Scenes like this could be found all over the area this past weekend as more than five inches of rain caused flooding in Wayne County. A bridge northwest of Carroll was washed out, and several county roads had water running over after storms Friday and Saturday dumped rain and hail on the area.

Storms dump rain on county

After an unusually dry spring, Wayne and the surrounding area received heavy rainfall over the weekend. A storm passed through the area Thursday, leaving some areas in the county with up to two inches of rain. High winds, hail and rain again returned to the area throughout the night and into Friday morning, dumping another two inches on already saturated ground. The rain caused flooding of area streams and creeks, with widespread damage of crops and some county roads noted in Wayne County.

This creek west of Carroll looked more like a river after more than 2.5 inches of rain fell overnight in the area. Waterways throughout the county were flooded by the end of the week.

County declares disaster after roads, bridge damaged by storms

By MICHAEL CARNES
Of The Herald

For the second time in less than a year, Wayne County has issued a disaster declaration in the wake of severe weather that caused damage in the county. A disaster declaration, signed by County Commissioner chairman James Rabe, was filed Monday with the state by emergency manager Nic Kemnitz. Kemnitz spoke with the county board at its meeting about the declaration and what the county will need to do to receive state and federal funding. Storms rolled through the county late Thursday night and into Saturday, causing widespread flooding that damaged property and roads in the county. A number of public roads, culverts and tubes in the county were damaged, and a bridge was washed out north and west of Carroll.

WSC president leaving position at end of summer

Wayne State College President Richard J. Collings has accepted the presidency at Southwestern Community College in Sylva, N.C. His hiring was approved by Southwestern's Board of Trustees and is contingent upon approval by the State Board of Community Colleges.

Collings

Collings will be Southwestern's fifth president. He was appointed the 11th president of WSC in 2004 by the Board of Trustees of the Nebraska State College System (NSCS). Prior to coming to Wayne State, Collings served as vice chancellor for academic affairs at Western Carolina University and provost and vice president for academic affairs at Kutztown University in Pennsylvania. "Though we are certainly sorry to see Dr. Collings leave the Nebraska State College System, we wish him the best in his new endeavor," NSCS Chancellor Stan Carpenter said. "He had a wonderful opportunity to lead Southwestern Community College and be closer to his family." Collings and his wife, Marilyn, have children and grandchildren who live in North Carolina. Under his leadership in the past six years, Wayne State College has grown stronger and the campus has undergone marked improvements. Some of the recent projects include the Carhart Science Building renovation and the Campus Commons, which transformed the center of Wayne State's grounds into a beautiful pedestrian walkway and gathering place. "One very important highlight during Dr. Collings' time at Wayne State was his leadership in the South Sioux City College Center project," said NSCS Chair of the Board of Trustees Larry Teahon. "This unique center - that will open in January - is a history-making effort between Wayne State College, Northeast Community College in Norfolk and the Nebraska State College System to offer higher education to the Siouxland area." Among his other accomplishments, Collings reversed a decade-long enrollment decline, improved graduation and retention rates and led a successful $20-million capital campaign at Wayne State. Carpenter and Teahon stated that Wayne State College will continue to be a strong, viable institution. Collings will remain president of Wayne State through July and the NSCS chancellor will consult with the Board of Trustees about interim leadership.

City goes ahead with street, sidewalk plans

By CLARA OSTEN
Of the Herald

Resolutions which approve the plans, specifications and estimated costs for four street and sidewalk improvement districts were given unanimous approval during Tuesday's meeting of the Wayne City Council. The cost for the work to be done on First Street, including water main and storm sewer work is approximately $253,000. Sidewalk work in District 2010-2, which is Second Street, is estimated at $147,000; District 2010-3 is along Third Street and is estimated to cost $149,000 and District 2010-4 is along the east side of Pearl Street and approximately $34,000 worth of work is scheduled to be completed. Council members also passed Resolution 2010-39 which will amend the wage and salary schedule for a Recreation-Leisure Services Assistant II Position from Labor Grade 9 to Labor Grade 16 on the city's pay scale. Discussion was held on the position which was originally part of the Community Activity Center's budget but, due to budget issues several years ago, was eliminated.

Both City Administrator Lowell Johnson and Recreation-Leisure Services Director Jeff Zeiss told the council that an individual has indicated interest in the position and filling it would allow for the opportunity to offer additional classes at the Activity Center, as well as create continuity which is not always the case with part-time employees. Zeiss said the hiring of an individual for the position would then eliminate the need for three part-time employees. After discussion the council voted 8-0 to move forward with the hiring of an individual for the position, beginning with the upcoming budget year, which begins Oct. 1. Council members listened to a report from Gene Hansen, Electrical Production Superintendent, on new Environmental Protection Agency (EPA) regulations that will affect the Wayne electric production facility. Catalytic converters will need to be installed on all of the city's diesel engines to comply with EPA regulations. This law will become effective in 2013 and estimated

Survivors, caregivers and family members were among those taking the first laps during the 12th annual Relay For Life on June 11-12. Organizers prepared for impending storms by moving the event into the Wayne State College Rec Center. A total of 14 teams raised more than $54,000 for this year's event, including donations, the sale of luminaries, a silent auction, several activities held during the event and in-kind contributions. Hundreds of luminaries lined the track in memory of those who have died from cancers and in honor of those who have survived the disease. Additional photos from this year's Relay can be found on page 3A of today's Wayne Herald. Co-chairs of this year's Relay were Sheryl Grone and Javanah Bencoter. They were assisted by a number of other volunteers.

Obituaries

Phil H. Olason

Phil H. Olason, 89, of Hartsville, S.C., died June 8, 2010 in his home.

A private family service was held in the Prayer Garden of the First Presbyterian Church, 213 West Home Avenue, Hartsville, SC 29550, where memorials may be sent.

Phil H. Olason was born in Omaha on June 21, 1920. He died peacefully just shy of his 90th birthday on June 8, 2010 in his Hartsville, SC home.

Phil and his wife, Myrtle, were high school sweethearts and married at the First Baptist Church in Omaha on Dec. 28, 1944. They had been inseparable for nearly 73 years. Phil served his country as a Marine during WWII. He was awarded the Purple Heart for his tour of duty during the Battle of Tawara aboard the USS Colorado in the Pacific theater. Phil and his family moved from Omaha to Minneapolis in 1955. He was in sales with Tidy House Products prior to graduating from the University of Minnesota with a BS in Business. He received additional education in banking and insurance, working in Minnesota banks until 1964 and then became President of Farmers State Bank in Carroll. He and Myrtle retired to Hartsville in 1983.

Not only was he known for his delicious popcorn balls and love of cigars, Westerns, music, and the Hawaiian Islands, Philip Harley had an insatiable appetite for breakfast. In the summer of 1982, he was named the first National Omelet Champion during the Chicken Days Cook-Off in Wayne, NE. His family was delighted to see an article about this in the Wall Street Journal. Vacationing later in the Caribbean, Cynthia was present as he was even asked for his autograph. Phil was an advocate for family, friends, church, country, and community. Affiliations included Rotary (Paul Harris Fellow "Promoting a better understanding between the peoples of the world."); Civitan (Candy Box Project); Lions Club; Jr. Achievement; YMCA (Board of Directors and Century Club); Scottish Rite Mason for 50 years; Omar Shrine; Big Brothers/Big Sisters; The American Legion and United Way. His mission for cleanliness prompted his "Thank You for Not Littering" sign placement throughout the Hartsville area. He took great pride and joy in his beautiful yard, and as a devoted American, he kept our flag flying high for all to see.

Survivors include his wife, Myrtle; children, Cynthia, Marcia, Michael, and Pamela; six grandchildren; one great grandson.

He was preceded in death by his youngest child, Nina Michelle, and his oldest grandchild, Duke.

Patricia 'Patti' Bahe

Patricia "Patti" Bahe, age 82, of Fremont, died Monday, June 14, 2010 at Parson's House in Omaha.

Services will be held Friday, June 18 at 11 a.m. at Salem Lutheran Church in Fremont. Pastor Michael Thomas will be officiating. Visitation will be from 3 - 7 p.m. on Thursday, June 17 at Dugan Funeral Chapel in Fremont with the family present from 6 - 7 p.m.

Patti was born to Edwin and Marie Nyberg on Jan. 21, 1928 in Wayne. She attended and graduated from Wayne High School. After graduating, Patti attended Wayne State College and graduated from Midland Lutheran College in 1969. Patti married Al Bahe on July 4, 1947. That marriage lasted over 60 years until Al's death in May, 2008. During their marriage, they lived in West Point, Central City, and Fremont, where Al was a high school teacher, coach and athletic director. Patti and Al enjoyed the company of many friends through golf, sporting events, going out to eat, and dancing to Big Band music. Patti's own teaching career began in 1969 at Clarkson Elementary in Fremont, where she taught kindergarten for 20 years before retiring. Patti was a member of Salem Lutheran Church and Fremont Golf Club. She especially enjoyed attending the sporting events and activities of her children, grandchildren, and great-grandchildren as well as their friends. Everything she did was for her family and friends.

She was preceded in death by her husband, Al Bahe. Survivors include one daughter, Cindy Boettner of Omaha, three sons, Butch (Jan) Bahe of Omaha; Ritch (Raette) Bahe of Lincoln; Chip (Jenny) Bahe of Omaha; eight grandchildren and three great-grandchildren.

She was preceded in death by her husband, Al Bahe. A memorial has been established to the Al & Patti Bahe Scholarship Foundation.

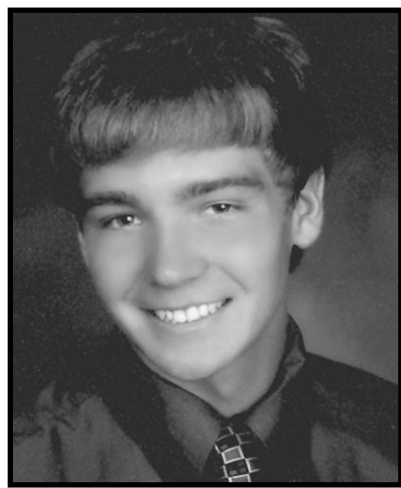

Burial will be in Memorial Cemetery in Fremont. Dugan Funeral Chapel in Fremont is in charge of arrangements.

Cory is the son of Brian and Tammy Foote of Wayne and the grandson of Wayne and Karen Ulrich of Wakefield and Myla Foote of Wayne.

Flooding and mosquitoes — people should take precautions

Flooding will result in an increased number of mosquitoes, according to the state's public health veterinarian.

"Flood waters are ideal for breeding mosquitoes because they lay their eggs in water," said Dr. Annette Bredthauer of the Nebraska Department of Health and Human Services.

"It takes less than a week for mosquito larvae to become adults. So, it's time to be diligent about applying mosquito repellent."

In addition to using repellent containing DEET, picaridin, IR3535, or oil of lemon eucalyptus, to avoid mosquitoes, people should wear long-sleeved shirts, pants and socks, and avoid going out at dawn and dusk when mosquitoes are most active.

It's also important to eliminate standing water wherever possible. Empty containers like bird baths, buckets and unused tires. In a pool of standing water, mosquito-killing products labeled for elimination of mosquito larvae can be added.

DHHS is working with the state's local health departments <<http://www.dhhs.ne.gov/puh/oph/lhd.htm>> to combat mosquitoes by supplying larvicides and DEET repellent wipes.

"Most of the new mosquitoes will be the nuisance kind," said Dr. Joann Schaefer, Chief Medical Officer. "But it's important to focus on avoiding mosquito bites because they can carry diseases like Western equine encephalitis and West Nile."

The kind of mosquitoes that carry West Nile generally don't show up until later in the summer, under dry conditions. However, the first mosquitoes to test positive for West Nile virus this year have been found in Douglas and Lincoln counties.

The mosquitoes were found as a result of the state's first round of trapping. DHHS and the local health departments conduct mosquito trapping every year to determine if the virus is active in the state.

"We are detecting West Nile virus in mosquitoes earlier this year than in previous years," Dr. Schaefer said. "West Nile is now part of Nebraska's landscape and we can expect to have some cases every year."

