Celebrating Arbor Day

Students at Wayne Elelmentary and Wayne Middle School planted trees in observance of Arbor Day Friday morning. Fourth grade students gathered just west of the Wayne Community Activity Center to plant a pear tree in the city's orchard. City employee Joel Hansen spoke to the students on the importance of planting trees and read the city's Tree City USA proclamation. Steve Rassmussen (pictured) with the State Forester's Office explained how to plant and care for trees. On Friday afternoon fifth grade students gathered on the west side of Wayne Middle School to listen to Rasmussen talk about the benefits of having trees and to plant a flowering pear tree. The school received the tree as a result of fifth grader Amelia Blankenau's Arbor Day Poster earning runner-up honors in the state competition.

According to Mike Storjohannn, Director of Enterprise Technology & Operations for American Broadband, the time line for changes begins with a Thursday, May 13 sign up/information day at the Wayne City Auditorium.

Residents will be able to sign up for service or ask questions from 11 a.m. to 7 p.m. Prize drawings will be held and food and refreshments will be served throughout the day for those attending. Guests are encouraged to bring their current bill to see if they could save money by switching to American Broadbands' service. In addition, those interested in signing up for service will have the opportunity to schedule an installation time that is convenient for

Beginning May 13, American Broadband will start hooking up customers who have signed up for their services and hope to schedule most of the new installations during the week of May Storjohann noted that American Broadband has had construction crews in the city of Wayne the last two months to replace cable and hang fiber optics. Also, during the last month new equipment has been installed in the plant and customers have noticed outages in cable service to complete the process.

"Approximately 95 percent of the work has been done on the east side of Wayne and 75 percent is completed on the west side of town. The weather has cooperated and this has helped a lot as the upgrade continues," Storjohann said.

American Boardband President and General Manager Shawn Hanson said, "The upgrade and service enhancements are examples of our commitment to the people and values of rural communities in Nebraska. Our emphasis on personal service and customer care, together with our belief in developing a high level of technology, is something that we believe will benefit the people of Wayne. We are glad to be able to make more of our services available to them."

The upgrade will allow the company to have high speed Internet up to 10 Meg rather than the current 2 Meg.

American Broadband will be increasing the number of channels offered. New selections will include Animal Planet, True TV, Headline News and the Travel Channel. These channels are very

Council approves purchase of lift for swimming pool

By CLARA OSTEN Of the Herald

A swimming pool lift, trash receptacles and benches along Main Street were all approved for funding during Tuesday's meeting of the Wayne City Council.

Several Wayne Middle School students who are a part of the Mayor Youth Council Committee made a presentation on their findings in regard to a lift at the Wayne Municipal Pool.

A video showing the lift they had chosen was shown to those in attendance and the students explained why they felt this was the best option. They also said that a portion of the cost for the lift will be paid by the Wayne Knights of Columbus Council with proceeds from the annual Tootsie Roll

The council voted unanimously to move forward with purchasing the lift.

A request was approved for the purchase of trash receptacles and benches in the downtown area.

Marie Mohr with the Revitalize Wayne Committee told the council that her group had researched several companies providing the benches, including one in Illinois. It was then determined that Behlen Manufacturing in Columbus had both benches and trash receptacles available at a much lower cost.

After discussion and learning that the city had approximately $4,100 available in a memorial fund for city beautification, the council voted 6-0 to purchase as many as the money would allow.

It was also noted that in the future, the ity might consider putting some type of recycling containers in place in addition to the trash receptacles.

The council also listened to an update on the status of the Wastewater Treatment Plant project. Roger Protzman with JEO Consulting Group told the council that the final design for the facility has been completed and submitted to the agencies that need to approve them. He said it is anticipated that the city will begin advertising for bids on May 19 and open those bids on June 16. A contract could be awarded as early as July 5 and preliminary work could begin in August.

He discussed possible options for the current lagoon following the completion of the new facility. Protzman also spoke of the capacity of the new system and said it is designed to be able to handle future growth in the city.

Considerable discussion was held on a recommendation from the Citizens Economic Development Advisory Committee for LB840 Economic Development assistance for the Wayne Farmer's Market and Wayne Community Garden.

Following input from several volunteers with the Farmer's Market and Community Garden and a vendor at the Farmer's Market, the council voted to contribute $2,500 for advertising and print materials to the Farmer's Market and $250 to the Community Garden to help install a water pit and meter at the garden site.

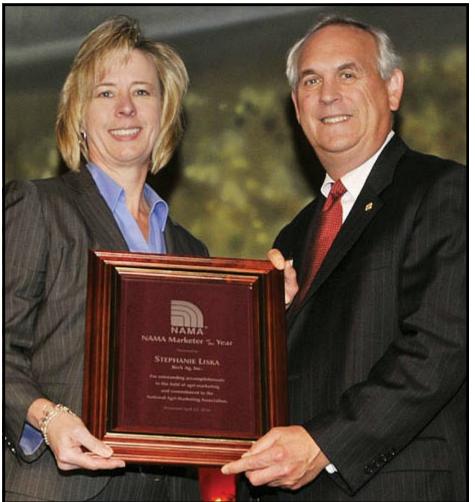

Council members gave their approval for city staff to go out for bids on a police car sedan or compact AWD SUV for the Wayne Police Department.

