in 1992. He loved playing golf.

Survivors include his children, Robert (Patricia) Whitmore of North Attleboro, Mass., Beverly Whitmore of Philomath, Ore. and Gregory (Mary) Whitmore of Frisco, Texas; five grandchildren; six great-grandchildren; three sisters-in-law, Dorothy Hamilton of Daytona Beach, Fla., Barbara Craun of Primghar, Iowa and Pat Straight of Wayne and many nieces and nephews.

He was preceded in death by his wife of 65 years, Marjorie Parry (Hook) Whitmore; four sisters, Nyeula Rich, Irol Balsley, Lillian Whitmore, and Larhyla Wood; his brother Llewellyn, who was killed in action in World War II, and six brothers-in-law, Art Hamilton, Dale Craun, Lloyd Straight, Lyle Rich, Howard Balsley and Star Wood.

Memorial donations can be made to the Wayne State College Foundation, Wayne State College, Wayne, Neb. 68787.

Public Health Month

To celebrate National Public Health Month, Dr. Richard Raymond, former Undersecretary of USDA's Food Safety Program, and former Chief Medical Officer in Nebraska, was involved in the forum, "Partnering for the Public's Health: A Conversation with Dr. Richard Raymond and Friends," Tuesday, April 20 at Wayne State College (WSC). He also presented, "Public Health Careers: More Opportunities Than You Can Imagine," at the Wellness Fair in the Bluestem Room of the WSC Student Center on April 21.

Looking Ahead in Wayne

By Lowell Johnson, City Administrator

City Council meeting

The next regular City Council meeting will be Tuesday, May 4 at 5:30 p.m. in the city council room at 306 Pearl Street.

Transfer Station Changes?

Just a heads up that we are looking at opportunities to turn the operation of the city transfer station over to a private operator. We are looking for ways to lower the cost of garbage service and improve our re-cycling program. Any action taken will be by the mayor and council at a public meeting.

Why Go To the Extra Work?

I went to the public mayoral candidate debate last night and there was an interesting question: "Why do you want to be mayor?" Two of the three candidates attended the event and both of their answers can be summed up that they like it here and they want to help make a difference. So why go to the extra work?

Why did Pat Gross and other private citizens lead an effort to raise funds and build a library/senior center? Why do the school board members run for a board that pays nothing? Why would 40 of our most able citizens volunteer to run into burning buildings for the Wayne fire department? Why did Doug Carroll, Bob Keating, Lesa Backstrom, Ray Nelson, Mary Kranz and other parents spend two years of night meetings to plan and raise funds to build an activity center? Why would nearly the same group do it again five years later for a Summer Sports Complex?

Why do WSC professors and students volunteer to help with so many things here? Why would Wayne Industries group, Wayne County Board and city mayor and council members take on extra projects that make meetings longer and more complicated, require some risk and time with the public to communicate what they are doing?

Why does Isaac Walton group keep working on the lake on Dog Creek? Why do parents volunteer to coach recreation programs? Why does Wayne have one of the highest rates of Eagle Scouts per capita in the nation? Why do a high percentage of Wayne Carroll graduates consistently score some of the highest college test scores as an aggregate nationwide?

I think the answer was in the closing of the debate last night: "That's what makes us different and a great place to live."

Area blood centers join forces, merge operations

The Blood Center of Iowa and Siouxland Community Blood Bank, two strong Iowa-based, not-for-profit blood centers, have officially merged operations and will now be known as LifeServe Blood Center.

After a comprehensive benefit analysis study, the decision to merge operations was made official on April 1.

Both blood centers will continue their focus on serving the needs of the community through volunteer blood donor programs, as well as maintaining their local presence at nine different donor centers located through the tri-state region and the hundreds of mobile blood drives scheduled throughout the area.

By joining operations, representatives from both organizations believe they can help contain healthcare costs by lowering the cost of a unit of blood for hospital customers through the consolidation of similar functions.

Uniting operations also provides enhanced market competitiveness for the acquisition of blood banking equipment, supplies, and blood testing protocols.

While at Wayne State College, she has been involved as president of Lambda Pi Eta Communication Honor Society, president of Sigma Delta Pi Spanish Honor Society, member of Phi Kappa Phi, president of Navigators, and a STRIDE tutor. She is a Neihardt Scholar and participated in the Honors Program. Fitzgerald has studied abroad in Spain, was Homecoming queen, and has served on Student Senate for three years. Upon graduation, Kate will attend law school at the University of Nebraska.

Honored Retiring Faculty

Dr. Jay O'Leary came to Wayne State College 44 years ago in 1966, specializing in music and, specifically, woodwind instruments. He holds bachelor of music education and doctor of musical arts degrees from the University of Colorado. His master of music degree is from Boston University. He received the Wayne State Foundation Teaching Excellence Award in 1970.

Before coming to Wayne, he served as Associate Principal Clarinet and Soloist of the United States Army Field Band of Washington, D.C., during which time he played at the funeral of President John F. Kennedy and the later inauguration of Lyndon B. Johnson. O'Leary was Fine Arts division head at Wayne State for 20 years, and was the director of the Wayne State Summer Music Camp. He was Principal Oboe of the Sioux City Symphony for 40 years, and currently plays in the Sioux City Municipal Band and Siouxland All-America Band.

Dr. Linda Taber began her career as a Wayne State College professor in 1992. She earned her bachelor's degree in history at Penn State University in 1964, her master's degree in history at Rutgers University in 1966 and her doctorate in history at Stanford in 1983. She served as a visiting professor of history at the University of South Dakota and the University of Iowa before joining the Wayne State faculty full time. Taber taught Wayne State courses in World History, World Civilizations, Ethics and Values, Society and Gender, African History, the Renaissance and the Reformation, and Slavery in a Global Perspective. She noted in thoughts about her retirement that,

"The college has undergone numerous changes in campus and curriculum, but some of the best things about teaching here have remained the same. Every semester I have had the opportunity to teach in fields that interest me, even when my interest took an unexpected turn into the history of slavery, ancient and modern. I appreciate the program flexibility which made it possible to develop and share new interests."

Dr. Doug Christensen, professor of biology, will be presented with the State National Bank Teaching Excellence Award at the baccalaureate ceremony. This prestigious honor is awarded on the basis of rigorous standards that require a superior level of effective teaching. Christensen also was Wayne State's nominee for the Nebraska State College System George Rebensdorf Teaching Excellence Award.

He began his career at Wayne State in 1998 after earning his bachelor of science and master of science degrees in Food Science and Technology and his Ph.D. in biological sciences from the University of Nebraska-Lincoln.

Christensen's nomination materials for the award note his contributions to the Wayne State Life Science Department, such as challenging students to increase their critical thinking abilities and being instrumental in bringing undergraduate research opportunities to the college through a joint research program with the University of Nebraska Medical Center.

George L. Shuck is the recipient of this year's Alumni Achievement Award. He enrolled at Wayne State in the fall of 1973 in the business school and completed his studies at Wayne State in 1976, graduating summa cum laude with a bachelor of science degree in business administration with a concentration in accounting and a minor in economics.

While at Wayne State, Shuck was vice president of the Student Senate and was a member of the tennis team. After graduating from Wayne State, he attended the University of Kansas, graduating with a master of science degree in accounting in 1977.

Shuck began his career in public accounting with Arthur Andersen & Co. as a staff accountant in the auditing division in the company's Kansas City office in 1980. While at Arthur Andersen, Shuck's primary audit focus was on commercial business enterprises primarily in the manufacturing and retail sectors.

Shuck changed his career path from public accounting to private industry in 1985. He became chief financial officer for a computer hardware and software retailer in Kansas City. Another opportunity presented itself a year later and he became a shareholder and president of a T.J. Cinnamons franchise in Memphis, Tenn. Shuck temporarily relocated to Memphis and was actively involved in the entire business operations of the franchise.

After spending two years away from Kansas City, Shuck returned and joined Ferrellgas, Inc., a national propane retailer in Liberty, Mo., as manager of financial accounting and reporting. He was promoted to director of administration services in 1992. In this position, George's responsibilities included the tax, audit and administrative services departments.