No human cases have yet been reported.

More information can be found on the DHHS website at www.dhhs.ne.gov

Looking Ahead in Wayne

By Lowell Johnson, City Administrator

City Council meeting

The next regular City Council meeting will be held Tuesday, July 6 at 5:30 p.m. in the city council room at 306 Pearl Street.

Recycling will be changing in Wayne

For many years Wayne has been served by two privately operated recycling operations.

Gill Hauling operates a residential garbage pickup route in Wayne and offers containers for curbside recycling to their regular garbage route customers. Gill plans to begin offering recycling credit vouchers for local businesses this summer to their regular garbage route customers who use their curbside recycling.

Waste Connections also operates a residential garbage pickup route in Wayne and has operated the recycling center at the city transfer station for many years. Waste Connections will begin offering curbside recycling to their regular garbage route customers in July and will close their transfer station recycling operation on Aug. 1. Many people think the transfer station recycling is a City of Wayne service but it has been privately operated and funded by Waste Connections.

Waste Connections will also begin offering a voluntary "pay-to-throw" orange bag garbage service this summer for residential customers who want to pay by the bag of garbage picked up rather than a flat fee per month.

Major changes are ahead for how we recycle. Market prices for recycled products have been very low for a number of years and costs to collect, sort and haul have risen substantially. Nationwide, the garbage collection companies are subsidizing all the costs of offering free recycling to the public with profits from their garbage routes.

At this time the City of Wayne has not made plans to operate a publicly funded central recycling center in Wayne so beginning in August all recycling in Wayne will be curbside pickup by the private haulers.

Budget

We are preparing our new city budget for next year. Our current budget is available on the city website under Quick Links and our new budget proposal will be linked when it is presented to the mayor and council.

Tanner Woslager to attend Peter Kiewit Academy of Excellence

Tanner Woslager of Carroll, a student at Winside High School, has been selected to attend the 12th Annual Holland Academy of Excellence (AOE) to be held June 20 through June 23.

Selection criterion consisted of academic achievement as well as extracurricular involvement in the community and leadership experience.

The workshop, the Academy of Excellence, promotes opportunities offered at the Peter Kiewit Institute (PKI), which is comprised of the University of Nebraska-Lincoln's college of Engineering and the University of Omaha's College of Information, Science and Technology.

The week-long program, familiarizes students and teachers with the opportunities provided through the two colleges that constitute PKI.

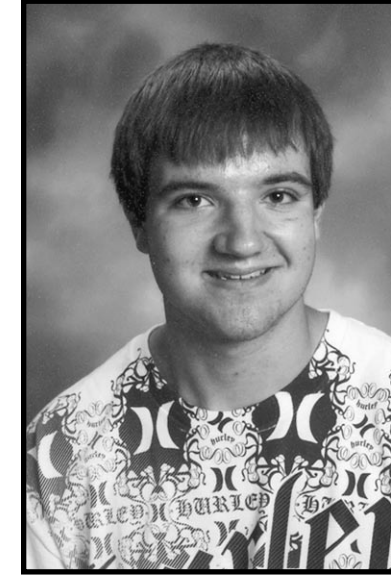

Each year 40 of the brightest and most promising high school sophomores are selected from nominations received from high schools across Nebraska and western Iowa. A math or science teacher for each student also attends. Together they explore many of the areas of study offered at PKI, applying their skills to workshops covering robotics, engineering and technology.

Classroom activities can include creating a computer-animated world, solving biological problems with computers through bioinformatics, or using GPS on a scavenger hunt. A bridge-building competition using K'NEX pieces is a class favorite. The goal is to beat the clock, stick to a budget and create a model that will withstand more pressure than competitor bridges.

The entire week of week of AOE is offered free to all participants; their only expense is transportation to and from PKI.

During their stay they are chauffeured around Omaha, provided room and board at Scott Residence Hall and given an all-access pass to

Tanner Woslager

PKI.

"AOE is a summer camp unlike any other available," said Winnie Callahan, PKI Executive Director, who implemented AOE to those bright students to applications which encourage consideration of these fields of study. "It is unique in that it offers a learning experience to both the students and their teachers. It's educational and career-focused, yet fun."

Tanner is the son of David and Karlene Woslager of Carroll.

Happy agencies

Representatives of all the organizations receiving funds from the Wayne United Way, as well as United Way Board members, were on hand for a check presentation event recently. The Wayne United Way met its goal of collecting $36,500 during the recent campaign and was able to present monetary donations to those agencies who had requested funds. Following the check presentation those on hand were able to enjoy refreshments and fellowship.

Poker run helps friends, family remember Johnson

BY JOSHUA STUCHL
Of The Herald

Ten months have passed since Platte County Deputy, and Wayne native, Christopher Johnson, was struck and killed by another vehicle while responding to a call.

On Sunday, his family held a Poker Run fundraiser in his memory. "The funds will go towards purchasing land for a shooting range in Wayne," Johnson's mother, Lorraine, said.

"Growing up, Christopher always wanted a rifle range nearby for practice," Randall Johnson, his father, recalled with a pang of sorrow in his voice. Johnson was a weapons and taser instructor, on top of his normal deputy duties, in Columbus.

The Johnsons wanted to provide an afternoon of fun while making a long held dream of Christopher's come true. "Chris always liked fun things," Mrs. Johnson said. "Poker runs were a favorite."

Aside from raising funds and some fun, the poker run helped to "bring the family together again," and the event stirred Christopher's "friends and family, brought them together to remember good times with Chris," Mr. Johnson said.

Christopher's parents, sisters and their families and friends attended, even his 90-year-old grandmother, Gerthy, came to show her support — and she wanted to experience a poker run for the first time. Rick Meyer, a long time friend and previous co-worker of Christopher's, drove down from Minnesota to help out with the fundraiser.

Mr. Johnson related that "Christopher was a good kid, very well liked and missed by everyone who knew him." Mrs. Johnson added that "he was a loved individual, over 1,000 people attended his funeral to say good-bye."

The strength of Christopher's familial bonds was evident and emotionally moving at the poker run, where everyone came to support the effort and remember Chris. However, for some, as Randall related, "the hurt is still deep."

Rainbow kids use entrepreneurial skills to raise money for trip to Omaha zoo

BY JOSHUA STUCHL
Of The Herald

Children love excitement and adventure as much as they love snacks and naps, and the kids at the Rainbow World Child Development Center are no exception.

This summer, the school-aged group wanted to do something more ambitious. They decided to take a trip to the Henry Doorly Zoo for their end-of-camp celebration. The transportation costs, however, appeared to be prohibitively expensive at a whopping $680.

Confronted with this challenge, the children turned to the community for support in their endeavor. By asking local businesses and holding various fundraising activities, the children have been able to raise nearly $400.

Each week, the children have a theme that encompasses life lessons and teaches practical problem-solving skills. Last week was "entrepreneur week," so the children helped with the fundraiser by scouting out the best deals for food supplies, compiling a menu and prices, and helping to make and post advertising flyers.

The non-profit, education-based care center provides the attending children many opportunities for learning in the community. The staff strives to make each day a learning environment filled with lessons, without seeming too much like school. "A hands-on approach" has shown to be the most successful method of "teaching kids while letting them have fun and make friends," Shelly Fehringer, Rainbow World Administrator, said.

Aside from the fundraising, Fehringer said that the "awesome parents and staff help tremendously." Their aid has proven invaluable to the children and their opportunities for activities countless times.

The 40 school-aged children in the summer camp group that will be going to the zoo have not only helped to fund their expedition, but also have aided in the set-up and clean-up of their fund raisers, have saved aluminum cans and have asked for donations from local business owners.

Flag Day

Members of the various veterans organizations were on hand on June 14 at The Oaks for a Flag Day observance. Residents of the facility who are veterans helped with the flag raising and later were part of the festivities which included the singing of patriotic songs and a history of Flag Day. Following the program, cake and refreshments were served. The Oaks also made a contribution to the Wayne County Veterans Memorial fund.

O'Leary is honored

National Cluck-Off is a Chicken Show tradition

Among the activities that have been a large part of the Wayne Chicken Show for most of the last 30 years is the National Cluck-Off.

John Agler was the first Cluck-Off winner and earned a trip to The Tonight Show with Johnny Carson in Los Angeles. Since that time, hundreds of contestants have clucked, cackled and strutted in an attempt to be crowned the National Cluck Off Champion.

The event has attracted contestants from both near and far, including current champion, Del

Hampton of Ft. Smith, Ark., who has earned the title 11 years in a row.

This year's Cluck Off is scheduled for Saturday, July 10 and will be held in Bressler Park.

It will include both a 13 years and under category and 13 years and older category. Contestants may represent either a rooster or a hen and may use props for their performance.

cost to comply with be $75,000 per year.

Hansen also explained the new cooling tower project planned at the facility.

He noted that the city has received $250,000 in stimulus grant funding for the project which is designed to lower energy costs at the power plant.

He said the equipment has already been ordered and showed pictures of what the system will look like and where it will be located.

Council members also approved the bid and awarded a contract to purchase a police department vehicle. The apparent lower bid was for $20,040 from Cornhusker Auto for a 2010 Dodge Charger.

In other action, the council gave its approval for a street closing on Sunday, July 11 for the dedication of the Wayne County Veterans Memorial at the Wayne County Courthouse.

Dennis Otte, chairman of the fundraising committee for the memorial, told the council that somewhere between 50 and 150 American Legion motorcycle riders plan to be in attendance at the event and hope to park their motorcycles on Fifth Street between Pearl and Lincoln Streets.

Mayoral appointments approved during the meeting included Rozan Pedersen and Jeff Morlok to the Board of Adjustment (re-appointments); Joel Ankeny, re-appointed to the Library Board; Mark Sorensen, Jill Sweetland and Derek Hill, re-appointed to the Planning Commission until June, 30, 2013; Sharon Braun, re-appointed to the Planning Commission until Dec. 30, 2010; Jessie Piper, appointed to the Planning Commission until June 30, 2013; Dorothy Cull, re-appointed to the Housing Authority and Liz Hageman and Traci Bruckner, re-appointed to the LB840 Committee.

The council will next meet in regular session on Tuesday, July 6 at 5:30 p.m.

Finn honored

Wayne County Clerk Debra Finn (center) was honored recently with the National Association of Secretaries of State Medallion Award for her work in promoting voter awareness and participation in the election process throughout the county, including assisting Wayne State College students with voter registration issues. Finn, who is completing her fifth term as County Clerk, is the third county clerk from Nebraska to have received the award in the group's history. ## School lunch prices to stay the same for 2010-11

By MICHAEL CARNES
Of The Herald

There is good news for parents' budgets for the coming school year, as the price of lunch for their kids will stay the same in Wayne.

The Wayne Board of Education approved superintendent Mark Lenihan's request Monday to keep lunch prices the same as they were in 2009-10. The price of $2 for elementary students and $2.10 for middle and high school students is the same as it was last year and 5 cents higher than the previous year.

Adult meals will be $3 for next year, the same as it was last year, while adult visitors will be charged the same amount of $3.30. Both of those amounts are a nickle higher than in 2008-09.

Wayne's school lunch prices are above the average of other area schools. Prices for high school lunches range from $1.50 in Madison and $1.85 in Stanton to $2.50 at Laurel-Concord.

"I think this would be a good year to keep prices where they are," Lenihan told the board. "We won't negatively impact the budget with this, and it will help parents in our district out as well."

Lenihan also informed the board about the progress of the roof at the high school, as well as preparations for the 2010-11 budget.

The high school roof project is about halfway to completion, Lenihan said, and he expects work to be completed sometime in late July.

"The high school roof is about half done, and they're starting work on the gym and then will go to the theater and the shop," he said.

The district's budget will be discussed in the next couple of meetings, and Lenihan said he will have more information for the board at its July 12 meeting.

The board also thanked middle school principal Tim Krupicka for his years of service to the districts. Krupicka will be leaving Wayne at the end of the month to assume his new job as high school principal at Grand Island Northwest.