Police Chief Lance Webster said the new vehicle will replace a 1996 Crown Victoria currently being used by the department. He noted that $35,000 for the purchase of a new vehicle has been allocated in the city's

The city received a check from Tony Kochenash, chair of the Q-125 committee for $2,800. The check represents the portion of the money presented to the Q-125 committee early in 2009 for the city's yearlong celebration.

Kochenash also presented each council member with a CD of Q-125 events and complimented city employees for their assistance with the various activities held in conjunction with the celebration.

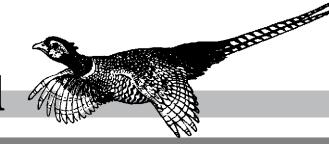

Joel Hansen was appointed as Zoning Administrator for the City of Wayne replacing Lowell Johnson who has been handling the responsibilities of the position on an interim basis.

Western Wats is closing Wayne facility

BLACK CYAN MAGENTA YELLOW

A company that employs about 50 part-time employees in Wayne is closing its doors.

Western Wats, based in Orem, Utah, announced Tuesday that it is closing the call center in Wayne. It is the second Nebraska center the company has closed this year, coming about three months after the company closed its call center in Chadron.

Officials from the company deferred comment to its public relations firm, which said in an e-mail, "We have appreciated very much our partnership with the Wayne community over the past four years. However, in order to better leverage our existing infrastructure, it is with regret that we announce the closure of our Wayne, Neb., call center.'

The announcement comes about one month after the company paid $500,000 in civil money penalties after a U.S. Department of Labor investigation disclosed violations of the Fair Labor Standards Act's child labor regulations. The company was fined by the Wage and Hour Division last summer for the company's employment of 1,482 minors contrary to federal child labor hours and time standards.

County to meet with FEMA next week

By MICHAEL CARNES Of The Herald

Wayne County will be meeting with representatives from the Federal Emergency Management Agency to go over the county's application for federal disaster

That was the word Wayne County Commissioners received from Nic Kemnitz, emergency manager, during the board's meeting Tuesday

The county is one of more than 30 in the state of Nebraska that received disaster declarations from President Barack Obama, qualifying the county for financial relief to offset costs incurred in the aftermath of a number of blizzards that blew through the area this past winter.

Kemnitz said local officials will take the information they have gathered and work with FEMA to justify the expenses the county took on during cleanup and maintenance of emergency situations that arose during the blizzards.

The county board tabled a request from Sheriff LeRoy Janssen for the purchase of computer equipment that would upgrade the outdated equipment in the sheriff's office and prepare the county for an eventual statewide system upgrade.

Janssen's request to replace three computers would have included servers and an update of their record-keeping software, which would be easily integrated into a car-computer system that Janssen said the state will be looking at down the road.

"The state wants us to go with computers in our cars, and this is the first step toward that," Janssen said, adding that when the computers are added to the department's vehicles, those costs would be picked up by the state.

The $6,949 request was tabled by the board, as they asked Janssen to provide an additional estimate from a second company.

Classroom work more impressive

We use a lot of space, ink and bandwidth on the Internet highlighting the efforts of the athletes that compete for Wayne State College. So much, in fact, that it's easy for us to forget the REAL reason why they are here in Wayne,

And, no, it's not to be your waitress at Pizza Hut on Saturday night.

These students come here for an education, and while we cheer them on for putting on the Black and Gold and make the local fans "proud to be a Wildcat," we should be doubly excited for the work these young men and women do in preparing for an even more important game . . . the game of life.

It's not easy being a college student these days. The Bleacher Bum knows - he has a college student of his own who calls every so often to talk about homework, or a paper she has to write, or other education-related issues she faces.

Try being a college student while, at the same time, working several hours a week getting to your peak athletic performance. It's not an easy gig, and it would be very easy for a young college kid to come home from a three-hour practice, take one look at his or her studies, and decide that he (or she) is too tired to study.

Instead, they crack the books, hit the homework as hard as they hit an opposing lineman or a wellplace volleyball, and excel in the classroom as they do between the white lines (or black, if they play in Rice Auditorium).

We've been impressed by some of the numbers the Wildcat athletes have put up on the field. Whether it's Silas Fluellen's career yardage totals (19th quarterback in Div. II history to throw for more than 10,000 career yards), the per-game number of fouls of the women's basketball team (lowest in Div. II at less than 13 per game) or even the number of ankles broken by members of the coaching staff (but don't worry – coach Dan McLaughlin says he'll be ready for the season-opener at UNK in August), Wayne State has excelled on the field in just about every way imaginable.

And yet, for all of that on-field success, it pales in comparison to what these young men and women have done in the classroom. They are knocking down the professors' midterms better than a Ryan Reeves open-field tackle.

You want highlights? How about -The women's volleyball team had a cumulative grade-point average of 3.528, earning them a Team Academic Award from the American Volleyball Coaches Association for the fourth straight season.

- The women's basketball team had the 14th highest GPA in NCAA Div. II, coming in at 3.473. They made the Women's Basketball Coaches Association's Top 25 Honor Roll this season.

- The outdoor track and field (3.39) and cross country teams (3.55) both rank among the top 20 in NCAA Div. II.

- Wayne State had 75 athletes named to the Northern Sun Conference's All-Academic teams.

-Of the 162 WSC student athletes who received Presidential Scholar Athlete Awards, 19 finished with a perfect 4.0 GPA.