Shuck left Ferrellgas and became president and sole stockholder of a custom metal fabricating company in Kansas City in 1995. He sold the business in 2004 after receiving an offer from a local strategic competitor. Shuck assumed the position of vice president and chief financial officer of Clearwater Natural Resources in 2005 where he continues his employment today. Clearwater was founded in 2005 as a private MLP to acquire coal mining businesses in eastern Kentucky.

George and his wife, Deb, make their home in Kansas City, Missouri. They enjoy golf and supporting their alma maters (Deb is a graduate of Kansas State University). Shuck has been a Trustee of the Wayne State Foundation since 1993 and has hosted two Kansas City alumni reunions.

U.S. Congressman Jeff Fortenberry will deliver the commencement address at Wayne State's baccalaureate ceremony. Fortenberry was elected to the United States House of Representatives to serve Nebraska's First Congressional District in November 2004.

Congressman Fortenberry has an extensive background in economics and public policy. Prior to serving in Congress, he worked as a publishing industry executive in Lincoln, where he also served on the Lincoln City Council from 1997 to 2001. In Congress, Fortenberry serves on the House Foreign Affairs Committee with significant responsibilities for Middle Eastern affairs; the Agriculture Committee, where he helped write the House Farm Bill; and the Oversight and Government Reform Committee, with a focus on ensuring effective governmental operations.

Although she is not on bed rest at this time, Jessica has stopped working to help delay delivery of the babies until after 28 weeks of pregnancy. It is hoped that the babies will be born sometime in late June.

Both Jessica and Paul have indicated that they are "very open to talking with other couples about infertility" and would like to thank everyone for "their tremendous support and help, as well prayers for the health of the babies and Jessica."

Mother's memory behind donations for Relay for Life

In memory of her mother, who died of cancer when she was 54 years old, Roberta Carmen has donated two antique quilts to the Our Savior Walkers.

The quilts, which belonged to Hazel Wert, Roberta's mother, are being raffled off with proceeds going to this year's Wayne County Relay For Life.

Chances for the raffle may be purchased from any of the Our Savior Walkers team members or at the church. The drawing will be held on Sunday, May 30 following the 10:30 a.m. service. The first name drawn will have his or her choice of quilt and the same name chosen will receive the remaining quilt.

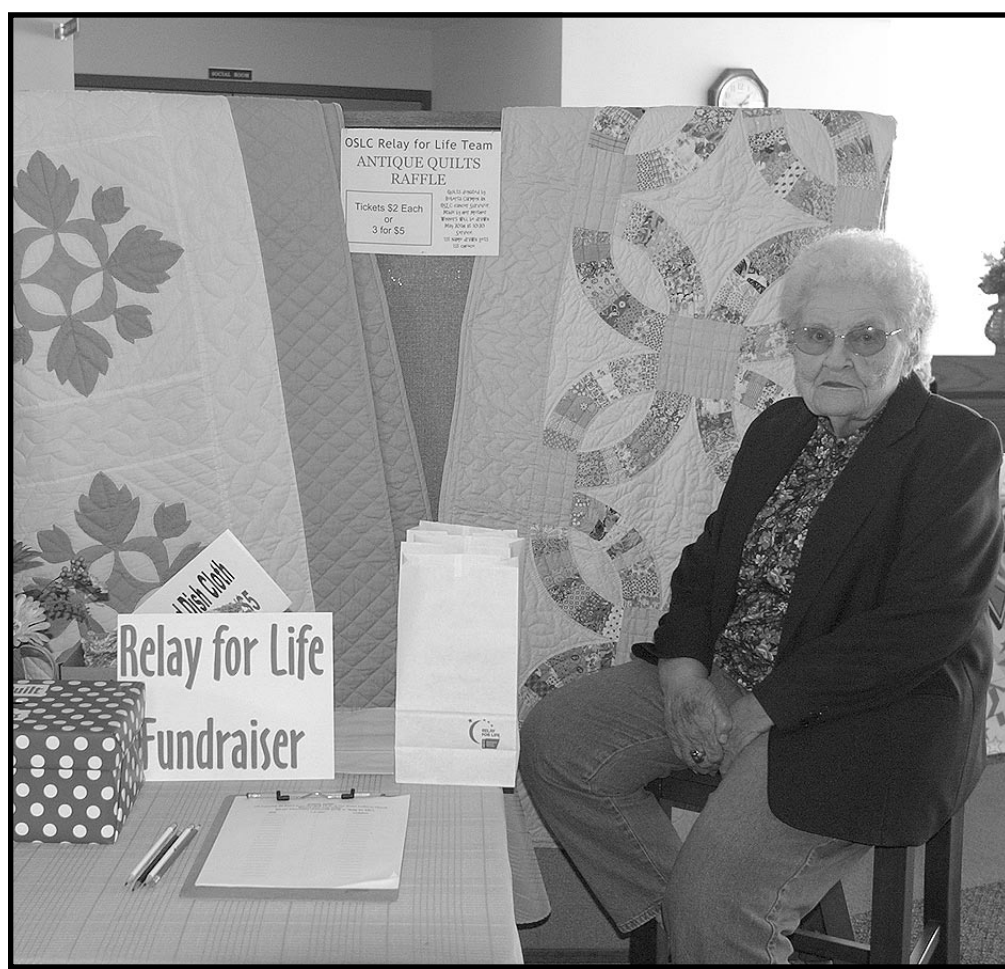

Roberta Carmen, herself a cancer survivor for more than 25 years, said the full-size quilts have never been used and have been stored in a box for more than 60 years. They have been on display at several quilt shows.

One of the quilts is in a double wedding ring pattern and the other features flowers.

Roberta and her husband, Dick, have been supporters of the Relay For Life event in Wayne for many years and plan to take part in this year's event, scheduled for Friday and Saturday, June 11-12.

The quilts are on display at the church, located at 421 Pearl Street and tickets can be purchased there.

For more information or to purchase a raffle, contact team captain, Kim Dunklau at 369-1696 or the church at 375-1899.

the Mayor and the City Council to determine when that cost exceeds the quality."

"The purpose of city government is to provide services that people want, but we need to keep an eye on costs," O'Leary said. "I'm not sure if making money is the goal, but you need to balance that out with things that do make money."

Both candidates said they wouldn't rule out the possibility of working with the county in looking for areas where both entities could share in certain costs that would save taxpayers money in both areas.

"I think there might be some expenses that could be shared, and it's something we really need to work on," O'Leary said.

"I think we've done a decent job working with the county . . . and I would be open to suggestions," Chamberlain said.

The recent acceptance of grant funding for an overpass under Highway 35 on the west part of town was viewed as a good idea by both candidates.

"The majority of phone calls I received from my constituents was in favor (of the underpass) and that weighed heavily," Chamberlain said. "Safety is a huge factor . . . and I didn't hear any really good reasons not to do it that outweighed (safety)."

"I know the mayor has a difficult responsibility when they break a tie, but I think all things being equal, consideration has to be made for what is good for the community, and in my opinion whatever is most progressive is the way to go," O'Leary said.

Both candidates expressed support for a proposed expressway that would run between Norfolk and Sioux City, with each saying the project is long overdue.

"The sooner this gets done the better from an economic development standpoint," Chamberlain said. "Railroads and four-lane highways are important to attracting new business, and this would be important for business attraction."

"My biggest concern is it's not happening fast enough," O'Leary said. "I'd also like to see a highway from Vermillion come down so there would be a direct route from Sioux Falls to Wichita that would go through Nebraska, rather than trace around the (Missouri) river. There is a potential for growth with highways around Wayne and we shouldn't let that slip by."

Both candidates were complementary of current mayor Lois Shelton's decision to start up a youth council, and both candidates said they would continue the idea to give the city's youth a voice in local government.

"What a wonderful opportunity for students to learn about the community and city government," O'Leary said. "I'd like to expand it and move it into some government classes so students can experience what goes on with city government. It's good to listen to them. They have good ideas."