In other action, the board:

- discussed membership in the Nebraska Rural Community Schools Association, an organization that works more closely with rural school districts such as Wayne's Board member Rodney Garwood asked that the approval of membership be placed on the board's agenda for next month.

- approved second reading of district policies concerning dating violence and use of public funds, and approved first reading on a number of policy updates.

County

With the disaster declaration, the county will be able to apply to the state for funding. Nebraska Emergency Management Agency officials were expected to be in Wayne on Wednesday to survey some of the damaged areas and go over paperwork with county officials.

The latest round of damage, which came almost six months after a series of winter blizzards led to a similar disaster declaration, will create some challenges for county officials.

Board member Kelvin Wurdeman said the county has had to travel as far as West Point to get gravel, due to a shortage of supply at its usual pickup in Pilger.

Documenting how much gravel has been used will be a little more difficult than it was during the winter disaster.

"We can get an estimate of how much gravel we've used, but it's such a widespread area and I'm not sure how many man hours or miles we're talking about here," he said. "I don't know how we'll be able to calculate it, because we're dumping a quarter-load here and there and there's a lot more running around than we did (during the winter)."

In other action, the board:

- approved liquor permit requests from the Wayne County Ag Society for a beer garden and a consumption area during the tractor pull and demolition derby.

- approved receipt of the county's audit of financial statements, which showed no discrepancies or violations.

- reappointed Jean Nuss to the Veterans Committee.

- approved a grant application from the Winside Volunteer Fire and Rescue department for a street dance the department is using for a fundraiser.

- received a letter from the City of Wayne regarding the county's water usage at the courthouse.

- approved payment of the county's general obligation bond interest for 2002 and 2005 bonds in the amount of $5,832.50.

- approved a resolution and a contract regarding commissioner's employment with the county outside of their regular duties as a county commissioner.

- received information regarding the District 7 Probation Office budget request for 2010-11. The county's share of the budget is expected to be $11,008.13, a 28 percent drop from last year's budget.

- approved a fund transfer resolution from the general fund to the highway superintendent's fund.

- approved a fund transfer resolution from the county road fund to the snow removal and equipment fund.

- approved the solicitation of sealed bids for a culvert project south and west of Carroll.

- moved the pending interlocal bridge project with Stanton County from the county's six-year plan to the one-year plan.

Dirt Devil teams play well, sweep North Bend Tuesday

By MICHAEL CARNES
Of The Herald

Good hitting and solid pitching will take a softball team a long way.

On Tuesday, that combination helped two Wayne Dirt Devil softball teams to easy wins over North Bend's 18-under team. The 18-under team jumped on the visitors early on their way to a 9-4 triumph, while the 16-under team capped the night with a 10-0 shutout.

The 18-under team got busy right away in the first game, putting three runs up in the first inning to give starting pitcher Shannon Jarvi a good cushion to work with.

"We scored nine runs, which is almost a season high for us," coach Kevin Hoffart said after the team improved to 7-6 on the season. "It was good to see us get hits up and down the order. Katelyn (Wells) had two hits that were big and Sky (Lippman) had a hit in the last inning that scored a couple of runs, so that was big for us."

The 18-under Devils got plenty of contributions throughout the lineup, led by a 4-for-4 evening from catcher Riley Hoffart. She had three singles and a double and scored three times, bringing home the first run of the game with a single, scoring Jarvi.

"She hit the ball hard, and that's what she's supposed to do in the No. 3 spot," Hoffart said.

Wayne broke the game open with five runs in the last three innings, highlighted by a two-run single by Lippman in the sixth that gave Wayne a six-run lead.

That was more than enough for Jarvi, who scattered four hits and three walks while striking out eight.

"Shannon threw the ball well," Hoffart said. "I wish we could have helped her more on defense, but she didn't let it get to her and she pitched really well."

Carly Fehringer also had a good night, scoring two runs and driving in two more. Jarvi and Wells had two hits apiece in the win, which improved the 18-under record to 7-6.

The 16-under team dominated from the start and got a great pitching performance from Kristin Carroll, who limited the visitors to three hits and a walk while striking out three.

Wayne scored two runs in the first inning, thanks to an RBI triple by Caitlin Fehringer and a sacrifice fly by Lindsy Frahm. They broke the game open with four runs in the second inning, capped by a bases-clearing double by Fehringer and an RBI single by Hannah Gamble.

"We've been hitting the ball well lately, and when you put pressure on teams like that it makes it hard for them to come back," coach Doug Carroll said.

the 10-run mercy rule with two runs in the fifth. Megan Bessmer brought Carroll home on a fielder's choice, and Fehringer's RBI single scored Gamble to end the game.

Carroll was solid in the circle for the 16-4 Devils. She faced two batters over the minimum and allowed just two runners as far as second base.

"She did a good job of spotting her pitches and working on her control," Carroll said. "She hurt her knee in track and is still getting back from that and hasn't thrown a full game yet, but she's getting better and getting people to swing at some bad pitches, and good things happen when you get a pitcher to do that."

Errors, walks hurt Wayne Legion teams

Walks and errors in a close game will drive a baseball coach crazy.

Jeff Zeiss didn't lose his mind after watching the Wayne American Legion teams get swept by West Point on Wednesday at Hank Overin Field, but he was disappointed with the way his teams went down to defeat.

The Wayne Juniors committed four errors, three coming in the seventh inning, and came up on the short end of a 6-5 decision. The Seniors were plagued by walks, as Wayne pitchers issued 11 free passes, nine of whom came home to score in a 13-2 defeat.

The Juniors had battled back from a 3-1 deficit with two runs in the fifth inning, thanks to a two-run double by Frank Bernal, to tie the game at 3-3. The seventh inning was where the momentum shifted, though, as Wayne's defense broke down and allowed the visitors to score three runs and break the tie.

"We had four errors in the game, which cost us," Zeiss said. "In our two losses, we've had eight errors and haven't had the timely hit. We got what we wanted up to the seventh and just weren't able to get it done."

Wayne didn't go down quietly, however, scoring two runs of their own and had the tying and winning runs on base.

Brady Soden, who scored three times in the game, led off with a walk. After a Trent Beza fly out, Bernal walked and Tony Sinniger singled Soden home to make it 6-4.

After a Gage Rethwisch strikeout, Keegan Dorcey singled Bernal home and Joey Lenihan reached on an error to load the bases. Drew Carroll hit a long fly ball to left, but it wasn't long enough as West Point got the out to end the game.

Dorcey was 3-for-3 in the game and Beza went 2-for-2. Bernal had two hits and three RBIs in the losing effort for the 6-2 Juniors.

The Seniors couldn't get on track in the nightcap, as West Point took advantage of pitching problems to jump out to a 9-0 lead. The visitors were one out away from ending the game on the eight-run mercy rule before Wayne extended the game with back-to-back RBI singles by Derek Poutre and Jacob Zeiss, scoring A.J. Longe and Mason Wren, respectively.

"Walks just killed us," Zeiss said. "Pitching is important for us to be a success, and when you give up that many walks it's tough. We gave up five walks in the first inning alone, and all five came home to score."

"We only allowed seven hits, so it wasn't like we were kicking the ball around," he added. "We need our pitchers to throw strikes and let the defense do its job."

The Juniors and Seniors were to make up a game with Dodge on Thursday before the Seniors head to Crete for a tournament this weekend.

Texas got just what they wanted – complete control

You're already starting to hear it from some of the less-informed blowhards in the mainstream media: Nebraska killed the Big 12 Conference.

Wrong. Absolutely wrong.

The Big 12 Conference was a marriage of convenience when it was formed back in the mid 1990's. It was convenient only for the University of Texas, which was desperately seeking a new home after it, and several other schools, found themselves armpit-deep in corruption and disbanded the old Southwest Conference.

Now, 15 years later, the same lust for power and greed that makes Texas the most-hated institution of higher learning on this side of the Atlantic has severely altered yet another power conference in college athletics.

It was an outcome that was foreseen, way back in the 1990's, by none other than Nebraska athletic director Tom Osborne. He warned the other movers and shakers within the old Big Eight Conference about the University of Texas and how they operated. And, as it turns out with the old coach, more often than not, he was absolutely right.

Texas ran the Big 12 Conference from day one. The Big Eight saved

Texas from the burning ship that was the SWC, and Bevo and the boys promptly hijacked the conference once they were brought on board.

Texas has dominated the agenda of this conference from the very beginning, and they have done a fantastic job of hoodwinking the rest of the conference membership. Look at the major decisions that have been made by the conference, and you will see a lot of votes that went 11-1. The lone dissenting vote, more often than not? Nebraska.

Which is why I found funny the University of Kansas chancellor, practically on bended knee, begging Nebraska chancellor Harvey Perlman to stay and not leave for the Big 10. Weak sisters like Kansas, Iowa State, Kansas State and others could have sat with Nebraska and kept the conference from becoming a one-school entity, yet they chose to kiss Bevo's backside.

And what's even more hilarious is how Texas officials were spinning it back home that THEY were the ones saving the Big 12. The fact is, Texas has been sleeping with the Pac 10 AND the Big 10 for several months, and their tag-alongs at A&M, Tech and up north in Norman and Stillwater were also looking at other options. At the same time, they're pointing fingers at Nebraska and Missouri as potential traitors and demanding that those schools declare the intentions.

From The Bleachers

In the end, it wasn't really Nebraska that changed the Big 12. While reports of Nebraska's departure were dominating the story, it was actually Colorado that jumped ship first. So not only did Texas' scam get exposed, but the school that they expected to hang the murder charge on ended up being beaten to the trigger by the good folks in Boulder.

In the end, Texas got more out of "saving" the Big 12 than it would have by going to the Pac 10. Now, Texas will have a unanimous vote every time an issue comes up in the conference. Texas – along with their weak sisters in College Station and the boys at Oklahoma – will divvy up the money that will come from the penalties Nebraska and Colorado will pay to leave the conference. That's right – all those millions of buyout bucks, and the weak sisters won't get a dime of it. Why? To keep Texas happy, of course.

The University of Texas will also get to start up its own network, a concept that was already in the planning stages, but would have been blown up with a move to the Pac 10. Now, Texas gets more than its share in Big 12 money, in addition to keeping 100 percent of the revenue it gets from showing Texas vs. Kansas State softball on its own network.

The mainstream media will continue to play Nebraska as the heavy in the altering the Big 12 Conference. Anybody who has been paying attention the last decade-and-a-half, though, knows there is but one institution that has been calling the shots from day one, and only one institution that is ultimately to blame for the demise of this conference.

Good riddance, Texas.

If there is a sense of poetic justice in the world, the following scenarios will take place in the next 18 months:

December 2011 – Nebraska knocks Texas out of the MNC (mythical national championship) race by beating the Longhorns in the last Big 12 championship game, two months after crushing Bevo and the boys in Lincoln.

December 2012 – As a parting shot of its own, Colorado rises up, wins the North and upsets Texas in the Big 11 title game.

There is big news to report on the conference expansion front, and it could have a huge impact on the future of Wayne State athletics.

Settle down, folks... The Wildcats aren't leaving the Northern Sun to replace Colorado in the Big 12.

The Northern Sun, however, is looking at expanding by two schools for the 2011-12 school year, and four schools have expressed interest in making the NSIC a 16-team conference.

For a while now, there has been speculation that University of Sioux Falls, an NAIA power, would make the move up to NCAA Div. II and would join the NSIC. Minot (N.D.) State has also been talked about as a potential addition as well. Those two schools, along with Black Hills State and South Dakota School of Mines and Technology, have sent self-studies for the NSIC Board of Directors to review, which is going on this week in Indianapolis, Ind.

After looking over these studies, the NSIC board will determine if they need to visit any schools before making their decision. I talked with Wayne State athletic director Eric Schoh on Monday, and he expressed hope that the conference presidents go slow with the expansion and look at all the options that might be available out there.