You also had individuals like Jennifer Hefner earn Academic All-American honors. And we're not talking pud courses here . .

she's cranking out a 3.96 GPA in applied human and sport physiology (suddenly, the 3.0 I carried in journalism doesn't sound so impressive). There are great days ahead for these young men and women, both inside and outside the athletic arena. And while they may not win them all on the field, it's pretty obvious these young men and women will have a tremendous amount of success in life because of the victories they are achieving in the classroom.

And that's something we can all

Bv MICHAEL CARNES Of The Herald

NORFOLK - Last year, Laurel-Concord track standout Bethany DeLong became the fifth girl to win back-to-back Outstanding Female Athlete awards at the Northeast Track and Field Classic.

Thursday, she moved into a class all by herself, breezing to another four-gold afternoon and leaving no doubt as to whether or not she would become the first three-time winner of the award in the meet's 15-year history.

DeLong set a new standard in the 100-meter dash, easily won the 200 and the long jump and kick-started the winning 400-meter relay team to leave no doubt in voters' minds who the best girl at the meet was.

State recruit said after receiving the award. "I was able to win it the previous two years, but winning it a third time is really nice.'

Coach Nate Sims was especially impressed with the senior standout's efforts Thursday.

"It was nice to hear Laurel-Concord announced as much as it was, and I was really happy for Beth" he said. "It was great that she won the outstanding performer award for the third year in a row."

DeLong won the long jump by more than eight inches, and could have made that spread a little higher with her last jump, which looked to have been in the 18-foot range. She barely stepped over the line, however, and had to settle for a mark of 17 feet, 6 3/4 inches as the winning jump.

If she was disappointed about that last jump, it didn't last very long. She came back about an hour later and exploded out of the blocks in the 100-meter dash, bettering her meet record with a time of 12.24

"I'm most proud of that one," she aid after the meet. "I got the meet record in that event, and that's the best I've run all year."

She teamed up with Ashley Lunz, Erika Hochstein and Katie

"It means a lot," the Colorado Laurel-Concord senior Bethany DeLong leads the pack around the turn in the 200-meter dash at Thursday's Northeast Track and Field Classic. DeLong easily won all four events she was in, setting one meet record and winning an unprecedented third straight award for Outstanding Female Athlete.

She breezed around the back stretch in her final event and won the 200-meter dash by more than a second to put the finishing touches on her 4-for-4 day.

DeLong was one of several area athletes who came away with medals at Thursday's best-of-thebest meet that featured athletes from across the region, and she was one of two Laurel-Concord athletes to come away with multiple gold

Classmate Ezra Schantz was an easy winner in both throwing events. His toss of 166 feet, 9 inches in the discus was the winner by more than 17 feet, and he hit a personal best of 56 feet, 1 inch to set a new school record and win that event by more than 10 inches.

"He's been outstanding," coach Terry Beair said of the Northwest Missouri State recruit. "The thing with him last year is that he kind of peaked early, but this year he's been getting progressively better each time out, and everything he does is consistently out there. He wants to get to 60 (feet) by state, and we're just waiting for a really big one to come out of him."

Johnny Saunders also had a good day on the track. He won the long jump, edging Wayne senior Darnell Collins by five inches; was edged out by Wakefield's Chad Clay in the 200 and helped the 400-meter relay team post an impressive comeback, going from seventh to third, missing a first-place finish by five-hundredths of a second.

"He was almost last when he took the baton, and he just missed on second," Beair said. "He stepped up and had a big day."

Wayne High brought home a couple of gold medals, as senior Carly Fehringer had no problem winning the shot put while the boys 3,200-meter relay of Marcus Baier, Luke Trenhaile, Cory Foote and Zach Thomsen broke the tape first.

Fehringer was the only girl to crack the 40-foot mark in the girls' shot put. She set the standard early with a heave of 42 feet, 1 1/2 inches, and nobody could get within four feet of her the rest of the way.

"She has thrown really well for us and has been really consistent throwing over 40 feet, which is really nice," Wayne coach Dale Hochstein said. "She also has thrown 114-115 feet in the discus, and she was down a little bit Thursday, but she competed very well."

Fehringer also medaled in the discus, finishing sixth with a toss of 107 feet, 4 inches.

It was a close battle between Wayne, Wakefield and Norfolk in the long-distance relay, but Wayne pulled away late behind the legs of Thomsen, who anchored the winning relay.

"Those four have been really consistent for us and have been very competitive, and they fill each role very well," Hochstein said.

"We have three of the four fastest times (in Class B) coming out of our district, so it should be interesting to see what happens with that."

Wakefield represented itself very well on the day. Clay won the 200-meter dash, and Tyler Bodlak outkicked a gritty effort by Baier to take the 800-meter run.

"Chad had set a goal to get the school record in the 200, and to do that and come away with the gold medal at the Classic made it even more special," Wakefield coach Mike Hassler said. "Chad had the secondslowest time coming in and was in the inside lane, but he used that to his advantage and gauged himself off of all the other runners, and by the time he hit the straightaway he was pretty much in control."

Bodlak broke the two-minute mark in the 800 with a time of 1:59.95, but he had to outrace Baier and Norfolk High's Jonah Bradley to break through for his first Classic win in his senior year.

"Tyler has run in the Classic all four years of his career, and the one thing he had yet to accomplish was winning gold," Hassler said. "It was great to see him break the twominute barrier and win gold."

Winside did come away with a couple of medals on the day. Both Zach Brokaw and Nathan Janke took home fifth-place medals, with Brokaw medaling in the 1,600meter run and Janke taking his medal in the shot put.