"Anything that gets youth involved and gets that kind of input, we need to run with that," Chamberlain added. "I'd like to expand on that and get them involved with the Council, because they are a good source to look at for what we want our community to be 20-30 years from now, because it's going to be their community."

Wes Blecke, executive director of WayneArea Economic Development, was the forum's moderator. Randy Pick, the third candidate for mayor, did not attend the forum.

McDermott will do well at Creighton

Lots of stuff happening in the sports world, so let's condense it all down with a good purging of the "Bits and Pieces" file:

— Big news involving a former Wayne State coach, as Greg McDermott will be taking over as coach at Creighton University.

McDermott, as longtime Wildcat fans will remember, took the Wildcats deep in the NCAA tournament a couple of times during his tenure here before going to Northern Iowa, where he took that program to the NCAA tournament on three occasions.

Iowa State is a small fish in the huge basketball pond known as the Big 12 Conference, and McDermott hasn't had quite the success there that he's had here and at UNI. I believe his return to the Missouri Valley will be good for him, and Creighton just might be making some deeper runs in the NCAA tournament than they did during Altman's tenure.

— The NCAA was teetering on the brink of utter stupidity as talk of expanding the men's basketball tournament to 96 teams was hot and heavy during March Madness.

The NCAA did come to their senses, sort of, by announcing this week the tournament would expand to 68 teams, meaning each of the top seeds would play the winner of a No. 16 vs. No. 17 matchup in the first round.

No word yet on where these games will be played, but with the new $10.4 billion TV deal worked out with CBS and Turner Broadcasting, you'll be able to see those otherwise-insignificant play-in games live and in living color.

— And then, just when you thought the NCAA had taken one step forward toward using common sense, they stumbled backward about 10 steps with Friday's announcement that two more bowl games will be added to the college football bowl schedule.

That's right, you'll now be able to watch the New Era Pinstripe Bowl at Yankee Stadium and the Dallas Football Classic this year, watching four more teams that don't deserve bowl games play in meaningless December matchups.

For those of you scoring at home, we will now have 35 bowl games this season, which means 70 of the 119 teams playing in the major football division will get to say they made a bowl game at the end of this season. Just when you thought the ANC (Alleged National Championship) game couldn't be made any more meaningless...

— The experts are giving several NFL teams kudos for "winning" the recently-completed NFL Draft, and one of them was my favorite team, the Seattle Seahawks.

Seattle made a couple of great picks early in the draft, but getting Golden Tate out of Notre Dame, and trading for two outstanding running backs in Lendale White and Leon Washington, highlighted this draft for my team (wait...did I just give kudos to a Notre Dame player???)

I'm still a little uneasy with having the former USC coach, Pete Carroll, running the ship of my favorite team. If the draft is any indicator, my fears may not be worth worrying about. And with the NFC West wide open, another run of division titles may be in the works for my team.

— Just wondering...whatever happened to Tiger Woods?

— Can somebody explain to me how the NHL playoffs can take six weeks to conduct their playoffs, while the NBA playoffs runs almost as long as the regular season itself? OK, maybe it's not that bad, but when you have to wait 3-4 days in between playoff games in a series, it makes you wonder why people still watch pro hoops.

As it is, the hockey playoffs are much more entertaining and exciting, especially when a game goes into overtime. It might take 3-4 extra periods to get a winner — yet still takes less time to finish than the average NBA playoff game.

McDermott signs 10-year contract to coach Bluejays

By MICHAEL CARNES
Of The Herald

Former Wayne State basketball coach Greg McDermott was greeted warmly by Creighton basketball fans after being introduced as the 16th head men's basketball coach in the school's history Tuesday morning.

McDermott, the head coach at Iowa State the past four years, took the job Monday, replacing longtime coach Dana Altman, who left the program after 16 years to take the head job at the University of Oregon.

While terms of the deal were not disclosed at the press conference, sources say the former Wayne State mentor was offered a 10-year, $9 million deal by Creighton athletic director Bruce Rasmussen Sunday evening. McDermott said he accepted the offer Monday afternoon.

Rasmussen said McDermott is a perfect fit for the Creighton program.

"He has shown great passion, intelligence and character, and has proven to be a great teacher and has shown the ability to develop players. He absolutely is a perfect fit for our vision," he said.

Rasmussen said he saw

McDermott when he coached at Wayne State, and knows the people of Wayne thought very highly of him.

"He was very highly thought of by the people there and had great support there, and he also developed a very strong program at Northern Iowa and I saw how he conducted himself," he said.

McDermott came to Wayne State in 1994 and led the team for six seasons, going 116-53. His last two teams made the NCAA Div. II national tournament, serving as a No. 1 seed and host team in 1999 and reaching the Sweet 16 in 2000. They are the only NCAA appearances by the Wildcat men's basketball team in the school's history.

McDermott left Wayne State in 2000 to become the coach at North Dakota State, then took the job at Northern Iowa the following season, where he was there for five years, posting a 90-63 record and taking the Panthers to the NCAA Div. I tournament each of his last three seasons.

McDermott took over the reins at Iowa State in 2006, but has not matched the success he had at Wayne State and Northern Iowa. Playing in the very tough Big 12 Conference, the Cyclones have gone

Blue Devil track teams split time at Schuyler, Pierce meets

Wayne High's track teams split their squads and competed in two meets Thursday, with the varsity going to Schuyler and the JV squad heading west to Pierce.

At the Schuyler Invitational, the Wayne boys finished as runner-up in the eight-team meet, while the Wayne girls were a respectable fifth.

Coach Dale Hochstein was pleased with the varsity teams' efforts at Schuyler.

"We competed well on the boys' side and had numerous improvements," he said. "We moved some people around to look at some possibilities for conference and districts."

Hochstein said Keegan Dorcey and Zach Thomsen both ran well for the first time in two events. Dorcey took fourth in the 200-meter dash with a time of 23.8 seconds, while Thomsen led a trio of Wayne runners in the 400 with a second-place effort of 52.94 seconds.

"Keegan and Zach were first for the year, and both established a strong mark," Hochstein said.

Jordan Barry also had a good day, medaling in all three jumping events. The Blue Devils were solid in all three relays as well, dominating the 3,200-meter relay as the foursome of Marcus Baier,

Fields qualifies for regional golf meet

Wayne State golfer Adam Fields has been selected to play in the NCAA Div. II Men's Golf Tournament as an individual qualifier for the second straight season.

The junior will compete in the Central/West Regional at the Classic Club in Palm Desert, California, hosted by Cal State-San Bernardino, May 3-5.

Fields led Wayne State this spring with a scoring average of 74.0. He captured individual medalist honors at the Wayne State Spring Invite with rounds of 74 and 70 for an even-par score of 144. He also placed fifth at the Upper Iowa Invite and was tied for sixth at the Winona State Spring Invitational. This is just the third time that a WSC men's golfer has qualified for the NCAA Tournament, as Klinton Keller qualified in 2004.

The top five teams and top two individuals not with a team from each regional will advance to the NCAA Div. II National Men's Golf Championships, scheduled for May 18-21 at The Sagamore Club in Noblesville, Ind.

The Wayne State women's golf team finished with a tournament-best 350 on Sunday to finish ninth at the Northern Sun Conference Women's Golf Championships, played in Brandon, S.D.

The Wildcats shot 365 Friday, 351 Saturday and 350 Sunday to finish the three-day, 54-hole event with a team score of 1066.

Senior Kelsee Katsampes finished with the top score for Wayne State, shooting 258 to finish in 29th place overall. Heather McCabe was next at 263 to finish tied for 33rd.

Katie Isom shot Wayne State's top score on Sunday with an 84, to go with previous scores of 91 and 91 for a 266 to finish 35th overall. Ali Fuchtmann finished with a 279 to tie for 42nd overall, while Paige Barry carded a 301 to place 53rd overall.

Tampa Bay signs Reeves as free agent

Former Wayne State College linebacker Ryan Reeves was one of 13 players to sign a contract with the Tampa Bay Buccaneers as an undrafted free agent following this weekend's NFL draft.