I did receive information from some friends in the know in western Nebraska, both of whom said Nebraska-Kearney and Chadron State aren't happy with the Rocky Mountain Athletic Conference and might be interested in moving to the NSIC. If that is true, the NSIC presidents might want to take Schoh's advice and look at two schools who are already in Div. II (the other schools have applied or are in the application process to move up from NAIA) and have outstanding athletic programs that would add to the NSIC's already-outstanding inventory of college athletics.

And if none of them work out... I hear Iowa State and Baylor might be looking for new homes in a few years.

Devils 16-U 2-1 in pool

The Wayne Dirt Devils 16-under team went 2-1 in pool play Saturday at the Golden Girls Invitational in Norfolk, but were shut out by Mother Nature as Sunday's tournament play was rained out.

The Devils opened pool play with a solid effort against the Lakeview Blue Lightning, scoring a 10-1 victory. Elle Schramm had the hot bat for the Devils, going 3-for-3 on the game. Lindsy Frahm had a pair of doubles and scored two runs. Courtney Davie had two hits and two runs, Megan Bessmer scored twice and Megan Hoffart had a hit for Wayne. Hannah Gamble pitched four solid innings for the Devils, scattering three hits and four walks while striking out four.

Wayne jumped on the host Norfolk Golden Girls early and made that lead stand up in a 5-1 win. Caitlin Fehringer drove home all of Wayne's runs with a two-run double and a three-run homer. Gamble scored twice while Frahm, Schramm and Davie each had hits. Gamble and Kristin Carroll combined to limit the hosts to three hits.

The Devils' lone loss was a 5-0 shutout at the hands of the Midwest Slammers. Wayne gave up three unearned runs and were limited to three hits, with Gamble, Frahm and Carroll getting safeties.

10-U wins league

The Dirt Devils 10-under team won their league tournament after going 3-0 in pool play before rain washed out the bracket portion of the tournament.

The Wayne team opened with a 5-0 shutout of Wayne, dominated Stanton 9-1 and posted a 16-0 whitewashing of Tekamah to finish the pool portion of the tournament at 3-0.

14-under Devils finish 2-3 at Blair

It was an up-and-down weekend for the Wayne Dirt Devils 14-under team, as they finished 2-3 in the Blair Invitational over the weekend.

Wayne went 1-1 in pool play, beating the Quakes 5-1 and losing to the Omaha Stealth 7-2.

In the first game, Victoria Kranz had a pair of hits, including a double, Emily Leeper scored two runs, and Jalyn Zeiss doubled and scored a run to highlight the Wayne offensive attack. Sydney Harris also singled in the game.

Kendall Gamble gave up just one hit and worked around six walks to get the win. She struck out five in four innings of work.

In the second game, Wayne's offense was limited to singles by McKenna Gibson and Amanda Hurlburt. Gamble and Gibson combined to walk seven while striking out just two batters, and the defense committed a few errors that helped the opponents' cause.

In tournament play, Wayne was three outs away from a victory, but the Ralston Rage scored three in the bottom of the last inning to steal a 5-4 victory over the Dirt Devils.

Skylar Gamble had a pair of singles and scored a run, and Gibson added a double and scored a run for the Dirt Devils, while Zeiss, Leeper and Harris all added base hits. Gamble pitched well in a losing effort scattering four walks and three hits while striking out four.

Wayne bounced back from the loss in a big way, dominating the host team from Blair in a 12-0 pasting. Leeper had three hits and scored two runs to lead the Wayne offense, while Abbie Hix had a pair of hits and scored a run. Gamble and Lauren Gilliland also added hits to give Gibson more than enough cushion, as she breezed to a two-hit shutout, striking out three.

In their final consolation game, Wayne came up short in a 3-2 decision to the Omaha Echoes.

Zeiss led the Wayne offense with a pair of hits, while Hurlburt, Kranz and Ashton Schweers also had hits. Gamble allowed two hits and struck out three in a losing effort.

12-under team goes 3-0 at Yankton

The Wayne Dirt Devils 12-under softball team went 3-0 in pool play at the Yankton Tournament over the weekend to improve their record to 9-5 on the season.

The Devils opened the tournament with a 3-0 shutout of Sioux City Blaze. The Devils played solid defense throughout the game and got some key hits to score a single run in the second and two more in the fourth inning.

Kortney Keller led the Devils' offensive attack with a pair of hits and scored a run. Nicole Craft and Jade Bottger also had hits, and Emily Matthes and Danica Schaefer each scored runs. Hannah Belt pitched four innings, striking out two and allowing no hits to get the win.

The Devils got past the Sergeant Bluff Warriors

6-3 in a tough battle that saw the Devils get more aggressive at the plate down the stretch.

Schaefer doubled and Craft singled to highlight the Wayne attack. Belt struck out three and got the win in the circle for the Devils, and she got great help in the outfield when Shanda Lambert caught a ball in right field and doubled off a runner by firing to Craft at first base.

In their final game, the Devils' offense got hot early, as they scored six runs in the first inning on their way to a 13-1 pasting of the Yankton Shamrocks.

Bottger and Keller each had two hits to lead a balanced Wayne attack, while Schaefer, Matthes, Craft, Maddie Morris and Courtney Melena all had hits.

Brothers compete in SYHA

Brothers Jackson (left) and Will Roberson took part in the Siouxland Youth Hockey Association. Jackson, a freshman at Wayne High School, played goaltender for the Junior Musketeers Bantam Green team, which had a successful season. The team won the Spring Joust Bantam Hockey Tournament in Omaha and won the Bantam Select Midwest League. He was named the team's MVP and will play for the Sioux City Metros high school club hockey team next season. Will, a second-grader, played in the Mite Division and played a variety of positions, including forward, defenseman and goalie. He scored a hat trick this season and had two goals and two assists in another game. He will play in the SYHA's Squirt division next season.

Curtis Moeller fires a pitch home during the Ponies' 12-2 win over Norfolk VFW on Tuesday.

Ponies go to 6-0 with 12-2 victory

The Wayne Ponies kept things rolling Tuesday, improving to 6-0 on the season with a 12-2 win over Norfolk VFW Tuesday at the Wayne Softball Complex.

The Ponies had 10 hits and took advantage of 10 walks to defeat Norfolk. The offense was led by Jack Belt, who had three hits in the game. Luke Rethwisch had a two-run triple and Curtis Moeller hit a solo homer to help the Ponies to the win.

Moeller went three innings to get the win for the Ponies, striking out five and allowing three hits and two walks. Jake Lutt pitched 1 2/3 innings of relief, getting Wayne out of a fourth-inning jam and striking out four before Rethwisch came on to shut the door on Norfolk.

Wayne hosts Pierce in action Thursday before taking to the road for games at Hartington on Tuesday and Norfolk VFW next Thursday.

Tuesday's game was originally scheduled to be played at Norfolk's Ta-Ha-Zouka complex, but flooding forced the game to be moved to Wayne. The team's second game on the schedule, set for Thursday, June 24, will be played at Norfolk instead of Wayne.

WSC track athletes are honored

Two Wayne State seniors were named to the ESPN The Magazine/CoSIDA Academic All-District VII men's and women's track and field teams.

Jacob Mathieson carries a 3.94 grade-point average majoring in geography. He was one of four seniors to receive the prestigious NSIC Myles Brand Academic with Distinction Award. He won six medals at NSIC Conference Championships in the weight throw, hammer throw and discus, and was selected to the All-Academic indoor and outdoor teams in 2009-2010.

Sarah Thomsen maintained a 4.0 grade point average majoring in Journalism and Spanish. She was a two-time All-NSIC performer in cross country, and a seven-time conference medal winner. She was the 3,000-meter steeplechase champion as a sophomore at the 2008 NSIC Outdoor Championships. She was a three-time NSIC All-Academic selection in cross country, indoor and outdoor track and field and was a Presidential Scholar Athlete all eight semesters.

Sports Shorts

Stegemann earns state track trip

Tara Stegemann qualified for state competition after earning two first-place finishes in regional competition recently at the Fremont Track Club.

Stegemann finished first in the 400-meter youth division with a time of 1:12.30, and also took first in the high jump with an effort of 3 feet, 10 inches. She also placed third in the long jump, going 12 feet, 4 inches.

Stegemann will compete in state competition this weekend at Omaha Burke High School.

Chute Camp set at Rec Center

The Chute Basketball Shooting Camp will be held June 23-24 at the Wayne Community Activity Center.

The camp will focus on shooting fundamentals, with sessions held in the morning and afternoon. Boys and girls in grades 9-12 will go from 8:30-11:30 a.m., while kids in grades 4-8 go from 12:30-3:30 p.m.

Applications can be downloaded at www.stgsports.com, or athletes can register at the door the first day of the camp.

Area Doane athletes honored

Two area athletes competing for Doane College were named to the Pflieger/Olson GPAC Scholar-Athlete honors list for the 2009-10 year.

To earn the honor, a student-athlete must have a 3.3 grade-point average and be a contributing member of their varsity team.

Area athletes earning the honor from Doane include Luke Henderson of Wakefield for baseball and Kayla Hochstein of Wayne for softball.

WSC has 30 athletes on all-academic team

Wayne State had 30 student-athletes named to the 2010 NSIC Spring All-Academic Team.

A student-athlete must be a member of the varsity traveling team and have a cumulative grade-point-average of 3.20 or better. The student-athlete must also have reached sophomore academic and athletic standing at the institution represented with one full year completed at that institution.

The women's track and field team and baseball team each had seven athletes named, followed by softball with six, men's track and field and women's golf with four each and men's golf with two.

Wayne State student-athletes honored are as follows:

Baseball: Brandon Polk, sr.; John Snyder, sr.; Joe Wendte, sr.;

Josh Nielsen, jr.; Derek Eversole, so.; Jake Ritzdorf, so.; Austen Wisroth, so.

Softball: Amy Sandstrom, sr.; Amber Baird, jr.; Sam Earleywine, jr.; Katie Goetzinger, jr.; Blaire Kuhl, jr.; Brittany Greenwood, so.

Women's outdoor track and field: Christina King, sr.; Sarah Thomsen, sr.; Megan Zavorka, sr.; Meghan Jacob, jr.; Melissa McIntosh, jr.; Paige Pollard, jr.; Brianne Hofstetter, so.

Men's Golf: Michael Phillips, sr.; Jake Hirz, jr.

18-under Dirt Devils fall at West Point

WEST POINT - The Wayne Dirt Devils 18-under team came up on the short end of a 3-2 decision against West Point in league action Thursday.

The Dirt Devils trailed 2-0 in the first inning, but came back to score a pair of runs in the top of the seventh to tie the game before West Point won the game on a walk-off hit in the bottom of the seventh inning.

Carly Fehring was 3-for-3 with a pair of triples. She scored a run and drove in the other run.

Shannon Jarvi pitched well in a losing effort, giving up one hit and four walks while striking out nine. None of the runs scored by West Point were earned.

Bodenstedt retires as captain in U.S. Navy

Capt. Debra A. Bodenstedt retired recently as Captain in the United States during ceremonies at Pearl Harbor, Hawaii.

During a Change of Command ceremony Capt. Bodenstedt was relieved of her duties by Capt. Gary A. Maynard as Commanding Officer Navy Munitions Command East Asia Division.

Capt. Bodenstedt, the daughter of Robert and Marilyn Bodenstedt of Wayne, is a 1974 graduate of Wayne High School and a 1978 graduate of Wayne State College. She was commissioned as Ensign at Officer Candidate School at Newport, R.I. in March of 1983. She was assigned in 1984 to USS Yellowstone (AD 41) as RS/R5 Division and Diving Officers and qualified as a Submarine Rescue Chamber operator while onboard USS KITTIWAKE (ASR-13).

Capt. Bodenstedt served as Operations Officer and Director of the Naval Surface Force Atlantic Second Class Diving School from 1986-1988 while assigned to Mobile Diving and Salvage Unit Two. While there she participated in the Space Shuttle Challenger salvage.

Capt. Bodenstedt served as Operations Officer in USS GRASP (ARS 51) from November of 1988 to April of 1991 and then as Executive Officer at Consolidated Divers Unit from May of 1991 to July of 1992.