The Wakefield golf team posted a 86. Anderson shot 93, Salmon shot seventh-place finish at the Lutheran High Northeast Invitational, held April 22 in Norfolk.

Anthony Munson just missed earning a medal at the meet, shooting a 91.

"The team shot well, but there's a lot of room for improvement," coach Kevin Roberts said.

Also scoring were Scott Wageman with a 97, Devin Anderson shot 101, Owen Salmon carded a 110, and Brady Miner shot 111.

At the Hartington Invite, the Trojans shot a 376, led by Munson's 97 and Wageman shot 100.

On Monday, April 26, the Trojans dueled Lyons-Decatur at home and came up on the short end of a 206-210 battle. Anderson shot 49 to lead the Trojans, while Miner added a 53 and Munson and Wageman each shot 54. Salmon carded a 60.

"The conditions were not ideal but we played to get the team used to playing in the rain," Roberts said. "Our scores are starting to show improvement, but we have a long way to go in a short amount of time before districts."

HARTINGTON – Wakefield track coach Mike Hassler knew his boys had a shot at winning the Lewis and Clark Conference crown.

As it turns out, the girls stepped up big as well, allowing both Trojan teams to carry home the team titles, a first for the school, during Saturday's conference meet.

The boys were simply dominant on the track, running away with the team title with 145 points, easily outpacing host Hartington (103.5). The girls' race was a little tighter, but the Trojan girls followed in the boys' footsteps with a 94-74.5 win over the host Wildcats.

Allen's boys finished third in the team race, while Winside was 10th out of 14 teams. On the girls' side, Winside finished ninth while Allen was 12th.

Hassler said both teams needed a total team effort if they were going to win a conference title, and that's exactly what he got.

"In my three years of coach, I think this is the most competitive I've seen our kids be at the conference meet," he said of his teams' efforts. "I knew, going in, we had a really good chance of winning both titles, but outside of our usual scorers, we would need some kids to step up and pull in some extra points. In the end, our kids did a better job than I could have expected.'

The Wakefield boys got their usual points from leaders like seniors Chad Clay and Tyler Bodlak. But it was the results of some of the lower-placing medalists that really impressed Hassler.

"A lot of kids really stepped up today to pull in some much-needed points," he said. "Jhose Calderon placed fourth in the 100 and got sixth in the long jump, Katie Weinrich got two medals in the distance runs, Libby Henschke medaled in the high jump, Dusty Sherer placed in both hurdles, and Michal Bodlak placed in the 3,200, and those were all just as big a factor as the gold medals. Without those places, we don't have the

The girls weren't as dominant as the boys, but Keri Lunz won two events (100, 400) and medaled in four overall to help highlight the Trojans' winning effort. Shelby Lierman won the 3,200 and finished behind winning teammate Abby Schultz in the 1,600, and the two teamed up with Katelyn Tuttle and Katie Weinrich to win the 3,200meter relay.

The Allen boys stayed in the team race for much of the day, and made a big splash early when senior Cody Stewart set a new school record in the triple jump. His leap of 44 feet, 7 1/2 inches is among the best in Class D, and he also had a secondplace finish in the high jump to help the Eagles to a third-place finish.

"The team ran well and rallied when Keith (Jorgensen) pulled up," coach Dave Uldrich said. "Cody had a tremendous day with his record triple jump, and I thought our boys did very well today."

Allen had the runner-up finish in the 3,200-meter relay, as Jorgensen, D.J. Kennelly, Dylan Mahler and Jacob Woodward finished about nine seconds behind the winning Wakefield team. Woodward also took runner-up honors in the 800 and joined Jorgensen, Stewart and Heath Roeber on the 1,600-meter relay that took the silver medal.

On the ladies' side, the Lady Eagles didn't fare as well, but coach Denise Hingst said her team showed improvement as the season enters the home stretch.

"The competition we had at conference was one of the toughest we've seen this spring, and I thought the girls performed really well," she said. "Mariah McCoy had a personal best in the discus, although she didn't place, and we had a couple of people get personal bests, which is nice to see toward the end of the season."

Olivia Schnieders earned three medals on the day. She was the runner-up to Lierman in the 3,200, earned a sixth in the 300-meter hurdles and ran with Vanessa Klug, Danielle Schnieder and Brittany Sullivan on the third-place 3,200meter relay.

"Olivia is running some consistent times," she said. "The 3,200 relay was the highlight of the day for us, and they were able to move up from fifth to third on that last leg, so she finished very well."

Zach Brokaw highlighted the Winside boys' effort with a runnerup finish in the 1,600-meter run. He finished four seconds behind Bodlak with a time of 4:50.6, and also added a fourth-place finish in the triple jump, going 40 feet, 10 1/2 inches to score 13 of the Wildcats' 21 points on the day.

"Zach got second in conference for us and he's done a great job and really ran well Saturday," coach Mark Tonniges said. "He's a great competitor, and he'll do some things for us.

The Winside girls did much of their damage in the field events, thanks to the efforts of Jerae Doffin and the Roberts sisters, Audrey and Jordyn.

Doffin and Jordyn Roberts gave the Wildcats a 3-4 finish in the long jump, then finished 2-4, respectively, in the triple jump. Audrey Roberts tied for fourth in the high jump as the trio combined for 28.5 of Winside's team points.