A 6-foot-3, 245-pound middle linebacker from Wahoo, Reeves was a second-team Daktronics All-American selection last fall after leading Wayne State and the Northern Sun Conference in tackles for the second straight season. Reeves recorded 124 tackles with four interceptions and seven pass breakups in 2009. He had 10 or more tackles in 10 of the 11 games played for the Wildcats and ranked tied for eighth in NCAA Div. II, averaging 11.27 tackles per game.

He was a two-time selection to the Daktronics Super Region No. 3 First Team and was a two-time All-NSIC South Division selection at linebacker.

Details and terms of the contract or when Reeves would report to the Buccaneers have not been released.

Jennifer Radley hit a walk-off, game-winning grand slam to help Wayne State beat Bemidji State Tuesday afternoon.

Softball team splits

Jennifer Radley's walk-off grand slam in the bottom of the seventh inning of game two led the Wildcats in a sweep of Bemidji State Tuesday afternoon.

Wayne State downed the Beavers 8-0 in the first game and defeated Bemidji State 6-2 in game two. The sweep makes the Wildcats 30-12 overall and 15-5 in the NSIC.

In the opener, WSC broke open a close game by scoring six runs in the bottom of the fifth inning. Big hits in the inning included a three-run homer to left center field by Blaire Kuhl and RBI singles from Hannah Engelkamp, Aeriell Earleywine and Amy Sandstrom.

The Wildcats had 12 hits in the win as Amy Sandstrom finished 3-for-4 with two runs scored. Kassie Nurton finished 2-for-2 with two runs scored while Sam Earleywine doubled and singled going 2-for-3 with two RBIs.

Katie Goetzinger (20-8) pitched a complete-game one-hit shutout, striking out 12 and allowing no walks.

Bemidji State jumped out to an early lead in the top of the first inning in the second game as Stephanie Rossman belted a solo home run over the left field fence to give the Beavers a 1-0 lead.

The Wildcats would not answer

Peter Hansen awarded ROTC scholarship

Peter J. Hansen of Winside has been awarded an Air Force ROTC scholarship to attend a host college or university.

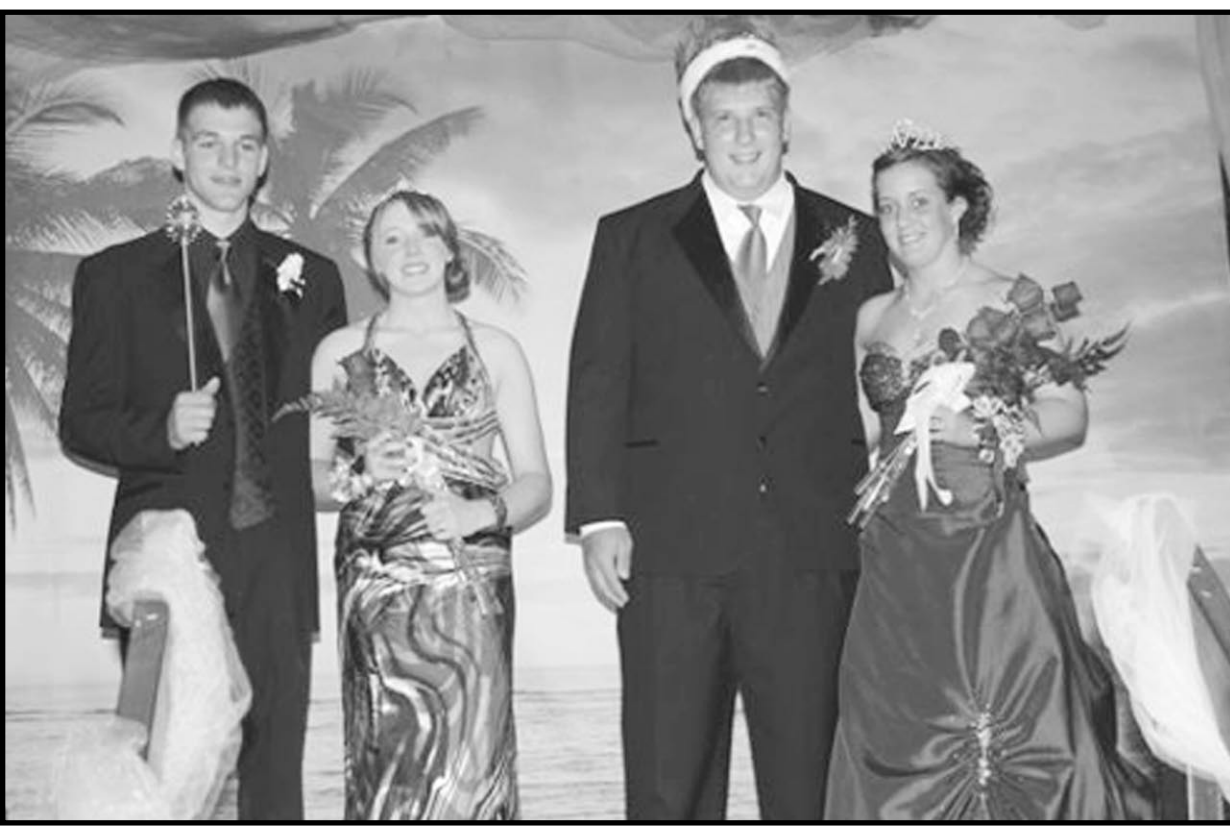

High school seniors from across the United States are selected after a competitive application process based on comprehensive tests scores, scholastic achievement, school officials' evaluations, extra-curricular activities, and community involvement.

The majority of scholarships cover full college tuition, provide a textbook allowance and pay most laboratory or incidental fees. The scholarship program also pays a $350 tax-free monthly allowance to each student during the academic year, which increases to $500 by his or her senior year. The value of a scholarship may exceed $100,000, depending on the student's choice of school and the type of scholarship offered.

Upon graduating from college and completing the ROTC program, the cadets are commissioned as second lieutenants in the Air Force. The new lieutenants select and enter various career fields to train as pilots, navigators, engineers, medical, personnel, business management fields, and special operations.

He is the son of James G. and Julie A. Hansen of Winside.

Hansen is a student at Winside High School.

Immunization clinic to be held in Wayne

Goldenrod Hills Community Action will hold the Wayne Immunization Clinic on Tuesday, May 4, from 10 a.m. to 2 p.m. at United Methodist Church, 516 N Main Street, Wayne. For an appointment please call (402) 529-3513.

Goldenrod Hills Community Action will now be offering the Pneumovax vaccine. This vaccine is offered to persons 65 years of age and older, and persons 19-64 years of age who are immunocompromised and have chronic medical conditions. We will offer this vaccine at our public clinics for a $40 fee. To schedule an appointment call: (402)529-3513.

GHCA's Health Services Program will provide lead screening to children 12 months to 5 years of age at our Immunization Clinics for a fee of $10. Children may get lead poisoning from paint of homes built before 1978, tap water, food, pottery, dirt, dust and even from the air we breathe. Elevated blood levels can cause irreversible damage to the brain and nervous system; it can harm the kidneys and digestive system; and because lead reduces the ability for the body to produce red blood cells, it can cause anemia. Children with elevated blood levels of 10 or higher may suffer dulled hearing, stunted growth, reduced eye-hand coordination, behavioral problems and delayed learning skills.

The Immunization Clinic is open to the public, and there are no income guidelines. Each child should be accompanied by the parent or guardian. Past immunization records are required. Proxy forms are needed when a parent or legal guardian is unable to accompany the child to clinic. Proxy forms may be obtained by contacting the Wisner office at (402) 529-3513. A suggested donation of $20.00 per child would be appreciated to help defray administrative costs. If a child only receives one immunization, then the suggested donation is $13.50. No one will be denied immunizations for inability to make a donation. Immunizations are needed at ages: 2 months, 4 months, 6 months, 12-15 months, and 4-6 years. This project is supported in part by Federal Immunization Program Funds awarded to Goldenrod Hills Community Action by the Nebraska Department of Health and Human Services.