She served as Executive Officer in USS SAFEGUARD (ARS 50) from August of 1992 to December of 1992.

After attending the Expendable Ordnance Management course, she served as Officer in charge of the Naval Ordnance Center Detachment in Rock Island, Ill. from January of 1995 to February of 1998. In 1997 she received a Masters degree in Business Administration from St. Ambrose University.

Capt. Bodenstedt served as Commanding Officer Consolidated Divers Unit in San Diego, Calif. from March of 1998 to May of 2000, where her divers completed the first double in-water CVN propeller change on USS JOHN C STENNIS and maintained the Navy's only certified underwater welding team. She served as Executive Officer of Atlantic Ordnance Command in Yorktown, Va. from May of 2000 to July of 2002.

Capt. Bodenstedt attended the Naval War College in Newport, R.I., where she received a Masters Degree in National Security and Strategic Studies. She was then assigned as Deputy Logistics Support Division and Munitions Branch Chief, U.S. Pacific Command from 2003-2006. She took command of Navy Munitions Command East Asia Division in August of 2006.

Capt. Bodenstedt

Capt. Bodenstedt is a designated as a Special Operations Officer and qualified Deep Sea (HeO2) Diving Officer. She is fully DOD certified in Business Process Reengineering and is a graduate of Department of the Navy Labor Negotiations Seminar.

She is entitled to wear the Defense Meritorious Service Medal with an oak leaf cluster, Meritorious Service Medal with gold star, Navy Commendation Medal (three gold stars), Joint Service Achievement Medal, Navy & Marine Corps Achievement Medal, Military Outstanding Volunteer Service, national Defense Service and Expert Rifle Medals.

Capt. Bodenstedt now plans to retire to South Dakota.

International trade workshop set for June 22

The Business, Industry and Economic Development department at Northeast Community College in Norfolk is the site of a free, one-day workshop for anyone interested in international trade.

The workshop, The "Traveling" International Office, is set for Tuesday, June 22, from 9-11 a.m. in the Lifelong Learning Center on the Northeast campus in Norfolk. There is no charge.

Susan Rouch, Office of International Trade and Investment,

Nebraska Department of Economic Development in Lincoln; and Meredith Bond, U.S. Commercial Service, U.S. Department of Commerce in Omaha, will host a two-hour export round table.

According to Joe Ferguson, director of Business, Industry and Economic Development at Northeast, they will bring their resources, experience, and expertise to the Norfolk program.

For more information, contact Rouch at (402) 471-4668.

Golf season half over

I was checking the golf league schedule earlier this week when I noticed that by the time this column is published, men's league season will be half over. WHAT? Summer just started. I guess that means I have to quit telling myself that it's still early, my swing will come around.

Here's a little perspective on Joey Baldwin and his round of golf last week during men's league. Back on April 14, first night of league, 42 teams of three hit the links in a three-man scramble. The low score or best score if you will on the night was a five-under par 31. Pretty respectable...even if it was my team.

Last week the 126 golfers that played men's league, each playing their own shots all the way through, saw Mr. Baldwin fire a six-under par 30 on the front nine. That's right, a 30! Who needs a scramble? He closed out his round with an eagle on hole seven. Oh by the way, he also had a bogey during the round which means he played the other eight holes a combined seven-under par. Remarkable.

It was pretty exciting feat for all those that follow the sport on our

For Pete's Sake
By: Kevin Peterson

local course. In fact, the only guy that wasn't seemingly enlightened to hear about the round was the poor sap that had to play him. I really don't want to mention his name because I don't think Bob Keating asked to be pummeled. In fact, I talked to him afterwards and he was actually in a great mood. He said he shot one of his better rounds of the season and still lost by 11. See Bob, I didn't tell anyone what you shot.

Turning our attention to the Nebraska Cornhuskers gearing up for the new conference, The Big 10 beginning in the fall of 2011. People are quite stirred up about all of this and rightfully so. However, I'm here to tell you all that this will end up being a great thing.

In fact, last Friday a few of my local brethren Shriners, Bill Kinney, Dave Ley and Randy Simonsen played in the Potentate's 4-person golf scramble in Merville, Iowa. Folks over in Big 10 country were chiding us a little bit about the situation and talking about welcoming us to the Big 10. In golf terms that meant they wanted to kick our Cornhusker stalks.

And like kids in a new school, we were gracious, not saying much. When all was said and done however, it was our foursome that walked away with the green as we accepted our new role in the Big 10. This will be a lucrative move after all.

Don't get me started

By: Michael Carnes
Managing Editor

Caution: Conisitution might be offensive

About 25 years ago, Tipper Gore, and a slew of wives of U.S. Congressmen who had nothing better to do, formed the Parents Music Resource Center in an effort to censor rock music.

These Washington wives brought in such notable rock rebels as Dee Snider, Frank Zappa and John Denver (yes, THAT John Denver) to explain to their husbands why the government shouldn't censor all the terrible, ugly, demeaning things being recorded on the rock music of the day.

Rather than silencing those artists, all these D.C. dingbats did was further increase record sales of targeted bands like Twisted Sister, Def Leppard and W.A.S.P. The recording industry did agree to affix a "warning label" on albums with lyrics or content that might be considered objectionable, but the end result was that records with those labels tended to sell better than those without.

Now, some of the documents that speak to the very essence of what America is all about are being affixed with warning labels by a Virginia book distributor, who seems to think some of the very ideals that this country were founded on are objectionable.

Wilderness Publications warns readers who order reprints of such offensive documents as the Declaration of Independent, the U.S. Constitution, the Articles of Confederation or the Federalist Papers that the ideas presented in these documents might be out of date:

"This book is a product of its time and does not reflect the same values as it would if it were written today . . . (parents) might wish to discuss with their children how views on race, gender, sexuality, ethnicity, and interpersonal relations have changed since this book was written before allowing them to read this classic work."

I didn't realize that declaring our independence from the tyranny of Britain's royalty was such a bad idea. Who knew how offended people could possibly be by such radical concepts as the right to bear arms? How out of touch are we to think that we can still speak freely and attend whatever church we feel best suits our faith in God?

What kind of fool does it take to think that affixing a warning label on the Declaration of Independence is going to protect people from such out-of-date ideas as freedom? Did millions of American citizens die for a concept that has had its time in the sun and is now faded from reality?

It's amazing how some people in this great nation of ours seem to willingly try to trash the very values and foundations on which this country has been built and expanded on for more than 230 years. For all of its quirks, it is still the greatest nation ever to have existed and has survived world wars, depressions, disasters and even the radical insanity of companies like Wilder Publications.

If there is any poetic justice to this situation, it will be that book sales for Wilder Publications will go the exact opposite direction of those rock bands who made millions from the censorship attempts of Tipper Gore and her country club of well-heeled Washington wives.

I'm not a fan of businesses shutting down, but Wilder Publications—and its anti-American owners—can't close its doors fast enough.

***

What do the federal income tax, the liquor tax, the inventory tax and the property tax have in common?

The answer . . . none of them existed 100 years ago.

Neither did the cigarette tax. Or the luxury tax. Or the recreational vehicle tax. Or the telephone federal universal service fee tax. And while we're at it, the watercraft registration tax didn't exist then, either.

You and I are being taxed to death right now. In fact, when we die, we'll get taxed again when the government takes it from our kids in the form of an inheritance tax. So even after you're six feet under and everybody has eulogized your life, you're still getting screwed by the government.

And this is a government that is spending money in a manner that makes a drunken sailor step away from his whiskey. In fact, by the time you've finished reading this column, our government will have spent several million dollars.

As this column is being written, our federal deficit stands at more than—sit down before you continue—13 TRILLION dollars. Some financial experts are projecting that by the middle of this decade, that amount will have ballooned to almost $20 trillion.

The federal government is spending almost $3 billion a day, and none of it is money that is already in the bank. The money they are spending will come from the taxes generated when your grandchildren and great-grandchildren become old enough to work.

It's really impossible for us to grasp numbers that big. Every time I fill up my gas tank, get groceries, or make the house payment, I'm spending a pretty good chunk of change. I pay all my bills every month, and if there isn't any money left over, I don't have the option of buying a new car, spend a weekend in Vegas or do anything else while leaving my debt to my children or grandchildren.

I wonder what will happen first—the nation's debts being called by our debtors, or the American people realizing what frauds we have representing us in Washington and replacing them with people who understand what the phrase "spending within your means" is all about.

Capitol View Could it get worse for Democrats?

By ED HOWARD
Statehouse Correspondent
The Nebraska Press Association

LINCOLN — These will not be remembered as the bad old days for the state's Democratic Party. They will be remembered as the gawd awful bad, bad, bad old days.

They could get worse. But as a practical matter, not so much.

Are you familiar with amateur boxing? If an opponent doesn't show up or is declared ineligible, or whatever, the other fellow gets what is called a "walk over." He wins without a fight.

Republican Gov. Dave Heineman should get a walk over in his bid for a second full term, according to two prominent Democrats who believe their party's candidate, Mark Laker, should quit the race.

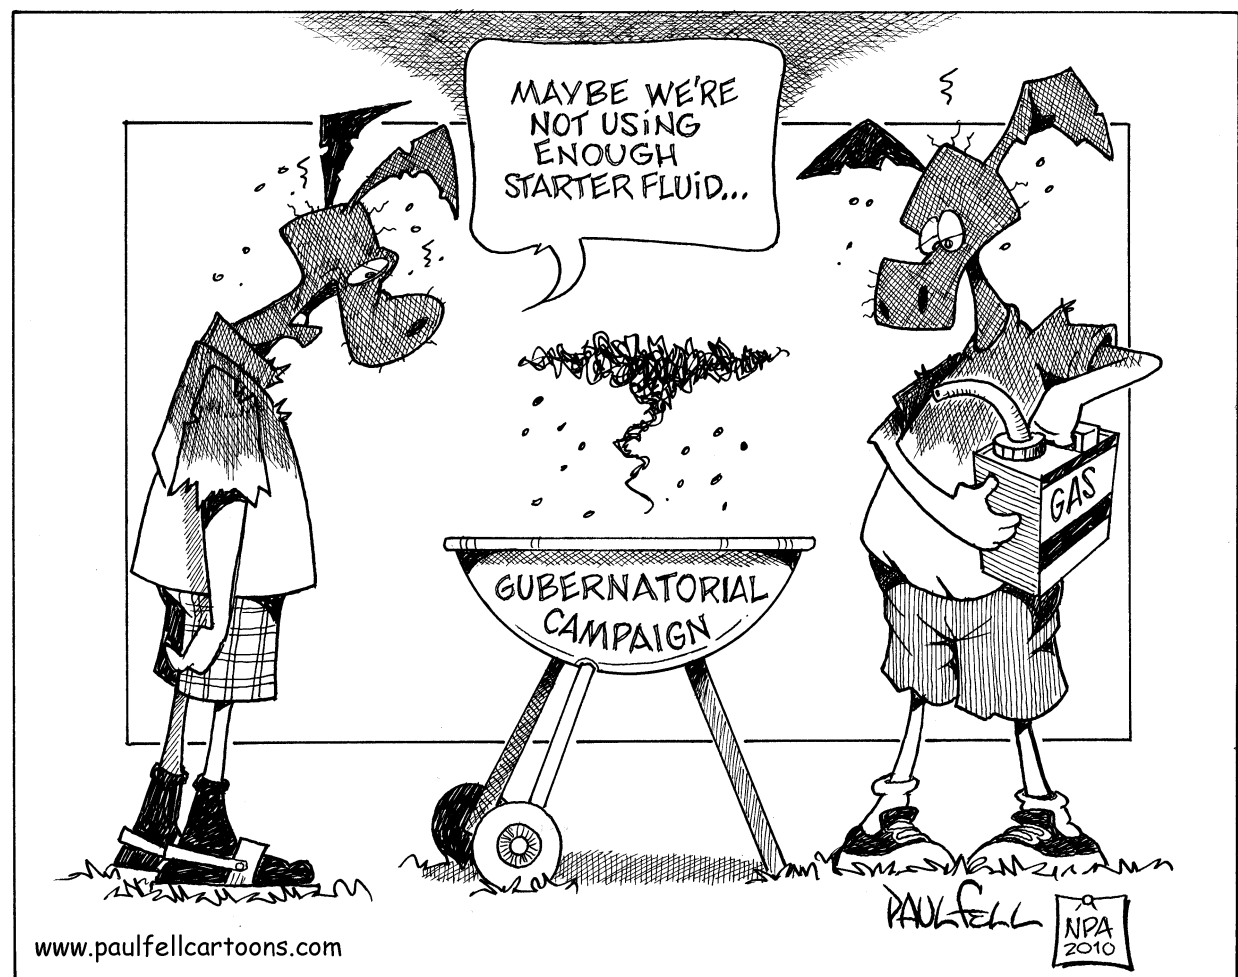

Political neophyte Laker screwed up required campaign reports that said he had pledged for hundreds of thousands of dollars. Then a whole bunch of those purported supporters came forward to say they hadn't promised Laker a dime, let alone bucks by the thousands. That's an egregious error. At worst, depending on circumstances, it could be a crime. And what can you say about an investment banker, like Laker, who couldn't color within the lines on a government form?