WHS golfers post top-four finishes

Consistency is what Wayne High golf coach Dave Hix says he is looking for as the regular season winds down.

The Blue Devils finished in the top four of two tournaments this past week, but eliminating a few mistakes here and there could have made for higher finishes at Columbus Lakeview and Oakland-Craig invitationals, he said.

"Focus and finish is going to be our motto for the remainder of the year," he said. "We are still putting a mix of players on the course to see who wants to step up and take the remaining varsity positions."

The Blue Devils finished just 11 shots behind winning Columbus Scotus at Thursday's Lakeview Invite, but that spread would have been a lot closer were it not for a rough finish by the Wayne golfers.

"We finished the last two holes 10 over par as a team," Hix said. "Overall, the scores were not that great considering the perfect playing conditions."

Hix said Collin Jeffries, who

Rotarians praised for efforts in humanitarian missions

Retired Lincoln Pediatrician Chuck Erickson praised the efforts of the Wayne Rotary and the Wayne State College Rotaract Clubs during a presentation on the dramatic work Rotary International is performing in sub-Saharan Africa.

Erickson, a Long-time Lincoln Rotary member, has lead several humanitarian missions to Zambia. He is instrumental in mobilizing fellow Rotarians to raise funds and awareness for water and sanitation projects as well as health and nutrition initiatives in some of the poorest regions of Africa.

He spoke to Wayne Rotarians recently about his most recent humanitarian mission as a Rotary team leader working with orphans at the Sons of Thunder Mission near Livingstone, Zambia.

Rotary efforts center around providing sustainable assistance, said Erickson. Rather than providing tons of food that often depresses commodity prices and can create economic difficulties for local farmers, he said the focus of Rotary's Zambia Project is to assist with long-term nutritional, sanitation,

Memorial poppy to be available in Wayne

The American Legion and the American Legion Auxiliary would like to say "THANK YOU FOR CARING."

In 1923, the poppy became the official flower of The American Legion Family in memory of the soldiers who fought on the battlefields during World War I. For over 85 years the American Legion Auxiliary has sponsored Poppy Day to remind America that millions have sacrificed their lives and health to keep our Nation strong and free.

The Poppy, which grew wild on the battlefields of Flanders, became in the minds of the doughboys of World War I, a symbol of the sacrifice which they had endured. It had flourished among the shelled buildings and bomb-scarred landscape. Its brilliant red bloom, so much like the blood that had been shed there, became a sign of Hope and Renewal for those who lived and walked away. For those who would never leave, those who had sacrificed their lives, it was a perpetual memorial to their bravery.

American Veterans brought home that image and planted it with the Auxiliary where it has bloomed every year for the benefit of those who served America. The Memorial Poppy contributions are devoted entirely to rehabilitation and assistance for Veterans and their fami-

Your donations are greatly appreciated by the Auxiliary and especially the Veterans who we serve. Don't lose your license to complain: Go vote Tuesday

That is – your license to complain about local, state and federal

Of course, we all have unlimited freedom to say what we believe, thanks to the First Amendment. But on Tuesday, you have a golden opportunity to make your feelings known about who you want to represent you in matters of local, county, state or federal politics.

Nebraska's primary election is this coming Tuesday, and winners of the primary elections will go on to compete in the November general election, where we decide who will represent us in the various government bodies that help to make America the unique democracy that it has been for more than two centuries.

We all like to complain about the work, or lack thereof, our "representatives" are doing in their respective jobs. This space, on numerous occasions, has been used to call out those who, I believe (and have strong evidence to back up said belief) are failing to do the job they were elected to uphold.

On Tuesday, I am going to exercise my God-given right to back up what I have to say by going to the ballot box and voting for those who, I believe, best represent how I believe we should be represented.

In the last election, I went out of my way to vote a strict independent ticket, making sure to avoid voting for a single member of the two major political parties. Evidence has shown that, on a federal level (and, to a lesser extent, a state level), those who run under the Republican or Democrat umbrella are not interested in the will of the people so much as they are the will of a few people – those with the cash to line the pockets of those who represent us in Washington, D.C.

By doing so, my strict independent ticket gave me, in my view, an open, unfiltered license to complain about the pathetic job being done by our "representatives" at the federal level. The promise of a more transparent government, reducing the federal deficit and cutting taxes

Your license is up for renewal in made by the current regime (which, we were told, was going to be so much better than the previous regime) has provided all the evidence I need to assure myself that I made the right decision during my last trip to the ballot box.

The problem with our method of choosing our leaders is that not enough people take advantage of the opportunity to make their voices heard.

The last presidential election was one of the most active in recent memory, with more than 56 percent of registered voters casting ballots. The last time it was that high was when it cracked the 60 percent plateau in 1968.

Elections in the non-Presidential year are less active. According to the Federal Election Commission, only 37.1 percent of registered voters went to the polls in 2006. You have to go back to 1970, when 46.6 percent of registered voters cast ballots, to find an off-year election percentage over 40 percent.

That means more than half of those of you who are registered will stay home next Tuesday. And while you are well within your rights to do so, you shouldn't complain when the individual you don't like gets elected (or re-elected) to the office you'd like to see them eliminated

We all have a right, and a license, to complain about what we see as problems with our government, whether it's the local school board or the yahoos running our federal latest online service offered by state debt up another trillion dollars. government. Nebraskans can now That license is lost, though, if you renew their driver license online don't back up your convictions by through the Nebraska Department going to the polls and voting them. You certainly don't lose your right to complain about a particular government official, but not making their driver license, motorcycle your voice heard in the process of our voting system - a system millions of Americans have fought time during the renewal process, and died for over the past 2 1/2 the online service can be used to centuries - certainly reduces the relevance your complaints have.