Goldenrod Hills Community Action, in conjunction with the Nebraska Health & Human Services Vaccines for Children Program, offers the Pentacel vaccine, which consists of the DtaP, Hib & IPV (polio) as a combination vaccine and Kinrix vaccine, which consists of the DtaP and Polio for 4 to 6 year olds. Also available is Menactra (meningitis) for 11-18 year olds, Tdap (tetanus with pertussis) for 10-8 year olds, Hepatitis A for 12 months to 18 year olds, RotaTeq (rotavirus) for infants, and Gardasil for VFC eligible 11-18 year olds, as well as other recommended childhood vaccines. The Influenza vaccine is now available for children 6 mo-18 years.

Adult vaccine (MMR, Hepatitis A, Hepatitis B, Tdap, TB testing) is available to the public for a mandatory fee at all immunization clinics to anyone 19 years or older. These fees cover the cost of the vaccine. Call the Wisner office at (402) 529-3513 for more information.

Operation Great Start (OGS) information will be available at the Immunization Clinic this program provides education and resources to expecting mothers and mothers with children up to 12 months old. OGS works to provide services to families and children in North East Nebraska to ensure and strengthen their well being.

Goldenrod Hills Community Action (GHCA), headquartered in Wisner, is one of nine Community Action Agencies in Nebraska. GHCA manages several different programs as determined by identified needs of residents in the 14 county service area. The Agency serves over 10,000 clients a year due to suc-

Not present, Cory Foote.

Foods class challenges students

As the school year winds down, the students enrolled in Foods class at Wayne High School are using the knowledge gained over the semester to produce quality products in the challenging areas of yeast breads, cakes and pastries.

"A part of this lab is analyzing the quality of the bread. This year, the students choice of top bread was the bread made by Riley Hoffart, Tia Jech and Diana Ruiz. During the roll lab, the girls accidentally broke off part of their old, cracked spatula into their dough. They rolled out the dough, cut the triangles and rolled up their wedges without finding the hunk of spatula. The males in class were doing a lot of good natured teasing about the whole situation. Jordan Alexander ended up biting into a roll that had the missing spatula chunk in it. That's when the girls finally confessed to having a chunk of spatula in their rolls. The white loaf bread lab became intensely competitive. The girls were determined to have the best bread so the boys wouldn't have the opportunity to tease them about any mistakes they might make. The boys all agreed that the girls' bread was the best. Of course, I don't think that will put an end to the competition in class," explained foods instructor Karen Schardt.

Senior Jordan Alexander was surprised to bite into a chunk of spatula when eating the crescent roll that Tia Jech, sophomore, had given her.

Becky Carr named Shoal Creek Elementary School's Teacher of the Year

Becky Carr has been named the 2010-2011 Teacher of the Year for Shoal Creek Elementary School in the Liberty School District, Liberty, Mo. Carr resides in Kansas City, Mo., with her husband, Jason, and children Keira and Brody.

Carr is a graduate of Laurel-Concord High School. She received her Bachelor's Degree in K-6 Special Education/Early Childhood Special Education from the University of Nebraska at Kearney, and her Master's in Education from Baker University. Carr has taught for Liberty Public Schools five of her eight years in teaching.

She is the daughter of George and Kris Schroeder of Belden and the daughter-in-law of Larry and Linda Carr of Wayne.

"I was humbled by the honor of being named Teacher of the Year for my building by my colleagues," said Carr. "Working with students with special needs has so many rewards. I enjoy the challenges and the praises and am eager to learn new information to meet their needs. I have an awesome support system, including my parents, staff, and administration."

'South Pacific' presented at Winside High School

By Caroline Burris

Drama enthusiasts of Winside were treated to a taste of the tropics recently. The Winside High School performed the musical "South Pacific" for the elementary students on April 7; for the public on April 9; and at a dinner theater on April 10.

The cast included seniors: Dominique Gowler, Kyle Mundil, Carly Anderson, Seth Mangels, Stephen Perkins, Peter Hansen, Paul Hansen, Jordan Jaeger, Kyle Skokan, Brandon Wurdeman, and Kalin Koch; juniors: Audrey Roberts, Morgan Quinn, and Deserah Janke; sophomores: Tina Nelson, Erin Gray, Tanner Woslager, Alec Sindelar, John Hansen, Brady Wurdeman, Shelby Lienemann, and Kelsie Tweedy; and freshmen: Brain Greunke, Shailynn Mundil, Shannon Gray, Courtney Petzoldt, and Demi-Jo Gowler. Crew members included seniors, Emily Backstrom and Paul Hansen; sophomore, Tarrin Quinn; and freshman, Bridget Gray.

The several departing seniors will leave behind an amazing legacy of four-year play involvement at Winside. These seniors are Dominique Gowler, Kyle Mundil, Carly Anderson, Paul Hansen, Peter Hansen, Stephen Perkins, Brandon Wurdeman and Kyle Skokan. Audience members attending the play enjoyed several highlights such as coconut-bra clad senior, Seth Mangels, "Honey Bun," dancing around the audience with sidekick Audrey Roberts.

Several unassuming audience members were treated to an impromptu lap dance. Several iconic songs were given the high school makeover such as "There is Nothin' Like a Dame" and "Bloody Mary."

Saturday night's meal was prepared by the Winside Fine Arts Boosters and included such tropical delights as pineapple up-side down cake and pork loin. Several former performers came back to help serve the meal. Sally Schwedhelm, Ryan Janke, Will Janke, Micheala Staub, Hillary Lineneman, and one parent Brenda Roberts helped serve.

Prior to the meal the audience was able to watch a slide show created by junior Audrey Roberts including pictures of several practices and the dress rehearsal.

After four years of hard work in both choir and play productions, Kyle Mundil's and Dominique Gowler's theatrical talents were showcased in the musical production. Kyle Mundil played the leading role of Emile De Becque; Dominique Gowler had the leading role of Nellie Forbush; and together they wowed the audience with songs such as "Some enchanted Evening," "I'm in Love with a Wonderful Guy," and "Wash That Man Outa' My Hair."

HOLY HUMOR SUNDAY

Concordia Lutheran Church in Concord, again held a special Sunday Worship Service on April 11.

The congregation enjoyed a very Holy Humorous Service built around the verse found in the Book of Proverbs. "A cheerful heart is a good medicine, but a crushed spirit dries up the bones". We hummed and drummed to the tune of "Jesus Loves Me", sang "This Is the Day" as an echo song, sang "Rejoice in the Lord Always" as a round, "I've Got the Joy, Joy, Joy Down in My Heart" and ended with "Joy to the World". The devil was given "thumbs down" and "boos" and Jesus Christ was given a standing ovation, noisy praise and lots of love and admiration.

The Senior Choir sang "Redeeming Love," and many members read jokes or asked a riddle or "knock, knock" joke. Young and old enjoyed the service led by Pastor Karen Tjarks.

Never say a church is not suppose to smile.

The next special event at Concordia leading up to the 125 Celebration, will be a Mother/Daughter Brunch to be held at the church on Saturday morning, May 1.

CORNFIELD FIRE

Winds of nearly 50 mile an hour on April 13 helped fan the dangerous fire started three miles south of Concord about 3 p.m. Approximately 100+ acres were blackened, burning many acres of corn stalks and government acres in its path.

Firemen from Allen, Wakefield, Concord & Dixon plus neighboring farmers with tractors and disks finally brought it under control about 6:30 p.m.

The Harlin Anderson farm was spared due to the hard work in keeping the flames from jumping over the road. The flames did make it over in a small spot south of the place, but was promptly squelched by alert firefighters who caught it in time.

The efforts of several fire departments and local farmers spared any property from being destroyed by a recent fire near Concord.

Neighbors noted, "Words of appreciation need to be expressed to the awesome departments, some who had already been out a couple of times that day. Thank you to the local farmers from all around for their equipment and time spent disking and plowing, which helped so much to keep the flames from creeping any further."

Art Show honors

Wayne High School students, Katie Kietzmann and Derek Jareske were recently honored with the Best of Show awards at the Mid States Conference Art Festival. Kietzmann's mixed media design titled "Sinking In His Own Lies" and Jareske's sculpture called "Hope Grows" earned top honors.