One-time Party Chair Anne Boyle, whose Democratic roots and loyalties are generations deep, wrote to a dozen or so other prominent party members and condemned Laker as unworthy of support.

"It is better to have no candidate than one who disgraces all who work and carry the party label," Boyle wrote. That event likely falls into the once-in-a-lifetime category.

NU Regent Chuck Hasselbrook, another Dem, used stronger language. He was quoted thusly: "He (Laker) is not worthy of the honor of being a candidate, or worthy of being a public official."

Laker said he wouldn't quit. History will record his gesture as the equivalent of Max Schmeling expressing confidence just before his second fight with Joe Louis. As Schmeling's manager put it after Max was massacred, "We should have stood in bed!"

As for Democrats' likely fortunes in other statewide, general election contests - dismal. At least, it looks that way at this writing.

Stenberg For Senate?

Word around the campfire continues to be that Gov. Dave Heineman really is not interested in challenging Democratic U.S. Sen. Ben Nelson in 2012. He would rather serve out a second full term and become the state's longest-serving chief executive.

If Nelson is perceived as vulnerable in 2012, or not, ever-ready Republican Don Stenberg would likely jump at a chance for the GOP nomination. Stenberg, who served three terms as attorney general, is the shoo-in candidate for state treasurer. He has specifically said he wouldn't rule out running for another office, or when he might do it.

Nelson, a two-term governor, narrowly defeated Stenberg to win his first Senate term in 2000, claiming 50.99 percent of the vote. He outspent Stenberg by about two-to-one, laying out more than $1 million.

Stenberg, a proud rightist Republican since approximately birth, might have more luck raising money two years from now if the tea bag sentiment, or its like, is still around and looking for . . . a proud rightist Republican.

The Governor And The Budget

As a political matter, Heineman can only be happy that this year isn't next year.

Translation: Heineman and the Legislature have spent hundreds of millions of federal stimulus dollars for basic government operations. That federal money, which made tax increases and even deeper budget cuts unnecessary, is soon to be gone.

Heineman is headed for re-election, with or without an opponent, glad to have the horrid specter of the state's financial mess ahead of him. Consider the potential, if not likelihood, for slash and burn budget tactics. If Heineman had to forge those fiscal waters during the 2010 legislative session, this election season might not have provided him such smooth sailing.

Of Feds And States' Finances

Question: How many of the state legislatures and governors that have called on Congress to balance the federal budget would, in support of that notion, tell Congress to forego providing further economic aid? And if Congress does provide more money, how many "stimulus opponents" from both parties will be quick to show up for every news conference and photo opportunity stemming from the benefits of that federal money?

Committees working on budget issues

Greetings from the Unicameral! As we reach the summer months, much of the work currently being done by legislative staff deals with addressing the impending budget shortfall in the next biennium.

With the shortfall estimated to exceed $650 million, each of the Legislature's standing committees is hard at work reviewing existing agency budgets to identify potential cost savings through consolidation and even elimination of entire programs. Later this month, the Education Committee will be holding the second of at least a half-dozen meetings to review budgets for state education agencies and discuss possible changes in the funding formulas for K-12 education and community colleges.

One issue that has drawn a great deal of attention the past few weeks is the decision by the Nebraska Department of Health & Human Services (DHHS) to hire an out-of-state, for-profit company called Qualis to review services currently being provided under the Medicaid program.

As reported in the Lincoln Journal Star, many disabled Nebraskans who had been receiving in-home care feared that a lower level of service being provided would force them into nursing homes. Many of these individuals received "denial letters" from Qualis which ultimately were rescinded by DHHS because they failed to give adequate notice of a change in services.

While our current economic climate necessitates getting the most out of limited Medicaid dollars, I have concerns that some of the decisions made by Qualis failed to account for the availability of services in rural Nebraska. For example, some District 17 residents who contacted my office reported being told by Qualis that they would only be able to receive a level of in-home care that is unavailable outside of the Omaha and Lincoln metropolitan areas. My staff and I will continue to monitor this troubling situation in the coming weeks, and I am hopeful that a solution can be found which ensures that our most vulnerable Nebraskans are able to continue receiving the in-home medical care they so desperately need. As always, I would encourage you to contact me if you have any questions or simply have an opinion on legislation before the Unicameral. Feel free to call my office at (402) 471-2716, send me an e-mail at bgiese@leg.ne.gov, or stop by in person any time you're in Lincoln.

Letters

Frustrated with "Big Farmers"

Whatever happened to our neighborly farm community? Did we lose this when all the small farmers quit and the so-called "Big Farmers" came into being? Do the "Big Farmers" think they can just do whatever they please and run over us small landowners?

I had an incident happen to me where I just happened to see a tiling crew start to tile the field adjoining mine, with no drain ditch involved. They just drained the water into my field.

My ground had already been tiled. If this so-called "Big Farmer" would have just called and said, "I'd like to tile my wet spot, can I hook on to your tile?", I'd have gladly said yes.

But there was no call. Instead, the poor tile boss had to meet the wrath of a really upset old woman.

I haven't decided what happened to some of our farmers. Do they think they are God and can do whatever they please, no matter who they step on? I'd put them among the very inconsiderate, and just a plain bunch of jerks.

As the old saying goes, God will get 'em. May their problems be many.

P.S. — I don't think their mothers would be very proud of them.

'Set a Goal to Take Control' is theme of diabetes education class to be offered in Wayne in June

Managing diabetes can seem overwhelming at times. There are numerous tasks required to keep it under control which can vary depending on your overall health and personal circumstances.

But here is one thing everyone with diabetes needs to focus on: controlling blood glucose. When you improve your diabetes control, you win both now and in the future. With tighter control of blood sugar levels, you are likely to feel better and more energetic. But the long-term effects are even more striking. Major clinical trials have proven that good blood glucose control is the best way to prevent or delay diabetes complications. Even small reductions in blood glucose levels can improve your health.

Good control requires both diligence and willingness to try new strategies. Learn new strategies by attending "Take Control of Diabetes for Life" where the June 30 session will focus on "On the Go Diabetes Self Management".

Set a goal to take control of your diabetes. Aim for lower blood glucose levels to feel better now and stay healthy for years to come. Wednesday, June 30 topics that will be addressed during the two-hour program includes: "10 Ways to Take Control of your Diabetes", "Exercise and Strength Training", "Color Your Palate", and "Sleep Apnea/ Sleep Problems".

Participants will receive new recipes for diabetic appropriate foods. Team-teaching the program will be Phyllis Heimann, R.N. & Certified Diabetes Educator; Stacie Petersen, R.N. & Certified Diabetes Educator; Mary Clare Stalp, R.D., L.M.N.T., of Franciscan Care Services in West Point and Debra E. Schroeder, UNL Extension Educator in Cuming County.

Take Control of Diabetes will be available from 1:30-4 p.m. at Our Savior Lutheran Church social room, Wayne.

"Control Diabetes for Life" is a joint project of University of Nebraska-Lincoln Extension, Franciscan Care Services of West Point and cooperating schools. The program is offered free-of-charge. "Control Diabetes for Life" will help participants learn to control diabetes and prolong the onset of complications from the disease.

Participants are asked to pre-register for "Control Your Diabetes for Life" by calling UNL Extension in Wayne County at 402-375-3310. Please register by Monday, June 28, so the proper number of handouts may be prepared. Nebraska School Food Service Association has approved this session for two hours of continuing education credits for food service staff for attending.

Take control of your diabetes for life! Start by attending the June 30 distance education program. Call today to register.

Cody Wortmann

Sand Creek graphic designer recognized

Sand Creek Post & Beam has announced that Cody Wortmann has been awarded "Best Ad in the Issue" from Our Iowa magazine.

The ad was judged as the most attractive, informative and appealing ad in the June/July 2010 issue. The ad is part of a new campaign of "My Barn, My Rules" for Sand Creek. Each ad focuses on custom features Sand Creek can provide customers to create their dream barn.

Cody was awarded a certificate and large chocolate bar stamped with the Our Iowa logo from Temptations by Joyce in Ames, Iowa.

"We couldn't be more pleased to have Cody at Sand Creek Post & Beam; his design work has taken us to a new level in our materials and website" said Jule Goeller, Co-owner with her husband Len Dickinson. "He's very creative and has a wonderful sense for our products."

Wortmann graduated from Wayne State College in May of 2009 with a B.S. in Graphic Design. He had previously worked part-time in the Sand Creek plant while working toward his degree. Cody is originally from Newcastle and now resides in Wayne with his wife Mallory and son, Owen.

Sand Creek Post & Beam has a nationwide presence with over 300 structures throughout the country and Canada. "Our customers are building a variety of structures from our kits; everything from a small barn or garage, horse barn, business office, and hunting lodge, to a complete home. Post and beam construction is very versatile and the beauty of the wood is highlighted in these buildings," said Len Dickinson, co-owner and President of Sand Creek Post & Beam. With an emphasis on quality and customer satisfaction, Sand Creek Post & Beam takes great pride in providing traditional barn kits that are functional, flexible, powerful and aesthetically pleasing.

For information on Sand Creek Post & Beam contact Sand Creek Post & Beam, 116 West First Street, Wayne Neb. 68787; phone 877-303-2276; www.sandcreekpostandbeam.com; sandcreekpost@conpoint.com

Informational Open House to be held for Highway 20 improvements

The Nebraska Department of Roads will hold an Informational Open House Tuesday, June 29, regarding the replacement of the North Logan Creek Bridge on U.S. Highway 20 (US-20) north and east of Laurel. The open house will be held from 4 to 6 p.m. at the Laurel Community Learning Center, Fifth & Wakefield Streets, in Laurel.

Construction will be entirely in Cedar County; however, the detour route will affect Dixon County. The proposed project will construct a new two-lane bridge replacing the existing bridge on US-20, also known as the 872nd Road. The new bridge will span North Logan Creek in the same location but will be approximately three feet higher. About 0.28 mile of US-20 will be rebuilt.

Construction will necessitate temporary detouring of US-20 traffic. Local traffic will be maintained. The official detour will involve Nebraska Highway 116 through the town of Dixon.

Detour route maps and information will be available at the open house. The proposed construction is scheduled to take approximately six months.

Information regarding the project will be available after the meeting on the NDOR website at www.transportation.nebraska.gov/projects/ by clicking on the "Laurel NE" link.

Engagements

Kudrna — Moeller

Ashley Ann Kudrna and Justin Moeller, both of Norfolk, are planning a July 17, 2010 wedding in Wisner.

The bride-to-be is the daughter of Scott and Marci Kudrna of Wayne. She is a 2008 graduate of Wayne State College. She attended Northeast Community College in Norfolk and is currently employed at Wal-Mart in Norfolk.

Ashley's grandparents include Owen and Carol Hansen of Lincoln and Charles and Marge Kudrna of Wayne.