Voting in Tuesday's primaries is a privilege that no American citizen home addresses in a week to 20 should take lightly. Get to the ballot days. box and cast your vote. Renew your license and make your voice heard.

Statehouse Correspondent The Nebraska Press Association

always welcome in this corner, even those rare missives that couldn't be quoted by Jon Stewart without a few bleepies.

A recent note from a young reader was much appreciated. For one thing, it is always good to have some reassurance that the words "young" and "reader" are not mutually exclusive. And when we receive mail from readers - the email or snail mail variety - we respond as soon as we can.

The question proffered by the youthful correspondent: "What do you believe is the most important single thing in our government today...?"

Since you asked: Money.

The reply is neither cynical nor mean spirited nor sarcastic.

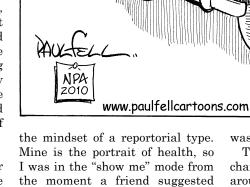

Reasonable people who pay even a little attention to government, and politics, know that the best intentions and the best ideas and the best minds don't have any more than a minuscule chance of getting anywhere if they aren't backed by sufficiently deep pockets. The same applies to the worst intentions and the worst ideas and the lamest of

Medicine Gone To The Dogs

Enough with the debate over federal healthcare policy. Show me someone who says they absolutely understand the whole thing and I'll show you someone full of ... unwarranted self-assurance.

Closer to home, however, it can be reliably reported that our dog, Fred the pacifist shar pei, has benefited immensely from contemporary veterinary medicine. In the last few months he has undergone chiropractic and acupuncture treatments for severe arthritis. It

Healthy skepticism is central to muscles sore and ... other stuff. Note that, for the most part, Fred has had his admiration for veterinarians well under control. He was always ready to leave as soon as he was aware of our arrival.

These days, however, Fred is a changed fellow. He can be limping around the house with a hitch in his get-along rivaling that of Grandpa McCoy. But once every two weeks - when I say, "Do you want to go see Kelly?" - he hauls paws for the pickup truck as best he can, and remains upbeat en route to the Hillcrest Animal Clinic.

Dr. Kelly Stitch, DVM, DACT, is the savior of Fred's ability to enjoy a saunter. She was best known to us previously for her work in equine and canine care and breeding. The acupuncture and chiropractic thing took us by surprise.

If you don't share life with a dog you love and respect, the notion of canine acupuncture and chiropractic treatments might seem exotic, if not over the top. If you are among the more fortunate of our species. you understand how good it can be to enhance the quality of life for a four-legged companion.

Remember, while dogs are similar to people in some ways, they are decidedly different in others. It was Mark Twain who reminded us:

"If you pick up a starving dog and make him prosperous, he will not bite you; that is the principal difference between a dog and a

DMV estimates that each year more than 150,000 people are eligible to use the new online renewal process. Approximately 2,200 licenses and ID cards are issued each day in Nebraska. This new service represents a time saving opportunity for individuals and the DMV.

In the few days the new system has been available, the DMV has processed 868 online renewals, which represents a 35 percent rate of adoption among Nebraskans eligible to use the new service. Last week I renewed my license online in less than 10 minutes. It was a

Another popular online service offered by the DMV is license plate renewals, which were introduced at the end of 2008. In 2009, more than 35,000 license plate renewals were completed online with an additional 16,500 renewals in the first three months of 2010. The result is saving valuable time for drivers and creating new efficiencies for county treasurer offices that process vehicle renewals.

With the launch of online driver license renewal, Nebraskans have the option of doing all of their business with the DMV through online services. Community college funding tough task for Education Committee

Greetings from the Unicameral! Leading up to the 2010 session, one of the major issues facing the Education Committee was the long-running dispute over the community college funding formula. For the past two years, significant disagreements between Omahabased Metropolitan Community College and the other five community colleges had resulted in nearly a dozen bills introduced to change the formula in favor of one side or the other in the dispute.

When Metropolitan Community College filed a lawsuit against the other community colleges, many viewed the possibility of both sides coming to the table and working out their differences as highly unlikely. At the time, the Education Committee was working on LB1072, a bill which would have made a number of changes to the funding formula based upon the recommendations of the Coordinating Commission for Postsecondary Education's LB340 interim study. Thankfully, an agreement between the two sides was reached late in the session, with the community colleges agreeing on specific aid amounts for the 2010-2011 fiscal year and making plans to develop a new funding formula for consideration by the Legislature.

While most of the heavy lifting on development of the new community college formula will be handled by the individual colleges, the Education Committee has no shortage of difficult tasks ahead of it over the interim.

The committee has already scheduled a number of meetings this summer to meet with state education agencies as part of their work on LR542, which directs the committee to review agencies and programs under their jurisdiction in anticipation of potential budget cuts next session.

In addition, the committee will be reviewing provisions of TEEOSA, the state aid formula for K-12 education, with an eye towards the funding cliff coming in 2011 when federal stimulus funding runs out. With the potential for a $650 million shortfall next biennium, the fight to ensure that local school districts have the resources they need will become increasingly difficult in the coming budget cycle.