Jacob Nissen named to Augustana College winter term Dean's List

A total of 827 students have been named to the Dean's List at Augustana College in Rock Island, Ill. for the 2009-10 winter term. Students who have earned this academic honor have maintained a grade point average of 3.5 or higher on a four-point scale for courses taken during the term.

Jacob Nissen of Wayne was among the students named to the winter term Dean's List. Nissen is a junior at Augustana and is majoring in business administration advising and accounting.

Wayne native earns Outstanding Library service award

Jana Reeg-Steidinger recently received the 2010 Barnard Award for Outstanding Library Service. She is a Reference/Distance Librarian at the University of Wisconsin-Stout in Menomonie, Wis.

Stout community student and faculty nominators noted her tireless work to assist students with their research needs, her willingness to test new technologies by incorporating them into her teaching, her innovation in both the physical space of the reference area and the delivery of reference services, reflecting the campus' continuous improvement model, and her outstanding (and long-standing) commitment to the service of the students and faculty of Stout.

She was also praised for her work in the development of unique outreach activities keeping the Library visible on campus and her morale-building activities among the staff.

In her acceptance remarks, Jana cited the individual service contributions of each library staff member and student worker. She concluded with the quotation "We discover who we are in service to one another, not to self."

The award is provided by the Barnard Family Library Endowment. Dr. David Barnard was Stout's Dean of Learning Resources for two decades prior to retirement. In 2006, Jana was recipient of the Barnard Professional Development Award.

Jana has been Head of Reference at UW-Stout for 30 years. She and husband, Mark, live in rural Menomonie.

Ray and Verdelle Reeg of Wayne are Jana's parents.

'Here Comes Peter Cottontail' to Winside Elementary School

By Caroline Burris

The kindergarten and first grade classes at Winside Public School celebrated Easter with an unexpected visitor on April 1.

As the first graders were sitting down to read the book "Rabbits, Rabbits, Rabbits" by Gail Gibbons with their teacher Ms. Loetscher, the Easter Bunny decided to drop by and read them the story. After the book was finished, the Easter Bunny handed out Easter eggs to the class.

Although there were enough eggs for each eager child to have two, the class voted to surprise the kindergarten class with their extra eggs. The first graders and Easter Bunny hopped down the hall to surprise the ecstatic kindergartners with the Easter goodies.

In addition to being yummy, this served as a learning experience to the first graders who not only learned about rabbits, but also gained an important lesson in sharing.

The Easter Bunny made a visit to the kindergarten and first grade classes at Winside Elementary. The stop served as a learning experience as the students were able to share treats with the other students.

Cory Foote

Foote awarded scholarship to University of Nebraska-Kearney

Cory Foote, a senior at Wayne High School, has been notified that he has been awarded the Honors Room Waiver Scholarship to attend the University of Nebraska at Kearney next fall.

The recipient of this scholarship is chosen by the Honors Scholarship Selection Committee. The choice is based on high school academic accomplishments and activities.

The Honors Room Waiver Scholarship provides full or partial waiver of room charges and is renewable for four years.

Cory plans to major in Sports Administration and Business while attending the University of Nebraska at Kearney.

While in high school Cory has been active in Band, Pep Band, Jazz Band, Choir, Jazz Choir, the school musical, Quiz Bowl, Mock Trial, National Honor Society, football, basketball, track & field, cross country and W-Club.

Cory is a member of the First United Methodist Church of Wayne where he is an active member of the First United Methodist Church Youth group.

He is the son of Brian and Tammy Foote of Wayne and the grandson of Wayne and Karen Ulrich of Wakefield and Myla Foote of Wayne.

Community Action of Nebraska launches statewide survey

Community Action of Nebraska will be mailing 10,000 surveys to residents all across Nebraska. The survey aims to discover the most pressing challenges Nebraskans face so that the Community Action agencies across the state will be better equipped to address those challenges.

This survey is different from the Census survey. Those selected for the survey were chosen at random from among the residents of Nebraska and are encouraged to complete and return the survey as soon as possible. Each person's responses are important because they represent other households similar to their own who will not receive a copy of the survey.

Community Action has worked closely with the Social Sciences Research Center at Wayne State College to develop the survey, which asks questions on a variety of topics such as healthcare, childcare, finances, and challenges faced by individuals and families.

The survey is funded by the Community Action agencies of Nebraska and the Department of Health and Human Services. Community Action agencies are private, non-profit organizations dedicated to helping low-income people attain self-sufficiency in all 93 counties of Nebraska.

The surveys will be arriving in peoples' mailboxes the first or second week of May. If you receive a survey, please complete and return it as soon as possible. Each person's responses are very important to help present a more accurate picture of life in Nebraska.

For more information about the survey, contact Erin Kambell at Community Action of Nebraska, 402.471.3714. For more information about services provided by Community Action agencies, go to www.canhelp.org.

Parents need to protect children from online hazards

Children use the Internet daily, so parents need to be aware of how their children are using it. Parents need to learn to recognize signs that their children might be at risk from online hazards and steps that they can take to safeguard them. The FBI and the National Center for Missing and Exploited Children identify the following signs that a child might be at risk online:

- Your child spends large amounts of time online, especially at night.
  - You find pornography on your child's computer.
  - Your child receives phone calls from people you don't know or is making calls to numbers you don't recognize.
  - Your child receives mail, gifts or packages from someone you don't know.
  - Your child turns the computer monitor off quickly or changes the screen on the monitor when you come into the room.
  - Your child becomes withdrawn from the family.
  - Your child is using an online account belonging to someone else.
- Parents who witness these signs need to communicate with their children. Conversations about Internet safety beforehand can keep the lines of communication open.

Parents need to determine what their children are doing online. Periodically review the history of online activities. Consider setting browser security to high to reduce potential exposure to pornography or other inappropriate materials. Also, place computers in a central location, such as a living room.

Parents also should supervise their Internet friends and help children establish unrevealing screen names and secure passwords.

Filtering software such as Netnanny and Cyberpatrol can be installed on computers to help reduce access to objectionable online materials.

Acme Club gathers at Senior Center

The Acme Club met April 19 at the Wayne Senior Center with Ruth Victor as the hostess and seven members present.

The Thought for the Day was "Early Spring," read by Joann Temme from the Lutheran Digest.

Roll call was to tell of a big surprise each member had received.

Instead of taking a mystery trip each year, the club will change the books to read "attending a special event."

A book entitled "Collected Short Stories" by Bess Streeter Aldrich will be placed in the library in observance of the Acme Club's 125th anniversary.

For the program, Ruth Victor reported on the life of Bess Streeter Aldrich.

The next meeting of the Acme Club will be Monday, May 3. This will be the last meeting of the club year and will include the election of officers.

Engagements

Magnuson — Struik

Larry and Jan Magnuson of Wayne announce the engagement of their daughter, Erin Magnuson, to Justin Stuik, son of Keith and Darlene Stuik of Sully, Iowa.

The bride-to-be is a 2005 graduate of Wayne High School and a 2009 graduate of Dordt College in Sioux Center, Iowa. She is currently completing her first year as an Iowa State College of Veterinary Medicine student at the University of Nebraska-Lincoln.

Her fiance is a 2006 graduate of Pella Christian High School and a 2010 graduate of Dordt College where he obtained a Bachelor of Arts degree in theology.

The couple is planning a July 31, 2010 wedding at Grace Lutheran Church in Wayne.

Sharp Shooters compete in state championships

The Wayne County 4-H Sharp Shooters club competed at the State BB Gun and Air Rifle Championships in Broken Bow.

Ten members competed at the individual level. The Wayne team, which consisted of Miles Flores, David Greunke, Landon Kraft, Dylan Roland and Andrew Simpson, took 5th place in the state for 4 position BB shooting: Prone, Standing, Sitting, Kneeling and test score out of 17 teams competing.

Miles Flores placed first in the state for test score.

The BB test is designed to show proficiency in the knowledge of rules, safety and gun handling skills. Andrew Simpson was awarded a Good Sportsmanship award.