Her fiancé is the son of Donna Hunke of Wisner and Jeff Moeller of Omaha. He is a 2008 graduate of Wisner-Pilger High School and attended Northeast Community College. He is currently employed at Wal-Mart in Norfolk.

Justin is the grandson of Fern Moeller of Wisner.

The couple plan to move to Omaha following the wedding.

Jensen — Hruza

The United Methodist Church in Wayne will be the setting of the July 17, 2010, wedding of Rachel Jensen and Timothy Hruza, both living in Lincoln.

Dr. Dennis and Monica Jensen of Wayne are parents of the bride-to-be. Parents of the future groom are Dennis and Laurie Hruza of Ord.

Miss Jensen, a 2005 graduate of Wayne High School, graduated in 2009 from the University of Nebraska at Kearney where she majored in English. She is currently attending the University of Nebraska-Lincoln where she will earn a master's degree in English/creative writing in May 2011. She is currently employed by the English Department at UNL and the Writing Center at Southeast Community College in Lincoln. She is the granddaughter of Marguerite Preheim of Wayne and Glenn Struss of Watertown, S.D.

Hruza graduated from Ord High School in 2005. He is a 2009 graduate of UNK with a double major in economics and political science. He is attending the Nebraska College of Law in Lincoln and works as a law intern for the Law Firm of Mattson, Ricketts, Davies, Stewart and Calkins in Lincoln.

Safe grilling begins with food safety practices

Safe grilling begins long before the cooking process. When grilling out this summer, be sure to take food safety precautions.

Frozen meat should be completely defrosted in the refrigerator. This allows meat to cook more evenly and prevents bacteria from growing during the thawing process. Frozen meat can be thawed in the microwave as well. However, it should be grilled immediately because partially cooked portions create the perfect environment for bacteria growth.

If meat must be transported long distances to the cookout site, pack it in a cooler to maintain a temperature below 40 degrees. Coolers should be placed in the coolest part of the car and moved to a shaded area of the cookout site as soon as possible.

It is important to pack meat in a separate cooler from beverages and side dishes. This will prevent

Amy Topp
Extension Educator
4-H & Youth

cross-contamination and minimize the number of times the meat cooler is opened which increases the air temperature surrounding the meat.

Make sure grills are preheated before starting the cooking process. During grilling, remove only the needed amount of meat from refrigeration and carry to the grill using a clean plate and grilling utensil.

Don't rely on the color of meat to determine doneness. Instead, use a food thermometer to determine the internal temperature of meat. Hamburgers and ground meat patties should reach 160 degrees, fully-cooked hot dogs 165 degrees and chicken breasts 170 degrees. Medium-rare steaks should reach 145 degrees, medium steaks 160 degrees and well-done steaks 170 degrees. After cooking, meat should be kept at 140 degrees or warmer. If it is not eaten right away, meat should be set on the side of the grill rack so it remains hot without overcooking.

Remove meat from the grill with clean cooking utensils. Once meat has been removed, it should not be left unrefrigerated for more than two hours. This time limit is reduced to one hour if outside temperatures are above 90 degrees. In these situations meat is given the opportunity to enter the danger zone between 40 and 140 degrees where bacteria is most likely to multiply and create problems. Although meat may appear safe, it still can be contaminated and unsafe for consumption.

Lutheran Women's Missionary League holds convention

The women of Lutheran Women's Missionary League (LWML) Nebraska District North convened in Omaha at King of Kings Lutheran Church, Omaha, on June 4-5 to hold its 35th biennial convention. There were over 300 women, men and teenagers in attendance.

Pst ~ GO! Praise ~ Serve ~ Tell ~ Gospel Outreach! was the convention theme based on scripture verses Psalm 71:14 (Praise), Psalm 100:2 (Serve), John 9:36 (Tell) and Matthew 28:19-20 (GO). LWML Nebraska District North members Praised God through song, fellowship and worship during the convention. They Served others through servant events that ranged from making placemats for nursing homes to writing cards of encouragement to military personnel to working at the Open Door Mission to putting together meal packets for Kids Against Hunger. They will continue to Tell the message of God's love and salvation through their words and actions here in Omaha and wherever they may find themselves.

The convention attendees were encouraged to GO! back to their homes and spread the Gospel message throughout the world, even if it is only in their own "backyard."

During the convention members heard how the LWML is praising God nationally and within their own district. They heard from Eloise Kuhlmann, national LWML Vice President of Servant Resources, how their serving is a positive influence in the lives of others locally and worldwide. Convention keynote speaker, Linda Reiser, past national LWML President, from Grand Island spoke to them about the importance of telling others of God's grace and love. Rev. Russell Sommerfeld, President of The Lutheran Church-Missouri Synod Nebraska District, encouraged the members to continue to "serve the Lord with gladness" and to GO!

They also heard from Donna Meyer, a missionary to Indonesia, how God has given her the opportunity to serve in the mission field.

LWML members throughout Northeast Nebraska gathered over 3,900 "Gifts from the Heart" items for Camp Luther in Schuyler, Lutheran Family Services Healthy Families Boutique in Fremont, and Council Bluffs, Iowa, and Lutheran Family Services Refugee Program in Omaha. Gifts from the Heart include items necessary for daily living, such as hygiene products, along with the prayers of the LMWL Nebraska District North.

Business of the LWML Nebraska District North was also conducted during convention. Members elected new officers for the next biennium, they set a mission grant goal of $81,500, and they chose mission grants to support through their mites.

Mission grants are funded through the giving of "mites" which are small amounts of money that when joined with other members' mites add up to extraordinary amounts of dollars and all from the smallest of coins.

Members elected to serve for the next biennium are: President Marianne Slama, Scribner; Vice President of Gospel Outreach Lana Erickson, Omaha; Vice President of Servant Resources Monica Ebmeier, Laurel; Treasurer Sandra Biermann, Wisner; Pastoral Counselor Rev. Michael Awe, Tilden; Nominating Committee: Kathy Haber, Beemer, Chair; Carolyn Wilke, Columbus; Norma Jean Wilbur, Norfolk; Peggy Kumm, Wausa; and Beverly Ruwe, Wayne.

Mission Grants chosen for the next biennium, in order of payment, include:

1a: The Seminary Student Tuition Assistant Matching Grant, The LCMS Joint Seminary Fund and LCMS Board of Pastoral Education, St. Louis, Mo. $15,000.

1b: Technology for Winnebago Lutheran Elementary, Jesus Our Savior Lutheran School, Winnebago, NE $2,500

3a: His Kids Camps Scholarships Fund, Camp Luther, Schuyler, NE $6,000

3b: Catechisms for Sudan, Lutheran Heritage Foundation, Macomb, MI $7,500

3c: Early Childhood Mental Health Therapies, Center for Healthy Families, Omaha, NE $14,400

6: Vehicles for Missionaries, Lutheran Bible Translators, Aurora, IL $10,000

7: Trinity/HOPE, Feed Haitian School Students, Gallatin, TN $1,100

Young Women Representative's mission grant that was chosen is Disaster Relief Support, LCMS World Relief & Human Care, St. Louis, MO $2,010

Friends Into Serving Him® Teen LWML's mission grant that was chosen is Food and Clothing Co-op, Concordia Theological Seminary, Ft. Wayne, Ind. $210.

The Lutheran Women's Missionary League (LWML) is the official women's auxiliary of The Lutheran Church—Missouri Synod. For over 65 years, the LWML has focused on affirming each woman's relationship with Christ, encouraging and equipping women to live out their Christian lives in active mission ministries and to support global missions.

Events planned at Praise Assembly of God Church

Sunday, June 20 is a special Father's Day observance at Praise Assembly of God Church.

Sunday School in the Fireside Room (at 9:30 a.m.), is a continuation of the study in Psalms, taught by Philip Pfaltzgraff. The "Pilgrim's Psalms" are Psalms 120-134; the class is now considering number 122, which begins "I was glad when they said to me, 'Let us go to the house of the Lord.'"

Morning Worship begins in the sanctuary at 10:30 AM with praise and worship being led by Ernest Bratcher (Allen H.S. senior), Marshall Keough (WSC senior), and Phil Pfaltzgraff (WSC Staff Accompanist). Interim guest pastor, Rev. David Stitt will be preaching. The service will also include the celebration of Communion. During this service, there will be time to pray for the needs of people in the congregation and this community.

At 6:30 p.m. the congregation will welcome "Dead Men Singing", a Southern Gospel Quartet from Boone, Iowa. This concert is actually the "5th Sunday Music Event" re-scheduled from May 30 (Memorial Day Sunday). The men in the group are the Pastor (of the Open Bible Church in Boone) and three men from that congregation; they have been singing as a quartet for several years. The concert will include a couple of testimonies as well as great gospel music. The quartet will have their CD's available for purchase at the concert. A freewill offering will be taken; and a fellowship time will follow.

On Sunday evening, June 27, Praise Assembly will begin hosting a "Healing Service" on Sundays at 6:30 p.m. This evening service will have the single focus to provide an opportunity to pray for the needs of people who attend the prayer meeting.

Praise Assembly of God is located at 1000 East 10th Street in Wayne. The building is completely handicapped-accessible.

Altona women conduct June meeting

The June meeting of First Trinity Lutheran Women's Missionary League of Altona was held at the Wisner Care Center in Wisner.

The lesson "Sharing Love's Life-Giving Words: A Story of John 3:16" was given by Clara Heinemann. The lesson was taken from the LWML Quarterly. Darlene Bowers led in prayer. The lesson ended with all singing "We All Believe in One True God."

Pearl Youngmeyer presided at the business meeting. The LWML Pledge was recited as the mite box offering was taken. The minutes and treasurer's report was approved as read.

It was voted to give $10 to each of the three convention offerings. Several ingathering items were brought and will be taken to the convention, along with the offerings, by Delegate Darlene Bowers. Ballots for the convention were discussed.

The money has been mailed to the Wayne County Ag. Society to reserve a church booth at the Wayne County Fair.

The birthday of Julie Stuthman was recognized.

The meeting closed with the Table Prayer and The Lord's Prayer.

Mely Meyer was a guest. Hostess was Darlene Bowers.

The next meeting will be the annual July brunch with the date and place to be announced later.

Better late than never

With bad weather on Feb. 13, (the actual wedding date), Janet and Earl Fuoss of Wayne celebrated their 50th wedding anniversary on June 9 by sponsoring music by Artie and Gwen Schmidt at the Wayne Senior Center. With blue skies and warm breezes approximately 75 people enjoyed dinner, dancing and good conversation. Above, Earl and Janet pose with an anniversary cake. Below, Senior Center Coordinator Penny Volbrecht visits with those attending the anniversary celebration.

Stars and Stripes workshop

On June 3, 4-Hers from Wayne County participated in the Stars and Stripes Workshop held at the Wayne County Fairgrounds. UNL Extension Educator Gail Brand taught the 4-Hers painting techniques using patriotic red, white, and blue paint to decorate a recycled item. The exhibits will be entered in the Home Environment Project areas at the Wayne County Fair. Pictured are Felicity Jech and Caitlin Janke in the background.

DORCAS SOCIETY

The Dorcas Society of Peace United church of Christ met on June 3 at the church.

Co-president Shirley Mann presided. She gave the opening prayer and read an article. "I asked God to take away my habits."

Four members were in attendance. Adeline Anderson was hostess. Her hymn was "Jesus, Lover of my Soul."

The discussion of the day was planning for guest day - tentatively set for Thursday, Sept. 30. More planning needs to be done.

At the Thursday, July 1 meeting, Shirley Mann will be hostess and Marie Brown will lead the lesson.

All reports were accepted as given.

They closed with the Lord's Prayer.

Geraldine Benton led the lesson on Jezebel.

RELATIVES VISIT

John and Tracy Fenske and Farrand of West Plains, Mo. came on the afternoon of June 4 to visit his grandmother, Hildegard Fenske. They left on June 8 to spend the night with Laura Grace in Omaha before returning to Missouri. While in Hoskins, they also visited with Julius and Esther Rechtermann and their son Joe of Alexandria, Va.