 $As \ always, I \ would \ encourage \ you$ to contact me if you have any questions or simply have an opinion on legislation before the Unicameral. Feel free to call my office at (402) 471-2716, send me an e-mail at bgiese@leg.ne.gov, or stop by in person any time you're in Lincoln.

We are dedicated to utilizing technology in state government that makes government more efficient and provides better service to our citizens. I congratulate everyone at the DMV on their work.

Winter moisture good for spring flowers

I'm trying hard to get back into the daily habit of walking. The flowering trees in town have about disappeared, the lilacs will be gone later this week, but there is still a wonderful aroma from something south and west of us. There seems to be a consensus that all the moisture from this winter created a show of blossoms this past month.

Last week has gone by in a blur; there were a lot of things going on. We were in Norfolk for Myles' confirmation on the 25th, and I worked in hospice on the following Monday and Thursday. I checked in at Tabitha Rehab on Tuesday for the retirement party for Larry Bartels. His wife is the former Ruth Ann Troutman of Winside. Her mother was a very highly respected teacher in the Winside school, and her dad was a cattle feeder friend of ours. But I had never met her, so took advantage of the opportunity. She was retiring last week, also. Larry actually had retired about the time I did, ten years ago, but he says this time it's permanent!

My mom celebrated her 94th birthday on Wednesday. She keeps saying she didn't expect to live so long! Her two sisters, 88 and 83, drove from Waco and brought a cake. I missed going to lunch with my sister and niece because Nebraska Hospice was having a lunch for its volunteers. I guess it was National Volunteer week. But I got to the party in time for cake, ice cream, and strawberries.

Thursday eve, we drove out to Norris High to see the show choir concert. The music director there is an amazing fellow, and his students reflect their respect for him. The choreography is every bit as good as the singing, which makes for a fun program.

On Friday, my nursing classmates who get together for lunch every other month went to Seward to the Liberty House B&B. Our hostess there served chicken salad and muffins, with plenty of coffee and iced tea. The house is OLD, brick, and because she also deals in antiques, full of interesting stuff! There were nine of us because the gals from Aurora and Columbus joined us, and we trekked to the greenhouse before leaving town. As usual, we had a lot of things to talk about and laugh about.

Jon and Katie were here for the concert, and we all went to watch Danica play softball on Friday evening. The wind came up and it was cold out there! But we won, so it was worthwhile. On Saturday, I

Alfalfa weevils starting to make an appearance

This is the time when alfalfa weevils begin feeding on first cutting alfalfa. I know it's a busy time but growers who want high quality alfalfa will want to check their fields for this insect pest.

Most alfalfa weevils overwinter as adults, and then become active and lav eggs. In the last few years some areas of the state have received damage to regrowth after the first cutting due to a combination of late larval feeding and adult feeding. This is something to be aware of after the first cutting.

Getting back to the present, based on growing degree days, alfalfa weevil larvae should be feeding, and small pinholes may be visible in the new alfalfa growth near the tips of the plants. While alfalfa weevil damage has been spotty in much of Nebraska over the past few years, the potential for damage always exists.

Alfalfa weevil and also clover leaf weevils feed on first cutting alfalfa as larvae, and regrowth after the first cutting as adults (and sometimes larvae). While research conducted in northeast Nebraska has feeding does not result in yield alfalfa weevil feeding can cause severe losses to yield and quality of the first cutting.

It is essential that fields be monitored for alfalfa weevil feeding now. Damage consists of small holes and interveinal feeding on the newest leaflets near the stem tips. The larvae are a small (1/16 to 3/8 inch in length), pale yellowish green, becoming a darker green when larger. These legless worms have black heads and a white stripe the length of the back. The alfalfa weevil larvae spend nearly all their time on the plant. They curl into a C-shape when disturbed.

Once the alfalfa is about 4-6 inches or so in height, take a bucket, carefully cut some stems at ground level (30 to 50 per field, from various spots in the field) and shake the stems against the side of the bucket. Average the number of weevil larvae per stem. In general at today's prices if 1-2 weevils are found per stem and the alfalfa is less than 12" tall, an insecticide

Charts have been developed to aid you in making a decision on whether to control alfalfa weevils. Each chart has been developed for a different alfalfa value. To treat or re-sample depends on the average number of weevils per stem, the stem length, and the value of the alfalfa. These tables can be found on the entomology.unl.edu website under extension/field crop insects/ alfalfa or at http://www.ianrpubs. unl.edu/epublic/live/g1208/build/

When alfalfa reaches a certain height, it may be more profitable to cut the alfalfa early rather than to treat. Finally, many insecticides are registered to control alfalfa weevil. Check the website above to find a list, or call your local extension office or ag supplier.

ARBOR DAY/EARTH DAY

Arbor Day and Earth Day were celebrated concurrently with first through sixth grade students presenting a program to the other students and the public on April 23.

The ceremony opened with a welcome by first grade teacher Mrs. Harder. The program began with the fourth grade narrating a power point about Mr. and Mrs. J. Sterling Morton establishing Arbor Day in Nebraska and explaining how it grew so Arbor Day is now celebrated internationally.

Each fifth grade student read a quote pertaining to trees. Several of the most impressive were "He who plants a tree, plants a hope," by Lucy Larcom; "No shade tree? Blame not the sun but yourself," Chinese Proverb; and "To exist as a nation, to prosper as a state, and to live as a people, we must have trees," by Theodore Roosevelt.