Jan Harrison doing research

Jan Harrison, R.N., B.S.N., C.W.O.C.N. of Harrison W.O.C. Services, L.L.C. in Thurston will be conducting a research study on a new investigational ostomy product.

Harrison will be performing this study in collaboration with Holister Incorporated and will be recruiting people who use a two-piece ostomy system. She hopes to contribute to the improvement of an ostomy management for more than 500,000 people of all ages who have an ostomy in the United States.

For more information, call Harrison W.O.C. Services at (402) 385-0160.

Lower Elkhorn NRD promotes Arbor Day with tree sales

This year we celebrate the 138th Anniversary of Arbor Day. We traditionally celebrate Arbor Day on the last Friday in April. Arbor Day will be celebrated Friday, April 30.

J. Sterling Morton, the founder of Arbor Day, once said that "The cultivation of flowers and trees is the cultivation of the good, the beautiful, and the ennobling in man, and for one, I wish to see this culture become universal." Morton proposed to the Nebraska State Board of Agriculture "to set aside one day to plant trees, both forest and fruit." The State Board of Agriculture accepted this resolution in 1872 and the first "Arbor Day" was celebrated with more than 1,000,000 trees being planted on that day. Sterling's idea of Arbor Day, "A day set aside each year to plant trees, both flower and fruit" is celebrated each year throughout the United States and in many other countries around the world as well.

Being the birth state of Arbor Day, it's only appropriate that the Lower Elkhorn Natural Resources District (LENRD) promotes tree-planting programs each year.

To celebrate the 138th Anniversary of Arbor Day the LENRD will be making seedlings available to the public. Species and inventory are limited; however, the LENRD will try to have as many seedlings available as possible for those who want to plant a tree on Arbor Day. Those interested in purchasing trees on Arbor Day should go to Maskenthine Lake Recreation Area to the LENRD Tree Distribution Center, north of Stanton.

From Norfolk, the lake is located 10 miles east on Highway 275 and then two miles south on Ridge Road. Signs will direct you to the trees.

The Center will be open from 8 a.m. until 2 p.m. on Arbor Day. Seedlings can be purchased in bundles of 25 for $20.

J. Sterling Morton said that "Other holidays repose on the past; Arbor Day proposes the future." LENRD Assistant General Manager Ken Berney said, "Plant a tree for the future. Our parents did it for us we should return the favor and do it for our children and grandchildren."

Makin' Money Camp for Youth coming to area

Across the region youth are starting up their own businesses and making money right from home.

For students going into the fifth through the eighth grades, a two-day Makin' Money Camp may be for you. Participants will learn about many of the skills needed to be successful entrepreneurs. Those attending will develop a business plan, borrow money from a banker, design advertising and marketing slogans; decide how to price a product and figure profit and loss, all in a simplified and fun way.

Each camper will make products to sell to customers at the Camp Marketplace. Tours of local entrepreneurial businesses will also be included.

Three camps are being offered this year: Thursday and Friday, May 27 - 28 at the Wayne State College Student Center; in Creighton at the City Hall on Friday and Saturday, June 3 - 4, and in Stanton at the county fairgrounds Thursday and Friday, July 1 - 2.

Registration deadline is Friday, May 14 and each camp is limited to 30 participants. There is a small fee to attend. Registration forms can be obtained online at: nenerd.org or by calling the UNL extension offices in Wayne (402-375-3310) or Neligh (402-887-5414), or the Northeast Nebraska Resource Conservation and Development Council (402-582-4866).

Project partners include the Northeast Nebraska RC&D, UNL Extension, Wayne State College, Wayne Area Economic Development, and Knox County Development Agency.

Optimist Club discusses upcoming community projects

Bob Wriedt opened the meeting by sharing information about the most recent events.

The club helped with the Easter Egg hunt at Careage in April and sponsored the bowling party for the TeamMates. Jan Kristjanson and Kim Dunklau reported on the first annual Scrapbooking workshop held April 10 at the Nebraska Public Power Conference Room. The workshop was very well received by those attending.

Cindy Fon Fange finalized the plans for the seventh annual Celebrating the Arts Festival on April 18 at Wayne State College and the presentations of the awards and meal at Our Savior Lutheran Church.

The meeting closed with the Optimist creed. The next meeting was scheduled for April 27. Lynette Krie was in charge of the program for the evening.

We all need to take care of the earth

Well, another "earth day" has been observed. I liked the ad I saw that featured a farmer in overalls saying, "in agriculture, every day is earth day."

I don't get into the great global warming debate; I simply am not smart enough to know which claims to believe. But I do know it's up to us to care for the earth, and we are not doing a very good job of it.

As I write this, I hear the garbage truck coming around. I use plastic bags, and there is stuff in the bags that won't decompose very fast, I know. But I do try not to throw a bunch of stuff into the landfill. And my neighbors try, too; when I went to the recycling center last Saturday, the parking lot was full! But we can do better, I'm sure.

We watched the documentary called Food, Inc. on channel 12 last week; we had some friends tell us about it and one lady, who is on the NET board, was upset that they would show it. But, of course, she had not seen it. And, in order to appear "fair and balanced", they had a panel of Nebraska farmers after the showing.

But I admit I was appalled. My contention is that we can care for our animals as well as possible, and I read that the livestock markets are trying to practice good herdmanship, but the majority of our beef goes from the feedlot to the packer in a truck, and we have no control of what happens then.

I know what happens to people who use repetitive motion in a cold environment; I used to see some of them in the emergency room. I will never forget, shortly after the Madison plant opened, seeing a woman my age at the time, whose hand and arm were swelled and inflamed; she was slicing meat all day in a 40 degree room. She was earning more than I was, but I didn't care! And I know that those fantastic wages no longer exist.

The other thing that intrigued me was the ubiquity of corn. It's being blamed for e coli, for goodness' sake! And there is high fructose corn syrup in everything, I know that. I read an article a long time ago about the suspicion of this stuff being hard for the liver to digest, so began reading labels. Why is it necessary for everything to be sweet? I typically don't buy canned goods because they are too salty, and as we try to lower our sugar consumption, I notice processed foods are too sweet!

Some retired military fellow announced last week that they are having trouble meeting recruitment goals because our young people are too fat! That is horrible, and as he said, could have defense ramifications.

All in all, it gave us a lot to think about. I know it had an agenda, but I plan to continue to buy my milk from Prairieland dairy and my vegetables from the Farmer's Market. There is reason to be concerned, and to make more changes in our buying patterns.

Arbor Day being celebrated this week

Arbor Day is coming up and people will be planting trees. Here is a good summary from Kelly Feehan, Extension Educator in Platte County, about some tree planting myths and tips.

When it comes to tree planting, there are a few myths as well as old recommendations that have changed but are still practiced. Because of these myths and outdated recommendations, here is a list of Do's and Don'ts related to tree planting for use on Arbor Day and whenever planting trees.

Don't plant trees too deep. After planting, the first lateral root needs to be just below the soil line. Locate this root before digging the hole; then only dig as deep as needed to plant at the correct depth. Always dig the hole wider than the root ball to loosen surrounding soil and encourage roots to grow out of the planting hole.

Don't amend the hole with organic matter when planting a tree. Use the soil that was removed from the hole to backfill around the roots. If soil in the planting hole is the same texture as surrounding soil, roots are more likely to grow out of the planting hole. Amending the soil in the planting hole encourages roots to grow in a circling pattern inside of the hole. Even if many roots do grow into surrounding soil, the circling roots can eventually girdle other roots or the trunk, leading to tree decline, dieback or trees toppling in the wind.

Don't stomp or compact soil when backfilling the planting hole. Gently firm soil around roots, then water to settle the soil and remove large air pockets. Roots grow in pores (small air spaces) and not in mineral (clay, sand or silt) particles. Stomping soil causes compaction which reduces the number and size of pore spaces and restricts root growth.

Don't form a bowl around a tree to hold water, especially in heavier clay soils or in lawns irrigated with an automatic system. A common cause of decline in landscape trees is soil that is too waterlogged. Keep the soil moist, but not saturated.