SENIORS MET

Hoskins senior citizens met at the community center on June 8 to play pitch. Prize winners were Dorris Ferris, Darlene Baden and Betty Anderson. A no-host lunch followed. The next get-together will be held on Tuesday, June 22.

FSA county committee nomination period begins

According to Debra Pieper, Wayne County Executive Director, nominations will begin June 15 for producers in Local Administration Area (LAA) 1.

Nomination positions will be mailed to all known eligible producers in LLA 1, which includes the precincts of Deer Creek, Sherman, Strahan and Wilbur. The Farm Service Agency (FSA) nomination period continues through Monday, Aug. 2. Elections will take place this fall.

"I encourage all producers to participate in the county committee election process by nominating candidates by the Aug. 2 deadline," Said Pieper. "We are counting on as much participation as possible because county committees are an important link between the farm community and the U.S. Department of Agriculture."

Producers may also nominate themselves, and organizations representing minorities and women may also nominate candidates. To become a nominee, eligible individuals must sign form FSA-669A. The form and other pertinent information about FSA county committee elections are available online at: www.fsa.usda.gov. Click on Newsroom, then County Committee Elections. Nomination forms for the 2010 election must be postmarked or received in the local USDA Service Center by the close of business on Monday, Aug. 2, 2010.

FSA county committee members make decisions on disaster and conservation programs, emergency programs, commodity price support loan programs and other important agricultural issues. Members serve three-year terms. Nationwide, there are more than 7,800 farmers and ranchers serving on FSA county committees. Committees consist of 3 to 5 members who are elected by eligible local producers.

FSA election ballots will be mailed to producers beginning Friday, Nov. 5. The voted ballots are due back to the local county office either via mail or in person by Monday, Dec. 6.

The eighth annual Sewers & Growers Fishing Contest was a success again this year.

Sewers & Growers hold fishing contest

The Sewers & Growers 4-H Club held their eighth annual Fishing Contest, followed by a cookout on June 4 at Willow Creek Recreation Area near Pierce.

A total of 20 youth and 15 adults attended The Springbranch 4-H club was also invited again this year. Organizers indicated that "combining the two clubs makes this event a lot more fun."

The first place winner was Laura Gruenke with 18 points, followed by Brandon and Brienna Wurdeman tying for second place with 15 1/2 points each.

The youth fished for one hour and 15 minutes, then returned to the campsite for prizes, burgers, hot dogs and s'mores.

"Everyone receives nice prizes, the adults have a lot of fun watching the excitement of the kids and the kids enjoy everything, especially seeing friends again after being out of school a few weeks," said Becky Wurdeman, leader of the Sewers & Growers.

She stressed that the club could not do this without the community's support. She thanked the businesses for supporting the 4-H kids.

Cody Kempf, 5, of Carroll is assisted in his first fishing experience by Roger Wurdeman.

New 2010 Division Fence Law results in changes for producers

The 2010 Unicameral revised Nebraska's division fence statutes. This newsletter discusses the changes made to Nebraska's division fence statutes by LB(Legislative Bill) 667. The primary change is that the cost of a wire division fence is split 50-50 in all cases, except where the neighbors have agreed to a different division of the fence cost.

For many years, Nebraska has been a fence-in state, in which livestock owners are liable for any damages caused by trespassing livestock. This trespass liability created an obligation on the part of livestock owners to restrain the animals, but not a specific requirement that the animals be fenced in. The other major approach taken in western states is the fencing out or open-range rule. Under fencing out, livestock owners are not liable for any damages resulting from trespassing livestock. So, if e.g., farmers wanted to keep the neighbor's cattle out of their fields they had to fence the neighbor's cattle out (thus, the "fencing out" rule).

The Nebraska division fence statutes gave livestock owners (and any other landowner) the ability to require the neighboring landowner to pay for part of the division fence through the fence viewer process. The division fence statutes for many years made the cost split 50-50 when both landowners had livestock, but fence viewers would determine a just division of the cost if both landowners did not have livestock. The only way to require a neighbor to pay for part of a division fence was through the fence viewer process.

The fence viewer process was originally established in 1886, but was repealed in 2007. Under the fence viewer process each landowner would pick a fence viewer, and the two viewers selected would pick the third. The three fence viewers would determine what share each landowner had to pay for the fence, and how fence maintenance would be shared.

Kim Bearnes
Extension Educator

The common approach for dividing the responsibility for fence maintenance — then and now — is the "right hand rule." Each landowner would face the other in the middle of the fence and would be responsible for the half of the fence to their right. If the neighbor didn't take care of his portion of the fence, the other neighbor could repair the fence and collect those costs in private litigation.

Changes to the fence viewer system began in 1994, when the responsibility of selecting the three fence viewers was given to the local county clerk. County officials did not care for this responsibility as it basically put them in the middle of a fence dispute. Ultimately, the fence viewer process was repealed altogether in 2007, when it was replaced by a litigation process where the parties went to court or mediation if they could not agree on the fencing issue.

This process was not changed by LB667. Under LB667, the costs of constructing and maintaining a division fence are divided 50-50, even if only one landowner owns livestock. If a landowner wants to build a division fence or repair an existing fence, he must give written notice to the neighbor. If the neighbor does not agree, the landowner files a suit in County Court. If the parties agree, the judge may refer the case to mediation. Otherwise, it goes to trial. LB667 does specify that a barbed wire fence is the default division fence unless both landowners agree to a different type of fence. The likely result of the 2010 division fence statutes is that once they realize they will have to pay 50 percent of a new division fence, most landowners will pay their share or else build their half of the fence as per the right hand rule. Hopefully, most landowners will also agree to the right hand rule approach for fence maintenance, which would simplify fence maintenance disputes.

If a neighbor is not maintaining his half of the fence, the other landowner can notify the neighbor of the need for repair. If the neighbor does not agree, then off to court they go. I would expect that most attorneys would be able to convince their clients to settle the case, but one never knows. The only likely reason to force a lawsuit would be to gain some concessions from the fence builder to maintain existing trees or shrubs, or other fence construction issues.

The issue of whether the requirement that a landowner without livestock be required to pay for part of a fence to keep the neighbor's livestock off his land has been challenged in court. In New York and Vermont the State Supreme Courts ruled that such a requirement was unconstitutional as against the nonlivestock owning landowner. Sweeney v. Murphy, 334 N.Y.S.2d 239, affirmed 294 N.E.2d 855 (1973); Choquette v. Perrault, 569 A.2d 455 (Vt. 1989). However, courts in Virginia and Iowa have upheld the legality of division fence statutes similar to Nebraska's. Holly Hill Farm v. Rowe, 404 S.E.2d 48 (Va. 1991); Gravert v. Nebergall, 539 N.W.2d 194 (Iowa 1995). These cases, as a minimum suggest that the 50-50 split of LB667's division fence costs might be unconstitutional. See generally Terrence J. Centner, Reforming Outdated Fence Law Provisions: Good Fences Make

Spruce Tree Tip Blight, Organic Wheat Tour discussed

This has not been a great year to be a tree. We have seen all sorts of disease problems show up on top of the snow and wind damage that we have had. The latest problem to appear has been tip blight of spruce trees. Some spruce trees have had the new growth (this year's growth) on the branch tips turn brown and droop. There are a couple of possible causes for these phenomena.

Diplodia tip blight is one possibility. This is a disease that usually affects pine trees but can appear in spruce under the right conditions. It is too late to use a fungicide now as the disease has already infected the trees and hopefully warmer, drier weather will stop the disease from spreading.

Another observation is that many of the trees were affected by the hot dry winds of a couple of weeks ago while the new growth was still very fresh. The side of the trees not exposed to the winds (north and east) did not appear to be affected in some instances while the south and west sides of unprotected trees showed the damage. Not all spruce were affected so it is still somewhat unknown as to what the primary cause was.

Regardless of the cause the trees are expected to recover from this

Ag Happenings
Keith Jarvi
Extension Educator

damage. While the new growth has been halted the trees should not be seriously hurt.

Here is a reminder that there will be an organic winter wheat variety plot tour at the Haskell Ag Lab east of Concord on Thursday, June 24. The UNL Wheat Breeding program is working with millers and bakers to select winter wheat cultivars for the organic market with an emphasis on nutritional whole wheat products. Antioxidants, dietary fiber and gluten strength, as well as yield performance and disease resistance, will be discussed for each of the varieties grown on certified organic research land.

Richard Little, UNL Organic Wheat Breeding Specialist, will visit with farmers about experimental wheat lines and released and potential cultivars for organic wheat production. He will discuss fertility issues and how various cultivars perform in a crop rotation.

The tour will also include reviewing an experiment designed to evaluate the period between harvesting winter wheat and planting the subsequent row crop. Several cover crops are compared and the cover crops were subject to several management methods: disk, flaming and crimping to prepare for subsequent row crops. We will demonstrate a "Rodale" design crimper and a flamer. Farmers considering transitioning to an organic production system can see how crop rotations are set-up at each research location and meet with other organic farmers. To register call Pat at 402-584-3837 or email Liz at esarno2@unl.edu

Proposals will be taken for said construction work listed above by unit prices, as an aggregate bid for the entire project.

All Proposals for said construction work must be made on blanks furnished by the ENGINEER and must be accompanied by Bid Security of not less than 5% of the amount bid. Bid Security to be made payable to the Treasurer of the City of Wayne as liquidated damages in case the bid is accepted and the bidder neglects or refuses, to enter into contract and furnish bond in accordance herewith.

Contractors and subcontractors on USEPA federally assisted construction projects are required to pay their laborers and mechanics not less than those established by the U.S. Department of Labor. A current wage decision containing the appropriate building and/or heavy type rates is included in the specifications for bidding purposes.

The Code of Federal Regulations at Title 40, Part 32, prohibits participation in EPA funded contracts by persons excluded or disqualified from doing business with the federal government. Bidders are responsible for advising the Owner if they are excluded or disqualified, and to check whether subcontractors they intend to use are excluded or disqualified. All tiers of subcontractors have the same responsibility to notify the one for which they are providing services if they are excluded or disqualified, and to check the status of any subcontractors they intend to use. Status can be checked on the Excluded Parties List System located on the Internet at www.epls.gov. All subcontracts at any tier should include this language.

Bidders of this work will be required to comply with the President's Executive Order Number 11246, as amended, which requires the contractor to take steps to meet aggregate workforce goals of 6.9% for minority participation and 1.2% for female participation. These requirements are explained in the Equal Employment Opportunity provisions included in the Contract Documents.

Each bidder must fully comply with the requirements, terms and conditions of the U.S. Environmental Protection Agency, Disadvantaged Business Enterprise (DBE) requirements, including the fair share objectives for disadvantaged business participation during the performance of this contract. The bidder commits itself to the fair share objective for disadvantaged business participation contained herein and all other requirements, terms and conditions of these bid conditions by submitting a properly signed bid.

Subrecipients who request or receive from the grant recipient a subgrant, contract, or subcontract exceeding $100,000, at any tier under a Federal grant, shall comply with the Anti-Lobbying Act, Section 319 or Public Law 101-121, and file an Anti-Lobbying Certification form, and the Disclosure of Lobbying Activities form, if required, to next tier above.

Plans, Specifications and Bid Documents may be inspected at the office of the City Clerk, 306 Pearl Street, Wayne, Nebraska, and will be issued by JEO Consulting Group, Inc., Consulting Engineers, 11717 Burt Street, Ste. 210, Omaha, Nebraska 68154, a payment of $100.00 for a half-size page set, printed specifications and a CD containing electronic drawings and specifications; $175.00 for a full-size page set, printed specifications and a CD containing electronic drawings and specifications; or $25.00 for only the CD containing electronic drawings and specifications to cover partial cost, none of which will be returned, needs to be paid prior to plans and specifications being sent out. In order to bid the project, the plans and specifications must be issued directly by JEO Consulting Group, Inc. to the bidder.
The Mayor and City Council, reserves the right to waive informalities and irregularities and to make awards on bids which furnish the materials and construction that will, in their opinion serve the best interests of the City of Wayne, and also reserves the right to reject any and/or all bids.