The sixth grade followed with a rap emphasizing that it is the 21st century and time to act to make the world better by planting a tree.

The third grade followed with recitation of a poem entitled "Trees of the Fragrant Forest," while the second grade recited "Trees are the Kindest Things." The program concluded with groups of first graders reciting the familiar poem "Trees" by Joyce Kilmer and "An Arbor Day Tree." Although the kindergarteners did not participate in the Arbor Day poetry presentation, they had previously picked up trash on the school property as an Earth Day activity.

Avie Veldkamp

Avie Veldkamp earns Wayne State scholarship

Avie Veldkamp of Wayne has been awarded a Cooperating Schools-Partner School District Scholarship to continue her education at Wayne State College.

Avie, the daughter of Paul and Juli Veldkamp, will graduate from Wayne High School in 2010.

While in high school she was involved in speech, one-act, Quiz Bowl, Spanish Club and National Honor Society.

Even with limited seating, guests of Northeast grads can still see ceremony

Over 750 students are scheduled to graduate from Northeast Community College in Norfolk on Saturday, May 15.

Some 767 students, including those earning double majors and 139 who completed their studies last December, will be listed in the commencement program for the 10:30 a.m. ceremony. Entrepreneur and Lifelong Learner J. Paul McIntosh, Norfolk, is the commencement speaker.

Kenneth Kumm, Bloomfield, outgoing Student Government Association president, will give the Student Address. He will receive an associate of applied science degree in electromechanical technology during this ceremony after receiving an associate of applied science degree in irrigation technology from Northeast last May.

The ceremony will be closed captained for the hearing impaired in another room of the Cox Activities Center.

With the large number of family and friends expected to attend the activities, graduates were issued tickets that will admit guests into the Cox Activities Center gym where the ceremony will take place. Other guests without tickets can still view the ceremony. KHWK/Hawk TV, the college's cable access channel, will produce a live telecast of the event. It will be shown live in an overflow seating area in the Cox Activities Center Theater.

Residents in communities receiving CableOne programming can also view the live broadcast by tuning in to the college's Channel 22 at 10:30 a.m. This includes the communities of Norfolk, Battle Creek, Beemer, Hadar, Hoskins, Madison, Pierce, Pilger, Randolph, Tilden, West Point, and Wisner.

ELECTION PREVIEW

Nebraskans will be voting on one issue when they go to the Primary Election polls on May 11. So that voters can better understand this important proposed change to the state Constitution, the Nebraska Press Association in cooperation with this newspaper has prepared this report. This report briefly defines the issues, explaining its purpose

Amendment 1

Tax dollars won't be used to pay for it, and local governments won't use eminent domain to take any property from anyone to make it work. Supporters of Amendment 1 on the May 11 primary ballot hope voter understanding of those two things will result in approval of the constitutional amendment which would allow non-profit, charitable organizations the chance to finance community projects with the use of bonds issued by local governments. The bonds would be paid off with revenues from the project involved; the amendment tax dollars for that purpose. And local governments could not condemn any private property for the projects. The plan went before voters in 2002 and 2006, gaining more votes each time. The new financing tool would simply allow charitable, nonprofits to benefit from lower interest rates. It is more expensive to use regular bank loans; and the amendment could eliminate the need for private, multi-year fundraising efforts for some programs. The bond funding would be limited to nonsectarian, nonreligious projects and, for example, allow recreational facilities to be created without cost to taxpayers.

TEXT OF PROPOSED AMENDMENT NUMBER 1

THE MEMBERS OF THE ONE HUNDRED FIRST LEGISLA-TURE OF NEBRASKA, SECOND SESSION.

RESOLVE THAT: Section 1. At the primary election in May 2010 the following proposed amendment to the Constitution of Nebraska shall be submitted to the electors of the State of Nebraska for approval or rejection:

To add a new section 4 to Article XIII: XIII-4 Notwithstanding any other provision in this Constitution, the Legislature may authorize any county, city, or village to acquire, own, develop, and lease or finance real and personal property, other than property used or to be used for sectarian instruction or study or as a place for devotional activities or religious worship, to be used, during the term of any revenue bonds issued, only by nonprofit enterprises as determined by law and to issue revenue bonds for the purpose of defraying the cost of acquiring and developing or financing such property by construction, purchase, or otherwise. Such bonds shall not become general obligation bonds of the governmental subdivision by which such bonds are issued, and such governmental subdivision shall have no authority to impose taxes for the payment of such bonds. Notwithstanding the provisions of Article VIII, section 2, of this Constitution, the acquisition, ownership, development, use, or financing of any real or personal property pursuant to the provisions of this section shall not affect the imposition of any taxes or the exemption therefrom by the Legislature pursuant to this Constitution. The acquiring, owning, developing, and leasing or financing of such property shall be deemed for a public purpose, but the governmental subdivision shall not have the right to acquire such property for the purposes specified in this section by condemnation. The principal of and interest on any bonds issued may be secured by a pledge of the lease and the revenue therefrom and by mortgage upon such property. No such governmental subdivision shall have the power to operate any such property as a business or in any manner except as the lessor thereof.

Sec. 2. The proposed amendment shall be submitted to the electors in the manner prescribed by the Constitution of Nebraska, Article XVI, section 1, with the following ballot language: A constitutional amendment to authorize the use of revenue bonds to develop and lease property for use by nonprofit enterprises as determined by law. For