Roots will not grow in soil with low oxygen levels. Don't water a new tree once a day. Water when the upper two inches of soil feels dry. Apply enough water to moisten the soil 12 to 18 inches deep. Be sure to moisten the soil outside of the root ball to encourage roots to grow into surrounding soil. Just as roots will not grow where there is low soil oxygen, they will not grow where there is no moisture. Applying water only to the planting hole will also encourage roots to grow in a circling pattern inside the hole; or cause soil in the hole to become too wet so roots do not grow at all.

Don't fertilize with nitrogen at planting time, except in very poor soil or sandy soil. Nitrogen promotes leafy growth and canopy growth may be encouraged at the expense of rooting. If over applied, nitrogen can also burn young roots. As a rule, most Nebraska soils are fertile enough to support tree growth and fertilization is not needed.

Don't pile too much mulch up around the trunk of a tree. The use of mulch has been shown to help trees establish twice as fast. Use mulch, but use it correctly. Place a three to four inch layer of organic mulch (wood chips) in a four foot diameter ring around the base of the tree and keep it away from the trunk. Finally, don't prune trees at planting time except to remove broken branches or a double leader. Branches have stored food and the green tissue and leaves are needed for photosynthesis to produce energy needed for root establishment. Wait a couple of years before pruning a young tree.

Livestock Market Report

Boars — $11 to $20.

Something you're born to do

Everybody has something that they do best. It's something you're born to do. Farming is like that. It's not easy and it's not for everybody.

Some years right at the very last minute a storm comes through, takes a would be bumper crop and flattens it like a pancake. It takes courage to face those odds every year. You have to believe in agriculture to do that.

We believe in it, too. Ag banking...it's what we do best. If you're in agriculture, we would like to be your bank.

A Tribute to the Firefighters and EMT's Around the World

[This is all about Firemen and Emergency Respons People and Law Enforcement Officers]

"I wish you could see"

I wish you could know what it is like to search a burning bedroom for trapped children, flames rolling above your head, your palms and knees burning as you crawl, the floor sagging under your weight as the kitchen below you burns. I wish you could comprehend a wife's horror at 3 in the morning as I check her husband of 40 years for a pulse and find none. I start CPR anyway, hoping to bring him back, knowing intuitively it is too late. But wanting his wife and family to know everything possible was done to try to save his life. I wish you know the unique smell of burning insulation and soot-filled mucus, the feeling of intense heat through your turnout gear, the sounds of flames crackling, the eeriness of being able to see absolutely nothing in dense smok-sensations that I've become too familiar with. I wish you could understand how it feels to go to work in the morning after having spent most of the night, hot and soaking wet at a multiple alarm fire.

I wish you could read my mind as I respond to a building fire "Is this a false alarm or a working fire? How is the building constructed? What hazards await me? Is anyone trapped?" Or to an EMS call, "What is wrong with the patient? Is it minor or life-threatening? Is the caller really in distress or is he waiting for us with a 2x4 or a gun?"

I wish you could be in the emergency room as a doctor pronounces dead the beautiful five-year-old girl that I have been trying to save during the last 25 minutes. Who will never go on her first date or say the words, "I love you Mommy" again.

I wish you could know the frustration I feel in the cab of the engine or my personal vehicle, the driver with his foot pressing down hard on the pedal, my arm tugging again and again at the air horn chain, as you fail to yield the right-of-way at an intersection or in traffic. When you needs us however, your first comment upon our arrival will be, "It took you forever to get here!"

I wish you could know my thoughts as I help extricate a girl of teenage years from the remains of her automobile. "what if this was my sister, my girlfriend or a friend? What were her parents' reaction going to be when he opened the door to find a police officer with hat in hand?" I wish you could know how it feels to walk in the back door and greet my parents and family, not having the heart to tell them that I nearly did not come back from the last call. I wish you could feel the hurt as people verbally, and sometimes physically, abuse us or belittle what I do, or as they express their attitudes of "It will never happen to me."

I wish you could realize the physical, emotional and mental drain or missed meals, lost sleep and forgone social activities, in addition to all the tragedy my eyes have seen. I wish you could know the brotherhood and self-satisfaction of helping save a life or preserving someone's property, or being able to be there in times of crisis, or creating order from total chaos. I wish you could understand what it feels like to have a little boy tugging at your arms and asking, "Is Mommy okay?" Not even being able to look in his eyes without tears from your own and not knowing what to say.

Or to have to hold back a long time friend who watches his buddy having rescue breathing done on him as they take him away in the ambulance. You know all along he did not have his seat belt on. A sensation that I have become too familiar with.

Unless you have lived with this kind of life, you will never truly understand or appreciate who I am, we are, or what or job really means to us...

I wish you could though.

GENERAL NOTICE
YOU ARE REQUIRED TO CONTROL
NOXIOUS WEEDS ON YOUR PROPERTY

It shall be the duty of each owner, agent, occupant or person in possession, charge or control of any lot, tract or parcel of land in the city to cut and remove from such lot, tract, or parcel of land, together with half of the abutting streets or alleys, all weeds and other rank growth of vegetation 12 inches in height or greater. Such weeds and other rank growth of vegetation shall be cut as close to the ground level as possible and shall be maintained as close to the ground level as possible throughout the period of May 1 to October 15 of each year. Growing or permitting the growing of weeds or other rank growth of vegetation in violation of this subsection is a nuisance and is prohibited.

It shall be unlawful for any owner, agent, occupant or person in possession, charge or control of any premises described in subsection (a) of this section to allow to grow or to maintain any weeds or other rank growth of vegetation 12 inches in height or greater so as to be injurious to the public health, declared to be noxious by the state, conducive to fires or combustion, or creating a nuisance.

The superintendent of public works shall cause to be published in a legal newspaper of general circulation throughout the city for one time at least ten days before May 1, and on any other date designated by resolution of the council, a general notice to owners, agents, occupants or persons in possession, charge or control of real estate within the city to cut and remove weeds and other rank growth of vegetation from such premises. The notice shall specify that the weeds and other rank growth of vegetation shall be cut as close to the ground level as possible throughout the period of May 1 to October 15.

The public works superintendent is authorized and empowered to notify, in writing, the owner, agent, occupant or person in possession, charge or control of any such lot, place or area within the city to cut, destroy and remove any such weeds, grass or deleterious unhealthy growths, or other noxious matter, found growing, lying or located on such property. Such notice shall be by United States mail, postage prepaid, addressed to such owner, agent, occupant or person at his last known address, or shall be served personally.

Upon the failure, neglect or refusal of any such owner, agent, occupant or person in possession so notified to cut, destroy and remove such weeds, grass or deleterious unhealthy growths, or other noxious matter, growing, lying or located upon such property, within five days after personal service of the written notice provided for in subsection (d) of this section or within seven days after the mailing date of such notice, the public works superintendent is authorized and empowered to pay for the cutting, destroying and removal of such weeds, grass or deleterious unhealthy growths or other noxious matter, or to order the removal by the city. The cost of any such cutting, destroying or removing shall be at the expense of the owner, agent, occupant or person in possession, charge or control of such property.

If the costs of cutting, destroying or removing weeds and other rank growth of vegetation and costs of removing any refuse, debris or other obstructions to permit such cutting are unpaid for two months, the city clerk shall certify to the county treasurer the amount of such expense; and such expense shall become a lien on the property upon which the removal measures were taken as a special assessment levied on the date of such measures. The county treasurer shall add such expense to and it shall become and form a part of the taxes on such land and shall bear interest at the same rate as taxes. Nothing contained in this section shall be construed to limit satisfaction of the obligation imposed by this section in whole or in part by tax foreclosure. The expense may be collected by suit instituted for the purpose as a debt due the city or by any other or additional remedy otherwise available. Amounts collected under this section shall be paid over to the city treasurer.

because someone like you said "YES"...

Macy, Nebraska heart transplant recipient

Before Macy was even born, doctors detected a complicated heart problem during a prenatal ultrasound. Despite multiple corrective surgeries and medications, by age 10, Macy's own heart was quickly failing.

Because someone said "yes" to organ donation, Macy now has a strong heart... and an awesome serve!
